Open house planned for credit union

The public is invited to attend the Cosgen Employees Federal Credit Union for an open house at its new location on Refinery Road near Interstate 20.

The new building has given the credit union much needed office space and parking, said Treasurer/Manager George Hudson.

The expanded site will also allow for three drive-in windows that were not available at the old location, he said.

The open house is scheduled from 9 to noon Saturday. Refreshments will be available and prizes will be given away.

For credit union members only there will be 10 drawings for $100 bills each, said Hudson.

Lamesa Fun Fest scheduled Saturday

Plans are underway for the fifth annual Fun Fest in downtown Lamesa.

The Fun Fest is sponsored by the Retail Trade Committee of the Lamesa Area Chamber of Commerce.

Activities will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday with a bicycle, skateboard and scooter parade. Booth space is $25, call (806) 672-2181.

Groups criticize Mexican trade plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor, environmental, agricultural and consumer groups today criticized the Bush administration's plan for negotiating the U.S.-Mexico free trade agreement as inadequate and unenforceable.

Lori Wallach of Public Citizen, a consumer group headed by Ralph Nader, said the administration's promises to protect the environment and jobs in a free trade pact with Mexico were inadequate.

The administration fails "to offer substantive, enforceable guidelines that would protect U.S. consumers from contaminated meat, pesticide-covered fruit and vegetables and toxic air and water," she said.

On Wednesday, President Bush presented to Congress an 85-page "action plan" that attempted to allay lawmakers' concerns about dropping trade barriers.

"The White House and the Mexican government have made important procedural and substantive commitments," said Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill. "I am confident that these commitments will be honored," said the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said he was pleased Bush had offered "significant concessions."

Detective says no ties in Ohio to murder case

By DEBBIE LINCECUM Staff Writer

A Plano homicide detective has said investigations have turned up no conclusive evidence tying a Columbus, Ohio, criminal to the murder of former Big Spring resident Christie Proctor.

Keith Grisham of the Plano Police Department said Wednesday that an investigation of any connection between the incident and convicted murderer David Penton is ongoing.

"We've never stopped looking into it," Grisham said. "It's just a difficult process."

Christie was the daughter of former Big Spring resident Laura Proctor and the granddaughter of current Big Spring residents Ralph and Lynette Brooks. She was snatched on a Dallas street in February 1986, and her remains were found in a field north of Plano more than two years later.

An Associated Press story in Sunday's Herald reported that Texas officers were planning a trip to Columbus to interview Penton, but Grisham said the plan has been stymied.

"So far, he has refused to talk to anyone," Grisham said. "We don't want to go up there and waste a trip. It's his right to refuse. Just like anyone, he has the right to remain silent."

Instead, Grisham said, officers are exploring Penton's background and similarities to another crime for which he has recently been convicted. A Marion County, Ohio, jury found Penton guilty April 19 of aggravated murder in connection with the kidnapping and death of a 9-year-old Ohio girl. He was sentenced to 30 years to life in prison for the murder, and was expected to be sentenced today on an additional charge of kidnapping, an aide to the Marion County prosecuting attorney said Wednesday.

Grisham said Plano detectives are "looking into (Penton's) background, and some possible evidence" linking Penton to the Proctor murder.

"At this point, I'd like to develop him as a real good suspect, a chargeable suspect, or eliminate him and apply my efforts somewhere else," Grisham said.

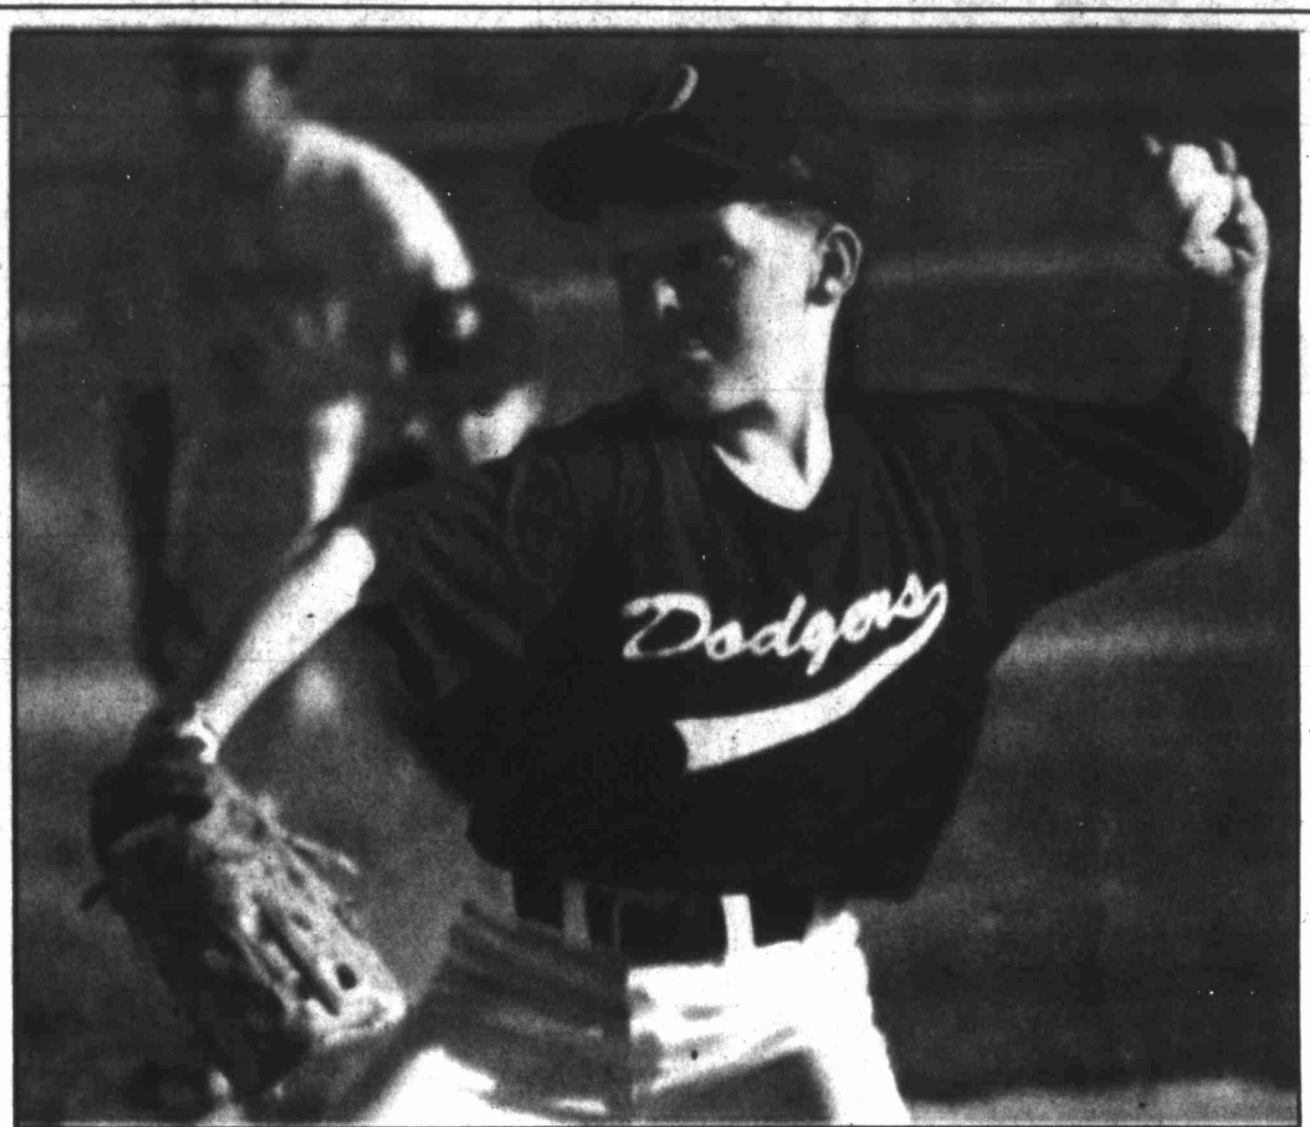

Penton is "one of the suspects" in the investigation, the detective said. "Some other suspects have never been completely eliminated, but nothing further has developed on them either," he said.

Columbus investigator Rick Sheasby said last week he suspected Penton in the deaths of three Texas girls, including Christie Proctor.

Christie disappeared Feb. 15, 1986, while walking a few blocks to her Dallas apartment complex. Big Spring residents participated in fund-raising events and searches during the two-year period until the girl's body was found in April 1988.

Book: Bush bypassed Powell on Kuwait policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush declared that the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait "will not stand" before consulting with Gen. Colin Powell who was urging diplomatic "containment," according to a book summarized in The Washington Post.

Powell, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, "could not understand why the president had laid down this new marker, changing radically the definition of success" without hearing Powell's opinion, says the account of a new book by Bob Woodward.

White House spokesman Roman Popadiuk said today the White House had no comment on the book. Popadiuk said National Security Adviser Brent Scowcroft had been given an advance copy, but added, "He didn't read the book yet."

Woodward is an assistant managing editor of the newspaper who has written best-sellers about the Watergate affair, the Supreme Court and the CIA.

His latest book, "The Commanders," is to be published Friday by Simon & Schuster.

Bush froze Iraqi assets in the United States within hours of the Aug. 2 invasion and condemned its "naked aggression" against Kuwait. He conferred with top civilian and military commanders at Camp David on Aug. 4 and the following day, returning to the White House, declared, "This will not stand, this aggression against Kuwait."

"There had been no NSC (National Security Council) meeting, no debate," Woodward's account said. It said that disturbed Powell.

Before the president's October decision to double the U.S. troop commitment in Saudi Arabia, Powell argued for non-war "containment" measures with Defense Secretary Dick Cheney, Scowcroft and Secretary of State James A. Baker III, according to account. Powell finally raised the issue with Bush, telling the president that containment "would take time, maybe as long as a year or two, but it would work," the account said.

Many congressional leaders were making similar arguments at the time, relying on an international trade embargo to force Iraqi dictator Saddam Hussein to withdraw his army.

Bush told Powell, "I don't think there's time politically for that strategy," according to the book. The Post said, however, that the book does not detail the political considerations that went into the decision.

It's time for proms!

By DEBBIE LINCECUM Staff Writer

Tuxedos, long dresses, soft lights and loud music: It's time for the prom!

Crossroads Country high schools have planned a variety of events for their last hurrah, the final school dance. Decoration themes range from undersea enchantment to heavenly bliss and Egyptian lore.

Some proms include a pre-dance banquet and speeches. Others are followed by an all-night bash. Music is standard at area events: A disc jockey will spin the tunes.

With corsages, favorite songs, new hairdos and high expectations, here's what local students can look forward to on that memorable night:

- Big Spring High School, May 18, in the East Room, Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The theme is "Enchantment Under the Sea," to be decorated with a "shipwreck" scene that features a large ship, pieces of coral, strings of seaweed and a treasure chest.

Death toll in Bangladesh reaching 40,000

DHAKA, Bangladesh (AP) — The official death toll today surpassed 37,000 in the cyclone that ravaged Bangladesh, and the nation's top relief official said he would not be surprised if more than 100,000 people were killed.

Record 145 mph winds battered coastal areas in Tuesday's storm, and survivors told of children being swept off islands by swirling sea water.

Lutfar Rahman Khan, the minister of state for relief, said that 37,543 deaths were recorded so far, making it the region's deadliest storm since 1970, when 500,000 people were killed.

An unofficial tally from politicians and officials in three east coast districts indicated 100,000 people had died.

"Even if the human casualty figures exceed 100,000 we will not be surprised," said Khan, who is in charge of the rescue operation.

"Hundreds of bodies have started floating back to the shore," Khan told a news conference in Dhaka. "It is a great tragedy. This is a national crisis."

He said Bangladesh needed $1.42 billion in emergency relief funds. He warned that without immediate repairs, the country's main port in Chittagong "will be lost."

Khan said the government would need at least 20 helicopters to deliver food and drinking water to remote regions. Government and relief officials said they had reached only half of the 65 islands that were pounded by the cyclone.

Thousands of people remained missing today, and Khan said 100,000 people were without shelter, huddled on earthen mounds that were built to protect cattle grazing areas from flood waters.

"I have lost everything. I have lost everything. God, why has it happened to me?" sobbed Mufizur Rahman, whose wife, son and three daughters were swept away when the storm hit the eastern island of Kutubdia.

Another villager, Rabeya Begum, said her husband was bitten by a snake when he tried to grab a floating banana tree on which to perch his infant son. He died on the spot, and the son drowned, she said.

Associated Press reporter Osman Gani Mansur said he saw bloated corpses floating alongside dead cattle near Kutubdia.

An unofficial tally from politicians and officials in three east coast districts indicated 100,000 people had died, and they said tens of thousands more were unaccounted for.

Bangladesh, a densely populated low-lying country, repeatedly has been brought to near ruin by storms spawned in the unpredictable Bay of Bengal in the Indian Ocean.

About 10 million people, most of them fishermen and poor farmers, live on islands along the southern and eastern coasts.

In several areas, 90 percent of the crops reportedly were washed away, and shrimp farms and the salt industry were devastated.

Prime Minister Khaleda Zia met today with representatives of donor countries to plan a strategy for raising emergency aid, in an international relief effort to be coordinated by the United Nations Development Fund, diplomats said.

U.S. Ambassador William B. Milam said the United States was donating $2 million in medical supplies.

The European Community today granted $11.8 million for food, tents, blankets, medicine and other humanitarian aid. The British relief group Oxfam said its workers in Bangladesh began distributing water purification tablets, food, candles and matches.

Communications Minister Oli Ahmed said 25,000 people died in Chittagong alone. Bangladesh's second-largest city, in the eight-hour storm.

Sultan Kabir Choudhury, a Parliament member from Bangladesh, said 40,000 died in his area 30 miles south of Chittagong.

United News of Bangladesh, quoting radio reports, said Wednesday that 8,000 people died in Kutubdia and that 70,000 others on the island were missing.

Red Crescent officials said they had no word on 30,000 people on the island of Nijhum Deep, which took the full force of the storm.

Mock jury acquits Oswald

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Lee Harvey Oswald was cleared of charges that he assassinated President John F. Kennedy by a mock trial jury of college students in this town known for its typically American views. The trial, condensed to 3½ hours, also resulted in an overwhelming vote of innocence for Oswald by about 100 spectators at the U.S. District Courthouse on Wednesday night. "It was unanimous on the first vote," said jury foreman David Oliver, a business management major at Bradley University. "A majority of the jury believed Oswald was involved, but they didn't know to what extent." The abbreviated trial had its tense moments. The courtroom fell silent, except for a few gasps of horror, as the defense team played a tape of the Nov. 22, 1963, assassination.

Ex wife challenges incumbent mayor

VICTORIA (AP) — A record 70 absentee ballots were cast in the Moulton mayor's race, which pits incumbent Harry Meyer against three challengers including his ex-wife, Georgia. Saturday's election is being called the strangest in years in Moulton, a town of 1,009 in Lavaca County. Residents can't remember a race for mayor that featured four candidates, much less one with such family ties. Meyer has been mayor of Moulton for the past 14 years, and served two years on the City Council before that.

Discovery performs space acrobatics

SPACE CENTER (AP) — Space shuttle Discovery executed a couple of flip-flops today in a Star Wars experiment designed to help scientists develop a system for detecting and destroying enemy missiles.

After steering the spaceship to within 1½ miles of a $94 million satellite that's gathering data on the shuttle's exhaust plumes, the crew guided Discovery through two fancy flips 161 miles above Earth.

Mission Control reported that the project's manager was "ecstatic at the data received."

The high-flying acrobatics were a repeat of a Wednesday performance conducted with the two craft 6.2 miles apart.

Later today, the satellite was to study chemical and gas clouds sprayed from the shuttle and a canister released into orbit by the astronauts Wednesday.

Pentagon scientists want to use the data to develop sensors that can "read" a rocket's exhaust and identify an enemy missile without getting fooled by camouflage gases or confusing the missile with natural phenomena, such as atmospheric light.

After today's tests, Discovery astronauts planned to snatch the satellite from space with the shuttle's robot arm and tuck it back into the cargo bay.

The first plume test was delayed for nine hours Wednesday when the astronauts encountered trouble aiming the satellite, which had been released from the shuttle earlier in the day. The problem was solved and four tests were completed.

All seven crew members, who generally had been working in 12-hour shifts, had a hand in the technical turns.

Commander Michael Coats fired Discovery's right maneuvering engine, shaking the ship with a roar and sending out a long exhaust plume. The crew captured the display with the satellite's infrared sensors and TV cameras.

The firing pushed Discovery almost a mile out of its orbital plane. Coats then fired the steering jets, causing the shuttle's nose to flip 180 degrees from north to south. Another engine firing served as a brake.

After another cartwheel, Discovery was back behind the satellite, whizzing around the world once again at 17,500 mph. The entire sequence took 27 minutes.

In a broadcast aired later on NASA television, the shuttle appeared as a small glowing spot in the dark sky. Brilliant bursts of light could be seen when the engines were fired.

"It is wonderful to see it come together, and it came together today," said Michael Harrison, program director for the Strategic Defense Initiative, or Star Wars.

Earlier in the day, the 4,200-pound satellite had moved into the wrong position.

Handgun bill shot down in Senate

AUSTIN (AP) — The sponsor of a bill to allow Texans to carry handguns said he might reload after firing blanks in his first attempt at Senate passage.

Sen. Gene Green said 47 of the 50 states have handgun permit laws. "Even in the strongest gun control jurisdictions in the country, they have a permitting system. And yet in Texas, which is known for cowboy boots and six-shooters, we don't allow even a strict permitting system," Green said.

