A MOUNTAIN FROM MOLE HILL

STATEMENT OF WILSON-HARVEY AFFAIR SHOWS OTHER REPORTS EXAGGERATED.

WILSON IS EMBARRASSED

By Direct Question From Col. Harvey Gives Candid Answer in Friendly Spirit.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 19.—Robert Ewing, a prominent Democrat and related by marriage to Governor Woodrow Wilson and Henry Watterson, issued a long statement relative to Harper's Weekly publicly withdrawing its support of Wilson, giving what Ewing said he believed was substantially a correct account of the meeting which took place in New York City some three weeks ago between Col. Harvey, editor of Harper's Weekly and Henry Watterson, and Governor Wilson. Mr. Ewing said that years ago Col. Harvey became intimately acquainted with Wilson, and conceived the highest regard for him. Mr. Ewing continued: "When the time seemed ripe to him a series of editorials in Harper's Weekly presented Woodrow Wilson's name to the Democrats of the country as a Democratic presidential candidate. These editorials continued to appear in each issue, growing stronger and stronger. Many, not knowing the real independence of Col. Harvey, and seeking to harm Wilson began to indulge in all sorts of conjectures as to what could be moving the Weekly in so ardently championing Wilson. As a result a goodly number of Wilson's friends began to be of the opinion that the Weekly's support was militating against his prospects. At this juncture a New York conference was held between Col. Harvey, Col. Watterson and Gov. Wilson. As Watterson arose to leave Harvey said: "Governor Wilson, I wish to ask you a question and expect from your a perfectly frank answer. Do you believe the booming nature of my articles in Harper's is injuring your cause?" "Embarrassed," Ewing continues, "Wilson said he thought from what he could learn, this impression was being created by the intensity of his (Harvey's) friendly editorials. Col. Harvey then said: "Well, I'll have to put on the soft pedal."

NEWCOMER ALLOWED POLL TAX EXEMPTION

Voter Who Was Not in Texas Last January May Obtain Certificate.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 19.—According to an opinion of Assistant Attorney General Lane, a man living in a community of less than 10,000 people who has lived in Texas twelve months may obtain from the county tax collector a certificate of exemption and vote in the 1912 elections, though he was not in Texas last January when he would have become subject to poll tax and has not paid a poll tax. The instance in which the opinion is given is a rather peculiar one. A young man came to Texas from Colorado last April and after spending a few days in Houston took up permanent abode in Colorado county. When the 1912 elections are held he will have lived in Texas twelve months and in his precinct six months. Yet he was not there last January and is therefore not subject to poll tax payment at this time. Mr. Lane holds that it is not the desire of the state to disqualify voters and that the man may go before the tax collector and upon proper showing and upon making the proper affidavit receive at the little him to vote in this year's election. The election law making provision for obtaining exemption certificates in cities of 10,000 or more under such circumstances as well as provision for the exemption certificates of minors and men over 60 years of age makes no provision as to communities of less than 10,000. However, Mr. Lane thinks that his opinion is an equitable construction of the law for such cases.

1000 Men Reported Killed In Battle In Ecuador Revolution

Quito, Ecuador, Jan. 19.—Over one thousand men were killed and wounded in a battle yesterday at Yagucho, northeast of this city. The army supporting the Quitto government under General Andrade attacked and defeated the army of Quisqui, the troops of which are supporting the provisional government proclaimed by General Montero. General Alvaro commanded the defeated army and was wounded.

GO TO PRISON WITHOUT OFFICERS

Huntsville, Texas, Jan. 19.—Otto Giesicke of Dallas arrived at Huntsville last night at 10:30 o'clock and went directly to the penitentiary, delivering himself to night sergeant. That official knew nothing about Giesicke's case, but admitted him.

From newspapers it is learned that Giesicke is to serve a two-year sentence on charge of murder.

He left Dallas for Huntsville as soon as he learned that his case had been affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Giesicke was charged with murder in connection with the killing of H. H. Burney early in March, 1911, at a rooming house on Emi street in Dallas. On a trial before Judge Seay he was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to two years.

Leaves Beaumont For Prison Beaumont, Texas, Jan. 19.—Sylvester Berg, of this city, who was twice convicted and who appealed his case, received a telegram yesterday that the Court of Criminal Appeals denied a rehearing in his case and he packed his grip and left at 6 o'clock last evening for the penitentiary. Berg was accompanied by his brother, and they were armed with a certified copy of the judgment of the trial court and letters of introduction from attorneys and court officials here to penitentiary officials at Huntsville.

It was charged that in 1903 Berg shot and killed J. L. Garner of Waco, Garner's wife, deceased, was Berg's sister and the trouble came about over Garner's children, who were in the keeping of Berg's mother. Berg was convicted and sentenced to five years. He was granted a new trial and was tried again in 1910 and again given five years.

This verdict was appealed and the case has been in the Court of Appeals until yesterday. Within a few hours after he received the telegram yesterday, Berg was on his way to the penitentiary.

A DEATH AT JOLLY FROM MENINGITIS

A telephone message from Jolly this morning reported that the man who was stricken with meningitis there died at nine o'clock last night. So far no other cases have been reported from that place. Clay county authorities are keeping a close watch on the situation and are keeping the local health officers closely advised of developments.

Dr. A. D. Pattillo of Petrolia, who had gone to Dallas to investigate the handling of the cases there received a telephone message last night to hurry home with some of the serum. C. B. Dillingham of that place had been seized with the malady. Dr. Pattillo passed through the city today enroute to Petrolia.

Later he telephoned back to physicians here that the patient was still alive. While various rumors have been abroad here no cases of the disease have been reported in Wichita Falls or in Wichita county. Rumored cases when investigated have proven not to be meningitis. The city and county health officers are keeping a close watch and will promptly quarantine any cases that may develop.

An Associated Press message reports five deaths and two new cases in Dallas for the twenty-four hours ending at noon today.

OKLAHOMA CITY LIVESTOCK MARKET

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 19.—Cattle receipts today were 900 head. The market was steady. Steers sold up to $6.65; cows to $4.60; heifers $5.35; and calves $7.00.

A rumor was spread about town this afternoon that two employees of one of the ice companies had meningitis. A thorough investigation of this rumor finds it is without the slightest foundation. Not a single employee of either company is sick and authorities, who have made an investigation declare the rumor is groundless.

Two Men On Shipwrecked Vessel

Beaufort, N. C., Jan. 19.—Several men of the crew of an unknown schooner which is ashore on Diamond Shoals are clinging to the rigging of their sunken vessel. They are hidden from the sight of the life savers by the fog and their peril is growing momentarily. The wireless has summoned two revenue cutters to attempt a rescue.

SNEAD'S HEARING SATURDAY A. M.

HABEAS CORPUS APPLICATION OF HUSBAND POSTPONED WHILE WIFE'S IS BEING HEARD.

THE COURT ROOM CLEARED

Judge Says Proceedings Might Not Be Elevating—Newspaper Men Permitted to Remain.

