CROP OUTLOOK MOST PROMISING

CONDITIONS NEVER MORE FAVORABLE FOR BIG YIELD OF WHEAT AND OATS.

IN ENTIRE SOUTHWEST

Wichita Falls Route Expects to Haul Ten Thousand Cars of Wheat.

"The outlook for bumper crops of wheat and oats in Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas was never better," said Frank Kell, head of the Wichita Mill and Elevator Company and one of the biggest grain men in the Southwest today. Mr. Kell keeps in close touch with conditions throughout the three states named and among grain and mill men his authority is unquestioned. Mr. Kell says that conditions are more promising than he has ever known them—and he has been an observer longer than he cares to tell—throughout these three states.

In Kansas and Oklahoma he says that everything has been favorable since last fall. There were good rains early in the fall, followed during the winter by heavy snows so there has been an abundance of moisture and cold weather to destroy insect life. In Texas the conditions were not so favorable in the fall but the heavy December rains and the rains that are now falling have brought the crop out wonderfully. The Texas acreage, the government reports show, to be below normal, but the Oklahoma acreage is about normal while that of Kansas is above normal.

"The Wichita Falls Route expects to haul more than ten thousand cars of wheat of the coming season's harvest," said Mr. Kell. Mathematicians might figure this out in the length of the train that the 10,000 cars will make and the number of bushels they will contain. The railroad men haven't time for such calculations as they will be busy from now on in preparing to handle the crop. Most of this wheat will be raised in territory tributary to Wichita Falls.

DEPOSITIONS TAKEN CONCERNING FIRE

Fort Worth, Texas, March 4.—Depositions were taken in the matter of the fire that Saturday morning destroyed partly the First Baptist Church passage, the home of the pastor of the church, Rev. J. Frank Norris.

Great reliance is observed in the matter, but the county authorities, with the aid of the city fire marshal, have taken depositions today which are believed to have to do with the fire.

There have been no other developments and the calm of the day is in great contrast with the storm of excitement that began with the announcement of the finding of an indictment for perjury against Rev. Mr. Norris and his arrest on that charge late Friday evening, which was followed by the burning of his home early Saturday morning.

The life of the grand jury of the Sixty-Seventh District Court, which found the indictment above named, expired by limitation yesterday. Having only that one day in which to work, that grand jury deemed it important to take up the matter of the investigation of the fire at the Norris home.

Another grand jury will be impaneled Monday, March 11, when Judge R. H. Buck of the Forty-Eighth District Court begins his March term.

The grand jury for that court will be selected from the sixteen men whose names are here given: R. F. Twigg, Elmer Renfro, K. M. Wilson, Walter Watts and H. C. Cantrell, Fort Worth; James Daniel, Greenville; I. R. Conroy, Mansfield; James Walker, Adair; A. H. Cleveland, Arlington; James Robertson, Johnson Station; Ed Allen, Keller; J. C. Chubb, Leander; George McGee, Brown; Frank Lammont, Crowley; T. F. Hatcher, Edinburg and Sayde Smith, Dallas.

With many individual expressions of sympathy and confidence still coming to him, the action of the members of the Valley Memorial Church here at the early session taken today to elect a grand jury, in connection with the pending incidents concerning Rev. Mr. Norris of the proceedings at the Valley Memorial Church on Sunday, March 3, a church conference was called and D. M. Doyle and

FEW STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK

By Associated Press. Lawrence, Mass., March 4.—Few textile workers seemed to have deserted the strikers when the mills were re-opened this morning at the beginning of the first day at higher wages. Five thousand pickets were on guard for the strikers.

Hearing Resumed. Washington, D. C., March 4.—The Lawrence strikers today before the House committee heard a letter read from Governor Foss, of Massachusetts, denying that the police used clubs on women and children. Samuel Lipson, a striker, resumed the witness stand telling how he was unable to become a naturalized American citizen for lack of the four dollars to take out his second papers.

NEW MEMBERS JOIN MOVEMENT

Sixty or Seventy Representative Men of City Now in Men and Religion Club

A meeting of the recently organized Men and Religion Club was held yesterday afternoon beginning at three o'clock in the Y. M. C. A., and about ten new members were enrolled, which increases the membership to sixty or seventy of the representative men of the city. At the meeting yesterday a committee was appointed to consider the proposition of sending a delegate to the Men and Religion Forward Congress to be held in New York City next month. At this congress a number of the most noted men of this country will deliver addresses, among the number being President William Howard Taft, William Jennings Bryan, Robert M. Speer, mayor of Denver, Colorado, Campbell White, John R. Mott, Fred Goodman, J. P. Morgan, and a number of others.

A leader for the Boy's Work was appointed, and it is hoped that the organization may prove to be a material factor in uplifting the moral standard of the young men and boys of this city. A Civic Righteousness Committee was appointed composed of R. M. Moore, J. W. Culbertson, and E. G. Cook, which committee will make arrangements for the calling of a general mass meeting of the citizens of Wichita Falls for the purpose of organizing a league whose object will be the moral improvement of this city. The meeting was concluded with a very interesting and instructive study of the Bible, which study was conducted by Rev. J. L. McKee.

Every Christian man in the city, regardless of denomination, is earnestly invited to attend these meetings. The membership of the Men and Religion Club is increasing rapidly and the work which this organization has already been able to accomplish for the moral uplift of the town is very encouraging to the founders of the club. For those who are not familiar with the purpose of the organization it would be well to give a short history of the reason of its foundation and the work which it seeks to accomplish.

Not long ago, it was seen by leaders of religion all over the country that the men in their religious and moral life were getting to be very lax and inconsistent, and only a small part of them were really taking any part in religious work. So to bring the men all over the country to a realization of their responsibilities and to interest them in their religious welfare and to remind them that it is their duty to bring other men and boys to follow Christ, a movement was launched in October, 1911, called the Men and Religion Forward Movement with headquarters in New York. This movement comprises the following divisions: the study of the Bible; Boy's Work; Community Extension Social Service, Evangelism, and Missions. Each city, of course, has to work out its own plan of operation.

The work of this movement was to have stopped in April, 1912, and out of the movement, it was hoped that each city and town in the United States would organize some permanent organization with the moral uplift of the town as an object. The Men and Religion Club of this city is the result of the work in Wichita Falls, and it is hoped to increase the membership and power of this organization until it will be powerful enough to cope successfully with the evil and immoral forces of this city.

