CRMWD adopts 1992 budget

With the exception of new debt service demands, the Colorado River Municipal Water District Budget for 1992 will be virtually the same as for this year.

Directors meeting in Big Spring Thursday, adopted a budget of $28,160,780, but this included $7,978,393 new debt service requirements arising out of the O.H. Ivie Reservoir 158-mile pipeline project. Without the new debt charges, the budget would total $19,081,287, compared with $19,070,487 this year.

The big jump in debt service is in interest on the Series 1991-A ($115,000,000) Revenue Bonds for the first time in the amount of $7,978,393. The new bonds, issued in August, also had the effect of increasing by $797,839 the amount of required coverage. The budget comparisons show $510,000 more for the Water Rate Stabilization Fund portion of the District's share of the reservoir and pipeline projects.

One of the items in the budget is $3,830,000 for electric power, down $44,483 or .12 of one percent, although nearly $100,000 was added for pumping to the new quality enhancement reservoir in western Mitchell County. The reduction resulted from a West Texas Utilities fuel adjustment.

Grapefruit juice warning issued

HATFIELD, Pa. (AP) — Everfresh Inc. is asking people in 18 states, including Texas, to check 10-ounce bottles of their grapefruit juice for signs of tampering.

About 30 bottles in eastern Pennsylvania were found with holes in the lids and one man reported stomach cramps after drinking the juice from one such bottle.

All the affected 10-ounce bottles have code numbers beginning with C-1225.

The juice is vacuum-packaged and sealed with a tamper-evident cap that reads: "Safety button pops up when original seal is broken. Reject if button is up."

Nov. 22 declared official holiday

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Ann Richards declared the Friday following Thanksgiving as an official holiday for state employees.

According to the executive order issued Thursday, the declaration was needed because legislation inadvertently stated the fourth Friday in November would be a state holiday.

This year, the fifth Friday in November is the day after Thanksgiving.

School taxes set at last year's effective tax rate

By MARSHA STURDIVANT Staff Writer

Trustees for the Big Spring Independent School District set and approved a tax rate of $.5190 per $100 of market value for the 1991-92 school year during Thursday night's meeting.

Combined with the county education district's tax rate of $.79, the total school district taxes for the year are $1.309 per $100 of property valuation, an increase over last year's rate of $1.0875. Taxes must be paid by Jan. 31, 1992, or shall be subject to the maximum penalties for delinquent taxes allowed by law.

The new tax rate will generate the same amount of revenue as last year. Assistant Superintendent for Business Ron Plumlee said the board set the taxes at the effective tax rate to pay for needed repairs to school facilities. If the bond issue had passed, the board had anticipated a lower combined tax rate of $1.23.

During the superintendent's report, William McQueary submitted to the trustees the 1991 Texas Education Agency accreditation report that contains 35 commendations to the district and eight corrective requirements.

"All the corrective measures are currently being revised and they're all being addressed. These are not significant areas that need improvement," said Murray Murphy, assistant superintendent for personnel.

Child support check often isn't in the mail, census report says

WASHINGTON (AP) — For more than a million American women trying to raise kids without a father in the house, the child support check often isn't in the mail. And even if the money arrives, it's likely to be less than it should be.

Half the American women get less child support money than they're owed, and one in four don't get any at all, the Census Bureau said Thursday. Altogether, 1.2 million women got nothing.

Some say men who shirk change on child support payments are deadbeats, others that they're the victims of costs too high for them to bear.

Whatever the reason, it's the children who suffer, said Cliff Johnson, family support director of the Children's Defense Fund.

"It's a disaster for children in many cases," Johnson said. "The economic strains on families are such that any child without the support of both parents is in great jeopardy."

On average, a mother got $2,995 in child support in 1989. In some cases, Johnson said, that money makes the difference between having a place to live or ending up on the street.

About one-fourth of the 4.9 million women who were supposed to receive child support in 1989 lived below the federal poverty line. That year, the line for a woman and two children was $9,885 in income, before taxes.

Giving absent fathers a stake in their children may have encouraged the men to pay support.

The Census Bureau said that in 1989, eight out of 10 fathers with visitation rights paid child support, as did nine out of 10 with joint custody. Fewer than half those without such rights paid support.

A little more than half of the fathers without custody had the right to visit their children in 1990. Fewer than one in 10 had joint custody.

An enforcement official said his experience shows most men don't pay because they're fighting with their former wives.

"There's a nasty divorce situation. They're angry at their spouse," said Larry Jackson, Virginia's social services commissioner and head of the American Public Welfare Association's task force on child-support enforcement.

But a fathers' rights activist said it's more likely men don't pay because they can't afford to.

"Payments are too high. They can't be paid in full," said Paul Robinson, president of the Virginia Chapter of Fathers United for Equal Rights. "The source of the problem begins with the custody award."

The Census Bureau findings were based on surveys conducted in 1989 and 1990. The surveys also found:

- There were 10 million fatherless households with children in 1989. That's up 39 percent from 10 years earlier.

- Nearly two-thirds of women who wanted the court to order child support didn't get it. A mother who had been married was three times as likely to be awarded child support as a mother who had never married.

The Census Bureau also studied some broader divorce issues. They found:

- The courts awarded alimony payments to only one in seven divorced or separated women.

- About one-third of divorced women received a property settlement.

Handbook prohibits city employees from political activities

By GARY SHANKS Staff Writer

Although city employees are prohibited in the Big Spring Employee Handbook from political activity other than voting or expressing opinions privately, the police officers involved with the charter amendment election will not be punished, said City Manager Hal Boyd.

"They will not be subject to disciplinary action at this time, but they could be for any future occurrence," he said.

According to the employee manual, the following restrictions apply to all city employees:

- Employees shall refrain from using their positions or influence for or against any candidate for public office in any jurisdiction or any referendum or petition on a public issue in any jurisdiction.

- Employees shall not circulate campaign literature for or against any candidate for city elective office or any referendum or petition on a city issue or be in any way concerned with soliciting or receiving any related subscription, contribution or political service.

- Employees shall not use working hours or city property to be in any way concerned with soliciting or receiving any subscription, contribution or political service or to circulate campaign literature for or against any candidate for public office in any jurisdiction or any referendum or petition on a public issue in any jurisdiction.

- Employees shall not contribute money, labor, time or other valuable thing to any person for purposes related to any type of city election.

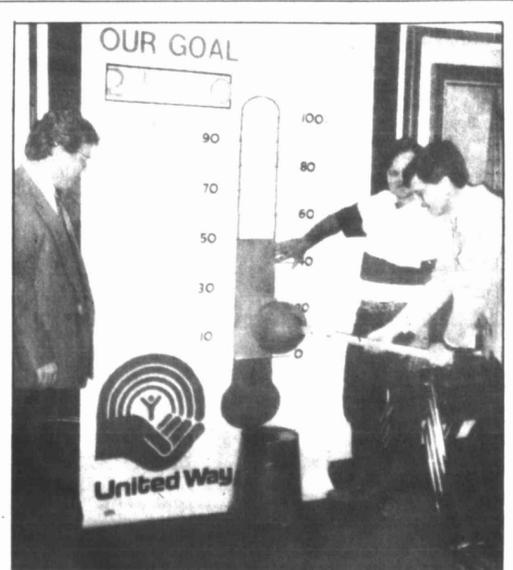

- No employee may seek or hold an appointive or elective city office of public trust, partisan office in any jurisdiction or any other office where service would constitute a direct conflict of interest with city employment, with or without remuneration. If an employee decides to seek or assume such office, he/she shall resign from the city service or shall be dismissed for failure to do so.

However, the Texas Local Government Code 150.002 and 150.003 reads:

While in uniform or on active duty, an employee of the fire or police department of the municipality may not engage in a political activity relating to a campaign for an elective office.

Guerrero defends contributions

AUSTIN (AP) — Republican Railroad Commission candidate Barry Williamson is stepping up his attack on Democratic Commissioner Lena Guerrero's fund-raising efforts.

Guerrero, appointed last year by Gov. Ann Richards, announced that she had raised $500,000 at a fund-raising dinner held the night before a commission hearing on natural gas regulation.

Guerrero, who is seeking election next year, said most of the money was raised from the energy and transportation industries, which the panel regulates. "I consider this a vote of confidence from the very people who must have confidence in the chairman of the Railroad Commission," she said.

Williamson said Thursday that the contributions raised serious ethical questions. "When it comes to ethical considerations, Lena Guerrero just doesn't get it. She solicited half a million dollars in campaign contributions from oilmen the day before she chaired a major regulatory hearing that means life or death to those same oil and gas operators," the Dallas Republican said.

"It's like a judge looking over his or her docket, seeing who will appear in court the next day, and hitting them up for campaign contributions," he said.

Guerrero downplayed the criticism, saying the contributions showed the support she enjoys from the industry.

"He's going around the state suggesting that I'm hostile to the business. That was never true, and now that the industry has proven him wrong, he's crying foul," she said.

Candidate wants no out-of-state donors

AUSTIN (AP) — One of two Republicans seeking the Railroad Commission seat, Carole Keeton Rylander, is asking other candidates not to accept out of state contributions.

"What appropriate interest could donors from California, Michigan, New York and Washington, D.C., have in a race for the Texas Railroad Commission?" Rylander asked in a letter to Democratic Commissioner Lena Guerrero and GOP hopeful Barry Williamson.

Congressman fighting plan

AUSTIN (AP) — U.S. Rep. Joe Barton, R-Ennis, has hired two law firms to fight the congressional redistricting plan approved by the Legislature.

"The Legislature's congressional redistricting plan violates the Voting Rights Act and the United States Constitution," Barton said Thursday.

Republicans say the congressional district boundaries were drawn to increase the chances of Democratic incumbents to get re-elected.

Barton said his legal team will include Charles Cooper and Michael Carvin of the law firm of Shaw, Pittman, Potts & Trowbridge of Washington, and John Harmon and David Herndon of Graves, Dougherty, Hearon & Moody of Austin.

In a related redistricting development, the state attorney general's office said a three-member panel of federal judges had been appointed in Washington to consider the state's motion to allow the Legislature's redistricting plans to remain intact for the 1992 elections.

Attorney general probes charges of price fixing in beer industry

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Attorney General Dan Morales says an investigation by his office into allegations of price-fixing in the beer industry is still in the early stages.

"At this point all I can tell you is that we are relatively early in the investigatory stages, and we are not yet to a point where a decision has been or needs to be made relative to whether any action is going to be taken," Morales said.

Morales has ordered volumes of records dating to January 1987, according to documents received by The Associated Press.

Records being sought pertain to the relationship between different distributors and the ties between distributors and retailers, which sell beer to consumers, according to the notice received by one Texas beer distributor.

According to the documents, Morales wants details on how beer prices are set and records on meetings between beer distributors when prices to retailers were discussed.

Investigators are requesting a mountain of documents, including sales records, telephone logs, salesmen's call reports, travel reimbursement vouchers and beer price lists. In addition, documents on competition, supplies, product demand, and market conditions have been ordered.

Morales described the probe as a "routine investigation," but said the order for such detailed records was necessary.

"We are obligated to be as comprehensive and as exhaustive as is necessary in order to make a sound legal judgement on whether any action is going to be warranted," he said in an interview.

Morales declined to say how many distributors were being questioned, or provide any further details of the probe.

"In the recent past there has been a fair level of activity relative to antitrust violations, not just within the confines of our state," he said.

Morales requested the beer industry records under the Texas Free Enterprise and Antitrust Act. His notice warns distributors that the penalty for trying to withhold or alter information is a misdemeanor, subject to a maximum penalty of one year in jail, and a $5,000 fine. All the data must be submitted under a sworn certificate that states the information is accurate.

In recent months, Morales has filed antitrust lawsuits against two makers of baby formula and nine dairies with school milk contracts. In both cases, defendants were accused of price-fixing.

In the school milk case, which has drawn the attention of federal investigators in 16 states, including Texas, seven of the Texas dairies agreed in July to pay $14.9 million to settle the lawsuit without admitting guilt.

In the baby formula case, Morales has sued Abbott Laboratories of Abbott Park, Ill., maker of Similac; and New York-based Bristol-Myers Squibb Co., which makes Enfamil. He accused the two companies of "shameful and disgusting" behavior in trying to monopolize the market and charge Texans too much for their babies' nourishment. Both companies have denied Morales' allegations.

Officials with the Wholesale Beer Distributors of Texas did not return repeated telephone messages from the AP.

TEA board approves restructuring of agency

AUSTIN (AP) — Education Commissioner Lionel "Skip" Meno says that by reorganizing the Texas Education Agency, he hopes to ensure it provides the services school districts need, leading to improved student achievement.

State Board of Education members, meeting as a committee, on Thursday approved a reorganization plan that includes the transfer of millions of dollars and dozens of jobs to education centers around the state.

A final vote is scheduled for Saturday.

"We're doing it (the reorganization) to get better student results," Meno said to a packed hearing room. The crowd overflowed into two nearby rooms equipped with sound systems.

But because the plan will not be in place until January, Meno said he didn't expect to see those results until about the spring of 1994.

Carolyn Crawford of Beaumont, head of the board, called the reorganization plan "historic."

"It is the first time that the Texas Education Agency has truly been reorganized since its inception" in 1949, she said.

The plan would immediately reduce the agency work force by 87 positions, including six executive jobs, to 1,179. But no one has been fired because a hiring freeze has been in place and several people have resigned, Meno said.

The plan includes a new Office of Field Services to give school districts a direct connection to the education commissioner.

As part of that office, it calls for 60 positions to be transferred to the state's 20 regional education service centers. People hired for the jobs will act as "ombudspersons" for local districts, Meno said.

An additional 20 service center jobs would be to help schools with reform efforts.

