Captain Smith Stood Firmly on Bridge As Ship Sank Exhorting His Men To Be Brave.

There was no shock from the collis ion according to the testimony of the survivors. At first the passengers went into the boats unwillingly thinking they would soon return to the ship. Several were thus forced into the

When the lifeboats pushed away from the steamer, the steamer was brilliantly lighted, the band was play ing and the captain was standing or the bridge giving directions. The bov was well submerged and the keel roshigh above the water. Suddenly the boat seemed to break in two. Th next moment everything disappeared The survivors were so close to the sinking ship that they feared the life boats would be drawn into the vortex There were preparations for a brillian party to be given on board the next evening.

Some of the members of the crew even at the last refused to lon card game in their quarters believing that the Titanic would not sink. There was little suction when the ship went down. The Countess Rothes an expert oars woman took charge of the crew in onof the life boats, the crew being un skilled stewards who could not row. Nearly all the men who were saved escaped by swimming and nearly thousand were struggling in the water when the ship went down. Among the men who escaped in this manner were an entire watch of naked fireman. Bruce Ismay, millionaire presiden of the navigation company owning the Titanic is said to have been one of the first to have entered the boats but he denies this. One of the survivors says that Ismay left the ship on the last Ismay testified before the Senate investigating committee this afternoon that there were 745 survivors. He said Their piteous cries still ring in the Titanic was making 21 knots when hit by the iceberg and that her side was ripped, Fully one thousand persons, he said were left struggling in the water when the ship sank. A few women who could not be reached in their staterooms went down with the ship.

The Cunard liner Carpathia, a ship of gloom and succor, came into New York last night with the first news direct from the White Star liner Titanic, which sank off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland early last Monday

The greater liner went down with her band playing, taking with her to death all but 745 of her human cargo of 2,340 souls. To this awful death list six were added. One died in the life-boat when it put off from the liner's side and five subsequently succumbed on the rescue ship Carpathia. The list of prominent men missing stands as previously reported, and the total death list as brought to port tolast hight by the Carpathia is 1.601.

The night was clear and the majestic Jacques Futrelle, the writer who had ship was steaming at a rate of 21 previously been reported among those knots when she struck the iceberg saved. Little can be learned of the that sent her to the ocean acean bottom, 2,000 fathoms deep. Her hull rose their death. They simply effaced on a shelf of the berg, just as has been surmised, and in so doing and in the subsequent recoil her bottom plates and her port side were badly torn and shattered, but there was no such terrific shock from the impact as might have been supposed, according to the preponderance of the evidence.

The captain and officers at once ressured the passengers, believing that here was no immediate danger. Under this encouragement many of them went back to their staterooms, and not a few calmly returned to their erths. That is said to account for the fact that many of the women were not even on deck when the imminence of heir danger was realized, and scores of them were drowned in the staterooms like rats in a trap. About one hour before the ship plunged to the bottom there were three separate explosions from the boiler rooms as the vessel filled. These were at intervals of about fifteen minutes.

Until then there had been no panic and but little disorder. From that moment, however, there was a different The rush for the ramaining boats became a stampede. The offiers had to assert their authority and ome were shot down without mercy. t is declared by some and denied by was carried down a short distance y the Titanic's death plunge, but who came to the top and saved himself by swimming, said today: "Afer sinking with the ship it seemed o me I was propelled with some great force through the water. This night have been occasioned by exolosions of the ship's boilers under he water. I recall I was most fear-'ul of being boiled to death. I prayd for deliverance while I held my breath until I came to the surface, ifter a seemingly unending wait. On he surface was nothing in sight save ce and a large field of wreckage, and lying men and women all about.

"The second officer and J. B. Thayer who were swimming near me said just before my head appeared above the water one of the Titanic's funnels separated, falling apart near me and scattering bodies in the water. I saw wreckage everywhere. A short distance away was an overturned collapsible boat. I swam to it finding about twenty men lying in it, mostly members of the crew. Others came aboard until we had to prevent more limbing on it to prevent it sinking. All around us were men swimming. my ears. To each we shouted: 'Hang on to what you have old boy; one more of you aboard would sink us all,' and many whom we refused answered as they went to their death good luck and God bless you.'

