ARMED PEACE AT LAWRENCE

PRESIDENT OF AMERICAN WOOLLEN CO. REFUSES TO MEET STRIKE COMMITTEE.

PARADING THE STREETS

Thousands of Operatives Join in Great Demonstration Before Bayonets of Militia.

By Associated Press. Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 16.—While armed peace prevailed in the strike of the textile mill operatives here today, President Wood of the American Woolen Company declined to meet a committee of strikers to arrange for the arbitration of their grievances. The walkout threepart spread to the four North Andover mills.

A thousand strikers paraded the streets. Occasionally militiamen were compelled to threaten them with bayonets. Picketing was done peacefully, only one arrest being made.

SAYS WHITE OFFERED TO GIVE HIS VOTE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—Senator Lorimer in his testimony before the Senate committee investigating his election, was dramatic in the extreme. He told the story of his life, not quite in the way he told it in his speech in the Senate, and with many homely details.

Blacking boots at the age of 10 to support a widowed mother and five brothers and sisters, then a cash boy, a laborer wheeling coal, and a house painter, a street car conductor and a building contractor, were the successive steps he detailed in his progress to his present position as president of a National bank. He traced his way in politics from a constable to a seat in the United States Senate.

"He came to me and volunteered his vote," replied Senator Lorimer. "It was about ten days before my election."

"Did White suggest he ought to have something for 'his vote'?" "He never mentioned such a thing."

"The portion of Lorimer's testimony conflicted with the statements of other witnesses. While testifying to the committee that he had never heard Lorimer mentioned as a Senatorial possibility until two days before the election, when he testified Lee O'Neil Browne, who was charged with assisting the 'handler' of the money" came to his room and "fixed it up," Browne in turn, before the committee denied White's story of bribery and declared that White had pledged his vote to Lorimer a week before.

"Why didn't you testify in your own behalf at the former investigation?" asked Judge Haney. The fact that he did not testify is said to have had much weight in influencing the Senate's decision to order the rehearing.

"Why, in the first place, counsel for the Chicago Tribune were prosecuting the case," replied Mr. Lorimer, "and they stated they did not intend to connect me personally with any bribery or corruption. I felt it was below the office I was holding to go on the stand to deny a charge which had not been made against me and that it would establish a precedent of calling Senators under oath to testify about any charge or lie that might be made against them."

"Did you take into consideration the country-wide interest in 'your case'?" asked Senator Jones. "We had that in mind, but it might not have the same effect or the now, I have lived through this sort of storm a good many years and I suppose I thought if all the people lived in Chicago they would not think this assault unusual."

The story of his life was given in response to a question by Senator Jones. At the close of the story Judge Haney turned Senator Lorimer over to counsel for the committee for cross examination, which had only started when a recess was taken on Monday morning.

W. C. McDONALD, Governor of New Mexico.

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 15.—The festivities incident to a transition from territorial to state government, including the inauguration of W. C. McDonald as first Democratic governor since 1857 and administering the oath to the other executive officers closed last night.

The inauguration ceremony took place at the capitol to which the new officers were escorted by a military and civil parade. The oath was administered to Governor McDonald by Chief Justice C. F. Roberts of the Supreme Court. Other executive officers sworn in today are: Lieutenant Governor, E. C. De Baca, Democrat; Secretary of State, Antonio Lucero, Democrat; Attorney General, Frank Clancy, Republican; Auditor, William G. Sargent, Republican; Treasurer, O. N. Marron, Democrat; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Alvin N. White, Democrat; Commissioner of Public Lands, Robert P. Erwin, Republican; Corporation Commissioner, Hugh N. Williams, Republican; M. S. Gooves, Republican; and George H. Van Stone, Progressive.

In his inaugural address Gov. McDonald urged the adoption of a corrupt practice act, laws for the protection of labor, proper safeguarding of water rights and careful management of reform and penal institutions.

H. S. BASKET BALL TEAM ORGANIZED

The boys-basket ball team of the senior class at the Wichita Falls high school will leave next Friday afternoon for Grandfield, Okla., where the team goes to accept a challenge from the high school boys at that place. Cliff Bullock is captain of the local aggregation and Joe Ward is manager.

The boys here have been practicing steadily for the last several weeks and should be in the best of condition to put up a good game on next Friday afternoon. It is probable that upon their return from Grandfield, they will decide to accept a challenge for two games to be played here with the Y. M. C. A. basket ball team, on dates to be announced later.

