Airline war

Continental cuts fares, others follow

Herald bureau report
DALLAS — Declaring that air travel now would be "irresistibly attractive," Continental Airlines on Monday slashed air fares by 15 to 20 percent nationwide and reduced advance purchase requirements for its lowest excursion fares known as "MaxSavers" to two days from seven.

The fare reduction was matched immediately by at least two other major airlines — Eastern and Northwest — and prompted others, including Fort Worth-based American Airlines and its major area competitor Delta Airlines, to consider following Continental's lead.

But analysts said the price cutting is unlikely to lead to a widespread fare war, noting that only a few seats on some flights may be affected. They said the fare cuts are a limited marketing effort designed to attract passengers during a historically slow travel period.

"It sounds fairly selective," said Edward Starkman, an analyst with PaineWebber Group. "This is the time of the season for cutting fares to stimulate traffic. It's just a seasonally weak period."

Continental also made most of its first-class seats available at full-fare coach prices for its frequent flier club members, but said the first-class upgrades would not apply to its Houston hub or its operations in six other major cities.

Industry analysts said the lower fares, which go into effect immediately for travel Wednesday, probably would be matched across the board by major airlines. But Continental's first class program isn't likely to be adopted by airlines that carry high numbers of business travelers, analysts said.

Miami-based Eastern, which like Continental is a unit of Texas Air Corp., and Minneapolis-based Northwest also announced fare cuts as deep as 20 percent.

Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport's two major airlines, American and Delta, delayed matching the lower prices Monday. However, sources at both airlines said they are almost certain to make similar reductions and restriction adjustments.

American spokesman Jim Brown said the fares filed by Continental are complex and American officials will study the new fare structure before taking action.

United Airlines spokesman Matt Gonrig, which competes strongly with Continental at its Denver hub, said the Chicago-based carrier will match the new MaxSaver fares and relaxed advance-purchase restrictions.

The fare cuts come during what traditionally is the industry's least profitable period. In the past, the first quarter has been marked by fare wars that have siphoned off industry profits.

Late entry creates three-man race

By BILL FOSTER
Staff Writer

A Big Spring business and civic leader has made the race for the District 69 State House of Representatives post a two-party, three-candidate contest.

Troy Fraser, 38, became the third and final candidate to file for the post late Monday.

Fraser officially announced his candidacy as the only Republican in the race during a meeting at the Park Inn Motel in Big Spring Monday night.

He joins Democrats Larry Don Shaw and Cecil G. Gilstrap in seeking election to the state House seat. Shaw, the four-term incumbent, filed for re-election last month. Gilstrap filed as a candidate last week.

The Democratic candidates will face each other in a March 8 primary election that will decide who will be on the ballot against Fraser in November's general election.

Fraser's announcement came as no surprise to several local political observers, who had been expecting him to enter the race for some time.

Fraser's declaration of candidacy was short and direct.

"I'm in the race," he told about 50 people gathered in a meeting room at the Park Inn.

The GOP candidate predicted a "tough fight" between himself and Shaw, whom he believes will likely be the winner of the Democratic primary.

Fraser criticized Shaw for being "a free-spending liberal" who does not represent the "conservative" thinking of West Texans.

He elaborated on his charges against Shaw during a telephone interview this morning.

"The legislature made a mistake during the past session by not holding the line. They set a budget and then overspent. Shaw voted for every one of those deficit spending bills," Fraser said.

"I've been following Shaw's voting record for several years. It's not representative of the district," he said.

Shaw calls Fraser's comments "political rhetoric" and says he is willing to "stand on his record."

Two enter county races

Two additional people filed to run for county offices before the 6 p.m. Monday deadline, increasing the number of contested races to three.

Robert D. "Bob" Miller filed as a Democrat for the county attorney race against Hardy L. Wilkerson. Miller served as Howard County attorney from January 1981 to December 1984 and ran unsuccessfully against incumbent Rick Hamby for the 118th district attorney position in 1984.

Miller, a Houston native, has practiced law in Big Spring since 1973. He attended the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Texas Law School.

"I know I can do the job," Miller said of his decision to run again for the post.

"The community has been good to me ... we need to put something back into the community. The biggest problem we have is a lot of good people won't run — they say they don't have the time."

"Tim Yeats did an excellent job. I feel like we need to keep that going — I have the ability and experience," Miller said.

Yeats, who has served as county attorney since 1985, announced in November that he would resign Jan. 15 to enter private practice.

Howard County commissioners are expected to appoint an attorney this month to complete the remainder of Yeat's unexpired term.

Wilkerson announced his intention to resign from his position as city attorney in December to pursue the county post.

The number of candidates seeking the Precinct 3 county commissioner position also increased Monday.

Fay Reed, assistant vice president of State National Bank, announced today her intention to seek the post.

"It's something I've wanted to do for several years — now is the time," Reed said. She will run as a member of the Democrat party.

"My experience here at the bank will be a good background for the job," she said.

Reed said she plans to retire this

Pilot killed

Law enforcement officers examine the remains of a twin-engine plane that crashed in north Midland Monday, killing pilot Leon Anderson, formerly of Big Spring. Cause of the crash is unknown.

Plane crash kills former resident

From staff and wire reports
MIDLAND — A former Big Spring man died Monday in a fiery crash of his aircraft when the twin-engine plane he was piloting slammed into the ground after striking power lines and erupting into a ball of flames, authorities said.

Melvin Leon Anderson, 49, was flying the Cessna 414 plane, which went down northwest of the Midland Airpark airport Monday. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Keith Jobe.

Anderson was the craft's only occupant, officials said.

Anderson learned to fly at Big Spring Flying Service at the Howard County Airport in the early 1970s, according to Jack Cook, former co-owner of the Service.

Cook said that Anderson later flew charter flights for the firm, and it was reported that the pilot had taught flying lessons in the area.

Colorado River Municipal Water District secretary/treasurer Joe Pickle said this morning that Anderson had flown seeding missions for the District in the late '70s.

The crash caused a small grass fire and temporarily knocked out power to about 1,300 area homes, officials and witnesses said.

"It just disintegrated," said Lee Fisher, 41, who lives about 150 yards from the cotton field where the plane crashed. "Nobody in the plane walked away."

"It went straight into the ground," he said.

The crash was reported at 9:49 a.m. Midland Fire Department dispatcher Lloyd Dunagan said. Three fire trucks and one ambulance were sent to the scene, he said. The fire was reported out by 10:20 a.m.

The plane, owned by a local businessman, took off from Airpark without incident heading for Ruidoso, N.M., but was flying east when it suddenly lost altitude, struck the power lines and slammed into the ground, said Midland Department of Airports spokeswoman Marcy Blauvelt.

An investigator from the National Transportation Safety Board was investigating the crash, she said.

Grand jury meets to hear about 40 cases

By KERRY HAGLUND
Staff Writer

A Howard County grand jury convened about 10:30 a.m. today for what is expected to be several days of deliberations to consider about 40 cases for possible indictments, including eight capital murder cases.

Assistant District Attorney William Dupree said today he didn't expect the capital murder cases to be considered until Thursday.

The cases involve eight Howard County residents who were arrested in October after an investigation into the deaths of three men.

Jeannie Hernandez Fonseca, Frankie Hernandez and Joe Hernandez, all of 606 11th Place; Pete Salazar Jr., 411 N.W. 10th St.; and Arthur Islas Jr., 1306 Mesa Ave.; have been charged in connection with the death of Noe Perez, 39, of Grand Prairie.

Law enforcement officials believe Perez was slain in a Big Spring motel room in April. His body was exhumed in October from a shallow grave in northeast Martin County after a suspect led authorities to the gravesite.

Fonseca and three others, Antonio (Tony) Aguilar, 1321 Utah St.; and Enrique (Ricky) Sabedra and Orlando Aguirre, both of Knott; have been charged in connection with the death of two men whose bodies were discovered in the debris of a Luther home destroyed by fire in October.

The dead were later identified as Miguel Villarreal Calixto and Norberto Gurrola Hernandez.

Autopsy reports indicate both men died of gunshot wounds to the head. Authorities believe the two were shot and robbed, and that the house was intentionally set on fire.

Seven of the accused are in custody in the Howard County jail in lieu of bonds of $125,000 each. Bond on Fonseca, charged with two murder offenses, is set at $250,000.

Dupree said other cases to be considered by the grand jury include indecency with a child, felony driving while intoxicated offenses, burglary and credit card abuse.

Accident

Rural Metro Ambulance Service personnel place Frank Torres Martinez, 43, in the ambulance after a collision at the intersection of 17th and Gregg streets Monday. Martinez, 704 W. 15th, was treated and released from Scenic Mountain Medical Center emergency room. The accident occurred when Martinez's 1978 Buick Regal collided with a 1982 Buick Park Avenue driven by Randy Jack Messer, 33, Mertzon. Martinez was cited for running a red light. Both drivers were using seat and shoulder straps, according to police reports.

Chamber still accepting applications

Herald staff report
Applications are still being accepted by the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce's junior leadership program through Friday, according to Liz Taylor, manager of the chamber's Convention and Visitor's Bureau.

"The deadline (Dec. 18) has not been extended," Taylor said early today. "What has happened is that if applications arrive through the end of this week, we have decided to go ahead and accept and evaluate them."

"But Friday is the absolute end," she added. "We may be pushing ourselves even to accept them that late, but after that we absolutely can't evaluate them."

"We have 15 applications now," Taylor said. "We may not be able to accept all of these, because some of the students are already involved in 40 hours of extracurricular activities. We have to consider things like that in the evaluation."

The program offers a maximum of 20 openings for high school juniors from Big Spring, Forsan and Coahoma. A series of two-hour class sessions will be offered to qualifying applicants, Taylor said.

It is designed to introduce the students to the workings of the community and its government, she added.

"We can take only 20 as a maximum," Taylor said. "But we have not set a minimum. In other words, if we select 10 students rather than 20, the classes won't be different than if we had taken 20 students."

Applications are submitted through area schools. Students must be recommended by a government or English teacher for the program, and must have demonstrated an interest in community leadership, Taylor said.

