Comanche Peak down for refueling

Unit 1 of the Comanche Peak Nuclear Plant is being shut down today for a scheduled refueling and maintenance outage, said TU Electric officials.

This is the first refueling for Unit 1, which went into commercial operation on Aug. 13, 1990. It is expected to return to service before the winter peak load season.

According to officials, the nuclear fuel from the reactor will be moved into a spent-fuel pool during the refueling. About one-third of the 193 fuel assemblies in the reactor will be replaced with new nuclear fuel. The nuclear fuel will be covered by 23 feet of water during the transfer to and from the spent fuel pool.

Unit 1 generated 6 billion kilowatt hours in its first year of operation. Unit 2 is scheduled to go into service in 1993.

Stenholm admits to bounced checks

U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Stamford, announced that on several occasions he unknowingly had insufficient funds at the House of Representatives Bank during the 101st Congress.

The announcement corrects a statement made in error by Stenholm last week that he did not think he had overextended his account.

As a result of the overdrafts, House Speaker Tom Foley announced that overdrafts are now being assessed a service charge and that no checks drawn against a House Bank account with insufficient funds will be honored.

"I first stated that I had not had any overdrafts at the House Bank. But upon careful review of my account at the bank, I have found that I have, in fact, on several occasions, made errors in the timing of transfers of funds between the three banks in which I maintain accounts, with resulting overdrafts.

"I was shocked, to say the least, when I reviewed my account and embarrassed completely that in my own way I have added to the negative attitude expressed by the people toward the Congress. I accept my share of the blame for permitting, as well as contributing to, a story that sheds bad light on the Congress."

Concerning Foley's announcement, he said, "I am in total agreement with the new policy."

Congress OKs replacement of bugged embassy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is giving a green light to erecting another new, $220 million embassy in Moscow to replace a bug-riddled structure that now may be offered as office space for U.S. companies in the Soviet capital.

Ending a six-year controversy that has raged since eavesdropping devices were found in the partially completed structure, the House and Senate gave voice-vote approval to the plan Thursday as part of a $21.9 billion appropriations bill for the State, Justice and Commerce departments.

The bill now goes to President Bush.

The new embassy will be only about half the size of the bugged building, which would still be used for unclassified activities such as processing visas and agriculture and commerce programs.

Meanwhile, U.S. companies seeking office space in Moscow have expressed an interest in leasing any space in the bugged building not needed by the government, officials said.

Before the vote, House lawmakers voiced and voted their outrage at being left out of the decision-making on what to do with the bugged embassy.

The Senate had wanted the Soviets to pay the cost of building a new U.S. Embassy in Moscow. At the urging of Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-S.C., it also had voted earlier to tear down the eight-story bugged building.

Both of those measures were dropped in negotiations earlier this week among Hollings, Rep. Neal Smith, R-Iowa; Deputy Secretary

At the November 16 concert, pianist Suzanna Puckett will perform with the Big Spring Symphony Orchestra. Assistant professor of music in piano at McMurray University, Abilene, Puckett has toured the United States, Far East and Costa Rica as a featured soloist.

Activists seeking wetlands protection

By MARIO CHRISTALDI
Herald Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Scores of environmental activists from across the country are in Washington this week pushing for broad protections of the nation's disappearing wetlands.

They are delivering a blunt message to Congress and the White House that more must be done to save wetlands and preserve water quality.

"Efforts to define away the nation's remaining wetlands are not acceptable," said Bob Adler of the Natural Resources Defense Council.

The issue has emerged as the most contentious environmental question on Capitol Hill this year, as lawmakers and the Bush administration try to decide what constitutes wetland areas and how they should be protected.

The grassroots environmental leaders who kicked off their lobbying effort Tuesday said they represent citizens' organizations in 24 states who want more stringent standards than those that have been proposed.

"We need greater protection, not less," said Arthur Feinstein of the Campaign to Save California Wetlands. He said a White House plan would cut the state's designated wetlands areas roughly in half — thereby drastically affecting wildlife, water quality and tourism revenue.

When President Bush outlined his proposal in September, commercial and farm interests hailed the plan. But environmentalists ac-

Ricky Cain of Big Spring is well known in his Kentwood neighborhood for his ongoing efforts to keep that area clean. Cain and his mother Betty's lawn improvement efforts have gained their home this month's award for Residential Beauty Spot of the Month from the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce.

Residents work together to help keep Big Spring clean

By GARY SHANKS

Litter is a personal sore spot for Big Spring's Ricky Cain, and coordinators for Saturday's Cleanfest are hoping to find other residents with the same sensibilities.

"Usually when I go walking, I'll pick up the cans and things," said Cain, whose efforts in improving the aesthetics of his home has gained the dwelling an award as the Residential Beauty Spot of the Month for Big Spring.

Cain has gained acknowledgment in his Kentwood community for his efforts, said his father Charles Cain. "It kind of gets him when he sees (trash). We've had several people tell us they appreciate him."

Other civic-minded clubs, businesses and individuals have rallied around the cleanfest banner, said coordinator Joyce Crooker.

"The (Veterans Administration Medical Center) has taken Third Street from Gregg Street to near Big John's Barbeque. They're going to clean both sides," said Crooker.

The Big Spring State Hospital, several civic clubs such as the Lion's and Rotary have volunteered, as well as several individuals, said Crooker.

Anyone wishing to participate in Cleanfest should meet at The Box parking lot at 8 a.m. Saturday, said Crooker.

"We're asking that everyone bring Weedeaters if they have them, hoes and rakes (wheelbarrows and other equipment)."

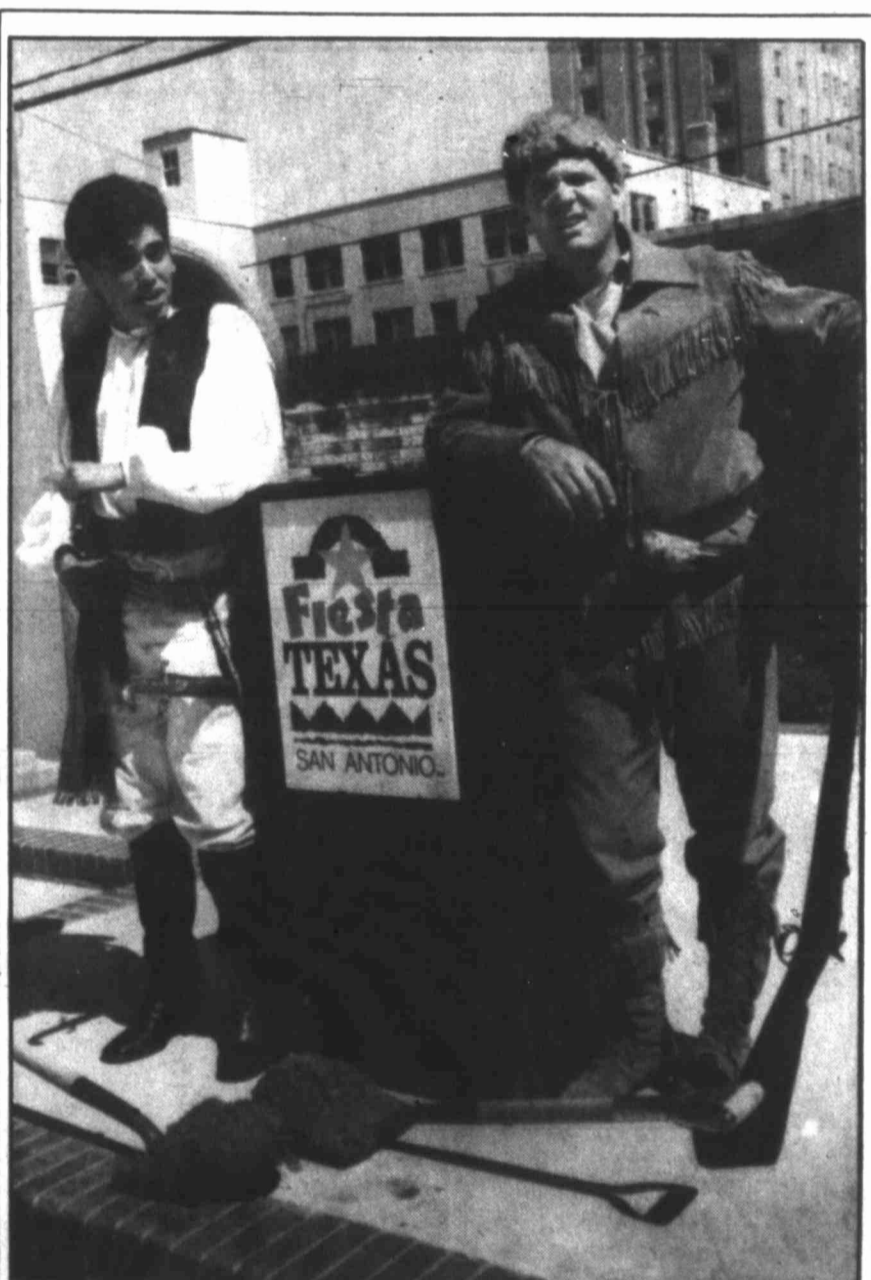

Coordinators will be making assignments there, she said.

Cleanfest will continue until 1 p.m. Don's IGA will be serving soft drinks and hotdogs to all participants, she said.

Cleanfest is associated with Project Pride, which is an ongoing effort to have the owners of Big Spring properties commit to keeping them clear of overgrowth and refuse, she said.

"The owners of K-mart, The Box, Wendy's and the Ranch House restaurant have already made arrangements to clean those properties and I think they need some recognition," said Crooker.

Cain, however, gets his rewards by walking a clean neighborhood. "When he's walking he just cleans and picks things up. It's just part of his daily routine," said Charles Cain.

Gathering dirt

John "Gregorio Esparza" Trinidad, left, and Drew "Davy Crockett" Speier speak at the downtown Pocket Park Thursday as the pair were in town to collect dirt to be used in "The Texas State Square" at Fiesta Texas, a 200-acre theme park currently being built in San Antonio. The two are one of several teams traveling to each of the 254 counties in Texas to collect dirt. The theme park, which will contain four themed areas — Hispanic, German, Western and nostalgia — along with rides, theaters and restaurants, is scheduled to open in the spring of 1992.

Victims given more rights under new law

By PATRICK DRISTOLL
Staff Writer

Victims of violent crimes have rights, too.

For example, they can be compensated up to $25,000 for damages suffered, according to state law. They also have the right to provide information for probation and parole decisions and the right to be notified of pertinent court, probation and parole proceedings.

Those rights, just some of several, have been around for years, but as of Sept. 1 law enforcement officers are required to provide victims with written notice of their rights, including information on resources for help in dealing with victimization, a new state law says.

Law enforcement agencies in Howard County were already voluntarily handing out written notices and have updated these notices to include new state requirements. City police officers were supplied with the new forms today.

The additions include the right of victims to be informed by a peace officer of a defendant's right to bail and to be informed by the district attorney's office on general procedures in restitution and the appeals process. Another change in the law requires district judges to ask state attorneys if a victim impact statement has been returned.

"I think it will probably make the victim of a crime feel more a part of the process," said Lisa Brooks, executive director of Rape Crisis/Victim Services in Big Spring, the local agency listed in the notices handed out here. "The average citizen doesn't have a real keen idea on what those specific steps are in the criminal justice system."

The new law updates the 1985 Crime Victim Bill of Rights, said

It is "just basically the right to be treated with respect and a little consideration."

Lisa Brooks

Karen Kalergis, director of Texas Crime Victim Clearinghouse of the governor's office.

"The core of all of this is to provide victims with the information they need to deal with the victimization and the legal proceeding to follow," Kalergis said.

It is "just basically the right to be treated with respect and a little consideration," Brooks said. "For the victim, the person who's been victimized, it may be the most traumatic thing that's happened in their life."

Also included on the written notice being handed out by law enforcement officers are the rights to:

- Adequate protection arising from cooperation with prosecution efforts.

- Have a magistrate take the safety of a victim into consideration as an element in setting bail.

- Be informed of criminal investigations and procedures in guilty-plea negotiations.

- Compensation to a rape victim for a medical exam.

- Be provided safeguards during court proceedings, such as a waiting room that is separate or secure from other witnesses.

- Prompt return of property after use as evidence.

- Have the state attorney notify an employer to explain the significance of a victim's cooperation in prosecution.

- Privacy, such as not having a home address, expect when it is the location of a crime, or phone numbers put into court files.

Quadruplets born on anniversary

TEMPLE (AP) — A woman gave birth to quadruplets Thursday on her 10th wedding anniversary. The two boys and two girls were delivered by cesarean and are eight weeks premature.

Pam and Billy Wilson of Lorena, about 20 miles south of Waco, also have two other daughters, Lana, 6, and Cassie, 4.

The couple used the fertility drug Clomed, said Dr. Jose F. Pliego, a reproductive endocrinologist at Scott and White Memorial Hospital in Temple.

All four infants are in fair condition in the hospital's neonatal intensive care unit and are expected to stay there for six to eight weeks, nurses said.

Hospital spokeswoman Charlene E. Lee said quadruplets occur once in every 729,000 births in the United States. But the incidence has increased over the years through use of fertility drugs.

Committee OKs Texas programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate negotiators on Thursday approved a total of $238.5 million for military construction projects in Texas, Sen. Phil Gramm said.

Gramm, R-Texas, called the bill a "clean sweep."

"This marks the first time in recent history that Texas has achieved total success on every project that was requested in the budget," said Gramm, the ranking member of the Senate's military construction subcommittee.

The senator predicted rapid final passage by the House and Senate.

The bill includes $30.2 million for barracks modernization to allow the transfer of an infantry division from Fort Polk, La., to Fort Hood near Killeen, he said.

Other projects include:

- $22.2 million for barracks modernization at Fort Bliss, El Paso.

- $13.9 million for dormitories and a weapons support center at Kelly Air Force Base, San Antonio.

- $16.6 million for expansion of a medical training facility, land acquisition for a runway and a flight training facility at Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls.

- $3.5 million to replace the Dallas Naval Air Station's medical and dental care facility.

- $3.4 million to build an engineering analysis facility at the Corpus Christi Army Depot.

Richards calls for stronger nursing home regulation

AUSTIN (AP) — State health officials said they will improve nursing home regulation as demanded by Gov. Ann Richards, who accused them of failing to protect "the weakest among us, the infirm of mind and body."

"I believe it's going to get fixed," said State Board of Health Chairman Ron Anderson, who appeared at a Thursday news conference with Richards.

Richards' ombudsman, Annette LoVoi, has been investigating the department's Bureau of Long Term Care after complaints from department employees and families of nursing home residents. Ms. LoVoi said she found regulation was lax and that the department had not used all penalties available to censure and improve homes that violated state standards.

Regulators did not even appear to understand the laws and regulations, and they were not responsive to people filing complaints, her report said.

Richards said if it were in her power, she would fire top nursing home regulators and that she expects personnel changes at the department.

"When faced with the need to move swiftly, the bureaucrats shuffled paper. When their own investigators told of mistreatment and human pain and extreme suffering and even death, they advised caution," Richards said.

"I am determined that this pattern of indifference and bureaucratic daydreaming is going to come to a screeching and immediate halt," she said.

An associate health commissioner who oversees the bureau, Juanita Carrell, said the division would try to improve. She said it had already started, within the past couple of years, good programs to improve regulation.

"I think the bureau's working hard. It's not perfect. We haven't had enough help. We don't have enough staff. But the bureau's trying hard, and we plan to be much more aggressive," Ms. Carrell said.

A former state nursing home inspector, Penny Bennett, also appeared with Richards.

Ms. Bennett said her supervisors told her not to take her job so seriously when she tried to help people being mistreated. She said she was fired after going to the ombudsman earlier this year.

Ms. Carrell said Ms. Bennett's firing was not related to her work with the ombudsman. The department also has hired a special investigator to look into Ms. Bennett's complaints, Ms. Carrell said. Richards called for strict enforcement of nursing home regulations, with special attention to repeat violators. She said there must be a telephone hotline for people to get information on nursing homes.

She is appointing a special adviser to her office who will monitor nursing home regulation. She said an inspector general should be named to review program operations and report directly to chairman Anderson.

Richards emphasized that she was criticizing the state agency, adding that the majority of nursing homes do a good job. There are about 1,100 nursing homes in Texas.

Insurance companys seek to block rule

AUSTIN (AP) — A state district judge has been asked by insurance companies to block a new rule that will prohibit them from denying or charging higher premiums to previously uninsured drivers.

Judge F. Scott McCown said he would decide later on whether to issue a temporary court order to stop enforcement of the rule that was adopted last week by the State Board of Insurance.

Adoption of the emergency rule followed complaints that insurance companies were taking advantage of drivers who were trying to purchase coverage for the first time.

Many motorists began trying to buy auto liability insurance since a new law took effect Sept. 1 that requires proof of coverage to get or renew a driver's license and license plate, and safety inspection sticker.

