Forecast for the Big Spring area: Widely scattered to scattered showers and thunderstorms east of the mountains tonight and across all of the area except the Panhandle on Thursday. Thunderstorms most numerous eastern sections.

On the side:

Couple arrested

BIG SPRING — Local and regional law enforcement authorities arrested a Big Spring couple on charges of possession of a controlled substance Tuesday.

Fred and Bertha Munoz Rubio, 1302 Wright St., were arrested by officers from the Howard County Sheriff's Department, Big Spring Police Department and Regional Drug Task Force for possession of controlled substance. Fred Rubio, 24, was released on $10,000 bond; Bertha Rubio on $5,000 bond.

Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard said the arrests were made after the sheriff's department received information about possible illegal activities at the residence and asked that a warrant be issued by Justice of the Peace William Shankles.

Standard said a few ounces of a substance believed to be cocaine were seized and sent to Midland for analysis. Two vehicles and some cash were also seized.

Waiting for news

NORRISTOWN, Pa. — Thomas Cicippio walks past signs he erected in front of his home which count the days of hostages held in Lebanon. Cicippio was awaiting word on the fate of his brother, Joseph, held by Lebanese Shiites who have set a deadline for his execution. Stories on the hostage crisis, Page 5-A.

Jesus discount

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A service station owner is facing six months probation for violating an ordinance with a portable sign advertising 10 percent discounts to "those whom Jesus loves."

Escambia County Judge James Roark told Jerry Harrison, 46, he would lift the probation, imposed after a jury verdict Monday, if he complies with the sign ordinance within 30 days. Roark also ordered him to pay $430 in court costs.

Harrison, who says he is a born-again Christian and reformed drug and alcohol abuser, said he was doing "God's will" by offering the discounts on labor, advertised on a 4-by-8-foot portable sign.

Officials said they objected to the medium rather than the message.

Harrison was charged with violating an ordinance against portable signs, passed to reduce visual clutter and safety hazards.

"I thought the judge was very fair," said Harrison, who claimed he gives the discount to all customers because Jesus loves everyone. He said he wants to find a way to keep the sign, but will remove it if he cannot meet requirements.

Black victims

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Young black men were killed at a higher rate in St. Louis than any major city in the country in recent years, according to a study.

"One of every 13 black males in St. Louis who is 15 years old will be murdered by the time he is 45, if these rates continue," the Missouri Department of Health said in the report released Monday.

In 1986, 169 blacks were killed, and black victims outnumbered whites by nearly 7-to-1. The city of 1 million people is roughly half black and half white.

Budget debate prompts county feud

By BRADLEY WORRELL Staff Writer

BIG SPRING — Debate surrounding the merits of adding two items to the 1989-90 Howard County budget ended with commissioners accepting the two programs, but not without a lengthy and at times very heated disagreement.

Commissioners ended their meeting Tuesday by unanimously approving $38,846 in next year's budget for a computer system for the county attorney and county judge and to hire an investigator for the county attorney's office.

The addition of the programs Tuesday and budget cuts made during Friday's workshop set a new proposed budget of about $6.3 million, County Auditor Jackie Olson said today. The original after County Judge John Coffee declared he was withdrawing his support for a special investigator for the county attorney's office. The investigator would be used to help the county attorney's hot check department collect unpaid fines.

Coffee said he was withdrawing his support for the project because the area is hurting economically and he does not believe the county can afford to hire an extra employee. Instead, Coffee asked in a previous meeting that a sheriff's deputy be transferred to the special investigator's position, but commissioner's court rejected the proposal.

coffee," Coffee said. "Obviously the commissioner's court did not agree."

"The sheriff doesn't agree either," Commissioner William Crooker added.

Coffee replied that the sheriff has his own motivations for keeping the deputy. Coffee said he does not believe commissioners are obligated to do something "just because the sheriff wants something."

The remark touched off a heated argument among commissioners.

Commissioner David Barr replied, "He's been elected by the people for 20 years" and noted Coffee was appointed to his position six months ago.

Coffee attempted to explain why he believed the sheriff's department could do without one position, but Barr was not impressed. "Here

Railroad tenants ready for contracts

By PATRICK DRISCOLL Staff Writer

BIG SPRING — The Railroad Plaza's two boxcars and caboose, under construction since February, are reportedly close to completion and interested tenants are almost ready to move into the shops, said members of the Downtown Steering Committee, the organization developing the project.

The plaza, designed to be a landscaped marketplace commemorating Big Spring's railroad history, still needs the storefronts, plumbing, electricity, heating and air conditioning installed and the outside landscaped.

Meetings with Tom Decell, Big Spring's public works director, are being held to make sure city codes are followed, committee members said. The last meeting was Tuesday afternoon.

"I'd like to see them rented within a month. I'd love to," said Ray Kennedy, who is chairman of the marketing and leasing subcommittee.

Negotiations are currently going on with prospective tenants but members of the committee do not want to divulge names until a contract is signed.

"We're talking to — but it's sort of preliminary — people who want to lease the whole area," Kennedy said. "It's a group of people that want to go into business together."

He said the group's suggestions included a coffee shop and a sandwich shop.

Johnnie L. Avery, who is chairman of the fund-raising subcommittee, said she had heard that people were interested in renting the cars for such things as an arts and crafts store, a hotdog stand, a boutique and a gift shop.

"We've got people who are interested and as I understand they've got people who are ready to sign," she said.

"The consultant (Lima Planning Associates, Inc. of Lubbock) who did the long-range master plan thought that the three spaces should be filled with just food places," she said of rental suggestions. "But the committee felt that we shouldn't limit ourselves just to food but we should look at other possibilities too."

The steering committee's bookkeeper, Pat Porter, estimated the shops will be rented for about $2 or $3 per square-foot a year. The

In the top photo, two desperados shoot at the feet of a sheepherder attempting to enter the saloon. At left, two other men await the sheepherder's return. ## Ex deputy kills himself, former girlfriend in courthouse

FORT WORTH (AP) — An ex-sheriff's deputy, who authorities believe was upset by his failed business and relationship with a county clerk, killed the woman and then himself after a nearly seven-hour courtroom standoff.

Manuel "Manny" Cabano, 45, of Arlington Tuesday afternoon brandished a gun in a Tarrant County courtroom where his former girlfriend, Juanita Hermosillo, was working and ordered everyone out. The courthouse was closed and police and sheriff's officials began negotiating with Cabano for the release of Ms. Hermosillo, 34.

Two muffled shots were heard about 9:45 p.m. from the courtroom and paramedics rushed in to find the gunman and his victim slumped in chairs, facing each other.

Cabano was dead, but Ms. Hermosillo was rushed to a hospital with a chest wound. She died at 10:17 p.m. while undergoing emergency surgery, a hospital administrator said.

Ms. Hermosillo on Monday received a restraining order against Cabano, who she was dating until a few weeks ago. There were also reports that two of her daughters had sought similar protection.

Cabano apparently went to Ms. Hermosillo's home and opened her mail, finding court papers relating to the restraining order, before storming the courtroom, sheriff's officials said.

The shooting ended hours of negotiating between Cabano and authorities, sometimes with Ms. Hermosillo or Cabano's attorney, Alex Gonzalez.

"Gonzalez talked to him continuously. We just talked and talked," said Tarrant County Sheriff Don Carpenter. "But he wouldn't listen."

Cabano was hired as a jailer in the sheriff's department in 1970. He left the department in 1981 as a lieutenant in the department's patrol division, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported.

Last March, the State Board of Private Investigators and Private Security Agencies, citing Cabano's failure to pay for required liability insurance, suspended his license to operate what had been a successful private investigation agency.

Cabano shot himself and Ms. Hermosillo with a .44-caliber pistol he'd taken to the courtroom.

Tarrant County Sheriff Capt. Tony Wise said talks with Cabano were improving about 8 p.m. and authorities thought the situation would end without bloodshed.

But then Ms. Hermosillo asked to talk to her children.

"We took that as a death wish. We thought that may have been what touched it off," Wise said.

Wise said Cabano was known by many in the courthouse.

"This is the direct opposite of his personality," Wise said. "He (was) one of the most congenial people."

Nun to be released

HOUSTON (AP) — Doctors are amazed with the quick recovery of a 73-year-old American nun who was seriously wounded by a gunshot in the head six weeks ago during an apparent robbery attempt in El Salvador.

Sister Mary Stanislaus Mackey, a member of the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word, will be moved to a Houston convent this week to continue her recuperation, doctors at Houston's St. Joseph Hospital said Tuesday.

"I think the outcome approaches miracle stage when one considers she was shot in the head at close range with a large caliber handgun," Dr. Rob Parrish, the nun's neurosurgeon, said.

"Sister Stan," as she is called, was working at an orphanage in El Salvador on June 21 when she was shot with a .38 caliber gun fired from a pickup truck as she rode in another vehicle with two other Roman Catholic nuns.

Fugitives caught

TYLER (AP) — An East Texas man who escaped from the Smith County Jail five years ago and his wife have been returned to Tyler to face aggravated sexual assault charges after an Internal Revenue Service investigation led to their arrest in Arkansas.

Clyde Malone, 54, and his wife, Edna Malone, 52, were returned to the county jail Tuesday after waiving extradition from Arkansas on several charges, including aggravated sexual assault.

They were arrested in Arkadelphia, Ark., last week after an IRS investigation that followed a Dallas man's complaint that someone was working and using his Social Security number.

"We got a call from a gentleman in Texas saying someone was possibly using his name and it came back on his taxes and (the IRS) was going to sue him for a couple of thousand dollars," said Clark County Deputy Mike Jones.

Search resumes

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP) — Divers planned an all-night search for 10 missing crewmen whose jacked-up oil rig capsized in the Gulf of Mexico while trying to outrun Hurricane Chantal, the Coast Guard said early today.

Four crewmen were rescued when the rig capsized Monday, about 20 miles south of here, while fleeing Chantal. Searchers had to abandon attempts to rescue the other 10 workers because of worsening weather.

Chevron and the Coast Guard sent vessels to resume the search Tuesday, after Chantal blew ashore in Texas and later was downgraded to a tropical depression.

Chevron, which leased the rig from another company, hired divers, equipped with high-powered lights, to search the darkened rig for possible survivors. The divers arrived at the rig about 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Chantal-spawned rains drench Texas coast

HOUSTON (AP) — Residents whose homes were flooded by torrential rains spawned by Hurricane Chantal began drying out their wet belongings as the storm today moved further into Texas, losing strength.

Chantal roared ashore early Tuesday morning at High Island, bringing with it driving rains and winds up to 80 mph. It lost strength within a few hours and was downgraded to a tropical storm, but it continued to be a heavy rain-maker for much of the upper Texas coast throughout the day.

On Tuesday night, the storm was further downgraded to a tropical depression as it continued to move northwest into Texas. Its winds had decreased to about 30 mph.

By early today, the storm's remnants were located between College Station and Waco, triggering rains and some tornadoes. No damage was immediately reported in central Texas from the storm.

Forecasters said the Dallas-Fort Worth area may get as much as five inches of rain in gusty thunderstorms today.

In sections of south Houston and its southern suburbs, hundreds of stalled cars and trucks lined flooded roads, and some stranded motorists sat atop their vehicles as they waited for the high water to recede.

There also was some residential flooding and scattered power outages, but the first hurricane of GILCREST — Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bettis and their son, Tommy, take a few belongings and their two puppies from their flooded home Tuesday after Hurricane Chantal made landfall at nearby High Island.

the 1989 Atlantic season apparently caused little serious damage.

At least two deaths were blamed on Chantal. A man died after falling from a Chevron oil platform in the Gulf of Mexico south of New Orleans and a Bryan teenager drowned when he and two companions were sucked into a flood-swollen drainage ditch.

