THE SITUATION GROWS WORSE

LOOTING CONTINUES IN PEKIN TODAY AND FIRING IS GROWING WORSE

FIRES ARE EXTINGUISHED

President Yuan Shi Kai Appears to Have Lost Control of Troops Entirely

By Associated Press. Peking, March 1.—Throughout the day looting by the revolutionary soldiers has been going on in this city. There have been skirmishes between the loyal troops and mutineers in the outskirts. Ten looters have been executed by the loyal soldiers. Fires started last night have been extinguished. The loss is estimated at fifteen million dollars. It is believed the loss of life has been heavy among both civilians and soldiers.

This evening firing among the rioters seemed becoming worse. It is feared that Yuan has lost control of some of his hitherto loyal troops. The Manchu soldiers have been doing nothing except defending the Imperial and forbidden cities where they have effectually prevented trouble.

Mutiny at Feng Tai

By Associated Press. Tien Tsin, March 1.—The Chinese troops at Feng Tai, 22 miles from Peking, mutinied at midnight today. There has been much heavy firing in the native quarter. Dispatches from Peking say the situation there is serious.

Eight Missionaries Massacred.

By Associated Press. San Francisco, Cal., March 1.—The first news of the massacre of eight missionaries by fanatical Chinese outlaws at Pinchow in Shensi last October was received here today. The Scandinavian mission was attacked at night and the missionaries including their children clubbed to death. But two, a father and his baby daughter, were saved. They escaped by the father carrying the child into a lake.

Many Killed and Wounded.

Peking, March 1. a. m.—A mutiny of Yuan Shi Kai's soldiers began in Peking at 8 o'clock last night. Many natives have been killed or wounded, but so far as known all foreigners are safe. The legation quarters are crowded, but the missionaries are holding forth in their own compounds.

The Presbyterian mission is in the northernmost corner of the city, three miles from the legation. Telephone messages informed the missionaries they were feared to traverse the streets. Major Russell offered to send a detachment to escort them to the legation, but considered it inexpedient to detach sufficient troops to remain there. Two or three American families have not been heard from, but it is presumed no harm has come to them because foreigners have not been molested.

Occasionally there is the sound of machine firing and the boom of heavy guns. Officers have been unable to control the soldiers and among fugitives now at legations are officers of the Chinese board.

American soldiers have taken possession of the Chien Men pagoda and Germans have occupied the Hata Hien pagoda without opposition from the Chinese soldiers. These pagodas overlook the legations and their possession was considered strategic.

The shooting is getting nearer to the legations is evidenced by the fact that one bullet struck the American legation wall within a few feet of Secretary Edwin L. Williams and several women.

One of the correspondents seeking news has been cut off from the quarter and unable to return tonight.

The mutineers ran through the streets, burning and plundering on all sides. Thousands of shops were looted, principally those of dealers in gold and silver and art curios and pawn brokers. Fusillades of shots were fired to intimidate the inmates. Several of the shopkeepers who failed promptly to surrender their valuables were shot and bayoneted. Scores of looters staggered off laden with plunder wrap ped in blankets and expensive curtains. Many shopkeepers escaped over the roofs of the houses, not waiting for the appearance of the mob.

By 1 a. m. the shooting was dwindling, probably because of a scarcity of ammunition. Parties of looters leading "poules," spoils-laden, were leaving the city long before that hour.

Hundreds of snuchs could be seen in the moonlight on the yellow roofs of the forbidden city watching fires, the cause of which they were ignorant.

Dr. R. L. Miller left this afternoon for Decatur, where he goes on professional business.

all directions, while on their way to the legation. Mr. and Mrs. Straight saved their records and valuables, but deserted a richly furnished house, that was given over to the looters.

The American is the most exposed legation, lying outside the main quadrangle of the quarter. The American end of legation street is the only unclosed section.

The Americans recently considered putting up barricades, but no caring to excite Chinese suspicion, depended on sand bags and barbed wire, which has now been more effectively arranged for defensive purposes.

The British legation is sending detachments through the city to the British missions. The American commandant, Major Russell, says American missionaries are well supplied with rifles and able to defend themselves.

The Japanese is the only legation without a frontage on the Chinese city. Therefore the Japanese detachment is reinforcing the others and doing special outpost service.

The Peking garrison now numbers about 2000, and it is not anticipated the Chinese will attack the legations, the principal object being pillage.

