City tables 40 percent trash rate hike

BY RUTH COCHRAN City Editor

BIG SPRING — In an about-face, the City Council voted 4-3 to table reconsideration of a 40 percent increase in garbage collection rates. At least until April 10, when the council will wrestle with the ordinance again, homeowners will not have their rates increased from $5 a month to $7. Businesses also avoid an increase - for a while anyway

Last week the council approved the increase on a 4-2 vote, with the majority of the council saying the city needs to begin collecting the money to pay for certain items in the sanitation department.

Three days later, however, Mayor Max Green vetoed the ordinance, saying the council was acting too hastily. The council has been studying the issue since November, and they have been reminded of the need for action at almost every meeting since.

During Tuesday night's regular meeting, council members tabled action to either override the mayor's move or allow the veto to take effect.

Green, who abstained from voting on the second reading of the ordinance last week, voted against tabling the issue, seemingly contradicting himself by saying he was ready "to get the show on the road. Councilmembers Pat DeAnda and Chuck Condray also voted against tabling the ordinance. Condray said the council needs to act before it finds itself unable to pay

DeAnda said the council has wasted enough time on the issue already. "We've been doing this since (before) January," she said. "How much more time do we need?' In his veto, the mayor had urged the council to further study the rate increase and find a way to lower it

BIG SPRING — A playground didn't prove much fun Tuesday afternoon for a motorcyclist.

Christopher Alton Raney, 17, 3232 Cornell, was taken to Scenic Mountain Medical Center by ambulance after his 1986 Honda crashed at the Kentwood Elementary playground. According to police reports, Raney apparently was riding on the playground when his cycle hit a small dirt embankment, causing him to lose control.

Raney sustained a broken bone, but a family member said his condition is good.

Coahoma parking

COAHOMA — Coahoma City Council took no action Tuesday on developing a parking plan for First Street in downtown, said city clerk Holly Best.

Because there is currently no parking plan for First Street, people park there any way they wish, she said.

Business owners in town have proposed that slant parking be required along the downtown street, Best said.

In other news, the council discussed street lighting throughout the city.

A representative for TU Electric spoke before the council, Best said, and it discussed installing more lights. The council also disscussed changing the distribution of existing street lights, she said

Fourth grade speller wins bee

By ERIN BLAIR Staff Writer

BIG SPRING Ramnath Subbaraman, a fourth grader at Bauer School, correctly spelled "raspberry" and "hideous" to become the Howard County Spelling Bee champion Tuesday.

Kelly Bantz, a fourth grader at Washington School, missed "raspberry" in the fifteenth round and became the alternate.

Helen Gladden, director of curriculum for Big Spring Independent School District, said she believes this is the first time fourth graders have been the winner and alternate of the county-wide competition.

For Subbaraman, preparing for the bee and competing in it was a family affair. His brother Viswanath Subbaraman, an eighth grader at Runnels represented his school at the bee. "Pulverize" defeated him in the fifth round.

Ramanath Subbaraman credits his brother and his parents with helping him study. He said he liked words but math was his real strength. Shantha Subbaraman, the students mother, downplayed her role.

"I just asked them the words. Viswanath is the dictionary, but he worked mainly on the intermediate words," she said.

Ruby Pike, Ramanath Subbaraman's teacher, said she let him study in class but the win was to his own credit. "We have incentives for getting 100 percent on spelling tests for five weeks. They get a free Cocacola for that. Each test has 30 words and 5 bonus words and dictation. The whole class is pretty good.

S. Subbaraman, a physician at the Veterans Administration Medical Center, said Bauer School had been good academic preparation for his sons.

Jean Broughton, principal of Bauer, said this is the second year in a row that sibblings from Bauer have won the bee. Last year's winner was Carvel Nguyen, an eighth grader at Runnels. His sister, Caroline, a sixth grader at Goliad, was the alternate. Both had attended Bauer as elementary students.

The 56 words in the bee were from the first-round words section of the practice book distributed by the Scripps BEE page 8-A

Recall election dates OK'd By RUTH COCHRAN

BIG SPRING - Unless something even more strange happens, Mayor Max Green will face a recalled with the Saturday March

Green, who earlier this week said he was ready for the election, strongly hinted that he will challenge the recall in court.

The council voted 4-2 at their regular meeting Tuesday night to call the election. The council must meet again tonight to approve the second reading of the ordinance because two councilmen refused to pass the measure on emergency reading.

Councilmen Sidney Clark and D.D. Johnston voted against the ordinance both times, saying they wanted the election held on Tuesday, March 20. Both maintained that more people would be able to vote if the election was held on a • RECALL page 8-A

BIG SPRING - The FBI has joined the search for a local woman who was kidnapped at gunpoint by her estranged husband. Big Spring Police Sgt. John Leubner said the department asked the FBI on Tuesday morning to help with the investigation. The Texas Rangers and police departments across the state also are joining the search, Leubner said.

Law enforcement officials are searching for Lanette Lister, 27, who was abducted Sunday night by her husband, James Henry Lister of Midland. Lanette Lister was attending church services when her husband dragged her from the building. Lister, who previously kidnapped his wife in August, had been free for two weeks on a $5,000 bond after kicking in his wife's apartment door.

CHANTILLY, Va. (AP) — The SR-71 Blackbird spy plane, star of American aerial snooping for 25 years, didn't look like museum material on its record-setting final coast-to-coast flight that took just over an hour.

But it soon will be, to the regret of some admirers

"This is one of the first victims of the effort to scale back defense," Sen. John Warner, R-Va., said-Tuesday after Blackbird No. 17972 marked its retirement by whizzing from Los Angeles to Washington, D.C. A record time of 68 minutes, 17 seconds — not counting time for takeoff and landing. It also set four other speed marks along the 2,404-mile route.

The Air Force is donating the plane to the Smithsonian Institution, which plans to display it here at the Washington Dulles International Airport wing of the National Air and Space Museum.

