Plane crashes

PUTNAM, Texas (AP) — A private plane registered to a company owned by Republican gubernatorial candidate Clayton Williams crashed in a rural area south of here this morning — killing all on board — but Williams' campaign officials say Williams was not on board.

There are "no known survivors" of the crash of the small plane, said National Transportation Safety Board Regional Director Tommy McFall.

McFall said six people were listed on the plane's flight plan, but a Williams spokeswoman said there were five people on the plane's manifest.

"All were business associates and dear, dear friends of Clayton's. They were all based in Midland and flying from Midland to Dallas on a business trip," said Williams campaign spokeswoman Mona Palmer.

Chamber banquet

BIG SPRING — Tickets for Saturday's annual Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce banquet on Saturday are available at the chamber for $12.50, said Whyane Moore, chamber executive vice president.

Spike Dykes, head coach of the Texas Tech University football team, will be the featured speaker. The master of ceremonies will be Robert Moore, a Big Spring attorney.

The program will include awards and recognition of volunteers. Among the awards will be the Blue Blazers awards, the Agricultural Producer of the Year award, and recognition of the Man of the Year and the Woman of the Year. There will also be recognition of last year's chamber president, Hooper Sanders, and the new president, Don Reynolds, whose term began Jan. 1.

About 450 people are expected to attend the banquet, Moore said. There are 592 members of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce.

Light rainfall

CROSSROADS COUNTRY — That unfamiliar wet stuff spattering windshields and making Valentine's day soggy really is rain, but not much of it.

The Agricultural Research Station in Big Spring measured .13 inches of rain this morning, for a year-to-date total of 1.22 inches. The normal year-to-date total is .86 inches.

Tommy Hart, on the east side of Big Spring, said his rain gauge measured .2 inches this morning, for a year-to-date total of 1.09 inches.

B.G. Barber, in the southeast section of the city, said his rain gauge measured .2 inches this morning. "It's been real slow and good," he said.

In Forsan, 2 inches of rain fell, for a year-to-date total of 1.7 inches, said O.W. Scudday.

In Lomax, Neil Fryar said it had been raining all morning and said about 3 inches had fallen as of 10:30 a.m.

Spelling alert

BIG SPRING — The Howard County Spelling Bee will be held March 6 at 4 p.m. in the Howard College Auditorium.

Spelling books are currently available at the Big Spring Herald office for 50 cents each, according to managing editor Steve Ray, who is coordinating the bee.

County elementary and middle schools will be having individual spelling bees before naming a school champion. Those school champions will then be eligible to compete in the county bee. The winner of the county bee will go on to regional competition in Lubbock and possibly national competition in Washington, D.C.

Jet crash kills 91

By SHARON HERBAUGH

NEW DELHI, India — An Indian Airlines jet with 146 people aboard crashed and burst into flames while attempting to land at a southern Indian airport today and 91 people were killed, authorities said.

The Airbus 320 crashed at 1 p.m. while on final approach to the runway at Bangalore airport, airline and airport officials said.

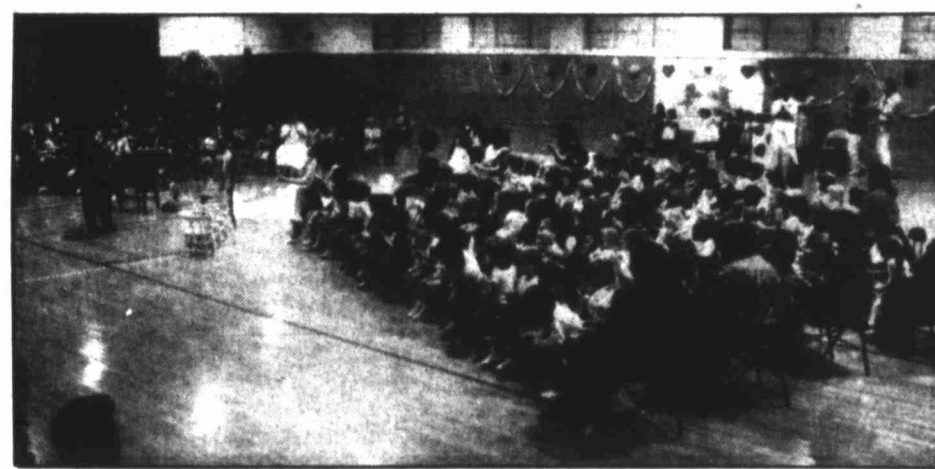

"The crash occurred before the plane touched the runway, and it caught fire as soon as it crashed," said P.S. Shetty, airport manager in Bombay, where the hourlong flight had originated.

Airline officials said the plane, which was an hour behind schedule, carried 139 passengers and a crew of seven.

One airline official said about a dozen foreigners were believed to be on the flight to Bangalore, one of India's richest cities and the center of the country's high-tech and research centers. But he said precise information would not be available for some time since nationalities are not listed on tickets.

A spokesman for the airline in New Delhi reported earlier that at least 135 people were killed. But airport officials in Bombay and doctors at hospitals where the victims were taken said 55 people survived the crash and were being

CISD plans single-member district elections

By PATRICK DRISCOLL
Staff Writer

COLORADO CITY — The Colorado Independent School District approved a resolution Monday for the special election of five school board trustees from single-member districts on May 5. Two other positions will go up for election in 1991.

The called election is the result of a settlement between the school district and League of United Latin American Citizens following a suit filed by LULAC on Jan. 30, 1988, to form single-member voting districts.

The suit maintained that the at-large system was discriminatory because it diluted minority voting strength. Last year's regular election in May was postponed by a U.S. District Judge in Abilene.

Of the five districts up for election, Place 4 on the West Side of the city is the only one designated as a "minority" area, said Superintendent Jim Ramsey. There is no incumbent.

That area is 62 percent Hispanic,

BSISD trustees face reelection

By ERIN BLAIR
Staff Writer

BIG SPRING — With campaign season for the Big Spring Independent School District's board of trustees starting Monday, neither of the trustees whose seats are up for election has decided whether to run again.

Dwayne Fraser, the trustee from District 3, said he probably wouldn't run in the school board election set for May 5 but he's leaving his options open. "I will have a decision for you on the first day of March," he said.

according to a door-to-door survey conducted by a firm hired by the school district. There are 863 people living there. Sixty are black.

Place 3, an area north of Highway 80, has been designated as an "impact" area, Ramsey said. "This is Fraser's ninth year and third term on the board."

"It's been a pleasant experience and one I've enjoyed," he said. "It's not something I want to get rid of."

When he's not voting on school policy and budget amendments, Fraser is an insurance agent with Paterson Insurance Agency.

Billy Pineda, the trustee from District 1, said he had mixed emotions about seeking a third term on the board.

"I've had a lot of calls from people in my district asking me if I'm going to run again," he said, "but the meetings and conventions take a lot of time."

His job as a corrections officer at the Big Spring Correctional Facility requires shift work, and Pineda said he could never guarantee that his hours wouldn't conflict with board meetings.

"I've had to go through a lot for the board to see what minority people need. It's been hard," Pineda said.

Pineda, who ran unopposed in the last board election, said his

C-City proposes budget

By PATRICK DRISCOLL
Staff Writer

COLORADO CITY — A proposed 1990-91 budget featuring an $18,740 reduction from this year's budget was presented to the Colorado City Council on Tuesday night.

Following the presentation of the proposed $2.34 million budget from City Manager Brenda Hammond, the council agreed to hold their first budget workshop meeting on Feb. 20. The approved budget will go into effect May 1.

The proposal includes a customary 3 percent tax increase; a cut from 47 to 45 full-time employees; $125,000 for water lines, meters and equipment replacement; and $230,700 for debt retirement.

It does not include pay raises for city employees, which prompted a protest from one councilman.

Maps showing the voting districts will be at all the polling places and in public places such as city hall and the schools. "It'll be expensive but it'll be worth it," Ramsey said.

The school board on Monday also approved a resolution for absentee balloting and at their next meeting will appoint election judges and alternate judges for each of the polling places.

Candidates filing for election must do so beginning Feb. 19 and before 5 p.m. on March 21. Applicants must file at the school district's business office-tax office on Hickory Street.

A drawing for the order of names on the ballot will be held March 22 at the school district's administration office on East 11th.

"can," he said. "I'd hate to say that we're not going to do that."

No comments were made about the reduction of two full-time employees during Tuesday's city council meeting. Hammond was out of town and unavailable for comment today.

The ending balance of revenues for this year's budget is $33,000, Hammond said in a statement given to council members Tuesday. However, "a smaller margin of revenues" is expected in the upcoming fiscal year, she said.

"Consistent with national patterns, the condition of our local economy is less than good," she said.

Citing the oil industry slump, decreased farm and ranch profitability and the climbing unemployment rate, she said, "The local economic picture is unlikely to improve dramatically during the next fiscal year."

"At the same time, however, we hope to hold onto the population of the city and provide continued infrastructure and services as well as use of city parks and other facilities," she said.

Hammond told the council that discussions with department heads during a meeting held that morning indicated they could work within the proposed budget.

Other proposed budget items include $25,000 in attorney fees due to a League of United Latin American Citizens lawsuit filed Dec. 4 to force single-member voting districts. The suit says that the current at-large system is discriminatory because it dilutes minority voting strength.

There is also $10,000 set aside to bring gasoline storage tanks into compliance with new Environmental Protection Agency regulations, and provisions were made for rising insurance costs such as workman's compensation.

In other action, the council voted to join a West Texas coalition of city and county governments that plan to send representatives to Washington to lobby for site-specific exceptions on proposed EPA landfill regulations.

The cost is $300 in attorney fees but proponents say that government entities could save thousands of dollars a year on just one variance of a rule.

'Driving Miss Daisy' leads Oscar nominations

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — "Driving Miss Daisy," the bittersweet story of a contrary Southern lady and her wise old chauffeur, led Academy Award nominations today with nine, followed by the Vietnam film "Born on the Fourth of July" with eight.

"Glory," the epic of black soldiers in the Civil War, and "My Left Foot," the story of an Irish cerebral palsy victim, followed with five nominations apiece.

"Driving Miss Daisy" earned nominations for best picture, and for acting by Morgan Freeman, Jessica Tandy and Dan Aykroyd, but surprisingly not for its director, Bruce Beresford.

"Born on the Fourth of July" scored for best picture, Tom Cruise's starring performance, and the direction by Oliver Stone, who also shared a screenwriting nomination with Ron Kovic, the disabled veteran-activist whose story the film portrays.

"Everyone worked very hard on this film, not only making it but trying to get it made," Cruise said in a statement from the Daytona, Fla., location of his latest movie.

Tom Cruise, appearing in a scene from "Born on the Fourth of July," was one of the nominees for Best Actor in the 1990 nominations for the Academy Awards in Hollywood today.

Kovic, about to board a plane in New York, called his nomination "Truly one of the happiest and most triumphant moments of my life."

The Academy voters demonstrated selectivity by nominating for best actor Kenneth

"My Left Foot" producer Daniel Pearson said Day-Lewis ran out in the street when he heard the news at his agent Julian Belfrage's office: "He's so thrilled, he's just run out of the building. At the moment, it's madness in here."

Isabelle Adjani of "Camille Claudel" was a surprise nominee for best actress. Other nominees: Pauline Collins, "Shirley Valentine"; Jessica Lange, "Music Box"; Michelle Pfeiffer, "The Fabulous Baker Boys"; and Miss Tandy.

Belying the legend that films released late in the year are favored in the Oscars, the voters nominated "Field of Dreams," released April 21, and "Dead Poets Society," released June 2, for best picture of 1989.

Other nominees for best picture: "Born on the Fourth of July," "Driving Miss Daisy" and "My Left Foot."

Among the curiosities in today's nominations: No major honors for the year's top box-office money maker, "Batman," which earned $251.2 million in 1989. There were no nominations at all for the critically acclaimed "Drugstore

Victim buried

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — A 13-year-old girl was buried with her teddy bear and library cards, a memento of her lardy book-borrowing habits and a spare touch of humor to lighten grim memories of the massacre that claimed her life.

Classmates and friends of Amy Houser huddled and cried Tuesday in a windy gravesite ceremony attended by more than 800 people.

The girl was among four people who were herded together and shot to death during a robbery Saturday at a bowling alley.

