

FOUR DAYS AVIATION MEET STARTS THIS AFTERNOON

DR. NORRIS' STENOGRAPHER ON THE WITNESS STAND TODAY

TESTIFIES NORRIS ASKED HER TO MAIL LETTERS

PASTOR TOLD HER HIS ATTORNEY WAS LAYING A TRAP FOR HIS ENEMIES.

OTHER LETTERS

Secretary of Church Also Testified Rev. Norris Asked Her to Mail Letters Secretly.

Special to The Times. Fort Worth, Texas, April 11.—Miss Rooney Matthews, a stenographer to Dr. Norris, and Mrs. J. K. Taylor, secretary of the First Baptist Church were witnesses in the Norris trial today.

J. T. Franklin, editor of the X-Ray, was also a witness. Franklin testified to a suppressed edition of the X-Ray of January 13th. He said four copies only were issued, one to Dr. Norris, one to Clarence Miller, one to U. S. Pawkett and one to himself which he destroyed.

He said he understood they were suppressed because some of the men backing the X-Ray objected to the publication of their names in connection with this article and that Norris said he didn't think he was getting a square deal.

The threat to G. H. Connell was mailed to him written on the margin of a page of this suppressed issue demanding that the paper be stopped. The defense replied with testimony from Franklin that he later found a copy folded like the one he gave Dr. Norris in the office in a place indicated by Dr. Norris.

The State again had Franklin recite the number of copies that were issued and emphasized the fact that Connell got one through the mail. The Miller and Pawkett copies are said to be accounted for. The copies of the suppressed edition were kept in a printing shop. Two thousand are supposed to have been run off the press.

Mrs. Taylor proved a sensational witness testifying that three weeks ago Dr. Norris came to her telling her his attorney had planned a trap for his enemies and asking her to mail some letters the next day. After Dr. Norris had gone to Ennis she said she prayed all night and could not make up her mind to do so and then when to Attorney Gillespie and told him about it. His advice was not brought out. Mrs. Taylor being still on the stand at the noon recess.

Miss Matthews testified that the threatening letter to which the paper found in Dr. Norris' coat fits was received as a half sheet.

Miss Rooney Matthews testified she was present when Dr. Norris received the anonymous letter addressed to himself. She said Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were also present. Norris and Mr. Taylor said they could not read the letter. Miss Rooney then read it to them. She noticed it was carelessly folded. Norris said "Look how it is folded— whoever folded it was evidently nervous." Witness then showed how this letter fitted exactly the torn half of the sheet of blank paper found in Norris' pocket.

This precludes the theory that Dr. Norris tore off part of the letter after receiving it. The defense is expected to claim it was put in the pocket after the fire at the parsonage. Mrs. Taylor also testified Dr.

Norris had plans for a big new church and told her the time to build it was before ten rich men in the congregation died and their estates were divided.

She said Norris tried to induce her to secretly mail letters in which he said only a calamity would cause his church congregation to do its building a great new church.

Norris listened to her testimony with a smile. When court was opened Wednesday afternoon, the cross examination of Warren Andrews, paying teller and assistant teller of the First National Bank was resumed by Mr. Gillespie, who said:

"Now Mr. Andrews, I will call your attention to this writing of Dr. Norris before the grand jury—known in the record as No. 12, and this anonymous letter to Mr. Connell—known as No. 1. Now, I understand you to say that one reason that leads you to believe that the same party wrote both is the fact that the capital N's are made alike—that is, that the first part is made like a portion of a V instead of an A. Is that correct?"

The witness replied that such was the case, and to a long series of questions along the same line, said that it would be difficult to identify the writing of anyone if the letters were composed of straight lines such as the N's referred to, and printed instead of written in script.

Mr. Gillespie asked if there were not more of the N's made correctly in the letter No. 1 than incorrect, and after counting them, the witness said that he found nine made correctly and seven incorrectly.

"Well," said Mr. Gillespie, "there are more correct than wrong, is there not?"

Attorney Clendenen for the prosecution, said that to save time the prosecution would admit that nine was more than seven. Mr. Gillespie responded with "thank you."

The sheet written on by Mr. Norris was presented and the witness asked if a single N was correctly made, his reply being that all were incorrect.

Attorney Lattimore said that he would like to ask a question or two, one of them being: 'If the y's were taken out of the 'Happy Contrast' manuscript would you say that the same party wrote it that wrote the letters?'

"I would say," replied Mr. Andrews "that the y's in the 'Happy Contrast' and the y's in the letters were the same."

Asked if S. E. McElroy had not quit doing business with the First National bank because his signature had been denied, he said that he did not recall anything of the kind. He explained, however, that the bank had a list of something like 5,000 customers, and that neither he nor any other one man passed on every signature that was passed by the bank.

This concluded the examination of Mr. Andrews and J. R. Walker of Asle was called.

Mr. Walker testified that he had lived in Tarrant county since 1875, was a member of the grand jury that returned the indictment against Mr. Norris, and remembered that the defendant had appeared as a witness.

Asked by Special Prosecutor A. J. Clendenen if Mr. Norris was questioned concerning the anonymous letters, Mr. Gillespie objected. The objection was overruled, the action of the court being excepted to, after which the various letters were offered by the witness as those which were in the hands of the grand jury.

He testified that the grand jury had the anonymous letter—which it is claimed was written on a portion of the original sheet of the blank paper, before mentioned, prior to the time that the blank piece was brought in.

Attorney Lattimore stated to the court that every question concerning the anonymous letters would be objected to, Judge Simmons replying that everyone would be overruled, the defense asking a bill of exception to each.

Continuing, the witness said that the anonymous letter was in the hands of the grand jury before the fire at the parsonage, while the blank paper did not reach them until after the fire.

The witness told also of the defendant writing the name of G. H. Connell while in the grand jury room and his return with a request to be allowed to make a statement, and to write the name again, this time in what he claimed was his "normal handwriting."

"Was Mr. Norris sworn" was asked by Mr. Clendenen, to which Mr. Gillespie objected, claiming that this required the opinion of the witness on a point of law. The objection was overruled, and the witness replied that Mr. Norris had been sworn before the grand jury, but could not say as to whether or not he was at that time.

Asked who administered the oath to Mr. Norris, the witness said that Mr. Ousley, the foreman of the grand jury, did, reading it out of a book supplied by the county attorney, and that Mr. Norris "held up his hand the same as the rest of the witnesses did."

"Was any warning given him" was asked.

This was objected to by Mr. Gillespie and overruled by Judge Simmons, after which the witness replied that Mr. Norris had been warned.

"What was the nature of that warning?"

WEATHER FORECAST
Tonight and Friday unsettled.

LADS DEFEAT SEYMOUR TEAM

Wichita Falls was easily victorious over the Seymour nine at Seymour yesterday afternoon, winning by the score of 13 to 1. The team made an excellent showing both at the bat and in the field and while the game put up by the opponents was not sufficiently fast to cause the Lads to exert themselves, they were given a good work out.

This afternoon and probably for the remainder of the week, the team will play the Monday team. There will be no game here Sunday on account of the aviation meet. Between now and the time the season opens, considerable time will probably be spent on the road, playing teams in other towns. These trips will serve the double purpose of giving the team practice and enabling the management to improve its finances at the same time.

Reports from other league cities show all the teams practicing hard and getting ready for the season opening on April 25. Manager Humphries of the Sherman team has about completed his line-up, which will be as follows:

Lamonica and Townsend, catchers; Napier, Rayburn and Grimes, pitchers; Taylor, first base; Reed, second; Witt, third; Humphries, short stop; Dooley, left field; Williamson, center field and Tucker right field.

