

GREAT OVATION FOR BRYAN AT JEFFERSON BANQUET

SAYS OUSLEY DIDN'T THINK EVIDENCE WAS SUFFICIENT

MEMBER OF GRAND JURY GIVES INTERESTING TESTIMONY IN NORRIS TRIAL

EXPERT TO APPEAR

This Week's Evidence to Deal With Handwriting—Norris May Address Jury Himself

Special to The Times. Fort Worth, Texas, April 13.—Two very interesting bits of testimony featured today's session in the trial of Rev. J. Frank Norris, charged with perjury.

Joel East, a member of the grand jury which indicted the pastor, testified that Clarence Ousley, foreman of the jury, said to him in the jury room "I don't believe myself that we have evidence enough to indict him." Also that Ousley said, "If we indict him, it will destroy his influence in the State."

C. D. Evans testified that Banker Reeves said that he, Reeves, was worth half a million and that he was going to put Norris in the penitentiary. Reeves had told the witness that his reason for calling Norris a liar, perjurer and thief was a "piece of paper" which Norris had sold him, secured by Dallas real estate.

Handwriting experts called by the defense to refute the charge that Dr. Norris is the author of the four anonymous letters that lay at the foundation of the perjury indictment against the pastor and which were the prelude to the whole series of mysterious circumstances that have engaged the efforts of two grand juries and the best detective skill of the country will occupy the center of the stage in the sixty-seventh district court Monday.

C. T. Watkins, the automobile dealer and former insurance company president who qualified as an expert Saturday by declaring that he had been engaged in the study of handwriting all his life, as a matter of inclination and pleasure, will conclude his testimony. Prof. C. A. Reed, of the English Business College of Dallas, and Prof. Harrell of the Dallas Commercial College and other experts placed on the stand by the defense to refute the evidence of Warren Andrews, cashier of the First National Bank and Postoffice Inspector Emmons Rolfe, the experts for the State.

A blackboard will be used by Expert Watkins to illustrate his evidence to the jury. The blackboard was brought into the courtroom when it was expected that Watkins' testimony would be resumed but adjournment by both sides carried the case over until Monday.

The testimony of all experts is based upon comparisons of the writing in the anonymous letters, and with the known writing of Dr. Norris in the grand jury room, and in the Winfield Scott article manuscript. It is admitted by experts on both sides, that identification of Roman or printed letters is difficult and whatever evidence of reliable nature may be developed must depend upon comparisons of the few script letters in the anonymous writings, with the same letters appearing in the manuscript copy of the Scott article. The only script letters in the anonymous writings are the 'Y's and N's.

pastor appeared more animated and cheerful Saturday than during the previous three days. He listened intently to the testimony of his witnesses and from time to time gave whispered suggestions to his attorneys.

PIERPONT MORGAN ATTACKED BY MOB

FLORENTINE ART LOVERS BELIEVE FINANCIER BOUGHT VALUABLE PAINTING

USES HIS CANE ON CROWD

Fights Way Through Angry Crowd and Reaches Train—Dogged by Secret Service Men

By United Press. Florence, Italy, April 13.—J. Pierpont Morgan was forced to fight his way out of Florence tonight. The American financier and his sister, Mrs. Mary Lyman Burns, were mobbed by hundreds of angry Florentines at the railway station when they sought to leave and not until the King of Wall street had furiously forced a passage through the crowd by striking about him with his heavy cane were they able to get to their train.

The crowd believed that a picture brought here by Morgan might be the famous Mona Lisa stolen from the Paris Louvre some time ago. For several days secret service men have been digging Morgan, prompted by newspaper articles which declared that the American millionaire was bargaining with secret emissaries for the famous La Gioconda. The Florence papers had printed bitter attacks upon "rich Americans who make art mercurary."

The whole Florentine, aroused by these attacks, determined that if the famous painting was in Florence it should not be taken away by Morgan. When Morgan and his sister determined to leave here this morning, they had in their baggage a painting of the American artist, which was the picture which had been stolen. This picture, many believed might be the stolen masterpiece. At the railway station when Morgan appeared with Mrs. Burns, followed by the secret service men, several hundred Florentine art lovers were on hand, and Mrs. Burns dismounted from their automobile they were greeted with a chorus of jeers and shrieks.

The crowd closed in about them and they were unable to enter the station. Gossiping about him the American financier started through the crowd. But he was unable to make headway. Telling Mrs. Burns to follow him, he began to fight his way out, but the jeering crowd declined to fall back. With flashing eyes, the Wall street power raised his heavy stick above his head and striking right and left, scattered the angry crowd before him.

JUST ONE HOUR'S NOTICE IF ENGINEERS STRIKE

Railroad Managers Are Given Until Next Wednesday to Comply to Demands

New York, April 13.—Frankly declaring that the locomotive engineers will give the railroads only one hour's notice if they decide to strike, Chief Warren S. Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers agreed to give the employers four more days of grace. He said he was satisfied to wait until next Wednesday, when, according to a letter from John F. Stuart, chairman of the railroad managers, the railroads will make definite reply to the demands of the engineers.

PARTY LEADERS SPEAK AT FEAST

JEFFERSON DAY BANQUET IN NEW YORK NOTABLE FUNCTION

WILSON AND BRYAN SPEAK

Success of Party's Cause This Year Predicted and Administration Criticized

By United Press. New York, April 13.—With Col. Wm. Jennings Bryan in the judge's box all of the important entries of the presidential sweepstakes entered by Mississippian Democracy with the exception of Speaker Champ Clark, Judson Harmon and "Tom" Marshall of Indiana were given a "warming up" gallop at the Democratic Club here tonight. The occasion was the annual Jefferson's birthday celebration of the organization and the function was converted into the most notable Democratic re-union in the recent history of the party.

In addition to Col. Bryan, who was the guest of the evening and who had a place well down on the program, speeches program with Democratic doctrine were delivered by Mayor Wm. J. Gaynor of New York; Gov. S. E. Baldwin of Connecticut; Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey; Gov. James A. Hays of Idaho; U. S. Senator James A. O'Gorman and a host of lesser lights from all over the country.

Great interest attached to the speech of Mayor Gaynor because of the belief that he is the real "dark horse" choice of no alone Bryan but of Murphy and Tammany. His topic was: "What Would Jefferson Say?" He proceeded to flay those who believe that attacks on the courts and the constitution are evidences of anarchy. Gaynor said that the justice of the supreme court here and great interest was taken in his "attack on the court."

"Jefferson," said Gaynor, "only smiled at the stupid conservatism which proclaimed that everything is all right as it is. He was a progressive, but felt his way and blazed his way all the time that we might follow."

"Jefferson opposed all forced constitutional interpretations by the court while he was living and said that if allowed to run their course the constitution and our form of government will be sapped and mined by the courts in their natural tendency to aggrandize themselves with power over the executive and legislative branches of government."

Gaynor scored the New York court of appeals for nullifying the laws prohibiting underground bake ovens, tobacco manufacture in tenements; women working at night and the employers' liability laws.

"Such decisions cause the growth of socialism," he snapped, "and should either be nullified or recalled."

REPUBLICANS FAVOR TAFT AT FORT WORTH

By United Press. Fort Worth, Texas, April 13.—Tarrant county and the Twelfth Congressional district executive Republican committee met here today and endorsed Taft for President. A Congressional district convention was also called for Fort Worth on May 16, to select delegates to the National convention. This action follows Cecil Lyons' statement that such conventions were illegal. It is said that the Roosevelt Republicans will bolt and hold a separate convention.

NORTHWEST STATES ARE SWEEPED BY STORM

By United Press. Denver, Colo., April 13.—Reports tonight from all sections of Colorado and from Southeastern Wyoming tell of the havoc wrought by the storm which swept both areas all of today.

In most of the affected territory, the storm was confined to a heavy wind which in some places approached the velocity of 60 miles an hour. The mountain sections along the western slope of the Rockies, however, the blinding snow fall accompanied the wind.

In Denver the damage was confined to demolished sign boards and awnings and broken windows. Thousands of dollars damage was done to this property however. Many pedestrians had narrow escapes, however.

RAILROAD SHOP STRIKE LIKELY

MEN ON FIFTY WESTERN ROADS MAY BE CALLED OUT SOON

UNION'S PRESIDENT TALKS

is Now in Texas Investigating Conditions and Admits General Walk-Out is Probable

By United Press. Houston, Texas, April 13.—"If we call out the shop men on the 50 railroads west of Chicago, Taft will have something to think of besides the Chicago convention." This was a comment made by J. W. Kline, International president of the Blacksmiths and Helpers Union who was in Houston yesterday and today investigating the Harriman strike situation.

