At their Monday May 23 meeting Parmer County Commissioners voted to extend the county burn ban to June 27. The area continues to suffer from extreme drought and fire conditions. No outdoors burning is allowed in the county. Violators are subject to citations and fines.

Youth soccer league forming

Plans are being made for a kids soccer league in Friona for kindergarten through 2nd grade boys and girls. Games will be played on the elementary school playground west of the school. Volunteers are needed for referees and sponsors are being sought for the teams. Dates of the games are set for June 15 through July 20. Cost of $20 per child includes a t-shirt. U.S. Department of Agriculture Rural Development representative Isaac Willingham, left, addresses a standing room only crowd at the city council chambers Saturday morning during a meeting to explain the department's direct home loan program for low-income families.

Standing room only at USDA low-income home loan meeting

BY RON CARR

Representatives from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Rural Development were in Friona Saturday morning May 21 to introduce a homeownership program for low- and very-low income families.

The meeting was held in the city council chambers to an overflow crowd. Officials estimated approximately 100 people attended. The purpose of the meeting was to explain the USDA's single family housing direct loan program. A flyer distributed at the meeting described the program as "the ultimate mortgage for eligible applicants to purchase a home in a rural area without a down payment."

The rural area stipulation applies to places with a population of 10,000 or less. The aim is to provide homeownership opportunities to eligible low- and very-low income individuals or families with acceptable credit who want to own a home in a rural area but have limited funds for a down payment. Mortgage payments are based on the household's adjusted income.

The loans can be for existing homes or new construction including the purchase of new modular and manufactured homes. Certain restrictions as to the type and locations of eligible homes were explained by the USDA representatives. Loans are for up to 33 years and the USDA can assist with subsidized payments based on adjusted income limits.

After a power-point presentation explaining the various stipulations and a question and answer session, interested persons were offered instruction on how to complete the loan application forms. Officials said 13 applications were turned in and several other families said they would complete and mail their applications. The maximum loan amount is $119,275.

The program applies to all of Parmer County.

Representing the USDA were area director Leon Carey and employees Misty Conrad and Isaac Willingham. All were from the Amarillo USDA office. Friona city employee Pam Medrano assisted with sign-in and translation. Also present were city manager Patricia Phipps and Friona Mayor J.B. Douglas.

Commissioners negotiate Bovina trash hauling cost, extend burn ban

Negotiations continue between Parmer County and the City of Bovina about the cost of Bovina's roll-off boxes. Apparently for several years the county has been paying the bill for unlimited dumping in Bovina. Until recently Bovina did not charge citizens for use of the boxes and the county paid the waste company charges for hauling the trash away. Commissioners say the Bovina costs were more than double the costs for Friona and Lazbuddie precincts combined.

County Judge Trey Ellis said in the past seven-plus years the county has paid approximately $271,000 for hauling away Bovina trash while the total for Friona and Lazbuddie combined was $131,000. Judge Ellis said the lack of control at the dumpsite allowed anyone in the county to use the free dumping with the county footing the bill. People from New Mexico were reported to have utilized the free dumping also.

Bovina mayor Stan Miller and several Bovina council members met with commissioners Monday to try and resolve the situation. Bovina has put up a fence and gate and began charging for use of the roll-off box but a cost-sharing agreement with the county has not been reached. The Bovina officials were asked to come back to the June 13 commissioners meeting with a proposal.

In other commissioner action, the county-wide burn ban was extended until June 27. County Extension IPM agent Monti Vandiver reported that state budget cuts would affect his office. He is losing one secretary position. Vandiver said he is looking for a high school student to do some part-time work this summer. Interested students can contact the Extension office at 806-481-3619.

Commissioners also renewed a lease agreement with Efrain Balli for the Precinct 1 county roll-off box located near the Hwy 214 overpass in Friona. Commissioners heard the Parmer County jail report and approved the purchase of a roadgrader and backhoe for Precinct 2.

Parmer County is one of four rural counties in the state that gained population in the 2010 census. The slight gain pushed the county over the limit that requires a full time county auditor. Commissioners will seek a waiver from the state to try and avoid staffing a full-time auditor. At the June 13 meeting it is expected to be confirmed that the county will not have to redraw precinct district boundaries as a result of the census.

Chieftain baseball camp is June 7-9

The 2011 Friona baseball camp will be run by high school coaching staff, past players, and some college players. Chieftain head baseball coach Styler Haddock says, "We look forward to working with your son in every aspect of the game of baseball and give him a better idea of what it takes to be a valuable member of our baseball program."

