Hon. Jacob F. Walters, candidate for the senatorial nomination will conclude an automobile speaking tour of 2,000 miles here on the night of April 28th when he will deliver one of the most important addresses of his campaign. Announcement of his tour was made at Dallas last night. His route requires an automobile tour of the entire western section of the State, in which he will make fifty-one speeches, cover 2,000 miles in automobile and visit about 250 towns. More than a month will be necessary to make the trip, and it is said that this will be the first time this section of the State has ever been visited by a candidate for the United States Senate. All necessary automobile arrangements have been made including a complete camping outfit, that no time may be lost along the road if it becomes necessary to "rough it." Plenty of automobile repair equipment will also be taken to prepare for any emergency. TROUSDALE TELLS OF KILLING THE BANDITS

San Antonio, Texas, March 19.—Made famous in a single night by his remarkable bravery and presence of mind in outwitting and killing single-handed two robbers who held up Southern Pacific train No. 9 near Dryden, Texas, Thursday morning in one of the most daring attempts in the history of the Southwest, David A. Trousdale, Wells Fargo express messenger, returning from the scene of his dramatic experience, calmly went to sleep in his room at 216 Laftie street and ignored the importunities of newspaper reporters, vaudeville managers and representatives of motion picture companies who were clamoring for interviews and an opportunity to offer him alluring propositions. Trousdale's daring was the subject of conversation throughout San Antonio, and accounts of the holdup had been flashed everywhere over the wires. Telegrams of appreciation were coming in from officials of the Wells Fargo Express Company.

MAY START OWN FACTORY

FREEAR-BRIN CO. MAY TAKE OVER SAN MARCOS FURNITURE FACTORY.

A TRADE IS INVOLVED

Capital Stock of Local Company Will Be Increased and Will Operate Factory. If a real estate trade that has been offered by Mr. Marlow by Mr. Freear of the Freear-Brin Furniture Company goes through it is probable that the furniture company will take over the plant of the San Marcos furniture company and will move it to this city and operate it here. If the proposition is accepted the Freear-Brin Company will issue $10,000 additional stock which will be subscribed by local capitalists and the factory will become a part of the assets of the company. The proposition was formulated at a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning.

MAY MAKE OFFER FOR A COLLEGE

Men's Alliance of First Baptist Church Discuss Decatur Baptist College. At an enthusiastic meeting of the Men's Alliance at the First Baptist Church last night, among other interesting topics which came up for discussion, was a suggestion calling attention to the fact that Wichita Falls has at the present time a chance to secure the removal to this city of the Decatur Baptist College located at Decatur. This college is an institution similar to Baylor College at Waco, although on a smaller scale. While nothing definite concerning the details of the proposition was discussed last night, it is understood that should the Chamber of Commerce and the citizens here take the matter up, the removal could probably be accomplished, and this fact will likely be pointed out to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce in the near future.

PARISHONERS HOWL DOWN A PRIEST

Riotous Scene in Cleveland Church. Congregation Disatisfied With Father Paulus. Cleveland, March 17.—Scores of persons were ejected from St. Michael's Church Sunday and arrested in a riot that continued for more than an hour. Children were trampled on foot by yelling men and women, who sought to drown out the reading of a letter by Father Paulus, the pastor, from Bishop Farrelly, condemning the communicants for a previous riot. Forty policemen answered the riot call and the mass could not be resumed until the rioters had been taken out, fighting and screaming, and the police had surrounded the theater, remaining there during the rest of the services. As a result of the trouble, the parish is practically under martial rule by the police and a guard surrounds the rectory. The doors have been supplied with heavy chains to prevent a possible attack. The trouble, which came to a climax Sunday, started with the appointment of Father Paulus to the parish. A dozen were arrested last Sunday and the priest appealed to the bishop. More than two hundred were ejected in the 8 and 10 o'clock masses Sunday morning. They continued the disturbance outside the church until taken away to the station houses. Singling out those who were yelling the loudest...

400 BARREL WELL AT ELECTRA

PRODUCERS CO. BROUGHT IN A GOOD ONE AT NORTHEAST CORNER OF ALLEN LEASE.

TWO OTHER COMPLETIONS

The Producers' Oil Company brought in a good well on the R. S. Allen tract at Electra this morning. The oil was found in the 1030 foot sand and the well is good for four hundred barrels and better at the lowest estimates. Some estimate the flow at from 600 to 1,000 barrels. This well is at the northeast corner of the Allen tract recently purchased from Clint Woods by the Producers' Company, being the second location west of the east line of the lease and is the farthest east of the wells that have so far been completed. Two more good wells have just been completed at Electra by the Corisiana Petroleum Company. One is the Brown and Cross No. 4 and the other is the W. J. Sheldon No. 2. Each is reported better than 150 barrels. The Developers' Company are cleaning out their well at Petrolia and it will be tested tomorrow. The Ninety-Nine Pumping Company is also bailing out its well at etrolia, and expect to bring it in within the next few days. The Peoples' Oil and Gas Company are drilling below sixteen hundred feet in their well on the Lockridge tract and expect to bring it in about Thursday.

REV. JAMES NOBLE MAY ACCEPT CALL

Nat. L. Inge, chairman of the committee appointed by the members of the Episcopal Church to select a pastor for the church in today in receipt of a telegram from Rev. James Noble of Omaha, Neb., that he is considering the call extended to him and will probably accept. The call was extended to Rev. Noble several weeks ago. Rev. Noble is at present one of the professors in Brownwell college at Omaha, an institution of learning for girls conducted by the Episcopal church. He is said to be a very learned man, as well as a most eloquent one, and while he has not preached here and none of the members have ever heard him, his reputation is such throughout the church that the people here are delighted at the possibility of securing him.

