Fire takes down buildings

■ Fireworks thought to be cause

By KELLIE JONES
Staff Writer

Fireworks and dry grass played a part in a structure and grass fire that kept county and city firefighters busy for several hours.

"The exact cause is not known but after talking with people on the scene, there is a good chance that fireworks may have been the cause of the fire," said County Fire Marshal C. Roy Wright.

The fire broke out around 2 p.m. Thursday at the intersection of Neill and Sherman streets north of Big Spring in the Oasis Addition. Seven county and two city fire units responded to the blaze that spread quickly because of the dry ground.

Thick clouds of black smoke could be seen for miles as fires on old cars in a junkyard burned. Several structures were destroyed in the fire and the family that owns most of the six acres of burned land does not have any insurance.

Wright added, "Two mobile homes that were used for storage were destroyed along with a shed. A storage building also caught on fire but didn't burn completely."

The storage building contained paint and other combustible materials that posed a danger to firefighters if ignited. However, the blaze was extinguished before the materials

Jacob Scroggins covers his face with a cloth as he uses his feet to stamp out any residual flames from a fire that claimed several buildings northeast of Big Spring Thursday afternoon.

County suffers rash of break-ins

By KELLIE JONES
Staff Writer

Within the last two weeks, several Howard County residents have had their homes burglarized and sheriff's officials say the same person or persons could be responsible for the crimes.

The latest burglary of a habitation "was reported to us July 7 around 5:30 p.m. The family had been out of town for a few days and it could have happened anytime within the last few days," said Sheriff A.N. Standard. The home is in the Tubbs addition on Ratliff Road, south of town. The suspect or suspects entered the home by breaking out a window.

"Among the items taken were a Magnavox brand VCR, a Fisher brand stereo with two speakers, a home computer, a 30-30 lever action rifle, a 12-gauge shotgun and other items.

This is just one of a rash of burglaries which have been occurring in Howard County. Most of the burglaries seem to have the same mode of operation and the same type of items have been taken in all of the burglaries," said Deputy Bennie Green.

Green advises residents to develop a neighborhood watch program. If you are going to be out of town or away from your home for a period of time, let your neighbor or a family member know so they can keep a close watch on your house.

Old Jail has many tales to tell

By BARBARA MORRISON
Staff Writer

STANTON - If you're looking for an interesting West Texas legend, a trip by the "Old Jail" of Martin County just might do the trick.

Tours of the jail will be offered all day Saturday as part of the Martin County Old Settlers' Reunion staged in Stanton July 9.

Known throughout the area simply as "the old jail," the building is located on the northwest corner of the courthouse square and has become a Texas historic landmark. It sports a red sandstone two-story exterior which was quarried in Barstow, Texas, and then moved in to Stanton.

Leticia Perkins of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce explained the new jail included living quarters for the sheriff or deputy and his family. Perkins said the families lived in two rooms in the upper level of the building and one room in the lower level, opposite the cell blocks.

"There are still people who lived there who can tell some pretty colorful stories," Perkins laughed.

SCHEDULE

The 61st Annual Old Settlers Reunion will be in Stanton on Saturday. Here is a schedule of events for the day:

- 9 a.m. - Registration at the Community Center
- 9:15 a.m. - Viewing of floats at Methodist Church
- 10 a.m. - Parade held in downtown Stanton
- 11 a.m. - Downtown games
- 11 a.m. - Flag retirement ceremony at Stanton Care Center
- 11 a.m. - Old jail open for tours
- 12 p.m. - Convent open for tours
- 1 p.m. - Entertainment at Community Center

2 p.m. - Reception honoring Minnie Lee Jones family at museum

2 p.m. - Roping at Martin County Arena

7 p.m. - Barbecue dinner catered by Johnny's Barbecue at Community Center at $5 per plate.

8 p.m. - Program at Community Center

In conjunction with the Old Settlers Reunion, there will be a dance held outside at the Community Center. Music will be provided by Mike Payne. The dance is sponsored by the Martin County Chamber of Commerce.

It served as the county museum until the new one was built in 1978.

The jail was renovated and restored and became the Martin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors' Center. On Old Settlers' Day, July 12, 1986, over 300 individuals attended the official open house.

And, as literature states, "The Old Jail is now ready to serve the citizens of Martin County for another hundred years."

Many changes have taken place over the years, Perkins explained, and the room opposite the cells is now used as the office of the Chamber of Commerce.

In 1971, the Martin County Historical commission received permission to restore the old jail as a county museum.

Several repairs later, and after the assembling of exhibits and antiques specific to the area, the building was opened to visitors.

OBITUARIES

Lois McCarty

Services for Lois McCarty, 84, Big Spring, will be 10 a.m. Saturday, July 9, 1994, at Nalley-Pickle & Welch Rosewood Chapel with Dr. Randy Cotten, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, officiating. Interment will follow at Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of Nalley-Pickle & Welch Funeral Home.

Mrs. McCarty died Wednesday, July 6, at a local hospital.

She was born on June 5, 1910, in Stamford. She was a Baptist. She married J.T. Corning on Sept. 8, 1927, in Brownfield. He preceded her in death. She later married O.J. McCarty, and he also preceded her in death. Mrs. McCarty also operated a restaurant in the 1940's and 1950's in Big Spring.

Survivors include three daughters: Hazel Eppler, Big Spring, Melba Dement, Columbus, Miss., and Janiece Edmondson, Oak Ridge, Tenn.; one son: Darrell Corning, San Angelo; one sister: Nellie Alexander, Big Spring; 21 grandchildren; and several great-grandchildren.

She was also preceded in death by one sister and one brother.

The family will be at 3305 Cornell.

caught on fire. Early reports had stated a juvenile might be trapped inside one of the structures that was on fire. An ambulance was called to the scene to be on stand by. The boy was found unharmed outside his home attempting to put out the fire.

"An older woman who lived on Sherman Road and was on oxygen had to be evacuated from her home. It wasn't on fire but her house was near the blaze. She wasn't injured," said Rodney Phillips, deputy chief with the city fire department.

One of the county fire trucks got stuck out in the fire while laying water lines. Wright said one of the front wheels fell into a septic system and a bulldozer pulled the vehicle out before any damage was done.

While firefighters were fighting this blaze, a range fire broke out north of Vincent on the T.L. Griffin ranch. "A second county fire truck went down out there. It had mechanical problems. Part of the fire went into Borden County as well," said Wright.

According to reports at the sheriff's office, volunteer units from Luther, Knott, Vincent, Coahoma and Sand Springs were called out to help battle the fire. At least 640 acres were destroyed but no structures were damaged.

