Bush confident; Dukakis pushes populism

By WILLIAM M. WELCH
Associated Press Writer

George Bush, his lead holding firm in the polls, is confidently talking about the look of a Bush presidency and borrowing his opponent's "I am on your side" line. Michael Dukakis visited his ill wife and pressed his populism in the Midwest.

With the race for the White House in its final week, President Reagan was getting in some campaigning today with a stop on behalf of the vice president in Ohio, one of the battlegrounds. Before leaving California on Tuesday, the president decided

Dukakis as "no Harry Truman, and he's no FDR."

New polls released a week from Election Day showed the Republican presidential nominee still leading solidly.

A CBS News poll conducted Saturday through Monday showed Bush ahead by 12 percentage points, 53-41 percent — virtually the same as the 13-point lead a CBS poll had shown a week ago.

But fully one voter in five said they could still change their minds before Election Day. The survey was of 1,066 probable voters and had a margin of error of plus or minus three percentage points.

"The liberals now are saying that they're on your side," Ronald Reagan said. "I guess they think that that will make it easier for them to reach their hand around and put it in your pocket."

An ABC News-Washington Post poll done Wednesday through Monday gave the GOP nominee a 13-point lead over Dukakis, 55-42 percent. The survey of 1,099 probable voters had a margin of error of four percentage points.

An ABC News poll in California showed Bush the leader by seven percentage points in the nation's largest state.

Dukakis aides contended their own private polls showed the Democratic presidential nominee gaining on his Republican rival in battleground states. Privately, some Democrats expressed doubts.

Dukakis was following a relentless schedule. Following evening appearances in Detroit and Kansas City, he made a late-night flight to Minneapolis where his wife Kitty spent a second night hospitalized with what aides said was a viral infection.

Spokesman Paul Costello said her fever had eased and she was improving.

The Democratic nominee was campaigning today in Minneapolis, Chicago, Pittsburgh, and Philadelphia, where he was joining former Democratic candidate Jesse Jackson at rally at a local high school.

Dukakis appealed to black voters Tuesday night at Detroit's

Greater Grace Temple, where he said the Republicans have ignored the needs of inner cities.

Bush spoke to an evening rally in Waukesha, Wis., where he took a line directly from Dukakis' new populist campaign theme.

"I am on your side," Bush declared. "You are on my side."

But in Nevada, Reagan was mocking Dukakis for that same line.

"The liberals now are saying that they're on your side," Reagan said. "I guess they think that that will make it easier for them to reach their hand around and put it in your pocket."

Murder trial jury selected

By SARAH LUMAN,
Staff Writer

A six-man, six-woman jury was sworn in shortly after 10 a.m. today and instructed concerning the murder trial of 27-year-old Frankie Salazar Hernandez.

After two days of questioning by attorneys, 32 prospective jurors were qualified by 7 p.m. Tuesday night. Those panel members returned to 118th District Court today, and 12 members of the jury were tolled from the list.

District Judge James Gregg then swore in the jury and issued preliminary instructions for considering the case.

Because the case had originally been expected to be tried as a capital case, the judge explained to the jury, and because jury selection could not have been completed this rapidly had it been a capital case, he had advised the attorneys that presentation of testimony and evidence will begin Monday morning.

That delay, the judge said, will provide the attorneys an opportunity to subpoena witnesses for testimony and assemble depositions, statements and evidence for presentation to the court.

Judge Gregg said today he was pleased to have the jury selection completed, because it would allow the case — and other cases that do not require a jury but would have been delayed — to proceed.

Defense attorney Tom Morgan, representing Hernandez, charged with the April 1987 slaying of Noe Perez, said today he "could not comment" on the jury selection proceedings.

District Attorney Rick Hamby

also expressed satisfaction with the jury selection, noting that it puts "us ahead of schedule. Any time we can save a day, or two days, of the court's time," he said, "we're pleased" because the court could consider non-jury matters.

The charges were reduced to murder Monday after District Judge James Gregg granted Hamby's motion to reduce the charges in order to facilitate completion of the trial.

Defense attorney Tom Morgan, continued his individual voir dire of panel members Tuesday afternoon, after a morning session in which five of seven prospects had been dismissed for cause.

Late Tuesday, Morgan pressed the prospective jurors to hold out under pressures — whether of the lateness of the hour, hunger or a desire to see their families — and vote the courage of their convictions.

The panel and attorneys remained in the courtroom until 7 p.m. Tuesday trying to resolve difficulties in jurors' answers concerning their willingness to consider a minimum sentence of five years' probation in a murder case.

Hamby had questioned the panel as a group Monday concerning their willingness to "consider" the full range of punishment for murder. He said state law mandates a minimum punishment of five years in the state penitentiary for a murder conviction and allows a maximum punishment of 99 years in the Texas Department of Corrections, or a life sentence.

Hamby then polled the jurors concerning their willingness to con-

Animal troubles Homeowners air their concerns

By MICHAEL DUFFY

Homeowners near the Big Spring Humane Society Shelter met Tuesday night to complain of problems they say they've endured since the shelter opened its doors two years ago.

The meeting at Berea Baptist Church, 4204 Wason Road, located next to the shelter, was organized and moderated by Howard County Commissioner Bill Crooker. About 20 residents made their complaints known.

Crooker said he organized the "unstructured meeting" to open the lines of communication between both groups. The Humane Society Shelter sits on two acres of land at 4200 Wason Road, just outside the city limits; it opened in September 1986.

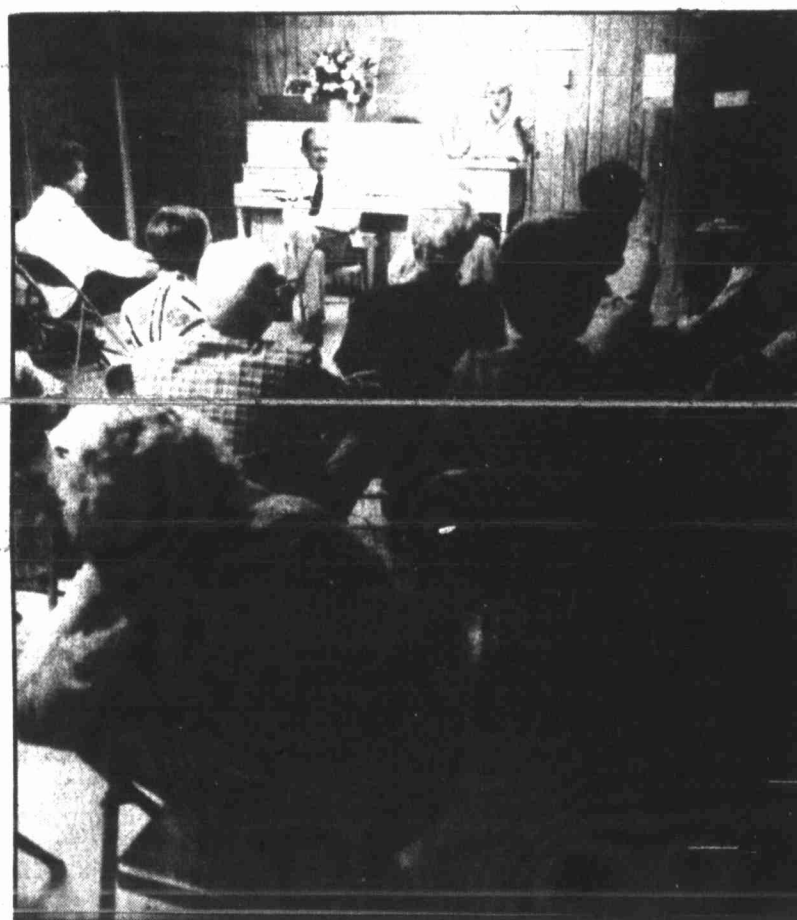

Three Humane Society representatives, Bettie Cox, president, 2405 Allendale Road; Margaret Lloyd, 2308 Roberts St., a founder and member of the board of directors; and Karen McCarthy, shelter director, also attended the meeting.

The main criticisms about the shelter expressed by residents were excessive noise; foul odors; roaming animals; and decreased property values.

The solution unanimously agreed upon by the homeowners — not necessarily Humane Society members — was that the shelter should be moved.

Crooker advised that a permanent solution will "not come overnight, but there are alternatives we can all explore."

He said, however, "that I truly feel as a group of people with the will we can find a solution for the problem."

Humane Society President Bettie Cox addresses a group of homeowners Tuesday night at Berea Baptist Church.

Humane Society representatives and homeowners agreed to further discuss how to deal with the problem at another meeting tentatively scheduled for Nov. 15 at the church.

Homeowners were candid while discussing their complaints. Bonnie Hyden, 2204 Grace St., said her primary concern is the noise.

"It's impossible to sleep with the window open with dogs barking all day and all night," she said.

Marvin Wise, 2204 Carl St., complained about roaming animals in his neighborhood who are infested with ticks and cited a "lack of control" at the facility.

Wise addressed the Big Spring

City Council about the problem at a recent meeting.

Wesley Thixton, HC76, Box 72, whose father, Garner Thixton, served as the purchasing agent for the Humane Society, said he has been forced to shoot several stray animals from his front porch, an act he said he was "not proud of."

"My kids can't go out the front door," Thixton advised. He added that his children have been attacked by stray animals.

Bill Lewis, 4001 Wason Road, said he was "constantly picking up dog poop" deposited by wandering animals.

Wanda McMurray, 2300 Grace St., said that barking dogs disrupt the Sunday School classes she teaches at the church and asked that the animals be fed at a different time of day.

Bill Banks, 2109 Carl St., who said he represented Berea Baptist Church, noted that the shelter has "no business being here," citing the "tremendous smell" and "unbearable noise."

He also said the shelter represents a health threat, explaining that there is an excessive number of flies that accumulate on church property during the summer.

Eighteen of the 20 homeowners also said they were never contacted about whether they had objections to the shelter being built next to their property prior to construction.

Cox said, however, that she was informed by Garner Thixton that most of the homeowners in the adjacent area were contacted and did not voice any objections.

"We thought people were consulted. I guess we should have HUMANE page 3-A

Marines exchange gunfire in Panama

By ALINA GUERRERO
Associated Press Writer

PANAMA CITY, Panama — Marine sentries at a U.S. Air Force fuel storage depot traded shots on and off for almost two hours with unidentified intruders, but there were no injuries, the U.S. Southern Command says.

The gunfire occurred Monday night on the southern edge of the Arraijan Tank Farm and began when "11 Marines in listening posts heard movement, voices and visually confirmed the presence of armed intruders in the jungle," the Southern Command statement said.

In Washington, the Pentagon said "there were six more exchanges of fire . . . off and on until about 10 p.m." It said the incident was under investigation.

Sentries have reported numerous intrusions at U.S. military facilities in Panama this year.

A Marine sentry was killed April 11 at the tank farm when he was accidentally shot by fellow guards as they were investigating the first of the intrusions by what were described as eight men in dark

Demos' 'Texas winnable' belief discounted by GOP

By SCOTT ROTHSCHILD
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN — Supporters of Democratic presidential nominee Michael Dukakis are buoyed by a poll that shows Republican George Bush's lead narrowing in Texas, but Republicans say the Democrats are whistling in the dark.

"A lot of us working in the campaign have been feeling movement. And the good news is, it wasn't just a feeling. It turned out to be a hard fact," said state Land Commissioner Garry Mauro on Tuesday.

Mauro said Texas is within the grasp of Dukakis because of the "coattail margin" of his running mate Sen. Lloyd Bentsen. Bentsen's coattails, he said, "made this a dead-even race."

Mark Sanders, a spokesman for the Bush campaign, said the Republican nominee maintains a solid lead in Texas. "The Dukakis campaign is about to swallow the bitter pill of defeat," Sanders said.

An ABC News poll taken Saturday and Sunday showed Bush with a 52 percent to 45 percent lead, a considerably smaller margin than previous polls have indicated. The poll was a sample of 505 likely voters taken and had a margin of error of five percentage points.

Sanders doubted the reliability of the poll and cited the Fort Worth

Star-Telegram poll taken Oct. 21 through Oct. 24 which gave Bush a 58-37 lead.

"They're doing what any desperate, dying campaign does. They're trying to gain momentum and they're touting faulty polls," Sanders said.

Tom Cosgrove, state campaign director for Dukakis, said that based on the 1982 state election, Bentsen should give the ticket a six-point boost. "This race is closing at a fast and furious pace. Today it is one point away from the Bentsen coattail margin," said Cosgrove.

In 1982, polls showed then-Gov. Mark White eight points behind Republican incumbent Bill Clements just before the election. But Bentsen's voter turnout efforts have been credited with lifting White to victory, as well as other statewide Democrats on the ballot.

Greg Hartman, who is directing the voter turnout for the Dukakis campaign, said the effort will be even greater Nov. 8. "On Election Day, the Texas Democratic Party will have three times the resources to turn out our vote than we had in 1982."

He said heavily Democratic counties are voting absentee in record numbers. Of about 80 targeted counties, more than 70 have already surpassed the 1984 absentee voting totals, he said.

In other Texas political developments Tuesday:

• U.S. Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, blasted Railroad Commissioner Kent Hance for "jumping on the caboose" on the issue of foreign ownership in the Texas oil and gas industry in his television campaign commercials for re-election.

"Mr. Hance has never lifted a finger in the effort to identify the extent or limit the influence of foreign ownership of American assets," Bryant charged. "Mr. Hance is really just a windsock, heading in whatever direction the wind of his ambition blows."

• Republican Chief Justice Tom Phillips' campaign requested $2,500 from his Democratic opponent's campaign, saying Justice Ted Robertson used Phillips' campaign footage in an ad.

"Normally we would have allowed Judge Robertson to use our advertising footage without charge since its use is within the fair use exemption, just as the '60 Minutes' segment of our commercial is," said Jim Arnold, Phillips' campaign manager. "But in Robertson's sanctimonious press release . . . he accused our campaign of a copyright violation for using the '60 Minutes' segment. So if he still maintains that position, he has committed a copyright violation by using our footage for his ad," Arnold said.

Hance awaits response on planned oil meeting

DALLAS (AP) — A Texas Railroad Commission member is planning a meeting of non-OPEC oil producing nations and states next week but has yet to get any response on who will attend.

The proposed meeting's organizer, Railroad Commissioner Kent Hance, has not heard whether any of the officials he invited will show up in Austin Nov. 10, an aide said Tuesday.

"Hopefully by Friday we'll have a much better idea," Glen Hunt, Hance's administrative assistant, said.

Hunt said staffers in Hance's office decided Monday to set the Nov. 10 meeting date after leaders of the invited nations and states found it difficult to determine when most could attend.

Invited to the meeting were 10 oil-producing nations, a Canadian province and nine states, Hunt said.

On Oct. 11, letters proposing the meeting were sent to non-OPEC nations. Most of the countries had been invited to a meeting in Vienna, Austria, in April by members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

Non-OPEC countries invited to the Texas gathering include Angola, China, Egypt, England, Columbia, Norway, Oman, Malaysia, Mexico and Canada. Also invited was the Canadian province of Ontario, along with states of Wyoming, Texas, Alaska, California, Colorado, Louisiana, New Mexico, North Dakota and Oklahoma.

"Due to the current developments in the price of oil and OPEC interest in cooperation from non-OPEC producers, I feel it is imperative that the non-OPEC producing countries meet to discuss the strategic considerations surrounding the future of our industry and respective economies," said Hance's letter.

"Price stabilization is an issue which will not disappear until we take action," said the letter.

The meeting should come before OPEC convenes Nov. 21 in Vienna, said Hance.

He was appointed by Gov. Bill Clements last year to a seat on the Railroad Commission, which oversees the oil and gas industry in Texas. Hance has since made highly publicized trips to OPEC meetings.

Hance, who said major financial institutions send representatives to the sessions, contends that states such as Texas should also have officials there.

However, Hance's notion has been criticized by his opponent in the Nov. 8 election. Hance and Democratic state Rep. Clint Hackney are vying for the remaining two years of the Railroad Commission term to which Hance was appointed.

Hackney has said Hance shirked his commission business to attend the OPEC meetings.

High court hears Texas taxation arguments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas could be forced to refund $2.5 million in taxes collected on sales of books, newspapers and magazines if the Supreme Court rules a new-defunct law that exempted religious publications was unconstitutional, an attorney says.

Roger James George Jr., an attorney representing Texas Monthly magazine, told the high court Tuesday that the law discriminated on the basis of content and amounted to an unconstitutional promotion of religion.

"The problem is intrusiveness," he said. "The problem with this exemption is that it focuses on the message. Someone must determine what message is appropriate."

At issue is a Texas court ruling that said the sales tax on publications other than religious periodicals neither violated equal protection rights nor breached the constitutionally required separation of church and state.

From October 1984 through October 1987, sales of books and newspaper subscriptions were subject to the Texas sales tax. But periodicals published or distributed by a religious faith that consist wholly of writings promulgating the teaching of the faith were exempt from the tax.

However, in October 1987, the Texas Legislature reinstated the broad exemption for publication sales that had existed prior to 1984.

