

WILSON NOW LEADS CLARK IN CONVENTION--NEW YORK MAN DELIVERS ATTACK ON BRYAN

SUPPORT OF INDIANA, IOWA AND VERMONT FOR WILSON

Eleven Votes Ahead On Thirty-First Ballot—Four More Ballots Taken This Afternoon.

By Associated Press.

Baltimore, July 1.—Woodrow Wilson became the leading candidate for the presidential nomination in the Democratic national convention this afternoon. He passed Champ Clark on the thirtieth ballot, receiving 460 votes to 455 for the Speaker.

Among today's features was an attack on Bryan by John Stanchfield of the New York delegation, who referred to the Nebraskan as a "favor-hunting, money-grabbing, publicity-seeking, marplot from Nebraska." The New York delegate also charged that Bryan had played the candidates against each other in order to bring about a deadlock and make his own nomination possible.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon four ballots had been taken without a nomination, Wilson showing marked gains and after taking the lead by five votes on the thirtieth ballot, increased it to eleven, 475 1-2 to 446 1-2 for Clark, on the thirty-first ballot.

During the thirty-first ballot, the Wilson managers claimed they had been promised thirty additional votes by the thirty-third ballot and 102 votes by the thirty-fourth ballot. If these alleged promises are kept, the total for Wilson on the thirty-fourth ballot would be 562 votes, a majority.

Defections to Wilson from the Foss delegates of Vermont and the Clark delegates of Iowa added to his strength today and when it became known that he was in the lead there was a great demonstration.

The convention was called to order today at 11:03 and the first ballot was taken at 11:17, it being the twenty-seventh since the convention began balloting.

Progressive leaders canvassing the field for an available man to break the deadlock in the event of failure to nominate Governor Wilson seriously consider Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania. Iowa broke on the 30th ballot, casting fourteen for Wilson and twelve for Clark. Underwood gained ten from Harmon in Ohio's vote on the 30th ballot.

The deadlock of the National Democratic convention was unbroken after three hours of continuous balloting. Three ballots had been taken up to 2 p. m., showing Wilson's gain, but not of such decisive character as to foreshadow a break. Vermont gave up Foss on the thirtieth ballot and that state's eight votes went to Wilson. The vote of Iowa which had been passed gave Wilson fourteen and Clark twelve. Up to that time the entire vote of twenty-six had gone to Clark. When the vote was announced a roll call of the delegation was demanded. Iowa's vote as announced gave Wilson the lead for the ballot with 460 votes. It gave Clark 455 votes.

Cheers greeted each Wilson vote as it was announced during the roll call. The thirtieth ballot had proceeded monotonously until Ohio was reached, then ten of Harmon's twenty-nine went to Underwood.

At the close of the 28th ballot, it was announced that arrangements had been made to extend all railroad tickets making them good until July 10. A controversy arose on the twenty-ninth ballot over Kansas' vote. A poll showed Wilson 13, Clark 6, with one absent. Claim was made that instructions of the Kansas convention required the full vote to be cast for Clark. There were cries of "steam roller." Kansas was passed.

The chairman directed a poll and after the poll it was declared that under the unit rule the vote must go to Wilson.

ATTACK BY NEW YORKER ON BRYAN IS FEATURE.

Baltimore, July 1.—A vast crowd entered the convention hall today in anticipation of a break in the deadlock among competing democratic aspirants and they were rewarded on the second ballot of the day, the 28th, when a notable break was registered by Indiana in that state's desertion of Gov. Marshall. The Indiana ballot was Wilson 29, Kern 1. The 27th ballot had shown little change from the last vote Saturday night. The Clark and Wilson forces remained intact, the changes being few and not decisive. Another sensation was added during the 27th ballot, when John E. Stanchfield speaking for New York denounced William J. Bryan as a "money-hunting, publicity-seeking, marplot from Nebraska." New York's vote was polled on the 27th, showing Clark 78, Wilson 9, Underwood 2, and absent 1, but the solid vote of ninety was cast under the unit rule for Clark.