The full Blackbird fleet was of ficially retired two months ago

Warner, the ranking Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee, said the Blackbird is still unmatched as a technological wonder, but is being assigned to the junk heap because of a growing perception in the United States that • PLANE page 8-A

Cadets leave Corps

COLLEGE STATION (AP) Two Texas A&M students have been removed from the Corps of Cadets following an investigation into an alleged hazing incident, a Corps official said.

Maj. Gerald Betty, the officer in charge of the investigation, said Monday the final decision in the matter was made Corps commandant Gen. Thomas Darling. The appeals process has been exhausted and the issue has been resolved, Betty

Darling would not comment on the matter, citing protection of the privacy of the students involved

A&M began investigating Feb. 5 after Shannon George, a sophomore biology major from Silsbee, withdrew from the Corps following a visit to the Beutel Health Center.

Dr. Kenneth Dirks, director of the health center, told the campus newspaper The Daily Battalion that George said he was required to run and do push-ups and sit ups for an hour as part of Corps training. Dirks said George complained of a sore back and abdomen upon visiting the health center.

Hazing is a violation of university regulations and state law.

Sheriff trial

EL PASO (AP) - Friends of the wife of a former Jeff Davis County sheriff say they cannot fathom why she would have killed herself when she had been so happily making plans with them a day earlier.

W.W. "Wid" McCutcheon, the former sheriff, is accused of murdering Betty McCutcheon, 54. Investigators say she died of a single gunshot wound to her head on January 7, 1989.

McCutcheon's attorney is trying to prove she committed suicide, but her friends testified Tuesday that she was amiable and making plans before her

Fred Parrot said she was supposed to accompany him and his wife, Geen, on a shopping trip to Phoenix, where she planned to buy items for her gift shop.

"She was in a very good mood," Mrs. Parrot said. Prosecutors contend McCutcheon killed his wife so he could marry a Fort Davis woman, with whom he had been having an affair for nearly three years. The defense contends Mrs. Mc-Cutcheon shot herself because she learned of his plans to leave

Although several testified of Mrs. McCutcheon's plans for the future — including applying for a school district job and making curtains for a local bakery defense attorney Martin Underwood said they must have spoken to the woman before her husband told her he wanted a divorce.

Gregorio Pena, a criminal psychologist, testified that based on interviews with Mrs. Mc-Cutcheon's friends, he did not consider her suicidal. Prosecutors allege that to cover up the murder, McCutcheon planted rumors that his wife wanted to commit suicide. McCutcheon was Jeff Davis County sheriff from January 15.3 to December 1984.

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND — The annual spring break parties have begun along the Gulf Coast. Students from midwestern colleges, like these, appear to dominate the scene.

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND (AP) Hotels this month are charging steep security deposits to make guests think twice about tossing furniture out the windows.

Paintings that normally hang in lobbies and hallways now sit safely in storage.

Otherwise, the tolerance level for disorder has risen with the noise level as spring break and its hordes of beer-drinking, hormone-driven students arrive at this resort

Myndy Michaels, 20, a sunbathing Ball State student, said Tuesday that she and her sorority sisters had stayed "buzzed" for about 24 hours on a drink called 'whammies.'

"Padre is the best place to party because it's not like a meat market and there's no rules," she said, 'and this is my new bathing suit.'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) -Skippy, a once-lethargic red kangaroo at the San Francisco Zoo, finally has a heart that doctors hope keeps her hopping.

The 7½-year-old marsupial was recovering today after receiving the first pacemaker ever implanted in a zoo animal.

Veterinarians discovered the middle-aged roo's slow-beating heart a few weeks ago while treating a small abscess on her right foot. Her condition deteriorated, and she was near death on Sunday.

On Monday night, three heart surgeons from the University of California at San Francisco. helped by four anesthesiologists from Stanford University, put the two-ounce pacemaker into Skippy's neck.

Before the surgery, the 80-pound animal's heart registered between 18 and 40 beats a minute, far below the normal rate of 125 to 150, said Mike Sulak, zoo curator of mammals.

But on Tuesday, Skippy's languor was gone and her prognosis was good.

CRESTED BUTTE, Colo. Authorities today were investigating whether a bomb or a methane gas buildup caused an explosion that flattened a two-story bank building "like an accordion," killing three people and injuring 14.

A 12-member team from the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms was expected to arrive today in this Rocky Mountain ski resort to search for clues in the rubble of Crested Butte State Bank.

The building — except the vault was leveled by the blast.
 Firefighters and volunteers dug by hand through the rubble to pull out survivors. Heavy snow hampered rescue efforts and delayed the arrival of ambulances

Police Chief Hank Smith said two restaurants had received bomb threats in the past week, and one of them was evacuated.

"I'm not ruling out a bomb, and I'm not ruling out an explosion from methane buildup," he said. "We're just now beginning the investigation.

Dick Schussler, an FBI spokesman in Denver, said sabotage was a possibility, but he didn't know of a motive. "It's not like this is a bank that's financing South Africa," he said.

A lock on black options

Is the American dream becoming a con for black youths? Certainly, even the most optimistic counselors must be having a difficult time looking young black males in the eyes these days and promising that the world is full

Recently a series of disturbing new facts about the gulf between black and white equality was released by The Sentencing Project, a non-profit group based in Washington. The group's analysis of crime statistics shows that the nation is spending $2.5 billion each year to keep a fourth of all black men between the ages of 20 and 29 imprisoned or under criminal court supervision.

That means more young blacks are under court control than there are black men of all ages in higher education. At a time when their non-black peers are starting families, learning employable skills and starting careers, hundreds of thousands of black youths literally are being locked out of those opportunities.

By comparison, the ratio of young white males in the criminal justice system is one in 16; for Hispanics, it's

The report doesn't deal with whether these young men deserve to be under court control. Certainly, violent crimes need to be punished. But the report echoes the concern of many experts when it notes that a decade of "get tough" policing and sentencing has locked up more Americans than ever, but has done little to stem the tide of crime.

Indeed, the prison population has tripled since 1973, at tremendous financial costs, but the victimization rate has dropped by less than 5 percent.