Students must attend nine of the planned 11 classes to graduate, she added.

Classes will be held Mondays from 7 to 9 p.m. The sole expense to students will be transportation to and from the classes' meeting place, Taylor said.

Class topics will include agriculture, industry and education, the city, county and state governments, the area's health and welfare resources and the communications, recreation and churches resources available in the area.

Also, there will be a class on the economy and one on leadership skills, Taylor said.

House race

during his four previous two-year terms of office.

"Leaders must rule by more than rhetoric," Shaw said when contacted at his Austin office this morning.

He said that Gov. Bill Clements made the same campaign promises to balance the state budget and prevent increased taxes.

"I remember Clements' words during the campaign... then he did the opposite of what he said he would do," Shaw said.

The incumbent legislator also said he was encouraged by the opposition offered by Gilstrap and Fraser.

"No candidate relishes opposition, but it is healthy. I believe in the wisdom of the voters to look at what I have done," he said.

"It's very easy to sit outside and throw rocks at those of us that must make tough decisions," Shaw said.

His experience and seniority as a legislator is an asset that is a direct benefit to District 69, Shaw said.

Meanwhile, Fraser says his experience as president of Fraser Industries, Inc. and civic involvement qualifies him for the legislative post.

Fraser is Big Spring Chamber of Commerce immediate past president, industrial team chairman and past president of the Big Spring Rotary Club.

He is not a newcomer to the political arena. In 1986, Fraser ran against current Big Spring Mayor Cotton Mize. Mize won the election.

Crime Watch head kills husband, self

MESQUITE (AP) — A suburban Crime Watch leader fatally shot her husband and then killed herself, authorities say.

Cynthia Gibson and Joe Wade Gibson, both 30, were found dead in their home Monday morning, authorities said.

The medical examiner's office said Mrs. Gibson died of a gunshot wound to the head and Gibson died from one shot to the head and another to the neck.

Police Lt. Larry Sprague said the two had been talking about getting a divorce.

Mrs. Gibson called her husband's boss, who lives in suburban DeSoto, shortly before 5 a.m. and told him she had killed her husband and was about to kill herself.

Mesquite police were notified and the couple were found lying on a bed with the bedroom door locked, Sprague said.

"They were nice people. This is a classic case of someone you would never suspect this would happen to," said neighbor Randy Anderson.

Mrs. Gibson and another woman helped start the neighborhood Crime Watch program a year ago.

Alien arrests dropped in '87

Herald bureau report
HOUSTON — Arrests of illegal immigrants in Texas dropped a sharp 45 percent during 1987 as result of a new immigration law that should keep illegal immigration on the decline, U.S. Border patrol officials said Monday.

Reports from the state's five Border Patrol sectors show that 390,329 illegal immigrants were arrested in Texas from January through December 1987 compared to 712,932 in 1986.

Illegal entries into the United States were increasing at record-breaking levels until the U.S. Immigration Reform and Control Act went into effect in November 1986 and reversed the immigration trend, officials said.

The Border Patrol arrests in Texas increased from 456,713 illegals in 1983 to 473,612 in 1984 and 601,638 in 1985, records show.

The new immigration law offers amnesty to qualified illegals who have resided continuously in the United States since Jan. 1, 1982. It also provides for sanctions against employers who knowingly hire illegal immigrants who do not qualify for amnesty.

TUE employees get new uniforms

As of Monday, TU Electric meter readers in the Texas Electric Service division began wearing newly designed uniforms, the company has announced.

The uniforms, consisting of dark blue pants and light blue shirts and featuring the company's logo, eventually will be worn by meter readers throughout the TU Electric system.

Use of new uniforms is another step in the company's move to a single identity, which began with the merger of Dallas Power & Light, Texas Electric Service and Texas Power & Light into one company, Texas Utilities Electric Company, in 1984, according to a company release.

Coahoma city council to meet

Herald staff report

Sheriff's log

Herald staff report
A 29-year-old Howard County man died of a self-inflicted gun shot wound Monday.

Ruben P. Torres Jr. was pronounced dead at 1:05 p.m. at the scene by Justice of the Peace China Long, who ruled the death a suicide.

Long said Torres left a note and shot himself in the chest with a handgun.

The incident occurred at Torres' residence, located on the south service road of Interstate 20 by the Moss Lake exit.

Sheriff's deputies were called to the scene, but foul play was ruled out, according to a sheriff's spokesman.

• Sheriff's deputies confiscated two pounds of marijuana Sunday from a Howard County residence, according to Sheriff A.N. Standard.

The office had probable cause to search the residence and has one suspect in the case, the sheriff said. The case is under investigation.

• Anthony Garcia Arista, 29, 814 N.W. Sixth St., surrendered to the sheriff's office Monday on a charge of revocation of probation for driving while intoxicated.

• A criminal mischief complaint was reported to the sheriff's office early this morning. Damage to the front of a trailer on Crow Street in Coahoma was reported.

Police beat

Herald staff report
Four thefts and two burglaries were reported to Big Spring police Monday.

• Rosa Timberman, 403 E. Eighth St., told police a renter failed to pay her one month's rent and a security deposit totalling $235.

• Mary Bell, 911 S. Scurry St., Apt. 14, reported the theft of a license plate valued at $51.

• Wilma Pruitt, 1007 E. 14th St., reported the theft of a wallet and $300.

• A total of $19 was reported stolen from two newspaper vending machines owned by the Big Spring Herald. The money was stolen by someone who forced open the back of the machines, according to police reports. The newspaper racks were located at the Big Spring Post Office and Winchester's restaurant, 309 Benton St.

• Ronda Huit, 1905 Wasson Road, Apt. 5B4, told police that someone entered her residence and stole a television set, assorted change, a knife and clothing. Value of the items was not listed.

Four persons were also arrested by Big Spring police Monday.

• Timothy Donald Taylor, 29, 800 Marcy St., was arrested on charges of driving with license suspended and no insurance, second offense. Taylor was transferred to the Howard County Jail and released on bonds totalling $1,000.

• Adela Arisppe Juarez, 24, 1602 Cardinal St., was arrested on warrants for speeding, no driver's license and no insurance.

• Johnny Deleon Mendez, 21, Wester Villa, No. 15, was arrested on a charge of theft.

• Jesus Zaragoza Rios, 54, 711 N.W. Ninth St., was arrested on a charge of unlawfully carrying a weapon.

Tax district board members to take oath

Herald staff report
The Howard County Consolidated Tax Appraisal District will conduct its regular meeting at 1 p.m. Jan. 6 in the board room of the Courthouse Annex.

New board members are expected to take the oath of office during Wednesday's meeting.

Elected to the appraisal board are Lee George, Carlton L. Harris, D.D. Johnston, Harold Pearce and John Webb.

Board members are elected to two-year posts by seven county taxing entities.

Members are expected to appoint a chairman, vice chairman and secretary to the board during Wednesday's meeting. They also will appoint two people to the district's appraisal review board for a two-year term.

The review board is a quasi-judicial body that acts as a buffer between the chief appraiser's office and the taxpayer. Routine business, including approval of the last meeting's minutes and the financial report, also are scheduled to be conducted at the meeting.

Briefs

Mortgage scam grows, expert says

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Rip-off artists are victimizing San Antonio homeowners, especially military personnel, through what is known as mortgage equity skimming, an official of the Texas Attorney General's office says.

At least 100 and possibly as many as 200 homes in San Antonio alone have been lost to the schemes, according to Raul Noriega, an assistant in the attorney general's San Antonio office.

Noriega said Monday the rip-off artists are taking advantage of the city's weak housing market and the frequent transfers of military personnel.

The schemes leave consumers with blackened credit ratings and up to $15,000 in back payments due on houses once thought sold, and may end up costing the federal government, which insures the mortgages on the homes, as much as $1.25 million, Noriega said.

Noriega said roughly 30 complaints of mortgage equity skimming have been filed in San Antonio, and more than one-third involve military personnel.

Victims of the scam are usually people who are leaving town, making military personnel vulnerable because of frequent transfers. An estimated 11,000 service people and their families move in and out of San Antonio each year, he said.

Shutting down the scams has been difficult, Noriega said.

Noriega filed a suit last May to shut down a major mortgage assumption scheme.

Heart surgeon files for bankruptcy

HOUSTON (AP) — Famed heart surgeon Dr. Denton Cooley, who performed the first successful heart transplant in 1968 and the world's first artificial heart transplant in 1969, filed for personal bankruptcy protection claiming debts of about $100 million.

Cooley, doing business as Cardiovascular Associates, Southwest Apartment Homes, Point of the Southwest, Southwestern Plaza, Texas American Bank Building and Cool Acres Ranch, filed Monday under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code.

Cooley, 67, listed among his assets real property valued at $44 million including several undeveloped tracts, at least one apartment complex, a six-story office building, two beach houses and oil and gas royalties.

Other assets include six vehicles, including two Rolls-Royces.

Among his debts were 11 unsecured debts of $26.5 million ranging from $19.9 million owed to First City National Bank of Houston, which is itself in the process of being reorganized with the help of a Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. contribution, to $523 owed a local sandwich shop.

Cooley's filing said he has $2.7 million in tax liabilities, but he indicated that at least a portion of that is under contest.

Rescuers didn't have time for fear

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Three men whose dramatic rescue efforts saved a neighbor from perishing in his burning home said they acted instinctively and did not have time to be afraid.

Firefighters described the blaze as "an inferno."

"We were only concerned about getting the guy out of there," said Ted Lopez, 34. "I cut my foot on glass from a window we broke, but didn't notice it until everything was all over."

Lopez, John Blackburn, and

Cleat Wertz were among several neighbors who rushed to the blazing home of Joseph Stevens Sr., 65, as flames leaped from the structure late Sunday.

They pulled Stevens' son, Joseph Stevens Jr., 32, through a bedroom window after he was overcome by smoke. He was listed in good condition late Monday at Village Oaks Regional Hospital, where he was being treated for smoke inhalation.

