Nursing home given extension

■ Recent survey finds improvements warranting extension

By KELLIE JONES Staff Writer

Comanche Trail Nursing Center has been given an extension to come into compliwith the Texas Department of Human Services so the facility will not lose its Medicaid funding.

· Officials with DHS surveyed the nursing home on Oct. 14 to see if any improvements had been made towards improving the health and safety of its residents.

"We reduced the termination day from 23 days to 90 days. What that means is there has been substantial improvements made to turn things around so they received an extension. Although they still are not in complete compliance with Medicaid, we gave them the 90 days so the staff would have more time," explained Assistant Commissioner of Long Term Care-Regulatory Chouteau.

Chouteau adds the survey team was very impressed with the changes and felt comfortable in giving the extension.

"The staff they have now is new and are currently being trained. Everyone at Comanche Trail is doing good work with the help of the consultants and trustees. I feel very confident they will clear the compliance survey before the 90 day termination," Chouteau continued.

The center has until Dec. 24 to make the changes DHS recommended and come into compliance with Medicaid.

Leak shuts city down for several hours

Coahoma PTA readies holiday supper, festival

By KELLIE JONES Staff Writer

Halloween is just around the corner with members of the Coahoma Elementary PTA gearing up for their third annual Halloween supper and carnival.

The group just completed its membership drive and Marsha Bishop, president, says they have 201 members including 35 teachers and aides.

"The supper and carnival will be in the school's cafeteria on Saturday, Oct. 29. The supper is from 5 to 7 p.m. and the carnival runs from 6 to 9 p.m. with other organizations buying booths.

"Tickets are $2.50 in advance or $3 at the door for the supper and includes stew, cornbread, salad, dessert and a drink. We have some booths left with the big ones renting for $50 and small ones for $25," said Bishop.

If your group is interested in having a booth at the carnival, contact Angie Clanton at 393-

The Boy Scouts will have a spook house and basketball toss. Bishop adds other booths include a cake walk, t-shirt walk, coke ring toss and balloon pop. The second graders booth will be a pie throw and the third graders a card-dart throw.

Nearly 80 donated items or cash awards are being donated by area businesses and include dinner for two and cases of soft drinks. Tickets for the raffle are $1 and can be purchased at the carnival.

The money raised from the Halloween festivities will benefit the elementary students. "We are looking into purchasing something for traffic control on the east side of the school, perhaps crossing guards or 20 miles per hour signs with the flashing yellow lights. The PTA and Mary Jane Club are going into together to purchase vests for the sixth graders so they can be in charge of the crosswalks.

"The elementary teachers also mentioned they would like some precut ABC's to use in their classrooms so some of the money will be used for that. We also sponsor the kids field days and supply cokes. We sponsor "Jump Rope for Heart" and supply Gatorade, crackers or grapes for the students," Bishop

Some of the service projects the group is doing this school year include selling school packs to students and having a Christmas store. Both projects are offered as services to students and not fund raisers for the group.

Bishop says the Christmas store offers items to students and range in price from five cents to $5. The students have the opportunity to come to the store and purchase gifts for their parents, grandparents or siblings without the parents' assistance.

Detectives wish they had DNA tool back in 1952

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - Frank Castillon marvels at how genetic testing has revolutionized the art of criminal detection.

If only he had the tool in 1952, he might know who killed Florence Elder.

A 19-year-old male pedestrian had found the nude body of Mrs. Elder, 41, floating face up in the San Antonio River at what is now the McCullough Avenue bridge on the northeastern fringe of downtown.

She had been stabbed 31 times. It was 10:30 a.m., Feb. 5, Castillon and Bill Lambkin were San Antonio police homicide detectives. Lambkin was a veteran of the identification

"When they first found her, they didn't know who she was. I identified her through her fingerprints," Lambkin, now 77, told the San Antonio Express-News for a story in today's ediYou can imagine what could be done now with DNA.

Frank Castillon

Police found evidence of a violent struggle on the river bank near where the body was found. Clothing and personal effects littered the area. Mrs. Elder's lipstick, rouge and compact were found on the bank, along with a bra, a man's blue sock and a black glove.

