BSISD board to meet today

The Citizens For Choice in the School Bond Issue will address the board of trustees for the Big Spring Independent School District at 5:15 p.m. today in the board room, located on the south side of the high school building.

Action will be taken by the board members concerning district policies for employee standards of conduct, employee complaints, and leave and absences. Other action will involve resignations and employments, the district grading policy and cooperatives for drug free schools, and math and science.

Bids will be submitted for approval to the trustees for fleet insurance, fuel and custodial supplies, and electrical and plumbing supplies.

The superintendent's report will include a budget update, a County Education District update, planning of the bond election for new schools and scheduling a meeting to canvas the election results from Saturday's CED election.

Area schools soon to open

Area students return to school this month, and Gail begins first, next Wednesday. Stanton students return for the first day of school next Thursday.

Forsan begins school Aug. 19. Coahoma and Garden City schools have scheduled the first day of classes for Aug. 20.

Colorado City and Big Spring students return to school Aug. 22. Sands students return Aug. 23.

Grady, Loraine and Westbrook school districts will start school on Aug. 26.

House passes bill restricting protests

AUSTIN (AP) — A bill that would place new restrictions on protests at the Capitol has been approved by the House.

Opponents of the measure by State Rep. Edmund Kuempel, R-Segun, said Wednesday it would violate the constitutional rights of free speech and assembly.

But Kuempel said it was necessary because some demonstrations had become fire and safety hazards.

The bill now goes to the Senate for consideration.

Kuempel said the proposal was partially prompted by the frequent demonstrations during the Persian Gulf War.

One small group of anti-war protesters set up a temporary station near the main entrance, which included a desk and file cabinet and remained until after the war.

Recently, a group of wheelchair protesters occupied the Governor's Reception Room overnight demanding better programs for the physically impaired.

School finance statute upheld

AUSTIN (AP) — Lawyers for property-rich school districts say they expect to appeal a state judge's ruling that upholds the property tax system created by Texas' new school finance law.

"We are looking forward to having the opportunity to move it before the (Texas) Supreme Court and have them go ahead and give a final opinion on it," said Bob Luna, a lawyer for several of the school districts challenging the new law.

The measure is designed to shift hundreds of millions of dollars in property tax revenue from wealthier to poorer school districts within new education taxing regions, drawn largely along county lines.

The measure was passed in response to a Texas Supreme Court order to even out school districts' access to education funding. Large disparities have resulted from districts' reliance on their own property tax bases, besides state funding and some federal aid.

State District Judge F. Scott McCown on Wednesday upheld the county education districts, calling them "a valid exercise of the Legislature's power."

"As long as each district has substantially the same, then the political process will work to ensure that each has enough. As long as some districts have substantially more, the political process will not work," McCown said. "Those with more will have no incentive to help those with less. Those with less will have insufficient political power to ensure adequacy."

McCown noted that several challenges to the law have yet to be considered in court. Issues that have been raised include whether the law provides adequate funding.

"For S.B. 351 (the new law) to provide equity it must be funded," McCown wrote. "The Legislature is now working on the state's budget. As soon as the Legislature's work is completed, the court stands ready to adjudicate the remaining questions."

The House passed a state tax increase proposal on Tuesday that DAMASCUS, Syria — Released hostage John McCarthy speaks to reporters at the Syrian Foreign Ministry in Damascus today after five years of captivity.

Briton is freed

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — British journalist John McCarthy was freed today after being held hostage in Lebanon for more than five years. There was intense speculation that his release could foreshadow freedom for another Western hostage, perhaps an American.

McCarthy, 34, who was turned over to the British ambassador in the Syrian capital a few hours after being freed in Beirut, told reporters at Syria's Foreign Ministry that "my heart is very grateful to those who worked for his release."

He said his fellow hostages, including American Terry Anderson, had given him the strength to survive his ordeal. He said he had recently seen Anderson and another American hostage, Thomas Sutherland, and that they were in good health and good spirits.

Anderson's sister, Peggy Say, expressed "tremendous relief" that her brother was still coping after more than six years in captivity. "I know now that Terry's going to be home," she said.

Sheriff: Jail loss a concern

By PATRICK DRISCOLL Staff Writer

A Big Spring City Council proposal to eliminate the police holding facility to save an estimated $36,000 a year could end up costing more money to area residents if officials are not careful, Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard said.

The problem is keeping space available in the Howard County jail, Standard said.

"If we don't work in concert with the different agencies it's a simple thing to fall out of grace with the space we have here. It's a major problem and has been for a long time," he said. "This could create other side effects that could create bigger costs in the future."

The county now accepts all prisoners from the city except those that are intoxicated and those held on traffic violations, Standard said. The jail, built in the 1950s, is too small and not designed to handle intoxicated prisoners, who are sometimes violent and disruptive, he said.

"I'm not saying no," Standard said of handling drunk prisoners. "I'm saying they could create a real problem that we don't need here in the courthouse. I'll have to see what they've got in mind. We certainly intend to cooperate with them to the best interest of county government."

Also, Standard said, if a contract between the city and county is negotiated, he would recommend that the number of arrests, for such crimes as failure to identify and eluding arrest, be decreased.

Big Spring Police Chief Joe Cook could not be reached for comment today, but City Manager Hal Boyd said that if an agreement cannot be reached with the county, then arrangements will have to be made with an agency outside the county.

"We would hope that we could arrange it with Howard," Boyd said. "It would cost $35 to $45 a day to have a prisoner held at a facility outside Howard County plus travel and officer time for transportation, Standard said. At $45 a day, the ci-

Budget unveiled

By PATRICK DRISCOLL Staff Writer

Howard County Auditor Jackie Olson unveiled a proposed 1991-92 budget to Commissioners Court early today that would spend $109,129 less than this year's budget, which is a drop of 1.57 percent.

If passed, the $6.8 million budget would be the third since 1981 that dropped from the year before, Olson said. The others were for 1986-87 and 1987-88.

The reduction would be the result of county department heads cutting individual budgets, not including salaries and benefits, by up to 10 percent as requested by County Judge Ben Lockhart in May.

Olson said. Salaries and benefits account for about 55 percent of the total county budget.

However, the budget would also be the seventh deficit budget in a row if passed by commissioners, according to Olson's figures. Projected property tax revenue of $4 million at the effective tax rate, plus another $2 million from such items as fees and interest on investments is $787,170 less than proposed expenditures.

With an expected balance of $1.8 million on Oct. 1, the beginning of the fiscal year, that would leave a balance of $1 million by the end the fiscal year in 1992. The problem, Olson said, is that $1.5 million is needed for operating expenses from October through December while the year is being collected.

Olson's concern, she said, is that the county is dependent on that in the beginning of the year.

When the year's budget was passed, an ending balance of $60,000 had been projected but more revenue was collected than expected, Olson said. "I'm pretty sure that when I estimate the row if passed by commissioners,"

Firefighter group anxious about cuts

By GARY SHANKS Staff Writer

As the budget ax looms in the future for city services, the Big Spring Professional Firefighters Association is nervous about possible funding cuts.

The city was recently penalized by the State Board of Insurance for having less than three men per vehicle and a lack of coverage on the west side of the city.

A proposal presented for discussion in Tuesday's budget work force could keep manpower at its present level but would cut department funding by $96,000, said City Manager Tom Decell.

The proposed budget, however, would require the city to provide a fire station which would be used to satisfy the requirements for west side coverage but also provide the area with the suppression needed to support the airport under Federal Aviation Administration

Joint auction awaits call of the auctioneer

By GARY SHANKS Staff Writer

Everything from computers to dump trucks will be available at the upcoming city, county, school district and Howard College joint auction.

"We try to have one about once a year," said Assistant City Manager Tom Decell.

Because electronic equipment has been upgraded at the college and at city offices, rows of computer terminals, printers, keyboards and monitors sit, awaiting the beginning of the auction on Aug. 17.

Various riding lawn mowers will be available, and about 35 vehicles from aging dump trucks to police cars will be sold.

From the police department, recovered stolen items, which have gone unclaimed, go on the auction block, including stereos and speakers, televisions, guitars and other merchandise.

During the days before the auction, Big Spring McMahon/Wrinkle Air Park Manager John Ramey will be trying to determine what items are in working order, and which are broken.

"We try not to misrepresent anything," said Robert Pruitt of Spring City Auction, who will be the auctioneer. "But when you buy something, it belongs to you — win, lose or draw."

Among the more exotic items available at the auction are a venerable old main-frame computer, an electronic basketball scoreboard, a number of compressed air gas masks from the fire

Rows of unneeded or outdated equipment await the auctioneer's gavel. The joint city, county, school district and college auction is scheduled for Aug. 17.

Africanized bees near South Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Africanized honey bees have been found in surprisingly large numbers in northern Mexico, indicating that south Texas may be due for heavy swarming, a researcher tracking the bees says.

A research project trapped more than 120 swarms in the Mexican state of Nuevo Leon last month, 60 of them within a 2 square-mile area, said Orley R. Taylor.

"The number of swarms moving through there is just enormous," Taylor said Wednesday. "We stopped counting at 120 swarms."

Taylor, an entomologist at Kansas State University, said the bees were drawn to the area by the large amounts of flowers that grew there following heavy summer rains.

"If you've got enough rainfall, you get enough flowers, you get a lot of bees," he said.

He said the bees will probably make a move into Texas' Rio Grande Valley within about two months, when they swarm again, albeit in smaller numbers.

Astronaut tests vacuum container

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — An Atlantis astronaut struggled to get a tight fit in a vacuum sack today in an experiment aimed at easing the lightheadedness many space travelers experience on their return to Earth.

G. David Low climbed into the waist-high collapsible container and sat there, waiting for the procedure to begin, as the crew tried to seal the vessel around his lean body.

After several tries, involving such improvisations as stuffing towels around Low's waist, Pilot Michael Baker reported the leaky seal finally seemed to be holding well.

"Thanks for the help, Doc," Mission Control told Baker.

No problems were reported with the container when Low and Baker tested it Sunday.

Today is day seven of the nine-day Atlantis mission.

Astronauts in space experience a shift of body fluids to the upper body. The shift is dramatically reversed during the return to Earth, causing some astronauts to feel lightheaded.

Scientists believe that sitting in the container, along with drinking more water and taking salt tablets, will help astronauts readjust to gravity when they get home. The container forces body fluids toward the lower body. During the test, Low's heart was being monitored to study the effects of the container.

Lewis says House intends to fund education

STAFF AND WIRE REPORTS

AUSTIN (AP) — Despite voting for a tax bill that would fall far short of funding a proposed budget, the House intends to pay for the new public education system upheld by a court ruling, House Speaker Gib Lewis said.

"Our plan at this point is to fully fund education," Lewis said Wednesday. "We will have to raise the revenue to do it."

Lawmakers are meeting in a special session, which ends next Tuesday, to write a state budget facing a $4.8 billion deficit.

State District Judge F. Scott McCown on Wednesday upheld the property tax system created by the state's new school finance law, but said the $1.7 billion plan must be funded to be equitable.

House members this week approved a two-year state budget that would slash state spending and a $30 million tax bill that could be up to $1.5 billion short of paying even for that. Senate leaders say about $2.5 billion to $2.8 billion in new revenue would be required for their proposed spending plan.

"We are going to fully fund education before this year is over... we don't have any choice," said Rep. Ric Williamson, D-Weatherford and vice chairman of the budget-writing House Appropriations Committee.

However, Rep. Jim Rudd, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, said the House "probably" will do so.

"Are you going to pass a tax bill? If you don't pass a tax bill, it's "What we're suggesting is that they trim the budget another billion dollars. I think they'll come back and trim the budget another billion and if they do Republicans will be able to vote for it."

dead," he said. "I'm trying to figure out how to get this (budget) done in (the) ... days we have left here. And it's going to be a miracle if we do it," said Rudd, D-Brownfield.

Gov. Ann Richards said Wednesday that she did not believe it would be necessary to increase the sales tax to finance education.

She said she had promised that with the passage of a lottery, which the House approved, and revision of the state's franchise tax, which House members rejected, no other major tax increase would be necessary.

Also Wednesday, two Republican senators delayed action on a House proposal that would raise $30 million in new revenue, saying the Senate should not consider any tax bills until members pass a state budget.

Senators Chris Harris of Arlington and David Sibley of Waco "tagged" the bill, meaning it cannot be heard by the Senate Finance Committee until Friday.

"Passing a tax bill before we even know how much money this state needs is like asking the taxpayers of Texas for a blank check," Sibley said.

In other developments, the House Republican Caucus reiterated its call to avoid new taxes by shutting down state government one day a month, while a Democratic group said new taxes are needed to fund essential services.

"We've got to look at the cutting down of state services or shutting it down one day a month," said Rep. Tom Craddick, R-Midland. "We can balance the budget this year with no new taxes if we'll just live within our means."

"What we're suggesting is that they trim the budget another billion dollars," said Rep. Troy Fraser, R-Big Spring. "I think they'll come back and trim the budget another billion and if they do Republicans will be able to vote for it."

Meanwhile, the Harris County Democrats said legislators should realize that a tax hike is necessary to fund essential state services.

AUSTIN — The body of Houston state representative Larry Evans is moved from his Austin apartment by a Travis County medical examiner employee. Evans was found dead in the apartment Wednesday.

State representative dies at home

AUSTIN (AP) — Travis County officials planned to conduct an autopsy today on the body of state Rep. Larry Quincy Evans, a Houston Democrat found dead in his South Austin apartment.

Evans was pronounced dead shortly after 3 p.m. Wednesday, said Austin Police Department spokesman Jerry Reed.