Mrs. Snead Released

Fort Worth, Texas, Jan. 19.—(Bulletin)—Mrs. Snead was declared sane and was ordered released from the sanitarium where she has been confined at once.

Fort Worth, Jan. 19.—The court room was ordered cleared for the district court this morning upon the filing of the habeas corpus writ of J. B. Snead and his wife, respectively. Judge Simmons in ordering the room cleared referred to the meningitis epidemic and also said he didn't believe the hearing would necessarily be "elevating." Newspaper men were permitted to remain after that protest.

Mr. Snead's hearing was postponed until tomorrow morning. Mrs. Snead's hearing began this morning. Dr. Allison of the Arlington Heights Sanitarium, where Mrs. Snead is confined testified he believed her a victim of moral insanity. He said she appeared surprised that her husband objected to her trip with Boyce.

Thursday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock Attorney Lattimore filed an application for a writ of habeas corpus with District Clerk Brock. Judge Simmons of the Sixty-seventh district court granted the hearing and set the time for 10 o'clock this morning. Less than five minutes later Walter Scott filed a similar application for John Beall Snead, confined in the county jail since the shooting. Judge Simmons granted this hearing also and set the time at 10 o'clock this morning. Just thirty minutes before Mrs. Snead's hearing will begin.

County Attorney Baskin and Special Prosecutor Hanger will strenuously oppose the efforts of the counsel for the defense to secure bail for Snead. In her application for the writ of habeas corpus Mrs. Snead alleges that she is being illegally restrained at the Arlington Heights sanitarium. She avers that she is being deprived of her liberty and confined by M. C. Allison and John Turner of the sanitarium. Her application was sworn to before George E. Hoxey, assistant county attorney and notary public.

It is the general belief that Mrs. Snead has been confined at the sanitarium since Saturday afternoon preceding the shooting of A. G. Boyce, Sr., the father of the man with whom it is alleged, she eloped to Canada.

According to officers Mrs. Snead has said that she was in ignorance of the shooting until she was called to tell her story to the grand jurors Tuesday afternoon. So far as is known she has not left the sanitarium since Saturday except to go to the court house in response to the grand jury summons Tuesday afternoon.

Efforts to secure information at the sanitarium of her whereabouts proved futile. Attendants did not declare that Mrs. Snead was not there, but said that any message could be delivered or that it was "not their business to say."

Mr. Lattimore was retained by Mrs. Snead herself. In his petition for the writ Snead swears that he is not fully aware of the charges for which he was imprisoned and that he is "not guilty of murder nor of any other offense known to or against the laws of the state of Texas."

Judge Simmons read the petitions and announced the time for the hearings. Deputy District Clerk Walker issued the writs and these were served last night on the officials of the sanitarium and on the sheriff. The action of the attorneys Thursday has been anticipated for the past few days. Attorneys for Snead announced Monday that they would take every possible step to secure his release from jail.

Offers of assistance have come in from the friends of Snead in every part of the state. Wealthy cattlemen and business men at Amarillo and other Texas cities have expressed a desire to help in any way possible and no trouble will be experienced in making bond, however high it is set.

Dr. Allison denied Mrs. Snead had ever been "locked" in a cage. In reply to questions as to whether she is the "highest priced patient, paying $65 per month while the regular price is $25," Dr. Allison said the rate varied according to the attention the patient demands. He added Mrs. Snead occasioned considerable trouble "by constantly wanting to do something or to go somewhere."

Drilling was started in the Avis well about eight or nine miles east of the city yesterday. This well is being drilled by a company of local people headed by J. D. Avis.

AMERICANS ARE BEING INSULTED

By This Method Persian Cabinet Hopes to Force Them to Abandon Their Contracts.

Thursday, Persia, Jan. 19.—Since the departure of the American Form and Treasurer-General Shuster the cabinet's communications to American officials left in Shuster's former office appear to have become increasingly insulting. It is generally believed the Persian cabinet hopes to induce the Americans to abandon their contracts in which case Persia would not have to pay them. It should be understood that the Americans are the sole foreign officials in Persia whose government is not expected to support their interests except personal rights.

BROKE PROMISE ASKED TO BE SENT TO JAIL

"Send me to jail or broke his word," was the request of Frank Hughes this morning when arraigned in the city court on a charge of public intoxication. His request was granted by the mayor. Several days ago Hughes was brought into court upon the same charge. He told Mayor Noble that he was seventy years old and that he would never get drunk again and upon this promise he was released.

When brought into court this morning Hughes wore a straw hat and looked like he had just stepped out of a comic supplement. Two others pleaded guilty to charges of intoxication in the city court this morning. Another pleaded not guilty and will be tried before a jury this afternoon.

FRANK HURSH TRIAL SET FOR MONDAY

The trial of Frank Hursh, under indictment of murder for the killing of his wife, is set for next Monday in the district court when a special venire has been summoned.

Hursh who shot himself after fatally shooting his wife on the night of August 10th last is blind as the result of the wound. It is understood that Judge Edgar Scurry has been retained to defend him.

It will be remembered that Hursh met his divorced wife on Thirteenth street on her way home in company with her daughter and a well known business man and fired three shots into her body resulting in her death soon afterward. After shooting his wife Hursh turned the revolver to his temple, but the wound while resulting in blindness was not fatal.

STATE CONVENTION WILL DETERMINE

If Missouri Convention Endorses Folk, Clark Will Forbid Use of His Own Name.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—Champion Clark confirms reports that he and former Governor Francis of Missouri, have agreed to stake their respective candidacies for the presidential nomination on the outcome of the approaching Missouri State Democratic Convention at Joplin. If the convention endorses Folk, Clark says he will forbid the use of his own name.

MAUST'S TRIAL STARTED THIS MORNING

Guthrie, Okla., Again, at the request of United States Attorney John Embry, the beginning of the trial of Ben Craven, alias Charles Maust, which had been postponed one day, was set back another twenty-four hours. Now the empaneling of the jury is slated for 9 o'clock Friday morning.

The fact that the matter of the positive identification of the prisoner as Ben Craven is the all-important essential, according to the statement of the prosecuting attorney in his plea for a further postponement, and that this would be impossible with the face of the prisoner still somewhat disfigured from the breakout out of his face a few days since, was given as the reason for asking that the matter rest until Friday. Embry suggested that the prisoner be given such medical treatment as would hasten his recovery.

Following the statement of the prosecutor Judge Cottrill ordered that the United States marshal investigate the rumor that Maust has used some kind of a drug or an application to distort and change his face in order that positive identification would be made more secure, if possible, and that whether or not the prisoner had received some kind of a drug from the outside, heretofore they should take every precaution that he does not do it in the future, stating that caution would do no harm and might do a great deal of good. He stated, however, that he was not intending to cast any reflections upon the jailor.

While this was being done in the court room the court had ordered all jurymen and witnesses from the room and when they had been returned he charged that they should refrain from talking with anyone concerning the case and that they should not read newspaper articles bearing on the matter in hand.

