

The Wichita Times

Published at The Times Building, Corner Seventh Street and First Avenue.

The Times Publishing Company (Printers and Publishers.)

Officers and Directors: Frank Keel, President; R. E. Huff, Vice President; Ed Howard, General Manager; G. D. Anderson, Sec'y. and Treas.; T. C. Thatcher, J. A. Kemp, Wiley Blair.

Subscription Rates: 3 months $1.00; 6 months $1.80; Year $3.50.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wichita Falls as second-class mail matter.

Ed Howard, General Manager.

The talk of a new city hall for Wichita Falls should be continued. While the present building was adequate for all purposes at the time it was constructed, the city has outgrown it, and it is better to secure a site now than to wait until later, when sites will be more scarce and much more valuable.

The scholastic census for 1912 in Texas shows there are more than one million school children, and there is nearly $7 of State school money for each child within the scholastic age.

We know of a man in a city who repaired his home. It looked so nice that the city assessor raised the assessment on the place $250.

It is the same the world over. The fellow who tries to do the right thing not only has to pay for the improvements, but has to stand for the extra tax. This, to some extent, at least, accounts for so many people allowing their premises to go down instead of keeping them looking fresh and new.

"Should I be entrusted with the great office of president, I would seek counsel wherever it could be had upon free terms. I know the temper of the great convention which nominated me; I know the temper of the country that lay back of that convention and spoke through it.

We are far from discouraging legitimate sports. Men as well as boys must have recreation, and clean games are to be approved, but the ordinary pool room these days is far from ideal in respect to health or morals.

Senator Culbertson is home "fit and in the best of health," says newspaper accounts, and he is in an optimistic mood.

Another drama in the Boyce-Sneed drama was enacted in Amarillo Saturday afternoon when J. B. Sneed shot and instantly killed Al Boyce, shooting him with a shot gun loaded with buckshot.

Mr. Culbertson is a man of good judgment. When he speaks the public knows that he has thoroughly made up his mind and then all the king's horses and all the king's men couldn't change him.

This means that President Wilson will probably tender to a Texan the portfolio of secretary of state, which will be refused because the Texan believes the position of senator from the Lone Star State, next to president, is the biggest job an American can hold.

Thirteen seems to be Gov. Wilson's lucky number. He prefers that to all others at hotels or on Pullman cars.

It has been suggested by some members and friends of the Y. M. C. A. that a benefit be given to provide temporary funds and start a building fund also.

Bellevue Park to obtain funds with which to purchase it. As The Times understands the matter, the "Seven Sisters" is now the property of gentlemen who bought it with the idea of selling it to the city for a park and there need be no haste in taking it over.

The political gang that serves not the people, but the protected interests. "There is nothing we eat or wear on which we do not pay tariff tribute to the trusts.

It is argued that the lake and attractions there give Wichitians recreation that is ample. But a working-man with a large family can ill afford to make the trip there very often.

Amorillo is now getting lots of advertising from the Sneed-Boyce affair, but lets hope that such occurrences will not grow popular on that account.

What happened in New Jersey, we are hopeful, will happen throughout the whole country next November.

The pecan crop is unusually heavy this year, and after the first heavy frost falls nut gathering will be the order of the day.

Whitney is not particularly an admirer of Roosevelt. All it hopes he will accomplish in this presidential contest is that he will finish a good record over the present incumbent that there are many things about the Colonel that even a Southerner is bound to admire.

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

The Times is not particularly an admirer of Roosevelt. All it hopes he will accomplish in this presidential contest is that he will finish a good record over the present incumbent that there are many things about the Colonel that even a Southerner is bound to admire.

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

The Times is not particularly an admirer of Roosevelt. All it hopes he will accomplish in this presidential contest is that he will finish a good record over the present incumbent that there are many things about the Colonel that even a Southerner is bound to admire.

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

Senator Daniel of Virginia said of the Confederate women: "She worked in the field by day to make bread for her children. She spun and wove at night to make clothes for her dependent ones."

MOON BUGGIES ARE THE BEST. We offer a selection from a new car load, just received of the Celebrated Moon Bros. Buggies and Carriages. The line includes every desired style, from steel-tired runabouts to two-seated rubber-tired fall top carriages, and each style is warranted by the makers, and by us, to be the best it is possible to make.

THE VOTE OUGHT TO BE PRACTICALLY UNANIMOUS FOR THIS AMENDMENT. Wichita county voters are reminded that an amendment will be voted on in the November election to levy on a tax of 5 cents on the hundred dollars valuation to create a fund to pension Confederate soldiers and their widows.

GOV. WILSON'S ATTITUDE TOWARD LABOR. Quotations from a baccalaureate address delivered a number of years ago to graduates of Princeton University by Governor Wilson, then president of the University are being circulated by the Republicans and Progressives in an attempt to discredit Governor Wilson with the laboring men of the country.

SUGGESTS THAT A REWARD BE OFFERED. Editor Times: Permit me to express by appreciation of the sentiment expressed in your paper, favoring the prosecution of the party who ran down Mr. Geo. A. Sneed recently on the Lake road with an automobile. Mr. Sneed is still confined to his bed and may be for some time yet.

JUDGE SPEER ON COURT REFORM. Judge Cecil Speer of Fort Worth addressed the Lawyers' Luncheon Club of that city last Saturday night on the subject of court reform. This is one of the statements made by him: "Many of the delays and the tragedies of our courts are traceable to the efforts of attorneys who, by various tricks of the profession, thwart the intent of our statutes through technicalities. The opportunity to do this should be swept away from them by a revision of court procedure, for a lawyer who does this fights justice in his hand."

THE VICTORY OF WILSON FORCES IN NEW JERSEY. The sweeping victory of the Wilson candidate for nomination for United States Senator on the Democratic ticket in New Jersey, in the primaries yesterday over Former Senator Smith who once held supreme power in New Jersey in the Democratic ranks, is an encouraging sign.

WHY DR. PETERS IS FOR WILSON. New York, Sept.—Rev. Madison C. Peters, who is a personal friend of both Taft and Roosevelt, has given up his church in Brooklyn until after election, that he may devote all his time to discussing the high cost of living.

Where a Good Wife Comes in Handy. "Fighting the Deadly Habit" is the title in the October American Magazine of an article which contains the story of Charles B. Towns, a great expert in the treatment of alcohol and drug fiends. Following is something that Towns is quoted as saying: "The minute a man begins to edge off a little from the straight and normal thing in life, you want to watch out. He's in danger. That's where a good wife comes in handy. I tell you, you show me a man that's living straight and clean, doing his work hard and well, with a clear eye and a good skin and a direct way about him—and you don't need to hand me any yardstick to measure the caliber with."

Says That Drinkards Have No Real Nerve. Charles B. Towns, a great expert on alcohol and drug fiends, has the following to say in an article entitled "Fighting the Deadly Habit," published in the October American Magazine: "The man that's drinking has no real nerve. He's got a lot of bluster, but give him just one look that shows him you mean business, and that'll be about all from him."

Says That Drinkards Have No Real Nerve. Charles B. Towns, a great expert on alcohol and drug fiends, has the following to say in an article entitled "Fighting the Deadly Habit," published in the October American Magazine: "The man that's drinking has no real nerve. He's got a lot of bluster, but give him just one look that shows him you mean business, and that'll be about all from him."

Says That Drinkards Have No Real Nerve. Charles B. Towns, a great expert on alcohol and drug fiends, has the following to say in an article entitled "Fighting the Deadly Habit," published in the October American Magazine: "The man that's drinking has no real nerve. He's got a lot of bluster, but give him just one look that shows him you mean business, and that'll be about all from him."