Dates are June 7-9. Group 1, 3rd-6th grade is 9-10:30 a.m. Group 2, 7th-9th grade is 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Cost is $30. Campers will receive a camp shirt.

Campers need to bring t-shirt, shorts or baseball pants, glove, bat (if they have one), cleats or shoes, cap, sunscreen, and money for the concession stand. Leave all jewelry and valuables at home.

A sign-up form is available from Coach DeLeon or Coach Haddock. For questions or a form, call the high school fieldhouse at 250-3862 or email shaddock@frionaisd.com.

on the question of abortion in texas

Abortion is a controversial and sometimes violent subject.

It is a topic on which there will never be general agreement. We can talk it to death and argue till we die but there will never be a general consensus.

Many frame it as a moral issue. Others believe it should be a legal issue. Women say that men should stay out of it. I tend to agree.

However, the government, made up largely of men, continues to try and shame, demean, and otherwise intimidate women into having the child rather than choosing abortion.

The Texas legislature passed House Bill 15, which was "ceremoniously" signed to ensure she is fully informed "before making such an impactful decision." HB 15 requires a physician to perform a sonogram 24 hours before an abortion, except in cases of a medical emergency.

This law further requires a physician to display the sonogram image to the woman, explain the image, and make sure she can hear the fetal heartbeat. It does not specify how the doctor is supposed to force the woman to look and hear, nor does it say who is being forced to pay for the sonogram.

If the woman and/or her family is forced to pay for the sonogram then the government is requiring a private citizen to purchase a service which I think is unconstitutional.

It goes on to say it allows women to opt out of seeing the image and hearing the heartbeat and requires them to sign a statement acknowledging so prior to receiving the sonogram. A woman can opt out of the verbal explanation of the image only if she is pregnant as a result of rape or incest; she is a minor obtaining an abortion under judicial bypass, or the fetus has an irreversible medical condition or abnormality.

Another part of the bill says if a woman lives more than 100 miles from the nearest abortion facility the waiting period is shortened from 24 to two hours. That's considerate. Complicated isn't it?

Pro-life is a noble cause I suppose. I venture that most women who get pregnant do not have abortions. It is no doubt an extremely difficult choice for a woman. Some people say unsympathetically, "Well she just shouldn't have had sex in the first place." Judgmental to say the least.

This HB 15 will have unintended consequences. Doctors might be tempted to say the woman looked at the sonogram when she really didn't. Women who do not want to be forced by the sonogram law might go out of state or have a risky abortion by an unqualified person. On the other hand perhaps the woman could lie about having an abortion in order to get a free sonogram.

I am pro-choice. I believe the choice should be left to the woman. But then I respect life also, just not to the extent that the government forces itself on private citizens. Some of you think it is the government's job to regulate abortion, and trans-fats, and non-smoking areas, and ethanol in gasoline, and most everything else. I don't share that view.

Where are the women protesting this sonogram mandate? If they can force a doctor to force a woman to have a sonogram and look at it and listen to it, what else can they force you to do? No government should be able to force this sonogram legislation on women.

Meanwhile down in Austin a group of white anglo-saxon protestant males are slapping themselves on the back and high-fiving over the good moral thing they have done.

"Today is a great day for women's healthcare and unborn children in Texas," Senator Dan Patrick said. I find it disturbing that a man should be crowing about forcing a woman to do something that she perhaps does not want to do. It should be a woman's choice. You may disagree.

On the question of abortion the answer is there is no answer.

Letters to the Editor

Ron and the Friona Community,

I wanted to express my thanks at the All-Sports Banquet, but was afraid that I might not get through it. I would just like to thank the community for all their support over the past 11 years. I would like to thank Richard North for giving me the chance to coach with him, he taught me a lot.

A really big thank you to Jim Parker and Bob Ferguson for taking a chance on someone to coach just Boys Basketball. I believe our work in the off-season helped lead to our success over the past 6 years. A special thanks also to Kenny Austin, Mike Herbert and Chris Morrow, who supported me and my decisions, and who I also consider friends.

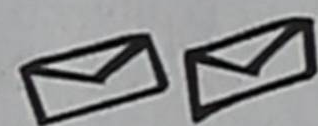

To the Varsity Boys Team—I gave you all I had and you gave me memories that will last a lifetime; the game against Tulia when we were down by 15—a comeback to rival all comebacks that put us in the playoffs for the first time in 32 years, "Chief's Win, They're In", I loved that game.