The cause of the fire is still under investigation and it took volunteers about five hours to extinguish the blaze.

"We also encourage people to report suspicious activity including suspicious vehicles in your area by getting a description of the vehicle and a license plate number if possible," he said.

"Also while you are away, we recommend that you have someone pick up your mail and newspapers from your yard so that it will appear that someone is home," added Green.

Some of the other burglaries have occurred in the northwest part of the county on Route Three and in the southwest section on Wasson Road.

Televisions, VCRs, CD players, jewelry, firearms and video games were taken from those homes.

If you have any information concerning any of these burglaries, you are urged to call the Howard County Sheriff's office at 264-2244 or by calling CrimeStoppers at 263-TIPS.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Veteran agent kills
Colombian suspect

HOUSTON (AP) — By his count, Jack Schumacher testified in 1990, he had shot approximately eight people, five fatally, during his career as a drug agent for the Houston police department.
Asked why he could not be more specific, Schumacher replied, "It's not something I care to keep track of."
Thursday afternoon, Schumacher fired a shotgun blast that hit a Colombian drug suspect in the chest, killing him, in what other officers at the scene said was a "cut and dried" case of an officer acting to protect himself and others.
A routine grand jury investigation is expected, officials said.

Kathryn Schroeder
visits judge today

WACO, Texas (AP) — Kathryn Schroeder cooperated with the government in its prosecution of Branch Davidians, but said recently she felt her chances were "very, very, very slim" of avoiding time behind bars.
U.S. District Judge Walter S. Smith said she'd have a chance to argue her case for freedom today before hearing him announce her sentence.
"I'll just face it when it happens," she said Thursday.
Ms. Schroeder is the last of nine followers of David Koresh to be sentenced on charges stemming from the Feb. 28, 1993, raid which left four federal agents and six Davidians dead, including her husband.
She avoided a murder trial by pleading guilty to a reduced charge of forcibly resisting arrest and then testifying against the other defendants at their trial in San Antonio. Eight were convicted and three were acquitted.

Kidnapped woman aided villagers

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Four shrimp boat captains, who were released unharmed from their kidnappers, say Nicaraguan villagers were extremely kind and helpful in their rescue.
A.L. Brown, 60; Timothy Pawley, 39; Ray Bressler, 45; and Charles Ives, 50, work for Gulf King Seafood Co., stationed at Aransas Pass. They were kidnapped Saturday by armed bandits at the Atlantic coastal village near the Honduran border.
All were released unharmed by Tuesday, said Maria Nigro, press counselor for the Nicaraguan Embassy in Washington, D.C.
Nearly 150 village people surrounded the Cabo Gracias a Dios church, where the men were held, and told the kidnappers they would have to shoot the crowd before the hostages, Ives wife, Edith said in Thursday editions of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times.

Officer acted alone
in stealing drugs

BEAUMONT (AP) — A former police officer who admitted stealing 350 pounds of cocaine from a department property room says he sold most of the drugs to two dealers, sources told The Beaumont Enterprise.
Michael Siebe, 43, has pleaded guilty to federal charges that he took the cocaine last year while he worked as the Beaumont police narcotics chief.
Sources who requested anonymity told the newspaper that most of the cocaine was sold to two drug dealers who distributed much of it to customers in Beaumont.
Siebe gave the details to FBI agents Tuesday after entering his guilty plea to a three-count criminal information, the newspaper reported in today's editions.

4 fires
burn
Presidio
County

MARFA (AP) — Four fires in spacious Presidio County in far West Texas stretched the capabilities of firefighters, the Texas Forest Service says.

Presidio County, about 200 miles southeast of El Paso, is Texas' fourth-largest county with 3,856 square miles — more than three times the size of Rhode Island.

One of the fires was at the Cibolo Ranch, about 30 to 40 miles south of Marfa, county seat of Presidio County.

"We're having difficulty getting that one out," Sherry McConnell, a spokeswoman for the forest service, said early today.

A dispatcher for the Presidio County sheriff's office said early today he was uncertain about the status, but knew firefighters were still out after 11 p.m. Thursday.

Presidio County is separated by the Rio Grande from the Mexican border. Big Bend National Park, in Brewster County, reaches almost into Presidio County.

The fires were not near any structures, but one blaze burned more than 2,000 acres and another burned more than 4,000 acres, Ms. McConnell said. She was uncertain of the area burned by the other two fires.

"I imagine they're all from lightning strikes," Ms. McConnell said.

Four major fires and hundreds of smaller blazes burned in West Texas earlier in the week, scorching thousands of acres.

On Tuesday, workers battled and controlled a 750-acre blaze on Eagle Mountain, south of Van Horn, and a 2,000-acre fire in the Sierra Diablo mountains, north of Van Horn.

Van Horn is the county seat of Culberson County, which is home to Texas' highest mountains, and with 3,812 square miles is almost as large as Presidio County. Culberson County lost 9,500 acres to another wildfire last week.

Alamodome
impresses
GOP officials

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Republican officials say they are impressed by the Alamodome, but it's still too early to say whether San Antonio will host the 1996 GOP National Convention.

"We appreciate this world-class facility," Republican National Chairman Haley Barbour said following a Wednesday tour of the dome by the GOP site selection committee.

San Antonio is competing with San Diego, New York, Chicago and New Orleans for the GOP convention.

Barbour said the party is "pleased that we have five serious contenders still in the process. ... We will have to just make the comparisons relative to the other four cities, and that's really the reason that the committee is here, so that we can look on the ground at all of the assets that San Antonio has and compare them to the other four cities."
San Antonio made a $17 million bid for the gathering. The site selection committee chose San Antonio for its first on-site visit.

Police chief on grand jury?
Questions of partiality raised

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Police Chief Henry Garrett has assumed duties that will allow him to look at law enforcement from a different angle for the next six months.

Garrett made his first appearance Thursday as a member of a Nueces County grand jury, a situation that some officials and lawyers say creates the appearance of partiality.

Defense lawyers cried foul and one threatened a challenge while prosecutors say they could find no legal basis to disqualify Garrett from a panel that will evaluate and decide whether to indict criminal cases, including those pieced together by the chief's officers.

Nueces County District Attorney Carlos Valdez said he researched the issue and could find no legal reason to disqualify Garrett. He added that he expects the chief to make a good grand juror. "I think the chief can be fair and impartial," Valdez said. "I think he can look at a case and weed out a bad one."

I think the chief can be fair and impartial. I think he can look at a case and weed out a bad one.