By Indiana's leaning toward Wilson, the Jerseyman's total was swelled to 437 1/2 making him a close second to Clark who still maintained the lead of 468 1/2.

In the first six states called on the 27th ballot Clark gained four over the 26th. Illinois asked to be passed on this ballot. Marshall's thirty in Indiana remained intact. In Massachusetts, Wilson gained five votes and the Wilson supporters cheered. When the entire delegation arose and yelled, defiantly, "Thirty-six votes for Clark."

In Nebraska Clark gained one vote. One of the galleries became noisy and Chairman Jones ordered the police to clear any section of the gallery that renewed the disturbance. When New York was called and the poll of the delegation asked, Stanchfield arose to explain his vote. He spoke from the platform and championing New York as a decisive factor in Democracy. He declared that the integrity of New York's delegates had been impugned and insulted and that New York had a right to be heard. He denounced Bryan as "that money-grabbing favor-hunting, publicity-seeking marplot."

Stanchfield's bitter denunciation of Bryan was received with cheers mingled with some hisses. The speaker maintained that the New York delegation was the best ever sent to the convention. He said Bryan was one of the plutocrats whose name should be linked with Bryan, Ryan and Belmont. Any man who had been writing for pay at the Chicago Republican convention he said should be expelled from this convention. Bryan was opposed to any candidate except Bryan, he said. Stanchfield closed by announcing his vote for Wilson. When he started to review the history of New York politics the delegates showed impatience.

"Is there any limit on his time," demanded a deleg. re. "New York has a right to be heard in this convention," returned Stanchfield, "the integrity of every delegate from New York has been impugned and insulted."

He analyzed the personnel of the New York delegation, saying it included jurists, lawyers and business men of known standing. "It is by common consent the most representative delegation that ever came to a national convention from New York," he said. "If these puppets of wax that Mr. Bryan refers to, we say to that money-grabbing, office-seeking, publicity-hunting marplot of Nebraska."

Stanchfield could not conclude this sentence. It was drowned in a burst of cheers. Bryan's silence smiled occasionally.

House Praises Champ Clark

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., July 1.—In answer to attacks on Speaker Clark in the Baltimore convention the House today adopted a resolution announcing its entire faith in its presiding officer. It was passed unanimously, both Republicans and Democrats applauding.

York delegation, saying it included jurists, lawyers and business men of known standing. "It is by common consent the most representative delegation that ever came to a national convention from New York," he said.

"If these puppets of wax that Mr. Bryan refers to, we say to that money-grabbing, office-seeking, publicity-hunting marplot of Nebraska."

Stanchfield could not conclude this sentence. It was drowned in a burst of cheers. Bryan's silence smiled occasionally. "The vote of New York is vital to success," continued Stanchfield, "and no man can go forth from this convention stigmatized and branded with the mark of Bryanism and come within half a million votes of success."

"When Mr. Bryan makes the statement that these delegates from New York are under the influence of Morgan and Ryan and Belmont, the plutocrats of this convention, he admits one name. Outside of the three named, the richest and most powerful plutocracy on the floor is the gentleman from Nebraska himself."

"If the New York delegation is to be prevented from participating, any man who for pay has been writing from the floor of the Republican convention in favor of Mr. Bryan's partner and allied with Roosevelt ought also be excluded."

"Col. Bryan never intended to support the candidature of this convention unless that candidate was Mr. Bryan himself. We have heard for months he was combating Underwood here and Wilson there and Clark here and Harmon there, working all the time for his own selfish interests to produce a deadlock here."

Illinois which had been passed, cast 38 votes for Clark. The Illinois delegation fell into their seats while the New York poll was in progress. Their caucus resulted in a determination to stand by Clark for whom they had cast 58 votes since the beginning of the balloting.

A resolution was introduced by John D. Knux of Alabama deploring the bitterness of the convention and calling for a united front in order to facilitate proceedings. It was referred to the resolutions committee without reading.

"NOBODY KNOWS" SEEMS TO BE BALTIMORE SENTIMENT.