The sight of soldiers along the legation walls was an impressive one. The flames illuminated the golden-tiled roofs of the palaces and threw a glare upon thousands crowding the streets and struggling among themselves for loot they were unable to carry away.

As yet fires have not broken out within the forbidden city, indicating that the Manchu troops are guarding the Emperor Dowager and Emperor faithfully.

Foreign soldiers who returned to quarters after service in the streets and fugitives who have arrived, describe their experiences as thrilling.

Chinese soldiers broke into hundreds of houses. Sometimes they desisted when informed the house was the property of foreigners. Only articles of great value were taken. Property of all kinds was cast aside to make room for loot worth more.

Dead and wounded were lying in the streets. An English family living opposite the Nanking delegates say the place was attacked and set on fire early. In the opinion of those English people, the delegates did not escape.

Refugees say the new Waiwupu residence of Yuan Shi Kai was safely guarded by loyal troops at midnight, although near by buildings were burning.

The American minister, Mr. Calhoun, and Major Russell, at a late hour occupied with the American missions by telephone. All desired to remain in the town compounds. The Methodists are within a block of the quarter and can be rescued if endangered. The Y. M. C. A. members have taken refuge in the American board compound, where a detachment of American marines reinforces the missionary garrison.

The Presbyterian mission is in the northernmost corner of the city, three miles from the legation. Telephone messages informed the missionaries they were feared to traverse the streets.

$40,000 FOR IMPROVEMENTS

WATER AND LIGHT COMPANY EXPENDING BIG SUM IN NEW MACHINERY

2 MILLION GALLON PUMPS

A 750-Horse Power Steam Turbine, 400 Kilowatt Motor and Another Settling Basin

As substantial evidence that great things are in store for Wichita Falls, the Wichita Falls Water and Light Company have placed orders for additional machinery that will again double the capacity of their plant.

It will be remembered that the capacity of the plant was more than doubled last year by the installation of new and more modern water and light machinery to take the place of the old machinery and now it is found necessary to again add more machinery to meet the demands of the city.

The new machinery, which has been ordered and will be installed within the next 90 days will consist of one, Alberger steam driven Turbine pump with a capacity of two million gallons daily. This pump is to operate against a domestic pressure of 76 pounds to the square inch and a fire pressure of 120 pounds to the square inch with a steam pressure of 150 pounds to the square inch.

Also one 750 horse power Parson's steam Turbine. This machine is of the latest type on the market and is self-excited.

One Le Blanc condenser of the latest pattern.

One 400 kilowatt motor generator set. This machine is also of the very latest pattern and can be used for either alternating or direct current in connection with the turbine, which gives a double use of the machine, either for lighting purposes or for operation of the street railway.

This new machinery will be installed at an additional cost to the water and light company of $40,000, but the company found that it would be needed, and therefore gave an order to put it in.

TEACHER PRAISED FOR GOOD JUDGEMENT IN RECENT BLIZZARD

Miss Ruby Craig, teacher in the County Line School 8 miles northwest of Electra, is receiving high praise for the good judgment she exercised at the time of the recent snow storm in keeping her pupils at the school house all night.

The blizzard was raging furiously when the time for dismissal came and Miss Craig ordered that all the pupils stay at the school house until the storm abated. Later when the storm showed no signs of abatement she reached the nearest telephone and telephoned to the parents of most of the pupils that she would keep them at the school house all night. One family could not be reached by phone and the father started out in search of his children who he supposed had started for home and he himself was lost and wandered in the storm for some time until he reached a house where the word had been telephoned.

Had the teacher permitted her pupils to start for home it is believed some of them would have perished in the storm, as they lived several miles from the school house and the blizzard was so severe that even grown persons could not have made their way.

Will understood Wilson to mean he held up this report on account of Florida political fights.

GOOD GAIN SHOWN IN POST OFFICE RECEIPTS FOR MONTH

Receipts at the local postoffice during February show a substantial gain over the corresponding month last year. February receipts this year total $3316.61, being the largest ever recorded in February at the local office. In 1911 the February receipts were $2725.96, the increase this year being $590.65.

At the present rate of increase it is not improbable that the fiscal year will show receipts of over $35,000 and that the office will be placed in the first class.

He has been in correspondence with the authorities for some time and they have given favorable expressions regarding the work. It is believed aid can be secured in this work also, especially since recent developments there promises to uncover a new field of oil supply for Oklahoma.

