Ruling could benefit Wallace

By KELLIE JONES
Staff Writer

A recent decision by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals concerning sheriffs hiring and firing rights is seen as a positive sign for former Howard County sheriff's deputy Jimmy Wallace and his attorney, Cindy Weir-Ervin.

"The Fifth Circuit did find a sheriff cannot terminate someone because they do not belong to the same political ideas as the sheriff. The case is from Reeves County and some deputies were fired after the new sheriff was elected. There were only inferences that he was letting them go because they supported the former sheriff."

"However, Sheriff Standard did say one of the reasons he let Wallace go was because my client was running against him and the court says you cannot do that," explained Ervin.

In a March 1992 article, it stated Standard said Wallace's candidacy was a conflict of interest. Wallace was forced to take administrative leave without pay the day he filed for the Democratic nomination in January 1992 to run against Standard.

The two met after the primary election to discuss Wallace's job status and during one meeting, they agreed to meet again but Wallace did not return within the next week. He maintains he was, in effect, fired from his $25,416 a year job. Standard had stated on the night of his victory in March 1992, the door was open for negotiation.

"We are seeking back pay, attorney's fees and front pay. He may want to be reinstated if he can return to a non-harassing environment. Right now, it would be very difficult to go back. His family has been harassed as well. Sheriff Standard made it very clear that my client has been terminated,"

Alliance could put Stenholm in Speaker's seat

LONGVIEW (AP) — Conservative Democrats are considering an alliance with Republicans that could result in the elevation of a West Texas Democrat, Rep. Charles Stenholm, as the next Speaker of the House.

U.S. Rep. Ralph Hall of Rockwall says he isn't the only Democrat unhappy with the liberal and moderate direction provided by the Democratic leadership in recent years.

"I've said for over a year I intend to vote for Charlie Stenholm for Speaker if we could get the opportunity," Hall told the Longview News-Journal.

"I don't know how many dissident Democrats there are up here, but there are quite a few who don't like the direction the Democratic leadership is headed," he said. Hall noted an attempt by liberal Democrats to remove him as chairman of the House Space Subcommittee.

"It leaves me free to vote for anyone I want to," he said. Hall also referred to the leadership's treatment of then-Democratic Rep. Phil Gramm.

"They took Gramm off of (the) Budget (Committee) and mistreated him and elected him to the U.S. Senate," he said. Hall referred to the early years of the first Reagan administration, when Stenholm was chairman of a conservative Democratic group known as the Conservative Democratic Forum, better known as the "Boll Weevils."

As a member of the Boll Weevils, Gramm was the Democratic sponsor of the administration's budget legislation, which became known as the Gramm-Latta bill, while another Texan in the coalition, Kent Hance, was the Democratic sponsor of the administration's tax legislation.

the Hance-Conable bill. To the chagrin of moderate and liberal Democrats, the combined support of Republicans and the Conservative Democratic Forum succeeded in passing both major pieces of Reagan's legislative package.

To punish Gramm, whom Democrats accused of meeting with Republicans and revealing Democratic strategy, the leadership booted him off the prestigious Budget Committee.

Gramm responded by resigning his seat in Congress, changing parties, and then winning a special election as a Republican. Gramm then won election to the U.S. Senate in 1984 when Sen. John Tower decided not to run again. Now, Gramm is mulling a run for the presidency in 1996.

Stenholm confirmed that a conservative coalition of House Democrats and Republicans has been discussed.

"There's a lot of things going on, but I'm not ready to speak about them. First, you have to get elected," said Stenholm, who is from Stamford, about 50 miles northeast of Abilene.

His Republican opponent is Phil Boone of Abilene. Dawn Cole, a spokeswoman for Boone, said Democrats are just trying to distance themselves from President Clinton.

"It's an anchor around the neck of any southern Democrat in a conservative district," Ms. Cole said. "I don't think it's going to be a tactic that works well with the voters."

Hall played down the significance of recent discussions, which he said have been mainly

Week promotes understanding of mental illness

By CARLTON JOHNSON
Staff Writer

Today marks the beginning of National Mental Illness Awareness Week. Joining a nationwide coalition of other mental health professionals, advocacy organizations, patients, families, and the U.S. Congress will be the Big Spring State Hospital.

Shannon Nabors, manager of the Howard County Mental Health Center, said, "We want to draw the attention of people in Big Spring to the needless suffering of millions of Americans - many of them friends and neighbors - who have treatable mental illnesses. Our message, 'treatment works,' expresses the good news about mental illness diagnosis."

According to Lisa Brooks, volunteer coordinator and public information officer for Big Spring State Hospital Community Services, a recent study issued by the National Advisory Mental Health Council gives evidence that treatment of mental illness is as effective, and sometimes more, as that for other illnesses.

The NAMHC also reports that during any six-month period, 27 million American adults over age 18 and 12 million children suffer from a diagnosable illness, and one in three Americans will experience a mental illness at some point in their lives. Of these, only one in five currently seeks appropriate help - many times because of self-imposed silence about the problems.

Locally, psychiatrists and other mental health specialists will join the rest of the nation to talk about mental illnesses and their treatment at health fairs, school lectures, awareness rallies, and other special events, including a community forum.

On Tuesday, the Howard County Mental Health Center is sponsoring a Community Forum entitled, "Mental Illness: A Family Point of View," at 7 p.m. in the Tumbleweed Room at Howard College. The forum is free to the public and according to Brooks is a worthwhile and informative event for people to attend because some stigmas and misconceptions still exist about mental illness.

Mental Illness Awareness Week is established annually through a joint resolution passed by both houses of Congress and signed into law by the president.

Center hub of outpatient services for state hospital

By CARLTON JOHNSON
Staff Writer

With Oct. 2-8 designated as National Mental Illness Awareness Week, mental health advocates, professionals, patients, and families have an opportunity to answer questions and dispel many lingering misconceptions about mental illness.

The Howard County Mental Health Center is the nerve center of outpatient community services for the Big Spring State Hospital and one of 15 centers - and the largest - in the 23 county area served by the BSSH.

State law requires each Texas county to have a mental health authority and counties with populations under 200,000 fall under the jurisdiction of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

TXMHMR was founded in 1965 and currently has an annual budget for fiscal year 1995 of approximately $1.6 billion and employs more than 29,000 people.

ple, making it the state's largest agency.

It operates eight state hospitals for individuals with mental illness and one mental health center for youth: Austin, Big Spring, Kerrville, Rusk, San Antonio, Terrell, Vernon, and Wichita Falls, with the Waco Center for Youth serving persons 10 to 17 years old.

These nine mental health facilities provide a variety of community outreach programs as well as bed, board, education, training, rehabilitation, health care and recreation.

The total average daily census of persons with mental illness and emotional problems for these nine facilities in 1993 was 3,081, with an annual admission rate of over 15,000.

The average daily cost for the hospitalization of an individual is $190.04.

Community MHMR centers contract with TXMHMR to provide mental health core services such as 24-hour Emergency Screening and Crisis Stabilization Services, Community-Based Residential Service or Hospitalization, Community-Based Assessments, Family Support Services, Case Management Services, Medication-Related Services and Psychological Rehabilitation Services.

Statistics show that Texas ranks 46th among states in expenditures for mental health services.

In 1993, there were 40 million Americans - about one of every seven people - with some form of mental illness, 28 million adults and 12 million children. This includes 2.6 million Texans - more than one of every seven people - with some form of mental illness.

TXMHMR data shows that personal and social costs of mental illnesses are similar to those for heart disease and cancer. The costs of mental illness in Texas, private and public sector, are estimated to be approximately $20 billion a year in direct treatment, productivity loss and other health costs.

A snip here, cut there all for breast cancer research

By CARLTON JOHNSON
Staff Writer

Thousands of stylists at Regis Hairstylists in Great Britain and the U.S., including stylists in Big Spring Mall, are sharpening their shears for the fourth annual "Clip for the Cure" Saturday.

In the past three years, stylists have raised $800,000 for breast cancer research and plan to hit their million-dollar goal this year. In addition to money raised from the $10 haircuts, 10 percent of all Regis product sales made between Oct. 1-8 will be donated to breast cancer research.

Sandra Johnson, local Regis Hairstylists manager, said, "The purpose of the 'Clip for the Cure' is to increase breast cancer awareness and raise money for research programs. Our stylists are truly committed to this event because breast cancer affects so many women, and the majority of our clients and co-workers are women."

"We're especially excited about this year's event. We want to pass the million-dollar mark, but we need everyone to come out and get a haircut to help us reach that goal."

Regis Hairstylists is a division of Regis Corporation, which has been in the hair fashion business for more than 70 years and is the largest owner of mall-based hair fashion salons in the world, operating approximately 1,500 salons throughout the U.S., Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, and the United Kingdom.

Proceeds from the event benefit the Regis Foundation for Breast Cancer Research, established in 1993 so proceeds from the fund-raiser could be distributed on an international basis.

Regis will continue to support the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation in Dallas, which is the largest source of private funding for breast cancer research in the U.S., as well as the Canadian Breast Cancer Foundation in Canada.

Anita Kunin, creator of the foundation and wife of Regis chairman Myron Kunin and a breast cancer survivor also, is committed to increasing breast cancer awareness, and has been instrumental in helping design a pilot program for Minnesota which provides underinsured or uninsured women with follow-up breast cancer diagnostic procedures.

Regis also makes women aware of the following facts:

•The mortality rate for breast cancer would be reduced by 30 percent if every woman over age 50 received a yearly mammogram.

•When breast cancer is detected in the early stages, 94 percent of those diagnosed will still be alive in five years.

•More than 1.7 million women with a history of breast cancer are alive today because of early detection.

•Education and early detection save lives.

Paul Finkelstein, president of Regis Corporation said, "The purpose of the 'Clip for the Cure' is to increase breast cancer awareness and raise money for research programs. Breast cancer is the number-one health concern for women in America, and the vast majority of Regis' 15,000 stylists and 22 million customers are women."

"Our company is definitely concerned with women's health issues, and our million-dollar contribution demonstrates how strongly we are committed to this cause. With health-care reform at the forefront of national debate, we believe our fund-raising efforts will positively impact the attention women's health issues receive."

New medical evidence could help Dorton's suit

By KELLIE JONES
Staff Writer

Former Big Spring Fire Chief Carl Dorton and his attorney continue to seek disability benefits from the local firemen's retirement fund.

Cindy Weir-Ervin, Dorton's lawyer, says she was not surprised the local board denied his benefits during their last meeting in August.

According to Ervin, Dorton injured his back while working as a firefighter and had to have several surgeries and physical therapy. Dorton then accepted the position of the Howard County 911 Coordinator and asked the Big Spring Firemen's Relief and Retirement Fund for disability retirement.

"We had a hearing before the Firemen's Pension Board in Austin and we were given no relief. The commissioner, Helen Campbell, remanded the case to the local level for medical evidence to be given that Dorton could not perform his duties."

"The local board is not impartial because my client took adverse action against some people so they denied his benefits. They stated he didn't meet the qualifications for disability benefits. Now that we have the medical evidence to prove he was injured on the job, that will be taken back to Campbell and we are confident she will rule in our favor," Ervin stated.

She continued, "what is ironic in this case is that while my client was fire chief, there was no written job description but after he resigned there was one. It is unique to this area because most places don't include any physical demands but there are in Big Spring now."

Ervin says they are now waiting to hear from Campbell to find out when another hearing will be for the medical evidence to be presented.

In a previous article, local board chairman Paul Brown stated they voted six to one to deny his benefits because there was not enough evidence to meet the requirements for disability. Brown also stated Dorton put in his resignation then filed for the benefits before he actually left the department.

Help needed to solve theft of horse trailer, tack

The Howard County Sheriff's Department is asking for the public's help in locating a stolen horse trailer and tack stolen from a location on South Highway 87.

The horse trailer was shop made, white and blue in color, has a tandem axle with brown colored bumper pads and a short black colored rubber mat inside the trailer. Also taken from the tack room was the following:

- eight saddle blankets - three are Navajo style, one is blue and another is string-type.
- two Longhorn saddles
- one Oliver saddle
- two Trammel sets of bridles and bits with "Scott" marked on them
- three 30-foot roping ropes
- one khaki colored rope carry-

Nursing home has a lot to prove to state, residents

People left lying in their fecal matter; no comprehensive assessment of medical needs; no review of plans to provide acceptable care of patients; the most basic of needs not provided to residents.

These are just some of the discrepancies found at Comanche Trail Nursing Home when the Texas Department of Health conducted a survey there.

What is surprising is that TDH didn't shut down the nursing home immediately, given the number of problems and a prior investigation which revealed similar discrepancies in August 1992.

A judge in Fort Worth recently ordered Total Home Kare of Arlington shut down simply because three of four residents were receiving poor care. This facility was operating without a state license, but it does make you wonder how bad it has to get in one of these places before harsher steps are taken than threatening Medicare benefits.

After all, these people are paying for what they assume will be good care, whether through their own insurance or through Medicare. It simply should be there.

While a shortage in nurses and qualified care givers, along with overwork and long hours, can explain some of the problems, it can't explain away the perception of an uncaring attitude and lack of respect.

There is an even more basic issue here, one that strikes at the heart of the problem: human dignity.

It seems the concept of human dignity is going straight down the toilet along with respect, not just for elderly people who have given to this society, but to those who are giving now or will be giving in the future.

While it is understandable there may, at times, be lapses, what you don't expect are conditions dating back to the old days when institutions were more like prisons, extremely inhumane in their treatment of residents.

Certainly these problems are not representative all nursing homes in the state but they end up giving a bad name to the nursing home field.

This lack of care is not what is expected from our health care facilities. It is not what we want when loved ones are put into long-term care.

Comanche Trail Nursing Home has 23 days to prove to the state why it should keep its Medicare benefits. In that time, it must prove itself to an even more important group of judges: those whose mothers, brothers, grandparents or friends are residents there. And, to the residents themselves.

U.S. policy in Haiti often contradictory and tentative

AP NEWS ANALYSIS

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — The actions of the 20,000-member American military force in Haiti in the face of rising violence have been subdued and the policy behind that force tentative and contradictory.

The U.S. Embassy here encourages Haitians to demonstrate on behalf of democracy, yet when they do the United States disclaims responsibility for protecting them against pro-military auxiliaries such as the Front for the Advancement and Progress of Haiti, or FRAPH.

These paramilitary organizations now are being emboldened by the United States' hesitancy to get directly involved in the street. And ordinary Haitians are losing respect for the American forces.

The situation in the capital bodes ill for Washington's plans to reinstall President Jean-Bertrand Aristide in mid-October. FRAPH has vowed to resist Aristide's return.

The rules of engagement under which the U.S. forces came to this troubled Caribbean nation of 7 million people allow the Americans to intervene in Haitian-on-Haitian violence, but they are not doing it.

This is sending a very dangerous message to organizations like FRAPH — that they can literally get away with murder.

U.S. Embassy spokesman Stanley Schragger has been one of the main articulators of American policy in Haiti, to the point where pro-military forces have asked for his expulsion.

After a renewal of violence during a demonstration on Friday, Schragger said: "It is unfortunate that inadequate Haitian police protection on the street permitted anti-democratic elements, in particular FRAPH, to attack marchers and disrupt a peaceful demonstration, resulting in several deaths and a number of injuries. This behavior is unacceptable."

