

Gorbachev: No SDI; impresses area viewers

From staff and wire reports
MOSCOW — The Soviet Union "is doing all that the United States is doing" to defend against nuclear attack, but will not build a space-based system, Mikhail S. Gorbachev said in an interview broadcast Monday.

Acknowledging what the Reagan administration has long contended, the Soviet leader said: "I guess we are engaged in research, basic research, which related to these aspects which are covered by the SDI in the United States." SDI means Strategic Defense Initiative, the formal name President Reagan has given the space-based defense project commonly called "Star Wars."

In Big Spring, most of the people surveyed who had seen the Gorbachev interview were impressed with the Soviet chief's intelligence.

"Mr. Gorbachev is very personable," said Mary Parks of Silver Hills (HC 76). "I understand he's very popular in Europe, and I've heard comments that he is more popular there than Mr. Reagan."

"He seems very intelligent, and under his leadership I think Russia has become more relaxed and there seems not to be as

Soviet leader lags in ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's exclusive, hour-long interview with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev didn't impress prime-time television viewers, who were more interested in ABC's special about a movie stuntman and CBS' regular comedies.

According to the A.C. Nielsen Co., overnight ratings from the 15 largest television markets gave NBC's "A Conversation with Mikhail S. Gorbachev" a rating of 9.1 and a 13 share. NBC preempted two comedies, "ALF" and "Valerie's Family."

Brokaw's interview with the Soviet Communist Party general secretary was recorded in Moscow over the weekend.

CBS' comedies "Kate & Allie" and "Frank's Place" got a combined 16.6 rating and 24 share.

But ABC's special, "The Ultimate Stuntman: A Tribute to Dar Robinson," won the time period with a rating of 18.0 and a 26 share. Robinson, who never broke a bone in a stunt, was killed in an off-camera motorcycle accident in 1986. The special featured stars who had worked with Robinson, including Burt Reynolds and Mel Gibson.

any of them I've seen, or heard news stories or read about. It wasn't just (the interview) last night, though, I've always been impressed with him since he came to power.

"He doesn't give the impression of Krushchev and the others," she said. "I was in high school when Krushchev was in the Kremlin, and he (Gorbachev) seems a whole lot different."

Lloyd Hammon, a 36-year resident of Big Spring, did not find Gorbachev as admirable as some said they had. "He just put out his propaganda, what he wanted to say," he said. "He didn't want to answer any questions outright."

"Although he could be American, he still has Russian ways."

J. Hoover of Big Spring saw some creditable points in Gorbachev's opinions. "I think he has to be very intelligent to be in the position he's in."

"But, although I don't want to give the impression that I favor what the Russians are doing, I think a lot of the criticisms he has are justified."

"In several instances, I think, not only his criticisms of how we interfere with Russia's relationships with other coun-much of a cold war."

"I'm very impressed with the man," said Joy Degan of Silver Hills (HC 76). "I like the way he talked about all the letters he has received from people in the U.S. and especially the letters he has gotten from children."

"I can't imagine writing a letter to the head of the Russian government, but I'm very impressed with the way he seems to be handling things. I think he hopes countries can get along with each other instead of being afraid of each other so much."

Mrs. M.C. Denton, also from Silver Hills, said, "He seems like he means (what he says). I have a little doubt, but he sounds good. I think he said pretty well what people expected to hear. I hope he means it."

"He sounded very intelligent," said Lorán Warren of Big Spring. "But I don't trust him. I wouldn't buy a used car from him — what they say and what they do are two different things."

Sandy Riddell, also of Big Spring, said, "I was impressed. He seemed fairer than Rural/Metro ambulance service personnel lift Randal Overton, 6, Route 2 Big Spring, onto a stretcher following a traffic accident at East Third Street and South Birdwell Lane late Monday. Randal, a passenger in a vehicle driven by his mother, Kelly Luttrell Overton, 29, was treated for injuries sustained in the accident and released from Scenic Mountain Medical Center's emergency room, a hospital spokesman said.

Three injured in two local accidents

Herald staff report

Three people were injured in two separate traffic accidents in Big Spring late Monday, according to police reports.

Juan Polanco Mata, 23, Big Spring sustained minor injuries when his 1981 Mercury Capri overturned south of FM 700 and east of Colby Street. Mata did not seek treatment for his injuries, police reports said.

The accident occurred about 5 p.m. when the Mata vehicle, eastbound on FM 700, swerved to avoid another vehicle which crossed into its path, reports said.

The Mata vehicle then struck a grass covered shoulder and overturned one and one-half times, according to police reports.

Six-year-old Randal Overton, Route 2 Big Spring and his sister, Sarah Randal, same address, were injured in a two-car accident at East Third Street and South Birdwell Lane.

Randal Overton was transferred to the Scenic Mountain Medical Center by ambulance, where he was treated for injuries and released, a hospital spokesman said.

Sarah Randal was reported as injured in the accident, but was not treated at the hospital, the hospital spokesman said.

Both children were passengers in a 1979 Chevrolet Chevette, driven by their mother, Kelly Luttrell Overton, 29, Route 2 Big Spring.

The accident occurred about 4:30 p.m. Monday when a 1979 Chevrolet van, driven by Thomas Robert Belote, 65, Portsmouth, Va. ran a red light and collided with the Overton vehicle, according to police reports.

Belote was cited for disregarding a red light.

Local students take second

Herald staff report

A group of 22 Big Spring High School government students placed second during the second stage of the National Bicentennial Competition, conducted here Nov. 19, school instructor Roland Atkins said.

The program, sponsored by Congressman Charles Stenholm, was introduced in high schools nationwide this fall, according to Bill Longley, a Stenholm aide.

The Big Spring students finished behind a group from Anson High School, which will compete in the state final competition Saturday in Austin, Longley said.

The competition took the form of a mock congressional hearing. Student teams were asked questions from a panel of judges and were given four minutes to respond, Atkins said.

The questions dealt with constitutionalism, republicanism, common welfare and several other government areas, he added.

After the initial four-minute response, the three-member team then formulated a counter response within six minutes, Atkins said.

"It was tough, but our kids responded very well," he said. "I'm real pleased with them. It was a great effort."

The Anson group will compete for the right to advance to national competition April 25-28, 1988, in Washington D.C., Longley said.

The National Bicentennial Competition will continue through the bicentennial of the Bill of Rights in 1991. Mock hearings will be sponsored each year for the duration of the program, he added.

Big Spring participants were: Maria Alviar, DeWayne Anderson, Eric Atkins, Lara Cunningham, Nicole Curry, Kim Duffey, Cara Duffy, Salvador Garcia, Steve Gill, Mark Hall and Lori Holmes.

Also: Sean Jackson, Ronnie Karwedsky, Sean Launder, Cindy Locke, Kenda Madry, Laura Ogburn, Leslie Patterson, Felix Rodriguez, Candy Smith, Joe Viera and DeWayne Woodall.

Hostage experience haunts Oakdale man

Dallas Times Herald Bureau OAKDALE, La. — What happened to George Dubaskas inside the Oakdale Detention Center?

He won't say, or he can't say. But he cries now at sudden times — and he can't sleep.

He is a counselor at the prison, and he was a hostage for the first 12 hours of the Nov. 21 prison takeover by rampaging Cuban inmates.

He worked in the Vernon Unit, one of four double-wing housing units inside the 42-acre compound. According to his wife, Louise, he was called to work on his day off, that Saturday. It was an emergency, she said.

On the day before the takeover Dubaskas had come home from work and told his wife, "Something is going to break, but I don't know what."

That was the day the Justice Department announced over the airwaves that a defunct repatriation agreement with Fidel Castro was going to be resumed and that 2,500 Cuban detainees would be sent back to Cuba.

What broke the next day at Oakdale was all hell.

An unknown number of the 1,000 Cuban detainees rioted and set the place ablaze. Hostages were taken. Dubaskas was one of them.

What happened Dubaskas won't say, at least to a reporter. His wife says she doesn't know either.

"He wants to cry," his wife said. "You can't get anything out of him. He won't talk about it."

But he did talk about it to a friend Sunday. This is what he said.

"A rope was put around my neck, and they threatened to hang me, and I was beat up on."

He is a big man — 300 pounds or so — and he is 57. He has a bad knee that doctors have wanted to replace with plastic for some time.

He may have had a heart attack — at least his captors thought he had. They let him leave the prison after 12 hours or so, the first hostage to be released.

He spent four days in the hospital on a heart monitor. He is home now, on crutches because the Cubans injured his bad knee.

And he's been bursting into tears at strange times since then. And he can't sleep.

Area phone scam involves credit card numbers

Herald staff report

A Southwestern Bell Telephone Company official is warning Big Spring residents to be on guard against persons attempting to solicit credit card numbers over the phone.

Darlene Gifford, public relations officer for the company, said her office has received several complaints from Midland/Odessa phone customers recently.

The customers claim that they received calls from persons identifying themselves as phone company personnel. The caller then says that the phone company has a new policy in which the customer can pay his phone bill with his Visa or Mastercard, Gifford said.

Toward the end of the call, the caller asks for the customer's Visa or Mastercard number, something Gifford warns persons should never do over the phone.

"These are not representatives of Southwestern Bell," Gifford said. "Neither is that a method of collection used by us."

The Better Business Bureau has been contacted concerning the scam, she added.

John Schmidt, president of the Permian Basin Chapter of the Bureau, said that his organization has been made aware of the solicitation, and gave the following tips to Bell customers contacted.

First, if at all possible, try to find where the solicitor is calling from. "More than likely, this will get you a dial tone, but at least they'll be off your back," Schmidt said.

Unless the customer is sure of who they are dealing with, they never should give anyone their credit card numbers over the phone, he added.

Persons trying to get a credit card number over the phone is an "old game," Schmidt said. Persons want the numbers so they can secure merchandise — without having to foot the bill, he added.

Nine Cuban inmates moved to Texas

An unidentified hostage waves from the window of a bus as he is transported with other hostages to a hospital in Oakdale, La., Sunday. All hostages being held by Cubans at the Oakdale Federal Detention Center were released.

