Moore board OKs bid on insurance

Members of the Moore Development for Big Spring Inc. board of directors have accepted a bid from the Titan Indemnity Co. of San Antonio for general liability and board liability insurance.

In its meeting Monday, the board discussed in executive session contracts for a prospective new business for the city, said Director of Economic Development Ted St. Clair.

No action was taken, however, by the six-member board, said St. Clair.

Welcome back dance Friday night

A Welcome Back Dance for all area eighth through 12th graders will feature a top-40 disc jockey at the Dora Roberts Community Center Friday night.

Sponsored by the Heart of the City committee, a division of Big Spring Main Street Inc., and Big Spring D-FY-IT (Drug Free Youth in Texas), the charge at the door is $3. Food and refreshments will be served.

Beverly Franklin, downtown coordinator for Main Street, said Heart of the City committee members and D-FY-IT sponsors will be chaperones at the dance that begins at 8 p.m. and ends at midnight. Some of the proceeds will go to D-FY-IT, the rest to be used by Heart of the City, she said.

"This is open to the public, just for kids," said Franklin. Country, pop, rock and rap music will be featured.

Stanton to have budget workshop

The Stanton City Council has scheduled a special session at 7 p.m. Monday. Council members will be working on the city's budget at this meeting.

Jaycees promoting annual film festival

The Howard County Jaycees are currently selling tickets for an annual film festival for children and adults, said President Becky Hale.

The movies, "The Secret of the Nymph" and "Baker's Hawk," are scheduled to be shown Sept. 28 at the Ritz Theater on Main Street. Tickets are $4 each. Buyers may use the tickets, give them away or donate them back to the Jaycees. Last year more than 500 tickets were passed out, Hale said.

Festival tickets will be donated to income-based day care centers, The Northside Community Center and the Big Spring State Hospital. For ticket information, call 264-9100.

For any other information about the Jaycees, call Hale at 263-2474.

Coup fails in face of resistance

MOSCOW — Jubilant Soviet youths ride atop a convoy of confiscated government tanks in Moscow this morning following a night of clashes between the Soviet army and anti-coup, pro-Yeltsin Muscovites.

Communist Party calls coup 'unconstitutional'

MOSCOW (AP) — Mikhail S. Gorbachev was returning to Moscow today, an aide to Russian Federation President Boris Yeltsin said, as the coup against the Soviet leader collapsed.

Gorbachev was to fly from his vacation retreat in the Crimea to the Soviet capital with Vladimir Ivashko, the deputy general-secretary of the Communist Party; Anatoly Lukyanov, the speaker of the national legislature; and other aides, said Lev Y. Sukhanov, a long-time Yeltsin deputy.

There was no independent confirmation of the report or further details of the flight or when it might arrive in Moscow.

Leaders of the national legislature condemned the coup, invalidated all decrees made by its leaders, national lawmaker Yuri Karyatkin told the Russian legislature. He gave no details about the vote.

There was cheering outside the Russian Parliament, which served as the headquarters for Boris Yeltsin, leader of the resistance to the coup. Soldiers, their tanks strewn with flowers, waved at television cameras.

In the United States, President Bush hailed the coup's apparent end. He said the coup leaders "underestimated the power of the people, underestimated what a taste of freedom and democracy brings."

The news of the coup leaders' departure followed a series of dramatic developments pointing to the disintegration of the takeover, one of the most tumultuous events in recent Soviet history.

With the coup's apparent demise, the Communist Party moved to salvage its own credibility. It called the takeover unconstitutional and demanded a meeting with Gorbachev, the party chief, Tass said.

Silva says he fired gun in self-defense

By PATRICK DRISCOLL Staff Writer

Jesse Paul Silva, on trial on murder charges, said he never intended to shoot anyone and only fired in self-defense during an incident last year that left one man dead and another wounded.

"I was under attack, I was. I was just trying to get out of there alive," Silva testified in front of an 118th Judicial District Court jury Tuesday.

Closing arguments were to be delivered today in the two-day trial. A five-woman, seven-man jury heard testimony from eight state witnesses and defense witnesses Silva and his girlfriend Debra Bradberry.

Silva, 27, testified he did not even know Tonnie Lynn Johnson, 32, had died until he heard news reports about the incident later. Johnson was fatally wounded in the Feb. 23, 1990, incident from a gunshot to the chest that came from a 9mm pistol Silva fired, police have said. Silva said he also did not know that Ray Kroener, 38, was wounded in the leg.

"I went into shock, I couldn't believe that," Silva said. "I was crying, I was on my knees."

Silva said he went to Kroener's home at 606 State St. early on Feb. 23 to get his two children from his ex-girlfriend and their mother, Brenda May McKee, who he had broken up with two months earlier.

Silva said McKee had promised to let him visit the children the night before, but she and the children were not home when he came by. At Kroener's house, Johnson and McKee were sleeping on the floor of the living room while the children slept on a couch, according to a sworn police statement signed by McKee and read in court by defense attorney Wayne Basden.

"I have children I care about very much. I wanted to find out where they were. They had school the next day," Silva said. "I feared that I might be getting into something bad but I wanted to get my kids out of there. . . . She was going wild."

Silva said he was in fear for his life so he put his pistol in the back of his jeans before going up to Kroener's front door, knocking and kicking it. Kroener then opened the door and stuck a .25-caliber pistol in Silva's nose, Silva said.

United Way increases goal in new campaign

By GARY SHANKS Staff Writer

United Way of Big Spring Howard County set a goal of $235,000 for 1991-92, including $185,799 for 10 area agencies, at a United Way board of directors meeting Tuesday.

The goal represents an increase of $18,929 over last year's budget. "We are closing the gap," said local United Way President Murray Murphy about the difference between the amount requested by the agencies and the amount United Way was able to provide.

The 10 agencies receiving funds from the United Way are the American Red Cross, Boy's Club of Big Spring, the Buffalo Trail Council of the Boy Scouts of America, Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Clinic, the Girl Scout Council, Northside Community Center, Salvation Army, Westside Day Care Center, Westside Community Center and the YMCA.

A campaign film for 1991-92 was unveiled at the meeting. This year the film focuses on the Westside Community Center, which provides a variety of assistance to area families.

The United Way allocations committee turned away two new requests for funds this year, said Murphy. "This year was a tough year on allocations. It's been a long time since a new agency approached us."

Along with a request from an Odessa agency, the committee reviewed a request from Rape Crisis/Victim Services of Big Spring, but decided the agency, which is also likely to be denied $4,000 in previously budgeted funds from the city of Big Spring, could not be awarded funds for this year.

"We request, in the future, for Rape Crisis to come back to us if they wish to be covered under the umbrella of the United Way," said Murphy. "I can cite several cases of it taking up to five years (before funds are allocated)."

Murphy and Executive Director Sherrie Bordofsky have been making cuts in operating expenses to keep the agency's administrative costs in line with other United Way agencies.

The fund-raising campaign is slated to begin Sept. 6, and members hope to be finished by about Nov. 15, said Bordofsky.

A celebration for agency volunteers and staff is scheduled for Nov. 21, said Murphy.

Under construction

Marty Carnahan lines up a board in its correct position before nailing it down as he and several others work on a new building on the 1900 block of South Gregg Street Tuesday afternoon. The building will house Joy's Hallmark, The Kids Shop and one other occupant. No completion date was given, but is hoped to be finished as soon as possible, weather permitting.

C-City considers new city hall

By PATRICK DRISCOLL Staff Writer

COLORADO CITY — A new city hall and police station that would more than double the size of current facilities is being looked at by city officials here, they say.

The building vacated by the defunct First Western Savings on Hickory and 20th streets not only has 18,000 square feet of space, but also in a "more traveled" area of town, officials said.

"I've been encouraged by the amount of positive feedback we've been getting from citizens," said Mayor Jim Baum. "A lot of citizens commented what a more positive image it would project in a more highly traveled area. The criticisms — there have only been a few — is that it would only be another nail in the coffin of downtown Colorado City."

The present City Hall, at 180 W. Third, has about 5,500 square feet of space, said City Manager Buddy Foster. The police station, which "is in terrible shape and floods when it rains," only has 1,500 square feet, he said. The police station is next to City Hall.

Foster said that if a move is made, it should take place before emergency 911 telephone equipment is installed at the police department. The area Council of Governments based in Abilene will pay for installing the equipment, Foster said. But the city would have to pay the $7,000 it would cost to move it.

"It should be within the next 90 days or so (that the equipment is expected to be installed)," he said. He added, "It could be postponed because some of the entities are not ready to implement it yet."

Foster said he is gathering information on remodeling costs, utilities, moving expenses and insurance. "If I think of anything else, I'll be looking into that too."

"If they (the council) can get it for a good price, I think they'll do it," he said. "However, they want to know all the details, what the total cost is."

It would cost about $60,000 to • C-CITY page 8-A

Glasscock County Petition cannot be certified

By MARTHA E. FLORES Staff Writer

GARDEN CITY — Glasscock County Sheriff Royce Pruitt has declared uncertifiable a petition seeking a bond election for a new community center.

As a result, county commissioners Tuesday took no action on the proposal.

"I can't certify the petition with the information on it because they did not put enough information down," Pruitt said Tuesday after a county commissioners meeting. "They will have to go back and start over."

"The signature has to be exactly as it is on the voter registration card; it has to have the address as the voter registration card; and must have the voter certificate number," said Pruitt.

The certification of the petition would have moved a motion set by the commissioners court during its Tuesday meeting to go to a bond election for the construction of a Glasscock County community center in Garden City.

Jerry Hoelscher, a St. Lawrence resident, began soliciting signatures for the petition last week.

"My intentions were very simple," said Hoelscher. "I wanted to show community interest in a center so the commissioners could come up with a reasonable solution."

The petition delivered to commissioners Tuesday had 250 signatures of registered voters. There are 698 registered voters in the county.

Precinct 4 Commissioner Donald Cypert said he opposed the community center's proposal because

Speaker accused of blocking plan

AUSTIN (AP) — A state senator accused House Speaker Gib Lewis of blocking a plan that would increase a black candidate's chances of winning a proposed congressional seat in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

"The plan that the speaker is supporting eliminates a minority district in the Dallas area," Sen. Eddie Beraice Johnson, D-Dallas, said Tuesday.

Johnson said Lewis objects to taking some black precincts from the district currently held by U.S. Rep. Pete Geren, a Democrat from Fort Worth, which is Lewis' hometown.

The movement of those black precincts was integral to a carefully crafted plan that was approved by several Dallas congressmen, while also carving out a near majority black district in the area, Johnson said.

But Lewis said Johnson's plan would cut up Tarrant County like a boarding house pie.

Proposal to raise fees drawing fire

AUSTIN (AP) — A Southwestern Bell proposal to start charging for directory assistance calls from pay phones, and to raise the fee for such calls from home, is drawing fire from pay telephone owners.

"In proposing this increase, Southwestern Bell is putting its own greed ahead of the needs of Texas callers," said Alan Kaniss, president of the Texas Payphone Association. The group includes more than 60 companies that own pay telephones and provide related services.

The pay phone fee would be 25 cents under the proposal before the Public Utility Commission. Directory assistance calls from home would go from 30 cents to 40 cents for the first three calls, for which there is no charge.

License revocation passes

AUSTIN (AP) — A bill that would allow law officers to confiscate the driver's license of motorists suspected of driving drunk will save lives and money, the Senate sponsor said.

The Senate approved the bill on a voice vote Tuesday, sending it to the House for consideration.

In other action, the Senate sent to the House measures that would:

- Establish a nonprofit corporation to issue revenue bonds for a proposed McDonnell Douglas Corp. jet manufacturing plant.

- Allow alcohol sales inside Irving's Texas Stadium, home of the Dallas Cowboys.

Judith Zaffirini, D-Laredo, said her license revocation bill would "save lives because it sends the strong message to drunk drivers that punishment is swift." The bill is supported by Mothers Against Drunk Driving, and Gov. Ann Richards opened the agenda of the session for lawmakers to consider the plan.

The proposal died in the House after opponents said that taking a suspect's license before being found guilty was unconstitutional.

But Ms. Zaffirini said the license revocation plan has passed legal challenges in several of the 29 states where it has been established.

"Nowhere in the constitution is it written that anyone has a right to drive," she said.

Ms. Zaffirini said the bill annually would save 150 lives and $400 million in medical and legal costs.

It would also entitle the state to an extra $16 million in federal funds over the next five years, she said.

The bill would allow law officers to take the driver's license of a motorist who fails or refuses to take a blood-alcohol test.

The officer would give the person a temporary permit to drive until an administrative hearing is held to determine whether the license should be suspended. A person without any prior drug or alcohol offenses over the past 5 years faces a 90-day driver's license suspension. Repeat offenders would face a 1-year suspension.

In addition, those losing their license would have to pay $100 to get it back after the suspension.

On a 28-3 vote, the Senate adopted a bill by Bob Glasgow, D-Stephenville, that is aimed at trying to land the McDonnell Douglas jet plant.

Alliance Airport at Fort Worth and Ellington Field at Houston are among eight sites nationwide under consideration by St. Louis-based McDonnell Douglas.

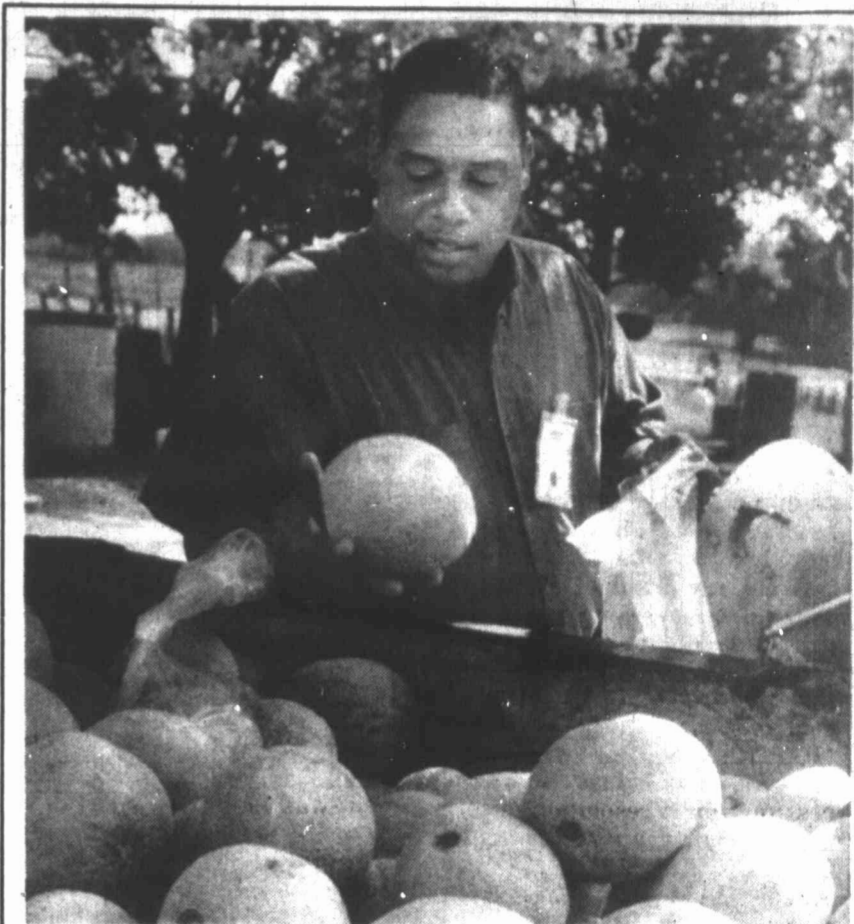

The Senate measure would allow the Department of Commerce to create the Texas Major Employer Development Corp., which could issue revenue bonds to attract new businesses to the state and help existing businesses expand.

Glasgow said the state would not be liable for the bonds. McDonnell Douglas would be responsible for paying the bonds back, he said.

"All the other states that are major competitors are passing state revenue bonds and putting together very attractive packages. Texas would like to do that... financially now we just are not able to do so," Glasgow said.

Former gubernatorial candidate Tom Luce, attorney for Alliance developer H. Ross Perot, said other states offer numerous financial incentives for the $1.4 billion plant.

Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock said of the bond proposal, "It's frankly throwing a little crumb out here to get them to come. Whatever can be offered to them at this time may be better than they are getting anywhere else."

SAN ANTONIO — Ned Pucek, manager of the Living Waters Artesian Springs catfish farm, holds one of the fish in front of a well that supplies water to the farm. The farm has been at the center of controversy because it pumps 42-45 million gallons of water a day from the Edwards aquifer, San Antonio's sole source of drinking water.

Lawmakers file bill aimed at fish farm

AUSTIN (AP) — A catfish farm in South Bexar County that takes millions of gallons of water each day from the Edwards Aquifer has spurred some lawmakers into action.

A bill by Rep. Robert Puente, D-San Antonio, would specify that the Edwards Underground Water District may regulate water taken from artesian wells and establish recycling or other conservation requirements.

That would apply to water taken from the aquifer in Bexar, Comal and Hays counties, Puente said.

An official of the Edwards Underground Water District says the district will file a complaint against the farm alleging that it has violated state law.

"We are going to sit down with the water commission and see if we can't get them to join us in this endeavor," Russell Masters, general manager of the water district, said. "If that doesn't work, we will take whatever actions are necessary, including legal action."

Ron Pucek Jr., owner of the Living Waters Artesian Springs Catfish Farm, denied his operation is causing aquifer levels to drop. He said he would welcome the water district's action, saying it would eventually put the dispute in court.

"I'd much rather do that than be found guilty in the media, without even a fair trial," he said. "Even a common criminal gets that."

The state water code prohibits artesian well water from flowing off private property, Masters said. District staff members have determined that most of the water used in the catfish farm flows directly into the Medina River, which does not recharge the aquifer, he said.

Rep. Alan Schoolcraft, R-Universal City, and Sen. Cyndi Krier, R-San Antonio, have filed legislation to place a moratorium on drilling new artesian wells with a flow of more than 3,000 gallons a minute.

The measure also would make a state prohibition against wasting water applicable to fish farms. It would delete a section of the water code that says it is not waste to use water from an artesian well for uses including the propagation of fish.

In artesian wells, water rises to the surface without pumping, through internal pressure.

The bills were left pending Tuesday by the House Natural Resources Committee, which may act on them Wednesday.

Gov. Ann Richards has not added the issue to the special session agenda, which she controls. Leticia Vasquez, a spokeswoman for the governor, said that Richards had not decided Tuesday whether to put the issue before lawmakers for consideration.

The farm uses 43.2 million gallons of water a day from the Edwards Aquifer.

By comparison, San Antonio uses 160 million gallons of water per day, San Marcos about 7 million, and New Braunfels about 5.7 million.

The region that uses the aquifer water runs along and west of Interstate 35, from south of San Antonio to south of Austin.