Governor W. R. Stubbs of Kansas, one of the original Progressives, has declared himself in favor of the nomination and election of Theodore Roosevelt for president. Governor Stubbs is a warm admirer of Senator Ja. Follette, but believes that he should not be nominated for president for the reason that his removal from the "progressive" leadership of the senate would be to take a great factor for good out of that body and thereby weaken the cause.

Gives the Real Facts in Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good. One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised and took some more.

Before I took Cardui I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

YOUNG BOYCE ON WAY TO TEXAS

DESPITE STATEMENT TO CONTRARY HE IS REPORTED ENROUTE FROM WINNIPEG.

NOW BEFORE GRAND JURY

Prosecution Will Fight Vigorously Any Attempt to Secure Snaed's Release on Bond.

Young Boyce on Way to Texas By Associated Press. Winnipeg, Canada, Jan. 16.—A. G. Boyce, Jr., is said to be on his way to Texas today despite his statement late yesterday that he would remain in Canada.

Fort Worth, Texas, Jan. 16.—Confining himself to the bare facts of the tragedy District Attorney Judge Simmons delivered a special charge in the Boyce case to the grand jury this morning. Action is expected by Wednesday morning. Efforts to locate Mrs. J. B. Snaed are futile.

The sanitarium authorities where Mrs. Snaed was formerly confined, deny she is there. Relatives are said to have removed her but these relatives deny any knowledge of her whereabouts. It is believed that by Wednesday morning the grand jury indictment will be returned and that then the defendant will be combatted vigorously by prosecution. Snaed's attorneys at his habeas corpus proceeding are expected to give the first outline of their defense.

Trying his best to maintain his composure, J. Beal Snaed, who Saturday night filed five bulletins into the body of A. G. Boyce, Sr., the 72-year-old father of A. G. Boyce, Jr., who figure in sensational incidents with the wife of A. G. Boyce, Sr., was escorted Monday morning from the county jail to the court of Justice Thomas Mabey by deputy sheriffs. The man glanced nervously over the morning paper, and without taking his eyes off the pages, he said:

"Rev. Mr. Mayfield is mistaken. I was not among those who came forward and promised to lead a better life. He must be mistaken in the man; it was not me."

County Attorney Baskin and Attorney W. H. Hanger, employed by the Boyce family to assist in the prosecution, were on hand. They declared that they would vigorously fight any plans taken to secure the release of the old man's slayer on bond.

"What bond do you want fixed for this defendant?" Attorney W. P. McLean, Jr., one of the counsel for the defendant, queried.

Attorney W. A. Hanger was immediately on his feet. "The idea of bond in such a case at this time is extremely preposterous," he exclaimed, then turning to Justice Mabey, he said that Judge Simmons of the Sixty-seventh district court had ordered the grand jury to convene Tuesday with the special purpose of considering the case of Snaed. He asked that the examining trial be passed until Wednesday afternoon.

HARRY REMBERT NOW ON TRIAL

SEPARATE TRIALS FOR TWO BROTHERS CHARGED WITH KILLING ED HARDWIK

One Witness Testifies He Saw Frank Rembert, Sr. Take Knife From Pocket.

That he saw Frank Rembert, Sr., draw a knife from his pocket while he and his two sons were following Ed Hardwick to the spot on Seventh street where the latter received wounds that resulted in his death, was the testimony of S. F. Hagerman in the trial of Harry Rembert, jointly indicted with his brother, Frank Rembert, Jr., and his father, Frank Rembert, Sr., charged with the murder of Hardwick, in the district court this afternoon.

Hagerman testified that he saw Frank Rembert, Sr., place his arm around Hardwick's neck during the fight.

Hagerman gave this testimony on direct examination late this afternoon and was being subjected to a rigid cross examination at 3 o'clock. He had not testified at the preliminary hearing following the death of Hardwick and his testimony was probably the strongest that was submitted by the state today.

Other witnesses testified that they had seen the two younger Remberts following Hardwick, across Indiana avenue and onto Seventh street pushing and shoving him, but Hagerman was the first witness who testified that he had seen a knife until Frank Rembert, Sr., handed one to Deputy Sheriff Jernigan after Hardwick was stabbed, saying "Here's his knife; he's cut himself" or words to that effect.