The other victims — Steve Teran, 26, his stepdaughter, Paula Holguin, 6, and daughter, Valerie Teran, 2 — were to be buried today in nearby Silver City. Three others were wounded and remained hospitalized, two in serious and one in good condition, hospital spokeswoman Terri Read said.

"Shock, outrage, disgust, anger, pain are but a few of the words that describe the emotions that all of us here, indeed the entire city of Las Cruces, are experiencing," the Rev. Tom Beggane said during Tuesday's funeral at Immaculate Heart of Mary Cathedral.

But Beggane told the mourners, "Allow your love and your memory of your friend Amy to help you to plant the seed of justice, the seed of love."

Austin cable flap

AUSTIN (AP) — Mayor Lee Cooke says the city should review cable program standards after two topless dancers performed a striptease act and exposed their breasts early Tuesday morning on a local public access channel.

The dancers were on an all-night music video show that aired live from 1:30 a.m. until 8 a.m. Tuesday. The program, called "Dull-A-Vision," is locally produced and appears three times a week.

"My wife started taking calls at 6 a.m. this morning," Cooke said. "I want to look at our contractual arrangements and see what sort of standards these shows have to meet. We will look into this."

Cooke refused to say how many complaints he received and declined further comment.

Scott Spurlock, producer and host of the show, said he invited the women to appear on the show and that they danced several times between 5 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. Tuesday at the request of viewers.

Spurlock said the women work at Zigfield's, a topless bar, and wore torn black dresses and G-strings, he said.

Cheetahs rejected

HOUSTON (AP) — A gift of three rare South African cheetahs has been rejected by the Houston Zoo because a city councilman expressed concerns that acceptance of the endangered animals would violate the spirit of the city's anti-apartheid ordinance.

The ordinance bars Houston from buying goods from South Africa, from dealing with firms that have loans in South Africa and from selling to agencies in South Africa that enforce apartheid.

Councilman Ernest McGowan said that although the cheetahs were purchased with private funds by the donor group, Zoo Friends, he felt that accepting the animals, bought from a South African zoo, would violate the intent of the ordinance.

Don Olson, director of the Parks and Recreation Department, said that Zoo Friends committed to purchasing the cheetahs four years ago to replace the aging cheetahs at the zoo.

Officials: Screwworms found in U.S. soldier

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — U.S. Department of Agriculture officials are asking veterinarians to be on alert for animals infected with screwworm larvae after the pest was found in the wound of a U.S. soldier injured in Panama and treated here.

Discovery of screwworm larvae in a soldier at Brooke Army Medical Center in December has raised fears of a reappearance of the pest after more than two decades.

A massive, 30-year biological control program eradicated the screwworm, first in the United States and later in Mexico.

Screwworms are the parasitic larvae or maggots of a blowfly species that feed on the flesh of warm-blooded animals. They can be fatal to livestock if untreated.

"We're asking any local veterinarian within a 20-mile radius if they find any larvae infestation in any animal wound to send it to our identification lab in Mission," said Paul Jensen, assistant area veterinarian with the USDA in Austin.

Authorities contacted the president of the San Antonio Veterinarian Association about a possible screwworm infestation.

The wounded soldier was among the first to arrive here Dec. 20 after the U.S. invasion in Panama, Brooke Army Medical Center spokesman Ray Dery told the San Antonio Express-News.

Screwworm larvae were removed from the soldier's wound. Some were saved for analysis and the rest disposed.

"There's just a remote possibility that anything escaped from the hospital," Jensen said. "The weather was in our favor."

A hard freeze that hit San Antonio Dec. 22 though Dec. 24 probably killed the larvae, which thrive in warm climates, said Dr. Norman Meyer, a Virginia veterinarian and trustee with the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation. The foundation led the drive to wipe out the pest beginning in the early 1960s.

Woman recalls aiding husband with murder

DECATUR (AP) — Sharon Green dabbed away tears as an investigator read her accounts of the hammer-slaying of an Amarillo stripper — a killing Mrs. Green said she participated in because she was afraid of her husband.

Tarrant County sheriff's investigator Wayne Boggus testified in Mrs. Green's murder trial Tuesday that Mrs. Green gave conflicting accounts of the deaths of four people — two women in Wise County and two men in Tarrant County.

At first, Boggus testified, "she said the only thing she participated in was moving the body."

Later, she admitted hitting one victim with a hammer and stabbing her because she was afraid of her husband, Ricky Lee Green, according to statements read in court Tuesday by Boggus and Wise County District Attorney Pat Morris.

Ms. Green is being tried on murder charges in the slaying of Betty Jo Monroe, 28, a topless dancer from Amarillo.

In the statements, Mrs. Green told investigators her husband had Ms. Monroe in the back seat of a car and that Ms. Monroe was crying when Green picked Mrs. Green up at work in Fort Worth on Oct. 12, 1985.

She said she asked her husband about the woman and he replied, "Just don't worry about it. I'm going to kill her," according to one of the statements.

She said she got in the car and they went to the couple's mobile home in Boyd, Sharon Green put her daughter to bed, the statement continues, and after telling Sharon to shut up, Ricky took Ms. Monroe into the bathroom where Monroe was gagged and bound.

Sharon said she went out of the bathroom, heard her husband use a claw hammer to hit Monroe, then heard Monroe say: "You hate me, don't you?"

She said she also heard sounds she described as stabbing noises. She told investigators her husband forced her to stab Ms. Monroe and hit her with a hammer.

Texas Ranger Gary De Los Santos testified Tuesday that Mrs. Green repeatedly said she obeyed her husband because he repeatedly threatened to harm or kill her.

Committee considers end to dancing ban at Baylor

WACO (AP) — In an era of mind boggling changes such as the end of the Berlin Wall and the installation of a form of democracy in the Soviet Union, another change just as unlikely may be on the horizon as a Baylor University committee considers an end to the 145-year ban on dancing on campus.

William D. Hillis, vice president for student affairs, said Tuesday the student affairs committee of the Baylor Board of Trustees is looking at the 145-year-old ban on dancing.

"It's being talked about," Hillis said. "The trustees are considering a number of matters right now through the student affairs committee, and that's one of them."

Trustees Chairman W. Winfred Moore said Tuesday he would be in favor of a student dance on campus.

A student task force studying the dancing issue petitioned Hillis last week to allow a dance on campus. The panel includes representatives from five student groups, including the Student Congress and Student Activities Board.

Steven Murray, co-director of the Student Activities Board, said the time has come for dancing on campus.

"That philosophy on dancing is kind of old," Murray said of the prohibition. "I don't consider this a bold request, but its time has come. It might be a little overdue."

Hillis said there is no formal university policy against dancing on campus. He said the prohibition is deeply rooted in Baptist tradition.

That tradition, dating back to the early 1800s, links dancing with drinking alcohol, Hillis said.

Baylor does have a policy concerning alcohol — it's not allowed on campus.

Moore, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo, said the Baptist tradition against dancing has no basis in scripture.

"It's kind of like the old pool hall and the bowling alley," Moore said. "It's not the game itself, but the things that went with it, or the perceptions that went with it, that people objected to."

Moore said he would favor having a student dance on campus.

"My wife and I have chaperoned high school dances and I see no problem with them, as long as they are properly supervised and you keep alcohol and other attendant evils away from there," Moore said.

Trustees would have to approve any plans to have a dance on campus, Hillis said.

Don't increase the stamp rates

If Postmaster General Anthony M. Frank gets his way, the price of sending a first-class letter will go up a nickel to 30 cents in February of 1991. That would be the biggest increase in the postal service's history if this proposal is approved by the Postal Service Board of Governors on March 6.

According to Mr. Frank's figures, the 20 percent increase would far outpace the 14 percent projected rate of inflation between 1988, when the last increase was implemented, and 1991.

However, Mr. Frank says he is "committed to paying back the American people that 6 percent" difference, by holding future increases to only one in the next 10 years.

Excuse us for being ungrateful, but that doesn't sound like a very good deal.

Since 1960, the cost of stamps has increased 525 percent while the consumer price index increased only 325 percent. Is he also going to pay us back for that 200 percent discrepancy by holding increases on stamps to only once in the next 10 years?

The only way Mr. Frank can pay back the American people is by not increasing prices on stamps and by running a more effective and cost efficient operation.

Cheers to no smoking policy

To the editor:
While visiting the Herald plant the other day, I was delightfully surprised and pleased to note that you are now a non-smoking establishment. Everything looks and smells so clean.

I visited with two of your employees, one at the Herald and one outside salesperson, who smoke and they both commented that they enjoy the surroundings and don't mind being prohibited to smoke even though they smoke.

You are to be commended for taking this "modern day" approach. Those of us with health problems (allergies and lung problems) really do appreciate this and have hopes that other community leaders will follow your example.

Sales tax is best answer

To the editor:
Why are the property owners expected to pay for all the services that everyone in Big Spring benefit from? Why can't the sales tax be raised and let everyone pay their own way for a change? Ms. DeAnda said in her letter that the old and poor shouldn't be expected to pay sales tax. I can tell her one thing for sure, I'm getting older and also poorer, (from all these property taxes). A lot of old-poor people own property. What happens when they don't pay? The city gets richer by taking over property. Please people stand behind our mayor.

I read with interest Ms. Dunnam's remark "I prayed for Max to resign." I think she should read the Bible and learn to pray "God's will be done and quit praying for personal gain."

I was glad to read another biased column by Ruth Cochran about the alleged gambling. They say it's legal as long as it's discreet and kept in house. Several months ago I read where local law officers raided a hotel in Big Spring and arrested several for prostitution. They were very discreet and kept their operation in house also. They were so discreet that the law had to hire someone to catch them in their act, so please Ruth Cochran define discreet for the eyes of the law. The Bible says a sin is a sin and the Lord says He will be the final judge. Too bad some people will meet the Lord before they know they sinned, then it will be too late.

Now back to taxes, I say raise sales taxes and let the freeloaders of Big Spring pay their own way and pay for the services they receive (police and fire and ambulance protection). If any property owners want to pay more I'm sure they can take their... donations to the right people.

In my opinion city council and officials want another "yes" man and not a mayor.

Mayor showed concern for city

To the editor:
I am appalled at the City Council for their petitions concerning our mayor. This man is only showing his concern for our city, and he certainly should investigate any suspicious activities. We did have a fair city council not too long ago, however, now we have three members that should definitely be removed. There is great prejudice now and it is aimed at the whites and gentiles.

Example: If one is not bi-lingual, many local jobs are null and void. The new prison, the department of Human Resources and HUD to name a few. If these people come here and can't or won't learn the national language find one interpreter for all.

If they really want to act like Americans, let them do away with their clubs (LULAC) and eliminate their own personal and national views.

I am of Crow and German descent, and my ancestors learned English.

Let Mayor Green continue to do things that are benefiting our city, and let's make some changes in our city council, so that it equals the time when we had council members like Gary Don Carey.

Green elected by majority

To the editor:
I am not a political person. I am neither Republican or Democrat, so I do not feel I have to follow either party. I vote for the person I feel is best suited for the job. That person is Max Green.

I do not know Joe Cook, but, I feel he is doing a good job.

I do not know Max Green or any of the others involved. I feel Max Green was elected by the majority of the people and has served with distinction and will continue to do so if given the chance. He has kept the taxes as promised plus other necessary business.

Max Green made a mistake and apologized for it. He is still human and still doing a good job for our city if given the chance.

The present situation in Big Spring is like a three-ring circus. Most of the actors are the clowns. They remind me of a pack of wild animals. When one is down or hurt, all the others have to jump in to inflict pain and destroy.

I hope people will think before signing any petition. The outcome could be disaster for our city. We will not be able to vote for a replacement mayor. This person will be appointed for us with no choice in the matter.

I hope you seriously think about this before it is too late.

Put aside past mistakes

To the editor:
I read with considerable interest Ms. Carrie Dunnam's dissertation published in the Herald's Public Forum section of Wednesday, Feb. 7.

I certainly respect her right to voice her opinion, as aptly illustrated by the Herald's by-line quotation from Voltaire that appears on that page.

Therefore, I should appreciate the same opportunity to voice one citizen's response to Ms. Dunnam's critique on Big Spring's present predicament.

First, let's dismiss the rhetoric. It sheds light on nothing useful to the solution of the problems. Let's identify the voiced objections with specific clarity:

1.) Who are the "good ol' boys" to whom Ms. Dunham refers? I would certainly like to know, so that I can be a more intelligent voter next time.

