Library friends reception to feature basket raffles

BY RON CARR

The Friends of the Friona Public Library invite you to a reception Sunday, April 19, from 2-4 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Friendship House located at 1410 Washington.

This is the Friends annual meeting. Activities include honoring endowment donors, voting on by-laws amendments, drawings for basket winners, auctioning a basket, and enjoying refreshments. The public is invited to attend and participate.

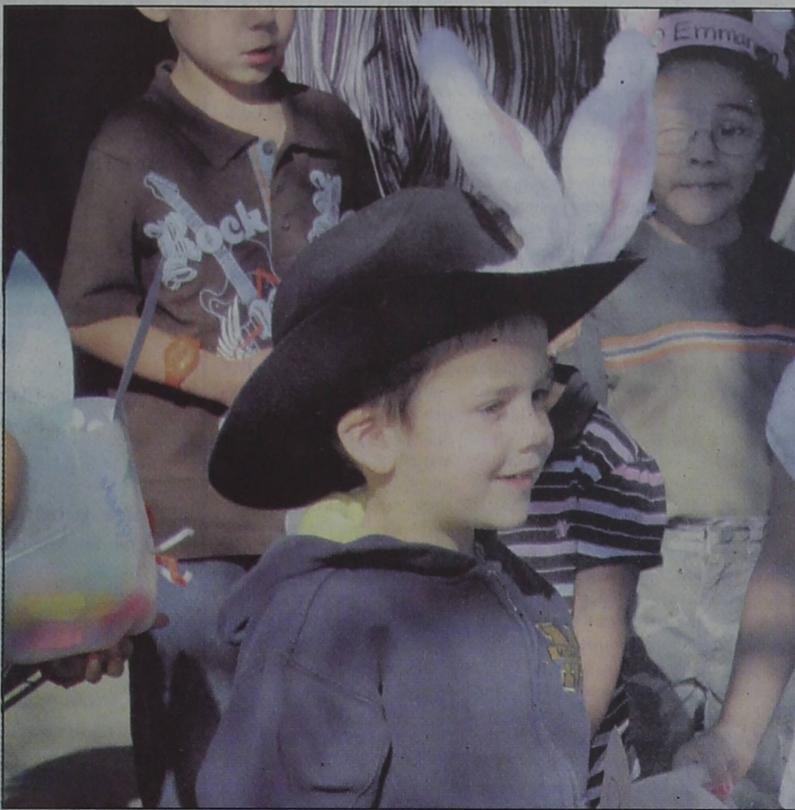

Thanks to the generosity of local businesses and individuals, the library has nine baskets to be raffled and one that will be auctioned. Each basket appeals to unique interests. Raffle tickets are $1 each.

All of the baskets are on display at the Friona Public Library. Raffle tickets are purchased for a specific basket so you should drop by the library, look the baskets over, and buy a handful of tickets either for a particular basket or spread them out over all the baskets. The friendly library ladies will be happy to explain the system to you.

The baskets have names and values. Exact contents of each basket are listed on the basket at the library. Here is the list:

1. Friona Primary School Staff - If You Take a Mouse to School - $260.
2. Ivy Cottage Flowers & Gifts - Heavenly Inspiration - $125.
3. Farm House Designs Greenhouse - Blooming Baskets - $200.
4. Allen Humberg Home Repair - Allen's Bucket List - $180.
5. Highly Scented Candles by Sue Humberg - 16 Candles - $85.

Hospital basic trauma survey gets high marks

A recent routine site survey for Parmer County Community Hospital's trauma designation resulted in very complimentary remarks from the surveyor. The following is excerpted from the letter received by the hospital from Scott Christopher, Trauma Site Surveyor:

"Thank you for inviting me to visit your facility and perform the Basic Trauma Facility (Level IV) re-designation survey February 9, 2009. You and your staff are to be commended on your commitment to providing a high level of trauma care to the citizens of Friona and the surrounding area. It is clearly evident to me that you have a knowledgeable and devoted staff. Please thank them and especially Lynn Nelson, RN, for their hospitality and cooperation during the survey."

