Big Spring residents were treated to a unique sight Wednesday morning. The Sea World blimp — on its way to Orlando, Fla. via New York City — cruised over the downtown area. The blimp and its crew, whose flight originated in San Diego, spent Tuesday night in Pecos and was to land in Abilene Wednesday. At left, Hossein Ebrahimi, 6, son of M.R. and Petti Ebrahimi, a first grader at Bauer Magnet School, shields his eyes from the sun as he watches the blimp's progress from the front of the school.

How's That? Policy

Q. Is there a policy concerning teachers and the use of abusive language?

A. There is no specific policy on abusive language. However, there is a policy stating teachers and employees should in no way demean or ridicule a student, said Bill McQueary, superintendent, Big Spring Independent School District. All teachers and employees are expected to follow the code of ethics provided by the state of Texas. Students should report abusive language to their school principal.

Calendar Meeting

TODAY

• City Council will have a special meeting at 5 p.m. at City Hall. Members are to enter closed session to discuss the possible purchase of land and to discuss in open session a carnival permit request.

Trustees will vote again on member

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

Responding to an apparent violation of the Texas Open Meeting Act, the Big Spring school district Board of Trustees will revote on the selection of a new member.

Board President Bill Brooks said the action is scheduled to eliminate any appearance of illegality.

The issue arose during the board meeting Aug. 27, when Donnie Baker was chosen by secret ballot to replace Dock Voorhies — an action that apparently violates a section of the Texas Open Meeting Act.

In an opinion dated May 8, 1978, former

Texas Attorney General John Hill summarized, "The use of a secret ballot in a meeting of a governmental body violates the Texas Open Meetings Act."

Hill's opinion states: "The secret ballot, when used to protect citizens when choosing their representatives, is a hallmark of a democratic system of government; but, when it is used to conceal a public official's vote, it violates the fundamental tenet of an elected or appointed official's ultimate accountability to the electorate."

After consultation with their attorney, board members decided to again put the matter on the agenda, Brooks said.

Brooks noted the trustees' attorney advised the action, although not specifically stated as illegal, could be construed as illegal.

New laws affect crisis center

By KERRY HAGLUND
Staff Writer

Three new state laws relate to operations of the Big Spring Rape Crisis/Victim Services center, according to Executive Director Cecelia McKenzie.

Marital rape now is a crime. In addition, victims of sexual assault are allowed to use a fictitious name, and the law on taped testimony of children has changed. McKenzie had both positive and negative comments about the changes.

Marital rape now is a first degree felony, according to House Bill 161, which passed during the 70th Legislature. The bill was sponsored by Rep. Debra Danburg, D-Houston.

A first degree felony is punishable by possible life imprisonment, Howard County District Attorney Rick Hamby said.

The marital rape law should give women a higher sense of self worth as a result of the state's acknowledgement that such a crime can be committed, McKenzie said.

But marital rape is extremely difficult to prove, she noted.

The law, which took effect Tuesday, came after at least nine years of lobbying by victims rights groups, she said.

Another change revises a law passed in 1985, which allows videotapes of child testimony in the courtroom.

The Court of Criminal Appeals ruled July 1 that the 1985 law was unconstitutional, said David Edmondson, council for Sen Hugh Farmer, D-Fort Worth. Farmer cosponsored the revised bill with Rep. Juan Hinojosa, D-McAllen.

The new law allows the child's taped testimony to be admissible only if the defendant is given the opportunity to videotape a cross-examination of the child, according to Doug Vocelle, assistant to Rep. Larry Don Shaw, D-Big Spring.

The original version stated tapes of child testimony automatically were admissible in court, but the new law requires a court to rule that the child is unable to testify, Edmondson said.

Rape Crisis Director McKenzie said she was pleased the law was not taken off the books, but indicated concern about the added stipulations.

"I'd hate for any child to have to testify," she said.

"The law sets us back about 30 years," she added, explaining the

Vietnam Wall committee finalizing visit details

Herald staff report

The Vietnam Wall committee finalized details of the veterans' memorial wall's visit to Big Spring Sept. 30 to Oct. 6 during a 2½-hour meeting Wednesday.

The Wall committee has met its original $3,200 fundraising goal to finance the Wall's visit to Big Spring. However, an additional $500 to $1,000 is needed to fund expenses of its visit, said committee Secretary/Treasurer Teri Quinones.

Those expenses include printing programs and providing temporary restrooms, as well as any unanticipated items, she said.

Quinones praised those who contributed to the effort, and said this morning that she hopes the momentum will continue, "in order to provide a first-class presentation to West Texans."

The Wall committee will conduct a volunteer workshop at 7 p.m. Sept. 11 at the National Guard Armory, Quinones said. Anyone interested in helping with the Wall's visit should attend the workshop, she said.

Volunteers are needed to erect and dismantle the Wall, man information tables, comfort bereaved Wall visitors, prevent vandalism, direct visitors to the panel that lists the names of their loved ones, escort elderly and handicapped visitors, distribute refreshments to volunteers, and help with security, maintenance and parking, Quinones said.

Counselors from the Midland veterans' center will be on hand to assist visitors, she said.

The Wall committee and local veterans will participate in the League of United Latin American Citizens parade Sept. 12, Quinones said.

The parade is to celebrate the Sept. 16 anniversary of Mexico's independence from Spain.

A fundraising bowling tournament will be conducted Sept. 19-20 at Highland Lanes. Preregistration is unnecessary, she said.

The committee also worked Wednesday evening to finalize opening and closing Wall ceremonies. Volunteers will read the names of the 3,200 Texas men and women who died in the Vietnam War, she said.

Hospital chief resigns

ANDY GRAMLICH

Herald staff report

Andy Gramlich, administrator at Scenic Mountain Medical Center, has resigned from that post, according to Mike Deacon, acting administrator.

Gramlich's resignation is believed to be effective immediately, Deacon said, adding no reason has been given for the action.

Gramlich is on vacation and could not be reached for comment.

He has been administrator at the hospital for about one year, Deacon said. No date has been set for naming a new administrator, he added.

Connally files bankruptcy with debts of $93 million

Dallas Times Herald Bureau
AUSTIN — Former Gov. John B. Connally, whose jet-setting lifestyle once epitomized the height of the real estate boom in Texas, disclosed Wednesday in U.S. Bankruptcy Court that he is $93 million in debt.

With $13 million in assets, including about $4,000 in uncollateralized bills that were the first to carry his signature as secretary of the treasury during the Nixon Administration, Connally revealed the extent to which he could no longer meet his financial obligations.

Papers submitted to the court on Wednesday completed Connally's declaration of personal bankruptcy that was begun July 31. At that time, he also joined former Lt.

Gov. Ben Barnes in filing bankruptcy for 18 enterprises in which the two were partners.

Lawyers for Connally said meetings of the ex-governor's creditors were scheduled for today in bankruptcy court, including one session for his personal creditors and another for creditors of the joint Barnes-Connally ventures.

Connally, 70, who served as governor from 1963 to 1969, is seeking to reorganize his debts under protection of state and federal bankruptcy laws. His financial statement showed assets that included $12.3 million in real property, $45,100 on deposit and $850 in cash.

The real estate holdings include Connally's 3,495-acre, $3.49-million

Liz Taylor and "chicken" Sherril Bordofsky join forces to promote the Sept. 11 community luncheon and Sept. 12 chicken fried steak championship. The efforts will initiate the local United Way's $215,000 1987 campaign. The second annual World's Championship Chicken Fried Steak Cook-off benefiting the United Way will begin at the Highland Mall at 10 a.m. The sixth in a series of belt buckles is also currently available at the Chamber of Commerce.

$215,000 United Way drive begins Sept. 11

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

Reservation deadline for the Sept. 11 Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce Community Luncheon — which officially will initiate the 1987 United Way campaign — is noon Tuesday, according to Betty Schoenfeld of the Chamber of Commerce.

The goal of this year's campaign — reported incorrectly in Wednesday's Herald — is $215,000, the same as last year, according to campaign manager Tommy Welch.

Tickets for the luncheon are $5 per person by reservation, or $7 at the door, Schoenfeld said. The luncheon will begin in the East Room of the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum at 11:45 a.m., she added.

Welch reported the different divisions of the campaign are:

• Out-of-town — This division is responsible for soliciting donations from businesses that have their main offices outside Howard County. Chaired by Scott McLaughlin, its goal is $5,500.

• Pacesetters — Headed by Bob Riley and Larry Bristo, the Pacesetters have set a goal of $85,000 from individuals or businesses contributing $500 or more.

• Special — This is responsible for any business with six or more employees. Its goal is $15,000, and the chairpersons are Tim Blackshear and Madeline Boadle.

• Small Business — Responsible for businesses with five or fewer employees, it is chaired by Larry Ray, Larson Lloyd Jr. and Marianne Brown. Its goal is $5,000.

• CFC — This division will solicit contributions from federal employees. Headed by Bert Andries, its goal will be set later, Welch said.

• Professional — This division will solicit from doctors, lawyers, accountants and other professional groups. Chairmen are Tim Thorton and Lt. Tex Hollis, and its goal also will be set later.

• Special Event — This division will raise money through special events during the drive. Its goal is $11,000, and chairpersons are Donna Morris and Melinda Hernandez.

• Loan Executives — This division will solicit from the 20 largest employee groups in Big Spring. Chaired by Louis Gonzales and Wallace Gill, its goal is $80,000.

• Rural/Residential — Responsible for individual contributions, this division is chaired by Loyd Underwood and has a goal of $8,000.

Texan observes coup attempt

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas cardiologist spent much of a recent visit with Philippine president Corason Aquino helping tend her son, who was wounded in a bloody attempt to overthrow the government.

Rolando Solis and his wife, Margarita, had gone to the Philippines to attend a dinner in honor of the cardiologist, who had performed bypass surgery on Mrs. Aquino's late husband Benigno in 1980. But hours later, the couple witnessed the strongest challenge yet to Mrs. Aquino's 18 month-old government.

After being awakened by gunfire late that night, Solis rushed to a Manila hospital in a bullet-proof car under military escort and coordinated the medical treatment for Benigno S. Aquino III, who was injured when his car was sprayed with bullets. Solis said the first casualties were civilians cheering for Mrs. Aquino.

"They were out there clapping... shouting, 'Cory! Cory!'" Solis said, adding that then the rebels began shooting into the cheering crowd.

Mrs. Solis stayed with Mrs. Aquino, the Philippine's first democratically-elected president in more than a decade. Solis said Mrs. Aquino alternated between directing counter-insurgency efforts and attending to her family.

"She was actually in charge the whole time, giving orders to the generals on what to do," Solis said.

But the following morning, Solis said Mrs. Aquino spent her time with her children. "She was just there — a mother to her children, playing around with the grandchildren like nothing was going on."

Solis, a native of the Philippines, served as Mrs. Aquino's personal doctor during her election campaign in 1986. He said the uproar attracted spectators, with some sitting on lawns to watch.

"There were some people out there watching the shooting like they were watching the shooting of a movie," Solis told the Dallas Morning News in a story published Wednesday.

Local funds to purchase new house for couple

Herald staff report

The remaining $3,500 of the local Saragosa relief fund will be used to help buy housing for a couple who lost their home in a fire.

The couple, who live on the edge of Saragosa, sustained roof damage to their home during the May 22 tornado that destroyed most of the town, according to Sister Julieta Mendoza, director of Catholic Charities in the area.

While repairs to the house were made, the electricity was apparently re-wired improperly, she said, causing a fire that destroyed the house and all the family's possessions.

The couple have sustained a double tragedy. Their daughter was killed by the tornado, leaving her two children orphans, Mendoza said.

Richard White, advertising manager of the Herald, said the remaining $3,500 in the local fund would go to help the couple either rebuild or buy other housing.

In a related development, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Claxton will not be going to Saragosa Friday as reported in the Herald. Mrs. Claxton reported recent circumstances have forced the couple to indefinitely postpone their trip.

Weather

Forecast

West Texas - Mostly sunny through Friday, fair tonight. Lows tonight will be in the 60s except near 50 in the mountains. Highs Friday will be in the lower 90s in the Panhandle and far west to mid 90s elsewhere except lower 80s in the mountains.

State

Pleasant weather is in store for all of Texas for the Labor Day weekend with forecasts calling for clear to partly cloudy skies and no significant rainfall.

The outlook for Labor Day weekend calls for partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures across North Texas, partly cloudy and hot across South Texas and clear to partly cloudy and a little cooler across West Texas. There is no mention of any sort of precipitation.

Lows tonight will be mostly in the 60s, ranging from the lower 50s in the mountains of Southwest Texas to around 80 along the Texas coast. Highs Friday will be mostly in the 90s.

A ridge of high pressure is responsible for the pleasant weather. Clear skies, cool temperatures and calm winds were reported statewide at dawn today.

Classes offered at center

The Howard College Learning Center is now open Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., and Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6 to 9 p.m. There is no charge to students using the Learning Center and there are no grades given.

The Learning Center offers classes in Adult Basic Education, G.E.D., English as a Second Language and Life Coping Skills. Students attend whenever possible and progress at their own individual rate.

Adult Basic Education is designed for persons who would like to learn to improve their basic academic skills. General Education Development (G.E.D.) programs are designed for persons who have not completed high school. After successfully passing a series of G.E.D. tests, adults receive a certificate of high school equivalency.

English as a Second Language offers English as spoken and emphasizes citizenship topics for non-English speaking adults. Life Coping Skills teaches students how to use math in everyday life.

For more information, contact Janie Rodriguez at Howard College Learning Center, 1001 Birdwell Lane, 267-6311 ext. 316.

One pleads guilty to DWI

Gary Joe Flores, 20, 3800 Calvin St., pleaded guilty in county court to driving while intoxicated. He was fined $331, and sentenced to 72 hours in jail. Flores was later released under modified conditions of probation under the authority of 118th District Judge James Gregg.

Billy Don Wilson Jr., 22, Box

6061, was released this morning after a 12:32 a.m. arrest on U.S. Highway 87, four miles south of FM 700 on charges of DWI.

Mike Moreno Ortega, 29, 706 S. Lancaster St., was arrested Wednesday on a warrant charging him with unauthorized carrying of a weapon on licensed premises. No bond has been set.

Elementary schools to form clubs to help say no to drugs

The Big Spring Independent School System plans to launch "Just Say No" clubs in elementary schools, Superintendent Bill McQueary.

"Just Say No" clubs are groups of children, seven to 14 years old, who are committed to living drug-free, according to a school release. The clubs use positive peer pressure to reinforce members' resolve to say no to drugs, including alcohol and tobacco.

Club members take part in educational, recreational and service activities. Members learn it isn't necessary to use drugs to make friends or have fun, according to the release.

The new Big Spring clubs will join an estimated 12,000 "Just Say No" clubs active nationwide.

McQueary also stated that the USDA Agriculture Research Service and especially the support of Dr. J.D. Bilbro has been instrumental in helping to get the program established.

The PTA in each school will assume the role of organizer. One teacher at each school will serve as the club's adult leader. For more information, call the principal at any elementary school.

She is accused of leaving the store without paying for an $11.96 pair of jeans and a $4.86 pair of baby shoes.

Andrew Price, 55, 206 N.E. Third St., was arrested at 500 Scott Drive Wednesday on a capias warrant for theft under $20, police reports said.