The Ardmore nine is also getting into form and has been very successful in its practice game, being victorious in nearly every contest. There are indications that the two Oklahoma clubs, Ardmore and Durant, will be among this season's strongest contenders.

There will be but few changes in the lineup of the locals between now and the opening of the season and the team which defeated Durant last Sunday is practically the same as that which will open the season two weeks from today.

WILD DISORDER IN CONVENTION

EVEN STATE MILITIA COULDN'T KEEP REPUBLICANS FROM FIGHTING.

Taft Forces are Ahead

Roosevelt Delegates Climb Through Transoms into Convention Hall at Bay City, Michigan.

Bay City, Mich., April 11.—A State militia company took charge of the Republican convention hall before the State Republican convention opened here today. Both the Taft and Roosevelt delegates from Detroit were kept outside the hall by the militia, awaiting the opening hour. A wrangle between the delegates was the cause.

The convention started amid wild disorder despite presence of militia. Taft's forces in the ascendancy on the stage elected the temporary chairman. Some Roosevelt delegates got in through transoms over the doors.

GAYNOR AS NEW YORK'S CHOICE
New York Democratic Convention Today Probably Will Not Instruct Its Ninety Delegates.

New York, April 11.—Talk of Mayor W. J. Gaynor as a compromise candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination was the chief topic among delegates arriving here today for the Democratic State convention, which will take place tomorrow to select ninety delegates to the National convention. It is conceded that the New York delegation will not be instructed, although it is expected the State's solid vote will be cast for Gaynor.

Donward revision of the tariff will be made the paramount issue in the platform to be presented to the convention by the committee on resolutions. The Rochester platform of 1910 will be reaffirmed and the administration of Gov. Dix endorsed. High prize will be given to the leadership of Representative Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee in the National House, and the legislative program of the Democrats in Congress will be approved.

ALL LEVEES ARE STILL HOLDING

LUXORA, ARK., IS THE POINT OF GREATEST DANGER FROM FLOOD TODAY.

REFUGEES AT MEMPHIS

Fifteen Families Rescued From Rafters of Homes at New Madrid Today.

Special to The Times. Memphis, April 11.—All the upper Mississippi river levees now seem safe except at Luxora, Ark., where the base of the levee is weakening. The entire community including nearby farmers are at the river front strengthening the levee.

The lower river dykes were still holding this forenoon, but the water in the lower reaches is still rising. Fifteen families were taken from the rafters of their homes at New Madrid, Mo. Several thousand refugees are being cared for here. An aged negro who was rescued from a perilous position on top of his floating cabin by a steamboat, became so interested in the steamboat, the like of which he had never been aboard before, that he fell overboard and drowned.

NEXT SATURDAY WILL BE TAG DAY

Tags Will Be Sold By Civic League Ladies to Raise Funds for Park Work.

Next Saturday, April 13th will be observed as tag day in Wichita Falls by the Ladies of the Civic League. On that day the ladies will sell tags to raise funds for park improvements and maintenance and for the other civic enterprises. The sale of tags is the only method by which the ladies have for raising funds for meritorious and unselfish work and one of their tags next Saturday will be a badge of progressiveness and patriotism.

PROMISE TO MARRY WAS MADE IN PARK

Man Dies and Woman Pushes Breach of Promise Suit Against His Estate.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 11.—Judge Michael Sheridan last week admitted to probate the will of Evan J. Morgan, who died Feb. 19, leaving $85,000 to relatives and several $2000 bequests to Welsh-church missionary societies and institutions for the care of old ministers.

The court has allowed six months for filing all claims against the estate. One of the claims may be that of Mrs. Emma Louise Howell, age 53, of Denver, who, on Sept. 22, 1911, sued Morgan in Milwaukee county circuit court for $20,000 damages for alleged breach of promise. The circuit court action is still pending in that tribunal and Mrs. Howell's attorney will determine within the six months allotted for filing claims whether or not to transfer the matter to the probate court.

The point is whether the death of Morgan will wipe out the cause of action in the circuit court or whether the cause of action still survives. Mrs. Howell's former husband was for many years the minister of a Welsh Presbyterian church of Milwaukee, and Morgan was a member of the church.

In her complaint Mrs. Howell states that it was on Sept. 29, 1909 that Morgan promised to marry her. She said they went to Tuller's park, South Denver, and there Morgan, she says, told her she had been a splendid wife to his friend, the minister, and now that he, too, was a widower, he would like to marry her. She consented, she says, and he set the date of marriage for the following May.

During an examination before a notary in Denver Mrs. Howell testified that Morgan then went on a trip to Wales and that in May, 1910, she wrote to him about his promise. She says that her letter came back to her in a lawyer's envelope with the following written at the top: "You surely have made a mistake."

Morgan's will is dated June 26, 1909, about three months previous to the date Mrs. Howell says he promised to marry her.

Mrs. A. H. Carrigan left this afternoon for Mineral Wells, where she will remain for some days visiting friends.

INDIAN CLAIMS BILL UP IN HOUSE

Washington, D. C., April 11.—Representative Stephens called up for consideration yesterday in the house the Indian depredations bill which carries claims totaling $500,000, of which $200,000 would go to Texas claimants if the measure is passed.

After a debate running until late this evening no vote was taken and the bill went over until next Wednesday. These claims which are for damages suffered at the hands of marauding Indians and Mexicans were thrown out of the court of claims on the ground that the claimants had failed to establish their citizenship. This involved many Texans who considered that when Texas was annexed by the United States that this act made them citizens of this country and acts of naturalization were unnecessary. The Stephens bill provides that these claimants need only prove that they were inhabitants of the United States when they suffered the loss of their property and under that construction it is believed it will be easy to prove their claims before the court of claims.

During the progress of the argument Representative Garner replied to the charge of Minority Leader Mann that the bill had been only reported out because of the changes that had taken place in the co-membership. Mr. Garner showed that two Republican committees had reported the bill favorably, one report being over the protest of Vice President Sherman who was then chairman of the committee and that but for the opposition of Speaker Cannon the bill would have long since become a law.

The lower river dykes were still holding this forenoon, but the water in the lower reaches is still rising. Fifteen families were taken from the rafters of their homes at New Madrid, Mo. Several thousand refugees are being cared for here. An aged negro who was rescued from a perilous position on top of his floating cabin by a steamboat, became so interested in the steamboat, the like of which he had never been aboard before, that he fell overboard and drowned.

ABOUT THE WORLD'S NEWEST REPUBLIC

Dr. W. P. Chalfant Talks About New Conditions in China—Will Lecture Tonight.

An interesting recital of the progress China has recently made is told by Dr. W. P. Chalfant, for 26 years a resident of China, who will lecture tonight at the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. Chalfant lived in Chantung province, in northern China, for over a quarter of a century, and is thoroughly familiar with the new conditions existing in the Far East. He is connected with the theological department of the Christian University in China, the Union Theological Seminary being under the joint control of the Baptists and Presbyterians.

"The change in China has been marvelous in every respect," said Dr. Chalfant. "Many trunk lines of railroad are replacing the mule carts and wheelbarrows which were used in the north and the boats which were the means of travel in the South. There is a trunk line from Peking to Hankow and this is to be extended later to Canton, a distance of 2500 miles."

"The Chinese are shipping iron from Hankow to San Francisco, Seattle and New York.