The jury was complete this morning after thirty-six of the talesmen had been examined. The defense elected to try the cases separately and chose Harry Rembert's as the first to be placed on trial.

Frank Rembert, Sr., disappeared between the time of the preliminary hearing, and his indictment by the grand jury and the officers have not been able to apprehend him. The State is trying to show a conspiracy between the father and his two sons resulting in the death of Hardwick.

TO TRY MODEL DWELLING PLAN. If a Success, Other Houses Are to Be Constructed by Cincinnati Philanthropist.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 16.—A practical test of the theory of J. G. Schmidlapp, a Cincinnati capitalist and philanthropist, that model hotels for workingmen can be rented for $2.25 and $3.25 a week and still be profitable to the owner, will be made next week. Model three and four-room apartment buildings have been constructed and formal opening of these dwellings has been set for Sunday. The three-room apartments are to rent for $2.25 and the four-room flats at $3.25.

To occupy one of the flats a working man must be receiving wages within a fixed limit. Families with an income of more than $15 weekly and less than $9 will be permitted to rent the three-room flats, while those with incomes of from $12 to $20 may rent the others. The apartments occupy two buildings of pressed brick and cut stone, have back porches, are lighted and heated by gas and have hot and cold water. The walls will be tiled to the tenant.

Families with babies are welcome. Schmidlapp believes rentals of these apartments will be profitable, although three-room flats in the neighborhood command from $14 to $16 a month, according to a real estate agent.

In a building of the Schmidlapp homes, two apartments will be set aside for working girls, receiving minimum wages. A special room will be reserved where a co-operative housekeeping club can be maintained. If the model dwelling plan is a success, other houses will be constructed by Schmidlapp.

Express Messenger Burned to Death. By Associated Press. Jackson, Miss., Jan. 16.—J. W. Stewart, an express messenger, was killed in the wreck of a fast passenger train No. 1, westbound, plunged into a creek at Chunky, Miss., today. The passengers were not seriously hurt.

W.F. & N.W. OFFICIALS LEAVE FOR WOODWARD

Frank Kell, vice president and general manager, Superintendent Sullivan and Livestock Agent E. B. Carver of the Wichita Falls Route left early this morning for Trail, the present terminus of the Wichita Falls and Northwestern.

They will probably cross the river at Trail and go over the route as far as Woodward before returning. Steel has been laid from Woodward north as far as Fort Supply, where the Oklahoma hospital for the insane is located and the Texas-Oklahoma Construction Company is now operating train service over that part of the extension.

Some steel has been laid from Woodward south toward the river and if warmer weather prevails the line will soon be connected up from Wichita Falls to Fort Supply.

Contracts have been closed up for the building of the line as far as Fort Supply in Beaver county, southeast of Liberal, Kansas. While no official announcement has been made it is expected that the coming year will see the line pushed northward into Kansas and possibly into Colorado.

On account of the severe cold and the heavy snows, construction work has been at a standstill for about fifteen days.

Eight or ten of the injured are expected to die. They were several of the assailants. They attempted to escape by mixing with the street crowds but were captured and imprisoned in a nearby house. KENTUCKIAN WILLS HEAD TO DOCTOR

Family Will Not Oppose the Carrying Out of Queer Bequest.

By Associated Press. Middlesboro, Ky., Jan. 16.—Relatives of Smith Fouch say that his dying request that his head be delivered to Dr. Blair of Apache, Okla., will be carried out. The head will be surrendered to Dr. Blair or his representative without opposition from the family. Local attorneys say the law does not prohibit a person from bequeathing any part of his body or the entire remains, if so desired. Fouch was shot in the eye about 25 years ago and Blair saved his life. Blair believed the bullet had been in Fouch's brain for 25 years and wants the head to prove his contention.

Will Claim the Head. Apache, Okla., Jan. 16.—An earnest effort will be made by Dr. Blair of Apache to secure possession of the head of Smith Fouch, who died recently at Whitesboro, Ky., for the purpose of medical demonstration. When the doctor received notice Monday that the man was dead he wired the authorities at Whitesboro that the head belonged to him and that he will send a representative to secure it. Whether it will be severed from the man's body and awarded to him is not known.