TEXARKANA (AP) — Nine Cuban inmates from the federal prison in Oakdale, La., have arrived at Texarkana's Federal Correctional Institution, authorities say.

Dennis Silverberg, executive assistant to the warden at the local FCI, said the Cuban detainees were brought by bus to the medium-security Texarkana prison Monday.

Silverberg would neither confirm nor deny reports that up 28 Cuban detainees — also known as Marielitos after the 1980 Mariel boat lifts — would be housed at the Texarkana FCI.

Four other non-Cuban Oakdale inmates who were serving federal sentences preceded the Cubans on Sunday, Silverberg said.

Meanwhile, 46 Oakdale inmates, none of them Cubans, arrived at the federal prison in Fort Worth Sunday night, just eight hours after about 900 Cubans ended an eight-day siege by releasing 26 hostages and surrendering to authorities.

Silverberg said the biggest problem in accommodating the new arrivals in Texarkana was to find a secure building.

The Cuban detainees will be segregated from other inmates and their activities, including eating, will be limited to the special housing, he said.

"Obviously, the staff has (also) been put on alert, but there is no other major changes," he said.

Silverberg said no one at FCI has an idea how long the inmates will stay at the prison.

"Certainly a lot of things are still up in the air. We don't have any idea on the duration of their stay," he said.

Federal authorities on Monday cleared out the charred remains of the Oakdale detention center, scattering the 950 inmates to a dozen federal prisons nationwide.

Inmate uprisings at Oakdale and at a federal prison in Atlanta followed an announcement that Cuba had agreed to take back some of the detainees. U.S. authorities found undesirable.

The Cubans want to remain in this country, and took over Oakdale center on Nov. 21. Inmates in Atlanta took up rioting two days later. Rioting inmates at Oakdale ended their siege and released their hostages Sunday.

The Great Crusade that wasn't

Q. When was the great Children's Crusade to the Holy Land?

A. It wasn't. That such took place in 1212 long has been taught, but scholars now say it didn't happen. About 30,000 children in France and 20,000 in Switzerland, a majority under 12, were recruited, but most were sold into slavery on one kind or another. The rest scattered, and none made it to the Holy Land.

Police beat

A burglary was reported to Big Spring police Monday.

● Maria Lownes, 1002 N. Main St., Apt. 13 told police someone entered her residence and stole a jewelry box, a gold locket, two watches and earrings. The items were valued at $155.

● Isabel O. Villarreal, 40, 2204 S. Runnels St. was also arrested by Big Spring police on a charge of no automobile liability insurance, second offense. She was transferred to the sheriff's office and released on a $500 bond.

Gorbachev

tries, but the way we criticize other nations for human rights (violations) and we have the same problems — we ought to clean up our own house before we criticize others."

In response to a suggestion that the Soviets are trying to militarize space in the same way envisioned by Star Wars, however, Gorbachev said:

"We will not build an SDI. We will not deploy SDI, and we call upon the United States to act likewise. If the Americans fail to heed that call, we will find a response."

Gorbachev spoke in a one-hour question-and-answer session with Tom Brokaw broadcast by NBC News to American viewers a week before the Communist Party chief's trip to Washington for his third summit with Reagan.

He said he is ready to compromise to reach a deal for scrapping half the superpowers' long-range nuclear weapons.

During the summit, they are expected to sign a treaty getting rid of all intermediate-range missiles.

"We have some steps that we could take to meet the American position halfway," Gorbachev said. He added, however, that he was not going to Washington to negotiate the future of Star Wars, which the Kremlin contends is limited to research by the 1972 antiballistic missile treaty.

Although the Senate never ratified that treaty, both sides have observed its terms.

"Let America indulge in research. Insofar as SDI does not run counter to ABM," Gorbachev said. "That is not a subject for negotiations."

About other possible arms agreements, the Soviet leader said: "We believe it is possible to do a lot of work with this present administration."

During the interview, taped Saturday in the Kremlin, Gorbachev parried Brokaw's pointed questions about human rights; the firing of his former protege, Boris Yeltsin; and whether he discusses matters with his wife, Raisa.

In his first interview with a U.S. network, Gorbachev offered little insight into the conduct of Soviet affairs or his governing methods.

Asked whether he talks to his wife about national policies and politics, the 56-year-old leader replied: "We discuss everything."

"Including Soviet affairs at the highest level?" Brokaw asked.

"I think that I have answered your question in total," Gorbachev said. "We discuss everything."

Gorbachev said he has received 80,000 letters from Americans this year and they "helped me a great deal to understand the American people better."

"I felt through those letters an immense desire of the American people to change the situation in the world for the better," he said. "The Americans say, 'Now, why is it; why can't (we) be allies? We were allies at one time. Why can't we be allies now?'"

His wife also has referred to the letters. She told a questioner recently some Americans were so anxious for the Gorbachevs to visit them that they sent their house keys with their invitations.

Asked why the Soviet Union does not allow citizens free international travel and emigration, Gorbachev said it is to avoid a "brain drain."

"We will never accept a condition when the people are being exhorted from outside to leave their country," he said. But he promised to "continue in a spirit of humaneness to seek to resolve every individual case but within the framework of our own laws."

Thousands of Soviets, including ethnic Jews, Germans and Armenians, have been permitted to emigrate this year, in a sharp increase in emigration over last year. The Reagan administration and other Western governments are pressing for the release of all who wish to leave.

Protesting what he referred to as interference in Soviet domestic affairs, Gorbachev said: "You should not try and go into another man's monastery with your own charter."

The only people still refused permission to emigrate are "those who cannot leave because of state security reasons, and we will continue to act in that way," he said. Many Jews who have been told they can not leave because of access to state secrets say they either never had such access or the classified information they saw is out of date and no longer important.

Others are kept from leaving by a law requiring family members to waive any financial claims before an exit visa is issued, giving the family effective veto power.

About the dismissal of Yeltsin, his hand-picked Moscow party boss who was fired after saying Gorbachev's reform program was stalled.

Two injured in interstate car accident

Herald staff report

A Mesquite woman was admitted to Scenic Mountain Medical Center with a fractured wrist and multiple bruises after a one-vehicle accident on Interstate 20 Monday morning.

Mickey Gonzalez Paredes, 23, was driving a 1987 Ford Tempo and fell asleep at the wheel, according to a Department of Public Safety accident report.

She was westbound on I-20 at 8 a.m., about 4 miles east of Coahoma, according to the report. Paredes apparently fell asleep and drove onto the median. She awoke and over corrected the action in the opposite direction by veering off the northside of the roadway and overturning two times. The car came to rest in a pasture north of the north service road.

A passenger in the car, Fernie Hernandez, 23, also of Mesquite, was taken to Scenic Mountain Medical Center where he was treated and released.

911 board

Spring telephone customers would pay an additional 49 cents each month; Coahoma customers, 35 cents each month; and Lomax customers, 65 cents each month.

Monthly assessments of business phones will vary, depending upon basic service charges.

However, those garnishments could decrease, depending on the cost of installing and operating the 911 system, Yeats said.

"Those rates could drop to five percent of the basic monthly telephone bills. We don't want to charge more than it's going to cost to install and operate the system," Yeats said.

"We'll know more about how much the system is going to cost after we speak with the telephone company representatives," he said.

Board members should be able to compile "rough" revenue and budget projections at Thursday's meeting, Yeats said.

Earlier this year, board members estimated it will cost $136,220 to install the system, and $38,000 each year to operate the system.

Jury chosen for Tonn trial

Herald staff report

A seven-man, five-women jury was selected Monday for a criminal trial scheduled for 9 a.m. Wednesday in 118th District Court.

Johnny Tonn is scheduled to be tried for a 1986 grand jury indictment for theft over $750, but less than $20,000.

The trial is in connection with an October 1986 indictment for the theft of firearms from Harry McMillan.

Tonn also was indicted in September 1986 in connection with the theft of firearms from A.J. Pirkle.

District Attorney Rick Hamby said the state will call McMillan and several Dallas police officers as witnesses.

Suits filed against doctors

Herald staff report

Two local residents have filed lawsuits against two Big Spring doctors alleging negligence in surgery procedures.

Bob L. Wilbanks has filed suit against Dr. Roscoe Cowper in connection with an April 1 surgery for the removal of a cyst behind his right knee. Wilbanks has suffered permanent impairment of his right knee, according to the suit.

Wilbanks is seeking damages of $200,000, pre- and post-judgment interest, costs of court and any other relief he is entitled to.

In another suit, Sharon Kay Brumley has filed a petition against Dr. James W. Kuykendall in connection with a 1986 surgery that resulted in a puncture in her bladder. The hole, allegedly the result of the doctor placing a suture in the bladder, was discovered by another doctor and surgically repaired, the suit alleges.

Brumley is seeking damages of an unspecified amount, pre- and post-judgment interest, costs of court and any other relief to which she may be entitled.

Coahoma may buy building

Herald staff report

COAHOMA — City council will discuss the possibility of purchasing a building during its regular meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in the Community Center, according to City Clerk Holly Best.

The building under consideration is immediately east of City Hall, Best noted.

In other business, council will:
● Review dump ground policy.
● Discuss bids for a new pickup truck.
● Conduct an open forum for employees. This will give council and the employees a chance to discuss issues concerning them, Best said.

number, you can get anything from anybody, practically," he said, adding that the con men can purchase airline tickets over the phone, also.

If a person believes he or she has been taken in by the scheme, they should contact the Bureau immediately. The president said that persons should put their complaints in writing if possible, so the organization can handle it more efficiently.

The problem seems to be restricted to the Midland/Odessa area for now, as the local police department has not received complaints of such activity, according to Police Lt. Troy Hogue.

Moody heir plans to appeal conviction

HOUSTON (AP) — Galveston insurance heir Shearn Moody Jr. plans to appeal his conviction of defrauding the family's charitable foundation of about $1.5 million, his attorney says.