"We have to be very careful about people's individual rights," Puente said. But he said the reported use of water by the fish farm is "staggering."

"There has to be a balance between an individual's rights and the rights of a community as a whole," Puente said. "Hopefully, this legislation will create that balance."

Terral Smith, a lawyer and former lawmaker who represents the farm, said Pucek is willing to sit down with concerned people and ensure the aquifer is not harmed.

But he said the catfish farmer dislikes publicity being focused on his operation, in association with a recent drop in the aquifer level, because the farm is not the only user of the aquifer.

Smith said of Puente's bill, "While it may be aimed at the catfish farm, it affects every farmer and the city of San Antonio. It affects everybody."

"The way I read it... they can tell everybody how much water they can have," Smith said. Puente emphasized that his bill includes only artesian wells.

Brad Shields, representing the Texas Aquaculture Association, said he wanted to ensure that any legislation would not have unintended consequences. His group is made up of fish farmers.

"We are not in opposition to solving this problem that you have in San Antonio. We're afraid that what we do in haste will affect people all over the state," he said at the Natural Resources Committee meeting.

Senate adopts plan backed by minorities

AUSTIN (AP) — A leadership-backed State Board of Education redistricting plan was defeated by a Senate coalition including blacks, Hispanics and Republicans. They replaced it with a plan that could elect more minorities.

The measure Tuesday sparked a fiery debate between lawmakers who also must adopt a congressional redistricting plan.

One of the key conflicts is that white Democrats want to hold on to minority voters who have helped them win election in the past, but minorities want to increase their numbers in elected office.

A motion to kill the minority-backed Education Board plan offered by Sen. Eddie Bernice Johnson, D-Dallas, was rejected 13-18. Of those 18, nine were Republicans and nine were Democrats, including three Hispanics and two blacks.

Johnson's measure to redraw the 15 Education Board districts later passed 29-2, and was sent to the House for consideration.

Sen. Bob Glasgow, D-Stephenville, opposed Johnson's plan. He said that it split 32 counties, while his proposal, which was backed by Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock, cut only nine.

"It's not logical. It's not rational," he said of Johnson's bill.

Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, said Johnson's plan would pit against each other two incumbents who support education programs to help minorities: Carolyn Crawford of Beaumont and Mary Perkins of Lufkin.

"This is spitting in their faces," he said.

He said one proposed Southeast

Texas district "looks like a snake squiggling down the river." Parker called it ironic that Republicans supported minorities on the issue, saying the GOP lawmakers never sided with them before.

But Republicans said they found it odd that white Democrats were complaining about gerrymandered districts — the same description used by the GOP to describe a congressional redistricting plan pushed by Democrats.

Johnson said her plan would provide a good chance for three blacks and three Hispanics to win election to the Education Board.

Glasgow said his original proposal would have given two blacks and three Hispanics a good shot at winning.

Health care reform is demanded

SEATTLE (AP) — The nation's governors are demanding an overhaul of the health care system but disagree along partisan lines whether to set a deadline for change.

The National Governors' Association, which concluded its meeting here Tuesday, unanimously endorsed access to health care by all Americans as quickly as possible.

While one leading Democrat said health care will become a key issue in the party's bid to unseat George Bush, Republicans sought to avoid partisan confrontation.

Gov. Lawton Chiles of Florida, a Democrat, pushed unsuccessfully for a resolution to set a Jan. 1, 1994, deadline for action.

"The president set a date for Saddam Hussein to get out of Kuwait," he said. "He drew a line in the sand, and if he hadn't Saddam Hussein might still be in Kuwait. We have an April 15 deadline for federal tax returns. It's only on the 14th that my urgency becomes a hell of a lot more immediate."

Republicans opposed the amendment, with some governors saying the deadline was too far off.

"It would be unfortunate if we left the impression there is a partisan division," said California's GOP Gov. Pete Wilson.

The vote on the Chiles amendment was 19-17, well short of the two-thirds majority required.

Budget deadlock near settlement

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Connecticut's 52-day-old budget deadlock inched closer to an end today after three more senators threw their support behind a state income tax, apparently giving it enough votes for passage.

Connecticut is the only state without a spending plan in place and one of 10 with no income tax. First-term Gov. Lowell P. Weicker Jr. has vetoed three previous budgets rather than back down on his demand for such a tax.

The Senate had planned to vote late Tuesday or early today, but a new dispute arose, this time over a slight change in state labor laws. Lawmakers eventually decided to convene at midday rather than work through the night.

"It's just physically and logistically impossible to get the bill ready and to get it read tonight," said Sen. George Jepsen, a Democrat. He said the labor-law dispute also was a factor.

Passage of an income tax would mark a major victory for Weicker, a Republican-turned-independent who says the tax is needed to relieve the state's chronic fiscal woes.

Judge tries to get financial reports

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A federal judge is trying to find out how much money Operation Rescue has so he can set fines and bail for the group's militant anti-abortion protesters accordingly.

Operation Rescue Randall Terry has boasted to reporters that the group and its leaders hide assets. The organization officially disbanded to avoid fines and judgments in other cases.

U.S. District Judge Patrick F. Kelly on Tuesday ordered the arrests of six Operation Rescue leaders for failing to post a $100,000 bond he required two weeks ago as insurance against any property damage.

Kelly told the federal magistrates who were to arraign the defendants to collect financial data to help him determine possible fines or future bond amounts.

"You are entitled to ascertain the role each carries in this association, as well as each one's own mode of compensation, if any," Kelly said in a letter to the magistrates.

Med school applications increasing

CHICAGO (AP) — The number of applicants to U.S. medical schools rose 8.6 percent in 1990 and is expected to climb about 13 percent this year, a study says.

The study in today's Journal of the American Medical Association said one possible explanation for the third straight increase is that the "economic environment is making alternative careers such as business less attractive."

A total of 29,243 people applied to U.S. medical schools in 1990, up from 26,915 the year before, and about 33,000 are applying this year, according to the study led by the AMA's Division of Undergraduate Medical Education.

The rise in applicants began after a decade-low 26,721 in 1988.

Women and minorities continued to make slow but steady gains in medical schools, the report said.

Pediatrician's patients are all twins and triplets

LONDON (AP) — Twins or triplets may mean double or triple the blessings, but multiple births also can result in feelings of worry and depression.

"Parents often feel isolated, and health professionals don't understand the psychological and social repercussions," said Dr. Elizabeth Bryan, whose practice is restricted to twins, triplets, quadruplets and up.

The number of triplets and quadruplets has tripled in the last 30 years, particularly because of fertility drugs and in vitro fertilization. Twins occur in about one in 90 births, Bryan said.

Every three months, Bryan organizes luncheons for the children and parents of multiple births — whether they are her patients or not. She also gets calls from parents from various parts of the world who need advice or comfort.

"This is my eighth lunch," Christine Hewinson, 32, mother of triplet toddlers Rebecca, Emma and David, said at a recent lunch. "It's nice to know there's one place I can go and not feel like a sideshow. Here, I'm one of the majority."

Caring for one set of twins 18 years ago piqued Bryan's curiosity and led to a study of 100 sets of twins, which in turn blossomed into a lifelong pursuit.

She launched a self-help group for parents, which now has more than 200 chapters around the world, including the United States,

Japan and Ethiopia.

And Bryan presents monthly slide shows for prospective parents of multiple births, full of trivia, advice, and biology.

She mentioned famous twins of literature from Tweedle-dee and Tweedle-dum to Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors." She talked about an African tribe that believes twins have innate mystical powers and worship them; and another tribe that believes twins are possessed by the devil and kill them.

The audience chuckled appreciatively as the doctor poured scorn on a couple who named their identical daughters, Krysty and Kyrsty, and dress them identically every day.

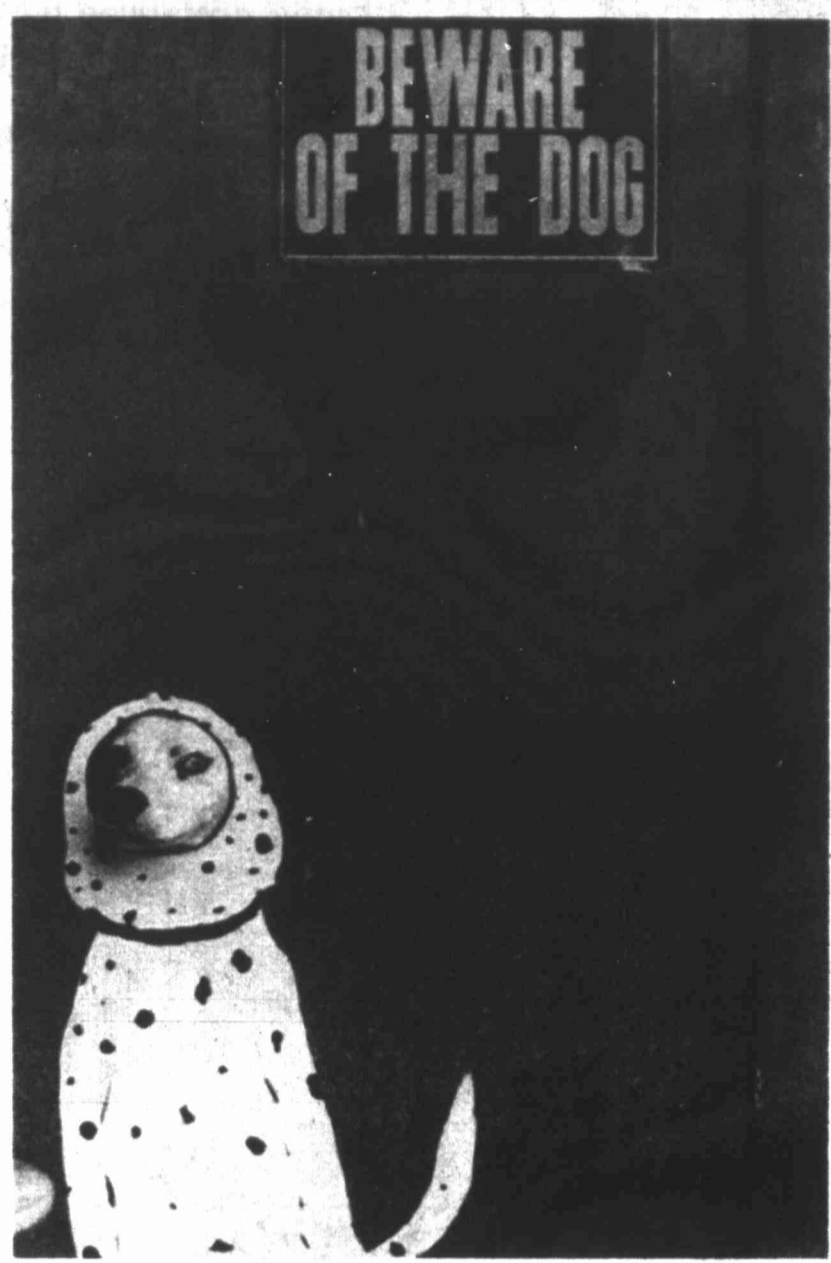

The message was clear: Treat twins as individuals and don't dress them alike.

She said it's crucial to talk to toddlers individually and make eye contact to promote language development, frequently delayed in twins and triplets.

Children of multiple births are also prone to premature birth and low birth weight.

At a recent international meeting about in vitro fertilization in Paris, infertility experts said the trend is to put no more than two or three embryos into the womb to stem the rise in multiple births. The rest are frozen and saved for later use.

Bryan also started the first and only Multiple Births Foundation for professionals, which educates doctors and social workers.

Retrial unlikely unless convictions reinstated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prosecutors say it's unlikely they will put Oliver North on trial again in the Iran-Contra affair if a judge refuses to reinstate the former White House aide's previous convictions.

Independent counsel Lawrence E. Walsh's office said in court documents filed Tuesday that former national security adviser Robert McFarlane will be its only witness in a Sept. 11 hearing at which the government will try to reinstate North's convictions.

"Although retrial of the defendant North on any of the remaining counts is unlikely (if that effort fails), independent counsel cannot at this time definitively rule it out," said the document signed by special counsel Michael Bromwich.

North's attorneys were not available immediately to comment, an aide in their office said.

U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell had given Walsh's office until Tuesday to notify him whether it would seek to try North again if it failed to win reinstatement of his convictions.

The Supreme Court in May let stand an appellate court's decision to set aside North's convictions.

The U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit in July 1990 ordered Gesell — who presided at North's trial — to review the trial testimony to decide whether witnesses were influenced by North's forced testimony given under immunity to Congress.

The appeals court had said the new hearing "must proceed witness-by-witness; if necessary, it will proceed line-by-line and item-by-item."

North was convicted of destroying documents, accepting an illegal gratuity and aiding the obstruction of Congress. The destruction of documents conviction was overturned outright by the appeals court, while the other two were set aside.

Gesell, during a June court session to plan for the hearing, told Bromwich there was only a slim possibility that the independent counsel's office could prove that the case against North was not tainted by his congressional testimony.

All sides agreed that McFarlane would testify first as a test case at the September hearing because of his involvement in the matter. McFarlane pleaded guilty in 1988 to four counts of withholding information from Congress.

At the hearing, McFarlane will be asked whether his testimony at North's trial was affected by North's earlier comments to Congress.

North was sentenced to two years of probation, $150,000 in fines and 1,200 hours of community service.

Mobile homes moved into Hebron

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel expanded a Jewish enclave in the West Bank city of Hebron today by moving mobile homes into a former Arab bus terminal.

The move came despite repeated urgings by President Bush for a halt to Jewish settlement-building, which the United States considers an irritant in Middle East peace negotiations.

Defense Ministry spokesman Dan Naveh confirmed Israeli reports that trailers were being moved to the site. But Naveh said, "this is not a settlement but temporary housing inside a military area for religious seminary students, until their building is renovated."

Palestinians throughout the occupied lands today observed a general strike — planned before today's developments — as a protest against Jewish settlement building.

Leaders of the Palestinian uprising said the Hebron settlement's expansion would raise tensions in the city.

"I think the intentions of those building settlements in this holy city now, is to explode the peace process," said Mustafa Natshe, a former mayor of Hebron.

Trucks today unloaded five trailers at the site next to the Jewish quarter and inside Hebron's marketplace. The former Arab bus terminal has been used by the army as a military outpost since 1983.

Soviets attempt Antarctica rescue

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A Soviet Ilyushin-76 heavy transport jet left before dawn today to try to rescue more than 170 Soviet scientists and technicians stranded in Antarctica.

The Mikhail Somov research ship, with 222 Soviets aboard, has been stuck since last month in ice about 35 miles from the Soviet research base of Molodezhnaya. The Soviets cannot return to the base because it is filled to capacity.

The aircraft was expected to arrive back in Cape Town on Thursday with 172 of the ship's passengers, most of whom are Soviet researchers who were headed home after months of research in Antarctica.

A crew of 50 was to remain on the research vessel. Helicopters have been airlifting people from the ship since Monday.

The rescue mission is dangerous for several reasons.

Antarctica has only two to three hours of light each day this time of year, so if the flight is delayed the plane might have to land in darkness.

The aircraft will probably have to land on an icy strip built earlier this week for the rescue.

Mortar fire kills policeman today

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Mortar fire hit a major city in rebel Croatia again today, reportedly killing a policeman and wounding six civilians, as leaders of Yugoslavia's quarreling republics sought a political solution.

The leaders resumed talks in Belgrade today after they agreed Tuesday to respect each other's sovereignty and right to secede, raising hopes for an end to nearly two months of violence that left more than 250 dead.

The talks were expected to focus on ways to ensure the functioning of the federal administration until an agreement on the country's future structure is reached.

At today's meeting, Federal Premier Ante Markovic submitted a report on "the functioning of the system during the coming three months," Yugoslavia's official Tanjug news agency said.

Negotiations had been interrupted after Croatia and Slovenia declared independence on June 25.

Muslim leader praises U.N. efforts

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Shiite Muslim leader Sheik Mohammed Hussein Fadlallah today praised efforts by the U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar to solve the issue of hostages in Lebanon.

"The United Nations' role is the practical role that provides all sides with a face-saving solution to this issue," Fadlallah was quoted by the pro-Syrian newspaper Ash-Sharq.

Fixing product liability system

Virtually everyone agrees that America's product liability system needs to be fixed. It is slow to compensate deserving victims. It is costly to all parties. It is inconsistent because of widely varying state laws.

Congress first addressed the problems of product liability in 1981. Every year since, some lawmakers have tried and failed to enact much-needed reforms. This year, however, there appears to some real progress. Reform bills introduced by Sen. Robert Kasten, R-Wis., and Rep. J. Roy Rowland, D-Ga., have elicited broad support in both chambers.

The companion measures include several key provisions:

A defendant would pay pain and suffering damages commensurate to individual fault. This is patterned after reforms adopted by California in 1986. In the many other states, a "deep pocket" defendant who is only minimally at fault may be forced nonetheless to pay most of the damages to an injured party when other defendants aren't rich.

Punitive damages would be assessed only when a manufacturer or product seller is found to have engaged in "egregious conduct."

Manufacturers of drugs and medical devices would be able to use Food and Drug Administration approval of their products as a defense against punitive damages. They still would be liable for pain and suffering.

Persons injured by a product while under the influence of drugs or alcohol would not be able to collect any kind of damages if their insobriety was the primary cause of their injury.

These reforms are needed because, during the last decade, the number of product liability cases in the United States has tripled. In fact, between 1975 and 1986, the number of million-dollar damage awards jumped by 85 percent, with the average award quadrupling to $1.8 million.

On the surface, these exorbitant awards appear to be a victory for consumers. But the large increase in liability claims and awards has contributed to a five-fold increase in insurance costs for American businesses in the last 10 years. These costs have been passed on to consumers, resulting in higher prices for all sorts of products.

The Kasten-Rowland reforms would help restore balance to the product liability system.

Learning truth about First American

Capitol report

By BILL STERNBERG
Herald Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — For the last 10 years, I've done most of my banking at First American. It's one of the biggest banks in the Washington area and has a branch less than a block from the office.

Although I've been a good customer for more than a decade and never attempted a robbery, every time I cash a check the tellers examine my driver's license, carefully record the 12-digit number, and look up my signature on microfilm.

Since most other banks also seem to treat customers seeking access to their own money like criminals, I've continued to do business with First American. My wife and I even got a mortgage on our house in Potomac, Md., from First American, but not before they put us through the financial wringer.

First American's local television commercials made us feel good about our bank. The ads emphasized the "American" part of the bank's name and featured patriotic vignettes, quotes from the Founding Fathers and the like.

The bank's leadership was also reassuring. First American's chairman is Clark Clifford, the white-haired former Secretary of Defense and Democratic elder statesman. Its president is Robert Altman, a prominent Washington lawyer married to actress Lynda Carter, who played "Wonder Woman" on TV. Like my wife and I, the Altmans own a home in Potomac, only theirs has 14 more bathrooms than ours.

