

County to give $21,000 for fire equipment

By KERRY HAGLUND
Staff Writer

Showing their support for volunteer firefighting, Howard County commissioners Monday voted to purchase new equipment for at least six of the county's nine volunteer fire departments.

After some bickering over the exclusion of one fire department, commissioners unanimously voted to advertise for bids to buy bunker clothes for at least five departments and air packs for six.

Commissioners also discussed replacing several fire trucks, but no formal action was taken.

Bids will be sought in January to equip the Sand Springs, Jonesboro, Silver Heels, Forsan and Lomax fire departments with protective wear and air packs. Coahoma fire department also will receive air packs.

Howard County commissioner O.L. "Louie" Brown wanted the Knott fire department included in the purchases, but other commissioners questioned the need, and said they preferred to talk with Knott firefighters first to see if the equipment would be used.

On the recommendation of C. Roy Wright, president of the Howard County Volunteer Firefighters Association, commissioners approved advertising for three sets of protective wear and two air packs for each of the departments.

The purchases will cost the county approximately $21,000, according to figures provided by Wright.

Current equipment is "old and worn out," Wright said, noting that many firefighters are without adequate protective wear.

"Our firefighters are basically unprotected," he said. "A few of us have bought our own equipment."

"To ask volunteers to go out and risk their lives, we feel like you need to consider furnishing them with air packs and personal protective equipment," he said.

"We've been lucky that we haven't had someone hurt or killed. When one of my firefighters responds to a fire, he's putting his life on the line."

In addition to a lack of protective wear, all of the county's fire trucks are in poor shape, Wright said.

"Our pumps leak, they fix them, they roll and they leak again. Forsan has a truck that we never know from one fire to the next if they are going to get there."

The truck has had to be jump-started on various occasions, according to firefighters.

"We want to be able to get to the fires, control the fires and not have a lot of hassle getting there," Wright said.

Commissioners Monday heard a presentation from a spokesman representing Emergency One, a Florida-based company that sells fire trucks and other emergency equipment.

A truck to fit the county's needs would cost $55,000 to $90,000, Wright said.

At their Oct. 26 meeting, commissioners heard a fire truck presentation from Sun Fire Apparatus & Equipment Co., a Fort Worth based company.

Commissioners are considering lease/purchase options and possible repairs to current trucks.

The county budget will have to be amended to allow for the purchases, County Auditor Jackie Olson said. No money was allocated for new fire equipment in the fiscal 1987-88 budget.

FORT WORTH (AP) — A chunk of blue-green ice, apparently from a jetliner with a leaky bathroom, slammed into Gene Gordon's roof, breaking a light fixture and sending Sheetrock flakes cascading in the living room.

"It was loud," said Gordon, who was working in his backyard when the ice hit Sunday afternoon. "I had no idea what it was until I saw the hole in the roof," he said.

Gordon, director of photography at the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, said his wife, Sybil, was in the living room watching television with their 3-week-old grandson.

Gordon said he called the Federal Aviation Administration's Southwest Regional Headquarters in Fort Worth and reported the incident.

Officials there said it would be difficult to trace the ice chunk to a single airline. Gordon's neighborhood is under a busy arrival route to Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport.

The ice chunk shattered on impact, knocking an 8-by-16-inch hole in the roof.

FAA spokesman Fred Farrar in Washington said few such incidents are reported. He said the ice probably formed when the drain valve on a toilet holding tank failed to close properly after it had been serviced on the ground.

Ice forms as the plane reaches an altitude where the temperature is sub-freezing and then is dislodged by vibrations from the flaps and landing gear as the plane descends.

City woman dies

Police and ambulance personnel work to assist Donna Russell Monday about 4:30 p.m. at the scene where an 84-year-old Big Spring woman died as the result of injuries suffered in a two-vehicle traffic accident on U.S. 87 south of FM 700 late Monday.

Jennie Josephine Ridley, 2623 Chanute Drive, was pronounced dead at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday by Justice of the Peace Willie Grant. Ridley died of possible head injuries, Grant said. Russell, 39, 603 Linda Lane, was also injured in the accident. She was in stable condition at Scenic Mountain Hospital this morning, a hospital spokeswoman said.

The accident occurred Monday when a 1985 Ford Crown Victoria, driven by Russell, collided with a 1984 Oldsmobile Cutlass, driven by Ridley, according to police reports.

The Russell vehicle was southbound on U.S. 87, when the Ridley vehicle pulled from a private parking lot drive into its path, police reports said.

No citations were issued.

Saragosa fund

Questions raised on handling donations

From staff and wire reports

Texas Rural Legal Aid, representing the Saragosa Foundation, planned to ask a state district judge today to supervise depositions by Reeves County officials in what could be the first step toward filing a lawsuit against the county.

An official with the Big Spring Saragosa Relief Fund said today that the remaining $3,700 of the fund will remain in a local bank in light of recent developments in Reeves County.

Members of the Saragosa Foundation, a private group that has collected and distributed some tornado relief donations, have expressed concern that county officials have been lax or even dishonest in collecting and distributing the money, building materials and supplies.

Richard White, Big Spring Herald marketing director and a trustee for the local fund, said today that his group will keep the balance of the relief fund in Big Spring until the trustees' concerns are addressed.

"Until we get assurances that the money will be spent properly, we're not going to turn it over," White said.

People nationwide sent donations to Saragosa following the May 22 tornado that killed 30 people and destroyed more than 60 homes.

Trustees of the Big Spring fund raised $8,945.90 for Saragosa relief this summer. Of that figure, $3,695.90 remains in a State National Bank account, according to bank secretary Annette White.

Two withdrawals have been made from the account, White said. The first, on June 8, was for $3,000 and was handed directly to Sister Julieta Mendoza, of the El Paso area Catholic Charities, he added.

The second withdrawal, on June 26, was for $2,250 and was made to the Do-It Center, for purchase of evaporative coolers. The coolers were used in temporary housing at the disaster site, White said.

Fellow fund trustee Rev. Victor Sedenger, pastor of First Christian Church, echoed White's sentiments on the fund.

"We're just going to have to take a wait-and-see attitude," he said, "until the doubts are cleared from our minds and the minds of the fund contributors."

"We've followed what we believed was the most responsible path of action," Sedenger continued. "Why should we change now?"

VA plans no-smoking policy

By STEVE REAGAN

Staff Writer

At the same time the City of Big Spring is considering an anti-smoking ordinance, personnel at the local VA Medical Center are taking steps to make the hospital a "no smoking facility."

Dr. Wilton Jones, chief of the alcohol and drug treatment program at the hospital, was recently named smoking control officer, according to Hank Burnine, public information officer.

Jones will be responsible for overseeing the implementation of new regulations that aim to curtail smoking at the facility. The apparent contradiction of allowing smoking at a hospital was a major reason behind the new restrictions, Jones said.

"Smoking is the most preventable cause of death," he said. "We felt it would be most inappropriate for a hospital, of all places, to condone smoking."

The new regulations are gradually being put into effect, and should be in place fully by Dec. 1, Jones said, adding that the new rules are part of a federal government effort — and not just from the local facility.

"The Great American SmokeOut (conducted last week) was like a launching pad for a very intensive no-smoking campaign," he noted.

By the first of next month, the hospital will restrict smoking to eight specified areas — two on each floor of the facility, Jones said.

Smoking materials will be sold at the VA, but will no longer be in plain view, he added.

To help the person who wants to quit the habit, the hospital recently began smoking cessation classes, which Jones described as successful.

"It went very well," he said. "We had a good turnout for the first class and everyone seemed enthusiastic."

Jones stressed that the facility is attacking the smoking problem in a positive manner.

"We're doing it in a positive way," he said. "We're not dealing in negatives. Instead of having 'No Smoking' signs throughout the facility, we have 'Smoking Permitted' signs at the smoking areas."

He admitted that the new policies haven't met with unanimous approval, however.

"We've had a few grumblings from smokers, but you get that from time to time," Jones said. "We're not trying to force anyone to quit — that's their privilege. But we will give everyone who does want to quit the opportunity to do so."

