Board approves audit for the CED district

The Howard-Glasscock County Education District (CED) today approved an audit of the local CED by Glen Fillingim.

"The state requires all public entities to be audited," said Lee George, CED chairperson. "There are no violations — no problems either intentional or unintentional."

In other business, CED members approved realignment of funding due to changes in average daily attendance (ADA) for the four school districts.

"Changes are minor," George said.

The Howard-Glasscock CED is comprised of Big Spring, Coahoma, Forsan and Garden City schools.

Chamber officers named

New board members and officers for the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce were announced at its meeting Wednesday.

Directors, serving Jan. 1, 1993 to Dec. 31, 1995, Conrad Alexander, Lee George, Curtis Mullins, Arnold Uribe, and Jim Wright. They replaced Ben Bancroft, Harold Davis, Bruce Griffith, Jim Bill Little and Bill Pollard.

New chamber officers: Bancroft, president; Linda Roger, executive vice president; Kent Newson, president-elect; Cherry Furqueron, treasurer; Jeff Morris, first vice president; and James Welch, past president.

Ex-Officio officers: Tim Blackshear, Bill McQueary, Dr. Cheri Sparks, Ted St. Clair.

In December, vice presidents will be named for each division of the chamber.

Frances Wheat was named in August to fill the vacancy left by Linda Fraser.

American Heart Walk

The American Heart Walk will be Saturday at Scenic Mountain State Park's headquarters at the top of the hill. Registration begins at 9 a.m.

The fundraiser is sponsored by the American Heart Association to raise money to fight heart disease.

Participants will collect up-front money to be turned the day of the walk. Prizes will be given out to those collecting the most money.

For more information call Marcia Merrell at 263-2039.

Homecoming fever is rising at Big Spring High School with students dressing and decorating for the annual event. Bonfire tonight kicks off homecoming

By CONNIE SWINNEY
Staff Writer

The 28th Homecoming for Big Spring High School will conjure up team spirit during the community pep rally and bonfire at 7:30 p.m. today south of Memorial Stadium.

This week's theme is Homecoming Spirit — P.E.A.C.E. — Week. The theme's acronym stands for Positive Energy Activates Creative Enthusiasm.

"By showing positive energy, you will create enthusiasm," said Keely Bowermon, student council president. "If everyone shows their support, we can not only get the team and student body motivated but the whole community as well."

This week BSHS displayed school spirit with Hats Off to the Steers Day and Mix Up the Chiefs Day. Students also selected their Homecoming queen nominees — members of various organizations.

During the weekend BSHS will kick off a parade at 4:30 p.m. on Friday at 10th and Main. All classes, clubs and many community groups will be participating.

The Steers take on the San Angelo Lakeview Chiefs at 8 p.m. on Friday at Memorial Stadium for the Homecoming football game. During half-time a Homecoming queen will be crowned.

All ex-students are invited to a post-game reception in the Fireplace Room in the Student Union Building at Howard College.

Ending the Homecoming week, BSHS updates their Hall of Fame on Saturday adding past valedictorians, all-state contest winners and national merit scholars to their lists of honored students.

The ceremony is at 2 p.m. followed by 3 p.m. refreshments and campus tour.

Other notable inductees include past student council presidents, vocational and University Interscholastic League (U.I.L.) contest participants as well as editors of the school newspaper and annual.

All-state band and choir members, art and literature performers, sports achievers and cheerleaders will also be inducted.

"The inductions add to the Steer pride by recognizing the accomplishments of our exes," said Craig Fischer, coordinator of the ceremony. "I see students looking all the time at the Hall to see if people they know are in it."

School officials will add more than 200 inductees to the Hall of Fame and 100 exes are expected to attend, Fischer said.

Janice Rosson, Goliad Middle School principal, and Fischer will host the ceremony. Keely Bowermon, student body president will present the introduction.

Assistant Superintendent Murray Murphy will welcome all present and past students and parents.

Principal Kent Bowermon will report on the state of BSHS and Rosson will report on ex-students from BSHS.