The letter continues, "As you are aware, during these times of decreasing hospital reimbursement, increasing supply and equipment costs, increasing regulatory costs, and limited healthcare provider resources, hospitals are finding it difficult to keep the doors open. Your facility not only is keeping its doors open, but is adding services and contributing to Texas Trauma Systems Development. For that, you and your staff should be proud."

Heidi Eichenauer, PCCCH business development manager, said, "The staff and administration of Parmer County Community Hospital are pleased with the high commendation from the state."

remembering uncle hubert's old john deere

On Grandpa Allen's farm, life was basic and simple.

Many is the time as a young boy in the 1940s we traveled the slow road from Hillsboro to Grandpa's farm near Wylie, Texas. Grandpa and Granny Allen were my great-grandparents.

We made the regular journey in my Granddaddy Brown's car of the day, probably secondhand, as Granddaddy was a thrifty fellow. I'm pretty sure he never bought a new vehicle his entire life. He was a carpenter all his life, built a lot of houses for other people, but never owned one of his own.

My grandmother Brown was Grandpa Allen's daughter so we went to Wylie often to visit. I imagine it took a good two hours or more to maneuver the two-lanes and dirt roads between Hillsboro and Wylie, a distance of about 75-80 miles.

I don't have a clear memory of what kind of car my granddaddy had but I do remember sitting in the middle of the front seat. Whatever kind of car it was, I know it was a standard shift and had no radio or air-conditioning. It had no turn signals (we used arm signals out the window). It had no seat belts and the "dimmer switch" for the headlights was on the floor near the left foot.

Cars didn't come with fancy options. (Neither did farm equipment.) There was a rear view mirror inside but outside mirrors weren't standard. A trip to Babcock's or Western Auto and you could buy outside mirrors that clamped onto the door and tightened with screws.

Grandpa was a farmer. They had no inside plumbing. A water well in the backyard was always open. Grandpa let us draw buckets of water. It's a wonder some of us kids didn't fall in. He had a working windmill in the backyard, a corn crib in the barn, and a genuine smokehouse where he cured the ham and bacon from the hogs he killed.

A well-worn path led away from the house down to the outhouse and beyond was a small tank of water around which we used Grandpa's single shot .22 rifle to stalk rabbits and birds. He had mules, pigs, and chickens, all of which we chased.

One of grandpa's sons, my great uncle Hubert, lived just down the road. He farmed too and they never seemed bothered by anything we kids and grandkids did around their farms. They took us riding (in their lap) on the old John Deere tractors.

One of those ancient memories surfaced this week. Uncle Hubert's old John Deere still lives.

My cousins Judy Allen (Uncle Hubert's daughter) and Harold Allen (Uncle Harold's son) copied me in on a piece of our history via the magic of email.

At the start of America's involvement in World War II, Uncle Hubert ordered one 1942 Model H John Deere tractor but somehow took delivery of two (at the government's insistence). Fast forward through all those youthful years and the many years since.

After Uncle Hubert died, my cousin Judy was stuck with two old worn out tractors. Recently, on a whim, she donated one to the Garland schools to be used as an FFA project, not expecting much, just trying to get rid of an old tractor.

The Garland FFA kids took the tractor completely apart down to the bare frame. They catalogued each part, repaired what they could, and replaced anything they couldn't repair with genuine John Deere parts. Judy says their major purchases were some wiring, the headlights, and a new set of front tires.

The kids entered the tractor in the Garland FFA show and won first place. Judy's daughter Caroline and husband took her to the Garland show. She said, "They started it up for us and it purrs like a kitten." Now they are taking Uncle Hubert's tractor to other shows, including the state competition in San Antonio. They are also entering it at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas this year. Funny how memories keep chasing us for a lifetime.

Cousin Judy says, "Dad would be proud." And so are we all.