In view of the flag-waving advertising and leadership by Washington power brokers, I was rather surprised to read in Regardie's magazine a while back that First American wasn't owned by Americans at all, but by a group of Arab sheiks. Maybe it ought to be called First Arabian.

Now it turns out that the sheiks were front men for the Bank of Credit and Commerce International, known throughout the world as the bank of crooks and criminals. Manhattan District Attorney Robert Morgenthau, who has indicted BCCI and two of its top executives, calls the case "the largest bank fraud in world financial history." Clifford and Altman, meanwhile, maintain they were innocent dupes.

All the headlines about BCCI reminded me of some documents I'd seen a couple of years ago while researching a book about the Wedtech Corp. scandal. The documents showed that the corrupt Wedtech executives opened three accounts at BCCI in London in October 1986, just as investigators were closing in on them. One of the accounts quickly reached a balance of nearly $2 million and then just as quickly went down to zero.

My co-author, Matt Harrison, and I haven't been able to figure out exactly what was going on or where the funds ended up, but it's a good bet the Wedtech crooks were trying to siphon money out of the Bronx defense contractor and launder it before the company collapsed, as it did in December 1986.

What we do know for sure is that you can add Wedtech to BCCI's distinguished list of customers, which also reportedly included Panama's Manuel Noriega and terrorist Abu Nidal. And, through First American, me.

Why do I have this feeling that when Abu Nidal went to make a withdrawal, they didn't ask to see his driver's license?

WASHINGTON (AP) — They struck a discordant note for years by insisting that Mikhail Gorbachev could not last, that U.S. policy toward the Soviet Union had grown too dependent on the uncertain future of one man.

But now the doom-sayers seem prescient, and they're not shy about it.

"I am one of those who said years ago, 'Don't let Gorbachev allow you to take your eyes off the ball,'" Sen. Alfonse D'Amato, R-N.Y., said after Gorbachev was removed from office.

"I have been warning all along about relying totally on one man in the Soviet Union," said former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

A slew of Monday-morning quarterbacks has emerged in the wake of the Soviet coup, prompting conservative analyst Frank Gaffney to comment: "They're coming out of the woodwork now. Where were they yesterday?"

Gorbachev generated so much optimism that voices of caution sounded jarring. But there were a few — conservative analysts and lawmakers, even a former president and two members of the Bush administration — who resisted the euphoria.

Some warned against making policy decisions based on trust in Gorbachev's longevity; some urged the administration to support the Soviet republics' desire for independence and develop relations with democratic reformers outside the central Soviet government.

More than two years ago, with communism still choking Eastern Europe, Defense Secretary Dick Cheney offered a strikingly grim and accurate prognosis.

"I would guess that he would ultimately fail," Cheney said of Gorbachev in an April 1989 interview on CNN. "That is to say that he will not be able to reform the Soviet economy to turn it into an efficient, modern society. And when that happens, he's likely to be replaced by somebody who will be far more hostile than he's been in terms of his attitude toward the West."

Following Cheney's statements, President Bush hastily assured the world that the United States wanted Gorbachev to succeed. "The administration chooses not to speculate" on his chances, White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said at the time.

Vice President Dan Quayle also seemed at times to be at odds with Bush's embrace of the Soviet leader. In December 1989 he warned that relations should not be based on one man and added: "Gorbachev will not, sometime down the road ... be the leader of the Soviet Union."

Former President Nixon weighed in with a warning two months ago in The Washington Post. "U.S. policies cannot be built on the fortunes of one man," he wrote, "even as outstanding a man as Gorbachev."

The administration has many staunch defenders, of course. "Our policies have been wise and prudent" and rightly focused on Gorbachev, former U.N. ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick said after Monday's coup. "Gorbachev was a good example of the importance of individuals in history. He led the changes."

But a number of conservative Republican senators this week asserted they had longstanding concerns about Bush's approach — among them D'Amato, Trent Lott of Mississippi, Malcolm Wallop of Wyoming and Bob Dole of Kansas.

"I believe the crisis underscores a couple of points I've been making for a long time," said Dole, the Senate GOP leader. "The first is, we can't afford to put all of our eggs in Gorbachev's basket, and the second is, we've got to increase our contacts with both the Soviet central government and the republics — we need to do more in the republics."

Some persistent critics of administration policy now are saying it did Gorbachev more harm than good; that Bush's almost unconditional backing created little pressure for the Soviet leader to take decisive actions or ally himself with Russian President Boris Yeltsin and other reformers.

"Bush's strong personal championing of Gorbachev encouraged him to isolate himself," said Burton Pines, senior vice president of the conservative Heritage Foundation.

"He never joined the ranks of the democratic reformers. ... He never adopted economic reforms. He could ignore them because he believed he had support from George Bush and other Western leaders."

Paul Weyrich, president of the conservative Free Congress Foundation, said Bush ironically may have weakened Gorbachev's hand by refusing to provide aid, moral support and trading privileges to revive Soviet republics.

If he had, "Gorbachev could have said to the hard-liners, 'Look, we'll have to make some concessions because I've got the United States breathing down my throat,'" said Weyrich, who returned from a Soviet trip 10 days ago.

He and others cited Bush's speech two weeks ago in Kiev, in which he urged the republics to reject "the hopeless course of isolation," as exactly the wrong move.

Pines was in Moscow at the time. "I know how horrified the leaders of the democratic reform movements were," he said. "The hard-liners in Moscow could see this only as an endorsement of what they were saying."

Gaffney, director of the Center for Security Policy, called the Kiev speech "a signal like the one we sent to hard-liners in China and Iraq and Yugoslavia." And what was the message? "We still remain enamored of dealing with the center, and of the control or so-called stability that offers us."

College holding money unfairly

To the editor:

I have lived in this town for 21 years and have never been more disappointed and disgusted than I am now. I just completed a ten week summer session course at Howard Junior College. I finished my course only to find out that the used book for which I paid forty dollars would not be bought back until December 10th. This is the most bizarre situation I have ever found myself in. I will be attending my regular university, almost 300 miles away, next week, and I am so confident that I will remember on December 10th that I have a book that must be sold back to Howard College. Oh, I must not forget that day, which consequently falls during finals week, or I must wait another full year to try again.

Taking into consideration they only buy books back once a year. This all takes place only if they decide not to discontinue usage of the book. If the book is not needed for the next semester it is not bought back! I did not buy my book at the beginning of the fall semester to sell it back at the end of that semester. It was purchased during the summer and should be bought back at the conclusion of my class.

I sympathize with those students who attend our college from another town, or even worse another state. If they complete their studies in the spring, they must make a special trip to our "lovely" town and campus to receive money which is rightfully theirs. This college wants to hold our money until they have decided we are deserving of it. On the other hand, if I withheld money owed to them, they would deprive me of my grades until all debts were paid. What are they being deprived of while they sit on our money? I want to know where the justice is in all of this? I have never before felt like such a helpless victim of bureaucratic inefficiency. Howard College would not be recommended by me to my worst enemy. Now, that is truly sad!

Cancer survivor writes about disease

San Francisco writer Bill Soiffer has lived through six bouts with Hodgkin's disease and a bone marrow transplant that almost killed him. Soiffer has written a book about his experience.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — For cancer survivor Bill Soiffer, boiling water has become a major production. To make a pot of tea on a recent morning, Soiffer first grabbed the kettle with his right hand. Then, with his left hand, he grabbed his right wrist and hoisted the kettle. Soiffer, 37, has lived through six bouts with Hodgkin's disease. One treatment, a bone marrow transplant that almost killed him twice, left him with a nerve disorder that deadened his thigh muscles and all arm muscles above his elbow. He can't lift his hands above his head and has a tough time rising once seated. But these physical disabilities are a small sacrifice. Soiffer could be dead. In "Life in the Shadow: Living With Cancer," Soiffer, a reporter on leave from the San Francisco Chronicle, tackles a host of issues from insurance discrimination to dispelling the stigma cancer patients are all too familiar with. After scores of X-rays and gallons of drugs, Soiffer speaks from experience, not only about the hardships of surviving a life-threatening disease but also the joys and rewards of conquering what is perhaps mankind's most feared illness. His book "charts the wilderness for newly diagnosed patients," says Soiffer. "Life in the Shadow" (Chronicle Books, $18.95) is a touching and insightful story of not only Soiffer's struggle, but of how an athlete, a doctor, a young girl and a young couple have overcome the life-threatening obstacles of cancer. Soiffer doesn't get too involved with complex medical terms, giving the book wide appeal to cancer patients, their relatives and anyone wanting to know more about Hodgkin's disease. "Living in the shadow begins day one. When you get the diagnosis of cancer ... suddenly your identity changes," he says. "You go from living a fairly normal life — thinking that you're going to live forever — to suddenly going to a day-to-day existence where you're thinking, 'Will I be alive next week? Next month? Next year?'" Soiffer was diagnosed at age 22 when he noticed a small lump under his right arm. Since then, he has had five recurrences, showing up in his pelvis, groin, hip, back and chest. Although many patients go through a period of depression, "cancer can often be a catalyst for a spiritual awakening," he says. "There's a new understanding of time ... a sense that every minute counts." Hodgkin's disease attacks the lymph nodes and appears to result, as Soiffer says, "from an immune response that has short-circuited and gone haywire." Doctors can cure about 90 percent of the cases caught in early stages and 75 percent of the cases in advanced stages, making it among the most curable cancers. "The stigma that equates cancer with death is no longer valid. Cancer in a sense has been transformed from this monolithic death sentence to really a long-term chronic illness," he says. "I equate cancer with the Iran-Contra scandal. It's an important (issue), but for some reason it's not something that the public cares about or wants to take notice of. Maybe it's because cancer is so common," he says. One in three Americans will develop some type of cancer in their lives. Of the million people diagnosed this year, about half will survive. But the physical battle is only half the struggle, Soiffer says. "The whole impact of the stigma has really and truly been horrendous." Twenty-five percent of all cancer survivors face job discrimination, he claims. This includes being passed over for promotion and "job lock," being stuck in a job for fear of losing health benefits. At least 37 million Americans don't have health coverage and an additional 15 million have inadequate insurance, he says. "What people have to realize is that health insurance should no longer be considered a privilege. It should be considered a right," he says. Despite it all, Soiffer is proof, 15 years of it, that the war on the disease and stigma can be won. As he writes, "Cancer can impair a body but not an irrepressible spirit."

Fears of infected doctors cast black clouds

MOUNT JOY, Pa. (AP) — That sunny Thursday in June had been one of those rare, perfect days for Kelly Wolgemuth. She had enjoyed the pool with her year-old son, and basked in the warmth of this "wonderful ball of joy" born through artificial insemination. But the sunshine of the day quickly faded. Mrs. Wolgemuth recalled, not only for her, but also for more than 400 other women in central Pennsylvania. Awaiting her when she returned home was a notice of a certified letter. She and her husband knew what it was even before he picked it up. They had heard the news on television. A resident who had cared for her at an infertility clinic was infected with the AIDS virus. "There was just a terrible sinking feeling," she remembered. "I was scared."

AIDS virus was the first reported doctor to resign as a result of the new guidelines. Dr. Neal Rzepkowski of Dunkirk, N.Y., said none of the more than 4,000 patients he treated was infected. The heated debate has raised even broader issues such as the right to privacy. Pennsylvania's AIDS confidentiality law, which prevents release of names of people infected with the AIDS virus, was tested last month for the first time since it was enacted last year. In what could be a precedent-setting decision, an appeals court ruled that "the scales tip in favor of the public health, regardless of the small potential for transmission of the fatal virus" from doctor to patient. The appeals court upheld release of the resident's AIDS information, and his name only on a limited basis to other physicians. His attorney, Bruce E. Cooper of Harrisburg, characterized the disclosure as being made in a "climate of public hysteria which is totally unassociated with any medical or scientific facts."

Kelly Wolgemuth, shown with her 1-year-old son Christian at their home in Mount Joy, Pa., recently, had notice that a physician who cared for her was infected with AIDS. She and her son have tested negative for the HIV virus.

"Oh, my God, I'm going to die," she thought. "Could this possibly be?" More and more, patients are learning that in seeking treatment, they also were exposing themselves to health care workers infected with the AIDS virus. Sometimes, they learn only when the healer has died. The revelations are widespread — in Harrisburg, Hershey and Pittsburgh, Pa.; from the Maryland Penitentiary to the college town of Morgantown, W.Va.; in California, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, New York, New Hampshire, Georgia, Florida and Texas. The disclosures have spawned anger and anxiety and frustration and fear among patients, even though medical authorities assure them their chances of infection are very slim. Thousands of patients have dialed hospital hot lines and talked to counselors. Is this an overreaction? The federal Centers for Disease Control says the only doctor-patient AIDS transmission cases it knows of are five infected patients of a Florida dentist.

Even as lawmakers debate the issue, what is believed to be an unprecedented class-action suit arising from the Pennsylvania case is taking a different tack: that of trying to force the hospitals to make testing mandatory as a requirement for practicing there. Although Kelly Wolgemuth tested negative, she and her husband, Kirk, filed a class-action suit on behalf of the 400 patients and their families against the two hospitals where the resident worked — the Milton S. Hershey Medical Center and the Harrisburg Hospital. They seek more than $80,000 in damages from each hospital. Deborah Saline, a spokeswoman for Hershey Medical Center, said, "We believe both hospitals acted in a responsible and appropriate manner."

testing for doctors instead of awaiting government action. Atlee believes the suit is the first of its kind. "It's a very interesting case that's right on the edge between the patient and the doctor, between the public and the medical profession," he said. "The public feels strongly, and I think rightly, that doctors and health care providers who expose patients to a risk should be tested," Atlee said. "The medical profession is unwilling to take that step. This disease is not a cold. It's a death warrant."

lives has changed. They and their children live in an uncertain time, hoping they are not that one person in 41,667 or one in 2.6 million, the range of odds of patient infection estimated by CDC statisticians. Another patient, who asked that she not be identified, said such long odds and her initial negative test results do not ease all the concern. She will need three more tests in the next year. Her sex life has been disrupted. Her newborn baby, too small now for drawing blood, also will have to undergo a test when she is a year old. "You can always be that one person, and until I know for sure, it's going to always be there," said the woman, who is in her 20s, has been married for almost seven years and has three children. A counselor provided by Harrisburg Hospital wasn't much help because she took things too lightly, the woman said. And rather than use a condom for six months, as the hospital suggested, the woman and her husband decided to abstain from sex. "I don't know how we can get back to a normal sexual life even after a year because it's always going to be in the back of your mind. It does a lot of psychological stuff to you," she said.

But the revelations have shaken the sacred trust between patient and doctor, stirred debate over whether health care workers should be tested for AIDS, and nudged the government into proposed legislation and guidelines on such testing. The U.S. Senate last month approved a measure that would jail AIDS-infected health care workers who perform risky treatments without telling patients they have the virus. The U.S. House hasn't taken up the measure. At the same time, the CDC issued new guidelines recommending that doctors and dentists performing surgery or other invasive procedures voluntarily take AIDS tests and stop if they are infected. An emergency room physician in New York state who practiced for six years after learning he had the

Mrs. Wolgemuth said Hershey Medical Center informed her that the doctor participated in her surgery and treatment at the hospital's infertility clinic. She does not know if he also was involved in her son Christian's birth on June 7, 1990. "I was angry at the doctor," she said. "I was angry at the hospitals for not requiring AIDS testing of their doctors. It's very frightening because you think of the consequences. A lot of people could be at risk and not know it. Even if a doctor tests positive they are not required to tell anyone. They can continue surgical procedures." For some, the rhythm of their

Chocolate and Kahlua, a match made in heaven

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Chocolate is a universal favorite. Everybody, at one time or another dives into a devastatingly decadent, homemade chocolate dessert. Chocolate's "taste from heaven" partners perfectly with everything scrumptious — ice cream, fruit, nuts and most blissful of all, Kahlua!

Chocolate and Kahlua are a heavenly match indeed. Hershey's rich, all-natural cocoa combines its deep chocolate flavor effortlessly with luscious, velvety Kahlua for truly out-of-this-world desserts.

These two sensuous stars take center stage in Chocolate Kahlua Sour Cream Cake. This moist chocolate layer cake topped with a scrumptious frosting will have guests singing sweet chocolate praises.

Cocoa Kahlua Fudge, the creme de la creme of chocolate treats, offers complete, creamy indulgence with a flavorful combination of semi-sweet chips and crunchy macadamia nuts.

Chocolate Kahlua Cheesecake breathes life into a plain cheesecake. This cool, chocolate dream is baked in a chocolate crumb crust, and topped with elegant whipped cream rosettes.

So go ahead, indulge. Tempt family and friends with a mouthwatering array of delectable chocolate desserts made with two sensational classics — 100 percent natural cocoa and rich, smooth Kahlua.

CHOCOLATE KAHLUA SOUR CREAM CAKE

- (Serves 8-10)
- 1/2 cup shortening
 - 1 1/4 cups sugar
 - 2 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 2 eggs
 - 1 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
 - 1/2 cup HERSHEY'S cocoa
 - 1 teaspoon baking soda
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 cup water
 - 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
 - 1/2 cup Kahlua

CHOCOLATE KAHLUA FROSTING (follows)

Heat oven to 350 Degrees F. Grease and flour two 9-inch baking pans. In large mixer bowl, beat shortening, sugar and vanilla until fluffy. Add eggs; beat well. In separate bowl, stir together flour, cocoa, baking soda and salt, add alternately with water to beaten mixture until well blended. Stir in sour cream; blend well. Stir in Kahlua; blend well.

Pour batter into prepared pans. Bake 25-30 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pans to wire racks. Cool completely. Frost with CHOCOLATE KAHLUA FROSTING.

CHOCOLATE KAHLUA FROSTING

- (Makes 2 1/2 cups frosting)
- 3 cups powdered sugar
 - 1/3 cup HERSHEY'S Cocoa
 - Dash salt
 - 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter or margarine, softened
 - 3 tablespoons Kahlua
 - 3 to 4 tablespoons hot coffee
- In medium bowl, stir together sugar, cocoa and salt; set aside. In small mixer bowl, beat butter until creamy; gradually add sugar mixture alternately with Kahlua and coffee, beating to desired consistency. Yields about 2 1/2 cups frosting.

COCOA KAHLUA FUDGE

- (Makes about 4 dozens pieces or 3 3/4 pounds)
- 1 cup HERSHEY'S Cocoa
 - 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter or margarine, melted
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 4 cups sugar
 - 1 cup evaporated milk
 - 1/2 cup Kahlua
 - 1/4 (1/2 stick) butter or margarine
 - 1 jar (7 oz.) marshmallows cream
 - 1 tablespoon powdered instant coffee
 - 1 cup HERSHEY'S Semi-Sweet Chocolate Chips
 - 1 cup coarsely chopped macadamia nuts

Line 9-inch square pan with foil; set aside. In large bowl, stir together cocoa, melted butter and vanilla until smooth; set aside. (Mixture will not stay soft.) In 4-quart saucepan, combine sugar, evaporated milk, Kahlua, 1/4 cup butter, marshmallow cream and instant coffee. Cook over medium heat, and stir 6 minutes or until mixture reaches 234 Degrees F. on candy thermometer. (Bulb of thermometer should not rest on bottom of saucepan.) Remove from heat. Carefully pour mixture into bowl with cocoa mixture.

