

WIND MADE FIRE DANGEROUS

TWO HOUSES BURNED DURING VERITABLE GALE LAST MID-NIGHT.

THE WIND SWEEP FLAMES

Had Houses in Section Where Fire Originated Been Thickly Built Conflagration Would Have Resulted.

Swept before a thirty mile wind, fire of unknown origin last night destroyed two houses located near the sash and door factory at the corner of Mississippi and Jaloneck streets.

That a disastrous conflagration did not result is probably due to the fact that the houses in that part of town are far apart, as the wind swept the flames across the lots a distance of more than a hundred feet. A timely dash of rain which came up fifteen minutes after the alarm was turned in also helped prevent the spread of the flames.

The houses were owned by A. U. Fish. The house in which the flames originated was occupied by W. H. Redmond and family. Mr. Redmond is a carpenter. The house has five rooms. The family was awakened to find the house a seething mass of flames and barely had time to escape into the street in their night clothes. None of their belongings were saved.

The wind blew the flames against the house adjoining occupied by M. C. Crane, an employe of the Wichita Mill and Elevator Co., but most of the contents of this house were removed before the flames grew so menacing that the work had to be given up.

The efforts of the fire department were confined to an attempt to prevent the further spread of the flames. In this work was facilitated by the splendid water pressure. It was necessary to lay 850 feet of hose.

The wind was at its height when the department responded to the call and when the automobile fire engine came to a stop after making the turn at the fire plug the wind caught the seat and sent it flying forty feet into the air and carried it a hundred feet.

Following a dash of rain that came up during the fire, a severe hail storm set in, pelting and beating the firemen so that it was almost impossible for them to work.

BLIZZARD ENVELOPES MIDDLE WEST STATES

Streams Become Torrents and Railroads are More Heavily Burdened.

Chicago, Ill., March 21.—Gentle spring officially arrived at 5:49 this evening, but her timid greeting was lost in the roar and howl of a blizzard that again enveloped this city and locality in banks of sharp, gritty snow. Further down the Mississippi Valley the storm took on the form of rain and disastrous floods are already reported.

All through Northern Illinois and Indiana insignificant streams have suddenly become raging torrents, swollen to an actual menace by the millions of tons of melted snow that has been seeking an outlet for three days prior to the latest blizzard.

In the suburbs of Chicago hundreds of basements are submerged and the streets are impassable except by stilts or in boats or rafts. Conditions are serious throughout Illinois. Streetwires have torn down telegraph wires and poles and put all traction lines out of commission.

Communication with St. Louis and all points south of Joliet has practically been shut off since early yesterday.

So far the latest blizzard, the fifth of its kind in two months, has put heavy burdens upon the already badly crippled railroad, telegraph and telephone companies and all transportation concerns.

Weather forecasters say the present storm will continue through the night and most of tomorrow with increasing cold.

In a measure the lower temperature will be a blessing as it will check the floods, now a peril in so many places.

The high wind is from the northeast and blowing across the Great Lakes, all filled with ice. So there is no hope for warmer weather until the wind shifts.

Heavy Snows in the West

RULES WATERS-PIERCE MAY SUBMIT EVIDENCE

St. Louis Judge Makes Decision in Standard Oil Case—Dissolution Testimony Will Be Covered.

St. Louis, Mo., March 21.—Circuit Judge Kinsey, presiding here over the case resulting from the alleged attempts of Standard Oil agents at a recent meeting of stockholders of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company to secure a majority of the directorate of that company, ruled that the Waters-Pierce Company would be permitted to submit testimony showing the Standard is trying to perpetuate a monopoly of the oil business in defiance of the decrees of both the Supreme Court of Missouri and that of the United States.

The court ruling "ordered the Waters-Pierce to make a more specific pleading in its charges of intimate relationship between the Standard Oil and the three men who are trying to get on the Waters-Pierce board of directors, Robert W. Stewart, C. M. Adams and George W. Mayer."

Following the decision of the court, former Federal Judge H. S. Priest, representing the Waters-Pierce interests, said:

"This decision means that the testimony in this litigation will cover the whole field of the matter of the dissolution of the Standard Oil Company under the Federal decree as well as the question whether there has been a genuine dissolution or not. The Standard Oil people will have no further protest with which to obstruct by technical objections the course of taking testimony covering the whole field of their relations and actions."

Several depositions of witnesses already subpoenaed will be taken within a short time. The hearings were postponed on March 1.

EXPERTS WILL PROBE EXPLOSION

COMPANY, CITIZENS' COMMITTEE AND MACHINISTS ARE ALSO CONDUCTING NEGOTIATIONS.

SIX FUNERALS ARE HELD

Work of Charity for Families of Victims at San Antonio is Well Organized.

San Antonio, Texas, March 21.—Further developments in the investigation of the explosion of the boiler in the yards of the Sunset Route, which resulted in the death of more than twenty-five persons, await the arrival of John Ensign, a Federal boiler inspector, in the employ of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and another Federal expert who has been ordered here, and upon such evidence as may be developed by the corps of detectives the company has here making investigation as to the cause of the wreck.

Despite the probable findings of the citizens' committee that the explosion was caused by too great steam pressure, there are indications that the railroad company is not willing to accept this.

The line of investigation being conducted by their men goes to show they hope to establish the use of explosives. The striking machinists will also take a hand in the attempt to locate the blame for the explosion and its cause. The committee is composed of Machinist J. C. Merritt, Blacksmith William Savage and Electrician T. Trinkle.