Texas Monthly, a general interest magazine with a circulation of about 280,000, challenged the law after paying $149,107 in sales taxes in 1985. The magazine is seeking a refund.

George told the court Tuesday that the exemption results in a subsidy of religion because religious organizations don't have to pay the same tax as newspapers or magazines.

George argued that under the law, religion did not get special treatment for other sales, "except for the message." A church's sale of candles or a crucifix, he said, are subject to taxation.

While sales taxes now do not apply to magazine subscription sales, George argued there was nothing to stop the state Legislature from imposing them during another session.

"Sometimes legislators impose taxes when there is a suspicion, at least, to either silence or chill speech," said George, whose magazine publishes a yearly list of the 10 best and 10 worst state legislators.

Tenneco to sell Louisiana Intrastate Gas Corp.

HOUSTON (AP) — Tenneco Inc. is selling its Louisiana Intrastate Gas Corp. pipeline business, which it purchased three years ago for more than $500 million.

Tuesday's announced sale, expected to be completed by next spring, is part of a restructuring move prompted by last month's $7.3 billion sale of Tenneco Oil Co.

Tenneco officials did not disclose the anticipated sale price for the business.

LIG, an affiliate of Tenneco Gas Pipeline Group, operates approximately 1,900 miles of intrastate gas pipelines for deliveries into the industrial heartland of Louisiana.

The Louisiana affiliate contributed about $10.3 million in pre-tax revenue in 1987, said spokeswoman Suzanne Thomas.

"LIG was acquired by Tenneco in 1985 primarily to secure access to markets for gas production from our Tenneco Oil Company subsidiary," said James L. Ketelsen, chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

"With the sale of Tenneco Oil Company, ownership of these properties is no longer strategically important," he added.

LIG has an average daily pipeline flow of 650 million cubic feet per day and serves more than 75 customers, including agricultural and industrial plants, electric utilities, local distribution companies and paper mills, Ms. Thomas said.

The sale will not affect Tenneco's other interstate or intrastate natural gas pipeline businesses, company officials said. The company operates approximately 20,000 miles of pipeline in a 26-state market area, Ms. Thomas said.

The company said it expects to identify a buyer by the end of 1988 and close the deal no later than March 31.

Tenneco last week reported third-quarter earnings of $7 million, a sharp turnaround from the $117 million loss posted for the same 1987 period.

Tenneco Inc. is a diversified industrial corporation with major business interests in natural gas pipelines, farm and construction equipment, automotive parts, shipbuilding, packaging, chemicals and minerals.

New wire plant could draw others to El Paso

EL PASO (AP) — A Japanese-American joint venture that will make wire for the insides of electric motors will help diversify El Paso's economy, an expert says.

Texas Magnet Wire Co. is scheduled to open its $20 million plant late next year in south El Paso County. The plant, which will supply maquiladoras in Ciudad Juarez, will employ 70 to 100 people, officials said Monday.

Don Michie, head of UT-El Paso's Institute for Manufacturing and Materials Management, said the new plant could not only supply the needs of twin plants in Mexico, but help attract industries such as defense contractors.

"We're beginning to set up an industrial base to support non-maquila type of investment," he said.

The plant will produce wire coils used in electrical motors. Company officials said Monday their main customers will be Juarez maquiladoras — Mexican assembly plants for U.S. products. Juarez has several electrical motor plants.

"Just across the border there are so many assembly plants and most of them could be our customers," said Yoshiro Wada, president of Fujikura America, which is building the plant in a joint venture with Rea Magnet Wire Co.

The plant will make $25 million to $30 million worth of wire in 1990, said James Vann, Rea's chairman.

Fujikura will be the second Japanese company to build a manufacturing plant in El Paso. Earlier this year, American Yazaki opened an El Paso plant to supply its automotive wire harness plants in Mexico.

Feds arrest one in bomb death

FORT WORTH (AP) — An Ohio man is charged in connection with a pipe bomb blast that left one boy dead and five other children injured, authorities say.

Federal agents arrested Keith Michael, 32, in Montpelier, Ohio, on Monday. Michael is being held without bond pending a Thursday hearing, said Tom Secor, assistant U.S. attorney in Toledo, Ohio.

Michael is charged with illegal possession of a pipe bomb. Authorities said such a device exploded in a southside Fort Worth neighborhood Oct. 2, killing 8-year-old Max Herrera and injuring five children.

Officials believe the bomb was made to use for revenge against someone in an unrelated case, said Lou Iliano, resident agent of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms in Fort Worth.

He refused to discuss the case. But authorities believe revenge may have been the motive for the manufacture of the bomb.

Workers' comp rate boost urged

AUSTIN (AP) — The chief executives of three insurance companies have urged the State Board of Insurance to approve a rate increase for workers' compensation coverage, saying such coverage in Texas has become unprofitable in recent years.

The three executives urged the board to approve the 36.7 percent increase proposed by the National Council on Compensation Insurance, a trade group. The board's staff has recommended a 6.7 percent increase in rates. The board's rate hearing began Tuesday.

Dale R. Comey, president of the Hartford Fire Insurance Group said the outlook for the property and casualty insurance business in Texas is "very bleak" due primarily to problems in the workers' compensation field.

$300 study on ducks paying off

LAKE JACKSON (AP) — A heated dispute over the bathroom behavior of ducks who left their marks on homes near a pond in this Houston suburb has been resolved.

A study that cost the city $300 revealed that duck feces stinks and is not firm when the fowls consume human foods, but remains relatively unscented and firm when the birds stick to their natural vegetation diets. The study was conducted by retired biologist H.R. Garner of Angleton.

Parks Department Director Bob Austin said officials used the results to create a duck-feeding area as far away from the homes as possible. Residents have also agreed not to feed the ducks anywhere else and the number of ducks allowed at the pond has been reduced from 30 to about a dozen, Austin said.

NRA Endorses Troy Fraser

On Tuesday, November 8, you have the opportunity to cast your vote for a supporter of your right to keep and bear arms.

His name is Troy Fraser.

Troy Fraser has earned an "A" rating from the NRA and Texas State Rifle Association based on his responses to a candidate questionnaire on sportsmen's issues.

His opponent, Mrs. Avery, refused to answer the questionnaire. This is often an indication of indifference, if not outright opposition, to sportsmen's issues.

Troy Fraser has pledged to actively support pro-gun/pro-hunting legislation and oppose measures which would further restrict Texas's firearms owners.

The NRA urges you to vote for Troy Fraser on November 8th and take at least three sportsmen to the polls with you.

Every vote is critical.

Remember, the legislators you elect on November 8th will have a direct impact on your firearms freedom for the next two years. It is critical that we elect a committed supporter like Troy Fraser to office.

For the record

A report in the Oct. 19 edition of the Big Spring Herald was incomplete.

The report should have contained the information that Texas Governor Bill Clements' speech at the George Bush rally the previous day included his endorsement of Republican candidate Troy Fraser for the 69th District state representative's seat.

"Troy is my comfort level," Clements said during his remarks. "I need him in Austin."

Avery endorsed

The Texas Public Employee Association recently announced its endorsement of Johnnie Lou Avery, candidate for 69th District state representative.

"This endorsement was made on the basis of our knowledge of Johnnie Lou Avery's background, experience and open mindedness when it comes to state government and state employees issues," said Lane Zivley, executive director.

Police beat

Big Spring police reported investigating the following incidents:

• The manager of the Travel Inn, 3500 W. Highway 80, reported two people left without paying a bill of $880.39.

• A woman who resides in the 400 block of N.E. 12th Street reported unknown persons took items valued at nearly $400.

• A woman who resides in the 4200 block of East 11th Place reported unknown persons took a video cassette recorder valued at $200.

sider probation if they determined a sentence of 10 years or less was appropriate. Only one woman, later dismissed, said she could not.

But during Morgan's individual polling of the panelists Monday and Tuesday afternoon, he asked them essentially the same question: "Could you consider, if you had found a defendant guilty of murder, not of some lesser offense, but of murder, truly consider, could you seriously consider five years' probation?"

Time after time panel members answered no. During individual questioning, while the remaining panelists waited in the hallway outside the courtroom, one after another of the prospective jurors again responded to the questions in the same way — saying yes to Hamby and no to Morgan.

Several panelists said they could consider such a punishment, if the facts of the case fitted it; some told

Morgan they couldn't say yes or no without knowing the facts of the case.

Morgan then asked them if they could consider five years' probation in light of the allegations in the indictment, "that the manner and means of death were by pulling on a rope around the neck of Noe Perez, and by kicking Noe Perez."

In light of those circumstances, all but two of the panelists not dismissed said they would not consider five years' probation as an adequate sentence. Judge Gregg ruled that those two could remain on the jury panel.

"If a man kills a man, he shouldn't be able to walk out. He's gonna be glad he's out of prison, even if he can't go to Pizza Hut and drink beer," one juror — dismissed for cause — said, alluding to Morgan's earlier efforts to impress jurors with the severity of probation by telling them such a sentence proscribes entering restaurants serving alcohol.

Several jurors indicated confusion on that point as Morgan's questioning continued. One man's response that he believed the jurors could not go to Pizza Hut caused a wave of laughter; a woman broke up the courtroom several minutes later by thanking Morgan "for saying it's all right for me to go have a pizza."

Senator Gramm endorses Troy Fraser

MONAHANS — Calling Troy Fraser "an outstanding young man," Texas Republican Sen. Phil Gramm endorsed the Big Spring resident for the 69th District state representative's seat before about 75 supporters in Monahans Tuesday night.

"Troy is a businessman who has met a payroll and that's something that will be new for the people in Austin," Gramm told those gathered in the Ward County Community Center.

Stating that George Bush is the "best vice president we've ever had," the senator said the Republican presidential candidate "is doing well in Texas because we know him."

Gramm also leveled criticism at Democrat Michael Dukakis, saying he "doesn't think like we (Texans) do."

He noted that it is important 69th District voters elect Fraser because of the ever-increasing importance of the Texas Legislature.

Gramm also endorsed Fraser at a rally in Big Spring Oct. 9.

Fraser has also been previously endorsed by Bush, who called him a man with "traits that are rare in a candidate."

"He has common sense and business sense," Bush said.

Opinion

"I may not agree with what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it." — Voltaire

Herald opinion

U.S. laws apply equally to allies

Through their lawyer, former Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos and his wife, Imelda, have let it be known they are "deeply disappointed at President Reagan's failure to prevent this treatment of a long-standing ally." The treatment to which they so bitterly protest is a six-count federal indictment accusing them of racketeering and embezzling $103 million from the Philippine treasury to purchase artworks and Manhattan real estate.

Whether the Marcoses have committed the crimes they are charged with can only be decided by a judge and jury. Mrs. Marcos has pleaded not guilty, and her husband is expected to do the same when he is arraigned at a later date. But the notion that the White House had an obligation to protect "a long-standing ally" from prosecution — particularly involving alleged crimes of such enormity — deserves an immediate response. The assertion is complete nonsense.

To advance democracy in the Philippines after Mr. Marcos claimed a dubious victory in the disputed 1986 presidential election, the Reagan administration arranged for his exile to Hawaii. During the last two years, the Marcoses have enjoyed a safe haven in Honolulu, despite widespread allegations of corruption involving actions they took while in the Philippines.

The federal indictment handed down in New York accuses the Marcoses of violating U.S. laws as part of a pattern of greed that began in Manila and continued after their move to Hawaii. Mr. Marcos apparently believed that American hospitality included the right to conduct his financial affairs with utter disregard for federal law.

To his credit, President Reagan declined to block the Justice Department's decision to prosecute, even though the case could complicate U.S.-Philippine relations, which are already strained by American military bases on Philippine soil and the country's huge foreign debt. For Mr. Reagan to have done otherwise would have explicitly placed the ousted president above American law.

Friend was misrepresented

To the editor:

I am not in the habit of writing letters to the editor, but when I see someone as misrepresented as Deede Cauley was on the front page of your paper (Oct. 20), I feel I must attempt to bring some honesty into this situation.

She is a personal friend of mine and I have found her to be a person of the highest integrity and her moral character beyond reproach. Had she been the unstable radical depicted in your paper it is highly questionable that she could have been a very reputable teacher in the Plano system for eight years, and very unlikely that she could have successfully served as an F.B.I. agent for several years.

There certainly was evidence of lying and dishonesty in the article I read, but I assure you it was not Deede Cauley.

Supports Texas candidates

To the editor:

In response to the 3 or 4 letters that have recently appeared in the Herald, attempting to question the integrity and character of two very fine people, I feel it is time to stop this sleazy and gutter-style form of political rhetoric.

The targets of these unwarranted, unjustified and completely unfounded statements are Senator Lloyd Bentsen and Johnnie Lou Avery.

It just happens that Senator Bentsen is one of the most popular, one of the most respected, and one of the most admired men in our great state, as well as in Washington, D.C. and around our nation. He certainly deserves all the plaudits accorded him, as he is now, and throughout his public career, a champion of ALL the people.

Also, Johnnie Lou Avery is one of the most popular, most respected, and most admired ladies in our community, as well as in a vast portion of West Texas. She has earned these honors with her undying belief that by working together and believing in ourselves, and having faith, and with a can-do spirit, we can once again be the proud and happy people that we should be.

When Lloyd Bentsen and Johnnie Lou Avery say they are FOR something, or AGAINST something, you can take it to the bank.

So let's put to heel all those petty and untrue accusations about our real task of uniting our people, and reviving our community, which we have done many times before.

Keep education funds intact

To the editor:

This note is written to urge voters to defeat Amendment 3 on the November 8 ballot. The idea of using retirement funds for any purpose other than what they were intended is not only short-sighted but in many ways robbery.

If the investments being considered are so important to Texas, tax money should be devoted to the cause, not state employees' retirement funds.

The truth of the matter is that many of these so-called valuable investment opportunities are high risk ventures that no sound banking institution would want to sink money into.

Wise legislators in the past made provision for our state University system and our state employees retirement, and those funds have done well. Now, some legislators want to grab that money and use it in risky propositions that no one else would be willing to take part in.

The funds in question came from employees' salaries, state matching funds, a small interest and waste investment by those in charge of the funds. The money in these funds was never intended for any other purpose and we should see to it that it remains that way.

Writer shares thoughts, poem

To the editor:

To be able to share my concern and uncertainties about Halloween in Big Spring 1988 intrigues my mind. I feel there is great need to be fulfilled within the depths of our thoughts concerning the misconceptions and mixed feelings of Halloween. To unscramble the intermost fear that we have been recently plagued with (referring to rumors, abductions, and satanic activity) can be overwhelming to our minds. Especially if we are narrow-minded. Open-minded as I am, I would like to share some thoughts and beliefs from my Christian viewpoint. Perhaps something positive would be refreshing.

Several months ago, my mind literally became bogged with thoughts that roamed around in my head. All of this mind-boggling business was beginning to really get on my nerves. Finally, I realized these thoughts were telling me something important. And there was no need for a struggle to try and understand why. In turn, I began to feel a sense of inspiration and knew how to reveal my thoughts on paper. I immediately sat down and began to write. After completing this task, I felt very much relieved and satisfied. From that day forward, I knew there was some kind of special meaning and purpose behind what I had written. Also I knew that one day my thoughts should be shared. So, for what it is worth, I humbly share my poem with you.

"As times goes on . . ."
As time goes on, we undoubtedly change with time. Accepting life as in reality with a different frame of mind. Society enhances our thoughts of accepting or rejecting. Denying reality creates a block in one's mind in order to cope.

Though dealing with morality is a phenomenon.
As time goes on, discipline and guidelines of self-control become complicated and inconvenient. Therefore our morals become warped by society.

Respectively living a moral life includes a sense of stability and beliefs. Responding with standards and will power reflects a stable mind as time goes on.

Societal justice stirs voter

By KAREN MCCARTHY
Staff Writer

The terms "conservative" and "liberal" have been used often in this election campaign, often incorrectly and frequently in a derogatory sense. For too many people, the word conservative is associated with apple pie, motherhood, and the flag — an image George Bush actively promotes — while liberal takes on overtones of immoral, slightly pink visionaries.

Actually the differences between conservatives and liberals are fundamentally the result of opposing beliefs in the basic cause of social and political problems. Conservatives place the blame on the nature of man, while liberals point to environment.

Liberals, therefore, see social and political problems as correctable and believe it is the duty of a responsible government to promote the welfare of the individual by whatever means necessary. Conservatives, who oppose centralization of government, want to limit as much as possible government interference in the lives of individuals.

The major social programs of this century — Social Security, civil rights, minimum wage, welfare, Medicare, job programs — have all been liberal reforms. Reagan, an avowed conservative, slashed social spending, tried to eliminate the Department of Education, and ignored conservation issues.

Conservative policies, because they are based on non-interference, tend to benefit the wealthy at the expense of the rest of the people. Opposition to a national education policy, for instance, means a tolerance for unequally funded schools and a higher percentage of the privileged being given an opportunity for a better education.

A low minimum wage results in reduced operating costs for businesses. Conservatives claim business thereby has more money to expand and employ more workers. Liberals see the discrepancy between the owners' income and the workers' income and try to alleviate gross inequalities.