Lopez said the elder Stevens, who escaped through the front door, yelled, "Joey's still in there! I think we've lost him."

Councilman resigns post to appeal

GRAND PRAIRIE (AP) — City Councilman Jim Kellum resigned his post to appeal a federal fraud conviction, but he says his public life is far from over.

"I definitely don't think that this is the end of my political career. I think this is probably just a temporary circumstance. Right now something else takes priority," he said Monday.

Kellum, who was convicted of defrauding the U.S. government of approximately $3 million in jet engine parts and office partitions in a defense contract, resigned from office Monday. He said he would like to remain in office, but said his court appeal will demand all his energies.

"I'll be back — not necessarily on the city council. But I'm an American and I love this country and I believe that we have an obligation to take a part in it," he told The Associated Press Monday night.

Kellum, 50, said he regrets leaving the council, but added that his appeal will be time-consuming and "will demand my full mental and physical attention." He said the last few months have been strenuous.

Kellum was convicted in October on 38 counts of defrauding the government through his company, Delta Manufacturing and Sales. He was fined $365,000 last month and was sentenced to four years in federal prison, five years suspended sentence, and five years probation.

Three inmates face execution

HOUSTON (AP) — Three Texas death row inmates face execution this week, but state attorneys predict that two of the three will be granted stays.

Not expected to win a delay was Robert Streetman, 27, who in 1986 came within 30 hours of lethal injection before getting a reprieve.

In the two other death row cases, inmates Mario Marquez and Ruben Cantu were expected to receive stays since their appeals are in the early stages of judicial review.

Streetman had insisted until last week that he be executed as scheduled after midnight Wednesday, attorneys working on his behalf said Monday.

But Streetman changed his mind.

"I'm not sure when he decided, but the word was sent to me late Thursday afternoon and he signed an affidavit with the warden as a witness," said Robert McGlasson, an attorney with the Capital Punishment Clinic at the University of Texas Law School.

Streetman was sentenced to death for the 1982 burglary-slaying of Christine Baker, 44, of Kountze, during a burglary of her home. Authorities said $1 was taken in the burglary.

New chief justice takes oath

AUSTIN (AP) — For the first time this century, a Republican has been sworn in as chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

However, it took only minutes for him to come in for criticism from a Democratic colleague.

State District Judge Thomas Phillips of Houston was sworn in as chief justice Monday by outgoing Chief Justice John Hill, who resigned halfway through his six-year term.

Phillips, the only Republican on the nine-member court, immediately was criticized by Justice Oscar Mauzy for holding his swearing-in ceremony in the House chamber rather than the Supreme Court chamber.

Mauzy, who had a reputation of being an intensely partisan Democrat when he was a state senator, told a news conference that holding the ceremony at the Capitol, where the Legislature meets, "blurs further the distinction between the three branches of government."

He said Phillips himself described the ceremony as "non-traditional and unprecedented."

After swearing in Phillips, 38, Hill commented briefly on his support of a so-called merit — or appointed — system for selecting judges, instead of the current elective method.

Mauzy said Hill's remarks were out of line.

Hill said in leaving the court he was more convinced than ever that Texas needs to adopt an appointive system.

"I truly believe that most Texans, most lawyers and most judges think that the present system of selection, with its dependence on massive contributions from lawyers and litigants, gives an appearance of impropriety that must be removed," Hill said in a speech.

Mauzy said, "I regret very much that he (Hill) chose a traditionally non-political event to continue this political contest which he has chosen to pursue."

Mauzy, an opponent of the appointive system of selecting judges, described Hill's comments as a "political grandstand play" in a "war that has been going on for some time."

Phillips was appointed by Gov. Bill Clements to the Supreme Court after Hill announced his resignation. On Monday Hill said, "Gov. Clements and I have not agreed on very much during our political lives, but I think Gov. Clements deserves praise for the careful, studious manner in which he selected Chief Justice Phillips."

Clements, in his first term, after defeating Hill for governor in 1978, also appointed Phillips as judge of one of four new Harris County courts created by the Legislature in 1981. Phillips ran unopposed for election in 1982 and 1986.

He has said his desire to be on the high court can be traced to his service as a law clerk in 1974-75 to then-Justice Ruel Walker, who later retired.

Phillips has a bachelor of political science degree from Baylor and a law degree from Harvard.

He, too, says he thinks judges should be appointed and then run to hold their positions, based on their records, as is the case in such states as Missouri. But he did not mention that issue Monday.

Fatal blaze sparks capital murder charges

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A 19-year-old man has been jailed on capital murder charges in connection with a fatal fire sparked by a neighborhood feud, authorities said.

Roland San Roman was being held late Monday in lieu of $250,000 bond set by Magistrate Quon D. Lew.

Arson investigators arrested San Roman at his home in the same housing project in which 5-year-old Kara Holmes died early Sunday. Capital murder charges were filed because San Roman is accused of setting a fire with the intention of hurting or killing someone, Ortiz said.

Authorities believe San Roman used a cigarette lighter to ignite a mattress, which had been propped up against a window that was broken by vandals last week.

The girl's mother, Lynn Holmes, told police Sunday that former neighbors, who were evicted from the project after she complained about harassment, had stolen her checks and food and had attacked her children.

"I was told later on, 'Don't forget them because they would get even with you worse than you got them,'" she said. "People are scared to get involved here. They know what will happen — revenge, like this."

San Roman is a friend of the evicted neighbors, Ortiz said.

Ms. Holmes said when the fire erupted about 3 a.m. Sunday, she went to a neighbor's home to call firefighters and her daughter went to the second floor of the apartment to awaken her 11-year-old brother, Daniel.

The girl thought her mother was still in the unit and wanted to go back downstairs after her, Ms. Holmes said.

The boy escaped through a second-story window, but the girl remained inside. She was found underneath a bed and had suffered second-degree burns over 75 percent of her body, officials said.

"She wouldn't go with him, so he went ahead and went out the window," Ms. Holmes said. "She probably got scared and panicked."

The fire caused an estimated $20,000 damage.

Pin stripes are now pen stripes

Ivan Boesky, convicted of insider stock trading, will have time to observe Wall Street from inside a jail cell. Boesky has been sentenced to three years in federal prison. His crime was defined as conspiring to file false stock trading records.

But Boesky's real crime was far broader and more dangerous. It was buying insider information and using that information to anticipate huge corporate takeover bids. By buying early, before outsiders knew of the takeover attempt, Boesky was able to ride rising stock prices to new heights — and then to cash in.

The profits were unbelievable. For $700,000, Boesky bought information from Martin A. Siegel that Boesky turned into $30 million profit. From Dennis B. Levine, Boesky bought information that made him $50 million richer.

Not bad for a boy from Detroit. Boesky amassed hundreds of millions of dollars on Wall Street. He bought a mansion, limousines and other trappings of wealth.

He became a major contributor to charities with his ill-gotten money.

Boesky wielded immense power, working from a computer console with phones ringing and fortunes riding on his wheeling-dealing.

Insider trading fed a fever of takeovers that threatened major corporations. The wild fluctuations in stock values made millions for profiteers, but meant layoffs for workers, as businesses were spun off in corporate attempts to save themselves.

The boom on Wall Street renewed confidence in capitalist free enterprise, bringing many small investors into the market.

But corruption began undermining the stability of the market, as outsiders found themselves manipulated by insiders.

The Oct. 19 crash was, in some measure, heightened by the lack of confidence provoked by revelations of high-level abuse. The bull market had horns of corruption that gored many an investor.

When nabbed by the feds, Boesky turned informer. He implicated 14 associates in five major brokerage houses and is still being questioned by authorities investigating corruption on Wall Street.

He paid an unprecedented $100 million to settle civil charges against him. A prosecutor described him as "contrite, humbled, repentant and profoundly changed."

We can hope that Boesky's prison sentence will send a message to Wall Street traders that white-collar crime will be punished.

The central marketplace of world capitalism must be protected from within. It's time to slam the prison door on the era of greed and corruption symbolized by Ivan Boesky.

CIA report predicts all AIDS carriers may die

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA

WASHINGTON — The Central Intelligence Agency has secretly reported what American experts have been privately saying at medical conferences for the last year — that all Americans infected with AIDS may die as a result of the disease.

The emphasis is on the word "all" — not just those now suffering the full effects of the disease, but those who have tested positive as carriers of the AIDS virus and are walking around, apparently well.

Physicians have always made distinctions between those who test positive for the virus, HIV (human immunodeficiency virus), and those who have "full-blown" AIDS, for which there is no cure. Sometimes they use the euphemisms — "AIDS victims" for the fatal parties and "AIDS carriers" for those who show no signs of the disease. But now it appears that none will survive.

"Some experts suspect that all of those infected will eventually progress to some overt manifestation (of the disease), possibly with a 100 percent mortality," the CIA cautiously noted in a recent internal report.

HIV is a relatively simple virus. It cripples the immune system by invading that system. The human body normally destroys invaders by producing antibodies on mobilizing "killer" cells like the "T-helper" white blood cells. The merciless HIV virus enters the T-helper cells and reprograms them so they produce more HIV virus when the cell is activated to fight infection.

The Centers for Disease Control identify four stages of AIDS. In the first, those infected with the HIV virus may or may not experience an illness resembling flu or mononucleosis about three weeks after the AIDS virus enters the body. Other than that, the person looks well.

In stage two, the body starts producing antibodies to fight the virus. This occurs within two weeks to six months from the time of infection and it is the first point at which the virus can be detected in a test.

"Regrettably, until (the carrier) develops a detectable antibody, there is no simple method of screening a large number of people for infection," the CIA notes. "The number of HIV particles circulating early in the illness is relatively small, apparently less than we find in the early stages of the viral illnesses such as hepatitis." Until the antibodies can be detected, a person infected with the AIDS virus will test negative.

Stage three is the incubation phase and may last for many years. The virus slowly spreads through the immune and nervous systems, but still there is no outward sign of AIDS in many cases, except enlarged lymph glands.

That, according to the CIA, leaves three groups of healthy-looking people, carrying the AIDS virus for as long as five to seven years without showing any symptoms.