"With his name George L. Baker, district secretary of the federation and J. D. Bucklow, vice president of the machinists. They will be in Kansas City next Monday to attend the meeting of the various officials of the 50 railroads west of the Mississippi."

"You think the men on these railroads will be called out in a general strike?" Mr. Kline was asked.

"I don't care to discuss it. I can't discuss that now," he replied.

"Some time ago your circular which was issued said that it was not admissible to extend the strike," he was told.

"At that time we thought so," he replied.

"Pacific coast freight, the California fruit crop and other shipments," he went on, "which should go overland through here—the southern route is being sent across the country by the Burlington and the Puget Sound line. The other roads are tending their aid in an attempt to defeat us."

"As long as they handle the shipments for the Southern Pacific that system has a chance to hold out. Would we not be justified in stopping this condition?"

TENSE FEELING AT BROWNSVILLE

SEVEN POLICEMEN IN JAIL FOR KILLING OF DEPUTY SHERIFF ANDRES WESTI

HELD INCOMMUNICANDO

Victim Was Defeated Candidate for City Marshal—Killed in A Saloon

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Texas, April 13.—Seven policemen are in jail here today in connection with the shooting last night of Andres Uresti, defeated candidate for city marshal. The shooting is political. Uresti may recover.

Brownsville, Texas, April 13.—Not since the days of the negro troop riots has Brownsville been in such excitement as now exists as a result of the shooting of Deputy Sheriff Andres Uresti Friday night. It had been expected that a preliminary hearing of the officers under arrest, charged with the shooting would be held this afternoon, but none came.

"Instead it is charged that no one—not even a physician was allowed to enter the jail. Because of existing conditions, it is next to impossible to secure anything near a correct statement as to what led up to the shooting. It is said, however, that Uresti, who was a candidate for city marshal in the recent election, had gone to a saloon to make an arrest on an assault charge. The municipal officers also came to the place. In the argument which followed, perhaps made bitter by the fact that the shooting resulted, Uresti is said to have received no less than eleven wounds."

City Marshal Crizell and two other officers who went to the scene later, were also thrown in jail, and since that time have been held incommunicado.

A special meeting of the city council was held this afternoon, when the matter was fully discussed and the report that no one was allowed to communicate with the men was made. Former Attorney General Wm. E. Hawkins headed a delegation of citizens who called on the city council and protested against the action.

Following the visit, a special committee, headed by Mr. Hawkins, was named by the citizens to investigate the confinement of the officers and the allegation that they had been refused permission to consult with the counsel. The situation early tonight is very tense and developments are momentarily looked for.

The city council has appointed ten special policemen, as the wholesale arrests of the local officers means that the entire force is in jail.

Ramsay Appeals to Women

Greenville, Texas, April 13.—Judge Wm. F. Ramsay spoke here this afternoon before a crowd which filled the opera house. His address was along the same general lines he has heretofore used, and he arraigned the present administration as before. He appealed to the women of Texas to use their influence upon the young men, upon whom the burden of maintaining good government must devolve.

ROOSEVELT WINNER IN PENNSYLVANIA PRIMARY

WILL FLY AGAIN THIS AFTERNOON

IF WEATHER WILL PERMIT AVIATORS PROMISE GOOD FLIGHTS AT LAKE WICHITA

MISS MOISANT TO QUIT

Flights This Afternoon Will Be Her Last Public Exhibition—Will Go to Pacific Coast

An unkind south wind, which blew unremittingly Friday afternoon and yesterday afternoon, caused further disappointment to the Wichtians who had hoped to see the Moisant aviators fly. This afternoon, if the weather permits, the flights will be made.

It has been the rule, the aviators say, that where a meet has a disappointing start, its finish is successful and if this rule works out in Wichita Falls, there ought to be some pleasing flights this afternoon. All yesterday afternoon and Friday afternoon the flyers waited in their tent, or "hangar" for the wind to subside, but it seemed to increase in force as the hours went by.

Today marks the end of the engagement here. Also, it marks the end of Miss Moisant's career as an aviatrix, according to her own announcement. She and her sister will leave shortly for Los Angeles.

It had been planned to go to New York City from here, but the failure of Miss Moisant's brother to reach the metropolis caused a change in plans and it was decided to go to the western coast instead. If Miss Moisant does not fly today her aviation career, so far, is an exhibition flight at least, is ended.

The announcement of Miss Moisant's retirement, which was sent out from Wichita Falls early last week, caused considerable interest in aviation circles. Miss Moisant's sister says she is glad there are to be no more flights.

"I worry myself nearly sick all the time she is in the air," she said, "and I'll certainly be glad when she stops for good. We're going out to Los Angeles where there aren't any monopolies for her to fly in."

An idea of the dangers that attend aviation is furnished by the fact that during her flying career, which lasted only a few months, Miss Moisant had three falls. While none of these resulted at all seriously, it was the sheerest luck in each case that saved her from being badly injured perhaps something worse.

Needless to say, all the members of the company are much disappointed with Wichita Falls weather and all are very earnestly hoping for a clear still day this afternoon so that flights may be made.

WILSON IS ALSO VICTORIOUS—FORMER PRESIDENT CARRIES 51 OF 57 COUNTIES

Philadelphia, Pa., April 13.—In cold figures at one o'clock Sunday morning the result of the primary seemed like this: Roosevelt carried 51 of the 67 counties; 29 of the 36 districts (40 national delegates) pledged to Roosevelt had been conceded by the Taft committee.

The State convention with power of electing 12 more national delegates was controlled by Roosevelt. This gave Roosevelt at least 52 delegates out of a total of 76.

SAFELY IN CONTROL

Wins in Pittsburg and Gets 'Even Break in Philadelphia—Strong in Country

By United Press. Philadelphia, Pa., April 13.—In cold figures at one o'clock Sunday morning the result of the primary seemed like this: Roosevelt carried 51 of the 67 counties; 29 of the 36 districts (40 national delegates) pledged to Roosevelt had been conceded by the Taft committee.

The State convention with power of electing 12 more national delegates was controlled by Roosevelt. This gave Roosevelt at least 52 delegates out of a total of 76.

The Taft headquarters counted for Taft at 1 o'clock seven counties and four districts or eight national delegates. Many counties, they said, remained to be heard from and the outcome in Philadelphia was still in doubt.

The Penrose machine conceded Roosevelt two districts or four delegates at Philadelphia. The control of the State convention by Roosevelt spells doom to the Penrose machine, the Roosevelt leaders claim.

"Rossini" was Roosevelt's leading issue and the landslide of ballots was said to have utterly smashed one of the grandest political machines in the country.

Returns up to midnight showed that Roosevelt had carried the following Congressional districts not including the Philadelphia: Seventh, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, eighteenth and twenty-eighth. There are 67 counties in Pennsylvania.

At the Wilson headquarters it shows that Governor Wilson will have the solid Pennsylvania delegations of 76 to the Democratic convention.

Talking on the long distance telephone to the White House at Washington, John O'Brien, private secretary to Senator Penrose and the Taft leader said:

"We carried every district in Philadelphia, but it looks bad for us in the State at large, particularly in the coal regions."

This partly confirms the claims of Roosevelt organization that the ex-president swept the State but it flatly contradicted the claim of the Roosevelt men that the colonel split the city.

O'Brien told the White House that he did not expect satisfactory returns before late Sunday.

Wilson's Victory Easy. Pittsburgh, Pa., April 13.—That Woodrow Wilson swept the State at the Democratic primaries is practically certain and will have practically a solid delegation at the Baltimore convention. The counting of the vote is proceeding slowly and it will be well into Sunday before definite returns will be known. Returns from the agricultural districts indicate that Roosevelt has made great headway in his candidacy and has gathered delegates carrying the anthracite coal region.

Pittsburg's eight delegates went for Roosevelt while Philadelphia gave at least half of its 12 delegates for him. Incomplete returns throughout the State show that two-thirds of the remaining 44 delegates are also Roosevelt men. The 12 delegates to be elected to the National convention May 1st will be Roosevelt men—according to pro Roosevelt papers here and in Philadelphia.

Taft men have contented themselves with the declaration that the primary vote was heavy and let it that go at that although stress is laid on the local fight.