Independent of these investigations the Texas Railroad Commission is represented here by Chairman Allison Mayfield and Commissioner William D. Williams. Later they will have the assistance of experts of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The fact that sorrow and death hovered over many of the families was made impressive today when six funerals wended their way through the streets of San Antonio. Those laid to rest today were H. C. Mansker, William O. Hebbler, Jose E. Fuentes, Walter Jordan and two negroes.

Seven other funerals are announced for tomorrow. A number of bodies were also shipped today to places of former residence for interment.

The funeral of William J. Jrdan, the engineer in charge at the time of the explosion, was largely attended. It was conducted by the Railway Trainmen and a number of lodges of which he was a member. As a result of his long residence here he had made a host of friends.

A number of the injured were today removed to the hospital at Houston for treatment. J. W. Groundtree,

WIND STORM WEDNESDAY EVENING DEMOLISHED OVER HUNDRED DERRICKS

Damage At Electra Alone Will Reach $75,000—Station Demolished and Houses Blown Down at Harrold-Devol and Grandfield, Okla., Also Suffer Heavy Damage—Several Persons Injured.

Many persons were injured and thousands of dollars damage to property was done in a windstorm which swept over Southwest Oklahoma and the western portion of Wichita and eastern portion of Willbarger counties in Texas Wednesday evening at about six o'clock.

The storm came from the northwest and the cloud which it accompanied had much the appearance of a regular twister. As viewed from this place it was in the form of a vast roll that came up from the northwest stretching from horizon to horizon with the broader and thicker portion to the northeast.

The cloud was dissipated before reaching Wichita Falls but at Harrold, Electra, Devol, Davidson and Grandfield great damage was done. At Harrold the Fort Worth & Denver station was demolished and several houses blown down, at Electra about a hundred oil derricks were blown down and the total damage is estimated at more than $50,000. Several derricks are also reported to have been blown down at Davidson where houses were moved from the foundations.

At Devol window lights were blown in and an oil derrick near that place was demolished. At Grandfield a number of houses were demolished and several persons were injured. The storm is also reported to have been severe at Snyder, Loveland and other towns in southwestern Oklahoma, but definite details are lacking.

Burk Burnett escaped damage, as did Petrolia and Byers.

The wind attained high velocity here at the time of this storm but no damage was done. The wind continued high until after midnight when a furious hail storm came up and the ground was covered with hail this morning. The temperature fell to 26 above zero and a biting north wind blew throughout the morning.

It is not believed that the freezing temperature has done much damage to the fruit, but if the skies should clear tonight and the temperature stay at its present level, the damage would be great.

Station Demolished at Harrold.

The same storm caught up the Fort Worth and Denver station at Harrold and blew it across the track with such force that it was demolished. The section house there was also badly damaged and three or four other houses in the town practically demolished. Some of the oil rigs near Harrold are also reported to have been seriously damaged.

Damage at Electra.

With derrick timbers littering the ground for a distance of several miles and with the few derricks that remain standing badly torn and twisted and shacks and tents that were the habitations of the oil-workers laid flat, the Electra oil field this morning was a scene of havoc and ruin after last night's storm.

More than a hundred derricks were destroyed in the storm.

A. G. DEATHERAGE HEADS MARBLE DEALERS

Local Man Honored by Texas Retail Marble and Granite Dealers.

Fort Worth, Texas, March 21.—The Texas Retail Marble and Granite Dealers were in session here yesterday for the regular annual meeting. The entire day was given to the discussion of the best manner of placing the business on a profitable basis. Practically the entire session was devoted to the consideration of the cost problem of producing work ready to be set up.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: A. G. Deatherage of Wichita Falls, president; and Roy Anderson, of Brownwood, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The most important papers read were those of Mr. Deatherage on "Courtesy of One Dealer Toward Another," and the one on "Harmony Between Dealers" by W. H. Sedwick, of Dallas. Talks were made by C. F. Roehl of Fort Worth and J. F. Wells of Waco. The time and place for the next meeting will be selected by the president and the secretary, except that the meeting place will be in South Texas.

DEMANDS FOR MINERS ARE MADE KNOWN

By Associated Press.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 21.—A ten per cent increase with shorter hours equal to an additional ten per cent increase are demanded by the miners if they continue work after April 1. The operators want a decrease of ten per cent of the present pay.

WEATHER FORECAST

Tonight fair and much colder. Temperature will be 20 to 26 degrees; Friday fair and warmer.

WOMAN SERIOUSLY INJURED NEAR DEVOLO

Reports by telephone from Devol, Okla., just across Red River on the Wichita Falls & Northwestern tell of great damage there. The storm broke at a few minutes after six o'clock. A funnel shaped cloud that swung across the sky twisting and swirling in a regular cyclone formation sent the inhabitants of the town flying to their dugouts. When the wind came, however, it was a straight blow which blew out all the window lights on the west exposures of the houses and moved many of them from their foundations. The cornice of the Farmers State Bank, a brick building, was blown in. Those who peered above their dugouts say that the air was so thick with flying missiles that it was impossible to see.

A Mrs. Willingham, a lady above middle age, who lives near Devol, was caught out on the prairie in a buggy in the storm. The wind blew the buggy loose from the horse and sent it rolling over the prairie. Mrs. Willingham was injured internally and grave fears are entertained for her recovery.

The derrick at the oil well being drilled near Devol was demolished and houses over the country were blown from their foundations, and wrecked. Additional reports of damage are being brought to Devol by nearly every farmer who arrives today.

