Bush to announce defense 'turning point'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush will unveil a "turning point" in the nation's defense strategy in a televised address tonight. He will propose large cuts in U.S.-Soviet nuclear arsenals, an administration official said.

Bush told reporters his speech will have "major worldwide implications for world peace."

One administration official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said the Bush is expected to propose mutual reductions in superpower nuclear arsenals, and will offer some unilateral cuts.

The official described the speech as "comprehensive and significant" and said it may refer to recent discussions within the Soviet Union about how to handle its nuclear arsenals. Russian Republic President Boris Yeltsin has called for moving all Soviet nuclear weapons to Russia, and other leaders have sought to banish the missiles from different republics within the Soviet Union.

The 20-minute address will be broadcast live from the Oval Office at 8 p.m. EDT.

The speech will focus on "a new path for peace" as well as the status of U.S. forces and changes in the Soviet Union, said Press Secretary Marlin Fitzwater. He said Bush will announce "a number of decisions related to our nuclear weapons program."

"He will discuss with the American people our thorough readiness to provide for the security of the United States in the new world order," Fitzwater told reporters in a formal announcement.

"It will mark a historic turning point in our national defense posture, pointing out a new path for peace," Fitzwater said. "The president will announce a number of decisions relating to our nuclear weapons program."

Fitzwater said Bush will deal with "long-term defense posture." Bush told reporters during a photo session this morning that "We're living in a rapidly changing world. I think what I will be saying tonight will have major worldwide implications for world peace."

The administration source also said Bush will state a new strategy on sea-launched cruise missiles, a system in which the United States has an advantage over the Soviet Union.

The Washington Post said that move would be a concession on • BUSH page 10-A

Vacant properties getting spruced up

Several vacant area properties, including Kmart, The Box, Wendy's and the Ranch House restaurant, are being spruced up as Project Pride continues, said coordinator Joyce Crooker.

The owners of those properties have agreed to pay for their cleaning and maintenance, said Crooker.

"There is some confusion between Project Pride and Cleanfest," she said.

Project Pride is an ongoing campaign to clean and maintain areas of the city along high-traffic routes. Cleanfest is a one-time event scheduled for Oct. 5, she said.

All groups, clubs, businesses and individuals are asked to meet at the old Box parking lot at 8 a.m., and to bring weedeaters, or gardening tools if possible. Cleanfest will last until 1 p.m. Don's IGA will be providing hotdogs and Cokes to all volunteers. Trash bags and pickup trucks will be provided by Cleanfest coordinators, she said.

"The real big weeds have been cut down by the city, but we need to get where the big equipment couldn't," she said.

Texas Lions offer retreat for seniors

The Texas Lions Center's "New Horizons in the Hill Country," a retreat for persons 55 years old and older, is accepting applications for three fall 1991 sessions.

During the four-day sessions, participants will be provided information on such topics as health care and insurance, financial management, Medicare and Medicaid, genealogy, frontier times, wild life of the Hill Country, stress management, video photography and arts and crafts.

All proceeds benefit the Texas Lions Camp for children who are blind, deaf, diabetic or orthopedically impaired. The sessions are Oct. 8-11, Oct. 22-25 and Nov. 5-8.

For more information contact Kyle Terry, coordinator, P.O. Box 247, Kerrville 78029-0247, or call 512-896-8500.

A&M head orders new investigation

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas A&M President William Mobley has ordered a new investigation into allegations by four female members of the Corps of Cadets who claim that discrimination is rampant in the Corps.

The investigation will be in addition to an investigation launched earlier this week into an allegation that a female cadet was verbally abused and physically assaulted by three male cadets who opposed her application to the Corps' elite cavalry troop, Mobley said Thursday.

Man, 32, to face charges

By PATRICK DRISCOLL Staff Writer

A 32-year-old man is expected to be charged with attempted murder in connection with the shooting of another man in Coahoma, authorities said.

Raul Cazares Gonzalez was shot in the right shoulder with a 22-caliber pistol Wednesday night, said Howard County Sheriff Deputy Woodie Howell. Gonzalez was treated at Scenic Mountain Medical Center and released later Wednesday.

Lionso Lee Jimenez Jr., Route 2, Box 147, was arrested the day of the shooting, charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon and released on a $15,000 bond, Howell said.

However, the charge is being upgraded to attempted murder, said Sheriff A.N. Standard. "We have everything we need to have a good standup case on it."

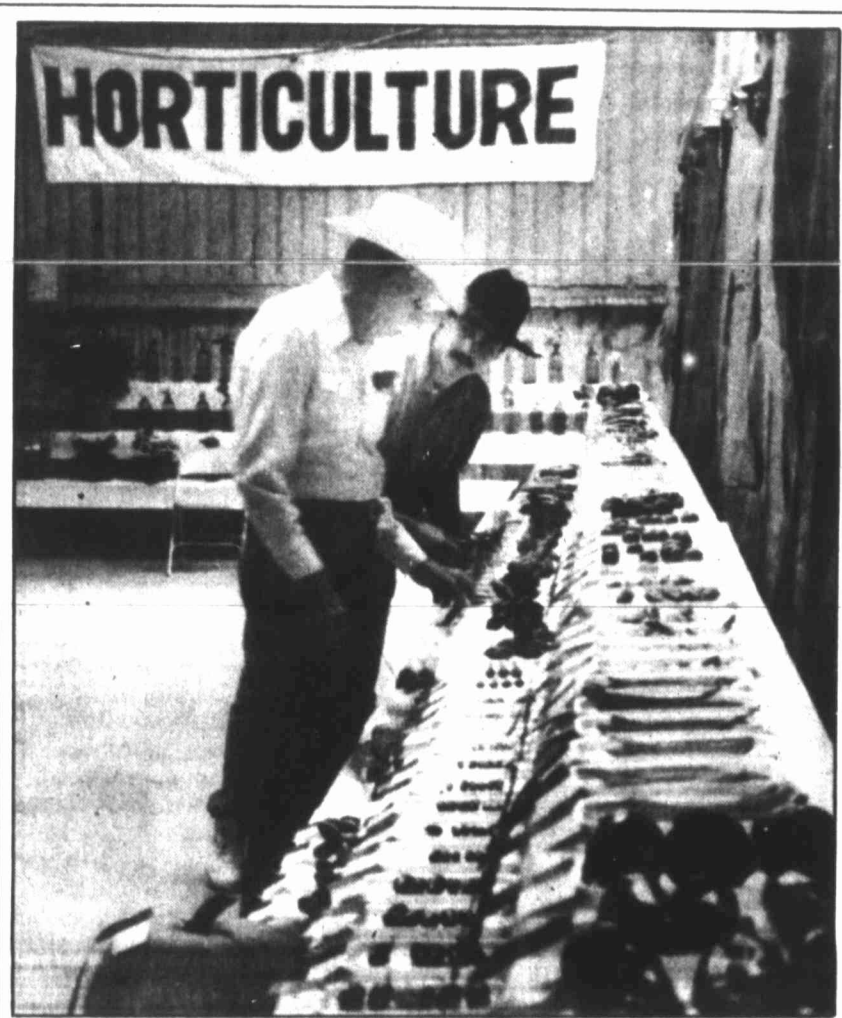

Gonzalez told authorities he was standing in the front yard of his home in the 200 block of South Second Street when the suspect drove up in a car and shot him, Howell said. The two men had an "ongoing dispute" for the past two years, Howell said. "Maybe longer than that."

Gonzalez could not be reached for comment, but Standard said, "It's conjectured that it's a domestic matter."

An hour after sheriff officials were notified of the shooting, a deputy spotted the suspect and followed him to his home about four miles north of Big Spring on Texas 350. Howell was then called to the home and the suspect was arrested.

Statements from witnesses, including a neighbor of Gonzalez who saw the shooting, were taken and the case has been closed, Howell said. The attempted murder charge is expected to be filed next week and the case forwarded to the district attorney's office.

"It'll go (up for possible indictment) with the next regularly scheduled grand jury, which will probably be in late November or early December," said Rick Hamby, district attorney for the 118th Judicial District Court.

Panel deadlocks on nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee deadlocked 7-7 today on Clarence Thomas' nomination to the Supreme Court, and the panel's chairman said he would send the appointment to the full Senate for a final vote.

All six Republicans joined Democrat Dennis DeConcini in voting for Thomas, a conservative appeals court judge who would be the second black to sit on the high court.

The committee's seven other Democrats opposed him.

The tie vote in committee heartened opponents of Thomas, who has been criticized by Democrats for failing to discuss his views on abortion, and for undergoing a "confirmation conversion" that caused him to step away from earlier conservative views.

Even so, a leading supporter, a prominent opponent and President Bush all predicted that Thomas would eventually be confirmed for the seat currently held by Thurgood Marshall, a pioneer of the civil rights movement.

"It'll be all right," Bush told reporters at the White House.

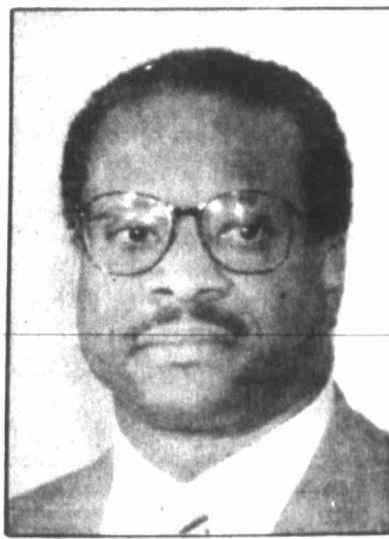

The committee voted after one lawmaker after another read formal statements outlining the reasons for their decisions on Thomas, a 43-year-old who rose from extreme poverty to become a former Senate aide, chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and federal appeals court judge.

"Judge Thomas spent five days running away from his record," said Sen. Thomas Metzger, the Ohio Democrat who was one of his most vocal critics during Thomas' five days of confirmation hearing testimony earlier in the month.

Countered Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., "There's been no confirmation conversion."

The 7-7 tie was sealed by conservative Democratic Sen. Howell Heflin's announcement Thursday that he would oppose Thomas, and by a similar announcement today by Sen. Joseph Biden, the Delaware Democrat who is chairman of the committee.

Biden said he would not support any effort to block a vote by the full

Senate on the nomination. In a speech in the Senate shortly before he convened the committee, he said his own decision to oppose the nomination was a "close call."

Biden and Sen. John Danforth, the Missouri Republican who has been Thomas' most vocal supporter in the Senate, joined Bush in saying the nomination would eventually be approved.

"I will not vote to confirm Judge Thomas," Biden said. "It is not a decision I come to lightly. Every one of us was impressed by Judge Thomas' personal life story."

"As difficult as this decision has been to me, it is one that I make with firm conviction," Biden said. "For it is a vote that I cast with my head, not my heart. I acknowledge that this is a close call."

Biden said that Thomas, during confirmation hearings, failed to convince him that the nominee believed in protecting rights guaranteed by the Constitution, "even after repeated attempts by me to assuage my concerns and the concerns of others."

"We're at a place in this country where the risks are just simply too high," he said.

He said his decision had been a close call, and said that one lawmaker told him he had decided to support Thomas because of his roots. Biden said he replied that it wasn't his roots he was worried about — "it was his wings."

City manager to write plan for charter panel

By GARY SHANKS Staff Writer

Members of the Big Spring City Council have given approval for City Manager Hal Boyd to write a proposal forming a committee to rewrite the city charter.

The original proposal had been tabled for several months, because the city budget and other concerns left little time for such detailed action, Mayor Max Green said.

Green has decided the time has come to address the charter rewrite, since the 1991-92 budget was passed in Tuesday's council meeting and a mandate has been given to set a referendum on a specific city code revision.

"You have to remember that we are under a charter that was written in 1926 and has only been amended one time in 1973," said Green.

(League of United Latin American Citizens) filed suit against us and we had to go to a three-district, three-at-large council. Because of that, there are conflicting provisions between the city charter and the court case," he said.

The council decided to meet in two special sessions next Monday and Tuesday to read a proposal to set a referendum on a petition from the Fraternal Order of Police. The petition requires the city to maintain a minimum number of police officers per capita, restrict the involuntary termination of the police chief and restrict the disciplining of police officers.

Green has scheduled a press conference on the petition for Monday, 9 a.m., officials said today.

U.N. inspector: No sign of release

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The head of a U.N. weapons inspection team held hostage in Baghdad said today there was no sign Iraqi officials were preparing to free his crew, even though a solution to the standoff had appeared imminent.

The Security Council on Thursday accepted an Iraqi plan to free the inspectors, who have the right to assess Iraq's weapons of mass destruction under terms of the Persian Gulf War cease-fire.

But the U.N. team leader in Baghdad, David Kay, said today Iraqi authorities have made no move there to resolve the 4-day-old standoff.

"We've had absolutely no change, and we've watched very closely for it," Kay told The Associated Press in an interview by satellite telephone. "The guard force is the same, the attitude seems to be exactly the same. No improvement at all, it's very strange."

The 44-member U.N. team remained surrounded by scores of Iraqi troops in a parking lot outside the Iraqi Atomic Energy Commission. The showdown began Tuesday, after the Iraqis demanded the inspectors turn over documents detailing Iraq's secret nuclear program.

Also today, Iraq's U.N. ambassador, Abdul Amir al-Anbari, released the latest in a series of letters complaining about surveillance overflights by U-2 spy planes, F-15 and F-16 warplanes and helicopters.

The flights went on from Sept. 19-25 "for purposes of observation and provocation," his letter said.

The British foreign minister, Douglas Hurd, said Saddam Hussein may be delaying the release for a day or two, but he added that the Iraqi president risks conflict if he does not cooperate.

If "he were to dig in and take action against U.N. teams and refuse to comply, he knows very well that he will be made to comply," Hurd told BBC radio from New York.

White House press secretary Marlin Fitzwater also questioned Saddam's actions. "There's been a pattern of cheat and retreat all the way through this," Fitzwater said Thursday.

Under the Iraqi plan, inspectors will keep the documents, photographs and videotapes while they and Iraqi authorities catalog the evidence, diplomats said.

Iraq had initially demanded that the team relinquish the documents, but the inspectors refused.

Kay said his team was getting ready for a solution.

"We've done all the preparatory work on the documents, the video and the film. So, we're ready to go. We've been working all morning about four hours with teams doing that. So, we've done essentially at this point everything we can do on our own," Kay said.

On Thursday, the Security Council said it "deplores Iraq's repeated violations of its obligations" under U.N. resolutions demanding its cooperation with the destruction of its terror weapons.

A statement said the council "reiterates its demand that the inspectors... be released immediately," but didn't object to "a joint inventory of documents and materials" in this particular case.

Donation extends Earhart search

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A Houston company specializing in deep-water research will take part in the search for Amelia Earhart's plane after an anonymous donor solved an 11th-hour funding problem.

The donor has given $200,000 to the International Group for Historic Aircraft Recovery (TIGHAR), a non-profit foundation, for its expedition to the remote South Pacific island of Nikumaroro. TIGHAR spokesman Gary Quigg of Crawfordville said Thursday.

The uninhabited atoll, located 2,000 miles southwest of Hawaii, is believed to be the site where Earhart and navigator Fred Noonan crashed during their around-the-world flight on July 2, 1937.

The TIGHAR team will search an area extending from the island's southeast shore to a lagoon a quarter-mile from the ocean, Quigg said.

Oceanering International will use sonar and a remote camera to scan the ocean bottom at a depth of 2,000 feet off the island's coral shelf for the wreckage of Earhart's plane.

Director apologizes and plans to resign

DALLAS (AP) — The director of an AIDS funding agency says he will leave his post next month, and has apologized for failing to channel tens of thousands of dollars to AIDS agencies.

AIDS Arms Network failed to funnel up to $170,000 in state and federal grants to 18 Dallas groups to assist AIDS victims.

Buck Buckingham, executive director of the AIDS Arms Network, said Wednesday he thought the organization was financially ahead at the end of the past fiscal year, but a former employee had covered up a deficit of more than $75,000.

Groups demanding national health care plan

AUSTIN (AP) — Health care advocates crossing the country in ambulances called for a national health care plan, while state and federal regulators warned about the growing number of fraudulent health insurance policies.

"We're putting politicians on notice that in 1992 they had better address the health care issue," said Ron Pollack, executive director of Families USA.

"This crisis runs very deeply into the middle class," he said. "We are saying to presidential, senatorial and House of Representative candidates... if you want us to care about your political health, you better care about our family's health."

Countries with national health care plans spend a fraction of the amount that Americans spend for medical treatment, and deliver better services, the groups said.

"This crisis runs very deeply into the middle class. We are saying to presidential, senatorial and House of Representative candidates... if you want us to care about your political health, you better care about our family's health."

Ron Pollack
Families USA executive director

Tim Curtis of Texas Citizen Action said that the insurance industry spends about 30 cents to deliver $1 in health benefits, while Canada's national health care system can deliver $1 of health benefits for less than 3 cents.

Texas is third in the nation in the number of people without health insurance — more than 3 million — and ranks near the bottom in state spending on health care problems. Nearly 90 percent of Texans without health insurance work but still can't afford it, according to the National Association of Social Workers.

Gov. Ann Richards has said she will appoint a committee to make recommendations on health insurance for the regular session of the Legislature in 1993.

Families USA, Jobs with Justice, and Citizen Action have sponsored five convoys of ambulances traveling throughout the country to draw attention to the health care crisis. The ambulances will meet Oct. 10 in Washington, where they have asked President Bush and Democratic presidential candidates to address the issue.

While the groups focused on the availability of health insurance, regulators zeroed in on illegal insurance scams.

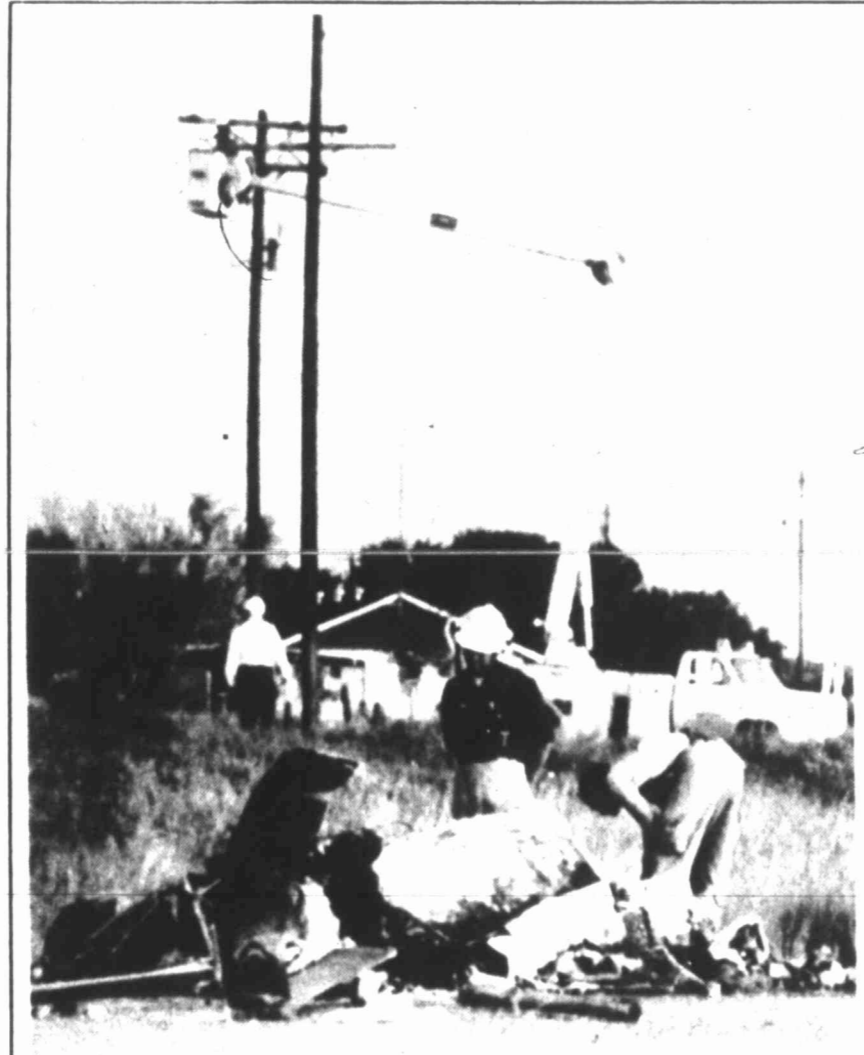

The Texas Department of Insurance and U.S. Department of Labor told insurance companies to notify their agents that they could be held liable for unpaid claims on unauthorized accident and health insurance policies that they sold. "Thousands of Texans have been victimized by these plans, and thousands more will be victimized in the future unless we all take positive action," Insurance Commissioner Phil Barnes said.

Barnes said the major problem is in the sale of unauthorized multiple employer welfare arrangements, which are called MEWAs.

Last May, in the largest judgment obtained by the state against an unauthorized insurer, an Austin judge ordered Equity Med-Kare Plan and 42 other defendants to pay $9.6 million in restitution and civil penalties.

In fiscal year 1990, 20 cases of unauthorized insurance cases were recommended for prosecution, an increase from 15 cases the year before, according to Lee Jones, a spokesman for the Insurance Department.

Helicopter crash

SAN ANTONIO — A low-flying helicopter struck a power line, flipped, crashed and burst into flames south of Pearsall late Thursday afternoon, injuring the pilot and two other men in the craft. Traffic was diverted from IH 35, northbound, for about four hours and power was restored to 150 homes.

Man sentenced in taped murder

TYLER (AP) — A judge has sentenced a government witness to 30 years in a federal penitentiary for his involvement in the slaying of a constable whose attack was partially recorded on videotape.

Jesus "Jesse" Cortez Zambrano, 23, of Edinburg, pleaded guilty on April 11 in the capital murder of constable Darrell Lunsford, 47, in January.

Zambrano then testified against brothers Baldemar Sambrano Villarreal, 29, and Reynaldo Sam-brano Villarreal, 25, in July. The older brother received a life sentence without parole and the younger was sentenced to 40 years in prison.

The two were convicted after three days of testimony, which ended with the panel viewing a dramatic videotape of the brothers and Zambrano attacking the constable.