The body of Eric Winslow, 17, was found late Tuesday night after he and two friends were sucked into a drainage pipe under a highway bypass by water from heavy rainfall accompanying Chantal.

The search continued early today for a second teenager, Robert Craig, 16, who was missing. A third person, Tony Shaar, 17, was dragged through the pipe and was found a short time later.

Officers said the teenagers were riding rubber rafts in the flood-swollen drainage ditch at the time they were sucked into the pipe.

In addition, Coast Guard helicopter crews rescued 10 people Tuesday from the Gulf of Mexico after their fishing vessels capsized in storms caused by the hurricane. Three others also were plucked from the stormy Gulf on Monday as Chantal approached the coast.

Skies over Houston were cloudy Tuesday night, but the rain had stopped in most areas — giving residents a chance to start cleaning up the storm's mess.

"We're doing just fine," Dan O'Brian said as he sloshed through the knee-deep floodwaters of Dickinson creek, pulling his family in a canoe. "We've been through this before. We know how it's done."

O'Brian and others in the Dickinson area south of Houston said it was the most severe flooding there since Hurricane Alicia in 1983.

Nena Neal, whose family lost nearly all of their possessions in a 1979 flood in Dickinson, tied ribbons around the bases of trees to watch the progress of the rising water in her yard.

"We just got through celebrating 10 years since that flood. We had water up to here in that one," Mrs. Neal said, using her hand to mark a spot more than 3 feet high. "We made it through that and the Lord gave us so much more. And we have flood insurance this time — that's the main thing."

Galveston escaped much of Chantal's wrath, but the 6.56 inches of rain in a 24-hour period there broke a 110-year-old record.

Calls for reform

AUSTIN — State Sen. Chet Edwards, D-Duncanville, proposed restrictions Tuesday to limit lobbyists' spending on lawmakers. Edwards used a chart to show how the lobby might have spent money during the last regular session of the legislature.

Flight 1141 crew joked about crash possibility

DALLAS (AP) — In the minutes before Delta Airlines Flight 1141 crashed on take-off last August, the crew joked that a plane wreck would one day expose their gleeful cockpit conversation to the public.

The tape made by the cockpit voice recorder was released under a judge's order Tuesday, revealing crew member's views on news coverage of other crashes, Jesse Jackson's politics and Marilyn Quayle's looks. The conversation involved the cabin crew and a flight attendant who was forbidden by law to be in the cabin while the plane was in motion.

Fourteen people were killed in the crash at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport. More than 90 passengers survived.

At a hearing in November, National Transportation Safety Board investigators rigorously questioned the crew about the apparent idle nature of the conversation when they should have been going over preflight checklists.

District Judge Adolph Canales released the tape over the objections of a Delta lawyer who argued the recording should be made available only to parties in liability suits stemming from the crash of the Boeing 727.

The nearly 10 minutes of conversation, deemed "casual and non-duty related" and kept secret by the NTSB, was released at the request of WFAA-TV.

The only female voice on the recording was identified by a special court master as that of flight attendant Mary O'Neill, who survived the crash.

Some of the talk apparently took place while the plane was taxiing. Since 1981, the Federal Aviation Administration has had a "sterile cockpit" rule that prohibits any flight crew conversation not related to the operation of the aircraft when the plane is taxiing, and when it is flying below 10,000 feet in an approach or departure. Flight attendants also are prohibited from entering the cockpit during those periods.

While they waited for takeoff, an unidentified crew member said, "We forgot to discuss about the dating habits of our flight attendants so we could get it on the recorder in case we crashed."

"Then the media would have some kind of a juicy tidbit," the crew member said.

That was a reference to Continental crew members who were said to have discussed a flight attendant's dating habits before their jet crashed on takeoff in Denver in 1987, killing 28 people.

Delta last week accepted responsibility for the crash and said its own investigation revealed the crew failed to set the wing flaps for takeoff. Delta also announced it had fired the flight's pilot, co-pilot and flight engineer.

Delta spokesman Bill Berry said Tuesday in Atlanta that Ms. O'Neill, who is on medical leave due to crash injuries, has not been disciplined. He refused to say if she would be subject to penalties when she returns to a full schedule.

The flight originated in Jackson, Miss., and was bound for Salt Lake City after a stop at Dallas-Fort Worth.

Crew members talked at length about the 1988 election and, in reference to Jackson, one said, "You know, it's scary that someone like him could get as far as he did."

The tape ends with a scream and the sound of the plane breaking apart.

Herald opinion

How much more should we take?

The kidnapping by Israel of Sheik Abdul Karim Obeid was an attempt to gain negotiating leverage in freeing captured Israeli soldiers, and perhaps other hostages. The plan tragically backfired with the reported hanging of Marine Lt. Col. William R. Higgins and threats to the lives of other U.S. hostages.

The result has been widespread condemnation of Israel, particularly in the U.S. There seems to be a general consensus that Israel should have consulted Washington before carrying out an ill-considered commando raid that resulted in the capture of a leading cleric in the terrorist movement.

Should Israel have been able to anticipate that retaliation would be not against Israel, but against the United States? Probably so.

The fact is that Israel has a history of striking back in defense of its people and its territory. The United States does not. Terrorists have to take into consideration that any action against Israelis invites swift and hard counter-action. Terrorist activity against the United States provokes only verbal criticism.

It should come as no surprise that American hostages are chosen as targets by the terrorists.

President Bush is reportedly considering his options, including military retaliation. In all probability this will be ruled out.

But the fact remains that terrorists can operate against the United States, and do so, almost with impunity. Perhaps it is time to consider countering barbarism with barbarism.

Even better than first-class

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA

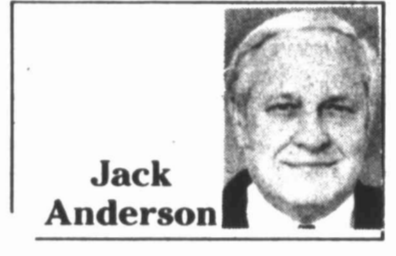

WASHINGTON — Overbooking was not a problem on the plane Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., and his wife took to Europe in January. The plane — an Air Force version of the Boeing 707 — seats 60 people, but the Hatfields and three aides were the only ones on board for the trip to Brussels.

They were joined in Europe by Sen. Richard Lugar, R-Ind., and his wife for a 12-day fact-finding trip on human rights in Bulgaria, Romania and Czechoslovakia. It cost the taxpayers $111,609 for the delegation to use the four-engine Air Force jet as a private magic carpet on that trip. Had they flown first-class when available on commercial airliners, all seven would have spent only $31,479.

No matter how much legitimate business the senators may have accomplished, the use of a 60-passenger jet for seven people was a waste. It exposes a nouveau-royalty abuse of the 89th Special Air Mission stationed at Andrews Air Force Base outside of Washington, D.C.

Our associate Stewart Harris looked into the 89th and found that members of Congress use it as if it were their personal airline. It is well-equipped for the job. Its pilots are some of the best in the Air Force has to offer. The 89th fleet includes Air Force One and Two, the modified Boeing 707s used by the president and vice-president. All told, there are 26 winged aircraft and 19 helicopters at the 89th. The maintenance and operating budget came to $10 million last year.

Hatfield's office told us the delegation had to use the big plane because the C-20s they were originally planned for the trip broke down at the last minute. That bird would have been a C-20, the military's version of the Gulfstream III corporate jet. But even the C-20 would have cost $60,000 on the trip.

Why should a member of Congress bother with commercial airlines when a private jet is so much more convenient and prestigious?

Most of the time, junketing lawmakers would save money if they flew commercial airliners with the ordinary folk who put them in lofty offices.

Every once in a while, congressional types pack a schedule so full of business, or they go someplace so remote, that military aircraft are justified.

Rep. Beverly Byron, D-Md., took members of her Military Personnel and Compensation Subcommittee on a whirlwind investigation of the quality of military life at 15 bases in Spain, Italy, Germany and Iceland last December. Byron's hopscotch tour could only be accomplished in 12 days with the use of a C-20. It cost $57,808 to fly a contingent of three representatives, their spouses, two aides and an Air Force escort.

But even Byron's delegation could have saved money by getting to Europe on a commercial airliner and then using military planes once there. The Air Force has three C-20s handy at Ramstein Air Base in West Germany.

The C-20s cost up to $200 every hour that it is in the air. That's $19,341 to get Byron's delegation across the ocean, when tickets would have cost $10,392 if the lawmakers and their spouses flew business class and the rest of their entourage flew coach.

Congress Watch, a non-profit group founded by Ralph Nader, recently recommended that members of Congress fly commercial whenever possible. It's a revolutionary idea. Who knows what might happen if they stooped to flying coach too, or shaved the price even more by planning ahead and getting super-saver fares. The experience might bring the imperial Congress a little closer to the people who put them in office.

RECRUITING THE MASSES — Mikhail Gorbachev has to break the grip of the Communist Party before it stifles the Soviet economy. But party hacks won't give up their power without a fight. Party leaders from across the Soviet Union met recently for a strategy session in Moscow. Their plan is to stir up the unskilled workers from the lowest level of the working class. The lower classes receive more benefits under a communist dictatorship than they probably would under a free-enterprise system. The strategy of the party leaders apparently is to provoke a class struggle against democratic reforms.

MINI-EDITORIAL — Health and Human Services Secretary Louis Sullivan has changed his mind again. Americans still aren't sure where Sullivan stands on abortion. Now he is waffling on AIDS-prevention programs. In March, Sullivan said he would support needle-exchange programs to give clean hypodermic needles to drug addicts to help stop the spread of AIDS. Now Sullivan says he doesn't support the idea. Apparently Sullivan has never met an opinion he couldn't change.

When the women take over

By LEWIS GRIZZARD

Women are simply too smart not to have eventually figured out the way to gain complete control of the country is to form their own political party.

It happened in Cincinnati at the convention of the National Organization for Women (NOW, by God!).

The convention adopted a resolution calling for a commission to study forming a new political party because of "the failure of both major political parties to address women's needs."

Said NOW President Molly Yard (no relation to the famous landscape architect, Back). "We are 52 percent of the country, and we have almost no representation."

There is the key statement. Women make up 52 percent of the nation's population, which means if there were a political showdown between the sexes, women would have unbeatable strength in numbers.

If women do go ahead and form their own party — and they are being quite foolish if they don't — here's the way a future presidential election could stack up:

The Democrats, of course, would nominate some ultra-liberal male who, if elected, would lead us into fiscal peril, while the Republicans would nominate an ultra-conservative male with a plank in his platform that called for shooting any woman who even thinks of having an abortion.

The new Tupperware Party, made up of all women all over the country, would counter with somebody like Rep. Pat Schroeder of Colorado, Cher or Sally Jessy Raphael.

Men would dilute their votes by splitting them between the two male candidates while women, hungry for power, would go en masse for the female candidate.

The only thing that could go wrong in this scenario would be the failure on the part of the Tupperwares to get out the vote.

They wouldn't have much trouble with career women, but they would have to hang around a lot of tennis courts to get those women to give up Tuesday morning doubles in order to go vote for their sister.

Gaining the White House in a walk, the Tupperwares would then turn their thoughts toward controlling Congress.

One by one, the Senate and the House would begin to fill up with women, and the men, ousted from those seats, would have to return home and resume their chiropractic and law practices.

You could expect a lot of changes if women took complete charge of the government. Let's look at specific areas:

DEFENSE: The first thing Tupperwares would do is brighten up the Stealth bomber and have its all-black exterior painted mauve.

HUMAN RIGHTS: Millions would be funded for research to find a way for men to have babies for a while and see how they like it.

THE ENVIRONMENT: Cigar smoking and belching at the dinner table would be outlawed.

ANIMAL RIGHTS: Cats would be given the vote, further strengthening the Tupperware numbers.

