2,000 more troops sent to Panama

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Two thousand fresh American troops were airlifted to Panama on Saturday as U.S. commanders conceded a burgeoning alarm over the unexpectedly stiff resistance by forces still loyal to fugitive Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega.

The reinforcements, including a helicopter company, were sent from the Army's 7th Light Infantry Division at Fort Ord, Calif., and joined 24,000 other U.S. soldiers, many of them bone-weary, on Day Four of the nation's largest combat operation since the Vietnam War.

It is an operation that has turned quickly from the conventional warfare of the initial strike, which virtually neutralized the Panamanian Defense Forces, to the more perplexing mission of countering guerrilla attacks and policing a nation in institutional chaos.

The Pentagon reported that 24 U.S. servicemen, three more than listed Friday, had been killed in the fighting. Officials also said two American dependents had been killed, 222 U.S. troops had been wounded and two were still missing.

The military said 139 members of the PDF had been killed, and 95 wounded. There was no official count of casualties among Panamanian civilians.

U.S. forces said they had recovered 15,500 weapons, including 33 armored vehicles, with an increasing number of arms laid down voluntarily by surrendering members of the Panamanian Defense Forces, including the garrison which guarded the presidential palace. The number of PDF detainees totaled 2,250, according to Gen. Maxwell Thurman, head of the U.S. Southern Command.

Despite the massive recovery of weapons, commanders said Noriega's "dignity battalions" continued to draw fresh arms and ammunition for hit-and-run attacks upon troops and civilians.

One American officer said the loyalists of the self-styled "maximum leader" — whose whereabouts remained undetermined — had used ambulances to shuttle their weaponry around Panama City.

Still, Thurman, briefing reporters in Panama, offered several bits of "good news" late in the day. He said:

- Nine employees of Evergreen International Airlines, an American cargo carrier, had been released by pro-Noriega forces and evacuated by U.S. troops to the safety of Howard AFB. According to Thurman, the airline employees had been stripped to their underwear and beaten, but were not seriously hurt.
- The effort to create a new Panamanian police force under the new, U.S.-installed government of Guillermo Endara was proceeding at an encouraging pace. "Today we brought down 750 uniforms and 1,000 people showed up," he said.

"The people are cooperating with us and are beginning to lay down their weapons," the general

BIG SPRING — Approximately 4,800 people, and even some animals, were able to view Texas' largest drive-through nativity at the First Church of the Nazarene last week. The nativity had to be cancelled Thursday due to below freezing temperatures in the Crossroads Country, but that didn't keep area residents and their pets, from seeing the annual event on three other nights. The nativity is considered Big Spring's largest tourist attraction, drawing up to 8,000 people during a normal four-night run.

Hospital death rates meet estimates

By PETER ROPER
Herald Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Death rates for Medicare patients at three of four Crossroads Country hospitals were within the expected range for facilities of their size in 1988, according to a national federal hospital study released Thursday by the Department of Health and Human Services.

The regional hospitals covered in the survey were Scenic Mountain Medical Center and Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital in Big Spring, Mitchell County Hospital in Colorado City, and Martin County Hospital in Stanton.

Only Mitchell County Hospital reported slightly higher than expected death rates in 1988 among Medicare patients. It reported a death rate of 22.2 percent among the 221 Medicare patients it treated in 1988. Federal officials estimated the expected death rate at between 9.4 and 21.1 percent.

engulfed. The combined effort of the fire departments brought the fire under control by 10:30 p.m., according to fire officials.

Howard County Volunteer Fire Chief C. Roy Wright said the fire originated from the north side of the home, sparked by electrical wiring. The trailer's outer walls still stood, Wright said, but the back section of the trailer sustained heavy heat and smoke damage. The intense heat melted and charred the contents of the home. According to fire officials, the trailer is a complete loss.

The couple had left their home earlier in the evening to celebrate Christmas with family members in Odessa. They were later contacted about the fire by neighbors and had to cut short their visit and return home.

"We had just paid our trailer payments up for the next several months," said John Nobles. "My wife and I are students at Howard College and go to school full-time. I graduate in May from the R.N. program and have a position lined-up with a medical center in Odessa, so if we can just make it through until then, we will be OK," said Nobles.

"When my wife and I met, we didn't have anything except the clothes on our backs. We'll be OK," stated Nobles as he inspected the charred remains of his home.

Tonya stated this was not the first time fire had taken all she had.

"When I was 12, my family lost everything in a house fire. I just had a feeling a couple of weeks ago that something bad was going to happen. I just didn't know what," said Tonya.

Community members have rallied behind the Nobles family, with a temporary fund set up at the Little Sooper Market in Coahoma. The neighbors also hope to have a fund in place at the Coahoma State Bank for the family by next week.

"We sure have some good friends, our children go to Coahoma schools, and we hope we can find a place to live in this area so our kids can stay in Coahoma schools," said Mrs. Nobles.

of Mitchell County Hospital, said this was the first year the hospital had a higher-than-expected death rate. The study began three years ago.

Murphy also noted that the study's results were "inflated," since they include deaths that occur within 30 days of release from a hospital.

Larry Elliott, administrator for Martin County Hospital in Stanton, noted that the study's results reflect the type of patients kept at a hospital. Some hospitals have more seriously ill patients than others, he said.

Using information taken from the federal Medicare billing system, the HHS study evaluated death rates at roughly 6,000 hospitals across the nation in 1988. The study focuses on 16 major disease areas, from cancer and heart disease to urologic problems. It also included a category for less common ailments.

Specifically, the report said that 11.2 percent of the 703 Medicare patients treated at the Scenic Mountain Medical Center in 1988 died within 30 days of their last admission to the 153-bed facility. The HHS study put the expected mortality rate for that institution at between 7.2 and 15.6 percent. It was within the expected mortality range on all 16 disease categories.

"I am pleased to hear that our death rate for Medicare patients was not above average," said Scott Taylor, administrator of Scenic Mountain Medical Center.

Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital, with 48 beds, reported a mortality rate of 15.1 percent among the 245 Medicare patients treated. The expected range was between 6.2 and 16.8 percent.

The estimated ranges are based on national data that compares similar patients being treated at similarly sized hospitals. The estimated ranges, however, can vary widely. For example, the federal report estimated the death rate at the Hall-Bennett Hospital to be between zero and 100 percent in 14 disease categories because of a lack of information about similar patients in similar hospitals.

Martin County Hospital, with 26 beds, reported a mortality rate of 6.5 percent for the 31 Medicare patients it treated. The expected range was zero-to-100 percent. It also had a zero-to-100 percent range in 7 of the disease categories. Like other small hospitals, Mitchell County Hospital had a zero-to-100 percent range for 12 of the categories, but in terms of pulmonary disease, the federal study estimated the expected death rate at 3.7 to 37 percent. The hospital reported a death rate of 37.5 percent among the 48 cases it treated.

The annual HHS report has been attacked by hospital administrators and hospital lobbies for its attempt to rank the quality of care at hospitals. The massive study, however, has been the only comparison of hospital care nationwide that consumers could readily review.

Nationally, only 3 percent of the hospitals that treat Medicare patients exceeded the overall mortality rate.

Louis B. Hays, acting administrator of the Health Care Financing Administration, said the report should not be used as a report card on a particular hospital because the statistics cannot indicate the severity of the illnesses involved, or whether a hospital specialized in treating acutely ill people.

"The information is best used as a 'screening tool,' to identify potential problems for further review, and in consultation with medical staff, to evaluate a hospital's strengths and weaknesses," Hays wrote in a foreword to the study.

"Consumers can use this information to ask questions of their physicians, rather than reach judgements about the quality of care in a particular hospital," he said.

Hospitals were invited to write replies to the report, but the local hospitals did not.

Inmates get Christmas meal, visits and religious service

By BRADLEY WORRELL
Staff Writer

BIG SPRING — The Howard County jail is expected to have about 30 inmates on Christmas Day, and Sheriff A.N. Standard said the sheriff's department will do its part to make the holiday a little more enjoyable for those who are in jail by offering a traditional meal, a religious service and limited visiting privileges.

Standard said a priest with one of the local churches will lead inmates in a religious service on Christmas Day. Although Monday will not be a traditional visitation day, Standard said the department may also allow special visitation rights to those inmates who have family traveling from out of town.

Standard said his department has also appealed for the release of those inmates held for misdemeanor offenses so they can spend the holidays with their families.

advent of the holidays, but District Attorney Rick Hamby said he expects court activity to increase with the possibility of murder trials in February.

Hamby did not say which cases would be up for consideration in February, but indicated possible trials for Ricardo Flores and Leroy Alaniz, charged with the April 1988 slaying of 53-year-old Odessa parolee Manuel Garcia. Garcia's body was discovered under a mattress and debris in a westside city sandpit.

An autopsy later determined Garcia died from trauma to the head.

Also arrested in connection with Garcia's slaying is Flores' brother Robert "Roberto" Flores, who earlier this month pleaded guilty to murder. Robert Flores has yet to be sentenced for his part in the killing.

Commissioners meet

Howard County Commissioners are expected to meet Wednesday with District Chief Appraiser Keith Toomire in a specially-called commissioners' court meeting to discuss personal property taxes and taxation of goods in transit.

Courthouse closes

The county courthouse building and courthouse annex will be closed Sunday, Monday and Tuesday for Christmas. The county library, which closed Saturday for the holiday, will also be closed until Wednesday.

Check it out

The county library is publishing a new newsletter that features seasonal information, recipes and a list of recommended books, County Librarian Donna Jackson said.

The most recent issue of the newsletter, entitled "Check It Out!" features information and trivia about the Christmas season, holiday recipes and a list of books dealing with the holiday, she said. The next newsletter will probably be released in time for Valentine's Day, she said.

Taxes due soon

People have from now until Jan. 31 to pay their taxes at the county tax office in the county annex without penalty, said Kathy Sayles, county tax assessor/collector. There is a 7 percent compounded interest penalty for payments made after starting Feb. 1 and increasing 2 percent for each following month.

There is no discount for paying before the deadline, but Sayles said it is better to pay early and avoid facing the post-deadline penalties.

Sayles also said if a person changes addresses they need to come to the county tax office so that they can obtain a new voter registration card. The mailed registration cards cannot be forwarded by postal authorities if someone moves, she explained.

Troopers on watch

The local Department of Public Safety will join other units across the state in increased coverage of the highways until midnight Monday and again during a 72-hour period covering New Year's Day in an attempt to make the holidays safer for travelers.

Local DPS Sgt. Frank Woodall said DPS officers from the license and weight division and other divisions will join Texas Highway Patrol troopers in attempting to curb speeding and driving while intoxicated violations, two of the biggest problems during the holiday season.

The DPS is predicting as many as 75 people may die on highways during the Christmas and New Year's holiday period.

claimed control of the country after a night of ferocious battles between army units siding with pro-reform protesters and security forces loyal to Ceausescu, who fled his palace Friday.

Loyalist guards continued to battle army units in the capital Saturday. Bursts of gunfire echoed among the grandiose canyons of buildings and monuments the Communist leader built to himself during 24 years of rule.

Rocket-propelled grenades slammed into the 13-story television building in an attempt to silence the opposition's broadcasts.

Hundreds of people have been killed in two days of street fighting and thousands more were reported killed in a week of crackdowns on the burgeoning protest movement.

Revolutionaries took swift revenge against pro-Ceausescu fighters captured near the downtown post office, killing them on the spot.

Romanian television gave a jubilant boost to the revolt, announcing that the army had captured Ceausescu one day after he was ousted by a week-old popular revolt.

Ceausescu did not appear on television, however, and a previous Romanian television report of his capture was later withdrawn. The television said he would not be shown to prevent rescue attempts guerrilla-styled irregulars still loyal to Noriega.

The Southern Command also reported that prisoners at an island penitentiary in the Pacific, about 60 miles from the capital, apparently had overcome their pro-Noriega guards and had radioed for help from American forces. The prison group was said to include some of the former Panamanian officers who led a failed coup attempt on Oct. 3.

Lt. Col. Jerry Marguila, spokesman for the Southern Command, said Saturday that the dignity battalions were "increasing their activities — of harassing attacks with small arms and mortar fire, threatening the civilian population, and hostage-taking."

Pressed for specifics, Marguila replied "I don't have in my mind an increase in numbers between today and yesterday of dignity-battalion efforts. It's just that they are becoming more of a concern, because they are taking more of our time as opposed to the PDF." At the Pentagon, one military official, speaking on condition of anonymity, conceded the ferocity of the dignity battalions had caught U.S. commanders off guard.

Defense Secretary Dick Cheney was at his office on Saturday to keep tabs on developments in Panama as well as the bloody revolution which ousted Romanian dictator Nicolae Ceausescu. President Bush was at Camp David, Md., where he worked on a Christmas Eve address to the American military men and women around the globe, including a "special message" for those in Panama.

Bush planned to tape the Armed Services Network broadcast at the Pentagon on Sunday, where he also was to receive an extended briefing on the Panama fighting.

Bush was briefed by telephone Saturday by national security adviser Brent Scowcroft on both Panama and Romania.

The president plans to go to a Houston hospital on Dec. 31 to visit soldiers wounded in Panama.

HOUSTON (AP) — A woman faces up to life in prison and a $10,000 fine after a jury convicted her of injuring her brain-damaged son by blowing air through a feeding tube while the infant was hospitalized.

Brenda Garza, 23, of Lake Jackson, was secretly videotaped by authorities at Texas Children's Hospital in Houston on June 8. Hospital officials became concerned because the condition of Jesus Garza III improved when he was with nurses but deteriorated after his mother's visits.

On the tape, the woman was seen blowing air into a tube that had been inserted into the child's stomach. She also appeared to hold her fingers against the child's windpipe.

She then complained to a nurse that her child's stomach was swollen. When the nurse would leave, the woman would blow through the tube again, prosecutor Jan Krockner said.

Jurors who convicted the woman of the first-degree felony on Thursday after a week-long trial now must consider punishment.

Ms. Garza's attorney, Felix Cantu, said his client deserved a second chance because she is a good mother. He wants jurors to consider probation.

Tiny transplant recipients faring well

CHICAGO (AP) — Cards from well-wishers across the nation and "many, many teddy bears" have arrived for two tiny girls who made medical history by receiving liver transplants from living donors.

The two girls, Alyssa Smith, 22 months, and Sarina Jones, 16 months, were in critical but stable condition Friday. But officials and family members said their outlook for the new year was good.

Alyssa "plays and is more active every day," her mother, Teri, said from her daughter's bedside. Doctors have told her the Texas toddler may be out of the hospital by the first of the year.

"We have really been blessed by the people and their generosity and thoughtfulness in expressing their concern," she said.

first liver transplant from a living donor.

Sarina received part of her father's liver a few days later and is also doing "remarkably well," said John Easton, a spokesman for the University of Chicago Medical Center, where both children were cared for.

Like Alyssa, Sarina, of Millington, Tenn., suffers from biliary atresia, a usually fatal congenital defect that is the leading cause of liver transplants in children.

Doctors have said previously that the living-donor organ segments the children received have performed much better than the cadaver donors previously used in such operations.

Use of a living donor also offers a possible solution to the chronic shortage of available cadaver organs for infants.

Alyssa, of Schertz, near San Antonio, likely will be given a "day pass" to spend Christmas Day with her family at a Chicago home for relatives of ailing children.

Judge freezes $14 million in alleged fraud case

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge has agreed to freeze up to $14 million in South Texas bank deposits after allegations that officials from five Houston and Corpus Christi firms conspired to commit mortgage fraud against a New York lender.

U.S. District Judge Kenneth Hoyt signed an order Friday taking control of deposits on two accounts held in the Bank of Robstown by Mortgage CreditCorp Inc. of Corpus Christi.

Pioneer Commercial Funding

Corp. has alleged officials from CreditCorp Inc. and from two other firms in Corpus Christi and two in Houston created phony documents to obtain illegal loans from Pioneer.

Pioneer, a "warehouse lender," advances funds to mortgage companies, which lend them in turn to home buyers. To obtain funds, a mortgage company sends Pioneer a package that includes the home buyer's credit application, promissory note, deed of trust, property appraisal, title policy commitment and proof of insurance.

The lawsuit says Pioneer agreed to provide Mortgage CreditCorp up to $35 million for such loans, but sometime in 1989, the defendants began creating packages including "fictitious deeds of trust, counterfeit title commitments, fraudulent credit applications, phony appraisals and bogus insurance policies."

The lawsuit accuses the defendants of racketeering, which allows the court to award triple damages if proven. Pioneer is seeking $14 million in actual damages and $42 million in punitive damages.

Other firms in Corpus Christi involved in the suit are The Cartwright Group Inc. and First State Investors Inc., while those in Houston are Beau-Bay Development Corp. and C&P Realty.

Zager said Pioneer will go after any funds held by any of the defendants, but knows only of the two accounts in Robstown.

Explorer rescued in cave

AUSTIN (AP) — A 30-year-old spelunker trapped for four hours under a 4,000-pound boulder in a cave 65-feet below ground near Barton Creek was in fair condition Saturday after being treated for a broken leg, officials said.

Charlie Savvas, 30, member of the Austin Speleological Society, was lifted to freedom about 10:35 p.m. Friday.

He was taken to Brackenridge

Hospital where he was treated for a broken right leg, said a hospital spokeswoman.

Savvas and three other members of an exploration group entered the unnamed cave late Friday afternoon, said Curtis Weeks, public information officer for the Travis County Sheriff's Office.

The cave spirals downward under an old limestone landfill and then levels after dropping about 65 feet.

Savvas and the other members of his group were heading out of the cave shortly before 7 p.m. when a 4,000-pound triangular rock dislodged and fell onto Savvas' legs.

The rock pinned Savvas' knees and trapped him in a standing position in a 2½-foot passageway.

YEAR-END TAX CUTTING SUGGESTIONS

Consider these suggestions for minimizing your 1989 tax liability:

- You can reduce your tax liability by delaying the receipt of income until 1990 and by paying more deductible expenses before December 31, 1989. Estimate your 1989 taxes first to see if this strategy makes sense in your situation.
- If you decide to defer income, consider asking your employer to delay paying your bonus until next year. If you have a cash-basis business, send out bills late in December so payments will be received in January. Remember, however, that you cannot defer taxation by merely refusing receipt of money to which you are entitled.
- Accelerate deductions by paying before December 31 not only your fourth quarter state tax estimate, but also your state tax projected balance due, real and personal property taxes, and charitable pledges.
- Avoid penalties for underpayment of estimated taxes, if necessary, by arranging with your employer to withhold additional amounts before December 31. Unlike quarterly estimated tax payments, withholding is treated as though it occurred throughout the year.
- Repair business equipment and buildings before year-end in order to deduct the expense in 1989.
- If you're a shareholder/employee of a personal service corporation, you may want to increase your salary or bonus before year-end. PSCs pay a flat 34% on all taxable income, but if you take such income out of the corporation as wages or bonus, it will be taxed on your personal return at a maximum 28% (with a 5% surtax in some cases).
- You can elect to expense up to $10,000 of the cost of business equipment placed in service in 1989. There is a $2,560 expensing limit on vehicles, and the expensing option is phased out if your total purchases for 1989 exceed $200,000.

The blessings of Christmas

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas. Even the weather is cooperating with an unusual cold snap that has everyone bundling up in their warmest clothing.

Most of the presents are purchased and wrapped, and payment time is far enough in the future that it casts no pall over the celebrations. Children are on their best behavior, or trying hard at any rate, and even grownups are managing to suppress the irritability common to too much stress and the burden of trying to meet too many expectations.

Christians everywhere are celebrating the birth of the baby Jesus in Bethlehem nearly 2,000 years ago. The birth was a message of hope and love to a world as politically unstable as our own. In spite of, or perhaps because of, the lack of progress the people of the world have made toward peace, we need Christmas for a renewal of the the spirit of love and brotherhood that tends to be forgotten at other times of the year.

In spite of the conflicts the country is currently embroiled in — the military action in Panama, the war against drugs, the scandals that keep popping up around our highest government officials, the budget crisis, the educational crisis, the environmental crisis — the focus of Christmas is on caring and sharing.

If the virtues of Christmas — the love and generosity and cheerfulness of the season — could be maintained throughout the year, we might yet obtain the perfect world. It's something to wish for, anyway.

Peace on earth, goodwill to all.

The public has an interest

Joe Cook is wrong.

The city police chief declared that the public had no right to know the outcome of an internal police investigation involving the escape of a convicted burglar from the city police department.

The investigation stemmed from the escape of Juan Hagen Samora, a man on probation for burglary who was suspected in numerous other burglaries in the city.

He was being questioned by a detective, who left Samora unattended, giving him opportunity to run out the front doors of the police station. Officers captured Samora about 24 hours later as he was leaving a convenience store.

Police are a little evasive about exactly the department policy in such a matter.

Capt. Lonnie Smith said last week that an officer is required to be with a prisoner at all times during questioning.

Smith also said the incident would be reviewed to determine if procedures used to handle prisoners were flawed or if the proper procedures weren't followed during the incident.

Now Cook says that review has taken place but he doesn't consider it necessary for the public to know what is being done. It's doubtful many people are interested about the exact steps taken against an individual policeman who was responsible for the escape.

That is not the point. The public does have an interest in what the police department intends to do to avoid such an incident repeating itself within the confines of our police department.

"We wash our own dirty laundry," Cook said. "We're taking appropriate action to make sure nothing like this happens again."

That may be all well and good, but the public has the right to know what those steps are. Police departments are funded with taxpayer money and that makes their job performance subject to public scrutiny.

Such assurances are less than comforting when we realize that the police neglected their responsibility of posting the escape incident on the public blotter of police activities. The whole incident, embarrassing as it must have been, might have passed from sight completely had Samora not announced it to the public.

We abhor the criminal behavior by the likes of Samora, but consider the professional approach of our police department to be of interest to the public that foots the bill.

Internal divisions inhibit growth

By JESSE TREVINO

How can Texas achieve the sense of community that the 1980s have worn thin? Will it be possible to gain a statewide sense of purpose that includes all Texans, a willingness to trust and cooperate that will permit a new Texas to rise from the ashes of the mythical Texas of old?

It will not be easy. As the economic and political pressures that tore at the old Texas continue to mount, they most likely will be exacerbated by the political campaigns of 1990. Next year's elections promise to be a shaping event. At stake is the very direction the state will take. A wrong turn, and it literally could be decades before the state might recover.

Will the state take the bold steps needed to continue the education reforms so necessary for a productive workforce, to restructure its economy, its tax and judicial systems, to shore up the provision of health care services, to begin rebuilding its infrastructure, to protect the environment while replacing the water supplies being drained away from agriculture by the booming population centers?

Or will the state, imitating the proverbial ostrich with its head buried in the sand, plunge into an era during which progress comes to a halt, when empty ideology and rhetoric, appeals to fear of the unknown, and plain old ugly selfishness ushers in a period of stagnation, if not regression?

However divisive and bitter the upcoming campaigns may turn, Texas cannot continue forward unless individual Texans work to bridge the gulfs that work to separate parts of the state that are increasingly more conjoined.

Texans would do well to remember the example of England. When faced with Nazi Germany, Labour and the Conservatives laid down their separate political armies and formed a unity government.

For such a sense of common purpose to coalesce, all groups must recognize a common problem, a shared destiny. Thus, the state's greatest challenge is to convince all of its parts that they will share their future with all other parts of the state.

The size of Texas historically has made it difficult for many Texans to see the commonality of the state's regions and populations. Do the residents of Perryton, just a stone's throw from the Oklahoma Panhandle, understand the complexities of life in Los Fresnos, a short drive from the Rio Grande — and vice versa? Texans are very fond of their state, but can they empathize with each other to the point of sacrificing for the greater good? How does this sense of community start to form?

Part of the answer lies in the leadership Texas elects in November.

Some of the men and women putting themselves forward in both parties are solid, knowledgeable individuals who understand wholly the breadth and depth of the state's challenges. Others are not. The latter will conduct campaigns of fear.

One is reminded, unfortunately, of Kent Hance's 1984 Senate campaign which played to racist fears about immigration, drugs, and language. Contrast this with other state politicians (the best examples are politicians in other states, California, for example) who think of illegal aliens as an unfortunate yet simultaneously indispensable part of the labor force structure.

More recently, Mr. Hance has provided another example of what the state ought not to do: his trips to OPEC meetings and prophecies about the return of the oil industry appeal to the emotional yearnings — Texans have for the glory days of old. Yet, a miraculous revival of oil would only slow diversification of the state's economy and prolong our dependence on a single commodity — the last thing the state needs.

This type of fear and emotional appeal to nostalgia can easily be exploited in the two explosive issues that have recently come to the fore: public school finance reform and judicial selection. Slick politicians can easily portray these issues as the threat the new Texas poses to the old Texas.

If the campaigns widen these splits, putting Texas back together again will prove difficult.

But, ironically, part of the answer to how the state molds its new identity can be found in the way the state's population is positioning itself in one area of the state. This enormous shift of population from rural to urban Texas during the last 40 years personifies the end of the mythical Texas yet holds a key to the state's new identity.

Almost 83 percent of the state's population now lives east of an area generally demarcated by Interstate 35. The state's population has been compressed into one-third of the state's area and takes in just about all of the state's ethnic and racial populations. Current demographic projections suggest this concentration of people will intensify during the 1990s.

This imploding demography offers more geographic closeness than in the Texas of old. With it should come the opportunity for a more unitary perception of the needs of the future without forgetting the rest of the state. It offers an odd opportunity for the state to develop a new sense of purpose.