The report offers several alternatives to the incarceration-first rules of the past decade.

For instance, many minor and first-time offenders could be diverted from the criminal-justice system entire ly with the use of more counselors and dispute-resolution programs. Los Angeles has begun a program to intervene when students become habitual truants rather than to wait until they're booked for committing crimes.

The court system should become the course of last resort, as California Supreme Court Chief Justice Malcolm Lucas recently told lawmakers.

When courts must act, a broad menu of alternative sentences - restitution for victims, community service, intensive probation supervision, mandatory alcohol and drug-treatment programs — must be available from which judges can choose. Incarcerations, which already are costing the nation $13 billion a year, should be among the last considerations.

Beyond that, a way must be found to break the cycle of hopelessness that funnels black youths into the criminaljustice pipeline. There must be an expansion of drugtreatment projects, education programs and housing and job opportunities.

These avenues to success must be open to all Americans. Otherwise, the promise of the American tream will continue to sound like just another street con in the nation's minority neighborhoods.

I applaud Joey Jabor for his/her stand in the March 1, 1990 edition of the Big Spring Herald. I'm embarrassed that my God in heaven has to look down on Big Spring people. (Thank God I'm not one)

To the editor:

Congratulations on your Feb. 25 Sunday edition with the Big Spring in the '90's sections. Also, three cheers and a hoorah for the non-smoking environment at the Herald. You've set a good example for other businesses

If the City Council will decide that it wants Big Spring to start immediately on its road to improvement, I suggest two actions that have proven worthwhile in other communities: 1. require that all containers for food and drink be recyclable, and 2. prohibit smoking in public places. Foley said he thinks the eventual savings should be split, half to reduce the federal deficit, half to "the social deficit" of financially strapped domestic

Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Tex., raised the issue in the Senate last week with an amendment suggesting that any peace dividend be used to cut taxes. He said the only discussion had been about ways to spend the money, when the government shouldn't spend it at all but should give it back to taxpayers.

"I do not believe it is too dramatic to say that the No. 1 issue of the 1990s, if things continue to move in the current direction in eastern Europe and the Soviet Union, will be what to do with the peace dividend," Gramm said. Before the Senate got to its

Nor were there any dividend estimates when congressional advocates of aid for the newly elected government of Nicaragua and the fledgling democracies of eastern Europe put in their bids, saying defense savings should finance economic assistance

There were some figures when the Senate had its mini-debate on the peace dividend, but they varied so widely as to be meaningless. Gramm said he thought defense budget savings might total $50 to $70 billion by the mid-1990s. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. said the cuts should add up to $163 billion over the next five years.

Sen. Jim Sasser, D-Tenn., chair man of the budget committee, said it was premature to be talking about uses for a peace dividend that isn't there yet. But he said the debate at least produced the first Senate consensus that there will indeed be one

Sasser and the Democrats proposed their own peace dividend measure, declaring that the savings should go toward balancing the budget, meeting urgent national priorities and reducing taxes for working people.

I was reading Time the other day and saw an article titled "Danger at 40,000 Feet.

It didn't mention anything about second-hand smoke, but it did mention a government study that says you can get zapped by a lot of cosmic radiation from the sun and stars when you fly.

Time said the study indicated that among 100,000 crew members, who flew for 20 years, 600 of them would die premature cancer deaths because of the radiation they would get through the thin skin of their planes.

Passengers are at a risk, too. Especially frequent flyers, such as myself

That's great. Something new to worry about when I fly, and I fly a lot, and flying scares me don't understand how something larger than a Greyhound bus can get off the ground and stay there. I barely muddle through when I fly, but stewardesses like me. They lose a lot of weight running back and forth between me and wherever they keep those little bottles of courage.

Fear of flying is a phobia, of course. Temporary Morgueaphobia: the fear of winding up under a sheet in a high school gymnasium.

But the problem for those affected is there are all sorts of other little phobias that come under the heading of the primary one

There is Glubglubaphobia, for instance, which is the fear that if you ever, in fact, need to use your seat cushion for flotation, it won't work and you will drown in whatever farm pond or back yard swimming poolyour flight has crashed into.

Over the years I have compiled a list of many phobias I fall victim to when I fly. Which of these do you have:

Whirraphobia: fear of any change in engine sound. Iranaphobia: fear of the airplane being hi-jacked by Arab terrorists who have a thing for Southern guys with mustaches

Jimmydeanaphobia: fear that those little sausage patties they serve me on breakfast flights aren't cooked well enough and I will get trichinosis

Notimeforgoodbyaphobia: fear the top of the airline will suddenly rip open and I will be sucked out at 40,000 feet over the Pacific while strapped to a 200-pound metal object, my Slyaphobia: fear that the movie on a flight to the West Coast will be a "Rocky." Gimmethataphobia: fear of, in the unlikely event of cabin depressurization, my oxygen mask will work, but not the one belonging to the guy sitting next to me, and he will be Buster Douglas Ebonyaphobia: fear that all my favorite magazines will have been taken by other passengers and all I've got left to read is Ebony Baitaphoia: even worse, all

that's left to read is Field and Stream

Bornagainaphobia: fear of being seated next to a religious nut with a lot of pamphlets.

Fruitoftheloomaphobia: fear the pilot's underwear is too tight and he's paying more attention to that than all those little dials in front of him.

The good news is now you can forget about Virginiaslimaphobia: the fear of breathing second-hand smoke in an airplane.

The bad news is now there's the fear of getting too much cosmic radiation while you're flying: Flashgordonaphobia.

lawmakers advocating additional funds for education reform were furious, some so angry that they left a hearing, when U.S. Secretary of Education Lauro Cavazos told them more money isn't the answer.

"Money is not the only answer. It is clearly not the answer to the education deficit," Cavazos told a joint House-Senate meeting

"I don't mean to deny that some schools in some districts might need additional resources, but the real answer lies in better utilization of existing resources," he told the lawmakers.