Lambert joins the firefighter family while waiting for his family to move

By PATRICK DRISCOLL
Staff Writer

New City Manager Lanny Lambert, apparently always looking for ways to save the city money, is temporarily bunking with firefighters rather than running up a hotel bill.

Besides saving about $35 a night, it has other advantages, said Lambert, who became city manager Oct. 1 and has been bunking the past two weeks at the station at Birdwell and 11th Place following an invitation from Fire Chief Frank Anderson.

"I've enjoyed getting to know the guys and the operation," he said over coffee this morning at the station, shortly before taking off for work. "And you know it's kind of lonely here without my family. Firemen are kind of a big family, they're a tight knit group. I want to thank them for letting me in."

"I was a little apprehensive at first, thought about it, didn't know if it was a good idea but decided to try it," said Lambert, who admits he's a little shy about talking to the media about the living arrangements.

The arrangements are temporary while he waits for his home in Terrell, where he was the city manager, to be sold and his wife and children, all under nine years old, to move here. Lambert said has been made to feel at home here:

- Eating "famous" firefighter cooking. "I've gained 10 pounds," he said.
- Joining firefighters on two fire runs, so far, to observe action. "I'd say we have a fire department second to none in all the state of Texas," he said. "I believe our firemen have the quickest response time of any city I've seen."
- Being the butt of a practical joke by having his bed rigged to fall apart one night last week. "Scared me to death," he said laughing. "So I think the firemen are beginning to feel more comfortable with me too. But I'll get even with them."
- "It's worked out really well. I'm getting to know the guys," he said. With a broad smile, he joked, "I don't know if they're trying to make brownie points with their boss or if they're really nice guys."
- The three firefighters listening to the interview this morning periodically joined in to tell jokes and trade barbs with Lambert. At one point, firefighter Scott Emerson said, "We love having him here," but then after being asked by a reporter to identify himself, smiled and gave another firefighter's name.
- Although the arrangement helps, Lambert assured it is no substitute for his family. "I certainly miss my family and look forward to the day they get here."
- Lambert stays in a hotel when his wife, Debi, comes to visit.

In a back room of the 11th and Birdwell Fire Station, new city manager Lanny Lambert straightens the bedspread on his bunk early Thursday morning. While living at the fire station, Lambert has gone on two runs with the firemen and has had a first-hand look at the inside workings of one of the city departments.

Early voting very strong

By GARY SHANKS
Staff Writer

A strong show in early voting may indicate a record turn out of Howard County voters, said County Clerk Margaret Ray.

As of 5 p.m. Wednesday, a total of 1,037 early votes have been cast for the Nov. 3 general election.

RELATED STORY — 2A

In addition, Ray has mailed out 418 ballots thus far and received 178 back, she said. The last day to request a mail-out ballot is Oct. 27. The request must be in writing, but can be transmitted by facsimile (fax).

By way of comparison, in 1988, only 3,165 early votes were cast in the entire election. "I feel like we're going to have a record turn out," Ray said.

With eight days of early voting left, Ray is continuing her schedule of branch polling. Today, Ray set up a branch polling place at Comanche Trail Nursing Center from 10 a.m. to noon. Tomorrow, a polling place will be established at Golden Plains Care Center (recently renamed Big Spring Care Center) at 901 Goliad from 10 a.m. to 11.

Anyone can vote at the branch polling places, Ray said. They are established for the convenience of people who might have trouble coming to the courthouse or to the polls on Nov. 3.

The last two of these will be at the Coahoma City Hall at 122 N. 1st St. from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Tuesday and the Forsan City Hall on Wednesday from 10 a.m. to noon.

D-FY-IT groups plan Red Ribbon Week activities

By CONNIE SWINNEY
Staff Writer

Next week marks Drug Awareness Week, and area Drug-Free Youth in Texas (D-FY-IT) groups slated activities for the remainder of the month in anticipation of anti-drug efforts.

D-FY-IT Big Spring and D-FY-IT Coahoma are also building bridges to possibly combine efforts for a potential "Teen Center."

"We've worked together in the past," said Sgt. Stan Parker, D-FY-IT Big Spring sponsor. "The center could be a thing where we could work together."

