

BOYCE ATTACKS ATTY M'LEAN

RESENTS QUESTIONS ASKED MOTHER BY ATTORNEY FOR THE PROSECUTION.

HE WAS RESTRAINED

Five Men Required to Hold Him—Disturber Fined $100 and Excluded From Court Room.

Fort Worth, Texas, Feb. 19.—Responding to questions asked by Attorney McLean of the prosecution Lynn Boyce this morning rashed at McLean and it required five men to hold him and restrain him from doing violence to the attorney.
Boyce ran over newspaper men and others in his frenzied attempt to reach the attorney.

The trouble resulted when Mrs.
Boyce who was testifying said she did not put her son in a sanitarium because he was not a fit subject.
McLean asked her "Don't you think a man who has disgraced his father and mother by stealing another man's wife and killing little children a fit subject for a sanitarium?" The words were scarcely out of McLean's mouth when Lynn Boyce jumped a chair and leaped toward the attorney and was restrained with difficulty.

Judge Swayne fined him $100 and sentenced him to one hour in jail. He was also excluded from the court room during the further progress of the trial.

Mrs. A. G. Boyce, widow of the slain cattleman, took the stand at the opening of the session this morning and told of the efforts of herself and her husband to keep Al Boyce and Mrs. Sneed apart. She said Captain Boyce had told her he hoped the Canadian officials would keep Al there at least four months when he learned that Mrs. Sneed had rejoined her husband.

Mrs. Boyce in testifying said:
"The first act I didn't approve of was when he (Al Boyce) took her to the opera house in 1910. I asked where he was going and he said to the opera house, and I asked who he was going with—" (Objection was made here because the testimony was declared hearsay). Continuing, she said, "I disapproved especially when going without other friends accompanying. I told him that this was not New York and not the 'Four Hundred.' I don't think Beal Sneed would like this. It is imprudent."

The week is going to be a week of legal fighting that is expected to exceed any that Fort Worth has seen for some time. The state has practically completed the introduction of its rebuttal testimony, and as soon as it rests its case finally, the defense will start introducing its evidence in sur-rebuttal, seeking to disprove things against the state has sought to prove against the evidence introduced by the defense's witnesses during the presentation of its direct case.

One of the most exciting of these fights, indications are, will be waged against all attempts of the defense to introduce testimony that might tend to show Sneed was insane when he killed Captain Boyce.

During the examination of the first witness for the defense several minor points were brought out along this line, among them being questions regarding the demeanor of the defendant at different times prior to and immediately after the killing.

Only a few scattering witnesses were questioned at any length along this line, however, and counsel for the defense seemed to be either neglecting, or deliberately ignoring, this defense. Many thought it was being postponed for the purpose of bringing that testimony before the jury last.

Consequently when it was announced that the defense had closed the introduction of its direct evidence, the surprise was great.

Whether this was intentional or unintentional, the state has been most careful to take advantage of it. Sur-rebuttal evidence must be confined to evidence that bears directly on points brought out by the state in its rebuttal, and so far as the lay mind can see, there has been not the slightest attempt on the part of the state to show that Sneed was sane when he shot Captain Boyce.

In fact, Special Prosecutor Hanger, who has been directing the examination for the state, has gone out of his way in some instances to avoid bringing out evidence that might be construed as tending to show Sneed was sane.

for the last few days has been visiting Miss Jennie Huggins of this city, left today for her home.

WILL ORGANIZE NEW CHURCH

Meeting Will Be Held Next Sunday
For Organization of North Wichita M. E. Church, South

A Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will be organized in North Wichita next Sunday afternoon. A lot was purchased and a church building was erected on the north side of the river some time since and a mission has been conducted under the charge of the First M. E. Church in this city.

Recently, however, this church was placed in the Iowa Park charge and will be organized by C. C. Davis, pastor for that charge, whose headquarters are at Iowa Park, and he announces that a meeting will be held Sunday afternoon to organize the congregation. Mr. Davis is a rural mail carrier out of Iowa Park and his duties as pastor and mail carrier require him to travel over a thousand miles each month. He has found it practically impossible to get around with a horse and was in town today to inspect a runabout automobile with a view of purchase. The average preacher who delivers two sermons a week thinks he has his hands full but Mr. Davis preaches sixteen sermons every month.