TEXAS HAS 12,000 PENSIONERS ON ROLLS

Apportionment for Next Two Quarters Will Be About $10.50—Deaths Offset Registrations. Austin, Texas, March 19.—The pensions for Confederate veterans on the State pension rolls will probably be $10.50 for each of the next two quarters, or an amount very near that sum. The apportionment will be made this week by State Pension Commissioner Robert G. Buford and he said two quarters would most likely be $10.50 the same as it has been for the last two quarters. The foregoing $3.50 per month is apparently very small, but it helps some. Then, too, Texas has over 12,000 pensioners on her rolls nearly as many as all of the other Southern States combined. Veterans who came to Texas since 1880 are not entitled to share in pensions granted by this State. The new double quarter commences April 1. Under the law the Pension Commissioner makes the apportionment doing for two quarters. While a number of new names will be added to the rolls for the coming two quarters, deaths have been returned. Not only that, but many deaths have occurred since the pensions were received. Where notice of such deaths have not been received, and few are reported, pensions will be mailed out for the next quarter and then first advice of the death. A number of veterans move away or out of the State and fail to send their names to receive pensions. W. C. Sweston was in Electra on business yesterday.

Duncan made no statement before death.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE FIRST M. E. CHURCH SOUTH

Probably one of the largest and most enthusiastic quarterly conferences held by the M. E. Church, South, in this city, was presided over last evening by Rev. T. H. Morris of Bowie, presiding elder of the Bowie District. There was a large attendance of the members and officers of the church. The reports of the pastor Dr. J. W. Hill, the president of the Senior League, and Sunday school superintendents showed a most excellent condition of the church. The rapid gains in church membership, league enrollment and Sunday school attendance over the preceding quarter as well as the preceding year, was noted with unmistakable interest by Presiding Elder Morris, who declared that he had not heard such favorable reports in the entire district. During the evening from eight to ten o'clock hundreds of the church members their families and friends were served delicious refreshments by a committee of the Barga Class. The following interesting facts were taken from the minutes of the conference: Amount of money raised by Wichita Falls church last year, all purposes, $8,000 to $9,000. Number members of the church 607. Number members added during the year 100. Number of members added since annual conference, 55.

THE PICTURE SHOW AS AN EDUCATOR

Please tell me how the educational film differs from the ordinary photo play shown at our local theatre?

This question was asked over and over again by readers of the Woman's Home Companion who had been interested in the right uses of the picture show.

An educational film is not a text book of common school branches, nor the arts and sciences in picture form but it is informative. It may be presented as a drama, tell a clear cut story, be filled with action, humor and romance, and still be informative, instructive.

As a concrete illustration, take two films produced by two firms during the same week. One is entitled "The Awakening of John Bond." Here is a story of an unscrupulous politician redeemed by the love and self-sacrifice of a good woman. He thinks only of self and the advancement of his personal ambition through graft. He refuses his support to the tuberculosis committee, and because of his political authority ignores the orders of the tenement inspector to make repairs on certain wretched houses which he own and rents. His wife contracts tuberculosis through her interest in some of the victims of his greed. In fighting for her life, Bond discovers the value of the work done by the committee, becomes its ardent supporter, and goes in for clean, honest politics.

The love story carries forward the dramatic interest, and makes this a picture play. The photographic demonstration of the methods employed in fighting the "white plague" make it an education film.

The other play, "Abe Gets Eye With His Father," suggests the coming of a Sunday paper. Abe Cohen is spanked for asking his father for a nickel. Murphy, the janitor, dislikes the elder Cohen, but is fond of Abe. To avenge himself on his father, Abe starts a quarrel between the two men by painting his eye black and telling his father that Murphy struck him. Cohen and Murphy have a fight, in which Cohen is badly worsted. Abe gets a dollar instead of the nickel, on condition that he make his mother believe the elder Cohen came out victorious.

This film passed the national board of censors. It is supposed to be mirth-provoking. It is typical of the picture comedy which is rapidly disappearing. And it is not educational.

A photo dramatization of "The Vicar of Wakefield" might be termed an educational film because it presents a masterpiece of literature. But "The Life and Adventures of Jesse James" would hardly be in the same class, even though it presents a certain phase of American history.

A very important question, asked particularly by clergymen and civil workers, is: "Will it pay us to establish a moving picture show in our town, and what will it cost?"

The answer to this question depends entirely upon the size of the town, the nature of the work under consideration, the amount of competition, etc.

In the larger cities where the commercial picture houses are supported by a combination of neighborhood and floating population, the manager seldom finds it expedient to co-operate with social workers, or to introduce any number of educational films. He believes that the floating attendance especially is increased by the use of semi-sensational picture dramas.

In such cities civic workers have found it advisable to install a machine and display educational film independently of the manager. Some times this is done by co-operation with the board of education, and large assembly halls in school buildings are transformed into picture theatre on occasions. This has been tried during the past winter in four large public schools of Brooklyn, N. Y. The rooms had been used for several years as recreation centers under the direction of Dr. Edward W. Sitt, district superintendent of recreation centers, department of education. The financial backers were private citizens and the People's Institute. The work was under the immediate direction of Mr. Edward W. Ordway, who planned a season of ten weeks. The programs were models of arrangement, including films of travel, historical and industrial interest, dramatic masterpieces, civil movements, etc. Before a film was shown, it was described in a brief but instructive talk which had been carefully prepared.

The purchase price of a good machine is about $225. It must be in a fireproof booth, which will cost at least one hundred more. A licensed operator—and nearly every state now requires a license—receives from $15 to $30 a week for his services. To these expenses must be added the cost of fitting up a store room or hall for show purposes, proper system of ventilation, seats, fire precautions, exits, rents, etc. The daily program of films, or reels, lasting an hour, can be rented at $5 a day and upward, according to the date on which the pictures are used. "First releases," or films shown the day they are first available, are the highest priced. Each subsequent day reduces the rental price.