By Associated Press.

Baltimore, July 1.—The convention this morning was again the center of gravitation from an hourly hour. Thousands began to besiege the entrance by 9 o'clock and by 10 o'clock the galleries were half filled and a sprinkling of delegates had taken their places on the floor. A cool breeze through the high transoms kept the banners fluttering and promised relief from the exhausting heat of last week's session.

Interest was everywhere manifested in the struggle about to be renewed. Speculation was abundant as to whether the deadlock would be broken and the possibility of further sensational coups. It was the belief that nothing had been accomplished to end the deadlock and that the lines were drawn quite as tight or even tighter than before, although all recognized that the convention has been replete with so many sudden and sensational changes that a break or a new coup might come at any time.

Among the early arrivals there was a disposition to consider Mr. Bryan's move against New York, as the adroit adoption of the tactics of the Whitney-Dickinson element in aligning the Democratic National convention against Chief Croker and the New York support of David B. Hill. At that time Tanmany had its orator in the person of Bourke Cochran, who held the convention throughout the night until at daylight the various client splits among the instructed delegations led to a breaking of the deadlock and the nomination of Cleveland.

Delegates to the convention rose to a delegate hope early this morning that the first three or four ballots at today's sessions would result in sufficient splits among the instructed delegations to lead to a breaking of the deadlock and the nomination of a presidential ticket. Mr. Bryan's opinion, that he could see no reason why the convention should not nominate today, was not shared by the party leaders who frankly admitted that they could not see the way to untangle the knots that bound the convention.

Vice Chairman Hall, member of the National committee from Nebraska, said: "I believe we will be here a week. I certainly don't look for a nomination for two or three days."

There were no overnight changes in the situation as far as could be learned and there was not the faintest indication that the managers of any of the candidates would give ground and agree to a compromise. To leaders of the Clark, Wilson and Underwood movement there was the fear of the psychological moment when the delegates worn and wearied with the struggle might cast leadership aside and choose a candidate whose name was opportunistically sprung on the convention. This often has been the history of deadlocked conventions. As the situation presented itself early today neither Clark nor Wilson appeared to have enough votes to win, as one or the other by signing with the Underwood, Marshall and Harmon forces could sustain expected losses and retain control of one third. Chairman Mack could throw no light on the situation.

Bitter denunciation and acrimonious discussion were frequently heard today in corridors of hotel where delegates gathered. The statements of Clark and Bryan were eagerly read. Many political friendships approached the parting of the ways and the feeling that one candidate for the nomination had as good a chance as another made it extremely difficult for leaders to hold the antagonistic elements together in simple friendly rivalry.

ONE OF THEM REPORTED TO HAVE CAUSED HEAVY FERAL LOSS.

BATTLE NOT YET FOUGHT

Explosion is Heard, Followed by Cries of Distress—Both Sides Ready For Fight.

By Associated Press.
Bachimba, July 1.—A gigantic explosion just north of Uneulo station in the federal camp a few miles away was heard early today accompanied by human cries of distress that lasted nearly half an hour. It is believed that a federal troop train moving northward struck a mine placed in that vicinity several days ago by rebels; that the train was completely wrecked and many lives lost. The mine contained 22 cases of dynamite. Up to 11 o'clock today the government forces had not attacked.

In three columns the government troops advanced north from Consuelo eight miles south of here. During the day the two armies were expected to engage in the first big battle since the rebels were defeated at Bellano nearly four weeks ago. It is estimated 10,000 men will be engaged on both sides. To the west 1000 federal cavalry accompanied by light mountain artillery were being moved. It appeared quite likely that the federal advance would be stopped at Delfrente.

MANY REBEL MINES ARE DISCOVERED NEAR BACHIMBA

HIATUS AVERTED TODAY IN GOVERNMENT AFFAIRS

Resolution is Adopted Extending Present Appropriations Until Bill Can Be Passed.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., July 1.—Both the House and Senate today agreed to a resolution extending current appropriations through July this preventing the stopping of the government machinery by midnight, which was threatened. The resolution now goes to the president who undoubtedly will sign it. The situation is caused by the failure of Congress to pass some of the big appropriation bills.