"I am satisfied that Roosevelt carried two-thirds of the delegates to the Chicago convention from Pennsylvania," according to the returns received thus far, said William Flynn, Roosevelt state chairman at midnight to a United Press representative.

Child Labor Law Violated. Austin, Texas, April 13.—Factory Inspector Garrett returned today from a tour of inspection of industries at Houston, Galveston, Beaumont and Port Arthur and as a result he said he found several violations of the child labor law and announced that he succeeded in the eliminating of the employees at these industries that were below the legal ages.

During this inspection at Houston he appeared before the grand jury but what information he furnished that body has not yet been disclosed.

NELSON PHILLIPPS WANTS TO SUCCEED HIMSELF. Austin, Texas, April 13.—Judge Nelson Phillipps of Dallas, recently appointed by the governor to the position of associate justice of the supreme court, all the vacant year caused by the resignation of Judge Wm. F. Ramsey, today announced his candidacy for this office subject to the Democratic primaries next July. The text of Judge Phillipps' announcement which is addressed to "The Democrats of Texas" follows:

"I beg to submit my candidacy for the nomination to the position of associate justice of the supreme court, which I now hold, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries to be held in the coming July election."

"Having been born and reared in Texas, in some measure having been identified with her courts and now the incumbent of the office, I feel that without presumption I may offer my candidacy for the consideration of our people. My only claim upon their favor is whatever qualification I may possess and an earnest purpose and ambition to rule and declare the law in a manner worthy of the State and her citizenship.

"The heavy work of the court and my own obligation to devote to it an undivided service will prevent, I fear, even such a canvass as is consistent and proper for a judicial position and I can only say that should the Democracy of Texas deem me worthy of this honor, I will be grateful and will strive to deserve their confidence and trust."

Jack Booth of Stamford spent yesterday and today in the city, visiting his friends M. H. Cook and H. C. Dakan.

OVERSEER KILLED IN ERATH COUNTY

DIGGING OF DITCH BY ROAD GANG CAUSES FATAL TRAGEDY NEAR DUBLIN

NEWS RECEIVED AT WACO

Shooting Occurs in Front of Home of Prominent Farmer—No Arrests Reported

By United Press.
Waco, Texas, April 13.—A prominent Wacoan returning here this afternoon from Dublin reports the killing at Harben, four miles northeast of Dublin, about 10 o'clock this morning of Ezekiel Rihard, a road overseer in Erath county.

The trouble grew out of the building of a road ditch in front of Albert Frazier's house. When the Wacoan left Dublin this afternoon no arrest had been made. Sheriff Dave Deaton of Dublin, was out of town when the killing occurred, having gone to Hillsboro with a negro arrested for horse theft.

It was stated by the party giving the information here that when Frazier objected to the ditch being dug in front of his home Rihard desisted and consulted the county commissioner in his precinct. Acting on the latter's instructions, he reappeared with a force of men and started the work, when he was shot and instantly killed, a shot gun being used. Frazier is about 45 years old and has a family. The dead man was 23 years old and married. He and Frazier had been neighbors for over twenty years. Frazier is a prominent and well to do man, while the dead man is a son of Noah A. Rihard, one of the most widely known men in Erath county.

U. S. DEMANDS OROZCO'S DEATH

ASKS HIS EXECUTION FOR MURDER OF AMERICAN RECENTLY

FORMAL REQUEST IS MADE

Action Believed to Presage End of Present Revolutionary Disturbance in Mexico

By United Press.
Washington, D. C., April 13.—The end of Pasqual Orozco, generalissimo of the Mexican revolution has been decreed by the State Department today, it was learned on high authority tonight.

Either by official proclamation or in some other public manner the rebel chief within a few days, will be branded a murderer and a fugitive from justice. Papers with rewards for his capture will be displayed along the main border.

Formal demand will be made upon President Madero by Ambassador White that Orozco be executed for the murder of Thos. Fountain at Parral. From now on the United States will strengthen the embargo on arms and munitions of war along the main frontier and will signify in some official way its moral support of Madero.

The position into which Orozco himself has forced the United States, will prove the ruin of the revolution and its leader, is the confident expectation of the United States authorities. Uncle Sam has a long score to settle with the rebel chieftain, several murders, destruction of a number of American citizens' property and desperate affronts to this government.

The only apprehension expressed tonight was that Orozco, driven desperate by the waning of his star may attempt to force intervention by further and wholesale outrages against Americans.

Rebels Will Never Obtain Recognition.

By Associated Press.
Washington, April 13.—It now seems certain that the Mexican rebels will never obtain recognition in Washington. The State Department is incensed at the rebels' actions in the Fountain's execution, and interference with the American mail. It is the official view that the rebels are maneuvering to participate intervention, but they are doomed to failure. Any Mexican leader who in violation of the international code deliberately brings about the execution of a prisoner of war is considered guilty of murder and if he comes within the jurisdiction of the United States can be arrested and punished.

It does seem just a little strange that a man who has been abused as much as Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas can withstand the attacks and w/over his enemies every time an opportunity presents itself.

Out of all attempts on the part of the government, (both State and National) to put stripes on the trust masters, not a single conviction has yet resulted.

Whoever the Democrats nominate this year for president, whether it be Wilson, Harmon, Clark or Underwood, the ticket, in order to win, must receive the solid support of all Democrats.

Complaints are coming from many sections of the State about the enormous increase in fire insurance rates on business property, and there is likely to be some pertinent questions asked of Mr. Colquitt's insurance board.

Insurance companies are to be relied on, the working of the law has caused their losses to grow greater, and the insured is fully aware that, while he gets no more protection than was given him before, and is required to insure to the extent of 90 per cent of the value of his property, he pays more and gets less.

There is a peculiar legal question with regard to the law in Tennessee just sustained by the Supreme Court of that State, prohibiting distillers to make whiskey for shipment outside the State.

But it is objected by the dissenting opinion this makes an arbitrary and therefore unconstitutional distinction between manufacturers and dealers.

Primer Lesson on Tariffs. While potatoes are selling at $1.50 a bushel wholesale in a market as close to the garden spot of the world as St. Louis, the steamship Minnehaha brought into New York on her last voyage from the Thames 200,000 bushels whose cost is placed at a little more than 50 cents.

This little tariff lesson does not need to be carefully conned to show that the foreigners do not pay the tax and that it illustrates a multitude of instances in which the tariff promotes high living cost.

the tariff "to emancipate American agriculture and industry and create opportunity for a world wide industrial conquest by intelligent American citizens."

United States Senator O'Gorman of New York reviewed the career of Jefferson as a constructive statesman and on it predicted an arraignment of what he termed "Republican extravagance."

He referred to Jefferson's belief that the presidency should be limited to two years and declared that the effort of President Grant to lengthen his presidential to a third term would be equalled by a certain distinguished individual of this country that is deceiving himself with the hope the American citizen will confer upon him the power which Washington and Jefferson would not accept, and which was denied to the greatest of American soldiers."

O'Gorman predicted harmony at Baltimore and a united Democratic party that the presidency of Mr. Taft on the tariff he declared and then criticized the President for signing the tariff bill, then apologizing for it, then defending it and finally for vetoing the Democratic bills reducing the tariff on specified articles.

Gov. Wilson of New Jersey spoke on "What Jefferson Would Do?"

Beginning the speech which many of his hearers considered as the greatest effort of his life just before midnight Col. William Jennings Bryan swept the diners at the Jefferson Day dinner of the Democratic Club off their feet and for more than an hour discussed the developments of the present campaign with a fervor that resulted in the most unprecedented demonstration ever seen in the organization heretofore—so far as Bryanites are concerned—as the "emancipation country."

Bryan followed. Woodrow Wilson who caught a great cheer when he was introduced as the man who had just carried Pennsylvania, but the Jersey's Governor utterances were soon forgotten when Bryan launched into a declaration of progressive policy and declared that today the Democracy of the nation was the only real party of progress.

"I am surprised at the depth of the feeling here in conservative New York for progressive principles," said Bryan, "and I am pleased when I recall that these are the very principles which I proclaimed here and which were repudiated right here."

Bryan paid his respects to both Col. Roosevelt and President Taft.

"It makes no difference which of them the Republicans nominate," he said, "each of them has killed off the other."

Pleading for party harmony and declaring that if the Democrats elect a president he will not be wise enough to be president alone but will depend for his strength upon the counsel of his fellow-Democrats, Governor Woodrow Wilson's address on "what Jefferson would do" was an appeal for better feeling and stronger bonds of unity with the party of Jefferson.