"Preliminary investigation reveals no sign of foul play in connection with Mr. Evans' death. However, homicide investigators ordered an autopsy to determine the cause of death," Reed said.

House Speaker Gib Lewis announced Evans' death shortly after 5 p.m. Wednesday. The House had a silent prayer and recessed in memory of the lawmaker later Wednesday night.

Reports indicated that the legislator was recorded as having voted during the day in the House, apparently after he was dead.

In addition to voting at least once during the day, Evans was recorded as having registered

"present" when the House convened Wednesday.

No time of death has been established, but several House members said that Evans had been absent all day.

It is a violation of House rules, but it is not unusual for House members to register or "ghost vote" for absent colleagues.

It was not known who voted for Evans.

John Bender, a spokesman for Lewis, said the official House journal will be changed to show that Evans was absent.

Newcomer helps resolve MHMR battle

DALLAS (AP) — Some mental health insiders are crediting a newcomer with helping resolve the state's 17-year-old battle over care for the mentally retarded.

But Paul Coggins, a Dallas attorney and former federal prosecutor, who in May was appointed to the case known as Lelsz v. Kavanagh, said that honor rests with the governor.

"I would divert that credit to Ann Richards," Coggins said. "I am a tick on the dog of the thing."

A 1974 lawsuit challenging state school conditions took a sudden turn Wednesday with the announcement of a proposed settlement that may close two of Texas' 13 state schools.

The action surprised observers and upset some families of the retarded.

The closures, endorsed by Richards, would be a first for Texas, which has never closed a state school since the system began in 1917.

Closing schools would result in several hundred residents being placed in smaller care settings in many Texas communities.

In addition, the settlement would mean the gradual end of federal court monitoring of state schools, which has occurred since 1983.

"It's a good agreement for the state and for the plaintiffs," said Coggins, who was hired by the Texas Attorney General's Office to represent the Department of Mental Health-Mental Retardation.

"It's much better to spend state money on the clients than on the litigation."

Before the settlement can be implemented, it requires approval from U.S. District Judge Barefoot Sanders, who is overseeing the case, and creation of a task force to recommend either closing or consolidating state schools.

"If by 1994 a state school is not closed, we're back in court," said David Ferleger, the Philadelphia attorney representing 2,000 of the roughly 7,000 state school residents.

But Ferleger has misgivings about the plan.

"I think the settlement is both a tremendous revolution in Texas' attitude toward people with retardation and a tremendous risk for all of us who have worked on this for so many years," Ferleger said. "The risk is that Texas won't do what it says it will do."

Guidelines are changed

HOUSTON (AP) — Some parents and a state education official are criticizing an education foundation in a Houston suburb for changing its guidelines to award college scholarship to middle-income high school graduates instead of low-income applicants.

The criticism came after the Cypress-Fairbanks Educational Foundation awarded scholarships for $5,000 each to 12 high school graduates, including one to the daughter of a school board member.

"We are looking for the kids who need the help but cannot get it elsewhere," Donald Thornton, Cy-Fair superintendent, said Wednesday. He said that scholarships are intended for middle-income students because they do not qualify for most other scholarships.

Critics have voiced disapproval of the new guidelines at recent school board meetings and an official with the Texas High Education Coordinating Board has questioned them.

Civil rights group opposes Thomas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, a coalition that led the successful battle against Robert Bork four years ago, is weighing into the battle against Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas.

The group, representing 185 minority, elderly and women's groups, declared its opposition to Thomas' nomination Wednesday, characterizing him as a judicial radical hostile to the most fundamental tenets of the civil rights movement.

"Thomas has not demonstrated a commitment to equal opportunity and equal justice under the law, the most basic requirement for any Supreme Court justice," said Ralph G. Neas, executive director of the conference. "His judicial philosophy is radical and places him well outside of the judicial mainstream," Neas said at a news conference.

The announcement immediately drew fire from the White House and Senate Republicans. Press secretary Marlin Fitzwater, with the vacationing President Bush in Maine, said the decision reflects the "liberal political agenda" of the civil rights groups.

"This predictable opposition simply shows again that they are out of touch with mainstream America," Fitzwater said.

Navy may revise Iowa conclusion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy may have to revise its conclusion that a sailor caused the explosion aboard the battleship USS Iowa that killed 47 members of the crew.

Pentagon sources said Wednesday night that Navy officers and civilian scientists at Sandia National Laboratory in New Mexico have been unable to agree on two major unexplained points in the investigation, but do agree on a third.

Lt. Dane La Joie said the Navy report on the investigation is not complete and that the service expects to issue its findings "sometime early this fall."

Some sources, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said it was unclear what stand the Navy would take in light of the remaining differences of opinion.

"I'm hearing the (Sandia) findings are inconclusive," said one source. "But that may mean the Navy will need to back off or soften its original conclusion."

The Navy at first concluded the explosion was deliberately caused by gunner's mate Clayton Hartwig, but re-opened the investigation after unexpected ignition of gunpowder in tests ordered by Congress.

The sailors in a turret crew were killed by the explosion of more than 500 pounds of gunpowder in silk bags.

Rockefeller withdraws from race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jay Rockefeller is bowing out of the 1992 Democratic presidential primaries just as several other potential candidates focus on whether to get into the race.

To no one's surprise, several of the Democratic prospects said Wednesday they were sorry Rockefeller had decided not to run and saluted his leadership on health care and children's issues.

At the same time, two Democrats weighing the race, Sen. Tom Harkin of Iowa and Gov. Bill Clinton of Arkansas, suggested they could benefit from Rockefeller's decision.

Another likely candidate, Virginia Gov. L. Douglas Wilder, turned his rhetoric up a notch, firing salvos at both President Bush and the Democrat-controlled Congress while calling for a $25-billion anti-recession package.

Rockefeller told a news conference in Charleston, W.Va., he had decided there was not enough

Jackson leads march

Jesse Jackson escorts Shirley Hughes, mother of victim Tony Hughes, along 25th Street in Milwaukee Wednesday as he leads hundreds of supporters in a march from the apartment building of Jeffrey Dahmer to St. Luke's Emmanuel Baptist Church. ## Judge strikes down tough abortion law

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Louisiana's strictest-in-the-nation abortion law moved farther up the legal pipeline toward the U.S. Supreme Court after a federal judge struck down the measure as unconstitutional.

U.S. District Judge Adrian Duplantier reluctantly declared Wednesday that the Supreme Court's 1973 Roe vs. Wade decision recognizing the right to an abortion is "still the law of this land."

The law, which was scheduled to take effect next month, would allow abortions only to save the life of the mother and in promptly reported cases of rape and incest. Doctors who perform illegal abortions could get up to 10 years in prison and a $100,000 fine. Women would not be penalized.

The law's supporters said it didn't matter which way Duplantier ruled because their goal was to get the measure before the Supreme Court.

"It prepares us for the next leg of the race," said state Rep. Sam Theriot, the Democrat who wrote the bill.

Louisiana Attorney General William Guste said he would file an appeal today with the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and also ask the Supreme Court to bypass the appeals court and take up the case itself. A much less restrictive Pennsylvania law is further along in the federal appeals process. But legal experts said the U.S. Supreme Court could decide it narrowly, avoiding the question of whether abortion is a constitutional right.

Utah and the U.S. territory of Guam have adopted laws similar to Louisiana's in the past 15 months, although they allow abortions when the mother's health is gravely threatened, a broader exception. However, Guam's law, which was suspended by a federal court, carries a penalty against the women.

In his ruling, Duplantier said he personally agreed with Justice Byron White's dissent in Roe vs. Wade. White held that the court was interfering with matters best left to the states.

But Duplantier said: "It matters not what my personal opinion may be. . . . I am bound by my oath of office to decide that under the existing Supreme Court interpretation, the Louisiana statute is unconstitutional."

Shirley Pedler, director of Louisiana's chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, said the ruling was "a limited kind of victory."

"The only relevant ruling is the one coming down from the United States Supreme Court."

U.N. agrees to allow Iraq to sell oil

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The Security Council's five permanent members have agreed — although with major restrictions — to allow Iraq to sell $1.6 billion in oil to buy urgently needed food and medicine and to pay war damages.

Under the draft resolution reached Wednesday, Iraqi officials would have no control over the revenues. Iraq's U.N. envoy says his government will refuse to sell oil unless the proposal is modified.

Western diplomats, speaking on condition of anonymity, said the proposal has the support of the United States, Britain, China,

France and the Soviet Union — who all have veto power and permanent Security Council members.

The draft resolution will be passed on to the rest of the 15-member council for discussion and possible changes. Some non-aligned nations are expected to complain that the terms are too restrictive.

A text of the proposed resolution says Iraq would be allowed to sell $1.6 billion worth of oil over six months.

The draft says each oil purchase must be approved by the Security Council's Sanctions Committee.

Former president wants to testify

PARIS (AP) — The man who was president of Iran during much of Ronald Reagan's first election campaign says he has evidence that Reagan advisors bargained to delay the release of the American hostages in 1980.

The 444-day hostage crisis was a key issue that led to Reagan's defeat of President Jimmy Carter. The 52 hostages were freed minutes after Reagan was sworn into office on Jan. 20, 1981. Abolhassan Bani-Sadr, Iran's president in 1980 and 1981, and others have alleged that the Reagan campaign promised radical Iranian mullahs weapons in return for holding the hostages until after the 1980 presidential elections. "I am certainly ready to testify, and have been for a long time," Bani-Sadr said in an interview Wednesday.

Senior Democratic lawmakers announced Monday in Washington that House and Senate panels will investigate the allegations.

Bani-Sadr said he would give the congressional investigators correspondence with the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and other Iranian officials, plus six volumes of notes from his 18-month presidency.

Bani-Sadr said the congressional investigation "is a victory of the truth."

Italy mobilizing to block refugees

ROME (AP) — Italy mobilized its navy and coast guard along the Adriatic today to block thousands of Albanian refugees from reaching Italian ports.

But despite warnings issued Wednesday that all refugees from the impoverished country would be sent home, Albanian freighters and fishing boats defied coast guard blockades and sought to reach the Italian coast.

The Milan newspaper Corriere della Sera said that one Albanian drowned Wednesday when he jumped overboard and tried to swim to shore.

One ship with an estimated 1,000 Albanians aboard headed to the port of Otranto around midnight Wednesday but authorities refused it permission to enter the harbor.

Port officials were especially alarmed by reports from Albania that another freighter, the Viora, was carrying as many as 10,000 people and sailing toward Italy.

Views of other Texas papers Leaving will be overdue

Donald Kennedy's resignation... as president of scandal-plagued Stanford University was appropriate. But by the time his resignation takes effect — a year from now — it will be overdue. He should step down now... Kennedy's arrogance carried over in his stated reasons for stepping aside. Referring to disclosures that Stanford had improperly billed the federal government $200 million over the last several years, Kennedy asked rhetorically: "Do I feel responsible for the controversy? The answer is no. But I'm the chief executive officer (and) you bear responsibility when you have that job... so I take it."

So it is good that Kennedy will be gone, even if he leaves unapologetic. Unfortunately, the arrogance he exemplified — the sense of entitlement to tax dollars — remains too common on campus.

Money must be committed

Political purposes aside, we're heartened by the news that the United States and Mexico have developed a plan to combat pollution along their common border. The proposal was drafted partly in response to concern among critics of the pending free-trade agreement between the neighbor nations who believe such a pact could greatly increase environmental problems in the Southwest.

By announcing the plan, the Bush administration has kept a promise it made to the coalition of groups that tried — and failed — to prevent the White House from winning authority from Congress to negotiate an expedited free-trade agreement with Mexico. Labor unions and environmentalists have argued that an agreement could jeopardize the quality of life for residents on and along both sides of the border as industries benefiting from the pact increase production.

Several environmental groups and representatives of border states already have expressed concern over the draft plan because it does not mention precisely how much money either government is willing to commit to tighter environmental regulation.

We think that concern is legitimate and needs to be addressed as the draft plan is revised in the coming weeks.

Tax drowning middle class

When a congressional panel held a hearing on the recently imposed "luxury" taxes on high-priced boats, cars, furs, jewelry and planes, guess who showed up to complain. We'll give you a hint: They weren't all wearing Rolex watches or mink.

The excise taxes, which were part of last year's budget agreement, were expected to pluck $1.5 billion from the pockets of the wealthy over five years. But the levies are having an effect that's very different from what proponents had envisioned.

As the congressional panel learned, the luxury taxes are discouraging potential buyers, drying up sales and forcing companies to lay off blue-collar and other workers. The rich haven't been soaked so much as the middle class is being drowned.

A new study by the Joint Economic Committee... found that the taxes on boats, jewelry and planes alone would throw more than 9,000 Americans out of work and cost the federal Treasury nearly $20 million this year.

Imposing excise taxes on luxury items may have seemed prudent a year ago, as a way of making the overall budget agreement more palatable to the middle class. But the assumption that only the wealthy would be affected has obviously been proved wrong.

Bell selling information

The nation's seven regional Bell telephone companies, including Southwestern Bell in this area, have been given permission to create, market and sell the information services that move along the telephone lines they now own and operate.

This is beyond worrisome — it has Orwellian overtones. It moves the nation another step farther along toward a centralized, monopolized information system.

The courts have effectively granted the regional Bells permission to create one-stop shopping for information. This is a "convenience" we can all live without. It is positively inimical to the effective functioning of a democracy.

What a depressing irony. At a time when the flow of information is expanding and opening up worldwide... we face the deeply troubling possibility that in the United States, the world's information center, the market for information could ultimately come to be dominated and controlled by seven companies.