That this trial promises to be the most interesting ever conducted in Guthrie or the state as was evidenced Thursday morning. Two hours before the time set for the calling of the case the court room was filled to overflowing and the corridors of the Federal building, upstairs, and downstairs, were crowded all morning.

Twice in the short time the court was in session the hallif was ordered to clear the corridors, at one time the judge deeming it necessary to order the arrest of persons who did not promptly obey the demands of the bailiffs and marshals for order.

Maust was on the scene bright and early, attired in the same brown suit given him just prior to his release from the Missouri penitentiary at Jefferson City. Since he has a record for escaping if he is Ben Craven, the prisoner was brought from the jail securely manacled and guarded by Deputy Marshals Jack Langston and Dave Madden. In the court room the handcuffs were removed, but a strong guard was kept over the prisoner who will sit at a desk to the right of the bar.

The effects of the breaking out on his face have almost disappeared. Maust also seems to have recovered his nerve, which for a time it looked as if he were about to lose completely. He was handed another list of witnesses, which he scanned indifferently before handing it back to the officers without commenting. He appeared absolutely at ease, talked frequently with his guards and more than once he smiled. At that he is not a man who looks as if he were given much to smiling. In all the proceedings he seemed to take a deep interest, but the expression on his face was more that of an ordinary spectator than that of a prisoner at the bar.

Prison officials today, in talking of the story that had pepper was found in Maust's cell, and that probably this caused the inflammation of the face discovered this pepper was given Maust several days ago by Jack Baker, who is in jail charged with signing a forged name to a money order. It was supposed to have been used on food and there being only a small amount wrapped in a paper, the attending physician declared this pepper had nothing to do with the inflammation.

ENGLISH COTTON MILL STRIKE IS SETTLED

NO PERMITS, CANNOT SUE, SAYS COURT

Foreign Corporations Which Have Not Taken Out Permits in Texas Have No Standing in Courts.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 17.—In an elaborate opinion by Associate Justice Dillard the Supreme Court today held that a foreign corporation not having a permit to do business in Texas could not prosecute a suit in the courts of this state, and any proceeding brought by it should be dismissed. This was in the case of the Fort Worth Glass and Sand Co. against Smythe Company, from Tarrant county. The Smythe Co. a Pennsylvania corporation, sued to recover a sum alleged to be due on material and furnishings for the glass factory. The lone question on appeal has been, could the suit be maintained, since the foreign corporation had not taken out a permit to engage in business in this state.

The trial court denied a personal judgment under the circumstances, but the amount of the debt was ascertained and declared a charge against the factory and ten acres of land upon which it was situated, with foreclosure of the mechanic's lien. On appeal the Appellate Court reversed and rendered judgment against the foreign corporation.

The Supreme Court holds that the Appellate Court was correct in deciding that the foreign corporation had no standing in Texas courts in the absence of a State permit, but that it went too far in holding the contract between the two corporations void; that the law does not declare such contracts void, but only denies the right to sue in this state; therefore the judgment should have been one dismissing the plaintiff's suit by the District Court. By rendering judgment it was held the court takes away the right to enforce its contract in other jurisdictions, and holding that if take nothing by its suit is in effect declaring the contract void on null and void. This should not have been done, says the Supreme Court, and reversals on that score is ordered, with instructions that plaintiff's suit be dismissed below.

GALVESTON FRANCHISE FORFEITED BY ALLEN

Man Who Promised to Furnish Money Sufficient to Cover Indebtedness Fails to Reach Austin.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 19.—Galveston will not have a team in the Texas league during the 1912 season. This is a fact definitely and finally settled by President Allen of the league today.

A responsible man from Galveston representing the commercial interests of that city and with authority to act, was to have been in Austin no later than this afternoon at 4 o'clock. He was to have brought the required $5,000 with which to wipe out the Galveston club's indebtedness. It was to have carried back with him the franchise which was forfeited by ex-President Frank H. Dever last Monday.

But this responsible person failed to appear. The man not only failed to put in an appearance, but there was no wire, no telephone message, nothing sent to indicate what the trouble was.

So the franchise will go to some one outside of Galveston. Beaumont, Corsicana, Temple and several other towns are clamoring for the forfeited franchise.

President Allen will submit the bids of these places and have the directors of the league vote by wire. Those who are in position to know say Beaumont has the best chance. There is a bunch of public-spirited baseball boosters in Beaumont who have offered to wipe out the Galveston club's debt at a moment's notice for the franchise. Then Corsicana has often of late expressed desire for a team. It will be definitely decided shortly where the franchise will go.

Struck By Sheriff By Associated Press. Waco, Texas, Jan. 19.—It is said this morning that Frank Hamilton, who was struck yesterday afternoon by a case in the hands of Sheriff George W. Talley after this case had been wrenched from Hamilton's hands in somewhat of a serious condition. He was delirious last night.

Republicans Will Resume War If Manchus Do Not Abdicate

By Associated Press. Nanking, Jan. 19.—The Republican government today telegraphed to Peking demands that the Manchus abdicate the throne and that Premier Yuan Cease to participate in governmental affairs until peace is restored. If Yuan refuses the resumption of war seems certain.

Imperial Clan Holds Conference. By Associated Press. Peking, China, Jan. 19.—Princes of the Imperial clan and several leading Manchus officials and members of the government held a protracted conference this morning with the Empress Dowager at the palace, but again separated without arriving at a decision on the question of abdication. The leading princes favored unconditional abdication. Three of the younger princes and Tseh Lang, former Tartar General at Nanking, would not agree to this.

WAS INTIMACY BETWEEN RIVALS

PACKERS EXCHANGED INFORMATION AND REPORTS CONCERNING SHIPMENTS AND SALES.

ON THE BEST OF TERMS

None of the Methods Characteristic of Sharp Competition Practiced.

By Associated Press. Chicago, Jan. 19.—Direct testimony that representatives of the alleged packers' combine exchanged daily and weekly reports of shipments and margins and detailed operations of the business of the branch houses was given at the packers' trial today by Everett B. Dill, a former National Packing Co. employe.

Dill declared the managers for the Armour, Swift, Morris and National Packing Co. in Boston, who are in charge of New England territory met daily and were on terms of the closest intimacy. He said they exchanged by telephone daily, figures on the shipments and margins of each company and that weekly summaries from each house were sent to their Boston representatives.

COMMISSION REFUSES TO BUY BRIDGE

Contracts for subscriptions of stock in the proposed industrial addition on the north side of the river are being signed by local capitalists and it is expected to have the details for the organization closed up within a short time.

Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce held a conference with the commissioners of the special road district yesterday afternoon and offered to build a bridge across the river at Burnett street costing between fifteen and twenty thousand dollars and turn the same over to the road district for ten thousand dollars. The commissioners refused to accept the offer. It is understood, however, that they will not interfere with the plans for the addition.