Cuban riot continues at prisons

From staff and wire reports

Cuban prisoners who have threatened to kill 28 hostages at a federal prison today brandished weapons and brought two of the officers to a gate to show they were unarmed, authorities said.

Army and National Guard troops were on alert today as the standoff with the 1,000 inmates entered its third day at the burned-out facility.

The Big Spring Federal Prison Camp has sent 10 of its personnel to the site of the Oakdale riots. Camp Superintendent Joe Crabtree said today he doesn't anticipate any local staff being sent to Atlanta, but added that more may be sent to Oakdale.

He declined to release the names of the staff members sent to Louisiana.

The two hostages escorted to the gate said they had not been harmed by the Cubans, Warden J.R. Johnson said. He added that their appearance was "a positive indication" that the inmates would not harm the hostages.

Johnson declined to identify the two officers, and said he was unsure when any of the hostages would be identified.

Inside the compound today, Cuban inmates provided a "show of force," Johnson said.

"They carried weapons, they brandished those weapons, they put out a very clear message that they feel they are ready for whatever is going to happen," he said.

"Very simply, they are very strongly committed to this whole situation," Johnson said.

Reporters touring with guards early today said virtually every inmate was armed. The weapons, apparently fashioned after they broke into a tool shed, included homemade machetes, sticks with nails in the end and ball peen hammers.

The insurgent Cuban inmates selected a single spokesman to negotiate their demands to avoid deportation, according to U.S. Sen. John Breaux, who was encouraged by the move.

The Louisiana Democrat, who met Monday with inmate representatives, said he hoped to sit down today with the inmate emissary identified only as "Angel."

Breaux said he delivered a copy Monday of Attorney General Edwin Meese's offer to declare a moratorium on the return of Cubans who came to the United States illegally during the 1980 Mariel boatlift.

"I related that I had spoken to Ed Meese and that his offer is a serious one," said Breaux. "They say they do not want to go back to Cuba under any circumstances."

Breaux said Angel had been chosen as the Oakdale Federal Detention Center inmates' sole spokesman and negotiator, which he called "encouraging."

The prisoners took the hostages during a fiery rampage Saturday night, a day after the announcement of a U.S.-Cuba accord under which more than 2,500 Cuban detainees would be sent back to their communist homeland, officials said.

Band awards presented

Herald staff report

The Big Spring Steer Band's end of marching season banquet returned into the Pat Collins Show.

Collins, son of George and Deborah Collins, won three awards at the banquet, given by the Morning Optimists Club and the Band Boosters. He won the Best Marching Spirit and Zane Donald Memorial Awards, as well as being named one of the ten best marchers.

This marked the second year the senior trombone player won the Marching Spirit Award, according to Band Director Ricky Mitchell. Band members select the award winner — the person having the best attitude and spirit during marching season, Mitchell added.

The Zane Donald Memorial Award is given in memory of the former band booster president, and is awarded to the senior who best exemplifies good moral character, strong faith, respect for others, scholarship, spirit and musicianship, Mitchell noted.

Those selected as best marchers were: seniors Collins, Tyrone Foster, Aricia Grant, Mary Ann Guevara, Eric Kinman, Jojo Paredes, Martina Solis and Stella Vidlak.

Also selected were junior Lyle Moore and sophomore Marilyn Corwin.

Gina Martinez, daughter of Jose and Mary Martinez, won the Band Director's Award. It is awarded to the student who best demonstrates the attitudes and energies of a superior band member, but often doesn't get the recognition deserved, Mitchell noted.

Chamber board to send Taylor to session

Herald staff report

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors recommended that Liz Taylor be sent to the Chamber of Commerce Institute, during a recent meeting. Taylor will be attending the training in Norman, Okla. Jan. 17-22, 1988.

The board also decided to recommend that the chamber back the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1987.

A new brochure will be printed for the Heritage Museum, and the chamber will be establishing a new program as a result of the directors' meeting.

Called "Community Fund Search Center," the new program will be under the leadership of Drew Mouton, currently first vice president of the chamber, and Johnnie Lou Avery of Avery and Associates, according to executive Vice President Lee Roy Tillery.

The board also received a report on the West Texas Chamber of Commerce leaders' seminar in Abilene, Tillery said. In other matters, the board had a presidential report on orientation for new board members and officers and the program of action planning meeting.

The board approved the previous meeting's minutes, the financial report, and the review of new members, delayed membership payments, and cancellations before deciding to have each board member contact two former members who have been dropped from the chamber's rolls.

The board will meet again Dec. 2 for a community luncheon.

On Dec. 9, the chamber's transportation committee will sponsor a seminar covering the new federal motor carrier regulations.

Beginning at 8 a.m. and closing at 5 p.m., the session costs $10 and will take place in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum at Howard College. The fee will be collected at the door, and includes a workbook and two coffee breaks, but not lunch.

Texas Department of Public Safety Troopers Marvin Keenan and Ben Lockhart of the License and Weight division are to participate.

Father gives kidney to daughter

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — After months of planning, physicians at the University of Virginia intend to give Heather Leffell a new kidney — and the donor is her father.

The 2-year-old Roanoke County girl has been on dialysis for months. Her kidneys stopped functioning properly in February and they were removed in September after her condition worsened.

Heather suffers from a rare disease, congenital nephrotic syndrome, the result of inflamed and scarred kidney blood vessels. The illness occurs occasionally in children but usually corrects itself, said Dr. Bradley M. Rogers, who was to lead a team of 17 physicians and nurses in today's surgery.

Rogers said kidney transplants have been performed so frequently that they almost have become routine, and the odds that Heather's body will accept the organ stand at 80 percent because her father is the donor.

"Her life will be much, much better than it is now," he said. "It won't be totally normal, but it will be much better."

Butch Leffell, who works in his family's heating and air-conditioning business, is "more nervous than he thought he's be," said his wife, Pam.

"He's very scared of needles and he's not a good patient at all," she said. "But he's very excited he can do this for

Dupree trial date decided for December

Herald staff report

A jury trial is scheduled Dec. 14 for Assistant District Attorney William Dupree — arrested May 6 on charges of driving while intoxicated, according to William R. Moore, Tom Green County attorney.

Moore was assigned as prosecutor pro tem after Howard County Attorney Tim Yeats filed a motion in September for appointment of a special prosecutor to avoid any appearance of impropriety.

Under normal conditions, Yeats prosecutes all Howard County misdemeanor DWI cases.

Dupree has been assistant district attorney for the 118th District — which includes Howard, Martin and Glasscock counties — since March.

He was arrested on the DWI charge while driving on U.S. Highway 87, a half-mile south of FM 700.

The case was originally delayed in July when Dupree learned that his lawyer, Wayne Basden, had sold his law practice and moved. A motion of continuance was granted to allow Dupree to obtain another lawyer. He is being represented by Robert Miller, according to court records.

The case was transferred to 118th District Court July 24 under Article 4.17 of the code of criminal procedure, which allows transfer of DWI misdemeanor cases to district court if the county judge is not a licensed attorney.

Sheriff's log

Herald staff report

Loose dogs killed a nanny goat and two kid goats at a Howard County residence during the weekend, according to sheriff's reports.

Gene Adams, Sterling City Route, reported that he heard dogs at the back of his barn at Rockhouse and Wasson roads. He found five dogs were in a goat pen. Adams reported that he went to get help, but when he returned only one dog remained.

The dog, a white German Shepard, about three years old, was impounded.

The three goats were worth $170, according to sheriff's records.

Bobby Lynn Webb, 33, 710 Galveston St., was arrested on a warrant for a driving-while-intoxicated judgment. Webb is to serve four days in the Howard County jail.

David Brito Garza, 22, Route 2 Box 146, was transferred to the sheriff's office after a city arrest for parole violation. No bond has been set.

William Joseph Barber, 23, 612 Caylor St., was released from custody under the authority of District Judge James Gregg. Barber was arrested on charges of revocation of probation for burglary of a building.