The state has estimated that 25 percent, or 2 million drivers don't have the required coverage.

Rio Grande Valley lawmakers and the Office of Public Insurance Counsel said insurers were either denying coverage or charging especially high premiums for those seeking insurance for the first time.

Jerry Johns, of the Southwestern Insurance Institute Service, said uninsured drivers are 24 percent to 73 percent more likely to have an accident than insured drivers. The National Association of Independent Insurers, a trade association which filed the lawsuit, said the Insurance Board's rule would raise the cost of insurance to 75 percent of Texas drivers.

But Amy Johnson, of the Office of Public Insurance Counsel, said many previously uninsured drivers have good driving records and should not be charged higher premiums.

She said the insurance industry's statistics on the risk of uninsured drivers is flawed because it lumps together motorists with terrible driving records, and those with good records, who simply could not afford to buy insurance.

New footwear

AUSTIN — Gov. Ann Richards shows off her new cast outside the state Capitol. The governor is wearing the fiberglass cast to help ligaments in her left leg heal after tearing them about two weeks ago when she stepped in a hole during a walk in Santa Fe, N.M. She said she expects to wear the cast for about 30 days in order to avoid the need for surgery.

Judge orders end to school band prayers

DENTON (AP) — A state district judge ordered the Denton High School band director to stop leading his students in prayer.

However the group will be allowed to play religious music at its halftime shows through the end of this year.

Judge John White's decision Thursday ended a 3-week-old lawsuit filed by the American Civil Liberties Union and the American Jewish Congress.

The lawsuit accused Denton High School band director Don Hanna of violating the constitutional separation of church and state. It said Hanna was promoting Christianity by directing the band to play religious music and march in the shape of a cross during halftime at football games.

The lawsuit also contended Hanna routinely led students in prayer.

Hanna's attorney D. Keith Osburn said the lawsuit allows the band to continue its current program, which includes such songs as "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" and "Precious Lord, Take The Light." The band also can play the songs at a band competition.

Hanna had already changed the cross marching formation to the shape of a flower.

From now on, school officials are prohibited from leading students in prayer or conducting bible studies, and the agreement forbids bands marching in the formation of a religious symbol.

"But in the future, and this is for any school... there cannot be any programs that have a primarily religious theme," Osburn said.

The lawsuit was filed Sept. 13 on behalf of a student and her parent against Hanna, the high school principal, superintendent and school board members.

"We're very happy that the students in the Denton schools will be able to play in the band, go to school and participate in school and extracurricular activities without being subject to religious teaching," said Joel Roffman, president of the Southwest Region of the American Jewish Congress.

"We don't believe it's a proper forum for religion to be taught."

The injunction's stipulations include:

- School and district officials and teachers cannot direct, rehearse or compose a program for school use consisting of primarily religious music.

- Officials and teacher cannot direct, rehearse or compose a program for school use intended to promote religion.

Congress OKs AIDS disclosure bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress approved a bill requiring states to ensure that doctors and other health professionals follow new federal disclosure guidelines aimed at preventing the spread of AIDS to patients.

The bill, which now goes to the White House, demands that states include provisions for disciplining doctors, dentists and nurses who violate the now-voluntary guidelines. Among other things, the guidelines call on health professionals to disclose if they have tested positive for the fatal disease.

However, the plan does not contain the 10-year prison sentences that the Senate approved in July for non-compliance. That provision, written by Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., and adopted by the Senate on an 81-18 vote, was stripped away by House and Senate negotiators.

The House and Senate both accepted the compromise by voice vote Thursday as part of a $19.9 billion appropriations bill for the Internal Revenue Service, Treasury Department, executive office of the president and several other federal agencies.

The compromise "reflects reason rather than hysteria," said Rep. Nancy Pelosi, D-Calif., one of its sponsors.

Under the measure, each state's public health department will have one year to certify that guidelines developed by the federal Centers for Disease Control be adopted.

Connecticut lays off state workers

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Gov. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., saying the unions left him no choice, began laying off hundreds of employees as Connecticut struggled to balance a $7.6 billion budget weeks after implementing a state income tax.

Public employees in California, New York, Maryland and other states face layoffs in the weeks ahead as legislators are faced with dwindling revenues, rising costs and budget-conscious taxpayers.

The 200 Connecticut workers idled Thursday are among nearly 2,500 state employees who receive pink slips last month. The governor on Thursday ordered notices for another 1,277 workers. It was not clear when the next round of layoffs would begin.

Weicker also ordered a partial shutdown of state agencies for one or more days each month beginning Nov. 1, which would furlough 11,600 workers on those days.

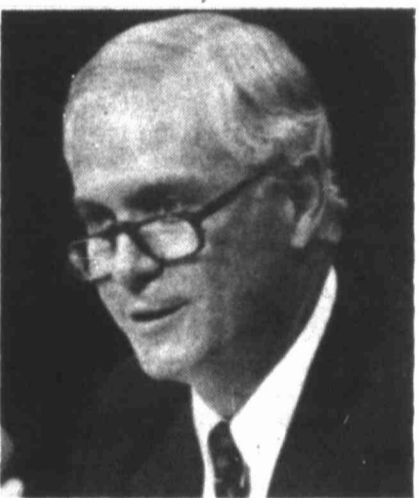

Connecticut has 45,000 state employees. The layoffs affect everything from the governor's office to the Department of Education, with law enforcement and health care among the hardest hit.

Debate releases pent-up turmoil

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sometimes-acrimonious debate over whether Robert Gates should head the CIA has unleashed decades of pent-up frustration at the spy agency — and in front of the entire nation.

"The agency is probably in a state of low morale and high indignation," said Sen. Frank Murkowski of Alaska, the ranking Republican on the Senate Intelligence Committee.

"I think we have done great damage to the CIA over the past two days," added a Republican colleague, Warren Rudman of New Hampshire.

House votes to shut down members' bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House voted 390-8 Thursday to shut down a prized perk — its members' bank — following disclosure that lawmakers, including Speaker Thomas Foley, wrote rubber checks.

The resolution also ordered an ethics committee investigation of whether House members "routinely and repeatedly" wrote checks knowing they had insufficient funds in their accounts.

House Majority Leader Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., said the investigation would concentrate not on occasional rubber check writers but look for habitual abuse "that could lead to disciplinary action against members" or House employees.

Gephardt also admitted that three of his checks, totaling $216.28, were submitted to the bank when he had insufficient funds. He blamed the problem on a payee who waited two months before presenting a Gephardt check for payment.

The resolution ordered a closure of the bank, run by the sergeant at arms office, by year's end — a move that would force members to maintain accounts with the House credit union or any other federally insured institution.

On another embarrassing matter, Foley said current and former members who are delinquent in clearing their tabs at the House restaurant should be forced to pay up.

But he said a suggestion to post the names of such members is "an extraordinary thing I'm not ready to endorse."

Foley said that he, too, had bounced a check at the House bank.

Troops in republics not threatening

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet military people I've met seem relatively cool-headed about it... but events sometimes have a way of getting out of control," McPeak said.

Senior military leaders, including then-Defense Minister Dmitri Yazov, were among the ringleaders of the August coup against Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev. But other officers refused to obey the eight-man coup committee.

One of them, air force chief of staff Yevgeny Shaposhnikov, was named the new defense minister and quickly endorsed sweeping troop reductions, the removal of Communist Party cells from the army and a transition to a better paid, mostly volunteer force.

"They wish that things would settle down a little bit," McPeak told a news conference.

Asked about the potential for military instability, he said: "I think there is a danger, there always is. Events are moving at kaleidoscopic speed. The senior

Umbrellas will blossom in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Hundreds of colorful umbrellas will blossom in Japan next week in a pair of artistic projects.

On Monday, a group led by German artist Stephan Koehler plans to release 1,001 paper umbrellas and parasols on a former castle moat in downtown Tokyo.

Koehler has spent the last four years in Japan as an apprentice in workshops of paper and umbrella makers documenting their lives. He said his $6,000 "Rain Is Heaven on Earth" project is a "reminder of the values maintained by Japan's traditional arts."

Tuesday will mark the start of the $26 million "The Umbrellas: Joint Project for Japan and U.S.A." by the artist Christo.

It calls for the simultaneous three-week display of 1,340 blue nylon umbrellas across inland valleys 75 miles north of Tokyo and 1,760 yellow nylon parasols in a mountain pass 70 miles north of Los Angeles.

Christo plans to supervise the Japanese unveiling and immediately fly to Los Angeles to oversee the debut there on the same day, with a little help from the 17-hour time difference.

Haitians fear foreign intervention

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — The army is accusing exiled President Jean-Bertrand Aristide of trying to organize a foreign invasion to regain power, while reports grew of massacres by Haitian security forces.

In a moving speech Thursday night before the U.N. Security Council, Haiti's first freely elected president asked for support from the world body and said those who ousted him on Monday want "to murder democracy."

The Organization of American States, threatening sanctions, was sending a delegation to Haiti today to demand Aristide's return.

Some laws are going crackers

With the national rush to enact laws against so-called hate crimes, it was bound to happen. During the summer a Florida black man, in an attempt to resist arrest, was charged with assault against a white police officer. But because the defendant also called the cop a "white cracker" — the full sentence was "I'll shoot you, white cracker" — he also was hit with the additional charge of violating a Florida law that increases criminal penalties when an offense "evidences prejudice based on the race, color, ancestry, ethnicity, religion or national origin of the victim."

Under the hate-crime law, a conviction could have brought a sentence of up to three years, instead of the one-year term he faces on the assault charge alone. This in a country that used to pride itself on free speech. The other day, the hate-crime charge was dropped. In Florida, there's considerable question about whether calling anyone a white cracker fits the law's definition of a racial epithet.

Some people in Florida regard "cracker" as a term of honor. There used to be an Atlanta Crackers baseball team; Sen. Bob Graham of Florida once described himself as Graham Cracker.

But the decision to drop, like the decision to charge, also illustrates the slipperiness of the hate-crimes statutes. The sponsor of the Florida law said he believes his language does pertain to the cracker remark, but acknowledged that his administrative assistant disagrees. The courts, he said, would have to sort it out.

Fortunately, in this case, they won't. Still, when the drafters of a bill are so casual about what their own legislation means, the community would be better off without it.

Hate and hate crimes are matters of legitimate concern, and the legislation, one of 33 similar state laws now on the books, may have started with the best of intentions. But trying to define a hate crime from an angry remark is a fast road into a dangerous legal and political swamp. You'd think that threatening to shoot a cop would be offense enough.

You should have been at the funeral service

(Author's note: I covered Atlanta Police Officer Frank Robert Schlatt's funeral 13 years ago and wrote the following column. Warren McCleskey was later arrested, convicted and condemned for his murder. McCleskey died in the electric chair last week. Some people felt sorry for McCleskey. Not me. Lewis Grizzard.)

Lewis Grizzard

To the man who shot Frank Robert Schlatt:

You should have been there at the funeral service they held for your victim.

Was it easy to pull that trigger? Was it easy to point that sawed-off shotgun at Frank Robert Schlatt and shoot him in the face?

What happened? Did you panic? You and your accomplices were robbing a furniture store. In walked Officer Frank Robert Schlatt of the Atlanta Police Department. You shot him. Three hours later he was dead.

I want to tell you about the funeral, and I pray to God you read this. You should know about the pain, the heartbreak, the grief you caused.

Officer Schlatt was 31. He was only 31. It's like the priest said Tuesday morning, "How can we explain death when it occurs in the midst of a life with so much potential unfulfilled?" Could you have explained that Tuesday morning?

It was a beautiful spring day. The chapel out in Forest Park was packed with people. That many again waited outside.

You have probably been to a funeral before. You probably know how haunting organ music in the background can be. As the people filed into the chapel, the organ was playing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

A number of important people came. The mayor was there, along with commissioners and ex-commissioners and even an ex-governor, Lester Maddox. He sat alone to pay his respects to the man you killed.

There were flowers everywhere. There was even a police badge made of white and blue flowers. Policemen from all over came to mourn Officer Schlatt. They came as far away as Phenix City, Alabama. One would tell me, "When a fellow officer dies, it's like something inside you dying. It is infuriating."

You know what he said about you? He said, "I don't see how that killer can live with his conscience... if he has a conscience."

An honor guard brought in the casket. Three members of the honor guard had worked all-night shifts, but volunteered to be at the funeral Tuesday morning. That is how they felt about the man you killed. The priest said something I wish you could have heard. He was talking about death not being final. Officer Schlatt, he said, "was a good man. And you cannot bury a good man."

The casket was bronze. It was draped with an American flag. The honor guard marched in. They wore white hats and white gloves. As the services continued, two members of the guard stood at strict attention on either side of the casket. One was white. One was black.

"These men fight among themselves all the time," said a man who is paid to monitor the police department, "but at a time like this, they all come together." That should worry you. They will find you and bring you to justice. You can count on it.

I wish you could have been standing with me outside when they brought officer Schlatt's body from the chapel.

Scripture was read. There was a prayer. The family sat under a tent in folding chairs, just a few feet from the one they loved so much.

There was Officer Schlatt's father. He gazed ahead in shock and disbelief. There was his mother, a tiny, graying lady who wept openly. Another relative fainted.

There was also the widow. She wore black, her shoulders covered in a white shawl. I watched her as she tried to say "The Lord's Prayer" aloud. She choked on every word. She was such a pretty woman, even in her grief. She was blonde and small. Young widows can break the coldest heart. Maybe even yours.

I wish you could have seen the honor guard fold the flag. Their leader broke down. I wish you could have seen the mayor hand the flag to Officer Schlatt's widow. I wish you could have heard the bugler blow taps. More than anything, I wish you could have seen your victim's daughter. She is 12. Her name is Jodie. She cried, too. She cried hard and she cried long.

There was a small flower on top of the casket. It was red and white. When the honor guard folded the flag, they folded the flower inside it.

It was Jodie's flower. She had placed it on her daddy's casket. You should have been there..

Ah am so from around he-yur

By GARY SHANKS Staff Writer

Look, why is it people accuse me of being "not from around here" (pronounced he-yur. God only knows where that extra syllable comes from.) just because I don't speak in a thick West Texas dialect.

Having spent the first 22 years of my life in this town gives me the right to pick on the local accent a little, I think.

"You sure do have an ack-see-unt," I was recently told — again.

To which, I responded, "I'ma fixin'ta move ta Angland, an ah wanna practice." I think she may have bought it, I'm not sure.

By the way, you can't imagine how funny the term "fixin'ta" is to people from out of state. Most of them have come to accept "ya'll," but "fixin'ta" really drives them nuts.

"Whur you from, anyways?" "I'm from right here — Gomer!"

"Yar not! You gotta ack-see-unt."

"AAARGHGHHGH!!!!" And then I chopped him up and put him in a dumpster. I didn't want to, but I felt I owed it to him.

Working on a story the other day, I called the University of California at Los Angeles.

When the lady answered the phone I said, "Yes ma'am, my name is Gary Shanks. I'm with the Big Spring Herald paper in Texas."

"I love talking to people from Texas," she said.

"Really?" (pronounced like it's spelled. Not the usual West Texas "rilly") Why? Do I have an accent?"

"Not really, but no one else uses the word 'ma'am,'" she said.

Huh! Well! Just yell "yippee-kye-yay" and beat me with an armadillo — I didn't know that.

I'm not saying it's bad to have a heavy accent. Just watch the local mispronunciations.

One does not think of a new ideal. One has an idea! Some of the older folks even have i-dees (emphasis on the first syllable).

It's not nukyulur energy. It's pronounced new-clee-ur.

While the term warsh, as in washing clothes or Washington D.C., is not normally associated with this part of the country, many people out here wrench the soap out of those clothes when they're clean.

You can hear people who want "an extry heppin' from the table, before I go t' the liberry."

Or phrases like, "Whup 'im Leroy! Make 'im holler calf-roppe!" (I fully believe I would rather get beaten up before actually screaming "calf-roppe!") What does that mean anyway?)

Of course there are always people who are plum this or that. Being plum tarred, or plum give out is common.

But that's not really a mispronunciation. I'll call words like that local-colloquial.

Another such term is up'n, as in, he up'n died.

Even though many people out here are in the all bidness or bidne', they really mean the oil business.

Or how about, "all ya'll young'uns git outside!"

And if you tell someone from another part of the country, "Reckon I'll holler at 'im. He's out yonder," they will not have the slightest idea what you mean.

Phrases like that are less common, however. After all, not everyone out here is Snuffy Smith.

But the incredible replicating syllable is probably the most familiar aspect of the West Texas dialect.

Words with such syllables include: "Hay-ose, as in, 'We live in a brick hay-ose.'"

Whay-ur, as in, "He went whay-ur?" (However, this is sometimes pronounced whur.)

"That dress is 30-pur-see-unt off."

Well, I'm dawg tarred uh pickin' on people's ack-see-unts; guess Ah jist head ta the hay-ose. Bye!