ROOSEVELT MEN IN THE LEAD

237 INSTRUCTED ROOSEVELT DELEGATES TO OKLAHOMA CONVENTION

113 FOR THE PRESIDENT

It is Believed That Bartlesville Oil Man Will Be Elected As Chairman

By Associated Press. Oklahoma City, Okla., March 4.—Returns at noon today show that Roosevelt has 237 delegates to the State convention instructed. This reduces the number of Taft delegates to 113. Nine counties yet to hold caucuses are not heard from. They are claimed by the Roosevelt campaigners. The Taft campaigners have apparently given up. It is thought that Geo. C. Priestly, of Bartlesville is sure of election as national committee man over Chairman James Harris.

Roosevelt Letter Said He Would Not Run

Washington, D. C., March 4.—Colonel Roosevelt's denial of stories sent from Washington that the Taft administration had reason to believe that he would not be a candidate for the Republican nomination against the President, and his statement at Oyster Bay yesterday that Secretary of War Stimson "couldn't have said that he would not be a candidate" caused a letter written by Colonel Roosevelt June 28, 1911, denying reports at the time that he would support Mr. Taft which concluded as follows:

"I have expressed myself perfectly freely to a large number of men in this matter, always to the same effect; telling you, for instance, personally, and those who were with you at lunch at my house, and telling Clifford Pinchot, Jim Garfield and Congressman Madison and Billy Loeb and Secretary Meyer and Secretary Stimson all alike, just exactly what I have said always, that I would not be a candidate in 1912 myself, and that I had no intention of taking any part in the nomination for or against any candidate. Sincerely yours, "THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Colonel Is Silent

Oyster Bay, March 4.—Colonel Roosevelt when shown last night dispatches from Washington, containing a letter of the colonel's dated June 28, 1911, quoting him as having no intention of being a presidential candidate in 1912, made the following statement:

"I will say nothing unless the name of the recipient of the letter is given and the letter is published in full. Probably the language is not correctly given. Certainly all the context in which I said I would not refuse the nomination is suppressed. The letter published in a Chicago evening paper one month ago contains substantially all I have said in these letters."

The letter referred to as published in a Chicago newspaper was a copy of a letter which Colonel Roosevelt sent to Frank A. Munsey explaining his position.

The United Fruit Company has ordered machinery and other appliances to the extent of $40,000, preparatory to operating its line of fruit vessels from Galveston into Central American territory.

NEGOTIATIONS STILL PENDING FOR FACTORY

Although the San Marcos furniture factory men have returned to that city without closing a deal for the removal of the plant here, J. B. Marlow who invited them in this city is still hopeful that a satisfactory agreement will be reached and negotiations are still pending.

Mr. Marlow who has visited the factory at San Marcos says that it will be a big industry and if removed to this city will be a hundred thousand dollar concern.

ROOSEVELT MADE FOREMAN OF JURY

By Associated Press. Mineola, L. L. March 4.—Theodore Roosevelt was made foreman of a jury here today. He will begin his jury duty Wednesday. He refused the exemption which was due him under the law.

REV. HAMLIN RESIGNS HIS PASTORATE HERE; GOES TO TENNESSEE

Rev. R. R. Hamlin, pastor of the First Christian Church in this city for the past three years, Sunday morning tendered his resignation to take effect within sixty days. He is resigning to accept a call from the First Christian Church at Johnson City, Tenn., where he will have a larger field of work at an increased salary. A meeting of the church board will be held next Sunday at which his resignation will be accepted, as Rev. Hamlin has made it plain that he considers it his duty not only as a pastor but to himself as well to go to the larger field.

Although the members of his congregation here have felt for some time that they could not hope to keep Rev. Hamlin here indefinitely, they could not prepare themselves for his resignation and deep regret was occasioned by the announcement.

Rev. Hamlin has been a minister for twenty-five years, most of that time in Texas. For four years he was an evangelist for his church at large in the United States. He assumed the pastorate of the local church July 19, 1909 and since that time 385 new members have been added to the church rolls and the attendance in the Sunday school has been more than doubled. In that time the church has acquired property valued at more than six thousand dollars and is stronger in every department.

The church to which he goes in Johnson City has more than 700 members and its Sunday school has an attendance of more than 500.

Rev. Hamlin is esteemed not only by his own congregation but by all good citizens of Wichita Falls. His Sunday night services downtown and his popular addresses have brought him in touch with many who rarely were seen in the churches. His influence has extended beyond the city and his sermons and lectures have been an inspiration to the people of many of the towns in this section of the State.

PANTHER CITY IS ATTACKED

REV. H. D. KNICKERBOCKER PAINTS THIS CITY AS ONE OF WORST, MORALLY, IN STATE

BLAMES MAYOR DAVIS

Famous City Hall Speech to "Men Only" Held Responsible for Outbreak of Lawlessness.

Receives Another Threatening Letter

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, March 4.—Rev. Frank Norris Monday received another anonymous letter threatening his life. It was written on the stationery of a local hotel. Its contents have not been made public.

Waco, Texas, March 4.—Before a large audience at the Austin Avenue Methodist Church last night Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, former pastor of the First Methodist Church of Fort Worth, delivered a spirited defense of Rev. J. Frank Norris of Fort Worth and expressed regrets that he was not in Fort Worth now so that he could take his stand by the indicted pastor and remain with him to the last ditch. Declaring the enemies of Mr. Norris were trying to kill him in mind, body and character, Mr. Knickerbocker laid the responsibility for this attempt upon the immoral conditions that he declared exist in that city and added that he could the negro readily sympathize with Mr. Norris in his trials from the fact that he himself had gone through tribulations in that city almost as severe. He declared that while he was a pastor in Fort Worth he was anathematized, scandalized and cursed and that men went up and down the streets declaring that the best interests of the city demanded that he leave Fort Worth, as they are now saying that Mr. Norris should leave.

While Mr. Knickerbocker attributed the many violent attacks upon Mr. Norris to the direct influence of the famous city hall speech of Mayor Davis, which he described in words that wouldn't look well in print, he declared that the supreme desire of the business men of that city to promote the commercial supremacy of the town above its moral interests had resulted in developing Fort Worth into one of the worst towns in the state, morally and brought business to a standstill.

Continuing his defense of the Fort Worth pastor, Mr. Knickerbocker said he had labored with him in both Dallas and Fort Worth, commended Mr. Norris's fight against race track gambling at the Dallas fair and other places in the state, and said that he was in touch with many who rarely were seen in the churches. His influence has extended beyond the city and his sermons and lectures have been an inspiration to the people of many of the towns in this section of the State.

WICHITA FALLS LOOKED GOOD TO THEM

J. T. Woodhouse, an ex-Confederate soldier and a resident of this city for more than twenty years, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Addie, returned a few days ago from a three months' stay in Tampico, San Luis Potosi, Mexico, during which time they visited Mr. and Mrs. Woodhouse's daughter, Mrs. J. E. Hartman and her husband, Mr. Woodhouse, when seen a few days ago, was loud in his praise of climatic and agricultural conditions in the state of Mexico where he has been, and he said that he would not have missed the trip from which he has just returned for a large sum of money.