Thomas H. Peery left yesterday afternoon for points in East Texas, where he will remain for a few days on business.

BENEFIT AT THE COLONIAL THEATRE

At the Colonial Theatre tonight a benefit performance will be given for the two little Conlee sisters who have been here all week as the vaudeville attraction of the Colonial bill, and those who wish to see a good show and at the same time help two little girls that are distress should be sure to attend.

The Conlee sisters are really clever little artists. The younger one is only nine years old, yet she is a splendid comedian and a perfect mimic, as well as a musician, and her sister is also a charming young actress. The two have played in some of the best vaudeville houses in the country and give an entertainment of exceptional merit. They are here with their mother having come Saturday to play the engagement of the first three nights at the Colonial. During the early fall they played through South Texas and on coming north found the houses closing all over the country on account of the meningitis. They then went into Oklahoma, supposedly to play a long engagement, but the authorities of that State would not let them work on account of their youth. The mother then used her remaining funds to come here and business has been so poor that they have not made expenses. They are anxious to get to St. Louis and as the Colonial management has kindly offered them the use of the house free of charge and Mr. Orth has given the lights free, they hope to be able to pull through all right.

In addition to the Conlee sisters there will be four reels of pictures and music on the program.

"THE RAILROAD OVER THE SEA"

LINE FROM JACKSONVILLE, FLA., TO KEY WEST WILL START OPERATIONS SUNDAY.

IT EXTENDS 127 MILES

Rails Laid On Concrete Viaducts Built Over Open Sea—Engineering Difficulties Overcome.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 19.—The arrival in Jacksonville tomorrow of several parties of diplomats, financiers and public officials, including practically the entire membership of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of Congress, will set the machinery in motion for the biggest celebration in the history of the State of Florida. The celebration, which will continue over several days, will be in honor of the completion of the Florida East Coast Railway Company's line connecting the mainland of the United States with the island city of Key West.

The construction of "the railroad over the sea," which is the name familiarly applied to the new line, is regarded as one of the greatest engineering triumphs of the age. The project of building the line from the tip end of the Florida peninsula to Key West, using the long stretch of coral reefs as stepping stones, was first conceived about seven years ago. Henry M. Flagler, the chief promoter of the enterprise, supplied the millions of capital necessary and the best engineering talent in America furnished the ingenuity and skill that have made the road an accomplished fact.

Nearly thirty islands were used for short stretches of construction, the longest being sixteen miles, on Key Largo. More than fifty miles of earth and rock embankment were built where the intervening water was shallow. Where deeper water prevailed and where the openings were exposed to storms, concrete arch viaduct construction was used, consisting of fifty-foot reinforced concrete arch spans and piers, with occasional spans of sixty feet. This was the most difficult part of the work. There are four of these arch viaducts, aggregating about six miles in length.

The longest is between Long Key and Grassy Key, 2.7 miles, and is called the Long Key viaduct, across the Knights Key channel, 7,300 feet and across Bahia Honda channel, 4,950 feet. The material of the islands is coralline limestone. In many places the embankment for the roadway is eight or nine feet in height, and the roadbed is ballasted with the same material. The result is one of the finest and safest railway roadbeds in the world.

The building of the concrete viaducts was one of the most interesting features of the entire project, not only because of the size of the larger ones, but by reason of their location. They were constructed literally on the open sea. In many places where the water is deep enough to float a large-size ocean steamship, and where the locality is exposed to the gales of the Atlantic, much of the work was done by floating plants, where the concrete was raised and placed in position by means of powerful boom derricks. In the shallower water molds for the foundation of the viaduct were formed by driving piles, which held in place water tight framework. The total length of the over sea extension is 127 miles.

The first through train to Key West will leave this city Sunday noon and will carry Mr. Flagler and a party of friends. A second train will follow closely with the members of Congress and other officials invited to participate in the celebration at Key West. Elaborate entertainment for the visitors has been provided in the island city. Among the features of the program will be a big civic, military and naval parade, a ball and Sanquet and official receptions at the military and naval posts on the island. The fifth division of the Atlantic fleet, consisting of the cruisers North Carolina, Washington, Salem and Birmingham, is at Key West for the celebration. Portugal has sent one of the vessels of her navy and several other foreign powers are expected to be represented.

The completion of the overseas line is an event of national and even international importance. It gives the United States a new seaport far out in the Gulf, affording a great improvement on the country's strategic position in relation to Cuba and the Panama canal. Key West, with the opening of the new road, becomes the United States port nearest to Colon; 495 miles nearer than New Orleans and 600 miles nearer than Galveston. It has today one of the most important national positions in the country and President Taft has already expressed the hope that Congress will provide for the very considerable enlargement of the port. Commercial as well as strategic advantages are to accrue from the completion of the road. A modern drydock and ample wharves are to be constructed. As the distance from Key West to Havana is only ninety miles the transportation of freight cars by means of powerful steam ferries is entirely practicable, and the trip can be made in about six hours.

While quarrymen were drilling a hole in a ledge near New Albany, Ind., they found what they thought was a sinkhole. It proved to be an immense cave that has already been explored for more than a mile.

ADVANCE TIPS ON THE SPRING HATS

Early Models Are of the Tailored Types Bowlers and Sailors—Some Have Flowers and Lace.

(Kansas City Times)

The spring hats are here—Isn't it awful? White straws and sand colored ones, blacks and changeable ones, with transparent feathery laces and summer flowers. They're not for us yet—obviously. They are for the people who are fortunate enough to be fitting southward.

Some bowler and sailor shapes are in fine Milan—in fact, Milans may be said to predominate in the early models shown. A Tyrolean style with crease in the crown is in the finest Milan with velvet band and silky coque feather at the side. These may be had in black, blue and white. One particularly good looking hat in helmet shape is of black Milan lined with white corded silk, a white corded silk band and bow white brush immediately in front.

Trimings are directly in front on most of these tailored hats. A rather individual hat is made with round crown and rolled brim, sailor shape, in black velvet, only the brim has a band of red, white and black straw. The only trimming on it is a clipped ostrich pompon of new shape in black and white.

Taffeta plays an important part in spring millinery. Whole crowns are made of it, either plain or draped, and elaborate and stylish bows are made from the silk instead of ribbon. The changeable kind is used. Where this material is used as a facing for a brim it is draped or ruffled on.

The dress hat shown in the illustration has a brim of shadowy lace, the kind used a lot on lace fans, the brim being edged with a dainty straw fringe. Heaped upon the crown are the most lovely flowers, shading from magenta to pale pink. The shape of these flowers is that of the clematis. Poed at the side is a bow of soft green blue ribbon with raised velvet figures shading partly into the color of the flowers.

It was recently announced in Toronto, Ont., labor circles that the workshinders of the city had affiliated with the Canadian Federation of Labor.