"In the new political regime, the young men who were educated along western lines and in foreign countries are leading. The chief difficulty lies in the fact that the great masses of the people are ignorant and illiterate and it is not going to be easy to establish a new government among them. Many of these most familiar with Chinese conditions believe that a limited monarchy would better serve, for present purposes, than a republic. The Chinese are essentially a peace-loving people and they want to be let alone."

"China is very friendly towards the United States for two reasons. First, because they realize that this country is not after any Chinese territory; second, because of the return of the Boxer indemnity money. You remember that all of this money was actually used to satisfy the claims was returned, with the provision that it be used to educate young Chinese in this country. This has done much to popularize the United States in Chinese minds."

"Yuan Shi Kai, the president, is not one of the modern faction in China. He is an old man, very shrewd and capable, and understands China thoroughly. I believe that the Chinese republic will be modeled more after France than after the United States. It will be along less democratic lines than ours."

Favorable Baseball Weather. By Associated Press. New York, April 11.—Clear weather prevailed today in every big city where the National and American League teams were scheduled to start the 1912 baseball season.

HOUPERT FLEW OVER CITY TODAY

MOISANT AVIATOR MADE PRETTY FLIGHT FROM LAKE WICHITA TO TOWN AND BACK.

FLIGHTS AT THE LAKE

If Weather Conditions Are Favorable Houpert and Alvarez Will Fly This Afternoon.

The spectacle of a monoplane flying 4000 feet above the city was presented to the gaze of Wichitans today shortly after 12 o'clock when Andre Houpert, a Frenchman connected with the Moisant aviation, made a flight from Lake Wichita over the city, and returned landing a short distance from his starting point.

The flight was witnessed by practically every one in Wichita Falls and attracted much attention. There were many who had feared that the wind today would prevent the flights this afternoon, but these fears were quieted when Houpert made his appearance, and now that he has demonstrated to the people that he really can fly, the success of the meet today, Friday, Saturday and Sunday is practically assured. The Northwestern brought to this city today hundreds of people from Oklahoma, and more are expected to arrive tonight. Most of these will remain in the city until after the end of the meet, and numbers of others will arrive here from all points tomorrow and Saturday.

It was announced yesterday afternoon that an exhibition flight over the city would be made between the hours of 5 and 6 o'clock, but about 4 o'clock the wind began to get stronger and stronger until it was decided by Houpert to postpone the exhibition flight until this morning. Starting from Lake Wichita, he came straight towards the city, and when he had reached a point almost directly over the Wichita River, he circled and started back to the lake at a height of about three or four thousand feet. The flight lasted about twenty minutes, and a distance of about fifteen miles was covered.

During the flight this morning, Houpert dropped one thousand hand bills to some of which admission tickets were attached, the wind carried most of these beyond the reach of the people in the city, but it is said that a number were picked up. The finders of the tickets will be admitted to the flights at the lake upon presentation.

This afternoon's flights are scheduled to begin between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock, although it is probable that they may not begin until 5 or 6 o'clock on account of weather conditions. Two or three flights will be made, and Signor Francisco Alvarez will make at least one. Miss Moisant has not stated definitely whether or not she will fly today, but it is not thought that she will make a flight this afternoon. At 2 o'clock, the wind had subsided considerably and those in charge of the meet say that there is little doubt but that the flights will be made.

Hundreds went out to the lake this afternoon to witness the flights.

KEMP HEARD GOOD NEWS IN NEW YORK

J. A. Kemp returned yesterday from points in the north and east, where he has been for several weeks past. Mr. Kemp had little to say regarding his trip, but intimated that there would be something to give out later on.

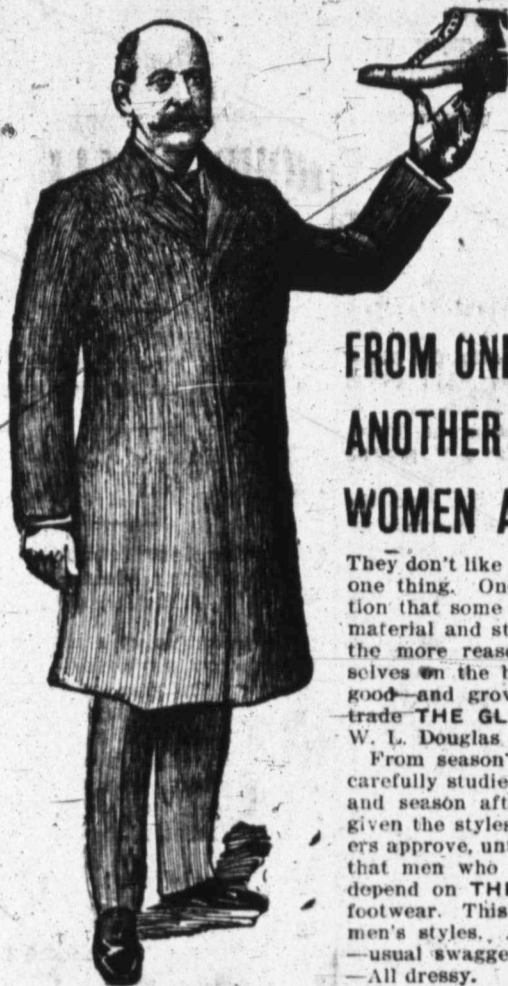

"I feel that the prospects for Wichita Falls this year are the best in her history," said Mr. Kemp. "I learned of several things to her advantage while I was away, and while there isn't anything to give out at present, I think there will be some good news within a few days."

FALSE REPORT THAT POPE IS DEAD

The Pope is not dead. Papers in the United States and throughout the civilized world got out extras on the false Madrid report.

Queer Stories in a Few Words

Publishes Public Apology and Swears Off Drinking.
Christ Dennison of Bellevue, Ill., has published in a local paper an apology to all he may have offended while in his cups and promises that he will never touch another drop.

He explains that he does not know who or how many he insulted when he was drinking and wants to make his amends to them all at once and start with a clean slate.

Tube Skirt Cuts 12 Yards From Each Woman's Garments.
It is estimated by the Cotton Manufacturers' Association in session at Washington that the "tube" skirt and its accompanying lack of undergarments reduced the amount of cloth worn by each woman to the extent of 12 yards a year.

In dollars and cents the loss to manufacturers is enormous, but they are cheered by hopes of the coming skirts of hoop variety.

Gets Invitation to Attend "Anniversary" of Brandy.
Robert Adamson, secretary to Mayor Gaynor of New York, has received from his father-in-law, George S. May of South Kirkwood, Ga., a formal invitation to the birthday celebration of two bottles of brandy, which are 100 years old.

The bottles that are to be opened up have been in the family for 70 years, and are the last of a case presented to Mr. May's father by a New York merchant.

Heart Disease Expert Watches Disease Showily Kill Him.
Dr. John Musser, one of the greatest authorities on diseases of the heart, was a victim of his own speciality in Philadelphia.

He had followed the progress of his malady and an hour before death recognized its approach and called his doctors and family and said goodbye.

Relative of Harmon is Father of Quadruplets.
Mrs. J. A. Thalograph of Guthrie, Okla., gave birth to four boys, all of whom are alive and vigorous.

The father of the quadruplets is a third cousin of Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio.

Former Senator "Tends Store" So Merchant Can Vote.

Morgan S. Blakeley, who has been mayor of Hartford, governor of Connecticut and United States senator, heard that Louis Spigel had not voted for Mayor Louis B. Cheney of Hartford, because he had no one to keep open his shoe store while he went to the polls.

Mr. Bulkeley hurried around in his auto, sent the shoe merchant to the polls in it, and sold shoes until the man came back.

