Procrastinators have last chance at IRS deadline

By JIM LUTHER Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal Revenue Service Form 4868 is one of the most-sought pieces of paper in the nation today as an estimated 6 million Americans abandon hopes of meeting the midnight deadline for filing a federal tax return.

Filing a Form 4868, along with a check for estimated taxes owed, automatically extends the return deadline to Aug. 15.

IRS offices and Postal Service branches in many parts of the country planned extra hours today to accommodate those who put off the inevitable.

The IRS did not estimate how many couples and individuals were waiting until the last minute to file. But the agency predicted that about 34 million returns - more than 30 percent of the 111 million expected this year — would be filed April 7 or later. Residents of New England and

New Yorkers who mail their returns to the IRS Service Center in Andover, Mass., have until midnight Tuesday because Monday is Patriots' Day, a state holiday in Massachusetts. As the 1989 return-filing season drew to a close, the Tax Foundation offered some sobering news: The average person will have to work 125 days this year — through May 5 — just to pay his or her share of federal, state and local taxes. That is the latest ever for the

It takes 5 months to pay off taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is how Tax Freedom Day has changed over the years.

Tax Freedom Day is the Tax Foundation's way of dramatizing how Americans are affected by federal, state and local taxes. For 1990, the date is estimated to be May 5, meaning that if every dollar earned during the first part of the year were earmarked for taxes, the average worker would be paid up on May

The figures assume individuals pay all taxes, including those collected from corporations.

Searchers drag lake for drowned toddler

By DEBBIE LINCECUM Staff Writer

COLORADO CITY - Tragedy marred an Easter-weekend outing here when a toddler fell from a boat into Lake Colorado City and apparently drowned According to a Mitchell County Sheriff's Office report, a 19-month Hispanic boy fell into the waters of Lake Colorado City at about 5:40 p.m. Sunday. A man who claims he witnessed the event, however, said the boat, loaded with about a dozen people, capsized.

Searchers with the sheriff's office, as well as state park game wardens and the park superintendent dragged the lake until 10 p.m., the report said. Volunteer divers also combed the lake, but nothing was found and the search was suspended.

Deputies and game wardens from surrounding counties were dragging the lake again this morning. The boy's family has been present during the search.

Game Warden J.S. Bullard said four or five boats have been participating in the search. He said the boys small body will be difficult to

"It takes time," Bullard said. "We're going to keep trying until we find him.

Rescue tool better than 'Jaws of Life'

By DEBBIE LINCECUM Staff Writer

The Big Spring Fire Department's new rescue tool is not the "Jaws of Life" — it is stronger and more efficient.

The Homaltro Rescue Tool, or HRT, has 64,000 pounds of cutting strength, 33,000 pounds of both pushing and pulling strength and a 30-inch reach. The old "Jaws" used in the department since 1977 could not compare, firefighters said.

Capt. Alex Calvio said the tool may not look as glamorous as it seems on TV, but the January purchase was well worth the cost.

Spring each picked up half of the $11,000 price tag. "This tool is much more versatile." Calvio said. "Our old 'Jaws' rescue tool had become obsolete. We've been very pleased with this one The HRT has three seperate units that can be attached to the motor, which is about the size and noise level of a lawn-mower motor. Two of the units can be used at the same time, greatly upgrading the efficiency.

The huge pincer-like unit, which Lt. Robert Muller said will lift nine each other, weighs only about 46 pounds compared to the "Jaws"

The cutter, though not sharp, can slice through a paper business card as smoothly as it cuts a car's roof. The old unit would simply squeeze something until it broke, not actually cutting.

The ram, with a piston on each end, is the latest attachment on the market. It can be used to hold open a space so rescuers can work with another tool inside it.

The tool's oil, a mineral-based fluid, will not harm skin if it comes

Howard County and the City of Big pickup trucks stacked on top of into contact. The old "Jaws" contained an oil that burned on contact.

The HRT is used on vehicles 99 percent of the time, Muller said, usually to open car roofs and doors and pull out steering columns. It can be dispatched anywhere in Howard County and there is never a charge for a rescue Training on the HRT is an eighthour course, in which firefighters practice on cars in a wrecking yard to learn to use the tool safely.