1500 NAVY YARD EMPLOYEES THROWN OUT OF WORK.

By Associated Press.
Boston, July 1.—Congress's failure to provide for payment of wages for navy yard employees resulted today in throwing out of employment nearly 1500 of the 2000 men employed at Charleston navy yard, as had been expected. A telegram was received from the Secretary of the Navy instructing the commandant to continue work as usual.

GUSHER AT BURKBURNETT COMES IN THIS MORNING

New Oil Field Spring Into Existence Only Thirteen Miles From This City—Flow Goes High.

The long expected and anxiously awaited has happened. The Burkburnett oil well came in a gusher this morning and the whole country is wild with excitement. The flow started at about 4:30 o'clock. The well made three flows before the night watchman could get the crew out from Burkburnett to shut it off. The first flow went to the top of the derrick and the third went a hundred and fifty feet into the air scattering oil over a radius of three hundred yards.

Estimates of the production vary all the way from 100 to 1500 barrels. Officials of the Corsicana Petroleum Co., say the well is a good one but will make no estimate as to the probable production. Tanks to hold the oil have been ordered and are on their way to the well. As soon as they are put up an actual test will be made. Until then the production will be a matter of conjecture.

The packer that was put in last week did not hold out the water. Saturday the well got installing a new packer was started. This work was completed at noon Sunday and the well started at once. The balling was continued until five o'clock Sunday evening, and water and oil bailed out until nothing but oil came from the hole. Burkburnett parties who were at the well estimated that the oil was being taken out at the rate of 1400 barrels per day. Believing that they would not be able to bail down the oil Sunday during daylight the crew quit at five o'clock Sunday evening and went in to Burkburnett, leaving a watchman at the well. This morning the first flow came on without warning. The watchman dripping with oil rode to Burkburnett at a gallop to notify the crew. Before they could get to the well it made two other flows. The flow that came from the well is said to be almost entirely oil with little mud or water. Oil men say it is of a high grade.

ILLINOIS MAY JOIN NEW PARTY

POLITICIANS OF THAT STATE LIKELY TO CAST LOT WITH ROOSEVELT.

BELIEVE TAFT CANNOT WIN

Robert McCormick Who At First Would Not Follow Roosevelt, Now At Oyster Bay.

By Associated Press.
Oyster Bay, July 1.—Robert R. McCormick of Chicago, who was leader of the Illinois delegation for Colonel Roosevelt at the Republican convention but who was one of the first to say that he would not follow the former president in the formation of a new party, came to Oyster Bay today with a statement that Governor Dengen who cast his lot with President Taft, could not carry his state on the Taft ticket and that he, McCormick, had come here to open negotiations with the colonel.

McCormick did not make this statement in so many words but he intimated that he had come to Oyster Bay as an emissary from members of the Republican organization.

"The progressive movements had developed more strength than I had thought at first," said Mr. McCormick. "I have come to the conclusion that Taft cannot carry Illinois."

THIS CONVENTION MAY BE RECORD BREAKER.

Baltimore, July 1.—With the thirty-first ballot showing the convention far from a nomination it seemed likely this afternoon that the Democratic convention would break all records for the number of ballots cast in a convention. The highest number of ballots ever cast in any National convention was in the Republican convention of 1880 when Garfield was nominated on the thirty-sixth ballot. The previous record for the Democrats was when Seymour was nominated in 1858 on the twenty-second ballot.

BRYAN'S REPLY TO CLARK'S STATEMENT ATTACKING HIM.

By Associated Press.
Baltimore, July 1.—William Jennings Bryan has replied to the statement of Speaker Champ Clark demanding that the Nebraskan prove or retract the general charge made in the convention that the Clark forces had allied themselves with the so-called "privileged classes." In his statement Mr. Bryan said:

"I have received notice by publication only. The only criticism I have against Mr. Clark is not that he has acted wrongly, but that he has failed to act. I may overestimate the importance of the Presidential office, but I have felt that an aspirant for that office ought to manage his own campaign and not allow people to do things for him without his direct and specific authority."