The writer's art Court of peeves is in session

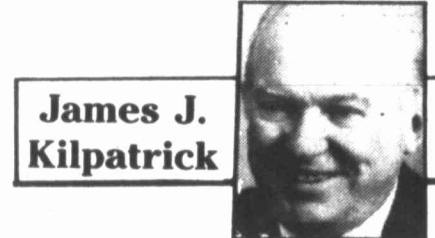

All rise! The Court of Irks, Peeves and Crotchets opens its autumn term with a plea from Bill Mabe of Wichita, Kan. He asks a permanent injunction against "basically" and offers 15 exhibits in support of his petition. Among the exhibits:

"There was just basically the skeleton inside the building... making him basically say uncle... Basically, he'd lay down his life for me... He said that he, basically, was looking for a woman over 30... They just basically acted like they knew us... The area around the corner is where basically her aunt did her soliciting."

Enough! Injunction granted! The court's docket is jammed with similar petitions involving adverbs of universal convenience. Dozens of things are becoming "friendly." A word-processing program is "user friendly." The Wall Street Journal quotes a progressive manufacturer who tries to be "environmentally friendly." May we have a motion to ban "arguably" altogether? The court regards these effusions as simply abominable and admonishes all persons never to use "simply" in such a construction.

While the court is in its banning mode, on its own motion the court will ban veggie, as in a "veggie cookbook." This cockroach noun crept into the language about 10 years ago and will not go away. Out with it!

Jorge Mino of Mechanicsburg, Pa., asks an injunction against the use of "scenario" except to identify a dramatic script. He offers in evidence, "The benefits of the concept must be measured against a 'no build' scenario on the regional transportation system." Yuccch! Injunction granted.

John E. Benneth of Tigard, Ore., asks for a ruling on the distinction between "to persuade" and "to convince." As Exhibit A he offers a sentence from The Wall Street Journal: "The Kremlin is trying with mixed results to convince the republics to maintain an economic union." Exhibit B is from the Cox News Service: "Russian President Boris Yeltsin Thursday convinced his parliament to grant him sweeping new powers." Aaargh!

The question has come up several times during the past 10 years, and the court has not wavered in its view. "Persuade" is weak; "convince" is strong. An argument may be persuasive; it is not yet convincing. "Persuade" takes a following infinitive; "convince" takes a "that" or an "of."

Thus, the Kremlin was trying to persuade the republics to maintain an economic union. Yeltsin convinced the parliament that it should grant him sweeping new powers. Yeltsin was convinced of the rightness of his position. To be sure, various learned lexicographers assert that the court is full of hot air in insisting upon this distinction, but the court is unmoved, that is, the court is neither persuaded nor convinced of error.

A 9-letter word meaning fun

OLD SAYBROOK, Conn. (AP) — What's a four-letter word for a seed covering? A five-letter word for rose perfume? The proper name for an eagle's nest? If you know the answers immediately, chances are you're a crossword puzzle maven — the perfect candidate for a club that boasts 67,000 subscribers nationwide.

The Crosswords Club, which operates out of a small office in an elite coastal suburb, is made for people who can reel off words like aril, attar and aerie — the answers to the clues above. It's for people who first open their newspapers to the crossword page and feel a mixture of satisfaction and melancholy when the daily challenge has been met and all the little boxes are filled in.

"Our members are upscale, well-educated, affluent — and they usually have a lot of leisure time," says club president Paula Strobel.

Membership in the club costs $30 — $45 for large-type puzzles — and includes a mailing of five original puzzles each month. The puzzles are the same size and level of difficulty as those appearing each Sunday in The New York Times Magazine, Strobel said.

They're edited, in fact, by Will Weng, editor of the Times' puzzles from 1969 to 1977, and a legend in crossword circles.

Weng, now 84, has been involved in the club since it began in 1981, the brainchild of two couples vacationing together on Nantucket.

Jonis and Kathryn Gold were houseguests of Nob and Michele Hovde, and the four were spending a Sunday afternoon together on the beach, reading the Times. There were two crossword puzzle lovers — Michele Hovde and Jonis Gold — but, alas, only one copy of the coveted puzzle.

"I have never done a puzzle in Paula Strobel, president of the Crosswords Club, poses in her Old Saybrook, Conn. office recently. The club sends out five new, original crossword puzzles to members every month at a cost of $30 to $45.

my life, and my wife is addicted to them," Hovde said. "My wife was invoking her rights as the hostess, he was invoking his rights as the guest, and I thought, 'My God, these people are almost serious in their arguments.'"

It was that element of seriousness, that desperation for the weekly fix, that sparked the idea.

"The four of us got to talking," Hovde said, "and I said, 'Wouldn't it be nice if on Wednesdays — midweek — the addicted could receive a special puzzle in the mail?'"

The couples soon realized that sending out puzzles weekly would be too expensive, but they liked the idea of giving crossword lovers more puzzles than they could get in the newspapers.

And who better to recruit as puzzles editor than Weng, who had — fortuitously — recently retired from the Times?

The group placed their first advertisement in October 1981, in time for holiday gift-giving.

EDITOR'S NOTE — People interested in subscribing can write to the Crosswords Club, P.O. Box 435, Old Saybrook, Conn. 06475, or call 800-874-0430.

Lionesses host 'just say no club'

When the Howard County Lionesses, Madeline Boadle and Lloyd Ola Bearden, held the first meeting of the school year of the "Just Say No" Club Thursday afternoon at 3:45 forty seven boys and girls signed for membership. The meeting was held at the Westside Community Center.

The children watched the cartoon "All Stars To The Rescue" while enjoying their refreshments as the Lionesses were getting them registered. "Drugs Don't Stand a Chance Against These Guys" was the sub-title to the show. Some other activities and projects were talked about with the children who were active in the past.

If parents want more information, and want to get involved they are welcomed to contact the Westside Community Center.

Regular meetings are usually on the third Thursday of each month.

Scoutmaster Frank Woodall presented the new troop 401 charter to Jim Sanders and Frank Crawford of the BPO Elks Lodge #1386. This charter represents the 17th year of sponsorship of Scouting by the lodge. Many of the 2,280 Elks Lodges around the country sponsor groups of Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts. A primary reason for this lasting partnership is the shared goals of the Elks and the Scouts. Goals like the promotion of the spirit of American patriotism and the cultivation of good fellowship.

Wife's jealousy is overdone

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for nearly five years and have two adorable children. We are each other's best friend, get along great, and have a terrific sex life.

My problem: When a sexy-looking woman comes on TV, I change the channel. This infuriates my husband like you wouldn't believe. He is normally not a violent man, but he gets so angry he looks like he'd like to strangle me! This is the only thing we ever fight about. I can't stand to see the way he looks at women with low-cut dresses or miniskirts.

Yesterday, he was watching a beauty pageant, and when all the girls came out in their bikini bathing suits, I thought his eyes were going to fall out of his head!

Abby, can you blame me for changing the channel?

—JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: Yes. If your marriage has survived five years of channel-changing because of your jealousy, your husband must love you very much.

Grow up. The problem isn't your husband's — it's yours. Since you can't stand to see him appreciating the sight of a provocative female on TV, you should leave the room.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I have had this problem for years, and it keeps getting worse: my teeth.

I have no dental plan and I'm unemployed right now. Abby, I hide my teeth 24 hours a day. If someone talks to me, I turn my head and pretend to be interested in something to one side, so he won't see my teeth. I don't even brush my teeth in front of a mirror because I get too depressed. I often have dreams about my teeth falling out with all my friends watching and laughing. It's a living nightmare.

Abby, I feel like my life is going nowhere. If I could just get my teeth fixed, a whole new world would open up to me. Meanwhile, I'm ... KEEPING MY MOUTH SHUT

DEAR KEEPING: Schools of dentistry (as well as state and local dental societies) operate dental clinics where low-cost — or free — dental care is available for those who qualify.

Your county dental society should be listed in your telephone directory. And any dentist can refer you to the nearest dental college.

Do not delay. Your general health can be undermined by infected gums and decaying teeth.

DEAR ABBY: A friend gave me an idea she said came from your column years ago that solved the "thank-you note" problem in her family. I use it with my two children and it works!

They may not spend the money, play with the toy or wear the clothing until their thank-you notes are written. I began this practice when they were too young to do it for themselves. Now, my 5-year-old dictates his note to me and I write it verbatim (which amazes him) and then he signs it! My 9-year-old does it herself.

I have tried to remind them if they were the sender, they would like to know how the recipient felt about the gift — or even if it arrived. — LINDA BYZEWSKI, KINGMAN, ARIZ.

Billy Graham; a look at one man and his journey

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Graham no longer thinks he is going to save America.

Armageddon, he believes, is approaching. And even if it is not, his own mortality will prevent him from reviving a nation where good and evil are growing apace: He will be 73 in November, and his doctor at the Mayo Clinic has promised to keep him going only until he is 75.

"I know that my years are running out," he says.

Recently, in the twilight of his remarkable career, Graham returns to New York, the "graveyard of evangelists" he conquered 34 years ago with a 16-week Madison Square Garden run that established him as America's preacher.

More than three decades ago, the prospect of the dairy farmer's son from North Carolina taking on the modern Sodom and Gomorrah — and drawing capacity crowds — caught the national fancy. Tall, broad-shouldered and square-jawed, he was the Kirk Douglas of the evangelical movement.

But when he walked through a Manhattan hotel on a recent morning, no heads turned. He walked haltingly, clinging to a handrail, his features furrowed with pain. He was hobbled by a back problem and jet lag from a trip to the Soviet Union.

He approaches this latest crusade with enthusiasm, but also with weariness; the burden of carrying a $100 million-a-year evangelistic empire on his increasingly frail shoulders often wears on him.

Leighton Ford, the brother-in-law who worked for the evangelist for 31 years, said Graham confided to him late one night after a 1985 crusade, "I just wish I could go to heaven."

What is Billy Graham's legacy? "Two or three centuries from now, he will be among a few names that we remember," said sociologist Jeffrey Hadden of the University of Virginia. "He's clearly a sterling figure in American religious history."

He has become "the most important figure in evangelical Christianity in a half-century," according to William Martin, a sociologist at Rice University who spent five years researching an upcoming biography of Graham.

Billy Sunday was reduced to preaching in small towns at the end of his career. Charles Finney gave up the demanding career of a revivalist to found Oberlin College. Other evangelists' stars rose and fell even more quickly with the changing mood of the country.

But Billy Graham keeps rolling on.

The man who once was an intimate of Dwight Eisenhower was the same man George Bush wanted at his side when he announced the nation was going to war in the Middle East.

The man who in 1956 compared the Soviet Union to a gangster set loose to murder and pillage is the same man who granted much-publicized audiences this summer to both Mikhail Gorbachev and Boris Yeltsin.

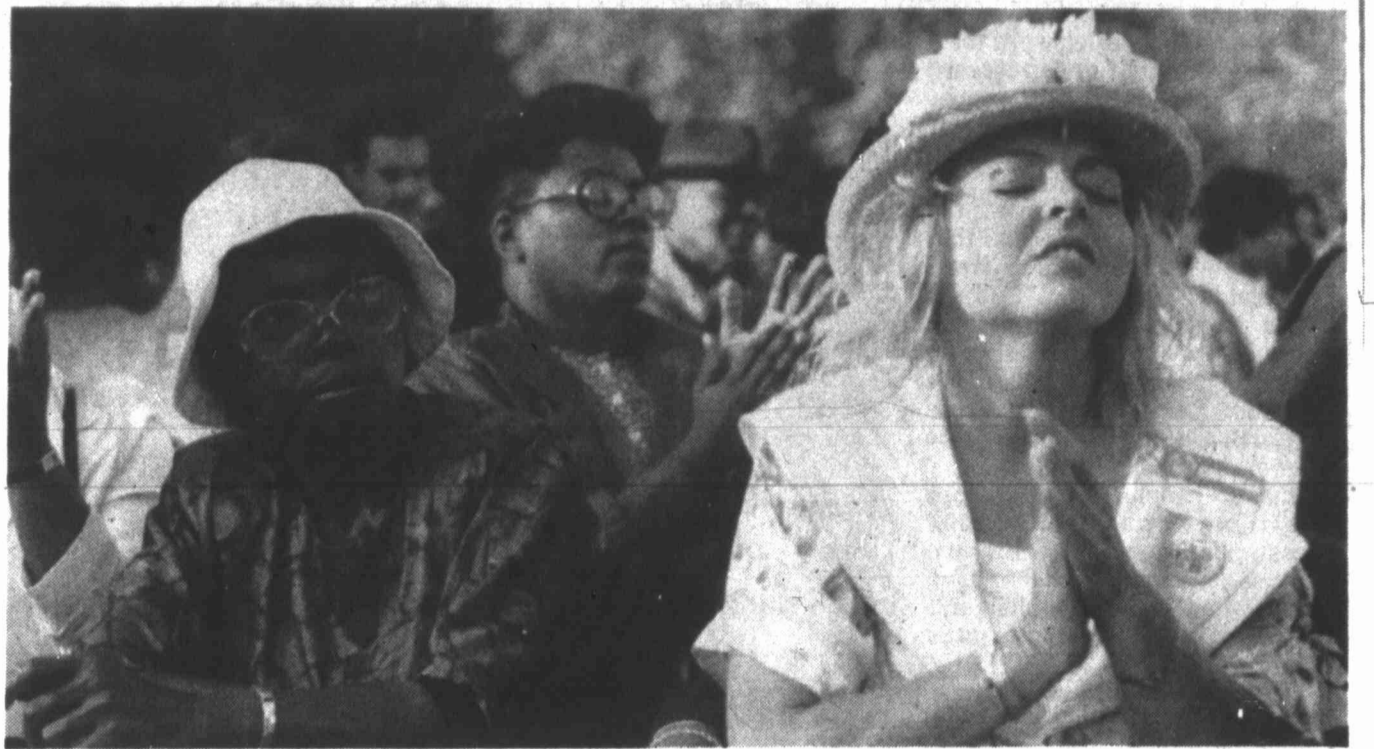

In the 1950s, he took on communism and complacency. In the 1960s, he reassured evangelicals who despaired in the Age of Aquarius. In the 1970s, he promoted a new way of thinking about the Soviet Union and arms control. In the 1980s, he settled in as an icon of American religiosity.

Throughout, he has been venerated. He has been listed 32 times in Gallup Polls of the world's 10 most admired men, more than any other person.

Again and again, say Martin and Hadden, secular people who are wary of the Jerry Falwells and Pat Robertsons ask, "Tell me why I like him."

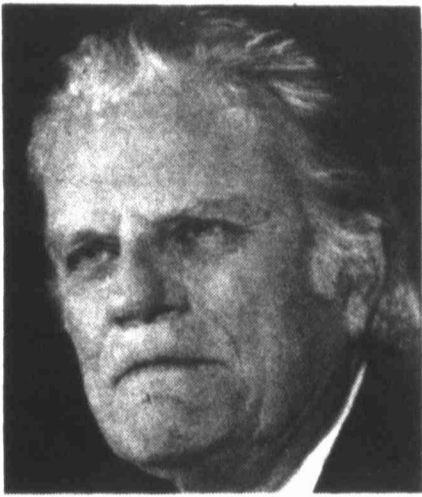

For one thing, Martin notes, Graham is a regular guy who can skinny dip with Lyndon Johnson or flip through Playboy at a barber shop without embarrassment.

But he's also an example of clean living. He avoids even the hint of

One woman, left, listens with interest while another woman, right, seems swept away during evangelist Billy Graham's crusade in New York's Central Park in Sept. The evangelist, on his first

New York crusade since 1970, told a crowd of about 200,000 that New York is "the loneliest place in the world."

scandal, keeping his office door open when a woman is alone with him and having aides check hotel rooms for uninvited females before he enters.

Early in his career, Graham established pioneering financial controls for his empire. His ministry is run by an independent board of directors. He could make millions from his books, personal appearances and radio, television and film ministries, but he limits himself to a salary of $69,150 a year.

"Graham has rendered evangelical faith legitimate... in part by being sort of a good guy," Hadden said.

Still, Graham has had to endure his share of critics.

Liberals going back to the Protestant theologian Reinhold Niebuhr have criticized Graham's form of Christianity for relying on emotion and a simplistic view of the Bible, and ignoring social needs in favor of a mass-production approach to gaining converts.

"In relation to others, I used to think that if a person had experienced what I had experienced, he wasn't a believer," Graham said. "It was my own ignorance. I had not had the opportunity to fellowship with people in other communities before."

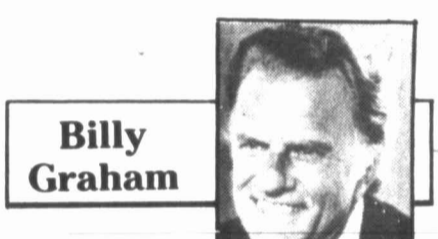

Have a love for God and love for others

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: What do you think should be the most important personal characteristic of a person who claims to be a Christian? I suppose there are many answers to this, but I would be interested in knowing how you would answer it. — Mrs. Y.G.