Dr. Blair said that when the man originally was shot it was his belief that the bullet lodged in the brain, as he states, some of the man's brains oozed out of the hole through the eye. If he secures the head he will search for the bullet and he expects to prove that Fouch lived twenty-five years with a bullet inside his brain.

The representative of Dr. Blair already is on his way to Kentucky to take charge of the head, if he will be permitted to do so.

A Substantial Appreciation. G. W. Corkhill yesterday afternoon personally called upon Vic Stampfli, chief of the fire department and tendered him a check for ten dollars, showing his appreciation of the services rendered by the department when the fire boys saved his house from the flames on the occasion of the fire last Friday night, when the two houses adjacent to Mr. Corkhill were entirely destroyed by fire.

While the two houses next to his residence were burning, Mrs. Corkhill calmly remained at home and served coffee to the fire boys, who were working at a time when the thermometer registered four degrees below the zero mark, and so cold was it that many of the boys sustained frost bites and frozen ears from the exposure. Mr. Stampfli on behalf of the department, desires to thank Mr. and Mrs. Corkhill, for the coffee and for the ten dollars presented to the department.

173 NEW CONVICTS RECEIVED IN DECEMBER

Adults, Texas, Jan. 18.—The month of December was a record-breaker in the penitentiary system of the State in the matter of new convicts received. The list shows 173 new prisoners for that month. Somewhat out of the ordinary is the regular crime classification which is reported. It shows fifty-seven out of the 173 were convicted of burglary charges. For forgery and passing forged instruments fourteen were sent in and for horse theft there were thirteen convictions. There were seven cases of cattle theft and one case of theft of a hog.

His reports indicate this and show that the New York horses are often handled through sales stables, and never through regular channels. In Texas, the horse and cattle thieves are passing animals have been made upon their backs by the majority of the law.

During the year 1910 there were 23 escapes and twenty-three convicts recaptured after escape. During 1911 there were 187 escapes, but 194 convicts were recaptured, 1910 showing a loss of 191 men, while 1911 under the new administration showed a loss of only fifty-three men by escapes. Usually the escaped convicts are recaptured from the farms, but it is hard to guard them. However, the system has a number of convicts that it works on honor.

An increase in the number of convicts in the State penitentiary is shown in December, there being 4104 on the first of the month and 5411 at the close of the month. New convicts received during the month numbered 173. They were returned by sheriffs, sixty were discharged, twenty-two paroled, six escaped, two died, two were delivered to sheriffs and fifteen were paroled. State forces numbered 2393 men, contract forces 254 and state forces 824.

Of the 173 new convicts received twelve were for violating the local option law, ten were sent up for assault on murder, for criminal assault, one for receiving and concealing stolen property, two for murder, three for incest, two for murder in the first degree, five for manslaughter, one for perjury, six for robbery, three for criminal assault, one for receiving and concealing stolen property, one for sending twelve for theft, eight for theft from person, seven for theft of cattle and one for theft of a hog.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 18.—To vote next month on the commission form of government.

SOIL MELLOWED BY THE FREEZES RAIN NOW NEEDED

Farmers coming into town today say that rain—yes, actually rain—is badly needed just now. After the December downpours few people would think that rain is needed, but the farmers say it and they ought to know. Since the better freezes they say that a loose dust some several inches deep lies over their fields. Now this much is alright in itself and there is a splendid reason for it. If it were any much good soil will be blown away. A good rain is now needed to work down this much.

Recent freezes have made the ground mellowed than in a number of years and this with the good season from the heavy rains gives the best outlook in recent years. Many thousands of acres will be sown to oats and there is a prospect that there will be a shortage of seed. The grain men are scouring the markets of Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Missouri for seed and it is being shipped into Northwest Texas by the train load. One big land owner is reported to have purchased five thousand bushels from a Wichita Falls grain man last week.

The Kid Humphries case in the Montgomery county district court, in which the defendant is charged with bank robbery, has been continued and the witnesses summoned from this city have returned.

The case was set for trial last Wednesday and was continued upon application of the state. More than twenty witnesses were summoned from Wichita Falls and the defendant was ready for trial, but for some reason the state was unable to go on with the case. Those who were summoned from here think there is not the slightest question but that Humphries will come clear if the case ever comes up again, as the state seems to be utterly without evidence to connect him with the robbery in any way.

General Lee's Last Mission

With the approach of the birthday of Gen. Robert E. Lee, January 19th...