37 1/2c Fruits for an Even 35c

My Phone Nos. are 432 & 232

My Food Service is Guaranteed

For a number of years I have been selling "Cream of Orchard" California Fruits packed by Hunt Bros. There is no other brand that exceeds this and I think I'm safe in saying that no other brand equals it. At any rate I know that "Cream of Orchard" fruits are more carefully selected, picked, prepared and packed than any other brand and are good value at 3 cans for $1.10 as I have always sold them. But I want to give my customers the benefit of whatever doubt there may be about the quality of other brands with "Cream of Orchard" so I'm reducing my price to an even 35c per can on the entire line.

Single cans were 37 1/2c, now 35c
Single dozen cans were $4.50, now $3.85
Case lots were $8.00, now $7.75

This price will be good until further notice. My list of varieties includes peaches, Bartlett pears, apricots, black cherries, etc.

Bill's School and Mine

I always think of my school as my childhood. As a child, and until I was well into my teens, I lived in a little town—of less than three thousand inhabitants. We boys live in the woods and in the water all summer and lived in the woods and on the ice all winter. We trapped and hunted, fished and built dams and cut stick horses and kept stick horse livery stables in the woods under pawpaw bushes with grapevines hanging down.

We climbed the trees and cut the saplings, and sucked the juice of the vines and squashed the pokeberries, and picked the wild grapes and gooseberries and raspberries, and in winter on the ice ate hickberries. In the autumn we gathered the walnuts, and in the spring we greeted the flowers—the sweet williams and Johnny-jumpups, as they came peeping through the mold.

Always we seemed to be out of doors, getting acquainted with our environment. You know a tree when you have climbed it, or cut a sapling to make a "nigger shooter" fork from it. You know the birds and the woodland animals when you have chased them, and you know the flowers when you have waited for them to come. So the woods were part of my school.

And the barn, also, was a considerable part of my curriculum. The chores a boy does are a liberal education in "manual work." And I took my course without a stint. It is something to know how easily hickberry splits, how tough hickory is under the saw; how mean elm is to handle and how walnut falls apart under the ax. A certain dexterity comes to the boy who teaches a calf to drink and slope horses without soiling his Sunday clothes in the evening. Also the hay makes acrobats. In the loft one learns to turn flip-flops, and with a lariat rope he can make a trapeze and do many interesting things. My rings were made by padding the iron rings from the hubs of a lumber wagon, and swinging them from the rafters.

Bill—our little boy Bill—has a better school than I so far as the school house and all that goes with and in it are concerned. They—have more scientific methods; they know more accurately what they are about than they did that taught us in the old days nearly forty years ago. They have more "method" and I feel sure Bill is getting many things from his school indoors that I did not get. Yet I feel that he is growing up with a woefully second hand idea of life. What does Bill know about the woods and the flowers and the trees, and the crops of Lyon county, Kansas? What does he know about Lyon county and its streams—that I knew of Butler county, from living on them?

The silversides used to live in the puddles under the limestone ledge by the old stone quarry in spring, and the snakes used to sun themselves there at noon; the sensitive rose with its curling leaves, used to bloom in the prairie in May for me—for me and a little brown eyed girl who found them in her ink bottle at noon. We roamed ed far and wide over the prairies in spring and picked wild flowers and thought wild thoughts, and dreamed wild dreams—a children's dream. I suppose little Bill dreams some such dreams now, but he dreams them in a 50 foot lot and with only his mother's flowers under the eaves and in their beds to teach him the great mystery of life. Bill has no barn. I doubt if he can skin a cat, and I am sure he cannot do the big drop from the trapeze. To turn a flip-flop would fill him with alarm, yet Bill Betts, down in Eldorado, used to turn a double flip-flop over a stack of barrels and Bill Betts is a man to look at. He is built by the day. He has an educated body, and it is going into its middle forties with health and strength, that our boy, Bill, may have to work for.

right here on the job with the best stock of lumber, dimension siding, casing, lase, shingles, etc. on hand that we ever had at this time of the year and our only excuse for having it was our strong belief that the people of this community in 1912 are going to try out good sound home investments in preference to a lot of those far away "Get Rich Quick" schemes that are like the song of the sirens. This lumber we have came from some of the best "quality" mills in the United States and we are not afraid to put it up against any material in the world for home building—price, quality, durability and long time satisfaction considered. You've got to see it to appreciate it, so come in and we'll talk over that new home of yours.

HIS TROUBLE NOT OF HEART

Real Facts in Regard To F. R. Huffman's Illness. Relief Obtained By Curing His Stomach Ailments.

Waynesville, N. C.—Mr. F. R. Huffman, of this city, says: "I suffered dreadfully with what I thought was heart trouble, and tried various medicines in vain.

After other remedies had failed, Theford's Black-Draught restored me to health. I would not feel safe without Black-Draught in the house. I consider it worth its weight in gold.

It cured my indigestion, and by this means I was restored to health. I can not express my gratitude for its benefits."

Good health depends on the condition of your digestion. Poor digestion and good health do not go together.

Theford's Black-Draught will thoroughly cleanse and set in order your digestive system.

It has done this for others, during the past 70 years, and is today the most popular vegetable liver remedy on the market. Try it.

Insist on Theford's. Price 25c.

The Christmas cakes and pies and turkey and dressing and hash and soup made from the bones are all gone and now for something substantial; remember our stock is composed of the best.

We have also just received an assortment of pure fruit jam which is quite appetizing with a nice loaf of "Mother's" bread or a plate of hot biscuits.

RED RIVER CO'S BIG DIVIDEND

AFTER ONLY SIX MONTHS OPERATION AT ELECTRA, THIS COMPANY PAYS 100 PER CENT.

OTHER NEWS FROM FIEL

C. J. Green Erecting Rig On Loyd-Burnet Tract Southeast of Electra. Many Drills Going.

(Electra News) At a meeting of the Red River Oil Company in our city Tuesday, a dividend of 100 per cent was declared.

The operations of the Red River Oil Company have been confined to the Electra field and their operations have extended over a period of only six months. President Chapman was far sighted enough to take advantage of the opportunity and pay $250 per acre for eighty acres of land, one half mile north of the Clayco No. 1, which price at that time was considered by some to be an exorbitant price to pay for land, but Mr. Chapman's successful career in the oil business prompted him to act quickly and by so doing a most valuable piece of land was secured.

Mr. Chapman turned the property over to a company and called it the Red River Oil Company. Operations were commenced as soon as material and machinery could be moved and two weeks after the first drill fell a six hundred barrel well was brought in at a depth of 1000 feet. At the present writing they have completed twelve wells and every one a good one, they have one 37,000 barrel steel storage tank to use in case of emergency, pumping station, water and oil lines and all the necessary equipment to facilitate the prompt handling of oil.

The company has been under the personal management of Earl Harwell, to whom a great deal of the credit is due for their success.

Before this issue of the News goes to press there will be a rig up on the south center line of section 7, about two and one-half miles southeast of Electra.

This lease is held by Mr. C. J. Green and is one of the most important ever made in the Electra field, as it carries with it an option on all the Burnett-Loyd holdings, consisting of about 20,000 acres of land lying both north and south of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad and between Electra and Burk Station.