But Sen. Ted Lyon said, "We just can't go back to the Old West days, which is what they want to do."

"Can you imagine the number of people that would be killed on the freeways of Houston if we had most of the people carrying pistols on a July afternoon? We're talking about major carnage."

The vote Wednesday was 17-13, which was three votes shy of the two-thirds required for consideration.

FOR CITY COUNCIL

• In two years as County Judge, I was able (with a lot of help) to increase the year ending reserves from about $700,000 to over $2,000,000. For the first time in nine years the county spent less than it took in. This can be done with city government, too. It will take hard work and lots of help as it did with county government.

• I believe a City Councilman should represent those who elect him. It is a Councilman's responsibility to set city government policy and require the city staff to carry out that policy and not to be a rubber stamp for the city manager and staff.

• It is my stated purpose if elected to stop the continued growth of the city budget (almost $1,000,000 last year and over $10,000,000 since 1981) and to require more accountability to you the taxpayer.

• To make Big Spring competitive with the surrounding communities will take work and some sacrifice to enable us to grow again. I am willing to try and do my part and I need your vote, encouragement and support.

Insurance overhaul tentatively adopted

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Ann Richards said she will sign into law an insurance bill tentatively approved by the House if it also passes the Senate in substantially the same form.

On Wednesday, the House adopted the measure that supporters said would stabilize rates, protect consumers, and help the industry.

Despite more than five hours of deliberation, there was little House debate on the bill, and the final product easily passed on a non-record vote. Another vote is needed in the House before it is sent to the Senate.

Richards called the bill "a remarkable achievement."

House Speaker Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, said the proposal was "one of the most significant pieces of legislation that has passed here in many years."

Consumer groups and insurance industry officials also praised the bill, but said they would fight for changes in the Senate.

Insurance industry spokesman Tom Bond said, "I think it's a good bill. I think it's not quite finished yet and everybody agrees that it's going to have more work in the Senate."

In Texas, the third largest market in the nation, has been plagued in recent years by an increase in insurance fraud, failed companies, and questions about the performance of the State Board of Insurance.

Reps. Eddie Cavazos, D-Corpus Christi, and Mark Stiles, D-Beaumont, said the measure would stabilize, and perhaps even lower, rates.

Stiles said the most significant proposed change would affect auto rates, which were recently increased by 8.7 percent by the Insurance Board.

The bill would require motorists to have proof of liability insurance when applying for their annual vehicle registration, a vehicle safety inspection, or renewing their driver's license.

Rep. Kim Brimer, R-Kennedale, said that in 1989, there were 126,000 uninsured drivers in Texas involved in accidents, which resulted in $470 million in insurance losses.

"The financial magnitude of uninsured motorists is staggering," he said.

Air Force jet taken for golfing trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Dan Quayle took a $27,000 weekend golfing trip on an Air Force jet that left only hours after President Bush promised a full-scale review of taxpayer-financed travel, reports CBS News.

Quayle and Transportation Secretary Sam Skinner played 18 holes last Friday at the Augusta National course, home of the Masters tournament, and 18 more on Saturday before jetting back to Washington.

They were guests of broadcasting executive Ron Townsend and were joined at Augusta by Arkansas financier Jackson Stephens, a political campaign contributor. Only Quayle and Skinner flew on the government plane.

Quayle spokesman David Beckwith said vice presidents have been traveling on Air Force planes as a normal procedure for decades. "Anytime he goes on any trip whether it's for any purpose it's on a governmental plane, that's the way the policy is set up and it has been for 40 years."

"So where is the news value in this?" Beckwith said. "This is another media cheap shot at Dan Quayle."

The vice president does routinely travel aboard Air Force planes for security reasons.

Judge rejects Panamanian suits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Panamanian businesses that suffered millions of dollars in looting damage after the United States invaded in December 1989 may not recover damages from the U.S. government, a federal judge says.

U.S. District Judge Stanley S. Harris on Wednesday dismissed 16 lawsuits that sought at least $80 million in damages. He said courts do not have the power to second-guess government decisions on use of military forces.

"It is well established that decisions pertaining to national security, such as whether and how to use military forces, are entrusted to the political branches."

The judge rejected the plaintiffs' claims that the United States is responsible for property damage because it dismantled Panama's only police force — Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega's Panama Defense Force — and left Panamanians virtually unprotected from their fellow citizens.

Harris also dismissed a class-action lawsuit asking that the government be ordered to consider damage claims for people killed or injured during the invasion.

Both sides agree to Angolan peace accord

ESTORIL, Portugal (AP) — Angola's leftist government and guerrillas have reached a peace accord in one of Africa's longest and bloodiest civil wars, with the United States and Soviet Union agreeing to stop arming the rivals.

Negotiators clasped hands at this coastal resort Wednesday to seal provisional accords that call for a cease-fire at the end of May and Angola's first free elections in the fall of 1992.

The war cost an estimated 300,000 lives since it began in 1975, the year Angola gained independence from Portugal.

"We have succeeded in crossing the Rubicon in this complex process, in this monumental work for lasting peace, democracy and dignity for our people in Angola," said guerrilla leader Jeremias Chitunda.

He is vice president of the National Union for the Total Independence of Angola, known as UNITA, supported by the United States in its fight against the Soviet-backed government.

Chitunda joined Angola's territorial administration minister, Lopo do Nascimento, in initialing the accords. UNITA leader Jonas Savimbi and Angolan President Jose Eduardo dos Santos are to sign the agreement later this month in Portugal.

Herman Cohen, the U.S. assistant secretary of state for African affairs, told a news conference in Washington that the Soviet Union and the United States were bound by the accords to suspend deliveries of military aid to their allies in Angola.

The Angolan government and the guerrillas have until May 15 to communicate final acceptance of the agreement to the Portuguese government.

Fighting should end by midnight that day, although the cease-fire will officially take effect after the formal signing two weeks later.

"In these talks there are no winners or losers," said the chief mediator, Jose Manuel Durao Barroso of Portugal. "If these accords are respected... the only winner will be Angola and the Angolan people."

If the cease-fire holds it will end decades of bloodshed in the southern African nation of 10 million.

The U.S. State Department hailed the 1,500-page agreement as a "historic development which offers the possibility of peace for a country which has known only war for more than 30 years."

The civil war began in 1975 after the Soviet-backed Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola gained power on the eve of independence from Portugal.

Angola became a Cold War battlefield after 1975 when Cuba sent soldiers and the Soviet Union sent arms to back government troops fighting UNITA forces. The guerrillas were supplied by the United States.

Mine-clearing turns into contest

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — The waters off Kuwait are getting crowded in what has become an intense competition among the United States and other nations to clear mines laid by the Iraqis during the Persian Gulf crisis.

"It's a huge political game. Each country wants to say 'I was there,'" French Naval Cmdr. Jacques Fourniol said recently in Dubai after his minehunter, the Sagitaire, spent a month off Kuwait.

Fourniol said there are so many mine-clearing units competing for space that work probably could be done quicker if there were fewer.

"Each time you want to send your divers out, you have to ask someone," he said.

He also complained about the space needed by the U.S. MH-53E Sea Stallion mine-hunting helicopters, which tow sled-like devices to sweep the waters for moored and bottom mines.

More than 30 mine-seeking vessels and support units are plying the waters off Kuwait.

The U.S. Navy, leading the operation, has four wooden-hulled, Korean War-vintage minesweeping ships. It also is using helicopters that operate from the USS Tripoli, which was damaged by a mine during the Gulf War.

Local vote may decide election day

LONDON (AP) — Voters today chose local officials in elections that could have national significance — the outcome may decide whether Conservative Prime Minister John Major opts for a snap general election or waits until the economy improves.

Major, who replaced Margaret Thatcher Nov. 28 in a revolt among Conservative legislators, must call a general election by June 1992.

A good showing by Conservatives in today's elections would encourage Major to call the general election early because it would indicate nationwide public backing for his party's continued dominance in Parliament.

But the Conservatives could stand to lose support amid unemployment of more than 7 percent, inflation topping 8 percent, and lingering bitterness over a per-capita tax that was recently scrapped.

Thirty million people, nearly half the total population, were eligible to vote in today's poll for councils ranging from big city authorities to rural towns. London, Scotland and Northern Ireland have no local elections this year.

Polling stations in England and Wales opened at 8 a.m.

Sharon: U.S. using wrong method

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ariel Sharon, the Israeli war hero and champion of Jewish settlements on the West Bank and in Gaza, says the Bush administration is going at peacemaking in the Middle East the wrong way.

"The first thing that should be done is to bring Saudi Arabia and Kuwait to the table of negotiations and sign with them a peace agreement," Sharon said Wednesday in an interview.

"We don't have any common border with them. We don't have any territorial conflict with them. That would create a different atmosphere in the Middle East."

The ex-general with the hawkish reputation said Saudi Arabia and Kuwait could come to terms with Israel far more readily than the front-line Arab states.

They met for an hour at the Israeli embassy and, according to Sharon, discussed the influx of Soviet Jews to Israel.

Blast kills three, injures over 120

COOLING DOWN

STERLINGTON, La. (AP) —

Fires burned through the night at a fertilizer plant after explosions killed at least three people and left five missing in the ruins today, officials said. More than 120 others were reported hurt.

The blasts Wednesday at International Minerals and Chemicals Corp. hurled a man into the street, shattered windows in nearby homes and were felt eight miles away, witnesses said. Flying debris damaged a hospital and a school.

"I heard a pop, then I saw a fire and I told my daughter that the plant was fixing to blow up," said Marcha Firmin, who lives across the street. "It all went up, blowing me back against my house."

The cause of the 1:30 p.m. blasts wasn't immediately known. John Sutton, the company's environmental manager, said it may have been caused by a propane gas leak.

Stores selling liquor to teens

After eight years of steady decline, drunken driving among teen-agers is on the rise again, something that auto safety experts blame on the ease with which underage youth can buy liquor. In a recent study, the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety found that in 97 of 100 attempts, 19-year-old and 20-year-old young men in the Washington, D.C. area were able to buy a six-pack of beer. In a similar test in New York, underage buyers were able to purchase alcohol 80 percent of the time.

The study showed that it made no difference in what type of store the illegal buy was attempted. The young men were able to buy beer just as easily in the big national chain stores as in small mom-and-pop package shops. All this is having an impact.

In 1980, 53 percent of all fatally injured drivers younger than 21 had blood alcohol concentrations of 0.10 or higher. By 1987, after all states had raised the legal drinking age to 21, highway fatalities involving underage drinkers dropped to 28 percent.

But alcohol-related traffic deaths among teen-agers and underage adult drivers are on the rise again. In 1989, the last year for which statistics are available, 32 percent of the young drivers killed in auto accidents were legally drunk. Drunken-driving deaths in this age group has increased amid a general decline in alcohol-related traffic deaths for all other age categories.

The National Commission Against Drunk Driving cites ineffective enforcement of existing laws as one of four major obstacles to lowering the incidence of alcohol-related deaths and injuries, and calls for greater enforcement of age-limit laws. In two New York counties where police had imposed a crackdown on teen-age liquor purchases, Insurance Institute investigators found that underage youths were much less successful at buying beer than in counties where no such special enforcement efforts had been tried.

At a recent conference on drinking and driving, Insurance Institute President Bryan O'Neill said, "Maybe if some retail establishments lost their licenses to sell liquor, things would get better in a hurry." Maybe he's right.

Carter right to call for '80 election probe

Former President Jimmy Carter has been trotting around the globe overseeing elections in Third World countries, and he's also been busy with his Habitat for Humanity project to build homes for the homeless.

Just last week Carter got around to addressing rumors that the 1980 election he lost to Ronald Reagan may have been "fixed."

A recent public television program, Frontline, explored the possibility of a secret deal by the Reagan-Bush campaign to delay the release of American hostages in Iran until after the 1980 election.

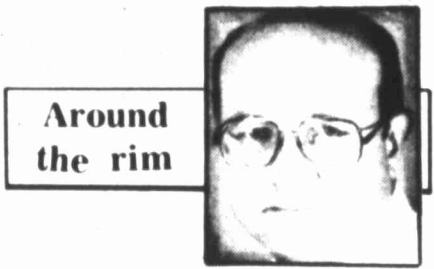

Some media stories have been circulating for the past decade about that possibility, but there never has been any concrete proof. And in all likelihood there never will be.

However, Carter said last week he was sickened by the renewed reports of that possible secret deal, a deal which may well have led to President Reagan's biggest faux pas — the Iran-Contra scandal.

Carter was correct to seek a further investigation into the possibility of any secret deal to keep American hostages held any longer than they were.

The Reagan administration, and now the Bush administration, has fumbled around with another hostage situation that won't leave the headlines. There are still 13 hostages, including six Americans, being held somewhere in Lebanon.

George Bush may have been involved in that possible secret deal with the Iranians back in 1980 after he was named Reagan's running mate. If it's ever proven he was, then the people of this country were conned not only in the election of 1980, but also in the elections of 1984 and 1988.

Jimmy Carter has a point to make in calling for an investigation, possibly by a congressional committee.

But Mr. Carter, why are you nearly 10 years late in calling for a probe into the administration of a man who's now been out of office for more than two years?

Let's hope it's not too late already, Mr. Carter.

As a postscript to this column, it should be pointed out that Gary Sick, a former staff member of Carter's National Security Council, said in The New York Times last month that Reagan campaign staffers made a deal with the Iranians to delay the release of the hostages until after the 1980 election.

Sick also said the Reagan people agreed to arrange arms shipments from Israel to Iran in return for the delay. At the time, arms supplies were critical to Iran during its war with Iraq between 1980 and 1988.

All those involved with the Reagan campaign, including President Bush, have denied any effort was made to delay the release of the hostages.

And, in a final note, the Iranian diplomat who negotiated the release of the hostages in Tehran has denied that Iran delayed their release to help Reagan's 1980 candidacy.

Some things really tick me off

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

Random thoughts while recording "Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles" for various nieces, nephews, friends' children, etc. (Cowabunga, dude! I'm sick of that movie!)

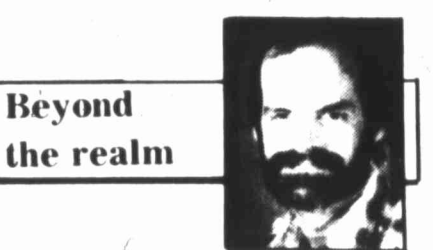

Sometimes, despite my best efforts to the contrary, I get into these little dark moods. You know the kind I'm talking about: When you're definitely not feeling good, but you're not quite ready to strangle innocent people or animals.

These dark moods are stealthy little critters. I can be, for example, at home watching TV or washing the dishes when, in a flash, something happens to — in the venacular — tick me off.

The instigators of these moods usually fall under the general heading of pet peeves.

And what are my pet peeves? Funny you should ask. They include:

- Meryl Streep movies — OK, OK, Meryl's a great actress who undoubtedly deserves each of the zillion Oscar nominations she's received, but I'd rather stick myself with safety pins than watch "Sophie's Choice" one more time.
- Program length commercials — You know what I'm talking about: Those programs that come on about 2 a.m. in which some smuck in a fluorescent leisure suit tells how you, by golly, can become a billionaire if you only send him money.

I guess I should be kinder. The darned things are a sure cure for insomnia.

- Jim and Tammy Bakker — nuff said.
- Scientologists and Jimmy Swaggart — Ditto.
- Public television fund-raisers — I wish someone really filthy rich would die and leave all his money to PBS so I could watch some of their great programs instead of some dude begging for money.
- Saddam Hussein — I know it wasn't within the realm of the U.N. resolutions to march to Baghdad and off the guy, but don't you really wish one of those smart bombs had found his bedroom during the war?
- Child-proof bottle caps

Don't get me wrong: I don't want Junior to OD on mom's diet pills, but the last thing I need when I have a fever or a toothache is a bottle you need the 24th Infantry to open.

- Cheerful people in the morning — Morning, in my book, is a time of murder and mayhem, and I can definitely do without some Mary Sunshine-type trying to engage me in conversation before my third cup of coffee.
- If you want conversation, find a mirror and chatter away, but please leave alone until the caffeine rush hits.
- Pushy phone salesman — There are few things more despicable than having some nameless, faceless automaton trying to convince me that I need to subscribe to Birds of Ancient Africa magazine — or something like that.
- What makes it worse is that these folks won't take no for an answer until you finally shout, and then they act like you're the bad guy. Which usually gets you to feeling so guilty you go ahead and buy their stupid magazine, which is probably the exact reaction they were aiming for.
- Deadlines — Boy, that one should go over good with my boss.
- Columns that go on and on.

Well, there's a simple solution for that one.

Read that guy his rights

The dating game has become so dangerous that singles are now taking their lawyers with them whenever they go to a bar.

I was having a drink at the One Night Stand Disco when I noticed a young man wearing a Skull and Bones necktie approach a lovely coed in a Benetton sweater.

"May I buy you an imported beer?" the University of Virginia man asked her.

The person sitting next to the girl said, "Before you do that, sir, I must read you your rights."

"Who are you?" the student wanted to know.

"I am this lady's lawyer, and I am here to protect her against people who approach her at 2 a.m. and offer to buy her a drink."

"It's OK with me," the boy told him. "This is my lawyer. Work it out with him."

The lawyer conferred with the girl and announced, "My client agrees to accept an imported beer from you, providing you expect nothing in exchange."

The boy's lawyer responded, "My client is not the kind of individual who expects anything in return when he purchases a beer for someone. He does it out of kindness for the human race."

