Voting slow in special elections

Sixty-five people had voted absentee by the end of Tuesday, the second day of early voting in the special Jan. 19 election for Howard County Pct. 4 commissioner, reported County Clerk Margaret Ray. So far 27 mail-in ballots have been sent out.

The Nov. 6 results were declared a tie and voided by a visiting judge in 118th Judicial District Court last month following the discovery of a computer counting error by a clerk and the subsequent casting out of a misaligned ballot by the judge.

Republican Robert Crensna was originally declared the winner by 53 votes but an unofficial recount showed that Democrat Bobby Cathey won by one vote. There are 2,484 registered voters in the precinct.

Nobody in Howard County has voted absentee since early voting began Dec. 31 in another Jan. 19 election to annex precincts 104 and 105 into the Martin County Underground Water Conservation District. One person has voted so far in Martin County, a clerk there said.

In Colorado City, seven people have voted in each of two single-member districts up for election Jan. 19 since early voting began Monday, a city clerk said this morning. The election was called following the resignation of two Council members in October and November. It will be the first time members are elected from single-member districts following a voting rights suit filed in 1989.

Early voting in all three elections will end Jan. 15. In addition, Ray said the Howard County Courthouse will be open Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for those wanting to vote early in either Howard County election.

8th Air Force reunion planned

All persons who served in the 8th Air Force are urged to contact The 8th Air Force Historical Society. Thousands are expected to return to their old base in 1992 when members celebrate the 50th anniversary of the "Mighty Eighth." The 8th Air Force, stationed in England, was responsible for the bombing of Hitler's Germany in World War II.

Friends-of-the-Eighth clubs in England will be hosting this event, and will be looking forward to meeting former members of The 8th Air Force. The Historical Society also supports museums, holds annual reunions, publishes a quarterly magazine and supports events commemorating the memory

The council will meet Thursday, Jan. 17 to interview the top candidates.

City Manager Hal Boyd said the appointed position would comprise less than 40 hours of work per week. The Municipal Clerk job will be filled by the "normal personnel process," Boyd said.

Council members met in executive session to consider applicants for the judge position, recently vacated by the retirement of Gwen Fair. In regular session, the council:

 Authorized the mayor to sign a letter of intent with the Texas Department for improvements at the McMahon/Wrinkle Airpark. If the improvement project is approved by state and federal departments, the city may have to pay only 5 percent of a $708,800 reconstruction to taxiway F.

Boyd said the construction would not begin until Oct. 1, but engineering and design work could proceed once approval is secured. He noted that the city had planned to spend at least $80,000 on a seal coat for the runway until officials learned of the possible TDA assistance.

Stenholm will push for balanced budget

By PATRICK DRISCOLL Staff Writer

U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm, recently appointed to the Budget Committee of the House of Representatives, said Tuesday in Big Spring that he will continue pushing for a balanced budget and will reintroduce a constitutional amendment to require one.

STENHOLM

'I'm looking foward to being on the inside of the problem this several groups in Big Spring and Stanton.

A balanced budget amendment proposal fell seven votes short of the two-thirds majority needed last July 17. Stenholm said that he will again work to get together 218 cosponsors to introduce the proposal in the 102nd Congress on Jan. 23.

Passage of the proposal will be dependent on Republican colleagues and on keeping a limitation on raising taxes out of it, Stenholm said. When he proposed the amendment in 1982, a three-fifths approval by the House was required for a tax raise. Last year's proposal required a majority vote.

Concerning any tax raises by Congress this year, Stenholm said, "I personally do not think that is a good idea." He reiterated a position he took in debates last year, saying that for every $1 tax increase, there should be a $2 spending cut.

He voted for the budget which Congress eventually passed last year after it included a five-year $492 billion budget reduction plan.

But, citing a $300 billion deficit projected in 1992, he said Tuesday there still needs to be improvement. A $42 billion deficit is projected this year.

Stenholm also addressed health, banking, energy and farming issues as well as the Middle East crisis during his visit.

A major issue this year will be rural health care, he said. Although he will have to step down from his seat on the Veterans Affairs Committee as a result of his appointment last week to the Budget Committee, he said he will continue to be active on health concerns as co-chairman of the Rural Health Care Coalition.

This year they will conduct hear ings and begin drafting legislation for the next Congress. Of particular concern is the closing of seven hospitals in the 17th Congres sional District within the past five years and rising insurance costs. he said. He expects forthcoming Stenholm said he believes they have averted the closing of the Big Spring VA Medical Center, which is not at full-bed capacity. "I think we turned that corner," he said.

He said he will also look into a mobile clinic for rural areas in West Texas and a CAT scan for the VA Hospital. It is a "continuing battle," he said. "We've got to look at changing conditions and changing health care.

During his visit, he met with with officials of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, the Big Spring Chapter of Credit Unions, the Big Spring Federal Prison Correctional Institution, the Veterans Administration Hospital and American Petrofina Refinery. He also met with area farmers, county extension agents and the Stanton Evening Lions Club.

BSHS presents first all-school musical production

By MARSHA STURDIVANT Staff Writer

Greased Lightning and Look At Me, I'm Sandra Dee, are just two of the popular musical numbers being presented in the Big Spring High School's production of "Grease" Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. Heralded as the first allschool production, auditions were open to everyone last November and talented students attending BSHS star in the play, according to theater instructor Tim Haynes.

The cast members said peforming in "Grease" has created closer friendships between the students. Will Rutherford plays Danny Zuko, Traci Clark is Sandy Dumbrowski, Marci Weaver is Frenchy, Josh Free is Kenickie and Renea Osborn lends a melodic voice to the songs of Betty Rizzo. The students have rehearsed long hours for their performances, and each of the primary characters said they've enjoyed preparing for the play.

Marci Weaver said playing the role of Frenchy has been difficult but challenging. Weaver is a junior at BSHS, and is taking three honors classes this year. She is involved in STAGE Group, the BSHS theater group, is a member of the National Honor Society and in choir, among many other activities. "My character is the best I could have gotten. She's the most superficial so I have to talk way up high

Will Rutherford, who plays the male lead in the play, said he's managed to put in the rehearsal hours and still maintain his A average. Rutherford returned to BSHS this year after a knee injury ended his gymnastic activites in Renea Osborn said her personality is in direct contrast with the street-wise and promiscuous Betty Rizzo. She said her cast mates and friends tease her good-naturedly by calling her 'Riz,' and she said she hopes to major in music in college. Osborn recently sang at the Jeff Feinholt concert.

"This has been great, I've really enjoyed it. It's been a real challenge, but it's been a blast and I've thoroughly enjoyed myself," said junior Osborn, who also commended Haynes for his direction and encouagement.

Josh Free has been performing before audiences quite a while in his own company of mimers, the Care Company. Free is active in his church, where his father is pastor, and he hopes to major in drama in college. Free was named last vear.

AUSTIN (AP) — As a veteran of county government, Gov.-elect Ann Richards says she chose a county official as her top criminal justice adviser because he will listen to law officers.

Richards named Bexar County Judge Tom Vickers on Tuesday to serve as director of the governor's criminal justice division and to oversee both the Criminal Austice Policy Connect and a new Governor's Law Enforcement Council. 'We are going to give local law enforcement officers a real voice in this state's criminal justice policy," Richards said.

AUSTIN (AP) — A federal grand jury indicted five former workers of the state agriculture department, including the former deputy commissioner, on charges of using federal funds to pay for political work.

Among those indicted Tuesday was Mike Moeller, former deputy agriculture commissioner, who called the allegations a Republican conspiracy to hurt former Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower. 'This kind of judicial terrorism, using the power and authority of the federal government to humiliate and destroy honest and dedicated public servants, represents the kind of political corruption that needs to be stopped," said Moeller, the No. 2 man in Hightower's administration.

Legislature faces problems of 1990s

AUSTIN (AP) - The Legislature, seeking lasting solutions to persistent problems, convened in its 72nd regular session on Tuesday with leaders pledging to avoid raising taxes if at all possible.

Searching for additional state revenue, ensuring a fair school finance system and drawing politically sensitive legislative and congressional districts top the lawmakers' agenda.

On Tuesday, the House stood solidly behind Speaker Gib Lewis, re-electing him to an unprecedented fifth term despite his indictment on two misdemeanor ethics charges by a Travis County grand jury. Lewis, D-Fort Worth, has denied any wrongdoing.

The Senate said farewell to Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who has presided over that 31-member body for 18 years, and welcomed Lt. Gov.-elect Bob Bullock, who said he was ill with the flu and heading for a doc-

The Legislature is meeting in its 140-day regular session, held every other year. Lawmakers must adjourn this session by midnight May

Convention to put teams on the road

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros and the Houston Oilers will be spending a lot of time on the road in August of 1992 because the politicians are ousting them from their air conditioned home beneath the dome.

The Astros will have to go on the

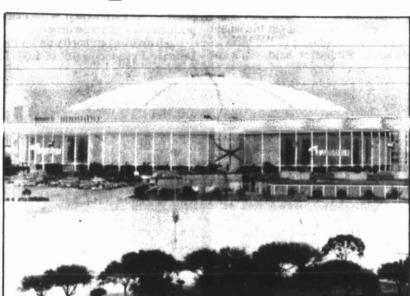

and the Oilers will be forced to play at least three of their four exhibition games on the road, team of ficials said Tuesday Republican officials had announced earlier in the day that the GOP National Convention will be held in the city in Aug. 17-20. Convention officials have to have access to the Astrodome for 26 days beginning in late July and ending two days after the convention winds up on Aug. 20.

"It's a wonderful thing for our cisaid Astros general manager Bill Wood. "But it certainly is a unique situation for our schedulemakers. It's tough to speculate at this point exactly what it will be like, but I can't remember another team ever having to do this. It will be a challenge.

Road trips of more than two weeks are rare for baseball teams and it won't be determined how the National League will handle the scheduling problem until sometime this summer.

HOUSTON — The Houston Astrodome will be the site of the 1992 Republican National Convention Aug. 23-25. The party's selection committee chose Houston over New Orleans and San Diego.

"The schedules are worked on constantly," said Ted Haracz, the Astros' vice president of marketing and a member of the National League scheduling committee. "But we have a meeting in June when a rough draft has been done by the computer. There still is some flexibility at that point.

The Astros probably will have to play in six cities on the trip and Astros officials are going to attempt to get it broken up with two days off in the middle. That would allow the players to return to Houston briefly.

Astros Manager Art Howe says the team has a long month to weather in 1992.

"You have to try and look at the bright side," Howe said. "If we have to play one month on the road, then we must have to play a month at home, also.