Richardo Torres, 28, 405 N.W. 11th St., was transferred from the police department after an arrest on charges of false imprisonment. He was released on a $1,500 bond. False imprisonment means to physically restrain, or hold back another person, a police department spokesman said.

David Salinas Zanders, 40, 808 Magnolia Ave., was transferred from the police department after an arrest on charges of driving while license suspended, no insurance — second offense, and parole violation. A $500 bond has been set on the DWLS charge and a $2,500 bond has been set on the no insurance charge. Zanders is in custody in the Howard County jail.

Two thefts and a vandalism were reported to Big Spring police Monday.

A guest checked out of the Thrifty Lodge Motel, 1000 W. Fourth St., owing nine weeks of rent totaling $540, according to police reports.

Vicki Griffin, 2714 Central St., told police that a stereo, owned by David L. Irion of Hobbs, N.M., was stolen. The stereo was valued at $100.

Ricky Robinson, Route 2, Big Spring, reported that someone damaged two gasoline tanks and a motor home. Damage was listed at $400.

Big Spring police also arrested two persons Monday.

Ricardo Torres, 28, 405 N.W. 11th, was arrested on a charge of false imprisonment.

Victor Garza, 57, 507 S. Douglas St., was arrested for DWI, second offense.

Deaths

Jennie Ridley

Jennie Ridley, 84, 2623 South Chanute, died at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 23, 1987 at a local hospital after an automobile accident.

Services will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Myers & Smith Funeral Chapel, with Rev. Clayton Hicks, associate pastor of College Baptist Church, officiating.

Graveside services will be at 4 p.m. Wednesday at Iraan Cemetery in Iraan, under the direction of Myers & Smith Funeral Home.

She was born Jan. 23, 1903 in Illinois. She married Henry Ridley in 1925 in Iraan. He preceded her in death in July 1959.

She was a homemaker and a member of the Baptist church.

She lived in Iraan from the early 1920s until 1960. She had been a resident of Big Spring for eight years, moving from San Angelo.

She is survived by one daughter, Joan Helmer of Midland; three sisters, Laura Erwin of Bridgeport, Belle Batot of San Antonio, and May Cox of Memphis, Tenn.; two sons-in-law; four grandchildren; and one great-granddaughter.

Pallbearers will be Don Henry, Craig Barber, Jim Matthews, Jack Hunter, Joe Fortson and John G. Pavolich.

The family will be at 2922 Melrose.

Saragosa

County foundation's behalf, earlier this month collected 3,000 documents — mostly deposit slips and canceled checks — from county officials after threatening a lawsuit. But the documents, obtained under the Open Records Act, weren't enough, Legal Aid spokesman John Muir said Monday.

"There's a feeling it (the county's response) is inadequate and there are continuing questions," Muir said, adding that foundation members want to know who got how much and with what criteria.

Foundation president Tony Gallego told the Pecos Enterprise that Legal Aid wants to question district clerk Juana Jaquez and officials from the sheriff's office, the Pecos Jaycees and the Saragosa Relief Fund Finance Committee, which was appointed by county commissioners.

Most of the donations were distributed through the sheriff's office and the Jaycees.

Muir, who is not a lawyer, characterized Legal Aid's action as filing a lawsuit against the county. But county attorney Scott Johnson said Legal Aid's action is just a step toward filing a lawsuit.

"What it amounts to is they want to have judicially supervised depositions," Johnson said. "They have questions about the documents they want answered with judicial supervision."

One such question has to do with a $200 check given to jailer Sandy Kelly, Gallego said. The $200 of relief money was spent on a trip to Odessa, 45 miles from Pecos, he told the Enterprise.

"We'd just like to know why the trip was made," Gallego said.

Gallego did not return calls Monday to The Associated Press, and Muir declined to discuss details until today's 1:15 p.m. news conference in Pecos.

Johnson said he is interested in providing answers to any questions the Saragosa Foundation and Legal Aid have.

"I have no problem with turning over any of the records with the Saragosa incident," he said. "I think it'll probably engender more public confidence in governmental affairs. I think they, as citizens and recipients of this aid, are entitled to know where it went."

Legal Aid attorney Alpha Hernandez, who was out of the office and unavailable for comment Monday, has praised Johnson for his cooperation, but has reported problems obtaining records from Sheriff Raul Florez. Florez has said he is being picked on because he is of Mexican descent.

At least two thefts involving Saragosa relief donations have been reported. In July, someone looted a Pecos warehouse containing donated clothes and appliances, records indicate.

In late September, District Clerk Jaquez reported someone stole her purse containing $4,000 cash in relief donations. The purse was snatched out of the vehicle as she washed it, she told police.

She reported she had withdrawn the money several days before to distribute in Saragosa, but that she was unable to distribute it. She told police she had planned to re-deposit the money. She has promised to repay it.

Cuban riot

be a mistake, Johnson said Monday.

"They (inmates) always remind us that any time we attempt to rush into this facility, in any manner, armed or unarmed, they are going to kill the hostages," Johnson said. "They've made that very clear."

The inmates released about a dozen instant photographs of the hostages showing them "healthy and well-taken care of," the warden said.

The prisoners have erected an 8-by-8-foot wooden sign saying "Liberty or die," apparently misspelling "or." A bonfire fueled by furniture burned near the sign.

Half of the year-old, $17 million center was destroyed by fire in Saturday's rampage, and 32 people suffered mostly minor injuries. Forty-one Cuban inmates accepted an offer of safe conduct to other jails Sunday.

About 1,000 of the 1,050 inmates are Cubans, most of them criminals who came to this country in 1980.

Meese's offer, announced Monday in Washington, D.C., was made on condition that Cuban inmates end rioting at the Oakdale center and the federal penitentiary in Atlanta and release all hostages.

The moratorium would last until each case could be reviewed, and would cover all Cubans who were barred by U.S. law as undesirable aliens and are subject to deportation under the agreement with Cuba, Meese said.

The Cubans at Oakdale on Monday apparently increased their demands since the weekend, when officials said they wanted to remain in the United States and not be prosecuted for the riot and hostage-taking.

"They demand pure release, freedom," Johnson said.

A tent city of several hundred police with riot gear surrounded the center at this southwest Louisiana town of 8,000 people.

Army troops at Fort Polk nearly 100 miles northwest of Oakdale and the Louisiana National Guard were put on alert as a precaution, Johnson said Monday night.

Town residents were increasingly angry and dismayed over the stalemate. Some tied 28 yellow ribbons — one for each hostage — around a tree outside a Roman Catholic church.

Newspaper, public group talk after rally

AMARILLO (AP) — A group of Panhandle business and civic leaders calling for more positive coverage in the city's daily newspaper have backed off an earlier demand that the Amarillo Globe-News' ownership be changed.

Following a Monday night rally to garner support for Panhandle Citizens for a Better Amarillo Newspaper, chairman Paul Engler said he was told the group was wasting its time pushing for a change of ownership.

He declined to say who told him that, however.