The young man turned to the girl. "Gosh, you're a knock-out. I can't believe how favorable my astrological signs are today. I'm so lucky to meet somebody like you."

The girl batted her eyelashes. "I'm just an ordinary, typical Aries. But you are kind of cute."

The girl's lawyer turned to the boy's legal adviser. "She meant it exactly the way it sounded. Just because she is overly friendly, I don't want your client to anticipate any heavy petting."

"My client does not expect any kind of petting. He's very happy to sit in this bar drinking imported beer until the sun comes up."

The boy looked at the girl, who was twisting his tie in her hands, and he whispered, "It's hot in here. Would you like to see Lincoln's sad face by moonlight?"

"I wouldn't mind a little walk to digest this imported beer," she replied.

Her lawyer yelled, "I object. This boy is leading my client."

The boy's attorney shouted back, "My client is not leading the lady. I have dozens of witnesses in this bar who will testify that she has offered to go to the Lincoln Memorial of her own free will."

The girl's lawyer told him, "I cannot allow her to go to the memorial unaccompanied. There is a possibility that my client may get involved in heavy breathing without the presence of legal counsel."

The student's lawyer said, "If you walk, then I walk. I am not going to let my client tangle with this lovely girl in case he is thinking of violating the law."

The boy spoke up, "It isn't really necessary."

The girl assured them, "We're not going to do anything we wouldn't do in the Rose Garden at the White House."

"Nevertheless, I am going along," the girl's attorney said.

The boy's lawyer chimed in, "So am I. Don't worry about us violating your privacy. While you are courting, we'll keep our eyes on the ducks fooling around in the Tidal Basin."

Teens take radio by storm

By DEBBIE LINCECUM
Staff Writer

When the weekend rolls around in Big Spring, the Super Sonic Sound hits the local airwaves. Sixteen-year-olds Janie Marquez and Trenaee Sneed play "jam" and Spanish music, requests and dedications each Saturday and Sunday from 8 to 10 p.m. on radio station KBYG.

"We have a lot of fun," says Trenaee, whose radio name is DJ Lady T. Janie chooses the music and keeps the show running smoothly.

Trenaee says lots of kids listen to the show when they're "cruising around." She thinks the show probably gets some listeners who might otherwise tune in an out-of-town station for their favorite music.

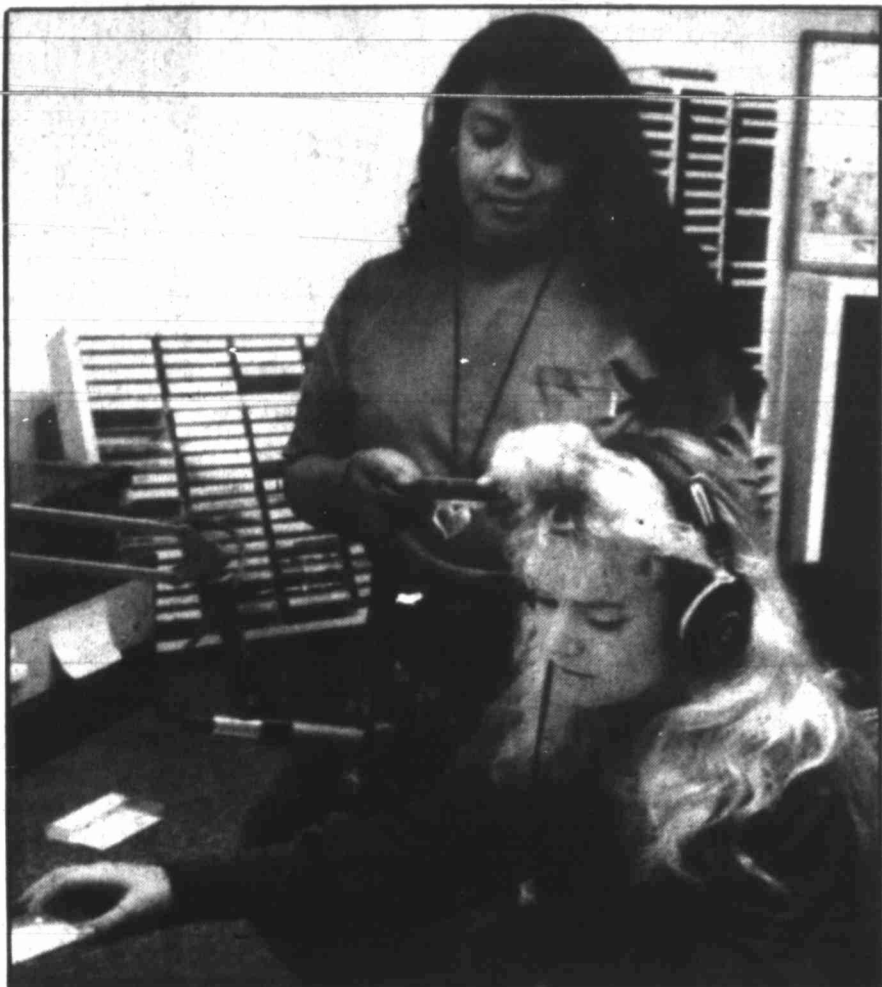

"The people that listen to it a lot, they really get to know who you are," Janie adds. "We've met a lot of people from this."

But running the show is a job, and to earn their money, Trenaee says, they have to remember a lot of things.

"Once I accidentally left the mike switched on," she admits.

"Yeah," Janie remembers, "my father (Raul Marquez, program director for another radio program at the station) called us and said, 'I can hear you screaming.' It's hard sometimes because you have to remember, if we mess up, it's going to be out there (on the air)."

Dedications are a big part of the program. Trenaee says the phone rings "all the time" while the Sound is on the air. Kids usually make a dedication for a boyfriend or girlfriend, or someone they want to get to know better, she says.

Janie Marquez, left, and Trenaee Sneed are on the air with the Super Sonic Sound.

"We have to check them to make sure they aren't too personal," Janie adds.

"We get a lot of secret admirer dedications," Trenaee says. "Sometimes we know their voices, but we won't tell anyone."

The Sound gets a lot of calls commenting about the show as well, the two agree. "People will say, 'Who is this?' and they'll tell you they like the show. That makes us feel good," Janie says.

"But it's not all like that," Trenaee adds. "They'll tell us what they don't like. They're really honest."

'Spartacus' back in restored re-release

NEW YORK (AP) — Spartacus was said to have been a patient man. In its struggle to depict the slave who shook the Roman Empire, Hollywood could have used more like him.

Actor-executive producer Kirk Douglas needed three years to get "Spartacus" into movie theaters, more time than the slave himself required to conquer nine Roman armies. The film came out in 1960, ran 182 minutes (45 minutes were cut just before its release) and had a then-record budget of $12 million. Now, more than 30 years later, "Spartacus" has been restored and re-released at 197 minutes.

Making the movie was a battle both on and off camera, and what emerges are differing styles within a standard Hollywood "good-vs.-evil" story: the theatrics of Englishmen Laurence Olivier, Charles Laughton and Peter Ustinov, the harsh realism of director Stanley Kubrick, the high ideals of screenwriter Dalton Trumbo, and the hard-nosed approach of Douglas himself, an illiterate immigrant's son who longed to play the conquering slave.

The real Spartacus was a Thracian gladiator who in 73 B.C. led an uprising known as the Third Servile War, or the Gladiators' War. Six years later, Fast's book caught the attention of Douglas, who had formed his own production company and had "lost" out to Charlton Heston for the lead of another Roman epic, "Ben-Hur."

Seats available for jazz show Tuesday

Seats are still available to see the Jazz Ambassadors, the touring jazz ensemble of the United States Army Field Band, Washington, D.C., in a free public concert at the Municipal Auditorium, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The performance is sponsored by the Big Spring Herald and the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce.

The program will range from Big Band tunes of the 40s to Dixieland to patriotic tunes.

There are no reserved seats, but admission to the concert is by ticket only. Free tickets may be picked up at the Herald office or at the Chamber of Commerce. Ticket holders are asked to claim their seats at least 10 minutes prior to the beginning of the concert; any remaining seats will be available to non-ticket holders.

The public is urged to pick up tickets as soon as possible. According to Herald publisher Robert Wernsman, the response was so great for the past two military concerts that the ticket supply was exhausted.

Wernsman asked that persons request only the number of tickets they believe will actually be used so there will be no wasted seats.

There are 20 members in the Jazz Ensemble, many of whom have played with other big name bands and professional organizations before entering the Army. Members are selected through highly competitive auditions.

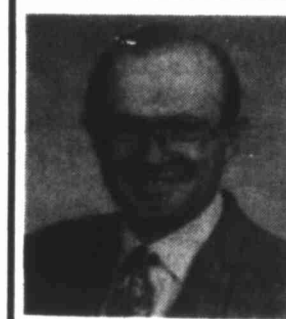

Chief Warrant Officer Charles L. Booker, Jr., a jazz musician, composer and arranger, is director of the Jazz Ambassadors.

Coahoma girls plan FHA trip

By MARSHA STURDIVANT
Staff Writer

COAHOMA — Four Coahoma high school students will travel to Washington D.C. this summer to participate in the National Future Homemakers of America Leadership Conference.

ANGELA EVANS

Angela Evans, newly elected regional vice-president for achievement, and Tia Boudreau, Dianne Hayes and Janice Rodriguez, STAR (Students Taking Action for Recognition) Event winners, will fly to the Capitol for the conference with FHA sponsor Barbara Justiss.

Justiss, homemaking teacher for Coahoma's high school, said the students used their knowledge concerning child development to create their emergency action program.

"They developed their own entry to fit the guidelines. They developed program 911 to teach kindergarten children how to use 911 for an emergency. They wrote the skit and acted out an emergency, they made a flip chart to show the children times when they might need to call 911, and they took a telephone and every child called while one girl pretended to be the dispatcher," Justiss said.

Dianne, Tia and Janice, all freshman students, said they first presented their 911 program in November, 1990, and then taught the program to Girl Scouts and Brownies at the Coahoma Community Center.

"I remember it was November because I used a turkey on fire as an example," said Tia, daughter of Shirley Greenfield. "Teaching the children was very interesting. It was nice to hear their views and try to get on their level," she said.

Janice, daughter of Elva and Ruben Rodriguez, said she enjoyed working with the kindergartners so much she might become a teacher.

And the idea to design the 911 program belonged to Dianne, the girls said. All three students said they were thrilled at the opportunity to visit the nation's capitol and compete with the other FHA organizations.

Justiss said she and the students will attend the conference June 7-14. Every group attending will stay in the Washington Hilton to provide additional opportunities for the students, she said.

The Junior Little Friends 911 program placed first at regional and first at state, competing against two other Texas groups. But Justiss said the competition in Washington D.C. will be tougher, with delegates from all 50 states and Puerto Rico possibly attending.

"They'll have 10 minutes in front of judges to present their program," she said.

Angela Evans will also go to the conference representing her region. She was elected regional vice president of achievement at the regional FHA meeting March 1-2. The regional area covers as far north as the Texas Panhandle and to El Paso in the west.

Justiss said Angela was elected by 107 FHA chapters in a secret ballot at the meeting in Midland. The achievement officer is responsible for teaching others how to set their own goals and reach them, she said. Angela will work with other schools in her region, giving speeches and workshops and explaining the rules of the organization once the by-laws are rewritten this summer.

"They developed program 911 to teach kindergarten children how to use 911 for an emergency. They wrote the skit and acted out an emergency, they made a flip chart to show the children times when they might need to call 911, and they took a telephone and every child called while one girl pretended to be the dispatcher."

Barbara Justiss

"She came to my door last summer and told me she had this goal since she was a freshman. I've never had a student so excited about FHA to come to my door during the summer," Justiss said.

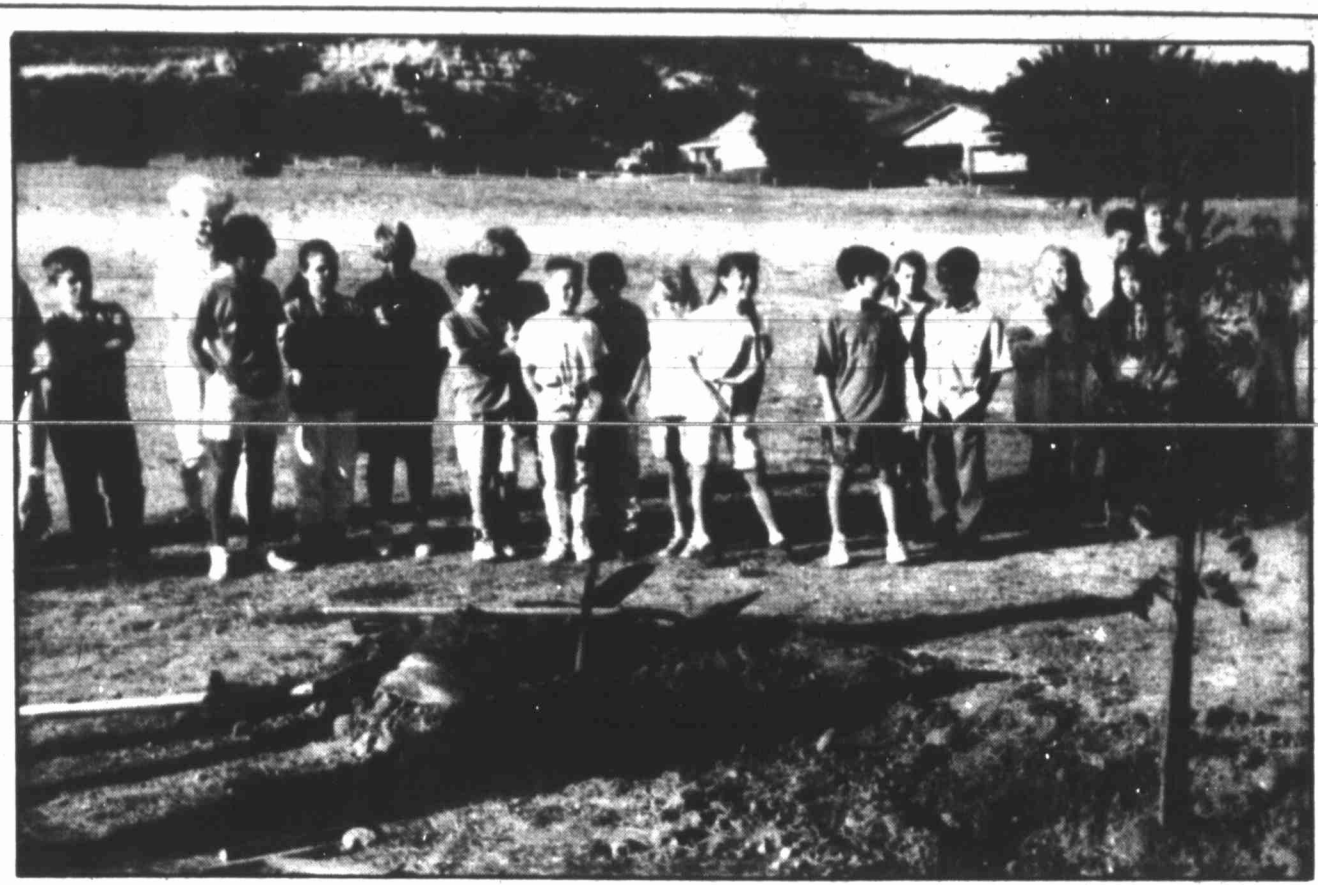

Angela, a junior, moved to Coahoma from Borden County before her sophomore year. She is the daughter of Sandra Bloom, Coahoma, and Jim Evans, Borden County.

Angela will help plan the next regional meeting, and most of her summer will be devoted to the duties of her office, Justiss said.

"The summers are very busy. They do most of the work then so they don't have to miss school during the year," Justiss said.

The trip to the conference is paid for by the school, she said, and part of Angela's trip is financed by the region.

"Texas has the biggest delegation," Justiss said.

Arbor Day planting

Recycle Rangers raised $194 and bought and planted a pecan tree for Arbor Day, April 26. Jeff Morris from Fina Oil and Chemical Company gave a short speech to the all-school assembly at Kentwood Elementary School. The Rangers had worked for four months, collecting aluminum cans in the school-wide project.

This Mother's Day offer from Hallmark has everyone talking.

Offer by mail.

Get $5 Free long distance service from US Sprint with any $5 Hallmark purchase. Even if you're not a Sprint customer.

This year, your Mother's Day could have a special ring to it. Here's all you have to do.

- Just make any $5.00 Hallmark purchase at a participating store and pick up your special redemption envelope. Mail it to Hallmark with proof of your purchase and, in a few weeks, you'll receive your $5.00 Certificate from US Sprint good for long distance service.
- If you're a Sprint customer, go ahead and make your long distance call(s) as you normally would.
- If you're not a Sprint customer, you can still access the nationwide, crystal-clear fiber-optic network by dialing 10333, then 1 plus the area code and telephone number. This call won't affect your normal long distance service in any way.
- The cost of your call(s) will appear on your regular phone bill. Enclose the $5.00 Certificate when you pay that bill and it will be applied just like cash.

This offer is limited to one per household and your purchase must be made by Mother's Day, May 12. So, visit your participating Hallmark store today. If you have questions, call 1-800-736-1138.

Tia Boudreau, left, Janice Rodriguez, and Dianne Hayes will participate in a national Future Homemakers of America leadership conference in Washington this summer. The girls were chosen on the basis of program competition, first at the regional level, then on the state level. In Washington they will be competing against entries from across the nation.

Poorly written letters will be returned

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The law says young prisoners can complain, but the new director of the California Youth Authority says he'll send the complaints back to be rewritten if the grammar and spelling aren't correct.