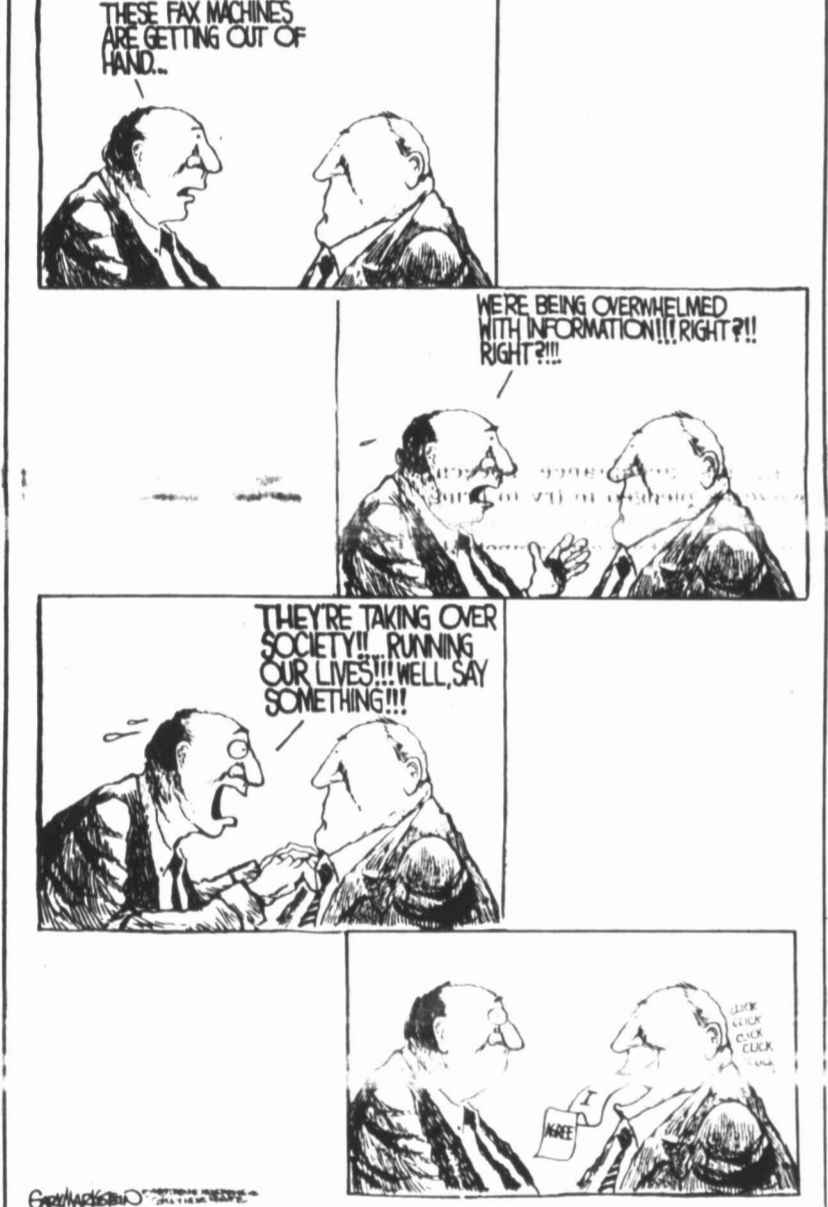

HOUSING: Men would be outlawed from using the guest towels.

LAW AND ORDER: Cagney and Lacey would be appointed co-attorneys general.

TRANSPORTATION: "We'll fly the planes from now on, you go back and serve lunch."

FOREIGN RELATIONS: President Cher and Soviet Premier Raisa Gorbachev met today in Geneva and decided to go shopping.

The mailcarrier is no longer my favorite man

By KAREN MCCARTHY
Staff Writer

When I was growing up (in the days of the 3-cent stamp) letters were routinely written and answered. Letters were our main means of conducting business, making announcements and keeping up with family and friends who lived more than 25 miles away. Letters were read, reread, handed around, discussed, and often saved for years. Some were more interesting than others, but all personal letters were treasured.

I lived on an isolated farm, several miles from a main road. There was no telephone and no TV. Everything interesting came with the mailman in his old, very battered car — letters, packages, newspapers, the Sears & Roebuck catalog, even a swarm of bees that my father ordered.

The mailman was a good source of rural gossip and he was kind enough to carry elaborately folded, unstamped notes between my best friend, 7 miles down the road, and me. My sister and I would hear his car turn the corner half a mile away and fight, no holds barred, to be first at the mailbox.

Being first at the mailbox has lost a lot of its magic since I left home and most of my mail became bills, but I look forward to receiving letters as much as ever.

I still write letters, although not as often as I used to, and I spent a pleasant evening last week catching up on all my correspondence. As the days passed, instead of the expected replies in the mail, I began to get phone calls.

My mother called to say she was glad to hear from me and it sure was hot back East.

My sister called and allowed me to listen to her 1-year-old grandson scream in my ear for three minutes.

My son phoned, collect, to reassure me that he was still alive, had indeed received my last package, loved me very much, and would I please send more cookies.

The man in my life was very affectionate over the phone, but left me wondering how much of a relationship I can expect from someone who won't commit his thoughts and feelings to paper.

And my best friend in Ohio said she was calling because she didn't have time to write. She did, however, really enjoy my letters and she hoped to hear from me often.

Since I'm obviously not going to accumulate a box of cherished letters to reminisce about in my old age, maybe I should start thinking of saving my phone bills. I can tie them up with a pretty ribbon and reread them when I am old.

Iran believed pressuring captors to spare Cicippio

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iran is believed to have pressured pro-Iranian militants to put off killing American hostage Joseph Cicippio, and the chance his life will be spared has increased, Shiite Moslem sources said today.

The group holding Cicippio, the Revolutionary Justice Organization, said it would kill him Tuesday at 11 a.m. EDT unless Israel had freed Sheik Abdul Karim Obeid, a Shiite Moslem cleric kidnapped by Israeli commandos July 28. It then extended the deadline 48 hours.

Israel's defense minister, Yitzhak Rabin, today defended the abduction and said the Cabinet considered the dangers to hostages in Lebanon before approving it. He repeated Israel's offer to swap Obeid and Lebanese Shiite Moslem prisoners held in Israel for Israeli soldiers and foreigners held in Lebanon.

The pro-Iranian Hezbollah, of which Obeid is reported to be a leader, has rejected a swap.

President Bush, faced with his most serious foreign policy challenge, consulted world leaders, including Pope John Paul II, and met with his Cabinet twice in 24 hours.

The pope agreed to intervene to seek the return to the United States of the body of Marine Lt. Col. William R. Higgins, reportedly hanged Monday by a Shiite Moslem group.

West Germany said today it had contacted Iran and Syria on the United States' behalf. France also asked countries that might have influence over groups holding hostages to try to ensure the captives' safety.

Iran is the financial and spiritual backer of Hezbollah, or Party of God, the fundamentalist faction believed to be the umbrella for groups holding most of the 16 foreign hostages in Lebanon, including eight Americans.

Shiite sources in Lebanon, speaking on condition they not be further identified, said they believed Iran may have stepped in to save Cicippio after the international uproar over Higgins' reported execution by the Organization of the Oppressed on Earth.

Cicippio, 58, was acting comptroller of the American University of Beirut when he was kidnapped Sept. 12, 1986.

"The Iranians probably are bringing immense pressure on their Lebanese surrogates, seeking to defuse the crisis generated by Higgins' murder," one Shiite source in Lebanon said, speaking on condition he not be identified.

The source noted that Revolutionary Justice has used death threats in the past to back political demands but never has killed a hostage.

On March 12, 1987, the group said it would kill French hostage Jean-Louis Normandin unless France stopped sending arms to Iraq, which was fighting a war with Iran. The group announced three postponements and finally canceled the death threat March 25. Normandin was freed Nov. 27, 1987.

In announcing the extension for Cicippio, the Revolutionary Justice Organization acknowledged a plea from Cicippio's Lebanese wife, Elham, and cited "friendly appeals and sincere behests."

"Even if it was a postponement for only one minute, it's better than nothing," said Elham Cicippio.

HUD consultants made millions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty consultants earned more than $5.7 million by helping funnel much of the money in a federal housing program to developers in a handful of states that didn't need it, says a report to a Senate committee.

Most of the 20 consultants were former Housing and Urban Development employees or well-connected Republicans, said a report by HUD Inspector General Paul Adams. The consultants were paid by developers to help them get about one-fifth of the money from a HUD program to repair housing for the poor.

Meanwhile, the House Government Operations subcommittee on housing planned a vote today on whether to subpoena Lauce Wilson, a former aide to former HUD Secretary Samuel Pierce Jr. Wilson had been scheduled to voluntarily testify last week, but did not appear, saying that he wasn't prepared with legal counsel.

Committee rejects nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is weighing whether William Lucas could be named chief civil rights enforcer on an interim basis after his rejection by the Democrat-dominated Senate Judiciary Committee.

The idea was raised by Senate Minority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., on Tuesday after Lucas' defeat in a pair of 7-7 votes that Attorney General Dick Thornburgh labeled "raw politics."

A spokesman said Thornburgh is studying whether Lucas could be given a recess appointment to the job after Congress' scheduled adjournment Friday.

However, one White House official said President Bush likely would not want to anger Congress so early in his term by defying the Senate over Lucas, who was criticized by opponents as being unqualified to become assistant attorney general for civil rights.

Department outlines cleanup plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Energy Department report on the government's nuclear weapons program describes a pattern of shoddy waste management and hazardous conditions with contamination of ground water or soil at many plants.

The findings were included in a detailed assessment Tuesday on what it will take to clean up the nuclear weapons plants after decades of environmental neglect by plant operators.

Energy Secretary James Watkins said the first phase of the cleanup effort will cost $19.5 billion over the next five years with the overall cleanup likely to take at least 30 years. Overall cost estimates range from $90 billion to as much as $150 billion.

The department's report listed numerous cases where shoddy handling of hazardous waste has contaminated ground water, posing various degrees of risk to surrounding communities.

Fires force new evacuations

(AP) — Officials urged people to stay out of Idaho's fire-ravaged backcountry and evacuated vacationers near the scorched town of Lowman, while one fire jumped a river and temporarily closed a major highway.

Cooler weather helped firefighters in Oregon and Southern California and crews contained Washington's only major blaze. But officials feared lightning could trigger a new round of fires like the ones that have been burning since the middle of last week.

Waves of thunderheads caused an estimated 2,000 lightning strikes an hour early Tuesday in Idaho's Boise National Forest alone. The thunderstorms let up later and there was no immediate word of any new fires.

Family relieved at deadline extension

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — After bracing for the worst, relatives of hostage Joseph Cicippio said they hoped his two-day reprieve would lead to his release after three years in captivity.

"For the next two days, we want to see what kind of movements take place," said his brother, Thomas Cicippio. "This is an opportunity for everyone to pull together, right now. We really need this."

Shiite Moslem extremists who have been holding Cicippio in Lebanon threatened to kill him at 11 a.m. EDT Tuesday in retaliation for Israel's abduction of Sheik Abdul Karim Obeid, a religious leader.

More than two hours after the deadline, they announced a 48-hour extension.

"I am mentally and physically worn out and now we must endure this for another two days. We are being held hostage, just like my father," said one of Cicippio's sons, David, 27, an electronics technician from nearby North Wales.

Joseph Cicippio, 58, was acting comptroller at the American University of Beirut when he was kidnapped from the campus Sept. 12, 1986.

The threat to kill Cicippio came shortly after another group said Monday it had hanged hostage Lt. Col. William R. Higgins in retaliation for Obeid's abduction.

Tom Cicippio, 66, came out from his suburban Philadelphia house several times Tuesday to answer questions from reporters. He called the extension "good news for all of us."

