Earls first to file as candidate

Current Big Spring City Council member Gail Earls was the first to file Monday for candidacy in the May 4 citywide election.

The election will attempt to fill three at-large seats on the council. All those filing will be placed on the same ballot and the three candidates getting the largest number of votes will take the places.

Fraser co-authors tax prohibition

State Rep. Troy Fraser, R-Big Spring, has co-authored a joint resolution intended to prohibit the imposition of a personal state income tax by legislators.

The legislation, in the form of a constitutional amendment, would allow the voters of the state to have the final decision on the income tax question.

Fraser said he believes that state government should be living within its means. "It (a state income tax) would place a tremendous burden on the backs of working men and women in our state," he said.

House Joint Resolution 28 has already gained bipartisan support with six Democrats and eleven Republicans signing as co-authors. If passed, it would be submitted to voters at a Nov. 5 election.

The ballot would say, "The constitutional amendment to prohibit a personal income tax unless approved by the voters at a statewide election.'

Students win in cultural contest

Several Big Spring students won honors in the Cultural Arts contest, district competition, sponsored by the Big Spring Parents and Teachers Association. These students competed against Midland and Odessa students and have qualified for the state competition, to be judged in April.

Three students from Big Spring were first-place winners. In the Visual Arts category, Dorothy Graves won with "If I Had A Wish I Would Dwell Among the Stars." Dorothy is a fourth-grade student at Bauer Magnet School. In the Literature category, Nicole Truhe, a fourth-grader at Kentwood, was awarded first place for her composition, "A World At Peace." In the Photography category, from Marcy Elementary, Jay Kuykendall won for his photograph, "Peace in the Middle East." Jay is a thirdgrade student.

Third place winners are: Visual Arts, Ramnath Subbaraman, a fifth-grader at Bauer, for his "If I Had A Wish, I'd Wish For World Peace;" in Photography, David Gunn, a Bauer fourthgrader for his "Wish For A White Christmas;" and in music, Erin Schwertner, from Bauer's fourth grade, for her compostion, "Musical Dreams and Wishes.

C-City picks Standby draft board ready for activation manager By GARY SHANKS Staff Writer

The Selective Service System has been in standby mode for the past 17 years, but the system is ready to be activated at short notice if Congress orders mobilization.

In 1940, prior to U.S. entry into World War II, the first peacetime draft in our nation's history was enacted, and the system was able to fill wartime manpower needs rapidly after the attack on Pearl Harbor, according to Larry Waltman of the Selective Service System's national headquarters in Washington D.C.

At the end of the war the draft was allowed to expire, but was reenacted less than two years later because of the cold war. According to Waltman, induction authority expired in 1973 following the Vietnam conflict, and the Selective Service System has since remained in 'stand-by'' posture.

The present structure of the agency consists of the national headquarters, a data managemant center and six regional headquarters, Waltman said. The state and local offices were closed in 1976, but would be reactivated if inductions should be resumed.

The local area office covers Martin, Mitchell and Howard counties. Board members are Raymond Alexander, Richard Atkins, Myrl Mitchell, Millie Nuckolls and Tommy Reeves.

Draft Board members serve on a volunteer basis. Each member receives a comprehensive training course, with yearly training sessions attended thereafter. In the event of reactivation, area offices would be opened at predetermined locations. Local board members would immediately staff these primary mission of the local board is to review petitions for postponements, deferments and exemptions.

"All registrants are considered to be 1-A or "ready for service" unless they are given a different status by the Selective Service Board," said Waltman. Only after receiving his induction notice can a registrant file a claim seeking postponement, deferment, or exemption.

Induction notices are sent by Western Union Mailgram. The registrant has 10 days to file a claim with the Selective Service office before he is to report to the Military Entrance Processing Station. "Receipt of such a claim automatically delays the registrant's induction until his claim has been fully processed and adjudicated,'' said Waltman.

It is not necessary to submit supporting evidence at the time a claim is filed. The registrant filing DRAFT page 6-A

In case of fire, call, don't rush to station

By DEBBIE LINCECUM Staff Writer

After a recent incident, officials of the Big Spring Fire Department are concerned that citizens remember two things: in case of fire, call 911; and never try to extinguish a blaze yourself.

A home near the 18th and Main fire station caught fire Thursday and sustained heavy damage, estimated at at least $30,000. When the fire started, neighbors have said, they went to the fire station to alert firefighters, but got no "To the general public, (going to the station) sounds like a good idea," said Capt. Rodney Phillips. "But we hope they will get on the phone and call 911. The 911 emergency system works by alerting all firefighters on duty, Phillips explained. The units assigned to the area will respond, but others will pay attention in case they are needed for backup, Phillips said.

another bridge spanning the 1-20 turnoff is also being renovated;

both are being done to bring the bridges to highway standards.

He said firefighters are responsible for inspections and other work that takes them away from the station. Occasionally, they share a meal. While firefighters are out, however, they are armed with portable radios and pagers, and never far from the trucks.