The old Texas is gone. The new Texas is forming already. But it awaits its own people and their willingness to conquer the internal divisions that loom in the 1990s.

Just my type Bitter cold lingers on

By ROBERT WERNSMAN
Publisher

OK, folks, it can get cold in Texas.

I'll never doubt it again.

There has never been a time while living in West Texas that I've ever completely forgotten how cold it could get in the Midwest, where I spent growing-up years. I've spent some time trying not to think about that cold — it's just easier that way — but you never, ever forget truly bitter cold.

Like this past week.

Will we ever have any trouble remembering the cold of the first day of winter '89? Not any time soon, I'm willing to bet.

This extraordinary introduction to the season makes you appreciate a warm home more perhaps than we normally would, and feel all the more compassion for those who are without.

Personally, the treat of exceptional cold began a few days earlier, thanks to a trip to Kansas City 10 days ago. There I got to walk in honest-to-goodness, six-inch-deep snow and gulp hard while trying to breathe, despite sub-zero howling winds.

How cold was it? About what we've been handed this week: 13 degrees below zero, with a wind chill in the mid-40s — below, of course.

And it really makes no difference, I'm convinced, whether you grew up in such circumstances; you are never prepared for such a cold blast. You can dress warmly, you can layer clothing, you can cover against the north breeze that comes cutting through you.

You just can't get used to it.

That Kansas City trip included a first for me: never before had I boarded a jet that had apparently stood empty and quiet all night during sub-zero temperatures. Consider me sheltered — until a week ago Friday I was led to believe that the inside of an airplane is barely anything but five degrees from comfortable.

That idea no longer exists for me. There is something chilling about the sight of shivering passengers, wrapping themselves in blankets and hoping for relief. Our flight attendant admitted that she had never before worn long underwear beneath her uniform, nor a hooded sweatshirt atop. It was the last time she can say that.

Of course, some relief was miles away. The extreme cold wasn't affecting only humans in this situation.

It had gotten cold enough to freeze the water lines and this flight was about to begin with a minimal amount of coffee pirated from the ticket agent counter; imagine! And, as if that wasn't enough, there was to be one other minor inconvenience to be faced.

Those frozen water lines extended beyond the limits of coffee making; there was no water for the purpose of flushing on this flight. Technology did come to the rescue, since bottled Perrier water — in six-ounce portions — was available for rinsing your hands if you were so inclined.

There comes a point, of course, when you wonder just how effective the mechanical aspects of your jet can be under such conditions. After all, it was sub-zero weather's effect on rubber gaskets that led to the Challenger shuttle disaster. Why do we remember these things at the worst possible moment?

Obviously, the jet de-icer proved effective; we managed to travel the friendly skies without courtesy of a restroom; for the most part the blankets were put away by the end of the first leg of the flight, and we survived without incident.

Despite that helpful hand from Mother Nature to prepare me for what was coming this way, the effort failed.

People suggest that perhaps I should be less affected by the weather, since I had all this cold-weather training in my younger day. That's a lesson that you simply cannot learn well enough to overcome, I'm afraid.

You can learn that it's the bitter that makes you appreciate the sweet — although I don't think it has to be this bitterly cold to adequately appreciate a little warmth — but you don't learn to like the cold.

And one other thing I've learned: I'm keeping plenty of Perrier on hand in the bathroom. You just never know.

Miners fail to reach settlement

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Mine Workers and Pittston Co. failed Saturday in a last-ditch effort to reach a pre-Christmas settlement in a bitter, nearly 9-month-old strike by 1,700 coal miners in three states.

Negotiations recessed Saturday evening with an agreement that both sides would return to the bargaining table Wednesday.

Government-appointed mediator W.J. Usery, who had said he wanted to end the strike by Christmas, told both sides he expected to settle the dispute by next Friday, according to sources familiar with the talks. Because of a gag order imposed by Usery, the sources would talk only on the condition of anonymity.

A settlement by the end of next week would allow the Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky miners to return to work after the traditional holiday shutdown of mining operations.

Usery, hoping to meet his goal, had the two sides at the table virtually around the clock all week, taking a break at midnight Friday but calling negotiators back to the table Saturday morning.

Considerable progress was made in the past few days but Usery decided to recess the bargaining until next week.

Cold snap stretches energy system

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Christmas weekend cold snap has stretched the nation's energy system to the maximum and created "spot shortages" of heating fuels in some areas, the Energy Department's chief of emergency preparedness said Saturday.

"At the moment we think we can get through this abnormally cold weather," without widespread energy shortages, but the outlook could darken if refineries break down or other unforeseen problems develop,

No leads found for latest bombing

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Police on Saturday interviewed neighbors of a county judge and a letter carrier who delivered a package to his apartment, but found no leads into the bomb attack that wounded the judge, authorities said.

Washington County Circuit Judge John P. Corderman's condition was upgraded to good at Washington County Hospital, one day after a pipe bomb sent shrapnel into his hand and groin and damaged his eardrums.

Postal inspectors, agents of the FBI and the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, and Hagerstown police investigating the bombing believe it

NEW YORK — A man walks past New York's 115 W. 95th Street Saturday, the house of Virginia O'Hanlon Douglas, the girl who received the famous response, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus."

Santa won't come to Virginia's home tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — The red-brick rowhouse is still standing where little Virginia O'Hanlon lived, where she penned the letter nearly a century ago that inspired a newspaper editor to tell her the truth: Does Santa Claus exist?

But no one lives at 115 W. 95th St. anymore. And Santa Claus would find no stockings hung by the chimney with care. He would find boarded-up windows, a gutted interior and a flock of pigeons.

In a neighborhood that has had hard times, only to rebound into affluence — in a city that cries out for housing — the vacancy of Virginia O'Hanlon's four-story house and five others on the street has caused controversy.

Virginia is all but forgotten in the dispute.

But at least one person remembers. Last Christmas, someone pinned an unsigned Christmas card on the door, along with a clipping from a newspaper that reprinted Virginia's letter and the response.

"Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?" Virginia wrote. She was 8 years old, and some of her classmates were skeptics.

Gorbachev denounces separatists

MOSCOW (AP) — President Mikhail S. Gorbachev lashed out Saturday at secessionist sentiments threatening to pull his country apart, charging that they were leading to "conflict and blood and death."

Gorbachev, jabbing his hands in the air, spoke to the Congress of People's Deputies. A Communist Party Central Committee was expected Sunday to discuss the Lithuanian party decision to break with the national party.

"To realize the right to self-determination through secession means to blow up the union, set people against each other and sow conflict and blood and death," Gorbachev told the Congress. "That's what separatists are pushing us toward."

Gorbachev has tried hard over the last several months to prevent the Lithuanians from abandoning the national Communist Party. He reacted with anger when it made its decision Wednesday.

The Lithuanian party move is part of a long-range program to restore the independence that the small Baltic republic enjoyed between the world wars.

Britain, France veto denouncement

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States, Britain and France vetoed a proposed Security Council resolution Saturday to denounce the U.S. invasion of Panama and demand the immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops.

"We acted in Panama for legitimate reasons of self-defense and to protect the integrity of the Canal treaties," U.S. Ambassador Thomas Pickering said.

Britain has expressed complete support in the 15-member council for the U.S. invasion to oust Panamanian military leader Manuel Antonio Noriega. France has condemned both the invasion and Noriega's dictatorship.

Canada, a non-permanent council member, also voted with the Western allies.

Virtually all other nations in the world body have rejected Washington's argument that it acted in self-defense to protect the 35,000 member U.S. community in Panama, saying no nation has the right to invade another.

The 159-nation General Assembly will reconvene Thursday to hear speeches condemning the U.S. invasion and to adopt a resolution demanding an immediate troop withdrawal, diplomats said.

However, General Assembly resolutions are only advisory, unlike Security Council resolutions, which can be enforced by political or military action.

Gorbachev is Time Man of the '80s

NEW YORK (AP) — Mikhail Gorbachev, whose political and economic reforms in the Soviet Union sparked a revolution that shattered communist control of Eastern Europe, was named Man of the Decade by Time magazine Saturday.

The Soviet president, previously named Time's Man of the Year in 1987, was chosen because he is "the force behind the most momentous events of the '80s and because what he has already done will almost certainly shape the future," Time said.

The only precedent for such a choice by the magazine was its selection of Winston Churchill as Man of the Half-Century in 1949.

Dan and Delfina Fiveash are offering a Osmosis unit for customers, who call for monthly drawing in 1990 for a free Reverse drain work.

Fiveash Plumbing offers Advice for cold weather

The coldest season of the year has arrived, reminds Dan Fiveash, owner of Fiveash Plumbing, 821 E. Third St., and an ounce of preventative maintenance is worth a pound of cure.

The first day of Winter only arrived December 21, and Big Spring residents can expect at least two months of temperatures below freezing, "a terrible time to have something go wrong with your heating system."

"If you have any suspicion of possible trouble, check it out now," he says.

The same caution would also apply to drains; if drains are slow now, residents need to call a plumber at once. Fiveash says it's almost impossible for a plumber to unstop drains in freezing weather.

Residents who have hot water heaters over five years old may want to consider replacing them before the end of the year, Fiveash says. New federal regulations mandate a more energy-efficient water heater will be required from all manufacturers after December 31, 1989;

the mandate is based on the national Energy Conservation Act.

"These newer energy-efficient water heaters will be more costly," Fiveash says.

It has always been a policy of Fiveash Plumbing, a full-line plumbing service firm, to offer the newest advances in plumbing equipment. For example, the firm will offer a $200 reverse osmosis unit after January 1.

Dan and Delfina Fiveash want to thank Big Spring residents for their business in the past year, "and for providing us such a lovely place to live and do business in. Just drive down Gregg Street — see the Railroad Plaza — Big Spring is becoming more beautiful. We think Big Spring is a great place!"

To show their gratitude, Dan and Delfina Fiveash will give away a reverse osmosis unit every month in 1990 by a drawing from new customers who call in for drain work. For more information, phone them at 263-1410.

Christmas caroling

YORK, Pa. (AP) — A York holiday tradition will be enjoyed across the country this Christmas, with National Public Radio broadcasting a local rendition of Christmas carols.

But don't turn the volume up too high.

The instrument being played is the steam whistle at the New York Wire Co.

"You can hear it 10 miles outside of York, depending on the wind direction," said Don Ryan, of York.

At one time the whistle marked the beginning and end of the work day at the 101-year-old company, which makes screens for the window and door industry and industrial screens.

For the past 56 years, the whistle has been blowing Christmas carols every holiday season, and for 34 of those years it's been a Ryan family project.

Ryan, 43, an assistant project director at Motter Printing of East York, picked it up from his 73-year-old father, Marlin Ryan. Ryan's son, Scott Ryan, 23, and his daughter, Lisa Ryan, 22, also help.

NPR, whose programs are carried by about 400 radio stations across the country, will broadcast part of a performance recorded Friday on Christmas morning along with an interview with Marlin Ryan.

The NPR team recorded the whistle performance — "Silent Night," "The First Noel," "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful" and "Joy to the World" — from a block away, not because of the volume but to avoid the sound of machinery in the plant.

In the midst of a rehearsal, 5-year-old Joshua Flickinger of York, whose mother is an acquaintance of the Ryan family, walked over to Scott, reached up and tapped him on the elbow.

"Are you going to blow it?" Joshua asked.

Scott nodded affirmatively. "Don't blow it," Joshua shouted. "It hurts my ears."

Timely gift idea

SEATTLE (AP) — You, too, can join the search for Noriega — from the comfort of your desk chair or couch.

A new computer game called "Find Noriega" has hit the market just days after the U.S. military began looking for Panamanian strongman Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega in Panama.

Developed by Eugene, Ore.-based Abracadata, the game sends the player on a chase that features Noriega look-alikes, an interrogation of Tammy Faye Bakker, and the interception of top secret-coded messages from the CIA to President Bush.

It also includes fighting off fans at Graceland with a Noriega look-alike disguised as Elvis.

When news of the Panama invasion broke early Wednesday, Nancy West, project manager for the company's Adventure of Learning division, held a brainstorming session with her staff.

Using a previously written program, they wrote a different, topical scenario that was ready for shipment by Friday.

"A player can change the game as the news changes," West said.

The game runs on any Apple II series or fully compatible computer and retails for $89.95.

Equal rights

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Santa howled "bribery!" when Mrs. Claus placed brightly colored gifts in front of the judge. But that didn't stop a judgment authorizing Mrs. Claus to share gift-giving Christmas rights with her husband.

Judge George T. Choppelas also declared their sleigh "community property," changed Mrs. Claus' title to "Ms.," and declared her emancipated from any household duties and free to accompany her large spouse on his airborne tours of the world.

A courtroom jammed with spectators, reporters and photographers broke into cheers Wednesday at the conclusion of a rather unruly and holiday-happy 60th session of San Francisco's mock Court of Historical Review.

Christmas Eve stray starts a tradition of caring

NEW YORK (AP) — On a frosty Christmas Eve some years ago, author Cleveland Amory was in ill spirits. Manhattan sparkled with a fresh blanket of snow, but it didn't matter. He wasn't a man prone to merriment and he was alone.

But that night a woman rapped on his door asking for help to catch a cat in an alley between two midtown towers.

Amory reluctantly followed her outside and amid the debris, he saw the cat — a ghost of a cat, really, bone-thin, dirty, wet and shivering. He put the cat in his coat and he turned for home.

So begins a true tale called "The Cat Who Came for Christmas," and so began a relationship that changed cat and curmudgeon.

Now the book is on a New York Times best-seller list for the third consecutive Christmas, climbing to No. 2 in the newspaper's paperback non-fiction category. More than 1.5 million copies have been sold.

The relationship, now in its 12th year, has never been so trusting — or so set in its ways.

The story details their first year together, including the trouble in naming the white cat (Polar Bear was eventually agreed upon), the trouble in traveling with a cat, the trouble with putting a cat on diet food and the trouble with having guests.

Polar Bear, though, had no trouble in laying down the law: Amory must adjust to a life of being cat-owned.

He has. "You can't help but be, because they suddenly are in control," said the 72-year-old Amory, who had always owned dogs.

Amory, a big bear of a man with thick, gray hair brushed straight back from his broad forehead, is the founder and head of the Fund for Animals. The New York-based anti-cruelty society has been instrumental in saving infant harp seals in Canada, wild burros in the Grand Canyon and wild goats on Navy-owned San Clemente Island off the Southern California coast.

The former newspaper reporter and editor also wrote six books, including "The Proper Bostonians," "The Last Resorts," and "Who Killed Society?" He turned his attention to animal rights more than 20 years ago after seeing a bullfight in Mexico and a "bunny hop" in Harmony, N.C., in which townspeople encircled rabbits and clubbed them to death.

Amory spends much of his time now selling his Christmas book: One day last week he gave 13 radio interviews in a little more than two hours. In each interview, he mentioned the tens of thousands of animals in shelters and on the streets in need of homes.

His story about Polar Bear, one reader wrote, "has been responsible for more cats being saved or adopted than any other book."

"That letter meant more to me than any of the others," Amory said in an interview in his one-bedroom apartment overlooking Central Park. The apartment is full of Polar Bear's toys: little stuffed mice, balls on a string, catnip pouches. There's also "Polar Bear's Christmas tree," decorated with cat cards.

Green-eyed Polar Bear — he's somewhere between 12 to 14 years old — was at his feet. He's plump despite diet dinners. And he isn't very friendly, leaving the room after a pat from a visitor.

"He doesn't like anything that hasn't happened before. And he doesn't need to meet any people he hasn't met before," said Amory. "I think he's gotten to be more of a one-man cat."

And Amory is a one-cat man. They seem to have taken on some of the same attributes in their advancing ages. They're both a bit slower afoot and a bit quicker to snap. "He has acquired some of my worst traits," Amory said. "Like my quick temper. He's certainly developed toward being a curmudgeon."

This night before Christmas, like past ones, Amory plans to venture out around New York while Polar Bear sleeps. He is on a mission — for animals.

"Every Christmas Eve, I think about finding him," he said, stroking his cat.

NEW YORK — Cleveland Amory, author of "The Cat Who Came for Christmas," a book which has been in the New York Times best-seller lists for the last three years, poses with his cat "Polar Bear" recently. The relationship of Amory and the cat, now in its 12th year, is the focus of the book. The cat was found by Amory, bone-thin and shivering from the cold, on a Christmas Eve.

Christmas tree recycling catches on MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — After their time under lights, Christmas trees in Vermont are being put out to pasture, and on the garden and around the shrubs on the front lawn.

More than 8,000 trees were ground up into bits of bark and needles during last year's "Merry Mulch" project, and officials say the practice is catching on nationwide as a way to save landfill space.

"It's definitely an idea that's spreading," said Kate Finley-Woodruff, marketing representative for the Vermont Department of Agriculture.

The statewide program was started last year as an experiment by her department and the state's Agency of Natural Resources to encourage recycling.

"We were overwhelmed by the response," Finley-Woodruff said. Queries have come in from around the country about the program, while some communities already turn Christmas trees into wood chips.

For a second year, sanitation workers in Chicago will collect discarded trees for mulch indianapolis has been mulching trees since it canceled its Christmas tree bonfire on "Twelfth Night" a few years ago.

In Vermont, the state increased the number of drop-off and chipping sites from nine to 33 this year. Residents who want to can take their mulch home.

The state is getting help for "Merry Mulch" from several municipalities, electric utilities, ice cream maker Ben & Jerry's Homemade Inc. and regional solid waste managers and planners.

Finley-Woodruff said the program developed from the problem of solid-waste at landfills and a desire to help Vermont's Christmas tree growers.

"We're trying to protect their market so people don't get discouraged from buying a real Christmas tree because of the landfill problems," she said.

Nationwide, 34.3 million Christmas trees were sold last year and the U.S. Agriculture Department expects sales to exceed 35 million this year. Artificial trees were introduced in the 1950s and by 1985 held 47 percent of the market. Pam Dwyer, executive secretary of the New Hampshire-Vermont Christmas Tree Association, said the state may be scaring people into buying artificial trees.

"I don't have a problem with 'Merry Mulch,'" Dwyer said. "But I think it leads people to believe that Christmas trees are a solid waste problem."

It takes a Christmas tree about 30 years to decompose in a landfill, according to the American Christmas Tree Journal. An artificial tree contains petroleum products and may never decompose, Dwyer said.

"We've tried to push the idea that Christmas trees are a renewable source," Dwyer said. "I'm a forester's wife and I'm not convinced that wood products are a solid waste problem."

As for her tree, Dwyer said she laces it with bread and puts it in the yard for the birds to feast upon when the family is finished with it.

CHIROPRACTIC TREATMENT
The whiplash injury is a very real problem and should receive special attention. The chiropractic physician is a specialist in neck disorders. A thorough examination and x-ray study of the area will disclose the extent and area of injury. The strain and spasm of ligaments and muscles can cause the normal position and flexibility of the neck to be altered. The chiropractic physician is trained to detect and correct these problems and restore the neck to normal function. Gentle manipulative therapy or "adjustment" is administered to restore normal function to the area. Depending upon the severity of the injury, additional treatment consisting of braces, physical therapy and exercise may be warranted.
If you have been subjected to whiplash injury and are experiencing any of these symptoms, have a chiropractic examination and consultation. This will determine whether you need special attention.

Communism collapses from its failures, mass discontent

EDITOR'S NOTE — The ouster of Romania's hard-line Communist regime caps five months of political upheaval that rocked Eastern Europe. The events demonstrated the Kremlin's new attitude toward countries it once treated like virtual fiefdoms. Here is a report.

By JOHN THOR DAHLBURG
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW — It was the fortress Stalin built, from the Baltic to the Adriatic. It held some 100 million human souls. Two days ago its last bastion fell, stormed by hundreds of thousands of Romanians enraged by Nicolae Ceausescu's tyranny.

Though the brutal security forces that kept Ceausescu in power for 24 years fought back across the country, killing hundreds, it was clearly the culminating act of a revolution that may deprive the term "Soviet bloc" of any meaning.

TIMISOARA, Romania — An unidentified man bows his head Friday in the main square of the Romanian city of Timisoara, the scene of bloody crackdowns on pro-reform demonstrators in recent days.

the Red Army serving as its gendarme, Soviet-style communism reigned in Eastern Europe from the Bug River on the Soviet-Polish border to the German city of Weimar, where Bach wrote his great fugues. Europe seemed immutably divided into socialist and capitalist camps.

The West set up a military alliance, NATO, to deal with any military threat, and the members of the Communist bloc formed the Warsaw Pact.

The schism of Europe had its hated symbol, the Berlin Wall. It made concrete Winston Churchill's alarmed rhetoric in 1946 when he told students at a small college in Missouri that "from Stettin in the Baltic to Trieste in the Adriatic, an iron curtain has descended across the continent."

True, there were rips in that curtain — when Yugoslavia in the late 1940s and later Albania successfully rebelled against Moscow's domination. But the most stunning changes awaited the advent of Gorbachev and the whirlwind year of 1989.

Beginning in August, hard-line regimes were ousted in Poland, Bulgaria, East Germany, Czechoslovakia and finally Romania. Roman Catholic Tadeusz Mazowiecki became Poland's first non-Communist premier since World War II.

Czechoslovakia's new government is no longer Communist-dominated, and Hungary's Parliament has approved democratic, multiparty elections next year. In Berlin, millions of East Germans have poured through newly cut breaches in the wall, personifying the growing symbiosis between East and West. Berliners sang and danced with joy Friday night when an opening was made in the 28-year-old wall near the Brandenburg Gate, long a symbol of Germany's division.

The five months that remade politics in Eastern Europe passed with breathtaking speed. With Gorbachev in power, leaders like Czechoslovakia's Milos Jakes and Bulgaria's Todor Zhivkov, who bankrupted themselves by failing to meet human or economic needs, could no longer count on Kremlin support.

Without that backing, unpopular Communists had to compromise with the people, or give up power.

In 1942, Josef Stalin raged that the Nazis had "turned Europe into a prison of nations." But it was the Soviet dictator, his army and his political disciples who would subjugate Central Europe and its inhabitants after driving out the German invaders.

In a sense, revolt began a month after Stalin's death. On an April morning in 1953, East Berlin construction workers from the Stalinallee site went on strike over pay cuts. Within 48 hours the protests spread throughout the city, with demonstrators chanting "We want to be free and not slaves!" Mobs tried to take over government headquarters.

The Soviet army commandant in Berlin proclaimed a state of siege and two motorized divisions occupied the city. Protesters who were caught were executed. Order was restored by 9 p.m., and the Red Army moved to crush worker revolts in Leipzig, Dresden and elsewhere.

The scenario was repeated in Hungary in 1956 and for our domestic work," Gorbachev said in October.

By opening to the West, he also hopes to counter the technological obsolescence that now menaces the East by encouraging injections of capitalist know-how and money.

Since becoming Soviet leader in March 1985, Gorbachev has repudiated Stalin's heritage of political terror and centralized control. But it was only this year he showed how far he was willing to deviate from past Kremlin practice in dealing with the allies, and to risk Soviet geopolitical gains.

Victory in World War II over Nazi Germany brought the Red Army into the heart of Central Europe, where it occupied the capitals of 10 countries, from Berlin to Sofia. It retook the Polish Ukraine, seized Ruthenia from Czechoslovakia, and forced Romania to relinquish Bessarabia.

That triumph erased the consequences of 1917, when the ARAD, Romania — Demonstrators in Arad, Romania, Friday night after the news of Ceausescu's fall reached them from Bucharest.

Communists predicted the red tide would keep rising.

"Czechoslovakia," said the country's information minister of the time, "must become a republic that can carry the flame of progress and socialism into the West."

Only Yugoslavia shook free of the Soviets, with leader Josip Broz Tito accusing Stalin of camouflaging colonialist aims with Marxist-Leninist slogans.

"This subjugation of small peoples has only one goal," Tito declared, "and this goal is certainly not world revolution, but world hegemony, the domination of the U.S.S.R. an imperialist power, over other peoples."

In 1947, a meeting assembled representatives of the "people's democracies" in Poland, and the Kominform was created to supervise ideological subjugation of the Kremlin's satellites. The next year, it excommunicated Tito for "deviationism" — refusing to do Moscow's bidding.

The smallest of the Balkan countries, Albania, broke with the Soviet Union in 1961, ironically because it accused Soviet leaders of betraying the ideals of Stalin. It remains a virtual hermit state.

Starting with Nikita S. Khrushchev, the Soviets who succeeded Stalin allowed Eastern Europe countries more leeway in setting domestic policy. But until Gorbachev, they continued to insist on being the final arbiters of socialist orthodoxy.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands — A member of the Romanian community in Holland jumps into the air after hearing the news that Romanian President Ceausescu was deposed. A group of 600 people staged a demonstration Friday morning against Ceausescu outside the Romanian embassy. Two people were arrested.

A new order in Europe, in the making through 40 years of repression and economic failure, suddenly is being born with the blessing and connivance of President Mikhail S. Gorbachev.

In the 19th century, another European who thought in continent-wide terms, the French emperor Napoleon, dreamed of a "continental system" to integrate the territory he conquered from Spain to Russia. The philosophical father of communism, Karl Marx, predicted a proletarian revolution would sweep Europe.

Now Gorbachev, one of Marx's ideological heirs, preaches the creation of a "common European home" where after years of Kremlin domination, the nations of Eastern Europe will be virtually free to pursue policies they set themselves.