It is when the outward symptoms appear that a person is officially diagnosed as "having AIDS" — the fourth stage of the disease. But according to the CIA report of the latest medical thinking, everyone with the early stages will eventually develop full-blown AIDS, and everyone with full-blown AIDS dies.

In stage four, it is "co-infections" that bring the body down — pneumonia, Hodgkins Disease, cancer, tuberculosis, salmonella, shingles, mononucleosis, hookworm, etc.

In the stage-three people, the ones who no symptoms, 20 percent to 38 percent will get AIDS within five years after their initial infection. Currently, 50 percent of the people who have AIDS are predicted to die within two years after they are diagnosed, the CIA reports.

Loophole big enough to cover Deaver

An AP News Analysis By JAMES ROWLEY Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michael K. Deaver's decision to testify under oath about allegations he improperly lobbied former White House colleagues probably gave prosecutors the only opportunity to convict him of criminal wrongdoing.

After Deaver was convicted last month of lying to a grand jury and a House subcommittee, independent counsel Whitney North Seymour Jr. said loopholes in the federal ethics law prevented prosecuting the former presidential aide for his lobbying activities. Seymour asked Congress to plug the loopholes because the Ethics in Government Act "is essentially unenforceable, and its protection of the public is illusory."

Because of elaborate "technical stumbling blocks" in the Ethics in Government Act, Seymour said last week, "the only real restraint the statute creates is obstruction of prosecutors with murky definitions and meaningless exemptions, which have converted the law into a quagmire of potential reasonable doubt."

Ironically, Deaver could have refused to testify before both the House Energy and Commerce investigations subcommittee and a grand jury impaneled by Seymour after he was appointed independent counsel on May 29, 1986.

It was that testimony that provided the basis for the only criminal convictions, despite the flood of allegations of improper lobbying for clients who paid him six-figure retainers soon after he left the White House in 1985. Deaver's indignant response to what he called "mean-spirited" charges trapped him into a legal web from which he never escaped. The same indignance surfaced at his perjury trial in U.S. District Court, when defense lawyer Herbert J. Miller Jr. rested his case without calling any witnesses on Deaver's behalf. The defense said Seymour's evidence "didn't merit a response" but after the verdict Miller said he "may have made a mistake."

During his final argument to jurors, Miller dismissed evidence about Deaver's contacts with former colleagues, describing the encounters as "non-events." He argued it "would be ridiculous and the height of folly" for Deaver to lie when he was "the focus of five or six investigations."

Miller tried to cast the patrician prosecutor as a bluenose, whose overzealous devotion to civic morality compelled him to mistakenly see criminal wrongdoing in the practices of high-powered lobbyists.

Miller went on to say that

Seymour had no evidence to charge his client with unethical lobbying, because if he did, "you know he would have indicted Mike Deaver 15 times over and be pleased to do it."

Deaver's attack on the charges against him began on May 16, 1986, when he told the House Energy and Commerce subcommittee: "For weeks now, I have read with growing anger the various misinformed allegations from unnamed critics in the press."

Although he arranged to testify behind closed doors, Deaver distributed a copy of his opening statement in which he said "the suggestion that I, or anyone in this town, could turn an issue around by a phone call to the president or to a Cabinet member does a disservice to our government."

He was grilled for several hours by Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., the panel's chairman, and other members of the subcommittee.

On June 20, 1986, Deaver was the first witness to testify before the grand jury.

Testimony on those two occasions formed the basis of the convictions that could send one of President Reagan's closest and oldest political associates to prison. Each of the three charges carries a five-year sentence and possible fines totaling $22,000.

Defense lawyer Randall J. Turk said Deaver "had every right, as everybody knows, to invoke his Fifth Amendment privilege and not testify."

Turk declined to say why Deaver was not advised not to testify, saying only that "when somebody is convinced they have nothing to hide and nothing to conceal, the protection of the Fifth Amendment seems theoretical."

The jury, however, bought Seymour's argument that Deaver "started on a plan of deliberate cover-up and perjury was a part of it."

Seymour argued that Deaver needed to preserve his lucrative business, which had billed $3 million in its first nine months, in the wake of the allegations. "He saw that slipping away from him unless he could stop these investigations," Seymour said.

During the seven-week trial, Seymour wove an intricate web of direct and circumstantial evidence to show that Deaver made numerous lobbying contacts despite his blanket statements he couldn't recall such meetings or telephone calls.

Testimony focused on the lobbying, but since Deaver was not charged with ethics-law violations, Seymour used the allegations of improper influence peddling as evidence Deaver had a motive to lie.

After 27 hours of deliberation the jury sided with the prosecution. "We just went by the evidence," said juror Janice Hale. "It was quite clear."

EDITORS' NOTE: James Rowley, who covers the U.S. District Court in Washington for The Associated Press, has written about the Deaver case since its beginning.

Getting priorities straight

By ART BUCHWALD
New "Cost of Living Guidelines" have just come out as to how a family of four should spend its income. They note the following: The head of the household is advised to allocate 25 percent for housing, 25 percent for food and 50 percent for Christmas.

Dr. Neil Morgan, an economics professor at the Black Monday School of Economics, came up with the new figures after studying 8,000 homes throughout the country. "The thing I discovered was that although many families are following the formula, there are still many who cheat and spend more on groceries than on the holidays."

"Did you find out why?" I asked him. "Their answers in most cases were unsatisfactory. One breadwinner told me it was traditional in his family to spend more on foodstuffs than Christmas and old habits are hard to change. Another said he would rather buy oil for the furnace than a Cabbage Patch doll that says, 'So's your old man.'"

"It sounds like they have bad attitudes." "They do. The 50 percent allocation for Christmas doesn't come out of the sky. It was carefully calculated so the family would not be caught short on presents during what we economists consider the most festive time of the year."

He continued, "It might have been lower except prices have gone through the roof and it now takes a person twice the man hours to earn a popcorn maker as it did a year ago."

"I could see some people wanting to spend more on edibles than on Christmas, but why would they insist on increasing expenditures for housing?" "Once again it boils down to greed and selfishness. In my interviews I found hundreds of people who said they would rather have a house that doesn't leak than a pool table."

"How could they defend that position?" "They insisted giving gifts is a bottomless pit. They wouldn't buy my economic theory that exchanging presents at the holiday season is not a luxury but a necessity: Every dollar invested in Christmas will bring you back two dollars' worth of good will in return. It is a bribe we all pay for peace and security whether it be for our children."

"Have you thought about increasing the slice of the pie to 60 percent instead of 50?" "It would be ideal to lower housing and food spending to 30 percent and raise the holiday giving to 70 percent of one's salary. But this might not go down well with the grocery and housing people."

"That's because they don't believe in Christmas." "The malcontents who want to reduce gift expenditures have their priorities all mixed up. They would rather eat bread pudding than invest in electric trains. They don't give a fig if the children are happy or not."

"If a family were to adhere to your salary breakdown figures, would they get by?" "Indeed. They should be able to meet all their needs and still have enough left over to play 'My Old Kentucky Home' on their new synthesizer."

Professor Morgan said while he hopes people will abide by his formula, the percentages are not buried in cement. "There are some families who prefer to spend all their money on Christmas and ignore eating altogether, and others who would opt for sleigh bells in the snow instead of replacing storm windows."

"Should the ones who don't buy gifts at Christmastime be penalized?" "Not necessarily. But they must be aware that every time they take someone off their list a teddy bear manufacturer in Hong Kong dies."

Nation

By Associated Press Delay could cost millions

LOS ANGELES — Northrop Corp. has postponed the first scheduled flight of the top-secret stealth bomber for four months, a delay that could cost the government $250 million to $500 million or more, The Los Angeles Times reported today.

The newspaper, citing reports from two Northrop employees involved in the program and from Wall Street securities analysts, said the bomber's first test-flight has been delayed until August.

The Air Force would not comment, the newspaper said. Northrop, under terms of its government contract, is not allowed to discuss the plane, which is supposed to be able to avoid detection by enemy radar.

Thousands jam shelters

Thousands of homeless people jammed shelters while an arctic outbreak of icy air and wind-whipped snow knifed into the Northeast today and continued to grip the nation's midsection, breaking records for electricity usage.

A storm that dumped up to 8 inches of snow on the Atlantic states headed offshore, but little relief from icy roads was in sight as wind chill factors as low as minus 70 degrees were predicted for the rest of the week.

"Some areas in the East Coast are saying this is going to be the coldest since '78. It's the coldest I've seen it in the last three years," said Dan McCarthy, a meteorologist with the National Weather Service's Severe Storms Center in Kansas City, Mo.

Postmaster retiring

WASHINGTON — Postmaster General Preston R. Tisch announced today he will leave office in the spring, but he has not set a formal date.

Tisch, completing 18 months as head of the U.S. Postal Service, said he intends to return to private business in New York City, where he formerly was an executive with Loews Corp.

Tisch took over the agency at a time of confusion and scandals involving procurement that eventually led to prison terms for several postal officials.

INS approves release

WASHINGTON — The Immigration and Naturalization Service says the balance of 1,149 Cubans approved for release from federal prisons will be freed as soon as space opens up in halfway houses or relatives' homes.

The INS said Monday that only about 100 of the Cuban detainees approved for release so far had actually been freed.

"We expect to release more to close relatives or to halfway houses as space becomes available," said INS spokesman Vern Jervis.

Cuban detainees turned down by the INS for release can take their cases to three Justice Department panels set up for the purpose.

Residents facing water shortage

WEST ELIZABETH, Pa. (AP) — Dry spigots forced thousands of residents to buy bottled water or lug buckets from tank trucks in the aftermath of a million-gallon oil spill that shut off water in Pittsburgh's suburbs.

"I was shocked when I got home," said Judy Schramm, pouring water into a plastic container from an emergency tank. "Not a drop came out of the spigot. Nothing. I just don't think people prepared enough."

Ms. Schramm, of Robinson Township, was among 23,000 area residents left without running water. Thousands more faced empty lines later today. Five of seven school districts that closed to conserve water Monday remained shut today, extending the holiday weekend for 18,000 students.