Liberals believe everyone is entitled to a basic minimum level of housing, food and education, and with those needs taken care of the majority will rise to their maximum potential. Conservatives, because of their belief in inherent characteristics, argue that man's basic nature is not correctable and it's useless to try.

Liberals, by definition, are actively working toward solutions to problems. Conservatives, again by definition, distrust radical changes and uphold inherited traditions.

George Bush, throughout this campaign, has virtually ignored any of the major issues and focused on the flag, traditional values and says he will build on the programs of President Reagan.

As a platform, it leaves me cold. I consider myself a patriot, even if I don't think a flag ceremony is meaningful at every public function, including football games. And I think Reagan is responsible for a future generation's worth of major trouble for our country.

We have between 2 and 3.5 million homeless in this country (depending on whose statistics you're looking at). Thirteen and one half percent of the our population lives below the poverty level. Twenty percent of U.S. children have no health insurance. More than 50 percent of mothers of young children work outside the home; faced with daycare that is prohibitively expensive, parents leave many children to spend hours unsupervised. These are social issues that need to be rectified. I can't see a Republican administration doing so.

As a concerned citizen who wants a decent standard of living to be available to everyone, I am bound to vote for the candidate who has shown concern of social injustices, Michael Dukakis.

Media bias promotes close election

By JONATHAN WOLMAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — There may be an insidious media bias at work this election year, but it isn't the publishers tilting Republican or the networks showing an Eastern Establishment slant for the Democrats. No, it's an anti-ideological prejudice in favor of a close election.

Close elections make better stories. Close elections make it seem as if the American Democracy is in some kind of wonderful balance. Close elections are fun to cover. Close elections give journalists and politicians something to talk about over drinks after work.

Journalists — like gardeners, accountants and electrical contractors — tend to pursue their own best interests. If there is a close race, they work to keep it that way. But if one candidate moves way ahead of another, journalism often triggers mysterious forces that test a front-runner's mettle or encourage the underdog's heroic comeback effort.

In races like those for Pennsylvania or Tennessee Senate seats, there is little anyone can do to boost the fortunes of anonymous and underfunded challengers against popular incumbents like John Heinz III and James Sasser.

In races for the House of Representatives, where 90-odd percent of the 435 seats will be won by incumbents, journalism can't even provide a finger for the dike. But the presidential campaign is another matter altogether, and the bias for a close race has been a factor in the titanic struggle of George Bush and Michael Dukakis.

Today Bush leads the race and the bias for a close election is benefiting Dukakis. Bush would complain, except that he's benefited from the same process and might need to again — say next weekend, for example. Also, Bush would not like to anger the other constituency, aside from journalists, who welcome a close race — voters.

From a voter's perspective: Close elections make for humble and responsive public officials.

Close elections make it seem as if the American Democracy is in some kind of wonderful balance. Close elections are fun to watch on TV. The ads become especially entertaining, even if the debates tend to wax insufferable.

Close elections make it seem as if every voter counts, even those on the West Coast.

Journalists can do lots of little things to make close elections possible, assuming that the underdog is not morally repugnant, intellectually comatose or too bankrupt to mount a respectable challenge.

How journalists do it: Raise new and sharply tougher questions about the front-runner. This happened to Bob Dole during his brief stay atop the GOP primary race. He won Iowa and sought a New Hampshire knockout of George Bush. But Bush waged a great comeback campaign, his forces fanning reporters' questions about the operation of Mrs. Dole's trust fund. (It didn't hurt that Bush allies controlled the New Hampshire GOP and he began primary week with a big lead.)

Raise the underdog's visibility. This is happening now with Dukakis, who is deluged with TV invitations and is using the platform to explain his values to voters who are just now tuning into the election process.

Bush has the most to lose from TV exposure, and so he's limiting his appearances to the morning talk shows. If he slips in the polls, he'll change his strategy before you can say, "Live from New York, it's Saturday Night."

Write encouraging things about the dauntless, dignified, suddenly impassioned comeback kid. Dust off the 1948 Truman stories, explain how the Electoral College math provides a glimmer of hope for an Election Day "miracle." Suggest that Democrats may yet "come home" to the party of Roosevelt and Kennedy.

Americans love the candidate who battles from behind. Since Dole disappeared in February, the presidential race has looked like this: Dukakis emerged in New Hampshire and led Bush just before Super Tuesday in March; then Bush swept 18 states and led Dukakis for several months; then Dukakis put away Jesse Jackson in a succession of springtime primaries, and led Bush until the Republican convention. Then, from 10 to 17 points down, Bush began his latest surge.

This is exactly the sort of campaign that journalists like to encourage, except that Bush went too far, built a big lead in October, forcing voters to pray that the race will tighten one last time in the final days.

How can voters and journalism help restore this balance?

Journalists now use "tracking polls" to identify and publicize one-day trends in public opinion. If those ubiquitous "likely voters" provide good news for Dukakis — like they did last Thursday, for example, journalists will be in high dudgeon, sniffing for a comeback.

"We thought from the beginning," Bush said Saturday while bus stopping his way through Illinois, wary of resisting the public will for a tight campaign, "that it would be close right up to the end."

Marcos bail package completed

NEW YORK (AP) — A bail package has been worked out for former Philippine first lady Imelda Marcos, who is under a judge's order not to leave New York until arrangements for paying her $5 million bond are set, a source says.

Prosecutors and defense lawyers were expected to present the deal to U.S. District Judge John Keenan today, said the source, who is close to the case and spoke on condition of anonymity.

Mrs. Marcos has been charged with racketeering with her husband, former Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos, who was ousted in 1986.

Halloween joke turns deadly

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A man who tried to stage a fake Halloween hanging in a tavern but wound up choking to death in front of unsuspecting patrons "had a stupid look on his face like he was kidding around," a witness says.

Milton "Michael" Tyree, 41, died Monday night when a harness he'd rigged to simulate a hanging at the Cantab Lounge slipped, choking him, said police Detective James Dwyer.

When he walked into the bar,

Tyree had his face painted white, was wearing a black hood and carried a sickle "like the Grim Reaper," said witness Mike Dorman.

"He came in and stood up on a chair and hitched himself to a beam," Dorman said. "Somebody just pulled the chair out. He didn't look uncomfortable at all. He was moving his arms and everything. He always had a stupid look on his face like he was kidding around."

Justice investigating prosecutor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is investigating its chief pornography prosecutor for possible misuse of travel funds, government sources said.

The Office of Professional Responsibility, which examines allegations of wrongdoing by department employees, is carrying out the probe of R. Robert Showers with the assistance of FBI agents, the sources, speaking on condition of anonymity, told The Associated Press.

Investigators are trying to determine whether Showers scheduled official trips at taxpayer expense that permitted him to attend meetings of Christian religious groups in his hometown of Raleigh, N.C., and other cities, the sources said Tuesday.

Treatment may slow Parkinson's

NEW YORK (AP) — Vitamin E can ease a serious side effect of schizophrenia medication and team up with vitamin C to help slow the course of Parkinson's disease, which afflicts at least 350,000 Americans, two studies suggest.

In both cases, it appeared to work by helping protect the brain against damage from chemical entities called free radicals, which are produced by the body, said the researchers, who described their studies Tuesday at a conference on vitamin E, sponsored by the New York Academy of Sciences.

Jean Lud Cadet of the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York said vitamin E appeared to reduce symptoms of tardive dyskinesia, which appears in 20 percent to 30 percent of people taking antipsychotic medication for schizophrenia or some other illnesses.

The condition produces jerky movements of the facial muscles and slow writhing movements of the limbs.

Missiles raise fear for Pakistan defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The arrival of at least two new Soviet missiles in Kabul has raised U.S. concern about Pakistan's security and whether there will be a delay in the second stage of the Red Army's withdrawal from Afghanistan.

The SS-1 Scud rockets were displayed in the Afghan capital after Undersecretary of State Michael H. Armacost complained to Soviet Ambassador Yuri V. Dubinin on Monday about sending long-range TU26 Backfire bombers into combat there for the first time.

The Soviets are backing the Afghan government against U.S.-armed rebels in a war that has raged for nearly nine years. On Aug. 15, the Soviets completed the pullout of more than half the 100,000 troops that had fought alongside the pro-Moscow government.

The remaining troops must depart by Feb. 15 under an agreement signed in Geneva last spring. The Soviets hinted recently that the second stage would begin Nov. 15. But a U.S. official, who spoke Tuesday on condition of anonymity, said that might be delayed.

He also said the United States would see to it that the rebels had an "adequate" arsenal, although missiles to match the Scuds probably would not be provided through Pakistan.

Two Scud-B missiles, which have the range of about 175 miles, were displayed in Kabul, the official said. It was not clear whether the Soviets delivered more of them, which are mobile and can reach the Pakistani frontier as well as vast areas of Afghanistan.

"It's clearly intended to intimidate Pakistan," the official said.

U.S. weapons to the guerrillas are delivered through Pakistan, which also has given sanctuary to millions of Afghan refugees.

The Afghan news agency, in a dispatch Tuesday, accused Pakistan of instigating attacks by "extremist" guerrillas on population centers and demilitarized areas.

Israeli elections deadlocked

JERUSALEM (AP) — The right-wing Likud bloc and rival left-leaning Labor Party, deadlocked in parliamentary elections, today courted Israel's four religious parties in a bid to form a coalition government.

Likud had the early edge because it won the most votes in Tuesday's balloting and is ideologically more compatible with the small religious parties that now hold the balance of power.

"Based on the facts we have before us, it seems that the situation commands and enables the Likud to form Israel's next government," Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir, who heads Likud, told supporters at campaign headquarters.

Leftist rebels kill four, wound 37

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Leftist rebels killed four soldiers and wounded 37 people in a mortar attack on the National Guard headquarters that destroyed two guards barracks, authorities said.

The guerrillas' clandestine Radio Venceremos called Tuesday's attack in the northern part of this capital a "welcome" to Col. Rene Emilio Ponce on the first day of his new job as military chief of staff.

National Guard commander

Col. Jose Humberto Gomez suffered a shrapnel wound to a leg, and eight guardsmen were reported in critical condition today, a defense ministry spokesman said. Seven civilians also were wounded.

One of two parked cars packed with explosives about a block from the base exploded during the 45-minute attack, damaging nearby vehicles and homes. Army munitions experts deactivated explosives in the other car.

Solidarity challenges plant closure

GDANSK, Poland (AP) — Solidarity leaders sought a meeting today with the managers of the Lenin shipyard in a bid to reverse the government's decision to close the huge complex where their free trade union movement was born.

They said they did not plan an immediate strike, but Solidarity chairman Lech Walesa said there could be some type of protest today at the yard, which employs about 10,000 workers.

"There could be something spontaneous ... but we are not in a hurry," said Walesa, an electrician at the yard. "We are preparing something bigger, not only in the shipyard."

Interviewed by telephone at his apartment in this Baltic port, he did not elaborate, but there was the hint that the banned labor federation might try to organize strikes throughout the country.

U.N. opens relief campaign

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar is calling for a $70 million emergency relief campaign to aid up to 2.5 million Sudanese in need of food, shelter and medical attention.

The Sudanese were displaced by torrential rains Aug. 4-5 and subsequent floods, with the problem compounded by civil war in the south, pockets of drought and famine, locust infestation and the large number of refugees in the country.

Perez de Cuellar's appeal, circulated in a document released this week, noted the plight of the displaced people fleeing civil conflict in the south.

"The condition of the displaced ... is appalling. The majority of those arriving in the camps are women and children; there are few men between the ages of 12 and 40," his report said.

"Many families have suffered personal attacks, family members have been separated and lost and most are in an extremely poor state of nutrition and health."

Candidates targeting key states with specialized ads

By JILL LAWRENCE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Democrat Michael Dukakis is running television ads that tout his home ownership plan and trash his rival's trade record, but only for the benefit of viewers in the key electoral state of Ohio.

The Ohio campaign, aimed at stretched working families, is one of several specialized television and radio appeals mounted by Dukakis and Republican George Bush in states critical to their presidential ambitions.

The crossfire has been particularly heavy in California, Texas and Ohio, and in states with large Hispanic voter populations. A blitz of state-specific advertising is expected in the few days before the election, with New York, New Jersey, Illinois and Pennsylvania among the candidates for a final fusillade.

One of the premier battlegrounds is California, with 47 electoral votes and an electorate deeply concerned about the environment. Bush jumped on that concern early, trying to alarm voters with the specter of Boston's polluted harbor.

"Michael Dukakis says he wants to protect our environment. But the EPA called Boston Harbor the dirtiest waterway in America," says an ad for the vice president. "And now, Michael Dukakis says he wants to do for America what he's done for Massachusetts. California can't take that risk." Variations on the spot are also running in New Jersey and Washington.

Dukakis, the Massachusetts governor, is countering in California that Bush's administration cut funds to clean up the state's coast — from San Francisco to Southern California in one ad, from San Diego Harbor to San Francisco Bay in another.

The ads say Bush opposed a crackdown on polluter corporations, twice supported a veto of the Clean Water Act and end by say-

The latest in campaign t-shirt styles was displayed Tuesday, by Jesse Jackson, left in New Orleans where he spoke on voter registration and in support of the Democratic ticket, and by Republican Vice president, "That's why the non-partisan League of Conservation Voters has endorsed Michael Dukakis."

California Democrats have been among the most active in the nation in creating their own ads. The state party is running two vote-motivating Democratic ads hitting the GOP record on education and the environment, as well as three "Dukakis is on your side" spots taped last week at a raucous Dukakis rally in Los Angeles.

"I want an America that's in charge of its own future," the candidate says in one of the rally ads.

"We're going to have clean air, and clean water, and clean coasts, and a clean government in Washington, D.C."

Texas, with 29 electoral votes, is another state under media siege. Dukakis trotted out his running mate, popular Texas Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, in an early spot stressing Bentsen's lead role in passing plant-closing legislation and again more recently in an ad called "Partnership."

"I've been fighting to build a future for Texas and the nation. I now have a strong partner in that fight, and he's Mike Dukakis," says Bentsen. "I know him, and you know me. We're going to put America first."

In the latest ad featuring Bentsen, the Democratic candidate accuses the Republicans of running a negative campaign and warns voters that the GOP is "trying to scare you with some phony issues."

Another Dukakis ad accused Bush of failing to help Texas when it was in the throes of the oil-business collapse.

"When a quarter of a million

Texas jobs were lost, where was George?" the ad asks. "When 192 Texas banks closed, and 23,000 Texas businesses failed, where was George?"

For his part, Bush called on retired U.S. Air Force Gen. Chuck Yeager to instill fears about the safety of the state's 300,000 defense-related jobs should Dukakis be elected. Yeager, the first man to break the sound barrier, says in the ad that "liberal Democrats" advocating defense cuts would put those jobs at risk.

Dukakis also ran two Texas commercials to counter a Bush TV attack on his furlough program and a National Rifle Association radio assault on his gun control stands. One Dukakis spot says Bush voted for gun control while in Congress and Dukakis "supports gun ownership by hunters and sportsmen." The other says Dukakis "took action and changed" the furlough program and reduced crime by 13 percent in his state.

The economic populist pitch Dukakis has adopted in the final days of his campaign emerged two weeks ago in Ohio, which has 23 electoral votes, in ads tailored to appeal to "working families" insecure about their economic futures.

"Michael Dukakis stands up for working families. How? Home Start, a program to give families a chance to buy their first home," an announcer declares in one Ohio spot as images of construction sites, tree-lined streets and the Massachusetts governor roll by. "No new bureaucracies, no red tape... For America's working families, Michael Dukakis for president."

Another Ohio spot shows viewers the Japanese flag and says Bush returned from Japan "saying our trade relationship was superb. Superb for Japan, maybe. Superb for Japanese workers. But bad news for American working families." The American flag waves as the announcer concludes, "Michael Dukakis stands up to foreign competition. Keep American jobs in America. Michael Dukakis for president."

Both candidates are seeking Hispanic votes via TV and radio stations in states with large Hispanic populations, Texas foremost among them. Bush is using an ad featuring his Mexican daughter-in-law, Columba, and his three Hispanic grandchildren. The ad — in both English and Spanish versions — currently is airing in Texas and New York.

Negative campaigning:

'There oughta be a law'

AUSTIN (AP) — A state senator fighting for re-election says there ought to be a law against all this negative political campaigning.

Sen. Robert "Bob" Glasgow said he will introduce that legislation.

Deceit, deception and lies are becoming campaign staples, causing "good, moral people" to steer away from politics, the Stephenville Democrat said.

"The state of political campaigning in Texas is absolutely at an all-time low, and it's absolutely disgraceful. It's Republicans, it's Democrats. It has got to stop," said Glasgow.

He faces Republican Jesse Coffey in the District 22 race in North Central Texas. Glasgow said if he wins, he will introduce comprehensive election reforms to regulate campaign ads and other public statements by politicians and their media consultants.

Although Glasgow denounces "negative" ads, one of his radio commercials attacks Coffey's record of losing elections.

The advertisement uses music and sound effects to tell the story of a would-be politician who keeps running into walls — bank!

"But after five races and five losses (Bank! Bank! Bank! Bank! Bank!), the only thing you can really say about Jesse is he's a man who loves contact," according to the ad.