The well which is to be started as early as possible, will be about one and one-half miles southeast of the Mrs. Jennings well and means quite an extension of wild catting in a southeasterly direction from the considered proven field.

Allen No. 5 is drilling into the 1000 foot sand and by the time the News reaches you it may be in.

Putnam 6 is being re-packed and will probably be brought in today.

McBride, Sheldon 1, is testing out at 1000 feet. This is one of the most important wells in the field as it will show up the deep stuff a considerable distance to the north.

Burns and Whitehill have cased Woodruff & Krohn No. 1, off dry at 1500 feet and will test out in the next day or two.

Brewer No. 2 is being drilled deeper.

The Producers Oil Company has resumed operations with vigor after the recent cold weather, which was so severe that a great many rigs had to be shut down.

Stringer 4 is balling and will probably be brought in by the time this issue of the News reaches you.

Stringer 12 is drilling in.

Stringer 16 is drilling at 100 feet.

Stringer 13, 14 and 15 are rigging up.

Skinner 1 is drilling in, and No. 2 and 3 are rigging.

Wagoner 13 is about 850 feet; No. 14 is being abandoned for the present; work is being resumed in No. 10, and 12 is drilling at about 1100 feet.

Tate No. 1 is drilling at 1150 feet and Beat No. 1 is drilling at 2100 feet.

Rogers No. 1 is going along nicely at about 2300 feet after considerable hard drilling.

A $30,000 Deal. A deal has just been consummated by which John Brownlee and associates of Oklahoma dispose of one-third interest in the property known as the Electra Oil Field Company for the handsome sum of $30,000, the purchasers being the Bankers Trust Co. of Fort Worth, of which R. T. Stuart is president.

This property consists of a section of land 2-1/2 miles southwest of Electra, and was formerly the property of C. A. Allingham of this city. Some eight months ago, Mr. Brownlee and associates purchased the tract and cut it into small blocks and have been selling same for oil purposes, a large number of the lots already having been sold.—Vernon Record.

Boring at the Campbell well, 13 miles southeast of Frederick, was resumed Monday, after having been stopped for several days on account of cold weather.

The well is now down something over 400 feet. As yet no rock has been struck. The drill has gone through several veins of water and some red clay.—Frederick Leader.

After a temporary stop at the well of the Big Pasture Oil and Gas Development company, at Loveland, work is again under way. The company has laid pipes to a big tank to do away with the necessity of hauling water, and work is proceeding in a steady and business like manner.—Frederick Leader.

W. R. Harrington, of Kansas City, Missouri, was expected to arrive in Grandfield yesterday, to sign a contract for the sinking of a well on one of his farms southwest of Grandfield.—Frederick Leader.

BACK TO BALTIMORE

New York Tribune) In giving the national convention of 1912 to Baltimore the Democratic national committee has revived an ancient political tradition. In the days of its greatest prosperity the Democratic party used to consider Baltimore its natural meeting place.

The first Democratic national convention ever held assembled in the Maryland metropolis in 1832, and from that time on till 1860, Democratic candidates for president and vice president were nominated there, with only one break, the convention of 1866 going to Cincinnati. The first sessions of the 1860 convention were held in Charleston, S. C., but when the slavery and anti-slavery factions split both adjourned to Baltimore to make nominations.

The advantages of Baltimore as a gathering place were numerous and conspicuous. It was a midway station between the North and the South, and easily accessible from the West. It had good hotels and was close to Washington, then much more than now the center of political intrigue and party management. Its eligibility as a convention city was, therefore, freely recognized by other national organizations than the Democratic.

The first American national party convention of any sort—the anti-Masonic—was held in Baltimore, in September, 1831, and in December of that year the national Republicans assembled there and put Henry Clay in nomination for the campaign of 1832. The Whig party gathered there in 1844, 1852 and 1856; the Constitutional Union party in 1860; the Republican in 1864 and the Democratic again in 1872.

The date set for the Democratic gathering, June 25, is earlier than usual, most recent conventions of that party having sat in the week embracing July 4. Moving forward the date may be taken to indicate an intention to break off the work of the present session of congress early in June and that men will be well come to the public. Neither party now looks much to congress for leadership, and both await with eager-

Wichita Falls, Texas, January 19, 1912.

According to a statement just given out by a gentleman who was present at the meeting between Col. Harvey, editor of Harper's Weekly, Ed. Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and Gov. Wilson of New Jersey, Col. Harvey had but slight provocation, in deed if any at all, for publicly stating that he would cease to advocate the candidacy of Gov. Woodrow Wilson for the presidency.

The fact that Harper's Weekly was among the first of the great and influential publications to suggest and in fact boom Gov. Wilson for the Democratic presidential nomination was in itself cause for those Democrats, who always support the nominees of their party to suspicion that there must have been a secret understanding between Col. Harvey and Gov. Wilson, from the mere fact that Col. Harvey's paper had knifed the Democratic presidential nominee at every opportunity afforded. This was hurting Wilson, but he said nothing about it until this now notable meeting took place, at which time Col. Harvey himself spoke of the matter and rather suggested that his support was hurting rather than helping the candidacy of Gov. Wilson. The latter, feeling somewhat embarrassed, answered the question put to him by Col. Harvey in the only way that any self-respecting public man could have been expected to have answered, and had Col. Harvey been a true and loyal friend and supporter of Gov. Wilson he would have never taken the advantage of the situation as he did. His action in this matter will go a long way in convincing those who have suspected all along that the support of Col. Harvey and the Harper's Weekly was giving Gov. Wilson was to bring about just what happened. No one will dispute but that Col. Harvey is shrewd; neither are there many who will ever believe that his support of Gov. Wilson was loyal. In this, as in many other instances, he has proved the traitor and while his act may cost Gov. Wilson the nomination and the Democratic party the presidency, it should be sufficient evidence to those Democrats who support the nominees of the party and vote the ticket, that the less dealings they have with Col. Harvey and his publication the better off they will be. He could have performed no greater service for the success of the Republican party that of his pretended friendship for Wilson followed by the betrayal of that tie.

The pardon of Charles W. Morse from the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., granted yesterday by President Taft, was brought about, ostensibly by the ill health of the prisoner, who it was stated could not hope to live more than a couple of months in prison, but in reality, perhaps, through the great sympathy of President Taft for the little woman who has never neglected an opportunity since the conviction of her erring husband to obtain his release. She believed him innocent, at any rate, Morse was no more guilty of the offense of which he was convicted than hundreds, and perhaps thousands of other high financiers who practice the same identical tactics. Morse was unfortunate, and was caught therefore has had to suffer. But even if he had lost every cent of his own money along with that of others who had trusted their money to his safe-keeping, he yet has a fortune in that he has a companion who has proven her faithfulness to him, and for her sake let it be hoped that the life of the pardoned banker and ice king will be prolonged for a much longer period than six months in order that he may have opportunity to show proper appreciation for the woman who has stood steadfast by him whom the whole world seemed to be against. As most people view it, it was distinctly Mrs. Morse's victory, and as such she should be allowed to enjoy it.