The constable started the video camera mounted on the dash of his patrol car before getting out to question the suspects during a routine traffic stop in Garrison in northeast Texas.

The camera captured his attack by the men but his slaying, with his own pistol, occurred out of the frame. However, moments later, Baldemar Villarreal was shown carrying the pistol.

The video showed Zambrano getting out of the car and assisting in the attack after Lunsford had been knocked to the ground.

Residents victimized

BEAUMONT (AP) — Several Beaumont residents have been victimized by a California-based phone scam involving calls from people who identify themselves as law enforcement officers investigating the theft of telephone company credit cards.

About eight Beaumont residents received extremely high telephone bills this past month, including one that totaled $1,395, after giving their calling card numbers to someone over the phone, according to Southwestern Bell spokesman Frank Merriman.

Merriman said the caller identifies himself as a law enforcement officer or a telephone company employee who needs the resident's calling card number to catch a credit card thief or an employee suspected of misconduct.

Most of the victims are elderly and are eager to cooperate since they are promised that they will be reimbursed for any long-distance calls.

A Beaumont physician, who was not identified, told authorities he gave his number to a man who posed as an FBI agent. The physician later received long-distance bills totaling $1,395 that included calls to Iran, Puerto Rico, Hong Kong, Belgium and China.

The doctor said the man who called him said they had arrested a man in Atlanta who had 19 cards. "He said he has to really arrest this guy, because he's ripping off the public, and that he needs my help," the doctor said.

Customers should never give their calling card numbers to anyone over the phone.

Southwestern Bell will adjust the charges if the company can prove the customer did not make the calls, he said, but such scams end up costing customers.

Chemicals monitored

HOUSTON (AP) — Federal agents say they want to make the cost of manufacturing illegal drugs as high as possible, and have developed a high-tech way to keep chemicals from getting to drug-makers in South America.

Common chemicals like benzene, acetone and ketones are made in Houston and shipped around the world from the Port of Houston, which handles 70 percent of the nation's chemical exports. The chemicals are used in items like nail polish, perfume, paint and medications.

Although a typical 55-gallon drum of the solvent would sell legally for $100 to $150, it's worth almost $10,000 on the illegitimate market in Colombia where it's needed for cocaine production, agents said.

"We want to make the costs as high as possible in this illegal traffic," Billy Monks, supervisory inspector for the U.S. Customs Service, said Thursday. "We want to make it as difficult as possible."

"There's a tremendous profit potential for those who would divert into the illegal trade," Monks said. "They are essential to making illegal drugs that will come back to the United States."

A 1988 law known as the Chemical Diversion and Trafficking Act requires chemical makers to document to the Drug Enforcement Administration what they are shipping, how much they are shipping and where it is going.

Those documents are filed in a computer which then is matched against the actual cargoes.

Postal service planning to cut jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service is eliminating at least 84,000 jobs as machines take over work traditionally done by people.

The agency has cut 37,000 positions since 1989 and will eliminate an additional 47,000 by 1995, Postmaster General Anthony Frank said Thursday.

So far, the cuts have been made by not replacing people who quit or retire, said Frank, "and we hope we can continue to do that. That's our plan."

Moe Biller, president of the American Postal Workers Union, said he is "delighted that we agree on one thing. He says he doesn't expect anybody to lose any jobs. There's no reason they should."

Frank told reporters that improved automation allows machines to sort the mail, reducing errors and cutting the number of people needed to do this work.

The cuts in workers will result in an annual saving of $4.5 billion, Frank said, with savings already amounting to $1 billion per year.

The saving will help hold postal rates steady, he said.

The Postal Service is seeking an increase from the current 29-cent rate for first-class mail to 30 cents. Frank said he expects another increase in 1995, but his goal is for that to be the last one this decade.

This year's Christmas stamps have been printed without a price on them because the mail agency is still waiting to hear from the independent Postal Rate Commission on its appeal for the 30-cent rate.

Coal miners' leader ends protests

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — The leader of rioting coal miners met today with President Ion Iliescu and ordered the workers to end their anti-government attacks, which forced the resignation of the nation's premier.

The group of miners, led by Miron Cosma, met with Iliescu for about an hour in the presidential palace. Afterward, the Roman news agency quoted Cosma as saying the miners "considered the conflict over and are going home."

But miners ignored a similar call by Cosma to leave Bucharest on Thursday following the resignation of Premier Petre Roman.

Details of the meeting with Iliescu were not immediately known. The miners had protested against the Roman's austerity policies, which sent inflation soaring and lowered the standard of living in one of Europe's poorest countries. Many miners complain that they cannot afford to feed their families.

Iliescu has denounced the protests as a coup attempt.

"If an institution is attacked with violence, we cannot but respond with violence."

Roman was the first of Eastern Europe's post-Communist leaders to fall victim to a backlash against Western-oriented reform.

An estimated 2,000 miners commandeered trains on Wednesday and traveled to the capital, where they stormed the government headquarters.

Woman in labor refused admission

NEW YORK (AP) — A doctor who refused service to a woman in labor and talked on the telephone while ambulance attendants helped her give birth in a hospital admissions office has been suspended, officials said.

Disciplinary charges also were filed against the Harlem Hospital doctor, whose name was not released, said Steve Matthews, a spokesman for the city's Health and Hospitals Corp.

A hearing must be held before any formal action is taken, he said Thursday.

On Sunday, the doctor refused to admit Charlesetta Brown, 23, saying there was a bed for the mother but none for the child, said Emergency Medical Service technician Mary Dandridge, who delivered the child on a stretcher along with her partner, William Ludwig.

An EMS supervisor and a hospital administrator ordered the doctor to attend to Brown "but he just outright refused," Dandridge said. He "sat there talking on the phone while we delivered the baby," she said.

Other hospital employees watched and people strolled but, "They wouldn't even give us an obstetrics kit," Dandridge said.

Troops seize national guard base

TBILISI, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Soldiers loyal to President Zviad Gamsakhurdia have seized the opposition's national guard base, but opposition leaders today remained in control of Tbilisi's broadcasting center.

There was shooting throughout the night in the capital of Georgia, where Gamsakhurdia imposed a state of emergency to quell dissent. Sporadic firing was heard in the direction of the broadcast center this morning.

The standoff pits Gamsakhurdia's supporters, who believe his strong hand is needed to win the republic's independence, against critics who believe he has become increasingly dictatorial.

In Moscow, Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev expressed concern today about the unrest in Georgia and the Nagorno-Karabakh enclave in the Caucasus, and about public protests over the reinstatement of a Communist Party stalwart as president of the Central Asian republic of Tadjikistan.

He denied accusations by Gamsakhurdia that the Kremlin was behind a mounting opposition movement in the republic.

"This is not realistic, not factual," he said.

Surrogate mother shares custody

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — A surrogate mother has gained joint custody of her 16-month-old daughter, stunning the man who contracted to father the child by artificial insemination before his marriage fell apart.

Orange County Superior Court Judge Nancy Wieben Stock ruled Thursday that Elvira Jordan should share custody of 16-month-old Marissa with the girl's biological father, Robert Moschetta.

Stock ignored a report by court-appointed experts that said Moschetta should have sole custody of Marissa.

Jordan, 42, was jubilant.

"I got my daughter back," she said. "I prayed hard and I had faith that God was going to pull through, but I never knew it would be all this."

The report had recommended just visitation rights for Jordan. Stock's ruling gave Jordan custody of Marissa from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, with Moschetta having custody the rest of the time. The child is to alternate between their homes during holidays and vacations.

House panel passes anti-crime package

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1.1 billion anti-crime package that would expand the death penalty to 48 new crimes and ban some assault-style weapons has been approved by the House Judiciary Committee.

The sweeping anti-crime legislation, approved Thursday after 3½ days of debate, would help state and local governments put more police on the streets, improve programs for youthful offenders and give drug treatment to more prisoners.

House Speaker Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., said the full House would debate the measure next month.

Rep. Charles E. Schumer, D-N.Y., said he was optimistic that the fights over the death penalty and other issues that blocked passage last year of comprehensive crime legislation would not be an obstacle this year.

"The old ideological fights are losing their strength," said Schumer, who chairs the panel's crime subcommittee.

But Republicans are expected to wage floor fights as they did last year to make it easier to impose the death penalty and further restrict the ability of state prisoners to challenge their sentences in federal court.

Rep. George Gekas, R-Pa., complained that the bill "in many different ways tries valiantly to defeat the death penalty."

Schumer said Democrats believe that "the death penalty is an appropriate form of punishment, they also believe you better be careful you don't execute the wrong person."

The bill applies the death penalty to 48 federal crimes, including terrorism, espionage, kidnapping that results in murder or death, political assassinations and for drug trafficking on a large scale.

Prosecutors would be required to prove intent to kill to obtain the death penalty except for terrorist acts or drive-by fatal shootings. For those crimes, the bill would authorize execution for someone who showed "reckless disregard for human life."

Salvadorans welcome peace pact

ALFREDO CRISTIANI

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Salvadoran leaders on Thursday welcomed a U.N.-brokered accord that promises to end nearly 12 years of civil war. But their thanks were subdued, underscoring a wariness fostered by the long, brutal conflict.

President Alfredo Cristiani, a rightist, and the top five commanders of the leftist guerrilla army on Wednesday capped 10 days of negotiations at the United Nations headquarters in New York with a momentous agreement.

The accord provides for a purging and a reduction of the armed forces, an incorporation of insurgents into a new police force and distribution of idle state-owned farmland to landless peasants in the Central American nation.

Waste cleanup is underfunded

Little progress has been made on cleaning up the mountains of contaminated waste at the nation's nuclear weapons plants. The Department of Energy first admitted the cleanup to be a problem of major dimensions five years ago, now it appears to be a task of much greater magnitude than previously imagined. Yet the department says it lacks the money and expertise to be confident of resolving it.

The department has issued a report indicating that in the next five years there will be a large gap between what is estimated as necessary to maintain a timely cleanup program and the amount allocated by Congress to do so. So far, a mere $26 billion has been budgeted for the problem. The Energy Department thinks the true cost will be closer to $40 billion — or more. The affected states, which are relying on federal help to clean up the contaminated sites in their territory, are expressing well-founded concern that the federal government may renege on its commitment to do the job right.

Worse, the dimensions of the problem keep growing. For instance, while the volume and nature of material at the sites is pretty well known, in many cases its concentration — or toxicity — remains completely unknown. This important detail will dramatically affect the cost of cleaning it up.

In addition, while methods exist for handling both radioactive and chemical contaminants, no adequate treatment and disposal system presently is available for treating wastes that are a mixture of the two. Indeed, for some toxic chemicals at the sites, there is no known method for retrieval and handling at all.

Thus, not only is the money committed to cleaning up the weapons sites inadequate, the true dimensions of the problem have yet to be fully assessed. More money, especially for more scientists and engineers, is essential to eliminate these hot spots around the country in any reasonable period of time.

Campaigning out of place in classrooms

To the editor:

Whether the political battle at hand is a school bond issue or a presidential election, campaigning should not be allowed in our classrooms to our children.

In my opinion, what is being allowed this week throughout our school system is appalling.

All propaganda should be removed from the schools and faculty should not be permitted to express their opinions to students on any issue.

Don't wait until plans are obsolete

To the editor:

Call this part 2. This issue of bonds, taxes and etc. for new schools, new roads and whatever, is good if it is put to use. But if all of this money is spent, and then everyone argues for 5 or 10 years about where to build, it has already gone out of date. That was the way with the freeways in California. They got the money for them, and then argued for 10 years over how they should be built. And by the time they agreed, the freeways were obsolete and outdated. That is the same way with schools. If you are going to build them, do it. Don't argue for years, and then decide to do it.

Like this bit with the police department, why is everyone so upset? People get laid off everywhere. They have families, bills to pay, kids to worry about. They don't like it, but they take it with a grain of salt. So why should the police, be any different?

And this bit of changing the city charter by adding that amendment, quit worrying about laying off the police officers, don't get so shook up over the schools. Think of the town; get it to growing. It should be involved in progressing. Make it into a showplace, and then maybe Paul Harvey will have something nice to say about the town, instead of putting it down. And everyone knows how many people listen to Paul Harvey every day.

Go to meetings, find out what is going on

To the editor:

I have never seen a town with so many controversies. On every issue the town is always split.

It would seem, with the economic conditions so bad and as small as the town has become, the people would pull together more.

You can't tell me that this doesn't affect our kids in a bad way.

If there was a certainty that new schools would give our kids a better education, I could say yes. A new building doesn't give the education, it is parents and teachers pulling together to instill honest and good values with desire for a good education in the kids.

This is becoming a town of retired people over 65. Where is the money going to come from? I resent the fact that our townspeople have sat on their duff and not attended school board meetings and let them do as they please. If they had been policed by the people, our schools would not be in this condition.

We have paid high school taxes and what do we have to show for it? We want new buildings, but we can't afford to run school buses for transportation for students to take PE classes (that are required) early in the morning. People are wanting the frills, but you have to have the necessities first.

I resent the fact that the school board sent a brochure that was published and sent to every home in Big Spring with our tax dollars paying for it. If people showed enough interest, they could have gotten the information a less expensive way. Most were thrown in the trash.

We need to say No to the bond issue and get back on track for first things first. I challenge the people here to attend school meetings and find out where our money is going.

All schools in town need improvements

To the editor:

With all the pros and cons on the new school's proposal, I would like to submit a teacher's opinion.

I am now sitting in a portable building at Marcy Elementary School and my feet are freezing. A cold front blew in at noon yesterday. This "outhouse" I teach in is just as miserable in cold weather as it was in hot weather. Then the children and I suffered through sauna-like heat because we have a water cooler that no longer works in our humid summer weather.

Let's improve conditions in all our schools instead of building two new ones that only a part of our students will benefit from.

It's always been the policy in Big Spring: "Don't fix it; tear it down and build something new." I love to travel and I have visited many towns where the people take pride in their heritage by restoring their old buildings.

I would venture to say if a person has been away from Big Spring for the last twenty years, he would not recognize this town. Many landmarks have been torn down and something new built to

The writer's art Coining adverbs, adjectives and nouns

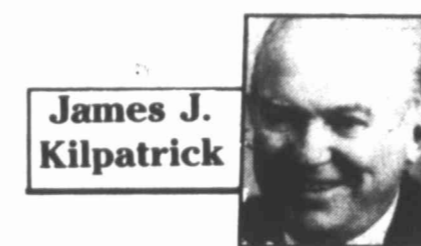

The minting of new and horrid verbs, such as "to agendaize," never ceases, but the coinage of adverbs, adjectives and nouns also is worth remarking.

In The Seattle Times, a columnist noted that a Polish fashion designer has taken on her greatest challenge. She hopes to make Lech Walesa "look more presidential and less worky."

The thought is inspiring. A good public relations adviser, seeking to create an outdoorly image, might make a politician look more fisherly. Given the right duds, one could look golferly, cruiserly, hunterly, riderly or sailorly. And wouldn't that be looferly?

Back in January, the Bloomington (Ind.) Herald-Times marked the return of Indiana University students to their campus. Business immediately picked up at local beaneries. "During the holidays it slacked off majorly," said Darren Burton, a manager at Garcia's Pizza in a Pan. Majorly? Why not? During the semester business falls off only minorly.

The Buffalo News contributed "writerly" to the language some months ago. Eddie Wenzek "characterizes his writerly son-in-law as a 'quiet, unassuming fellow.'" The adjective "painterly" has been around for the past 400 years. I have winced at "lawyerly." What about doctorly or dentistly? If a farmer moved to the city and planted a backyard garden, would we say that he was formerly farmerly? It's a thought.

Blanketly! This splendid contribution comes from Nevada State Sen. Ray Shaffer. A year ago, when he was running for treasurer, he got in trouble by saying that some handicapped people might be unable to handle the job. Belatedly, he told the Las Vegas Review-Journal defensively, "No way would I blanketly include all the disabled."

This next one isn't new, but it's rare. A writer for The Washington Post quoted a comment by political analyst Kevin Phillips. It was a "weaselly locution," he said. It's a great adjective, and it's especially apt in Washington.

A writer for the Rocky Mountain News in Denver referred to "the notoriously tight-wadded Walt Disney Co." In the Portland Oregonian, a wartime sailor recalled a voyage around Cape Horn through seas "sharky" with German submarines. In The Stuart (Fla.) News, a treasure hunter refused to debunk dark tales of the Bermuda Triangle. The mystery, he said, is "aliver and weller" than it has ever been.

A few new nouns merit attention. Of particular note is a coinage by Richard Roeper of the Chicago Sun-Times. In January he took a good-natured poke at Illinois' globe-trotting Gov. Jim Thompson. His successor would be staying at home, a dull prospect for reporters. "Like him or not, there's no denying the mediability of Thompson and his travels." Just as some people are photogenic, some public figures are more meadiable than others. Sen. Jesse Helms of North Carolina has great mediability. What would the media do without him?

A reader of The Birmingham (Ala.) News complained a year ago of a rich crop of front-yard political signs. The signs are messy and ineffective. Ten signs in half a block "represent the ludicrousness of the political promotions race." I dunno about this one. I don't believe it will fly.

How about "stigmatism"? A legislator in South Carolina introduced a bill that would require a special code on the driver's license of a felon. An editorial in the Myrtle Beach Sun-News said this would be like requiring blacks in South Africa to carry an ID card. The legislator defended his bill, but he acknowledged that "many people have concerns about the possible stigmatism of a person with such a code on his license." The new noun probably won't replace stigmatization, mainly because it sounds like a defect in vision, but there it is.

How about "fatals"? A headline in the Asheville (N.C.) Citizen-Times during Desert Storm put things succinctly: "Accidental Fatals Greatly Outnumber Gulf Action Deaths." This next one may not be new, but it's new to me: "gossipist." R. Emmett Tyrrell pinned the title on biographer Kitty Kelley: "The lady is a gossipist."

A round of applause goes to Oklahoma state trooper Allen Nixon. He covered a tornado last May that injured a woman in a mobile home near Laverne. "I don't have the exacts," he told the AP, "but I understand she had a broken leg." Trouble is that most of us, most of the time, "don't have the exacts."

Let us adjourn today's class with a bow toward California's ex-governor Jerry Brown. Asked if he intended to run for president, he said, "I am not unthinking about it." Carry on!

Get Schwarzkopf for Operation Buzz Off

It has happened. They have come. No living thing is safe from them. Forget radon gas. Stop worrying about cholesterol. Asbestos? Minor problem. The killer bees are here.

For years I've been following their odyssey northward toward us from Africa and South America.

Lewis Grizzard

These bees aren't normal bees. A normal bee stings only in self defense. Normal bees are content to a life of making a little honey. But not killer bees. They're like the dreaded copperhead water rattle snake. They're mean. They're aggressive. If Hitler had been an insect he would have been a killer bee.

If you try to run from killer bees they will chase you. If you make it to your house safely, they'll wait in your yard until you come out the next morning.

If you check into a Holiday Inn in an effort to escape them they will take the room next to you. God help us all.

bees escaped from an experiment in Brazil and began breeding with more docile European bees. . . . About six hundred deaths have been attributed to the bees, mostly in South America.

Now, they're in Texas. Where will they go next? North to Oklahoma? West to New Mexico. East to Louisiana? When will they reach you?

Imagine living with killer bees around. Will I have to wear one of those bee keeper outfits with the hood every time I go out of my house?

Will it be safe to play golf?

We can't afford to tear down schools

To the editor:

If we vote in favor of the school bond, the school board plans to tear down three schools. These schools contain 69 classrooms, three cafeterias, two gymnasiums, and many bathrooms.

I don't think we can afford this and, even if we could, is this sound judgment? I don't think so.

SANDIE OSBORNE
1743 Purdue

The victim was Adan Garza. He was attacked near McAllen while clearing brush near an abandoned shack, the report said.

"The killer bees had built a hive in the brush," said Kathleen Davis, a spokeswoman from the Texas A & M Department of Agricultural Communications. "He ran but he was unable to outrun them."

Luckily for Adan Garza the killer bees didn't kill him. But they did put him in the hospital.

There was more scary stuff in the AP report.

"The Africanized bees, aggressive insects known to attack in swarms and pursue prey for up to a mile. . . They have been spreading through the Americas since 1957 when African queen was attacked by a swarm of killer bees. After stinging him 4,116 times, they carried the golfer off to parts unknown. Authorities said the bees, who made a daring, daylight escape from a Brazilian experiment in 1957 by disguising themselves as cockroaches, are known to carry off people and animals and take them back to their hives where they are stung and tortured in what are believed to be weird, sick, satanic rituals."

We don't have the commies to worry about anymore. Besides, how many times did you hear of a swarm of commies attacking somebody and stinging them 300 times?

I want the government to get involved in this thing and figure out a way to halt the deadly march of the killer bees.

Burn 'em, drown 'em, nuke 'em, if necessary. Just get them back south of the border. They probably came across the Rio Grande with an illegal Mexican alien in the first place.

Iran invaded Kuwait. The killer bees have invaded Texas. Get Schwarzkopf out of retirement. Operation Buzz Off.

Vote for the kids and against the bond

To the editor:

The plea we hear is "Vote for the kids." These same kids will finish school and either go into business or be employed by a taxpayer within the next 20 years. Many will buy homes and have a million dollars per year tax burden that they will have to pick up. Us over 65, of which I am one, are exempt?

Except that the appraisal board raised the value $8,000 on our home. There have been many misleading statements, including that to build new is cheaper than to renovate. I have had some building experience. There is no way you can pour foundation and walls and floor, as we have read, and not spend three or four times the money it would cost to renovate. Vote for the kids . . . and against the bond.

children, I see the need for funds to hire teachers who have been educated to identify and teach these children, as well as train those teachers who are not familiar with the disorder.

Yes, nice, new buildings could be an aid to better learning for most, but for the students classified with ADD, the admission that they exist and the implementation of the required program to insure that they don't "drop out" means more than better physical facilities.

This may seem insignificant until one is faced with the possibility that 30 percent (one-third) of our students are walking our hallowed halls with unidentified learning disorders.