"Naturally, we are disappointed with the jury's verdict," Moody attorney Marian Rosen said after a federal court jury on Monday convicted Moody of 17 counts of wire and mail fraud.

"On to the 5th (U.S.) Circuit (of Appeals)," she said.

Moody, 54, who showed no emotion as the verdict was read, later spoke only briefly with reporters outside the federal courthouse.

"I have felt this thing was programmed for a long time," Moody said. He did not elaborate.

Outside the courtroom, Moody shook hands with co-defendant Howell Willis of Dallas, who was acquitted on all four charges he faced.

"I'm very glad you got out — glad on all four (counts)," Moody told him.

Moody, ousted earlier this year as Moody Foundation trustee, could be sentenced to up to 85 years in prison and fined $4.5 million when his punishment is decided Jan. 5. U.S. District Judge Ross Sterling allowed him to remain free on bond pending sentencing.

The verdict came after 27 hours of deliberations over five days. Jurors resumed deliberations Monday morning after Sterling sent them home Wednesday for the Thanksgiving holiday. Deliberations began Nov. 23 after six weeks of testimony.

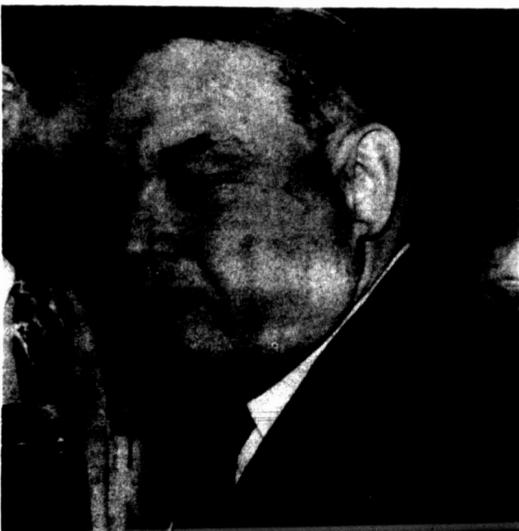

Moody was accused of helping channel money from the Moody Foundation to organizations that otherwise would not have gotten grants and then receiving kickbacks. Moody, who has been mired in bankruptcy, used the money to pay his personal and legal expenses, prosecutors alleged.

Defense attorneys contended Moody was duped by a con man, William R. Pabst, who is a fugitive in the case. In 1985, Pabst was convicted of defrauding Atlantic Richfield Corp. of $38,000 in a charity scheme. He is believed to be living outside the country.

Willis, who had been charged with helping in the scheme, said he said he was not surprised he was acquitted.

"I always felt I would be found not guilty," he said. "I wasn't guilty. I had an exceptionally good lawyer who brought out the truth. Thank goodness for him and the jury."

Moody still faces similar charges in a second indictment against him.

Galveston insurance heir Shearn Moody Jr. prepares to enter a waiting car Monday after a Houston Federal jury convicted him of defrauding his family's charitable foundation of nearly $1.5 million.

Officials go to court to get treasurer to sign paychecks

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Nueces County's judge and four commissioners didn't get paid, and they're taking the county treasurer to court over his refusal to sign their paychecks.

Treasurer Tom Hunt refused Monday to deliver the commissioners' pay because part of the salary they received in 1985 and 1986 was paid — illegally, Hunt contends — out of the Nueces County Housing Finance Corp. fund.

District Attorney Grant Jones said two of the commissioners, J.P. Luby and Richard Borchard, filed felony theft complaints against Hunt, and County Attorney Carlos Valdez filed for a state district court order he hopes will force Hunt to sign the checks.

Without Hunt's signature, the checks are no good, Valdez said, adding that "in fact, there are some angry people around the court house today."

Hunt was served with notice of the felony charges Monday night and has been ordered to appear this afternoon before Nueces County Justice of the Peace J.T. Ellison, Jones said. A hearing on Valdez' motion is set for Thursday.

Hunt refused to sign checks for County Judge Robert N. Barnes and commissioners Luby, Borchard, William McKinzie and Carl Bluntzer. The treasurer said he thinks the five illegally funded pay raises for themselves.

He said the judge and commissioners, as the directors and officers of the finance corporation for middle- and lower-income housing, are not to receive salary or compensation for serving with the non-profit corporation.

But Barnes said "he has no authority to withhold our pay." The pay increases were the equivalent of the 3 percent raise approved for county employees, Barnes said.

"The key question and the test that idiot doesn't understand is that we didn't get any more of a raise than anybody else," the judge added.

Hunt said he withheld the checks because of the transfer of $9,228 in 1985 and 1986 from the corporation's trust fund into the county's general fund, from which they subsequently received pay increases.

Couple living in cockroach-infested home

DALLAS (AP) — A husband and wife bedridden for nearly a year in their cockroach-infested bedroom are receiving help after a volunteer discovered them living in conditions she says resembled a horror movie.

Ever since failing health left Roman and Margarita Rios unable to buy food or seek medical treatment, their world has extended no further than the walls of the bedroom in their small south Dallas home.

At the urging of the Rios' landlady, a social service volunteer visited three weeks ago and found the couple malnourished and lying in soiled sheets. Roaches swarmed in their dresser, barren refrigerator and mattress.

"It's one of the worst cases I have ever had," said Aminda Silva, director of La Voz del Anciano Mexicano-Americano, or The Voice of the Mexican-American Elderly. "It's hard for the Hispanic elderly. They don't know English or the system, and they have cultural barriers."

Rios, 51, and his 85-year-old wife, both unable to move without walkers, began a gradual decline after Rios broke his foot and began losing his sight in 1985.

Without any neighbors, nearby relatives, a working telephone or English skills, the Rioses had lived alone on Mrs. Rios' $186 monthly Social Security check and sandwiches delivered by Ayala's Cafe and Market, where their friend Sam Ayala cashes the checks.

In the last few weeks, Ms. Silva has made sure the Rioses received new beds, clean sheets, food, baths, clean clothes, medical checkups and enrollment in Meals on Wheels, which delivers hot food five times a week.

Opinion

War crime files must be opened

The Justice Department recently tracked down a Michigan man accused of committing war crimes, after gaining limited access to the archives of the United Nations War Crimes Commission. Similar access last year prompted Washington to place Austrian President Kurt Waldheim on the "watch list" of aliens to be excluded from this country because of their brutal Nazi past.

Limiting access to these files protects thousands of persons whose dossiers may contain incriminating evidence of their complicity in outrages committed by the Third Reich. Such insulation for Nazi war criminals could be lifted if representatives from the 17 nations that constituted the commission would agree to open the files.

The commission, disbanded in 1948, accumulated detailed files on more than 40,000 Nazi war criminals, suspects and witnesses. Unfortunately, the war-crimes files are kept under lock and key and "may be inspected and used only for official United Nations purposes."

The U.N. rationale for this secrecy is that wider access to the files could compromise future criminal investigation. A more likely explanation is United Nations concern that the new evidence could embarrass certain nations with a sordid complicity in the Nazi atrocities. For example, the most vigorous opponents of opening the files are France and Poland, which fear a careful examination of the evidence could disclose the extent to which they cooperated with their Nazi conquerors in gathering Jews and other "undesirables" for shipment to the death camps.

We are reliably informed that the U.N. archives contain nearly 25,000 Class A cases of individuals suspected of committing war crimes. Although many of these suspects are probably dead, many others are doubtless living double lives because of the anonymity granted them by the U.N.'s curious policy of keeping the files closed.

This report is 'official'

By ART BUCHWALD
I think everyone should make up his own mind about what the Iran-Contra affair means without coaching from people on Capitol Hill.

I must admit I was not satisfied with the majority report or the minority report issued by members of Congress, so I have written my own report based on hundreds of hours of watching the hearings on television.

Testimony by people who worked in the White House confirms that the object of the exercise was to exchange missiles for good will. They succeeded in this because relations between Iran and the United States have never been better. It's doubtful if the two countries would be peacefully sharing the Persian Gulf if some bright person hadn't come up with the idea of financing arms for the contras.

Attorney General Ed Meese's role in Irangate was questioned by the majority report. I take exception to this. Meese's handling of the case was just right. He was neither too hard nor too soft on the suspects.

One of the reasons people criticize Ed Meese is that he plays a twofold role in the administration and this gets confusing at times. I personally am perplexed because every time I see Meese enter a grand jury room I never know if he is there to testify for the government or himself.

As far as we know no crimes were committed during Irangate — except for perjury, misuse of government funds, obstruction of justice, embezzlement, tax fraud, destruction of vital evidence and profiteering on military equipment. But since all of these crimes were done to save the Western world from going Communist, the special prosecutor should pack up and get the hell out of Washington before he hurts somebody.

The President did not know anything about Irangate. This is obvious to anyone who saw him on TV during the period it was occurring. Had Mr. Reagan been involved he would have been nervous and ill-at-ease. But during the time the arms were being shipped he was relaxed and at peace with himself.

Evidence at the hearings indicated the President was not only unaware that Admiral Poindexter and Colonel North were involved in a covert operation — he didn't know either man was in Washington. Ollie North is the most interesting person in Irangate. The only connection he seems to have had with the scandal was that Fawn Hall worked for him as a secretary.

She prevailed on the Marine colonel to alter documents that might indicate Miss Hall was having her government salary deposited in a Swiss bank account.

Why did North cooperate? He testified, "I believed in what Fawn was doing and there was no hanky-panky involved."

In almost every instance North was just following orders and therefore he should still be treated as a hero.

The one person who didn't lie on the stand was Bill Casey, the CIA director. Had he been alive during the hearings it might have been a different story. In his last words to Bob Woodward before passing away, Casey said, "Irangate is nothing but a third-rate burglary and therefore I am not a crook." The key to the entire mystery is somewhere in that sentence if someone could just break the code.

Admiral Poindexter's role has still not been resolved. Because he was National Security Adviser his office was located in the White House right next to the President's. Poindexter, as NSC adviser, had only one duty and that was to keep all information about national security away from Mr. Reagan.