Ambulance reports time increase

Herald staff report

The average response time by Rural/Metro ambulance service increased slightly during August, attributed to the number and location of calls, Operations Manager Marc Terrill reported.

Despite an increase of less than one minute per call, Terrill said he is pleased with August's ambulance response times.

Terrill released the ambulance service's monthly report today.

The average response time increased from July's 4.83 minutes to 5.69 minutes in August, Terrill said.

Terrill attributed the increase to more calls outside the city, one call that took about 30 minutes because of difficulty in locating the residence, and a full month rather than a half month of operations.

July's report covered the last two weeks, because Rural/Metro began operations July 16, Terrill noted.

In 85 percent of last month's calls, the ambulances arrived at the scene in eight minutes or less, the report states. That compares to 86 percent in July. Ambulances responded to 92 percent of the calls in 10 minutes or less, an increase from July's 91 percent.

The ambulance service responded to 124 calls in August, of which 72 were classified as emergency and 52 were not.

The report states 90 percent, or 65, emergency calls were in Big Spring and 10 percent, or seven calls, were in the county.

During July, 91 percent of the calls were within the city.

Average total time on the scene decreased 3.54 minutes from July's time of 16.61 minutes to 13.07 minutes last month, the report states.

The report also notes that 15 percent of emergency calls were cardiac patients, 9 percent were motor vehicle accidents, 29 percent were other trauma, 11 percent were respiratory and 38 percent were other medical emergencies.

New laws

revisions make it more likely that a child will need to testify.

The third law allows sex offense victims to be listed by initials or a fictitious name in all public files.

McKenzie called it the "pseudonym" law, and added her office has been asked for suggestions on how to implement the law.

"We have to decide how to keep their names out of the paper. Should we call all of them Mary Doe?"

The Sexual Assault Prevention and Crisis Services Program of the Texas Department of Health will develop and distribute a state pseudonym form by Dec. 31 to all law enforcement agencies, according to the bill.

The law allows a sexual assault victim to use a pseudonym to designate the victim in all public files and records of the offense, including police summary reports, press releases and records of judicial proceedings.

Violations for knowingly disclosing the name of a victim using a pseudonym will be considered Class C misdemeanors.

Violators can be fined as much as $200, Big Spring City Judge Gwendolyn Fair said.

McKenzie said she doesn't anticipate any problems with the news media, which has used guidelines calling for discretion in not disclosing the identity of sexual assault victims.

"Our media has been very conscientious about that," McKenzie said, noting that the law will be helpful in larger cities where names sometimes are published inadvertently.

Debts include small as well as large

AUSTIN (AP) — Former Gov. John Connally owes a number of financial institutions millions, but court documents also show several considerably smaller creditors among his $93 million in liabilities.

In the dozens of pages of creditors — some owed more than $10 million each — Connally listed a $65 debt to Sweetie Pies, an Austin pie shop.

Liabilities included debts to two newspapers, $26.91 to the Austin American-Statesman and $62.61 to The Wall Street Journal.

Two Austin country clubs were owed — $66.99 to the Barton Creek Club and $119.50 to the Lost Creek Country Club. The Ruidoso (N.M.) Jockey Club is owed $500 as well.

Among other smaller creditors listed were the General Cigar Co. of Philadelphia, Pa., $1,162.35; the Plant Lady of Austin, $2,142.60; ABC Westlake Florist of Austin, $256.89; American Paging Inc., $122.10, and Bryan Dabbs of Austin, who is listed as being owed $11.55. The court papers cited no specific reason for that debt, and Dabbs wasn't listed in the Austin telephone directory.

Connally, who also served as U.S. Navy secretary under President John F. Kennedy, joined Barnes in real estate projects after Connally's failed bid for the Republican presidential nomination in 1980.

Their developments included condominium projects on South Padre Island and in New Mexico, an Austin subdivision, an office building in Houston and shopping centers in several Texas cities. Connally has blamed their financial problems on the downturn in the Texas economy.

Sergeant gets life for murder

AUSTIN (AP) — An Air Force sergeant convicted of murder burst into tears in a military courtroom after jurors sentenced him to life in prison.

Air Force Tech. Sgt. Gerald Mobley was convicted in the February slaying and attempted rape of Cynthia Torres, a civilian employee at Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin.

Jurors deliberated three hours Wednesday before deciding on the life sentence. A death sentence was the only other possible penalty.

"It's always difficult when someone's life is in jeopardy," said Capt. Mahala Sawyer, the only female on the eight-person jury. She added that the deliberations included a look at Mobley's unblemished 15-year service record.

Mobley, 34, could be eligible for parole in 10 years, Air Force officials said. The prison sentence also carries a dishonorable discharge from the service.

Mobley's wife and three children were at Bergstrom for the sentencing.

When asked by Col. Philip F. O'Neill, the judge, whether he had any questions about the verdict, Mobley said, "No sir."

The defendant then sat down and burst into tears.

Ms. Torres, 25, was a civilian cashier at the Bergstrom Non-Commissioned Officers' Club. Mobley, who was stationed at George Air Force Base near Victorville, Calif., was temporarily assigned to Bergstrom when Ms. Torres was killed.

She was found near death Feb. 7 in the parking lot of the club by her husband, an airman at the base. She had been strangled with her automobile's seat belt, and she died two days later.

During the trial, which began Aug. 19, circumstantial evidence was introduced that linked

Air Force Tech. Sgt. Gerald I. Mobley, center, is escorted Wednesday afternoon by Bergstrom AFB security police from the punishment phase of his trial. Mobley received a life sentence for the murder of an NCO club cashier in February.

Mobley to the crime, including blood and hair samples. No eyewitnesses were produced.

Prosecutors called 23 witnesses to testify in the guilt phase of the trial, while the defense called no witnesses. In the sentencing phase, the defense called 18 character witnesses, including Mobley's family and friends, and the prosecution called two witnesses, both Air Force personnel.

The military court's verdict goes to the 12th Air Force Commander, Lt. Gen. Merrill A. McPeak, who convened the court martial and who can receive further pleadings from the defense.

McPeak can confirm the blood sentence, reduce it or decide that insufficient evidence was presented during the trial for a conviction. After a decision by McPeak, the sentence automatically will be appealed to the Air Force Court of Military Appeals in Washington, officials said.

Mobley, who is being held at Bergstrom, probably will go to the U.S. Disciplinary Barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., said Air Force officials.

The last time a U.S. service man was sentenced to death after a court martial was in 1961.

Minister Railey resigns

DALLAS — After surrendering his church credentials, Walker Railey still says he looks forward to serving God, "however that may be."

Railey said Wednesday that increasing stress stemming from the near-fatal attack on his wife and the subsequent investigation, led him to voluntarily give up his credentials as an ordained minister.

"For the last four months, the burdens upon me have been tremendous as have the complexities and confusion of the situation surrounding my life," he said in a prepared statement.

"I will cherish forever my 22 years under the appointment of a bishop and look forward to the future to serving God, however that may be."

City challenges official

AUSTIN — A New York city has invited the Texas official who bad-mouthed it to drop by for an all-expenses-paid visit.

But Edward Vetter, chairman of the Texas Department of Commerce, probably won't accept the trip to Troy, N.Y. — a city he called "a lousy place to locate," department spokesman Bob Ochoa said Wednesday.

Gov. Bill Clements, who also was invited to Troy by the area's chamber of commerce, "will review (the invitation) and see if he can fit it into his schedule," said Reggie Bashur, the governor's press secretary.

"We always love getting invitations," Bashur said. John O'Connor, president of the Rensselaer County Regional Chamber of Commerce, said the invitations were sent to Texas Wednesday.

Texans exchange cities

HOUSTON — Houstonians are moving to Dallas more than any other city, while Houston ranks as the top destination for people relocating from Dallas, truck rental companies say.

Although most of the firms said the number is about even, Ryder Truck Rental said Houston appears to be winning the "tug-of-war" for new residents between the two cities.

The second largest source of people moving to the Houston area was Austin, followed by San Antonio, Fort Worth, Corpus Christi, New Orleans, and Atlanta, the firm said.

The information was gathered from Ryder's truck rental dealers as well as statistics from various government sources.

"Between Houston and Dallas, the numbers are about even. I've never seen that happen before," said Diane Boschain, spokeswoman for U-Haul Co. "Nationwide, people aren't moving as much and it's not from state to state. They move, but they stay in a close radius."

Robber poses as clerk

DALLAS — A robber donned a swiped smock and posed as a convenience store clerk, heading off police who were answering a burglary call.

As his two accomplices held the real clerk at knife-point in a storeroom, the fake clerk smiled courteously at Dallas policeman Kevin Shriver, telling the officer it was his first night on the job.

Shriver said the man behind the 7-Eleven counter early Wednesday morning gave a false report about two shoplifters who had stolen candy bars and fled. Shriver filed the report and left.

Five minutes later, Shriver was back at the store responding to a second call but this time the fake clerk and his accomplices were gone, along with $10 from the register and $20 from a muscular dystrophy donation can.

The real employee told Shriver one of the men said he was a former 7-Eleven employee committing the robbery "for revenge."

Plane joins police chase

TULIA — Two men who allegedly took a sports car for a test drive up the Texas Panhandle were finally stopped by a reserve policeman flying a twin-engine plane.

Jim L. Cox used his Cessna 172 Tuesday to stop the Datsun 280-Z just outside Palo Duro Canyon after officers from the Department of Public Safety, Swisher County and Tulia police chased the car at high speeds for about 25 miles.

Cox stopped the car, which police said reached speeds as high as 140 mph, when his landing gear snagged its roof, officials said.

The Datsun was reported stolen about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday from the Ford dealership in the town southeast of Lubbock, Slaton Police Chief Barbara Fowler said.

Cox, who is also manager of the city's airport, said he heard the pursuit on a police radio at the airport and decided his help was needed.

"According to the radio, (the car) was just leaving everybody behind," Cox said.

Views of papers across the U.S.

Here is a sampling of editorial opinion from around the nation:

Conviction indicates repair needed

What we don't know is a lot more than what we do know about Marine Sgt. Clayton Lonetree's espionage trial. For a public raised on open courtrooms and strict rules of evidence, the so-called "sex for secrets" court-martial trial in Quantico, Va., was veiled in military mystery.

Lonetree's story unfolded. The net effect, at least to those outside the process, was far less than complete.

Lonetree's actions and conviction mean that those responsible for keeping state secrets secret have some self-scrutiny to accomplish and some repair work to do.

Says Constitution poll startling

It is likely that most people two centuries ago didn't understand what a fine document the framers of the U.S. Constitution wrought. But neither do most Americans today.

The purpose of the Bill of Rights — yet 61 percent favored another Constitutional Convention to change the Constitution.

The genius of the document is demonstrated by the fact that despite the sustained ignorance by the majority government has functioned and freedom has been preserved for those who don't even realize why they are free.

No one promised Jimmy the Weasel a permanent rose garden. He has dined long enough off the taxpayers.

The Stuart (Fla.) News

Suggests test of Marcos' sincerity

Ferdinand Marcos, the ex-president who lives here, said he had nothing to do with encouraging the attack.

destroying President Corazon Aquino.

He was quoted as saying, however, that he was willing to return to Manila "to help maintain the peace" if the U.S. government would let him.

The U.S. officials who have provided for Marcos' shelter and safety here should go one step further and compel him to issue a statement denouncing efforts, either by his former allies or other Philippine insurrectionists, that seek to undermine the Aquino government.

Says census data worth extra time

The Constitution requires a census every 10 years. Since the early 19th century that has involved not only a head count but also questions about details of life.

in lost time (at $15 an hour).

Recently the Office of Management and Budget asked if the number of questions on the long form could be reduced and if fewer long forms could be sent out. An OMB official said it otherwise would cost Americans $450 million Reducing paperwork is always a good idea. But an hour more or less every 10 years is not really a burden, and Census Bureau experts and the public officials who depend on census data are convinced when they argue that they need this data in this form to plan and govern.

All those cars, television sets, steel products and computers haven't brought corresponding However, higher wages for South Korean workers will not necessarily benefit American workers.

Olympic plans should be changed

Hopefully, Olympic officials are giving some serious thought to the desirability of holding the 1988 Olympics in Korea, where extensive preparations have been made for the quadrennial extravaganza.

in creating facilities for the '88 Olympics it would seem unwise to assemble athletes from all over the world, and then have them harassed and endangered by the highly temperamental and belligerent Korean mobs.

Based upon recent happenings in the long-troubled country, Korea would currently seem even less suitable than Johannesburg.

How about sports-worthy Indianapolis, or back to Los Angeles which certainly won a blue ribbon for the highly successful 1984 championship games?

In spite of the fact that Korean officials have spent a lot of money

Arcadians' AIDS approach leaves much to be desired

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

This is a tale of two cities — and three boys.

The citizens of Arcadia, Fla. have been in a bit of a huff recently. It seems the three Ray boys — Ricky, Robert and Randy — want to attend school in their fair city.

There's a problem, however. The Ray brothers are hemophiliacs and, through blood transfusions, contracted the acquired immune deficiency syndrome virus through no fault of their own. This has transformed them — in the minds of many Arcadians — into public enemies.

Remember:

- These boys do not have the disease itself, only the virus.
- Health officials say there's no threat of the boys spreading the virus through casual contact.
- Other school children stand a greater risk of being struck by lightning than getting AIDS.

Forget such trifling details — the people in Arcadia have. Some residents are convinced the youths should be banned from school.

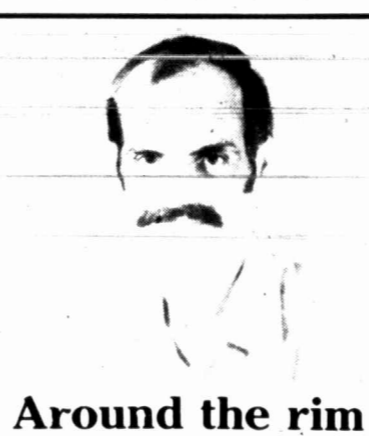

After the boys' parents had the courage to enroll them in classes, a group of citizens called for a week-long school boycott. Parents of half of the district's children kept them at home.

Arcadian Danny Tew, head of Citizens Against AIDS in Schools (catchy title, huh?), is calling for mandatory testing to identify all persons with the AIDS virus. Once identified, they should be educated in a controlled environment where "they would pose no risk to others," he said.

Exactly what quality of education such isolated individuals would receive — and who will pay the additional costs — was not explained by the omniscient Mr. Tew.

Visions of leper colonies, complete with barbed wire, come to mind when such a suggestion is made.

Perhaps Mr. Tew needs to be placed in an environment designed for those who overreact, where he wouldn't pose a risk to others' intelligence. But I digress.

Around the rim

After the Rays insisted on enrolling the boys in school, threats were made against them. Days later, their house burned to the ground. Officials describe the fire as "suspicious."

Indeed, "I wonder if those officials would consider it suspicious if someone was caught outside a bank after a robbery with a million dollars in his possession?"

When the series of Arcadia events generated their inevitable publicity, Tew and others felt the sting.

"(The fire) makes the world think we are heartless," he said. "We are not heartless. We are not violent."