The fact that it is "unacceptable" implies something must or should be done about it. So far, there is no evidence the United States is willing to exert the force allowed under the rules of engagement.

The U.S. military insists that the primary responsibility for dealing with violence is the Haitian police force, which is a branch of the army that overthrew Aristide three years ago.

The Haitian army, police and the paramilitary auxiliaries have been blamed by human rights organizations for most of the repression and bloodshed over the past three years, so it is very difficult to understand how they now can be viewed as the agents of peace and order.

Following the American logic, the very people responsible for the repression are the ones now responsible for the peaceful transition of power to the pro-democracy forces.

"It is clear we are going to have to do something about it," Schragger said of the numerous outbreaks of violence last week. "What we are going to do about it is under discussion at the highest level." He did not elaborate.

Loss of respect among people in the street for the American force already is evident. One example occurred at a food warehouse near the capital's port on Friday.

As about 1,000 hungry Haitians looted the warehouse, carrying away thousands of dollars worth of food, an American military policeman outside the building fired an M-60 machine gun in the air. At the first burst, people halted momentarily, then resumed looting.

A second burst was fired. Hardly a person flinched.

Some time later — two blue-uniformed Haitian policemen with clubs arrived at the scene and 1,000 people disappeared within minutes.

The return of Aristide requires a peaceful, relatively stable environment. The Americans are trying to maintain the fiction that all is well and that the Haitians can take care of security themselves. This is far from the case and the situation very likely will get worse in the coming days.

The other side of the policy coin is not much more attractive.

If U.S. troops are used to maintain order, it's virtually certain there will be civilian casualties. That would allow the pro-military forces to whip up anti-American sentiment and call for revenge, which could in turn lead to American casualties.

Going beyond the job description an endangered species of attitude

The Associated Press has been slugging the stories "Hero Rebuffed," and the shame of it is it took until Friday for the

DD Turner
Managing Editor

Chicago Board of Education to agree to pay workers' comp to a teacher who took a bullet trying to protect children.

The reason given for fighting his claim for compensation is protecting children is not in his job description as a physical education teacher.

This one one is really hard to swallow. Think about it: a gunman bursts into a gym of a school on Chicago's South Side, spraying bullets. Clarence Notree, admirably keeping his head, acts as a shield for a group of mostly 8-year-olds, herding them out of the gym, taking a bullet in the wrist in the process. But, not a child died from the gunman's act of lunacy. For that, he gets knocked for going beyond what is in his job description.

It seems to me there should not have been any question of awarding his claim. He didn't have to do what he did, but it was simply the right thing, in fact the only thing he, as the adult in that situation, could have done.

He was rightly applauded as the hero he was by the school's principal and the school board paid his sick leave and his insurance covered the bills. But, it rejected his comp claim.

Because of the wound, he lost 20 percent of the use of his right wrist, has trouble swinging a baseball bat or playing any sport that requires the use of his wrist. All requirements to teach physical education and be a coach.

Notree finally took another, less dangerous, job after he saw two children in his program shot to death. And the school board said shootings had nothing to do with his job on the South Side of Chicago!

But, the main point here, truly, is someone went beyond what was expected of them. Given the attitudes in the country's workforce, that is simply an amazing thing to hear about.

There are too many business people out there who are finding out that if every single thing they might ever ask an employee in the course of their employment isn't spelled out in the beginning, forget about trying to get it done because "it's not in the job description."

And, the attitude of the Chicago Board of Education only reinforces the attitude that simply doing enough to get by is just ok. That's not an attitude that needs to be reinforced.

Once this country had a workforce that took pride in what it did, its accomplishments. A workforce that made us leaders. The attitude of doing what is necessary to get the job done and done right is becoming an endangered species.

And, if we reward the hard workers, maybe the others will see that's not a bad attitude to have, that in fact it is the one that will get them on in life.

Endeavour scans Sahara river beds

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A 3-D space radar device aboard shuttle Endeavour scanned the Sahara Desert Saturday for a geologic study of river beds buried by sand thousands of years ago.

The $366 million machine also beamed microwave energy 138 miles down onto the icy Southern Ocean for an oceanographic study, and onto the Andes Mountains to give geologists a better map of that rugged region.

NASA plans to survey nearly 600 sites in all during the 10-day flight, duplicating the radar's first shuttle flight last April so that scientists can study the Earth in different seasons.

No more powerful civilian radar has ever flown in space. The bus-sized device bounces microwaves off Earth in three frequencies, providing a much more detailed view of croplands and vanishing rain forests, for example.

Richards, Bush trade barbs on welfare

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Ann Richards on Friday attacked Republican challenger George W. Bush's welfare reform proposals, while Bush accused Richards of failing to do anything on the issue.

Both sides denied the charges made by their opponent.

Meanwhile an advocate for the poor said the debate over welfare reform is being waged "on a pure fantasy level."

"What the gubernatorial candidates ought to talk about is how do we go about getting these people education and health care," said Jude Filler, executive director of the Texas Alliance for Human Needs.

She said improved schools and better access to health care will help people get off of welfare and into the workforce.

County delays retrieval of Davidians' bodies

WACO (AP) — Paupers' funerals for 30 Branch Davidians have been put on hold while officials finalize paperwork and give families one last chance to retrieve unclaimed remains.

The bodies, being stored at the Tarrant County Medical Examiner's Office, were due to be picked up Friday, but McLennan County officials asked for a week's delay, said Darrell Thompson, chief forensic death investigator for Tarrant County.

"We certainly would just like our facility to be cleared. We have completed all of our examinations and have no reason to maintain custody of all of these bodies," he said. "But we're trying to accommodate the circumstances that have developed."

Meanwhile, Houston attorney Jim Brannon was granted a temporary restraining order in federal district court Friday to block the burial of the unclaimed bodies. U.S. District Judge Kenneth Hoyt set an Oct. 11 hearing date.

McLennan County Justice of the Peace David Pareya said his county probably will retrieve the bodies Thursday.

Murder explosion leaves town uneasy

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — The shotgun slaying of a 20-year-old Texas A&M University coed by a fellow student has become a brutal benchmark for residents in this small-town university setting.

The early Friday murder of Lori Ann Baker, a junior accounting major, is the third slaying of a Texas A&M student this year and the fifth homicide in 11 weeks for College Station, population 52,456.

Before July 15, no murders had occurred in the town since 1989.

"It's gut-wrenching, I can tell you that," said Edgar Feldman, College Station police chief. "Anytime you have a rash of incidents happen, you've got to be uneasy. I'm uneasy because I can't explain it."

A senior biomedical sciences major, Ron Scott Shamburger, 22, confessed to Ms. Baker's slaying later on Friday. He also told police he placed her roommate in the trunk of a car and set the women's home on fire to hide Ms. Baker's body. The roommate, 20-year-old Victoria Kohler, later freed herself.

Shamburger, who is from Longview in East Texas, has been charged with capital murder and aggravated kidnapping. He remained jailed in Brazos County Saturday in lieu of $250,000 bond.

Baker apparently was shot after she awoke to find Shamburger burglarizing her home, which is not far from the Pi Beta Phi sorority house where she was an inactive member.

Tiffany Ward, an A&M student who lives near Baker's house, awakened about the time police said the murder occurred but said she didn't hear anything.

Man convicted in racial murder given death sentence

HOUSTON (AP) — A jury has sentenced a white man to life in prison for killing a Persian Gulf War veteran because he was black.

Donald Worth Riley, 22, smiled and shook his head after the jury sentenced him Friday for the murder of Marine Lance Cpl. Tarron Dixon.

The 25-year-old soldier had been home only two days after five years of dangerous tours in Panama and the Persian Gulf when he was shot to death near his Houston home.

"I think you agree with the court that it is a sad commentary on our society today that Lance Corporal Tarron Dixon was much safer fighting a war on foreign soil than he was walking the street of his own hometown, victimized by an unconscionable, cowardly and racist act and we'll all feel shame this day," state District Judge Michael McSpadden said.

"Mr. Riley, you are a disgrace to us all."

A jury heard several days of testimony about how while Dixon and his brother were enjoying a night out at a club to celebrate his return the evening of June 6, 1991, Riley and three of his friends were plotting a night out of their own — harassing blacks.

The killing went unsolved until a tipster phoned police and said Riley, John Carrillo of Angleton, Robert Jason Folks of Clute and Jorey Wayne Thomas of Freeport had been talking about the killing, even arguing over who could take credit for the murder.

Riley is the first of the four to face trial.

Beyond redemption Midland jury gives Blair death sentence

DALLAS (AP) — Jurors who sentenced Michael Blair to death for the capital murder of a Dallas girl agreed with prosecutors that the 24-year-old carpet cleaner is beyond redemption.

A Midland jury condemned Blair to death by lethal injection Friday for the abduction and strangulation of 7-year-old Ashley Estell. State law requires all death penalty cases to be appealed.

"I don't want him out in society, because I don't want him to grab my Ashley or your Ashley," juror Pam Six told The Dallas Morning News after the 91-minute deliberation.

The trial was moved to Midland because of pretrial publicity.

Prosecutors, who used hair and fiber evidence to link Blair to the dead girl, called his final comments an insult to jurors.

"He basically spit in their faces," Assistant District Attorney J. Bryan Clayton said. "It just underlines what a little creature he is."

Blair told jurors he did not kill Ashley, who was abducted from a Plano park on Sept. 4, 1993.

In a prepared statement, he said he had overcome his sordid past.

Poll shows governor's race in a dead heat

HOUSTON (AP) — Gov. Ann Richards and Republican challenger George W. Bush remain in a dead heat going into the final month of campaigning, according to a poll conducted by The Houston Post and KHOU-TV.

Of 676 likely voters surveyed throughout the state, 43 percent said they favored Richards. Bush was selected by 41 percent during the Sept. 23-28 survey. The poll by Rice University political scientist Bob Stein has a margin of error of plus or minus 3.5 percentage points.

"I like the trend. Any time you have an incumbent under 45 percent, that says something," Bush said. Richards, in a prepared statement, said she is anything but discouraged.

"I have always said this was going to be a tight race, so it's gratifying to see we're still holding on to a lead, even after six weeks of negative advertising by the Bush campaign," the governor said.

Other statewide races included in the poll weren't even close. In the U.S. Senate contest, incumbent Republican Kay Bailey Hutchison led Democrat Richard Fisher, 46 percent to 20 percent.

Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock held the most commanding lead in any race included in the survey, beating Republican challenger Tex Lezar 46 percent to 6 percent.

In the race for attorney general, incumbent Democrat Dan Morales was favored by 39 percent, compared with just 12 percent for Republican Don Wittig, a state district judge in Harris County.

Other polls in the past few months have shown similar results in the gubernatorial race. While Richards has consistently been ahead, the lead has been smaller than the margin of error, meaning the candidates are virtually tied.

All told, the poll shows 20 percent of likely Republican voters support Richards, compared with 70 percent for Bush.

Oh no, gotta cancel the dreams

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — When he discovered that his six numbers matched those picked for the $10 million play-by-mail Lotto jackpot, Christopher Ramesar dreamed of sunning himself on Maui.

One problem: The state said it got his application too late for the 1993 drawing, even though he mailed it in May.

A part-time limousine driver, Ramesar claims he mailed a $150 money order for 26 weekly Lotto Pick Six drawings to lottery headquarters on May 7.

The Lottery Division requires 46 weeks to process the subscriptions, then issues a confirmation notice indicating the start of play and the numbers.

Ramesar's application wasn't marked with a "received" stamp until July 21, four days after the drawing. So he had no confirmation notice.

He went to the Court of Claims in Albany, where Judge Louis Benza ruled that the state's agreement to process applications in 4-6 weeks is not binding.

The judge said that since Ramesar didn't have a valid subscription entry for the drawing and his numbers were not recorded in the computer, he was not entitled to the winnings.

Dog goes other way;
owner plans to sue

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An airplane passenger who looked out the window and saw her poodle being loaded onto the wrong plane has sued United Airlines.

The flight last Thanksgiving took Cassie Hughes from Denver to Los Angeles. Fif, the poodle, flew to Nebraska.

Hughes said she complained to flight attendants, but they told her the dog she saw wasn't hers.

The lawsuit filed Thursday in Superior Court alleges false imprisonment and intentional infliction of emotional distress. She said the attendants refused to let her off the plane, offering her a drink instead.

United spokesman Joe Hopkins didn't return a call seeking comment.

Fif was eventually returned home. Hughes, who said she suffers from a heart condition, was taken to the hospital by ambulance when her plane landed. "She was very attached to the dog," said Neville Asherson, Hughes' lawyer. Fif died several months ago.

Asherson said United offered Hughes $1,200 in "lost baggage claim" compensation. She is seeking $5 million.

Nuclear negotiations stalled on all fronts

NEW YORK (AP) — Talks to put North Korea's nuclear genie back in the bottle are stalemated over all key issues, including U.S. efforts to pry open the history of past activity and to safeguard spent fuel, Clinton administration officials said Friday.

In response to a disappointing account of negotiations in Geneva, Switzerland, Secretary of State Warren Christopher reaffirmed the close ties the United States maintains with South Korea.

U.S. analysts are convinced North Korea already has produced one or two nuclear weapons.

Lawmakers pack up disillusioned, frustrated

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Congress goes home at the end of the week, dozens of lawmakers will pack up their offices for good. Some hope to win bigger jobs in November, some are simply ready for less hectic lives, and a group of relative newcomers leaves disillusioned and frustrated.

Rep. David A. Levy, R-N.Y., who lost his re-election bid last week, is one of four House members ousted in primary battles. He joins Rep. Mike Synar, of Oklahoma, a popular young Democratic leader who lost to a 71-year-old political novice a week earlier.

Meanwhile, dozens of veteran lawmakers are willingly vacating their seats after decades, saying it's time for a new generation.

"I think a lot of these guys who are over there right now ought to take heed to what I'm saying and get the hell out," Rep. Douglas Applegate, D-Ohio, 66, said on the day he announced his retirement. "They reach a point when they sort of become stale or stagnant and then they just occupy the seat."

In all, 49 House members and nine senators chose not to return next session.

Decades of accumulated experience go out the door with many of them. They include Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, 77, first elected in 1976, an independent-minded liberal who has fought against congressional perks and special interests, and Rep. William D. Ford, D-Mich., 67, who has ardently championed America's workers in his 30 years in Congress.

Some departures leave open key leadership positions. Ford is chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee.

Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell of Maine is leaving Congress, as is House Minority Leader Bob Michel of Illinois. Michel, 71, came to Congress in 1966, has been the Republican leader since 1980, and is the most senior GOP member of the House.

Another who will not return next session is Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., who in 1992 became the longest-serving member of Congress in history. Whitten came to the Capitol in November 1941.

For decades, Whitten was a powerful force on the Hill, serving as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee from 1979 to 1992. But he is leaving with much of that force gone, stripped of chairmanships of both Appropriations and an Agriculture subcommittee he had headed since 1949 after he suffered a stroke two years ago.

California will lose its senior congressman when 79-year-old Democratic Rep. Don Edwards retires after 32 years. The chairman of a key Judiciary subcommittee dealing with amendments to the Constitution, he has fought for abortion rights, the rights of death-row inmates and many other civil rights causes.