The fundamental changes of 1989 mean that the six other East bloc countries must set up new governments, reorganize economies and begin to work out what kinds of relations they will have with the Soviet Union, what ties will be forged with Western countries. The events in East Germany raise the special issue of a reunified Germany in the heart of Europe.

Gorbachev's vision supplants agreements by the World War II Allies that led to the continent's division into East and West after the defeat of Nazi Germany. For more than four decades, with Czechoslovakia in 1968, when Red Army soldiers were sent in to stop reform efforts.

But this fall, when East German leader Erich Honecker's rule was menaced by a popular uprising, Soviet troops remained in their barracks, and Honecker was deposed Oct. 18.

It was renewed proof of Gorbachev's professed unwillingness to meddle in the internal affairs of his allies, as well as a way of getting rid of an Old Guard Communist who rejected much of his reform agenda.

"The truth, about which we spoke so often in the past few years, has been reaffirmed once again — where there is a delay in dealing with overripe problems, excesses are inevitable," Gorbachev told Soviet Communists Dec. 9, warning that their East European colleagues' fall from power means they must urgently solve domestic problems.

The Soviets stress the countries they once treated as virtual provinces of their own nation must remain in the Warsaw Pact, meaning Europe's "Age of the Blocs" is not yet over, at least militarily.

But with non-Communist leaders seeking a mix of capitalism and socialism to better their citizens' lives, the East-West ideological schism is dying.

The Soviets' preoccupation with their own pressing economic and nationalities problems makes the new order possible. "In a nutshell, we need a normal external environ-

Bolsheviks were forced to swap territory for peace, and restored the western facade of Russia that from Peter the Great to Alexander I, the czars had built up over two centuries.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who met Stalin in Moscow in 1944, found the son of a Georgian cobbler absorbed by the same territorial dreams as the Romanovs he and his revolutionary comrades swept from power.

"To assemble the Slavs, crush the Germans, push into Asia, reach the open seas, these were the dreams of the fatherland, such were the goals of the despot," the French leader recalled.

The Communists were numerically few in postwar Central Europe, but their weakness was compensated by the prestige they gained as leaders of the anti-Nazi resistance, and by the tanks and regiments of the occupying Red Army. To augment their influence, Communists opted to create coalitions.

In the new governments, Moscow's allies settled for a few ministries, but chose them with care: interior, police, justice. They gained access to dossiers and forces they could use later to compromise and purge their political enemies.

Coalitions of democratic forces had reigned in liberated Eastern Europe in 1945. By 1949, the Soviet Union, which had no allies before the war, was flanked by eight "people's democracies," and many DALLAS (AP) — The weather outside is frightful and the fire is so delightful... that is if you have any wood to burn.

Several Dallas area wood dealers say if you don't have firewood stacked in the back yard by now, you're not likely to get any that'll burn before next spring. Most North Texas wood merchants are sold out, thanks to the holidays and surges of bitter cold weather the past three weeks. And at $80 to $140 per cord, the profits are blazing. Many say they have delivered 100 or more cords already and await new shipments. Charles Thompson says he expects most of the new wood to be green, which people will buy anyway, "if they're desperate."

Arctic air grips Texas, threatens citrus crops

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Aside from a few Siberian tigers and snow leopards, there were few living creatures in Texas shivering with delight at the arctic air that turned much of the state into an ice box. Record low temperatures were set in 13 Texas cities and utility companies scrambled to meet the demand for electricity. Energy suppliers in Houston and San Antonio began systematic, temporary blackouts to prevent a shutdown of their electric systems. Growers in the so-called winter garden region southwest of San Antonio and in the Rio Grande Valley Saturday were assessing the damage of the worst cold snap in six years. Officials say 50,000 acres of fruits and vegetables could be imperiled, as are millions of dollars and thousands of jobs. Temperatures in the Valley dropped into the teens early Saturday morning. Brownsville dipped to 16 degrees, breaking the previous record of 30 set in 1887. "We've had below-28 degree, freezing weather, for about six, seven hours. If we have 26 degrees or lower for more than four hours, we lose citrus trees," said David Galvan, Gulf Coast district director for the Texas Department of Agriculture. "We've prepared ourselves for the worst scenario. It's early to tell how much damage has occurred." Much of the concern centers on the Valley, where some fields are lush with vegetables and 60 percent to 65 percent of the multimillion-dollar orange and grapefruit crops remains on the trees.

"The fruit you can just forget about it. Now it's just a question of how many trees will be left," said Richard Hensz, director of the Citrus Center in Weslaco, a research arm of Texas A&I University. George Ellis, the state's deputy agriculture commissioner, said the hard freeze could destroy 25 percent to 50 percent of the citrus crop and one-quarter of the state's sugar cane crop. "We can't sell anything because we don't know what our quality will be," said Steve Cargil, a Uvalde vegetable grower, who may have to plow under 300 acres of vegetables because of the freeze. "Come Tuesday morning, we wonder if we are going to have anything to sell at all."

BROWNSVILLE — Workers from Southpoint Fruit Company prepared Thursday for the hard freeze by picking grapefruit groves off Southmost Road. Ordinarily plant nursery workers, they were drafted for the emergency harvest.

Although their teams took different routes this season, these two guys' performances were just the same — very good.

The Coahoma Bulldogs battled their way to a 4-6 season, finishing midway in their district race. The Big Spring Steers played a season-and-a-half, ending with a defeat to Tyler Chapel Hill in the state semifinals.

But when all was said and done, these Howard County products were the best of the rest: Coahoma's Cam Tovas and Big Spring's Neal Mayfield are the Defensive and Offensive Most Valuable Players. The duo head a fine list of players selected to the Herald's Sixth Annual Crossroads Country Honor Roll.

Tovas, a 5-foot-9, 175-pound senior middle linebacker, was the heart and soul of the stubborn Bulldog defense. The Defensive MVP of 7-3A made 152 tackles — including 14 for losses — and three quarterback sacks. He also had three interceptions and recorded one safety.

Mayfield, a 6-foot-1, 212-pound junior wingback, was District 4-4A's leading yard-producer. In 10 regular season games, he averaged 147 yards receiving and rushing per game. In 14 games he carried the ball 134 times for 1,051 yards (7.8); and caught 47 passes for 908 yards (19.3). Mayfield's 31 touchdowns also made him one of the state's scoring leaders.

Earning Coach of the Year honors was Big Spring's David Thompson. In his first year the Steers went 3-6. This year he led Big Spring to a perfect 7-0 record in district, and postseason wins over Hereford, Fort Worth Brewer and Monahans. The Steers finished the season with a 11-3 mark.

The squad is dominated by Big Spring players. The Steers put five players on the starting offensive unit and four players on the defensive team. The Garden City Bearkats, who advanced to the area playoffs, had four first-teamers, while playoff teams Stanton and Sands had three players each on the first team.

Led by Mayfield, the OFFENSIVE UNIT is very talented, starting with center Craig Fryar of Stanton. Fryar, a senior, is one of the main reasons the Buffalos have made it to the state playoffs two straight years. He was starting center on the Honor Roll last season.

The guards are a pair of versatile seniors. Garden City's Roy Ramirez started 24 straight games in two playoff seasons for the Bearkats. Coahoma's Dwayne Bradbury played both guard and tackle for Coahoma this year. He was the Bulldogs' most consistent blocker at either spot.

Color the tackle spots Black and Gold, because they are both occupied by Big Spring Steers. Gary Watkins and Pete Buske were two reasons Big Spring averaged 352 yards per game offensively. Watkins played guard for the Steers, but with the abundance of good guards in the Crossroads Country, he's a tackle on this team.

At tight end is another returning Honor Roll performer. Big Spring's Joe Downey was having a great season before he went down with a knee injury in the ninth game of the season. Still his stats were impressive — 11.3 yards per catch on 28 receptions.

The wide receivers are two six-man stars. They combined adequate speed with good hands. Last year Sands' Jay Johnston was Honor Roll punter and kicker. This season the senior is back at a wide receiver. In 12 games he caught 25 passes, averaging 17.3 yards per catch, and scoring 12 TDs.

When the Klondike Cougars went to the air, they likely went to Andy Guerra. The talented junior snagged 40 passes for 443 yards. He also carried the ball 48 times for 117 yards, and completed 11 of 16 passes for 132 yards and 2 TDs. Guerra also scored 10 touchdowns himself.

Heading the backfield is Big Spring quarterback Rance Thompson. This year the senior completed 107 of 215 passes for 1,698 yards, 15 touchdowns and 14 interceptions. He also proved to be a threat on the option, rushing 61 times for 204 yards.

The running backs are the new and the old. Sands' Bill Grigg is a senior and Garden City's James Soles is a sophomore.

Grigg keyed Sands' rushing attack, accumulating 1,343 yards, 7.9 yards per carry. He scored 17 touchdowns.

Soles made a gigantic splash in his varsity debut. The elusive tailback averaged 8.0 yards per carry, gaining 1,882 yards and scoring 28 touchdowns. He also caught four passes for 42 yards and two TDs.

The kicker is Forsan's Stephen

East. Although he didn't get to try very many attempts, the straight-ahead junior kicker booted 8 of 9 extra points and 5 of 8 field goals. His longest kick was 37 yards.

The return specialist made the Honor Roll last year as a wide receiver. Grady senior Scott Terrell averaged 31 yards returning punts and kickoffs.

The DEFENSIVE UNIT has the big and small of it as far as tackles go. Big Spring's Pat Wilbert (6-4, 285) and Garden City's John Seidenberger (5-9, 165), may vary in size, but they both had exceptional years.

Wilbert was Big Spring's second-leading tackler with 114 stops, including 11 for losses. He also had two quarterback sacks.

Seidenberger made 120 tackles, including 14 for losses, he also sacked the quarterback three times.

The ends are a lean and mean pair in the form of Forsan's Jason

Comer's three TDs lead Permian to 5A state title

By CHARLES RICHARDS
Associated Press Writer

IRVING — Chris Comer ran for 166 yards and scored three touchdowns as Odessa Permian captured the Class 5A high school football championship with a 28-14 victory over Aldine Saturday afternoon in frigid Texas Stadium.

Permian, making a state-record ninth appearance in the state finals, wrapped up an unbeaten season, finishing 16-0. Aldine, which was in the championship game for the first time, ended its season 14-2.

Comer scored on runs of 1, 4 and 1 yards as Permian jumped out to a 21-0 lead.

Aldine cut Permian's lead to 21-14 in the third quarter on Derrick Johnson's 60-yard run and on Herman Hopson's 8-yard run that capped a 13-play 97-yard drive.

Permian quarterback Stoney Case ended Aldine's hopes by directing a fourth-quarter drive that culminated with a 15-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mike Faulkner with 3:48 remaining.

The temperature was only 10 degrees for the kickoff.

Permian had no turnovers in the game, but Aldine lost four fumbles. Pitches that went awry from Aldine quarterback Doug Womack to Johnson at the Permian 12 and 36 aborted two Aldine drives in the first half. Permian scored its second touchdown after recovering Herman Hopson's fumble at the Aldine 8.

Arvey Villa finished with 77 yards on 10 carries for Permian. Case was 7 of 11 in passing for 58 yards. Six of the passes, for 43 yards, were to wide receiver Lloyd Hill.

Hopson carried 18 times for 157 yards and Johnson 11 times for 129 yards for the Mustangs. Womack finished with 17 carries for 88 yards, but was 0-for-4 from the air.

Womack, who had a school-record 1,749 yards and 25 touchdowns this season going into the championship match, stunned Permian on Aldine's first offensive play by running 33 yards on a quarterback draw to the Permian 37.

Three plays later, Aldine had a first down at the Mojo 18, and Womack carried for 6 to the 12, but as he was hit his lateral to Derrick Johnson fell to the turf, where Lloyd Hill pounced on it for Permian.

Late in the first quarter, Permian began a 15-play, 75-yard drive for the game's first touchdown, with Comer getting the final yard.

With the ball on their own 5, Aldine again fumbled and Chad

Williams recovered for Permian at the 8. Comer needed only two carries to get into the end zone for a 14-0 lead with 3:48 left in the first half.

After the second half kickoff, Hopson gained 20 yards in two carries to give Aldine a first down at midfield. But the next play, another pitch from Womack to Johnson went awry, and Robbie Manalli recovered for Permian at the Aldine 47.

Villa gained two yards and Case then gave the ball to Comer six straight times for a total of 45 yards, the last from one yard for his third TD of the game and a 21-0 lead.

Aldine finally got on the board four plays later.

Johnson went 60 yards for the touchdown, going around right end, breaking a tackle at the Permian 41 and then cutting back to the left and outrunning Permian's Trent Hedrick to the end zone.

Aldine next scored on a 97-yard drive that included a 64-yard gain by Hopson and a 33-yard run by Womack. Hopson went the final 8 yards for the score with 9:13 left in the game.

But Permian took the kickoff and drove for another score that killed Aldine's comeback hopes. Case's pass to Faulkner for the touchdown came with 3:48 left in the game.

Parker and Colorado City's Raymond Sutton. Sutton is a returner on the Honor Roll; last year he made the first unit at defensive tackle. At a new position this year, Sutton made 75 tackles and sacked the quarterback four times.

Parker, a junior, came on strong for the Buffaloes this season. Parker made 86 tackles and registered four quarterback sacks. The linebacking trio is filled with youth. Two of the three are sophomores, and the other is a junior.

The Sands Mustangs were known for their stingy defense, and it was led by sophomore linebacker Eric Herm. The 150-pounder made 150 tackles, registered two safeties and intercepted seven passes, returning three of them for TDs.

Big Spring's Felipe Saiz was a ball of fire on the field — that's why he led Big Spring in tackles. The junior middle LB made 168 tackles, including 10 behind the line of scrimmage.

The other linebacking spot goes to Garden City's Eric Seidenberger, John's younger brother. Eric led the G-City defense by making 133 tackles, 11 behind the line. He also picked off two passes.

Two Big Spring Steers handle spots in the secondary. Senior cornerback Michael Hilario and junior safety Freddy Rodriguez were two of the main reasons opponents only completed 35 percent of their passes against the Steers.

Rodriguez intercepted 10 passes and broke up 13 more. He also made 110 tackles. Hilario has been a staunch performer the past two seasons. Hilario picked off three passes and broke up five more. He also chipped in 101 tackles.

Rounding out the secondary is Klondike's Corbett Foster and Stanton's Mike Graham.

Foster made 72 tackles for the Cougars. He picked off eight passes, knocked down eight more, and returned three touchdowns for TDs.

Graham made 65 tackles in the Buffs' district-winning season. He also picked off six interceptions. The punter is another Stanton Buffalo. Richard Villa, Villa averaged 40 yards per punt in 41 kicks, and had a longest of 73 yards, and also had punts of 67 and 68 yards.

DECEMBER 24 1989

Dallas Cowboys quarterback Steve Walsh is pushed out of the pocket in NFL action earlier this season. Walsh will be on the sidelines as the Cowboys conclude the worst season in their history by hosting the Green Bay Packers today.

Green Bay at Dallas

"Whatever happens, it's been a great season," says Packers coach Lindy Infante, 4-12 a year ago. It could get greater if the Pack (9-6), as it should, wins here and the Vikings lose Monday night. That would give Green Bay its first division title since 1972 and they could also get in as a wild-card in a three-way tie with the Rams and Redskins even though Washington is out in any case. Dallas (1-14), of course, is setting negative records — it already has the most losses in its history and even with a win would still finish worse than any season since its first, in 1960, when it was 0-11-1. Which leads to CoachSpeak from Infante. "We can't just throw our hat on the field," says Infante, whose team beat the Cowboys 31-13 in Green Bay. "We know who we are. We've been in sudden death for five weeks. Dallas will give everything it's got to beat us. The Cowboys are a lot better team than the one we played the first time."

LA Raiders at NY Giants

The Giants (11-4) have already clinched a wild-card berth and took over first in the NFC East when the Eagles lost to the Saints Monday night. All they need to do here is win and they win the division and get at least one home playoff game and could also back in if they lose and Philadelphia does likewise. The Giants were in a similar spot a year ago and blew it with a loss to the Jets. This time, they at least have their playoff berth, but are taking nothing for granted. "We celebrated after the Eagles' loss for a few minutes. Now we're down to business," says nose tackle Erik Howard. The Raiders (8-7), on the other hand, blew their chance to clinch a wild-card when they lost 23-17 in Seattle Sunday night to drop to 1-6 on the road, something that doesn't bode well for Sunday. One way to recoup is to win and hope that Cleveland and Indianapolis also lose, although other scenarios might suffice. "The bottom line is that we had control of our own destiny, and we just couldn't get it done," says coach Art Shell. "Now, we have to ask for help, but there's still a chance."

Detroit at Atlanta

For Atlanta, which has had a dismal season both on and off the season, the only thing here is the first pick in the draft — the Cowboys gave theirs away by picking Steve Walsh in the supplemental. The Lions are giving Barry Sanders a shot at the team's single-season rushing mark in his rookie year and are also looking for an almost unheard-of fifth straight win. Are happy days here again?

Cincinnati at Minnesota

The Vikings' position is simple. Win and they're the NFC Central champs; lose and they're out of the playoffs entirely unless Green Bay happens to lose in Dallas on Sunday. Since the Bengals are in the AFC, nothing is simple, even with their 61-7 blowout of Houston last week. They may, in fact, be out of it even before the game begins — to make it, they need to win and have Houston lose on Saturday and Pittsburgh win on Sunday. The Vikings have another goal — they need seven more sacks to tie the record of 72 set by Chicago in 1984. "We'll have to be able to run on them, because if we get behind and have to throw, we're dead meat," says offensive coordinator Bruce Coslet of the Bengals.

Bills blast Jets for AFC divisional title

By JIM O'CONNELL
 AP Sports Writer

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — Jim Kelly threw for two touchdowns, and the Buffalo Bills won their second straight AFC East championship with a 37-0 victory Saturday over the New York Jets.

The game started with the temperature at 16 degrees and the wind-chill factor at minus-11. There were 21,148 in attendance but there were 55,743 no-shows in what has widely been speculated as the last game for Jets head coach Joe Walton.

The crowd was the smallest at a non-replacement Jets game since 5,826 attended a game against Buffalo at the Polo Grounds on Dec. 14, 1963.

The Bills, who had lost five of seven, snapped a three-game losing streak with the easy win and they enter the playoffs at 9-7.

The division title was the sixth for the Bills, who lost to Cincinnati in the AFC championship game last season.

The Jets, who lost to Buffalo 34-3 earlier in the season, finished 4-12, their worst mark since that same one in 1980. Instead of playoffs, what awaits the franchise is a much-awaited meeting on Tuesday between Walton and newly hired general manager Dick Steinberg.

Kelly played well into the fourth quarter and finished 13-for-21 for 208 yards with Andre Reed being his favorite receiver — six catches for 80 yards.

The Bills opened the scoring with a 26-yard field goal by Scott Norwood with 4:26 left in the first quarter.

The Jets, who were shut out by Pittsburgh two weeks ago, had a lone scoring chance in the game, and it ended when Pat Leahy's 30-yard field goal attempt was blocked with 8:14 left in the quarter.

It was all Buffalo from there. Larry Kinnebrew ran in from 1 yard 1:07 before halftime for a 10-0 lead and the Bills stretched it out in the third with Kelly connecting with James Lofton on a 25-yard pass play with 10:49 left in the quarter. It was the same distance on the next scoring play, this time a pass to Ronnie Harmon in the left corner of the end zone, and the Bills led 23-0 with 4:39 left in the third.

The Bills made it 30-0 on a 3-yard run by Thurman Thomas with 36 seconds left in the third quarter.

Kenneth Davis ended the scoring with a 17-yard run with 2:44 to play.

Kinnebrew finished with 91 yards on 17 carries, while Thomas had 73 on 17 carries.

Tony Eason started at quarterback for the Jets and went 12-for-22 for 125 yards and an interception before being replaced by Kyle Mackey late in the third quarter.

Indianapolis quarterback Jack Trudeau, right, bobbles the football as he is hit by a Cleveland defender in recent NFL action. The Colts, still alive for a playoff spot, will take on the New Orleans Saints today in the final game of the season for both teams.

LA Rams at New England

This is the NFC so it's relatively easy — the Rams win and they're in as a wild-card team. In fact, the only way they can miss is by losing and having Philadelphia, Washington, Green Bay and Minnesota win. That would leave them in a three-way tie for the second wild-card spot, which the Packers would win because they would have a better conference record. The Patriots are playing for next year with the quarterback of their future and the Raiders' past — Marc Wilson.

Pittsburgh at Tampa Bay

That the Steelers are here after losing their first two games by a combined score of 92-10 is a miracle. But despite the complicated scenario, it's not that hard for them to make the playoffs. They have to win, naturally. Then they need a Houston victory over Cleveland and losses by Cincinnati and Indianapolis, both of whom are underdogs. The Bucs have nothing on the line but a chance for their best record since 1984.

Denver at San Diego

Countdown to playoff time for the Broncos, who will just tune things up. John Elway, with his ribs aching, may get no more than a workout. For the Chargers, it's a showdown to a new era — Steve Ormayer, the general manager, was fired this week and Bobby Beathard is the heir apparent. The way Beathard works, by next year at this time, we could be listing San Diego playoff scenarios.

Kansas City at Miami

The Chiefs were the coming team until they suddenly stumbled against San Diego last week, allowing Marion Butts to rush for 176 yards. Now they have to stop Dan Marino's passing to have a shot. This one has all kinds of complications. The Dolphins can win the AFC East by winning while the Colts and Bills lose and can get a wild-card berth if they win and the Colts, Browns and Steelers lose. The Chiefs have one of those crazy scenarios that takes a computer to figure. They can make it with a win and various combinations of wins and losses involving the Bills, Colts, Bengals, Browns, Steelers and Raiders.

Chicago at San Francisco

What was supposed to be a showcase game is now a no-case game. The 49ers are resting up for the playoffs — Joe Montana may get a short workout and that's it. The Bears are resting up for next season. Now for some negative "ifs". If the Bucs beat the Steelers — not out of the question — and the Bears lose, they finish LAST in a division that they had won for five straight years. In fact until the seventh week of this season, Chicago hadn't been out of first place for more than 5 years.

Indianapolis at New Orleans

The Colts suddenly need only a win to make the playoffs as a wild-card and could get the game at home depending on how other things develop. But they must have been watching the Saints beat the Eagles Monday night and if they were, they know extending the season another week won't be easy. The Saints have suddenly found a quarterback in John Fourcade, a veteran of seven years in four leagues who made his first non-strike NFL start two weeks ago and now has 6 TD passes in his two games.

Panama in crisis

Wounded GIs want to get back in the action

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Soldiers wounded in Panama kept a close watch on events unfolding there, said they wanted to go back, and prepared to spend Christmas weekend in military hospitals away from home.

Alexis Pinero, 24, stationed in Fort Bragg, N.C., said Friday that despite his injury — a broken foot suffered during a paratroop jump — he and his buddies recovering from an assortment of wounds wanted to return to Panama.

"Everybody on our ward would go back, it's a consensus," he said.

Pinero, of Raleigh, N.C., said of the U.S. operation to drive strongman Manuel Noriega from power: "It was a necessary thing to do. I feel good about what we did there."

"I'm doing pretty good now. They're taking pretty good care of us," said Pvt. Richard Turner Jr. of DeSoto, Texas, who suffered a concussion when a sniper's bullet grazed his helmet.

Turner and his family said they expected him to return today to his base at Fort Bragg.

His mother, Linda Turner, said her 19-year-old son and other servicemen in his ward at Brooke Army Medical Center have constantly watched television news reports about the fighting in Panama, except for a brief respite.

"Well, they watched a little smut thing on Showtime the other night," she said.

Other soldiers and their families were making plans to remain in San Antonio through Christmas.

Lee Olivera of Cincinnati, Ohio, visited his brother, Staff Sgt. Louis Olivera, a 25-year-old who suffered bullet wounds to the chest and head. The soldier's parents also were on the way to spend Christmas with him.

"He did say that he wanted to go back — I don't think that's possible," the soldier's brother said.

Air Force Capt. Peter Debusmann, commander of a C-141 transport plane that brought 21 injured servicemen Friday to Kelly Air Force Base, said the soldiers aboard were in "good spirits."

"They're just glad to be coming home, back to the States, and home for Christmas. And they're worried that their parents are worried about them," Debusmann said.

The sixth C-141 transport plane carrying wounded arrived in San Antonio shortly after 2 a.m. today, said Kelly spokesman Frank Weatherly.

Weatherly said 18 men were on board, 16 of them on stretchers.

Alexis Pinero, 24, stationed in Fort Bragg, N.C., said Friday that despite his injury a broken foot suffered during a paratroop jump he and his buddies recovering from an assortment of wounds wanted to return to Panama.

Air Force officials expected more wounded as fighting intensified in Panama. More than 200 soldiers have been treated at the two major military hospitals — Wilford Hall Medical Center and Brooke Army Medical Center.

Four have died, either en route or upon arriving in San Antonio.

As of early today, 84 soldiers were at Wilford Hall and 85 at Brooke Army.

President Bush was expected to visit the wounded in San Antonio on

New Year's Eve, officials said.

A reception center for families was set up at Fort Sam Houston. Housing was arranged for the families, and several San Antonio hotels offered complimentary or discounted rooms to relatives of the injured.

Air Force Col. William L. Burner III, chief of surgery at Wilford Hall, said soldiers he had spoken with are anxious to get back to the fighting. "These are aggressive combat soldiers and they'd rather be in the action than lying on a bed in a hospital."