"I hope the ACLU (American Civil Liberties Union) sues me for depriving these people of their right to be ignorant," said B.T. Collins, CYA director.

State law allows youthful prisoners to write letters complaining about such things as food, housing conditions and disciplinary actions.

In a memo to managers, Collins said error-filled letters will be returned to inmates with a letter from Collins inviting the complainer to try again and use the prisons' libraries and dictionaries.

"You're going to be judged in this country, like it or not, on how you write and speak," Collins said.

Teens' questions need answers, not judgment

DEAR ABBY: I was pleased with your response to "Betty's Confidante." Sexually active teens need to know how dangerous sex can be, even when proper precautions are taken.

In Virginia, minors are entitled to information about birth control, pregnancy, prenatal care and sexually transmitted diseases without their parents' consent or knowledge. Our health clinics and private physicians are required by law to respect a minor's privacy with regard to these sensitive issues. I am an obstetrician-gynecologist, and anything told to me by a teen regarding sex may not be shared with a parent without the teen's permission.

The best family situations I have seen are those in which love allows parents and teens to discuss sexual activity without fear of punishment. Although parents may not like the fact that a daughter or son is sexually active, being judgmental and punitive only alienates an adolescent and makes it that much harder to protect him or her from the many dangers of unprotected sex. Value judgments must be put aside.

I would encourage any parents or adolescents who have questions about the availability of health care for sexually related problems to call their local city or county health department.

God bless you, Abby. And God bless the children. — MATTHEW J. WERNER, M.D., CULPEPER, VA.

DEAR DR. WERNER: Thanks. I needed those kind, reassuring words. I came in for copious criticism for suggesting that teens who need answers for questions about sex should go to Planned Parenthood if they don't feel comfortable asking their parents. Lucky are the people who live in Virginia, and the other states whose laws protect a minor's right to privacy.

DEAR ABBY: A prominent fire chief in Michigan asked you to advise your readers against installing double dead-bolt locks.

Well, as a security consultant, may I say there are two sides to that issue! Since families are much more likely to be burglarized ed than to experience a late-night fire, the additional security provided by a dead-bolt lock is the reason those locks are such big sellers.

Although I agree that the use of these locks is hazardous for hotels, hospitals and nursing homes, there are two good security-related reasons for using them in single-family residences.

The first: In doors that have glass or plastic inserts (or panels) with standard locks, a burglar can simply break the glass or push the plastic out, stick his hand inside the door and unlock the latch. He can then open the door and enter the house. A double dead-bolt lock prevents this.

Second: There are cases where a team of burglars with large trucks or vans have carried away all the furniture, major appliances and even the light fixtures!

However, when a homeowner uses a double dead-bolt lock, a burglar can steal only what he can remove through the windows. This would be time-consuming, attract attention and appear suspicious to the neighbors or police.

When using a double dead-bolt lock, the rule is: Always lock your door, and keep the key in the lock when you are home. If you follow this rule, you will be safe and secure. — "MAC" MC CAULY IN COPPERAS COVE, TEXAS

Out of the mouths of babes

Michelle Alexander, 15-year-old granddaughter of R.J. and Marjorie Alexander, Big Spring, spoke on environmental issues at the World Childrens Day celebration at the United Nations on April 21.

When she was only 11, Michelle created the board game "Give Peace a Chance." The game teaches about international relations and conflict resolution.

As she grows up, Michelle continues to speak out on global issues that concern children and adults.

"Remember, what we do as kids today for peace and human rights really matters for us as adults tomorrow," says Michelle.

Moore reunion news

The 29th Annual Moore Community Reunion was hosted April 27 in Garrett Hall, First United Methodist Church from 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Approximately sixty Moore school students, teachers, and former residents assembled for a brief program and visitation.

Lawrence Adkins, president, welcomed the group. Truett Thomas led the group in singing "Amazing Grace" accompanied by Evelyn Adkins. Five persons attended for the first time, they were Walter Osborne, Stanton Johnson, Alvis Adkins, J.B. McCullough, and Mike Daniels. The oldest persons present were Twila Lomax, former Moore school teacher, and Fannie Kent. Both are 92 years old. The youngest person was Rachel Madison, granddaughter of Lawrence and Evelyn Adkins. Former school teachers were Twila Lomax, Anna Smith and

Ted Phillips. Those traveling the farthest were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cook from Lubbock. The Adkins family of eight was the largest family in attendance.

The memorial list of 34 was read by L. Adkins with Ted Phillips voicing the memorial prayer.

Newly elected officers for the year 1992-1993 were President, Zirah Bednar, Vice President, Myrtle Stroope, and Opal Wooten, Secretary-Treasurer.

A detailed 1990 news article, from the Big Spring Herald, was read by Mary Hildreth Odell. This article contained events of the Moore School as well as the community.

The program concluded with group singing of "The More We Get Together The Happier We Will Be."

The 1992 Reunion will be April 18 in the Garrett Hall.

How's that?

Q. How much money does the state get for each penny of sales tax?

A. In round numbers, each percent of the state's 6 1/4 percent sales tax rate generates $1.3 billion a year, according to State Comptroller, John Sharp. The sales tax rate increased from 6 percent to 6 1/4 percent July 1, 1990. The extra 1/4 cent is projected to bring in $300 million in its first year.

Outcome of hearing will not be disclosed

By PATRICK DRISCOLL
Staff Writer

The outcome of a juvenile hearing to determine the punishment of Kevin John White will not be disclosed, a judge overseeing the case said today.

White, 17, was found by a jury last week to have recklessly caused the death of Richard Lauderdale, 52, in June.

"It's my intention just to close it to the public. I think that this case has already attracted more attention than an offense such as this would have if it was committed by an adult," said 118th District Court Judge Bob Moore.

"Right now that's how I feel," he said. "I don't think I'm going to change my mind."

White, who admitted in testimony that he stabbed Lauderdale on June 12 in Comanche Trail Park to stop sexual advances, was on trial for murder as a juvenile under a 1987 determinate sentencing law, which allows for a sentence of up to 30 years.

Lauderdale was stabbed one time, in the heart, and died almost instantly, according to an autopsy report. White was 16 years old at the time.

The two-day trial was open to the public, as stipulated by law. But since the jury verdict on the lesser charge is not included in crimes covered by determinate sentencing, the case will now be handled as a typical juvenile case, Moore said.

"It goes back to just a plain old juvenile proceeding," he said. "The whole purpose of the (Texas) Family Code is to prevent criminalizing a juvenile through publicity."

Moore also said he will not disclose the outcome of the hearing, which has been rescheduled from later today to sometime late next week.

The maximum punishment White could receive is to be handed over to the Texas Youth Commission, where he could be held at its discretion until he is 21 years old. County Attorney Hardy Wilkerson said last week. Wilkerson prosecuted the case in 118th District Court, which was sitting as a juvenile court.

Attorney Don Richard, who represented White, said he and White's family will decide whether to appeal the case to a higher court after the outcome of the hearing.

Train bearing tainted soil to unload in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A train that wandered the country in search of a dumping ground for its load of contaminated soil neared the end of the line today at a toxic waste site in Utah, despite protests from environmentalists.

Dogged by demonstrations and bad publicity as the cargo made its way down the East Coast and across the continent, CSX Transportation, which owns the soil, refused to say what time the train would enter Utah, or from what direction.

Like the New York garbage barge that wandered the ocean in search of dump site in 1987, the train had become a symbol of the nation's waste problems.

The 2,400 tons of soil were scraped from the ground surrounding a toxic train fire in Freeland, Mich., in 1989. The soil contains acrylic acid, a pungent liquid acid, and trace amounts of other chemicals.

The Environmental Protection Agency, as well as Michigan and Utah authorities, said the soil is not hazardous, but the load was turned away in at least three states. The train traveled through Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina and South Carolina in search of a dump site.

Broken water line

In six days, Big Spring city crews have repaired water line breaks in five places throughout the city, including this 12-inch fracture at Goliad and FM-700. The culprit in each case, said Assistant City Manager Tom Decell, was a faulty bell joint, or connecting pipe. Usually, a sudden change of air temperature will precipitate a number of breaks, but Decell said many bell joints appear to be "just giving up."

says the book says the Bush administration was searching for any provocation to oust Panama strongman Manuel Antonio Noriega from power.

After a coup attempt failed to overthrow Noriega in October 1989, Bush is reported to have told his National Security Council that "amateur hour is over" and that Noriega "would overstep some day and he wanted them to be ready."

The account says that while Bush initially suggested that a small U.S. force attempt to capture Noriega to reduce the risk of U.S. casualties, Powell argued for a larger-scale operation that would

Proms

Colors are mainly the traditional Steer black and gold with "undersea" pinks and blues as well. Parents are sponsoring an after-prom party in the high school cafeteria. Students will play parlor games to win prizes at an early-morning auction.

Coahoma High School, Saturday, elementary school cafeteria. The theme of the banquet and dance event is "Carousel," and a large, rotating carousel will be part of the multi-colored decorations. Silver foil streamers and balloons will float and drape under a gossamer "tent," adding to the fantasy. After the prom, parents are sponsoring several private parties, but no formal event is scheduled.

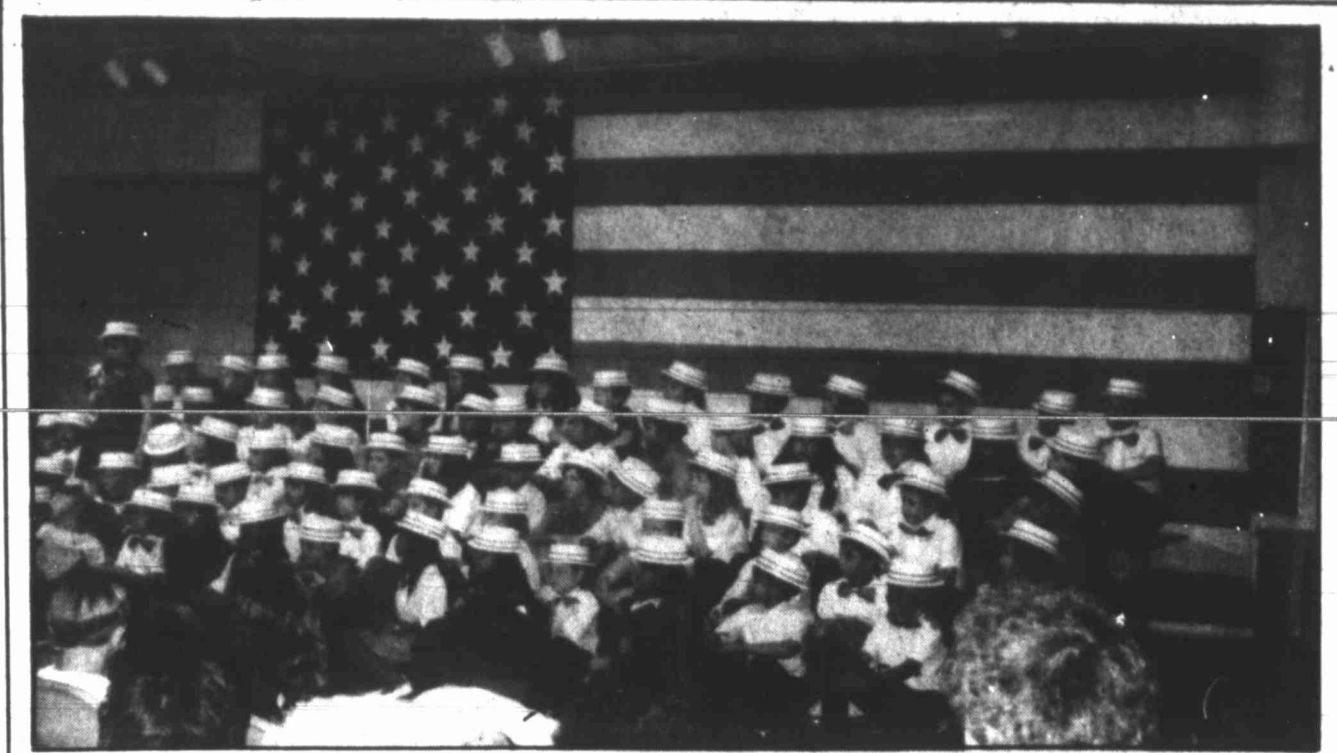

Forsan High School, May 11, high school cafeteria. The decorations for this banquet and prom will follow a "Jewel of the Nile" theme, with palm trees, pyramids and possibly a King Tut or two. After the big dance, parents have organized an all-night "casino" party in the cafeteria. Students participating can win a variety of donated prizes playing parlor games.

Stanton, Saturday, Ranchland Hills Country Club, Midland. The theme is "We've Got Tonight," accompanied by the popular song, "Unchained Melody" for this combination banquet-dance event. Purple and royal blue streamers, as well as pink and red hearts will be part of the decorations. Seniors will announce their "wills" — customs or items they plan to leave behind for juniors, and "prophecies" for the year to come.

Grady High School, May 17, Greentree Country Club in Midland. The theme is "Stairway to Heaven," and a large, painted staircase will be part of the decorations. Hundreds of balloons and glittery stars will complete the "heavenly" effect. Students will feast on hors d'oeuvres between dances.

Sands High School, May 11, East Room, Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The junior class is sponsoring the event, which will include "wills" and "prophecies"

"Salute to America"

Moss Elementary School's "Salute to America" Monday, April 27, included 87 fourth and fifth grade students. Fifth grade teachers Betty Addy and Linda Alexander and fourth grade teachers

Jeanine McKimney and Maxine Miller made the flag and the students sang songs, performed skits and dances and gave speeches as different characters in American history.

Benefit dance slated for Friday evening

HERALD STAFF REPORT

The Big Spring State Hospital volunteer services department plans to sponsor a benefit dance Friday at the Dora Roberts Community Center. All proceeds will go toward improving patient care, an official said.

Evelyn Anderson, volunteer coordinator, said the fifth annual dance is the major fund-raising event to serve patients.

"None of the money is used for administrative (costs)," Anderson said. "All the money we make will help patients at side hospital and our outreach centers."

Local performer Jody Nix will be the event's feature attraction. Anderson said Misty, of Lubbock, will perform her synthesizer melodies during the first half of the evening as well.

The event begins at 6:30 p.m. with an hors d'oeuvres reception. The dance, with Nix performing, will begin at 8 p.m. and end at midnight.

Tickets are $30 per couple, $20 for a single. Dress, Anderson said, is "strictly casual."

Some of the money generated by the benefit will go toward construction of a greenhouse for patient rehabilitation and vocational training, Anderson said. Two nursing student scholarships will also be funded partially by proceeds from the dance, she said.

"We expect between 250 and 350," Anderson said, adding that the popular event and its benefits to patients would not be possible without community support.

Court docket

Filings in Howard County courts indicate the following:

- Gerald Lamont Lewis, 18, Fort Worth, pleaded guilty in 118th Judicial District Court to unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. He was sentenced to six years probation and fined $1,000.

Charges were filed in Howard County Court on the following people:

- Lonnie Ray Clanton, 41, driving while intoxicated.
- George Casarez, 29, Lamesa, DWI.
- Hollis W. Hardy Jr., 40, Motel 6, room 117, theft between $20 and $200.
- Thomas J. Solis, 21, 1603 Bluebird Avenue, for the sale of alcohol to a person under 21 years old.

Officials testing seafood

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal and industry inspectors are testing produce and seafood from South American countries where cholera is killing thousands. But does this mean that U.S. consumers need to worry when they pick up bananas or fish from their local supermarkets?

Officials say no. But they are still concerned enough to be testing samples of all seafood coming into the United States from Peru, where the epidemic started, and have added a cholera test to the random examination of fish from countries where the deadly disease has spread.

The testing of all fruit and vegetables from Peru that had been conducted since January stopped last week after the Food and Drug Administration determined that produce from the country was not carrying the cholera bacteria and would not pose a danger to American consumers.

"We were on top of it very quickly, so we have felt very assured that there are no products entering this country that are contaminated with cholera," said Theresa Hoage, an FDA spokeswoman. She said no shipments have been turned back.

"My real fear is that there would be a paranoia, a hysteria," said Dr. David Sack, associate professor of international health at Johns Hopkins University and director of its international travel clinic.

No, No, No, Nolan!

ARLINGTON (AP) — His head hurt, his back hurt, his heel hurt and his middle finger hurt.

Then sickly 44-year-old Nolan Ryan hurt the Toronto Blue Jays Wednesday night with the most dominating of his seven career no-hitters in a quarter-century big league career.

Ryan's 3-0 victory for the Texas Rangers was accomplished with 96 mph fastballs, 86 mph changeups and 80 mph curves. He struck out 16 and walked only two in cutting down the major league's best-hitting team.

Not bad for an old man in baseball years who told pitching coach Tom House before the game: "My back hurts, my heel hurts and I've been pounding Advil all day. I don't feel good. I feel old today. Watch me."

House watched along with 33,439 fans as Ryan allowed the Blue Jays to hit only eight balls in fair territory.

Ryan said he had never had better stuff during any of his other no-hitters.

"I never had command of all three pitches like I did tonight," Ryan said. "It was my most overpowering no-hitter."

The only danger came in the fifth inning when Manny Lee hit a Texas Leaguer to short center that gold glove Gary Pettis caught off his shoetops.

"I was concerned and the only time I was worried, but I knew Gary had a good chance because he was playing shallow," Ryan said.

"It was good to have a gold glove there on that play."

Catcher Mike Stanley thought the no-hitter was over.