The reorganization is part of Meno's drive to give school districts flexibility, then hold them accountable for preparing students to succeed in the "real world."

Officials want overpayments back

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Soldiers in the Gulf War received housing benefits they weren't entitled to, according to Pentagon officials who say they want the money back.

The Defense Department has ordered thousands of Army reservists and National Guardsmen to repay overpaid housing allowances given to them when they were discharged, said Virginia Johnson, spokeswoman for the Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Indianapolis Center at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

She blamed most of the problem on soldiers receiving an entire month's benefits even though they served only a fraction of that month before being sent home.

"So many people were discharged at the same time, there was such an influx, the system couldn't catch up with taking them off the system," Mrs. Johnson said.

She said she did not know how many people had received overpayments.

Letters were mailed to the soldiers telling them they have 30 days to repay the balance. An 8 percent interest and $15 handling charge will be tacked on for those who pay in monthly installments.

Any balances past due after 90 days will be assessed an additional 6 percent interest rate, according to the letters, which were signed by G.J. Letterman, director of accounting and debt management operations.

Another witness accuses Thomas

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new witness with allegations of unwelcome sexual advances by Clarence Thomas will testify when the Senate Judiciary Committee takes a dramatic second look at his Supreme Court nomination. Republicans sought to discredit her before the start of today's hearings.

Thomas, at the insistence of Republicans, was testifying ahead of his two former employees at the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Both he and his principal accuser, Anita Hill, a University of Oklahoma law professor, were given a chance to read opening statements.

The new witness, Angela Wright, is a former EEOC press officer who now is an assistant metro editor at The Charlotte Observer in North Carolina. She told the Observer that Thomas pressured her for dates, asked her breast size and showed up at her apartment uninvited.

Sen. Orrin Hatch of Utah, one of two Republicans designated to question witnesses at the hearing, told NBC that Wright was "not going to be the best witness, in my opinion, against Clarence Thomas."

"This is another one of those witnesses we predicted would come out of the woodwork."

Biosphere member loses fingertip

ORACLE, Ariz. (AP) — One of eight people in the Biosphere experiment lost the tip of her finger in an accident and may have to be taken out of the sealed environment, an official of the project said today.

Jane Poynter, 28, was injured while operating a rice-hulling machine Wednesday, said Kathy Dyhr, spokeswoman for the project. The finger was reattached by the crew's doctor, but because the bone was cut, she may have to be taken out temporarily for surgery by a specialist, Dyhr said.

A decision on whether to remove her will be made in the next two or three days, the spokeswoman said.

The crew of eight was sealed into the three-acre, glass-enclosed environment on Sept. 26, intending to stay inside, without material contact with the outside world, for two years. If Poynter were taken out through the airlocks for surgery, it wouldn't invalidate the experiment to see if humans can run a self-sustaining environment, Dyhr said.

Fired postal worker kills ex-boss

RIDGEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — The fired postal worker accused of killing his ex-boss and three others had a sword, machine guns, grenades and other weapons and probably would have killed more people if he could have, police said.

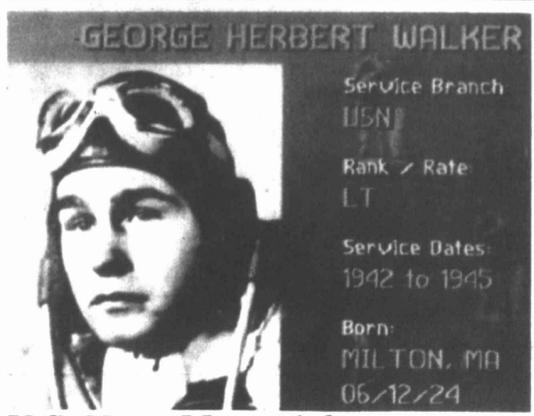

Authorities said Joseph M. Harris went to the home of his former supervisor, Carol Ott, on Thursday morning and killed her and her boyfriend, then drove 10 miles to the post office where he once worked and killed the first two employees to arrive.

Harris, wearing a bullet-proof vest and armed with a 9mm Uzi machine gun, a .22-caliber

MAC-10 machine gun, hand grenades and a samurai sword, surrendered to police after holding up inside the Ridgewood post office for more than four hours.

"In my opinion, considering the way he was armed and given the circumstances, he intended to kill more people," said Ridgewood Police Chief Frank Milliken.

Harris, 35, was arraigned in Superior Court in Hackensack on Thursday on four counts of murder, two counts each of attempted murder and attempted kidnapping and single counts of possessing automatic weapons and explosives.

WASHINGTON — Visitors to the $15 million U.S. Navy Memorial in Washington can view the names of 180,000 people who served in America's maritime services, including a boyish World War II Navy pilot named George Bush. Survey: High schoolers bring weapons to school

ATLANTA (AP) — A government survey of high school students found one in five carries a weapon — and would use it if threatened.

High school students responding to the nationwide survey said they had carried a weapon such as a gun, knife or club at least once in the preceding month for protection or because they might need it in a fight.

"This does not include carrying a penknife around for peeling apples or carrying a shotgun on a weekend hunting trip," said Dr. James Mercy, chief of injury epidemiology at the national Centers for Disease Control.

The findings reported Thursday by the federal agency are the latest from a mammoth 1990 survey of high school students. Results previously reported show that one in two youths drinks, one in three smokes and one in four has seriously considered suicide.

The survey was conducted among 11,631 students in grades 9-12 in 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The overall margin of error was about 2 percent.

The survey did not ask specifically whether weapons were brought to school.

"Many violent altercations don't occur on school grounds," Mercy said. "We're not just concerned about weapons at school."

Nearly half — 43 percent — of the weapon-toting students said they'd been armed four or more times in the previous month.

Among male students, 32 percent said they carried weapons; among females, 8 percent. Percentages were highest for Hispanic males, followed by black males and white males.

Knives and razors were carried by 55 percent of those who were armed. Twenty-four percent carried clubs, while 21 percent carried guns.

During the 1980s, more than 11,000 Americans were killed in homicides committed by high school-age attackers, the Atlanta-based agency reported.

Mercy acknowledged the possibility some students might lie in order to boast or be funny. But researchers believe an even larger number of students who carry weapons — especially guns — didn't admit it, even on an anonymous questionnaire.

"We expect that this is, in fact, an underestimate, not an overestimate," he said.

'Suicide pill' should be restricted

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Doctors and social workers are calling for tighter restrictions on the sale of an 8-cent pesticide tablet people are using to commit suicide. Authorities refuse to ban the product because they say agriculture can't do without it.

Aluminum phosphide pesticide, or ALP, meant to be sprinkled over sacks of grain, is to be sold only to government granaries, agriculture departments and approved pest-controllers.

But the chemical has regularly found its way into the hands of people who misuse it, usually unauthorized retailers, said Avinash Rajvanshi, a leading toxicologist with the National Institute of Criminology and Forensic Science.

Death from the tablet comes violently and agonizingly. The pill produces lethal phosphine gas when it comes in contact with hydrochloric acid or water in stomach. After severe vomiting, the victim loses consciousness, the blood vessels rupture and body cavities fill with blood.

Rajvanshi said 10 to 15 percent of all suicides in villages are believed caused by ALP poisoning. There have been no studies of the suicides or figures kept of total deaths by the poison.

"The easy availability... and the absence of any specific antidote has made death look easy," Dr. T.N. Mehrotra of the Meerut Medical College told the annual meeting of the Indian Association of Physicians this year.

Search for nuclear evidence begins

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — U.N. nuclear inspectors flew to Iraq today to begin searching for evidence of a hydrogen bomb project.

Officials from the United Nations and the International Atomic Energy Agency said Wednesday that Iraq had manufactured Lithium-6, a material used only in hydrogen bombs. They said the supply was kept at the Al-Athir weapons facility, 40 miles south of Baghdad.

On Thursday, the head of the inspection team, Dimitri Pericos, said "the information to date... showed they were working on separation of Lithium-6." "We have to look into the system," he said.

The Lithium-6 was "one of the factors" indicating Iraqis were trying to make a hydrogen bomb, Pericos said.

"It's not all the proof that you need for that. But definitely you don't do that unless you expect to go into a next step," he said.

"The fact with Lithium-6 just shows that they had been anticipating they are going to be having a prolonged program, that they are going into the next step which is boosting of a weapon or going on the thermonuclear weapon."

Army denies signing agreement

NUSTAR, Yugoslavia (AP) — The Yugoslav army today denied it signed an agreement to pull out of the secessionist republic of Croatia, and shelling delayed a relief convoy carrying supplies to a besieged Croatian stronghold.

The army statement, carried by the official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug, cast further doubt on the announcement at European Community peace talks on Thursday of an army pullout within a month in exchange for a political settlement of the dispute between Croats and Croatia's Serb minority.

"No agreement on the removal of Yugoslav armed forces from Croatian territory was signed yesterday in The Hague," said the brief military statement. There was no elaboration.

The chief of the Serb-dominated army, Defense Minister Veljko Kadijevic, had said Thursday in

REFINERY WRECKAGE

The Hague that he accepted the agreement announced by Dutch Foreign Minister Hans van der Broek, the EC mediator.

Bid an old ally gentle goodbye

It now seems certain that the sun is setting on the U.S. military presence in the Philippines. This will involve wrenching changes for America's strategic posture in the Western Pacific. It also will test the dubious notion, advanced by some Filipino nationalists, that the Philippines somehow will be better off without American bases on its soil.

Throughout the 14 months of negotiations between Washington and Manila on renewing the bases agreement, the Bush administration said plainly that U.S. forces would not remain where they are not wanted. Ironically, opinion polls in the Philippines have shown repeatedly that most Filipinos favor retaining the bases. But the Philippine Senate voted against the renewal agreement. And now President Corazon Aquino has abandoned her plan to challenge the Senate's rejection in a nationwide referendum. Instead, she has offered a three-year timetable for American withdrawal from the giant naval base at Subic Bay.

Defense Secretary Dick Cheney said this week that American withdrawal would be a tragedy for the Philippines. He may be right. The U.S. military is the second-largest employer in the country. Its payrolls, the American aid tied to the bases agreement, and the money spent by U.S. military personnel contributed perhaps $1 billion a year to the weak Philippine economy.

Moreover, the American presence lent an aura of stability to a country plagued by unstable politics, widespread corruption, economic mismanagement, and lingering insurgency. If the bases go, so will much of the American aid. And if the resulting economic downturn increases instability, the foreign investment so desperately needed in the Philippines will be that much harder to obtain.

Filipino nationalists argue that their country was economically, psychologically, and culturally crippled by 300 years of Spanish colonialism and nearly a century of dependence on the United States. There is a grain of truth in this. Certainly the legacy of Spanish colonialism has been very damaging. When the American umbilical chord is severed, Filipinos will have no one to blame but themselves for their country's chronic troubles.

In the meantime, the Bush administration and the Aquino government would be wise to manage the American disengagement in ways that do the least damage to the unraveling partnership between the United States and its oldest ally in the Pacific.

Drive-ins giving way to the shopping malls

The last drive-in movie in New Jersey, which is just behind confusion on my list of favorite states, is closing. Believe it or not, that is significant.

The first drive-in movie in the country was in Camden, N.J. It opened, according to an Associated Press article that passed my way, 58 years ago.

Second, the closing of Route 35 Drive-In in Hazlet Township, N.J., which will now become "a shopping mall with a 12-theater cineplex," is part of a trend toward a serious decline in drive-ins all over.

The article said there once were 4,000 drive-ins nationwide. Now, there are only 900, and most of them are in the Sun Belt, where drive-ins can operate all year and there is no possibility of freezing to death while watching Thelma and Louise drive willy-nilly across the desert.

And those cineplexes in shopping malls are convenient. If the movie you are watching (like "Dead Again") is boring, you can go through the next door and watch your choice of 11 other movies, if the usher with all the zits and the earring doesn't catch you.

"Cineplex," by the way, is from the Latin phrase, "Cineplexus Milkudius," which means marking up things like candy, popcorn and soft drinks about 9 million percent.

I could go to the Alamo theater back home, pay a dime to get in and buy a candy bar, a bag of popcorn and a drink for an additional 15 cents.

Of course I didn't get to see anybody naked on the screen back then; but Randolph Scott riding the West of riff-raff was plenty of entertainment for me back then.

No wonder the drive-ins are closing. Who wants to have to get out of a car, hike a mile in the dark, tripping over speaker wires, in order to buy a Coke, which now costs what a six-pack of beer did 30 years ago?

Lewis Grizzard

And I don't guess teenagers need drive-ins any more for the primary reason we went to drive-ins.

That, of course, was to engage in some fair to partly cloudy petting. It rarely went past petting in those days.

After you figured out how to unsnap a bra with one hand in the dark, while engaged in a serious lip-lock, you were usually too tired and frustrated to try to take it any further.

I guess kids today get a suite at The Ritz, or at least a room at Motel Sex, I mean Six.

But I have my mammaries. Memories. Who cared what was playing at the old drive-in?

"Ben Hur"? Didn't see the first chariot. The windows in my car were too fogged up: "Mondo Trasho," a documentary about certain occult practices in other parts of the world? There likely was the opportunity to see a couple of topless tribeswomen, but I was too involved in my own practice of trying to get around the bases.

Second is about as far as I ever reached, but that was better than watching Rock Hudson fake heterosexuality around Doris Day.

And, soon, there probably won't be a single drive-in left and they are already teaching in school what it took me years to find out in the back seat of a 1957 Chevy.