Allegations of corruption hover over some exiting lawmakers — such as Sen. Dave Durenberger, R-Minn., who faces a trial over improper use of his Senate expense account, and Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., and Donald Riegle, D-Mich., two senators investigated in the "Keating Five" ethics probe.

Sanctions warded off as U.S., Japan reach some trade agreements

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Japan struck a series of market-opening trade agreements Saturday after a 20-hour negotiating marathon, averting a threatened trade war between the world's two largest economies.

The Clinton administration, which had been pressing the Japanese to open key markets, hailed the accords, which cover telecommunications, medical equipment, insurance and glass as landmark deals that should result in billions of dollars of new sales of American goods and services.

"This is a good deal for the United States and a good deal for Japan," U.S. Trade Representative Mickey Kantor told reporters.

The government procurement agreement covers purchases of medical and telecommunications equipment by the Japanese government and Japan's huge government controlled telephone company, NTT.

The procurement agreement and the insurance deals were finalized Saturday while both countries agreed in principle to a proposal to open Japan's $4 billion glass market. Remaining details will be worked out over the next month.

However, the two countries could not reach a deal to lower barriers in Japan's auto and auto parts market — which account for 60 percent of America's record $60 billion annual trade deficit with Japan.

For that reason, the administration said it would begin negotiations over the next 12 to 18 months seeking to open Japan's replacement auto parts market to foreign producers, who now capture just 2.6 percent of total sales compared to 47 percent in the United States.

But the administration refrained from citing Japan under a more feared section of trade law known as Super 301, which carries the stigma of being labeled an unfair trader.

Congress works magic in getting spending bills approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like magicians, Senate leaders made a slew of amendments disappear and enabled Congress and the White House to achieve something not accomplished in 46 years — all spending bills signed before the new fiscal year.

After more than a week of debate and behind-the-scenes negotiations, the Senate completed the last of Congress' 13 annual appropriations bills Friday afternoon and shipped it to President Clinton.

His signature came more than five hours before the midnight start of fiscal 1995. It marked the first time since 1948 that all of the appropriations bills became law before the start of the government's new fiscal year.

It also avoided a shutdown of many services provided by the District of Columbia, because the final measure completed finances for its government. Had it not been signed, only police and public health services would have continued functioning.

Clinton quickly cast the event as a show of competence by his administration and Congress, mindful that voters go to the polls in five weeks frustrated at Washington in general and Democrats in particular.

AIDS devastates family, claims third of four brothers

KASOTA, Minn. (AP) — Near the end, Les Gimmer couldn't bring himself to visit his youngest brother, to see him dying of AIDS back in 1990 — for Les knew that's where he would be one day.

That day came Sept. 23. Les died on the eve of his 40th birthday — the third of four hemophilic brothers to die of AIDS. The fourth brother committed suicide.

"It's a relief," said their mother, Jeanette Gimmer, before a memorial service Tuesday. "That's a terrible thing to say, but hopefully this is over now for a while."

Her fifth son and her three daughters are not hemophiliacs. The Gimmer brothers are thought to have contracted the AIDS virus from infected blood products for hemophiliacs in the early 1980s, before screening and treatment of blood for the virus became routine.

In 1990, Donnie Gimmer became the first brother to die of AIDS, succumbing at age 24. They would go to movies

Les and his brother Scott were diagnosed with the AIDS virus on the same day in 1985. Scott died a year ago at age 40. Their ashes were buried together in a private ceremony Tuesday.

As for Charlie, Ms. Gimmer said pain in his joints and other problems became too much for him to bear. He killed himself in 1981 at age 33.

The Rev. Ken Stuber, who officiated at services for Scott and Les, said he had never been close to anyone with AIDS before he came to First Presbyterian Church in Kasota 11 years ago.

Les, an aide who worked at a hospital with the mentally ill and retarded, had been looking for a church where he would feel comfortable. The two men were the same age and shared musical tastes.

"I said to him, 'I don't care how you got AIDS, I just think it's not fair,'" Stuber said.

Robot search postponed; sonar shows problem

TURKU, Finland (AP) — Stormy weather postponed a robot search Saturday of the wreckage of the ferry Estonia, but murky sonar pictures appeared to show that the ship's cargo door was sheared off. More than 900 people died when the ferry sank Wednesday off the coast of Finland. The Finnish salvage ship Halli waited in vain most of Saturday for a break in the storm so it could lower two Sea Owl robots into the frigid Baltic Sea. At the rescue operations center in Turku in southwestern Finland, meanwhile, investigators pored over sonar images taken by salvage crews. Despite the lack of detail, one picture clearly showed a bow that is flat, rather than pointed.

Only a disaster could stop this win

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Fernando Henrique Cardoso heads into Monday's presidential election so far ahead, a prominent pollster believes, "only a disaster like a Boeing falling on his head" can keep him from winning. It is a remarkable prospect. Just five months ago, he trailed far behind the candidate of the left, former labor leader Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva, who was riding a wave of discontent over Brazil's worst recession and runaway prices. Behind Cardoso's stunning surge is the extraordinary success of the economic plan the moderate politician drew up as finance minister before quitting to run for president.

The "Real Plan," named for the new currency it created, took effect July 1. It tied the real to the dollar and ended indexing — the monthly adjustment of wages, prices, taxes, rents and interest rates for inflation, a system that kept all chasing each other in a seemingly endless spiral for years. Inflation immediately fell from 50 percent a month in June to 6 percent, then 2 percent, then 1. Interest rates dropped and retail sales zoomed.

Investigation opened into student's death

MOSCOW (AP) — Prosecutors are opening an investigation into the death of an American exchange student who was strangled in his Moscow dormitory.

Anthony Riccio, 21, of Glastonbury, Conn., was apparently thrown off a 16th story balcony Sept. 20 after being killed. Russian police at first suggested he had committed suicide.

"The Russian Procurator's Office informed the American Embassy in Moscow today that it is opening a murder investigation," the embassy said in a statement Friday.

Repressive forces kill marches; U.S. soldiers not intervening

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Haiti's traditional repressive forces — the military and its armed allies — swaggered on the streets of the capital Saturday after violently dismantling three successive pro-democracy marches. American soldiers were on the streets, too, but so far they have not intervened in the violence that has killed at least 13 people and wounded 105 in the past three days.

Pro-democracy leaders called off a rally Saturday because of fears they would be attacked by heavily armed militiamen. "The more than 20,000 American soldiers in Haiti have so far been unable to disarm the militias, which are allied with Haiti's brutal army coup leaders — now America's uneasy partners in keeping the peace. President Clinton told the soldiers in a radio address Saturday that they were proving "the United States will stand up for democracy."

"Your presence and professionalism have helped curb the violence," Clinton said in an address aired on Armed Forces Radio. He also said the troops had "given hundreds of refugees the confidence to return home, permitted the Haitian parliament to resume its work, and restored the mayor of Port-au-Prince to his office."

U.S. Rep. John Murtha, leader of one of two congressional delegations that arrived in Haiti on Saturday for a fact-finding mission, has expressed regret that the Clinton administration called off its planned invasion of Haiti when coup leaders agreed to leave by Oct. 15. The Pennsylvania Democrat said an invasion would have disarmed the people who terrorize Haitians and want to stop the return of President Jean-Bertrand Aristide, who was ousted in a military coup in September 1991.

Plague panic swells in India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The hospital treating plague patients in India's capital ran out of beds Saturday as the number of panicked people reporting symptoms swelled. Authorities examined passengers leaving from the country's international airports and fumigated planes.

As many as 400 suspected cases of pneumonic plague, which has killed 58 people in the past few weeks, have been reported in New Delhi, the Press Trust of India news agency said. Of those, 22 are confirmed.

Most suspected cases are turning out to be other diseases such as tuberculosis and pneumonia — or even common colds, doctors said. The difficulty of diagnosing the plague is compounded by the fact that many Indians are taking antibiotics as soon as they detect any symptoms. The government banned over-the-counter sale of tetracycline, an antibiotic used to treat the plague, to stop panic-buying of the drug.

"There is tremendous fear, and the fright embroiled with indiscriminate use of antibiotic pills is causing immense diagnostic and psychological problem," said Dr. Barin Palit, a physician in New Delhi.

It can take as long as 72 hours to confirm a case of the plague by blood test.

Two deaths due to suspected plague were reported in New Delhi on Saturday, raising the toll in the capital to four since the disease spread from the western city of Surat two weeks ago. The other 54 victims were all in Surat.

Authorities were forced to create makeshift isolation wards in New Delhi's other general hospitals.

Motive for assassination still unclear

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Police captured a fugitive congressional aide and questioned a congressman and a former official on Friday about the assassination of a prominent Mexican politician.

The motive for killing Jose Francisco Ruiz Massieu remained obscure in spite of a reported confession by Daniel Aguilar Trevino, the 28-year-old ranch hand arraigned Friday on charges of shooting the politician.

Ruiz Massieu governed Guerrero, a central Pacific Coast state noted for violence and drug cultivation, from 1987 to 1993. This year, he became No. 2 man in the governing party and was elected to congress in August.

He was due to become congressional majority leader for the newly elected Chamber of Deputies, the lower house.

The killing on Wednesday stunned a political establishment already in upheaval over an Indian uprising in the south and the March 23 murder of Luis Donaldo Colosio, the governing party's front-running presidential candidate.

Speculation about motives ranged widely: drug traffickers sending a warning to the government? Disputes within the ruling party? A private or business conflict?

The probe Friday reached into Mexico's political power structure, and focused on political figures in the northern border state of Tamaulipas — the home state of accused assassin Aguilar.

The state borders the southernmost tip of Texas.

Serbs to lift retaliatory blockade of U.N. aid

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina (AP) — Bosnian Serbs agreed Saturday to lift their blockade of U.N. aid and military vehicles, imposed more than a week ago in retaliation for a NATO airstrike.

The agreement was announced in a joint statement by Bosnian Serb leaders and the U.N. commander in Bosnia, Lt. Gen. Sir Michael Rose. It followed an earlier announcement that the Serbs and the Muslim-led government had agreed in principle on a long-delayed exchange of war prisoners.

The statement, issued at Serb headquarters in Pale east of Sarajevo, said aid convoys would be allowed to resume as of Sunday under previous rules, which required 24-hour notice.

"It was a very successful meeting," said U.N. spokeswoman Claire Grimes. She said the session was attended by Bosnian Serb leader Radovan Karadzic and his military chief, Gen. Ratko Mladic.

Numerous previous accords on prisoner exchanges and aid delivery have collapsed or been ignored in Bosnia's 2-year war.

Now, the real fun begins, football fans

So the Steers lost Friday at Levelland. Big deal. District 4-4A play opens Friday - Big Spring hosts Lake View - and judging by pre-district results, the Steers have as good a chance to win the district as anybody.

Dave Hargrave Sports Editor

Have you sat down and looked at District 5? It's unreal. First, you've got the Sands Mustangs. The boys in Ackerly are ranked No. 5 in the state, and they could rise higher after their 54-44 win at Meadow Friday.

Few things go right for Big Spring in loss

LEVELLAND - Big Spring recovered a fumble on the game's opening kickoff. For the Steers, that was the high-water mark.

Levelland (4-1) dominated the Big Spring Steers (2-3) in an easy 28-7 win Friday, using prime field position and Steer miscues as a catapult to an early lead.

Levelland coach Tom Ramsey was the first to admit, however, that the game could have been a lot closer. He said the entire game boiled down to the first series.

Actually, both teams turned the ball over five times, but the Big Spring mistakes kept the Steers in bad field position most of the evening.

The game didn't start that way. Big Spring's Jose Pesina recovered Peter Puento's fumble on the opening kickoff, giving the Steers the ball on the Levelland 25. The Steers pushed the ball to the 10, but on second-and-7 Big Spring gave the ball to Levelland on a bizarre play.

"If Big Spring scores right there, you could be looking at a Big Spring 28-7 victory," Ramsey said. "They turned the ball over in key areas. Take the turnovers away, and it was an equal football game."

Cougars hold off Ropes to take win

By STEVE REAGAN Sportswriter

PATRICIA - It's a shame the Klondike Cougars are so young and inexperienced. There's no telling how good they'd be with another year or two under their belts.

coach Ed Wilson has been telling anyone who'd listen not to expect too much from his club, which features only one senior starter. Each week, the Cougars make their coach look like a liar.

The latest step up for the Klondike "youngsters" came Friday night, when they took advantage of five Ropes turnovers to down the No. 6 Eagles 42-36 at Cougar Field.

The win gives the No. 10-ranked Cougars a perfect 5-0 record going into the start of District 5 action next week, while Ropes fell to 3-2 with the loss.

Previews of the game billed it as a matchup between Ropes' Michael Salas and Klondike's Tanner Etheredge, and the two stars didn't disappoint. Salas finished the evening with 216 yards on 22 carries and three touchdowns, while Etheredge rushed for 203 yards on 32 carries, scoring three touchdowns and passing for another.

But while Etheredge and Salas battled to a virtual tie, it was turnovers that proved the difference in the game. Ropes suffered three interceptions and lost two fumbles, including one extremely costly one near the end of the game.

After the Cougars had dominated the first half en route to a 26-16 lead at intermission, Ropes began climbing back into the game and, with less than four minutes to go and trailing

Eagles hand Forsan homecoming loss

By SHAWN LEPARD Herald Correspondent

FORSAN - Sterling City ran Forsan's Homecoming dreams into the turf with a 41-0 shutout Friday night.

Andy Vargas and Albert Estrada teamed up for 234 rushing yards and four touchdowns to lead the 4-1 Eagles.

The Buffaloes (1-4) fought hard in the first quarter and held the Eagles scoreless, but in the second quarter the size and strength of the Eagles began to become evident. Forsan coach Jan East said, "We've got 17 kids and 8 or 9 of them play throughout the game. Those kids are bigger and have good back-ups, they just wore us down."

Quarterback Phillip Thomas had two touchdowns in the second quarter to begin the scoring. The Eagles recovered a Buffalo fumble on the 6-yard-line and Vargas carried it in for the touchdown to give the Eagles a 21-point lead at half.

Eagles coach Howard McDaniel credited Forsan's first quarter performance to Buffalo effort. "Forsan played good defense. We normally jump out ahead by 21 in the first but they kept working and held us scoreless in the first quarter."

Forsan's offense was productive but continually killed their drives with turnovers. "We've moved the ball well all year," said East, "we just stop ourselves with fumbles or interceptions. It gets really discouraging for the kids because they have been giving all that they have."

The Buffaloes had scoring opportunities but were not able to convert. Forsan moved the ball to the 9-yard-line in the first quarter but stalled and missed a 24-yard field goal. The Eagles' defense pulled the plug in the third quarter by pushing Forsan back a yard in a four-down series that began as first and goal at the six.

Franklin silences detractors with victory in Big Spring cross country meet

By DAVE HARGRAVE Sports Editor

Individually, the Big Spring Cross County Invitational was a success for the home team. Collectively, the results weren't so promising.

In a meet that attracted all of Big Spring's District 4-4A foes Saturday at McMahon-Wrinkle Airpark, Big Spring's top female runner and one of its varsity male runners were unable to run, and that made it difficult to gauge where the Big Spring boys - the defending district champions - sit compared to the other 4-4A squads.