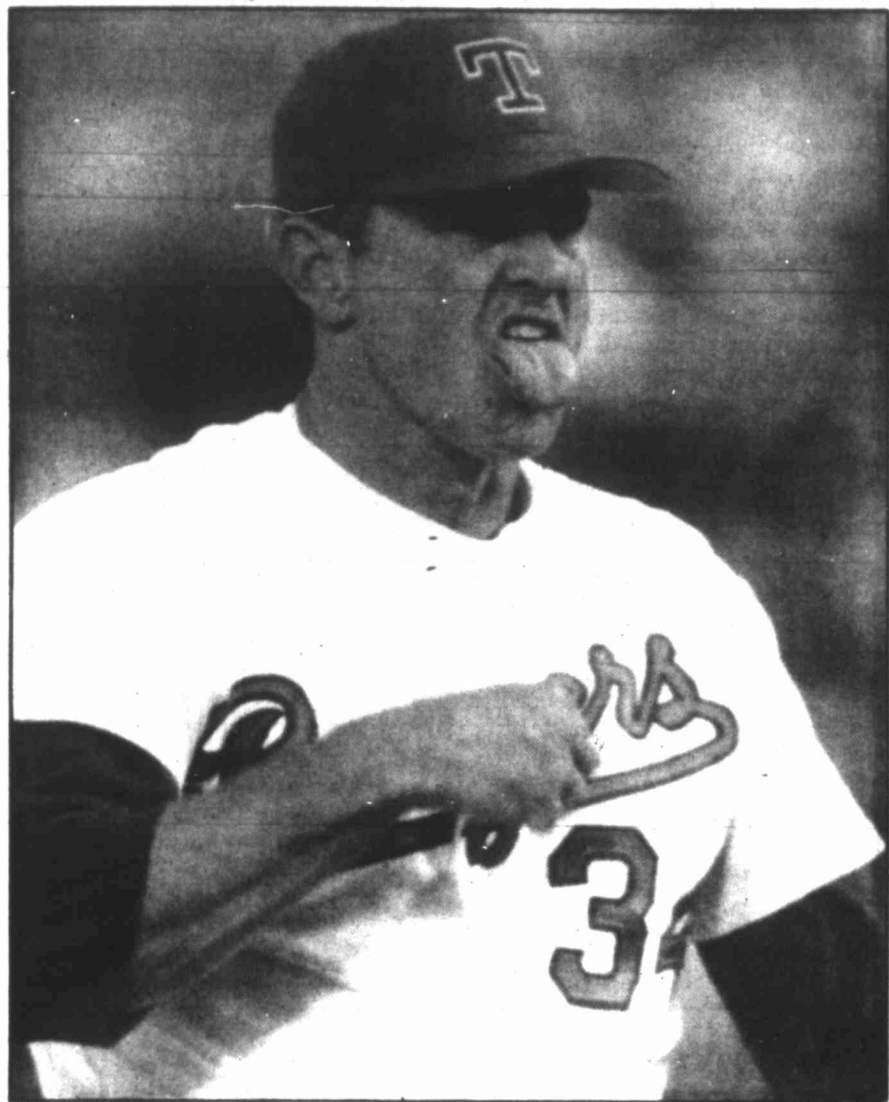

"I just hung my head and had a few choice words," Stanley said. "I definitely thought it was a hit."

Lee said he didn't think his blooper would make it.

"It was off the end of the bat and Pettis got a good jump," he said.

Ryan struck out Roberto Alomar on a 93 mph fastball for the final out.

"I've known that kid since he was a 2-year-old toddler," Ryan said. "I knew him when he wanted to be a pitcher."

Ryan was so caught up in the excitement he actually had a big swig of champagne in the dressing room before he iced his arm and got on his exercise bike.

"This was the most rewarding no-hitter of them all because it came in front of my fans on Arlington (Half-Price) Appreciation Night," Ryan said. "My career is complete now. I got one for the fans in Arlington. You just hope you can get in a position to do something like this, but I would have been real disappointed if it got away."

The non-Arlington citizens who paid full fare didn't mind.

It was the first no-hitter ever pitched in Arlington Stadium by a Rangers pitcher. Ryan threw his sixth no-hitter last year in Oakland with 14 strikeouts when he became the oldest pitcher to ever throw a no-hitter at the age of 43.

Toronto manager Cito Gaston kept shaking his head in the Blue Jays dressing room.

Henderson becomes all-time steal leader

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Lou Brock's record was just a step on Rickey Henderson's run into base-stealing heaven.

Twelve seasons into his career, Henderson broke Brock's all-time record for career stolen bases with his 939th steal in the Oakland Athletics' 7-4 victory over the New York Yankees Wednesday.

"I just want to keep stealing bases," said Henderson, who figures 1,200 is a cinch and 1,500 is possible if he stays healthy. "I want to steal so many that I put (the record) out of sight."

For a man known for his speed, Henderson took a lot of time writing the final two entries into the record book. Coming into the season, he needed three stolen bases for the record, which finally fell in the A's 21st game, more than three weeks after Opening Day.

"I've never had it this tough getting two bases," Henderson said. "They were the toughest of my career. I don't know why. It didn't seem like I would ever get them."

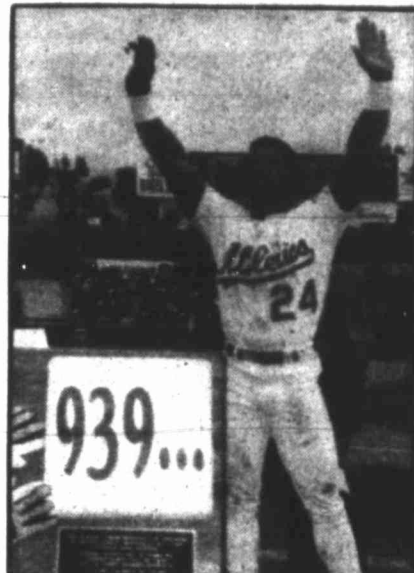

After pulling within one of Brock's record, Henderson was thrown out four times and picked off once before he could wrestle the record away.

Still, Henderson ran into the record books with amazing speed, setting the record in 1,154 attempts in 12 seasons. Brock needed 1,245 attempts over 19 years.

It took Ty Cobb 24 years to set the old American League record of 892 stolen bases that Henderson surpassed last May 29.

"It was a thrill," Henderson said of Wednesday's record-breaking steal. "I've been blessed with the ability and the good fortune to not get a lot of injuries. ... I really wanted to get it over. I was putting too much pressure on myself."

Henderson's record-breaker in the fourth inning came with Tim

OAKLAND — Oakland Athletics' Rickey Henderson waves to the crowd during a ceremony after he set the all-time major league record for stolen bases.

Leary pitching and Matt Nokes catching. Nokes threw Henderson out at second in the first inning, then gunned him down at third in the fifth.

The crowning moment was put off by Henderson's 15-day stint on the disabled list, and his getting thrown out on four of his first five steal attempts. He was also picked off once.

Henderson broke the record after reaching first when his grounder went through shortstop Alvaro Espinoza's legs for an error.

He took second on an infield single by Dave Henderson, remained there for Jose Canseco's flyout and took off for third on a 1-0 pitch with Harold Baines batting.

"When I felt my hand on the base, it was a dream come true," Henderson said. "All that work and dedication paid off."

Steers not out of woods just yet

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

An alarming fact was brought to my attention after the Steers lost to Andrews Tuesday night. Big Spring isn't in the state baseball playoffs yet, although the Steers clinched a tie for the district championship last Friday.

The Steers are currently 8-3 in district play with one game left. Big Spring closes out the season against Sweetwater Tuesday at Steer Field. Tied for second place are Andrews and Pecos with 6-4 records.

Pecos' final two games are at home against Sweetwater Friday and Monahan's Tuesday. Andrews is on the road its last two games; against Fort Stockton Friday and San Angelo Lake View Tuesday.

If both Andrews and Pecos wins their last two games, and Sweetwater beats the Steers, the race would end in a three-way tie for first; all with 8-4 records. The tie-breaking system calls for a coin flip. The odd team in the flip is in the playoffs.

Then the other two teams flip and whoever wins the flip is in the playoffs. Then the two playoff teams would play a game with the winner going into the playoffs as the top seed from the district.

Let's just hope it doesn't come to that, however.

State gymnastics meet at Garrett

The YMCA State Gymnastics meet will be Friday and Saturday at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

The Big Spring Sidewinder girls won the overall title in 1988 and have won the optional championship the past three years. Action gets underway at 7 p.m. Friday. Saturday action gets started at 9:15 a.m. The most advanced gymnasts will compete at 7 p.m.

The award ceremonies are tentatively scheduled for 9:45 p.m. Saturday.

Wards, Sharpnacks win golf play

Now news from the Comanche Trail Ladies Golf Association...

In Thursday night couples scramble play the team of Jim and Annie Ward and Patsy and Joe Sharpnack won with a five under par 31 on the front nine, two strokes ahead of the crowd.

In Monday night ladies scramble play, the team of Mary Ruth Robertson, Ramona Harris, Doris Stevenson, Bobbie Patterson and Laurie Harris won with a two-under-par 34. On stroke back was the team of Patsy Sharpnack, Connie Fowler, Georgia Newsom, Jacky Seitz and Annette Kestermeier.

Softball tourney in Snyder

The Jaramillos Mayfest, a men's slow-pitch softball tournament will be Friday through Sunday at Winston Park in Snyder.

Entry fee is $100 per team. The first four teams will receive team trophies, and the first three teams will also receive individual trophies. There will also be awards for all-tourney, sportsmanship and MVP.

Hawks sign point guard and post player

Howard College Hawks new coach Jeff Kidder signed a point guard and a post player for next year's hoop team.

Corey Pouncy and Reco Burt are the newest Howard signees. The 6-foot Pouncy is from Covington, Kentucky, where he played at Covington Holmes High School. This past season he averaged 15.1 points, six rebounds and made 50.2 percent of his field goals.

McLeod leaves Knicks for Irish

NEW YORK (AP) — John MacLeod resigned as coach of the New York Knicks today to become the coach at Notre Dame.

MacLeod said he hasn't signed a contract with Notre Dame yet but will leave for South Bend, Ind. on Friday to finalize a five-year deal. He replaces Digger Phelps, who resigned on April 15 after 20 seasons with the Fighting Irish.

"As much as I enjoy pro ball, I always felt that if a good college opportunity came along, I would be receptive to it," MacLeod said. "This was a good opportunity and I was receptive."

In 18 seasons as a coach with Phoenix, Dallas and the Knicks, MacLeod was 707-657, the seventh winningest coach in NBA history. He was 32-35 with the Knicks after replacing the fired Stu Jackson on Dec. 3.

The Knicks were eliminated from the NBA playoffs Tuesday night by Chicago and MacLeod told the players on Wednesday he was leaving the Knicks.

The only college coaching experience for the 53-year-old MacLeod was six seasons at Oklahoma almost 20 years ago. He was 80-79 with the Sooners, including a 19-8 record in 1970-71.

Dave Checketts, the new president of the Knicks who replaced the fired Al Bianchi on March 1, said a coaching search would begin immediately, but he named no prospective candidates.

Among those reportedly under consideration are former NBA coaches Pat Riley and Mike Fratello.

The departure of MacLeod means the top basketball jobs in the Knicks' organization have been swept clean in less than five months. In addition to the firing of Bianchi and hiring of Checketts as president, Ernie Grunfeld was promoted last week to player personnel director.

Pouncy was named Team Most Valuable Player, District Most Valuable Player, All-Region and All-State. Coach Mike Flynn of Holmes High School said, "I think Howard College Hawks fans will see a player who is unstoppable when penetrating to the basket. Corey will be one of the strongest point guards in Texas JUCO ball."

Coach Kidder said, "Corey is going to be a tremendous player for Howard College. He has a great deal of knowledge and enthusiasm. He has been an all-stater and I am very pleased to have a player of his stature in our program."

The 6-7 Reco Burt attended Daniels High School in Greenville, S.C. where he averaged 21.9 points, 13.9 rebounds and made 60.1 percent of his field goals this past year. Burt was named to the

All-State squad and played in the high school All-Star Game this year. Besides being named to several newspaper's All-Area squads, Burt earned Player of the Year in the conference and Most Valuable Player on his team.

Coach Dusty Oats of Daniels High School said, "Reco is a hard working individual. He has improved a great deal over his three-year career with us."

During his three years with Daniels High School, the team went 69-15.

Coach Kidder said, "Reco brings a lot of size and experience to Howard College. He comes from a great high school program and being named Player of the Year is an indication of the caliber of ball he plays. He will be a real asset to our program."

Little guys take care of Spurs

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Make it two in a row for the little guys, the outside shooters, the Golden State Warriors.

It was the bigger San Antonio Spurs who were backing away.

The Warriors, employing a lineup using four guards, defeated the Spurs 109-106 Wednesday night to take a 2-1 lead in the first-round playoff series.

"We have a size advantage," said Spurs center David Robinson, who led San Antonio with 27 points. "But it's senseless when you have a size advantage to try and take a fadeaway. We've got to drive and pick up more fouls or something."

The Warriors won their second straight from the Midwest Division champs behind Mitch Richmond, Sarunas Marciulionis and a great shooting touch.

Richmond scored 27 points, including nine in the decisive fourth-quarter surge, and the Warriors' biggest basket down the stretch.

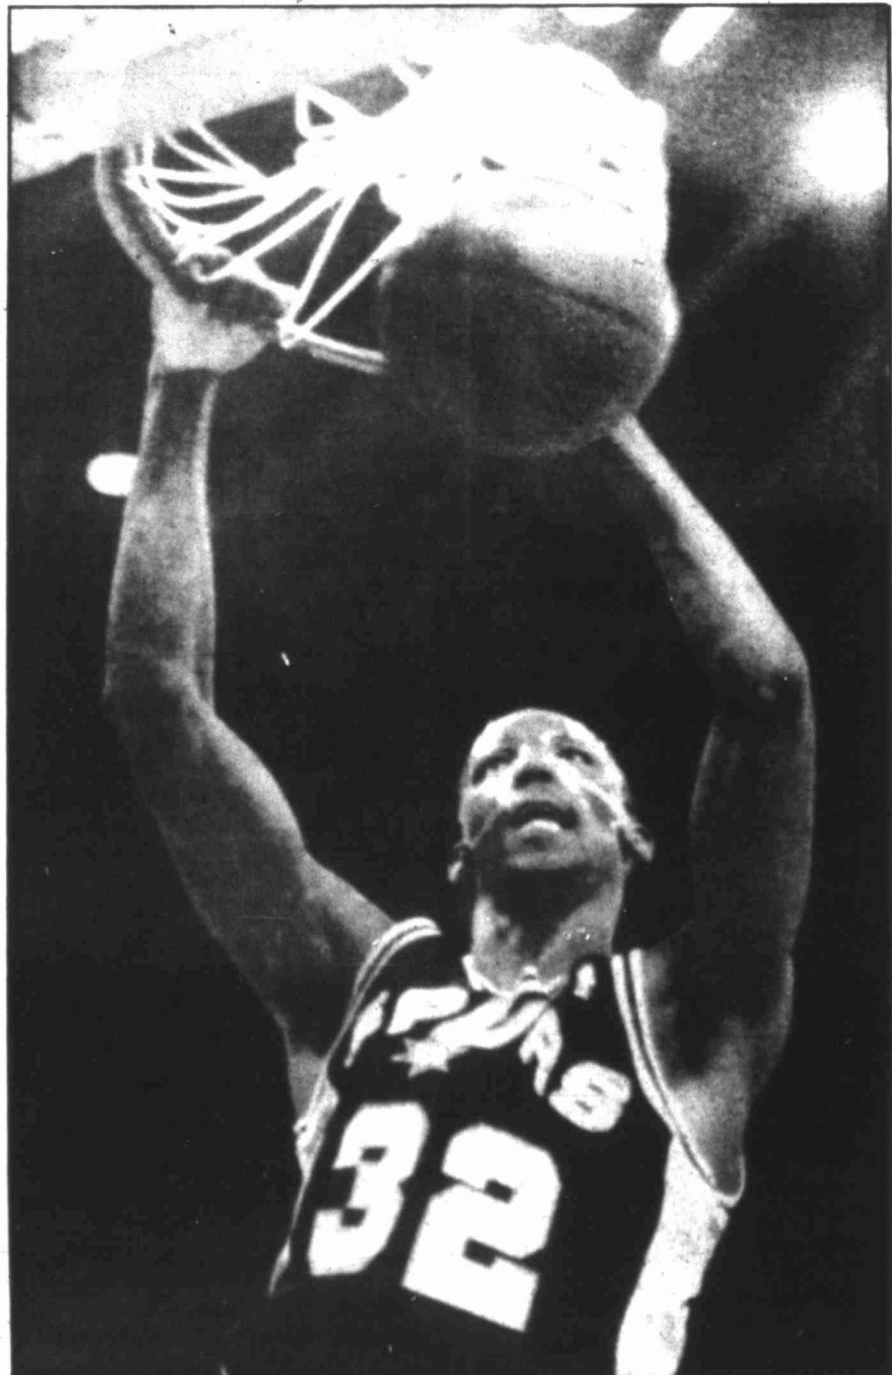

With the score tied 85, the Warriors outscored San Antonio 15-4 over a 4½-minute span, taking a 100-89 lead when Richmond hit a 3-pointer as the 24-second clock expired with 6:37 to play.

After San Antonio fought back to within 106-103, Richmond, freed by a pick, then hit an 18-footer with 1:03 to play for a 108-103 lead.

"I wasn't surprised we called it," Richmond said. "It's a good play. The players thought it up in practice. It gives us good motion. We needed a basket. It's called '36.' Play 36."

Marciulionis scored 21 points off the bench, 12 in the second half, including four during that fourth-quarter run.