"The general public may think that if a station is closed, that means nobody's covering that area, but that's not true," Phillips said. "The call comes out in the station, on the radios and on the pagers.

He added that, during Thursday's house fire, units were on the scene three minutes after they got Phillips warned that residents should never try to put out their own fires. Open doors and windows, while they seem to help by letting smoke out, actually make the situation worse by adding oxygen to the flames.

Austin a target of 'Baby Thieves'

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - Adaylong rampage of crime by San Antonio's "Baby Thieves" is the latest example of violent crimes committed by San Antonio youths who like to come to Austin, a police robbery investigator says.

Sgt. Scott Cary, an Austin police robbery investigator said Monday that the road trips by the San Antonio youths have ended in robberies, burglaries, auto thefts and assaults.

"We always get these gangs out of San Antonio up here. They like to come to Austin because it's a college town,' Cary said.

The most recent episode of commuting criminals occurred Feb. 7, when at least five San Antonio youths, part of a group dubbed the "Baby Thieves," went on a daylong rampage through Austin.

But lottery backers are in a time squeeze. Secretary of State John Hannah has said March 1 is the last date the House may wait until early next week to vote, adding that lottery sponsors have indicated to him they still may not have lined up

Although lottery backers say they are confident of finding enough votes in the Senate to pass a lottery plan, opposition is greater in the House. 'I don't think right now you have a definite count on votes. From what we have found out . . . you might have 95 on one side and 40 on the other side, and you have about 10 or 15 that's in limbo," said Lewis, D-Fort Worth.

A Texas Poll published over the weekend showed wide public support for a lottery.

The survey, conducted by the Texas A&M University Public Policy Resources Laboratory for Harte-Hanks Communications Inc., found 76 percent favoring a lottery, 19 percent opposed and the rest undecided. That poll, with a margin of error of three percentage points, showed an increase from 68 percent approval two years

'These poll results are significant. The numbers have increased," said Rep. Ron Wilson, D-Houston, sponsor of the lottery proposal.

Lottery opponents argued that it would prey on the poor, put the state in the gambling business and encourage Texans to spend their money on lottery tickets rather than other goods and services.

"The odds are astronomical: They won't win," said Willie Bennett, director of the Bethlehem Community Center in Fort Worth. Bennett said that poor people would be victimized and spend a larger portion of their income on the lottery than would others. 'They're ripe pickings for the lottery," he said. "Their limited funds would be thrown away.'

Firefighting bill OKd

AUSTIN (AP) - The Senate approved a bill that would establish a statewide fire contingency fund of up to $1 million to fight fires in rural areas.

Estimates place rural fires at 40,000 a year, which are handled by 37,000 volunteer firefighters in over 1,900 rural fire departments.

The fund could include appropriated state funds, federal funds, gifts and grants, according to a written bill analysis.

The measure by Sen. Bill Sims, D-San Angelo, was sent to the House on a 30-0 vote Monday.

Maryland passes pro-abortion bill

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) -Maryland's governor signed a law preserving a woman's right to an abortion even if the U.S. Supreme Court overturns its Roe vs. Wade decision. Anti-abortion activists promised to put the issue before voters.

Gov. William Donald Schaefer signed the bill Monday after the House approved it 84-52. The Senate passed it 29-18 on Feb. 11.

The bill was the focus of a yearlong legislative fight over pro-choice legislators' efforts to write into state law key elements of the 1973 Roe vs. Wade decision, which legalized abortion nationwide for the first time. The bill was launched amid indications the high court might reverse the Roe ruling.

Anti-abortion activists promised to try to overturn the bill through a referendum on the November 1992 ballot. They need to collect 32,300 signatures.

'There's no problem getting those signatures. We've had 80,000 signatures in front of the governor without a bill to raise the people up," said Steve Shaneman, director of the antiabortion Family Protection Lobby.

Abortion-rights activists said they expect a major fight and plan to raise $1 million.

Drexel moving toward settlement

NEW YORK (AP) — The case of Drexel Burnham Lambert Inc. is moving quickly toward settlement and possibly the firm's emergence from bankrupcy protection, a newspaper reported.

In an unusual holiday session at U.S. District Court on Monday, the main parties reached agreement on how to divide what is left of Drexel, The New York Times said today

The deal involved the investment banking firm's creditors and the main litigants, including the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the Resolution Trust Corporation.

Under the agreement, the creditors would cut their claims against the firm to around $2 billion. One of the presiding jurists, Federal District Judge Milton Pollack, estimated their total claims may have amounted to $20 billion.

Last week, the Internal Revenue Service filed a claim for more than $5 billion against Drexel. The agreement does not cover

Bush to ask Congress for $56 billion for war

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Bush is putting the finishing touches on his request for $56 billion to finance the Persian Gulf

Presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said today that the president would ask Congress later this week for the additional funds for the fighting with Iraq — now in its second month.

Defense Secretary Dick Cheney and Joint Chiefs of Staff Chairman Colin Powell were scheduled to answer questions on the Persian Gulf War effort today before the House Appropriations defense subcommittee.

