OKLA. CONVENTION SEEMS FOR WILSON

FIRST TEST SHOWS STRENGTH TO 30 MAJORITY VOTE FOR NEW JERSEY MAN.

REPORT ON CREDENTIALS

Crucial Contest Was Over Adoption of Murray Resolution Seating Delegates by District, Not Counties.

(Dallas News)
Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 22.—Plans of the Democratic leaders, laid Wednesday night for a harmony program in the State convention which assembled today were on dangerous ground until late tonight when the credentials committee brought in a report seating the delegations over which sharp question had arisen, and to the satisfaction of the convention majority.

Last night the Wilson people in caucus voted 263 to 69 to follow the plan of giving Clark and Wilson ten votes each in the National convention. The Clark people flatly repudiated the agreement.

The only set vote taken showed the Wilson people in control of the convention from 17 to 30 votes, the exact figures being in dispute.

The convention was in an uproar most of the time. Gov. Cruce was a speaker at the night session, defending his administration, and saying that he would not call a special session of the Legislature until shown that the people who paid the bill wanted one.

When the Governor indorsed in his speech, John B. Doolin, State Game Warden, for National committee man a Tulsa county delegation asked a question that set the convention in an uproar. The Governor declared thereafter that the "line has been drawn."

Thomas H. Doyle of Perry was temporary chairman and D. H. Linebaugh of Atoka permanent chairman. Other permanent officers were Vice Chairman W. P. Thompson, Vinita, and R. A. Rogers, Oklahoma City secretary, James W. Breedlove, Sequoyia.

The platform and resolutions as submitted by W. H. Murray gave no instructions to the Baltimore delegation other than the Oklahoma delegation is to vote for no man who is against the initiative and referendum. This was directed against the Harmon candidacy.

The resolutions declared against the Russell bill, recalling members of the Board of Agriculture, and against the Akin bill and flatly declared in favor of a special legislative session. A minority report wanted the bills and session planks eliminated.

At midnight the question was being debated.

On a question of whether a declaration against the Russell and Akin bills should be eliminated Judge Williams asked that they be separated from the special session feature, saying that the initiated bill presented questions partisan and not political and that he was in favor of a special session. He thought the Governor was wrong in saying he would not receive a petition from the convention on this point.

Norman Pruitt defended the Governor in his position and called attention to the fact that the Governor had the manhood to stand before the convention and declare himself.

The convention did not reach a working basis until well in the afternoon, owing to a prolonged meeting of the State committee passing on contents and making preliminary arrangements.

At the committee meeting Judge Thomas H. Doyle, member of the Criminal Court of Appeals, was selected for temporary chairman of the convention over D. H. Linebaugh of Atoka by a vote of thirty-nine to twenty-nine.

SEC. KNOX SAILS FROM KEY WEST

Will Visit Central America, Caracas, Venezuela, Columbia and the West Indies.

Key West, Fla., Feb. 22.—Secretary of State Knox sailed this morning aboard the cruiser Washington on a political mission that will take him to Central America, Caracas, Venezuela, Columbia and the West Indies.

Mrs. W. C. Lipcomb, who for the last several days has been in the city as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Freese on Austin street, left this afternoon for her home in Fort Worth.

"HAT IN RING LONG TIME AND HEAD IN"

New Jersey Governor Comments in Reply to Statement by Roosevelt.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 22.—"My hat has been in the ring a long time and my head has been in it," said Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey here yesterday when his attention was called to Col. Roosevelt's statement made to W. F. Erick of Cleveland, Wednesday night.

Gov. Wilson laughed heartily at his epigram and was cheered by members of the Wilson-for-President Club, who formed his reception committee. When showing an Associated Press dispatch telling of the proposed division of the Oklahoma delegation between himself and Speaker Clark, Gov. Wilson said:

"I prefer to make no statement concerning a matter of that kind in which I myself am so delicately concerned. Wait until Oklahoma has decided."

After a breakfast and reception by a committee of his Kansas City supporters, Gov. Wilson made a brief address to the Association of Kansas Grain Dealers in session here.

"Trade," he said, "is one thing in this country that is not standpat. Its currents can not be controlled. They have put a straitjacket on it, but it will burst forth sooner or later."

"My idea of a progressive is a man who keeps up with the world. A standpat is one who stands still with eyes shut and ears stuffed with cotton and refuses to concede that the world is moving on."

EIGHT BODIES HAVE BEEN TAKEN OUT

By Associated Press.

McAlester, Okla., Feb. 23.—Eight bodies have been taken from the mine of the Western Coal Mining Co., in which fire broke out "late" yesterday at Lehigh imprisoning fifteen miners. When the fire broke out nearly 200 miners were at work in the shafts and word of the disaster immediately was spread through the mine. Most of the men escaped through an old, abandoned shaft, the outlet to which was more than two miles from the entrance to coal were scattered through these to feed the flames.

The work of rescue is still being pushed by the rescue party of the United States government rescue station at McAlester.

Thousands of persons from the country and neighboring towns have gathered around the mouth of the mine and remained there all afternoon and night watching the fighting of the flames and with eyes riveted on the entrance, from which frequently the body of a victim would be brought. Whole families of miners were huddled in groups, those whose husbands, fathers or brothers still were below ground, plunged into the depths of despair.

For several hours after the fire started there was hope that the men in the mine still were safe, but after the government rescue crew arrived and started removing the bodies hope died out and now none of those who are relatively not on the outside expect to see them brought out other than dead.

The disaster is the most terrible in the history of mining operations in Oklahoma. Besides the loss of life, the damage to the mine will reach many thousands of dollars, if the mine is not destroyed entirely. All the pit mules, thirty-five in number, are dead.

TOM FARMER ESCAPES FROM PARIS JAIL

By Associated Press.

Paris, Texas, Feb. 22.—Tom Farmer, accused of the killing of Melt Acree at Clarksville, sawed through the bars of the window of the jail, made a rope from a blanket and escaped last night. He once before tried to escape, and had been placed in the death cell. A reward of five hundred dollars is offered for his capture.

Reports have been received here that another showing of oil has been found in the Miller well near Westfork in Archer county. This is the second showing that has been found in this well. It is also reported that a flow of gas has been struck in the Producers well being drilled on the Judge Arnold ranch near Newcastle. Neither of these reports have authentic confirmation.

SEEKS TO ENJOIN COLLECTION

RAILROAD COMPANY DON'T WANT TO PAY FOR KILLING OF DOG.

Judge Martin is Hearing Arguments for Rehearing of Edwards vs. Fort Worth and Denver.

As indicated Thursday afternoon continuation of the trial of Jim Jones charged with murder was granted account of the absence of material witnesses and the case will not go up until the June term.

Judge Martin in the district court this afternoon is hearing a motion for a rehearing of the case of A. J. Edwards vs. the Fort Worth and Denver for personal injuries. In this case the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff assessing his damages at $700. The railroad company's attorneys allege that the amount was determined by lot and also errors in the proceedings of the trial.

The Fort Worth and Denver is plaintiff in another case set for trial this afternoon that is both unusual and interesting. In this case the railroad company is seeking to enjoin Ralph Hines from collecting a judgment assessed against the plaintiff company by the justice of peace at Iowa Park. The judgment is for twenty dollars and was assessed as damages for the killing of Hines' dog by a locomotive.

The trial of S. B. Parker charged with murder in the second degree, is set for trial Saturday morning.

Dr. Brokaw, George Darling, Nicholas Cooper and J. R. Stevens, all of Elletts, left last night for their homes after attending court here.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bullington returned this afternoon from Memphis, Texas, where Mr. Bullington has been on legal business.

NEW FAIR CIRCUIT IS PROPOSED

ABILENE, WICHITA FALLS, DALLAS, GAINESVILLE, GREENVILLE MAY COMPRISE IT.

TO OPEN AT ABILENE

Wichita Falls Would Be Second On Circuit—State Fair at Dallas to Close

Wichita Falls will probably be in a fair circuit with Abilene, Wichita Falls, Gainesville and Greenville next fall. Negotiations to that end are now in progress with a fair prospect of success. The other three towns in the proposed circuit already have well established fairs and the dates can be so arranged that the circuit will open at Abilene with Wichita Falls next, then Gainesville and Greenville, closing just before the State fair at Dallas. Efforts will be made to include Dallas in the circuit.