N. JERSEY JUDGE IS NOMINATED

PRESIDENT RECOMMENDS AP-POINTMENT OF CHANCELLOR
MAHON PITNEY AS ASSO-CIATE JUSTICE

FILLS THE REQUIREMENTS

Man Named For Supreme Bench Has Been Jurist For Thirty Years—
Has Been In Congress

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—The nomination of Mahlon Pitney, chancellor of the State of New Jersey as Associate Justice of the United States Supreme court to succeed the late Justice Harlan, will be sent to the Senate this afternoon by President Taft.

Chancellor Pitney has been a member of Congress for two terms and is a lawyer and jurist of thirty years' practice.

Chancellor Pitney meets many of the President's requirements for a supreme court justice. He is just a little more than 54 years old, six years under Mr. Taft's "age limit," and has been a practicing lawyer and a judge since 1882. He served as associate justice of the New Jersey supreme court from 1901 to 1908, and became chancellor in the latter year.
His term would expire in 1915. His home is in Morristown.

MARTIN COURTNEY SUCCUMBS TO MENINGITIS

Martin Courtney, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Courtney died at his home at 1414 14th street at six o'clock this morning from spinal meningitis. The boy became sick Thursday night and Friday night his case was diagnosed as meningitis.
Three injections of the Flexner serum were administered and up until last night at midnight it was thought he might recover. After midnight, however, his condition gradually grew worse resulting in his death this morning. The body will be shipped to Fort Worth for burial.

G. C. Woodruff, mayor of Electra, spent Sunday in this city.

STRANGLED TO DEATH WHILE EATING

A. Johnson Swallowed Chicken Bone and Choked to Death at Electra Saturday.

A. Johnson, a young man who has been employed in the O K Restaurant at Electra strangled to death Saturday in a peculiar manner. While eating lunch about three o'clock he swallowed a small piece of bone, and this lodged in his throat, and before medical aid could reach him, he had choked to death.

Johnson was a comparative stranger in Electra, having come there from Oklahoma when the oil work started.
He was buried at Electra Sunday morning.

CONVENTION CONTROL IS STILL UNCERTAIN

Oklahoma Reports Give to Clark 215 and Wilson 195 Instructed Votes

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 19.— Control of the State convention based upon actions of various county conventions yesterday, depends almost entirely upon organization and effective work between now and Thursday the date of the State gathering in Oklahoma City. This is particularly true as to the Presidential situation. In the judgment of the leaders in both Clark and Wilson counties.

No close is the situation that one ventured the opinion last night that out of the 598 delegates with one vote each given seats on the floor, the majority for the successful faction, is liable to be less than sixty.

Unofficial reports gathered up last night give the National Speaker approximately 215 convention votes and Wilson about 195 with 188 votes from counties that are not instructed.

Harmon People in Delegations
The Harmon people do not appear to be an element save as they appear on the individual delegations, bound in most instances by a convention resolution. The impossibility of harmonizing the Harmon and Wilson forces causes some of the leaders to figure on all of the former strength on instructed delegations giving for Clark.

Yesterday had its surprises. Clark appears to have been the favorite in eastern counties, yet Wilson captured some of the counties there that had been claimed for Clark. In the Southwest the National Speaker lost in counties where he was believed to have been strong. Had Oklahoma county not done the unexpected and elected a majority Wilson delegation thereby taking away thirty-one votes, Clark people assert their success would have been assured.

When sought for a statement last night, Associate Justice Williams of the Supreme Court, who has been leading the Clark fight, said: "I claim the State is for Champ Clark."

ONE CASE OF MENINGITIS

DOCTORS DECLARE THERE IS NO
EPIDEMIC AND NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

We ask that our people take a sane and conservative view of the situation, promising to do our full duty in reporting every case, keeping the public informed and using every means at our disposal to protect the public health.

We recommend that the people be careful in exercise, diet and daily life avoiding all excesses.

We recommend a general cleaning up of the city and private property with a plentiful use of common lime.
We recommend cleanliness of person and the use of the throat and nasal spray three or four times a day.

A conference of the physicians of the city together with the school board and city authorities was held at the city hall this morning to discuss preventative measures against meningitis. It was the consensus of opinion that the best thing to do was to avoid crowds and to keep clean.
The situation was declared not alarming and the closing of the schools was advised against. Representatives of the motion picture shows were in attendance and voluntarily offered to close their shows for a few days to await developments. This was approved by the conference.

Only one case of meningitis was reported in the city. This is the case of Kirby Malone, the eight-year-old son of J. H. Malone on Scott avenue, between Second and Third streets.
The serum has been administered and the patient is doing nicely.

Following the conference this morning the following statement was issued:
We, the undersigned practicing physicians of Wichita, Falls, Texas, make this statement to the public in regard to the meningitis situation: There has been only three authentic cases of the meningitis in Wichita Falls to date.