The following from last week's Literary Digest is of interest.

At the close of the Civil War General Lee was offered all sorts of openings, ranging from valuable jobs in vaudeville to fixed positions in the realm of finance.

But he refused them all. On one occasion he was approached with the tender of the presidency of an insurance company at a salary of $50,000 a year.

His declination on the grounds of unfitness was promptly met with the reply: "But, general, you will not be expected to do any work; what you wish is the use of your name."

Then came Lee's famed reply: "Don't you think," he said, "that if my name is worth $50,000 a year, I ought to be very careful about taking care of it?"

And so the time flew by, with lucrative proposals of every imaginable sort constantly appearing on the scene and the aged Southern commander refusing all of them.

"They are offering my poor father everything," said one of his daughters, "but the only thing he will accept is a place where he may earn honest bread while engaged in some useful work."

Finally, the little college of Washington, in reality only an academy, with 40 students and some three or four professors, made him a proposition. Lee was to be president at the salary of $1,500 a year, and he was to be assured of that position for the rest of his life.

He accepted gladly, and that small Virginia institution, now known as Washington and Lee, immediately experienced a noble change. Lee founded the honor system, elevated the school's standards, called to his aid the most accomplished professors to be found, invited his old soldiers to send their sons to his institution at small cost, and in all ways made his presence felt as vividly in peace as in war.

He knew all the students; he was as prompt at chapel as the chaplains; he audited every account; he presided at every faculty meeting; he studied and signed every report. And what is more, writes Thomas Nelson Page, in his new book on "Lee as College President" (Scribner's), he was feared and loved by every boy he knew—and Lee knew them all.

An invitation to visit him in his office was the most dreaded event in the student's life, the actual interview was always softened by a noble courtesy on the president's part. Into an experience which left an impression throughout life, and ever remained a cherished memory.

To one thus summoned, the general urged greater attention to study, on the ground that it would prevent the failure which would otherwise inevitably come to him.

"But, general, you failed," said the youth, meaning, as he explained afterward, to pay him a tribute. "I hope that you may be more fortunate than I," replied the general quietly.

On another occasion a youth from the far South, having "cut lectures" to go skating, on accomplishment he had just acquired, was summoned to appear before the president, and, having made his defense, was told by the general that he should not have broken the rule of the institution, but should have requested to be excused from attendance on lectures.

"You understand now?" "Yes, sir. Well, general, the ice is fine this morning. I'd like to be excused today," promptly replied the ready youngster.

It was occasionally the habit of the young orators who spoke in public at celebrations to express their feelings by indulging in compliments to General Lee and the ladies, and the reverse of compliments to the "yankees."

Craving due allowance alike for the immaturity of a boy and the mellowing influence of passing years, I will try to picture General Lee as I recall him, and as he must be recalled by thousands who yet remember him.

He was, in common phrase, one of the handsomest men I ever knew, and his figure which in earlier life had been tall and admirably proportioned, was now compact and rounded rather than stout, and was still in the proportion to his height.

His head, well set on his shoulders, and his erect and dignified carriage, made his figure a distinguished and noble one. His hair was dark and carefully combed, and his eyes, which were of a deep blue, were clear and bright.

On one occasion, having learned, during a visit to a friend (Colonel Preston) that two little boys in the family were sick with croup, he rode back next day in the midst of a storm with a basket of peaches and a toy for his two little friends.

As he rode in the afternoons on Traveler, he was often greeted by the children, to whom at times he extended an invitation to come and ride with him, and this invitation came to be a coveted honor.

On another occasion as he was riding he came upon two little daughters of ex-Governor Letcher, the elder of whom was vainly trying to get her six-year-old sister to return home. As General Lee rode up, she accosted him.

"General Lee won't you please make this child go home to her mother?" The general stopped and invited the little rebel to ride home with him, which she graciously consented to do, and was thereupon lifted up in front of him and "was thus grandly escorted home."

When the mother asked the other child why she had given General Lee so much trouble, she said: "I couldn't make her go home, and I thought he could do anything."

Two Years Beyond THE CENTURY MARK Ocean Grove, N. J., Jan. 16.—John Moore Butler, of this place, familiarly known as "Uncle John," celebrated his 102nd birthday anniversary today by quietly receiving his numerous friends at the house where he boards with his eighty-year-old son, a helpless paralytic. Until a comparatively short time ago Mr. Butler enjoyed excellent health and the full use of all his faculties.