A condom also was found at the scene, although the find never was made public, says Castillon, now 69 and retired. At the time, the condom wasn't much to go on. Today, it could have been a case-breaker. Castillon remembers the con-dem found at the scene as one piece of evidence that tended to exonerate Mrs. Elder's husband, Mansell Elder.

"You can imagine what could be done now with DNA," he said.

Mansell Elder, 43, was an alcoholic who, after his wife's death, was never known to take a drink again, Castillon said.

"He would go into the bars he used to frequent, sit at the table with his old drinking buddies and he wouldn't touch it," Lambkin said.

The Elders had lived in a tworoom apartment about two blocks east of what is now Hemisfair Plaza.

According to newspaper accounts of the time, police arrested Mansell Elder and questioned him for three hours after they identified his wife.

However, Elder told police he and his wife had been in a bar drinking all afternoon the previous day before going home, where he passed out. The bar owner placed the Elders' departure at 8:30 p.m. The bar owner said the couple left about 8:30

Elder said he awoke the next morning to find his wife and most of her clothes gone. He told detectives that he was not concerned by his wife's disappearance; she had left him several times before.

Elder was released the following day. The murder story was pushed off the San Antonio front pages one week later by the death of Britain's King George VI.

Eventually, all leads dried up, and Mansell Elder died. Nevertheless, Castillon and Lambkin still suspect the hus-

"We always suspected the husband, but we could never prove it. We ran him on the polygraph not once but several times, and it came out inconclusive," Lambkin said.

Today, the file on the Florence Elder murder rests in an old, yellowed cardboard box in the city archives at the old Bexar County Jail.

Since there is no statute of limitations on murder, unsolved cases are never closed. However, Mrs. Elder's murder is the oldest unsolved murder case on San Antonio's books, and police service agent Jim Caruso says the case only promises to get older. There have been no fresh leads in the case in decades, he said.

Mitchell County recently Commissioners approved the purchase of three new dump trucks for Precincts Commissioners met Oct. 10 and accepted bids from Hutchin Ford Sales in Colorado City to supply the trucks. County Judge Ray Mayo says the vehicle for Precinct 1 was $55,520 and the price tag for the other two was a total of $113,040.

"We received one bid for the truck in Precinct 1 and two bids for the other two trucks. The second bid was from a company in San Angelo and it was actually less but they didn't meet the requirements for the transmission so we awarded the bids to Hutchin," explained Mayo.

The county also received a $46,685 grant from the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse to continue the Resistance Abuse Education program.

"Deputy Sheriff Tommy Dill is in charge of presenting the DARE program to the various grades this school year. There was a $2.300 local match from the county to help the program as well," Mayo added. Commissioners approved the hiring of Adon Madrid to be the new community service restitution coordinator. Ricardo Ramirez resigned to accept another job and Madrid was hired to take his place.

Mayo says the coordinator is responsible for overseeing people who are put on probation and must perform community service as part of their agree-

Tim McClarty, an architect from Abilene, also addressed the commissioners to discuss refurbishing the restrooms at the county's agriculture barn.

Mayo says they will soon be accepting bids for the work so the restrooms can be upgraded to meet Americans with Disability Act (ADA) standards.

HOUSTON (AP) - City officials are studying an idea that could allow municipal workers to save their jobs by becoming investors in private companies that take over services now provided by City Hall.

City Council member Ben Reyes envisions giving municipal employees the opportunity to become stockholders in companies specially formed to take over certain city services.

The head of the municipal workers' union does not care much for the idea, however.

Under the plan, workers not only retain their jobs, they would become owners and managers of their own company. Reyes says that would create incentive to be more productive and provide better service to the two majority votes Saturday night, congregations of the assembly of the Christian Church, also known as Disciples of Christ, decided against ordaining gays and lesbians.

Regional assembly votes against ordaining gays

However, a third vote reaffirmed the church's policy that allows individual congregations to choose their own leaders.

Almost 60 percent of the churches, which were given one voting delegate for every 100 members, opposed ordaining homosexuals. On another ballot, almost 65 percent voted against a resolution that said the church would not prevent an avowed, practicing homosexual from being ordained.

In a third resolution, almost 55 percent favored leaving a decision on ministers to individual congregations.