There is no epidemic of meningitis or any other disease in the city now and the health of the city is unusually good for this season of the year.

There is no occasion for alarm among our people. Every case of meningitis to date has been promptly reported to the authorities and all necessary and proper quarantine regulations enforced.

Death of Mrs. Jennie Casey.
Mrs. Jennie Casey, aged forty-nine, died yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock at her home 806 Tenth street, after an illness lasting only a few days. Heart failure combined with pneumonia is said to have been the direct cause of her death, although she had not been in good health for some time.

Mrs. Casey has been a resident of this city for the last few years, having moved here shortly after the accidental death of her husband who was an engineer running out of San Antonio, and who was killed in a wreck. She leaves two grown children, a young man and a young woman, both of whom are at present believed to be in Oklahoma, and both of whom are married. An attempt is being made to communicate with them, but so far the attempt has not been successful.

The remains of Mrs. Casey will probably be shipped by E. S. Hill to Nashville, Tenn., where she has relatives. The body is now being held at the undertaking parlors pending instructions from these relatives.

County Tax Collector Harry Daugh-

DESERTING LA FOLLETTE

Progressive Leaders Say Wisconsin
Man Cannot Hold Progressive Republicans Together

By Associated Press.
New York, Feb. 19.—Hiram Johnson, Governor of California, heretofore an ardent supporter of La Follette, issued a statement today, declaring that Roosevelt should be the presidential nominee.

Pinchot Also Deserts La Follette.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—Gifford Pinchot, in a signed statement made public last night, announces that he has withdrawn his support from Senator La Follette's presidential candidate and that he will hereafter advocate the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt.

Mr. Pinchot declares that the events of the last month have made it apparent that Senator La Follette's candidate will neither hold the progressive Republicans together as a fighting force, nor prevent the nomination of a "reactionary Republican."

"The course which the senator has elected to pursue," says Mr. Pinchot, "will not keep the progressives together and in that course I cannot follow him."

The statement follows:
"The struggle which until recently has centered around Senator La Fol-lette's candidacy was undertaken for two clear and specific purposes; first, to hold the progressives together as an effective fighting force and second to prevent the nomination of a reactionary Republican for the president. Within the last month circumstances have made it impossible to accomplish by means of the candidacy of Senator La Follette either of these two purposes and the imperative need for another leader has been made plain."

"One of these circumstances is the ill health of Senator La Follette, which all his friends so greatly deplore. I retain undiminished my admiration for the high quality of his past services to the progressive cause, but the course which the senator has elected to pursue will not keep the progressives together and in that course I cannot follow him.
From the beginning I have fought for a cause and a principle and not for a man."

"The reasons for the action I am taking are set forth at length in a letter to Senator La Follette, in which I have notified him that since in my judgment, his candidacy no longer will advance the progressive cause, I therefore advocate the nomination of Col. Roosevelt, whose duty I believe it is to take up the leadership of the progressive movement."

"Until this notification to Senator La Follette was delivered I have, of course, taken no part in advocating the nomination of Col. Roosevelt."
"The country knows that Colonel Roosevelt is a genuine progressive.
That question was settled once and for all by his active championship of human rights during the seven years of conflict which made the progressive movement a power in the nation."

AUGUST FRIEND CHILDREN'S FRIEND

When Grouchy Residents Object to Noise of Coaches He Leases Hill For Their Use

By United Press.
New York, Feb. 16.—If you go out to Sheephead Bay and ask any youngster to tell you the name of the greatest man of this or any other time, he will reply without hesitation "August Friend—there never was another guy like him." And if you ask August Friend what was the greatest investment he ever made in his life, he will tell you it was when he dug down into his hard-earned savings and paid $250 to lease until the first of May the only available coasting hill in Sheephead Bay.

August Friend was until recently a blacksmith. For many years his little shop was a favorite resort of the children. They crowded about his furnace and held out their hands to catch the sparks that showered from the white-hot iron; they got in his way when he went rushing to the slacks with a newly fashioned horseshoe and they frightened him almost to pieces when it seemed certain they would be trampled to death under the heels of some fractious colt. But still the "smithy" liked to have the children with him.

There wasn't much in pounding iron, he said, except the fun he got out of his juvenile visitors, and for years the little folks of Sheephead Bay were his constant companions. A few months ago, August, who was past 70, sold his little shop and retired. He saw very little of his young friends until a heavy snow came August went to the one big hill in the neighborhood and found all of Sheephead's youngsters there. They had just succeeded in getting a good road made through the drifts and were laughing and shouting. Then William Thompson, who lived near by and who, it seems, had forgotten years ago that he was once a small boy, appeared and told the youngsters they were making too much noise.