When Mr. and Mrs. Woodhouse left this city some thirty days ago, they had sold most of their property here and had announced that they would probably make their home in Mexico, but although enjoying their stay in Mexico immensely, since that time they have decided in spite of the fact that in Mexico bananas grow wild, oranges may be picked from volunteer trees, and almost every known tropical fruit may be had for the asking, and in spite of the fact that in Tampico the climate is always ideal, there is no dust, and there are no sudden storms in winter and no hot winds in summer to contend with; in spite of all these conditions in Mexico, Mr. Woodhouse says that Wichita Falls looks the best to him.

The state of San Luis Potosi in Mexico is one of the most prosperous in that country and the revolution has not as yet disturbed it. The governor of the state is a Madero man, and the people although supposedly in favor of Madero, do not especially care who occupies the presidential chair so long as they are allowed to go their way in peace. The state is rich in natural resources, the value of which can hardly be estimated, and more and more Americans are moving there every year. Mr. Woodhouse said that two colonies of Americans were located near the home of his daughter.

A touch of adventure was added to the experience of the Woodhouse family during their return to this city from Tampico. They narrowly escaped being held up about ten days ago by bandits or revolutionists. As the train on which they were riding was speeding at night through the country between Monterey and Laredo, the engineer noticed a number of armed men on the track ahead. These men pointed their guns at him and attempted to compel him to stop the train. The engineer and fireman, however, crouched down below the cab window, and putting on full speed ahead, rushed through the midst of the bandits, and the passengers, who were sleeping in the coaches behind, knew nothing of their narrow escape until nearly noon the next day when Laredo had been reached.

FIRE DESTROYED 13TH STREET RESIDENCE

Last night about 7:45 o'clock, a house at 1407 13th street, occupied by T. T. Wiseman and family, and owned by E. W. Saxon, formerly of this city, but now living in New Orleans, was completely destroyed by a fire of unknown origin, the flames not only consuming the house but also most of its contents. The loss of the house was partly covered by insurance, and the household effects were insured to a sum equal to about one-third of their value.

Mrs. Wiseman and the children left last week for points in Oklahoma on a visit to relatives, and Mr. Wiseman, who is a railroad engineer, left yesterday morning to spend Sunday with his family, and so none of the occupants of the house were in the city at the time of the fire. Neighbors discovered the house in a mass of flames, and an alarm was turned in. Although the department was able to do good work in preventing the spread of the flames to adjoining houses, the fire boys arrived too late to save the house.

Fire Chief Vic Stampitt said this morning that he desired on behalf of the fire department to thank the officials of the water and light company for their prompt action last night in turning the direct pressure from the power house into the water mains, thus enabling the department to fight the flames with a pressure sufficient to subdue them in quick time. He says that so long as this direct pressure is available, residents on the hill need not feel alarmed in case of a fire, as the department will be able to handle almost any situation.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Before an audience of four or five hundred persons Frank H. Leonard, C. S. B., member of the Board of Lecturership of the Mother Church in Boston gave an exposition of the beliefs of Christian Science at the Wichita Theatre Sunday afternoon. A number in the audience had come from neighboring towns especially to hear the lecture.

The speaker was introduced by Hon. A. H. Britain of this city who said in part:

"It is human nature to criticize and many times condemn the things we know least about. We are apt to find fault with the advancement of new teachings and doctrines and especially when they conflict with our own preconceived notions and ideas of things. We are prone to view with awe and veneration the old schools of thought, hoary with age and to look with disfavor and intolerance upon any departure from those long accepted theories and beliefs, and especially is this true in the religious world.

"Many of us derive our religion and religious tendencies, as we do our politics, by inheritance; adopting them without troublesome question or investigation, apparently on the theory of the old song, that if it is good enough for father, grandfather and the rest of our ancestors it is good enough for us.

"I say nought in derogation of the long and firmly established school of theology. That their foundation are broad, deep and secure, and that their purposes are lofty, I do not question.

"I have no fault to find with any man's religion, so long as it is sincere, is intelligent and is not immoral. If I may suggest it, the world needs today, as much as it ever did, religious toleration. We cannot all think alike, we cannot all have the same faith, but we can have consideration for the honest faith and purposes of others. We can hear with unbiased minds, we can remove from our hearts the poison of prejudices and animosity, we can exercise freedom of judgment if we but will.

"I would not be misunderstood. I am not a Christian Scientist. I do not pretend to know or understand the principles for which they battle. That its adherents are ardent even to enthusiasm; that they are optimistic and helpful not only to themselves, but to others; that they are sincere; that they gather much of inspiration and uplift from its teachings and practices, I am thoroughly convinced.

"Such a faith deserves at least our earnest attention; we should at least be fair, and hear and understand if we can before we condemn.

"It is always interesting as well as profitable to listen to the words of a man who has delved deeply and conscientiously into any subject. He is able to show us unknown paths; he opens to us new avenues of thought; he unfolds before us new vistas of research, and we are charmed by the eloquence which comes only from deep and thorough knowledge.

"Such a man I am quite reliably informed is your speaker of this afternoon. We have a right to expect of him more than entertainment, and I feel sure that right will not be breached. I have the honor as well as the pleasure of presenting to you Mr. Frank H. Leonard who will lecture to you on the subject of 'Christian Science.'"

Mr. Leonard's address in part follows:

"We may safely and certainly base all the ills the flesh is heir to on the human inability to discern the signs of the times."

"We read of the wonderful happenings of the times of Jesus, wish they might be possible now and then accept the universal belief that the time for miracles has gone by. To say the time has gone by for the power of the Word to be manifested is literally 'taking the name of the Lord in vain,' for he said, 'Lo, I am with you always.'"

"Webster defines a miracle as 'anything wonderful.' What Jesus did was in direct opposition to what we term natural law; but instead of our accepting and clinging, as we have, to so-called natural law as the real law, we should recognize that no law is natural or normal save that which manifests in all ways and on all occasions good or God. What Jesus did was not supernatural but in full accord with all the promises in the Bible as to the redemptive accomplishment of acceptance of his work as the direct manifestation of the omnipresent power of the Word.

"The realization of the infinite power of the Word brings to us absolute confidence that when we speak the Word of God, it is always with authority and power; and that the besetting sin of the sons of men is their lethargic attitude of unillumined indifference toward anything which seeks to turn them from this negative attitude toward the 'things of God' into the mental alertness which reveals the 'deeper things of God' and literally brings God's kingdom 'in earth, as it is in heaven.'"

