

ANOTHER KILLING IN FORT WORTH

MAURICE BALL SLAIN AFTER FIST FIGHT WITH OSCAR MEYER WHOM HE DECLARED RUINED HIS HOME

BYSTANDERS ARE INJURED

Crowds Flocking Along Main Street Thrown Into Panic By Sound of Six Shots

Special to The Times. Fort Worth, Texas, March 7.—In a Main street shooting which caused almost unprecedented excitement, Maurice M. Ball, private secretary of Thomas B. Owens & Co., cotton buyers, was almost instantly killed, and Obe Thompson, a drug clerk was wounded in the left leg. Oscar Meyer, chief clerk of passenger accounts of the auditor's office of the Fort Worth & Denver City Railway Company, surrendered after the shooting and a charge of murder was placed against his name at the city hall. An hour later he had been released on a bond of $10,000 after a brief preliminary hearing before Justice Thomas Maiben, in the office of Chief of Police Renfro.

The killing occurred about 8 o'clock Wednesday night.

The shooting was the result of trouble of long standing between the two men. Ball and Meyer had been rivals years ago in a love affair. Only a few months ago Ball had become separated from his wife. Some time later a divorce followed. Ball, the man who was slain charged Meyer with ruining his home, a moment before he was shot.

Mrs. Helen Ball, the divorced wife is 26 years of age. She had been twice married to Ball. The first wedding occurred New Year's day, 1911. A divorce followed in the spring. The couple was again married last summer and in October Mrs. Ball again secured a divorce. Before her marriage, the woman was Mrs. Helen Adair. A sister resides in Dallas.

Friends of Meyer assert that Ball had a violent dislike for Meyer and had threatened him on numerous occasions.

Ten minutes after the killing had occurred in front of the Stag saloon at 702 Main street so great a crowd had gathered that the street cars temporarily were brought to a stop. Intense excitement reigned and it took the combined efforts of police and detectives to clear a passageway when the body of the victim was removed to the undertaking wagon of L. P. Robertson.

Friends of Meyer say that Ball was the aggressor in a fist fight in the Stag saloon. The combatants then were separated. Ball went out of the saloon just before Meyer ran out. Ball ran into the doorway of the offices of the International & Great Northern Railway Company. W. S. Cantrell, who was in the railroad office says he attempted to open the door but before he could give shelter to the man, the shooting was over.

Six shots rang out. Pedestrians ran for shelter and Obe Thompson gave a cry of pain. With blood spurting from two gaping wounds in his left side under his arm, Ball ran screaming in agony back into the saloon. "God, he has shot me. He has killed me," he shouted as he clutched wildly at the clear stand for support and then fell inert on the floor of the saloon in a large pool of blood that saturated his black suit.

Then he rolled over on his back and lay quiet. L. W. Evans, the bartender, was the first to recover from the shock. He sprang to the telephone and called Drs. Jefferson Saunders and Earl Kester, who responded immediately. When the two physicians reached the side of the man they found him breathing faintly but he was already beyond hope of medical aid.

Chief of Police Renfro, Assistant Chief Hurdleston and a squad of police hurried to the scene of the killing. They had to force their way (Continued on Page Five)

CHAMP CLARK WAS 62 TODAY

Speaker of House and Presidential Aspirants Receive Many Congratulatory Messages

Washington, D. C., March 7.—Champ Clark, who is kept pretty busy nowadays wielding the gavel in the House and at the same time seeing that his presidential boom does not get frost-bitten, was sixty-two years old today and the occasion was marked by the receipt of a number of congratulatory messages from various parts of the country. Mr. Clark is a native of Kentucky and was educated in the schools of the Blue Grass State. Before he landed in Congress he had pursued a wide variety of professions and near-professions. Among other things he had tried his hand as a farmer, a village store clerk, a country newspaper editor, lawyer and college president. He has represented the Ninth Missouri district in the House continuously since 1893, with the exception of one term.

INDICTED MAN GIVES HIMSELF UP

Brents Taylor Returns to Answer Charges of Embezzlement.

Brents Taylor, a contractor, against whom an indictment was returned in the Wichita county district court on Feb. 7th, charging embezzlement of over fifty dollars in two cases, voluntarily gave himself up to Sheriff Randolph this afternoon and was released on $1,000 bond in each case. J. R. Chandler and J. W. Powell are his bondsmen. Taylor left Wichita Falls on January 9th after collecting money from J. W. Bridwell and L. Boyd on contracts for houses which he was building for them. It is alleged that he represented that his contracts had been completed and that he had paid for the materials and labor when in fact as was afterwards discovered the contracts had not been completed and at least a part of the materials and some of the labor had not been paid as represented.

Friends here notified Taylor of his indictment and he decided to return and to make good the money paid him if he could do so.

Greens Adrift in Fort Worth.

Fort Worth, Texas, March 7.—The two Greens, Ed, the catcher and Hetty, the pitcher, were released last night by Manager Walter Morris. The releases were made unconditional in each case so that the athletes may look for places elsewhere. The coming of Catcher Green was not a surprise, for Kitchens had already been selected as the mainstay behind the bat. Morris has Bellow and Robertson on hand to fight it out for the second place. Bellow was formerly a bank clerk. He tried out with the Panthers in 1910.

Hetty Green was secured from the Wichita Falls club of the old Texas Oklahoma League.

Catcher Green was Fort Worth property for several seasons. He has a great throwing arm, but an erratic backstopper and not a good hitter.

Captain Robert Scott and Two Views of the Terra Nova, In Which He Made Antarctic Trip.

By Associated Press. Wellington, New Zealand, March 7.—Captain Ronald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer states that Captain Scott, the British explorer has reached the South Pole, confirming the rumor of the discovery published in a London paper yesterday.

Capt. Robt. Falcon Scott, of the British Royal navy, who is in command of the British Antarctic expedition, left England in July 1910. He had with him sixty men, twenty Siberian ponies, thirty dogs and two motor sledges. Before his departure he said that his plans for the journey from King Edward's Land to the South Pole included the use of three means of sledge traction—ponies, dogs and motors.

The Terra Nova, in which Capt. Scott's expedition sailed, left London on June 1, 1910, was joined later in New Zealand by Capt. Scott, the leader.