Add chocolate chips and nuts. Beat with wooden spoon, blending well until chips are melted and mixture thickens. Quickly pour into prepared pan. Cool until firm. Remove from pan; peel off foil. Cut into squares. Store in tightly covered container in cool, dry place.

CHOCOLATE KAHLUA CHEESECAKE

(Makes about 12 servings)

- 1 3/4 cups (10-oz. package) HERSHEY'S Premium Semi-Sweet chocolate chunks, divided
- 1 cup whipping cream, divided
- 1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons Kahlua, divided
- 3 packages (8 oz. each) cream cheese, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/3 cup HERSHEY'S Cocoa
- 3 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 tablespoon powdered sugar

Prepare CHOCOLATE CRUMB CRUST; set aside. In small microwave-safe bowl, place 3/4 cup chocolate chunks. Microwave at high (100%) 1 minute; stir. If necessary, microwave at high an additional 15 seconds at a time, stirring after each heating, just until chunks are melted when stirred. Add 1/4 cup whipping cream; stir until well blended. Stir in 1/4 cup Kahlua; set aside. Heat oven to 400 Degrees F. In large mixer bowl, beat cream cheese and sugar until fluffy. Add cocoa; beat until well blended. Add eggs, one at a time to cream cheese mixture, beating well after each addition.

Stir in vanilla and reserved chocolate mixture. Pour over prepared crust. Bake 10 minutes. Decrease oven temperature to 275 Degrees F., continue baking 45 minutes. Remove from oven to cooling rack; loosen cake from rim of pan. Cool completely; remove rim. In small microwave-safe bowl, place remaining 1 cup chocolate chunks. Microwave on HIGH 1 minute; stir. If necessary, microwave at HIGH an additional 15 seconds at a time, stirring until chunks are melted. Stir in 1/4 cup whipping cream; blend well.

Stir in remaining 2 tablespoons Kahlua; blend well. Spread on top of cake. Refrigerate about 6 hours. At serving time, beat remaining 1/2 cup whipping cream and powdered sugar until stiff; garnish cake with small rosettes of whipped cream. Refrigerate leftover cake.

Stir in remaining 2 tablespoons Kahlua; blend well. Spread on top of cake. Refrigerate about 6 hours. At serving time, beat remaining 1/2 cup whipping cream and powdered sugar until stiff; garnish cake with small rosettes of whipped cream. Refrigerate leftover cake.

CHOCOLATE CRUMB CRUST

Heat oven to 350 Degrees F. In small bowl, combine 1 cup vanilla wafer crumbs (about 30 wafers), 1/4 cup HERSHEY'S Cocoa and 1/4 cup powdered sugar; stir in 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine. Press mixture on bottom of 9-inch springform pan. Bake 8 minutes.

Tender microwave pot roast

By NANCY BYAL

What a shame that cooking meat in the microwave oven has gotten such a bum rap! You can bake tender and juicy meats, like this pot roast, if you select a roast with a uniform shape and thickness, and use your microwave oven on a low power level.

Flat roasts, such as a beef chuck pot roast, are the ideal shape for microwave cooking. Also look for a roast with good marbling (even amounts of fat spread throughout the meat). If one area has heavier marbling, it will cook faster than the rest. In general, boneless roasts cook more evenly than roasts with a bone, because large bones shield the meat from the microwaves.

By using a lower power setting, the meat cooks more slowly, letting heat penetrate to the center without overcooking the outside. Even with a lower power level, you can still cut an hour or more off the time it takes to cook a pot roast in a conventional oven.

MARINATED POT ROAST WITH VEGETABLES

- One 2 1/2- to 3-pound boneless beef chuck pot roast
- 1 cup red wine
- 1 teaspoon finely shredded orange peel
- 1/4 cup orange juice
- 2 tablespoons olive oil or cooking oil
- 1 teaspoon dried basil, crushed
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 teaspoons instant beef bouillon granules
- 1 pound whole tiny new potatoes, quartered
- One 10-ounce package frozen tiny whole carrots
- One 9-ounce package frozen Italian-style green beans
- 1 cup fresh (peeled) or frozen pearl onions

2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons cold water

Trim fat from meat. Place meat in a plastic bag set in a bowl. Combine wine, orange peel, orange juice, oil, basil and pepper; pour over meat and close the bag. Chill for several hours or overnight, turning the bag occasionally to distribute the marinade.

In a 3-quart, microwave-safe casserole combine meat, marinade and bouillon granules. Turn meat to coat all sides.

Cook meat, covered, on 100 percent power (high) for 5 minutes or until liquid is boiling. Cook, covered, on 50 percent power (medium) for 40 minutes. Turn meat over. Add potatoes. Cook, covered, on medium for 15 minutes more. Turn meat over. Add carrots, green beans and onions; spoon juices over. Cook, covered, on medium for 25 to 30 minutes more or until meat and vegetables are tender. Transfer to a warm platter, reserving juices. Cover meat and vegetables with foil to keep warm.

For gravy, strain the pan juices through a sieve into a 4-cup glass measure; use a large spoon to skim off the fat that rises to the surface. Measure 2 cups of the juices; discard the remaining juices.

In a small bowl stir together cornstarch and water; stir into the reserved juices. Cook, uncovered, on 100 percent power (high) for 2 1/2 to 3 minutes or until thickened and bubbly, stirring after every minute until slightly thickened; then after every 30 seconds. Cook, uncovered, on 50 percent power (medium) for 30 seconds more. Serve with meat and vegetables. Makes 8 servings.

"He was pushing my nose up with it," Silva said. "He said, 'I'm going to kill you.'"

Silva said Johnson then began advancing toward him armed with what looked like a pipe and threatened to kill him. Silva said he then stepped off the porch, turned around and saw Kroener lowering his pistol at him. "I did draw my gun and I shot down," Silva said. Asked why he did not shoot to kill, he answered, "I didn't want to ruin my life."

Silva said he fired two more times after Kroener returned fired once and then got in his car and fled. However, Kroener testified that he fired the first shot, which, he said, was meant to be a warning shot.

MOSCOW — Thousands of Muscovites in front of the Russian Federation Building listen to a live broadcast from an emergency session of the Russian Parliament today. Russian Federation President Boris Yeltsin told Parliament the coup leaders were fleeing the country.

Coup

The party renounced any connection with the coup leaders.

Tass also reported that the Soviet Defense Ministry decided to withdraw the hundreds of tanks and troops that had poured into Moscow to enforce emergency decrees after the takeover Monday.

Tanks and armored personnel carriers were seen moving away from the Russian Parliament, and one lawmaker said: "The coup is collapsing." A 2 1/2-mile-long column of about 180 tanks and 60 trucks was heading out of Moscow, and the soldiers on board said they were returning to their base.

Radio and television broadcasts that were banned during the takeover reappeared on the air, and the Tass news agency said a decree shutting independent publications was being lifted as of today.

Even before the announcement that the ban was being lifted, state-run media dropped the previous official line on the 3-day-old takeover and began reporting the unfolding events.

Thousands of people kept up their vigil at the Russian Parliament building following overnight clashes with Soviet troops that left at least four dead.

They roared with approval when the announcement of the coup committee's departure came over a loudspeaker.

The plane reportedly carrying the coup leaders was heading to the city of Bishkek, formerly called Frunze, the capital of Kirgizia, 2,100 miles southeast of Moscow, according to Radio Russia. The station speaks for Yeltsin, the president of the Russian Federation.

It was not immediately known why the coup leaders would travel to Kirgizia.

The radio said officials of the Russian republic know the plane number and its destination and would try to intercept it and have its passengers arrested.

Contrary to earlier news reports, none of the coup leaders was arrested before leaving Moscow, the radio said, quoting Russian government leaders.

Bush, in Maine, told a news conference that Yeltsin told him in a telephone call that he believed that

Bush: 'Situation . . . more positive'

KENNEBUNKPORT, Maine (AP) — President Bush spoke today with Russian Federation President Boris Yeltsin and said the "situation appears somewhat more positive" for democratic forces trying to restore Mikhail Gorbachev to the presidency of the Soviet Union.

"Democracy once unleashed is a pretty powerful force," Bush said, while cautioning that it was "too early to declare these matters over." He said the situation remained "highly fluid."

He said he spoke by phone with Yeltsin for the second day in a row but hadn't been able to reach Gorbachev. He praised Yeltsin for "courageous" opposition to the coup, and said the Russian leader's flamboyance had stood him in good stead throughout the crisis.

Bush addressed reporters at a hotel near his vacation home. He said Yeltsin told him he was "encouraged that more and more military commanders are abandoning the coup," but said Yeltsin told him troops were still outside the Russian Federation Building. He said some special forces seemed to continue to take orders from coup supporters.

"He made clear to me that he did not consider the military threat was over," Bush said of Yeltsin. But he said the tide appeared to be turning.

In Washington, officials said that while the coup appeared to be failing, it was too soon to declare it over. "We wouldn't rule out the possibility, although a low possibility, of the use of force" by troops loyal to the coup leaders, said one official who spoke only on condition of anonymity.

The president said Yeltsin had told him that the Soviet airborne commander has "come over to the Yeltsin side." Separately, a senior U.S. military official in Washington said the head of the Soviet Navy, Fleet Adm. V.N. Chernavin, had declared his support for Yeltsin.

Bush emphasized that he wasn't declaring an end to the coup, but he offered something of a post-mortem nonetheless. He said he did not yet know who were the ringleaders of the coup attempt, but said:

"They underestimated the power of the people. They underestimated what a taste of democracy and freedom brings."

"They may have bitten off more than they can chew here. But time will tell on that one, and I don't want to be proclaiming this matter solved."

"They've got a lot of troops. They've got a lot of force. That's got a lot of people who look at this in a very hardline way."

Citizens group hopes to stop bond election

By MARSHA STURDIVANT Staff Writer

More than 15 people at a meeting of the Citizens For Choice in the School Bond Election called for the defeat of a Sept. 28 school bond election Tuesday.

"We feel we have no choice but to vote against the bond election. As a former teacher, that's hard for me to say, but our primary goal is to defeat the bond," said Jean Warren, recently elected secretary of the citizens group.

Trustees for the Big Spring district have called for the nearly $12 million bond election to generate funds to build a new junior high school to replace Runnels Junior High School, a new elementary school and to upgrade the air conditioning in the high school and to roof several other schools.

The citizens committee cited several points of disagreement with the bond election and discussed ideas and methods for educating the public about its concerns over the bond election.

"We feel the bond election is only one solution, and other alternatives were never explored," Mays said.

The most important opposition, according to committee members, is to additional taxes to build new schools, considering the city's economy.

"At a time when the city council is expecting to have to cut police protection, we do not feel that the community can afford to build new schools," said Polly Mays, elected treasurer for the group.

William McQueary, superintendent for Big Spring schools, said the board of trustees studied the problems with Big Spring school facilities for seven years before deciding to build new schools. He said there will be state funds to match the local effort through the new school finance reforms recently funded by the Texas Legislature.

"Cost-wise it looks as if the first year this will increase the (debt service) tax by 9 cents. In the second year, after that 1964 bond indebtedness is paid off, then from the second year through the duration of the next 19 years, it looks as if it will only be a 3- or 4-cent increase over what it is now."

McQueary said the school administration, is currently working on the cost impact per home owner. And taxpayers will be fully informed about the cost as well the benefits of the bond issue.

"The board is behind this 100 percent. We're tired of 'piecemealing' stuff together. We're tired of a hodgepodge of buildings," he said.

Another platform point from the citizens group, according to Mays, is the demolition of Runnels. "This is a beloved, historic building that deserves to be saved. The committee believes the cost of remodeling Runnels was falsely inflated to include unnecessary outbuildings. More money could be saved here," Mays said.

"The board of education decided it's not worth putting megamillions of dollars (into restoring Runnels). It's served its day," McQueary said.

Another group of parents who joined the committee are opposed to creating a fifth- and sixth-grade independent campus. These citizens said the overcrowding in the elementary schools should be alleviated through expansion, not new buildings.

And the final opposition to the bond election is that part of the high school is not currently used, and remodeling Boydston Elementary on Sixth Street should be explored further. Many rooms in the high school stand empty, due to over-building in 1964 before Webb Air Force Base closed and reduced school population, they said.

"Boydston is the same age as Bauer, which is being productively used," said Lea Whitehead, committee member.

"The committee recognizes that problems do exist with the Big Spring schools; however, the committee is not in agreement with the school board's plan to call for a $11.7 million bond election to build a new junior high school and a new elementary. The committee points out that Big Spring's west side has no elementary school," Whitehead said.

The citizens choice members have formulated a plan to generate public opposition to the election that includes advertising, public and group speaking and other public education methods. Officers for the group include Mays, Warren and chairperson Gerald Harris.

Mays said anyone interested in joining the citizens committee or volunteering as speakers, distributing flyers, working at the polls or other activities should call 263-3643 or 267-6192. Donations to defer campaign costs may be mailed to Polly Mays at P.O. Box 2277, Big Spring 79720.

$70,000 to remodel another building that has been discussed for use as a police station. Foster said that building, previously used as the city museum, is across the street from the present station. Foster said he does not know how much it would cost to remodel the present building.

Besides getting a new police station, another advantage is that the city chambers, where council meetings are held, would be more handicapped accessible. The present chambers are on the second floor of City Hall.

Petition

passage of a bond election would have raised taxes. Cypert also said the center would have had only 25 percent of its space available for a public meeting room.

"The majority of the people in my precinct do not want the center," Cypert said in the meeting.

"I hope it ended today either way," Precinct 2 Commissioner Ervin Wooten said after the meeting.

"I can't say what will happen next," said County Judge Wilburn Bednar. "We can't predict what people will do next."

According to the Secretary of State's office in Austin, Hoelscher was not authorized by state law to circulate a legally binding petition.

"The code is not germane to an individual circulating a petition to show interest in a developmental project for the community," said Katy Davis of Secretary of State's office. "There are no legal requirements or criteria for what should be on it."

Residents in Glasscock county in favor of the community center said they plan to push the commissioners court to make a decision about the community center.

"It can not be determined what will happen next," said Hoelscher. "We will start all over again if that is what it takes."

U.S. athletes did just fine

Am I ever glad the Pan American Games are over.

I'm so tired of hearing how the United States was embarrassed.

Jim Litke, a sports columnist with the Associated Press, said he's tired of the United States making excuses. Here is how he put it:

"Some of the athletes are searching for ways to prosper regardless of the wind and the sun and the moon and the stars, the officials, the stakes and the deep ruts in the playing surface. But others are just searching for excuses. And more and more, at lower and lower levels of sport it seems, Yankee ingenuity is being pressed into the service of finding the perfect alibi."

Coach: Lady Steers aiming for playoffs

By STEVE BELVIN

The way coach Lois Ann McKenzie's record has been going in her tenure as Big Spring Lady Steers volleyball coach — this should be the year of the Lady Steers.

Four years ago McKenzie inherited a volleyball program that was in definite need of a facelift. The facelift started off with a modest three wins the first year. Since then the wins have gradually grown each year.

Last season the Lady Steers established themselves as contenders, just missing the state playoffs. Big Spring finished with a 10-9 overall record and 7-5 district mark, good for third place. A slow start in district play was Big Spring's downfall.

Big Spring finished with a flurry, winning five of its last six games, but it was too little, too late. The Lady Steers finished one game out of the playoffs.

This season the Lady Steers are pre-season strong contenders for the state playoffs. McKenzie returns four starters from last year's squad. She also has talent in the underclasswomen who could make a fully rounded team.

Midland teams sweep Big Spring

MIDLAND — The Big Spring Lady Steers officially started volleyball season Tuesday afternoon, dropping a doubleheader against Midland High and Midland Lee at the Lee gym.

In junior varsity action, the Lady Steers also lost both matches.

In the opening varsity game against Midland High, the Lady Bulldogs won 15-9, 15-8. "We had some little screwups, we were in the net a bunch," said Lady Steers coach Lois Ann McKenzie. "It was a case of things that really shouldn't matter, hurting us. It should have no effect on our play, but it was killing us. We didn't play clean enough ball to win."

McKenzie said she was impressed with the play of freshmen Laura Elrod, Sarah Bristow and Kristi Burrow. "They all hung in there. They had the jitters, but they did a good job," said McKenzie.

McKenzie was also pleased with the play of senior Teveyan Russell, who is coming off major knee surgery. "Teveyan did a good job. She couldn't go that long, but she was only released from the doctor last Tuesday."

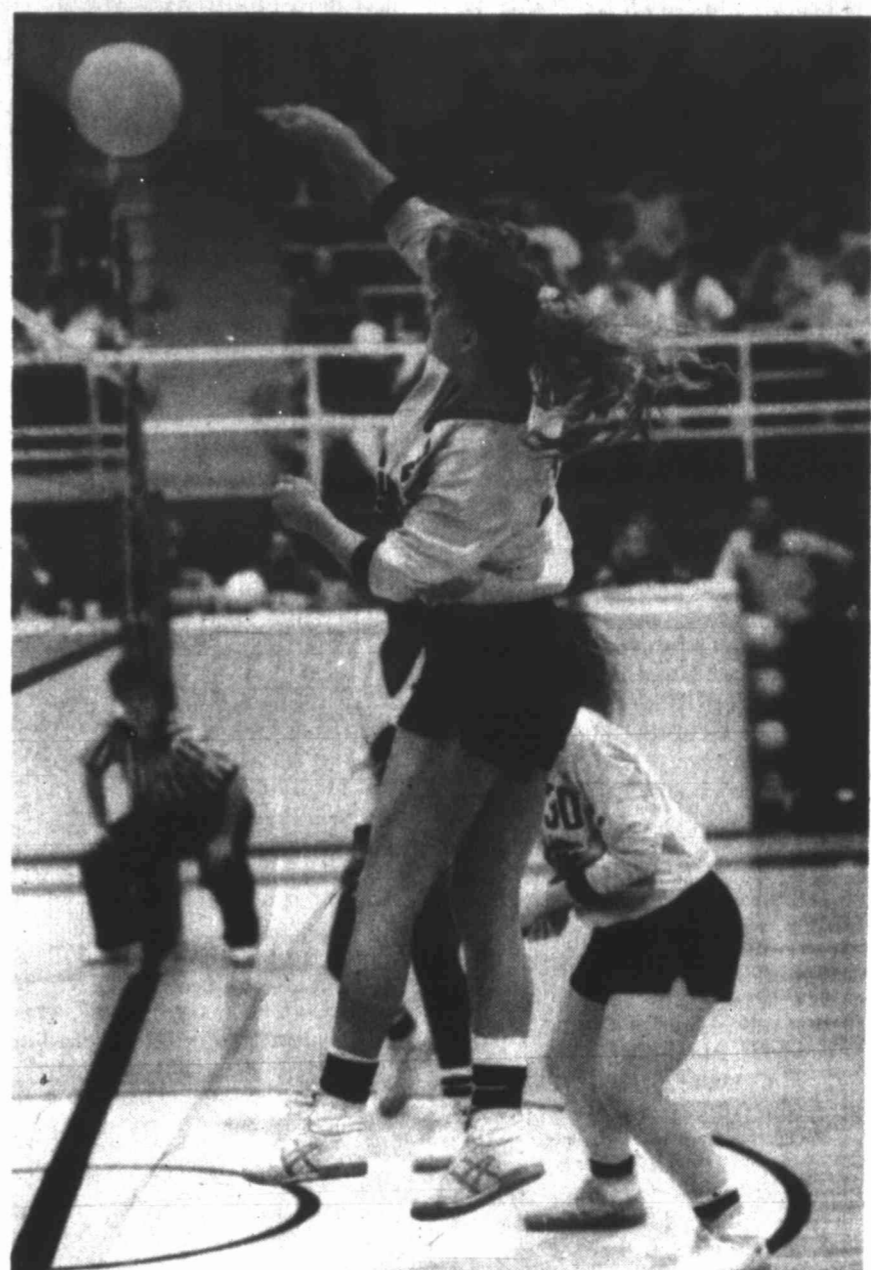

McKenzie added that senior Kayla Roberts did a good job defensively.