He added, "The center's going to be a safe place. There won't be people hanging around outside. Parents will know there will be adult supervision and no trouble."

Deputy Sheriff Woodie Howell, D-FY-IT Coahoma sponsor said, "The Coahoma kids have let me know they want to be a part of (the center), and they feel if D-FY-IT members are involved, it will be successful."

Parker said local members received a copy of the lease last week from Bluebonnet Savings. D-FY-IT Big Spring students and their parents will meet at 7 p.m. on Oct. 26 in the high school library for a center planning session.

Blue Jays one win from World Series title

The ASSOCIATED PRESS

TORONTO — One more win. No more doubts. The Toronto Blue Jays, known for failing in big games, play the biggest of their lives tonight.

2-3 innings, continued bullpen brilliance and just enough hitting from Pat Borders' homer and Devon White's RBI single gave the Blue Jays a 2-1 win over Atlanta Wednesday night and a 3-1 lead in the best-of-7 series.

2-0 at the SkyDome. Toronto was just as close to winning a postseason series once before in its 16-year history. It led Kansas City 3-1 in the 1985 AL playoffs, then lost the last three games. Key outdueler Tom Glavine, who pitched his second complete game of the Series while working on three days rest.

postseason record to 10 straight games with a homer, hitting a solo shot to lead off the third. Then White, 1 for 13 in the first three games, got his third hit of the game, a single, to drive in Kelly Gruber, who had walked in the eighth.

Jeff Reardon, baseball's all-time saves leader, made them in Games 2 and 3 by serving up the winning hits in the ninth. And in Game 4, Otis Nixon got picked off first in the first and Damon Berryhill bunted against orders in the eighth in the only innings Atlanta threatened against Key, who got the win.

Steers, Chiefs hungry for win

Flight Night action. Derrick Brown (22) and Reco Burt (40) battle for a loose ball as Marcus Iverson (background) looks on as the Howard College Hawks played an intrasquad scrimmage Tuesday night.

"They were just out there kind of going through the motions," Butler says. "We had to call a time out and get them all over (to the sidelines) and try to emphasize what their part in (homecoming) is. They finally settled down and started putting their minds back to what they needed to be doing."

The Chiefs had an open date last week. Before that they started their district season with a 56-7 loss at Andrews and a 57-7 home loss to Sweetwater. Lake View broke an 18-game losing streak with a 17-13 victory over Class 3A Clyde Sept. 18. It has not won a district game since 1989.

But in addition to having the district's worst record, the Chiefs rank last in both total offense and total defense in 3-AA. Hicks says his offense has not played with consistency this season and his offensive line is one of the team's weak spots. But he feels the players have responded well to his resignation announcement.

MIA photos include Sen. John McCain

The ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — Sen. John McCain recognized at least a few of the thousands of photographs from the Vietnamese military archives: They were of himself, as a prisoner of war.

McCain on Wednesday showed reporters several photos he said the Vietnamese gave him, including one of himself being fished from a lake after his attack bomber was shot down over the capital in 1967.

The Arizona Republican, a former Navy pilot who was released from captivity in 1973, was part of a U.S. delegation that traveled to Vietnam last weekend to discuss the existence of more than 4,000 photographs of American servicemen and other documents in Vietnamese archives.

"Many are pictures of Americans who were returned after the war," McCain told reporters at a campaign news conference in Phoenix, but he otherwise declined to comment on the nature of any of the documents or pictures that the delegation brought back.

He said, "I have seen no proof of live Americans" still in Vietnam "and none of the information I have seen indicates that there are live Americans."

In Washington, a Bush administration official said he "would not rule out" that other Americans had been photographed alive.

Asked if there were photos of living Americans whose whereabouts remain unknown, the source said, "That's a big question."

The New York Times, quoting unidentified administration officials, reported in today's editions that American archivists will travel to Vietnam at the end of the month to begin reviewing the newly available documents.

Also, 63 American specialists on Wednesday began a monthlong field visit to 11 Vietnamese provinces to hold interviews and examine aircraft crash sites, in connection with 78 cases of missing servicemen, the Times said.