"I thought Sarunas played better in the first two games, but he scored a lot more points tonight," Warriors coach Don Nelson said. "He was injured for half the season, and couldn't do the things he is capable of. He's playing at the top of his game right now. He's a world class player."

Chris Mullin and Tim Hardaway added 22 points apiece. Hardaway scored 20 of his points in the first half, and Mullin scored 10 of his in the third quarter.

"We played even better than we did in San Antonio," Nelson said. "We got big rebounds when we had to and we got the big shots."

The Warriors shot 65 percent in the first half, 57 percent for the game, and still had to hang on in the final seconds. Golden State even outrebounded the Spurs 36-35.

"We were staying with them," Robinson said. "We were thinking 'They can't feel good about shooting 60 percent in the first half and only being up by six points.'"

"They just wanted it more. I think they would've beaten a lot of teams tonight."

The loss leaves the Spurs in a position where they have to win Game 4 Friday night at the Oakland Coliseum Arena to stay alive.

"Our backs are against the wall," Spurs forward Terry Cummings said. "I've been there before and I've come out fighting. ... They outplayed us (in Game 3). We allowed them to dictate the flow of each of the last two games. We have to play our game and not get into a run-up-and-

Ryan

"God gave him a great arm, and to see him pitch like that is just amazing," Gaston said. "When Ryan pitches, two things can happen. You can lose. Or you can be no-hit."

The Blue Jays were leading the majors in hitting with a .276 average before the game.

"It was like he was pitching against a Little League team," said Texas general manager Tom Grieve. "They didn't have a chance."

Ryan, baseball's all-time strikeout king, was listless in the bullpen during warmups.

"I didn't think I'd be out there very long," said Ryan, who was pitching on four days rest instead of the normal five days between starts. "But once the game got started, everything fell into place. Suddenly I got strong."

Batterymate Stanley said, "That Nolan's something. He complains all day, then goes out and pitches a no-hitter. All I know is I watched from the bench when he got his 300th victory, his 5,000th strikeout and his sixth no-hitter. Now, I'm part of history."

Ryan threw 122 pitches, 83 for strikes, and never allowed a runner past first base, walking Kelly Gruber and Joe Carter on full-count pitches.

"It was one of those days everything he did was right," Carter said. "He struck out three guys in the second on curves, but didn't throw me one curve for a strike. He threw the changeup. Awesome."

Is West better than East in racing circle?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The West is ready to take up the reins again Saturday in its Kentucky Derby rivalry with the East.

"It makes for good competition," said Ian Jory, who leads the Western contingent as trainer of the highly regarded Santa Anita Derby runnerup Best Pal.

"I still think we have tougher competition out there," Jory said. "The horses are better seasoned. All the best ones out of California have raced against the other best ones. In the East, they can avoid each other."

In the 1989 Derby, Sunday Silence beat Easy Goer by 2 1/2 lengths, giving the West four straight winners. The string started in 1986 with Ferdinand and continued with Alysheba and Winning Colors before Sunday Silence polished off the string. All had used the Santa Anita Derby as their final prep.

Last year's winner, Unbridled, raced primarily in Florida, breaking the string as the big West Coast horse, Santa Anita Derby winner Mister Frisky, was eighth.

This year, most experts believe the Derby winner will come from among four horses. Best Pal is one of the quartet, along with Jim Beam and Lexington-winner Hansel, Blue Grass winner Strike the Gold, and 2-year-old champion Fly So Free. Strike the Gold and Fly So Free lead the Eastern contingent, while Hansel is claimed by the Midwest, despite frequent races in New York and Florida.

"It's a very tough race this year," Jory said. "There are four or five horses to beat, and the rest aren't that far behind. It's hard to pick a standout horse."

Sixteen horses were expected to enter today.

Best Pal raced eight times as a 2-year-old, winning six times but finishing sixth in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile. This year, he's raced just twice, a third in the San Rafael and a half-length second to Dinard in the Santa Anita Derby.

Best Pal would not have found himself so outnumbered by the strong Eastern contenders had Dinard not been taken out of training with a pulled tendon.

"I don't think that'll have much to do with the way the race is run," Jory said. "It's just one less competitor, although it's a shame after he came this far."

Jory says Best Pal "just got beat by a better horse" in the Santa Anita, "but I think we could have turned the tables here. Of course, that's just speculation now."

The Breeders' Cup Juvenile last October at Belmont was the only time Best Pal met Fly So Free, who probably would have been the favorite if he had not been beaten in the Blue Grass by Strike the Gold. Fly So Free clinched the 2-year-old championship by winning the Breeders' Cup Juvenile.

"We thought we had enough horse in the Breeders' Cup, but it might have been one race too many. We were trying to get the championship," Jory said.

Now, he's got the best-rested horses of the Big Four, and many consider him right on target for the Derby.

"He's working better now than he's ever worked," Jory said.

Best Pal is the only gelding in the field and a California-bred, which may put the law of averages on his side. A gelding has not won the Derby since Clyde Van Dusen in 1929, and Decidedly in 1962 was the last California-bred to win. The London-born Jory also would be the first English trainer to win a Derby.

down game they like."

The Spurs put themselves in position to win with a strong third quarter.

Down 58-44 in the second quarter, the Spurs finished off their comeback with a 12-2 spurt in the third quarter capped by Sean Elliott's two free throws tying the score at 75 with 4:59 left.

Elliott finished with 24 points.

The Spurs took a 84-83 lead on a layin by Terry Cummings with 29 seconds left, but Marciulionis hit a jumper off a rebound with 2.7

seconds left to send the Warriors into the fourth quarter leading 85-84.

Celtics 112, Pacers 105

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indiana Pacers had the momentum and their first sellout for an NBA playoff game. But the Boston Celtics had the tradition of 16 NBA titles and determination.

"We thought we played well in the two games in Boston, but they played a little better," said Boston's Larry Bird, who had 15 points, 9 rebounds and 6 assists while playing 37 minutes despite a painful back that has kept him from practicing since the regular season ended April 21.

"We were trying to shut down Reggie Miller and Chuck Person and play everyone else straight up. I thought we did a good job all the way around," Bird said.

The 112-105 victory gave the Celtics a 2-1 lead in their opening-round playoff series and a chance to wrap it up here Friday night. Game 5, if necessary, is set for Sunday in Boston.

Tonight, Detroit, Portland and Utah — holding 2-1 leads — attempt to close out their series. Detroit visits Atlanta, Portland is at Seattle and Utah plays host to Phoenix.

The Celtics, who lost 130-118 Sunday in Boston as Person scored 39 points, never trailed as they ended a five-game losing streak at Market Square Arena, where they hadn't won since March 16, 1989.

Kevin McHale, who played 36 minutes with Robert Parish limited to 16 due to foul trouble, scored 16 of his 22 points in the second quarter.

Henderson

with a hug by third base coach Rene Lachemann, then received embraces from his mother Bobbie, Brock, Lou Brock Jr. and Oakland manager Tony La Russa. Dave Stewart, Henderson's friend since childhood, then gave him a bear hug.

"I thought it would just be another stolen base, but it wasn't," Stewart said. "I've known Rickey for a long time, and I know the pressure was getting to him. You could see it."

Immediately after the record-breaking steal, Henderson pulled up the base, held it above the head in his right hand and pumped his left fist in celebration.

Brock then came on the field as fans gave Henderson a standing ovation. Henderson's Oakland teammates stood and applauded on the top step of the dugout. The Yankees, the team that traded Henderson back to the Athletics in 1989, just stood around.

"It's always been said that competition among men is one of the oldest practices known to man," Brock said. "Today, you might be the greatest competitor that ever ran the bases, and I congratulate you. You are a legend in your own time. Congratulations."

Henderson, with a big grin on his face, then addressed the fans.

"Took a long time, huh?" said Henderson, who went on to thank everyone, from the fans to his mother, family and loved ones to former managers, including Tom Trebelhorn and the late Billy Martin.

All-State hoopster charged with rape

PALMETTO, Fla. (AP) — An all-state high school basketball player was arrested Wednesday and charged with kidnapping and raping a 31-year-old woman at gunpoint. Bill Teal, a point guard who led St. Petersburg Gibbs to the Class 3A state semifinals in two of the past three years, and another 18-year-old were ordered held in the Manatee County jail on $30,015 bond.

A police report said two men raped a Palmetto woman at gunpoint at about 4:30 a.m. Wednesday. The woman later fled and called police.

An officer investigating a disabled vehicle heard a radio description of the suspects and asked Teal and Robert Bryant, Jr. to stop when he saw them riding past. The men stopped, then agreed to accompany the officer to the police station.

Police said a weapon was recovered later and the woman identified Teal and Bryant as her attackers.

Teal was the star on a team that posted a 31-3 record and was ranked No. 1 in the state for most of last season.

The 6-foot-5 guard verbally committed to accept a scholarship from the University of Arkansas. However, he was having trouble meeting academic requirements and planned to enroll next fall at San Jacinto Junior College in Texas.

Magic guard receives honor

NEW YORK (AP) — Scott Skiles of the Orlando Magic today was named the NBA's most improved player, beating out Boston's Kevin Gamble and Houston's Kenny Smith in the closest voting in the award's six-year history.

Skiles, who averaged 7.7 points and 4.8 assists the previous season as the expansion Magic started 18-64, improved to 17.2 points and 8.4 assists in the recently completed season. The Magic finished 31-51, a 13-game improvement that was the best in the NBA.

He had 10 or more assists in 25 games and was sixth in the NBA in free-throw shooting with a percentage of .902.

"Scott deserves a lot of credit for the way he spreads the floor and creates opportunities for his teammates," coach Matt Guokas said of the 6-foot-1 guard.

Skiles received 25 votes of the 96 cast by a nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters, three from each league city and 15 representing the national media. Gamble had 21 votes and Smith had 20.

They were followed by Washington's Harvey Grant, Golden State's Tim Hardaway, San Antonio's Sean Elliott and Seattle's Shawn Kemp. Seven other players received one vote each.

Phillies win fifth straight game

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS

On the same night Nolan Ryan pitched his seventh career no-hitter, Jim Fregosi's Philadelphia Phillies won their fifth straight game. There is a connection.

On Dec. 10, 1971, the New York Mets traded Ryan and three minor leaguers to the California Angels for Fregosi. It wasn't one of those deals that helped both teams.

While Fregosi was over the hill, Ryan became king of it.

Fregosi retired as a player in 1978 and went on to manage the Angels and Chicago White Sox before taking over the Phillies after Nick Leyva was fired last week.

So far, Fregosi's decisions are looking pretty good as the Phillies have improved to 10-12.

Tommy Greene, an emergency starter when Jose DeJesus showed up with a sore back, pitched six shutout innings and drove in a run as the Phillies beat the San Francisco Giants 4-1 Wednesday night.

Greene (1-0) gave up two hits, struck out five and walked two as the Phillies won five in a row for the first time since Aug. 19-22, 1987. It was the first start of the season for Greene, who had pitched 20 2-3 innings in relief.

Joe Boever took over for Greene in the seventh after the Phillies went to a pinch-hitter. The Giants scored a run in the eighth off Boever on Will Clark's RBI single and Roger McDowell got the last three outs for his first save.

The Phillies took a 2-0 lead in the second off Mike LaCoss (1-2) as Dickie Thon and Greene had RBI singles. The Giants have lost three straight games and seven of nine.

Braves 5, Cardinals 4
David Justice broke 10th-inning tie with a run-scoring groundout as visiting Atlanta beat St. Louis, ending a three-game losing streak.

Mike Perez (0-2) walked Otis Nixon with one out in the 10th and Jeff Treadway's single sent Perez to third. Scott Terry relieved with a 2-0 count on Ron Gant and completed the walk.

Cubs 11, Astros 8

Hector Villanueva hit two home runs and Andre Dawson added a three-run homer, powering Chicago past Houston at Wrigley Field.

Dawson and Villanueva hit consecutive homers in a five-run first inning for the Cubs, who won their seventh straight home game. Villanueva homered again in the third after Dawson doubled off Jim Deshaies (0-3).

Greg Maddux (3-1) went eight innings, giving up nine hits and seven runs, four of them earned.

Brewers outlast White Sox in 19 innings

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS

Willie Randolph, whose RBI single capped a three-run rally in the bottom of the 15th inning, singled home the winning run with two outs in the 19th as the Milwaukee Brewers beat the Chicago White Sox 10-9.

The game took 6 hours, 5 minutes and was the longest ever involving the Brewers at County Stadium. It was the longest game in the majors since Los Angeles edged Montreal 1-0 in 22 innings on Aug. 23, 1989.

On May 8, 1984, at Comiskey Park, the Brewers and White Sox began a game that Chicago eventually won 7-6 in 25 innings. That game was stopped after the 17th with the score tied and completed the next day.

Randolph, whose two-out, RBI single capped a three-run rally in the 15th that prolonged the day, won it against Wayne Edwards (0-1), the seventh Chicago pitcher. Dan August (2-2), won despite allowing three runs in the 15th.

Tigers 6, Royals 4
Lou Whitaker had two RBIs and Mickey Tettleton a two-run homer as Detroit swept its first three-game series at Kansas City in seven years.

Bill Gullickson (3-0) handed the Royals their fifth loss in a row.

Mike Boddicker (2-3) allowed six runs on eight hits in 7 1-3 innings. Boddicker is 6-13 lifetime against the Tigers, his worst record against any American League team.

Gullickson went 5 2-3 innings, giving up seven hits. Mike Hennehan, the third Detroit pitcher, worked the final 1 1-3 innings for his fifth save.

Orioles 2, Mariners 1
Bob Melvin's infield single in the sixth inning broke up Randy Johnson's no-hit bid and drove in the go-ahead run for Baltimore.

Johnson (2-3), bidding for his second career no-hitter, walked seven, including four in the sixth.

Jose Mesa (2-3) gave up seven hits and walked six in seven innings, but was aided by three double plays. Gregg Olson, the fourth Baltimore pitcher, worked the ninth for his third save.

Twins 1, Red Sox 0
Scott Erickson pitched a two-hitter and struck out a career-high seven in his second consecutive shutout, and Dan Gladden hit a solo homer at the Metrodome.

Jeff Gray (1-2) came on in the eighth and gave up Gladden's second homer to lead off the inning.

Indians 5, Angels 1
Albert Belle homered for the second straight game and Tom Candiotti pitched a five-hitter as Cleveland won at California.

GOVERNMENT IN THE SUNSHINE

"What does a free press mean to America? Everything."
Abigail Van Buren

Do you understand what information you are entitled to from public officials?

Are you curious as to why some information gets in the paper and other information doesn't?

Do you know where to go if you can't get records you think you should be allowed to have?

The Big Spring Herald and the Department of Continuing Education, Howard College are sponsoring a symposium on the Texas Open Records Act and the Texas Open Meetings Law.

Saturday, 8 a.m. to noon

HOW IT WORKS!

- The Big Spring and Stanton Herald Telephone Number Sweepstakes Contest will commence on Monday, March 4, 1991 and will terminate Sunday, May 12, 1991.
- Entry coupons for the Telephone Number Sweepstakes Contest will appear in the Herald and Crossroads Country Advertiser, as published by the Big Spring Herald, beginning February 24, 1991. Additional entry coupons will appear in the Herald and C.C.A. during the contest. Additional entry forms will be available at the participating contest merchants, beginning March 4, while the supply lasts. No purchase is necessary. A person may become a contestant by depositing or mailing their coupon to the Big Spring Herald, 710 Scurry St., P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720. All entries being forwarded by mail must bear sufficient postage. The Herald takes no responsibility for any lost or misdirected entries.
- During the first 9 weeks of the Herald's 10 week contest, the Herald will publish at least 2 telephone numbers as chosen by random draw from all entries received, in the advertisements of at least 2 participating merchants on the Telephone Numbers Sweepstakes page each day from Tuesday to Sunday. The value of each of the numbers published from Tuesday thru Sunday, will be $10. Each Monday of the first 9 weeks of the contest, the Herald will also publish at least 2 telephone numbers also chosen by draw from all entries received. These numbers will appear in at least 2 of the merchant's ads on the contest page. The value of the numbers published each Monday during the first 9 weeks of the contest, will be $25.
- The 10th and final week of the contest, will be known as Grand Prize Week. From Monday to Thursday of this week (May 6-9) 2 telephone numbers, as drawn from all entries, will be published in the advertisements of 2 participating merchants. The value of each of these numbers will be $50. On Friday, May 10, one number, as drawn from all entries received, will be published in the ad of one of the participating merchants. The value of this number will be $250. On Sunday, May 12, the final day of the contest, one telephone number drawn from all entries received will be published in the advertisement of one of the participating merchants chosen by drawing. The value of this number, known as the Grand Prize Number will be $500.
- All entries drawn during the contest, up to and including May 10, will be returned to the draw drum the day following the publication of the telephone number.
- The holder of a telephone number published in the Herald's Telephone Number Sweepstakes Contest from March 4 to May 12, must call the Big Spring Herald at 263-7331, by no later than 5:30 p.m. on the 7th business day following the publishing of the winning number. Contest Department hours are from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday to Friday. The contest office is not open on Saturdays, Sundays or Statutory holidays. Upon reporting a winning telephone number, the holder of the number will be advised of the steps to follow to claim the prize. Published telephone numbers reported to the Herald following the close of the contest department on the 7th business day following publication of the number, will not be accepted and will not be eligible to claim a prize.
- The holder of the Grand Prize telephone number as published on May 12, the final day of the contest, must call the contest department of the Herald at 263-7331 no later than 5:30 p.m. on May 23, 9th business day, following publication of the winning number. Business hours are shown in rule number 5. If the Grand Prize, relating to the telephone number published in the Herald on May 12, has not been claimed by the close of the contest department office on the 9th business day following publication, a 2nd Grand Prize number will be published on the 10th business day following the publication of the initial Grand Prize number. This process will be repeated, until the Grand Prize has been claimed.
- If a successful winner receives 6-day home delivery of the Big Spring Herald, by carrier, motor route delivery, or mail, this person will receive an additional cash amount, equivalent to their prize. The winner must be receiving home delivery the day the winning number appears in the Herald.
- It is not necessary to purchase the Herald to participate in the contest. Live telephone numbers will be posted in the main business office of the Herald, 710 Scurry St., and copies of the Herald are available for inspection during regular business hours.
- Published telephone numbers will not be given out over the telephone.
- By playing Herald Telephone Number Sweepstakes contest, contestants agree to accept these rules and to allow publication of their name and address and/or picture within the Herald. The decision of the judges appointed by the Herald will be final and binding.
- Anyone 18 years or older can play the Herald Telephone Number Sweepstakes contest, except employees and their immediate families of the Big Spring Herald and Thomson Newspapers Corporation.
- Any person without a telephone number can submit their address for contest participation.
- Photo identification is required to collect your prize.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Members of an accreditation team from the Texas Education Agency will be available Monday, May 6, 1991, to meet with parents and patrons who have an interest in expressing their views and opinions about the Big Spring Independent School District.