Three Democratic state lawmakers left in the middle of the speech by Cavazos, a native Texan and former president of Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

The Legislature is meeting in special session to work out a new funding scheme for public education in Texas, The Texas Supreme Court struck down the current funding scheme after finding major disparities between public schools in property-rich and property-poor Sen. Hector Uribe, D

Brownsville, left with Reps. Paul Moreno, D-El Paso, and Gregory Luna, D-San Antonio, before Cavazos finished his speech to the Legislature.

'I'm angry at what Cavazos had to say," said Uribe. "He has wound up being a mouthpiece for the Bush administration and nothing more."

'That wasn't a speech for education, that was an apology for Republican policy," said Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

"I am sorely disappointed that the Secretary of Education doesn't have a better grasp of the problems facing education in this state," said Parker, who is sponsoring legislation that would pump $783 million in additional money into schools fr

Others expressed anger and disappointment that Cavazos seemed to side against those pushing for additional state money to address the court ruling.

The legislators said money is not the only answer, but more dollars are needed for the $13.5 billion-ayear Texas public school system, which relies on a combination of state aid, local property taxes and some federal funds.

Rep. Eddie Cavazos, chairman of the House Mexican American Legislative Caucus, said, "Today, unfortunately, was a sad and shameful day for all Hispanics in the state of Texas.

'It seems to me before we educate our children, we need to educate the secretary of education on what the problems are in this state where he was born and educated," said Cavazos, D-Corpus Christi, who is not related to the education secretary.

Lauro Cavazos, who spoke at the Legislature's invitation, said afterwards that he was not trying to make decisions for state lawmakers. But he stood by his statement that for education reform to work, the system must be restructured.

Cavazos suggested that students not be restricted to attending a school in a district in which they reside, and that education management be shifted to the local school

Sen. Carlos Truan, D-Corpus hristi, chairman of the Senate Hispanic Caucus, confronted Cavazes after the speech, saying, "You cannot say it's a lack of better usage of the dollars when there are no dollars to speak of to attract the teachers and keep them" in many poor school districts.

Human testing of possible AIDS vaccine is approved

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) -Human testing of a potential AIDS vaccine, the first to be approved by a state board without going through the federal process, is scheduled to begin soon at two California hospitals. The California Department of Health Services Food and Drug Branch announced Monday that clinical tests of HGP-30 will start in two or three months at San Franèisco General Hospital and the University of Southern California Medical Center in Los Angeles. Researchers are seeking 24 healthy volunteers who test negative for exposure to the human immunodeficiency virus, or HIV, which causes AIDS.

This initial test is to determine the vaccine's safety. But scientists also will watch to see if the volunteers' bodies make protective antibodies against the vaccine, a hint that it might someday provide protection against acquired immune deficiency syndrome:

"It is a very limited, small study - the first step in vaccine development in humans," said Dr. James Kahn, who will conduct the testing in San Francisco. "It's not something that's going to cure AIDS, and it is not intended as a cure or treatment for AIDS.'

If it is proven safe, the next step would be to see if it can prevent AIDS, and researchers say that only after safety and effectiveness are proven, a process that could take many years, would the vaccine be distributed. Kahn said mot researchers believe it will be five to 10 years before an effective. AIDS vaccine is developed.

HGP-30 is a synthetic version of a protein called p17, a part of all strains of the HIV virus. It is being developed by Alpha 1 Biomedical Inc. of Washington, D.C., and CEL-

Elks Hoop Shoot

Sixty contestants from across Texas competed in the state hoop shoot Saturday in Mesquite. Out of 193,000 kids who entered the competition in Texas this year these 60 won competitions at local, and area levels, to advance to state.

Stuart Beall, Knott, tied for fourth place by sinking 16 out of 25. shots in the 8- and 9-year-old class. Jimmy Grundy, Cleburne, placed first with 20 shots. In 10- and 11-year-old girls competition, Deborah Light, Forsan, tied for second with four others in first round competition, and wound up fourth during a 5-shot shootout

Jason Milliken, Coahoma, placed with with a score of 16 out of the 25 shots attempted. The Elks Lodge held an awards banquet on Saturday night in honor of all contestants. Manny Hendricks, corherback for the Dallas Cowboys was guest speaker. He stressed the importance of staying free from drugs and keeping a close tie with God would always be the greatest asset in life for all. Experiences like these has a great influence on all kids, it is wonderful that the Elks Lodge takes interest in building better people for tomorrow. Each participant was presented a certificate for competing and the Dallas Mavericks gave them banners, T-shirts, and posters for their grat accomplishment. # Easy one-dish casserole

How to open an egg

By PAPA JOE REED When you think of one-dish meals, your first thought is casseroles. I would venture to say that the casserole is the ultimate one-dish meal. It is easy to make and easy to serve. But, best of all, it is economical. If you like casseroles — and who doesn't? — you need to keep some basic supplies on hand.

These would include cream of mushroom soup, cream of celery soup, and onion soup mixes. These are necessities. If you're pressed for time, the casserole is the answer to your prayers. If you double the recipe, you have two meals instead of one. Warmed up, it's better the second time around. Today, we will have a: PORK CHOP AND RICE CASSEROLE

Pork chops (4, 1-inch thick) Onion (1, medium, chopped) Beef bouillon (112 cup, undiluted)

Paprika (12 teaspoon) Rice (112 cups) Pimiento (1 tablespoon, chopped) Marjoram (14 teaspoon) Salt and pepper to taste

First, preheat your oven to 350 degrees. In a hot skillet brown the chops, about 10 minutes on each side. When chops are brown, remove and put in a 2-quart casserole. Next, drain all but about one tablespoon of fat from the skillet and add the onion. Saute until tender. About five minutes should do it. Now add the bouillon with one cup of water, the paprika, salt, saffron and pepper. Mix well and sprinkle the uncooked rice over the chops. Pour the onion mixture over all and bake covered for about 40 to 50 minutes. Add the pimento during the last 10 minutes of baking. Chops should be tender and the rice fluffy.

servings. Remember, spices will make a dish if used correctly. You notice we are using marjoram in this dish. Marjoram is a versatile herb similar to oregaño and is used in stews, soups, braised meats, pork roasts, fish and vegetable dishes. Get in the habit of using the different spices. You'll be glad you did.