"It's really a bad situation. It's close to panicky," said Joseph Facenda, senior vice president at Giant Eagle supermarkets, where bottled water sold out almost as quickly as it hit the shelves.

On Saturday, a 40-year-old Ashland Oil Co. tank crumpled and spilled 3.5 million gallons of diesel fuel as it was being filled. A dike captured 2.5 million gallons, but 1 million gallons poured into the Monongahela River 27 miles south of Pittsburgh.

The Monongahela, which usually churns with commercial traffic, has been closed from the Ashland terminal to Pittsburgh since the spill. The Coast Guard hoped to re-open it today.

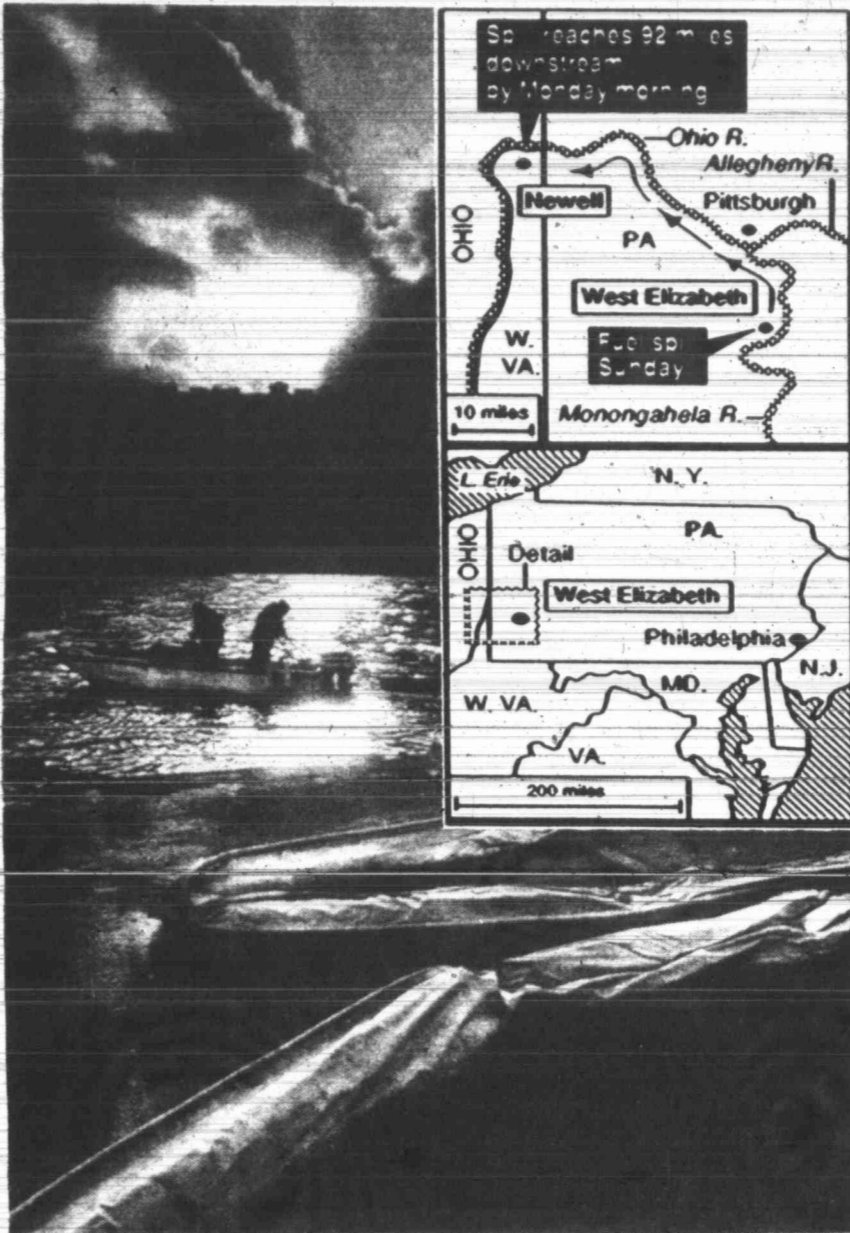

No existing water supplies were polluted. But water companies shut down their intake pipes from the Monongahela and Ohio rivers as patches of the clear, smelly oil flowed as far away as Newell, W. Va., 53 miles downstream.

"Most of our tanks are depleted. They're empty," said Robert Ross, vice president of Western Pennsylvania Water Co., which serves 750,000 people and had to close one of its two Monongahela River intakes.

About 10,000 West Penn customers in North Fayette Township were without water late Monday, as were 13,000 customers of the Municipal Authority of Robinson Township.

Ross estimated it would be "at minimum three to four days, more than likely five to six days," before the pump was turned back on. About 50,000 people would be immediately affected by a water shutoff.

Another company, West View Water, was down to its last reserves and had urged conservation to make it through this morning.

"Conservation is the pass word for the time. This is a regional disaster," said Joseph Dinkel, a West View spokesman.

Gov. Robert Casey declared a disaster in Allegheny, Washington and Beaver counties around Pittsburgh so the National Guard could haul water. More than 70 tankers, each holding 400 gallons of water, were available along with eight larger tankers.

The Red Cross set up a shelter at Pittsburgh's convention center for those forced to rely on steam heat. Pittsburgh's water comes from the Allegheny River and was unaffected.

The state ordered mandatory water conservation in affected areas. Businesses were told to curtail non-essential use, and residents were asked to significantly reduce usage for at least the next two to three days.

Communities downriver in Ohio and West Virginia also were alerted.

About 30,000 gallons was siphoned off the river by late Monday, and 1.4 million gallons sopped up from the tank site, officials said. Workers spread 23,000 feet of booms to trap the oil.

"There will be a considerable amount of oil lost to the environment."

By Associated Press Terrorist trial begun

DUESSELDORF, West Germany — Abbas Ali Hamadi, brother of a Shiite Moslem accused of hijacking a TWA jetliner, went on trial today on charges of kidnapping two West Germans to win freedom for his jailed brother.

More than two dozen police officers guarded the heavily fortified Dusseldorf courtroom, as the defendant began facing witnesses who are expected to include his brother, alleged hijacker Mohammed Ali Hamadi.

Shortly before the trial began, a group in Lebanon that is holding one of the West Germans Abbas Ali Hamadi allegedly kidnapped issued a statement in Beirut accusing West Germany of mistreating Hamadi's brother Mohammed, who is in Frankfurt awaiting trial on the hijacking charge.

Commission travels

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica — Opposition leaders in Nicaragua said they would tell an international commission visiting Managua today that the Sandinistas have failed to take steps needed to comply with a regional peace plan.

The commission began its six-day trip Monday in Costa Rica, one of five nations covered by the plan and the only one fully at peace.

In Managua, where the panel planned to meet today, 14 opposition political groups issued a statement Monday accusing the government of failing to live up to the accord. They said 1988 had begun on a "somber" note because of that.

The critics include editors of the opposition newspaper La Prensa, and Cardinal Miguel Obando y Bravo, the Roman Catholic primate who has mediated cease-fire talks between the government and U.S.-financed Contra rebels.

Prisoner protest ends

FREMANTLE, Australia — Authorities said more than 130 prisoners released five guards on Tuesday, ending a one-day protest of conditions at a prison that was first condemned as unfit for humans in 1898.

The hostages were not harmed by the inmates, who were armed with knives, police said. The inmates seized the guards on Monday after setting fire to their cells and barricading themselves in an exercise yard to protest conditions in Fremantle Prison, which has no running water.

Police surrounded the prison and threatened to fire tear gas at the inmates unless they surrendered.

Two killed in rebellion

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil — Police hurling tear gas stormed a prison in southern Brazil Monday night and two convicts were killed and six people hurt in a battle to end the daylong rebellion and save 27 hostages, officials said.

All the casualties — including one wounded police officer, four injured hostages and one wounded prisoner — were hit by bullets in sporadic gun battles.

British minister blasts Israel

LONDON (AP) — A government minister who stopped his tour of the occupied lands in Israel to accuse the military of unjustly arresting an Arab youth does not understand the problems there, an Israeli official said.

After touring the Jabaliya refugee camp in the Gaza Strip on Monday, David Mellor, junior minister of state at the British Foreign Office, also sharply criticized living conditions in the occupied lands.

"Conditions here are I think an affront to civilized values," Mellor told the British Broadcasting Corp. "It's appalling that a few miles up the coast (in Israel) there is prosperity, and here there is misery on a scale that rivals anything anywhere in the world."

He said he was shocked by the failure of the Israeli government after 20 years of occupation to improve conditions.

Israel's charge d'affaires in London, Moshe Raviv, rejected the criticism as "unbalanced" and said it could aggravate problems in the West Bank and Gaza Strip, where Israeli troops have killed at least 23 Arabs since Dec. 8.

During his tour, Mellor was introduced to the father of a 14-year-old boy who was arrested for throwing a stone at Israeli soldiers nearby.

Mellor then challenged a nearby Israeli officer, saying:

"I saw nothing happen which merited arrest. Colonel, I think you should look into this. This is not good at all."

The incident was the main story today in the Times of London and other British newspapers and the lead item in radio and television news bulletins.

Raviv said in a statement Monday night: "It is easy to pay a short visit to Gaza and describe the situation in strong language."

"The danger of unbalanced descriptions is that they encourage extremism and aggravate the situation," he added.

"It is more difficult to ask the hard questions. Why has nothing been done to advance a solution to the Gaza problem before 1967? Why after the conclusion of the Camp David accord and the peace treaty with Egypt did the Palestinians in Judea, Samaria and Gaza reject the scheme for autonomy and self rule?"

Egypt captured Gaza in 1948 after the declaration of the Jewish state.

City will reassess cookie tax

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — City Council has decided to reassess plans to tax Girl Scout cookies after receiving protests from across the nation, the mayor says.

Mayor Larry Estrada made the announcement Monday after meeting with representatives of the Girl Scouts and other charitable organizations.

