WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MAY 26th 1912

SOCIETY

Receptions to Seniors.

The members of the senior class of the Wichita Falls high school were very pleasantly entertained last Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. on Tenth street. The interior of the building had been beautifully decorated with pennants, flowers, pictures and ferns, and presented a pretty picture. Delicious refreshments were served to the seniors and a few invited friends. Numerous games were played, and a general good time indulged in until a late hour, when the guests departed. Secretary Anderson of the Y. M. C. A. was given a vote of thanks for the entertainment.

The Philathea Class of the First M. E. Church, South, Sunday school, was entertained very graciously last Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Lena Gardner. A pleasant feature of amusement was the writing by each member present of an autography which was presented to Miss Emma Ingram, who was shortly to leave for Clarinda, Iowa, to make her home. Refreshments of sherbet and cake were served, and several different kinds of games were played. Those present were Misses Eva Benson, Helen and Hazle Brightwell, Pearl St. Clair, Meta Lowry, Lillian Shawen, Florence Powell, Lillie Peery, Emma Ingram, Theresa Smith, Jessie Childs, Cathleen Coffield, Hazle Jones, Lillian Redding, Lena Edwards and Mrs. T. L. Toland.

Christian Endeavor Entertained.

The members of the Christian Endeavor of the First Christian Church, were treated to a most enjoyable ice cream supper at the home of Mrs. T. C. Thatcher on Ninth street Tuesday evening, there being in the neighborhood of sixty members and their friends present. Ice cream and cake being sold to those who attended, a neat sum of money was placed in the treasury. Several unique features of entertainment helped to pass the evening away, among them being several side shows and a picture gallery. At a late hour those present departed. Other entertainments of a similar nature will probably be held in the near future under the auspices of the Endeavor.

Friday afternoon at the Academy of Mary Immaculate after school work for the afternoon had been disposed of, the members of the music class were requested to stay after three thirty o'clock, and were invited into the music room, where they were very much surprised to find ice cream and cake awaiting them. The sisters had prepared a surprise reception for the benefit of the students of music and in addition to the serving of ice cream and cake, several musical numbers were rendered by Misses Eddie Carver, Mabelle Jackson, Mable Heard, and Pearl Leach.

Sewing Circle Meets.

The Thursday afternoon Sewing Circle met last week at the home of Mrs. J. O. McDowell on Floral Heights. Those present as usual brought their sewing, and between stitches indulged in pleasant chat and conversation. A number of special ideas in sewing and punch work were discussed. Refreshments were served, and it was decided to hold the next meeting with Mrs. C. B. Montgomery on Tenth street. Those present were Mesdames Judd Pressley, J. W. Murph, C. B. Montgomery, Charles Hartsook, M. J. Gardner, Arthur Rowan, and Misses Beryl Murph, Lena Gardner, and Mable Heard.

alone went far to make the affair most enjoyable. Twelve dances and three extars brought the evening to a close about eleven thirty o'clock. Perfect music, an excellent floor, and a cool breeze blowing from the waters of the lake combined to heighten the pleasures of the occasion, so that the evening was thought by many to have passed away too quickly. Another dance will probably be held soon.

Last Tuesday evening the Pennington's Club, which has recently organized by those who compose Pennington's force of clerks, gave a picnic at Lake Wichita. A special car carried the picnicers to the lake where lunch was spread, and a general good time enjoyed.
Literature For the Jail
Life is fleeting, give a kindly greeting,
To our humble brother as we pass,
We know not the burden he bears,
We know not the trouble and cares,
We know not the heart aches and sorrows,
Nor the vain promises of tomorrow
That beset him on his way.
At a meeting of the Civic League Tuesday the ladies decided that among the duties they will assume for the long hot summer months will be to collect all the magazines, books and newspapers and any good literature our friends may have that they have read and are through with, and

WHAT TAFT IS TRYING TO DO

PRESIDENT DEAL WITH TARIFF, PROSPERITY, ARBITRATION AND JUDICIARY

DEFENDS HIS VETOES

Says People Behind him in Support of Peace Treaties—Attacks Judicial

By Associated Press. New York, May 25.—"What I am Trying to Do"—an article by President Taft—appears in the current issue of "The World's Work" and deals with tariff revision, business prosperity, arbitration and independence of the judiciary. The President asserts that he is willing to go before the people for a verdict on his veto of the three tariff bills passed by the House in extraordinary session last year; that no charge yet made against him has gone nearer to his heart than that he, by enforcing the anti-trust law, was hurting business that he intends, so long as he can raise his voice, to continue to favor general arbitration and that the Republican party would lose caste as a defender of American civilization should it take up the judicial recall as one of its tenets.

In part, the President's article follows: "I was elected President of the United States on the Republican platform of 1908. The party declared its platform that in all tariff legislation the true principle of protection is best maintained by the imposition of such duties as will equal the difference between cost of production at home and abroad. That party was before the people on that issue and was sustained.

"Our Democratic brethren have departed from the faith on the tariff board which a majority of them once embraced, and, in the extraordinary session of last year, they passed the tariff bills without the aid of information from a tariff board, drawn in such an unscientific, unsystematic and reckless way that I did not hesitate to veto them, in order that the right might await the coming in of the report by the Tariff Board upon Schedule K, wool and woollens, which on tariff bill affected, and upon cotton and cotton manufacturers, which another tariff bill affected. We should be entirely willing to go before the country and invite a verdict of the people.

"No charge has been made against me that went nearer to my heart than the charge that I, by the enforcement of the anti-trust law, was injuring the business of the country. I enforced it so far as lay in my power and duty because it is on the statute book. I enforced it because I believe it to be a good law, and I believe it when properly construed to make a right guide for business. I believe that by the construction of the courts of the laws that are on the statute book and by decisions that are yet to come the line may closely be drawn so that business may square itself to those boundaries which the law fixes.

"I should deprecate the suggestion of any so-called reform that involves constitutional changes without our knowledge exactly what we are going to do and what the effect of these changes will be. What I would deprecate is the sudden suggestion of amendments for this end, and amendments for that, and having amendments for breakfast the next morning as if the amendment of the fundamental law were nothing but the repeal of an ordinary statute or the passage of an ordinary appropriation bill.

"There is one other subject which is a rather tender one with me. I am convinced that most of the audience I had the privilege of addressing with in the last year were in favor of passing and ratifying the peace treaties just as they were presented to Congress.

"I give notice that I have not lost interest in that point and I have no thought of surrendering, because I intend, so far as I can and go long as I may raise my voice, to continue to favor general universal arbitration. I acknowledge and admit the power of the Senate, and I believe it to be a great part of the structure of our Government, and I would not have it eliminated for anything. I recognize the authority of the Senate and have no quarrel with the exercise of that authority, but the ultimate source of all authority in this Government is the people. It is the people who, by deliberate judgment can effect a reform which commends itself to their hearts and their souls and their minds, and it is upon them that I depend in this matter.

"We have treaties pending also with Honduras to carry out the policy of the treaty with Santo Domingo and they ought to be ratified.

"There are other aims of government to which reference might be made, such as the movement looking to greater economy and efficiency in government work and expenditures; penny postage through postal economies; extension of practical conservation acts; parcels post; revision of currency laws and prevention of panics; scientific study of industrial conditions and international investigation of the high cost of living. But there is one subject to which I would refer in conclusion.

"Should the Republican party take up the judicial recall as one of its

DELAY SMELTER TRUST INQUIRY

DEATH OF SENATOR GUGGENHEIM, TITANIC VICTIM, IS REASON ASSIGNED

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

Postmaster-General Gets Queer Letter—Congressional Ball-Game May Not Be Played

By United Press. Washington, May 25.—An echo of the Titanic tragedy in the House is the decision of Representative Martin, (Dem. Colo.) not to press his resolution for investigation of the Guggenheim brothers, alleged "Smelter Trust."

Representative Martin says he has decided to drop the proposed investigation until fall. He gives as one of his reasons for that decision the grief into which the Guggenheim family has been plunged by the death of Benjamin Guggenheim on the Titanic.

"I had intended to press the investigation," said Martin, "just about the time the Titanic sunk. But the death of Benjamin Guggenheim prompted me to postpone the inquiry, and now it is too late to get action this session of Congress."

Representative Bulkley (Dem.), also has a resolution to probe the "Smelter Trust," and the Pacific coast Congressmen are backing the proposed inquiry.