"Long before daylight we stood in columns two deep back to back, balancing ourselves fearful to move lest the delicate balance of the boat should be disturbed and all of us thrown again into the water. The hand of God seemed to have soothed the sea. It was calm. One sailor died on our raft from cold and exposure. At daylight we were picked up by life boats filling them to the water's edge. The Carpathia arrived just ahead of a moderate blow which would surely have swamped some of the life boats."

Another Survivor's Story. New York, April 19.-Following is the account of Mr. Beasley, of London, on the Titanic: "The voyage from Queenstown had been quite uneventful; very fine was quite calm. The wind had been As to the scene on board when the very cold, particularly the last day; liner struck accounts disagree widely. in fact, after dinner on Sunday even

However, the engines | or Saturday; warmer Saturstopped immediately afterward and day. my first thought was, 'She has lost a propeller.' I went up on the top (boat) deck in a dressing gown and found only a few people there, who had come up similarly to inquire why

we had stopped, but there was no

sort of anxiety in the minds of any

"We saw through the smoking room window a game of cards going on and went in to inquire if they knew anything. It seems they felt the window had seen a huge iceberg They thought we had just grazed it engines had been stopped to see if any damage had been done. No one, of course, had any conception that she had been pierced below by part of the submerged iceberg. The game went on without any thought of disaster and I retired to my cabin to read until we went on again. "I never saw any of the players or the onlookers again. A little later, hearing people going upstairs, I went out again and found everyone wanting to know why the engines had stopped. No doubt many were akanened from sleep by the sudden stopping of a vibration to which they became accustomed during the four days we had been on board. Naturally, with such powerful engines as the Titanic carried the vibration was very noticeable all the time, and the sudden stopping and something of the same effect as the stopping of a loud-ticking grandfather's clock in a room.

"On going on deck again I saw that there was an undoubted tilt downward from stern to bow, but knowing nothing of what had happened, concluded some of the front compartments had filled and were weighing her down.

"I went down again to put on warmer clothing, and as I dressed heard an order shouted

"All passengers on deck with life belts on.

"We all walked slowly up with hem tied on over our clothing, but even then presumed this was a wise precaution the captain was taking and that we should return in a short time and retire to bed. There was a total absence of any panic or any expressions of alarm, and I suppose this can be accounted for by the exceedingly calm night and the absence of any signs of the accident. The ship ed to be present was absolutely still, and except for a gentle tilt downward, which I don't ranged by the Civic League will probthink one person in ten would have noticed, at that time, no signs of the approaching disaster were visible. But in a few moments we saw the covers lifted from the boats and the crews allotted to them standing by and curling up the ropes which were unable to serve, being called out of to lower them by the pulley blocks into the water.

"We then began to realize it was more serious than had been supposed and my first thought was to go down and get more clothing and some money, but seeing people pouring up the stairs, decided it was better to cause no confusion to people coming that still more can be used. All who FORT WORTH TEAM up by doing so. Presently we heard the order: "'All men stand back away from the boats and ladies retire to next deck below'-the smoking room deck or B deck. The men all stood away and remained in absolute silence, leaning against the railings of the deck or pacing slowly up and down. The boats were swung out and lowered from A deck. When they were to the level of the B deck, where all the ladies were collected, the ladies got in quietly, with the exception of some who refused to leave their husbands. In some cases they were torn from them and pushed into the boats, but in many instances they were allowed to remain because there was no one to insist they should go "Looking over the side one saw boats from aft already in the water, slipping quietly away into darkness and presently the boats near to me were lowered and with much creaking as the new ropes slipped through the pulley blocks down the seventyfive feet which separated them from the water. An officer in uniform came up as one boat went down and shouted: 'When you are afloat row round to the companion ladder and stand by with the other boats for or-

"'Aye, aye,' came up the reply, but don't think any boat was able to obey the order. When they were affoat the condition of the rapidly settling ship was so much more a sight for alarm for those in the boats than those on board that the sailors saw they could do nothing but row from part of the high school boys who/left not have an easy time deciding which

USE OF ROOSEVELT

Washington, April 18.-Director Mc Kinley and the National Taft bureau pastor's own story ... oday issued a statement calling attenion to the alleged use of money in the Roosevelt campaign.