Undertaker Writes Own Death Certificate and Kills Himself.
Before committing suicide by gas, Robert Thompson, 40, an embalmer employed at 438 Court street, Brooklyn, carefully filled out his own death certificate and made other funeral arrangements.

It is believed melancholia caused by his work prompted the act.

Coming 4000 Miles to Attend Town Meeting and Protest.
Edward B. Owen, a wealthy resident of Stockbridge, Mass., is coming 4000 miles from Italy to attend a town meeting there. The next day he will start back to Italy.

The town wants part of Owen's property to straighten a street, and Owen objects.

The Use of Bold Embroideries.
A charmingly original development of midnight blue crepe meteor, grass green marquisette and Burlington embroidery is worked out in the model of today's sketch—a calling gown for spring days. The skirt is of the dark musaline, and the tunic of sheerest voile is mounted to the waist band with considerable fullness that is evenly arranged in small gathers at the top and gathered again into the wide embroidery band that completes the length.

The bodice has a narrow banding of the Burlington embroidery covering the edges of the kimono side sections and inclosing, at the same time, a vest of white chiffon cloth that crosses over a tucker, also of the chiffon. The narrow bandings are lined with crepe and have the ends turned up diagonally to droop over the high draped girdele. The girdele is of the crepe meteor.

In the back, which the sketch does not show, these bands are continued straight down into the belt and the narrow band has the lower edge from the left side meeting the upper edge from the right, so that the two ends form a straight line. Conspicuous patterns worked out in a mingling of long outline stitches and solid embroidery in curious color combinations are used with apparent indiscriminate on all types of costumes, yet always with telling effect. Generally, there is a delicate touch—a tucker or a tunic yoke of white lace or fine white net, perhaps, it contrasts attractively with the heavy embroidery of the trimmings.

The embroidery here used, embodying as it does, a grass green background, deep blue, that is almost black-like, the meteor of the skirt in the long stitches, and red in the central motif placed in an ellipse of white, is very expressive of the nature of the embroideries that are regularly being used this spring.

Very wide bands often appear about the foot of straight skirts, with the tunic dropped to meet them, or else tucked under the upper edge. In the latter case there is always some fullness.

It's a poor spirit medium who hasn't a ghost of a show.

Engagement rings are still popular in court circles.

MAY USE SAND FOUND NEAR BOWIE

Tests Will Be Made to Determine Whether This Sand Can Be Used in Glass Manufacture.

T. S. O'Bear returned this morning from Dallas, where he has been attending to matters in connection with freight rates for the glass factory he is soon to establish here. He expects to leave shortly for St. Louis to complete arrangements for building the plant.

Mr. O'Bear will have tests made of samples of sand found at Bowie, believed to contain sufficient silica for glass-making purposes. So far, no sand has been found in Texas suitable for glass manufacture and the result of the tests of the Bowie sand is awaited with considerable interest. If the Bowie sand does not prove to be available, the supply will be obtained from Refs, Okla.

The class of labor to be employed both at Mr. O'Bear's factory and at the window glass plant is of unusually high paid men, the workers earning $5 to $7 daily. With two plants of this kind in Wichita Falls, the amount disbursed monthly would be quite appreciable.

Many babies have been launched into life with constitutions weakened by disease taken in with their mother's milk. Mothers cannot be too careful as to the food they use while nursing their babies.

The experience of a Kansas City mother is a case in point:

"I was a great coffee drinker from a child, and thought I could not do without it. But I found, at last, it was doing me harm. For years I had been troubled with dizziness, spots before my eyes and pain in my heart, to which was added, two years later, a chronic sour stomach.

"The baby was born seven months ago, and almost from the beginning, she, too, suffered from sour stomach. She was taking it from me!

"In my distress I consulted a friend of more experience and she told me to quit coffee; that coffee did not make good milk. I have since ascertained that it really dries up the milk.

"So I quit coffee and tried tea and at last cocoa. But they did not agree with me. Then I turned to Postum with the happiest results. It proved to be the very thing I needed. It not only agreed perfectly with baby and myself, but it increased the flow of my milk.

"My husband then quit coffee and used Postum and quickly got well of

Some people have an idea that in order to have a bank account, they must have a large sum to deposit; that the bank does not care to be bothered by small accounts.

TWO CONVICTED ON COUNTERFEITING CHARGE

Chas. Sherman and Thomas Kerns, Who Were Arrested Near McCauley Found Guilty in Federal Court.

Abilene, Texas, April 11.—At about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the jury in the case of the government vs. Chas. Sherman and Thomas Kerns, charged with counterfeiting and having in their possession counterfeit molds, brought in a verdict of guilty, having been out in the case for two hours or more.

Sherman was convicted on two counts, that of passing counterfeit money and having in his possession counterfeit molds, while Kerns was convicted on only one count, that of passing counterfeit coins.

Sentence will be passed on the defendants later in the term. These men were arrested near McCauley a month or so ago and the defendant Sherman, when searched, had upon his person crude counterfeiting molds for making half dollars and dollars and a few half dollar pieces of the spurious coins.

The arrest was made at the home of Thomas Kerns by local officers who had been watching them for several days.

Kerns made a fight for his liberty, employing an attorney to defend him, claiming that he was innocent of any knowledge even of Sherman's alleged operations but in the testimony it was developed that each of the defendant had passed spurious coin at the post-office at McCauley, or at least that was the testimony adduced with witnesses in the trial.

Sherman claims Oklahoma as his home and is supposed to be an unmarried man, though but little has been obtained by officers as to his history.

Kerns is a married man and has a wife and seven children, three brothers, living at Snyder and who attended the trial.

Judgment by default was rendered in the case of J. E. Spencer, of Cross Plains, Callahan county, against V. R. Coons, for $2,260.98, judgment being for the plaintiff.

DISTILLERY MADE TO AID TEMPERENCE

Woman Who Inherits Income From Booze Factory Spends it All in Opposition.

(Waco Times-Herald) A very interesting story is related regarding a gentleman who formerly lived in Waco, and who married a prominent young woman of this city.

The story more nearly concerns his mother than it does the gentleman himself, though it affects him, also. It appears that his father left to his mother, in Ireland, a large distillery which produces a famous brand of whiskey and one which is much in demand, causing a large output of the product. The distillery is in the hands of trustees, but according to the mother of the gentleman who formerly lived here is to receive the entire proceeds of the distillery after running expenses and maintenance are paid.

She will not receive a penny for herself or children, but turns every dollar of profit of the distillery into the coffers of the temperance workers, thus making the distillery an agency for fighting its own business.

She has done this for years and still maintains this attitude. It is an unusual condition, and one which makes it of sufficient interest to relate, even though the names of the parties are withheld, as several parties here know the facts given to be absolutely correct.

Col. T. N. Jones is convinced that the pros are injuring their cause by advocacy of Gov. Wilson.

Col. T. N. Jones is convinced that the pros are injuring their cause by advocacy of Gov. Wilson. At last accounts, however, we recall none of the Wilson pros who loaned the ant chairman any scrap books with which to sharpshoot their brethren.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

Rev. J. Frank Norris may be guilty of some terrible deeds, but this paper does not believe that he endeavored to shoot himself, or that he burned the First Baptist church of Fort Worth, or that he burned his own home. The evidence that was presented at his trial last week was a chance or a venue was enough to make an outside believe that a gigantic conspiracy had been formed by his enemies of the Fort Worth to ruin this man. It was testified to by men of standing in Ft. Worth that men had threatened to run him out of Fort Worth. Also one man said he should be burned at the stake while one man said he was willing to lead a mob to hang him. This shows that there was some desperate work done by some one. It also clearly demonstrates that Fort Worth needs a cleaning up, and the work should not be started in the slums, but in the stations higher up.—Childress Index.