Uncle Hubert Allen's 1942 Model H John Deere tractor restored by Garland FFA students earned a first place ribbon. Garland ag teacher Glenn SESCO is leaning on the tractor talking with Judy Allen and her daughter Caroline.

Keeping farm pie simple

BY RON CARR

This is a simple recipe and chances are every cook in the Panhandle already knows how to make Buttermilk Pie. This recipe was submitted to American Profile Magazine by Kaye Ray of Borger.

She says, "Growing up on a farm in the Texas Panhandle we had freshly churned butter and buttermilk weekly. My mom would make Buttermilk Pie often. We could always look forward to having it for Father's Day because it was my father's favorite."

It is one of my favorites too and would be a good offering to take to the next occasion, that calls for bringing homemade desserts.

Buttermilk Pie

Serves 8

- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter, melted
- 1-3/4 cups sugar
- 3 tbsp all-purpose flour
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- 1/4 to 1/2 tsp ground nutmeg
- 1/4 tsp salt
- 1 unbaked 9-inch deep-dish pie crust

1. Preheat oven to 350
2. Combine butter, sugar, flour, eggs, buttermilk, vanilla, nutmeg and salt in a large bowl; whisk until smooth.
3. Pour mixture into pie crust. Bake 45 to 50 minutes until golden and a wooden toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean.

Cool completely on a wire rack. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate until serving time.

It was windy here Saturday with gusts over 60 mph. So what else is new. Wind is a part of life in the Panhandle but that doesn't mean we have to like it unless someone figures out how to build transmission lines for wind-farm electricity to be exported to lower Texas. Last Saturday we could have powered the entire state.

Sunday is Easter. The local ministerial alliance is holding an Easter Sunrise Service beginning at 7 a.m. in the high school auditorium. Don't forget about the Friona Easter Egg hunt Saturday at Friona city park at 10 a.m. and the Bovina Easter Egg hunt at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Bovina city park.

It was Mexican pile-on day at Monday's senior lunch. Thursday April 16 will be fried chicken day, always a popular menu for the seniors. Our senior lunch cook Nora Rios will celebrate her 60th birthday April 11.

It was said that former residents Andy and Winifred Hurst, now residents of Lubbock, are 'not doing well' and are seeking residency in an assisted living facility.

Any non-senior that can help out the old folks by furnishing a dessert on Mondays or Thursdays please call Carol Ellis at 250-3053. We who dine there will appreciate it.

Congratulations to Denise Anderson for earning her master's degree from Wayland Baptist University. Denise is a Bovina High School graduate and has been a computer lab teacher in the Bovina system for many years. She has been helpful to this newspaper over the years. If memory serves me Denise was a member of a Bovina state champion track relay team back in the 70s. Her master's is in school administration. Way to go Denise.

Prairie Acres Nursing Home's family council will meet April 21 at 7 p.m. Family members of nursing home residents are invited to attend. They are still seeking volunteers to come on Tuesday mornings to assist with resident hair care. If you can volunteer call Elizabeth Romero, 250-3922.

The Prairie Acres Easter party is Friday April 10. Line dancers from Hereford will be entertaining residents April 24 at 10 a.m. Contributions to the nursing home's love fund were used to purchase new table settings for the main dining room, including new dinnerware, glassware, silverware, chairs, tablecloths, cloth napkins, and centerpieces.

The activities department has created a sensory stimulation cart which utilizes sound, light, texture, and manipulatives to evoke response from lower functioning residents.

First Baptist Church has a new Yamaha 5'8" disklavier grand piano. Gary Mingus (Class of '73) works for a Yamaha dealer in the Dallas area and found the piano for the church. He is the son of Mildred Mingus of Friona. Kevin Wiseman says the church's piano was more than 50-years old. He said, "We are blessed to have such a nice instrument for worship, weddings, funerals, etc."

This Sunday First Baptist will present a 30-minute Easter Musical with narration called "In Christ Alone" as part of their Easter service. Buddy Young will preach an Easter sermon. Kevin says worship time is 10:40 a.m. and everyone is welcome.