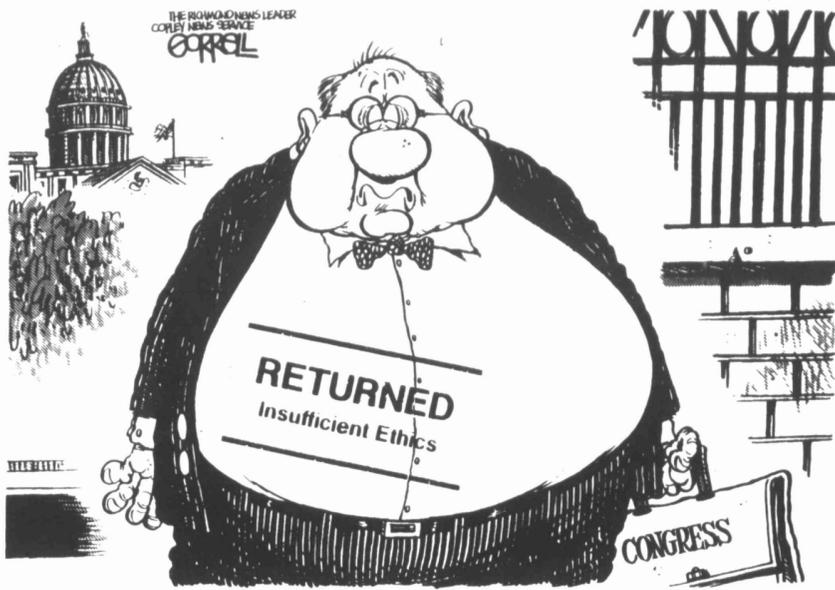

But I'm sort of glad that's the way I learned it. Sex education textbooks today probably don't mention a thing about explaining all those wrinkles in your clothes after watching, "The Glob That Ate Arkansas" at Saturday Night at the drive-in.

Shall, will, may and might

The Court of Irks, Peeves and Crotchets continues its October asides with a petition from Charles S. McCandlish of Winchester, Va. He asks a declaratory judgment on the use of "shall" and "will." This court is nothing if not decisive. The ruling is: It depends.

There was a time when every schoolboy could recite the rule. To form a simple future tense, we were instructed to use "shall" in the first person and to use "will" for the second and third. Thus, I shall give the crystal to Genevieve. You will get the silver. My children will inherit the horse. If one's purpose was to express determination, the rule worked in reverse: I will give the crystal to Genevieve.

My impression is that English writers, at the level of The Times, generally adhere to the old rule, but except in the drafting of statutes and other legal documents, the rule is a dead duck in the United States. The choice of "shall" or "will" would depend upon the nature of the composition, whether fiction or non-fiction, formal or informal. It is a judgment call, wholly within the discretion of the writer.

The court takes judicial notice of "shall" in the context of permission. Plainly, there is a difference between "Shall we dance?" and "Will we dance?" To express determination, stick with General MacArthur at Corregidor: "I shall return." Or just raise your voice.

All of which leads to the next complaint, this one from Stephen L. Kirkpatrick of Olympia, Wash. He writes that headline writers and many others have fallen into the bad habit of substituting "may" for "might" because "may" is shorter. He offers as an exhibit, "Green River Suspect May Stay in Jail." The plaintiff might well have embraced "can" in his motion for clarification.

Again, the old rule is well known: Use "can" to express ability; use "may" to express permission. "George can ride the horse" indicates that George is able to ride the horse. "George may ride the horse" means that George has permission to do so.

The distinction between "may" and "might" crops up in the expression of doubt or uncertainty. An accident victim is given first aid. Says one bystander, "He may have survived." (The speaker isn't certain.) Says another, "If the aid had been given properly, he might have survived." (The implication is that the victim didn't make it.)

Webster's Dictionary of English Usage, which the court relies upon as an expert witness, offers a tricky sentence from Forbes magazine in 1970: "Born in Buffalo, N.Y., he may have gone to Princeton . . . but he made his reputation as a railroad." Did the subject go to Princeton? The reader is unsure. Probably the meaning was that the subject might have gone to Princeton. The court's advice is, when in doubt, use "might."

Steve Purhonen of Arlington, Va., is irked by "back" (A back irk?) In evidence he offers a column by Richard Cohen in The Washington Post: "Back when these movies were made and I was a kid . . ." "Back then, a lot of people drank martinis . . ." "Back then, everyone knew martini jokes." The court approves Cohen's usage and dismisses the complaint. The "back" may be redundant, but it oils the hinges of a reminiscent paragraph. Like any other literary device, of course, "back then" can be worked to the irk point.

A curmudgeonly note comes from a reader whose name the court cannot make out, objecting to "We are pleased to." The vice president of the South Carolina College Council was "pleased to report" that pending legislation looked useful. The president of Agnes Scott College was "very pleased to welcome" two new members of the board of trustees. A hospital spokeswoman in South Carolina was "pleased to have" final approval of a building project.

The court has its own curmudgeonly moments, but the court refuses to enjoin the phrase. The complainant puts his point bluntly: "Who cares whether the spokeswoman is pleased?" The court's view is that such small niceties add to a sense of civility. Not every piece of writing, if you please, has to go slam-bang, bar the doors, cut the nonsense, and get on with the task at hand.

When this court is not sitting, the court is hanging around the press gallery of the U.S. Senate, where every member is "distinguished" and some are both able and distinguished. This is manifestly unbecome, but should parliamentary speech be banned? The court declares any such motion null, void and of no avail.

Town becoming a laughing stock

To the editor:

Don't we all wish we lived in a "Mayberry" place? Well, we don't. A town like this would be great but with all the people that either "take the law into their own hands" or just like to "take," this is pipe dream. We don't have a "Mayberry," but do we want a "Watergate" type of town? I don't live in the city limits but I do have a business in town, shop in town and pay taxes in town. There are not enough policemen or women to go around now; if we do the police forces, where does it leave the average person?

All this fuss between city council members, city council and police dept. and whoever else wants to argue really seems juvenile. It's getting as bad as two kids arguing. Just put on the gloves and go out back. Big Spring is becoming a laughing stock. When I moved here 13 years ago I loved the friendliness of the people. I still love Big Spring, just not very proud right now. Can't we put problems aside and join forces? Big Spring is a good place to work, raise your children and grow old gracefully. We need an adequate police force. Cutting it doesn't make any sense. Just offering more money incentives doesn't guarantee a good job. It could guarantee more competitiveness instead of compassion and unity.

I hope the next time Mr. Coffee needs a policeman that the policeman is not busy reading the newspaper. Really.

Report more facts, fewer happenings

To the editor:

In partial reply to the editorial of October 6, in which you state your intention of being a watchdog for the people and keeping them well informed:

In reporting the news to the people of Big Spring, the Herald usually describes what has happened at the council meeting. It almost never reports the information, i.e. facts, presented by council members. Therefore, in reading the Herald the public seldom learns the economic facts of life in Big Spring, Texas.

An example is the reporting of the exchange between Councilman Coffee and Mr. Hughes. Coffee asked him if he knew how much a ten-cent raise in taxes would bring into the city and after a negative reply informed him, "$295,000." He next asked Hughes if he knew how much was spent last year on police cars and after another negative reply Coffee stated, "$235,000." Both of these facts have been brought up in previous council meetings, but have not yet been reported by the Herald.

At other times council members have more directly presented important economic facts to the council, but the Herald has not reported these.

To summarize, I think the Herald reports council actions, which tend to sell newspapers when emotions run high, but fails to report enough economic facts for the citizens to make informed choices. Your chosen role of "watchdog" involves your making decisions about what the public needs protection from; thus you take sides on many issues. I think there are a lot of us citizens who would rather the Herald emphasize your role as unbiased fact-giver so that we could arrive at our own informed conclusions.

Time of innocent memories

By GARY SHANKS
Staff Writer

I never attack anyone's beliefs or belief system; it's one of the rules I live by.

Well, it's more of a guideline than a rule.

An opportunity to pick on Muslims rarely passes me by, and I just can't stand when fanatics try to pin "Satan" labels on things like Santa Claus and Halloween.

As a boy, Halloween meant running around the neighborhood getting goodies from people. It brings back innocent memories of eating candy until we collapsed into a sugar coma or threw up. OK, it was dumb but it was American.

But, apparently, there are some psych cases that expect the cloven-hooved beast to be walking the earth on Halloween.

I guess some people are so fascinated with the idea of seeing Satan that they start to see him everywhere.

It freaked me out to hear that many area elementary schools had abolished Halloween carnivals and replaced them with something called harvest festivals.

I just can't see how bobbing for apples and going through the spook house is particularly corrupting.

Then there's the term harvest festival. I don't know. It sort of makes me think of Greek maidens performing ceremonies for Dionysius, their god of fertility. Can't get much more pagan than that.

As an adult, I enjoy Halloween because, on this one day a year, people can act as strangely as they want to, within reason.

It's very interesting to see how funny people can be when the restrictions of conformity are loosened.

Unfortunately, Halloween has always been associated with a certain amount of mischief. But you can't punish everybody for that. Well, I guess you can — you could have a harvest festival.

It's tradition, for Pete's sake! Why should we let a few emotional cuisinarts ruin a perfectly good tradition?

Granted, if we were having human sacrifices and drinking goat's blood, I would hope someone would stop us. But it's just Halloween.

And if some group were to be performing the above mentioned atrocities, they wouldn't be doing it just on Halloween. Besides, it would be a matter for the police and not the PTA.

And now they're calling it a harvest festival, or worse — a fall festival!

Boy just suck all the life out of it, why don'tcha!

Fall festival. Man, that is just too terrible. Reminds me of those memos from nuclear power plants where they refer to a fire as "an instance of rapid oxidation."

I had this fanatical housewife type in Austin tell me that Santa Claus was the devil. Even though all she had for evidence was quotes from supposedly famous evangelical types, she believed it!

Now, how much more wholesome and Norman Rockwellesque can you get than Santa Claus?

But NOOOOOoooo!

He's the devil! I've heard Santa Claus makes a stew of innocent children. Underneath his red coat, he has a necklace made of human teeth!

Why, I've seen grown men pull their own heads off rather than see Santa Claus!

Ya' know, some people are just wrapped a little too tight.

Oh well!

I've got to go find a Halloween costume. Let's see, last year I was a nun, so I better go with something a little more macho this time.

A Viking maybe? Where can I get a metal hat with horns on it? Wait a minute, there were no Vikings with dark hair and brown eyes. But then again — how many nuns have a beard?

Happy Halloween, folks.

Your enemies in Christian life

Advertising religion

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Southern Baptist Convention plans to launch a nationwide TV ad campaign next year to try to improve an image tarnished by a decade of in-house squabbles.

Mark Coppenger, the denomination's vice president for public relations, says TV public service announcements are being prepared portraying Southern Baptist concern for traditional values and family life.

The project was initiated after an executive committee action that cited a "large amount of negative publicity" toward Southern Baptists and urged a multimedia campaign to counter such impressions.

Baptist officers say the venture is an outgrowth of worries by many Baptists that the SBC has been demoralized by a 13-year-long power struggle in which conservatives won control, ousting moderates from key positions.

Coppenger, hired nine months ago as the SBC's first public relations officer, said the spots are to be offered to television stations and networks as public service announcements, which are broadcast without charge by broadcasters choosing to do so.

I'm o.k., your o.k.

BERLIN (AP) — The Evangelical Church in Berlin-Brandenburg has publicly affirmed homosexuality as "neither sinful nor a sickness, but a different expression of human sexuality," the first Germany Lutheran church to take that position.

Americans mourn

NEW YORK (AP) — The Greek Orthodox Church in the Americas has declared a 40-day period of mourning over the death last week of Ecumenical Patriarch Dimitrios I, spiritual leader of the world's 300 million Eastern Orthodox Christians.

Sisters celebrate

OSSINING, N.Y. (AP) — The Maryknoll Sisters are beginning celebration of the 80th anniversary of their founding with an exhibit of photos and other materials documenting the order's history. Started in 1912, the order has 843 sisters serving in 21 countries.

Minister goes priest

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Richard John Neuhaus, a widely read Christian author and former Lutheran minister, now is a Roman Catholic priest. Neuhaus, 55, was ordained Sept. 7 by New York's Cardinal John O'Connor. He is continuing his work as director of the Institute of Religion and Public Policy in Manhattan.

Membership increase

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Assemblies of God reports that its worldwide membership increased by more than 5 million members in the past two years to a total of 21.5 million in 124 countries.

U.S. membership, currently listed at 2.5 million, increased by 30,000 in the two-year period.

Area briefs

Benefit dinner

There will be a benefit dinner and breakfast for Inez Salazar at the Sacred Heart Youth Center on Oct. 12 at 11 a.m. and on Oct. 13 after mass. All are invited to attend. Call the church for more information.

Christmas bazaar plans

Saturday, November 9, is the date of the annual Christmas bazaar sponsored by the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church.

The bazaar will be held at the church from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m., with a homemade Mexican-style luncheon served from 11:30 a. m. until 1:30 p. m.

The bazaar is particularly noteworthy because of the home-baked goods and hand-made Christmas items offered for sale, say the organizers.

Proceeds from the luncheon and from bazaar sales benefit the organization's charity projects.

Freda Hoover and Dot Blackwell are co-chairpersons of the bazaar. Luncheon chairperson is June Waters, assisted by Barbara Ervin.

Other chairpersons are Cliffs Slate, assisted by Emma Jean Johnson, food booth; Dot Blackwell, assisted by Dolores Le Vier, crafts booth; Marae Brooks, antiques and collectibles; Earlene Davidson, assisted by Gyneth McClendon, white elephant booth; Stella Marshall, assisted by Pat Grace, Christmas booth; and Lois Wright, plant booth.

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Why is it so hard to live the Christian life? I became a Christian about five months ago, and it seems like all I have had is trouble and temptation since then. I have no intention of giving up my beliefs, but sometimes I wonder if there is something wrong with me. — S.J.