STANTON — This week's Recipe Exchange features recipes from the Cookin' For The Convent cookbook.

The cookbook, compiled by the Martin County Convent Foundation Inc. cookbook committee, includes recipes from Martin County residents.

Cookbooks are $6 each, or $25 for five or more. They may be purchased by calling 756-3316.

Proceeds will be used to preserve the nearly 100-year-old building, said Kathryn Burch, Martin County Extension agent, who serves on the convent foundation's board of directors.

The convent will be used for community space, rented office space and a place to store memorabilia, Burch explained.

Tours of the convent are always conducted during the Old Settler's Reunion, and can be toured at anytime by making prior arrangements.

During this year's Martin County Fair, buggy rides will be offered to and from the historic building, said

Eating a balanced diet

NEW YORK (AP) - Most Americans know a balanced diet is the healthiest one, but they don't eat that way, according to a na tional poll.

Moderation seems to be a tough prescription to follow.

"Americans are surprisingly knowledgeable about nutrition and health, but when it comes to translating facts into food choices. most still opt for quick fixes and the latest health fads," Nancy Wellman, president of the American Dietetic Association, the nation's largest group of food and nutrition professionals, said last week at a news conference to announce results of a Gallup survey.

Ninety-five percent of those polled said balance, variety and moderation are the keys to healthy eating, and 83 percent said they

Mitchell fencing

COLORADO CITY - Mitchell County Commissioners voted Tuesday to allow fencing near the new bridge across the Colorado River.

The new bridge, a two-lane roadway, is located at County Roads 206 and 157. Completed in February, it replaces the old one-way Cedar Bend Bridge, which was considered dangerous and unsafe.

Commissioners voted to let the Bell family fence under the new bridge to tie into the exsting old fence, said Mitchell County Judge S.L. "Mac" Morris. The old fence had crossed the river on the east side of the old bridge, he said.

The old bridge was left in its place for historical reasons.

Crossroads school elections start slow

CROSSROADS COUNTRY The school board races are off to a slow start in most school districts across the region. With less than two weeks remaining before the March 21 filing deadline, some board seats have no candidates.

Only Big Spring has a contested seat in the elections. Two men have filed for the district 3 position: John Arrick and Gene Piercefield. Dwayne Fraser, the district 3 incumbent, is not running again. City Public Works Director Tom Decell said he is convinced the regulations will be approved because they have been changed very little since proposed more than a year ago.

Green said he is convinced that garbage rates must be increased to pay for at least certain items, such as the state garbage tax and equipment replacement.

Recall

City Attorney Jean Shotts asked the council to approve the March 24 day so that the U.S. Attorney General's office would have time to approve or disapprove the election before it actually takes place. The U.S. attorney must approve all Big Spring elections to ensure they comply with the voting rights settlement ordered in 1983.

The mayor removed himself from the vote, saying he was tied too closely to the issue.

"I cannot in all fairness sit up here in the mayor's chair because I personally have a conflict of interest," Green told the council.

'I'm emotional about this thing.' In a statement he issued on Monday, Green maintained he is ready for the recall election, saying,

"Let's get this show on the road.

Green also said in the statement that he would "not do anything that would hurt this city or its citizens.' On Tuesday night however,

Green indicated he will challenge the recall election in court asserting that the city charter does not provide for recall of the mayor and that he has not been derelict in his duties. The city attorney has maintained that derelict is loosely interpreted and that under the charter, the mayor can be recalled. "I have very definitely disagreed with you . . . in regard with interpretation of the charter," Green told Shotts during the meeting. "I would love to have the courts interpret the charter for us. Green said if he wins the election, then he still wants a court to interpret the charter in those areas, as well as define the limits of the mayor's power of veto. The recall was forced last week

Track meets Lady Hawks lose star will be hot but still manage win

By STEVE REAGAN Staff Writer

SNYDER — Perhaps the biggest compliment that can be paid to the Howard College Lady Hawks is that they turned in a sub-par performance, lost one of their star players and still managed to win their opening game at the Region V tournament. The Lady Hawks — playing most of the game without freshman sensation Kim Robinson, who may be gone for the season with a knee injury - committed an uncharacteristic 20 turnovers, but found the wherewithal to take a 87-81 come-from-behind win over the McLennan Community College Highlassies in first-round action here Tuesday. With the win, the Lady Hawks advance to the second round of the tournament to face arch-rival South Plains at 9 p.m. tonight in Scurry County Coliseum. Linda Waters led a quintet of Lady Hawks who scored in double figures with 22 points. Ana Carroll scored 17 points, Lisa Moore 13 and Shannon Lawson and Cindy Williams 10 apiece for Howard, now 27-4 for the season.

Tabitha Truesdale scored 21 points, Martine Anderson added 16 and Shawn Medlock tallied 14 to pace the Highlassies. Howard head coach Royce Chadwick said the loss of Robinson, who suffered possible ligament damage to her left knee, adversely affected his team's play against the Highlassies. 'We played terrible,'' Chadwick said. "We didn't execute on offense and we didn't execute on defense, either. When Kim got hurt, we lost our intensity.

'(When Robinson went down) it took all our depth away," he added. 'Now, there was no one to play point guard except Mo (Monique Cook). They kept the pressure on her all night long, and she had several turnovers as a result.

With Robinson in the lineup, Howard raced to an early advantange. After a scoreless first 90 seconds, the Lady Hawks heated up in a hurry, taking advantage of a 13-0 run to lead, 25-14, with 10:10 left in the first half. However, the freshman guard from Slaton injured her knee a minute later and it seemed as if a shroud had descended over the Lady Hawks' attack. The Highlassies, on the other hand, began hitting almost at will, outscoring Howard 21-3 over a sixminute span to take a 37-34 lead.