Whenever someone tried to carry a message to the President, Poindexter would trip him and say, "The buck stops here."

Unlike the majority and minority reports, mine is written far more objectively because I'm not worried about the political ramifications.

In conclusion I recommend the President give everyone involved a full pardon. After all, nobody saw anything, heard anything or said anything to justify being indicted. And even if they did, it's silly to make a federal case of it.

No need to get sarcastic — this group will handle that

By KERRY HAGLUND
Staff Writer

Associated Press writer Dave Carpenter has learned some "absolutely fascinating news." Dave writes that a former college professor turned humor consultant is promoting a group for wisecrackers: Sarcasitics Anonymous.

Yeah, and it's a real important group, Dave writes.

Sure Dave. According to Dave's report, Virginia Tooper said a comedian hatched a similar idea years ago, but "he's dead now." So, she decided to start her own group dedicated to the advancement of sneering remarks.

This year, three years after its establishment, Tooper has decided to bring the organization out of the closet.

Heck, why not, coming out of the closet has become vogue — especially near Tooper's home — situated about 35 miles east of San Francisco.

And what's one more "Anonymous Group" added to the stack? Just ask Ann Landers, an expert in the field. Perhaps she'll recommend the group to letter writers who make searing remarks about her advice.

Too bad the group didn't exist when those hateful letters about Ann's bathroom wisdom was being debated in the nation's papers. By this time, it's doubtful anyone remembers how the issue was resolved — is the toilet paper roll to be mounted so that the paper spews from the top of the roll or from underneath?

Sarcasitics Anonymous is just one of many groups Americans can join to heal their ills. The organizations include the well-established Alcoholics and Overeaters Anonymous groups, and on the lighter side, Messies Anonymous, Procrastinators Anonymous, and Green Bay Packer Fans Anonymous.

Only the desperate "I'm addicted to losing" fans belong to the latter group, of course.

Sarcasm has become more cutting than ever, judging by the response of Tooper's audiences and 300 Sarcasitic Anonymous members, who get cards, a newsletter and a pin for joining, Dave said.

He said Tooper divides the world's sarcasitics into three groups: those who have been blatantly sarcastic and are "trying to take it one day at a time"; those who revel in their sarcasm; and "sarc-anons," who must live and work with sarcasitics.

Tooper puts herself among the first, while acknowledging that sarcasm is good in limited doses, Dave reported.

"I'm a recovering sarcastic," she says with no lack of irony. "But once a sarcastic, always a sarcastic. You can only hope to keep it under control."

Oh, hey. Fabulous advice, especially for a newsroom full of sarcasitics, who, like many alcoholics, won't admit they have a problem.

Anyone fortunate enough to have the pleasure of passing by can hear capsules of "enlightening" conversation about the world's problems — and other important matters.

Perhaps the most common, and most spirited, discussion centers on what each reporter ate for lunch. But those conversations have lost some of their spunk, mainly because a former employee who swore Spam was a gourmet food no longer works here.

He got sick. Other matters of discussion are more serious. Like, Thank God for capital punishment — if it weren't for the death penalty, where would Christianity be today?

I'm so sorry if that item offended anyone.

The fact is, I was raised by a devout Christian father — a serious-minded disciplinarian, albeit loving but not outwardly affectionate. Such childhood environments, according to Tooper, breed sarcastic personalities.

Tooper says she was raised in a cold, humorless family and developed sarcasm to get a laugh and use as a weapon against those who poked fun at her for being fat.

It was effective, but risky. "For three straight summers in Girl Scout camp, I was voted the wittiest and the biggest dumb bunny," she says. "The fourth year I quit."

She lectures to corporations, organizations and colleges on the uses of humor on and off the job. Just as the Surgeon General advocates "safe sex," Tooper advocates the use of "safe sarcasm," in which those who are its target enjoy it.

Everyone would do well to heed Tooper's advice: "Never use sarcasm with someone at your office who is sitting on your promotions evaluation committee. Never use visual sarcasm — obscene hand gestures, for instance — with someone on the freeway whose car is in worse shape than yours. "And never use sarcasm with people who are at your mercy, such as young children."

I was pleased to learn that Tooper says sarcasm is useful in dealing with stress and developing camaraderie in the workplace. Sarcasm aids in the development of a healthy, "joking relationship," she said.

I, for one, give three cheers for sarcasm — especially since at least one of my co-workers thinks I'm a hopeless case. It's in my bones. Aw, shucks.

CIA confronts AIDS threat

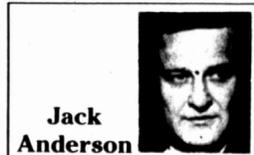

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA

WASHINGTON — Could Mata Hari have operated in the age of AIDS?

Without going into this idle historical question, the CIA has finally decided that it has to deal with the reality of the worldwide epidemic of Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome. The agency has sent out urgent warnings to all its agents and has begun routine testing of applicants, employees and their families to identify carriers of the deadly AIDS virus.

Earlier this year, the CIA issued a special alert to its spies in 15 countries, warning them to be more careful about their sexual contacts — whether recreational or on-the-job — with individuals who might have the disease. The countries of highest risk were identified as Haiti, France, Italy, the United Kingdom, West Germany, the Central African Republic, Congo, Ivory Coast, Kenya, Rwanda, Tanzania, Uganda, Zaire, Zambia and Zimbabwe.

We've obtained an internal report by the CIA's Office of Medical Services, which reveals that the agency "began routinely testing" employees and job applicants last February. They have utmost accuracy of the report and protection of the patient's confidentiality."

The spy agency's medical officers are testing three specific groups, according to the internal report:

- Applicants for employment;
- Employees and dependents over age 18 who have physical examinations for official purposes (such as posting abroad);
- Those recommended by a staff physician — (such as) persons who received transfusions of blood products in the period 1978 to the spring of 1985, hemophiliacs and selected other individuals.

The CIA has established a "protocol" or set of administrative courtesies that are extended to individuals "who have a confirmed positive test" to the AIDS virus, now known as HIV, for Human Immunodeficiency Virus.

The CIA does not fire an employee found to have AIDS. The internal report says it is the Office of Medical Service policy "to regard HIV infection of AIDS the same way as any other illness and to expect that an employee will continue to work as long as he or she is able to do so."

Court denies silence

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court today refused to let New Jersey provide daily moments of silence for public school students. The justices unanimously ruled that the state legislators who sought to press the controversy in court no longer have the proper legal standing.

Today's decision left intact a ruling that the New Jersey law violates the constitutionally required separation of church and state by impermissibly encouraging organized prayer sessions.

But the court said nothing about the validity of laws in other states that, like New Jersey law, provide for moments of silence in public schools without mentioning the word "prayer."

Indicators fall slightly

WASHINGTON — The Index of Leading Indicators, battered by the stock market crash, fell 0.2 percent in October, the Commerce Department said today. It was the first decline in nine months for the government's chief economic forecasting tool.

Still, the decrease was a smaller setback than economists had been expecting given the record 508-point drop in the Dow Jones industrial average Oct. 19.

In addition, the September figure, which originally had been reported as a 0.1 percent decline, was revised upward to show no change at all.

The index, composed of 11 forward-pointing business barometers, has taken on new importance since the collapse of the stock market as analysts search for signs of whether a new recession is on the way.

Probe confirms charge

HARRISBURG, Pa. — An investigator has concluded that a supervisor fired from the damaged Three Mile Island nuclear power plant slept on duty numerous times, and officials want to know why the problem went unchecked.

A report released Monday by TMI's operators, GPU Nuclear Corp., said the shift supervisor's behavior was part of "a longstanding pattern" during which the worker "repeatedly fell asleep, 'nodded off,' and otherwise displayed inattentiveness" while working at the plant.

Three Mile Island's Unit 2 reactor, site of the nation's worst commercial nuclear accident, has been shut down since 1979. However, the shift supervisor is responsible for overseeing staff, fire protection systems and radiation monitors at the plant.

A $1 billion cleanup is expected to conclude late next year.

An injured young woman looks for help as she sits among bodies of people killed in a massacre at the Ecole Nationale Argentine Bellegarde in Port Au Prince Haiti Sunday. The school was being used as a polling place when it was attacked by armed men in civilian clothes. Haitians in Miami protested the violence and partly blamed U.S. involvement.

Haiti

U.S. partly blamed for violence

MIAMI (AP) — Haitians who have resettled here expressed distress and waved their fists in anger over the canceled elections and deadly violence in their Caribbean homeland, and some partly blamed the United States.

Hundreds of Haitians demonstrated Sunday, and some blasted the United States for its military aid to the country, the poorest nation in the Western Hemisphere.

"If the United States stopped getting involved in the policies of small countries, they could take care of themselves," said one demonstrator, Jean-Pierre Louis.

The protesters were angered by the news that Sunday's national elections in Haiti, which would have been the first in more than 30 years, had been canceled because of violence that had claimed more than two dozen lives.

Demonstrators here shouted slogans and waved clenched fists and posters advocating "More Power To The People" and "Stop Murder In Haiti."

Police estimated that 300 to 500 people turned out for the protest, which began in the morning in the Little Haiti section, home to 35,000 of Miami's estimated 50,000 Haitians.

Police closed part of the area's main street for several hours, but reopened it when the crowd dispersed in the evening. Authorities reported no violence or arrests.

Rev. Thomas Wenski, director of the Haitian Catholic Center, said the U.S. government should have cut off military aid to Haiti long before it acted Sunday night.

"What's a small country like Haiti need any military aid for? They just use the guns against their own citizens," Wenski said.

All non-humanitarian aid to Haiti is being cut off immediately, State Department spokesman Benjamin Justesen announced in Washington.

Writer dies in France

ST. PAUL DE VENCE, France — James Baldwin, whose first novel "Go Tell It On The Mountain" established him as a major American writer and whose later works explored U.S. race relations, has died. He was 63.