Several of the panel's members, including its chairman, Rep. John Murtha, D-Pa., were returning from their own visits to the Persian Gulf over the holiday weekend.

White House officials, speaking on condition of anonymity, have said Bush will propose paying for the war with $41 billion in foreign contributions and $15 billion in tax-

The president will say those funds will be enough to pay for the fighting through March, the officials said. A request for additional funds is expected when the war's costs, now largely unpredictable, become clearer.

The measure will cover the extra salary costs the war has generated for troops and the replenishment of used weapons. Several Capitol Hill officials said they expect the proposal to include funds for 100 to 500 additional Patriot missiles, which have been used to shoot down Iraqi Scud missiles, and about 400 Tomahawk missiles. Tomahawks are longrange missiles that have been fired at land targets by U.S. warships.

Congressional support for the president's request to finance the war is not in doubt. Most complaints from lawmakers have focused on the administration's slowness in delivering facts about foreign contributions

Commuters warned to be vigilant

LONDON (AP) - Posters warned train travelers to be vigilant today, and detectives interviewed commuters for leads in an Irish Republican Army bombing that killed a man and injured 40 people at a major rail station.

The outlawed IRA said police were to blame for Monday's death because they decided not to close the rail station despite a telephoned warning.

AFL-CIO leaders threatened to yank their union's support from politicians who don't support federal legislation banning the hiring of permanent replacement workers during labor strikes. "A politician who does not sup-great urgency, and of course it will weigh heavily on our view of the extent to which members of Congress running for re-election will be supported," said AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland. The AFL-CIO's 33-member Executive Council opened its winter

Reform is due in sentencing

A judge's recent refusal to impose a minimum prison term of 171/2 years on a drug offender, as required by federal guidelines, is only the latest episode in a mounting dispute over mandatory sentences and judicial discretion.

U.S. District Judge Harold H. Greene, sitting in Washington, D.C., felt the mandatory sentence was too harsh for a defendant convicted of selling only one tablet of the drug Dilaudid.

Judge Greene ruled the stiff sentence was contrary to the Eighth Amendment's prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment. Noting 80 tablets of Dilaudid have the narcotic effect of a single gram of crack cocaine, the judge found an "enormous disparity" between the crime and the specified penalty.

Under the sentencing rules, however, other relevant factors had to be taken into account. As it happened, this minor drug transaction was the defendant's sixth felony offense. He earlier had been convicted twice of armed robbery and once each of jumping bail, distributing heroin and illegally possessing a prescription drug. Altogether, this added up to a mandatory prison term of 171/2 vears to 211/2 years, according to the sentencing

Congress created the sentencing rules because of widespread concern expressed by prosecutors and defense attorneys alike over huge disparities in sentences handed down for similar crimes. The 1984 Comprehensive Crime Control Act established the U.S. Sentencing Commission, which drafts the sentencing rules and revises

The guidelines, which are extremely detailed and overly complicated, rank federal crimes in severity from 1 to 43. Such factors as a prior criminal record or parole violations add points to a sentence. Such factors as a clean record or cooperation with law enforcement authorities lessen a sentence.

Once the points are totaled, judges set a sentence within the established parameters. Sentences outside the parameters — like the three-year term Judge Greene imposed in the Dilaudid case — require a formal explanation and constitute grounds for appeal by either the prosecutor or defendant.

Under the old system, nearly half of all convicted criminals were not even sentenced to prison. Of those who were, most served little more than half their time before

Data compiled by the U.S. Sentencing Commission show that the 1984 law has had its intended effect of both lengthening prison terms and making sentences more

But it also has built in a number of inequities that did not exist before. The criticisms voiced by judges are not without foundation. In fact, there are several aspects of the guidelines themselves that need to be reformed.

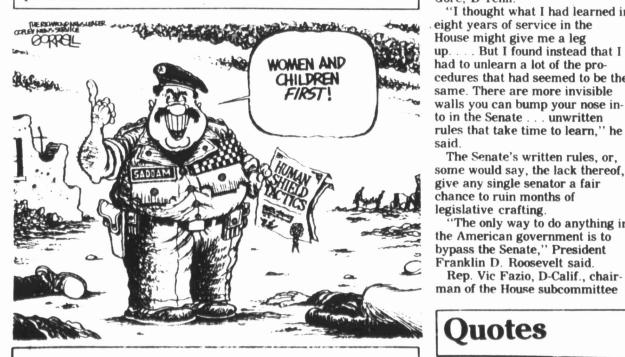

The Dilaudid case raises one problem — namely, that drug offenses are treated far more severely than any other crime on the books short of murder.

No matter how egregious the offense, a prosecutor can cut a deal with a defendant, perhaps to acquire information that might lead to the arrest of other criminals. By reducing the number of charges filed against a defendant, the prosecutor can shorten his sentence significantly, because the number of charges figures in the federal

Under such circumstances, the prosecutor effectively imposes the sentence rather than the judge. This perpetuates the kind of disparity in sentencing that the reforms were intended to eliminate.