Heavy Damage at Grandfield

Half a dozen houses were demolished at Grandfield and many others were damaged. Several persons were injured but none of them seriously according to the best information that could be obtained.

W. E. Robertson, road master for the Wichita Falls & Northwestern, was at Grandfield when the storm broke. He said that the cloud swept upon the town from the northeast, apparently rolling up from the ground. When it struck the town it grew almost as dark as night and it was impossible to see.

O. H. Maricle who conducts a feed store there telephoned his brother, O. P. Maricle here this morning that the house on his farm at the edge of Grandfield had been blown down and burned up. Mr. Maricle's family took refuge in a storm cellar and none of them were injured. Mr. Maricle's feed store on the main business street in town was blown from its foundations and damaged. Mr. Maricle had left his store at the approach of the storm and was attempting to reach his home when the cloud reached him. He managed to reach a freight car and held onto it and thus escaped being blown away.

J. M. Huff, a brother of R. E. Huff of this city, was struck by a scantling and painfully but not seriously injured. His house was badly damaged in the blow. A half a dozen or more houses were demolished at Grandfield and several other persons injured but none fatally so far as could be learned here this morning.

Mr. Robertson came on into Wichita Falls last night after the storm and says that he saw several houses that had been blown down this side of Grandfield. One of them was burning.

Damage Elsewhere

Advices from Loveland, Hollister, Frederick and other towns along the Northwestern indicate a heavy wind but no serious damage. The Associated Press correspondent at Oklahoma City reported this morning that he had received a report from Snyder of a severe blow there but that the wires were down and he had been unable to reach that place.

Points on the Wichita Valley report heavy wind last night but no especial damage.

MINISTER'S EFFORT TO OBTAIN LETTERS

Legal Fight for Possession of Evidence in Case Against J. Frank Norris Will Come Today.

Fort Worth, March 21.—Judge Simmons of the Sixty-seventh district court this morning will decide whether letters in possession of Coffey Attorney Baskin to be used as evidence against the Rev. J. Frank Norris, under indictment for perjury, shall be delivered to attorneys for the defense.

Argument on the motion filed by attorneys for the minister to obtain possession of the letters was heard yesterday morning. Attorney Albert J. Baskin, for the defense, argued that as the letters were the basis for the indictment and as the State would attempt to prove by expert testimony that the Rev. Mr. Norris is the author of the two letters, the defense should be allowed to have photographic copies. He said the copies were desired in order that the defense might meet the issue by testimony of other experts.

County Attorney Baskin said he had showed the letters to the church committee and to all detectives who had applied to him.

"That is just the trouble," said Attorney Gillespie for the defense. "This information has gone into the hands of some detectives who are going about the streets of this city poisoning the minds of the people against this defendant."

Judge Simmons said he never would think of permitting photographic copies to be made. He announced that his decision would be written this morning.

The result of the expected clash between Federal and Zalaras force of rebels near Jimenez is awaited with the greatest concern.

The decree declares that President Madero will be subject to execution if captured.

Dr. Ruedo, former Governor of the State of Chihuahua who accompanied Orozco's messenger here, claims Orozco has fourteen thousand men at points in northern Mexico.

14 MORE MINERS ARE RESCUED

THESE WITH 11 ESCAPED YESTERDAY ARE BELIEVED ONLY SURVIVORS AT MCCURTAIN.

OVER EIGHTY ARE DEAD

Those Rescued Today Had Sealed Themselves in Small Chamber Around Air Pump

By Associated Press. McCurtain, Okla., March 21.—Fourteen miners who had been given up for dead this morning came out alive from the mine.

The fourteen were found in a room eight by ten feet. They had found an air pump and took the top off and packing themselves closely about it, they built temporary walls at the entrance. When one after another grew faint, his companions held him up the pump until he revived. The rescue party was guided to the men by tapping on an air pipe which led through the main entry. Eleven went out unassisted. Three were carried out.

One of the rescued miners was "Shy" Guffee. He made two fruitless attempts to find his brother, leaving his place of safety, twice returning with bodies only to find them not to be his brother.

These fourteen with the eleven rescued yesterday are believed to include all the survivors from the 114 who entered the mine yesterday morning.

A gas explosion at 9:05 yesterday morning wrecked the mine and piled hundreds of tons of wreckage in the path of the half hundred rescuers who are now at work searching the ruined entries for the entombed men. The explosion was the most terrible in its horrifying results that has occurred in the mining history of the Southwest and the 5,000 people at the little mining camp nestled among the San Bois mountains are dazed to such an extent that they scarcely realize the extent of the disaster.

The explosion was accompanied by a faint rumble and there was but a slight ray of the earth. A dense cloud of dust and smoke rolled out of the mouth of the main slope. Superintendent Brown, George Hutchinson and Ben Farriman ran to the mouth of the mine and waited for a short time. They thought that the explosion was a minor one, and knew if such was the case the men would come pouring forth in a few minutes.

But only one lone man staggered forth—Frank Fields, who dropped utterly exhausted at the mouth of the mine. Fields said he was walking in an entry when he heard the explosion. Then came a puff, and Fields half jumped, half staggered into a side room and left the explosion go rumbling down the entry. After it passed he staggered to the entrance. Shortly after Fields came out nine miners came across the fields from the south entrance a quarter of a mile away. They had been working in the seventh north entry, an old and practically isolated part of the mine, when the smoke reached them. They escaped through what is known as a manway by climbing a ladder to the surface.