"Our president can be no stronger than the party," he said, "his success will spring out of the union and energy and unselfish co-operation of his party and his party must be more than half the nation. It must include and genuinely include the best of every class and race and disposition."

BAD BRAK IN LEEVEE OCCURS AT VICKSBURG

Much Live Stock Drowned and Property Damage Heavy But No Lives Lost

Vicksburg, Miss., April 13.—Considerable damage was caused this afternoon by a break in the Mississippi levee at Allen, near this city. Men were at work on the spot when the break occurred but all escaped.

When Major Woodrow reached the break this afternoon the line was crowded with persons and livestock for miles. Motor boats and skiffs were busy going through the inundated country, rescuing persons from trees, houses, barns and fences where they had sought safety.

The steamer Alice Miller hastened to the cravasse and all her skills were used to rescue people.

At the time the break occurred at Allen, the government boat Ben Humphreys was across the river distributing sacks, along the levees in Louisiana county and she also assisted in the relief work.

Senator Randall and other prominent officials arrived on a special train from New Orleans this afternoon and held a conference with Major Woodruff after which the Senator sent an urgent telegram to Washington explaining the serious situation and urging immediate relief for the refugees, many of whom are absolutely destitute.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that upon final hearing he have judgement for the title and possession of the above described land, for judgement cancelling the claim or apparent claim of the defendants as a cloud upon his title, for writ of restitution, rents, damages, costs and for such other relief as he may be entitled to.

Herein fall not, and have you before said court on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said court at office in Wichita Falls, this 13th day of April A. D. 1912. A. F. KERR, Clerk District Court Wichita County, Texas. 287-293-299-305-311-317-323-329

HEBERLEIN SCARES RELEASE FROM REBELS

American Engineer Held by Orozco as Spy Arrives in El Paso

El Paso, Texas, April 13.—C. A. Heberlein, of Los Angeles, Cal., mining engineer who was imprisoned at Jimenez, Mexico, as a spy by order of Gen. Pascual Orozco, reached El Paso tonight. Heberlein was released Thursday and was in Chihuahua until today.

He says his appeals to American Consul Marion Letcher at Chihuahua were not delivered by the rebels. Heberlein talked freely of his imprisonment here tonight.

He declared when he reached Jimenez on the way to his mines a week ago, he was accused by the rebels of being a spy because he insisted he could not give them any information regarding the federal troops movements. He said he had not been in federal territory and knew nothing of the federal movements or plans.

"I was taken before Orozco," he said, "who commanded that I remain in Jimenez. I told Orozco that I did not recognize his authority or government and that I was an American citizen and proposed to go wherever I pleased. The same day when a trap for El Paso started from Jimenez, I was at the depot but a number of Orozco's officers tried to seize me. I fought them but they overpowered me and threw me in an ill-smelling, filthy cell with four other prisoners."

"I was held incommunicado for two days and then when I demanded that United States Counsel Letcher at Chihuahua be advised I was told I could notify him if I had my message vised. It was vised and got to Chihuahua but the rebels never delivered it. Letcher found out in some other manner about my predicament and took the matter up with the State Department at Washington."

"I told Orozco and his people that I could do anything to me they wanted but that I was an American citizen and I intended to stand on my rights and to find out what such things meant and whether it is worth anything. I guess it means something, all right, because those rebels released me because they were forced to."

COLOMBIAN SHOWS COURTESY TO KNOX

South American Minister Causes Much Agitation in Havana

Havana, Cuba, April 13.—Scant courtesy from the Central American diplomatic representatives in Cuba was accorded Secretary Knox here today and tonight diplomatic circles were widely agitated by the attitude assumed toward the American official by the Colombian charge d'affaires. The Colombian representative flatly refused to attend any of the official functions at which Knox was the guest of honor—despite earnest solicitations on the part of Cuban officials.

He also declined to furnish a Colombian flag to be used in a display of flags of the nations represented in Cuba, when Knox received the foreign representatives.

$244 SECURED FROM SALE OF TAGS

Before the ladies of the Civic League held another tag day they will make peace with the weather man and will look at the calendar to see that the day selected doesn't fall on the 13th. Like the four preceding annual tag days the weather yesterday was about as bad as it could be showing, the ladies say, that the weather man is "kicking in civic pride" as some individuals in Wichita Falls. During the coming year they will attempt to educate the weather man in civic spirit.

The proceeds from the sale of tags yesterday aggregated $244. While this was not as large a sum as secured in former years the ladies are well pleased, when they consider the weather conditions.

Elks Minstrel.

According to the publicity committee in charge of the "hot air" work in connection with the fourth annual Elks' Minstrel show, to be held on the nights of April 25th and 26th there is a white man's hope in Wichita Falls. An effort is being made to arrange a bout between this hope and Jack Johnson, a letter having already been addressed to the negro pugilist with a view of ascertaining whether or not he will agree to a match in this city on one of the nights mentioned.

Just who this white hope is has not been learned, as the matter is being veiled in deepest secrecy, but word from the hope's training camp is the effect that if Johnson agrees to the match, the local man will give him the licking of his life.

Another feature of the show—one already clinched—will be a Roman gladiator contest, in which one of the contestants is killed. A member of the local lodge has already been engaged to die and is being killed nightly in rehearsal.

Among those who have been engaged to lend their assistance in making the minstrel a great success are included the great lights of minstrelsy Primrose, West and Al G. Field, Charlie Bean and Judge Hughes will add the finishing touches. The former has been requested to reproduce the serio-comic Shakespearean production, "The Taming of the Colt."

Anderson's Narrow Escape.
Houston, Texas, April 12.—Col. T. J. Anderson, general passenger agent for the Sunset Central lines narrowly escaped death by asphyxiation today. Failing to appear at his accustomed hour, Mrs. Anderson went to his home and was horrified to find him unconscious and was lying in bed. A leaky gas heater explained the situation. Physicians were summoned and two hours were required in which to restore him to consciousness.

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE IS POSTPONED

It is possible that Day Train on Northwestern May Not Be Discontinued

There will be no change in the Northwestern schedule on April 15, it was announced last night and for the present the day trains will be continued in operation. It has not been finally decided not to take them off, but the change, if ordered, will be made at a later date.

The announcement that the trains would be taken off on the 15th elicited numerous protests from points along the Northwestern, and there were threats of carrying the matter before the corporations commission of Oklahoma. The decision to take the trains off was based on the lack of sufficient patronage.

In the meantime, the officials of the Northwestern will have the matter under advisement and it is possible, should there be no improvement in the business, that the service will be curtailed later.

SOCIAL CALENDAR.

Although the matter has not yet been definitely decided upon, it is thought that the next meeting of the Five Hundred Club will be held with Mrs. O. T. Bagon two weeks from next Friday afternoon.

The Parent Teachers Club of the Stephen F. Austin school will meet two weeks from last Thursday at the Austin school building on 13th street.

At the present time it is not known when the next meeting of the New Century Club will be held but the president, Mrs. J. C. Guest will call a meeting within the next two weeks.

Mrs. Harris at her home, 2000 Waco street will entertain the next meeting of the Art Literature Club next Tuesday afternoon.

Ue, M. M. Walker, Fred Weeks, Newton Maer, J. O. Smith, C. B. Woods, R. G. Scruggs, Wade Hampton, T. B. Smith, Abe Marcus, the hostess, Mrs. R. G. Scruggs and Miss Lucile Sherrod.

Progressive Tea.
The first of a series of progressive teas to be given by the Ladies Aid Society of the First M. E. Church, South, was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. J. Carrithers, on Wofford street. Miss Helen Hines furnished beautiful music for the occasion, and also favored those present with an interesting reading.

The Ladies Aid Society has undertaken to raise a sum of money to be applied towards paying for the church, and they are at present employing the method of holding teas. The teas are very enjoyable affairs and only ten or twelve ladies are invited to each one. It is probable that at least three will be held during the coming week. One will be held at the home of Mrs. J. O. McDowell on Floral Heights, one at the home of Mrs. J. W. Hill on Tenth street and one at the home of Mrs. P. P. St. Clair.

At Mrs. Langford's
The choral department of the Musician's Club held a meeting last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. P. Langford on Burnett street, and it was decided that, in view of the fact that those in the choral department are practicing to be able to render a number of songs during the convention of the Federated Clubs here, and because the time set for the beginning of the convention is so short, it would be a good idea for a meeting to be held twice each week instead of once as was at first announced. Next Tuesday afternoon and next Thursday afternoon, therefore a meeting will be held with Mrs. Langford and no efforts will be spared to bring the department to the highest state of efficiency.