MILLION HAS BEEN

WICHITA SOUTHERN ANCE CO. HAS REM

$100,000 IN A SINGLE

Feb. 29th, Quadrennial Calendar Day, Made Record Day For The Company

The Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company yesterday passed the million dollar mark in the amount of business written since its organization.

The company has been writing insurance just nine months, and to make February 29th the greatest in the company's history Manager E. P. Greenwood designated it as Kemp day and urged his agency force to get busy. The result was that almost one hundred thousand was written on the one day alone, bringing the total up to the coveted million mark.

The company has not had a single death loss, and this, with the great volume of business written in so short a time, is considered by insurance men to be one of the most remarkable showings ever made by any insurance company. And especially is this true when one considers the conditions which have existed in West Texas during the past year.

The company is now operating in Oklahoma, and has a good corps of agents at work throughout the state and expects soon to have a nice line of business from that territory.

Why One Marriage in Every Nine Ends in Divorce

BY SIMEON E. PATTEN.
Professor of Political Economy at the University of Pennsylvania.

Underlying all divorces, all unhappy marriages and all resulting evils will be found the fundamental economic problem based upon the almost universal dependence of women. When society shall make women financially independent of their husbands, and of other men, the divorce problem will have been solved, the home will become a place of perpetual peace and the family will reach its highest estate.

The time passed years ago when normal women were actually, or even in theory, dependent upon men for a living. This is proved by the vast and growing army of self-supporting women of all ages in all parts of the world and in all manner of occupation. Women are successful as doctors, lawyers, architects, as merchants, as nurses, and engineers; some of them engage in general contracting; Philadelphia has at least one woman plumber; a Western city has a woman police officer, a Philadelphia theatre has a woman for its special officer, and thus we find in every vocation of man a woman making good.

It is against the whole scheme of human development to hold one class dependent upon another. The fundamental wrong of slavery was in the dependence of the slave and the exercise of the authority born of such dependence. Had the slave received full pay for his services the authority of his master would have diminished in exact ratio to this pay, and the usefulness of the slave would have been increased in the same ratio.

Just so with women. Once a woman shall become self-respecting. When she shall become thoroughly self-respecting and wholly independent, then she also shall become a fit companion for her logical mate and meet him on a common ground of morality where love and affection, mutual help, mutual interest and every other essential to right living and right thinking come in logical order and in mutual sequence.

Where a woman is wholly dependent on the husband her spirit rebels, is then subdued and finally she becomes the cringing, distasteful and useless factor in the scheme of human development. Her offspring suffers because of this mental attitude, to the resulting physical deterioration. It follows, then, when a woman shall have lost her spirit and her pride and her charm, she likewise loses the interest, and sometimes the support of her husband and becomes a public charge.

Taking the mutual attraction for granted—a man normal in every respect, and a woman conscious of her personal attractiveness, secure in her financial independence, each seeking nothing more than an opportunity to live a normal life under decent conditions, sharing each others burdens equally and fairly, each meeting a proper share of all obligations, financial and moral—the constant source of turmoil and strife within the home which may be summarized in the single word "money," is wholly eliminated.

The woman has her own income, she has her own income, and are like partners, dealing fairly one with the other, the expenses are shared, as they should be shared, by those who incur them, and all of their time is devoted to the carrying out of their several economic ventures yielding to each the increments necessary to the happiness of both.

Such a situation breeds confidence, commands respect, builds up the woman, strengthens the man, and makes for all that is best in the strength and vigor of society.

The marriage relationship is in law and in fact a contract perfectly right and entirely proper, but the two parties to this or any other contract should make the best bargain possible always being fair in the marriage contract the woman offers much gives much and has every right under the law to demand much and to get all she can.

It is entirely wrong for a man to give all and get nothing, just as it is entirely wrong for a woman to cease to be an economic factor in the scheme of life as soon as she becomes a wife. A dependent is a pauper whether she be made wife or widow, and a woman who lives on the earnings of a man is scarcely much stronger or better in the final analysis than a man who lives on the earnings of a woman.

True happiness will only come when both the man and the woman earn each in proportion to their ability, and the wise man and the wise woman will have a clear understanding as to the earning capacity of each other before entering upon the serious affairs of married life. There can be no love, and there is no love where there is no respect, and there can be no respect where dependence falls upon one or upon the other of a marriage contract.

The whole scheme of domestic relationship narrows itself down to the fair, frank and equitable meeting of the financial obligations incurred, the sharing of the expenses and the facing of the economic issues as they develop during the term of the contract.