These shortcomings of the sentencing reforms appear to run afoul of the constitutional guarantee of equal protection under the law. They need to be addressed promptly by the U.S. Sentencing Commission, which was delegated broad powers by Congress to set the length of sentences

If the commission acts to bring drug sentences in line with other crimes, curb the discretion of prosecutors to cut deals with defendants, and streamline the rules considerably, judges may find the guidelines far more palatable.

Judging who is harassed

"A federal judge has ruled that a Reston woman was not being sexually harassed when her boss gave her cards and gifts, rubbed her back and hands, and regularly escorted her to the bathroom and her car." So reported Mark Potts in The Washington Post.

It was a landmark decision since the judge said that the person who claimed she was harassed was sending out mixed signals, and the attention that the plaintiff received did not create an uncomfortable working environment. There was, the judge declared, no direct sexual harassment.

We've had a similar situation on our third floor, so we empathize with this case. Katrinka, who is involved with computers, seems to have a mad crush on Orloff, the librarian. She is serious about this because she has told anyone who will listen, "I'll follow him to any Club Med he will lead me to.'

Katrinka doesn't pinch Orloff in the library, but witnesses have seen her rub against his shoulders and place Snickers bars on his desk. On a few occasions, Orloff has broken into tears and cried, "Why are you doing this to me? Katrinka has replied, "You're all I've got.

Orloff has consulted us about what he should do.

I've told him, "You can't do anything unless she engages in sexual harassment.

Orloff asked, "What does that mean?

"She has to make an indecent proposition that will sicken Jesse Helms. 'She never fails," Orloff said.

"Did you encourage her in any "No. On the contrary. I begged

"No, most of what I do is with microfilm." "I'll see how I can help." I went over to talk to Katrinka. I told rub their necks. Katrinka said, "It's not the end all, but it's a start.' "Well," I insisted, "Orloff doesn't like it.'

Katrinka laughed. "Orloff doesn't know what he likes. Most of the marriages in this country were made in offices where women knew exactly what they wanted and men had no idea what they were looking for. Sexual harassment is in the eye of the person who drinks the most coffee at the vending machine.' "So you intend to pursue your

Miss America spoof to finance band trip

Forsan Band will sponsor a beauty contest, featuring the most gorgeous hunks (?) you've ever seen. But watch out. Those voluptuous blondes were some of the starting lineup for the Forsan football team this year. Band Director Bob Fishback, finding the funds short for an upcoming band trip, issued a challenge to the band to raise the needed money. Band members came up with the beauty contest, a spoof of the Miss America Pageant, in which the contestants will be the guys, properly attired in swim suits and evening gowns, with the girls as their escorts, dressed in tuxes. There will be an evening gown and talent competition from which 5 finalists will be selected and asked the question by judges to select a winner.

Supreme Court today agreed to placed in a fund where crime vicdecide whether states may compensate crime victims by seizing recover it. After that period, the profits paid to criminals for books, movies and other accounts of their exploits.

Setting the stage for an important ruling on freedom of expression, the court said it will study a challenge to such a New York law by the publisher of "Wiseguy," a best-seller on organized crime by Nicholas Pillegi and the basis of the movie, "Goodfellas.

A ruling is expected in 1992. The state law was challenged by Simon & Schuster, a leading book publisher that paid former underworld figure Henry Hill $96,250 and is holding another $27,958 due him for the story of his life as a mobster turned government informant. Hill's story is the basis "Wiseguy" and "GoodFellas."

Accused criminals whose profits are seized eventually must be convicted of the crimes before they can be forced to forfeit the money. Other states have enacted similar laws.

Simon & Schuster said the New York law censors free expression because people who are even suspected of a crime will refuse to discuss their exploits knowing they may never be paid.

The law's constitutionality was upheld in October by the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Men are currently compelled to register with the Selective Service within 30 days of their 18th birthday. Registration forms are turned in to the Post Office. From there the information is transferred to the Data Management Center near Chicago. A man is in the first priority group for a possible draft during the calendar year of his 20th birthday. The next year he drops into the second priority category and men born the year after he was born move into the first priority group. With each successive year he drops into a lower priority group until he has his 26th birthday, at which time he is generally over the age of liability for the draft.

In the U.S. there are currently 14.7 million men registered with the Selective Service, said Colonel John Haralson of the regional office in Dallas. In Texas the total number is just over one million. In Mitchell County, 569 men are registered, 364 in Martin County, and almost 2,000 in Howard County. Hawks withstand rally to down Midland, 97-82

By STEVE REAGAN Staff Writer

The Howard College Hawks may be turning winning ugly into an art

After winning their two previous games by a total of five points, Monday night the Hawks spotted the Midland College Chaparrals a 10-point lead early before gaining control late in the second half and cruising to a 97-82 win.

