

NORRIS TRIAL TURNED INTO A HANDWRITING SCHOOL

EXPERTS WITH BLACKBOARDS TEACHERS AND JURYMEN SCHOLARS.

STATE PICKS FLAW

Spring New Letter Showing a Similar "D"—Expert Says No Similarity With "Happy Contrast."

Special to The Times.
Fort Worth, Texas, April 15.—The State sprang a surprise on the defense in the Norris trial Monday when it introduced a new letter signed "J. Frank Norris" and proved by the defense's own handwriting expert that the letter "d" as written in the new document was similar to the "d" in the anonymous letters.

The expert, J. B. Watkins, made the point more pronounced when he testified that one "d" in the new letter was a composite of the "d" in the anonymous letters and of the "d" in the Winfield Scott article which is admittedly Dr. Norris' handwriting.

Watkins who was placed on the stand as a handwriting expert by the defense Saturday morning was on the stand all Monday morning and when court adjourned at noon the cross examination was not completed.

The direct examination of the witness was centered largely upon the letter "d." He showed that in the anonymous letters the "d" was made almost invariably with an upward flint or movement of the pen, while in the Winfield Scott article the "d" all had a downward tendency with one exception being a variation of the Spencerian "d."

At the conclusion of his direct examination the witness expressed the opinion that the man who wrote the Winfield Scott article did not write the anonymous letters. It was when the State began its cross examination that Attorney Glendennen presented to the witness the new document and began a line of questions directed to the purpose of establishing the similarity of the letters "d" in the anonymous letters and the "d" in the new writing.

The defense will follow with other handwriting experts. It is believed two business college professors from Dallas have been summoned and will likely be the next witnesses on the stand.

The trial was converted into a school in handwriting Monday with jurors as pupils and J. B. Watkins expert in handwriting as the teacher. The text books placed in the hands of the pupils were photographic copies of the documentary exhibits in the case pasted on large cards and numbered to correspond to the numbers on the originals held by the witness. A large blackboard upon which the witness illustrated his comparisons emphasized the impression of a teacher talking to his class.

The letter "d" occurring in the last letter in the word was found in the anonymous letters to invariably have an upward flint as the witness described it, while of thirty-six "d's" in the "Happy Contrast" article, admittedly Norris' writing only one "d" had any trace of similarity. Two types of "y's" are found both in the anonymous letters and in the Scott article one "y" is written like the figure "7" ending in a straight line, while the other type ends with an upward flint of the pen. In answer to Attorney Gillespie's question every "d" found nothing to indicate that the same person wrote the anonymous letters and the Scott article.

"They do not appear to be written by the same person. I would say the evidence of differences are almost wonderful," said Watkins when asked if there was any difference between the "Happy Contrast" manuscript and the anonymous letters.

Expert testimony by handwriting experts continued this afternoon with prospects of lasting all day and perhaps tomorrow.

Hundreds were turned away from Byers Opera House last night after the house was crowded by those who overflowed the place to hear Rev. J. Frank Norris of the First Baptist Church preach to his congregation.

The crowd lingered until one of the deacons, U. B. Pawlett, had to go out and assure those waiting that there was no possibility of Mr. Norris going out to preach to the overflow.

The sermon was based on the story of Peter leaving the ship to go to Christ and walking on the sea, asking special words being, "Be of good cheer," and "It is I, be not afraid." Mr. Norris expressed more admiration for Peter, who had faith to do and dare the seemingly impossible, to leave the ship to go to his Lord, than "some of the others who could not have been dragged from that ship by a log chain." The thought was, that as faith in Christ saved Peter when he went to his Lord, so

PASSENGERS WERE SAVED

THE TITANIC STILL ABOVE WATER AND MAKING WAY TOWARD HALIFAX.

MILLIONAIRES ON BOARD

1470 Passengers Including Many Notables On Ill Fated Ship Making Maiden Voyage.

By Associated Press.
New York, April 15.—The steamer Titanic, which struck an iceberg 350 miles from Cape Race last night and which collided with an iceberg and was reported sinking, is still above water but is disabled. Her passengers have been transferred to the Carpathia and Parisian.

Among the 1470 passengers carried by the Titanic were many notable Americans, among them being Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, Major Archie Butt, Taft's personal aide, Millet the artist, C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk line, Benjamin Guggenheim and W. T. Stead.

The Titanic is the world's biggest steamship and was on her maiden trip to America. She belongs to the White Star line.