From there until intermission, the Lady Hawks and Highlassies traded baskets, and McLennan held the advantage, 45-41, at in the second half, and Cook's three-pointer helped them regain the lead 90 seconds into the last Medlock hit consecutive jumpers to give MCC the lead again, but Carroll and Williams fueled a 12-2 spurt that gave Howard a sevenpoint lead with 13:17 remaining.

As they had done in the first half, however, the Highlassies came charging right back. Shanda Reese converted a three-point play and Kalen Parkinson nailed consecutive three-pointers to give MCC a 62-60 edge.

During an ensuing time out, Chadwick changed the Lady Hawks' attack in order to get the ball more to Carroll and Moore along the baseline area.

The tactic worked beautifully, as the duo began ripping the MCC defense to shreds. Moore scored eight points and Carroll four, in a four-minute span to give the Lady Hawks a 77-68 lead with 5:09 left in the game.

Free throws from Waters, Cook and Stephanie Fetcher increased the Howard advantage to 12 with 2:22 to go before McLennan launched one more comeback.

Mates pay final tribute to Gathers Howe gets

LOS ANGELES (AP) — About 5,000 people — family members, friends and schoolmates - accorded Hank Gathers one last, resounding ovation in Albert Gersten Pavilion, the gymnasium where he played his last

The noise broke the solemnity of a memorial mass for the 23-year-old Lovola Marymount star, who died Sunday after collapsing during a West Coast Conference tournament game.

Bo Kimble, Gathers' team mate and best friend from their days together in a Philadelphia housing project, said his buddy would have smiled.

"I know Hank would want to hear one more cheer here in his house," Kimble said as Gathers' mother, Lucille, ran from her seat to hug him.

Gathers' silver casket, draped with red roses and white carnations, was at one end of the basketball court where he became one of the nation's finest players. Sitting nearby were Gathers' mother, two brothers, a sister and an aunt.

Kimble, who played high school basketball with Gathers, recalled his friend's love for the game, and said he would draw from his teammate's enthusiasm.

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball is giving Steve Howe another chance.

Howe, suspended six times in his career for drug and alcohol problems and unofficially banned the last two years, will be allowed to return to the major leagues as early as next season, Commissioner Pay Viller Said Tuesday.

ne Texas Kangers on Jan. 19 1988, for using alcohol in violation of his aftercare program, can return to the minor leagues this season. Vincent said.

Howe spoke with Vincent on Feb. 8 and had been scheduled for a grievance hearing last Thursday before arbitrator George Nicolau. The agreement with Vincent avoided the

"We had a little problem getting the commissioner to give him his blessing," Richard Moss, Howe's agent, said, "In essense, the Howes wanted to come back into baseball in as non-confrontational a manner as possible.

Howe was the National League Rookie of the Year in 1980, but was released by Los Angeles, Minnesota and Texas because of assorted substanceabuse problems. He was suspended for the 1984 season by then-Commissioner Bowie Kuhn for cocaine use

"While I believe that a lifetime ban from baseball is fully warranted in this case, I resolve the doubts raised by the conflicting medical and psychological opinions in Howe's favor and will offer him yet another chance to return to the game," Vincent said in a statement.

The statement said Howe would be "removed from the game" if he tests positive or incurs a relapse. He will be tested as often as every other day, the statement said.

Howe, who will be 32 on Friday, has a 29-31 career record with 60 saves in parts of seven major-league seasons. He is currently a free agent.

SNYDER The Coahoma Bulldogs had a hard time with their fielding and it resulted in an 14-5 loss to the Snyder Tigers junior varsity here Tuesday.

Coahoma hurlers Mark Arguello and Duth Barr only allowed seven hits, but the Bulldogs committed seven errors, leading to nine unearned Arguello pitched four innings and took the loss. He fanned nine Tigers. Barr pitched the last inning. Mike Hernandez was Coahoma's leading hitter, with a double, single and two runs batted.in

In the first inning Arguello and Hernandez singled, and Kenny Lowery walked, loading the bases for Brent Elmore. Elmore walked, scoring Arguello.

Coahoma started the geme off on the wrong foot, committing two errors. Next a Snyder player doubled, scoring them. Snyder would score three more runs in the inning

Coahoma added two runs in the second. With two outs, Rusty Ginetti singled and Arguello walked. Hernandez's double scored them both.

Snyder came back with two more runs in the bottom of the inning, taking a 7-3 advantage.

Snyder put the game away by scoring seven times in the fourth inning.

"We're improving every game," said Coahoma coach Phillip Ritchey. "We gave them five runs in the first inning, we fought back and cut it to 7-5. Then we committed three straight errors in the fourth inning, and they ended up scoring seven runs.

"We really haven't been playing thet bad, it's just those streaks of errors we make.

Coahoma, 0-3 for the season. will be in action March 20 when they play the Big Spring JV at 4 p.m. at Steer Field.

Hawks hoopsters play Thursday

BY RUTH COCHRAN City Editor

BIG SPRING — The Hawks will enter tomorrow's regional tournament game in Snyder knowing they have one chance — and they better take it and run with it.

Howard College qualified for the Region V tournament after winning a share of the Western Junior College Athletic Conference title. The Hawks raced to a 28-3 season and a 13-3 conference record, and finished the regular season ranked number five in the nation.

Despite running up 28 wins, one loss will end the Hawks' season. If they want to qualify for the national tournament, they'll have to win three straight in Snyder. Coach Steve Green has cautioned his team that TSTI, which finished third in the Northern Junior College Athletic Conference, won't be a walkover

'The thing I'm going to try to get across to them is that every year in the regioanl tournament one team is upset," Green said. "Obviously we're the favorite in the game but you can throw all that favorite stuff

The Hawks were victims of a mild upset last year in the regional tournament when Ranger College beat them in the second round. HC had beaten Ranger twice during the regular season in close games.

Although the WJCAC is generally considered the toughest conference in the nation, Green said he couldn't predict a four-game sweep by Howard, number-one seed South Plains, third-seed Odessa College and fourth-seed New Mexico is a goal they set early in the Junior College

"I think this league is stronger than that one," Green said. 'You've got to think that there's a chance," for a sweep.