Johnny McDowell led a quintet of Hawks in double figures with 21 points. Antonio Valiengo scored 15, Cecil Pittman 14, Harvey Petty 12 and Dexter Abrams 10 for Howard, now 27-1 overall, 13-1 in Western Junior College Athletic Conference Midland's Carroll Boudreaux led all scorers with 28 points. Tom Brown scored 15 points and Charles Sanders 10 for the Chaps, who fall to 15-12 and 6-7 for the season.

Despite the Hawks' margin of victory, head coach Steve Green was anything but pleased with his team's effort.

"If it had been the final game of the year, we'd have had the ideal game plan," he said, "and that would be to make the game ugly and 40 minutes long — and to make those 40 minutes seem like an eterSTANDINGS 22-7, 9-4 15-12, 6-7

What irked Green the most was 19 turnovers committed by the Hawks Monday night — that and a cold start that saw the Chaps open a 10-0 lead early in the contest.

Howard committed five turnovers and missed three shots and two free-throw tries before Mike Williams finally put the Hawks on the board with 15:25 left in the first

After that score, Midland suddenly went cold, going scoreless for three minutes. The Hawks took advantage of the situation to close the

The Chaps retained the lead for five more minutes before Williams hit from three-point range to give the Hawks a 19-18 lead. Malcom Milam tied the game with a free throw for Midland, but Howard outscored Midland 17-6 over a fourminute stretch to take a 36-24 lead with 2:54 left in the half.

Midland scored eight straight points - including three consecutive baskets by Boudreaux to cut the lead to four, but Valiengo hit a three-pointer and Ted Berry scored inside off a feed from McDowell to give the Hawks a 41-32 lead at halftime.

The second half began the same as the first, with the Hawks cold from the field. Howard managed only a Valiengo three-pointer and a pair of free throws by Vernon Broughton in the first four minutes of the half, and the Chaps took advantage of the situation to close within one, 46-45.

Valiengo hit three free throws and Petty hit a three-pointer to put the Hawks back up by seven with 15:15 remaining. Boudreaux scored on consecutive possessions to cut the lead to three, but Howard

Tarheels make the Dean's list — again

College roundup

(AP) If basketball was a course and not an extra-curricular activity at North Carolina, a passing grade would be 20 — as in 20 victories in a season.

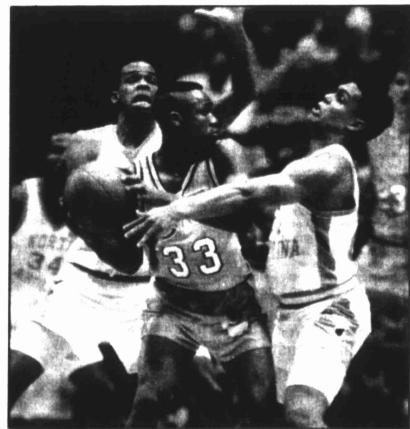

In the 30 years of coach Dean Smith's tenure, Tar Heel seniors have made the grade 24 times, including 21 straight since 1971. The program also can brag about a record-tying 35 seasons of 20 or more victories after a 118-50 beating of The Citadel Monday

King Rice says making Dean's list was a top priority when he came to Chapel Hill four years ago.

"You sort of knew that when you were coming to North Carolina, that you had a great opportunity to win a lot of basketball games,' Rice said. "Coach Smith always has his teams prepared, and that's what happened this year. This team was just well prepared, and we've just got to give coach Smith a lot of credit.

Rice, Pete Chilcutt and Rick Fox all have enjoyed four 20-win seasons. The streak was in peril last year when North Carolina got in under the wire with a 21-13 record. It was a little easier this year, and the critics are silent.

"Last year, everyone thought after we had 10 quick losses, we might not get 20," Fox said. "Not only is it a significant number around here, but it is a barrier. Your realize that if you win 20 games in a college season, you're a pretty good team."

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. —The Citadel's Lamar Wright is trapped between North Carolina's Hubert Davis and King Rice during first-half action at the Smith Center Monday night.

Five other pretty good teams, all members of the Top 25, won Monday night, although No. 17 Nebraska needed a record-tying 40 points by 7-foot-2 center Rich King to subdue Northern Illinois 82-73.

No. 1 UNLV (23-0) ran its winning streak to 34 games by beating Long Beach State 122-75.

In other games, it was No. 7 Syracuse 88, Florida State 79; No. 10 East Tennessee 102, Western Carolina 78; and No. 11 Southern Mississippi 88, Texas-Pan American 77.

NEW YORK (AP) - BoJackson, the two-sport player, became a two-sport multimillionaire. Jackson, who lost in salary arbitration last winter, avoided the matter this year and agreed on a one-year contract with Kansas City worth $2,375,000.

Jackson's settlement was 64 percent of the difference between the $2.7 million he sought and the $1.8 million offered by the Royals.

Three other players settled and two had hearings, leaving 11 remaining in arbitration.

Milwaukee second baseman Jim Gantner had the first hear ing in Brewers' history. He asked arbitrator Daniel Collins for $2 million, while the team offered $1 million.