"We do not need to pray to God to take sin from us and give us good, for God is good and we already have Him. We need to pray that we may be delivered from the belief that God ever sent evil; from the belief that the perfect can ever become imperfect and the eternal temporal.

"We must accustom ourselves to reasoning out the things of Spirit and cease believing they are hidden from us until after the change which we call death. The things of Spirit are eternal and it is as much eternally now as it ever will be, so now is the time when we are to worship God 'in spirit and in truth' and cease giving willing ear to the cry of carnal mind which is at war with Spirit and is death unto any possible knowledge of God.

"The Bible teaches 'be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind' and this means we are to be changed in substance by beginning again with Mind.

"Jesus the Christ transcended all material belief and theory when He healed the sick with the Word of God and yet he said, 'I can of mine own self do nothing; indicating it was the Mind' in him, the Father, God, which did the works.

"He said 'Verily, verily, I say unto you, whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.'"

"The query might be put here, if we ask for something we ought not to have and ask in His name will we receive it? When we really ask in His name, it will be with the name 'Mind' which He has and that Mind neither thinks nor knows anything less than God and therefore at that time, no sense of wrong will remain and of truth we shall know him as he is."

"Temptation to do evil is no sin. It is sin to yield to the temptation. Jesus was tempted in all ways in which we are but without sin. He recognized it to be nothing more or less than a suggestion to think wrong about God, and refusing to yield hereto, he kept his thought pure and his freedom and dominion over all things was the consequent result.

"The knowledge that right thinking means right living makes us know we do not need to apply material remedies when one is in pain but to need to help him think right, his applying the cleansing influence of truth the outward manifestation of which is harmony in its highest sense.

"Christian healing is accomplished through the ministry of Christian Science as we realize the allness of living Mind and the nothingness of what is termed matter. We do not claim we have yet risen above the belief in matter for if we had we would manifest Spirit alone, but we have risen above the belief that it is anything other than a belief.

"The world at large has had great misapprehension as to the position accorded to Mrs. Eddy by the Christian Scientists.

"They have never looked upon her as a Creator but simply as a Revealer, who through consecration, self-oblation and profound spiritual searching of the Scriptures, discerned the great Truth of the life 'hid with Christ in God' which she transcribed in the Christian Science textbook, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' so simply that anyone who is willing to study may comprehend and know the 'Truth' which makes man free.

"Christian Science is not Mrs. Eddy's science, it is Christ's science or Christ's eternal continuity, presence and activity manifested in works as well as words, teaching us that only as we intelligently know and have righteous faith in him and prove it by demonstration, have we become a little children accepting the kingdom of heaven which is 'within.'"

"And it is this Love manifested through Christian Science which has drawn Jew, Gentile, Pagan, Agnostic, and Atheist unto Christ through lifting him 'up from the earth' into the realm of Spiritual reality and consciousness, wherein God is worshipped 'in spirit and in truth.'"

"The message of Christian Science to mortals is the message of hope, the message of activity and the message of joy. It is the glad tidings that at last we know how to worship God and how to 'Walk in the Spirit' that we may not fulfill 'the just of the flesh' but 'press toward the mark or the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.' For of him, and through and to him, are all things; to whom be glory for ever."

LABOR COMBINE IS PLANNED

Confederation of All Mechanical Trades On Railroads West of Mississippi River

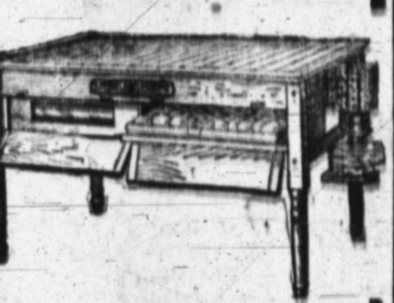

Kansas City, Mo., March 4.—Delegates representing the shop trades on every western railroad are to hold a conference here this week with a number of prominent labor leaders and representatives of the various other branches of organized railroad labor, to perfect the details of a gigantic combination or confederation of all the mechanical trades on the railroads west of the Mississippi River. A great deal of preparatory work has been done already, but there is still much to be done before this far-reaching plan can be brought to full maturity.

In a general way the complete plans contemplate the formation of a territorial organization of railroad employees that will include every railroad operating west of the Mississippi River. Before this ultimate result can be achieved, it will be necessary to perfect a system of federations of the various organized crafts of every one of the western railroads.

Heretofore the mechanical trades of the various railroads were not federated with the other trades of their respective lines and in case of a strike they had no support from the other trades. The railroad companies, having an understanding among themselves, helped each other and the strikers were invariably defeated. Realizing that their weakness was due to the lack of a thorough understanding between the railroad employees, a movement was started to bring the various trades into closer touch and to form not only federations of the mechanical trades of all western railroads, but also system federations including combinations on every railroad between the mechanical and the traffic trades of that railroad; in other words a federation of the shop men with the engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen of each system.

After these plans have been carried to full completion, the labor leaders believe, the mechanical trades will be in a position to bring sufficient pressure to bear upon the railroads to obtain from them the granting of their wages demand hitherto refused. Demands will be made on all railroads in the same territory at the same time, so that all these railroads will be involved at the same time, should a strike be called. Even if the railroads should be inclined to resist the demands of the shopmen,

SHORT MEDICAL TALKS

BY T. H. P. DUNCAN, M. D.

LECTURE NO. 12, "THE GROUCH HABIT"