Baldwin died Monday night at his home in southern France of stomach cancer, said Chantal Lopicque, a spokeswoman for Baldwin's French publisher, Editions Stock. He had undergone an operation last spring and his health had declined steadily since then, Ms. Lopicque said.

The black writer was a strong opponent of racism and intolerance, and that belief permeated much of his writing. He once defined a racist as a "coward who is afraid of himself."

Dozens buried in snow

SANTIAGO, Chile — Mountain-trained army troops and police used helicopters and dogs Monday to hunt for survivors and victims of an avalanche of snow, rocks and mud that swept down a ravine.

Government television said up to 60 people were missing and feared dead in the Sunday avalanche. At least six bodies have been recovered by Monday afternoon.

Dozens of people remained missing as the slow-moving rescue effort continued. The avalanche buried a power company workers' camp near Los Maitenes, a small mountain village 45 miles southeast of Santiago.

The ravine, in the Andean foothills, is a popular weekend camping and hiking site. Sunny and hot late-spring weather had drawn many people from the city and into the area before the avalanche occurred.

Suspects attempt death

MANAMA, Bahrain — A Japanese man and woman suspected of links to the disappearance of a Korean Air jetliner attempted suicide and were hospitalized today after they were caught by Bahrain officials trying to leave the country with a false passport, Japanese diplomatic officials said.

The plane crashed Sunday near Burma with 115 people aboard.

Takao Natsume, a Japanese embassy counselor in Manama, said the two were listed on the manifest of the missing jet and "most probably" had taken the flight from Baghdad to Abu Dhabi, where they got off and then came to Bahrain on a Gulf Air flight, arriving in Manama on Sunday.

Natsume said the man was listed in "critical" condition and the woman "might survive" the pills, which he said were hidden in a package of cigarettes.

Summit schedule released

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev will hold five meetings with President Reagan next week and also plans discussions with a number of Americans outside government, according to U.S. officials.

Gorbachev also will have a chance to size up the leading Republican contender to replace Reagan when the Soviet leader hosts a breakfast meeting to which Vice President George Bush has been invited.

The highlight of the Dec. 8-10 summit meeting will occur next Tuesday afternoon when Reagan and Gorbachev culminate a six-year negotiating effort by signing a treaty banning intermediate-range nuclear missiles.

The signing will occur hours after a ceremonial welcome for Gorbachev at the White House.

U.S. officials disclosed on Monday some details of the first visit to Washington by a Soviet leader since Leonid Brezhnev paid a call on President Nixon in June 1973.

Assistant Secretary of State Rozanne Ridgway told reporters that Bush is being invited to the breakfast meeting along with representatives of the U.S. academic, scientific and industrial communities.

In addition, she said, the Soviet embassy is arranging receptions for other American professionals not employed by the government. Meetings with members of Congress also will be on Gorbachev's schedule.

Mrs. Ridgway had no information on whether Gorbachev plans to engage in any tourist activities during his stay.

Reagan will host a state dinner for Gorbachev on Tuesday evening and the Soviet leader will reciprocate at the Soviet embassy on Wednesday. A State Department luncheon for Gorbachev also is being arranged.

Ms. Ridgway said Gorbachev and Reagan will hold their five meetings on four separate agenda items: arms control, human rights, bilateral issues and regional conflicts.

She said U.S. officials expect that the talks during the first day will cover arms control and human rights, and the two other areas will be covered on the second day. The same four topics will be reviewed during subsequent meetings.

The sessions on arms control will be dominated by U.S. Soviet efforts to achieve a 50 percent reduction in strategic nuclear arms, the most potent weapons in the superpower arsenals.

The White House said Monday that the summit is not likely to produce any breakthrough in these talks.

The discussion of regional issues is expected to focus on the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan and continuing tensions in the Persian Gulf.

Ms. Ridgway said that in addition to the INF treaty, there may be an agreement signed which would provide for an expansion of the existing U.S.-Soviet civil aviation agreement.

Although objections by conservatives caused the collapse of a plan to have Gorbachev address a joint meeting of Congress, the U.S. and Soviet governments have reportedly worked out a plan to have him meet with nine congressional leaders at the Soviet embassy. According to today's Washington Post, the meeting will take place there on the morning of Dec. 9.

Senate Minority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., said Monday that the Soviets had ruled out a Capitol Hill visit by Gorbachev.

The Post also reported that, during his visit to Washington, Gorbachev will stay at the Soviet embassy while his entourage will stay at a nearby hotel.

YOUR DAILY HOROSCOPE

From the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Make up your mind early today about how you can better your financial situation. Giving up some detrimental habits may help. The remainder of the day should be given over to new experiences.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be sure that your property, especially your roof, will be adequate for any changes of climate. Pay special attention to your budget.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Think about improving your appearance. Use your own judgment rather than relying on the opinions of those around you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Settle any matters which require your immediate attention. Let your mate know about any practical affairs which have been annoying you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Watch over those things in life which are most important to you. A good friend can give you fine advice for advancing socially.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Protect your credit or you could lose much respect in your community. Plan out your schedule early today, and don't let anyone distract you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A new friend can give you some valuable advice on how to become more successful. Enjoy the domestic scene this evening.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Look over your past actions, and be sure you're not about to make the same mistakes again. Your mate has good advice, so listen.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You'll have an inspired idea about how to gain the cooperation of a difficult associate. Get plenty of rest tonight — you'll need it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have much work to do, and can handle it wisely with a little common sense and some planning. Don't provoke any arguments.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Follow your intuition and try to raise your lagging spirits. This morning is the best time to settle that matter with your mate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) This is not the right time to upbraid a family friend for something which has displeased you. It is vital that all remain harmonious at home.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Take care of any important conversations, either in person or on the phone, early today. You won't be in the mood this evening.

If Your Child Is Born Today He or she will have the ability to think clearly and quickly, while taking in all aspects of any situation. Teach your progeny not to be overly independent or stubborn, as he or she will find it necessary to work harmoniously with others later in life in the business world.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Jackson runs wild on Seahawks

SEATTLE (AP) — Bo Jackson couldn't remember when he had more fun playing football, but his single-handed destruction of the Seattle Seahawks didn't persuade him to give up hitting home runs for scoring more touchdowns.

"I hadn't thought about it," Jackson said of his career plans after the Los Angeles Raiders routed the Seahawks 37-14 Monday night.

"Why should I think about it? I'm having too much fun," Jackson said outside the Raiders' locker room, sunglasses shading his eyes from the glare of television lights.

Fun, for Jackson, was 221 yards on 18 carries, the 13th best rushing performance in NFL history, in just his fifth game.

The best rushing day belongs to Walter Payton of the Chicago Bears who ran for 275 yards against Minnesota in 1977. O.J. Simpson is second and third at 273 and 250 yards.

Fun, for Jackson, was turning 25 while a national television audience watched the 4-7 Raiders break a seven-game losing streak.

"It was my birthday. I had a great time," Jackson said as he spoiled the day for the 7-4 Seahawks and their normally raucous Kingdome crowd.

Fun was accounting for 43 of the Raiders' 59 yards in a scoring drive that gave Los Angeles a 14-7 lead and helped Jackson atone for a first-quarter fumble that gave the Seahawks their only score of the half.

The most fun was a 91-yard touchdown gallop around left end which propelled him into the tunnel leading to the Seahawks' locker room and propelled the Raiders into a 21-7 lead in the second quarter.

The Seahawks must play on the road for three of their last four games, including a Sunday game in Pittsburgh. The Raiders are out of playoff contention.

Seattle capitalized quickly on Jackson's fumble, marching 64 yards on a drive capped by Dave Krieg hitting Daryl Turner with a 19-yard touchdown pass.

But the Raiders would score on their next seven possessions.

Marc Wilson hit James Lofton for a 46-yard touchdown for the Raiders' first score and then hit Jackson with a 14-yarder for the second.

Jackson's 91-yard run broke the game open in the second period before Chris Bahr kicked field goals of 23 and 47 yards for a 27-7 halftime lead. The run was the longest in Raiders history and helped him surpass the 200-yard single-game club record Clem Daniels set in 1963.

OC routs Hawks

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

ODESSA — The young Howard College Hawks got their first taste of Western Junior College Athletic Conference action Monday night, and it left a very bad flavor in the Hawks' mouths.

That's because the Odessa Wranglers dominated the Hawks 91-54 in the conference opener for both teams.

Coach Jerry Kassin's young Hawks got a rude welcome into league play as they ran into an Odessa buzz saw that featured a tenacious trapping press and a strong inside game.

Howard made a game of it for the first 10 minutes of play, but after that the Wranglers strutted their stuff in front of the home crowd.

The final 30 minutes of the game, OC did just about anything it wanted to do against the flustered Howard squad, which has only one returning letterman.

"We got a good old shellacking," said coach Kassin after the game. "I've got to give them credit, Odessa's press hurt us. They have some big, fast people."

Those big, fast people Kassin was referring to are forwards Larry Johnson, Troy Bell, Riley Smith and Clifford Martin. The foursome was the big reason Odessa outscored Howard 51-16 inside. Odessa also had a commanding 44-22 rebounding edge.

The 6-7 Johnson lived up to his billing as one of the top prep players in Texas last year. The freshman from Dallas scored 16 points and pulled down 11 rebounds. He showed his versatility in the first half by scoring 14 points, grabbing seven rebounds, passing out three assists to go along with one steal and one blocked shot.

Bell and Smith combined for 24 points and 20 rebounds, while reserve Martin added 13 points.

Meanwhile Howard got virtually no production from its inside people. Guards Chris Miller and Bernard Williams led Howard with three rebounds each. Miller was leading scorer with 11 points and Williams followed with nine.

Howard took a 4-0 lead when Miller and Troy Sims, who also had three rebounds, got tip-ins.

Miller and Sims added another basket each as Howard trailed 18-16 with 11 minutes left in the first half. But then the tide of the game quickly changed. Odessa went to its trapping press and outscored Howard 27-13 in the last 10 minutes of play to take a 47-32 halftime lead.

In that span Howard went four minutes without scoring a point. Tony Smith's three-pointer with 50 seconds left in the half ended the HC drought, but the damage was done.