Gen. Carl Vouno, Army Chief of Staff, visited the wounded Friday, saying he was proud of their "selfless commitment."

He briefly chatted with servicemen.

"Right before I got on the helicopter down here I got a phone call from the President of the United States, the Commander-in-Chief," Vouno said.

"He wanted me to tell you and every other troop down here how proud he is of each and every one of you for your sacrifice."

After receiving his medals, Pfc. Bobby Miller, 19, of Federal Way, Wash., said, "This is something I've been prayed for every night."

PANAMA CITY — PFC Sammie Clark, Springfield, Mo., holds what is thought to be Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega's helmet outside the Comandancia in Panama City Friday. Noriega is the only known four-star general in the Panamanian armed forces. The helmet was found in his headquarters.

PANAMA CITY — A U.S. army soldier shows journalists a room Friday where Panamanian Defense Forces store weapons in the Comandancia, Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega's headquarters in Panama. A U.S. military spokesman estimated that PDF had enough weapons to outfit all their personnel at least three times. The headquarters was one of the first objectives in the offensive.

PANAMA CITY — A U.S. soldier stands guard in a room containing cult items in a house near Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega's Ft. Armador PDF barracks' office in Panama City Friday. Noriega has been seen at the house several times in the last couple of months. The house was thought to be used for cult ceremonies and witchcraft.

Police: I was doing my job

DAVID, Panama (AP) — Members of the Panamanian Defense Forces stacked their guns and raised a white flag in Panama's westernmost city, even though the only sign of U.S. force was two Air Force planes that buzzed the barracks.

"I was just doing my job. I'm not happy about the situation," said one police officer, who refused to give his name. The police are part of the Defense Forces that were commanded by ousted dictator Manuel Antonio Noriega.

Although Noriega was toppled from power by U.S. forces early Wednesday, he escaped the net thrown by 24,000 U.S. soldiers, sailors and Marines.

No U.S. troops showed up in David, despite reports of shooting and fighting in the area, 200 miles west of Panama City and 30 miles east of Costa Rica.

On Thursday, two Air Force jets buzzed the Defense Forces barracks in the center of David, witnesses said.

On Friday, members of the Defense Forces raised a white banner across the front of the barracks and 100 turned in their weapons, except for sidearms.

Latin America condemns U.S. invasion

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The U.S. invasion of Panama has inflamed Latin American sensitivity about national self-determination and revived the old image of a militaristic, meddling Uncle Sam.

From the Rio Grande to Cape Horn, and including the Caribbean, government officials, newspapers and other opinion-makers have roundly condemned the military action as improper and immoral.

The force and unanimity of the reaction reflects just how passionately Latin Americans embrace the principle of non-intervention, coupled with a persistent sense of vulnerability toward the superpower to the north. It overshadows universal revulsion toward Noriega, who was seen as a throwback to the thuggish dictators of the 1950s.

"Given the simplistic and emotional way the United States is used to dealing with sensitive issues — that of drug trafficking, for instance — what is there to guarantee that in the future the U.S. won't decide that this problem has become unmanageable in Colombia?" asked respected columnist Enrique Santos in the independent Bogota daily El Tiempo.

"One excess could lead to another," he warned.

El Tiempo said in an editorial that the U.S. action in Panama "wounds the sensibility of a continent with a collective memory of other interventions."

On a half-dozen occasions during the 1960s, the United States has dispatched troops to Latin American or Caribbean nations to effect and enforce political change. The most recent cases were Grenada in 1983 and the Dominican Republic in 1967.

Joaquin Balaguer, the Dominican Republic's president, said the new U.S. action, "in spite of the expressed motives which deserve all our respect and sympathy, is condemned by the Dominican government and people."

PANAMA CITY — A U.S. soldier gives water to Panamanian prisoners in this photo released by the Department of Defense late Friday. The prisoner is blindfolded with tape. Hundreds of former members of the Panamanian Defense Forces have been captured by U.S. troops, who are still facing some resistance, primarily from civilians termed as "thugs" by U.S. officials.

former members of the Panamanian Defense Forces have been captured by U.S. troops, who are still facing some resistance, primarily from civilians termed as "thugs" by U.S. officials.

A U.S. army soldier walks past a poster of Noriega near a burned out building near his former headquarters.

"Given the simplistic and emotional way the United States is used to dealing with sensitive issues — that of drug trafficking, for instance — what is there to guarantee that in the future the U.S. won't decide that this problem has become unmanageable in Colombia" — columnist Enrique Santos in the independent Bogota daily El Tiempo.

The government of Barbados, which backed the invasion of Grenada, criticized the new action as did the Barbados-based daily The Nation, one of the Caribbean's largest newspapers.

"No excuse this time, Mr. Bush," The Nation said in an editorial headline. It said it supported the Grenada invasion because it was carried out with regional support. "We did not see the Americans then in the role of an aggressive superpower, trampling on weak opponents and acting on its own. We do in this case."

Across the region news of the fighting in Panama has dominated front pages and television broadcasts. Some of the coverage has been laced by stinging editorial comment.

In Rio de Janeiro, the independent daily Jornal do Brasil ran an editorial cartoon depicting President Bush as a caveman with a bone in his hair, a club and a U.S. flag worn bearskin-style. In a front-page analysis the newspaper said: "The big stick to which President George Bush resorted in imposing his order on Panama could reveal its most twisted effect: the boomerang."

On the other hand, not a single Latin American leader defended Noriega's harsh reign.

Mario Vargas Llosa, a novelist and conservative presidential candidate widely expected to win election in Peru, described Noriega as "a disgrace and embarrassment to all the people of Latin America." He said the principle of non-intervention could not be invoked to justify Noriega's dictatorship, but nonetheless expressed regret over the invasion and called for the withdrawal of U.S. troops.

The conservative Bogota daily El Siglo said the U.S. invasion had transformed Noriega "from a vic-timizer into a victim."

In the most forceful response of a Latin American leader, Peru's leftist president, Alan Garcia, recalled his country's ambassador to the United States and proposed postponing a Feb. 15 drug summit in Cartagena, Colombia, with Bush, Garcia, President Virgilio Barco of Colombia and President Jaime Paz Zamora of Bolivia.

"I cannot meet with the leader of an invading nation," Garcia said. "Holding a dialogue with a pistol on the table cannot be permitted."

Peru's government also suspended joint operations with U.S. drug agents in the country's cocaine-growing Huallaga Valley.

The Barco government in Colombia said it would not hurry to recognize the new Panamanian presidency of Guillermo Endara, whose swearing-in at a U.S. military base as the invasion got under way was seen by many Latin Americans as embarrassingly staged.

Fernando Collor de Mello, the president-elect of Brazil, Latin America's largest country, called the invasion "a regrettable episode" that runs contrary to global currents in favor of self-determination and political liberalization, "especially in Eastern Europe."

The seven leading Latin American democracies of Peru, Brazil, Mexico, Colombia, Venezuela, Uruguay and Argentina have been adamant in pressing the principle of non-intervention as a solution to Central America's political conflicts. In response to the U.S. invasion, the countries pushed a resolution in the Organization of American States strongly condemning it.

President Carlos Salinas de Gortari of Mexico said the invasion "is contrary to the principles that regulate international relations."

Mexico's political parties, in their first unanimous action in many years, also blasted the invasion.

Looking up

The old saying goes: Beauty is in the eye of the beholder. But the next time you don't think there's anything beautiful to behold in Big Spring — look up. There is lots of beautiful, ornate cement artwork on Big Spring's buildings. Just take a look at these examples.

Fancy brickwork creates a unique pattern on the front of the Cornelison and Tonn Cleaners building, 911 Johnson St.

BIG SPRING — Construction on a 120-bed nursing home for Big Spring may begin by spring of 1990, an Austin builder said this week.

"We have not yet selected our site," said Larry J. Voegtle, president of Signature Contracting Group Inc., which designs and builds nursing homes and other medical facilities. "We do have one site in mind right now, but we haven't gotten into serious price negotiations."

The prospect was announced at Wednesday's Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce board meeting.

Voegtle said he plans to meet in Big Spring next week with the prospective operator of the nursing home to consider possible sites for the project. Four to six acres would be needed, he said.

He said the operator, which is based in Texas, will decide by the end of January whether the nursing home is to be built. Voegtle declined to give the name of the operator.

Chamber executive vice president Wayne Moore said he learned of interest in such a facility upon Voegtle's visit this week. Moore said that interest was also expressed in terms of the Howard College Nursing Program, and college of officials visited with Voegtle, among others.

He also said that the package of information gathered for the August visit of the Saint Francis retirement village board members and operators was provided for Voegtle, "and matched their needs splendidly."

If built, Voegtle said, the new nursing home would probably be opened in the spring of 1991.

Voegtle said research by his firm has demonstrated the need for an additional facility in Big Spring. A new nursing home would not cut into demand for existing nursing homes in Big Spring, he said. There are two nursing homes in Big Spring — 200-bed Golden Plains Care Center and 102-bed Mountain View Lodge — and an 18-bed Medicare unit for nursing care at Scenic Mountain Medical Center.

"It would definitely be competition, but I'm not saying competition isn't good for you too," said Verna Gibson, administrator of Golden Plains Care Center. There are currently 24 empty beds at Golden Plains.

Bea Weaver, director of nurses at Mountain View Lodge, said she doesn't believe there's a need for another nursing home in Big Spring.

Construction of a new nursing home in Big Spring would require approval from the Texas Department of Human Services for a Medicaid contract, Voegtle said. Architectural plans would have to be approved by two state agencies, he said.

If another nursing home is built in Big Spring, it would require 90 full-time employees Voegtle said. Its 120 beds would include 20 skilled beds — for patients requiring a higher level of care — and 20 beds for Alzheimer's patients, Voegtle said.

Signature Contracting Group has built three nursing homes in the last two years. In addition, it is nearing completion of the Guadalupe Valley Nursing Center, a 120-bed facility in Seguin.

Employee of the Year

BIG SPRING — Jean Pierson has been named "Employee of the Year" at Malone & Hogan Clinic.

She is presently executive secretary and has been employed in that capacity since April, 1988. She began work at Malone & Hogan Clinic in 1979 and was employed as a medical secretary until 1983. In 1987, she again worked for the Clinic as supervisor of medical secretaries. She was promoted to executive secretary in April, 1988.

Pierson was chosen for the honor of "Employee of the Year, 1989" because of her secretarial and organizational abilities and personality.

"Jean is a very special employee. Her dedication to the Clinic, the physicians and her position is unmatched. She is truly deserving of this award," stated Penny L. Phillips, clinic administrator.

Agent speaks to NAACP

BIG SPRING — "The 80s were characterized by a president named Ronald Reagan who made discrimination not only acceptable, but fashionable," guest speaker Gene Collins said at the annual banquet of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Dec. 16.

Collins, the owner of the Gene Collins Insurance Agency in Odessa, is the president of the Ector County branch of the NAACP. The African-American has lost all of the momentum of the '50s, '60s and '70s, he added, and African-American people have lost their political, social and economic power.

"We must, by any means necessary, fight for the empowerment of the African-American. We must continue to register every eligible black voter, educate them, and be sure that they vote," he urged.

Collins called for a combined unified Black Lobby and a national black agenda to continue the struggle for voting rights, equal opportunity employment laws and racial integration of schools and other public places.

"It is not political theories that are going to get us results in the '90s," he said. "Political force does not grow out of handbooks of strategy and tactics. It must be built by the hands of ordinary mortals working in the real world."

"Black power must be the end result of the action of black people."

New BSSH unit chief

BIG SPRING — Leslie Yarbrough is the most recent addition to the administrative staff at the Big Spring State Hospital.

He was promoted to the position of Director of Intermediate Care Unit in October of 1989.

Yarbrough began his career at BSSH in 1973 as a volunteer on the Geriatric Unit. Since that time he has worked as an employee in several positions including Nursing Supervisor on the unit he presently administers. Immediately prior to his present position he was Program Manager for Clinical Services for the Howard County Mental Health Clinic.

Yarbrough has assisted in the development and implementation of a privilege based behavior modification program at BSSH; researched, developed and implemented a medication education program, which was used as a model by other residential and non-residential programs; co-developed a social adjustment class, which was implemented by the program social workers and has received a commendation award as one of the five outstanding employees at BSSH.

He has also developed and taught several educational programs and serves on the Texas Nurse's Association By-Laws Committee and annually provides clinical supervision for ADN students from two schools.

Duiker gets doctorate

BOULDER, Colo. — The University of Colorado at Boulder has awarded a Doctorate in Physics to Hendrick M. Duiker, son of Mrs. Wilda Watts Powers formally of Big Spring.

Duiker received his undergraduate and masters degrees from the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, CA. He will pursue a post doctoral program and continued research in advanced physics. Mrs. Powers is a niece of Evelyn and Lonnie Coker of Big Spring, Wayne and Geraldine Smith of Lamesa, and Jack and Ruth Archer of Ackerly.

Spears: Prison could expand

BIG SPRING — Federal Prison Camp warden Phil Spears said that 80 percent of the funds are earmarked for a $10 million expansion cost to move the facility from a minimum to a medium level prison.

Speaking at Wednesday's Chamber of Commerce board meeting, Spears said the transition should occur in 1990 and that he expects to see approximately 1,000 prisoners when expansion is completed.

Of those, 827 will be medium-level prisoners, while 150 would be the minimum-level prisoner now at the prison camp, he said. Friday there were 735 minimum-level prisoners.

He projected a staffing increase of 70 to 100 employees, estimating 75 percent of those would be drawn from the local employment pool.

Spears also said that although he is familiar with plans for federal prison complexes with all three classification level facilities — minimum, medium and maximum — he said he was in no position to judge Big Spring's chances. He said he had no doubt that Big Spring would receive consideration, and offered the names of Washington officials chamber representatives could contact in regard to preparing an application.

Also at Wednesday's board meeting, officers were selected for 1990 as nominated by President Don "Lefty" Reynolds.

The chamber board gave approval to Reynolds' nomination of officers for 1990: Scott McLaughlin, public affairs; Jim Bill Little, economic affairs; Ben Bancroft, community development; and Robert Wernsmann, organizational development. Steve Fraser is the first vice president, while James Welch is treasurer.

TU Electric pushes nuclear energy as part of 10-year plan

HERALD STAFF REPORT

BIG SPRING — TU Electric expects to depend on its new nuclear power plant and energy efficient programs as part of a newly-released 10-year plan.

TU Electric will use a mix of energy efficient programs, also known as "load-reduction programs," and the new power plant to serve an increased electrical demand of 7.9 million kilowatts expected during the 1990s, said Michael D. Spence, president of TU Electric Generation Division.

"Even though growth has slowed in our service area, when compounded over a decade, it still amounts to a need for new electric supply that is more than one-third larger than current demand," he said. Spence said the company foresees an average 10-year load growth of 2.2 percent per year.

"Increased generating capacity in the near future will be available from our Comanche Peak Nuclear Plant, but Comanche Peak alone will not provide enough capacity to supply our service area up to the 21st Century," he said.

TU Electric anticipates that Comanche Peak Unit 1 will begin producing electricity in 1990 with Unit 2 to start in 1992.

Local TU Electrical official Bob Goodwin said load reduction programs are an important part of the company's 10-year plan to help meet electrical demand and keep costs as low as possible. The significance of a 10-year plan is that it takes about 10 years to build a new electric plant, he said.

Local TU Electrical official Bob Goodwin said load reduction programs are an important part of the company's 10-year plan to help meet electrical demand and keep costs as low as possible. The significance of a 10-year plan is that it takes about 10 years to build a new electric plant, he said.

Load management programs promote energy-efficient devices and techniques such as heat pumps, insulation and thermal storage, said Goodwin, who is the district customer service and operations manager. Goodwin said the local company provides incentives to people who use such programs because it helps them reduce the amount of electrical power used.

"If we get you to buy a more efficient air condition then we don't have to go out and build a generator," he said.

Spence said TU Electric's load management and conservation programs will reduce more than 1 million kilowatts of demand growth — to displace the need for that much capacity in new plant construction.

"Load management is a valuable tool, and our plan makes the maximum use of it. However, reducing the demand side of electricity will not offset growth," Spence said. Spence said additional generating capacity of nearly 6.8 million kilowatts will be needed to meet the growth. To help meet that demand, the electric company will depend on nuclear power from Comanche Peak, new lignite coal burning units, combustible turbines and purchases from other suppliers and resources.

"We are taking steps to ensure that TU Electric will enter the 21st Century with flexibility and diversity in its use of resources," Spence said.

TU Electric provides electric service to more than 5 million people in Texas, or about one-third of the state's population.

What Christmas Means to Me
 What Christmas means to me is getting together and celebrating the birth of Jesus. It started when Mary was fixing to have a baby and she went to the Inn but there was no room so they went to a nearby stable. There Joseph comfort Mary and there Jesus was born. When the north star arose the three wise men followed it to bring three wonderful gifts to Jesus. So besides Christmas means getting gifts. It means celebrating the birth of Jesus.

Leslie Rodriguez

Christmas means when you have a family get together. And you get a lot of gifts. Christmas is a begest month in the world. You get to see all of the nice things you get for Christmas. There is more then just left its self you got Christ to come to you and to help you when you need everyone to help you Christ is number 1 in my life he comes first in my life Merry Christmas and meny more to come to this life of our self Merry Christmas and happy new year.

Michael Feaster

Christmas means to me that Jesus Christ was born. Many years ago in Bethlehem a child was born. His name was Jesus. The story started when Mary and her husband went to pay taxes and take count of the people born there. Although Mary was pregnant she had to ride on a donkey all the way to Bethlehem. When they got there the inns were full with people who had come to pay taxes. Finally they found an inn with a stable in the back. So the inn keeper told them that they could stay in the stable. That night Jesus was born in the stable. He was put in a manger and robed with white linens. Over the stable a bright star shone above. Soon after a king heard that the king of all kings was born so he sent the three wise men to kill the baby that was king of all kings. That night before their journey they had a dream not to kill the child. So they followed the star to give great gifts to the new born child. At the same time three shepards were looking at the bright star. Soon an Angel of the Lord came before them and said, "Behold in the city of David a child is born, his name is Jesus. The shepards were scared. So everyone went to Bethlehem. And brought presents. So thats how Christmas began.

Ryan Wright

What Christmas Means to Me.
 Christmas means that you can be with your families. It means that you have families for a reason. Don't waste it, be glad you have families. Share and be nice to others. Spend time with them. Christmas is a joyful season. You should give a gift to show he cared for us. That was his gift to us from Him. So we should give him a present by celebrating Christmas by loving others as he loves us. Some people do not believe in Christmas and it hurts inside me when they do no. Because Jesus saved them. And they won't repay him by loving him. Give to the poor and Help them like god helped us. Please for God's sake don't be greedy. God helped you so help others. And some day they will repay you for heling others.

Melissa Edmondson

Christmas means giving gifts to each iother, people gathering together to celebrate and families gathering together to celebrate Jesus's birthday. Some people might celebrate when Jesus was born. There parents let the children where and how Jesus was born. It also means to love each other. To have joy and for on Christmas day, to thank everybody, to still be there when you need them. It also means to parise God. To thank him for all the things he has given us, he has always been there when you need him to help or to forgive.

Brian Ruiz

What Christmas Means to Me.
 Christmas is a time for giving and taking and to visit with family and friends. It is a time to think of God. Christmas is a very special holiday. I like the prayer before we eat super. I also like the long talk after we eat. The whole point of Christmas is sharing taking, giving, and thinking, sharing you thoughts and you feelings about everything. Taking the things that everybody gives you, giving the things that you bought the other people in your family or just friends. And thanking of God and all your family along with friends and others.

Brooke Barber

Christmas means when all my friends and grand parents come and where you get to do anything you want. Christmas is beautiful where he was born. There were sheep and cows and other animals there. That day was very special. But now he celebrate it by giving people Christmas presents. Every one gets presents. You will also have food and candy and toys. You also get to meet lots of people from other places because they come from far away. You got to see your aunts and uncles too. When they all come we get to eat all the food and candy. Then every single present they have bought you. There the snow might be falling while you are opening your presents. After that you can go out side and play out in the snow. That is what I think Christmas means.

Abe Olivas

To me Christmas is a day of celebrating the birth of Christ. Its a time to celebrate. Christmas reminds me of when Mary and Joseph were going to Bethlehem and all the others were rushing to get to the Inn. And they had to stay the stables. But I guess it was all for the best because Christ was born and Mary and Joseph survived that night and from that day till this day and on every body will always remember the birth of Crist.

Momma's nightgown

For as far back as I can remember, my preacher dad has bought my mom the same gift for Christmas — the softest, sexiest nightgown he could find.

Sometimes it was pink, sometimes it was blue, but it was always there.

We knew when Mother started to open the present — especially when my dad tried wrapping it himself. The paper was never quite even on the sides, and sometimes didn't meet in the middle.

As the years went on my dad didn't even try to wrap it by himself anymore. He taped the box shut and had my mom do it.

On the years that the nightgown wasn't quite as sexy as the year before, we would laugh and warn my parents that their marriage was falling apart.

It wasn't. Before my dad died earlier this month, they had spent 40 years together.

Over the years, that annual present of a nightgown held a special significance for me and my sister.

It came to be a constant in our lives, just as our parents had become. It was something we could always count on — something that would always be there.

To us it was a constant reminder of our parent's love — a different kind of love than they had for us — a love they only shared together.

For me, it was also a reminder that my parents were human — that even though most people thought of my mom as the preacher's wife, sharing her time and talents with everyone in the church, she was first and foremost — a wife to the pastor.

It was to him that she first gave her time and it was for him that she reserved a special kind of love that no one else could share.

After six months in a coma, my dad died. For those of us who had waited and watched as he suffered through those months, it was almost a welcome relief.

For us, the grief had faded over the months. For us, he had really died after the stroke left him unconscious and lying in his hospital bed.

One doctor told us that some people held on to life, because they felt responsible for those they were leaving behind. In fact, a nurse told us to remind my dad, even in his coma, that we were alright and it was ok to die.

This year will be the first Christmas for my family without my dad. He won't be there to read the Christmas story as he has so many years before. He won't be there to help put together toys for his grandkids.

He won't be there to watch with a twinkle in his eyes as his bride opens her gift of a Christmas nightgown.

I knew when my dad was ready to die.

It is easy to listen to stories about people on their deathbeds and how they have communicated with those who are alive and shrug off those stories as fantasies of grief-stricken friends.

For me, it is no longer quite so easy.

I was driving in my car the night before my dad died, when I felt his presence so strongly I looked to my right to see if he was in the car.

There was no one there — no ghosts, no goblins, no figure of my dad.

But there was something. And just as clearly as if my dad had been sitting there, I heard him ask me to do something.

I promised him I would.

And then, I said just like I was talking to someone riding with me. "I'll take care of it Daddy, it's ok to go ahead and die."

Friday night at a local store, I was doing some last-minute Christmas shopping.

I passed some golf balls on display in the aisle — and tears began to stream down my face.

They were a regular item on Daddy's Christmas list — an item that this year I wouldn't need to buy.

It showed me how important little things can become — how yearly gifts like golf balls and nightgowns can show someone how much you love them.

Sunday night, when my sister and her family, and myself and my two kids, sit down with my mom and my grandmother to celebrate Christmas — I will take over the responsibility of reading the Christmas story.

My brother-in-law may have to put together a few toys — I never was any good at that.

But don't worry Daddy. I kept my promise.

It's pretty, and blue, and silky soft... just like you would have bought to remind Momma how much you loved her.

I know there will be a twinkle in your eyes.

Tidbits

By LEA WHITEHEAD Staff Writer

"Welcome to Tara," Scarlet said, as she opened the door to two soldiers wearing the gray uniforms of the Confederacy. If this sounds like a scene right out of "Gone with the Wind," you're only half right; it was a scene from Jimmy and Charlsie Morehead's holiday party celebrating the 50th anniversary of the filming of the movie.

Charlsie emulated the Civil War heroine, dressed in a be-ruffled green ball gown she had stitched up for the occasion. (But she didn't pull the curtains down to make her gown as Scarlet once did). Jimmy posed as Ashley in a brocade tuxedo with lace jabot and cuffs. The soldiers were Jimmy Woods and Jimmy Anderson, the latter attired in an authentic army uniform of the Confederate States of America, borrowed from Mack Frazier, Arlington.

The dress code was top hats and tails or hoop skirts and parasols. Southern accents began to flow naturally after a dinner of grits, blackeye peas, ham, fried chicken, turnips, cornbread and pecan pie.

A three-foot Scarlet doll watched over the proceedings; Charlsie copied the doll's authentic movie costume from a picture of a doll costing $500!

Southern gentlemen and their southern belles attending were Dub and Pat Moore, Owen and Yvonne Ivie, David and Evelyn Elrod, Charles and Bea Kelley, Jimmy and Pat Anderson, J.B. Cushion, Louise Havens, Ralph and Anna Procter, Royce and Pat Clay, Hervey and Kathryn Perry and Jimmy and Nancy Wood.

Max and Neva Green began their family holiday celebration last weekend with a visit to their hometown of Paducah, where their parents still reside.

Neva's mother, Audrey Biddy, lives there as well as Max's parents, Dee and Cordelia Green. The Greens also got to visit with Max's brother, Pat, and Carolyn Green, Duncan, Okla., and Neva's brother, Elmer Biddy, No Trees.