2.) I, also, would be very interested in knowing how and when these "good ol' boys" have dictated our past and present courses of action. If the past actions of these "ol' boys" is to be judged in a fair light, I'd say many of them did a commendable job, considering all facets of the geographics and demographics of the area in which we live and work.

3.) Last, but not least, I wholeheartedly join in Ms. Dunnam's plea for a "plan" for the coming decades. I'm sure many other concerned citizens of this fine community join her in serious concern for such a plan. Very probably some of Big Spring's "good ol' boys" would join us in that concern.

Now, more than ever, we need to put past mistakes and personal feelings behind us, seek economically rational solutions to these serious and costly problems, and do our dead-level best to implement a "plan for the coming decades."

Social Security editorial unfair

To the editor:
I was dismayed to read your recent editorial ("Adding Insult to Injury"; Dec. 17, 1989) which, I believe, unfairly categorized Social Security efforts to modify the Medicare monthly premium amounts as "ludicrous." The editorial completely ignores the complexity of the work required and dismisses the last minute congressional repeal of the catastrophic legislation as an aside not worth consideration.

In order to adjust the Medicare Part B premium amount to reflect repeal of the catastrophic care law, Social Security must screen all 40 million master benefit records to identify individuals affected and calculate the different premium amounts. There are over 230 such premium amounts based on a variety of individual characteristics. In addition, more than 150 different software programs interact in the Social Security payment process. All of these software programs have to be modified, requiring the development of special software for each program.

We informed Congress that any changes in the Medicare premium would have to be finalized no later than Oct. 24 in order for us to make a timely adjustment. Congress did not repeal catastrophic until the end of November. Your suggestion that we should have had a contingency computer plan is frivolous. It would have required massive expenditures of resources — both in terms of staff resources and dollars — based on guesses about what Congress might or might not do. Such an approach by Social Security would have been true fiscal irresponsibility.

Let me assure your readers that Social Security is doing everything it possibly can to expedite these changes and refund any premiums overpaid. However, it is equally important that the adjustments be done correctly — without creating other computer problems that might adversely affect benefit payments.

Rechannel recall energy

To the editor:
I do not intend this to be a criticism of any member of the City Council, the mayor, the police chief or the media, but if the energy that is being expended on this recall was channeled into worthwhile goals for our community instead of nullifying the image that so many citizens have worked so hard to create, we would be well on our way to having one of the best cities in the Permian Basin. We need to faceup to the realization that there are no solutions to some situations but there are partial solutions to most situations.

The City Council is our board of directors, elected to serve the community by operating a multi-million dollar business that effects all our lives. It is not a position to be used as a sounding board for personal feuds to the extent that it is an embarrassment to the community and could cause far reaching negative results.

Conducting the business of our city in an intelligent manner is far more important than trying to solve a personal vendetta through the media. No one expects the council to always be in agreement. It would not be good if they did, but I think the majority of the citizens of Big Spring do not appreciate the problems of the city being handled like a schoolyard tug of war. We expect our elected officials to rise above their disagreements and do what is best for all concerned. It is time to practiced the art of give and take and not push and shove. If the mayor or any council member is guilty of a crime then, certainly, a recall would be in order but not over a difference of opinion. I, personally, resent the fact that my tax money may be used to finance a recall election when it is needed in so many critical areas and, especially so, when it is based on a personnel problem and a personality clash between the council members.

It is time for all of us to forgive and forget and for the mayor and the city council to get on with the business of operating the city.

Why fuss about football pools?

To the editor:
I sure miss those football cards, and I won my share as I was sure lucky in those days. I also won the Kentucky Derby card one year, $5 a horse on that one.

Alhambra, Calif., had strict "gambling laws," but these cards was not considered gambling because every cafe, beer joint, and bar room and lounge had these cards. Police saw them and some would take a chance on a number. No one ever complained about this practice.

Yet in the back of Herb's Bar, some men were shooting dice. A policeman they all knew and drank with, walked up and jumped them out, and carried them all before the judge. Of course Herb was told and followed with a handful of cash to pay their fines.

Once we were having a party, and some wanted to play penny-anti poker. I knew the law, so I took all the silver and bills off the table and my wife counted them out "pennies." A man standing outside the window, said, "Can anyone get in this game?" I said, "Sure, come on in. The more the merrier."

He came in and showed his badge and said, "If you had anything but pennies on the table, I have to run you in for gambling." He came over with a box of matches he saw in the cupboard and said it's not as much fun with matches as it is with pennies, but do it for my sake. And we all changed to matches, each match was worth a penny.

Here is my point. If a nice city like Alhambra, Calif., allowed restaurants, and public places to have these fun games, I for one can't see why the chief and his boys can't enjoy a little wholesome fun at this time of year, on football cards, as long as they play in the station and amongst themselves.

If Alhambra, Calif., didn't consider it gambling, for the love of Mike, I can't see why Big Spring should raise a ruckus about a little fun game.

Big Spring: put up or shut up

To the editor:
After meeting several times with both sides of the issue in the mayoral recall, I found no movement by either side. Each feels strongly in their position.

Those who have taken out petitions believe the mayor has lost his effectiveness as council leader because of inappropriate procedures and believe the voters should decide the issue.

Those who are supporting the mayor feel just as strongly that only a very small number of people are unhappy and a recall election will further divide the community as it did in the 70s.

Therefore, it is my conclusion that it's time for the community to put up or shut up. Sign the petition or support the mayor.

I will be in Dallas most of this week, in Abilene over the weekend, and in Austin next week. Therefore, my involvement in trying to bring about a peaceful settlement has ended.

Recall election too expensive

To the editor:

Three thousands U.S. dollars. What would you or I do with thirty crisp one hundred dollar bills? Maybe a trip on a cruise ship to some exotic port, a new roof on the house, or just blow it on a new wardrobe. Nope. None of the above. What Gail Earls, Pat DeAnda and Carrie Dunnam have planned for three thousands or more of our tax dollars (estimate City Secretary Tom Ferguson) is to have a so-called recall election aimed at removing Mayor Max Green because they're unhappy. Now the way I see it we have three council persons who are unhappy and they have 11 people collecting signatures of registered voters which will do nothing for the voters, other than establish the fact that they are registered. Now I can establish that for myself by looking at my current registration card. And I can do that for a lot less than three thousand dollars. What it boils down to, is the people elected Max Green, the council wants to override that and appoint their own mayor. So let's call it like it is. A recall appointment. All we are going to elect is a go ahead for the council to do as it pleases or we'll keep Max Green for his normal tenure. Either way we're out three thousand dollars. I say let it stand. Drop the recall and wait for the next regular election. It's three thousand dollars.

Three escaped inmates still free

CALUMET PARK, Ill. (AP) — An inmate who escaped from a maximum-security prison was captured today after a tow truck operator who gave the man a place to sleep for the night recognized him from news reports, state police said.

Four other inmates, including three convicted murderers, who escaped from the Joliet Correctional Center on Sunday are still at large.

Terry W. Colburn, 21, of Bloomington apparently was picked up by a motorist late Tuesday while hitchhiking along a Chicago expressway in freezing rain, said Capt. Dan McDevitt. The motorist, whom police would not identify, took Colburn to a friend's tow truck operation in suburban Calumet Park, where the hitchhiker could spend the night.

Lonnie Bramlett Jr., owner of Airline Towing, said he suspected nothing when his friend arrived with the cold and wet stranger, but later at home, after watching television accounts and reading newspaper reports of the escape, he became convinced the stranger was one of the fugitives.

He called Airline Towing to warn the dispatcher, then called state police. Colburn, who was serving a term for burglary, was arrested without incident at 12:45 a.m. He was not armed, McDevitt said.

All-male club may admit women

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — One of the two remaining all-male eating clubs at Princeton University has voted to admit women, but two more rounds of voting must be conducted next year before female students can join.

The Ivy Club, formed in 1879, voted 51-23 Tuesday to allow women, said Robert Garrett, the club's undergraduate president.

Club policy states that two consecutive votes must be held to alter rules. Garrett said the second vote will be next year, followed by a vote by the graduate board, made up of Princeton alumni.

The Ivy Club and the Tiger Inn are the only two of the school's 13 private eating establishments that do not admit women. Most juniors and seniors take their meals at the clubs, which are housed in private homes near the campus.

Their exclusion of women was challenged in state Supreme Court last week by Princeton graduate Sally Frank, now a faculty member at New York Law School.

Aspen voters reject fur-free town

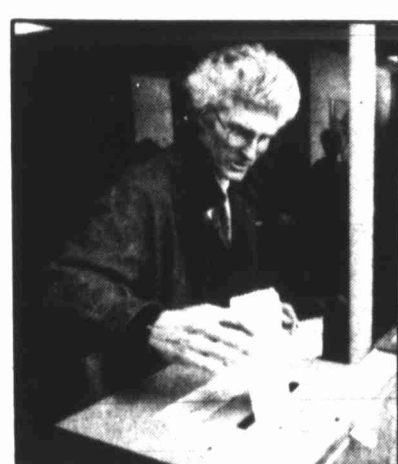

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Voters rejected by a 2-1 margin an attempt to make this Alpine resort the nation's first fur-free town despite a campaign that attracted animal rights activists from as far away as Sweden.

Residents also voted Tuesday for growth, defeating by 1,561 to 1,051 a measure to reduce the size of a luxury hotel by 25 percent, and approving measures to widen the highway leading into town and a bond measure to build employee housing.

The winners hailed the results as a victory for free enterprise.

The losers conceded that the mood in the town, home to "gonzo" journalist Hunter S. Thompson and other eccentrics, had taken a lurch beyond the bourgeois.

"People seem more concerned

ASPEN MAYOR VOTES

with business and monetary gain than other values," said Katharine Thalberg, who with her husband, Mayor Bill Stirling, led the fight for the fur-sale ban.

DUSHANBE, USSR — Soviet Interior Ministry troops with armoured vehicles guard the government house in the Tadzhikistan capital on Monday following riots in which at least seven people have been killed and over 100 have been injured.

Gorbachev pushes president system

MOSCOW (AP) — Mikhail S. Gorbachev urged lawmakers today to approve his plan for a Western-style presidential system after several of them balked at the idea, calling it premature and vague.

Members of the Supreme Soviet, the national legislature that resumed its session after a two-month break, raucously debated the leadership's proposal to call an emergency session of their parent body to broaden presidential powers.

An adviser to Gorbachev said he expects the new president to be elected within a month by the larger legislature, the Congress of People's Deputies.

The 58-year-old Kremlin chief took the floor at the end of the debate and delivered an angry attack on his critics.

"Unless democracy is strengthened and insured by corresponding mechanisms, democracy will perish and we'll lose," Gorbachev told the 434 members of the legislature.

Referring to the government's former repressive policies, he said the victors will be forces who want "to tighten the screws even tighter than they were earlier."

Some people, Gorbachev said, are proposing the Soviet Union follow the "Romanian version" and are "equating Gorbachev with Ceausescu." He was referring to Nicolae Ceausescu, the Romanian dictator executed in December after he was ousted in a popular, pro-democracy revolution.

Vice President Anatoly I. Lukyanov recommended to the Supreme Soviet earlier today that it call the 2,250-member Congress of People's Deputies into session on Feb. 27 to strengthen the presidency.

A European-style presidency would strengthen Gorbachev's government powers while further weakening the control of the Communist Party apparatus.

The call for a special session of Congress follows by one week the party's historic decision to end its 72-year monopoly on power and lift the strict Marxist prohibition on private ownership of factories.

East German economy suffering

BONN, West Germany (AP) — East German Premier Hans Modrow, who is expected to be ousted in coming elections, ended his summit in Bonn today with promises of major West German investment but no immediate cash to bail out his economy.

Modrow and Chancellor Helmut Kohl also agreed to begin talks on eventually making the West German mark the official currency of East Germany.

But Modrow's brief summit was overshadowed by an agreement between the four World War II allies on eventual reunification of the Germanys. The Germanys, France, Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union agreed in Ottawa on Tuesday to hold talks leading to reunification.

The hard details on merging the Germanys politically and economically, however, are not expected to be tackled until after East Germany holds its first free elections on March 18.

U.S. troops to stay in South Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Defense Secretary Dick Cheney today pledged no "drastic reduction" of U.S. troop strength in South Korea and said America's commitment to its Asian ally remains strong.

However, he was expected to press for a sharp increase in the South Korea's financial support for the 43,000 U.S. troops who are stationed here under a 1954 mutual defense treaty signed after the Korean war.