Green said Odessa should beat Hill, the NJCAC second seed, and South Plains should beat Grayson, which sneaked into the tournament when Cisco was forced to forfeit some games

Even NMJC has a solid chance against the Northern Conference's top see, McLennan, he said. 'I think you can forget New Mexico is the fourth seed in our league," Green said. "They may be the most talented team in our league.

Green feels like his team can win the regional championship, which season.

"We can't have any letdowns," Green said. "We've got to put the whole 40 minutes together.

'We're conference cochampions and we feel like we should be regional champions. The Hawks will play TSTI at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Scurry County Coliseum. If they win, they willplay on Friday at 9 p.m. The Hawks would face the winner of the New Mexico-McLennan match at 5 p.m. Thursday.

In the other bracket, OC and Hill play at noon Thursday and South Plains and Grayson play at 9 p.m. The winners will play on Friday at

The championship game is scheduled for Saturday at 7 p.m.

VEGA (AP) — After one most extraordinary season, Vega High School basketball coach Wayne Potter is on his way back to the boys state basketball tournament.

For the most part, things will be about the same as the time he took his Vega team to Austin and returned with the Class 1A boys state title. Everything will be pretty much as it was when he took the Longhorns to the regional semifinals last season after a 4-11

Then again, where perspectives are considered, things will never really be the same. A phone call Potter received on Feb. 4 changed

Raised in Tulia, Potter grew up with a young man named Donald Ewing. As time and friendships would have it, both started for the Hornets and both attended West fatal heart attack earlier that day. Texas State. Ewing was a groomsman when Potter got married and along the way each entered the coaching profession. They never lost track of one another

Less than 24 hours later, Potter's phone rang with the news: the 53-year-old Ewing had suffered a and he was at Hart so he and his

"It just about knocked me to my knees," Potter said. "It's just like when something happens in your family, there's a million things you would have liked to have said.

'The things you would've said would be more important than basketball. I don't really know how to put it. We're just here an Xamount of time. I guess with maturity, you start focusing in on some perspectives.

Ewing's graveside services in Tulia were painful for Potter. Don was buried real close to my mom," Potter said. "Sometimes where you should be.

"At the time of the tragedy, there wasn't a lot I could say," Potter said. "The other night after the game, I went up and gave her a big hug. I asked how she was doing. That lady is the Rock of Gibraltar.

Without question Potter is proud of his Longhorns. Bound for the final four this weekend, Vega, 29-0, has won 42 of its last 43 games dating back to last season.

Ralph and crew back at state

By PETE HERRERA

For want of a driving lesson, Arizona lost a coach and New Mexico gained a legend.

Forty-four years ago, when Ralph Tasker was leaving his Air Force assignment at Albuquerque's Kirtland Field and in need of a job; his options came down to becoming an assistant basketball and football coaching job at Mesa, Ariz., or a similar position at Lovington High was elementary "I didn't have a driver's license, didn't own a car and didn't know how to drive,' Tasker said. "Besides, Arizona sounded like the other side of the world.'

School In Tasker's case, the choice

So Tasker purchased a bus ticket, headed for southeastern New Mexico and became an institution.

This week, Tasker and the Hobbs Eagles, the program that has made him the winningest active coach in high school basketball, return to Albuquerque for their almost annual appearance in the boys State

Basketball Tournament. The 70-year-old Tasker rarely leaves Hobbs, and scorns vacations with the same intensity as one of his team's rare losses. He makes an exception every March, when the state's best high school basketball teams congregate in Albuquerque to determine the best among their

When Hobbs opens Class AAAA play Thursday morning against Santa Fe High, it will mark the 37th appearance for the Eagles in the tournament. Over the last 30 years, they have been no-shows only twice, in 1961 and 1986 — and made up for the latter by winning it all in 1987 and 1988.

Hobbs, ranked No. 2 in the state at the end of the regular season, is 19-5. The Eagles, a young team with only four seniors on the roster, lost their first two games and have since won 19 of 22.

Since that move to Lovington in December 1946, Tasker's teams have won 973 games and lost 251, a 795 winning percentage, and 13 state championships. The Eagles twice won three consecutive titles, 1956-58 and 1968-70.

Notable Tasker products include Bill Bridges, a standout with the Atlanta Hawks; Larry Robinson, who starred at Texas. and Larry Williams, who played at Kansas State. Robinson and Williams were teammates on the 1970 team that averaged a national-record 114.6 points a game, one of five Tasker outfits to score over 104 points per ACKERLY — The Sands Independent School Board met Thursday morning and adopted new text books and the school calender for the upcoming school year, said Superintendent James Blake.

They also evaluated all their teachers. "Everyone was rehired," he said.

In addition, they discussed voting for the incumbents for the two places that are open on the board of directors of the Education Service Center in Lubbock, Blake said. The center serves 66 school districts in the

On the calender that was approved, the school year starts on Aug. 27, Blake said. Graduation is May 28.

He said the textbooks that were chosen are from books sent by five-six publishers.

Bunny hop banned

GRANBURY (AP) - "The Bunny Hop" has been banned on the Granbury Queen Riverboat for fear the bouncy swing number will capsize the dinnercruise ship.

The 74-foot paddlewheeler began bouncing around wildly on Lake Granbury, near Fort Worth, one night last year. Owner Gary Miller left the pilot house and rushed toward the main deck.

"I couldn't figure it out until I looked downstairs and saw these people doing 'The Bunny Hop,' he said.

The boat band still takes requests, but "The Bunny Hop" is verboten, Miller said this week.

Moderates want voice

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) -Three people are seeking offices in the Southern Baptist Convention in an effort to steer the 14.8 million-member group away from its conservative path of the past 11 years.

Steve Tondera, a former president of the Alabama Baptist State Convention, announced on Tuesday his intention to seek office as vice president. "As a layman, I will do my best to work toward returning the Southern Baptist Convention to efforts of missions and ministries and away from the control of a few for political power purposes," he said.