Carlos Valdez

Some lawyers and legal scholars say that the appearance of impropriety should have been enough to keep the chief off the panel.
"If the grand jury is supposed to give independent consideration to the allegations made by law enforcement officers, it would seem to me that seating a member of law enforcement on a grand jury sidesteps the concept of indictment by grand jury," said Ronald L. Goranson, a criminal defense attorney in Dallas and president of the Texas Criminal Defense Lawyers Association.
"The appearance of justice is sometimes as important as justice," Goranson told the Corpus Christi Caller-Times.

Garrett said he hopes his 30 years of experience in law enforcement will be useful during his six months of grand jury service and added that he intends to recuse himself on cases he has knowledge of.

"I want to do what's right, people who know me know that," Garrett said. "If I thought for one minute that it took away from this office or would taint the system, I would have backed down."

Doug Tinker, one of the coastal city's most prominent defense lawyers, said he hasn't researched the legal ramifications, but if it affects his practice, he will.

"If he is on any grand jury that indicts any of my clients, I intend to file a motion and we will see if it is against the law," Tinker said. "Sometimes you have to make law."

Prospective grand jurors in the county are selected at random from the same wheel that selects regular jurors.

More money
approved for building
prisons

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock says speeding up the state's massive prison-building program is what Texans want.

The Legislative Budget Board on Thursday approved another $114.6 million for the construction, a program designed to give the state more than 152,000 prison beds by August 1995. The board had authorized $102.7 million to prisons in April.

Bullock said lawmakers are following through to meet the top concern of Texas citizens.

"That's where the priority of Texas people is," Bullock said.

"I don't believe in government by polls ... but the vast majority of the people that talk to me still rank their safety at home and their place of business as No. 1."

Thursday's action gave the prison-building program $33.4 million from the Treasury's unclaimed money fund, which includes money from dormant bank accounts, and shifts $81.2 million from the state employee group health insurance. Officials said that money had been saved through use of a "managed health care" system.

Another $11.4 million for prison expansion is expected to come from savings within the Texas Department of Criminal Justice itself, officials said.

With state prisons full to capacity and state convicts backing up into crowded county jails, Texas has been on a massive prison expansion program.

From a total of 52,000 beds in 1991, the prison system will grow to more than 152,000 beds by next year.

John Keel, budget board director, said that total would include nearly 99,000 prison beds, 23,270 beds in a new state jail program for nonviolent offenders, 13,000 spaces for inmates being transferred, and 10,600 beds for substance abuse treatment. The final total also includes 6,712 temporary emergency spaces in counties.

The faster building program was ordered by state leaders in January.

Bullock acknowledged that the funding for new prisons was taking money away from other state programs. But he noted that "If we weren't putting the money into prisons, we'd be owing the counties for the (inmate) backlog."

Quote of the Day

"I still believe very much in the American public's right to know." Norman Schwarzkopf U.S. Army general, 1992

We salute!

The Big Spring Herald, each week, recognizes local citizens or groups who have been singled out for special honors or who have helped make a difference in the quality of life in and around our community:

- Brandon McGuire of Coahoma for being named to the All-State baseball second team as a designated hitter and the third team as a pitcher.
• Todd Parrish of Big Spring for being named to the All-State Baseball third team as an outfielder.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the Editorial Board of the Big Spring Herald unless otherwise indicated.

Charles C. Williams Publisher DD Turner Managing Editor

- Barbara Marshall for writing the governor about the kindness shown to her by citizens of Big Spring.
• Kallie Kohls for overcoming the odds and winning the top 4-H "Beating the Odds" award.
• Brandy Keathly for having the initiative to see if eggs really could fry in the 116 degree heat.
• Councilwoman Stephanie Horton and the Big Spring City Council for trying to obtain a grant to put a park in on the Northside which will benefit all.

No fumble at O.J.'s house

The ideal policeman should be stupid and lacking imagination.

That's the impression I get from the questions being asked by O.J. Simpson's high-priced defense lawyers as they try to get bloody evidence tossed out before the trial begins.

Had the police been sufficiently stupid and lacking imagination, this is what they would or would not have done on the night the two bodies were found. They would not have gone to O.J. Simpson's home in the first place. The defense lawyers make going to Simpson's home sound like an act of sneakiness.

Of course, someone who isn't stupid might have said: "This dead woman is O.J. Simpson's ex-wife. Let's go to his house and let Simpson know about the murder, determine if Simpson himself is OK, or see if we can get some information."

Which is what they did. But when they got there and stood outside the wall surrounding the estate, nobody answered the repeated rings of the intercom or the telephone.

Had they been sufficiently dumb, they would have said: "Well, that's that. Nobody answers our ring, so that means nobody's home and everything's OK here, so let's call it a night, get some sleep and come back when the sun comes up. No urgency. All we have is an unsolved, bloody

Now, exactly which crisis did you mean?

By now, I'm sure you've heard of the $10 Tylanol. You're home from the hospital.

Your progress is good. Then, you open your bill. The inflated costs of medical care are no secret. In an unstoppable progression, they've swirled out of control. A family of four would have a bargain if they paid as little as $500 per month for insurance. No wonder Americans are in a tizzy. No wonder Candidate Clinton jumped on the problem when President Bush failed to address it. But does the blame rest with our "greedy" health-care industry, or does the blame reside somewhere else? In 1993, Northwestern Memorial Hospital in Chicago double murder." Instead, one of the cops looked around the corner and found a white Bronco parked near another entrance to the Simpson estate. He looked the car over and found what he thought were bloodstains. He peered inside and saw an envelope addressed to O.J. Simpson and a shovel. From what Simpson's lawyers have been asking, the police reaction should have been something like this: "Found a Bronco that appears to be Simpson's. Might be some bloodstains on it."

"So what?" "I dunno. Those dead bodies - they had been bleeding, right?" "I guess. What does that have to do with anything?" "I dunno. Blood on Simpson's ex-wife's body. Blood on the guy's body. Blood on Simpson's car. Think there could be a connection?" "Don't think so. Some guy at a carwash could have cut himself shaving and dripped on the car."

"Yeah, you're right. Let's go get coffee." But the detectives had lively imaginations. As one of them testified, he didn't know what he was dealing with: possibly a murder-suicide? Could Simpson himself be in there bleeding to death? Is that so bizarre a possibility? Not really, since Simpson later rode around Los Angeles with a gun pointed at his head, apparently threatening to kill himself. Or, the detectives thought, since two people had already been murdered, was it unthinkable that blood on the car meant a killer might be in the mansion doing others in? So one of the detectives climbed over the wall, opened the gate for the others, and they walked to the mansion to see what they could see. Had it been my house, they would not have had to climb over a wall or open a gate since I don't have a wall or gate. They could have gone right up my driveway or across the grass and rapped on the front door. People do it all the time, and I have never thought that my constitutional rights were being violated.