"The lavish expenditure of money in his campaign by the backers of former President Theodore Roosevelt, says the statement, "has led to the question being raised: 'Were the vic ories of Roosevelt in Pennsylvania and Oklahoma due to a great popular demand for his renomination or to the use of money?""

Further along Mr. McKinley says: 'In no preconvention campaign in he history of the country has money een used in such large sums, amoun ng, in view of the general verdict of the country with respect to certain ex penditures by Senators of the United States, to plain bribery and corruption as has been expended by backers of Theodore Roosevelt."

Mr. McKinley declares the Roose elt forces spent large sums in Okla homa, that they distributed $100,000 in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, in cluding Pittsburg, by issuing 20,000 pieces of "scrip" in $5 denomination to "messengers;" that the total Roosevelt expenditures in Pennsylvania were between $250,000 and $500,000; that in New York county alone $700,000 was spent in an endeavor to influence the primarles, and that efforts were made to "buy out' precinct captains his office, and from the switch to the

GEORGE AUSTIN PAINFULLY INJURED

George Austin, a cab-driver, sustained painful injuries shortly after noon today while attempting to stop his team which was running away. The accident occurred near the corner of Twelfth and Lamar streets. The horses became frightened at something while a passenger was alighting near the corner of Tenth and Lamar, and started down Lamar at a rapid gait. Austin managed to selze one of the animals by the bridle and clung firmly while the horses continued on their

TITANIC'S DEATH LIST REACHES 1595-SAVED 745

THOUSAND MEN STRUGGLING IN WATER WHEN VESSEL SANK BENEATH THE WATER.

A PITEOUS SCENE

Captain Smith Stood Firmly on Bridge As Ship Sank Exhorting His Men To Be Brave.

New York, April 19.—It was officially announced this afternoon that the death list of the Titanic numbers 1595 persons, including six deaths among the survivors aboard the Carpathia who died as the result of exposure. The complete list of the dead has been given out after a comparison of the Titanic's passenger and crew list with the survivors aboard the Carpathia; which reached this port last night.

The night was clear and the majestic ship was steaming at a rate of 21 knots when she struck the iceberg that sent her to the ocean acean bot tom, 2,000 fathoms deep. Her hull rose on a shelf of the berg, just as has been surmised, and in so doing and in the subsequent recoil her bottom plates and her port side were badly torn and shattered, but there was no such terrific shock from the impact as might have been supposed, according to the preponderance of the evidence.

The captain and officers at once reissured the passengers, believing that there was no immediate danger. Under this encouragement many of them went back to their staterooms, and not a few calmly returned to their berths. That is said to account for the fact that many of the women were not even on deck when the imminence of their danger was realized, and scores of them were drowned in the state-

Col. Gracie's Story.

Col. Archibald Gracie, U. S. A. who was carried down a short distance by the Titanic's death plunge, but who came to the top and saved himself by swimming, said today: "After sinking with the ship it seemed o me I was propelled with some great force through the water. This night have been occasioned by explosions of the ship's bollers under the water. I recall I was most fear ful of being boiled to death. I prayed for deliverance while I held my breath until I came to the surface, after a seemingly unending wait. On he surface was nothing in sight save ice and a large field of wreckage, and lying men and women all about. The second officer and J. B. Thayer who were swimming near me said just before my head appeared above the water one of the Titanic's funnels separated, falling apart near me and scattering bodies in the water. I saw wreckage everywhere. A short distance away was an overturned collapsible boat. I swam to it finding about twenty men lying in it, mostly members of the crew, Others came aboard until we had to prevent more climbing on it to prevent it sinking. All around us were men swimming. that there were 745 survivors. He said Their piteous cries still ring in my ears. "Long before daylight we stood in columns two deep back to back, balshould be disturbed and all of us died on our raft from cold and exposure. At daylight we were picked up by life boats filling them to the the life boats."