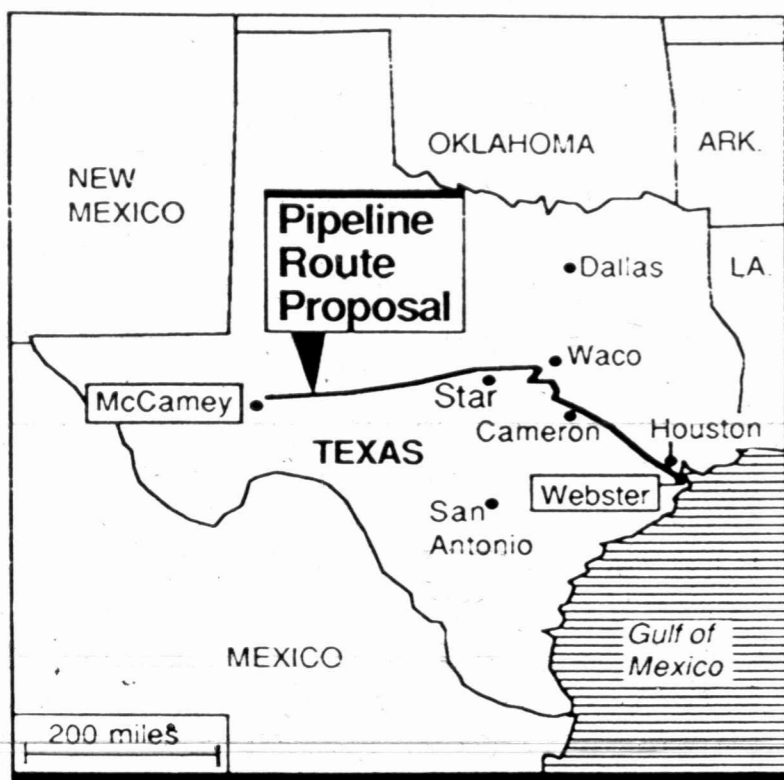

At the rally, attended by more than 1,500 people, residents waved flags and chanted "we deserve better" as several speakers lambasted the Globe-News coverage and its owner, Georgia-based Morris Communications Inc.

"The Globe-News is nationally known for its shabby journalism," said Engler.

But Globe-News Executive Editor Gareth von Netzer said later that "I think it's interesting that in the criticism that I've heard of our newspaper, none has been directed at the accuracy of material run."

"If it offends people for us to report the news because some of that news seems negative, then it's basically the type of thing that newspaper journalism has had to contend with throughout its history," he said.

The group — consisting of 18 Panhandle mayors and business leaders — was formed after a series of articles about the nearby town of Hereford and strained relations between whites and Hispanics. Residents claimed the series cast an unfavorable light on their community.

The federal Bureau of Land Management says a proposed All American Pipeline route that runs from McCamey to Webster is the best of four choices it reviewed

Federal agency supports pipeline route proposal

WACO (AP) — The federal Bureau of Land Management says in a new report that a proposed All American Pipeline route that passes near Waco is the best of four choices it reviewed.

The proposed oil pipeline — sponsored by Celeron Oil & Gas Co. of Louisiana, a subsidiary of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. — would stretch 486 miles from McCamey in West Texas to the Gulf Coast near Webster.

A Final Supplemental Environmental Impact Statement from the bureau says the Waco-area route presents fewer problems than three other alternatives and is the preferred choice.

The bureau's final decision will be announced in early January by Edward Hastey, California state director of the Bureau of Land Management, bureau spokeswoman Candy Johnson told the Waco Tribune-Herald Monday.

Last August, bureau spokesman William Haigh said pipeline builders agreed to abide by the bureau's environmental impact statement.

The new pipeline would expand a pipeline from California and is designed to funnel oil production surpluses in California to the under-used refineries along the Texas coast.

Black parents protest racist pep rally skit

Dallas Times Herald Bureau PLANO — A group of about 25 black parents walked out on the Plano schools superintendent Monday after hearing his response to their protests about a "racist" skit performed during a high school pep rally Friday.

The group was part of about 40 angry parents and concerned residents who met with Supt. H. Wayne Hendrick earlier Monday to offer suggestions on dealing with the problem. During Friday's pep rally, three Plano Senior High School students from the White Guard, a group that assists cheerleaders with equipment, did a skit dressed in black trash bags with huge red paper lips to depict fans at predominantly-black Roosevelt High School in Dallas.

At the afternoon meeting, Hendrick told the group that Plano Senior High Principal Doyle Dean would write a letter of apology to Roosevelt students and staff and would hold assemblies today to discuss the matter with PSHS students.

The school district will also establish guidelines for all pep rallies making it clear that racial remarks will not be tolerated, Hendrick said. In addition, the administration will ask the school board to appoint a task force to study how the district can be more sensitive to minority needs.

Can there be life post-presidency?

It is not easy to be a former president of the United States. The excitement and the power are gone, and there are few opportunities to speak before enthusiastic crowds.

Some presidents fade away quietly and write their memoirs. Other such as Lyndon B. Johnson retire bitterly to the ranch. And some, like Richard Nixon, continue to pontificate.

Jimmy Carter says "yes, there is life after the White House," and he and his wife, Rosalynn, have created a new career.

He teaches at Emory University, manages the Carter Presidential Library and Museum, has been organizing international conferences in the peaceful resolution of conflicts, and is writing several books.

As president, Jimmy Carter was a poor politician. He received blame for inflation caused by the Arab oil embargo. And, of course, he was blamed when Iranian extremists captured the American Embassy in Teheran. But he did gain respect from many foreign leaders.

Now he spends much time meeting quietly with heads of state in his capacity as chairman of Global 2000. In addition to addressing Third World problems, he serves as an unofficial advisor on conflict resolutions.

Carter has found a positive role for himself, which is unusual for ex-presidents. In the long run, he may accomplish more for world peace and understanding than he did while in the White House.

Technical center guzzling taxpayers' fund needlessly

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR
WASHINGTON — Question for today: How can the federal budget deficits ever be brought under control as long as conservative superpatriots insist that the Defense Department is a sacred cow, despite endless examples of waste and mismanagement?

The IG's report, reviewed by our reporter Frank Byrt, concluded that the program benefits only certain consulting firms, and that certain contract awards have violated the law.

Nevertheless, the logistics agency plans to spend an additional $13.5 million on the misdirected, extravagant and ineffective project.

The technical center was intended to be a computerized clearinghouse for the latest data on hazardous materials, and to develop written procedures for the handling, storage and disposal of the toxic wastes generated by the military.

But the Pentagon wasn't even sure what it wanted. The IG's report noted that at the bidders' briefing, agency officials promised "to sit down with the successful contractor to show him what we think we need, or partially need."

With this hazy direction from above, it's hardly surprising that the center managers soon shifted to special projects. "Due to the ease of adding new studies and tasks to the contract, (the managers) placed over 100 special projects totaling more than $23 million with the center without providing for full and open competition," the report states.

This was done by abusing "an open-ended provision of the contract, which we have found to be contracted for in violation of competitive procedures and law," the report adds.

Bogged down with all its special projects, the technical center was able to handle only 14 percent of the requests for help from Pentagon agencies. And it hasn't made even this modest amount of information available to the system's clients, as the center's clearinghouse role dictated.

Predictably, the various defense agencies stopped asking the center for help and developed their own information sources.

The inspector general recommended that the technical center be discontinued because of the "questionable need" for its existence. If information on hazardous material continues to be developed through "special studies," individual contracts should be awarded on an open, competitive basis, the report said.

Did this blistering criticism discourage the Defense Logistics Agency? Don't be silly. Officials didn't challenge the facts in the IG's report — but they disagreed with its conclusions and recommendations.

Even though the center's objective had changed, officials said they were "sure there is a continuing need for the center" based on data they had gathered after the IG's investigation.

The inspector general responded to this vague claim with the crisp statement: "The extent of the problem is increasing." The investigators reported that the logistics agency has awarded $9.5 million in consulting contracts since the July investigation — using the open-ended provision of the contract that the inspector general said skirts federal law.

EYE ON THE ECONOMY — President Reagan's two top economic advisers are determined to avert a recession — for slightly different reasons. Treasury Secretary James Baker wants to avoid the political consequences to the Republicans of a recession, so he hopes to stave off hard times until after next November's election.

Federal Reserve Board Chairman Alan Greenspan is motivated more by economic reasons — and, presumably, a personal distaste for having a recession occur on his watch. Together, they will try to forestall another stock market crash — which would surely bring on a recession — by printing more money, despite the risk of inflation.

The market collapse touched off serious squabbling within the Reagan administration. The Cabinet was deeply shaken by the crash, and White House insiders now concede privately that it could have led to a full-blown, 1929-style disaster.

Ginsburg confuses compasses

Judge Ginsburg is gone but not forgotten. The rumor in Washington is that Mrs. Edwin Meese is going to write a letter to the President asking him to pardon the Supreme Court nominee.