A Pentagon source said the new material, from archives the Vietnamese said had been recently discovered, has yielded some information about MIAs that the Pentagon has "passed on to a very small number of families."

That source, who asked not to be identified by name, declined to say what kind of information had been given to the families.

According to the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia, the family of Air Force Maj. Joseph Morrison of Lexington, Ky., who was 38 when his plane was shot down Nov. 25, 1968, was contacted as a result of information found in the archives.

But spokeswoman Mary Backley said she did not know the nature of the information passed along. Members of his family could not be located.

"I think this is the big break we've been working towards," said Louise Van Hoozer of Savannah, Mo., whose brother, Air Force Maj. James E. Booth, was shot down over North Vietnam in 1968. "I'm trying to be very optimistic and I'm trying not to get too elated over it because I've been disappointed before."

But other MIA relatives wondered whether Hanoi was just trying to improve relations with the United States and end an 18-year U.S. trade embargo. U.S. officials long have suspected the existence of the Vietnamese archives containing documentation of the fates of American servicemen in the war.

Dolores Apodaca Alfond, national chairwoman of the National Alliance of Families for the Return of America's Missing Servicemen, said, "They're really hyping this thing."

Maureen Dunn of Randolph, Mass., said the new information will be agonizing for some MIA family members.

Nuclear plant guard was sexually assaulted

The ASSOCIATED PRESS

GLEN ROSE, Texas — A security guard who was left unconscious and disarmed in a restricted area of the Comanche Peak Nuclear Power Plant was sexually assaulted, authorities said. A spokesman for plant owner TU Electric said neither the facility nor the public was ever in any danger. The pre-dawn situation was described by TU spokesman Jerry Lee as "a serious incident, but not to the plant." An "unusual event," the lowest of four categories of nuclear plant emergencies, was declared at 4:51 a.m. Wednesday because of the security incident. The plant was back operating normally by 9 a.m. The guard, identified only as a 31-year-old employee of Burns Security, later regained consciousness.

Coahoma Elementary School on Wednesday. The aircraft is used in major drug-fighting operations, Howell said. The Howard County Sheriff's Office organized the demonstration for D-FY-IT Coahoma. The group also kicks off a red-ribbon campaign on Saturday in downtown Coahoma. A drug-free parade will begin at 9:30 a.m. on First St. D-FY-IT members will begin distributing 1,000 red ribbons in recognition of Drug Awareness Week. Following Coahoma and Big Spring's lead, Grady and Sands schools started D-FY-IT groups last year. "When this center gets off the ground, we would like for the area groups to come together on this," Parker said. Howell said, "We introduced (D-FY-IT) to Forsan, but they're not quite ready at this time."

Sheriff's log

The Howard County Sheriff's Office reported the following incidents:
• Spencer Lee Coker, 21, of Big Spring was arrested for revocation of probation.
• Wayne Klade Bristo, 33, of Big Spring was arrested for revocation of probation.
• Hollie Wayne Joy, 30, of Josephine, was arrested for parole violation.
• A heavily armed man was arrested in a Coahoma convenience store late Wednesday. Sheriff's Deputy Woodie Howell received a call at his residence at 9:50 p.m. The call referred to a man "acting crazy and about to shoot someone."
• Howell responded to the Town and Country store in Coahoma and disarmed the man after a brief struggle.
• Arrested was 58-year-old Charles Lindsey Marchbanks. Recovered in the arrest was a Smith & Wesson 9mm semi-automatic pistol, two magazines with 27 rounds of ammunition.

Police beat

The Big Spring Police Department reported the following:
• A television and drill worth a total $750 was taken from the 100 block of Lincoln.
• A $450 air compressor was taken from the 1300 block of Monmouth.
• A wallet and jewelry worth a total $1,825 was taken from a vehicle on the 1500 block of Wasson.

The Ghosts of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue Whoooooo Haunts the White House?