Explorers representing five nations were engaged in the search for the South Pole. They were: Amundsen of Norway; Lieut. Filchner, of Germany; Lieut. N. Shirase, of Japan and Dr. Douglas Mawson representing Australia and Scott. These five men and their parties have been out of sight of the world many months. From a geographical standpoint, the discovery of the South Pole is not as important as the discovery of the North Pole. The South Pole is on land. The North Pole was found after an expedition through fields of floating ice and open waters.

AMERICANS STILL FLEEING AT PEONAGE CAMPS

Believed Few of Uncle Sam's Citizens Will Remain in Mexico in Ten Days.

Revolutionists Are Planning to Strike Blows to Liberate Their Kinsmen.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, March 7.—The American refugees who arrived this morning from the City of Mexico, say little about the conditions but it is evident the entire populace is at a fever heat and serious trouble is looked for within a fortnight. One said a complication presents itself in the matter of the government giving protection to owners of mines and plantations where thousands of Mexicans are held in peonage. Many revolutionists have relatives in the peonage camps and they are very rapidly perfecting organizations to annihilate the camps while their fellow revolutionists are attacking the seat of government. Another report is that the Yaqui Indians are again in a state of revolt. It is the general impression that few Americans will remain in Mexico in ten days.

WANTED CHILDREN BACK

Witness Said Parents Appealed to Him to Help Them—Being Back Their Children.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., March 7.—Rev. Clark Carter, city missionary at Lawrence, Mass., testifying before the strike hearing today, said a friend of his overheard a conversation between a woman and a little girl who had been taken to New York. The woman said "when you go to New York put on a torn dress and leave your mittens at home. They will take care of you over there." Carter said it was the general impression that the strikers were sending their children away to excite sympathy. He said many parents came to him and said they wanted their children back. The missionary described a condition of terror prevailing among the foreigners aroused by the strikers. He said their lives had been threatened if they went to work.

JUDGE EDGAR RYE FOR MAYOR

PETITION TO HAVE HIS NAME PLACED ON BALLOT BEING CIRCULATED.

The Judge Has Heretofore Declined to Permit His Name to Be Used.

A petition is being circulated and numerous signed asking that the name of Judge Edgar Rye be placed on the official ballot in the city election on April 2, as a candidate for mayor.

It is understood that no particular persons or interests are backing Judge Rye's candidacy and it is not known that he will permit his name to go on the ticket.

When there is no primary preceding the election it is necessary that five per cent of the voters petition before a candidates name can be placed on the ballot.

Many of Judge Rye's friends have been urging that he become a candidate for mayor but he has heretofore declined to permit his name to be used in that connection. For a number of years Judge Rye was city secretary, and his experience in that office has given him excellent qualifications for the mayoralty if he should consent to serve.

Petitions have been placed in circulation for the necessary signatures to have the name of Dr. Bell placed on the ballot as a candidate for mayor. Petitions are also in circulation for several other candidates.

Mrs. J. D. Avis and daughter, Miss Lillian and Mr. John Thomas comprised a party which left for Nocona this morning to attend the wedding of Miss Lena Matlock to Mr. F. P. Avis. The ceremony took place at 1:30 o'clock after which the couple left on a wedding trip of several weeks.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES ELECTION ORDERED

Five Trustees at Large for the County and Trustees for Each District Will Be Named April 6th.

Judge Felder and County Superintendent Fahrenhild today mailed out notices of election over the county for an election on Saturday, April 6th, to elect five county school trustees at large from the county. At the same time school trustees will be elected in each common school district.

The five trustees at large together with the county superintendent comprise the county board of education. The office of the trustees was created by a recent act of the legislature and those now serving in that capacity were appointed by the court.

BIG ORDER FOR AUTOMOBILE TIRES

J. G. Culbertson, on behalf of the Wichita Falls Motor Manufacturing Company, a few days ago awarded to J. F. Barnore, general sales manager of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Manufacturing Company for the district west of the Mississippi River, the contract to furnish all of the rubber to be used on products of the Wichita Falls Motor Manufacturing Company. This rubber will be shipped to this city as it is needed and the Motor Company is protected against a rise in the market. Nearly all of the rubber to be used will consist of solid rubber tires, which will be placed on one, two and three ton motor-trucks.

In view of the fact that the orders were recently secured for more than one hundred and fifty motor trucks to be delivered as soon as they can be manufactured, the contract for furnishing the rubber on these trucks is quite an important one, and the order placed with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Manufacturing Company is one of the largest contracts for solid rubber tires which has been made in this country. Upon the announcement being made that bids on the contract would be received, representatives from nearly all of the large rubber companies in the United States made trips to this city in the hope of securing the contract for their companies.

APPOINTMENT OF SECRETARY CONSIDERED

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce Will Probably Name J. C. Forrester of Fort Scott, Kan.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce are meeting in special session this afternoon to consider Mr. J. C. Forrester of Fort Scott, Kansas, for the position of secretary of that organization.

Mr. Forrester was for twenty years commercial agent for the Missouri Pacific Railway and was recommended to the Chamber of Commerce by R. W. Hockaday, industrial agent for the Katy.

At the invitation of Mr. Kemp, Mr. Forrester came to Wichita Falls yesterday and after he had met with members of the committee appointed to receive applications for the secretaryship a meeting of the full board was called. This meeting was convened at 3:30 o'clock.

LATER—Mr. Forrester was proffered the secretaryship at a salary of $200 per month. He has taken the offer under advisement and will give an answer next Monday.

JUDGE SCURRY HIGHLY HONORED

APPOINTED BRIGADE COMMANDER OF SONS OF CONFEDERATE VETERANS FOR LARGE DISTRICT

ISSUES COMMUNICATION

Will Organize District and Urge Attendance at Macon Reunion

Judge Edgar Scurry of this city has received notice of his appointment by Gen. N. B. Forrest, Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, as brigade commander of a district comprising about a score of Texas counties.