But cataracts which formed over his eyes made him almost completely blind and, owing to his age the doctors would not undertake an operation for the removal of the films. Mr. Butler, who was born on Staten Island, where he lived many years as the neighbor of the late Commodore Vanderbilt, has been a hard worker all his life, having never used tobacco and liquor sparingly.

He owned a number of fast horses and used to drive them to a trotting cart until about five years ago.

"THIS IS MY 66th BIRTHDAY," Charles Finney Cox. Charles Finney Cox, who has won fame in two widely diverse fields, railroad finance and the science of biology, was born in Richmond county, New York, January 16, 1844.

After completing his education at Oberlin College in 1869 he became associated with a prominent banking house in New York. His financial training secured for him a position in the auditing department of one of the prominent railroads and later he became a member of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company.

Among railroad men the county over Mr. Cox is well known as a master of the financial side of the railroad business. At the same time he has acquired among scientists a reputation as a deep student and an original thinker on problems related to evolution of animal and plant life.

For years he has made a deep study of the various branches of biology, particularly the Darwinian theories pertaining to evolution on which he is a recognized authority.

MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts in Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good.

One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.

The tariff law, known as the Dingley and the Payne-Aldrich tariff, has increased the cost of living 50 per cent during the last ten years, and unless your wages have increased fully that much, no further or more forcible argument can be brought about to convince the man with ordinary sense, or with just a sufficient amount of gray matter in his think-box to cause him to get out of the rain, that it is time to change things politically, and this can not be done by keeping the Republican party in power. If statistics published by the government are to be relied on a cloak that you pay $18 for, $10 of that amount is for the cloak and $8 goes as a tribute to the "infant cloak industry. If it is a suit of clothes which you are required to pay $40 for, $15.00 goes for the tariff. If you are really in earnest and want to know why the cost of living is so high, you will find no trouble in finding a correct answer by a careful reading of the tariff schedules as printed and circulated by the government at Washington, and there is not the slightest danger that the cost of living will ever be made lower so long as there are sufficient number of people who wish to keep the party in power that is responsible for the high tariff.

The Times is in receipt of the following:
 Greenville, Texas, January 12th, 1912—Editor Times, Dear Sir:—The U. S. postoffice department has accepted the bids of the Crooked Wood Block Paving Company to pave the postoffice driveways of the City of Greenville with crooked wood blocks in preference to all other pavements. Why don't the citizens of Wichita Falls ask for the same? Yours truly,
 CHAS. V. CHENAULT.

The Times is really in no position to answer the question, except from observation. Our streets are paved with these blocks, and so far as it can judge they are giving satisfaction, with the exception that the blocks are constantly swelling, probably for the reason that sufficient room for expansion was not left when they were put down, or from some other cause unknown. This causes constant trouble and an-boyance to those who use the streets. And again, the trouble is not confined alone to the streets, but several hundred feet of splendid cement walk and cement curbing has been rendered unsightly and almost worthless by the expansion of the blocks in the streets, or the concrete foundation upon which the blocks are supposed to rest when on good behavior. This has a very bad appearance, and to remedy the evils or defects the sidewalks and curbing will have to be taken up and rebuilt in such away as to allow the streets ample room to expand and contract at their will and pleasure. As to who will be taxed with this expense, the Times does not know. The fact remains, however, that the curbing and sidewalks have been in bad condition for several months and if steps have been taken to have them placed in decent shape once more, the fact is unknown to the Times. This much can be said for the crooked block paving: it makes a splendid driveway when properly put down, but in the event the U. S. government decides to adopt this sort of paving for the driveway leading to the splendid new postoffice now under construction it is to be hoped that precautions will be taken to give the blocks ample room for expansion in order to keep from pushing the building over onto the next block.