There is a strong probability that the "ownership" of the Republican party in Texas is going to change hands. Col. Lyon, who now holds it, is appealing to the Attorney General of the State for a ruling on the Terrell election law, and his appeal has been denied. As is known, the Terrell election law conflicts with the national law, which is his present intention. This will not prevent MacGregor, Taft's representative in Texas, from holding primaries according to the Republican way of doing things, and then it will be up to the Republican National convention to decide which—Lyon or the MacGregor faction will be seated. The way it looks now, Col. Lyon may win and yet lose. There is but little doubt but that the Taft delegates will predominate at the Republican National convention, and in the event the Texas delegation is needed to clinch matters, all that will be necessary is for the committee on credentials to seat the MacGregor faction and unseat the Lyon faction. Such political tricks are characteristic in National conventions, and what has been done along that line can be done again. It is time yet, however, for the plebunters to desert and crawl into the Taft band wagon, and they are doing this very thing at a rate that is really amusing to the disinterested on-looker.

WORKING LIKE A HIRED HAND.

A boy complained to his father that he was required to work like a hired hand. Maybe he was, but how does a hired hand work as compared with the owner of the business—the boss? The hired hand comes to work in the morning and there is nothing to occupy his mind but the work he is put at. But the boss has a dozen matters on his mind. He must, besides his own work, lay out the work for the others; he must meet people and look pleasant and cheerful, no matter how many worries he may have; he must placate the fellow who has a grievance and get rid of the fellow in a pleasant manner who wants to tell him how to run the business; he must lay plans for tomorrow, for next week and for next year, he must answer the call of a bill collector and sometimes dig up the last cent to pay him;—and then he must wonder where he is going to get money to pay the hired hand Saturday night;—all this and more must he do and yet keep up his own work. When night comes the hired hand goes free to sleep and rest or to amusement as his fancy dictates, but the boss stays with the business, he takes it home in his mind and often it stays with him to the banishment of any degree of satisfactory rest. Sunday the hired hand is free again, but the boss is still on the job. He takes the business to Sunday school with him. It stays with him at church and while the preacher prays it pushes itself in; and when the man of God sets up to preach it still demands that he have consideration, that it is of far more importance than the worship of God and the teaching of His word. What boss would not exchange jobs with the hired hand if he could? But he can't unload. If the boss worked as few hours and with as little concern as the hired hand, the business would take wings and fly away.—Hefetta Independent.

A SERMON ON BROADER CHRISTIANITY.

At the request of a patron, the Times reproduces excerpts of a sermon delivered at the First Presbyterian church at Frederick, Okla., last Sunday by the pastor, Rev. C. A. Harris, as taken from the Frederick Leader. It is a new kind of religion for a man professing the Presbyterian faith to advocate, and a kind of religion that doubtless coincides with the views of many church-going people. As for the times, that kind of religious doctrine does not appeal to it strongly. A service of unusual interest and uplifting results was held at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning. The pastor, Rev. C. A. Harris, took for his subject, "New Bottles or New Wine," basing his discourse on Mark 2: 22. After showing briefly the historical setting and meaning of the text, he proceeded to its application to modern church conditions, saying in part:

"Now, as in the time of Christ's earthly ministry, the spirit of Jesus Christ needs no forms for its self-expression. The present-day forms and methods of the church are crude and out of date and inadequate to the needs of the spirit of Jesus Christ, as found in our modern developed complex life and scientific education." Defining the characteristics of the modern mind and modern method as unprecedented in world history, owing to the development of our scientific, civil and social life, the pastor proceeded to show how this affected religious views, and made it necessary for the church to change, not its point, but the manner of its attack. Continuing, he said:

"The old appeal to fear and the selfish element in man with the tones, not of divine, but of church and pulpit authority, may appeal to the sensational and the simple minded, but not to thinking, intelligent men, affected with the spirit of the age. We demand an appeal to the better elements of the gospel addressed to our hearts through our intelligence; a gospel of common sense and practical serviceableness. More intelligent, broad-minded, fine-thinking, clean-lived men are unchurched because of the lack of the pulpit's appeal to our better elements of manhood and our modern intelligence than any other one thing today."

"The doctors and scribes of Jesus' day were very resourceful law-makers and framers of ethical codes. They were asked the question whether one could eat and drink with him on Sunday without moral defilement. After three months of most profound deliberation they reached the conclusion that if the hen that laid the egg was kept for the purpose of laying eggs, one would be morally tainted, but if the hen was kept for eating purposes, one would not be defiled. In regard to Sabbath observance, they said, one might walk out on the Sabbath day 2000 paces from the city walls without defilement, but if one walked 2002 paces, he would become morally defiled. This is laughable, but no more so than some of the moral standards set up by self-appointed moral censors of today, who do it in the name of religious authority. Allow me to mention a few:

"Some say that the man who goes to the theatre cannot be a Christian; that he is a hell-bound man. He places the ban on the stage presentation of such great plays as Lew Wallace's 'Ben Hur,' Goethe's 'Faust,' Dante's 'Divine Comedy,' and Shakespeare's great moral dramas. He refuses me the right to avail myself of the education, inspiration, broadening and uplifting influences of the staged genius of the centuries. No man who is acquainted with the part the theatre has played in education, and who knows the uses made of the theatre for the presentation of biblical scenes by the church of Jesus Christ as recorded in our authoritative history, will pass a wholesale condemnation upon the theatre. 'Again, you condemn dancing. You say a virtuous young woman will not dance; that the girl who dances is immoral. Oh, you may dance a clog or a hoe-down when you feel that way, but you must not dance gracefully, scientifically, to the accompaniment of music. Why? I ask. And the only answer given is, 'O, 'cause,' or 'Because I don't think it right.' Yet modern, scientific educators and some of the most noted physicians in the land advocate dancing as healthful exercise and having a cultural value for form and movement of figure. 'You say the man who plays cards will go to hell. You may play games with blocks of wood, bones, ebony ivory, or you may play games with bits of pasteboard if they have numbers or the names of our presidents written upon them without moral taint, but if those bits of cardboard bear the images of kings and queens and hearts, you are damned. Why? 'O, 'cause.' 'But men gamble with cards. So do they with dominoes and chess and checkers. Men gamble with money. Then why not in the name of common sense say that the man who handles money is damned? But the man who condemns the cards worships the money and will make dishonest transactions to get it. 'Now, I am not advocating dancing, card playing, or theatre going, neither do I condemn them. But I am arguing this: That no man has any authority to set himself up a censor of public morals, and unchurch and condemn every man who does not believe just as he believes. God has confidence in man; Jesus Christ believes in men. He gave them two commandments, love to God, and love to man, and said this fulfilled the law. 'O, consistency, thou are a jey!' 'Thou hypocrite, why dost thou tittle mint and anise and cummin and neglect the weightier matters of love and mercy and faith? Why dost thou strain out a gnat and swallow a camel? Why dost thou quibble over the trifles of a petty piety and neglect the great law of love of your neighbor? Why dost thou make hair-splitting distinction in regard to matters which can be settled by no law and yet practice the things condemned by even the moral standards of the street? 'Moral science is a normative science. I suggest the study of the works of Professor Royce, Muirhead, Stearns, and Quarles. Professor McCurdy, in the preface of his great work on 'History, Prophecy and the Moral Sciences,' says one of the benefits of historical study is that it gives breadth of view and makes a man slow to condemn and ready to see the good in those who differ with him. 'This Bible of mine is too full of big things. If it is too short, time is too precious, for me to tiddle with the little things of a petty piety. We are getting so religious that we have lost our Christianity. 'The speaker mercilessly scored appeals to fear and selfishness, continuing in forcible language to advance arguments and facts with a logic that so appealed to his audience that they listened with rapt attention through a sermon which lasted an hour and ten minutes. In closing his service he said, in part: 'If it is expected of me to preach a gospel of mere sentiment, to deal in blood and thunder and in tales of horror and deathbed scenes, I want to know it and will vacate the manse before another Sunday. 'He urged those who did not care to listen to a thoughtful, solid gospel presentation to go elsewhere to service, declaring that he refused to "cater to the nervousness of any people or lower the dignity of the function of the pulpit."