DEAR MRS. Y.G.: The Bible indicates that the most important personal characteristic of a Christian is love — love for God, and love for others.

When Jesus was asked what the most important commandment of God was, He answered: "Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength. ... Love your neighbor as yourself" (Mark 12:30-31). He then passed along that same commandment for His disciples to obey: "Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. All men will know that you are my disciples if you love one another" (John 13:34-35).

There are, however, two problems with this command to love God and to love others. In the first place, we have lost sight of what true love really is. "Love" to many people today is little more than a shallow emotion. But love is more than an emotion. It's a settled commitment to love others the way Christ loves them — to love them even when they are unlovable.

The other problem is that we don't have that kind of love in our hearts as we should. By nature we are selfish, and we are more concerned about ourselves than we are about others or about God. But Christ can give us that love as we commit our lives to Him and the Holy Spirit begins to change our hearts. The Bible says, "But the fruit of the Spirit is love" (Galatians 5:22).

It was love which sent Christ to the cross for our salvation. Do you have His love in your heart? You can — by yielding your life to Christ today.

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Don't use my name. I don't want my family to know what is really going on inside me, although some day soon they will find out, because I have decided to kill myself. I think God is a forgiving God, and anyway my problems are too great. I just can't face life anymore. — J.S.

DEAR J.S.: As strongly as I possibly can I urge you not to take this drastic, final step. Don't presume on the forgiveness of God; it is not God's will for you to take your own life. One of the Ten Commandments declares, "You shall not murder" (Exodus 20:13) — and the deliberate and conscious ending of one's own life is a form of murder.

Why is it not God's will? One reason is because He loves you. Do you really believe that? It is true! The proof is that Jesus Christ was willing to die on the cross for your salvation. And because He loves you, He wants what is best for you. He has a future for you — both on this earth, and in eternity. Don't turn your back on what He wants to do in your life. "Now choose life, so that you and your children may live and that you may love the Lord your God, listen to his voice, and hold fast to him. For the Lord is your life, and he will give you many years" (Deuteronomy 30:19-20).

I urge you to get whatever help you may need to sort out your problems and overcome them. Begin by turning them — and your whole life — over to Jesus Christ. Then share your problems with a pastor or with someone else who can help you and encourage you. Don't bury your problems or suppress them within you; that solves nothing, and in fact it can be very harmful.

God wants to help you if you will let Him — and so do others. God knows all about your problems — and He also knows the answer to them. Yes, by yourself you may feel helpless, but with Christ's help there is hope for tomorrow.

Drugs and kids

One of the most important issues facing parents today is how to teach their children to deal responsibly with the drugs and alcohol which are so prevalent in our society.

This Sunday at 9:45 a.m. the Unitarian-Universalist Church, 3301 Neely at Midkiff, will offer an opportunity to seek answers to this question. Small discussion groups will be asked to seek solutions to various hypothetical situations involving children and drugs.

All adults, regardless of their parental status, are encouraged to come and offer their insights into this vital issue.

Youth religious education activities will also be available beginning at 9:45 a.m.

Youth revival planned

Central Baptist Church, in the Elbow community, will be hosting a youth revival with plenty of fun in store for everyone.

The fun begins on Oct. 3 at 7:30 p.m. and runs through Oct. 6.

There will be different activities every night including: basketball, volleyball, food bars, T-shirts, comedy routines and plenty of fellowship.

The Rev. Kenny Heath, from Girdletree, Md., will be the guest speaker.

It's shaping up to be a very good time. Adults are welcome to attend also. For additional information on activities and schedules call 398-5469.

Search for a Texas mother

The search is on to find a qualified Texas Mother for 1992 by the Texas Mothers Association, affiliate of the American Mothers,

Inc., headquarters at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City, by February 1, 1992, whose purpose is to develop and strengthen the moral and spiritual foundations of the family and home.

Organized in 1933 as part of the Golden Rule Foundation, American Mothers, Inc., is a non-profit and interfaith organization which conducts the annual search for the state and national Mother of the Year.

There are educational programs for mothers of young children and adolescents, a nutrition, creative arts projects and a religious emphasis which includes a chapel in every home and a national prayer vigil. All programs are designed to recognize the importance of the home and family, as well as the role of the mother in the home, community, nation and the world.

Mrs. Edwards V. (Ouida) Dorr, Houston, Texas, is the 1992 President of the Texas chapter of the Texas Mothers organization. The rules for the Outstanding Texas Mother, in our nomination form, indicate she must be at least forty-five years of age, her youngest child at least age fifteen, a legal mother married in a legally accepted ceremony, may have legally adopted children as well as her natural children, be a successful mother and homemaker as evidenced by the character and contributions of her children in the field of education, religion, civic, government or business.

She must be an active member of a religious body, a participant in community, state and/or national activities. Foster children may be included but do not qualify her as a legal mother. She must be qualified to represent the mothers of America in all responsibilities attached to her role. Her personal qualifications are those highly regarded in mothers, including understanding, patience, compassion, love, courage and homemaking skills.

Nuclear waste dump near Carlsbad debated

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — An Energy Department move to open a nuclear waste dump in New Mexico has drawn anger from the state's congressional delegation, a threat of court action by its attorney general, and disappointment even from supporters of the project.

Energy Secretary James Watkins assumed control of the 10,240-acre site near Carlsbad on Thursday, a week after Congress missed a DOE-imposed deadline for passing a bill to open the repository.

A spokesman for Gov. Bruce King said the governor would support a lawsuit to delay the opening of the Waste Isolation Pilot Program. He said the governor was told the first shipment is expected to come from the Idaho National Engineering Laboratory as early as Oct. 10.

Watkins' action came after talks between DOE and New Mexico Sens. Pete Domenici, a Republican, and Jeff Bingaman, a Democrat, broke down. The talks centered on how much waste should be shipped to the site during a seven-year test phase.

"I deeply regret we were not able to come to terms on a legislative bill that would have avoided administrative withdrawal," Domenici said.

The land transfer was needed before the department could begin the test program at the underground storage facility 26 miles southeast of Carlsbad.

Domenici had argued that a congressional land transfer would ensure adequate oversight by the Environmental Protection Agency and compensation for the state. An attempt to craft such a transfer failed Thursday in a dispute over how many barrels of wastes should be allowed under the test program.

Bingaman said he refused to back down from his position that no more than 4,500 drums be stored during the tests, a little more than half the 8,500 barrels the DOE wanted.

Domenici offered a final compromise that would allow 9,000 drums under some circumstances, but that proposal failed to get Bingaman's support.

A spokesman for Bingaman said the senator objected to DOE's "last minute" demand for additional shipments.

Watkins then moved administratively, as he can do by law, to have the WIPP site transferred from the Interior Department.

The DOE in 1990 made an offer to the state of $600 million in aid to compensate for hosting WIPP.

Under the administrative withdrawal, Watkins said $20 million in aid and $43 million for road improvements can be released to the state. But, he added, "if the state takes legal action against the DOE we will have to withhold this $63 million."

State Sen. Louis Whitlock, a longtime WIPP advocate, blamed the New Mexico congressional delegation for losing the larger sum of money.

"This is something we've been trying to tell our congressional delegation for years, that if they did not act that we would have an administrative land withdrawal and consequently we would lose the $600 million," said Whitlock, D-Carlsbad.

Energy Department spokesman Fred Lash said the state Thursday had been given the required seven-day notice before waste shipments can proceed.

Some New Mexico residents have threatened to lie down in front of trucks carrying radioactive waste if the DOE begins shipments to WIPP.

Festival to be Sunday

The annual St. Lawrence Fall Festival has been scheduled for Oct. 6 at the church parish hall, located 10 miles south of Garden City on Highway 33, then five miles west on Highway 2401.

The festival committee will be serving homemade German sausage, barbecue and all the trimmings from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m., according to Theresa Eoff of the St. Lawrence Women's Society.

Cost of the meal is $5 for adults and $3 for children under 12. An evening meal is scheduled from 5-7 p.m., consisting of sausage sandwiches, dessert and tea. Uncooked sausage will be sold at $3.50 per pound starting at 10 a.m. The festival will also feature booths such as spin-a-wheel, grab bag, balloons, coke ring toss, sucker tree and the kountry kitchen with handcrafted items and homemade baked items. Bingo will be held from noon until 4 p.m.

An auction is set to start at 2 p.m. with bales of cotton along with other items donated by various businessmen to be on the block. Four chances will be raffled off for a handmade quilt by the St. Theresa Altar Society; two half-beefs by the Catholic Life Society; a drawing for $500 or a trip to Las Vegas by the Knights of Columbus and chances on a gun by the Men's Society.

The festival will conclude with a dance by the Country and Western band Tomahawk from 7-10 p.m. Admission is $5 per person.

Republican challenges Mauzy

AUSTIN (AP) — A Republican appeals court judge says he will limit his political donations and seek campaign and ethics reforms as he runs for the Texas Supreme Court.

But the man who holds the seat Craig Enoch wants, incumbent Democratic Justice Oscar Mauzy, branded such talk "just some more political rhetoric, the kind you would expect."

Enoch, chief justice of the Dallas-based 5th Court of Appeals, said he wants the GOP nomination to challenge Mauzy, who lost a bid last year to oust Republican Chief Justice Tom Phillips.

"The people of this state are tired of politicians in their courts," Enoch said Wednesday. "I will win because the people of this state want a judge, not a politician."

Enoch referred to the CBS-TV program "60 Minutes," which four years ago asked "Is Justice for Sale" in Texas because of unlimited campaign contributions in state court elections.

"Televisions across this country and the world revealed violations of judicial ethics, secret communications between lawyers and judges, decisions that appeared to be bought by large campaign contributions," Enoch said.

"The people of Texas were embarrassed and the nation was shocked. Confidence in our system of justice was shattered. No one could depend on the opinions and rulings of the highest court of our state," he said.

Enoch said that of the four judges discussed by the CBS program, Mauzy in the only one still on the Supreme Court.

Responding, Mauzy said Enoch had been a political operative for former Republican Gov. Bill Clements, who appointed Enoch both to district and appeals court benches.

He said Enoch was "rewarded by Gov. Clements, first to the district court and then chief justiceship of the Dallas court of appeals, in repayment for those services."

Enoch, 41, is a 1975 graduate of Southern Methodist University law school. Clements named him to the district court bench in 1981, and he was re-elected in 1982 and 1986.

cused the president of siding with development interests and abandoning his 1988 campaign pledge of "no net loss" of wetlands.

The president's vow "lies in shambles at our feet," said Tom Dustin, head of the Hoosier Environmental Council, the grassroots coalition in Indiana. He said the wetlands debate marks a "dramatic moment in the environmental history of the United States."

The debate has heated up as Congress moves toward reauthorizing the 1972 Clean Water Act covering protection of wetlands. The nation's vanishing coastal and lakefront bogs, swamps and marshlands are vital wildlife habitats that help prevent erosion and act as natural filters for sediments and pollutants.

Steve Moyer, a wetlands expert with the National Wildlife Federation, said the Bush plan imperils up to half of the estimated 100 million acres of wetlands left in the United States.

The season's final presentation will be a Pops Concert May 2, with Jerry and Paula Stephens, Dallas, as a guest duo-piano team. He is a piano teacher and accompanist for the Dallas Symphony Chorus.

"An increase in ticket sales as well as individual and corporate donations are essential for funding this ambitious season," said Gil

Friday Football Forecast

Compiled by Herald Sports Staff

Wall (4-0, 1-0) at Coahoma (3-1, 0-1)

Either way you look at it, this is a must win for the Coahoma Bulldogs.

Coahoma is coming off a 35-19 loss to district favorite Iraan. Meanwhile the Wall Hawks are fresh from a 42-6 win over Stanton.

This is a case of the David against Goliath. The Bulldogs are the giants and the Hawks are the tiny people. Both teams are well balanced offensively and both teams have good defenses.

A plus for Coahoma is that the Bulldogs have played a tougher schedule up to this date. A plus for Wall is the Hawks are used to playing in pressure games.

A Steven New touchdown will be the difference. A "must" win situation and the homefield advantage pay off the Bulldogs.

Coahoma 28, Wall 21

Colorado City (2-2) at Wylie (2-1-1)

The Colorado City Wolves are coming off a 14-12 win over the Merkel Badgers. The Wylie Bulldogs dropped a 17-15 decision to Graham last week.

In Colorado City's win, the return of star running back Kevin Green was the difference. In Wylie's loss, three turnovers and almost 100 yards in penalties was the difference. Wylie outgained Graham 331-159 in total yardage.

This week the speedy Bulldogs will cut down on their turnovers and mistakes. The Wolves offense will continue to get better, but they won't beat the Bulldogs.

Wylie 28, Colorado City 14

McCamey (1-3, 0-1) at Stanton (0-4, 0-1)

Both teams need this win to get into the thick of the district race. The Stanton Buffalos were whipped by Wall 42-8 last week. The McCamey Badgers lost a heart-breaker to unbeaten Eldorado, 7-0. Eldorado scored with 7:34 left in the game.

Stanton is getting a little more offensive production, but the offense is still struggling. McCamey has a mediocre offense and defense. That should be enough to squeeze past the Buffalos.

McCamey 14, Stanton 7

Iraan (3-1, 1-0) at Forsan (0-4, 0-1)

Another long night for the young Forsan Buffaloes. The veteran Iraan Braves roll into town fresh off a 35-19 over Coahoma. Forsan is coming off a 47-0 loss to Ozona, a game in which the Buffs started an entire freshmen backfield.

This is going to be another learning experience for the Buffaloes. Riley Malone and the Braves will feast on Buffalo meat.

Iraan 42, Forsan 6

Roscoe (1-3) at G-City (4-0)

The high-flying Garden City Bearkats begin District 9-A action tonight when they host the Roscoe Plowboys.

The Plowboys, who went winless in 1990, finally found that winning feeling when they defeated the Forsan Buffaloes two weeks ago.

Winning, however, is something that No. 1 Bearkats have become very adept at — and with the likes of Shae Scott and James Soles on offense and Eric Seidenberger and Jim Bob Scott on defense, there's no reason to doubt tonight will be any different.

The Plowboys get plowed.

Garden City 52, Roscoe 6

Ira (1-3) at Sands (4-0)

The state-ranked Sands Mustangs will seek to keep their record spotless when they host the Ira Bulldogs in a six-man battle tonight.

This might be an interesting matchup. Ira has shown quite a propensity for scoring, while the Mustangs have been absolutely stingy on defense.

The major difference, however, is that Ira doesn't have a defense to match its offense, and Sands' offense knows the way to the end zone.

Can we say 5-0, boys and girls?

Sands 48, Ira 12

B-County (2-2) at Klondike (0-4)

The area game of the week for six-man fans.

Two old rivals, the Borden County Coyotes and the Klondike Cougars, square off in Patricia tonight, and if form holds, this should be a doozy.

Forget the records, forget stats and forget almost anything else used in forecasting football games — these two teams always seem to play it close.

The young Coyotes finally seem to be on firm footing, as evidenced by their shellacking of Loop last week, while the equally young Cougars are still searching for that first win.

This is homecoming for Klondike, and the Cougars are ready to roar. Can we say Upset Special of the Week, boys and girls?

Not this time.

Borden Co. 34, Klondike 29

Hermleigh (0-4) at Grady (1-3)

The Grady Wildcats, after struggling for the first three weeks of the season, broke into the win column with a surprisingly easy win over Loraine last Friday.

The Hermleigh Cardinals, meanwhile, haven't won a game in more than two years. The Cardinals' troubles increased when they had to forfeit a game this year because of a lack of players.

Hermleigh has vowed it will field a team tonight.

Not that it will help.

Cross-country meet Saturday

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

Big Spring's ranks will be thin when it hosts the Big Spring Invitational Cross Country Meet Saturday.

The meet is expected to draw 35 teams in the two-team division. Action starts at 10 a.m. at the old air base golf course. Class 5A, 4A and 3A will make up the varsity division, while 2A, A and JV 5A, 4A and 3A teams will compose the junior varsity division.

Coach Randy Britton's Steers and Lady Steers teams will be short-handed for this one, especially the Lady Steers. Britton said the Steers varsity will have a full team, but as of Thursday morning he wasn't sure who all would run on the team. The Lady Steers, who have won four consecutive district championships, won't have a full squad. Missing will be Britton's No. 2 and No. 3 runners.

Britton has one of his youngest teams in recent history, but added that he sees a lot of potential. "I see some glimmers of the teams I had in 1981 and '82 when I had some good runners, if they just stick with it," said Britton.

"We're young. We've only got one senior, one junior and a lot of sophomores and freshmen. That really isn't good now, but if they just stick with it, it will be good later on."

