Facts Worthing Knowing. Since cast aluminum cooking ware tas become so popular, many manu facturers of cheap and light wares such as are intended for sale in racket stores have started the manu facture of stamped and spun alumin ium articles and this cheap light ware is sold at bargain counters and canvassers all over the country. Many people buy it because it is cheap. Probably they do not know that there are two kinds of wares, namely, the made as thick as an iron stove-pot, still it is very light but will not wear though from the constant rubbing and cleaning that it receives in time but the spun ware is very thinfi in fact it is as thin as the very lightest tin, and for this reason it isn't good because it burns too easily, breaks, dents and wears through in a short reason that it cannot be soldered. All reliable hardware stores are now selling only the cast ilunium ware. The manufacturers of the cheap, bogus ware are having peddlers who are strangers to you, make a house to house canvas. Before you buy any alumium ware from a strange go to the hardware store and ask to see the real cast alumium ware and you will decide that you want to buy from your home merchant.

If Roosevelt's bolt doesn't do any thing more than give Texas a lily white Republican party, it will have served at least one good purpose.

Now, if Teddy will agree to run on a plank disfranchising the negro, he could count on carrying Texas, no matter what name he may decide to give his new party.

The red bandanna is again the emblem of a National political party. the first time since Allen G. Thurman of Ohio, was a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. Mr. Roosevelt's party has now adopt-

"The people do rule," said Warren Harding in nominating Taft; "where?" was the delegates' query; "Taft is the greatest progressive," said Harding: "boo!" answered the delegates. The Republicans are furnishing the Democrats all the campaign literature they will need.

If the Democrats do the sensible thing this time the Republicans, divided as they are, will not carry more than ten states, and the Roose velt wing will get the majority of the And the sensible thing to do will be to sit down hard and strong on that element of the party that persist on staying in the party only for the purpose of Republicanizing They should get out and throw their votes and their influence to the party that has already adopted a platform upon which they can stand, and nominated a man who they can support with consistency. Their only purpose in staying in the party is to assist in electing Taft president. This they should be kicked out and Murphy should be the first man to go.

THE TARANTULA DATE FIXED.

Wichita Falls Times: "Inquisitive Subscriber" wants to know what day in the month of June the tarantulas some out. As the Times does not conduct a "question and answers" column, it might be better to ask this question of some newspaper that does. At the time the editor of this paper resided in the country where the tarantula abounds it was the general impression that June 14 was the day the large venomous spiders came out of their dens. We do not give this as authority, however. To get an absolutely correct answer, we appeal to State Press of the Galveston-Dallas He has told us where all the little bull frogs come from that cover the ground just after a heavy rain. We feel quite sure he cam answer the question asked by "Inquisitive Subscriber."

Certainly, certanly, State Press knows when the tarantulas come out, S. P. thought everybody knew that, at least eeyrybody who has mixed much with trantulas. June 14 is not the date. You are considerably wrong as to that, although we do not question your honesty in the matter. Tarantulas in different States have different debut dates. In the Northwest, away tarantulas are later about arriving than are the tarantulas of New Mexico and Arizona. In Texas they emerge on March 16, which is the same date upon which the groundhog roots out in those years when he detains himself six reeks after Feb. 2. The frequent simultaneous coming out of the groundhog and the tarantula was agreed to in stay on Feb. 2 the tarantulas go down to the subway station and give him a one emerging date, thus doing th the movable feast which he ong maintained, but he has con has so the may be, has again sidered it but slightly, urging on his own behalf that the weather is largely governed by his movements and that his duty to the public forbids him from less of a scent of the court of American services.

MISBEHAVING JUDGES

(New York Globe)

What the public is concerned about ending is corruption and inefficiency in the courts. The public wants a better administration of the civil and criminal law and intends to get it. For more tahn a generation the public up in the Rockaway Mountains, the has patiently waited for reform to come from the inside. But it didn't come. So the experiment of applying a little outside pressure is being tried and the results are already happy.

The people have seen that the courts have been carried on by judges practically free of responsibility except to their own consciences. Mr. Bryan said early today that he felt very keenly about the situation prepared to make the speech of his life in defense of his attitude and against "the big interests" which he declared were opposing him. Some of Mr. Bryan's callers declared that tears came to the Ne braskan's eyes as he discussed the situation; that he was deeply in earnest was most apparent.

Judge Parker said today he had no idea who would lead the fight for him. He said it was entirely a matter to be handled by the National committee. Mr. Bryan was up early today to lead the fight against Judge Parker.