Peggy Say, the sister of Terry Anderson, the longest-held Western hostage, agreed that the extension could improve the situation.

"I think the longer they talk, the longer they delay, the greater the chances that we may turn this around and get them all home," said Ms. Say in Nashville, Tenn.

Indonesian earthquake kills 90

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A strong earthquake crumbled homes and triggered landslides in the remote province of Irian Jaya, killing at least 90 people and injuring more than 125, officials said today.

Rescue efforts were hampered by the landslides and by cracks in the airstrip nearest the stricken area. The quake struck Tuesday and measured 6 on the Richter scale.

In the villages of Holuon, Soba and Pasema, 90 bodies were found under demolished homes and tons of mud, a spokesman from the governor's office in Irian Jaya told The Associated Press by telephone.

About 3,000 people live in the villages.

The spokesman, Supardi, said more than 25 people had been treated for serious injuries and 100 for slight injuries, and about 300 had been evacuated to safer areas. He said more helicopters were needed to help evacuate victims.

Aquino signs autonomy bill

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — President Corazon Aquino has signed a bill granting regional autonomy for Mindanao island, a law the government claims fulfills its pledge for self-rule in largely Moslem areas of the country.

"We have kept the faith with the constitution," Mrs. Aquino said. "To be meaningful, autonomy must translate into the more effective delivery of government services."

Under the measure, the autonomous region will have its own governor and legislature and will have control over regional affairs except for national defense, foreign relations, judiciary, postal and customs.

Rep. Wilfredo Cainglet, one of the bill's sponsors, said voters in each of Mindanao's province will be asked in a plebiscite within 90 to 120 days whether they want to join the autonomous region.

Provinces will be included in the area only if a majority of the voters agree, he said.

Kiszcak elected prime minister

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Parliament today elected the interior minister, Gen. Czeslaw Kiszcak, as prime minister in a victory for the long-ruling Communist Party, whose power has been eroding.

In his acceptance speech, Kiszcak pledged to try to bring members of the Solidarity-led opposition into his new Cabinet. He asked Solidarity to reverse its position that it will not accept joint responsibility for governing Poland.

Although it has rejected joining a coalition government, Solidarity has not ruled out allowing members to serve in the Cabinet.

Kiszcak, the nation's top law enforcement officer, was elected by Parliament's lower house, the Sejm, by a vote of 237 to 173 with 10 abstentions.

As interior minister, Kiszcak implemented the 1981 martial law crackdown that suppressed the free trade union movement.

Speaker Wright becomes 'speaker'

WASHINGTON (AP) — For Jim Wright, veteran speaker of the House, it was his tryout to be speaker — with a small "s."

Wright, who resigned from Congress two months ago under an ethics cloud, found himself sharing billing Tuesday night with a comic juggler, a magician, Jack Benny's daughter and a professional cat trainer.

Such are the perils for the Texas Democrat who, after a few weeks of rest from the trauma of his resignation, is setting out on the lecture trail.

Wright's first stop was the annual convention of the International Platform Association, an organization of program organizers and talent bookers who arrange speakers and entertainment for colleges, corporations and trade groups.

IPA officials describe their forum as similar to the National Basketball Association draft, where the best talent is shown off and shopped around. To an outside observer, it more resembles a meat market.

Speakers at the convention in a downtown Washington hotel all have the same idea, says IPA chairman Dan Tyler Moore.

"They have something to say, and they want to be paid a buck for saying it."

Wright's message was a simple one: the honor of politics as a profession, and of Congress, where he served for 34 years, in particular.

The 25-minute talk was punctuated with anecdotes about life on Capitol Hill, including Wright's account of his well-meaning attempt to help a would-be Texas bride get a 48-hour leave for her serviceman fiancé so the two could be married.

VERNON — Shirley Zaicek, right, a member of the Choctaw Indian Tribe, and painter Dale McWilliams pose by their mural of Indian history.

The mural will provide a history lesson for students on the aftereffects of the Indians' encounter with white men.

Garage mural tells history lesson

By BRIDGET KNIGHT
Vernon Daily Record

VERNON — Shirley Zaicek is using the walls of her garage to tell a part of the American story that sometimes is forgotten.

Inspired by successful murals in towns as near as Bridgeport in North Texas and as far as Colorado mountain resorts, Mrs. Zaicek, a member of the Choctaw tribe, found a way to combine her heritage with this North Texas city's beautification project.

Painter Dale McWilliams is helping with the giant mural.

By summer's end it will tell the story of the coming of European settlers, and the disastrous effect they had on the North American Indian's way of life.

Mrs. Zaicek said she got the idea of painting a mural on a giant picture of a stagecoach painted on the side of a building in Bridgeport, about 130 miles southeast of here.

"When they came up with this idea to beautify Vernon, I never could understand why they didn't do something like this downtown on the sides of some of the buildings there," she said.

Then, Mrs. Zaicek said, she thought of her own house, smack in the middle of a common route to Shive School.

"People coming down the street, the first thing they saw was that yucky garage," she said.

Coming up with a theme was easy. Mrs. Zaicek has always been an avid collector of Indian art, and at times has dabbled in creating her own.

The mural will be more than just a painting.

Each scene will depict a different stage in the native Americans' history with non-Indian settlers. In the first scene, U.S. cavalry-escorted wagons roll toward a quiet Indian village nestled in idyllic hills.

Next, the entire village will be shown packing up and embarking on the "Trail of Tears," evoking a famous forced march 150 years ago of thousands of Cherokees from their homes in the southeastern United States to Oklahoma.

The final scene will be a reproduction of the famous painting "The Last Warrior," showing a defeated and downtrodden Indian brave alone on his horse.

Mrs. Zaicek said much of the project has been a learning experience.

She said McWilliams's talents so far had only been used for small paintings.

"I came out here the first day and had this little painting on the wall. I said 'No! You didn't understand, I meant BIG, the whole garage.'"

Coming up with a horse that looked realistic took the whole family's effort, she said. Mrs. Zaicek's husband, Don, got involved at that point.

"The first one Dale drew looked like a dog, so I tried, but mine looked like pigs. Finally Don drew one that looked like a horse and Dale copied it," she said.

All of the Indian designs and artifacts depicted in the mural are authentic, and the tale it tells is based in history. Don Zaicek said this Indian history lesson is only one of many that could be told through murals here.

"We've got a lot of heritage here in Vernon — the Waggoner Estate and things — and it's a shame that the town's not fixed up to show it," he said.

But the Zaiceks said they are content with their own part of the Vernon Beautification Project.

"This old garage sure looks a lot better. Now all we've got to do is put a new roof on it."

Birthday change can save money

WASHINGTON (AP) — An auditor's report released Tuesday says the government could save $21 million a year if it would just acknowledge what any schoolchild knows — that people turn a year older on their birthdays.

The birthday debate centers on the Social Security Act which follows the old English common law in judging that people reach a new age on the day before their birthdays.

Health and Human Services Inspector General Richard P. Kusserow said that because the start and end of some benefits is determined by "age attainment," the old-fashioned definition skews who gets what when.

For example, people normally are eligible for full retirement and Medicare benefits in the month that they turn 65, but benefits start a month earlier for people born on the first of the month.

An the other hand, benefits for children of disabled or deceased workers normally run through the month in which they turn 18, but end a month earlier for youth born on the first.

Kusserow, in a report to the Social Security Administration and Health Care Financing Administration, stated the obvious: "The popular understanding is that an individual attains a given age on his or her birthday."

He recommended amending the law to "define age attainment... as occurring on one's birthday," and said it would save $21.4 million a year.

Study confirms working women get less sleep

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Working women sleep about 25 minutes less per night than their male counterparts, though the average woman sleeps slightly longer than the average man, researchers said Tuesday.

"Working women really take it in the neck. They sleep less," said Daniel Hamermesh, professor of economics at Michigan State University and one of the authors.

"One possible explanation is that a woman who works still has to maintain a lot of household duties," said Jeff Biddle, assistant professor of economics at the school.

"They aren't spending much less time doing those things, and their husbands aren't sharing chores with them, so the time has to come from somewhere and often it comes from sleep time."

Mothers of children less than 3 years old get less sleep than the average person, but being parents to children younger than 3 doesn't cut into the amount of sleep fathers get, Hamermesh said.

The study of the sleep habits of 1,500 people also found that people who work sleep less than people who don't work and that for every extra hour worked, a person sleeps 15 minutes less.

The more a man works, the less sleep he gets, the report said.

Men who earn a higher wage per hour sleep less than lower-paid men, but that pattern fails to hold up for women.

"One reason may be that women who are already working are sleeping less already and so the margin is gone," he said.

Hamermesh and Biddle gleaned the findings from reviewing information gathered in 1970-76 by the University of Michigan survey research division. In 1980-81, 620 members of the study group were interviewed again.

Biddle said the time lapse since the data was collected shouldn't matter because lifestyles haven't changed significantly since then.

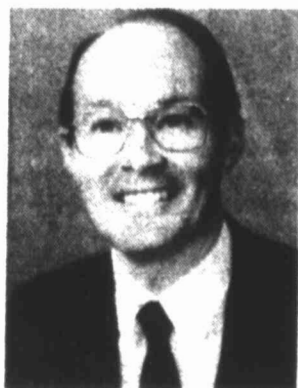

"Lifestyles and attitudes toward money and family are pretty much the same. Things like household habits are very slow to change," he said.

Wide variances in the amount of time people sleep were turned up by the study. Hamermesh said 10 percent reported sleeping less than 6.5 hours a night and 10 percent reported sleeping more than 9 hours.

"Sleep is not something biologically fixed. People can substitute other activities for sleep," Hamermesh said.

"Although it's true we do need a certain amount of sleep, we do have some control," Biddle said. "How much time is valued is going to enter into that decision."

Hawaiian tuna salad

By PAPA JOE REED SR.
It's August. It's hot, and we are entering the "dog days" of summer. It is still too hot to cook, so we are going to have salads once again. Let's face it. You can't get too much of salads. We are all overweight anyway. Well, almost all of us.

There are exceptions that I want to throw rocks at. I ended that sentence in a preposition. I know better, but when I see people that can eat anything and everything and not gain an ounce, I become envious.

Enough chit-chat. Let's go where the tradewinds blow. Of course, I'm talking about Hawaii. There we will fix a salad that is a delight to the eye and to the palate. You will need the following ingredients for:

- PAPA JOE'S TUNA TUNA SALAD, HAWAIIAN STYLE
Pineapple (1 can, chunks)
Tuna (2 cans, drained and flaked)
Green pepper (1 medium, chopped)
Pimiento (2 tbs., chopped)
Salad dressing (1/2 cup)
Bananas (2, sliced)
Lettuce (1 head, cut in slices)

After gathering all your ingredients, combine the pineapple, tuna, green pepper, pimiento, and salad dressing. Before serving, add bananas and toss lightly. Serve on a bed of lettuce and top with salad dressing if desired. Also to add spice to the eye, garnish with onion rings, carrot curls, radish slices and olives. Add a glass of iced tea and you have a perfect summer-time dinner.

How to open an egg

With a tuna salad, Hawaiian style, you need a perfect dessert. I have just the one. It's a Strawberry-Banana Freeze. It only has 97 calories if you are a calorie counter. You will need the following ingredients:

- Strawberries (1 cup, frozen, whole, unsweetened)
Bananas (2)
Evaporated skimmed milk (1/2 cup)
Vanilla (1 tsp.)

Peel bananas and wrap in plastic wrap and freeze until firm. Cut bananas into chunks. In blender combine the bananas, evaporated milk and vanilla. Cover and blend until smooth. With blender or food processor slowly running, add the frozen berries, a few at a time, and blend until smooth. Serve at once. Should make 4 servings. If you don't care about calories, double the recipe. You'll be glad you did.