Proposed closing of the San Francisco mint, to stop coinage there and make it only an assay office, provoked another attack upon the "Smelter Trust" in the House, although after a bitter fight, the House voted to continue the San Francisco mint. It was freely charged by various Representatives that closing of the mint would redound only to benefit the "trust." Representative Baker, (Dem. Cal.) declared the Coast smelters of the combination would get the business or a large part of it formerly done by the San Francisco mint.

Another jab at the "trust" is proposed in the House Territories committee, which is considering the bill or federal construction of an Alaskan railroad, to compete for copper ore carrying business with the Guggenheim vein road. That the Guggenheim brothers have relinquished control of the Alaska railroad is asserted, however.

Postmaster General Hitchcock received recently a request from a man in a Colorado town for a list of every post office in every state, city town, village, hamlet and cross roads in the United States that was suffering from lack of postmasters. He would like to have a complete list immediately. All the writer would like to have the necessary papers to fill, and the instructions to go with them, to tell him how to become eligible for appointment to one of these vacant posts.

In a P. S., run over the heading and late of the letter, he said: "Politically support the party that is in power."

Breaking all rules of Congressional decorum, Congress has several "little early risers" who are noted for arriving at their office for work from three to five hours before Congress convenes. Their colleagues accuse them of not "belonging to the Union," but they persist in reporting for work anywhere from 7:30 to 9 a. m.

Representative Norris, the Republican "progressive" from Nebraska, is one of the earliest and latest workers in the House. Eight o'clock is his uniform hour for beginning work. He grinds out his correspondence long before many of his colleagues are out of bed.

Representative Kendall, (Rep. Iowa) is another familiar figure in the House office building in the wee small hours of early morning. He breakfasts at 7:00 and is always at work before 8:00 o'clock.

Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic "boss" of Pennsylvania who succeeded Colonel Guffey as national committeeman, is another early worker. Representative Lobeck, (Dem. Neb.) also retains his early morning habits, brought from Nebraska.

Chairman Henry of the House Rules Committee has a 9 o'clock rule in his office, as has Majority Leader Oscar Underwood. They arrive with or before the clerks.

Speaker Clark gets to the Capitol by 10—sometimes before.

"Billy" Kent, California Representative, is another early worker, rivaled by Judge Baker, the lone Democrat from the Golden Gate State.

But most of the statesmen cannot accept when committee meetings rout them earlier. The Senators are even more prone to observe late hours than the members of the lower body. But former Senator Kittridge, of South Dakota, was a shining exception. Six o'clock was his opening hour and he demanded its observance.

It would lose caste as a defender of our civilization, a mainstay of the Constitution, and an upholder of justice. When we depart from the principles of the independence of the judiciary we shall lose the valuable essence of the administration of justice and we shall retrograde to the point where the history of the decadence of republic begins. I am not unmindful of the necessity for judicial reforms, but that depends not on changing the character of the judges, but upon the change of procedure, the expedition of judgments and the reduction of the expense of litigation."

NEGRO LYNCHED BY TYLER CROWD

BURNING FOLLOWS CONFESSION THAT HE ATTACKED YOUNG WOMAN NEAR CITY

OFFICERS ARE HELPLESS

Negro's Signed Statement Implicates Another Who is Now in Jail at Waco

By Associated Press. Tyler, Texas, May 25.—Dan Davis, a negro, was burned to death at 4 o'clock this morning on the public square after he had signed a written statement confessing that he had criminally assaulted Miss Carrie Johnson, 18 years of age. Eight hundred participated in the lynching. Before the match was touched to the pile of wood on which the negro had been placed, he was again asked if he was guilty. "I am guilty," he replied in a husky voice. A moment later the flames were leaping high above his head. In his written confession before his death which was signed in the presence of the county attorney and a committee of citizen, Davis implicated another negro, saying he is under arrest in Waco. The negro who was lynched was brought here early today from Athens to which place he had been taken in an auto from Corsicana yesterday afternoon. When members of the sheriff's force reached the jail with the negro they were confronted by several hundred citizens, who waited until the black had written his confession and then demanded he be turned over to them. The officers and citizens inside the jail protested, but finally the mob took the negro. Numbers made protest useless, the officers say. From the jail the negro was led to the public square where several wagon loads of wood had been piled. He was tied to a rail and was soon enveloped in flames. His voice was hoarse and he showed fear but there was no outcry until the flames seared his flesh when he moaned in agony. The crowd stood around the fire until it died down and little was left except charred bones and ashes. The work was done quickly and quietly. There was much excitement but the determination of those in charge appeared to have a sobering effect. They wanted the confession first, then made a demand that the negro pay his penalty before morning.

In his written statement of the crime, Davis told the main details; how he and another negro attacked Miss Johnson, who is the daughter of a farmer, as she was walking along the railroad track in mid afternoon Monday, May 13. She was first knocked down, he said. The pair left her with her throat cut, believing her dead. She was later found after an all night search. Her condition is critical. Davis burning was the fourth lynching here in the past 16 years. Henry Hillard, a negro, assaulted and murdered a white woman near here a number of years ago. He was burned to death on the public square in Tyler.

Will Jones, white, was shot to death in jail for alleged complicity in the murder of a relative. A negro was hanged three years ago for an alleged assault on a white woman. He was never fully identified. Several citizens of this city were arrested in connection with his death and kept the jail some time, but no indictments were returned.

NEGRO AT WACO SAYS HE IS NOT GUILTY.

By Associated Press. Waco, Texas, May 25.—Geo. Price, the negro in jail here arrested in connection with an assault on Miss Carrie Johnson at Tyler when told today of the burning of Dan Davis, did not seem much disturbed. He said he had never heard of Davis; that he (Price) lived in Omaha. He admitted he passed through Tyler last Sunday night, but denied all knowledge of the attack.

SPLENDID SPECIMEN OF WHEAT IS BROUGHT IN

J. N. Bryan Hopes to Make Thirty to Thirty-Five Bushels Per Acre on Red River

J. N. Bryan, whose farm is 15 1/2 miles north of Wichita Falls, brought to the Times office Saturday morning a bouquet of wheat heads which are the finest that has been produced on Mr. Bryan's farm for a period of seven years, or during his residence in this section of country. Some of the heads have on them as high as 19 and 20 meshes with from three to four grains to the mesh, and Mr. Bryan is quite positive that his field of fifty acres will make an average yield of at least 30 bushels per acre, and may go as high as 35 bushels.

As for the oat crop, while it is very good, that crop has been cut short by lack of rain, Mr. Bryan says. Mr. Bryan has the distinction of being the first white child born in Dallas, or at least where the city of Dallas now stands. At that time Wallas county was a part of Nacogdoches county. The plat of ground on which the Dallas county court house now stands was donated by Mr. Bryan's father "to be used for court house purpose only," as the deed recites, and when, if it should ever cease to be used for such purpose, the block of land will revert back to the Bryan heirs.

Use My Fruit Shelves For a While Now...

YOU GET IT BY AUTO DEL. PHONES 422 & 232

The fresh fruit season is almost here. Only a few weeks away, and while you are waiting for it to arrive both for immediate use and for fruit preserving let me make this suggestion. Use my fruit shelves for a while for 2 purposes. 1st. To supply your immediate needs, and; 2nd.—To get an idea of the quality of my Hunt's Cream of Orchard fruits.

I am quite sure that with a fair trial of these fruits, on your table right now, you will make up your mind not to put up any fruit this fall at all, but will place an order with me for a full variety of fruits under this brand at my special fall delivery price.

A great many families in Wichita Falls have learned this secret in past years and have already told me that they wanted to place their order for next winter. Very soon, I will have a man out taking orders for these fruits and in the meantime, I should like to have you follow my suggestion and try one or two varieties on your table now. Let me talk with you about it.

STEEL COMPANY'S METHODS TOLD

WORKING ARRANGEMENT IS SUBJECT OF EVIDENCE AT GOVERNMENT INQUIRY

NOW TAKING TESTIMONY

"Supervisor" Allotted to Each Concern Its Proper Share of Trade and Territory

By United Press.
New York, May 25.—The big steel manufacturers of the United States who composed a dozen or more pools which controlled the steel products trade prior to 1890, when Judge E. H. Gary broke them up by forcing the American Steel and Wire Company to withdraw from them, had their territory and the volume of their monthly business allotted by a supervisor, Edwin W. Jackson, Jr., of New York, according to evidence offered by the government in the effort to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation, testimony in which now is being taken by Judge Jacob M. Dickinson, former Secretary of War.