It is reported that the remarks August Friend made to William Thompson on that occasion dealt in detail with the latter's ancestry and his probable abiding place in the next world. But Thompson called the police and the boys and girls were told that they could not coast there any more. August went to William Johns who owned the hill and leased it for $250. The next day when the heavy-hearted children of Sheephead Bay started out to find some dinky hill, where they could coast without being arrested, they saw a little red faced, gray haired man, looking very much like a real Santa Claus, gesticulating wildly to them and pointing to a sign he had just nailed on a tree which read COASTERS WANTED.

It didn't take very long for every kid in Sheephead Bay to hear the good news. They came up to the hill from all quarters and they voted August Friend the greatest man of this or any other age. And the old man entered into the spirit of the sport with so much zeal that when his aged spouse went to call him for dinner, she could hardly believe her eyes—there was August himself, sliding down the hill "belly buster."

Australian Boys at the Capital.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—Forty Australian boys, sent to this country by the Australian government on an educational tour arrived here today and were taken in charge by a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which has arranged extensive plans for the entertainment of the youngsters. Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce will entertain the visitors during the three days of their sojourn in the national capital and arrangements for their reception at the White House by President Taft have been made. On Wednesday afternoon the boys, many of whom are clever musicians, while others are singers, actors, or acrobats, will give a matinee entertainment at the Columbia Theatre. Arrangements have been made to give the school children of Washington an opportunity to attend the entertainment.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by the Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and, from the first day, it seemed to help. I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical.

Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardui.

The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways.

Try It.

NEW NEWS OF YESTERDAY

Story of How Large Profits Killed a Crusade.

Connecticut Valley Farmers, After Being Shown They Could Make Money Raising Tobacco, Ignored Trask's War on Weed.

By E. J. EDWARDS.

Recently I told of the prediction—now gloriously fulfilled—made by Dr. George B. Loring, the country's last commissioner of agriculture, in 1882, to the effect that the then unopened Dakota prairies and the still more remote Canadian northwest would one day become two of the great wheat granaries of the world.

At the time Dr. Loring made his prediction I asked him if, in his visits to the northwest, he had discovered any land suitable to the culture of tobacco. I had heard that some farmers of the then remote west were contemplating cultivating tobacco suitable for snuff upon lands adjacent to one of the great river valleys.

"I don't think much tobacco will be raised in the northwest," Dr. Loring replied. "Still, there may be discovered some kind of soil especially adapted to certain kinds of tobacco. Wheat will be far more profitable than tobacco will."

"It is curious," Dr. Loring continued, "how agricultural or commercial conditions will sometimes change men's views. Did you ever hear of George Trask?"

I replied that I had a faint recollection of having heard once of a temperance advocate of that name. Dr. Loring laughed.

"It's the same man. Trask was not only as prominent as a temperance advocate as Neal Dow or John Gough was, but, I think, he was the first man to begin a national agitation against the use of tobacco. If you had heard Trask speak you would have been convinced that the use of tobacco was almost as great a sin as the use of liquor or opium. He had all kinds of medical testimony to show that tobacco users were on the road to perdition.

"There was no part of the country where Trask's anti-tobacco crusade took firmer hold than in the valley of the Connecticut river, say from Hartford as far north as Brattleboro, Vt. Young people pledged themselves not to use tobacco just as they pledged themselves to taste not, touch not, or handle not strong drink. The tobacco user in that valley was looked upon as a grievous sinner. If public opinion all over the United States had been as strong against tobacco as it was in the Connecticut valley the tobacco trade would have become extinct.

"Well, one day there came into the valley an agricultural chemist—I think he was in the employ of the government—to visit friends who lived, if I remember correctly, in the town of Suffield, Conn., just south of the Massachusetts line. He took great interest in the agricultural products of the vicinity and fell into the habit of studying and analyzing the soil. He made some experiments with the soil of various farms of Suffield, and then he told the farmers that the soil was very rich in qualities which would luxuriantly produce certain kinds of tobacco. One or two farmers, who had not been affected by the anti-tobacco campaign, ventured to try the experiment. They raised wonderful crops of tobacco, and it was discovered that it was especially suitable for the wrappers of cigars.