Winning that first district championship was sweet, but even sweeter was the back to back district championships with a 12-0 record, I wish my Dad could have seen that team play. Beating Dimmitt in their own gym for the first time since 1974, that was special. Playing and beating Childress in OT with four players left on the floor, I don't know how we did it, but that was a fun game; and the fantastic OT finish against Littlefield at their place.

I will carry those memories with me and I want to thank you for that, but most of all I want to thank those boys for allowing me to be a part of your lives. I hope I made a difference in your life, I know you made a difference in mine.

Friona will always be home to me, I've lived here all my life. Lanis and I were so fortunate to raise our kids in my hometown. Thank you for everything.

Ky Graham

Congressman Randy Neugebauer (R-TX) issued the following statement regarding President Obama calling on Israel to agree to return to 1967 borders as a condition to peace negotiations with the Palestinians:

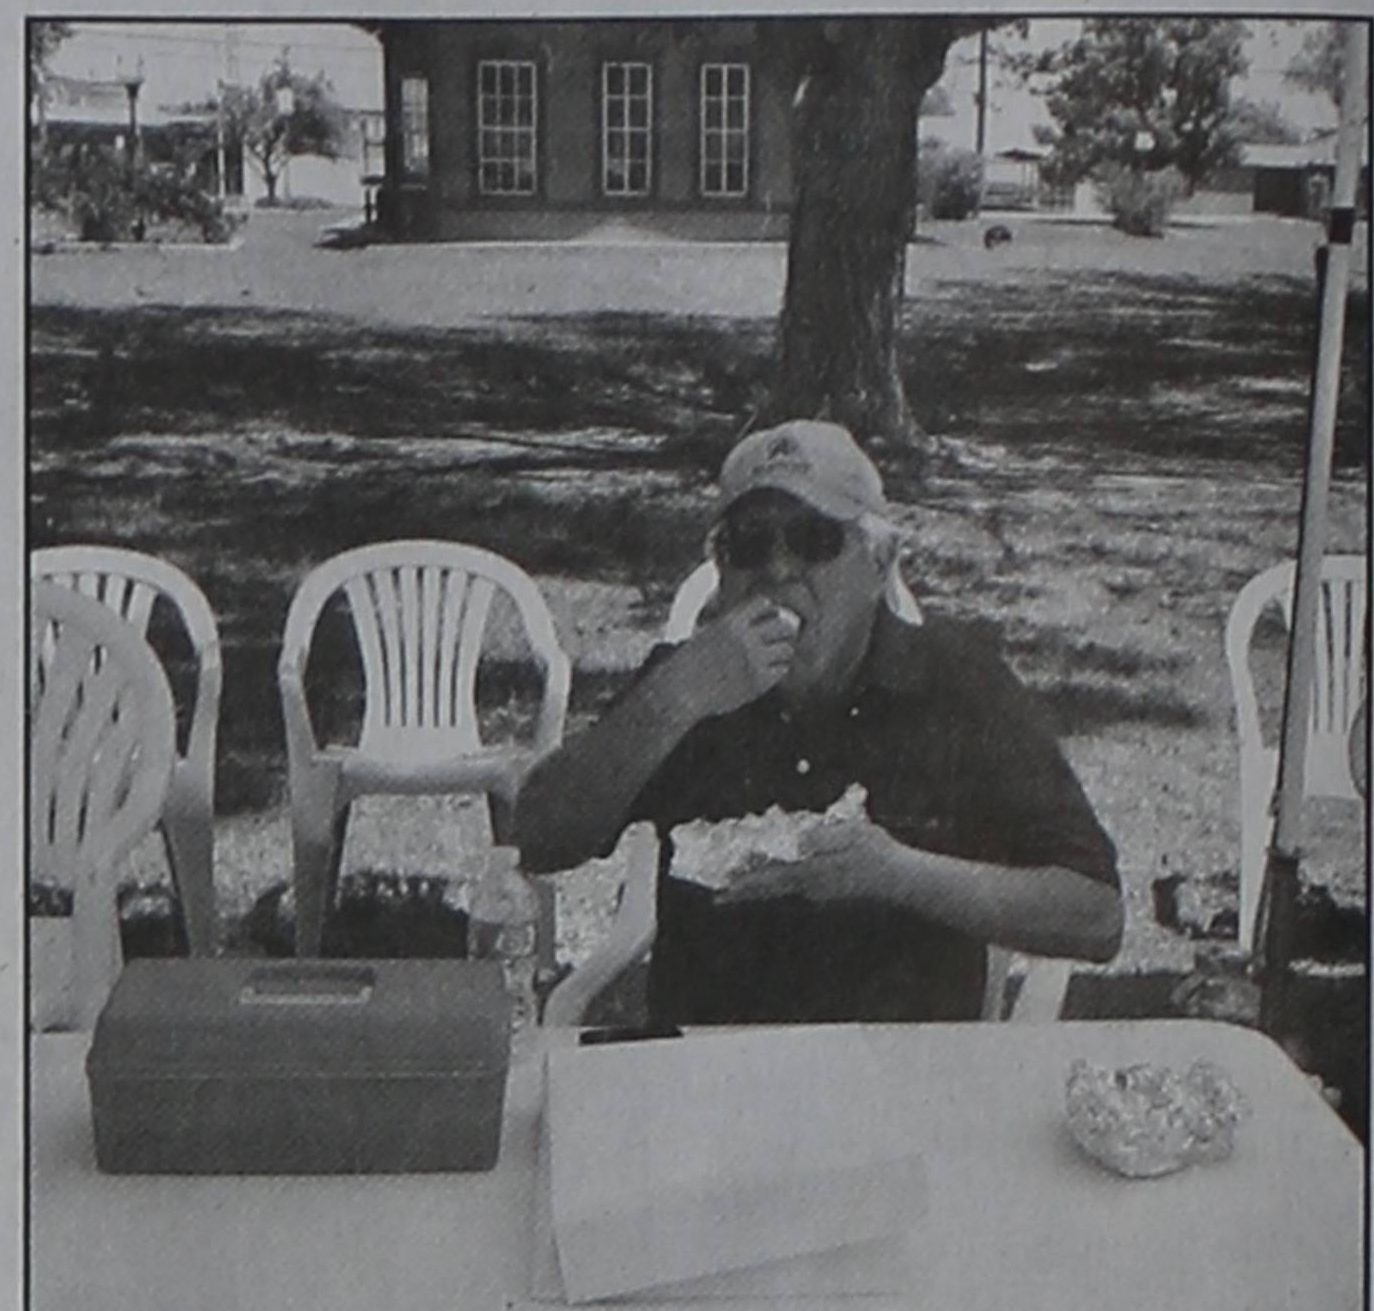

"President Obama's speech yesterday reinforces what many Americans already know about the President's view of America's role in the world — mainly that our allies are dispensable and not worth the courtesy of our respect and support. The President's speech was nothing more than a kick in the pants to one of our countries most loyal and helpful allies in the war against terror.

"Former Senator George Mitchell's recent resignation as the President's Middle East peace envoy signals this Administration has failed to adequately promote a just and lasting peace between the Israelis and the Palestinians. The President's feeble attempts to encourage democracy around the world while helping to undermine the safety of Israel is both unjustifiable and confusing."