No, Mr. Tew, you aren't. Grossly misinformed or ignorant, maybe, but not heartless. Reactionary, perhaps, but not violent.

Meanwhile, the Rays have decided to move. They've not decided where to relocate, but their lawyer said the family is looking for a more "enlightened" place.

How about Big Spring, Mr. Ray? This may come as a shock to anyone who considers our part of the world as the Wild West, but we can be fairly enlightened folks when we're in the mood.

Three weeks ago, Big Spring school Superintendent Bill McQueary proposed — and the school board accepted — an AIDS policy that seems to be a sane and sensible approach.

The policy allows students with either the virus or the disease to attend school in a normal setting, as long as they don't have open sores that can't be covered and officials determine no health risk exists.

The confidentiality of the student also is protected. Only parents of students at the particular school will be notified of the presence of a case.

Although there's more to the policy, it is a rational approach to a potentially explosive issue — and the district should be commended.

Of course, the acid test for this policy will come when the first AIDS case is announced. The possibility of Arcadia-style hysterics in Big Spring cannot be discounted.

That won't be the case, however, if the reaction at the time the policy was adopted is any indication. About 30 people attended the board meeting and no protests were heard.

Maybe it's the prevalence of health care here — or maybe Big Springers are a naturally tolerant group. Whatever the reason, I hope and pray that if one of our students gets this deadly disease, we will react with compassion, dignity and sanity — qualities lacking in Arcadia last week.

A personal note. Tomorrow will be a sad day in the Herald newsroom.

Lifestyle Editor Carleen Everett-Haley leaves to accompany her husband, Bee, to Nashville, Tenn., where he will attempt to make his mark in the music industry.

It is difficult to talk about her without delving into cliches. She is sweet beyond compare. She is un-faillingly kind and supportive.

Since my first day in the newsroom, Carleen has been a source of constant support and kindness. Whenever I faced a problem or had a question, I knew she would help.

We'll miss you, kid.

Taxpayers pay football mom's trips

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR

WASHINGTON — The fine art of parenting is a matter of deep concern at the Department of Health and Human Services, but the subsidy of football mothers is definitely not part of the program.

This is the conclusion of the department's Board of Ethics, which has asked a top HHS official to repay the cost of trips she made at government expense to see her son play football.

Dr. Jean Elder, an expert on the disabled, was also moved from her job as acting assistant director for Human Development Services to a position of lesser responsibility as special assistant to Secretary Otis R. Bowen. Elder retained her $73,400 salary during the job switch, according to an HHS spokesman.

An unrepentant Elder maintained that her attendance at the games was "part of her commitment as a parent," according to a report prepared by the HHS inspector general. "She said her staff knew that she always planned on attending every game unless government business required her to be somewhere else," the report states.

However, the report continues, "Dr. Elder emphatically denied that she ever requested any staff members to drum up 'official trips that would enable her to attend her son's football games."

Sen. Gordon Humphrey, R-N.H., first raised questions about the trips this May, after Elder was nominated to become assistant secretary for Human Development Services.

Our associate Stewart Haris has obtained the results of the subsequent inspector general's probe and copies of the vouchers for Elder's trips from 1983 through 1985.

The inspector general's investigators concluded that government business was not conducted on five out of 11 trips flagged by Humphrey; they also questioned the necessity of other trips. Examples:

• On Friday, Oct. 20, 1983, Elder traveled to Lansing, Mich., to take care of business that was normally handled in a 20-minute telephone conference call. An Elder aide told investigators that the trip was arranged because "Elder wanted to be in Lansing that weekend and (her staffers) were to find a reason for her to be there."

Elder's son Paul, a linebacker, hit the gridiron the following day at nearby Albion College, where he was going to school. The trip cost the taxpayers $295, according to the vouchers.

• The following fall, Elder's staff instructed Indiana officials to "develop an agenda" for an Elder trip to Indianapolis in late September. Says the inspector general's report: "Staff members

Who can deny need to deny?

By ART BUCHWALD

One of the good things to come out of the Iran-Contra hearings was the phrase of "plausible deniability" used by the White House minions. The object of plausible deniability was to give the President an out if anyone attempted to trace dirty White House linen to the Oval Office.

"The President didn't know because I didn't tell him," bragged Admiral Poindexter during the hearings, thus giving Mr. Reagan the deniability he so badly needed during the worst period of his terms.

It is also believed that other witnesses provided themselves with plausible deniability while cooking up various covert actions, but each witness was judged differently.

The public decided in the case of Albert Hakim that his deniability was a work of treachery, while in the case of Ollie North it was an act of patriotism.

Although plausible deniability became fashionable during the Iran-Contra hearings it is really as old as American apple pie, and there isn't a segment of our society that doesn't use it.

Personnel managers are experts in plausible deniability. "There must be some mistake. We never offered you a job — we just told you that if something opened up you would get equal consideration. If you don't accept this as a reasonable explanation, we will send all copies of your resume."

Even schoolchildren learn early in life to provide themselves with deniability. "I didn't know I was supposed to do homework because nobody told me." Or "Miss Mathers said I didn't have to turn in my term paper until Tuesday. I have the date marked in my assignment book, so she must have gotten her instructions all wrong."

And while we're at it, let's not forget the P.D. practiced by teenagers. "The reason I didn't come home last night is the car broke down and I couldn't find anyone to fix it, and I didn't want to leave it sitting out there on the Beltway, so I guarded it all night long."

"What proof do you have?" "Penny sat up with me so I wouldn't get cold."

Plausible deniability is the most important kind of deniability there is. It is a story that can't be shaken whether told by an airline clerk who tells you you have no reservation or an auto mechanic who claims he has repaired your brakes. No one in the country could live without it. Even in affairs of the heart P.D. plays a most vital role.

Who in this great country has not been caught going out with somebody while he or she belongs to another, and in defense uses the ultimate excuse, "I was only following orders."

Thousands flee fires

Wildfires racing toward rural communities today forced thousands to flee as National Guardsmen and inmates mobilized to help battle blazes that have blackened 270,000 acres of brush and timber in four Western states.

The fires in tinder-dry northern California, Washington, Idaho and Oregon have destroyed at least 34 homes and other buildings and injured at least 58 people while consuming nearly 369 square miles, an area a third the size of Rhode Island.

One firefighter was struck and killed by a motorcycle in California.

12,780 teachers strike

State-mediated bargaining broke off in Detroit and school officials drafted a court order to force 11,500 striking teachers back to work as walkouts in five states affected more than 280,000 students today.

In all, 12,780 teachers were on strike in eight districts in Michigan, affecting 215,882 students, and walkouts disrupted classes in Idaho, Pennsylvania, Washington state and Ohio.

Police in North Ridgeville, Ohio, were investigating whether a teacher, Erla Brooks, 50, was intentionally struck by a car while picketing Wednesday at Lear North Elementary School. She was treated for injuries to her right leg.

ACLU files pope suit

DETROIT — A lawsuit seeking information on how taxpayer's money will be spent during Pope John Paul II's visit here has been filed by the Michigan chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union.

In the suit, filed Wednesday in Wayne County Circuit Court against the county and cities of Detroit of Hamtramck, the organization said it filed a Freedom of Information Act request in July but has received little information about how public money is to be spent.

American to match cuts

FORT WORTH — American Airlines will match fare cuts recently adopted by Eastern and Texas Air Corp. in a pricing compromise that raises some fares, lowers others and provides for even more changes next month.

In markets where American doesn't compete with Eastern and Continental — including its Dallas-Fort Worth and Chicago hubs — American said that effective Sept. 15, it would increase its MaxSaver fares by $10 each way, increase the advance-purchase requirement from seven days to 14 and replace the 50 percent cancellation penalty with a non-refundability clause.

As fellow demonstrators leap from the train's path, S. Brian Willson (on tracks) starts to move from the tracks moments before being run over by the Navy ammunition train at the Naval Weapons Station in Concord, Calif., Tuesday. Willson was leading a group of demonstrators protesting alleged arms shipments from the base to Nicaragua. He lost both legs in the accident.

Accident

Protestor hit by Navy train

CONCORD, Calif. (AP) — Angry demonstrators returned Wednesday to the Concord Naval Weapons Station where a veteran protesting U.S. arms shipments to Central America lost both legs when he knelt in front of an oncoming munitions train.

The protesters, in a news conference held at the site of the incident, denounced the Navy for failing to stop the train that hit S. Brian Willson on Tuesday.

"That train that ran into us ... was a death train. It was quite obvious that there was no intent to stop," said Duncan Murphy, who was standing beside Willson while the train approached. Murphy and another man jumped away a moment before the train hit Willson. "They were thinking it was a game of chicken," he said.

Capt. Lonnie Cagle, commander of the base 45 miles east of San Francisco, said the train engineer "was under no orders" to proceed through the demonstrators without stopping. Public affairs officer Dan Tikalsky said the train crew had been instructed to stop if anyone was on the tracks.

Willson's wife of 11 days, Holly Rauen, quoted her husband as saying, "Well, I'm a real peace agitator." "I'm very deeply angered," she said. "I feel a deeper conviction than ever ... to do whatever it takes to stop our barbaric policy."

No trains were scheduled to run on the tracks Wednesday, although an average of two move every day of the month, said Navy spokesman Dan Tikalsky. Several demonstrators said the train seemed to accelerate as it approached the group of protesters at a speed of at least 10 to 15 mph. However, Navy officials disputed that, claiming a preliminary investigation showed the civilian engineer was moving at 5 mph and had applied the brakes.

Willson was leading a group of about 25 demonstrators outside the weapons station, the largest such facility in the western United States, when he attempted to block the train. He was dragged about 25 feet while his stepson and wife watched.

"They've killed my dad. They've murdered my dad," shouted Gabriel Rauen, 14.

Communists kill 30

MANILA, Philippines — Communist rebels killed 30 police and soldiers following a guerrilla call to exploit disarray caused by last week's failed coup attempt against President Corason Aquino.

A spokesman for the nation's largest Moslem rebel group, meanwhile, said he supported the renegade soldiers who organized the coup bid, and praised them for trying to "defeat a common enemy ... the Philippine government."

Dissatisfaction within the military over the continuing Communist insurgency and Mrs. Aquino's peace overtures to Moslem rebels were cited by some of the renegades as motives for the coup attempt.

New convoy sets sail

MANAMA, Bahrain — U.S. warships began escorting a new convoy of reflagged Kuwaiti tankers today through the Persian Gulf, where Iran and Iraq have escalated their war on shipping, officials reported.

Kuwait Oil Tanker Co. officials, speaking on condition of anonymity, confirmed their tankers had set sail. The convoy's departure came as Iranian speedboats carried out two more attacks, against a Japanese tanker and an Italian motor vessel.

Prosecutor rests case

MOSCOW — The prosecutor in the case against Mathias Rust today called for a sentence that would send the West German teenager to prison for eight years for landing a plane in Red Square.

In closing remarks during the second day of Rust's trial, Prosecutor Vladimir Andreyev asked the court to sentence Rust to eight years for breaking international flight rules, four years for malicious hooliganism and two years for violating the Soviet border. The sentences would run concurrently.

Paper says Waite dead

MADRID, Spain — A Spanish newspaper said hostage negotiator Terry Waite had a heart attack and died in an Iranian prison camp last week, but Anglican Church spokesmen said they believed the report was not true.

In a Madrid-dated story, El Pais, Spain's leading daily, quoted Iranian military sources as saying the Anglican Church envoy had been sent to Salehabad camp near Qom after disappearing in Beirut January 20.

Anglican Church spokesmen in England said Wednesday they are convinced Waite is alive.

Two women cooperate in whodunit story line

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP) — Two nationally known authors have spent some time poking around St. Cloud recently.

They have strolled along the Mississippi River, scouted out neighborhoods and grocery stores, attended Mass at St. Mary's Cathedral, lunched downtown and chatted with a deputy sheriff's wife.

Judith Guest, author of "Ordinary People," which became an Academy Award-winning movie, and Rebecca Hill, author of "Blue Rise," an alternate selection of the Book of the Month Club in 1983, are writing a murder mystery.

They decided to set the whodunit in St. Cloud partly because it's close to the Twin Cities and because Hill lived in the city 12 years, Guest said.

Hill worked in the television department at the St. Cloud Veterans Administration Medical Center and wrote freelance movie reviews for the St. Cloud Daily Times when her husband worked here. Their two young daughters still have friends in town.

"Judith used to come and see me and thought it was a great town," Hill said.

Both agreed that St. Cloud has all the ingredients for a good murder mystery: a prison, quarries, a cathedral, a hospital, a river and "a dam you can drop a body below," Guest said. "It's a small town, but not a tiny town."

And murder, they noted, happens all the time, even in places as small and seemingly safe as St. Cloud.

They won't give away the plot or describe the cast of characters. But the women said the book, titled "Killing Time in St. Cloud," wasn't loosely based, as some novels have been, on unsolved murders in the area.

The authors say they aren't as interested in the mechanics of the crime as in the pressure, frustration or rage that drives one person to kill another.

The trick, said Hill, who now lives in St. Paul, was to figure out the crime and work backwards.

A murder mystery is a departure from their other novels, which describe tangled family relationships and struggles between the sexes.

It was a chance to "work on the other side of the street," Hill said.

"It's a real stretch," Guest agreed.

Guest, 51, of Edina, and Hill, 43, said they had begun tossing around the idea of collaborating on a book a couple of years ago.

Fear of snakes conquered by looking one in the eye

DEAR ABBY: If you can stand one more letter about snakes, hear this: I used to be terrified of snakes. If I saw one out of its cage, I'd get hysterical.

Then one day while shopping in a gift shop on Maui, I saw some life-sized stuffed "cobras" in a basket. After recovering from my phobic reaction, I realized that here was an opportunity to conquer my irrational fear of snakes, so I bought a stuffed cobra, took it home and placed it right next to my computer station where I sit for eight hours a day.

Abby, after a few days, I actually began to like that snake! I put a bonnet on it and he looked kind of cute. A few days later I put a bow tie around its neck. Now I'm not saying I could be a snake handler at a circus, but I can now see a snake uncaged without being terrified.

It's been three years now, and I can actually hold someone's pet snake and enjoy it.

My stuffed snake is still with me, and every time I look at it, I am reminded that by facing a fear, it can be conquered.

CELESTE IN SANTA BARBARA
DEAR CELESTE: Congratulations for your intelligent approach to overcoming an irrational fear. When I suggested the following, I was called a "nut": "Not all snakes are poisonous, so should anyone find one coiled in his basement or attic, please don't kill it; call your local SPCA and someone will come and remove it." Fangs for your supportive letter.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Troubled," whose mother made her take piano lessons, but she saw no point to it: Don't give up! I'm 14, and I've been taking piano lessons since I was 7. There were plenty of times when I thought it was stupid and wanted to quit, but my parents made me stick to it.

Because I knew music, I joined band (clarinet) four years ago, and it came easy to me. Band* also helped my piano a lot. Also, whenever they need someone to play the xylophone, chimes or bells in band, they can count on me.

My friends are always asking me to play piano for them and I love doing it. And you wouldn't believe how many of them say they wish they hadn't quit piano.

I would have quit, too, if I didn't have caring parents who wouldn't let me. Thanks, guys!