In the meantime, "l'Affaire Ginsburg," as we call it, has left deep wounds in the nation's capital. It has turned liberals against conservatives, and conservatives against liberals, and pragmatists against true believers.

In the past the liberals have had a fairly loose attitude about smoking marijuana joints, and the conservatives have linked pot puffers with agents of the devil.

But since Judge Ginsburg revealed that he had used grass at Harvard, everyone seems to have lost his ideological compass.

I happened to be at a bipartisan party the day after Ginsburg confessed to using a foreign substance while teaching law at Harvard.

Dabney, a fighting liberal, was horrified. "I'm shocked beyond words," he said. "How could we have a Supreme Court Justice who is turning on?"

Template, whom we all think of as the conservative's conservative, was defensive. "The man had a few reeferers when he was a student. Surely we are a forgiving nation."

Dabney was finding it difficult to control his temper.

"That's easy for you to say because conservatives have no regard for law and order. But nobody knows how a man or woman will rule on the Supreme Court once he's had a taste of the weed. I could not in good conscience support a pot head. We liberals owe that much to Nancy Reagan."

Template threw his hands in the air. "We can't judge people by what they smoked in the '60s. Even the President says it is not Ginsburg's deed but his confession that counts. Besides, if grass wasn't good for your health, why would cows eat it?"

I intervened, "I don't understand it. The liberals are dead set against the use of marijuana and the conservatives are all for it. Is it possible this has more to do with politics than with smoking?"

Said Dabney, "Liberals are for strong law enforcement and tough judges. We have to protect the Constitution. The eight justices on the Court have never smoked a joint in their lives. We can't afford to have a 41-year-old justice tempt them."

Template, the conservative, protested. "If we are going to judge people by what they inhale we are never going to get the court the President wants. Let's not forget Ginsburg said he smoked his last marijuana cigarette in 1979. Surely this country has a statute of limitations on Harvard professors who make mistakes."

I said, "I believe you miss the point. Although Ginsburg may have quit in 1979 many Americans will look at him differently than they will the other eight justices. They'll wonder if his eyes are glazing over from the case he is hearing or from what he has hidden in his robes."

Template said, "It's typical of the liberals to kill a Reagan appointment because he had some Acapulco Gold in his youth. I'll tell you something. I would rather have a Supreme Court justice who relaxes in his chamber with a cigarette than one who is against players in the schools."

Dabney, the liberal, was not having any of it. "Marijuana is the most serious issue to face the Supreme Court since Bork's beard. I don't care what a man thinks," he said, "it's what he puts in his mouth that counts. For all I know Ginsburg could have been a great justice, but I wouldn't want to have to check out the plants in his window boxes every time he wrote an opinion."

Today in history

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 24, the 328th day of 1987. There are 37 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: Forty years ago, on Nov. 24, 1947, a group of motion picture writers, producers and directors that came to be known as the Hollywood 10 were cited for contempt of Congress because of their refusal to tell the House Un-American Activities Committee whether they were Communists. The 10 were blacklisted in the movie industry and served prison sentences.

On this date:

In 1784, Zachary Taylor, the 12th president of the United States, was born in Orange County, Virginia.

In 1859, British naturalist

Charles Darwin published "On the Origin of Species," a paper in which he explained his theory of evolution through the process of natural selection.

In 1863, the Civil War battle for Lookout Mountain began in Tennessee. Union forces succeeded in taking the mountain two days later.

In 1864, French artist Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec was born in Albi.

In 1871, the National Rifle Association was incorporated, and its first president named: Maj. Gen Ambrose E. Burnside.

In 1874, barbed wire was patented by Joseph F. Glidden of Illinois.

In 1944, U.S. bombers based on

Saipan attacked Tokyo in what was the first raid against the Japanese capital by land-based planes.

In 1947, John Steinbeck's novel "The Pearl" was published.

In 1963, Dallas nightclub owner Jack Ruby shot and mortally wounded Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, in a scene captured on live television.

Today's birthdays: Producer-writer Garson Kanin is 75. Actor Howard Duff is 70. Columnist William F. Buckley Jr. is 62.

Thought for today: "Compromise makes a good umbrella but a poor roof; it is a temporary expedient." — James Russell Lowell, American editor (1819-91).

'Thanks' for Bible Fund donations

To the editor:
We, the members of the Howard County Minister's Fellowship, thank you for your generous support of our Bible Fund Drive this year.

Your publicizing our gifts and supporters helps our cause a great deal and also brings attention to the Bible Fund for anyone else who might want to help us in this endeavor.

Our total gifts received this year to date are $13,143.50. This is short of our goal of $15,000 but will enable us to have our Bible Classes at Big Spring High School. We are continuing to accept contributions at First Baptist Church.

This is our forty-first year to sponsor the Bible classes at Big Spring High School and we sincerely believe that we have touched many lives through these classes.

Again, we thank you for your willingness to help in this cause and for the publicity given.

KENNETH G. PATRICK, D.MIN.
Bible Fund Chairman

Dear Abby

Father's idea goes over like a lead balloon

DEAR ABBY: The other day, my wife and daughter and I were talking about our daughter's upcoming wedding. Since our daughter has a closetful of expensive dresses she's worn only once, I made what I thought was a very good suggestion: "Why not let all the girls you want in your wedding party just pick out the prettiest dress they have hanging in their closets and wear it? For those who don't have one or can't afford to buy one, let them borrow one of yours, or another friend's. Guys rent tuxedos for weddings; why should girls have to buy an expensive dress to wear only once? A lot of girls are left out of weddings because they can't afford to buy a dress."

Well, Abby, my suggestion went over like a lead balloon. What do you and your readers say?

PRACTICAL ALABAMA DADDY

DEAR DADDY: You are indeed practical, but if each bridesmaid were to wear the prettiest dress she found hanging in her closet, the bridal procession would look more like a garage-sale fashion show than a wedding.

Nice try, Dad, but I'm afraid your idea would never play in Birmingham, Montgomery or Tuscaloosa.

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who used to be a good friend, but now he won't talk to me. This is why: My husband was diagnosed as having Alzheimer's disease about six months ago. His memory is very faulty and he has to be watched all the time, but there are times when he is quite all right, so I am keeping him home as long as I can.

Well, I do not drive, and my husband is not able to drive anymore, so I sold his car. This neighbor asked me several times to sell it to him, but I refused. Instead, I sold it to a man who does not live in our neighborhood because I was afraid that if my husband saw that car in our neighborhood he might insist it was his car and want it back.

I know I did the right thing, but the neighbor who wanted to buy it first is still not talking to me. Do you think I did the right thing or not?

HURT FEELINGS

DEAR HURT: I think you did exactly the right thing by selling the car to someone who did not live in your neighborhood. If you explained this to your neighbor and he still refuses to talk to you, shame on him.

***

DEAR ABBY: "Mrs. Whipple's" problem with her mother stealing toilet paper from motels brings to mind an incident that happened to my wife during a trip last year.

We stopped at a motel for the night and on leaving in the morning, my wife asked the manager for the address of the manufacturer of the excellent little coffee maker that was attached to the wall of our room.

"I can give you the address," he said, "but this would be much easier and cheaper." Then he reached under his desk and brought out a screwdriver and handed it to my wife.

"Pry it off the wall and take it home," he said. "The one in your room is the only one that hasn't been stolen!"