Lions Club News

The Friona Noon Lions regular meeting for May 19 was held at the city park for the club's annual broom and mop sale. Lion Lance Martin and Prairie Insurance hauled in a grill and cooked sausage wraps for members and broom shoppers.

The sale is a joint venture of the Noon and Evening Lions. A couple of tents were set up but high winds that started about 1 p.m. forced members to take down the largest tent. In spite of the wind, sales were good and we thank everyone who pre-ordered supplies and those who stopped by to purchase. Your support makes it possible for us to support local events like the blood drive and the all-night graduation party.

Prairie Insurance owner Mark Collier, center, along with employees Lance Martin, left, and Tino Salinaz III, provided sausage wraps for Lions members during the broom and mop sale last Thursday. Below, club members did a brisk business of selling brooms, mops, squeegees, and a variety of cleaning items. Thank you very much to every business and individual that supported the broom and mop sale again this year.

During their regular meeting Monday May 23 Parmer County Commissioners attended the county-wide banquet to June 27.

Another week out here with no rain but gas prices dropped 10-cents it wasn't a total loss. It is hot and dry still. The wind finally calmed long enough for our yard on Sunday. Friona volunteer firemen responded Sunday evening to assist with a big grass fire up north just over in Deaf Smith County. Two more fire calls were received Monday. At 10:15 a.m. firemen responded to a front-end loader fire south of town. Then at 1:15 p.m. they were called to another hay fire at Cattle Town. Continuing appreciation and thanks to our firefighter volunteers.