Judge Scurry has accepted the honor and his first effort will be to organize his district to send delegations to the reunion at Macon and in doing this he will urge that the sons of veterans extend every possible aid and assistance to Confederate veterans to enable them to make the trip. Whether any considerable number of sons of veterans from his district go to Macon or not he is anxious that as many veterans themselves go or be sent to the reunion.

He will send to Camps of Sons of Confederate Veterans and where no camps are organized, to prominent sons-of-veterans the following letter:

Wichita Falls, Tex., March 7. To the Sons of Confederate Soldiers:

Gen. N. B. Forrest, Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans and Comrade Thomas J. Baten, Division (the State of Texas) Commander have done me the honor to appoint me Brigade Commander of this district, the district being composed of the following counties: Johnson, Tarrant, Montague, Parker, Wise, Hood, Sumner, Hamilton, Erath, Comanche, Eastland, Palo Pinto, Stevens, Jack, Clay, Wichita, Archer, Young, Willbarger, Baylor, Throckmorton, Haskell, Knox, Foard, and Hardeman.

I have accepted the appointment and am taking this means of getting in touch with the sons and I hereby ask that all commanders or the secretaries of camps where there is an organized camp, and sons who feel interested where there is no organized camp to write me at once as the reunion will be at Macon, Ga., in May. The railroads will give low rates and I would like to have a large delegation, if not the largest will from any district to go from ours.

I shall be pleased to hear from any comrade that will write me. Let me hear from you. In writing give the name and number of your Camp and the number of membership. Yours truly, EDGAR SCURRY.

SCHEDULE CHANGES WILL BE NECESSARY

It is probable a meeting of representatives of the Texas-Oklahoma League will be called within the next few days to take up a revision of the schedule occasioned by the admittance of Denison and Greenville into the league.

At a meeting about ten days ago a schedule was drafted for a seven team league including Denison, but this will be entirely changed with the admittance of Greenville.

The league now comprises Ardmore, Durant, Denison, Sherman, Wichita Falls, McKinney. These towns are among the liveliest and most progressive in Texas and Oklahoma and the mileage necessary to cover them will be much shorter than the towns in the Texas-Oklahoma League last season.

Mrs. Hugh James of Electra, after remaining here for several days, as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Young, on Lamar street, left this afternoon for her home.

NO ATTEMPT TO PREVENT DEPARTURE

Delegation of Forty Children of Strikers at Lawrence Sent to Philadelphia.

Lawrence, Mass., March 7.—Police made no attempt today to prevent the departure of a delegation of forty children of the striking textile operators to Philadelphia, although they held up the train long enough to get the names and addresses of the children.

Do You Believe in The Rule of The People?

New York, March 7.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt has an article entitled "Do You Believe in the Rule of the People," in the current issue of the Outlook. The article in full is as follows:

There has been much effort made to fog the issue raised in my Columbus speech. In reality, the issue is perfectly simple. Do you believe in the rule of the people? If you do, you are with us. If you do not, you are against us.

Many good and honorable persons do not believe in the rule of the people, and openly say so. We disagree with these persons, but we can respect them. There are other persons, however, who do not believe in the rule of the people, but who dare not say so, and who endeavor to trickery, by chicanery, by fraud, to seem to give the people the right to rule and at the same time to deprive them of that right. These persons we do not respect.

Let the men of little faith who fear the people keep steadily in mind that they have no part in the heritage of Abraham Lincoln and of those who worked with him for the preservation of this Nation. Abraham Lincoln did not try to trick or defraud the people into freeing the slave and restoring the Union; he appealed to them in the name of duty, in the name of honor and self-sacrifice, in a high ideal; and the people responded and Abraham Lincoln was justified and the slave was freed and the Union preserved. Those who stand for the cause of social and industrial justice, to be obtained are but carrying forward the work which dropped from Abraham Lincoln's hands when the patient, tired, kindly eyes were closed forever. He strove against entrenched wrong, against privilege, in the most hateful form of his day. We, in our day, strive against hateful forms of entrenched wrong and privilege. We are not striving in bitterness of spirit, or with anger and hatred; as far as in us lies, we seek to emulate Abraham Lincoln's charity and kindness in dealing with those who, as we believe, think erroneously; but we also endeavor to emulate the unflinching resolution, the unwavering purpose with which he fought for the great cause of righteousness.

Abraham Lincoln believed in the liberty and the power of the people, achieved in law-abiding and orderly fashion. He believed in that liberty of the people which has law and order as its twin handmaidens. He respected the judges. But he regarded them as the servants and not the masters of the people; and he believed that the people had the right to decide for themselves the great fundamental questions of public policy upon the proper solution of which it depends whether they shall or shall not be true, social justice in the land.

Therefore we hold that, as regards these questions of public policy, courts, like executives, and legislators must bow to the sober and the well thought out judgment of the people.

Let me repeat once more what I have so often said—that I am now speaking of ordinary cases of justice between man and man, such as must be decided by judges here in America, as they are decided by judges in all other lands. I shall speak of these cases in some subsequent articles, in which I shall ask the people soberly to consider such facts as those set forth by Mr. C. P. Connolly in his recent articles in "Everybody's Magazine." In this article I speak purely of the kind of decision which only American courts are entitled to make—the kind of decision which no judge in our neighbor Canada, in Australia, in England, in Germany, or in France has the right to make or would for one moment be permitted to make. Nor at the moment, am I treating of the action of the National courts, because the Federal form of our Government makes it more difficult to propose a working remedy in the case of the Nation than in the cases of the several States. I am speaking of the action of the court of a State when it declares that a law passed in the collective interest of the whole community is unconstitutional; and I have especially in view the laws affecting human rights from a moral vital standpoint—the laws affecting the terms and conditions of life and employment among the wage workers.

I am not primarily concerned with methods; my aim is to secure the right of the people to decide for themselves, according to the principles of common sense and justice, what the public policy shall be in these matters. I am concerned with the end, not the means. If in any State the Constitution so clearly defined the power of the Legislature to act for the general welfare as to prohibit the courts from nullifying any law that is consonant with morality and public policy as understood by a majority of the people; and if in actual practice the courts respected such Constitutional prohibition then there would be no need for what I propose; because in such case there would be all recognition of the absolute right of the people to decide the policy of their representatives, legislative and judicial in these matters—and this is all for which I contend.