Papa Joe's Kitchen tips: To remove grease from hot soup or chili, put an ice cube in a thin cloth and swish it back and forth in the soup or chili; the grease will collect on the cloth.

Easy barbecue ribs

By NANCY BYAL
You can have it both ways — great grilled flavor and microwave speed. Partially cook the ribs in your microwave and finish them off on the grill with a snappy sauce. The fat cooks out during microwave cooking so there are no flareups on the grill. Transfer the ribs immediately from the microwave to the grill; the partially cooked meat should not be allowed to stand at room temperature.

- SHORTCUT BARBECUED RIBS
1/2 cup tomato sauce
2 tbs. molasses
1 tbs. vinegar
1 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. minced dried onion
1 tsp. cornstarch
1 tsp. dry mustard
1/4 to 1/2 tsp. chili powder
1/4 tsp. salt
Dash pepper
3 to 3 1/2 pounds pork spareribs or loin back ribs, cut into serving-size pieces powder, salt and pepper. Cook in the microwave, uncovered, on 100 percent power (high) 2 to 3 minutes or until bubbly, stirring once; set aside.

Arrange ribs, bone side down, in a microwave-safe 12- by 7 1/2 by 2-inch baking dish, overlapping as necessary. Cover with vented microwave safe plastic wrap. Cook on 50 percent power (medium) 15 minutes. Rearrange and turn ribs over. Cook, covered, on medium 15 minutes more.

Immediately remove ribs from baking dish and transfer to barbecue grill. Cook over medium coals about 15 minutes or until no pink remains. Brush frequently with sauce and turn ribs over occasionally. Cook the remaining sauce in the microwave, uncovered, on high about 30 seconds; pass with ribs. Makes 6 servings.

Prepare a taste of Italy at home

Italian cuisine has enjoyed a phenomenal growth throughout the world. Touted as the best known outside its country of origin, Italian cooking is one of the oldest culinary arts in Europe.

Italian tastes are derived from Greek gourmet traditions, which in their turn originated from ancient Oriental dishes, according to a news release from the Churny Co. Inc., which produces Provincia Italian cheeses.

Today, Italian cooking has entered the melting pot of traditional flavors mixed with contemporary living. The result is a taste of Italy that can be found in old country favorites or incorporated as that special touch for a new recipe.

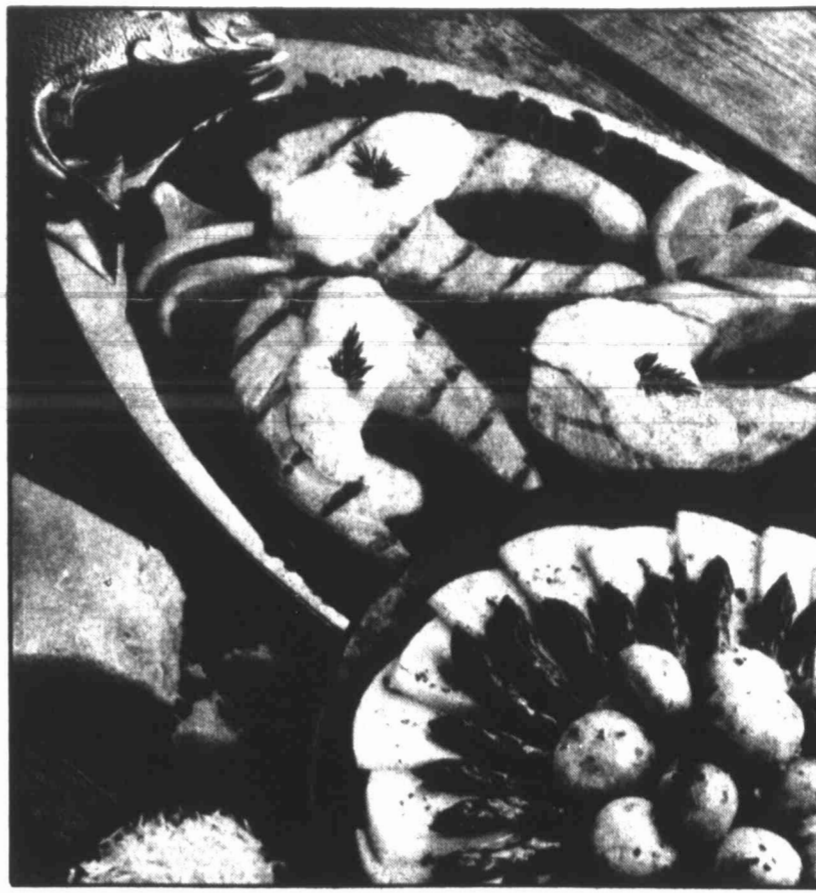

In Italy, cheese is a basic ingredient to cooking. The recipes offered in this week's Recipe Exchange feature three authentic Italian style cheeses: Parmesan, provolone and Romano. These cheeses come from a brand new line of premium Italian style cheeses — Provincia.

Now found in the deli section of supermarkets, these cheeses are moist and refrigerated. Shredded and grated Parmesan and Romano provide full moisture and maximum flavor, unlike dry and shelf stable canned goods.

Grilled salmon steaks with creamy Parmesan sauce features fresh 100 percent shredded Parmesan cheese as the special ingredient for a delicious creamy sauce poured over grilled, or, if preferred, broiled, succulent salmon steaks.

Parmesan is probably the best known Italian cheese abroad. It was developed in the Italian Province of Parma in the 13th century. By the early 14th century, Parmesan was being used grated on pasta dishes.

Marinated Provolone salad presents a new variation on the traditional salad course. Blanched asparagus tips, fresh mushrooms and Provolone cheese are steeped in the traditional Italian flavors of olive oil, vinegar, garlic and oregano. Prepared in only 15 minutes, this simple, elegant salad is ready to covered, on both sides about 10 minutes per 1-inch of thickness or until center of fish is opaque. Combine cheese, mayonnaise, sour cream, lemon juice, dillweed and pepper. Serve sauce with grilled salmon. Makes 4 servings.

Preparation time: 5 minutes; cooking time: 10 to 15 minutes.

- MARINATED PROVOLONE SALAD
3/4 cup olive oil
1/2 cup white wine vinegar
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tsp. dried oregano
1/4 tsp. salt
3 (6 ounces) mild provolone cheese, cut into 1/4-inch slices
2 cups small mushrooms
1 cup asparagus tips, blanched
Blend together oil, vinegar, garlic, oregano and salt. Cut each provolone slice into 6 wedges. Arrange cheese, mushrooms and asparagus in glass baking dish. Pour dressing over cheese and vegetables. Chill. Cover. Marinate in refrigerator 4 hours or overnight; spooning marinade over cheese and vegetables occasionally. Drain, reserving marinade. Arrange on serving platter. Serve with reserved marinade. Makes 4 servings.
Preparation time: 15 minutes, plus marinating.

- GRILLED ROMANO CROWNED VEGETABLES
1/2 cup (2 ounces) shredded Romano cheese
1/2 cup margarine, minced
1 tsp. Italian seasoning
2 tomatoes, cut in half crosswise
1 yellow squash cut in half lengthwise
1 zucchini, cut in half lengthwise
Combine cheese, margarine, garlic and seasoning. Using a knife, score the vegetables. Place vegetables, cut sides down, 5 minutes. Remove vegetables from grill; spread cut sides with Parmesan mixture. Place vegetables on grill, cut sides up. Continue grilling tomatoes 5 minutes, zucchini and yellow squash 10 minutes or until tender. Makes 4 to 6 servings.
Preparation time: 10 minutes; cooking time: 15 minutes.

serve after marinating in the refrigerator for four hours or overnight.

Grilled Romano crowned vegetables features the sharp, tangy taste of Romano cheese melted with margarine, garlic and Italian seasoning on grilled, or broiled, summer and early fall vegetable favorites. Ready in less than a half hour, this vegetable dish offers a flavorful twist on popular and nutritious squash, zucchini and tomatoes.

Romano dates back to earliest Roman times. It is a hard, grating cheese, much sharper than Parmesan.

The Churny Co. Inc. is offering a booklet that features a collection of six elegant and unique Italian recipes. Also included in the booklet is a special sweepstakes offer with a grand prize of a trip for two to Italy. The sweepstakes ends March 31, 1990. For a copy, please send your name, address and zip code to: Free Provincia Recipe Booklet, P.O. Box 6040, Douglas, Ariz. 85655-6040.

Helpful car trip hints

From MATURE OUTLOOK
A relaxing weekend getaway is just a few hours' drive down the highway. The usual round of last-minute checks have been made: House plants are watered and the coffee maker is unplugged.

But what about the car?
Follow these simple steps from Mature Outlook magazine before loading up, to ensure a safe and pleasant trip.

- Get the engine tuned. A summer tune-up is a good idea many drivers overlook. A poorly running engine uses more gas.
- Change the oil. Take the car to a mechanic or a shop specializing in fast oil changes. Change the oil regularly, especially before and after a long trip. If the car burns oil, keep a few quarts along with a pour spout in the trunk.
- Check the radiator. Repair leaks in the radiator and hoses. Fill the radiator with a half-antifreeze, half-water mixture. The antifreeze helps prevent boil-over in the summer and helps prevent freeze-up in the winter.
- Check the tires for wear. Tires out of alignment or balance can wear out in a hurry. Check the owners' manual for the proper inflation pressure. Note that the manufacturer may recommend various pressures depending on the load in the car. Be sure to check the spare tire and make sure the jack is working properly.
- Test the brakes.
- Don't overload the car. A chart listing the maximum safe load is usually in the owner's manual or pasted inside the glove box or inside post of the driver's door.

Drowning one's sorrows has stamp of approval

DEAR ABBY: A member of my family keeps telling me that it is written in the Bible that the Lord approves of giving a person intoxicating drink to drown his sorrow and lessen his pain.

This person is a very heavy drinker, and I think he just made it up as an excuse for his own drinking. If there is such a passage in the Holy Bible, please tell me and I will apologize, because I called him a liar to his face. Thank you. — CAN'T BELIEVE IT

DEAR CAN'T: Apologize. From Proverbs 31:6-7: "Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto those that be of heavy hearts. Let him drink, and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more."
However, since the Bible was written, we have learned that not everyone can handle "strong drink," and for those who cannot, I recommend the National Council on Alcoholism. The toll-free number is 1-800-NCA-CALL. The people there will direct you to a facility in your area and send you some helpful literature about alcoholism. And it's all free!

DEAR ABBY: Today, when

there are so many divorces and remarriages, Mother's Day and Father's Day have become a bit of a problem for me. Both my parents are divorced and remarried. Last Father's Day I invited my father out to a rather expensive brunch. I am not wealthy, but I saved up the money to splurge on him for this special day.

The problem here is that he brought his new wife, so I had to pay for her lunch, too. I didn't say anything; I simply paid the whole tab. I like the woman, but she is not my mother, and I didn't invite her — my father did. Am I responsible for paying her way whenever I invite my father out and he brings her along? And does the same apply to my mother if she brings her current husband when I invite her out? — UPSET IN MINNESOTA

DEAR UPSET: When you invite your father — or your mother — out for a special occasion, in the interest of family unity you should invite his or her spouse, and pay for both of them.

If you want to spend "quality time" exclusively with either parent, you should say so when you extend the invitation.

In this case, even though you didn't invite his new wife, since he brought her anyway, he should have offered to pay for her. But since he didn't offer, it was proper for you to have picked up the tab for everyone.

DEAR ABBY: Once I read an item in your column called "The Last Will of Mr. Farmer." It was wonderful. I would like to send it to my wife. Please run it again. — TIM MOORE, SEVERY, KAN.

DEAR TIM: This is it: LAST WILL OF MR. FARMER I leave:

To my wife, my overdraft at the bank — maybe she can explain it.
To my banker, my soul — he has the mortgage on it anyway.
To my neighbor, my clown suit — he'll need it if he continues to farm as he has in the past.