News and Views of Women

A western writer has revived the idea of "Every direction home her gymnasium," and while it is not new, it is nevertheless one which, if women would adopt, would make their household duties full of pleasure and benefit.

All that is needed to make it effective is intelligent direction and women have done many more disagreeable things and endured many ordeals for the sake of beauty, where there was also a large expense attached.

To begin with, always wear loose clothing and easy fitting garments when engaged in housework.

Always work with plenty of fresh air circulating through the rooms.

Above everything, always keep the chest erect. The central idea in all physical development is that of maintaining a well poised chest. It is the center of vitality, the key of the body, as it were, and if the chest is in the correct position, all other parts will naturally fall into line.

Climbing stairs is a healthful exercise, when done correctly, but few women do it right. One should hold oneself perfectly.

Sweeping develops a perfect and rounded arm and produces grace of movement, besides developing the bust, for which nothing is better.

A splendid set of rules on the subject is given by May Belle Brooks in the Housekeeper.

Women of Today. Marion Fairfax, novelist and the author of one of the season's cleverest plays, "The Talker," has divided the women of today into three classes. She says: "For the real new woman, who has proven herself, we have the greatest esteem. She has carved her course, done what she has set out to do, and by so doing merits our profoundest respect. She has demonstrated her worth, and, like the old woman, is an economic force. Her distinguishing mark is the 'aimed mind' and an ability to turn her talents to account.

"The old woman is a type everyone knows, most people love and all people revere. She is of the splendid procession of mothers of the race. The old women had large families and brought them up well. They led busy, useful lives. They counted under the sun of things. They were beacon lights of goodness in the community. Their keynote was spirituality."

The third class, according to Miss Fairfax, is the mixed woman, a mongrel, a hybrid. "The mixed woman stands for nothing. She might as well not be. They are cases of arrested development. They are not old women because they lack the distinguishing trait of spirituality. Nor new women, because they lack the well trained mind and ability to turn their talents to account. Let her go to work. Choose her part and keep it. Let her be a good wife and mother and housekeeper, a blessed old woman, or let her choose the path of the public career. But let her be something and be that something well. Let her be a positive factor in economics.

The call to arms has been sounded by the Hon. Alma Lafferty of Denver, who urged the women delegates appointed from that city to demonstrate that women voters can also be fashion plates as well. Mrs. Lafferty declared: "It was the duty of every woman voter who represented a club at the Biennial to also be a woman of exquisite feminine charm and the possessor of pretty frocks. 'If the delegates haven't such frocks, why all of us club women should form a pool and back our delegates by loaning them our best hats, silk stockings, our finest laces and our French heeled shoes.' Mrs. Lafferty is reputed to have suggested.

Be that as it may, from the impulse given by the Denver women it is safe to say that next summer, when there are thousand soft tourists in San Francisco, the general biennial convention will be something of a fashion show as well.

Social Workers. New York City has recently opened a new charitable organization known as the Sisterhood of Social Workers, and Mrs. Isadore Cohen is president. A new nursery has been opened at the University of Toronto, the auspices of this organization. This nursery not only cares for the children of working women during working hours, but also has an employment bureau where places are found for those who are laid off and where mothers are instructed in the proper care of their children.

Mrs. Lafferty declared: "It was the duty of every woman voter who represented a club at the Biennial to also be a woman of exquisite feminine charm and the possessor of pretty frocks. 'If the delegates haven't such frocks, why all of us club women should form a pool and back our delegates by loaning them our best hats, silk stockings, our finest laces and our French heeled shoes.' Mrs. Lafferty is reputed to have suggested.

Be that as it may, from the impulse given by the Denver women it is safe to say that next summer, when there are thousand soft tourists in San Francisco, the general biennial convention will be something of a fashion show as well.

Social Workers. New York City has recently opened a new charitable organization known as the Sisterhood of Social Workers, and Mrs. Isadore Cohen is president. A new nursery has been opened at the University of Toronto, the auspices of this organization. This nursery not only cares for the children of working women during working hours, but also has an employment bureau where places are found for those who are laid off and where mothers are instructed in the proper care of their children.

The third class, according to Miss Fairfax, is the mixed woman, a mongrel, a hybrid. "The mixed woman stands for nothing. She might as well not be. They are cases of arrested development. They are not old women because they lack the distinguishing trait of spirituality. Nor new women, because they lack the well trained mind and ability to turn their talents to account. Let her go to work. Choose her part and keep it. Let her be a good wife and mother and housekeeper, a blessed old woman, or let her choose the path of the public career. But let her be something and be that something well. Let her be a positive factor in economics.

The call to arms has been sounded by the Hon. Alma Lafferty of Denver, who urged the women delegates appointed from that city to demonstrate that women voters can also be fashion plates as well. Mrs. Lafferty declared: "It was the duty of every woman voter who represented a club at the Biennial to also be a woman of exquisite feminine charm and the possessor of pretty frocks. 'If the delegates haven't such frocks, why all of us club women should form a pool and back our delegates by loaning them our best hats, silk stockings, our finest laces and our French heeled shoes.' Sir William Mulock.

Sir William Mulock, one of the chief justices of the high court of Ontario, was born at Bond Head, Ontario, January 19, 1843, and received his education at the University of Toronto. He was first selected to the Dominion Parliament in 1882 and was five times re-elected. Between 1896 and 1905, in which year he was appointed to his present position on the bench, Sir William filled the positions of Postmaster-General of Canada and Minister of Labor. He is known as the father of Imperial penny postage, as it was on his suggestion that the scheme was adopted by the Inter-Imperial Postal Conference in 1898. For nearly twenty years Sir William served as Vice Chancellor of the University of Toronto. Several years ago he represented Canada at the inauguration of the Commonwealth of Australia.

Dandruff and Itching Scalp

Yield to Zemo Treatment

Why should you continue to experiment with salves, greasy lotions and fancy hair dressings trying to rid your scalp of germ life. They can't do it because they cannot penetrate to the seat of the trouble and draw the germ life to the surface of the scalp and destroy it.

Why not try a PROVEN REMEDY? One that will rid the scalp of germ life and in this way will cure DANDRUFF and ITCHING SCALP.

This remedy is ZEMO, a clean, refined penetrating scalp tonic that goes right to the seat of the trouble and drives the germ life to the surface and destroys it.