Frank Newberry, head of the insulated wire department of the John A. Roehling Sons Company, of New Jersey, leaders in the big pools, testified that Jackson provided an elaborate system of fines and penalties for the violation of the trade agreements. Jackson allowed each company to do so much business each month. If they did more than their allotment, they paid the excess into the pool. If their business fell short of Jackson's figures, said Newberry, they were reimbursed by the pool.

Newberry's evidence was strengthened by letters, exchanged between him and Jackson, relative to the business of Roehling Sons Company. For the month of May, 1909, Jackson fixed that company $2200 for excess business, and the next month the company claimed $1900 from the pool. Frank Baackes, vice president and general sales agent of the American Steel and Wire Company, admitted that the pool members met each month at luncheons in various New York hotels and there fixed prices and allotments. It was at one of these monthly meetings, he said, that the American Steel and Wire Company of New Jersey first was projected.

The United States Steel Corporation plans also were first discussed informally at pool meetings, Baackes said.

From George A. Cragin, of the American Steel and Wire Company and three other witnesses Judge Dickinson got what he believes to be most damaging evidence, to the effect that Supervisor Jackson fixed the bids on all government contracts and designated the "successful bidder." When a government department would advertise for bids on rails, horsehoes or steel products, Cragin said, Jackson fixed the bid, picked the company and then notified all pool members. The other members were supposed to bid on the work but to submit higher figures than the designated company. The work then was apportioned among all the pool companies.

The government's suit was brought to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation on the ground that it is a monopoly in restraint of trade and a violator of the Sherman antitrust law.

OIL NEWS. ACTIVITIES IN ARCHER COUNTY OIL FIELDS.

The "News man visited the Producers' well, one mile east of Anadarko on Wednesday morning, and found them drilling at 225 feet, which depth they had attained in three days drilling. The man in charge states that a depth of 1000 feet would probably be reached inside three weeks. They have passed through a strong vein of fresh water.

W. L. Andrews, lessor of the land on which is situated the Red River Company well informs us that the well is now 1145 feet deep, and that the drillers are having considerable trouble casing off a regular course of fresh water encountered. He states that no oil has been found, as yet, but that indications point to a strike in the near future.

The Guffey well on east side of the Cowan tract, is said to be about 600 feet deep, with formation exactly identical with the Miller well at a like depth.

Casing is being hauled out today for the Matthews well, two miles north of town, and the drillers state that active drilling will commence on Monday.

It is reported that pure flowing water has been struck in the Pure Oil Company well one mile north of Scotland.

Drilling was commenced Saturday in the Scott well, six miles east of Archer City.

BURNETT'S STATEMENT REGARDING SHOOTING

Cattleman Gives Out Statement at Fort Worth, Claiming Self Defense

Special to The Times. Fort Worth, Texas, May 25.—That he shot in self-defense in Thursday's tragedy at Paducah in the assertion of Burk Burnett.

Captain Burnett's statement follows:

"I feel, under the circumstances, that I should make a statement to the public concerning the killing of Farley Sayers. The first trouble between Mr. Sayers and me began, I believe, by reason of the fact that while I was in Chicago he was charged with the theft of some of my cattle. Since that time he has continuously, in various parts of Texas, threatened to take my life. There are many witnesses who had told me on various occasions that Sayers said he was going to kill me. He made these threats in Fort Worth at the last Stockmen's convention. On the day of the killing I had been on my ranch and came into Paducah between 9:30 and 10 o'clock. I did not know that Sayers was in town, and had no reason to know that he was there. About ten minutes before I entered the washroom where the shooting occurred, I was informed that Sayers had threatened to kill me at sight, and was going to kill me. I went into the washroom about 11:30 to wash my face and hands for dinner. As I entered the room, I noticed three men, two of which I did not know, and did not recognize Mr. Sayers until I was near the washstand, where I was going to wash my face and hands, and when I did recognize him, he was reaching with his right hand toward his right breeches pocket. I then realized that I was to be murdered or that I was to kill him. I jerked my pistol out of my pocket and fired one shot. Did not have time to get my pistol hardly straight, shooting the moment I snatched it from my pocket.

"I regret very much, especially at my age, of having any trouble, but it was absolutely unavoidable, as will be shown at the trial, by the evidence of witnesses whose veracity cannot be questioned. I shall demand a trial at the first term of court.

"Had I known that Mr. Sayers was at Paducah, I would have done everything in my power to avoid meeting him. I know of no reason why he desired to kill me, and why he threatened my life to so many people. I had never had any cross words with him in my life, and the only reason I can assign as to why this man wanted to take my life was because of the fact that I, necessarily, appeared as a witness at his trial, wherein he was charged with theft of my cattle. I believed him to be a dangerous man and I believed he was a man that would carry into execution the threats he had made. I did not want trouble with anyone. I sought protection from this man at the hands of the mayor of Fort Worth during the last Past Stock Show and the Cattleman's convention, as the mayor well remembers. I went further to avoid trouble and asked that this man be disarmed, or else guarded while he was in the city of Fort Worth, threatening my life to a various number of my friends. I took no stock whatever in the prosecution of Mr. Sayers for killing his brother with a Winchester at Dumont last December, for which he is under indictment, and had nothing to do with his being indicted for the theft of other people's cattle in that country. This was my first trip to the ranch since the Cattleman's convention."

A STATEMENT FROM MAYOR BELL

To the Citizens of Wichita Falls: There has been so many complaints coming to me lately in regard as to the care of paupers, I desire to make this statement.

The city of Wichita Falls has no money or any fund which can be legally used to furnish clothing or provision for the paupers. This is the opinion of the city attorney. This being the case I have taken the position that we could not do anything to assist these unfortunate people. In this position I have the unanimous endorsement of the city council.

Wichita Falls is a part of Wichita county and the citizens of the city pay taxes into the county treasurer as all other citizens of the county. About 47 per cent of all county taxes collected are paid on property situated within the corporate limits of the city of Wichita Falls.

The citizens of Wichita Falls pay road and bridge taxes; not a penny of it is expended in the city limits or on our streets. We pay our taxes for the maintenance of paupers and we believe it is the duty of the county authorities to see to their support. The city furnishes a physician to attend the sick and that is as far as we feel authorized to go.

J. M. BELL, Mayor.

distribute same to our unfortunate citizens in the jails.

They are so eager for diversion, being shut up day after day in their hot dusty cells. The jailors say there is much class hatred among the prisoners. That they do not make friends nor chum up with one another. But that they eagerly take whatever they get to read and enjoy the literature that finds its way among them. More than we, on the outside, will ever know or appreciate.

Thus, with a small effort on our part we may add to the pleasure, and who knows but that it may be the uplifting and reforming of some of these unfortunate people. We should deem it our privilege, as well as our duty to be allowed this small civic right.

All who have literature they wish to donate for distribution at the jails please phone 565 or 530 and a committee from the Civic League will call for same.

E. B. Fitzgerald and Mrs. M. McRorie were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at the Evangelical parsonage, 1503 Broad street by Rev. C. F. Mayer. The couple are well known here and have the hearty good wishes of many friends.

Seniors Are Entertained. Friday night Joe Ward at his home on Scott avenue assisted by his mother, Mrs. J. C. Ward, and his sister, Miss Nellie, very pleasantly entertained the members of the senior class, a social good time being enjoyed by all present.

Forty-two was the feature of the evening and refreshments of punch, sherbert, cream and cake were served. Carnations were presented to each one present as favors, and at a late hour the seniors left for their homes, bringing to an end what well probably be the last meeting of that class before the holding of the commencement exercises.

Miss Berney is Honored Mrs. J. C. Berney invited a number of friends to her home on Ninth street Saturday afternoon a week ago to meet her guest, Miss Margaret Berney of Fort Worth, who is spending a month or more with her and also Mrs. J. C. Foltz. A large number of guests were present, and Five Hundred and Forty-two were played, after which ice cream and cake were served as refreshments. Mrs. J. A. Richolt received the souvenir of the afternoon, an old English china plate.

Those present included Miss Berney and Mrs. Fort, the honorees, and Mesdames J. A. Kemp, Montagu Stanforth, G. D. Anderson, A. D. Anderson, A. B. Huff, Young, Montgomery, J. W. Fields, J. A. Richolt, O. T. Bacon, Orr, E. P. Eppler, T. W. Roberts, T. J. Leacham, H. A. Allen, J. W. Walton, S. H. Burnside, C. W. Beavers, Wiley Blair, Sam Ashmore, Newton Maer, A. H. Carrigan, T. T. Mrs. Roberts is Hostess. Thursday evening a week ago Mrs. T. W. Roberts was hostess at a four-course tea given in honor of Miss Margaret Berney of Fort Worth, who is spending several weeks visiting in this city.