DEAR S.J.: Don't be surprised that it is hard to live the way God wants you to live. The reason is because now that you belong to Christ you will find you are in a battle — a spiritual battle.

Who (or what) are your enemies? They have been summarized sometimes in three words: the world, the flesh and the devil. The word "world" here includes those around you who don't believe in God or Christ and put pressure on you to conform to their way of thinking and acting. Most of us like to be liked by others; we hate to stand against the crowd. But the Bible says, "Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind" (Romans 12:2).

The self-centered lusts and desires of the flesh also work against our spiritual growth. Paul advised Timothy, "Flee the evil desires of youth, and pursue righteousness" (2 Timothy 2:22). The devil also opposes us in our spiritual battle. Satan is real, and his sole goal is to keep you from God and His will. The Bible says, "Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Come near to God and he will come near to you" (James 4:7-8).

But remember: We don't fight our spiritual battles alone!

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Do you think we are responsible for the way we act, especially when we do things that are wrong? Or do we act the way we do because of the way we were brought up, and we really don't have any control over our actions? — F.R.

DEAR F.R.: No doubt a number

of influences combine to make us what we are — including the way we were brought up. The Bible recognizes this; in fact that's one reason we are told to give much attention to our children and to what we teach them (both by our words and our example). "Train a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not turn from it" (Proverbs 22:6). David's failure to discipline and properly train his son Absalom undoubtedly led to that son's tragic rebellion against his father (see 2 Samuel 15-18).

At the same time, each one of us has a personal responsibility for our own actions. Our parents or others may have influenced us — but we cannot blame them alone when we do evil, nor can we act as if they alone were responsible for the way we are. We each must bear responsibility for our own sins. The Bible declares, "The soul who sins is the one who will die. The son will not share the guilt of the father, nor will the father share the guilt of the son... the wickedness of the wicked will be charged against him" (Ezekiel 18:20).

But there is another thing our parents can't do for us, and for which we alone are responsible — and that is our commitment to Christ. You may have parents who are devout Christians — but someday you too must make your own commitment to Christ. We come to Him individually; He forgives us our sins individually; we live for Him individually; and someday we will die and go to be with Him individually. Godly parents can influence us — but the decision is ours. Have you made your own personal commitment to Jesus Christ?

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: How do you deal with rejection? I almost never hear from my two sisters (who live in other cities), although I yearn to hear from them and be invited to spend time with them. I have never married, and I know they are very involved and busy with their families and have little time to think about me, but still I get very lonely and wonder what I can do to have a closer relationship. It isn't that they are nasty to me — they just never seem to think about me. — V.F.

DEAR V.F.: One reason I wanted to print your letter is because I suspect there may be many people like your sisters — people who have relatives they almost never think about, not because they dislike them or intentionally want to hurt them, but because they are too involved in their own immediate interests. Perhaps your letter will remind them to stop and become more concerned about others. The Bible reminds us, "Each of you should look not only to your own interests, but also to the interests of others" (Philippians 2:4).

At the same time, don't let your sisters' apparent rejection (or, more properly, indifference) get you down. What can you do? First, do what you can to reach out to them. Let them know you care about them, and that you value news of their families. Even ask them to send you pictures of their children from time to time. Don't complain about their lack of attention; that usually gains nothing. But do let them know you care for them.

Then be friends to those around you. This will help you overcome your own loneliness — and help others as well. Most of all, realize that you are never alone if you know Christ, for He is always with you. Open your heart to Him, and trust His promise that "surely I will be with you always, to the very end of the age" (Matthew 28:20).

From left, Edna Bassett, Barbra Jarrell, Brother Arnold Tonn, Judy Fortenberry and Mona Lou Tonn, all work together to see that the food ministry at the Spring Tabernacle Church is open every Tuesday and Thursday to help the area needy.

Spring Tabernacle gives bread, milk, friendship

The Spring Tabernacle Church, located at 1209 Wright St., offers bread and milk every Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to noon.

Together with the food, Brother Arnold Tonn and wife Mona Lou offer plenty of friendship and warmth to the people who come.

"This is our first year," said Brother Tonn. "We started with nothing and now we are feeding the multitudes."

From its beginning, Spring Tabernacle has been helping needy families. "When the food ministry first began we would drive around and take the food to the people. That got too expensive so we notified everyone that we could and started having it here twice a week," said Brother Tonn.

The food comes from different sources. The bread is provided by the Rainbow Bread Thirt Store, Wise Chips brings snacks and the Salvation Army comes through with dairy products and eggs when it can. In the summer the farmers' market brings by fresh vegetables when they have extra.

The Kingdom Now class at the First Methodist Church regularly collects money and purchases food for a special pantry at Spring Tabernacle. This pantry has beans, pasta, soup, rice and other dry goods available if there is a need.

The food ministry at Spring Tabernacle is a group effort. Many make donations of food and clothing. Many more volunteer to pick up people and take them to the church for the food. And there are the people who come every week to help distribute the food and clothing.

Barbra Jarrell, Judy Fortenberry, Edna Bassett, Trudy Carter and Claudeane Baker are all regular volunteers who come to help Brother Tonn and Mona Lou provide for the needy.

"People will come in for the first time and ask what they need to qualify for help. I tell them, all anyone has to have is a need," said Mona Lou.

An average of 150 people come to the church every week for the food ministry. "It's nice to see people who started coming for the food now attending services with us," said Brother Tonn. "Others started coming as recipients and now they volunteer to help us distribute the food."

The Spring Tabernacle Church offers help for those in need, help that is not judged by any denomination and comes with friendship, free of charge.

Hillcrest Baptist Church was formally organized December 1, 1952. Since that time the church has experienced a continuous growth. Today the membership is 1470.

In 1977 the church had grown to the point that it was necessary to purchase and move to its present twenty acre site at 2000 West F.M. 700. In November 1987, Dr. Robert Lacey came to Hillcrest as pastor. God has continued to bless Hillcrest under his leadership. Hillcrest is a friendly, family oriented church. It is our belief that the home and family are of paramount importance. We believe that the church is to strengthen our family relations. It is true that the family that prays and worships together stays together. Every program is designed with the family in mind. We have many exciting programs for every age.

Hillcrest is a caring church reaching out to Big Spring through its many different ministries. Allow me to list and highlight but a few of these ministries: Sunday School, Bible study for all ages; Sunday Worship services are inspiring, evangelistic and our message is life changing. Each service is interpreted for the deaf. A full music ministry under the direction of David Cox; Sam Robertson directs a large Children's Church on Sunday morning; an active hospital ministry, a Veterans Hospital ministry; a complete deaf ministry directed by Doris Arcand, that includes Sunday School and activities as well as interpretation for every service; a very active youth ministry with Gary Phillips as coordinator. The Outreach ministry includes a bus ministry for all ages and a weekly evangelistic visitation program. Brenda Hyatt directs the Hillcrest Child Development Center that enrolls 125 children ages 18 months to 4 years; also a kindergarten (with full day care).

Other ministries include mid-week prayer services, mission action groups, deacon family ministry plan, and a monthly men's prayer breakfast. Hillcrest is also committed to an exciting and growing ministry with senior adults.

Hillcrest Baptist Church takes very serious and is excited about their spiritual commitment to our Lord Jesus Christ. A warm, friendly people invite you to attend and become a part of this exciting fellowship.

Kiwanis Club focuses on youth

The Kiwanis club met in the Cactus Room at Howard College Oct. 3 at 7 p.m.

The meeting was to install Tim Thornton as president and Cliff Ataway as vice president of the Big Spring club.

The Kiwanis was founded in 1915 in Detroit, Mich. and was initially a business fellowship. It has since evolved into an international civic organization with the motto "We Build".

Building the youth of Big Spring is the area Kiwanis club's first priority. The club sponsors the Big Spring High School Key Club, as well as a Little League baseball team. The club also sends mentally and physically challenged children to Lubbock for two weeks each summer to attend the Kiwanis camp.

Two scholarships are given annually to high school seniors by the Kiwanis. One scholarship is awarded to a student planning to attend Howard College, the other scholarship allows a student to attend the college of their choice.

Other projects the Kiwanis support are highway clean up, Hunger for Kids, the Salvation Army, and Westside Day Care. Every Christmas a Kiwanis Santa brings presents to children at Westside.

Though on the national level children are the top priority, the organization reaches people of all ages. Henry Krusekopf Lieutenant Governor of the district for Kiwanis, mentioned the V.A. Hospital program as an example of one of the many beneficial programs organized by the club. The V.A. program consists of singing, and visiting with the patients over refreshments.

Interests that President Tim

Thornton emphasized are supporting a strong area youth and participating in the recycling project the club recently began. The Kiwanis have collected and sold aluminum cans as a means of fundraising for several years. Recycling is a project the club plan to continue and expand in response to environmental issues.

If you are interested in joining the Kiwanis or want to find out more about their organization, contact Treasurer Billy Smith at 267-6479.

Big Spring Kiwanis Club members left to right, Bill Schaffner, Billy Smith, Cliff Ataway, Tim Thornton and D.D. Johnston support our area youth through many local civic projects.

Ambulance for emergencies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, fighting a dizzying slide in its reputation, is assuring tourists and its own employees that it won't let them die while the lawmakers' ambulance stands by.

In separate incidents on Sept. 25 and Oct. 3, congressional authorities refused to transport two injured women in the ambulance, although one of them lay bleeding within 50 feet of the vehicle. Neither injury was life-threatening.

A congressional medical official last week told Roll Call, a newspaper that circulates on Capitol Hill, that the ambulance was for members of Congress only.

On Thursday, Congress' medical office attempted to clarify "recent misunderstandings." It said in a statement that the ambulance was for anyone with a life-threatening illness or injury.

The statement, released by House Speaker Thomas S. Foley's office, said the medical office was "inadequately staffed" to respond to "numerous telephone queries" about the ambulance.

The tourist who fell near the ambulance waited 20 minutes for a city ambulance to arrive and a Capitol elevator operator, who injured her back, waited 48 minutes for a city ambulance. The city's emergency service has been under constant criticism for its slow response times.

The ambulance controversy surfaced at a time Congress is under siege by angry constituents.

First, House members were found to be writing thousands of rubber checks, without penalty, at their special bank. Then it was disclosed that current and former members and groups they sponsored ran up large delinquent debts at House restaurants.

Senators are trying to fend off criticism that they did not react seriously enough to sexual harassment allegations against Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas.

In Thursday's statement, the Office of the Attending Physician said it responds to an emergency "whether it be for a member of Congress, congressional staff or any of the more than one million tourists who visit the Capitol each year. Some 90 percent of the emergencies... are for non-members, and 90 percent of those cases do not require any transportation to a medical facility.

"However, in the event that transportation is required, the office's ambulance is available at the discretion of the physician on the scene for life-threatening emergencies.

"This is a medical judgment, not a question of who the individual is, and the physician's decisions are made on that basis," the statement said.

The most recent injury occurred Oct. 3, when a 70-year-old tourist fell down a stairway less than 50 feet from the ambulance — which stays in the parking lot between the Capitol's House and Senate wings.

Roll Call reported the woman broke her wrist and quoted her husband as saying she was bleeding from the nose and chin.

The newspaper, which identified the woman as Eleanor Balogh of Palm Harbor, Fla., quoted her husband, Nicholas, as saying:

"I'm looking for help. I asked the Capitol Police, 'What are we waiting for' because we saw it (the ambulance) there. The Capitol Police said they couldn't use it.

"If I had heard that the ambulance was sitting there for congressmen, I would have blown my stack... I think if we got to the hospital sooner, a lot of the anxiety could have been avoided. People with cameras were taking pictures, gawking at us. We could have avoided all that."

The Sept. 25 incident involved Capitol elevator operator Angela Barrett, who lay with an injured back during her 48-minute wait for an ambulance.

She was hurt after collapse of the operator's seat, which is normally attached to the wall of the elevator car.

Fourteen-year-old wants legal will

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl who often reads your column. I was wondering how I could get — or make — a legal will. I have few valuables, so it's mostly personal stuff that I want given to certain people.

I don't want my parents to know. Please send me some information on this. Thank you. — NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: It is rather unusual for a 14-year-old to inquire about how to make a legal will. I am concerned about why a person so young would want this information.

Regardless of how strict your parents may seem to be, in times of serious trouble they are your best friends. However, since you do not want your parents to know, please talk to your school counselor. And please don't be afraid to tell the counselor what it is that troubles you. Only if you discuss your problems can you get the help you deserve.

Please talk to the counselor immediately, and then write again and let me know how you are.

DEAR ABBY: Can you stand one more story about a phony money-making scheme?

My mother, a widow who lives on her Social Security, received a telephone call advising her that she had won three prizes — an automobile, $10,000 in diamonds, and her choice of a vacation in Hawaii, California or Florida! Well, Mama thought she had died and gone to heaven!

The man on the phone told her that all she had to do was let them send her their "products" to try; the products were free, but she had to pay for shipping, handling and insurance, which was "only $699.99."

Then the caller asked Mother if she had either MasterCard or Visa. She said she had MasterCard. So she was asked to give him her card number. She became suspicious and hung up! The man called her back saying, "We must have been disconnected." Then Mother said, "I'm sorry, I was advised never to give my credit card number to anyone on the telephone." She then hung up and immediately called the Better Business Bureau to report this company. She was thanked, and then told that they already had the name of this company on file!

Abby, please run this in your column. There are still plenty of people who might fall for this kind of scam. — NO FOOL IN PHOENIX

DEAR NO FOOL: You would be amazed to learn how many people continue to fall for this kind of scam. I have warned my readers never to give their credit card numbers on the telephone. Thanks for the reminder.