The Steers' top runner has been junior Lee Christian, who ran the three-mile course in 17:41. Britton said Christian's best time last year was in the low 18s and most of the time he ran in the 19-20 minute range.

The Steers' next best runner is senior Sammy Gonzales, who's run a 17:45. Gonzales didn't break 19 minutes last year. Next are sophomores Chris Martinez (18:11), Jerry Trevino (18:11) and Mark Rocha (18:14).

Other hopefuls are freshmen Andy Garza (18:32), Jesse Ornelas

BSHS quarterback Cobos pleased with changes

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

One of the players who is most pleased with the Big Spring Steers' overall offensive change is Gerald Cobos.

Last season Cobos got his first call as the varsity quarterback. The untested junior handled the challenge well, leading Big Spring to its second consecutive district championship and a 9-2-1 record. The Steers were beaten 40-17 by Burkburnett in the regional playoffs.

Last season under coach David Thompson Big Spring ran a very conservative offensive attack. It didn't take a defensive genius to figure out that Big Spring was going to run the football. Thompson had two all-state players in tailback Jermaine Miller and wingback Neal Mayfield.

Last season Cobos averaged 10 passes per game as Big Spring averaged 90 yards per game in the air. The Steers averaged 50 running plays per game, averaging 224 yards rushing per game.

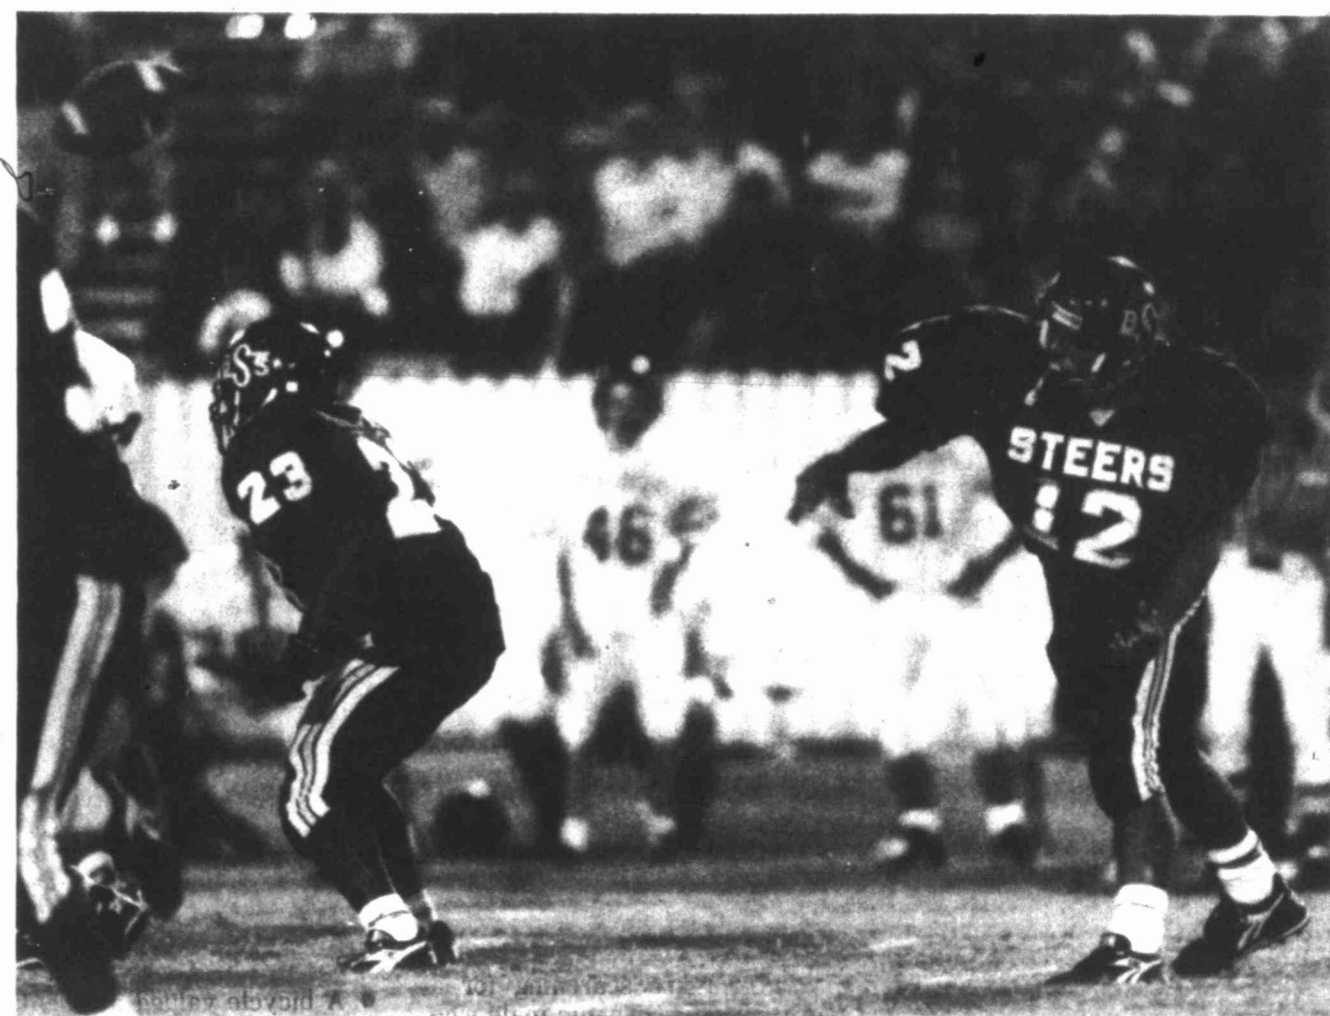

This season is a different story, however. The 4-0 Steers are averaging 34 rushes and 166 yards per game. In the air, Big Spring is averaging 20 attempts and 168 yards per game. Big Spring's scoring production has jumped from 24 points last year to 30 points.

In a nutshell, Cobos is having a ball.

"Our offense is a lot more wide open," he said. "We're very balanced between the run and the pass. This year we don't have the running backs we did last year. But this year we've got more receivers and they all can catch the ball. I've got confidence that all of them will hold on to the ball."

Cobos said Big Spring's change in offensive philosophy came as a pleasant surprise.

Cobos has benefited from the change. This season he's 3-4A's leading passer, having completed 31 of 65 attempts for 583 yards, five touchdowns and eight interceptions. His passing yardage is more than 300 yards more than the district's second leading passer.

Cobos also has the top receiver (Nick Roberson) and the league's third (Oscar Cervantes), fourth (Pat Chavarria) and sixth (Pat Martinez) leading receivers.

Fullback Darius Hill is ranked sixth in league rushing.

The offensive change of philosophy by coach Dwight Butler and his staff came as a pleasant surprise to Cobos.

"I'm really happy coach Butler got the head job," he said. "We really didn't talk much about play selection in the spring. In the off-season we just worked on getting stronger. I was surprised at our play selection."

Cobos has quickly mastered the new offensive philosophy which carries some 30-plus formations and gives Cobos the option to change the play at the line of scrimmage.

It was really evident when Big Spring upset No. 5 Lubbock Estacado 21-18. "I really didn't audible much last year. I'm audibling a lot more this year. It depends on the defense. For instance, against Estacado if the defense was in a stack, we'd check off and run a dive. It was open most of the time," he said.

Cobos says that one of his biggest improvements has been his foot speed. The 5-foot-7, 150-pound senior, has lowered his 40-yard-dash time from 4.9 to 4.7. He credits a lot of that to being a versatile athlete.

He also plays point guard on the basketball team, runs the 1,600 and 800 meters in track and plays third baseman and outfield on the baseball team. "I want to stay active, it keeps me going, even when I'm tired," he said.

He says the key to this year's squad is togetherness. "We never get down, we stay together because we got some leadership," he said.

He added that confidence is what makes motivates Gerald Cobos. "I've always went by that if you believe in yourself, anything you want to do, can be done."

Big Spring freshmen fall to Cooper, 26-14

Cooper 9th 26, Big Spring 9th 14

ABILENE — The Abilene Cooper freshmen broke open a tight game with two fourth-quarter touchdowns to defeat the Big Spring ninth-graders, 26-14, Thursday night.

Big Spring fell to 2-3 for the season with the loss.

The freshmen Steers opened the scoring on their first play from scrimmage when Dustin Waters passed 50 yards to Tony Rodriguez for the touchdown. Donald Vanderbilt added the two-point conversion.

Trailing 14-8 in the fourth quarter, Big Spring tied the game on Michael Vanderbilt's 85-yard touchdown run. The PAT try was no good.

The freshmen will return to action next Thursday when they play two split-squad games. The Steers' B squad will play Greenwood at 7 p.m., while the A squad plays Lake View at 7. Both games will be at Blankenship Field.

Wall JV 16, Coahoma JV 12

WALL — A Coahoma junior varsity rally fell short as the Bulldogs dropped a 16-12 decision to the Wall JV Thursday night.

Coahoma's record falls to 3-2 with the loss.

Wall built an 8-0 halftime lead on a 65-yard interception return in the second quarter before the Bulldogs got on the scoreboard in the third.

Coahoma capped a 10-play drive when Jeff Phermetton scored from three yards out. The failed two-point conversion try made the score 8-6 in favor of Wall.

Wall added another touchdown in the fourth before Coahoma's Juan Moran closed the scoring with a 52-yard touchdown run with 1:03 left.

COAHOMA — Coahoma seventh-grade quarterback Judd Cathey fires a pass downfield during first-half action against Merkel Thursday afternoon. The Bulldogs defeated Merkel, 30-14.

"I felt like we should have beat them," Coahoma coach Kim Nichols said. "We just didn't play good enough for long enough to win."

Nichols commended the play of linemen Jason Arguello, Brad Hunt and Craig Walker on offense and Brandon McGuire, Terry Don Martinez and Juan Ruiz on defense.

Runnels 19, Forsan 8th 8

FORSAN — The Runnels Yearlings kept their record spotless by downing Forsan's eighth-graders, 19-8, in junior high action Thursday afternoon.

After a scoreless first quarter, Runnels got on the scoreboard first when wingback Joe Enriquez scored from 12 yards out. Jimmy Robles' PAT kick made the score 7-0.

Runnels tallied again in the third when Donnie Hill returned a kickoff 80 yards for a touchdown and tailback Ray McGee scored on a 60-yard run.

Forsan's lone score came in the final quarter on Jason Lentz' 25-yard touchdown pass to Todd McAdams. Rusty Baker added the two-point PAT.

Runnels coaches commended the play of John Jenkins, Randy Ortega, Lance Purcell, Danny Hull, Sean Buchanan and Gene Villareal.

The Yearlings will return to action Oct. 17 when they travel to Snyder. The junior high Buffaloes will play next Thursday when they host Coahoma.

Coahoma 8th 26, Merkel 8th 6

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Junior High eighth-graders improved their record to 2-1 with a 26-6 win over Merkel Thursday afternoon.

Tailback Kelby Bailey led the Coahoma charge, scoring three of the Bulldogs' touchdowns. He opened the scoring in the first quarter on an 11-yard touchdown run. Adam Tindol passed to Shawn Marinen for the two-point conversion.

Bailey got into the scoring act again in the second quarter when he returned an interception 35 yards for a touchdown. The try for two failed.

In the third, Coahoma's Chris Arguello took a Merkel kickoff and returned it 75 yards for the score. Again, the try for two failed.

Coahoma's final touchdown came courtesy of Bailey, who plowed over from three yards out in the fourth quarter.

The Bulldogs have an open date next Thursday.

Coahoma 7th 30, Merkel 7th 14

COAHOMA — The Coahoma seventh-graders kept their record undefeated by downing Merkel, 30-14, Thursday afternoon.

NHL roundup

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was just like old times for the Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs... in more ways than one.

Wearing replicas of their uniforms from the inaugural 1917-18 season, the Canadiens and Maple Leafs helped to launch the NHL's 75th anniversary on Thursday night.

Everything was historically correct — down to the Canadiens' 4-3 victory.

Montreal has beaten Toronto all six times the Maple Leafs have met in Canadiens home openers since a 9-2 thrashing in 1917. The Canadiens won 5-0 they last time they played Toronto in a season opener, in 1961.

Montreal has a record of 299-240-84 against Toronto since that first season.

In other games Thursday night, it was Boston 5, New York Rangers 3, and Chicago 3, Detroit 3.

Montreal captain Guy Carbonneau scored a key third-period goal for the Canadiens. Carbonneau followed Mike McPhee's rush to the net and flipped the puck over Toronto goaltender Grant Fuhr to break a tie 2:50 into the third period.

Russ Courtnall, Sylvain Turgeon and John LeClair also scored for the Canadiens. Toronto captain Wendel Clark was the game's early star with two power-play goals and an assist on a second-period score by Todd Gill.

Montreal's victory followed a half-hour on-ice tribute to more than 40 former Canadiens and Maple Leafs.

Clark said the ceremonies helped boost the revamped Leafs, who have only six players left from their opening roster of a year ago when the team finished out of the playoffs.

"It was exciting," he said. "Both teams wanted to win. It was their home opener and it was an important opener for us. We're starting fresh with a new owner and new management."

Among those brought in to lead the Maple Leafs are Cliff Fletcher, the former general manager of the Calgary Flames who was named the Maple Leafs' president and GM.

Bruins 5, Rangers 3

The Bruins opened their season with a surprising flurry of goals, two of them while shorthanded, and survived a second-period New York comeback.

The Bruins had scored just 18 goals in their eight exhibition games, all played without Cam Neely, who scored 51 last season. He's sidelined at least through December with a thigh injury.

But five players — Bob Sweeney, Ray Bourque, Bob Carpenter, Ken Hodge and Vladimir Ruzicka — took up the scoring slack.

Hodge's shorthanded goal, set up by Sweeney, gave the Bruins a 4-1 lead at 15:35 of the second period.

But two goals in the final three minutes of the period — Tony Amonte's first in the NHL at 17:16 and James Patrick's on a power play at 19:07 — drew the Rangers within 4-3.

Ruzicka, counted on heavily to make up for the loss of Neely's scoring, reversed the momentum just 49 seconds into the third period.

"Everybody realizes there's a big void with Cam out of the lineup," Sweeney said. "It's similar to Pittsburgh last year when Mario Lemieux was out of the lineup (with back problems). They picked it up and had a pretty good season."

Pittsburgh beat Boston in the Wales Conference finals, then took the Stanley Cup.

Pro picks

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS

This has to be the stat of the year.

In three home games, Washington has allowed no points. In two road games, the Redskins have surrendered 58.

But the bottom line is that they're 5-0 as they go into Chicago this week to face the Bears, who until last week were tagged with the label of being the NFL's worst 4-0 team. Now, after a loss to Buffalo, they can revel at the distinction of being the worst 4-1 team... well, there's still Detroit.

The Redskins come in as 2-point favorites, which shouldn't surprise anyone who has watched Monday night games last two weeks.

There are two factors worth mentioning:

- The law of averages and the short work week for Washington.
- Mike Ditka is angry, and when Mike gets angry...

BEARS, 21-20

Dallas (minus 2½) vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee

Two questions:
• Is Don Majkowski's shoulder OK and if he tries to play, will he be effective?

• Will the young Cowboys let down after the win over the Giants that Jimmy Johnson calls his biggest as a pro?

Answers: No and Yes. Heads or Tails. COWBOYS, 20-10

Denver (plus 7½) at Houston Speaking of the worst 4-1 team in the league, any votes for the Broncos?

No. Just make them 4-2 after Sunday. Houston has had a week off to think about losing to the Patriots. The Denver defense is playing well, but not that well. OILERS, 24-10

Buffalo (minus 3) at Kansas City (Monday night)

This is the game the Chiefs have been pointing to since training camp, which may be one reason they've been stumbling in the early season.

Yes, the Chiefs match up well — their prevent offense seems to give the Bills trouble, and on paper they have enough defense to cause some problems.

But the best bet for Kansas City is the law of averages. After this game, the Buffalo schedule is soft enough for Florida State to cruise through, and since no one goes unbeaten in the NFL...

CHIEFS, 23-21

Minnesota (plus 3) at Detroit The Lions are another candidate for the NFL's worst 4-1 team, given that their four wins are over teams with a combined record of 3-17.

On the other hand, it's not all Barry Sanders for the Lions — there are guys like Jerry Ball, Chris Spielman, Mike Cofer and Bennie Blades on defense who aren't bad either.

The same qualifier every week. If Rodney Peete stays healthy...

LIONS, 17-9

Phoenix (plus 9) at Giants

Now we get into the other category — best 2-3 teams. Giants or 49ers?

San Francisco's idle this week, so it's the Giants.

Besides, Lawrence Taylor called a players-only meeting this week, and when LT speaks... it's time for a wake-up call.

GIANTS, 27-10

Jets (minus 1) at Cleveland

Jeff Lageman started a tabloid war by saying the Jets are now the best team in New York (New Jersey?)