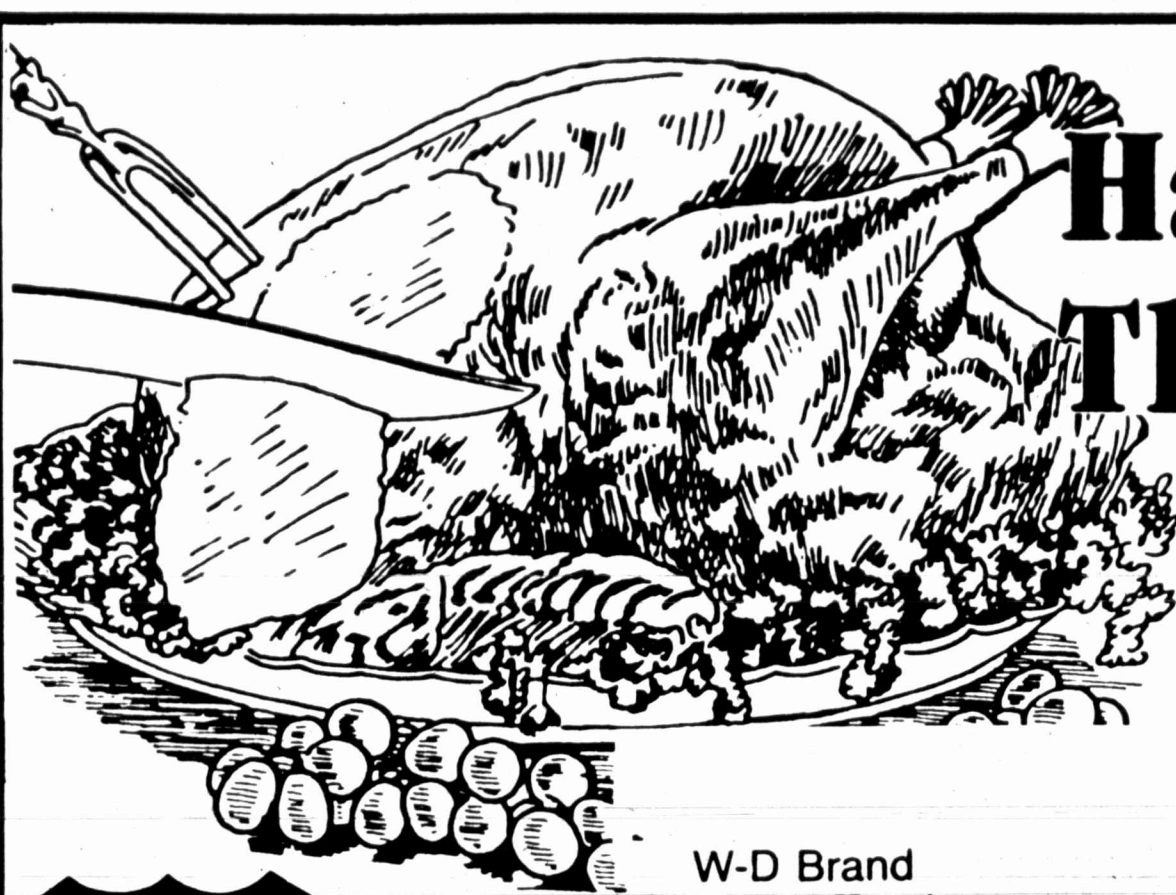

Maybe he was just kidding, but he certainly didn't act like it. What do you think?

VIRGIL IN BANDON, ORE.

DEAR VIRGIL: I think he was just kidding. Since you didn't take him up on it, we'll never know.

YOUR DAILY HOROSCOPE

From the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Avoid an argument early in the day with a business associate. You'll get some excellent ideas from influential persons which can put new vitality in your budget. Carry through quickly with these.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Check into the costs of a recreation before getting into it, and be sure your finances will stand the strain. Take your mate out for dinner.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get your home arrangements improved early today. Then invite some pleasant guest in for the evening and have a good time.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get any reports or statements out of the way this morning, but don't rush through them or you could make some costly mistakes.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Study your assets and liabilities well, then make collections, pay your bills and clear the slate. Drive carefully.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Use your imagination if faced with any difficulties today. Try not to let a friend who is in a bad mood ruin your cheerful disposition.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Do something practical for your mate this evening and get good results. Be cautious in motion of any kind, especially this evening.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Decide which of your friends can give you the help you need, then contact that person. Rely on your intuition in a tight spot.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Go to a superior who can help you realize greater success in your career, and get some good advice along those lines.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You'll find several ways of advancing in your career, so pick the best and follow it up. Make some careful arrangements for a trip.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Your mate will appreciate any special attention which you can give, so be sure to do this. Don't take new ideas at face value.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Discuss with a partner a plan you have in mind. If you both believe in it and work together, you can gain much prosperity soon.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Be more efficient at your coming duties and you'll benefit more. Be conscientious in your work and you'll get more cooperation.

If Your Child Is Born Today He or she will need plenty of encouragement, and should be taught to have an optimistic attitude toward life. Make sure your progeny gets as fine an education as possible, and he or she should work to help finance it. Harsh punishments should be avoided.

Rams skin Washington 30-26

WASHINGTON (AP) — It didn't quite erase the agony of what has been a frustrating season, but the Los Angeles Rams are feeling a lot better about themselves after their 30-26 upset of the Washington Redskins.

Ron Brown returned a kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown and caught a scoring pass from Jim Everett on Monday night to lead the Rams to their second victory in a row after a miserable 1-7 start.

"The last two weeks we have gotten our stuff back, and we're very proud of our performance," Rams Coach John Robinson said.

"We're winners," Brown said. "We had been losing to teams we shouldn't be losing to, but now we're getting the job done."

While Los Angeles has bounced back in the past two games, Brown needed only four plays to rebound from adversity. Moments after he dropped a sure touchdown pass from Everett in the third quarter, he caught a 26-yard toss to give the Rams a 30-19 lead with 3:38 left in the quarter.

"That one I dropped was too easy," Brown said. "I had too long to think about it."

Doug Williams' second touchdown pass to Art Monk cut the gap to 30-26 four seconds into the fourth quarter, and the Redskins drove to the Los Angeles 14-yard line in the closing seconds before LeRoy Irvin intercepted a pass that went through Monk's hands in the end zone.

The play followed a similar sequence in which Monk had an apparent touchdown pass jarred from his grasp by Mickey Sutton.

"Art has probably made more big plays than he's dropped passes," Williams said.

"Sometimes you just have nights like that."

Despite the two close plays at the finish, Monk caught five passes for 93 yards, including touchdowns of 17 and five yards.

Williams, who earned the starting spot after replacing an ineffective Jay Schroeder last week, completed 24 of 46 passes for 308 yards and also ran for a touchdown. But his first-quarter fumble was returned 25 yards for a touchdown by Rams linebacker Mike Wilcher and he was sacked four times.

Los Angeles Rams' wide receiver Ron Brown (89) makes a 95-yard kickoff return for a Rams touchdown in the first quarter of Monday night action against the Washington Redskins at RFK Stadium in Washington.

Washington Redskins running back Reggie Branch (29) and Rams defensive end Fred Stokes (65) trail behind.

After the game, Redskins Coach Joe Gibbs said Williams performed well enough to maintain the starting job until at least next week.

when the Redskins host the defending Super Bowl champion New York Giants.

Gibbs said. "He will remain the quarterback until I say otherwise." Washington, which gained only 66 rushing yards, fell to 7-3 and missed a chance to move three games ahead of Dallas in the NFC East.

Quarterback controversy

White may start over Pelluer

IRVING (AP) — The desperate Dallas Cowboys may go back to sore-wristed quarterback Danny White to save their season.

After a less-than-spectacular performance Sunday night from quarterback Steve Pelluer, Coach Tom Landry said Monday he may start White against the Minnesota Vikings on Thanksgiving Day.

White missed Sunday night's 20-14 loss to the Miami Dolphins as the scrambling Pelluer gained 84 yards rushing while passing for 134 yards.

Pelluer threw touchdown passes of 8 and 18 yards to Timmy Newsome, but suffered two interceptions.

"The rest helped Danny's wrist and he feels excellent today," Landry said. "I may start him against Minnesota."

"Steve had some excellent runs and hurt their defense with his running ability, but the mistakes cost us."

Asked about Pelluer's 10 rushes against the Dolphins, Landry said, "You can't tell a quarterback with his talent not to run. He made some big run plays."

Pelluer, who hadn't thrown a pass this season, never connected with a wide receiver.

Roger Staubach, an NFL Hall of Famer who played for the Cowboys, criticized Pelluer for giving up too quick on his receivers.