During the Sunday evening fire one of the Friona fire vehicles, the fire chief's pickup with call letters FD One was sideswiped by a Bootleg fire truck. The vehicles were in a smoke filled area along the roadside, and the slow-moving Bootleg truck was attempting to turn when the collision occurred. There were no injuries and damage was relatively minor. I saw the pickup. Pretty good detour along the driver side.

Natasha Lafuente, FHS Class of 2006, is on a trip to Istanbul, Turkey, with a group of 18 others who will be living with Turkish families and providing social work in villages, schools, and hospitals. The trip is part of her Master's Degree in Social Work from Texas A&M which she is taking through the West Texas A&M campus. Natasha earned her Bachelor's Degree from W.T. in 2009 and was licensed by the state in social work in February 2010. She is currently employed by Texas Panhandle Mental Health and Mental Retardation in Amarillo. She is the daughter of Joe and Anita Lafuente.

For all you hoarders, don't forget the Dimmitt city-wide garage sale is Saturday June 4. They usually have a lot of locations participate, they hand out maps, and there is food on the square so hook up the trailer and get there early. Believe it starts around 8 a.m.

Received word of the tragic death of Roseanne Ray's brother Maynard Greeson. He died in an explosion of his home near Kismet, Kansas. Mr. Greeson, 67, is a Friona High School graduate. His wife, Martha Mills Greeson, was also injured in the explosion but managed to drive a 4-wheeler a couple of miles to get help. Funeral arrangements were unknown at our press time but it was said to probably be graveside services here in Friona.

Nancy Edelman's daughter Karen Edelman Burns of Enumclaw, Washington received a 10-day trip to Hawaii for her 50th birthday so she invited her mother on a mother-daughter vacation to the islands. They returned last week. From the photos I saw on Facebook it appeared the two ladies had a really great "two-gether" vacation.

Is the rural West Texas/Panhandle area going electronic? In today's paper County Extension Agent Shana Fleming announces a blog of useful information. Another group of young rural farmers are starting a website blog called ruraltopia.com to exchange ideas. Guess it is time for the younger set to get into electronic farming information.

I attended the Saturday morning USDA Home Loan session for low-income persons. There was a packed, standing room only crowd in the city council chambers to hear USDA representatives explain the program. The large crowd pointed out to me the need for low income housing and the desire of many families for homeownership.

Some of the lenient terms are no down payment, 100% financing, no monthly mortgage insurance premium, subsidized loan payments, and loans may exceed the value of the property to include various fees and costs. It is a nice well-intentioned program but these terms remind me of the huge foreclosure problem caused by similar terms through Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. Several loan applications were filled out at the meeting. I hope this turns out to be beneficial for our local folks.

Three local ladies were sworn in as official U.S. citizens recently. Ella Kirton, Alryna McElreath, and Yanina Stevick completed the requirements for U.S. citizenship. Ella is from Russia and employed at Friona ISD; Alryna is from South Africa and is employed at Friona Wheat Growers, and Yanina is from Venezuela. Her husband Ronnie operates Stevick Sales. All of these ladies have been residents of Friona for several years. Congratulations. Well done ladies.

After graduation Friday night, many hardy parents will stay up at the all-night drug free graduation party at the high school. One dad told me that they had purchased $14,000 worth of prizes for the kids to bid on with their blackjack and poker winnings. The table rules are rather lax and the kids accumulate their winnings to bid on many prizes during an early morning auction. Prizes include TVs and video games and iPods and other neat stuff. My hat is off to the parents. We will be around taking graduation photos but I will be asleep long before the auction takes place. Any of you parents that take photos at the all-night party are welcome to email a few to the Star for use next week.

Donna Mears was on the way into PMC to visit a friend last week when she fell and broke a knee. Same knee she had a knee replacement on a few years ago. She is in a knee brace now. Ouch! Hope you get better soon Donna.

The 6th St. Church of Christ hotline (250-3495) reports that Linda Black is in the Friona hospital. She is still battling cancer and not doing well. Also Clydie Black is still in the hospital recovering from a broken femur. My friend Glenn Reeve is having his second cataract operation this week. Should be able to read the fine print on those car contracts better now.

The Friona Star office will be closed Monday for Memorial Day. My sister and brother-in-law Gena and Don Rogers will be visiting as we celebrate our mother's 92nd birthday Sunday May 29. Hope you all have a great holiday weekend. If you are in Friona this weekend pay a visit to the cemetery and have a look at the flags honoring the veterans. See you next week as summer begins. Until then!