The convention also will force the Oilers to spend a lot of time away from the Astrodome.

trocking fare sple all far preseason games on the road the way we did in 1989," said Lewis Mangum, the Oilers' business manager. "That wasn't any fun and we would hate to have to do it again.'

The Oilers had to play on the road in 1989 when the Astrodome was being renovated.

Many Hispanics barred from care

CHICAGO (AP) — Hispanics, the nation's fastest-growing minority, have some of the most serious medical problems and yet have more trouble than other Americans getting the care they need, researchers reported

Poverty, lack of insurance and a scarcity of Hispanics in health professions effectively bar many from good care, doctors said in an issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association devoted entirely to Hispanic health.

The United States has 19.4 million Hispanics. Hispanics will make up nearly 11 percent of the population by 2010 and will be the nation's largest minority group, according to census projections.

"Rates of diabetes among Hispanics run some three times higher than those among non-Hispanic whites," said an editorial co-written by Surgeon General Antonia C. Novello, the first Hispanic to head the U.S. Public Health Service.

"Hypertension appears to be more prevalent. Hispanic children suffer disproportionately from lead poisoning and measles. Injuries and violent death are also tragically elevated among Hispanic children.

Certain cancers also strike Hispanics at higher rates than non-Hispanic whites,

The entertainment company MCA Inc., recently taken over by one of Japan's largest conglomerates, agreed Tuesday to sell its holdings at Yosemite National Park to the private National Park Foundation, the Interior Department announced.

The foundation, which will pay $49.5 million, promised to transfer all structures at Yosemite, 150 miles east of San Francisco, to the Interior Department when it takes title in 1993.

Interior Secretary Manuel Lujan, who had expressed grave concern about foreign ownership in federal parks and threatened to cancel MCA's Yosemite contract, said he was pleased with the agreement, although MCA would continue to hold title to the Yosemite properties — and reap millions of dollars in profits - until September 1993.

Kremlin's use of force denounced

WASHINGTON (AP) - The U.S. denunciation of a Soviet plan to send troops into the Baltic republics and elsewhere to enforce the military draft shows Washington's growing concern about a shift to the right by Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev.

In an abrupt about-face after months of offering Gorbachev encouragement and support, the White House on Tuesday charged the Soviet plan to use its military to track down draft dodgers and deserters in the breakaway republics was "provocative and counterproductive.

"This action represents a serious step toward escalation of tension within the U.S.S.R. and makes the peaceful evolution of relations among the people of the Soviet Union more difficult,' presidential press secretary Marlin Fitzwater said in a statement

U.S. officials, speaking on condition of anonymity, said the harshness of Fitzwater's language was meant to show rising concern within the Bush administration about the recent trend toward more authoritarian rule.

"This was a logical continuation of steps Gorbachev has been taking in the last couple of months," a senior State Department official said.

The official cited the replacement of a liberal interior minister

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — The interim government has ordered an investigation to find out who was involved in the coup attempt that tried to block the country's first freely elected president from taking power.

Muddling on is the best policy

Former Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze's warning that a Soviet dictatorship may now be inevitable should not be forgotten. The tendency in the West has been to take Mikhail Gorbachev for granted.

That's a bad tendency. The political, social and economic chaos in the Soviet Union has reached a point where anything, including dictatorship, is possible. Anyone who knows Soviet or revolutionary history understands that political centers, which Gorbachev represents, have trouble withstanding assaults from either the right or the left.

The unfortunate part of Shevardnadze's warning is that he offers no solutions to avoid what he calls "inevitable dictatorship." His resignation in December, he says, was 'perhaps naive," but was the only way to draw attention to the growing challenge from the right.

Fine. Drawing attention to the problem has its merits, but why not stay in government to help solve the problem?

Gorbachev's virtue so far has been to keep the Soviet Union from plunging into chaos or civil war. Faced with separatism in the Baltic Republics, even in the Russian Republic itself, he has, following some initial missteps, kept the troops in the barracks and the dialogue going. Muddling through might not be the only policy, but faced with opposition from the right and left, it is the best

Those who think the Bush administration is wrong to support Gorbachev are recommending dangerous policy. The Soviet leader's inability to solve Soviet problems quickly or neatly does not mean his course is not the best one. To proceed faster would risk the very reaction Shevardnadze fears. To go slower would be to accomplish nothing at all. It still looks like Gorbachev is running as fast as he can.

I hate cars . . . most of the time

By BILL AYRES City Editor

Our society has been having a love affair with the automobile since the late 40s. It all began when the population became more mobile, began moving to the suburbs and the price of cars were within range of most budgets.

As the years went by, the demand for cars increased and so did the demand for luxury items like air conditioning.

With the increased demand for more luxury, more power and bigger cars also came bigger price tags. Today the average price of a family car is over $15,000 for a basic car. The more luxurious vehicles cost as much as a house used to cost, $30 to $40,000.

I hate cars, they're too expensive.

Besides, by the time you get that new car home the expense of keeping it looking new and running has just begun. The new cars have a special coating over the paint to keep that shine longer. Problem is you can't wax it like you used to, now you have to compound it (whatever that means). I've heard of a compound fracture or compound interest, but how do you compound a paint job?

The interior takes special care as well. You have touch-up kits for the paint, conditioners for the vinyl, rejuvenators for the top, things to make the tires black again and the white walls white. By the time you've taken all the needed precautions to keep that car looking good, the repairs begin. It's little things at first although some owners are unlucky enough to get hit by the big bills first.

Then there are some owners whose car develops a problem of such mysterious proportions it baffles the mechanic. So, you start replacing item after item until you either correct the problem or declare bankruptcy

Everything we do is built around the mobility of our society. We have drive-in restaurants, banks, dry cleaners and even wedding chapels. Our whole way of life demands a family have at least one vehicle. But, if you have children and they are involved in any activities, a family needs one car for mom and one for dad. As the children get older, suddenly there's a need for another vehicle for that teenager. Because we have so many things to do and so little time to do them, we are made to believe we must have a car to get everything done.

Of course, you can't just go out and buy something with four wheels and an engine. No, your vehicle must match your lifestyle. We have Madison Avenue ad agencies to thank for that. They have convinced Americans which type of cars are acceptable. The racy, sports cars are for the young, single or newly married couples. The medium priced car is for the young family with children, while the more expensive luxury cars are for the successful businessman making a statment about his career. I mean, you won't find most successful bankers driving around in a 1957 VW, unless it has been completely restored and is considered a classic.

As far as I'm concerned, a car is a tool used to accomplish a simple job — getting me from one place to another.

If the distances in West Texas were not so great, I would advocate the return to bicycles, but who wants to spend all day trying to get anywhere? Of course, if we had to depend on bikes to get around, there wouldn't be so many people going out of town to

Who knows, maybe there is a better way on the horizon, but for now automobiles are all we have, and I still hate them And that's for what it's worth!

The hot-soak method is quicker than the traditional overnight soaking. First, pick through the dry beans and remove any small stones and irregular beans. Then for each pound of dry beans, add seven to 10 cups of hot water in a large pot. Dry beans will expand to at least twice their size so be sure to use a large enough pot. Heat to boiling, cover and set aside for a least one hour, but preferably four hours or

To cook, place the drained beans in a large pot and cover with fresh hot water that reaches about one inch above the beans. Boil gently until tender when taste-tested. Times vary for each kind of bean, but most require about one to one and one-half hours cooking time. Serve with your favorite cornbread recipe.

Cornmeal waffles are a great twist to an old favorite that will liven up any bowl of bean. Cornbread baked in a waffle iron has a crispy golden brown crust. And Martha White's easy recipe contains only three ingredients - selfrising corn meal mix, milk and oil. Serve your favorite beans ladled over the corn waffles for a hearty supper. Thinly sliced onions are a tasty side dish.

Try complementing a pinto bean supper with Classic Tex-Mex Cornbread Supreme. The recipe is called "supreme" because it contains just about everything possible to make it rich and delicious. Sour cream makes the cornbread moist and tender. Fresh jalapeno peppers, chili peppers, creamstyle corn and cheddar cheese add zesty

Keeping the fizz in the bottles of soda

By Tony Wedig

Sometimes chemists think of trange things. For example, have you ever considered the dynamics of keeping the carbonation in the big or small plastic bottles of soda once they have been opened?

This problem can be thought of as a puzzle with a prize. The prize is money saved. The money that can be saved is substantial if many big bottles of soda are purchased each month, only to have one-third or one-fourth of each poured down the drain because they became flat. If this occurred in a family which buys twelve large or super-large plastic bottles each month, then that family is pouring about three or four of the bottles down the drain.

To understand the solution of the puzzle some basics need to be covered. Carbonation is carbon dioxide gas dissolved in water. In fact, about one quart of gas (carbon dioxide) is dissolved in one quart of water to make one quart of carbonated drink. If the gas seeps out of the drink, then it becomes flat or decarbonated. So the first order in saving money is to seal the container after it has been opened.

The aluminum screw tops that come with the bottles are not adequate seals. Plastic caps that can be purchased in the grocery store are adequate seals. Do you suspect that the drink manufacturers know this?

Second, does one store the sealed partially-empty drink bottle in the refrigerator, on the counter, or on the shelf? If you say refrigerator then you are wrong. Don't you think the drink manufacturers know this? Is this why they always show their drink stored in the refrigerator?

To understand the process, consider the insides of the partiallyfilled sealed plastic drink bottle. You have the carbonated liquid and the gas above it. The gas above it contains air, water vapor and carbon dioxide from the liquid. The gas can only hold so much water vapor and carbon dioxide. If the liquid is cooled, then less water vapor will be in the gas space and more carbon dioxide will be there. Conversely if the liquid is not cooled then more water vapor will be in the space and less carbon dioxide.

The answer appears to be: keep the sealed bottle of soda out of the refrigerator. This is correct but there is even a better answer. Do not allow the gas to decarbonate at all. If no space exits for the gas, then it won't become a gas or decarbonate. Restated, if there is only liquid in the bottle then there can be no gas in the bottle.

By squeezing the plastic bottle until the liquid has risen to the top of the neck of the bottle before sealing it, no gas can form. If no gas can form then it does not matter whether or not you place it into the refrigerator. After a while you will become accustomed to seeing crushed plastic bottles in

If you have a half-consumed twelve-ounce can of drink that went flat and you want to drink it, then I have another answer. When we exhale we expel carbon dioxide and water. Bend and flatten one end of a plastic straw to make small bubbles to aid in the process of carbonation. Put the straw into the can and slowly blow into the straw to begin the recarbonation process.

Think of the possibilities, and ads: "Not found in any stores...No electricity needed...Human powered...Give them as gifts...Drink Recarbonators. . .$14.95. . .$2 shipping and handling.'