Wichita Falls has also been invited to join a circuit comprising Childress, Frederick, Altus, Elk City, Mangum, Lawton, Anadarko, El Reno and Oklahoma City. July 15th is the date for the opening of this circuit and according to plans formulated at a meeting at Frederick this week, Wichita Falls would be the second town on the circuit. While this circuit is looked upon with favor by many, it would make the Wichita Falls date too early and unless a later date can be assigned it is probable that this city cannot join that circuit.

It now seems practically certain that Wichita Falls will have a fair and Dr. Bell, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee to which has been delegated the work of organizing the fair says it will be a good one—second only to the State fair at Dallas.

J. L. Mears, of the Pierce-Pordyce Oil Company, left this afternoon for Abilene, on business.

The subscription was started by Mr. Harvey, manager of the Union Station news stand.

POTTERY PLANT MEN ARE HERE

P. H. Turner a pottery man of Athens, Texas, and J. P. Donaldson who for a number of years has operated a pottery at Willsboro, Texas, are in the city awaiting the arrival of materials already shipped for the erection and equipment of a pottery plant at this place. Mr. Donaldson decided to come to Wichita Falls several months ago and since that time Mr. Turner has joined him in the enterprise.

They have already selected a site near the automobile factory and within the next few days will start work on a two story building about 50x75 feet. They will manufacture all kinds of crockery and stoneware, including crocks, jugs, flower pots and vases, etc. Their business will be conducted on a small scale at the start but they believe it will grow until it will become an important industry here and will arrange their plant with a view of additions from time to time.

Cheap fuel and superior advantages for distribution on account of the six railroad outlets were factors that induced these gentlemen to locate here.

The automobile factory, the glass factory and the pottery plant will make an industrial addition of considerable importance between the city and the lake. Already negotiations are in progress for the location of other industries near these plants.

Charley Ferguson of the Producers Oil Company at Electra, left this afternoon, after a short business trip here.

ANOTHER HAT IN THE RING

Cecil Lyon Will Defend Leadership of Texas G. O. P.—Will Be for Roosevelt.

Lyon is Militant

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, Feb. 23.—"My hat is in ring," said Cecil Lyon, Republican National Committeeman, today when asked if it was true that H. F. McGregor had been made Taft's manager in the State. He would say nothing further except that if Roosevelt declared himself a candidate he would be "for him."

THE SITUATION IS OMINOUS

LARGE FORCES OF REBELS REPORTED MARCHING UPON JUAREZ THIS AFTERNOON.

OROZCO THEIR LEADER

Washington Authorities Har Report of Serious Conditions at Casas Grandes.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—Large forces of Mexican rebels are moving on Juarez according to authentic reports received here and officials of the State and War Departments consider the developments on the Mexican border ominous. One of the bands advancing on Juarez is said to be led by Pascual Orozco, former military chief under Madero. This band contains about 1400 men. Confirmation of the rebel movement has been received here from Col. Steever at El Paso.

From Casas Grandes the rumor comes of serious conditions, with the massing of large rebel forces there. Chihuahua is a hot bed of revolution.

All the women and children at Verdadero and Asarc are reported to have left that vicinity.

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Feb. 23.—There is unusual activity in the adjutant general's department owing to conditions on the Mexican border. It is said the department has received a report that an outbreak may come at any time.

Lieut. Field's Court Martial at San Antonio

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—Lieut. Ben W. Fields, who commanded the American soldiers that by mistake went into Mexican territory will be tried at San Antonio for disobedience to orders. It has been the determination to make an example of him for the benefit of Mexico and for American army officers.

BRYAN LAMBASTS CONGRESSMAN DIES

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 22.—"An Overburdened Statesman" is the way W. J. Bryan in his forthcoming Commoner refers to Congressman Dies of Texas.

He says in part: "It is pathetic enough to see the burden of the protecting Constitution fall so heavily upon these few Democrats and their standpat Republican allies. But it is really heart-rending to watch this gentleman from Texas as he staggers along a rocky road bearing upon his shoulders the organic law of the Nation while his colleagues from Texas seem entirely oblivious of the menace which threatens constitutional government in the Western Hemisphere."

"Mr. Dies can now appreciate Kipling's verses of the white man's burden. What a heroic picture he presents, his bent figure silhouetted against the sky."

"But think of the consolation he must find in the thought that he monopolizes the constitutional intelligence of the whole state, eye almost of an entire party. It makes one shudder to think what would happen, what wreck of shores and crash of worlds, if he should break down under the strain, and the Constitution, with no defender left, should go to pieces before the clamor of the mob for more light. But perish the thought!"

Frank Kell, vice president and general manager of the Wichita Falls Route, left this morning for Ft. Worth on business.

GONE JOHNSON IS ELOQUENT

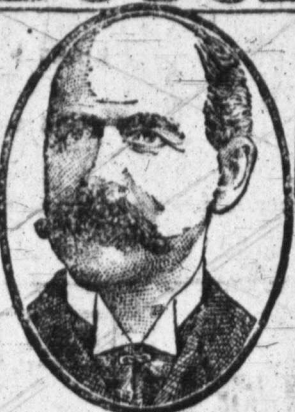

Says Beall is Product of Texas Chivalry and Texas Christianity

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, Feb. 23.—Beall Sneed sat in court all this morning and heard himself held up by Attorney Johnson as "the first man since the time of Christ who had done his full duty toward his wife under all circumstances; a product of Texas chivalry and Texas Christianity" and as a man who had violated no law. For more than five hours the lawyer held the attention of the jurors and the crowded court room. County Attorney Baskin camped outside.

When with babies in their arms stood outside the courtroom this morning and waiting for the doors to open,

St. Clair Sherrod, who has been absent from the city for several days on business in Shreveport, La., returned this afternoon.

Stray Topics From Little Old New York

New York, Feb. 23.—The president of the New York tax department has submitted his preliminary report to the Mayor. Upon this report the assessment of rules the year 1912 will be based. The report deals in approximate figures only. It shows the increase in the assessed value of real estate, exclusive of special franchises and the decrease on account of exemptions and reductions are as follows: Manhattan, increase of $44,300,000; Bronx, increase of $14,940,000; Brooklyn, increase of $450,000; Queens, increase of $11,860,000; a total of $71,550,000. Richmond Borough shows a decrease of $1,350,000, making the net increase of the five boroughs $70,200,000.

To offset this there is a special franchise reduction of $67,869,000, bringing the total net increase of the city's assessment on buildings and real estate to $4,330,000, which means an increase in the borrowing capacity of the city of about $400,000. Considering the enormous increase in the values of real estate in this city and the gigantic debt already carried by the city this increase seems rather paltry.

The absurdities of the Sullivan gun law, which has caused so much discussion and criticism already are clearly illustrated by two cases which were recorded here within a few days. In one case a woodsman from Maine was arrested because he was found wandering through the streets with a revolver in his hand. In the magistrate's court the man said that he had been robbed by a stranger and that he was hunting for the thief when the police arrested him. The magistrate not only discharged the man but gave him money enough to reach Passaic, where the prisoner has friends. In the other case the freeman of a construction company in North Carolina, who had always been in the habit of carrying a pistol for self protection, had to come to New York on business. When he learned upon his arrival in the city that the laws of the State prohibit the carrying of weapons, he went to the nearest police station and explaining the circumstances, handed his revolver to the Lieutenant in charge of the station. The lieutenant promptly arrested the law abiding man from North Carolina and being a stranger in the city, the man had to remain in a cell all night. It is true, he was discharged by the magistrate on the following morning, but he felt keenly the humiliation of being arrested and kept in a cell all night. Moreover he was not permitted to take his trusty gun back to North Carolina with him, although he was assured that the police would send it to him by express.