To the ASCS, my grain bin — I was planning to let them take it next year anyway.

To the county agent, 50 bushels of corn to see if he can hit the market — I never could.

To the junk man, all my machinery — he's had his eye on it for years.

To my undertaker, a special request — I want six implement and fertilizer dealers for my pallbearers. They are used to carrying me.

To the weatherman, rain and sleet and snow for the funeral, please — no sense in having good weather now.

To the grave digger — don't bother. The hole in should be big enough.

Howard County 4-H'ers to host annual omelet supper

Once again the Howard County 4-H members will conduct their omelet supper during the Howard County Fair.

The supper will be conducted Sept. 19, from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Activity Barn. Tickets are $3.00 per person which includes a three-egg omelet with all the trimmings of ham, cheese, onions, hot sauce and peppers plus salad, Texas toast and coffee or tea.

Since 1975, Howard County 4-H members have held an omelet supper in conjunction with the Fair. The event is a fete of organization, with 4-H cooks preparing the omelets in assembly-line fashion while customers watch their omelet being cooked. The county holds the record for the largest such event in the state with more than 500 omelets being served.

The project teaches youngsters about teamwork, involves more 4-H members and families than any other single event and is supported by numerous businesses from the surrounding area.

Due to the concern about cholesterol, people have been warned to limit the number of eggs they eat. Now due to improved instruments for measurement and technology in research, we are learning that eggs do not contain as much cholesterol or saturated fats as was previously believed. Research on cholesterol has also shown that the amount of cholesterol in the blood seems more related to saturated fats eaten rather than amount of cholesterol in foods eaten, according to a news release.

It is now known that the average large egg contains only 213 mg. cholesterol, not the 274 mg. previously thought. That's about 25 percent less. In reality, most of us don't have to worry about our cholesterol intake, the release stated.

It's true that a high blood cholesterol is a risk for heart disease, but blood cholesterol is not the same as dietary cholesterol, and most people are confused. Many people erroneously believe that the cholesterol we eat goes directly into the bloodstream and from there, directly onto artery walls. Actually, the process is much more complicated.

About 80 percent of the cholesterol in the body is made by the body from food we eat. The primary contributor is the type of fat eaten. Dietary cholesterol has an impact in about a third of the population whose bodies do not adjust cholesterol production in relation to cholesterol eaten. But in the majority of people, cholesterol metabolism is well balanced so that either the body produces less or excesses are excreted.

Dietary cholesterol is found only in animal foods, usually in conjunction with saturated fat. The egg is unique in that it contains little saturated fat, but comparatively more cholesterol. Because of the greater effect of saturated fat than of dietary cholesterol, the egg has little effect on blood cholesterol levels in most people.

Fundraiser for Cystic Fibrosis

Win exciting prizes while fighting the number one genetic killer of children and young adults in the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's Great Waves swimming event.

The event is set for Aug. 14 at Martin County Country Club, Stanton. All money raised will help the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation fund the research that is closing in on a cure for CF, according to a news release.

"People of all ages who want to swim for health, fun and prizes can register," said to Angie Oldaker chairperson of the event. Participants will collect pledges for each lap they swim during Great Waves and can win prizes ranging from T-shirts to stereos to VCR's.

Cystic fibrosis clogs the lungs and pancreas with a thick, sticky mucus, making it hard to breathe and digest food. But recent scientific advances offer new hope for a cure. Your participation in Great Waves could make the difference in the lives of the 30,000 people who have CF in the United States.

All-star hoop contest big bust for Gym Bice

By STEVE BELVIN Sports Editor

I was looking at the lineups for the Texas High School Coaches Association boys All-Star Basketball game played Monday night at Moody Coliseum in Dallas.

There were some prized basketball players selected to the game. Many are going to top-ranked basketball schools, and some are still undecided. I wonder how many are undecided because their ACT tests aren't high enough to get into major universities?

The North squad was coached by Lamesa mentor Wayne Roberts. Three players from this area were invited to play on the North squad — guards 5-11 Gym Bice of Andrews, who averaged 31.8 points per game; 6-2 James Swisher of Kermit, who averaged 25.2 points per game; and 6-8 post player Corey Lockridge of Abilene High, who averaged 23.2 points per game.

Bice is going to Midland College, Swisher is undecided and Lockridge is going to the University of Texas.

Other players on the North squad going to major schools were: Eric Hall, G, 5-11, 20.6, Southlake Carroll, UT; Tony Watson, G, 6-4, 27.6, Pflugerville, UT; Bryan Barnes, G, 6-6, 30.9, Eula, Houston; Todd Schoettelkotte, P, 6-10, 19.2, Humble Kingwood, Purdue; Derrick Smith, P, 6-5, 21.2, Humble, Houston.

The South team had: Eric Morris, G, 6-5, 25.2, Houston Madison, Nevada-Reno; Shaquille O'Neal, P, 7-0, 31.2, San Antonio Cole, Louisiana St.; Jeff Brassow, W, 6-5, 17.5, Alief Elsik, Kentucky; Matt Wenstrom, P, 7-1, 20.7, Katy Mayde Creek, North Carolina.

As expected, the South team, with its superior height advantage, was too much for Robert's North squad. O'Neal, who's supposed to be the cream of the crop this year in the Lone Star State, was just that Monday night. The 7-0, 285-pound growing youngster scored 24 points and got 18 rebounds in the South's 119-109 win.

O'Neal stole the show in the last quarter, slamming home five dunks. He got strong rebounding help from the 7-1 Wenstrom, leading the South to a 61-41 rebounding advantage.

For Andrews guard Bice, it was a miserable night. The North's co-captain was 0-12 from the floor, and scored just two points. Barnes scored five points and Swisher made the only field goal he tried.

While on the subject of basketball, Big Spring loses a good basketball coach with Boyce Paxton's going to San Angelo Central.

Paxton was definitely a shot-in-the-arm for boys basketball. The tall coaching veteran from the South Plains knew his basketball. He stepped in and turned a pitiful basketball program around. In three seasons, he compiled a 61-35 mark. I don't know for sure, but I bet that is one of the highest winning percentages of any hoop coach at Big Spring.

Paxton's heart was really into his job and he taught the players to have pride in being a Big Spring Steer. He did an excellent job of bringing the gym back to life, with all the interior work he did in his spare time.

He never forgot about his kids. In the offseason, when they wanted to play, they had a place to play. Paxton would keep the gyms open and encourage his players to play, play and play some more.

Hopefully the next coach is willing to give that extra effort to keep Steer basketball on the right track. He's already got a good start, thanks to Paxton.

Now, to keep everyone informed on the progress of the Herald softball team...

The Herald won one for the "Gonz" last Sunday. With manager Carlos "Gonz" Gonzales in the hospital recovering from back surgery, the team pulled out an 8-7 extra-inning squeaker over the YMCA.

It was by far the team's biggest challenge, and the "Y" has made it known it wants a rematch. And we made it known to them... they'll get their chance.

But this Sunday the Herald tries to go to 4-0 by taking on Energas. Tune in again next week.

North downs South, 29-20

IRVING (AP) — The Texas high school all-star football game definitely was not "just another football game," the participants said.

"It was a step up. It's basically how it's going to be in college," Tomball offensive tackle Stuart Tyner said after Tuesday night's game, won by the North, 29-20, in Texas Stadium.

Still, the teams were evenly matched, Tyner said. Even Dallas Carter linebacker Jessie Armstead, who was named the game's most outstanding defensive player, didn't stand out that much, said Tyner, who has a football scholarship to Notre Dame.

"He's quick and he has the natural ability to find the ball, but he wasn't that tough to block," Tyner said.

Armstead, who's headed for Miami University, had 10 tackles, tying for team-high honors on the North Squad with Rodney Shaw of Italy.

South defensive backs Van Malone of Houston Waltrip and Grady Cavness of Sugar Land Willowridge, both headed for the University of Texas, also felt something special about the talent in this game.

"This game puts everybody at the same level. It lets everyone see who's who. Everybody made mistakes, including them," Malone said.

Cavness was beaten for a short pass in the end zone from Hurst Bell quarterback Tommy Maddox, who is headed for UCLA, to 6-5 end Stephen Shipley of Lindale. Cavness said Maddox threw a great pass on the play, which raised the North's lead to 23-14 in the third quarter.

"He can just throw," Cavness said. He put it right there. He looks you off real good, which is contrary to most high school quarterbacks." Maddox completed 5 of 14 passes for 94 yards and one touchdown. For the South, Tremain Lewis of West Orange-Stark completed 7 of 18 for 63 yards, including a 14-yard touchdown pass to Nati Valdez of Mission and a 7-yard TD shot in the game's final half-minute to Wade Labay of El Campo.

Valdez was named the game's outstanding offensive player.

Valdez caught four passes for 92 yards, including a 51-yard TD on a halfback pass that gave the North a 14-14 tie at the half.

A personal foul and three South turnovers led to four of the North's scores. In the second quarter, with the South leading 7-0 on Valdez' 14-yard TD pass, Tracy Saul of Idalou took a line drive punt at midfield and returned it to the South 35.

The South was called for a late hit, moving the ball to the 20, and Billy Ray Thompson of Kermit scored from a yard out five plays later.

Ferry picks Italian league over NBA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Danny Ferry, the No. 2 pick overall in the NBA draft, has decided he'd rather be a globetrotter than a Clipper.

The top draft choice of the Los Angeles Clippers, Ferry said Tuesday he would forgo the NBA in favor of the Italian basketball league.

The 6-foot-11 All-America forward from Duke signed a one-year contract with Messaggero Roma for a reported $1 million.

"It's a unique opportunity — living in Rome, travelling throughout Europe, learning a new language, experiencing different cultures, and representing one of the largest international conglomerates — all while playing the game I love," Ferry said in a statement issued Tuesday night through his management company, ProServ.

The signing was first announced by Ferruzzi, the Italian agribusiness giant and owner of Il Messaggero, the Rome daily newspaper which is the team's main sponsor.

Ferry, who led the Blue Devils to the Final Four three times without bringing home a championship, had seemed less than enthusiastic about playing for the Clippers, who have won just 50 games the last three seasons.

"Frankly, I was a little surprised the Clippers drafted me because they have a talented pool of young forwards," he said. "However, any concerns I had become academic once Il Messaggero made me this once-in-a-lifetime offer."

Danny Ferry, the Duke basketball star who was the second overall pick in the NBA draft, has signed a one-year contract to play for Messaggero Roma of the Italian basketball league.

With Ferry's departure, the Clippers are without the use of two of their first-round draft picks. Last year's choice and the first player taken in 1988, Danny Manning, is recovering from a knee injury and may not be ready this season.

Clippers general manager Elgin Baylor said he had been aware Ferry was talking with officials of Italian teams. But all he can do now is try to sign Ferry after his European stint.

"Naturally we are disappointed that Danny Ferry chose to play his first pro season in Europe," Baylor said in a statement. "However, we look forward to having Danny in a Clippers' uniform should he decide to pursue a career in the NBA."

League rules allow the Clippers to retain rights to him for a year after he returns to the United States. Should Ferry not sign with the Clippers during the year after he returns, he would then go back into the draft. If not drafted at that time, Ferry would become a free agent.

The Clippers finished the 1988-89 season with a 21-61 record after going 12-70 in 1986-87 and 17-65 in 1987-88. The team hasn't qualified for the NBA playoffs since 1976 when it played as the Buffalo Braves.

Browns fullback back after drug rehab

LONDON (AP) — Playing a game in England is an unusual way of getting the NFL exhibition season started and the presence of Kevin Mack is making it even more so this summer.

Mack began workouts with the Cleveland Browns on Tuesday for the fourth annual American Bowl, just days after leaving a cocaine-rehabilitation program and pleading innocent to charges of trafficking in the drug.