But in actual practice I know no State where such conditions prevail; they certainly do not prevail in the State of New York. Therefore I hold that provision should be made in the Constitutions of the several States which in the event of a clash between the Legislature and the court as to the constitutionality of such legislation as I have spoken of, should permit the people themselves to decide what the true interpretation of the Constitution is. I am not concerned with terminology. Whether this is called a referendum to the people or whether it is called a shorter and simpler way of amending the Constitution, to my mind matters nothing. The essential thing is to get the power for the people.

It is not merely untruthful but silly to say that such a provision would leave us "at the mercy of the mob." Such a process as I advocate would take at the very least two years' time. If in two years the people cannot agree on a sober and deliberate judgment then it is impossible that they should ever so come. If they have not the character and the intelligence to enable them, after two years' deliberation, after seeing the whole matter threshed out by the Legislature and before the executive and by the court, and finally by public speakers in an election to themselves decide what they meant when they framed the Constitution, then it is idle to talk of their being fit to frame a constitution.

The wisest judges have always fully recognized this right of the people to rule, this right of the people to be their own masters and ultimately to decide their own policy. As former Chief Justice Campbell, of Michigan, said: "The greatest knowledge that we have in this world is the common knowledge of the common people." I do not propose to give the people any new power. I propose to restore to them the power out of which they have been defrauded, the power which it is their right and their duty to exercise. I propose to provide a better and more effective method for the exercise of the power reserved and inherent in the people to make or unmake their Constitution or construe the Constitution in accordance with their well considered needs. I preach no new doctrine. The proposal that I make for the several States was in actual fact made upon by the people of this whole Nation, but very short time after the Constitution was adopted. The United States District Judge for the Eastern District of Arkansas, Judge Triebel, in 1907, in an article in the American Law Review, discussed the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States when, but two or three years after it had come into being, it decided that under the language of the Constitution a State was liable to be sued in that court by a citizen of another state or of a foreign country. In consequence of this decision the Eleventh Amendment to the Constitution was adopted. Says Judge Triebel: "The amendment, it will be noticed from the language used, does not aim to change the Constitution, nor even add any limitations not in the instrument, but is merely explanatory, and in effect reverses the decision of the Supreme Court rendered in Chisholm vs. Georgia by declaring that the judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by citizens of another State, or by citizens or subjects of any foreign country." Judge Triebel also refers to the decision rendered in another case by the Supreme Court through Mr. Justice Bradley, when in speaking of this Eleventh Amendment, the court said: "This amendment, expressing the will of the ultimate sovereignty of the whole country, superior to all legislatures and all courts, actually reverses the decision of the Supreme Court."

In concluding, then, let me ask those who disagree with me frankly to state whether or not they believe that the people have the right to rule themselves, and to settle for themselves the course they wish to pursue as regards great and vital questions of public policy. If our opponents do not believe in this right of the people, then they must repudiate the principles and the policies of Abraham Lincoln. If they are true to the teachings of Lincoln, if they believe in the right of the people to rule, then they are bound also to hold that the power of the people in the language of Mr. Justice Bradley, speaking for the Supreme Court "is superior to all legislatures and all courts and expresses the will of the ultimate sovereignty of the whole country."

Let the men of little faith who fear the people keep steadily in mind that they have no part in the heritage of Abraham Lincoln and of those who worked with him for the preservation of this Nation. Abraham Lincoln did not try to trick or defraud the people into freeing the slave and restoring the Union; he appealed to them in the name of duty, in the name of honor and self-sacrifice, in a high ideal; and the people responded and Abraham Lincoln was justified and the slave was freed and the Union preserved. Those who stand for the cause of social and industrial justice, to be obtained are but carrying forward the work which dropped from Abraham Lincoln's hands when the patient, tired, kindly eyes were closed forever. He strove against entrenched wrong, against privilege, in the most hateful form of his day. We, in our day, strive against hateful forms of entrenched wrong and privilege. We are not striving in bitterness of spirit, or with anger and hatred; as far as in us lies, we seek to emulate Abraham Lincoln's charity and kindness in dealing with those who, as we believe, think erroneously; but we also endeavor to emulate the unflinching resolution, the unwavering purpose with which he fought for the great cause of righteousness.

Abraham Lincoln believed in the liberty and the power of the people, achieved in law-abiding and orderly fashion. He believed in that liberty of the people which has law and order as its twin handmaidens. He respected the judges. But he regarded them as the servants and not the masters of the people; and he believed that the people had the right to decide for themselves the great fundamental questions of public policy upon the proper solution of which it depends whether they shall or shall not be true, social justice in the land.

Therefore we hold that, as regards these questions of public policy, courts, like executives, and legislators must bow to the sober and the well thought out judgment of the people.

Let me repeat once more what I have so often said—that I am now speaking of ordinary cases of justice between man and man, such as must be decided by judges here in America, as they are decided by judges in all other lands. I shall speak of these cases in some subsequent articles, in which I shall ask the people soberly to consider such facts as those set forth by Mr. C. P. Connolly in his recent articles in "Everybody's Magazine." In this article I speak purely of the kind of decision which only American courts are entitled to make—the kind of decision which no judge in our neighbor Canada, in Australia, in England, in Germany, or in France has the right to make or would for one moment be permitted to make. Nor at the moment, am I treating of the action of the National courts, because the Federal form of our Government makes it more difficult to propose a working remedy in the case of the Nation than in the cases of the several States. I am speaking of the action of the court of a State when it declares that a law passed in the collective interest of the whole community is unconstitutional; and I have especially in view the laws affecting human rights from a moral vital standpoint—the laws affecting the terms and conditions of life and employment among the wage workers.

I am not primarily concerned with methods; my aim is to secure the right of the people to decide for themselves, according to the principles of common sense and justice, what the public policy shall be in these matters. I am concerned with the end, not the means. If in any State the Constitution so clearly defined the power of the Legislature to act for the general welfare as to prohibit the courts from nullifying any law that is consonant with morality and public policy as understood by a majority of the people; and if in actual practice the courts respected such Constitutional prohibition then there would be no need for what I propose; because in such case there would be all recognition of the absolute right of the people to decide the policy of their representatives, legislative and judicial in these matters—and this is all for which I contend.