The question of marriage is simply a question of income. We are all creatures of emotions, passions and desires. The theme of love is a natural element in the human soul; it is not a foreign germ that has to be injected into the body and cultivated. It is already in the soul and only awaits to be aroused.

There is no reason why we should not combine love on the one hand with the income power on the other, providing society keeps the normal man within limits.

For instance, if a girl is earning, say $10 a week, and is in contact with normal men who are earning $20 a week, why then will she pick out the kind of man she likes, be the kind of woman he likes, and they will have reasons for coming together and living together. They both are equally capable of earning sufficient for their individual needs and therefore are not dependent on each other. This is what seems to be perfectly normal.

But then again, it is indeed hard to blame a girl who is earning only $3 a week—who is possessed of good looks, good figure, and is generally pleasing to the eye—for selling herself for $100,000. She is not capable of earning enough to support herself and therefore has to be supported. The normal girl and the normal man who are both capable of earning their own living do not think of these things.

What we want to do with the marriage and divorce question is to keep people in a normal condition and those who are not in this condition must be brought back.

Just as soon as you get people away from the normal state you make one set of people slaves of another set. This means the decreasing of our intellectual and emotional natures and the breaking down of social standards.

We have spoken of the girl who is lacking in ability, or in opportunity to earn enough to support herself. Now we speak of the girl who is kept at home with certain duties to perform, but no income-making power. This sort of woman is absolutely dependent on a man who has the income earning power to satisfy her wants.

We educate a woman to spend $1,500 a year, whereas she has an income-earning power of only $300. When she faces life she therefore has to choose between the man whom she may love but who cannot earn her $1,500 and the man she cares little about but who can provide the necessary means for such luxuries. Just as long as we have women who are not taught to have an earning capacity we are going to have many such cases of this kind.

The man's side of this problem is quite different. The young man of today has the notion that he should support a wife and consequently he emphasizes this fact in himself, often to the extent of deceiving himself. He does not look to any income-earning power in his life; he looks to her face, her figure, her style, and sets the idea, which has a great deal of good in it and much bad, that women are to be supported. The girl marries, unless she has the earning power, does not know the value of his income or how to use it, and in most cases she becomes dissatisfied with the resulting chaos.

Married life should be a brighter life, a life in which devotion can be expressed and fulfilled; but on the other hand, nobody should be forced into it because they lack income. To get an equilibrium we must cut down the education of women to spend rather than to earn, or we must raise

HIS TROUBLE NOT OF HEART

Real Facts in Regard to F. R. Huffman's Illness. Relief Obtained By Curing His Stomach Ailments.

Waynesville, N. C.—Mr. F. R. Huffman, of this city, says: "I suffered dreadfully with what I thought was heart trouble, and tried various medicines in vain.

After other remedies had failed, Theodor's Black-Draught restored me to health. I would not feel safe without Black-Draught in the house. I consider it worth its weight in gold.

It cured my indigestion, and by this means I was restored to health. I can not express my gratitude for its benefits."

Good health depends on the condition of your digestion. Poor digestion and food health do not go together.

Theodor's Black-Draught will thoroughly cleanse and set in order your digestive system.

It has done this for others, during the past 70 years, and is today the most popular vegetable liver remedy on the market. Try it.

Insist on Theodor's. Price 25c.

Sexual impulse is an intense sentiment and should not be the title of love, nor made the basis of marriage as you combine sexual impulses with love, you have trouble.

The way to prevent trouble is not to set up a new ideal of marriage. Sexual impulse will be happy marriage. The income-earning capacity, instead, make the group instead of the individual, and will put the family on a sound

The female sex doth ever shun what most it seeks.

Every woman's mirror is her best and bravest friend.

Time is the call-boy of the soul, who comes to warn us for our final scene.

To be a woman meaneth flower, star queen—and more, much more besides.

To say that conscience hath a still small voice, but of 'tis wondrous sweet.

Flout truth now, but beware the time when thou shalt seek flattery in thy mirror and find only truth.

Time hath summoned all manner of actors to enact strange scenes on the stage of life and rung down many tragic curtains.

Love—the king of kings, the soul's sweet starlight, the strength of the weak, the salvation of the doomed, the God of Everywoman.

If a woman fall—if one false step leads down the path to perdition, her youth and beauty dead—oh, who will lend a kindly hand to lead her back again? In the whole world there is no hope for such a one.—From the Morality Play, "Everywoman."