The institution of civic organization planning to install a moving picture plant, can count on spending about $500 before opening its doors. Add to this current expenses, precisely as you would for any other business, and you can soon tell whether, at the admission you plan to charge, your enterprise will be self-supporting or whether the expenses of your educational film campaign must be borne by public spirited citizens.

In some towns various organizations have combined to install a plant. The board of education uses it one night, the civic workers another, the club women a third, the Y. M. C. A. a fourth, and so on.

When this cannot be done, and especially in the smaller town, it is far wiser to co-operate with the local house manager. Civic workers, teachers, clergymen, health officers, etc., can then arrange to have special films run, simply by guaranteeing the sale of a certain number of tickets.

At Hyde Park, Mass., the First Congregational Church rented its old building to a motion picture manager, with the proviso that its committee censor the films. The result is that Hyde Park gets the best sort of films. In Montpelier, Vt., a manager secured permission to exhibit moving pictures in the town hall on certain evenings of each week. The city fathers censor these pictures with good results.

A Louisiana teacher changed the entire character of picture shows in her town by asking the manager to co-operate with her in class work. When her pupils in literature were reading "The Vicar of Wakefield" the manager exhibited a picture film of that classic. When the geography class began to study about Switzerland and the manager secured films showing Alpine climbing. That manager doing a bigger business, the school children are receiving clearer ideas of their class work and the parents are following what their children are doing in school.

A Fifty-Cent Garden.

A garden very well worth having may be had for fifty cents, or possibly little more. Try it and see. Every good seedsman, in almost any place in America, sells 5-cent packages of seeds or they can be ordered from some reliable firm. Ten packages, as follows, will make a garden of almost continuous bloom:

Sweet Alyssum, Nasturtiums, Mignonette, Larkspur, (Ajax) Cornflowers, "Box Drummondii," Stocks, French Marigolds, Coreopsis, Hollyhocks. Sweet alyssum is lower in growth than phlox, but either will make a good border. Dwarf nasturtiums are best if the garden is not to be backed by a fence or porch; in that case, use the climbing nasturtiums and plant hollyhocks in front of them. The larkspur coreopsis and marigolds should taper down from the hollyhocks, and the cornflowers, stocks and mignonette should be next to the border of phlox or alyssum. It is better to sow half in the bed in the beginning, the alyssum, nasturtiums, hollyhocks, mignonette and larkspur.

The others are more satisfactory if sown in the house, in March or April and then transplanted the middle of May. Or, if there is room, a special bed can be made (the earth light and fine), and seeds planted the last week in April, to be transplanted in June. Plant none deeper than half an inch. The smaller seeds should simply have earth scattered over them. Bedders are apt to plant seeds too deep, and they never come up. Sprinkle seeds late every afternoon with the watering pot. The transplanting should be done after a rain, in late afternoon.

Into a tin box or tray, half filled with water, the seedlings should be carefully lifted, earth and all. A hole punched in the moist earth, a seedling put in, the ground pressed round it, another hole made, and so on until they are on. Water them thoroughly and the next morning will see them withered. For a week afterward they should be sprinkled every afternoon. The hollyhocks, which may be placed in a row or clump in the center of the bed, will grow quite tall the first year and make a handsome show of leaves. They will bloom the second year and give a profusion of seed. Larkspur and nasturtiums will also have plenty of seed.

This 50-cent garden is meant for cutting freely, and the various plants should bloom in succession all summer and nearly all the autumn, until hard frost nips them.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

"First a girl has to learn not to lash and then to do it. It's safer to be sure of yourself than of a hundred other people. Heroes seem able to yell the loudest of all over a stomach ache. Some men seem to think their wives ought to praise them for grumbling.

What makes you doubtful whether life is really one's for you to be selling it.

Confession, which ought to be tried before anything else to get out of a fix, always comes last.

The trouble with a man's getting his salary raised is he thinks he has to live up to twice that much.

Once there was a man so smart that he had a reasonable suspicion that there were many others smarter.

There's hardly any way a woman can flatter a man more than to remember he doesn't take sugar with his coffee.

The world will never give you any credit at all till you are a success; then it will give you a thousand times more than you are entitled to.—New York Press.

RICHELIEU FOOD PRODUCTS

UNIFORMITY in quality of food products grown in widely separated latitudes, and subject to the uncertainties of climatic conditions, is a difficult attainment and only acquired by the most exacting and insistent efforts.

No matter what difficulties are encountered RICHELIEU never fails in uniformity. This refers to every product under the RICHELIEU brand.

Occasionally some other brand may be found satisfactory one season and utterly fall short the next.

Again, in other brands may be found an occasional package with no assurance that the next will be equally as good,—the proof is against it.

In RICHELIEU products whether one can or a thousand, whether a single package or a car load, whether this year, last year or the next, you can bank on it that every article bearing the RICHELIEU label will compare one with the other, like needles in a paper, or coins from the mint.

THE RICHELIEU LABEL. Beautiful isn't it? But don't mind the label. Examine the goods, open a package, pour the contents into a glass receptacle. Ever see anything more tempting? Taste it. Let the flavor linger on the palate. Can you beat it?

These are tests that make people who once enjoy RICHELIEU foods refuse to be content with any other.

Order RICHELIEU goods and smile.

FIRST—Where is the man who would not insure his life at once if he knew that he was going to die within even as long a period as the next ten years?

SECOND—Do you suppose a man ever died without insurance who did not wish that he had insurance?

THIRD—Did you ever meet a man, who through some illness or accident, was in a position where he could no longer get straight life insurance, who did not bitterly regret that he had not taken it when he could have secured it?