The Greens' observance of the holiday continues this weekend with a family gathering here. Their son, Dane, and daughter-in-law, Tammie Green, with children,

Macie, David and Crystal arrived Friday night from Topeka, Kan. (Tammie had been excited about coming "here where it's warm," Neva said; Topeka had five inches of snow and a minus 60 degree wind chill factor!)

The younger Greens will also visit Tammie's aunt, Nell, and Bill Wilson while they're in town.

Max and Neva's daughter, Cassandra, and Glen Fillingim, are returning home this weekend after a holiday visit to Lubbock to see his parents, Buck and Pat Fillingim.

After Christmas Day dinner Monday, the Dane Greens will head for San Angelo for a year's-end reunion with her parents, Bobby and Annette Legg, before heading back to Kansas.

"It's good to be home," says Polly Mays, who with husband Floyd, will host their children and grandchildren to turkey and trimmings tomorrow. Polly has just gotten back from a 16-day tour of South America!

Looking at Polly's pictures will doubtlessly be part of the day's entertainment when son, Doug Mays, arrives from Dallas, to join sister, Kathy, and Jim Tipton and their children, Jessica and Trey.

Polly's trip — she went with a tour group — included stops in Ecuador, Peru, the Galapagos Islands, and a boat trip down the Amazon. Some of the highlights: flying over the Andes Mountains; visiting a remote ancient Inca city ("we went by train then by bus to a very high altitude"); staying in a hotel in Cusco, Peru, that was 400 years old ("the rooms were modern"); walking to the top of a volcano and in the rainforests.

"It was summer there," Polly reports. She couldn't believe the cold-weather forecasts when she got back home.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Brown expect their daughter, Dr. Mary Lou Rings and her husband Dr. Mike Rings, to come in the day after Christmas. The Rings family, including Katie, 6; Lindsey, 3, and Danny, almost 2, are flying in from Amlin, Ohio.

"They'll be here through Jan. 2," says Mrs. Brown. "They're used to snow, so the weather won't bother them."

Lamb seminar a success

By DON RICHARDSON County Extension Agent

Despite the bitter cold, junior lamb feeders, their parents, adult leaders, Extension agents and agricultural science teachers, approximately 125 persons, came to Big Spring Dec. 16 to participate in the District 6 Extension Junior Lamb Seminar.

Participants were welcomed by Don Richardson, county Extension agent, followed by Midland County Extension agent, Greg Gruben, who explained the purposes and objectives of the day's program and introduced Ricky Tubb, Martin County adult leader who gave a report on the type of lambs that judges at the upcoming major livestock shows would be expected to use.

Tom Thompson, Odessa, former Howard County adult leader, presented a demonstration on shearing and grooming lambs plus a discussion on types of shearing equipment and care of equipment for show lambs.

Richardson discussed the new rules and regulations from major livestock shows regarding use of drugs in show animals. Martin County agent Greg Jones then introduced Jim Lewis, adult leader from Levelland, who discussed feeding and management of show

Greedy teen is balanced by one who gives love

DEAR ABBY: I was visiting at the home of an old friend yesterday afternoon when her teen-age granddaughter ran in — not to say, "Hello, Grandma, how are you?" or, "What can I do for you?" Instead, she said, "Sorry I can't stay; I'm meeting some friends at the mall — I just came by to drop off my list." (It seems that "Sandra" was disappointed with Grandma's choice of gifts last Christmas, so she made up a list of things she wanted — and didn't want — this year.)

Dear Abby

My friend said: "Just a minute, dear. Before you give me YOUR list, I'd like to give you MY list so you will know what I want and don't want for Christmas."

Sandra looked shocked. Then she said, "Gram, you know I don't have any extra money to spend on gifts for you, but if that's the way you're going to be, you can just forget that you ever had a granddaughter!" And with that, she exited in a huff, slamming the door behind her!

My friend looked at me, smiling, and said, "Well, how did I do? I'm sorry you had to witness that, but I'm fed up with these grasping kids. I just had to put her in her place."

Any comment, Abby? — PARK AVENUE NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: Lest you think all teen-agers are alike, read this:

DEAR ABBY: I just received a Christmas gift from my 17-year-old granddaughter. It was a facsimile of a legal document, hand-drawn by her. It read:

"My dearest Grandma: As you know, I am saving every dollar I earn to go to college, but I am prepared to honor any and all of the following chores as my Christmas gift to you: Do your laundry, clean your house, mow your lawn, shovel your walk, wash your windows, polish your furniture, run your errands, drive you anywhere for the whole year. Call me anytime, day or night. — Your Loving Granddaughter, Melanie"

DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column from an 80-year-old grandmother who was overwhelmed by the thought of shopping for her many children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

I have a gift suggestion that would be treasured more than gold or jewels by almost everyone.

Grandparents should sit down and dictate into a tape recorder the memories of their childhoods, their parents, their birthplaces, stories told to them by their aunts, uncles and cousins about the "old country," and anecdotes about their most comical memories, their proudest moments or their saddest.

Perhaps they could describe a typical day at school or work — how much things cost, what they wore, how they felt when they got their first automobile, TV, etc.

With all those memories on tape, perhaps someone could type it up.

It could be as simple as photocopied sheets, or as fancy as a little printed book titled "Grandma's Memories." Copies to each family member would be priceless and cherished.

I've asked my parents to record their recollections on tape for me. I can't think of a more personal, special gift, because once they are gone, so are their recollections and "pearls" of wisdom.

Hope you like my idea, Abby! — ANNE FASCIO, MONTEREY PARK, CALIF.

DEAR ANNE: Like it? I love it! Thanks for giving me a priceless idea I can pass on to my readers.

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOU: Merry Christmas and Happy Hanukkah. Deck the halls with matzo balls! Have a wonderful holiday.

You just can't purchase the gift of common sense

By NAOMI HUNT
County Extension Agent

No matter how hard you look as the holiday season approaches, there's one gift you won't find in stores.

That's the gift of common sense. This is the time of year when thinking and spending may be tempted by the thought that the more that is done or bought, the better off the family will be. Common sense takes a backseat.

Focus on family

What values about money and its management are conveyed to children in the zeal to out-do and out-spend, especially during the holiday season? One value that is conveyed is that of materialism, that quantity gift-giving is valued over simplicity. Another value that may be unconsciously conveyed is that it's OK to overspend and blow the budget when it's for Christmas.

Would we approve of overspending and buying sprees at other times of the year? Do we use the holiday shopping experience to teach children the consumer skills they need as adults? Are they learning to compare the quality and price of merchandise, to read labels, to know warranty and gift exchange provisions?

Are they learning how to distinguish good buys from bad ones? As adults, do we use good shopping habits? Whatever we do, good or bad, we are transmitting our values to children about what matters about our money management and what doesn't. Are children growing up thinking that bill-paying headaches and a lot of belt-tightening are normal January activities for all families if they see it in their own families? Or do they see a holiday season based on reasonable spending limits that won't strap the family budget during the rest of the year?

To a large extent, adults model the future money behavior of children by the way they manage the family money today. Holiday time is a good time to make a conscious effort to model positive money management actions.

Search for passport stretches across nation

By TUMBLEWEED SMITH

When our oldest son Kevin graduated from high school he went to France via Rotary International's Youth Exchange program. He left on Memorial Day. But he almost didn't make it.

The Friday before Memorial Day he told me he couldn't find his passport. We turned the house upside down looking for that thing. We even went to the city dump to look for it in case we may have thrown it away. That was futile. And smelly.

By this time it was about 4:30 in the afternoon. We called the passport offices in Houston and New Orleans. They were closing for a long holiday weekend and were not interested in helping us.

We called Congressman Charles Stenholm. He assigned two aides to help us. They gave us a lot of sympathy but no encouragement. We called the travel agency and talked to the lady there. She told us to just delay the trip for a day or two. That didn't appeal to us in the least, since Kevin had what is called an APEX ticket. He had to leave on Monday afternoon, the time printed on the ticket. The ticket was non-refundable.

We went to bed late Friday feeling a little desperate. Kevin was working a shift at a local radio station. We listened to his show and he seemed to be handling things well. Station personnel told us later he was nearly in tears.

For some reason we woke up Saturday morning with renewed vigor. We just felt that something could be done. Perhaps we could beat the system and get Kevin's passport.

I called Dave Nuell, a former schoolmate of mine who was manager of a Washington, D.C. TV station then. I told him my predicament. He said to stay by the phone and someone from the passport office would call me.

The call came in five minutes later. I asked the passport man if he would meet Kevin at the passport office at 10 a.m. Sunday. He was reluctant, but said he would. He said to be sure and bring Kevin's birth certificate.

We looked all through Kevin's baby book, his drawers, all our records, but we couldn't find it. We called the county clerk's office but of course it was closed on Saturday.

In the meantime we had made arrangements for Kevin to catch a 1 p.m. flight to Dallas, where he would get a connecting flight to Washington. Dave had agreed to pick up Kevin at the airport in DC. By now it was noon.

We called an attorney friend of ours and he found someone to open the clerk's office and get a copy of Kevin's birth certificate. He knew we were running short on time, so he used his plane to fly Kevin to the Midland-Odessa airport. He arrived there at 12:40 and made his 1 p.m. flight.

The reservations somehow got messed up in Dallas and Kevin missed his connection to Washington. He would have to leave on a much later flight. I called Dave and told him of the change in the schedule. He was to meet Kevin at Dulles airport at midnight, when Kevin's plane would arrive.

At 11:30 p.m. we got a call from Kevin saying the flight had landed in Baltimore. We called Dave at Dulles and told him to go to the Baltimore airport to get Kevin. He got a speeding ticket on the way over.

Dave and Kevin finally got to Dave's house at 4 a.m. After a short nap, Kevin went to the passport office, got his passport and returned home Sunday afternoon. Twenty-four hours later he left for France. We breathed a sigh of relief.

Kevin had a fabulous five-week stay in France. On the way home, he spent a couple of days in London. When he went to the ticket counter at London's Heathrow airport, he discovered he was at the wrong airport, that his flight home was to leave from Gatwick, about an hour away by car. Kevin was told a helicopter would be the surest way to make his flight on time. He had only about eight U.S. dollars. The airline clerk told Kevin he might be lucky and find a bus. Kevin ran outside and found a bus waiting.

At Gatwick, he ran through the airport and got to his plane. His seat had already been sold. But the airline made a concession. They put him in first class at no extra cost. As soon as Kevin was seated, a stewardess asked him if he wanted champagne. He said yes.

Christmas mission

The Women of the First Baptist BYW are working on a Christmas Mission Project. Each woman took a special child that is less fortunate and bought them a Christmas present. They also contributed to the Christmas Seaman's Fund.

The annual BYW Christmas party was held Dec. 12. Betty Shaw hosted the occasion in her beautifully decorated lake home. There was plenty of yummy Christmas candy and dips to be enjoyed by everyone. The women also had fun singing Christmas carols and exchanging gifts.

C-City lights

Christmas lights are such a special part of Christmas at our home. Our daughter can't come home in the evening without wanting to "go see the lights." The Chamber of Commerce has again sponsored the annual Christmas Lighting Contest. The judging was Dec. 18. Some evening when you have nothing in particular to do, why not go view the houses entered in the contest. The winners were:

First place, winning $80, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Lelek, on the corner of county Rd. 307 & 309 (take the dirt road in front of the Plainview Baptist Church to the intersection). This home is decorated in the Southwest theme complete with cactus and hot peppers.

Second place, winning $60, was Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Beasley, 1030 E. 18th. Go by and see Rudolph and his pals at Santa's workshop.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Schlee took home $30 with a yard full of Muppets. Their home is also in the Plainview area. You can find their home close to the entrance of the Morgan Creek power plant.

Fourth place went to Mr. and Mrs. Kerry King at 902 E. 13th. They won $15. You can see candy canes, a Texas Bear and more at this home.

Honorable mention honors went to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Culpepper at 113 E. 22nd. and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Anderson at 1737 Locust.

There were a total of 19 homes entered. The others are: Mrs. Dean Needham, Colorado City Lake, turn at Sportsman Club exit. Second house on the right.

Hayride

Everyone from Christian Temple Church came bundled extra warm for a hayride Wednesday. Every year members who brave the cold, get together to ride on the hay and sing Christmas carols to those they know, young and old. Everyone had a great but freezing time.

Bowl of Christmas

The fifth and sixth grade departments of the First Baptist Church had a different kind of a Christmas party, being at the bowling alley in Snyder. The director, Linda Chambers and Sunday School teachers, Richard Chambers and Debbie King had several lanes reserved for the children to enjoy. Afterwards everyone enjoyed cookies, chip and dips and punch back at the church. Those attending the party were Stacey and Brian Smith, Susan Hartman, Justin McGaha, Brad Dockrey, Tony Sherwood, and Kevin and Kyle Chambers. Also helping to sponsor the children was Lane King.

Cantata

"Carol of Christmas" was the title of the cantata brought to those who attended the Evening Service at the First Baptist Church Dec. 17. The Ladies Handbell Choir awed the audience with their performance of a couple of Christmas songs. Also, the Kids Choir sang a couple of selections. Everyone enjoyed an especially wonderful treat as Diane Flippo and June Kimmell performed on the flute and piano. Fellowship followed as the pastor Ted Spear and his family were presented with a new portable color TV. Members of the staff were also given money gifts.

Taking charge

Sunday morning worshippers of Calvary Baptist Church enjoyed a different kind of service as the younger members took charge of the activities. The Children's Choir

The real meaning

The Christmas season is always such a busy time. Buying presents, decorating, making yummy things to eat! It seems we sometimes forget what it is really all about. Parents, I encourage you to please take a little time out of your busy schedule tonight or tomorrow to sit with your most precious gift (your children) and share with them the story of God's most precious gift to them. Tell them how Jesus had to come to earth and be born of a virgin. How he grew up and lived a perfect sinless life and how 33 years later he had to die on the cross for our sins and theirs. This is truly the complete Christmas story from beginning to, I won't say the end because Jesus arose from the grave and will one day very soon (as can be evident by the things going on in our world today) be coming back to take us home to Heaven! All because of a tiny baby born in a manger so long ago. Merry Christmas and God bless.

Clubs go caroling

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes held their Christmas party at the home of Steve Parks this last week. The club exchanged gifts and went out caroling.

Party time

At Elbow, everyone, kindergarten through fifth grade, sang and had parties on their last day of school before the Christmas holidays. The girls were decked out in ruffles and bows, the boys in their best sweaters and bow ties.

Mothers brought in decorated Christmas cookies and treats by the armloads for the children's Christmas parties. Second grade mothers made decorated graham cracker gingerbread houses for each child in second grade. One mother explained all the frantic activity as "Christmas insanity".

During the busiest time of the year, we think that our kids have to have a fantasy land Christmas party. Working mothers took off from work to help with their children's Christmas parties. I think it's great!

The Elbow Christmas program could have been named

"Christmas Around the World." The children sang carols from England, Japan, Czechoslovakia, Guatemala, Poland, Spain, Puerto Rico, and Canada, and sang Jingle Bells in Spanish. Many of the children played instruments, and someone presented the entire kindergarten with jingle bell necklaces which refused to be tamed.

Piano solos were presented by Amanda Breyman, Kristen Thixton, Logan Stanley, Marlana Light, Jerrod Fishback, Julia Egbert, Sarah Kennemur, Candy Passmore, Stephanie Kennedy, Aimee Walker, Megan Stanley, Heather Cooper, Brooke Reed accompanied singers Terra Proctor, Traci Bellinghausen, and Amanda Epley. Ryan Toomire thrilled us all by singing "What Child is This," and Shannon Leopard played "Morning has Broken" on her guitar. Todd McAdams played the drum for "The Little Drummer Boy."

Santa Claus made a surprise appearance at the end of the program and later visited each classroom.

The fifth grades entertained about 300 people Tuesday at the State Hospital. The children presented a song program, distributed gifts and visited with patients.

Student of the week

Forsan Junior High School principal Doug Parker announced the Junior High Student of the week for the week ending Dec. 15 was Clay Thomas. Summer Rawls was Student of the Week for the week ending Dec. 20.

Forsan seventh grade girls and boys earned third place at the tournament held at Forsan last weekend. Eighth grade girls and boys won second place.

Junior high basketball games with Colorado City resulted in losses for the Forsan seventh grade girls and boys, and wins for both the eighth grade girls and boys teams.

Best in sales

Jenny Conaway is the best sales person for the junior high TSA.

Thought of Christmas

In between all the hustle and rush, sometime I think I forget the true meaning of Christmas. Do you?

Have you ever been disappointed about what present you received? Possibly it didn't fit or maybe the wrong color. At this time we need to search our hearts for the true answer. Everyone knows the saying "It's the thought that counts." People sometimes, cover up that thought with presents and forget, it was even there. If we contribute our feelings by actions and a gift, maybe the color, size, or shape of the gift won't matter.

That nice shirt you received may wear out, but the thought of love behind it will last a life time.

Quote: "Love gives itself, it is not bought."

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Hoops

Last weekend the varsity boys brought home the championship trophy from the Borden Co. tourney. They played New Home in the finals and clinched the win. The boys were kept on their toes constantly through out the game. Succeeding to pull ahead in the fourth quarter the Mustangs were on top 57 to 48.

Southland traveled to Sands to play on Tuesday. Both boys and girls teams for Sands marked up victories. In boys action Bill Grigg was high point with 21, Felix Rodriquez with 19, and Jay Johnston with 13 followed. Final score was 88-49. Statistics on the girls game will be available at another time.

Family Christmas

Morris and Hazel Barnes hosted a family Christmas party, at their home on Dec. 16. Those attending from Knott were: Gerald and Louise Willborn, David, Linda, Keel, and Linda K. Barnes and Donnie Paige. Ackerly: Joe, Janice, Becky and Bill.

Barnes, Melody Rhodes, Mandy Hodnett, Big Spring: Bobby and Merle Roman, Mellisa and Rocky McCullough. Coahoma: Gary Paige, from Westbrook, Gayla Stone and Logan, Sand Spring, Kathy Buchanan and girls, Shirley Paige and grandchildren from Colorado.

A lot of visitation and good food was enjoyed by everyone. Shirley and Jerry Don Paige will host the Christmas party next year.

Concerned family in Galilee put pressures on Jesus

Editor's Note: This final part of a three-part Christmas series is about the big Galilean family of which Jesus was a part.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Baffled and sometimes upset by Jesus' independent streak, his family tried to curb him. "Even his brothers did not believe him," the record says. But they stuck by him, eventually becoming pillars of his cause.

A putative aunt sought to curry preferential status for her sons, supposed cousins, but he wouldn't play favorites. When still a boy of 12, he distressed his elders by quitting them to converse with Temple scholars.

"Son, why have you treated us so?" his mother remonstrated, noting that she and her husband, Joseph, had hunted him for three days. They did not understand his explanation about being drawn to God's house.

The push-and-pull of those closest and dearest is a common experience in the best of families. That sort of pressure rimmed Jesus' life — the chafing, caring concern of relatives. He had many in that small close-knit enclave of Israel, bound together by its belief in one God in a pagan world.

Relationships, near and distant, pervaded that tiny, insulated society. It was a hemmed-off, connected household, especially in Jesus' rural hometown of Nazareth in upland Galilee.

"A prophet is not without honor, except in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house," he said, indicating the negative reactions of "kin" to his newly launched ministry.

He "marveled because of their disbelief," Mark's gospel notes.

His family must have been aghast when Nazareth townspeople dragged him angrily from the synagogue after his first sermon about liberty for captives and the oppressed and "good news to the poor."

Neighbors intended to hurl him from a cliff, but stopped at the last moment, hesitating. His gaze burned into them, and they shrank back, opening a path for him. He walked away, never going home again.

He "who loves father or mother" or "son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me," he said, adding that his truth requires greater devotion than to parents, wife, children, brothers, sisters or even to one's "own life."

His immediate family included a flock of "brothers and sisters," the record says, naming James, Joseph, Judas and Simon, plus an unspecified number of sisters.

Differences exist about their exact relationship because of Catholic belief in Mary's perpetual virginity. Some hold that the brothers and sisters were offspring of Joseph by a previous marriage, though this is without biblical support.

It also has been claimed they were cousins in the loose terminology of ancient times. In any case, a batch of them were linked in Scripture with Joseph and Mary and obviously shared an upbringing with Jesus.

Scripture, in saying Jesus was Mary's "first-born son," implies she later had others, and in saying Joseph "knew her not until she had borne a son," implies subsequent marital relations. Whichever, it was a big family.

It tried to deter Jesus' ministry at the outset. Distressed by talk that he was "beside himself," his family descended on a synagogue where he was preaching, intending to seize him.

When word reached him that "your mother and your brothers are outside, asking for you," the personal pain of it must have torn him. He lowered his head momentarily, then spread his arms wide and said:

"Who are my mother and my brothers?" His gesture embraced everyone. "Here are my mother and my brothers! Whoever does the will of God is my brother, and sister and mother."

A poignant interlude, it projected Jesus' work beyond intimate bonds to humanity at large. But it must have hurt. Such steps are never without pain, said the late theologian Paul Tillich.

Noting that the "depth of the gap" between him and his family became acute only with the start of his public ministry, Tillich added:

"Something unconditional breaks into the conditional relations of the natural family and creates a community which is as intimate and strong as the family relations, and at the same time infinitely superior to it."

Jesus' apparently rich aunt is identified in three of the gospels — John referring to "his mother's sister," Mark to "Salome" and Matthew to the "mother of the sons of Zebedee."

Zebedee ran a prosperous fishing fleet on the Sea of Galilee and two of his sons, James and John, quit the business to become disciples of Jesus, presumably also cousins. Salome evidently was among wealthy women who supported Jesus "out of their means."

That James and John were cousins is further indicated when Jesus, on the cross, assigned care of his mother to John, a family responsibility not likely to be placed outside blood ties.

Salome was a strong-minded, practical woman, something of a firebrand like her sons, whom Jesus nicknamed "sons of thunder." She also was ambitious, and she saw majestic prospects for Jesus.

While some relatives doubted his course, she felt sure of it, even though misconstruing his goal as a restored Jewish kingdom. She wanted some key places reserved for family.

She put it bluntly, a senior to a younger clan member. "Command that these two sons of mine may sit, one at your right hand and one at your left, in your kingdom."

Jesus looked fondly at his aunt and slowly shook his head. "You do not know what you are asking." It aroused jealousy among his apostles. He told them his domain would not be run like the Roman occupation — by force and domination.

Impatience also was registered by Jesus' "brothers." His growing impact in rural Galilee impressed them, John 7 notes, and they proposed he go to Jerusalem for a coming festival to establish himself at the heart of Judaism if he could.

"Leave here and go to Judea," they urged, suggesting somewhat skeptically that if his works were genuine he could gain greater fame. "For no man works in secret if he seeks to be known openly. If you do these things, show yourself to the world."

He looked at them affectionately, reading their doubts. "My time has not yet come, but your time is always here ... Go to the feast yourselves."

Later, however, he went. Curious crowds besieged him, leading to his crucifixion by Roman authorities, and his resurrection.

That event transformed his brothers, binding them to him in unwavering loyalty. The oldest brother, called James the Just, became head of the church in Jerusalem, his leadership ranked above the 12 apostles.

He presided over the church's first council, which widened doors of the new faith beyond Jews to Gentiles, to all the world. Many scholars ascribe to him the biblical epistle of James with its call to apply Jesus' teachings in deeds.

"Be doers of the word," he wrote. "Faith, if it has no works, is dead."

After James was slain in rising revolutionary tides of the early A.D. 60s, church historian Eusebius says, another brother of Jesus, Simon, took over church leadership in Jerusalem.

Initially unresponsive, relatives became mainstays of the world-girdling faith Jesus started. However, he says the principle relationship extends beyond blood to all believers.

"I am the vine," he said, "you are the branches."

What Christmas Means To Me

It means toys, giving, and the day Jesus was born.
Jay Garden

What Christmas Means To Me
What Christmas means to me. It means to me that it is time being nice, celebrate Jesus Christ. It means be thankful for what you get and don't say that you don't want this or that. Like you get a little car don't throw it and say you don't like it. Just be thankful that you got it. Remember there's kids in another town, city, country who don't receive gifts.

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means to me relatives get together, the baby Jesus, getting nice present and play in the snow and make snow mans. Play snowball fight and bless God for this day by preying to God and share.
Robert Cisneros

Christmas means love and giving and sharing and caring and joy. Christmas means the birth of Christ. It means presents and gift. It is the time to not be greedy.
Stephanie Anderson

Christmas means joy, happiness, caring, loving. It means presents. It means the loving of Jesus.
Jacob Rios

What Christmas Means To Me,
Christmas means opening presents and decorating a Christmas tree with lights. Christmas als is the birthday of Jesus. My favorite part of Christmas is opening gifts that are mine. I usually get the biggest present that is mine and open it first. I love eating turkey and being with my family, also.
Ryan Schwertner

What Christmas Means To Me,
What Christmas means to me is lights and a Christmas tree. Lets not forget its the Lords birthday. So before you open yor presents, please pray. I promise you will have a very good day!