The Giants beat the Browns 13-10 two weeks ago.

Here's one for Jeff.

JETS, 14-10

San Diego (plus 7½) at Raiders

The Raiders have allowed 19 points in three home games. John Friesz is the Chargers' quarterback.

RAIDERS, 19-3

Pittsburgh (minus 6½) at Indianapolis

The week-off theory (Steelers) or the new coach theory (Colts)?

Clearwater leads Texas Open by 1

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Keith Clearwater shot a 7-under-par 63 to grab a 1-stroke lead over Karl Kimball after the first-round of the Texas Open.

Mark Calcavecchia, playing for the first time since he blew a 4-up lead in the last four holes on the final day of the Ryder Cup last weekend, had two eagles in his round of 65 and was third.

Nine golfers shared fourth at 66 after one trip around Oak Hills Country Club, and PGA champion John Daly was at 67.

MSU player dies Thursday

STARKVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Rodney Stowers, a Mississippi State defensive lineman expected to be sidelined for only a matter of weeks with a broken leg, died suddenly of what doctors said was lung hemorrhaging associated with the injury.

Stowers, a 20-year-old junior, was to have a pin placed in the leg to speed healing of a fracture of his right tibia.

Doctors said it appeared that fatty droplets — tiny particles of fat from the area of the long bone fracture — got into the athlete's bloodstream and eventually passed through the heart to his lungs.

The droplets triggered immune mechanisms in the lungs, filling the lungs with fluid and blocking their ability to take in oxygen, doctors said. Finally, hemorrhaging occurred and physicians were unable to save him.

Marathon ends with Sox sweep

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Minnesota Twins needed nearly eight hours to finish a doubleheader in which Tom Kelly's only goal was a short workout for his two starting pitchers.

The American League champion Twins, following their first rain-out game of the season on Wednesday, lost a doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox Thursday night, 3-2 in 10 innings and 13-12 in 12 innings. The first game lasted 3 hours, 6 minutes, the second 4:42.

Kelly's starters were 18-game winner Jack Morris and 16-game winner Kevin Tapani, and he wanted them to work five innings apiece in their last appearances before the AL playoffs against Toronto starts Wednesday.

"Morris did what I wanted ... he did all right," the Twins manager said of Morris' shutout pitching for five innings in the opener. "Tapani didn't. He looked a little stiff."

Tapani allowed 11 hits and four runs in his five-inning stint.

"But they got their five innings. That was the main thing. I just wanted to get them five innings each," Kelly said.

In the only other major league games played Thursday, New York defeated Baltimore 9-6 at Yankee Stadium, Detroit beat Boston 10-5 at Fenway Park and Milwaukee won 9-3 at Cleveland.

Matt Merullo's pinch-hit single scored Joey Cora from second base with the winning run in the second game, in which Carlton Fisk had six RBIs and two homers, including a grand slam, for the White Sox.

Brian Drahman (3-2) pitched one-third of an inning for the victory as Chicago had 24 hits, including four homers. Terry Leach (1-2) was the loser.

"It showed a lot about both clubs," Chicago manager Jeff Torborg said. "They have already clinched and didn't even need these games, but played hard to the end. We showed a lot of character by coming back in the first game."

Minnesota trailed 12-8 going into the ninth inning of the second game, but a homer by Pedro Munoz, an RBI double by Paul Sorrento and Kent Hrbek's two-run homer forced extra innings.

Chicago, which trailed 6-1 after four innings, took an 11-7 lead in the seventh on Fisk's grand slam.

Dan Pasqua and Frank Thomas also homered for the White Sox. Scott Leius and Greg Gagne also homered for Minnesota.

In the opener, Warren Newson, who began a two-run rally in the ninth inning against Rick Aguiera, single home the winner with two outs in the 10th. Tim Raines led off by reaching on third baseman Leius' throwing error, took third on a groundout and scored on Newson's single.

American League

Tigers 10, Red Sox 5

Detroit pulled within two games of third-place Boston with three games to play as Bill Gullickson became the AL's first 20-game winner behind Cecil Fielder's grand slam and Rob Deer's three-run homer.

Gullickson (20-9) allowed just three runs on six hits in seven innings, losing his bid for his first 1991 shutout in Boston's three-run seventh.

The Tigers scored four unearned runs off Boston starter Kevin Morton (6-5) in the first inning, capped by Deer's 25th homer.

After Boston pulled to 4-3 in the seventh, Detroit jumped on relievers Dennis Lamp, Tony Fossas and Dan Petry for six runs in the eighth, including Fielder's grand slam. His 133 RBIs lead the majors and his 44 homers ties him with Jose Canseco.

Yankees 9, Orioles 6

New York won its fourth straight game as Roberto Kelly homered, doubled and drove in four runs against Baltimore.

Jeff Johnson (6-11) gave up three runs on seven hits in seven innings for the win. Tim Lullett hit a three-run homer off Rich Monteleone in the eighth and Steve Farr pitched the ninth for his 23rd save.

Kelly's three-run homer, his 20th, capped a five-run third inning against Jeff Ballard (6-12). Kelly's RBI double highlighted a three-run fifth that made it 9-1.

Brewers 9, Indians 3

Dale Sveum had two RBIs during a four-run fifth inning, and Dante Bichette had two in a five-run seventh for Milwaukee against Cleveland.

The victory moved the Brewers above .500 for the first time since May 7. The Indians lost their 104th game, extending the team record they set Wednesday night.

The Brewers, 17 games under .500 in early August, have gone 37-19 since Aug. 4, the best record in the league over that span. They collected 60 hits while winning three of four games in the series.

Jaime Navarro (15-12) pitched seven innings, giving up three runs and nine hits.

Bucs claim former Cowboy

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Tampa Bay Buccaneers continued to reshape their roster Thursday when the team claimed fullback Alonzo Highsmith off waivers from the Dallas Cowboys.

Highsmith, the third pick in the 1987 draft, started 40 consecutive games for the Houston Oilers between his rookie season and 1989 before being traded to the Cowboys last year.

He played five games for Dallas before going on injured reserve after the seventh week of the 1990 season, then did not sign with the Cowboys for 1991 until just before the start of the regular season.

The fifth-year pro is to receive $350,000 this season, about $150,000 less than Dallas offered him before he missed training camp.

Highsmith, who was drafted two spots behind Bucs quarterback and former college teammate Vinny Testaverde, was unhappy in Houston and Dallas because he played a limited role on offenses.

The former University of Miami star's best NFL season was 1989 when he gained 531 yards rushing.

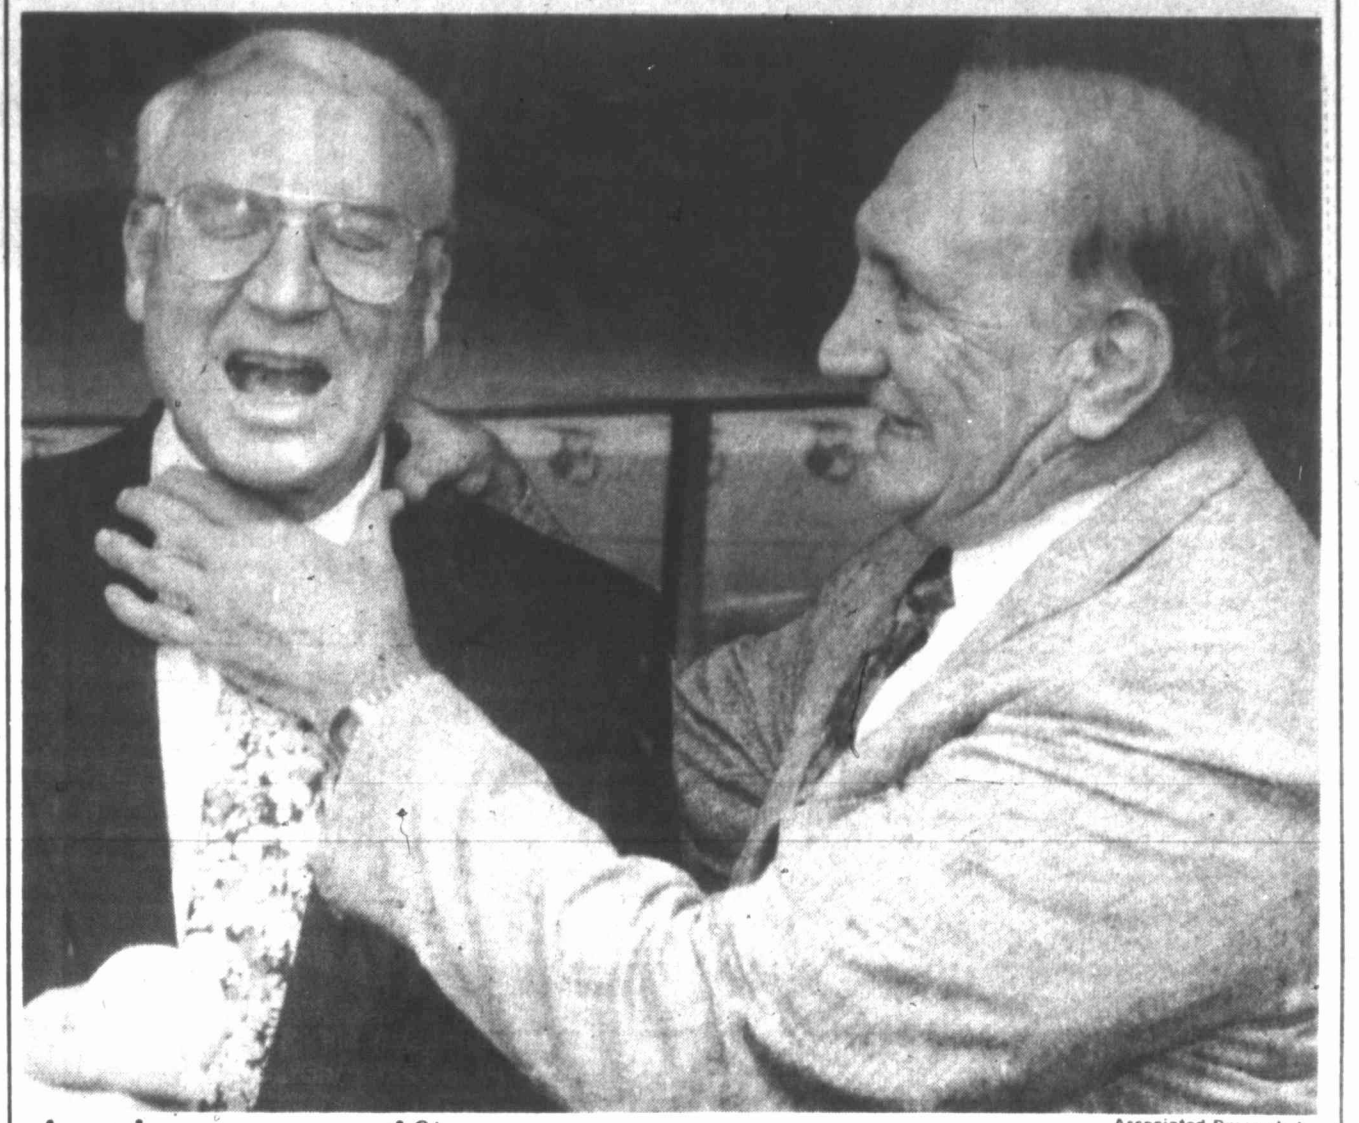

"I love the idea of playing back home in the state of Florida," Highsmith said of joining the winless Bucs. "Tampa Bay has a grass field, and they sound fine with me."

"A football player never wants to be out of football, so it doesn't matter that the Bucs haven't won a game. I'm most concerned about the type of offense they run," he added. "Since I've been in the NFL, I've never been in an offense that turned out to be what I thought it would be."

Highsmith said he's not worried about how many times he carries the ball, so long as the team that employs him has a two-back offense that uses the fullback.

The 235-pound fullback is the eighth player acquired by the Bucs since the end of preseason. Seven of them were claimed off waivers.

Anniversary gift

NEW YORK — Former Brooklyn Dodgers pitcher Ralph Branca, right, pretends to choke former New York Giant Bobby Thomson Thursday in New York. It was the 40th anniversary of Thomson's "Shot Heard 'Round the World," a dramatic ninth-inning home run against Branca that gave the Giants the NL pennant in 1941.

PUBLIC NOTICE
 EXHIBIT 1
 Notice of Intent by Glasscock Commissioners Court to Reapportion County Commissioners Precincts
 The Federal Voting Rights Act requires county commissioner courts to meet certain requirements and in order to be in compliance with the Federal statute, Glasscock County Commissioners Court has determined that new commissioner precinct lines need to be established.
 The County plans to provide opportunity for all persons in the community to participate in the process by which the final boundary lines will be drawn. Comments, suggestions, and proposed plans are welcome. A public hearing on reapportioning commissioner precincts will be held on October 8 at 10:00 a.m.
 Maps showing the boundaries preliminarily proposed by the County are available for no charge. These maps may be obtained from or examined at the Judge's office at Courthouse.
 Any persons or group that wishes to submit a proposed redistricting plan for the commissioners court's consideration should submit the plan to the county clerk on or before October 7, so that the plan may be inspected prior to the public hearing to be held on October 8. The following criteria will be used by the commissioners court in assessing plans for adoption.
 1. Any plan should not operate to dilute the voting strength of racial or language minority citizens.
 2. Any plan should not fragment minority communities or pack them into districts in concentration greater than needed to elect minority representation.
 3. Any plan should be drawn to conform with geographic boundaries utilized by the Bureau of the Census in the 1990 census to the extent possible unless other reliable sources are used.
 4. Any plan should be based on 1990 census data unless it can be shown that other more reliable sources were used.
 5. Any districts should be composed of territory that is contiguous and reasonably compact.
 6. Any plan, to the extent possible, should preserve historical boundaries, and should recognize clearly identifiable economic or community interests.
 These criteria should be followed in any redistricting plans submitted for the County's consideration.
 If anyone or groups would like to submit a plan or make comments or suggestions, the County is very much interested in receiving them for consideration during the redistricting process. Please feel free to call W. E. Bednar 384-2882 if you have questions about the redistricting process.

Names in the news

Dravecky on 20-20

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Dravecky, the former major league pitcher who had his left arm and shoulder amputated because of cancer last summer, said at first he couldn't bear to look in the mirror. "The day after the surgery, I got up and walked into the bathroom with my gown on and I didn't want to look in the mirror," Dravecky said in an interview to be aired on ABC's "20-20" tonight. "But I knew I had to. And when I did, it was a shock what I saw because it looked like the entire left side of my body was gone. I just said to God, 'OK, this is what you've given me to deal with; this is what you've given me to live with; now let me go forward from here," he said.

Schuller recovering

GARDEN GROVE, Calif. (AP) — The Rev. Robert H. Schuller, in his first message to his congregation since suffering a brain hemorrhage, was lighthearted but offered thanks for prayers he said kept him alive.

A four-minute videotape, released to the media Thursday, was made at Schuller's home earlier this week for broadcast Sunday during his syndicated "Hour of Power" television show.

"No, this is not Rev. Willard Scott Schuller," the 65-year-old evangelist joked on the tape, referring to the bald "Today" show weatherman. He lifted a baseball cap to show his shorn hair, the result of two operations to relieve pressure on his brain.

Jeanne Dixon's Horoscope

HAPPY BIRTHDAY! IN THE NEXT YEAR OF YOUR LIFE: Sticking your neck out at work could be dangerous now. Take the proven road to success by upholding a tradition in November. December is started for romance. Business attitudes will shift early in the new year. Be discreet and you will make rapid financial progress in March. New ideas receive an especially warm welcome next June. Romance begins to stabilize in midsummer. You feel better about making an important commitment.

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DATE: Czechoslovakia's President Vaclav Havel, actresses Karen Allen and Glynis Johns, golfer Lew Worsham.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Special events produce revenue that can be used to start a new project. You receive romantic overtures from an unexpected quarter. Be honest about how you feel.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): A personal relationship will improve when you let your hair down. Honesty is the key to greater success. A prominent person will offer assistance if approached in the right way.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Self-improvement activities will prove rewarding. Visit a gym or health spa regularly and watch the transformation that takes place! A new machine makes quick work of a tedious chore.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Getting in touch with someone from your past will give you the answers you seek. Family life becomes more harmonious. Refuse to be intimidated by a bully. Stand your ground when you are right.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Keep a low profile until you have a full picture of what is going on. Your romantic nature gives you an edge over a rival. A love relationship needs more time to mature; be patient.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): A new study or research project will produce valuable insights. Record your observations. Efforts to broaden your knowledge will be richly rewarded. Renew an old friendship.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your interest in political matters is sparked by someone's comments. Romance becomes more satisfying. You find new ways to reduce a financial burden. Be willing to defend your beliefs.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Fix up a run-down piece of property. Transportation problems could cause delays. Get advice from legal experts. A quiet evening at home with your loved ones will recharge your batteries.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Doing someone a favor will bring you and your loved ones lasting benefits. Make a special effort to reduce the amount of money you owe. New employment possibilities are discussed in a social setting.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A project you undertake today could mean big profits. Include children in your entertainment plans; their parents will feel flattered. Make a special effort to get more sleep.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): A personal relationship reaches new heights. You can learn a lot from watching the way someone handles a sensitive situation. Romance on the rebound may not be all that it seems. Go slow.