The survivors, led by Superintendent Brown, entered the main slope in a short time and brought out one badly injured miner and the corpse of another. The latter was John Galwas, a boy 17 years old. A rope rider who was coming to the slope when the explosion occurred also escaped. The force of the explosion was so terrific that it pushed the cars up the slope and made so much slack in the cable that the engineer thought for a time the cable had broken. The engineer hurriedly caught up the slack and pulled the cars and the rope rider to safety.

W. D. Roper of Cilo, S. C., mining engineer for the coal company, and his two young assistants in all probability lost their lives. They entered the mine early in the morning to do some surveying, and are still among the missing. Roper had been employed by the company two years.

At noon today thirty-nine bodies have been taken from the mine. Twenty-four have come out alive.

RICHELIEU FOOD PRODUCTS

UNIFORMITY in quality of food products grown in widely separated latitudes, and subject to the uncertainties of climatic conditions, is a difficult attainment and only acquired by the most exacting and insistent efforts.

No matter what difficulties are encountered RICHELIEU never falls in uniformity. This refers to every product under the RICHELIEU brand.

Occasionally some other brand may be found satisfactory one season and utterly fail short the next.

Again, in other brands may be found an occasional package with an assurance that the next will be equally as good—the proof is against it.

In RICHELIEU products whether one can or a thousand, whether a single package or a car load, whether this year, last year or the next, you can bank on it that every article bearing the RICHELIEU label will compare one with the other, like needles in a paper, or coins from the mint.

THE RICHELIEU LABEL. Beautiful isn't it? But don't mind the label. Examine the goods, open a package, pour the contents into a glass receptacle. Ever see anything more tempting? Taste it. Let the flavor linger on the palate. Can you beat it?

These are tests that make people who once enjoy RICHELIEU foods refuse to be content with any other.

Order RICHELIEU goods and smile.

All Violators of Federal Statutes Are Critics of the Government

By GEORGE W. WICKERSHAM, Attorney General of the United States

There is always an outcry against the enforcement of a federal statute. The enforcement of the law is usually UNPOPULAR AMONG THOSE AGAINST WHOM IT IS ENFORCED.

IT WILL BE SEEN IN RUNNING THROUGH THE LIST OF SUBJECTS OF FEDERAL LEGISLATION THAT WHEREVER THE LAWS ARE DIRECTED AGAINST PRACTICES WHICH TEND TO THE PROFIT OF SOME, BUT TO THE DETRIMENT OF THE REST OF THE COUNTRY, THE ENFORCEMENT OF THESE LAWS, WHICH ARE MADE TO PROTECT ALL THE PEOPLE, IS MOST UNWELCOME TO THAT PARTICULAR CLASS WHOSE ACTIVITIES AND PRACTICES ARE RESTRAINED BY THEM, PARTICULARLY WHEN, AS OFTEN HAPPENS, THEIR PROFITS ARE REDUCED BY THEM.

And so the enforcement of the laws against UNLAWFUL RESTRAINTS OF TRADE, TRUSTS AND MONOPOLIES has been and still is exceedingly unpopular with those who by means of their position, organization and influence have been enabled to control the trade in a given time and to exclude competitors from it at will.

But whether a law is unpopular or not in the ideal state the fact that it was enacted BY THE PEOPLE, acting through their own chosen representatives, would be sufficient to COMMAND OBEDIENCE BY EVERY CITIZEN.

Men of Wealth and Power Must Do the Right Thing

It Is Up to Them to Lead In Helping Mankind

By ELBERT H. GARY, Chairman Finance Committee of United States Steel Corporation

I WOULD like to present a somewhat different phase of a subject which is of importance to every country in the world.

There is a FEELING OF UNEASINESS throughout the world. You who travel know that this feeling is broadcast in every country. There may be many reasons for the feeling. One results from the fact that the MEANS OF COMMUNICATION ARE INCREASING. When anything is done it is immediately known in all other localities.

Then some demagogues for reasons of their own, though a "statesman," whom I would call a politician or a newspaper owner, desires to increase his circulation, or whatever his motive, taking advantage of the fact of immediate communication, is disposed to APPEAL TO THE PREJUDICES OF THE MASSES TO ADVANCE HIS INTERESTS.

At the present time it is customary to appeal to the working people with a view to EXCITING THEM AGAINST THE OTHER CLASSES, capitalists, educated people and others.

It seems to me that these sentiments against capital prevail and are GROWING. It is a matter for most important consideration.

MEN OF GREAT POWER AND WEALTH HAVE NOT ALWAYS DONE THE RIGHT THING, AND UNLESS THE BIG CAPITALISTS AND GREAT CORPORATIONS TAKE A LEADING POSITION IN HELPING MANKIND I FIRMLY BELIEVE THERE WILL BE CHANGES MADE BY THE MOB FOR BETTER OR FOR WORSE, THERE IS DANGER OF FANNING THE SPARK INTO A FLAME.

Government by Commission—Mayor, Health Officers, Police and All Other Departments Looked After By Children

Topeka, Kansas, March 21.—The boys and girls of the Polk school in Topeka now have a "commission" government of the entire school. Each room is a ward in this school and elections have been held and the new commission government went into effect yesterday. If the officials cannot handle a case of discipline and a special session of the commission is held, and if the commission "votes" a whipping or suspension or expulsion or any other form of discipline, the teachers of the Polk school and the board of education of Topeka have agreed to stand by the student ruling. If a boy keeps his desk slovenly the "health officer" reports it and the boy is compelled to clean up or pay a fine or be punished according to the rules of the commission or the laws of the school.