City manager Patricia Phipps is angry. A while back Cargill donated new swings for the city park playground area. It may be difficult to see from this photo but someone took a knife and cut this child swing. If you have knowledge of who might have caused this damage call the police department or city hall. Ms. Phipps said if they catch anyone damaging city property they will file charges.

New website puts rural Texas first

A group of young rural entrepreneurs from across West Texas began meeting almost a year ago to talk about issues facing their rural communities. The men gathered to socialize and share stories, but most of all, they wanted to take action on promoting development and progress in rural communities across Texas.

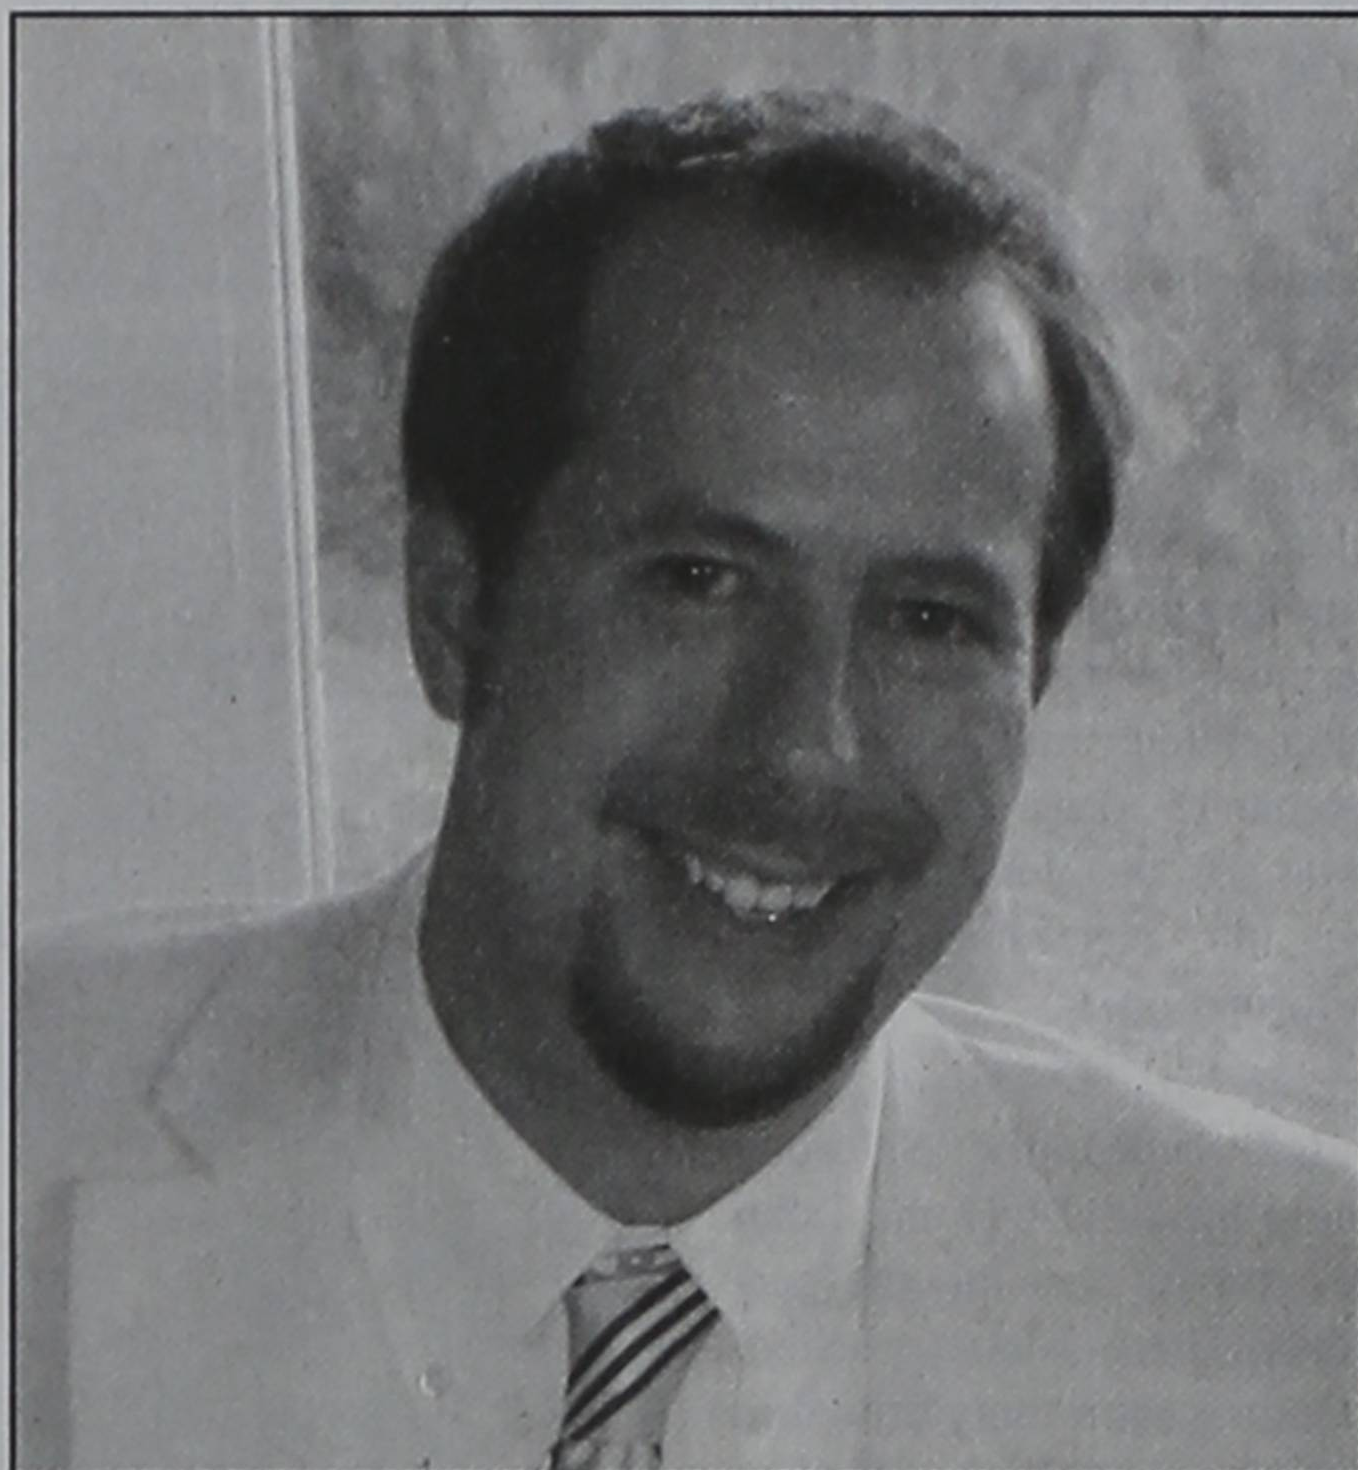

The Young Rural Professionals interests range from rural development, rural politics and leadership, and agriculture. As a result, they decided to take action in the form of a blog and information aggregator to provide rural citizens with an outlet for discussion. They appropriately named the blog Ruraltopia.com.

The blog is maintained by three primary authors: Trent McKnight of Throckmorton, James Decker of Stamford, and Evan Autry of Coleman. Ruraltopia.com encourages others to comment, participate, and submit contributions about rural Texas issues.

"Ruraltopia.com serves as a websource and discussion board for rural citizens. The blog's authors breathe, drink, and eat rural Texas, so the material is fresh, real, and useful," said blog co-founder and author Evan Autry from Coleman, Texas.