We hope the appeals courts will appreciate the dangers and untangle the web. Let the regional Bells continue to do what they do best — operate and maintain the local telephone lines. Leave it to others — and the free marketplace — to create and market the information services that move along those lines.

Vacation goes to the dogs

Many people have not gone on vacation this summer. It doesn't have to do with the economy. They can't leave because of their dogs.

Danzig said, "We wanted to go to the Berkshire Mozart Festival in the worst way, but the hotel wouldn't take Moonrock, so we canceled."

"Why didn't you put Moonrock in a kennel?"

"We tried to do that last year, and he wouldn't look at us for four weeks. Alice said she wasn't going to go through that again."

I said, "Has it ever occurred to you that Moonrock is manipulating you and wants to be the center of attention? You should be firm and tell him that you two have a right to a vacation alone."

"You don't know Moonrock. If I told him that, he would get hurt and eat the rug. He doesn't even like it when we go to the movies and we leave him home."

"The dog is running your life," I told Danzig. "You should tell him that he either behaves like a grown-up or you'll give him away."

"We couldn't do that."

"Moonrock wouldn't know it was an idle threat. The important thing to understand is that you can have a dog wagging his tail some of the time and some of the tail wagging a dog all of the time. But you can't have all of the dog wagging his tail all of the time. We once had a dog named Zenith who terrorized us. We couldn't go anywhere without him howling into the night. 'All right,' we told him, 'if you want to go out so bad, you go out and we'll stay at home.' We put Zenith out in the back yard several nights, and when he realized we were practicing tough love he stopped howling."

"Alice would never let me do that. She says she knows what is going on in Moonrock's head. He's thinking, 'How much can they love me if they want to put me in a kennel in the summertime?'"

"Some of the best dogs in town go to kennels in August."

"And some of the worst ones, too. A dog may be man's best friend, but he is not another dog's best friend. Alice says she could never enjoy Mozart knowing Moonrock was being fed by a stranger."

I told Danzig, "You're good dog owners. But you can't sit at home in the heat because of a pet. You have to think of yourselves and say, 'It isn't as if we haven't done everything in our power to take Moonrock with us. How much more does he want?'"

"That's easy for you to say. But last year we wanted to go to Maine, and Moonrock was so upset he ate two feet of the couch."

"What did you do?"

"We canceled the trip. We felt this was Moonrock's way of telling us that if we left he was going to eat the whole house."

"It's your dog and you can do what you want."

"We want to go to the Berkshires for the Mozart Festival. But we have to live with Moonrock all year, and we only have to live with Mozart for a week. Maybe you could take Moonrock for us."

I was aghast. "You have to be crazy. Who wants to board somebody else's dog?"

"I thought you'd say that. People are always talking about how much they love other people's pets. But when push comes to shove, they won't even give them a bath."

Peeves, cats, grammar delights?

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

Random thoughts while thinking about doing the dishes:

Complaints, seem to be as plentiful as 100-degree temperatures in the summertime.

Everybody, it seems has a gripe about something or the other. Democrats gripe about the Republicans, wives gripe about their husbands, farmers gripe about the lack of rain, etc., etc.

I bet you have a gripe about one particular thing that drives you batty — and I bet you know four or five folks that bore you to tears with their gripes.

Gripe, gripe, gripe... everybody's got them and everybody airs them.

Do I have any gripes? You're darned right I do. There are a zillion little things that just peeve me to no end, and I'm going to share a few.

The first thing that really ticks me off is...

What's that, folks?

You're getting tired of my peeve columns?

You want me to change the subject?

Now?

Beyond the realm

Boy, bossy readers really tick me off.

Let me tell you about my cats. Why, the other day, the little white one...

What say?

Ix-nay on the ats-cay?

Even the cute little white one?

Gosh, you folks are cruel.

I have a question: What did happen to Baby Jane?

Can you tell me? Do you know, do you know?

Next, please.

A couple of readers who actually seem to enjoy my occasional stroll through the Garden of Grammatical Delights (some folks are strange, huh?) sent me some candidate words recently.

Disclaimer time: For the unaware, a stroll through the GGD entails the writer (that's me) finding unusual-sounding words in the dictionary and asking the reader (you, natch) for a definition.

Anyway, the first mail-in word was sisal. At first glance, I thought the word was a derivative of sisy, as in "Charlie was such a wimp last night. I tell you, he was positively sisal."

Needless to say, I was wrong. Webster's Seventh New Collegiate Dictionary (as opposed to, I suppose, Webster's Sixth Old High School Dropout Dictionary) defines sisal as a strong durable white fiber used for hard fiber cordage and for binder twine.

So, say what you want about the word, but it's definitely not wimpish.

The second word mailed in for our mutual perusal (and yes, dear readers, perusal is a legitimate word) is partita.

My first reaction to this word was to think it referred to a small partition or was a Spanish word referring to some sort of division.

Wrong again.

Partita, a word of French origin, means suite, as in a suite of rooms or of music.

I guess you can say this has been a partita-type column.

Notice the use of past tense.

Love blooms in Desert Storm

DEAR ABBY: In December 1987, I sent Christmas cards to all six of the addresses you had in your Operation Dear Abby III column. I received three responses — one was from a Ken Castaneda, serving on the USS Coral Sea. (The others wrote nice letters, but Ken's was special.)

When Ken received my Christmas card, he was on a Mediterranean cruise, and we corresponded until his ship pulled into Norfolk, Va., in March of 1988. Ken went on leave to his hometown of Brighton, Colo., and we talked for the first time when he called me in my hometown of St. Charles, Mo. He decided to drive from Colorado through Missouri to meet me on his way back to Virginia. (We still joke that if it hadn't been "on the way" we would not have met.)

To make a long story short, we had an awesome time together — and we have had a long-distance relationship since then. But now, we are making our dream come true, as you can see from the enclosed wedding invitation. How can I thank you? — TONJA DILLON

DEAR TONJA: You just did, and when this goes to press you will be Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Castaneda.

Dear Abby

Congratulations and all good wishes to you both.

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe you let the woman who didn't know whether to tell her son that his dad is in jail get by with such flippancy about the nature of his crime. Driving drunk IS a violent crime. On at least three occasions he could have killed people, and if her big city is like ours (Houston), it's unlikely that he was caught every time he broke the law, and likely that he was completely over the edge before the police noticed. That she dismissed his level of wrongdoing by saying, "My husband didn't steal anything, nor did he commit a violent crime," indicates that she still doesn't get it.

I'd rather have a role model for my child who stole to feed the family, than one who takes others' lives in his hands so casually, and without redemption. — DEBRA DANBURG, STATE REPRESENTATIVE, AUSTIN, TEXAS

DEAR MS. DANBURG: The mother wrote asking whether she should tell her 6 1/2-year-old son that his father was in jail for a year for driving drunk — or would it be better to say, "Daddy is away on business and he may be gone for a long time?"

I advised her to tell her son the truth; I didn't think it was necessary to rub salt in her wounds by reiterating that driving drunk is a very serious crime. She already knows that.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CHARLIE IN CINCINNATI: Samuel Johnson said, "Every animal revenges his pains upon those who happen to be near." Man is no exception.

Everything you'll need to know about planning a wedding can be found in Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." To order, send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill., 61054. ## Woman carries daughter's babies

NEW YORK (AP) — A 42-year-old woman is pregnant with her own grandchildren through an in-vitro fertilization, making her the first American to serve as a surrogate mother for her daughter, according to published reports.

Arlette Schweitzer of Aberdeen, S.D., was implanted with her daughter's fertilized eggs and is carrying twins, the Aberdeen American News reported Saturday. The twins are due in November.

Schweitzer's daughter, Christa Uchtyl of Sioux City, Iowa, was born without a uterus and is thus unable to bear children. The idea for the surrogate pregnancy arose when Schweitzer remarked that she wished she could loan her uterus to her daughter.

"It wasn't a hard decision at all," Schweitzer told the American News. "We've had it in our minds for years. I wanted to do whatever I could to help."

Ethicists differed in their opinion of the procedure. Some said they saw no problem with the arrangement if the family was stable and all had agreed voluntarily to the procedure. Others said that the surrogate pregnancy could cause problems for the offspring.

"It may ultimately cause too many tensions for the child and for the family," said Dr. Jay Katz, professor of law, medicine and psychiatry at Yale University. "I appreciate and would not dispute the loving intentions of the woman's mother. But sometimes love can create problems of its own," he told The New York Times in a story published today.

This is the first case of a surrogate grandmother in the United States, ethicists said, but a similar pregnancy occurred in South Africa in 1987.

Pat Anthony, 48, gave birth to her daughter's test-tube triplets on Oct. 1, 1987. Under South African law, the triplets belonged to their grandmother and would have to be adopted by their genetic mother, authorities said.

Surrogate motherhood has been criticized by many ethicists on the grounds that it creates competing claims for the children and can lead to custody disputes.

Such was the case in the Baby M trial in New Jersey, in which Mary Beth Whitehead-Gould, a surrogate mother who had also supplied the egg and was the child's genetic mother, demanded custody of a girl born in 1986. She was ultimately awarded some visitation rights after a bitter court battle.

Former resident in 'Riders'

By GARY SHANKS
Staff Writer

Toby Metcalf, a former Big Spring resident, hopes his character in the fall television season's premiere episode of ABC-TV's "Young Riders" will be a hit with audiences.

Metcalf, 24, recently finished filming the episode in which he plays a greenhorn Pony Express rider. "It'll be out the first or second week in September," said Metcalf. The series is filmed in and around Tucson, Ariz.

Metcalf does not appear in the second episode, which is currently being filmed, he said. But if television audiences like the character, there is a possibility Metcalf could reappear as soon as the third episode, he said.

Although born in Big Spring, Metcalf left almost 20 years ago. He is the son of Bill Metcalf, who was an automobile body repairman in Big Spring in the '60s. "I used to do body work (with my father), that's the reason I went into acting," said Metcalf.

Metcalf has a number of relatives still living in the Big

TOBY METCALF

Spring and Coahoma areas, including his paternal grandmother, Mamie Metcalf. There are also relatives of the Metcalfs scattered through Knott, Ackerly and Vealmoor, he said.

Metcalf attended the K-D Studio acting school in Dallas, he said. After graduation, he went to Los Angeles where he played bit parts on "Dallas," "Beverly Hills 90210" and "Columbo." "That was small stuff compared to this one," he said.

Metcalf read for "Young Riders" last season but was not hired. He returned to Texas, but kept an agent in Tucson, as well as an agent in Houston.

Just before summer filming began, he received a call from his Tucson agent. He told Metcalf the casting director wanted him to come in and read for a part, he said.

The "Young Riders" episode has also made Metcalf eligible for the Screen Actors Guild. He had difficulty getting parts during his time in Los Angeles because he was not a union member.

"All I have to do now is sign up and pay my dues."

Meanwhile, Metcalf is waiting to see if he appears on the script for the third "Young Riders" episode.

"The new script is due out next week. The writers work up to the last minute — there's even one on the set putting words in while we're filming," he said.

Z Z Top on a Recycler Tour

By MARSHA STURDIVANT
Staff Writer

Z Z Top's Recycler Tour boasts a stage of junk and garbage, a laser show and "Cadzzilla," a 1948 restored Cadillac.

And the Top will be at Ector County Coliseum next Wednesday for their first concert in Odessa in five years. The concert begins at 8 p.m.

Other highlights from the concert, according to reviews from around the country, include a giant crane dumping the boys from Texas into a bigger-than-life trash compactor. The trio reappear bedecked in splendid attire, singing "Sharp Dressed Man" from their Eliminator album.

"It'd be fair to say that Z Z Top and old cars have become synonymous. Our contribution to the now-popular issue of recycling is that we take old cars and bring them back to life. So that's why we've got a whole junkyard. It's show business," lead guitarist Billy Gibbons said in an interview with Atlanta newspapers in March.

Recycler is the 10th album for the band, spanning a 21-year commitment to the Z Z Top fandango. Dusty Hill, bass player, said, "We've always played from a blues-based perspective; this album is just a bit more focused now that we've had 20 years of practice."

And focusing more on the recycling issue, the band has been helping the 3-year-old Delta Blues

Museum in Clarksdale, Miss. And Gibbons had a piece of wood from the wall of Muddy Waters home made into the "Muddywood" guitar to promote the cause of blues and blues history.

The Little Ol' Band from Texas started in Houston in 1969 when Gibbons, Hill and drummer Frank Beard organized their sound with the help of promoter Bill Ham. "ZZ Top's First Album" was released in 1971, and for several years the band was put into the blues category with such artists as Lynyrd Skynyrd and the Allman Brothers, according to Al Reinert writing for Creem Magazine.

But the band lays claim to their blues sound. Gibbons credits Jimi Hendrix with influencing his guitar sound, and on the "Tonight Show"

Hendrix once called Gibbons the best young guitarist in the nation. Gibbons and his band Moving Sidewalks opened for Hendrix's "Experience" tour in the late 1960s.

Gibbons uses a Mexican peso for a guitar pick that gives him the sound unique to the Top. And along with the sound of new songs such as "My Heads in Mississippi," "Decision or Collision" and "Burger Man," the concert is sure to include other favorites from the Eliminator (which sold 8 million copies) and Afterburner albums, including "Gimme All Your Lovin'," "Legs," and "Velcro Fly."

Teacher who inspired movie portrayal fired

BEVERLY HILLS, Mich. (AP) — The teacher who inspired Robin Williams' portrayal of an instructor in the movie "Dead Poets Society" has been dismissed by his prestigious school.

John Campbell said he was told that his contract with Detroit Country Day School won't be renewed this year. He's been with the school for 28 years.