The tea began at six o'clock and proved a most enjoyable affair. Those present were Miss Margaret Berney, the honoree, Misses Ester Gorsline, Emma O'Neil, Mesdames Berney, Fort, Bullington, Huff, Stanforth, and Messrs. Darland, Gibson, Bullington, Huff, Brittain, Blair and Stanforth.

CIVIC LEAGUE MEETS. OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

At a meeting of the Civic League last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. R. Boger, new officers were elected and a business session held.

Plans with regard to a formal opening of Bellevue park were discussed and a committee was appointed to investigate the matter. Mrs. J. A.

Kemp was elected president of the Civic League, Mrs. J. T. Fleming, vice president, Mrs. Edgar Orr, recording secretary, Mrs. Frank Kell, treasurer, and Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, press reporter.

Yesterday afternoon a called meeting of the league was held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Kemp for the purpose of hearing the report of the park committee regarding the formal opening of Bellevue park.

It was decided that on June 4th, the park will be formally turned over to the city, and that appropriate exercises will be held in honor of the occasion. These exercises will include an ice cream festival, public speaking, songs by a male quartet and a number of other features.

More definite announcements regarding the affair will be forthcoming within a few days as soon as the plans of the committee have progressed further.

WICHITA AUDIENCE HEARS CONGRESSMAN SHEPPARD

Texarkana Candidate For Senator Discusses Labor Legislation and His Own Record at Washington

Bringing to a close a week's speaking tour in the Panhandle, Hon. Morris Sheppard addressed a thousand people here last night at the Wichita Theatre. It was Mr. Sheppard's second speech of the day in Wichita county, he having spoken at Iowa Park in the afternoon. His address there was before a Sunday School picnic and he eschewed political topics but his reception was none the less enthusiastic. Nearly a thousand persons heard him at Iowa Park, according to reports brought back last night by those from here who attended the picnic.

Mr. Sheppard spoke for more than two hours last night holding the closest attention of his audience. He covered practically all the ground covered in his opening speech at Greenville and in addition discussed several matters that have come up since the opening of his campaign. He reviewed in detail his record in congress and paid especial attention to problems connected with labor.

Mayor Bell presided over the meeting. He first introduced H. E. Singleton, of Grayson county. Mr. Singleton is a candidate for commissioner of Agriculture and spoke briefly in the interest of his candidacy. He said that he had held only one office and that was that of road overseer. "They say I made a success of that." He laid emphasis on the claim a farmer should hold the office of commissioner of Agriculture.

Mr. Sheppard was introduced by Hon. L. H. Mathis. Mr. Mathis said his opponents had found two faults against Mr. Sheppard. One was that he was a young man and the other was that he painted beautiful pictures with words. "The first indictment is not a continuing offense," said Mr. Mathis "and that he is a verbal artist ought not to put him out of the running. Oratory is a royal gift, and it is conceded that the painter must have in his mind the beautiful conception before he places it on the canvas. It can truthfully be said that the speaker's language is not more pure and more beautiful than his private life. His jewel of fluent speech is not more flawless and beautiful than his changeless integrity. If elected to the United States Senate his vote on every question involving a moral question will be known in advance.

off of raw materials so long as it was left on the finished product. That it was absolutely necessary that the representatives of the people be free from the taint and influence of monopoly and that it was especially bad policy to take a man as a representative of the people who had been subject to the influence of monopoly. He charged that Jake Wolters had resigned a position with the Pullman Car Company, a notorious monopoly several months after he had entered the campaign for the Senate.

He quoted from a dispatch in the Fort Worth Record to prove this and that his law partner, Judge Storey, had taken his place with the Pullman Company. "The monopoly is kept in the same legal family," the speaker said. "The only difference is that where as Jake formerly drew the fee and divided and now Judge Storey draws the fee and divides." He said that since he had charge that while the intangible tax law affecting the Pullman Company was under consideration, before the legislature, Wolters and the company had taken members of the legislature on a pleasure jaunt to Laredo from Austin, Wolters had declared there was nothing unusual in that incident—that he and the Pullman Company frequently did that.

"Wolters says I am not a lawyer," Sheppard said. "The principal difference between me and him is that when I practiced it was in a court house or in my office, while he practiced in the legislative committee rooms and in the lobby of the Driskill Hotel." He charged that the Pullman Company was one of the bit-forest against organized labor.

TO PROTECT AMERICANS

GUARANTY HAS PRODUCER

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., May 25.—Advices from Cuba agree that the negro revolutionary movement in Cuba is hourly growing more serious. Cuba will be given adequate chance to deal with the revolution before the American forces are augmented. From the mass of conflicting reports conclusion was drawn today that a crisis impends in the island and that this is sufficient to justify full preparation for protecting American interests.

NEW WELLS IN ELECTRA FIELD

This is the third producer brought in by the Five Rivers Company and they have other wells drilling that are very promising. It is reported that the same company is soon to enter the Petrolia field.

Another good well at Electra last week was the Guaranty Oil Company's well on what is known as one of the Skelly tracts. This well was drilled within 60 feet of the Wilson well and is reported to be good for about 60 barrels. This well was started on Friday and completed on Friday, requiring just two weeks.

A similar band of eight wearing blue ribbons and calling themselves 'followers of Vasquez Gomez' robbed the mining camp of a Mr. Lee not far from Navad. The next day the advance guard of Orozco's rebels entered the camp under the command of Campa who said he would shoot the self-styled 'Vasquezistas' if he caught them. The force is said to be in the region of Velardena.

ABANDON ATTEMPT TO CHECK FLOW OF WATER

Mississippi Floods Pouring Through Crevasse Near New Orleans—Much Damage Done

By Associated Press. New Orleans, La., May 25.—The fight to close the 2250-foot Hymalya crevasse in the Mississippi levee 35 miles up the river was abandoned today after a conference between Capt. C. O. Sherill, chief of the U. S. Engineers, and President Murland of the LaFourche levee board, officials of railroads whose interests are concerned and plantation and property owners affected. This means that the yellow waters will be allowed to flow unchecked at the rate of 5,000,000 gallons each second, over parts of five parishes containing some of the richest sugar land in the State before finally reaching the gulf. It was estimated in the early fight that if the attempts failed it would result in a loss of ten million dollars.

Cool Clothing

For Men at Less Than Regular Prices

—Having the right clothing is an extremely important factor in a man's comfort, especially such days as we have been having this week.

—Doubtless there is a great deal more weather of the same kind ahead of us.

—One must have clothing which is cool and lightweight, yet always presentable. We have that kind of clothing, and the most interesting part of the story is that we have it for much less than usual cost.

DARROW DENIES THAT HE PLANS PLEA OF GUILTY

a brief session today was held on account of the Saturday half-holiday.

Fighting every inch of the way the defense stopped temporarily at today's brief session the narration by Geo. Lockwood of the attempted bribery by Burt Franklin, Lockwood testified he called on Franklin Nov. 9 at the latter's office at which time he said Franklin told him he would like to see him on the McNamara jury and said there would be $2000 in it for him. The witness said he told Franklin the offer was a complete surprise and he wanted time for consideration.

The defense asked that this be stricken out on the ground that Darrow was not present at this conversation and could not be held for Franklin's acts. Lockwood said he had forgotten some of the conversation with Franklin, but the latter had said he already had one juror who was "fixed" and that Lockwood knew this particular juror. The defense again objected and Judge Hutton asked both sides to present their authorities and declared an adjournment until Monday. Monday's ruling will determine whether evidence on alleged wholesale jury corruption shall be admitted as part of the State's case. The defense had already opposed every step taken by the prosecution to prove by Court Clerk Monroe the pendency of the case and the legality of Lockwood's status as a prospective juror when the alleged bribery was attempted. When Monroe resumed the stand, he was cross examined regarding the drawing of Lockwood as a salesman and the status of many cases of alleged disbarment. The indictment of Dr. McManis, informer in the McNamara case, was read into the record of the trial, apparently to have it appear that McManis had been granted immunity. Mr. Darrow has taken no part in the proceeding since the completion of the jury.

Throughout the day the defendant sat low in his chair, tearing strips of paper into narrow bits.

"I WON'T STAND FOR IT"

Ex-President Uses Significant Language in Making Charge of Boss Rule in Party

By Associated Press.