I joined a big crowd of mostly Bovina residents Saturday night in Clovis for the showing of Ben and Butch McCain's "silly little movie" Killer Tumbleweeds (that's what Ben called it). It was chock full of local talent including members of the Ware, Jamerson, and Steelman families. Bovina mayor Stan Miller had a part too. The mayor of Clovis also attended the showing which was held at 7 p.m. at the Allen Theater.

Ben, Butch, and mom Rose McCain were present to greet the folks. A couple of friends and I had dinner at Kripple Creek prior to the showing.

(Hey Mary the peanut brittle was delicious. Thanks). The windy day Saturday was perfect for a bunch of Killer Tumbleweeds. Hats off to Middle America.

Just a thought. Over 6 million people have been laid off in recent months. How many of those are government employees?

The government backed Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac received bailout money and recently awarded job retention bonuses of over $150 million. We didn't hear Obama or the Democrats raise much hell about that did we?

Finally this. During the recent salmonella pistachio nut scare the Amarillo newspaper ran this headline: Raw Nuts May Be Bacteria Source. Ouch!

Remember When! 25-years-ago (1984) Diane Johnston and Wade Davenport won $100 each in the Masonic Lodge essay contest; Ray and Nancy Jackson were new owners of the Parmer House Restaurant (now Headquarters); Allsup's burritos were 2 for 99-cents; Brent Loflin and Teresa Wilcox were named "Most School Spirited" at FHS, and biscuits and gravy at the Tee Box Restaurant went for $1.25.

Longtime Dairy Queen cook Carl Robison died suddenly last week. Carl was a fixture in Friona for years serving many DQ customers. Our sympathy to his family, friends, and fellow employees.

Received word that Jimmy Maynard is in serious condition at BSA in Amarillo recovering after some intestinal surgery and Harold Taylor is also in the hospital at BSA. Our thoughts and prayers to Jimmy, Harold, and their families.

Grace Baptist Church pastor Gary Johnson was officially ordained Sunday. Rev. Rick Burton of Calvary Baptist conducted the ordination ceremony. The Johnsons are from Muleshoe and many family and friends attended the service. Gary also works in the maintenance department at Parmer County Hospital. Grace Baptist meets in the north end of the Congregational Church building. Rev. Johnson's phone number is 575-693-6381.

My mother found a restaurant she liked in Clovis. She said it was recommended by county tax appraiser Curby Brantley. It is called Simply Salads and is located in Hilltop Plaza in Clovis. That is the shopping center at Main and 21st where Furr's is located.

Simply Salads has salads, soups, baked potatoes. It is only open Monday to Friday 11-7. Mom said she enjoyed it, it was a neat place, and her bill was about $7 including tea. Of course mom has time to go to Clovis during the week. If you are a weekend Clovis shopper then Simply Salads is Simply Not Open.

The Friona city offices are closed Friday for the Good Friday holiday. The schools have early dismissal. Have a Happy Easter and we'll see you on the other side as we countdown to graduation day. Until then!

Art collector's legacy at PPHM

The lifetime collections of James D. Hamlin (1871-1950) are featured in an exhibit bearing his name in the Furniture Gallery at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum beginning April 18.

Hamlin was the first serious collector of art and decorative arts in the Panhandle. He came to the area in the late 1890's when cattle, ranching and farming were still king. Hamlin gained much of his wealth, later used for purchasing his collections, and reputation, through his position as manager and salesman of the former XIT ranchland.

Hamlin began collecting art and decorative arts in the 1920's after he had established himself in the area. With the exception of his collection of Southwestern art, Hamlin bought the majority of his pieces from dealers in Great Britain.

Due to Mr. Hamlin's voracious appetite for collecting, by the early 1930's his home in Farwell had become a pseudo-museum filled with art, furniture, silver, and porcelain, among other things. In 1921, Hamlin helped organize the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and in 1942 donated his collection.