The Wranglers started the second half in the trapping press, and again it got the job done. Howard committed seven turnovers in the first six minutes of play and Odessa jumped to an insurmountable 63-38.

Howard College Hawks freshman guard Bernard Williams (24) plays tight defense on Odessa College's Rodney Harrell during first half action Monday night in Odessa. The Wranglers defeated the Hawks 91-54 in the conference opener for both teams.

Jo Jo's comeback falls short

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Jo Jo White's basketball comeback, at age 41 with the Topeka Sizzlers of the Continental Basketball League, ended Monday, 26 days after it began.

A former star of the University of Kansas and the NBA's Boston Celtics, White said he simply did not have the legs to keep up with younger players and felt it was best to retire. He made the announcement after meeting with the Sizzlers' head coach, John Killilea, and the team's owner, Bernie Glannon.

White will leave the team, not only as a player but as an assistant coach. However, he did not rule out the possibility of returning later as a coach or in some other capacity.

"Jo Jo White has never been one to kid himself," White said during a brief news conference in the Kansas Expocentre, where the Sizzlers play their home games. "The legs seemed not to be responding as I would have liked them to."

White, a 6-foot-3 guard, played 12 seasons in the NBA and was the most valuable player in the 1976 NBA championship series. The seven-time All-Star also had a brilliant career at Kansas and served as an assistant coach there in 1981-82 and 1982-83.

In September, he played in a special alumni game between Kansas and Kansas State and scored 23 points. On Nov. 4, he announced he would attempt a comeback and serve as an assistant coach and tutor to Lloyd Daniels, the 6-8 star from New York City whose vagabond career has led him to Las Vegas and trouble with drugs.

However, in five games with the Sizzlers, White averaged 5.6 points a game, despite playing an average of more than 24 minutes a game. He also had a 44.4 percent field goal percentage.

Arizona wins Alaska Shootout

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Sean Elliott scored half of his 16 points in the last eight minutes to enable No. 9 Arizona to thwart a furious second-half comeback and beat No. 3 Syracuse 80-69 in Monday night's championship game of the 10th Great Alaska Shootout basketball tournament.

Elliott, named the tournament's outstanding player, came alive after the Wildcats blew a 12-point lead.

The Orangemen, who trailed 58-46 with 11:18 to go, took a 61-60 lead at 6:21 on Derrick Coleman's slam after a rebound.

Rony Seikaly, who had been on the bench for three minutes after picking up his fourth personal foul, had a three-point play and Sherman Douglas scored eight points during the 15-2 Syracuse run.

Anthony Cook's hook shot put Arizona ahead 62-61 and started a decisive 9-0 run by the Wildcats. Ken Lofton dunked after a steal and came back with a 3-pointer from the corner. Tom Tolbert's jumper from the side at 3:48 made it 69-61.

Arizona hit its first five shots from the field in building a five-point lead in the early going. But the Wildcats couldn't contain Coleman who worked free for two dunks off missed shots to keep the Orangemen close.

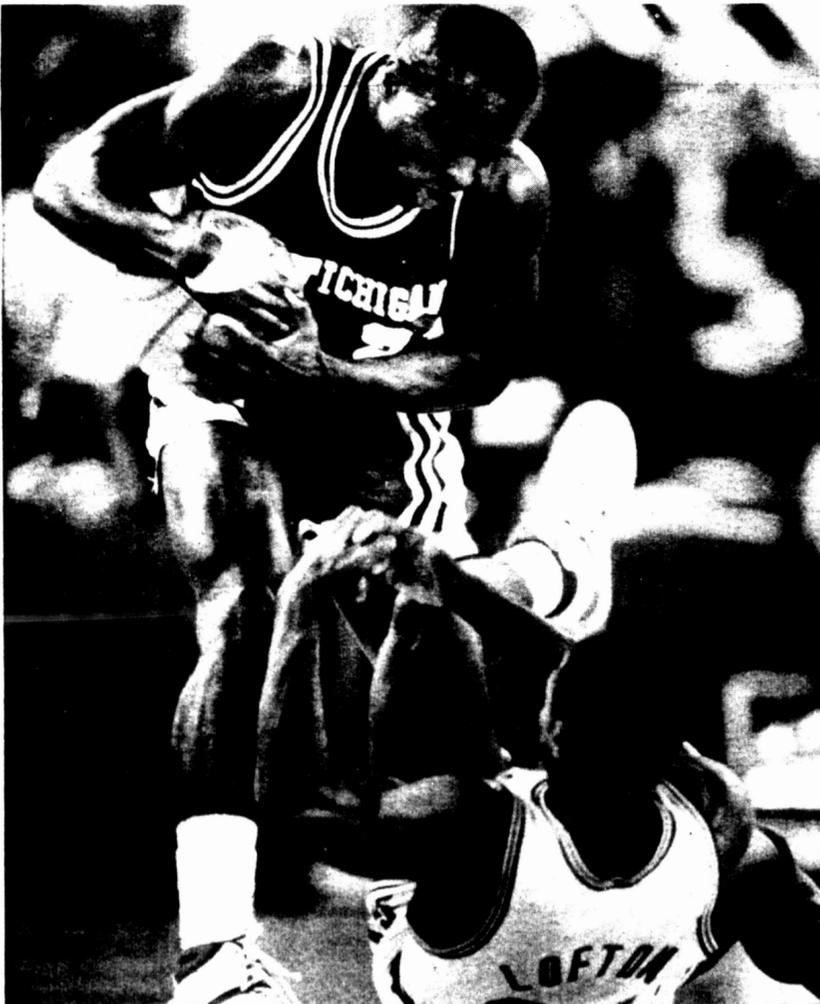

Matt Roe's four 3-point shots, three in less than two minutes, put Syracuse up by seven midway through the first half.

But six points on strong inside play by Joe Turner helped put the Wildcats back in the lead 34-32 with 4:52 to go.

Syracuse scored only four points in the final six minutes and Craig McMillan hit two 3-pointers to stake Arizona to a 42-36 halftime lead.

McMillan finished with 15 points, including four 3-pointers, for the Wildcats, 3-0. Cook had 13 and Tolbert 11.

Seikaly led the Orangemen, 2-2, with 19 points. Douglas had 18 and Coleman 15.

Arizona's Ken Lofton (on floor) gets the ball taken away by Michigan's Russell Robinson during Alaska Shootout action Saturday. Monday night Arizona defeated Syracuse to win the championship. Lofton keyed the win in the closing minutes by getting a steal, dunk and three-pointer.

Queens lose by forfeit

How much can a team take before players and coach lose heart?

Howard College Hawk-Queens coach Don Stevens hopes he did not find out Monday, when injuries to Callie Cooley and Renee Crooks mandated that Stevens cancel the Queens' conference opener against Odessa.

"When it rains, it pours," Stevens said. "You want to try to keep an upbeat attitude, to be optimistic. But sometimes you just have to look at things realistically."

What Stevens has to look at, every day, is the prospect of a basketball team with only eight players. The Hawk-Queens suffered disciplinary difficulties in early practices which caused Stevens to send five players home in October.

Two more quit the same week, leaving the team virtually without a bench. In November, Karen Mitchell injured her knee, requiring surgery that sidelined her during the Hawk-Queens Classic. She has not yet returned to the floor.

Callie Cooley and Renee Crooks suffered injuries before Monday's scheduled match with Odessa College in Odessa — and suddenly the Queens have their first conference loss.

"It's terrible timing," Stevens said. "We're the only team to play four conference games before Christmas, and while you try to be realistic, we felt we had a good chance of going 2-2."

"By the time we have everybody healthy again, though, we're going to be so far down in conference games," he said, "it's going to make everything tougher."

Stevens believes Thursday's game will go on as scheduled, he said — but it wouldn't be a bad idea for Queens fans to keep their fingers crossed.

Cough formulas help make film look better

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Coach Jerry Glanville unwittingly found a way to make Sunday's 51-27 loss to Indianapolis look good — at least on film.

Glanville was 10 minutes late for his regular Monday press conference and explained that he'd had a reaction to taking two medications for a cough.

He said the combined medication made him sleepy and that he hadn't been able to see all the films of Sunday's loss, the Oilers' worst since 1983.

"Unfortunately, I mixed the wrong thing with the wrong thing," Glanville said. "I took them together and things on film looked pretty good. I thought about dying, but I knew you people would think it was suicide. They just woke me up to come and visit with you."

In reality, the Oilers' loss on Monday was just as devastating as it was on Sunday.

The Oilers, 6-3 and challenging for the division lead only two weeks ago, have lost two straight and allowed 91 points and 11 turnovers in those two losses.

But Glanville says all it will take to regain the momentum is a repeat of last season's finish that included four victories in the final seven games, Glanville said.

"As a coach you worry when people aren't trying, hustling and hitting the enemy," Glanville said. "But I was able to watch the film and see hope for success. We just have to take care of the football and not give it away like we've been doing."

The suddenly mistake-prone Oilers lost three fumbles and two interceptions to the Colts, who handed the Oilers their worst defeat since Cincinnati's 55-14 victory in 1983.

"Two weeks ago we were in the penthouse, but it takes only about two weeks to go to the outhouse and also to get back," Glanville said. "We've still got a chance to get back."

The Oilers injury list continued to mount with cornerback Steve Brown and return specialist Curtis Duncan suffering knee injuries.

The way the Oilers have lost is a mystery, center Jay Pennison said.

New TCU coach gets victory in first outing

By The Associated Press
 Texas Christian struggled early against Sam Houston State, but the Horned Frogs settled down and gave Moe Iba a 61-46 college basketball victory in his first outing as TCU coach.

In other Southwest Conference basketball action Monday, Texas defeated Tennessee State 84-72, Texas Tech won 87-76 over Southwest Louisiana, Texas A&M rallied for a 69-65 victory over Houston Baptist, and Rice squeezed past Missouri-Kansas City 62-60.