LUCKY IN PONTIAC, MICH.
DEAR LUCKY: I've said this before, and it bears repeating: Many have written to say they're sorry they quit taking music lessons, but not one person ever wrote to stay that he or she was glad they quit.

DEAR ABBY: "No Music, Please" complained about hearing music when his telephone calls were put on hold. We've tried it both ways in our small business with three lines, and found that music at least lets the caller know that he has not been disconnected when all the lines are busy. Before we added music, we got a number of callbacks from angry customers claiming we'd hung up on them.

Of course, the music should be pleasant, at a reasonable volume, and most important, the call should be handled as quickly as possible.

ED MILLER, EDMONDS, WASH.
DEAR ED: My mail is running 2-to-1 in favor of music instead of dead air when the caller is put on hold — and for precisely the reasons you mentioned.

DEAR ABBY: My husband of six years thinks it is perfectly OK to visit my 17-year-old daughter's bedroom at bedtime to "talk" to her. She sleeps in the nude and makes very little effort to cover up. I am vehemently opposed to this and have told my husband so, but he thinks I am paranoid, crazy and evil-minded. Am I?

WONDERING IN SAN ANTONIO
DEAR WONDERING: Not in my book. And if you haven't already spoken to your daughter about the impropriety of these nocturnal visits, it's time you did.

DEAR ABBY: I've said this before, and it bears repeating: Many have written to say they're sorry they quit taking music lessons, but not one person ever

Bride-elect honored at party

A punch party honoring Deborah Cowan, bride-elect of Scott Lidji, was Aug. 27 at the First Presbyterian Church parlor from 4-6 p.m.

Cowan is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Cowan of Big Spring.

The table was draped with a linen cut-work cloth, centered with a cluster of rubrum lillies and baby's breath. The hostesses, Mrs. James Mathews, Mrs. Joe Horton, Mrs. Bill Pollard, and Mrs. Jerry Grimes presented Miss Cowan with a hand bouquet of rubrum lillies and baby's breath tied with lacey pink and white ribbon.

The couple will exchange wedding vows on Sept. 12 at the Midland Hilton Hotel at 7:30 p.m.

As interests rates surge, mortgage rates creep up

NEW YORK (AP) — The jump in interest rates in credit markets to levels not seen since early 1986 is expected to show up soon in home mortgages. Already, mortgage rates are climbing.

Bond interest rates have rocketed on fears that a weaker dollar will mean higher inflation and waning foreign demand for U.S. securities.

The yield on the bellwether 30-year Treasury bond, considered the most sensitive to interest rate speculation, rose to more than 9.4 percent late Wednesday from 9.27 percent late Tuesday and 9.16 percent late Monday.

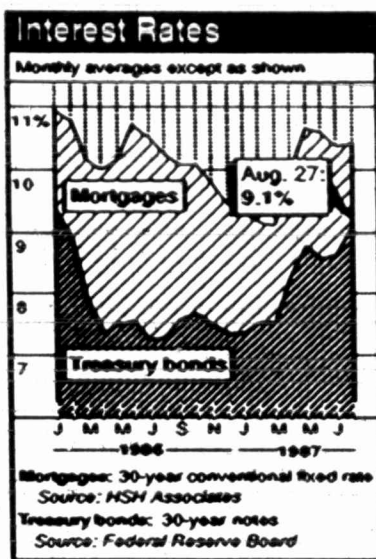

The yield was about a half-point higher than in mid-August and more than two points higher than in January, when the 30-year bond yielded an average 7.39 percent.

Because billions of dollars in mortgages are traded like government and corporate bonds, mortgage rates in recent years have become increasingly tied to the bond market.

Fixed rate mortgages averaged 10.33 percent at the end of last week, up from 10.3 percent the previous week and a low of 9.1 percent in late March, according to a weekly survey by the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp.

Rates are expected to rise more sharply in coming days as lenders complete adjustments based on the recent changes in the credit markets.

"The potential is not that bond rates will just jump up, but that they will continue to rise over a longer period of time. That's going to be a real problem for housing," said John Tuccillo, chief economist for the Washington-based National Association of Realtors.

The interest rate scenario is similar to what happened this spring when inflation worries caused the dollar to decline in foreign exchange, leading to a bond market slump that pushed interest rates sharply higher.

That pushed mortgage rates to a peak of 10.8 percent in May, causing new home sales to slump 12.3 percent lower during the month.

But Tuccillo said the rate hikes now could be longer lasting because they are tied to worries about the dollar and the nation's trade performance, which will not fade as quickly as inflation fears based on volatile commodity prices.

Several analysts said the recent interest rate gains marked the latest phase of a year-long trend that will mean further increases in a variety of lending rates.

Interest rates generally have moved higher much of the year on signs of higher inflation and stronger economic growth, which increases demand for credit and thus interest rates.

But the recent slump in the dollar has triggered the sharpest rate jumps yet.

The dollar has fallen since last month's report of a bigger than expected U.S. trade deficit in June — a record $15.7 billion shortfall. The dollar bought 140.45 Japanese yen today in Tokyo, down 7.6 percent from its Aug. 14 closing in New York.

A weak dollar, which makes U.S. products cheaper overseas and raises the cost of imports, was the key tool in the Reagan administration's attempts to shrink the trade deficit. Failure of the strategy to yield results has raised speculation that the government will seek further declines in the dollar.

But the markets and the Federal Reserve believe too weak a dollar could ignite high inflation, which diminishes the value of fixed-income investments such as bonds while discouraging foreign investment, which has been a key source of financing for the huge U.S. budget deficit.

That worry has sparked a selloff of bonds in speculation of further declines in the dollar and weakening foreign demand for U.S. bonds in the coming months.

"The reality of the big trade deficit and the need to finance it was brought home to people when that number came out," said Gordon Pye, senior vice president of Irving Trust Co.

Lawmakers back center for research

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Texas congressional delegation today joined in urging the U.S. Agriculture Department to pay for half of a planned $25 million advanced biotechnology center in Houston.

The new Institute of Biosciences and Technology in Houston would merge the agricultural, veterinary and engineering expertise of Texas A&M with the world-class medical skills at Houston's Medical Center Complex to form a center focused on diet-related medical research.

"Your department is authorized to provide matching funds for construction of agricultural research facilities. Texas A&M is eligible for and would like to apply for funds under this program," said Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, in a letter to Agriculture Secretary Richard E. Lyng.

Michael's back, and he's 'badder' than ever

Editor's Note: Michael Jackson returned to the national scene with "Bad," an extended "story video" shown Monday night on CBS. The following is an imaginary letter to Michael.

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

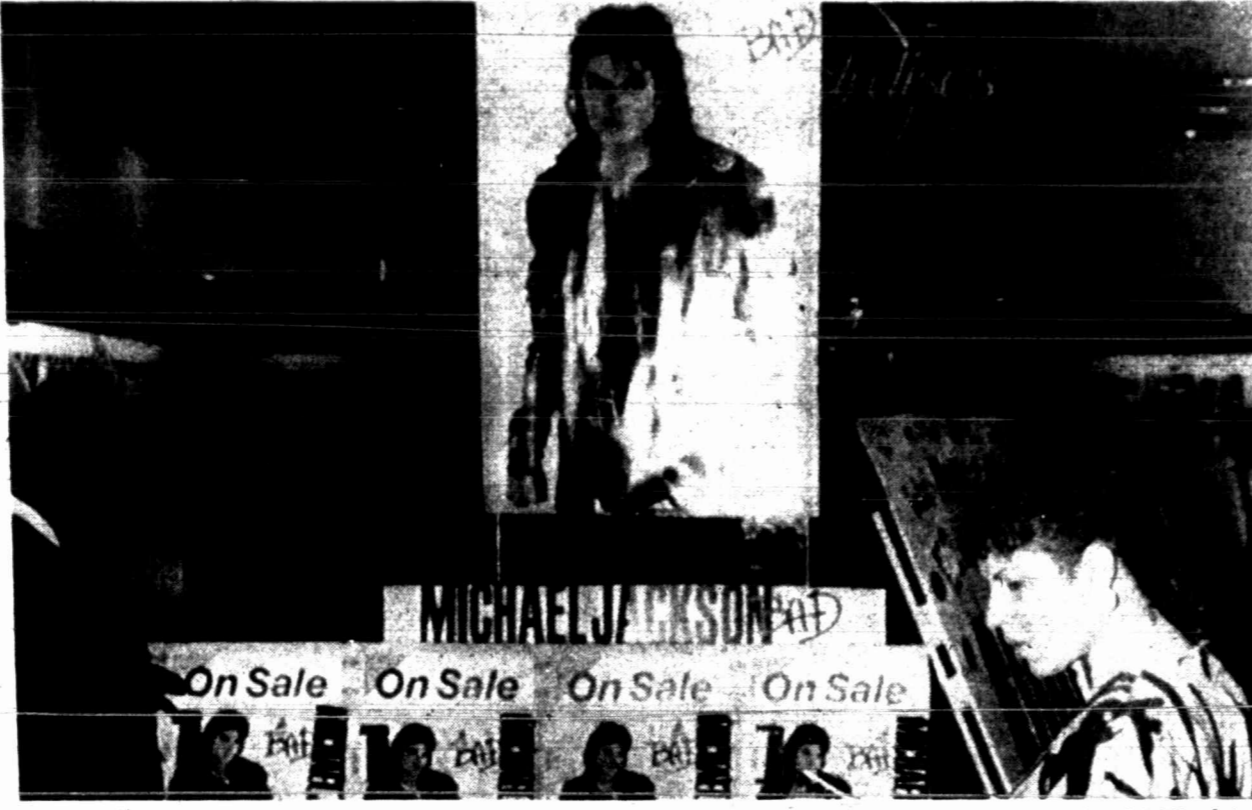

Dear Michael,
I watched your TV special "Bad" Monday night, and it confirmed several concerns I've had about you for some time. I wonder about you, Michael, because you don't seem happy with yourself.

The biggest clue is your appearance.

It's common knowledge that you've had plastic surgery. I'd always thought that was for accident victims or vain older women, but I guess not. It's apparently also for young superstars suffering major league identity crises.

It's given your face the strained, tight look one often sees in aged Hollywood starlets. That's not the look you should be cultivating if you want to look "bad."

I was talking with some others who watched your show, and one said he thought you resembled your sister, Janet. The same thought had occurred to me. I also noticed that your face appeared cloudy, as if it had been doused with white powder.

Fans view a display of Michael Jackson's new album "Bad" Monday at a New York record store during the first day of its release. Record store managers reported many telephone calls from fans inquiring about the availability of the album as it went on sale across the country.

Much has been made of your alleged asexuality and fear of the public. I've read where you rarely leave your room, which is full of stuffed animals. It's also the public's perception that your more into fantasy than reality — as if maybe you're more inspired by Ewoks than people.

You have my sympathies Michael, because you seem to be such a shy guy. If you're as shy as you appear, it seems you sure picked a funny business to be in. Your success in the show business field has been almost beyond belief — at least partially a result, I think, of your mysterious persona.

Frankly, your music is simple, uncomplicated pop music, although performed with extraordinary craft and passion on your part. It's not nearly as complex as your persona.

Another clue to your unhappiness is the length of time it took to produce "Bad." It's been five years since "Thriller," which makes me believe you spent too much time worrying about topping yourself.

With all that time, "Bad" better be good — very good.

I know you tire of comparisons to that ultimate bad boy, Prince, but they're inevitable, and that's what you get for being in show business.

If there is a lesson to learn from Prince, it is this: learn to smile and laugh at yourself.

Financially though, your absence that was probably a good move. The public had plenty of you a few years ago, and maybe we needed a break. I know I did.

Your years away from the public eye seem to have regenerated the public's curiosity. The same thing happened to Howard Hughes when he disappeared.

I also wonder if you don't put too much emphasis on making money, lots of it. You bought the rights to the Beatles collection, and then let Nike use "Revolution" to sell shoes. That wasn't cool. John Lennon probably rolled in his grave, but that prospect didn't seem to stop you.

If you were to look to me for advice, as unlikely as that might be, I'd suggest you relax. Stop trying to be a mystery man and be a real person. Quit acting like a visitor from another planet.

Because after a while, Michael, people grow tired of weirdos.

Haynes plays Higgins in C-City production

COLORADO CITY — Big Spring furniture maker and artist Tim Haynes is playing the lead role of Henry Higgins in the Colorado City Playhouse's production of "My Fair Lady."

The play opened this week and will continue until Sept. 12. Showtimes are 8 p.m. nightly, with two performances on Friday, Sunday and Monday nights. Tickets are $7.50. To make reservations, call 728-3491 after 1 p.m.

Carl Beery Moore, who is directing the play, said Haynes is "marvelous" in the lead role.

"He's an outstanding Higgins. He's very good," Moore said.

Moore said "My Fair Lady" is the "grandest endeavor" ever undertaken by the Colorado City Playhouse.

The play is adapted from Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion." Words and lyrics are by Alan Jay Lerner, and the music is by Frederick Loewe.

The play was made famous by the movie of the same name, which starred Rex Harrison as Higgins and Audrey Hepburn as his troublesome pupil, Eliza Doolittle. Emily Hataway is Eliza, and Tandy Curlee is her father, Alfred Doolittle.

The music for this production is being directed by David Sims and David Shelton.

Bowie's back

Rock star David Bowie returned to New York Tuesday to bring his "Glass Spider Tour" to Madison Square Garden. Bowie played at Giants Stadium in August.

Getaway

LUBBOCK

Tickets for the Willie Nelson concert Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Jones Stadium in Lubbock are on sale at the Texas Tech Ticket Office, located on the north end of the stadium. Only 5,000 tickets have been sold, so there's plenty of seats remaining in the 47,000 capacity stadium. The ticket office will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and on weekdays.

Tickets are $10 and $12 for reserved seating. The proceeds from the concert will go to the Texas Tech athletic scholarship fund. No alcoholic beverages will be allowed. For more information, call (806) 742-2770.

Quiet Valley Ranch Outdoor Theater, nine miles south of Kerrville on Texas Hwy. 16.

Nashville-based stars scheduled to play include Peter Rowan, Eddy Adcock and Talk of the Town, and legendary banjo giant Doug Dillard. There will be others, including several Texas and local bands.

The gates open at 10 a.m. Friday for early campers. Advance discount tickets are $8 for Friday and Sunday and $10 for Saturday; and $21 for all three days.

ODESSA

Tickets go on sale Monday for the Sept. 29-Oct. 4 performances of the Ice Capades' "Bravo America!" tour at Ector County Coliseum.

The Ice Capades feature Canadian and World Professional Champion Ron Shaver, three-time Canadian Champion Kay Thomson, soloists Kevin Parker, Gordon Forbes and Simone Grigorescu, plus a supporting cast of some of the world's top skating talents.

The show also features the cute and cuddly Ewoks characters, starring in a magical trip to the mystical moon of Endor to defend the "Sunberries" from the dim-witted Duloks.

There will be seven shows from Tuesday to Sunday, with 2 p.m. shows on Saturday and Sunday. There will be no evening show Sunday.

Tickets are $7.50, $8.50 and $9.50; and will be sold at the Coliseum Box Office and the Midland Park Mall. For more information, call 366-3541. For information on group sales, call 332-8143.