"The next year still other farmers took up the raising of the pernicious weed, and in the course of a few years the whole Connecticut valley was becoming, comparatively speaking, one of the great tobacco producing centers of the world. And with the discovery of the profit there was in growing and harvesting tobacco in the Connecticut valley there came a change of sentiment respecting its use. No longer did Trask's anti-tobacco crusades avail. The organizations died out; children no longer pledged themselves not to use tobacco; and users of the weed were no longer pointed out as men of sin. And I have observed more school houses and high schools, more libraries, in the Connecticut valley since its farmers took to tobacco raising than were to be found there before this weed yielded them a good living and enabled them to have a surplus in the bank."

Kipling as Host.

Rudyard Kipling has a reputation for rudeness which some people think very ill deserved. An American visitor in London recently asked a well-known English publisher for a letter of introduction to Kipling. "Never," said the publisher. "He's the one man in England I refuse to give anybody letters of introduction to. He pays no attention to 'em. I don't care to have credentials from me treated that way."

"The American was abashed, but he wanted particularly to see the personage who, some say, has exchanged the place of the first story teller in the language for the press agency of the All Red Empire. He mustered his courage, sat down and wrote to the great man himself, and said so. The letter went to Kipling's country place in Sussex with the queer name—Bate-man's Burwash—which, by the way, you must call Bur'rah, with a long roll to the r."

The reply came back next day by wire: "Come, and I'll show you my garden."

CIVIC LEAGUE

WILL CO-OPERATE

As First Step Members Will Thoroughly Clean Own Premises Ask Enforcement of Anti-Expectorating Ordinance

The Ladies of the Civic League have tendered co-operation to the city authorities in a clean-up campaign to minimize as far as possible the danger of a meningitis epidemic. As a first step in the direction each member of the league has promised to see that her own premises and the alleys and streets adjoining are thoroughly cleaned and kept clean.

The ladies also propose to keep up their agitation until the ordinance forbidding expectorating on the sidewalks is thoroughly enforced. This ordinance has been practically a dead letter and the ladies believe that its enforcement is the first thing necessary in the sanitary campaign. The accumulation of rubbish on stairways and expectorating thereon will be given attention. Some of them have even gone so far as to declare they will not visit offices when compelled to wade through dirt and sputum.

A meeting of the executive board of the league will be called in the near future when definite action will be outlined.

Arguments in $2,000,000 Suit.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 19.—Before Judge Colt in the Federal court today arguments were heard on the motion to dismiss and plea in abatement filed by the United Shoe Machinery Company to the $2,000,000 suit filed against it by Charles A. Strutt, trustee for the Goddu Sons Metal Fastening Company, for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust act. The Goddu Company, it is alleged, was a subsidiary of business by the shoe machinery company, whose officers also are under Federal indictment for alleged violations of the anti-trust law.

Second Annual Orange Show Opened.

San Bernardino, Cal., Feb. 19.—The Second Annual Orange Show which opened here today to continue to the end of the week, is generally considered the most elaborate, largest and most comprehensive exposition of the citrus fruit industry ever held in America. In addition to the display of more than five million oranges from various parts of the State the exhibition contains a display of machinery and appliances for packing and handling fruit and a highly interesting model of the irrigation methods employed in supplying the orchards of the western slope with the life-giving water.

Visiting

Katherine

"What's the matter, George?" asked Bleeker when he and Wadley met at the same cafe table last Tuesday noon. "You look like the last run of shad. Have you been sick?"

"No, I've been up in the country," said Wadley. "You know Katherine Morgan's people have a cottage at Sunset lake. Well, Katherine invited me to pass the week-end there. She said it was a quiet, restful place, so I decided to break away from the business grind for two or three days, if I lost my job for it."

"You did right," declared Bleeker. "Everybody needs a change once in a while."

"Well, I had a change, all right," said Wadley, dismally.

"Didn't it agree with you? Was it dull?"

"Dull! I'll just tell you what Katherine, the adorable, the untiring, absolutely indestructible Katherine, arranged for my pleasure.

"It was 8:30 Friday evening when my train arrived. Katherine was at the station with a carriage full of young people, who welcomed me most warmly. We drove to the cottage, where supper was awaiting me. After I dispatched that and was looking longingly at one of the porch hammocks Katherine announced that we were all to go down the shore a half mile to a marshmallow roast."

"If there's anything sticky sweet in the name of food that I particularly detest it's marshmallows, but, of course, I expressed my delight at the roast and away we went. After about ten pounds of marshmallows had been consumed and the beach fire was getting low Katherine suggested that we have a few lively games to warm ourselves. Although I was really too tired to move, I joined in the romping and tore back and forth across the beach like a schoolboy for a half-hour or so."