Rain hampers crash investigation

COLLEGE STATION (AP) -Heavy rain Sunday hampered efforts to determine what caused a single-engine airplane to crash on takeoff shortly after the end of Saturday's Baylor-Texas A&M football game, killing one person and injuring four.

A National Transportation Safety Board investigator will continue the investigation at Easterwood Airport, said Bob Wiatt, director of the Texas University Department. The airport is owned and operated by the uni-

Floods claim one life in Southeast Texas

At least one person drowned early today as extensive flash flooding spread across a vast area of Southeast Texas.

Officers said the fatality was reported near Conroe in Montgomery County and involved an incident in which a car was swept off the road by rising water.

Further details were not immediately available.

Authorities said some of the worst flooding in Southeast Texas was in Montgomery County.

Officials said flooding along a creek near Lake Livingston forced at least 10 families from their homes early today as severe thunderstorms lashed many parts of Southeast and North Central Texas.

Forecasts called for more rainfall across the state today. The biggest trouble was along Kickapoo Creek, a Trinity River tributary north of the Lake Livingston community Onalaska.

'We've probably moved 10 to 15 families so far, and we're looking for more," said John McDowell, Polk County emergency management coordinator.

No injuries were immediately reported, but heavy rain continued to fall throughout the predawn hours in the Kickapoo Creek area, McDowell said.

"We've got boats in the creek looking for people in trouble," he said. "The stream bed is pretty narrow. It'll get real high real fast, but it'll fall just as fast when it stops raining."

thunderstorms Severe dropped as much as 9 inches of rain over portions of Texas early today, prompting flash flood warnings in many areas.

The heaviest rainfall occurred in the Lake Livingston area along the Trinity River, about 70 miles north of Houston; and in the Tomball area along the Harris-Montgomery county line, just north of Houston.

Many roads were made temporarily impassable by flood waters, including U.S. 287 between Corrigan and Groveton and U.S. 59 near Shepherd, officials said. Both are northeast of Houston. Both are in the Lake Livingston area.

Rain fell at the rate of an inch per hour throughout the night in many areas. Nacogdoches reported at least 5 inches of rain early today, while Lufkin reported 7) inches.

College Station reported more than 5.7 inches of rain Sunday night and early today, resulting in downtown street flooding.

Time for Halloween safety tips

Yow that we're halfway through October, it's time to start instructing children on Halloween safety.

The sooner we start, the more information we can give and hopefully, the more information our children will remember. Youngsters at Anderson Kindergarten Center got a headstart on Halloween safety this morning when McGruff the Dog visited classrooms to encourage safe trick-or-treating.

Some of the wisdom imparted by McGruff and his helper. Faith Harsh of Scenic Mountain Home Health, included popular tips such as wearing light or reflective clothing, never trick-or-treating alone and staying in familiar neighborhoods.

An important tip given by Harsh

Even in a relatively small city such as Big Spring, some of us are still strangers to each other. We don't know what, or who, may pose a threat to children on the eve of witches and goblins.

Teaching kids to protect themselves is one of the best Halloween treats we can give them, and it's not too soon to start.

been made worse by a Republican administration that vetoed earlier efforts to increase prison construction. The state prison system was operating under a federal court order and Texas counties had taken the state to court because of jail overcrowding at the local level.

In less than three years in office, Ann Richards has more than doubled the number of prison cells in Texas, cut early release of violent offenders, rewritten the penal code to keep the state's most violent offenders behind bars, and successfully removed the courts from the Texas prison system. Her efforts have led to the first reduction in the state's crime rate in 10 years. Ann Richards is leading the fight against crime. Here is what she has already accomplished in her first term: Crime Rate: Reduced early release of violent offenders by almost two-thirds, leading to an overall reduction in the crime rate by almost 10 percent. Penal Code Reform: Doubled the minimum sentence for violent offenders by reforming the state's 20-year-old penal code.

Passage of Jail Bonds: Gov. Richards led the fight for the construction of 60,000 new prison cells--building more prison cells than any other governor in the state's history.

Late night negotiations end in Israel, Jordan peace accord

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) -After negotiations to resolve water sharing and border disputes dragged late into the night, Israel and Jordan agreed to initial a draft peace accord today, an Israeli official said.

Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin's spokesman told Israel Radio that Rabin and Jordan's King Hussein would initial the draft at 1:30 p.m. (7:30 a.m. EDT).

"There was a very good meeting this morning between the prime minister and the king. A few minutes ago, the prime minister came back to us and told us that a peace treaty will be initialed at 1:30 p.m. between Israel and Jordan," spokesman Oded Ben-Ami told the radio.

Rabin and Hussein, who led overnight negotiations to hammer out differences, scheduled a news conference for later today.

Israel has agreed to return to Jordan most of the lands it demanded, but will lease certain areas that include Israeli settlements or farms, according an Israeli official in Jerusalem who spoke on condition of anonymity. Other land disputes have been settled by swapping territory, he said.

On water issues, the two sides agreed to start new projects on the Yarmouk River to increase the amounts flowing to Jordan. Israel and Jordan also asked the World Bank to finance additional projects, the official said.

It was Rabin's third visit to Jordan in two weeks and his fourth since July 25, when Jordan and Israel declared an end to a 46-year state of war between them.

Shimon Sheves, a senior Rabin aide, said both sides good progress overnight negotiations.

"We sat together throughout the night. The atmosphere was exceptional. The prime minister and the king went through the draft of a peace treaty paragraph by paragraph. We made very serious progress," Sheves told Israel army radio in a telephone interview from Amman.

At least 3,000 people were killed under repressive military rule after Aristide was overthrown in a September 1991 coup. As an old Haitian proverb says: "The giver of the blow never remembers. The bearer of the blow never forgets.

Several hundred Haitians waited outside Sunday when Jean-Claude Gen. Duperval, the interim army Unfounded rumors that the interim police chief had tried to kill Aristide had fueled the people's fury. Some in the crowd carried sticks and machetes, shouting, "Give us Duperval! We don't want the army any-

U.S., Russia divided over response to Hussein

KUWAIT (AP) — Though his troops are retreating, Saddam Hussein has achieved at least one victory: he has left Russian and American diplomats deeply divided over how to respond to his provocations.

U.S. officials had open differences with Russia on Sunday over the lifting of U.N. sanctions against Iraq and how far U.N. resolutions go in authorizing attacks on Iraqi troops. Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Kozyrev and Secretary of State Warren Christopher were meeting today in New York to try and bridge their widening gap on Iraq. Russia, which has been urging that U.N. sanctions against Iraq be lifted, reluctantly went along with a Security Council vote late Saturday demanding Iraq withdraw its elite troops from the Kuwaiti border.

But while the U.S. focused on troop movements, the Russians appeared to be promoting Saddam's peace moves. Kozyrev told reporters that Saddam promised him last week that Iraq would recognize Kuwait's border and sovereignty.

Kozyrev might have other reasons for urging that the sanctions be lifted — Iraq reportedly owes Russia billions of dollars that could only be repaid when Iraqi oil starts flowing to world markets again.

President Clinton and U.S. officials, meanwhile, took a harder stance against the man who ignited the Gulf war with his 1990 invasion of Kuwait.

Assembly at Rodham rally painfully sparse

MIAMI (AP) - It was a oncein-a-lifetime chance to see the president of the United States. up close and personal, for only $10 — the price of a ticket to a rally for Democratic Senate candidate Hugh Rodham.

But the assemblage at the seaport convention hall was painfully sparse.

In a room meant for several thousand, about 200 people clustered under patriotic bunting and Rodham-for-Senate signs.

And on the small stage, a tableau of Rodham family solidarity: Hugh and his wife, Maria; brother Tony, the campaign manager, and his wife, Nicole, daughter of a senator; sister Hillary, the first lady, and her husband, Bill, the president.

Quite a lineup for a candidate at 20 percent in polls against a resolutions required to bring Republican incumbent, Connie Mack, who's in the 65-percent tions. range.

"I know the uphill battle Hugh Rodham has," Clinton said in the understatement of the night. Even he, the plurality president, managed 43 percent.

But this was a labor of love, or so went the spin.

Christopher: U.S. won't wait the next time

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States will not wait to retaliate the next time Saddam Hussein sends his troops south to threaten Kuwait, Secretary of State Warren Christopher said

The warning came a day after the U.N. Security Council unanimously voted to demand that Iraq end all "hostile or provocative" actions against Kuwait.