"I have no candidate for temporary chairman," he said early in the day. "Any progressive will be satisfactory to me." The name of the candidate was not made known at that time. Judge Parker's friends were sanguine and felt confident of enough votes to win unless delegates were stampeded by Bryan's eloquence and to prevent this they looked over the field for some speaker able to match the oratory with the Nebraskan.

Mr. Bryan was asked about a report that Senator La Follette of Wisconsin was on his way from the west to see him. "I had not heard of it," said Mr

Bryan, "I have no appointment to

Hon. R. M. Johnston, National Committeeman from Texas: At the meeting of the delegates from Texas to the Democratic National convention held today it was voted that as chairman of the delegation, I advise you of their unanimous opinion that Judge Alton B. Parker of New York, whose name has been suggested for temporary chairman of the convention, should not be selected for that position, but that the temporary chairman should be some Democrat whose record and affiliations align him with the dominant progressive sentiment of the Democratic party and of the times. It is the earnest wish of every member of the Texas delegation that no reactionary brand be put upon the convention at the outset by selection of a reactionary as its temporary chairman. "We believe that any seeming ac quiescence on the part of the Texas delegation in the selection of any one other than a known progressive Democrat as temporary chairman would forfeit the confidence of those we represent in the sincerity of pur pose of the delegation.

"We therefore respectfully and earnestly request that as National committeeman from Texas, you vote against the selection of Judge Parker and in accord with the views here-Yours truly, in expressed. CONE JOHNSON."

The vote on the temporary chairmanship was announced as follows: For Parker-James Weatherly of Alabama; A. J. Michelson of Arizona, Guy B. Tucker of Arkansas, N. Georgia, Simon P. When the result of the vote in the National committee was made known to Mr. Bryan, he issued a ringing statement in which he promised to carry the fight against Parker to the floor of the convention and to be himself a candidate for the temporary chairmanship if no other progressive candidate can be found who promises to prove stronger with the delegates. Mr. Bryan charged that the selection of Parker had been dictated by three men-Thomas F. Ryan, August Belmont and Charles F. Murphy. He declared that if Judge Parker knew he represented these men he ought not to come forward to preside over a Democratic convention. If he did not know it, he was not fit to preside over the convention.

The details of the bargain which Speaker Clark and William Randolph Hearst made with Charles Murphy, the Tammany leader, are largely speculative, but the gossip among the New York delegates is that in return for "putting over" Judge Parker at the risk of Clark breaking with Bryan is that New York's ninety votes are to be cast for Clark for the Presidential nomination. The Hearst bargain is said to involve the ending of the long standing Hearst-Murphy feud, and Tammny's support of Hearst for the Vice Presidency on the Clark ticket, if possible, and if not, then (Tammany's support of Hearst for the Governorship of New York.

As a further consideration of the support which Hearst personally expects from Tammany, according to New York delegates, Murphy will no longer be cartooned in the Hearst Hearst organs are to go hand in hand and victory in New York. Astounding this deal may sound. New York delegates assert that such is the bargain and the Tammany men were in high glee when they learned today that Hearst and Murphy had got together. This meeting took place in Murphy's room. Hearst came to Murphy. The two men, who had not spoken to one another in years, shook hands and spoke.

This meeting was followed by a rumor (which was discredited until the results of the voting on Judge: Parker became known) to the effect that the Murphy-Hearst-Clark combination would give the nomination to Speaker Clark before the close of the first ballot in the convention. In detail, the deal was said to be that the ninety votes of New, York would e given as a compliment to Mayor Gaynor when the Empire State was reached on the roll call, but before the call was completed and the result announced the New York vote would be switched from Gaynor to the Missouri candidate, thereby bringing about the latter's nomina-

Naturally this report riveted the attention of all who heard it and caused commotion and uneasiness about the headquarters of all rival candidates. Desperate efforts were made to get at the actual facts, for the denial entered by the representatives of Charles F. Murphy and by some of the Clark people were regarded with suspicion. It was felt that if the deal had actually been arranged no admission of that fact need be expected and that the event alone would prove the truth or falsity of the report.

But the general disposition was to discredit the report, which, however, the vote in the National committee last night indicates to be true.

The developments of the day indicate the nomination of Champ Clark for the Presidency with the aid of New York's ninety votes, unless Col Bryan in his speech today can win over enough of his fololwers in the Clark camp to accomplish the defeat of Judge Parker. Then it is believed Col. Bryan might bring about enough desertions from the Clark camp to make the Missourian's nomination impossible, but should Bryan's promised great fight on Parker fail, noth ing it is believed here is likely to prevent the nomination of Mr. Chrk on the first or second ballot.