The James D. Hamlin Collection will remain on display through October 11, 2009.

Think about this

God's definition of beauty

T. LEON TALLEY, Minister, Sixth Street Church of Christ
God does not use the same criteria people commonly use. Let's note:

God never used physical, outward appearance to determine beauty. When the prophet Samuel examines Jesse's sons in search of the next King of Israel, he was greatly impressed with Eliab's appearance. But God declared to Samuel that He did not look at a person's outward appearance, He looked at the inner beauty of his heart. (1 Samuel 16:7)

God never uses origin or culture as a criteria of beauty. People of one culture often don't see beauty in people of another. This racial prejudice blinded some of the Apostles to understand that the gospel was to go to the whole world. Only divine revelation could convince Peter to enter a Gentile house to preach the gospel. (Acts. 10)

God never determines beauty by social rank or life's circumstances. Human opinions are strongly influenced by a person's address, occupation or social role. There are no privileged Americans and inferior foreigners in God's sight. We all have a soul that God wants, regardless of our social condition. God is no respecter of persons. (Acts 10:34)

Gatlin on hospital construction firms

BY LANCE GATLIN, PCCH Administrator

Over the course of the construction project numerous community members have made inquiries regarding the hospital's architectural firm, Health Facilities Group (HFG), and construction management firm, Murray Company (Murray). Most commonly, individuals have asked how we arrived at the decision to engage the services of these two firms, so we would like to take this opportunity to better acquaint you with the history and experience of HFG and Murray.

Founded in 1994, HFG has designed hundreds of projects for more than 50 hospital clients throughout the Midwest, including several mid-size regional hospitals and Critical Access Hospitals. Three of the replacement Critical Access Hospitals it designed are currently under construction in Friona, Texas; Sulphur, Oklahoma; and Greensburg, Kansas. Another hospital project was recently completed in Neodesha, Kansas. A few of HFG's current clients include regional hospitals in Parsons, Kansas; Pratt, Kansas; Kennett, Missouri; El Dorado, Kansas and Hays, Kansas.

When asked about the replacement facility in Friona, David Wright, Vice President of HFG, said "We work exclusively in health care, and hospitals are one of the most complex types of building to design. This project was challenging because we had to keep the hospital operational while building a new facility on the same site. We're confident that the new hospital will meet the needs of the patients served by PCCH for years to come."

Murray, a design-build construction management firm originally founded in 1959, was purchased in 1993 by the current principals, John O'Hara and Phillip Schultze. Focusing exclusively in rural healthcare renovation and replacement construction with projects ranging from $1M to $30M, Murray has been involved in the construction of healthcare facilities in Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and Texas, and every Murray project superintendent has at least 3 to 5 years of healthcare construction experience.

Murray has completed over 50 healthcare projects in the past three years and over 100 healthcare projects in the last 5 years. "The wealth of experience gained in the last 17 years of constructing healthcare facilities in rural areas gives us a unique advantage in understanding the specific needs and struggles associated with constructing a rural hospital," said Mr. O'Hara.

We at PCCH thank you for your interest in the hospital project and we look forward to the opportunity to serve you in the new facility. As always, if you have any questions about PCCH or the construction project, please do not hesitate to contact Lance Gatlin at (806) 250-2754.

Library endowment committee honored

The Friona Public Library and the City of Friona hosted an appreciation dinner for the Friends of the Friona Public Library Centennial Endowment Committee on April 4, 2009 at the Women's Clubhouse, 9th and Pierce.

The Friona Women's Clubhouse Foundation catered the event featuring an assortment of hors d'oeuvres followed by a meal of prime rib with horseradish sauce, buttered new potatoes, spinach florentine, parker house rolls and iced tea. The dessert table featured cherry cheesecake, chocolate cake, fresh strawberry cake and coffee.