It does not happen very often that a man falls first down an elevator shaft from the eighth floor of a building and lives to tell the tale. An Irish steel worker, employed in the erection of a twenty-five story office building on Maiden Lane, had that rare and rather exciting experience the other day. While fixing the doors to the elevator shaft on the eighth floor the man stepped on a loose plank and shot-head first down the shaft, followed by several boards and a big pane of plate glass. Fortunately for him he became entangled in the cables suspended in the shaft which broke his fall and saved him from being dashed to pieces when he reached the top of one of the elevator cages on the ground floor. A few cuts and bruises were the extent of his injuries.

Considering the fact that the Pennsylvania Terminal station has now been in use for more than a year and during that time hundreds of thousands have passed through the station, it is rather surprising that an unexpected visit of the stork was delayed until the other day. Mr. and Mrs. Rehill arrived at the station from New Brunswick, N. J., for a visit to New York, but upon their arrival at the station Mrs. Rehill was surprised by a visit from the stork. The child, a healthy little girl, was born in the women's retiring room of the terminal and enjoys the distinction of being the first baby to see the light of day in that busy structure. The only sad feature of the event is that, following the absurd custom the parents of the little girl may bestow some such frightful names as Pennsylvania Terminal or Pennsylvania Station upon the defenseless mite.

With the work on the Panama Canal nearing completion the general interest in the great undertaking is rapidly increasing. Among the wealthier classes a perfect mania has broken out to visit the canal and the steamers leaving New York for the Isthmus are crowded with passengers. Staterooms are engaged for many weeks ahead and the demand for transportation is steadily increasing. As the hotel accommodations on the Isthmus are quite inadequate, the majority of the tourists use their steamer as a hotel during the two days in Colon.

A few days ago a woman had her husband, who conducts an employment agency, arrested on the charge of ill-treating and neglecting her. When the case came up before a magistrate the woman testified that her husband not only beat her frequently, but also remained away from his home over night on frequent occasions and that he was in the habit of going to theatres with girls, without ever taking his lawful wife. The prisoner denied the truth of his wife's charges and stated that she wagged her tongue so much that he could not live with her. The magistrate gave the man the choice between going to the workhouse for a year or to submit to the conditions of being placed on probation for the same length of term. The wise Kadi decreed that the recalcitrant husband must come home and report to his wife every evening at 9 o'clock and that he has to take his wife along when he goes to the theatre or some other place of amusement. It took the prisoner some time to decide which sentence he would accept. He finally, however, accepted the probation in spite of its irksome conditions.

While working at a fire the other night several firemen became intoxicated and although their condition incapacitated them, they were not even reprimanded for it. The fire was in a liquor warehouse and the men became intoxicated by the fumes of the liquor which came from the bottles broken during the progress of the fire.

WATERS-PIERCE CONTEST DECISION

St. Louis, Feb. 21.—Frederick N. Judson, who appeared in Circuit Judge Kinsey's court today in behalf of the Waters-Pierce Oil company's contention that it has a right to find out if John D. Rockefeller and his associates were attempting to obtain control of the Waters-Pierce Co. to continue the oil trust in a new form, declared in his argument that Special Commissioner Jesse McDonald's ruling against such a line of inquiry was unprecedented.

"The inquiry is as broad as the issues in the suit," Judson continued. "We have a right to find out if there is an illegal combination in restraint of trade. The commissioner's ruling, if upheld by this court, is in violation of interstate commerce laws and the Sherman anti-trust act. The life of the Waters-Pierce Oil company depends upon its ability to show it is not in any illegal combination in restraint of trade."

Daniel Kirby of counsel for the Rockefeller interests, replying to Judson, cited a recent decision in which the supreme court of Missouri held it would not determine whether a writ of mandamus applied for would be in aid of a violation.

Henry S. Priest, counsel for the Waters-Pierce company, cited a contrary decision of the supreme court.

Taking of depositions will not be resumed until Judge Kinsey rules upon line of questioning overruled by Special Commissioner McDonald.

The following players are expected to report at Ardmore:

Catchers—S. B. Farrell of Memphis, Fred Robinson of Koff, Will Parker of Hartford, Ark., and Tom Wilson of last year's team.

Pitchers—Bert Reed and Guyton Scott, who were with the Sapulpa team last year until the Western Association blew up, John Dougherty of last year's Lawton team and Rube Towers of Dallas.

First basemen—Jackson of Blum, Texas, a brother of George Jackson of the Boston Nationals, and who has been recommended by George himself; Lester Claybrook of Springfield, and Nichols of last year's team.

Second base—Manager G. R. McAvoy.

Short—Patterson of last year's Durant team.

Third basemen and extra infielders—Will Reed of Scammon, Kansas, J. H. Couch and John Monick who were with Springfield last year.

Outfielders—Wilder Gray and Joe McCollum of last year's team, E. E. Naylor who was with Wichita Falls before being sold to the San Francisco team of the Pacific Coast League, where he finished the season and Tony Clauser of Springfield.

Manager McAvoy expects all of these men to report unless it is Nichols and Wilson. Nichols may play in the Southern League and Wilson has written that he will not play professional ball this year.

SIMMONS FACES BITTER FIGHT

Governor Kitchin Rival For Senatorial Honors in North Carolina

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 23.—With the senatorial primary fight in North Carolina but a few months distant, outward and visible signs are abundant that the contest for the seat of Senator Simmons is to be hard fought and exceedingly bitter. Senator Simmons' term of office will expire one year hence and he is a candidate for re-election. His principal rival for the toga appears to be Governor W. W. Kitchin, who has already taken to the stump and delivered some vigorous attacks on Simmons' political record, particularly his vote in the Lorimer case. A third candidate for the senatorship is former Governor Charles B. Aycock and a fourth is Chief Justice Walter Clark, of the State supreme court. It is believed that a second primary confined to the two leaders in the first primary will be necessary to settle the contest.

SURVEYORS KEEP THEM GUESSING

Rock Island surveyors have all the residents of the country about Loveland speculating as to what is the real purport of the movements they are making. They have run so many lines between Chattanooga and Electra that they have bewildered people. The last line crossed the Wichita Falls and Northwestern road half a mile west of the Loveland townsite, and there has been some talk of the establishment of a townsite there. Many are skeptical on this point, however, and believe if the road is to be built the townsite talk is mostly for the purpose of bringing Loveland into the humor of putting up a handsome bonus. The surveyors are reported to have told one Loveland citizen that they would ask $100,000 bonus, but that is, of course, an impossible proposition.—Frederick Leader.

A deal was transacted in Iowa Park last week, in which the Waxahachie Oil Company became the owners of the James Magee & Sons farm, about two miles west of town. The tract of land sold consisted of 347 acres, and the purchase price was $35,000 per acre. We understand it was purchased for the purpose of drilling for oil by the above stated company. Mr. Magee and sons reserved twenty acres for leasing purposes.—Iowa Park Herald.

NEW YORK CITY'S GREAT AQUEDUCT

ONE of the greatest of modern engineering enterprises is the construction of the new aqueduct system, which is to carry water to New York from the Catskills, and the most colossal unit in the whole is the Ashokan reservoir, the principal storage place for the mountain waters. Ranking with the interoceanic canals at Suez and Panama, the Assuan irrigation works in Egypt and the projects which are converting western America's arid wastes into fruitful fields, the Catskill aqueduct, with its tributary reservoirs, probably surpasses any one of them in the variety of problems to be solved. Although undertaken by a municipality, these works in magnitude and cost compare with national enterprises.

Because of its impressive ruins, the water supply of ancient Rome is doubtless the most famous in the world. The imperial city had nine aqueducts, with a total of 263 miles; but if the water that all those aqueducts could carry (estimated at 84,000,000 gallons per day) were put into New York's Catskill aqueduct, it would rise to the height of only three feet three inches. When the Ashokan dam is finished, the reservoir it will create will cover a water area of 12.8 square miles and have a shore line of 40 miles. When the reservoir is full it will contain 128,000 million gallons, sufficient to cover Manhattan island to an average depth of 23 feet. Fifty feet will be the average depth of water throughout the reservoir. It is reasonable to believe that the Catskill aqueduct will be as permanent as those of Rome. Imperial Rome's longest aqueduct was 57 miles in length; the Catskill aqueduct will be 92 miles long. Rome, with hordes of laborers from conquered domains, carried its aqueducts at hydraulic grade across valleys on imposing masonry arches. Modern explosives and rock drills enable New York to tunnel in solid rock beneath valleys and rivers, avoiding masonry, which is now expensive, and which is likely to suffer in New York's severer climate.