Priest devotes 40 years to aid

LANCASTER, Ky. (AP) — It was love at first sight when the Rev. Ralph Beiting saw Appalachia as a seminarian, but his 40 years of work with poor people haven't been exactly harmonious.

He's been shot at, hit by tomatoes and attacked with Sometimes, being a priest didn't help. "The fact that I was a Catholic was offensive to some," Beiting said.

But those were the exceptions for the $10,000-a-year executive for a $26 million-a-year enterprise. He chairs the nonprofit Christian Appalachian Project and is pastor of St. Michael Catholic Church in Paintsville and missions in Hode and Louisa Beiting, 66, was honored recently by the Caring Institute, a non-profit Washington organization sponsored by the Foundation for Hospice and Home Care.

He founded the Christian Appalachian Project in 1964 with the heip of friends, family and volunteers. Today, the project has more than 300 employees and 70 programs. It generates almost all of its budget by direct mail solicitations and satellite enterprises.

"I made it a rule from the beginning that we would not be like a lot of other organizations looking for government funds. We would never go that way. That's why we are still in business," Beiting said.

Court changes nursing home rules

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) - Rules on forced feeding in nursing homes should be eased because of a Florida Supreme Court decision, the attorney general said

But Bob Butterworth's advisory opinion last month also said the ruling left intact the state's authority to regulate nursing homes to ensure that the rights outlined by the court are protected.

Estelle Browning case upheld the privacy right to make lifeand-death medical decisions that apply when the person later becomes incompetent, no matter the consequences and regardless of whether those decisions are contained in a living will or expressed by a surrogate.

According to the attorney general's opinion, the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services should delete a rule that requires feeding nursing home patients if two physicians agree the person would die from dehydration or starvation rather than illness or injury

DEAR ABBY: We have recently built and moved into a new home, and are being approached by people expressing a desire to "tour" our home. They are not personal friends — in fact, most of them are practically strangers. The same thing happened to us 30 years ago. Both times we located in new cities where we had no friends — only acquaintances.

Our home overlooks a lovely private golf course, so many people have watched it being built. We are not overly eager to welcome these people into our home just to look around. On the other hand, we don't want to be classified as unfriendly or

Thirty years ago, under similar circumstances, we allowed curious people to invite themselves over, hoping to acquire new friends in a new city, but none of them returned the invitation. Some even came unannounced, knocking on our door. The minister, for one, walked through our home inspecting it, making comments and criticisms. I dread this happening again. Your suggestions on how to handle this would be greatly appreciated. — PRIVATE PEOPLE DEAR PRIVATE PEOPLE:

You have no obligation to open your home to curious strangers or casual friends. If someone expresses a desire to "see" your home, pleasantly say, "Perhaps one day," then go on to another subject. And should someone have the gall to ring your bell, simply say you're not prepared for visitors.

Judge will decide suicide machine's fate

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) - A judge is considering whether the builder of a suicide machine can have it back or ever use such a machine again.

Circuit Judge Alice Gilbert heard final testimony and closing arguments Tuesday in a civil suit seeking to bar Dr. Jack Kevorkian from using the machine, building another or helping anyone else build one. She gave attorneys until next week to file final written arguments in the case and said she would make a decision Feb. 5.

Gilbert issued a restraining order June 7 barring Kevorkian, 62, from using the machine until the case is settled.

Baker, Aziz talks go into third session today

With tensions rising and oil prices fluctuating showdown with Iraq.

GENEVA (AP) - Secretary of State James A. Baker III held lengthy talks today with Iraqi Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz in a tense diplomatic bid to avert war that could follow next week's U.N. deadline for Iraq to withdraw from Baker and Aziz met for about five hours in two sessions, then began a third meeting late in the afternoon. There was no immediate word on results

The second recess came not long after Algeria's foreign minister arrived in Geneva, raising eyebrows in the midst of the Baker-Aziz faceoff. Algeria has tried to serve as a mediator in the Persian Gulf Asked about the second break, Baker said simply, "We've been at it for quite a few hours. Everybody wanted to wash their hands.' There was one report that Iraq was offering a gradual withdrawal from Kuwait in return for access to two islands that would give Iraq a gulf port. After a two-hour morning session, the White House said the highlevel U.S.-Iraq talks were substantive, but declined further characterization "that might pre-

Baker and Aziz resumed their critical discussions after lunch, meeting for nearly three more hours before breaking again.

With tensions rising and oil prices fluctuating with every rumor, the world sought a signal that there might be a break in the impasse that has led the United States and its allies toward a desert showdown with Iraq.

In Saudi Arabia, U.S. military forces were buzzing with activity as the diplomats went to the table. And in Washington, President Bush issued an executive order that gives the military priority for any supplies it needs should hostilities erupt in the Persian Gulf.

Although there was no word from the participants, the duration of the Baker-Aziz meeting suggested more was taking place than the personal delivery of a U.S. ıltimatum.

Baker billed the session as a last chance for peace, and he carried with him a letter from President Bush to Iraq's President Saddam Hussein warning of devastating consequences should Baghdad ignore the deadline.

Aziz arrived in Geneva promising an open mind in what he hoped would be 'positive, constructive talks," but saying that "Iraq does not yield to pressure." He suggested, once again, that the United States must be willing to discuss

In Saudi Arabia, the roads were clogged with military convoys hauling war supplies north and airports were bustling with civilians leaving the Gulf region. U.S. troops continued to move their camps farther north, nearing the Kuwait border and falling in just behind Saudi and other Arab forces.

'We have been creeping north. We're about as far north as you can go," said Marine Lt. Col. John Himes of the 1st Marine Division's 7th Regiment.

Israel's military was on heightened alert, and Foreign Minister David Levy said Israel would respond forcefully to any Iraqi attack on the Jewish state.

Maidens KO Lady Steers

Staff Writer

For the third game in a row, the Big Spring High School Lady Steers dug themselves a hole in the first quarter - and for the second time in that span, the deficit was too much to overcome. The San Angelo Lake View Maidens, behind the one-two scoring punch of Vernetra Allen and Deanna Higdon, opened up a 16-point lead after one quarter, then cruised to a 71-53 shellacking of the Lady Steers in Steer Gym Tuesday night.

Allen led all scorers with 29 points and Higdon added 18 for the Maidens, who improved to 8-9 overall, 3-1 in District 3-4A play.

Bernie Valles scored 16 points, Vernice Ross 14 and Amber Grisham 10 for the Lady Steers, now 3-15 and 2-2 in the district standings.

According to winning coach Terri Kvapil, the Maiden's attitude was the key to the win.

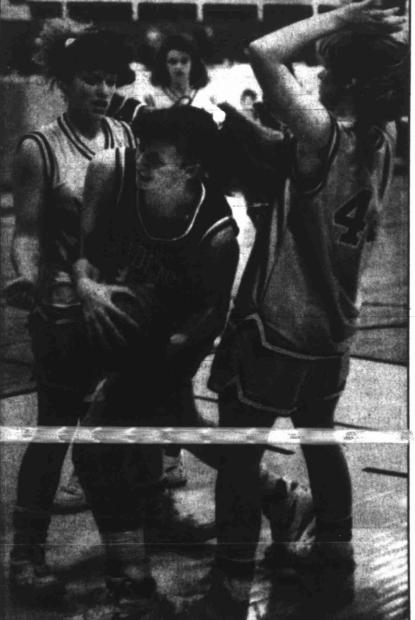

"We've had a lot of problems with our starts," Kvapil said. "We've had a slow first quarter in almost every game we've played this year . . . They really came through. The girls just wanted it real bash."

BSHS coach George Martin said that Higdon's play probably was the difference. "It seemed like everything she threw up went into the basket," he said.

"I think Lake View just might have better talent than Sweetwater," Martin added. "They have an outstanding team; I don't want to take anything away from them.'

Lake View's superiority was established early. After fashioning a quick 6-4 lead, the Maidens exploded for 16 unanswered points to lead, 22-4, with 1:36 left in the first. Allen was overpowering in the stanza, scoring eight of her points during that time. She finished the first half with 18 points.

Big Spring was able to stem the tide a bit in the second quarter, and even managed a mild rally. Ross scored seven points in a threeminute span to help the Lady Steers cut their deficit down to 11 points with 4:13 left in the half.

But Allen and the Maidens's baskets in the third, but a 9-2 run defense stiffened, and Lake View toward the end of the quarter pulled Big Spring to-within 11 heading

The Lady Steers cut the deficit to 10 when Valles hit a short jumper with 7:07 left, but the wheels fell off Big Spring's rally after that.

Big Spring went without a point for the next three minutes, and Lake View took advantage of the situation to increase its lead back to 17. The Maidens were never threatened after that.

Despite the loss, Martin said he was pleased with his team's effort. "They played their hearts out, every one of them — and that's all you can ask," he said, praising the play of Valles, Ross and Grisham, along with that of Kerry Burdette, Shawn Settles, Tessa Olague, Jamie Haas and Kayla Roberts.

The Lady Steers will return to action Friday night when they travel to Pecos to take on the Lady Eagles. Game times are 6 p.m. for the junior varsity and 7:30 for the varsity.

The junior varsity Lady Steers improved their record to 6-9 for the season with a 48-32 win over Lake View's JV. Wanda Peterson led all scorers with 19 points and Teresa Ross added 11 for Big Spring.

Lake View hit 10 of 11 fouls shots in the last two minutes, enabling them to come away with an 84-75 3-4A basketball victory over the Big Spring Steers Tuesday night. Lake View improved to 2-0 in district and 13-8 overall. Big Spring fell to 1-2 and

The contest was relatively close all the way. Big Spring led 25-22 after one quarter of play and Lake View led 46-45 at the half. The score was tied 57-all going into the final quarter.

Using a strong inside game, Lake View slowly crept to a lead in the fourth quarter. Pat Chavarria hit a basket with 1:52 left in the game to bring the Steers within 74-68 when Big Spring sending the Chiefs to the line on every possession.

Lake View center Randall Blue led Lake View with 22 points and 17 rebounds. Forward Kevin Dumas added 13 rebounds and eight points. Junior guards White and Pat Chavarria led Big Spring with 18 and 16 points respectively. Gerald Cobos and Mike Williams added 11 points each. Steers leading scorer Louis Soldan scored only six points, after a 28-point performance against Monahans Saturday. Soldan got into early foul trouble and eventually fouled out, which was one reason Lake View outrebounded Big Spring 51-31. He played less than half the game.

The Steers shot 52 percent from the floor in the first half, but cooled off to 31 percent in the second half. They did force 25 Lake View turnovers however. Lake View shot 50 percent from the floor.