What Christmas Means To Me,
What Christmas means to me is a time for giving not receiving. A time for family, not friends. A time for Jesus not parties. A time to be holy not bad. A time to be jolly not rude. A time to stay home, not outside. A time to forgive, not lie.
Amy Phillips

Dear Santa,
Under the Christmas tree late at night, out the wndow I can see a red light. Ready to open as you can see me and my friends, Thomas Lee I got what I wanted. With glea, with gleam can't you see. What this can mean?
Blake Weaver

What Christmas Means To Me,
What Christmas means is joy to open our presents and hear reindeers feet on top of the house and hear Santa Claus get us some treats. Hes cming down the chimney saying Ho, Ho. Then Santa leaves the presents and we wake up and see what he left. We celebrate Jesus birthday.
Stacie Villa

What Christmas Means To Me,
Christmas means the time Jesus is born. He is our King and saviour Jesus is always thee. He talks to use in many ways. Even though you ca't hear him, he is there. This is what Christmas means to me.
Lauren Middleton

What Christmas means to me,
What Christmas means to me is a jolly old fellow named Santa Claus. It means pine cnes, hollyberries, and some mistletoe to stand under, a nativity scene about Jesus at church. Hearing jingle bells, silver bells, and caroles singing and ringing outside. What Christmas morning means to me is getting up early and tearin and ripping off wrapping paper to try toget to the present.
Krissy McWhorter

What Christmas means to me is a special time. I think that most people think of presents, but I dont'. I think of Christmas as a time when your heart is cleaned and your sins are forgiven. But I als know of poor people who know its Christmas but dont' have ay money to buy presents. But I also think of Santa Claus, who lives at nort pole and I think thre inthe nort pole it must really be cold. If I could only wake up at ay time without an alarm clock. I also think of Jesus birt. At that time I read the bible.
Manfried Robinson

What Christmas Means To Me
What Christmas means to me is that we can spend time with family. We can spend the whole day together at my Grandma house and open presents. Then at dinner we can eat our Christmas dinner my mom and grandma make us. After that we can sing Christmas carols. After we sing we can play games. Then my family will go home and go to sleep. The next day I can play with the things my family got me.
Paul Rodriguez

What Christmas Means To Me
What Christmas means to me is to have fun and joy with family. Also to be surprised by gifts they bring. For family members to express how they feel for other family members. To be h appy with what they bring you. To have warmth in your heart. Also to celebrate the birth of Christ.
William Ramos

Lonnie Long

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means a lot to me. It is not to open gifts, it is to celebrate Jesus's birthday. I even go to my grandparents house. We eat turkey and a lot of other stuff then open gifts. "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, and who so ever believeth in him shall not perish but have everlasting life. John 3:16.
Lorie Dillard

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means gifts, love, but most of all food. On Christmas morning my brother wakes me up at 7:00 a.m. so we can see all the presents that Santa brought so we can get them. We wake up mom and dad. After we open all our presents, we give each other hugs and kisses. Then we eat.
John Bryan

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means many things tome. One reason is to put up a Christmas tree, and putting lights on the outside of the house. It means Christmas plays, and puttin gifts under the tree. The one main reason we have Christmas is from the birth of Jesus, and that's what Christmas means to me.
Suzi Ruth

What Christmas Means To Me
It means eating lot of food, getting presents and giving them too. I also get to see my family for a day. We remember the birth of Christ.
Bo Bohanan

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means many things to me. It means getting gifts, putting up a tree, and eating food. Getting gifts is the best part of Christmas because you get lots of toys. Eating is the next best because you can eat all you want. Putting up a tree is okay because it is pretty. I like Christmas a lot.

Erica Dashier

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means getting gifts, seeing my family and having a great big dinner. But Christmas really means that Jesus was born for me.
Jon Holland

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means to me being with my family. Each year my mom and dad get the family together for Christmas. Some of my relatives come from New Mexico. Some of my relatives come from a few blocks away. My cousins and my aunt and uncle also come from Garden City. I like being with my family and relatives at Christmas.
Tommy Juarez

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means many things to me. It means seeing my cousins, aunts, uncles, and grandparents. Also, it means loving and giving. It also means putting up a pretty tree and putting lights and ornaments on it too. After that you put presents under the tree. Then on Christmas day we open presents and see what we got. Then we eat our Christmas dinner.
Casey Ireton

Christmas means a lot to me. It means giving, sharing, being with your family, to pout up a Christmas tree, and at last eating Christmas dinner.
Michelle DeLeon

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means many things to me. Christmas is a time for celebrating Jesus's birthday. It is a time for being with all the ones you love. It is also a time for giving and sharing from the heart.
Stephanie Wood

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means that you give and love one another. I also think it is to think of Jesus. He was born on Christmas eve. I also think that Christmas means to visit friends, and cousins and to receive presents. Christmas means to love and help each other. It also means for Santa to come.
Arabella Carrillo

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means a whole lot of things to me. It means we get to get presents. The whole family comes over. All the girls of the family cook a dinner. The boys go outside and play football. When we have opened the presents, the family spends the night. In the morning they stay til night and then leave. That's what Christmas means to me!!!
Joe Alvizo

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means a whole lot to me. Jesus was born on that day. My family normally goes to my grandparents' house, but sometimes we have it at my house. We open gifts and eat dinner. Before we eat we say a long prayer thanking Jesus for dying on the cross. So we could be forgiven of our sins.
Matt Moore

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means a lot to me. It means putting up a Christmas tree. It means listening to Christmas music and getting the Christmas spirit. It means remembering baby Jesus being born. It means seeing relatives and having a feast. It means giving presents and getting presents. It means cold and snowy days, being thankful, getting out of school and having a happy holiday.
Michelle Adams

What Christmas Means To Me
To me Christmas means to things two things: giving and Jesus's birthday. I like giving. God gave his only begotten son and who so ever believeth in him shall not perish but have everlasting life, John 3:16. Just think if Jesus weren't born what would it be like now. Holidays are wonderful there really so much fun. Everybody gets together with everyone. Picnic's in the summer, cookout in the fall. But there's one day on the calendar that stands above the rest it happens to be the holiday that I love most. Christmas is almost here, the very best time of year. We celebrate the singing, the joy of Jesus bringing good will and peace to everyone on earth.
Laurie Adams

Family visit

Maggie Lynn Marie Wintemute, El Paso, who is Maggie and Harroll Harrington's granddaughter and Maggie's namesake, visited them Tuesday, along with a friend, Phyllis. Their daughter, Gary Faye Daugherty and husband, Tommy, of Colorado City, also visited.

Maggie and Phyllis had been visiting two days with another of the Harrington's daughters, Rita Hull, at Garden City, and overnight with another daughter, Lillie Beth Supthin, at Clyde. While in the area, the girls had checked out Angelo State University at San Angelo before their Luther visit.

Birthday celebration

Carolyn and Len Fielder, San Marcos, visited her father Carroll Harrington and Mickie last weekend to celebrate his birthday Dec. 17. Charles Harrington, a son, joined the celebration.

Original play

An original play, "Miracle In The Drought," based on an actual historical event at Vincent Baptist Church, was enacted by members of the congregation Wednesday evening at the church. Patricia Barr and Pastor Bob Bradberry authored the play, basing it on an actual letter mailed Sept. 17, 1910 to Christians everywhere appealing to them for help during a financial crisis. Ms. Barr directed the play.

Granny Becky (Lois Ellison) rocks and dozes intermittently while sharing with her granddaughter, Little Becky (Shawna Ellison) about her miracle Christmas, a special Christmas story.

Vincent community was bustling with activity in the early 1900's which boasted over 500 families, so Vincent Baptist built a new church building. After the third year of severe drought the church could not even afford to pay interest on their back note. After three crop failures folks were leaving the area for greener pastures.

The church Deacons drafted a letter which they mailed to Christians everywhere to help out with a dollar to keep the church from losing its new building by not repaying the loan. It took a great deal of faith and prayers in those days, but God was faithful and the Vincent Baptist Church is still there today.

But what were those folks who stuck it out like? And was there a miracle in the midst of the drought?

Granny began her story with, "Well child, it was way back in 1910 when I was just a little girl like yourself." She related to little Becky the above facts and added, "Brother S. C. Shipley was the pastor of the church at that time and we were all proud of the big new church building that we worshipped God in. But because the crops had failed and people were moving out the church was hurting too. I remember papa was worried about the bank taking the church building away from us, and I was worried that Jesus wouldn't have a home that Christmas. Poor little baby Jesus!"

(Granny dozes off and the little girl leaves).

The next scene is set in 1910 with two men drafting a letter to be sent out appealing for help in keeping their church building — Bro. Shipley (Pastor Bob Bradberry) and Deacon Bishop, Walter Tretow. The letter told of the new townsite in Northeast Howard County in one of the best farming belts in West Texas, which opened for settlement about two years before. The church was growing rapidly and was active in helping, as best they could, all missions, schools and orphanages of the Southern Baptist Convention, maintaining a good Sunday School and supporting a pastor for half time.

The congregation numbered 103, so they thought best to build a house of worship, since they had none, they would be adequate for their needs for several years. A house was built that would seat 500 people at a cost of $3,000, which could be paid by ordinary sacrifice. But just as the building was begun an unprecedented drought occurred and their membership decreased from 103 to 28, with others yet to go. The letter continued, "Our condition is distressingly embarrassing. We owe $1,500 and cannot even pay the interest without borrowing it. We have had two crop failures and another is upon us now. Not a member of our church will make enough to pay his grocery bill.

We do not complain, we are only giving facts in order that you may give intelligently to our noble cause. We ask from $1 to any amount you may be impressed to give. Your small giving will be a great blessing to us, and your large giving will mean a "shower of blessings."

Directions for sending money follows with this note: "By order of church conference, Sept. 13th, 1910." The letter was signed by S. C. Shipley, moderator and Walter Bishop, Clerk.

The two kneel to pray silently, but their prayers are interrupted by the sobbing prayer of a little girl, gone unnoticed by them:

Granny Becky, played by Lois Ellison, talks with little Becky, played by Shawna Ellison, during the play "Miracle in the Drought."

Becky prays, "Dear God, please help our church. If we don't get your help... baby Jesus won't have a home this Christmas... Please send a miracle."

Both men ended with an Amen. The women of the church, preceded by Miss Persnickety cheerfully dusting with her prized fashion accessory, a red bandana handkerchief while whistling her favorite Christmas hymn, entered to decorate it.

To younger women enter with a Christmas wreath, expressing their excitement over the night's Christmas program. Both are hoping the event will perk up sagging faces.

As Miss Persnickety exits singing a Christmas Hymn at the top of her voice, they both hope her undaunted spirit is contagious.

As they were decorating, two teenagers enter, Tom and Sarah, who are in love and facing separation because the girl's father is considering relocating the family.

Several small children enter, taunting the lovers. One by one begin to enter the church to view the Christmas program and Granny Becky arouses from her nap long enough to continue her story to her granddaughter by introducing the program.

Granny said, "It wasn't long after the people arrived at the church house that Mrs. Green (Miss Persnickety) had all us children up on the stage getting us ready to do our part in the Christmas program that year."

(Granny then slips comfortably back into her nap.) Miss Persnickety organizes a group of children on stage, directing Billy to quit pulling Peggy's pig tails and the children to settle down.

Merry Christmas.

To me Christmas means good times. I think that making Christmas holidays is a treat. On Christmas holidays I think that you should go to see relatives and have a great big lunch together. I think you should really get out and celebrate Jesus's birthday. Lots of younger kids think Christmas is only a time to get lots of presents, but to me it means a lot of more things.
Judd Cathey

What Christmas means to me is a time to be with you family, you get to relax and there's usually a football game on! You can eat all that astonishing food your family has prepared, you can also prepare for work and school. (I just keep those things off of my mind!) Or you can do what I do best—Sleep!
Joshua E Levin Collom

Christmas means alot to me. It means to give and receive presents. It also means that Jesus died on the cross and that is how we got Christmas. It also makes me think of Santa Claus when people talk about Christmas. That is what Christmas means to me.
Michael Brooks

Christmas means joy, love, time to give to others, and to have fun. Christmas means time for food and time for meeting all my aunts, uncles, nephews, and cousins. Christmas means time for parties, but most of all I think its time for Christ to be loved.
Scotty Bryant

Christmas means joy, it means to give and not receive. It means to be satisfied with what you get and not to be greedy with it Give to all you want, but if you don't Santa will not give you your things.
Eugene Vasquez

What Christmas means to me is happiness and joyful times, and carolers going around to sing some songs at peoples houses. It means getting presents under my Christmas tree. I also want to see Santa like those big red cheeks. I even like to paly in the real white snow that falls out of the sky. Even throw snowballs at people.
Matt Fontana

At Christmas we put a tree up that's what Christmas means to me.

Andrea Gipson

What Christ means to me is good will to all. Most little kids think Christmas is a time for presents but not me. I think Christmas is a time when God shines his light brighter than all and as Tiny Tim said God Bless Everyone.
Michael Cobb

What Christmas means to me is when Jesus was born. Christmas means a whole lot to me. Not just cause the presents but because of my family. I can't wait until Christmas morning. My whole family is going to my grandmal's house. Christmas means a whole lot to me.
Dolores Garcia

What Christmas means to me. It means being with family and friends. It means sharing good times about life. And it also means making new and times to pass on from generation to generation.
Rich G. Armstrong

Christmas to me means a day to rejoice in the Lord and be glad he was sent to save us. It means to celebrate to the Lord. To some it's a day to celebrate with their friends. But most of all eating that home cooking. When we go to church our preacher, Dr. Kenneth Patrick of First Baptist Church of Big Spring, will probably give a beautiful sermon, and that's what CHRISTMAS means to me.

Robb Walker

What Christmas means to me is my family getting together. Also the dinner we eat is good. Plus you don't have to worry about what's under your Christmas tree or your stocking, you might get to see people that are kind to you that you don't get to see once in a while. That's what Christmas means to me.
James Dunlap

To me Christmas means time of great singing! It also means giving to the ones you love. Sharing time with my family means alot to me too! And I hope everybody has a good Christmas!
Rodney Gresslett

What Christmas meant to me is the birth of Jesus. Another thing is to be loving enough to give a present. Also it is a time to get all the family together and have a Christmas dinner, cards and lots more. Christmas is a time for sharing.
James Best

Christmas to me means Jesus's birthday. No one really celebrates that, but that is still what it is. Many kids think of it as just another holiday. Christmas is the most beloved time to me. Ho Ho Ho and put up lights. We put a big star in the tallest tree in our backyard. We go over to my aunts, uncles, and my grandma's house. We enjoy it a whole lot.

Jeremiah Best

Christmas means to love one another and be kind. Christmas means to be joyful. It means celebrating when Jesus got off the cross. Christmas also means giving not getting. Well, it means getting a little, but it's more fun seeing people's faces light up when they see what you got them. That's what Christmas means to me.
Ashlee Burcham

It means to give and not receive. And not to be selfish because it wont hurt them it will hurt you.
Jimmy E.

Christmas is love. It's when your family rejoices together. To me it's not giving, it's not sharing, it's not getting gifts either. But it's it's love!!! Still it's love but when it's cold you get sick.
Kori Caffey

What Christmas Means To Me, To me Christmas means going to church, and giving thanks for all that he has given us. Like our food and our presents, work and the money we make. Christmas also means being with your family and giving and receiving presents from your family. Christmas to me is a special holiday for me because you are with your family. staying and sticking it out. After all in a few years young Tom there will make me a fine son-in-law, and little Becky, God's answered your prayers too"

(Little Becky runs to her papa's arms as he begins to sing a very special Psalm to her (Psalm 93:1) as God answered her prayers that Baby Jesus would have a home for Christmas.)

The Psalm set set to original music by James Killion, Director of Music at Hillcrest Baptist Church.

(With this, Bro. Shipley comes and leads everyone in singing "Joy to the World" as Miss Persnickety steps toward the preacher with her red bandana, everyone wipes their own noses.)

(The little girl and her grandmother are now back to the present day. Little Becky still dressed in her 1910 costume.)

"Oh, Granny Becky, look what I found in your old trunk in the attic. It's your Christmas dress from when you were a little girl," she excitedly proclaims.

(Granny arouses from her nap.) Granny Becky replies, "So it is, child...so it is."

Little girl replies, "Merry Christmas Granny Becky."

Granny answers, "Merry Christmas my precious little one."

Members of Vincent Baptist Church enjoyed a progressive dinner Dec. 9. Appetizers were served at Bobby and Tina LaRue's house near Lake Thomas.

About 15 miles further Laroy and Alma Shafer served the main course.

Another five miles away dessert was served at Walter and Peggy Tretow's residence. Gag gifts were exchanged and appreciated by all.

One gift was mistletoe with a guarantee — a big chocolate candy kiss with it.

Bubbles were presented to the song leader, Laroy Shafer.

Marion Saper

What Christmas Means To Me, A time of joy, if not getting presents. It is the joy of giving and sharing and then receiving. Even if we had no presents there is still a big reason to rejoice. The biggest reason is because Jesus was born on Christmas. The most celebrated day of the year. We don't have to have anything to enjoy Christmas. Some people dont care about Jesus al they care about is presents. As long as they get prnts. When you think about what Jesus has done for us more than any man or wman could eve do thats what makes a good Christmas to me.
Jessica Sepeda

What Christmas Means To Me, A special time of the year, whee we celebrate by going to church to pray and by giving presents to each other. IT is a time for failies and friends toget to gather and celebrate. An also to thank Jesus for al He did for us. Thank him for our clothes and food we have. We also sould thank him for Christmas, if it was't for him we wouldnt have the wonderful day that we have now.
Misty McFerrin

What Christmas Means To Me, Christmas means sharing, caring, giving, and loving to me. The reason it means this to me is because my family and friends are s wonderful and warm. Every Christmas my fathe's side of the family goes to my grandmothers. After wards, we go to my aunts house. The play after Christmas my friends and I spend a lot of time together. The nxt day we go to my uncles house in hico.
Amy Gilbert

What Christmas means to me, The birth of Christ. This is how Christmas began. These two people named Mary and Joseph were going to Bethelam. Christmas means a lot to me. It means sharing and loving. It means being all together with your family and other people. On Christmas Eve my granny cmes and spends the night with us. On Christmas morning we open our presents. Then later my aunt and my cousins come ove. At lunch time we eat turkey and lots of other stuff. We al go tobe together on Christmas and share love.
Krista Jeffcoat

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas is not to receive its to give. Christmas is about love to others its about our saviour Jesus even though we aren't perfect our Lord still loves us so we show our respect to others and our Lord for when he died we were saved not to go to Heaven but to save us from Satan. For when he was born he was a king and for Christmas its his love casts over us.
Rusty Sumpter

What Christmas means to me,
Christmas means to me giving thanks to the Lord that is good to all people and remembering the birth of Christ our Lord. Christmas is a time to give and to share. On Christmas Eve we open presents and after that we go to look at decorations downtown. But on Christmas day my nephew wakes up and is very excited. After my nephew opens his presents, we go outside and play in the snow. Especially Christmas means to me getting presents and being with my family and roasting marshmallows in our fireplace. When Christmas is over, we all give thanks and wait for the next Christmas.

Christmas means being nice and jolly and celebrating Jesus'es birthday. Seeing people you have not seen in a long time like relatives & friends. Don't be mean to your brother or sister don't be mean to people you don't even know. Help people get a good meal to eat on Christmas day. Do not frown smile and look happy even though you are not happy. Do not be greedy when you get a present you don't like, do not say I don't like this present because they don't know what you want.
Misty Dellinger

Christmas means to give. Like when you find somebody that has no clothing you can go and get some. Or when they have no food you can buy or give them some.
Christmas means celebrate Jesus's birthday. And to do what he wants us to do. That is what Christmas means to me.
James Leath

What Christmas means to me. It means sharing things with other people that dont have anything to wear or play with. And people that dont have food to eat or have no place to stay. And children that dont have friends to play with. And people that dont have family that live with them.
Edward Aguilar

What Christmas means to me is by sharing with people who don't have food cloths or shoes. It also mean by getting presents and other stuff. Also means by sharing food with your family friends and other people.
Vanessa Billalba

What Christmas means to me is caring for other people who don't have any friends or family to spend holidays with. I think that everyone needs a family and friends, but I know that some people don't. This Christmas I'm going to think about the people who don't have anyone to spend the holiday with, and be thankful about what I have; not what I want.

Kimberlie Speaker

It means that God was born. It means you should think about giving and not receiving. Think about someone els before your self and give to the homeless.
James Heiman

"Christmas to me means its better to give than receive." It about the birth of Jesus, when the three wise men gave the baby jewels and gold. But you feel something, saying "you did the right thing." Thats what Christmas means to me.
Charlie Rudinger

Christmas means it was the birth of Jesus. To care for people. To give and not to receive. To be with your familys. Show all of your love toward each other. Give gifts to the poor. To make new friends who have no friends.
Jeremy Hamilton.

What Christmas means to me. A lot of things mean christmas to me. One thing is that we celebrate Jesus's birthday. Its a spesica day for my family. Christmas day is a time for familys to get together. I think christmas day is the best day of the year. Christmas is a day of giving sharing. I do love Cirstmas!
Matt Thornton

Christmas means the smell of pine and fresh baked cookies. Christmas is when you are out and see all the jolly Santa's ringing their charity bells. Christmas also means driving at night seeing the spectralor christmas lights. And in their yards the navty scenes. With Baby Jesus in his manger. Actually, that what Christmas is about. But some people might forget it is Christs Birthday. They may think it is only of gifts. Thats not the meaning. If baby Jesus would not of been born, neither would we of been born. That is what Christmas means to me!
Kistina Shaffer

From the bottom of my heart to me Christmas means pouring out your heart and giving to people or kids that have no food to eat, no shelter to to keep then warm, no clothing on their back, and no shoes to keep their feet warm. So give to the poor or homeless. You make a diffrent to them.
Delosho Payne

Christmas means to me sharing love. think the way you act and why do you act that way it means to give to people that don't have the money to get what they need. Plus Christmas means to spend time with your family and let them know that you love them and don't go jumping around in circles turning flips screaming trying to think what you got for Christmas.
Elliot Forman

Christmas means being nice and aharin. it means being thankful for what you got. it means giving and sharing what you have. it doestn mater what you get it is the thought that counts. it means helping peopl. That's what Christmas means to me.
Angelina

What Christmas really means to me. Christmas is a peaceful jolly happy moment of the year. It means sharing and caring and make people you care about feel special not just people you care about. But make people feel special that can't have a Christmas. Christmas is a wonderful time expecially when you care an make all kind's of people feel real social. At Chrimas all kinds of peopl can feel so special because of nice friendly people who really care.
Nicole Smith

Christmas means to be thankful for what you all ready have. It means to help those children and adults that don't have nothin to eat or no cloth to wear. It means to care & share what you have with others who don't have what you have. It also means to make freinds with those who don't have freinds to play with.

Joe Montez

Christmas means to me is giving not recieving. Sharing and loving. Giving to the needy. Christmas also means to me is when Jesus died on the cross for our soles. Christmas is not only for giving to your friends or your family its time for loving. Being there fore the people who don't have anything. That's What Christmas means to me.
Tosha Stevens

Christmas means a lot to me. some of the things are Joyfulness. and happyness. but most lov- ingness. I think that Christmas is only for babies because they don't know what it means, all they know is presents, cookies, and fun. All others know what Chrismus is about. To celebrate Jesus's birthday.
Silvia Gomez

Christmas is a day for having a few days off of school and being with your family. Its a day for giving presents and for inviting some of your cousins over. Its about celebrating the birth of Jesus and its when we give Thanks for what we have. Going to church and praying also we give food to the poor and good homes. Thats what Christmas means to me.
Erick H.

Christmas means sharing with my family. It means that we care. Just being with my family is a good enoug gift for me. Loving them is good for me. Caring for my friends also. There is one important friend in the whole world that I like to share and care for is Tiffany B. That is what Christmas means to me.
Becky B.

What Christmas means to me. It means a time for sharing and giving. A time for being with family and friends. Also being thankful for what we have. That is what Christmas means to me.
Heather Spence

Christmas is the time to be joy but the best part for me is Being with my fammily and getting to see all my relatives. Half my relatives live in Lubbock. And being with my family is the only present I need.
Juan Payer

Christmas means having a big tree. It means having a big feast. It means being with your friends and family. I am thankful for the food I eat, the shoes I wear, for the clothes I wear, for the house I live in. I am thankful for the family I have. Christmas does mean getting presents but that isn't all. It is a birthday. And It means love. Why do you like Christmas.
Krista Johnson

This is what Christmas means to me. It is a time to celebrate the birth of Christ. It is when relatives and friends come to one place to talk and share gifts around the chistmas tree. When we eat a big fancy dinner. and be thankful for what we have. And give to the people who can not afford a nice Christmas.
Michael Jones

Christmas means a lot to me because you share and give people things. But the most important thing is giving to people who don't have food or anything to drink. Christmas means a lot to other people to. Christmas means caring for the people you love. Christmas is special because Jesus was born. Christmas means a lot of thing but you just can't think.