Some times a man is grouchy because he feels bad, and some men are born that way and some acquire it. (This is also true of women). I heard of a man who paid a lawyer $10,000 to keep him out of the penitentiary and kicked because a doctor charged him $100 for keeping him out of hell. Some men would let their wives suffer for years and years rather than spend a dollar to get them well, but let that same man get the stomach ache and the service of half a dozen doctors would be required. If a man had to suffer as much as women the world would be depopulated within a hundred years. Some men are so selfish that they give no one any consideration but themselves. It gives me a "cussing" sensation when I see a robust, well kept, sleek looking man going down the street trailing a poor, dilapidated woman whose shoulders are bent, whose face is drawn and has great black circles hollowing the eyes. I always think that some other woman has told him how handsome he looked. I can see the home, the drudgery of the woman, the grind from morning until night, the worry of the children and household economy. And it is a "one best bet" that the lobster comes home grumbling about the meal, fusses at the children, quarrels with his wife and makes trouble about the terrible expense, then goes down town and spends enough for cigars and booze to have his wife take a course of treatment from a high priced specialist. A lot of men think that colmel is good enough to shake up the "old woman's liver," and that money spent for any other treatment is foolishness. He has forgotten that they were once sweethearts that she was once the sweetest girl in all the world; that she helped make the money and PERHAPS MADE HIM WHAT HE IS TODAY, or kept HIM from being worse. He has forgotten that it was for his happiness that the form is bent, the health broken, the bloom faded from the cheeks. He has not yet realized that he, too, is growing old, that his feathers are beginning to droop, that he does not "cut such a figure" as he did once. He does not know that after a while he must come back to his old love and sit beneath the shadows and clasp each others' wrinkled, shaky hands, and look with hazy eyes backward over the past. So after all what does money amount to if you have no health? What are sweets to you if your stomach will not receive them? What is life if you can not enjoy it? Do you suppose God put you here to grunt and grumble and find fault? Did He intend you to be a grouchy, hateful, peevish, selfish, gloomy old chump? You don't think so. No. He made the world beautiful and put you here to conquer and enjoy it. So why not LIVE AND LAUGH AND LOVE. "Mummies have not had any fun for 5,000 years." You'll be worse than a mummy within the next hundred years, so why not loosen up, take a new grab at life, and when you get a hold on it, take your wife with you; let her live and laugh again. When you feel bad it is awful, when your wife feels bad it is just an every day occurrence. Don't be a "chinch," send her down to the office and let us give her a new lease on life. It is worth it to you and double its value to her. To show you that we are good fellows we'll make examinations free. DRS. DUNCAN & DUNCAN, 605 1-2 Eighth street. Phone 678. Ward Bldg.

THE REFERENDUM UNDER ATTACK

Alleged Abuses of Popular Rule Will Be Pointed Out in Oregon Suit

Eugene, Ore., March 4.—Alleged abuses of popular rule through the referendum will be pointed out this week when the suit of the University of Oregon against the Secretary of State is argued in the State supreme court at Salem. The 1911 session of the legislature appropriated $500,000 for the University of Oregon which is located here; but before the law became operative, a referendum petition filed by one H. J. Parkison was present and the Secretary of State and accepted, tying up the appropriation until 1912, when the people would be given an opportunity to vote on the question. Cursory examination of the petitions showed evidences of fraud, so suit was brought by a regent of the university to prevent the Secretary of State putting the referendum question on the ballot. Attack was made on the petition on the ground that large numbers of the names were forged, and that various technicalities of the law had not been complied with. As the trial progressed, Parkison was forced to admit that he knew some of the work of his agents was fraudulent, but counsel for the Secretary of State contended that, eliminating the fraudulent names there would yet be enough to make good the calling of the referendum. The State objected that the plaintiff in the case had a right to bring such suit, and that he had not followed the prescribed forms.

Attorneys for the State university, on the other hand, maintain the right of any legal voter to bring such a suit, and furthermore they make the main contention that fraud in part of the petition invalidates the whole, especially where the fraud is so extensive and is so well known before the filing of the petitions. The case has aroused much interest in Oregon, which State was the first to adopt the initiative and referendum and various means of safeguarding the principle are being discussed by friends of the law, for they fear that if frauds are allowed to get by, worse frauds will be perpetrated and the whole system brought into disrepute.

MILLION DOLLARS FOR STOMACH

This Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman

The newspapers and medical journals recently have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable. His misfortune serves as a warning to others.

Every one who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach. Dyspepsia is commonly caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices, or by lack of tone in the walls of the stomach. The result is that the stomach loses its power to digest food.

We are now able to supply certain missing elements—to help to restore to the gastric juices their digestive power and to aid in making the stomach strong and well.

We know that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are a most dependable remedy for disordered stomachs, indigestion and dyspepsia.

We want you to try them and will return your money if you are not more than satisfied with the result.

Three sizes, 25, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, Fooshee & Lynch Drug Store.

We are making a study to try to get everything you need in the grocery line. Also will try to give you everything that can be had in the way of vegetables.

The trial of Dr. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist church at Fort Worth, on the charge of perjury, promises to be of as much interest to the public as the Sneed trial. Two attempts have been made on the life of the pastor; his church was burned, and on last Saturday morning his residence was destroyed by fire, the pastor and his family escaping with their lives from the roof of the residence. The grand jury which returned the indictment against Norris for perjury based the indictment that the pastor had falsified, willfully, when he testified before that body that he did not know the author of certain threatening letters received by himself and an officer of his church, and it is intimated that Norris, himself, was the author. As yet, no indictments have been returned by the same grand jury that returned the indictment against Norris, against anyone for the burning of the church, the attempts to assassinate Norris, or the burning of his residence. By this, it leaves one to conclude that in the opinion of that grand jury, of which Clarence Owsley, editor of the Fort Worth Record, was the foreman, had come to the conclusion that Norris had not only testified falsely before that body regarding the authorship of threatening letters, but was guilty of burning his church, attempting to burn his residence, and firing pistol shots through the window of his study to make believe that an attempt had been made to assassinate him. Not only the members of Dr. Norris' church seem to think him innocent of the charge of perjury, but yesterday the congregation of the Mulkey Memorial Methodist church of that city, at a congressional meeting, endorsed heartily the action of Dr. Norris, and expressed confidence in his innocence of wrongdoing. At Waco, Dr. Knickerbocker, a Methodist pastor who formerly had charge of a church in Fort Worth, devoted the greater portion of his discourse to the defense of Dr. Norris, saying, in short, that Fort Worth was more anxious to build up commercially than she was morally, and that when good morals interfered with commercial progress that power and influence would be brought to bear to remove the cause at any cost, leaving one to conclude that from Dr. Knickerbocker's viewpoint a deliberate and cold-blooded plan to rid Fort Worth of Dr. Norris had been put into execution, and that back of the plan are men who stand high, both commercially and politically, in Ft. Worth and the State of Texas. At the trial of Dr. Norris on the charge of perjury, the character of testimony to be introduced against him will no doubt be made public and until that is done, those who are fair-minded will withhold judgment.

NEW NEWS OF YESTERDAY

Great Lawyer Who Was Faithful to Burke.

Rufus Choate Owed His Manner of Thought and His Style to Close Study of That Master of English.

By E. J. EDWARDS.

When Rufus Choate, universally conceded to be one of the greatest of American lawyers and orators, and a most brilliant student of the classics and English literature and history, entered Dartmouth college in 1815, Rev. Dr. Alvan Bond, who was for nearly forty years pastor of a Congregational church at Norwich, Conn., and in his day one of the foremost clergymen of his denomination, was a tutor at Dartmouth.

"Rufus Choate became a student under me in Latin," Doctor Bond told my father years afterward. "I thought that when he entered the classroom for the first time he was the handsomest lad I had ever seen. His hair was brown and very curly, his eyes were dark, he had a beautiful complexion. But it was, after all, a singular intellectual revolution which was in his face, his manner, and his speech which especially attracted me, and I am sure, all of his fellow students.