NIAGARA FALLING IN LOVE

An awesome display of natural beauty and power, Niagara Falls' 184-foot-high thundering wall of water has few equals among the world's most impressive natural phenomena. Millions of people visit the Falls each year to view the vista from many different angles. Visitors can witness nature's pageant from the promenade opposite, from the deck of a boat below, out from caves behind, or from helicopters above. Many, of course, are honeymooners who are following the example of two rich newlyweds from Baltimore in 1803. Jerome Bonaparte (kin to the French emperor) and his bride, the daughter of a wealthy merchant, stopped as part of a grand tour of the Northeast. They stayed a week. By the mid-1800's, honeymoons at Niagara Falls had become the rage. It remains so because beauty and romance are eternally linked.

Your first honeymoon or a "honeymoon-revisited" will be more enjoyable and memorable with a trip to such a beautiful area as Niagara Falls. BIG SPRING TRAVEL, 612 S. Gregg, will help you plan your itinerary and other details so that every day will be a honeymoon whatever your destination may be. Call us today for help with planning tomorrow's pleasure. Tel. 263-0225. Open 8:30-5:30 Mon.-Fri. Have a happy and safe Labor Day!

HINT — Niagara Falls' most famous sightseeing boat is the "Maid of the Mist."

LA CONTESA BEAUTY SALON

19TH YEAR — Gary Don Carey, owner of La Contesa Beauty Salon, will soon observe his nineteenth year at his location at FM 700. He still has many of his original customers.

When you want to find out what makes a beauty salon popular, there's no better way than to ask its customers.

One day recently, an informal, spur-of-the-moment survey at Gary Don Carey's La Contesa on FM 700, uncovered a variety of reasons for customer loyalty.

Frances Ringener said she was Gary Don's second customer the day he opened 19 years ago. She has been a regular ever since, "because they are all nice and friendly — and their work is very good!" (By the way, Gary Don's first appointment that day 19 years ago was Johnnie Marsalis, who wasn't present the day of the survey. Johnnie has been a regular 21 years, including a couple of years at another location. Her husband, Denton Marsalis, is also a customer!)

Mrs. Peter Fowler said she had been coming to La Contesa about 15 years. "I am always very pleased," she explained.

Sherry Wegner was very enthusiastic. "They can do anything you like — and they can please all ages." She said she has been coming to La Contesa for 18 years.

"We feel we are a well-rounded and versatile shop," says Gary Don. "We welcome new customers. If you have any problem with your hair — style, cut, color, perm — give us a call."

"And all our customers have a good time here," adds staffer Martie Geanopulos.

Thursday Notes

By Eddie Curran

Big Spring pastor to open game prayer

Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Big Spring, has been asked to word the pre-game prayer for the conference opening game between Baylor and Texas Tech Sept. 26 in Waco.

Patrick is a "converted" West Texan, though an avid Baylor alumnus. He has promised to give a non-partisan prayer, but he did not say whether or not he would use his influence during the game.

A secretary at the Big Spring School District's business office called, and said that many people have been bringing their civic club tickets to the office to exchange for tickets to the opening home game, Sept. 18 against San Angelo Lake View.

She said some of those people have become nonplussed when they found out they couldn't do so just yet. She explained that it wasn't her fault, because she wasn't supposed to begin exchanging the tickets until Wednesday, Sept. 16, two days before the game.

It's understandable that someone might want his ticket "Now!", but that same someone should realize that one day soon Sept. 18 will be here. And having that ticket won't make it come any sooner.

Shame on those impatient fans!

A reminder — the Steers game Friday in El Paso against Riverside will start at 8:30 p.m. our time, and 7:30 p.m. their time. (I never realized El Paso was in a different time zone, but now I know).

That will give dedicated Steer fans an extra half-hour to get there. On the other hand, it also means they'll be a half-hour later getting back, which means they might catch the sun rising over Big Spring as they pull in.

*****

Two Big Spring softball teams, the Indios and the Kings, are playing in a 30 team League of United Lation American Citizens ASA sanctioned state tournament this weekend in Abilene.

The Kings are sponsored by Mitchem & Sons Wrecker and Big Spring Taxi. They play at 8 a.m., and the Indios will follow at 11 a.m. The games will be played at Sears Park and Will Hair Park. The Kings finished second in the tourney last year.

*****

In the latest Pro Rodeo news release, dated Aug. 25, Coahoma cowboy Wacey Cathey was ranked seventh in the bull riding, with earnings of $34,496.

The top bull rider is Lane Frost of Lane, Okla., though Frost recently broke a collar bone and will be out of action for three to four weeks.

*****

Lake report: White bass are beginning to bite at Lake J.B. Thomas, and crappie fishing has improved, according to Richard Halfmann, the lake superintendent.

Phillip Thompson of Brownfield caught 25 white bass over a three-day period, and Kenneth Kellner of Ira caught 15 while trolling. Most catches were along the dam using deep lures.

Crappie fishing was best along rocky areas in 15 to 20 feet of water. Channel cat continued to bite almost anything either on rod and reel or trotlines, a clear indication that they are hungry.

*****

The Colorado City Bass Club is sponsoring an open tournament a Sept. 12 with fishing on Lake Champion or Lake Colorado City and headquarters at Lake Colorado City State Park.

There will be a guaranteed first prize of $2,000, and if 150 or more fishermen sign up, money will be paid to the top 20 fishers.

*****

Two notes from Midland:

The 1987 Run and Bike For Your Health, co-sponsored by the Midland Memorial Hospital and the Permian Basin Road Runners Club, will be Saturday, Sept. 19 at Green Tree Country Club in Midland.

The events will include a children's one mile fun run and a biathlon, consisting of a 5K run and a 20K bike race. Awards and T-shirts will be given. Registration is $8 before Sept. 11 and $12 after. For more information, call MMH's public relations department at 685-1540.

The Texas Gun & Knife Association will sponsor the Midland Gun & Knife Show this Saturday and Sunday at the Holiday Inn Convention Center in Midland. On Saturday, the show will be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Mini-editorial:

Billy Hatcher got caught red-handed when his bat cracked open to reveal cork. Even the umpire who saw it first almost cracked up laughing. I'll bet he laughed even harder when he heard Hatcher's excuse — that the corked bat was pitcher Dave Smith's, and that Smith only used it for playing games during batting practice.

If you believe that, then you also fell for the one about Joe Niekro using sandpaper to file his nails.

Lundgren sends Cash packing in first round

NEW YORK (AP) — Wimbledon was wonderful. The rest of the summer has been a bummer for Pat Cash.

All of 1987 has been strange for Cash. He lost in the final at the Australian Open, was beaten in the first round at the French Open, then won Wimbledon. On Wednesday night, the No. 7 seed was beaten in the first round of the U.S. Open by Sweden's Peter Lundgren 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Lundgren, who won his first Nabisco Grand Prix tournament last weekend in Rye, N.Y., also beat Cash at the Canadian Open three weeks ago. Ranked 47th in the world, Lundgren has the quickness to deal with Cash's serve-and-volley style.

But Cash, who has not gotten past the third round of a tournament since Wimbledon, felt he was to blame for the loss more than Lundgren deserved credit.

"I played all right, but I lost concentration and lost the points that counted," said Cash, who won 116 points, just four fewer than Lundgren. "I thought it was 50-50. I think I had more chances than he did, but I ended up losing the games."

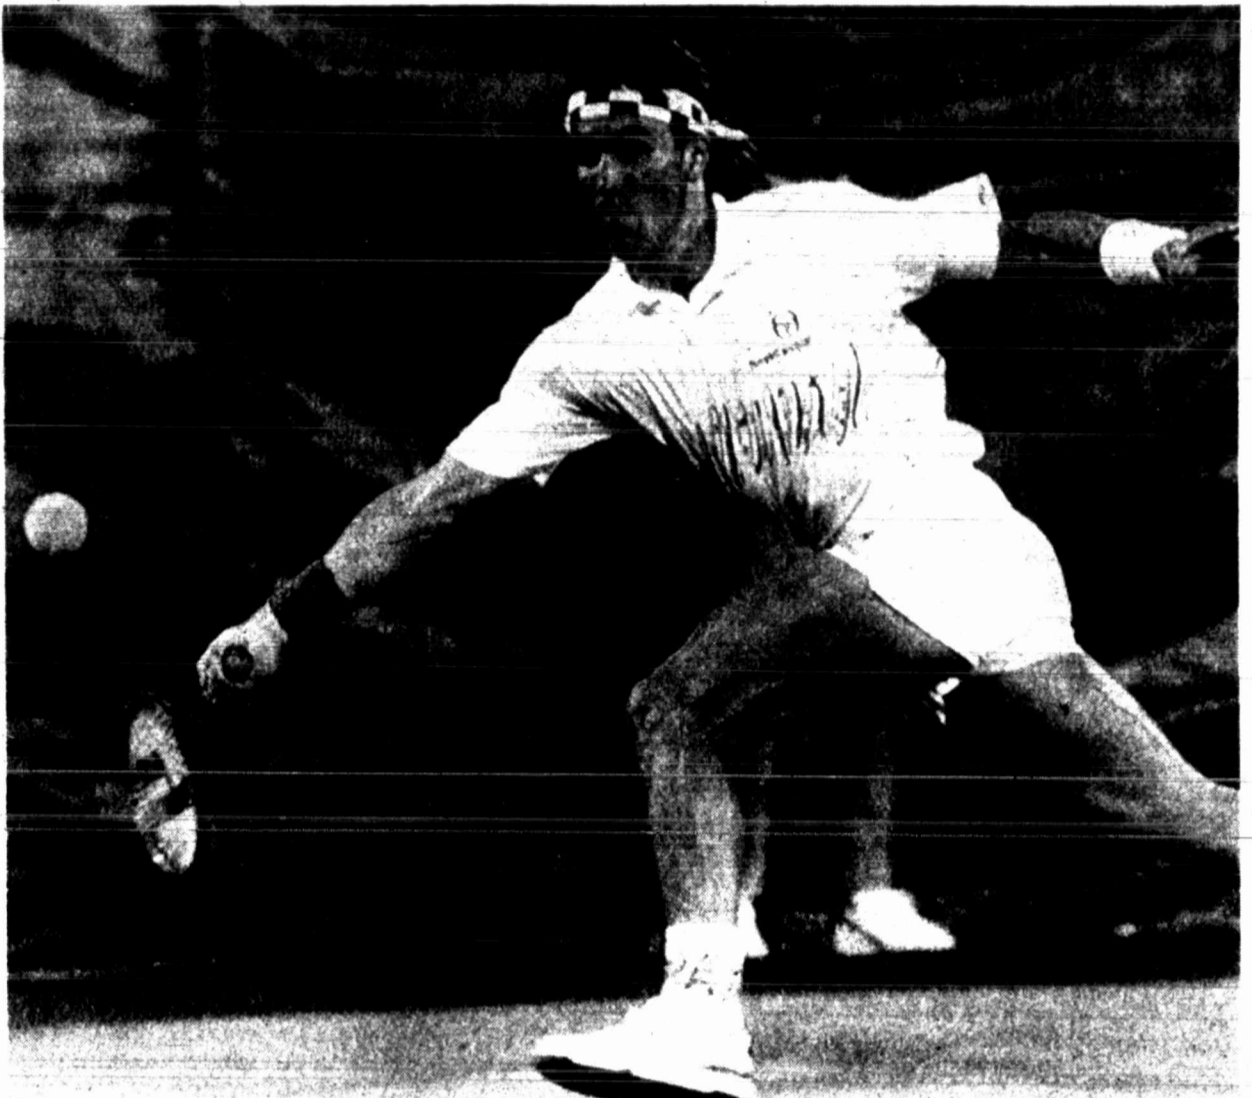

"That's been the whole situation for me this summer. I've lost concentration. Since Wimbledon, I've had four days off. It's very tiring."

"I'll go home for a nice break and try to freshen up. I'm a bit stale."

Few of the other seeds looked stale Wednesday.

Steffi Graf, the top-seeded woman, blitzed Bettina Fulco of Argentina 6-0, 6-3. Third-seeded Chris Evert downed Susan Sloane 6-1, 6-0.

Jimmy Connors, who has celebrated his birthday at the Open for each of the past 18 years, turned 35 Wednesday. He looked in his prime with a 6-1, 6-4, 6-4 victory over Joey Rive.

Graf and Connors were in action again today. Graf had a night match against Petra Huber of Austria. Connors played Wayne Hearn in the afternoon.

Martina Navratilova, the second-seeded woman, took on Robin White; No. 4 Hana Mandlikova of Czechoslovakia played Jo Durie of Britain, and No. 8 Gabriela Sabatini of Argentina met Sara Gomer of Britain.

Steers hope for defensive struggle

By STEVE BELVIN

Sports Editor

When the Big Spring Steers begin 1987 regular football season play against the El Paso Riverside Rangers, it might very well pit a passing attack against a rushing attack.

The Steers will use a run-oriented offense against a AAAAA school that likes to put the ball in the air.

Coach Lou James of Riverside and Steers' coach Quinn Eudy have different opinions on what type of battle the game will turn into.

James, in his third season at Riverside, hinted that it will be an offensive affair.

"We've been putting a lot more time into our offense so far. In fact, the first week we practiced on nothing but offense," James said. "We got everything in. It took longer and that's why we worked on it more. We'll see if we made the right decision Friday night."

Eudy was quick to the point when discussing the contest.

"Hopefully it will be a defensive ballgame. That's what I'm planning on anyway," he said.

James has turned the program around at Riverside in his three year tenure. In his first season he guided the team to the state playoffs and their best record in 17 years (7-4). Last year the team just missed a playoff berth, finishing with a 6-3-1 record.

"Now the kids have a good attitude. They believe they can play with anybody," said James.

The Rangers will dearly miss last year's blue-chip running back David Samienago, who rushed for 166 yards in last year's 21-12 loss to Big Spring. Samienago was Player of the Year in El Paso last year, rushing for 1,300 yards. He's now playing for the University of Texas El-Paso.

James will try to compensate for the loss of Samienago with the arm of quarterback Gabriel Herrera, a 5-9, 170-pound junior. Last year Herrera took over starting duties in the second game and passed for 1,300 yards on the season.

"They are both big and strong like Samienago, but they're not as quick," said James.

Pittsburgh's big man squashes Cougars

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Pittsburgh's Craig Heyward usually wears defenders down by plowing his 260-pound frame into the line.

Wednesday night, Heyward unleashed a 17-yard scoring pass to Bill Osborn to help the Panthers run past Brigham Young 27-17 in nonconference college football.

"We kept running the ball, pounding away, and the defender kept looking in the backfield," said Heyward, whose scoring pass gave independent Pittsburgh a 21-7 halftime lead and control over BYU.