In the second match against Lee, the Lady Rebels won 15-12, 4-15, 15-13. "We missed way too many serves," said McKenzie. "In the third game we had them 13-10 and just blew it. We missed at least five serves the last game. "We don't have a set lineup right now. We're just trying people in and out to get them some work."

In junior varsity action, Midland High beat Big Spring 15-10, 15-11. In the match against Lee, Lee downed the JV Lady Steers 17-15, 5-15, 15-11. The Lady Steers lost a 9-2 lead in the opening game.

"We missed some serves. We tried a new lineup that should've worked and it didn't. We'll find out in practice tomorrow (Wednesday) why it didn't," said McKenzie of her JV squad.

The Lady Steers will be in their home opener against the Colorado City Lady Wolves Thursday afternoon in Steer Gym. Varsity action starts at 4 p.m., followed by junior varsity and freshmen play.

Big Spring Lady Steer Amber Grisham prepares to spike the ball in volleyball action last year. Grisham, a senior, is one of the top returning lettermen from last year's squad.

Big Spring High School assistant football coach Terry Benner, with ball, watches as two linemen go through their paces at a recent practice. The Steers will see their first outside competition

Thursday when they scrimmage Lubbock Dunbar at Blankenship Field.

Crenshaw, Azinger team to win Challenge

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Raymond Floyd makes clutch putts. Ben Crenshaw loses playoffs.

Those are nuggets of conventional wisdom in the world of professional golf, but conventional wisdom didn't mean much in the Fred Meyer Challenge.

Floyd missed two chances to win and Crenshaw nailed a 35-foot birdie putt on the second playoff hole Tuesday as he and teammate Paul Azinger claimed the challenge's $100,000 first prize.

"Hey, I'm 0-7 in playoffs," Crenshaw said. "But not anymore. I've got one on the proper side of the column."

This one won't count in the official PGA statistics, but he'll take it, especially considering his performance throughout the final round. He birdied five of the final seven holes, including a 3-footer on the 18th to force a three-team playoff.

"I thought we had to birdie every hole coming in to have a chance," Crenshaw said. "When Raymond missed it at the last, I was fortunate to have an approach shot that I could just go ahead and stroke it."

Bob Gilder, a local favorite from Corvallis, and teammate Mark Calcavecchia were in control. But Gilder got no help from his partner after regulation. Calcavecchia couldn't hit a green. On the 18th, he chipped far over the green, just missing a radio tower.

Gilder was hot, though, with an eagle and five birdies in the wildest final round in the six-year history of the best-ball tournament.

Gilder and Calcavecchia finished at 19-under-par 125 and waited for the final foursome of Azinger, Crenshaw, Floyd and Fred Couples to finish. Both teams birdied 17 to go 18-under par.

With most of the crowd of more than 15,000 watching on the 18th, Floyd drove his second shot to within 10 feet of the pin, giving him a good shot at an eagle and a one-stroke vehicle.

Crenshaw, meanwhile, dropped his third shot close to the hole and waited while Floyd tried, and failed, to make the winning putt.

"When Raymond hits a shot like that, he usually finishes it off," Crenshaw said. "He played a gorgeous 3-wood in. I guess when I was looking at him I didn't see his eyes bulge like they usually do. Maybe that's why he missed it."

Floyd tapped in for a birdie, Crenshaw made his short putt, and the first playoff in the tournament's six-year history began on the 16th hole.

Floyd and Couples hit approach shots within 10 feet of the hole. The putts for Floyd and Couples weren't easy, but Azinger figured one of them would fall.

"I gave my caddie my gloves and my tees," Azinger said. "I said, 'Give me my money clip. I'm out of here.'"

But Couples and Floyd both missed just to the right.

Gilder's and Calcavecchia's hopes ended quickly in the playoffs. Calcavecchia missed the green again and wasn't even close to a par. Gilder failed to sink a 6-foot par putt.

That set up Crenshaw's heroics. He said he loves the greens at the par-72, 6,632-yard Portland Golf Club course, and the long putt he sank to win it on the par-3 17th is the kind he likes.

"It went up over a little bit of a hill and then went a little bit down," he said. "I had a good feel today for the most part. I saw it go out about halfway and thought it looked pretty good. And about three-quarters of the way, it looked better."

It was almost a four-team playoff. Wayne Levi and Gil Morgan both missed short birdie putts on the 18th that would have left them at 19-under.

Taiwan wins a tight one

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — The Dominican Republic eventually did the things that would have ended Taiwan's quest for another Little League World Series championship, but not in time to do the job.

The Far East champions scored two runs in the first inning and held off three rallies to take a 3-2 victory in Tuesday's opening game of the 1991 Series.

Rain, which resumed 90 minutes after Taiwan's victory, forced postponement of the day's second game. Staten Island, N.Y., and Hamilton, Ohio, were scheduled to play this morning.

The Dominican Republic stranded 11 base runners Tuesday, including three in the third inning and two each in the second, fifth and sixth. Taiwan left three on base.

"We were very lucky to win this game," Taiwan manager Lai Tzu-Yuan said.

After Dominican Republic starter Pedro Guzman gave up a two-run homer to Fang Sheng in the first, Francisco Solano came on with a steady performance, striking out seven and allowing only Lin Wei-Chu's homer in the fifth.

"I was expecting my first pitcher to give me a good game," Dominican Republic manager Carlos Perez said. "He threw a no-hitter in the (Latin American) tournament, but this story's another one."

Three Dominican runners reached with none out in the third, but Pan Shih-Chang struck out the next two batters and got the third batter to ground to first.

"I trusted my batters," Perez said, who had his Nos. 4, 5 and 6 hitters swinging away. "I never said for them to bunt. I trusted them, and (was) surprised by their reaction to their pitcher."

The middle of his lineup was 2-for-10.

Pan struck out 13, including cleanup hitter Hector Morban four times, as Taiwan moved into Thursday's semifinals against the winner of today's game between Glace Bay, Nova Scotia, and Dhahran, Saudi Arabia.

A U.S. quarterfinal between San Ramon Valley, Calif., and Dunedin, Fla., also was set for today.

In the Dominican fifth, Ervin Soto, singles by Danny Solano, Francisco Solano and with Francisco Solano scored a run.

Ramon Corporan then hit to deep right, but Wen Lien-Yu reached over the fence and caught the ball. Pedro Damaso grounded to the pitcher to end the inning.

In the sixth, pinch-hitter Jose de la Cruz drew a walk and scored on Soto's double to left. Pan ended the threat by striking out Morban on a changeup.

"If they had their second pitcher start the game, we wouldn't have been able to hit," Lai said.

Lady Steers

hitter Teveyan Russell. The 5-foot-11, two-time all-district performer and three-year starter is coming off major knee surgery. Russell made her return one week ago, a full month before it was projected that she return.

Sporting a knee brace, Russell has done well so far in practice and in competition. "Her power is there but her mobility on the back line is not just yet," said McKenzie. "She's fortunate that she has tremendous reach however."

Joining Russell will be 5-foot-11 senior hitter Amber Grisham, a two-year starter. "Most people would use Amber and Teveyan as middle hitters, but they hit so well from the outside I'll use them there," said McKenzie. "I'll use Teveyan on the right because that's where her strength is, and Amber on the left."

Entering their third year as starters are juniors Amber Fannin (5-6) and Cassie Underwood (5-6). Fannin is a hitter and Underwood is a setter. Underwood was an all-district pick last season.

"Amber Fannin has a tremendous vertical jump and that's why I have her in the middle," said McKenzie. "Cassie went to setting school again and she's by far the best setter I've ever coached. One of the reasons for that is because she's taller."

Rounding out the list of returning starters is senior defensive specialist Kayla Roberts (5-3). "Kayla is a good defensive player and she played some real good defense last night (in opening games against Midland High and Midland Lee)," said McKenzie. "Those four know what to do, it's just getting the right combination. After those four, the rest is up for grabs," she said.

Coach McKenzie said a pleasant surprise has been freshmen players Laura Elrod (5-8), Sarah Bristow (5-8) and Kristi Birrell (5-4). Elrod and Bristow are hitters and Birrell is a defensive specialist. McKenzie said the trio handled their first varsity action well Tuesday. "All three are sweet players, but they play tougher than you think from looking at them. In the only game we won Tuesday, with game point, Elrod served and Bristow got the last hit," she said.

Others expected to do varsity time are seniors Jo Beth Neighbors (5-5), Jamie Haas (5-5), Mary Porras (4-9) and Karma Morrow (5-4). Neighbors and Haas are hitters, Porras is a setter and Morrow is a defensive specialist. Haas was moved up from the junior varsity last year when Grisham got hurt. Neighbors and Porras played last year. Morrow didn't play last year.

Juniors that will help the cause are Annie Rodriguez (5-3) and Heather Farris (5-6), both hitters. McKenzie said Rodriguez could be a diamond in the rough. "If Annie Rodriguez were taller, she could be one of the best volleyball players to come through here. She has tremendous jumping ability, good power and she's so intense."

As far as the district race goes, McKenzie says as always, Pecos will be good because of tradition. "They had a real good junior varsity team last year," McKenzie said. "Andrews suffered a big blow when top player Mataya Maxie moved. Monahans has a new coach, and Sweetwater has only Amy Parson returning."

As far as her team being a top seed, McKenzie says the pressure doesn't matter. "I'd rather have pressure from them knowing they have to beat you than not have pressure from them thinking they can roll over you," she said. "Like that old saying goes, 'nobody likes a winner.' I'd just as soon everyone dislike me intensely."

Clark's slam quiets crowd, Astros

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS
Will Clark had a little incentive against the Astros. He wanted to shut up Houston's fans.

"They were all over me," Clark said. "They had a blast."
Clark had the last blast Tuesday night. He hit a game-tying double in the sixth inning, then broke a 3-3 tie with a grand slam in the seventh as San Francisco won 9-3 and ended a three-game losing streak.

"When I came in after the first inning, they were cursing and I told them to keep it clean," Clark said. "Anytime you're at a visiting park you expect some of that, but with kids all around I don't like to hear cursing."

With the score tied at 3, Dave Anderson singled and Jimmy Jones (6-8) walked Kevin Bass and Willie McGee. Rob Mallicoat relieved and Clark hit his second pitch for his third career grand slam. It gave him 23 hits in his last 52 at-bats, a .442 average.
"After I hit the grand slam, they didn't say a word," Clark said. "They just hung their heads."
Kevin Mitchell homered on the next pitch, chasing Mallicoat. It also was the 24th home run for Mitchell.

National League

"They've got a heck of a lineup," Astros manager Art Howe said. "They are always one swing away from changing the outlook of a game."

In other games, Los Angeles beat San Diego 6-4, Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh 6-5, Cincinnati and Atlanta split a doubleheader as the Reds won 8-2 and lost 5-1, and Montreal beat Chicago 4-2. St. Louis' game at New York was postponed by rain.

Kelly Downs (10-4) won his eighth consecutive decision since June 5, pitching one inning of one-hit relief. Jeff Brantley pitched three innings for his 11th save.

Dodgers 6, Padres 4
Ramon Martinez ended his three-game losing streak despite leaving the game with a bruised pitching arm. The Dodgers widened their NL West lead to 2½ games over Atlanta. Eddie Murray and Darryl Strawberry homered off Greg Harris (4-4) and Kal Daniels celebrated his 28th birthday with a home run off Jose Melendez at Dodger Stadium.

Martinez (15-8) led 5-3 in the sixth when Jack Howell lined a pitch off the bicep of his right arm. Martinez left immediately, having allowed four runs and five hits. Jay Howell got three outs for his 13th save.

Phillies 6, Pirates 5
Dickie Thon hit a two-out, two-run homer in the ninth as the Phillies snapped the visiting Pirates' four-game winning streak. Pittsburgh's lead was cut to 6½ games over St. Louis in the NL East.

Barry Bonds' RBI single gave Pittsburgh a 5-4 lead in the ninth, but Dale Murphy led off the bottom of the inning with a single off Stan Belinda (3-4), and two outs later, Thon hit his seventh home run.
Steve Searcy (2-1) pitched two-thirds of an inning for the victory.
Reds 8, Braves 2
Braves 5, Reds 1

John Smoltz pitched a five-hitter and improved to 7-2 since the All-Star break in the second game as the visiting Braves gained a split.

Joe Oliver drove in five runs and Jose Rijo (9-4) allowed two runs and five hits in 7 2-3 innings as Cincinnati won the opener.

Steve Avery (13-7) left the first game with two outs in the four-run fifth inning because of a blister on his pitching hand. He gave up six hits and four runs.

In the second game, Smoltz (9-13) struck out eight and walked two in his fourth complete game. Ron Gant broke 1-1 tie with a two-run double in the eighth off Mo Sanford (1-2).

Expos 4, Cubs 2
Rookie Chris Haney (2-4) gave up two runs and six hits in six innings as Montreal beat visiting Chicago for only the third time in 11 games this season.

Andres Galarraga had three hits, breaking a 2-2 tie with an RBI single in the sixth off Bob Scanlon (5-6).

Mel Rojas, the Expos' third pitcher, threw 2 1-3 innings for his first save.

Erickson wins 16th; Twins blast Seattle

American League

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS
Scott Erickson became the major leagues' first 16-game winner with a little help from his friends. Mark Langston might have 16 wins, too — if he had Erickson's friends.

Erickson, struggling to find the form he had before straining his right elbow in June, gave up five runs, three earned, in 5 1-3 innings against Seattle. But he got more than enough offensive support to improve to 16-5 as Minnesota beat the Mariners 10-5 on Tuesday night.

Langston, pitching on his 31st birthday, was much sharper than Erickson, allowing only five hits in eight innings. But an error led to a pair of third-inning runs and the California left-hander took the loss in Oakland's 3-2 victory.

Erickson (16-5) and the Twins both say he's healthy, even though he has a 6.88 ERA in his eight starts since coming off the disabled list.

"That's the best arm speed he's had since the All-Star break," pitching coach Dick Such said. "I shouldn't have to answer any more questions about his health."

Luckily for Erickson, the Twins have scored 51 runs in those eight starts since his return, enabling him to go 4-2. He's allowed 13 earned runs in his last nine innings, but didn't seem concerned about his struggles against the Mariners.

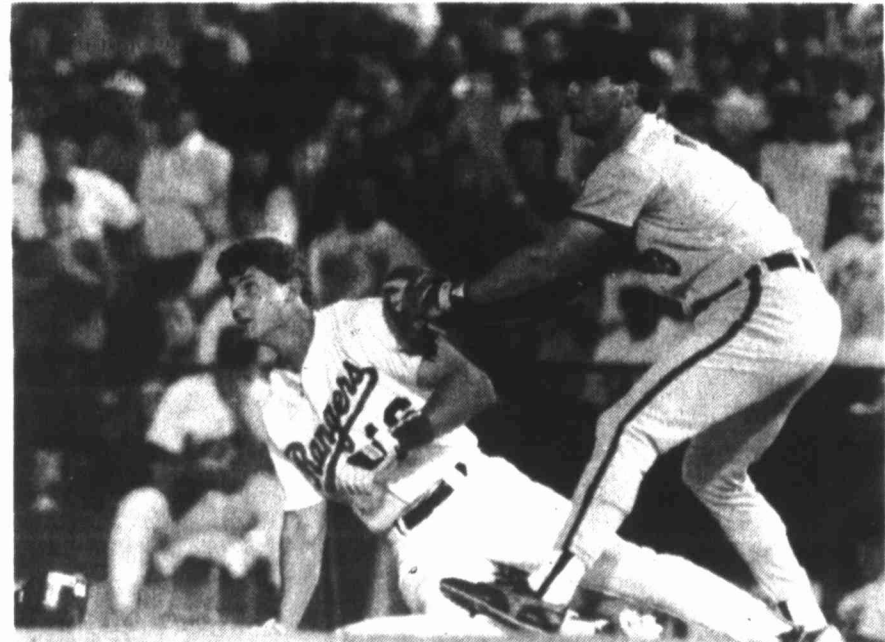

"I got a few balls up and they hit them," Erickson said. "My problems are more mechanical now. I've got no pain, no soreness. I'm happy. The velocity is coming back."

Kent Hrbek had a three-run double for the Twins and Mike Pagliarulo singled in the go-ahead run in the fourth off Erik Hanson (7-6) as the Twins moved 4½ games ahead of second-place Chicago in the West.

In other AL games, it was Baltimore 8, Texas 6; Toronto 3, Milwaukee 1; Detroit 5, Chicago 0, and New York 7, Kansas City 3. Cleveland and Boston had a doubleheader postponed by rain.

Athletics 3, Angels 2
Langston was outpitched by Ron Darling, who's found new life since being dealt to Oakland on July 31.

Darling (3-0) allowed six hits and two runs in 7 2-3 innings for his third win in as many starts at the Oakland Coliseum. Rick Honeycutt got the last out in the eighth and Dennis Eckersley pitched the ninth for his 35th save.

ARLINGTON — Baltimore's Bill Ripken, right, tags Texas' Dean Palmer after Palmer missed touching first on a close play in the ninth inning Tuesday night. Baltimore won the game, 8-6.