Miss Katherine Gentry, principal of the Polk school, worked out the plan. The children held an election last week and elected a full set of officers, a mayor, two commissioners from each ward or room, two overseers or policemen from each ward, two line monitors and two health officers. The first mayor of the Polk school is Victor Blakely, an eighth grade pupil, 13 years old. The officers hold for five weeks.

Each of the officers is head of a department. For instance, the overseers police the building and the grounds. They are on the lookout for breaches of discipline and mete out punishment for disobedience of the rules. It is the duty of the line monitors to see that the marching of pupils is done in regular lines and in even step. The health officers care for the sanitation, air and general condition of each of the rooms. The commissioners receive complaints and sit as a court of justice, with the mayor as their executive officer.

Was Member of Famous Family. London, March 21.—The death of Arthur Sassoon, which occurred here a few days ago, has again brought to public attention the remarkable family of which he was one of the most prominent members. The story of the rise of the Sassoon family is as romantic as a chapter from the "Arabian Nights."

Abdallah Sassoon, the father of Arthur Sassoon, was a Bagdad Jew. For ages the family had been settled in Bagdad. They had the Semitic talent for making money and keeping it, and transmitted the gift to their posterity. As merchants, bankers and financiers they waxed rich, generation after generation. Finally Abdallah Sassoon's great wealth aroused the envy of his neighbors and he found it advisable to quit Bagdad and locate in Bombay.

In Bombay old Abdallah continued to accumulate wealth. He extended his connections and became as powerful in Asia and northern Africa as the great Rothschild family was in Europe. Several of his sons, including the one who just passed away, were sent to England to be educated and remained here.

London society did not welcome the wealthy Oriental Jews at first. So the Sassoons waited patiently. And they hadn't long to wait either. Just how they managed it nobody knows, but it was not long before the late King Edward, then Prince of Wales, had dined with each one of the brothers in turn. Society gasped, but said no more. From that time on the Sassoons were well come everywhere. To the time of King Edward remained firm in his friendships and frequently bestowed honors and other marks of his favor upon the three brothers.

BALDHEADS

More Women are Bald Than Men, Says Authority

This is a startling statement but it's true according to an article published in a standard magazine this year.

One thing is certain PARISIAN SAGE will surely prevent baldness by stopping the hair from falling out, but it won't grow hair after the head is bald.

Ladies, look after your hair, destroy the dandruff germs with PARISIAN SAGE and dandruff will disappear. It stops scalp itch over night and is guaranteed to be the most refreshing, refined and agreeable hair dressing that can be obtained. Sold by E. J. Lynch and druggists all over America for 50 cents.

"My hair was falling out, and I was troubled with itching scalp. I received no benefit until I tried PARISIAN SAGE."—Mrs. George Thunders, R. F. D., No. 5, Marshall, Mich.

France has lost so many chestnut trees, from disease that an attempt is being made to replace them with a Japanese variety, which seems to be immune.

An atomizer operated by electricity, in connection with an electric fan for diffusing a perfume in a public place has been patented by two Chicago men.

An Illinois man has patented a wire basket on wheels to be moved about for the collection of rubbish, which can be burned without emitting the basket.

WAS URGED FOR SUPREME BENCH

Miss Emma Gillett, LL. D., is one of the two women whom the District of Columbia Woman Suffrage association requested President Taft to consider for the vacancy on the Supreme Court bench, caused by the death of Justice Harlan. She has been practicing law before the United States Supreme Court in Washington for over ten years.

WILL EXPLORE CAVERNS AROUND SAN ANTONIO

San Antonio, Texas, March 21.—It has been known for years that great underground caverns extend for many miles around San Antonio, but no effort has ever been made to locate or explore any of them. Many of these caves are believed to be storage tanks for water which fills them during the flood seasons and then is emptied into the river channels or else is diverted through an underground exit into a subterranean river. Suggestion has been made that search be conducted for the great caverns above the head waters of the San Antonio river and the obstacle that prevents the flow of the water into the channel of the San Antonio river, as formerly be removed in the hope that by this means the river may be restored to its former volume and beauty.

CONNIE MACK DOESN'T CLAIM CHAMPIONSHIP

San Antonio, Texas, March 21.—Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics, the champions of the baseball world, now doing their spring training in San Antonio, daily contemplates the practice contortions of his squad at the local park. "He makes no sign, but never misses a move."

"What's the answer in the American League race for 1912?" he was asked. He replied:

"There is no answer yet. There are too many things and too many good clubs entering into the problem. It is a hard matter to make even a good guess now. I said last year if we won the 1911 championship we ought to take that of 1912. But I don't know. You see, there are some other mighty fine clubs out this season. The Bostonians are dangerous and there are the Detroit, New York and Cleveland clubs, any of which may head us off. We will have to keep moving and it is sure we need a better start than that of last season."

To Enlighten South on Danish Plan, Copenhagen, March 21.—Dr. M. Egan, United States Minister to Denmark, left today for America for the purpose of giving a series of lectures in the Southern States. Dr. Egan's trip is in response to a special invitation from the Southern Commercial Society to speak before the commercial bodies in a number of the leading cities of the South on the subject of "Danish Agricultural Co-operation and Conservation."