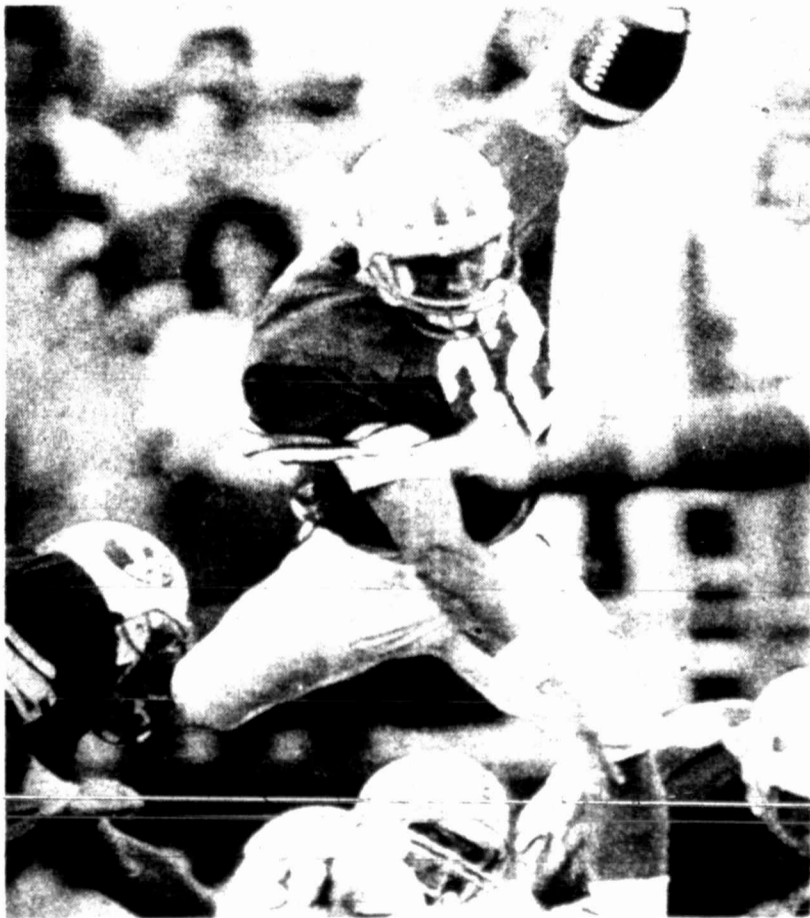

Pittsburgh spotted Brigham Young of the Western Athletic Conference seven points when quarterback Bob Jensen teamed with Rich Zayus for a 73-yard scoring pass on the game's first play from scrimmage.

The Panthers took over at that point, getting scoring passes of 47 and 30 yards from quarterback Sal Genilla to Hosea Heard and Reggie Williams before Heyward put the game out of reach with his pass.

Jeff VanHorne added field goals of 27 and 38 yards in the second half as Pitt, 5-5-1 last year, evened the series at 1-1.

"We felt the kids played hard and with confidence," said Pittsburgh Coach Mike Gottfried. "We made a lot of key errors, but we were able to overcome them."

"Once we made them play catchup, that was in our favor," Gottfried said.

The only regret for Heyward, who gained 136 yards rushing and 66 yards receiving, was that he didn't make it into the end zone.

It wasn't from a lack of effort. Late in the game, he grabbed a pass from Genilla and ran 40 yards to the 11, where his last obstacle was BYU's Craig Patterson.

"I tried to fly, and I still couldn't get into the end zone," Heyward said, of his attempt to hurdle Patterson.

On BYU's offense, Jensen was crisp at times, completing 26 of 48 passes for 317 yards, but the junior quarterback spent most of the evening evading Panther defenders.

The offensive line, riddled with injuries this fall, allowed seven sacks for a loss of 76 yards.

"One of these problems we've had is that the offensive line hasn't been intact all fall," said BYU Coach LaVell Edwards, whose team has lost four of its last six games. "But I saw a lot of positive things too. We can correct mistakes. I feel good about this group."

Jensen make the score respectable with a fourth-quarter drive capped by a three-yard pass to Jeff Frandsen.

Later, he connected with Chuck Cutler for a two-point conversion.

Candiotti's one-hitter not enough

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

Down the stretch, every little bit counts. For the Detroit Tigers, one hit was enough to win.

"You've got to tip your cap to the Tigers. They're in first place and deserve to be. They're tough," Cleveland knuckleballer Tom Candiotti said Wednesday night after he pitched a one-hitter, yet lost 2-1.

Candiotti pitched his second one-hitter of the season, having held New York without a hit for seven innings Aug. 1.

He held Detroit hitless until Matt Nokes lined a clean single with two outs in the eighth. But the host Tigers took advantage of seven walks and an error to remain one game ahead of Toronto in the American League East.

On Sunday, the Tigers managed only four hits against Texas knuckleballer Charlie Hough, but won 7-0.

Jack Morris, 16-7, won with a five-hitter. Brett Butler had a leadoff homer in the ninth inning for the Indians' run.

"I've been on his end, losing a close, well-pitched game," said Morris, who pitched a no-hitter against Chicago in 1984. "Two months from now, that won't help. It will still be a loss."

Candiotti, 7-14, came close to becoming the first pitcher in 22 years to lose a no-hitter. With Cleveland trailing, Candiotti only had to pitch eight innings against Detroit.

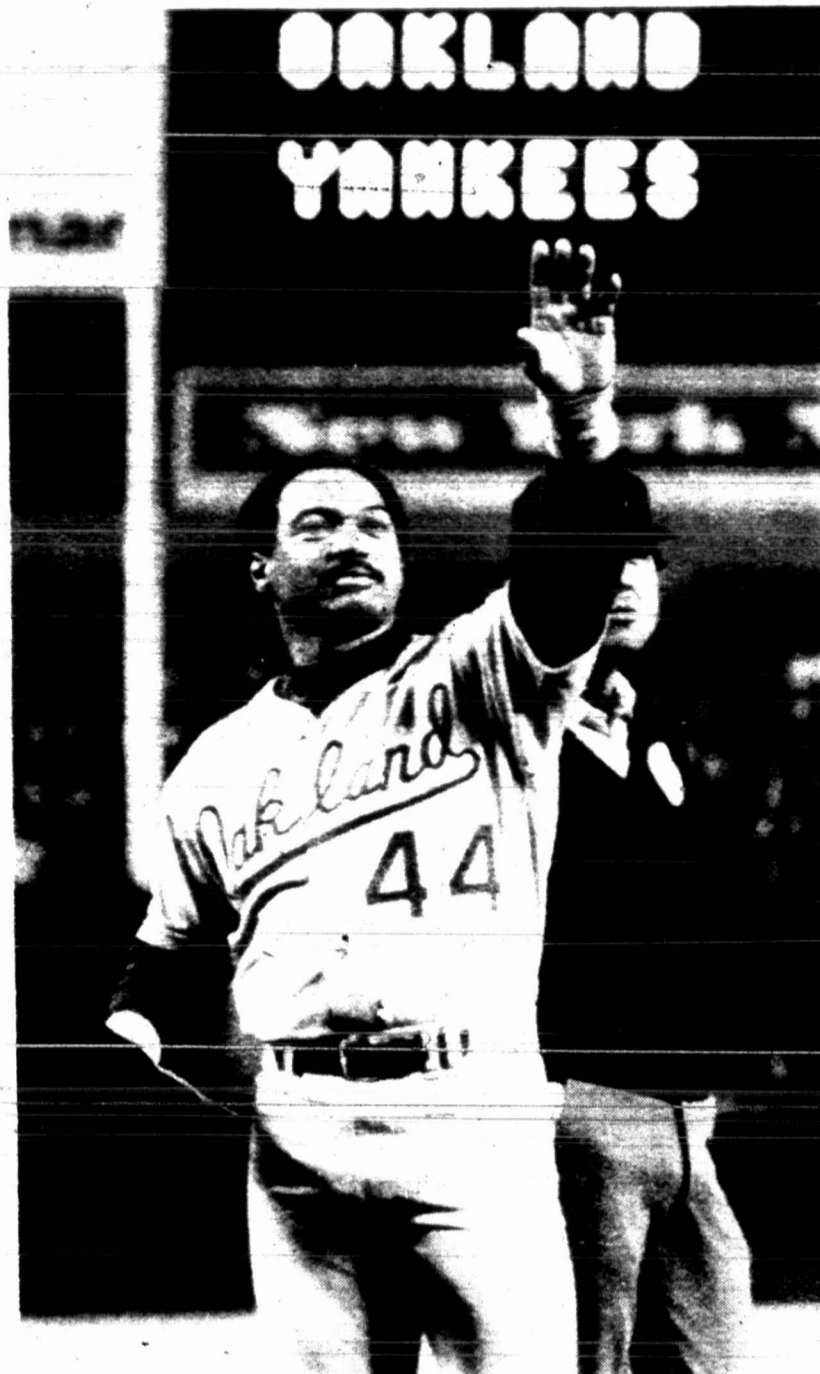

There have been 12 no-hitters lost since 1900. The last pitcher to lose one was Cincinnati's Jim Maloney, who on June 14, 1965, gave up Johnny Lewis' home run in the 11th inning and fell to the New York Mets 1-0. On April 30, 1967, Baltimore's Steve Barber and Stu Miller combined to no-hit Detroit but lost 2-1.

The Tigers scored in the fifth when Chet Lemon drew a leadoff walk and Pat Sheridan reached on first baseman Joe Carter's error. Bergman sacrificed the runners into scoring position and Tom Brookens hit an RBI grounder.

In the eighth, Darrell Evans got a leadoff walk and Jim Walewander entered as a pinch-runner. Walewander took third on Chris Bando's passed ball and scored when Nokes lined a 3-1 knuckleball over second baseman Tommy Hinz.

Blue Jays 7, Angels 6
George Bell's AL-leading 42nd homer, a two-run drive, broke a 5-5 tie in the eighth inning and lifted Toronto over California.

Beil connected on a 3-0 pitch from DeWayne Buice, 5-6. The Oakland A's slugger Reggie Jackson waves to the crowd at Yankee Stadium in what may be his last appearance there. Jackson is expected to retire after this season. The ex-Yankee took the line-up out to the umpires before the start of the game against the Yankees Wednesday night.

Angels had tied the score in the top of the eighth on George Hendrick's two-run homer.

David Wells, 1-2, won his first major-league game. He relieved Tom Henke, the third Blue Jays pitcher, after Hendrick's homer.

Cecil Fielder homered for Toronto and Devon White connected for California.

Twins 5, Red Sox 4
Les Straker pitched six strong innings and Jeff Reardon got his 26th save as Minnesota beat visiting Boston.

Straker, 7-9, gave up four hits, including Mike Greenwell's two-run homer. Reardon, the third Twins pitcher, retired all five batters.

Brewers 3, Royals 2
Bill Wegman and two relievers combined on a three-hitter and Bill Schroeder hit a three-run homer as Milwaukee won in Kansas City.

Wegman, 9-10, pitched six innings and allowed three hits, including Steve Balboni's two-run homer in the second. Chuck Crim went two hitless innings and Dan Plesac finished for his 23rd save. Schroeder hit his 11th home run in the first off Charlie Leibbrandt, 13-10, who lost despite a four-hitter. Earlier this season, Leibbrandt pitched a one-hitter against Milwaukee with Schroeder's bunt single the only hit.

The Brewers won for the seventh time in nine games. On Tuesday night, Ted Higuera pitched a one-hitter against the Royals.

Yankees 3, Athletics 2

Jerry Royster singled home the winning run in the 10th inning after Mickey Tettleton's passed ball and error, lifting New York over Oakland.

Don Mattingly, who singled in his first four at-bats, led off the 10th by striking out but reached first base when Tettleton could not handle Rick Honeycutt's pitch. Dan Pasqua followed with a sacrifice that Tettleton threw wildly, allowing Mattingly to reach third, and Royster singled.

Dave Righetti, 7-3, pitched one inning for the victory and Honeycutt lost his debut for the Athletics.

Oakland's Reggie Jackson, possibly making his final regular-season appearance at Yankee Stadium, did not play in the three-game series. Jackson, who played five seasons with the Yankees and led them to World Series victories in 1977 and 1978, has been slowed by a hamstring pull. He presented the lineup card before the game and got an ovation as the stadium organist played "Thanks For The Memories."

Mariners 8, Orioles 6
Mickey Brantley doubled twice and drove in three runs and Dave Valle hit a pair of RBI singles as Seattle won in Baltimore.

Mark Langston, 16-10, gave up six runs, four of them in the first inning, in 7 1-3 innings. Jerry Reed, the fourth Mariners pitcher, got his seventh save.

Valle, 18-for-38 against the Orioles this season, singled home a run in the first against Jeff Ballard, 2-4. The Mariners scored five times in the third, with Brantley's two-run double putting them ahead 5-4.

White Sox 5, Rangers 0
Dave LaPoint and Bobby Thigpen combined on a five-hitter and Greg Walker hit a three-run homer, leading host Chicago over Texas.

LaPoint, 3-2, gave up four hits in seven innings. Thigpen allowed a single to Ruben Sierra, who had three hits.

Walker's 24th homer, which tied a career high, capped a four-run sixth against Paul Kilgus, 2-6.

Bulldogs hoping to start a new streak

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

COAHOMA — When Coahoma opens the season Friday night against Seminole, the Bulldogs will be "like a baby taking that first step."

At least that's how first year Coahoma coach Steve Park sees it. The new coach has a sophomore quarterback and a lot of new faces, and he said they're eager to play football.

"I'm kind of anxious to see what they'll do on Friday night. They're excited about this," he said.

The Bulldogs, it is certain, are due for a win. They haven't come out on top since Sept. 21, 1985, when Tahoka fell 20-14. Since then, it's been 17 straight losses, including last year's 0-10 mark.

If preseason scrimmages counted, however, the streak would be over. Coahoma tied McCamey 1-1 in its first scrimmage, and whipped Greenwood 4-1 in the last one.

"Defensively, I was real pleased. They got after it — there were some good licks.

"We were pleased with the kids' hitting and with their spirit. We were happy with the way they got after it," Park said.

Sophomore Curtis Hudson will start at quarterback, and Park said he's looked good. He'll be handing the ball off to halfbacks Matt Rowell and James White and fullback Carlos Cervantes, all of whom will start. Rowell, the son of new Bulldogs assistant Doc Rowell, will be playing his first game for Coahoma, and will start both ways.

"We like to run the ball and throw it when we want to, instead of when we have to," Park said, adding that Hudson has shown he can throw the ball.

Park said Seminole has 34 players on its varsity, which will give them one luxury the Coahoma players won't have.

"They'll get lots of rest. Most of our kids go both ways. If we can suck it up in the fourth quarter we'll be in good shape," he said.

Last year, in Seminole, Coahoma lost 13-0 in a defensive struggle. The Indians scored their first touchdown in the first quarter on a short drive after a Coahoma fumble. They didn't score again until the final minutes.

The Indians finished the season at 5-5. They return 11 letterman from that team.

"We're a little bit smaller than last year but we feel like we have a lot better skill and quickness," said Seminole coach Bill Burling.

"In the past we've run more, but we feel like we're going to have to throw it some because of our size this year," Burling said.

The Indians will be led by Dwight Hill, an all-district cornerback who also starts at running back. Jeff Condit, the backup last year, will start at quarterback.

Burling saw Coahoma's scrimmage with Greenwood, and was impressed.

"Against Greenwood they really got after it. They're small and quick and extremely aggressive — they reminded me a lot of ourselves," he said.

Bulldogs fans may get encouragement from Seminole's scrimmage score against Greenwood — the Indians won 2-0, which isn't as big a margin as Coahoma's win.

That indicates one thing — the Bulldogs have a chance to end that streak.