Oliver Bridge dam is the greatest of the chain of dams and closes the main gorge to Esopus creek. It is a mile long on top and has a maximum height above its foundation of 240 feet. The central portion has a top length of 1,000 feet and the top width is as wide as an ordinary roadway. The cost of engineering this spectacular piece of work will amount to more than $12,000,000. The thousands of laborers who are now housed in the temporary town known as "Camp City," enjoy all the comforts, and are far more healthful than they would be in their own homes. A complete system of sewage has been installed, and in sanitary matters it is, in a few respects at least, more advanced than some communities, far more substantial and attractive. The laborers are for the most part Italians and negroes.

The Catskill aqueduct is virtually a subway. Unfortunately a pipe-line will not do. It must be remembered that the Ashokan reservoir is 500 feet above sea level, and that with every fall of two feet the pressure of water increases nearly one pound to the square inch. The lowest level to be reached will have a pressure on the pipe of 130 pounds to the square inch, or over 18,000 pounds to the square foot. A pipe to endure a strain like that would be enormously expensive. The necessity of building bridges to keep the pipe up at a level (called hydraulic grade). When a valley was reached below the hydraulic grade, the aqueduct was made to dive—not to the surface of the valley, but hundreds of feet below the surface—and then rise to the level on the other side. Such a plunge of water into the depths of rock is called a siphon. Several of these siphons will be found. One beneath the Walkkill valley, and another beneath the Valley of Round-out, and another, most astounding of all, hundreds of feet below the bed of the majestic Hudson.

It is rather a ragged course along which the water will flow from Olive bridge to the High Service reservoir at Yonkers. The water begins its flow swiftly, but placidly enough, then dashes through the Catskill mountains to meet a perpendicular descent of 200 feet and in a moment another one of 400 feet. By turns it is carried forward, upward, forward, downward, until, after reaching a depth of 700 feet, it suddenly shoots upward to the side of Bonticou Crag; it is then siphoned under the Walkkill valley. The Moodna section of a siphon is entered and then it goes on a direct line for the Hudson river. The most interesting crossing is that where the passage is made from one side of the Hudson to the other. Here the line of no pressure is 400 feet above the river. It has been found necessary to place the bottom of the aqueduct 1,200 feet below the river surface. In consequence of these two facts, the upward pressure is enormous, being equal to that exerted by a column of water 1,600 feet high. This amounts to about 700 pounds per square inch. After being forced out from under the Hudson the water goes half-way up the face of Breakneck mountain and then through two mountains and along the high valleys of the Highlands until it reaches Foundry Brook. Four steel pipes carry the water across that stream. After another mountain tunnel and another slightly undulating course, it reaches High Service reservoir, 300 feet above sea level.

Three kinds of construction will be used in the course of the aqueduct. The largest part will be what is called "cut and cover." This form of work is used only on the hydraulic grade. The second form is tunneling. The third form of construction is the building of steel pipes. This last form will require renewal from time to time.

In New York city the aqueduct will be much less than a subterranean river—ramifying through hundreds of miles of solid rock throughout, issuing finally through faucets and hydrants to serve those who have bid on it. In no place will this aqueduct be less than 17 feet below the surface of the streets. The natural pressure will be of sufficient force in lower Manhattan to carry the water to the top of a 20-story building. After traversing nearly the whole of the island, the aqueduct will cross the East river and enter Brooklyn. The course will next swing round a semi-circle, pass across the Narrows and thus arrive at its terminal point on Staten Island.

Customs From Crusade Days. The army has many survivals besides the "flash." When an officer draws his sword or returns it to the scabbard he always brings the crossbar of the hilt to a level with his lips. The custom is a reminder from the time when the hilt represented the cross and the owner of a sword kissed it as a Crusader. The sergeants of one regiment wear their sashes on the same shoulder that their officers did, because they brought the remnant of it out of action, all the officers being killed. Nowadays officers wear the sash round the waist. Rifle officers do not "hook up" their swords, for the reason that they were once cavalry. That omnipotent person, the battalion sergeant major, lets his sword rest in the scabbard. An old catch question was: "When does the sergeant major draw his sword?" The answer is: "At the trooping of the color."—London Chronicle.

Duel Fatal to Both.

While two men were spearing salmon on the Columbia river, in Oregon, they noticed a large, gray eagle hovering over the water, but they paid no particular attention to the bird until it suddenly swooped down and pounced on a big fish. The fish must have weighed 16 pounds, and it soon became evident that the eagle could not lift it clear of the water. After several ineffectual efforts the bird next tried to release its hold, but it was caught fast as if in a trap. Finally it was itself dragged into the water, and the swift current swept the old combatants down stream until they lodged in a fishnet, where both were caught. The fish was killed; the eagle was already dead.

Restrictions on Pulque Drinking. Pulque shops must close earlier and restaurants may remain open later, was the decision reached at the cabinet meeting, says the Mexican Herald.

Abraham Gonzalez, minister of Gobernacion, announced that after January 15 all places where pulque was sold must close at 6 p. m., except on Sundays and holidays, when the closing hour would be at noon. Restaurants, by paying a higher license, may remain open until three o'clock in the morning. Furthermore, the tax on pulque is to be advanced from 75 centavos the hectoliter to a peso.

It's doubtful if there's any kind of salad that will equal a good shrimp salad—not even lobster is any better. Prepared properly and with a good brand of shrimp it's a dish that will appeal to even the most jaded appetite and to a hungry man or woman it's a great big treat.

Gulf Brand Shrimp

is to the best of my knowledge as good a variety as is caught. It's put up in fine shape and No. 1 cans at 15c is a bargain for shrimp. Try a can and if it goes well on your table you will find a dozen cans at $1.65 a good Lenten investment.

In an editorial in length the esteemed Denison Herald take issue with the Times because it complained that our present fire insurance law is out of joint somewhat or some where, in that the rates are constantly being advanced. This law is a creature of the Campbell administration, and each year since its passage the fire insurance rates have been raised in Wichita Falls. The same is true of other cities. In Wichita Falls we were told that if certain improvements were made in our fire fighting apparatus, the key-rate for this city would be lowered, and as a matter of fact the key-rate was lowered, but the fact remains that we are paying more on an average per $1000 for fire insurance than ever before. Just how this is done the Times is unable to figure out, but that it has stated facts and is in a position to prove them the esteemed Herald need have no fear. For the past ten years few fire accidents of any consequence have occurred in this city. We now have as fine a system of waterworks as any city in the State can boast, our fire department is a most excellent one; our streets are paved in the business section; we have more than thirty miles of cement sidewalks; our streets and alleys and back-yards are kept clean, and yet our rates for fire insurance under the key rate law are higher than they were when Wichita Falls was only a small town with no system of water works, no fire department other than a bucket brigade, no paved streets, and no cement sidewalks. The Times did not mean to make a dig at the present administration. It had no thought of doing anything but to call attention to the gross injustice the people of Wichita Falls were being forced to put up with under the workings of the fire insurance law, which gets worse the longer it is tried. The Times does not claim that the law would have been better had the Campbell administration continued in power. And the mere fact that a change of administration has been brought about does not mean that a law, which was bad to start with, has been made better, or that criticism of its workings should cease. Gov. Colquitt may not be to blame. The Times does not say that he is. It only said that fire insurance rates in Wichita Falls are higher under the present administration than they were under the former. It will further say that the people of Wichita Falls had every reason to expect that the rate would be lowered, after having complied with insurance regulations. It seems, however, that the insurance people, or the people responsible for fixing the rates, are inclined to be entirely too exacting and unreasonable, in that just about as fast as the people of Wichita Falls meet their requirements they, in some way or other, manage to find some other fault impossible of remedying that gives to the insurance companies the right to advance rates, and their disposition to take advantage of every loop-hole to advance rates has not been slow by any means. As a further evidence that the Times had no thought of unjustly criticizing the present administration, it will venture the assertion that the insurance rates under the next administration (whether there is a change or not) will be higher than under the present, in the event this law is not amended or repealed.