"I don't fit their corporate image," said Campbell, 55, who taught history, government and English to Williams when the actor was growing up in Birmingham. "I have been for a long time very unconventional. The chairs in my classroom are not in straight rows."

A statement issued by the school said the decision came after years of reprimands.

"John Campbell has been on probation for several years, has been aware of the school's concerns and has not satisfactorily demonstrated a willingness to adhere to all the academic and professional standards of the school," Headmaster Gerald T. Hansen said.

When the 1988 movie premiered, Williams frequently said Campbell inspired his fictional character, John Keating. The screenplay was written by Tom Schulman, but Williams used his memories of Campbell in playing the role.

Williams' agent, Mark Rutenber, said the actor was sorry to hear of the firing.

Public Notice

On April 9, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to request that the optional feature "Call Transfer Disconnect" be available to all PLEXAR I customers by including the feature in Southwestern Bell's PLEXAR I tariff. Currently, this optional feature is available only on a customer requested basis.

Call Transfer Disconnect (CTD) is an optional feature that allows PLEXAR I customers the ability to transfer a call to another telephone number within or outside their PLEXAR I system, hang up, and permit the two remaining parties to continue with the call. The PLEXAR I user is then free to place or accept another call. CTD is not intended to be used to avoid toll charges. Therefore, CTD will not be available to PLEXAR I customers subscribing to optional Extended Metropolitan Service or Extended Area Calling Service.

If the company's application is approved, the monthly rate for CTD will be $4.00 for each PLEXAR I station line. Prior to the June 19, 1991, interim rate approval, Southwestern Bell was billing customers who receive the service $1.50 for each station line equipped with this feature. In addition, under Southwestern Bell's proposed tariff, every line within the PLEXAR I system must be equipped with this feature. The nonrecurring charge for the additional lines which must be equipped with CTD will be waived for existing CTD customers. The tariffed monthly rate will apply to all existing and future CTD customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

Woman who took kickball, off the hook

ROCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — An 88-year-old woman who was threatened with jail after she confiscated a young neighbor's kickball is off the hook.

A woman who read about the dispute and was reminded of her own elderly parents sent in $30.20 to pay a court judgment against Reba Martineau. The intervention did not satisfy the youngster's parents, but on Tuesday, a judge accepted the check rather than press Martineau herself to pay.

"A small claims court is not designed to punish, but rather make the plaintiff whole for any loss that was suffered as the result of the defendant's conduct," Judge Franklin Jones said.

Martineau had refused to return 9-year-old Gary Campbell's kickball after it went into her yard in a mobile home park in September. She claimed she and other elderly residents had been treated disrespectfully by neighborhood kids.

The boy's parents, Martha and Wayne Campbell, went to small claims court to get the ball or make her pay for it, winning the $30.20 judgment this spring.

But Martineau said she would pay "not one red cent," and could have been jailed for contempt.

Lynn Joslyn of Rye paid the judgment.

"It just touched me. I didn't need to hear — Was she a crotchety woman? Was she this, was she that? — I didn't care," Joslyn said Tuesday. "All I could see was an 88-year-old person who could go to jail if she didn't pay."

"I thought of my own parents that are 85 years old and I put it in perspective and I thought this lady really shouldn't be harassed."

After court fees are deducted, the Campbells would get $9.99 for a new ball. But Martha Campbell said she will refuse the check.

"I did not bring a small claim action against Lynn Joslyn of Rye," she said. She said she and her husband went to court to show their son the law cannot be broken.

In response to the publicity about the case, the family received some threatening phone calls and rude letters, but also gifts including a new ball for the boy, Mrs. Campbell said.

Tune in to the media

On television, we often see fist fights, car chases, people chasing each other, breaking, or throwing things. But remember, everything on a TV story is carefully staged and rehearsed. Specially trained people perform well-planned "stunts" that look real. Actors learn how to "fight" without actually hitting each other. They use props, such as break-away bottles made of plastic or furniture that easily falls apart in fight scenes. Sound effects of grunts and groans are often added to draw you close in to the action.

Action on television can make a show seem more exciting. After watching a TV show that is action packed, write down how you feel. Are you upset, scared, or restless? Talk with your family and friends and see if you can come up with a different approach to a TV scene where a problem was solved through violence. See if you can list some of the special effects used to make the program exciting. Turn off the sound during an action scene on TV. How does it seem to you now?

"Tune in to the media" was developed with expert contributions from Kathleen R. Tyner of the Center for Media Strategies in San Francisco and Dr. Jerome Singer and Dr. Dorothy Singer, co-directors of Yale University's Family Television Research and Consultant Center.

guidelines, said Decell. Reopening the airport would bring money into the local economy through fuel sales and other associated revenues, he added.

Although the proposal would not call for any firefighter position losses, the firefighters association is deeply concerned that the number of men per vehicle will not be raised to state recommended standards, said association president Paul Brown.

"In a recent National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health report, it is clear that firefighter deaths are preventable and that undermanned engine companies are clearly a contributing factor (to those deaths)," said Brown.

"It is our contention that city officials who disregard state recommended standards recognized by the National Fire Protection Association, the International Association of Fire Fighters, the International City Managers Association and the International Association of Fire Chiefs, need to be cautious of the outcome."

About the proposed funding cuts, Fire Chief Frank Anderson said, "We've been working very close with the city manager and council to come up with a budget that will allow us to provide the community with at least the same level of service as last year."

About the state board's findings, he said, "We may not be able to implement all recommendations that the State Board of Insurance suggests. This will undoubtedly affect the key rate (insurance rate assessed for Big Spring), but the council is aware of our predicament and I feel confident that they will take all this into consideration."

"Yes we need to be concerned about how our taxpayer dollars are spent, but cuts in public safety are not the answer," said Brown.

Another sore spot for the firefighters association, said Brown, is the disparity in salaries for Big Spring firefighters compared to other Texas cities. According to a survey by the Texas State Fire Fighters Association, Big Spring drivers, lieutenants and captains make from 30 to 40 percent less than the state average.

The debate is likely to continue in the next budget workshop scheduled Monday at 6 p.m. at city hall.

U.S. households slightly more crime-free

WASHINGTON (AP) — A decline in thefts meant less crime for American households last year, but nearly one-quarter still were victimized, the Justice Department says.

A total of 22,652,000 U.S. households, or 23.7 percent of total, were hit by crimes in 1990, the department reported Wednesday. In 1989, the figure was 23,221,000, or 24.6 percent of households.

"It's the lowest level we have seen since 1975," said Marshall DeBerry, a statistician with the department's Bureau of Justice Statistics.

Despite the improvements in virtually all categories, there were still wide disparities according to race, region and wealth, the report showed.

In the case of race, the prevalence of crime in households led by blacks and whites started about even in 1975, with 33 percent of black households and 32 percent of white ones victimized by at least one crime of violence or theft, bureau Director Steven D. Dillingham said.

By contrast, the level last year was 27.8 percent of black households and 23.1 percent of white ones. The figures were 29.1 percent for black homes in 1989; 24.3 percent for whites.

Last year, 31.3 percent of Hispanic-led households suffered a crime, an improvement over the 33.8 percent of 1989 but still far higher than the 23.1 percent of non-Hispanic homes. The rate for non-Hispanic homes was 24.3 percent in 1989.

Regionally, the West was the most crime-prone, with 27.9 percent of households hit, while the Northeast had the best rate, 19.8 percent, the report said. The South's rate was 24.3 percent and in the Midwest's was 23 percent. All but the Northeast improved from 1989.

The regional differences held both for violent crime — ranging from 5.5 percent of Western households to 3.8 percent of Northeastern ones — and theft — from 19.9 percent in the West to 13.3 percent in the Northeast.

The information comes from the National Crime Victimization Survey of people 12 years or older who live in some 50,000 households nationwide. The survey includes information on crimes not reported to police, but does not include murder, since the data comes solely from the direct victims of crime.

Although the 23,440 homicides reported last year were the most ever, the number would not influence the overall crime percentages, given the 34.8 million crimes reported in the survey.

This report does not reflect how many times a single household was victimized.

The report said most of 1990's reduction was due to a decline in thefts, and it attributed the difference in crimes for black- and white-headed households to differences in theft trends.

Private donations lead to D-FY-IT van

By MARSHA STURDIVANT
 Staff Writer

Private donations have allowed Big Spring High School D-FY-IT students to purchase a 1991 Pontiac Transport van, worth more than $15,000.

"We'll be using it (today) to go to Abilene to speak to the Texas War on Drugs conference and present D-FY-IT to the folks down there," said senior Charles Myers, board member of the Drug Free Youth in Texas group.

Stan Parker, resource officer for the Big Spring Police Department and sponsor for D-FY-IT, said several citizens in Big Spring donated the money for the van, in support of the organization.

"The ones who donated the money wish to remain anonymous," Parker said.

D-FY-IT garnered more than 60 percent of the high school students as members during its first year. The program provides rewards for students to stay off drugs through special events and discounts from area merchants.

The organization has no dues or fees, just a commitment from the students to stay drug free. Members are drug-tested initially upon entering the program and then randomly selected and tested for all illegal substances. The program offers help for students testing positive, as well as protecting the anonymity of the students.

The officers said they have some new goals for the second year of the organization.

"We're hoping to reach 80 percent membership this year. We hope to work to establish D-FY-IT throughout the state to reach more students and reach other schools," said board member and senior Travis Sinclair.

And president Jammie Haas, a senior, said, "And we'll be taking D-FY-IT into Runnels this year."

Haas and Sinclair said educating students about drinking alcoholic beverages will be another goal for the organization this year.

"D-FY-IT functions on an honor system, mainly," said board member Charles Myers.

Coahoma is also starting a D-FY-IT chapter this year, and the Big Spring students will meet with their officers during an assembly sometime after school begins, Parker said.

The new officers for the 1991-92 year are Kayla Roberts, vice-president; Leslie Fryar, second vice-president; Amber Grisham, secretary; and Shawna Griffith, treasurer. The members recently spoke to the Big Spring Rotary Club expressing thanks for their support last year.

Haas said she had also talked with area businesses who support the organization through discounts for products or services.

"We're talking about not setting a time limit on the discount offers, and the businesses seem real excited about that. They said that's the way it should have been set up in the first place," she said.

These four students, along with Mary Katherine Terrazas, Parker and Big Spring Police Chief Joe Cook, will travel to Abilene today.

Marilyn Golightly, from the San Angelo office for the Texas War on Drugs, invited the students to speak at the conference, Parker said.

Circuit Electronics donated a stereo for the seven-passenger vehicle.

revenue.

Asked if more revenue than anticipated could be collected again next year, she said, "I don't know."

One possible problem, she said, is that the county may lose a 5 percent sales tax to the state that is collected by the tax office every time an automobile is sold. That would be a loss of about $115,000 in revenues for next year, she said.

"That's why I try to be conservative."

Also, Precinct 3 Commissioner Bill Crooker said there may be unanticipated expenses in the areas of road maintenance, equipment operating and in workmen's compensation rates. "This is a year. The city is facing revenue losses fueled by a 14 percent drop in property values from last year.

If the county jail, which has a capacity of 36-42 prisoners, is filled, then the county would also have to contract with other agencies, Standard said. There are 28 prisoners at the jail now.

Another alternative, Standard said, would be to build another jail facility in Howard County. The best idea, he said, would be to work with local area governments to build a regional facility.

"The best thing Howard County could have is a regional jail with a lot of space in it," he said.

would still leave a deficit budget of $464,054. Each cent of tax brings in $115,766 of revenue.

No more cuts are targeted at this time following the reductions in county department budgets, county officials said.

"We have pretty well cut, to my knowledge, in all the areas we can cut. There's not fat left," Olson said.

"We're down to the fine cutting now," Lockhart said.

After today, commissioners will probably discuss the budget two more times, following regularly scheduled county meetings on Monday and Aug. 26, Lockhart said. A public hearing is being planned for Sept. 5.

preliminary, very preliminary budget," he said. "There's lots more information to be gathered."

Bilt Lockhart said he is optimistic that the final budget may be less than this year's. "Hopefully," he said.

Meanwhile, because of a 6 percent drop in county property values from last year, the effective tax rate — what is needed to bring in the same property tax revenue as last year — has increased by slightly more than 2 cents per $100 of property value, to about 34.89 cents.

The effective tax rate can be raised up to 8 percent without the threat of a tax rollback election, according to state law. An 8 percent increase would bring in an extra $323,116 in revenue, but that would still leave a deficit budget of $464,054. Each cent of tax brings in $115,766 of revenue.

go out of the jailing business, but as of yet that isn't proposed."

Besides operating costs, there is a lot of liability in operating a jail, he explained. "It's the greatest liability that you can have in your operation."

Because of the liability, Standard said he can understand the city wanting to close the city holding facility, but said, "I hate to see them losing that because it's got a lot of potential value." The facility, also built in the 1950s, has a capacity of more than 30 prisoners, he said.

However, Boyd said it needs extensive repairs that would cost over $75,000.

Wealthy districts said the law creates an unconstitutional state property tax, and unconstitutionally transfers local tax money from one school district to another.

If the county levy is a local tax, the wealthy districts said, a separate election should have been provided.

McCown disagreed with their arguments, and with contentions that the state does not pay a large enough share of the new system. He said that lawmakers simply were required to establish an efficient system.

"Such a system could constitutionally be funded completely with local dollars as long as it was efficient," McCown wrote.

that seven military men missing in Lebanon would be freed, or their remains turned over.

The Shiite Muslim group Islamic Jihad, in the statement announcing McCarthy's release, had said he was carrying a message for Perez de Cuellar.