Interviews will be conducted by team members beginning at 5:15 P.M. in the board room located at Big Spring High School, 708 11th Place. Every school district in the state is required by law to be visited by an accreditation team from the Agency to evaluate the quality of its educational programs and to determine what progress the school district has made since the last visit. During the interviews, emphasis will be given to the quality of instruction and community support present on each campus in the district. Areas to be evaluated by the team include planning, curriculum, instruction, services to students, instructional resources, personnel, governance, community conditions, and physical facilities.

NCAA rules air balls will cost

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The 3-point line is staying the same in NCAA basketball, but throwing up an "air ball" that misses everything will cost more than simple embarrassment.

The men's and women's rules committees announced jointly Wednesday they are, for the most part, leaving the game alone. Moving the 3-point arc nine inches to conform with international rules and widening the lane were both debated and rejected.

But in a move that defensive-minded fans and coaches are sure to love, the committees decreed the shot clock — 45 seconds for men, 30 for women — no longer will be reset when an attempted shot leaves a player's hand. Instead, it will be reset only when the ball touches the rim. This is certain to place greater value on defense and shot-blocking.

But the significant changes some observers expected to come out of the two-day meetings did not materialize. The men's committee also decided to continue with the 10th-foul, two-shot rule.

"To sum it up, the committee felt the game is in pretty good shape right now," said Hank Nichols, secretary-rules editor for the men's committee. "Some fine-tuning is needed, as it is always. But a major change at this time wasn't in the best interests of the game."

Nichols said there was "some aggressive debate" about moving the 3-point arc from 19 feet, 9 inches, to 20 feet, 6 inches, but declined to reveal the vote of the 12-man committee.

"There was a lot of aggressive debate," Nichols said. "The men's committee felt that there were a couple of factors underlying the decision to stay with the current distance."

The 3-point shot was put in for the 1986-87 season. According to NCAA statistics, 3-point accuracy has declined each season as defenses devote more attention to it.

"One factor was that the shooting percentage for 3-point shots has continued to decrease every year that the line has been in place," he said. "Also, while there are more 3-point attempts, the balance between those and 2-point attempts is reasonable."

Nichols said the NCAA will "aggressively seek" to get non-Division I programs to experiment with the longer 3-point arc and a wider free-throw lane.

"We have people in the junior colleges and some of the Division II and III conferences that don't have championships, and some of the summer leagues," Nichols said. "And the subcommittee is going to talk to these people and say, 'Listen, here is what we have on an experimental basis. We'd like your league to do it. It would help the game and give us some data.'"

"Basically, we feel the game is in good shape, and if it's not broken, why fix it?" said Marcy Weston, secretary-rules editor of the Women's Rules Committee.

Nichols said there was less debate about keeping the rule awarding two shots after a team gets 10 personal fouls in each half.

"The idea is to reduce the 'profit' gained by the defensive team by violating the rules and fouling," Nichols said.

Nichols said both committees, meeting jointly for the first time, discussed the problem of rough play in the low post position.

"We are going to provide officials with more specific guidelines in calling fouls for rough play," Nichols said.

The women's committee voted to bring its fight rule in line with a change the men made last year and will eject anyone who fights during a game and suspend them for the next game as well.

Both committees also decided that dead-ball technical fouls will count toward both the five-foul disqualification for players and the seven-foul number for bonus free-throw attempts.

Weston said the women decided against serious consideration of lowering the hoop because of the financial burden that would be incurred.

"The women's committee spent considerable time discussing rough post play," Weston said. "We saw the women's game getting much more physical inside than it has in the past. We've decided to give increased attention at our training in the fall to some concrete guidelines to help enforce a reduction of rough play."

"ADVERTISING THROUGH THE HERALD HAS HELPED KEEP OUR APARTMENTS RENTED."

Balcor Property Management, Inc.

When our occupancy was down our options were few, so we decided to call on the staff of the Big Spring Herald. They came to our office and we put together an advertising package. The most unique thing was that they could meet our budget and create results as well.

Since these ads began our traffic has improved tremendously and the phone calls are overwhelming.

I did not know that a small ad at a small cost could do so much, but the staff of the Big Spring Herald made it all possible.

Sincerely,

Estefan sings for Gulf troops

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — About 200 American soldiers recuperating from wounds suffered in the Persian Gulf War got to leave behind a hospital for a concert hall to see singer Gloria Estefan. Miss Estefan gave the soldiers free tickets to her show Wednesday at Frankfurt's Festhalle, then met with them backstage afterward. The singer had originally planned to visit the soldiers in the hospital but ran out of time and decided to invite all those who could travel to the show, said her spokeswoman, Cindy Valk.

GLORIA ESTEFAN BROOKS

Miss Estefan is on a concert tour of Europe and the United States after nearly a year recuperating from injuries suffered in a crash of her tour bus.

Brooks banned on cable

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A music video by country star Garth Brooks has been banned by two cable channels because of graphic scenes of domestic violence.

The Nashville Network banned "The Thunder Rolls" on Tuesday. Country Music Television, which had been broadcasting the video six times a day as its pick of the week, followed suit on Wednesday.

"TNN has standards," said Brooks, who won six awards last week from the Academy of Country Music. "For some crazy reason, on this occasion the two did not cross."

The video depicts a cheating husband, a battered wife and a family fight that ends with the wife shooting her husband.

TNN officials said they decided not to broadcast the video after Brooks refused to add a spoken message explaining the violent subject matter.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY! IN THE NEXT YEAR OF YOUR LIFE:

A new emotional maturity will aid you in achieving a more balanced life-style in September. Stuck to your goals, even if others make discouraging remarks. Loved ones could lack your vision or fail to see where you are headed. Although romance may be clouded at times, you can look forward to clear skies by the winter holidays. Mate will be proud to be at your side in January 1992. A financial windfall is possible early next spring.

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DATE:

ARIES (March 21-April 19): A creative approach will greatly improve your chance of career advancement. Be careful when it comes to making new investments. Deal only with those who have a reputation for reliability.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Business and financial endeavors will benefit from a more enthusiastic approach. Tend to paperwork related to budget matters. A new division of domestic chores may be in order.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Double-check all details relating to financial matters. Speculative ventures are too risky now. An influential person could be hard to contact. Relax this evening with close relatives.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Let the experts handle any financial negotiations. A stubborn person can be a valuable ally. Your sense of humor makes you a welcome addition to any group. Enjoy a young person's company tonight.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Refuse to let minor interruptions keep you from achieving your main objective. An older relative can be very demanding. Give this person more attention, but not during business hours.

VRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Allow an associate's project to develop further before offering any suggestions. You can glean useful information from watching how other people operate. Give romance a second chance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Do not allow your personal feelings to interfere with your ability to make a wise career or business decision. Choose the best person for the job. Stock tips help you turn a quick profit.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A positive attitude and good manners are the keys to success today. Have the courage to tell your loved ones how you really feel about a controversial subject.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Be careful not to leave your valuables where they might tempt someone. A good friend offers helpful advice. Take it! Keep in touch with loved ones at a distance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A promotion or raise could make this a red-letter day. Keep abreast of world affairs. The most interesting people to know are those who can talk about something other than themselves.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): A conflict at work could reveal a great deal about an associate's true goals. Moderation is the key to good health. Look to the future with confidence.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Family members could be touchy today. Be careful how you phrase any suggestions you make. Get better organized both at work and at home. Your spirits will rise along with your productivity.

The Stanton Noon Lions will conduct their annual broom sale today across the street from the Post Office on St. Mary Street until the crowd leaves, according to club treasurer George Costlow. "We will have regular house brooms, doormats and kitchen scrubbers," Costlow said. He also the Lions will hold a hamburger supper from 5:30-7 p.m. Monday at the community center, as well as a carnival.

Texas physician to help Kurds
SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A Texas doctor is traveling half a world away to help treat Kurdish refugees who are trying to survive in squalid mountain camps in Iraq and Turkey. Dr. J. Paul Seale, a physician at the Brady-Green Community Health Center in San Antonio, plans to be in Turkey May 11-18. He is traveling with a worker from the Charlottesville, Va.-based group Christian Aid and two members of his church, Alamo City Baptist Church. The idea arose two weeks ago, Seale said, "the week that the pictures of the Kurdish refugees started showing up on television. The pastor asked us to think of ways to help." More than a million Kurds fled their homes in northern Iraq after Iraqi President Saddam Hussein's army crushed a postwar Kurdish revolt.

Three vie for Grady school board

By MARCELLINO CHAVEZ
Staff Writer
LENORAH — Two incumbents and a former Grady school board member have announced their intentions to run for two at-large seats on the GISD school board.

The election is this Saturday. The three candidates met earlier in April to draw for a spot on the ballot. They will be listed in the following order: Joel Morales, Mark Greenhaw and Eddie Odom. The top two vote-getters will win the election, GISD Superintendent Gerald Singleton said. Any registered voter in the

JOEL MORALES MARK GREENHAW EDDIE ODOM
Grady school district may vote Saturday. Joel Morales is not a stranger to the political arena. He served on the board from 1987-1990 and decided not to run after completing his term. Morales and his wife have two kids in Grady schools and a sophomore at Texas Tech University. "I decided not to run after my term was up because I wanted to give someone else their turn. Nobody wanted to run, so I've decided to run again," Morales said. A Martin County farmer, Morales has completed 15.75 school board training hours while being on the board. "I wanted to run again on the basis of trying to solve the school budget problems which Grady will be faced with following the new school finance legislation passed recently. Mr. Singleton has done a tremendous job of watching our spending and using our money to the fullest," he said. "Another problem has been the hiring of unqualified faculty. The saying goes, 'Anybody can teach a smart kid,' but what about the kid that needs more help? I feel that we have that situation in Grady right now. We need to screen teachers closely," Morales said. "With a school like Grady, we have to concentrate on getting kids out of Resource class and place

UN chief preparing reparations report

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The U.N. Secretary-General and his staff have begun calculating the immense sum Iraq must pay in war reparations from its oil revenues, U.N. officials said. Javier Perez de Cuellar has until Friday to recommend what percentage of Iraq's oil revenues be channeled into the fund to compensate governments, corporations and individual victims of Iraq's invasion of Kuwait. Thirty-eight governments have already said they will seek reparations ordered under the April 3 U.N. cease-fire resolution in the Persian Gulf War. The total number of claimants could be staggering. In the United States alone, about 1,000 individuals or companies have registered claims with the U.S. Treasury Department totaling $3 billion to $5 billion. Western diplomats said Wednesday that they have sought up to 25 percent — about $8 billion each year — of Iraqi oil money for the U.N. reparations account. That range of percentages, they said, is about equivalent to what Iraq spent to build up its war machine. But it does not include the $80 billion in foreign debt Iraq owed before the war and is bound by the truce to pay off. The truce that formally ended the Persian Gulf War has left it up to Perez de Cuellar to decide what percentage of Iraq's oil revenue must be paid for reparations. The Security Council cannot exceed his recommendation. Kuwait, which suffered the brunt of the damage following its Aug. 2 invasion, occupation and looting by Iraqi forces, leads the pack. Not only were the emirate's buildings destroyed, its oil fields torched and waters fouled, but residents who were tortured or

Cyclone death toll at 37,00 and rising

DHAKA, Bangladesh (AP) — More than 37,000 people were killed when a cyclone savaged the southeastern Bangladesh coast, a relief organization reported today. Unofficial estimates said the death toll could surpass 100,000. In any case, the death toll from Tuesday's storm was the highest since 1970, when 500,000 people were killed by a cyclone that hit the same area. Record 145 mph winds battered coastal areas in the latest storm, and survivors told of children being swept off islands by swirling sea water. "I have lost everything. I have lost everything. God, why has it happened to me?" sobbed Mufizur Rahman, who lost his wife, son and three daughters when the storm hit his eastern island of Kutubdia. Another villager, Rabeya Begum, said her husband was bitten by a snake when he tried to grab a floating banana tree on which to perch his infant son. He died on the spot, and the son drowned, she said. Associated Press reporter Osman Gani Mansur said he saw bloated corpses floating alongside dead cattle near Kutubdia. Thousands of people remained missing today, and government and relief officials said they had reached only half of the 65 islands that were pounded by the cyclone. The Red Crescent Society, the Muslim equivalent of the Red Cross, said its death toll of 37,524 was gathered from witness accounts reported to its field agents. "The casualty figure will cross beyond 50,000 by the time we have a fuller picture available," said Imdad Hossain, the Red Crescent's national director. The government gave a rough estimate of 35,000, but an unofficial tally from politicians and officials in three east coast districts indicated 100,000 people had died, and they said tens of thousands more were unaccounted for. Bangladesh, a densely populated low-lying country, repeatedly has been brought to near ruin by storms spawned in the unpredictable Bay of Bengal in the Indian Ocean.

Mock jury acquits Oswald

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Lee Harvey Oswald was cleared of charges that he assassinated President John F. Kennedy by a mock trial jury of college students in this town known for its typically American views. The trial, condensed to 3½ hours, also resulted in an overwhelming vote of innocence for Oswald by about 100 spectators at the U.S. District Courthouse on Wednesday night. "It was unanimous on the first vote," said jury foreman David Oliver, a business management major at Bradley University. "A majority of the jury believed Oswald was involved, but they didn't know to what extent." The abbreviated trial had its tense moments. The courtroom fell silent, except for a few gasps of horror, as the defense team played a tape of the Nov. 22, 1963, assassination.

Ex wife challenges incumbent mayor

VICTORIA (AP) — A record 70 absentee ballots were cast in the Moulton mayor's race, which pits incumbent Harry Meyer against three challengers including his ex-wife, Georgia. Saturday's election is being called the strangest in years in Moulton, a town of 1,009 in Lavaca County. Residents can't remember a race for mayor that featured four candidates, much less one with such family ties. Meyer has been mayor of Moulton for the past 14 years, and served two years on the City Council before that.

Agents broaden workers probe

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Immigration agents say more arrests could result from the discovery of three undocumented Mexican workers found padlocked inside an aluminum storage shed. Jose Mario Hernandez, 52, was charged Wednesday with three counts of harboring illegal aliens after the workers were found locked in a shed on his property during a federal raid Tuesday.

Discovery performs space acrobatics

SPACE CENTER (AP) — Space shuttle Discovery executed a couple of flip-flops today in a Star Wars experiment designed to help scientists develop a system for detecting and destroying enemy missiles.

After steering the spaceship to within 1½ miles of a $94-million satellite that's gathering data on the shuttle's exhaust plumes, the crew guided Discovery through two fancy flips 161 miles above Earth.

Mission Control reported that the project's manager was "ecstatic at the data received."

The high-flying acrobatics were a repeat of a Wednesday performance conducted with the two craft 6.2 miles apart.

Later today, the satellite was to study chemical and gas clouds sprayed from the shuttle and a canister released into orbit by the astronauts Wednesday.

Pentagon scientists want to use the data to develop sensors that can "read" a rocket's exhaust and identify an enemy missile without getting fooled by camouflage gases or confusing the missile with natural phenomena, such as atmospheric light.

After today's tests, Discovery astronauts planned to snatch the satellite from space with the shuttle's robot arm and tuck it back into the cargo bay.

The first plume test was delayed for nine hours Wednesday when the astronauts encountered trouble aiming the satellite, which had been released from the shuttle earlier in the day. The problem was solved and four tests were completed.

All seven crew members, who generally had been working in 12-hour shifts, had a hand in the technical turns.

Commander Michael Coats fired Discovery's right maneuvering engine, shaking the ship with a roar and sending out a long exhaust plume. The crew captured the display with the satellite's infrared sensors and TV cameras.

The firing pushed Discovery almost a mile out of its orbital plane. Coats then fired the steering jets, causing the shuttle's nose to flip 180 degrees from north to south. Another engine firing served as a brake.

After another cartwheel, Discovery was back behind the satellite, whizzing around the world once again at 17,500 mph. The entire sequence took 27 minutes.

In a broadcast aired later on NASA television, the shuttle appeared as a small glowing spot in the dark sky. Brilliant bursts of light could be seen when the engines were fired.

"It is wonderful to see it come together, and it came together today," said Michael Harrison, program director for the Strategic Defense Initiative, or Star Wars.

Earlier in the day, the 4,200-pound satellite had moved into the wrong position.