The Hawks, who finished the first half of their season with a perfect 17-0 mark (3-0 in Western Junior College Athletic Conference play), resumed practices Saturday.

The conditioning will be tested in a hurry when the Hawks resume Western Junior College Athletic Conference action at home against pre-season league favorite Odessa College.

The Hawks and Wranglers will square off at 8 p.m. Thursday in Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The Howard Lady Hawks and OC Lady Wranglers will play at 6:30 p.m.

Unlike past years, the Hawks, ranked No. 3 in the nation in the latest junior college poll, will not have a tune-up game before re-entering the league wars. "We couldn't get one scheduled. They cut us down on the number of games we play this year — 30 instead of 31 — and this was the game it affected," Green said.

Despite a lack of a game to shake the rust off, Green said the Hawks should be ready for the Wranglers.

'We brought them back a couple of days early (for practices)," Green said. "Any tuneup game we could've got would not be as good a test as these guys get against our second group.
"We've got a lot of sophomores on this team, too," Green added. "They know what it takes to get ready. Green said that Howard's first half of the season represented a bit of a surprise. "At the beginning of the year, I didn't quite know what to expect," Green said. "I pretty much anticipated that we'd have a good inside game, and that's proven to be true.

"I felt like we'd have our biggest competition at the Midland College tournament early in the year - and we breezed through that," he added. "After that, I knew we had a pretty good team."

Green also has been impressed with his team's work ethic. which he said is the best of any Howard team he's coached.

"They work hard," he said. "They come out here every day . . . and enjoy playing. It hasn't been like pulling teeth to get things done.

"Last year, things came a lot easier for us; we had that one great player," Green said, alluding to departed All-American guard Terrence Lewis. "This year ... three or four guys have been taking up the slack.

The Hawks will definitely have their work cut out for them in their first game back from Christmas break. Although the Wranglers have lost four games this season, Green said OC's 11-4 record (1-1 in the WJCAC) is misleading.

"They lost to four really good teams (among them Western Texas and nationally ranked San Jacinto and Westark, Ark)," Green said. "They're big and they're a very good team. I think they're one of the top three or four team in the league.'

Green said the top OC players to look for are 6-foot-10 post player Rodney Dent, a sophomore from Edison, Ga.. and 6-foot-5 forward Calvin Sinkfield, a sophomore from Griffin, Ga. Other probable starters for the 10-4 Wranglers are guards Wylie Henly and Tony Martin and forward Robert Shannon. The only one of the five under 6-foot-5 is point guard Henly, who is listed as 6-foot even.

Through Dec. 10, OC averaged 102 points a game, while surrendering an average of 77.5 points a game, a figure that's second in the league behind South

The Wranglers lead the conference in field goal percentage (55.4 percent), although they are near the bottom of the league in free-throw percentage (64.6 percent). Individually, Sinkfield is second in the conference in field goal percentage, hitting on 67 of 97 shots for a 69.1 percentage. Freshman post player Anthony Murray is seventh in the category, canning 64.4 percent of his shots.

Dent and reserve post player Nathan King make up one of the more efficient shot-blocking duos in the conference. Dent is averaging 2.3 swats per game, while King rejects an average of 1.2 shots per outing.

Syracuse names football coach

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) -Paul Pasqualoni, a Syracuse assistant coach, was named today to replace Dick MacPherson as coach of the Orangemen.

Pasqualoni, Syracuse's linebacker coach for the past four years, was introduced at a morning news conference at Manley Field House. His appointment comes two days after MacPherson was named coach of the New England Patriots, where he replaced Rod Rust.

Pasqualoni, 41, began his college coaching career as an assistant at Southern Connecticut State in 1976. Six years later he was named head coach and athletic director at Western Connecticut State before joining Manghe staff in 1986.

Agassi fined for skipping Slam cup

LONDON (AP) — Andre Agassi, the bad boy of tennis because of his verbal and sartorial attacks on the sport's authorities, faces a record fine because of something he did Agassi has been fined $25,000 for failing to play in the inaugural Grand Slam Cup in December, a move that could have led to his banishment from this year's four major tournaments.

The Grand Slam Committee that imposed the fine Tuesday had the power to ban Agassi from one or more of this year's Grand Slam events, but decided not to impose such a penalty.

Agassi is skipping the Australian Open this month, but the committee's decision clears the way for him to play in the French Open. Wimbledon and the U.S. Open later this year. Agassi originally signed up to play in the Grand Slam Cup, but pulled out a month before the 16-player tournament and ridiculed it as nothing more than a lucrative exhibition.

In the first quarter both teams started out slow with the Lady Hawks starting out with the first points of the game with justover two minutes off the clock. This was followed by basket by Wall's Robyn Jansa.

But Queens Becky Gerstenberger started off the scoring for Forsan. The Lady Hawks took control and got six from Jansa. With 15 seconds left in the quarter Forsan's Jenny Conaway hit two free throws ending the quarter 10-4 in favor of the Lady Hawks.

In the second quarter the Queens just couldn't seem to make any of their shots. The Lady Hawks scored eight unanswered points bringing their lead up 18-4 by the end of the second quarter.

Going into the third quarter the Lady Hawks Carrie Beasley started off the scoring with two points. Then Conaway sunk one for two points followed by another Gerstenberger two-pointer. The Queens outscored the Lady Hawks 12-8 in the third quarter to bring the score within 10 points 26-16 by the end of the quarter.

In the final quarter Queens Kara Evans started off the scoring followed by another Gerstenberger two pointer, but Lady Hawks Jansa scored four points to keep a 10 point lead for Wall. By the end of the quarter the Lady Hawks outscored the Queens 12-9 to give them the win 38-25.

Leading scorer for the Lady Hawks was Jansa with 23 points. Leading for the Queens was Conaway with eight points.

Johnson named Coach of Year

DALLAS (AP) - Jimmy Johnson didn't have a player of Pro Bowl caliber or good enough to make even second team all-NFL.

Somehow his Dallas Cowboys won seven games and got into playoff contention, and that was good enough to earn him NFL Coach of the Year honors on Tuesday in just his second season in the league.

'We came a long way and we've still got a long way to go," Johnson said. "I'm truly honored. I think the voters looked at the entire year and the improvement we had made over last year."

Dallas had a six-game improvement under Johnson. They lost their last two games to Philadelphia and Atlanta after quarterback Troy Aikman suffered separated shoulder.

Johnson, who brought the University of Miami a national championship before he answered replace Tom Landry, didn't win in a landslide, just edging Art Shell of the Los Angeles Raiders by 21/2 votes

Johnson got 181/2 votes from 80 sports writers and broadcasters in balloting conducted by The Associated Press.

Shell helped restore the winning tradition in Los Angeles. The Raiders returned to the playoffs for the first time in five years as their former star tackle and 1989 inductee into the Hall of Fame guided them to a 12-4 record. Since he took over for Mike Shanahan after four games in 1989, the Raiders are and 2-0 in league play, won the Odessa Chamber of Commerce and Julie Lempea had good ournament of Champions. The Lady Wranglers beat No. 13 Westark, Ark. 69-68 in the finals.

Chadwick said his team started slowly in the Blinn tournament, but that's to be expected coming off the Christmas

"We played very poorly in the first half of the first game, but since then I think we've gotten better," said Chadwick. "We had three practices before the tournament. We knew that AAU team was good; we would have our hand full. In the first game back the offense always sputters. But I think we played ourselves back into shape at the tournament.

Chadwick said that guards Cindy Williams, Kim Robinson tournaments, as did inside peo ple Mulu Tosi, Yolanda Wells and Kelly Williams. he said he will go with a starting lineup of three freshmen now that starting sophomore forward Lisa Moore elected not to return to school lead Howard in scoring, averaging 12 points per game. The Lady Hawks rank fourth in the conference in scoring, averag ing 81 points per game. HC is third in team defense, allowing 58 points per game.

Freshman Lempea (5-5) will start at point guard and sophomore All-American Robinson (5-11) will start at the shooting guard. Sophomore Cindy Williams (5-8) will be the small forward and frosh Desiree Wallace (5-10) will be the power forward. Freshman post player Wells (5-11) gets the starting nod at post.

The Lady Wranglers will counter with a starting lineup of five sophomores. Leading the way is point guard Shaun Thomas (5-6) and post player Twanda Wilson (6-5)

Thomas, the MVP at the Odessa tournament this weekend, is averaging seven assists and eight steals per game. Wilson is averaging 22 points, 14 rebounds and seven blocked shots per game.

Also playing down low for the Lady Wranglers is Stephanie James (6-1), while the wings will be Renee Woodard (6-0) and Michelle Reynolds (6-0).

conference in offense and defense. OC is scoring at 92 points per game and alllowing 55 points per game.

Coach Chadwick said Odessa's height advantage and speed will put Howard to the test. "I know they're going to come after our guards. Our perimeter people must be up to the challenge," said Chadwick. "It's the first game of major proporation for our freshmen, it will be interesting to see how they react.

"We have to stop their transition game. This is a typical Odessa team. We can't have the turnovers, we've got to stop the layups and keep the big kid (Wilson) off the boards. She's averaging 6.5 blocked shots per game. She's going to block some shots, our post players have to keep their heads up and keep taking it at her."

Last year the two teams split. OC beat Howard 76-71 in overtime in Odessa, and Howard won in Big Spring 67-52. Chadwick is hoping for the score to be in the medium range.

"I hope we don't get in a situation where we have to press them. If the score is in the 90s, we might be in trouble," he said. "This is the biggest game at Howard since I've been here: number four versus number five. It ought to be a good one.'

"The teams have different guys now," he said. "The nucleus of their team (from last year) is gone — and the nucleus

Hawks

Green has not settled on a definite starting five, but is counting on team speed and a league-leading offense to counter the taller, defensiveminded Wranglers.

The Hawks, tied for first in the WJCAC with South Plains, boast the top offense and the sixthbest defense in the conference. Howard is scoring an average of 117 points a game while sur-

Returning all-conference post player Johnny McDowell is among the league leader in several categories. He is fourth in scoring (20 points a game), eighth in blocks (1.1 per game), sixth in steals (2.8 a game), third in rebounds (10.6) and third in field goal percentage (68.2 percent)

He is complimented by fellow inside players Vernon Broughton and Cecil Pittman.

Broughton averages 16 points and eight rebounds a game while Pittman averages 13 points and six rebounds

Howard's outside rotation includes Harvey Petty, Greg Jeffery, Ted Berry, Eddie Sheppard and Antonio Valiengo, who leads the conference in freethow shooting (84.2 percent).

Petty is the team's fourthleading scorer (12-point average) and is second in blocked shots (12 total) behind McDowell. Jeffery is fourth in the league in three-point percentage (48 percent), while Berry is the team leader in assists (4.5 a game).