Stray Topics From Little Old New York

New York, March 1.—Not for many years has New York City been swept by a wave of crime equal to that which at present engulfs it and all assertions of the police authorities notwithstanding, the streets of the city have not, for many years, been as unsafe as they are now. Hold-ups, highway robberies and assaults in broad daylight and on the public streets, of the most densely populated districts and daring burglaries are of daily occurrence, but only in rare instances are the culprits apprehended by the police. Sheriff Harburger, thoroughly disgusted with existing conditions, has decided to declare war against the criminals and accordingly is swearing in a large number of deputies, among them actors, bankers, brokers, and other prominent professional men and business men. Every one of the deputies will be granted the right to carry a revolver and Sheriff Harburger has exhorted his deputies not to hesitate in making use of their weapons, should it be necessary for their protection or the protection of the life or property of others.

How helpless the police authorities are in suppressing crime is clearly illustrated by the fact that in some cases burglars visited and robbed certain business places or apartments repeatedly, but the police were unable to make any arrests or even to find a clue. The proprietor of an egg and butter store on upper Third avenue, was robbed more than twenty times during the past few months. Several times his store was visited and plundered on other occasions his delivery wagons were stolen and his apartment was broken into by burglars on several occasions, but in all these cases not a single arrest was made.

The fear of being bitten by a mad dog is deeply rooted in almost every human being and the cry "Mad Dog" is as potent to cause a panic on the street as the cry of "Fire" is in a theatre. The fact that in ninety-nine out of hundred cases the mad dog is not mad at all, but simply scared, does not lessen the general fear in such cases. Last Sunday a little yellow dog stood in front of the First Presbyterian Church of Mount Vernon, just as the congregation started to leave the church after the morning service. After the fashion of young dogs who do not belong to anybody in particular this little pup attached himself to one of the members of the congregation, a young woman, and followed in her footsteps. When the girl accidentally came in contact with the dog she became scared and screamed. Some men near her, believing that the dog had bitten her, sought to drive the animal away by striking at it with their canes. The dog who was hit several times, howled with pain and becoming frantic with fear, rushed among the church folk, who scattered in every direction, yelling "Mad Dog."

The excitement grew rapidly and attracted several policemen. Pressing an automobile into service they pursued the yellow dog racing down the street for dear life. One of the policemen fired several shots at the dog and one of them disabled the poor animal's left front leg. The dog fell and seemed stunned for a few minutes, but before the policeman could reach him, the dog jumped up and on his three good legs made his escape.

Three members of the United States Volunteer Life Saving Corps, who live in the Bronx, rowed out into the sound in an 18-foot skiff the other day in search of persons ice bound or adrift on ice cakes. Near Riker's island their boat was surrounded by floating ice and a big cake stove a hole into the side of the skiff. The men saved themselves by leaping upon the big cake of ice and even succeeded in pulling up their boat. Helplessly they drifted on the ice and would have been carried out into the open sound had not their signal of distress, the white shirt of one of the men, tied to one of the oars, been seen from the shore. A police launch started in pursuit of the floating piece of ice and rescued the three men.

The smuggling of diamonds and other precious stones, of laces and other valuable articles of adornment is of rather common occurrence. In spite of the watchfulness of the revenue officers at this port many thousands of dollars worth of such articles are smuggled into New York every year. Once in a while one hears of somebody who tried to smuggle valuable pictures, bric-a-brac and costly dresses into this country, but these cases are comparatively rare, as it is a great deal more difficult to smuggle bulky objects than diamonds or laces and much less profitable.

It seems almost incredible that anyone should make a business of smuggling glass eyes into this country and that the undertaking should pay so well as to make the smuggler a rich man. Yet this proved to be the case. A German, who posed as a member of the German nobility, was arrested in Trenton, N. J., recently charged with having smuggled large quantities of artificial eyes into this port. At the trial it was established that the man, who is in no way connected with aristocracy, has been for many years smuggling glass eyes into this country, underselling the regular importers and accumulating a large fortune. He was convicted and sentenced to a heavy fine and imprisonment and for a while at least, glass eyes will be higher in price.