The undersized Horned Frogs trailed Sam Houston 19-12 midway through the first half, but outscored the Bearcats 49-27 the rest of the way.

"The thing I'm proud of is that we were playing poorly in the first half, but we hung in there and picked the defense up," Iba said. "We did a nice job of getting back into the ball game."

"We threw the ball away four straight times (in the first half)," he said. "But then we settled down and did OK."

Norman Anderson led a balanced TCU scoring attack with 16 points, and a trio of junior college transfers also hit in double figures — John Lewis with 12 and Jeff Boutelle and Danny Hughes with 11 each.

Bruce Hodges led 0-2 Sam Houston with 11 points. TCU used an aggressive man-to-man defense that forced 20 Bearcat turnovers.

"In the second half we did a good job defensively," Iba said. "In fact, from about the 10-minute mark in the first half until the end of the game we really played good defense, excellent defense."

In Austin, junior Alvin Higgs scored 22 points and pulled down 15 rebounds while Jose Nassar added 21 to lead the Texas Longhorns to an 84-72 victory over Tennessee State Monday night.

Tennessee State's Anthony Mason led all scorers with 27 points. Both teams now are 1-1.

In Lubbock, junior guard Sean Gay scored 19 points, including a 3-pointer that gave Texas Tech its biggest lead of the game, to lead the Red Raiders over Southwestern Louisiana 87-76.

Texas Tech, which dominated throughout the contest, increased to 1-1 with its home-opening victory, while Southwestern Louisiana dropped to 2-1.

In Houston, guard Darryl McDonald scored 18 points to lead Texas A&M University to a come-from-behind 69-65 victory over Houston Baptist University. Both teams now are 1-1.

Donald Thompson added 13 points and Keron Graves 11 for the Aggies.

Barkley turns off Jazz

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Charles Barkley did everything but drop-kick the ball through the basket as the Philadelphia 76ers derailed Utah's potent running attack and handed the Jazz its first home loss this season.

The result: Barkley scored a career-high 43 points and the 76ers beat Utah 106-100 to hand the Jazz its first loss in eight games at the Salt Palace.

Milwaukee beat Indiana 104-94 in the only other NBA game Monday night. Tonight, it will be Detroit at New Jersey, Boston at Atlanta, Seattle at New York, Denver at Houston, Chicago at Golden State, Los Angeles Lakers at Sacramento and Phoenix at Portland.

"Everything Barkley threw up went in," said Utah's Karl Malone, who finished with 17 points, 8 below his season average. "The team hit all the important baskets. He could have drop-kicked the ball in."

Philadelphia, playing without injured starters Roy Hinson and Tim McCormick, broke to an early lead on a 15-1 spurt keyed by Barkley, then fought back a late Utah challenge.

Barkley scored four points during the first-quarter spurt and helped give the 76ers a fourth-period cushion when he scored on a drive and free throw with 3:14 left, giving Philadelphia a 99-94 advantage.

The Jazz, who entered the game the only NBA team unbeaten at home, overcame a 53-41 halftime deficit to lead 76-72 late in the third quarter. But a Barkley dunk and free throw with 10:25 left in the game gave Philadelphia the lead for good at 82-79.

Barkley scored six of Philadelphia's next eight points as the 76ers built an 88-83 advantage with 7:50 remaining.

"Barkley is impossible to guard one-on-one," Jazz Center Mark Eaton said. "I couldn't help out as well as I could or should have. Barkley put on a clinic. He came to play."

The Jazz, playing with a height advantage, only had one more rebound than Philadelphia, and 76ers coach Matt Guokas was satisfied with the job his team did on the glass.

"I thought despite our small lineup at times we did a great job on the boards," said Guokas, whose team was outrebounded 45-44. "The big key for us was that we were able to control the tempo against a team that runs well, especially at home."

"They deserved the game," Utah Coach Frank Layden said. "They played hard and physical and made their shots."

Utah guard John Stockton tied a franchise record with nine third-quarter assists in the Jazz comeback. Bobby Hansen hit two 3-point goals and Stockton assisted on baskets by Hansen and Thurl Bailey as Utah took a 67-64 lead with 5:18 left in the quarter.

Bucks 104, Pacers 94 — Jack Sikma had 21 points and 13 rebounds for Milwaukee and Craig Hodges spiked an Indiana rally with 12 fourth-quarter points.

The Bucks led 76-60 after three quarters, but the Pacers got close as 89-83 with 5:34 left. Milwaukee regained control with a 9-0 rally that Hodges, who scored 16 points, finished with a 3-point goal and a layup.

The winner
 Dan Jansen 22, of West Allis, Wis., takes off from the starting line of the Men's 500 in the World Cup speed skating championship in Butte, Mont. Jansen won the race with a time of 37.24.

Tar Heels jump to No. 1

By The Associated Press
 North Carolina is No. 1, but there are two packs of Wildcats nipping at the Heels.

North Carolina, 3-0, succeeded defending national champion Syracuse in the first regular-season basketball poll by beating the Orangemen 96-93 in overtime two weeks ago and then winning the Central Fidelity Classic last weekend. The Tar Heels were ranked No. 3 in the preseason poll.

Kentucky's Wildcats, fifth in the preseason, jumped to No. 2 after opening the season on Saturday with an 86-59 drubbing of Hawaii. Arizona's pack of Wildcats, ranked 17th in the preseason, bolted into ninth this week on the strength of a 79-64 thrashing of then-No. 9 Michigan in the Great Alaska Shootout.

The Wildcats of the West could conceivably climb higher next week after clobbering Syracuse 80-69 Monday night in the championship game of the 10th Shootout basketball tournament.

North Carolina received 37 of 58 first-place votes and 1,109 points from the nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters. The Tar Heels followed their victory over Syracuse with victories over Southern California (82-77) and Richmond (87-76) in the Central Fidelity tournament.

Kentucky got seven first-place votes and 955 points, while Syracuse, now 2-2, dropped to third with 916 points and two first-place votes.

Pittsburgh, 1-0, was a close fourth, three points behind the Orangemen, after receiving four first-place votes.

Indiana, with four votes for first, moved into fifth with 817 points, five more than Iowa, 3-0, which mauled then-No. 7 Kansas 100-81 on the way to the Maui Classic championship.

Florida, Missouri, Arizona — all with one first-place vote — and Wyoming rounded out the Top Ten.

Florida, 4-0, jumped from 14th by winning the Big Apple NIT, and Wyoming beat Denver 113-82 in its only game. Missouri hasn't played.

Bowling tourney on tap

A professional bowlers' tournament sanctioned by the PBA (professional bowlers' association) will take place at Highland Lanes Dec. 5th and 6th.

A junior pro-am event begins the PBA stand at the bowling alley Dec. 4.

Contestants have a chance at a $1,000 first place prize in the Saturday tournament. One event begins at 6 p.m. Saturday, another at 9 p.m.

The PBA regional doubles tournament coincides with the bowling events. The Saturday pro-am tournament will cost contestants a $35 entry fee. Men's and women's entries will be accepted and multiple entries are allowed.

Handicap will be 90 percent of 210 for men and women. Contestants are advised to use their highest 1986-87 book average or the highest average of the current winter league average of 21 games or more.

First place prize is estimated at $1,000, based on the number of entries; pay ratio will be one for 10, and pros will not share in the prize winnings.

The junior event will be sponsored through the YABA. Entrants must have proof of averages for the current winter league of 21 games. Contests begin at 6:30 and 9 p.m. on Dec. 4, and check in times are 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. The junior handicap will be 80 percent of 200 with an automatic strike in the first through third frames.

The junior entry fee is $15. Trophies will be awarded for the first through fifth place winners.

Entries may be made by mail before 6 p.m. Dec. 4. If openings remain at the tournament contestants may enter on the spot, on a first come first served basis.

Hawks

lead. The Hawks finished the game with 27 turnovers, compared to 11 for Odessa.

"We executed our game for the first part of the first half," said Kassin. "Then we got tired and got away from it. We didn't want to let our guards drive because they had to get back on defense. We tried running with them for a while but it got worse. You can't get into a running game with them. You have to play a strong halfcourt game," said Kassin.

Howard is now 5-8 for the season. Odessa is 12-1.

The Hawks will play Clarendon College at 8 p.m. Thursday at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

In other WJAC action Monday night, Midland College defeated Clarendon College 77-67.

Teacher's Guide

For use by teachers and parents at home and at school.

For use with issue: Remembering Pearl Harbor

Main idea: To introduce readers to this important date in our history. The following is a list of activities to be used with this issue. They are listed in order of difficulty, with the easier pre-reader assignments listed first. Ask the children to do the following:

- Background information: The path to war started years before when Japan took over part of China in the 1930s. Japan tried, without success, to take the rest of that country. China was our friend. We sent aid to that country.
- In 1940, Japan joined forces with Nazi Germany.
- Fearing further Japanese expansion, we built up our forces in the Pacific and started a program to cut off the shipment of oil and other materials to Japan.
- Find the ship and plane on this page. Talk about how travel by them is different.
- Get another copy of this issue. Ask children to match the pictures in each one.
- Look through your paper to see if you can find any advertised items that might have come from Hawaii.
- Find pictures of Hawaii and design a postcard. Pretend that you are visiting the islands and write a note about what you see.
- If you were going to Hawaii, make up a list of items you would pack.
- Ask the children to do further research on Pearl Harbor and World War II.

A Visit to the USS Arizona Remembering Pearl Harbor

The Arizona Memorial

After seeing a film in an on-shore visitors center, visitors take a shuttle boat to the memorial located a half-mile offshore. The National Park Service is in charge of the memorial. Visitors have to be 45 inches tall to ride the shuttle boat. Would you be allowed to go?

The Mini Page visited the USS (United States Ship) Arizona Memorial. It is a special memorial that reminds today's visitors of the men and women who lost their lives 47 years ago. It is a 184-foot bridge that spans the sunken Arizona. It has three sections: a room for the Arizona's bell, an assembly room for 200 people, and a shrine room with a wall that lists the 1,177 sailors and Marines who lost their lives.