Latisha Hall

To me Christmas means to be with family and selabrate our christ birth. We all get to gether and pray. Then sing Christmas carrels. Around the tree people talk about Christmas & the things you do at Christmas. Well I gues what I'm bring to say is I think Christmas is all about family.
Tiffany Nowlin

Christmas means being with my family and ones I love To me Christmas means celebrating The birthday of Jessas. It means watching the little kids faces ligh up when they tear in to the Brightly colored presents. and Seeing the big bright colored lights shin in the dark. To me it means seeing that beautiful blanket of white snow lay on th ground. it means getting warm by a freplace and giving warm Its The Joy of giving insted of getting. The reason i like Chrismus is all the joy, all the christmas carols. People like the gifts. I like the rapping paper and the bows. I Love to put up the Christmas ornates, bows, candy cains, and all the trimmings. I speacly love the one and only SANTA CLAUS. Merry. X-mast
Daniel Leon

What Christmas means to me is just being around my family. It also means giving gifts to other people. I love to get gifts myself. But thats not all thats to it. My parents always get me presents that I love. and I would almost give any thing for it. Some kids only get like two or three presents a year. You should feel very lucky to get all the presents you do get. I am very thankful for everything.
Josh Palmer

Christmas means the smell of fresh pine Christmas trees. It means to share, and care to someone you love. It means to have fun with your whole family. It means that it is gods birthday. and to have merry. It means to decorate the Christmas tree and open the wonderful presents. It means to be good, and not to be very naughty. It means to do all of yur chores and to make sure that you do what your mom and dad tell you. It means to help them out with

What Christmas Means to Me.
Christmas is a time for sharing and giving and receiving. It is a time for laugher and joy. It is a time for happiness and singing songs such as "Joy to the World" "Do you hear what I hear" "Jingle Bells". It is a time fo making Art We make alot and lots of pictures. Eating candy canes and lots and lots of cake is nice part of Christmas.
Steven Dickson

What Christmas Means to Me.
What Christmas means to me is joy and happiness. It also means giving and sharing. It also means the birth of Crist. Also it means thankfulness and laughter. You give and you take on Christmas Eve there is a half moon and te Bethlehem star is right beside the half moon. The Bethlehem star is the star that the three kings found where the birth of Crist was. That is what Christmas means to me.
Samantha Mesker

What Christmas Means to Me.
What Christmas means to me that there is joy around the world.

That there is happiness and love in everybody's hearts and it means alot to me because Jesus is a part of it. Every Sunday from December we go to church even on Christmas Day. I like it because everybody is happy. I hope everybody get alot of presents.
Denice Arenivaz

What Christmas Means to Me.
Christmas is not a time just for taking for granted. It means that giving is better than receiving. It's a time fo visiting you cousins and freinds. It's not just to stay home and get your presents and eat. It's better to care for others and not be selfish.
James Wilson

What Christmas Means to Me.
It means that people get together and have a joyful holiday. It also means that people get together have a Christmas party and celebrate Christmas. I also think the Christmas morning is joyful because it is Gods birthday. It also means that you spend time with your friends, relatives and parents.

What Christmas means to me. Is that we get to celebrate Christmas. Then we get to eat candy. Then we can open presents. Then we can play with the snow outside. Then we all can decorate the tree and the house.
Esmeraldo P.

What Christmas means to me is that mom and dad always buy me toys and shoes. It also means that we always have a party on Christmas Eve.
Vicente Alvarado

What Christmas means to me. It means to me a time of giving and sharing. To me its not a time of receiving. Its a time of being together. It doesn't mean receiving because a lot of kids don't have Christmas because they are too poor. A lot of kids get a lot of gifts and are not thankful for them. A poor child would be so happy with one little gift. What Christmas means to me is a time of sharing and being together with your family not receiving.
Monique Ramirez

When I think of Christmas, I think of decorations, gifts, giving enough gifts, but most of all, I think of Angels, Jesus and His parents. Jesus was born on Christmas day. It makes me have shivers up my back! Christmas means being with my family just like Jesus was. It means opening gifts that my mom and dad give out of love. They open gifts that my sister and I give out of love. Christmas also means to be happy and joyful, not glummy and selfish. It means, also, for you to bring joy to everyone you meet. It means to mothers tre too. Christ lights up, an them. It m tions at sel Christmas n Shanna Di

What Christmas means to me I don't care if I get gifts all I care about is that I am with my family and friends and good food to eat. I go places on Christmas to see people. When I get there I play outside and try to build a huge snowman. But it falls to little pieces. When we go inside to eat. Then my family and I go back home. I have a fun Christmas with out gifts under a tree.
Sonya Arguello

To me Christmas is a time for giving, sharing and being with friends and family. It means sharing some of your best toys with little sister or brother. It's a time to be thankful for what you have and give things to those who are less fortunate. This year is one of my best and worst Christmases. It's the worst Christmas because tywo of my twin aunts aren't living with me anymore. It was the best because I will be with my family especially my mom and dad.
Also Christmas is Jesus' birthday. To me that is the best day of the year Jesus died for us on the cross and cleasred or sins. To me Jesus is my hero.
Sincerely,
Lindsey Fletcher

What Christmas means to me. Going some place where family and friends are. Spending time with your loved ones. Getting and giving what you think people would like. Decorate the Christmas tree and decorate the whole house up. It means putting decorations up at school. That's about all what Christmas means to me.
Brenda McCormick

Christmas means not only opening presents. But being loved and cared about. My parents love me very much. I try my best to be good. But with my little brother around none can be good. I love my parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins very much. But I am just in the fifth grade. And can't babysit or work because I am so small. So therefore I can't buy any Christmas presents. Because I don't have any money. But this Christmas I am going to sing them a song that I lern't in music. And that will probly be anogh. And Loving them is anogh to. And that's what Christmas means to me.
Dana Cate

What Christmas means to me. What it means to me is getting a bunch of toys, clothes, video games, and friends. I always get what I get under the tree. I get a hole bunch of nice things. I like Santa because he give me things. I give him cookies and milk. He gives me toys and clothes. On Christmas morning I get to go to the tree and open my presents. My Mom and Dad give my two brothers get up under the tree and open their presents. First we count our gifts to see how many we get and to see who has the most gifts to see if we were good or bad and then we open up all of our gifts. Then we go home, I eat some supper. Then I play with my toys then I watch some T.V. Then I go to bed. I sleep for a long time. I have good dreams and then I get up.
Christopher James Leal.

I think Christmas means love and it means sharing. It also means caring. But the only thing that I think it means is gifts and food. After Christmas Eve is the best day of the year because Christmas day is here and I get to open my parents at home. And then I will go to my grandma's house where I can open my other presents. Then after all the presents are open I will go wash up and get my napkin. Then I will get what I want to eat and sit down. Then I will put my plate up and open my present go outside and play then go home.
Danny Wilson

What Christmas means to me is celebrating God's birthday. And giving religion to earth and all the things Jesus did for us so he can get gifts that is simple and appreciated like smiles, and getting small gifts that makes our hearts warm inside. Deep down in my heart is Jesus but in my head all I think about are presents away from school and home work, and all that candies, toys, and gifts. And if I get a good Christmas it doesn't mean other people have a good Christmas. And that is the only meaning for it.
Stacey Gibbs

What Christmas means to me is getting out of school and opening gifts. But the most important reason is the birth of Jesus in Bethlehem. My dad says that's the most important reason. Every Christmas eve my dad tells me that story. After I open my gifts my family and I go to church. After church we all go home and drink hot apple cider. I think Christmas is the best time of the year and that is what Christmas means to me.
Jaime

Christmas means to me is the birth of Jesus. I first heard about it in Sunday School when I was seven. When I heard about the story I ask alot of quistons. I heard about the songs that told Jesus's birth and I enjoyed them. I told about it to everyone I met and they chuckedl every time I messed up. On Christmas eve night I imagined what it would look like that night. About him in a manger and the angles rejoicing and ect... the next morning I saw all the presents. Well, to come to it Christmas really means to me is a time to give and receive. A time for laughter and harminy. A time for getting together and brotherly love to all I guess it's a good thing that Jesus died to save us from sins. to get to the point I think Christmas is a time for peace on earth.
Brian Cook

Christmas means to me being with my family, singing songs, and eating a lot of food. I especially like Christmas because people are always happy. At night go to my grandma's house then Christmas morning my dad's side of the family comes over for breakfast and some games. But the thing I like best is being with my family and friends.
Jennifer Cohn

Christmas means staying in bed late, gitting and giving presents and the birth of Jesus Christ. It also means two weeks out of school and two weeks of hunting. But opening all the present I get is the funnest part of Christmas. But the part that gets you is waiting for Christmas to get here. Now we only have one week left till Christmas day gets here and it's the most nerve recking weak of the year, especially when you put on a Christmas program. We did the program twice. We sang Winter Wonderland Jingle Bells, Angles We Heard on High, a poem I learned of Being Good Before Christmas. December 25 in the First Day of the Year, Santa's on a Diet, A Simple Gift, and Holly Jolly Christmas. That's what Christmas means to me.
Blaine

Christmas means giving presents. I think people would thank God for bringing Jesus to the world and celebrate his birthday. I think Christmas means being happy. Christmas is not getting or giving. I think its giving love that counts. I think its singing, and dancing and the music. Christmas is more than carrying its loveing. Well, this is what Christmas means to me.
Christina

Christmas means to me that it's a time for sharing and giving not getting. Especially to people who have nothing or anybody to love and care for them. I'm just glad I have people who care for me. I also glad I have people to give to. I'm lucky I'm one that has a family who cares, a home to live in, and food to eat. I feel sorry for the people who will be out on streets this Christmas. I bet they don't care if they don't get anything fancy. All I want is someone who cares, I am having fun with my friends and family they will be somewhere out on the street they might even be dead. So just be glad you have a place to gather with your family and share the joy of Christmas.
Teddy Murray

Dear Santa,
To me Christmas means having fun with my failly and friends. IT means sharing, caring, and giving gifts. It doesnt matter if you get a big gift or small. At Chritmas you should be thankfl for the gift being alive. Some times it makes me sick tosee sme of these rich sobby people that keep al of their mone to them selves.
Tyson L. Seibly

What Christmas means to me,
Christmas means celebrating the day Jesus was born to save us. I think Christmas is giving not receiving. We are giving caned food toh poor and homeless.
Mindi Hesterson

Dear Santa,
Lots of young children think Christmas is all about receiving gifts. Well, I think Christmas is about the birth of Jesus and the wise men. Well, I think it's because in the Bible it says that the wise men brought gifts to Jesus.
Josna Adsumilli

What Christmas means to me,
Christmas means to me giving and not getting. Sharing aong others and being nic to others. Christmas is when families get together and do nice things.
Kimberly Martinez

What Christmas means t me,
Christmas means seen al of my relatives from out of town. And my grandparents who live far far away. It means eating and plaing with my cousin and my ants and uncle.
Marcia Talley

What Christmas means to me,
Is Christ being born. A time of giving not receiving, the reason why we give presents is because the wise men did.
Amy Billings

Dear Santa,
I think Christmas is about the birth of Jesus Christ. The three wise men brot presents to him while he was in the barn. People should give to the homeless and needy.
Devin Lee Avant

What Christmas means to me,
Means love, caring, and kindness. I act different than I usually do. Christmas to me is warm and showing how much you love someone by giving gifts.
Jessica Woolverton

What Christmas means to me,
To me Christmas means giving, sharing and caring for others. It means togive to relatives, friends or maybe even some one you donot know.
Sterling Vaughn

What Christmas means to me,
Love, feeling and caring for one another. Never brag because you have more or better stuff than your sister, brother, or anyone else. Just be thankful for what you have. Not get mad with your parents for what you don't have.
Frances Alcantar

What Christmas means to me,
Share your feelings and give. You don't have togive or receive anything but feelings. What is special about Christmas is how you feel or anybod else feels. Also dn't try to get on any ones nerves. Dont make a prsn mad at your. Jus be nice to people and your faily. It als means to have a wonderful and happy Christmas. To you and eveybod.
Joni Douglas

What Christmas means to me...
Time to be thankful for what you have Some children do not have food or clothing. Some children walk around bare footed. Many other children go for days without eating. Othe children are much more wealthy. They have food to eat. The have cloths to wear. Some children can even afford to buy anything they desire.
Brand Gutierrez

What Christmas means to me,
Christmas is when Jesus was born and died for us. It means caring and sharing for each othe. Showing your feelings for each other. To thank not about your self but about somebody else. Not to be mean to care about the prson youve been mean t.
Abby Saenz

What Christmas Means To Me
Christmas means a lot to me. It also means a lot to me because it is Jesus birthday. I also like it because of the presents and because of the Christmas trees. I also like it because there are parties and I love parties. I also like it because you have time to spend with your family. Best of all because there is no school.

What Chrismas Means To Me: The celebration of Jesus birthday and being with my family is what Chrismas means to me. Chrismas is my favorite holiday because every one seems happier, and I get to go shopping for presents to give to my grandma, grandpa, family, and friends. I wish every body a Merry Chrismas and a happy new Year, and hope Santa Claus gives all the children a special gift. And help me be on more winning titles.
Cassie Henkel

What Chrismas Means To Me, Is giving their givers and takers. Th gives give and give and they're because that's all they care about. Fakes will take al the time and they'll be unhappy and all they'll have is a gift they will outgrow in a few years. So what I'm saing is this year be a given not a taken.
Dale Ahler

What Chrismas Means To Me Chrismas means families, fun, laughter and last but not least toys!

Chrismas means Jesus's birthday on December 25, in the manger at Nazareth. Chrismas is not all toys but family. Chrismas is when your relatives can get together and celebrate Jesus's birthday. When you think of Chrismas you think of wreaths, lights, dear Santa, snowman, slays, Jesus and many more things. Chrismas is also the time for loving and giving. Although if you get something you don't like, you need to think of little kids in Africa that get nothing. That's what Chrismas means to me.
Chris Cavoll

Chrismas means to love. It means to give presents, not receive them. Its a time to think about Jesus, a time to gather around the Chrismas tree, and wait to be happy for what you get.
Aron Hernandez

I think Chrismas is a time of love and joy. Chrismas is when we celebrate the birth of Jesus. Chrismas means getting out of school so we can be with our family. It means giving gifts, not receiving them. You don't need a tree to celebrate. All you need is love. Even though Chrismas is supposed to be a happy time, it is also a sad time for some. People get drunk and cause many deaths. That's a shame because we're supposed to worship God, not kill people. Chrismas means being together with your family.
Adam Clayton Williams

Chrismas makes me think of snow, having family and friends over, and gifts. It's a tradition that had been going on for centuries, and it's for all ages. But most of all it's the day Christ was born in Bethlaham.
Alyssa Taylor

Chrismas is when Jesus was born and there was singing. Now there are lights around every corner. Families gather around the tables for a grand Chrismas feast. Chrismas spreads joy all over this land, and makes people cheerful. You open gifts and have the surprise of a toy you always wanted.
Stephen Lopez

Chrismas means being with the family. When we all get to my Grandma's all our parents start to talk. So we the children go to the tree and rattle presents. Now that's what I think of Chrismas ans I don't know the rest so I'll let you find out the rest on your own.
Cindy Birdwell

What Christmas Means To Me, Mos people think that Christmas means getting presents, I don't think that what Christmas is about. Everyone thinks about receiving and not giving. Christmas is not all about presents. Have you ever really looked at the word Christmas? Christmas is about the birth of Jesus Christ. We think of it as his birthday. You should think about giving and being happy. The beauty of its meaning is love on Christmas. A day of sharing, love, peace and joy and that's what Christmas is to me. Andrea Cavallos

What Christmas Means To Me, Is giving and sharing. Also when the whole family gets together and eat and share gifts. It means to give to the need. Christmas is the most wonderful holiday of all. Christmas is also when people give different people gifts and roses and other flowers. Jaime Urias

What Christmas Means To Me, Is a celebration of the birth of Jesus Christ. That is what Christmas is all about. And that's why they call it Christmas. It is about the Christ being born in a stable in a manger. The reason they stayed at the table is because there was no room for them at the inn. Christmas is also about getting together and sharing love, presents and food. You can also get together with family and friends. Christmas is a wonderful time. Adam T. Tindol

What Christmas Means To Me, Christmas means that we celebrate the birth of Christ. This started when Mary and Joseph were in Bethlehem to pay their taxes many, many years ago. A couple of months before this God spoke to Mary. He told her she would have a baby. God also told her that whenshe had her baby it would be a boy. The boy would be God's son in heaven. Suddenly there was a bright light in front of some shepherds. Then God said to follow this bright star and you will see Jesus Christ. The shepherds brought Jesus gifts of wood. Three wise men brought Jesus gifts of jewels. This is why we celebrate Christmas. Diane Johnson

What Christmas Means To ME, Christmas means the birth of Christ. That is why I celebrate it. Christmas is a time of joy. It is not a time of sorrow Christmas is when you share with people. It is when you give presents. You can also give to people who are not as fortunate as you and me. You should not be greedy during Christmas or anytime of the year. Adrian De La Rosa

What Christmas means to me, Christmas means sharing with other people. Giving people presents and being nice. It is when people in need. It is a time to give thanks and worship God in a fun way with your family and friends. Christmas means sharing with other people. Giving people presents and being nice. It is when people in need. It is a time to give thanks and worship God in a fun way with your family and friends. Christmas means sharing with other people. Giving people presents and being nice. It is when people in need. It is a time to give thanks and worship God in a fun way with your family and friends.

What Christmas Means To Me, Christmas means to me that everybody is together exchanging gifts and being thankful that you have gifts, and the next day having Christmas dinner with the people you love and having fun. And be glad you get to have gifts because some people don't get to have gifts like we do. Also giving gifts is what God likes us to do, not just receiving the gifts. Having dinners for the needy or just giving them a present is good. Going to Grandma's house to exchange present with her and eating snacks. Then to go back to our house and opening our presents. Then looking at our presents by the fire and fall asleep. The next day back to Grandma's and eating Christmas lunch and having fun. That's what Christmas means to me. Terri Kirkpatrick

What Christmas Means To Me, Christmas means a time of sharing with others, especially the less fortunate. I think we should include the homeless in our celebration of Christmas. Christmas means that we celebrate the birth of Jesus who was born on December 25, almost 2,000 years ago. That is what we celebrate at this day and time. So let us rejoice in his existence. I think Jesus is the most important person in the world. He looks over all of his people. Instead of receiving gifts he gives gifts. There's a special man Santa Claus. That is what Christmas means to me.

What Christmas Means To Me, Christmas is a time of joy. All of your friends and family all gather together. You talk about what you have done. You talk about how Jesus was born and how he died on the cross for us. You also get to go out and get a tree. You get to get lights and put them around the tree. You also put ornaments around the tree and put either an angel or a star on the top. Then you turn it on and watch it glow. Then on Christmas Eve sometimes we stay up till we fall asleep. The next morning we open all of our presents. Then after awhile we have to start cooking and get ready for the big Christmas dinner. Diammo Coleman

What Christmas Means To Me, To me Christmas day means the birth of Jesus Christ. On the night when there was no room in any inn for Mary to give birth. They went to a nearby stable. There Mary gave birth to a baby boy. They named him Jesus. Since there were no clothing for him they tore a piece of cloth from Mary's dress. They laid him on a haystack. As they were laying him down the North Star rose into the sky. When the 3 kings of Orient saw the star they followed it. Right under it they saw the baby. They gave him a crown, jewels, and other gifts. Christmas also means to be joyous, happy, caring, and loving. It means to invite family and friends to dinner also to play games, and that's what Christmas means to me! Tina Melendez

What Christmas Means To Me, I think Christmas is the best holiday ever. It is filled with presents, love, feelings and candy!! It is a great party! It happens like this... It's the 24th of December the children are excited and begging their parents to open at least one present on Christmas Eve. The presents and grandparents are wondering if the children got presents for them. Presents and when the relatives are coming. Then the relatives come and you can see children running around. They end up shaking and seeing how their presents are. Then all at once they notice it is 1:30 p.m. and the children say they need to go to bed to get up at 7:00 a.m. opening presents. When they are finally through they eat a great dinner and play games, and have a great time. That's what Christmas means to me. Carol Garcia

What Christmas Means To Me, Christmas means to love and to care for someone special. We should give love to the people you love the best. It also means to praise the Lord that you will always try to be good and never bad. Christmas means happy and believe in the word of God or believe in the Lord. It is also a time to think about someone who is special to you, and also to give love about someone who you give special presents to. Christmas also means to enjoy the presents you get from the ones you love best and to remember how much the presents mean to you as you receive them. You remember how much your aunt, uncle, mom, dad and grandparents love you. Also means to give love to the people you love the best. You have received.

What Christmas Means To Me, Christmas is a day of being thankful to one another and being thankful that Christ was born. It is a day of being happy and loving. It is a day when all your relatives and friends get to gether and celebrate. Christmas is very important to our state. If Christ had not been born we would not have many things that we have right now. Christmas is also a day of opening presents and being thankful for what we get. To me, Christmas is more important than any other holiday. Christmas is the most wonderful time in the year because of the snow and Christmas trees. Also because of the smell of the fireplace burning. There are many other things to but my favorite is the smell of the turkey cooking. This is my other favorite thing about Christmas. To here the bells ringing, that is what Christmas is all about. Brenda Koerber

What Christmas Means To Me, It is when my family comes and eats dinner with us. It is when you share with others and give to one another. I like the food and the candy and presents. It is when people get together and talk about old times. They watch football on Christmas Eve. The wives listen to music and talk about how the weather is in there town. The children go and play football, baseball, and soccer outside. After the football games are all over the men go deer hunting. About 6:00 clock we eat supper and then on Christmas Eve we open our presents. Kevin Olson

What Christmas Means To Me, As soon as we get out for Christmas holidays we drive to Christ. As soon as we get there the adults talk and the kids go upstairs or go outside. Me and my favorite cousin get together and mess around. Then about 2:00 lock, we go to the Country Club. When we get there me and Jaimie play tennis, go swimming, play basketball, play volleyball and jump on the trampoline. Then at about 4:30 we go pick up our great grandmother at the nursing home. Then at about 5:00 we go to the movies or go to visit Cathy our cousin. Then about 7:00 we sit down to a Christmas feast. Then after watching a tape of last Christmas the adults play dominoes. Then me and Jaimie play monopoly. After wards we go over to Dana's house Dana is the next door neighbor. She is only one year younger than us. Finally we go to bed. We wake up the next morning have breakfast. We then go upstairs and mess around in the attic. Then we go down stairs watch cartoons and have an equally busy day. Jennifer Walker

What Christmas Means To Me, Christmas means sharing with my family. I like to have my whole family to come to my house. I like Christmas because I get to see all my cousins. I like it because my aunts, uncles and grandparents come down. Christmas means to me that birth of Christ. I love Christmas because Jesus was born and we get Christmas gifts. Jesus was a very special man, he died on the cross for us. Jesus is the most important person in my life. Why Jesus is the most important person in my life is because forgives me of my sins and that is what Christmas means to me. Brandon Shifflett

What Christmas Means To Me, Christmas means to me sharing gifts and getting our families together and celebrating the birth of Jesus. Starting when there was no room for Mary in the inn. They gave birth to a baby boy. They named him Jesus. They tore a piece of cloth from the stable for the baby. They laid this star from the north and laid him down and gave him jewels and gifts and that is how gifts were given on Christmas. Another reason why it is because Jesus is the first baby. When on Christmas, Jesus died on the cross. That is why he is important. Christmas also means to me caring and loving with your family. Christmas is the joyful holiday because of Jesus being born. Nearly everyone celebrates it on that day. That is why Christmas means to me. Sammy Bennett

What Christmas Means To Me, Christmas means the celebration of Christ. It means families getting together. Sharing, helping, and gifts. Caring for others. It means a feast for the Lord. It means lights and decorations. It means the birth of Mary and Joseph had Nazareth to Bethlehem. There was no place to go when they were born. The innkeeper but he said a stable they could stay. Had Christ there in the manger. Mary named the baby Jesus. When Jesus was born everyone was surprised when Mary was chosen to be the mother of Jesus. Jesus was born in a manger on December 25. Now every December 25 we celebrate Christmas and December 24 is Christmas Eve. That's what Christmas means to me. Chris Arguello

What Christmas means to me is that no one is fights or not getting along and that little kids are happy for what they get for Christmas. Some of the kids put big happu faces on even my little sister does. She writes a letter of what she wants and that's what it means to me. Oh I forgot it also means all the family comes or goes to see each other. Michelle Edmondson

Christmas means love, sharing and spending time with your family. you get to celebrate with your family and friends and you get to sit by the fire. Nikki Jiles

To me Christmas means many things such as sharing and giving. A time to remember when Jesus was born. Celebrating Christmas is a tradition shared throughout the world. That what Christmas means to me. Chris Light birthday. On Christmas you see how happy people show their love for each other. I think of quiet sounds and songs. Diane Willard

Christmas means love. It also means fun. Christmas means seeing my family and it means putting things up. It means a good smell in the air. That's what Christmas means to me. Christmas means the feelings of giving presents to friends. Christmas means putting up lights. Christmas means putting up a tree with lights and stuff. Christmas means Santa is coming. When Jesus was born was because of Christmas. Clay Furlong

Christmas is a time of joy for all the little girls and boys. It is a time for presents and Christmas lights. Christmas is the funnest holiday in my opinion. It's a time for Santa to come to town. But most of all it's Jesus's Birthday. Alisha Thompson

Christmas means a lot to me. It brings joy to families an you have fun opening presents. When Christmas comes means Santa's coming an giving to the poor. It means red cheeks and raideer coming closer everyday, with Santa and his elves making toys for you an me. Christmas means a lot to me with all the families. Kim Green

Christmas means to share, to give, and to love one another. It's a time of joy, happiness and getting together. Then Santa comes and gives you toys. You put up your Christmas tree and stuff. Heath Rice

I think Christmas means a time for giving. Because when Jesus was born it was chosen to be on the cross and die for us. That's when I think about my family. It's a time for wishing each other a Merry Christmas. Kirk Fowler

Christmas means a lot to me. It is sharing and loving with other people. It is for families to get together and share their love. It is a sad day. It is sad because my dad died before I could see him. I wish on Christmas he would be there. That is what Christmas means to me. Jason Seay

Christmas means a lot to me. It is sharing and loving with other people. It is for families to get together and share their love. It is a sad day. It is sad because my dad died before I could see him. I wish on Christmas he would be there. That is what Christmas means to me. Stephanie Stone

Christmas means to me that you get together with your family. You celebrate Jesus's birthday. You get toys on Christmas, sing, songs and eat turkey. You put the lights on the house and tree, and open presents and have clothes and toys. Heath Blair lot of snow. Christmas means having fun, seeing all your family and lots of bells. Jamie Piper

I think Christmas is when a lot of your family come and you get toys and clothes. It seems every body is smiling and having alot of joy and fun. It means singing songs too. It also means loving the Lord. The house feels warm and snugly, but the day before Christmas when your in your bed you wonder about all the things you will get. Then you sleep on it and have dreams about it. Its just a nice and warm feeling. Jimmy Matthies

Christmas means everything to me. In Christmas you can give out presents to your family, friends and the poor. You can have a nice dinner with your whole family. You can go out in the snow and have snow fights. Christmas is the best holiday you can have. When you want to go shopping you can see lots of neat things. You can surprise your grandmother with a nice present. Christmas is my best holiday. Freddy Olivias.