An ordinance to tax products sold by charitable organizations has been on the books since 1967. But officials announced only recently that it would be enforced. Boxes of Girl Scout cookies would have been subject to a 5-cent tax.

In response to numerous calls, the city came up with two proposals, said Pete Dallow, director of administrative services.

One would exempt every local charitable organization from a sales tax on food; the other would allow them to hold two or three tax-exempt fund-raisers each year.

"We are hoping that within the next three to four weeks we'll come up with an ordinance or create an amendment that exempts sales by charitable organizations," said Estrada.

Yesterday's Puzzle Solved:

01/05/88

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You may feel a bit disoriented or anxious this morning, so sit down, relax, and collect your thoughts before beginning any new projects. Enjoy romance and the lighter side of life this evening.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Take care of any responsibilities which you have put off before starting on your scheduled plans. Let your superiors see how talented you are.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You may find it difficult to handle family matters because of pressing business affairs, but you'll have time to improve your home later.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can get much accomplished with your associates if you cooperate and work in harmony. Take care of personal calls tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Handle an emotional affair early today, then spend some time revising your budget. Work on improving a special talent.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Take a good look at where you're headed and where you've been. Make a definite plan of action which will help you achieve your goals.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Recognize the obstacles in your path, and find a way to remove them without changing your plans. Have a polite chat with your mate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You would be wise to use your charm if you want to achieve an important goal today. Postpone fun with your friends until your mood improves.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't break a promise you made to assist a business associate. Stick to your normal routines today, and be sure to get plenty of rest tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Many people will be helpful to you today if you ask politely and diplomatically. Don't forget to show your gratitude.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study every detail of a new venture, but keep the main issue firmly in mind. Enjoy an amusement with your mate, but avoid arguing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) An influential person with an inflated ego could give you a very dif-icult time if you don't maintain your sense of humor tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Figure out a way to make your home more charming and harmonious, and you'll be happier there. Get plenty of rest tonight.

If Your Child Is Born Today He or she will display more and more talent as the years go by, and in many different areas. Your progeny may have a tendency to day-dream, since he or she will always be thinking and planning, but be patient, as the success can be quite phenomenal later in life.

Oilers shoot for upset number 10

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers get no respect from the oddsmakers and other NFL teams, but that's fine with Coach Jerry Glanville.

The Oilers, who will face Denver in the semifinals of the AFC playoffs in Denver Sunday, are once again the underdogs.

"I think that's great, and I hope the feeling continues," Glanville said Monday. "It's more fun to be the Rodney Dangerfield of the league and try to get respect in three more weeks."

The Oilers defeated Seattle 23-20 in overtime Sunday in the AFC wild card game. They were underdogs against Seattle and they'll be even less of a favorite against the Broncos.

"We've only been favored in one game we've played all year, so we're just going for upset No. 10," Glanville explained. "We'd all be totally shocked if we were anything but underdogs."

The Oilers were favored to beat Cincinnati, 4-11, in the regular season finale and they won 21-17.

The Oilers hadn't had a winning season since 1980 and finished 5-11 the past two seasons until they rebounded to a 9-6 record this season.

Glanville says the Oilers aren't just happy to have made the playoffs. They want more.

"We have a goal to win four games in this mini-season (playoffs)," Glanville said. "We're not thrilled just to be going to Denver. We are thrilled to go up there and have a chance to win."

The Oilers led the injury-plagued Seahawks into the closing minutes but Steve Largent caught a 12-yard touchdown pass from Dave Krieg with 26 seconds left in the game, forcing an overtime period.

The Oiler defense that had contained the Seahawks throughout the game, stopped Seattle on three plays in overtime, allowing Tony Zendejas to kick a 42-yard field goal with 6:55 to go in the overtime.

Seattle's Curt Warner, the AFC's No. 2 rusher, missed the game with an ankle injury.

The comeback advanced the Oilers to Denver's Mile High Stadium where they'll face not only the Broncos but possibly icy weather.

"We can't give in to Denver or to any other conditions, including the weather," Glanville said. "We went to overtime (losing 13-10) in Cleveland last year and it was 9 degrees."

"We'll mention that to the players and we expect to play as well as in Cleveland and not lose to the weather."

Glanville said he has no plans to take the team to Denver early to adjust to the weather.

The Oilers' injury list Monday contained five players, including four starters, but only reserve cornerback Audrey McMillian, with a hamstring injury, was listed as doubtful.

Running backs Alonzo Highsmith (knee) and Mike Rozier (shoulder), tackle Dean Steinkuhler (thumb) and Ernest Givins (lower back) are listed as probable.

Bullets fire Loughery; assistant gets position

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — Wes Unseld admits he's not comfortable yet with being the head coach of the Washington Bullets. He's had only 27 games experience as an NBA assistant.

"It happened so quick. To be honest with you, I was asked a question and I gave an answer," Unseld said Monday after running his first practice at the team's training facility at Bowie State College.

Bullets owner Abe Pollin offered the job to Unseld on Sunday afternoon after meeting with team Vice Chairman Jerry Sachs and Vice President-General Manager Bob Ferry.

Ferry said that, at Sunday's meeting, it was decided "something had to be done."

"The team was not functioning as a unit," Ferry said. "It was really a case of 'It's the coach's job.' Hopefully, Wes can come in and blend the talents together."

He added that Unseld "brings a new dimension, a new look. Something fresh, something new."

Unseld inherits a team, after expecting to improve upon its 42-40 record last year, that lost eight of its first 10 games this season and has already had three losing streaks of four or more games.

The Bullets lost 111-100 Saturday night to the Houston Rockets for their fifth straight loss under former coach Kevin Loughery.

"I don't feel thrust into anything," Unseld said. "It was my decision (to take the job). I could have turned it down."

He met with the team for more than 30 minutes before Monday's practice.

"I told them what I expected from them and what they could expect from me," said Unseld.

Unseld hasn't given up on the 1987-88 season.

Jeff Malone, Washington Bullets' guard, asks new coach Wes Unseld if he can be excused from practice due to an eye injury. Unseld, who was vice president and assistant coach of the Bullets, has been appointed as coach to replace Kevin Loughery. Unseld was a long-time star center for the Bullets.

Temple romps Rutgers; OU kills Austin Peay

By The Associated Press

Tim Perry was recruited by Temple mainly for his defensive potential.

John Chaney, coach of the sixth-ranked Owls, said, "When we first got Timmy, there was no question he was going to be a great shot-blocker. We didn't anticipate his offense to come along like it has."

On Monday night, the 6-foot-9 senior forward scored 16 points to lead Temple to an 86-60 Atlantic 10 victory over Rutgers. More important, he became the 26th player in Temple history to break the 1,000-point plateau.

In other games involving ranked, it was No. 8 Oklahoma 109, Austin Peay 69; No. 9 Duke 101, William & Mary 70; No. 10 Purdue 81, No. 19 Illinois 68; No. 13 Nevada-Las Vegas 71, Long Beach State 68; No. 15 Florida 77, Towson 55; No. 18 Kansas 67, Washington 57 and Villanova 69, No. 20 St. John's 62.

Perry, who now has scored 1,003 points, also grabbed 10 rebounds and blocked four shots as the Owls raised their conference record to 4-0 and remained unbeaten in eight games this season, defeating Rutgers for the 11th straight time.

"It was a big night for Perry, made bigger because his brother, Lee, plays for the Scarlet Knights and a number of their family members were in the stands for the game in Philadelphia.

"I really wanted it bad tonight," Temple's Perry said. "Playing against my brother and with my family here, I wanted to do it tonight."

The brothers were not matched against each other during the game, but Tim was uncomfortable playing against Lee.

"It's pretty hard playing against your brother," he said. "You want him to do well, but you want your team to win."

Mike Vreeswyk had 17 points and Howard Evans 10 points and 10 assists for Temple, while Darren Campbell had 15 points for Rutgers, now 3-6 and 0-3.

No. 8 Oklahoma 109, Austin Peay 69

Harvey Grant's 22 points and 13 rebounds and 20 points and 11 assists by Ricky Grace led Oklahoma.

The Sooners, 13-0, set a school and Big Eight Conference record by going over the 100-point mark for the tenth time this season. Oklahoma had set the previous mark of nine during the 1984-85 season.

Austin Peay, 4-7, had only eight players suited up. Coach Lake Kelly said four others had been suspended for violating team rules and did not accompany the team to Norman. The Governors then lost starting point guard Marshall Ayers early in the game with an ankle injury.

Mookie Blaylock and Stacey King each added 18 points for the Sooners, while Barry Sumpter led Austin Peay with 14 points.

No. 9 Duke 101, William & Mary 70

Danny Ferry's 26 points — 18 in the first half — helped the Blue Devils to their seventh victory in eight starts.

Kevin Strickland and Phil

Austin Peay forward Jarvin Johnson (44) and Oklahoma forward Michael Bell (21) go up for a rebound during Monday night's game in Norman, Okla. The Sooners ran their record to 13-0 with a 109-69 victory.

No. 10 Purdue 81, Illinois 69

Troy Lewis scored 25 points to pace Purdue in the Big Ten opener for both teams.

The Boilermakers, 11-1, led 32-31 at the half, then Lewis sparked a 9-4 spurt at the start of the second half with a 3-pointer.

The Illini, 9-3, fought back on the shooting of Glynn Blackwell and Ken Battle to within 41-40 with 16:30 left. But the Boilermakers went on a 14-6 spurt to remain safely in front.

Tony Jones added 14 points for Purdue and Blackwell led Illinois with 18.

No. 13 Nevada-Las Vegas 71, Long Beach St. 68

Jarvis Basnight made two free throws with 31 seconds remaining to snap a 68-all tie as Nevada-Las Vegas went won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association game.

Morlon Wiley, the leading scorer for Long Beach State, missed two free throws with 16 seconds remaining. UNLV's Karl James made a free throw with six seconds to go. Then a 3-point attempt by John Hoffman of the 49ers hit the rim and bounced away at the buzzer.