SHORT MEDICAL TALKS

BY DRs. DUNCAN & DUNCAN

LECTURE NO. 13, "HOT AIR"

A Good Thing in More Ways Than One.

We believe in hot air. Both from a business standpoint and a therapeutic point of view. A city, a business, a man or a doctor—without a certain amount of hot air is not a success. The particular kind of hot air that we have for consideration this evening is known therapeutically as a "Super Heated Air" and is recognized by every medical man in the world. The use of heat as a therapeutic agency started with PREHISTORIC MAN, it is recognized by every race from the Eskimo of the frozen north to the Hottentot of the Tropics. Hot poultices, hot salt bags, hot plates and stove lids have relieved more pain and saved more lives than all the medicine ever concocted by doctors.

We have installed in our office one of Betz's Super Heated Air outfits; it was bought with the following agreement:

"Try this outfit on any case of rheumatism or joint trouble for 30 days—makes no difference how long standing and if it fails to cure send it back to Hammond, Ind., and we will refund your money. 20,000 Betz Dry Hot Air apparatuses will be sold on these conditions."

FRANK S. BETZ & CO., Hammond, Ind.

Nothing in modern therapeutics offers such great possibilities. Super heated air is indicated in rheumatism, joint, adhesions, stiff joints, ankylosis, lumbago, dropsy, kidney-diseases, backache, painful and irregular menstruation, poor circulation, varicose veins, milk leg, leg ulcers, swellings of feet and legs and face and many other chronic ailments. You ask how superheated air benefits. If any part of the body is exposed to heat for a few minutes, a spasm becomes hyperemic, the capillaries become dilated a sensation of anesthesia is produced and if there was any pain before the application it will certainly be diminished. In many diseases, superheated air acts as magic.

- 1st. The heat is not suffocating or disagreeable.
- 2nd. It causes profuse sweating.
- 3rd. It relaxes and softens all muscles in the body so the circulation becomes more perfect.
- 4th. It dilates the veins and capillaries and lessens the work of the heart.
- 5th. It equalizes nerve force.
- 6th. It has an inhibitory action on pathogenic bacteria.
- 7th. It causes an elimination of poisonous secretions from the system.
- 8th. It causes a renewed activity of all the organs.
- 9th. It is soothing, quieting, restful, nearly every patient falls to sleep while being treated. It is absolutely harmless. We have treated over 6000 patients by superheated air with beneficial and happy results.
- 10th. If you have some of those "everlasting" pains come down to the office and tell us you are from Missouri and want to be "showed" and if you are not satisfied it don't cost you a cent. Consultation and examination free for a short time. We have now a great many patients, ask any of them how they like our treatment.

Judge Richard L. Hand was appointed by Governor Dix to conduct an investigation with a view of ascertaining whether a pardon should be granted Folks E. Brandt, former valet for Marloner E. Schitz, a New York millionaire. Brandt was sentenced to prison for thirty years for first degree burglary. His statement that he pleaded guilty as the result of a bargain by which he was to be punished lightly has created a scandal. District Attorney Charles S. Whitman of New York county and State Attorney General Thomas Carmody assisted in the investigation.

THE PRESIDENT'S WESTERN TRIP

CONSTANT STREAM OF CALLERS AT WHITE HOUSE TODAY TO CONFER WITH TAFT

AT TOLEDO TOMORROW

President Will Make First Public Utterance Since Roosevelt's Columbus Speech

Washington, D. C., March 7.—There was a constant stream of callers at the White House today. The most of them were close political associates of the President and they dropped in at the executive offices to talk over matters in connection with Mr. Taft's western trip. In his speeches to be delivered in Toledo tomorrow night and in Chicago, the following day the President will make the first public utterances to be heard from him since Colonel Roosevelt made his formal announcement as a candidate for the presidential nomination. As a consequence the politicians of both parties and all factions are looking forward to the speech with eager anticipation.

Although no announcement has been made of subjects for the President's speeches, it is regarded as almost certain that he will make clear his own views on many of the doctrines advocated by Colonel Roosevelt in his speech in Columbus two weeks ago. A reply to the whole speech of Colonel Roosevelt is not looked for, but it is the general opinion here that the President's views in regards to the recall of court decisions will be made unmistakably plain to the people before Mr. Taft leaves Chicago for home next Saturday night.

The speech in Toledo tomorrow night is to be delivered at a meeting under the auspices of the Commerce Club of that city. This fact has led to the conclusion here that the President will avoid discussing big issues of a purely political nature in his Toledo address, as it has been his custom in the past to avoid politics and make questions of direct interest to the business community the subject of his remarks when speaking before a commercial body.

The program prepared for the Chicago visit will afford abundant opportunity for the President to speak his mind freely on any subject that he cares to discuss. His principal speeches in the western metropolises will be made before organizations of a political character, one of them under the auspices of the Union League Club and the other at a banquet of the Illinois Swedish-American Republican League. In Chicago also the President will be in the

This Date in History March 7 1707—Stephen Hopkins, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, born in Scituate, R. I. Died in Providence, July 19, 1785.

The nomination of Roosevelt, which now seems inevitable will mean that the Republican party will have become a one man party, but his nomination does not necessarily mean his election.

"Me and Got," is the way Emperor William of Germany puts it. There are just odds of people in the United States today who are ready to acknowledge that we, as an American people can boast of no blessings we are now, enjoying that were not given us by God Almighty and Roosevelt.

The Texas Industrial Congress will pay to the boy or girl in Texas a prize of $250 in gold who can grow the largest amount of corn on one acre of land. The same amount is offered as a prize for the largest yield of cotton on one acre of ground.

God bless the baby's curly head fast asleep in his snowy bed, his dingle clasp securely in his chubby hand, his beautiful hair blown about his dimpled face, a smile still lingering about his scarlet lips.

the "sad man" steals your senses and the ripple of your ringing laughter is hushed in soothing sleep, we know that angels are closely watching near your couch, and in your little brain are dreams of "choo-choo," street cars, moo-cows and ding-a-langs, that when the morrow comes will live in baby's mind and shouts and peals of laughter as sweet as music o'er a moonlit sea will again make melody in the house.—Cleburne Enterprise.