Although badly damaged, the Titanic is making her way under her own steam to Halifax. The passengers were safely transferred, the sea being calm, and it is reported that no one was hurt in any manner.

The first news of the boat's plight came at 10:25 last night, when the "C. Q. D." wireless call was sent out. At that time the boat was understood to be sinking and that immediate assistance was required. This message was followed shortly by another saying that the boat was going down and that women were being put in the life boats.

The Marconia station at Cape Race notified the Virginian, which proceeded at once in the direction of the Titanic, then 170 miles distant. The Olympic and Baltic were also notified and hastened with all speed. Later the steamers Carpathia and Parisian received the message and were sent to arrive at the scene of the impending disaster.

Including her crew, the Titanic had more than 2000 on board.

MR. J. E. SPORT BECOMES A BENEDICT

J. E. Sport, general delivery clerk at the Wichita Falls postoffice, has been married a whole week without the fact becoming generally known. Mr. Sport this afternoon confirmed the rumors of his matrimony which have been growing more persistent every day. His bride was formerly, Miss Susie Johnson, daughter of Adjutant Johnson of the Salvation Army who was recently stationed here. They were married at 3 o'clock on the morning of Easter Sunday by Rev. J. W. Hill at the First M. E. parsonage on Tenth street.

The wedding had been arranged beforehand and Mr. Sport had secured the necessary license and was awaiting Miss Johnson who came in on the train from Fort Worth. They took a cab at the station and went directly to the parsonage where they were married.

Mr. Sport returned to his work at the postoffice and didn't tell anybody of his important step until today. He has purchased a home at 1402 Austin where they will live.

Mrs. Sport assisted her father in the Salvation Army services here and won many friends and admirers. One of these was Mr. Sport.

Postmaster Z. Monroe from Goree, was in the city today the guest of Rev. J. M. Morton.

Mrs. William Hutton left for Archer City yesterday to spend several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. D. L. Wolf.

The Southwest Texas Press and Commercial Secretaries Association will hold their annual meeting at Carrizo Springs, April 25th, 26th and 27th.

HIS VICTORY A LANDSLIDE

LATER RETURNS ADD TO MAGNITUDE OF ROOSEVELT'S TRIUMPH IN PA.

REGULARS ARE ASTONISHED

Idle Anthracite Miners Were Elements of Strength For Former President

Philadelphia, Pa., April 15.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt's sweeping victory in Pennsylvania at Saturday's primary election kept growing yesterday as the returns continued to come in.

Incomplete returns from every district give the former President sixty-five of the State's seventy-six delegates in the National convention. Roosevelt supporters are claiming sixty-seven and later returns may carry the figures to that total. Col. Roosevelt won fifty-three of the thirty-four district National delegates and his followers elected enough delegates to the State convention to give them control. The State convention will name twelve delegates at large.

Gov. Wilson of New Jersey has had no organized opposition and will have seventy-four of seventy-six delegates from Pennsylvania in the Democratic National convention. In the Eleventh Congressional district the two Democrats elected are favorable to Harmon, but they are not pledged.

Politicians look upon the triumph of Roosevelt with astonishment. The supporters of the former President were without a State organization.

The regular Republican organization headed by United States Senator Penrose, who has withstood the fury of many a political storm, received a crushing defeat in the loss of control of the State convention. It is the first time in the present generation that it has lost that control. In addition to naming the twelve delegates at large, the convention will select thirty-eight Presidential electors, four candidates for Congressmen at Large and candidates for State treasurer and Auditor General, all to be voted for at the November election. The significance of the Roosevelt victory can be realized when it is remembered that the delegates in the State convention elect the National committee.

At present Senator Penrose holds the position. It was said by a prominent member of the State committee last night that some of the Roosevelt delegates elected are regular organization men who, while voting for Roosevelt delegates, will still stand by the State organization.

Some of the organization leaders refrained from personally entering the primary as candidates for district delegates as it had been expected they would be selected as delegates at large. Among those understood to have been looked upon as the likely delegates are Senators Penrose and Oliver, Gov. Tener, Secretary of State Robert McAfee and State Senator James P. McNichols, leader of the party organization in Philadelphia. The vote polled was light. In some districts it did not go much over 50 per cent of the vote at the last general election. Roosevelt is said to have received his heaviest vote from the reform element represented by the Keystone party.