Unity Club.
Miss Esther Gorsline, assisted by her mother, Mrs. E. B. Gorsline, entertained the Unity Club last Friday afternoon at the Gorsline residence on Travis street.

Tuesday Bridge Club.
The Tuesday afternoon Bridge Club held a meeting last Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. R. G. Scruggs at the home of Mrs. C. B. Woods on Tenth street, and it was decided to hold a meeting of the club each week until the time for adjournment for the summer. Only four more meetings of the club will be held before next October. The favor of the afternoon was awarded to Mrs. W. W. Little, and refreshments of ice cream and cake and salad were served. The next meeting will be held on the afternoon of April 15th with Mrs. W. M. McGregor on Scott avenue.

Those present included Mesdames A. R. Duke, N. Sherman, W. M. McGregor, W. B. Sheppard, W. W. Lit-concluded the program for the afternoon.

Miss Esther Gorsline rendered some beautiful music on the piano, and a delightful social session was held at the conclusion of the program. Refreshments of cream and cake were served and the next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. T. Montgomery on Tenth street Friday afternoon.

Wesley Class Entertains.
The Wesley class of girls at the First Methodist Church, South, entertained the members of the Philathea and Baraca classes Friday evening in the basement of the church building on Tenth street. The basement was decorated for the occasion and roses of pink and white were presented to each guest. Ice cream and cake were served as refreshments, and more than fifty boys and girls participated in one of the most enjoyable occasions which have ever been held in the new church building.

New Century Club.
The New Century Club met last Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. D. P. Whitney at her home on Floral Heights, fifteen members being present at the meeting. Mrs. J. A. Farris was leader for the afternoon, and ably conducted the lesson, the general subject of which was "The Women of Today as Compared with the Women of a Hundred Years Ago."

Roll call was answered to with a discussion of noted women of today, and Mrs. Guest opened the program by reading a paper on "Nineteenth Century Women." Mrs. C. B. Montgomery then read a paper on "Twentieth Century Women," after which the club took up a discussion to determine whether or not the women of the twentieth century are more progressive than were the women of the nineteenth century. It was finally decided that the women of today are the more progressive.

Following the program the study work for the next year was taken up and discussed, but upon a motion being made it was decided not to go into detail concerning this work until some time in the future. This is the last meeting of the New Century Club which will be held until after the convention of the Federated Clubs in this city the last of April and the first of May.

Mrs. J. T. Roberts, former director of the choir at the First Presbyterian Church will sing at the church during the evening services beginning at 8 o'clock. At both the morning and evening services an anthem will be rendered by the choir members of which have been practicing until they have attained a high state of efficiency.

present the best attendance record during a period of seven weeks would be treated to an entertainment at the expense of the class which rival the contest.

Rivalry between the two classes was keen and at the end of the contest recently, it was found that the young ladies had won by a very small margin. Accordingly, the young men as was stipulated in the contest, carried out their contract and entertained the young ladies. The affair was held last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. L. Robertson and no detail was spared which might render the occasion an enjoyable one. The house was beautifully decorated with pennants, smilax, carnations and ferns and a large banner on which appeared the word "Agoga" was draped gracefully in the hallway. Carnations of both pink and white were presented to each person present as a favor, and refreshments of punch, ice cream and cake were served. Various games formed the features of entertainment during the evening, and at a late hour the guests departed declaring that another contest should be started in the near future.

Those present were Misses Clara Maricle, Callie Powell, Bernice Taylor, Mamie Hull, Luella Staley, Ester Taylor, Celia Staryton, Daisy Stewart, Julia Arnold, Bernice Landis, Della Stone, Mabelle Jackson, Minnie Young, and Virginia Robertson and Messrs. Mullins, Tomlinson, Jerry Grove, Parker Young, Clarence Davis, Cliff Bullock, Jim Knight, Leon Deaton, Fred Stangle, Ford Albritton, and Welsh Morgan. Mrs. J. L. Jackson and Mrs. W. L. Robertson assisted the boys in the entertainment.

New Bridge Club.
A meeting of the New Bridge Club was held last Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. E. L. Smith at her home on Ninth street, and sixteen ladies were present. The favor of the afternoon was awarded to Mrs. Frank Cullinan, who was presented with a hand-embroidered towel and a salad and an ice course were served as refreshments. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Clay Britte, 1709 Ninth street next Wednesday afternoon.

Those present were Mesdames Luther Webb, Jack Binford, Lucian Frith, H. O. Crayens, E. P. Greenwood, Leon Loeb, T. B. Smith, Piner Avis, Frank Cullinan, Walter Tyson, J. W. DuVal, O. T. Bacon, Charles Payton and E. L. Smith.

Travis School Mothers' and Teachers' Club.
The Travis Mothers' and Teachers' Club met on Thursday evening at Travis school. The house was called to order and business properly attended. A committee consisting of Mesdames McGrath, Fred Carter, Green, Amman and Zetche were appointed to look after the trees of the campus during the summer months. The old officers were also re-elected.

The club was favored by a most excellent address from Mr. R. E. Huff. At any time an address like this by one of the best representatives of the city would be appreciated. But this one was especially so because he, after encouraging the club members in their present work very graciously extended to them the offer of assistance from the Chamber of Commerce in any of their worthy enterprises.

Art Literature Club.
The Art Literature Club met Tuesday afternoon April the 9th with Mrs. G. W. Filgo, on Tenth street. The meeting was called at 2:30 instead of at the usual hour, the change being made on account of the fact that a meeting of the United Clubs had been called for 4 o'clock and a number of members desired to attend that meeting.

Fifteen members answered to roll call with current events, and Miss

French Market Coffee Is the National Drink of the South

EVEN when French Market Coffee could be had nowhere but at the old French Market in New Orleans—a hundred years ago—it was widely known.

Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and the gallants of the old South were enthusiastic lovers of this rare old French coffee. Today the identical, historic French blend is perpetuated by a and genuine old French Market coffee is packed in air-tight, hermetically-sealed tins and delivered anywhere in the world in all its freshness and delicious aroma.

Unique Hygienic Roasting Process

In the South, especially, so great is the demand for French Market Coffee that it has become "The National Drink of the South."

French Market Coffee Unlike All Others

The smooth, exhilarating quality of French Market Coffee is totally unlike ordinary coffees.

The French Market Mills have the great advantage of the first selection of the best of the Pan-American coffees.

These fine coffees have never been exposed to the injurious effects of a cold northern climate. The berries are rich in everything that goes to make a perfect coffee.

French Market Coffee

Perfect Process of Roasting and Packing

The celebrated French Market Coffee process is quite different from the ordinary roast. It drives out a larger percentage of gums and oils, while retaining and intensifying all the aromatic and beneficial qualities of the coffee bean.

The grinding is done at exactly the right time to hold the full, delicious flavor that has always been such a feature of French Market Coffee.

The market-men of the French Market think nothing of drinking 10 to 15 cups a day of this deliciously aromatic and refreshing beverage.

At Your Grocer's— in Air-Tight Tins

SOCIETY

Jessie Kerr rendered some entertaining music on the piano. Miss Bell also favored the club with a beautiful solo, after which the business of the afternoon was taken up. The chairman of the nominating committee made her report, and the following officers were selected to serve during the coming term: President, Mrs. G. H. Harris; vice president, Mrs. A. F. Kerr; recording secretary, Mrs. D. M. Perkins; corresponding secretary, Miss Emma Childers; Treasurer, Miss Nellie Ward; parliamentarian, Mrs. Kelly. This completed the afternoon's business and it being too late to carry out the program, the meeting was turned over to the hostess, who with the assistance of Mrs. Webb, served delicious sherbert and cake.

The club adjourned in a body to the meeting of the United Clubs in the auditorium of the high school building. The next meeting will be held on the afternoon of April 16th with Mrs. Harris, 2000 Waco street, at that meeting the program which was to have been rendered at the last meeting will be carried out in addition to the program for that afternoon.

WOULD WELCOME INTERVENTION

PORTUGAL INSOLVENT AND CAN NOT MUCH LONGER RESIST DISSOLUTION IS REPORT.

NECESSITIES ARE SOARING

Crops a Dismal Failure and Unrest Is Growing—Royalist Coup Is Expected.

(By William Philip Simms, Paris correspondent of the United Press.)
Paris, April 13.—Portugal is insolvent and cannot much longer resist dissolution, according to a royalist source here.