Bulldogs knocked out by Wall

By LORNE FANCETT
For the Herald

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs were defeated Friday night by the Wall Hawks by a score of 28-19.

Coahoma started the game in good fashion by setting up a 10-play drive that moved the ball well against the Hawks' defense. But the Hawks rallied and forced the Bulldogs to punt.

Wall's offense also set up a nice drive — nine plays — and, like Coahoma, the Hawks were forced to punt the ball away.

The Bulldogs started their second drive off on a negative note. On the first play of the drive quarterback Brent Elmore went down with a knee injury. The next two plays amassed a total of five yards, forcing Coahoma to punt again. But fortunately for the Bulldogs luck was with them and Wall's Ben Thomas fumbled the punt return, giving the Bulldogs new life. Coahoma couldn't do much with their new-found fortune — gaining eight yards in three plays — and was forced to punt again. Wall's execution of the punt return again failed them and they turned the ball back over to the Bulldogs. With the Bulldogs on Wall's six-yard line and a fresh set of downs, Mike Mendez scored on the third play of this series. With their extra-point kick attempt failing, Coahoma grabbed the early score, 6-0.

Wall came back on offense and made good use of their running game to move the ball down the field. In the nine plays in the ensuing drive, the running game averaged about eight yards a carry, topped off by a Cory Braden run for three yards into the end zone. With a Frankie Evans kick sailing through the uprights, the Hawks grabbed the lead, 7-6.

The defense for both teams made their presence known as they held each other to only four plays on their respected drives.

Coahoma, with help from the defense, got the ball back in good field position, taking their first snap from Wall's 47-yard line. On the first play, fullback Steven New — the workhorse for Coahoma this evening — took the ball on a draw play for 38 yards, bringing the ball down to Wall's nine. Two plays later Mendez scored his second touchdown of the evening. With the two-point conversion going nowhere, the Bulldogs regained the lead into halftime, 12-7.

The second half started off very well for the Hawks, getting the ball on their own 44-yard line to start. The first play moved the ball 16 yards as Ben Thomas took the pitch and made some nice moves to gain the yardage. With the next play gaining five yards, the offense had a second and five to work with. The next play saw Wall's quarterback Chad Box toss a short pass to Braden for a screen play that gained 21 yards. The fourth play of this series again saw Thomas gain more yardage, this time running the ball for 17 yards and bringing the ball down to the 3-yard line. Cory Braden gained those three yards on the next play for a Hawks' score. Wall attempted a two-point conversion that at first failed, but due to an offside penalty against the Bulldogs, they were granted another chance. This time they were successful, bringing the score up to 15-12 in favor of the Hawks.

The first play on offense for the Bulldogs appeared to be one the fans were thankful for as their quarterback, Elmore, came back on the field to lead his team. But disaster struck as Mike Mendez was knocked out of the game on the first play. With the rest of the drive gaining virtually no significant yardage, Coahoma was forced to punt.

The remainder of the third quarter saw both teams locked in a defensive battle until the last few minutes, with Coahoma moving the ball well, thanks to New. They kept the drive going into the fourth quarter, consuming both the clock and the field. On the 14th play of the drive, the Bulldogs had the ball on the Hawks 34-yard line facing a third and ten. Coach Park called the first pass play of the night for his team, and Elmore hooked up with wingback Mark Arguello for a touchdown. With Bryan Sledge's kick going through the uprights, Coahoma regained the lead, 19-15.

Wall took less time than the Bulldogs to score again and regain the lead. On the seventh play, Box hooked up with end Dave Lewis for a 15-yard touchdown pass. As Evans put the ball through for the extra point, Wall took back the lead for good, 22-19.

Wall would add one more score to the final total as Braden scored his third touchdown of the evening on a five yard run, making the score 28-19. With the extra point kick failing, the score remained there for the rest of the game.

After the game Coahoma's Park had this to say: "Because they were so quick we didn't want to run right at them. With the wind and our quarterback going out in the first half, we didn't want to pass very much. We stuck with our plan of just taking the ball at them, and Stephen New played a hell of a ballgame. On defense we had a rough time with them bringing up eight men to the line. It was a hard game to lose."

Next week is the big game for the Bulldogs' homecoming against the Forsan Buffaloes. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

A great homecoming for Garden City fans

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

GARDEN CITY — The Garden City High School exes that came home for homecoming definitely got their money's worth.

The top-ranked Bearkats, displaying an explosive offensive attack, moved the ball almost at will as they demolished the Roscoe Plowboys, 49-7, at Bearkat Stadium Friday night.

The win improves Garden City's record to 5-0 overall and 1-0 in District 9-A play. Roscoe falls to 2-3 and 0-1.

Sherri Halfmann, the daughter of Delbert and Betty Jean Halfmann, was named Garden City's homecoming queen before the start of the Garden City-Roscoe game Friday. Other queen nominees were Jennifer Halfmann and Christi Carlton.

Shae Scott and James Soles led the Bearkat assault Friday. Quarterback Scott completed 11 of 22 passes for 165 yards and three touchdowns, while Soles led all rushers with 172 yards on 25 carries. He scored three touchdowns rushing and added another on a pass from Scott.

A look at the statistics tells of the Bearkats' domination. Garden City outgained the Plowboys, 483 total yards to 224, and held a 31-6 edge in first downs. The second half was particularly one-sided, as Roscoe was limited to only 78 yards total offense.

Still, Garden City coach Sam Scott wasn't particularly pleased with his team's effort.

"We just weren't into it in the first half," Scott said. "I felt like we came back out after the half and executed well on offense and shut them down on defense... but we had too many problems in the first half."

Scott was referring to the game's first 18 minutes, which saw the Plowboys hang close to the 'Kats, despite the statistical domination.

Garden City built a 13-0 lead early in the second quarter on a 16-yard pass from Scott to his brother Jim Bob and a one-yard plunge from Soles before Roscoe temporarily put a halt to the festivities.

On third down and eight from the Roscoe 17, Plowboy quarterback Buster Frierson dropped back to pass and spotted Manuel Sanchez all alone in the left flat. His pass was on the mark and Sanchez motored to the Bearkats' three before being hauled down.

Two plays later, Edward Acebedo bulled over from two yards out to cut Garden City's lead to 13-7 with 6:42 left in the first half.

But this merely proved to be a wake-up call for the Bearkats, who proceeded to score two touchdowns in lightning-quick fashion before intermission.

On the ensuing drive, Garden City marched 82 yards in 14 plays. Jim Bob Scott provided the capper when he made a diving catch in the left corner of the end zone to give the 'Kats a 19-7 lead with 1:34 left in the half.

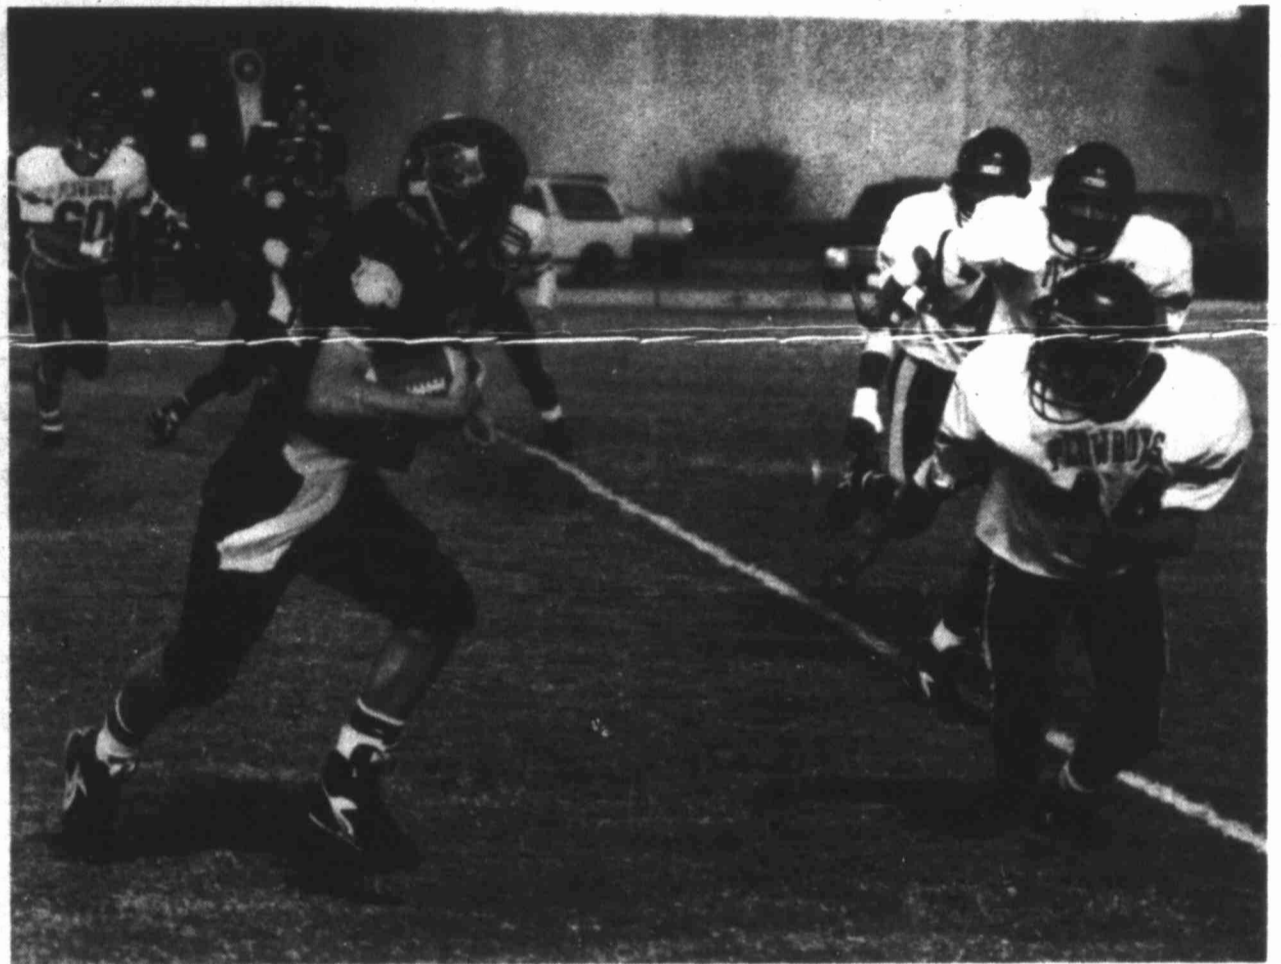

Roscoe fumbled the ball away on the ensuing kickoff, and Garden City wasted little time cashing in the gift. On the first play from scrimmage, Shae Scott threw a perfect screen pass to Soles, who rambled down the left sideline 31 yards for the TD and a 27-7 halftime lead.

Things didn't get any better for the Plowboys in the second half, as the Bearkats scored the first three times they touched the ball to cement matters once and for all.

Although he had some gripes about the 'Kats performance Friday, Scott said he was pleased with the team's overall progress at the season's midpoint.

"I think we're pretty much on schedule, where we need to be," he said. "I think we're improving every week. With us being halfway through, I think we're where we need to be."

Badgers strike in last quarter to down Buffs

By MARCELLINO CHAVEZ
Staff Writer

STANTON — The Stanton Buffalos took a 14-7 halftime lead, but surrendered the contest as the McCamey Badgers scored 28 second-half points to gain a 35-22 win.

The Buffs' first score was set up when junior safety Jay Huckaby intercepted a Badger pass with 8:05 left in the opening quarter.

Senior quarterback John Eric Wyckoff directed the 59-yard, six-play scoring drive. Wyckoff capped the drive with an 18-yard bootleg play to the left with six minutes left to play.

Stanton placekicker Hector Jimenez booted the extra point to give the Buffs a 7-0 lead.

Stanton then forced McCamey to punt. On the very next play from scrimmage, Buffalo running back Jim Bob Kelly broke for 42 yards, weaving his way through McCamey defenders and finding the end zone with 3:31 left in the first quarter. Jimenez added the PAT and Stanton appeared to be on their way to a rout.

The swarming Buff defense led by Rick Posey, Shane Louder and Allen Prough kept the McCamey offense in check throughout the first half.

Posey recovered a Badger fumble and the Buffs were in good field position again with 3:23 left in the quarter. The Buffs gave the ball right back on a miscue of their own.

In the second quarter, both teams settled down and began to drive the football.

McCamey was driving downfield, but a good hit forced the ball to come loose and Stanton's Phillip Hinojosa fell on the ball in Badger territory.

With 3:17 left in the half, the Badgers began a drive from the Stanton 48-yard line. A pass from Andy Stinson to Jimmy Salinas took the ball to the Buffs 22. Stinson concluded the drive by finding Alfredo Rodriguez alone in the end zone for a 10-yard score with 2:18 left in the half. Salinas added the PAT to cut the Buffs lead to 14-7.

The Buffalos took the ensuing kickoff and started from their 42-yard line. Wyckoff found Jimenez for a 15-yard pass and Stanton appeared to be on their way to another score. A holding violation brought the ball back and the half ended in favor of the home team, 14-7.

The Badgers controlled the third quarter of play and took the lead with 6:59 left in the quarter on a Rodriguez five-yard run, capping off a 62-yard scoring drive in nine plays. McCamey took a 15-14 lead with a two-point conversion by Stinson.

"McCamey did a good job of controlling the ball after halftime and that hurt us," said Stanton coach Bill Grissom. "They came out and scored and took control of the ballgame." In the final quarter, Badger Billy Lynch scored on a 16-yard run with 11:59 left in the contest. Joe Gallardo added the extra point and McCamey led 22-14.

Stanton put together a 71-yard scoring drive with fine running by Kelly. He gained 48 yards on seven carries. Wyckoff found Jimenez for an important third down play and Kelly capped the drive with a one-yard plunge to tie the ballgame, 22-22 with 5:45 left.

The Badgers scored twice with less than five minutes to go to put the contest away.

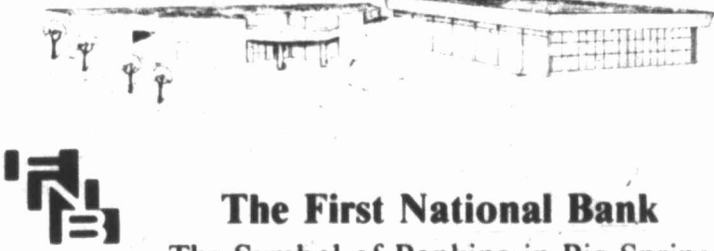

The first score was on a blocked punt and a Badger defender picked up the loose ball and scored from 25 yards out. The last score was on a 18-yard run by Rodriguez with 1:40 left in the contest.

"Our kids showed a lot of character when their backs were against the wall in the final quarter," said Grissom. "If that's all we learn this year, it's worth it. I'm proud of them. They showed a lot of heart."

The Buffs drop to 0-5 overall and 0-2 in district action, while the Badgers improve to 2-3 overall and 1-1 in league action.

Klondike takes fifth loss on homecoming night

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

PATRICIA — The Klondike Cougars started out with a bang but ended with a fizzle.

The end results was a 55-20 loss to the Borden County Coyotes in Klondike's homecoming game. The win gives Borden County a 3-2 record while Klondike remains winless in five tries.

Brandon Adcock was the leader of the Borden County brigade that ruined the Cougars' homecoming. Adcock was a terror on both sides of the ball. He led all rushers with 14 carries for 143 yards, including scoring runs of 1, 55 and five yards.

On defense he made some vicious hits on Klondike runners and also caught a fumble in mid-air and returned it 79 yards for a score.

Borden County linemen Kirk Jones and Joe Acosta pressured Klondike quarterbacks Brandon Oaks and Chris Riggins throughout the contest. Oaks, the starter, was injured late in the first half and didn't play in the second half.

The Borden County defense was truly dominating. Klondike was without starting running backs Mike Lee and Matt Hogg, out with injuries.

The Cougars only scored once on the Borden County first defense. That came at the start of the game when Borden County quarterback Clint Wills' fumble was recovered by David Rawlings at the Borden County 35.

Seven plays later Jesse Torres scored from the one-yard line and Klondike lead 6-0.

From then on the Borden County defense stifled Klondike. Borden County coach Bobby Avery started playing his reserves early in the third quarter. At halftime Klondike had 44 yards total offense and trailed 28-6.