But Simpson's lawyers don't see it that way. They believe that before the cops put one toe on Simpson's property, they should have first found a judge and persuaded him to give them a search warrant.

That, of course, would have taken time. And had they waited for a warrant and then gone in and found somebody dead or bleeding to death, what would the public reaction have been? Everybody would be yelling: "Dummies, why did you waste all that time getting a warrant? You could have saved those lives. Turn in your badges and hire yourselves a lawyer 'cause we'll sue."

By flipping the wall, they wound up finding what they say are drops of blood and a bloody glove that is similar to one at the murder scene.

Does that mean that Simpson is guilty? Of course not. It doesn't mean anything until it is presented to a jury as evidence. Since Simpson and his lawyers say he is not guilty, I will take their word for it. And if they are truthful about his innocence, that means that the drops of blood and the bloody glove will turn out to be meaningless. So why the big deal about having them tossed out as evidence?

And even if the glove and drops of blood turn out to be significant, that doesn't mean that Simpson's situation is hopeless. There is always a chance that a jury will be as dense and witless as Simpson's lawyers want the cops to be. (C) 1994 Tribune Media Services

Killer wildfire still out of control

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A wildfire that killed at least 12 firefighters raged out of control today, creeping closer to an interstate and forcing officials to close one of two west-bound lanes.

Helicopters removed the charred bodies of the dead firefighters Thursday and dropped buckets of water to cool the mountain, while air tankers dumped fire retardant. Authorities planned to resume their search for two missing firefighters at dawn.

The victims were among 52 firefighters trapped on Storm King Mountain five miles west of Glenwood Springs when winds whipped the fire out of control Wednesday. Some survived by using fireproof blankets as shields; one man outraced the flames down the mountain ridge.

Four firefighters were injured. Two were hospitalized in stable condition; two were treated and released. Officials planned an investigation into the tragedy. A spokesman for the Bureau of Land Management said firefighters were surprised by how quickly the wind picked up. "Typically, when winds pick up in speed they are pulled back off the line," said Jay Thompson. "We don't know exactly what happened in this case."

Blood analysis key link in Simpson case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With a preliminary hearing near conclusion, prosecutors must directly link O.J. Simpson to two killings to support holding him for trial. Blood analysis may be their key.

"We're not at the end, but we're getting close," said Loyola University Law School Professor Laurie Levenson. "What they have to put on now is blood typing and the coroner to tell us about the wounds and how the killing took place."

Levenson, a former prosecutor, said the coroner also could link a knife Simpson bought to wounds on his ex-wife and her friend.

"They have put on fairly strong circumstantial evidence," she said. "Now they have to get down to hard physical evidence."

Some of that physical evidence will be allowed even though detectives didn't have a warrant when they found it at Simpson's estate. Municipal Judge Kathleen Kennedy-Powell ruled Thursday.

The defense had sought to bar a bloody right-hand glove found on the estate, blood spots in the driveway and a blood spot on the handle of Simpson's Ford Bronco. A left-hand glove that appeared to match the one found at the estate was recovered at the crime scene.

Simpson, 46, is accused of murdering Nicole Brown Simpson, 35, and Ronald Goldman, 25, on June 12 outside Ms. Simpson's condominium. The preliminary hearing is to determine whether he will stand trial.

U.S. trying to save Haitian policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Clinton administration is struggling to salvage its battered Haiti policy following Panama's surprise withdrawal of an offer to provide safe haven for 10,000 boat people.

White House press secretary Dee Dee Myers, traveling with President Clinton in Europe, said Thursday the administration was disappointed by Panama's reversal. She said discussions would continue with other countries in the region in hopes of establishing safe havens.

Clinton's special adviser on Haiti, William Gray, sought to put the best face on the latest setback to the administration's attempts to restore democracy in Haiti and stanch the flood of boat people fleeing their impoverished and violence-plagued homeland.

"We will continue forward with our policy," Gray said at a news conference Thursday. "We will be able to provide for those that we thought were going to Panama."

"Our efforts to recognize that this is a multinational problem that affects the entire hemisphere will go forward," Gray said.

Settlers protest girl's death

JERUSALEM (AP) — Jewish settlers blocked roads with burning tires and stoned Arab houses today to protest the deaths of a 17-year-old settler girl and an Israeli soldier.

The killings, in separate incidents, were blamed on Islamic militants bent on disrupting Israeli-PLO autonomy negotiations.

Sarit Prigal was killed Thursday in a drive-by shooting while riding in a car near her home in the Kiryat Arba settlement near Hebron, authorities said. Her father and brother were slightly wounded.

The soldier, 20-year-old Arieh Frankenthal, was shot and stabbed to death. His body was found Thursday in an abandoned house in the West Bank village of Akeb, six miles north of Jerusalem.

Dozens of Jewish settlers blocked roads in Jerusalem and at two West Bank locations. Outside the Gush Etzion settlement between Jerusalem and Hebron, cars were backed up as settlers burned tires on the road. Arab cars were stoned near Jericho.

In Hebron — where a Jewish settler from Kiryat Arba killed 29 Muslim worshippers on Feb.

Paramedics attend Sarif Pregel Thursday at the scene of an attack in the occupied West Bank town of Hebron, where Palestinian gunmen opened fire on an Israeli car.

25 — the army imposed a curfew on the city's 80,000 Palestinian residents. Hebron Mayor Mustafa Natche said some Arab houses had been stoned, while other Palestinian reports said settlers shot at houses, wrecked cars and spread salt in vineyards.

No fecal problems, birds can leave

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chickens and turkeys won't leave the slaughterhouse with even the slightest visible trace of fecal contamination under rules proposed by the Agriculture Department.

The rules, once final, would add a critical step in the inspection process to guard against bacterial contamination of birds from their own feces. Inspectors would stop or slow down processing lines temporarily if they see trouble.

Falcons drive away gulls from factory

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Three winged falcons have rescued their automotive namesake from the foul habits of about 10,000 sea gulls.

The falcons, Pella, Peter Gunn and Pagan, were deployed to scare away gulls that had been spending their nights on the roof of Ford Motor Co.'s Australia plant.

Unfortunately for the 300 shiny new Ford Falcons produced each day, the gulls weren't toilet trained.

The falcons were fed so they wouldn't actually attack the gulls, then released from a sanctuary near Melbourne.