Last Monday's Oil City Derrick contained an editorial on the "Electra Oil Field" written by P. C. Boyle, president of the Derrick Publishing Co., after a personal visit to Wichita Falls and the fields at Electra and Petrolia. Mr. Boyle as president of the leading publication in the oil business has visited every oil field that has been opened in the United States, and his opinions have great weight with the oil fraternity. His editorial follows: The last week six good producers were completed in the Electra oil field, adding over 1200 barrels to the production. Some of these wells were on inside locations, while others extended the producing area to the west and northwest. The total production of the field is estimated at nearly 12,000 barrels a day. The field has passed the doubtful stage, and now looms large as a factor in keeping up the present production of the country, if it does not increase it. The gravity of the oil, which 41 degrees, and the number of producing wells adds to its importance. The work in developing the field has been largely confined to the vicinity of the first producers struck, but the territory is being gradually enlarged, and outside strikes are as large as those within the tested area, and also show as good staying qualities.

The location of the oil field is in general northeast and southwest one of the old fields of Kansas, Oklahoma, and the farthest to the southwest. But in this section there are conditions which indicate that there may be a possible cross belt, thirty miles almost directly east from Electra is Petrolia. The geological conditions at these two points and between are much alike. The same variety of sands exist at Petrolia as at Electra, and so far as developments have been made the two fields have similar features. Between them have been no wells drilled to determine what may exist, but there is a strong probability that the two may be connected at some future time with one field, or a successions of pools close to each other. At the Petrolia end there are 22 gas wells, all reported to be showing signs of oil. These gas wells have a rock pressure of 700 pounds and a large volume of gas. The gas is found in the deep sands, and the oil in the Petrolia field, so far, has been confined to the shallow sands. The production at present of the Petrolia field is about 9000 barrels a month. At the Ninety-Nine Oil Company completed its venture on the Jones ranch. It is reported to have found a paying production in the 1700-foot sand, and being in the direction of the connector towards Electra, lends strength to the supposition that it is the line to work on. A number of wildcats are being drilled between the two fields which will help to determine the extent of the productive area when completed. While the prospects are bright for a large production in Wichita and Clay counties, the expense attending operations may make development slow. A well cannot be drilled to the depth desired for much less than $10,000, and the territory is comparatively shallow as compared with other fields, but several strings of casing are required to reach the deep sands, and contracting is costly at the present prices for material. This will have a tendency to lessen the chances of a big flood of oil coming on all at once, as has happened in eastern fields.

HOOK WORM FOUND IN 46 TEXAS COUNTIES

Symptoms Discovered in 215 Counties Per Cent of 1,776 Children in Institutions

Austin, Texas, Feb. 23.—"Of a total of 1776 school children seen in eleven different schools and orphanages, 21.5 per cent showed symptoms upon a quick inspection which justified the suspicion that they had hookworm infection. Of 876 boys, 30.7 per cent, and 900 girls, 12.6 per cent came into the suspect category."

"The results thus far obtained not only fully justify the State Board of Health in beginning a campaign against the disease, but indicate very clearly that such a campaign ought to be undertaken without unnecessary delay."

"The public schools are badly in need of a medical inspection system for it is clear that many of the school children are physiologically below par, and that they are not physiologically capable of utilizing to its full extent the educational advantages offered to them."

"The sanitation of the school yards is in sad need of attention. Even from the meager data collected it is evident that in their present condition certain of the rural schools are centers from which the various soil-pollution diseases may be spread from infected to uninfected children and thus carried to uninfected homes. In several school yards examination found as to a sanitation the grading was only 10 on a scale of 100."

"THIS IS MY 71st BIRTHDAY," Jean D. Rolland.

Jean D. Rolland, a member of the legislative council of Quebec and prominent for many years in the municipal life of Montreal, was born in the Canadian metropolis, February 23, 1841. After completing his education at Ste. Marie College he embarked upon a mercantile career. In this he eminently succeeded, becoming one of the foremost import manufacturers in the Dominion, with large interests in many other industrial and financial enterprises. Mr. Rolland was mayor of Montreal from 1876 to 1879 and later served as a member of the city council. He is one of the governors of Laval University and a former president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Round and Round to Nowhere. When President Taft admits that combinations of capital in protected industry have taken advantage of excessive duties to raise domestic prices above what they would be, he admits the existence of a difference in cost of production between this and other countries created through the tariff alone. If, then, the tariff is to be revised only to cover existing differences in cost of production, how does any downward revision become possible? If the tariff itself, directly or indirectly, is responsible for a difference, how is this difference to be an excessive tariff?—New York World.

How February Lost a Day. Numa Pompilius, the ancient Roman, first declared that February should have but twenty-nine days, except leap years. Then an extra day was to be intercalated between the 23rd and the 24th, making it a thirty-day month. But Augustus Caesar named a month after himself—August. And in order that it might have all the dignity of the other thirty-one-day months he took from February one of its days. So, the month that could most afford such a loss usually goes limping along with twenty-eight days—the extra one given, and that but grudgingly, only when the year number can be divided by four.—Los Angeles Herald.

"In addition to the college students and others reported upon in the foregoing, inspected the pupils of several public schools and two orphanages and classified the pupils, from general appearance only, into three categories, namely, probable cases or suspects, possible cases, or doubtful and apparent negative cases."

"Thus, of a total of 1,776 school children seen in 11 different schools and orphanages, 21.5 per cent showed symptoms upon a quick inspection which justified the suspicion that they had hookworm infection. Of 876 boys, 30.7 per cent, and 900 girls, 12.6 per cent came into the suspect category."

Recent Raise in Insurance Rates Causes Controversy. Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 22.—Strenuous scenes marked the opening here this afternoon of the session of the National Woodmen assembly. Officers of the head camp of the Modern Woodmen of America were bitterly assailed, action taken at the head camp convention recently held in Chicago were severely criticised and John Sullivan of Kansas City, chairman of the laws committee of the head camp, was denied the privilege of the floor, as though he declared that he held credentials from his home organization.

The assembly was organized to devise plans to protest against rates raised at the Chicago meeting. The climax came at the close of the speech of John L. Sundon of Minneapolis, who led the fight at Chicago against the adoption of the rates.

Turning his attention entirely to Mr. Sullivan, who was present, Sundon made a bitter attack upon him, closing with the statement: "I am satisfied that the last head camp has been held where the committees are not composed of delegates, and therefore, Mr. Chairman, I move that the delegates whose credentials have been approved by the committee of this assembly, resolve themselves into a permanent organization and that those delegates who favor the action taken at the Chicago convention be excluded."

Amid cries of "Throw him out!" and "He's not a delegate!" Dan E. Richter of Minneapolis, acting chairman, refused to recognize Sullivan, and Sundon's motion was adopted. Sullivan attended the session until its close, however.

The meeting will continue tomorrow.

It takes a man with a wad of money to see the romance in being poor.—Washington Post.

NEW YARD MASTERS FOR KATY AND DENVER

W. H. Gregg Succeeds Ralph Ricketts in Denver Yards, and Mr. Harris Acting for the Katy.

Mr. Ralph Ricketts, who has been yard master for the Denver for the past two years has resigned and Mr. W. H. Gregg, who has been employed by the Wichita Valley as a conductor succeeds him. This appointment takes effect at once and Mr. Gregg is at his post with his usual happy smile.

Mr. W. J. Griffin, who has been with the M. K. & T. at this point as general yard master, has been transferred and Mr. Harris succeeds him in the yards here until a permanent appointment is made. Mr. Griffin, has shown the knack of making friends and was presented with a neat watch chain by the employees of the road at this point as an evidence of the esteem in which he was held by them. May success follow him and his.