"The sermon closed with a climax when Rev. Harris carried his audience back to the Christ of history and said if there was a man in the audience who wanted to join the church because it was right, because he wanted to help the church and the church to help him, who accepted the Christ of history as his Savior and the word of God as the guide to his faith and practice, interpreting it for himself under the influence of the spirit of the Christ, he had an opportunity to do so then and there. The appeal was responded to by a number of his auditors.—Frederick Leader.

Hon. Morris Shepherd writes a friend from Battle Creek, Mich., to the effect that his health has greatly improved, and that while he sincerely hopes that Hon. Cone Johnson, who is now in a sanitarium will recover his health and remain in the race for the senatorship, but in the event he is forced by ill health to retire, that he (Shepherd) will re-enter the contest. In addition to Mr. Shepherd, there are two or three others waiting to see what Mr. Johnson's intentions are, among the number being ex-Gov. Campbell, Congressman Henry and Jack Beall.

Attorney General Lightfoot has withdrawn from the race for that office, or rather has decided not to become a candidate for re-election, and Hon. B. F. Looney of Greenville, one of the brightest and most able lawyers of Texas, has announced for the office.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Republican Wool Bill.

New Orleans States. The republican minority in the national house has drafted a bill purporting to reduce the tariff duties on wool, but what its effects will be cannot be known until an examination of the measure has been made. What is not doubtful, however, is that the democratic bill is more satisfactory and more likely to command the confidence of the country than the republican bill because the authors of the latter are responsible for many of the tariff inequities which they now confess ought to be abolished. In the event, however, that the outcome of the debate is the adoption of a compromise measure, President Taft will have trouble on his hands. He will be unable to sign such a bill without offending many of his stand-pat supporters, and to veto it, if he takes that course, will convince the American people that no tariff reform worthy of the name is to be expected while he is in office. Any reform of the wool schedule is sure to send a cold shiver down the backs of the high protectionists, for they have long been convinced that with the tariff wall broken at that point the whole structure will be overthrown. But the country would benefit enormously should the wool men be compelled to accept a reasonable duty, for then they will have no motive for spiling to keep the other abnormally protected interests in possession of the loot they now enjoy.

Detestable Selfishness.

Austin Tribune. Last week a salesman from an adjoining city boasted that he had sold three thousand dollars worth of dress goods to Austin women in the preceding ten days. He had kept a dressmaker at the Driskill busy fitting Austin women with goods which should have been purchased of and fitted by home merchants and dressmakers. Many of these women have not stopped to think that their husbands make their money out of Austin people. They collect their rents and reap their profits from Austin business men, and a sense of broad-gauged self-interest should dictate that their expenditures be made with the people who support them. But the fact is that a detestable selfishness dominates many people, and in spending money, there is not the slightest consideration given to any idea save self-indulgence. Some slick-tongued artist who thinks there is distinction in buying away from home and the money, that spent at home would add to home property, goes to aliens who laugh at the silliness of the victims they fleece. Husbands who derive their incomes from Austin's enterprise should see no it that their wives are taught to disburse those incomes with a view to keeping the money where it can be gathered together again to keep those incomes coming.

POLITICAL ETCHINGS.

Possibility of a New Party. There is some question as to whether or not Theodore Roosevelt will lead a new party in case he fails to secure the Republican nomination for President at the Chicago convention. Such a defection from the ranks as this would in a measure correspond to the People's party, or as it was generally called, the populist party. The cause would be different, it is true. The latter was principally a free silver organization, but it obtained its votes from the section where most of the present Roosevelt sentiment is claimed to be and it represented, to a certain extent, the same spirit of revolt that is back of the Roosevelt campaign. In the election of 1892, the year after the People's party was organized, James B. Weaver, its candidate for President, received 1,041,082 votes and twenty-two votes in the electoral college. That year was the only one since the Civil War in which the candidates of any party except the Democratic and Republicans received any votes in the electoral college. Four years after the entry of the People's party into the political arena it endorsed the Democratic candidate, William J. Bryan. In 1911, a faction of the organization bolted and formed the anti-fusion People's party, and its candidate received 50,873 votes. In 1904, with Thomas E. Watson as its candidate, it received 117,183 votes; in 1908—the same candidate was given only 29,100. Practically, it has ceased to exist. In its day it was a powerful political organization, represented in State Legislatures and in both houses of Congress. Yet its existence was comprised within the space of about twenty years. Its gains at the expense of the two older parties were but temporary.—Schenectady Gazette.

Champ Clark's Surprising Strength

Later returns from the election in Wisconsin show that too much was claimed at the outset, for Woodrow Wilson. The vote for Champ Clark was much bigger than it was at first reported to be. The Speaker of the House of Representatives made large inroads upon the State delegation all of which had been confidently claimed for Wilson. The official count may be necessary to show exactly how Wisconsin's twenty-five votes will be divided between Wilson and Clark, but there is no doubt that the Missouri candidate ran far ahead of the expectations of his rivals for the Democratic nomination. In fact, it is not easy to discover just how he came to run so well. Wisconsin is supposed to be the most thoroughly and typically "progressive" of all the States. It has only a very small Southern element in its population, or Southwestern, either. Its boundaries do not touch Missouri. The two States have little in common. And why is a Democrat for Clark unless there is some special bond of locality, section or personal relations with the man? It seems clear that the Speaker is getting the support of a large number of middle-of the road Democrats who feel that he is a Democrat before anything else, in politics. He may be a progressive or a conservative—that one can't know much about that one. He can be relied upon to play the party game in the old time way. Whatever else he may do or fail to do, he will keep his Democracy to the front and make the doctrines of his party the law of his public life. This must account for the remarkable strength of Champ Clark in the States which have so far been tested by the Democratic candidates. Next to Governor Wilson, the Speaker appears to be easily the strongest aspirant for the presidency with the masses of his party. With the men who deliver the delegates he may stand first, all the way to the Baltimore convention. He is there now and his lead is not being cut down materially.—Cleveland Leader.

Of course, there are few people who have not planned a home some time or other in their life, because it is human instinct to have a nest of your own, and good intentions are most praiseworthy; but the fact remains nevertheless that intentions lead nowhere, and while you are hesitating the cost of building material and labor is rapidly rising. ## An Appeal From The Ladies

The ladies of the Civic League wish to announce that they will have Saturday the 13th for Tag Day, this being the rather unique way in which this organization obtains funds to further civic work.

Much of this work is needed in our town just at this time, such as caring for our park, making vacant lots and unsightly spots more inviting.

The one most important move to install civic pride for a cleaner town. In view of all this we ask the men to give us a liberal patronage. Bear in mind every tag you buy is money invested to the good of your home town.