Langston, 15-7 overall but 0-3 against Oakland, gave up three runs, one earned, as he lost for the third time in four decisions over his last five starts.

"We've done well against Langston this year, but we haven't hit him hard," Oakland manager Tony La Russa said. "We didn't get many chances — Langston pitched well — but I thought we could have gotten more."

Dave Henderson, 10-for-12 this season against Langston, had an RBI single in a two-run third inning that was set up when second baseman Luis Sojo dropped a throw from shortstop Dick Schofield on a fielder's choice.

"He's done everything we've asked him to do," Angels manager Doug Rader said of Langston. "We didn't sustain any offense tonight. No consecutive hits to get anything going."

Orioles 8, Rangers 4
Glenn Davis, playing in his second game after missing nearly four months with a neck injury, matched his career high with five RBIs as the Orioles won in Texas. Davis doubled in two runs in the first inning and tied the game with a three-run homer in the fifth.

"I've been working pretty hard, trying to get my strength back," Davis said. "I won't tell you it was easy."

Leo Gomez put the Orioles ahead to stay in the sixth with a solo homer off Wayne Rosenthal (1-2). Chris Hoiles added a solo shot in the ninth. Kevin Reimer hit a three-run homer and Brian Downing had a two-run shot in the third

OU RB trying to recover from career-threatening knee injury

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Going through spring practice let Mike Gaddis know he was on his way back from a career-threatening knee injury. Today, he'll find out how far he has come.

Wednesday is the day the Oklahoma Sooners begin two-a-day contact drills. Gaddis has spent the summer rehabilitating his left knee, which he blew out in the Texas game in 1989.

"It's hard to really judge (progress) when you're out here just running against air," Gaddis said. "I think two-a-days are going to be a good plus for me."

"I really don't feel any pressure. We've got three good backs. I'm just trying to get out and do what I can do to try to help this team go back to the Orange Bowl."

In 1989, as a sophomore, Gaddis was the second-leading rusher in the country heading into the Texas game. He had 120 yards in the first half of that game, but his season ended on the second carry of the second half. As he made only a slight cut upfield, he collapsed without being touched.

He had done major damage to the knee. His season was over with 829 yards and 10 touchdowns in 5 1/2 games.

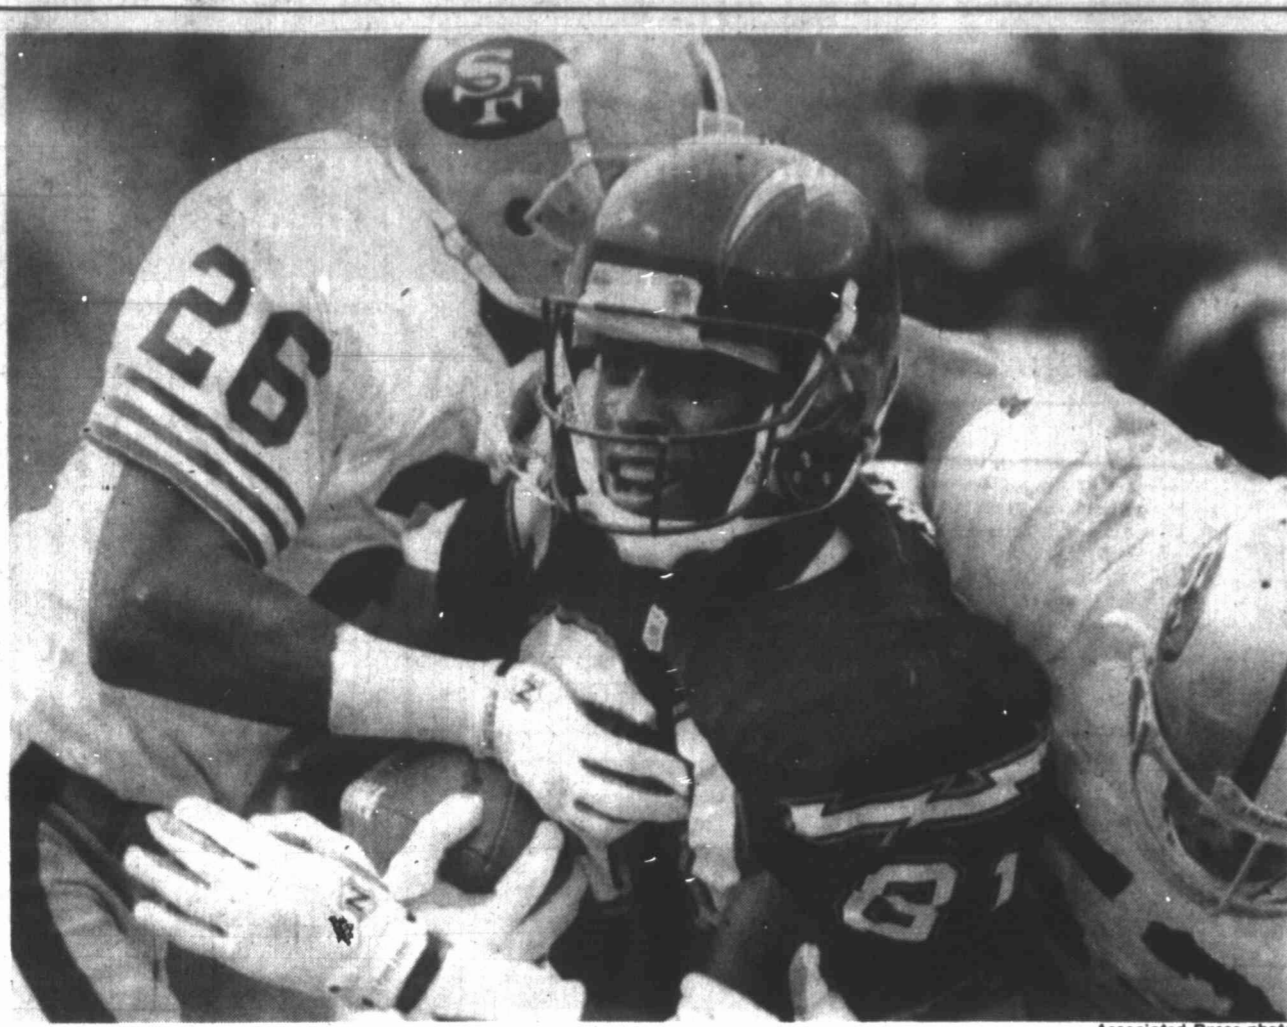

"Any time you go through something like this, you really learn something about yourself,"

Gaddis said. "It allows you to sit back and focus and get your priorities right."

"Before the injury, I think all I wanted to do was play ball. Since the injury, I realized football is not everything. You can only play so long."

Gaddis does want to play longer, even after college. So he began working his way back. He missed the 1990 season, then read a story before spring drills this year in which coach Gary Gibbs said he didn't expect Gaddis to be a factor.

"I didn't think he would go through spring at that point in time when I made the comment," Gibbs said.

SAN FRANCISCO — San Diego Chargers wide receiver Nate Lewis (center) is dragged down by San Francisco 49ers cornerback Darryl Pollard (left) and linebacker Bill Romanowski in action Monday night. The Chargers are picked to finish third in their division.

AFC West Chiefs expected to unseat Raiders

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS

The incumbent quarterback is Jay Schroeder, who had his best season last year since he led Washington to the 1986 NFC title game. Behind him are Steve Beuerlein, who never suited up last season after starting for much of 1989 and Todd Marinovich, the No. 1 draft choice and the quarterback of the future.

The offensive line improved last year, although it could use a stud at tackle — the return of Bruce Wilkerson from injury could help. Center Don Mosebar and guard Steve Wisniewski are of Pro Bowl caliber.

The defense could use some help at linebacker although Howie Long seems rejuvenated up front and Scott Davis came on last year at defensive end. Lott is at strong safety and adds stability to an otherwise young secondary.

How good is Kansas City?

Very good, if DeBerg can come close to last year's form.

"We don't have any specific needs," says coach Marty Schotzheimer, who has two bull rushers in Christian Okoye and Barry Word and will use rookie Harvey Williams, an early holdout, as an outside rushing alternative. Outside of Stephone Paige, there's no real deep threat, but this isn't a team that needs one.

The real strength is on defense, where Derrick Thomas, the latest of "the next Lawrence Taylors" may actually approximate LT — he led the NFL with 20 sacks last season.

That made Neil Smith, a late blooming first-rounder, into one of the NFL's better defensive ends. He's paired with Bill Maas, a one-time rookie of the year at nose tackle, who was able to move outside because of the success of nose tackle Dan Saleaumua, probably the best ever Plan B pickup.

"I've never looked forward to a season more," says free safety Deron Cherry, a six-time Pro Bowler who is part of an aging but still effective secondary.

San Diego is beginning to benefit from the arrival last year of general manager Bobby Beathard. They added two offensive line starters last season in Leo Goeas and Frank Cornish, helping Marion Butts to 1,225 rushing yards, second in the AFC. Rookie Eric Bienemy may provide a speedy alternative to the bull-like Butts.

Anthony Miller is one of the game's most dangerous receivers and the defense, led by cornerback Gill Byrd, linebacker Billy Ray Smith and defensive tackle Burt Grossman is solid.

The problem?

Quarterback.

Billy Joe Tolliver, entering his third season, is the nominal incumbent. But he could be pushed by second-year man John Friesz, who started the final game last year, or even by the much-traveled Bob Gagliano.

Seattle, 9-7 but out of the playoffs last season, has a quarterback question every year. And every year it's answered by Dave Krieg.

Krieg will probably start again, but now No. 1 draft choice Dan McGwire is around as his likely successor although a former heir apparent, Kelly Stouffer, has looked better this year after never suiting up for a game last season.

Suprisingly, the conservative Chuck Knox is thinking of using more run-and-shoot this year to utilize the receiving talents of Bennie Blades and Tommy Kane. The running back tandem of Derrick Fenner and John L. Williams is solid, but the offensive line isn't all it could be.

Last year's rookie crop was good — defensive linemen Cortez Kennedy and Eric Hayes both should break in soon to the group of Jacob Green, Joe Nash and Jeff Bryant that has started for eight years.

"We weren't as bad as our record," coach Dan Reeves says of Denver's 5-11 seasons following three Super Bowl trips in four years.

QB returns to Miners after suspension

EL PASO (AP) — Michael Carr, who once contended for the No. 1 quarterback spot at Texas-El Paso, returned to the team in the No. 3 spot after a six-month suspension because of his arrest on a drug charge.

Carr, a Clemson transfer and highly-recruited Amite, La., quarterback, was arrested in Beaumont last March and later charged with possessing 23.8 grams of cocaine.

The case doesn't go to trial until Sept. 16, but UTEP officials said Carr will plead no contest to the charge and is expected to receive deferred adjudication of his case.

The deferred ruling on his case means he must serve five years probation, or less if the court decides to end it early, and pay a $1,000 fine. At the end of the probation, the arrest will be removed from Carr's record. With the deal, he pleads neither guilty nor innocent of the charge.

"At this time, I wish to express my deepest sorrow for the embarrassment that I caused to the university, the coaching staff, UTEP fans and the whole athletic department," Carr said in a news conference. "I'd like to thank the coaches for giving me a second opportunity to clean up my life and get a new start," Carr said.

He declined further comment on the advice of his lawyer.

1991 Property Tax Rates in Glasscock County I.S.D.

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for Glasscock County I.S.D. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$	2,289,416
Last year's debt taxes	$	-0-
Last year's total taxes	$	2,289,416
Last year's tax base	$	336,678,940
Last year's total tax rate	$.680000 /$100
This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$	2,289,416
This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$	332,853,310
This year's effective tax rate	$.687815 /$100

(In the first year a city or county collects the additional sales tax it must insert the following lines unless it made its first adjustment last year.)

Sales tax adjustment rate	$	-0-	/$100
Effective tax rate	$	-0-	/$100
1.03 - maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$	-0-	/$100
This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$	2,289,416
This year's adjusted tax base	$	332,853,310
This year's effective operating rate	$.687815	/$100
.72 for school district (or zero)	$	-0-
1.08 (or add $.08 for schools) = this year's maximum operating rate	$.080000	/$100
This year's debt rate	$	-0-	/$100

(A school district must insert the following lines)

This year's rollback rate before adjustment	$.080000	/$100
Rate to recoup lost revenue	$.219900	/$100
Adjusted rollback rate	$.299900	/$100
This year's rollback rate	$.299900	/$100

(A city or county that collects the additional sales tax (including one that collects the tax for the first time this year) must insert the following lines.)

Sales tax adjustment rate	$	-0-	/$100
Rollback tax rate	$	-0-	/$100

SCHEDULE A: Unencumbered Fund Balances

The following balances will probably be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the current fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance
Local Maintenance	$ 1,800,000

SCHEDULE B: 1991 Debt Service

The unit plans to pay the following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

Description of Debt	Principal or Contract Payment to be Paid	Interest to be Paid	Other Amounts to be Paid	Total Payment
Total required for 1991 debt service
- Amount (if any) paid from funds listed in Schedule A
- Excess collections last year			(line 30)
= Total to be paid from taxes in 1991			(line 31)
+ Amount added in anticipation that the unit will collect only ____% of its taxes in 1991			(% in line 32; line 33 minus line 31)
= Total Debt Service Levy			(line 33)

SCHEDULE C: Expected Revenue from Additional Sales Tax

(For counties and cities with additional 1/2 cent sales tax)

In calculating its effective and rollback tax rates, the unit estimated that it will receive $ _____ in additional sales and use tax revenues.

This notice contains a summary of actual effective and rollback tax rate calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at Glasscock County Courthouse

Names in the news

Bill Monroe recovers

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Bill Monroe, known as the father of bluegrass music, has been sent home from Baptist Hospital after heart surgery.

Monroe, 79, was released Tuesday and will recuperate at home in suburban Goodlettsville, said Dr. Robert Hardin, who performed the operation Aug. 9.

Monroe, whose best-known song is "Blue Moon of Kentucky," developed bluegrass music in the 1930s and has performed on the Grand Ole Opry since 1939.

On your feet Patti

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —

Patti Labelle knows the urge might hit her when she performs in Atlantic City this weekend.

When the singing gets good, the shoes fly off the floor, and the hands and arms start flapping.

LaBelle wishes she'd fought the impulse during a Los Angeles show two months ago.

"I got down on the floor and — now isn't this a shame? — I couldn't get up," she said. "The band didn't know if I was serious or playing. Finally someone from the audience had to help me up."

Housekeeper wants more

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Delta Burke of "Designing Women" and her husband, "Major Dad" star Gerald McRaney, accused their household manager of stealing $10,000.

Paulette Ava Broughton was booked Tuesday for investigation of embezzlement and released on her recognizance. She said the money was owed her for long hours picking up after the couple.

She worked for them from November 1990 through last month, earning $1,000 a week, said her lawyer, Laurence Ring.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 22, 1991

HAPPY BIRTHDAY! IN THE NEXT YEAR OF YOUR LIFE: Now is the time to grab the brass ring of success. Take a calculated risk. Prominent people will use their influence on your behalf in late fall. December brings a joyful family reunion and happy romance. Changing the direction of your career in early 1992 will result in great financial security.

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DATE: author Ray Bradbury, actress Valerie Harper, blues singer John Lee Hooker, slugger Carl Yastrzemski.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Look before you leap where employment or romance is concerned. Your self-confidence returns. Luck is on your side! Keep your emotions under tighter control at the office. Sidestep petty squabbles.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): A wish comes true, but your timing may be off. Try to act less self-conscious when around people of wealth and power. Refuse to pass up a career opportunity because of family problems.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Hard work will take your mind off any domestic troubles and bring new financial rewards. Your mate may be in a dark mood. Do not despair. Good things lie ahead.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Be careful not to overreact to something you learn about a young person. A sense of humor helps you make a family gathering a big success. Loved one lends a helping hand.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Flirting may be exciting but it is also foolhardy if you have already made a commitment to someone else. Do not mistake physical attraction for true love. Catch up on world events.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Behind-the-scenes maneuvering may bring you the success you seek. Your ego gets a big boost when you are honored in public. Do not let your co-workers boss you around.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Accept someone's evidence for what it is worth but check on any items you do not understand. Give your mind a real workout. Learn more about computer science.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Do your duty today but avoid taking unnecessary risks. Attempts to obtain results despite unfavorable conditions could be dangerous. Balance your checkbook before going shopping or taking a trip.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Acting in haste leads to waste. It takes advance planning to make your dreams come true. Use good judgment when considering investment proposals. Nurture a close relationship. Greater rapport is possible.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A former love could be dishonest; be careful. Face a difficult situation with confidence. Follow-through will win you a coveted job. Play your cards cautiously in financial negotiations.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Others will take to you, even under the most difficult of circumstances today. A financial success gives you new confidence. Your energy level rises when you follow an exercise program faithfully.

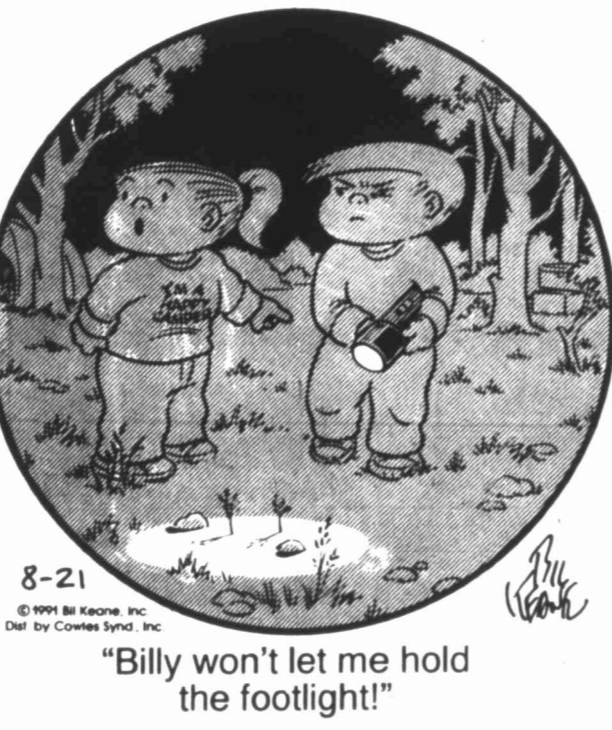

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Keep your schedule flexible; last-minute changes will work out better for you. Those who are self-employed should be more assertive. Embarking on a romance with a business partner could be risky. Go slow.

MAKE IT AN OCCASION!

More than any other time of year, summer is the season for fun with family and friends. When the days grow long and the mercury soars, any day can bring a special occasion. Whatever the reason your family and friends have gathered to celebrate, make it memorable with a delicious summertime confection.

Summer is the perfect season to enjoy these easy and refreshing recipes from the Kraft Creative Kitchens. After all, nothing banishes thoughts of sultry weather as well as a cool and frosty dessert. Most of these recipes require no cooking, so you can keep cool in the kitchen. And, each of these beautiful desserts uses KRAFT Marshmallow Creme; a no fat, no cholesterol way to sweeten.