It seems they felt listed to starboard and a shower of ice go by close to the side of the boat. They thought we had just grazed it engines had been stopped to see if any damage had been done. No one, of course, had any conception that she had been pierced below by part of the submerged iceberg. The game went on without any thought of disaster and I retired to my cabin to read

A little later, hearing people going upstairs, I went out again and found everyone wanting to know why the engines had stopped. No doubt many were akanened from sleep by the sudden stopping of a vibration to which they became accustomed during the four days we had been on board. Naturally, with such powerful engines as the Titanic carried the vibration was very noticeable all the time, and the sudden stopping and something of the same effect as the stopping of a loud-ticking grandfather's clock in a room.

"On going on deck again I saw that there was an undoubted tilt downward from stern to bow, but knowing nothing of what had happened, concluded some of the front compartments had filled and were weighing her down.

"I went down again to put on warmer clothing, and as I dressed heard an order shouted: "All passengers on deck with life

"We all walked slowly up with them tied on over our clothing, but even then presumed this was a wise precaution the captain was taking and that we should return in a short time and retire to bed. There was a total absence of any panic or any expressions of alarm, and I suppose this can be accounted for by the exceedingly calm night and the absence of any signs of the accident. The men all stood away and remained in absolute silence, leaning against the railings of the deck or pacing slowly up and down. The boats were swung out and lowered from A deck. When they were to the level of the B deck, where all the ladies were collected, the ladies got in quietly, with the exception of some who refused to leave their husbands. "Former President A. A. Allen has gone to Battle Creek, Mich., and all of us hope will rapidly recover his strength. He had worked himself to the point where rest and recuperation were absolutely necessary—if he ever wanted to be himself again."

Mr. West was accompanied by Ed H. Coombs, assistant general freight agent of the Katy lines in Texas headquarters in Houston. Both of them will go to Austin this morning and will go from there to Dallas to night. They were here "to get traffic," as Mr. Coombs expressed it.

While nobody save C. E. Schaff knows, and he doesn't know yet, there is that "uneasy feeling" that the nev president will see fit to make some changes in the company's general staff both on the northern end and as will particularly effect the Texas company. The very fact there is uncertainty about the situation is what produces "tremolo" nerves on the part of many officials. They expect to know a great deal more within a

FORT WORTH TEAM HERE NEXT SUNDA

A team composed partly of Fort Worth independent players and partly of members of the Texas League pine will play the Wichita Falls squad Sunday afternoon at the lake park. Arrangements for the game were completed this morning and the visiting line-up is said to be one of the strongest that the Panther City could get together.

This will probably be the last game before the season starts and an interesting affray is anticipated. The message from Fort Worth stated that a team was coming to "clean up" with the locals, but Fred Morris and his bunch will have something to say about that. The game will be called at 3:30

Not much is known here of the umpiring staff recently named by President Newcomb of the Texas-Oklahoma league. All of the offienced men, having served in other minor circuits in the South and Southwest. While all are strangers so far as this league is concerned. they come well recommended.

AUDIT OF CITY'S BOOKS ORDERED

FINANCE COMMITTEE INSTRUCT-ED TO TAKE ACTION IN THIS CONNECTION.

CHNGAE OF POLICEMAN

J. B. Nail Elected to Force-Succeeding S. W. Walker Resigned. Other Proceedings.

At its session last night the city council decided to have an audit vision for a sewer extension west of Fourteenth and Bluff, appointed a new policeman and took steps to enforce the collection of sewer rents on unoccupied dwellings.

Several other matters of lesser importance received attention. Secretary Anderson of the Y. M. C. A. on behalf of the United Charities, want-ed to know if the city would bear half the expense of caring for a woman who had become a public charge, the county having agreed to bear the other half. The mayor and aldermen agreed that as the city was without a charity fund nothing could be done

Secretary Forester of the Chamber of Commerce wanted to know if a record of building permits could not be required. After some discussion this matter was referred to the city attorney. The matter of building a partition in the police station so as to provide an office for the city attorney was referred to a committee consisting of Aldermen Reed, Richolt and Bradley

The council ordered that the books of the city departments be audited, the matter being referred to the finance committee for action. A petition for a new sewer west of Fourteenth and Bluff was presented and ordered granted.

H. F. Robertson, assessor and collector, asked the council to pass an ordinance providing that he be notifled when a house was vacated and when it was again rented, so that the sewer rent might be collected. After an amendment had been adopted providing that the owner should be responsible in such cases, the ordinance was agreed upon, and will be passed when drawn up.