"The papers announced that Mr. Clark was neutral between Mr. Parker and myself in the temporary chairmanship fight and that he informed his supporters to vote as they pleased. If that contest were purely a question between Judge Parker and myself as individuals, his refusal to take part would not be material, although he never sent out a piece of literature on his own behalf in his behalf that did not represent him as my special champion for sixteen years. If he distributed any literature in which he associated his name with mine, I would have no objection."

Texan's Oratorical Triumph at Baltimore Convention

The Times has received from R. E. Huff a copy of the Baltimore Sun of June 26, containing a report of the speech of Cone Johnson of Texas against Parker in the temporary chairmanship contest. The Sun paid a marked tribute to the Texan's ability as an orator, likening his speech to Bryan's "Cross of Gold" speech in 1896. The extract from the Sun follows:

"Storm and strife produce masterful men, and nowhere more conspicuously than in National conventions. Garfield and Bryan sprang to greatness, each by a single speech. Ingersoll and Bourke Cockran inscribed their names deeply upon the tablets of oratorical fame with speeches delivered in the heat of battle—the former with his 'Phumed Knight' speech for Blaine, and the latter when he spoke for New York against Grover Cleveland in 1892, capturing a wild and antagonistic audience in the early morning hours and holding them spell bound."

Yesterday's Democratic National convention at the period of wildest disorder, found its master in Cone Johnson of Texas. He was the unquestioned oratorical hero of the day, eclipsing even Bryan in his dominance over the audience.

After Theodore A. Bell announced that he would not support Bryan, the man who gave him national prominence four years ago, the crowd, already worked to great excitement by the fierce fight waged by the Nebraska, became uncontrollable. They hooted Bell, jeered him and yelled "Hearst" derisively. But a moment at a time was he allowed to speak and finally, with an appearance of utter exhaustion, he closed.

Then John J. Fitzgerald, the New York Congressman who led the Democrats to the rescue of Cannon two years ago, took the stand for Parker. Fitzgerald never made that speech. Once he began and the uproar, with cries of "Tammany!" "Cannon rule!" "Traitor!" arising high above it, became deafening. He appealed to Chairman Mack and Chairman Mack was helpless. Again and again Fitzgerald tried to make himself heard, but in vain. Then he surrendered.

A moment after Cone Johnson took the platform, while the disorder was at its height, and a moment after that quietness reigned. Tall, lean, rather classic of features and with a voice like a bell, his first words won the crowd and his next compelled respect.

"The 40 delegates from the State of Texas in this convention represent 20 Democratic Senators and Representatives at Washington and represent 20 votes in the Electoral College for the nominee of this convention," he began. And continued: "Texas asks nothing except that her unshaken loyalty to that party shall entitle her to that respectful hearing which every Democrat will readily yield to her matchless record."

"The progress of human government, like the course of nature, does not run in a steady stream, but in waves. The blood does not course through veins in a constant flow, but by heart beats. The tides yonder rise and fall—night comes after the day and men sleep to wake again."

"When he whose picture hangs over there (Jefferson) was elected President it was a new blow struck for freedom of thought, speech and religion. The rugged figure of Andrew Jackson stood for the majesty of the law and the supremacy of the Constitution. The gaunt form and pathetic face of Abraham Lincoln figured the downfall of human slavery and the perpetuation of the American Union."

"The oppression of Republican tariffs called to leadership our rugged patriot, Cleveland. The high tide of trusts, strangling the freedom of trade, and the riot of ill gotten wealth, work a voice from Nebraska's plains, and Bryan has led a revolution in thought, lasting as the republic itself."

"Fellow Democrats, the tide is coming in again. It is the high tide of Democracy. It was heard in the elections of 1910, which resulted in giving us the House in Congress and which would have redeemed the Senate. It is the cry to be restored to Democratic equality—the cry of the toiling millions not to be robbed of that which their hands produce. The cry against the theft of Republican tariffs; the cry against the shameless purchase of the seats of power for privilege; the cry of rage that the people's government is wrested from them to become the instrument of their oppression."