Gerald Paddio led the Rebels, 2-0 in PCAA play and 11-0 overall, with 25 points. James finished with 14 points. Wiley, with 30 points, led the 49ers, who fell to 1-1 and 7-4.

No. 15 Florida 77, Towson St. 55

Pat Lawrence scored all 12 of his points in the first half, including three straight 3-point shots, to help Norm Sloan earn his 200th victory

Softball tourney planned

Plans are underway to have a national slow-pitch softball tournament in Big Spring this summer.

The Triple Crown Softball Championship is designed for three separate tournaments to be played in each of 12 states. Big Spring San Angelo and Abilene are the places in Texas. Each tourney is comprised of six separate divisions: three men's, two women's and one coed.

The champions in the tournament win an expense paid trips to Steamboat Springs, Colo., in August, worth $3,500.

Big Spring faces Snyder

The Big Spring High School Lady Steers take their 5-0 district record onto the floor tonight against Snyder High School's Tiger team in a district 2-4A game beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Snyder, 10-6, 3-2, is one of three 2-4A district teams the Lady Steers have not yet met in league action.

Games begin with the freshmen squads' tip-off at 4:30 p.m. in Steer Gym, followed at 6 p.m. by the junior varsity and 7:30 by the Lady Steers' varsity.

"Snyder is coming in looking forward to this game, and Big Spring and Snyder is always a rivalry," said Coach C.E. Carmichael today. "We will be allowing our high school students into the game free on an I.D. tonight, and we're trying to get a good crowd."

The Big Spring Steers are on the road tonight at Snyder. Coach Boyce Paxton's varsity squad carries a 3-0 district record into the game.

Saturday's road game in Fort Stockton saw Steers' standout Brian Mayfield score a career-high 48 points. He also blocked seven shots and yanked a score of rebounds off the boards for the Steers as they overcame the Panthers 91-88.

Snyder is 12-5 and 3-0.

Junior varsity begins at 6, followed by varsity play at 7:30.

Queens resume play

The Howard College Hawk-Queens will resume basketball action Wednesday when they compete in the South Plains Tournament in Levelland.

The Queens go into the tournament with a 3-10 overall record.

Skater overcomes injury

DENVER (AP) — A ruptured disc may have had Scott Gregory on his back, but it wasn't going to keep him away from the U.S. Figure Skating Championships.

Nor did it keep Gregory and Suzanne Semanick, the defending champions, from leading the ice dance competition after Monday's three compulsory dances.

Gregory injured his back while the couple was competing in West Germany. "It was Nov. 17," he said. "I went through a lot of therapy when I first got back onto my feet after a week on my back."

Ditka confident his team will play well

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — Chicago Bears Coach Mike Ditka says some of his players may have lost confidence in him for a variety of reasons, but he has no doubt the team can pull together for the NFL playoffs.

Talking with reporters Monday before the Bears left to practice indoors at Notre Dame, Ditka called this season "different" and "tumultuous" for himself and the Bears.

Last week, Bears President Michael McCaskey was quoted as saying some of the players had lost confidence in Ditka, in part because of bad feelings remaining from the NFL players strike. McCaskey's comments came a day after linebacker Otis Wilson got into a shouting match with Ditka over playing time.

On Monday, Ditka was asked whether he would consider resigning if he felt people lacked confidence in him.

"Sure," Ditka said.

Have the players, indeed, lost confidence in him?

"Oh, certainly," Ditka said.

"I'm too tough on them, I guess."

Asked if that loss of confidence had increased since last year, Ditka said, "Sure," although he said he didn't know why.

"We won two more games last year than we won this year," he said.

"You have to talk to the other people, the principals involved," he said, when pressed again about reasons. "I mean, I'm just answering your question. I'm agreeing that there is (a loss of confidence) and that's all I'm going to say about it."

Bears players didn't want to make an issue of it, either. Linebacker Mike Singletary said the McCaskey comments had been blown out of proportion and noted that controversy among the Bears was nothing new. Tackle Dan Hampton said the team doesn't want to be distracted from Sunday's NFL playoff game with the Washington Redskins.

Ditka is leading the Bears into the playoffs for the fourth straight season, and has a 65-29 record since joining the club in 1982.

Landry puts rumor to rest

DALLAS (AP) — A television report that Dallas Cowboys coach Tom Landry will resign and be replaced by University of Miami coach Jimmy Johnson drew a quick rebuttal from Landry.

The Dallas Times Herald reported today that a Miami television station had reported Monday night that Landry would retire and be replaced by Johnson, who coached the Hurricanes to the national championship in a season culminated by last week's 20-14 victory over the University of Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl.

Told of the report, Landry told the newspaper, "There's nothing like a vote of confidence."

Does Landry plan to resign?

"If I'm going to resign, I don't know anything about it," Landry said. "I'll be at my office in the morning."

Landry was returning Monday from a week-long vacation. He and the coaching staff will begin their 1987 review today.

Rockets win fourth straight Temple

By The Associated Press
Last year, Joe Barry Carroll, Sleepy Floyd and Purvis Short toiled for the Golden State Warriors, who finished with a 42-40 record. This year, all three are with Houston and currently riding a four-game winning streak. "It's a feeling that we have reached a point of arrival. We can beat people in different ways," Carroll said after the Rockets' 117-107 victory over the Dallas Mavericks on Monday night. "I've come to a team with a winning tradition."

Carroll and guard Sleepy Floyd were acquired by the Rockets in a Dec. 12 trade. Short was obtained in a trade before the season began. Akeem Olajuwon led the Rockets on Monday with 31 points and 11 rebounds. Short had 25 points and Floyd added 23.

"We're looking at every game as a game we have to have," Short said. "It makes it a lot of fun playing like we are now."

Elsewhere, it was Philadelphia 122, Phoenix 114; Cleveland 122, Denver 101; Boston 107, Utah 99; and the Los Angeles Lakers 133, San Antonio 115.

The victory snapped Dallas' five-game winning streak and pulled Houston within 2 1/2 games of the Midwest Division-leading Mavericks.

"It was an important game to win," Houston Coach Bill Fitch said. "We've really got to have intensity to beat a team as good as Dallas. We had a good effort from almost everybody."

Mark Aguirre paced Dallas with 31 points and 10 rebounds.

Celtics 107, Jazz 99

Larry Bird scored 28 points and Danny Ainge added 20, including six 3-point goals, to lead Boston over Utah. Kevin McHale had 24 points for the Celtics, who had to come from behind in the fourth quarter.

One minute into the final period, Utah held an 85-79 lead. But the Celtics went on a 19-5 run and held a 98-90 advantage with 4:53 remaining.

Bird said the difference in the fourth quarter came when "we played really well, came up with some good defense and, of course, Danny hit those 3-pointers."

Ainge was 6-of-6 from 3-point range and made half of them during the final period.

"I hit my first two 3-pointers and it felt good, so I felt I had the range," he said. "I feel just as comfortable shooting the 3-pointer as I do from 20 feet."

Karl Malone led Utah with 25 points and Mel Turpin came off the bench to score 22.

Lakers 133, Spurs 115
James Worthy scored 23 points and Byron Scott added 21 as Los Angeles won its 11th straight game, extending the longest streak in the league this season.

The Lakers led 47-46 with 5:15 remaining in the first half when Kareem Abdul-Jabbar blocked Greg Anderson's dunk shot attempt by reaching through the hoop with his left hand. No goaltending was called despite vehement protests by the Spurs' players and coaches.

Los Angeles then outscored the Spurs 12-2 over the next 3:26 to take a 59-48 lead. The Spurs were able to close to 69-63 early in the third quarter, but the Lakers outscored San Antonio 16-3 and took an 85-66 lead.

Alvin Robertson led the Spurs with 20 points.

76ers 122, Suns 114
Cliff Robinson scored 31 points and Charles Barkley added 28 to lead Philadelphia, snapping the 76ers' five-game losing streak.

Phoenix led 36-26 with 42 seconds remaining in the first period. But Robinson led a 23-7 run with 10 points to give Philadelphia a 49-43 lead and the Suns never got closer than five points thereafter.

Eddie Johnson paced the Suns with 27 points. Phoenix forward James Bailey was ejected from the game with 7:41 to go after getting into a shoving match with Philadelphia's Tim McCormick.

Cavaliers 122, Nuggets 101
Brad Daugherty came off the bench to score 25 points and Mark Price added 23 for Cleveland. A 28-4 Cleveland run, including 10 by Price, gave the Cavaliers a 38-20 lead late in the first quarter.

Denver rallied to within 50-47 midway through the second quarter, but a 19-6 spurt by the Cavaliers gave them a 69-53 halftime lead and they were never seriously threatened the rest of the way.

Mike Evans paced Denver with 28 points.

as Florida's coach.

Vernon Maxwell led six Florida double-figure scorers with 13 points. Freshman Livingston Chatman had 12 points and six rebounds. Dwayne Schintzius had 11 points and eight rebounds.

The victory improved Sloan's record to 200-172 and the Gators' mark to 9-3. Towson State, led by Marty Johnson's 18 points, is 6-5.

No. 18 Kansas 67, Washington 57
Danny Manning scored 17 points as Kansas overcame a 19-point Washington lead in the first half to pick up its eighth victory in 11 games.

Kansas trailed 29-10 with 8:52 left in the first half, but cut the Washington lead to 35-28 by halftime and outbattled the Huskies in the second half.

Lincoln Minor scored 15 points and Milt Newton added 12 for Kansas. Washington, 4-7, was paced by Mike Hayward, Jeff Sanor and Troy Morrell; all with 14.

Villanova 69, No. 20 St. John's 62
Doug West scored 21 points, including a key 3-pointer with 7:22 to play to lead the Wildcats to a Big East Conference upset. It was only the second loss in the last 37 home games for the Redmen.

West's long jumper came after St. John's cut the Villanova lead to 54-48 with a 7-0 run. St. John's, 8-2 overall and 0-1 in the conference, got within 62-59 with 49 seconds to play, but Villanova, 10-3, then made seven of eight free throws.