Nuggets help Timberwolves set record

NBA roundup

(AP) It's been a season of firsts for the Denver Nuggets.

Monday night, they added another one — for the Minnesota Timberwolves

"I haven't checked the stats, but I'll guarantee you that's the first time we've had four guys in double digits in rebounds in the history of this club," Minnesota coach Bill Musselman said after a 128-114 victory over the Nuggets. The performance set a franchise record for points in the Timberwolves' first victory ever over the Nuggets. The Timberwolves had not beaten Denver in seven previous meetings, including two this season Earlier this year, the Nuggets made negative NBA history while giving up some spectacular point totals — including a regular-season record 173 to Phoenix on Nov. 10, 1990. The Nuggets were also involved in the record 320-point game that they lost to Golden State 162-158 on Nov. 2, 1990.

In other NBA games, it was Chicago 110, Cleveland 95; Utah 104, San Diego 81; Detroit 85, Seattle 83, and Dallas 107, Golden State

Tony Campbell scored 25 points and Tyrone Corbin added 23 as the Timberwolves ended a five-game losing streak with their homecourt victory. The Nuggets lost their sixth straight.

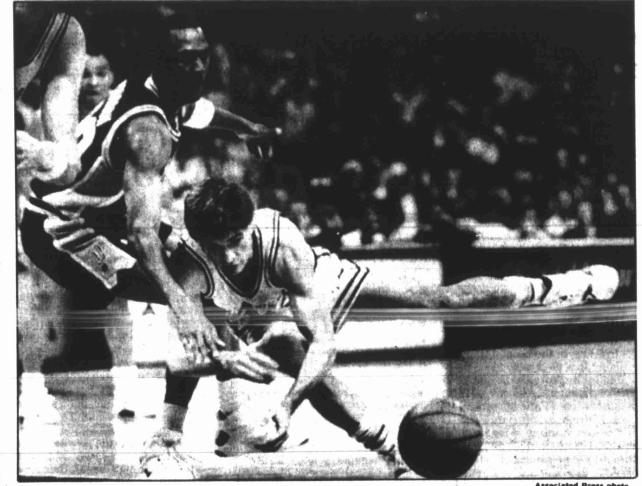

Minnesota, which also got 20 points each from Sam Mitchell and Pooh Richardson, broke the club's previous single-game scoring mark of 126 points set in a victory over Seattle on Dec. 30.

Orlando Woolridge and Chris Jackson scored 30 points each for Denver.

The Nuggets, who have won only three road games this year, went on a 12-3 run to close to 106-100 with 7:14 remaining.

HOUSTON (AP) - Akeem Olajuwon completed his first full workout with the Houston Rockets in more than six weeks following eye surgery and is so eager to return to the team that he is moving up his own timetable by about a week.

Olajuwon worked out Monday for the first time since he was injured Jan. 3 when Chicago's Bill Cartwright elbowed him in the right eye. He underwent surgery to repair the eye and has missed 21 games. The Rockets are 12-9 without him, but have won nine of their last 11.

Olajuwon said Monday after the workout he is hoping to rejoin the lineup in Los Angeles, where the Rockets will play a Feb. 28 game against the Clippers and a March 3 game against the Lakers.

'I felt good getting out on the floor and doing all of the things that everybody else does in practice," Olajuwon said. "Being able to do that is getting me excited, and now I want to come back and play as soon as possible. I think I should be ready for the trip to LA. That's what I'm looking at now.

Olajuwon said last week that he planned to make his comeback appearance at March 5 home game against the New Jersey Nets.

"But if I am feeling better and get the approval from the doctors, there is no reason to wait that long," he said. "I have been sitting for a long time. I think I've watched enough basketball. Now I want to play and help the HOWARD 6, HILL 5 The Hawks beat both Hill and the gathering darkness by scoring four runs in the bottom of the sixth to take the nightcap and improve their record to 6-0.

Richard Fontenot pitched the sixth inning in relief of Jesse Armendariz to pick up the win, his first of the year. Hill, now 0-2 for the season, broke a scoreless pitching duel by plating four runs in the top of the fifth. Howard starter Armendariz, who had pitched two-hit ball entering the inning, gave up three hits, three walks and threw four wild pitches

The Hawks struck for their first two runs in the bottom of the fifth. With two outs and Snyder on base, Contreras hit his second home run of the day to cut the lead to 4-2.

After Fontenot surrendered a run in the top of the sixth, Howard began its game-winning rally.

Leadoff hitter Rodriguez started things by reaching base on a throwing error by the shortstop. Olivas then was hit by a pitch, putting runners on first and second. Both scored when Johnson slapped a triple to right-center field.

Pagan walked, putting runners at first and third. Pinch-hitter Teague then hit a grounder to second base. The throw home was late, allowing Johnson to score, tying the game at 5-all.

Snyder then ended the game with a hit to right field that scored Pagan.

"That's what happens to people when they leave early," HC coach Bill Griffin said, referring to the sparse crowd that witnessed the end of the game.