GERALD HARRIS
Rt. 2, Box M

Schools have greater needs than buildings

To the editor:

Since our attention has been directed toward the school bond issue and the need for bigger and better buildings to provide the best education possible, I would like to address some concerns that have nothing to do with buildings. My concern is directed toward the children with learning disabilities, more specifically those with ADD — Attention Deficit Disorder — a disability that limits the ability to learn.

State laws and the Texas State Board of Education require that each school district provide and deliver a well-balanced curriculum and effective instruction to all students. Students with ADD must receive instruction, pacing, and materials for instruction at the child's appropriate level.

Most of these children are classified "at risk," and are entitled to remedial and support programs to meet their unique requirements, and measures must be taken to insure each child's progress through high school graduation.

As a parent of one of these number of poor Americans rose to 33.6 million last year, a 1.5 percent increase from 32.6 million in 1989, the Bureau said today.

Under the 1990 poverty guidelines, a family of four with an annual income of $13,359 or less is poor. But that does not include any property owned or assistance it may receive.

Two-thirds of the poor were white. For children and 11 elderly.

The number of poor in the United States increased by 1.5 million over the past year, the Bureau's head economist said.

The figures were tracked by the Census Bureau's annual survey of income, which is the nation's best indicator of the poverty rate.

Robert Greenstein, Washington-based director of the Center on Budget and Priorities, said the increase would have a negative impact on the economy.

Because the rate in 1990 will understate poverty in the country, he said.

In 1989, 12.8 percent of the population fell below the line, which was $10,600 for a family of four.

Last year, the rate rose to 13.1 percent, or $29,943. That's above the year before, when it was 12.8 percent.

Income per person in the United States fell 3 percent last year, to $6,400. People in the bottom 10 percent of the income distribution were the same as the year before.

Blacks had the highest rate of any racial group, at 28.2 percent. Whites had the lowest rate, at 11.5 percent.

Households headed by a woman with a job were 3 percent more likely to be poor than those headed by a man.

Women's earnings declined 3.6 percent last year, to $6,400.

Poverty rate in U.S. grows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of poor Americans grew to 33.6 million last year, the first increase since 1983, the Census Bureau said today. That means 13.5 percent of the country lives in poverty.

Under the 1990 definition of poverty, a family of four earning $13,359 or less is considered to be poor. But that definition does not include any property the family may own or some forms of assistance it may receive.

Two-thirds of poor Americans were white. Forty percent were children and 11 percent were elderly.

The number of Americans considered poor increased by 2.1 million over the year before. Daniel Weinberg, the Census Bureau's head of household economic statistics, said the new figures represented "a significant increase from 1989."

The figures were the first to track poverty in America since the nation fell into recession last year. The poverty rate had fallen steadily since 1983, the year after the last recession ended.

Robert Greenstein, director of a Washington-based research group, the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, said the current recession would have a significant impact on the poverty rate.

Because the recession worsened in 1991, "whatever figures we hear in 1990 will understate the degree of poverty in the country today," he said.

In 1989, 12.8 percent of the population fell below the poverty line, which was $12,674 for a family of four.

Last year, the median income of the nation's households was $29,943. That's about $525 less than the year before, when inflation is taken into account.

Income per person in the United States fell 3 percent to $14,387, the first downturn in eight years.

People in the country fared better economically than those in the cities. Household income outside of the metro areas was $23,709, about the same as the year before.

Blacks had the highest poverty rate of any racial or ethnic group at 32 percent. The poverty rate for whites was 11 percent; Hispanics, 28 percent; and Asians and Pacific Islanders, 12 percent.

Households headed by people 65 and over had a 3 percent increase in their average income when adjusted for inflation. That's the only age group whose income went up in the year.

Women's earnings remained behind men's. Women on average earned $19,816, about the same as the year before. Men's earnings declined 3.6 percent to $27,866.

Cambodian leader says search for MIAs difficult

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Cambodia is committed to helping find remains of Americans and other Westerners missing from the Indochina war, but the task is difficult because the country has "so many bones," the top government leader says.

Hun Sen, a 40-year-old revolutionary who now serves as premier in the Vietnam-backed government in Phnom Penh, said in an interview Thursday that the process of locating remains has already begun, with one set already turned over to U.S. authorities.

About 83 Americans are believed missing in the Southeast Asian country from the war years of 1965-75. The MIAs are mostly military but also include civilians, among them several journalists abducted by Khmer Rouge rebels in 1970.

The search is complicated by the fact that during the early 1970s, as many as 3.5 million of Cambodia's 8 million people perished in the bloody campaign by the Communist-led Khmer Rouge to transform the country into a revolutionary agrarian state.

Hun Sen, who broke with the Khmer Rouge and now condemns their guerrilla faction as "criminals," said there was no assurance that the remains given to U.S. officials so far were that of an MIA, or that others will be.

"The situation in Cambodia is different from Vietnam and Laos," he said. "The difference is that we have so many bones. We don't know who they belong to."

He also scoffed at the idea of any American POWs remaining alive after so many years. "We will do everything possible to assist, but as for any (Americans) remaining alive, I consider that impossible," he said.

Hun Sen indicated his government had no intention of trying to use the MIA recovery effort as leverage to gain diplomatic recognition or other concessions from the United States.

Hun Sen is attending the United Nations General Assembly meeting although the former Khmer Rouge regime, led by Khieu Samphan, is recognized by the United States, other western countries and the U.N. as the legitimate government in Phnom Penh.

A U.N.-brokered peace agreement to end Cambodia's 20-year civil war is to be signed in Paris Oct. 31.

IRS promises better service

WASHINGTON (AP) — It may not be as satisfying as a tax cut, but relief is on the way for taxpayers who see red when their letters to the Internal Revenue Service are bounced from one employee to another.

The next time you get a letter from an IRS service center, where your tax return is processed, it should include the name of the worker who originated the letter — a real, live person you can call or write.

That employee is given "ownership" of the case until it is finally resolved," says IRS Commissioner Fred T. Goldberg Jr.

"During 1991, more than 60 percent of all taxpayer service account and procedural calls will be resolved during the initial contact," Goldberg promised. Within two years, that mark should be raised to 85 percent, he said.

The change was one example cited Wednesday by Goldberg in testimony to the House Ways and Means oversight subcommittee about what the tax agency is doing to improve the plight of taxpayers. The panel heard complaints that the IRS has not done a good job of carrying out the 1988 Taxpayer Bill of Rights.

Such changes are only preliminary steps while the IRS awaits completion of a decade-long, $7.5 billion program of modernizing its computers. In preparation for those computers, the agency must change its way of doing business, Goldberg said, and "nothing is off the table in this review."

Failure to complete the modernization, already under way, "would represent the ultimate arrogance of an unaccountable government — a fundamental violation of our citizens' rights and a breach of our public trust," the commissioner said.

Although Goldberg acknowledged some of the agency's problems, other witnesses said the agency is not doing enough to protect taxpayers' rights.

Paul DesFosses, president of the National Coalition of IRS Whistleblowers, an arm of the Church of Scientology, said the group continues to receive volumes of abuse cases from taxpayers. "Most of these cases demonstrate the need to immediately institute measures to improve IRS integrity controls," he said.

DesFosses and David Keating, executive vice president of the National Taxpayers Union, called for a political appointee — not an IRS employee — to be given the job of IRS ombudsman. They said the ombudsman, who is supposed to handle the complaints of taxpayers when all other avenues in the agency close, can't do his job well because he is beholden to IRS managers.

The American Institute of Certified Public Accountants said the ombudsman, who is based in Washington, and his problem resolution officers, who work out of offices across the country, are doing outstanding work.

Despite Goldberg's assurances, Rep. J.J. Pickle, D-Texas, the oversight committee chairman, said he is not satisfied the IRS has taxpayer rights as a priority concern.

He listed these examples of problems his panel has found:

—Several cases in which employers failed to turn over taxes they had withheld from workers' paychecks and the IRS tried to collect from clerical employees who were not involved in management.

—Cases in which the IRS cancelled installment-plan arrangements without giving the taxpayer any written notice — even when all payments had been made on time.

—Taxpayer files lost inside IRS offices for up to two years.

—Notices and instructions to businesses that were so ambiguous and error-filled that they lost taxes for the government and thoroughly harassed taxpayers.

Birthright offers support

By MARSHA STURDIVANT
Staff Writer

Birthright Inc. director Eunice Nix has planned an open house on Saturday from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The center, located at 600 E. FM 700, Room 17, in the Colonial Oaks Office Center, will also have a benefit garage sale beginning at 11 a.m.

"Birthright is an interdenominational, non-political, public service organization," Nix said.

However, Birthright offers no advice for pregnant women who choose the option of abortion.

A tape-recorded message on Birthright's telephone answering machine says, "Please do not consider having an abortion. By the time you even suspect you're pregnant, your baby's heart has been beating for three weeks. By six weeks, there is measurable brain activity. Your baby at 11 weeks needs only time to further develop because all body parts have been formed. No problem is so great that it warrants the destruction of innocent life."

Nix said the volunteers provide free pregnancy testing and community referrals for pregnant women. These referrals include advising women about Medicaid benefits and procedures to contact the prenatal clinic and how to obtain a general education diploma for teen-age mothers.

"But we can't tell them if they're pregnant or not. All we can tell them is if the test is positive or negative. If it's positive we advise them to see a doctor," she said.

The volunteers offer no birth control information for someone with a negative test, Nix said.

"We offer preventative counseling. We tell them now that they've had a real scare, it's time to think about it. We give them a pamphlet that tells them it's okay to say no, and they seem relieved to know they don't have to have sex," Nix said.

A video of interviews of five girls who had abortions is used as a deterrent to terminating a pregnancy.

"We tell them what goes on in an abortion clinic, about the side effects and the risk and emotional trauma. We inform them about what will (happen) in a clinic and what the different abortion methods are. We give them the truth," said volunteer Gail Wiley.

Nix said the objective is not to talk a woman out of an abortion if she makes that decision. "The choice is still hers, we're not here to badger."

But the volunteers apparently lack knowledge about Texas or national abortion laws. The literature the volunteers give women is written in support of the right-to-life philosophy.

However, Nix and her other four volunteers are making every effort to seek knowledge and expand the services offered. Along with the testing and counseling, the center offers adoption alternatives, maternity clothing and a layette for the baby.

"If they need a place to live, if they've been kicked out of their home, we'll try to find them a shelter."

"But we have no shelter in Big Spring, and that's one of the things we need now," said Nix.

At the beginning of September, 36 pregnancy tests have been given with 14 positive, she said. The volunteers have received 50 calls. The tests, called Tandem Hyphos 2, may be performed 42 days after the start of the last menstrual period, she said.

The center is open Tuesday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. On Friday, volunteers are available from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The telephone number is 264-9110.

Lioness' host

guest speaker

President Marguerita Thompson called the regular meeting of the Howard County Lioness Club to order September 16 at Wesley Memorial Hall. Madeline Boadle gave the invocation and led the pledge of allegiance.

Lloyd Ola Bearden introduced Municipal Judge Arnold Marshall who told of his work since being appointed to the position on January 15, 1991. He was allotted 20 hours a week but finds he is needed more than that. Marshall listed the types of cases that come before his court and the means he has to resolve them.

Where youth are involved he feels inadequate at times and is in a learning stage. There should be other avenues of dealing with the young people other than an adult court. He is challenged to find ways to deal with youth so they have nothing on their permanent record that would keep them from finishing school, going to college, and becoming productive citizens later. A question and answer period closed his informative program.

The Shopping Spree fund raiser was discussed, dates set and Sally Beam accepted chairperson for it. Chances will go on sale in early October.

Madeline Boadle asked for helpers with the "Just Say No Club" as the same two Lionesses have worked in it for the last two or three years. The club is sponsored by the Howard County Lioness Club with the workers and funds. It meets this Thursday afternoon on Sept. 19 at 3:45 at Westside Community Center.

President Marguerita Thompson presented the "Lioness of the Year" pin to Madeline Boadle. She announced the District 2-A1 Govern-nor, Paul Palmer of Early, Texas had a heart attack and is in the hospital. Also a zone meeting Sept. 17 at Big Spring Evening Lions building at 7 p.m. and encouraged attendance if possible. Oct. 25 and 26 are the dates for Cabinet meeting in San Angelo.

Tailwister Debbie Sanders held a Chinese Auction with Kay Clark's bid the highest for the prize.

Refreshments were served by Marguerita Thompson and Madeline Boadle to 11 members a visitor Betty Lee. Madeline Boadle accepted the foods brought for the food pantry and Kay Clark delivered the school supplies the members had bought.

On Oct. 18, Connie Ramirez, Kay Clark, Madeline Boadle and Lloyd Ola Bearden went to Midland and visited the Downtown Lioness Club of Midland. A program was given by Debra Baker about the Southwest Guide Dogs of San Antonio, Texas, with a guide dog to be, Peanuts, for show.

4-H club notes

Lucky Acres 4-H Club met Sept. 10 at the Armstrong home for a swimming and ice cream party. The party was followed by a business meeting.

Six new members were introduced. They are Lindsey Bunn, Lori Smoot, Meredith Ware, Lonnie Gillner, Courtney and Kyle Grissom.

Nita Wright spoke to the group about national 4-H Week coming up Oct. 6-12. Lucky Acres will wash windshields at McDonald's for donations. The money collected will go to the Ronald McDonald house.

New officers were elected for the coming year. The new officers are as follows:

Kirstie Moates, president; John Paul Nichols, vice-president; Amanda Armstrong, secretary; Ryan Wright, treasurer; Bucky Crenshaw, reporter; Lauren Middleton, parliamentarian and John Jenkins, counsel delegate.

The next meeting will be held at the Middleton home on Oct. 1.

1905 Hyperions

The 1905 Hyperion Club met in regular session on September 19, following the Hyperion Council luncheon at the Big Spring Country Club. Mrs. Alton Warren and Mrs. Harlan Huihregtse were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Huihregtse, vice president, presided over the business meeting. She announced that Mrs. Wayne Bonner had been elected secretary at a called meeting in July.

The group agreed to donate a book on the subject of art to the Howard County Library in memory of Mrs. Aubrey (Modesta) Stokes. The Memorial Committee, chaired by Mrs. Clyde Angel, will make the selection.

Mrs. Huihregtse presented the club yearbook for 1991-92 with the theme of Educational and Environmental Enrichment.

The next meeting of the group will be on October 17 in the home of Mrs. Max Green at 805 Edwards Boulevard.

Practicing medicine without a license

DEAR ABBY: My mother is a native of Mexico. I don't know if you are familiar with the medical-pharmaceutical practices in Mexico, but they are very "relaxed." In Mexico, my mother was a midwife. She assisted the local doctor, but she has had no formal training. She has lived in America for 30 years and fully understands the laws of being a citizen.

Dear Abby

I recently learned that my mother is giving injections to people who seek her out. These people obtain the medication in Mexico and my mother has a syringe. A relative brought her children over to be injected with so-called vitamins, so I asked her why she was doing this. She said, "The American doctors are afraid to cure people quickly."

I said nothing more to anyone; then I told my mother that if she continued to practice medicine without a license, I would turn her in. She laughed and said that she would stop. I know my mother and doubt that she will stop.

Abby, I don't want to turn her in. Other family members agree that what she is doing is wrong, but they think it's none of my business. Their attitude and my mother's actions appall me, but I don't want to visit her in jail.

Please answer in the paper — CONCERNED DAUGHTER IN FRESNO

DEAR CONCERNED: I consulted my personal physician, Dr. Jaime Paris, who practiced at the Mayo Clinic for 20 years. He said: "Regardless of what the laws are in Mexico City, the woman is breaking the law here. Furthermore, if the needles she uses are not properly sterilized, she could be spreading all kinds of diseases. Inform her emphatically and immediately that no one should be giving shots unless supervised by a doctor of medicine or osteopathy."

DEAR ABBY: Whatever happened to dinner? Everyone here in my section of Florida eats "supper," never dinner, in the evening. Isn't it correct that if you have lunch at noon, you have dinner at night? Or if you have dinner at noon (as farmers do), then supper is a light meal in the evening?

Even the "Golden Girls" on TV refer to their dinner as "supper," and it's obvious they are not eating their dinner at noon. FLORENCE KRUEGER, BAYONET POINT, FLA.

DEAR FLORENCE: Webster's Ninth New Collegiate Dictionary defines "dinner" as "the principal meal of the day." And "supper" is defined as "the evening meal, especially when dinner (the principal meal of the day) is taken at midday." "Supper" is also described as "a light meal served late in the evening."

So, technically, you are correct. But if local or regional custom dictates that the evening meal be called supper — then the word from here is, Don't argue with the natives, or you might wind up eating your words regardless of the hour.

By popular request, Abby shares more of her favorite prize-winning, easy-to-prepare recipes. To order, send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: More Favorite Recipes by Dear Abby, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. SALVATION BY GRACE

Eph. 2:8-For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God.
Romans 4:16 — "Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace, to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; who is the father of us all."

Introduction: Salvation is always an interesting subject with those who realize their sinfulness. The person who isn't interested in salvation is either blind so that he cannot see any danger or conceited so that he thinks that he can, by some hook or crook, he can escape, by his own efforts, whatever danger there might be.

Our first text says that our salvation is by grace through faith; the second text says that it has to be of or through faith in order that it might be by grace. Let us keep in mind the necessary connection between grace and faith. Some teach that salvation by faith without grace; others grace without faith.

I. THE SOURCE OF DANGER or the need of salvation.

1. The source of danger is the justice of God. Matt. 10:28 — "And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell." Long ago nations prepared to defend themselves from the danger of Hitlerism; however great that danger may have been it cannot compare to the danger every sinner faces from God.

2. The cause of danger. Why are men in danger from their Creator? Is our God such a cruel, bloodthirsty tyrant that his offspring, his creatures are in danger of being devoured by Him, Perish such a thought! It is not as His creatures — His offspring that we are in danger: our danger is the danger of rebels. Sin has caused the danger. The rebellion must be put down or God is deposed as the governor of the world. Violated law is the source of our danger. Obedient creatures such as holy angels, are in no danger of punishment from their Creator.

II. SOURCE OF SALVATION, or how can we be saved.

1. The source of salvation the grace of God. Isa. 45:22 — "Look unto me and be ye saved, all ye ends of the earth; for I am God, and beside me there is none else." Now if God saves, He must either save as a matter of desert or a matter of grace. If sin is meritorious; if rebels deserve blessings from their government; if God's enemies deserve His favor then salvation is of man. But if sin deserves death; if rebels deserve punishment; if God's enemies deserve His wrath, then their salvation is of necessity by grace. The height of human ignorance is to think that salvation of sinners is by their own works, something they merit, a wage they earn.

2. The ground of salvation is satisfied law. Just as the cause of danger is violated law, so the ground of salvation is satisfied law. A violated law brings a curse, a satisfied law delivers from the curse.

3. How is the law to be satisfied? He who violated it cannot satisfy it and be saved. The law is satisfied when its penalty has been executed and the only way a transgressor can satisfy the law is to suffer its penalty, and that would not be salvation. So if the law is to be satisfied and the sinner saved, then somebody else must satisfy it for him by being punished in his place. This brings us to Christ, the Saviour, who bear our sins in His own body on the tree. On Calvary He was being punished for His people, rendering satisfaction to offended justice, receiving the wages for the sins we had committed.

III. THE MEANS OF SALVATION, or how the sinner gets the legal benefits of what Christ has done.

1. The means of salvation is faith. The salvation we do not deserve, the salvation grounded on satisfied law, the salvation provided by grace, the salvation wrought out by Christ, comes to the sinner through faith. If it came by any other way it would not be by grace. If by works, it is not by grace; if without faith it is not by grace.

2. Some try to divorce grace and faith. Matt. 19:6 — "What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder." Here God joins grace and faith and we have no right to separate them. Grace is the fountain of salvation, faith is the channel. Grace is the cause of conversion; faith is the evidence.

Kohl celebrates 30 years

By ELFA CANTRELL
For the Herald

Reverend Carroll C. Kohl, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church, 810 Scurry, Big Spring, recently observed thirty years in the ministry of the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod (LCMS) St. Louis, Missouri.

Carroll was born in Vernon, Wilbarger County, where his parents were life-long farmers. He has one sister, Earline Niedermayer and one brother, Alfred.

He attended school in Harrod, completing the eighth grade. He then went to Concordia, Austin where he completed his high school work.

In 1955 he went to Springfield, Illinois, where he entered Concordia Theological Seminary. Here he completed four years of study.

Kohl spent one year in Baltimore, Maryland as a vicar, returning again to Concordia Seminary for a year and received his B.D. Bachelor of Divinity in 1961.

Kohl has his M.D. (Master of Divinity) from Concordia Seminary, Ft. Wayne, Indiana. He has a B.A. (Bachelor of Arts) in Sociology from Valparaiso

University, Valparaiso, Indiana. In 1961 he accepted a call to Trinity Lutheran, Weatherford. He was ordained as pastor of Trinity on June 25, 1961. While pastor at Trinity, he was instrumental in establishing Lutheran Missions in Azle, (Good Shepherd) in Mineral Wells, (St. Mark) and in Stephenville (Faith).

In February 1966, Rev. Kohl accepted a call to Immanuel Lutheran, Harrod. He served this congregation until 1972. On May 7, 1972 he was installed as pastor of St. Paul Lutheran, Big Spring. Dr. Carl C. Heckmann, president of the Texas District, held the installation service. Rev. Kohl continues to serve St. Paul faithfully.

Rev. Kohl has served in other church capacities and functions including: the position of Circuit Counselor of West Texas for 16 years; and since 1988 as vice president of the Texas District and serves on the Board of Directors, Austin. He was re-elected as vice president in 1991 and will continue to serve on the Board of Directors.

Rev. Kohl and Leighrene Thomason were married in Immanuel Lutheran Church, Harrod on December 28, 1958, with Rev. Erwin Metz performing the ceremony.

God will forgive you

By Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I have led a pretty rotten life, and I would give anything to know that God would forgive me. I know I can't undo all the bad things I have done, but sometimes I am overwhelmed with guilt because I have hurt so many people. Will God even forgive someone like me, who has wanted nothing to do with Him all my life? I have a hard time believing that. — F.O.

DEAR F.O.: What you are really asking is this: Is it possible to be too great a sinner for Christ to forgive?