The experience of Martin Blitke, a young German, who was arrested here the other day for begging may be a warning to foreign artists contemplating to seek their fortune in New York. Blitke, who comes from a good family in Wurtemberg and who is a talented young sculptor, having graduated from the Academy of Fine Arts at Munich, had a quarrel with his family about a year ago and decided to shift for himself. He had heard a great deal of New York and the fortunes made there and decided to try his luck. He arrived in this city with but little money and soon reached the end of his string. He tried to find work in some studio but did not succeed. There seemed to be no demand for young German sculptors and day after day he made the rounds of the studios and even of the shops where gravestones and monuments for the dead are chiseled. His money gave out and he had to sell his few valuables and even the clothes he could spare. His shoes became worn out but he had no money to buy a new pair and it was when he was begging for a pair of shoes that he was arrested. Fortunately the young man made a good impression upon the magistrate and he was not sent to the workhouse but given employment instead.

SOCIALIST COUNTESS TO VISIT THE U. S.

Lady Warwick One of the Most Talked of Women in England Sails For America

What Has Been Said of Her
"She is the most beautiful woman in England."
"She is the best dressed woman in England."
"She is the most interesting woman in England."
"She is the most active woman in England."
"She is the most versatile woman in England."
"She is the most strenuous social leader in England."
"She is the most plighted woman in England."
"She is the most independent woman in England."
"She is the most ardent socialist in England."

London, March 1.—Lady Warwick, the most talked of woman in England, who has the anomalous distinction of being a Countess of enormous wealth and an enthusiastic socialist at the same time, sailed today on the Mauretania for New York to fill lecture engagements in various large cities of the United States and Canada. Her arrangements call for forty lectures in six weeks, opening in Carnegie Hall, New York, on March 12. It is understood that she is to receive $1500 for each lecture. The list of cities which the Countess will visit during her lecture tour includes, beside New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Washington, Chicago, and Pittsburg and several of the large cities of Canada. The Countess has prepared a repertoire of lectures, mostly of a descriptive or reminiscent character. In Canada she will lecture on "Horticulture as a Profession for Women." Although she has prepared a lecture on "Why I am a Socialist," she does not intend to deliver it in America unless there should be a demand for it.

The Countess of Warwick was born Frances Evelyn Maynard, eldest daughter of Col. Maynard, who was the son of Viscount Maynard. She received a n excellent education and when she made her debut in society her wit and beauty created a sensation. She had innumerable suitors and finally chose Lord Brooke, the heir to one of the most desirable titles in England, that of the earldom of Warwick, the heritage of the king-maker of the Wars of the Roses.

Lord and Lady Brooke at once became the smartest members of the Prince of Wales' set and acknowledged leaders of the younger circle in highest society. The role which Lady Brooke played in connection with bringing about the publicity of the famous "Baccarat Scandal" in 1891, made her extremely unpopular with certain cliques and she was openly attacked and anonymously maligned by her enemies. But she never flinched and bodily retaliation, delivering many a telling blow. It was at that time that she received the sobriquet of "Babbling Brooke," which clung to her for many years.

In 1893, by the succession of her husband to the title, Lady Brooke became Countess of Warwick. The change was not merely one of title, but involved the placing of a tremendous load of responsibility upon the shoulders of the erstwhile society butterfly. Fearlessly and energetically she threw herself into her task and began by making a careful study of the conditions existing among the villagers on her large estates. Freely mingling with the common people she tried to win their confidence and love and incidentally to learn from them what reforms were needed.

Soon she caused considerable gossip by founding various technical schools, horticultural and agricultural schools, schools for needlework and domestic science, etc., for the women on her estates, with a view of making them self-supporting. Her efforts were crowned with remarkable success and after a few years the Countess found it necessary to extend the scope of her schools and find additional markets for the work produced by the Warwick women. The study of economics led the countess to that of socialism and soon she became the most enthusiastic socialist in England. She closely identified herself with the socialist party in England and ever since has been active at every parliamentary election in behalf of the candidates of the labor party, many of whom owed their success to her brilliant and energetic efforts.

Rohatch's Mineral Water is highly recommended by physicians and patrons who have tested its merits, for indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, kidney and bladder trouble. This water stimulates the secretion of the stomach, increases digestion and favors a more complete absorption of the food and prevents the action of germs that cause typhoid and other infectious diseases. This water can be purchased at the wells or delivered in jugs or cases. This well is located one mile south of Alamo school building in Floral Heights, two deliveries daily morning and afternoon. O. ALWAYS WEARS MAN'S CLOTHES

Dr. Mary Walker, the famous advocate of men's clothes for women, came out of her retirement at Oswego, N. Y., recently and called on President Taft. Dr. Walker served as a surgeon throughout the Civil war and afterward congress passed a special act permitting her to wear men's clothes, which she had found more convenient and healthful than skirts.