Thursday will mark the first meeting between the two teams since Feb. 8, when Howard, then ranked No. 1 in the nation, was upset by the Wranglers, 94-90.

of our team is gone, too. "We need to handle the ball;

we can't turn over the ball too many times," Green said of Thursday's game. "We need to keep them off the offensive glass. If we can do all that, we'll have a chance.'

During the second half, the Lady Longhorns never got any closer than the 8-point margin by which they were down at the half, 29-21, and the Lady Razorbacks at one point led by as much as 17.

Also in double figures for Arkansas were Angie Gore with 13 and Amber Nicholas and Sha Hopson with 12 each.

Cinietra Henderson led Texas with 16 points. Edna Campbell added 12 and Amy Claborn scored 10 for the Lady Longhorns.

Exemptions cost state $12 billion

AUSTIN (AP) — State sales and franchise tax exemptions will save taxpayers but cost the state $12 billion this year, according to State Comptroller

In a report to the governor and Legislature required by state law, Sharp did not make any recommendations for keeping, eliminating or modifying the exemptions He said exemptions from sales tax will total $11.8 billion in fiscal 1991, while franchise tax breaks will reach $200

The sales tax, which garnered $7.6 billion in fiscal 1990, is the largest source of revenue for Texas state government. About 56 cents of every state tax dollar comes from the sales tax.

Basic necessities, such as groceries, prescription medicines and residential gas and electricity are among the items exempted from the state's 61/4 percent sales tax. Farmers and ranchers receive exemptions for machinery, livestock, feed, seed and other agricultural purchases.

Jeremy Wade Delle, 16, brandished a revolver near his English teacher's desk Tuesday morning, made a brief statement and then shot himself in the head, witnesses said.

"He walked out (of the class) and came back in and said, 'This is what I came back to do,' stuck the gun in his mouth and pulled the trigger," said Jason Fiveash, who witnessed the incident along with about 24 other students.

"A lot of girls started crying, people were screaming," he said. "A couple of people ran out of the room to go get the principal.'

Man dies after multiple stabbings

AUSTIN (AP) — A mildly retarded man has been charged in the murder of a 76-yearold Dripping Springs man who died after being stabbed at least 52 times.

Horace Lee Galloway was found dead in his home Sunday. He had been stabbed by seven different knives, a pair of scissors and the splintered end of a broken wooden hoe, authorities said.

He also was beaten with the hoe, a large pair of pliers and a can of jalapeno peppers, officers said.

Charged in the murder is Wilson Calvin Bailey, a 29-year-old mildly retarded resident of a group home near the apartment complex for the elderly where Galloway lived.

Stenholm backs Middle East policy

By MARCELLINO CHAVEZ Staff Writer

U.S. Respresentative Charles W. Stenholm, D-Stamford, visited the Stanton area Tuesday to update residents on world affairs and farm

About 50 Stanton Noon Lions and Evening Lions club members and guests attended the luncheon at the Martin County Community Center and asked questions ranging from the Middle East crisis to crop insurance. Stenholm, recently appointed to the House Budget Committee, is beginning his seventh term in the House. He was unanimously elected co-chairman of the House Rural Health Care Coalition. The coalition is a bipartisan organization of 147 members who are interested in improving health care for rural areas. "No single issue is more important to my district as a whole than rural health care," said Stenholm.

"This issue has been at the top of my list of concerns and activities for a number of years and getting this new position will enable me to do even more for rural health. I am honored that my colleagues chose me for this role. He said that health care could turn out to be the leading issue of the 102nd Congress. He added that while the coalition is involved in the larger picture of health care, it also will be looking into other variety of issues, including rural health care and Stanton Lion club members and guests Tuesday at the current Middle East situation.

It will require matching funds by recipient states and is designed so that those states ultimately assume full financial responsibility of the offices. For fiscal year 1991, $2 million has been appropriated.

Stenholm stressed that the number one-problem that faces everybody is the Middle East situation. He said that he will vote for a resolution in support of President Bush's policy.

"The one best thing that we can do in Congress is to make absolutely sure that Hussein knows the United States is not divided. In my mind it is clearly fixed that the UN resolution is correct and we need to stand by our President and send a message to the world that we are Stenholm said.

He mentioned three points that concerned United States when Hussein invaded Kuwait. "(First) Iraq has over 56 percent of the oil reserves known in the world. With that much power, any country can hold any nation hostage because the world is dependent on oil.

HERALD STAFF REPORT

The Stanton Buffalos, undefeated in District 6-2A action, barely avoided an upset by downing the Ozona Lions, 66-65, here Tuesday

The win improves Stanton's district record to 3-0, while the Lions drop to 1-2.

The Buffs bolted to a 23-5 firstquarter lead as sophomore guard Jeremy Stallings connected for nine points to lead all scorers in the quarter. The Buffs started the contest with 12 unanswered points. Ozona did not get on the scoreboard until 4:15 was left in the stanza.

Ozona regrouped, however, outscoring the Buffs 20-13 in the second period. At halftime, the Buffs led, 36-25.

In the third quarter, the Lions again pushed the ball up the court and found more scoring oppurt nities. Junior John Eric Wyckoff led the Buffs in the third stanza with six points to keep Stanton in

Lewis re-elected as House Speaker

AUSTIN (AP) — Gib Lewis said his election to an unprecedented fifth term as House speaker, despite being under indictment for alleged ethics violations, was an emotional moment that made him proud of his colleagues.

"It showed me a lot of courage on their part, and it showed me what type people we've got in the Legislature,'' said Lewis, D-Fort Worth, after being re-elected on a 146-1 vote Tuesday "The members of the Legislature are pretty strong people. They don't get stampeded, and they don't get sucker-punched."

Lewis, who is beginning his 21st year in the House and is the first person ever to win five two-year terms as its speaker, said, "I have operated in an atmosphere of honesty, fairness and openness.

His election came even though he has been indicted on two misdemeanor ethics charges by a grand jury that prosecutors say is investigating ties between lobbyists and legislators.

Lewis has denied any wrongdoing and said he will plead innocent to the charges of failing to report a gift from a San Antonio law firm and failing to disclose his interest in a Fort Worth company on which the law firm allegedly paid some property taxes.

"It showed me a lot of courage on their part, and it showed me what type people we've got in the Legislature."

Gib Lewis

In 1983, Lewis pleaded no contest to a misdemeanor charge that he failed to file financial disclosure statements required from state of ficials, and was fined $800.

The only lawmaker voting against Lewis was first-term Republican Ted Kamel of Tyler.

"I cannot, in good conscience, support a speaker who is under indictment on charges of violating the ethics laws of this state,

"One of the most important issues facing the Legislature is the reform of our ethics laws, and it would seem to me inappropriate for Rep. Lewis to preside over these reforms under these circumstances," Kamel said.

Several lawmakers voiced strong support for Lewis, saying he has been fair in dealings with other lawmakers and that he tries to do what is best for the state.

Executive order issued; government gets priority

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Bush, preparing for possible war in the Persian Gulf, today issued an executive order giving the government authority to get priority delivery of any needed food or industrial material.

"The United States must have the capability to rapidly mobilize its resources in the interst of national security," Bush said in invoking the authority.

Bush took the action as Secretary of State James A. Baker III held a pivotal meeting with Iraqi Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz in Geneva seeking to get Iraq to withdraw from occupied Kuwait before the Jan. 15 deadline set by the United Nations.

White House press secretary Marlin Fitzwater called the Geneva talks "substantive."

Bush asked Congress Tuesday to pass a resolution authorizing the use of force in the gulf. The president summoned supporters to the White House today to discuss the resolutions that the House and Senate will debate later in the Fitzwater said Bush would also call the leaders of Congress to brief them on the Baker-Aziz talks. The president was also meeting with his Cabinet. The spokesman described Bush as "pretty pensive about the whole business." Speaking of the talks in Geneva, Fitzwater said, "It's inconclusive. It could go either way." In the executive order on "National Security Industrial Responsiveness," Bush declared, "to achieve prompt delivery of articles, products and materials to meet national security requirements, the government may place orders and require priority performance of these orders.' Bush invoked authority under the Defense Production Act of 1950. It gives the government authority to claim first priority on the nation's productions of a wide range of products, from oil to trucks to machinery • ORDER page 8-A Buffs 17-10. Stanton had seven turnovers in the second half to keep Ozona in the ballgame. With five seconds left in the contest, Ozona had one more chance to win, but the shot fell short and the Buffs escaped with a one point win.

"It was not a pretty sight, but I'll take it," Stanton head coach Kevy Allred said. "Their coach is a hard person to beat. He kept his team in the ballgame. They don't have much talent, but his players never quit. After the best first quarter we have had all year, we played the worst three quarters I can remember.

'We thought we had it won after the first quarter and took it for granted that they would fold. They didn't. I don't think that I have to tell my guys how bad we played. If we play like that against a good team like Coahoma, Forsan or Iraan, we will not win," Allred

The Stanton Lady Buffs rallied from a first-quarter deficit to tie Ozona at halftime, but couldn't hold on as the Lady Lions took a 58-46 district win. Stanton falls to 0-5 in league play, while the Lady Lions advance to 3-2.

Leading the way for the Lions was Kim Coy as she accounted for 11 of Ozona's 16 first-quarter points. Coy hit a three-pointer at the buzzer, giving Ozona a 16-7 first-quarter lead.

The Lady Buffs came storming back with a 16-7 run of their own in the second quarter, led by Stacy Tollison and Nancy Chapa. Tollison had six rebounds and two points, while Chapa scored from the threepoint range to give the Buffs a 22-21 lead with 2:47 left in the half.

The Lady Lions put the game away with a 21-12 scoring advantage in the third quarter.

Both varsity and junior varsity teams will be in action Friday night in Forsan starting at 5 p.m.

In earlier action, the Stanton junior varsity girls outscored the Lions 46-39. Leading the way for the JV girls was Innet Brown with 24 points followed by Aimee Pardue with 10 and Reagan Koonce with eight.

"The hoilday break hurt us, but we did it. Whenever you have a long break ... you're going to have trouble getting into playing again," Stanton JV coach Bell Glynn said.

The JV boys lost to the Lions 61-44. Robin Barnes scored 16 points, followed by Rick Posey with

In junior high action, the eighth grade A girls beat Coahoma 30-11. Laura Herm led all scorers with 13 points followed by Lupita Chapa and Sandi Bundas with six, Traci Moore with three and Shauna Butler with two.

"The girls played good defensively. They worked the ball well inside and out looking for scoring opportunities," junior high coach Sam Eoff said.