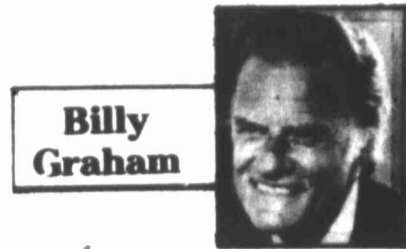

The answer to that is a resounding "No!" Listen to what the Apostle Paul once wrote: "Here is a trustworthy saying that deserves full acceptance: Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners — of whom I am the worst" (1 Timothy 1:15). Why did he add that last phrase about being "the worst" of sinners? For a very good reason — it was true! You see, at one time Paul hated Christ and all He stood for. He even stirred up violence against Christians, and we read that he "began to destroy the church. Going from house to house, he dragged off men and women and put them in prison" (Acts 8:3). If ever a man hated Christ, it was Paul!

But one day Paul met Christ — and Christ forgave him all his sins, every last one of them. That is why he could also write, "Even though I was once a blasphemer and a persecutor and a violent man... I was shown mercy so that in me, the worst of sinners, Christ Jesus might display his unlimited patience" (1 Timothy 1:13-16).

That is the kind of love and forgiveness Christ offers you. On the cross Christ took the punishment you deserve, and now He offers you forgiveness and new life. Why refuse His forgiveness any longer? Get on your knees today and confess your sins to Christ.

Then by faith ask Him to take them away and come into your heart. "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just and will forgive our sins" (1 John 1:9).

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: If the message of Jesus is true, why doesn't everyone believe in it? It seems to me that the only logical thing would be for people to believe in it if it was really God's way for us. — J.L.

DEAR J.L.: Sadly, people don't necessarily believe something is true — even when the evidence is overwhelming. And even if people believe something is true, they don't necessarily act on it. Think of the people, for example, who continue to smoke or use drugs or eat an unbalanced fatty diet in spite of the evidence that these habits are very harmful and may even kill them eventually.

This is true also about the message of Jesus — and it was true even in Jesus' time. There could be no greater proof than the resurrection, of Jesus' claim to be the divine Son of God who can save us from our sins — and yet the soldiers who were witnesses to that earth-shattering event allowed themselves to be bribed into silence (see Matthew 28:11-15).

The Bible says that one reason for this refusal to acknowledge the truth of God is because Satan "has blinded the minds of unbelievers, so that they cannot see the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God" (2 Corinthians 4:4). And yet we cannot excuse ourselves and blame only Satan; we ourselves are accountable if we refuse to admit the truth which God has revealed.

The real question is this, however: Do we truly believe the message of Christ? Do we acknowledge that we are sinners, and have we realized that Christ came to save us from our sins? And have we committed our lives to Him? Only you can answer that question; no one can answer it for you. Don't reject God's offer of eternal life in Christ, for "He who has the Son has life; he who does not have the Son of God does not have life" (1 John 5:12).

WANDA JACKSON

September Spectacular

The First Baptist Church of Coahoma is happy to announce their "Super September Spectacular" featuring Wanda Jackson in concert on Sept. 28 at 7 p.m. and Sept. 29 at 10:45 a.m.

A native of Okla., Wanda's talents were discovered by another great entertainer from the Southwest, Hank Thompson. In the early years Wanda worked with another young entertainer that was just getting started by the name of Elis Presley. Presley encouraged Wanda to try her hand at Rock and Roll and her first national hit was a rockin' song entitled "Let's Have a Party." Wanda is now recognized as one of the truly great "Rockabilly" singers throughout the world.

Wanda is a devoted Christian and lives happily with her husband and manager, Wendell Goodman, in Oklahoma City.

Guest speaker Wendell Goodman will be preaching on Sunday Morning. Admission is free and a love offering will be received as an honorarium. A nursery will be provided. For additional information call 394-4348.

Seniors plan excursion

By RICK HOPE
For the Herald

Fifteen members of the Senior Adults Class at Midway Baptist Church are getting ready for an exciting excursion to San Antonio on October 1-4.

According to Pastor Todd Nivens, the trip will include a visit to Market Square, the Alamo, the Riverwalk, the Botanical Gardens, Breckenridge Park, the Whitte Museum, and the King William District. The group will also stop in Fredericksburg on their way to San Antonio.

Nivens said this is the first trip that the group has planned since he became their pastor earlier this year. He states that the trips purpose is to "build fellowship among our senior adults and to seek out other prospects for our church membership. There will also be a time of devotion every morning as well.

The group meets once a month for a potluck supper and a game night and have spent a great deal of time planning future activities such as a trip to New Mexico and Albany, Texas.

Nivens said that the senior adults are not only important to his church but to any church with a desire to grow.

"It is essential for every church to have an element of youth and growth to continue. However, a church that does not have a base or foundation of a good solid group of senior adults will find themselves pulled in different directions. The main reason for this would be the fact that they have nobody to relate past mistakes and successes to them," said Nivens.

Jehovan's meet for program

The Big Spring Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses along with some 18 other congregations from the West Texas area, met this past September 21, at the Chapparral Center at Midland College.

C.L. Lunsford, spokesman for the group, said that 2,253 attended the special one-day program of instruction and fellowship. The theme, "Working Hard at Doing God's Will," was based on the scriptural text found at Eph. 6:6.

The principal address of the assembly was delivered by John Williams, a native of Guyana, South America, who has served at the world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses for the past 21 years. His subject was, "Our Purpose in Life — Doing God's Will."

Kohl to be installed

This Sunday the Reverend Jerry Kieschnick, president of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, Texas District in Austin, will be the guest speaker at both the 8:15 and 10:45 services of St. Paul Lutheran Church. During the 10:45 service, the Rev. Kieschnick will install Rev. Carroll C. Kohl as vice president of the Texas District.

Reverend Kieschnick was installed recently as president of the Texas District. Accompanying Kieschnick is Kenneth Hennings, executive director of the Board of Missions, Texas District, Austin. From 3 to 6:30 p.m. on Sunday a meeting, "Come Meet The President" is planned at St. Paul. Lutheran pastors, counselors and members of churches in the West Texas area have been invited to hear and meet Rev. Kieschnick. Dinner for the group will be served in the Fellowship Hall at 5:30 p.m.

GAO: Social Security balking on restoring local phone lines

STAFF AND WIRE REPORTS

WASHINGTON — The Social Security Administration hasn't restored enough telephone lines to local offices despite a congressional order, leaving the elderly and disabled to navigate the agency's controversial 800 system, lawmakers say.

But Social Security officials contend the public is receiving better phone access than at any time in the agency's 50-year history.

Last November, Congress required Social Security to restore direct lines to hundreds of local offices whose phones had been rerouted or eliminated to make way for the toll-free 800 system. But a General Accounting Office report concludes the agency failed to reconnect the number of lines sought by lawmakers.

The Big Spring Social Security office had one line taken out after the 800-service line was installed. The elimination of that line is a significant curtailment to the staff at the local office, local officials said.

"We have six claim representatives that make appointments, but because calls coming in and less phone lines available, a lot of the time they cannot make the calls," said operations supervisor

Victor Ortiz. "We are hoping that with the new fiscal year starting, budget management will allow us to obtain more phone lines."

GAO, the investigative arm of Congress, said there are 30 percent fewer lines to targeted office nationwide and that staff available to answer those calls dropped by 7.5 percent.

"Like failure to obey a stop sign while driving, failure to restore these telephone lines is a law violation," Rep. Andy Jacobs, D-Ind., chairman of the House Subcommittee on Social Security, said in a statement.

The drop in the number of lines "may have a negative impact on those elderly and disabled citizens that rely on Social Security benefits," Rep. Thomas J. Ridge, R-Pa., said in a letter sent Wednesday to Health and Human Services Secretary Louis W. Sullivan, who oversees Social Security.

The agency's automated 800 line has been the target of frequent criticism since it was introduced in October 1988. As the system was expanded, callers sometimes reported long delays in reaching operators and critics have said the information given can be incomplete or inaccurate.

Social Security officials have insisted that requiring all calls to be made through the 800 line would improve service. In a study last year, the GAO found that access to the 800 line had improved but in some cases callers never received the follow-up calls they were promised.

Social Security Commissioner Gwendolyn S. King said in a statement that with the 800 line, the agency handles 1 million additional calls each week. She said the agency was meeting the technical requirements of the 1990 law, which required phone service to be restored at levels "generally available" in September 1989.

The agency expects to receive about 50 million calls on the line this year.

Meanwhile, the Social Security Administration announced Thursday that its toll-free telephone number will change Oct. 1 to 1-800-772-1213. The service will continue to operate daily from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. in each time zone.

Social Security spokesman Phil Gambino said studies have shown that 97 percent of the information provided over the toll-free line is accurate, and that 90 percent of the callers get through on the same day they called.

U.S. forgives $431 million of Honduran debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a show of support for Honduras' economic reform program, the Bush administration on Thursday forgave $431 million of that country's official debt to the United States.

Speaking at a State Department signing ceremony, Honduran President Rafael Callejas expressed gratitude for the U.S. gesture, saying it was equivalent to 18 months' income for each Honduran.

He said the initiative would enable Honduras to free resources to meet pressing social needs.

Since taking office almost two years ago, Callejas has moved aggressively to put the country on a sounder economic footing through currency devaluation and reduction of tariff barriers.

Debt relief is one of the incentives President Bush is offering to Latin American countries in return for taking politically risky economic reform measures.

The agreement signed Thursday affects $325 million in debt to the U.S. Agency for International Development and $106 million in food aid.

According to U.S. estimates, the $431 million in debt relief constitutes 15 per cent of Honduras' overall debt and 55 per cent of the government's total debt to foreign countries.

Honduras was a close but sometimes reluctant political and military ally of the United States during the upheavals in Central America during the 1980s. Among other actions, Honduras allowed the Nicaraguan Contras to use its territory as a staging area for attacks against Nicaragua's leftist government.

Police beat

The Big Spring Police Department reported the following incidents:

- Burglary of a habitation, a first-degree felony, was reported by a resident in the 2600 block of Ent. A suspect known to the resident entered the residence and allegedly removed two VCRs, an antique sewing machine, two cartons of cigarettes and money, without the owner's consent. Property reported stolen was valued at $732.
- Aggravated assault, a third-degree felony, was reported by a Big Spring resident near the 1400-1500 block of 4th Street. A suspect allegedly threatened to shoot the resident with a handgun.
- A suspect was stopped for a routine traffic violation and found to be driving while license suspended.
- Carrying a prohibited weapon, a second-degree felony, was reported in the 1000 block of Main Street. A suspect was charged with carrying a shotgun with a barrel less than 18 inches long.
- Class B theft was reported by a resident in the 1700 block of Lancaster. A suspect known to the resident removed $110 from a purse without the owner's consent.
- In the airport on Perimeter Road, four persons were arrested for being a minor in possession of alcohol.

Democrats agree on compromise jobless bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House-Senate bargainers drafted a compromise bill to speed extra benefits to about 3 million jobless Americans, and top lawmakers plan to ship the measure next week to President Bush for an expected veto.

The Senate prepared to debate the $6.4 billion measure as early as today, and the House was ready to follow suit Tuesday. Passage would set the stage for a promised veto by Bush, who has said the bill drives up the deficit and creates an expensive new aid program just as the recession is ending.

"The president says the recession is over, the recovery here, everything's fine," Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell, D-Maine, said Thursday. "We respectfully and strongly disagree."

Democrats say the aid is needed because of the sluggish economy, which has caused 300,000 people monthly to use up their regular 26 weeks of benefits.

The legislation would allow people who have depleted the regular coverage to collect an additional seven, 13 or 20 weeks of checks. The exact amount would depend on the unemployment rate in each state.

The House and Senate this week voted overwhelming approval for slightly different versions of the legislation.

The House approved the bill, 294-127, on Wednesday, while the Senate passed it, 69-30, on Tuesday.

Both margins exceeded the two-thirds majority required for Congress to enact a bill over a president's veto.

The new benefits would begin Oct. 6 and expire next July 4. In most states, jobless people who exhausted their standard benefits since last March 1 would qualify for the extra aid. In states with low unemployment rates, only people who used up their compensation beginning Oct. 6 would be eligible.

Bush blocked an earlier version of the bill in August. He signed the legislation, but refused to declare an emergency, which budget law required for the benefits to be paid. Because he signed the measure, there was no veto and no chance for Congress to override him.

The new version of the legislation gets around that tactical problem by having Bush's signature automatically trigger the emergency declaration.

Board forbids coverage denial to previously uninsured drivers

AUSTIN (AP) — Drivers seeking to obtain the state-required financial responsibility needed in case of an accident are getting a break from the State Board of Insurance.

The board approved an emergency rule Thursday to prevent insurers from denying auto coverage or charging higher rates to drivers just because they previously did not have insurance.

However, the State Board of Insurance also asked that insurance companies supply data to determine whether previously uninsured drivers are a higher risk and potentially should pay higher rates.

Board action follows a state law, which took effect Sept. 1, that is meant to force more drivers to buy insurance.

Under that law, drivers must show proof of financial responsibility when getting or renewing a driver's license, registering a vehicle, or obtaining a safety inspection sticker. The law also increases penalties for not having insurance.

An estimated 2 million Texas drivers — 25 percent — do not have state-required financial responsibility in case of an accident. Financial responsibility most commonly is fulfilled with an auto liability insurance policy.

Insurance Board Chairwoman Claire Koriath said the emergency rule was needed because of an increase in the number of uninsured motorists rejected for coverage.

The rule is in effect for 60 days. It can be renewed for another 60 days before the Board finally adopts it, amends it, or votes it down.

Insurance industry representatives blasted the rule, which the board approved 2-1.

Rick Gentry of the Insurance Information Institute said that people who have been without insurance have more and costlier accidents.

Charles Wirth of State Farm Insurance Co. said that people who were uninsured before getting coverage through his company in Texas have losses about 130 percent higher than previously insured drivers without other accidents. The company had 21.9 percent of the Texas private passenger auto insurance market in 1989.

"If the rate that the State Board allows insurance companies to charge these drivers is not adequate, it will be the 75 percent of the good drivers in the state who are paying for the mistakes of the bad," said Jerry Johns, president of the Southwestern Insurance Information Institute.

But Amy Johnson, the state lawyer for insurance consumers, said that a lack of insurance alone does not put a driver at a high risk for losses.

"If the average Joe Blow who has not been insured and has a good driving record comes in to get

Man accused of sex-torture killings extradited from Canada

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A man who fought extradition from Canada for more than four years because he could face the death penalty in 13 grisly slayings has been returned to California.

Charles Ng, 30, was to be arraigned this afternoon in Calaveras County, where he and survivalist Leonard Lake allegedly turned a rural mountain compound into a sex-torture bunker. Prosecutors contend the pair videotaped the agony of some of their victims.

Lake committed suicide by swallowing cyanide as police questioned him about the case in June 1985.

Ng, pronounced "Ing," was isolated at Folsom Prison near Sacramento after being flown under heavy guard to McClellan Air Force Base. He left Calgary, Alberta earlier Thursday after the Supreme Court of Canada authorized his extradition.

Because Canada does not have a death penalty, Canadian officials were reluctant to approve his return. Ng's lawyers argued that he shouldn't be returned to face such a penalty.

The Canadian Supreme Court said the Canadian prohibition against "cruel and unusual punishment" does not apply because any executions would be carried out under U.S. law against U.S. citizens for crimes committed in the United States.

U.S. Marshal Arthur Van Court said Ng was kept under tight security because he was considered an escape risk and to protect him from possible harm.

"His alleged crimes are so heinous," Van Court said. "The relatives or wives, brothers, fathers, sons of all of these victims — I can understand their fury with this particular individual in these circumstances."

Ng was to be arraigned in San Andreas, a town about 150 miles east of San Francisco and 25 miles from the Sierra Nevada hideaway where he and Lake allegedly tortured and killed several victims.

Authorities discovered piles of charred bones, bloody tools, shallow graves, Lake's 250-page diary and videotapes of sexual torture on the 2 1/2-acre property.

The fenced compound included a cinder-block bunker with a crudely built wooden cell that authorities say Lake and Ng used to torment men, women and children.

Ng claimed Lake was responsible for the crimes. Police say Ng appears on some of the videotapes, including one in which he threatens a terrified woman with a knife.

Ng is accused of a total of 13 slayings — 12 in Calaveras County and one in San Francisco.

A former U.S. Marine, he was convicted in a 1981 court-martial of stealing grenade launchers, M-16 rifles and several pistols from a Hawaii military base. He was ordered to serve 14 years in prison, but the sentence was later reduced to three years.

He fled to Canada in June 1985 after Lake's arrest and was the subject of a massive manhunt. He was captured a month later in Calgary after a botched shoplifting attempt and served a 4 1/2-year sentence for wounding a security guard.

Calaveras County District Attorney John Martin said the years of delay wouldn't hurt the prosecution's case.

Bush's part to entice the Soviets to agree to other proposals, including a component on the Strategic Defense Initiative, popularly known as the Star Wars system.

Senior administration officials were quoted by the Post as saying Bush would propose reducing and eventually eliminating all U.S. and Soviet ballistic missiles equipped with multiple nuclear warheads.

Asked about the report, Fitzwater said, "The whole issue has been examined in preparation for this speech."

charter will also be voted on at the special sessions, he said.

With its passage, voters can decide both issues simultaneously on general election day Nov. 5.

"This need has been here for quite a while," said Green. "We will have a better city government because it will be easier for the council to govern under one document."

"If this goes through, then at that point, we are going to have to work with LULAC and several community leaders as the committee rewrites the charter."

BIG SPRING HERALD, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1991

Friday Football Forecast

Compiled by Herald Sports Staff

Snyder (2-1) at Big Spring (3-0)

Another true test for the Big Spring Steers. Coach David Baugh has completely turned the Tigers' program around in two seasons. Snyder, a playoff team last season, is known for a stingy defense, especially against the run. The Steers haven't been 3-0 since 1967, when Spike Dykes was head coach. In the last two meetings the Tigers haven't won, but have outplayed the Steers. You can throw out the records in this one — it's a rivalry that's features smash-mouth football. The Tigers have come close the past two years, maybe the third time is the charm. The Upset Special of the Week? . . . We don't think so. Big Spring 21, Snyder 14

Coahoma (3-0) at Iraan (2-1)

A pivotal game in District 6-2A. This game was a deciding factor in Coahoma's failure to make the state playoffs in 1990. Last year at this time, Coahoma was still experimenting with its offense. This year, the experiment is complete. Coahoma has the best offense it has had in recent years, and the Bulldogs always play good defense. Iraan is young and still nursing some injuries. The Bulldogs take the right step in the direction of the playoffs. Coahoma 28, Iraan 22

C-City (1-2) at Merkel (1-2)

The Colorado City Wolves showed vast improvement last week in a 28-21 loss to undefeated Slaton. The Merkel Badgers are coming off a 21-20 win over Cisco. The Wolves have handled the Badgers the last four years, winning three times. Last year, Merkel was fortunate to come away with a 21-21 tie. Colorado City's offense is hitting its stride. The Wolves keep their dominance over the Badgers. Colorado City 24, Merkel 14

Stanton (0-3) at Wall (3-0)

The Stanton Buffalos begin district play against one of the best teams in the district. The Wall Hawks are known for their stingy defense and balanced offense. Stanton is still rebuilding under new coach Bill Grissom, but showed promise in a loss to Greenwood last week. The Buffs will put up a game fight, but the Hawks will fly high and proud. Wall 35, Stanton 14

Forsan (0-3) at Ozona (0-3)

A win in this district opener can be a big confidence booster to either team. The Ozona Lions are down this season, trying to rebuild an offense line. The Forsan Buffalos are young and inexperienced. This will be a hard-fought game, but playing three Class AAA opponents will pay off for the Lions, as they score more points tonight than they have all season. Ozona 20, Forsan 12

G-City (3-0) at Wink (0-3)

The Garden City Beakats, first in the state Class A poll, are averaging more than 39 points a game. The winless Wink Wildcats, on the other hand, have surrendered more than 34 points per outing. The Beakats' offense was further bolstered last week by the return of tailback James Soles from a knee injury. Soles debuted with 132 yards rushing, two touchdowns and a two-point conversion in Garden City's 22-21 win over Rankin. Wink will have the home-field advantage, plus will be seeking revenge for last year's 69-point loss to the Beakats. It won't make that much difference. Garden City 56, Wink 6

Sands (3-0) at New Home (3-0)

A battle of the unbeaten in the six-man ranks. The fourth-ranked Sands Mustangs, who haven't lost a regular-season game in more than two years, posted perhaps the most important win in the school's history when they pounded traditional state power Christoval last week. New Home's perfect record includes wins over area teams Klondike and Borden County. The Leopards are a good team, as their record indicates, but this year's Sands team could be something very special. The Mustangs remain undefeated. Sands 34, New Home 8

Lorraine (0-3) at Grady (0-3)

Something has got to give in this six-man battle. Both the Grady Wildcats and the Lorraine Bulldogs have struggled this season, going winless in three tries. But the Wildcats at least discovered their offense in last week's game with Ira, and will be playing their first game at home. Those two factors should be enough to put the Wildcats over the top. Grady 22, Lorraine 6

Klondike (0-3) at Smyer (0-2)

Another six-man game involving teams looking for that elusive first win. The youthful Klondike Cougars have been inconsistent at times, but are showing improvement. Smyer, meanwhile, is coming off a 25-point loss to Whitharral. The Bobcats have the home-field advantage, plus the edge in experience (17 lettermen; six offensive, five defensive returning starters). When in doubt, go with the seasoned team. Smyer 34, Klondike 26

Loop (0-3) at B-County (1-2)

Borden County mentor Bobby Avery gets a second shot at his old team when the Coyotes host the Loop Longhorns tonight. Avery, who coached at Loop before coming to Borden County last year, is looking for his young Coyotes to develop consistency. Borden has sandwiched a fine victory over Grady between losses to New Home and Wellman. The Longhorns, on the other hand, has been outscored by a 2-1 margin in their three losses. Borden, which has proved it can put the points on the board, gets revenge for last year's loss at Loop. Borden Co. 36, Loop 24

SAN DIEGO — UCLA Bruins running back Shawn Wills (37) breaks the tackle of San Diego State Aztecs Lou Foster while plowing into the end zone for a four-yard touchdown run in the second quarter of college football action Thursday.