Though himself a staunch Manuelist, the "exile" has a brother who is just as staunch a republican. From this brother he has learned that the republic is three months in arrears with its pay roll; the brother is an army surgeon.

To make matters worse the national bank of issue has notified the government that it cannot advance further funds for the very simple reason that it is already considerably over-issued. It is stated as a fact that the gold and silver reserve, upon which advances were made to the government, amounts to about a third of the amount issued. Financiers, knowing the situation, refuse to make loans and the Republic has had to resort to increasing the already high taxes to a figure which the poverty-stricken people can not meet. The price of living is soaring. Cod fish, a staple article in Portugal, especially among the poor, in the last few weeks has jumped from 30 cents a pound to nearly 60 cents. Crops are a dismal failure on account of the floods.

"The sentiment of the entire country," declares a newspaper man who has just returned from Portugal, "is such that the intervention of a foreign power would be welcome; they would welcome English intervention perhaps more than anything else."

A rumor has been heard in the European foreign offices to the effect that Spain contemplates taking a hand in regulating Portugal affairs. I asked Joachim Leitao, formerly of Manuel's entourage, but now in Paris about this.

"The very idea," he said, "is absurd. Spain would be putting her hand into a hornet's nest if she attempted intervention in Portugal. The Portuguese and the Spanish hate each other as no other two peoples on earth hate each other, and Portugal would resist to a man Spain's having any thing to do with straightening out her affairs."

"Another thing is, Spain is right now on the verge of a revolution of her own. The republicans in Spain are tremendously strong, much stronger than anyone thinks. The army is full of republicans, both officers and men included. Every effort is now being made in Spain to dam the stream, and the least shock is liable to spill this badly. No, Spain would not and could not risk such a move."

That Portuguese royalists believe the time is almost at hand for the "coup" is known as a fact here. The blow will be struck late as suddenly as that power. This time, I am informed nothing will be left to chance. The whole "affair" will be figured down to the finest possible point, then the "psychological moment" will be awaited. Only the one mystic word of command will be necessary to put the royalist forces in action, and it is believed that this will be given directly by Don Miguel who recently renounced all rights to the throne, so far as he, personally, was concerned, and offered his entire services to ex-King Manuel.

Don Miguel is living quietly at Saint-Jean-de-Luz, on the border of Spain and France. He is in constant communication with the combined royalist leaders, both Manuelists and Miguelists now being united with the on purpose of restoring the monarchy. Don Miguel is expected to take the field himself if fighting has to be done and it is known that if successful, Don Manuel, is back on the throne, Don Manuel will be named Brand Marshal of the Portuguese army. This is Don Manuel's secret ambition, a post his training in European armies befitted him to occupy.

News From Oil Fields

The surveyors of the Mason survey for the Corsicana Petroleum Company camped in Clara Monday night. They are resurveying for their pipe line from Electra to Petrolia, and are working toward Moctra.—Burk Burnett Star.

Gas in Harmon County, Oklahoma.
There has been more or less "oil talk" in and around Hollis for some time but nothing definite has been found towards its discovery in Harmon county.

Last week, however, in sinking a well on Tom Motley's place the drillers thought they had punctured the over regions and that the old gentleman himself, who is said to be the ruler there, was blowing his breath upon them. Gas began to escape with a hissing sound which kept up for several days. It is supposed that a pocket of gas was struck and that it continued to escape until it was exhausted. This was encountered at a depth of about 70 feet and it is quite evident that only small quantities of gas can be found at that depth. It is supposed a good indication that both oil and gas exist in this locality and also be found if money enough can be raised to prospect for them.

The geologist for the State School and Leasing Board was here Tuesday and made some investigations. He thinks both oil and gas can be found in this locality. But it requires a large amount of money to prospect for them and it can be done only by interesting foreign capital, and this is possible only by the owners giving leases on their lands.—Hollis Herald.

Seven New Wells at Electra Last Week.

The past week has added seven new wells to the Electra oil field.

Corsicana Petroleum Co. No. 2 Putnam producing 150 barrels at a depth of 545 feet. Their No. 19 on the same acre producing 30 barrels at 1010 feet. No. 19 1/2 in the same derrick with No. 19 was drilled down to the 6 foot sand is producing 8 barrels per day. This is the shallowest well now anywhere that is producing as much as 8 barrels per day of 41 gravity oil.

On the Allen lease the Producers company brought in No. 8 with a production of 145 barrels at a depth of 590 feet.

The Texas company brought in Iringer No. 10 with a flow of 200 barrels in the 1950 sand.

Corsicana No. 3 on Honaker is a very nice well, making about 50 barrels in the 1010 foot strata.

The surprise of the week was when Waggoner No. 12 was drilled in Monday. This well is 1925 feet deep and shows over 300 barrels per day. This well flowed over the 84 foot derrick through a 6 inch casing.

This week shows a daily increase in production of 883 barrels.

New fields may come and go, but you will find the Electra oil field with new producing wells every week for many, many years to come.—Electra News.

J. E. Head & Co. are making arrangements for drilling a well near Scotland in Archer county. The Pure Oil Co. is also preparing to drill in the same vicinity.

The Guffey, Corsicana Petroleum Co. and Producers Co. are preparing to sink test wells in Archer county. Russell Brothers will put down two wells and altogether it is believed nearly a score of wells will be started in that section within the next few months.

The Developers Oil Co. has completed the repair of the packer in their well at Petrolia and are now putting in tubing preparatory to starting to pump.

L. L. Coyle of Coffeyville, Kansas, is unloading materials and machinery for a oil one mile east of Graham.

LECTURE NO. 22, "HYPNOTISM"

That which we do not understand and cannot explain, becomes a mystery; that which we know of becomes exceedingly simple to us. Of late years the subject of Hypnotism, Mesmerism, or more properly called suggestion has become a study of some of the greatest minds of the world. Probably no science has been more misused, or abused; the lay mind looks upon the phenomenon with awe, fear and dread. Due to the misuse of this force by careless exhibitors, charlatans and fakirs, the laity take seriously stage demonstrations which are only intended to amuse and get the idea that a hypnotist can exert his influence on anyone at any time and at any place. This is erroneous. It is only the greatest effort of both the operator and the subject that satisfactory results are obtained. The history of Hypnotism (suggestion) reaches back to the earliest people. The ancients were adepts. History is full of the mysteries that are easily explained away by Hypnotism. We read of Magi of the Meads the Babylonians and the Syrians. Egypt was the Mecca for various wonder workers, astrologers and magicians. They were the recognized wise men of the day, until about the dawn of the Christian era, then they fell and degenerated into fakirs, street tricksters, sooth sayers, fortune tellers, etc. In Egypt the magicians duplicated all the divine miracles of Joseph, except the last one. Confucius the Chinese teacher and reformer speaks of many miracles, and many feats of suggestion are accredited to him. Buddha and Mohammed, reformers of their time, and now looked upon by their followers as divine beings, were masters of the art of Hypnotism, but in their ignorance they attributed their accidental discoveries to a divine gift. In India Hypnotism always existed and is today extensively practiced by the Yogis, Priests, and Magi. Europe's attention was first attracted to hypnotism by a German physician named Frederick Mesmer, hence the name Mesmerism. He attributed his power to animal magnetism and was no doubt sincere in his belief. He went to Paris and attracted such notoriety that the French Government in 1778 appointed a committee to investigate his discovery. Our Benjamin Franklin was one of that committee, and they found no evidence of magnetism in any of the demonstrations. The actual foundation of Hypnotism was discovered by Liebault a French physician, who demonstrated that it was the subject of imagination, encouraged by suggestions from the operator. Also that it was a power that every one possessed. Any one can hypnotize and any one can be hypnotized or influenced in a greater or less degree, but no one can be hypnotized against his will. Not every one is passive enough to become a good sleeper, or a good hypnotic subject. The word Hypnotism is misleading. It is from the Greek "aleep."

MAROONED IN HEART OF GOTHAM

COMMUNICATION ESTABLISHED FOR FIRST TIME IN THREE MONTHS WITH RUFFLE BAR

THE SALOON GOT IT ALL

Prolonged Poker Game Ended When All of Money Was Spent for Booze.

New York, April 13.—Communication has just been had for the first time in three months with the six men and one woman who have been marooned on Ruffle Bar in the very heart of New York City since the beginning of the winter. The residents of Ruffle Bar are within sight of the reflection of the bright lights that give Broadway its reputation, but there is neither telephone, telegraph, mail, wireless or other communication with the mainland.