The eighth grade B girls also beat Coahoma 35-29. Sylvia Alvinzo scored 24 points, Rachel Hoelscher scored six, Amanda Riley and Kendra Woodfin two and Stacy

Ground moisture in good shape, USDA says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of the nation's food-producing area is brimming with moisture that will be needed in a few months to produce key crops such as corn, wheat and soybeans, says the Agriculture Department's chief weatherman.

We're sitting with saturated soils over much of the eastern part of the nation right now," said Norton D. Strommen, chief meteorologist for the department's world agricultural outlook board.

'Most of the Corn Belt has got more moisture in the ground right now than when we started the growing season last year," he said. No weather is perfect for all people. Too much rain or snow has caused floods and hardship for many. There also are huge pockets of severe drought where long-time moisture deficits still lurk ominously. Strommen commented after a

"The year 1990 ended with a slew of records and extremes," the facility said in its report for the week of Dec. 30-Jan. 5.

Low temperature records were set in nearly 50 locations, from the northern plains to Texas, westward to California, the report said. Heavy snow and gusty winds belted the Northwest as the latest surge of cold air settle in.

'Meanwhile, more than 30 record highs were notched from Maine to Florida," the report said. "Not all the warmth was welcomed, as rapid snow melt and rain combined to produce extensive flooding from Illinois eastward to the Appalachians and southwestward to the Tennessee Valley.

Agriculture and Commerce departments. Weekly reviews provide general weather and crop conditions but make no forecasts of actual crop production. The report said 1991 began as 'significant rain and mountain snow pushed into Southern California," providing moisture to large areas. Heavy mountain snow fell in Arizona, southern Utah and Colorado toward the end of the week.

Meanwhile, from midweek on, "subtropical moisture overrode cold surface air in the southern plains, touching off freezing drizzle and light snow." the report said. "Snow and icing conditions spread to the Ohio Valley and Great Lakes by Saturday.'

The lower Mississippi Valley and Arkansas also received heavy rains during the week, the report

"By week's end (Jan. 5), flooding was a threat or a reality in portions of the Ohio, Tennessee and central and lower Mississippi River valleys," it said.

Looking at crop conditions, the report said flooding in the Ohio Valley caused damage to some fallplanted crops. 'Snow cover protected winter wheat from major damage in the (Great Plains) states, while the cold temperatures decreased insect populations," it said.

Strommen, in an interview, said early winter precipitation has been about normal so far in the West,

Southwest and Pacific Northwest. "It got a start in the south (of California), but we're still way behind normal in that area," he said. At the same time, there has been some excellent moisture in the Southwest desert areas, although Strommen said those are "still far from what we need to make up for the deficit that had accumulated."

Another trouble spot is the northern Great Plains, "which are the biggest concern at this time of year," he said. "Of course, they very seldom get any large amounts of precipitation, anyway.

But Strommen added that the northern plains have "got enough snow cover to protect the crops up there, and that'll go off as moisture into the ground" when it melts.

"Technically, I'd say we're in much better shape than last year at this time," he said.

Order

Bush's action gives the Secretary of Agriculture authority to place orders for prompt delivery of all food resources; the Secretary of Energy authority over energy; the Secretary of Transportation authority over all forms of civil transportation and the Secretary of Commerce auuthority over other articles and materials, including construction materials.

Bush said the authority will not be used until Defense Secretary Dick Cheney determines prompt delivery of the materials "for the exclusive use of the armed forces of the United States is in the interest of national security," and until Energy Secretary James D. Watkins makes a similar determination about materials for the atomic energy program.

He instructed federal departments and agencies to amend their rules and regulations to reflect the new authorities.

Bush said failure by Congress to pass a resolution backing the use of force to drive Iraq out of Kuwait if Saddam Hussein fails to withdraw his forces by Jan. 15 would "only encourage Iraqi intransigence." Bush, facing challenges in Congress on his authority to go to war in the Persian Gulf, appealed to lawmakers to pass a resolution like the one by the United Nations Security Council that authorized 'the use of all necessary means" to Thursday in the Senate. free Kuwait.

But he signaled his willingness to order American troops into battle against Iraq's army of occupation, with or without congressional approval.

'I am determined to do whatever is necessary to protect America's security. I ask Congress to join

Bush, in a televised address to the allies in the gulf, said "Jan. 15 is not a 'date certain' for the onset of armed conflict. It is a deadline for Saddam Hussein to choose . . . peace over war." He ruled out any face-saving gesture for Saddam.

Meanwhile, a senior administration official indicated that the U.S.-led coalition would not attack if Saddam's forces "were all headed north and had left their prepared defenses and everything else on Jan. 15."

But any Iraqi withdrawal "would have to be pretty unambiguous,' said the official, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

WHITE SETTLEMENT (AP) — Fired General Dynamics engineer Ron Withers says Defense Secretary Dick Cheney was trying to send a message by canceling the multibillion-dollar A-12 attack

"If you sign up, we expect you to perform," Withers said was the signal defense manufacturers should take from Cheney's action.

"Everything is cut right down to the bare bone. There's no margin for error," Withers said Tuesday as loaded boxes into his car outside the company's unmarked A-12 building in this Fort Worth suburb.

Defense Secretary Dick Cheney on Monday canceled the radarevading, carrier-based A-12 because General Dynamics and McDonnell Douglas Corp. were a year behind schedule and $1 billion over budget in its development.

The manufacturers moved swiftly Tuesday to cut their losses. In addition to firing 3,400 workers in Fort Worth, General Dynamics cut 150 employees at a plant in Tulsa, Okla. McDonnell Douglas plans to lay off 5,000 workers at a St. Louis

Both companies said last month that layoffs would occur if the program was canceled. They proposed restructuring the $4.8 billion contract with the Navy. But Cheney rejected the idea, saying the companies could not say how much more money they would need to get the plane into production.

At the machinists' union near General Dynamics' main plant, fired toolmaker Rusty Stewart said he wanted to rejoin a department he used to work in, where no workers were laid off.

"I'm trying to find out if I have any regression rights," Stewart

He began looking for work two months ago when the military's review of the A-12 program intensified and has two job possibilities, but he said he'd prefer to work for General Dynamics.

The company fired workers on the basis of seniority, transferring some A-12 employees to work on the F-16 fighter that is also built at the plant. Judy Bell, an A-12 worker who was not fired, said she believes more layoffs will occur during the next year. Cheney's decision left workers "just kind of in awe." 'The majority of people felt there had seemed so much money invested and we had come so far' that the A-12 would survive, Ms. Bell said. "We just blame a lot of people."

she said. The company opened career counseling offices with the state employment agency to help laid off workers find other jobs. "We certainly regret the disruption this is going to have on the professional and personal lives of some very good people in the A-12 program, said Chris Schildz, spokesman at General Dynamics headquarters in The layoffs, about 13 percent of the 29,000-person workforce at the Fort Worth plant, will trim some $500 million from the local economy. But an economist said Fort Worth and Tarrant County can absorb the shock.

"It doesn't mean the death knell for Fort Worth or Tarrant County, said Bernard Weinstein of the University of North Texas in

Vicki Park of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce said the lavoffs would send the Tarrant County unemployment rate from 5.1 percent to 5.5 percent, still below the nation's 6.1 percent jobless rate and Texas' 7.2 percent

The chamber is trying to lure some aerospace companies to the Fort Worth area and the availability of experienced workers may help, Ms. Park said.

"There are going to be a lot of people vying for the same jobs," said Withers, who had been with the company three years. He said he may return to school.

Italian Bean 'n Sausäge Stew

- pound Italian sausage 2 medium onions, cut into 1/4-inch pieces
- 1 clove garlic, minced 1 can (28 ounces) Italian plum tomatoes, undrained, cut into bite-size pieces

1 can (16 ounces) kidney beans, rinsed

- and drained 3/3 cup PACE® picante sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon basil leaves, crushed
- 72 teampoon or og ano leaves; crushed 1 large green pepper, cut into 1/4-inch pieces
- medium zucchini, sliced 1/2-inch thick, slices halved or quartered, as desired (about 1½ cups)
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch dissolved in 1 tablespoon water
- 2 tablespoons grated parmesan cheese (optional)

Cut sausage into 34-inch pieces; remove casing. Cook in 12-inch skillet over mediumlow heat until lightly browned, about 4 minutes. Add onions and garlic to skillet; cook until sausage is no longer pink, about 3 minutes; pour off drippings. Add tomatoes, beans, picante sauce, basil and oregano. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes. Add green pupper, zucchini and cornstarch mixture; continue to simmer 5 minutes or until vegetables are tender and sauce is thickened. Sprinkle with cheese, if desired, and serve with additional picante sauce. Makes 6 servings, about 8½ cups stew

Pasta with Picante Black Bean Sauce

- 1 medium onion, coarsely chopped 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 1 can (15 ounces) black beans
- or pinto beans, rinsed and drained 1 can (about 16 ounces) stewed
- tomatoes, undrained
- 1 can (8 ounces) stewed tomatoes, undrained
- 1/2 cup PACE® picante sauce
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1/4 teaspoon oregano, crushed
- cups hot cooked orzo, rotini or
- other favorite pasta Shredded monterey jack or cheddar

cheese (optional) Chopped fresh cilantro (optional)

Cook onion and garlic in oil in large skillet until onion is tender. Stir in remaining ingredients except pasta and cilantro; bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Uncover; cook over high heat until desired consistency. Serve bean mixture over pasta; sprinkle with cheese and cilantro, if desired, and serve with additional picante sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Spicy-Sweet Border Beans

- 1/2 cup chopped onion tablespoon vegetable oil or
- bacon drippings can (16 to 18 ounces) baked beans
- 1/2 cup beer 1/2 cup PACE® picante sauce
- 1/4 cup catsup
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar 2 tablespoons ground cumin
- 1½ cups diced ripe tomato 1/4 teaspoon salt

Cook onion in oil in 10-inch skillet until onion is tender but not brown. Stir in beans, beer, picante sauce, catsup, brown sugar and cumin. Simmer uncovered 10 minutes. Add tomato and salt; simmer 5 minutes.

Makes 6 servings, about 3 cups beans.

reat taste and appeal to any meal with good-for-you recipes that begin with beans. Serve Select-a-Bean Dip (left) as a starter, and Italian Bean 'n Sausage Stew (top) or Pasta with Picante Black Bean Sauce (bottom) as an entree. he humble bean has gone gourmet. Once considered "poor man's meat," beans, still bargain priced, now fill shelves in trendy shops and plates at upscale restaurants.

Leading the popularity boom are health and fitness fans because beans, it's been revealed, are a nutritional gold mine.