Elizabeth, N. J., May 25.—With all the emphasis at his command Col. Roosevelt declared today he would not permit "discredited politicians and political bosses" to take control of the Republican convention. He asserted that professional politicians in the past had been accustomed to try "strong-arm tactics."

"I won't stand for it a moment," he said. Col. Roosevelt made these statements in what he called a "fighting speech" at Plainfield toward the close of the most spectacular of his day of campaigning in this state. He hurried about from place to place by train or automobile, firing off speeches in rapid succession to throngs of people who cheered him enthusiastically. After speaking here he started for Oyster Bay to remain over Sunday.

"Our opponents have no thought of winning unless they can win by 'debauching' the convention," he said. "The national committee is supposed to pass upon the rights of delegates to sit in the convention. If it chooses it can turn out delegates lawfully elected by the people. It is therefore vital to have a national committee that really represents the people. Our opponents have shown that they intend to use the national committee who have been beaten in their own states to sit in judgment in the convention that represents victory over them."

"For example; we have thrashed the bosses in Illinois and Pennsylvania but the committeemen who sit in the convention from those states are not our men but our opponents. We got 54 in Illinois out opponents 2."

"I want our opponents to understand this—if the people are against us I have nothing to say. But if the people are for me and discredited bosses and politicians try to upset us, I shall have a great deal to say. I shall not stand for it a moment."

"The professional politicians have been accustomed to trying 'strong-arm tactics' and could do so with impunity when the fight represented a contest between two factions. It is not that sort of a fight this time. It is the people against the bosses and I serve notice that the bosses will not be allowed to upset the will of the people."

"I see Mr. Taft says he is going to win," the Colonel said, "well, during his Ohio campaign, he announced that Ohio's decision would settle it. Ohio decided and gave me 40 of its 48 delegates. If Mr. Taft is content with the decision, then surely no human being in the United States has a right to be discontented."

The Colonel said several times that he was sure of victory. "We've got them going," he said at Cranford, "and we are going to put it through."

"They say they are going to win," he said, in another speech, "I don't believe it. We've hammered them through the ropes."

Taft's Serenous Day

By Associated Press.

Hackensack, N. J., May 25.—In four of the most thickly populated New Jersey counties Taft assured his audiences that his renomination for the presidency is certain. He appealed to the voters, however, to make his majority in the Republican National convention more decisive by adding to the 150 delegates which he said are already instructed for or pledged to his candidacy. From nearly morning till late at night, the president was on the go. His tour through the "commuting zone" was made in an automobile and for the most part over dusty roads, and during a greater part of the day the automobile moved at a greater speed than fifty miles per hour.

While he continued his attack on Col. Roosevelt, President Taft's speeches were principally a review of the legislative achievements of his administration. At Passaic, the President said:

"There are many who have not made up their mind as to how they will vote in this contest and who will be influenced by what the victory will be. I do not think that it is wise but if you really want to know how it is going, I will tell you. I have more than 570 delegates to the Republican national convention pledged or instructed for me. Only 540 are necessary to nominate. I have thirty to spare. I would be glad to add New Jersey to the list, but they are not necessary to success."

In many of his speeches the President discussed the charge made by Roosevelt that the political bosses are supporting the President's candidacy.

"I called upon Mr. Roosevelt," said Taft at Montclair, "for the proof to show that any official act of mine has been done under the influence of bosses or men enjoying special privilege."

"Mr. Roosevelt says the bosses are all for me and that therefore I must be for the bosses. Mr. Roosevelt and I are practical men."

"When a man comes forward and says I like your politics and policies and am going to support you, would Mr. Roosevelt say, well, you must pass a civil service examination to see if you are up to the standard."

REPORT THAT MADERO WAS ASKED TO RESIGN

Message Received at Rebel Camp But Meets With Emphatic Denial at Mexico City

By Associated Press.

Chihuahua, May 25.—That Congress has asked Madero to resign the presidency and that he has agreed to do so June 1 is the substance of a telegram received at rebel headquarters today. The name of the sender of the message was not made public, though it came from someone in Mexico City. While the mountains passes just south of here as their objective point, the thousands of rebels who Thursday struggled to hold Rezano against the heavy fire of Gen. Huerta's troop stoday are scattered. Gen. Orozco is still at Jimenez directing their federal movement but will arrive here, today and once more this city will be the rebel headquarters.

Denials Are Emphatic.

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, May 25.—The reported intention of Madero to resign was branded tonight by members of the president's family as too ridiculous to merit serious denial. Gustavo Madero, brother of the president, said no such thing was ever thought of.

"If my brother contemplated resigning, which he does not," he said, "he certainly would not do so under present conditions. It is a report put out to bolster up the courage of the revolutionists. There is no truth in it."

Earnest Madero, minister of finance and uncle of the president, made a similar denial.

SUFFRAGETTES DISCUSS HEROES

DOUBTFUL TRIBUTES PAID TO THOSE WHO LOST LIVES ON TITANIC

CHIVALRY AND THE SEXES

Women Deny That Men Are Ordinarily More Chivalrous—Various Views Expressed

(By Ed L. Keen, London correspondent of the United Press).

London, May 25.—While the men who make the laws of Great Britain are busy revising the antiquated sea-traffic regulations which were responsible for the terrible loss of life on the Titanic, the women who are unable to assist in this work—but who would like to—were engaged in an animated discussion of the collateral issue growing out of the disaster.

Were the men who sacrificed themselves to save the women and children entitled to special eulogy? Are men in their everyday lives more chivalrous than women? Should women and children always be saved first?

"I see no especial reason to brag about the so-called chivalry of the men who permitted the women to get into the boats first," said Miss Winifred Mayo, one of the most prominent of the votes-for-women leaders. "It all depends upon what you mean by chivalry. I take it to mean the attention paid by the stronger to the weaker. It applies equally to both sexes, and you will find it very strong among women. Men, as a rule, misunderstand the word. They regard chivalry as a kind of reward to women for doing what the men want them to do. It should be borne in mind that all chivalry and heroism on the ill-fated ship were not displayed by men alone. There were many fine examples among the women of self-sacrifice during that awful time."

Similar views were expressed by Mrs. Cecil Chapman, another well-known suffragist. "Right minded women are ever ready to share danger with their husbands," she added. "I believe that the general feeling among suffragists is that they would have preferred to meet death, rather than face separation from their loved ones. However, there was no lack of chivalry on the part of most of the men on the Titanic. You must go to Parliament to find a dearth of that quality," where members actually laughed when told of the tortures of forcible feeding inflicted upon the women prisoners at Aylesbury."

"I do not want to seem ungracious," said Miss Nina Boyle, an official of the Women's Freedom League, "when I say that I think women have to put up with so many disabilities through life, we may at least expect to have some advantages in such a crisis. I do not think that one can argue from this instance that the age of chivalry, in the highest sense, is not dead, as I believe it is. Women do not spend their lives expecting shipwrecks."

"It is possible to place heroism of this kind on too high a plane of chivalry," was the statement of Miss Annie Kenney, organizing secretary of the Women's Social and Political Union, of which Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst is chief. It is so natural as to be accounted almost a natural law that women and children should be saved first—children because childhood is sacred, and women because they are so necessary to the race. At a crisis like this it must be admitted that the lives of the women are more useful than those of men. If it is insisted that for men to recognize this view and act upon it is chivalry—and I am not loath to admit it—why I think it is worth while to emphasize the everyday chivalry of women which goes on always but which is usually unrecognized. Women cheerfully starve for their husbands and children—I have lived among the poorer classes and know it—and starving is a much slower and more painful death than drowning. Say man is chivalrous at moments of great crisis, if you will, but you must realize at the same time that in the aggregate the balance of real chivalry is on the side of the women."

According to Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, the men were merely obeying as a matter of course, the universal rule in cases of shipwreck that the women and children should be saved first.

These frankly expressed opinions are vigorously combated by suffragists of the less extreme type. Said Miss Mildred H. Collyer: "I am sure there will be widespread disagreement with the views expressed by Miss Nina Boyle and others. The question of preference to women in danger is as old as the necessary preservation of primitive races. Now that we have reached a stage when the increase of population is indifferently less important than its efficiency, we must reconsider our views on the subject. Nobody can pretend that the saving of an immense preponderance of women serves any longer to the good of the State. All honor to the men who stood back on the deck of the Titanic. We shall find it hard enough when our turn comes."