FOURTH—Did you ever hear of a man dying, with his life well insured, who realizing that he was about to die, regretted that it was well insured?

FIFTH—Did you ever meet a man who carried endowment insurance on his life for ten, fifteen or twenty years, and who, on maturing the policy, wished that it had been for only half the amount?

TROUSDALE TELLS OF KILLING THE BANDITS

steady, dark eyes that beam with the light of conviction. Slowly and with much modesty he said:

"About 2 o'clock in the morning, shortly after we had passed Dryden, the train came suddenly to a stop. In a few minutes there came a knock on the door of the express car.

"A gen'man out heah wants to see youh," said the porter, whom I found upon opening the door.

"On the instant I was covered with a Winchester held in the hands of a masked man, who stood just below the door. The robber entered the car, bringing with him Banks, the mail clerk, and Reagan, Bank's assistant. The robber punched me in the stomach with the muzzle of his Winchester and ordered me to open the safe. While I was rifling—the safe for him he continued to use me roughly.

"We were next forced to accompany the bandit to the mail car, where one of the pouches containing registered mail was slit open and the express packages were thrown into it. Pretending indifference, I told the robber that he had overlooked the most valuable package in the express car and persuaded him to return with me to get it. He fell for the ruse.

"There, I said, indicating with my foot a package on the floor, is the most valuable thing on this train.

"The masked man stooped to pick it up. While he was bending over I seized an ice mallet and struck him a heavy blow on the back of the head. I believe his death was instantaneous.

"From his body I took two six-shooters, giving one to Banks and the other to Reagan. I armed myself with the robber's Winchester. Turning out the lights, we concealed ourselves in one end of the car and awaited developments.

"After about an hour had passed I fired the Winchester, thinking this to alarm the other robbers, if there were any. Soon out of the darkness there came another masked man. He entered the car under protection, crawling behind some trunks. His movements were noiseless and cautious. After a long wait he thrust his head out from behind one of the trunks, and I potted him. The bullet struck him squarely in the head.

"Then we waited a long time, perhaps another hour. Nothing happened, although I discharged the Winchester several times. Finally I signalled to the engineer, and soon the train was again coupled up."

From Engineer Crosh's account it was learned that the robbers had uncoupled the engine and the mail and express cars, thus separating the train into two sections. The engineer was forced to pull the mail and express cars around a curve, out of sight of the remainder of the train. One of the robbers guarded the train crew while the other went to rob the mail and express cars.

Three horses were found tied near the track. One bore a pack saddle with 800 rounds of ammunition for revolvers and Winchesters. Horses and saddles were identified as belonging to the Ketchum ranch, which lies not far from Del Rio. It is supposed that the horses had been stolen by the robbers.

On being taken to Sanderson, the robbers were identified as Ed Welch and Kilpatrick. Little could be learned of Kilpatrick's former record. Welch was an escaped criminal, who had been at large since 1909.

Trousdale said that the robbers had boasted that they would get every cent from the pockets of the passengers after they had looted the mail and express cars.

The Wells Fargo Express Company has given Trousdale a handsome gold watch and a purse of $600 in recognition of his bravery and high sense of duty. Numerous awards have come to him from other sources. At the instance of Walter F. McCaleb, president of the West Texas Bank and Trust Company, who himself gave $25, the San Antonio Light started a subscription for the express messenger.

R. E. L. Montgomery, local agent of the Wells Fargo Express Company, said that the company would now have no hesitancy in sending $50,000 in cash across the American continent if it were known to robbers that the money was in Trousdale's charge.

Some figures showing the amount of work involved in caring for the linen used on the dining cars of a large railway system recently have been compiled by the Southern Pacific. An average of 315,000 pieces of linen are laundered each month in this department, including 100,000 napkins, 100,000 dish towels, and 40,000 table cloths and each piece is carefully looked over by inspectors to detect tears or signs of wear. At the commissary department at Oakland, Cal., there is maintained a linen repair room where thousands of napkins, table cloths, dish towels and cooks' and waiters' aprons are kept in perfect condition. Fourteen electrically-operated sewing machines are kept running steadily eight hours a day and six days a week. With these machines it is said that a hole in a piece of table linen can be darned so well that it is sometimes impossible to detect the stitches from the original weave. Each piece of linen as it is brought in from a trip is counted and careful count and inspection are continued until it is returned. In employing women for this work the Southern Pacific gives preference to dependent relatives of men who have been injured or killed in the service.

Why Buy Indigestion?

If you knew how much lard your grocer sells couldn't you tell pretty well how much indigestion there is in the neighborhood? Lard is made from hog fat and is often indigestible. It is heavier in your stomach than on the scales. Buy Cottolene; however, and you get a vegetable-oil cooking fat that is as pure and wholesome as olive oil. Besides, Cottolene is more economical than butter or lard—one-third less being required.

Remember, Cottolene contains no hog fat; there's no lard indigestion in food cooked with Cottolene.

Fishing tackle on display in the store windows and creosote oozing from the paving blocks are certain signs of spring.

The development of the oil and gas fields in Wichita, Clay, Archer and Young counties is sure to bring prosperity to this section of country. The greater portion of these four counties have both oil and gas in paying quantities, there is no longer the least doubt, and the more this fact is made public, the greater amount of capital will be attracted to this section. After the development of the oil and gas fields is accomplished factories will come.