McCarthy, speaking to reporters in Damascus under a picture of Syrian President Hafez Assad, confirmed he was carrying a message, but said little about its contents.

"I understand that the letter seeks the secretary-general's help in arranging the release of all prisoners and hostages being held in Lebanon, and for those held in Israel," he said, reading a handwritten statement.

"I cannot say any more about that now, as the letter is clearly for the secretary-general's personal attention. It would be better for him to make any comment."

Sources in Beirut said McCarthy had met with Perez de Cuellar's envoy, Giandomenico Picco, at Syrian military headquarters in Lebanon, and that Picco had traveled with him to Damascus.

The secretary-general said he is going to be in Geneva on Sunday for U.N. discussions on aid to Iraq. He has emphasized that he would be meet any envoy from the hostage-takers.

In Kentucky, Peggy Say said she believed the further release of hostages would depend on Israel releasing its Palestinian prisoners.

In Damascus, McCarthy said he had recently seen Anderson and Sutherland, as well as Waite, the envoy of the Archbishop of Canterbury. Waite was abducted Jan. 20, 1987, while on a mission to try to free the hostages. Until Irish hostage Brian Keenan was released last year and spoke of hearing Waite's voice, there had been no word of his fate.

"I am happy to be able to tell the families of the American hostages Terry Anderson and Tom Sutherland and my fellow Briton Terry Waite that when I left them two days ago they were in good health and good spirits," McCarthy told reporters.

"And that our living conditions recently are tolerable and you could call them good," he added.

He said of Waite, Anderson and Sutherland: "Whatever strength I have had to endure the past five years has really come from those men."

McCarthy, a television journalist, was clean shaven and did not have the gaunt, sickly look of hostages who had been released previously.

Stanton runner sets record

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

Stanton's Jeremy Stallings completed his summer track season by setting a new state record in the 800 meter run at the 1991 Texas Athletic Amateur Federation Pepsi Games at Carrollton last weekend.

Stallings ran a 1:54.8 to set the record in the 17-18 year-old age division. Stallings also holds the state record of 1:55.9 in the 800 meter run for the 15-16 age division at the meet.

Cathey falls in PRCA bull riding

Coahoma bull rider Wacey Cathey dropped from 12th to 16th on the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Cathey has won $26,323. The leader is Clint Branger of Roscoe, Mont. with $54,009. Bowie's Tuff Hedeman is next with $53,686 and Kermit's Jim Sharp is third with $42,355.

The top 15 in each event qualify for the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas, Nev. in November.

Ringener places in bowling tourney

Local professional bowler Phillip Ringener placed at the $135,000 Columbia 300 at Highland Lanes in Austin.

Ringener placed 37th and won $910. Brian Voss of Boca Raton, Fla. won first place and earned $21,000. Second place went to Scott Devers of Richard, Ind., who won $12,000. Third place went to Tony Westlake of Edmond, Okla., winning $7,500.

Three-way tie in scramble play

In news from the Comanche Trail Ladies Golf Association...

There was a three-way tie for first place in couples scramble play Thursday evening.

The teams tied were: John Ray Hernandez and Debbie Rodriguez; Jim and Annie Ward and Gerald and Ramona Harris; Joe and Patsy Sharpnack and John and Darla Swindell.

In Monday afternoon ladies play, the team of Patsy Sharpnack, Betty Auckland and Betty Murphy shot a one-under-par on the front nine in scramble play.

Second place went to the team of Georgia Newsom, Tammy Newsom and Ramona Harris who shot an even par.

Football equipment issued today

Big Spring high school football players will receive their equipment Thursday morning starting at 8 at the high school field house.

Two-a-day workouts begin Aug. 12.

Tournament play set in Snyder

The Jaramillos Summer Classic II, a men's slow-pitch softball tournament, will be this weekend at Winston Park in Snyder.

Entry fee is $100 per team. The top five teams receive team trophies and the top three teams receive individual trophies. There will also be awards for MVP, all-tournament, sportsmanship and home runs.

For more information call Rocky Vieira at 267-7773.

U.S. boxers off to good start

HAVANA (AP) — It doesn't matter if they're the second string, as long as they finish first.

That's the way the U.S. boxing team is thinking at the Pan American Games.

"There's not that much difference between the first team and second team," U.S. boxer Kenneth Friday said. "The papers have been saying, 'Why not send the first team?' But in the U.S., we've always had more than one guy that's competitive, and we're here to show that's true."

Friday was one of two Americans who came away victorious from Wednesday night's first day of boxing at the Pan American Games. Friday, a medic at Offutt Air Force Base in Nebraska, stopped Eddy Saenz of Nicaragua at 2:18 of the second round in their 125-pound bout.

Revea Springs of Cincinnati scored a unanimous decision over Hernan Mena of Colombia in the 156-pound class.

"I'm glad to get the first one out of the way," Springs said. "It takes a lot of the stress off. I've got a long way to go to win."

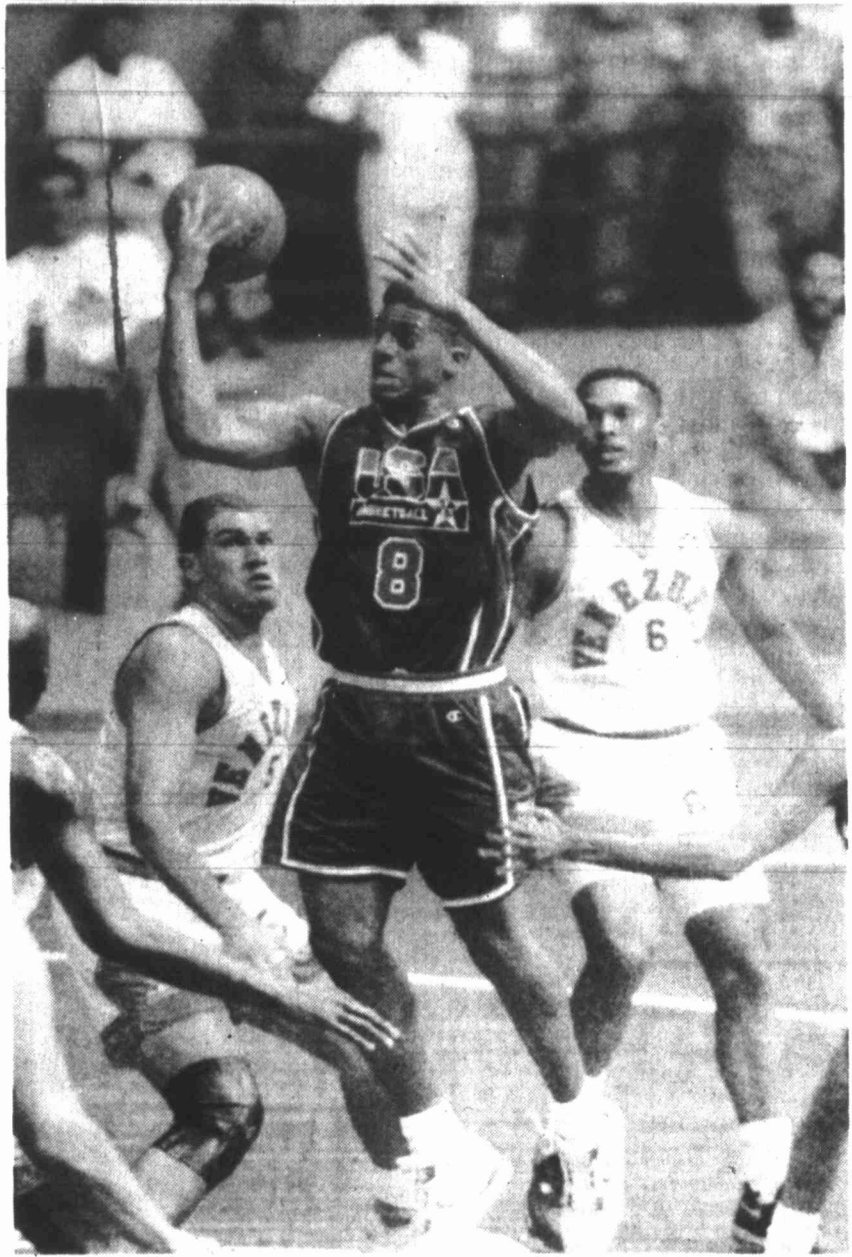

So do America's other 11 boxers, and the road probably will lead straight to a Cuban. Two Cubans won fights on the opening day, and tonight's action will see the first of three opening-round Cuba-USA matchups — light flyweights Bradley Martinez of Rapid City, S.D., and Marcelo Rogelio.

For Cletus Clark, the quest is over. He won the first gold for the American men's track and field team in the 110-meter high hurdles. It was the only American gold, though, in eight track finals Wednesday.

The U.S. baseball team also continued its march toward a showdown with Cuba by keeping its record perfect in three games with a 12-0 rout of Aruba. This was a shoot-out the Americans won, hands down.

America thought it had won three other shootouts, too, but a Cuban judge turned thumbs down on one of them, and the U.S. shooters wound up with just three medals.

John McNally of Columbus, Ga., set a Pan Am Games record in winning the rapid fire pistol and led America to another gold in the team competition. Then, Jimmie McCoy, also of Columbus, Ga., had his pistol disqualified for not carrying a registration sticker in the team free pistol, and the U.S. team was knocked from first to 12th, allowing the Cubans to win.

"It seems like a little home-cooking to me," McCoy said. "The Cubans checked my gun on Aug. 2, and they did not properly complete the registration."

Through five days of games, Cuba still held a substantial lead over the United States in the medals table. The Cubans had 70 medals, 43 gold. The United States had 56 medals, only 16 gold.

Concern arose over the U.S. Pan Am boxing team three weeks ago when all 12 of the winners at the Olympic Festival in Los Angeles decided to skip the trip to Cuba to prepare for the world championships. Now, these boxers face the unenviable task of taking on the powerful Cubans.

"The Cuban fans have sort of a love-hate relationship with us," Friday said. "I think they'd like to see us beat the other countries so we can fight the Cubans. And that's what we're here for. We were all talking about it when we came over here. We're not overlooking anybody, but everybody was talking about the Cubans, so we really prepared hard."

Friday, at 29 the oldest man on the team, looked ready in his match against the tall, left-handed fighter from Nicaragua. He worked to his body during most of the first round, then, at 1:56 of the second round, forced Saenz to take a standing-8 count with a left-right, followed by a three-punch combination. The referee stopped it 22 seconds later after Friday landed another flurry.

"I guess the team was looking for someone to set the tone, and I'm glad I was able to get things started," he said. "I'm the old guy, and it's even better to start off with the old guy. I hope some of the younger guys are saying now, 'Hey, the old man did it. We can do it too.'"

The Cuban in his weight class, Arnaldo Mesa, stopped Jose Martinez of Puerto Rico in the first round.

Springs, a left-handed fighter, used a quick right jab and forced the Colombian to take a standing-8 count in the third round in pouncing out the decision. In another 156-pound fight, Juan Lemus of Cuba stopped Christian Joseph of the Virgin Islands in the second round after forcing him to take two standing-8 counts.

Four years ago at the Indianapolis Pan Am Games, Cletus Clark fell between the fourth and fifth hurdles, ending his chances for a gold medal. This time, he had some trouble with the final three hurdles but finished in 13.71 seconds for the victory.

A rude return for Glanville?

SUWANEE, Ga. (AP) — Jerry Glanville isn't sure what kind of reception he'll get when he returns to the Astrodome for the first time since his stormy departure as coach of the Houston Oilers.

"Mixed, mixed, mixed," the Atlanta Falcons coach said.

"Loud, I can guarantee you."

His Falcons will meet the Oilers in a preseason game Friday night.

"We all have these selective memories where we can forget the things we don't enjoy and remember the good things," Glanville said. "I will be able to hear the three people cheering, the three people who told me they would come."

He said two factors keep this from being an emotional event for him. One is that it's not a regular-season game, but mostly it's because he's already played the Oilers since becoming coach of the Falcons.

Atlanta opened the 1990 regular season at home with a 47-27 victory over the Oilers.

Glanville coached the Oilers for four seasons plus two games as the interim coach in 1985. He had a 33-32 regular season mark at Houston and a 2-3 record in three years of playoff competition.

He left in a dispute with the front office and was hired shortly thereafter to return to Atlanta, where he served as an assistant coach from 1977 to 1982.

He said he never had a thing against Oilers owner Bud Adams or the city of Houston.

"If Bud and I could have been the only two people who talked, I'd still be there," he said.

Glanville said his one-day visit to Houston will include a meal at his favorite Mexican restaurant and a trip to his old neighborhood in Sugar Land.

"I might even try to find the snake that bit me," he said, remembering a run-in with a reptile in his backyard.

49ers whip Broncos, 24-6

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — No wonder Steve Young is in mid-season form.

He already has as many starts at quarterback as he had all of last season with the San Francisco 49ers.

"I need more of that. ... That's fun," said Young, who started Wednesday night's exhibition against Denver and threw for a touchdown in the 49ers' 24-6 victory.

Joe Montana was given the night off to spare him from having to play a second game in four days. The 49ers were in Berlin, where they beat the Chicago Bears on Saturday, and didn't get back home until Sunday.

Young, signed during the off-season to a two-year, $4.5 million contract to become the league's highest-paid reserve, completed 9 of 12 passes for 76 yards. Bono also was 9 of 12 for 72 yards, while Ralph Martini finished up the last few minutes without attempting a pass.

Young threw a 9-yard touchdown to Jerry Rice and Mike Cofer kicked a 37-yard field goal for San Francisco's 10-3 halftime lead.