McQueary said county representatives contacted the BSISD and asked to demolish the building to prevent further vandalism. A group toured the building that was once used as the boxing club, and determined that using the building would be costly and require extensive work. The county is no longer leasing the building, and the district is liable for the property that sits near the Roosevelt Brown Park.

Al Valdez, board member, said, "I went through that place with the tour and I can tell you it is very unsafe. I don't see how anybody could utilize that building."

After a lengthy discussion, trustees decided to postpone making a decision about employee health insurance, and to request the companies interested in providing insurance for the 585.5 district employees to submit a sealed bid.

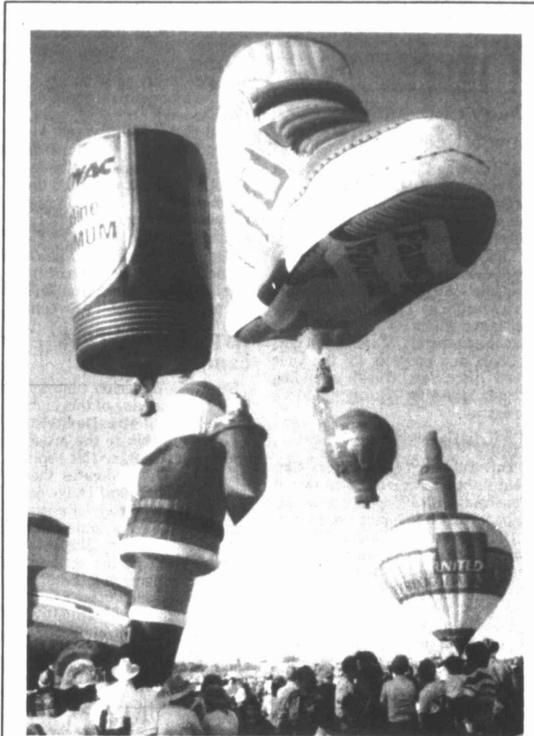

Representatives from several companies were on-hand to clarify quotes and rates, but trustees must decide whether to remain with a fully-funded program or to become self-funded.

The textbook selection committee was approved, as was the career ladder advisory committee. Advisory committee members are Murray Murphy, assistant superintendent; trustees Glynna Mouton and John Arrick; principals Jean Broughton and Steve Waggoner; and teachers Barbara Ball and Lana Piercefield. Trustees also approved the list of extracurricular activities for the district.

The next regular board meeting will be Nov. 21. The Justice Department on-site review was changed to Nov. 5, 6, and 7.

"We have no idea what to expect (from the on-site review), but I'll tell you as soon as I know," said McQueary.

Main Street coordinator announces resignation

By PATRICK DRISCOLL Staff Writer

Big Spring Main Street Inc. Coordinator Beverly Franklin is resigning as coordinator, effective Oct. 23.

"I just have some other investments and interests that I want to take care of and I want to spend more time with my grandkids," said Franklin, 48, who has been coordinator of the downtown revitalization organization for two years. "I just needed some more time and space to myself."

"As president of Main Street, we're going to sorely miss Beverly. You can't pay someone enough to do the job she does," said Main Street Inc. President Richard Atkins. "It certainly hasn't been a 40-hour a week job with her."

Atkins said they are searching for a replacement and are anticipating hiring someone within two months. "And then it could be three weeks," he said, depending on whether the "right person just walks through the door."

Franklin said she will still do volunteer work for Main Street Inc.

"I'm still going to be active with the Heart of the City and also the Clean Committee," she said. "Also, I'll be of help to the new coordinator down there, whoever that may be."

Atkins said Main Street, in existence for seven years, saw the two best Heart of the City Festival celebrations ever under Franklin's direction.

Other highlights in the past two years include the opening of the Railroad Plaza at 100 Main Street, the demolition of four burned buildings on Main Street and the acquisition of title deeds to several more problem buildings.

"Beverly and I and the (Main Street Inc.) committee have had a great rapport," Atkins said. "She had a long background in retailing, marketing, promotion. That's what we feel like we need in our downtown area, is promotion."

Franklin, who recently informed Main Street Inc. of her intentions, said she enjoyed her job.

"It's an interesting job and a fun job," she said. "I've met a lot of nice people."

San Angelo Lake View (0-1, 0-5) at Big Spring (0-0, 4-0)

The Steers enter district competition by hosting the Chiefs on homecoming night.

All the paperwork says this should be a rout. The Steers have featured a stingy defense and a versatile offense that is averaging 30 points per game. The Chiefs are last in the district in both offense and defense, plus they lost top ground gainer John Middleton for the season with a knee injury.

Big Spring coach Dwight Butler said his biggest fear is that the Steers could lose their edge after the open week. Also, homecoming activities usually distracts the home team.

All of that may be true, but Lake View just doesn't have enough Indians to handle the Big Spring express.

It's party time in the Spring City.
Big Spring 42, Lake View 6

Forsan (0-2, 0-5) at Coahoma (0-2, 3-2)

Homecoming night for the Coahoma Bulldogs in the Howard County Bowl.

Coahoma has been to the grinder, losing hard-fought games to pre-district favorites Iraan and Wall. Forsan has been outmanned in district losses to Ozona and Iraan.

Actually, Forsan is catching Coahoma at a bad time, since the Bulldogs have lost their last two contests. The Buffaloes are just trying to survive with their young squad.

Look for Steven New to have a field day in leading the Bulldogs' attack. It's going to be a happy homecoming for Coahoma and another long night for Forsan.

Coahoma 35, Forsan 6

Crane (1-2-1) at Colorado City (2-3)

The District 6-3A opener for both teams.

The Crane Golden Cranes are coming off a open week. The Colorado City Wolves got drubbed 34-0 by Wylie last week.

Crane is the defending district champion. Its only win this season has come over Class 4A school Fort Stockton. The Golden Cranes have played a tough non-district schedule which included Floydada, Ozona and Lamesa.

The Cranes will be fresh and healthy from their open week. Meanwhile the Wolves have their share of bumps and bruises.

The Wolves will be in contention for a while, but Crane's overall depth will be the difference.

Crane 28, Colorado City 13

Stanton (0-2, 0-5) at Ozona (1-1, 1-4)

Both teams are coming off heart-breaking losses last week.

The Stanton Buffalos dropped a 35-22 decision to McCamey and Ozona was beaten by Eldorado 12-9.

The Lions are one of the best 1-4 teams around. One reason for the record is because of a tough non-district schedule.

Stanton showed signs of improvement last week against McCamey. The offense finally showed signs of life. This will be a good game, but a tough schedule and the home field advantage pay off for the Lions.

Ozona 21, Stanton 14

Sands (5-0) at Wellman (3-2)

The undefeated and No. 3 ranked Sands Mustangs open District 5-A, Six-Man competition tonight when they travel to Wellman to take on the Wildcats.

The Mustangs have been awesome so far this season. Their defense has allowed less than a touchdown per game average, almost unheard of in six-man football. Sands' offense, meanwhile, is averaging well above 35 points a game.

The Wildcats are good, but the Mustangs are a force of nature.

Sands 48, Wellman 6

Loop (0-5) at Klondike (0-5)

Is this the week that the Klondike Cougars finally break into the win column?

The winless Cougars open District 5-A, Six-Man play against the injury-plagued Loop Longhorns, who are coming off a 51-2 loss to Meadow last week.

Klondike was trounced by Borden County last week, but signs of life are evident in the Cougars. The effort has been there, even if the results have been less than sterling.

What the heck; as George Harrison once said, all things must pass — including losing streaks.

Klondike 34, Loop 12

B-County (3-2) at Hermleigh (0-5)

The Borden County Coyotes open defense of their District 6-A, Six-Man title when they travel to Hermleigh to take on the Cardinals.

This has been a season to forget for the undermanned Cardinals, who have been point-ruled in each of their games so far.

Borden, meanwhile, has overcome a shaky start to win their last two games in convincing fashion.

The Coyotes open district with a howl.

Borden Co. 50, Hermleigh 0

Grady (2-3) vs. Oak Trail Academy (1-4) (Saturday)

The Grady Wildcats, in the midst of a two-game winning streak, will try to make it three straight when they meet Oak Trail Christian Academy of Granbury in a non-district six-man game.

The contest will be played at 2 p.m. Saturday at Elmer Gray Stadium on the campus of Abilene Christian University in Abilene.

The Wildcats have looked impressive of late. After losing their first three games, they have rebounded with resounding wins over Loraine and Hermleigh. The Oak Trail Eagles, meanwhile, won their first game of the season two weeks ago against Irving Christian.

Time for Howard County Bowl

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

Howard County bragging rights will be on the line tonight when the Forsan Buffaloes meet the Coahoma Bulldogs in Coahoma's homecoming.

Kickoff is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Bulldog Stadium.

Both teams have experienced their share of disappointments of late. The Bulldogs opened the season with three straight wins before dropping their first two District 6-2A games. The already undermanned Buffaloes, meanwhile, have been devastated by injuries at the skill positions.

Forsan, which is winless in five games this season, will start its third quarterback of the season tonight. First-stringer Clark Fields recently had knee surgery, and backup Jacoby Hopper broke his wrist two weeks ago, meaning that sophomore Ryan Hamby will start against the Bulldogs.

Freshman Hopper will start at wingback, although he's wearing a cast on his wrist. Fellow freshman Chad Kemper will start at fullback, and senior John Reese will play halfback.

"(Coahoma's) got us pretty much out-manned, plus we've got some kids who are pretty bungled up," Forsan Coach Jan East said. "It's going to be like fighting a bear with a switch."

The "bear" East refers to is a Coahoma Bulldog squad spearheaded by a line that has the Buffaloes out-weighted by an almost two-to-one margin.

"They are big," East said. "When they line up, they'll have us size-wise by a bunch of pounds. They are just a good football team."

The offensive line, led by 295-pound tackle Mike "Tiny" Knowles and 215-pound guard Lee Coleman have made life easier for running backs Mike Mendez and Steven New, who have combined to give the Bulldogs close to 300 rushing yards per game.

East conceded stopping the Coahoma attack will not be an easy task.

"They're big on the line and have those quick little backs," he said.

"We'll have to swarm to them. We'll just have to line up and do the best job we can do with them."

Offensively, the rash of injuries have hampered Forsan's efforts to develop a consistent attack.

"I don't know if we can move the ball on them or not," East said. "The problem is, this is the third quarterback in four games that we've had to start. That makes it hard to get any offense going."

Still, the 11th-year head coach said his Buffaloes should be ready to play their county rivals.

"This is probably the fourth time we've played them since I've been here, so I don't think it's been much of a rivalry," East said. "But our kids know their kids... and our kids are looking forward to it."

Avery silences Pirates' bats

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steve Avery wouldn't rattle, and neither would the Atlanta Braves.

Avery, at 21 too young to know the Braves don't win in October, again pitched with poise Thursday night as Atlanta beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 1-0 — with a chop, naturally — to send the NL playoffs south tied at one game each.

"I was just having fun," Avery said. "How can you not enjoy having 100 million people watching you?"

Mark Lemke's two-hopper eluded sure-handed third baseman Steve Buechele for an RBI double in the sixth inning, and that was enough, barely.

Avery got Game 1 hero Andy Van Slyke on a grounder with runners on first and third to end the eighth. Then Alejandro Pena lived up to his role as the Braves' savor, and savior, in the ninth by retiring Buechele on a grounder and striking out pinch-hitter Curtis Wilkerson with a runner on third to end the game.

Avery and Atlanta stopped the Braves' 10-game postseason losing streak, one short of the Philadelphia Phillies' record skid. Avery gave up six hits in 8 1-3 innings, struck out nine and, unlike Tom Glavine in the opener, shut down Pittsburgh's middle of the order for the most part.

"No, he didn't look rattled. Did he look rattled to you?" Van Slyke said. "He's young enough to almost have a rattle."

The baby Brave was the youngest pitcher to start a playoff game since Bret Saberhagen in 1984, and the youngest in the NL since Fernando Valenzuela in 1981.

Not that Avery pitched like a rookie, which he's not. He was 18-8 with two victories over Pittsburgh this year after going 3-11 last season with two losses to the Pirates.

"It was just too much Steve Avery," Leyland said. "We probably could've played two more hours and not scored against him. It was the best stuff I've seen this year."

Still, the Pirates, who led the majors in come-from-behind victories, almost pulled out another one in the ninth.

Bobby Bonilla led off with a double, making him 6-for-12 lifetime against Avery. That brought up Barry Bonds, and with the Pirates' star showing no signs of bunting, he popped up to shortstop.

PITTSBURGH — Atlanta Braves Dave Justice (left) is greeted by Greg Olson after scoring against the Pittsburgh Pirates in the eighth inning of game two of the National League Championship Series Thursday.

Braves manager Bobby Cox felt that was enough for Avery and summoned Pena. He immediately put himself in further trouble with a wild pitch that sent Bonilla to third, but that was as far as he got.

Pena, 12-for-12 in save situations since being acquired from the New York Mets in late August, got Buechele on a grounder back to the mound and fanned Wilkerson, batting for Don Slaught, on three pitches to finish the first 1-0 playoff game since St. Louis beat San Francisco in 1987.

The Braves rushed to the mound to celebrate and ran off the field signaling with tomahawk chops.