WHAT THE CONVENTIONS MEAN TO NEWSPAPERS

A newspaperman, as a rule, has few troubles that do not end when the paper is off the press. What has happened during the day, recorded in the columns of the paper, is ancient history. However, in this brief breathing-speel between the two Notional conventions, it may be interesting to tell something of the diffi-culties which attend the reporting of the gatherings of the great par-

While the volume of matter received during conventions is much smaller cfor papers the size of The Times than for dalies in large cities, its handling is attended by scarcely less difficulties. The larger papers, with greater mechanical equipment, are able to publish everything that comes and the editing of the report does not require the discrimination and judgment that is needed on the

The Times received from 3000 to 3500 words during the week and about 7000 words on Saturday. In addition to this report, which was received over long distance telephone, there were frequent telegraphie bulletins received on the very important developments on the convention floor. This report enabled The Times to keep thoroughly posted at all times on what was transpiring and to give its readers a comprehensive report of the convention proceedings. Hundreds of inquiries, both tele

phonic and personal, were answered and hundreds more received information from the bulletins which were posted in front of the office. Many of the inquiries were from nearby points, people in towns as far distant as 400 miles calling up The limes office to get the latest news. More than 1000 men occupied seats in the press section at the Chicago convention and it is expected that fully that number will be at Baltinore. In addition to the actual re porters, representing the Associated Press, the other press associations and the great metropolitan dailies, there were hundreds of "staff cor respondents," whose work was confined more strictly to comment and observation. The Associated Press' routine re ort of the convention was handled by three men, working in three-min ute shifts. One of these took a short-hand report of the convention's events, covering three minutes, re ired at the end of that time to ranscribe his notes and after six ninutes more was back again. When speaker mounted the platform, tenographer would tiptoe out and drough down close behind him, recording his remarks in the cryptic curves. Not all of this, however, was put on the wires. This routine repor was only a part of the. Associated Press' work. There were men to write the general "lead" ings and to get the developments at headquarters and in hotels.

One telegraph operator with a "silent sounder" on his instrument, was stationed close to the platform ready to "flash" the big developments of the convention throughout the country. There was a wire to Dallas connecting direct with the convention hall, and from Dallas the Times' bulletins were relayed to this city, giving Wichita Falls the news within an incredibly short time after it actually happened.

GREAT FEAT OF STUDEBAKER CORPORATION

When the industrial history of the twentieth century is finally written, its most thrilling chapters will almost surely be those that tell the story of the motor car-its sudden dash to popularity, its marvelous manufacturing successes, and its costly tactical failures. So say men learned in the lore of the business world. Certain it is, at any rate, that no department of the world's manufacturing history has yet furnished so great an amount of industrial rokind comes, as one has learned to expect, from Detroit. In one week, a firm manufacturing annually an output marketed at $50,000,000, completely re-organized the executive personnel of its system of distribution and then, with the new organization in charge, scored a sales success during the first month, that eclipsed all its former records for a similar period.

How this was done, without in th least disturbing the progress of busy selling season, is a story of vita interest to every business man.

The firm of the Studebaker corpor ation whose mammoth automobile division, manufacturing E M F 30 and Flanders 20 cars, maintains a round dozen plants. The Studebakers market their product through a system of forty branch warehouses and service stations in the main trading centers. Each of these supplies cars direct to that part of the 2,200 Studebaker dealers in its territory The branch managers make all con tracts and, to practical ends, each is the Studebaker corporation in hi own region.

A combination of circumstances made it advisable, in the judgment of the Studebaker management to eliminate a certain element in its sales department. The change involved the sales manager, his assistant and the managers of nearly a third of the firm's branches.

To the automobile world the en ergency seemed unexpected. E Such was, however, far from the truth.

When Germany decided to go t war with France, General Von Moltake took from a certain pigeon hole in his desk a complete plan of campaign, drawn up months before. When his emergency came, General Manager Gunn of the Studebaker corporation lid virtually the same thing. An experienced sales manager, E

A. Benson, was already in waiting With him, as assistant, came Arthur which a change was necessary, there was ready the assignment of a manager, every appointee carefull; schooled for his particular job.

Incident to the revision and harnonizing, of the sales department Sales Manager Benson announces complete list of the new branch man ager appointments. Ali these men are now firmly es tablished in their new positions, the hange having been effected without, so far as known, interfering with the sale of a single car or the disaf fection of a single dealer.