MRS. J. A. KEMP, Vice Pres. Civic League.

The above is most heartily endorsed and commended to the liberality of the good people of Wichita Falls. This is an unselfish work by our ladies and they should be encouraged.

We all want a clean and beautiful town so lend a helping hand by buying a tag. J. M. BELL, Mayor.

Yesper services will be held at the Y. W. C. A. rest room at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening. The lesson will be from the second chapter of St. John, and Mrs. T. L. Toland will be the leader.

Dr. Prothro, Dentist. Suite No. 1, Ward Building. Phone 186. 62-tfc

Just because you don't see a lot of vegetables lying out in front of your store don't think we are out, for they are in our ice box. Nice and fresh all the time. Phone Sherrod & Co. 177 and 656. 285-2tc

My motto: Miller sells it for less.

Every man in Wichita Falls should know of the good work that is going on under the auspices of the Men and Religion Club of Wichita Falls. This is a body that culminated from The Men and Religion Forward Movement, which was started here several months ago by three of the good laymen from Fort Worth. From three to four o'clock each Sunday afternoon, a Bible Study is held at the tabernacle, and for the present the International Sunday School lessons are being explained. A goodly number have been attending each Sunday afternoon, and they are praising God, and the good work to the extent that they are desirous of having every man who possibly can, come out and hear the Bible explained by one of the ablest men in the State, Dr. J. L. McKee. This is an opportunity that can only be obtained in the larger cities. The Men and Religion Club of Wichita Falls, now has a membership of sixty-four, and is growing. Every man is most heartily invited to attend the Bible Study, whether a member or not.

My motto: Miller sells it for less.

We are Practical, Prosperous and Progressive.

We have taken the wild shrubs and herbs and by working intellect into the soil and inspiration into vegetation have developed fruits and vegetables sought after by the markets of the world. We have builded cities and dotted the valleys with happy homes, and have made greater contributions towards the progress and prosperity of the nation than the citizens of any other state in the Union.

Many a girl talks of marrying again who has never been married at all.

The man who is old enough to know better is usually too old to do better.

News From Oil Fields

The runs and deliveries of the Prairie Oil & Gas Co., are varying a little since the first of the month. The runs for the first seven days of April were 75,209 barrels a day, and the deliveries were 93,960 barrels a day, representing a draft upon the reserve stocks of 18,750 barrels a day. The runs have decreased from 76,485 barrels in March and the deliveries have increased from 89,809, resulting in an increase in the demand upon the stock from 12,374 barrels to 18,750 barrels a day. This too in spite of the big wells that have lately been drilled. It is interesting to note that the production of the South Osage pools, which a little over a year ago, were producing 26,000 barrels of oil a day, are still making 6,300 barrels daily. This is holding up pretty well when it is taken into consideration that these wells at first fell off very rapidly. Hamilton Switch pool is coming up again. The production of this pool at one time was 12,000 barrels a day. Then it dropped down to 600 barrels a month, where it was last month. Now it is up to 1,700 barrels a month. The Osage nation is now making about 25,000 barrels a day. This is the best district in the Mid-continent field at the present time. The Big heart district has been doing some fine work in maintaining the production of the Osage. A few months ago the production of the Osage was only about 19,000 barrels a day. There have been no gushers, but there have been many 200 and 300 barrel wells drilled around Bigheart, and they have been holding up nicely. The Pawnee county pool, including everything south of the river at Cleveland, is now making about 11,500 barrels a day, whereas it was making 12,500 barrels the first of the year. The several big wells of late have not regained the losses sustained by the falling off of the old wells and the decrease in new work. It is possible however, that if many wells are drilled into the Bober sand and it develops according to expectations that the production of a few months ago will be exceeded in a short time. The Morris pool is coming up. It now has a daily production of 2,300 barrels. This is the best output that field has ever had. It is not unlikely that it will be increased. The Jenks pool is just about holding its own. It is producing about 3,000 barrels a day. This is pretty good condition taking all things into consideration. These figures are given that the fraternity may keep a sort of tab on the general results of field operations for after all it is the daily production more than anything else that tells the story.—Independence Reporter.

The Archer County Oil Co., will make a location for its first test tomorrow. The well will be drilled on the Marcus ranch near Archer City. Officials of the Lone Star Gas Co. announce that it will be serving gas to Denison, Sherman and Gainesville before August 1. The People's Oil and Gas Co., recently organized here has already secured franchisees in those towns and in event they are entered by the Lone Star Co., it is probable the People's Company will also extend their lines to Fort Worth and Dallas to compete with the Lone Star Company in those cities.

J. J. Perkins and Cell P. Fowler were among a party which went down to the Dr. Miller well in Archer county this morning. It is reported that Mr. Perkins and Mr. Fowler have entered into a contract with one of the big oil companies for the development of their lease of about 15,000 acres. Their lease comes within a thousand feet of the Miller well and since the oil strike there it has become very valuable.

Drilling commenced on the Cooper oil well last Thursday morning and the drillers made rapid progress until late in the afternoon when the drill pipe was twisted in two. This caused a night's delay. Drilling was resumed Friday morning and shortly after a hard strata of rock was encountered. Things then moved along smoothly until the drill reached a depth of about 140 feet when limestone was encountered and delayed rapid progress. Sunday morning the drill passed through the limestone and drilling was good until in the afternoon when the drill dropped into a crevasse causing all the water to be lost. The pumps were kept going Sunday afternoon and night to fill the crevasse but proved fruitless. Casing was set Monday and things are now moving along quite rapidly. The drillers report a showing of copperas oil Saturday afternoon.—Childress Index.

HALL INVITED FOR COMMENCEMENT

The school board has invited Hon. W. R. Hall of Vernon to be the commencement orator at the closing of the public schools next month. Judge Hall has not yet announced his acceptance. One of the largest classes in the history of the high school will graduate next month and the program is now being prepared. People who raise objections are always sure of a bountiful crop.

GOOD ROADS DEPARTMENT

Some Road Don'ts.
 Don't build your road too wide.
 Don't drag a ridge of clogs, rocks and sod to the middle of the road and leave them there.
 Don't fail to run a harrow over the crowned road and pulverize the dirt so it will pack smooth and hard.
 Don't fail, first of all, to drain the road. You cannot maintain a road water stands on.
 Don't under any circumstances leave water standing in a puddle beside the road; drain it away.
 Don't crown a crowned road to remain crowned of itself; drag it regularly.
 Don't employ overseers who are not capable, experienced road men. Pay good wages and get good men.
 Don't fail to hire your road boss by the year, and make him work at road building only—and all the time.
 Don't leave perpendicular walls at side of road; slope the banks back.
 Don't fail to cut down your hills as much as you can.
 Don't try to remedy a mud hole by filling it with rock, drain it first; then rock it.
 Don't try to build two miles of road with one mile of money. Build good as far as you go—then maintain that much.—Kansas Good Roads Advocate.

Friberg-Thornberry.

Five votes for whiskey is not a big bunch for this neighborhood but we hope that our five friends will change their minds and make it unanimous next time.
 Miss Sallie Bowlen, principal at Thornberry, did not remain her health sufficient to resume her school duties and went to her home at McGregor, Texas. Miss Bessie Parish of Petroli, is finishing her work.
 Miss Bessie Pettit is the nurse for that new girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Poole, the 31st.
 Miss Merle Beere of Jolly, who has been nurse for that new boy born to Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Beere, will return home Saturday.
 The Ladies Aid of Thornberry will serve a pie dinner and hold a bazaar Friday evening.
 D. T. Summerville, district superintendent of the Fort Worth district, will preach and celebrate the communion of the Lord's Supper Sunday morning in the Thornberry Methodist Church.
 A. F. Gentry and J. D. Cooper are the new school trustees at the Cooper school. Mr. Baker at Thornberry, W. O. Lamb at Friberg.
 John Andree is the first boy to prepare the ground for his own personal crop. His venture will be cotton.
 Ed Pray and family, all but Misses Edna and Louise, moved to his other farm at Bacon Thursday.