"His translations of the Latin classics were beyond any comparison the finest that I ever heard in the classroom. They were faithful in expressing the meaning of the Latin text, but, meaning of the Latin translations, Rufus Choate's were expressed in singularly beautiful English. I never tired of hearing him translate.

"A little later I discovered that besides having a great gift for the Latin classes, young Choate was a precocious reader of the English classics. I remember that in a casual after-class conversation with him one day he remarked that, greatly as he admired Milton and Bacon, and fascinated as he was by Shakespeare, nevertheless he thought that in some things, especially in his command of the English language, Burke was the superior of any of them.

"Choate was graduated from Dartmouth shortly after I finished my tutorage there and entered the ministry, and I heard little or nothing of him after that until he had gained a reputation both as a lawyer and as an orator, though I had looked for him to take up literature and become a teacher, probably in Dartmouth. Then, one day, in reading a speech that he had delivered, I was struck with the thought that he had been influenced in his manner of thought and his style by a close study of Burke. Instantly there came back to me most vividly the remark that Rufus Choate, when a college lad, had made to me about Burke. Since then I have read speech after speech of Choate's and they all make it plain to me that, as a man, he has been faithful to his boyhood admiration for Edmund Burke. And perhaps because he has been so faithful is one great reason why he is so great an orator, so wonderful a master of the English language.

Many years after my father had told me of this talk with Dr. Bond it became known to me that Rufus Choate, at the time his cousin, Joseph H. Choate, formerly ambassador to Great Britain, was beginning the study of law, wrote to the latter these words: "Remember that these four are the great minds of England: Shakespeare, Bacon, Milton and Burke. And remember, also, that of these Burke is not the least."

A MUNICIPAL LODGING HOUSE

PRACTICAL SOCIALISM GIVEN DEMONSTRATION AT BUDAPEST.

ROOMS FOR 14 CENTS

Project in No Sense a Charity—Open Only to Those Who Earn Less Than $400 Per Year.

(By Karl H. von Wiegand, Berlin correspondent of the United Press, Budapest, Hungary, Mr. 2.—"Rooms, including steam-heat and electric light for 14 cents a day, breakfast of coffee and rolls for 3 cents and dinner for 14 cents are provided at the new municipal People's Hotel which has just been opened here for people whose earnings are not more than $400 a year.

Budapest has for a long time suffered because of a lack of dwelling houses and reasonably priced hotels for the working classes. This need was particularly keen among the petty "Gomanten," as all persons employed by the city or state are known, whose income is small but who by reason of their position must keep up an appearance.

Without theorizing long over the matter, practical socialism found expression in a large number of houses built by the city for its small officials who were married. A rental, while low, was well within the means of the class of people for whom they were intended, and at the same time insured the return to the city of the money expended. It was a happy experiment.

Next, the municipal authorities considered the matter of providing a hotel for the transients of little means, workmen, clerks, small mercantiles and petty officials, who could not afford to stop at even the cheapest hotels when they visited the capital. The unmarried of small wage or income, who might want permanent quarters, also was to be provided for.

With this in view, the municipal authorities built the new People's Hotel, which has just been thrown open. My attention was called to Budapest's new project and the price list of accommodations, shown me. It was suggested that I see the "latest practical socialism" of Budapest, which, while hardly admitted to have been built by Socialists, I was assured, was "true Socialism" regardless of who was responsible for putting it into effect.

I was shown a large handsome story structure covering a large corner of a block. The exterior was architecturally beautiful as the interior was modern, comfortable and homelike. Many of the hotels in Vienna, Berlin, London and New York where you pay more in tips than you do here for your room, are not half as inviting in appointments.

The corridors and halls are tastefully decorated; the rooms are of fair size, have large windows and are light and airy. The furniture is simple but serviceable. Each room has electric light, cold and warm water and steam heat, which many higher priced hotels in Budapest, Vienna and other continental cities do not have. A bath in most European hotels costs from 25 to 50 cents.

Coffee and rolls for breakfast may be had at the People's Hotel for three cents. A plain substantial hunger-satisfying dinner, which here as all over Europe is eaten at mid-day, is served for 14 cents.

Should the management of the People's hotel, appointed by the municipal authorities, find that these prices are insufficient to make the enterprise self-sustaining, the deficit will be charged pro rata to the rooms and meals and the prices raised accordingly.

It was explained to me that the project was in no sense a charity but a place where any self-respecting workman clerk, or members of the small official class, may stay for a day or two or make his permanent home at a cost within his reach and that without taking all his earnings. In order that those whose income enables them to a public hotel, do not overrun the people's hostelry, those who wish to take advantage of its low rates must produce reasonable proof that they do not earn more than $400 a year. This may seem very small in America but in Austria, Hungary and other continental countries, there are hundreds of thousands of men whose income is considerably less than that.

Education and recreation, have not been forgotten in the People's Hotel. There is a large smoking room and a reading room where the leading newspapers are on file.

Dr. Neumayer, Mayor of Vienna, has come to Budapest to inspect the new hotel with a view of recommending the building of a similar municipality owned institution in Vienna.

Eighteen cars of homeseekers from Iowa and northern Nebraska left Houston last week for points along the Brownsville line.

A federal building to cost $100,000 will be erected at Del Rio in the near future.

W. Erskine Williams introduced the following resolution, which was adopted by a rising vote:

"Whereas, the First Baptist Church of this city is in sore distress on account of the burning of their church and parsonage and the attempts on the life of their pastor, Dr. J. Frank Norris, and,

"Whereas, we believe that the persecutions which have come to this church and preacher are not so much because of enmity toward that church and Dr. Norris, but because of opposition to all that is good and true;

"Now, therefore, the Mulkey Memorial Church, in church conference assembled, hereby declares that the members of this church present believe that Dr. Norris is wholly innocent of any charge of crime against him, and we hereby extend to him and his church our sympathy and pledge him and them our support."

TWO COUNTRY BOYS PREVENT TRAIN WRECK

Cleburne, Tex., March 3.—Two country boys finding a broken rail on the Dallas branch of the Santa Fe road very likely prevented the wreck of passenger train No. 64 at 5:30 this afternoon. The broken rail was discovered at a point between Midlothian and Wyatt.

Conductor Nowlin backed the train to Midlothian and secured men to repair the track. E. L. Brooks built a fire at the track and flagged the train at the solicitation of the small boys. He waited for the train more than one hour. The train crew and passengers expressed their appreciation of the timely act of the boys and Mr. Brooks.