Mrs. G. Dyce Sharp believes it is all right to save the children first, "but," she asks, "why, in the name of humanity and common sense, the women? We live in a country where the proportion of women is something like 21 to 20, and where women are generally economically dependent upon men, and yet we make it a rule to add to the disproportion; and increase the number of those who cannot be self-supporting, while we decrease the number of bread-winners. Why, for instance, should we prefer the life of a middle aged well-to-do spinster to that of an able-bodied fireman with a wife and family at home? What sense is there in saving the wife and children of an emigrant if you leave the man on whom they are dependent to drown? If we must, for practical purposes, have a rule, let us be done with the sentimental distinction of sex in matters of life and death, and cry: 'Youngest first!'"

Oklahoma Corporations Commission Inaugurates Plan—Will Gather Information About Judges

By Associated Press.

Oklahoma City, May 25.—The Oklahoma corporation commission today inaugurated a nation wide movement for a "cleaner judiciary" and sent letters to every railroad and corporation commissioner in the country, asking co-operation in gathering information regarding the business connections, past and present, and official acts, of every federal judge in this country. The information thus obtained will be compiled and made available to all bodies with jurisdiction over corporations. The letter says:

"The public mind is excited over the inclination of the federal courts to rewrite the constitution on the theory of one centralized power to reign in Washington."

CHAMP CLARK TO ENTER RACE FOR CONGRESSMAN

Says Two-Thirds Rule May Prevent His Getting Nomination, in Spite of Lead

Washington, D. C., May 25.—In a statement today, Champ Clark said: "Matters presidential have advanced so far that three things are clear. I will have a long lead at Baltimore. Nobody will have a two-thirds majority on the first ballot. I don't know whether the two-thirds will be enforced. It never has been enforced but once and that was against Martin an Buren in 1844. In all other cases, the man who received a majority was given the necessary two-thirds majority, but nevertheless the rule may be enforced and I may not secure the two-thirds majority."

"I have every reason to believe I will, but in view of that contingency and out of respect for the wishes of my constituents and the Missouri Democrats in both Houses of Congress I have concluded to file for Congress."

Allen Case May Go to Jury Saturday

Wytheville, Va., May 25.—Attorneys for the commonwealth said they expected to close their case Monday against Claude S. Allen, charged with the murder of Judge Massie when the Allen clan shot up the Terrell county court house last March. Practically all of the State's evidence was presented today after 10 witnesses corroborated the testimony that young Allen fired the first shot. Allen's counsel believes they can present all their evidence by next Thursday and it is thought the case will be with the jury by Saturday.

HONESTY IN ADVERTISING.

(Kansas City Star)

Sixteen advertising men, delegates to the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs, occupied pulpits in Dallas yesterday and spoke on truthfulness in advertising. It was a significant indication on the improvement in standards that has taken place in an important field of the business world in recent years.

Advertising developed with a rush when cheap paper and the perfecting press made possible the tremendous expansion of newspaper circulation of the last three or four decades. In this transition era newspapers regarded themselves as common carriers, bound to print whatever advertisement was offered. But with the great awakening, as to business morality that dates from the preaching of Theodore Roosevelt on a national scale, periodicals began to recognize their obligations to their advertising. So the get-rich-quick advertisements and the fake medical announcements disappeared from the columns of reputable publications.

While this meant an immediate sacrifice of tens of thousands of dollars a year for every newspaper that adopted the policy, in the long run it proved profitable. For the world is made in such a way that honesty really does pay.

Today decent newspapers everywhere use the utmost endeavor to protect their readers from misleading advertisements, as well as from inaccurate news reports. In this they have the hearty co-operation of enlightened advertisers who appreciate the fact that lasting success depends on square dealing.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wichita Falls as second-class mail matter

Wichita Falls, Texas, May 26th 1912

The Bonham Favorite notes that the Houston Post says Jake Wolters has a chance of carrying Fannin. About as much as the holder of a ticket used to have to draw the capital prize in the Louisiana lottery when 999,999 other men held tickets also.

Another recent dispatch to the Post stated that Hunt county was conceded to Col. Jake. We asked one of the best known men in Hunt county about it. He laughed and said it was just as likely to go for Wolters as it was to go against Ben Looney.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

Both Fannin and Denton are what has heretofore been known as heavy Bailey counties. But, if they are not going for Col. Jake, then it might be of interest to know which of the other two, (Sheppard or Randall) they will go for. Fannin is in Randall's congressional district, and he has carried it over the opposition in every race he made with one exception. Should the indications be that he will lose it in his race for the senatorship, it will make against him in other portions of the State.

The mere fact that a man has succeeded of election and has served one term, it does not necessarily mean that those who opposed him in the beginning are under any obligations whatever to give him their endorsement for a second term. It is true, that in the event such an official has proved true to his trust, and has performed the duties of his office to the satisfaction of not only those who favored him in the first instance but also to those who opposed his election, unless such circumstances a second term should be given. But instances where an official with patronage to be bestowed, hands out the jobs only to "the faithful," with possibly an exception here and there, it goes to show that such an official has not forgotten the past, and until he does this, he cannot consistently expect those who were against him in his first race, to be for him in his second. At least that is the way this newspaper has of viewing things in a political way; others, however, may view it in a different light. That is their right, and those who disagree with them should have no criticism to make. The people, as a rule, can be trusted, and their verdict should be accepted. If they make a bad choice, they can correct it at the next election.

The best way in the world for the retail merchants to kill off the parcels post deal is for the merchants to cultivate the patronage of the farmers, the people in whose interest, more than all others the parcels post bill is being agitated. There are, of course, several ways in which to do this, but one way is for the retail merchant to patronize the papers mostly read by the farmers. For the past three years the Weekly Times, which is read mostly by the farmers, has depended almost entirely for its support on the subscription price of $1.00 per year, and any newspaper man of experience knows what that means. The retail merchants have not placed their ads in this paper, and on this account some complaints have come from subscribers in the rural districts, and with these complaints have come some criticism of the Times for the stand it has taken against the passage of the parcels post bill, the critics saying in some instances that if the retail merchant was really desirous of their patronage they would let that fact be known by placing their ads in the local paper, which, in some instances, is the only paper they take. When they do not find the ads of the local merchant in the local paper, it is comparatively an easy matter to pick up a catalogue of some concern and find just what they want, and by sending a letter with the necessary check or money order, get it. The Times has thought seriously about this matter and it really believes that, aside from any selfish interest that might be served by the adoption of the plan it suggests, that it is really one of the best ways that can possibly be adopted to convince the patrons of catalogue concerns that their patronage will be appreciated.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EVADING JURY SERVICE.

(San Antonio Express)
In a recent interview in which he discussed the much complained of judicial procedure if Texas, Justice Thomas J. Brown of the State Supreme Court called attention to the fact that a very large number of the best men in Texas, many of whom are laid in their criticisms of court delays and miscarriage of justice, are measurably responsible for this condition as a result of the policy of avoiding jury service.

Undoubtedly Justice Brown's criticism is a deserved one and it should have the effect to encourage good citizens to give more of their time to public affairs in which all the people are interested and in which the welfare of the State is involved.

It is a fact that a great many business men will not do jury service if it is possible for them to avoid it. They will use whatever influence they may be able to exert on court officers to prevent being summoned and if they do not succeed in this, they will present excuses to the presiding judge, and some good citizens have been known to disqualify themselves for jury service by asserting they had formed opinions, when there was good reason to believe this was merely a subterfuge. As a result, the courts are run to a great extent in cities with jurors belonging to the professional class, a condition which all good people must regret and one which they should endeavor to remedy.

Of course it is a hardship for a busy man to neglect his affairs to spend several days on a jury, but this is one of the responsibilities which good government involves, and the sacrifice should be willingly made. The men who are busy are they who make the best jurors, and they should not shirk the responsibility.

SENATORIAL ELECTIONS.

(Nashville Banner)
The New York Tribune, that has not outlived its old habit of maligning the South, says in regard to the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution to provide for the election of United States Senators by popular vote:

"The vote in the House of Representatives on Monday makes certain the submission of a seventeenth amendment to the Federal Constitution. The few surviving Southern brigadiers in that body fought, bled and were trampled upon in a vain attempt to exact as a price for the approval of direct elections for Senators the renunciation by the Federal Government, so far as the Senate is concerned, of its prerogative to regulate the processes by which members of the National Legislature are chosen. The Democratic majority in the House had held up the direct election amendment for more than a year in the hope of forcing that sur-render on the Senate. But the Northern Democrats at last yielded to the inevitable and rode roughshod over their protesting Southern associates."