"Without seeing team scores compared to team scores, it's real tough to get a feel for where we stand," said Big Spring coach Randy Britton. Big Spring's boys team has just five runners, and there is no Big Spring junior varsity group to feed the varsity squad. With that being the case, Big Spring was out of the running for the team title Saturday because Ismael Rodriguez could not run. He's nursing a strained hamstring.

Still, Big Spring had plenty to cheer about when Joe Franklin - the defending individual district champion - crossed the line first. Franklin's time of 16 minutes, 21.96 seconds for the three-mile course wasn't his best of the season, but it was more than good enough Saturday.

"I just want to shut everybody up," Franklin said after the race. "All these other district teams at these other meets, they'll all go around saying they can beat us, and they can beat me. Other runners say they're going to win district this year, they'll all say 'Joe Franklin can't run, Joe Franklin can't run.' Man, even at our own meet, even friends are saying 'Joe can't do this, Joe can't do that.' I just want to shut everybody up."

Well, nobody was saying much against Franklin after the race, and Big Spring hopes it stays that way through Oct. 29 - the date the District 4-4A

Championships will be run at the Airpark course. Franklin said he loved the course, that the layout was improved over last season's.

"If he likes it, good," Britton said. "He's going to have to run district here, so the more he likes it the better."

Big Spring's other top finisher, Robert Rios, didn't like the

Iraan wins wild one over Buffs

By JOHN A. MOSELEY
Herald Correspondent

STANTON — Downright offensive ... that's what it was. For much of the night Friday, it appeared as if it would come down to which team — Stanton's Buffaloes or Iraan's Braves — had the ball last. Both sported high-powered running offenses that neither's defense seemed capable of stopping with any regularity.

As a result, when the Braves finally regained the lead with a little more than five minutes to play, Coach Larry Hanna decided his offense was Iraan's best defense, called for a surprise outside kickoff, and when special teamer Wade Kneupper recovered the ball, sent his offense back onto the field to use up as much time as possible.

That decision preserved a 34-33 win for the Braves and dealt the Buffs their first loss of the season.

It was, however, a wild one for the fans.

The Buffs, celebrating homecoming, got off to what in retrospect could only be considered a sluggish start. The same cannot be said for the Braves.

Tailback Heath Copeland took a pitch outside the right end on the Braves second play from scrimmage, cut to his left and set sail on a 53-yard scoring romp that gave Iraan a 6-0 lead with 9:46 left in the first period.

Copeland's quick strike was only a harbinger of things to come. While he finished the evening with 150 yards on 19 carries and two touchdowns, his stats paled in comparison to teammate Damon Drake, who piled up 208 yards on 32 carries and scored two touchdowns running from the fullback's position in Iraan's Wing-T scheme.

All told, the Braves piled up 486 yards in total offense, 454 of them coming overland, and an amazing 26 first downs.

Once untracked, however, the Buffs were anything but disappointing — piling up 394 total offensive yards. Running backs Todd Davis and Jerele Lee provided the spearhead for Stanton — Davis piling up 157 yards on 14 carries and scoring two touchdowns, while Lee gained 96 yards on 17 carries.

Stanton answered the Braves' opening score with just more than two minutes remaining in the opening frame, moving 65 yards in five plays. Davis capped the march with a 20-yard burst, and placekicker Kenneth Kendall gave the Buffaloes a 7-6 lead with the PAT kick.

It was a short-lived lead, though.

Indeed, any lead proved to be slim, at best, until the game's final few moments.

In a game of tit for tat, Iraan's took Stanton's ensuing kickoff and mounted a 13-play drive covering 63 yards. Drake gathered in a 9-yard toss from quarterback Lance Harvey to cap the 6 1/2-minute march. The visitors were forced to settle for a 12-7 edge when Harvey was stopped on the two-point try.

Stanton's response was again lightning quick. The Buffs needed just three plays to cover 78 yards, the final 63 coming when Davis burst up the middle, cut to his left and raced 63 yards. Kendall's kick made it a 14-12 game.

Iraan countered with a 9-play drive on its next possession, Drake finishing the 80-yard march by powering over the left side from five yards out. Harvey kept the ball on an option outside the left end for the two-point conversion, giving the Braves a 20-14 lead.

With less than a minute to play in the half, the Buffs decided it was time for a little trickery. Back-up quarterback Taylor Looney took the ball on a flanker reverse with 32 seconds remaining, pulled up and hit wide receiver Nick Hull for 77 yards and a 21-20 halftime lead following Kendall's kick.

After holding Iraan at bay on its first possession of the second half, the Buffs extended their lead to 27-20, moving 75 yards in six plays. Quarterback J.J. Ortiz, having kept the Braves conscious of Lee and Davis, kept the ball, cut inside the left end and covered the final 27 yards.

Ironically, Stanton's conversion efforts which had been so steady in the first half were a nightmare in the second. Kendall's PAT attempt sailed wide left of the uprights.

That allowed Iraan to tie the game at 27-all on its next possession when Drake scored from five yards out at the 2:21 mark and Ovidio Mendoza tackled on the extra point.

Stanton's final score came on the Buffs' ensuing possession — a 74-yard, 9-play march capped by a pitch to Davis outside the left end. Kendall's PAT kick was blocked, giving the Buffs a 33-27 edge.

Iraan answered with a sustained drive that ate up more than five minutes and 83 yards. Copeland finished the 13-play effort with a 12-yard dash off tackle. Mendoza's PAT kick made it 34-33 and set the stage for the outside kick that caught the Buffs completely unaware.

By the time Stanton regained possession at its own 19-yard line, there were less than three minutes to play. As a result, Buffalo coach Bill Grissom was forced to abandon the ground game and try a futile effort to move the ball through the air.

Stanton, now 4-1 on the year, will open District 6-2A play this week, traveling to Forsan.

"I was already tired coming into this meet. I didn't feel good. My legs just didn't adapt to the course," said Rios, who came in sixth at 16:56.44. Rios said he should have finished second, and Britton expected better things, too. However, Britton is more concerned with the No. 3, 4 and 5 runners — Rodriguez, Tim Rigdon and Randy Farr. Rigdon took 27th at 18:38.31; Farr was 32nd at 18:52.77.

The second half belonged to Vargas and Estrada who teamed up to score three touchdowns while putting all thoughts of a Forsan victory out of reach.

Forsan opens district play next week against Stanton. East said that they must find a way to contain the Stanton backfield and hold on to the ball offensively in order to find their second victory.

by only six points, had possession at their own 30.

On third down, quarterback Robby Smith hit David Lopez for a 4-yard completion. Lopez fumbled as he was hit, however, and Klondike regained possession.

Using Etheredge almost exclusively, the Cougars milked both yardage and the clock to turn the turnover into points, scoring the back-breaking touchdown with 46 seconds remaining in the game.

"It's hard to have turnovers against a good team and expect to win," Ropes coach Larry Reid said. "Turnovers obviously were a problem spot for us tonight."

The Cougars received their state ranking this week and played like one of Texas' elite early, scoring two touchdowns almost before the homecoming crowd had a chance to settle into its seats.

Chris Arismendez capped the Cougars' opening drive when he scored from 13 yards out less than three minutes into the game. After Etheredge intercepted a Smith pass less than a minute later, Klondike went right back to work.

Two plays later, Etheredge found Shawn Barton for a 32-yard touchdown pass and a 16-0 lead.

From there, the two offenses featured their star running backs almost exclusively. Salas kept Ropes in the game with first-half touchdown runs of 60 and 46 yards, while Klondike countered with a 24-yard touchdown run by Etheredge and a 26-yard field goal by Rusty Oaks.

Despite playing on a twisted ankle for much of the second half, Salas was still near unstoppable, gaining 80 yards after intermission and adding another touchdown to his total.

But the Cougars converted Lopez's costly fumble and a Michael Arismendez interception into touchdowns to hold off the Eagles for the win.

"This is a great confidence-builder," Etheredge said. "We are rebuilding, but all of us have played together since we were young, so we know each other pretty well."

The Cougars' shiny-new state ranking, which will probably improve next week, had little effect on the team's preparations, Etheredge said.

"I think we were more surprised than anything by it," he said. "We weren't expecting it, but it really didn't affect us that much. With all the turnovers in the rankings this year, you can't put much into it."

After the game, Wilson finally admitted his team is playing beyond expectations.

Sort of. "This is the best I've felt about them all year," he said. "We've got a great chance to have a Cinderella season ... but we've got a tough, tough game next week against Grady. They are all there."

Steers

36 - the Steers had lost the ball and 26 yards.

Big Spring coach Dwight Butler thought Waters had thrown the ball on the play, which would have resulted in an incomplete pass.

"He was trying not to take the sack, and I thought he was throwing the ball, but evidently he wasn't," Butler said. "That's their call, of course. But I thought his arm was moving forward."

Little moved forward for Big Spring after that. While Levelland took a 14-0 lead on a 16-yard touchdown run from quarterback Justin Thoms and a 6-yard run from tailback James Fortner, the Steers didn't cross midfield for the rest of the first half. All five of Big Spring's turnovers - three fumbles and two interceptions - came in the first half.

"They have a really good football team, but we didn't come ready to play," Butler said. "We had three really good weeks in a row, and I think the kids tried to play on their laurels instead of on the field."

Levelland added to Big Spring's mess late in the second quarter. Big Spring punted from its own end zone - something it did twice in the first half - and Levelland scored three plays later on a 17-yard pass from Thoms to Levi Hayes. A two-point play made the score 22-0 at halftime. All three of Levelland's first-half touchdown drives took just three plays, and the longest one was just 39 yards.

Big Spring's strongest drive of the game opened the second half. The Steers took the ball from their own 31 to the Levelland 11, but they ran out of downs.

Both of those losses came against District 5 teams.

Wellman shocked Ropes, then Friday No. 10 Klondike beat Ropes 42-36.

Klondike has a genuine all-state player in Tanner Etheredge, but it's become obvious with every game that Klondike is more than just Tanner. If Klondike were a one-man team, they don't beat Ropes.

Wellman? Well, man, it proved its worth, and it's in the others-receiving votes category in the six-man poll. So is Grady.

Grady was one of the best six-man teams in West Texas last season, and the Wildcats are even better this season. Grady's problem?

Everyone else in the district is better, too. Imagine being a Sands Mustang. Here you are, ranked No. 5 in the state, and with one slip in the treacherous district schedule, you might not even reach the playoffs.

The District 5 drama doesn't have time to build - it's already here. Friday will say a lot - Sands is at Wellman, Grady is at Klondike.

Oh, yeah. In the other District 5 game Friday, Dawson will beat hapless Loop for its only district win of the season. Those two schools better start praying for premature realignment.

Actually, it's a shame District 5 can't be realigned - for the benefit of everyone. OK, we're being a bit facetious and unrealistic here, but it was a real shame that three good teams - Sands, Grady and Klondike - couldn't make the playoffs last season. Grady, Klondike and Wellman tied for second last season, and Klondike took the runner-up playoff spot on a coin flip - another real shame. Letting a high football player's heart and soul rest on a coin flip is idiotic.

Once again, Sands, Grady or Klondike will have to stay home while the playoffs are happening. With a bad break here or there, only one of them will make it, and yes, it will likely come down to a coin flip.

District 5. It's not for the faint of heart.

Predictions? Well, for those big six-man games, you'll have to wait for the Friday Football Forecast, which we print on Thursdays.

If it makes Steer fans feel better, though, at least one sportswriter at the Herald will be picking the Steers over Lake View.

Yes, the Steers didn't end pre-district on a good note, but more often than not, the Steers put a clamp on their opponent's running game, and they will again vs. Lake View. Lake View is 4-4A's up-and-coming team, but it still hasn't proven it can win a big district contest.

The Chiefs won't prove anything Friday, either - except that they might be a little bit overrated.

Coahoma bulls past Bearcats

HAWLEY - Coahoma got its T-Bone offense rolling in a big way Friday night, steamrolling the Hawley Bearcats 49-0 in a Class 2A non-district game.

McGUIRE

Brandon McGuire, subbing for injured full-back Jeff Phernetton set the tone early, scoring three touchdowns in the first quarter for the Bulldogs, who improved to 4-1 with the win. Hawley dropped to 0-5 with the loss.

Later, back in his regular quarterback spot, McGuire zipped a 42-yard pass to Ronnie Grant. McGuire accounted for 29 of Coahoma's points Friday.

"We've got two good quarterbacks (McGuire and Adam Tindol), and we needed to get them both on the field at the same time," Coahoma coach Eddie McHugh said.

McHugh said the win will give the Bulldogs some momentum heading into the district opener at home next Friday against Winters.

"I told the kids before the game that we were going to find out whether we were hunting dogs or porcha dogs," McHugh said. "After the game, they were telling me they were hunting dogs."

The Coahoma defense registered its third shutout of the season. In five games, the unit has surrendered an average of 2.8 points a contest.

Lub. Cooper 28 Colorado City 21

By ANTHONY CHASTAIN
Special to the Herald

WOODROW - The Colorado City Wolves dropped their fifth straight decision, 28-21, to the Lubbock Cooper Pirates in non-district football action Friday night.

A C-City turnover led to the first Cooper score of the night. After the Pirates recovered a Wolf fumble, running back Vincent Davis carried the ball over from three yards out for a 7-0 lead.

Turnabout was fair play, however, as a Cooper fumble later in the quarter set the stage for the Wolves' first score of the evening. C-City mounted a 13-play, 86-yard drive that took 4:48 off the clock to tie the game at 7-7.

The key play of the drive was a 29-yard screen pass from Jason Castillo to Frank Espinoza, and was capped with an 8-yard touchdown run by freshman running back Aerial Emerson.

In the second quarter, Cooper again got bit by the turnover bug, and again the Wolves cashed in. Phillip Garcia and Steadman Jones tackled the Pirates' punter at the Cooper 5. Castillo's 4-yard touchdown run gave C-City the lead, 14-7, at halftime.

But two Colorado City turnovers helped the Pirates regain the lead. Castillo fumbled the second-half kickoff, and Brice McCasland later scored from a yard out to tie the game at 14-14. Another Cooper recovery of a C-City fumble set the stage for Manuel DeLaCruz's touchdown and a 21-14 lead.

Crossroads Country Friday Night Review

Turnovers cost the Wolves the lead, but turnovers allowed them to re-tie the contest. Frank Casares recovered a fumble at the Cooper 45 to start a scoring drive late in the third quarter. On the first play of the final quarter, Espinoza plunged over from a yard out to make the score 21-21. But Cooper rallied once more, taking the lead for good with 6:51 remaining.

"This was a tough loss," C-City coach Mark Howeth said. "But we didn't roll over and we answered the bell. Our team is improving and we are just at a corner... It's a whole new season next week."

C-City opens district competition next Friday when the Wolves host Crane. Game time is 8 p.m.

Garden City 34 Christoval 20

GARDEN CITY - The Garden City Bearcats broke open a tight game in the third quarter to register their second straight victory of the year.

Trailing 14-13 at the half, the 'Kats (2-2-1) regained the lead for good after blocking a Christoval punt early in the third quarter. Brian Harp capped the scoring drive with a 6-yard touchdown run and Brent Seidenberger added a two-point conversion to give Garden City a 21-14 lead.