They're protein-packed, loaded with vitamins, minerals and soluble fiber, low in fat and cholesterol-free. From a cook's point of view, beans are amazingly adaptable, and their bland character can be roused to culinary glory with the addition of spices and seasonings. Best of all, beans are so easy to cook that it's really hard to mess them up, whether you start from scratch with dried beans or buy them conveniently canned.

Explore the great taste and versatility of these nutritional powerhouses with this vely new collection of recipes starring beans in appetizers, main dishes and accompaniments. Created by PACE® picante sauce home economists with Texas-size taste and healthful eating in mind, the recipes rely on the garden-fresh flavor and lively jalapeño "punch" of versatile PACE® picante sauce for their special appeal. Choose mild, medium or hot, as you prefer, for just the desired degree of spicy "heat," and feel free to pour on all you wish. At just 5 calories per full-flavored, fat-free tablespoonful, it's just right for the way we're eating today.

Using the old bean has never been so easy...or so delicious.

Chicken 'n Bean Stew

- 11/2 pounds boneless skinned chicken breast, cut into 1-inch cubes
- 1 large onion, cut into ½-inch pieces (2 cups)
- garlic cloves, minced
- tablespoons vegetable oil
- can (about 16 ounces) stewed tomatoes 3 medium carrots, peeled, cut into 1/4-inch slices (1½ cups)
- % cup PACE® picante sauce
- 11/2 teaspoons ground cumin 1 teaspoon ground coriander
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon oregano, crushed
- 1 can (16 ounces) kidney beans, rinsed and drained
- 1 large green pepper, cut into ¾-inch pieces Chopped cilantro (optional)

Cook chicken, onion and garlic in oil in a large saucepan or Dutch oven until chicken loses its pink color. Add remaining ingredients except green pepper; bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 15 minutes. Add green pepper; continue to simmer until carrots and green pepper are tender, about 10 minutes. Sprinkle with cilantro, if desired, and scrve with additional picante sauce. Makes 8 servings, about 9 cups stew.

Panhandle Pork Chop and Beans Skillet

- 4 butterfly pork chops, cut 1/2-inch thick, trimmed of all visible fat
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin Salt to taste
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 1 medium onion, cut into 1/4-inch wedges
- 1 can (16 ounces) pork and beans in tomato sauce
- 1 can (8 ounces) whole kernel corn, drained
- ½ cup PACE® picante sauce
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar Chopped cilantro (optional)

Rub meat evenly with ½ teaspoon of the cumin and salt to taste. Brown meat in oil in 10-inch skillet over medium-high heat about 2 minutes on each side. Remove and reserve. Add onion to skillet; cook about 3 minutes or until tender. Add beans, corn, picante sauce, brown sugar and remaining cumin to skillet; mix well. Simmer uncovered 10 minutes. Top with pork chops. Spoon sauce over chops; cook uncovered about 5 minutes or until pork chops are cooked through. Garnish with cilantro, if desired, and serve with additional picante sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Select-A-Bean Pip

- 1 can (15 or 16 ounces) black beans, pinto beans or kidney beans, rinsed and drained
- 1 small clove garlic
- 1 cup (4 ounces) shredded cheddar or monterey jack cheese
- 1/2 cup PACE® picante sauce 1/4 cup thinly sliced green onions
- with tops
- ½ teaspoon ground cumin 2 tablespoons chopped fresh cilantro

Place beans and garlic in food processor fitted with a steel blade or in a blender container; process or blend until smooth. Transfer to saucepan;* stir in cheese, picante sauce, green onions and cumin. Heat just until cheese is melted. Transfer to serving dish; sprinkle with cilantro. Serve with vegetable dippers or chips. Makes about 1 3/4 cups dip

* Or, transfer to microwave-safe bowl or serving dish; cook in microwave oven at HIGH 1 to 2 minutes or until cheese is melted. Stir. Proceed as recipe directs.

The common culinary herbs have gained currency in the past few years, as cooks across the country have familiarized themselves with thyme, chives, dill, rosemary, the multitude of mints, sage, tarragon and basil - many, for the first time, enjoying these herbs in their fresh state, bought from a farm stand or grown in their own gardens.

. However, there are many less renowned herbs which provide their own special savor-salad burnet, with its taste of cucumber, and lovage, with the bite of celery; lemon balm, delightfully citrusy, and arugula, a pungent addition to salads which Italians have sagely kept to themselves for years, to mention just

Caraway is known to us as a spice — its seeds add a nutty flavor to breads and a cornucopia of German-style cabbage dishes such as sauerkraut and cole slaw. However, few of us have experimented with caraway as an herb; yet, its fretty, feathery leaves add a carroty flavor to food, and are particularly pleasing in Nasturtium is familiar to gardeners chiefly as a flower, with lily-pad-shaped leaves and vividly bright petals.

However, its peppery taste recom mends it to the cook as well. Both leaves and flowers can be used in salads - a sort of culinary punctuation in visual appeal as well as flavor.

These lesser-known herbs, as well as all the favorites, are the focus of Kitchen Herbs (Bantam Books), by Sal Gilbertie. Herbs in containers

If your garden is confined to the width of a windowsill or two, or some tables strategically placed to catch the sun, you still can have a lush herb garden which will reward you with heady fragrances, visual beauty and a bounty of flavorful fresh herbs for your kitchen.

Chives, basil, rosemary, parsley, thyme and bay leaf are just some of the culinary herbs which lend themselves to indoor container gardening

And such perennial herbs as rosemary, lavender and bay leaf are ideal subjects for the art of topiary—a skill it takes both time and patience to master, but which offers plentiful rewards.

Learn about the possibilities of herb gardening in containers in The Potted Herb (Stewart, Tabori & Chang), by Abbie Zabar, whose inspired and informative text is complemented by her own subtle - and very charming - drawings Zabar combines history and lore with information on each herb's uses, plus practical advice on cultivating them. An entire chapter takes on topiary, while another covers non-culinary uses for herbs, from wreaths and sachets to herb-scented ink and herbal incense. Zabar also includes a chapter of herbal recipes, such as Sage Potato Crepes, the recipe for which is reproduced below

SAGE POTATO CREPES

- 5 large potatoes, peeled 1/2 cup onion, grated
- 1 tablespoon fresh sage leaves, chopped 8 tablespoons walnut oil

Salt and freshly ground pepper to taste

Drain the potatoes, add the onion, and blend well. Squeeze any excess water from this mixture. Add salt, pepper, and sage, and mix all of the ingredients. Heat 1 tablespoon of oil in a non-stick 6-inch crêpe pan. When the oil is slightly smoking add % cup of the potato batter. Flatten the round if it is puffy and cook about 3 minutes or until lightly browned. Turn the crêpe to the other side to brown it, and then flip it a few more times to make certain it cooks through. FRESH SUMMER CHEESE

2 quarts whole cow milk or goal

- 1 quart heavy cream
- 3 tablespoons buttermilk 1 teaspoon salt

Fresh herbs, as desired Heat milk, cream, and buttermilk to 100° (if using raw goat milk, heat to 145° and hold at that temperature for 30 minutes to pasteurize the milk). Let stand at room temperature for 24 to 48 hours until a soft curd is formed Line a colander with a double layer of dampened cheese cloth. Place the colander in the sink and pour the curd into the cloth. Let drain for 15 minutes. Place the colander into a bowl (somewhat larger than the colander) so that there is at least 2 inches between the bottom of the colander and the bottom of the bowl. Cover the whole unit with clear plastic wrap and place in refrigerator to let the curd drain for 12 hours.

Spoon the drained curd from the cloth into a clean bowl. Work in the salt; discard any whey accumulated beneath the colander or save it for making especially light scones. Shape the cheese into rounds, logs, or small balls. Wrap in clear plastic wrap and store in the refrigerator until ready to use.

Makes about 1 pound

Cheese marinated in fresh herb oil: Add 3 or 4 small fresh cheeses to 2 cups olive oil, I sprig fresh rosemary, I sprig fresh thyme, 2 bay leaves, 2 peeled garlic cloves, 12 black peppercorns, 6 coriandef seeds, and 3 small dried red chili peppers. Cover tightly; let stand 24 hours

GARLIC-LEMON MINT VINEGAR

4 large, peeled garlic cloves, 4 sprigs fresh mint, continuous spiral of zest from cold pasta salad.

To infuse vinegar with herbal flavors, Gilbertie advises, "Let bottles stand in a cool dark place for at least 3 to 4 weeks. Check the bottles after a few days to make sure the herbs are still covered by the vinegar, adding more vinegar if needed and resealing. Handle the bottles carefully to avoid disturbing the infusion. Use the vinegar within one year.

The world's first fast food: the sandwich

If you were to ask anyone when fast food was invented, he or she would probably say in the 1950s or 1960s, when fast-paced lifestyles were forming. But actually, it happened long before that.

The year was 1762 and John Montague, Fourth Earl of Sandwich, was involved in a 24-hour long gambling session. He is said to have invented the sandwich as a time-saving nourishment. When asked what he wanted to eat, he said "Just give me two slices of bread and put a piece of meat in the middle.'

The sandwich has come a long way since 1762. It is in the lunch bags of millions of people every day. The variations on Mr. Montague's "two slices of bread with a piece of meat in the middle" are endless: from peanut butter and jelly on white bread to watercress on mini slices of pumpernickel, to hamburgers, tacos, and submarines (or hoagies, heroes, grinders, or wedges, depending on where you live).

However it is prepared, the sandwich has become a favorite lunchtime (or dinnertime or anytime) staple. And to celebrate this easy-to-prepare meal, November 3rd (the birthday of John Montague) has been named Sandwich

The recipes below are reproduced from Let's Eat In: Quick and Delicious Weekday Meals (Prentice Hall Press), by Brooke Dojny and Melanie Barnard. "Creamed Tarragon-Chicken Supper Sandwiches" can be made with leftover chicken or turkey, and would be a good way to use up leftover Thanksgiving turkey. "Our Terrific Turkey Tacos" can be made with ground beef or pork instead of ground turkey, or with leftover turkey.

CREAMED TARRAGON-CHICKEN SUPPER SANDWICHES

tablespoons butter tablespoons flour

3¹/₄ cups milk teaspoon salt teaspoon black pepper teaspoons chopped fresh tarragon or 1 teaspoon dried cups (12 ounces) cubed cooked chicken or turkey cup thinly sliced scallions, including green tops to 8 waffles or slices of toast

1. Melt the butter in a medium saucepan. Stir in the flour and cook over medium heat for 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Gradually add the milk, raise the heat to medium-high, and bring to a boil, stirring constantly, until the sauce is smooth and thick. Reduce the heat to low and season with the mustard, salt, pepper, and tarragon. Add the chicken or turkey and cook over low heat, until heated through.