'Of course anytime you use a tool, there is some danger. That is RESCUE page 6-A DALLAS (AP) - The barbequed alligator and rattlesnake skewers both were among delicacies scuttled from the final menu for a gala party at the Dallas Zoo.

"It got too controversial. It's not very kosher to be grilling a rattlesnake when you have them in the zoo," explained Nick Barclay, a chef for the event whose buffalo and venison ideas also were rejected.

A&M pulls first license prank

AUSTIN (AP) - A license plate likely to send motoring Longhorn fans into a tailspin and Texas A&M University boosters laughing off into the nearest exit lane will hit the streets sometime in June.

A plate bearing an A&M insignia and the message "I 8 BEVO" is one of the first personalized collegiate license plates ordered from the Texas Highway Department.

In January, the department offered to manufacture special plates with school insignia and colors for Texas' 175 public and private colleges. Participating schools had to submit a design and guarantee that at least 1.500 plates would be purchased.

The plates double as a fundraiser, as $25 of the extra $30 charged for each is deposited in a scholarship fund for the school.

Texas A&M was the first of nine schools to apply, and is leading in applications with 141.

Twenty-four fans have spent an additional $40 to have the plates, which bear a maroonand-gray insignia, personalized with messages such as "4 AGGS" and "CORPS."

Other schools offering collegiate plates are Southern Methodist University, Incarnate Word College, UT-Arlington, UT-El Paso, Texas Tech University, University of Houston and Richland College.

Borden County sheriff Scores of bunnies die Easter weekend handles job on his own

ROCKWALL (AP) — Nearly 100 white bunnies were slain on Easter weekend at a Dallas area farm that breeds show-quality rabbits.

"It looked like 'Friday the 13th,' said Sue Travis, whose father Alan Travis owns the Travis Rabbitry. "Blood was everywhere."

Ms. Travis said 96 rabbits were killed by three mixedbreed dogs from a residence about five miles away. Only seven of the New Zealand white rabbits in the breeding pen survived the savage attack!

Travis interrupted the attack as it was in progress late Friday night and he shot one of the dogs. He managed to catch another dog, but the third one escaped, Ms. Travis said.

"Looks like we lost $6,000" worth of rabbits," Ms. Travis said. "These were top-quality show animals that we imported. Now we will have to start from scratch.'

Kremlin deadline is ignored by Lithuania

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin's deadline for cutting off crucial supplies passed with Lithuania's leaders ignoring Mikhail S. Gorbachev's plea to repeal laws implementing their independence

The Baltic republic's deputy prime minister, Romualdas Ozolas, went on Lithuanian television Sunday night as the 48-hour deadline expired.

He said the republic's president, Vvtautas Landsbergis, and prime minister, Kazimiera Prunskiene, would discuss Moscow's ultimatum today. The council of ministers and parliamentary leadership were also expected to convene.

Landsbergis has repeatedly said Lithuania would not abandon its drive to restore the independence lost when, with fellow Baltic states Latvia and Estonia, it was forcibly annexed by the Soviet Union in

Ozolas also said that Estonia and Lithuania — in a further sign of resolve - would exchange ambassadors today, according to Aidas Palubinskas of the Lithuanian Parliament's information that Lithuania's leaders rescind "anti-constitutional" actions promoting independence or face an economic blockade. That includes canceling conscription into the Soviet army and seizing Communist Party property.

The Soviet president threatened to cut off products the Soviet Union sells abroad for hard currency if the republic's leaders failed to act by Sunday. He did not specify the materials, but they include oil and natural gas — products Lithuania buys only from Moscow and at subsidized prices

There was no immediate word from the Kremlin today on the threatened blockade and, because of the long Easter weekend in predominantly Roman Catholic Lithuania, industry and most businesses were closed.

Landsbergis said Saturday that no action — presumably by the republic's Parliament - was planned before Tuesday.

In Washington on Sunday, Senate leaders of both parties warned Gorbachev that carrying out his threatened economic blockade could hurt efforts to improve trade relations between the United States

At least 71 killed in train fire

NEW DELHI, India (AP) - A 9:30 a.m leaking gas cylinder sparked a raging fire on a moving passenger train in eastern India today, burning at least 71 people to death and leaving 50 injured, News agencies reported higher death tolls. Press Trust of India said at least 80 people were killed; United News of India said the toll exceeded 100.