"The Democracy cannot linger on the shore. Let us boldly put our ship to sea and that of the Republicans will be lost in the mingled screams of the waltering tempest and plunging waves of the nation's rebuke."

"Why should we stop to quarrel over the question who began the clash which is now precipitated? I care not who began it. Whether by Mr. Bryan interfering when he should have remained silent or by the committee in forcing upon the convention the name of Judge Parker, who, in the eyes of the country is a conspicuous reactionary. This is one thing we know and that is enough: The fight is on and it is a contest between Bryan on one side and Wall street on the other."

Johnson's power over the crowd grew as his effort developed. The voice rang clear, the tall, slender frame swayed dramatically as the periods rounded out, the face lighted up with intense conviction. When he reached his peroration and hurled at the audience the alignment of battle as he saw it, they rose to their feet in roaring, spontaneous cheers.

Johnson has been a big man in Texas for years, and in the last four has been in the front of the anti-Basley movement there. In 1908, when the Standard Oil connections were first charged against Basley, Cone Johnson was picked to make the fight against him for delegate at large to the Denver convention. Basley won by a small majority, but he had declined an invitation to a joint debate with Johnson.

Cone Johnson was born in Georgia in 1860. He was educated at Emory College, Oxford, Ga., and at Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. In 1880 he moved to Texas and settled in Tyler, where he has since practiced law. He went to the Legislature in 1887 and served until 1891. Mr. Johnson married a Texas woman 20 years ago and she sat with the delegation from that State yesterday while her husband made his speech.

PREPARING FOR FOURTH; ARRANGE FOR BARBECUE

Twenty Head of Beef to Furnish Dinner for Crowd—Committee is Raising Funds.

Plans and work connected with the holding of a monster barbecue at Lake Wichita on the Fourth of July are progressing rapidly, and arrangements have already been completed for the barbecuing of twenty beefs, and twenty-five sheep. J. B. Rigby, who on account of many years experience is a past master of the art of preparing barbecue, will have charge of this feature of the celebration, and he has promised that the meat will be savory, and palatable, and all that could be desired.

A committee is still working to raise funds and a sum of more than four hundred dollars has already been secured. Vic Stampfli has received a contract to furnish two thousand loaves of bread, which he says will be ready in plenty of time for the affair. Excursions will be operated on all railroads entering the city, and it has been estimated by J. B. Marlow and D. M. Perkins, who are taking a prominent part in the arrangements, that in the neighborhood of ten thousand people will be at Lake Wichita on the Fourth of July.

PRESBYTERIANS TO PUT UP $25,000 STRUCTURE

Decision is Reached at Meeting of Congregation Sunday—Site Not Determined.

At a meeting Sunday morning the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church voted to build a new church at a cost of $25,000 exclusive of the site. The vote was taken upon the motion of Frank Kell and was almost unanimous. The selection of a site was left open. In addition to the site of the present church building another site at the corner of Tenth and Broad streets is held by trustees for this purpose but it is not yet determined whether either of these sites will be chosen.

The church has been planning for some time to erect a new building and the congregational meeting yesterday was for the purpose of determining how much should be spent.

NEARLY HALF AN INCH FALLS HERE, WITH VIVID ELECTRICAL DISPLAY.

66 INCHES LAST MONTH

Only light showers fell at points south along the Wichita Valley and north along the Denver excepting at Peacock and Spur on the Stamford & Northwestern, where heavy showers are reported. Good showers are reported from Byers and Petrolia.

The display of lightning that preceded and accompanied the precipitation was of extraordinary vividness and the sound of thunder rolled and crashed through the greater part of the night.

By Associated Press. Altona, Prussian, July 1.—Beeno Koenig, the German aviator died today from injuries which he sustained yesterday when he made a violent landing in a clump of bushes. ### ARDMORE TEAM GETS ANOTHER

PITCHER'S BATTLE GOES TO VISITORS—UMPIRE CAUSES DISSATISFACTION.