The killing of Col. A. G. Boyce at Fort Worth Saturday night is only another one of those startling illustrations of the cheapness of human life in this country. So far as is known his slayer had little or no provocation for shooting the defenseless old man to death. If press dispatches are to be relied upon it had only been a few days since he had been in the same town where the man who stands accused of having abducted the slayer's wife was making his temporary home. This man was a son of Col. Boyce, and would have probably deserved death at the hands of the man he had wronged. But the younger Boyce, in all probability, was "fixed," and the fellow who did not hesitate to shoot to death an old and defenseless man, was perhaps afraid to take his chance with the younger man. Or, perhaps, it may have been that he had a more wholesome respect for the laws against murder in Canada than that of the United States, or in Texas, and that may have prevented him in his desire to take human life. At any rate, his act was that of a coward, but being a man of wealth and influence, it is almost a foregone conclusion that he will never be punished as he deserves.

ternoon at 2 o'clock. "If the grand jury indicts, and it will be sure to, the proceedings in this court would be a waste of valuable time," explained Mr. Hanger.
 The attorneys for Snead concurred in the opinion that an examining trial at the present time would be useless and the prisoner, appearing chagrined and crestfallen, was returned to his cell, in a tier with twenty-three other men charged with burglary, murder and other crimes.
 The attorneys for the prosecution were vigorous in their efforts to prevent the man from securing release on bond. "You can say for the prosecution that we will demand that Snead be held without bail," Attorney Hanger said after the proceedings were over.

"Albert G. Boyce, Sr., came to his death from gunshot wounds inflicted by J. Beall Snead on the night of Jan. 13, at the Metropolitan Hotel," was the verdict of Justice Mabon, after hearing a number of witnesses in the case.
 W. N. Moore, manager of the hotel, and Miss Belle Tucker, who is employed at the cigar stand in the hotel lobby, were called to testify. Their testimony was similar to that given to newspaper men in interviews Saturday night.

Miss Tucker described the man wearing a light overcoat and gray alpaca hat whose name she did not know. She said the man entered through the front door, quietly walked toward the old man, who was seated in a big arm chair obvious of the approaching danger, and commenced firing. She described how the elder Boyce attempted to flee from the fusillade of bullets and then fell mortally wounded on the lobby floor. The woman was greatly moved by her recital of the harrowing details.

Before he left Fort Worth to accompany the remains of his father to Amarillo, Henry Boyce, son of the deceased, said that he had wired his brother, A. G. Boyce, Jr., not to return to Fort Worth or to Amarillo for some time. "I fear he will come back and try to be on hand at the funeral," exclaimed the young man.

Boyce Is Last Seen Yesterday.
 By Associated Press. Winnipeg, Canada, Jan. 14.—Boyce's attorney said today he has not seen Boyce since yesterday noon, when the latter left his hotel. It is said Boyce accompanied by former Marshall Logan of Texas, left Winnipeg last night for the South. The automatic pistol taken from Boyce when he was arrested was returned to him by police yesterday.

Politics and Politicians

The Republican State convention of Maine will be held in Bangor, April 10.

The Wisconsin supporters of President Taft are to hold a State rally in Milwaukee January 20.

Speaker Adkins of the Illinois house of representatives has formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma, whose term will expire next March, will be opposed for re-election by former Governor Charles N. Haskell.

Congressman M. E. Olmsted of the 18th Pennsylvania district is mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

The first candidate to announce for the Republican gubernatorial nomination at the primaries in Maine next June is William T. Haines of Waterville.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts and Representative Frank B. Willis of Ohio are to speak at the Lincoln celebration in Springfield, Ill., next month.

John Hays Hammond of Massachusetts and Governor Robert P. Bass of New Hampshire are to speak at the opening meeting of the Republican campaign in Michigan in February.

William J. Bryan's name has been advanced for a position on the Democratic primary ballot in Nebraska as a preferential candidate for the presidency by a petition placed on file with the secretary of state.

There will be only 183 delegates in the next Democratic State convention in Pennsylvania, which is less than half the number in the last convention. The number has been reduced by reason of the small vote cast for the Democratic candidate for governor in 1910, upon which the basis of representation is fixed.

Among the speakers to be heard at the annual dinner of the League of Republican State Clubs to be given in Washington next month will be Governor Hadley of Missouri, Governor Goldsborough of Maryland, former Vice President Fairbanks of Indiana, Job Hedges of New York and John Hays Hammond of Massachusetts. John O. Capers, president of the league, will be toastmaster.