R. E. Huff of Wichita Falls, is being mentioned as a candidate for the legislature from that district. He would be a good man for the position and the people of the district should persuade him to accept the position.

The index might have added that while the State of Texas has been paying too little attention to the qualifications of its representatives, she has been required to pay dearly for that neglect.

Notice. To All Whom it May Concern: Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between Sam Pingenholt and S. Colchensky, operating under the firm name of the Wichita Falls Bottle and Junk Company, has been dissolved.

The GREATEST PLAY I EVER SAW

AS TOLD TO Hugh S. Fullerton

BY ROLLIE ZEIDER.

Captain and Second Baseman of Chicago White Sox, 1910, and for Three Years the 1st of the Pacific Coast League.

There is one play I never will forget. I know it is the greatest play I ever saw and I think it was the greatest play ever made anywhere. Anyhow, I cannot imagine how a more wonderful play could be made, taking into consideration the situation, the kind of hit, and the quick thinking required to make the play at all.

ROLLIE ZEIDER. and it beat San Francisco out of a game. It was the tenth inning of the game and the score was 4 to 3 in favor of Los Angeles, they having scored a run on an error in the first half of the 7th inning. I led off with a two-base hit and was sacrificed to third base, which of course pulled the infield in to cut me off at the plate, and it looked as if we certainly would tie the score, and perhaps win the game right there. I was on my toes to go home on anything. Dillon was playing first base for the Los Angeles team.

The San Francisco grounds are low and rather small, surrounded by immense fences topped with signs, and the stands and fences completely circle the grounds, so that there is very little foul territory on either side, either in right or left field. Carlisle that day was swung over into right field and the right fielder was swung nearly to the foul line, because the batter usually hit in that direction.

The batter hit a foul fly over first base, and the ball was falling within fifteen feet of the stands and about two-thirds of the way out to the right fielder's regular position. On a clear field the right fielder could have caught the ball without much trouble, but with the stands so close he feared to risk a collision and started to slow up when he saw where the ball was going. He knew and I knew that if he caught the ball he would run on and have to throw out his hands to prevent hitting the stands, and if he let the ball go I could trot home with the tying score.

He decided to let the ball fall. Dillon had turned and run out perhaps 50 feet toward the ball. He too saw the trouble, and stopped. Carlisle, however, tearing across from outer field, had thought out a possible play. He is a wonderfully fast man, and when I saw him keep on I stopped back onto third base, ready to start home, but wondering what he was trying to do. I heard him yell something to Dillon, who ran out a bit forward and turned until he half faced the diamond. Afterwards I learned Carlisle had yelled "Get into position to throw. Get into position." Dillon, not knowing what was coming, got ready for anything. Carlisle kept on at top speed, crossed the foul line, sprinted on over, threw out his hands, and without catching the ball scooped it, batting it with both hands perhaps 50 feet to Dillon, who grabbed the ball, whirled and shot it to the plate just in time to cut me off and retire the side—giving Los Angeles the game. Carlisle, unable to stop, plunged on head-first against a mass of wires under the grandstand, but escaped with a few bruises. (Copyright, 1911, by W. G. Chapman.)

A New Stage Lighting Scheme. A Spanish engineer has developed a new method of stage lighting in theaters by means of which the glare of the ordinary arc and incandescents is done away with. He uses an arc lamp as the ordinary source of light, but the rays, instead of falling directly on the scene, are thrown against a series of silk bands, which are unrolled and set in any position by means of pulleys. The bands serve to reflect the light and diffuse it perfectly. The device also include a sky, formed in a quarter of a sphere lined with a dead white coating. The diffused light is thrown into this dome and given the illusion of unlimited space. Popular Mechanics.

If a man does the best he can there isn't much room for improvement.

A FEW THINGS THAT LIFE INSURANCE DOES

- 1st. It answers the question whether or not a man will live long enough to provide for his family. To the extent that money can represent a man's productive power it doesn't matter when the properly insured man dies.
- 2nd. It cultivates aggressively the principle of self-respect and individual responsibility, which are the very essence of our civilization.
- 3rd. It prevents the social defaults which premature death otherwise brings—defaults which are quite as disastrous to society and frequently as dishonorable as those which occur in banking and general business.
- 4th. It meets, as nothing else does or can, the demands for capital of a society rapidly developing and offering the faith and earning power of unborn generations as security for money which must be spent now.
- 5th. It is a banker for millions of people—a banker who cannot be ruined through panic, but who allows every depositor to draw on him at any time to the extent of his cash credit.
- 6th. It joins business to a constructive sociology; it puts the man of small means into touch with a statesmanlike plan; it enters the realms of imagination and takes us at least to the threshold of a new social order.

when a good reliable roof is desired notwithstanding the many substitutes now offered. Of course a good shingle roof costs a trifle more, but when properly laid it's good for an ordinary life time.

The shingles we handle are all cut full thickness from straight grain heart timber, dried under slow heat so as to retain their life, and when put on with the proper kind of nails will last as long as the house itself.

Let us show them to you.

ANOTHER KILLING IN FORT WORTH

through the big crowd that had collected. The body then was ordered removed to the Robertson morgue, where it was viewed by Justice Maiben.

Meyer had hardly emptied his pistol when he leaped into a cab standing on Main street and told the driver to "go." A few minutes later he had surrendered himself to Night Sergeant Bell at central station saying that he had just shot a man in self-defense.

The face of Meyer was somewhat bruised and one of his eyes was bloodshot. He said that the injuries were sustained at the hands of Bell. The man then requested that Attorneys Ray and Young be called.

Before the arrival of his attorney's Meyer detailed his story of the affair. "I was standing in the saloon drinking with a bunch of friends when Bell came in and struck me over the head with a six-shooter. I did not see him until he started hitting me. We went out on the street to fight it out and I shot him in self-defense. He had been threatening me for some time. A few days ago I got a threatening letter from him because he said I was going with his divorced wife. He has called me up many times over the telephone and said that he was going to get me." The attorneys advised their client not to talk. They refused even to allow him to tell the names of his relatives. "We will have something to give out later," said Attorney Ray. As soon as he was released, Meyer, accompanied by some friends and a big crowd of the curious repaired to the office of the attorneys at Seventh and Houston streets.