Wichita Falls Times: If you are blue—and that has been the normal condition of most of us this year—just think about this being the last day of the six weeks after the ground hog is reported to have emerged from his den saw his shadow and gone back; the abundance of rains have fallen during the winter months; and—imagine, if you can, that the year 1912 is going to be a real Democratic crop year, and the good, optimistic feeling will begin to creep over your frame. If this does not have the proper effect on you, then we will prescribe for you the same prescription that an officious but unknown friend located in a distant State recently prescribed for the writer, which is as follows: "As a good omen you will approve this reminder Spring is nearly here, and with spring comes the verdant green. A package of our radio-active 'snake' serum is appropriate. It is a four-cylinder, 40-h. p., self-strating non-skid, smooth-running package de luxe. Please crumple that impulse of yours and turn on the high speed."
For shame, Brother Howard! You are actually recommending red licks to your blue friend, and you a prohibitionist, too. At least that is the way we read it. "If 'snake' serum isn't what the illiterates call bug juice, then we are clear off the track. How could you do it—how could you speak of a so friendly like, as if every drop of same did not contain a tragedy?"
—State Press in Dallas News.

We stand corrected. We were a little suspicious of the term when it was used, but were in doubt as to its meaning, therefore concluded to find out. When it comes to being a judge of such matters we're perfectly willing to hand it to State Press. There is no higher authority. Hereafter when we have occasion to use the term (not the article) we shall call it by its proper name.

There are two candidates for congressman-at-large from the Panhandle one from Amarillo and the other from Plainview. At least a half dozen other candidates are furnished by other sections of the State. Only two are to be elected, and in the judgment of the Times one should come from West Texas. The two candidates are Judge J. N. Browning of Amarillo, and Judge Joseph E. Lancaster of Plainview. While the Times would like to support both, it fears there is no hope of electing both, and for that reason one or the other should withdraw. By concentrating the bulk of the vote on either of the two, West Texas can be reasonably assured of one of the positions. This is only a suggestion, but in the judgment of the Times, if it is not heeded, both will be defeated.—Wichita Daily Times.

Why doesn't the Panhandle have a preference primary and decide on the strongest man for the place? We agree with the Times that that section is entitled to one of the seats.

primary is good, but it might be a cheaper and better plan for the two candidates from the Panhandle section to meet with their friends and come to some agreement by which one can withdraw and allow the other to make the race.

From the March number of "The Motor Field," published at Boston, Mass., and devoted to the interests of manufacturers, dealers and users of automobiles, we find the following, which is of interest to all Wichita Falls people and will show to some extent the popularity of the goods manufactured in this city by the Wichita Motor Co.:

"As a result of the recent Kansas City Automobile Show the Wichita Falls, Texas, Motor Sales Company contracted the sale of 25 of their one and two-ton capacity trucks. These cars will be distributed in Kansas City and vicinity by the Dr. Richard Ray's Auto Garage Company of Kansas City.

The Wichita Falls factory company is turning out a truck with unit control of spark, throttle, clutch and gears it is an impossibility to tear up the transmission while shifting gears.

The Wichita truck will be on exhibition at the Denver show. Mrs. Nettie C. McIntyre is responsible for the financing of the Wichita Falls, Texas, Manufacturing and Sales Company. She came to Colorado in 1879 and lived in Northern Colorado until recently, becoming interested in business, she went to Wichita Falls and interested the business men of that city in the establishment of the truck factory. She now resides in Denver. The unit control is the invention of C. A. Kiernan. Associated with Mrs. McIntyre in the manufacturing company are Messrs J. A. Kemp and Frank Kell.

A MAN CAPITALIZED.
In a statement issued to the employees of the road, President H. U. Mudd of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, capitalizes each man earning $83.33 a month, or $1,000 a year at $25,000, because the man's wages or salary is the interest at 4 per cent on $25,000. He says a man earning that much is worth as much as a locomotive costs, but he adds:

"You can make yourself worth more while a locomotive cannot. You can direct your own energies, while a locomotive must be directed by a driver which is as follows: "As a good omen you will approve this reminder Spring is nearly here, and with spring comes the verdant green. A package of our radio-active 'snake' serum is appropriate. It is a four-cylinder, 40-h. p., self-strating non-skid, smooth-running package de luxe. Please crumple that impulse of yours and turn on the high speed."
For shame, Brother Howard! You are actually recommending red licks to your blue friend, and you a prohibitionist, too. At least that is the way we read it. "If 'snake' serum isn't what the illiterates call bug juice, then we are clear off the track. How could you do it—how could you speak of a so friendly like, as if every drop of same did not contain a tragedy?"
—State Press in Dallas News.

It is additional reason why the President must be punished, for it affords additional proof of his reactionary character. An appeal should at once be taken from Judge Hand's court to the true friends of progress and the people at the preference primaries.—New York World.

NEITHER ALL WOOL NOR A YARD WIDE
A fair test of the sincerity of the Democratic organization in the House of Representatives is offered by the wool schedule. When Clark, Underwood and their followers were urged to hold themselves in patience and wait until the tariff board could report they hastened to anticipate the report by passing a bill in disregard of it. The President, flitting to overthrow the old and evil, methods of tariff-making, vetoed their revisionary measure.
Now the impetuous Democrats have the report of the tariff board. The wool schedule is still the iniquitous thing of their patriotic eloquence. It hasn't changed, but the Democratic attitude has. They who were hot in attack are now cold in inaction. Their policy is tariff revision for campaign purposes.—Chicago Tribune.

"STOLE" AND "TOOK."
A rather unique decision has been handed down by the Kentucky Court of Appeals in a slander suit from Harrison county.
The plaintiff's petition alleged that the defendant had said: "Joe Gregg stole a sheep from me out of my pasture." In the hearing of the case the evidence was to the effect that the defendant said: "Joe Gregg took make out his case and defendant's motion for a verdict in his behalf. The higher court holds that there is a material difference between the words "stole" and "took." In its ordinary use, the court says, the word "stole" imports a crime and to say that a person stole an article is to charge him with the crime of larceny, "but the word 'took' in its actual acceptance does not import the commission of larceny or any crime."