Gary Massey added 15 points for the Wildcats, 2-0 in the Big East, while Shelton Jones topped St. John's with 20, including the 1,000th point of his career.

Other Games
Unheralded Lafayette upset Notre Dame 83-68 and Louisville, which fell out of the Top Twenty this week, beat South Alabama 80-69.

Lafayette's Otis Ellis scored 35 points and grabbed 10 rebounds as his team evened its season record at 4-4. Notre Dame, 10-7, got 31 points from David Rivers.

At Louisville, Pervis Ellison scored 20 points to lead five players in double figures as the Cardinals, 6-3, raced out to a 41-13 lead. South Alabama, 5-5, pulled within 68-57 on Junie Lewis' 3-point shot with 3:55 left in the game, but the Jaguars could get no closer.

The Mini Page Teacher's Guide

For use by teachers and parents at home and at school.
For use with issue: The Making of the Constitution

Main idea: This issue is a time-line about the making of the Constitution. The following is a list of activities to be used with this issue. They are listed in order of difficulty, with the easier pre-reader assignments listed first. Ask the children to do the following:

1. Find the pictures of the Liberty Bell and Mount Vernon. Talk about why they are important to America's history. What does the Liberty Bell mean to you?
2. Draw a picture of yourself in one of the historic events from this time-line.
3. Cut apart the time-line into blocks. Mix them up, then place them in chronological order. As you put a block in its proper place, tell why that event is important in the making of our Constitution.
4. Underline all the cities and states from this issue. Find each one on a U.S. map. Which is closest to where you live? Have you ever been to any of the cities mentioned?
5. What are the earliest and latest dates from this issue? Figure out the number of years between the two.
6. Find the following words in this issue: permanent, federal, granting, effect, ratify, ordinance, surrender, conference and inaugurated. Define and make up a new sentence for each one.
7. Pretend you are a newspaper editor. Make up different headlines for each of the blocks in the time-line.
8. Do some more research on any man mentioned in this time-line to learn more about him.

The Steps to the Constitution

1787, Meeting to Write Constitution Begins

May 25: Delegates meet to rewrite the Articles of Confederation but find it too difficult a task. They decide to write a new Constitution.

1787, Congress Passes Northwest Ordinance

July 13: Members of the Continental Congress, meeting in New York, pass the Northwest Ordinance. This sets down the rules for admitting new states to the union. It makes all states, new and old, equal.

1787, Federalist Papers Published

Oct. 27: The first of the Federalist Papers is published. These are 85 essays written to newspapers defending the Constitution.

1789, Washington Inaugurated

April 30: George Washington is sworn in as the first president of the United States on the balcony at Federal Hall in New York.

1787, Virginia Plan Introduced

May 29: Edmund Randolph of Virginia introduces a plan suggesting the number of members in the Congress be decided by the number of people who live in the state.

1787, The Great Compromise

July 16: Roger Sherman of Connecticut introduces a plan at the Convention that sets up two lawmaking groups, or houses. One house would be based on the number of people in a state. The other would be based on the same number of members (two) from each state.

1787-1788, Ratification of the Constitution

Dec. 7: Delaware becomes the first state to ratify the Constitution.

June 21: When the ninth state (New Hampshire) ratifies the Constitution, it becomes the law of the land.

1790, First Supreme Court Meets

Feb. 1: The Supreme Court meets for the first time on the second floor of the Royal Exchange in New York.

1787, New Jersey Plan Introduced

June 15: William Paterson of New Jersey introduces a plan suggesting that all states, big and small, send the same number of members to Congress.

1787, Signing of the Constitution

Sept. 17: Thirty-nine of the 55 delegates to the Convention sign the Constitution.

1789, First Congress Meets

April 1: The House of Representatives holds its first official meeting. The Senate holds its on April 6. Both meet at Federal Hall in New York.

1791, Bill of Rights Ratified

Dec. 15: When Virginia ratifies the first 10 amendments to the Constitution (called the Bill of Rights), they are added to the Constitution.

1607, Jamestown Founded

May 14: The first permanent English colony is established at Jamestown, Va.

1620, Mayflower Compact

Nov. 21: Pilgrims aboard the Mayflower sign an agreement that they will set up a government and obey its laws.

1670s, Unrest in the Colonies

New taxes by King George and the English Parliament anger the colonists, who begin to protest.

1770, Boston Tea Party

Dec. 16: To protest a tax on tea, a group of colonists dress as Indians and board a British ship and dump 342 chests of tea into the harbor. Colonists refuse to buy English products.

1773, Declaration of Independence

July 4: The colonists declare their independence from England.

1773, British Surrender

Oct. 19: The British under the command of Gen. Cornwallis surrender at Yorktown, Va.

1776, Mount Vernon Conference

March 28: Many states begin quarreling among themselves. Maryland and Virginia are the first states to meet to try to work out their differences.

1776, Articles of Confederation Signed by All 13 States

March 2: The Articles of Confederation go into effect after Maryland becomes the 13th state to sign them. This is a plan of government granting most of the powers to the states.

1781, Annapolis Convention

Sept. 11: Only five states attend the meeting at Mann's Tavern in Annapolis, Md., although all 13 are invited to discuss their problems. They send a strong message to the Continental Congress that another meeting should be held.

Meet Chicago

For almost 20 years, Chicago has been selling hit records. The group has had 18 albums and many Top 10 records. Meet the members:

- James Pankow, trombone, has written many of the group's songs. He would like to write music for movies and to act.
- Danny Seraphine, drums, helped found the group when he was 15.
- Lee Loughnane, trumpet, began playing the instrument at age 12. He studied at the Chicago Conservatory of Music.

- James Pankow, Danny Seraphine, Lee Loughnane, Walt Parazider, Jason Scheff, Robert Lamm, Dawayne Bailey, Bill Champlin
- Walt Parazider, woodwinds, began playing the clarinet at 9. He tried out for the Chicago Symphony. He likes jazz.
- Jason Scheff, bass and vocals, joined the group in 1984. His father played bass for Elvis Presley.
- Robert Lamm, keyboards, is the group's leader.
- Dawayne Bailey plays guitar on the group's tours.
- Bill Champlin, keyboards and guitar, won a Grammy award for a song he wrote in 1979. He played in the group The Sons of Champlin before joining Chicago.

Chaplains complete training

Chaplains Carroll C. Kohl and Iva Mae Foster graduated Nov. 20, as members of Class XIII of the National Veterans Administration Chaplain Training School at the VA Medical Center Hampton, Va., according to Conrad Alexander, Big Spring VA Medical Center director.

The two-week program is designed to train part-time VA chaplains for service in the VA Chaplaincy.

Kohl is well-known and respected in Big Spring, as the pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church for the past 17 years, said Alexander.

For 14 of those years he has served the patients of the Big Spring VA Medical Center. Kohl is endorsed by the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church.

Foster was recently transferred from the VA Medical Center in Ann Arbor, Mich., to serve half-time at the Big Spring Medical Center.

While in Michigan she pastored several United Church of Christ congregations and is endorsed by

CARROLL C. KOHL

IVA MAE FOSTER

that denomination, said Alexander.

Foster completed a year's internship at St. Elizabeth's in Washington, D.C.

Both Chaplains Kohl and Foster feel better equipped to serve the needs of veterans and to serve within the largest medical care delivery system in the United States — the Veterans Administration Medical Centers, said Alexander.

Health exam probes too deep

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both employed by the same large company. Recently we were required to take physical examinations for health insurance.

We were each given a questionnaire to fill out. On the form was a section "for women only." The women were asked: "At what age did you have your first sexual encounter?" (The men were not asked this.)

I refused to answer it, and told the examining nurse that I thought it was nobody's business. She insisted it was "scientific and important to complete the report." As a matter of principle, I left that question unanswered, but I suspect the nurse filled it in for me so the questionnaire would be "complete."

Abby, would you have answered that question? And of what possible use could that information be in a routine health examination?

A PRIVATE PERSON, ATLANTA

DEAR PRIVATE PERSON: Congratulations. You are also a thinking person. I would not have answered that question. It was inappropriate, irrelevant and an invasion of privacy.

Thank you for giving me this opportunity to again tell my readers that they are not obligated to answer a question in a questionnaire simply because it is asked. Leave a blank space, or write in "not relevant" to the questions you find an invasion of your privacy.

DEAR ABBY: I am so disgusted I don't know what to do, but I have to tell somebody, so I'm telling you.

We had a telephone with a clear-ringing bell for as long as I can remember — and I am not young. The phone gave out and had to be replaced, so I just went to AT&T and bought a new one. Well, this phone does not ring. It sounds like a sick turkey!

It cannot be heard if the TV is on, and worse yet, it came in a box marked "Manufactured in China."

That did it! I will not have anything in my house that is not made in this country. I am taking this phone back — I don't care if I have to resort to smoke signals. And another thing, why did they change the bell? I was so accustomed to the old ringing sound.

Lord knows we pay enough for telephone service without having to put up with an instrument that not only is made in China but sounds like a sick turkey gobbling.

HAD ENOUGH

DEAR HAD: You may have had enough — but there's more! In order to buy a telephone like the one that gave out, you may have to buy a secondhand instrument. New is not always better. We're lucky these days if what we can get is as good as what gave out.

DEAR ABBY: I have recently become a vegetarian (it's been a year now), and with my new meatless lifestyle, I am faced with a problem: When I am invited to someone's home for dinner, would it be appropriate for me to inform the hostess when I accept that I am a vegetarian? Or should I just wait until I get there, and eat "around" the meat? I don't want to put my hostess to any inconvenience.

MEATLESS IN MARYLAND DEAR MEATLESS: Tell your hostess in advance. If I were the hostess, I would appreciate knowing if any of my guests required special dietary considerations.

Most teen-agers do not know the facts about drugs, AIDS, how to prevent unwanted pregnancy and how to handle the pain of growing up. It's all in Abby's new, updated, expanded booklet, "What Every Teen Should Know." To order, send your name and address, clearly printed, plus check or money order for $3.50 ($4 in Canada) to: Dear Abby's Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. Postage and handling are included.