"The message is clear," President Clinton said Sunday. "Iraq must complete its withdrawal. It must not threaten its neighbors in the future."

Christopher, speaking on NBC's "Meet the Press;" also said it was improbable that Saddam can stay in power even if he complies with all the U.N. about a lifting of economic sanc-

Christopher emphasized that the United States has all the necessary authority it needs under existing U.N. resolutions to attack Iraqi forces moving toward the Kuwaiti border.

"Next time, we'll probably not wait. We will take action, strong action against him," the secretary said.

Christopher's warning was echoed by U.S. Ambassador to the U.N. Madeleine K. Albright, who said the Mideast region is vital to U.S. national interests and the United States is prepared to go it alone to stop Iraqi aggression.

The United States will work "multilaterally when we can, unilaterally when we must," she said on ABC's "This Week With David Brinkley."

Food banks worry about federal cuts in food supplies

WASHINGTON (AP) - Food pantries around the country are worried about closing their doors to hungry Americans this winter as the federal government cuts the amount of food it provides to them.

In a money-saving move by the Clinton administration, the Agriculture Department will spend just $25 million this fiscal year to supply food banks and other programs for the poor with flour, corn meal, canned vegetables, fruits and meats.

Last year, USDA distributed $80 million in commodities under The Emergency Food Assistance Program, or TEFAP, known for the great cheese and butter giveaways of the 1980s.

Food bank directors say they cannot expect the private sector to make up for the loss in commodities because donations from manufacturers and grocers are declining, due to greater efficiency and less

At the same time, poverty is on the rise and food bank directors say growing numbers of families with children and the working poor are turning to local pantries for a bag of gro-

A study earlier this year by Second Harvest, a nationwide network of food banks, found nearly 26 million Americans rely on food pantries, soup kitchens and emergency feeding programs.

"The impact (of the cuts) is going to be very dramatic," said Dick Goebel, executive director of the Second Harvest St. Paul Food Bank in Minnesota.

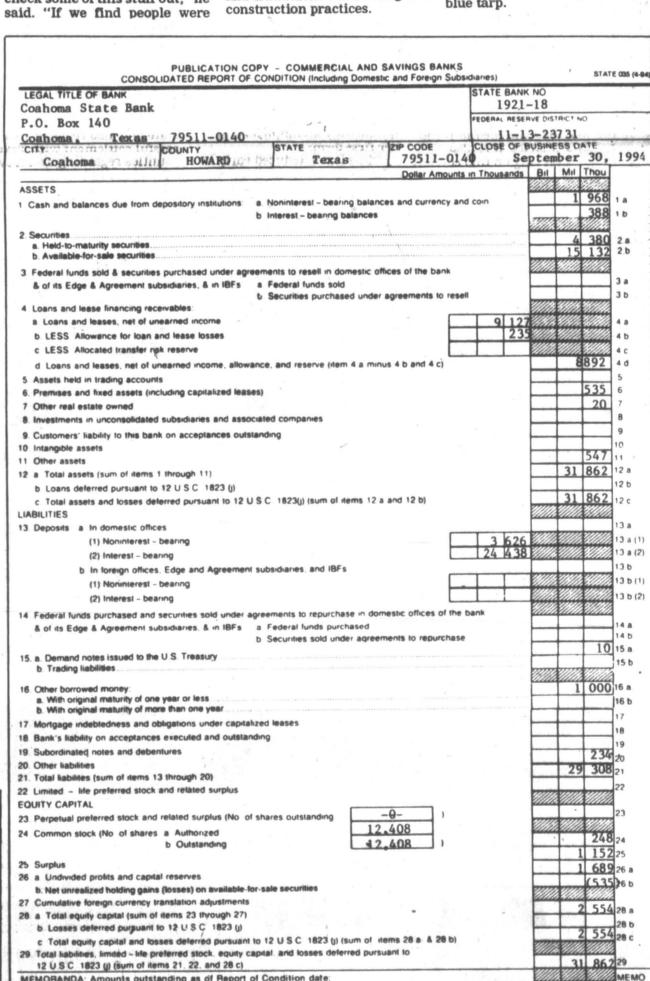

Goebel said he is especially concerned about rural food banks nationwide, as well as in his own state, because federal commodities tend to account for a high percentage of the food they distribute.