The position of Denmark as a school for the study of scientific agriculture is becoming more important every year and Dr. Egan has made a close study of the methods which have made Denmark a leader in co-operative agriculture, especially the effect of the plan on the cost of living. It is his belief that the remedy for the present shortage in the food supply and the consequent high cost of living is to be found only in perfect co-operation among the farmers, aided by the hearty support of the national and State governments.

To the Democrats of Texas: The supporters of Governor Livingston Harmon's candidacy for President are hereby requested to meet in their respective voting precincts in Texas at 2 o'clock p. m. on Saturday, April 6th, 1912, and organizations to prosecute a vigorous campaign thereafter until May 4th. I urge every Harmon supporter to go to work at once. Let each man do his full part to make this Harmon Club Day a great success. The officers of each club are requested to report promptly to the undersigned.

RICE MAXEY,
State Chairman Harmon Campaign Committee.

The Man On the Box

There is no one who does not thoroughly enjoy "The Man on the Box," for the play by Grace Livingston Furness is no less enjoyable than the novel by Harold McGrath, and both have that something in their makeup that grips the interest and holds it firmly until the last word is spoken.

It happens that a lieutenant of the regular army, lately resigned, seeks to play a practical joke on his sister by officiating upon his return from a trip abroad, as the family coachman.

He borrows a livery and proceeds to jump upon the box of what he supposes to be the family carriage, as the guests are leaving from the British Embassy, after a grand ball. Fate wills, however, that he shall mount to the wrong box and that he shall kiss the wrong girl, Miss "Betty" Annesley by name, with the result that he finds himself in a police court undergoing examination and he finally extricates himself from this rather embarrassing position by actually accepting a place among the servants of the Annesley family. With this beginning, "The Man on the Box" develops extraordinary complications and makes its way through three acts of uproarious fun and enlivening dialogue. The many embarrassing situations in which the coachman finds himself as a consequence of his rash act furnishes a lively evening's entertainment. Of course, in the end he is unmasked, but wins the girl, so is well repaid for all the mental anguish he has undergone. Incidentally, he saves her father from a contemplated act of treason to the government, a situation which gives the play just a faint touch of good melodrama and makes it all the more enjoyable.

The Man on the Box will be presented at the Wichita Theatre Saturday, March 25 on matinee and night by a special company headed by Mr. Bert Leigh in the role of Lt. Warburton, supported by Miss Billy Long and a good cast.

A German inventor for automobiles has an illuminated dial which makes several color changes as the speed of a car to which it is attached increases.

Charles Frohman has selected Hatie Williams for the title role of "The Girl from Montmartre." William Pruette and Emma Janvier have also been engaged for the company.

LOW TEMPERATURE FORECASTED TONIGHT

A temperature of from 24 to 26 degrees above zero is forecasted tonight with fair weather. Socialist Defeat Predicted. Milwaukee, Wis., March 20.—Politicians say the "nonpartisan" movement will drive the Socialist administration out of office at the municipal election today. Dr. Gerhard A. Bading, Health Commissioner under the last administration, has defeated Congressman William J. Carey for the nonpartisan nomination for Mayor and will have the united support of the Republican and Democratic parties, which are pledged to unite against the Socialists. The vote cast for the nonpartisan ticket is far larger than that of the Socialist.

The Socialist vote today was low, probably on account of the lack of any contest in the Socialist primaries, but the betting is 4 to 1 against the Socialists now, with no takers. The only contest today was the Carey ticket, independent, for the fusion nomination against Bading, and Carey's closest run, with the exception of one precinct, where he led Bading, was two to Bading's three.

It will take but a few inches of snow to tie up the entire western part of Kansas, as on either side of the tracks snow is piled several feet above the top of the tracks. The cold wave struck Southern Kansas last night. Arkansas City reports the temperature there dropped twenty degrees and snow was expected any time.

Nine inches of snow has fallen at Luray. Another bad feature, the railroads are forced to consider now is the flood conditions of Kansas streams.

MISS LOUISE HUFF TO APPEAR IN GRAUSTARK

Former Columbus, Ga., Girl Engaged by Baker & Castle, New York Managers to Play Part.

The Southern friends of Miss Louise Huff, a popular Columbus, Ga., girl will welcome the announcement that she has been engaged by Messrs. Baker and Castle, New York managers, to play Countess Ysabel in the successful, romantic drama "Graustark".

The company make an extended tour of the entire South, including Wichita Falls on Monday, March 25. Miss Huff and her family are very well known below the Mason and Dixon line, and her appearance in such a popular play as "Graustark" will be watched with unusual interest.

Miss Huff is the daughter of Mrs. T. D. Huff, nee, Lula Salisbury, of Columbus, Ga., and grand-daughter of the late Col. W. L. Salisbury, who, during his life was a popular newspaper man. Miss Huff is also related to the Blanchard family of Columbus, besides having many other relatives scattered all over the South.

She has had every advantage in the way of classical training, having attended the high school at Gainesville, Fla., and graduated from the New York public schools, besides having traveled extensively. She is the only one of her family who aspired to dramatic honors and her success in her chosen profession has been remarkable. In her early life, Miss Huff was regarded as a very clever mimic, singer and dancer and her appearance in any amateur event insured its positive success. As Countess Ysabel in "Graustark" Miss Huff has a part that suits her admirably and indications point to her rapid advancement.

the whole northern Wisconsin and Michigan, holding up railroad trains and stage coaches, robbing the passengers and rifling the mail bags and employing his time between the bigger coups by robbing banks, stores and private houses. Large rewards were offered for his capture by the government, the State authorities and the railroads, but nobody seemed to have courage enough to earn the reward.