Committee members present for the event included Co-Chairs JeDon and Kitty Gallman, Jim Bob and Teddy Jones, Larry Johnston, Percy Parsons, Bryan and Allison Johnston, and Rex and Darla Bracken. Other special guests were Kent and Brenda Patterson and Friona City Manager Patricia Phipps. Members unable to attend were Gary and Karen Renner, John and Kathryn Gurley, Leroy and Terri Cox, Bill and Marilyn Stovell and Joy Morton. The Friends presented members with a special award in appreciation of their service. Library Director, Darla Bracken, praised the committee for their dedicated service during the three year (2006-2008) campaign which raised $141,430 for the library, citing—"not only their dedication, but also their willingness to serve, time, expertise, patience, personal contributions and numerous personal contacts made on behalf of the library."

The Clubhouse served as the Library's first home from 1963 to 1968 as an all-volunteer operation. The City of Friona then assumed operation of the library in 1968 when the Friends also organized as a 501 c (3). "Many dedicated people have come before us, and many will follow after us, but all have truly believed in the value of a public library to this community," said Mrs. Bracken.

The committee expressed their appreciation for the generous local support from their friends, neighbors and businesses, in addition to support from area businesses, corporations and foundations. The fund will be managed by the Amarillo Area Foundation.

FHS Students and Staff of the month

We are happy to announce the March Students and Staff Member of the Month for Friona High School.

Senior: Juan Mendez is always willing to do whatever needs to be done. If you give a list of things that needs to be done and turn around to get something, he will be up getting started. He quietly does whatever needs to be done. He recently helped with the LifeSmarts teams at Austin and is also active in Mr. Terry's program.

Mr. Terry says, "He does a great job and is willing to learn in his class. Juan is always the first one up when something needs to be done. He goes above and beyond on all tasks." "He did all the Video's for the LifeSmarts teams when they were in Austin and helped with the Playa Lakes Festival", says Ms. Murdock.

Junior: Taryn Jamerson maintains a good grade point average. Mrs. Allen says that, "Taryn has an exceptional ability to learn and apply technology to learning situations. She worked many hours on the First Aid video and podcast projects. She was an integral part of the brochure, display, and video brochure developed to recruit teachers for FISD. She is always the first to volunteer and has a great attitude for service to others. Taryn has been a great peer tutor, helping others learning the video editing process. She has worked over 150 hours with children at the Primary Campus in Early Childhood Professions." She plays basketball and is manager for the baseball team.

Sophomore: Brittany Herbert was the captain of the LifeSmarts White Team. She is a JV cheerleader, plays basketball, volleyball and golf. She is active in FCCLA and is doing a STAR event. She is also a participant in OAP. "Brittney is a delightful young lady. She is very active in all aspects of Friona High School. She has a positive attitude, a tremendous work ethic, and is nice to everyone. She is an excellent student and a great role model for the little girls in Friona. As a mom of little girls, I am glad that there are young ladies like Brittany for my daughters to look up to", says Mrs. Johnston.

Freshman: Tenna Montana was noted by Ms. Murdock as the only freshman on the LifeSmarts team. She is also active in One-Act Play and UIL events. "Tenna Montana is a conscientious young student. She gives her best and excels in many areas." She placed at district UIL and received an award for the one act play. "She is friendly and kind to her peers", says Mrs. Gammon. She was also a JV Cheerleader and will be one again next year. Tenna plays basketball and volleyball. She is always willing to do whatever you ask of her. "Tenna is one of our best and our brightest. She is an outstanding student, athlete, actress, and cheerleader. Tenna excels in everything she participates in. She is a leader. As a freshman she has already made an impact on our school. She is kind to everyone. She is helpful, dedicated, and has an incredible work ethic. She brings a great attitude to any project that she is a part of. My daughters have looked up to Tenna their entire lives", says Mrs. Johnston.

Staff Member: Coach Rex Cumpton has a good rapport with students and he is interested in their success. He is friendly and supports our students. Mrs. Gammon notes that, "Coach Cumpton genuinely cares about all students. He has encouraged so many students to do their best in class and on the track or field. Students trust him and go to him for advice. He has been a great asset to our school."