NL stars rip Greenwood; IL bows out

By DAVE HARGRAVE
Sports Editor

MIDLAND - If their coach had his way, none of the Big Spring National League All-Stars would have read Thursday's Herald.

Thursday, the NL stars played Greenwood, the same team that lost 21-0 to Midland Tower Tuesday as the Herald reported. The NL stars read that and perhaps felt a bit cocky. Whatever the reason, they fought for their lives before answering a wake-up call on their way to a 23-5 win.

"The first thing I heard tonight were the kids saying, 'Hey, this team lost 21-0,'" said NL coach Jim Clements. "I know they're just kids, but they've got to learn that the game is never over with, that the other team might just take revenge out on us. I think the kids just had the wrong idea when they first got out there."

The NL looked like anything but All-Stars in the first 2 1/2 innings. In the top of the third, three NL errors gave Greenwood a 4-2 lead. Pitcher James Clements committed a two-run error in that inning, but his two-run double in the bottom of the frame tied the game.

The NL completed its rapid turnaround in the fourth. Greenwood's Shelby Fietz smacked a grounder in the hole at short, but NL shortstop Colby Ditto ran hard to his right, backhanded the ball and gunned down Fietz at first. NL third sacker Casey Cowley snagged a line drive from the next batter, then Clements hit the dirt to stop a sharp grounder to the box.

Three sharply hit balls; three outs.

"Ditto in the hole, and then catching those two line drives. That kind of woke us up," coach Clements said.

The NL not only woke up but put the Greenwood fans to sleep with an eight-run inning. Five Greenwood errors and seven NL singles - one each from Ditto, Steven Tilley, Clements, Dustin Baker, Kyle Newton, Adam Hyatt and Dustin Morgan - put the game on ice. The merely lopsided affair became a pure rout when the NL scored 11 runs on seven hits in the fifth.

Clements, the pitcher, responded to his third-inning error in a big way. He relieved starter Toby Molina with two outs in the third and allowed just one run and three hits, and at the plate he was 3-for-5 with a homer, double and three RBIs.

Clements said he put the error out of his mind.

"I was thinking, stay calm and just pitch. Throw strikes and don't worry about it," he said. "I felt great. I just had a lot of fun."

Newton, the NL's catcher, said: "He (Clements) pitched great. I was giving him signals, and we were kind of playing mind games with them. I'd asked for the fastball, and he'd shake it off, and then he'd shake off another one, just to make them kind of wonder."

The win advances the NL to a Saturday 7 p.m. elimination game against the loser of tonight's Odessa Sherwood-Midland Mid-City game.

The Big Spring International All-Stars bowed out of the tournament Thursday, losing 12-2 to Odessa Floyd Gwin. Chris Rios, Blake Gee and Jay Kuykendall doubled for the IL.

Tonight, Big Spring American plays Floyd Gwin, while Coahoma takes on Odessa North Ector. Both elimination games start at 6.

All games are played at Midland's Bluebird Park.

Italians living on the edge at World Cup

They have gone about this World Cup as if they were dancing on the ledge of a skyscraper.

They have played four agonizingly close games. They have withstood the suspension of their goalkeeper and the loss of their captain. Their star attacker went on sabbatical for three games.

They barely made it out of the first round and were nearly bounced out in the next by Nigeria, a prospect that would have been tantamount to heresy back home.

Apparently, this is how it must be. They are Italians, and this is soccer Italian style.

"Our strength is our heart," defender Paolo Maldini says.

The heart gets another test of strength Saturday. Italy, a three-time champion, faces Spain in the quarterfinals at Foxboro, Mass. In the other quarterfinal that day, Brazil, the only non-European team in the final eight, plays the Netherlands in Dallas.

On Sunday, defending champion Germany plays Bulgaria at East Rutherford, N.J., and Romania takes on Sweden in Stanford, Calif.

The Spaniards are certain to make Saturday's game another test of defensive wills. They likely will go with only one attacker up front, ready to pounce on the slightest mistake.

"Our destiny, in this World Cup, is to play opponents who just wait for our moves, to possibly strike back," Italian midfielder Demetrio Albertini said.

The Italians face a critical decision. Their top goalkeeper, Gianluca Pagliuca, is eligible to return following his two-game suspension for handling a ball outside the penalty area. His replacement, Luca Marchegiani, has played well.

Then there is the front line, and talk that forward Giuseppe Signori, the leading scorer in the Italian League for two straight seasons, may be dropped from the starting lineup. He was replaced in the second half against Nigeria.

"I would be surprised, if I'm left out," he said. "I'm fit, rested, ready to play."

And dance on the ledge again.

FISHING

Fishing conditions were relatively unchanged at Lake Ivie where the holidays produced more camping and boating.

It was much the same at Lake Thomas, where there was a big turnout Saturday, with the holiday activities diminishing crowds the following two days. Black bass catches, however, did pick up with one at 8 lbs., and several in the 4-5 lb. category. Best results were off rock points or in deep water. White bass were biting fairly well off brush areas and for trollers.

Lake Ivie water was 81.2 degrees surface, 64 bottom, and clear except for murky in upper channels.

There were plenty of 1-15 bass, early and late off shorelines with minnows, spinners and cranks best baits. Keepers (18-in. or more) moved to 20-30 ft. of water and plastic worms still were best bait.

White bass were being taken by trollers in open water while slabbing, and depths were 15-25 ft. However, some were being reeled in while surface feeding on shad. Crappie were not biting much, and when they did it was in 25 to 40 ft. of water along brushy areas and up-river channels with minnow bait. Channel catfish were taking stink bait, worms and minnows, and yellow catfish seemed to prefer live bait in the main lake and midway up-river.

PAINT CREEK MARINA - J.B. Welborn, Odessa, reeled in a 7-1/2-lb. striper trolling; Julia Hagood, Kermit, 3-1/2-lb. black bass on bass A minnow; Wayne Workman, and Buzz Johnson, Odessa, seven stripers trolling and using Hellbinders, total 21 lbs.

WILDCAT MARINA - Brandon Parker, Odessa, 3-lb. black bass on plastic worm; W.E. Sims, Abilene, 13-3/4 striper using live shad; Craig and Cliff Kiker, Odessa, 10-lb. striper on live shad.

BOTTOM OF THE ORDER

Texas tames Tribe;
Astros beat Cubs

Ivan Rodriguez (7) of the Texas Rangers flies toward second base too late to beat the force put on by Cleveland Indian shortstop Omar Vizquel Thursday.

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Texas' Dean Palmer already had hit one homer off Cleveland starter Charles Nagy when he came up in the fifth inning of a tie game and runners on second and third.