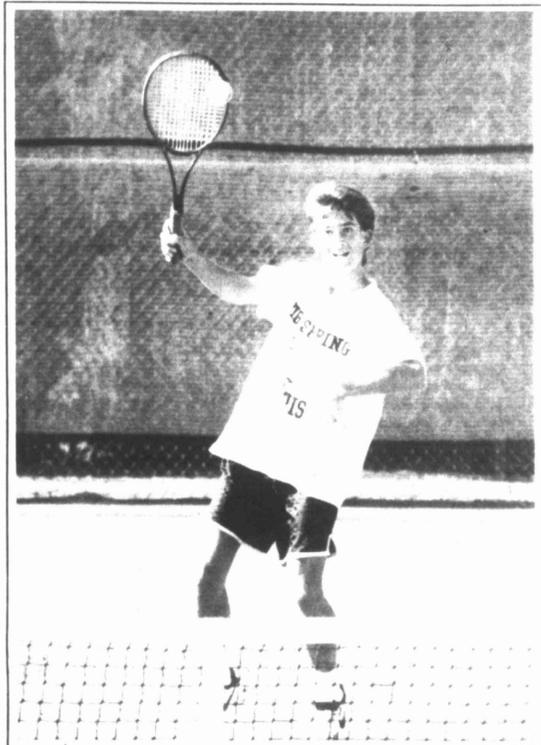

"All we could've asked for was a split," Avery said. "We didn't score a lot of runs, but we won."

Avery, as he did all during the stretch, when he beat the Los Angeles Dodgers twice in five days — including his only shutout of the season — was in control. The left-hander walked his first batter of the game, but if he was nervous, it did not show as he struck out the next three batters and walked only one more.

"He sure doesn't pitch like a 21-year-old," catcher Greg Olson said. "He pitched a lot of big games down the stretch, but none were as big as this."

Even the largest crowd in Pirates' home history, 57,533, did not shake Avery. And when he walked off the mound after getting Van Slyke in the eighth, he punched at the air as a small section of Braves' fans began the team's war

Lady Steers romp

FORT STOCKTON — The Big Spring Lady Steers stayed in the thick of the district volleyball race by defeating the Fort Stockton Prowlers 15-11, 11-15, 15-6 here Thursday night.

The wins gives the Lady Steers a 9-8 overall record and 4-2 district mark. It sets up an important meeting with first place Monahans Saturday afternoon in Steer Gym.

Lady Steers coach Lois Ann McKenzie said her team played a consistent match. "They played good. There wasn't any super great hits, but we had real good team play," said McKenzie.

We played real good defense. We didn't have any drops. Wee saved some ball that we probably shouldn't have saved. They all played pretty good, but we didn't have a dominating player like we sometimes have.

of fell apart there for a while," said McKenzie of the second game. "They had one girl that we had trouble receiving her serves. She scored eight points."

In the rubber match Big Spring led from start to finish. Big Spring jumped to a 11-2 lead before Fort Stockton made a mild rally. Anne Rodriguez served the last four points for Big Spring to end the game.

JV's WIN, FRESHMEN LOSE

In freshmen action, Fort Stockton beat Big Spring 15-13, 15-8. The Lady Steers freshmen fall to 12-7 for the season. The lady Steers junior varsity won 16-14, 15-17, 15-10. The JV Lady Steers are now 7-11 for the season and 2-3 in district play.

Action Saturday gets started at 12:30 p.m. with freshmen play, followed by junior varsity and varsity action.

"Kayla Roberts was serving real good and Cassie Underwood had a real good defensive game. She had to run all over the court to get the ups and she did a good job of getting her sets."

After Big Spring won the first game, Fort Stockton turned a 5-4 lead into a 12-4 advantage. Big Spring rallied to cut the deficit to 13-11, but the Prowlers got the last two points to take the game. "We sort

It figures to be a lot louder Saturday for Game 3 in Atlanta in front of the Braves' frenzied fans. John Smiley (20-8) will start for Pittsburgh against John Smoltz (14-13).

The Pirates were baseball's best road team this year, going 46-32. But they were 0-6 at Fulton County Stadium, and 3-9 overall against the Braves.

"Well, we've got to win in Atlanta and we haven't all year," Leyland said. "But it's a new season. We knew we had to win one or two in Atlanta anyway, as I'm sure they felt they had to win here."

The Braves had not won in the postseason since Warren Spahn beat the New York Yankees in Game 4 of the 1958 World Series for the then-Milwaukee Braves. They lost the last three games in that series and were swept in three games in the NL playoffs by the Mets in 1969, again before Avery was born, and St. Louis in 1982.

The Phillies set the record for futility by getting swept in the 1915 and 1950 World Series and losing three in a row to Cincinnati in the 1976 playoffs.

Tech trying to snap four game losing streak

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Texas Longhorns have the SWC spotlight for their annual showdown against No. 6 Oklahoma but the Baylor Bears carry the conference prestige with a No. 8 national ranking.

While the Longhorns (1-2) are trying to attack the Sooners and their newfound passing attack, the Bears (5-0) will be trying to maintain the SWC's national esteem against the Rice Owls (2-2).

Texas Tech (1-4), smarting from a four-game losing streak, plays at Southern Methodist (1-3), trying to win two games in a row for the first time since 1986 and struggling Houston (1-3) plays at Arkansas (3-2).

Texas A&M (3-1) and Texas Christian (4-1) have open dates.

SMU and Texas Tech will be playing in Owenby Stadium at the same time Texas and Oklahoma are battling in the Cotton Bowl.

"It's tough," SMU Coach Tom

SWC Roundup

Rossley said. "But I think there are some loyal SMU fans out there who will come out to see a good college football game."

Tech coach Spike Dykes is more interested in stopping the Red Raiders losing skein than playing before a crowd.

"I don't think we're terminal," he said. "We know that we have some dynamite and fire but we just haven't put it together."

Oklahoma (4-0) is led by Cale Gundy, whose passing has given the Sooners offense a new dimension. Gundy has completed 46 of 78 passes for 665 yards.

Texas coach David McWilliams doesn't like the added option.

"They used to use power inside and option outside," he said. "Now, its power inside and throwing outside with some option. When they fake that option, they can draw a lot of people in there for the run and turn around and do something else with it."

Oklahoma's passing yardage has exceeded its rushing yardage for the past two games, the first time for such a statistical flip-flop since 1967.

"A lot of things they are doing off short drops and play action are really effective," McWilliams said.

Texas leads the popular mid-season feature 49-32-4, including 28-24 and 14-13 victories the past two years.

Baylor bashed preseason favorite Houston 38-21 last week to remain on pace with its 1980 title campaign when the Bears won their first seven games before stumbling to San Jose State and then finished with a 10-1 record.

"They used to use power inside and option outside. Now, its power inside and throwing outside with some option. When they fake that option, they can draw a lot of people," — Texas Longhorns coach David McWilliams on Oklahoma's offense.

Baylor's J.J. Joe has emerged as the nation's leader in passing efficiency with a 181.3 rating but the Bears may again be without fullback Robert Strait, sidelined by a knee injury. Sophomore John Henry has filled in Strait's absence.

"It's going to be a great challenge for us," Baylor coach Grant Teaff said. "They've got the No. 1 rusher in the nation and a lot of very good athletes. It will be the toughest game we've played."

Texas beat the Owls 28-7 last week and held Trevor Cobb, the nation's league rusher, to 68 yards.

Rice coach Fred Goldsmith replaced quarterback Greg Willig with true freshman Josh LaRocca against the Longhorns and could start LaRocca against the Bears.

Arkansas is trying to make its final year in the SWC a memorable one before moving the SEC next season. The Hogs ended TCU's unbeaten season last week, rallying from a 21-0 deficit to a 22-21 victory.

Now they'd like to extend the Cougars' misery.

"I feel like I'm on a desert and see this canteen. I open it up and dust comes out," Cougars coach John Jenkins said.

David Klingler leads the nation in total offense with a 373.1 yards per game average but the Cougars defense and offensive line have been taking a beating. Houston ranks last in the SWC in total defense, allowing 448.5 yards per game.

Arkansas coach Jack Crowe is trying to get the right emotional mix for his young team.

"We've tried to create a lot of emotion in some games and I think we distracted them," Crowe said. "Then we preached concentration and we showed up without emotion so we've either misfired or not been into the emotional swing of the game."

But the inexperience is beginning to wear off.

"We've played five games so we should be to the point where we've improved to play our best so far," Crowe said.

Defending 4A champs making sportswriters eat their words

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS
Of all the 1990 state champions, Wilmer-Hutchins was voted least likely to defend its title.

Sportswriters across the state included Aldine, Marshall, Vernon, Groveton and Bartlett, all of whom won their classes last year, in The Associated Press Preseason Poll. Only 4A Wilmer-Hutchins, with no returning starters, was left out. But after five games, only the Eagles remain undefeated.

What do sportswriters know, anyway?

Coach Robert Woods admits No. 4 Wilmer-Hutchins doesn't measure up — physically or in experience — to the team that beat Austin Westlake 19-7 for the Class 4A championship. But he said there's no shock about the team's success.

"I wouldn't say I'm completely surprised. Anytime you go in you think you have a chance to win," he said. "You never think you're going to end up undefeated. Every team we have played has had a chance to beat us. Fortunately, we've ended up on top."

That's been due mostly to running backs Donald Veasley (93 carries for 628 yards) and Bobby Crawford (64-499), who have provided most of the Eagles' offense through five games. In last week's 28-14 victory over Midlothian, Veasley carried 38 times for 234 yards and three touchdowns.

"He's got good speed and quickness," Woods said. "We're an option-type team and we get a lot of yards to the outside. He's been doing a good job of running and catching out there."

The Eagles' 19-game winning streak is on the line Friday when they play host to District 13-4A rival and fifth-ranked Waxahachie.

Wilmer-Hutchins beat the Indians (4-1) twice last year, 6-0 during the regular season and 14-0 in the state quarterfinals, but Waxahachie coach Scott Phillips says things should be different this time around.

"No, we haven't beaten them and they're on a 19-game winning streak, but this (Wilmer-Hutchins) team is only 5-0," Phillips said. "This is not quite the team that won the state championship last year."

In games involving the top 10 Class 5A teams, No. 1 Arlington Lamar battles Arlington and quarterback Todd Baumann, who has passed for 987 yards this season. The Colts are 4-1 with probably the best shot of knocking off Lamar before the playoffs.

No. 2 Dallas Carter takes on Dallas Sunset, and it's No. 3 Odessa Permian vs. Midland Lee, No. 4 Waco vs. Copperas Cove, No. 5 San Antonio Marshall vs. Holmes, No. 6 Alief Elsik vs. Lamar Consolidated, No. 7 Beaumont West Brook vs. Baytown Sterling, No. 8 Aldine vs. Houston Westbury, No. 9 Huntsville vs. Conroe and No. 10 Jersey Village vs. Cypress-Fairbanks.

In Class 4A, No. 1 Bastrop plays Smithson Valley and it's No. 2 Houston C.E. King vs. Dickinson, No. 3 McKinney vs. The Colony, No. 6 Sulphur Springs vs. North Lamar, No. 7 El Campo vs. Wharton, No. 8 LaMarque vs. Channelview, No. 9 Austin Westlake vs. McCallum and No. 10 Tomball vs. Waller.

In the smaller classifications, 3A No. 1 Sinton plays Taft and Schulenburg, top-ranked in 2A, takes on Lexington. Class A No. 1 Garden City is idle.

Midland Lee has won four of its past five battles with nearby Permian, but don't ask sixth-year Rebels' coach Earl Miller if he has anything to do with the success.

"Everybody asks me that," he said. "The players are what wins the football games, not me. I don't have anything to do with it. I've never seen a coach score a touchdown. We just play our best ball game against them."

Miller said his defense, which allowed just 10 points in its four games before last week's 43-14 wallop of Abilene Cooper, will be without injured linebackers Jovan Tellez and James Ward.

That will make stopping Permian, which is averaging 437 yards, even tougher, he said.

"We're going to stop them with our offense," Miller said. "You just keep it away from them. You take it down there for nine or ten minutes and score a touchdown."

No charges against Cone

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police won't file charges against New York Mets pitcher David Cone after an investigation showed allegations of rape were unfounded.

A 24-year-old New Jersey woman had claimed Cone raped her after she gave him a massage in his Philadelphia hotel room last Saturday.

Police and the district attorney's office decided Thursday to make no arrests after reviewing documents provided by the hotel and interviewing witnesses. Cone also was interviewed, but additional details weren't revealed.

Cone's lawyer, Walter M. Phillips Jr., was pleased with the decision.

"I think that it's unfortunate that David Cone had to go through a week like this with this totally unfounded allegation," Phillips said.

His agent, Stephen Fehr, said: "David went through 100 hours of hell, all on account of this phony charge. The police ought to look into charging her with filing a false statement, and we intend to talk to them about that."

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dalai Lama arrived in New York for a three-week religious and cultural festival organized by one of his longtime followers, actor Richard Gere.

The 56-year-old Buddhist monk, the spiritual leader of Tibet, arrived Thursday for the International Year of Tibet Festival at Madison Square Garden.

The Dalai Lama, who fled Tibet in 1959 after an unsuccessful uprising against Chinese rule, has campaigned relentlessly for preservation of his homeland's people and culture. He was awarded the Nobel Prize for peace in 1989 for his peaceful efforts on Tibet's behalf.

DALAI LAMA RICHARD GERE

"We started the Year of Tibet to focus attention on the Tibetan situation — the politics and truth of their history, this incredibly brutal invasion and occupation by the Chinese since 1949 that continues to the present," Gere said in a telephone interview.

Getting Hammered

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A con-artist has filed a $3 million lawsuit against rap singer Hammer, claiming security guards beat him up during a stop on the singer's "Please Hammer Don't Hurt 'Em" tour.

Hodges Michael Sneed, 29, filed the lawsuit Wednesday in state Supreme Court, seeking damages for injuries he said he suffered last October at the show at Onondaga County War Memorial.

Sneed's lawyer, Paul Carey, said Sneed was trying to help a woman who had fallen when fans rushed the stage when he was knocked to the floor and beaten.