Instead of running full time, they may decide to open only a couple of days a week and to lay off some workers, he said.

Judy Perry, executive director of Harvesters-The Community Food Network in Kansas City, Mo., said 15 inner-city pantries served by her food bank may

"They won't be getting enough food and they don't have the funds to purchase food," she said. "They also have limited donations of food coming in from other sources, so the commodities are really important to their pantries."

Perry said the pantries most at risk are located in public housing and senior citizen housing, and many of the people they serve lack transportation.

It's a long wait for a hole-in-one

By DAVE HARGRAVE Sports Editor

On Sept. 26, Big Spring's Pat Gent teed off on the 144-yard, par-3 15th hole of Comanche Trail Golf Course. Gent, 68, started golfing at age 12, but more than 50 years later he had yet to sink a hole-in-one.

"It was about normal weather," Gent said. "I usually shoot a 6- or a 7-iron on that hole, and there was not much wind, so I shot a 7-iron. My eyes aren't that good anymore, and I remember seeing the ball bounce one time. Then I lost it."

As Gent's group approached the hole, they began to suspect Gent's shot had found the cup. Indeed, one of Gent's playing partners found the ball in the

"It was in there, and one of the guys playing with me asked if I wanted to take the ball out of the cup myself," Gent said. "I just said 'If it's in there, take it out."

Just like that, Gent had his first hole-in-one, but he said his golfing partners and others at the course made a bigger deal about the shot than he did.

"I had made a lot of eagles on 4-pars, you know, making your second shot on a par-4. I had a lot of those, but a hole-in-one, I never had got one," Gent said. "I'd seen them before - I've been with my son and saw him make one, but he's a lot younger than Gent said he has played at least two or three times a week since he retired. If he's anything like Big Spring's Buddie Campbell, he may sink another hole in-one soon.

Campbell, 71, didn't make a hole-in-one this year, but he made one last year and the year before. That's how hole-in-ones go you can golf for years without sinking one, then you might make two in less than a year's

"I made one on the 15th and one on the first, within a year apart," Campbell said.

both hole-in-ones, Campbell didn't have to walk to the hole to confirm his shot. He knew right away.

"On hole number 1, you can't really tell, but a bunch in our group was on the No. 2 tee, and we knew from them that I had made it," Campbell said. "The other one, the one I made on 15, there were people walking up No.114, and they saw my shot and got all excited. We knew then, too.

"Dust happened to get a lucky

There's skill involved, too, but luck may be the main ingredient for a hole-in-one.

"You never know, but I may never do it again," Gent said. "Someone asks me if that was my first, and then they said they had made two. Then they pointed to one guy and said, 'See that guy over there. He's got seven of them.' Now, I don't know if that's true, but I guess it just depends on who you are.

"I wasn't elated or nothing. It wasn't that big of a deal, but I did enjoy it. I'd hate to think that I could play all my life and not ever make a hole-in-one."

Cowboys cut down Eagles

IRVING, Texas (AP) - This time, an NFC East challenger to the defending world champion Dallas Cowboys made them go all four quarters. The Cowboys got a clear-cut decision, but the opponent wasn't on the ground at the end.

It wasn't a knockout like the ones the Cowboys delivered against Washington and Arizona, but Dallas outpointed the upstart Philadelphia Eagles 24-13 Sunday in a showdown for the NFC East leader-

The Cowboys have won 10 consecutive games over NFC East foes dating back to a 35-16 loss to Washington in the 1993 opener. The Cowboys defeated Washington 34-7 and Arizona 38-3 in games earlier this year.

The NFL's top-ranked defense intercepted Randall Cunningham four times while Troy Aikman threw two touchdown passes and Emmitt Smith rushed for 106 yards and scored a touchdown.

"Dallas is no different than when they won those two Super Bowls," Cunningham said. "They're going to be good for the next five years because of all their young players.'

Smith said the Cowboys showed they can play average Philadelphia First Quarter Phi-Walker 32 pass from Cunningham (Murray kick), 9:31 Dal-E.Smith 2 run (Boniol kick), 13:11.

and still win.