Students select Bush in mock national election

NORTHFIELD, Mass. (AP) —

Michael Dukakis beat George Bush in his hometown, but it was all downhill from there in a mock election that might make some Dukakis boosters happy the torch hasn't yet been passed to a new generation.

High school students nationwide Tuesday chose Vice President Bush for president by a 2-1 margin, prompting observations that the tally is a clear signal the Old Guard has overtaken the New Frontier among the nation's youth.

"One person put it rather succinctly. The young people have grown up under the Reagan administration and they are rather complacent," said Kim Robert Nilsen, a spokesman for the Northfield Mount Hermon School.

"Issues do not tend to surface and be debated in any great fashion," Nilsen said. "With no burning issues, there's probably no real reason to contemplate going in another direction."

Northfield, a private, 1,160-student school in northwestern Massachusetts, coordinated what it called the first nationwide presidential election run by high school students.

Casting ballots a week before the real election were ninth-through 12th-graders at two schools in every state, from 25-student Weiser High in Idaho to 1,900-student Brookline High in Massachusetts, the alma mater of Dukakis, the state's Democratic governor.

In early returns, Bush, the Republican candidate, received

24,758 popular votes and 315 electoral votes, while Dukakis won 12,682 popular votes and 73 electoral votes, said Nilsen.

The only states won by Dukakis were Massachusetts, Minnesota, South Dakota, Colorado and Arkansas, plus the District of Columbia, said Nilsen, who added that votes had not yet been received from Vermont and Michigan. New York and Missouri were hard-fought losses for the Dukakis camp.

Nilsen said he was very en-

Wife afraid to leave children with sitter

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for seven years, have two children, ages 2 and 6, and have a wonderful life together. However, I am at a loss to understand this problem, and I'm too embarrassed to discuss it with anyone.

I am reluctant to hire a babysitter so that my husband and I can go out. Every time an event comes up that requires our attendance without the kids, I experience tremendous anxiety. I have even lied to my husband several times, telling him I wasn't able to get a sitter when, in fact, I didn't even try to get one.

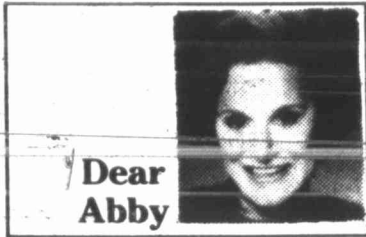

It is now 1 p.m. and we're invited to a 7 p.m. dinner, and I am very upset because my husband is pushing me to get a sitter and I don't really want to go out. I am educated, intelligent, over 40, and I just don't understand why it's so difficult for me to leave my children for even a few hours.

We can't afford psychiatric help, so I'm hoping that you can throw some light on my problem. I am a homemaker who is perfectly happy to remain inside my house. I even dislike going outside to do yardwork. Abby, can you help me?

HOMEBODY IN IRVINE, CALIF.

DEAR HOMEBODY: I am not qualified to diagnose your symptoms, but they would suggest that you are "agoraphobic"—you have a fear of leaving your house. You must talk to your doctor about this. It is far more common than most people think, and you can be helped. (There are support groups in your area!)

Please don't ignore these signs.

Dear Abby

After you've seen your physician, write again and let me know how you are. I care.

DEAR ABBY: At 60, I need your advice. My husband is disabled and retired, and I am facing retirement soon. Our problem is a 35-year-old daughter who is a credit-card junkie. She's divorced, has one child, gets child support, has a good job, but we have to help her out every time she's in debt over her head because she has no one else to turn to. (This is the third time.) We can't understand how she got into the habit of charging things she can't afford. She wasn't raised that way. We never bought anything we couldn't afford.

She asks us to love her as she is. We do love her, but we can't afford her. She's a beautiful, generous, sensible person, but this one fault is getting us down. How can we help her?

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS
DEAR SLEEPLESS: First, tell her that she is not going to have her parents around forever to rescue her when she gets in a jam. She needs professional counseling now to teach her how to budget her money and live within her means. Credit unions, family service centers and some religious groups offer some kind of free or low-cost credit counseling.

Ready-to-wear

Food

With cooler weather approaching, children going off to school and pre-holiday festivities right around the corner, everyone's schedule is soon to be hectic.

Dinner's that are quick to fix and great to eat can be as easy as one-two-three.

Start by either choosing a baking dish, skillet or wok, because that's all you'll need to prepare the following main-course recipes.

All are no-fuss, single-dish meals for the busy family. With microwave instructions and a short list of ingredients, it's easy to go from oven to table in a matter of minutes.

Each recipe features the tangy taste of Miracle Whip salad dressing, which has less fat and calories than mayonnaise and is low in cholesterol.

Plus, its unique blend of spices adds a lively flavor to traditional favorites as well as these five new main-dish menu ideas.

For a creative twist to the popular Oriental stir-fry, look to the heartland. Smoked sausage is the surprise ingredient in the Midwestern Stir-Fry. Yellow squash, green and red peppers add bursts of color, flavor and texture.

Take minutes off making pie crust by using refrigerated crescent roll dough to decorate the top of Tasty Turkey Pot Pie. This time-saving tip provides an elegant touch to an American classic.

An ethnic treat that is ready in less than 25 minutes is Mediterranean Pitas. Pita bread rounds, topped with a spicy steak mixture, are ideal for single servings and easy eating.

Served warm or at room temperature Crabmeat and Broccoli Frittata is a tempting entree that pleases the eye as well as the palate. Best of all, preparation time is only seven minutes. Combine five ingredients, then bake the mixture in either a microwave or conventional oven.

Clock-conscious cooks will appreciate that each all-in-one meal is designed to be a delicious, convenient time-saver.

BSHS harriers have strong program built

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

Cross country is not one of the glamour sports, especially in West Texas, but Saturday's 4-4A district meet had just as much excitement as a last-second field goal in a football game or an overtime basketball game.

The thing about cross country is that it gets less publicity and has less crowd attendance than other sports. After all, who wants to get up on a Saturday and go watch runners run two-and-three-mile courses at 10 in the morning?

Then there the job of just finding bodies to compete. It's a huge task for a high school coach to relate to teenagers the positive side of running. And when I say running, we're talking 50-70 miles of roadwork per week, early in the morning, and then again in the afternoon. Let's face it, running along some desolate trail is not attractive to the average 16-year-old.

Yes, I can definitely see the toils both coaches and runners go through in cross country.

But what's good is when you find a program that does work hard at cross country, and they see all their hard work turn into success. Such as the Big Spring High School program.

I don't know Randy Britton's methods, but he has done yeoman's work with getting athletes out in numbers to represent Big Spring High School. Not only does Big Spring have the athletes out in numbers, they are finally getting the ones that are willing to work hard to gain success.

The district meet was a perfect example. The Lady Steers runners won their third consecutive district crown, while the Steers finished second behind Andrews for the third year. Both Big Spring teams will be competing in the regional meet in Lubbock Saturday.

Oh, I've heard the mutters about how all eight district teams don't field cross country squads. To be precise, only Big Spring, San Angelo Lake View and Snyder have girls teams, while Big Spring, Andrews, San Angelo Lake View and Sweetwater have boys teams.

That doesn't finish Big Spring's season, though. It just means that Britton has success getting athletes to try out for cross country. There's no way you can tell me that Monahans, Pecos, Fort Stockton and Snyder don't have enough athletes to have cross country teams, providing they have coaches who take enough time to try to sell the program to potential runners.

In meets this season against 5A schools, Big Spring always managed to finish in the top half or middle of the pack.

Led by a gutsy performance by sophomore Mimi Regalado, the Lady Steers won the district title as expected. Lake View did make a strong push, though.

Mimi Regalado had battled the flu for two weeks, and still reached down deep enough to finish second. That's what strong cross country programs do for you.

The Steers would have beaten Andrews if their lead runner hadn't took the wrong course, thus being disqualified. It's a shame because Ben Gonzales probably would've finished in the top three at the state cross country meet in Georgetown.

I must commend meet director Everett Blackburn for his decision, and the way coach Britton handled the verdict.

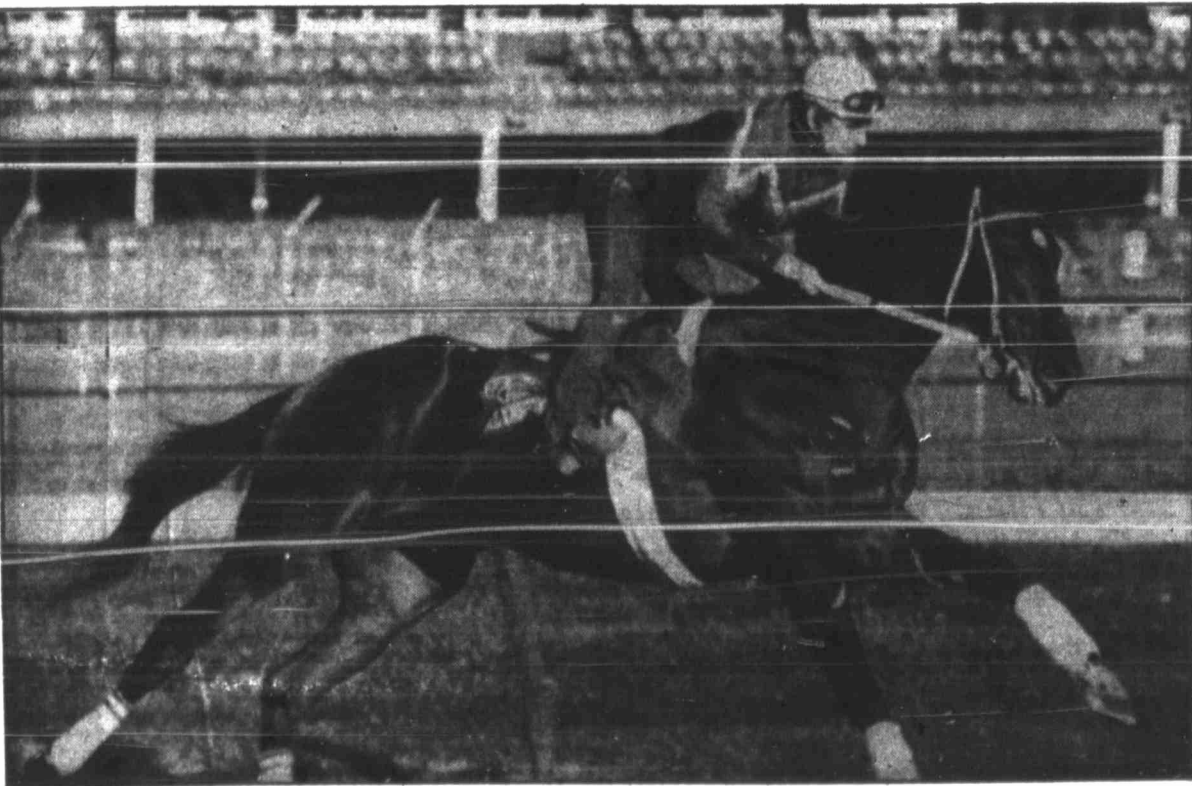

I don't think there's very many schools that would have disqualified their own runner, especially one that was 300 meters ahead of the pack.

But Gonzales broke the rule, Blackburn made the decision and Britton agreed with it.

And how about Gonzales? The talented senior wasn't worried about if he was disqualified or not. As long as the Steers beat Andrews for the team championship.

That's what strong cross country programs will do for you.

And with strong programs comes district championships and post season competition. Just ask coach Randy Britton and his cross country team.

Monday morning in Louisville. Alysbea will compete Saturday in the $3 million Breeders' Cup Classic at Churchill Downs.

Sabo NL Rookie of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Chris Sabo proved that the Cincinnati Reds don't have to finish second at everything.

Sabo was named winner of the Jackie Robinson National League Rookie of the Year by the Baseball Writers Association of America on Tuesday. The third baseman batted .271, hit 11 homers and drove in 44 runs for the Reds who finished second in the NL West for the fourth consecutive season.

He received 79 points and 11 first-place votes from a panel of 24 writers, two from each NL city. First baseman Mark Grace of the Chicago Cubs was second with 61 points and right-hander Tim Lincecum of the Los Angeles Dodgers was third with 35.

Second baseman Ron Gant of the Atlanta Braves had 22 points and catcher Roberto Alomar of the San Diego Padres had 11. Catcher Damon Berryhill of the Cubs and infielder Gregg Jefferies of the New York Mets were tied with three points each and first baseman Ricky Jordan of the Philadelphia Phillies had two.

"It means a lot to me," Sabo said. "It's like the All-Star Game, I was voted to that but I wasn't counting on it. When I got it, I was happy. It's the same with this. I wasn't counting on it. If I did it, great. If I didn't get it, I wasn't going to quit."

Reds owner Marge Schott, who has been critical of the team's second-place finishes, attended Sabo's news conference at Riverfront Stadium.

"Well, at least we won something. Right Chris?" she said.

Sabo stole 46 bases, tied for fourth in the league and the most for a Reds' rookie since Bob Descher's 54 in 1909. Sabo hit 40 doubles, third in the NL behind Andres Galarraga's 42 and Rafael Palmeiro's 40 and Sabo was the only rookie to play in the All-Star Game and did it before the hometown crowd.

At the start of the year, Cincinnati was going to use him as a backup infielder. However, when third baseman Buddy Bell got hurt at the end of spring training, Sabo took over.

He made an impact from the start. On April 7, Sabo had 11 assists in Cincinnati's 8-1 victory over St. Louis tying the record for third basemen.

On June 18, Sabo had his first four-hit game and the Reds traded Bell to the Houston Astros. Sabo was 11-for-23 that week, stole four bases in four attempts and was named NL player of the week.

"I always knew I was going to make it," Sabo said. "It was just a matter of when, if not this year, then next year. It was just a matter of everything falling into place. It fell into place pretty good this year."

At the All-Star break, he was batting .312 with 10 homers and 35 RBI but he dropped off sharply in the second half.

Sabo is the sixth Cincinnati player to win the award, the first since pitcher Pat Zachry tied Butch Metzger of the Padres in 1976, the only tie in the award's history.

Now, he's looking forward to next year.

"We saw what the Dodgers did," Sabo said. "We know we've got better talent than they do. We know we've got the talent."

New KU coach upset

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Kansas basketball coach Roy Williams admits he is angry about an NCAA probation against his team for the next three years. But he says his team will adapt — and he doesn't really want to talk about it.

"I have instructed the team that this is the United States of America," Williams said Tuesday after the sanctions were announced. "They don't have to talk to anyone else."

The penalties were the result of recruiting violations that occurred under former Coach Larry Brown, who left Kansas to accept a lucrative offer from the San Antonio Spurs of the NBA.

The three-year probation, which prevents the Jayhawks from defending their national basketball championship, could be extended with even stiffer penalties should Kansas commit further violations within that period.

The school also must disassociate itself from backers that Brown identified as Jerry Collins, formerly in broadcast production for KU and now in a similar role for the San Antonio Spurs; Ralph Light, president of R A L Construction of Kansas City; and Mike Marshall, a former KU player who worked in Brown's basketball camp during 1986.

The team also cannot bring recruits on paid trips to the KU campus for a year. And the school will be stripped of one scholarship during that period.

Williams brought seniors Scooter Barry and Milt Newton to the press conference to discuss the sanctions. At one point, Newton broke into tears and had to leave the room.

"I have anger. Scooter and Milt have anger. But there's nothing we can do about it, so why worry about it?" Williams said. "I'm not going to say I'm going to invite the NCAA to my house for dinner tonight. I'm not going to invite last year's staff over to dinner tonight."

Newton, a forward and key member of the squad, said the team will not fall apart because of the sanctions.

"We're not going to succumb and take fifth or sixth (in the Big Eight Conference)," Newton said. "This will just make us play harder."

But Iowa State coach Johnny Orr said the prohibition against bringing recruits for a visit next year could "be a killer."

"How are they going to get somebody to come to their school if they can't bring them on campus for a visit?" Orr said. "It's a tough situation. The bad thing is nothing will happen to the people who committed the wrongdoing. But I would definitely vote to let them play in our tournament next year."

LAWRENCE, Kan. — University of Kansas basketball coach Roy Williams (left) and senior player Milt Newton sit through a press conference announcing the terms of a three year probation imposed by the NCAA on the Jayhawk basketball program Tuesday.

The Big Eight Conference will decide if Kansas can play in its postseason tournament, which selects the conference's automatic qualifier to the NCAA tournament.

"The issue of automatic qualification will be discussed by the conference faculty representatives and athletic directors at their next meeting Dec. 7-9 in Kansas City," Big Eight commissioner Carl James said.

Brown acknowledged the penalties resulted largely from improper recruiting inducements given to one-time transfer Vincent Askew during a 10-day period in 1986. Brown, Collins, Light and Marshall were responsible for the inducements, Brown said Tuesday.

"The saddest thing is that I'm here in San Antonio," Brown said in a telephone interview with the Kansas City Times. "There's a new coaching staff, and the kids are suffering."

"That really bothers me. The kids at the university who had nothing to do with the allegations can't go to the tournament."