The street committee was authorized to purchase two additional teams when needed.

J. B. Nail was elected a policeman succeeding S. W. Walker, resigned Mr. Nail's salary was fixed at $65 monthly, while that of Policeman Al len, who has served for some time was raised to $75 per month. The council then adjourned.

IS YOUR PANAMA GENUINE?

The Hats Are Not Made in Panama

(New York Herald) When the summer comes lucky is the young man who can sport a genuine Panama hat Though these hats have become popular throughout the United States, few people know that the term is a misnomer.

These hats are not made at lana ma, but in Ecuador, Peru and Colom-bia. It was because the great bulk of the export of these hars was shipped via the Isthmus of Panama that hey got their name, which probably never will be corrected now.

ne that the straw out of which the Panama hats are made is very ex-In South American comries the Panama hats are worn by rich and poor alike. The high prices we know are due largely to the import duties and to the fact that they pass through the hands of a number of commission men before they reach the ultimate purchaser.

During that Paris Exposition held during the reign of Napoleon III, two Panama hats from Ecuador were sold for $200 each and presented to the emperor and to Marshal MacMahon. One of the finest hats ever made in Ecuador was presented to the late King Edward of England and was so delicate and exquisitely woven that it could be folded into a package not arger than his watch.

The United States is the largest purchaser of Panama hats, the imports of jipi-japs from Ecuador amounting to nearly one million dollars annually. Germany, Great Britain and France come next in the or der named.

COFFEE HURTS

It is difficult to make people believe that tea and coffee are a poison to at least one person out of every three, but people are slowly finding it out although thousands of them suffer terribly before they discover the fact.

A New York hotel man says: "Each time after drinking coffee I became restless, nervous and excited, so that was unable to sit five minutes in one place, was also inclined to vomit and suffered from loss of sleep, which got worse and worse.

"A lady said that perhaps coffee was the cause of my trouble, and suggested that I try Postum. I laughed at the thought that coffe hurt me, but she insisted so hard that I finally had some Postum made. I have been us-ing it in place of coffee ever since, for I noticed that all my former nervousness and irritation disappeared. I be gan to sleep perfectly, and the Postum tasted as good or better than the old coffee, so what was the use of sticking to a beverage that was injuring me?

"One day on an excursion up the ountry I remarked to a young lady friend on her greatly improved appearance. She explained that som time before she had quit using coffee and taken Postam. She had gained a number of pounds and her former pal pitation of the heart, humming in the ears, trembling of the hands and legs and other disagreeable feelings had disappeared. She recommended me to quit coffee and take Postum and was very much surprised to find that I had already made the change.

"She said her brother had also re ceived great benefits from leaving of coffee and taking on Postum." "There's Ever read the above letter? A new DRUG HABIT GRIPS PARIS. City, a Parisian Physician Wholesale Asserts. Brooklyn Eagle)

Paris-Investigations following recent succession of fatalities in the Quartier Latin have revealed that the drug habit has gained on Parisians. In one store alone dope flends buy no less than one hundred pint of cocáine and morphine every week.
So prevalent is the dope habit that a prominent physician declares he can detect its victims by the score every time he takes a round of the cafes. Ether is no longer fashionable but especially in the artist quarters morphine is used recklessly. Even dicted to it in an evening's stroll. Paris, in the opinion of this physician, is the most drug cursed city in the world, for while rich women other capitals secretly indulge in va rious dangerous ways of stimulating their jaded forces, the dope habit in Paris has spread through every class until wholesale degeneracy is threat

Some people like plain olives, some stuffed, and some or dinary bulk. To suit all tastes, I have a complete stock of all and will sell the bulk by the dozen, by the pint, or by the quart. A dozen Queen olives will cost you foc; a pint 25c; and a quart 50c, and they are the finest quality grown. Stuffed or plain olives in bottles, two sizes, 15c and 35c. The stuffed are prepared with ripe pimento. These are pitted which makes them more desirable to a great many people.

Perhaps the most popular olive is the one that I sell in quartjars at 50c. They are of remarkable quality and the price has aput them on a great many tables in Wichita Falls where olives were not frequently used before.