Mavericks' Tarpley says he got help, but won't say what for

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Mavericks forward Roy Tarpley said Wednesday he was counseled this summer for a problem he would not identify but said has been resolved.

Meanwhile, NBA Players Association general counsel Larry Fleisher denied a published report in the Dallas Morning News' Thursday editions quoting him as saying Tarpley sought the treatment for drug use.

"I have no information on anyone seeking treatment over the summer," Fleisher told The Associated Press late Wednesday. "Our office would have no way of knowing that. ... Although (if Tarpley sought treatment) it would have to be for drugs, because we don't have a program for alcohol or marijuana use."

The newspaper quoted players association officials as saying Tarpley now has one violation of the league's anti-drug agreement. The agreement covers only cocaine and heroin.

"I don't want people saying, 'another bites the dust,'" Tarpley said in a statement released by the NBA club. "I learn from my mistakes."

Tarpley said he sought help because he didn't want to become another statistic.

"I sought professional counseling. I felt like I had a potential problem," he said in the statement. "I felt like it could get out of hand. But it's been resolved. It's over with."

Tarpley, the Mavericks' No. 1 draft pick in 1986 and a member of the NBA's All-Rookie team last season, said he told team vice president Rick Sund after the season that he was going to seek help.

The NBA's drug policy states that if a player voluntarily comes forward with a problem, he can undergo treatment without penalty. A player coming forward a second time is suspended without pay during treatment but suffers no further penalty. Subsequent use results in that player's permanent dismissal from the league.

Tarpley, 7-0, played an important role on a Mavericks team that won the franchise's first Midwest Division title.

"I felt good," Tarpley said. "Everything is fine. I feel my future is bright."

Steers

The Steers will open up in the Veeer with senior Charles White starting at fullback and junior Bruce Jones starting at halfback. The Steers will be without sophomore running back Chris Cole, who recently had surgery to correct ligament damage. Eudy said he will be out four weeks.

Eudy is dead set on running the ball.

"I think we have the opportunity to run the ball. We'll run our power and option stuff at them. I think we'll pass the ball during the Fort Stockton game," Eudy joked, singling out the Steers sixth game of the season. "No, really, I think we'll try some play action stuff."

Eudy said the main thing he's looking for in this non-district clash is improvement.

"I want us to play better than we did in the last scrimmage. We want to get better and don't backslide. Offensively we need to take care of the football, which means no fumbles.

"I want to see better blocking angles by our backs. Defensively I want to see us running to the ball as a unit. I want us to play tough, with poise."

As far as improvement, Steers' offensive coordinator Scott Knippa said right guard Rocky Ramirez has been looking good so far, while defensive coordinator Mickey Findley said the same about cornerback Rodriguez.

Both James and Eudy believe they have each other figured out. "Big Spring has three good backs, above average-sized linemen. They'll run inside traps, power stuff and some play action passes," said James.

"Riverside has a big offensive line and runs a lot of unbalanced stuff. They have a good quarterback and tight end. They'll come out throwing against us," Eudy said.

Friday night at 8:30 p.m. in El Paso, it will be seen which attack is more effective. By air, or by land.

Astros' Bass blasts from both sides

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

By hitting home runs from both sides of the plate, Kevin Bass blasted out a spot for himself in the baseball record books. Howard Johnson is about to do the same, also because of his switching-hitting home run proficiency.

Bass became the first National League player ever to hit home runs from both sides of the plate in a game twice in the same season as the Houston Astros beat the Chicago Cubs 10-1 Wednesday night.

Johnson, meanwhile, hit a two-run homer to help the New York Mets beat the San Diego Padres 4-3. The homer was Johnson's 34th, moving him within one of the National League record for most homers in a season by a switch-hitter, set by Jimmy Collins of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1934.

"It's nothing I've ever sat home and thought about," Bass said of his record-making achievement. "I guess I became an answer to a trivia question."

Bass went 4-for-4 with two homers, a double and a single, and also drew an intentional walk as the Astros cracked out 13 hits to break a seven-game losing streak.

Mike Scott, 14-10, scattered nine hits in seven innings, struck out four and walked none. Rick Sutcliffe, 15-7, lost his third straight.

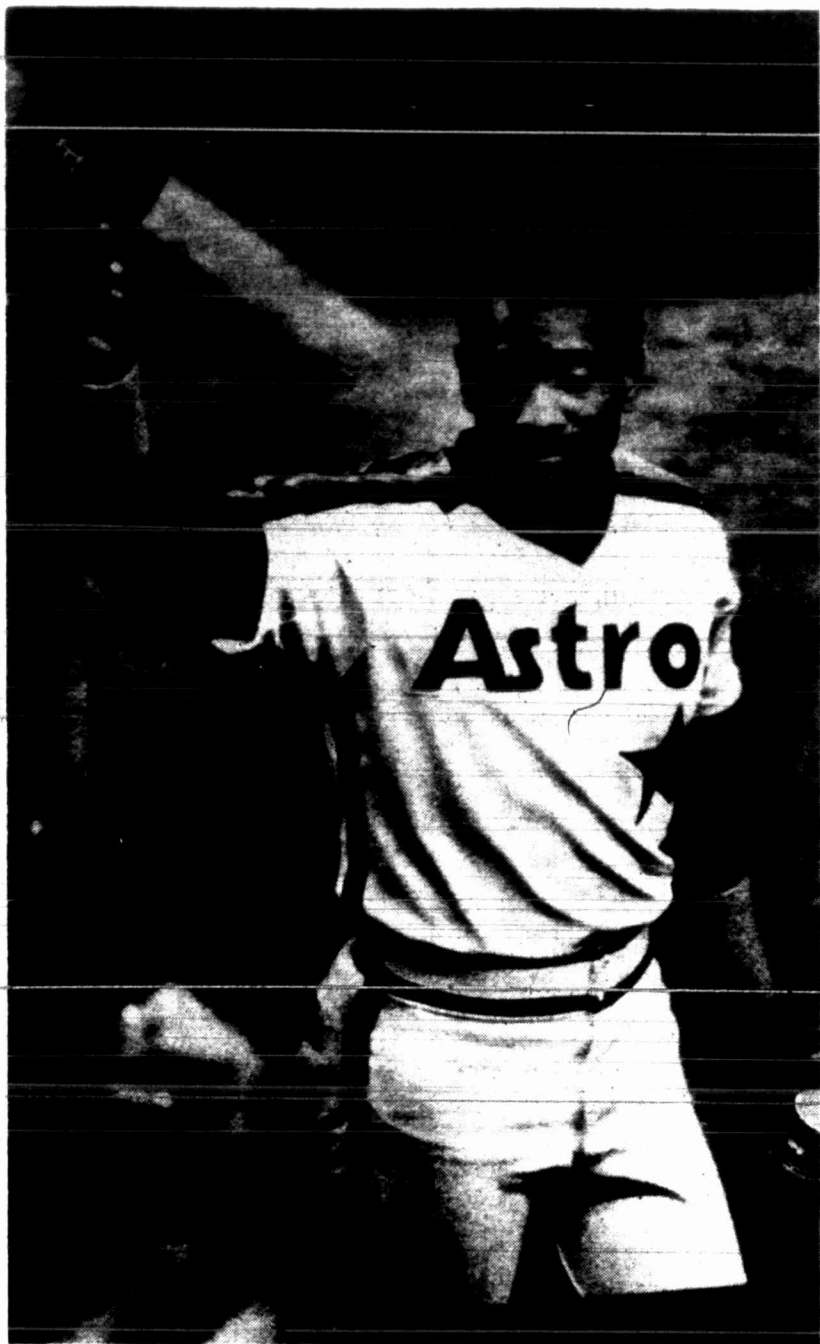

Bass hit a solo homer in the fourth inning from the left side of the plate and then hit a two-run shot from the right side in a four-run sixth inning, his 15th.

"This is a tough game when things are going wrong. We broke a string of seven straight and I'm glad we came out of it," Bass said. "Mentally, you can say you came out of it, but we'll have to wait and see if we have turned things around."

"Kevin was very aggressive at the plate left-handed tonight," Houston Manager Hal Lanier said. "We need him to drive the ball more left-handed and he's made up mind to do it."

Mets 4, Padres 3
The Mets trailed 3-2 in the seventh before Johnson connected for his 34th home run. Keith Hernandez also hit a two-run homer for the Mets and Dwight Gooden scattered 10 hits.

With the win, which marked their 34th comeback victory of the season, the Mets moved within 3½ games of front-running St. Louis in the NL East. It also gave the Mets a 5-1 mark on their current nine-game West Coast trip.

Gooden, 13-4, extended his personal winning streak to four in pitching his fifth complete game of the season. The loss went to San Diego starter Ed Whitson, 10-10, who struck out a career-high 10.

"I've always had the power," Johnson said. "Now I'm maturing to becoming a smarter hitter. The single most important thing is being in there every day."

Until this season, Johnson had no more than 389 at-bats in any one year.

Pirates 2, Braves 0
Mike LaValliere hit a two-run double and Bob Walk and Jim Gott combined on a five-hitter as Pittsburgh beat Atlanta, the Pirates' eighth victory in nine games.

Walk, 7-2, won for the fifth time in his last six decisions. The Braves lost for the sixth time in seven games.

Reds 3, Cardinals 1
Bo Diaz hit a two-run homer with two outs in the eighth inning, leading Cincinnati over St. Louis.

Diaz's homer, his 14th of the season and the fifth by a Cincinnati batter in two games, snapped a 1-1 tie. The hit followed a walk to Buddy Bell by Danny Cox, 9-5, who had retired the first two batters in the inning.

Ron Robinson, 7-3, gained his fourth straight victory for Cincinnati with relief help in the final three innings from Frank Williams and John Franco, who gained his 25th save.

Cincinnati jumped ahead in the first on Kal Daniels' 21st homer of the season. St. Louis got the run back in the bottom of the first on an RBI double by Ozzie Smith.

Expos 7, Giants 3
Herm Winningham drove in four runs with a home run and a double as Montreal defeated San Francisco.

With the Expos trailing 3-0 after six innings, Winningham hit a three-run homer to cap a four-run seventh and added an RBI double in the ninth.

Pascual Perez, 1-0, won his first major-league game since July 14, 1985. Perez, the former Atlanta pitcher who was out of baseball last year, allowed six hits and three runs in six-plus innings. Tim Burke, the third Montreal pitcher, posted his 13th save.

Phillies 6, Dodgers 2
Don Carman pitched six-hit ball over seven innings and Von Hayes and Keith Hughes each had a pair of run-scoring singles as Philadelphia completed a three-game sweep of Los Angeles.

The Dodgers have lost seven in a row and eight of their last nine meetings with the Phillies. The only sock they displayed all night — except for a pre-game fight between Mike Marshall and teammate Phil Garner in the tunnel leading to the clubhouse — came on Pedro Guerrero's 24th home run in the sixth inning.

Carman, 9-9, struck out five and walked one before getting relief help from Kent Tekulve, who appeared in his 74th game to tie Toronto's Mark Eichorn for the major league high.

Orel Hershiser, 13-13, was the loser.

Among the men, top-seeded Ivan Lendl met Jean Fleurian of France and No. 4 Boris Becker of West Germany played Jonathan Canter. Lundgren said he gained confidence from his first victory over Cash.

"I knew what I needed to do, which was serve well and return well," Lundgren, 22, said. "My baseline game was working very well."

The upsets of Cash were not the biggest wins for Lundgren. "Beating Mats (Wilander) was the biggest because Wilander is Wilander," Lundgren said of his win in Cincinnati two weeks ago.

"He does not give you any points. Against Cash, he gives you a lot of easy points."

Graf, playing her first Grand Slam event as the No. 1 seed, gave Fulco nothing. She lost only six points in the first set and had only a little more trouble in the second set.

"I did not play for six days," Graf said of her recovery period after road canal surgery. "The last couple of days I was not really nervous but anxious to play."

Graf isn't spending any extra time thinking about being ranked No. 1.

"It surprised me when I got it so early," she said. "But I don't think it makes any difference for the tournament."

The only other seeded loser Wednesday was No. 15 Martin

Jaite of Argentina, who fell to Tomas Smid of Czechoslovakia 7-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Among the winning men seeds were No. 2 Stefan Edberg, No. 3 Mats Wilander and No. 10 Joakim Nystrom, all of Sweden; No. 5 Miloslav Mecir of Czechoslovakia; ninth-rated Andres Gomez of Ecuador, and No. 12 Tim Mayotte.

Two of Graf's seeded countrywomen moved on — No. 12 Bettina Bunge and No. 13 Sylvia Hanika. Pam Shriver, seeded fifth; No. 10 Manuela Maleeva of Bulgaria; Lori McNeil, seeded 11th; and Wendy Turnbull of Australia, the 16th seed, also won.

Cannors was asked what has kept him going for so long.

AT&T ANNOUNCES UPCOMING PRICE CHANGES FOR SOME TEXAS INTRASTATE SERVICES

AT&T announces the following price changes for some of its Texas intrastate services. These changes, which more closely reflect the actual costs incurred by AT&T in providing these services, will become effective on October 1, 1987.

- SDN (Software Defined Network) Schedule B prices will be reduced an overall 7.1%. Scheduled C prices will be reduced 4.4% for the initial 30-second rate period of each call.
- WATS 80 service prices for both the initial period 80-hour usage and additional period usage will increase 5%.
- The monthly prices for AT&T's Private Line Service will increase up to $25 per channel termination for Analog services and 10% for Digital Data Services.
- A $25 monthly surcharge will also apply to any private lines which may be used to access the local exchange network, unless certified as exempt by the customer. The $25 surcharge, which was previously authorized by the Public Utility Commission of Texas, is a flow through of charges assessed by the Local Exchange Companies to AT&T for those Private Line services.

The combined effect of these price changes is expected to produce approximately $4.99 million annual revenue, which is approximately .5% of AT&T's annual revenues for all Texas intrastate services.

If you have questions regarding the changes for Private Line service, please call AT&T toll-free at 1-800-345-5092. If you have questions regarding the WATS or SDN price changes, please call our business consultants toll-free at 1-800-222-0400. AT&T's tariffs reflecting these changes will be filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas on August 31, 1987, with an effective date of October 1, 1987.

Persons who have questions regarding this tariff filing may also contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas in writing, at 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or by calling the Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223, or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 for teletypewriter for the deaf.

McWilliams wants results fast

AUSTIN (AP) — New Texas football coach David McWilliams says his five-year contract gives him time to rebuild the Longhorns but he wants quick results.

"I want it to happen fast," says the former Texas defensive coordinator who coached at Texas Tech last season before returning to his alma mater after Fred Akers was fired.

McWilliams' first Texas team opens Sept. 5 at Auburn, which could be one of the best defensive teams in college football, and plays explosive Brigham Young the next week at home.

"It's probably the kind of schedule we need," McWilliams says. "If we play them real well, even if we get beat, then I've got something to build on."

"If we beat them, then I guarantee you the confidence it will instill in our football team, plus the recognition, means that we're on the road back."

Texas was 5-6 last year for its first losing football season in 30 years, and McWilliams says he can understand why Longhorn fans do not expect much more this season.

But he adds, "I don't feel that way. I think that we've got a good nucleus. I just really think this team is better than that."