A shampoo with ZEMO (ANTISEPTIC) SOAP and one application of ZEMO will entirely rid the scalp of dandruff and scurf. Do not hesitate, but get a bottle of ZEMO today. It

Like a Yacht Taut and Trim, the White Sale Spreads Its Wings and Sails Smoothly on! It isn't a squally affair, blowing over in a few days. This White Sale has "ballast"—quantities of merchandise and scores and scores of unsurpassed values. The strength of the Pennington White Sale is in its quantities and varieties. Those who came the first days of the sale, discovered that we did not exaggerate regarding them. It is our sincere belief that the quantity of undermuslin here exceeds the combined stocks in Wichita Falls. That being true, it is scarcely necessary to say that the sale will be as good throughout the remainder of the week as it was the first day; it is in fact better, as it naturally should be. Plenty of undermuslin, plenty of the same, surpassing values. —Indeed the Pennington White Sale Justifies Itself Vefy Thoroughly—Come Everyday This Week— Eight Big Tables piled high, with Muslin Underwear all on sale this week at Reduced Prices. BOY TORN TO PIECES BY GIN MACHINERY

A Heart Rending Accident at Bowie. Guy Pumer, aged 11 the Victim.

(Bowie Cross Timbers)
On Wednesday afternoon, just after dinner, Guy, the 11-year-old son of Mr. L. D. Pumer, in passing upstairs to the packer of the Pumer Cotton Gin, at which he was working, was caught in the line shaft and met instant death.
The little body was completely crushed. Both feet were cut off, the right just at the ankle and the left midway between the ankle and the knee. The abdomen and lower part of the body was badly bruised and gashed. The lower lip was cut deep, almost in the exact center, while the skull and forehead was crushed almost to a pulp. The left arm was broken and the right one severely lacerated. According to Undertaker Burgess, who collected the fragments of the body and prepared them for burial, there was hardly a whole bone in the body.
When the accident occurred Roy Mayo was working at the press on the floor above, and he heard an unusual noise, and thinking the belt had slipped he looked down at it through an opening in the floor. To his utter horror he saw that someone had gotten caught in the line shaft, the body striking an obstacle at each revolution. Mayo ran quickly to the engine and stopped it suddenly. To "Mac" Dickey, who was close by, he told of the happening, and together they ran back to the scene of the accident. The sudden stoppage of the engine attracted Mr. Pumer, and Mr. Partner and Mr. Preston from their work at other parts of the gin plant. The grief-stricken father could only look on in horror, while Dickey and Partner released from the shaft what remained of the youth's body, his clothing being wound so tightly about the neck that he experienced difficulty in cutting him loose.
Guy helped his father about the gin at odd times, and notwithstanding his youth had an excellent knowledge of gin machinery. Mr. Dickey, in speaking of him said his services were almost as valuable as those of a man.

CREAM BAKERY MAKES A GENEROUS OFFER

The Cream Bakery, on Seventh street, almost every day, has left over a more or less large number of loaves of bread which have not been disposed of during the day's business. This bread is perfectly good, but owing to the fact that it is a day old, and because fresh bread is made each day, it is not used in trade, and in many cases goes to waste. Other bread, in the process of baking, becomes pinched or chipped, which renders it unfit to sell, although it is as good and fresh for eating purposes as any other bread. Some days large quantities of bread in this shape are thrown away and go to waste, when the food could be used to feed some hungry person or family who would be glad to get it.
Vic Stampfl, proprietor of the Cream Bakery, has formed the conclusion that this bread could be used to advantage by the Associated Charities officials in this city, and he has therefore placed it at their disposal. If any official of the Associated Charities, Salvation Army, or other charitable organization in the city, will write an order for the number of loaves of this bread wanted, Mr. Stampfl will see that any poor, deserving person or family can obtain the same. He is willing to furnish to such people as long as it lasts, and has therefore made this offer to the charitable organizations here. It is a probable that they will accept such a generous proposition and that he will be called upon on occasions of need in the future.

Resolutions Upon the Death of Walter Stead.
Whereas, on the ... day of December, A. D. 1911, death called from our dear brother, Walter Stead; and
Whereas, at the time of his death deceased was a member, in good standing of Wichita Falls Aerie No. 1889, Fraternal Order of Eagles, therefore be it Resolved, that the announcement of the death of our beloved brother on the above date forcibly reminds us that we, too, must pass away, and calls forth our sympathies for the family of one with whom our private and fraternal association for a long while have left only the kindest remembrance. We can but express our unfeigned regret for our sudden loss and to the will of the Disposer of the destinies of all;
Resolved, that by the death of our beloved brother Walter Stead, Wichita Falls Lodge No. 1889, F.O.E. has lost a faithful and esteemed member, the Boilemakers' fraternity a courteous and efficient representative and the community a just and valuable citizen; and that we condole with the family of the deceased in their afflictions.
Resolved: that the secretary furnish to Wichita Falls Lodge No. 1889, F.O.E. at its next regular session a copy of these resolutions, and that said lodge after the reading and passing of the same enter upon the minutes of said session, a like copy to the family of the deceased; and also a copy to Fort Worth Aerie No. 62 F.O.E., at Fort Worth, Texas, to which lodge we here acknowledge our indebtedness and extend our thanks for their thoughtful and kind services and courtesies shown the deceased, and his family, in their hours of darkness.

"The Store Dependable"

NOW COMES THE CHICKEN REEL.
Philadelphia Bulletin.
If you wish the eyes of every ballroom focused upon you; if you would drive barbed envy into the hearts of rivals; split your enemies into three and sound the dorian cry of the dance, pass up for good and all the syncopated beauties of the "grizzly bear" or the embraces of the "grizzly bear" and cluck, scratch and waddle through the mazes of the "chicken reel."
It's the very latest. All the fashionables have seized upon it in New York, Newport, they say, went quite "dippy" about it last summer and no ballroom was complete without at least one couple flapping their arms in happy abandon and crowing with pure joy of living.
The details of the dance are original too. It's so naive and unaffected, witnesses declare to see the highly polished actors of America scratching a blue-blooded ankle with 'other foot, just like a Jersey suburbanite.
And then, when the whole ballroom clucks in unison, the effect is one that can never be forgotten, music lovers state.

WREN & BERRY PUARANTINE IS LAWFUL.

Every Community Has Right to Take What Action is Seen Fit.

Austin, Jan. 18.—The complaint of the San Antonio & Aransas Pass railway against the meningitis quarantine at Kennedy Junction will avail nothing, according to the opinion of First Assistant Attorney General Walthall today, in which it was held that Rule 17 of the sanitary code "expressly authorizes local health authorities to adopt any additional restrictive measures, and that article 4327 of the revised statutes allows any city, town or county to institute quarantine for the preservation of the health of the community. The railroad complained to State Health Officer Steiner by wire that five armed men, acting as guards at Kennedy, will not allow passengers to transfer at this junction point, nor will they permit trash crews to procure meals at the junction eating house. Relief was asked, but Mr. Walthall says there is none.

Dr. Stiner in the request for the opinion calls attention to the rule of the sanitary code classifying meningitis as a non-quarantine disease, and asked if local points, in view of this rule, can establish quarantines. Mr. Walthall replies in the affirmative and says that Kennedy has not acted out of consistency with the statutes of the rules and that the quarantine may be enforced at Kennedy or elsewhere.