THE REPUBLICAN SITUATION

Samuel G. Blythe, who can size up political situation better than a nigger wench can a family washing. says in this week's Saturday Evening Post that Theodore Roosevelt did two things when he became an open candidate for the Republican nomination for president. "He made the renomination of President Taft as certain as anything political can be certain. And he lessened, to a large extent, the already slim chance President Taft has for re-election in No-'vember.'

Blythe then proceeds to show why these things are so. His argument night, the 27th, Col. Wolters, candidate and his conclusions may be wrong for the senatorship, is scheduled for a but they seem mighty plausible and speech to the people of this city and are certainly most interesting to

"One by one the boats were filled with women and children, lowered and rowed away into the night. Presently the word went around among the men, 'The men are to be put in boats on the starboard side.' I was on the port side and most of the men walked across the deck to see if this was so. I remained where I was and presently heard the call, 'Any more ladies?

"Looking over the side of the ship I saw the boat No. 13 swinging level with B deck, half full of ladies. Again the call was repeated, 'Any more ladies?

"I saw none come on and then on of the crew looked up and said:

"Any ladies on your deck, sir?" "'No,' I replied.

"Then you had better jump. "I dropped and fell in the bottom as they cried, 'Lower away.' As the boat began to descend two ladies were pushed hurriedly through the crowd on the deck and heaved over into the boat and a baby of 10 months passed down after them. Down we went, the crew calling to those lowering which end to keep her level, 'aft 'stern,' 'both together' until we were some ten feet from the water, and here occurred the only anxious moment we had during the whole of our experience in leaving the deck to board the Carpathia.

"Immediately below our boat was the exhaust of the condensers, a huge stream of water pouring all the time from the ship's side above the water line. It was plain we ought to be smart away from this not to be swamp ed by it when we touched water. We had no officer aboard nor petty officer or member of the crew to take charge. So one of the stokers should ed, 'Some one find the pin which re leases the boat from the tropes and pull it up.' No one knew where I

Col. Gracle denied with emphasis that any men were fired upon, and declared that only once was a re-was no confusion and no panic."

Col. Gracie was in his berth when the vessel smashed into the iceberg and was aroused by the jar. He looked at his watch, he said, and found it was just midnight. The ship sank with him at 2:22 a. m., for his watch stopped at that hour. "Before I retired," said Col. Gra-

Guthrie, April 17.—Attorney John Devereux threw Guthrie's hat in the ing today when he filed with Attorney eneral West an initiative petition to cate the capitol and seat of governient of Oklahoma at the city of Guthie. In making this move, Devereux acted for the Guthrie Chamber of commerce, and the action is based principally on the recent opinion giv by Attorney General West to Gov nor Lee Cruce that the state is no oliged to regard as binding the agree ents made in 1910 with Oklahoma ity relative to locating the capitol and recting the capitol buildings there. The attorney general held further hat because of the failure of the cit ens of Oklahoma City to make good n their agreement relative to locating he capitol there, that there is noth ng to authorize Governor Cruce to make a binding contract for the erec ion of the buildings. The slate thus being wiped clean, the citizens of Guthie through the Chamber of Commerce lecided to act, and filing the petition the first tsep.

McMorris, that he had told his-fellow-members that Norris must be indicted or that there wasn't evidence enough to convict him.

Mrs. Norris testified on cross exmination this morning that "to the best of her recollection" the anonymous letter was written on a whole sheet of paper.

Contradicting the testimony of the State's star witness in vital parts and throwing upon the screen of the pubic inquiry a picture of her husband's sufferings under the succession of calamities that befell him during the eventful period preceding his indictments, Mrs. J. Frank Norris proved vesterday evening the most important witness yet called by the defense in he trial now in progress.