The train was passing through Patna, 500 miles southeast of New Delhi, when the fire broke out at a match.

The blaze swept through two cars of the 16-car train before firefighters could extinguish it, said District Magistrate S.K. Sharma, the top civil administrator in the Patna region.

Mathew John, the director of safety for the Federal Railway Board in New Delhi, said two cylinders of inflammable gas caught fire. He said one of the cylinders was leaking and apparently ignited when someone lit

JERUSALEM (AP) Jerusalem Mayor Teddy Kollek said today he fully backs the U.S. Senate resolution affirming Jerusalem as Israel's capital, contradicting remarks attributed to him by visiting Senate Republican leader Robert Dole.

Dole also told a Sunday news conference at the end of an eightday Middle East tour that he would tell the Senate he now opposes the non-binding resolution, which he originally supported when it was approved March 22.

"I conclude (the resolution) was ill-timed," Dole said. He said it was distracting attention in the Arab world from the peace

The Senate resolution said: 'Jerusalem is and should remain the capital of the state of Israel.'

It was enacted shortly after President Bush said he objected to settling Soviet immigrant Jews in Arab east Jerusalem, which was annexed by Israel after it was captured from Jordan in the 1967 Middle East war.

Taxpayers need protection

While some of the nation's observers are running around saying, "What are we going to do?" about S&L failures and bailouts, several congressmen are doing something about it. They have introduced legislation to limit compensation packages at federally insured depository institutions.

Enacting this one relatively minor adjustment could save taxpayers a substantial sum.

In some cases, the failure of financial institutions is attended by bailouts for high officers. Perhaps the best example is the top management of Drexel Burnham Lambert Inc., a Wall Street securities firm, which handed out some $350 million in bonuses just before filing for bankruptcy.

Creditors rather than taxpayers were hurt by that payoff, but the potential is there for institutions backed by federally insured deposits. The proposed legislation would limit such golden parachutes at those institutions.

Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. chairman William Siedman told a House subcommittee that his agency needs more authority to prevent excessive compensation at weakened institutions that are still operating.

The FDIC should be given all the authority it needs to protect taxpayers, and then Congress and the president should make sure it uses it effectively toward that end. The Clarion-Ledger, Jackson, Miss.

No more coddling

Arguments for fuel efficiency are about basic common sense. Yet for years the simple wisdom of conserving something that is in limited supply escaped America.

It was too complex for Ronald Reagan. His administration was determined to foil a 1975 law mandating higher fuel-efficiency standards.

Thanks to White House clout and Reagan's backward thinking, the standard Congress originally planned for 1985-model fleets wasn't in place until the 1990-model

The victory went to Detroit lobbyists. The loss went to a nation that is increasingly dependent on imported oil and increasingly swaddled in air pollution. It was a commitment to waste in a world that must learn to conserve finite sources of energy and develop renewable ones.

Corporate Average Fuel Economy standards had a beneficial effect despite the best efforts of Ronald Reagan and (the) Detroit lobby. Higher standards kept 360 million tons of carbon dioxide out of the air just in 1989, according to the Sierra Club. . .

Higher fuel-efficiency standards are like finding an oil well. They save resources and blunt arguments about how the nation must sacrifice every wilderness for the sake of oil exploration. They reduce both pollution and the need for oil imports. For consumers, they could lower operating costs — or at least help offset the higher gas taxes looming on the horizon.

There isn't room in an environmentally conscious nation for any more coddling of automakers who cling to out-of-date ideas.

Congress has to look out for the best interests of the na tion, and provide a real incentive for car makers to offer truly efficient cars. Higher fuel-efficiency standards are a simple, easy strategy in a nation that needs to remember that conservation means more than just doing without. The Arizona Daily Star, Tucson, Ariz.

Scandal of lasting interest

Like Oliver North before him, former National Security Adviser John Poindexter has been convicted of criminal charges growing out of the Reagan administration's Iran-Contra scandal.