Staubach, who was an analyst for ESPN's national telecast, said Pelluer "should have been willing to take the risk" of waiting for his secondary receivers to come open.

"Miami played a tight zone and it was hard to throw to the wide receivers, but we should have moved the ball better on offense," Landry said.

Pelluer defended himself, saying, "Our wide receivers just weren't coming open. I made some positive yards by running." He said he believed he deserved another chance.

"I'm confident I can build on this and turn our offense into a high-scoring one," Pelluer said. "I could have played better, but I was a little rusty."

"I'm expecting to start against Minnesota. I'm hoping to start." Dallas was 1-7 with Pelluer as a starter after White was injured last year.

Pro Bowler may start for Viks

EDEN PRAIRIE, Minn. (AP) — Jerry Burns has always been popular with Minnesota Vikings players.

But if that popularity is waning because some of his players are second-guessing his decisions in the NFL team's month-old quarterback controversy, so be it.

"I never said I take any pride in being popular with them," said Burns, who was Bud Grant's offensive coordinator for 17 years before he took over as head coach in 1986.

"Hell, this is a business. It's a business decision I've made. In my mind, it has nothing to do with personalities or relationships. It's a feeling based on productivity. It's not some little sorority."

Actually, Burns couldn't even make a decision Monday. Tommy Kramer, the starting quarterback for eight years and a Pro Bowler last season, was still nursing the bruised right hand he suffered in Sunday's 24-13 victory over Atlanta.

"It hurts only when I throw or take a snap," Kramer joked. Whether he'll be available Thursday is uncertain.

Giants can kiss repeat performance good-bye

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — The mathematics say the Super Bowl champion New York Giants have a remote shot at making the playoffs.

Bill Parcells doesn't. Monday, the Giants' coach virtually ran up the white flag for the 1987 season in the wake of Sunday's 23-14 loss to the New Orleans Saints that dropped New York's record to 3-7 with five games left.

"I'm not conceding," Parcells said. "I don't want to use that word. You guys asked the question, 'Do you think you have a chance of getting in the playoffs?' I have to be honest with you. No, I don't think so."

The numbers are all against the Giants. It is highly unlikely New York will win the NFC East, meaning the best they could hope for is a wild card berth.

However, even if New York wins its final five games and ends the regular season at 8-7, the chances of a wild card berth also are remote, especially if the Giants finish in a tie with another team.

The first tie-breaking factor is head-to-head play. Most of the teams in contention for the two NFC wild card spots have beaten the Giants. The second tiebreaker is overall conference record and New York is 2-6 in the NFC.

"I guess anything can happen with five games to go," Parcells said. "But I've been in this business long enough to know the probabilities and I would say the probabilities are pretty minute."

None of the Giants players saw any reason for optimism.

"Realizing where we were last year makes it more difficult being in the position we're in now," said quarterback Jeff Rutledge, who threw five interceptions Sunday.

"Sure it's tough. But I think we have guys on this team with a lot of character and pride. I don't think you are going to see any less effort each week than we have been giving."

Sean Landeta, who had a punt partially blocked by the Saints in the fourth quarter, refused to blame the NFL strike for the team's problems. New York's replacement team lost all three of its games.

"We're 3-4, which is poor," he said. "Two or three plays could be the difference, but that's the way it is in every game. We're just not the same team."

Injuries and illness have forced the Giants to make adjustments. The Giants started nine players Sunday who did not start in the Super Bowl victory over Denver, including the offensive backfield of Rutledge, fullback George Adams and halfback Lee Rouson.

They replaced Phil Simms, Joe Morris and Maurice Carthon. Only Carthon is not hurt.

Parcells said Simms and Morris should start Sunday at Washington. Safety Kenny Hill said the Giants hurt themselves by losing their first two games before the strike.

"When we came back from the strike, we felt we could win most of our remaining games, which we probably will do," Hill said. "But we put ourselves in a position where it would be extremely difficult to extricate ourselves even if everything had been optimum."

Asked if he was surprised at how the season had gone, Hill said, "If someone had told me before the season we would lose four games in the course of a 16-game season, I would have laughed in his face."

There was no laughing in the Giants' lockerroom Sunday.

"We let down a lot of people," said linebacker Lawrence Taylor, who only played a few series because of a pulled hamstring muscle. "The fat lady started singing weeks ago, and today she finished her tune."

Hawks blast

El Centro

The Howard College Hawks recorded their fifth win of the season in a big way as they drummed El Centro College 118-63 in a makeup game Monday night at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

The Hawks led from start to finish behind the inside play of Tyrone Greer and outside shooting of Larry Pettigrew.

Howard took a 15 point halftime lead, and really put the game out of reach by outscoring El Centro 70-15 in the final 20 minutes of play.

Greer led Howard's inside play by scoring 23 points. Pettigrew provided the outside fire power, scoring a game-high 25 points, including seven three-pointers.

Bernard Williams rounded out a balanced Howard scoring attack with 16 points.

With the win, Howard pushes its record to 5-6 for the season.

"We did some good things and some not-so-good things," said Howard assistant coach Joe Hubber after the win. "We played some pretty good defense. We did some things we've been teaching the kids to do. We also passed the ball well."

Howard will be on the road tonight when the Hawks and Hawk-Queens travel to Cisco to take on the Wranglers at 8 p.m. The Queens begin things with a 6 p.m. game against Cisco Junior College.

Spurs clips Knicks in OT Viks

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Dawkins scored eight of his 26 points in the final three minutes as the San Antonio Spurs survived a 15-point third quarter to beat the New York Knicks 117-112 in the NBA Monday night.

San Antonio led 105-99 with 4:55 remaining, but New York closed the gap to 106-105 on Kenny Walker's basket with 3:41 left. Dawkins responded with two consecutive baskets and added another basket and two free throws in the final minute. The Knicks got no closer than three points the rest of the way.

The Knicks had a chance to tie it after stealing an inbound pass with seven seconds remaining, but Trent Tucker missed a 3-point attempt and Frank Brickowski hit two free throws with two seconds to go for the final margin.

Walter Berry had 20 points and Greg Anderson scored 15 for the Spurs. Patrick Ewing had 21 points and rookie Mark Jackson 20 points and 15 assists, both season highs, for the Knicks.

San Antonio led 74-64, equaling its biggest advantage of the game, before Ewing ignited a 19-0 spurt with three baskets, giving New York an 83-74 lead with 3:44 left in the third quarter.

The Spurs, who led 70-60 at halftime, managed only 15 points in the third period, but scored the last seven of the quarter to cut the deficit to 87-85.

Bulls 107, Celtics 102
HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Chicago Coach Doug Collins doesn't mind victory, but he'd also like to see his team get some respect this season.

The Bulls gained both Monday night after rallying in the final four minutes to hand the Boston Celtics a 107-102 NBA loss behind a 31-point effort from Michael Jordan, 20 points from rookie Scottie Pippen and 19 from John Paxson.

"Chicago is no longer a one-dimensional team," Boston Coach K.C. Jones said. "Pippen, Paxson and (Charles) Oakley to go with Jordan, that ain't a bad combination."

"They're a young team and this win is a good confidence-builder for them," Jones said. "Just because you have players hurt, you can't just lie down and die."

The Bulls won the game by outscoring the Celtics 32-15 in the final quarter to overcome a 12-point deficit.

Playing without injured stars Larry Bird and Kevin McHale, the Celtics got 14 points from Fred Roberts and 10 from rookie Brad Lohaus in the first half. Boston led 63-51 at halftime after leading by as many as 18 points.

"Boston wins 60 games a year because they have respect and that's what I want our team to establish," Collins said. "They were playing without two of the best in the league and they still played us real tight."

In the second half, Jordan scored 20 of his points while Pippen, with seven down the stretch, helped secure Chicago's fourth win over Boston in 24 games since 1983-84.

"We're 8-2 and something has to be working right," said Jordan, the league's top scorer with a 34-point average. "It's a nice start for us and a good way to begin the road trip."

The Bulls, 4-0 on the road, play eight games over the next 14 days away from Chicago, starting Wednesday at Milwaukee.