Loading the bases intentionally isn't generally a good idea, but it may have been a better idea than letting the hot-hitting Palmer swing away.

Indians manager Mike Hargrove figured to let Nagy go for the out. He got the count to 1-1, then Palmer sent a hanging slider 438 feet into the center field seats to power the Rangers to a 6-4 victory Thursday night.

Since June 18, Palmer has hit two homers in a game three times and has 11 homers in those 18 games. He's hit 17 homers and driven in 49 runs for the season.

His batting average also has skyrocketed recently, going from .229 on June 24 to .268 following Thursday's 3-for-4 game.

Making his hot streak even more impressive is the fact so many hits have come in the clutch. Eight of his last nine homers have tied a game or given Texas the lead.

His first big moment came in the fourth when Texas was trailing 2-0 and Nagy (7-5) seemed a bit shaky, having just walked his first batter.

Palmer stepped in and tied the game with a shot that barely cleared the 14-foot wall in left.

Palmer's big night benefited Texas starter Tim Leary, a retread who was at Montreal's Class AAA Omaha until asking for his release June 4.

Leary (1-0) responded with 5 2/3 solid innings, giving up eight hits, four runs and two walks.

The Rangers almost threw away Leary's victory with two out in the ninth as Cleveland loaded the bases on a strange-hop bouncer by Carlos Baerga, a walk to Albert Belle and a passed ball on an Eddie Murray strikeout.

But Rangers closer Tom Henke regained his composure and struck out Jim Thome for his ninth save.

Astros 9, Cubs 3

CHICAGO (AP) — As the Houston Astros were riding to Wrigley Field, a car ran a stoplight near the stadium and struck the team bus, forcing the players to hoof it the final two blocks.

No one was hurt in the minor mishap Thursday, but after the way they played against the Chicago Cubs, the Astros may want to walk to work more often.

Steve Finley and Scott Servais, who homered, had three hits apiece for Houston. The Cubs, meanwhile, fell to a season-low 15 games under .500, a depth not reached since July 1990, when they were 16 under.

Darryl Kile (6-3) won for the first time in four career decisions against the Cubs. He gave up seven hits in six innings and was backed by four double plays in the first five innings.

Chicago's Willie Banks (8-7) lasted only 5 1/3 innings, giving up 12 hits and seven runs.

Kohl wins awards for chaplain service

By JANET AUSBURY
Features Editor

Carroll Kohl, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church, is a busy man.

In addition to his duties at the church, he is also chaplain at the VA Medical Center and vice president of the Texas District, Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

The weekend of June 24-26, Kohl was rewarded for a job well done. At a convention of the Synod in Galveston, he received awards from the Armed Services Commission and the Lutheran Social Services of Texas for his 20 years of service to the VA.

"It was very exciting to me," he said. "It was an honor."

Each church has an organization responsible for its military chaplains, said Kohl. The Armed Services Commission, based in Washington, D.C., oversees the appointment of Lutheran chaplains to the military and the VA. Kohl received the Commission's St. Martin of Tours Medallion.

The significance of the medallion, explained Kohl, is that St. Martin was the first military chaplain, circa the third or fourth century A.D. The term "chaplain" comes from a word meaning "coat." St. Martin was known to give his coat to freezing or dying soldiers.

Kohl also received a plaque and pin from Lutheran Social Services of Texas, which directs Lutheran chaplain services in the state, in honor of his two decades as a VA chaplain. In addition, he was elected to his third three-year term as vice president of the Synod's Texas district.

He described the vice president position as similar to a bishop or overseer for his area, which encompasses nearly all of Texas west of Fort Worth. He spends 20 to 25 days a year at Synod headquarters in Austin as one of the Synod's board of directors.

When not in Austin, he has no trouble keeping himself occupied with his many duties in Big Spring. "I don't sit at home a lot," Kohl quipped. "It keeps me off the streets."

Senior Center dances change

By KELLIE JONES
Staff Writer

For the past 14 years, senior citizens from Big Spring and surrounding towns have been two-stepping, waltzing and Cotton-Eyed Joeing at the Spring City Senior Center.

During the last year, the center has been holding the dances on both Friday and Saturday nights, but that has recently changed.

"A couple of weeks ago, we decided to go back to just having the dances on Fridays. There wasn't enough participation to have the dances both nights. People were going out of town to dances at other senior centers and the attendance was down," said Norma Cherry, secretary for the center.

The price of admittance has also changed from $3 to $4 per person. Center director Bobbie Leonard explained why. "We changed the price when we went back to having the dances just on Fridays. We have to make money to keep it open and help with expenses. We have also seen high utility bills lately."

The dances are 8-11 p.m. Fridays at the center located in Industrial Park. "Super Six" is a local band made up of senior citizens who provide live music for the country and western dance.

"I think it's very important to have these dances. The seniors love to get out and have fellowship and exercise. We are all very active and some of their doctors have told them that dancing is the best exercise they can do," added Leonard.

There have been some other changes at the senior center because of the summer months. The dance classes that were offered on Wednesdays have been canceled for the summer. Leonard said this is because so many of their members take vacations and they hope to start the classes up again in the fall.

Also the "Hot Potato Band" has disbanded for the summer and will not have practice on Tuesday mornings. "This is also because it's summer and many people are out of town at this time," Leonard explained.

Jesus Christ declared our independence

By ROYCE CLAY
14th and Main Church of Christ

On the eve of signing the Declaration of Independence, John Adams wrote in a letter to his wife, "It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bonfires and illumination from one end of this Continent to the other from this time forward forever more."

In keeping with the prediction of this great statesman, Independence Day, celebrated last Monday, was observed with a parade down Highland, and illuminations (fireworks) from South Mountain.

Living just in front of the mountain, we had a lawn party with about a hundred people. It was an enjoyable evening. I trust that while enjoying the holiday we did not lose sight of its significance. We live in a great country! A free country!

In keeping with the spirit of the holiday week, I would like to share with you a poem which has been titled "The Christian's Declaration of Independence."

Over two hundred years ago a document was signed,
The purpose of which was to produce liberty-yours and mine.
And little did those men realize that their signatures would give birth

To a nation strong and mighty, the greatest land on earth.
And though I don't agree with, nor understand all the things I see I'm grateful that our nation is one of liberty.

CHURCH IN BRIEF

College Park Church of God

College Park Church of God is presenting a Sunday school program 9:30-10:45 a.m., July 10-August 28 at 603 Tulane.

The church will be turned into a "Bible Times Village" featuring Bible study, Hebrew songs and skits.