Jeanne Dixon's Horoscope

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1991

HAPPY BIRTHDAY! IN THE NEXT YEAR OF YOUR LIFE: Change things around. Find the job and lifestyle that suits you best. Being productive means more to you than just collecting a salary. Partnerships will enjoy highly favorable influences early in the new year. Next spring, choose allies whose talents complement your own. Older children should be encouraged to make more decisions for themselves. Resist the temptation to hover.

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DATE: tenor Luciano Pavarotti, actress Susan Anton, sportscaster Tony Kubek, activist Dick Gregory.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You can be responsible only for your own actions. Protect yourself in a ticklish situation. You will never regret being discreet! Seek expert advice on reducing a tax burden. Savings are possible.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): A child plays an important role in your life. Extra study will pay off at school or work. Dress for others, not yourself, when attending a public event. Make your family proud.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): A childhood sweetheart surfaces. Go slow or you could have regrets later on. Tension disappears when a financial question is answered. Be willing to put in extra hours on a promising project.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Explain your objectives to a partner or loved one and he will show new understanding. Obtaining financial support depends on how convincingly you present the facts. Lay your cards on the table.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You usually wind up ahead when you trust your own judgment. Be firm! Those who cannot resist pressure from their friends and loved ones will fare poorly. Examine your beliefs and values.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Listen to your associates now; they may have a clearer picture of what is going on. A flirtation could turn serious. Accept a special invitation. It is important to make a good impression.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Clear the air with someone who has angered you. You will feel more ambitious once you have cut certain ties with the past. Ponder a recent lesson. The financial picture continues to improve.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A male-female relationship is in the spotlight. You find yourself attracted to someone you hardly noticed in the past. An alliance forged now has an excellent chance of lasting.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You could be in for a unique experience this weekend. Family, old friends and romance occupy your thoughts. A decisive manner will help you attain your heart's desire.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Loved ones are responsible for a special moment that occurs this weekend. Tears of happiness come to your eyes. Rev up your motor if you want to be a community leader.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Other people are looking to you for guidance. Influence them by setting a good example. The future looks brighter than ever. Pursue romance to its logical conclusion.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Do not take the coward's way out. Be more aggressive about promoting a pet project. An effervescent attitude will help reduce stress on the home front. An old romance can be rekindled.

Steers rout Chiefs before homecoming audience

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

So much for the theory of the Big Spring Steers being rusty and losing their momentum after an open week.

The Steers returned to action in fine form as they beat the San Angelo Lake View Chiefs 52-0 in the Steers' homecoming and district-opener. The win gives Big Spring a 5-0 record while Lake View drops to 0-6 and 0-2 in district play.

Steers coach Dwight Butler said that his main fear going into the contest was that Big Spring would be rusty and lose its edge after an open week. The Steers erased their coach's fears by scoring on their first two possessions.

It was total domination for the Steers. Offensively they moved at will against the porous Lake View defense. Big Spring did the damage in the air in the first half and on the ground in the second half. In all, Big Spring totaled 520 yards. All 192 passing yards came in the first half. The Steers didn't attempt a pass in the second half.

The Steers even came out with a new wrinkle, a no-huddle shotgun offense. Like everything else the Steers tried, it was successful.

The Lake View offense didn't have a chance against the Steers' defense. The Chiefs got one first down in the game, and that came because of a penalty. The Chiefs got just 23 yards offense.

The Steers opened the game in the shotgun formation and the snap went over Cobos' head. Cobos retrieved the ball and got away a pass. That was about the only thing Big Spring did wrong, with the exception of 12 penalties.

"We started out a little rusty, that first snap out of the shotgun. Jone (center Jon Downey) came over and told me it was a case of first snap jitters," said Butler. "If we had had three bad snaps, that was it, we weren't going to use it. We started working on it Wednesday. We like to run the two-minute offense anyway. Gerald is short anyway and we thought putting him in the shotgun give him the advantage of seeing things better."

The Steers offense was so efficient that it scored on eight of its nine possessions. Big Spring led 31-0 at the half, which was highlighted by the passing of Cobos and the offensive heroics of wingback Pat Chavarria.

Cobos completed 10 of 18 passes for 92 yards and carried the ball four times for 52 yards. He made two spectacular catches, once out-leaping a defender for a 34-yard gain. The other was a diving 37-yard touchdown grab. In his spare time in the first half, Chavarria Chavarria also returned punts for 10, 40 and 20 yards.

The Steers' first scoring drive was 50 yards in six plays. A key play was a 23-yard pass to Nick Roberson. Cobos finished it off with a 27-yard scoring pass to Pat Martinez.

Big Spring's next scoring drive covered 66 yards in eight plays. Tailback Tim Pearson, who rushed for 79 yards in seven carries, caught a 26-yard pass. Chavarria carried for 20 yards and scored the touchdown from five yards out.

In the second quarter the Steers drove to a 30-yard field goal by Cobos, who also kicked seven extra points.

The Steers made the score 24-0 late in the second quarter on

Coahoma takes Forsan 31-14

By LORNE FANCETT
For the Herald

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs faced the Forsan Buffalos last evening for their homecoming game and came away with the win, 31-14.

The first quarter started off slow as both teams gained little yardage on their first possessions and were forced to punt the ball.

Coahoma started their second drive on a sour note as they were assessed a clipping penalty on the first play of the drive. On the next play they moved the ball seven with Greg Atkinson going up the middle. The third play saw another clip against the Bulldogs. With a second down and deep in a hole, quarterback Brent Elmore put the ball in the air and connected with Kenny Lowery for 15. Still short of the first down, Coach Park decided to give the ball to Mike Mendez, who was returning from a knee injury that knocked him out of last week's game. The decision seemed to be a good one as Coahoma's Football Hero of the 1991 season took the ball 35 yards for the score. With the point after kick from Elmore successful, the Bulldogs lead 7-0.

Forsan again could not gain a first down on their second possession and were forced to punt. The Bulldog's offense could not capitalize on this as they coughed up the ball on the first play from scrimmage. The Buffalos again could not gain a first down and punted the ball, with Coahoma receiving it at their own 14.

The Bulldogs, contrary to what their opponents were doing, moved the ball well, gaining 31 yards in the first four plays of the drive. Overall they gained 86 yards on 11 plays and scored on a sweep from "Money" Mendez for three yards. With the kick failing due to a bad snap, Coahoma was up 13-0.

Attempting to respond, Forsan put together a drive that lasted 13 plays and moved the ball 43 yards. Faced with a fourth and three, the Buffalos decided not to try for it and kicked the ball away.

Once again Coahoma was forced to start deep in their own territory. Aided by the running of Mendez and a 33-yard pass from Elmore to Matt Coates, the Bulldogs brought it home on an Elmore pass to Mark Arguello. With the point after kick failing, the Coahoma Bulldogs took a 19-0 lead into halftime.

Forsan received the kickoff to start the second half and moved the ball well on the first two plays — thanks to running back John Reese and the Bulldogs defense. Reese took the ball 10 yards on the first play from scrimmage and on the second play Forsan received an additional 15 yards on a face mask call. That would be all for the Buffalos as they could not muster another first down and were forced to punt.

Again Coahoma started off with shabby field position. From the onset the Bulldogs moved the ball well, gaining more than 50 yards in eight plays. But disaster struck as Elmore was stripped of the ball and turned the ball over on the Buffalos 26-yard line.

Forsan could not hold on to the ball either as quarterback Ryan Hamby fumbled the ball away on the third play of the drive.

Coahoma could do nothing with the good field position and turned the ball back over to Forsan. Forsan in turn could also do nothing with the ball and punted the ball back to Coahoma.

The Bulldogs — with good field position once again — handed the ball off to Atkinson who ran for 20 yards and brought the ball down to the Buffalos 11. From there Elmore scored on a quarterback keeper around the end. The two-point conversion failed as Forsan's defence met Elmore in his own backfield and left him there, leaving the score 25-0.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter, Forsan was once again forced to punt the ball away. This time they received a break as punter Joey Conway boomed one deep and a miscue by the Coahoma receiving team gave the ball back to the Buffalos on the Bulldogs one-yard line. Three plays later Reese put Forsan on the scoreboard. With the point after kick going sour on a bad snap, holder Ryan Hamby made the best of a bad situation, throwing a pass to kicker Conway for the score. This left the score 25-8 in favor of Coahoma.

Forsan attempted an onside kick on the next play, which succeeded when the kick bounced off the head of Coahoma's Chad Tidwell and was picked up by Cam Clinton. On the third play defender Kenny Lowery broke through and met Hamby in the backfield, forcing him to fumble — which Lowery promptly picked up.

With the ball on the Buffalos' 43, Coahoma looked to their "Money" man to move the ball for them. Mendez responded by taking the ball 16 and 25 yards on the first two plays of the drive. Four plays later "Money" cashed in as he ran for five yards and the touchdown. With the extra point kick falling short, Coahoma took command 31-8 with five and a half minutes left on the clock.

Forsan, with little time left on the clock, started moving the ball well with help from the Coahoma defense. The Buffalos moved the ball 63 yards in seven plays — 30 of those yards coming from penalties against the Bulldogs — to bring the ball down to the Coahoma two-yard line. From there Reese scored his second touchdown of the evening with help from a surge from the offensive line. With the two point conversion attempt stopped by Coahoma, the score was 31-14, and remained there.

"We moved the ball pretty well," said Coahoma's head coach Steve Park after the game. "The turnovers and the penalties hurt us though. We played a lot of kids tonight with it being homecoming and all. The win wasn't pretty, but we'll take it. Now we just have to concentrate on Eldorado for next week and hope for the best."

"(Tackle) Alan Grant gave me some good lead blocks all evening. The whole line did a sensational job. Also the down-field blocking was excellent," commented Mendez, who ended the evening with 216 yards on 22 carries.

Mike "Money" Mendez attempts to avoid defender Cam Clinton. Mendez was the leading rusher of the evening with 216 yards.

COLORADO CITY — In a game in which both teams made their share of mistakes, it was the Colorado City Wolves' miscues that proved the costliest.

Despite being outgained by almost a two-to-one margin, the Wolves held a 14-13 lead over the Crane Golden Cranes midway through the fourth quarter.

But a fumble, muffed punt and a costly penalty paved the way for the Cranes to come from behind to take a 19-14 victory over Colorado City at Wolf Stadium Friday night.

The win improves Crane's record to 2-2-1 for the season and 1-0 in District 6-3A action, while the Wolves fall to 2-4 overall and 0-1 in league play.

Crane, led by tailback Chris Jeffery's 133 yards rushing, outgained C-City, 269 total yards to 164, but the Wolves hung close throughout the game with a stingy defense taking advantage of several Golden Crane mistakes.

"We had a chance to win," C-City coach Tom Ramsey said. "The kids played well. We hung in there long enough for us to get something going... but the mistakes in the fourth quarter cost us."

For his part, Crane coach Johnny Burleson said his team was for-

"C-City's a big-play team," Burleson said. "They're kind of hit-and-miss sometimes, but they got the big play tonight. We made a lot of mistakes, and killed ourselves a few times, but you have to give some of the credit to Colorado City."

A mistake killed Crane's first drive of the night when C-City's Greg Parker stepped in front of a Danny Stafford pass, giving the Wolves the ball at their own 41.

Colorado was unable to get anything going, however, and Brandon Oden's 17-yard punt gave Crane good field position at their own 41.

Three plays took the ball to C-City's 45 before Jeffery broke through the left side of the line and rumbled 38 yards down to the Wolves' 7-yard-line.

COLORADO CITY — Colorado City running back Mark Smith (32) heads upfield during first half action against Crane Friday night. Blocking for C-City on the play is Robert Sadler (60).

Three plays later, Ricardo Garza scored the first of his three touchdowns from one yard out and added the extra point to give the Cranes the early 7-0 lead.

The score remained that way until midway through the second quarter when Colorado City took over on downs at the Wolves' 36.

The Wolves mounted a 10-play drive that culminated in Mark Smith's three-yard touchdown with 2:45 left in the half. Frank Briseno's extra-point try was wide, leaving Crane ahead by a point, 7-6, at intermission.

The Golden Cranes increased their lead by six in the third when Garza capped a 45-yard drive with another one-yard plunge with 2:03 left in the quarter.

Colorado City responded to that score with one of its own to take its first lead of the night.

A double penalty on Crane allowed the Wolves to start their drive at the Cranes' 45. A pitch to Kevin Green lost six yards but, two plays later, quarterback Kelly Ramsey lofted a perfect screen pass to Green, who took the ball on the left sideline and scooted 51 yards for the touchdown. Ramsey then hit Mark Monroe for the two-point conversion and a 14-13 lead with 54 seconds left in the quarter.

But with the momentum finally on C-City's side, fourth quarter mistakes shifted the tide back in the Golden Cranes' favor.

A Green fumble in the fourth led to the eventual winning drive. Taking over at the Wolves' 29, Crane took six plays to score, with Garza again doing the scoring honors from one yard out.

C-City went nowhere on the ensuing drive, and an eight-yard punt from David Castillo gave Crane excellent field position at the Wolves' 44.

Colorado's defense held, however, and forced a punt. Taking over at their own 15, the Wolves drove to near midfield before another mistake effectively killed the drive.

On first down at the C-City 42, Ramsey kept on the option for eight yards. A clipping penalty against the Wolves, however, put the ball back on the 35, and Ramsey's pass two plays later was intercepted by Tim Wilson, sealing the game for Crane.

PATRICIA — Klondike running back Matt Hogg (34) tries to elude a Loop tackler during first half action Friday night. Loop defeated the Cougars, 32-0.