Wm. Langford is again at work after several days "harder" work in the interest of the conductor's ball. Says he won't lay off again for six months. "Oh, you extra men!" Scott Patton is again on duty after an absence of several days caused by the illness of his wife and mother-in-law.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Conductors are seriously thinking of abolishing the age limit in their applications. The conductors have been trying some time to get rid of this on their applications (for jobs).

A deaf and dumb negro known here by the name of "Dummy" broke into Whitman's grocery store just back of the Last Chance Saloon in the South-eastern part of town last night, and extracted a small sum of money from the cash drawer, in addition to taking a number of different articles. He had previously stolen two six shooters from a saloon, and the guns were found this morning in a pawn shop having been placed there last night at about eleven o'clock by the negro. "Dummy" boarded a Southbound freight train, and Constable Pickett has sent word to the officers in a number of towns South of this city to look out for the negro. Will Skeen left this afternoon for Bowie, to identify a man answering the description of the negro wanted.

DIX ISSUES ORDER IN CASE OF BRANDT

If Decision of Justice is Reversed Governor Says There Will Be Full Investigation

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Governor Dix last night ordered the suspension of all proceedings before him in the case of Folke Brandt, former valet of M. L. Schiff, until the legality of the writ of habeas corpus granted by Justice Gerard shall have been decided by the Court of Appeals.

The Governor announced this decision late yesterday after conferring with Seymour Van Zandt Voord, his legal adviser, and Richard L. Hand, who was appointed commissioner to take testimony on Brandt's application for clemency.

In a statement explaining his action, Gov. Dix says he is informed Justice Gerard's decision in effect holds that the conviction of Brandt was illegal and that therefore has no power to exercise clemency or conduct an investigation in the matter. If the decision of Justice Gerard is reversed the Governor added there would be full investigation.

In view of the new phase of the case the Governor advised Justice Alton B. Parker and Delancey Nioch that he had canceled the hearing on their application to present oral arguments in favor of broadening the power of Commissioner Hand.

NEWSPAPER STORY SURPRISOS ROOSEVELT

Friends Declare "Hat in Ring" Remark Was Made Privately.

New York, Feb. 23.—When Theodore Roosevelt returned from his campaign trip to Columbus, Ohio, he declined to say a word about having "thrown his hat into the ring," and appeared to be annoyed greatly when pressed to explain what the phrase meant. Mr. Roosevelt did not deny having made the statement, but his friends say it was made in a private and confidential conversation, and was not intended for publication. Mr. Roosevelt was amazed it was known when he saw the newspapers yesterday morning and found the statement.

The next step in Mr. Roosevelt's campaign to capture the Presidential nomination will be his address to the eight Governors who have urged him to declare his candidacy. The answer is expected in the Roosevelt campaign on Sunday or Monday.

The preparation of the document has been the subject of numerous conferences, and it is expected to treat of the third term question and give a definite statement as to Mr. Roosevelt's view on the nomination. Following the publication of the letter it is expected Roosevelt headquarters will be opened here.

KIMMEL MYSTERY CLAIMANT'S STORY

Witness Tells Straightforward Yarn Bearing Out Allegations Repeatedly Made by the Defendant.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 23.—The Kimmel claimant's story of an attempt to drug, imprison and murder George A. Kimmel because of his refusal to buy stolen express bonds in Arkansas City, Kansas, in 1898, was told to the jury in the United States district court this afternoon in the hearing of the Kimmel case. The testimony was given by William P. Lardner, a witness for the defense. Lardner said the story which he repeated

CURRENT VERSE

I Have Not Lived in VaIn. If I have tried to lift the weight From some o'erburdened heart— Bowed down with care and sorrow— And helped to bear a part; If I have checked the scalding tears, And soothed and eased the pain, And brought the smile of gladness back I have not lived in VaIn.

If to an aged one I've been A comfort and a stay; And borne all children's weaknesses With patience day by day; If I have led the faltering steps To some green spot again, And brought a ray of sunshine there— I have not lived in VaIn.

If I have shown an erring one Some better place to fill, Though banished from society— My sister woman still— If I have ever tried to help To some green spot again, And brought a ray of sunshine there— I have not lived in VaIn.

If, when the children bear my voice, With swiftly flying feet They run, with smiling faces My coming steps to greet, If to all of God's dumb creatures I have tried to be humane, And wrought some deeds of kindness, then I have not lived in VaIn.

The Genealogy of Rings. They've studied up the family tree of Ebenezer Rings And proved that his descent is straight From Duke and Earl and King. He has a brand new coat of arms so handsome and so gay, A mixture of menagerie and patterns in crochee. They only mention relatives who fought with courage fire Or rose to great distinction in the intellectual line, But if they'd searched enough I'll bet the fact they'd run across That somewhere in that family tree somebody stole a horse.

Beauty's Sadness. Flushed 'neath the midnight rapture overhead, The village housefronts facing northward shine Like old romantic streets in lands of wine; Opposite—night—the wharves, where any tread Rings on the silent stone, are carpeted With silver, shadow patterned by the fine Rigging of anchored schooners. Wind's low white In cordage, and the plashing 'ne'er ended While night lasts—of the tide, are all I hear.

The spectral lighthouse 'gainst night's fair blue deep, Those changing clouds, the moon, one star who's had Splendor to brave them these warm winds—make drear The heart they uplift. And I steal home to sleep, 'Tis you alone, love, makes me always glad.

I'll never eat another 'less it's made of- Cottolene

"Such stuff as dreams are made of—" lard-cooked food. No wonder Willie has the nightmare—even the stomach of a grown-up will occasionally rebel at the havoc worked by lard-made indigestion.

Lard is made from hog fat. It is not always digestible, even at its best. Why then take chances with lard or imitations of Cottolene?

Cottolene contains not an ounce of hog-fat. It is a vegetable product—made from the choicest cotton oil, refined by our exclusive process, packed in a cleanly way in patent, air-tight top pails, and protected from all dirt, dust and contamination.

If you want purer, more healthful food, and food which will not disturb you after you have eaten it, be sure that it is cooked in Cottolene.

WIFE OF AN AUSTRIAN ARCHDUKE

The latest girl of the people to win the heart and hand of a prince is Berta Oeuber, daughter of a professor of mathematics in the University of Vienna. In order to wed this beautiful and intellectual girl Archduke Ferdinand Charles of Austria, nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph, and brother of his heir apparent, has formally renounced his rank as a royal prince, as a general of the army, as a knight of the Golden Fleece, his income from the royal treasury, his position at court and his chances of succeeding to the throne. Henceforth he is plain Herr Furg, without any other rank or position than that of any ordinary farmer or shopkeeper in the dual kingdom.

Harvey G. Brower, traveling freight agent and C. F. Norton, commercial agent of the Trinity and Brazos Valley railroad, are in the city today on business for the company.

Fads and Fashions

New York, Feb. 23.—Although the dictators of fashion in Paris by no means agree upon the subject, there is reason to believe that the coming season will bring a slightly greater width in the skirt line and with it a trifling change in the silhouette. The various designers in Paris and elsewhere are still experimenting with the new idea and the models so far produced do not represent any definite conclusion. However, a change may be expected. It will not be startling, but clearly perceptible.

The tailored costume is not likely to call for very much more material than was put into it last year and, though there is more room at the foot, this is usually accomplished in some manner that does not detract materially from the straight skirt line. In the popular one piece simple frock of serge, linen and similar materials one finds the same state of things as to the skirt, but with the more sheer and supple materials, whether of cotton or silk, the designers are decidedly increasing the amount of material required for dress lengths, and the manufacturers of such fabrics are "undoubtedly" very thankful for the change.

Some of the leading French designers are experimenting with godet or ripple arrangements, widening the skirt very gradually and slightly toward the bottom instead of leaving the bottom line narrow, whatever the fulness above. This, in the opinion of many, gives the most graceful and sensible of skirt lines and does not of necessity mean buoyancy or wide spread at the skirt bottom.