Handgun bill shot down in Senate

AUSTIN (AP) — The sponsor of a bill to allow Texans to carry handguns said he might reload after firing blanks in his first attempt at Senate passage.

Sen. Gene Green said 47 of the 50 states have handgun permit laws. "Even in the strongest gun control jurisdictions in the country, they have a permitting system. And yet in Texas, which is known for cowboy boots and six-shooters, we don't allow even a strict permitting system," Green said.

But Sen. Ted Lyon said, "We just can't go back to the Old West days, which is what they want to do. "Can you imagine the number of people that would be killed on the freeways of Houston if we had most of the people carrying pistols on a July afternoon? We're talking about major carnage."

The vote Wednesday was 17-13, which was three votes shy of the two-thirds required for consideration.

FOR CITY COUNCIL

• In two years as County Judge, I was able (with a lot of help) to increase the year ending reserves from about $700,000 to over $2,000,000. For the first time in nine years the county spent less than it took in. This can be done with city government, too. It will take hard work and lots of help as it did with county government.

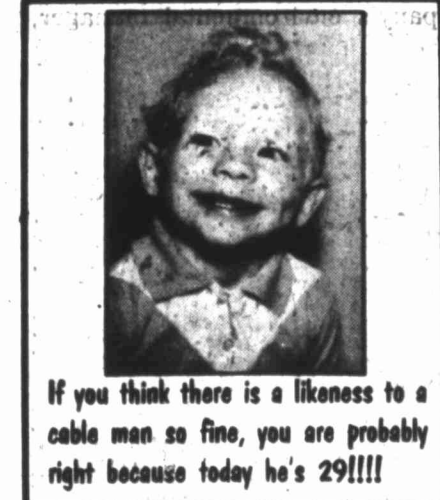

• I believe a City Councilman should represent those who elect him. It is a Councilman's responsibility to set city government policy and require the city staff to carry out that policy and not to be a rubber stamp for the city manager and staff.

• It is my stated purpose if elected to stop the continued growth of the city budget (almost $1,000,000 last year and over $10,000,000 since 1981) and to require more accountability to you the taxpayer.

• To make Big Spring competitive with the surrounding communities will take work and some sacrifice to enable us to grow again. I am willing to try and do my part and I need your vote, encouragement and support.

Teens' questions need answers, not judgment

DEAR ABBY: I was pleased with your response to "Betty's Confidante." Sexually active teens need to know how dangerous sex can be, even when proper precautions are taken.

Dear Abby

In Virginia, minors are entitled to information about birth control, pregnancy, prenatal care and sexually transmitted diseases without their parents' consent or knowledge. Our health clinics and private physicians are required by law to respect a minor's privacy with regard to these sensitive issues. I am an obstetrician-gynecologist, and anything told to me by a teen regarding sex may not be shared with a parent without the teen's permission.

The best family situations I have seen are those in which love allows parents and children to discuss sexual activity without fear of punishment. Although parents may not like the fact that a daughter or son is sexually active, being judgmental and punitive only alienates an adolescent and makes it that much harder to protect him or her from the many dangers of unprotected sex. Value judgments must be put aside.

I would encourage any parents or adolescents who have questions about the availability of health care for sexually related problems to call their local city or county health department.

God bless you, Abby. And God bless the children. — MATTHEW J. WERNER, M.D., CULPEPER, VA.

DEAR DR. WERNER: Thanks. I needed those kind, reassuring words. I came in for copious criticism for suggesting that teens who need answers for questions about sex should go to Planned Parenthood if they don't feel comfortable asking their parents. Lucky are the people who live in Virginia, and the other states whose laws protect a minor's right to privacy.

DEAR ABBY: A chief in Michigan asked me to advise your readers against calling double dead-bolt locks.

Well, as a security consultant, may I say there are two sides to that issue! Since families are much more likely to be burglarized ed than to experience a late-night fire, the additional security provided by a dead-bolt lock is the reason those locks are such big sellers.

Although I agree that the use of these locks is hazardous for hotels, hospitals and nursing homes, there are two good security-related reasons for using them in single-family residences.

The first: In doors that have glass or plastic inserts (or panels) with standard locks, a burglar can simply break the glass or push the plastic out, stick his hand inside the door and unlock the latch. He can then open the door and enter the house. A double dead-bolt lock prevents this.

Second: There are cases where a team of burglars with large trucks or vans have carried away all the furniture, major appliances and even the light fixtures!

However, when a homeowner uses a double dead-bolt lock, a burglar can steal only what he can remove through the windows. This would be time-consuming, attract attention and appear suspicious to the neighbors or police.

When using a double dead-bolt lock, the rule is: Always lock your door, and keep the key in the lock when you are home. If you follow this rule, you will be safe and secure. — "MAC" MC CAULY IN COPPERAS COVE, TEXAS

Moore reunion news

The 29th Annual Moore Community Reunion was hosted April 27 in Garrett Hall, First United Methodist Church from 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Approximately sixty Moore school students, teachers, and former residents assembled for a brief program and visitation.

Lawrence Adkins, president, welcomed the group. Truett Thomas led the group in singing "Amazing Grace" accompanied by Evelyn Adkins. Five persons attended for the first time, they were Walter Osborne, Stanton Johnson, Alvis Adkins, J.B. McCullough, and Mike Daniels. The oldest persons present were Twila Lomax, former Moore school teacher, and Fannie Kent. Both are 92 years old. The youngest person was Rachel Madison, granddaughter of Lawrence and Evelyn Adkins. Former school teachers were Twila Lomax, Anna Smith and

Ted Phillips. Those traveling the farthest were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cook from Lubbock. The Adkins family of eight was the largest family in attendance.

The memorial list of 34 was read by L. Adkins with Ted Phillips voicing the memorial prayer.

Newly elected officers for the year 1992-1993 were President, Zarah Bednar, Vice President, Myrtle Stroop, and Opal Wooten, Secretary-Treasurer.

A detailed 1940 news article, from the Big Spring Herald, was read by Mary Hildreth Odell. This article contained events of the Moore School as well as the community.

The program concluded with group singing of "The More We Get Together The Happier We Will Be."

The 1992 Reunion will be April 18 in the Garrett Hall.

How's that?

Q. How much money does the state get for each penny of sales tax?

A. In round numbers, each percent of the state's 6 1/4 percent sales tax rate generates $1.3 billion a year. The sales tax rate increased from 6 percent to 6 1/4 percent July 1, 1990. The extra 1/4 cent is projected to bring in $300 million its first year.

otherwise abused are likely to submit personal injury claims. Those claims don't include lost business and personal income.

Americans and Europeans taken hostage by Iraqi troops are also expected to demand compensation, as are the hundreds of thousands of workers forced to flee Iraq and Kuwait.

Iraq is liable "for any direct loss, damage, including environmental damage and depletion of natural resources, or injury to foreign governments, nationals and corporations, as a result of Iraq's unlawful invasion and occupation of Kuwait," according to the cease-fire resolution.

Meanwhile, the sweeping economic embargo the U.N. imposed on Iraq is still in force. Baghdad has requested permission to sell nearly $1 billion in oil in order to buy food and humanitarian supplies for its population devastated by 1 1/2 months of allied bombing.

The Security Council has deferred Iraq's request until Iraq complies with various cease-fire steps and demonstrates its good will toward Kurdish refugees.

Battle looms over disclosure

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas House members writing an ethics bill may collide with the Senate over whether lawmakers or lobbyists should disclose their income.

While senators want lobbyists to disclose their fees, legislation that passed the Senate earlier this year didn't require lawmakers to reveal the sources of their income.

Some House members say they want to flip the equation: lawmakers should disclose conflicts of interest by revealing their incomes, but lobbyists would be exempted.

Travis County District Attorney Ronnie Earle, who is investigating alleged influence-peddling at the Legislature, said the public should know about lawmakers who have conflicts between their public duties and their private incomes.

Testifying before a House ethics subcommittee Wednesday, Earle urged lawmakers to ban lobbyist-paid trips, prohibit legislator-lawyers from representing clients before state agencies and restrict lawmakers from using political donations for personal use.

Rep. Curtis Seidlits Jr., D-Sherman, who chairs the subcommittee writing the ethics bill, told the Austin American-Statesman he favors lawmakers disclosing any source providing at least 10 percent of their income. That way, the public could be aware of any potential conflicts of interest, he said.

Sen. Bob Glasgow, who authored the Senate bill, said lobbyist fees are important in understanding how much money is spent to influence the Legislature.

Farm income seen dropping as expenses rise

Farm scene

WASHINGTON (AP) — Projections by the Agriculture Department show farm income will be down this year, partly because grease guns went up a dollar.

Lots of other things farmers need in their business are more costly than they were a year ago, according to USDA's latest price report. Grease guns, the one-pound kind carried in tool boxes, were reported at $12.10 each in April, up from $11.10 a year earlier.

A 40-pound bale of twine for hay balers was reported at $24.20, compared with $23.60 in April 1990. Fence staples, at 78.8 cents per pound, were up from 76.4 cents.

Overall, the April price report showed that prices paid by farmers for certain commodities and services, interest, taxes and wages were up an average of 3.8 percent from a year ago.

Considering only the items farmers use in production, prices were up 2.9 percent from April 1990.

USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service reports prices for a list of items periodically during the year. Some are listed quarterly, others twice a year or at other intervals.

Prices of tractors and self-propelled machinery, including combines, were up more than 4 percent from the year-earlier average. A two-wheel-drive tractor in the power range of 110 to 129 horsepower, for example, was shown at $46,700 against $45,300 a year ago, a 3 percent increase.

A four-wheel-drive model in the range of 170 to 240 horsepower was listed at $80,500 in April, compared with $76,600 a year ago, up more than 5 percent.

The department's Economic Research Service has forecast a drop in the net cash income of farmers from last year's record level of $58 billion to a range of $53 billion to $58 billion.

One big reason for the decline is a rise in farm production costs, with 1991 cash expenses expected to be around $124 billion to $130 billion. Farmers are planting larger crops this year, and that means higher costs.

When prices of some production items rise, that also adds to the bill. Agricultural chemicals, which include fertilizer and pesticides, were up 8.5 percent as a group from April 1990, for example.

Not all items are more costly, however. The seed price index was about unchanged from last year, with lower prices for food grains, seed potatoes, feed grain and grass seed generally offsetting increases for seed peanuts, cottonseed, soybeans, corn and alfalfa seed.

One major expense category for farmers is fuels and energy. Its prices are down 9.6 percent from January but still averaged 5.3 percent above the April 1990 mark.

Bulk delivered diesel fuel, for example, averaged 81.5 cents per gallon in April, down from $1.05 in January. In April 1990, diesel fuel was 80.7 cents per gallon.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Exports of U.S. horticultural products continue to run well ahead of their year-earlier pace, the Agriculture Department says.

In February, their value totaled $388.4 million, up 17 percent from February 1990, the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said Wednesday.

Shipments of fresh apples, grapefruit and dried raisins showed the sharpest increases.

Exports of products in the first five months of the fiscal year that began last Oct. 1 were valued at $2.18 billion, a 13 percent increase from the same period in 1989-90.

The agency also said in a review of 1990 horticultural trade that exports to Mexico last year were valued at $161.8 million, up from $114.1 million in 1989. Sales of fresh deciduous fruit, especially apples and pears, were the big gainers.

But a sharp rise in onion, lettuce and tomato shipments to Mexico in 1990 also was reported, with fresh vegetable sales totaling $18.9 million against only $6.8 million in 1989.

Officials said the growth in U.S. exports to Mexico is the result of many factors, including a general lowering of Mexican tariffs and the elimination of import licensing requirements for many products.

The United States, however, remains a large net importer of Mexican horticultural products.

Texans holding fast to German bowling game

FISCHER (AP) — Past the old general store, down a dark country lane, about 20 cars and pickups are parked around a red tin building.

Long rumbling noises and occasional crashing sounds come from inside, where a couple dozen people are competing on four bowling lanes. They exult over "ringer-twelves," and moan when the "beer pins" are left standing. Three youths scramble to get the pins set up, send the balls back and keep the game rolling.

Welcome to the Fischer Bowling Club, where an ancient brand of bowling known as ninepin is played.

Little known elsewhere in Texas, ninepin bowling is played at about 20 clubs in or near the South Texas counties of Bexar, Comal and Guadalupe. There is even a Tri-County Trophy League to organize competition among the clubs.

The Fischer club has about 220 members, many times more than the population of Fischer, which is, perhaps, a dozen. The northern Comal County town is located between Austin and San Antonio.

Bowlers play in Fischer just about every night. Teams compete Monday through Thursday in a series that eventually allows each of the 20 teams to play every other team. Youngsters, from 6 to 46 years of age play on Friday and senior citizens have the place on Sunday afternoon.

Lifetime membership runs $60 and folks over 50 get a $10 discount. Yearly dues are $5 otherwise.

The rules and strategy of ninepin bowling differ greatly from the more common tenpin variety.

Ninepin is "like a baseball game rather than a tennis match," said Moe Schwab, a 32-year veteran of the club's board. (Schwab is a member of the Ninepin Bowling Hall of Fame; a trophy case at the Order of Eagles Hall 2999 in New Braunfels.)

The game is played between teams. Each bowler gets two rolls and if the first ball is a strike, called a ringer-nine, the pins are reset for a second shot.

Pins left standing are two rolls stay there until someone knocks them down, then the kids scramble to set them up again.

They earn their $5 per lane and tips that average $7 per lane. Some kids work two lanes and one pin-setter has been known to handle all four.

Each team has six members and they bowl in no particular order, but as the team captain directs. The leader's strategy is knowing which bowlers hit pins on the right best and which ones hit to the left.

The pins are set in a diamond with one corner pointed toward the bowler. The red pin in the center is worth 12 points if it is the only one left standing after one roll — a ringer-twelve. It's a shot of great skill or fantastic luck, depending on who is asked.

Ninepin bowling originated during the 1500s in Germany and Austria. It was brought to the United States by early immigrants who enjoyed it so much it was outlawed in New England in the 1800s.

There as just "too much gambling and too little churchgoing," Schwab said. Soon after, in the spirit of technicalities, tenpin bowling was born.

But there's no law against ninepin in Texas, and it's a nightly event in many of the Hill Country towns where German immigrants settled.

Bowling began in Fischer in 1919 when the Fischer Bowling Club was formed. The club merged in 1933 with the older Agricultural Society of Fischer.

Scientist accused of poisoning nasal spray

CONROE (AP) — A scientist credited with revolutionizing biological tissue research has been accused for trying to murder a colleague by tainting his nasal spray with a cancer-causing agent.

John Gunnar Linner, 47, a scientist at the Cryobiology Research Center in The Woodlands, is being held without bond on a charge of attempted murder of Wallace Barry

Van Winkle, his associate at the center, which is affiliated with the University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston.

Cryobiology is the study of organisms at low temperatures. Investigators said Van Winkle's Afrin Nasal Spray was poisoned with a potentially lethal dose of a carcinogen called Beta-Propiolactone.

Beta-Propiolactone is a colorless liquid used as a chemical intermediate in the synthesis of acrylate plastics, as a vapor sterilant and as a disinfectant.

UT Health Science Center spokeswoman Ina Fried said the research office was shut down permanently Wednesday, several months earlier than planned.

Grady

them in courses that makes them think and want to pursue a college career," he said. "Some Hispanic kids want to get by with just Resource classes because they feel it is easier to pass. And the teacher lets them so they won't have to be burdened with that student."

"Our Hispanic students number about 46 percent of the school population and we have to find ways to push these kids to a more academic route. An effort has to be made or we will fall behind like we did in our recent testing."

"I feel that is why our TASS results were one of the lowest in the area. Our Hispanic kids were not prepared and not knowledgeable of what to do," Morales said. "That comes from a lack of being taught. Problems like that makes me want to run again and try to move Grady forward in academics first."

Incumbent Mark Greenhaw, a three-year trustee, said he is running again because of recent school finance reform. Greenhaw and his wife have two children in school.

"We will be faced with less revenue to operate with because of the new state legislation and we'll have to increase our school taxes just to have enough monies to operate in the same capacity," Greenhaw said. Since I began I have learned many new things that I was not aware of until I became part of the board."

He added, "There are areas we need improvement at Grady, but not any more than any other school our size. Our teachers are doing a super job and I feel we have a strong structure in our school.

"Sometimes we have been put in a position where we learn from our mistakes. Take, for instance, our TASS tests. If we have the same results next time around we will have to evaluate and go with the best solution to the problem," Greenhaw said.

Eddie Odom, another incumbent, believes his record will speak for itself. He has been on the board for the past 15 years. Odom and his wife have two children at Grady schools.

A local farmer, Odom has completed 73.75 school board training hours while on the board. He stated the biggest problem facing Grady is the school financing bill that was recently passed.

"Our taxes are going up whether we like it or not. And we really don't know what to do until we get the rules and regulations from the state," Odom said. "One thing I know is that our taxes are definitely going up."

"Our tax base rate is 79.6 cents for Grady and they are speaking in terms of raising it to a $1. These are just ballpark figures, but I feel our taxes will go up at least 40 percent by the time Austin is through with their new laws."

Odom added, "Our new TASS test results need improvements from our TEAMS test scores. We had good scores when we took our TEAMS tests and when we received our TASS results we could not believe how off they were from the test we took last year."

"Our Hispanic students did poorly on the recent test that we will have to confront the problem and see it won't happen again. We must look into starting a reading program. Students must learn how to read before they can answer the questions being asked."

"This type of program should be implemented in the lower grades so that when a student moves up in grades he or she will not be hindered about what is being asked of them," Odom said.