107 Cases Against One Man.

Sherman, Texas, March 7.—County Attorney Cal T. Freeman has set 107 cases each charging either a sale of liquor in violation of the local prohibition law of Grayson county, or the operation of a disorderly house as interpreted by the Wolff disorderly house law, for tomorrow in the county court. A. L. Lewis, a Denison attorney has been appointed special judge to try the cases.

This is a celebrated series of cases. Dr. W. C. Liffitt was arrested in this county several years ago and tried on a number of charges and convicted on several of them. After staying in jail for several months, he was released.

ONLY 400 FEET MORE TO THE OIL

We began drilling Monday, Feb. 26, and have our well down 650 feet. We should finish this well and have a good oil well by March 20th. Each well to the 1000 sand costs $6,000.00 to $7,000.00 and each well to the 1900 foot sand costs about $12,000.00. We start with a 16 inch hole so that we can later deepen to the lower sands. You see that it takes money to drill this number of wells. In order to start two or three strings of tools we are offering some of our

VIOLATED POSTAL LAWS

Volume Called "Inner Studies" Alleged by Uncle Sam to Be Lascivious and Immoral

Chicago, Ill., March 6.—Dr. Ottomar Zar-Adush Hanish, Prince of Adush, who, before his elevation to head of the "Sun Worshipers" bore the name of Hanish, was arrested yesterday afternoon in a spectacular raid by Government agents on Mazdaznan Temple, No. 3915 Lake avenue.

Clad in his princely robes of purple and gold, the "Prince Adush" was found hiding in a coal bin beneath the "mystery of mysteries" shrine, after a three-hour search. When the officers broke into the temple, but one acolyte was found swinging incense, as the prince's followers were fasting and doing worship away from the temple in celebration of the end of the "Gahanbar."

WICHITA PLAYER 'FIELDS' RABBIT INSTEAD OF BALL

(Fort Worth Star-Telegram)

In just a little fanning bee a few days ago, Walter Morris got busy in the "I Remember Club" and let this one fly: "Several years ago I was playing ball with Henrietta up in Clay county. That was in the days when that country was practically one big cattle ranch and all of our ball diamonds were laid out on the open prairie. "Henrietta had a pretty good team for a patched up bunch of 'bushers' and we were beating everything in that country. We had played Wichita Falls a couple of games and each time won—playing them once at Wichita Falls and once at Henrietta.

"Well, this time we went over to Wichita Falls. The grounds there were in the open and at any time you would get off the base paths you were very apt to step into a badger or groundhog hole. The game was going along very nicely—the score was 2 to 0 in favor of Wichita Falls—when we went to bat. The man just ahead of me got on first base and I came up. Two passed over and I hit a hot drive just over the second baseman's head. While I was going down to second I noticed that the ball was not being fielded, so I went on around to second. The men ahead of me scored, but just as I went into the keystone sack, the center fielder hurled a lazy bunch of something to the second baseman. The umpire called out and the Wichita Falls bunch ran off the field.

"The center fielder attempted to field the ball, but it had gone into one of those prairie dog holes. He ran his arm down the hole and pulled out a young rabbit and that is what the second sacker touched me out with."

Booming Clay Products

Chicago, Ill., March 7.—With "back to brick" as their slogan, three thousand-clay workers and brick manufacturers have come to Chicago from all parts of the United States to attend the annual convention of their national association. Alarmed at the great increase in the use of cement and concrete in the building industries, the clay workers have decided to expend a half million dollars to extend the "back to brick" propaganda throughout the country. The campaign was formally launched with the opening today of the National Clay Products Exposition in the Coliseum in this city. The display consists of brick structures, sewer pipes, potteries and other things along that line, while one of the chief features is a complete brick bungalow, erected on the exposition floor at a cost of $3,000.

Public Library

How Attitude Toward Fiction May be Fixed

By H. H. BOND, Cambridge, Mass.

THE attitude of public libraries toward fiction must be determined by the purpose for which they have been established and maintained. This purpose, as recorded in their deeds of gift, in the charters under whose authority they act, and in the published reports of their trustees, is public education. The charter of a typical Massachusetts library gives as the purpose of its incorporation, "the diffusion of knowledge and promotion of intellectual improvement." Trustees uniformly base appeals for public support upon the educational value of their libraries.

The promotion of education was uppermost in the mind of the man who inaugurated the movement for the general establishment of public libraries in Massachusetts, and formed the basis of his appeal for state encouragement. In 1839 Horace Mann devoted the annual report of the board of education to this question. He showed that there were only fifteen free town libraries in Massachusetts, and that few books in them were of educational value. He deprecated the evils of excessive novel reading, and insisted upon school libraries which should "cultivate the germs of intelligence, benevolence and truth."

Through his influence the general court passed a series of statutes which culminated in the act of 1851, granting to every city and town of the commonwealth authority to establish and maintain a public library in the interest of public education.

What the state understands by public education appears in the preambles and statutes of Massachusetts relating thereto. The first such statute, May, 1642, declared that "Forasmuch as the good education of children is of singular behoof to any commonwealth, the selectmen of every town shall see that children are taught perfectly to read the English tongue."

Before 1780 the views of Massachusetts had so expanded that the following article was inserted in the state constitution: "Wisdom and knowledge, as well as virtue, diffused generally among the body of the people, being necessary for the preservation of their rights and liberties, . . . it shall be the duty of legislatures and magistrates in all future periods of this commonwealth to cherish the interests of literature and the sciences, . . . to encourage private and public institutions . . . for the promotion of agriculture, arts, sciences, trades, manufactures and a natural history of the country; to countenance and inculcate the principles of humanity and general benevolence, charity, industry and frugality; honesty and punctuality; sincerity, good humor, and all social affections, and generous sentiments among the people."

So long, therefore, as this conception of the scope of public education prevails, and so long as the promotion of such education is recognized as their legitimate purpose, the ideal attitude of our public libraries toward all fiction which tends to accomplish this great design must be one of friendliness and welcome.