A FEW THINGS THAT LIFE INSURANCE DOES

- 1st. It answers the question whether or not a man will live long enough to provide for his family. To the extent that money can represent a man's productive power it doesn't matter when the properly insured man dies.
- 2nd. It cultivates aggressively the principle of self-respect and individual responsibility, which are the very essence of our civilization.
- 3rd. It prevents the social defaults which premature death otherwise brings—defaults which are quite as disastrous to society and frequently as dishonorable as those which occur in banking and general business.
- 4th. It meets, as nothing else does or can, the demands for capital of a society rapidly developing and offering the faith and earning power of unborn generations as security for money which must be spent now.
- 5th. It is a banker for millions of people—a banker who cannot be ruined through panic, but who allows every depositor to draw on him at any time to the extent of his cash credit.
- 6th. It joins business to a constructive sociology; it puts the man of small means into touch with a statesmanlike plan; it enters the realms of imagination and takes us at least to the threshold of a new social order.

WILSON MEN TO MEET TOMORROW

Austin, Texas, March 1.—Political interest in Texas is centered in a conference which is to be held at Waco tomorrow by friends of Woodrow Wilson, who expect at that time to lay the foundation for an aggressive fight to elect forty delegates to the Democratic national convention who will appear in favor of the nomination of the New Jersey governor for President. The Wilson partisans in the Lone Star State appear confident of capturing the entire delegation, but feel they should wage an aggressive fight as if they regarded the result in doubt. As the result of the Waco meeting it is expected that a vigorous campaign for a Waco delegation to Baltimore will be maintained up to the time of the holding of the State convention of the State primaries, if the last named system of selecting the delegates is adopted by the State executive committee. Discussing the political situation in Texas, with respect to the chances of Woodrow Wilson securing the support of the Texas delegation, Judge Cato Sells of Cleburne, who is chairman of the executive committee of the Woodrow Wilson State Democratic League, says: "We are not only optimistic, but our confidence in the situation is justified by reports, coming through a systematic organization in practically every county in the State, which indicate that at least three-fourths of the Democrats of Texas are in favor of the candidacy of Governor Wilson; and that Texas will send a solid Woodrow Wilson delegation to the Baltimore convention."

CONSERVATORY RECITAL TONIGHT

Last May, when the Conservatory of Music was established, Mr. Burgess, the jeweler, as an inducement to beginners in music, made the offer of a medal to the student who should make the best grade during the period between April 1st and September 15th, 1911, and as a further inducement to students, the Conservatory offered a free year's scholarship to the student making the highest average among the more advanced students between the 15th of September, 1911, and the 15th of January, 1912.

Both of these periods being ended, and the students making the highest grade determined, the announcement is now made that tonight in the auditorium of the high school building, a recital of the students will be held, and at this recital the winners of both the medal and scholarship will be announced, and presented with an appropriate address by a prominent speaker. Admission will be free and the public is cordially invited to attend, as this is a rare opportunity to observe the progress and advancement of students who have been attending the Conservatory.

seems to be coming in spite of the concerted action of the grouches and knockers. This Wichita Country has mud and when it has mud it has a chance. Wichita Falls is the only town in this part of the domain of the Lone Star that did not hold a municipal funeral during the recent unpleasantness when aqueous precipitation was about as common an occurrence as bachelors at a baby show. If we could stay awake at the switch through such a spell as has just passed it is dollars to doughnuts that we will all get a strange hold on some coin when nature smiles and she is bordering close on to a grin right now. Hare and Hound Chase

Notice boys! If the weather is favorable the hare and hound chase will occur at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

All contestants must appear at the Y. M. C. A. before that time, as no one will be permitted to join in the chase without first being registered. The hares will divide the hounds into three groups of equal numbers.

The hares will be provided with different colored paper to be used for scent, and every hound will be required to follow the scent and not cut across.

Every hound should avoid wearing clothes that are too heavy. In no case should any one sit down or lie down enroute.

It would be well not to set a pace that can not be kept up for seven miles.

A roll of honor will be kept of every hound that runs the full course, and reaches the destination within five minutes of the time made by the fastest hound in his pack. Only boys in ages from 12 to 15 are eligible.