Parents and grandparents are invited to attend along with children. An early morning snack will be provided before classes begin.

St. Thomas Parish

St. Thomas Parish will have a mid-summer festival 10:30 a.m. Friday, July 15, and 11:30 a.m. Saturday, July 16, at Sixth and N. Main St.

Dinner and supper Saturday starting 11:30 a.m. Outside there will be booths, games, snacks, drinks and prizes.

But you know, two thousand years ago a more important pact was signed

It gave to all men everywhere a chance that's yours and mine

For on a cross, between two thieves, hung God's beloved Son

And the document that Jesus wrought was signed in his own blood.

And while our nation's document brings pride to Americans still

The document my Savior signed was addressed to "whosoever will."

So as we think upon our land, and upon our national celebration

Let us also praise and thank the Lord for his rich and great salvation.

And, if by chance you've never tasted peace at Jesus's expense

Accept the Savior and affix your name to God's Declaration of Independence.

In John 8:32 Jesus said, "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

Those who heard his words replied that they were Abraham's seed and had never been in bondage to any man.

Jesus explained, "If the Son shall make you free ye shall be free indeed." Of the 56 who signed the Declaration, five were captured and tortured before they died. Nine of the 56 died in the war. Our freedom was secured with, as John Adams said, "toil and blood and treasure." Even so the freedom we enjoy through Christ was secured with the blood of the Christ. Christ died for you! Christ died for me!

In Romans Paul referred to the freedom which the Roman Christians enjoyed saying, "But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin, but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you. Being then made free from sin ye became servants of righteousness."

It was, and continues to be, at the point of obedience to the teachings of Christ, that one is freed from sin. What was the form of doctrine or teaching of Jesus? Earlier in the same chapter of Romans Paul provides for us the answer.

"Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death; that like as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life."

In baptism, for the believer, the shackles of sin are removed. From baptism one rises to a new life, a life of freedom.

As an American you are enjoying the freedom proclaimed in the Declaration of Independence signed 218 years ago. Are you also enjoying freedom in Christ?

Englishman offers insights into religion in America

By TERRY MATTINGLY
Scripps Howard News Service

It's easier for visitors to spot a land's true gods.

While visiting the United States, British theologian Tom Wright found himself staring in disbelief at three bumper stickers on the car in front of him.

One said, "China has gun control." This baffled him until he read the next sticker: "A man with a gun is a citizen. A man without a gun is a subject." Finally, the third said, "Life is fragile; handle with prayer."

How symbolic, thought Wright. Whether the driver meant to or not, the third bumper sticker offered a "sad little protest" against the other two.

"We now live in a world where personal violence, often completely gratuitous, has become a way of life for many, and hence a way of death for many," said the dean of Lichfield Cathedral. "Our culture has worshiped at the shrine of ... the god Mars, the ancient and very modern god of war."

Because of the New Age movement, many church leaders — especially conservatives — have sounded warning sirens about the popularity of various gods and goddesses, said the former Oxford professor, in a U.S. lecture called "The New Paganisms."

That's fine, but they also need to bash their own pagan altars.

Violence and power, symbolized by Mars, is often a god of the political and theological right, Wright said. Another is the almighty dollar, or the god of Mammon. One plug for credit cards even shows the globes of the Mastercard logo held by hands in a praying position. The slogan, "You've got the whole world in your hands," twists the message of an old gospel song.

"Who was it who had the whole world in his hands? God, of course," Wright noted.

"Just eat this," said the serpent, "and you will be like gods, knowing good and evil." "Just use this card," says that advertisement, "and you will be like gods, knowing credit and debit."

The left embraces other gods. Wright said most of the people he counsels are burned-out disciples of the goddess of erotic love. It's easy to hear Aphrodite's call in popular entertainment or in an airport advertisement for condoms that says, "Going far?"

Today, more and more churches are being shaken by conflicts between Aphrodite's followers and those who defend traditional teachings about marriage, he said.

Cross crusade stops with founder's death

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—The Rev. Bernard Coffindaffer saw his campaign to erect trios of blue and gold crosses along busy highways as a one-man crusade for Jesus.

It was. When Coffindaffer died of heart failure at the age of 68 last October, his cross campaign went with him, said his secretary, Sharon Clendenin.

"He would have liked to have it continue. But he also knew he was out of money," Clendenin said.

The colorful businessman-turned-evangelist spent his life's savings and devoted his final nine years to the crosses, which overlook roadsides in 29 states and in two foreign countries.

No one has offered to take over his mission.

"We get a few letters and received one donation for $100. That's about it," said Clendenin, who handles the affairs of Coffindaffer's now-defunct nonprofit company, Cast Thy Bread Inc. of Craigsville, about 50 miles east of Charleston.

Coffindaffer came up with the idea during a trip to Israel, when he said God commanded him to erect the crosses.

The 20-foot crosses, made from California Douglas fir, symbolize Christ on the cross, flanked by the two thieves who were crucified with him.

Coffindaffer asked landowners to donate land for the crosses, which were built to be clearly seen from busy roads. Coffindaffer took care of the rest.

The first set was planted in 1984 on Interstate 79 near Flatwoods, about 65 miles north of Charleston.

At its peak, the project had seven full-time work crews.

They blanketed West Virginia's interstates and back roads with more than 300 sets of crosses, and placed large numbers throughout the South, said Clendenin. In all, about 1,900 clusters appear in 29 Eastern and Southern states, Zambia and the Philippines.

"We've put crosses in some of the most fantastic places you've ever heard of," Coffindaffer said just three days before his death.

When he died, however, he left few instructions and even fewer dollars for his followers.

"He never did say what he wanted. Although I'm sure if there were money, he'd keep it going. He was very proud of what he did," said his brother, Cecil Coffindaffer of Cottle.

The few requests for crosses since Coffindaffer's death have been turned down, said Clendenin. Just maintaining them could be a problem.

The Rev. Bernard Coffindaffer, an evangelistic minister who made it his life's work to erect clusters of three crosses along highways in many Eastern states, left behind the project when he died last October. Coffindaffer, shown in a 1989 file photo, was 68. So far, no one has offered to continue his mission.

People on a mission

Baylor University research scientist Bob Adams and his wife, Janice, are shown July 1 in a lab at the university in Waco. Both travel the world mixing science and religion. Sometimes they go on a scientific trip and do mission work, and other times he goes on a mission trip and does scientific research.

Doing good works one project at a time

By ANDREW L. KILPATRICK
Waco Tribune-Herald

WACO, Texas — Sometimes Bob Adams goes on a scientific trip and does mission work, and other times he goes on a mission trip and does scientific work.