Loop breaks losing streak

By GARY SHANKS
Staff Writer

PATRICIA — The Loop Longhorns broke a five-game losing streak by dominating the Klondike Cougars, scoring two unanswered touchdowns in each half en route to a 32-0 win.

The Cougars, also winless coming into Friday's game, were unable to capitalize on their home field advantage, coming up empty after six penetrations into Longhorn territory.

The Cougars can only hope to end their now six-game losing streak next week at Wellman against the Wildcats.

"The kids played well. This was a very important win for us," said Longhorns' Coach Kary Owens. "It's been a very long season, we started with 14 players and now we have eight."

The Cougars had several big plays to their credit, including a 25-yard pass which quarterback Brandon Oaks uncorked to sophomore Mike Nickles.

With about seven seconds left in the half, the Cougars were threatening a score from inside the five-yard line. An impressive double lateral and 15-yard pass play set up the scoring attempt.

The Cougars came up short, however, when the clock ran out before Klondike could score.

The Longhorns' first scoring drive started at their own 12-yard line late in the first quarter. David Rodriguez and Javier Ramirez traded first downs during the drive, which ended with Rodriguez carrying it in from the four-yard line.

A Cougar fumble at their own 30-yard line set up the next TD, with Rodriguez again taking it across from the one.

With two good extra point kicks, the half ended 16-0 Longhorns.

The first Loop scoring drive of the second half began after Oaks was sacked for a 22-yard loss on fourth down. The Longhorns took possession on the Cougars' 38.

Jesse Burrola capped the Loop drive with a 29-yard run that put the Horns up 24-0.

The Cougars threatened again after an interception by Jesse Torres gave Klondike the ball on the Longhorns' 36-yard line.

A pass to Nickles for the first down put the Cougars on the Loop 16.

Three incomplete passes in succession ended the drive.

A Cougar fumble set up the final scoring drive when the Longhorns recovered on the Cougar 29-yard line. Ramirez made the final score from the one-yard line.

"We played too tentative," said Cougars Coach Tom Ham. "They were too worried about making a mistake, and made lots of them."

"It will come together with experience," he added.

Sands

Sands cracks 'Cats

Herald Staff Report

WELLMAN — The Wellman Wildcats, handicapped by the loss of three of their senior starters, never gave up the battle against the Sands Mustangs Friday night.

Valiant efforts by the Wildcats were not enough against the tough Sands team, who carried home another victory with a score of 50-12 over the Wildcats.

Five minutes and five seconds remained in the first period as Charles Rhodes of the Mustangs carried the ball into the end zone from four yards out. Pank Grigg attempted the point after but was unsuccessful.

The next Sands TD was scored by David Ybarra with 3:08 remaining in the first quarter on a 37-yard run through the middle of the Wildcats' line. Grigg's kick for two upped the score to 14-0.

Wellman's Martin Franco, who was responsible for most of the Wildcats' rushing yardage in the game, broke numerous tackles around the Sands' left side to get into the end zone with 4:50 to go in the second quarter. The extra attempt was foiled when the holder dropped the ball and was tackled by a Wildcat defender.

Following a drive from their own 37-yard line to the Wellman six, Sands came back for another six as Eric Herm carried the ball, untouched, around the left end of the Wellman line. Again, Grigg's PAT was good, and the score stood at 22-6 at the half.

In the third quarter, after the Mustang's drive was stopped on the Wellman 30-yard line, Adrian Zarate kicked in a 4-point, 40-yard field goal to up the score to 26-6.

With 1:19 remaining in the third quarter, David Ybarra got his second TD of the night on a four-yard rush.

After some back and forth offensive play, the Mustangs' Eric Herm scored for his second time of the evening on a two-yard charge through the middle of the Wildcat line on fourth down and goal. This was followed up by another two-point kick by Pank Grigg.

Sands 25-yard line, Wellman's Wade Rowden carried the ball to the Sands 10 before being stopped by the strong Mustang defensive charge. Then Francisco Franco, breaking tackles, ran the ball the final 10 yards for the Wildcat score. The PAT attempt failed as the Sands defensive held firm.

Mustang Coach Randy Roemisch took the opportunity in the second half to clear his bench and give his younger players some valuable experience. Sophomore Heath Gillespie made the final score of the game with only 19 seconds remaining on a 24-yard run, followed by another successful Grigg PAT, and the Mustangs took the game 50-12.

The Mustangs' Aaron Cowley and Eric Herm were outstanding, as usual, in Friday night's game. Other leaders on the Mustang team included Jason Hodnett; Clay Parker; David Ybarra; Charles Rhodes; and sophomores Heath Gillespie, Torbin Lancaster and substitute quarterback Grant Gooch.

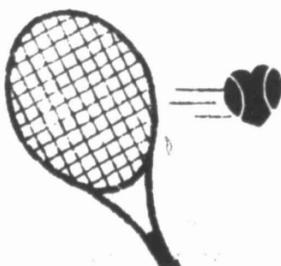

Leading the pack for the Wellman Wildcats were the big Franco boys — Francisco and Martin — along with James Harlan and Carlen Cagle. The Wildcats will be playing short-handed this season with seniors Patrick Adair and Jose Franco out for the season and Phil Haynes sidelined for three weeks.

Next week, Sands will continue district play against the Dawson Dragons.

Sands is now 6-0 overall and 1-0 in District 5-A, Six-Man play. Wellman falls to 3-3 and 0-1.

A well-matched battle kept the fans on their feet in Andrews Friday night, as the Andrews Mustangs took on the Sweetwater Mustangs. With the clock ticking down the final seconds of the game, the determined Andrews line-up broke the tie with a last ditch effort and won the game 13-10. Both teams now stand at 5-1 for the season with Friday's game being Sweetwater's only loss of the year.

Andrews received the opening kick-off, getting a big head start on the 66-yard return by Havie Bueno. Then with 8:44 to go in the first quarter, Al Gonzales plunged in on a one-yard option run. Eric Langehennig's kick for the point after was good.

Sweetwater retaliated with 5:40 to go in the first on a 27-yard pitch run by James Moore. Brian Mitchell's kick evened the score.

Late in the second half, Langehennig was able to kick a 41-yard field goal to pull Andrews ahead 10-7 with 43 seconds to go till halftime.

In the third, Sweetwater's Brian Mitchell tied the score for the second time on a 22-yard field goal

Next, Chris Hines of the Sweetwater Mustangs got loose on a 45-yard run, but tripped up and fell at the Andrews 6-yard line. The strong Andrews defense held, and Sweetwater was unable to make it into the end zone.

Strong offensive and defensive lines on both teams kept the scoring in check until the last six seconds of the game when Andrews finally got into position for another field goal attempt. Sophomore Eric Langehennig was able to make good on a 37-yard kick, and the Andrews Mustangs squeaked past the Sweetwater Mustangs 13-10.

Continuing district play next Friday night, Andrews will travel to Pecos to take on the Eagles, and Sweetwater will host the Monahans Loboes.

Submitted for your approval The homecoming zone

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

What is a homecoming?

Webster's Seventh New Collegiate Dictionary defines it as "the return of a group of people, especially on a special occasion, to a place formerly frequented."

Well, that definition is correct — as far as it goes — but there's more to a homecoming than a simple reunion of former associates.

When people talk about homecoming in this part of the state — and especially at this time of year — it means a variety of things.

Homecomings during football season, as anyone familiar with the happenings will be quick to say, are unlike any other reunions on the planet.

Among other things, homecomings are:

- Talking with your friends by the glow of a bonfire.

- Wondering how in the world a 90-pound girl can walk around with three mums pinned to her.

- Stapling crepe paper (in your school colors, naturally) onto every immovable object within a 20-mile radius.

- Meeting an old crush during your 20-year reunion and marveling at the fact that he/she doesn't look anywhere near the same as they did in high school.

- Looking in the mirror and discovering that you haven't aged that gracefully, either.

- Watching little kids scramble for candy thrown from floats during the homecoming parade.

- Dressing like a hippie, 20 years after being a hippie went out of style.

- Attending the various pre-homecoming and post-homecoming dinners, and hoping that you won't pay the price later.

- Trying to remember the names of folks you were fast friends with 15 years earlier.

Oh, by the way — there's also a football game.

TORONTO — Toronto's Joe Carter, right, celebrates his first inning home run with teammate John Olerud during game three of the American League Championship Series at Toronto's Skydome Friday night.

Twins regain dome advantage

TORONTO (AP) — With one terrific swing, Mike Pagliarulo gave the dome advantage back to Minnesota.

Pagliarulo hit a pinch homer with one out in the 10th inning Friday night to give Minnesota a 3-2 victory over Toronto and a 2-1 lead in the American League playoffs. The home run off Mike Timlin also broke a streak of 12 consecutive scoreless innings by Blue Jays relievers.

The home run wiped out advantage of the Blue Jays, who won Game 2 in the Metrodome and ended the Twins' seven-game postseason home winning streak. At very least, the Twins know they will be returning to Homer Hanky land.

Only two years ago, Pagliarulo was almost out of baseball after hitting .196 in 50 games with the Padres. Now, he's a big deal in the playoffs.

"It was the biggest game of my life," Pagliarulo said. "I was looking to hit the ball up the middle, but the ball was over the plate so I pulled it. I almost missed first base."

Miss first base? Almost. But the 31-year-old Pagliarulo didn't miss his chance to be a star.

"It was the shortest game of my life but also the biggest game of my life," said Pagliarulo, who hit only six homers in 365 at-bats this season. "I can hit home runs."

Game 4 of the best-of-7 series will be played Saturday when Jack Morris, the winner of the first game, faces Todd Stottlemyre. Of the seven previous AL playoffs tied 1-1, the team winning Game 3 went on to win the series five times.

"Pagliarulo did a good job for us this season," Twins center fielder Kirby Puckett said. "A lot of people thought he was washed up."

Pagliarulo hit 32 homers for the New York Yankees in 1987, but his high since then was 15 the next season. The Twins signed Pagliarulo as a free agent on Jan. 25, 1990. Nobody else really wanted him.

Toronto got a good performance from its bullpen, but the Twins were even better. David West, who slumped in the second half, pitched 2 2-3 shutout innings, allowing one hit, and series surprise Carl Willis worked two scoreless innings, giving up one hit.

Mark Guthrie got the final out of the ninth and gained the victory, and Rick Aguilera finished for his second save of the series.

Pagliarulo was batting for rookie Scott Leius, who was 0-for-3, when he hit Timlin's fastball over the right-field wall. It was the sixth pinch homer in playoff history, and the third in the AL. The last in the AL was by Kansas City's Pat Sheridan in 1985, also against the Blue Jays.

"It was a horrible pitch," Timlin said. "It was right down the middle. It was a great pitch for him to hit."

The Blue Jays kept a late-arriving SkyDome crowd of 51,454 on their feet in the first inning when Joe Carter hit Scott Erickson's 3-2 pitch 451 feet to center field with two outs. Candy Maldonado made it 2-0 with an RBI double later in the inning.

Toronto, however, could have had much, much more. In the first seven innings, the Blue Jays were 1-for-8 with runners in scoring position. They also drew eight walks, only one of which resulted in a run.

"We left too many runners on base," Toronto manager Cito Gaston said. "It was just one of those games when you bunt you don't drive in the run and when you hit and run, nothing happens."

Erickson (20-8) staggered through four-plus innings, allowing three hits and walking five, the latter his season high. He walked the first two batters in the fourth with no damage and the Blue Jays wasted two walks and two David West wild pitches in the fifth.

In 13 of the previous 14 games between the teams this season, the club scoring first went on to win. In Game 3, the Blue Jays' inability to apply a knockout gave the Twins reason to hope.

NL series shifts to Atlanta for Game 3

ATLANTA (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates will have to deal with the National League's hottest pitcher and some of its most enthusiastic fans in this afternoon's third game of the National League playoffs.

The teams split the first two games in Pittsburgh. Now the Pirates will be faced with more than 50,000 screaming Atlanta fans doing the tomahawk chop and banging tom-toms in support of their Worst to First bunch.

"I think our fans are the 10th player on the field for us," Braves manager Bobby Cox said. "They certainly give our players a lift."

More importantly, perhaps, the Pirates will be facing John Smoltz, whose 14-13 record includes a 12-2 mark after the All-Star break. The Pirates will go with their biggest winner, John Smiley (20-8).

The Pirates lost the regular-season series to Atlanta 9-3 and were 0-6 in Atlanta — and that was before the tomahawk chop mania began. The two teams last met in Atlanta on July 31.

"We know it's going to be whoop-whoop-whoop. You know, that thing they do," the Pirates' Bobby Bonilla said. "We're ready for it, we think."

"I don't think they know the proportion to what it will be," Braves catcher Greg Olson said.

"It'll be different for us being in a situation like this. They'll be coming at us like it was Custer's Last Stand," Pittsburgh's Andy Van Slyke said.

"We have the advantage now," Braves left fielder Lonnie Smith said.

"I'm more concerned about the Braves' lineup than I am their fans," said Smiley, who was 8-1 in day games this year.

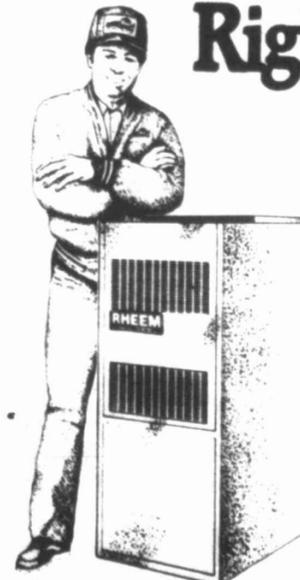

"Once you get on the field, you don't see any of that stuff," said Pirates catcher Mike LaValliere, a left-handed hitter who will be making his first start of the series with Smoltz, a right-hander, on the mound.