2. Stir in the scallions and taste for seasoning. Spoon over waffles or toast and serve.

Note: The creamed chicken can be made up to two days ahead. Reheat creamed chicken over low heat on the stove top or in a microwave.

Yield: 4 servings

OUR TERRIFIC TURKEY TACOS

- tablespoons vegetable oil cup chopped onion clove garlic, minced pound ground turkey teaspoon cumin 8-ounce can tomato sauce
- cup water teaspoon dried red pepper
- cup chopped fresh cilantro or 11/2 teaspoons dried, plus 1/4 cup chopped parsiey

Fresh Salsa (recipe follows)

1. To make the filling, heat the oil in a large skillet. Cook the onion and garlic over medium heat for 3 minutes. Add the ground turkey and cook, stirring to break up the clumps of meat with the side of a spoon, until the meat has lost its pink color, about 5 minutes. Stir in the cumin and cook for 1 minute. Add the tomato sauce and water and simmer, partially covered, over low heat for 10 minutes. Raise the heat to medium, uncover the skillet, and simmer for 5 minutes more, until the mixture is quite thick but not dry. Stir in the red pepper flakes and the Separate the taco shells and arrange on a baking sheet. Heat them in the oven for 6 to 8 minutes until crisp. Put the grated cheese, lettuce, scallions, and olives into bowls.

cilantro and taste, adding salt if needed.

3. To assemble, reheat the turkey filling if it has cooled. Divide the meat filling among the taco shells, spooning it into the bottoms of the half-moonshaped shells.

4. Serve the meat-filled tacos at the table, letting people help themselves to the garnishes. Top with taco sauce or Our Fresh Salsa.

Note: The turkey filling can be made ahead and will keep in the refrigerator for several days.

If making tacos for a single serving, the filling and taco shell can be heated separately in a microwave; or a filled taco can be heated in a microwave, though it won't be as crisp.

Variation: Instead of taco shells, you can make soft tacos by using plain, warm, corn tortillas to wrap the filling; or heat 1/2 inch of oil in a skillet and fry the corn tortillas for about 30 seconds before folding in half and filling.
You can use leftover cooked turkey or chicken instead of the ground turkey. Simply sauté it for a minute or so before adding the cumin and tomato.

Yield: 4 servings.

OUR FRESH SALSA

- ripe tomatoes (6 to 8 ounces
- cup finely chopped green bell
- cup finely chopped red or white onion
- teaspoon minced jalapeno pepper (fresh or canned)
- teaspoons lime juice Pinch of sugar
- tablespoons chopped cilantro (optional) Tabasco to taste (optional)

1. Core the tomatoes and do not peel them unless it is your preference. It's not necessary to remove seeds unless there are a great many of them. Finely chop the tomatoes and transfer them to a bowl, along with as much of the juice as you can save. Stir in the green pepper, onion, jalapeno, lime juice, salt, sugar, and cilantro if desired. Let stand at room temperature for 15 minutes, until the chopped tomatoes have released some of their juice. Stir and taste for seasoning, adding Tabasco to taste if you want the salsa hotter. Refrigerate if not serving immediately. 2. Serve cool or at room tempera-

The fitness-minded can find a healthier hot dog

Armour Food Company's new 90 percent fat free, lower salt hot dog is more nutritious than other leading brands of meat, beef, turkey or chicken hot dogs in four key categories, according to company claims accompanying the newly released product.

Newly introduced, Armour's Low Fat, Lower Salt Hot Dogs have less fat, sodium, cholesterol and fewer calories than other major meat and beef hot dogs, as well as poultry franks which many think are more nutritious than meat or beef franks.

"We are very proud to have developed the country's most nutritious hot dog that tastes great," said John White, vice president of marketing for Armour Foods. "Armour's new 90 percent fatfree beef and meat hot dogs have 64 percent less cholesterol, 45 percent less fat, 31 percent fewer calories and 22 percent less sodium than the leading turkey frank, not to mention the leading national brand beef and meat hot dogs. The perception that turkey franks are better for people is just that...a perception.'

Armour developed the 90 percent fat-free, lower-salt hot dog in its new product development labs in Omaha, where George Cocoma, director of product development said, "We know that consumers today are extremely concerned about the nutrition in their diet, particularly parents who want to make sure that their kids are eating properly. With our Low Fat, Lower Salt Hot Dog parents can be sure that they are giving their children the most nutritious, great tasting hot dog on the market today.

"We use no poultry fillers or milk rotein in our new hot dogs," Armour's Cocoma continued. "Instead, we chose to use leaner, higher quality cuts of meat to develop a more nutritious, great tasting hot dog. Some of our competitors have taken short cuts, but we wanted our consumers to have the highest quality, best-tasting product possible. With that approach we knew

WHEN SELECTING ATHLETIC SHOES, be sure to choose a style that is designed for your sport or activity. For comfort and injury prevention, look for shoes with a cushioning system, like the Nike Air.

How to buy the best athletic shoes

Now more than ever, people are confused when choosing athletic shoes. With thousands of models to choose from, selecting the right athletic footwear can be an anxiety-ridden process. Consumers who don't know what to look for sometimes end up choosing a shoe just for its appearance, and later are disappointed with the results.

What is important in athletic footwear? Cushioning is one of the main factors to consider when selecting an athletic shoe. Cushioning is the critical difference between casual and athletic shoes because any athletic activity involves impact like jumping and landing. Large forces are generated under the foot during walking, running or jumping, especially during the landing phase of a step or jump. For example, in basketball, players experience forces of up to 10 times body weight during the landing from a jump. That means a 200-pound man would land on his feet with a ton of force. Tennis players have forces up to three to four times body weight during quick stops.

What are the benefits of a superior cushioning system in athletic shoes? The amount of force transmitted not only to the look and lowering but to the entire musculoskeletal system is reduced with proper cushioning. Increased comfort can be expected because pressure peaks that create discomfort are reduced. Good cushioning is also vital to injury prevention.

Since 1978, Nike's revolutionary Air-Sole* cushioning system has been the industry standard by which other cushioning systems are judged. This system, secured in the midsole, successfully protects muscles, joints and tendons throughout the life of the shoe. The Nike Air-Sole* units are a patented pressurized gas encapsulated in a thin, flexible urethane membrane. The pressurized gas will never escape from the bag, so the cushioning never decreases. Traditional cushioning in other shoes is provided by foams that compact upon impact. These foams start to break what the activity.

down as soon as you start using the shoe, so after six months, the shoes are not protecting you as well as they did originally. With Nike-Air[®], the cushioning will outlast the rest of the shoe so you are always protected.

Pressurized cushioning systems have proven to be the best shock absorbers in many engineering situations including airplane and automobile tires, crash bags in cars, football helmets and air mattresses.

1. Consider what activities you plan to do and convey this to the salesperactivity, explain how frequently and features for ankle support and lateral training, look for a cross-trainer. of shoe you need, determine your price range and shop within it.

3. How do the shoes feel? Good athletic shoes require very little if any breaking in. Don't buy a stiff shoe, or one that is too snug. It should be comfortable from the start.

especially important for court sports like tennis or basketball where you frequently stop and change directions.

jump up and down? Consider what type of cushioning is used and don't be fooled by gimmicks. Look for credible, proven systems.

Timers provide the homeowner More consumers purchase with inexpensive security option energy-efficient heat pumps

Recent FBI crime data indicates home burglaries have increased 19 percent since 1981, with an average loss of $1,000 per residential theft.

Homeowners can make their residences less of a target by properly using lights as a deterrent," says Barbara Ceurvorst, marketing manager of Consumer Products for Intermatic, Inc., a Spring Grove, Ill.-based manufacturer of home security and wall switch timers.

The downside is the predictable look many homes generate when using a wall timer with one 'On' setting and one 'Off'

Recent innovations in the design of home security timers now permit you to give your home a "lived-in" look without creating the effect that a timer is being

Tips for allergy-proofing your house from allergies? If so, you should know that there are many ways to allergy-proof your home

Many people are allergic to dust and pollen. To cut down on the pollen in your home, keep your windows closed as often as possible

Cleaning important

Keeping your home spotlessly clean will reduce the amount of dust. Clean your bathrooms often and thoroughly to get rid of mildew. Wash or replace your shower curtains frequently.

Some of the many things which collect dust are books and bookcases, posters and paintings on the walls, curtains and drapes, bedspreads and canopies, and all

Does anyone in your family suffer those out-of-the-way items which are cleaned infrequently.

If you cannot eliminate some of these things from your home, do make sure to wash or clean them often.

Pets present a special problem. Many families have suffered the heartbreak of having to give away a beloved pet because a family member is severely allergic to animals

Other options

If the problem in your family is a mild allergy, try keeping the animal outside as much as possible, brushing it frequently to reduce shedding. Vacuum rugs and sofa cushions often to pick up animal hair

Strict school rules

School means different things to different people. Grown-ups usually say that school days are the best days of your life, although they might not always seem like it!

Just imagine, however, if you went to Tokyo's biggest accondus sebool, which has a 28-page rule book! Here are some of the rules:

 Long hair and curls are not allowed and any students with naturally curly hair must produce proof that they were born that way. · When a pupil is spoken to by a teacher of the opposite sex, the distance between them must be more than eight inches.

underwear.

 Pupils must march to assembly, with eyes turned

· Girls must wear white

• The length of toilet paper used must not exceed 11.8 inches.

towards teachers.

· If a pupil wishes to talk with a friend of the opposite sex, he or she must fill out an application form. • The number of pleats in a girl's skirt must not exceed 24. · When standing to attention, toes should be angled between 45 and 60 degrees and fingers should be extended straight with the palms touching the body. · When bowing, the upper body should be inclined forward at 30 degrees and held rigid before resuming an upright posture in a smooth manner. All these rules probably make your school rules seem a lot more lenient

The mystery of Easter Island

Easter Island — so named because it was discovered on Easter Sunday in 1722 — is a volcanic island in the South Pacific, and the site of a great mystery. More than 600 enormous stone heads, 2,000 years old, each carved from a solid piece of rock and with identical faces, stand on the island.

They rise from 10 to 40 feet above the ground and weigh up to 70 tons each. None of these heads has eyes and none is complete. Ancient people who lived on the island left tools scattered around the partly finished figures, but archaeologists have no explanation why the work was stopped suddenly and why it was never continued.

Nobody knows how the island's inhabitants moved the heavy stones from the stone quarry 10 miles away, or what the figures represented.

Island legends tell of wars in 400 A.D. between the original inhabitants who came from Peru and invaders from other South Sea islands. The natives who built the statues were called the long ears, and the invaders were called the