Another element of strength of the Roosevelt forces was the 170,000 idle anthracite miners among whom the former President ran strong. In Philadelphia Taft's adherents captured three of the six districts and split the delegation in another, giving Taft seven to five.

The delegates favoring Taft were not numbered. Among those who opposed the removal storm were John Wanamaker and E. T. Stotesbury, who were elected as Taft delegates in the Second District.

Gov. Wilson had an easy time in winning seventy-four of the seventy-six delegates to the Baltimore convention. At present there are two Democratic State organizations in Pennsylvania and each has endorsed the New Jersey Governor for President.

Figures at hand indicate that the "reorganized" Democratic faction, headed by George W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh and Congressman A. M. Mitchell Palmer, elected a majority of their delegates in opposition to the regular faction headed by James M. Guffey. Each faction has called a State convention at Harrisburg on the same day. Negotiations have been pending for a single convention, and it is not known whether the primary result will hasten harmony.

All the political parties in the State had candidates for Congress in the thirty-two districts and also nominated candidates for the Legislature. The Democratic members in Congress who came up for re-nomination were generally successful, but there were a number of surprises in the ranks of the Republicans. One of these was the defeat of Reuben O. Moon in one of the Philadelphia districts by the Independent Republican.

In Pittsburg John Daizell, long a member of the National House, is not sure of being returned, according to the latest returns. He is opposed by M. Clyde Kelly, a prominent independent in the last Legislature.

The Nueces County Good Roads Association has been organized at Kingsville.

ANNUAL MEETING AND BANQUET

The annual meeting and banquet of the Retail Merchants' Association will be held tomorrow evening. Officers will be elected for the ensuing year and a spread at the Westland will follow the business session. The members will meet at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 8 o'clock for the business of the evening and at 9 o'clock the banquet will begin at the Westland. It is said that the program will be completed by 11 o'clock.

The menu will contain such delicacies as milk-fed chickens, strawberries and other seasonal dainties. All members of the association who expect to be present are expected to notify the secretary today.

Dr. J. M. Bell will preside as toastmaster and the program will be as follows:

JAIL SENTENCE LANDS HIM IN PEN

Innocent of Charge For Which He Was Jailed But Bad Associates in Jail Led Him to Crime

(Archer County News)

This week Charlie Pate pleaded guilty to the charge of burglarizing a store at Megarkeel, and was sentenced to serve a term of two years in the penitentiary for his folly.

This case is of peculiar interest in that it shows the evil effects of keeping company with those schooled in crime.

Pate is only 22 years of age, and not overly educated or intelligent. Some weeks ago he was in a Texas jail on a charge of burning a house, but his innocence was established. While in this jail he became acquainted with one of the inmates who informed him that "safe blowing" was easy money, and not in the least dangerous, and that he knew a man who would furnish the dope and show him how to blow open a safe for three dollars. Pate took the three dollar course in safe blowing. The instructor was efficient, and Pate an apt scholar, or at least his first effort was crowned with success as well as disaster. He opened the safe door, as well as the doors of the penitentiary with a small amount of nitro-glycerine poured around the edge of the door off a sheet of paper. The net proceeds from robbing the two stores at Megarkeel was $225 in money and two years work.

The following proceedings finished up this term of the district court:

C. D. Williams vs. J. N. Ewing—it was ordered that the $2500 stock held by Ewing in the Archer Mercantile Co., be sold under execution, and the proceeds applied on a note payable to C. D. Williams.

Clinton National Bank vs. Emma J. Emerson et al.—the lands ordered sold under execution.

J. D. Powell et al. vs. T. G. Rankin—Judgment for plaintiff.

J. B. Kocks and wife vs. C. A. Montgomery—Judgment for plaintiff.

G. T. & W. Ry. vs. J. A. Young—Judgment for plaintiff.

G. C. Scott vs. Jacob Martin—Judgment for defendant.

SUMMER CAMPS AT LAKE WICHITA

A summer camp at Lake Wichita, in which the Young Men's Christian Association of Wichita Falls, Dallas, Fort Worth and Sherman may take part, is being planned by J. G. Anderson, secretary of the local chapter of the Association. The plans are now being worked out and the matter will be taken up with the associations mentioned at an early date.

It is proposed to have one big camp in which all four of the associations take part and it is believed that at least 250 young men from the four cities mentioned would attend. The attractions of the lake, including boating, swimming and fishing, would all be open to the campers.