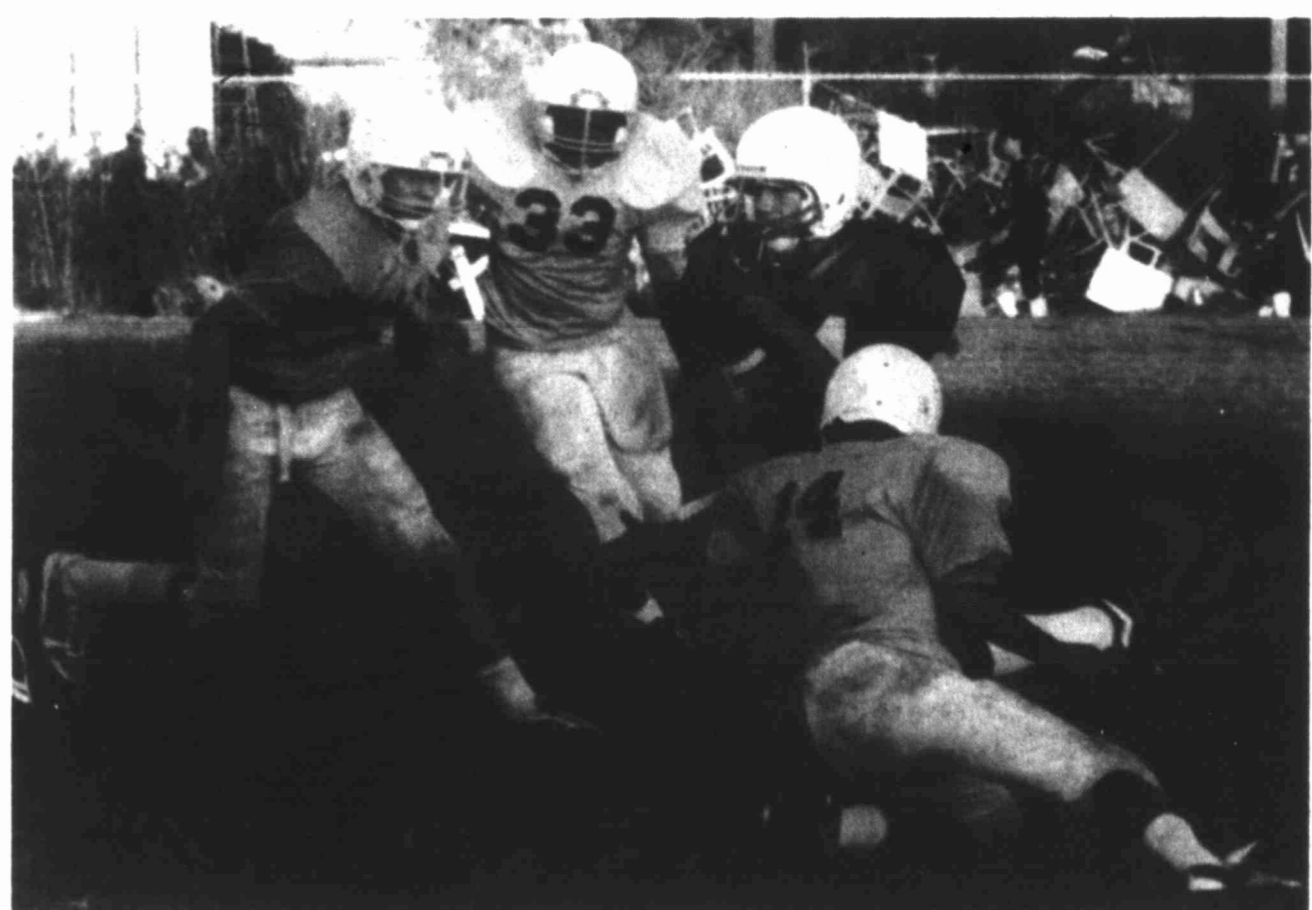

UCLA routs Aztecs, 37-12

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Tommy Maddox threw for 303 yards and two touchdowns and scored once himself as UCLA routed San Diego State 37-12 Thursday night, the Bruins' 11th straight win over the Aztecs. The Bruins (2-1) lead the series 14-0-1, including eight consecutive victories since it was resumed in 1984. The tie was in 1924. San Diego State (2-2) committed four turnovers, three of which set up UCLA touchdowns. UCLA was coming off a 30-16 loss at Tennessee, in which Maddox completed 17 of 34 passes for 196 yards. Against the Aztecs he was 17-for-26, including 9-for-15 for 170 yards in the first half. He was intercepted once. Maddox gave the Bruins a 17-0 lead when he rolled left and scored from 8 yards out with 4:57 left in the third quarter. That capped a 96-yard, 11-play drive in which Maddox was 4-for-4 for 50 yards. On the next play from scrimmage, cornerback Carlton Gray intercepted San Diego State's Cree Morris. Maddox lost 6 yards on the Bruins' first play, but then found Bryan Adams alone on a fly pattern for a 58-yard scoring pass and a 24-0 lead with 3:52 left in the period. Maddox was picked off by defensive back Damon Pieri at midfield with 30 seconds left in the third quarter. David Lowery, who replaced Morris, led the Aztecs to the UCLA 2, where freshman-Marshal Faulk went over on fourth down. Lowery's conversion run failed. Faulk, who set the NCAA single-game rushing mark two weeks ago with 386 yards against Pacific, finished with 79 yards on 15 carries. On second-and-goal from the San Diego State 5, Maddox was flushed from the pocket but completed a shovel pass to tight end Brian Allen with 8:07 left. Lowery fumbled while scrambling and Maddox's replacement, Jim Bonds, threw a 5-yard TD pass to Maury Toy with 5:18 left. Morris completed just eight of 23 passes for 96 yards and was intercepted twice. Lowery was 4-for-13 for 71 yards, including a 26-yard scoring pass to Darnay Scott with 3:28 left. The winning margin could have been greater, because the Bruins had two touchdowns called back due to penalties. Kaleaph Carter's 1-yard run was negated by an illegal procedure call and the Bruins settled for Louis Perez's 23-yard field goal to cap their 84-yard opening drive. Defensive tackle Andre Farr intercepted Morris at the Aztec 45, setting up Kevin Wills' 4-yard run for a 10-0 lead 5 seconds into the second quarter. On UCLA's next drive, Kevin Williams' 25-yard scoring run was called back because of holding, and the Bruins had to punt. UCLA had one last drive starting from its 35 with 2:06 left in the half, and Maddox led the Bruins to the Aztecs' 17. Sean LaChapelle appeared to catch a pass in the end zone, but it was ruled incomplete.

JV Steers cage Tigers, 27-16

SNYDER — The Big Spring junior varsity Steers ran their record to 4-0 by taking a 27-16 win over the Snyder Tigers here Thursday night. Snyder scored on its opening possession of the game. Big Spring answered with a three play, 65-yard scoring drive, capped off with a 15-yard scoring pass from Wes Hughes to Todd Parrish. Snyder led 8-6. Big Spring took the lead in the second quarter on a 20-yard run by tailback Lonnie Jackson. Jackson also returned a kickoff 50 yards. Big Spring made the score 20-8 at half when Hughes passed 10 yards to Mike Oliva. Jones ran in the two-point conversion. Big Spring iced the game with a score in the third quarter. Oliva got the honors from two yards out, Hughes kicked the extra point. Snyder scored in the fourth quarter. Playing well defensively for the Steers were linebacker Luis Bustamante, cornerbacks David Akin and Olivas and Jones at safety. The junior varsity will have an open date next week. SNYDER 26, BIG SPRING FRESHMEN 24. The Snyder Tigers scored on a 60-yard run by the quarterback with 30 seconds left, made the two-point conversion to nip the Big Spring Steers JV at Memorial Stadium. Big Spring opened the scoring in the first quarter with a Michael Vanderbilt 60-yard run. Donald Vanderbilt added the two-point conversion. Snyder cut the lead to 8-6 early in the second quarter. Big Spring scored again when Donald Vanderbilt scored from 50-yards out. Michael Vanderbilt ran in the two-point conversion. Snyder came back with a TD, cutting the margin to 16-12. Michael Vanderbilt ended Big Spring's scoring with a nine-yard run. He also ran in the conversion. Big Spring led 24-12 at halftime. Snyder scored in the third quarter to make the score 24-18, setting the stage for its winning touchdown and conversion in the fourth. Playing well defensively for Big Spring was cornerback Tony Rodriguez. Both of the Vanderbilts played well offensively. The Steers, 2-2 for the season, will be in Abilene Thursday against Abilene Cooper. RUNNELS B 12, SNYDER 6. Runnels B ran its record to 2-0 as Tony Saldivar scored both of the Runnels touchdowns. Saldivar scored on a seven-yard run in the first quarter and a 50-yard punt return in the third quarter. Playing well offensively for Runnels were Rodney Mier, Jeremy Yates, Jimmy Wright, Stanley Gaddis, Armando Rodriguez, Joseph Carter, Andrew Calvio and Michael Barnett. Playing well defensively were Will Franks, Jose Pesina, Tim Rios and Richie Neefe. Runnels B will play Forsan in Forsan at 5 p.m. Thursday. RUNNELS A 24, SNYDER 6. Runnels A scored all of its points in the first half, on its way to defeating Snyder Thursday night. Ray McGee started the scoring for the Yearlings with a 12-yard run. McGee also ran in the conversion. It was set up when Donnie Hill tackled the Snyder punter. The next Runnels score was set up when Hill and Jerry Aguirre tackled the Snyder punter. Hill scored from six yards out. Bucky Crenshaw ran in the conversion. In the second quarter running put together a 70-yard drive behind the running of Thomas Leos, Ken-

 There will be awards to the top three male and female finishers in each race and age group. All finishers will receive long-sleeved t-shirts and be eligible for post race drawings.
 Entry fee is $8 if registered before Oct. 5 and $10 after that.
 For more information call (505) 769-2311, ext. 100.

Biathlon to be run in Abilene

ABILENE — The 11th Annual Gil Harder Memorial Biathlon will be Oct. 5 in Abilene.
 The biathlon consists of a 52-mile bike ride and a 26.2 marathon run. There is also the Mike Harder Memorial Biathlon which consists of a half-marathon (13 miles) and a 52-mile bike ride.
 The last 10 races have attracted more than 1,500 participants and has raised more than $15,000 for the Texas Lions Club in Kerrville, which serves crippled and diabetic children.
 Entry fee is $15 for individuals and $60 for teams.

Red Sox don't get sweep

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS
 There was Spahn and Sain for the Boston Braves in the late 1940s. There was Bunning and Short for the Phillies in 1964. And there was Viola and Blyleven for the Twins in 1987.

For the Boston Red Sox to win the AL East this year, maybe they should use a one-man rotation. Too bad, because Roger Clemens can't pitch every day.
 The Red Sox missed a chance to move up on idle Toronto on Thursday and instead wound up exactly where they started — 2 1/2 games behind the Blue Jays — because of a disappointing doubleheader split in Baltimore.

Clemens did his part, winning the opener 2-1. But Boston then blew its chance to move up when the Orioles rallied for two runs with two outs in the ninth inning, capped by a bases-loaded walk to former Red Sox star Dwight Evans, for a 6-5 win.

Clemens (18-8) kept alive his hopes for a fourth 20-win season and a third Cy Young Award with an impressive outing in the opener. He struck out 10, raising his total to 227, most in the majors, and lowered his ERA to 2.38, best in the league.

Athletics 10, Rangers 0
 Jose Canseco hit his career-high 43rd home run and tied Cecil Fielder for the major league lead as Oakland won at home.

OAKLAND, Calif. — Oakland A's right fielder Jose Canseco robs Texas Rangers' leadoff man Gary Pettis of a home run in the first inning.

Canseco connected for a two-run shot in the fourth inning off Oil Can Boyd, surpassing the 42 homers he hit in 1988. Canseco has nine games left and Fielder, trying to repeat as baseball's home run champion, has 10 remaining.
 Mike Moore (16-8) pitched a four-hitter and won his fourth straight decision. He struck out four and walked four.

 Rickey Henderson and Dave Henderson hit consecutive home runs in the fifth off Boyd (2-6). Rickey hit his second in two nights and 15th of the season and Dave hit his career-best 25th.

The loss officially eliminated Texas for the AL West race. League batting leader Julio Franco did not play for the Rangers and stayed at .341.

Tigers 6, Indians 5
 Detroit stayed on the fringe of the AL East race, moving within 6 1/2 games of Toronto with a disputed victory at Tiger Stadium.

Royals 3, Angels 2
 Jim Eisenreich's two-run single capped a three-run rally in the fifth inning in Kansas City.

Mark Gubicza (9-11) pitched five innings and won for just the second time in his last nine starts. Tom Gordon went 2-2-3 innings and Jeff Montgomery pitched 1-1-3 innings for his 32nd save.
 Mike Fetters (2-4) walked five in 4-2-3 innings, including three during the Royals' comeback. With two outs, Kurt Stillwell hit an RBI single and after two walks loaded the bases, Eisenreich singled.

Reds thrash Braves, 8-0

ATLANTA (AP) — Ron Gant insists the Atlanta Braves are not dead, although it appeared that way against Jose Rijo.

The Braves, with a chance to pick up ground on the idle Los Angeles Dodgers in the NL West race, instead gave up six unearned runs and Rijo held them scoreless for seven innings Thursday night in an 8-0 thrashing.

The loss, the fourth in five games for the Braves, dropped them two games behind the Dodgers with nine games remaining for both clubs.

Rijo (15-5) scattered eight hits, walked three and struck out seven. He was especially tough on Gant, who left eight runners stranded in going 0-for-4.

The Braves open a three-game series tonight in Houston while the Dodgers host San Francisco in the opener of a three-game set.

Atlanta starter Charlie Leibrandt (15-12) was locked in a scoreless game and had retired the first 10 Reds before the roof fell in. The left-hander, who had won his last six decisions, allowed a single to Barry Larkin and then a two-out walk to Eric Davis. Carmelo Martinez then drove in both runners with a double for a 2-0 lead.

The Reds then iced it with four unearned runs in the sixth after Braves shortstop Jeff Blauser bobbled Reggie Sanders' grounder to open the inning. Chris Sabo knocked one run in with a forceout. Martinez hit a sacrifice fly and Joe Oliver had a two-out, two-run single off reliever Pete Smith.

The Reds added two unearned runs in the ninth on an error by Terry Pendleton and Sanders' first major league homer.

Pirates 4, Mets 3
Mets 2, Pirates 1
 Don Slaught doubled home the go-ahead run in the 15th inning of the opener as Pittsburgh won the longest game of the season for both teams. The second game at Shea Stadium started at 10:04 p.m. and New York won on Howard Johnson's sacrifice fly in the eighth inning, his league-leading 112th RBI.

Rice Owls trying to remain perfect

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rice coach Fred Goldsmith remembers seeing the movie "Field of Dreams" with his wife Pamela at a time when the Owls were again mired in another losing season.

"When it was over she told me 'I know what you're thinking. If you win, they will come,'" Goldsmith said.

Rice (2-0), Baylor (3-0) and Texas Christian (3-0) have built unbeaten records this season in a topsy-turvy SWC early season while preseason favorites Houston (1-2) and Texas (0-2) are struggling.

Rice hosts Iowa State Saturday; TCU plays its first SWC game at Texas Tech, where it hasn't won since 1972; No. 12 Baylor plays at Southern Methodist and Texas A&M hosts Southwest Louisiana and Arkansas plays at Mississippi. Texas and Houston have open dates to get ready for their first SWC encounters. Texas hosts Rice and Baylor plays at Houston.

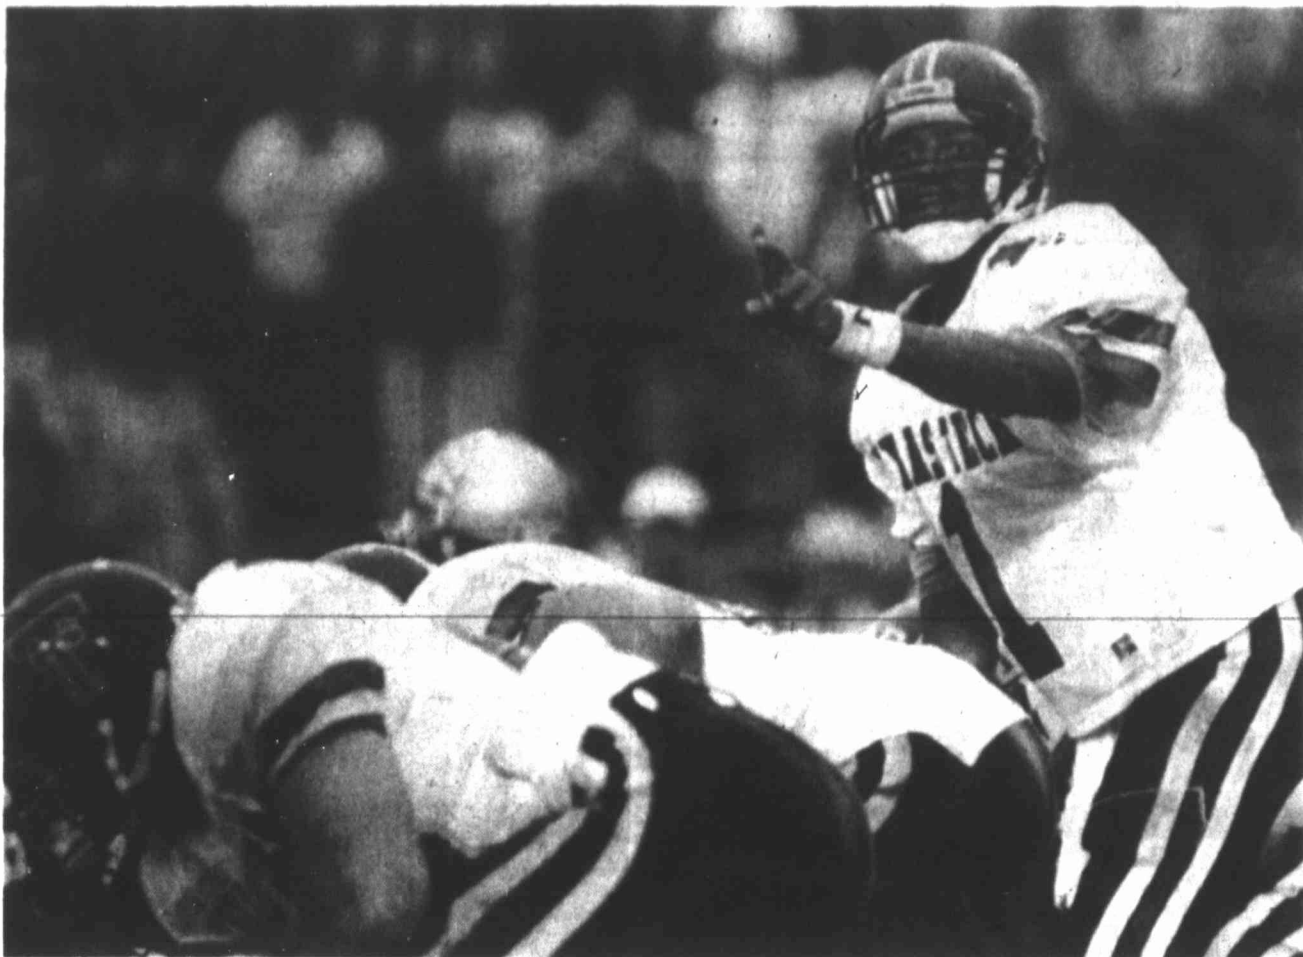

Rice has victories over Northwestern and Tulane and could go 3-0 for the first time since 1953 with a victory over Iowa State.

"It's nice to be winning, the president (Rice president George Rupp) called the other day and it's nice when your boss is happy," Goldsmith said. "But we've got to keep our heads on straight and realize that the hardest nine games are ahead of us."

Baylor coach Grant Teaff doesn't expect the Bears' No. 12 national ranking to impress the Mustangs.

"I said this summer I thought SMU would determine the SWC champion," Teaff said. "I felt after three years they are ready to compete with anybody in the league."

The Red Raiders are trying to snap a two-game losing streak in their SWC opener against TCU. Coach Spike Dykes is disappointed with the Raiders 1-2 start.

"We had a chance to be 3-0 and that's not taking anything away from Wyoming and Oregon," Dykes said. "I take the blame. When you're the head coach and not in charge of calling offense and defensive plays, your job is to get the team ready emotionally. I did a heck of a poor job of that."

TCU coach Jim Wacker will again have quarterbacks Matt

Vogler and Tim Schade to alternate since starter Leon Clay is out for the season with a broken leg.

Texas A&M (1-1) has the added trauma of the death of kicker James Glenn, who collapsed and died prior to Wednesday's practice at Kyle Field.

Quarterback Bucky Richardson said the incident would bring the team even closer together.

"Our theme since day one has been 'Lean on Me,' it's a song we listen to before we hit the field," Richardson said. "I think that's the character of our team, people leaning on each other. If somebody is weak, a buddy will pick him up and go forward."

Jeff Granger is expected to start in Richardson's place for the second straight week. Richardson suffered a foot injury in the season-opener against Louisiana State and

"We had a chance to be 3-0 and that's not taking anything away from Wyoming and Oregon. I take the blame. When you're the head coach and not in charge of calling offense and defensive plays, your job is to get the team ready emotionally. I did a heck of a poor job of that," — Spike Dykes, Texas Tech coach.

Granger stepped in and led the Aggies to victory.

Arkansas will test its future Southeastern Conference rival Mississippi.

"It's not do or die, but I think we'll know more about ourselves after this one than we did after the first three ballgames," Coach Jack Crowe said.

Texas coach David McWilliams is trying to decide on a starting quarterback for the SWC opener against Rice. Jimmy Saxton is the favorite over Peter Gardere, who led the Longhorns to the Cotton Bowl last season.

"Anytime he goes in and good things happen, I get excited," Longhorn offensive coordinator Lynn Amedee said. "Saxton made things happen (in loss to Auburn). He did some good things."