After having held up and robbed a Wisconsin Central train near Cadott, Holzhey went to the Gogebic region where he held up a stage coach near Lake Gogebic. One of the passengers was a Chicago banker, named A. E. Fleischbein, who carried a considerable amount of money. The banker drew his gun, but before he made use of it, Holzhey shot and killed him. Another passenger also tried to resist, but Holzhey shot him also and after having robbed his victims, he made his escape. The authorities made a determined effort to capture the daring hand, but although bloodhounds were used to follow his trail, no trace of him could be found.

Five days later, however, Marshal Glade and Justice Weiser saw Holzhey in one of the streets of the town of Republic and arrested him. He tried to make use of his gun, but was knocked down and overpowered before he could do so. He was brought to Marquette and was positively identified as the man who had killed Fleischbein. Holzhey was tried, convicted and sentenced to Marquette prison for life. During the first year of his imprisonment Holzhey gave a great deal of trouble to the prison authorities. He was moody and rebellious and not inclined to submit to the prison rules and discipline. On one occasion he obtained possession of a knife and held one of the guards at bay in his cell when he came to take the prisoner to work. Warden Tompkins came to investigate and shot Holzhey through the hand in which he held the knife. Not until then did the prisoner submit.

Holzhey remained untractable and finally he was sent to the asylum for the insane at Ionia, where the doctors decided to perform an operation on the prisoner, to remove a piece of bone which pressed upon his brain. The operation was successful and after his return to prison Holzhey was a changed man. He became a model prisoner, began to study and gradually acquired a good education. Through the warden, who took great interest in him, Holzhey invested his earnings in copper stock and accumulated a handsome fortune. He was made the librarian of the prison, edited the prison paper and did all the photographic work required. It is believed that the operation on his brain has transformed Holzhey into a normal and law-abiding individual, free from criminal tendencies.

Plain every-day potatoes may be the deciding factor in the contest between Taft and Roosevelt for the support of the Republicans of Maine. Potato raising is almost the sole industry of Aroostook county, which is the strongest Republican county in the State. The Roosevelt managers believe they will have the solid support of the county, since President Taft displeased the farmers there by his reciprocity policy.

VIRTUES CAN BE VICES

Intemperance Can Be Practiced in Them as Well as Anything Else

"She's making big money," said a man to me the other day, speaking of a mutual acquaintance, a woman who, beside editing a magazine, had recently undertaken to write a series of articles that would require a lot of research, "but what she needs is to learn to spend some of it. What's the good of money in the bank to a dead person? She is overworking herself to the breaking point." The savings bank habit is a very good one, but you don't want to let it get the best of you. You can over-prudence just as you can anything. A virtue that grows to be an obsession cannot be distinguished from a vice.

There are times when you ought to be extravagant, ought to give yourself "the best there is," and think it none too good. We all know what it is to feel stale. If we realized that severe nervous breakdowns often start with that same stale feeling, we might learn to regard it more seriously than we do.

When you feel "all truckered out" cash a check at the bank and run down to Atlantic City for a couple of days. They'll do you more good than a month after the doctor has ordered a rest. One woman I know takes four days every month to play in, going off Wednesday night and returning Monday morning.

As she doesn't take the half holiday on the other Saturdays to which she is entitled you see she doesn't really lose much time. She leaves town either alone, or with a chum who won't expect her to be "sociable" goes to the sea or the hills or to some other city, puts up at a simple hotel where the food is good, and just plays. You would never think, if you met her on one of these jaunts, that she knew what work was. She always takes a good book with her, one of the "old fellows," as she calls them, and drops the magazines and papers, clearing her mind of everything in the least like her usual routine. Once in a while she goes to visit a friend, but as a rule, she prefers the greater freedom of a hotel. And she comes back to her work a woman refreshed and radiant, thoroughly convinced that time and money both have been well spent.

Many of us think we can't do things because we haven't tried. Perhaps few of us can arrange to pool our holidays and have to do the best we can with those that come along in the regular course. But we ought to give ourselves a real treat once in a while, for there is no greater tonic in the world than enjoyment. You don't always need to spend money for it—a lot of enjoyment comes as free as sunsets, a child's laugh or a good walk. But it is better to spend a little money foolishly, or what seems foolishly, on oneself every now and then, instead of to be forever saving up for that "rainy day" we live in such terror of meeting. You can't beat health, serenity and a growing fund of pleasant memories.

Days of the Week. In ancient times the people worshipped imagines of gods, valiant soldiers and saints; from some of the most important of these come the names applied to the different days of the week.

From an idol of the sun comes Sunday, or in other words, upon the day we now hold sacred as the Sabbath the ancients worshipped the sun. It is not the ancient Sabbath of the Jewish people and it is very doubtful even if it is the "Lord's Day" spoken of by Paul.

On the second day of the week the old Saxons worshipped the moon and called it Monday. We have dropped one o and call it Monday.

Tuesday, from which we derived the word Tuesday, was one of the most ancient and popular gods of the German, and the third day of the week was dedicated to his worship.

Woden, for whom we have named Wednesday, was a prince of high standing among the Saxons. His image was prayed to for victory. On the fourth day after each succeeding sun worship the old Saxons spent hours invoking the blessing of old woden.

Thor, from which comes Thursday was a god of the chase, and was represented as being seated on a couch of skins with twelve stars over his head and holding a scepter in his hand.