"U.S. troops will remain in Korea as long as they are needed to guarantee the peace, and the Korean and American peoples and governments want them to remain," Cheney said after arriving from Hawaii on the first stop of a two-week tour of Asian nations hosting U.S. forces.

"The U.S. commitment to Korea remains firm and unequivocal... speculation regarding a U.S. withdrawal from the peninsula or drastic reduction of our troop presence here apparently disregards the obvious: the threat to peace on the peninsula remains real and has not diminished," he added.

Mandela willing to compromise

SOWETO, South Africa (AP) — The African National Congress is willing to compromise with the government on details of a post-apartheid political system as long as the principle of black rights is ensured, Nelson Mandela said today.

The 71-year-old black leader, giving his first interviews since his release Sunday after 27 years in prison, was asked if the ANC was willing to ease its demand for a one-person, one-vote system that would lead to black majority rule.

"Compromises must be made in respect to every issue, as long as that compromise is in the interest not only of one population group but the country as whole," Mandela told reporters outside his home. "That is the nature of compromises."

The ANC repeatedly has rejected any system falling short of one-person, one-vote. Mandela has stressed since his release that his movement would like to address white fears of black domination, although he opposes the government's concept of "group rights" which would give special legal protection to whites and other minorities.

Bush secure on Colombia visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senior White House official acknowledges "unusual circumstances," including the easy availability of arms to terrorists, are guiding security preparations for President Bush's visit to Colombia.

But national security adviser Brent Scowcroft said "all the agencies involved in presidential security are comfortable with the arrangements" for Bush's trip to a four-nation conference on drug trafficking.

Bush meets Thursday with the presidents of Colombia, Peru and Bolivia at a heavily guarded, secluded military base at the resort city of Cartagena.

Attention was further focused on security Tuesday as police reported that leftist guerrillas had kidnapped two Americans in the drug capital of Medellin, Colombia, to protest Bush's visit. They were identified as David Kent, a teacher from Indianapolis, and James Donnelly, employed by a company that manufactures hydraulic equipment. Donnelly and his Colombian wife were released about three hours later, police said.

Colombian authorities say some 5,000 security agents will be in Cartagena to protect the four presidents.

Two American warships have been deployed in the Caribbean, along with a Colombian escort ship.

The U.S. vessels are the USS Nassau, an 820-foot amphibious assault ship which carries helicopters and a Marine landing team, and the USS Sampson, a 437-foot destroyer armed with missiles and two five-inch guns.

Scowcroft acknowledged risks are involved in the trip.

"Of course, it's an unusual situation because there are in Colombia these guerrilla bands, terrorist bands with access to funds to purchase on the open market any kinds of arms, and so naturally there are unusual circumstances," Scowcroft said.

Students fare well at show

Stock show

Members of Sands Future Farmers of America traveled to El Paso to compete in the 1990 Stockshow. Advisor Lon McDonald was proud of the performance of every student from Sands that participated. Awards were presented to the following students: John Snell — first angus heifer, (champion angus); Matt Snell — second angus heifer, (reserve champion); Anna Hall exhibited two barrows; Jordy Hall — sixth hamp pig; Marcus Carr — third and fourth hereford heifer; Jennie Carr — fourth hereford heifer; Patrick Nichols — eighth heavy weight OPB pig, 19th light weight OPB pig; Jody Howard — 13th heavy duroc; Michelle Howard — 17th heavy OPB pig; Raemi Fryar — first hereford heifer; Courtney Fryar — 14th heavy hereford steer; Clayton Fryar — fourth light hereford steer; Clay Parker — 13th light exofie steer; Chris Bilbo exhibited one crossbred and one medium weight lamb; Justin Hambrick — seventh light weight cross lamb; Aaron Cowley exhibited two medium wool lambs.

By placing high in the standings, the animals shown by Clayton Fryar and Justin Hambrick made the sale in El Paso. Participating in such events is a good experience for all students, by teaching them to take responsibilities well. Raising show animals takes an all year commitment from the kids. Training is time consuming, but when competition is completed these students know all the hard work was worth it. Keep up the good work.

Reading awards

Former residents

When I began writing this column I had no idea that so many people read the Herald. Not only local residents but some who are former ones still receive a subscription although they no longer live in this area. Clara Adams, and her daughters Paula and Carol Ann, moved from Knott about 11 years ago and still maintain a subscription to the Herald. Clara is involved in many church and organization activities in the Dallas area. Paula received her degree in journalism and marketing management from Baylor University, and is now pursuing her degree in law.

Carol Ann graduated from the University of Texas at Dallas with a degree in political science and economy. She is a pilot, having earned her instrument, single- and multi-engine commercial certificates, and hopes to become a pilot for a commercial carrier. I am very honored to know, that there are people living outside this area who are interested in the activities that occur in their former hometown. Many thanks to Paula for the encouraging thoughts in her recent letter to me.

Mustang hoops

On Feb. 9 Sands High School journeyed to Welch to compete against Dawson in final roundball action. In boys JV action the Mustangs defeated the Dragons 64-53. Patrick Nichols had a great game scoring 27 points, and Johnny Gomez tossed in 16. The Lady Mustangs totaled their game by devastating the Dragons, 58-22. Janan Staggs 19, Heather Schuelke 12, and D'Nae Brown had nine points. In the boys varsity contest Sands led Dawson from start to finish, dominating the game both on offense and defense. Eric (Air)

Herm had an outstanding game with numerous assist while tossing in 20 points of his own. Jay Johnston was high point with 22, consisting of 16 and 19 tosses from the charity line. Adrian Zarate attributed 12 points while under heavy pressure. With this victory Sands claimed the 16-1A District crown, under the outstanding direction of third-year coach Jerry Gooch, the Mustangs with a record of 21-4 and 9-1 district will now compete against Grandfalls in playoff action at a time to be announced. Meanwhile Sands will compete against other playoff hopefuls to sharpen their skills. Tues., at Dawson, Sands will scrimmage Plains High at 7:30 p.m. On Friday, they will play Ira, at Stanton at 7 p.m. On Feb. 20 the Mustangs will compete against Sundown, at Dawson at 7 p.m. Outstanding achievements have been accomplished by Sands boys as they have claimed District titles in both basketball and football in the 1989-90 school year. Look out competition because we are on our way to the top!

Winter warmers

Hot and hearty classic recipes for those cold winter months

Hot and hearty, full-flavored and satisfying — that's what winter fare should be. Whether simmered slowly or served in short order, it should look delicious and taste even better.

Try this new collection of chill-chasing recipes to brighten all your winter menus. Created by PACE picante sauce home economists with an eye toward fuss-free preparation, each recipe reinterprets a cool-weather classic with spicy, fresh appeal. Ideal for family meals as well as casual entertaining, they rely on the cook's choice of mild, medium, or hot sauce for their garden-fresh flavor and lively jalapeno "heat."

Picante Pork Stew slow-simmers pork and colorful vegetables to zesty flavor perfection with little attention from the cook.

In Tex-Mex Meal Loaf, ground beef or turkey teams with beans, picante sauce and border state seasonings for a lively loaf to serve warm from the oven or chilled and thinly sliced for sandwiches.

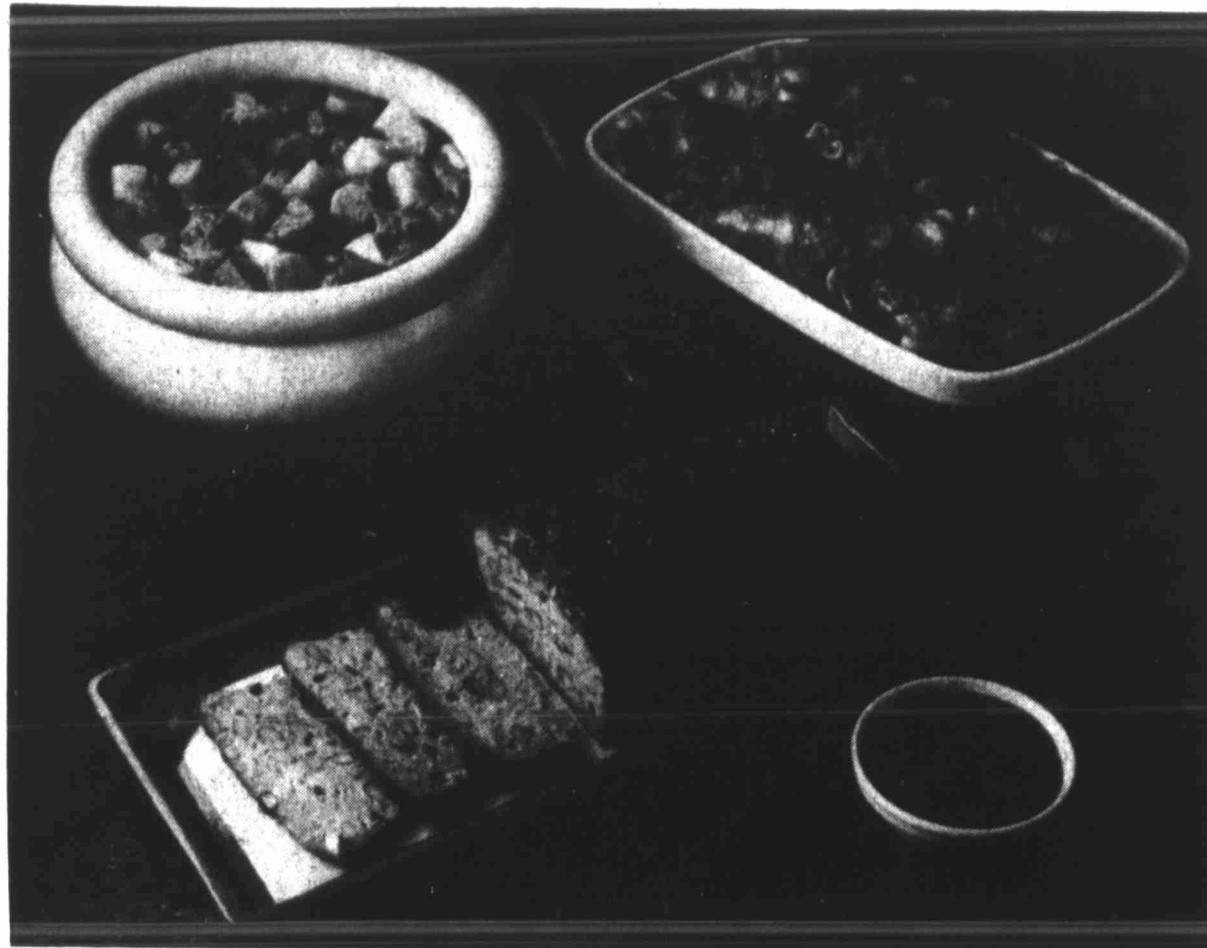

Thai-Style Skewered Chicken broils marinated chicken chunks, bright bell peppers and onion with a basting sauce that duplicates the rich, exotic flavors flavored at Thai restaurants.

Inspired by a Mexican classic, Chicken Picadillo showcases traditional south-of-the-border flavors without the need for specialty seasonings and tedious pepper preparation. And, for Spicy Chicken Cacciatore, a zesty version of the traditional Italian favorite, picante sauce "punch" adds new flavor excitement.

A man is master of his own kitchen

Remember, men, as you step into the kitchen, you are the master. You are the artist, the kitchen is your palette, and the dining room table is your canvas. You, and only you have the power to create, to make something out of nothing, and do it with a flair. When all this is done properly, you can then stand back and look with satisfaction at the beaming faces of your family as they sit down to a gourmet meal.

As we continue with our one-dish meals we will fix for the evening meal a:

PORK & BEAN & HOT DOG CASSEROLE
Hot dogs (1 lb., diced)
Onion (1 medium, diced)
Catsup (1 tablespoon)
Bacon slices (6)
Tomato soup (½ can)
Pork & beans (1 can)
Mustard (2 tablespoons)
Brown sugar (2 tablespoons, or Blackstrap molasses)

This is so simple its ridiculous. Mix all the ingredients together. Bake in a 350 degree oven for about

How to open an egg

20 minutes with the casserole covered and then for eight to 10 minutes uncovered. Oh yes, be sure to put the bacon slices on top of beans before baking. This casserole will be a great hit with the kids. Also it's great for the food budget.