So, why care? President Reagan's watch has ended. A free election has been held in Nicaragua. The Ayatollah Khomeini is dead. Poindexter's and North's military careers have been ruined. True, American hostages remain prisoners, but why not let the scandal rest?

Because, in the name of patriotism, Poindexter and North rode roughshod over our concept of government as one of laws, not men. They established a shadow government in the National Security Council that cavalierly made and carried out secret foreign policy. In the process, they broke the laws they were pledged to protect.

That's worth remembering. Portland (Maine) Press Herald

Abortion is only one issue

It doesn't matter how you stand on abortion, or even if you elect to avoid the argument altogether, there's one aspect of the issue that bids to do you harm.

That's today's tendency to put all the eggs in one political basket, to vote for or against a candidate strictly on how he or she stands on abortion. At least one organization actually targeted New Jersey candidates for defeat at the polls if they did not measure up to the organization's stand on abortion.

The National Organization for Women actually tried to boycott an entire state, Idaho, and a defenseless vegetable, the potato.

Though the state Legislature passed a restrictive abortion measure there, Idaho's Gov. Cecil Andrus — perhaps fearing for the fiscal health of his fiefdom — reversed the process with a last-minute veto.

We oppose the notion that candidate should be thrown out of office (or thrown in for that matter) just because of a stand on one issue.

The abortion issue is an emotional one, but it has a direct effect on only a small percentage of marchers on either side, including those who fail for one reason or another to use readily available preventive measures.

Our political system is often perceived as corrupt, but there is little excuse for our corrupting it deliberately. Burlington County Times, Willingboro, N.J.

Despite an annual U.S. aid outlay of $3 billion, the Bush administration cannot steer Israelis into choosing a government responsive to the U.S. land-for peace formula

And despite the purchase of about $2 billion a year in Iraqi oil and support for bank loans for Baghdad, the administration cannot deter Saddam Hussein from stockpiling dangerous weapons and threatening to wipe out half of Israel with poison gas if it attacks.

Israel's political problems evidently are impervious to outside pressure, while Iraq's drive for prominence in the Arab world is not going to slow down just to please the United States.

The upshot is no negotiations for the indefinite future between Israel and Palestinian Arabs, and frayed nerves as the militant Iraleader bids for leadership in the Arab world — and gains support from such reputed moderates as King Hussein of Jordan and President Hosni Mubarak of Egypt.

"Iraq is not a country which wants or calls for war," Mubarak said after showing support for Saddam Hussein last weekend with a visit to Iraq. The Jordanian king registered similar sentiments in Aqaba.

Lifestyle Letter battle breaks out over women in combat

DEAR ABBY: As a former WAC. may I contribute my thoughts concerning women in combat? I served in World War II for three years on a proving ground under combat conditions, evaluating weapons and helping to train troops in the use of those weapons. My observations were as follows:

· A significant number of men are not suitable for combat duty. A larger percentage of women are not suitable for combat duty.

 People are reluctant to take orders from squeaky-voiced little people who appear to be young and/or weaker than they are.

 People will readily take orders from an older woman who is

DEAR ABBY: This letter is in response to "A Future Female Soldier"; My feeling is that any woman who can qualify for combat should be able to participate. This also goes for African-Americans, Asians, Native Americans, Hispanics and any other individual who can make the grade.

America has become obsessed with the need to classify people and lv. men are the breadwinners and to qualify them for careers, women are the baby makers. # City plans massive west end cleanup

By RUTH COCHRAN City Editor

BIG SPRING — Local businesses and city and county workers will do their part for Earth Day one day early and at the same time give visitors a better impression of Big Spring.

Tom Decell, city public works director, said he is joining forces with three area companies for a massive cleanup of the city's west end on April 21. The cleanup will be part of Earth Day, he said, which is actually set for April 22.

"It came about as a result of the town meeting" about city problems, Decell said of the cleanup. "I made a committment that we would have a concentrated effort to

A tale of four troubled brothers

GARLAND (AP) — Coaches who saw them play basketball consider the Derrick brothers one of the best foursomes ever to come out of the Dallas area.

"Throw in another guard," said Fred Jackson, who runs the Lou Huff recreation center in Garland, "and you'd have gotten an NCAA bid.