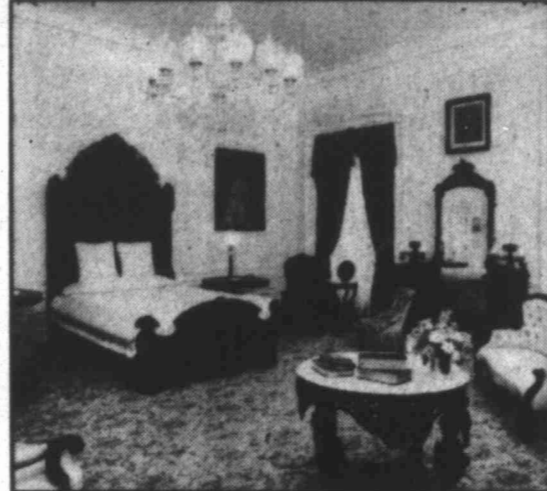

The White House is 200 years old this year!

Most of us don't really believe in ghosts, but we all like ghost stories — especially at Halloween!

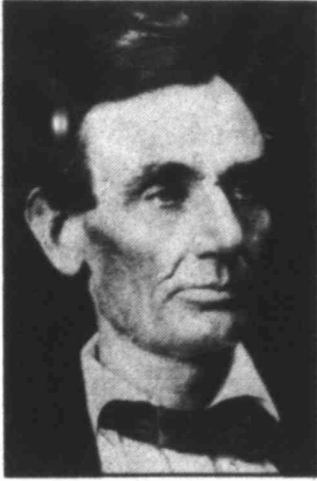

WHAT SOUNDS MIGHT GHOSTS MAKE?

Knock, knock, knock! One night, the Queen of the Netherlands was spending the night in the Rose Room at the White House. She heard a knocking sound at her door.

Lincoln's ghost has most often been seen in the Lincoln bedroom on the third floor.

She opened it... and there stood the most famous White House ghost — Abraham Lincoln!

HAVE YOU EVER SENSED THE PRESENCE OF AN INVISIBLE SPIRIT?

Presidents, their wives and many White House workers have sensed Lincoln's presence. Eleanor Roosevelt said she felt his spirit around, but never saw him.

HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT THAT YOU HAVE SEEN A GHOST?

About 40 years after Lincoln's death, President Teddy Roosevelt said he often saw Lincoln's ghost.

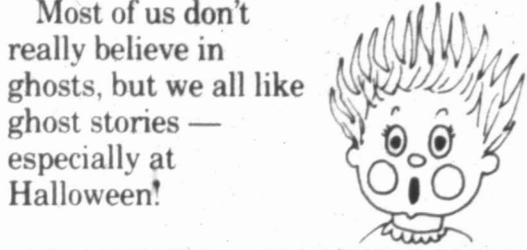

Lincoln's wife, Mary Todd Lincoln, was interested in the supernatural. She sometimes held seances, or meetings, with people who claimed they could put her in touch with departed loved ones.

Haunted or not, the White House is a place many folks are just dying to live in. Whoooooo can name two?

LOOK THROUGH YOUR PAPER FOR SIGNS THAT HALLOWEEN WILL BE HERE SOON.

The ghost of Abigail Adams sometimes haunts the White House. She was the first "first lady" to live there.

Some visitors have seen her carrying a load of dirty clothes.

They claim they can also smell soap and wet laundry in the East Room.

That is where she hung her clothes out to dry!

HAVE YOU EVER SMELLED A GHOSTLY SMELL?

Show barn construction is beginning Project to cost about $87,700

By GARY SHANKS
Staff Writer

Construction began Monday on a new livestock show barn to augment the Stanton Community Center complex, near the Martin County Courthouse.

In a meeting Friday, the Martin County Commissioner's Court voted to accept the low bid of $87,700 for the project, submitted by M.D. Young Construction of Big Spring and Stanton general contractor J.W. Heidelberg.

Construction of the building is expected within 60 days, according to the specifications. An aging building is being torn down to accommodate the construction.

The building, which will have an interior area of greater than 5,000 feet, will consist of a metal structure and 8-foot concrete walls. Its interior floor will include a 30-foot concrete floor with the remaining floor area being dirt.