"We were out of sync early but we finally put together some big plays," Smith said. "We won despite playing poorly at the start.

Aikman said he'll take it. "This is a big step for us, a big game," Aikman said. 'We're playing as well right now as we were at this point last year.'

Dallas, which has defeated the Eagles five consecutive times, improved to 5-1, and the Eagles dropped to 4-2.

"We're the better team, and we proved it," Dallas coach Barry Switzer said. "I was impressed with the way Troy kept his composure when things were going bad early. He fought off all the negatives and kept his poise. If this guy goes nuts, then it's all over for Dallas jumped ahead 21-7 early in the third period after Darren Woodson intercepted Cunningham at Philadelphia 31. Aikman made the Eagles pay with a 14-yard scoring strike to tight end Jay Novacek. Then Chris Boniol put the game out of reach with a 37-yard field goal in the fourth period for a 24-7 edge.

The Eagles tried to come back. James Joseph scored on a 34-yard touchdown run and Mark Woodward recovered an onside kick. Cunningham then took Philadelphia downfield before Larry Brown intercepted a pass in the end zone.

Dallas defensive lineman Chad Hennings had two of the Cowboys' four sacks.

Up next for the Cowboys is a visit to Arizona.

Arguably, the two best defensive backs in a decade or so have been Woodson and former San Francisco 49ers safety Ronnie Lott, who is now a New York Jet. your own thing. * TAURUS (April 20-May 20):

Confusion is very high. Confirm information once more before making decisions. A change in plans may not feel good but it is inevitable. Do not fight the natural order. Be clear in your choices. Tonight: Run home, turn on the answering machine and vanish. ***

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Confusion surrounds a partnership or a money matter. You may need answers that are not forthcoming. Let go of frustration. You are cared for, though perhaps in an odd way. Focus is on success, friendship and surmounting old obstacles. * Tonight: Make merry. ****

CANCER (June 21-July 22): It's very easy for you to solve a problem if you don't get focused on what others are - doing. Claim your own power. The more upbeat you are about who you are, the better off you will be. You have opportunities this dynamic day. Tonight: Work late. ****

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You refeel the effects of an energy sag. Say no to additional work, but keep communications flowing. The clearer you are about what you want, the better. Eliminate unnecessary red tape. Don't take on additional work. Tonight: Hang out with friends.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): A lot happens quickly and you may need to pace yourself. Awareness of your choices will help. Listen to what another offers. Flirtation could get you into trouble. Walk the conserv--ative VIRGO path. Tonight: Be with your best friend. Stay out of trouble. ****

- LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): What is happening at home may be stressful. Dance through a situation. Your awareness of what's going on is critical. Because you are so tuned in to a situation, you do well. Listen to what another is the lines or ask. CAPRICORN saying. Release an old issue. causes a lot of confusion.

Tonight: Out and about. ***

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Double-check your schedule. If you do not get a return call or expected response, do not be upset. Another cares about you but has an odd way of showing it. Stay centered and concentrate. Tonight: Work late. Don't worry about everybody else.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): This is an unusual period right now with a lot going on. Confusion about money marks this period, so be careful. Creativity and risk-taking are high. However, walking a cautious path will help you. Be clear about goals. Tonight: Make merry. You deserve it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Confusion is the order of the day. Be sure about what you want. Do not make unreasonable demands. The response will be only negative. Slow your flexibility dealing with a family member. An investment right now might be a bad idea. Tonight: Order in. ***

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Communications are active. Be sure of yourself and what you want. You may be misconstruing a situation. Loosen up. The easier going you are, the happier you will be. Opportunities to get ahead count. Tonight: Hang out with a best friend. ****

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Goals are confusing at best. Be aware of your financial desires and design an active program to get what you want. Wishful thinking doesn't work. A friend give you advice, though good intentions aren't enough. Be open to change. Tonight: Work on the budget. ****

IF OCT. 18 IS YOUR BIRTH-DAY: There is confusion on the home front this year. Consider your options. As opportunities appear, act. Be more concerned with bottom lines, what you want and your choices. If single, you have opportunities to meet people. You may not want to take it to the next step this year. Stay open. If you are attached, be aware of what others ask from you.