"At 6:30 the next morning a rap at my door woke me from a sound sleep. 'Aren't you going for a dip?' called Katherine, gayly. 'I take a swim every morning before breakfast.'

"In about five minutes I joined Katherine on the pier. She dived into the water and I followed, my teeth chattering. She struck out across the bay. It was only by superhuman efforts that I managed to keep up with her. I had not been in swimming before this year, and I never was a strong swimmer. I proposed that we run home on the beach and Katherine set me a box of candy that she could eat me. She won."

"After breakfast she challenged me to tennis. We played six sets before lunch. I was too tired to eat and I unrolled myself in a hammock, but Katherine said she was as hungry as a bird man, and she knew I must be starving, so I sat down at the table and was driven a fairly good meal when Katherine told me to hurry, for she had arranged a four some at golf with two friends of hers."

"It was 5 o'clock when we finished playing golf and Katherine said we should just have time for a swim before dinner. When I was dressing after the swim Katherine knocked at my door and told me to put on my dancing pumps, as we were going to a hop in the evening.

"We went to the hop. Katherine was as blooming as a rose. She introduced me to every girl there and I danced every dance on the program and six extras. I don't know how I managed to walk the mile back to the cottage without falling by the side of Katherine, who appeared to be doing a Marathon, so briskly did she walk."

"I hope you got a rest Sunday," said Bleeker, sympathetically.

"A rest! Katherine had planned a walk around the lake. It was just seven miles, and we got home in time for a 1 o'clock dinner. I was determined that I should sleep all the afternoon in a hammock. But it was not to be. Katherine asked me to row her to the far end of the lake to pick water lilies. We got into weeds where I could hardly move the boat an inch without breaking my back."

"In the evening Katherine had a crowd in for a Welsh rarebit and I was allowed to cut up four pounds of cheese. It was hard work. One of the girls came unescorted and Katherine and I rowed her home across the lake at midnight, and walked a half-mile to her house and back.

"It didn't seem more than ten minutes after I got into bed when Katherine knocked on my door to see if I was ready for my morning swim. I answered brightly that I had already been in. Then I began throwing my things into my suitcase. At breakfast I inquired about the first train to town.

"'But George,' Katherine protested, 'I thought you were going to stay over today. There's a lot of things I want you to do. We were going to play indoor baseball and—'

"I'm terribly sorry,' I interrupted, 'but it's imperative that I return to my office this morning.'

"It was imperative. I knew that if I didn't regain the rest and quiet of my desk telephone immediately I should be a total wreck. I fed and Katherine's last words to me were an invitation to return for my vacation in September."

"Will you go?" asked Bleeker.

"Not unless I've been to a rest cure first."

Raiment of Lynx Skins

When Mr. Faversham began the impersonation of a Faun he learned that a raiment of Lynx skins was essential.

The difficulty was to secure the lynx skins. A hunter friend came to the rescue, telling Mr. Faversham of a trapper far out in the Sierra Nevada, who was an expert in the capture of wild beasts. So to California Mr. Faversham journeyed last summer, and after three weeks hunting in the Sierras, only one lynx pelt was secured. Almost despairing, Mr. Faversham was at last persuaded to accompany the trapper into the mountains of Mexico, where after days of the utmost patience, a dozen fine specimens were taken.

Next came the matching of the skins and the fashioning of the costume itself. One of the leading costumers of New York was commissioned to design a garment along the lines suggested by Mr. Faversham and the beautiful and imaginative arrangement of the golden skins around his body, which Mr. Faversham wears at his entrance in "The Faun" was the result.

This is only a portion of the make-up, however, for Mr. Faversham still had to devise a staining for the extremities of his limbs, which are left bare, that would carry out the idea of a creature who has lived all his days in the open. The right mixture was discovered at last, and no one who is fortunate enough to witness Mr. Faversham's first appearance as the faun, will ever forget the magnificent effect which the brown skins and brown staining unite to produce upon a figure that lends itself especially well to so fantastic and imaginative make-up.

As further proof of its artistic value, it may be noted that Mishka Morkin, the Russian dancer, is wearing in his newest terpsichorean creation this winter, a costume and make-up almost the exact duplicate of the one which Mr. Faversham has been wearing all season in "The Faun."

Outfielder Detroit Tigers, and Who Probably is the Hardest Hitting Player in the Game Today and One of the Most Popular.