With this dish, we will have a salad. This salad can be a meal in itself, but we will serve it with the casserole.

EGG SALAD
Eggs (6 hard boiled)
Celery (¼ cup, finely chopped)
Pickles (¼ cup, finely chopped)
Salad dressing (¼ cup)
Vinegar (1 teaspoon)
Dry mustard (¼ teaspoon)
Pepper (¼ teaspoon)
Onion powder (just a dash)

Chop the eggs, then add the celery and pickle. Combine the remaining ingredients, mixing well. Add to the egg mixture and mix carefully. Serve as a salad on crisp lettuce, and garnish with carrot curls. Once again, be creative. Food pleasing to the eye is pleasing to the taste. You can also use this as a sandwich filling.

Now for a dessert that will top off this meal. This is one I really like. It's called:

CHERRY DELIGHT DESSERT

You first make a graham cracker crust and press into an oblong dish. You then add the following filling.

Mix together:
Cream cheese (1 8-oz. pkg.)
Powdered sugar (1 cup)
Whipped topping (1 pkg.; make according to directions on pkg.)

Pour this mixture over the graham cracker crust. Now top this with 1 can of cherry pie filling. Chill and serve. Now this is a meal the family will long remember and ask for repeats.

Woman is less than flattered by her co-worker's imitation

DEAR ABBY: I work with a woman in her mid-30s who came to our company about a year and a half ago. From the moment she met me, she started telling me how much she liked my clothes, hair, jewelry, etc. She wanted to know where I could have possibly found such good-looking clothes. I told her I bought the dress I was wearing at a little shop not far from the office. I didn't give it another thought until the following week; she walked into the office wearing a dress exactly like the one she had admired on me. I was flabbergasted!

It didn't stop there. She had asked someone in the office where I bought my eyeglasses. Within a week, she was wearing glasses exactly like mine — the same frames, and slightly tinted. She asked where I got my hair cut. You guessed it! She had her hair styled like mine. Pretty soon we were looking like twins! Of course, everyone noticed. It became the office joke.

Dear Abby

I became very irritated and deliberately had my hair restyled. I even changed the color. You guessed it — she followed suit! I finally came right out and told her how much this look-alike thing irritated me. She acted shocked, then she trotted out that old saw: "Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery."

Please print this, Abby. I want her to know how sick I am of being her unrelated "twin." — WANT TO BE ME

DEAR WANT TO BE ME: Don't count on it. The woman obviously admires your taste, but her brazen imitative behavior makes her appear both nifty and foolish.

She's more to be pitied than ridiculed. Offer to go shopping with her to help her select some clothes — unlike yours, but suitable for her. And perhaps your hairdresser could dream up an individual hairstyle for "Miss Monkey See,

Monkey Do."

DEAR ABBY: You recently ran a letter from "Assertive and Glad of It," dealing with how to put drop-in guests in their places to keep from being imposed upon. Having been raised in the South, I have a hard time with this type of behavior.

If I dropped in on friends and was told, "I'm sorry you didn't call first — we're awfully tired this evening," or, "We have a lot of housework to do tonight — we'll talk to you tomorrow," they wouldn't have to worry about talking to me tomorrow — or ever!

Southerners have a saying as their friends leave, or when saying goodbye. We say, "Y'all come." We do not say, "Y'all make an appointment," because we mean, "Y'all come anytime." (I make appointments with dentists and doctors.)

Abby, anybody that I count as a friend can come to my house at any time. If I'm sleeping, I'll get up. If I'm working on my car, I'll stop. If I'm in the middle of doing something I have to finish, I will invite the drop-in friend to visit while I work. If I'm gardening, I'll put down my tools. If my plants die while I'm visiting, so what? Plants are cheap; friends are priceless.

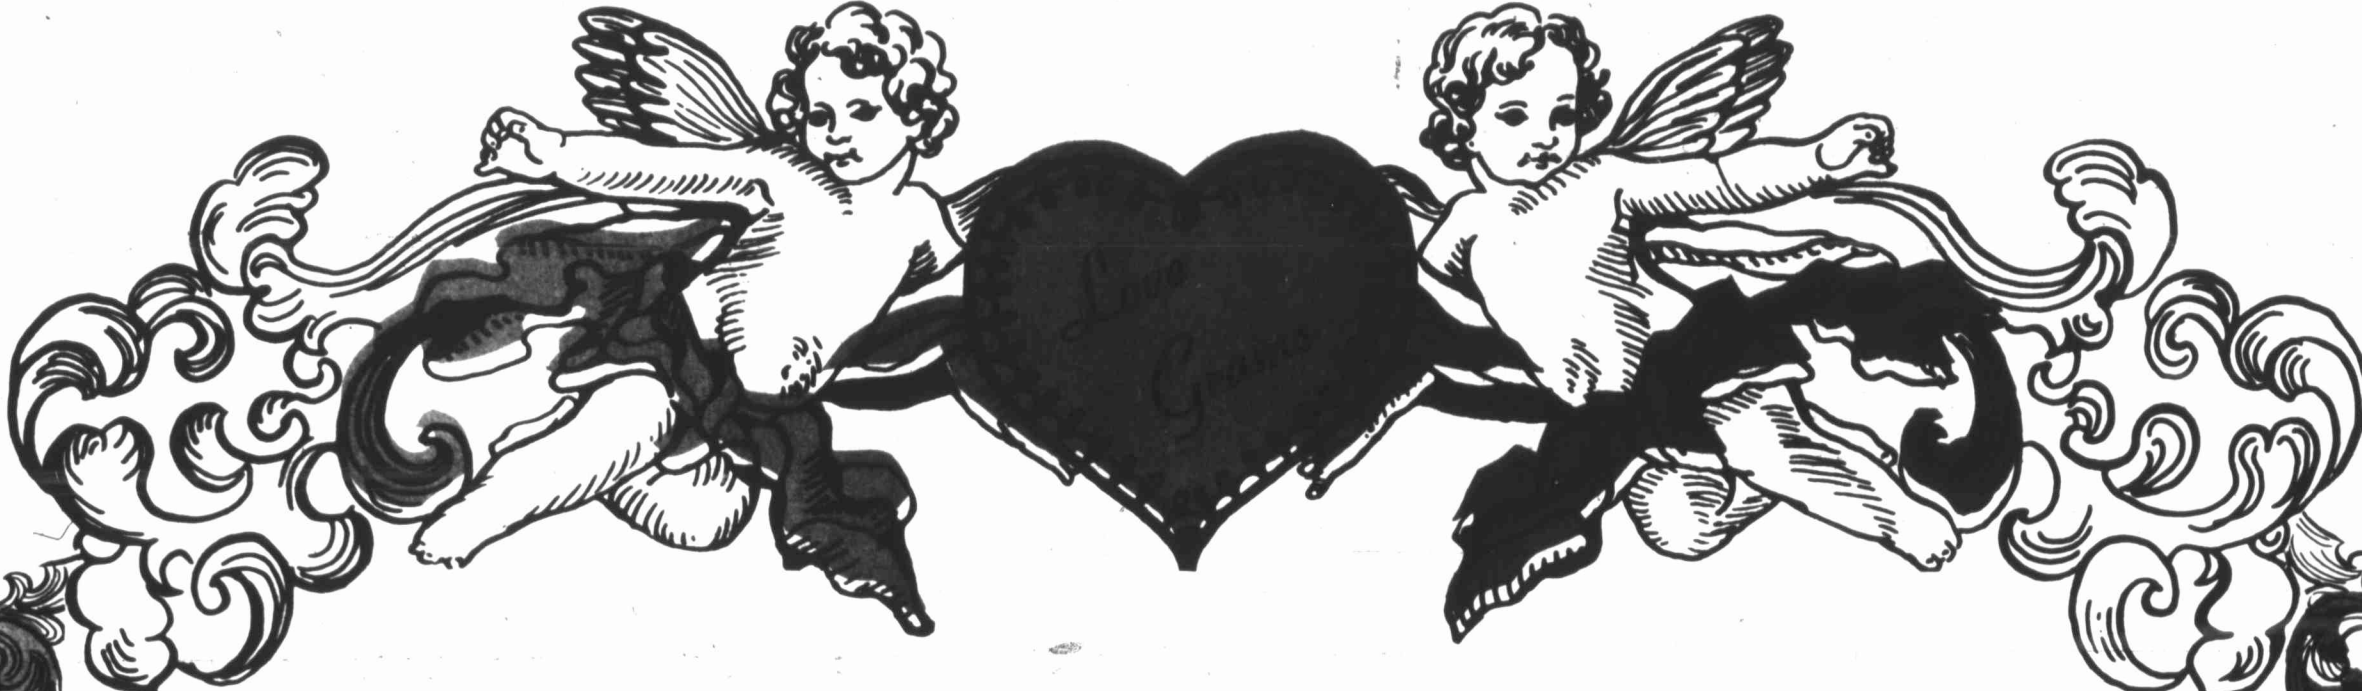

It's a sad world when a friend drops by and is told to come back later. — PEOPLE LOVER

DEAR PEOPLE LOVER: I admire you. You sound like a wonderfully friendly person who takes the time to smell the flowers. Just don't drop in on a busy editor who's fighting a deadline.

DEAR ABBY: For your information, Thomas Crapper was indeed the inventor of the first flush toilet. However, in any future references to him, he should be addressed as "Sir Thomas Crapper," as he was knighted by Queen Victoria. — FRANK J. BURKE, GLENDIVE, MONT.

Lady Steers earn playoff spot

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

COAHOMA — It took some last-minute heroics from some unlikely heroes, but the Big Spring Lady Steers are now in the state playoffs for the fourth year running.

The Lady Steers — playing without their two top inside players, who had fouled out — hung tough in the fourth quarter against a Snyder rally to defeat the Lady Tigers, 67-62, in a District 4-4A playoff game here Tuesday.

The win allows Big Spring, now 22-9 for the season, to advance to the state playoffs for the fourth consecutive year. The Lady Steers, runner-up of 4-4A, will meet the defending state champion Levelland Loboettes at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Lamesa Middle School Gym.

Gasila Spears scored 19 points, Peggy Smith tallied 16 and Jennifer Hendleman added 13 for the Lady Steers. Anne Osborn — who scored 31 points the last time the two teams met — scored 24 to lead Snyder. Evette Housden added 13 points for the Lady Tigers.

After spotting the Lady Tigers a 12-4 lead early in the game, Big Spring rallied to take the lead after one quarter, and held that lead for most of the game.

However, things became tense for the Lady Steers when Spears fouled out with a minute left in the third quarter and fellow inside player Amber Fannin followed her to the bench a few minutes later.

It was then left to reserve post player Amber Grisham, a sophomore, to guard Osborn, who had scored 22 point in the first three quarters.

Grisham, with occasional defensive help from reserve Bridget Black, came through with flying colors, limiting Snyder's post player to a single basket in the final eight minutes. In addition, both Grisham and Black came up with key points in the waning moments to help seal the win.

"The difference in the game was that the seven girls who played pulled together like good teams will," BSHS coach George Martin said. "Amber and Bridget did a good job."

Big Spring's biggest lead came in the third quarter, when a Spears lay-in gave the Lady Steers a 38-29 lead with 5:28 left in the quarter.

Snyder, however, rallied behind the shooting of Osborn and Housden, and, with 2:10 to go in the quarter, tied the game at 44-all on a pair of Osborn free throws.

Big Spring guard Stephanie

Smith hit two free throws on the ensuing possession, and the front end of a one-and-one a few moments later, to regain the Lady Steers' advantage. Spears followed that with another lay-in to give Big Spring a 49-44 lead.

Spears, however, fouled out a few moments later trying to rebound a Peggy Smith misfire.

The last quarter consisted mainly of Big Spring opening a two-or-three point lead, and Snyder rallying to tie. The last deadlock came when Housden nailed a jumper to knot the score at 52-52 with 6:24 left.

Peggy Smith countered with a three-pointer on Big Spring's next possession, then the Lady Steers' defense went to work, holding Snyder scoreless for two precious minutes.

The Lady Steers, meanwhile, stretched their lead to seven on a basket and a pair of free throws from Fannin, who scored nine points before fouling out.

Snyder broke its scoring drought with a basket and free from Teena Brazier, and a basket by Robbie Brazier, cutting Big Spring's lead to 61-57.

Hawks games put back

BIG SPRING — The Howard College Hawks' baseball games with Vernon College, have been postponed a day.