It is a common practice in drawing indictments to say that the accused "did steal, take and carry away" certain property. The word "take" is manifestly superfluous and in view of the distinction made by the Appellate Court might well be dropped. In the case of the actual offense of stealing, however, the difference in the two terms is not so great. A man may take something without stealing it. The colored individual who admitted he "took de haws" did not fare any better by reason of the milder phraseology, therefore we may believe that judicial definitions depends largely on the quality of the offense. It would add considerably to the interest of the Appellate decision if one could know the fate of the sheep which Mr. Gregg "took."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

ROOSEVELT'S COMPLIMENT.
The expected popular response to the announcement of his candidacy having failed to materialize, Mr. Roosevelt is growing querulous and complaining. He now says "The entire body of professional politicians are pitted against us in this contest," and accuses President Taft of using official patronage to secure delegates.
If any such demand for Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy existed as that he said forced him against his inclination to become a candidate, such exigencies as he now complains about would count for very little. Professional politicians can't stand against an uprising of the people and usually try to get on the popular side, and even the official road roller goes to smash when it runs contrary to a party revolution.
Mr. Roosevelt is exhibiting a fretful falling on the situation, and in so doing, betrays the weaknesses of his former professions. He is not a candidate in response to an overwhelming popular demand, but because he desires the office. He is not depending on a popular upheaval to nominate him, but is working all the schemes known to politics to accomplish that end.—Nashville Banner.

"INGRATITUDE."
Gratitude is defined by the dictionary as "the state of being grateful; kindness awakened by a favor received." Perhaps some day when they aren't too busy, some of the gentlemen who are accusing Mr. Roosevelt of ingratitude to explain just what favor Mr. Roosevelt has received of President Taft.—Kansas City Times.

EVERY HOUSEKEEPER A FIRE WARDEN.
The annual property fire loss in this country is estimated at $250,000,000. Riffy percent is attributed to carelessness. A movement has been started to make every housekeeper a fire warden and the following pledges for the safety of the home have been suggested:
I will keep the supply of matches in metal boxes, and throughout the house they shall be confined in a proper receptacle and out of the reach of children.
I will use only safety matches so far as practicable.
I will not permit a child under ten years of age to use matches.
I will see that lamps are not filled by artificial light, or after dark.
That coal oil is kept in metal cans and in a safe place.
That no oily rags are left around the premises over night outside of a good metal receptacle.
That gas brackets have wire globes over them where there is no danger of window curtains being blown into the flame.
That the furnace or heating apparatus is seen to before retiring by a competent person.
That all scraps, litter, excelsior and paper are removed or placed in metal receptacle before nightfall.
That ashes are kept in metal receptacle.
That gasoline will not be kept for use in the house, except in absolutely air-tight metal receptacles.
That cotton batting or other flimsy decorations will not be used on Christmas trees or for other ornamentation.
I will enforce neatness and will at ways have a scrupulous care for fire prevention.
I will promptly turn in the alarm for any fire that comes to my attention and then will assist in extinguishing it, if my assistance is required.
I will remedy or cause to be reported any defect in connection with the heating, lighting, cooking or power plants within my control within twenty-four hours after discovery.
I will be very careful about lighted cigars and pipes.
During the month of October I will have all flues of stoves or furnaces examined by a competent person and put in proper condition and repair for winter use.—Nashville Banner.

Mrs. Belmont, a Scrapper Suffragette Would Fight

(Kansas City Star)

If the women of America ever should shoulder the musket and go forth to win their ballot with bullets, as Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont predicted Saturday, there will be no bickering about who shall ride at the head of the army. The handsome Amazon on the snow white charger, flourishing a saber and calling stentorian orders, which the mind's eye sees, will be none other than Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont. She would lack lowly birth alone to make her another Joan of Arc. She is today the Mrs. Lydia Fankhurst of America.

Mrs. Belmont hasn't smashed any windows—yet—and hasn't been in jail—yet—but it isn't because she is afraid. The street urchin who saw her shove her way into an anti-suffragette crowd which had disturbed a woman's meeting by hissing and heard her demand that the disturbance stop "this minute," had Mrs. Belmont correctly estimated when he yelled in admiration: "Pipe the big lady—some scrapper, her."

For Mrs. Belmont is "some scrapper." She has been threatened with arrest and laughed at it; she has defied without fear every known enemy to the cause; she has gone down into the slums alone and passed handbills advertising woman's meetings; she bought a hospital and turned out the men internes and put women in their places; she fights employers of child labor and underpaid labor; she causes the arrest of tenement house owners who violate sanitary laws; she gets sued herself for libel for attacking certain businesses through the press; she gives millions for woman's suffrage and she gives her time.

In fact, Mrs. Belmont has almost quit society for the cause of votes for women and she was for a decade the reigning queen of New York's four hundred. Newport snuffed at her because she had suffragette meetings there and Mrs. Belmont quit Newport. Society may go hang," she said.

Mrs. Belmont was not joking Saturday when she predicted a woman's war that was not a figure of speech. "If a woman is strong enough to scrub or work at a desk all day, like I do," said the rich Mrs. Belmont, "she is strong enough to carry a gun and fight." If her words are bitter, she has cause for bitterness. The fight on suffrage is New York has centered upon the head of Mrs. Belmont.

"The surest way to incite a woman into action is to arouse her indignation," Mrs. Belmont once said. Every coal of fire heaped upon Mrs. Belmont's head makes her a better suffragette. She has given up everything except her family and all of her wealth to fight the fight, and those who know her best are not surprised that she should be ready to use the bullet for the ballot.

Mrs. Belmont's leadership in the equal suffrage campaign is a sort of divine right. She has three qualifications above all other women. She has great wealth she wields immense social power in New York, the acknowledged center of things; she has a remarkable ability for organization and a capacity for work. These three qualifications have been summed up tritely by an Albany boss, who called her "the best woman politician in all the world."