Dec. 7, 1941

Pearl Harbor is a large naval base on the Hawaiian island of Oahu.

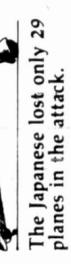

Dec. 7, 1941, is an important date in our history.

It was on that date that the Japanese made a surprise attack on Pearl Harbor.

A total of 353 Japanese planes flew over in two waves, or groups. The first wave attacked at about 7:55 a.m. The other followed 30 minutes later.

When the attack was over two hours later, the Americans counted 2,403 dead. More than 1,000 were wounded.

- 21 ships were sunk or damaged.
- 188 planes were destroyed.

The Japanese lost only 29 planes in the attack.

A view from above the memorial shows the outline of the Arizona visitors can see. Oil is still seeping from the ship.

- 159 planes were damaged.

It was a successful strike for the Japanese except that:

- They failed to hit any American aircraft carriers (there were none anchored there at the time).
- They did not damage Navy buildings along the shore.

The attack united Americans behind a goal of victory in World War II.

Let's Visit Hawaii

The state flag is white, red and blue with eight stripes standing for the eight main islands. The English Union Jack is in the left corner.

Hawaii is the youngest state. It became a state Aug. 21, 1959. Its nickname is the Aloha State. "Aloha" means welcome or goodbye in Hawaiian.

Kauai has scenic waterfalls and many plants and flowers. Many Pacific Island movies are made here.

Oahu has many businesses and hotels on Oahu. The island attracts many tourists. Honolulu, the capital, is on Oahu. Pearl Harbor is also there. Many surfers surf off the coast of Oahu.

Molokai has pineapple plantations and ranches. Sugar, pineapples, cattle and horses are raised on Maui. It has the largest inactive volcano in the world, Haleakala. It's also a big resort area.

Lanai has pineapple plantations.

Hawaii is the big island, with many volcanoes and colorful flowers. Sugar, coffee, cattle and nuts are raised there.

Fishing is an important business in Hawaii.

Hawaii was settled by people from other Pacific islands, called Polynesians (pol-uh-NEE-zhuns). Hawaii was discovered by Europeans when English Capt. James Cook landed there in 1788. He named them the "Sandwich Islands" after his patron, Lord Sandwich.

At one time, each island had its own king. King Kamehameha I united the islands into one country in 1819. The royal family was overthrown and a new government set up in 1894. Hawaii became a U.S. territory in 1900. It became a state in 1959. Hawaii is a big melting pot. People from many countries have settled there.

Water sports are very popular in Hawaii.

How Hawaii makes money

Hawaii is one of the most prosperous states in the United States, but the cost of living there is high when compared with most states.

| | | | | | | |

| | | | | | | |
| tourists | sugar | pineapple | macadamia nuts | coffee | flowers | the military |
| | | | | | | |
| fruits and vegetables | furniture | food products | dairy products | clothes | clothes | |

The state coat of arms carries the motto meaning "The life of the land is preciousness."

The land of Hawaii has many mountains and valleys, some steep coastal cliffs, beautiful beaches, many waterfalls, and volcanoes.

No people live on Kahoolawe. It is used for target practice by U.S. armed forces.

Many sports fishermen fish off the shores of Hawaii.

Supersport: John Elway

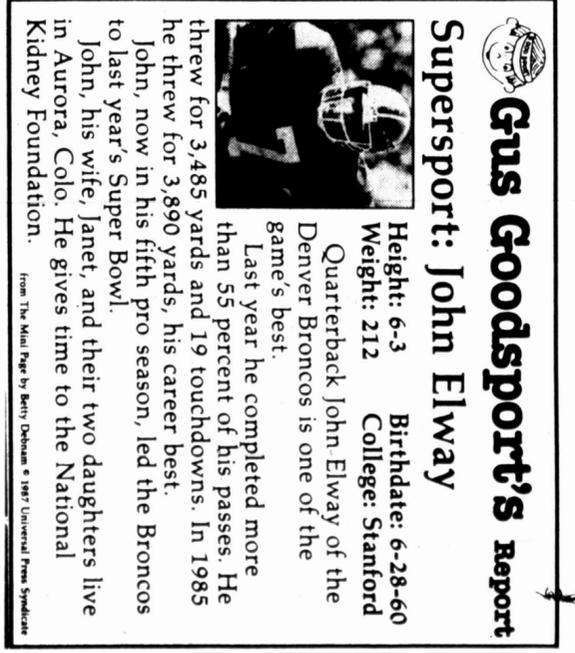

Height: 6-3 Birthdate: 6-28-60
Weight: 212 College: Stanford

Quarterback John Elway of the Denver Broncos is one of the game's best.

Last year he completed more than 55 percent of his passes. He threw for 3,485 yards and 19 touchdowns. In 1985 he threw for 3,890 yards, his career best.

John, now in his fifth pro season, led the Broncos to last year's Super Bowl.

John, his wife, Janet, and their two daughters live in Aurora, Colo. He gives time to the National Kidney Foundation.

Holiday mail brings smiles, tears to our forces overseas

DEAR ABBY: For most of us, the Christmas season is a joyous time, but for the thousands of American servicemen and women stationed abroad and at sea, it can be depressing and lonely.

As the national chairman of the 1987 America Remembers Campaign, I want to encourage the folks at home to send Christmas and Hanukkah cards and letters to servicemen and women who are far from home. Last year, through Operation Dear Abby II, your readers flooded the mails with more than two million pieces of mail, which we distributed to our troops in Korea, Okinawa, Europe and on two aircraft carriers. (There were even boxes of homemade cookies!)

Abby, I spent Christmas in Germany with American GIs who received mail from Operation Dear Abby II, and I wish you and your readers could have seen the smiles and tears as the mail was distributed on Christmas Eve!

This year, we need your help more than ever. We want our servicemen and women to know that the folks back home remember and support them. Can the troops count on your and your readers for Operation Dear Abby III? Please say yes.

DON GRIMES, CHAIRMAN, 1987 AMERICA REMEMBERS CAMPAIGN

DEAR MR. GRIMES: Yes! You can count on me and my readers. Last year USA Today, with its burgeoning readership of 5 1/2 million, joined in publicizing our campaign, and they have agreed to join us again.

Readers, start writing (and baking) now. Send as many cards and letters as you can. Last year my readers advised me that they were flabbergasted at the number of responses they received from grateful servicemen and women.

• The aircraft carrier USS Ranger will be in the Indian Ocean during Christmas. Write to: America Remembers the USS Ranger (CV 61), c/o PAO, FPO San Francisco 96633-2750. Attention: Operation Dear Abby III.

• The aircraft carrier USS Coral Sea will be in the Mediterranean Sea over Christmas. Write to: American Remembers the USS • America Remembers U.S. Forces on Okinawa, Box 743, USO, FPO San Francisco 98773. Attention: Operation Dear Abby III.

For U.S. Army soldiers in Germany who patrol the Iron Curtain 24 hours a day:

• America Remembers 11th and 2nd Armored Cavalry, c/o Co., 2nd ACR, PAO/S-5, APO New York 09093-0211. Attention: Operation Dear Abby III.

• America Remembers U.S.

Forces in Iceland, USO KE-FLAVIK-ICELAND, FPO New York 09571-0014. Attention: Operation Dear Abby III.

And how is this for a bonus?

DEAR ABBY: I am the chairman of the Sanborn Girl Scouts and Brownies. Last year, at your request, we wrote to the sailors aboard the USS John F. Kennedy, and received so many wonderful letters of thanks, we followed up with Valentines, then Easter cards.

Then their Captain Moriarty invited us to visit the ship while it was docked in Norfolk, Va. So last August, with the help of our Girl Scout Council, friends and families, seven Girl Scouts, four chaperones and our own personal photographer flew to Virginia and spent three nights and four days aboard the USS JFK as special guests of the U.S. Navy. It was the most memorable experience of our lives. Thank you, Abby, for making it possible.

Adoption results in unique holiday

Dallas Times Herald Bureau DALLAS — For the parents waiting at Dallas/Fort Worth Airport Thursday, it was an anxious and sometimes tearful afternoon.

But when the flight from Los Angeles arrived, bringing with it their newly adopted South Korean children, silent worries turned to whispers of thanks as they held the sleepy, smiling babies in their arms.

"It's a nice time to have your baby come home. You'll always be able to celebrate Thanksgiving in a special way," said Diana Hopkins, a social worker with Dillon Children's Services adoption agency which sponsored the South Korean adoptions.

The agency, based in Tulsa, Okla., organizes an average of 120 adoptions annually for Texas and Oklahoma parents. Approximately 6,000 South Korean babies and young children are adopted every year in this country, she said. Hopkins has three adopted children from South Korea.

"Welcome home, guy," one father said, smiling happily as he held his newest son.

"We just had two pretty kids and wanted another one. It is a lot easier to adopt a Korean child," said Taylor Virdell.

Virdell, from Fredericksburg, near San Antonio, was waiting at the gate with his wife, Brenda, and their two natural children who he said "have been looking forward to it. They woke up this morning ready to go," he said.

Beverlee Einsig, who escorted the children from Seoul, said it is easier to adopt an infant from South Korea than one in the United States because the requirements are not as stringent nor the wait as long.

The adoption costs, $4,000 to $5,000 a child, are approximately the same in both countries, she said. The Dillon agency bill covers the foster care for the children while they are waiting to leave South Korea, legal costs of adoption, and the flight costs.

"The foster mothers go to the airport with the children, and that is hard because many have been with the children for five or six months," said Einsig, special activities coordinator for Dillon Children's Services who has adopted three South Korean children.

Einsig and Karen Price, director of adoptions for the agency, accompanied the children on their two-day journey from Seoul, with a stop-over in Los Angeles.

"It's easier to get a baby and I think some families really feel like they did something they're supposed to do — to give their home to a child from a foreign country," Einsig said.

"Thanks for bringing my baby," Samuelson said to Karen Price, who also helped escort the children from Seoul. "He's precious."