In light of the many changes facing rural Texas in the 82nd legislature, a discussion on rural Texas's future is more important now than ever. Trent McKnight of Throckmorton and Ruraltopia.com author, said, "If rural Texas is to remain relevant into the future, we must discuss ideas, shape policy, and share our stories with Texans all over." In the past, distance and communication barriers have prevented rural citizens from organizing effectively. However, with the expansion of the internet into rural communities, staying connected is easier than ever. James Decker of Stamford and Ruraltopia.com author believes, "Rural leaders have an unprecedented opportunity to utilize technology to connect across city and state boundaries, share ideas and solutions to common issues, and tell America the story of what rural communities have to offer."

If you are interested in rural Texas affairs, visit Ruraltopia.com to start or participate in discussions facing rural communities. Find them on Facebook or directly at Ruraltopia.com.

"Click It or Ticket" enforcement underway

From May 23 to June 5, DPS troopers and law enforcement officers across the state are participating in the 10th annual "Click It or Ticket" enforcement mobilization.

"State law requires everyone in the vehicle to be restrained no matter where they are seated," said Assistant Director David G. Baker, who is the Chief of the Texas Highway Patrol. "Seat belts save lives, and that is the primary reason to buckle up, but we will have a zero-tolerance policy during this period, and violators will be ticketed if need be.