The South has always had a higher regard for the Constitution as it came from the hands of its framers than is held at the North, and it will do well to abide by its conservative views in that respect.

The Senate was created especially representative of the States as distinguished from the House of Representatives, that stands for the people of the Nation at large. If the election of Senators should be placed under direct Federal supervision that principle would be largely nullified.

But there is a special reason why the Southern States desire to elect their own Senators free from outside interference, and the attitude of the Tribune in its sneers at "Southern brigadiers" emphasizes that reason.

The amendment will not become effective until it has been ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States. The Tribune's comment will not encourage Southern Legislators to vote the necessary endorsement.

The thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments are all the amendments that were adopted after 1803 until the income tax amendment was proposed three years ago.

The first of these prohibits slavery. In that the South fully concurs. The other two were adopted in contravention of Southern sentiment, and worked this section great injury. They were intended in large measure for the punishment and humiliation of the South. To place the election of United States Senators under Federal supervision would be supplementary to the fifteenth amendment. It will be very surprising if Southern Legislatures agree to the change.

THE DEMOCRATIC SITUATION.

Memphis Commercial Appeal.
In the Democratic camp things are not much better. Some of our candidates are running so hard for office that their tongues hang out to their knees. They consult a book or geography before they make a speech. They shape their oratory to suit the local prejudices of the people of any state they happen to be in. They are out for the delegates. They initiate no policies. They attempt to read the minds of the people and then echo their opinions.

The Wilson people see no good in the other candidates.
Mr. Bryan denounces Harmon as a tool of Wall street.
Underwood recently began to show strength, and Mr. Bryan has now turned his batteries on him. Bryan himself did not want to offend the south ern people, and fearing that his indictment of Underwood might be held to be based upon a prejudice against the South, he tells the southern people that if they want a southerner why not get behind Hoke Smith, Ollie Jones or Charles Culbertson.

It is said that Mr. Bryan is booming Kern in Indiana, for in the last issue of the Commoner he prints a speech a mile long which Kern has made, and in this speech Kern is pleading for a dollar a day for every living federal soldier—no matter whether that soldier lost a leg in a fight, or never got any nearer the battle line than the sutler's wagon.

The national Democracy itself is about to break into factions as irrec-oncilable as the Roosevelt and anti-Roosevelt crowd. It looks as if the poison that was in the Tennessee Democratic policies during the last four years has got into the national body.

THE CASE OF OLSON.

Houston Post.
There has been more or less excited discussion of the action of Judge Hanford of the United States district court of the State of Washington annulling the citizenship of Leonard Olson on the ground that he is a socialist. The excited feature of the discussion, while it has had the effect of bringing Judge Hanford into the limelight, has at the same time induced quite general consideration of his action along less brainstormy lines.

Such discussion discloses the fact that the public is not very well informed concerning the exact evidence on which Judge Hanford based his decision. Until this is at hand, it would necessarily appear that any intelligent opinion of the righteousness of his decision is impossible. If Olson admitted that he took part in Socialist meetings at which resistance to the established order was advocated, and that he favored such resistance, or was unwilling to obey the law as it stands, the judge was apparently within the law in excluding him from citizenship; and this is also the case if Olson's stand was proved in other ways than by his own admission.

The New York Commercial, commenting on the incident, very concisely states the merits of a case in which such action by the court would be justified when it affirms that "if Olson advocated recourse to arms to bring about a change or resistance to due process of law, or the collection of taxes, he is not fit for citizenship. If, however, he simply wished by argument to change men's minds to his way of thinking and thus to win over a majority of the voters of the United States to socialism, his exclusion was unlawful and unjust.

facts will soon come out, as the case is certain to be appealed to a higher court.

"To say that a man's views, apart from his acts, regarding political questions should gear him from citizenship," says the Commercial, "would threaten the liberty of the subject. Once established such a precedent and it might be extended to include those holding certain religious beliefs and opinions regarding the tariff policy of the country. This is a land of free speech and any infringement on that right is fraught with danger to the State. The distinction between free speech and incitement to riot, resistance to the law or armed rebellion is clearly drawn, and was very accurately stated by the court which convicted and sentenced Tom Mann, the English labor leader, to six months' labor for inciting soldiers to mutiny."

Recital at Theatre.
Saturday night, May 18th, a recital was given by Misses Pearl Underwood and Bon Hardy, the former a graduate of the piano department and the latter of the voice department of the Wichita Falls Conservatory of Music. The recital was held at the Wichita Theatre and a large number of people were present. The young ladies were presented with many beautiful flowers.

NEW EVIDENCE ABOUT TITANIC IS SECURED.
New York, May 25.—New evidence that the Titanic was going at full speed with all but five of her 24 boilers lit on the fateful night was obtained today by Senator Wm. Alden Smith, chairman of the Senate investigating committee. He questioned Fred Barrett who was chief fireman of the Titanic. Barrett said that after the boat struck, the red lights in the boiler room—danger signals—came up.

So long as the existing order of government stands, it has all needed energy to protect the rights of the humblest citizen, whether he be a socialist or something else unpopular; hence the public should not become unduly excited over the Olson incident. The side and the Democratic party on the other.

 "Don't you ever believe the organized liquor interests are not interested in the election of a United States Senator," he warned. "Bills are now pending in Congress that affect every phase of the liquor question."
 Mr. Sheppard next reviewed his work in behalf of legislation to restrict the interstate shipments of liquor in prohibition territory and said that both Randall and Wolters had been declaring that he had made no efforts in this direction until within the last few months. He cited measures he had introduced and speeches and votes to contradict their statements and referred to Randall and Wolters as "twin blossoms on the Anheuser Busch." He said he would rather trust a lamb in the jaws of a ravenous wolf than a prohibition measure in Wolters' keeping.
 He reviewed his record and stated his attitude toward organized labor. He said he believed in and would use every effort for the enactment of a liberal compensation act, an eight-hour day, sanitary laws and all the legislative program demanded by organized labor and embodied in the National Democratic platform.
 Discussing the initiative, referendum and recall he said those principles embodied in the constitution of Texas, and that the initiative and referendum were called into use in every local option and bond election held in Texas. He said Wolters had denounced these principles were already embodied in the consistent and courageous, he said, he ought to denounce the practice of cities as socialist. If Wolters was and the local option elections. He said the initiative, referendum and recall were not instruments to take the place of representative government but to supplement, strengthen and preserve it.
 "Jake Wolters has much to say about plurality but before he is entitled to an answer let him tell us how much money he spent in the campaign against statewide prohibition and where it came from and where it went," shouted Sheppard.
 Mr. Sheppard in reviewing his record in congress said that he had served as chairman of the public buildings and grounds committee and had taken great pleasure in helping secure the appropriation for the federal building here. He said that he had been working to have the appropriation doubled and would work for the establishment of a federal court here.
 At the close of his speech many crowded to the platform to shake hands with Mr. Sheppard and pledge him their support. He left on an early train this morning for Texas and will leave there Monday for Houston to attend the state convention. He is very optimistic over his reception in the Panhandle and Northwest Texas.
 Over a hundred persons came in on a special train from Byers last night to hear Mr. Sheppard and there were a number of other out of town people here.
 Those seated on the platform with the speaker were: J. W. Morgan, Dr. W. H. Walker, E. P. Haney, V. G. Steen, Edgar Rye, H. H. Williams, R. V. Gwine, P. B. Cox, Dr. Daniels, Hon. L. H. Mathis, W. J. Bullock, W. E. Forey, Dr. Bell and Joe Young.

FOUR STRAIGHT FROM M'KINNEY

JONES PITCHES ONE-HIT GAME AND LOCALS TAKE ANOTHER WITH EASE

BEGIN THEIR TRIP TODAY

Will Be Away Twelve Days in McKinney, Greenville and Denison—Still in Second Place

The Drillers ended their at home stay by taking the fourth straight game from McKinney in a contest of which Jones' pitching was easily the feature. One measly, lonesome single was recorded by the McKinney batsmen. The score was 8 to 0.

As in the three previous games with McKinney, the Drillers took hold of things at the very start, scoring six runs in the first inning. Another in the sixth and another in the eighth completed the scoring. The Doormats did not get a man as far as third and only one reached second.

Yesterday's victory gives the Drillers six out of eight games at home. Since they first went on the road three weeks ago they have won fourteen out of nineteen games, which is pretty near a pennant-winning stride. There is still a healthy gap between them and first place, however, and it is going to take some ball playing to yank Bonham down to where she belongs.