Fruit Ice is a simple and delicious frosty treat made from the summer's bountiful fruit and marshmallow creme. It makes an elegant dessert and requires only four ingredients. Try freezing this colorful and light dessert in parfait glasses.

Let your guests nibble on bite-sized fruits served with creamy Mallow Fruit Dip, made with KRAFT Marshmallow Creme, cream cheese and hints of orange and ginger. Strawberries, wedges of honeydew melon and cantaloupe, and slices of peaches and plums create a lovely platter surrounding the lightly sweet dip. If you expect a hungry crowd, assemble two or three small fruit trays. Then, keep them in the refrigerator with extra bowls of Mallow Fruit Dip until needed.

Does your occasion call for more than a casual fruit tray? Grasshopper Pie and Very Berry Mold are show stoppers when served on glass plates. Kraft's home economists recommend moving the Grasshopper Pie from the freezer to the refrigerator about 15 minutes before serving for easier slicing.

Cappuccino Creme is another frosty treat that helps you to get a head start on spontaneous celebrations. Make this recipe ahead of time and freeze in coffee mugs.

Try any of these chilled or frozen desserts to cap off a meal that's as special as the friends with whom you're celebrating.

STRAWBERRY ICE

No matter how hot it gets, you'll get plenty of thanks when you serve this sweet fruit-filled treat. Later in the summer, enjoy the honeydew variation.

- 4 cups strawberry halves
- 1 (7 oz.) jar KRAFT Marshmallow Creme
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel

- Place strawberries in blender container or food processor work bowl. Cover; process until smooth.
 - Gradually add strawberries to marshmallow creme in large bowl of electric mixer, mixing until well blended. Blend in juice and peel.
 - Pour into 9-inch square pan; freeze until almost firm.
 - Coarsely chop mixture; spoon into chilled bowl. Beat with electric mixer until smooth; freeze. 6 to 8 servings
- Prep time: 15 minutes plus freezing
Variation: Substitute 4 cups honeydew melon chunks, seeded, 1 tablespoon lime juice and 1 teaspoon grated lime peel for the strawberries, lemon juice and lemon peel.

GRASSHOPPER PIE

Love pie? Too hot to bake? Chill out with this pie. It's a cool counterpoint to fiery Mexican fiesta food like chips and salsa, fajitas and green chile rice.

- 2 cups crushed creme-filled chocolate cookies
- 1/4 cup margarine, melted
- 1/4 cup green creme de menthe
- 1 (7 oz.) jar KRAFT Marshmallow Creme
- 2 cups whipping cream, whipped

- Combine crumbs and margarine; reserve 1/2 cup. Press remaining crumb mixture onto bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate. Chill.
 - In large mixing bowl, gradually add creme de menthe to marshmallow creme, mixing with electric mixer or wire whisk until well blended. Fold in whipped cream.
 - Pour into crust; sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Freeze until firm. 8 to 10 servings
- Prep time: 25 minutes plus chilling and freezing
Variation: Substitute 1/4 cup milk, few drops peppermint extract and few drops green food coloring for creme de menthe.

VERY BERRY MOLD

It's a red-white-and-blue finish for a patriotic holiday gathering! Make it ahead, and serve with grilled meat, garlic bread and a marinated vegetable salad. Then celebrate your independence from the kitchen.

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1/4 cup water
- 1 (8 oz.) pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 1 (7 oz.) jar KRAFT Marshmallow Creme
- 1 cup blueberries
- 1 cup raspberries

- Soften gelatin in water; stir over low heat until dissolved.
 - Mix cream cheese, juice and peel on medium speed with electric mixer until well blended.
 - Gradually add gelatin; mix well. Beat in marshmallow creme.
 - Chill 10 minutes or until slightly thickened.
 - Fold in fruit; pour into lightly oiled 1-quart mold. Chill several hours or overnight. Unmold. 8 servings
- Prep time: 30 minutes plus chilling
Variation: Substitute strawberry slices for raspberries.

MALLOW FRUIT DIP

Have a hard time getting your kids to eat fruit? Offer it with this creamy concoction after a day at the pool and watch it disappear!

- 1 (8 oz.) pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 1 (7 oz.) jar KRAFT Marshmallow Creme
- 1 tablespoon orange juice
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- Dash of ground ginger, optional

- Beat ingredients at medium speed with electric mixer until well blended. Serve with assorted fruit, if desired. Approximately 1-1/2 cups
- Prep time: 10 minutes
MICROWAVE TIPS: To soften cream cheese, microwave in bowl on MEDIUM (50%) 30 seconds.
To easily remove marshmallow creme from jar, remove lid and seal and microwave on HIGH 30 seconds.
Variations: Substitute 1 tablespoon lime juice and 1 teaspoon grated lime peel for orange juice and peel.

TROPICAL PARFAITS

Temper the fire of a spicy main dish with the soothing taste of these parfaits. What a great way to celebrate late summer's tropical heat!

- 2 cups flaked coconut
- 1/3 cup chopped macadamia nuts
- 1 (3 oz.) pkg. orange flavored gelatin
- 1-1/4 cups boiling water
- 1 (7 oz.) jar KRAFT Marshmallow Creme
- 1 cup whipping cream, whipped

- Place coconut and macadamia nuts in skillet. Cook, stirring constantly, over high heat until coconut is toasted. Cool.
 - Dissolve gelatin in water. Cool.
 - Gradually add gelatin to marshmallow creme, mixing with electric mixer or wire whisk until well blended.
 - Chill, stirring occasionally, until thickened but not set.
 - Beat with electric mixer or wire whisk until fluffy. Fold in whipped cream.
 - Layer gelatin and coconut mixtures in six parfait glasses. Repeat layers; chill until firm. 6 servings
- Prep time: 30 minutes plus chilling

AMARETTO PEACH ICE

Celebrate the season's bounty by scheduling a peach-picking party. Pick the fruit in the cool of the morning; then whip up this refreshing ice before you begin an afternoon of relaxing in the shade.

- 2-1/2 cups chopped peeled peaches
- 1/2 cup water
- 3 tablespoons almond flavored liqueur
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 (7 oz.) jar KRAFT Marshmallow Creme

- Place all ingredients except marshmallow creme in blender container or food processor work bowl. Cover; process until smooth.
 - Gradually add peach mixture to marshmallow creme in large bowl of electric mixer, mixing until well blended.
 - Pour into 9-inch square pan; freeze until almost firm.
 - Coarsely chop mixture; spoon into chilled bowl. Beat with electric mixer until smooth; freeze. 6 to 8 servings
- Prep time: 15 minutes plus freezing
Variation: Substitute 1 (29 oz.) can sliced peaches, drained for fresh.
Serving Suggestion: Garnish each serving with fresh peach slices and mint leaves.

CAPPUCINO CREME

Expect the unexpected...make this spritely treat and freeze it in colorful coffee mugs. It stores safely in the freezer for up to a month and is great for drop-in guests.

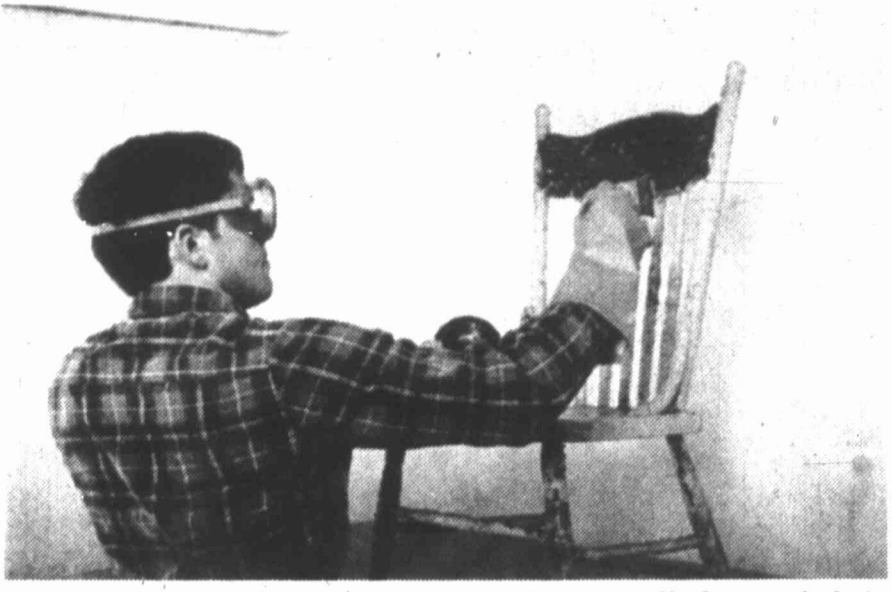

- 1 (7 oz.) jar KRAFT Marshmallow Creme
- 1 cup coffee flavored yogurt
- 3/4 cup finely chopped almonds

- Mix all ingredients with electric mixer until well blended.
 - Pour into four dessert dishes; freeze. 4 servings
- Prep time: 10 minutes plus freezing
Variation: Substitute walnuts for almonds.

CELEBRATE THE BOUNTY

Choose recipes that use fruits at the height of their season for best quality and price. Remember to use fruit quickly after purchasing to ensure top flavor.

THIS DO-IT-YOURSELFER is stripping the paint off of a wood chair using a methylene chloride-based paint remover. In addition to following the manufacturer's instructions, proper clothing, equipment and good ventilation help make this a safe and easy project.

Safety is the best tool for refinishing projects

If you're trying to rediscover the beautiful wood grain underneath that old chair or planning to give a table a new look with a fresh coat of paint, you'll probably start with a paint stripper.

of the object and its condition. As a rule of thumb, one chair with a clear finish would require approximately one quart; 100 square feet would require one gallon.

After about five minutes, a bubbling action occurs. Don't try to rush the job by using a scraper too soon; you'll be stuck with a sticky substance that is difficult to remove. Leave the area and get some fresh air while the remover is doing its job. It usually takes about 15 to 20 minutes for the remover to work; check the label for the time required for your specific project.

Use a dull putty knife to remove any sludge residue. A toothpick or an old toothbrush can remove sludge from those hard-to-reach carved or grooved surfaces. A soft bristle brush or a steel wool pad can remove any remaining traces of the stripper and allow the new finish to adhere correctly.

After you've completed the project, gather all of the residue — rags or paper soaked in sludge, and dropcloths or newspapers used to catch the drippings — into a metal container and dispose of it according to local waste disposal requirements.

The Consumer Product Safety Commission requires that paint strippers containing more than one percent methylene chloride carry a warning label reading: "Methylene chloride has been shown to cause cancer in certain laboratory animals. Risk to your health depends on duration and level of exposure."

Getting ready
Before you begin your project, make sure that you wear the appropriate clothing: a long sleeved shirt, pants, socks, shoes, a cap and chemical-resistant gloves. You'll also want to have the following materials on hand: paint brushes, a scraper, toothbrush, steel wool pads, metal cans, burlap and newspapers or a drop cloth to catch any drippings.
Completion of the project
Now that you have the proper clothing and work place, you can begin your project. To reduce possible back strain and to prevent your work from touching the floor, elevate it on saw horses. Remove as much of the hardware as possible and cover any remaining hardware with masking tape.
How much to use

Helpful hints for cleaning the house

While many car enthusiasts are using Armor All Protectant on their cars, others are taking it out of the garage and bringing it indoors to protect and beautify household items in every room of the house.

Armor All's protective, coating shields even the most prized possessions from the damaging effects of the elements while helping to bring out a natural luster. Its anti-static agents work wonders on computers, piano keys, and stereos, making them virtually dust-free.

Here's a list of helpful hints on how you can use Armor All in each room of the house:

- Living room
 - Fine wood furniture: Armor All Protectant restores a deep luster on the coffee table with no wax build-up. Sticky cellophane tape marks can also be removed by applying Armor All and rubbing lightly.
 - Piano: Armor All is sold to piano dealers to keep their merchandise looking new. Especially effective on ivory keys. Armor All helps prevent dirt and grime from getting into ivory's porous surface.
 - Compact disc/old records: Restores luster and shine, and removes dust and static which causes the crackling and popping sounds synonymous with old, worn records.

Stereos: Spray Armor All on a damp cloth and apply it to each component, paying special attention to the platter and drive belt. The protectant's anti-static agents allow a nearly dust-free environment, which is best for quality sound.

- Kitchen
 - Kitchen appliances: Kitchen items such as microwaves, refrigerators, and breadboxes can be protected from dust and dirt by using Armor All. If the appliance is dirty, first wash with an all-purpose cleaner.
 - Countertops: Use Armor All Protectant as needed to make your countertops extra smooth.

- Recreation room/closet
 - Television: The anti-static agents in Armor All Protectant can be put to work again on the television.
 - Snorkeling/scuba diving equipment: Helps to protect the rubber and plastic of masks, fins and snorkel against the drying, cracking effects of the sun.
 - Vinyl golf bags: Protects the vinyl from harsh effects of the weather.
 - Rain boots, jackets and duck waders: Protects against "rubber rot" — making foul-weather equipment last an extra long time.
 - Camera and lens bodies: Protects against dust and water.

For additional information about the many uses of Armor All Protectant, consumers can write to the Consumer Relations Department at Armor All Products Corp., 6 Liberty, Also Viejo, CA 92656 FH91906

Curing air pollution inside your home

Here's a sobering fact: The evidence shows that many American homes have so little ventilation they trap unhealthy polluted air inside. The result can be an indoor "smog" of gases and fumes such as radon and formaldehyde, cooking and tobacco smoke, and carbon dioxide.

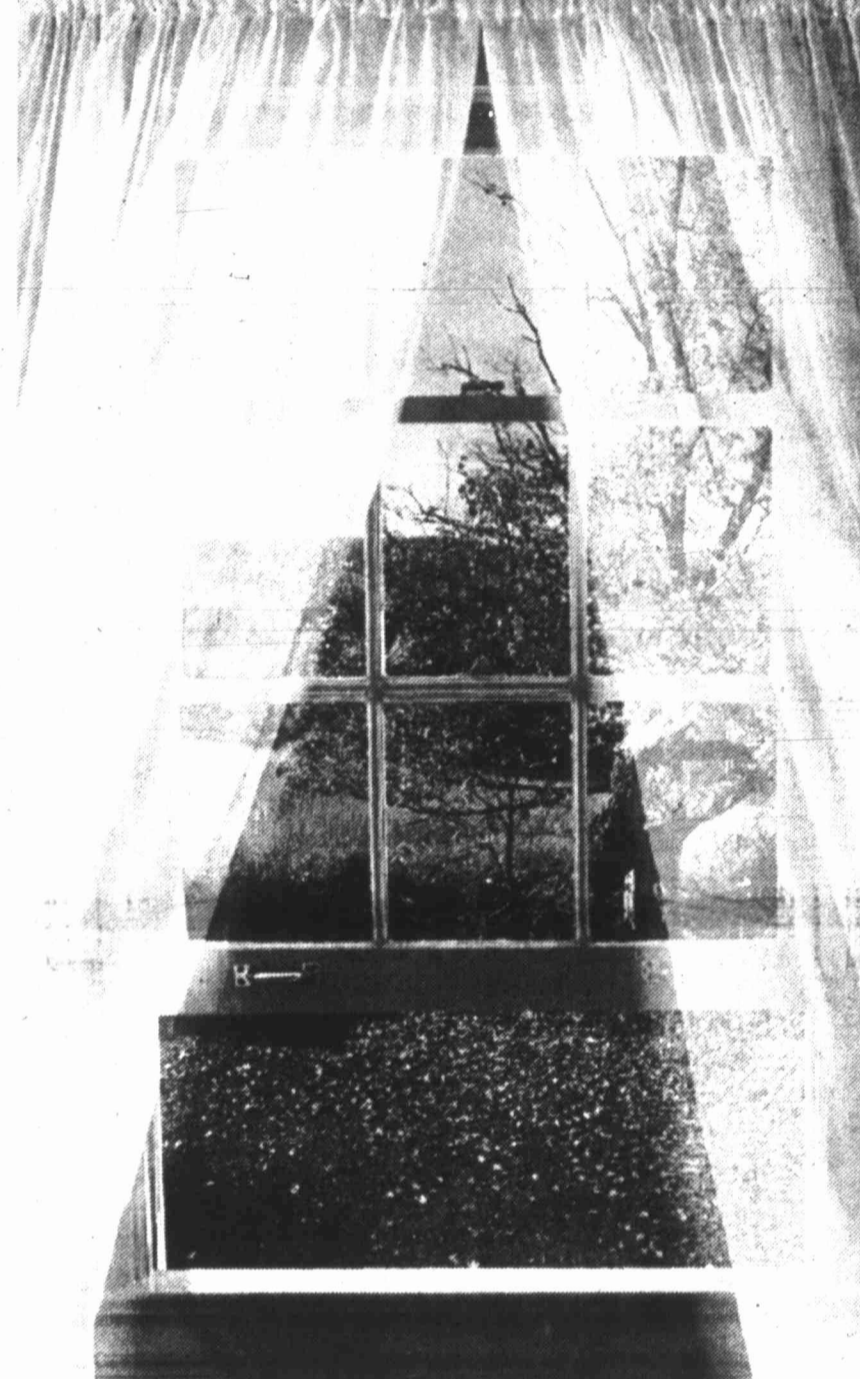

There's more. When too little fresh air gets into your home, humidity levels are hard to control. That creates an indoor environment where mold, mildew and bacteria may thrive. Odors linger in stagnant air and allergens, such as pollen and plant spores, build up.

In fact, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) says the air inside a home can be up to 20 times as polluted as the air outdoors. Research indicates that polluted indoor air should be exchanged with fresh outside air every two to three hours. However, if it's hot enough or cold enough to have your furnace, heat pump or air conditioner on, the fresh air exchange rate in your home could be as low as once every ten hours.

If you're concerned about indoor air pollution, Honeywell says its new Perfect Window will give you plenty of fresh air without the disadvantages of opening doors or windows. The Perfect Window is the latest generation in energy recovery ventilators (ERV's). It not only removes stale indoor air, bringing in fresh air from outside, it also "recovers" up to 80 percent of the energy used to heat or cool the polluted air it's replacing.

Unlike other ERV's, according to Honeywell, its version is effective year-round. It can pre-heat incoming air during winter and pre-cool and dehumidify incoming air in the summer. In the process, it can optimize humidity levels in the home. In many homes that could eliminate the need for a separate humidifier.

One more benefit: Because your doors and windows can stay shut, your home's security isn't compromised. For free consumer information on the Perfect Window simply mail your request to: Honeywell Inquiries Dept., MN12-4164, Honeywell Plaza, Minneapolis, MN 55408.