The new building will be better suited to livestock shows, which can no longer be in the main community center, because the building has been renovated with lower ceilings and refrigerated air conditioning, said Martin County Treasurer Butch Howard. "We did a lot of work on it."

To cover the cost of construction, the commissioners voted to make a transfer from the permanent improvement budget for the 1992-93 fiscal year, said Martin County Judge Bob Deavenport.

The complex, which includes a fair barn and a large covered pavilion, is used almost every day, Howard said. The complex contains almost all of the county's large meeting facilities. A meeting room at Cap Rock Electric Cooperative Inc., which was once used by many in the community, has been renovated into additional office space by the co-op, Howard said.

The commissioners voted unanimously to build the structure, Deavenport said.

Junior Heidelberg uses an old board to knock loose other boards on an extension to a fair barn at the Martin County Fairgrounds Tuesday morning. The extension is being torn down to have room to construct a new livestock show arena building. The new building, which will measure 58 feet by 90 feet, will be a steel roof structure designed specifically for showing livestock.

The State Fair continues through this weekend. More than 3.5 million visitors are expected.

Council considers airport safety proposal

By PATRICK DRISCOLL
Staff Writer

The Stanton City Council is scheduled to meet in a special session Thursday to hear another proposal on safety precautions concerning crop-dusting planes at the Stanton Airport.

Last week, the council requested Rod Stringer of Rod Stringer Flying Service of Lamesa, who reportedly has a plane at the Stanton Airport about 90 percent of the time, to devise a plan for chemical loading and cleaning of planes owned by three different owners at the airport. The plan would include pouring a concrete slab.

Since then, Don McMorris of McMorris Flying Service in Tarzan, in Martin County north of Stanton, requested to present some ideas to the council, said City Administrator Danny Fryar.

McMorris could not be reached for comment Wednesday afternoon and Fryar said he has "no idea" what McMorris will tell the council. "He just kind of wanted to make a proposal," Fryar said.

The safety issue was raised by Councilman Gene Wheeler, who is concerned that chemical spills could cause problems in the future.

"Our council is just real concerned that anybody that lands out there keeps everything tidy and clean," Fryar said. "We're just trying to eliminate any problems for the future."

Based on council discussions last week, Stringer would pour a concrete slab within 60 days of an agreement at his own expense and would be given a year's lease at the airport with an annual option. Other flying services, including McMorris and Chiles Spraying Service of Seminole would have to work out agreements with Stringer for use of the slab.

But the issue is not settled yet, Fryar said. Another concern is changes underway in Environmental Protection Agency regulations.

"My recommendation's going to be that they don't do anything until EPA comes down on us to tell us what we need to do," he said. "I'd hate to see anybody spend any money out there until we find out what they're going to enforce."

Graves Plumbing Your Comfort Consultant....

Craig A. Graves, manager of Graves Plumbing, would like to invite everyone needing heating, air conditioning or plumbing work to think of Graves Plumbing "Your Comfort Consultants."

Established in 1937; GRAVES PLUMBING has begun the 55th year of service. Operating from a 2400 sq. ft. building located on a busy highway, the company has a large fenced yard and sheet metal shop to contain the equipment and inventory necessary for business.

Under the ownership and management of a member of the Graves' family, the business maintains close contact with customers and community.

The credit and service records of the company are outstanding. George A. Bridges, founder, was licensed under the new Texas State Plumbing Code in 1945. He retired in 1950; turning the business over to son-in-law, Walter C. Graves; who ran the company until 1967.

Granville W. Graves, took the company into residential and commercial heating and air conditioning, and expanded the scope of the business to include public utilities work.

Taking the reins of business from his father in 1989; Craig A. Graves, has led the company into geo thermal installation. Education of employees, continuous service, and an awareness of future trends, are hallmarks of a company that has been a family trust; passed from one generation to the next.