But so far, all the potential of the Derrick brothers -6-5 John, 6-7 Larry, 6-8 Richard and 6-2 Neil — has been untapped. Neil Derrick, 19, signed a

Those who know him best say Neil has a chance to let his basketball abilities carry him to higher things in life. Or

Larry Derrick, 29, played basketball for three years at Garland High School on teams with Ricky Pierce, now with the Milwaukee Bucks, but chose against pursuing college basketball. He's also the only one of the four brothers who has stayed out of trouble

"I can't understand what went wrong with them. They just screwed up. It wasn't like they were raised incorrectly. My mother dragged us to church every Sunday. They had everything going for them, as far as basketball was concerned," said Larry, who works two tends college part-time.

Stewart makes Heritage Classic history

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Arnold Palmer couldn't do it. Neither could Jack Nicklaus or Johnny Miller or Greg Norman.

But where the greats failed, Payne Stewart succeeded. Stewart downed Larry Mize on the second playoff hole on Sunday to become the first golfer to win the Heritage Classic two straight years.

"To defend the title is extra special to me," Stewart said. "To win here again is an honor, I guess. I like the golf course and it keeps getting better each time I come

Stewart, who started the day two strokes ahead, struggled to an even-par 71, but won the tournament with an 18-foot birdie putt on the par-4, 478-yard 18th hole.

While Stewart watched. Mize just missed a 20-foot putt for birdie on the 18th. A horn blew as Mize settled over the putt, forcing him to step away. But he said it didn't affect the putt.

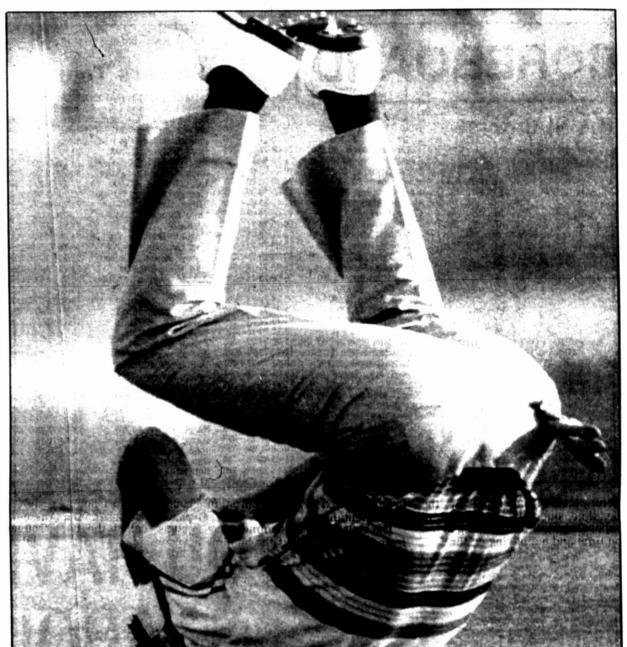

"It was a tough putt for me to read," said Mize, now 1-2 in playoffs. "It was either straight or uphill. I hit it where I wanted to. It started to break and then straightened out and I missed it.' Stewart expected Mize to make the putt. In fact, he told his caddy

"give me that ball back. We've got to go play some more golf. Instead, Stewart walked away with his sixth PGA Tour victory streak in playoffs. "I told myself, 'Look, this is the '90s, and the '80s is when you didn't win any of your playoffs. The '90s are when you're going to win all of them that you're in," he said. "So, I'm one-for-one in the '90s in playoffs." Stewart, Mize and Steve Jones finished regulation at 8-under 276, forcing a sudden-death playoff that began on the par-3, 176-yard 17th. Stewart nearly had a hole-in-one on No. 17 and settled for birdie, as did Mize, who made a 10-foot putt. But Jones was eliminated on the first hole after he drove into the crowd and his second shot came up way short.