JIM FLYNN DECLARED NOT JOHNSON'S EQUAL

All Other Claimants to the Paleface Title Have Been Sidelined to Make Way for Fight

(Kansas City Times)
That colossal figure, Minkie Johnson, champion of two homes, having advised his promoter to set a list of articles whereby his noble adversary graciously agreed to match the features of one Jim Flynn, we may say well people ourselves for an outpouring of "white hope" literature which will probably not be attempted in that line by Flynn, being the only "invested" in these respects for jockeying him into the line with the much-traveled title of "white hope" all other claimants to said honor are being crowded out of the public eye. We are inclined to turn our backs for an exact definition of such a title, but we find the same circumscribed as follows:
"Hope—Desire of good joined with expectation; to desire with expectation."

TOBACCO YIELDED $67 PER ACRE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—The supplement to the December Crop Reporter, just issued, gives figures that at this time ago of unusual interest to the Texas farmer. It indicates the effect of a reduction of acreage in the Dark-Tobacco districts of Kentucky and Tennessee on the price of tobacco.
The acreage devoted to dark tobacco was reduced from 347,281 in 1909 to 287,909 in 1911—a decrease of 60,372 acres, or 17 per cent.
The value of the 1909 crop was $18,803,250 compared with $19,556,000 in 1911, a gain for the latter year over the former of $752,750 or 2.5 per cent.
During the gain in value per acre of the 1911 crop over that of 1909, it is found that 26 acres of tobacco in 1909 was valued at $54 while in 1911 it was 767, a gain of $15 per acre, or 24 per cent.
The latter comparison perhaps gives a disproportionate gain, because the yield in 1911 was somewhat greater per acre than in 1909. This, however, may be in a manner accounted for by the fact that with a small acreage to cultivate more attention could be given to the crop and the production thus be made more abundant.

if his record were a flawless one, which it is far from being, the fact that he is overmatched in weight, height and reach by the most scientific boxer of this or probably any other age would be sufficient reason for branding his pretensions as being composed of the stuff of which dreams are made.
Because he overcame a similar handicap when he defeated big Al Kaufman in their second meeting, certain gentlemen who are financially interested in booming the stock of the Pueblo Traction street car believe that he can accomplish a like result when he faces Johnson. All of which goes to show how hard up the boosters of the match are for a basis from which to conduct an argument.
Setting aside the "reel" and decisive knockout of Kaufman by Al Flynn in half the time it took Flynn to turn the trick, any comparison between the slow-moving, clumsy Californian and the cool, crafty, panther like negro touches the uttermost limits of absurdity. The old wise maxim of the London prize-fight— "Australia and the United States are not to be taken for granted"—applies well in the case of Flynn vs. Johnson. And the epithet of "poor" fits Kaufman exactly. Victories over Mike Schrock, George Gardner, Jim Flynn and Bill Lang of Australia are the only ones in an otherwise blank record of Flynn's. Al and when you dissect those victories what did they amount to? Gardner and Schrock were both at it when they lost to Kaufman, Flynn reversed the first decision by a clean knockout, and as for Lang—a fatal hurt—has been beaten by every man with the slightest claim to class who ever hit him.
Five times during his checkered career Jim Flynn has taken the full complete and satisfactory punishment at the feet of opponents. He was knocked out by Tommy Burns, Al Kaufman, twice by Langford and lastly by the man he is now scheduled to meet—Jack Johnson. The Flynn boosters probably will try to ring up the "much improved now" racket and make it appear that the ex-fighter was nothing but a victim, when three years ago he was in his initial triumph. But a quiet shut at James record puts the "cash" on that argument. When he knocked Burns Flynn had been fighting over five years and in that time engaged in no less than forty-two battles. It does not make a satisfactory record the accepted "white hope" will some body kindly inform us what more is needed to clap the ancient warrior cognomen on the brow of a battler?

Flynn has been scrapping for 11 years and has seventy-one battles to his credit. Sure if the man had any claim of Championship timber in his make-up it would have emerged into view long ago this!

Well, Well, Well! 1912 Found Us right here on the job with the best stock of lumber, dimension, siding, casing, base, shingles, etc. on hand that we ever had at this time of the year and our only excuse for having it was our strong belief that the people of this community in 1912 are going to try out good, sound home investments in preference to a lot of those far away "Rich Quick" schemes that are like the song of the straws. This lumber we have come from some of the best "quality" mills in the United States and we are not afraid to put it up against any material in use for home building—price, quality, durability and long time satisfaction considered. You've got to see it to appreciate it, so come in and we'll talk over that dew-lane of yours.