Unlike most Texas teams, the offense will feature passing. "We didn't get to work on our running game very much (in spring training), but that's going to be secondary to us anyhow. We are going to throw the ball mainly," McWilliams said in a recent interview.

Texas' No. 1 quarterback again will be Bret Stafford, who had 2,472 total yards of offense last year, second highest in the Southwest Conference. A backup to Stafford has not emerged.

"I think one of the most important things about Stafford is his unselfish attitude," McWilliams said. "He's out there for the Longhorns to win, and every player out there knows that."

"They know their fortunes ride with him but they're willing to throw their bags on his wagon, because they know he can do it."

McWilliams lists Stafford and eight receivers — including five backs who can run and catch the football — as Texas' offensive strengths. Linebackers and the starting secondary should be the strongest positions on defense.

One major offensive change in the spring was the movement of 194-pound fullback Darron Norris to tailback.

McWilliams worries about defensive tackle, where he says an injury to first-teamers Ken Hackmack, 6-foot-9 and 296 pounds, and Steve Llewellyn, 6-6 and 265, could be devastating. He said if he could pick one position to be injury-free, "that would be a tough pick between Stafford and those defensive tackles."

David McWilliams, shown here in a file photo with wife Cindy after he announced he would leave Texas Tech for Texas, said he wants fast results at the Southwest Conference school.

Possible depth at defensive tackle could be provided by former defensive end Roger Fritcher, 255; Mark Steed, a lightweight at 230; and Rocky Allen, a 260-pounder who is recovering from arthroscopic knee surgery.

McWilliams said freshmen could be a factor this year, and he named 11, starting with blue-chip middle linebacker Mical Padgett, 6-3 and 225. "Physically, he's ready to play," McWilliams said.

He said Texas had a good recruiting class this year, which was the first rebuilding step. Now, with a good season, "We would get that fire back and the things I feel we have to do to give us a chance to be involved in every game."

It was a friendly joke; Hatcher will have to pay

HOUSTON (AP) — What started out as a joke between Houston reliever Dave Smith and a friend has turned into a very serious crisis for Astros outfielder Billy Hatcher.

Hatcher was ejected from Tuesday night's game against the Chicago Cubs for using a corked bat that Smith says was given to him by a friend to use in batting practice.

Hatcher faces a possible suspension for using the illegal bat and the Astros could lose their most consistent hitter at a critical time in the NL Western Division race.

"A friend of mine did one as a joke," Smith said Wednesday night. "He told me to try it in batting practice and see if it made a difference. With my swing, I couldn't tell any difference."

"With all the controversy this year, we just wanted to see if there was a difference," Smith said he always returned the doctored bat to the clubhouse before games. He said a bat boy may have accidentally placed it in the team's batting rack by a bat boy Tuesday night.

Umpire crew chief John McSherry said the bat contained 3-4 inches of cork and had been sent to the league office.

Astros Manager Hal Lanier said he did not know that the corked bat was being used in pitcher's batting practice.

"If I would have known, I'd have made damn sure the bats weren't in the bat rack during the game," Lanier said.

Hatcher said all of his regular bats were broken, so he unwittingly grabbed the corked bat.

Hatcher's ejection continued the league's study of the possibility that some batters have loaded their bats with cork or shredded rubber to add distance to their drives.

Howard Johnson of the New York Mets, Pedro Guerrero of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Candy Maldonado of San Francisco have had their bats checked. Managers have the right to ask that one bat per game be confiscated for examination if they suspect tampering.

The Cubs also were involved in incidents involving Johnson and Guerrero.

Florida city still trying to lure Oilers from Dome

HOUSTON (AP) — City officials say they are skeptical as to whether Jacksonville, Fla., can really guarantee more than $115 million in profits over the next 10 years to lure the Houston Oilers to move there.

Oiler owner K.S. "Bud" Adams confirmed Tuesday that he is asking for that sum.

Jacksonville Mayor Tommy Hazouri said he thinks the north Florida city, which also would draw spectators from the Orlando area, can deliver it.

But Jacksonville's effort to guarantee the $115.2 million could collapse if the Florida Legislature does not approve a 50 percent increase in Jacksonville's hotel/motel tax, the Florida-Times Union reported today.

More than one-third of the $115 million — $34.2 million — is slated to come from a 2 percent increase in the so-called "bed" tax. But Florida law prohibits counties from increasing its existing 4 percent hotel/motel tax.

Harris County Judge Jon Lindsay reiterated Wednesday that the county has done about all it can to keep the Oilers, including scheduling a vote by the public on $50 million in bonds to pay for 10,000 new seats, a new playing surface and other Astro dome improvements.

By law, Lindsay noted, tax money cannot be used to sweeten the pot by directly underwriting Oiler profits, even if thought desirable. Several officials said that until Jacksonville puts its chips on the table, any move by the private sector here to raise such funds would be premature.

Lindsay said the issue remains in the hands of the Oilers and the Houston Sports Association, which owns the Astros baseball team. HSA leases the Astro dome from Harris County for $750,000 a year and charges the Oilers $2 million a year to play in it.

Steroid use uncovered at world track championship

ROME (AP) — The World Track and Field Championships ended before they began for Australian javelin thrower Sue Howland, because of a drug test administered at a meet more than a month ago.

Howland, the third-best performer in the world this year in her event, was barred from the championships when a drug test conducted at a British meet in late July found traces of "a drug in the steroids group," officials said Wednesday.

The results of the tests conducted at the Girobank Games in Belfast, Northern Ireland, July 20 were relayed to world track officials and the Australian team before the championships started last week, according to Dr. Arne Ljungqvist, head of the medical commission for track and field's world governing body.

Howland, who finished second in the Belfast meet, never even checked into the athletes' village in Rome, according to sources, who spoke on the condition they not be identified.

She could face a lifetime ban from competition.

Australian team officials were unavailable for comment as phone calls to their rooms at the village were unanswered.

Ljungqvist said that no positive results had been found so far among the drug tests conducted on athletes since the championships began last Saturday.

This is the second time in as many months that drugs have imposed themselves on a major international track meet.

Trouble brewing in Giantland

By the Associated Press Turmoil began in the New York Mets' clubhouse less than six months after winning the World Series when key players asked to be traded.

Seven months after winning the Super Bowl, the New York Giants lockerroom is beginning to sound the same.

Linebacker Gary Reasons, who started at inside linebacker for the Giants last season, asked Wednesday to be traded, released or to have his contract dispute submitted to arbitration.

Reasons said the team treated him "like a third-class citizen."

NO PROGRESS II

Jason Buck's agent failed to convince Cincinnati to agree to a four-year, $1.525 million contract, but will try again today.

Leigh Steinberg, the agent for the Cincinnati Bengals' unsigned No. 1 draft choice, said negotiations for the 6-foot-5, 260-pound defensive end from Brigham Young remain at a standstill.

Cincinnati had offered Buck $1.425 million over four years, but last week said it had withdrawn the offer because Buck had missed so much of training camp.

NEW LIFE

Brian Holloway, a National Football League Players' Association vice president whose trade by the New England Patriots was made into a labor issue, says he's delighted to be a member of the Los Angeles Raiders.

Holloway, a three-time Pro Bowl offensive tackle, says he was traded because he served as a spokesman for the union.

DIFFERENCES OF OPINION

Rick Woods, traded by the Pittsburgh Steelers to Tampa Bay, says Pittsburgh's problems are as much the fault of the system as they are the players.

"The players aren't happy. They don't like the system," Woods told The Tampa Tribune. "I don't want to badmouth the system as a whole, but there's a feeling of despair there. They don't know what's the deal. Nothing seems to be going right. They'll probably purge a lot more before they're through."

Coach Chuck Noll, whose team won four Super Bowls during the 1970s but is winless in preseason after going 6-10 in 1986, said changes in personnel are needed.

Besides trading Woods, the Steelers cut Eric Williams, their starting free safety last year, along with former starting linebacker Dennis "Dirt" Winston and second-year running backs Dan Reeder and Chuck Sanders.

MOVES

The New York Giants traded reserve nose tackle Jerome Sally to the Indianapolis for an undisclosed draft choice. He had joined the Giants as a free agent in late 1982 and recorded 143 tackles and 18½ sacks.

Center Brian Baldinger was placed on injured reserve by Dallas because of a torn cartilage in his left knee. Placekicker Rolf Benirschke, acquired from San Diego, took Baldinger's place on the roster of the NFL team.

PUBLIC NOTICE

On July 29, 1987, EDC One Inc., and Texas Utilities Electric Company (TU Electric) filed a joint application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (the Commission) for certification of a cogeneration agreement entered into by EDC One Inc. and TU Electric on June 22, 1987, which provides for the purchase by TU Electric of approximately 255 MW of capacity and associated energy from a cogeneration facility to be constructed by EDC One Inc. at a United States Gypsum Company manufacturing facility located in Sweetwater, Nolan County, Texas. The joint application was filed pursuant to Section 41A of the Public Utility Regulatory Act, Tex. Rev. Civ. Stat. Ann. art. 1446c and seeks determinations by the Commission that (1) the payments provided for in the cogeneration agreement are equal to or less than TU Electric's avoided costs as established by the Commission and in effect at the time the cogeneration agreement was signed; and (2) the cogeneration agreement provides TU Electric the opportunity to acquire the cogeneration installation before the installation is offered to another purchaser in the event of its abandonment, or provides other sufficient assurances that TU Electric will be provided with a comparable supply of electricity, if EDC One Inc. ceases to operate the installation. The joint application has been docketed by the Commission as Docket No. 7623. A copy of the joint application is on file at the Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene in the proceeding or comment upon action sought, should contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas, at 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or call the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223, or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 for teletypewriter for the deaf within 15 days of this notice, provided that any motion to intervene must be filed on or before September 18, 1987.

DID THE ANGEL KNOW? HOW DID HE KNOW? Look what the angel Gabriel said to Mary about Jesus: "He shall reign over the house of Jacob FOREVER, and of His KINGDOM THERE SHALL BE NO END." (Luke 1:33). His kingdom will never end! Who said the kingdom of Christ would be for only 1000 years? Don't expect a false dream or believe a false prophet. The kingdom of Jesus is already here. Don't allow yourself to be deceived. DID JESUS KNOW? What did he say? Look at what Jesus said: "But I tell you a truth, there be some standing here, which shall not taste death until they see the kingdom of God". (Luke 9:27). Isn't that interesting? Someone comes along today and says, "The Kingdom is to be set up for a 1000 years in the very near future"...Where did they get such information? It sure is different from what Gabriel and Jesus said....Who are you gonna believe? The apostle Peter warned of "false teachers who bring in damnable heresies" (2 Peter 2:1), and the apostle Paul warned that some have "erred from the faith" (1 Timothy 6:21, 4:1, 2, 1:10, Galatians 1:6-12 etc.). Maybe we need to be careful who and what we believe.

YOUR DAILY Horoscope from the Carroll Righter Institute

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1987

GENERAL TENDENCIES: There may be some setbacks or difficulties which could delay your routines, so be prepared to handle them. Be tactful and diplomatic in your associations with others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) This is not a good day to ask favors of others or to try to force your ambitions. Avoid a friend who has a chip on the shoulder.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You want to get started on a new course of action, but this should be put off. Avoid an official who is angry.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Steer clear of an altercation with your mate today. You are not sure how to handle a duty, so shelve it for a while.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Try to soothe the feelings of an associate, but be sure not to do anything to make the matter worse.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Use more than usual care to avoid doing any damage to your home or office. Try to regain your lately-lost composure.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't allow yourself to be talked into a too-expensive entertainment this morning. Protect your health tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Try to help your family with their problems instead of harping on your own. Avoid a friend who is too noisy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be wary of reckless drivers on the highway, and use caution in your own driving as well. Use tact in communications.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Forget the financial advice given to you by others who are not experts. Taking such would lead you astray.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Taking on your mate's worries would not be wise at this time. Postpone seeing friends until a later evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Listen to the complaints of others, but don't get personally involved. Be helpful to a friend in trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Give your full attention to civic and credit matters. Be sure to avoid a friend who is acting strangely tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be of a serious nature and very precise in keeping promises and dealing with schoolwork. Your progeny would do quite well in business or finances and should have the education slanted along those lines. Teach him or her while young not to be too pushy.

Texas women to speak at Women's Symposium

Five Texas women, including former White House press secretary Liz Carpenter, will be guest speakers at the second annual Women's Symposium Sept. 23 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the University of Texas at the Permian Basin student lounge.

The all-day event, entitled "Moving Into The Future: Women Leading The Way," will include workshops, lectures and a "not for women only" reception.

The reception from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. will be a Texana Style Wine Tasting and Autograph Party for Liz Carpenter's newest book, "Getting Better All The Time."

Carpenter will also present the symposium's keynote address, which she promises to be a fascinating account of life at the top.

As a former vice-presidential aide to Lyndon Johnson and press secretary to Lady Bird, she was an important participant in Washington's social and political life for more than 30 years, according to a release from UT Permian Basin.

Also featured will be Dr. Sarah Weddington, attorney and former assistant to President Jimmy Carter and the first woman elected to the Texas House of Representatives from Travis County.

Weddington, a lecturer at U.T. Austin, will discuss how to develop skills and strategies for achieving top leadership positions.

Dr. Martha Shipe Williams, dean of U.T. Austin's School of Social Work will offer a reexamination of the role of women during the last decade.

Williams was chair of the Governor's Commission for Women from 1983-85 and selected "Outstanding Woman in Education" by the American Association of University Women.

Certified financial planner and investment broker Pam Reznick will discuss how to become familiar enough with the workings of the stock market to make sound investments. She is a frequent guest speaker at financial seminars sponsored by banks, schools and businesses and is a member of the Governor's Commission for Women and the Austin Women's Political Caucus.

Robena Jackson, vice president of the Austin Chamber of Commerce, will discuss how to recognize and take advantage of the challenges and opportunities facing modern women. Jackson is the youngest chief executive executive officer of the Austin Area Urban League.

The symposium is co-sponsored by U.T. Permian Basin's Women's Center and the Junior League of Odessa, Inc. For reservations and more information, contact the Women's Center at 367-2218. From Midland call 563-2400, ext. 2218.

Decell speaks to local Evening Lions Club Monday

Tom Decell, public works director for Big Spring, spoke to members of the Evening Lions Club Monday.

He said that in spite of a tight budget and limited work force that the city is gradually reaching goals of capital improvement.

He told the group that since the 1980 bond issues, 26 miles of water line, 22 miles of streets and two miles of sewer line have been replaced, according to a release from the club.

"A $650,000 flood grant from the state will be enough to rebuild the Comanche Trail Park Dam to the present size, plus a concrete surface that will prevent another breach," Decell said.

He forecasts that if the city council approves plans and bids that the work can be completed by April 15, 1988.

Decell said to equalize water pressure in all parts of the city a new transmission line will be laid across town joining all parts of the city.

"To correct water pressure problems, additional and larger storage tanks and booster stations will be constructed to service Highland South, Western Hills and Capehart additions."

The sewer treatment will be improved by adding addition drying tanks and installing mechanical equipment to remove the remaining sludge. He emphasized that all dirt roads connecting to Gregg, Birdwell and Third and Fourth Streets will be paved.