Christmas means a lot to me because people give present. And your family came to see you. They like to sing Christmas Carols. Christmas is fun because people are nice to you. We get to see our family. They like to see us too. Christmas is the best holiday because lights light up the world. Tim Metcalf

What Christmas means to me! Jesus was born on Christmas. The day we should share what we have. We should give food and drinks to people who can't afford it. It also means joy love, and when we gather together means to me. Leah Scroggs

To me Christmas means a time for family. It is a time for families to get together and share their love. It is a sad day. It is sad because my dad died before I could see him. I wish on Christmas he would be there. That is what Christmas means to me. Michael Seay because of all the beautiful Christmas lights and Christmas trees. To me Christmas also means waking up early. Christmas means a whole lot to me. Sarah Jo Diliberto

Christmas means when Jesus was born and when the angel led the Sheperds to the town of Bethlehem to see Jesus. It means the wise men that broght gifts for Jesus. That is what Christmas means to me. Johnathan Best

What I like about Christmas is that when every body in your family comes and eats and plays football and after that we go to my house and we open presents that Mom and Dad, brothers, sisters and nephews give you. Then what ever we get we play with or try it out. Christmas is neat and every year I get what want most of the time most of the time I want toys, clothes and a baseball hat.

Christmas means getting together and opening presents eating and just to have fun. I am glad we have Christmas because if we didn't we wouldn't be going to my aunt's house. We wouldn't be going to open presents and we wouldn't be playing football, eating or opening presents. If we wouldn't have Christmas it would be awful because if we didn't we would just be setting at the house being bored. Kelly Bailey

Christmas doesn't just mean eating food or receiving presents. It means giving and families getting together all over the world. Even if you don't get anything you will know that you gave somebody something. Christmas is the most wonderful time of the year. Joseph and Mary went to Bethlehem. They went to an Inn but the Inn keeper said their were no more rooms. Mary said she was going to have a baby, but the Inn keeper said their were no rooms. But as they were leaving the Inn keeper stopped them and said they could stay in the barn. That night they had Jesus the son of god. Ernesto Requejo

To me Christmas means a time for sharing and we celebrate the birthday of Jesus Christ who was born on December 25, 1 A.D. When an angel came to Mary and Joseph and said you will have a child in the town of Bethlehem and she was very surprised. When they got to the town of Bethlehem the gatekeeper said unto them you will not sleep in here there is no room. And then Mary said to him "I am about to have a baby". He then said "If you can't find no room, you may sleep in the stable" so they went to the stable and Joseph made a quick bed for Mary. Then after he had finished he made a pile of hay for his donkey and got him some fresh water. The next day many people came to see Jesus and they worshiped him even though he was a baby. That's what Christmas means to me. Jason Lloyd Henry

Christmas means alot to me. It means very much to me when we open presents. It also means that we celebrate Jesus's Birthday.
Michael Lee

What Christmas means to me. I think Christmas is a time to celebrate the birth of Jesus. And I also enjoy opening presents Christmas morning. The reason we give presents is because the three kings brought Jesas presents. Another reason is you usuly eat a big meal and maybe even see some of your family. That is what Christmas means to me.
Cathy Paett

What Christmas means to me.
Christmas means having lots of fun. Christmas also means giving presents. When Christmas is here, you need others to care for you. Christmas is Jesus's birthday. Thats how Christmas came to be. When Christmas comes, it's time to put up the tree. It is time to go Christmas shopping, so you can buy present for someone you love or care for. Christmas is a special day for everyone.
Maribel Martinez

What Christmas Means to Me.
Christmas comes around every once a year. Christmas isn't just about gifts and toys. It's where you give, love and get to be with your family. It's also about Jesus's birthday. Jesus is very important in my life. He comes first in my life always, and he should come first in yours too. Most people think Christmas is just getting gift and not giving gifts. It's more important to give and then receive. Christmas is a really important day to me. It's not just to open gifts its about Jesus. I get excited on Christmas day to open gifts, but I always remember that it's Jesus's birthday. I hardly get to be with my family very often, because I go to gymnastics. That's why I also get excited on Christmas. I also hardly get to see my aunts, uncles and my cousins. That's why Christmas is important to me. That's what Christmas means to me.

Jennifer Perez

Christmas means to me putting up the tree Then eating Christmas dinner with my family and opening my presents and having fun with my new things.

Tatum Weeks

Christmas is a time of giving and sharing. Christmas is a time of giving and receiving. But most of all Christmas means Christ birth. That is what Christmas means to me.

Jason Marlow

What christmas means to me is that prisa the Laurd. And that you share stuff that you get. And that you give to others.

Jesse Alvarez

I think christmas is a time for giving. A time for sharing for being together. But I think the most important thing of all is Jesus birthday. Because thats what we celebrate christmas for right that is what christmas means to me.

Jonathan Watson

What christmas is to me... What Christmas is to me. It's when you give and get. It's also when you share and love. Christmas is a time of sharing and giving. But the most important thing about Christmas is Christ Jesus' birthday.

Michele McCormack

Christmas means very much to me. It was when Jesus was born. It also is a time of giving and sharing. It is when you show love to others. It's a time of family, too.

Amanda Nelson

What christmas mean to me is giving things. And we celebrate Jesus's birthday. We give presents to people we love. And then we will have a happy New year. It will be 1990.

Phillip Berry

Christmas means giving and sharing to me and celebrating Christ birthday. We celebrate Christ with a symble of Santa and snow we chunk snow at each other. When Christmas morning comes everybody rushes to the tree to open their presents but while we are opening our presents the Lord is having his birthday.

Matthew Shults

Christmas means everybody is supposed to get presents because it is God's day when he was born. So everybody should have a good time and celebrate. On Christmas day me and my parents open presents and have a good time together.

Billy Morton

Christmas is a day for Jesus birth. I like Christmas for giving and receiving gifts. But most of all Christmas is a time to being thankful for what we get and remember those who have less.

Angie Marquez

Christmas means to give in happiness, and celebrate Jesus birthda and when Mary and Joseph go to Bethlahem. I think the homeless could be friends they have no food or shelter. I wish I could buy every homeless person a warm blanket.

Christopher Yanez

To me christmas means not being greedy for what you get. Also it means that Jesus was born. Christmas it means to be nice and give presents too. Really christmas means to celebrate that Jesus was born.

Jennifer McWilliams

Christmas means that you don't fight or cuss. You don't get mad when your mom buys a gift and that gift is not the one you wanted. You pray in church when it's Christmas. You don't make fun of people who can't afford gifts.

Jesse Hernandez

Christmas means to me is the time to celebrate the birth of Christ. It is the time for giving and receiving. It is not the time for greed and getting mad if you didn't get what you wanted for Christmas. And remember some people didn't get presents for Christmas.

Immanuel Arriago

Christmas means it is the time to celebrate Jesus birthday. And if you do not get what you want remember some little boys and girls do not get anything.

Carmen Rodriguez

Christmas means expecting the Lord as our savior. Because Jesus died for our sins and he was born Christmas Day. Mary was having a baby and his name was Jesus. Joseph liked baby Jesus because he grew up to be a nice man. He helped us in many ways.

Diana Gonzales

Christmas to me, means a time to give and remember when Jesus was born. When I think of Bethlahem I think of Mary and Joseph and how Jesus came to life in a stable and why three wise men came to him with gifts. When I give a gift I feel happy, but I also feel sad when I think of those who cannot have Christmas because of wars or, because thier poor or, anything thing. So if you could give a poor person a gift you to would be happy.

Jonathan Wiley

Christmas means to me a time to celebrate the birth of christ. It also means to give and receive. Christmas is also one of my favorite holiday's.

Priscilla R. Abreo

Christmas means it is a time for giving. But it means to be happy for what you get because other people don't have what you have. It means not to get mad if you get a some clothes for Christmas. But most of all it is to celebrate the birth of Jesus. And that is all that Christmas means to me.

Lydia Marquez

Christmas means when Jesus was born. Christmas is a time when you should not be greedy. Christmas means to families to celebrate when Jesus was born. When you get a present don't get mad at your parents. Some people can't afford a present. If you didn't get what you wanted just be glad you got something remember some children don't receive anything for christmas. It doesn't have to be expensive or huge just be glad you got something from your parents. Christmas means you spend times with your family and friends. So I hope every one in te world has a great time not just half of the world. I mean the whole world.

Rose Ann Valdez

Christmas means that you don't be greedy about what you get for Christmas, and how much it cost. I'm glad that we receive and give. I'm glad that we celebrate Christmas and Mary and Joseph's baby that was born in Bethlahem. I am glad that Jesus deid on te cross for our sins. Christmas is a time when you spend time with your families and friends. I hope this Christmas it will be fun for every family in the world.

Adam Cruz

I thank Christmas means is that giving and receive. We also celebrate Jesus birth. You should not be picky about your present and how much they cost. Then you should be happy about what you get because you should know that there are people that would love what you what you get for Christmas and would like a fun and good Christmas.

Kami Ward

Christmas is a time for giving and receiving gifts. It is te time that Jesus was born on Christmas eve. It means to have Christmas dinner with family and friends, uncles and grandparents. It means to sing Christmas carols on Christmas eve.

Edward Flores

Christmas is a time for giving and receiving gifts. It's a time when families get together and eat big dinners. It's a time for singing Christmas carols. Christmas is a time to pray to our Savior, Jesus. That's what Christmas means to me.

Felicia Lara

What Christmas means to me is a time for giving and receive and not to be greedy at what you get at Christmas. Christmas is a time for loveing and to help the poor people. Christmas is a time for thinking about God and to sing carls at people doors and to give thanks to God, for this day that came. And to eat wondaful food and cake. Christmas is a time to opening presents and have fun for Christmas.

Ruby Favila

Christmas Means: For go so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. It also means to give more then receive.

Chris Cook

Christmas is fl of Loveing and caring. And it is also means the son of God is being reborn. And also it means giving and receiveing. Christmas means is ethering to me.

Heather Bonner

Christmas means to me when the holy child was born. And christmas means to me where there is happiness and a lot of joy. Christmas is a time for fun and the time for getting gifts. I love Christmas. Some people don't like christmas Me and my family likes Christmas including my sisters boyfriend, Alex. My sister's boyfriend gives us a lot of gifts. My sister doesnot gives us any gifts. We give Dorothy my sister a lot of gifts. My dad gives us some presents too, even my mom.

Erick Viasara

Christmas means to me happiness and all the joy that people can get. I feel sad when poor people don't have enough money. Sometimes I want to go out there and help them. So I can be helpful to God since Christmas is his son's birthday and share all the joy and happiness in the world. I want poor people to share things and have a happy new year and a very good Christmas.

Pilar Ann Hilario

Christmas is when Jesus was born. He died for us on the cross for our sins. Christmas means to like each other. He wants you not to fight. He wants you to play with each other. And not call each other names. If you call some one names you will hurt someones feeling. It is a time for sharing and giving.

Kim Yanez

Christmas means to me is Santa Claus. So does the christmas tree. Carols remind me of Christmas. Sitting by the fireplace drinking cocoa. Also atting my presents. Going to church to celebrate the birth of Jesus. Just sitting back and relazing reminds me of Christmas. Looking forward to see snow outside. Building snow men in the back yard. Thats what Christmas means to me.

Brian Nguyen

What Christmas means to me is knowing it is Jesus's birthday. It also means getting presents and having fun. Getting lots of toys and clothes. Clothes for school and clothes for play. Building snowmans and having snowball fights with friends. Christmas is a wonderful thing when you get Christmas cookies. I also think of Christmas as a time of sharing love and having happiness. Christmas is also fun, expecially when you get things to play with when you're bored or just want to have fun. Some people don't get to have Christmas and at Christmas everybody sosposed to get presents. I think those kids should at least get one gift to cheer them up. That is what Christmas means to me.

Michelle S.

Christmas means a holiday to me. You get big and small presents. The Christmas lights are so bright and pretty. The chimney where Santa come in. The tree covers the presents. The fireplace where you can roast nuts or marshmallows. You wait for Santa. May be write a letter him.

Andrea Velasquez

What Christmas means is a happy day of world peace. Some people want the world to stay the same as it is always has been for the last 1,989 years. But I want is to change. I want the wars to come to an end. And it also means the birth of a little child named Jesus who later became a priest and taught the word of God.

Rozeleo Ramirez

Christmas for me and for all of Jehova's Witnesses is a worldly festival and the true followers of God were not part of this world. We are in this world but do not take part in it. They are no part of the world just as I am no part of the world. (John 17:16) Jesus wasn't even born in December. In the bible it does not mention were celebrating his birthday.

Flora Gonzalez

What Christmas means to me. I like to be with my family on Christmas. It is fun to see people you don't get to see often. So Im glad there is a Christmas.

Rodney Tubb

I like to go out off town. I like to celebrate Jesus birthday. Christmas Caroling is fun. I like to roast marshmallows in the fireplace. The best part of Christmas is getting presents and seeing family. We get out of school for tow weeks. Putting up a Christmas tree and decorating. Thats what Christmas means to me.

Honey Belew

Christmas to me means giving and receiving. It's a time to see your family. It's also a time to get around the fireplace and roast marshmallows. But most of all Christmas is Jesus's birthday.

Brittney P.

Christmas means to me gifts, candy and seeing the family. I like the best is getting gifts. I like on christmas eve when my family brings in all the big presents. And put them under our tree. Then waking up in the morning looking at the gifts in the morning sitting on my chair by the fireplace. Then when every body wake up in the morning. That is what christmas means to me.

Brandon Polyniak

Christmas means giving presents. I like to tell my mom that I like these toys so that way she will buy them for Christmas. We always sit by the tree and drink hot cocoa and eggnog. I always shake my presents. And each Christmas I always use my senses. Christmas is also the birth of Jesus. Christmas is my favorite holiday because I always get big presents.

Eddie Campos

Christmas means to celebrate for our families to be together. To eat a nice dinner and visit with your relatives. Christmas is the birth of jesus. Christmas means giving gifts to one another. Christmas means to be kind to one another. I guess that all Christmas is. Jeff Denton

What Christmas means to me is to celebrate Jesus Christ. It is time to be with your families. We sit by the fireplace. We drink hot chocolate or cocoa at night. We put the Christmas tree and put the red and green lights on the house. It's time to get you families together and celebrate your birthdays that are near Christmas. So that you can open more presents than usual. Once I found a little present for me. I hoped it was jewelry for me. Then I found out what it was. It was silver ring from my dad in 1988. That's what Christmas means to me.

Michelle Owens

What Christmas means to me. Is celebrating Jesus birthday. Also I like to sity by the fireplace and drink hot coco. I like putting Christmas ornaments on my Christmas tree. Also I like going over to my grandparents house to open presents over at there house. Best of all I like to wake up and see al my presents under my tree and see whats in my stocking.

Justin

What Christmas means to me. That you get presents and it a day to cellate Jesus brithday. And we have lots of happiness and that we have a wonderful time. There is lots of snow sometimes and we could build a snowman.

Janell Yaney

Christmas is a holiday. On Christmas we have presents under the tree. We roast marshmallows in the fireplace. Santa comes trough the chimney. He puts more presents under the tree. This is what Christmas means to me.

Karen Franco

Christmas means to me fun, presents, and snow skiing, and snow fights, fun eggnog stocking snowman, reindeer, Santa Claus, candy, red and green, we celebrate Jesuses birthday, go around neibor hoods and loo at Christmas lights and the smell of the air.

Brock Gee

Christmas means a time of celebration and family. I like Christmas because you get presents. My grandma always makes Christmas cookies. Aunt Maura always let us gather snow and make snow ice cream. I really like Christmas. Opening presents is fun, but we celebrate Christmas off the birth of Christ. We have a Christmas feast of chestnuts.

Stefanie Waggoner

What Christmas means to me. Christmas is a celebration where you decerate the tree. You buy relatives presents. And you get presents too. Thats what christmas means to me.

Jacob Strain

What Christmas means to me. Christmas means presents, candy canes the besto f all Santa Claus, goodies and Christma cookies, pretty lights no school, playing in the snow and getting a red nose, the best to me is it is my Birthday and get lot of presents and some cake to eat and I hop I get lots of presents every year. I hop we all have a happy Christmas.

Mindy

What Christmas Means to Me.
Christmas is when you give and receive gifts. Christ was born on Christmas day. Peace and joy comes to people on Christmas. Christmas is a time for fun.
Andrea Price

What Christmas means to me.
Christmas is a time of giving and receiving. Also it is more important to give than receive. Christmas is a time of sharing and thinking of people that don't have any money and are right now wishing for the things you have. So don't think of yourself think of others beside yourself.
Mary Flores

What Christmas means to me.
To me Christmas means giving and tradition. It means me and my family sitting at the dining table eating our christmas dinner and then setting around the fire opening our presents.

What Christmas means to me:
Christmas means more than just clothes, money and toys. It means love. It is also the day Jesus was born. He gave me life, eternal life that is. The best present he gave me was to be a Christen and I am proud to be a Christen so I can go to heaven. That is what Christmas means to me.
Crystal Jowers

What Christmas means to me:
Celebrating the birst of Christ. It is always fun with family and friends. Looking at Christmas lights in highland, and Christmas trees in the windows. Opening presents under the tree: That's what Christmas means to me.
Tiffany Morrow

I Still Believe in Santa Claus
I still believe in Santa Claus. Maybe that's just because I'm still a kid in my heart. But I still believe in Old St. Nick. But, maybe that's what we all need in our life. Let's make this '89' Christmas last forever. Shine a little love to and from. For all those little children out in the world. Let love show us this Christmas.

Christmas means to me joy, love and a family joining to thank the lord for sending his son and the celebration of Jesus's birthday.
What I like doing is putting up the christmas tree and decorating it with ornaments. Christmas reminds me of Santa Clau. Every day closer to christmas makes me wonder what I'm going to get for christmas. Make sure your christmas surprize is a special one and have a very merry christmas.
By Cody Fryar.

Christmas means to me that I get to visit with my family. It's fun to give your family present and also to receive present. Then to have a good dinner with your family. To be nice to your sister, dad and mon.
To give your love to your family.
And do not fight so your mom and dad wont get made at your. So your want get hurt and in trouble. And you can let your friend play with your toys.
Robert Barton

When Jesus was born Jesus got presents from the Wise Men. Now we give presents and receive presents and to share the love and Jesus's birthday Singing
Christmas carols and eating

Christmas dinner.
Spending time with my family and relatives on a special night.
When I get back Christmas holidays I want to wear all my nw clothes ad boots and I'll get to play basketball. Basketball is my favorit spot.
When I go back to school I'm going to be ready to go and do my work on time. That's what Christmas means to me.
Merry Christmas
to all!
Traci Bellinghousen

Christmas to me means a time for giving thanks go God for sending his son to die for our sins. And it means to met to get to be with all of your family. You get to see your friends and your out of school. But,
I do like school very much.
It is fun on Christmas day, you get to play with you family that want's to play. My grandpa likes to take pictures on Christmas day. He has some fun, too, just like me! My grandma cooks stuff with my aunts. My mother has some fun reading or she watches T.V. My dad watches T.V. too.
Dondi Brewer

Christmas is a great time of the year. Christmas means Jesus' Birthday. most of the time every Christmas we celebrate Jesus Birthdayor we make a cake, and sing Happy Birthday. Our family always gets to together every Christmas. So that we all get at least one present. we put a number on one from each. Sometimes I play the piano and my mom, brother, sister, and me sing Christmas songs. We go to Dock's house, Kathaleen's house, Larry's house, and ten we stay home and unwrap we give them to each other. Most of the presents are decorated, and some are not.
Julia Egbert

Christmas means to me to be with your family and friends. It means to be happy not sad. I like it because it is a happy time of the year not sad. I also like it because it is Jesus's birthday and because I get to spend time with my family. I also like to do things like play in the snow and ice. It is also fun to sit by the fire place. I like to eat every thing in site.
Merry Christmas.
Nikki Ellis

Christmas means joy, thanks giving and Jesus' birth. I like giving and receiving why I like giving because I likto see happy faces.
Whenever there is white Christmases I love it because I can play in the snow. One year my brothers and me made three snowmans. What Christmas really means to me is getting your family together and visit them have a good meal with your family. I don't really believe in Santa Claus because it's my parents because when I was byoung I thought to leave cookies out for Santa Claus and one time I done it they was still there all five of them that's how I know but now I'm 9 years old and I don't believe in him. Christmas is my favorite holiday of the year!!!!!!
By Amand Epley

I think Christmas is having a get together with your family. having fun. Giving something and not receiving something. We selebrate
Christmas because of Jesus's berth.
Logan Gamble

Christmas mean to me the day

Jesus was born and the people made a day to give things to one and other because three wise men give Jesus presents to him. On Christmas I get together with my family We have a big dinner we have turkey and fruit salad. We play games in the house. This is what Christmas means to me.
Josh Gaston

Christmas means to me is lear-ing about Jesus's birth. I like giving I like getting out of school. I like getting gifts. I like giving gifts. I like putting up the christmas tree. I like helping my grandma put up her tree. I like eatting with my family and friends. I like, playing in the snow. I like riding in an 18 wheeler. I like seeing my ant. I like seeing my friend Esther.
Sarah Kennemur.

Christmas means to celebrating Jesuses birthday and get toys and cloths for Christmas. And decorating the christmas tree. And to open presents an givin my family presents letting themopne it and they say thank you and I say you'r welcome.
Gerald King

Christmas means joy to give and receive. It means to have fun giving to friends and friends giving to other people to enjoy giving and having fun to take to buy things for people and its is the time to share the food wth your family and friends and singing Christmas carols and having fun doing that.
Sharing Jesus's day he was born.
And eating all the food you can eat that's fun to. And ripping opening packages and having a time doing that!
Ricky and Tina Kinsey.

Christmas means to me Jesus birthday. It means joy, happiness and giving thanks. It means giving and not receiving. It means getting out of school It means getting a Christmass tree and decoratig it.
It means skipping down the hallway listening to Christmas music. It means having a Christmass dinner. I like to share my presents with my friend, Nichole. I like bying presents for everybody and thats what Christmass means to me.

Christmas mean's that we get out of school for two weeks. And we get to see our family and have dinner with our family.
When we go to church we learn all about Jesus wen he was born.
Then sometimes we go to the prade and get some candy.
Then sometimes we go to visit peopl and sometimes people come visit us.
And we get to put the Christmas tree. Then we put the charms on the tree.
When it snows we make a snowman.
Erica Partlow

Christmas to me is a time for giving thanks to the Lord for sending his son to die for our sins.
Christmas to me means spending an hour looking for a perfect Christmas tree to pur up and decorating it tomake it pretty.
Christmas to me means a time for familie and freinds to come together and have a feast.
Christmas to me means getting out of school and going on vacation to your grandma's and grandpa's for the Christmas Holiday. Christmas to me means giving presents to your friends and family. Christmas to me means to fell joyful for what we got and thankful to be alive to know that my family and friends love me. Christmas to me means looking at my presents ahead of time and my mother and father not knowing about it.
Carrie Robinson

Christmas means reciving and giving. It means all the love and joy in our hart after the prayer right before the meal. It means putting up the tree, putting up the lights in the cold weather.
But when I am helping my dad put up the lights. I think about the people who don't have a tree to put up or lights to put up on there house. I think Christmas is a time to have a family. I like playing football after the snow melts, because it muddy. I like having a good hot meal, then go play snowball fight.

On Christmas day I love, care and give. I mostly like to give people presents. I also like to ask Santa Claus for presents. When Christmas comes I like to no what I get for Christmas. My most favorite time is when we put up the tree. My tree is quiet bit. Once it is put up it looks pretty. When School is our for Christmas. I always go to my Grandparents. My Grandpa likes to build lots of things. Manely I go to his house to build things. My Papa has a big farm. I sometimes go to hi house to play and work on the farm. My Grany does lots of auctions. When I go to house I work on the auctions.

Merry Christmas!
Travis Womack

What Christmas means to me is love caring, kindness, giving and the birth of Christ.

The thing which Christmas really means to me is Jesus birth.

I'm now a Christian for I beliveth on him that had died for my sins.

If families don't get together theymay not get to see each other again for someone might die.

Christmas is a very important holiday for Christmas is the birth of Jesus. Remember the saying "It is more Blessed to give than to Recieve."

And have a Merry Christmas.