Boxer may have been intoxicated

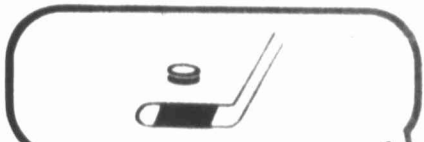

INDIO, Calif. (AP) — Bantamweight boxer Fernie Morales, who underwent emergency brain surgery Saturday after a fight, tested positive for alcohol and might have been legally drunk during the bout, a newspaper reported.

Urine samples taken minutes after the fight showed that Morales had a .06 alcohol level.

Auburn players say coaches paid them

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — Two former Auburn football players allege coaches and alumni gave them money exceeding NCAA limits for everything from car bills to steaks. And one of the players says he has conversations on tape to prove it.

Eric Ramsey, in a story in today's editions of The Montgomery Advertiser, said he recorded talks for several years while he played for the Tigers. Alex Strong told the newspaper he remembers vividly how he was advised to "keep it quiet" when he, and other top players, got paid regularly by coaches.

The coaches deny the charges. "I really doubt that he taped anything, but if he did, I'm not ashamed of one word I said to Eric Ramsey," said former Auburn assistant coach Larry Blakeney, now head coach at Troy State.

The accusations come three months after Ramsey charged that the Auburn football program treated black athletes condescendingly.

"What I've got will put all of the lies to rest. What I've got they can't deny because it's their voices," Ramsey said.

Ramsey, who completed his career at Auburn in 1990 and was cut this summer as a defensive back with the Kansas City Chiefs, said that at least two months of his delinquent car payments were paid by Bill Frost, an Auburn alumnus from Lilburn, Ga. A coach, Frank Young, gave him about $300 a month over the amount of money that NCAA rules permitted him, he said in the newspaper story.

Frost and Young both denied Ramsey's claims.

Meanwhile, Strong, a fullback from 1985-89, said payments to players were common and that he got "a couple of thousand a year."

Which school?

In the dark news education, one school still shines. Can you name this school?

About one-third of the class of 1991 won scholarships averaging nearly $14,000 per student. The class produced four National Merit Scholars from six semifinalists and three commended students. Recent graduates are now attending Yale, Princeton, MIT and other demanding universities.

Of 46 North Texas schools in AAAA athletic competition, it finished third in the 1991 Dallas Morning News All-Sports rankings. No, it isn't Highland Park High School. It is a Dallas school located just east of downtown in the Lakewood area. It is Woodrow Wilson High School.

Baseball today

SCOREBOARD
 San Francisco at Los Angeles (3:15 p.m. EDT). Ramon Martinez (17-11) starts for the first-place Dodgers and Trevor Wilson (11-11) for their longtime nemesis.

STATS
 Paul Molitor got his 200th hit Thursday. The last time he reached the mark was 1982, and the nine-year gap is the longest in major league history. ... Barry Bonds on Thursday became the first Pittsburgh player to draw 100 walks since Jason Thompson had 101 in 1982. ... Frank Tanana struck out four batters Thursday, giving him 2,558 lifetime and moving him ahead of Jerry Koosman for the 16th place all-time.

STREAKS
 Roger Clemens is 6-0 with a 1.33 ERA in his last seven starts. He is 18-8 and leads the majors with 227 strikeouts and a 2.38 ERA.

SWINGS
 Pittsburgh's Randy Tomlin is 5-0 lifetime against the New York Mets, and 7-11 against the rest of the NL.

SLUGGERS
 Jose Canseco hit his career-high 43rd home run Thursday night and tied Cecil Fielder for the major league lead. Canseco has nine games left and Fielder has 10.

SLUMPS
 Ron Gant went 9-for-4 in Atlanta's 9-0 loss Thursday night to Cincinnati. Each time Gant came up, there were runners on first and second with two outs. He struck out, flied out and grounded out twice against Jose Rijo.

STARTERS
 The Atlanta Braves are first NL team to have three left-handers (Tom Glavine, Steve Avery and Charlie Leibrandt) win 15 games since the 1917 New York Giants.

Joel goes environmental

WASHINGTON (AP) — Singer Billy Joel came to Washington to help save a polluted bay near his home on Long Island, New York. "The Peconic Bay is one of a kind," Joel said at a news conference Thursday on the Capitol lawn. "I know this because I live there. Unless the Peconic is protected soon, it will be lost forever."

Joel, who lives in swank East Hampton with his wife, model Christie Brinkley, urged Environmental Protection Administration officials to include the waters of Peconic Bay in the National Estuary Program.

people, said getting an honorary doctorate degree from Shaw University made him feel "like I'm on top of the world."

The New York Knicks center got the award Thursday during a ceremony welcoming this year's freshman class to the predominantly black school.

University President Talbert O. Shaw said Ewing was honored for showing that athletes can also be good students.

Ewing, the 1986 NBA rookie of the year, was graduated from Georgetown in 1985, the same year he was named college player of the year.

"I always wondered how people receive honorary degrees," he told the students.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1991

HAPPY BIRTHDAY! IN THE NEXT YEAR OF YOUR LIFE: Rewards come for past efforts, beginning in November. You move up the corporate ladder or leave your job for something entirely different. Trust a close colleague's judgment in February; two heads are better than one! Your social life suddenly accelerates next April.

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DATE: actress Brigitte Bardot, actors Marcello Mastroianni and William Windom, cartoonist Al Capp.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): A restless mood takes hold. Any feelings of insecurity may be due to a recent emotional upset, not your professional ability. Get counseling for a difficult family problem.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): If you are at a loss for words, let your actions speak for themselves. You have creativity you have not yet begun to tap. Refuse to be distracted from your goals.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You may want to have some fun with your money today. Use it to spread your wings. A candid talk with family members can ease a burden. Steer clear of complicated emotional entanglements.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Make sure your goals are down-to-earth and clearly defined so as not to waste time chasing rainbows. Take the mood of a supervisor in stride for now. Better days lie ahead!

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Your financial and spiritual generosity endears you to family members. Pleasant thoughts fill your head. Today has a fresh feel — accent new beginnings. Romance thrives on consideration.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Apply the brakes to personal and joint spending. It is essential to build a nest egg now. Your charm disarms a special member of the opposite sex. Do not reveal too much too soon.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Domestic and family questions are again emphasized. Real estate transactions are safer now. Do not worry about making a romantic commitment. You have plenty of time to change your mind.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Romance is on a roll. Be careful if you have been spending more money than usual. Re-examine your beliefs and values if someone challenges them. You may have overlooked several important points.

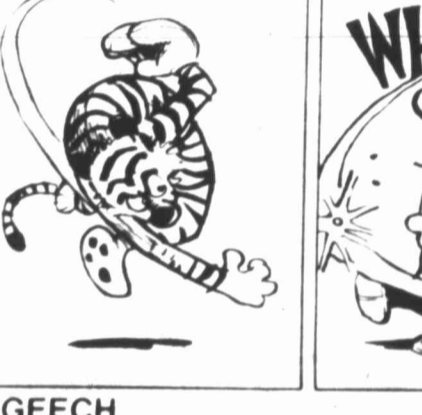

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Expensive tastes could put your accounts in the red; better keep them in the black! A physical workout will make you feel tip-top. Take your mate or partner into your confidence tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): People in a position of power may lead you to pastures of plenty now. The time is ripe for plucking a plum off the career tree. Clear your home of unnecessary clutter.

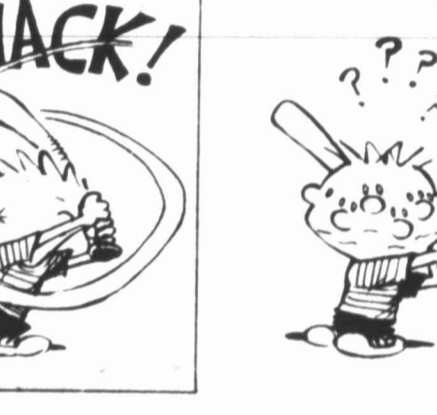

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Other people may see you as a loner. Nurture a close relationship. Bringing your creative talents out in the open will lead to a new alliance. Give credit where it is due.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Competitive friends spur you on to greater accomplishments. Your social life accelerates when you lend a helping hand to a newcomer. Outdoor activities will lift your spirits.

Big Spring Steers bash Snyder Tigers 34 to 13

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

The Big Spring Steers unleashed a big knockout punch on the Snyder Tigers in the first half and then cruised to a 34-13 victory Friday night.

The win gives Big Spring a 4-0 record going into district play in two weeks against San Angelo Lake View. The Tigers fall to 2-2.

Big Spring's biggest blows came in the second quarter when the Steers scored four touchdowns. The final killing blow was three scores in a period of two-and-a-half minutes. When the first half was over, the Steers led 34-7 over the stunned Tigers.

It was a half where the Steers played nearly flawless ball. They moved the ball at will in the air and on the ground, and with the exception of a few big plays, kept the Snyder offense in check.

Big Spring scored on five of eight possessions and accumulated 314 yards offense in the first half. Fullback Darius Hill led the ground attack, gaining 112 of his 120 yards in the first half.

Quarterback Gerald Cobos and wingback Pat Chavarria did most of the damage in the air, with Chavarria catching four passes for 82 yards. All of Big Spring's passing yardage came in the first half.

Defensively the Steers surrendered three big plays in the first half and that's about the majority of the Snyder offense. Halfback Will Clay ran for 49 yards in the first quarter, tight end Hayward Clay caught a 58-yard pass and Bobby Clinkenbeard caught a 29-yard pass.

In the meantime, the Steer defense, led by ends Sal Trevino and Fernando Alvarez, pressured Snyder quarterback Chris Sutherland all game. The Steer defense registered five sacks, with Alvarez, Jon Downey, Lance Reeves and Kevin Rodgers getting one sack each, and Trevino and Monty Lindsey combining for another.

When Sutherland did throw the ball, his favorite receiver was Steers' free safety Nick Roberson. Roberson picked off three passes and had another nullified because of a penalty. Strong safety Pat Chavarria also intercepted a pass.

"Fernando Alvarez and Sal Trevino did a great job of pressuring the quarterback," said Butler. "We're glad we won. We surprised them with a new formation and they had no idea how to adjust.

Luckily we moved the ball well and executed."

The game started off rocky for Big Spring however. After Big Spring's opening drive stalled at the Snyder 25-yard line, the Tigers moved to the game's first score. The first big play in the 75-yard, four play drive was a 49-yard run around end by Will Clay. Clay would prove to be Snyder's only weapon, finishing the contest with 168 yards in 24 carries.

The drive concluded with Sutherland hitting Clinkenbeard with a 29-yard scoring pass.

On the next drive Snyder defensive back Eric Braziel intercepted the first of his two passes in the game, giving the Tigers possession at the Steers 17. But two quarterback sacks took the Tigers out of field goal range.

On their third possession of the game, the Steers scored in one play. Hill went up the middle, juked two Snyder defenders, got as couple of blocks and led a parade of Steers to the goal line for a 75-yard scoring run. Cobos added the extra point to tie the score and the Steer barrage was on.

Big Spring got good field position on its next possession when Chavarria returned a punt 25 yards to the Snyder 46. Chavarria sparked the drive with a 15-yard gain on a wingback reverse. Tailback Maurice Evans capped off the drive by catching a flare pass from Cobos and turning it into a 20-yard scoring pass. The Steers led 14-7 early in the second quarter.

Later after Braziel intercepted his second pass of the game, Roberson returned the favor by picking off his second pass of the game at the Big Spring 25. It took the Steers eight plays to score. Cobos started it off by completing passes of 25 and 14 yards to Chavarria. There was also an eight-yard flare pass to Tim Pearson and a 13-yard run by Hill.

Rodgers concluded things with a one-yard dive. The Steers led 20-7.

Next Cobos executed an onside kick which was recovered by Roberson at the Snyder 35. This time it took the Steers five plays to score. It started with a 15-yard run by Pearson and ended with Hill scoring from 15 yards out. Big Spring led 26-7 with 1:31 left in the first half.

On the kickoff Snyder's Wayland Harrison fumbled and Pat Martinez recovered at the Snyder 30.

On the next play Cobos found Chavarria for a 19-yard gain. Four plays later Rodgers bullied his way in from the one. Hill ran in the conversion and Big Spring had delivered its final knockout punch, taking a 34-7 halftime lead.

Snyder controlled the ball in the second half but came away with only one touchdown. The Tigers ran 34 plays in the half, compared to 12 for the Steers. Snyder scored on its first possession of the second half, going 68 yards in 10 plays, aided by a unsportsman-like conduct and personal foul penalties against the Steers. Sutherland passed five yards to Hayward Clay for the score.

Butler said his team had a let-down in the second half. "I was scared to death at halftime," he said. "I was afraid this would happen (lose intensity). We still haven't matured enough to do it. I looked at two of our guys in the second half and they were watching the band. You never know because anything can happen in this stupid game."

Stanton loses first district game, 42-6

WALL — The Stanton Buffalos began district play with the home team taking a 42-6 win, dropping the Buffs to a 0-4 overall record and 0-1 in league play. The Hawks scored on their first possession as sophomore quarterback Chad Box led the home team on six plays covering 80 yards. Box engineered the drive with running from fullback Corey Braden and a 32-yard toss to end Greg Koehn to set up a one-yard plunge by Braden with 9:26 left in the opening quarter. Wall place kicker Frankie Evans booted the extra point to give Wall a 7-0 lead.

The Buffs took their turn on offense and came out with a twins-set formation. The new look paid off as quarterback John Eric Wyckoff found Jim Bob Kelly for a six-yard pass near mid-field.

Stanton failed to pick up any more yardage and was forced to punt. A big Wall rush kept the Buffalo punter off-guard and he managed only a 4-yard kick, giving the ball to Wall at the Buffalo 49-yard line.

From there, senior running back Joe Martinez scampered around right end for a 49-yard run with 7:52 left in the first quarter. Evans added the PAT and the Buffs fell behind 14-0 in the quarter.

Wall began the second quarter by mounting another attack down to the Buff 36-yard line. Stanton Kenny McCalister swiped a Box pass at the 13-yard line, stopping any damage from the Wall offense machine. The Hawk defense again stopped Stanton's offense on four downs and forced them to punt.

With the ball on the Stanton 49-yard line, Box found a seam in the Stanton defense and moved the ball to the Buffs' 30-yard line. Two plays later, Braden scored from 26 yards out, with 4:08 left before half-time. The PAT went wide, and Wall led 20-0. The Buffs took the ensuing kick-off but failed to pick up the first down. After both teams traded fumbles, Martinez gave the ball back to the home team, intercepting a Wyckoff pass and returned it for an apparent touchdown. But a penalty moved the ball back to the Stanton 41-yard line.

From there, Box hooked up with Martinez for a 24-yard touchdown pass with less than a minute to go in the second quarter. Martinez took the option from Box and connected with the quarterback for the 2-point PAT, giving the Hawks a 28-0 half-time lead.

In the third quarter Wall again scored after a blocked punt by Derrick Lehr, setting up the ball on the Buffalo 10-yard line. Running back John Medina scored from eight yards out with 9:37 left in the third. Waylon Wike added the PAT to give the home team a 35-0 lead.

The Buffs scored in the final quarter as junior quarterback Jay Huckaby found McCalister with a 30-yard pass and another strike to Hector Jimenez. Huckaby found McCalister from the 10-yard line in the end zone with 2:52 left in the contest. Stanton's Chris Dahl's extra point attempt went wide, and the home team led 35-6. With eleven seconds left in the contest, Jody Lefevre scored from 30 yards out as the game ended.

The Buffs will be in action next Friday in Stanton against McCamey, while Wall will travel to Coahoma to take on the Bulldogs.

Grady Wildcats end losing streak in fine style

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

LENORAH — Hand it to the Grady Wildcats — they definitely know how to end a losing streak.

Led by the running of tailback Gilbert Cortez, the Wildcats earned their first win of the season in fine fashion, demolishing the Loraine Bulldogs, 51-6, at Tunnell Field Friday night.

Grady improved to 1-3 with the win, while the Bulldogs fell to 0-4.

Cortez was an unstoppable force for the Wildcats, gaining 183 yards on 18 carries and scoring six touchdowns. For good measure, he added an interception on defense.

His performance overshadowed a fine outing by Loraine back David Madrid, who was the lone bright spot for the Bulldogs, gaining 105 yards on 14 carries and scoring his team's only touchdown.

Unfortunately for the Bulldogs, the rest of the night was like a bad horror movie. Grady's defense allowed only one first down — on Madrid's touchdown run — and limited the rest of Loraine's offense to negative yardage.

Grady coach Leandro Gonzales was understandably pleased with his team's first victory.

"I was pleased with my varsity and junior varsity kids," Gonzales said. "I was really pleased with the way the varsity came back from an 0-3 record and played some hard football."

"What was surprising was that we went from giving up 50 points a game to only allowing one first down," he added. "The defense just played a lot better ball tonight. The exceptional quality of this group is its teamwork."

The lone sour note of the night for Grady was an injury to substitute running back Manuel Aguirre, who was transported to Scenic Mountain Medical Center in Big Spring with a possible dislocated elbow.

The extent of his injury, suffered in the fourth quarter, was not known at press time.

Other than the injury to Aguirre, however, the Wildcats would have been hard pressed to write a better script for their first win.

Cortez started things almost immediately. On the game's first play from scrimmage, he dropped back to pass, scrambled away from pressure and raced 38 yards down the sideline for the score.

The teams swapped possessions before Loraine struck for its lone TD. Copying Cortez' score almost perfectly, Madrid dropped back to pass, evaded the pressure, then broke through the middle for a 57-yard scoring run.

The Wildcats responded im-

Madrid was intercepted again — this time by Morales on Loraine's 23 — and Cortez scored with nine seconds left in the second quarter to give the Wildcats a 31-6 lead at halftime.

Cortez sandwiched two second-half TDs around one by Morales and a safety by Vance McMorries, and ended the game midway through the fourth quarter on a four-yard run.

Gonzales said after the game that he hopes the win will give his team a more positive outlook on the season.

"I think they'll have a different perspective on the game," he said, "how you can lose some battles and still win the war."

Loraine threatened to tie things in the second when Clayton Lee recovered a Grady fumble at the Wildcats' 8. Grady's defense stiffened, however, and on fourth and goal from the 4, Madrid was stopped short by Joel Morales and Aguirre.

It took the 'Cats little time to march the length of the field. On the drive's fourth play, Cortez took advantage of some sloppy tackling to score from 58 yards out, giving Grady a 19-6 lead.

Despite early lead, Loop loses to Borden County 42-12

By LORNE FANCETT
For The Herald

GAIL — The Borden County Coyotes handed the Loop Longhorns their fourth straight loss of the season Friday night by a score of 42-12.

The game started on a high note for the Longhorns as Bobby Medlin returned the opening kick-off down to the Coyotes' 18. From there quarterback Alex Vasquez hooked up with Gerardo Montoya for the score. With Jesse Burrola's kick going off to the side, Loop took the early lead at 19 seconds into the game — 6-0.

B-County tied the game seven minutes later with a two-yard run up the middle from quarterback Brandon Adcock. The extra point kick from Richard Buchanan fell short of the post, leaving the score tied at 6.

The Coyotes scored again on their next possession as running-back Clint Wills took the pitch from Adcock, rolled right and threw an 18-yard touchdown pass to end John Paul Harris. With Buchanan's kick going through the uprights, Borden County took the lead 14-6.

Unfortunately for the Longhorns, Borden County wasn't through scoring in the first half. After the defense shut down Loop's offensive unit, the Coyotes sustained a seven-play drive that ended with Wills going around the end and scampering 15 yards into the end zone. With Buchanan nailing the kick through the uprights, the Coyotes took a 22-6 lead into half-time.

The second half was just as rough for Loop as the Coyotes took only three plays and exactly one minute off of the clock to score. Good field position on the kick-off and a 26-yard run by Joe Acosta lead to Borden County's score.

With the extra-point kick successful, Loop saw the Coyotes' lead grow to 30-6.

On their first drive in the second half, the Longhorns seemed to be moving the ball well against a defense that had been tough on them all night. However a pass by Vasquez was intercepted by defensive back Kirk Jones.

Again the Coyotes didn't need many plays to score. On the fourth play of the drive, Wills hooked up with Acosta for his second touchdown toss of the evening. With the kick going off to the right, B-County was well in command with a 36-6 lead.

With the kick leaving them deep in their own territory, Alex Vasquez took the ball for eight yards and appeared to be getting the Longhorn's offense off on the right foot. But two plays and one penalty later — losing a total of six yards — Loop was forced to punt. Misfortune continued to dog them as freshman Virgil Glaze broke through the line and blocked David Rodriguez's kick. Glaze then proceeded to pick up the ball and take it in for the score. The Longhorns got some small revenge as they blocked Buchanan's extra-point attempt. This left the score 42-6 in favor of the Coyotes.

As the fourth quarter was winding to a close, the Longhorns were the recipients of good field position, compliments of defensive end Santos Garcia's fumble recovery. They made good use of this to sustain a seven-play drive that ended with Clifford Rodriguez going one yard for the score. The failed point-after kick left the score 42-12, which was where the game ended.