The French Market Coffee Drinkers Could Not Be Fooled

Only the wonderful mountain-side coffee from Jamaica, blended with choicest berries from Guatemala, Venezuela and the Pan-American countries, would satisfy them. Cheap coffees could not be combined into that marvelously smooth and deliciously aromatic beverage that has been served for over a century at the French Market in New Orleans.

"Voyons! C'est le même que nous avons bu à Paris!"
 ("Behold! It is the same as we drank in Paris!")
 one cuivre would say to another as they sipped their coffee in the French Market.
 Then—and for a century since—

Will Wichita Falls Enter Contest?

To the Citizenship of Wichita Falls: We hear a great deal about civic improvements, sanitation, etc. Truly water, light and sanitation are fundamentals on which to build a city. To the I wish to call attention.

Since January 1, 1912 from our city have been removed over 300 loads of tin cans and common street garbage by the city force to say nothing of what individuals have done.

Yet we are far from the end, primarily, owing to the amount of work to be done; secondarily, when once the city is cleaned our citizenship soon fills the alleys with cans and combustibles, seeming to forget that fire is the most certain and deadly germicide. Sprinkle carbolic acid and lime over your old cast off garments and germs will multiply and thrive; burn them and you destroy all.

On my desk lies a proposition from Holland's magazine offering a thousand dollars in prizes for the cleanest town in Texas. It costs nothing but the effort to get 100 names to a petition to enter Wichita Falls in the contest.

The cash prize for cities of our class is $500. Should we win we would not only get this but beauty, health and happiness would be enriched many times for the effort. Should we lose the $500 we would have gained tenfold. There is no possible chance for a clear loss.

Perhaps sanitation is a hobby, yet I offer this suggestion to our citizenship. While we have a Civic League that has done much and would not think of criticising or displacing it, but perhaps it should be made more stable for this undertaking. While it should lead there should be organized subordinate leagues in each school section, one for North Wichita and one between the Valley and the Fort Worth & Denver tracks.

Especially should encouragement be given Prof. C. C. Trimble (colored) and his co-laborers in their efforts to clean up and keep clean that part of the city.

Having thus divided the city for civic cleanliness and beauty, we should be in the $500 cash prize into as many parts as we have civic divisions ranging from $125 to $25 and if we allow each division to appropriate the money to its own territory.

Dr. Carrick of Dallas will decide the contest. But hush Civic Leaguers! Before you get about too much, I want a secret session of the city fathers on Ry's Peak looking west and north.

J. R. REED, M. D.,
 Temporary chairman sanitary committee city council.

SOCIAL AQUATICS TO REPLACE THE DANCES

Informal Swimming Parties Supersede the Old-Fashioned Waltz Which Really is Boreome.

St. Paul, Minn., April 11.—The long expected swimming party at the residence of Howard Johnson, Chatsworth street and Summit avenue, was realized with a colossal splash last night under ideal conditions. Several girls and nearly a dozen men spent a pleasant amphibious evening divided between informal dancing and later an adjournment to the basement of the new house, where he sides a finely fitted up tank Mr. Johnson has a boiler, which he put together himself, to warm the water and a mushroom cellar. This being next to the tank room gives the suggestion of a woodland pond.

The weather was such that the log in the fireplace stayed until all evening. The electric lights served just as well for basking purposes.

Social swimming is not a matter of a minute or a day. Even society has to learn some things, and what to do and how to act at a swimming party is one of them in the case of St. Paul. So the party last night was in the nature of a preparatory party, of which Mr. Johnson intends giving several. The idea is to have a little group of guests happen in casually and get used to the tank Mr. Johnson will go the rounds of his acquaintanceship, until he has got them all accustomed to the tank room, so that they may learn to feel at home in the social water and that he is going to give a real live "af fair." To use the new vernacular, "it will fetch bottom at the deep end," and will be a swimming party of the first water.

The party last night was a great success. The men outnumbered the girls three to one, so that there were no "pond lilies," which is swim-jargon for "wallflowers."

Plate diving was the feature of the evening. This exciting business is intimately related to the amount of supper you get. White plates are strewn on the white bottom of the tank and then you dive down and bring up as many as you can find. You get an extra helping of the salad afterwards, for every three plates you catch. Another very popular game was the candle race. This consists in carrying a lighted candle while you're swimming. The tendency is, of course, to hurry, and haste leads to splashing and wave manufacturing which makes it hard for the candle to stay lit.

Mr. Johnson has a great future in store for his tank. About the time he got party comes off it will be entirely fitted up. He intends to have the cement walls decorated temporarily with some attractive aquatically appropriate frieze, but eventually he will have the room completely walled with mirrors. This tends to enlarge the place indefinitely and gives the swimmer the idea that he is in the ocean on a still day. The tank room is high enough so that there will be room for a spring board several feet above the water surface. The tank is seven feet at the deep end, which will make head-dive dives possible.

MUCH RAILROAD BUILDING IN TEXAS

Fort Worth, Texas, April 11.—Not since the great railroad building era of the early eighties have there been such extensive plans for railway construction in Texas as are noticeable at present, says the Texas Commercial Secretaries. In every section of the state there is great talk of railroad building by old systems and new companies.

The Houston & Texas Central has graded 28 of the 40 miles on its Stone City Giddings cut off. Contracts have been let for grading on the eastern end of the Stamford & Eastern. Grading is in progress on the San Antonio, Uvalde & Gulf and work of laying ties and rails will begin within thirty days on that line. Contracts for the construction of 62 miles of San Antonio, Rockport & Mexican Railroad have been executed in addition to a contract for the erection of docks at Harbor Island by the same company.

Reports from the K. C. M. & O. officials indicate an early resumption of work on the San Angelo Del Rio branch. The San Antonio Chamber of Commerce has accepted a definite proposition to build a road from San Antonio to Fredericksburg, the line to be in operation within eighteen months. The Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe has appropriated the sum of $1,125,000 for improvements on its Texas lines.

The attorney general recently approved the $150,000 road bond issue for Anderson county.

Eat the Cracker that Brown makes

Superior

The Brown Standard is a high standard.

The Brown idea is not to make crackers that are just as good as somebody else's, or like anybody else's, or that might be mistaken by package or contents to be somebody else's, but to make crackers that by their superior goodness will be at once recognized as "The Crackers that BROWN Makes."

If you have ever tasted Brown-made crackers of any kind you know that the Brown idea is a practical, actual, definite success.

It comes in the flour—the recipes—the artesian water—the speckless, spotless machinery that handles the products from flour to package—the clean, white tiled ovens—the perfect baking—the air, moisture and dirt-proof packages.

Try one of these—you'll be won by any one to all.

- Pan-Tan—the ginger snap with snap.
- Sodaettes—not just soda crackers, but the limit of soda cracker goodness.
- Saltines—crisp, properly salt, delicious.
- Graham Crackers—as nutritious as they are palatable-pleasing.

Grocers Recommend Them—But should yours say that he does not carry them, ask him to get them for you. If he fails you, write us and we will see that you are supplied.