In endeavoring to enlist the support of the other associations, it will be pointed out that there is no other resort in North Texas which offers advantages that can compete with those available here. The coast resorts are too far away for North Texas boys.

The Y. M. C. A. camping plan is part of the effort to have Lake Wichita become the summer camp resort of North Texas. Already the Methodist and Baptist assemblies are being held there with every reason to believe that these denominations will select it as a permanent site for their gatherings. The popularity of the Lake continues to increase. It will not be long until the campers each year are numbered by the hundred.

Among the plans being considered is that of establishing a boys' summer training school at the Lake. There are several institutions of this kind in the country, where students may combine their classwork with plenty of outdoor exercise and recreation.

TALLULAH, LA., ENGULFED IN FLOOD WATER

Special to The Times.

Tallahula, La., April 15.—The great flood of water that is sweeping thru the eastern region of Tallulah this morning. Before the water arrived here there was a boat of some kind tied to nearly every front porch in the city. These boats are now plying the streets of the town. Most of the white residents still remain in their water surrounded houses, but the negroes who live in squatty houses on low ground have been forced to flee. Goods in the stores have been moved to upper shelves. In a depression north of here the water is up to the cross arms of the telegraph poles.

BIG SUPPLY CO. WILL LOCATE HERE

Sumner Merrick of St. Louis, president of the Continental Supply Co. of St. Louis, dealers in oil well machinery and supplies, left for St. Louis this afternoon after closing arrangements for the establishment of a big supply house in the city, together with a pipe yard.

A half block of ground located along the railroad tracks west of the Wichita Marble Company's plant has been leased from the Fort Worth and Denver railroad for that purpose, and the erection of a frame warehouse and a steel room 150x100 feet is to be started at once. The pipe yard will adjoin this warehouse.

It is believed the action of the Continental Co. will be followed by other companies having stores at Electra and that soon there will be four or five of these houses.

MISS MOISANT HEROINE IN THRILLING ACCIDENT

CRITICAL POINT NOW REACHED

OFFICIALS AT WASHINGTON FEAR EXPECTED BREAK WITH MEXICO IS NEAR AT HAND.

STILL HOPE FOR PEACE

Reports at Washington Indicate Conditions Grow Worse in Mexico Daily.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(Bulletin)—It is believed here that relations between United States and Mexico will be brought to a critical point by the State Department's forceful note last night warning the Mexicans against mistreating Americans. Just such a warning preceded the Spanish-American war. Conditions in Mexico seem to be growing worse hourly.

Administration officials still hope that last night's note will have a sobering effect on Mexico and this led to official reassurances today that there will be no need of intervention. Advances here show that conditions in the States of Michoacan, Puebla and Morelos are daily becoming worse.

Warning was issued yesterday by the United States to the Mexican government, as well as to General Pascual Orozco, chief of the revolutionary forces, that "it expects and must demand that American life and property within the republic of Mexico be justly and adequately protected and that this government must hold Mexico and the Mexican people responsible for all wanton or illegal acts sacrificing or endangering American life or damaging American property or interests."

The attitude of the United States, as expressed to both the federal and rebel authorities is that any mistreatment of American citizens "will be deeply resented by the American government and people, and must be fully answered for by the Mexican people."

Acting Secretary Huntington Wilson of the state department, who issued the special instructions to Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson at Mexico City and Maxton Letcher, American consul at Chihuahua, authorized the statement that intervention was not contemplated by the United States.

Ambassador Wilson was ordered to communicate at once the views of the United States to the Mexican minister for foreign affairs, and a copy of his instructions was likewise sent to Maxton Letcher, American consul at Chihuahua, with special representations addressed to General Orozco.

Orozco recently refused to recognize Mr. Letcher as the American consular representative, because the United States withheld recognition of the rebel cause. The representations to Orozco accuse him of "practical murder" of Thomas Fountain, an American gunner, enlisted with the federals, but summarily executed last week when taken prisoner by the insurgents.

More Guns Sent to Americans.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—Responding to the appeal of the American consul at Guadalajara, Mexico, President Taft today authorized the exportation of 150 rifles and 50,000 cartridges and a mass of miscellaneous gun parts for the Mexican government.

BODY FOUND STILL CLASPING FIRE HOSE

Albert Bledsoe, Assistant City Marshal at Cleburne, Killed Fighting Flames

By Associated Press.