Stewart and Jones, playing in the final twosome, had a chance to win in regulation, but both missed birdie opportunities on the 18th. Stewart's 17-foot putt slid by the hole and then Jones pulled his

"I misread the putt," Jones said. "It broke a lot more than I thought. I had a chance. That's all you can

Mize, playing with Jay Haas three twosomes in front of Stewart and Jones, made birdie putts of three and 10 feet on the final two holes to earn his spot in the playoff - the first at the Heritage since

Stewart had two birdies and two bogeys on the 6,657-yard course, while Jones shot a 69, with birdie putts of 25 feet on No. 16 and six inches on the 17th.

Mize, who was five strokes down after the first three rounds, had an up-and-down 66. He had eight birdies but stumbled to a doublebogey on the 14th after bogeying the 13th before making birdies on three of the final four holes

Greg Norman, the 1988 Heritage champion, finished at 277 with Steve Pate. Both Norman, who had a 70, and Pate, who shot 68, had a Norman's approach shot at No. 18 found the rough. Using a sand wedge, Norman fired his birdie attempt to an inch of the hole. As the shot came up short, Norman fell back on the grass in disbelief.

Pate had a birdie putt lip out on the 17th that would have pulled him to 8-under.

Andy Bean shot a final-round 67 to finish alone at 278. Gene Sauers and Loren Roberts were at 279 Sauers had a final-round 69 and Roberts a 71.

Finley does number on baffled Minnesota

By The Associated Press

Chuck Finley sneaked up on the pitching fraternity last season. He isn't fooling anyone this year — except American League hitters.

Finley was second only to Cy Young Award winner Bret Saberhagen in earned run average in 1989 when the left-hander went 16-9 with a 2.57 ERA for the California Angels.

Finley featured a fastball, curve and split-fingered fastball. This season, he's added confidence.

"I really didn't expect all three pitches to work this well, what with the short spring training," Finley said Sunday after working the first eight innings of the Angels' 4-1 victory over the Minnesota Twins. "I'm kind of surprised, but I think that shows you what comes with confidence. "I saw what happened last year, and I'm just comfortable throwing any of the pitches in any situation.

How effective has he been? Finley (2-0) has allowed just five hits in 14 1-3 innings and no earned

"Mr. Finley was a bit too much for us," Minnesota manager Tom Kelly said. "He's got to be one of the best left-handers in the league. Finley allowed three hits, walked three and struck out four. Bryan Harvey pitched the ninth for his first save. On Tuesday, Finley held Seattle to two hits in 61-3 innings of a 7-0 shutout. The Angels broke a 1-1 tie with a three-run rally in the third against Kevin Tapani (1-1), who allowed four hits in five innings while striking out eight

Reds win fifth straight

By The Associated Press

So far, Lou Piniella is making managing in the National League look easy. Cincinnati won its fifth straight game as Eric Davis and Chris Sabo each hit three-run homers Sunday, lifting the unbeaten Reds to a 13-6 victory over Atlanta. It's the Reds' best start since they were 8-0 in 1980. "We're playing nice and loose, relaxed and confident,' Piniella said. "It's a good lineup.'

Sounds simple, right? The Reds had all sorts of problems last season as Pete Rose's troubles lingered throughout the season and every starter except first baseman Todd Benzinger was injured at some point

Cincinnati collapsed after the All-Star break and finished 75-87, fifth in the NL West. It was the Reds' worst result since Piniella spent last season doing some coaching and TV work for the New York Yankees. But he wanted to get back to the dugout if the right opportunity came along

The Reds trailed 4-2 in the seventh inning when consecutive singles by Sabo, Billy Hatcher and Barry Larkin off starter Tom Glavine (0-2) scored a run. Davis then put Cincinnati ahead with a three-run homer off reliever Dwayne

The Reds scored seven runs in the ninth off three relievers. Larkin and Mariano Duncan each produced RBI singles, Paul O'Neill had a two-run single, and Sabo capped the scoring with a three-run homer off Mike Stanton.

Sabo, who hit six homers and drove in 29 runs all of last season, has three homers and six RBIs in his first five games.

PHILADELPHIA — Philadelphia Phillies shortstop Dickie Thon dives for a grounder hit up the middle by St. Louis's Willie McGee in fifth inning action Sunday.

He hit two homers in Friday night's game against the Braves.

Rob Dibble and Randy Myers, two of the fastest-throwing pitchers in baseball, finished for the Reds to preserve the victory for Tim Birtsas.