The Hawks were scheduled to host Vernon in doubleheaders Friday and Saturday at Jack Barber Field, starting at 1 p.m. Because of bad weather, the doubleheaders will be Saturday and Sunday. The starting time is 1 p.m. each day.

Sands loses practice

WELCH — The Sands Mustangs had a hard time at the foul line and dropped a 62-53 decision to the Plains Cowboys Tuesday night.

The contest was a scrimmage for both class A playoff-bound teams. Plains is runnerup in 9-A, and Sands is the 16-A champs.

Sands struggled from the line, while Plains was near perfect. Sands made only 7 of 18 foul shots, while Plains was 13 of 15.

"It was a good game for us because it showed us what we need to work on," said Sands coach Jerry Gooch. "We need to work on rebounding and our map offense. We've been outrebounding everybody. Plains has good athletes, they can jump. They (Plains) played good man defense. But the reason we lost was rebounding and foul shooting."

Sands, 21-5 for the season, will play Ira in a practice game Friday at 7 in Stanton. The Mustangs will play bi-district Saturday, Feb. 24 against Grandfalls in Greenwood at 7:30 p.m.

SWC officials wrong

DALLAS (AP) — Southwest Conference officials were wrong when they used a television replay to change a call that reversed the outcome of last Saturday's SMU-Texas A&M game, an NCAA official says.

Texas A&M won the game, 58-57, on a three-point goal by Lynn Suber after game officials reviewed Home Sports Entertainment's replay after first disallowing the basket.

Buffalo-Queens win district crown

SAN ANGELO — The Forsan Buffalo-Queens soundly whipped the Eldorado Lady Eagles 53-41, claiming the District 6-2A basketball championship Tuesday night at Lake View gym.

It was Forsan's first district championship since 1985.

The Queens led the contest from start to finish. Forsan made a 6-0 run late in the first quarter, taking 14-11 lead after one quarter of play. Tera Sims' two baskets, and a bucket by Kara Evans keyed the charge.

At the start of the second quarter, Forsan's Jessica Crowder made two foul shots, and Lauri Roberson scored a basket. But the Lady Eagles answered with four baskets, taking a one point lead.

From then on the lead changed several times, before Evans' basket gave Forsan a 28-26 halftime lead.

Forsan's tight defense limited Eldorado to four points in the third quarter. Meanwhile the Queens scored 13 points. Barbara Mitchell's three-pointer with 20 seconds left, gave the Queens a 41-30 lead going into the last eight minutes of play.

Sims led the Forsan attack with 16 points. Evans followed with 10 and Mitchell added nine points. The Queens shot well throughout the game, 80 percent from the foul line and 58 percent from the floor.

Forsan coach Johnny Schaffer was happy with his team's play. "They (Forsan) did an excellent job of rebounding, especially in the second half," said Schaffer. "We

The Queens will play Presidio Friday night in Fort Stockton.

Steers scalp Chiefs

BIG SPRING — The Big Spring Steers continued their winning ways as they whipped the San Angelo Lake View Chiefs 86-70 Tuesday night in Steer Gym.

The win was Big Spring's second-in-a-row, giving the Steers a 4-22 overall mark, and 3-10 league record. Lake View falls to 8-21 and 3-10.

Trailing by three points after one quarter, the Steers rallied with hot shooting and tight defense. Louis Soldan's eight points kept Big Spring close, trailing 18-15. Big Spring outscored the Chiefs 26-17 in the second quarter, led by some key steals by guard Chris Cole and forward Rod White. Plus forward Mike Williams got hot and bombed three three-pointers in the quarter. Big Spring led 41-35 at the half.

The Steers continued their hot shooting in the third quarter, padding their lead to 62-47 going into the final period. In the fourth, Soldan added nine more points, and the Steers cruised to the win.

"It helps when you shoot 60 percent from the floor," said Big Spring coach Tommy Washington after the win. "We took some good shots. We worked to get the shots, and it makes it a little easier to put them in."

White, a sophomore, led a balanced Big Spring scoring attack with 23 points. Soldan was next with 22 and Williams gunned in 20. Cole chipped in 10 points.

"In the second quarter we got some big steals and that ignited us," said Washington. "Defense is what got us going. We limited them to one shot. We made them pull their guards out further from the basket."

"We're playing better as a team. We had problems early, we talked about it. Maybe we've learned what it takes to be a contender."

JV'S MAKE IT A SWEEP

The Steers junior varsity moved closer to the .500 level for the season, defeating the Chiefs 67-50.

The win gives Big Spring a 12-13 overall mark and 10-3 district record.

The Steers' balanced scoring attack was paced by John Downey and Gerald Cobos, who scored 10 points each. Pat Chavarría, Brian Earnst and Troy Dixon scored nine

Sternadel's last-second bomb paves way to B-County victory

LAMESA — The Borden County Lady Coyotes, behind an unbelievable play by star forward Lisha Sternadel, repeated as District 16-A champs with a nail-biting 38-37 win over the Grady Lady Wildcats here Tuesday.

The win allows the Lady Coyotes to advance to the playoffs against Rankin, the runner-up of District 15-A, while Grady will meet District 15-A champ Grandfalls. The time and place for both games will be announced later.

The game was nip-and-tuck all the way and, with 16 seconds remaining, Grady guard Laurie Romine had a one-and-one from the foul line with Grady leading, 37-36.

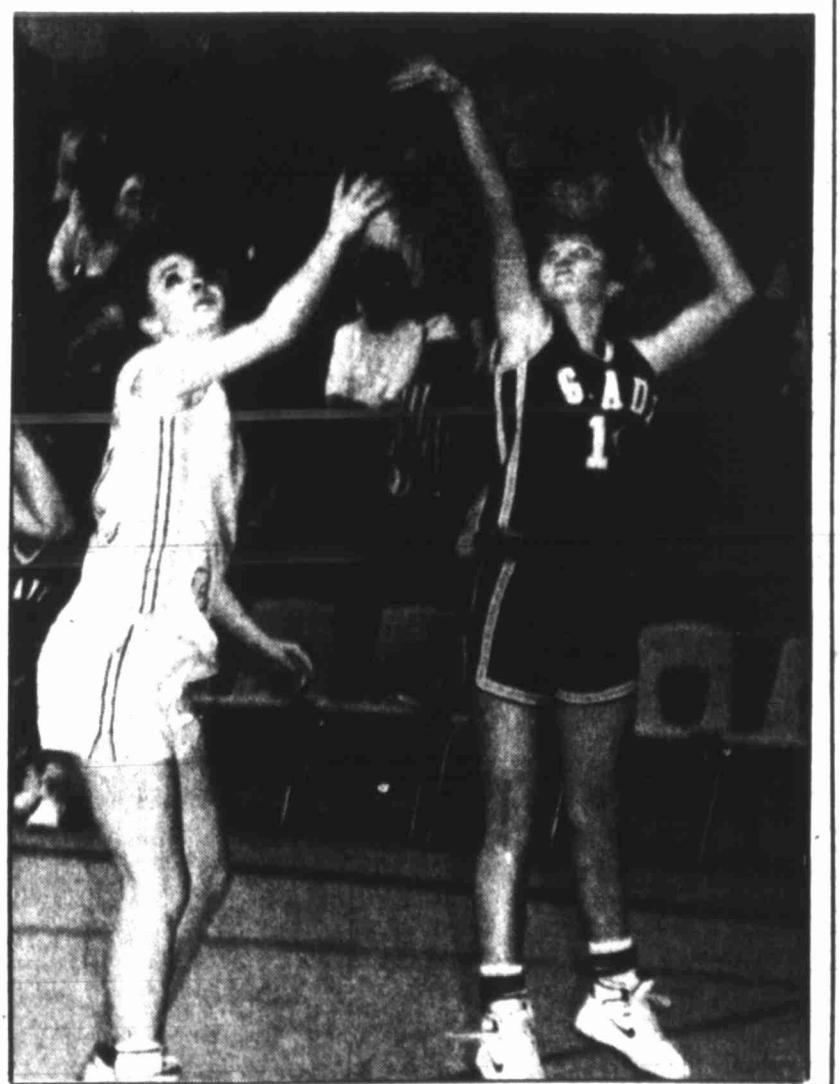

Romine missed the foul shot, however, and Borden's Kristi Adcock rebounded. After the ball was slapped out of bounds by Grady, the inbound pass went to Sternadel, who began bringing the ball upcourt.

While attempting a behind-the-back dribble, Sternadel slipped to the floor, but was able to keep the dribble alive while laying prone on the floor.

She eventually got to her knees, then to her feet — all while dribbling and with Grady defenders hovering nearby — and with about three seconds left, she banked an eight-footer home for the winning basket.

"We expected a tough game. Of course, you never expect the game to come down to the last shot — especially under those circumstances," Borden Coach Bill May said today. "It's 12 hours later, and I'm still at a loss for words."

"(Sternadel) hit the shot at the buzzer against Jayton that won it (earlier this season). Anytime we're in the clutch, we're going to go to her," May added. "Anybody who's started for four years, if they can't handle the pressure, there's something wrong."

LAMESA — Grady Lady Wildcats' Missy Romine (14) lets loose with a field goal attempt while being guarded by a Borden County Lady Coyote player during Tuesday night action.

Grady coach Randy Peel conceded that his Lady Wildcats were victims of a great play.

"We had her trapped, but Sternadel just did a great job — she got it down there and scored," Peel said. "It just wasn't our night to win one of those one-point games."

Both coaches also agreed that the game was definitely exciting.

shot the ball extremely well. These ladies deserve a lot of credit for coming as far as they have since the first half of district play. They held together and came back the Forsan, 19-10, will play Presidio in bi-district play Friday in Fort Stockton at a time to be announced.

Top Texas quarterback inks with UT

By The Associated Press
The Texas Aggies signed four players from Houston Lamar and Huntsville's Steve Clements agreed to play for the Texas Longhorns today, the first day colleges can sign schoolboys to football letters of intent.

The Aggies, expected to gain the biggest share of Texas high school talent, started the day at Lamar, where assistant coach Robert Ford signed linebacker Charles Burrell, all-purpose performer Marcus Batts, wide receiver Ryan Mathews and offensive lineman John Richard.

The Aggies also planned to sign Orangefield's Jeff Granger, rated the No. 2 quarterback prospect behind Clements.

Houston Yates linebacker Aubrey Beavers, ranked as the top high school prospect in the state, was expected to sign with the Oklahoma Sooners.

Clements, the state's top quarterback prospect, followed his coach and father Joe Clements, a former Longhorn quarterback.

"It's a big relief to get everything behind me, now I can concentrate on the spring and baseball," Steve Clements said. "Actually, I had a lot of fun. It wasn't something I wouldn't want to do again."

Joe Clements, a Longhorn quarterback from 1955-57, said a factor in his son's decision to attend Texas was that the Longhorns promised Steve a chance to play as a freshman.

"That was one of the deciding factors but we'll use the advice of the Texas coaches and do whatever they decide," Joe Clements said.

"I'm hoping Steve can make a contribution to putting Texas on the map and I hope Texas can help Steve develop into a pro prospect."

The Aggies planned to sign Orangefield's Jeff Granger, one of the state's top quarterback prospects, and two of Aline MacArthur's top players, quarterback Steve Emerson and running back Jonathan Walker.

Plano's Jeff Savage, the state's top running back prospect, was expected to sign with Arkansas after earlier committing to Tennessee.

Clements committed on Jan. 21 to the Longhorns. He completed 177 of 293 passes for 2,583 yards and 26 touchdowns last season and finished his career with a state record, 8,204 passing yards.

Clements also set state records for 589 career completions and 1,009 career attempts.

Ty Detmer, now the starting quarterback at Brigham Young, held the previous passing record of 8,005 yards while playing at San Antonio Southwest in 1983-86.

Beavers, following a legacy of outstanding Yates defensive ends, led the Lions with 99 tackles, 14 sacks and eight fumble recoveries last season.

He was a three-year starter and finished with 33 career sacks and 20 fumble recoveries.

Pros Dexter Manley of the Washington Redskins and John Roper, a 1989 second-round pick of the Chicago Bears, are former Lions defensive ends.

Douglas-Tyson rematch in the making

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Tyson wants to be heavyweight champion again, and he'll probably get his rematch with Buster Douglas as boxing begins to shape up after three days of chaos.