Cleburne, Texas, April 15.—Still clasp the muzzle of a fire hose the body of Albert Bledsoe, assistant city marshal, was found this morning beneath eighteen inches of brick and mortar in the Johnson county court house which was partially burned last night. Bledsoe was on the second floor with a squad directing a stream of water when he was killed. Another fireman was slightly hurt. The total loss will be about $75,000 with insurance of $38,000.

ALIGHTING AFTER HER LAST PUBLIC FLIGHT AVIATRIX NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH.

GAS EXPLODED

Flames Flash Over Aeroplane When It Strikes Earth—Girl Dragged From Death.

Dragged to safety from the blazing wreckage of her monoplane, which met disaster while landing after a flight, Miss Mathilde Moisant had an experience Sunday evening at Lako Wichita that came near proving the end not only of her career as an aviatrix but of her earthly existence as well.

Andre Houper, Miss Moisant's instructor in aviation, saved her from serious injury by carrying her body from the wreck. With that forbidding of danger that is said to be instinctive with aviators he managed to be close at hand when the landing was made and with the assistance of Roy Condon of this city, jerked the young lady to safety. The machine was a total loss.

As a result of the accident, it is quite possible that Miss Moisant will not carry out her announced plan to give up aviation. She seems to feel that she should redeem herself and she will likely make the attempt when opportunity offers.

After a particularly successful flight, Miss Moisant was attempting to land and was forced by the crowd on the field to go outside of the grounds to alight. Skimming along almost immediately over the heads of the spectators, she endeavored to come down just outside the baseball park. The machine struck the earth with considerable force and bounced into the air. It crashed down and crumpled from the impact like so much glass.

Almost instantly flames arose from the wreckage and to the sickened crowd it seemed that the young woman's doom was sure. Houper, however, had seen the danger, to which the crowd was oblivious and had run swiftly along under the monoplane, being but a few feet away when the accident occurred. Roy Condon, employed at the Westland Hotel, was also near and the two quickly rescued Miss Moisant from her perilous plight.

The machine continued to burn and in a few moments was almost completely destroyed.

Miss Moisant's first thought after the accident was of her sister, Louise who accompanies her. Miss Louise had remained at the hotel. "Telephone Louise quick that I am not hurt," were her first words after she regained her feet.

The accident came as the climax of an eventful day in aviation in noon hundreds of Wichitans and neighbors began to move toward the lake when the flights were to be held. During the early part of the afternoon the wind which had prevented flights on the four previous days swept clouds of dust across the ball park from which the flights were to start. The crowd, however, stayed on believing that the wind might blow near sundown. Their patience and perseverance were rewarded for about 6 o'clock the wind lulled until the air became almost calm.

The aeroplane was at once wheeled from the "hangar" and soon Miss Moisant, the French aviatrix was floating at a height of nearly 4000 feet in one of the most exhibitions of the kind ever seen in Texas. His flight was of fifteen minutes duration and in it he covered approximately sixteen miles. Sailing majestically over the ball park he landed safely in the middle of the diamond.

Miss Moisant in aviation costume then appeared and it was announced that she was about to make her farewell appearance as an aviatrix, having yielded to the persuasion of her relatives to quit the aviation game.

The crowd cheered as she mounted her seat and a moment later held their breath as the big monoplane barely missed crashing into some wire netting on top of the park fence. This was cleared safely, and after a pretty flight of about ten minutes duration she came down outside the park. It seems that the engine had not worked perfectly and after the mechanic had made some changes in a valve she announced that she would make another flight, saying: "This is to be my last flight and I want it to be my best."

She went up in aviation costume. The protest of Houper that she should quit while quitting was good and waving farewell to Mons Houper steered the big monoplane from the earth and sailed skyward. Mounting higher and higher and speeding faster and faster she rose until she appeared a mere speck in the sky. In graceful circles she demonstrated her control of her craft. After reaching an altitude of between three and four thousand feet she started her descent. She came down outside of the park. When the crowd

MISS MOISANT HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Bounding again into the air it lurched forward onto the propeller which was broken into pieces and one of the blades struck the gasoline tank with terrific force breaking it open and spilling the gasoline upon the red hot exhaust pipe. Instantly a sheet of flame shot over the machine and spectators turned their faces sick with horror at the sight. Many did not know until several minutes later that Miss Moisant had escaped unhurt.