Ruffle Bar is a small island off Rockaway Beach that is surrounded with ice as soon as the first freezing breath of winter strikes this zone. It remains the center of the ice waste until long after Spring has been admitted at this port. Five men who dig claims remain there all winter living at the hotel which Gustav Gutther and his wife operate all the year.

When Gus made his first trip to the city after hibernating through the months when he says $1000 worth of claims froze to death in the water in front of the hotel, he stopped at Mike Albert's saloon and got two letters that had been left there for him. One of them was dated January 4, and told of the death of a near relative in Brooklyn.

For diversion the men who were marooned at Ruffle Bar for the winter played poker. The game was played flat broke and each in turn was $60 flat broke and each in turn was $60 winner—the men started with $10 apiece—but the playing ended, when it was discovered that the entire $60 reposed in the cash drawer behind

MODERN WOMAN MORE BEAUTIFUL

AND AMERICAN WOMEN ARE THE MOST BEAUTIFUL OF THEM ALL; SAYS RUSSIAN.

WOMEN OF THE FUTURE

He Says, Will Be More Beautiful Than Those of Today—News Letter From Berlin.

(By Karl von Wiegand, Berlin correspondent of the United Press. Berlin, April 13.—"The women of today are more beautiful than were the women of a century or even a gent will be even more beautiful than the women of today. Probably in no country is the beautiful women appreciated than in America; one need not call attention to the wealthy marriages of women on the stage, to come to the conclusion that in America at least, 'beauty' draws the 'prize.'" This was the declaration of Dr. Y. F. Korlowski, a prominent Russian specialist passing through Berlin on his return from a tour of the United States. The doctor declared that the American women were the most beautiful in the world today; and in theorist named came the following: French, Russian, Austrian, German and English. He said there were several types of beauty in America and it was difficult to say which was the most beautiful or typical American.

The doctor said that the women of the Pacific Coast, particularly those of California, were taller and more beautiful than those of the middle west and the east, "even if they did have large feet." He attributed the "feet" and stature to the outdoor life. Next to the Californians he preferred the women of the South.

In vivacity, charm and fine carriage, he considered the San Francisco women more like the French than any other American type. The women of the East, he said, were most beautiful, but showed the lack of outdoor life enjoyed by the southern and western women.

Dr. Korlowski declared that the women of the future would be even more beautiful than those of today because, "beauty was being cultivated assiduously and sensibly." He stated that in Russia and in America, also to some extent in England, "beauty fades slower" and women remain beautiful longer than in most other countries.

That there are 1400 White Slave dealers in Germany known to the police of Berlin and that 90 were convicted and sent to prison for long terms during the last 12 months, for dealing in girls and young women, was the statement made in the Reichstag during the debate on enlarging the scope of the law against the "White Slave" trade. Reports were read showing that the bartering of women like so many human chattels, has reached large proportions in Germany despite the campaign that has been waged against the "dealers" who are well organized.

No subject has come up in this session of the Reichstag in which the members, regardless of party, were so unanimous and a bill was passed enlarging the scope of the present law, giving the authorities greater power and granting extradition of men and women in Germany wanted in other countries on such charges.

Germany has from the first taken a strong hand against the "White Slave" trade. German girls and young women have been among the most numerous victims of this nefarious traffic. Silesia, the eastern part of Prussia, Russia Poland and parts of Austria, are the chief recruiting grounds for the dealers, and the United States, Brazil and Argentina are the principal "import markets."

About 1,000,000 women in Prussia labor on the farms for an average daily wage of 8 cents. Of course, they are ignorant and uneducated and without the slightest knowledge of the world. Their one desire and hope is to save small "dowry" in order to marry. It is among these women, particularly toward the Russian-Polish frontier, that the White Slave dealers find easy victims for "exporting." Not one has the slightest inkling of what her fate will be. Pitiable tales occasionally come back from New York, Buenos Ayres, Rio de Janeiro, and other places. Usually, however, the girls are never heard from again.

One of the steps taken to make the "exporting" more difficult, is a new rule that no unmarried woman unaccompanied by her parents, can leave Germany without a passport and all officials have been instructed to make rigid investigations before passports are issued.

MAIL SERVICE WILL ALSO BE AFFECTED

As a result of the taking off of several trains not only in and out of Wichita Falls, but from St. Louis and other points, patrons of the local postoffice may expect less prompt service, according to Postmaster Bacon. The mail from St. Louis and eastern points will be later as a result of the taking off of the fast mail train out of St. Louis to Texas. Heretofore considerable eastern mail came in on the mid-day Katy in time for the afternoon delivery and this will be delayed until the arrival of the night train. The discontinuance of the Fort Worth and Denver night local, the day train on the Northwestern and the night train on the Wichita Valley has also affected the mail service to a material extent. The mail not only arrives later but accumulates to such an extent that it requires longer to distribute it to the boxes and carriers.

LUTHERAN CONFERENCE AT CLARA LAST WEEK

The "Panhandle Special Conference" of the Lutheran Church of the Missouri Synod convened at Clara, Texas, from April 9-11. This conference includes all the Lutheran ministers in northern and northwestern Texas. The members of the conference were met at Burk Burnett by the local pastor, the Rev. J. Hartmann and members of his congregation, Messrs. Schultz and Hamming. In their respective automobiles they conveyed the visiting pastors to the church and parsonage at Clara.

Conference was opened by the local pastor at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. A paper was then read by the Rev. H. H. Hulse of Honey Grove, Texas, entitled "To Whom May a Christian Burial Be Accorded." From scripture it was proven in a most convincing manner that a Christian burial may be accorded to those only of whom we may rest assured that they departed from this life in the grace of Christ and favor with God. This also includes infants born of Christian parents who died before the Sacrament of holy baptism could be administered to them. Furthermore those who may have been deprived of their reason while remaining in the grace of God. Under no condition may a Christian burial be accorded to an impenitent sinner as we may see from Jer. 12:19, Math. 8:22 and Luke 9:60.

Rev. Hartmann then read a paper on the "Millennium," unfolding the scriptural position of the Lutheran church of the Missouri Synod which denounces pre-millennialism as well as post-millennialism. This we prove from John 5:28-29, also Daniel 12:2. Rev. 20, which speaks of a first resurrection must, in accordance with other scriptural passages be taken as a spiritual resurrection from spiritual death. In connection herewith many other doctrinal subjects were discussed. On Wednesday night a special service was held, Rev. H. Hulse delivering a sermon on the "Resurrection of Christ." Communion services were also held by Rev. C. Neumann of Cleco, delivering the confessional address.

The Lutheran church is enjoying an unusually rapid increase in membership. The "Synodical Conference," of which the Missouri Synod is a member, is the largest of the Lutheran bodies in America. It comprises approximately two million members, with about four thousand ministers and six thousand congregations and mission posts. The Lutheran church fosters the parochial school upholding the same by their own means, without soliciting support from the government, in accordance with the constitution of our country the Word of God, a strict

R. E. HUFF WILL ATTEND MEETING

R. E. Huff expects to attend the initial session of the Texas Welfare Commission at Houston tomorrow and Tuesday. Mr. Huff is a member of the committee on the production and marketing of cotton seed oil and other by-products of cotton seed.

The outline for the two days' session is as follows: Monday, discussion of railroads and railroad securities; compensation to employees for casualties occurring in course of employment; the production and marketing of cottonseed oil and other by-products of cottonseed. Tuesday, discussion of life insurance corporations, foreign and domestic; the manufacture and sale of lumber; the production, milling and marketing of rice.

Mr. Huff is chairman of his committee. A synopsis of the subjects for inquiry by his committee follows: Condition of business in Texas—Number of plants—Amount and value of product—Amount invested—Amount of cottonseed increasing?—Expanding?—Where purchased? Price paid for some—is seed bought from farmers or ginners, and to what extent from each?—Prices paid to farmers—Price paid to ginners—Competitive conditions in purchase of seed—Effect on price for seed in Texas—Where are oil and by-products marketed?—Proportion exported—Prices realized for products—Are conditions satisfactory?—Is business as a whole prosperous?—What returns have been realized on investments during the past five years?—Competitive conditions for sale of product at home and abroad—Effect of Texas law with reference to sale of products in foreign markets—Does Texas law bring about sale of products in foreign markets under conditions of keen competition as between Texas producers?—Who gets benefit?—To what extent is cotton seed oil employed in foreign countries in connection with merchandise imported back to Texas, and do such countries have anti-trust laws giving Texas importers and consumers benefit of open competition as between such foreign manufacturers?—Do Texas laws operate to depress the industry?—If so, what laws accomplish that purpose, and what changes if any, are recommended?