In his first public remarks Tuesday since he lost the undisputed crown to Douglas in Tokyo, Tyson said: "I'm still one of the best fighters in the world, and when the rematch comes, I'll prove it."

Tyson's promoter-advisor, Don King, meanwhile, denied charges that he tried to coerce boxing authorities into reversing Douglas' 10th-round knockout of Tyson on a technicality.

It was a sorry episode that left WBC president Jose Sulaiman embarrassed and apologetic, Douglas confused and angry, and No. 1-ranked contender Evander Holyfield still waiting for a title shot.

Tyson and Douglas apparently will agree to a rematch, with King and Donald Trump promoting. The likely site will be Trump's new Taj Mahal hotel and casino in Atlantic City on or about June 18, the date when Tyson was to have fought Holyfield.

"We don't have a rematch right now, but we're trying to get one," King said. King said he had spoken with Douglas' manager, John Johnson, and with Holyfield's people, manager Ken Sanders and promoter Dan Duva.

"I'm talking to everybody," he said. "I'm just happy that anyone's talking to me."

Holyfield was in Tokyo to watch the fight and said he first heard talk of his being on a Tyson-Douglas undercard during the fight home with King and Tyson.

"Yeah, that's what was decided on the plane," Holyfield said. "They were discussing the rematch, how I'd be on the card, and how I'd fight the winner."

It could be boxing's richest fight.

NEW YORK — Promoter Don King (left) and former heavyweight champion Mike Tyson, dropped the protest of the result of the match last Saturday in Tokyo. A Tyson-Buster Douglas rematch is in the making.

"The scathing indictment I received is priceless," King said. Tyson appeared to near the final hurdle to a rematch when Sanders indicated that Holyfield would waive his right, as the No. 1 contender, to the next title shot. In return, Holyfield will get paid a reported $3 million for a tuneup on the Tyson-Douglas undercard, then fight the winner in the fall.

"We've been approached to make a deal, by Don King, to step aside and make way for the over Douglas' knockout by protesting that referee Octavio Meyran counted too long over Douglas when he was knocked down in the eighth round. After the fight, Meyran said he had mistakenly taken up the timekeeper's count three seconds too late.

On Tuesday, however, the referee told Mexican television: "Douglas won the championship fair and square. The rules don't say you have to look to the timekeeper. Of course, you can look for his help."

Later in the day, WBC president Jose Sulaiman apologized for initially withholding the title from Douglas, saying he was embarrassed by his actions.

"I felt embarrassed to Buster Douglas," he said in a telephone interview with The Associated Press from Los Angeles. "I felt it was not fair to the kid that I had withheld my opinion about the result of the fight."

At the same time, he said King had put no pressure on the WBC to give the title back to Tyson.

"The WBC is not controlled by Don King or anybody," Sulaiman said. "I laugh at those rumors started by people who cannot accept us."

Douglas did not learn until Tuesday morning that he was undisputed champion. That's when the World Boxing Association became the last of the sport's three major governing bodies to recognize him.

In his hometown of Columbus, Ohio, Douglas said the "main thing for me is that I am now looked upon as the heavyweight champion of the world. It was a lifelong dream come true, and I thank God for that."

The IBF recognized Douglas as champion immediately, and the WBC extended recognition Monday night after King dropped his protest.

Trying to avoid the lockout

NEW YORK (AP) — After three months of fruitless discussions, the baseball negotiations may finally be on the move.

Commissioner Fay Vincent gave the union a new management proposal on Tuesday and the players association called in its 17-man negotiating committee to discuss it today — one day before spring training was to begin.

Management negotiator Chuck O'Connor, who planned to discuss the situation in a conference call today with the owners' Player Relations Committee, described Vincent's concepts as "substantive and procedural."

Union head Donald Fehr, who had steadily been raising the level of rhetoric as his frustration rose, responded cautiously.

"There was a series of suggestions made," he said. "I don't know where, if anywhere, this is going to go yet."

Neither side would describe Vincent's suggestion, but two sources with knowledge of management's thinking said they believed it involved negotiating a new agreement along the framework of the one that expired Dec. 31, provided that the union made a commitment to revenue sharing in the future.

The sources, who asked not to be identified, also suggested that a long-term study group on revenue sharing was part of the plan.

"The mere fact that we're at least dealing with a framework for discussing these issues is a little ahead of where we were last week," Fehr said.

But he tempered his remarks, adding: "I do not want to suggest that this has been some sort of breakthrough that will lead to a conclusion."

For months, management has been insisting on a proposal in which players would get 48 percent of the revenue from ticket sales and broadcast contracts.

Lady Steers

sion and was fouled trying to score. She made the first foul shot and missed the second, but Grisham was there for the rebound and the put-back to give Big Spring a seven-point cushion with 2:30 left.

Teena Brazier hit a jumper to narrow the lead to five with 1:34 left, but Black was fouled trying to score on the next possession and, with the crowd roaring in her ears, nailed both foul shots to ice the game.

"I was thinking about the (pre-game) warmup," Black said of the situation. "I didn't put my two (foul shots) in during warmup, so I decided I was going to get them then."

After the game, the Lady Steers credited an "all-for-one" approach as the difference in the game.

"The whole team came together and took charge," Spears said. "From the starters to the bench... we did it together."

"We pulled together," Peggy

Smith said. "I guess we wanted it more than they did."

As for the match with Levelland, the Lady Steers seemed confident of their chances.

"Polls don't matter," Hendleman said. "It's what happens on the court that matters."

"If you think about how they're number one, it'll really get beat in your head. It shouldn't matter," Spears said. "They can be beaten."

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali was on his way home from a visit with a teen-ager suffering from cancer when he found himself in the middle of a disturbance. At least that's what police thought.

Officers responding to a report of a street disturbance found Ali surrounded by a crowd, police said Wednesday. "They found it was just a group of juveniles talking to a celebrity," Capt. Eugene Kyle said.

Floyd Bass, groundskeeper of Ali's estate near Berrien Springs, Mich., said after Ali visited the girl's home on Tuesday night he decided to mingle with youngsters in the neighborhood.

GAY HEAD, Mass. (AP) — Jacqueline Onassis and the Wampanoag Indians were nearing an agreement to end a 10-year struggle over beachfront property on Martha's Vineyard, officials said.

Under the agreement, the Indians would sell Onassis the land in return for money and another tract, said a clerk in Dukes County probate court.

According to Wampanoag legend, Chief Moshup and his wife, Squant, are buried in the disputed land, a stretch of 264 feet of coastal property.

Paul Sulla, a Boston lawyer who represents some of the Indians, said Wednesday an agreement had been reached between "95 percent of the parties." He declined to specify the terms of the agreement.

Jeanne Dixon's Horoscope

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1990

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DATE: singer Melissa Manchester, actor Cesar Romero, actress Jane Seymour, comic Harvey Korman.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Shopping bargains abound today. Avoid going overboard. A new acquaintance could be the key to your making a career change. Do not rush into a personal relationship if you have any qualms.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Fresh starts enjoy favorable influences. Your best rapport is with a trusted associate. Past projects can be recycled to earn new profits. Seek advice from those who know you best.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Some soul-searching will help you find the answer to a perplexing problem. Your earning power is greater than ever, thanks to your new high-tech skills. Conferences and interviews should go like clockwork.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Ride with the tide and good things will happen. A professional relationship means more than you dreamed possible. A stock market tip could bring sudden good fortune. Things shape up nicely in romance.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Working quietly behind the scenes will lead to a promotion. Good news arrives from an unusual quarter. Get agreements in writing. You will reap handsome profits when a creative idea catches on.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): On-the-spot decisions prove advantageous. Meet a problem involving neighbors or friends head-on. Romance is tender and meaningful. Loved one shares a delightful surprise.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Do not let someone's accusations upset you. You know you are right! You get a lucky break if you are looking for an apartment or condo. A loved one could be feeling neglected. Plan a special treat.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Save time and money by approaching a difficult task methodically. Delegate more responsibility. A meeting that takes place today could lead to new romance or business. Exercise helps relieve tension.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Being in the spotlight is both delightful and confusing. You may be too busy to discern someone's motives. Let romantic partners handle their own affairs. Refuse to be used by anyone.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Listen to experts and ask for suggestions concerning your career or finances. Surprising events are in store. Do not assume the worst before you have all the facts. You could hit the jackpot!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): A good day to apply for loans and ask for favors. Today's work sets the stage for tomorrow's success. Do not allow a professional or romantic relationship to drift along — nail things down.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): A lively discussion could jump-start some constructive changes. A raise or promotion is possible. Be careful how you word letters and memos; they could be misconstrued. Pursue romance.

Wedding

Carnahan-Massingill

Stacey Lee Carnahan, Coahoma, and Billy Greg Massingill, Lubbock, exchanged wedding vows Feb. 10, 1990 at a 2 p.m. ceremony at First Baptist Church, Coahoma, with Keith Gibbons, pastor of College Heights Christian Church, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Patrick and Jennifer Carnahan, Coahoma.

Bridegroom's parents are Beverly Massingill, Lubbock; and Howard and Carla Massingill, Sweetwater.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with two spiral candelabras, ivy, and a unity candle with red roses. Pews were decorated with red velvet bows, red roses and baby's breath.

Pianist was Darren Skinner; flutists were Lana Light and Amy Lawhon.

Vocalist was Debbie Hall.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown with a full ruffled train enhanced by peacocks embroidered with sequins and pearls. The gown also featured a high neckline fashioned of lace, pearls and sequins. The satin bodice was accented with an overlay of a peacock embroidered with sequins and pearls. The tapered puff sleeves were accented with sequins and pearls. The full skirt also featured peacocks embroidered with sequins and pearls. Her headpiece was fashioned of ivory roses, pearls and ivory illusion.

She carried a bouquet of satin trouzy roses and red tea roses accented with lace and pearl and ribbon trim.

Maid of honor was Carrie Carnahan, bride's sister, Coahoma.

Flower girl was Selina Gonzalez, Amarillo.

Best man was Sky Massingill, bridegroom's brother, Lubbock.

Ushers were James Ball, bridegroom's cousin, Lubbock; and Chad Ferns, Lubbock.

Candlelighters were Shala Self, Lubbock; and Kimberly Gibson, bride's cousin, El Paso.

After the wedding, a reception was hosted in the reception hall. The bride's table, draped with an ivory cloth and ivory pleated skirt, featured a four-tier cake decorated with red tea roses and topped with three satin wedding bells with red tea roses. The centerpiece, made by the bride's paternal grandmother, was a bride and bridegroom rabbit. Crystal appointments also decorated the table. The bridegroom's chocolate cake with chocolate icing was topped with an airplane with a "Just Married" sign. The centerpiece was a small, white church steeple and a small car with cans and a "Just Married" sign sitting on a mirrored tile sprinkled with red glitter hearts. Hors d'oeuvres were served on crystal serving dishes.

The bride, a graduate of Coahoma High School, attends Howard College. She is employed by Santa Fe Sandwiches.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Forsan High School, attends Rice Aviation School. He is employed by Chelsey's Pub, Lubbock.

After a wedding trip to Lubbock, the couple will make their home in Lubbock.

WHAT ARE YOUR HOBBIES?
 "No hobbies now," Reba says with a laugh. "We have three boys and I guess our hobbies are soccer, basketball and baseball!" The boys are Casey, 9; Taylor, 7; and Zachary, 4.

WHAT DO YOU DO TO KEEP IN SHAPE?
 "I run after my children," she says.

WHO IS A PERSON YOU ADMIRE?
 "I admire those who are able to keep going — no matter what fate hands them. Those who never quit trying."

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE TELEVISION SHOW?
 Reba says she likes "Cheers" because of its off-the-wall humor.

DO YOU HAVE ANY PETS?
 The Bristows have three dogs: Scruffy is the children's dog, and Dennis has two bird dogs.

WHAT MAGAZINES DO YOU SUBSCRIBE TO?
 Reba reads Redbook and Good Housekeeping.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE THING TO DO IN BIG SPRING?
 "We just like to have friends over and play cards and table games."

WHAT DID YOU DO ON YOUR LAST VACATION?
 Reba and Dennis took their children to see Disneyland. "And we drove through the Sequoia and Yosemite National Forests."

WHAT ARE YOUR FUTURE GOALS?
 "We're striving for our children to grow up to be responsible adults. We want to implant good morals and good common sense," says Reba. "And, of course, I'd like my business to succeed!"