Browns coach Bud Carson has said he expects Mack, a standout fullback in each of his four seasons, to see little if any action against the Philadelphia Eagles at Wembley stadium on Sunday.

Mack might therefore have been expected to stay home rather than come to the land of the tabloid, where any athlete with a bit of personal trouble is considered fair game for virtual inquisition in print. But Mack said skipping the exhibition opener never was a serious consideration.

"I didn't give it much thought, to tell you the truth," he said. "I might be going through this at home if I had stayed. So far, it hasn't been too bad."

Mack talked quietly with about a half-dozen of the some 100 reporters and photographers who swarmed over the practice field

LONDON — Kevin Mack (left) the Cleveland Browns running back, talks to the press at Crystal Palace. It is Mack's first contact with the press since he completed a cocaine-rehabilitation program.

On his lawyer's advice, he declined to comment on the drug-trafficking charges, but talked freely about his fight to beat cocaine use.

The rehabilitation, he said, had made him a better person.

"I'm better in the way I treat my friends and my family," Mack said. "Basically, I'm not afraid of things I should not have been afraid of. As long as it's not somebody with a knife or a gun in their hand, then I know they can't kill me....

"I'm giving it my best effort, and if I can do that, I'm satisfied. It's kind of a weird feeling after so many years of striving to be perfect, but perfection isn't my goal any more."

Dr. Gregory Collins, the Browns' team psychiatrist and head of their player counseling office, said Mack's rehabilitation from drug use was on schedule.

"He has a good attitude," Collins said. "He seems to want to help himself."

Mack will undergo individual and group counseling with the Browns and also probably be subject to the NFL's program of twice-weekly urine tests for known drug users, according to Collins.

The doctor said Mack's realization of his own imperfection was a hard burden for any athlete to bear, especially one in a game as physically demanding as pro football.

"These guys are used to putting their best foot forward," Collins said. "It's a big blow. It's hard to get back your self-confidence and keep going."

The Eagles and Browns will practice against each other this week in single-session workouts.

TCU player finds new life at wide receiver

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Scott Ankrum dove and the ball stuck to his right hand like he had pancake syrup on it.

It was a catch only a veteran of many years at wide receiver could make. Or was it?

Ankrum, a 12th round draft pick from Texas Christian University, played four positions for the Horned Frogs but completed his career as a quarterback.

When the Dallas Cowboys scouted him in the NFL combine, Ankrum was at running back.

"I only had three plays at wide receiver at TCU in a game against Georgia," Ankrum said. "But the Cowboys think I have a good shot at the position."

Indeed, they do. "I didn't think Scott had much of a chance coming into training camp," coach Jimmy Johnson said. "However, he came into camp and impressed everybody. He could become a physical wide receiver. He's in a fight to make this club but he could."

Johnson said he might carry five wide receivers this year because of Ankrum.

"If we felt a fifth wide receiver could help us on the specialty teams then we might keep him," Johnson said. "That's the spot he's in a fight for right now."

At 6-1, 200-pound Ankrum is impressive physically. And he can run a 4.45 in the 40 yard dash on astroturf in track shoes and a 4.60 in grass in football shoes.

However, Ankrum had a star-crossed career at TCU.

"In four years I only played in 14 games," he said. "That's why I had to make a good showing at the combine. I think I did."

"I had all those pulled hamstring muscles in college and it hampered me. I quit lifting weights with my legs and stopped getting the muscle pulls."

Ankrum, who signed for $297,000 over two years, said the one-handed catch he made is the type of thing he needs to do to stick with the team.

OAKLAND — Chicago White Sox second baseman Scott Fletcher keeps his eye on his double play throw to first as he gets a free ride from Oakland Athletics Dave Henderson in fourth inning Tuesday night.

O's lose twinbill; lead down to one

By The Associated Press
Frank Robinson never thought he would have to go through the experience he had in April 1988. He was right. This may be worse.

Baltimore lost a day-night doubleheader to Boston 5-3 and 6-2 Tuesday. The Orioles, who lost their first 23 games in the 1988 season, have lost 13 of 14 in their current slump and their lead in the American League East has dwindled to one game over second-place Boston.

"We're not playing by instinct, we're overthinking," Robinson said. "We really need a couple of wins, then we'll start playing like we did before."

Ellis Burks snapped a seventh-inning tie with an RBI double to lead Boston in the day game. Nick Esasky's three-run homer paced the Red Sox in the night game.

AL

"The key to our problems is missed scoring opportunities," Robinson said. "We're getting men on base but we're not driving them in. These things build up. It wouldn't do any good to lose my head and start hollering because we're not hitting."

Boston has gained eight games on the Orioles since July 19 despite going 3-6. By winning their fifth straight, the Red Sox improved their record to 52-51, their first time over .500 since July 15.

"We feel good, strong and aggressive," Esasky said. "It's been a long day but when you win two, it makes it all worthwhile."

In other games, Oakland beat Chicago 2-0. Seattle beat California 8-1. Milwaukee beat Cleveland 4-2. Kansas City beat Toronto 2-1. Minnesota beat New York 5-4 and Texas beat Detroit 4-3.

Rob Murphy, 2-5, won the day game, striking out four in 12-3 innings. Wes Gardner, 3-6, allowed five hits over 7 2-3 innings to win the second game. Lee Smith saved both, increasing his season total to 16.

Pete Harnisch, 1-5, lost the first game and Dave Johnson the second, his first big-league start.

Athletics 2, White Sox 0

Curt Young won for the first time in seven starts as Oakland moved back into first place in the American League West for the first time since July 6.

Felix Jose doubled in a run in the second and Carney Lansford singled in a run in the eighth.

Young, 3-8, combined with three relievers for a six-hitter. Greg Hibbard, 2-3, gave up eight hits in 7 2-3 innings for the visiting White Sox.

Mariners 8, Angels 1
Alvin Davis drove in four runs and took over the American League batting lead, going 3-for-4 to raise his average to .341.

Kirby Puckett of the Twins, who had been leading, went 0-for-4 to drop his average to .3406.

Mike Dunne scattered eight hits for his first complete game since June 11, 1988, when he was with Pittsburgh. He struck out eight, matching his career high. Jim Abbott, 9-7, allowed six runs and eight hits in 3 1-3 innings for the visiting Angels.

Brewers 4, Indians 2

Robin Yount doubled in the tying and go-ahead runs in a three-run eighth at County Stadium and Jamie Navarro, 3-3, allowed two hits over eight innings.

Milwaukee, with 10 victories in its last 13 games, moved to within 2½ games of first-place Baltimore. Dan Plesac pitched a perfect ninth for his 25th save.

With the Brewers trailing 2-1, Jim Gantner singled off Doug Jones, 4-6, to begin the eighth and Rob Deer doubled. Yount lined a double past the drawn-in infield.

Royals 2, Blue Jays 1

Bret Saberhagen, 11-5, pitched a three-hitter in the SkyDome for his eighth victory in nine decisions. He had lost five consecutive decisions against Toronto since beating the Blue Jays on July 11, 1987.

Todd Stottlemyre, 2-5, gave up eight hits and both runs in seven-plus innings. He struck out five and walked three.

Mookie Wilson, acquired by Toronto on Tuesday from the New York Mets, struck out twice, grounded out and flied out.

Twins 5, Yankees 4

Randy Bush's two-run homer capped a three-run rally in the seventh inning at Yankee Stadium as Minnesota won its first game without 1988 Cy Young Award winner Frank Viola, who was traded to the New York Mets late Monday.

Shane Rawley, 5-8, remained undefeated in five career decisions against his former team and Jeff Reardon finished for his 18th save.

Walt Terrell, 0-1, gave up five runs on nine hits in 6 1-3 innings.

Rangers 4, Tigers 3

Harold Baines, acquired by Texas last Saturday from the Chicago White Sox, hit a two-run homer in the ninth off Paul Gibson, 2-6. Baines is 5-for-12 since joining the Rangers.

Kevin Brown, 10-6, gave up five hits in eight innings and struck out six at Tiger Stadium. Jeff Russell finished for his 22nd save.

Mets end losing streak

By The Associated Press
On the night after the New York Mets acquired Frank Viola, Kevin McReynolds and Sid Fernandez made some sweet music of their own.

McReynolds drove in six runs Tuesday night and became the first Met since 1976 to hit for the cycle in a nine-inning game as New York snapped a seven-game losing streak with an 11-0 victory over St. Louis.

McReynolds' slugging and Fernandez's four-hitter took the pressure of breaking a long losing streak off of Viola, acquired from Minnesota by the Mets just before midnight Monday in exchange for five players.

NL

McReynolds declined to talk to the media about supplanting Mike Phillips as the last Met to hit a homer, single, double and triple in a nine-inning game. Phillips did it against the Chicago Cubs on June 25, 1976, while Keith Hernandez hit for a cycle for the Mets in a 19-inning game on July 4, 1985.

Fernandez was excited about his first shutout since July 3, 1988 and the fact that he succeeded without his usual strikeouts. He walked two and struck out only one, 15 less than his career high against Atlanta less than three weeks ago.

McReynolds completed the cycle with a three-run triple in the ninth, and he scored his fourth run of the game on a groundout.

McReynolds' two-run homer capped a three-run sixth inning against Cardinals starter Scott Terry, 7-10. Juan Samuel and Howard Johnson had three hits apiece in the Mets' 15-hit attack.

Expos 5, Pirates 4
Montreal handed Pittsburgh its fifth straight loss as Nelson Santovenia hit a two-run double in the 11th inning, his second game-winning hit in as many nights.

Doug Bair, 0-2, retired the first two Expos in the 11th before Hubie Brooks doubled and was replaced by pinch-runner Otis Nixon. Pirates manager Jim Leyland ordered Tim Wallach intentionally walked before Santovenia doubled into the left field corner.

Santovenia hit a two-run homer in the eighth Monday night to give the Expos a 4-2 victory.

Giants 5, Dodgers 2
San Francisco took advantage of Fernando Valenzuela's throwing error to score two unearned runs, and Scott Garrelts recorded his third straight victory before leaving with a stiff right shoulder.

Garrelts, 9-3, allowed four hits in 5 1-3 innings, including Kal Daniels' fourth homer of the season, before leaving. The reliever, unbeaten in four starts since coming off the disabled list July 16, was not sure how serious the injury was.

Craig Lefferts pitched three innings of three-hit ball for his 19th save in 20 opportunities.

Brett Butler snapped a 2-for-31 slump with a double leading off the sixth, igniting a two-run inning as the Giants snapped a 1-1 tie against Valenzuela, 5-11.

Astros 5, Reds 0
Houston beat Cincinnati to stay a game behind San Francisco in the West as Ken Caminiti and Billy Hatcher each hit two-run singles and Rick Rhoden won his first game for the Astros.

Rhoden, 1-3, scattered seven hits until he was relieved in the sixth inning by Larry Andersen, who pitched three perfect innings. Dave Smith pitched a hitless ninth.

The Astros jumped on loser Tim Leary, 7-9, for two runs in the first inning on Caminiti's single. The Astros scored twice in the sixth on Hatcher's single after Glenn Davis walked and Caminiti doubled.

Davis made it 5-0 with his 23rd homer in the ninth.

Cubs 4, Phillies 1
Chicago stayed two games behind Montreal in the East as Steve Wilson, making only his second start of the season, pitched five scoreless innings and Jerome Walton hit a two-run triple against Philadelphia.

Wilson, who has 33 relief appearances, made the rare start to give the regular rotation an extra day's rest, and the left-hander responded with his fourth victory without a loss. Mitch Williams got the last five outs for his 27th save.

Wilson, who allowed four hits, was relieved by Les Lancaster with one on and none out in the sixth and was charged with Philadelphia's only run when Von Hayes hit a sacrifice fly later in the inning.