Wearing a seat belt reduces the risk of fatal injury by 45 percent. That number increases to 60 percent in pickups, because they are more likely to roll over in a crash. (Pickup drivers and passengers still lag behind in seat belt usage compared with motorists in cars.)

State law requires everyone in a vehicle to be secured by a safety belt. Also, children younger than 8 years old must be in a child safety seat or booster seat unless they are taller than 4 feet, 9 inches. Fines can range up to $250, plus court costs.

FCS kicks off information blog

BY SHANA FLEMING, County FCS Extension Agent

Many of you have heard about blogs but do you know what they are or even what blog means?

The word blog comes from a blending of the words web and log. It is a website maintained by an individual or group with regular postings. The postings can be used as a diary to describe events or happenings of an individual or family. Many people use them to chronicle the lives of their children.

You can find blogs on all types of crafts as well as cooking. There are directions and photos on many of the blogs. If you want to get better at a specific craft or try a new one you can get help from a blog.

Blogs are displayed in reverse chronological order. The number of articles displayed depends on the blog. When you find blogs you like you follow them and learn information about the author or authors. Most blogs are interactive. You can post questions or comments. It can be a great way to gather information.

Beginning this month five Family Consumer Science (FCS) Extension Agents from the Lubbock District, including me, have started a blog. We will each post articles, suggestions, and ideas. There are five categories on our blog: parenting, nutrition, health, home life, and youth.

To check our blog you can find it at http://extensiondeepeintheheartofexas.blogspot.com/. Please feel free to leave comments or suggestions on what you would like to see.

You can also follow my blog for Parmer County at http://www.parmertales.blogspot.com/. I hope you find the world of blogs as informative and entertaining as I do.

Panhandle Parables

Remember

BY JEFF PROCTER, Minister, Sixth St. Church of Christ

I wanted to take a moment and thank our soldiers who keep us safe and defend the freedoms we sometimes fail to appreciate. My cousin Darran, got home from Afghanistan a little over a year ago. This was his third tour. His wife and children have sacrificed a lot. There are many similar stories, and likely others from Friona. I am thankful for their service.

This weekend we are asked to stop and remember. Remember those who fought and died to establish for us a nation. Remember those of the Civil War, the Great Wars of the 20th Century, Vietnam, Iraq...to remember the cost of being free.

For some the cost is paid in precious blood, for others the price is paid in the blood, sweat, and tears of the goodbyes, the ticking of a yearlong clock, the missed birthdays, births, anniversaries, soccer games, first steps, first lost tooth, kisses goodnight and bedtime stories.

It is for this reason that I remember, freedom has never been free. Especially the freedom we have in Christ. Grace is truly the free gift of God, but don't mistake free with cheap, for that it was not.

I do hope you enjoy the weekend, but it won't hurt you to find a memorial service for our military and go stand in silence and remember. The hotdogs will wait; the drinks in the ice chest will just get colder, so I ask you to simply stop.

Maybe just go by a cemetery and see the flags, remember... thank those who are veterans, but remember just how many did not get to become a veteran because the battlefield claimed their spot in history. One last word today, Remember.

Losing the battle within

BY BRETT HOYLE, Pastor, First Baptist Church

Temptation is a battle for supremacy in your life. Will sin be your master, or God? 2 Samuel 11, depicts the fateful decision that David made to accompany his sexual lusts down a sin filled path, that wrecked his family, brought scandal to the nation and death to many. The battle that David lost with temptation to sexual sin was covered up with a sense of victory militarily, yet the deep, dark battle within David was whipping his tail.

David's willingness to satisfy his sexual desires with Bathsheba, wife of Uriah the Hittite, is a refusal to yield to God's word in this area, and to satisfy himself with one of the wives that he could have called upon during the temptation. Sadly, he allowed a moment of pleasure to produce a lifetime of regrets.

Temptation and sin, not dealt with, will do that. Sometimes you may become bitter, other times arrogant, thinking you are okay, but in God's eyes you're dirty, and in need of His grace and forgiveness to wash you clean. An old preacher once said, "Sin will take you further than you want to go, teach you more than you want to know, keep you longer than you want to stay and cost you more than you can afford to pay."

You and I must evict sin from our lives. Puritan preacher, John Owen, said it this way, "...[you and I must] always be killing sin or it will be killing you." May you war against temptation and sin in your life.