Mons Houpert who had been waiting to receive Miss Moisant when the monoplane struck the ground the first time had bounded beneath it when it struck the ground the first time and was in it almost before it struck the ground the second time. Seizing Miss Moisant almost the same instant the flames shot over the machine he dragged her out head foremost. Houpert was scarcely any quicker to the rescue than Roy Gordon, an elevator boy at the Westland Hotel who assisted in the rescue. Miss Moisant's leggings were scorched and her hair where it peeped from beneath her cap was singed but she was uninjured and was less excited over the accident than any who had witnessed it.

Miss Moisant, when asked if she was injured, smilingly replied that she was not, and requested Mons Houpert to telephone to the Westland Hotel and inform her sister of her safe escape. A moment later she expressed regret that her coat had been consumed by the flames, which necessitated her walking through the crowd clad in her aviation costume. To numerous offers of automobiles, she replied that she had made the trip to the lake on a street car and that she intended going back the same way. However, she was afterwards persuaded to make the trip back to town in an automobile.

The machine which was destroyed in such a spectacular manner yesterday afternoon was the same in which Miss Moisant narrowly escaped death in Shreveport, La., recently. The accident at Lake Wichita was the fourth very serious one which she has experienced since she has been in the aviation game, and each time she escaped almost unhurt in a miraculous manner.

Accompanied by her sister, Miss Louise, she left this afternoon for San Francisco, Cal., to spend several weeks with relatives, after which she will go to New York to visit her brother.

Miss Louise Moisant said this morning, "We are going to stay in California as long as I can keep Mathilde there, as we have no aeroplanes here."

Miss Mathilde's flight at Lake Wichita yesterday afternoon marks the end of one of the most rapid and spectacular careers which ever fell to the lot of a woman. During five short months, she has gained international fame as an aviator, and by her narrow escapes from death, has kept in a state of anxious worry her thousands of friends throughout the country. These will learn with pleasure that she has decided to quit before it is too late.

Mons Andre Houpert left this morning for New York City, from which place he will sail directly to his home in Paris, France. He has been head instructor in the Moisant school of aviation for some time and has just completed a tour through Mexico, and a few cities in the United States. He will spend the summer in France, and will probably return to America next fall and again become identified with the Moisant school of aviation. He regards Miss Moisant's escape yesterday afternoon as most wonderful and says that he, too, is glad that she is quitting the game as he believes that she would be killed sooner or later if she continued to fly.

Signor Francisco Alvarez was just preparing to make a flight himself when the accident occurred yesterday afternoon, and although he did not have an opportunity of showing his ability here, it is said that he is one of the most daring birdmen in America. He has only been in the game since last October, at which time he was a student in the junior class at the University of Michigan. Becoming interested by chance in the aviation game, he has developed remarkable ability in handling the machines, and it is probable that he will remain here until next Sunday to give some additional flights. R. Pease, manager of the Moisant aviators, says that the machine which is left here will be repaired in six days time, and that he will continue with Alvarez on a tour of the country.

The exhibitions were not a success from a financial standpoint owing to the fact that for three successive days the wind did not permit any flights. Most of those who had bought tickets bore this patiently although those who had sponged and had attempted to see the flights from outside the park did a lot of kicking. Former Cowboy Roped Blazing Engine.

A feat which took many old timers back to the days when the cowboys and cattlemen reigned undisturbed in this section of the state was witnessed by the crowds at the aviation meet at Lake Wichita yesterday afternoon when R. E. Marlow, who in days past has been a cowboy and expert rope thrower, soon after the monoplane containing Miss Mathilde Moisant had crashed to the ground a burning heap of splintered wood and steel, galloped up on horseback and skillfully threw his lasso over the three thousand dollar, fifty horse power, special steel monoplane engine, and dragged it away from the flames.

Although the engine had been damaged beyond repair, nevertheless, Mr. Marlow received the thanks of R. Pease, manager for the aviators, and of Rene Porah, the French mechanic in charge of the monoplanes. Mr. Marlow declared that had it been necessary, he would have roped Miss Moisant and would have dragged her

BAKING POWDER

The wonder of baking powders—Calumet. Wonderful in its raising powers—its uniformity, its never failing results, its purity.

Wonderful in its economy. It costs less than the high-price trust brands, but it is worth as much. It costs a trifle more than the cheap and big can kinds—it is worth more. But proves its real economy in the baking.