I will remember the greatest play I ever saw, and there never has been anything to equal it either before or since. The play was made by Micky O'Connor, son of Mrs. Bridget O'Connor, at Wahoo, Neb., when I was about 14 years old. Knowing me to be at least 26 you can calculate the year for yourself.

We had a team among ourselves then and Micky was our right fielder. I think our team was called the Crawford Stars or something like that, and our baseball field was in the lot alongside Mrs. O'Connor's boarding house. Mrs. O'Connor having the honor to be the mother of our right fielder, although at that time she did not appear to appreciate that honor. Micky was our best fly catcher. The right field fence of our field wasn't a fence at all, but the kitchen yard of Mrs. O'Connor's house, and I think the reason Micky always played right field was that he had to wait on the table at meal times while his mother did the cooking. I remember she broke up a lot of games by coming to the kitchen door and yelling "Mickey" just when the bases were full and no one out and the score 15 to 14 in our favor. We usually beat up Micky afterward for spoiling the games, but not when his ma was looking.

Anyhow we had a game with the Little Potatoes after school one day. There was great rivalry between the two teams as we lived on opposite sides of the track, and each game was preceded by a fight to decide which team got the outs, and usually followed by a fight to decide which won. I think we played more the games than any team in history because every game broke up with a fight and each claiming the victory. Neither had a pull with the commission.

Anyhow this was a great game to decide who owned the ball we played with. In the ninth inning the score was 12 to 11 in our favor and they tied us up. We began watching Mrs. O'Connor's kitchen door for fear the game might be called at any moment. We scored two runs in the tenth inning, and they filled up the bases and scored one run with two out in their half. There was a big boy named Clayton at bat and just as he hit the ball Mrs. O'Connor opened the kitchen door and yelled "Micky! You-Micky—come here."

The ball was going to right field far over Micky's head. I don't think he ever saw it. He heard his ma call and turned and sprinted for the kitchen door. Just as he reached the path he saw the fly ball going along and he reached up, caught it and went on into the kitchen on a dead run, catching the ball with one hand. And as he passed the stove he scooped up a big platter of ham and eggs in his other hand and slid into the dining room with the ball in one hand and the ham and eggs in the other, winning the game for us and the praise of his mother for his promptness at the same time.

Resourceful Youth.

Wellington, the home of Col. Myron T. Herrick and Col. George Couch, also boasts Charles Goodrich and Floyd Sutliff, just plain boys but potential governors and presidents.

Floyd was ascending a tall elm in the Goodrich dooryard, and Charles was teasing him. "Floyd!" he called to him, "Oh, Floyd! You're the finest climber!"

Mrs. Goodrich was at the door in a jiffy. "What was that you said?" she exclaimed.

But her dutiful son, never appearing to have heard her, continued, softly: "Floyd, oh you, Floyd! You're the finest climber!"

Mrs. Goodrich shook her head doubtfully and went indoors.—Cleveland Leader.

Some Reasons Why the People of Wichita Falls, and Wichita County, Should Insure With the Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company

- 1st. It is safe, because it puts up the same percentage of reserve that all old line companies put up, and therefore, affords the same protection.
- 2nd. The laws of Texas make it impossible for a policy-holder to lose one cent in an old line life insurance company.
- 3rd. Our assets are all new and up to the highest standard; no worthless paper has accumulated, as could be the case with older companies.
- 4th. Our risks are all up to the highest standard, having recently passed a very careful examination. Our death rate will naturally be very low for a number of years. Have not had a single death since organization.
- 5th. Our Capital and Surplus is greater in proportion to business in force than nine tenths of the companies doing business in Texas or elsewhere; greater even than some of the largest companies in the world.
- 6th. There are approximately one hundred good citizens of this county interested in the Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company as Stockholders, many of whom are customers of yours in your line of business.
- 7th. Your money remains at home; is loaned and invested in this territory, and in the ordinary channels of trade, drifts back to you.
- 8th. The Officers and Directors of the Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company, are men whom you know to possess honor, integrity and business ability. These men would not permit your dependent ones to suffer the loss of your insurance, even were it possible under the State laws.
- 9th. The Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company has on deposit with the State Treasurer of this State, gilt edge securities amounting to $120,000.00 for the protection of policy holders.
- 10th. Our policies are as good as the best.

Practicing physicians making a specialty of stomach troubles are really responsible for the formula from which Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are made. We have simply profited by the experience of experts.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be an excellent remedy for the relief of acute indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing and healing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. They are rich in pepsin, one of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine. The relief they afford is almost immediate. Their use with persistency and regularity for a short time helps to bring about a cessation of the pains caused by stomach disorders.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets aid to insure healthy appetite, aid digestion and promote nutrition. As evidence of our sincere faith in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give you entire satisfaction, we will return you the money you paid us for them, without question or formality. They come in three sizes, prices 25, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store, Poooshee & Lynch Drug Store.