Brown, interviewed later Tuesday night on ESPN, said that a "source close to Vincent Askew" was the informant to the NCAA. When asked whether the source was former Memphis State coach Dana Kirk, Brown said he could neither confirm nor deny it.

Chancellor Gene Budig could not be reached for comment.

In a prepared statement, however, Budig said the school supported Williams.

"The University of Kansas has total confidence in Coach Williams and his ability to recruit quality student athletes."

Lewis keys

Howard win

RANGER — Terence Lewis scored 23 points to lead the Howard College Hawks to their first basketball victory of the season, a 101-90 pasting of Ranger here Wednesday.

"I think it was a nice win in a difficult situation," Hawk coach Steve Green said. "We struggled through but we won."

Lewis was described as a "one-man wrecking crew" by Green for his effort against the Rangers. Aside from his scoring totals, Lewis also had 13 rebounds, three steals and five assists during the game.

Larry Pettigrew had 19 points, while Michael New added 18 and Charles Moore 17 in the Hawk win.

Although pleased with the win, Green said there is still room for improvement on his freshman-dominated team.

"We were playing like a young team, consequently we had some breakdowns," he said. "We had a 22-point lead in the second half, and let them cut it down to about 11 before we pulled back ahead."

"I think we got ahead too fast in the second half," he said of the Hawks' initial spurt. "When you play a team on its home court, they always come back."

With the victory, the Hawks even their record at 1-1. They return to action Thursday night in the opening round of the Midland Tournament in Chapparel Center. They play Jacksonville Baptist at 9 p.m.

Oilers out to break hex against Browns

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers will be going against recent history when they host the Cleveland Browns Monday night in the Astrodome.

Cleveland has won seven consecutive non-strike games over the Oilers and eight of the last 10 meetings.

The Browns came into the Astrodome last year under identical circumstances and blasted the Oilers 40-7.

The home-loving Oilers have won 14 of their last 15 nonstrike home games. The one loss was to the Browns last season.

"If we come out and play like we played (Sunday) with a lot of emotion and enthusiasm and error-free, we'll have a good game against Cleveland," quarterback Warren Moon said.

But the Oilers haven't had a consistent winning string this season, getting back-to-back victories only twice en route to their 6-3 record.

"What we have to do is put two games back to back, I think the key word this week is consistency," Moon said.

The Oilers have been on a roller coaster ride the entire season.

They won back-to-back games to open the season, then lost to the New York 45-3 and came back the next week with a 31-6 victory over New England.

The Oilers dipped again with a 32-23 loss in Philadelphia, followed up with victories over Kansas City and Pittsburgh and spiraled to a 44-21 loss at Cincinnati.

The Oilers careened back to the top Sunday night with their best game of the season, beating Washington 41-17 and making it look easy.

"It may have looked easy but I can assure you it was hard," Moon said.

Now it's another nationally televised game against the Browns, the only team to beat Houston in the Astrodome in the Oilers page 2-B

Grady back Offensive Player of Week

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

For the Grady Wildcats, the long autumn of 1988 has turned to happy days in 1988.

It was two years ago that the Wildcats — devastated by graduation — fielded a team consisting almost entirely of freshmen. As might be expected, Grady lost more than their share of games — all of them, in fact — that season.

But those freshmen stayed with the program, and the results are now plain to see: The Grady Wildcats have now qualified for post-season play.

To qualify for the playoffs, the 'Cats had to defeat a stubborn Borden County team Friday, and they did so in convincing fashion, downing the Coyotes, 54-26.

Leading the way for the Wildcats was running back Julian Valle — one of those freshmen of '86. The junior tailback rushed for 224 yards on 23 carries and scored three touchdowns in the Grady run, and for that reason in the Herald's selection as Crossroad Country Offensive Player of the Week.

Another team that is experiencing success after years of frustration is the Garden City Bears. League doormats for the past few years, the 'Kats are roaring this year with a 7-1 season record and an outstanding chance at making the playoffs for the first time since 1980.

A crucial test for the Bears this season was last Friday when they traveled to Water Valley. It was a test Garden City passed with flying colors, besting the Wildcats, 35-0.

Leading the defensive charge for the Bears was defensive end Eleazar Madrid. The senior was in on 16 tackles, four for losses, and pressured the quarterback into throwing two interceptions, according to his coach, Sam Scott.

For his efforts, Madrid is this week's Outstanding Defensive Player.

Other notable defensive efforts from last Friday include:

• Chad Wells, of Grady, who had 12 solo tackles and 13 assists in the victory against Borden County.

• Defensive tackle George Reyna and linebackers David Mendez and Kevin Barnes of Stanton. Head coach Dale Ruth said each had an outstanding game against Iraan.

• Defensive end John Overton of Coahoma. Subbing for an injured David Molina, Overton had three solo and three assisted tackles, along with two stops behind the line of scrimmage in 2½ quarters against Wylie.

• Teddy Gillespie of Sands, who had 16 tackles, caused a fumble and recovered a fumble against Klondike.

• Shay Howard of Forsan, who had seven solo and 15 assisted tackles against Winters.

• Shane Kemper of Borden County, who had 13 assisted and seven solo tackles, caused two fumbles and returned an interception 26 yards against Grady.

Other outstanding offensive efforts of the past week include:

• Chris Kilmer of Borden County, who gained 95 yards on eight carries for two touchdowns against Grady.

• Garden City coach Sam Scott noted the following offensive performances: Quarterback Codie Scott; receiver Jodie Scott; tailback Tony Ramirez; and fullback Weldon Hillger.

• Fullback Beau Rees of Colorado City, who rushed for more than 100 yards against Ballinger.

Ex-Celtics coach nominated for Hall

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)

K.C. Jones, one of the greatest defensive guards in NBA history, credited the generosity of his college and pro teammates with helping him earn a nomination for the Basketball Hall of Fame.

"I think it's a question of chemistry, that's really the bottom line. The ability to respect one another, that was positive," said Jones, who helped lead the University of San Francisco to NCAA championships in 1955 and 1956 and the Boston Celtics to eight straight NBA titles.

Jones was one of 16 players, coaches and contributors nominated Tuesday for February's election for the Hall of Fame.

Three other standout guards — Lenny Wilkens, Earl Monroe and Dave Bing — were among the nine players nominated for the February election.

Also tabbed by the screening committee headed by Hall of Famer Bob Cousy were front-court stars Dave Cowens, Walt Bellamy and the late Larry Foust and the first two women players ever nominated — Ann Meyers, a standout at UCLA, and Nera White, an AAU all-star from Nashville, Tenn.

Three coaches were placed in nomination: Jack Hartman, who has the best winning record in Kansas State history; Jack Ramsay of the Indiana Pacers, who has posted 15 winning seasons during a 20-year NBA career that has made him the winningest active coach in the league, and Will Robinson, the first black head coach at a Division I college when he took over Illinois State in 1970.

Proposed as contributors were current Sun Belt Conference commissioner and former Duke coach Vic Bubas, past Hall of Fame presidents Curt Gowdy and Larry O'Brien, and Cesare Rubini of Italy, president of the World Association of Basketball Coaches since 1979.

Indiana coach Bob Knight was also nominated, for a second time, but Hall of Fame executive director Joe O'Brien said Knight asked that his name be withdrawn for personal reasons.

"I remember being involved with some good people. (Bill) Russell, Cousy, (Bill) Sharman and all down the line," Jones said Tuesday night.

Jones, who said he contributed "desire, dedication and brains" to the Celtics, noted that he would have never been so successful without the support of his Boston teammates.

"They gave me a pat on the back when I made mistakes and said keep on trucking," Jones recalled. "We had to work with what little talent each individual player had. The sum of the whole was more than the parts."

Jones played nine years with Boston and then coached the Celtics to the 1984 and 1986 championships. He stepped down as Celtics coach after last season.

Oilers

Oilers' last 14 non-strike home games.

"This was by far the best team win I've ever been involved with, probably in football," Oiler defensive end Ray Childress said of the Oilers' victory over Washington.

"Now it's just if we can do it every Sunday, I don't know. Cleveland is a bigger challenge than the Redskins."

Childress had three fumble recoveries, a sack and five tackles against the Redskins.

Last year's game with the Browns in the Astrodome also had playoff overtones and the prospect of a close game but the Oilers flopped.

Both teams had 6-3 records prior to last year's game.

"I don't even remember that game," Childress said. "I don't know of any problems with Cleveland, okay? I see Cleveland as just another team. They're a great team and we need to play great to compete with them."

The Browns will present a greater challenge because of their ball control tactics, Childress said. "Cleveland will be more of a team that wants to get the ball and hide it from us," Childress said. "They'll want to run the ball, run the clock. It's going to be a big challenge."

Houston's only victories over the Browns in the past five years were 34-27 in 1983 and last year's 15-10 victory by the replacement Oilers.

The Oilers, 4-0 at home this season, were beaten at home by the replacement New England Patriots, 21-7 last season.

"We need to approach it as a business game," Oiler safety Keith Bostic said. "We have to keep doing the things it takes to beat a good team, fewer penalties, no mental errors. We have to do those things we did against Washington."

Red Raider players earn honors

LUBBOCK (AP) — Texas Tech tackle Desmond Royal and linebacker James Mosley were named The Associated Press defensive players of the week for helping hold Texas scoreless on its last five possessions in the Red Raiders' shocking 33-32 victory.

The two seniors combined for three sacks of Longhorn quarterback Mark Murdock, including two plays in a fourth quarter in which Tech scored 18 points. Mosley was credited with 16 tackles, a sack and a forced fumble, while Royal had seven tackles and two sacks.

Tech quarterback Billy Joe Tolleriver, who passed for 295 yards and two touchdowns, gained the offensive honors for the second time this season.

During closed practices last week, Tech revamped its defense, going to a 3-4 alignment to add an additional linebacker and better utilize Mosley's speed, said Tech coach Spike Dykes.

"We felt like we needed to get James Mosley more involved in the game and it did," he said. "We brought James in on a lot of blitzes in the game and he played well."

With Tech down by 10 early in the fourth quarter, Mosley stopped Murdock for a 13-yard loss on second-and-13 at the Tech 47.

"I just delayed and came up the middle, hoping that the offensive guard and the tackle would block my defensive end," he said. "It was a basic play that we had planned all week. I had pursued from the outside and blitzed several times, so I thought I could catch them off guard."

Texas was forced to punt. Three possessions later, with Tech leading by one point with less than two minutes remaining, Royal sacked Murdock for a loss of seven yards. The ball went to the Red Raiders on downs.

"I just figured we needed a big play," said Royal.

With less than 30 seconds left and the Longhorns on Tech's 38, Mosley applied pressure to Murdock, whose intended pass to Keith Cash fell incomplete, leaving the Longhorns facing a 55-yard field goal attempt.

Royal credited the defensive realignment with helping hold down Longhorn running back Eric Metcalf, who gained 156 yards on 29 carries but didn't get a run longer than 23 yards.

"If you can hold him down enough to win the game, then you did a pretty good job," said Royal.

Mosley, who at 25 is the oldest player on the Tech squad, stopped Metcalf four times en route to notching the most tackles he's had in a game.

He said his age gives him an edge, even against runners as explosive as Metcalf. Before walking on at Tech in 1985, Mosley spent four years in the Air Force in England working with nuclear bombs, so he knows all about explosives.

"It doesn't matter how big or how strong they are," said Mosley along with his opponents. "I know that I'm older and wiser than they are and have more experience."

All adults urged to wear black

The Big Spring Sports Booster Club is urging all Steer adult fans to wear black to the home finale Friday night against Snyder. All adults wearing black will be eligible to win two steak dinners donated by Abel Coating System.

The Booster Club will meet Monday at 7 p.m. in the high school library. Film of the Snyder game will be shown. All members and parents are encouraged to attend.

Shooting competition Sunday

The Texas National Guard will enter a competition shooting event against the Indian Run Muzzleloaders' Club of Coahoma slunday at 1 p.m.

Guardsmen from Big Spring, Snyder and Midland are expected to attend, according to Rick Scott and Bob Kennedy of the muzzleloaders' club.

The club's gun range will be the site for the shoot, with the Guardsmen bringing cartridge and centerfire weapons including service M-16s, while the club members will compete using blackpowder muzzleloaders.

Blackpowder competition rules and targets will be used, according to Scott.

The range is located off the East Howard Field Road east of Coahoma. Entry fee is $5. Spectators should bring their own chairs and soft drinks. The route to the range will be marked with flags.

Baseball salaries increase

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) - The average major league salary increased to $429,640 this season, one year after the only decrease in recent times, according to a management study.

Barry Rona, head of the owners' Player Relations Committee, made the report Tuesday to baseball general managers at their annual meetings.

This year's figure, the highest-ever, does not include money for postseason awards. Those bonuses would not likely change the average by a significant amount.

Last season, the PRC figured the average salary at $410,517. In 1987, it dipped 2 percent to $402,500.

"An increase in salary in the area of 7 percent is not unreasonable. And, standing by itself, it is not discouraging," Rona said. "But when you're coming off a base of $400,000, then it does seem to be an unacceptable rate of increase."

Johnson has money protected

TORONTO (AP) - The Canadian Track and Field Association continues to act as Ben Johnson's banker even though the sprinter breached two association contracts by testing positive for anabolic steroids at the Olympics.

Johnson was disqualified from the Sport Canada athlete assistance program (the $650 monthly "carding" money) for life and suspended from competition for two years by the CTFA for contravening its anti-doping agreement last month in Seoul.

The International Olympic Committee stripped the 26-year-old Toronto sprinter of the 100-meter gold medal when post-race tests proved his urine sample contained traces of the steroid stanozolol.

Johnson, however, is still able to withdraw his money from the CTFA's amateur athlete reserve fund, which shelters money from being taxed, even though he's no longer a member in good standing with the CTFA nor the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

The IAAF slapped him with a two-year competition ban the day Johnson tested positive in Seoul.

Jean-Guy Ouellette, chairman of the CTFA board, told the Toronto Star that the CTFA is morally obligated to allow the sprinter to use its services even though the Johnson scandal has embarrassed the association and prompted a federal investigation.

"He may not be a member in good standing, but he's still a member of both (CTFA and IAAF) organizations, except that he's been suspended," Ouellette said Tuesday. "He's still a member of our organization and we are there to try to protect his amateur standing."

Absentee voting brisk in Martin County

Virginia James, Martin County Clerk, advised that 118 absentee ballots had been cast as of Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. James expects this number to increase considerably by the close of absentee voting on Friday, Nov. 4, to 5 p.m.

The clerk anticipates that absentee voting will be heavier than in prior elections, due to law that now permits a voter to vote absentee without an excuse.

In the 1984 general election there was a total of 131 votes.

Martin County polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 8. Voting boxes in the county are:

Prec. 1, Box 1, Cap Rock Electric Auditorium, Joni Hazlewood, Presiding Judge.

Prec. 2, Box 2, Knights of Columbus Building, formerly the Martin-Glasscock Neighborhood Center, 504

S. St. Francis, Stanton, Terri Marquez, presiding judge.

Prec. 2, Box 5, Portable Building, Intersection of Highways 137 and 87, Mrs. Thomas Romine, presiding judge.

Prec. 3, Box 6, Grady School Building, Bruce Key, presiding judge.

Prec. 3, Box 7, Building, North City Park, Stanton, JoJon Cox, presiding judge.

Prec. 4, Box 8, Klondike School Building, Jerry Cave, presiding judge.

Prec. 4, Box 9, Fire Department

Building, Lenorah Denver Springer, presiding judge.

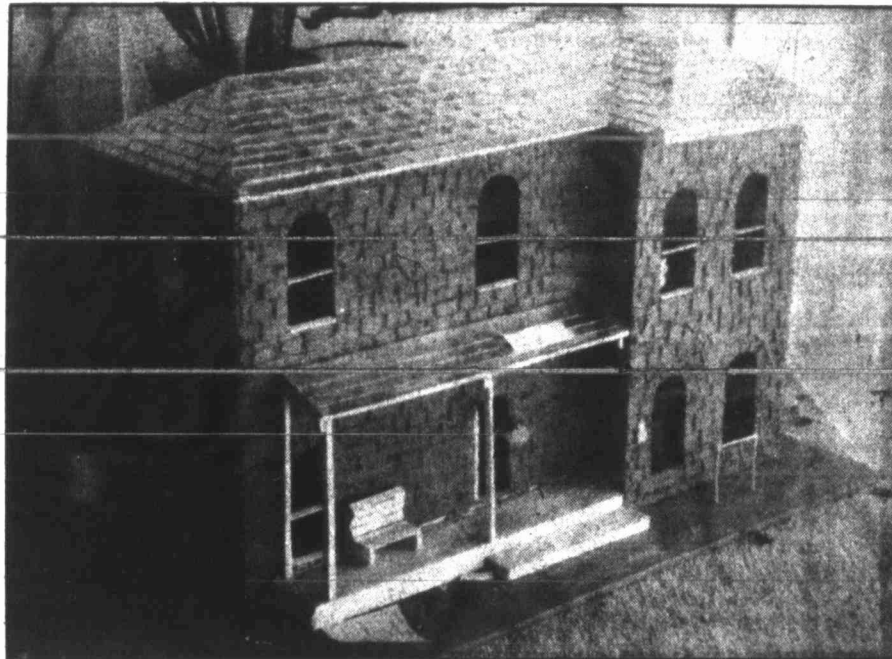

Prec. 4, Box 10, Brown Paymaster, Gin Office, Billy Reed, presiding judge.