Friga, the god of Friday, was something of a hunter himself and was represented with a drawn sword in one hand and a bow in the other.

Sater, the god of Saturday, according to a picture of him, must have been perfectly wretched. He is thin-visaged, long-haired with flowing beard and a far-away look in his eye; his finger nails are long and hooked like bird claws.

More than 60 per cent of the railroad cars built in the United States this year will be of all steel construction.

'BLACK BART' TO BE PAROLED

Marquette, Mich., March 21.—The law enacted by the State legislature last winter, which extends the benefits of the parole law to convicts undergoing life sentence will it is confidently expected, enable Raymond Holzhey, more widely known as "Black Bart," a life prisoner with a sensational criminal record, to obtain his release on parole from the Marquette prison, where he has spent nearly twenty-three years of his life for murder. Holzhey, who has been a model prisoner for many years, expects that under the new law his sentence will be commuted to one of 40 years and that he will be released on parole shortly after the commutation of his sentence.

Holzhey's career was extremely sensational and interesting from a criminological point of view. He was born in Austria and came to the United States when quite young. But little is known of his early life, scarcely more than that he was illiterate, of great physical strength and courage and had strongly developed criminal tendencies. He was still in his teens when he began to work in Wisconsin "pineries." The life of a lumberman did not satisfy Holzhey's adventurous nature. He decided to become a bandit and began his criminal career by holding up a stage coach in the lumber district.

His success was encouraging and Holzhey, single handed held up and robbed coach after coach until the mere mention of his name struck terror to the hearts of travelers in the lumber region. His boldness was astonishing. While dodging the officers of the law who were pursuing him, "Black Bart" walked boldly into lumber camps asking for food and obtaining it, no man being willing to take the risk of making an attempt to seize the outlaw.

After a while, finding the robbing of stage coaches too tame, Holzhey took to holding up trains and for a considerable period he terrorized

SPARLING POISON CASE TO COME UP

Bad Axe, Mich., March 21.—The so-called Sparling poisoning case is to come up at the circuit court session starting here next Monday, and it is scarcely an exaggeration to say that every person in Huron county, and many beyond the county borders and even across the Canadian line, is awaiting the developments of the trial with eager interest. The case is regarded as one of the most complex that has ever come before the criminal courts in Michigan.

The defendants in the case are Mrs. Carrie Rodie Sparling, the wife and mother of the alleged victims of a wholesale poisoning plot, and Dr. Robert Macgregor, the Sparling family physician. Dr. Macgregor formerly lived in London, Ont., but for several years has resided in the village of Ubyly, a short distance south of this city, and the home of the Sparling family.

John Wesley Sparling, head of the family, was the first one to die. He was stricken in July, 1908. Two years later the eldest son, Peter Sparling, was similarly stricken. Albert Sparling was the next to die, and the last was Cyril Sparling, 20 years old, who died last August. In two of the cases a verdict of arsenic poisoning was returned by the coroner's jury.

Each of the victims was attended by Dr. Macgregor and later removed for treatment to a hospital in London, Ont., where the deaths occurred. In this hospital Miss Marguerite Gibbs, said to be a friend of Dr. Macgregor, was employed as a nurse. Following the coroner's jury verdict in the case of Albert Sparling, Miss Gibbs was arrested and bound over on a charge of accessory after the fact. In the cases of Mrs. Sparling and Dr. Macgregor indictments charging first degree murder were returned.

It is understood that Mrs. Sparling and Dr. Macgregor are to be tried first for the alleged murder of Cyril Sparling, the fourth and last of the family to die under mysterious circumstances. Little has been made public concerning the evidence upon which the indictments were based. Even the probable motive that may have resulted in the alleged slaying of the father and three sons can only be guessed at by outsiders, though there is a general disposition to connect it with the fact that the victims carried life insurance and the policies were written by the father of Dr. Macgregor, a retired life insurance agent living in London, Ont.

Prosecuting Attorney Boomhower has secured the services of a prominent criminal lawyer to assist him in unravelling the mystery. He declares he has unearthed additional facts in the case, which when presented at the trial, will greatly strengthen the prosecution. Nearly one hundred witnesses already have been subpoenaed to testify at the trial.

In an analysis of a group of accidents to workmen while following their line of work, for 39 per cent of the accidents no one was responsible; for 30 per cent the workman killed or his fellow workman was responsible; for 20 per cent the employer or agent was responsible and for 10 per cent both employer and workman were responsible.

Thousands of lives will be saved in the future in the opinion of the bureau of mines officials, by means of an oxygen pumping apparatus with which the bureau's workers during the last year restored to life more than thirty persons who had ceased breathing. OPENS DEFENSE FOR PACKERS.

Chicago, Ill., March 19.—Citing decisions of the United States Supreme Court in the Standard Oil case to show that the violation of the Sherman anti-trust law necessarily involves unreasonable restraint of trade and injury to the public and asserting that the Government has set up no such charge against the ten packers on trial here, Attorney Geo. T. Buckingham, representing the Swift group of defendants, today delivered the opening address for the defense to the jury. The net earnings of the packers, Mr. Buckingham said, were 8 per cent on their investment, and the profit on fresh meat did not exceed one-tenth of a cent a pound. He quoted statistics compiled by the Government in support of his statement that the indicted packers sold less than one-third of the fresh meat consumed in the country, and said it would be a physical impossibility for them to control the industry, even if they desired. It is expected that the case will go to the jury Saturday.