Pope's Name Day Observed

Rome, March 19.—This being the feast day of St. Joseph and the name day of Pope Pius X., it was observed as a holiday at the Vatican. His Holiness said mass in his private chapel in the presence of his sisters and niece and later gave an audience to the Cardinals and to members of the Catholic Club of St. Peter's receiving their congratulations and presents of fruit and flowers.

FLYNN ASKS "WHO HAS JOHNSON BEATEN"

(Kansas City Star)

Andrew Haymes, who has fought rather successfully under the "Hibernian monicker of Jim Flynn," told two excited audiences at the Century Theatre yesterday afternoon and last night that he (Jim or Andy) expected to punch holes in Jack Johnson some time next summer. After telling the audiences in a vague sort of way how he was going to be a real champion, Jim took the writer and a few other "ginks" into his dressing room and explained why he (James or Andrew) had an excellent chance to make Manager John Curley a millionaire.

"You all think that Johnson is a great bear because he whipped Jim Jeffries," was the opening overture. We all agreed that Johnson was, or still is, some bear.

"But," continued Mr. Haymes-Flynn, "the dinge isn't so tough after all. Now, who did he ever whip?"

The writer sorrowfully remembered that one James J. Jeffries fell before the coal heap on one torrid day in far away Reno.

"That's it. There you go, Jeffries!" shouted Jim.

"That's all you birds can think of—Jeffries! Say, that bird never left the traps in Reno. He was embalmed before the match was made. Why don't you fellows spring some of the fellows that Johnson didn't whip?"

A careful perusal of Tom Andrew's guide showed us that one Marvin Hart and George Gardner raced the limit with the flistic kink, and that Tommy Burns wasn't knocked out. Flynn helped out the guide by showing that Sam McVey and Sam Langford made life miserable for the coal baron also.

"You see, when you get down to the dope Johnson never whipped anybody," continued Flynn.

Jim or Andrew evidently overlooked himself, because this same trusty

MAINE DEMOCRATS ARE IN SESSION

Augusta, Me., March 19.—The Democratic State convention to select delegates to represent Maine in the national convention at Baltimore assembled in the city hall here today with United States Senator Charles F. Johnson presiding. Occupying seats on the platform were Governor Plaisted, Senator Gardner, Congressman McGillicuddy and Gould and other leaders who helped to place the Democratic party in power in Maine a year ago after the Republicans had held almost undisputed sway for several decades. A marked division of sentiment appears among the leaders in regards to the indorsement of a candidate for the presidential nomination. Woodrow Wilson is the preference of Senator Johnson and a number of others who stand high in the party councils, but it is considered doubtful if the Wilson sentiment is strong enough to result in an instructed delegation.

MUSIC SUPERVISORS ARE IN CONVENTION

St. Louis, Mo., March 19.—More than four hundred music supervisors representing a score or more of the States, are in attendance at the fifth annual convention of the National Supervisors' Association which opened here today with an informal reception. The music teachers and supervisors of the local public schools have arranged an interesting program for the entertainment of the visitors for every one of the three days of the convention. Many important matters concerning the testing and training of the voices of school children and other subjects bearing upon music in the public and Sunday schools will be discussed by experts during the various sessions. Tomorrow morning the members will inspect the St. Louis public schools and in the evening there will be a social gathering. A concert by the Symphony Orchestra and 500 students of the St. Louis high schools will be given Thursday night for the entertainment of the supervisors.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The Socialists and Prohibitionists have filed complete State tickets to be voted for in the coming primaries in Illinois.

Pasadena, Cal., will vote on a proposal to adopt the commission plan of government at a special election to be held in May.

Mayor William J. Gaynor of New York has announced positively that he will not be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Taft League of New Hampshire through its president, has accepted the proposition of the Roosevelt League, for a State-wide presidential primary.

Former Congressman Edwin Denby has declined an invitation from his friends to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Michigan.

The Democratic convention of Indiana, meeting in Indianapolis this week is expected to endorse Governor Marshall for the presidential nomination.

Republicans of North Carolina will meet in State convention in Raleigh on May 15 to select four delegates at large to the national convention at Chicago.

Theodore Roosevelt, Gov. Stubbs of Kansas and Gov. Johnson of California are to take part in a speaking campaign in Ohio, preliminary to the May primaries.

Judge LeBaron B. Colt, who contested the last senatorial election in Rhode Island with Henry F. Lippitt, is regarded as the most likely candidate to succeed Senator Wetmore, who has announced that he will not be a candidate for another term.

In view of the factional difference dividing the Democrats, the Republicans of Tennessee believe they have an excellent chance of re-electing Governor Ben W. Hooper, who is the first Republican governor Tennessee has had in thirty years.

Progressive Republicans of California, who supported Governor Hiram Johnson during the gubernatorial campaign, but who did not agree with him in his indorsement of Theodore Roosevelt, have organized the Taft League of Progressive Republicans.

Superior

The Brown standard is a high standard.

The Brown idea is not to make crackers that are just as good as somebody else's, or like anybody else's, or that might be mistaken by package or contents to be somebody else's, but to make crackers that by their superior goodness will be at once recognized as "The Crackers that BROWN Makes."

If you have ever tasted Brown-made crackers of any kind you know that the Brown idea is a practical, actual, definite success.

It comes in the flour—the recipes—the artesian water—the speckless, spotless machinery that handles the products from flour to package—the clean, white tiled ovens—the perfect baking—the air, moisture and dirt-proof packages.