Prec. 4, Box 11, Housing Authority Office, 408 East Carpenter, Stanton, Jo Ann Edwards, presiding judge.

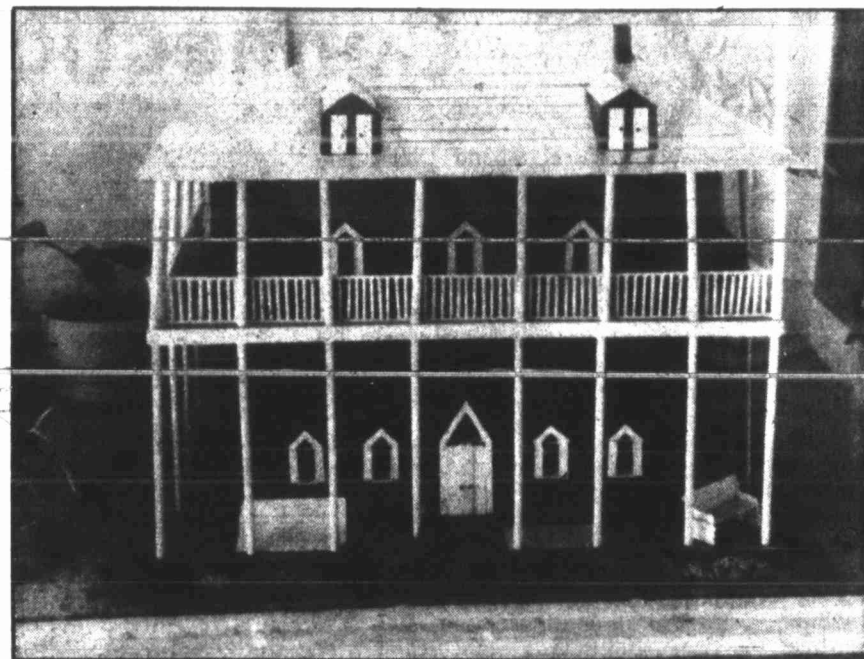

Absentee Voting, County Clerks' Office, Martin County Courthouse, Bob Haislip, presiding judge.

Martin County voters may cast their ballots at any of the election boxes in their precinct.

With 2,653 voters registered in Martin County, Mrs. James was forecasting that 1,800 voters would turnout to vote. In 1984 the county polled 1,750 votes. Mrs. James advised her office (756-3412) would be glad to assist voters in locating their polling place.

THE OLD MARTIN COUNTY JAIL. This miniature even includes a tiny saddle and cowboy hat in one of the downstairs rooms.

CONVENT OF THE ACADEMY OF OUR LADY OF MERCY. The replica of this building sports the dark red paint of the original and is complete with porch railings and shutters.

THE OLD MILHOLLAN HOME. Replica includes every detail of the original, including the "gingerbread" detailing along the roof line.

History in miniature on display in Stanton

By PEGGY LUXTON
Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc.

If you want to know what three historical landmarks looked like back when, you have only to walk down the 100 block of St. Peter Street in downtown Stanton.

The store front displaying the sign Monte Mount Cotton Company is sandwiched between Susan's Flowers and the Brown & Pickett law offices. The two front plate-glass windows of the cotton company have a scattering of potted plants. Arranged among the plants are miniature replicas of the old Milhollan Home, the Old Martin County Jail, and the Convent of the Academy of Our Lady of Mercy.

These miniature reproductions were made by Skyler and Piper Bizzell, and won prizes in History Fairs of years past. Skyler and Piper are the son and daughter of Gary and Nancy Bizzell of Hale Center, Texas. They are grandchildren of Ed and Doralene Robnett of Stanton and the late Lila Flanagan of Stanton.

The tiny buildings were given as a gift to the Martin County Historical Museum. Because of a lack of space in the museum, Monte Mount offered his display windows as a home for the replicas. Two of them have been in the window for two years, and the Milhollan House replica was placed in the window last year. Their display in this location offers continuous enjoyment to the citizens of Martin County and frees up needed museum space.

The Milhollan House replica includes shrubbery and pebbles lining the walkway. There are lace curtains at every window, including the cupola. The house is painted white, as is the original, and the wooden roof is scored evenly to suggest shingles.

The convent replica is dark red, with a tin roof. The two porches run along each of the two bottom floors. The windows and doors sport arches and there are shutters on the windows of the third floor. A bench is set in a shaded corner of the lower porch. There is shrubbery around the grounds. This replica gives the viewer some idea of what a reconstructed convent would look like.

A miniature American flag flies from the front porch post of the Old Martin County Jail replica. There are bars on all downstairs windows. You can see the cell block through the front window. The attention to detail is amazing. There is a miniature saddle on display in one of the downstairs rooms, and a cowboy hat dangles off the back of a slat chair pulled up to a desk. The jail rooms contain furniture and wallpaper is hung on the walls. There is a well in back of the jail.

The finish of the jail suggests red sandstone blocks and it is finished off with a shiny tin roof.

The replicas are finished on all four sides. Meticulous care was taken to copy the originals down to the last details. There are even tiny Texas Historical markers on the Milhollan house and the jail.

The Bizzell children were well-versed in Martin County history. Both the Flanagan and Nunn families, ancestors of Skyler and Piper Bizzell, were early settlers of Martin County who contributed much to the shaping of the area.

Bentsen highlights health care in WT visit

By ROBERT COX

During a recent campaign trip through Texas, Democratic Vice-presidential candidate Sen. Lloyd Bentsen appeared in Hale Center to discuss the issue of rural health care and the difficulties faced by hospitals in small towns and rural areas. After a tour of the High Plains Hospital, Senator Bentsen spoke to an overflow crowd at the Hale Center High School auditorium.

Bentsen stated, "Rural America is face-to-face with a full fledged crisis in health care. Forty rural hospitals closed last year and a recent report I've seen estimates that 700 rural hospitals could close in the next five years." He added that 26 hospitals in Texas are in immediate danger of closing and 43 Texas counties do not have hospitals.

In other remarks Bentsen spoke in support of federal funding for nursing education to fill a void of approximately 100,000 nurses. He went further to say that his opponent from Indiana has gone on record numerous times opposing child immunization programs, child nutrition programs, and pre-natal care.

Before closing Bentsen added, "Our message to America is a message of hope for millions of rural families struggling to maintain their way of life... hope for millions of elderly Americans worried about Republican raids on Medicare and Social Security... hope for people who need health care and day care and can't afford it."

In an interview following his speech Sen. Bentsen was asked about his deep rooted concern for rural America. He replied that he is committed because he was reared in a rural area on a farm and ranch in South Texas, and that he understands the needs of rural Americans.

As questions turned to other issues of concern to West Texas residents, Bentsen revealed the Democratic plan to help bring economic recovery to the rural areas.

Among the senator's concerns is the reimbursement ratio by Medicare for illnesses suffered by those covered under the program. Under the existing program, small hospitals receive considerably less reimbursement per illness than hospitals in urban areas for the same illness receiving the same treatment.

"It is a problem that many of our small hospitals are facing. I worked on the problem last year and things have improved," he said, "but we need to do more."

When asked about the family farmer, Bentsen noted that farm values have fallen by close to 50%, and that approximately 250,000 farmers have lost their land in the last eight years. "There has been a corresponding drop in rural funding over the same period and 20% of our rural residents live at the poverty level."

On energy and the Democratic proposal for an energy policy, Sen. Bentsen discussed the plan for a domestic energy summit for early 1989. Bentsen would chair a summit meeting of oil and gas producers, pipeline companies, and consumers.

The aim of the summit would be to reduce dependence on foreign oil and promote domestic exploration. He went on to say that if domestic gas production can be increased by 5%, the corresponding economic benefit would be approximately $1.6 billion for the energy producing states. "Our energy message is that we have not had an energy policy for the last eight years."

The rig count was 1300 working oil rigs seven years ago, now that number is 240." Bentsen added that two-fifths of the oil service workers are now unemployed.

Asked about the effect of proposed health insurance legislation on the family farmer, the senator answered that there will be a restriction on the number of employees working before an employer will be required to provide health insurance.

Under the proposed limits, the family farmer will not be affected. While on the subject of farming and agriculture, the Senator stated that our world trade policies must address agriculture for the farmer to remain in business.

In closing Sen. Bentsen remarked that in just three years the United States has gone from being the number one lender nation to the number one debtor nation due to the tremendous buildup of the national debt.

Member Information Advisor
Sonny Garza is a 2nd Class Lineman assigned to the Co-Op Construction crew. He has been an employee of the Cooperative for 8 years.

Though Garza was born in Big Spring, his parents lived in Lenorah at the time. He grew up in Lenorah, moving to Stanton when he married the former Gloria Arguello of Stanton.

Garza worked for a Lenorah farmer for about seven years before becoming employed at Cap Rock. When he went to work, his job was groundman, and he lived at the South Service Center between Midkiff and St. Lawrence. He worked in the south service center for approximately a year before moving back to Stanton.

After three years of employment, Garza became an Apprentice Lineman. He has been a 2nd Class Lineman for a year.

Sonny and Gloria Garza have four daughters. Maria is 14, Monica is 12, Jessica is 7, and Elizabeth is almost 2. They expect another child next March.

SONNY GARZA

The first thing that comes to mind for Garza when he talks about his job is the fact that he likes the people he works with. He wants to continue gaining skill and knowledge so he can become a 1st Class Lineman. ## Wedding

Manning-Salmon

Kymerly D'Ann Manning, Stanton, and David McDonald Salmon Jr., Odessa, were united in marriage Oct. 29, 1988 at a 5 p.m. double-ring ceremony at First Baptist Church, Odessa, with Dr. Bailey Stone, and Dr. Kenneth Patrick, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Roy Crim, Stanton, and the late Harold Dean Manning.

Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Salmon Sr., Odessa.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with candles and fresh-cut greenery, featuring a centered tree candelabra and a brass, double-sided kneeling bench, entwined with greenery.

Organist was Mrs. Suzanne Thames, Odessa.

Pianist was Dr. Jack Hendrix, Odessa.

Mrs. Steve (Cindy) Caldwell, Odessa, sang "Whither Thou Goest," and "Household of Prayer." Dr. Patrick sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her step-father. She wore a bouffant white gown of satin peau d-soir and silk organza. The beaded bique bodice was overlaid with lace and bridal pearls; creating a keyhole ring neckline. A lace cameo at the neckline held a cascade of pearls. Full puff sleeves were highlighted with beaded lace and three strands, flowing across the sleeves.

She wore matching lace and pearl gauntlets, creating a point at the wrist and ruffles at the elbow. A repeat of three strands of pearls flowed across the back above the deep "V" neckline of lace to the waistline. The bouffant skirt formed cascades of ruffles to the hemline and the full-length of the cathedral train. Her twin-tiered, fingertip-length veil of silk French illusion, featured crystals that formed a point at the forehead. Triple puffs sprinkled with pearls highlighted the embellished flower petals at the side, where streams of waterfall pearls fell from the center of the flower.

She carried a cascading bouquet of gardenias, bridal white roses, ivy, iridescent leaves and bridal pearls, accenting a satin-covered Bible, which was carried by the bride's mother and bride's sister at their weddings.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Richard (Michelle) Parker, Midland.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. John (Sondya) Boyd, Odessa; and Karen Goodrich, Midland.

Honorary trainbearers were Britney Hancock and Hilary Hancock, bride's nieces, Houston.

Best man was Glenn Kennedy, Odessa.

Groomsmen were John Zavitz, Church Falls; and Virginia and Tom Anderson, Corpus Christi.

Ushers were Andy Burk, bridegroom's brother-in-law; Tommy Salmon Jr., bridegroom's brother; Tommy Perry, and Glen Rhodes, all of Odessa.

After the wedding, the couple was taken by limousine to the reception in the Alamo Ballroom at the Odessa Hilton, which was decorated with white and clear balloons, entwined with twinkling lights, hung from ceiling.

The bride's table, draped with a lace overlay, accented with iridescent bows, featured a three-tiered white cake, surrounded by four satellite cakes. Each cake was adorned with white iridescent sugar roses and orchids. The cake was placed on mirrors to complement the top of the cake, which featured arrangements of iridescent white sugar roses and orchids that cascaded around the cake.

The bridegroom's table, draped with an iridescent emerald green cloth, featured a three-tiered German chocolate cake, inscribed with the couple's names. The hor d'oeuvre table was centered with an ice sculpture, shaped like a vase with an arrangement of spiraling iridescent branches and white gladiolus.

After a wedding trip to the Caribbean, the couple will make their home in Odessa.

Lou's strong educational background made her more concerned with their needs as teachers. "Johnnie Lou has devoted much of her life to improving education for students of all ages," stated Mariann Heffington, chapter president.

Chamber notes

Congratulations to both the Stanton Buffalos and the Grady Wildcats on impressive wins last Friday night. Regardless of what the Buffs do this week against Marfa, they will still be the district champions! McCamey and Iraan will play Friday to see who is the runner-up in the district.

Grady raised its record in league play to 3-1 with the win over Borden County and if they beat Dawson in the season finale this week, they will advance to the state playoffs as runner-up behind Klondike.

The community is proud of both teams and back them all the way!

The Directors of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce urges everyone to vote on Tuesday, Nov. 8. They have endorsed Proposition 1, the Highway Amendment, and ask support for this amendment to keep highway money for highways. If Proposition One fails, half the money spent to build and repair roads could be spent on something else. Continue our Texas plan for good roads without raising taxes.

For the location of your polling place or for further information, call the County Clerk's office. Registered voters may vote absentee by personal appearance Wednesday, Oct. 19 through Friday, November 4 in the Clerk's office.

There were 95 visitors to the chamber officer and the Old Jail in October. Thirty-seven of these were from out of town with quite a few being from California, Georgia, and Louisiana. One visitor who made a BIG impression was Darryl Byrd from Union City, California. He and a partner visited the Old Jail during an official trip to the courthouse as Juvenile officers out of San Jose. Darryl played linebacker for the Los Angeles Raiders until last year when a back injury caused his retirement. He said he found there was life after football. Deputy Mike Welling and Volunteer Lora Bell Tom showed the officers our historic old jail.

Friends of the Museum volunteer workers logged 67 hours in October in the Old Jail. Those who helped were Frances Biggs, Mary Kathryn Bristow, Dorothy Deavenport, Colleen Holloway, Dutchie Johnson, and Lora Bell Tom. Their work is appreciated.

SEVENTH GRADE FINISHES SEASON, 1-5.
The seventh grade football team closed the season Friday night with a 20-6 win over the McCamey seventh. These youngsters had a good season considering the size of some of the players they competed against. Stanton ended up with a 1 and 5 for the season, but the game against McCamey showed that the boys really had the desire to win the game. The Stanton Herald will gladly make an apology for the prediction in last week's paper. You future Buffs really looked good, a lot of credit goes to Coach Hightower. Thanks coach, you did a marvelous job, with the boys. I guess you could say the seventh grade was led by the fine running of Ricky Lucas, and Brad Barnhill did a good job at quarterback. But the team played well together all year long and this is what it takes.

These are the Coaches awards for the Van Horn game. Stanton won, 61-0.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

Throughout the presidential campaign I have read numerous letters to the editor of the area publications. A large number of the letters have been written to take shots at one particular candidate or the other. Still others have continued the ongoing practice of attaching labels in attempts to dissuade voters from deciding on a candidate. During the Presidential Debate of October 13, I watched with great interest as the two candidates exchanged views on issues that are important to the citizens of our nation. The rhetoric on drugs, gun control, and patriotism (or the lack of) were not of primary concern in the final debate because both candidates seem to realize that their goals are basically similar in those areas. Each has spoken their mind on their differences in philosophy in dealing with these matters.

The difference in the final debate was the absolute polarization of priorities on what each man proposes as his agenda for his term in the White House. George Bush has proposed to continue the buildup of our defense forces and not raising taxes. He stated that we need several weapons systems so that as they are bargained away, we will still have adequate protection from the threat of Soviet aggression. This is an admirable proposal except for one thing. Mr. Bush has no plan to finance his military ideas. The defense buildup of the last eight years has, indeed, put America in the lead in negotiating for arms reduction. But, it has been done by building weapons with the sole intent of destroying them in the name of peace. This has led our nation into severe economic difficulties.

Mr. Dukakis has proposed to bring some of the monies that have been funneled into the defense buildup back into Hometown, USA. He is not advocating doing away with our national defense. He is advocating a balance so that families can own homes and rear families on one income if they choose. He is advocating care for the homeless, job training for the unemployed and under employed, economic development, opportunities for college educations, and bringing some of our tax dollars back to our communities rather than simply passing them along to our nations few defense contractors.

Child care has been a big issue in this election. Mr. Bush says to let the people choose the care they desire for their families. The problem is that under the existing economic conditions throughout much of the nation, the type of care most families desire is simply not affordable. The choice is there; the means are not. Mr. Dukakis has espoused the view that the government has an obligation to help provide the best care possible for the children of working mothers. I agree.