For the game, Harp rushed for 202 yards and three touchdowns.

Garden City coach Dennis Bryant expressed satisfaction with the way his team has played after losing its first two games of the season. Still, he said there's room for improvement.

"We're still not where we need to be," Bryant said. "We got some breaks the last three games, and got some wins under our belts, and that will help us going into district. We just need to be more aggressive. It's getting there."

The Bearcats open district play next Friday at Sterling City.

6-man roundup

'Air Mustangs' hold off Meadow

MEADOW - Sands coach Billy Barnett wanted the Mustangs to work on their passing game, and the results were an unqualified success.

Quarterback Steven Cantu completed 20 of 28 passes for 315 yards and six touchdowns as the Mustangs downed the Meadow Broncos 54-44 in non-district action Friday night.

Sands improved to 4-1 with the victory, while Meadow dropped to 2-3.

The Mustangs exploded for 34 points in the second quarter to take a 40-6 lead, but watched as the Broncos fought their way back to within 18 points at half time.

"We were just putting them away... and I guess we just relaxed," Sands assistant coach Jerry Gooch said. "(Meadow) had lots of talent. We were putting pressure on their quarterback, and we just couldn't catch him. He just ran away from us and threw a couple up for grabs, and they came down with them."

The Mustangs, ranked No. 5 in the state, open District 5 action next Friday at Wellman.

Borden Co. 86 Union 50

GAIL - The Union Wildcats won the statistical battle but lost the war.

In a big way. Kurt Hess kept the scoreboard operator busy all night Friday, passing for 7 touchdowns and running for another to lead Borden County to the easy non-district win.

Borden improved to 4-1 with the win, while Union dropped to 0-4-1.

Hess rushed 9 times for 120 yards and completed 14 of 25 passes for 215 yards. Other Coyotes who got into the statistical onslaught included James Cooley (12 rushes for 118 yards, 3 catches for 42 yards and 2 TDs), Roy Clayton (two rushing TDs, two TD receptions) and Miguel Hernandez (4 receptions for 87 yards, two TDs).

The Wildcats, who outgained Borden in total yardage, were led by Robert Correa, who gained 254 yards rushing and scored 4 touchdowns.

"I thought we played real well offensively," Borden County coach Bobby Avery said. "We were just able to score a lot of points."
 The Coyotes open District 6 action next Friday when they host defending league champion Loraine.

 G - Hewtty 43 pass from Garza.

Hewtty scored on runs of 3, 2, 9 and 8 yards, and caught two touchdown passes from Timmy Garza to lead the Wildcats, who finished non-district action with a 4-1 record.

Ira dropped to 0-5.

"It was pretty much the way we thought it'd be," Grady coach Roger Smith said.

"Ira was pretty weak. They only had 8 or 9 players, and we just really wanted to last through the half so we could get homecoming out of the way."

After building up a 52-20 lead at the half, Hewtty scored three quick touchdowns in the third quarter to end the game.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Quarterback Club meets Monday

The Big Spring Quarterback Club meets Monday, 7 p.m., at the BSHS planetarium. Film from the Big Spring-Lvelland game will be shown.

Lady Steers fall to Pecos

PECOS - It was another case of "close but not cigar" for the Big Spring Lady Steers as they dropped a 15-4, 12-15, 15-13 decision to Pecos in District 4-4A volleyball action Saturday.

The loss drops Big Spring to 8-11 overall and 1-3 in district action.

After a cold start, the Lady Steers caught fire in the second game behind the play of reserves Kari Blauser and Christi Myers.

The Lady Steers then built a 12-7 lead in the third and deciding game, but were not able to hold off the Lady Eagles.

"We had them down in the third game, and I thought we'd put them away, but we didn't," BSHS coach Lois Ann McKenzie said. "This kind of puts our backs against the wall... (but) mathematically, we're still in it."

In junior varsity action, Pecos beat Big Spring 15-3, 15-8. Playing well for the Lady Steers were Jennifer Reinert, Cindy Hernandez and Carrie Hall.

The freshmen Lady Steers earned a 15-5, 9-15, 15-11 win over Pecos Saturday. Playing well for Big Spring were Angela Sturm, Jessica Cobos, Mandy Lance, Honey Belew, Amanda Alvarez and Shakeesha Lott.

Big Spring returns to action Tuesday at Lake View.

Killer Bees take out Green Aliens

CHASE DAVIS celebrated his birthday Saturday with a hat trick when the "Killer Bees" defeated the "Green Aliens" 5-1 in YMCA soccer action in the Under 10 Division.

At halftime, the "Killer Bees" were leading 4-1 on Davis's three goals and a goal by Zachary Montgomery.

Kaci Hancock put the "Green Aliens" on the board with a goal late in the first half.

The final goal was scored by Montgomery. Assisting on the goals were Brady Frazier and Ashley Lang.

Dawson 72 Westbrook 42

WELCH - The Westbrook Wildcats finally got their offense untracked Friday. Trouble is, so did Dawson.

Operating almost exclusively out of the spread formation in the second half, the Wildcats were able to put on their most impressive offensive performance of the season. But defensive inability to stop Dawson hurt the "Cats' effort."

Westbrook (0-4-1) ended the evening with 379 yards in total offense.

"In the first half, we didn't do much at all," Westbrook coach Jim Hill said. "We started going to the spread at the end of the first half, and we ended up scoring 36 points in the second half. We just couldn't stop their offense. We were in the right places, but we're still missing too many tackles."

Westbrook begins District 6 play next Friday at home against Ira.

Notre Dame downs Stanford

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) - Ron Powlus threw three touchdown passes and set up a TD with a 44-yard run as eighth-ranked Notre Dame beat Stanford 34-15 on Saturday.

Powlus completed 10 of his first 11 passes for 168 yards, including TD tosses of 15, 10 and 47 yards for the Irish (4-1).

Steve Stenstrom, closing in on Pac-10 and Stanford passing records in his senior year, completed 37-of-59 passes.

Aggies evade Raiders

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Rodney Thomas scored two touchdowns, including the go-ahead score with 6:11 to play, rallying No. 10 Texas A&M to a 23-17 victory over Texas Tech on Saturday that extended the nation's longest home winning streak to 23 games.

The Red Raiders (2-3, 1-1 in the Southwest Conference) used a 73-yard pass on a fake punt to set up one touchdown and a 17-yard interception return for another touchdown to take a 17-7 halftime lead.

Tech was still ahead 17-14 in the fourth quarter when Corey Pullig, who passed for 15 yards in the first half, hit Chris Sanders with a 45-yard pass to set up the go-ahead touchdown. Pullig also had completions of 12 yards to Haywood Clay and 13 yards to Ryan Mathews in the drive.

The Aggies (4-0, 1-0) have a 55-3-1 record in Kyle Field since late in the 1984 season. They haven't lost at Kyle Field since Arkansas' 23-22 in 1989.

The only blot on their record during the Aggies' home streak is a 20-20 tie with Baylor in 1990. Freshman kicker Kyle Bryant, who was 7-for-7 in his college career, missed two field goals tries and an extra point before he kicked a 40-yarder with 1:15 left in the game.

The Aggies tripped over themselves in the first half with 77 total yards and had seven penalties for 70 yards. For the game, A&M was penalized 13 for 107 and Tech was penalized 10 times for 99 yards.

The Aggies' 22-game home winning streak was in jeopardy at halftime when the tricky Red Raiders got their lead on a 45-yard field goal by Tony Rogers, Zebbie Lethridge's 4-yard touchdown pass to Jerod Fiebigler and Marcus Coleman's 17-yard interception return.

Tech coach Spike Dykes pulled off the gamble of the Raiders' season facing fourth and nine from the Tech 23 in the second quarter.

The Raiders lined up in a punt but the ball was centered to Bart Thomas, lined up as a blocking back. He lobbed a pass on the left side to Jody Brown, who raced past the startled Aggie defenders to the A&M 4 before he was tackled by cornerback Ray Mickens.

Texas A&M linebacker Jason Andrus (35) blocks the punt of Texas Tech's Brade Cade during the first quarter of their game Saturday in College Station.

Baylor 42

TCU 18

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Baylor Bears got a big payback Saturday against the Texas Christian Horned Frogs thanks to an alert defense that produced three touchdowns.

Adrian Robinson returned an interception 89 yards for a touchdown, Tyrone Smith took a blocked punt 2-yards for a score and Glenn Coy carried a fumble 15 yards to a touchdown Saturday as Baylor's defense produced the big plays in a Southwest Conference 42-18 victory over TCU.

The Bears (4-1 1-0) avenged last year's 38-13 loss to TCU (2-3 0-2) in Waco with the victory in the 102nd meeting of the two schools.

"The biggest stat in the game is the four turnovers," Baylor coach Chuck Reedy said. "If you get that many, you're going to win 90 per cent of the time."

Reedy said Robinson's touchdown "was the big play of the game. The game was turning around and we needed somebody to step up. Adrian did, and that ended it. It was very tight up to that point."

Robinson's third quarter interception of TCU quarterback Max Knake deflated a Horned Frog rally. It was Robinson's seventh interception in his last nine games and the fourth longest in school history.

"The quarterback telegraphed the pass to the tight end. I read it all the way. It was sort of ill-advised," Robinson said.

"That was a crucial series and we needed to do something. If they had scored again it would have been a sure momentum builder," Robinson said.

TCU coach Pat Sullivan agreed that Robinson's interception was the play that killed the Frogs.

"We just gave them three touchdowns," Sullivan said. "We work on that pass to the tight end a 100 times a week. You just can't force the ball in there particularly inside the 20. Baylor played good, but we helped them and Robinson's return hurt the most."

Colorado 34

Texas 31

AUSTIN (AP) — Colorado didn't need a miracle this time —

just Rashaan Salaam, Herchell Troutman and Neil Voskeritchian.

One week after beating Michigan on a last-second, 64-yard pass, the fifth-ranked Buffaloes downed No. 16 Texas 34-31 Saturday behind Salaam's 317-yard rushing effort, Troutman's three TD runs and Voskeritchian's 24-yard field goal with one second left.

"A lot of people think Colorado is lucky because they keep winning at the buzzer. They are not," Texas coach John Mackovic said. "They are a very good football team."

"I hope the guys don't think they need to make it exciting just for me," Colorado coach Bill McCartney said. "I'll take a boring win any time. I feel like I've aged 10 years in seven days."

Salaam carried 45 times and gained the most yards ever against the Longhorns, topping the 251 by Pittsburgh's Curtis Martin in Texas' season opener and Southern Cal's C.J. Roberts in 1956.

It was the second-most rushing yards by a Colorado player, 25 yards less than Charlie Davis' record against Oklahoma State in 1971.

Andrews falls to 0-5 with loss

ANDREWS — The Andrews Mustangs, a preseason top-10 selection in Class 4A, complete a nightmare pre-district schedule by dropping their fifth straight game, a 27-14 decision to Lubbock Monterey.

Monterey, a Class 5A team, ran its lead to 27-6 in the fourth quarter before Andrews closed the gap to the end result.

Andrews' biggest problem came in the rushing department, where the Mustangs were limited to only 24 yards on the ground. The Mustangs were hurt by the limited performance of leading rusher Kevin Lawrence, who left the game in the first quarter with an ankle injury.

Monterey took a 13-0 halftime lead on a 3-yard touchdown run by Tony Washington and a 1-yard pass from Dee Buchanan to Chris Fisher.

Sweetwater 60

Fort Stockton 0

SWEETWATER — Everybody, it seemed, got into the act for the Sweetwater Mustangs as they blasted Fort Stockton in non-district action Friday.

Ten different runners carried the ball and the Mustangs even used two kickers in the rout, which improved Sweetwater's record to 3-1. Fort Stockton dropped to 0-4 with the loss.

Sweetwater gained control early, scoring 20 points in the first quarter on touchdown runs by Travis Black and Chris McMann and a touchdown pass from quarterback Kerry Carr to Robert Reed.

Monahans 56

Frenship 27

MONAHANS — The Monahans Loboes did everything right in rolling to a non-district football win Friday night.

The win was Monahans' first of the season against four defeats.

The Loboes won this game on the ground, gaining more than 400 yards rushing.

Randy Moore opened the scoring for Monahans with a 7-yard run in the first quarter, then ran for another touchdown and added a scoring pass in the second quarter.

Frenship gained over 300 yards in total offense but was hampered by four turnovers.

LAMPASAS — Sterling Gilbert ran 40 yards for a touchdown in the final minute of play to give San Angelo Lake View the win in the Chiefs' final pre-district game.

Lake View (4-1) opens District 4-4A play next Friday at home against Big Spring.

The Chiefs' other points came on three field goals by kicker Marc Levens.

San Angelo 33

SAN ANGELO — The San Angelo Bobcats broke open a tight game on a 33-yard touchdown pass from Bobby Townsend to Jeromy Speciale in the fourth quarter to down Odessa in District 4-5A action Friday.

San Angelo improved to 2-1-2 overall, 1-0 in district play. The Bronchos fell to 4-2 overall and 0-2 in district action.

The Bobcats broke out to a 21-7 lead in the first half before Odessa closed to within 27-21 on Tavares Fowler's 1-yard touchdown run in the third quarter.

Midland Lee 49

Abilene 14

MIDLAND — Alex Strambler scored three touchdowns to lead the Midland Lee Rebels to victory over the Abilene Eagles in District 4-5A action Friday.

Strambler scored on runs of 31, 32 and 3 yards in the victory, which improved Lee's record to 5-0 overall and 2-0 in district play. Abilene fell to 1-4 and 0-2 with the loss.

The Rebels exploded to a 42-0 lead before the Eagles scored their first points of the game in the fourth quarter.

Abilene Cooper 38

Midland 3

ABILENE — The No. 2-ranked Abilene Cooper Cougars improved their record to 5-0 overall and 2-0 in District 4-5A play with a win over the Midland Bulldogs Friday night.

Midland fell to 2-3 and 0-2 with the loss.

Quarterback Zac Allen led the Cougars by connecting on 13 of 24 passes for 261 yards and two touchdowns.

Sinn leads Heartland Classic

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ignoring custom and keeping a close eye on the leader board, lightly regarded Pearl Sinn shot a 2-under-par 70 Friday to stretch her lead to four strokes after two rounds of the $500,000 LPGA Heartland Classic.

"Sure, I look at the leader board," said Sinn, who's seeking her first victory in four seasons on the tour. "Hopefully, I can enjoy this for a few more days."

Sinn had a two-day total of 7-under 137. Four strokes back were Julie Larsen, Colleen Walker, Deb Richard and Liselotte Neumann, and five players were at 142.

Neumann missed a chance to move closer when she four-putted the par-5 18th hole, her ninth hole of the day.

Big Spring smokes Stockton in tennis opener

By DAVE HARGRAVE

The Big Spring tennis team made a statement Saturday.

Actually, Big Spring screamed it.

Big Spring excused Fort Stockton from the Figure 7 Tennis Center courts in the District 4-4A opener for both teams, winning all 18 matches to let the rest of the district know what the Big Springers have planned for this season. BSHS has set a team goal of going undefeated in district play - Big Spring was the undefeated champion last season - and Saturday was a calm, cool step toward that feat.