In 21 innings, the Reds bullpen has allowed two earned runs and 13 hits. They have struck out 29. Dodgers 5, Astros 4 (10) Reliever Charley Kerfeld's wild pitch allowed Juan Samuel to score the tie-breaking run in the 10th inning as Los Angeles edged Houston at the Astrodome. It was the Astros' fifth loss in six games. Samuel doubled and moved to third on Willie Randolph's sacrifice. Kerfeld (0-2) threw a 1-2 pitch to Hubie Brooks that bounced in front of the plate and got by catcher Craig Biggio.

Randolph tied it 4-4 when he homered with one out in the eighth inning off reliever Danny Darwin. Randolph, who hit his first home run last season on Aug. 20, had three hits and drove in three runs. Jay Howell (1-0) pitched two innings for the victory. Padres 4, Giants 3 San Diego completed a threegame sweep of San Francisco when Benito Santiago hit a tworun homer with one out in the ninth inning off relief ace Steve Bedrosian. The Padres rallied in the late innings for all three victories. It was the Padres' fifth straight win and marked the first time the Giants were swept in a three-game series at Candlestick Park since May 25-27, 1987, by the New York

Joe Carter opened the ninth with a double and one out later, Santiago hit a 0-2 pitch over the left field fence. Of the Padres' last 21 runs, 16 have scored after the seventh inning. Greg Harris (2-0) pitched the final three innings, retiring nine straight batters

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) - Intended or not, the Los Angeles Lakers may have sent a message to the Houston Rockets.

Led by Magic Johnson's second consecutive triple-double, the Lakers tied an NBA record by clinching their ninth consecutive Pacific Division crown with a 113-102 victory over the Rockets on Sunday night.

NBA

The Boston Celtics won nine straight division titles from 1957-65 when the league had only two divisions. The Lakers' ninth victory in their last 11 games also clinched that they would have the best record in the Western Conference.

Johnson, who has 11 tripledoubles this season, had 25 points, 11 rebounds and 11 assists as the Lakers (60-18) reached the 60-win level for the fifth time in six seasons

The Lakers will meet the Rockets in the first round of the playoffs if Houston beats out Seattle for the final spot. The two teams are tied for eighth with four games remaining

The last two times the Lakers failed to reach the NBA finals. it was Houston that eliminated them. The first time, in 1981, Johnson shot an air ball in the lane in the closing seconds of the deciding game at Houston. Then, in 1986, it was on a miracle buzzer shot by Ralph

James Worthy added 23 points for the Lakers, who matched their season-high 12-game home winning streak

The Lakers did a blanket job on Akeem Olajuwon. He hit only five of 15 shots and finished with just 12 points — half his average — and seven rebounds. The NBA's leading rebounder was held scoreless until his three-point play with 3:37 left in the half Otis Thorpe and Vernon Maxwell led Houston with 25 points apiece. The Rockets lost for the 13th time in a row at the Forum during the regular season and ended their four-game winning streak.

The Lakers pulled away in the first four minutes of the third quarter with a 10-2 spurt as Worthy made a breakaway layup and a five-footer in the lane and A.C. Green added four free throws in a 32-second span for a 71-51 cushion. Los Angeles built its margin to 23 points on Johnson's 3-pointer with eight minutes left

Celtics 101, Knicks 94 Reggie Lewis scored a seasonhigh 34 points, including six after the score was tied at 91. New York, whose last victory at Boston Garden was Feb. 29, 1984, got 25 points from Patrick Ewing and 20 from Maurice Cheeks, who shot 10-for-11. Robert Parish had 25 points and 14 rebounds for Boston while Larry Bird made only five of 22 shots but still recorded a tripledouble -17 points, 17 rebounds, 13

Lewis made 12 of 18 shots, including his only 3-pointer, and all nine free throws. He had five rebounds, two assists and no turnovers in 40 minutes. The other Celtics made only 34 percent of their shots in 1986, but left after one month. He spent three months at North Texas and Grayson County College in Denison, served two years probation after being convicted for possession of a controlled substance, then enrolled last fall at Southwestern Christian College in Terrell, where he averaged 21.4 points and 12 rebounds

The biggest trouble, said his coach, Herbert Evans, was keeping Richard in school. He frequently took 3- and 4-day weekends to return to Garland. where he has a girlfriend and two children. In fact, Richard went home after the season ended three weeks ago, and has not returned.