If your view of the role of government is to buy weapons so that we can destroy them after negotiations with foreign nations, then your choice should be that of Mr. Bush. However, if you want your tax dollars to come back to your home town where they can be used for things in your community, and where everyone can benefit from more of the money earned in an area being returned to that area, then your choice is that of Mr. Dukakis. I want to see my tax dollars come home rather than go to a small few in far away places. If that makes me liberal, I'll wear the label with no apologies and no excuses.

Sincerely,
Robert Cox

'Where Do They Get The Idea?'

A political candidate called this Paste-Pot man one day to complain the Herald had referred to him as "incompetent."

A check showed the word was "incumbent." Fortunately, in most instances, there is a difference.

***

TEXANS SPEAK frankly. One candidate for a county office in the Lower Rio Grande Valley told his small audience in Brownsville "I'm not going to tell you what I'll do if I get elected because I don't know."

His candor did not win the election.

***

Another candidate and close friend stopped by to visit R.W. Whipkey, and the late Herald Publisher asked him: "What are your qualifications for the job?"

The friend stood up and said to the politician, "Well, let's go, Joe."

***

Some years ago the banker from a small Texas town stopped in a slightly larger town for gasoline. As the attendant filled the tank, he talked to the customer and learned where he was from, among other things.

"What's it like to live in a one-horse town?" he asked.

"Pretty good," said the banker, "when you're the horse."

***

What's the motto for the state of Alaska?

Many are cold but few are frozen.

***

QUICK quote from Bob Hope: "I think it's nice that Frank Sinatra is going back to work. He needs the rest."

***

The Oklahoma Senate is at it again.

This time it was the selection of a state fish.

Supporters of the black bass, crappie and walking catfish were beaten down by a coalition group favoring the Marone Chrysoyps.

WALT FINLEY

One bewildered taxpayer asked "Don't we have enough morones in the senate already?"

For those unfamiliar with some of our fish, crappie is pronounced croppie (to the relief of non-fishermen), and a walking catfish is one which has no car.

***

THOUGHT FOR the day is from a story by George Harmon of the Chicago Daily News:

"If you're earning $15,000 this year, you may need more than $30,000 to live the same way eight years from now."

By "the same way," I assume he means "greatly over-extended."

***

The Southeastern Oil Review says "A consultant is someone called in at the last minute to share the blame."

And at a high cost.

***

I THINK it was ex-publisher now planning to become a roaming reporter, John G. Edwards of Dallas, who remarked:

"A psychologist has figured out why Robin Hood robbed only the rich. The poor didn't have any money."

***

And terrific Shay Moffett, SWCID student, says one of her aged relatives "Whose marbles aren't too stable, thinks energy crunch is a breakfast food."

***

Do you mind my laying aside the flippant and the superficial for a few moments?

I'm going to talk about America — the pill popper's paradise.

PILLS HAVE become a way of life in the United States, as a check of any supermarket for drug store shelf will show.

There are pills for everything imaginable — and all of them find ready buyers.

The use of "health and nerve" pills has grown so dramatically in the past 20 years that, according to American Pharmaceutical Society reports, sales in this area have almost surpassed sales in all other areas of the drug and medicine business.

IN ORDER TO maintain "the pill society," many parents are being forced to use a double standard and make unconscious use of George Orwell's theory of "doublethink" — the mental process of knowing both the truth on a subject and the lie being used — then ignoring both.

Millions of adults, during recent months, have been calling for stronger laws and educational programs to cut down the misuse of drugs by children of other parents. These programs are needed, for the youngster and the parent.

(Few parents will admit their own youngsters misuse drugs, marijuana or narcotics even after police arrest their children.)

While crying for the local, state and federal governmental agencies to stop drug abuse by the nation's young generation, many adults are blithely setting examples of how to use drugs as an escape.

While crying for the local, state and federal governmental agencies to stop drug abuse by the nation's young generation, many adults are blithely setting examples of how to use drugs as an escape.

THE "PERFECT" pill popper parent provides a wide selection of drugs for his youngster to misuse right in the family medicine cabinet.

Mom went on a diet so she had to have diet pills — many of which contain amphetamines.

Junior uses them too, they provide "great" trips when used "right."

"Old age" saps the zing from dad's muscles, so he has a few "vitamins" (with stimulants) around the house to give him pep.

Junior knows how to use the "vitamins" too. They give him real "zing" — right out of this world.

Adults have the answer to the "pressures of work," commonly called tranquilizers. Mom and Dad use them regularly. Junior uses them too.

Getting to sleep is often a problem but there are answers. Parents call them sleeping pills. Junior calls them "bennies" or "downers."

A DAY IN the life of the "perfect pill popper parent" starts with a pill — just to help him wake up. A cup or two of coffee and a cigarette or two — both contain drugs — help the pill work.

Mid-morning "droops" calls for another pill — just to keep up energy until lunch.

Lunch calls for another pill, either one to cut the appetite for weight watchers or to stimulate the appetite for those under weight.

THE PRESSURES of work, about mid-afternoon, calls for something to calm the nerves — a tranquilizer.

Evening activities call for a pep pill — just to keep the old energy up.

The strenuous evening activity calls for various and sundry vitamin, mineral and food supplement pills, plus laxatives, more tranquilizers to counteract the pep pills — and a sleeping pill to end the day.

The "perfect pill popper parent" has a medicine cabinet that would make some drug addicts jealous.

YET, THIS same parents attend drug abuse meetings and cries, "I just don't know where the youth of today get the idea they can escape through pills and drugs."

***

Please vote next Tuesday.

Grady socks Borden County

GAIL — Jullian Valle rushed for 205 yards and two touchdowns, leading the Grady Wildcats to a 54-26 win over the Borden County Coyotes in 6-A Six-Man football play here Friday night.

Grady raises its record to 4-4 overall and 3-1 in league play. Borden County falls to 2-7 and 1-3.

If Grady can beat Dawson in the season finale next Friday, they will advance to the state playoffs as runner-up in the district behind Klondike.

Grady scored first on a five-yard run by Kenneth Garza. David White's PAT gave the Wildcats an 8-0 lead, and they never trailed after that.

Borden County will conclude the season Friday in Ackerly against the Sands Mustangs.

Stanton rolls to league crown

By STEVE BELVIN
Big Spring Herald Sports Editor

IRAAN — The Stanton Buffalos struck lightning fast. And when their electrical charge was finished, they walked away with a 28-7 win over the Iraan Braves, and the District 5-2A football championship.

The win raises the Buffalos district mark to 4-0 with one league game remaining. Iraan falls to 3-1. Regardless of what the Buffs do next week against Marfa, the championship is theirs. McCamey, with a 3-1 league record, will play Iraan next Friday to see who is the runner-up in the district. If Stanton loses, it will still be the district champion by virtue of wins over McCamey and Iraan.

It was a joyous time in the locker room after the game, but Stanton coach Dale Ruth kept it all in perspective.

"All week long we've been thinking about this district championship. We knew we could do it," he said of the first league crown since he took over head coaching duties in 1983.

"This was a toughie. They put the pressure on us, but we had some big plays and the defense rose to the occasion."

The Buffs did all of their scoring in the second quarter. They took control of the game, which was dominated early by Iraan, and sparked up four touchdowns in a five minute span. That, and a defense led by Gilbert Alamager, George Reyna, Lance Jenkins, David Mendez and Anthony Inman, was too much for the Braves.

The Buffalos' electrical barrage was started by a play that wasn't meant to be. Stanton punter Randy Esparaza didn't have a chance to get his punt off, and elected to run. What looked like a loss of yards, turned out to be a sparkling 65-yard return for a score.

Esparaza appeared stopped on the sideline, short of the first down, but broke two tackles, and raced to the middle of the field for the score.

Sidewinder Tony Moses booted the first of his four extra points, and Stanton led 7-0 with 10:43 left in the first half.

Iraan was forced to punt on its next possession and Inman got the electricity flowing for the Buffs with a 45-yard punt return down to the Iraan 20.

Following a five-yard penalty, quarterback Randy Navarez found Barry Cain all alone behind the Iraan secondary for a 25-yard scoring play. It was Stanton's only pass attempt of the night. Moses' extra point gave Stanton a 14-0 lead with 9:20 left in the first half.

On Iraan's next possession, King fumbled when he was sacked by Reyna. Alamager recovered at the Iraan 45.

It took the Stanton wishbone five plays to score. Navarez executed a good pitch to halfback Steve Scurllark, who went in untouched from 22-yards out. The PAT left Stanton leading 21-0 at the 6:33 mark.

After the kickoff, Iraan's Kent fumbled on the first play. Barnes recovered at the Iraan 15.

Three plays later fullback Reyna scored from four yards out. The PAT left Stanton leading 28-0 with 5:21 remaining in the first half.

In the second half, both teams moved the ball well in-between the 20's. But the scoring chances weren't taken advantage of, except for Iraan's scoring drive at the start of the second half.

The Braves put together an impressive 65-yard 11 play drive. King completed a crucial fourth down pass to Gerid Hedrix, and freshman fullback Riley Malone ripped off an 11-yard run and caught an 11-yard pass. Malone got the score from three yards out. George Medina's PAT cut the deficit to 28-7 with 8:39 left in the game.

But unfortunately for the Braves, they concluded the scoring for the night.

Jobs and Our Texas Roads are at Stake

Good roads are important to prosperity and jobs in Texas.

On Election Day, vote to protect our highways.

Support Proposition One. Though it's at the bottom of the ballot, it's important. It will keep highway money for highways.

Prop. One says the money Washington sends Texas from the Federal Highway Trust Fund can only be used to build, repair or maintain Texas roads.

Prop. One continues the tradition that the money you send to Wash-ton when you fill up at the pump is used only for highways. It doesn't raise taxes.

If Prop. One fails, half the money spent to build and repair roads could be spent on something else.

Losing that money would cost thousands of jobs and mess up our Texas highway system for years to come.

Continue our Texas plan of good jobs, economic growth and roads without raising taxes.

Keep Texas Moving. Vote for Proposition One, the Highway Amendment.

Noon Lions Club met in regular meeting Oct. 25. Mary Kathryn Bristow presented a certificate to Tom Angel for 20 years service to Cancer Society.

Victor Taylor introduced Aufust Koeaning, Midland district coordinator of emergency management.

He showed slides of the tornado at Saragosa. He told what his department does in situations of this sort. He said that was classified as a Class V tornado. He also said there are from 120-160 tornadoes in our state during a year.

He cautioned, if one is in a car, get out of it if a tornado is approaching. Tornadoes seem to find automobiles and mobile homes as prime targets.

Museum musings

We invite everyone in to see our traveling exhibit on the history of the Llano Estacado out of Southwest Collections at Texas Tech University. This is an excellent exhibit and will be in the museum until December 1st. It would be especially helpful for any students studying this subject.

I would like to thank Gene Byrd, Joe Acosta, Eddie Crow and Stanley Reid for moving the exhibit from Big Spring. Also thanks to Stanley and son, Gary Reid for helping June put this in its proper perspective. Billie Flanagan and Doris Hull did their share of work pertaining to this exhibit.

The Board of Trustees met on Oct. 13, with Vice-president Mary Prudie Brown in charge of the business meeting in the absence of June Reid, who was on vacation with her sister and niece and husband. Plans were really put into working order for the Christmas Ball that will be held at the Community Center on Dec. 17.

The ticket prices will be $5 each and there will be refreshments, music and door prizes.

We hope everyone will make plans to support the museum in this first fund-raiser. We really want to keep our museum one of the best in the state. So if there are any questions, please call 756-2722. Those attending the board meeting were: Billie Miles, Gene Byrd, Lora Bell Tom, Ruby Haggard and Mary Prudie Brown.

Big Spring VA Medical Center part of newest cabinet agency

Today, with President Reagan's signing of the "Department of Veterans Affairs Act," Big Spring VA Medical Center becomes part of the newest and one of the largest agencies on the President's Cabinet.

Conrad Alexander, director of the Big Spring VA Medical Center, described VA employees as "delighted" with the signing of the bill conferring cabinet status on the Veterans Administration, and renaming it the Department of Veterans Affairs.

The new Department, the 14th Cabinet agency, will officially replace the VA on March 15, 1989. At the formal signing ceremony, Administrator of Veterans Affairs Thomas E. Turnage said, "This is the most significant day in America's long history of providing comprehensive services to those who have defended freedom and democracy — our veterans."

Turnage noted that cabinet level status for the agency will give it greater opportunity to represent the interests of 80 million veterans and their dependents in helping shape national policy.

Alexander said the agency's increased organizational prestige and access to the President will have a salutary effect on all VA operations.

"It will not affect the facility's day-to-day operations," Alexander said. "Our mission is to provide the best possible service to Big Spring area veterans who are entitled to it. Our 402 employees, many of whom are veterans themselves, are all dedicated to that goal, and being a cabinet level agency will not change this. However, we do believe the increased attention, access to the President and public awareness of veterans' contributions and needs can't help but strengthen support of our work here."

"The signing of this law is an historic event that every VA employee is part of," continued Alexander. "As a matter of fact, I'd like to think this new status is due, at least in part, to the hard work of our employees here at the Big Spring VA Medical Center, and the 240,000 VA employees around the country. They really do a remarkable job."

VA Medical Center planning Women Veterans Wellness Day

The Big Spring VA Medical Center is planning a Women Veterans Wellness Day on Wednesday, Nov. 9, 1988. This observance is intended to focus attention on the significant contribution of women in the Armed Forces.

Because of their traditional roles as non-combatants, the heroism of military women in war has been overlooked, but they too have paid the price for freedom.

Wellness Day is designed for the prevention of illness. Prevention strategies include early diagnosis and education. Gynecologic examinations will be provided as well as cancer screening, mammography, where indicated, and other health screening tests.

Featured will be a panel moderated by Mary Louise Traczyk, R.N., special assistant to the chief of staff. Panel members are Mary Payne, chief, dietetic service; Patricia Atkins, assistant chief, medical administration service; Richard Williams, chief, pharmacy service; Sammy Dennard, coordinator, rehabilitation medicine service; and Frances Montague, R.N., supervisor, nursing home care unit.

The Big Spring VA Medical Center needs your help in identifying women veterans in our area.

If you are a woman veteran (or know this information about a woman veteran), please call 915/263-7361, extension 212, and give the name and address of women veterans in the area, or mail information about women veterans to: VA Medical Center, ATTN: Mary Louise Traczyk (11C), 2400 S. Gregg, Big Spring, 79720.

This information will be used to mail additional information about the upcoming event: Women Veterans Wellness Day on Wednesday, Nov. 9, 1988.

TWO THINGS TEXANS DON'T LIKE ARE BAD HIGHWAYS AND BROKEN PROMISES.

The money we send to Washington every time we fill up our cars comes back to Texas. The government promises that this money will be spent to build, repair and maintain our highways.

Diverting those Federal Highway Trust dollars to some other purpose could devastate our highway system for years to come.

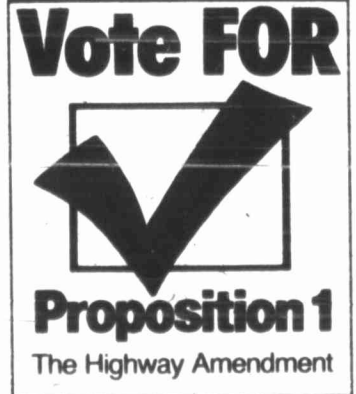

- It would halt vital road construction;
- Cancel needed safety improvement;
- End repairs to roads and bridges.

Texans can stop this threat by voting for Proposition One which makes certain that highway dollars are spent on highways. Let's keep the promise to Texans.

On Election Day look at the bottom of your ballot and find Proposition One, the Highway Amendment. Proposition One continues the Texas plan for good jobs, economic growth and safe roads without raising taxes and most importantly . . . keeps your family safe.

A lot is riding on the promise of good Texas roads.

Keep highway money for highways and the jobs they create. Proposition One is endorsed by the Texas Highway Commissioners, local and statewide officials of both political parties, and hundreds of civic groups because they know that building good roads keeps Texas moving.

Keep Texas Moving.

Plant trail at Comanche Trail Park

By DON RICHARDSON
Extension agent

For some time a concern has been to develop a native plant trail in our area. This question was addressed to the County Extension Horticultural Program Area Committee by committee member, Mrs. Suncha Christensen.

The Rosebud Garden Club of Big Spring, of which she is an active member, has expressed the desire to develop such a project, she explained. The committee felt this was a very worthwhile educational program effort that would meet some of the critical issues identified in the Long Range Extension Plan developed in 1986, particularly concerning the one dealing with community communications, pointing out the need for community organizations to work together for a common goal.

A positive community spirit promotes pride and a sense of belonging and makes others want to participate.

From this beginning a lot has happened to help promote this idea and several organizations and groups are now involved in seeing that this native plant trail will be developed for the pleasure and education of citizens for our community.