"18-0 - that sounds pretty good on paper," said Big Spring junior Colby Wegman, who plays No. 1 boys' singles. "That ought to scare the rest of the district, or at least tell them what we're about."

BSHS was about winning and winning big Saturday. All 18 wins were in straight sets except for Wegman and Hsiiao-Hsuan Li's No. 1 doubles win over P.A. Gonzales and Oscar Galindo, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2. Wegman and Big Spring's No. 1 girls' singles player, Heidi McIntyre, said they didn't see any major improvements between Tuesday (a loss to Midland High) and Saturday, but McIntyre saw a change in morale.

"I was really worried going into today," said McIntyre, who won 6-0, 6-1 over Cindy Haney. "We were really down after Midland, but we really put it together today. This will really get our spirits up."

The Villarreal sisters, Maria and Monica, took care of business for Big Spring in girls' No. 1 doubles, winning 6-0, 6-2, and McIntyre and Teresa Lee did the same in No. 2 doubles, winning 6-1, 6-0. With an influx of new players this season, Big Spring coach Ralph Davis has said doubles play would leave a little to be desired until all of his players became accustomed to each other. Despite Saturday's results, that still seems to be the case.

"We've got a long ways to go in doubles," Wegman said in reference to his doubles match. "We didn't play well at all."

"We've still need to work out a few kinks here and there, but we can still win district," McIntyre said. "We went undefeated last year, and we do still have a lot of the same people here."

People like the Villarreal sisters, Angela Griffin, Brandi Gutierrez and Teresa Lee on the girls' side. In girls' singles, Big Spring was most impressive, losing just nine games total in six matches. In No. 3 doubles, Griffin and Kirstie Lee teamed to win 6-2, 6-0.

Wegman Welch had the easiest time on the boys' side for Big Spring. The No. 3 singles player won his match 6-1, 6-0, and he teamed with Jeff Johnston to win 6-1, 6-2 in No. 2 doubles. Other winners in boys' singles were Li, Jeff Moss and Barnaby Urias, who closed out the match with a 6-2, 6-4 win over Travis Lester in No. 6 singles.

In No. 3 boys' doubles, Moss and Amador Gonzales won 6-2, 6-1.

As far as the rest of the season goes, Wegman said Big Spring still is a step away from competing with state powerhouses like Wichita Falls, but he said Big Spring shouldn't stop its goal-setting at just an undefeated district championship season. Davis agrees.

"We want to get to the finals of regionals," the coach said. "If we get second place in a regional, we can honestly say we're one of the top eight teams in the state of Texas, and that would be a huge accomplishment, especially as young as we are on the boys' side."

Big Spring plays at Monahans Saturday.

Mavs: Tarpley will be welcomed back

DALLAS (AP) — Roy Tarpley is getting another chance in the NBA, and the Dallas Mavericks are ready to welcome their former inside force back in the middle. Tarpley was reinstated by the league Friday, and Mavericks coach Dick Motta said he'll be given every chance to become a starter. Tarpley is expected to be under contract by the beginning of training camp Oct. 7. "The Maverick players, on a whole, need all the help they can get," Motta said. "It's fairly exciting. On a five-spot roster, if you get a starting player back, it has to help you." Tarpley, 29, was an intimidating presence in his five seasons with the Mavericks. He averaged 12.6 points and 10.5 rebounds in five seasons. In his second season, he won the league's Sixth Man award as the Mavericks came within one victory of the NBA Finals. But he also fought his substance abuse problems and a serious knee injury that limited him to only 69 games from 1989-91. His refusal to take a drug test led to his banishment from the league Oct. 16, 1991. Now, he'll be back with the same franchise that stuck with him through his problems and has had plenty of their own recently. Dallas slumped to the league's worst record the last two seasons, winning fewer games over a two-year span than any team in NBA history. "I'm grateful to the people who have stood by me the last three years," Tarpley said in a statement released through the team. "I'm excited to be back." The Mavericks said a contract that would pay the 7-foot-center between $2.5 million and $3 million per season will be faxed to his agent by Monday. On Friday, Dallas also signed forward Popeye Jones to a 3-year contract extension. NBA commissioner David Stern approved Tarpley's return about five months after he had applied for reinstatement. "He is working hard, he recognizes the extraordinary opportunity that he now has, and he understands what is at stake if he is unable to remain drug free," Stern said in a written statement. Tarpley spent the last two seasons playing in Greece. Over that span, he stabilized his relationship with his wife, had a daughter and lost as much as 20 pounds from his previous playing weight of 255. "We're just hoping all his distractions are behind him and he can concentrate on basketball," said Mavericks general manager Norm Sonju, who met with Tarpley about three weeks ago. Motta said he recognizes the pressure Tarpley faces to stay out of trouble.

ROLL 'EM, BOYS

What do you get when you combine in-line skating and hockey? A whole lot of fun!

Story by Janet Ausbury • Photos by Tim Appel

Slap! The sun sets over the Howard College tennis courts. But the courts are not deserted. Far from it. And the guys on the court aren't playing anything as civilized as tennis, either.

Smack! Yankee types, we who grew up closer to the North Pole than we care to admit, would recognize the sound: hockey sticks slamming against concrete. Street hockey. Popular kids' game for those who couldn't afford the skates, pads and time for the real thing.

Scrape-scrape-scrape... But what's that sound? Roller skates? You bet - and not just any skates, but in-line skates.

Yes, in-line roller hockey has become a regular function on the tennis courts in the evenings. For nearly a year now, groups of boys and young men have gathered to chase a ball into a net and hope they don't fall in the process.

The group currently plays twice a week. The number of participants varies. On this particular evening, players have turned out in record numbers, about 13 people: Ruel Metcalf, Cliff Lewis, James Stihl, Brian Doll, Matt Vizcaino, Jason Metcalf, Kyle Coker, Chris Perez, Mat Bronaugh, Jason O'Brien, Paul Bronaugh, Charlie Harmon and Gary Smoot.

"Don't slip on the ice," one player jokes as two young girls on in-line skates enter the courts to watch the action. The boys and men - let's just call them "guys" - swoop around the court, practicing their maneuvers.

The group finally huddles together in the middle of the court to discuss how they will break into teams. That determined, the players face off, and the game begins.

Slap! Crack! Sticks bang together. Smack! Sticks batter the ground in search of the elusive ball. Large or small, gangly or stocky, all the guys become graceful on skates, passing within inches of spectators without ever touching them.

Slapshot-GOAL! A player slams the ball into the opposing team's net. Jubilant team members high-five him - not with hands, but with sticks elegantly raised and lightly clicked together.

So far, the injury roster has included stitches to one of Stihl's eyes and miscellaneous black eyes, minor cuts and bruises. Most of the players wear knee and elbow pads.

Some of the group members used to play in Odessa and Midland and would like to see the team become organized enough to play other teams in neighboring cities. Metcalf said the group is encouraging Howard College to redo the tennis court surface and turn it into a roller hockey court.

All it really takes to join the group is interest and minimal equipment. "If you have a stick and blades, you can play," said Metcalf. And not everyone who plays on a given night even has skates; they simply run around the court in shoes.

Length of games is determined by how tired the players become "and when the guy with the nets has to go home," joked Lewis. Metcalf agreed: "When the person who owns the nets has to leave, it's time for all of us to leave."

On this evening, the gathering is large enough to break into two groups on two courts. The sun has long since set, but the courts are lit. Neither darkness nor mosquitoes will keep these players from their evening recreation.

Above: Players lunge for the ball as it rolls just past the reach of their sticks. In the heat of the game, these players will swoop past spectators, missing them by mere inches as they fight to keep the ball away from their opponents. They play until they get tired or until the person who brought the nets has to go home.

Remembering Grandma makes letting go easier

Grandparents. There's no way the word merely crosses our lips without passing through our hearts as well.

Vivid images drawing a picture of childhood flash briefly to mind. And, for those of us who have lost one or both, there is the weight of sadness which falls heavily on our chests with the realization that those days are,

Barbara Morrison
Staff Writer

indeed, bygone days. My husband's grandmother recently passed away.

Grandma Liese was his mother's mother and I had the true pleasure of meeting this little sprite of a woman and knowing from a single meeting she could make any Dallas Cowboy shake in his shoes if she had a mind to.

I remember our meeting clearly. I was recovering from a recent surgery and traveled to Dallas where she was visiting from New York. During my trip, I became ill and it was necessary for me to go back to the hotel room to lie down to rest.

A black cloud rested on the cleaning lady that day. She had the misfortune to come into the room while Grandma was "guarding" me, making sure I was sleeping as she knew the rest would do me well.

Well, the poor housekeeper almost ran out of the room when Grandma started screeching at her! And, I think she got the hint when a frail, somewhat wrinkled hand opened the door, right after slamming it, and stuck out the "Do Not Disturb" sign.

A couple of Friday evenings ago, though, we came home to the news that Grandma had died. My husband flew to New York to attend the funeral.

While there, his mother told him the story of Grandma's death.

Grandma was coherent and hospitalized after suffering a minor heart attack. The physicians discovered a blockage in her heart and while in the hospital treated her with an anti-coagulant, a blood thinner, which caused Grandma to bruise all over her body.

She was in good spirits that day, although somewhat tired. When my husband's mother arrived, Grandma was sitting in a chair.

Suddenly, Grandma announced to her two daughters that she was tired and wanted to lie down. They assisted her to the bed and stroked her hand while she drifted off to sleep.

Without warning, Grandma stopped breathing and her heart quit beating. Physicians and nurses rushed into the room in answer to a "Code Blue."

After several minutes, Grandma was resuscitated, only to wake and yell at her two daughters. "What are you doing?" she wanted to know, extremely put out for being wakened.

After some time, Grandma was calmed and again went to sleep. Again she coded. And again she was revived.

"What are you guys doing to me?" she yelled once again, even more angry than the first time.

"I was almost down the tunnel, and it's a long way to walk," she complained. "Then I go and have to walk all the way back because of you. Now don't do it again. Leave me alone," she cried.

"What tunnel, Mom?" my husband's mother questioned.

"Oh," Grandma answered truly exasperated. "You wouldn't understand."

Then, my husband's mother said, there was a look that came over Grandma she could never truly describe.

"There they were, the three of them. Grandma in her hospital bed, the curtains pulled around. The two grown girls standing next to their mother, stroking her hand and agreeing

Festive fall fun on museum's schedule

In the month of October, the museum has many events scheduled. Every Saturday evening from 6-8 p.m. the museum will conduct walking tours of historic downtown Big Spring. Museum tour guides will be dressed in pioneer clothing. The museum and all of the downtown antique dealers' shops will be open for this event.

Also on our agenda is the Big Spring Art Association 40th Anniversary Show and Sale. The art will be displayed during the week from Oct. 1-8. The awards reception is today at 2 p.m. Any time during the week, art may be viewed and purchased during regular museum hours.

The museum is hosting Fiesta de Familias, a Hispanic celebration, 2-4 p.m. Oct. 15. This event is sponsored by the museum and Hispanic Women for Progress.

At the event there will be singing, traditional Hispanic dances, displays and even a pinata. There will be food and beverages served. The street in front of the museum will be closed for the demonstrations.

Are you ready for 'Spooky Saturday'? Spooky Saturday is going to be a family event put on by the Big Spring State Park and the Heritage Museum Saturday, Oct. 29. This all-day event starts at 2:15 p.m. with a pumpkin hunt for the kids. At 2:30 and 4 p.m. we will have spooky stories and at 3 and 4 p.m. we have hayrides around the scenic mountain.

The autumn months should stimulate all of us to make certain that all older adults receive influenza vaccination.

Influenza ("flu") and pneumonia are major health concerns during the winter months. Elderly persons and persons with underlying health problems are at increased risk for complications of influenza infection.

Vaccination of high risk persons is the most cost effective method for reducing the frequency of complications of flu.

Those who are at high risk for influenza related complications are:

- *Persons 65 years and older.
- *Residents of nursing homes and other chronic-care facilities.

- *Any person with chronic disorders of the lung, heart, or blood vessels.

- *Any person with diabetes mellitus, renal failure, depressed immunity or hemoglobin diseases that required regular medical follow-up or hospitalization during the preceding year.

Flu vaccinations are now being given to veterans at the Big Spring VA Medical Center Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Mental health professionals at the Big Spring VA Medical Center will offer local residents the opportunity to learn about the signs and symptoms of depression and to participate in a free screening as part of National Depression Screening Day, Thursday, Oct. 6, from 4:30 p.m.-6:30 p.m. in Room 212.

Several inpatients will travel to Midland for a special showing of the Confederate Air Force Air Show. In addition to the air show, patients will be treated to lunch and a tour of the museum. A special thanks to the sponsors of the air show for providing this opportunity to our veterans.

During the director's September staff meeting Medical Center Director Cary Brown presented Ward Clerk Gayle Kirk, with the distinct honor of being chosen Employee of the Month for September.

Certificates of Appreciation were presented to Chief of Staff Darryl Powell, M.D. and Environmental Management Service Chief Bobby Cordova. Dr. Powell received recognition for his outstanding performance as Acting Medical Center Director. Cordova received appreciation for his contribution as Acting Associate Medical Center Director from February through August 1994.

A photo contest was held to select photos to be used in the Medical Center Fact Sheet. Winners of the photo contest were: Gary Spence, Pharmacy Service, won 1st place. Other winners were Sandra McCutchan, R.N.; Anne Looney, Supervisor Medical Laboratory; and Carol Criswell, Medical Administration Service.

Wells, left, assisted alligator trapper Dennis M. Gagnon in the killing of the 13-foot, 460-pound animal in Newnan's Lake just outside of Gainesville Monday night. "He wasn't real happy when we got him," Gagnon said. The head will be kept as a trophy and the hide will be sold.

Memories of an adventurous friend

I got word the other day that Constance Wolf has passed away. The only dream she left unfulfilled in her 89 years was to ride the jet stream across the Atlantic in the enclosed gondola of a helium-filled balloon.

Tumbleweed Smith
Columnist

Mrs. Wolf lived on an estate just outside Philadelphia and was a symbol of spirit, independence, daring and grace. She loved parties and was proud of her accomplishments in balloons. She held several world records.

She became the first woman to cross the Alps in a balloon. That ride in 1962 took her over the Jungfrau in minus 30-degree temperatures. She wanted to fly a balloon from downtown Philadelphia to celebrate the anniversary of the first balloon flight in America and she did. She wanted to fly a balloon shaped like the Liberty Bell for the 200th anniversary of the Constitution and she did.

Her balloon, La Coquette, was used by her friend Mike Todd in filming "Around the World in 80 Days." In 1956, Mrs. Wolf piloted the seven-story contraption over Paris and London to advertise the movie.

The event that gave her an international reputation was her endurance record set in Texas. On Nov. 20, 1961, she claimed into the gondola of a hydrogen-filled balloon at Hamilton Field in Big Spring. For the next 40 hours and 18 minutes, she huddled in her dangling basket and shivered against the cold as the big yellow balloon with the Stars and Stripes on the side headed to Roswell, New Mexico, then to Oklahoma.

At 4:45 p.m. the next day, after logging 1,500 miles and reaching an altitude of nearly 14,000 feet, she touched down in East Central Oklahoma. The flight set 15 world records, including the endurance record for women balloonists, then held by two Russians. She made the flight just to prove that "one capitalist can take on two Communists any day."