ACTION TAKEN BY THE PLUMBERS OF WICHITA FALLS

Will Figure Only With Owners and Architects Hereafter In All Plumband Heating Contracts

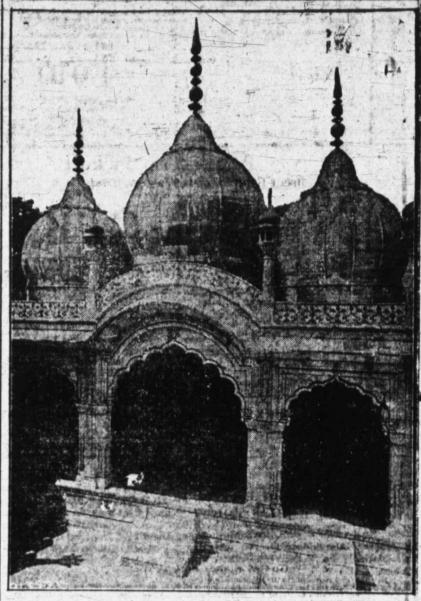

The plumbers of this city, being desirous of installing a better class of plumbing work and fixtures for builders of this city, have unanimous ly agreed to discontinue the practice of furnishing estimates of plumbing and heating to carpenters and other contractors, and to figure only with owners and architects, when the latter provide plans and specifications for the proposed buildings, bids to be given direct to owners. It has come to the attention of the plumbers that a great many unscrupulous contractors add a large profit on plumbing estimated in general contract, thereby charging owners with first class plumbing-and figuring the very cheapest kind of job with plumbers, thus causing very inharmonious feelings between the owner and plumber. On the other hand, every con scientious and honest contractor will gladly eliminate all connections with the plumbers, as same is a great inconvenience to them causing them to ose much valuable time, obtaining figures on plumbing, to enable them to give their total estimate on work without any reimbursement for the

The plumbers of this city are direct contractors and will hereafter figure only as above stated.

One of those mysteries of life which or ages man has, at certain periods, levoted his highest power of thought, oncerns the inexplicable loss of that dornment, which, in his youth, nature provided for his head. Innumerable have been the means devised for warding off the inevitable.

Entirely original is the solution latedevised by a Viennese scientist. An almost invisible hook of colden wire, to which is fastened a living hair, is inserted in the bald pate of him who would regain his youthful charm. The books are sterilized and the operation is almost painless. About 300 hairs can be inserted in an hour by a skilled operator. Each hair, it is estimated, will remain in perfect state for five years. These may one endowed with sufficient patience and cash regain that of which nature has deprived him.

So great has become the demand for hair wigs, braids, puffs and the very small, the luster like that of real hair, and the wigs so made are thoroughly hygienic.

Then he began to go to school, but became at once subject to stomach attacks that no kind of tonic or diet could help. Finally his mother suggested that the trouble might be with his eyes, but the local doctor pointed out that he was unusually far sighted, and never had any beadaches. The mother, knowing something of the subtle relation of the eyes to the rest of the body, took him to an eye specialist in a distant town. The first day on which he wore glasses he said wonderingly: "Why, print is black, isn't it, mother?" "Yes, dear; what did you think it "Why, gray, and sort of mixed like, he wore the right glasses the stomac trouble vanished as if by magic. This is only one illustration of many that might be given of obscure affect tions directly caused by eye strain. Some of the clearest symptoms may be seen in infancy. For example, when a baby is not sensitive to light and does not blink on coming into the sunshine he is near sighted. Ocean Dentistry.

All the world knows how up-to-date is everything on board the huge oceangoing liners, but among the very latest put into force is that of having a dental parlor, where suffering passengers may have their aching molars looked to or extracted.

To many the innovation will in the future prove a great boon, for the sea air has a considerable effect on the nerves of the teeth. Unlike other innovations on these vessels, however, the dental parlor notion did not originate in the brains of the steamship managers, but to a Parisian dentist must be given the credit. He had not been doing a roaring trade for some time, and went for a sea voyage, intending to have a holiday while bustness was dull. While on board the steamer he conceived the idea of a mit Roosevelt, Congressman and Mrs. ship's dentist, and on returning he at once booked a suite on the same ves- ogg, of St. Paul, Senator Guggenheim, sel, which was the S. FOODS TO AVOID IN CA-

The foods that tend most to produce catarrh are cane sugar, cooked cereals, fine white breed, rice and whole wheat bread. Apples tend to correct the catarrhal condition. One who is especially predisposed to catarrh should avoid the foods, named as favoring catarrh and eat an apple dally. It is also beneficial in many cases to drink a pint or more of hot water in the morning. which should be followed by risk walk and no food eater for an hour or more after.