The State has attached much im portance to the testimony of Mrs. K K. Taylor, who admitted her confi dence in Dr. Norris failed when he requested her to mail a packet of letters for him, saying that he had 'finitated those letters to a T." A repeated part of her testimony was that Mrs. Norris came to the door during the colloquy between them. the stomach poisonous gases which and that her husband waved her aside with the remark, "Sweetheart, I want speak to Mrs Taylor privately On direct examination vesterday

Mrs. Norris swore that she was with in Mrs. Taylor's room throughout the him. her husband. Her testimony to this effect was fortified by the statement of her brother-in-law, Rev. Mr. Brittain of Ennis, who declared from the stand that he and Mr. Taylor stood just without Mrs. Taylor's door during the conversation, between Mrs. Taylor and Dr. Norris with Dr. Norris in view through the open door, and that Mrs. Norris, coming out of the room, immediately preceded her husband. Both Mrs. Norris and Rev. Brittain testified that the purpose of Dr. Norris' visit to Mrs. Taylor's oom was to request her to mail a etter for him. Both recalled hearing or. Norris submit his request. Following that remark Rev. Mr. Brittain heard nothing that he now emembers. Mrs. Norris, however. estified that her husband's nex words were expressive of sympathy for Mrs. Taylor's sickness and were in the nature of an adieu, occasioned by his immediate depatrture to

Mrs. Norris declared there was othing subdued in her husband's tone. He spoke naturally and followed her out of the room when he had pade Mrs. Taylor good-bye. Mrs. Norris entered Mrs. Taylor's coom from another door and met her husband coming in through the door eading into the hallway of the girls' ome. Seeing him, and cognizant of the near approach of train time, she said, "Sweetheart, it's time we were going." His answer was "We will go Very soon they left the room An audible hush fell over court room when Mrs. Norris name was called. She came to the stand perfectly composed, gowned in gray and wearing a black hat trimmed in modest colors. Her responses were made distinctly in a low, well modulated voice. After their visitors had gone she sat downstairs with her husband quite a while and talked

They then proceeded upstairs and onversed about thirty minutes, after which, just before retiring Dr. Norris went downstairs to make an inspection of the premises. She heard him talking to the watchman. He was not gone more than four or five minutes. About 1 o'clock or later they lay down to sleep. She was awakened by the sensation of stifling. The room was filling with smoke. She called Dr. Norris the second time before awken

Turning on the electric light, Dr. Norris rushed to the hall door and, seeing the flames, said that escape could not be made by the stairway. He took up his gun from the dresser and shot it out the window, calling help. In the meantime, Mrs. Norris had put on a kimona and, together with the children, they made their way to the roof of the gallery, and soon Mr. Turner's ladder came to their relief. She said she saved nothing of sentimental or intrinsic value from the fire. Her household goods, which were moved away after the first attempt to burn the house, had only recently been brought back.

Mr. Odell then carried the witness through a line of testimony to show what was the condition of the premises upon her return to the house saw no coat," she said. "There was

When the reserved seat coupons ire placed on sale and exchange at the Rexall Drug Store Monday morning at 9 o'clock there will be a rush unequalled in the history of the Wichita Opera House, according to the general committee in charge of the Elk's minstrels to be given on the nights of April 25th and 26th. It is announced that the Electra delegation, already 200 strong, has appointed a seat committee of three men, all of them big and husky, who will be at the box office on the morning of Monday, April 22nd to "get theirs." Henrietta will send a delegate to select reserved seat coupons for those who have purchased tickets in the Caly county capital, and the Fort Worth bunch have wired A. L. Huey, Exalted Ruler of the local lodge, asking that he secure not less than thirty tickets for the Panther City Bills. Mr. Huey has followed instructions to the letter and will himself be in line Monday morning. No one will be given preference-it will be strictly a case of first come, first served. However, inasmuch as the show is to be produced on two nights, all are assured to good seats and a good

The big parade will be held on the afternoon of April 25th and it is probable that a large majority of the members of Wichita Falls Lodge will be in line. The Wichita band has been engaged for the occasion. The exact hour of the parade will be an-

That it's no longer possible to get genuine Java and Mocha coffee. We are roasting a blend composed of one-third genuine short berry Aden Mocha and two-thirds genuine Kroe Dutch East India Java-and NOTHING ELSE. These coffees are well aged and the best of their kind. If you like Java and Mocha flavor you are sure of getting it here fresh roasted and at its very best. As we bought these coffees before the advance, and own a good lot of them, we are still retailing it at 40c the pound, and that's just about what most roasters are charging at wholesale