Tondera, a senior engineer at Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville and part-time cattle rancher, was joined at a Birmingham news conference by the Rev. Daniel Vestal of Dunwoody, Ga., and Carolyn Weatherford Crumpler of Birmingham.

Together, the three want to take power away from the conservative fundamentalists who came into force in 1979 and began appointing others with similar views to key posts on the boards of Baptist colleges and agencies. The conservatives, now led by President Jerry Vines, say they disagree with moderates on theology — mainly the conservatives' insistence on the literal interpretation of the Bible.

tifies aviation records. The Blackbird then refueled before cruising in to Dulles Airport

The flight also set three city-tocity speed records: 2,153.24 mph between Los Angeles and Washington; 2,242.48 mph between St. Louis and Cincinnati and 2,200.94 mph between Kansas City, Mo., and Washington. The pilot was Lt. Col. Ed Yeilding, and Lt. Col. J.T. Vida was the reconnaissance systems officer.

It was one of the few public " displays of a Blackbird. And despite the rush to publicize this final flight, most details of the plane's design and capabilities are still top secret. The Air Force won't even say how many of the planes exist.

Maj. Suzanne Randle of the Strategic Air Command's headquarters at Offutt Air Force Base, Neb., said nine Blackbirds are going to museums, three are being mothballed at Palmdale, Calif., and three will be used by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for research. Ms. Randle said she could not say whether that accounted for all the

The highflying Blackbird regularly flew missions over heavily defended North Vietnam and provided intelligence in many other regions, including the Middle East and China.

The plane can outrun the fastest fighters and has never been shot down. Built to withstand temperatures of more than 800 degrees Fahrenheit, its skin is a titanium alloy instead of the aluminum used on most airplanes. It can sustain a speed of Mach 3, or three times the speed of sound, but its maximum speed is classified.

Hot and hearty, full-flavored and satisfying—that's what winter fare should be. Whether simmered slowly or served in short order, it should look delicious and taste even better.

Try this new collection of chill-chasing recipes to brighten all your winter menus. Created by PACE® picante sauce home economists with an eve toward fuss-free preparation, each recipe reinterprets a cool-weather classic with spicy, fresh appeal. Ideal for family meals as well as casual entertaining, they rely on the cook's choice of mild, medium or hot PACE® picante sauce for their garden-fresh flavor and lively jalapeno "heat." Picante Pork Stew slow-simmers pork and colorful vegetables to zesty flavor perfection with little attention from the cook.

In Tex-Mex Meat Loaf, ground beef or turkey teams with beans, picante sauce and border state seasonings for a lively loaf to serve warm from the oven or chilled and thinly sliced

Thai-Style Skewered Chicken broils marinated chicken chunks, bright bell pegpers and onion with a basting sauce that duplicates the rich, exotic flavors favored at Thai restaurants.

Inspired by a Mexican classic, Chicken Picadillo showcases traditional south-of-the-border flavors without the need for specialty seasonings and tedious pepper preparation. And for Spicy Chicken Cacciatore, a zesty version of the traditional Italian favorite, picante sauce "punch" adds new flavor excitement.

Extension groups stay active

By DON RICHARDSON County Extension Agent

Livestock shows have dominated the time and lives of many of our local folks in recent weeks as they have traveled across the state allowing their youngsters in the 4-H program to exhibit their livestock projects at the major shows.

These people, in many cases devote a lot of time and effort, not to mention expense, in this program, and still find time for other activities. Too often, a lot of these people go unnoticed and, for sure, do not seek recognition, but they do deserve it.

In the midst of all the stock show activities, one of our 4-H families received a high honor bestowed upon them by the Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting. John Middleton was honored as agricultural producer of the year. Middleton has been a result demonstrator for several years, working with us to help show local producers the importance of diversification in agriculture in Howard County.

Against advice and at great odds with nature, Middleton proved sheep could be produced, and at a profit, in predator-infested areas of our county.

His work with the use of guard donkeys has attracted national attention and he and his family hosted one of the most outstanding sheep and goat and rangefield days in West Texas last summer attended by almost 100 people.

Middleton was supported by family, Harry and Jeannette Middleton, his wife Cindy, and daughters, Kirf and Lauren, who have been actively showing their lambs across the state all season. Our hats off to the Middletons for this honor!

Other 4-H'ers and their families did an outstanding community service project recently as they undertook the adoption of the landscape area on the east side of the county courthouse. Almost 50 youngsters/ and parents joined Ricky Spencer, our newest addition to our county staff, and renovated the flower beds and planted more than 750 pansies donated by the Chamber of Commerce from decorations used at the annual meeting.

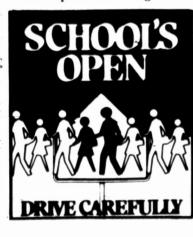

Extension Program Council members have been developing plans for the revision of the county's Long Range Extension Plan. Key community leaders will soon be contacted to meet and help identify critical issues that will assist the county staff as they work with their various Program Area Committees in planning and implementing their educational programs to be conducted in the county during the next four years.

Mrs. Pat Porter, chairman, is busy with community projects. She was instrumental in working with the Leadership Big Spring Alumni in promoting and developing the recent Town Meeting that allowed citizens to express their concerns about some of the problems facing our community.

The Council supported this project as their sponsored educational program for the year. Marsha Stabel, 4-H and youth specialist, San Angelo, is working with the Jr. Leadership Big Spring Program again this year. Program coordinator is Kathy Blagrave.

A 4-H livestock and horse judging project group is being formed. Youngsters who are interested in this program should contact Ricky Spencer at 267-1821. The County Extension Field Crops Program Area Committee is working with the county staff in planning educational programs for county crops and livestock producers coming up in the near future for training in the new "Right-to-Know" laws and regulations and certification programs for use of agricultural chemicals.

Please be watching this news article and the mail for notices with more details on these meetings. Employers and employees that use chemicals are particularly affected by these new changes in the state laws being enforced by the Texas Department of Agriculture.