Tasting the Drinks.
An old custom has just been observed at Market Drayton, where the annual fair, called "the Dirty Fair," has been opened by the Court Leet. A proclamation, it is reported, was read by the "Ale-Canner," who warned "all rogues, vagabonds, cut-purses, and idle men immediately to depart from this fair."

"Ale-Canner" has a jovial smack about it, but we are afraid it is a misprint for "Ale-Conner," an ancient and honorable officer, both of manors and corporations. His duty was to taste the new brew of every "brewer and brewster, cook, and pie-baker," and if it were unfit to drink the whole was confiscated and given to the poor.

It should be added that in the middle ages "unfit to drink" usually meant weak and watery. The chemist was not abroad in those benighted days, so there was no risk of arsenical by-products being present in the pottle pot.

Kaiser's Gift Taxed.
While Kaiser William rarely laughs and takes himself quite seriously, he is frequently directly or indirectly the proccocation of laughter in others. Recently he presented his portrait to the municipality of Berlin. The imperial present was received with enthusiastic demonstrations of gratitude. The city magistrates, recided unanimously to make this gift the most elegant ornament of their assembly hall. Some days later the effigy of William II. was placed in a frame of fine gold. Alas, the consequence of this manifestation of official loyalty was not foreseen. Der Staatsverordnnetenvorsteher (this little term means president of the municipal council) has just received notice to pay the tax recentl, assessed upon charitable gifts. And the Berlinese laugh!

Sea-Gipsies Evicted.
Deadman's Island, in Burrard Inlet, not far from Vancouver, British Columbia, once a common burying ground for Burrard Inlet's population, red-brown, white and yellow, has been for many years the dwelling place of a most picturesque community of the human candle-ends and shavings of a sea coast city, the sea-gipsies which 20 years have left on the beach of Vancouver. Portuguese fishermen, Chilean and Italian seamen, Austrian, Finnish and French sailors, Kanaka foremast hands, blown into Burrard Inlet by all the winds from all the latitudes, and from 50 strange ports, squatted on Deadman's Island and picked up a living by fishing and beachcombing. Some of them squatted on the island, living in their shanties of driftwood and fence boards, for 25 years. Recently a period of activity swept the region, due to outside forces and eviction of the beachcombers and fisherfolk; met with bitter opposition by the class which had so long lived there unmolested.

Monument Unveiling Postponed
Lake City, Fla., Feb. 20.—Forty-eight years ago today occurred the battle of Olustee, in which General Seymour's defeat by the Confederates put an end to the Federal expedition into Florida. A handsome monument to commemorate the victory of the Confederates has been completed on the battlefield, a short distance east of this city. It was planned to unveil the memorial today, on the anniversary of the battle, but for various reasons it has been decided to postpone the ceremony until the State reunion of the United Confederate Veterans to be held here next fall.

Masonic Gathering at Hattiesburg.
Hattiesburg, Miss., Feb. 19.—The annual gathering of the Masonic grand bodies of Mississippi opened here today with the meeting of the Grand Lodge and will continue through the remainder of the week. The Grand Chapter and the Order of High Priesthood will meet Thursday and the meeting of the Grand Council will follow on Friday. The usual Mystic Shrine function will be held on Friday evening. Nearly five hundred prominent Masons are in attendance.

Wanderlust and Heimweh
By Wilbur D. Nesbit
"As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his place."—Proverbs xxvii, 8.

My feet they have the wanderlust—They fain would lead me on Adown the gray road soft with dust
Through eventide and dawn
To where there lift the distant hills.
A many ways to roam.
My heart with one deep cadence thrills—
A whispered song of home.

My feet would set themselves to go
Still on and up and down,
To seek the pathways to and fro
Through country and through town,
To find the sunshine here, and there—
The shade of city walls—
But softly on the pulsing air
The home place ever calls

O, fair the path! And fair and far The countries I would see,
And morning glow and evening star
Show forth that path to me.
My eyes look on, my lips are mute,
But be it night or noon
There comes to me, irresolute,
The homesong in a croon.

The wanderlust it lures my feet
To where the pathways part,
But now there flames with sudden heat
The heimweh in my heart.
And so farewell to reaching trail
And fishing, wind-blung foam;
My heart but heeds the stronger hail—
The backward path, and home.