Growing the national flower in West Texas

By DON RICHARDSON
County Extension Agent

The rose is not only America's favorite flower but has been recognized as our official national flower. Some bloom almost year round while others provide massive displays for several weeks.

Ask the agent

It is possible to successfully grow roses in all parts of Texas. They are best transplanted during the winter from late December through February. Many garden centers order bare root plants for delivery in December and January. Immediately upon arrival, these plants are potted in containers. This method allows the planting season to be extended later into the spring. Most rosarians like to set out new plants during January and February so the root systems can be well established before the hot weather arrives.

Roses are classified according to growth and flowering characteristics.

Hybrid Teas — Hybrid Teas are often called monthly or everblooming roses. They are the result of crossing two old-fashioned rose classes, the Hybrid Perpetual and the Tea Rose from China which gave the repeat blooming trait. In general, the buds are pointed, long and borne one per stem. Hybrid Teas are the most common class sold today but are generally grown for cut flowers rather than as landscape plants.

Floribundas — The Floribundas originated from crossing the Hybrid Tea with Polyantha roses. Plants are vigorous with large masses of well-shaped flowers that resemble miniature Hybrid Teas.

Polyanthas — Polyanthas produce small flowers in large clusters and are primarily used for mass plantings of borders. It is available in both climbing and bush form.

Grandifloras — This is a relatively new classification which resulted from crosses between Hybrid Tea and Floribunda varieties. Grandifloras are usually very vigorous plants.

Climbing and Pillar Roses — Climbers are usually very vigorous and require different pruning practices from those of bush types. Most climbers should be pruned after they bloom in the spring, since many of them flower primarily on last year's wood.

Old Garden Roses — Recent years have seen considerable interest in many of these plants. Part of the popularity is due to nostalgia and interest in historical plantings. Old rose enthusiasts quickly point to the superior fragrance, hardiness, growth habit and disease resistance of some of the old varieties that may have been lost or weakened in the hybridization process of newer varieties. Most old roses may be successfully grown from cuttings stuck during the cool months of the year.

Miniature roses — Most of these plants grow no more than 16 to 36 inches high. They are natural (genetic) dwarfs and have become extremely popular in recent years. Unlike most other rose classes, miniatures are usually grown as, and are valuable for, mass landscape plantings or container culture. Most miniatures bloom profusely and regularly.

Purchasing Roses — Roses are readily available during the late winter and spring. Packaged roses are often featured in discount and grocery stores as well as some garden centers. There is nothing really wrong with this method of handling roses, but if they are stored or displayed in warm temperatures, sprouting occurs almost immediately. Sprouting severely weakens the plant and may result in poor performance or even death.

Bare root roses are often available from mail order nurseries and are usually packed in plastic to prevent drying. It is important to plant these roses as soon as possible upon arrival. If planting is to be delayed, the roses should be "heeled in" in a good garden soil and kept moist until planting.

Roses in containers are featured by many garden centers in Texas. It is important that the container be large enough to adequately hold the root system. A one-gallon container is usually too small for a normal size, two year old rose bush. Two or three-gallon containers are much better.

Roses are usually graded to standardized criteria. This includes No. 1, No. 1½, and No. 2 grades. Homeowners are probably wise to choose No. 1 or No. 1½ grades since the vigor and size of these plants is usually superior.

Fort Stockton boasts large pecans

By TUMBLEWEED SMITH
 Fort Stockton is in Pecos County, the second largest county in Texas. Pecos County has the largest buffalo ranch in the state, the largest vineyard and winery in the state and one of the largest pecan orchards in the state.

Tumbleweed Smith

Belding Farms, southwest of Fort Stockton, ships out pecans by the truckload. Several varieties of pecans are grown there, but the Wichita and Western Schley are the major ones.

The equipment is fascinating. Giant tree shakers can scoot around between rows of trees and shake a crop of pecans off a tree in five seconds.

"Our shakers shake about 20 acres a day," says Glenn Honaker, who has worked at Belding Farms 13 years. "Right here we've got 74 trees to the acre, so that's shaking around 1,400 trees a day."

Tree shaking is the first process of the pecan harvest. The shakers shake dead wood and leaves as well as pecans to the ground. Then powerful sweepers make a neat pile of debris down the center of the lane between two rows of pecan trees. The debris is picked up by a machine called a ground harvester, which turns the leaves into dust and puts anything pecan size or larger into a trailer. The contents of the trailer are then taken to a cleaning plant where the tree limbs, rocks and dirt clods are removed and the pecans are graded and prepared for shipping.

Some of the equipment picks out all the light pecans and discards them. Cracked pecans are picked out by hand. Pecans leave Belding Farms in the shell.

The sweepers which sweep the pecans and tree trash into piles contain powerful blowers which create air streams of 140 miles an hour, strong enough to knock a person down.

"It's a pretty dusty operation," says Glenn. "It looks like a hurricane when the trash is being picked up and separated. It completely obliterates everything. All you can see is a big cloud of dust." Personnel at Belding Farms wear protective masks on the job. "It's dirty work," says Glenn. "It's not a place where you'd want to wear a white shirt."

Some equipment can dig up a tree up to eight inches in diameter and move it to another location. "It digs a hole about seven feet across and five feet deep," says Glenn. "We can dig a hole in about five minutes."

Belding Farms has 120,000 pecan trees on 1,850 acres of land which produce 3 million pounds of pecans annually. It shares its production with a herd of wild turkeys which roam the orchard. The pecan is considered to be the Cadillac of the nut world. It is in great demand by bakers and cooks.

The U.S. produces 250 to 300 million pounds of pecans a year. Georgia ranks first in production of pecans with 100 million pounds annually. The Texas crop of 45 million pounds a year comes in second.

Pecan trees require lots of water. The trees at Belding Farms are watered by flood irrigation. Concrete canals carry water in the giant orchard. West Texas is a good place to grow pecans because of the absence of natural enemies such as insects or diseases which attack pecan trees in other areas.

The first trees at Belding were planted in 1964. "A tree that grows from a nut will not produce good pecans," says Glenn. "We have to graft wood from a proven tree onto the seedlings."

The pecan harvest at Belding begins around November first and continues for about 60 days. Glenn finds the work challenging, interesting and fascinating. "Especially for somebody who grew up in West Texas where there's not many trees."

THE FIRST PART OF THE BODY THAT MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY AFFECTS.

It's hard to smile when you lose the ability to smile in pictures. To climb a tree.

But that's what happens when a child has muscular dystrophy. "Muscular dystrophy" is the name for a group of diseases that weaken and destroy the muscles. The disease is progressive, so things get worse over time. The muscle loss is irreversible. And it can't be reversed.

The Muscular Dystrophy Association is striving to cure muscular dystrophy. And on Christmas Eve of 1987, MDA researchers announced a landmark advance: discovery of the most terrible form of muscular dystrophy, Duchenne's.

Now a giant step toward curing these dread diseases has been taken. And MDA researchers are forging ahead to help the children stricken today.

MDA receives no government grants or fees for its work. Its work is funded entirely by private donations. You can help fight muscular dystrophy and dozens of other muscle diseases by sending a tax-deductible contribution today.

Don't wait until a child's smile reminds you of a smile you who have stopped smiling. Please send your donation today.

Traveling with children can be a pleasant experience

By NAOMI HUNT

County Extension Agent
 Traveling with children can be a pleasant experience if you remember a few helpful hints.

Stop the car and give the children attention before they become fussy, as a reward for good behavior. Praise children often for their good behavior in the car. Stop the car at once if the child gets out of the seat.

Carry a supply of easy-to-eat

Focus on family

snacks, such as apple slices or bagels, that won't mess up the car. Plan long trips at nap time.

solidate your shopping geographically to avoid making many short trips.

If both parents are traveling in the car, one adult and baby should ride in the back seat. If one parent is traveling alone with the baby, then the baby may be fastened in the front seat so that his needs may be satisfied.

By your frequent praise and pleasant conversation, the baby will remain interested and busy and not spend the time crying.

Personalize their safety seat with stickers, their name, or racing stripes. Let them help you do this. Allow children to play with their seats outside of the car, buckling in dolls and teddy bears for imaginary rides. If the seat is new to the toddler, take short training trips.

Keep them busy with soft, non-hazardous car toys. Keep a set of soft, safe travel toys and books for use only in the car.

For preschoolers help them feel grown-up and knowledgeable by serving as role models for younger siblings or friends. Also suggest that they are doing what race car drivers do when they buckle up.

For long-distance travel trips plan regular stops, even if they lengthen the total trip, to allow children to run around and babies to stretch out or be cuddled. Stop before the children get too restless.

Fun with hearts

The American Heart Association annual Celebrity Waiter benefit was conducted Saturday evening at the Howard County Fairbarns. Hundreds of area residents came to feast and frolic, top right, as celebrity waiters managed to earn $2,800 in tips. LaFonda Cook, above, watches as a foam ball she tossed heads towards the basket at the Howard College table. HC waiters auctioned off a basketball signed by the Hawk team. Dee Jenkins, bottom right, looks to see if any of her teammates knows the answer to a drawing she had just created during a game of Win, Lose or Draw. Heart association officials will know how much the benefit earned by Thursday.

Blue Blazers meet

Blue Blazers, the Women's Division of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, hosted its monthly luncheon meeting Tuesday at La Posada.

President Iris Correa introduced officers for 1990, they are: Gail Earls, first vice president; Mary Louise Traczyk, second vice president; and Celia Terry, secretary.

Marae Brooks was given the Love Ya Blue Award. Members accepted "Women Helping Women" as the 1990 motto based on the presentation given by Brigadier General Wilma L. Vaught, USAF (Ret.), featured at October's women's seminar, sponsored by the Blue Blazers.

Blue Blazers will assist in future community events, including the Fina-sponsored Texas' First "Fina Greatrace Texas," a 1,200-mile vintage vehicle competition, which will be conducted April 26-29.

Members were invited to attend a meeting, sponsored by Leadership Big Spring alumni, at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. Owen Ivie will discuss water quality and quantity, as well as types of activities that are going on to improve the appearance of Big Spring.

Guest speaker was Robert Wernsman, publisher of the Big Spring Herald, and vice president of organizational affairs, Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, who discussed membership responsibilities.

Wernsman asked, "What is your intention for membership?" He pointed out that it's the people who do more, in addition to their regular jobs, that make the difference. The people who really are successful are those who not only make their hours count between 8 and 5, but also from 5 to 8.

The next Blue Blazers meeting will be March 6 at noon at La Posada.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Take your car to Pat Gray

"When your car is in a collision, it can mean a great deal," says Pat Gray, owner of Pat Gray Body Works, 700 N. Owens.

"When your car is out of commission, you're just thinking about one thing: get it fixed. You want it fixed right — the first time — and you want it fixed quickly. That's why we've invested in state-of-the-art equipment."

This equipment includes the Kansas Jack Magna Rack III, a revolutionary collision repairs system for unibody cars that literally reverses the collision action by pulling it out the way it went in, then squaring and aligning each section in relation to the rest of the car — "the way it was meant to be."

Pat Gray Body Works features an exclusive alignment machine for front-wheel drive vehicles. This machine applies a sensor on each of the four wheels so they can be adjusted individually, especially important for independent suspension systems. Computerized analysis is printed out on a screen.

Customers don't have to wait till they've had a collision to utilize the alignment machine, of course. "If your car has a non-adjustable suspension, and you notice excessive or uneven tire wear or 'pulling' it would be a good idea to bring it in," Gray says.

Pat Gray Body Works is the only body shop in the area that features the exclusive Blowtherm Ultra spraybooth oven for factory-perfect paint jobs on vehicles

The new Blowtherm Ultra spraybooth oven produces the finest finish on automobiles this side of the factory. The facilities at Pat Gray Body Works underwent extensive alterations to accommodate the imported equipment. A factory-perfect paint job is made possible by perfectly controlled air, humidity and temperature. The Blowtherm Ultra is exclusive at Pat Gray Body Works, located at 700 N. Owens. Drop by and take a look.

following body work. "When you start shopping around for collision repair, alignment or refinishing service you have the right to demand the best," Gray believes. "With our equipment, trained technicians and our commitment to quality, we believe we offer the best."

Bucket balancing

BIG SPRING — Brad Dickey, left, and Daniel Makowsky eye each other with care as they attempt to keep their balance. The two envied an otherwise boring Saturday afternoon in the Greenbelt area with an impromptu game of balance the board on the bucket.