"I thought we hit the ball well during the doubleheader," he added. "We were able to capitalize on the long ball...Our defense wasn't as good as it should be, but as long as we can get the offense we've been getting, we can make up for the errors.

The Hawks returned to action today with a doubleheader against Hill, beginning at 1 p.m. at Jack Barber Field.

Canseco flying low

MIAMI (AP) — Baseball star Jose Canseco has gotten another speeding ticket, clocking in at 104 mph and telling the arresting officer his car was running on aviation fuel, the trooper said.

"I don't think it was a big deal to him," said Florida Highway Patrol Trooper Rafael Lola, who gave the Oakland Athletics slugger the ticket on Feb. 6. "You could say he was kind of cocky. When I told him he clocked in at 104 mph, he said, 'Oh, you're so generous Canseco also told Lola he had just put some special aviation fuel in his Porsche and wanted to test it out, the trooper said Thursday.

Allied forces poised for all-out land assault

DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia (AP) - As the allies marshaled land, sea and air forces for a possible all-out assault on Iraqi forces, President Bush told the Soviets their 11thhour peace plan fell short of U.S. expectations.

'As far as I'm concerned, there are no negotiations, no concessions," Bush said in Washington. He said he had conveyed his opinions about the peace plan to Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev.

Bush noted Gorbachev asked him to keep details of the Moscow offer convidential "and I'm going to do that.'

'I will respect that request in the interests of thoroughly exploring the initiative," the president said at a picture-taking session at the White House. "But, very candidly . . . while expressing appreciation for his sending it to us, it falls

River project worries residents

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) People worried about the environmental impact of barge traffic on Caddo Lake won assurances last week from Marty Garton, who is studying the matter for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Garton said he is looking at all aspects of the proposed project to bring river traffic from the Red River at Shreveport 58 miles up Twelve Mile Bayou, through Caddo Lake and Cypress Bayou, to Lake O' The Pines in East Texas.

"We know there will be impacts," Garton said at the Red River Valley Association meeting. "You can't dig a channel without uprooting trees.

An initial public hearing is being planned in mid-March at Jefferson, Texas, to give the public a chance to voice concerns. The hearing is tentatively set for March 19.

Some people on both the Louisiana and Texas sides of Caddo Lake believe digging a nine-foot deep, 200-foot wide channel the length of the lake will do great damage.

"We're not for this thing to go through the lake," said Dale Nix Jr., president of the Louisiana Greater Caddo Lake Association.

Class gives voice to students

PLAINS, Texas (AP) — In a tiny room behind the trophy case at Plains High School, student disc jockey Mark Hill is ready to rock. "It was either this or wood shop," he said, explaining how he ended up on KPLN, Texas' only high school radio station and the state's smallest licensed broadcast facility. The FM station, with a signal that barely reaches beyond the city limits, is an anomaly in the radio world - non-commercial, noncompetitive and non-programmed.

"Most of the adults here like country music," he said with a smirk, leaning back in his chair. "I like rock.

Across the street at the Yoakum County Courthouse, the first strains of another frenetic rocker came through desktop radios in a half-dozen offices. Student disc jockeys say their most loyal listeners are at the courthouse. And rock music, say grinning students, really hits a nerve with the women who work there.

Music disagreements aside, the 200-watt station has a devoted audience. At the 138-student school, it's played at a low level over the public address system into any classroom that wants to listen.

Flag theft causes mild official ripple

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) - Someone took an Iraqi flag that hung in a New Mexico State University auditorium, but its disappearance has hardly caused a ripple of objection.

We're not going to replace it until the war ends and we re-establish relations with (Iraq)," said Lynn Robbins, associate dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. "Nothing has come up about (the flag) at all, and I'm not really doing any detective work to try and find who took it.'

Ms. Robbins said that a couple of students asked the college to remove the flag from the Gerald Thomas University Auditorium after Iraq's invasion of Kuwait, but the college refused.

'We said that it represented our students rather than the government," Ms. Robbins said. "That was our response after the invasion, but after shooting broke out, we just decided we're going to leave it down.

Prior preparation required for sign-up

Nestor's notes

By NESTOR HERNANDEZ USDAASCS Martin County 1991 Program Sign-up

The sign-up period for the 1991 Acreage Reduction program will be March 4 through April 26.

It is very important producers prepare prior to sign-up. We can not provide an economic analysis during the program. The extension service will be the main source of options

Appointments required -

We need producer cooperation to be certain all changes to their farming operation have been recorded prior to the appointment, (addresses, ownership, and operator changes). Time does not permit this to be completed during signup. Any changes needed to be made during sign-up will require a rescheduling of the appointment. 1990 Final Deficiency Rate

A deficiency rate of .073 per pound has been announced. The adjusted rate, after a .00515 reduction required by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989, is .06785. The Gramm-Rudman-Hollings Act requires all deficiency payments be reduced by .014 per cent. CCC-184's will be issued the week of Feb. 11. A set-off will be made and credited to the debt of those with outstanding claims.