Guests invited to dinner are left holding bill

DEAR ABBY: Our son, Al, is engaged to marry Beth in the near future. Beth's parents, whom we had never met, are divorced. Beth's mother, Agnes, invited my husband and me (over the telephone) to join her and her boyfriend, plus Al and Beth, for dinner at a first-class restaurant. We accepted with pleasure. Now for the problem: After the six of us enjoyed a lovely meal, the waiter brought the check to the table and handed it to Agnes because the reservations had been made in her name, and she appeared to be the hostess. Without even looking at the bill, Agnes handed it to Al. The bill came to $400. Al appeared somewhat bewildered. He didn't have that much cash with him, and since my husband and I were also invited guests, we didn't have $400 either. So my husband and I and Al excused ourselves, pooled all the money we had, and Al put the balance on his credit card. We are not rich -- we are middle-class working people. Al didn't want to make a scene, but we are outraged at such rudeness. Abby, in your opinion, what should we have done? --LIVID IN PENNSYLVANIA

DEAR LIVID: You should have politely told Agnes that since she had invited you, you assumed that you were to be her guests. Then, Al should have told his future mother-in-law: "If you can't handle this, I'll put the balance on my credit card, and you can reimburse me later." Or, Beth could have taken the bill from Al's hand, returned it to her mother with the reminder, "Mom, we thought you were hosting this dinner, since you invited us." Of course, this presupposes that either of both Beth and Al are mature enough to stand up to Agnes, whose behavior was outrageous. DEAR ABBY: For the last 15 years, my wife has had a "friend"

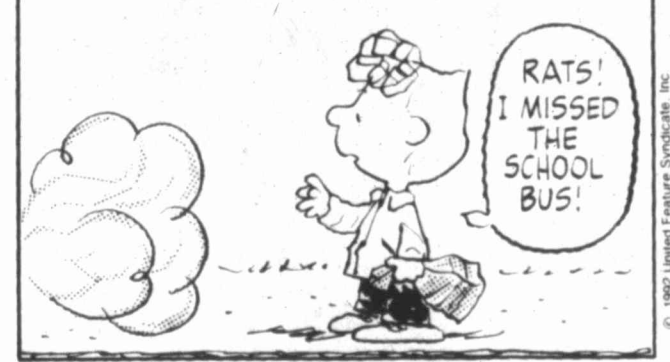

(I'll call her "Lucy") who has had marital (and other family) difficulties. Lucy calls my wife incessantly to complain about her problems, in spite of the fact that she is supposedly receiving professional help from multiple sources. She has kept my wife on the telephone for hours at a time. Unfortunately, my wife is the sympathetic type, and she doesn't know how to permanently rid herself of this burden. She is also constantly doing favors such as marketing for Lucy, since she spends so much time feeling sorry for herself, she can't seem to get anything accomplished. How do I free my wife from this parasite? -- FRUSTRATED AND ANGRY IN ROCHESTER, N.Y. DEAR FRUSTRATED AND ANGRY: You can't. If your wife permits herself to be constantly dumped on, SHE needs to get some instruction in assertiveness. I recommend it.

Pace yourself and clear your desk before you leave today. Tonight: Get ready for a great time.  VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You have every reason to feel gleeful about money, but call on that conservative spirit of yours. You feel far more secure with a loved one. Look carefully at an important new purchase. Tonight: Dinner for two on you.  LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You feel good, and you have reason to celebrate. Don't let another question where, what or who. You have more fun than you have had in a long time. Let your creativity go wild. Others enjoy your humor and wit. Tonight: Go for what you want.  SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Wherever you are or whatever you are planning, you are able to move in new directions and make new choices. Feel good about an option that presents itself. Count on one thing: You come out on top. Tonight: Cheer the weekend in.  CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Accept a special opportunity. Be aware that others are looking to you for answers and resolution. You know what is needed and you know what you want to do. Be prepared to accept all the attention and applause. Tonight: Exchange love coos with another.  AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Creative ventures allow you to see new possibilities. Verify information and check out a situation. Be more upbeat and consider different options. Touch base with your higher values. Say "yes" to a special opportunity. Tonight: Try a new restaurant.  PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Creative brainstorming and one-to-one relating help to solidify a relationship. You get a special offer that puts you in never-never land. Be especially sensitive to a boss or parent. Tonight: Be with your object of desire. ****