News From Oil Fields

R. O. Prideaux and son, Henry, were here today attending to business and paying the printer. Mr. Prideaux has lately leased 2385 acres to the Guffey Petroleum Co., at one dollar per acre, but reserved 3500 acres for which he states he would consider no offer, or at least that an offer of a half million dollars would be no inducement. His son, Henry, has 900 acres, and daughter, Miss Nellie, has 370 acres, which neither has been nor will be leased.—Archer County News.

The tax assessor's office force is this week adding the Texas Company in making a map of Archer county showing the names of the owners. This map will also show all the subdivisions and has long been in demand.—Archer County News.

The Archer County News reports that the Corsicana Petroleum Company has a party of surveyors in the field cutting up the Miller lease of 5,000 acres recently purchased by them into 31 blocks of 160 acres each. The News further states that the contract calls for the sinking of a well on each one of these 31 blocks. This, however, it is understood is to be done only under certain conditions which are not known. It is said though that the Corsicana Co. has contracted to drill wells on eight of the tracts and may eventually drill on each of the 31. Mr. Fattkner, manager for the Corsicana Petroleum Company has been on the ground several days arranging for the hauling of machinery and drilling supplies from Anarans to the field. Three rigs it is reported, are now in transit.

Hivick, Hudson & Stuart have placed in the Power State Bank certified checks to the amount of $1800 as a guarantee that they will sink two 2000 feet oil wells on lands owned by J. L. Steen, Z. J. Steen, Henry Harrison and Jas. Harrison. This block of oil leases is situated about nine miles southeast of Archer City, and adjoins the Southern Oil Co., leases on the north. Since the Miller strike these people have refused several fancy offers for their leases, but have accepted this lease with a guarantee of immediate development.—Archer County News.

The Guffey Petroleum Company and the Producers Oil Company, the lessees of the Cowan lands, are making arrangements for teams and men to unload two rigs for the wells located on their leases. The well to be put down by the Guffey Petroleum Company is located east of and near the Archer City and Miller well graded road, while the Producers Oil Company well will be about 2 miles west of said road and near Onion Creek.—Archer County News.

Ed Howard, General Manager S. D. Donnell, Managing Editor

Wichita Falls, Texas, April 15th, 1912.

The newspapers are already publishing portraits of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, who is by birth a Georgian, as the first lady of the land, providing of course, that her distinguished husband wins the Democratic presidential nomination.

Morris Sheppard has re-entered the senatorial race, but those who would like to give him their support are likely to hold off a bit until he gets used to the track. They naturally feel just a little bit doubtful as to whether he will stick his horse through to the end.

Democrats should remember that May 4th is the day set by the State Democratic Committee for the holding of precinct presidential preference primaries. If you have a favorite among the several Democratic presidential candidates, be on hand at your precinct primary on May 4th prepared to select delegates to the county convention which in turn will select and instruct its delegates to the State convention to cast the vote of Wichita county for Wilson, Clark, Harmon or Underwood. Inasmuch as nearly all Democrats have a first and second choice among the presidential candidates, there is a strong sentiment in favor of instructing the delegates who are to cast the vote of Wichita county in the State convention, to cast the vote of the county as to a first and second choice candidate. All the candidates, with the possible exception of House Leader Underwood have a very respectable following in the county, but it is conceded by most of them that Wilson is the strongest of the four candidates, and it is therefore a contest of Wilson against the field. This feeling prevails in almost every county in the State.

The population of Cooke county, Illinois, in which is located the great city of Chicago, is equal to the balance of the State, and in the presidential preference primary held throughout that State a week ago, the result shows that the vote of Champ Clark, Democrat, is greater than the vote cast for both Taft and Roosevelt combined. Of course, not more than one-half the votes were polled, but nevertheless, it indicates that the rock-ribbed Republican State of Illinois can consistently be placed in the doubtful column at the coming election. While this paper is more favorable to the candidacy of Woodrow Wilson, if Mr. Clark can continue to show his strength in States where the Democrats have never hoped to carry, his candidacy will reach that point where it will demand serious consideration. As it now stands, Clark stands next to Wilson in favor with the Democrats. Gov. Harmon's boom seems to have almost collapsed, and unless he can make a better showing in the next few weeks than for the past two months, his friends will become discouraged, and will be perfectly justified in turning their support to their second choice. This is being done in Texas now, and from the present outlook the Democrats will choose between Wilson and Clark, rather than between Wilson and Harmon. As for Underwood, there is little effort being made in Texas to advance his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination. Wilson's victory in Pennsylvania, to a certain extent offsets the severe setback his boom suffered in Illinois.