"Every time he goes back to Garland, it all breaks down. I've tried to explain to him that you have to get away from those people back there," Evans said. Neil started three years at guard in high school, but was expelled for getting into a fight the last day of school in his junior vear and chose not to return.

He got a high school equivalency diploma and went to Trinity Valley Community College at Athens, 11/2 hours southeast of Dallas, where he played for two seasons, averaging 27 points, four assists and five rebounds a game last season. He has a 40-inch vertical Neil will be a junior at Washington State, whose coach. Kelvin Sampson, says he plans to use him as part of a threeguard offense. Sampson calls Neil "a poor man's Stacey Augmon,' a reference to Nevada-Las Vegas' outstanding defensive guard.

"I don't see any weaknesses," said Leon Spencer, who coached Neil at Trinity Valley.

But high school authorities saw plenty of weaknesses. Norsworthy said the problems began toward the end of Neil's freshman year, when as a starter the attention "went to his head.'

"He seemed to be OK up here (at school), but there's no telling what went through his mind when he wasn't. It's amazing to me that he survived." Norsworthy added.

Neil thrived in an environment where violence seemed only natural. He mentioned almost casually in an interview with a Dallas Morning News sportswriter that two of his friends were killed over quarrels about girls. One, he said, was shot five times in the back of the head.

Mary Derrick, who works in a hospital on a night shift, has been the centerpiece of the family ever since her husband died when Neil was 10. John died two years later. Larry left home when Neil was in junior high, and by the time Neil reached high school only Richard remained at home

"After my oldest got killed, I always worried about Neil," the mother said. "I preached drugs and alcohol to those boys all the time. But Neil was so headstrong. He'd feel like I was just picking on him.

Neil stayed in trouble most of the time. Richard said Neil was involved in fights almost daily.

Greg Hibbard (1-0) walked one and struck out two in 5 2-3 innings while allowing six hits as the White Sox (4-1) matched their hot start of last season. Hibbard, Donn Pall and Barry Jones paved the way for Bobby Thigpen's third save. Mitch Webster's leadoff triple and Baerga's sacrifice fly gave Cleveland a 1-0 lead in the fourth. It was Baerga's first major-league RBI.

Steve Crawford (0-1) relieved Larry McWilliams with one on and two out in the sixth inning and allowed a single to Rance Mulliniks. After Nelson Liriano walked, Jeff Montgomery relieved Crawford and Felix doubled over the head of Willie Wilson in center.

Felix scored on a single by Tony Fernandez. After Fernandez stole second, Mookie Wilson's RBI double made it 5-2.

Dave Stieb pitched six innings for his second victory. David Wells pitched the ninth for his second

Ward singled off Jay Aldrich (1-1) to bring on Joe Price. Jose Bautista eventually relieved Price, and Salas hit a 1-1 pitch with two outs into the right field stands Petry, who relieved Jeff Robinson to start the seventh, gave up one hit in two innings. Petry, who gave way to Mike Henneman, last won for the Tigers on Sept. 15, 1987, and was traded to California after that season.

Math useful for everyday problem solving

By ERIN BLAIR Staff Writer

Did you know that April is Mathematics Education Month? The National Council of Teachers of Mathematics is encouraging teachers and parents to make mathematical connections with their kids - applying mathematical thinking to problem solving in everyday life — this month and every month.

It is no coincidence that Math Month falls in the same period as the Bicentennial Census collection. Since mathematics plays a significant role in the Census, there are many real-world connections that can be made during Math Month: The 1980 Census missed 300,000 Texans, costing the state $45 million dollars a year in federal funds and a congressional seat. How much is each Texan worth in federal money? (Answer: see bottom of column)

The mathematics applied to census issues can provide teachers and students an opportunity to focus on activities that pertain to Special Olympians our future. This 21st census of the United States is projected to count 250 million people, 106 housing units and all sorts of statistically quantifiable quirks associated with each. By comparing the data with