The triple and double scant tunic arrangements frequently seen in the new taffetas and in many other materials as well offer good opportunity for experiment with this ripple line and some of the designers have improved the opportunity but very discreetly and unobtrusively, giving no flare to the broadening width. In a large number of cases the increased skirt fulness has to do chiefly with the upper part of the skirt and is held into comparative narrowness at the bottom an effect unspeakably ugly if bungled, as many models have proved within the last year, but charming enough if skillfully handled in appropriate material and with proper weightings.

There is nothing actually new in line among the tub frocks of the simpler sort. The skirt has a trifle more fulness, but the skirt of the sheer summer frock always did have a little fulness, and the additional fulness is not over conspicuous, though it may be there in a godet seam or an inverted plait or a flounce scant yet shaped to a hint of rippling. One finds a good many of these flounces, if flounces they may be called, sometimes joined to severely straight and plain upper skirts of linen or other firm material. Sometimes added below softly full upper sections whose fulness is eased into the waistband with the finest of tucks, tapering down to nothingness half way between hip and knee. Sometimes, too, these little tucks run all the way down to the flounce or other skirt trimming, so shaping the upper part of the skirt that it is left with no real fulness, yet has not the strained, plain air it would have without the tucks.

Long lines of trimming are liked upon the linens, ginghams, and for that matter even upon the sheer cottons, buttoned down the full length of the middle front or side front, inset panels of lace, etc., but there are innumerable models, too, without this full length line of trimming. The bodice joined to the skirt at the natural waist line by a waist band of the material or of inset lace or beadings.

Sleeves are usually short, with some kind of turned back cuff, although an occasional tub frock for morning wear shows a long sleeve and waistband. Round neck or square neck, finished just below the throat base or a slight V shaped cut with collar or fichu finish is customary.

The fichu does not play as important a part with this sort of frock because it is easily crushed and is attractive only when perfectly fresh, but there are many separate flat fichu collars of fine hand embroidered lingerie and lace or plain hemstitched null or swiss, which are easily laundered and may be worn most effectively with a very plain tub frock.

The fine stripes and checks in the very sheer French lawns and linens make up most attractively and wear astonishingly well for material so sheer, but are somewhat expensive for morning frocks, and there are many cheaper things equally attractive. White grounds with hairline or less narrow stripes of color afford excellent opportunity for making up smart little tub frocks without trimming other transverse treatment of the striped material, and the hairline checks are delightful when trimmed in sheer white hemstitched lawn, or some other sheer material.

Belts of patent leather, or preferably of patent leather combined cleverly with the frock material, are the smartest touches upon some good looking none piece models in linen and the narrow black patent leather belts are used even with sheer crepons and marquisettes.

Black satin is used to quite an extent in the making of lingerie dresses and black velvet in the form of buttons and girdles is frequently used as a trimming of lingerie dresses. Some of the crepe dresses are trimmed with a combination of black and white braid, the trimming being confined, as a rule, to the upper portion of the dress rather than the skirt.

A great many crepe or "strait" cloth dresses are seen in white, somewhat taking the place of velvets in point of popularity. It is new and effective and is very satisfactory as to wear. Another material which is favorably regarded is agaric cloth, which is very much on the order of a fine Turkish toweling. This material will be used to a considerable extent in the making of summer dresses, as it is really attractive and novel.

Crepe meteor is shown in some exceptionally attractive designs in dresses, which are usually in black. Many of these dresses button in the front, and lace collars, with sometimes a band of lace running from the collar to the foot of the skirt, are noted in the trimming. Quaker collars, narrow, round, and deep pointed, will be fashionable during the coming season.

Tunics in various forms are extensively used in the designing of dresses of all materials. Many of them are short and give the effect of a double skirt. Double and triple skirts will also be largely used.

The normal waist line will be seen to quite an extent. Many of the dresses which have a normal waist line show some fulness, generally in the form of double box pleats, which are arranged in the back of the skirt and are shallow, especially as they descend toward the foot of the skirt.

The set in sleeve in the kimono effect continues to be the most popular model, but other kinds are also seen.

Bishop Vincent 80 Years Old. Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 23.—Bishop John H. Vincent, whose home is in this city, celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary today. Bishop Vincent probably is the most widely known of all the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church. For nearly fifty years he has been famous as a pulpit orator, and his work in starting the great Chautauqua movement has given him a world wide standing as an educator. In addition he had exerted unlimited influence through the international Sunday school lessons. He was one of the originators of the uniform lesson system, out of which grew the international series and was for a number of years chairman of the international lesson committee which selects and prepares the lessons which are studied weekly by nearly 26,000,000 scholars throughout the world.

Nevada Legislature Meets. Carson City, Nev., Feb. 23.—Called together in special session by proclamation of Governor Odille, the Nevada legislature met today for the purpose, according to the proclamation, of providing for a State loan and a State tax levy. There is nothing in the law to prohibit the Governor from calling other legislative business to the attention of the lawmakers and it is rumored that measure may be introduced to make prize fights unlawful in Nevada and also to put a quietus on the Reno divorce industry. But it is regarded as more likely that the work of the special session will be confined to the specific objects mentioned in the official call, especially since the Governor has intimated that the session is to last but a few days.

SAID SHE WOULD FAINT

Mrs. Della Long Unable to Stand On Her Feet More Than a Few Minutes at a Time.

Pendergrass, Ga.—Mrs. Della Long of this place, in a recent letter, says: "For five or six years, I suffered agonies with womanly troubles. Often, I couldn't sit up more than a few minutes at a time, and if I stood on my feet long, I would faint. I took Cardul, and it helped me immediately. Now, I can do my work all the time, and don't suffer like I did." — Take Cardul when you feel ill in any way—weak, tired, miserable, or under the weather. Cardul is a strength-building tonic medicine for women. It has been found to relieve pain and distress caused by womanly troubles, and is an excellent medicine to have on hand at all times. Cardul acts on the womanly constitution, building up womanly strength, toning up the nerves, and regulating the womanly organs.

Its half century of success is due to merit. It has done good to thousands. Will you try it? It may be just what you need. Ask your druggist about Cardul. He will recommend it.

PROMINENT PEOPLE

BREAKS AN AVIATION RECORD

All American records for the carrying of passengers in a heavier than air machine were smashed the other day, when George W. Beatty, operating a biplane, carried three persons with him in the air above the Nassau Boulevard Aviation field, New York, and flew over Belmont Park, Garden City and Mineola for fifteen minutes. The wind beat against the sides of the fragile machine, rocking it dangerously, and the cold was intense, but Beatty did not come to earth until he was confident he had done more in one branch of aviation than has any other man in this country. A smooth, graceful descent to earth marked the finish of the trip.

It was said by several men who saw the flight that Beatty flew with his three passengers more than sixteen miles. Leo Stevens, an aviator, placed the distance, however, at approximately ten miles, saying no man could fly with a burden of three passengers further than that in the time passed by Beatty in the air under the existing conditions.

After the flight Beatty, when speaking to a reporter, said he had marked the actual time passed in the air as twelve minutes and the distance covered as approximately eight miles. He could not be sure of the number of miles, he said, as all his attention had been attracted to guiding the machine. Even at ten miles Beatty's trip is considered remarkable. To appreciate more clearly the difficulties under which the trip was made it must be understood that the combined weight of the four passengers in the biplane was 544 pounds, and that the machine itself weighs 900 pounds. Beatty's three passengers were: Dr. A. G. Belden of Torre Haute, Ind., and Herbert Pratt and John Findlay.

BADEN-POWELL IN AMERICA

Sir Robert Baden-Powell, founder and chief scout of the British Boy Scouts, who arrived in New York a few days ago to visit the Boy Scouts of America, is one of the British heroes of the Boer war, having earned his fame by his brilliant defense of Mafeking.

In fact the history of Baden-Powell's life is packed with incidents of daring. When only nineteen he entered the army, being appointed a sub-lieutenant of the 13th Hussars, a crack cavalry regiment and being sent to India.

From India he was sent to South Africa and participated in the Zululand operations in 1888. From there he went to Malta for three years and in 1896 he was ordered to Mafeking and from there made many scouting expeditions to various parts of the country.