It was my privilege to travel with Mrs. Wolf's ground crew on that historic flight. We became friends and kept in touch until recent years. Occasionally I would read an article about her in some national publication.

Her death came eight years after she lost her husband, Alfred Wolf, a jet pilot and aviation lawyer who taught her to fly on their honeymoon. The Wolfs sometimes flew to the restaurant at Wings Field, the airport across the road from their own landing strip. "She and her husband were the most exciting and romantic people that kids growing up could be around," said a niece, Sani Wolf Fogel.

Society writers were charmed by the fly in parties the Wolfs hosted on Wingover, their 50-acre estate in Blue Bell, Penn. Mrs. Wolf mowed the runway, perched high on an old red tractor.

Those parties were come one, come all, but you had to come by air. At times, as many as 150 planes were parked beside the runway while 250 or more aviators, navigators and passengers played badminton, pressed apples for wine and watched Hollywood movie previews.

Mrs. Wolf was tall and slender, with blond hair turned gray. She always wore a thin veil over her face, which gave her a mysterious air. When asked why she wore it, she replied, "It holds my head on."

Connie Wolf. What a gal. I was lucky to know her.

to not stand in her way should she try to leave them again.

Suddenly, Grandma looked up, to the corner of the curtain, toward the ceiling. A look of rapture, absolute radiance and peace fell softly over her face.

"What, Momma?" asked the daughters. "What do you see?" No one in the room questioned the unseen presence.

"I don't know," came Grandma's whispered response. "But I wish you could see it. It is so beautiful." Her voice slipped off, hardly audible.

Then, slowly, Grandma shut her eyes and went to another place.

4-H members take prizes in area fairs

By MICHAEL KELSEY
Howard Co. Extension Agent

Seven 4-H members participated in the Howard County Lamb Show with 12 lambs. Luke Bowlin of Coahoma did well with his three lambs placing second, fifth and ninth in the Finewool and Finewool cross divisions.

Little brother Cade Bowlin had his fair share of the fun with his fifth place light weight Finewool Cross. Lauren Middleton exhibited her lambs, placing sixth with her Southdown and seventh with a Medium Wool.

Other Howard County 4-H members participating in the Lamb Show were Clint Bamert with two Medium Wools, Dondi Brewer with a Finewool Cross, Jason Laster with a Medium Wool, and Taylor Sheppard with her finewool.

The Howard County Steer Show also proved to be an excellent exhibition for Howard County 4-H members. Sixteen 4-H members exhibited 22 steers. Natalie Nichols' Angus steer placed second in the British Class of Progress Steers (over 1,000 pounds) and wound up in the Reserve Championship position of that breed.

Trey Terrazas showed his American Cross Progress Steer right into the Championship of that breed division. Marc Baker had a sixth place Light Weight European Cross Progress Steer and Justin Wood placed his steer fourth in the medium weight division of that same breed classification.

In the Prospect Steer Show (steers weighing less than 1000 pounds), Dondi Brewer placed her Light Weight Angus second, followed by Tonya Tabor with a third place. John Paul Nichols exhibited his Red Angus Steer into the Reserve Championship of that breed's division.

Ryan Wright's light weight Hereford placed second in his class and Tonya Tabor placed her light weight Polled Hereford second in his class. Megan Knight's Medium weight Polled Hereford was placed third. Lance Purcell's first place light weight Shorthorn went on and became Champion of that Breed's division of the fair. Chrystal Stockton's light weight American Cross steer placed fifth and John Ross Jenkins' Medium Weight American Cross steer placed fourth.

Tarence Tabor placed his light weight Charolais steer third and John Paul Nichols' Simmental steer was its Breed Champion. D.D. Wright's first place light weight Maine-Anjou steer came home with the Reserve Champion breed award and Justin Wood's light weight Limousin placed second in its class.

John Ross Jenkin's heavy weight Limousin steer placed third. Ryan Wright exhibited a third place light weight Chianina and Brandi Purcell had a fourth place Medium Weight AOB steer.

The following week, these youngsters had another successful weekend at the Dawson County fair and at the Permian Basin Fair in Odessa. In Lamesa, Ryan Wright and D.D. Wright exhibited the second and third place British Bred steers followed by a fourth place by Ryan in the European Cross Class with his steer.

In Odessa, Justin Wood's Heavy Weight Cross Steer was named Reserve Champion Overall in the Progress steer show after placing first in his class. His light weight Limousin later showed to third place in its class in the Prospect Steer Show. Justin was also a finalist in that fair's Beef Cattle Scholarship Awards Program.

John Paul Nichols Simmental steer was the winner of its Heavy weight class and went on to be named breed champion of that division. His medium weight Red Angus placed third and his Shorthorn Steer was fourth place medium weight in its breed's division. Dondi Brewer's light weight Angus placed second and her Finewool Cross Lamb was tenth.

WEDDINGS

Fowler-Reid

Melissa June Fowler, Coahoma, and Casey Redford Reid, Stanton, exchanged wedding vows on Sept. 11, 1994, at First United Methodist Church, Stanton, with a retired Methodist minister officiating.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James "Butch" Holcomb, Coahoma. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Reid, Stanton.

Lucia Pickett played the organ. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an off-white satin tea-length dress with lace overlay. She also wore a hat with a beaded band and a veil flowing off the back. She carried a bouquet of white cascading silk carnations.

Matron of honor was Sharron Hildebrand, Kermit, stepsister of the bride. Bridesmaid was Amley Boyd, Big Spring. Flower girls were Kelsey and Whitney Sechrest, cousins of the bride.

Best man was Eric Keathly, Midland. Danny Chapa, Stanton, served as groomsmen. Jake Reid, brother of the groom, served as an usher.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall.

The bride's table had candles with lavender and pink flowers, punch, and featured a white three-tiered cake with lavender flowers and a western style Precious Moments cake topper.

MRS. CASEY REID

The groom's table had a basket and scented candles, wedding cookies and a chocolate cheese cake.

The bride is a 1993 graduate of Coahoma High School. The groom is a 1993 Stanton High School graduate. He attended Midland College and is employed by the Wal-Mart Supercenter in Midland.

Following a trip to Midland, the couple will make their home in Stanton.

ANNIVERSARIES

Crawford

THE CRAWFORDS, THEN AND NOW

R.J. (Shorty) and Hazel Crawford, Big Spring, celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary in their home. They were married Sept. 23, 1964.

Valdes

Mr. and Mrs. Al Valdes, Big Spring, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Sept. 30, 1994, in Las Vegas.

They were both born in Havana, Cuba. They met at a ballpark in 1951 and were married on Sept. 30, 1954 by Dr. Ismael Carr at the Havana Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Valdes have one son and daughter-in-law, Al Jr. and Greta Valdes; one daughter and son-in-law, Cathy and Tony Cole; and three grandchildren. The couple have lived in Big Spring during their married life.

Lilliam is a retired teacher with the Big Spring Independent School District, and Al Sr. is retired from Fina Oil and Chemical Co. Previously, Mrs. Valdes taught second grade bilingual class at College Heights Elementary, and Mr. Valdes was a complex operator.

They are affiliated with the First United Methodist Church. He is involved with the Masonic Lodge #1340, Evening Lions Club and a member of the BSISD school board for 19 years. She is involved with the Retired Teachers Association and the 1948 Hyperion club.

Al loves to hunt, golf and

travel. Lilliam loves to play bridge, bunko, sew, design clothes and ceramics. They both enjoy playing 42, canasta, and all table games.

The comment that this couple had to say about their marriage was, "We are really thankful because our marriage brought us to America and especially to Big Spring where we have so many wonderful friends, and we are free to raise our children and worship as we please."

Brannon

Marie and Bob Brannon celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary with their daughter and her husband, Diana and Dale Spence of Houston, in Wimberley, TX.

Bob was born in Comanche County, and Marie was born as Marie Dean in Wingate. The couple were friends throughout their school years in Wingate. They were married in the church parlor in Winters on Sept. 30, 1934.

During the early years of their marriage, they continued to live in Wingate and Ballinger. When Bob returned from the Pacific in World War II, they moved to Abilene, where he joined the Texas Highway Department. They subsequently lived in Colorado City and then were transferred to Big Spring, where they have resided since 1961.

Mr. Brannon retired in 1977. The couple's hobbies include making music with their friends in the Hot Potato Band, fishing and sightseeing around the country. Their Shady Rest cabin at Oak Creek Lake is the favorite gathering place for family and friends.

The couple's comments on their marriage are that God has taken care of them through all 60 years. They learned to love and laugh through the bad times as well as the good times. They claim the secret to their happiness and longevity is "to never let your oil get cold."

If God can forgive, so can we

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I know people say we ought to forgive people that have hurt us, but

Billy Graham
Columnist

with me it just isn't possible. I was hurt very deeply by my former husband, and I will never be able to forget it, let alone forgive him when he hasn't even asked me for forgiveness. And anyway, I don't see how it would change anything to forgive him. -- Mrs. R.L.

DEAR MRS. R.L.: No, it might not make any difference in your relationship with him (at least at first). But it would make a big difference in your own heart and life -- and that is very important. Let me explain.

The reason is because of what an unforgiving spirit does to us. When we are unwilling to forgive someone who has hurt us, it means we are harboring anger and bitterness and even hate against them in our heart. But these are emotional and spiritual poisons that hurt us and distort us on the inside, turning us into angry, bitter people who never know the real meaning of inner peace and joy. Unless we get rid of them, they will continue to eat away at us and poison our hearts and minds.

The Bible says, "See to it ... that no bitter root grows up to cause trouble and defile many" (Hebrews 12:15).

Jay and Milli Cunningham are celebrating 25 years of a successful business this month. The couple owns Jay's Farm and Ranch Service Center at 600 East Third Street. The official silver anniversary falls on Oct. 1 and Jay says he opened the business in 1969. "I had been working at another store for several years and decided to step out on my own by opening the store. "We sell feed, seed, fertilizers, yard supplies, insecticides, weed killers and herbicides," said Jay. The store is open from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to noon on Saturdays and closed on Sundays.

Birthday present turns business

■ Owning a business is all in the family

By KELLIE JONES
Staff Writer

When most people are asked what they would like for their birthday - money, clothes or a new car probably top the list. But one Big Spring resident got a big surprise when her husband gave her a beauty supply business to own and operate. According to Amy Martin, her husband Rodney, went into K and M Beauty Supply a few weeks ago to purchase some shampoo and conditioner. The manager, Chris DeLeon, told Rodney the store was closing permanently that day because the owner was wanting to retire. Rodney then waited for the store's owner, Karl Schmidt, to arrive at 5:30 p.m. to discuss negotiating a purchase of the store. The store's new name is La Vair's d'Elegance Inc., meaning the air of elegance in French, and now carries products for African-Americans as well. Amy says these products were not available in Big Spring before and people were having to travel out of town to purchase them. "Rodney came home that night and told me he had bought me a beauty supply store for my birthday. We came in here that weekend and renovated the store in three days. "I have become another Martin family member to own and operate a business to help support Big Spring. My brother-in-law, John Martin, owns Pick Pocket Billiards and my husband is the president of W.T. Oilfield Service Company. He also gave his mother and father-in-law, Betty and Levi Pearson, his first business venture which is D and R Casing," explained Amy. Amy adds she plans on expanding the beauty supply store and opening a hair salon next door. The Hair Clinic is next door but is planning to move to another location within the next few days. "I hope to be able to open A.R.'s Coiffures by the first part of November and employ three beauticians and a nail technician. One of the hairstylists is Juanita Rubio who can take care of both African-American and Asian customers. "Part of the building next door will be used for more inventory for the beauty supplies and the front will be the hair salon. We

Amy Martin, seated, along with employees Chris DeLeon, Nancy Tinsman and customer Juanita Rubio, pose in the former K and M Beauty Supply store. Martin's husband, Ronnie, purchased the store as a birthday present, renaming it La Vair's d'Elegance Inc. are also hoping to tear down the fences and clear the back lot to pave for additional parking," Amy continued. One line of products Amy is excited about is Equinox. The Please see PRESENT, page 6B

Don't be played for a fool when investing

I believe that P. T. Barnum has been given credit for making the statement that "a sucker is born every minute." This may not be exact, but there is a small group of people in our society working 24 hours a day on trying to separate you from your money without working for it. Here is a big time rule for you to follow when it comes to investing your money. KNOW WHO YOU ARE DEALING WITH. If you don't know them, find out before investing. At 9 p.m. your telephone rings. The voice on the other end reports that six months ago they sent you some information about investing in diamonds. They are predicting that diamonds would double in six months. The prices of diamonds had gone up only 25 percent, so there is still a 75 percent increase within the next 6 months. Now is the time to buy diamonds if you want to make big bucks fast. Please hang up the phone. Do not listen to this character. He is a "con artist" trying to make a few bucks so he can take a world cruise. Then there are the big-land deals, with the same telephone sales approach. If you will buy this small piece of property, then you will double your money in three years. There is not anything wrong in buying land. That is, if you have a need for it. Speculation is a different story. This is a good way to lose money without even trying. Remember back in the "good old days" when the oil business was booming. Everybody that was anybody was investing in all sorts of "drilling deals." Some of these deals did not have any economic substance. This resulted in some individuals taking substantial losses. A couple from Ohio is of the opinion that all people from Texas are crooks, and that the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) is not doing its job. They invested in an oil well drilling partnership that resulted in a dry hole. The sales person that sold the deal guaranteed that it would be a big producer and they would collect large sums of money from the sale of oil. Please see GREEN, page 6B

Max Green
Columnist

Separating fact from Africanized bee fiction

With reports of bee attacks coming to our office in an unusual abundance lately, I felt that I probably needed to devote at least one more column to this subject. These attacks are probably, in large part, due to the usual fall swarming of bees occurring at present, plus, of course, all the recent publicity of bee attacks. A number of reports have come out about the so-called "Killer-Bees" invading Howard County. No confirmed cases of these bees have been discovered to date. One suspect case of a hive of bees with some suspected Africanized influence has been confirmed. However, no true Africanized bees have yet been discovered. This is not saying there are no true Africanized bees in our area, but just no confirmed cases. I felt, due to all this concern and publicity, some fact from myth about these bees need to be discussed. First, the myth that a single sting can kill you is wrong. "Killer Bees" is a misnomer popularized by Hollywood and the media. A single sting from an Africanized bee has slightly less venom than that of a domestic (European) honey bee. However, the Africanized bees, being more aggressive, often attack in larger numbers than the domestic bee. For most people, a single bee sting is painful, but not life-threatening. However, if you are allergic to honey bee stings - less than 1 person in 100 is - a single sting from either bee - Africanized or domestic - could cause a severe allergic reaction. If you are allergic, you should carry a bee sting kit. Another myth that needs correction is that Africanized bees do not seek out victims. If you go near their hive, however, the bees will defend it vigorously. The Africanized bee has lived for decades in parts of South and Central America, and nowhere has it caused deaths on a major scale. Scientists have suggested that a handful of people in the U.S. could be killed by the bees each year - fewer than the 40 who are killed by lightning each year. Africanized bees do swarm more often than domestic bees, but they are actually less dangerous at that time because they do not have a nest to protect. However, if you encounter a swarm, move away slowly and don't bother the bees. If the swarm is near people or confined animals, contact a pest control service for removal. Suspected Africanized bees should be collected when killed and preserved in alcohol and brought to our office to be sent to the proper authorities for confirmation. About a pint of such bees are necessary for authorities to successfully identify Africanized bees. Africanized bees are honey bees and do produce honey. However, they are less easily managed by beekeepers for honey production because of their defensiveness. They do not produce honey in the amounts of domestic bees and this trait is one of the reasons they can not survive the longer winters in the northern areas of our state. Africanized honey bees look like any other honey bee to the naked eye. Though they are slightly smaller than domestic bees, only scientists in specially equipped labs can identify the bees. Our office has a small list of beekeepers who will come out and remove swarms on occasion, but there is no one, other than a commercial pest control service, who will come to your property to remove a swarm of bees. Our office will gladly supply you the information needed to collect suspected Africanized bees.