Padres 5, Braves 2
San Diego defeated Atlanta on pinch-hitter Carmelo Martinez's bases-loaded triple in the 11th inning.

Jim Acker, 0-5, loser of 12 consecutive decisions since 1987, gave up a single to Chris James, a double to Mike Pagliarulo and an intentional walk before Martinez tripled to center past Odbide McDowell, who failed to make a diving catch.

Training camp quiet without Rozier

SAN MARCOS (AP) — It's been a quiet training camp for running back Allen Pinkett because Mike Rozier isn't in camp.

It's been quieter for EVERYONE because Rozier is a contract holdout.

"It's different because it's so quiet, we miss all of his screaming and yelling obscenities at us," Pinkett said.

But there is another, more important, benefit for Pinkett and second year running back Lorenzo White.

"It also means more repetitions for Lorenzo (White) and me and I'm a true believer that reps make you improve," Pinkett said.

Improvement was a key word for Pinkett's performance last season. He rushed 512 yards on 122 carries and caught 12 passes for 114 yards.

He played in all 16 regular season games and started two games. He was second on the team in rushing behind Rozier.

Pinkett had two three-touchdown games and was the Oilers' leading rusher in three games.

Now Pinkett is anticipating taking another step forward with more passes going to the running backs under new quarterbacks coach Kevin Gilbride.

"One thing we're looking to do is have the opportunities to catch more passes and spread the ball around more," Pinkett said.

"We're trying to utilize more of our weapons. With the arsenal we have, we can attack teams in a lot of different ways."

Pinkett caught 35 passes his rookie season in 1986, when he was utilized mostly as a receiver in the shot gun formation.

back Setrick Dickens of Quanh picked off a Lewis-to-Valdez pass and returned it 30 yards to the South 17, setting up another 1-yard TD plunge, this time by Quincy White of Midland Lee.

Michael Jefferson of Garland Lakeview, who has signed with Nebraska, pounced on a fumble at the South 33 that set up the North's go-ahead field goal in the third quarter.

Two plays later, North quarterback Randy Donnell of Midland Greenwood lateraled to Doug Braden of Rankin, who threw to Timmy Johnson of Amarillo Tascosa at the 2. The South held, but Greg Holden's 23-yard field goal gave the North a 17-14 advantage.

The first play after the ensuing kickoff, Lewis fumbled the ball, and the North's Tyler Harrison of Arlington recovered 18 yards behind the line of scrimmage at the 2.

Only 20 seconds later, Maddox "looked" Shipley one way and then hit Shipley for the touchdown.

Odeil Beckham's 20-yard touchdown run capped the North's second-half rally.

Early in the fourth quarter, UCLA-bound Maddox hit Saul for a 31-yard completion to the South 26.

Two plays later, Beckham, a Louisiana State signee from Marshall, took a handoff and broke through the middle, spun off a tackle, and dashed into the end zone.

But most people have seen nothing more than limousines and vans with out-of-state license plates.

The dispute was already public. Last month in the International Herald-Tribune, Lagerfeld said Marianne was "the symbol of everything that is boring, bourgeois and provincial."

JAY & MILLIE CUNNINGHAM

QUICK PROFILE:

Jay and Millie Cunningham own and operate Jay's Farm & Ranch Service Center, 600 E. 3rd. They established the store in 1969; Jay has been in the business 36 years.

WHAT ARE YOUR HOBBIES?

The couple enjoys yard work and reading, and they travel as often as they can. They recently put their yard work skills to use to help clean up the Tubb Pocket Park.

WHAT DO YOU DO TO KEEP IN SHAPE?

They keep in shape working at the store, say Millie. And they walk every morning in their neighborhood.

WHO IS A PERSON YOU ADMIRE?

Jay admires George Bush, and Millie admires Mother Teresa. Millie also admires Barbara Bush, whom she describes as a "real person."

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE TELEVISION SHOW?

Tuesday is usually their television night. "We watch 'Perfect Strangers' and 'The Wonder Years.'" They also enjoy PBS programs.

DO YOU HAVE ANY PETS?

Their dog, a Bachon Friese, Keesha, accompanies them to work every day.

WHAT MAGAZINES DO YOU SUBSCRIBE TO?

The Cunninghams read The Smithsonian, National Geographic and Southern Living.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE LEISURE THING TO DO IN BIG SPRING?

They enjoy driving to Moss Lake to fish and sometimes "just to look at the moon on the water." They also like to eat out and then go to a movie.

WHAT DID YOU DO ON YOUR LAST VACATION?

The couple and their four children met in Colorado for a vacation of fishing, rafting, horseback riding and a trip on the Durango-Silverton steam train. The children are Lara, a sophomore at Tech; Michael, Lubbock; James, Midland; and Marilyn Fortezzo, Germany.

WHAT ARE YOUR FUTURE GOALS?

They both want to travel. "We've seen half of the U.S., and want to see the other half. We want to go to Australia, and to spend more time with our children," say Millie

BUSINESS & INDUSTRY REVIEW

Edited by Lea Whitehead

Enjoy jalapeno 'burger at Jack & Mattie's Cafe

Fresh from their two-weeks vacation, Jack and Mattie Taylor have revamped the decor and added new menu items at Jack & Mattie's Cafe, 901 West Third.

"We want to thank all our regular customers for their patience while we were closed for vacation, and for coming back to see us," says Mattie.

The cafe has added a new item — the Mexican hamburger — "with onions and jalapenos cooked in the meat," Mattie says. The new hamburger is $2.65 (20 cents extra for cheese.) In addition, customers will once more find Jack's famous homemade cinnamon rolls and individual loaves of bread back on the menu.

If you haven't been there in awhile, drop by to see the new paint and decorations. The couple has taken a variety of antique kitchen items — an old wash board, pots and pans, wood kitchen gadgets — and decorated the walls. "Some of these things we used in our own restaurant kitchens years ago," Mattie says.

There's a crowd of regulars that gather each morning to order Jack's famous homemade biscuits and the "best darn cream gravy you ever ate," says Mattie.

Breakfast entree orders include coffee or tea at no extra cost. And if you like to sleep late on Saturday, you can still have breakfast at Jack & Mattie's — they serve breakfast til 2 p. m.

Jack & Mattie's is widely known for its old-fashioned "home cooking". The luncheon menu includes soup (usually homemade!) or salad, two veggies and potato, fresh-made dessert, coffee or tea — plus Jack's homemade bread. And you get hearty portions.

Entrees include roast beef, chicken strips, liver and onions, breaded veal cutlets, chicken fried steak and more. Only fresh meat is used — no pre-breading, fillers or frozen entrees, Mattie points out. Everything is cooked to order, and only vegetable oil is used.

"Our hash browns and French fries are great," says Mattie — freshly prepared to your order, not the frozen items other restaurants serve.

Everything on the menu can be cooked for carry-out orders. "Just phone us at 267-9611 to place your order and we'll have it ready when you get here." If you want to eat at the restaurant, but are short of time, you can phone ahead to place your order. There are daily specials Monday through Friday.

Jack and Mattie Taylor have been "in the food business all our lives." They both began working in cafes when they were in their teens; they met and married in Abilene early in their careers. The couple moved to Big Spring in 1960 and continued in food operations, putting their culinary arts to work at the popular Permian Building Snack Bar from 1973 to 1981. They opened Jack & Mattie's Cafe in November, 1981.

Jack & Mattie's Cafe is open for breakfast and lunch, from 6 a. m. til 2 p. m. Monday through Saturday. There's plenty of parking.

Jack & Mattie's Cafe is constantly adding new items to the menu — but you still count on the same quality of old-fashioned home cooking. Pictured (left to right) are Chef Jack, Mattie and Hannah Brumley, head waitress.

Tidbits

By LEA WHITEHEAD
Staff Writer

The George Leatham family vacation covered 2,000 Texas miles to Dallas, Padre Island and San Antonio.

George and Mary, along with Taylor and Sydney, took in Sea World at San Antonio. And they collected sea shells and sunned on Padre Island — Taylor stayed on the beach after a fellow vacationer caught a 5-foot-10 shark! The Leathams came home by way of Dallas to view the Ramses II exhibit.

Alas, just outside Ft. Worth on the last leg of the trip, their car's water pump went out. Luckily they found a parts store open, and, of course, garage-owner George could handle the installation. Mary and the children kept cool in a nearby shopping mall while George labored two hours in 100-plus heat.

But that's not the end of the story. The next day after the family arrived home, Mary's mother, Wanda Pipes, Coahoma, dropped by to hear about their vacation. And when Wanda started to leave, she fell in the driveway and broke her hip! Mary says Wanda is out of the hospital now and doing just fine.

Robert and Leta Pruitt drove to Corpus Christi to pick up their grandchildren before heading out on vacation in their motorhome. The youngsters are Heath, 12; Heather, 10; and Lacey, 7, children of the Pruitts' daughter and son-in-law, Donnie and Rita Anderson.

Their first stop was in Dallas to see the Pruitts' newest grandchild, Veronica, who has just arrived to daughter, Rhonda, and Tim Gilmore.

Then the travelers headed for Oklahoma and Colorado. In Oklahoma they visited the drive-thru zoo at Arbuckle Park; and took guided tours of an Indian village at Anadarko. In Colorado, the group stayed at Fun Valley Resort where Robert says they "ate a lot of trout — caught fresh day. Everybody gets a free fishing day and then the entire catch is cooked that night." Last stop in Colorado was Durango to ride the steam-powered train.

The children have been visiting here this week; Donnie and Rita arrived Friday to take them home — but not until after Lacy's seventh birthday party Monday.

Just back from a scuba diving trip to the island of Antigua — 1,250 miles south of Miami — are Max and Kay Moore and A. C. and Debbie Pirkle.

The couples spent the week in a villa on the beach at Runaway Bay resort community near the capitol at St. John.

They made seven dives — all four are certified divers — and spent one day sailing on a catamaran, stopping at a smaller island to picnic and snorkel.

Visitors at the home of Kenneth and Virginia Hewett are their son, Marine Lance Cpl. Kenny Hewett and wife April, Yuma, Ariz.

The younger Hewetts brought Kenny's sister, Michelle, back home after a two-week visit in Arizona.

Virginia confides that Kenny and April are expecting their first child — Virginia's first grandchild — in early December.

It was a family affair that took Juanita Seitzler to Kaufman recently.

Her son John Seitzler, who grew up here and graduated from Big Spring High School in 1967, had the idea of getting the five generations of their family together at his Kaufman home for a portrait.

In addition to John and Juanita, others who gathered for the sitting were Juanita's mother, Ivy Crandall, Seagoville; and John's daughter, Mrs. Ben Crawford, San Antonio, with her toddler daughter, Bliss.

The 20th anniversary of the Moon walk July 20 held special significance for Jimmie Robertson.

She remembers vividly her meeting with Neil Armstrong at an Easter Seal Society convocation in San Antonio less than three months after the historic event. Armstrong was there to personally present a citation to Easter Seal Society volunteers of Howard County for their outstanding work — and Jimmie accepted the award.

Jimmie was chairman of Easter Seals fundraising here that year, and personally contributed 5,000 hours of volunteer work to that organization and the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. All this while she was chairman of the American Heart Association, president of at least six women's organizations and raising seven children! Is it any wonder Jimmie was named Woman of the Year in Big Spring for 1969?

"I'm just resting now," she says

Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Carothers, West Columbia, former Big Spring residents, dropped a note to local friends to announce that their daughter, Jo Dale Carothers, Austin, has earned her doctor of philosophy degree in electrical engineering at the University of Texas at Austin.

Jo Dale's husband, Jeff Rodriguez, is also earning his doctorate in electrical engineering. The couple will go into the research field.

Astronaut Neil Armstrong shakes hands with Jimmie Robertson in San Antonio.