TYPHOID FEVER A PREVENTABLE DISEASE.

It is rather startling to be told that in 1909 there were more cases of typhoid in the United States, with a population not half as large as that of India, than there were cases of plague in India; and that there were four times as many cases of typhoid in the United States as cases of cholera in Russia during a period including the epidemic of 1910. These figures are taken from an article by McLaughlin of the Marine-Hospital Service, who says that we consider with apprehension the countries in which cholera and plague occur frequently and call them pest-ridden countries, but do not consider the problem of typhoid fever seriousness. He gives tables to show that within the registration area in the United States, in fifty cities having an aggregate population of over 20,000,000 the average typhoid death-rate for 1910 was 25 per hundred thousand inhabitants: in one city in that year it amounted to 86.7 per hundred thousand, and in several cities it amounted to 45 or more. In ten of the largest cities of northern Europe, comprising a population of 15,000,000, the average typhoid death-rate per hundred thousand of population during a period of ten years, from 1901 to 1910, was only 3.4, and in 1910 the rate had gone down to 2.5. It is considered in Europe that a death-rate of 13 to 15 per hundred thousand constitutes a rather serious reflection on the sanitary management or the water-supplies of such cities. And yet the figures are far below the average of the fifty cities in the United States above referred to, in which the death-rate was 25 per hundred thousand of population. Leaving out of account such causes of typhoid as infected food and milk, contact, carriers, etc., McLaughlin believes this death-rate can be very materially reduced by filtering the water supplies of our cities, which are too largely contaminated by sewage. Not only is this high death-rate from typhoid fever to be deplored on humanitarian grounds, but the occurrence of such a large number of cases represents an economic loss so great as to be almost incalculable. The Journal of the American Medical Association says that our legislators and city authorities should feel the obligation to adopt more vigorous methods of preventing this enormous waste of human energy, earning capacity and human life.

POLITICAL COMMENTS

The Wool Bill.

The Underwood wool bill—practically the same bill that went through both houses last August and was vetoed by the President—has been put through the House by a 2 to 1 majority. It is reasonably certain that enough progressive Republican Senators to take the Senate out of the control of the tariff Bourbons will vote for the wool bill and also for the cotton bill. This means that the President must decide again whether he will accept tariff bills that genuinely revise downward. This time he cannot veto on the side issue that a report of the tariff board must be awaited. As to wool and cotton the board has reported, and the reports justify the rates carried by the Underwood bills. The tariff has recently dropped out of discussion. During the remaining weeks of Congress it promises to be dominant. The President, instead of mollifying the Republican progressives of the Senate has further incensed them, and they seem quite willing to join in the plan to put the President in a hole.—New York Globe.

Good Step in Automobile Regulation. Passage by the board of aldermen of the ordinance prohibiting the opening of the muffler cut out in the streets is deserving of the highest commendation of the citizens and all decent automobilists, but it is only a minor item in the automobile ills that need to be cured. Abuse of the cut out has been for years a flagrant nuisance to which the suffering public has been subjected.

Sleep has been made impossible, and the way in which many chauffeurs used the noisy warning on the slightest provocation made pedestrians rightfully resent the insolent order to jump aside. The cut out has been absolutely unnecessary for several years now, and the average well-made automobile today will run just as evenly and produce equal power with the cut out closed or open.

The way quiet residential neighborhoods have been kept in a turmoil all night long by chugging engines and the noise produced by intoxicated parties late at night racing through the streets with open cut out has been a scandal, and it is refreshing to see that it has been called to an end.—New York Herald.

President Taft's second message on economy and efficiency puts a great administrative reform flatly up to Congress.

Will Congress dodge it? We are now in full stream of the National campaign. Jobs make recruits. They are invaluable munitions of political war. They are the nutrition that feeds party loyalty and sustains the weary feet of embattled partisans in the long marches of the campaign.

It is cruel of the President to attack the commissariat at such a time but the plain people will applaud him. It is good politics. It is better than good politics. It is patriotism.

And now especially let us hear from the friends of true economy, of the Democratic organization of the

The City National bank building was the scene of two incipient fires yesterday, one alarm being turned in about 2:30, the other at 8 o'clock. In each case an awning on the east side of the building had caught fire, being quickly extinguished. While both of the fires are thought to have been caused by someone dropping cigar stumps out of upper windows, it is not known how either of the blazes originated.