No one could give the names of the boys saving the train.

REWARD FOR INFORMATION

$350.00 Piano Free

The tremendous increase in population in Fort Worth, Cleburne, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Denton, Decatur and all surrounding towns and territory has made it necessary for us to take a new and complete census of all families who are NOT provided with a Piano, Pianola-Piano or Player-Piano. In doing this, we need the assistance of men, women and children, and they do the work without interfering with their regular duties.

We want the names and addresses of every family in Fort Worth and surrounding country not supplied with a Piano, Pianola-Piano or Player-Piano in order to bring our file list up-to-date, and we offer the following liberal rewards for this information.

To the person obtaining for us the largest list of families who do not own a Piano, Pianola-Piano or Player-Piano, with correct street address, we will present a

In Case of a Tie, Awards Identical Will Be Given to Each.

We want the information as soon as it is possible to obtain it, and in order to be of value, it should be accurate, and all names and addresses will be investigated by us for correctness. In getting the information, be sure to take the full name and address of the head of the family, and in submitting your lists give your own name and address in full; also state whether or not you have a Piano or Player-Piano.

This census is of great importance to us, and because of it we are offering such liberal rewards for the information—you can easily earn one of them.

Everyone Sending in a List. No Matter How Small, Will Be Rewarded.

All lists must be mailed or delivered to us not later than March 20, and all successful contestants will be notified by mail.

Remember, everyone will get an award. If you only know of one family who does not own a Piano or Player-Piano, send it in, you will get an award. Think of your friends and neighbors who have no Piano, and send in all you can think of—you may get the largest award.

CHIEF WILKIE OFFERS HINTS

Tells How to Buy Things in Europe and Keep Out of Jail in America.

Chief Wilkie's Rules for Shopping in a Foreign Country.

- Remember that the United States has a tariff law which works the year round.
- Be very cautious in buying furs, laces, diamonds and precious stones, rugs, paintings, or antique furniture of foreign shopkeepers unless you are an expert. You are likely to be swindled.
- Beware of shopkeepers who offer fake bills of sale to be presented at the American customs house. Use of these bills is likely to get you into trouble.
- Beware of the foreign "bargain." It is not always what it seems.
- Don't try to beat the American customs.
- Follow the honest and safest course of buying your purchases openly at actual valuations directly to your residence, paying duty upon receipt of them. There is a port or sub-port near every American home.

Washington, Mar. 2.—Chief John A. Wilkie of the Secret Service, who is now also in charge of the special agents for the customs service, and who has made commercial and polite smuggling in this country as dangerous as counterfeiting, after a long and varied career as a chaser of newspaper "stories" and later, of crooks blossomed out today as an adviser to the fair sex on shopping worthy of a prominent place on the woman's page.

"Dainty Things for the Dressing Table," or "Seen in the Shops for Dainty Femininity" would hardly be appropriate headings for the chief's column on the woman's page, however. A head line right to the point would be: "How To Buy Things in Europe and Keep Out of Jail."

The chief has recently returned to Washington from a trip to Europe in the interest of the customs service. While there he observed shopping conditions as applied to American tourists—how those who wish to smuggle go about it and get in to trouble (and how good intentioned folks are victimized by shrewd shopkeepers into becoming innocent smugglers but also getting into trouble)—and today he made to the United Press the following observations:

"When shopping abroad be careful of taking up 'bargains'—goods, which the seller wants you to buy because you can get them so much cheaper than in the United States because of the duty through American ports. These 'bargains' are not always what they seem. I'll tell you a story to illustrate.

"A prominent citizen of a large eastern city of the United States recently visited Canada. At the hotel where he and his wife were stopping they saw a handsome display of lace gowns. The lady was charmed. The seller gave the usual argument of cheapness because of no duty. The man bought a gown for his wife, paying $400 for it.

"They smuggled it into the country by packing it in among other clothing and not declaring it at the custom house. A month or two later the wife wore the gown to the bridge club and like most smuggling ladies, she could not keep the secret, and she boasted about it. One of her dear friends told the local collector, who told the special agents, who called and seized the gown. Tears from the lady. Will language from her irate husband.

"The first step after seizure was to appraise the gown to fix a value basis for assessing the duty. The gown was submitted to half a dozen experts in the lace trade. And here is the point: Of the six estimates of the gown's value, the highest was $77 and the lowest $60. The value of $77 was finally fixed and the duty of 60 per cent or $42 was paid by the husband. As a penalty the husband was required to pay the gown's value, or $70. So the $70 dress cost him $512 and the question of criminal prosecution against both husband and wife is still pending in the Treasury Department.

"Innocent people, ignorant of the tariff law, are often victimized by foreign shopkeepers telling them there are certain periods when the tariff is suspended on certain articles at certain times. The tariff law works all the year round. But the Montreal fur swindlers victimized many American school teachers and others last summer by having them leave orders for goods which could be made up 'just in time for the period in the fall when the duty is suspended.' Of course, there is no such time, and of course the victims were forced to pay the duty in addition to the huge prices charged by the Montreal dealers.

"Every returning traveler is allowed $100 exemption on new goods for his personal use brought in his personal baggage. It therefore follows that everything sent by express through the customs must pay duty. Anyone buying fur in Canada should figure on paying 50 percent duty in addition to the purchase price, except that one is allowed $100 exemption on the value of the purchase if there is no other dutiable baggage.

"Unless one is an expert in judging furs, one should be very cautious about buying it in a foreign country. In the past few months we have had many instances of our exports valuing at $100 goods for which travelers had paid $500.

"Then, too, beware of the shopkeeper who induces a traveler, who has already bought over the $100 exemption, to buy more by offering to pack in with the goods cash bills for only 50 or 75 percent of what was actually paid by the shopper. This custom is especially prevalent in Europe, among dealers in feminine fripperies, bric-a-brac, art furniture, etc. Some reputable houses in Europe do this.

"For the information of foreign shoppers I will say that the secret service has a very complete list of foreign dealers who give fake bills, and goods entered under bills from these houses are subjected to special scrutiny. The use of any such bill by a returning passenger, if detected at the time of entry or afterwards, subjects him to criminal prosecution in addition to forfeiture of the goods and the evaded duties.

A Communication From Old 77.
Brother Editor:

We enjoy your newsy paper ever so much and could not do without it and yet we do find some queer things in it. I notice that your readers are always so eager to see the meningitis news, as it is truly a bad ailment, and yet nothing compared with the widespread deadly epidemic of sin. And still so many folks make light of the latter.

Now I confess that this is amazing strange to me. The Bible is truly called the book of God; and it is truly the God of books and it condemns sin everywhere from start to finish as the vilest and most destructive thing ever thought of.