Conservation Reserve Program We have been informed a tenth CRP sign-up period had been scheduled March, 4-15. Under the new program bids on eligible land will be accepted based on environmental benefits obtained per dollar of cost of USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation. Martin County has reached its limit and we do not know if there will be another sign-up period. Additional details for the CRP program will be announced later.

LTA Sign-up The Long Term Agreement signup will continue through Feb. 22. This program provides cost share assistance on conservation practices performed systematically over a three to five year period. This includes grass seeding, terand storage facilities and shrub

Price Support The final date for obtaining price support loans for the 1990 barley, oats and wheat crops, uplnd cotton and grain sorghum is March 31.

Weed Control Policy A policy concerning weeds on conservation reserve program acreage was adopted by the state committee at its meeting January

The policy requires all CRP participants maintain the vegetative cover and all required conservation practices. Plus, take necessary action to control weeds in order to maintain the production capabilty of the soil

All participants will be subject to penalties if weeds are not controlled in a timely manner

All CRP contacts will be checked annually to verify vegetative cover is being maintained and weeds are not becoming a problem or a nuisance

Control measures must be consistent with other control practices on similar cropland in the area.

The County Committee, on Jan. 9, adopted a policy concerning weeds on Conservation Reserve Program acreages.

This policy requires CRP participants take immediate action to control weeds on CRP acres before they become a problem to neighboring farms.

All CRP participants will be informed of the policies.

SCS Notes Producers are reminded all residues for FSA plans must remain in or near the soil surface until March 1. Wind strips must be left standing until April 1.

Producers should make plans for implementing their FSA plans for the 1991 crop year. The plans must be actively applied based on the producers decisions. The 5 percent spot check program will occur again this year. Producers with planted residues not certified with this office are encouraged to do so in order for our office to have a record of the conservation practicies being applied to the land.

CRP participants scheduled to plant permanent grass this year are encouraged to begin making preparations. The grass must be planted by June 1st. Remember, there is only one cost shared weed control following grass seeding, racing, waterways, livestock well and it must be done within twelve months.

Eligibility for participation in all programs administered by ASCS is established under law without regard to race, color, religion, na tional origin, age, sex, marital status, mental or physical handicap.

Fletcher, Shanks plan long careers with Cap Rock

KERRY FLETCHER

By PEGGY LUXTON Communications Advisor, Cap Rock Electric, Inc.

Kerry Fletcher is one of Cap Rock's eight meter-readers. He started at the co-op two years ago, as a member of the underground construction crew, where he stayed for two months before moving to the metering department. He is married to the former Jackie Gray of Calgary, Alberta, Canada. The couple has two daughters and one son.

Fletcher is the third generation of his family to work at Cap Rock Electric. His grandfather retired from the co-op in the 1960s and his father worked for 11 years for the co-op in the 1950s and 1960s. He said, " I have heard about Cap Rock all my life, I just never pictured myself working here.'

Fletcher and his brother were self-employed testing electric meters for co-ops in the Oklahoma Panhandle. When the oil industry began to lag, the company lost revenue and Fletcher knew he would have to look elsewhere for work. His grandfather brought him a Cap Rock employment application and urged him to apply.. He says it was one of his best decisions.

'I've been around co-ops for the last 15 years," Fletcher said. 'Cap Rock is the best-run co-op I've ever seen. They take care of their people better, there's a lot of teamwork, with everybody helping everybody else, and Cap Rock reacts to its customers better than any place, whether it's co-op

"Cap Rock is the best place I've ever worked," Fletcher said. "And I don't intend ever to look for a job elsewhere. And there is no other job in the co-op that would suit me as well as the job I've got. I'm happy right where I

Russell Shanks has been a Cap Rock for three years. He is the son of Terry and Linda Shanks of Stanton. He is married to the former Shelia Kuykendal of Big Spring. He presently lives in

Shanks is assistant material man for the company and works out of the co-op warehouse. It is his responsibility to pull the materials and supplies from the warehouse and lay them out for the construction crews and linemen

According to Shanks, working the warehouse's supply of transformers is the hardest part of his job. "There is so much paperwork involved with transformers and I don't particulary care for paper work,' Shanks said.

But preparing materials for jobs is interesting, Shanks say. 'You learn early on just what materials are required for the different types of jobs. I like working with the guys on the different crews," he added.

Shanks says teamwork is the keyword for the efficiency of his department. He said, "I have to depend on everybody else to tell me what kind of job is planned. It's all a matter of close teamwork - planning the jobs, making up supply lists for jobs and transporting materials to the work site. It's important that everybody contributes their part in the process. We're big on teamwork at Cap Rock.'

An Iraqi military communique broadcast by Baghdad radio today said allied air raids hit 65 civilian targets and 179 military targets in the past 24 hours. It said the "barbaric raids" had not demoralized the Iraqi public.

Baghdad's state newspapers had no reports today on the Soviet peace plan.

However, Soviet Middle East envoy Yevgeny Primakov, who attended the Aziz-Gorbachev meeting, called on the allies to hold off on any ground offensive.