Klondike scored in the third quarter when Riggins passed 14 yards to Rawlings, and again in the fourth quarter when Esequiel Barrios threw a 10-yard halfback pass to Rawlings.

Borden County coach Bobby Avery said it was simply his team's night. "We started out slow, but when we got going, it seemed everything worked," said Avery. "We blocked really well tonight

Paul Harris and Jones. Adcock scored from the one.

Borden County took control of the contest in the second quarter, scoring on three of their first possessions. The other possession the Coyotes fumbled at their own 28.

The second B-County scoring drive went 48 yards and took five plays. Adcock ripped off runs of 19, 19 and 17 yards. Harris scored from five yards out. Richard Buchanan kicked the first of his three two-points kicks, giving the Coyotes a 14-6 lead.

Adcock got the scoring honors next when he went 55 yards on a pitch around end. He concluded the scoring in the half with a five-yard run on third down with three seconds left. He had to score because Borden County had no timeouts left in the half.

The Coyotes struck quickly in the third quarter. Acosta returned the opening kickoff 55 yards for a touchdown. Acosta broke two tackles, reversed his field, and sprinted to the goal line.

On Borden County's next possession, Harris took the pitch around end and dashed 66 yards for a score. Buchanan passed to Jones for the extra point. Klondike led 43-6.

Early in the fourth quarter Klondike's fortunes got worse. With Klondike on Borden County's one-yard line, Riggins mishandled the snap and the ball popped free. Adcock picked it off and took it the other way for 79 yards for a score.

Borden County's final score came on a 30-yard run by Juave Balague.

his team's inexperience showed. "We started out good and solid," said Ham. "but we haven't had enough success to be able to handle it. We got tentative and started making mistakes.

"We've had the breaks against us all season. Just like that freak play when we were on the one and they catch the interceptions and go for a touchdown.

"Brandon (Oaks) got whopped on the head and hurt his neck. We didn't want to take a chance with him with district starting next week. Both of our starting running backs are out. They got back injuries from being speared in the Smyer game."

The Andrews Mustangs are proving themselves to be a formidable obstacle in the 5-4A district this season. With their 42-0 win over the Ft. Stockton Eagles in their district opener Friday night, the Mustangs have played 14 quarters with no touchdowns being scored against them. Their record this season stands at 4-1 overall with 1-0 in district.

Eric Langehennig kicked a 36-yard field goal for the Mustangs with 7:34 remaining in the first quarter. The remainder of the half was taken up with numerous possession exchanges between the two teams and no further scoring resulting.

Late in the third period, Zach Miller scored the first TD for Andrews on a 1-yard scramble. Langehennig's successful kick added the extra point.

With 11:52 remaining in the last quarter, the scoring really got underway as Al Gonzales pitched a 46-yard TD pass to Scott Villarreal. The 2-point attempt failed.

Villarreal was up again with 10:10 on the clock, running in a 21-yard pitch reverse. Again, the PAT attempt was no good.

Miller's 80-yard run with 6:36 remaining upped the Mustangs' lead by another 6 points, and Gonzales topped it off with a 2-point option run.

The next Andrews TD was on a 1-yard run by Clint Carruth with 4:13 to go in the game. The extra point was not forthcoming.

Havie Bueno scored on a 42-yard interception return with 2:38 remaining. The 2-point attempt failed, and the Andrews Mustangs went home with a 42-0 victory over the Ft. Stockton Eagles.

Zach Miller was the outstanding rusher for the Mustangs with 136 yards on 15 carries.

The Andrews Mustangs will be at home to celebrate homecoming next week, when they will host the Sweetwater Mustangs.

The Sweetwater Mustangs

hosted the Pecos Eagles Friday night and won their uninspiring district opener 7-0. The back-and-forth running game made for impressive totals in rushing yardage but provided little entertainment for the fans.

The only score of the game was on a 34-yard run by Sweetwater's Chris Hines with 5:02 remaining in the first half. Brian Mitchell kicked the point after. The Mustangs' record for the season is 5-0 overall and 0-1 in district. The Pecos Eagles stand at 2-2 overall; 0-1 in district play.

The leading rusher for Sweetwater was Chris Hines, with a total of 119 yards on 24 carries. Trey Hardin of the Pecos Eagles carried 27 times for 109 yards.

Next week the Sweetwater Mustangs will continue district play against the Andrews Mustangs at Andrews' homecoming. A nondistrict contest in El Paso will have the Pecos Eagles pitted against El Paso Riverside.

Trey Terrazas, 14, is number-one seed for BSHS tennis team.

Young ace paces Steer netters

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

He stands 6-foot-1 and can cover a tennis court in no time flat.

He is one of the state's top singles players in his age group.

He is the number-one seed of the Big Spring High School tennis team and has lost only one match all year for the Steers.

Oh, by the way — he's only 14 years old.

He is Trey Terrazas, the freshman boy wonder for the Steers, who already has people drawing comparisons between him and Rocky Tubb, Big Spring's recently graduated tennis ace who made three straight trips to the state tennis tournament.

Trey, who began playing the sport by bouncing balls off a wall at the Figure 7 Tennis Center when he was five, has advanced to the point where he is bouncing opponents — with great regularity.

"The surprise factor is definitely gone now," BSHS coach Todd Spears said. "The word is out about Trey."

What has people talking is Terrazas' size, speed and ability to play either a baseline or serve-and-volley style with equal effectiveness.

And, to hear Spears talk, Trey can only get better.

"The potential is definitely there for him to be better than Rocky," Spears said. "Whether he's willing to work to get there is up to him."

Spears is quick to add, however, that his ace does have his faults.

"What concerned me when Trey was coming up (to high school) was that he was a big whiner," Spears said. "He's getting better, though. He finally decided he'd just as soon play tennis than talk. He decided when he was playing tennis, he was all right. When he was talking, he wasn't all right."

"I've got a pretty good temper," Trey conceded, "and I need to work on that. It doesn't help to be out there and get mad at yourself. I've been getting better, but I still need a little improvement."

"It wasn't like I was acting like John McEnroe," Trey said, referring to the pyrotechnic superstar. "When I'd hit a pretty dumb shot, I'd say some things to myself."

Temper aside, Trey has impressed his coach and teammates with his ability and mental toughness, considering his age.

"On the court, he's real tough," said Greg Biddison, Trey's doubles partner. "He's as mature as anybody else on this team. Off the court, he's a little goofy."

"He's really got both (baseline and serve-and-volley) games down," Spears said. "He likes to stay on the baseline more — he feels he can win more that way. I feel like he'd be better at the net, but he has both options."

"Some guys have to play their own way no matter what the other guy does," Spears added. "But Trey's so good at both aspects, he can play either way."

Terrazas began playing competitively when he was seven, and has been playing United States Association-sanctioned tennis for the past three years.

He has been ranked in the top 10 in his age group in the state, and it isn't surprising that he is the number-one male player.

"As far as playing experience, I probably had more years than the seniors on this team," Trey said. "Right now, the big thing is mental toughness up to the point of being able to be."

"I wasn't surprised when I was named number-one seed," Trey said. "I felt like I should be, but it was just a matter of time enough."

And does he mind the comparisons to Tubb?

"Rocky's a great player for his age," Trey said. "We've got different styles... but I don't like comparisons."

His immediate goal is to help the Steers make their third consecutive trip to the regional tennis tournament, and develop more of his game.

And after that?

"I'm going to try to play singles," he said. "I think I have a pretty good shot next year, really, really good. I think I have a really good chance of making it a senior year."

"If he continues to work hard, he has been," Spears said. "He has a chance to repeat at regional level."

"I wasn't surprised (about being named number-one seed)," Trey said. "I felt like I should be number one; it was just a matter of playing well enough."

"Rocky's a great player, and he's been a great player for a long time," Trey said. "We've got different styles... but I don't mind (the comparisons)."

His immediate goal is to help the Steers make their third straight trip to the regional tennis tournament — that, and develop more consistency in his game.

And after that?

"I'm going to try to win state singles," he said. "I think I've got a pretty good shot next year if I play really, really good. I think I should have a really good chance my junior and senior year."

"If he continues to work as hard as he has been," Spears said, "we have a chance to repeat at regionals."

Braves one game up with two more to go

ATLANTA (AP) — When you're 21 and Steve Avery, there is no pen- nant pressure.

Avery pitched with the poise of a veteran Friday night and the Atlanta Braves began the final weekend with a 5-2 victory over the Houston Astros for their seventh straight victory, matching their longest winning streak of the season.

"There's no pressure," said Avery. "I just go out there and have fun. You see all those people in the stands tomahawking, they're the ones who are nervous."

And, maybe the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The victory, the Braves' 93rd of the season tied the 26-year-old Atlanta franchise record set in 1969. It also gave the Braves a one-game lead in the NL West over Los Angeles, which lost, 4-1, at San Francisco.

"I think right now, the Dodgers know they've gotta win or they're really in trouble," Avery said. "The pressure is on them now. We're playing better than anybody right now."

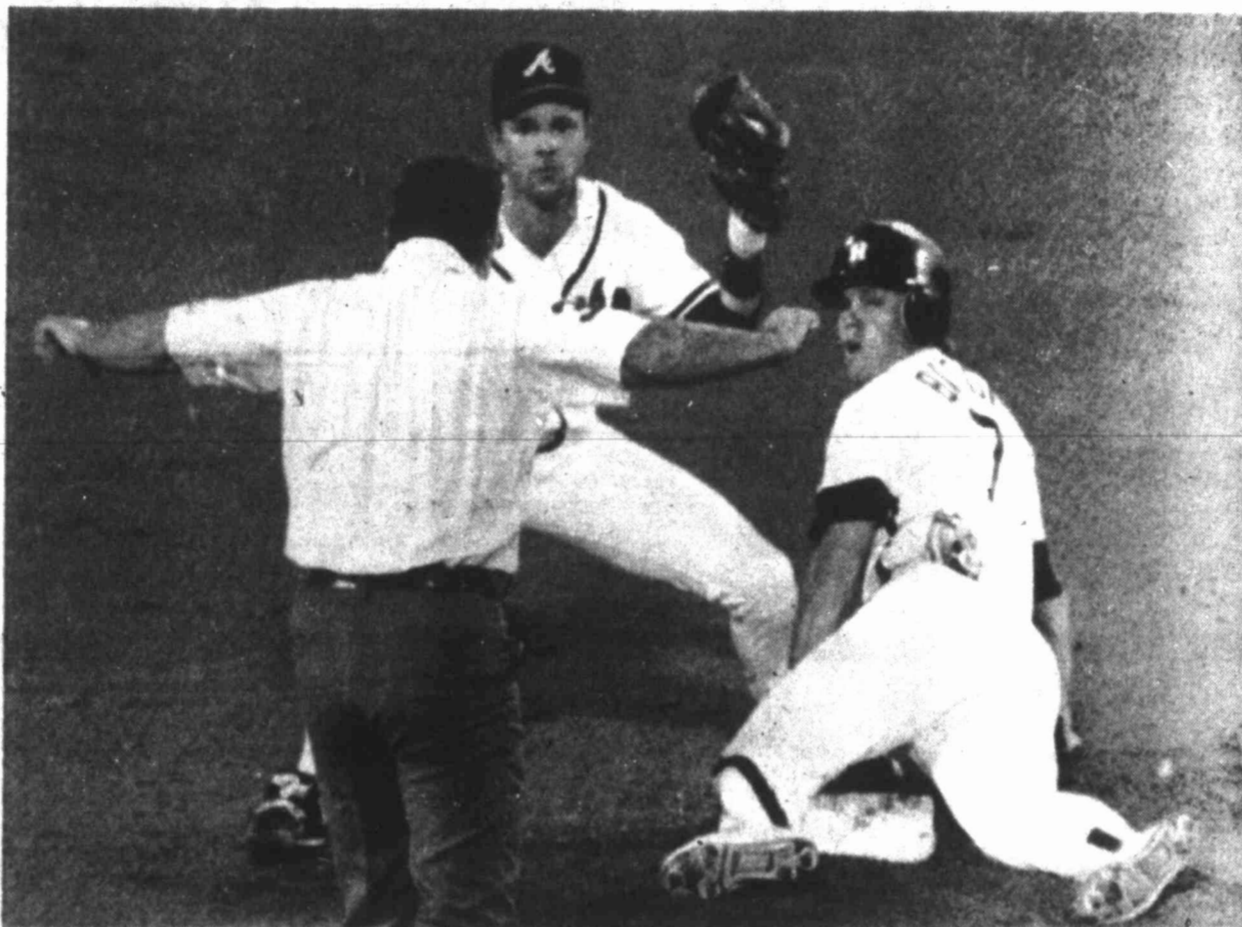

As for the Astros game, Avery felt stopping Houston early was important.

"We had to get off to a good start, and we have," Avery said. "It was a little tough in the first few innings. Everyone was pumped up. Once we got on the board early, I settled down a bit."

Avery (18-8), ahead 3-0 after three innings, held Houston hitless until Luis Gonzalez doubled with two outs in the seventh. Avery took a two-hitter and a 5-1 lead into the ninth, but Ken Caminiti led off the inning with his 13th home run and Alejandro Pena relieved.

Pena closed for his 15th save, making him 11-for-11 in converting save chances since being traded from the New York Mets to Atlanta.

A crowd of 45,815, the largest of the season in Atlanta, rooted on the Braves all night with chants, cheers and the now-famous tomahawk chop.

ATLANTA — Atlanta Braves infielder Mark Lempe, center, and Houston Astors baserunner Craig Biggio (7) look toward umpire Randy Marsh as he calls Biggio safe at second base on a steal attempt in the first inning Friday night.

"It's fun. We enjoy it as much as they do," Avery said. "I wanted to finish it, just to be out there when the fans went crazy."

Avery, 3-11 as a rookie last year, won his fifth consecutive decision. He retired 18 straight batters before walking Javier Ortiz with two outs in the seventh, and Gonzalez followed with a double. Avery escaped the jam by retiring Andujar Cedenon on a weak grounder.

"He's been pitching like this for months. He's a real seasoned veteran," Braves manager Bobby Cox said. "Nothing bothers him."

The Astros did manage to break through against Avery in the eighth when Casey Candaele led off with a single and pinch hitter Mike Simms walked. Steve Finley bounced into a force play, sending Candaele to third, and Craig Biggio grounded into an RBI forceout.

Avery struck out five and walked three.

"It's amazing for a 21-year-old to have the poise and command Steve did," said Astros manager Art Howe. "He handles himself like a 10-year veteran."

Braves catcher Greg Olson said it was business as usual for Avery and Atlanta.

"You can't say enough about a 21-year-old kid," Olson said. "He doesn't act like a 21-year-old, and we don't treat him like one."

"We don't let pressure get to us. Pressure is bad," he said. "We're having lots of fun. One night we get great pitching and not much hitting, and the next night we get great hitting and not so good pitching."

The Braves, who hold a 12-4 series edge over Houston this season, got enough of both to beat the Astros for the eighth straight time.

Terry Pendelton, leading the league in hitting entering the game at .319, hit his 22nd homer in the fifth to give the Braves a 4-0 lead. He went 1-for-4 and dropped a point.

Giants 4, Dodgers 1
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers took a Giant step backward Friday night.

The Dodgers, knowing they needed to win to stay even with Atlanta in the NL West, instead lost to San Francisco 4-1. That dropped Los Angeles one game behind the Braves with only two games to play.

Will Clark and Matt Williams hit home runs in the first inning off Ramon Martinez (17-13), and Kevin Bass homered in the seventh for the Giants, who beat the Dodgers for the seventh time in their last nine meetings.

Martinez, who gave up three runs and eight hits in 5 1-3 innings, is 0-8 in road games since the All-Star break. The Dodgers, meanwhile, fell to 38-41 away from home this season.

During pre-game batting practice, the Dodgers watched on Candlestick Park's JumboTRON screen in center field as Atlanta beat Houston 5-2 for its seventh straight victory. The Giants' fans greeted the Dodgers with lusty boos, and repeatedly broke into choruses of "Beat L.A. Beat L.A."

Bud Black (12-16) held Los Angeles to one run and seven hits in six innings, and Jeff Brantley pitched three innings and struck out six for his 15th save.

Brantley made the game's biggest pitches, striking out pinch hitter Chris Gwynn and a looking Darryl Strawberry with two runners on base to end the seventh.

The Giants, meanwhile, came out swinging against Martinez, who fell to 1-4 against San Francisco this season.

Willie McGee singled with one out and Clark followed with a slicing line drive that barely cleared the fence in left field for an opposite field homer, his 29th this season.

One out later, Williams hit a high fastball from Martinez deep into the left field bleachers for his 34th homer, establishing a new career high and a San Francisco record for home runs by a third baseman.

Williams, who also doubled and was hit by a pitch, is 9-for-19 with three home runs off Martinez.

The Dodgers cut the Giants' lead to 3-1 with Mike Scioscia's fourth-inning sacrifice fly.