"The soul that sinneth, it shall die;" "the wages of sin is death," and God hates it and tells us to hate it too. And it cost the death of Christ to furnish us with the fact that the "blood of Christ cleanseth from all sin." Oh the untold suffering and heart trouble it has brought to our race and yet we fear just one bodily disease far more than sin.

Not long since we had a big black brother here who was known as Sin Killer Griffin, and more recently we had a veritable sin killer here in the form of a handsome, well-polished Ham. But soon after he lighted down here he began to expose sin so plainly that its "Daddy" rose up and made many things happen here.

He not only ruthlessly tore the hide off that Ham, but literally sliced him clear to the bone. However, like old Paul who was stoned to death and dragged off to the bone yard, and who arose and went on his way, and so Ham did going down to Abilene and did wonders there in the Lord's name and for His general cause. Oh, such a hydra headed monster is sin, yet in every way trying to hide from the pursuer.

But excuse me for leaving my subject, "meningitis," as an old man often takes up more time with his preliminaries than with his subject proper. But, oh, who can describe sin fully and warn us too much against it, as it is the eternal curse of the sinner and the ceaseless lane of the Christian life. Now let us see how one of God's best prophets looked upon it.

"Thousands of intensely spiritual people have been most deeply conscious of their unworthiness, as they thought of God's lofty purity, holiness and righteousness. In proportion to their knowledge of their real selves, they have seen within them elements of depravity and great tendencies to commit sin. The more of true spiritual light that they had, the more imperfect did their hearts appear to them to be." Rev. Dr. Alexander Whyte of Scotland, widely known for his vital piety and strong spirituality, in a sermon says: "Isaiah prophesies out of the temple to all of our preachers especially, and says to them, 'Woe is mine upon you! For I am undone! For I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips. For we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags.' Smiting and stumbling as the words of Isaiah are they have all been subscribed to by all God's best servants down to our own day." He also says "In his 'Private Thought' we find the saintly Bishop Beveridge saying: 'I can not pray but I sin. I can not preach a sermon, or hear a sermon, but I sin. I can not receive the sacrament but I sin. Nay, I can not so much as confess my sins but my very confessions are still so many aggravations of my confessed sins; so much so that my repentance needs to be repented of; my tears need washing, and the very washing of my tears needs still to be washed over again in the blood of my Redeemer.' Yes, but after reading and hearing all that, we still feel quite sure that there never can, by any possibility, be 'rags' like our righteousness in all the world."

It is to be expected that very many professed Christians will totally disagree with such a view of the actual condition of a highly spiritually minded Christian; and it is because they themselves do not have a clear and profound conception of their own condition. They have a very weak consciousness of the state of their heart. Oh, how humble we need to be!

But now I must hasten on ere my meningitis patient dies before I apply my treatment to him. Now, hold your breath, as I claim my remedy is guaranteed.

"Keep on good terms with the Lord," and I guess that's good for all other ailments. That is, if it don't cure you, it will land you safely in heaven.

Recently I found a nice young lady who was very much afraid of meningitis. I kindly gave her the above prescription, and as she looked blank and turned her head this way and that as if she had been hit. But you ask where I got this receipt, as I am only an obscure old man. I got it free from the Holy Spirit, as He gently whispered it through me and yet it has such a world of matter in it. I wish it were asserted and elaborated from every pulpit in the land KEEP ON GOOD TERMS WITH THE LORD, and then what? Whether you live or die it's exactly the thing to do: If you live still on it will make you far more useful and happy and if you die it will surely land you safely in heaven. How can we keep on good terms with the Lord? Do just as our Christ did. "My Father has not let me alone because I do always those things that please Him" that is, let us search His word and learn His will and do it and the please Him by simple childlike obedience.

PROSPERITY

seems to be coming in spite of the concerted action of the grouches and knockers. The Wichita Country has mud and when it has mud it has a chance. Wichita Falls is the only town in this part of the domain of the Lone Star that did not hold a municipal funeral during the recent unemployment when aqueous precipitation was about as common an occurrence as bachelors at a baby show. If we could stay awake at the switch through such a spell as has just passed it is dollars to doughnuts that we will all get a strange hold on some coin when nature smiles and she is bordering close on to a grin right now. Shake the scowl, straighten up and we will give three squawks for the huskiest village on the Denver road. We sell pills.

Boston.—Boston Sheet Metal Workers' union announced that the employers of every branch have agreed to the compromise wage rate of the union. It provides that an increase of 20 cents a day, which will make the minimum rate $4.20 a day, shall be paid until Jan. 1, next, when the wage rate of $4.40 a day will go into effect.
Boston.—In addition to the lockout of several hundreds of members of the Boston Ladies' Garment Workers' unions at seven local shops, which has been on for several weeks, a strike of the same trade in New York may effect other Boston shops if they attempt to do work for the New York firms, whose hands are on strike.
Washington.—Mediation by the government has been accepted by the railway strikers, who for the last ten days have succeeded in largely tying up traffic in Argentina. Seven thousand employees ceased work when the strike was called, and they had a strike fund of $300,000. The government enacted a special decree permitting the company to use temporarily strike breakers not fully qualified to operate trains. Many Chinese and Japanese, who were members of the crews of Argentine vessels, also out on strike, offered to take the places of the railway strikers.

A FEW THINGS THAT LIFE INSURANCE DOES

- 1st. It answers the question whether or not a man will live long enough to provide for his family. To the extent that money can represent a man's productive power it doesn't matter when the properly insured man dies.
- 2nd. It cultivates aggressively the principle of self-respect and individual responsibility, which are the very essence of our civilization.
- 3rd. It prevents the social defaults which premature death otherwise brings—defaults which are quite as disastrous to society and frequently as dishonorable as those which occur in banking and general business.
- 4th. It meets, as nothing else does or can, the demands for capital of a society rapidly developing and offering the faith and earning power of unborn generations as security for money which must be spent now.
- 5th. It is a banker for millions of people—a banker who cannot be ruined through panic, but who allows every depositor to draw on him at any time to the extent of this cash credit.
- 6th. It joins business to a constructive sociology; it puts the man of small means into touch with a statesmanlike plan; it enters the realms of imagination and takes us at least to the threshold of a new social order.

FOR SOME REASON

There has been a small demand for KRAUT this season. We have quite a lot of Five Gallon Kegs of Dry Packed Kraut. This is the kind (the best) that we have always sold for $2.25 per keg. Pure white, long cut, dry pack. We don't want to lose this and so not withstanding the fact that both cabbage and kraut have advanced materially, we will sell these while they last at, per keg.

This is not a case of selling at cost, it's a case of getting what we can. Our loss your gain.