Trade Between U.S. and Mexico

Trade of the United States with Mexico is showing the effect of the disturbed business conditions in that country. This is especially true with reference to exports which show a much greater decline than imports. Exports to Mexico during the last year show a fall of about 20% when compared with the immediately preceding year, while imports show also a slight decline but less than that of exports. The total value of exports to Mexico during the 12 months ending with January 1912, the latest figures of the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor, is $52,271,987, against $64,671,659 in the corresponding months of the immediately preceding year, a decline of about 12 million dollars, or an average falling off of a little more than a million dollars a month during this period. Imports from Mexico during the same period amounted to $59,227,516, against $59,581,890 during the corresponding period of the preceding year, being less than 1 million dollars decrease.

This falling off of 12 million dollars in the exports to Mexico in the 12 months ending with January 1912 becomes even more apparent when contrasted with our trade with other parts of the world. Exports to South Africa, for example, show an increase of 25% in the 7 months ending with January 1912, when compared with the corresponding months of the preceding year; those to Cuba and the other West Indies, a slight increase; while to Mexico, the exports during the 7 months ending with January, 1912, decreased nearly 25%, and during the year, as indicated above, about 20%. In every-month since April, 1911, the value of merchandise exported to Mexico has been less than that of the corresponding month of the preceding year. April, 1911, having been in fact the only one of the past 12 months which did not show a decline in exports to Mexico when compared with the corresponding month of the preceding year. Manufacturers from by far the largest part of our exports to Mexico under ordinary conditions. Of the 69 million dollars worth of domestic merchandise exported to Mexico during the fiscal year 1911, manufactures of iron and steel alone amounted to over 20 million dollars; cars, about 2 million; boots and shoes, and other manufactures of leather, about 2 million; cotton seed oil, nearly 2 million; lumber, nearly 3 million; scientific instruments, more than 1 million; chemicals, chiefly manufactured, over 1 million; explosives, nearly 1 million; automobiles over 1/2 million; agricultural implements, over 1/2 million; glass and glassware, nearly 1/2 million; manufactures of India rubber, nearly 3/4 million; furniture, about 3/4 million; and a large number of other manufactures in less sums, while in other articles the reports of the Bureau of Statistics show corn to the value of nearly 5 million dollars and meats, about 2 million, in each case a material increase over the preceding year.

The falling off in exports to Mexico, as above outlined, is evidently a mere part of the general reduction in her imports, a reduction in which the United States participates to a somewhat less degree than do other countries. An examination of the latest official publications of the Mexican Government received at the Bureau of Statistics, shows a falling off of about 10% in her imports from the United States, and approximately 17% in her imports from all other countries; during the six months ending with December, 1911. Her exports to the United States in the same period showed a decline of about 3%, while those to other countries showed an increase of about 5%.

The share of Mexico's imports which were drawn from the United States in the six months ending with December, 1911, was in round terms, 55%, and the share of her exports to the United States, about 77%. In the fiscal year 1909-10, the share of her imports drawn from the United States was, in round terms, 58%, and of her exports sent to the United States 76%.

"THIS IS MY 71st BIRTHDAY," Gen. George P. Harrison. Gen. George P. Harrison, one of the few surviving generals of the Confederate States Army, was born near Savannah, Ga., March 19, 1841. At the beginning of the civil war he and his father entered the Confederate army and both rose to the rank of brigadier-general. The son was a colonel before he was 20 years of age and a brigadier-general before he was 22, being the youngest brigadier-general commissioned by the Confederate Government. After the war he removed to Alabama, where he attained distinction as a lawyer. He served several terms in the Alabama legislature and one term as a member of Congress. General Harrison is a liberal descendant of Benjamin Harrison of Virginia, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

MURDERER'S INSANITY WILL BE TESTED
Salem, Va., March 19.—The commission composed of Dr. W. F. Drewry and Dr. J. C. King, which is charged with examining into the sanity of Joshua P. Raines, the confessed slayer of Miss Eva M. Chambers, a school teacher of Roanoke county, resumed its work here today after an intermission of two weeks and heard a number of witnesses. Upon the result of the investigation and the report of the commission it will depend whether Raines will have to stand trial for the murder of Miss Chambers or whether he will be sent to the State institution for the insane.

Raines is a prosperous farmer of Roanoke county and lived with his wife and two children near Cave Spring. Some time ago gossip led to differences between Raines and Miss Chambers. Raines tried to have her removed from the school, but failed. The situation was aggravated by the fact that Miss Chambers filed a suit against Mrs. Raines, asking $10,000 damages for alleged slander. On the day of the murder, January 24, of this year, Raines went to see Miss Chambers at her home and asked her to drop her suit against Mrs. Raines. Miss Chambers refused and Raines became so furious that he drew his revolver and fired four shots at Miss Chambers, killing her in her tracks. Before the murderer gave himself up he went to a neighbor's farm, and fired five shots at a man named Charles Day, with whom he had had some difficulty. One of the shots hit Day in the right arm. Raines made no effort to flee, but voluntarily surrendered to the sheriff, confessing his crime, but refusing any additional information.

ANARENE TOWNSITE IS BEING PLATTED

The Wichita Southern Townsite Company today is having the townsite of Anarene, in Archer county, near where the new oil strike was made surveyed and platted, and as soon as this is done the lots will be put on the market.

Heretofore Anarene has been only a siding, with a store, post office and gin, but it is the intention of the railroad company to build a depot at once and push the sale of lots to the extent that a good substantial town will soon be in course of construction.

Anarene is only five miles from the Miller oil well and will probably be the loading station for all the oil and supplies for that field.

The inauguration of the oil train on the Southern which was to have been made tomorrow morning, has been postponed until Thursday morning, and the first train will leave the Union Station at 7 o'clock on that day. It will run as far as Olney, and return here at 6 o'clock p. m.

E. B. Carver, who has spent the week at the Miller of field says that more than a thousand people were at the well Sunday coming in automobiles from all sections of the country. He says that oil men are going into the new field very fast, and all of them are most optimistic about the future of the field.