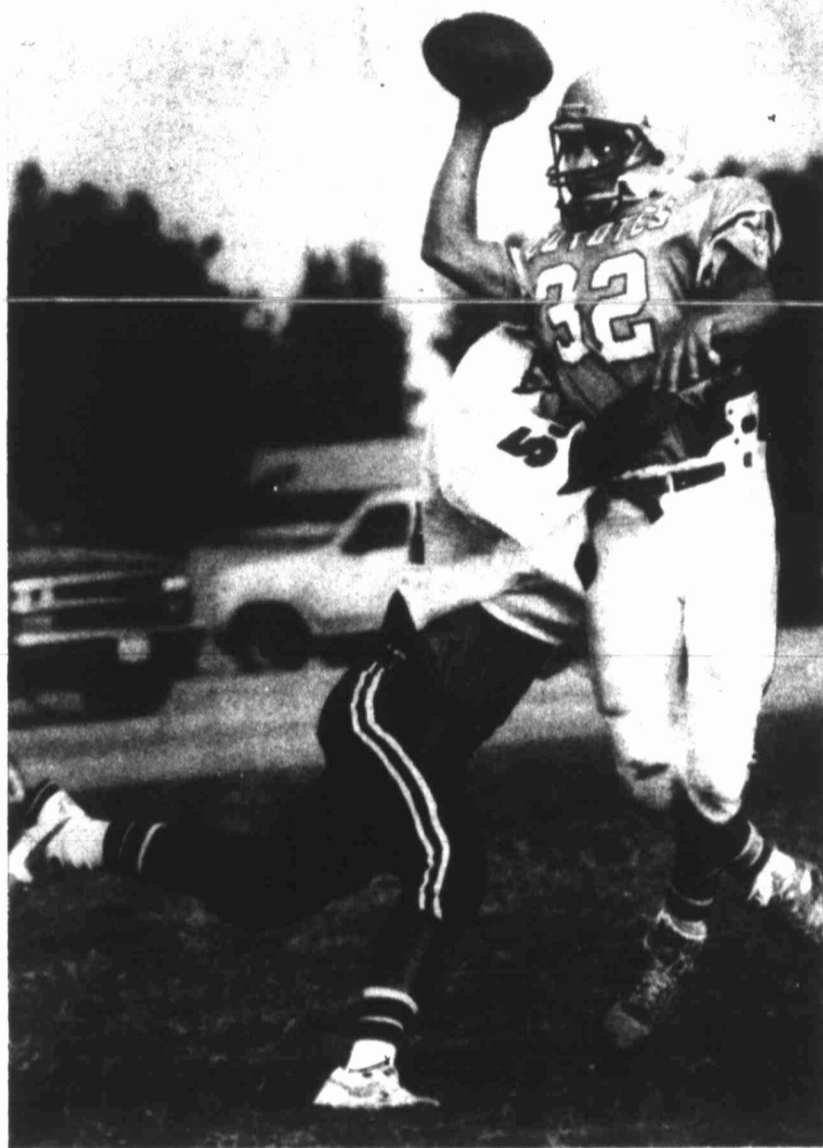

"We played pretty well tonight," Coyotes' head coach Bobby Avery commented after the game. "Defensively we stayed with our defensive keys and held them. They got a few big plays on us, but after that we picked up the intensity and held her down."

"Offense looked pretty good for us. Our split man (Harris) was catching the ball well," continued Avery. "Clint Wills was right on the money with his passes. We worked on it all week in practice and now it seems that it's coming around."

Borden County is away next week taking on Klondike. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The Garden City Bearkats began pounding the Wink Wildcats in the first quarter of the Friday night game. The final score was Garden City 56-Wink Wildcats 0.

The Bearkats scored about every two minutes throughout the first quarter. The scoring frenzy began with 10:01 on the clock as Mario Aguillar blocked a punt and scored on a 10-yard run. Jody Bradford completed the point after kick. Then with 8:04 on the clock, James Soles made a touchdown on a two-yard run with Bradford kicking the point after. Less than two minutes later, the fans in the stands experienced deja vu with another two-yard scoring drive by Soles with a Bradford point after. With 4:06 on the clock, Shae Scott completed a 43-yard pass to Soles in the endzone and Bradford made the point after kick. The pace slowed down until the clock read 1:04, when David Blalock blocked a punt and ran a 25-yard scoring drive with Bradford making the obligatory point after.

In the second quarter, the Bearkats scored twice with a six-yard pass from Shae Scott to Jim Bob Scott and again with a 53-yard pass from Scott to Scott. Bradford successfully kicked both points after each touchdown.

The last scoring drive by the Bearkats was by Andy Lopez with six yards and a Bradford kick.

Garden City Bearkats will play Roscoe next week at home for their homecoming and first district game.

The Bearkats season record is 4-0.

A young Forsan team took on the Ozona Lions in Ozona Friday night but came up on the short end of the 47-0 final score.

Starting at quarterback for the Buffaloes was freshman Jacoby Hopper. Other freshmen in the starting lineup for the Buffs were leading rusher Chad Kemper at fullback, carrying 14 times for 52 yards and halfback Chris Evans.

Other major contributors on the Forsan side were Micah Epley, who received all three completed passes for a total of 23 yards and Gilbert Rodriguez, rushing for 38 yards on 18 carries.

Jason Yeager of the Ozona Lions was first on the scoreboard on a 2-yard run with 4:43 to go in the first quarter. The PAT was kicked in by Adrian Vargas.

A blocked Forsan punt was recovered in the end zone by the Lions' Randall Wilson, followed by another good kick by Vargas with 3:19 remaining in the first quarter. Then with 1:28 to go, Michael Fay added another 6 points on a 9-yard run, and Vargas followed up with the extra point.

In the second quarter, Adam Alba scored on a 2-yard run with 5:25 remaining; Vargas kicked yet again. Then Owen Powell scored on a 17-yard run with 6 seconds remaining, and the score stood at 34-0 at the half.

Third-quarter scoring was mainly thanks to Jason Yeager, who scored from 4 yards out with 10:09 remaining in the period and from 34 yards out at 1:46 to go. One last good kick by Vargas completed the scoring, with the Lions coming out on top 47-0.

Next week the Forsan Buffaloes will host the Iraan Braves.

The Iraan Braves exploded for 20 second-quarter points as they beat the Coahoma Bulldogs 35-19 in a key District 6-2A game at Iraan Friday night.

It was the district opener for both teams and the Braves are the pre-season pick to repeat as district champs. The Braves scored three second-quarter touchdowns to take a 23-7 halftime lead. Coahoma answered with two second-half touchdowns, but it was too little, too late.

Iraan opened with a 27-yard field goal by Corby Mauer in the first quarter. Coahoma took the lead for the first and last time later in the quarter when Brent Elmore passed 10 yards to fullback Steven new for a score. Bryan Sledge kicked the extra point and Coahoma led 7-3 with 3:39 left in the first quarter.

Iraan's first score in the second quarter came on a 17-yard pass to Sammy Galindo from Mauer. Iraan's next score came on a 50-yard interception return by Galindo. Mauer added his second extra point of the game. Iraan led 17-7 with 3:06 left in the half.

Iraan ended the scoring in the half with a 24-yard pass from Galindo to Cameron Holifield. Iraan led 23-7 at the half.

Coahoma scored with just under three minutes left in the third quarter on a one-yard run by Mike Mendez. Iraan answered with a 14-yard run by Mauer.

Early in the fourth quarter, Iraan scored its final score on a 10-yard run by Riley Malone.

in his comeback following a first-game injury, ran the ball 69 yards for the last C-City TD. Frank Briseno kicked in the extra point, and the final score was 14-12.

Leading rusher for the C-City Wolves was Kevin Green, with 192 yards and 1 TD on 15 carries.

Coahoma ended the scoring for the night when Lee Coleman returned an interception 37 yards for a score.

New led all rushers with 106 yards in 15 carries. He also caught four passes for 55 yards. Mendez was limited to 34 yards on 18 carries.

Malone paced Iraan with 14 carries for 71 yards.

Coahoma falls to 3-1 for the season, the same record as Iraan.

Long rivalry ends tonight

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee and Auburn have been banging away at each other for 36 years. Tonight will be the last battle for a while.

The annual series ends because of the Southeastern Conference's expansion to 12 teams and realignment into divisions. The fifth-ranked Vols and 13th-ranked Tigers, each 3-0, are not scheduled to play again until 1998. Unless they meet in the conference championship game, they'll play only twice every eight years.

Tonight's game will be the 43rd — the 36th straight row since the series was resumed in 1956 when Tennessee coach Johnny Majors was a skinny tailback.

"We've had some great games," Auburn coach Pat Dye said. "We've won some big ones and they've won some big ones, and we've even had some ties."

Total domination by the offensive and defensive lines gave the Sweetwater Mustangs their fourth victory of the season Friday night against the Borger Bulldogs. Leading the offensive attack for the Mustangs was Chris Hines, with a total of 138 yards on 16 carries. Also rushing for over 100 yards were Randall Leopard with 110 yards on 9 carries and Pete Ortega, who carried 13 times for 102 yards. The powerful running game netted the Mustangs 393 yards rushing, while the defense kept the opposing quarterback down on a number of sacks, giving the Mustangs a 35-0 win over the Bulldogs.

In the first quarter, Chris Carr scored on a 23-yard reception from quarterback David Ritchey with 5:55 remaining. The extra point attempt failed.

Second-quarter scoring occurred on the first play with 11:53 to go on a 20-yard run by Randall Leopard. Following the TD, Ritchey connected with Leopard in the end zone for an additional 2 points.

Pete Ortega led off the scoring series in the third quarter on a 6-yard run into the end zone. Brian Mitchell kicked the PAT at 8:47 remaining. At 7:09 to go, Chris Hines scored on a 16-yard run, followed by another successful Mitchell kick.

The final score of the game came with 5:23 remaining in the third quarter on a 3-yard run by Hines. Mitchell kicked in the last extra point, and the final score was 35-0.

Last night's game gives the Sweetwater Mustangs a 4-0 record for the year, and the Borger Bulldogs are at 1-3.

Next Friday night the Mustangs will celebrate homecoming in the district opener against the Pecos Eagles.

In the second quarter, Panthers' Jeffery Hughes scored on a four-yard run, but the kick failed. Crane then scored with a 25-yard run by Chris Jeffrey.

In the fourth quarter, Shane Velasquez completed a six-yard pass to Shawn Beeles for a Panther touchdown with a two-point conversion pass from Beeles to Bobby Holman.

Fort Stockton's leading rusher, with 60 yards, was Robert Aries. Crane's leading rusher was Chris Jeffrey with 116 yards.

Fort Stockton improves its season record to 4-1, while Crane falls to 1-2-1.

Volleyball

Lady Steers aiming

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

Thursday's Big Spring High School volleyball practice was delayed as players decided if they wanted one of Coach Lois Ann McKenzie's kittens.

It seems that even athletes cannot live by sports alone.

McKenzie's cat, Freckles, recently had a litter of four kittens. One, a junior Morris look-alike, was snatched up quickly, but a debate raged over which of the remaining kitties would find new homes.

Whether all the kittens were adopted is not known, but the verdict on their likability was immediate: "They're so cuuute!" one player squealed.

The Kittie Bazaar was just one more bit of evidence supporting McKenzie's philosophy that there is more to life than volleyball. She has her players in a year-round class, but that doesn't mean they're always practicing sets and spikes.

"For the first three weeks after the season ends, these girls don't look at a volleyball and don't touch a volleyball," she said. "Last year, we went bowling with the (physical education) class. If you're a year-round volleyball player, you can only stand it for so long before you start to go crazy."

But make no mistake: When it's volleyball season, bowling trips are definitely cancelled.

McKenzie, in her fourth year at the helm of the Lady Steers, is determined to lead Big Spring to the playoffs for the first time since 1985.

"We've been going since Aug. 12," she said. "We started the same day the football team did . . . There's a lot of pressure (to make the playoffs). The seniors I have were freshmen when I got here. Four years should be enough to get it done."

Her players also feel a need to break the playoff drought.

"We have a really good chance to make the playoffs," junior setter Cassie Underwood said. "I think we have the best athletic potential in the district. . . . We're just trying to get out of district. It's been six years since we've made it to the playoffs."

"I think we have a chance," agreed senior Amber Grisham. "We have a lot of ability. If we can just put it together, we can go to the playoffs. That would be great — to go my senior year."

McKenzie also likes her team's playoff chances. She said it has a nice mix of natural athletes like senior Tevayan Russell and junior Amber Fannin — both multi-sports athletes — to players like Underwood and Grisham, who aren't blessed with lots of talents, but compensate with hard work.

Arguably the toughest player on the squad, however, is defensive specialist Kayla Roberts. Last year, Roberts had her appendix removed on a Friday — and was playing again eight days later.

The Lady Steers also have other quality McKenzie likes.

"They're goofy," she said. "They are a lot of fun."

McKenzie's track record is a good one: She led Kermit to six straight playoff appearances, including one trip to the state finals. She left coaching for three years, then coached a year at Andrews before returning to Kermit. Two years later, she accepted the post at Big Spring.

aiming for playoffs

She "doesn't have a clue" as to her win-loss record. "I just don't keep track of those things," she said.

"I was real interested in coaching (as a career)," she said. "I played volleyball, and I really liked the game. By the time I went to college, it was pretty much a foregone conclusion that I would go into education. I got into coaching and I loved it."

"I would probably be a principal if I had (obtained the necessary extra college credits), but I had no desire to go back to college," she added. "I enjoy coaching kids more than I would the management end of education."

The selling point to volleyball, McKenzie said, is its universal appeal.

"Nearly everyone can play it, the same as with baseball or softball," she said. "You can come to a game and see what good volleyball is and still enjoy playing it."

"There are very few people who have not played volleyball," she added. "Not everybody can play football or sink a basketball shot, but nearly everyone can play volleyball — even if it's just pitch-and-throw."

Roberts, when asked what she would tell people to convince them to attend a volleyball game, said, "I would tell them it's a very exciting sport that shows excellent individual talent and good teamwork. It's just fun to watch."

Public support for the team is on the rise. Although McKenzie admits that the lion's share of attention right now is on football, she said attendance at volleyball games is increasing.

Her players agree. "I think the support is really good," Grisham said. "This section is always filled with students, and the parents always come to the games. I think we've got good support for the team."

The sport is not without its demands, however. McKenzie estimates that her players spend about 20 hours a week — outside of school hours — practicing, playing in games and traveling to and from the games.

Several of the Lady Steers are also active in the band and other school activities, meaning that there is precious little free time in their schedules.

Fannin's schedule is even busier than most. She attends school half a day, then goes to work at the local VA Medical Center as a nurse's aid before going back to school for practices.

When does she find time to study?

"It's hard to find time," she admitted. "Usually after practice, I'll go home and run awhile, then go back in and do my homework."

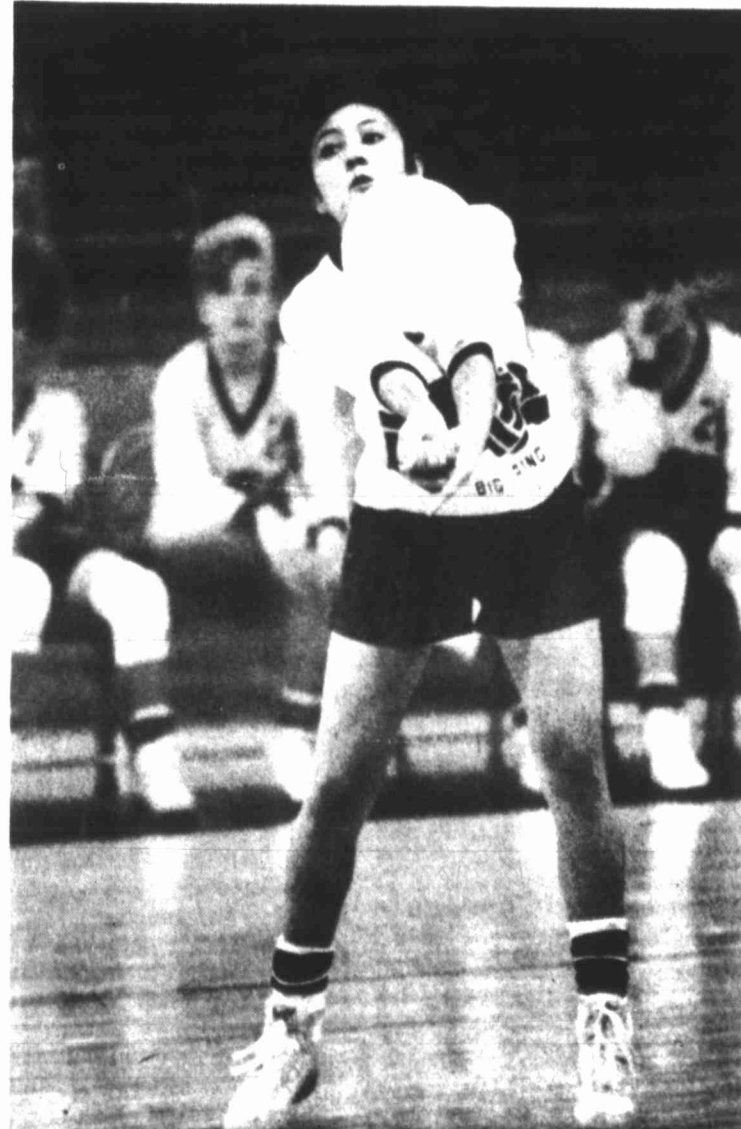

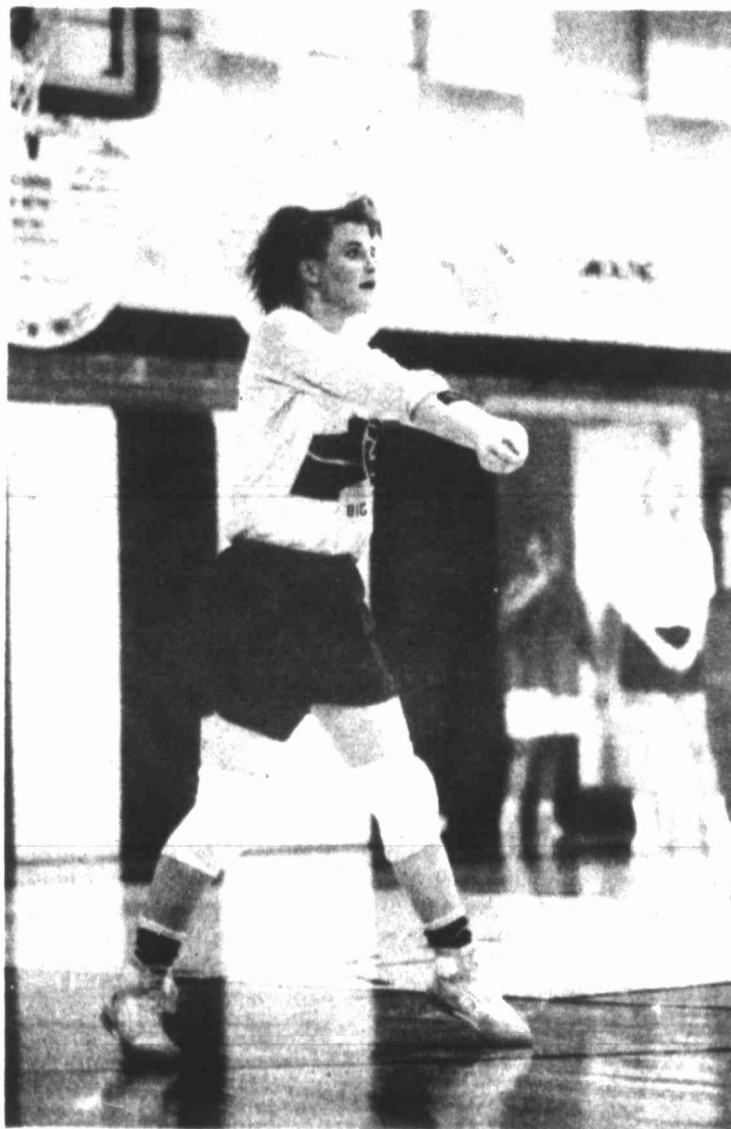

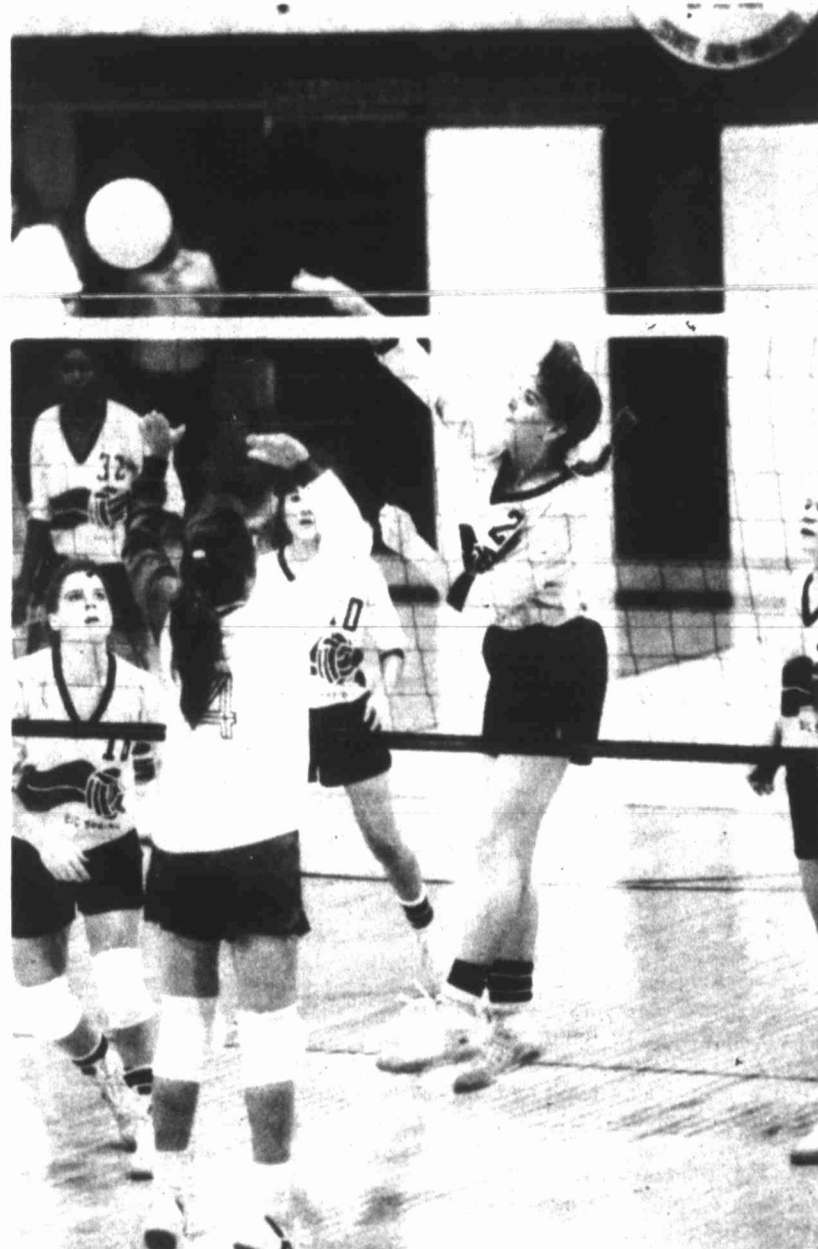

Heavy workload aside, however, the players enjoy their sport.