All People Are Interested In Trusts

By E. H. WELLS, Glen Moore, N. J.

The people who are kicking against monopolies are mostly those who think they are not in them. Nearly everybody except the tramp, probably 80 per cent of the entire population, men, women and children, are to some degree, directly or indirectly, interested in big business, corporations or trusts.

Anyone having as much as a single dollar deposited in open account in a national bank is indirectly interested in the success, stability and profits of big business of some kind.

Bankers cannot afford to pay rent and salaries and accept and enter our deposits on their and our books, safeguard and be responsible for our money, honor and keep account of the checks we draw, unless they lend out, for profit, the money we deposit to people doing big business.

The banks must also buy with surplus funds not loaned out the bonds of corporations and trusts. In the case of savings banks and safe deposit companies, where a small interest is allowed depositors, the necessity of these institutions loaning out our money or investing the surplus is still greater.

So that we are more or less interested and investors in big business, corporations or trusts, directly or indirectly, to the amount of our savings and deposits, be it more or less.

If our savings are small we are interested in big business indirectly through the banks where we deposit.

If we are of large means we buy the stocks and bonds of the big corporations outright. So that we are all in the same boat and there is no question of morals involved.

If we kick and hammer big business we are kicking and hammering ourselves.

Making Friends With Various Animals

By H. J. HILL

I believe that many of our household animals can understand our conversation, and comprehend much of the daily talk between men. I have a friend in the country who is a great hunter of foxes and rabbits, and when I visited him some time ago I found him in the act of cleaning his hunting gun.

I said to him, "Are you getting ready to go hunting?"

"No," he replied, "I am going to shoot Bob here. The dog is getting too old and stiff for hunting."

The dog until then had been lying on the floor, seemingly unconcerned, but hardly had his master announced that he was about to shoot Bob when the animal jumped up, whining and crawling behind the skirts of the hunter's wife.

The woman had all she could do to comfort the badly frightened animal.

I believe that we underestimate the intelligence of animals and the value of their affection.

If you make friends of dogs or cats or birds, they are always your friends. They study and know you better than you know them.

You need never regret or be disappointed in having bestowed your kindness on these friends.

To Cut $29,000,000 Melon. New York, March 7.—Wall Street has a "hunch" that a Standard Oil stockholder is still to be envied, despite Supreme Court decisions and $29,024,000 fines. As a result of action to be taken at the annual meeting of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana today the stockholders of that concern are expected to divide a "melon" that will enable each and every one of them to spend the coming summer at the seaside and have some pocket money left. According to report, the company's capital is to be increased from $1,000,000 to $20,000,000. The addition of $19,000,000 is to be turned over to the stockholders. It is generally reported, as a stock dividend of 2900 per cent. The Indiana concern is one of the former thirty-three subsidiaries of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. It is believed that its example in increasing its capital stock will be followed by the other Standard's subsidiaries in his native city he entered represents the value of assets. TOLAND RETURNS FROM N. E. A. CONVENTION

T. L. Toland, superintendent of public schools, returned a few days ago from St. Louis, where he went to attend the annual convention of the National Education Association, which is the largest educational association there were over seventy-five prominent educators from all parts of Texas, among whom were normal school presidents, university professors, county superintendents, city superintendents and a number of others whose work is identified with the educational institutions of Texas. A notable feature of the convention said Mr. Toland, and one of the most enjoyable features to those from this state, was the holding of a special banquet for Texas teachers and educators in the Planter's Hotel. At this banquet all who were from Texas were made welcome, and following the banquet the Texas educators proceeded to the convention where they listened to addresses made by professors and high authorities from Yale, Harvard, Columbia, Cornell, University of Chicago, Leland-Stamford, and other colleges throughout the country.

At the convention were state superintendents, county superintendents, city superintendents, supervisors, professors in universities and colleges, presidents of normal schools, principals of high and grammar schools, heads of industrial, manual training and agricultural schools, members of school boards, representatives of educational publications, educational publishers and many others, from all parts of the United States, making an array of educational talent and authority which is found only once each year when the convention is held.

The convention was held last year in Mobile, Alabama and will be held next year in Philadelphia, which on account of its nearness to Washington, will give those who attend an opportunity of seeing the next President of the United States inaugurated on March 4.

Among the heads of state normals in Texas who attended the St. Louis convention were R. B. Cousins, president of the normal at Canyon City; W. H. Bruce, president of the North Texas Normal School at Denton; C. E. Evans, president of the State Normal School at San Marcos; H. F. Estill, president of the Sam Houston Normal at Huntsville. Hon. F.

M. Bradley, state superintendent of public instruction delivered an address before the convention, and Dr. W. S. Sutton, dean of Education of the University of Texas, was present. There were over a thousand prominent educators from all over the country in attendance.

First Game of Indoor Baseball of Church Series This Afternoon

The Baptists are certain that they could beat the Presbyterians at water polo or any other aquatic sport, but the Presbyterians declare that in any game on terra firma they can wipe up with the Baptists.

The issue is joined in a game of indoor baseball that will be played this afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. rooms when the first game of a church league series will be played. Saturday evening the Purples will cross bats with the Greens with whom they are tied in the percentage column.

The standing of the teams in the city league is as follows:

Club	W	L	Pct.
Reds	2	0	1000
Yellows	2	1	.666
Purples	1	2	.333
Greens	1	2	.333
Blues	1	2	.333

Auctions off Mustache to Help Build Church.

George McAllister of Murrayville, Ill., gave up his long, silky mustache, the pride of his heart, to help the new Methodist church building fund.

An auctioneer at a church auction jestingly suggested that such a beautiful mustache was worth $10. "It's yours," said McAllister. "Barber, get busy." And the auctioneer had to pay.

Clothes Tattooed Salome So He Can Join the Army.

Oliver E. Newton, former sailor, applied for admittance to the army at the recruiting station at Munié, Ind., and passed all the examinations until a nude woman was found tattooed on his arm. He was told the army wouldn't stand for such Salome. Newton went to a tattoo artist and had a decollette waist and hobble skirt draped over the India ink figure, and now Uncle Sam will accept him.

Professional politics seems to be the great American game.