The team seems to be going pretty strong, everything considered. It has been trimmed a little recently. Angel was released, leaving Jones, Myers, Mullins, Baxter and Morris available for slub duty. Chapman can be used both behind the bat and in the outfield, which does not make it necessary for one of the pitchers to take the field so often. Naylor will be out of the game several days on account of an injury to his knee sustained yesterday.

The team will be away for twelve days. It will have a four game series at home with McKinney; four, games at home with Greenville and four with Denison, coming home with the latter team. That is if the present schedule stands, which is unlikely. The way it works now, Wichita Falls will play twelve games with Greenville before she gets a whack at either Bonham or Denison.

Yesterday's scoring started when Lawrence hit for three bases, scoring Morris' single. Brown was safe on Kerr's error and was sacrificed by Guthrie. Naylor was safe on another error by Kerr, Morris scoring. Myers singled, scoring Brown. Phillips was safe on McGee's error, and Chapman and Jones singled, scoring Naylor, Myers and Phillips. Jones was caught off first and Lawrence fanned, retiring the side. Jones scored in the sixth on a single. Lawrence's bunt and Morris' hit. In the eighth he singled again, reached third on an error, scoring again on a hit by Morris.

The locals got to Kistenmacher for a total of seventeen safe ones; Jones got three hits out of five times up and everybody on the team except Mullins got at least one hit. Extra base hits were scarce, but there were many clean singles.

McGee, first baseman for the Doormats, spent part of the afternoon outside the grounds as the result of a difference of opinion between himself and Umpire Miller. The score:

Friday's Game
It took three pitchers and a ninth inning rally to defeat McKinney Friday, even after the Drillers had scored six runs in the second innings. While that kind of a victory looks just as good in the percentage column, it doesn't speak very well for the team that gets it.

The Drillers took what was thought of as a very easy game from McKinney, but the Doormats started out to cut down the lead. One run in the fourth, another in the fifth, two more in the sixth and then four in the seventh gave them a three run lead and things began to look bad.

Baxter pitched the first five innings for the locals but was derricking when things began to get woody in the sixth. Duke Morris went in himself and after an inning and a half retired in favor of Myers, who held matters pretty safe for the rest of the game. The locals pushed three runs across in the ninth, winning out.

Fred Morris got his fourth home run of the week yesterday. His batting average for the week is .428.

McKinney's first run came when Dupuy was safe on a doubtful throw by Clark, was sacrificed to second, took third on Steakley's hit and scored when Clark failed to relay the throw-in from center field.

Lawrence led off in the second with a single and Clark was safe on Worsham's error, both being advanced on Jones' sacrifice. Phillips got hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. Naylor's two-bagger scored Lawrence and Clark and Baxter's two-bagger scored Phillips and Naylor. A double by Guthrie and singles by Morris, Brown and Lawrence brought in three more runs.

McKinney scored in the third when Kerr hit for three bases and scored when Naylor dropped the throw to catch him at the plate. Brady hit for a homer in the fifth. In the sixth, McGee walked, Moulden was safe on Papp's error. McGee scored on an infield roller and Worsham's single scored Moulden. In the seventh, White walked and scored on Steakley's triple; McGee's single scored Steakley. Moulden fanned and took first when Naylor missed the third one. First base was occupied at the time and Moulden should have been called out, but nobody noticed the mistake. Kerr singled, filling the bases. Worsham rolled one to Morris who threw McGee out at the plate. Naylor threw to first to get Worsham, hitting the runner in the back and Moulden scored. Kerr came in on Bray's sacrifice fly.

If Moulden had been called out on the third strike, as the rules provide, McKinney would have scored but twice.

Morris cut the lead down in Wichita's half of the seventh with a home run. The side was retired in the eighth without difficulty. Guthrie was first up in the ninth and walked. Morris rolled one to Dupuy who made a bad throw in his effort to double the side out, both runners being safe. Brown tried to sacrifice but was safe, filling the bases. Lawrence doubled, scoring Guthrie and Morris. Clark went out, short to first, but Brown scored on the play, and the game was won. The score:

RESULT OF MEETING OF LEAGUE CLUB OWNERS.

Denison Herald.
Hereafter Texas-Oklahoma League teams will not be allowed to play men not under contract in any scheduled game and the numerical strength of any club must not exceed thirteen men at any time.

President Newcomb stated that he had hoped to have a new schedule ready to submit to the meeting, but had been advised by wire by Dock Roberts that a suit case containing the schedule had been stolen from a train on Friday night between Austin and Houston. In his telegram Mr. Roberts stated that he was compiling a new one which would be in the hands of President Newcomb not later than Tuesday. Mr. Newcomb stated that the new schedule provided for series of three games instead of four, as does the old one. Sunday games will be scheduled in Denison, Sherman, Ardmore and Wichita Falls only, the other four towns not being able to play Sunday games.

The matter of eliminating a section of the by-laws under which a club had the right to try an unsigned man in not more than four games brought forth a general discussion, but it was finally stricken from the by-laws. No team is to have more than thirteen

THE Autocrat Touring Car is a seven-passenger, four-cylinder car, of very exceptional ability, smoothness of operation, silence, elegance and power.

It made a deserved reputation in 1911 as the one really improved automobile shown at the big shows and added lustre to the thirtieth year of Oldsmobile fame. The new series, improved to the minute in engineering and in elegance of equipment, surpasses anything we have ever seen in the form of an automobile.

One must see this car to complete an automobile education in the artistic development of the body lines; one must ride in it to appreciate what advances have been made in easy-riding ability; one must drive it to understand the pleasure of a really responsive and flexible engine.

We are always ready to demonstrate these facts.

TY COBB IS REINSTATED $50 FINE IS ASSESSED

Pres. Ban Johnson Says Player Was To Blame in Fracas With Spectator

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Ill., May 25.—President B. B. Johnson of the American League tonight announced the reinstatement of Tyrus Cobb of Detroit whose suspension for attacking a spectator whom he said had insulted him in New York resulted in a strike by the Detroit players last week. He can play tomorrow.

In addition to his suspension he was fined $50. President Johnson promised, in a statement, full protection to all players and said it had been arranged to increase police protection at all parks. He declared severe punishment would be given those players who assumed to act as judge and avenger of fancied wrongs while on duty.

Following is President Johnson's statement: "After a careful investigation into the causes and circumstances of the encounter between Cobb and Claude Lucker, a spectator in the New York grounds, May 15, I find that direct responsibility for the unfortunate circumstance rests upon the player. Evidence in the form of affidavits clearly shows that the player was first to employ vicious language in replying to a taunting remark by the spectator.

"Cobb did not seek redress by an appeal to the umpire but took the law into his own hands. His language and conduct were highly censurable. As a lesson to the accuse and a warning to other players I fix the term of suspension at 10 days and fix the fine at $10."

DENIES AUTHORITY TO INTERVENE IN CUBA.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., May 25.—Senator Bacon of Georgia, said today that Taft would have no authority of law for sending an armed force into Cuba. He offered a resolution instructing the Cuban relations committee to suggest legislation providing for intervention along the lines of the Platte amendment, which applied to an old law.

ELECT NEW OFFICERS AT LEAGUE MEETING TODAY

Two Greenville Men Chosen for President and Secretary of Texas-Oklahoma League

By Associated Press.
Sherman, Texas, May 25.—At a meeting of the Texas-Oklahoma league today, at which all towns were represented except Wichita Falls, President T. B. Newcomb and Secretary E. E. Barkley resigned. H. L. Warren and R. A. Atkins, both of Greenville were elected president and secretary respectively.

WICHITA BALL PLAYERS HAVE BONEHEAD FUND.

A "bonehead fund" has been established by the members of the Wichita Falls baseball team, the proceeds go to buy medicine and other things for the players. Every time a player pulls off an "ivory" he is charged with five or ten cents, according to the damage done. An "ivory" is a bone head play. The latest to be entered on the books is that pulled off by Jones in Friday's game. In the fifth inning; Clark hit for three bases and Jones who was next up was given the signal for the squeeze play, there being but one out. Clark started for home with the pitcher's arm, but Jones did not like the looks of the ball thrown him and let it go by. Clark being easily thrown out.

Whenever an "ivory" results in a game being lost the maker of it will have to contribute fifty cents to the fund. For the common or garden variety, however, the cost will be only ten cents.