"I like the pressure and the mental part of the game," Underwood said. "And I like that it's a team sport, not just for one person . . . I'd love to play it in college."

Roberts also would like to continue playing volleyball in college, but admits that her height (slightly above five feet) would be a problem.

She did, however, suggest a possible solution to the problem.

"If someone would give me a stepladder, that might do it," she said.

Toronto wins battle of division leaders

Blue Jays 7, Twins 2

TORONTO (AP) — Pinch-runner Mookie Wilson streaked home with the go-ahead run on a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning, then hit a three-run double in the eighth as the Toronto Blue Jays beat the Minnesota Twins in a meeting of division leaders.

The Blue Jays heralded the return of manager Cito Gaston, who had missed 33 games with back problems, with their third straight victory. That increased their lead in the AL East to 3½ games over Boston.

The Twins' magic number for clinching the AL West was cut to two later in the night when second-place Chicago lost to Seattle 10-8 in 11 innings.

Juan Guzman (9-2) allowed three hits in eight innings and tied Dave Stieb's 1988 club record by winning his ninth consecutive decision. For the second time this season, he outdueled Kevin Tapani (16-9), who gave up six hits and three runs in seven innings.

Brewers 7, Red Sox 5

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Boston fell farther behind Toronto in the American League East when the Milwaukee Brewers scored six runs in the sixth inning and beat the reeling Red Sox.

The Red Sox's fourth loss in five games, coupled with Toronto's 7-2 victory over Minnesota, knocked Boston 3½ games back with nine games to play. Toronto's victory also officially eliminated the Brewers from the race.

Dante Bichette's triple keyed the six-run sixth in which Milwaukee batted around against starter Kevin Morton (6-4) and reliever Dennis Lamp.

Chris Bosio (14-10) allowed seven hits over 6 1-3 innings for his fourth straight win on a cold night at County Stadium with the game time temperature at 50 degrees. Julio Machado pitched two innings for his third save.

Mariners 10, White Sox 8

CHICAGO (AP) — Ken Griffey Jr. hit a two-run homer in the 11th inning and Seattle Mariners came back for a victory that further dimmed the AL West hopes of the Chicago White Sox.

The White Sox blew an 8-4 lead in the ninth inning, and their loss cut Minnesota's magic number to two.

Harold Reynolds drew a leadoff walk from Melido Perez (8-6) in the 11th and Griffey hit the next pitch over the center-field fence for his 22nd homer. Russ Swan (6-2) was the winner, snapping Seattle's four-game losing streak.

Chicago relief ace Bobby Thigpen took over the start the ninth with a four-run lead. But singles by Dave Cochrane, Edgar Martinez and Griffey made it 8-5 with one out, and Pete O'Brien hit a two-run double. Perez relieved and gave up a pinch-double to Scott Bradley, scoring pinch runner Rick Amaral with the tying run.

Royals 4, Angels 1

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Bret Saberhagen, trying to become the first pitcher to throw two no-hitters in a season since Nolan Ryan in 1973, lost his bid with one out in the eighth inning in Kansas City's victory over California.

Saberhagen retired the first 20 batters before walking Junior Felix on a full count with two outs in the seventh. Barry Lyons, in just his second at-bat for the Angels, spoiled Saberhagen's no-hitter the next inning with a clean single to right field.

Saberhagen (13-8) then lost his shutout in the ninth when Luis Polonia singled, took second on catcher's indifference and scored on a single by Felix, the Angels' fifth hit. Jeff Montgomery got the last two batters for his 33rd save.

On Aug. 26, Saberhagen pitched his first career no-hitter, beating Chicago 7-0. Johnny Vander Meer, Allie Reynolds, Virgil Trucks and Ryan are the only pitchers with two no-hitters in a season. Jim Maloney was credited with two no-hitters in 1965, but one of them was taken away recently in a ruling by a baseball statistical committee.

Kansas City got all four of its runs in the fourth off Kirk McCaskill (10-19), who leads the majors in losses. Brent Mayne hit a two-run, inside-the-park homer.

Orioles 9, Tigers 7

DETROIT (AP) — Cal Ripken drove in five runs, raising his season total to 108 RBIs, and the Baltimore Orioles beat the Detroit Tigers.

Ripken hit a sacrifice fly in the first and the Orioles broke open the game with six runs in the fifth, including Ripken's two-run triple and consecutive homers by Sam Horn and Glenn Davis. Ripken later added a two-run double.

Mark Williamson (5-5) gave up one run and three hits in 2 1-3 innings and Gregg Olson got four outs for his 31st save. Walt Terrell (12-13) gave up six runs and nine hits in four-plus innings.

Yankees 3, Indians 0

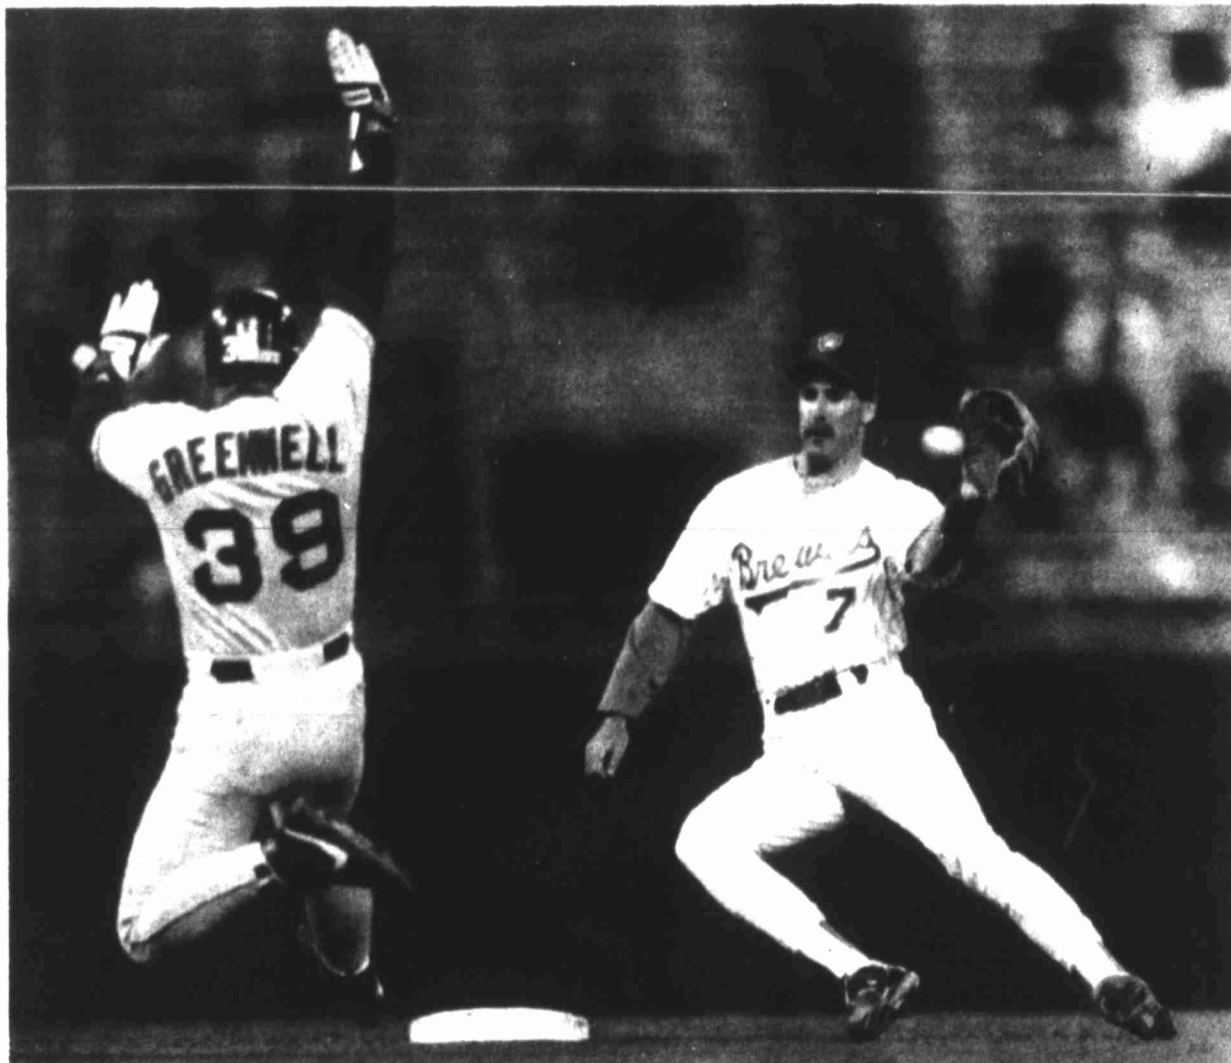

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pascual Perez pitched five-hit ball for eight innings and the New York Yankees sent the Cleveland Indians to their 100th loss.

The Indians, with the worst record in the majors, have lost at least 100 games three times in the last seven years. With 10 games left, they appear likely to surpass the team record of 102 losses, which they reached most recently in 1985.

Yankees pitchers tied a major league record with their 74th straight game without a complete game. San Diego set the mark in 1977.

Perez (2-4) ended a string of 11 starts without a victory, and pitched more than six innings since 1989. Steve Farr pitched the ninth for his 21st save.

Greg Swindell (9-15) reached a career worst in losses despite pitching a six-hitter.

Braves 4, Astros 2

HOUSTON (AP) — The struggling Atlanta Braves rallied for four runs on seven hits in the eighth inning to beat the Houston Astros 4-2 Friday night and stay close in the NL West.

The Braves entered a three-game series at the Astrodome having lost four of their previous five games, and trailing Los Angeles by two games. The Dodgers beat visiting San Francisco 6-2 to maintain their lead.

Houston rookie starter Ryan Bowen shut out the Braves on two hits and held a 2-0 lead over the first seven innings. But Lonnie Smith started the rally with a leadoff double in the eighth and Xavier Hernandez relieved.

Mark Lemke singled for Atlanta's first run and loser Rob Mallicoat (1-1) came on to pitch. Terry Pendleton and David Justice each singled, bringing on Mark Portugal with the bases loaded and no outs.

Sid Bream's single tied the score and Greg Olson followed with a single to score Justice with the tie-breaking run. Pinch-hitter Jeff Blauser singled home pinch-runner Mike Bell with the fourth run.

Mark Wohlers (3-1) got the victory and Alejandro Pena earned his 11th save with two innings of two-hit relief.

Dodgers 6, Giants 2

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, whose path to a possible NL West title is blocked by the Giants, took a step in the right direction by beating San Francisco in the first of six games between the California rivals.

Kal Daniels hit a two-run homer, and Juan Samuel and Mike Scioscia each added solo shots for Los Angeles. Tim Lincecum limited the Giants to two runs, one earned in eight innings.

Belcher (10-9) gave up nine hits, three by Will Clark, walked two and struck out nine for his first victory since Aug. 30. He also got the help of three double plays by his infield. Roger McDowell pitched the ninth.

Expos 12, Pirates 8

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh showed the effects of a long doubleheader in New York, losing to Montreal as Andres Galarraga's three-run homer capped a six-run eighth inning. The Pirates played seven-plus hours and 24 innings on Thursday at Shea Stadium, splitting a doubleheader that ended shortly before 1 a.m.

In the decisive eighth, pitcher Scott Ruskin walked and Marquis Grissom doubled off Rosario Rodriguez (1-1) to break a 6-6 tie.

Ruskin (4-4) got the victory as the Expos won for the fifth time in seven games. He gave up Bobby Bonilla's 18th homer to start the Pirates' eighth.

Barry Bonds hit his 24th homer for the Pirates.

Harris (8-5) won his third consecutive start despite giving up a two-run homer to Paul O'Neill in the first inning and a solo homer to Barry Larkin in the sixth. Harris allowed five hits over six innings, and Larry Andersen retired the last four batters for his 12th save.

McGriff hit his 31st homer in the ninth off Ted Power for the Padres final three runs.

Mets 6, Phillies 4

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Todd Hundley and pinch-hitter Mark Carreon each drove in two runs as New York defeated Philadelphia. The big news for the Mets came earlier in the day, when Frank Cashen announced he was stepping down as general manager at the end of the season. Al Harazin, currently an executive vice president, was named the club's new GM.

Cardinals 5, Cubs 4

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Tom Pagnozzi's two-run single capped a four-run rally in the fourth inning to lift St. Louis past Chicago. Mark Grace's RBI double in the first and Shawon Dunston's two-run triple in the second gave Chicago a 3-0 lead.

But in the fourth, after Frank Castillo (6-7) had faced only 10 batters, Ozzie Smith's second of three walks and Todd Zeile's hit-and-run single sparked St. Louis. Lee Smith pitched the ninth for his 44th save.

Americans take early lead in Cup competition

KIAWAH ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Britain's best played so poorly they'll be broken up, but the Spanish juggernaut continued to roll and kept Europe close in defense of the Ryder Cup.

The former, Nick Faldo of England and Masters champion Ian Woosnam of Wales, lost twice and were largely responsible for the Americans' unaccustomed and strangely unsatisfactory early lead.

The latter, Seve Ballesteros and Jose Maria Olazabal, scored a pair of 2 and 1 victories in opening matches Friday.

"I don't think either team was real satisfied with what happened today," American captain Dave Stockton said after his team had salvaged a 4½-3½ advantage.

That is, of course, the smallest possible margin, but it is a lead. And it's the first time in four years that the Americans have come out of opening day play in anything other than a catch-up position.

It's far, far better, for example, than the 5-3 and 6-2 deficits faced by the Americans in the last two Ryder Cups, in 1987 and '89.

But it was unsatisfactory in that the lead could have been — and perhaps should have been — larger in the old biennial competition that has grown to enormous stature and prestige in recent years.

Ballesteros and Olazabal, for example, were 3-down at the turn in the morning foursomes, in which each two-man team plays alternate shots on the same ball.

After a brief confrontation about the rules, they won three of the next four holes and went on to the victory that prevented an American sweep of the morning matches.

In the afternoon fourball play, with scoring based on the better ball of each two-man team, David Feherty of Northern Ireland dropped an 18th-hole, 16-foot, par-saving putt that capped a comeback from a 3-down deficit at the turn and salvaged a half against weary Lanny Wadkins and Mark O'Meara.

"I think Lanny and Mark could have come out of that a half-point better," said Stockton, whose team is attempting to break a six-year European hold on the trophy that first went up for play in 1927.

Another possible half-point was lost in the match that closed the 10½ hours of windblown play in the sand dunes and marshes of the new Ocean course on this resort island. Again, it was Ballesteros and Olazabal doing the damage.

With the Spaniards holding a 1-up lead, Azinger scored his sixth birdie of the day with a 30-footer on the 16th hole.

It appeared to have drawn the Americans even. But Olazabal dropped a 10-footer in on top of Azinger, halved the match and sent it to the par-3 17th.

There, after Ballesteros had put his tee shot on the green, both Az-inger and Chip Beck hit into the water and it was over.

KIAWAH ISLAND, S.C. — Deborah Couples, wife of golfer Fred Couples, waves the U.S. flag as the U.S. Ryder Cup team participates in the opening ceremonies of the 29th cup competition. The three-day match play event began Friday at the Ocean Course at Kiawah Island, S.C.

The loss was their second of the day to the Spaniards and ran the record of the Ballesteros-Olazabal pairing to 8½ of a possible 10 points in Ryder Cup play going back to the 1987 Matches.

It also prompted a biting, bitter comment from Azinger.

Asked about the rules discussion in the morning matches — followed immediately by the winning Spanish rally — Azinger said:

"Yes, it (the confrontation over the rules) distracted me a little.

"But Seve is the king of gamesmanship. He did it all day long."

"No comment," Stockton said.

"I am offended," European captain Bernard Gallacher said. He also was less than happy with the performance of Woosnam and Faldo, a pairing that had won six of a possible eight points in team play in 1987 and '89.

They lost twice this windy day, a 5 and 3 drubbing by Ray Floyd and Fred Couples in the afternoon fourballs and 1-up to Mark Calcavecchia and Payne Stewart in the morning foursomes, and played so poorly Gallacher will break them up for the first time since 1987.

Woosnam will sit down for Saturday morning's foursomes and Faldo will partner English rookie David Gilford against Azinger and Mark O'Meara.

American veterans Wadkins and Hale Irwin will play Feherty and Sam Torrance of Scotland, Stewart and Calcavecchia will play Mark James and Steve Richardson of England and, in what promises to be the feature match, Ballesteros and Olazabal meet Ray Floyd and Fred Couples.

Floyd, at 49 the oldest man ever to play in these matches and the only former captain to return as a competitor, and Couples were the most productive of the American pairs.

Faldo and Woosnam were their second victims of the day. They beat Bernhard Langer of Germany and James 2 and 1 in morning foursomes.

Asked if he was concerned about sending the oldest man out for a third consecutive match, Stockton said:

"I think Fred has the ability to be a great, great player. Raymond brings out that ability in him.

"They look all right to me. He's still standing. Ray can rest next week."

Floyd, captain of the last American Ryder Cup team, agreed.

"I'm playing the best I have in 10 or 12 years. I'm playing so well I feel like I'm 25 years old."

Wadkins and Irwin beat Gilford and Colin Montgomerie of Scotland 4 and 2 in the other morning foursome. Richardson and James blitzed Corey Pavin and Calcavecchia 5 and 4 in afternoon fourballs.

The Americans gained only 1½ points from the four afternoon matches, but that — like the overall score — was a vast improvement over their play in opening fourballs in the last two Ryder Cups.

They were swept, 4-0, in both of those.

Stockton, however, stopped well short of applauding the American effort that put them in front this time.

"We're in a 500-mile race and we've just gone 200 miles," he said.

Walters takes 2nd round lead

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP) — Lisa Walters tied a course record with a 7-under 65 to take a three-shot lead after two rounds of the MBS LPGA Classic on Friday.

Walters' round followed her finish of the first round, which she was unable to complete Thursday because of lightning in the area. She ended with a 71 and stands at 136, six under par, at the Los Coyotes Country Club.

Betsy King, Donna Andrews, Tina Barrett, Alice Miller and Deedee Lasker were tied for second at 139.

"I really had a hot putter today," said Walters, one of 25 who had to work overtime on Friday. "This 65 is my best round ever."

Walters, 31, had an eagle-3 at the par-5, 455-yard third hole. Her second shot, a 5-wood from the fairway, took her within 10 feet.

After a string of five pars, Walters birdied the ninth, 10th, 12th and 13th holes with putts ranging from 10 to 20 feet. Her final birdie came at the par-5 18th when she sank a 28-footer, her longest putt of the day.

Miller shot a 67 to get in the group of five in second place. Andrews started the round at 3-under and carded a 70.

Andrews had four birdies, three of them on the 12th, 13th and 15th holes. She had two bogeys in her round, missing 6-foot putts both times.

Miller, starting at even par, made four birdies in her first seven holes and picked up two more on the back nine. Her only bogey was on her finishing hole.

Barrett was the most unlikely member of the group tied for second. She started her round on the 10th hole with a double bogey and then bogeyed the 18th to go to 1-over.

Michigan a rung in the Seminoles' ladder

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Florida State coach Bobby Bowden and Michigan's Gary Moeller stand opposite each other, calm in the eye of the storm of hype stirred up by today's game between the No. 1 Seminoles and No. 3 Wolverines.

"This is one of the biggest games Florida State has ever been in," Bowden said of the game in Michigan Stadium. "It's like playing Notre Dame in South Bend or Southern Cal at the Coliseum."

"But what a lot of people don't realize is this is not the biggest game on either of our schedules. All it means is holding our spot in the polls for another week. It's like holding onto a rung on a ladder. If we win this week, we're still on the top rung. But there's a long way to go."

Moeller agreed, saying this game is pretty much a dress rehearsal for the Big Ten season.

"We'll put everything into Florida State we have," Moeller said. "But what we have to do after the game is go to Iowa City, Michigan State and then meet Indiana here."

Florida State (3-0) has the nation's longest winning streak at nine games. Michigan (2-0) has won its past eight.

The Seminoles never have been ranked No. 1 this far into a season. In 1988, they were ranked No. 1 in the preseason poll but lost their opener to Miami. They never regained the top spot, despite winning their next 11 games, including a Sugar Bowl victory over Auburn.

The Wolverines are 3-13-1 against No. 1 teams since the first Associated Press poll in 1936. The last time Michigan played a top-ranked team was in Moeller's first game as head coach. The Wolverines lost 28-24 at Notre Dame to open the 1990 season.

If Michigan should upset the Seminoles, there is no guarantee the Wolverines will move up to No. 1. It's likely that No. 2 Miami would take over No. 1 if the Seminoles fall in Ann Arbor. Miami plays today at Tulsa.

"We have not been tested like we're fixing to be tested," Bowden said. "That's a different league you're talking about with Michigan."

The game will pit Florida State's speed against Michigan's size and strength. The Seminoles have linebackers as speedy as Michigan tailback Ricky Powers.

"They're one of the great football teams," Moeller said. "They are very expensive and a very good defensive team."

The Florida State offense is run by quarterback Casey Weldon, who got his first start when the nine-game winning streak began. Amp Lee powers a Seminoles ground game that will face a Michigan defense that's allowed an average of 83.5 yards per game.

Michigan's offense is built around the running of Powers, who has averaged 170 yards per game. The Seminoles defense also will have to be alert for receiver Desmond Howard, who leads the team with six touchdowns overall and 6.5 catches per game.

"There's just too much football field to turn Howard loose with one guy," Bowden said. "If you tried to cover him one-on-one all day long, I'd hate to think what might happen."

Bowden admits, however, that he is thinking about a first-ever national championship for Florida State. Michigan won its last national title in 1948.

"The enthusiasm in Tallahassee is pure enthusiasm," Bowden said.

Here is how the teams ranked in the Associated Press top 10 in each classification fared this weekend.