A "PERFECT WINDOW" not only replaces the polluted stagnant air in your home with fresh air, it also saves energy by automatically adding or removing both heat and humidity as needed. FH911808

THIS JOYOUS BEDROOM with a distinctly French flavor proves that it is possible to create an eye-appealing room that looks custom designed, but is actually comprised of products that can be purchased ready-made. It has been created with "Tuleries," a light-hearted ensemble with three coordinating patterns from Cameo Interiors. Predominantly in pink tones, the patterns are mix-matched to provide a decorator character. All the components to make a fully dressed bed in all seasons (there's both a comforter set and a summer quilt) are available. The canopy comes with a free-standing structure that can turn any bed into a four poster. A vanity set (which also comes with covering and furniture), a table round, decorative pillows and wallpaper border are among the decorative elements, while a shower curtain, embellished towels and accessories assure a coordinated bathroom for a complete master suite look. AN 18TH CENTURY FRESHNESS SECRET IS REDISCOVERED IN TODAY'S BATHROOMS

The women of eighteenth century France had a secret for personal freshness that most modern American women — and men — know little about.

It is the bidet, and its convenience still makes good sense nearly 300 years later, according to Brad Kuplic, product manager for Kohler Co., the nation's leading manufacturer of plumbing and specialty products.

The modern bidet looks very much like a toilet bowl, and is sometimes mistaken for one, because it is usually located near the toilet. But, in fact, the bidet has a lot more in common with the bathroom sink. It is a sit-down washbasin that can be used by women and men for cleansing the perineal area, or for quick, partial bathing.

Although especially appreciated by women, the bidet is convenient for the entire family. It is useful for anyone who is physically unable to bathe or shower, and it works well as a foot bath, because it is low enough to be used while sitting on a chair.

A BIDET is a sit-down wash basin.

SURVEY REVEALS NATIONAL KITCHEN AND BATHROOM DESIGN TRENDS

The National Kitchen & Bath Association (NKBA) recently completed a nationwide survey of member kitchen and bathroom dealers and designers to evaluate the latest trends that consumers are setting in kitchen and bathroom design.

Custom cabinetry is reported to have been selected more often than stock or semi-custom cabinetry. The survey reveals that 51 percent of newly remodeled kitchens and 40 percent of bathrooms have custom cabinetry installed.

Wood is the primary substance chosen for cabinetry. Seventy-one percent of all remodeled kitchens and 63 percent of the bathrooms have wooden cabinets. When wood is selected, oak is found in more than 50 percent of both rooms, while cherry, maple, pine and others are less frequently cited.

To complement the wooden cabinetry, more than half the respondents noted that Americans still choose traditional laminate counter surfaces over other options, such as solid surface materials, cultured marble and wood block, in both the kitchen and the bathroom. Solid surfacing materials, the more costly, high-end option, showed a significant 27 percent usage.

Paul L. Kelley, NKBA's Vice President of Industry Relations/Marketing, says, "In addition to the overall structure of the kitchen and bathroom, consumers are looking to add features to complement their lifestyles."

A treat for your co-workers...

An international theme with foreign cuisine

Unbeknownst to many people, there are several celebrations in September that apply to everyone in the working world. The most popular, of course, is Labor Day, which always falls on a Monday, but have you ever heard of National Boss/Employee Exchange Day (Sept. 9)? What about American Business Women's Day (Sept. 22) and Full Employment Week (Sept. 2-8)? There's even a Swap Ideas Day on September 5!

Instead of crying the "end of summertime blues," try celebrating these days with a party for your fellow employees. Plan an entertaining afternoon or evening with your workmates where everyone can interact with one another on a personal level, in a stress-free environment; and please leave all suits and briefcases at home. To make your party memorable, why not surprise your guests by giving your party an international theme with an array of foods from China, India and Greece, created in your very own American kitchen. Your party will be distinctively different, and you will be the subject of amicable gossip on the next working day. With an assortment of uncomplicated foreign dishes, every guest will be not only impressed, but satisfied: the vegetarian, the meat-eater, and the fish-only people. The Chinese are noted with admiration for their incredibly prepared vegetables. They have a remarkable knack for turning the most boring and bland foods into succulent and attractive treats. Some great recipes can be found in A Taste Of Chinatown, by Joie Warner (Crown). Here is one delectable example:

SWEET AND SOUR CABBAGE

Serves 4 to 6

- 1 pound green or red cabbage, or a combination
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 large garlic clove, chopped
2 small dried red chillies, chopped
1/2 teaspoon Szechuan peppercorns
Seasoning Liquid
Combine in bowl:
1 1/2 tablespoons sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 1/2 tablespoons rice vinegar
1 teaspoon sesame oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon potato or cornstarch

- 1. Cut off base of cabbage; remove tough outer leaves. Quarter cabbage; cut out core. Cut leaves into approximately 1 x 1 1/2-inch pieces. There should be about 4 cups of cabbage.
2. Heat wok on high heat. Add oil; when hot, add garlic, chillies (including seeds), and peppercorns and cook a few seconds. Add cabbage; toss for 1 to 2 minutes or until color brightens from pale green to bright green or deep purple to vivid red. Do not overcook.
3. Stir seasoning liquid into wok; toss a few seconds to combine. Immediately remove to a serving dish. The meat lovers among your workmates will enjoy this Greek dish from The Complete Book Of Greek Cooking by the Recipe Club of Saint Paul's Greek Orthodox Cathedral (Harper & Row).

BEEF WITH ARTICHOKE AND PINE NUTS

Serves 4

- 2 tablespoons olive oil
1 tablespoon minced garlic
1 1/2 pounds beef chuck, round, or London broil
2 cups beef stock
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon ground cumin
1 10-ounce package frozen artichoke hearts, thawed, or one 15-ounce can, drained, rinsed, and halved
1/2 cup pine nuts

Heat oil in a casserole. Add garlic and beef and sauté over high heat until beef is browned on all sides. Add stock and seasonings and bring to a boil. Lower heat, cover, and simmer for 1 1/2 to 2 hours, or until fork tender. Add artichokes and pine nuts. Heat for 5 minutes. Slice beef and arrange on a serving plate. Garnish with artichoke hearts and pour sauce on top. And now, for the fish fanatics! This Indian shrimp dish will undoubtedly be a hit at your party. This recipe, among the many other scrumptious selections, can be found in Ismail Merchant's Indian Cuisine, by Ismail Merchant (Simon and Schuster).

MUSTARD SHRIMP

Serves 4

- 1/4 cup vegetable oil
1/2 teaspoon caraway seeds
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1 pound raw shrimp, shelled, cleaned, washed, and dried
1 1/2 tablespoons Dijon mustard
Pinch of salt
1/4 cup lemon juice

- 1. Heat the oil in a small frying pan over low heat. When hot, add the caraway seeds and chili powder and cook for 3-4 minutes.
2. Add the shrimp, mustard, salt, and lemon juice and stir well. Cover the pan and cook for 5-6 minutes. Remember, you are setting an international mood for your co-workers; a cultural and alluring theme accentuated by music from the countries your food represents, and separate tables for each dish, decorated accordingly. A robe, handkerchief or necktie for men, or a headwrap, dress or piece of jewelry for women from one of the three countries would look absolutely striking. Have fun with all three foreign foods or concentrate on just one. Either way, instead of dreading the ending of a season, delight in the beginning of another along with the people you work with by throwing an unforgettable, international September bash, and then...have fun at work! Home decorating can be fun and very economical

Home decorating doesn't have to cost a lot of money. The following are some ways to add creative touches to your home or apartment without draining your bank account.

For your child's bedroom, think colorful, comfortable and practical. Don't let your "best" decorations be ruined by accidental stains and spills simply because they were out on display at the wrong time.

Instead, try decorating with attractive but more easily replaceable items such as stuffed animals and throw pillows. Cover newly painted walls with drawings or pictures of your child's favorite cartoon and movie characters.

Use plenty of pastel colors to decorate, since they can have a soothing effect. Remember to take proper safety precautions — always place potentially dangerous "hand and mouth-tempting" objects high on shelves and well out of your child's reach.

Decorating the den or family room doesn't have to cost a lot, either. Display your favorite family portraits and other "collector's items" that have been hiding in the basement for years. Instead of nails, use Scotch Removable Mounting Squares to hang certificates, awards, postcards and other lightweight items. The squares contain a pressure-sensitive adhesive on both sides that won't leave holes or scars on most wall surfaces when it's time to "redecorate." Four squares can support weight up to one-half pound. Brighten your kitchen by making a colorful napkin holder to post conveniently on the wall nearest the kitchen table — it's both a time and space saver. Slightly yellowed or peeled wallpaper, scratches and other "less than perfect" spots can be covered easily with a unique calendar or wall clock that matches the room's decor. Spruce up master/guest bedrooms with plaques, posters and decorative mirrors, and replace shower curtains/bathmats to boost bathrooms. Finally, use your creativity to come up with some additional decorating ideas. Those simple, personal touches really will make a big difference. †

From castaways to keepsakes: creative recycling in the kitchen

Garbage is garbage. Or so you've always thought. The greening of America, however, is forcing many people to think twice before they throw something away. Creative thinking can transform nearly any "trash" item into a festive gift. Try looking at boxes, bottles and lidded cans (such as coffee cans) with a new eye. For example, tall, slim glass bottles (such as wine or vinegar bottles) can show off homemade flavored vinegars to their best advantage. To make your own, pour a good quality white or wine vinegar over your favorite fresh herbs, such as sprigs of rosemary and thyme or cloves of peeled garlic or shallots. Seal with corks purchased at a gourmet shop and tie with pretty ribbon. These vinegars will surely please your favorite cook or salad lover.

Tacky Glue, cover a lidded box or can with wrapping paper or wallpaper. If you prefer a fabric cover, try Elmer's Craft Bond 1" adhesive — it won't bleed through fabrics. Once the can or box is covered, personalize with trims, buttons, beads and so on. Fill with cookies or candies and you have a tasty, inexpensive gift.

Jars by gluing trims to their lids and filling with a favorite indulgence. Bath beads, spices, potpourri, fancy pastas and preserves are just a few of the many items made more appealing by being presented in clear glass with a "designer" top.

Once you get started with these ideas, it's easy to create many projects of your own. A little time and energy can turn kitchen throwaways into inexpensive, delightful gifts. KB9/1091

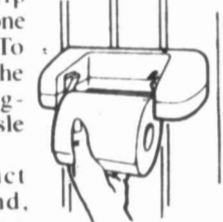

Another much-appreciated gift made from kitchen recyclables is a specially decorated box or can filled with sweet treats. Using Elmer's

OKAY... WHO WAS HERE LAST?

If you think you're the only one in the house who knows how to change the toilet paper roll, there's hope! Here's a product to simplify life in a simple way. Rubbermaid's new Easy Change Toilet Tissue Holder has a built-in clip that holds the roll securely; just slip the roll up with one hand and release. To remove, just lift the roll...no spring-loaded bar to hassle with. The product comes in almond, mauve, peach, sage, slate blue and white. It comes with a bracket and screws for easy wall mounting. If you wish to change colors later, there's no need to remove the bracket from the wall; just remove the holder and slide the new one into place. Now, who'll change the roll? KB9/11632

WEDDING BELLS

'The Working Woman's Wedding Planner' Helps '90s Women Perfect Wedding Details

By Connie L. Johnson

(NU) - The bride's gown is decorated with pearls, colorful bows hang on the aisles, the five-tiered cake is topped with bells — every detail of a perfect wedding is in place. Since a great deal of planning goes into organizing the "perfect wedding," without help, it can be mind boggling.

If you're a working woman, as most are today, planning your wedding is yet another thing you must squeeze into a tight schedule. To ease the stress of juggling so many responsibilities, many women are looking for help.

"The Working Woman's Wedding Planner," an expanded edition of the bestselling book by Susan Tatsui-D'Arcy, just published by Prentice Hall, fills the bill.

From Invite to Thanks
Designed for today's busy working woman, the book is packed with time-saving worksheets, checklists and guidelines. It covers everything from invitations, flowers and menus to pre- and post-nuptial agreements, honeymoon arrangements and thank-you notes. And it offers guidelines for setting up a home.

It also features:
— Hundreds of timesaving tips.
— Ways of cutting cost without cutting style, wedding financing ideas, rules for tipping and budget-planning.

— A six-month countdown calendar, telephone and address book, appointment book and etiquette book.

— Ready-to-be-filled-in invitations and guest lists.

The book also offers helpful hints for brides who have walked down the aisle before. Thirty-four percent of today's weddings involve a bride or groom who has been married before, according to Bride's magazine. Financial planners say that many of these couples spend more time worrying about wedding bills than about how to merge their money styles and create a new, workable financial unit.

"The Working Woman's Wedding Planner" can help the new couple stay within their budget and talk about plans for their future together.

From planning a casual gathering to an elaborate reception, this is a book for the '90s brides-to-be. Being organized is the biggest step in managing a lovely, successful wedding. With a professional planner at her fingertips, a working woman can afford a little more time to brainstorm for the special occasion or put her feet up for a rest.

The new edition of "The Working Woman's Wedding Planner" is available at local bookstores or by calling Prentice Hall directly at 1-201-767-5937. The book is $16.95 plus applicable state tax, postage and handling.

WELLNESS

Nurses in the Workplace Promote Employee Health

(NU) - Following a counseling session with his company nurse, a young father is much more at ease about his daughter's operation. As a result, he becomes more productive.

A near-retiree has his blood pressure checked by a company nurse who sends him to his doctor. The visit may help the man avoid a heart attack.

Such are the benefits that companies and their employees may reap, as more and more businesses add occupational health nurses to their overall health-care programs. Occupational health nurses are professional registered nurses with special knowledge and skills in occupational safety and health, plus business management skills including computer literacy, finance, budgeting and program planning.

For more information on occupational health nursing, write to the American Association of Occupational Health Nurses, Communications Department, 50 Lenox Pointe, Atlanta, GA 30324; or call 1-404-262-1162.

PHYSICAL THERAPY

Gaining Access To Physical Therapists

(NU) - Sprains, strains and pulls are an inevitable part of today's active lifestyle, whether you're a weekend jogger or a participant in organized sports.

Often, the damage is not serious, and the sophisticated athlete knows that time and the treatment by a specialist in muscles and bones likely will result in complete healing. But in more than half the states, the services of one of the best-trained specialists — a physical therapist — aren't available without first going through the time, expense and inconvenience of seeing a doctor. Only 24 states permit physical therapists to see patients without a physician referral.

Physical therapists, through the Private Practice Section of the American Physical Therapy Association, are working to increase direct access to their services.

For more information about physical therapists, contact the Private Practice Section, APTA, 1101 17th St., N.W., Suite 1000, Washington, DC 20036 or call 1-202-457-1115.

New York City College Offers Unique Bilingual Programs

News USA

(NU) - In a unique curriculum twist, the School of Visual Arts in New York is offering courses with teachers who are bilingual. The goal is to accommodate foreign students who speak only Spanish, Japanese, Chinese or Korean, and wish to study art-related subjects in New York City.

Foreign students are required to become fluent in English before they move on to advanced courses, and English instruction remains a key part of the school's curriculum for foreign students.

But the beginning classes with teachers who speak their languages allow foreign students to start their studies at the School of Visual Arts without first having to pass the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) in their own countries. The students take that test after one semester of intensive English in order to continue their art-related courses.

And the addition of a bilingual curriculum will enable more students to learn more of what they came to the School to learn — and do it earlier.

'Language No Barrier'

"The School believes that language should not be a barrier to cooperation and education," said Jose Luis Ortiz, director of the School's Spanish Art Students Program. By inaugurating the Spanish Art Students Program, for instance, the School "opens a new frontier in education and will contribute to the enhancement of opportunities throughout the Americas," he said.

Establishing such a link with Asia was a dream of Andrew Chang, coordinator of the School's Korean Art Student Program.

"With the unstinting support of the School, I was able to accomplish what had seemed to be an impossible task: to forge the conditions in which talented young Koreans could develop their skills in superbly equipped facilities under this country's best faculty," he said.

"By studying art and English during the same preparatory year, students save time and tuition, while becoming gradually attuned to a new cultural milieu as well as developing in an artistic sense," said Chang.

Students studying at the School of Visual Arts can work toward either bachelor or master of fine arts degrees.

New foreign-language programs begin in the fall of 1991. Interested students may write to the School of Visual Arts, 209 E. 23rd St., New York, NY 10010.

Founded in 1947, the School of Visual Arts is the largest college of the arts in the United States and offers instruction in arts: advertising, graphic design, illustration, cartooning, fine arts, film/video, photography, interior design, art education and art therapy.

Experience and Expertise The Auto Center

The Auto Center may be the "new kid on the block" but owner Curtis Bruns is sure not new to Big Spring, nor to automotive repair.

Curtis has been in the automotive field for 17 years and has had extensive training in all areas of repair. He is certified with the AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE EXCELLENCE Program as a Master Technician in engine repair, automatic transmissions and tranxles, manual drive train and axles, suspensions, steering, brakes, electrical systems, heating and air conditioning and engine performance.

Bruns says he opened The Auto Center because he wanted to work one-on-one with his customers and provide them with the service and quality repairs they deserve.

HEALTH & NUTRITION

Energy Bars and the Cyclist

By Robert L. Pollack, Ph.D.

(NU) - You had a decent lunch and you've been pedaling for several hours.

You can just about feel the lactic acid effect on your leg muscles, and anticipate that you might soon "hit the wall" if you don't get something into you. No problem. You've gotten into the habit of carrying a health bar with you, so good nutrition and a chewy, tasty, energy boost is just inside the Quigley's Nutri-Bar wrapper.

Among the nutrients in this sports bar, the combination of simple and complex carbohydrates will provide quick, immediate energy, as well as slowly released energy, which will continue for a time.

What Is Energy?

The term "energy" is used quite a bit these days — but what does it really mean?

Regardless of what dietary life style we follow, all nutrients are categorized into six classes: carbohydrate, fat, protein, vitamins, minerals and water. In addition to their structural uses by the body, the first three can be oxidized — or burned — to yield energy, which provides the power required for all of the actions of our cells.

Vitamins and minerals provide the materials to make everything, including energy. Water (among its other uses) serves as the solvent system to carry these needed nutrients around.

The energy obtained from a food item is scientifically expressed as the number of kilocalories released from one gram of material (about one-thirtieth of an ounce). In common usage, the kilocalorie (kcal) has been shortened to the term "calorie."

What's a calorie? Pour a liter (one quart plus a thimbleful) of pure distilled water into a pan on the stove. Put a thermometer in the pan and turn on the heat. The amount of heat needed to raise the temperature of that water 1 degree Celsius — or about 2 degrees Fahrenheit — is a kilocalorie. Since 4 kilocalories of energy are liberated from a gram of carbohydrate, the 29 grams of carbohydrate contained in the Nutri-Bar will provide sufficient energy to heat 116 quarts of water 2 degrees Fahrenheit, or one quart of water 232 degrees! That's a lot of energy!