Spencer Tillman and James Gray scored on fourth-quarter runs of 1 and 5 yards, respectively, as San Francisco improved to 3-0 in exhibition play.

Denver has scored only one touchdown while losing two of its three exhibitions. Against the 49ers, they managed two field goals by Tracy Bennett covering 29 and 27 yards.

Elway was 9 of 19 for 87 yards after completing just one of his first six and failing to get a first down during Denver's three first-quarter possessions.

He and backup Gary Kubiak, seeing his first action since back surgery in May to repair a herniated disc, called their own plays during the game.

Denver coach Dan Reeves said afterward that he plans to relinquish his play calling role and turn it over to his quarterback.

Elway said the first-time play calling effort in a game situation was a learning experience for him.

Despite Montana's absence, the 49ers were able to assert themselves early, scoring on their first possession.

Rice snared Young's pass over the middle, beating defensive back Charles Dimry, who joined Denver as Plan B free agent from Atlanta.

Cofer's field goal followed cornerback Kevin Lewis' interception of Elway and a 44-yard return to Denver's 27.

Mets end losing skid

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Mets pay Dwight Gooden $5 million to be their ace. They got more than their money's worth against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Gooden personally snapped the Mets out of their seven-game losing streak Wednesday night, allowing four hits in eight innings and contributing a two-run single in a 7-1 victory over Pittsburgh.

In other NL games, it was Los Angeles 2, Cincinnati 0; San Francisco 1, Atlanta 0; Montreal 1, St. Louis 0; Philadelphia 5, Chicago 4 in 11 innings, and San Diego 7, Houston 4.

During the seven-game slide, the Mets were outscored 31-10 and were often out of the game early. But Gooden kept the Mets in a scoreless tie until the fifth inning.

Gooden added a two-run single in the sixth. Bobby Bonilla's RBI single in the eighth spoiled the shutout bid.

Padres 7, Astros 4
Houston's nine-game winning streak ended as Bruce Hurst won his fifth straight game and Jerald Clark's double keyed a four-run eighth inning for the visiting Padres.

NL

Hurst (14-5) allowed seven hits and struck out eight before Larry Andersen got the last out for his seventh save.

Dodgers 2, Reds 0
Like the Mets, the third-place Reds had a chance to gain on the leaders in their division; unlike New York, they couldn't do it as Bob Ojeda and two relievers combined on a three-hitter at Riverfront Stadium.

Giants 1, Braves 0
Late arrivals at Fulton County missed all the scoring, as rookie Darren Lewis hit the game's second pitch over the left-field fence for his first career homer.

Expos 1, Cardinals 0
Mark Gardner didn't pitch a no-hitter this time, but he did get the win, allowing five hits in 8 1/3 innings to help Montreal end a seven-game losing streak.

Phillies 5, Cubs 4
The Phillies won for the eighth straight time, their longest streak in seven years, on Wes Chamberlain's bases-loaded single in the 11th at Veterans Stadium.

White Sox bomb Yankees

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS

After hitting some sour notes in his previous appearance, Jack McDowell put on a command performance against the New York Yankees.

"The difference was I didn't get anyone out last time. This time I had a better fastball, better command and things went my way," McDowell said after the Chicago pitcher hurled the White Sox to a 10-2 victory over the Yankees Wednesday night.

In other games, it was Oakland 6, Seattle 1; California 8, Minnesota 1; Milwaukee 4, Baltimore 2; Toronto 5, Detroit 2; Kansas City 2, Boston 0, and Texas 12, Cleveland 10.

McDowell (14-6) equaled his career-high of 14 wins last year and turned in his major league-leading 10th complete game with a seven-hitter. He struck out six and walked none.

After hitting some sour notes in his previous appearance, Jack McDowell put on a command performance against the New York Yankees.

Rangers 12, Indians 10

Brian Downing's two-run single capped a three-run eighth inning, rallying Texas over visiting Cleveland.

Rubin Sierra also knocked in a run with a double as Texas overcame a 10-9 Cleveland lead to defeat Shawn Hillegas (2-3).

Mike Jeffcoat, who pitched two innings of relief, picked up his fifth victory against two losses. Jeff Russell earned his 22nd save by pitching the ninth inning.

Earlier, Chris James and Albert Belle hit homers and Carlos Martinez produced three RBIs as the Indians took their 10-9 lead.

Athletics 6, Mariners 1
Scott Brosius homered, doubled and assisted on a key double play in his major league debut as Oakland beat visiting Seattle, completing a three-game sweep.

Angels 8, Twins 1
Jim Abbott pitched one-hit ball for eight innings and Wally Joyner hit two homers and drove in five runs as California snapped its seven-game losing streak.

Brewers 4, Orioles 2
Jaime Navarro gave Milwaukee's beleaguered bullpen a rest by throwing his seventh complete game, and Willie Randolph had three hits to help the Brewers beat Baltimore at Memorial Stadium.

Blue Jays 5, Tigers 2

Joe Carter's tie-breaking, two-out single highlighted a three-run seventh and Juan Guzman allowed two hits over seven innings as the Blue Jays increased their lead in the AL East to 6 1/2 games over the visiting Tigers.

Roberto Alomar tied the game with a sacrifice fly off Frank Tanana (8-8) and Carter broke the tie with his base hit. John Olerud followed with an RBI single for a 4-2 lead.

Royals 2, Red Sox 0
Kevin Appier pitched a four-hitter as the Royals beat the visiting Red Sox for their second straight shutout and a sweep of their three-game series.

It was the first victory this season for Appier (9-7) against Boston and the first loss to Kansas City for Roger Clemens (12-8). Clemens had been tough against the Royals with an 11-2 record through 17 career starts.

UT out to prove last year was no fluke

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas football coach David McWilliams says he was surprised at the Longhorns' 10-2 Southwest Conference championship season last year, and others also wonder if it was a fluke.

"The No. 1 question I get asked is, 'Was last year for real? Is Texas really back?' I think that's the No. 1 question this team has to answer," McWilliams said of his 1991 squad.

First, Texas has to forget the 46-3 whipping delivered by Miami in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas on Jan. 1, which dropped the Longhorns from third to No. 12 in college football.

"As a coach, you hate to think that your team may have been intimidated, but it may have happened some," McWilliams said.

Secondly, Longhorn coaches have to turn out a punter and place kicker. "That's my No. 1 and 2 concerns," McWilliams said.

He said by his count, in 1988 and 1989, Texas lost five games it should have won because of breakdowns in the kicking game.

Last season, however, Michael Pollak ranked third in the nation in number of field goals, kicking 20 of 26, as well as 39 of 39 extra points, and Alex Waits was No. 11 among punters with an average of 42.7 yards.

Both were seniors in their final year of eligibility.

Quarterback Peter Gardere is a possible replacement for Waits as the punter, but there appears to be a drop off among Longhorn place kickers. Jason Ziegler was sick during spring training, and walk-on Craig Dickey is accurate but is not strong enough to kick off, McWilliams said.

SWC Preview

"We've just got to hope someone comes through like Pollak," he said.

Texas' chances of repeating as SWC champion depend upon a veteran defense that allowed only 301 yards a game and a rushing offense headed by 214-pound Butch Hadnot, who led Longhorn rushers as a freshman with 541 yards and eight touchdowns.

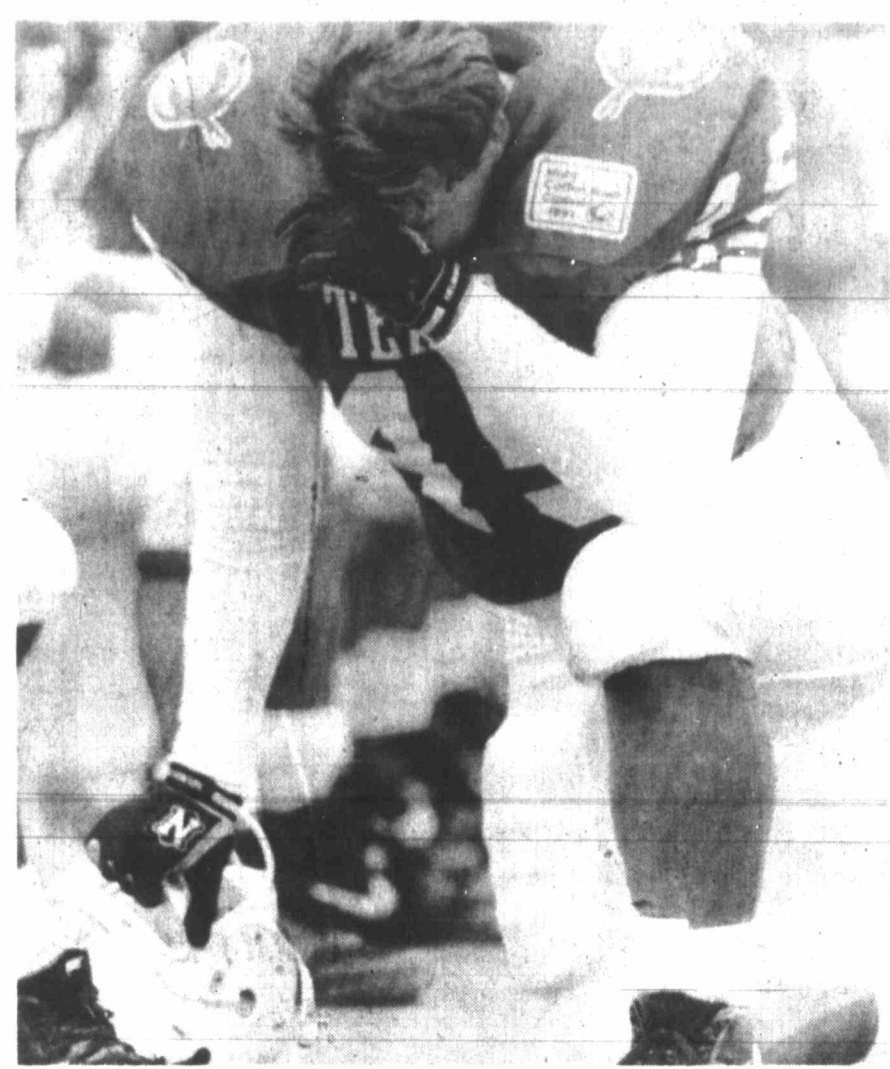

Some have touted a front four that includes defensive end Shane Dronett and tackles James Patton and Tommy Jeter as perhaps the best in the nation.

The secondary lost All-American safety Stanley Richard, a first-round pro draft choice, but returns all-SWC safety Lance Gunn.

Gardere completed 56.5 percent of his passes for 2,131 yards in 1990, but a trio of receivers who have departed had 95 receptions for 10 touchdowns and will be missed. "The receivers are still a question mark," McWilliams said.

He said offensive tackle Stan Thomas, another first-round pro selection, also would be difficult to replace.

"It's always tough to repeat," McWilliams said. "I think last year we were overlooked some."

Before Texas defensive end Bo Robinson (45) and his teammates can defend their Southwest Conference title, they have to forget the 46-3 whipping delivered by the University of Miami in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas on Jan. 1.

U.S. relay sets world record

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — For 11 months, something wasn't quite right in the world of U.S. relay racing.

A blazing anchor leg by Carl Lewis helped change that Wednesday as the United States brought the 400-meter relay world record home in 37.67 seconds.

But, arguably, the star of the Weltklasse meet was Zambia's Samuel Matete, with a near record in the 400 hurdles.

In the 400 hurdles, Matete powered past U.S. champion Danny Harris in the final stretch to win in 47.10 — the second-fastest time ever behind Ed Moses' 8-year-old world record of 47.02.

Lewis, Leroy Burrell, Mike Marsh and Dennis Mitchell were fired up in the relay by France's European champion team. The French shared the record with virtually the same U.S. lineup since a meet in Monaco last Saturday.

"All America, no French," chanted Lewis, who's blistering anchor leg sealed the mark. No split times were available.

"The record belongs in the U.S. and will stay there," Burrell said.

The relay record seems likely to influence which U.S. team will run at the World Championships in Tokyo which begin Aug. 24.

Look out, it's Gerald

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Former President Ford, whose golf game while he was in the White House made him a butt of jokes when wayward shots struck spectators, has been awarded the PGA of America's Distinguished Service Award.

The award is the highest given to non-members of the golfers' group. The award, presented Wednesday, recognized Ford for his contributions to the game. The Jerry Ford Invitational, for instance, has raised more than $1 million for charity since 1977.

"I prize this award because of my great admiration for the members of the PGA," Ford said. "They epitomize excellence in athletics." He also joked about his golf game. "Bob Hope says I've made golf a combat sport," Ford said.

Rose is charged

CLAYTON, Mo. (AP) — Axl Rose has been charged with assault and property damage over a riot that followed an aborted Guns N' Roses concert last month.

The misdemeanor charges filed against the heavy metal group's lead singer Wednesday by St. Louis County prosecutor Robert McCulloch carry a combined penalty of up to 4 1/2 years in jail and $4,500 in fines.

Tracey has another

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Tracey Ullman has given birth to her second child.

John Albert Victor, 8 pounds and 13 ounces, was born Tuesday, a spokesman for the comedian and her husband, producer Allan McKewen, said.

Wednesday, Ullman's first child, Mabel, is 5 years old.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, 1991

HAPPY BIRTHDAY! IN THE NEXT YEAR OF YOUR LIFE: Rapid career gains will come through travel. Widen your circle of contacts. Promotional work will enhance your earnings in October. Taking a special trip in December will bring good luck. A windfall or legacy in early 1992 means greater emotional and financial security. Changing your appearance will boost your ego in late spring.