Boston was paced by Dennis Johnson's 23 points and 20 from Danny Ainge.

day, when the Vikings, 6-4, visit the Dallas Cowboys, 5-5, in a nationally televised Thanksgiving Day game. "I can't speculate on," Kramer said.

"If it was today, I couldn't play," said Kramer, who has started only two games this season because of a combination of injuries, alcohol problems and ineffectiveness.

His hand injury has even further muddled the quarterback situation for the Vikings, who have used solid defense and special teams play to win their last three games despite getting little help from their offense.

"We're waiting for somebody to pick us up," said wide receiver Anthony Carter, whose talents have almost been wasted in the last four weeks as the quarterback job has shifted from Wade Wilson to Kramer to Wilson to Kramer to Wilson to Rich Gannon to Wilson.

"We played some good games last year offensively, really exploded, and lost some of those games," Carter said. "Now we're not exploding and we're winning."

Burns said he might not decide on a quarterback for the Dallas game until just before kickoff. But he then said he wouldn't start Kramer if last year's NFL passing leader wasn't able to practice at all during the week.

Once the game starts, though, "anything can happen," Burns said.

And anything has the last few weeks.

With Kramer injured, Wilson led the Vikings to a 3-1 record in non-strike games. But when Kramer healed from a pinched nerve in his neck, he got the nod three weeks ago.

The injury acted up again, however, and Wilson played the second half of a victory over the Los Angeles Raiders, earning the start in the following game. But Wilson struggled against Tampa Bay and Kramer came on at halftime to help the Vikings win.

Kramer started Sunday against Atlanta and "played pretty well," Burns said, until he hurt his hand on the last play of the first quarter. In came Wilson, who was ineffective and was replaced for two series by Gannon, a rookie seeing his first NFL action.

When Gannon faltered, Wilson returned to finish the contest.

Several players on the team have questioned Burns' decision to go to Gannon in a tight game.

"We could have lost," running back Darrin Nelson said.

"I guess Burnsie just wanted to see if Rich could spark something," Kramer said. "But I don't think I would have appreciated it (being replaced by Gannon) very much." Wilson didn't.

right wrist and can't control the ball when he throws. When he broke the wrist against the New York Giants last year, they put it in a cast. When the cast was removed, the ligament had withered away.

Also of concern to Landry was Troy Stradford's 169 yards rushing, third-highest in Miami history for a single game.

"They kept running the same play and we couldn't stop it," Landry said. "That's something else we will have to work on."

Dallas, 5-5 in the NFC East, is struggling for a playoff berth.

"We don't have much time to correct things," Landry said. "The game against the Vikings is a big one because of the wild card situation. We need to play a lot better to have a chance."

Huskers fall to fifth in poll

By The Associated Press

The Oklahoma Sooners have reclaimed the No. 1 ranking from Nebraska after letting the Cornhuskers own it for one week.

Meanwhile, Miami of Florida surged into second place, setting up a possible national championship showdown against Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl on New Year's night.

By defeating Nebraska 17-7 on Saturday to complete an 11-0 regular season, the Sooners vaulted back into first place, the spot they had held all season until surrendering it last week. Nebraska slipped to fifth place.

Oklahoma received 54 of 59 first-place votes and 1,173 of a possible 1,180 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Miami, 9-0 following a 24-14 victory over Toledo, climbed from third place to second with four first-place ballots and 1,108 points. The Hurricanes had been No. 3 for eight weeks in a row.

"Obviously, that's the way the system works," Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer said. "When you beat No. 1..."

Switzer expressed disappointment with the Sooners' offense, which gained 444 yards but fumbled eight times, losing three, and threw an interception.

"We've done the same thing the last three weeks," he said. "We play well enough to win the game (Oklahoma State 29-10, Missouri 17-13) but we don't put the ball in the end zone when we're down inside the 30."

Miami, which handed Oklahoma its only defeat in each of the last two seasons, will meet the Sooners in the Orange Bowl. But the Hurricanes still have regular-season games left against Top Ten teams Notre Dame and South Carolina.

Florida State, 9-1 and idle last weekend, jumped from fourth place to third with 1,056 points. The Seminoles close out their regular season on Saturday against Florida.

The other first-place vote went to Syracuse, 11-0 following a 32-31 triumph over West Virginia. The Orangemen received 983 points in vaulting from sixth to fourth.

Nebraska, 9-1 with a regular-season game remaining against Colorado, was fifth with 979 points. UCLA, No. 5 last week, lost to Southern California 17-13 and dropped to 11th.

LSU rose from ninth to sixth with 830 points by outlasting Tulane 41-36. Notre Dame, seventh last week, lost to Penn State 21-20 and slipped to 10th place.

Waco High ousted from playoffs

WACO (AP) — Waco High School was ordered on Monday to forfeit all football victories since the seventh game of this season and to bow out of the Texas high school playoffs because of an ineligible player.

As a result, Houston Langham Creek, which lost to Waco in last weekend's Class 5A area playoff round at College Station, will advance to play Plano in the regional round.

Waco school trustees said Monday that a Waco High School teacher reported he was pressured into giving a passing grade to an unidentified member of the team during the grading period that covered the first six weeks of the school year.

The Waco Lions had a 10-1-1 record.

Rams

The Redskins were betrayed by their special teams. In addition to being stung by Brown's fourth career kickoff return for a touchdown, Washington allowed a blocked punt that set up a 1-yard scoring run by Charles White that enabled the Rams to take a 23-9 second-quarter lead.

"We made enough mistakes to lose," Gibbs said. "Our special teams, in particular, were killing us."

Brown's kickoff return, longest in the NFC this season, came seconds after Washington took a 9-7 lead and put the Rams on top for good.

"As soon as I went through I saw the hole open up," Brown said. "I was faking to the outside, then went back to the middle because it was kind of crowded out there."

After cutting against the grain at the Ram 40, Brown outraced Darrell Green to the end zone.

Los Angeles could muster only four first downs in the first half, but used Wilcher's fumble return and help from its special teams to take a 23-16 halftime lead.

White, the NFL's leading rusher, gained 112 yards after being limited to only 29 in the first half.

"Charlie White again proved what I think our football team can do," Robinson said. "We can run the ball on anybody if the game is really even."

It was the Rams' first regular-season victory over the Redskins since 1969 and the first for Robinson in four tries.

"I've lost three times here, and it's nice to finally win one," he said.

For use by teachers and parents at home and at school.
For use with issue: Storing the Harvest
Main idea: This issue is on how food was preserved by the Pilgrims and how food is preserved today. The following is a list of activities to be used with this issue. They are listed in order of difficulty, with the easier pre-reader assignments listed first. Ask the children to do the following:
1. Find the following drawings in this issue: sun, refrigerator, turkey, cow, pig, ham, pie, fire, grapes, cup of coffee.
2. Have the class pretend they are celebrating the first Thanksgiving. Pretend some are Pilgrims and others are Indians. Talk about what they might have eaten and done at the feast.
3. Pretend you are helping your family plan Thanksgiving dinner. Look at the grocery store ads in your paper and cut out pictures of foods you would like to have at your meal. Talk about the difference between fresh and preserved foods. Talk about how each food you cut out is preserved.
4. Discuss what Thanksgiving means to you. What are you thankful for? What are your plans for Thanksgiving dinner? Does your family have any Thanksgiving traditions?
5. Talk about how food preservation has changed since the first Thanksgiving. What are some foods we can preserve now that could not be preserved 200 years ago? How have our eating styles changed because of food preservation?
6. Compare the different ways of preserving food as shown on the chart in this issue. What does each process involve?
7. Write down what you had for dinner last night. Talk about how each food in your meal might have been preserved during the time of the Pilgrims and preserved today.

Why do we preserve food?

1. Molds, bacteria and yeasts begin to grow in it. These sometimes produce a poison that may make people who eat it sick.

2. Rats, mice and insects attack it and make it unfit to eat.

3. The people and machines handling it cause bruises or wilting.