But wherever Adams, a research scientist at Baylor University, and his wife Janice, go, they see themselves as people on a mission.

"That is why I like to put it that we are people on a mission," Mrs. Adams said.

China, Spain, Zambia, Canada, Utah, England are just a few of the places they have gone to either to work with with Christians or to do research. Adams, a botanist, recently returned from Mongolia, where he was the guest of the Mongolian National Academy of Science, and both will go to New Zealand later this year to work with three churches there.

The Adamases, who have lived in Waco since December 1986 and are members of Brazos Meadows Baptist Church in Hewitt, are representative of a growing number of people who volunteer for short-term mission projects.

When the Adamases volunteer to go overseas to work with churches, they go through the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board which sent more than 10,000 volunteers last year on short-term assignments.

Adams thinks volunteer missionaries have a roll in Christian ministry overseas.

"Particularly in developing countries, if an American comes and pays his way and they say 'who sent you,' and you say 'no one,' people will listen to you because you spent your own money and took your vacation time," Adams said.

Mrs. Adams said the short-term missionaries often have a specific task to do when they go and that they can assist career missionaries and churches in the countries where they go.

The Adamases often train leaders or lead Bible studies in churches.

But Adams also goes overseas to do research and he is always looking for opportunities to tell people about his faith when he does so. Mrs. Adams often goes along and works with churches or teaches while her husband works.

Adams is studying junipers — or cedar trees — around the world and is also involved in collecting DNA samples of endangered plants.

One reason for studying the 60 different types of junipers is they are known to have anticancer compounds, Adams said. By studying the whole family of junipers, it may be possible to find a better anticancer compound in one of the other plants.

About 10 years ago, the study of junipers turned from the Western Hemisphere to the Eastern Hemisphere, and Adams found himself knocking at the door of countries in the East that have been closed to Christianity and outsiders.

His influence as a scientist allows him to get into countries and establish contact with leaders. He is able to introduce them to Christians who are willing to come in and offer a service such as teaching English.

"It is an excellent way to introduce our people to the government and give them credibility," he said, noting that people in other countries are often unsure of the motives that their visitors have.

HOROSCOPE

FOR SATURDAY, JULY 9, 1994
ARIES (March 21-April 19): Listen to your intuition about a family member. Touch base with another. Don't let extremes get to you. Listen more carefully to an authority figure. Tonight: Lighten up and have a good time. ****
TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Communications are active, and there is a radical change in plans. The more connected you are, the better your choices and the happier you will be. Listen to your intuition. You can connect deeply with a loved one. Tonight: Home is your castle. *****
GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Express your feelings. The more creative you are about what's happening, the better off you will be. Touch base with another. Eliminate the unnecessary. Communications flow and lead you in a new direction. Tonight: Visit with friends. ****
CANCER (June 21-July 22): You flourish in the daytime hours. Others understand where you are coming from. Prepare to handle a situation in a more effective and positive manner. Tonight: It's your turn. *****
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Center and think about recent changes in your life. A family member gives you powerful feedback and allows you to gain perspective. Be upbeat about your options, create positive changes and follow your instincts. Tonight: Be your sunny self. ***
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Exciting events come forward. You are more focused on what's going on, what it is you want and where you heading. Touch base with desires and create a plan to make a dream a reality. Join friends in the daytime. Tonight: Vanish with the one you love. ****
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You are in a pressure cooker, and you cannot seem to get things together. Be more sensitive and aware of the options around you. Expenditures could be heavy, but you come out ahead. A family member causes uproar. Tonight: Ask for what you need. ***

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Unexpected events have you going in different directions. Be willing to discuss feelings in a new way. Creativity is high, as is your understanding. Don't stand on ceremony. What's important is to reach out for another. Tonight: Entertain at home. ****
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Venture out and try something in a different way. Focus on where you are heading. As you open up to changes, you're more aware of your potential as well as your possibilities. Tonight: Dance up a storm. ****
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Difficulties surround you, yet you come out on top. Be aware of a situation that impacts your day-to-day life. A partner or loved one wants additional attention. Your attitude could cause some problems. Tonight: Look to the positive. *****
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You are getting much better at handling a problematic situation. One-to-one relating makes you happy. Opportunities for mutuality open you up and permit you to discuss a situation differently. Maximize another's interest. Tonight: Out and about. ****

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You perceive a friendship differently. Reach out for another. Allow more nurturing in you day-to-day life. Excitement and surprises surround your day. Tonight: Get a good night's sleep.
IF YOUR BIRTHDAY IS JULY 9, 1994: Money matters will be highlighted in the year ahead. Partners might be difficult because they don't agree with you or your approach. The more creative you are, the happier you'll be with the results. Allow yourself to open new doors and be more positive. The Asterisks Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult.

Widow's lonely heart aches for love

DEAR ABBY: I am a 79-year-old widow. I have been alone for 17 years, with no love or help from anyone. I was doing all right and was fairly content until I fell ill and was hospitalized. This led to my retirement at age 75. Now I feel like a discarded puppy left out on a road all by myself. I am under a doctor's care, but pills can't cure my loneliness and yearning for love.

Abigail Van Buren
Columnist

I could move to the state where my daughter and her family live, but I'm sure they're too busy to spend much time with me, so I would have to live alone. Besides, I was born and raised here, and have some good friends and neighbors. Here, at least, I have someone to talk with. If I moved, I would be with strangers. (I don't need a nursing home yet.)

Abby, I have called around trying to be put in touch with a homeless person who would appreciate a home — but no luck. I am not a complainer and try to put on a happy face for my friends. Where can I find a good Christian person who needs a home and a good friend?

Please don't use my name. I don't want sympathy — just someone to help and love. I can't stand this loneliness much longer. — LONELY IN BLOOMINGTON, ILL.

DEAR LONELY: You appear to be a loving and generous person, but taking a stranger into your home out of need for companionship and love is extremely risky.

Since you have good friends and neighbors and have enjoyed your independence for 17 years, please consider discussing your feelings of depression and loneliness with your doctor.

and You Could Win
a FREE classified ad!
Here's How You Play....
1. The first person who brings in a garage sale for the week, will be given a certificate for a FREE classified ad.
2. Each treasure hunter must find the certificate, by going to each of the week's garage sales listed in the classified section. You then must ask the person having the garage sale, "DO YOU HAVE THE TREASURE HUNT CERTIFICATE?"
3. If you find the certificate, you must bring it into the Big Spring Herald Classified Department for your free ad. Must be received within 30 days of date on certificate.