Don Richardson
Extension Agent

HC Soil and Water Conservation District election is Tuesday

An election of a soil and water conservation district director to serve in Zones One and Two on the Howard Soil and Water Conservation District is scheduled for Tuesday at the Soil Conservation Service Field Office, 1904 North Highway 87, announced Neil Fryar, chairman of the board. The election will be at 10 a.m. State law decrees that to be eligible to vote in a soil and water conservation district director election, a person must own agricultural land within the district where the election is being conducted. The person must also live in a county all or part of which is in the district and the voter must be 18 years of age or older.

Legal qualifications state that a candidate for the office of a soil and water conservation district director must own land in the subdivision he represents, be 18 years of age or older and be actively engaged in farming or ranching. He must also live in a county all or part of which is in the district. Soil and water conservation district directors serve four-year terms of office. Zone One of the district includes an area from the southwest corner of Howard County, bounded on the west by the county line, on the north by State Highway 176 and I-20, on the east by US Highway 87, and on the north. More cut backs in production HOUSTON (AP) — Two more companies have joined the move to curtail natural gas production in October because of an anemic gas price outlook. Cabot Oil and Gas Corp. and Devon Energy Corp. said Tuesday they'll cut natural gas production starting next month. They join a lineup of independent gas producers who have shut down as much as 600 million cubic feet of daily gas output rather than sell at weak market prices. Houston-based Cabot said it will shut in 40 million cubic feet of gas a day, or about 20 percent of its production capacity. Enron Oil & Gas Co., which along with Seagull Energy Corp. announced curtailments in August, further reduced output in September to an average of 150 million cubic feet per day, or 23 percent of its domestic production.

Tentative deal reached FLINT, Mich. (AP) — General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers union struck a tentative deal to end a strike that stopped the flow of parts to many GM plants. The union said Friday that GM agreed to hire workers in Flint, Mich. from a pool of laid-off employees so current employees wouldn't have to work so much overtime.
Increases loss estimate
NEW YORK (AP) — Insurance companies still are feeling aftershocks from the earthquake that rocked southern California eight months ago. Homeowners are uncovering more damage and filing bigger claims, causing several big insurers to increase estimates of losses from paying the claims, the companies said.

Personal spending surges
WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans filled automobile showrooms in August and overall personal spending surged more rapidly than it had in six months. The increase was more than twice the increase in income, the government reported Friday. The Commerce Department said income rose 0.4 percent in August, the seventh straight increase, while spending jumped 0.9 percent — the largest gain since 1.3 percent in February.
Woolworth chief resigns
NEW YORK (AP) — Woolworth Corp. chief executive William Lavin resigned in a dispute with the retailer's board of directors over its future direction.

OIL PRICES
NEW YORK (AP) — A continuing rally in gasoline and home heating oil led to a sharp rise Friday for crude oil futures. Light sweet crude oil for delivery in November settled at $18.39 per barrel, up 41 cents on the New York Mercantile Exchange. Prices fluctuated widely in advance of Friday's expiration of October contracts for gasoline and heating oil before settling higher for the third straight session. Prices can change sharply on the day a futures contract expires because traders scramble to close out their position.

You could not convince the couple from Ohio that the salesperson was the one that gave bad information in order to make a sale. You never know what kind of oil well you have until it is completed.

Many people do not understand the role that the SEC plays in the game of investing. Any time there is a public offering such as the oil well drilling venture, the proposed partners must publish a prospectus. The prospectus must be approved by the SEC.

The SEC's job is to verify if the prospectus tells the truth. It must state the risk and hazards of the venture. The venture was sold using a "red herring." That is, the prospectus was issued at the same time that it was submitted to the SEC approval. It is plainly stated on the first page of the prospectus, in red, a statement to the effect that the document had not been approved by the SEC.

The Ohio couple should have read the prospectus. They would have discovered that the salesperson was not telling the whole truth. Old man Greed got in the way of good judgment. The couple was expecting to make big bucks.

And the stories of scams go on and on. It never seems to end. So, once again, please know who you are dealing with.

by the Howard-Glasscock line.

Zone Two includes the area from the northwest corner of Howard County, bounded on the north by the Howard-Borden County line, on the east by FM 1584 and US Highway 87, on the south by I-20 and Highway 176, and on the west by the Howard County line.

Current members of the board of directors of the Howard SWCD are Neil Fryar, chairman; Ray Russell, vice-chairman; Loyd Underwood, secretary; and Bobby Cathey and John Wayne Metcalf.

The purpose of the Howard SWCD, with headquarters in Big Spring, is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on agricultural land within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers, ranchers, and local community entities on conservation matters.

The district board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purposes.

All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator or other potential users of the SWCD's programs.

Bid awarded for bonds to complete pipeline

Rauscher Pierce Refsnes, Inc. was low bidder for $9,000,000 in Colorado River Municipal Water District revenue bonds Tuesday with an offer of 5.986717 per cent effective interest.

Funds from the issue will effectively close the major development phase of the district since it represents the balance needed to complete the Lake Ivie-San Angelo pipeline system.

Bids on the bonds, which hold an A rating, up to 6.14475 among the six firms which submitted proposals.

San Angelo and Midland will share in retirement of the bonds commensurate with their contractual percentage in the project. The District and San Angelo will retire their share over 15 years and Midland over the 27-year life of the issue.

In other action Tuesday, the board appropriated up to $10,000 to cooperate with the Texas Department of Transportation in possible paved access roads to Lake Ivie areas.

Special guests at the meeting were John D. Stephens, Stone Mountain, Ga., who laid the 157-miles of pipe more than president of Gifford Hill American which manufactured the pipe ahead of schedule so Stephens could sprint ahead. Representatives from Snyder, including mayors and city managers, and council members were on hand for the actual symbolic laying of the last joint, No. 29,543.

Expect the best!

Coldwell Banker Sun Country sales associates work hard to be the best. They know the real estate business - and they know their local market. They are as comfortable talking about the "feel" of a neighborhood as they are discussing financing programs.

Our sales associates are people oriented professionals who are actively involved in serving their community. They are committed to understanding their customers needs, and satisfying those needs at every step of every transaction says, Janelle Britton, owner. Britton encourages prospective home buyers to take advantage of some of the lowest interest rates in nearly 20 years. Homes that were out of reach for some buyers only a few years ago are now affordable, thanks to lower interest and lower payments. This also makes now a perfect time to sell a home since more buyers are able to qualify for lower interest loans.

Houses are selling quickly in Big Spring and as a result there is a need for more homes to sell. At Sun Country we can help determine what your home is really worth. We don't guess and give you a figure. We examine up-to-date information about your neighborhood. We compare recent sales and current comparable homes for sale. We team this information with the special features and characteristics of your home. The result is a quantitative no-guess estimate of your home's market value.

Because of our relationship with Coldwell Banker, we now have additional information, resources, training and expertise to provide buyers and seller with unparalleled real estate services.

Coldwell Banker's extensive advertising and promotional support includes network and local television, radio and print campaigns, public relations activities and special promotions. All are designed to keep Coldwell Banker's name where it works best in front of our buyers and sellers.

To help guide their customers through the complex process of buying and selling a home, our sales associates are equipped with the most powerful tools available anywhere in the real estate industry - tools designed to communicate, and to get results.

With the Best Buyer System our associates help take the mystery out of finding and financing a home, giving even the most seasoned home buyers greater confidence in their decision to purchase.

Through the Best Seller System, Coldwell Banker Sun Country Realtors, our goal is not simply to sell houses, but rather to help sellers realize the best price obtainable for their property in the shortest period of time. To help achieve this goal we have developed an exclusive Best Seller Home Enhancement Guide.

Based on proven marketing techniques, this information guide will introduce practical ideas on how to successfully prepare a house for sale. These suggestions require a minimum of time and expense to complete and are designed to make a house stand out over the competition.

Our sales associates draw upon the extensive resources within Coldwell Banker to assist our customers with a wide selection of residential real estate services including relocation.

"Expect the Best." It's far more than a slogan to us - it's a way of doing business. It's a pledge we practice every day. In every transaction. It's a pledge that Coldwell Banker Sun Country Realtors will continue to lead the way in offering services that keep pace with the changing needs of the real estate market. And it's a pledge that we will remain the very best in residential real estate.

HOROSCOPE

FOR SUNDAY, OCT. 2, 1994
ARIES (March 21-April 19):
Use today to gain perspective on a changing situation involving a parent or boss. Discussions reveal there is more than one side here. Do not be hard on yourself. Think through an action and get more information. Tonight:
Investigate alternatives. ****

TAURUS (April 20-May 20):
News spurs your creativity.
Tune in to another's desires, and create more of what you want. Touch base with a distant friend. Carefully evaluate long-distance information.
Focus less on the long run.
Stay with the moment. Tonight:
Whatever makes you happy.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): A partnership gains freshness. Be sure of yourself and what you want. Another cares and lets you know. Be direct with a friend. A change in plans might be inevitable. A cozy day at home could be perfect. Tonight:
Get anchored. ****

CANCER (June 21-July 22):
You discover that partners are flaky and fickle. You might need to rethink plans.
Understanding comes easily once you deal with another's perspective. Discussions center on your needs. Focus on a change of plans. Tonight: Avoid making phone calls. ****

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22):
Finances are stressed, and you might need to look at how much work you are doing and your choices in a situation. Be creative in your approach and open to change. Take time off to relax. Enjoy a hobby. Take care of you first. Tonight:
Surrender to exhaustion. **

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You are happy, spontaneous and lucky today. Go for what you want, but be careful around a difficult partner. You view a situation differently. Avoid power plays. Let the good times roll. Tonight: Be happy. *****

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Gain a better perspective about what's important. Much that is going on is on the home front.
Review a situation and discover options that benefit you.
Tonight: Don't push a family member. **

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21):
Zero in on what you want and what's important. Another cares, but sees you in a different light. Communications about friendship, love and romance are critical. Discussion cause you to revisit priorities. Welcome new ideas. Tonight: Be with friends. ****

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec.
21): A responsible approach gets you far. A parent or respected friend enjoys you.
Discuss your goals and direction. A loved one cares a lot about your impressions. Be more in tune with your desires.
Use caution with a purchase.
Tonight: Out and about. ****

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19):
Take the opportunity to travel or visit with another. A unique creative option opens up. Be aware of what you want. Rely on your ability to adapt. A message could be lost. Avoid misunderstanding. Use diplomacy.
Tonight: Adapt to changes.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18):
One-to-one relating is highlighted. You get ahead. Expenses could be extreme. Review your budget. Make time for a special person in your life. Tonight:
Share a long-term dream. *****

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20):
You feel pushed by another. Do a better job of listening, even though you might not appreciate the presentation. You are much more in sync than you thought. Your awareness and focus are critical. Don't be hard on yourself. Tonight: Accept an invitation. *****

IF OCT. 2 IS YOUR BIRTH-DAY: Look past the obvious and recognize what others' motives are in the year ahead.
You'll need time to review situations and gain insight. As a result, your daily life can become more rewarding. Pace yourself. Fatigue will be an issue; you'll need time to recharge. If you are single, be careful with people you do not know. If you are attached, it will be a year for vulnerability and caring, and for taking time off together. VIRGO reads you

Good heart better than nice teeth

DEAR ABBY: Like the woman from Ontario, Canada, my boyfriend has awful teeth. They are the worst I've ever seen, but when I look at him, all I can see is the kindness shining in his eyes.

We are both aware of our own physical imperfections, and are rather sensitive about them, so we just keep quiet about the obvious.

Abby, your suggestion that the woman tell the man she recently met, "You really need to see a dentist," would be a crushing blow to him as he is probably already self-conscious about his teeth.

If the man, as she described him, is "every woman's dream," the condition of his teeth should not matter. She should concern herself with her own imperfections and ignore his.

After all, Abby, she was talking about a potential romantic relationship -- not a horse auction. -- CONTENT IN MARY-LAND

DEAR CONTENT: Visibly decaying teeth are more than a "physical imperfection" -- they can be a serious health hazard.
Any physician will confirm that rotting teeth can eventually undermine one's general health.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my husband and I were guests in my in-laws' home, as were my husband's son and daughter-in-law. My father-in-law, my husband, the son and his wife became involved in a spirited game of spades, while I watched TV in the living room. When a program came on about sexual dysfunction, I, being of an inquisitive nature and possessing a thirst for knowledge, became interested.

After a few minutes came this voice from afar -- it was my husband's son demanding that I change the channel! (Apparently, he was screening what I was watching on TV.) I told him I didn't want to change the channel and suggested that he concentrate on his card game. A minute or so later, he stood up and announced that he and his wife were going to bed because I refused to change the channel!

My husband was furious with me for refusing to give in -- and I was angry at being ordered to change the TV channel while the card players entertained themselves as they pleased.

If I was in the wrong to have refused to change the channel, I will apologize.

What is the verdict, Abby? -- HOT IN HOT SPRINGS, ARK.
DEAR HOT: An apology is in order -- not from you, but to you from your husband's son.

DEAR ABBY: In response to "Fighting in Connecticut," the couple who had a politically mixed marriage, so did we. I am a Republican and my husband is a Democrat. When we met, I was the director of special services for the John Connally for President campaign, and my husband was working for Ted Kennedy's bid for the presidency in 1980.

We owned one car, and the problem about which bumper sticker to display came up. We decided to put the Connally sticker on the right side of the bumper with "HERS" beside it, and the Kennedy sticker on the left side with "HIS" beside it.

We also agreed to respect each other's political preferences -- we made love, not war. Fifteen years later, love is still winning. Sign us ... NOT FIGHT-

HOW TO WRITE A CLASSIFIED AD

Start your ad with the item for sale, service you are offering, or job title of the person you're looking for. Be descriptive. The detail information is what sells the item to the reader. Always include the price of the item. Avoid abbreviations they only confuse the reader. Run your ad for an ample length of time. Remember, always check your ad for correct phone numbers, addresses, etc. on the first day of publication.

NOVENA PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Holy spirit you who make me see everything and shows me the way to teach my ideas, you who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me. I in this short dialogue want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones your perpetual glory. AMEN Thank you for your love towards me and my loved one. Say this prayer for three consecutive days asking for your request. After the third day your wish will be granted no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this dialogue as soon as your favor has been granted.