Among his feats that stand out in the course of the defense of Mafeking was the engagement on May 12, 1900, when the Boer besiegers, knowing that relief was on the way to the garrison, made their final desperate attempt to storm the town. But Baden-Powell's men, who for months had kept themselves alive on mule soup as a staple diet and locusts as luxuries, after four long hours of fighting, outmaneuvered and totally defeated the Boers. When Mafeking was relieved five days later the people of this country joined with those of England in hailing Baden-Powell as a hero.

Ever since retiring from the army Baden-Powell has given his time to organizing the boy scout movement, which in England has received official recognition. An army of boy scouts last July was reviewed by King George and Baden-Powell was publicly commended for his work.

NEW MINISTER TO PORTUGAL

Cyrus E. Woods of Greensburg, Pa., will be nominated for the office of United States Minister to Portugal, according to announcement made by Secretary of State Knox the other day. Mr. Woods will succeed Edwin V. Morgan, who has been promoted to be ambassador to Brazil. Senators Penrose and Oliver endorsed Mr. Woods for a diplomatic post, and Secretary Knox was quite willing to make the appointment. At first Mr. Woods was considered for the vacant embassy at Rio de Janeiro but there were reasons why it was considered best to send a man of experience to that post and consequently Mr. Morgan was chosen and Mr. Woods appointed to his place. The salary of minister to Portugal is $10,000, and the place is considered a very desirable one.

Mr. Woods served in the Pennsylvania legislature from 1901 to 1908 and part of that time was president pro tempore of the state senate. He is now general counsel for the Pittsburg Coal Company. His nomination probably will go to the senate on Monday.

BISHOP OF ALASKA RETURNS

Church bazaars have proved a success in a land where churches, except of the most primitive kind, are unknown.

Right Rev. Peter Kimball Rowe, Bishop of Alaska, who arrived in Chicago recently, received a wireless telegram while en route telling of the success of a bazaar held within the shadow of the arctic circle.

The message read: "Camp Iditarod, Alaska—Bazaar just finished. Receipts, $1,782. Temperature, 72 degrees below."

Bishop Rowe came from Alaska for the express purpose of making a plea for the Indians to President Taft. He spent several days in Washington and says he is well pleased with the result of his mission.

For sixteen years he has been tramping the snow fields of Alaska, ministering to white man and Indian alike.

"To preach the gospel in Alaska one must train for the task," said Bishop Rowe after he had been prevailed upon to relate some of his experiences. "Before I start out on one of my trips to visit the missions I go into training around the home camp. I climb the mountains, run a few miles at a time until I have increased the distance that I can easily cover to ten or more miles and then I come home and skip rope."

"Having thus got into training we start out. I always take a native companion. We travel on snowshoes and take a dog sled loaded with provisions.

KATY TO ORGANIZE SAFETY COMMITTEES

(Denison Herald) Having proven effective on other railroads, Katy officials in Texas are now making arrangements to form safety committees among employees in different departments. The maintenance of safety committees is gaining in popularity all over the country. The principal object of a safety committee is to guard against carelessness, which necessarily goes a long way toward preventing accidents to trainmen and shop employees.

It will probably take thirty days to get the organization lined up and officers elected, but steps are now being taken to appoint the different committees. In Denison a safety committee will be appointed for the car department under Mr. Doyle, one in the back shops under Mr. McElvaney, one in the freight and yard department under Mr. King and one in Mr. Munday's department. The men on the committees will watch out for defective tools and careless acts of fellow employees, warning them of any act that they are doing which is considered dangerous.

Hardly a day passes but that some employe does not act thoughtlessly and thus endangers his life. It is generally believed that by next week the names of committeemen will be ready, when steps will begin for a permanent organization.

MEET TO DISCUSS WAGE DEMANDS

Executive Officials of Eastern Roads Discuss Wage Increase With Engineers

New York, Feb. 23.—Executive officials representing all of the large railroad systems in the Eastern territory met in this city today to exchange views on the demands made by the locomotive engineers for higher wages. The engineers are uniting in a movement for a wage advance of approximately 15 per cent. Every road east of Chicago, north of the Chesapeake and Ohio and south of the Canadian border, is affected by the demand, and also the Grand Trunk of Canada.

The railroads, it is understood, are inclined to look upon the demands of the engineers as hardly justified by existing conditions. The engineers participated liberally in the general wage increases made in December, 1910, since which time the earnings of most of the roads have fallen off materially. A general strike in the near future is regarded as highly improbable. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is one of the most conservative of labor organizations and has always displayed a disposition to be conciliatory before re-

Some Reasons Why the People of Wichita Falls, and Wichita County, Should Insure With the Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company

- 1st. It is safe, because it puts up the same percentage of reserve that all old line companies put up, and therefore, affords the same protection.
- 2nd. The laws of Texas make it impossible for a policy-holder to lose one cent in an old line life insurance company.
- 3rd. Our assets are all new and up to the highest standard; no worthless paper has accumulated, as could be the case with older companies.
- 4th. Our risks are all up to the highest standard, having recently passed a very careful examination. Our death rate will naturally be very low for a number of years. Have not had a single death since organization.
- 5th. Our Capital and Surplus is greater in proportion to business in force than nine tenths of the companies doing business in Texas or elsewhere; greater even than some of the largest companies in the world.
- 6th. There are approximately one hundred good citizens of this county interested in the Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company as Stockholders, many of whom are customers of yours in your line of business.
- 7th. Your money remains at home; is loaned and invested in this territory, and in the ordinary channels of trade, drifts back to you.
- 8th. The Officers and Directors of the Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company, are men whom you know to possess honor, integrity and business ability. These men would not permit your dependent ones to suffer the loss of your insurance, even were it possible under the State laws.
- 9th. The Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company has on deposit with the State Treasurer of this State, gilt edge securities amounting to $120,000.00 for the protection of policy holders.
- 10th. Our policies are as good as the best.

storing to extreme measures. At the same time, the engineers are likely to stand firm in their present demands as, under the new Federation plan of organization which is said to have perfected, they probably can rely upon the support of the firemen, conductors and brakemen in the event of a strike. Heretofore the engineers have acted independently and have fought their own battles. Recently steps have been taken to form a federation of the four big railroad brotherhoods, and for the first time in railroad history it is said that all four are now agreed to stand together in the event that either one is involved in a dispute.

BIDS FOR LIGHTS WERE REJECTED

Flaming Arc Lamps Offered By Citizens Co. at $85 Per Year Declared too High.

The city council consumed two hours of time and a bale or two of conversation last night, and bought 500 feet of fire hose. Incidentally a motion was passed to renew the insurance policies on the city hall, but aside from this the aldermen and his honor, the mayor, and the city attorney, and a number of persons who were interested in proposed legislation, might as well have stayed at home.

It had been anticipated that bids would be received for the street lighting, as both the lighting companies had been requested to submit bids at that time, but only one was received, that being from the Citizens Light & Power Company. That company offered to install twelve flaming arc lamps, of the type of the sample lamp in use at the corner of Indiana and Ninth street, at a cost of $85 per lamp-per year. The estimate included fifteen lamps at $82.50 each, twenty lamps at $80.00 each, and twenty-five lamps at $78.50 each. On motion the bid was rejected, as being too high.

A petition was received from twenty-two property owners in Floral Heights asking for an extension of the water mains from Ninth street, along Denver avenue to Eighth, but as the petition was not in regular form it was not granted, but the petitioners were told to have it prepared in accordance with the ordinance and it would probably be granted at the next meeting. A request from Mrs. Boger, as

FOR SOME REASON. There has been a small demand for KRAUT this season. We have quite a lot of Five Gallon Kegs of Dry Packed Kraut. This is the kind (the best) that we have always sold for $2.25 per keg. Pure white, long cut, dry pack. We don't want to lose this and so notwithstanding the fact that both cabbage and kraut have advanced materially, we will sell these while they last at, per keg. This is not a case of selling at cost, it's a case of getting what we can. Our loss your gain. $1.50. O. W. BEAN & SON GROCERS AND ROASTERS OF FINE COFFEES. Phones 35 and 604. 608-610 Ohio.