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DATE: actress Melanie Griffith, tennis great Rod Laver, comedian David Steinberg, boxer Ken Norton.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Faith and courage are your keys to success as the work week winds down. You are capable of making a cherished dream come true. Take a parent or older person into your confidence.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Adopting a more realistic attitude will help you accomplish more. Take the initiative in business and you will be given new opportunities. Expand your social circle.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Forge ahead with your plans, but seek an influential person's approval before instigating major changes. Keep in touch with a former employer who can provide viable job leads.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Long-range domestic stability is linked to your making a greater effort to please a loved one. Be careful not to take mate for granted. A spontaneous invitation or compliment is deeply appreciated.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You may find it hard to express yourself or get in touch with someone you like today. Lighten up. Work goes well when you focus on it. Postpone a time-consuming talk until Monday.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You receive new recognition from your peers. Others applaud the brilliance and originality of your ideas. Be patient when trying to correct an injustice. You need to supply proof of your allegations.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Greater self-discipline is required on the job. Call a halt to socializing during office hours. An old friend shares a clever idea. The future looks brighter. A change of lifestyle adds to your comfort.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A loving relationship thrills you. Fulfill your family obligations with good grace. Someone who has been indifferent in the past seeks your company. Go slow. Avoid revealing too much too soon.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Family concerns dominate. Get your office and household supplies organized. Interesting new acquaintances sharpen your wits. You question something that you always took for granted.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You have a lot of authority and can use it to help those in need. Lost articles surface in strange places. Pursue a new idea, even if your associates are not enthusiastic.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Shared funds could come under discussion. Be prepared to make certain concessions. Travel is best postponed. A business associate wants to join forces with you. Give this person's proposal careful consideration.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): The emphasis today is on resisting temptation. Do not let old habits interfere with your future happiness. A new romance could be exactly what you want. Forget past mistakes. An old wound has healed.

Stanton Herald

Thursday

Serving Martin County

August 8, 1991

Supplement to the Big Spring Herald

Sidelines

School year starts Aug. 15

Classes in Stanton schools will begin Aug. 15, according to SISK officials. Supply lists for elementary students may be picked up at the elementary school, Stanton Drug, Thriftway, Bill's IGA and Perry's.

Registration for pre-kindergarten, kindergarten and other elementary students that are new to Stanton ISD will be held Aug. 5-9 and Aug. 12-14 in the elementary principal's office.

Children's names will be posted on the door of their new classroom. All teachers and staff will be on duty Aug. 15 to guide children to their rooms.

Parents that have questions are encouraged to call the elementary principal's office at 756-2285.

Middle school student schedules

Students in grades 6-8 will receive their schedules during first period Thursday, Aug. 15.

An assembly will be held at 8:10 a.m. when the first bell rings. The students will be assigned a homeroom and in the homeroom they will be given their class schedules and fill out their student enrollment cards.

Students need to bring their birth certificates and social security cards with them Aug. 15.

High school students register

High school students may pick up their schedules Tuesday, Aug. 13. Seniors may get their schedules and books from 8:30-10 a.m., juniors from 10:11-30 a.m., sophomores from 12:30-2 p.m. and freshman from 2:31-30 p.m.

Any schedule changes will be made on that day. Any student new to the district should contact the high school before that day if possible. Students not able to get their schedules that day may come on Wednesday or Thursday.

County accepts TDJC proposal

The Martin County Commissioners Court decided to accept a proposal from the Texas Department of Criminal Justice concerning transfer of parole violators during a special meeting at the Martin County Courthouse last week.

The TDJC proposal calls for parole violators to be transferred to private facilities contracting with the state agency instead of being housed at the county level. The transfers will occur at no cost to county taxpayers, County Judge Bob Deavenport said.

The proposal will take effect upon final approval by TDJC, "probably around Sept. 1," Deavenport said. He estimated that the county currently handles about three or four alleged parole violators a year.

Hospice joins recycling project

ODESSA — Hospice of the Southwest has joined the Odessa Litterbusters' "Time Machine" recycling project.

Anyone wishing to donate aluminum cans, business paper or glass or plastic containers may designate that the proceeds from those items be donated to the hospice.

Collection hours are 8-11 a.m. Monday, 3-6 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday at the collection point at 816 W. 42nd St. in Odessa.

For more information, contact Hospice Executive Director Connie Brinker at 332-1431.

Getting ready

Cissie Hobbs, a senior trumpet player for the Stanton High School Band, tapes a banner to the band hall wall recently. The "study now, party later," inscription will soon take on an added meaning for Stanton school district students when school starts locally Aug. 15.

Stanton band state finalist

HERALD STAFF REPORT

The Stanton High School Band won fourth runner-up honors in Class 2A at the recent Texas Music Educators Association State Contest in San Antonio.

Iraan was named honor band in Class 2A, followed by Eldorado, Bullard, New Diana and Stanton. Only the top five bands in each classification qualified for state finalist recognition.

SHS Band Director Kirke McKenzie said this was the first time in his memory that Stanton qualified for the state TMEA finals. "I've entered tapes before, but this is the first time we've made the finals," he said.

McKenzie said a tape of the band's performance at the University Interscholastic League concert contest in April was entered in the TMEA regional contest June 5. Stanton placed second there, as well as in area competition July 21 to qualify for the July 28 state contest.

Only nine bands in Class 2A qualified for the state competition, he added.

The Stanton High School Band goes through its paces during marching contest last year. The band recently won fourth runner-up honors in Class 2A during the Texas Music Educators Association Honor Band competition.

The band's performance included the selections "March Juno," "Yorkshire Ballad" and "Declaration Overture." It was the same performance that earned the band UIL sweepstakes honors for the fourth consecutive year.

The "Best Band Herd" is currently busy preparing for its fall half-time performances. Pre-season practices continue through Aug. 13.

Shooters fare well in Lubbock

The Stanton Super Shooters youth trap and skeet team continues to rake in the medals.

At the recent Lubbock trap and skeet meet, the Stantonites earned 14 top-three finishes in the different shooting categories. Leading the way were the junior two-man team of Ryan Webb and Kenneth Kendall and the senior three-man team of David White, Shane Louder and Robby Wilson, who won High Overall honors in their respective divisions.

In the junior division, Webb and Kendall teamed to take first place in trap and second in skeet. Individually, Webb placed third in skeet, sixth in trap and was second in the individual overall competition. Kendall placed fourth in the trap category.

The senior team of White, Louder and Wilson were particularly successful at the meet. Aside from their overall title, the trio teamed to take first place in both skeet and trap shooting.

In individual competition, Wilson won high overall honors based on his first place finish in skeet and his runner-up spot in trap. White was second in the overall competition, placing second in trap and fifth in skeet.

The sub-junior team of Chad Smith, Jim Bob Haggerton and Jody Louder also fared well, taking third in skeet and second in trap. Individually, Haggerton finished third in skeet while Smith took sixth in trap shooting.

The Super Shooters' next action was at the State Shoot in Waco. Results will be in next week's Herald.

Exhibit at historical museum honors early resident Stoeger

By STEVE REAGAN Staff Writer

The Martin County Historical Museum recently opened an exhibit honoring one of the county's first residents — shoemaker-rancher Joseph Stoeger.

Stoeger was born in the Bavarian region of Germany Sept. 17, 1850 and came to the United States 31 years later. He and his family came to Mariefeld — Stanton's precursor — in 1884 at the urging of a friend, according to museum documents.

He opened a shoemaker's shop on Main Street and soon established himself in this area as a shoe and boot maker. The major customers for his handmade boots were area cattle and sheep men, as well as a store in Midland.

"Grandpa," as Stoeger was known, was quoted as saying that, when he first opened his shop, he frequently shot antelope from his work bench. He also recalled sighting buffalo along the railroad tracks.

In 1897, he, his wife and their six children — Louis, John, Frank, Henry, Annie and Mary — moved to an adobe house he built on a section of land three miles west of town.

There, he did a little farming and ranching, eventually building his herd of Hereford cattle to about 150 head. Farming and ranching took lots of his time, but he continued to make boots and shoes on order, museum documents state.

"I can think of all kinds of things about him," said his granddaughter, Beulah Stoeger, who now lives in Big Spring. "He was just a good, little man. He was always good to us kids."

Aside from his farming and ranching duties, he also served in the community. He was Stanton's postmaster from 1889-93 and helped organize The First National Bank in 1906. He also was instrumental in the construction of

Sidelines

Beneficiaries need to provide SSNs

Nearly 500,000 veterans and dependents receiving compensation and pension benefits from the Department of Veterans Affairs are being asked to provide their social security numbers to remain eligible for monthly payments.

The disclosure requirement will permit the VA to match its beneficiary rolls against files of other agencies to verify continued eligibility.

"This action is necessary to ensure the integrity of our benefits payment system and those of other federal agencies," VA Chief Benefits Director D'Wayne Grady said. "The law does not require that our beneficiaries have a social security number. If they do not, they simply have to tell us."

Beneficiaries have 60 days to respond to the requests. Those who fail to respond may face suspension or termination of their benefits. Beneficiaries whose addresses have changed and do not receive the request should contact their nearest VA regional office.

Host families sought for students

Host families are being sought for high school exchange students from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Switzerland, Germany, Spain, France and other European, Asian and South American countries for the 1991-92 school year in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange.

The students, ages 15-17, will arrive in the United States this month, attend a local high school and return to their home countries in June 1992. Students are fluent in English, have been screened by their school representatives and have spending money and medical insurance.

Host families may deduct $50 per month for income tax purposes.

For more information contact AISE at 1-800-SIBLING.

OC offering culinary courses

ODESSA — Students interested in a career in food services are invited to attend informational sessions at Odessa College Aug. 13 and 20.

Both sessions will be from 6-7 p.m. in the Community Room on the second floor of the OC Student Union Building.

Peter Lewis, director of culinary arts and one of two certified chefs teaching in the OC program, will demonstrate cooking and those attending will have the chance to sample his recipes.

According to Lewis, food service is the fastest growing industry in the United States.

Depot news

By A.L. (BUD) LINDSEY

When the self appointed team of two arrived at the Depot on last Friday they had advance knowledge that the menu featured chicken and dumplings as the main course — one of their favorites.

The team had plans for some time to sample the fare at the center and the promised C&D menu was a strong motivating factor.

The meals are prepared at the kitchen facilities of the Stanton elementary in a cooperative agreement between the center and the SISD, and picked up at the school by the center's van.

The meal is served from large pots in a serving line manned by volunteers from the senior members observing guide lines that would make the Health Department envious. The menu selections are dished out in partitioned serving trays which are returned to the school kitchen for proper washing after the meal.

The cost of each meal to the seniors is minimal, each being asked to make a donation of $1.50, but this is not a hard, fast rule.

If the participant is low on funds he or she need not pay. Anyone under the age of 60 is asked to make a donation of $2 per meal. On the day of our visit, about 20 meals were served in the center. In addition, eight meals were dished into portable serving units and were delivered, while still hot, to home-bound seniors in Stanton.

In order to be fair in our evaluation of the meal we decided to give weights on a scale of one to 10 on the following points: Flavor and taste, quantity of serving and appearance.

It is understood that this is a personal evaluation not necessarily the judgement of anyone at the Center nor of anyone on the staff of the Stanton or Big Spring Herald.

Being devoted eaters of C&D, as some are devoted followers of good chicken fried steak, we base our opinions on the way our mother used to make them, the tasty servings at Furr's, a small cafe near Wickett, and offerings by some family cooks who are experts. With this in mind we have to give the C&D a 10 on flavor and taste, a 15 on quantity and a 10 on flavorful appearance. They were great!

The main dish of C&D was enhanced by servings of candied sweet potatoes, (10-10-8), English peas, (9-10-8; I really do not care for English peas) and banana pudding, (7-10-9).

We were pleasantly surprised to see that they do offer iced tea and water as an alternative to milk as listed on the menu. The sliced bread that was served is locally baked at the school kitchen and very good. An excellent meal in pleasant surroundings!

A nutritious lunch is served every week-day about 11:30 a.m., but you need to notify the center either in person or by phone preferrably the day before, but early in the day of the lunch is OK.

Lunch menu for week of Aug. 12:
Monday — Ravioli Casserole, buttered cabbage, english peas, fruit jello and milk.

Tuesday — Beef and Cheese Pizza, vegetable salad, buttered corn, fruit jello and milk.

Wednesday — Bean chalupas, french fries, buttered spinach, cooked prunes and milk.

Thursday — Scalloped beef and potatoes, cole slaw, green beans, spiced fruit, hot rolls and milk.

Friday — Barbecue chicken, mixed vegetables, banana pudding, hot rolls and milk.

Activities for week of Aug. 12:
Monday — Quilting, 1 p.m.
Tuesday — Singing, 10:30 a.m.; Singing, 7 p.m.

Wednesday — Bingo, 10 a.m.

Thursday — Band at nursing home 10 a.m.; council meeting 12:30 p.m.; games 6 p.m.

Friday — Center open, but no activities scheduled because of Martin County Fair.

1991 Property Tax Rates in MARTIN COUNTY HOSPITAL DISTRICT
MARTIN COUNTY HOSPITAL DISTRICT

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for DISTRICT. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$ 835,911
Last year's debt taxes	$ -0-
Last year's total taxes	$ 835,911
Last year's tax base	$ 480,408,620
Last year's total tax rate	$ .174 /$100
This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 835,911
÷ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$ 497,369,844
= This year's effective tax rate	$ .16806 /$100

(In the first year a city or county collects the additional sales tax it must insert the following lines unless it made its first adjustment last year.)