NAME FOR TEAM MAY BE CHANGED

"Irish Lads" a Misnomer and Another Will Be Selected—Team Returns Today.

The Wichita Falls team has had an easy time of it during the past week at Seymour, winning all of the games there and the showing made in the practice games was considered very promising. A number of games will probably be arranged on the local diamond before the season opens, although none have been definitely scheduled as yet.

On account of the aviation meet, no game has been arranged for this afternoon.

Other Texas-Oklahoma nines appear to be showing up well in their preliminary games. McKinney won an easy victory over the Marshall team of the South Central league, while Sherman had little difficulty in defeating Austin College. Paris of the South Central won from Bonham, however.

During this week the teams will be trimmed down so as to get within the $1000 salary limit. Very little trimming will be necessary with the locals, as the team is already practically within the required limit, with thirteen men on the pay roll.

Some of the fans have suggested that a new nickname be provided for the Wichita Falls team. Last year the club was known as the "Irish Lads" and this may be changed to something more appropriate and distinctive.

Although a number of former Texas-Oklahoma league players were signed by Texas league teams, only two took part in Saturday's opening game. These were Witherspoon of Fort Worth and Gibson of Dallas. Both made creditable showings in the opening game.

The locals will return today from their successful trip down the Wichita Valley and will spend several days practicing at the city park before playing any more games. It is possible that one or more games will be staged on the local lot during this week.

"THE'S" TEIR UNIQUE TITLE

SELECT BAND OF BLUE-BLOODED DESCENDENTS OF OLD SCOT-TISH AND IRISH CHIEFTAINS.

ARE SEEKING A MONOPOLY

Demand Crown List of Those Entitled to Definite Article Prefix—Other Queer Titles.

(By Ed. L. Keen, London correspondent of the United Press.) London, April 13.—The "The's" apparently determined that British workmen shall not enjoy a monopoly of discontent, are now contributing their share to the general social unrest from which this country is now suffering. They are clamoring for the same sort of official recognition recently bestowed by the Crown upon another of the minor, but exclusive, orders of England's grand old nobility.

It should be explained that the "The's" are a select band of blue-blooded descendants of the old Scottish and Irish chieftains who were too turbulent and disloyal—or independent, according to their viewpoint—to be given the customary titles of nobility, and too powerful to be crushed like ordinary rebels. Their claim to distinction is embodied in the unique use of the definite article instead of other title or Christian name; thus, The Macintosh, The Macpherson, The MacNab, The O'Connor, etc.

Naturally, they are justly proud of this designation, and in order to circumvent a lot of non-union "The's" who have been springing up of late, the real "The's" have demanded a Crown list of those properly entitled to display this peculiar prefix. Their arguments are based on King George's Coronation grant of an official catalogue of baronets, the hereditary order of knighthood whose members are permitted to tack "Bart" onto the end of their name like Sir Clarence Marmaduke Chalmersley-Nutty, Bart. The knights of the various orders of chivalry whose titles expire with their deaths have always been thus listed, so that imposters in their ranks might readily be detected. Some of the baronets, it must be admitted, are not quite so happy now that they have given what they wanted, for they are having all sorts of unexpected difficulties in proving to the satisfaction of the Keeper of the Royal Roll their claim to the hitherto undisputed title. For instance, there is Sir Hugh Sykes

Mitchell, who has already spent huge sums of money for lawyers trying to establish his title. The Macintosh, the ninth baronet of that name, properly bore the "Mac."

But the "The's" are undeterred by this phase of the situation. They are prepared to go to any lengths, and unsheathe their daggers, if necessary, to defend their exclusive franchise in the definite article. There are as many Macintoshes in Scotland as there are Oisens in Minnesota, but there is only one The Macintosh. He would rather be "The" than Duke, Earl or Viscount. Wherefore it proves him, mightily to have to rub elbows with The Smith and The Jones, who he is quite sure would speedily become lost in the foliage if required to trace their ancestral trees back to the original owners of those surnames. One of the most distinguished "The's" is the famous Scottish chieftain whom well-meaning but ignorant folk usually speak of as the Duke of Argyll. The name by which he is known to his clansmen and the only title that he cares for, is "The MacCallein Mor," or head of the Campbell clan.

The proposed official list of "The's" would be subject to some nice gradations that might prove exceedingly puzzling to the complex. For example, The O'Connor Don, The O'Grady and The O'Gorman would object to being placed in the same classification. The demands of these chieftains Gilleuddy of the Reeks, who is obliged to qualify his "The-ship" with this territorial limitation. They are not The O'Connor Don, The O'Grady, or The O'Gorman, of anywhere; they are unadulterated "The's."

The demands of the sechieftains will probably be followed by similar representations from another equally unique coterie who distinguished themselves from ordinary humanity by eschewing both title and Christian names. Foremost among them is Lochiel. The head of the Camerons is not Lord, Sir, Mister, or even James Lochiel; just Lochiel, that's all. Another variety not only dispenses with all prefixes but achieves distinction by encoring their surnames, as MacLeod of MacLeod, 23rd chief of the MacLeod clan. One Scotchman, who would have a list all to himself, is the Captain of Dunstaffnage, a scion of the Campbell family, and the twentieth holder of this queer title.

WILSON MEN URGED TO DO THEIR DUTY

Alex Britain, president of the Wichita Falls Woodrow Wilson Club, urges all friends of the New Jersey man to turn out to the precinct meetings on May 4th to select delegates to the State Convention on May 7th to select delegates to the National Convention on May 28th. If a Wilson delegation is to go to the National convention from Texas Wilson men must turn out to these precinct meetings and see that all other Wilson men do the same.

Mr. Britain hands us the following address from Cato Sells, chairman of the Wilson State committee: "To the Texas Friends of Governor Wilson:

"Since the action of the Democratic State Executive Committee in turning down the almost unanimous desire of Texas Democrats for a presidential preference primary, the precinct meetings which will be held on May 4th are the all important factor in the contest to secure a Wilson delegation from Texas to the National convention.

"Under these circumstances it is imperative that every friend of Governor Wilson attend his precinct meeting—that he be there on time, and that he act with vigilance.

"The precinct meetings to select delegates to the county conventions will be held in all of the precincts in Texas on May 4th, the county conventions to select delegates to the State convention on May 7th, and the State convention to select delegates to the National convention on May 28th.

"Remember your precinct meeting on May 4th for that is the place, and the time when the fight will be won or lost.

"Keep it constantly on your mind and tell all of the friends of Governor Wilson not to forget that on May 4th they have a patriotic public duty to perform."

GOOD PROGRESS MADE ON EXTENSION

Work is reported as progressing steadily on the Wichita Falls and Northwestern extension north of Woodward and the end of this week will see the track completed to within 30 miles of Forgan, the present objective point. The track now extends a distance of 180 miles from Wichita Falls and work is being pushed as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Kell stated yesterday that there was nothing to give out as to the plans after Forgan is reached. Recently several Oklahoma newspapers have printed dispatches to the effect that extensions still further northward were contemplated, but this was denied by Mr. Kell.

General Manager Kell Was Riding on Freight Car Behind But Escaped Unhurt

An accident on the Wichita Falls and Northwestern north of Woodward came near causing serious injury to Frank Kell while making an inspection of the new lines recently. An engine behind which he was riding left the track and turned over; the engineer and several others sustaining slight injuries.

Mr. Kell was seated on top of a freight car immediately behind the engine when the accident occurred and he managed to retain his seat. To this he attributes the fact that he escaped without injury. A man who was sitting next to him was thrown off by the jar.

The accident occurred while Mr. Kell was returning from an inspection of the new track recently completed north of Woodward. The train consisted of a work engine and several freight cars, and for want of better accommodations the vice president and general manager was seated on top of one of the cars. Several other passengers and members of the crew sustained minor injuries in the shake-up, Mr. Kell escaping entirely unhurt.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR ALFALFA CROP

The outlook for a heavy yield of alfalfa along the Wichita Falls and Northwestern is said to be exceptionally good by Wichitans who have recently returned from that part of Oklahoma. Conditions in the alfalfa fields appear to be best along the Wellington branch, although uniformly good on the main line.

Wheat is coming up nicely, according to reports, the crop being a few days late. The general crop outlook throughout the Northwestern country is said to be the best in several years.