Ask the agent

Some of these groups in addition to those already mentioned, include the Convention and Visitors Bureau of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, the Big Spring City Council and the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp. The horticultural committee enlisted the assistance of Dr. Alan McGinty, range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who came to Big Spring to help select the site in Comanche Trail Park for this project and identify the native plants.

The trail, located along the jogging path already existing in the park, which is accessible to almost anyone, was found to be abundant with a great variety of native shrubs, trees, and important grasses. Among those plants selected along the trail were these specimens by their common names:

All-thorn, javelina bush, redberry juniper, hackberry, honey mesquite, side-oats gramma*, buffalograss, windmill grass, plains bristlegrass, green springletop, 4-wing saltbush, creosote bush, little leaf sumac, prickly pear, cane bluestem, wright's threeawn, Mexican buckeye, yucca, agarita, Mexican sage wart, horehound, wild rye, lote bush, ephedra, Texas walnut, tasajillo, red yucca, hairy gramma, Texas soapberry, sand dropseed, willow, vitex, blue gramma, black gramma, Arizona cottontop, white brush, common bermuda, sotol, pecan, salt cedar, ash juniper, cattail, mistletoe, liveoak and red oak.

*State grass of Texas.

In the near future these plants and others will be permanently identified by signs designed by the Big Spring Federal Prison and State Department with their common and scientific names for park visitors to enjoy and school children to enrich their native West Texas heritage.

We wish to thank all those that have been already involved with this project and to those that have volunteered their time and talents in seeing this project complete. This trail will help enhance all of our lives and others in the future in enjoyment and appreciation of the natural living plants in our area.

Montgomery County town called Cut and Shoot

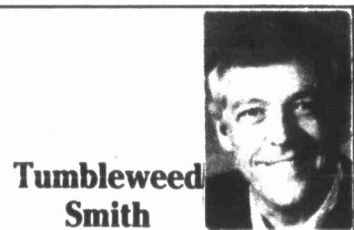

By TUMBLEWEED SMITH

The community of Cut and Shoot is located in the northeastern part of Montgomery County. It had its unusual beginning and acquired its peculiar name in July of 1912.

The Missionary Baptist, Hardshell Baptist and Methodist citizens of the community joined together and built a combination church and school house. They erected the structure with the understanding that all three denominations could hold services there. The building was called the Community House.

In July of 1912, a preacher named Stamps of the Apostolic belief, appeared in the community and some of the local brethren invited him to hold a meeting at the community house.

Now it was rumored about Rev. Stamps that he occasionally visited saloons and went dancing. This upset some people and the issue of whether Stamps should use the community house divided the residents into two sides: Those who thought the community house should be used for all denominations and those who thought it was to be used only by the three groups who built the facility.

The Apostolics declared their intentions to have the meeting and the other side claimed the meeting would not be held. On the morning of July 21, 1912, the group wanting to hear the preacher gathered at the community house. They had come in their wagons and buggys and brought their lunches with the intention of staying and having all day preaching and dinner on the ground. Under their wagon seats they had their guns and knives rolled up in quilts.

They found the doors of the building locked.

Soon the anti-Apostolic group arrived and declared that the lock was jammed and nobody could enter the building. An argument broke out and both factions grabbed their guns and knives.

While the accusations flew back and forth, an eight-year-old boy — of one of the men became frightened at the disturbance and said, "I'm scared. I'm going to cut around the corner and shoot through the bushes in a minute."

Thus the name of Cut and Shoot was coined.

There was no actual cutting or shooting that day. But the arguments continued. As a compromise, the meeting was held under shade trees.

The next day both sides appeared in Conroe, the county seat, and charged each other with disturbing the peace, assault and the use of obscene language.

Both received fines. This dispute was carried on between two of the men for over a year, each bringing charges against the other on the smallest pretense.

In one such trial a witness was asked by the judge where the fuss had taken place. He replied, "I guess you would call it the place where they had the cutting and shooting scrape." This was the first indication that the new community might be called Cut and Shoot.

On April 5, 1969, an election was held to incorporate the town of Cut and Shoot.

Getting started financially

By NAOMI HUNT
Extension agent

For young singles and married couples alike, starting out financially is never easy. You need to open bank accounts, buy life and health insurance, get credit and more.

You may already have a savings or checking account, unless you're moving to a new community. In either event, consider your options before deciding on a bank or changing financial institutions.

Does the financial institution provide good service? Is it conveniently located? Can you make deposits and withdrawals after hours through automatic teller machines or by mail?

You'll also want to know if you can arrange for automatic deposit of your paycheck, for immediate credit on deposits, for a line of credit or a loan, and what fees are charged for various services.

Establishing a credit history is important for getting a loan or line of credit. Credit agencies keep a credit history on you based on information supplied over time by your creditors.

A credit report includes records of payments you have made on credit and charge cards, installment loans or credit accounts. It also shows how promptly the payments were made. The report helps those to whom you may apply for a loan predict whether you'll be a good credit risk.

It is mostly major department stores, gasoline companies and revolving credit card firms, such as Mastercard and Visa that use credit reporting service. So unless you already have one of these cards, you may not have a credit report on file at a credit agency.

A steady work record and pro-

Focus on family

mpt bill payment will help you begin to build a good credit history. Having a savings and checking account — and not bouncing checks — will also help.

You might also apply for a line of credit at a local department store. Once you've established credit with one business you'll have something to include on applications for major credit accounts.

Consider taking out a small loan from the bank or credit union where you have a checking or savings account. Once you pay back the loan on time, you'll have some established credit.

Two-worker families and working mothers

Last year some 13.4 million two-worker families where the wife was 18 to 44 years old, had children. This compares to 8.3 million families in this same category in 1976, according to a report released this summer by the Census Bureau.

Two-worker families without children increased from 3 to 4.2 million during this same time period.

In 1987, 63 percent of college-educated women with newborns under age one — were employed, compared to 38 percent of those women who had less than 12 years of school. Of all women who gave birth, 51 percent were employed after the birth, well above the 31 percent recorded in 1976.

No suspects in Thursday burglaries

HERALD STAFF REPORT

Howard County Sheriff's Deputies are continuing investigations into two thefts from residences Thursday. Among the items taken in each burglary were firearms.

A man who lives on Route 2 reported someone unknown to him had entered his home between 4:30 and 7 p.m. Thursday. A window on the west end of the south side of the building was broken to gain entry, sheriff's records indicate.

Among the items taken in the burglary were a Browning 12 gauge automatic shotgun valued at $850, a Remington 22 caliber rifle and a Weatherly 12 gauge magnum, along with 14 boxes of shot shells and two boxes of .30-06 170 grain ammunition.

Jewelry and cash were also listed as stolen in the incident. Total value of the missing items was listed as more than $2,395.

Sheriff's records indicate the man saw a white man with receding hair in his 30s or 40s in the vicinity before the incident. The man left the scene in a small white car, according to sheriff's records.

In the second incident, a man who lives on East Davis Road reported someone he did not know had gained entry to his residence and taken several items of unknown value.

Among the stolen items was a 20 gauge automatic shotgun and a model 99 Savage rifle with a scope attached. Jewelry, an Apple brand computer with accessories, two watches, a jewelry box and a box of pennies were also reported missing.

Parade organizers remind that the Chamber of Commerce will provide the official Santa Claus; no other Santa is permitted in the parade. Undecorated vans and cars (except VIP and antique cars), or vehicles of a strictly commercial nature will not be accepted.

Deadline for entries is November 21. For additional information contact Lea Whitehead, parade coordinator, 263-7331, or the Chamber of Commerce.

Christmas parade plans underway

The community Christmas parade will roll down Gregg Street Saturday, December 3, at 10 a. m., led by syndicated radio personality Bob "Tumbleweed Smith" Lewis as grand marshal.

Theme of this year's parade is "A West Texas Christmas."

The Big Spring Herald is again the sponsor of the parade, under the auspices of the Business Committee of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce.

Official entry forms may be obtained from the Herald or the Chamber of Commerce. Entry forms will also be published in the Herald.

First, second and third place plaques will be awarded in each of four categories: civic, church, school/college and commercial/manufacturing. Civic and church entries will be in separate categories this year.

Judges will be architect Phil Furqueron; decorator Barbara Hall, Artifacts; and Melinda Anderson, Howard College art instructor.

Area briefs

Local candidates endorsed

The Big Spring Chapter of the Texas State Teachers Association recently announced its endorsement of Democrat Johnnie Lou Avery, candidate for the 69th District state representative's race.

"Johnnie Lou has devoted much of her life to improving education for students of all ages," said Mariann Heffington, chapter president, in announcing the endorsement.

The National Federation of Independent Business has endorsed Republican Troy Fraser in the race for the 69th District of the Texas House of Representatives.

"The PAC board evaluated each candidate's attitudes toward and support of small business issues," Charles Culpepper, NFIB-Texas chairman, said. "The most probable support of comprehensive reform of the workers compensation was also an important factor (in the board's decision)."

Congressman Charles Stenholm will be honored at a dutch treat breakfast to be held Tuesday at 7:30 a.m. in the East Room of the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The public is invited to attend.

Stenholm is expected to endorse the candidacy of Democrat Johnnie Lou Avery in her bid for the 69th District state representative's race.

Persons wishing to attend are being asked to make reservations by calling 263-1684 or 263-1202 by today.

Republican Troy Fraser has received the endorsement of the National Rifle Association, Theodore Lattanzio, the NRA's director of state and local affairs, has announced.

Fraser has earned an "A" rating from the NRA and the Texas State Rifle Association based on his responses to a candidate questionnaire on sportsmen's issues, Lattanzio said.

"The highlight of our trip was seeing the ancient ruins," says Judy Rickey. She and husband David spent nearly two weeks touring Turkey.

They stopped at Ephesus, a 2,000-year-old seaport, which has been reconstructed from its ruins. No one lives there, Judy explains, and tourists can visit the homes, buildings and public squares that look much the same as they did in Biblical times.

The Rickeys walked the site of Troy, another ancient seaport, destroyed by the Greeks 3,000 years ago in the Trojan War, sparked by the abduction of Helen. Although not restored, says Judy, you can still see the remains of many building foundations.

"And then there was Istanbul — with its 2,000-year-old mosques and bazaars where you can buy everything imaginable."

The Rickeys took along their video camera and recorded three hours of the sights on their trip — "and it's nice to have the sounds, too," Judy said.

Mrs. Roy Reeder had special houseguests this week — a couple who rented a room from her in 1944 when they were stationed here with the Big Spring Bombar-dier School.

Kenny and Shirley Ossman, Madison, Wisc., found housing here in short supply in those days, and were grateful to the Reeders for taking them in.

The families have been friends over the years and have visited back and forth, but this was the first time in 16 years they had seen each other. "I still call them 'my kids,'" says Mrs. Reeder.

Johnny Mize, son of Mayor Cotton and Billie Mize, has just been promoted to vice president of Corporate Systems, Inc., a world-wide risk management company, with headquarters in Amarillo.

"The company represents a big chunk of the Fortune 500 companies," says proud father Cotton. Johnny, a graduate of Big Spring High School and Texas Tech, has been employed by Corporate Systems, Inc., about five 1/2 years. He is married to the former Jill Dunham and they have a son, Justin, 11 months.

Dr. P. W. Malone and Terry Carter spent several days this week trying their luck at Lake Amistead, near Del Rio.

"They've been fishing buddies for many years," says Terry's wife, Dorothy. "And they always get a good catch, cooking a few but usually giving them away to friends."

Friends gathered for the festive engagement party for Brenda Beil and Gary Payne last Saturday evening at Big Spring County Club — but there was one problem: Gary and Brenda weren't there, nor was the bride-to-be's father, Charles Beil. It seems that Gary and Brenda, who both live in Houston, were to meet Charles, who was in Dallas on business.

and Linda Sieron, a bridesmaid who lives in Dallas, at D-F-W and all fly in together. But their plane was an hour and a half late!

The good news is, the honorees finally did make it to their party, says Brenda's mother Joan.

Many former residents attended, including Gary Don and Beverly Bell Newsom, Midland; Kent and Andra Hohertz Newsom, Albuquerque, N. M., (sons of Don and Marilyn Newsom); Cindy Cowan Knight, Houston; Leona Nobles, (mother of Don Newsom) San Antonio; James and Wanda Owens, San Angelo; and Tim and Reina Hamby, Grapevine, (his parents are the Lanny Hammys).

Also Jackie Smith McKnight, Amarillo, (daughter of Mrs. I.V. Smith and the late Mr. Smith); Frank and Laura Moore Spagnuolo, Dallas; David and LaVoy Moore Yarbrough, Graham; Cathy Valdez Wilder, Midland, (daughter of Al and Lillian Valdez); Dr. Robert Stripling and Wesley Bouillion, Lubbock; and Mark and Lee Ann Webb, Indianapolis, Ind. (the K. H. McGibbons' grandson).

Brenda Beil's aunt, Charlotte Beil, came in from Ft. Worth.

United Way hopes for more pledges to reach its goal

As of Friday afternoon, the United Way of Big Spring had received pledges totaling $156,552 — 76 percent of its campaign goal, according to the organization's executive director.

If expected pledges from local companies are received, the United Way should reach its goal of $205,000, said Sherrie Bordofsky.

"I can account for at least another $20,000 in a week or so," she said, adding the organization will continue its "sweep campaign," which is designed to contact local businesses and individuals who have donated to past United Way campaigns but have not contributed this year.

The United Way campaign officially ended four weeks ago. However, as has been the case with past campaigns, many pledges are not received until after the end of the campaign, officials said.

"We've just got to keep plugging on," said Bordofsky. "We can't do without these services and be a community that really cares."

As of Friday, the pledges received by the United Way divisions were as follows:

- Out of Town — $4,150.
- Pacesetters (donations of $500 or more from individuals or companies) — $53,300.
- Commercial (businesses and employees) — $13,996.38.
- Golden Age (senior citizens) — $1,045.
- Combined Federal Campaign (government employees) — $8,912.21.
- Professional (doctors, lawyers, accountants, etc.) — $10,780.
- Special Events — $175.75.
- Loaned Executive (employees of Big Spring's 15 largest employers) — $57,441.
- Residential/Rural — $5,841.
- Agency Board Members (board members of agencies receiving United Way funds) — $1,210.

Bordofsky credited Big Spring schools, which raised more than $10,000, and the employees of Fina, who raised more than $10,500, for running exceptional campaigns.

Four Big Spring elementary schools — Bauer, Kentwood, College Heights and Marcy — had 100 percent participation of its employees in the campaign, she said.

Fina employees raised more money than last year, despite having 40 fewer employees participating, she said.

Anyone who would like to donate to the United Way can call 267-5201, or mail donations to the United Way, P.O. Box 24, Big Spring, 79721.

Of each dollar donated, 85 cents goes directly to local non-profit agencies, Bordofsky said.

Local agencies that receive United Way funds are: the American Red Cross, the Boy's Club, Buffalo Trail Council BSA, Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, West Texas Girl Scout Council, Northside Community Center, Salvation Army, West Side Girl Scout Council, Northside Community Center, Salvation Army, West Side Day Care Center, West Side Community Center and YMCA.

Trustworthy

HARDWARE STORES

PROJECTS WANTED — Bring your plans for a winter home improvement project to Industrial Park Hardware and put together all the supplies you need from their vast stock. Bob Noyes is shown checking custom mix colors in Trustworthy Paint.

Projects

Do-it-yourself with Trustworthy's aid

It's not too soon to start planning your fall home improvement projects. And you can save time and money by shopping for all your do-it-yourself supplies at one place — Industrial Park Hardware Store, located at 613 Warehouse Road, an independently-owned Trustworthy Hardware Store.

Another bonus: the store is owned and operated by Jan and Bob Noyes, whose years of experience can provide you with a lot of good advice on your projects.

The store handles a full line of electrical and plumbing supplies, nuts, bolts, screws, specialty hardware, bits (for drills and screwdrivers), specialty tools for laminates or veneers, and a full line of adhesive and caulks.

The store has the best selection of decorative entry locks and plates in this area.

Because of its association with Bob's Custom Woodwork, the store provides furniture and woodwork refinishing; cabinet lumber not available anywhere else in the vicinity; and special trims for cabinets and paneling.

Industrial Park Hardware stocks plywood in 1/8, 1/4 and 3/4 inch in ash, oak, birch, whitewood and mahogany.

For bathroom remodeling, there are tub and shower wall kits and marble lavatories.

They stock a full array of Trustworthy interior and exterior paints — from white to custom — mix colors. (Bring your swatch for matching.)

If your winter months projects include do-it-yourself furniture repair and refinishing, Industrial Park Hardware has stripping products and veneers and hard-to-find hardware for furniture, trunks, chests and antiques pieces, including drawer guides and slides. Bifold and sliding door replacement hardware is also in stock.

Industrial Park Hardware now stocks Amarr residential steel overhead garage doors, entry doors and electric operators.

Professional installation is available, if desired, for major remodeling, such as garage doors, fireplaces, carports, and bathroom or kitchen renovation.

The store is distributor of Alcoa Building Products, including siding, roofing, trims, soffit and fascia, aluminum cedar shake roofing, carport and patio covers. Raingo gutter systems are also available.

Store hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Phone is 267-5811.