— Sales tax adjustment rate	$ /$100
= Effective tax rate	$ /$100
× 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$ .17310 /$100

This year's rollback tax rate:

Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 835,911
÷ This year's adjusted tax base	$ 497,369,844
= This year's effective operating rate	$ -0-
— .72 for school district (or zero)	$ -0-
× 1.08 (or add $08 for schools) = this year's maximum operating rate	$ .18150 /$100
+ This year's debt rate	$ -0- /$100

(A school district must insert the following lines)

= This year's rollback rate before adjustment	$ /$100
+ Rate to recoup lost revenue	$ /$100
= Adjusted rollback rate	$ /$100
= This year's rollback rate	$ .18150 /$100

(A city or county that collects the additional sales tax (including one that collects the tax for the first time this year) must insert the following lines.)

— Sales tax adjustment rate	$ /$100
= Rollback tax rate	$ /$100

SCHEDULE A: Unencumbered Fund Balances

The following balances will probably be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the current fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance

SCHEDULE B: 1991 Debt Service

The unit plans to pay the following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

Description of Debt	Principal or Contract Payment to be Paid	Interest to be Paid	Other Amounts to be Paid	Total Payment
Total required for 1991 debt service			-0-
- Amount (if any) paid from funds listed in Schedule A			-0-
- Excess collections last year			-0-
= Total to be paid from taxes in 1991			-0-
+ Amount added in anticipation that the unit will collect only 100% of its taxes in 1991			-0-
= Total Debt Service Levy			-0-

SCHEDULE C: Expected Revenue from Additional Sales Tax
(For counties and cities with additional-1/2 cent sales tax)

In calculating its effective and rollback tax rates, the unit estimated that it will receive $ -0- in additional sales and use tax revenues.

This notice contains a summary of actual effective and rollback tax rate calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at MARTIN COUNTY APPRAISAL DISTRICT

Conservative approach keeps bank going strong

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

A conservative approach to business, plus a diversity in lending procedures, has helped the First National Bank of Stanton remain viable for more than 80 years, its president said recently.

First National first opened its doors in 1906 in the building now occupied by Stanton Drug. It moved to its current location, the southwest corner of St. Peter and St. Anna streets, in 1952.

The bank is a full-service bank, meaning that it offers all types of deposits and loans. Bank President Paul Crosthwait said those services include regular demand deposits, time deposits such as certificates of deposits and money market accounts and real estate and commercial and agricultural loans.

As of June 30, the bank had $33.05 million in deposits and assets totalling more than $40 million.

Crosthwait cites a strong capital base and reserve as advantages to doing business at his bank, and credits the institution's board of directors with helping keep the bank strong in light of recent Texas bank and savings and loan failures. "I attribute (the bank's success)

"In the past few years, a number of unsafe institutions have been taken over by the government, but I believe the majority of the remaining ones are in relatively good shape."

to an interested board of directors," he said. "You cannot serve your community well if you let your bank get into trouble."

Although federal forecasts call for between 300-400 bank failures this year in the United States, Crosthwait said he believes that Texas institutions have weathered the worst of the financial crisis.

"I think so," he said. "In the past few years, a number of unsafe institutions have been taken over by the government, but I believe the majority of the remaining ones are in relatively good shape."

A combination of factors, including questionable lending procedures and the downturn in the oil economy, led to the rash of bank and savings and loan closures, he said. One reason First National was able to avoid disaster, he said, was not relying too heavily on real estate or energy-related loans.

"We didn't get heavy into real estate lending," he said. "We just tried to maintain a good mix of commercial, farm and real estate loans, so if any one industry faltered, it wouldn't take us down."

"We also kept our loan-to-deposit ratio at a reasonable level in order to have liquidity and satisfy our depositors," Crosthwait added. "We never went over a 55 percent loan-to-deposit ratio."

Although the national and area economy are still sluggish, Crosthwait sees reasons for optimism as far as First National's future is concerned.

"I'm very optimistic," he said. "The Martin County area has always been slow to react to economic changes... We see it maybe level for the next two years. I don't see anything to cause a big influx of deposits or economic growth."

"I believe we'll see steady, modest improvement in the near future," he said.

First National Bank of Stanton first opened its doors in 1906 at the site now occupied by Stanton Drug. In 1952, the bank moved to its current location at the intersection of St. Anna and St. Peter streets.

Pastor's corner

By MILTON JOCHETZ
First United Methodist Church

One of the great problems which continues to plague Christianity is the problem of "Sunday Christianity."

This doesn't mean that there is a problem in the fact that Sunday has become the day par excellence for Christians to assemble and celebrate the resurrection of their Lord, but rather that Sunday has virtually become the only day when this crucial identity is recognized either by the watching world or the community of believers.

This problem is vastly complicated, having as many implications of a weakened witness as it has symptoms of a fatigued faith.

On simple indication of just how problematic Sunday Christianity has become is seen in the fact that practically everyone, Christians included, associates the concept of church with a building.

The early church could never have been characterized by a building, no matter how stunning the architecture or how scripture filled its stained glass.

Part of our problem is that we think of going to church as a means of fulfilling religious obligations rather than the church as gathering itself together to generate energy and to collect and coordinate its resource for a dynamic existence in a world of dissipating influences.

If you have ever wondered what Jesus could have been implying when he asked his disciples if the son of man would find faith on the earth at his coming, look to Sunday Christianity and ask if his worst fears might not find realization there.

For a faith that limits itself to expression merely one day a week, or sometimes doesn't even go that far, is not a faith that adequately expresses a hope so dynamic and charged with vibrancy that it presents a clear alternative to the multiple but illusory hopes clutched at by our desparate world.

A living faith is a way of life.

A name often designates or describes the object to which it is given. In fact, the first definition of "name" in my dictionary is a "a word or a combination of words by which a person, place, idea, etc., is known, designated or described."

That explains some of the strange geographic names you find in the Canadian province of Newfoundland. Names such as Empty Basket, Famish Gut, Bare-Need, Bleak Island and Wreck Cove.

Those names reveal that life for the early settlers was tough and the land was often unforgiving.

But then there are those names which seem to have nothing to do with the object to which they are given. The second definition of "name" in the dictionary deals with that phenomenon: "mere designation, as distinguished from fact."

Some of the towns in West Texas seem to fall under this category — towns such as Big Spring, Big Lake, Springlake, Grandfalls, Lakeview, Water Valley and Roaring Springs.

Granted, there may be water in West Texas, but not enough in any of those locations to be called "big" or "roaring."

Then there is the name "Christian." It means "Christ-people" or "little Christ." Acts 11:26 reveals "the disciples were first called Christians in Antioch."

The verses preceding verse 26 indicate they received that name because the grace of God was within them, resulting in great multitudes being won to and disciplined for the Lord.

Obviously, the giving of their name falls under the first definition listed above; it accurately described who they were.

We also take the name "Christian." Is it in fact an accurate description, or could it be that the second definition is closer to the mark — "a mere designation, as distinguished from fact?"

The name Christian ought to indicate that Christ lives in us and is working and ministering through us to reach those who so desperately need him. That should remind us to take the person, not just the name.

Last Thursday, Sally Carroll drove the center's van and a vanload of seniors to listen to Gene Clements' and Eddie Crow's musical debut on the campus of South Plains College. Sally is to be commended for her excellent handling of the van; however, it is hard to tell what percentage of her driving skills can be contributed to the designated back-seat driver, Dewitt Davis. The concert was very enjoyable.

The group set up a picnic lunch near the Clements' motorhome upon arrival. Erlene Saunders found that they have grassburrs in Levelland too. We thought that we would have to take her to the emergency room for their removal by surgery after she sat down on a rather prolific plant.

Louis Roten entertained the riders with jokes on the road home with some assistance from his wife, Mamie. Now we can look forward to hearing the results of the college course from Clements and Crow in the Old Sorehead Band. Another giant step in their pursuit of excellence!

• Carroll, the center's director, has scheduled a shopping trip for 12:30 p.m. this Friday. Please sign up if you are interested.

1991 Property Tax Rates in MARTIN COUNTY UNDERGROUND WATER DISTRICT

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for WATER DISTRICT. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$ .02
Last year's debt taxes	$ -0-
Last year's total taxes	$ 96,081
Last year's tax base	$ 480,409,055
Last year's total tax rate	$ .02 /$100

This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 96,081
+ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$ 497,369,844
= This year's effective tax rate	$ .019317 /$100

(In the first year a city or county collects the additional sales tax it must insert the following lines unless it made its first adjustment last year.)

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ _____ /$100
= Effective tax rate	$ _____ /$100
x 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$ .019897 /$100

This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 96,081
+ This year's adjusted tax base	$ 497,369,844
= This year's effective operating rate	$ .01931 /$100
- .72 for school district (or zero)	$ -0-
x 1.08 (or add $.08 for schools) = this year's maximum operating rate	$ .02085 /$100
+ This year's debt rate	$ -0- /$100

(A school district must insert the following lines)

= This year's rollback rate before adjustment	$ _____ /$100
+ Rate to recoup lost revenue	$ _____ /$100
= Adjusted rollback rate	$ _____ /$100
= This year's rollback rate	$ .02085 /$100

(A city or county that collects the additional sales tax (including one that collects the tax for the first time this year) must insert the following lines.)

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ _____ /$100
= Rollback tax rate	$ _____ /$100

SCHEDULE A: Unencumbered Fund Balances

The following balances will probably be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the current fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance
MARTIN COUNTY UNDERGROUND WATER DISTRICT	-0-

SCHEDULE B: 1991 Debt Service

The unit plans to pay the following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

Description of Debt	Principal or Contract Payment to be Paid	Interest to be Paid	Other Amounts to be Paid	Total Payment
Total required for 1991 debt service			-0-
- Amount (if any) paid from funds listed in Schedule A			-0-
- Excess collections last year			-0-
- Total to be paid from taxes in 1991			-0-
+ Amount added in anticipation that the unit will collect only _____% of its taxes in 1991			-0-
= Total Debt Service Levy			-0-

SCHEDULE C: Expected Revenue from Additional Sales Tax

(For counties and cities with additional 1/2-cent sales tax)

In calculating its effective and rollback tax rates, the unit estimated that it will receive $ _____ -0- in additional sales and use tax revenues.

This notice contains a summary of actual effective and rollback tax rate calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at MARTIN COUNTY APPRAISAL DISTRICT

Cap Rock connection

By PEGGY LUXTON
Communications Advisor
Cap Rock Electric, Inc.

Customer service is of great concern to Cap Rock Electric; it is written into work policies, budgets and the company's mission statement. Every action taken by Cap Rock Electric is only after consideration of how that action will affect the customer service performance of the company.

Customer service is Don Tollison's department at the company. He supervises 22 employees who perform such diversified tasks as reading meters, billing and marketing. The customer service department is there, according to Tollison, to provide all the customers' continuing electric service needs and to answer any and all questions they may have.

"It's my philosophy, that we, as employees, are there not only to perform in accordance with board and management policy, but to also do business according to the Golden Rule. We always have to put ourselves in the place of our customers and consider how we would want to be treated, were we the customers," Tollison said.

Energy audits, voltage investigations and assistance with the design of individual electric service requirements for businesses and residences are all responsibilities of the customer service department.

Keeping a finger on the pulse of the co-op's membership is how Tollison describes the functions of his department. "We try to find ways to discover what customers expect and what they would like for us to do," he said.

He considers teamwork to be the most important function of not only his department, but every department in the company. Customer service is the responsibility of every employee, he stated.

"I think every employee has to continually practice excellent customer service. The fact that all employees are customer-service minded is indicative of the type of management we currently have at our company. Management and board members are the driving force behind attitudes toward customers — and that's what makes the difference."

Tollison, his wife, Robby and his daughter, Stacy, live about half a mile east of Stanton in the old Milhollan house.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Texas Utilities Electric Company (TU Electric), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to obtain a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity for the Texaco Mabec Tap 138 kV Transmission Line, as described below.

The proposed 138 kV Transmission Line will lie within the counties of Midland, Martin and Andrews. The line will begin at a point in the existing TU Electric Midland East-Moss Transmission Line, approximately 3 miles north and 3 miles west of the intersection of State Highway 349 and Loop 250. From the beginning point the line will proceed in a northerly direction parallel to State Highway 349 approximately 7 miles. The proposed line then proceeds in a north-westerly direction for approximately 3 miles where it turns north and proceeds approximately 1 1/4 miles to the location of Texaco's proposed substation. This proposed substation is located in the central part of the Mabec Oil Field. The estimated cost of this entire project is $1,072,378.

Persons with questions about this project should contact George Hedrick at (817) 882-6307. Persons who wish to intervene in the proceeding or comment upon action sought, should contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas, at 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78757, or call the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221 for the telecommunications device for the deaf. The deadline for intervention in the proceeding will be 60 days after the final publication of this notice.

A complete copy of the application, including maps showing the location of the transmission line, is on file with the Public Utility Commission of Texas at Austin, Texas.

GOD'S LOVE PROVIDED THE JOYFUL SERENITY OF SUMMER

When springtime flowers fade away
And sunlight warms each golden day,
All work will stop, while everyone
Gets ready for some outdoor fun.
Now some maintain their status quo
Relaxing on the patio,
While those more energetic choose
The picnics and the barbecues,
But when it comes to Sabbath day,
Let one and all decide to pray.
With many members out of town,
Don't let your House of Worship down.
Remember that its help is near
In any season of the year;
Then see the Lord's creation thrive
In summer, when the earth's alive.

Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

	General Fund	Farm to Market/ Flood Control Fund	Special Road/Bridge Fund
Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$ 694,428	$ 356,858	$ 378,613