LOCALS RALLY IN NINTH

Score One Run But Are Unable to Tie Score—Caldwell and Mullins Pitch Great Ball.

In a game featured by Class A pitching and Class G umpiring, Ardmore took another from the locals yesterday afternoon, 2 to 1. It was a pitchers' battle in which Caldwell's wicked outside shoots seemed slightly more effective than Lefty Mullins' benders. There was a quantity of good fielding on both sides.

Mulkey, one of the oldest umpires in the business officiated and his work was not pleasing to the crowd. He had a number of close decisions to make and could have, by getting about twenty-five feet nearer to the plays, seen better just what was done. Both sides suffered by his decisions, but it seemed to the fans that the Drillers fared worse than the visitors. Undoubtedly there was a decision at first base in the ninth, when the locals were threatening to tie the score, that showed miserably judgment and if called other wise might have successfully turned the tide.

But a ball game ends when the third man is out in the ninth and not even an umpire can make a batter deliver a pinch hit when there is a man on third base. Twice the Drillers had a man as far as third, with only one down and failed to score. Caldwell had a tremendous break on his outside ball and the right-handers seemed unable to connect at all.

The Drillers threatened to tie the score in the ninth and did get one man across, but that was all.

Ardmore scored in the first inning when Sullivan hit over Kizlar for three bases and scored on Gray's sacrifice fly to left field. Another was made after two were out in the sixth. Woodward was hit by the pitcher, stole second and scored on Pelky's single.

Wichita Falls had three good chances to score. In the fifth inning with one out, Phillips singled and Beckham walked. Baumberger rolled a short one that McAvoy couldn't handle in time, and was safe. Three men on bases and only one out, but Caldwell straightened up and fanned both Mullins and McAvoy. There was another good chance in the sixth. After White had fanned, Brown walked and was safe at third by a hair's breadth on Guthrie's single. Kizlar hit a liner to Pelky which that gentleman pickled and threw to second to catch Guthrie, who had stolen that base. His umpire said the ball got there first but it was not unanimous. Anyhow, the side was out.

The third and last chance came in the ninth. Brown went out, Caldwell to Pelky, Guthrie singled dandy and Kizlar hit to left field. Guthrie sprinted for third and the umpire gave him the benefit of the doubt on a very close decision. This was one of the few close plays where the umpire went close enough to the base to see what was happening. Kizlar took second on the throw. Phillips rolled a warm one to McAvoy and Guthrie scored. McAvoy threw to first and the umpire called Phillips out. It lacked considerable of being unanimous. Morris went up to bat for Beckham and was thrown out on a short infield roller.

Caldwell held Wichita Falls hitless for the first four innings and fanned eleven batters, which was just one more than Mullins whiffed.

Ardmore plays again this afternoon then both teams go to Ardmore for a series. Yesterday's score:

Fire Marshal Appeals for Safe and Sane July 4th

Austin, Texas, July 1.—S. W. Inglish, State Fire Marshal and a member of the State Insurance Board, issues a proclamation calling upon the people of Texas to observe the Fourth of July in a safe and sane manner, thereby conserving life and property. His proclamation is as follows:

During the years 1905 to 1911 both inclusive, there were 29,129 people killed or wounded in the United States of America celebrating the Fourth of July as shown by the following table:

Year	Dead	Wounded	Total
1905	466	3,983	4,449
1904	183	3,986	4,169
1905	182	4,994	5,176
1906	158	5,308	5,466
1907	164	4,249	4,413
1908	163	5,460	5,623
1909	215	5,092	5,307
1910	131	7,792	7,923
1911	67	3,546	3,613
Total	1,719	37,410	39,129

Aside from this enormous loss of life and limb, hundreds of thousands of dollars in property values are wiped out of existence each year through the careless handling and promiscuous scattering of fireworks.

While the Fourth of July record in Texas, from a standpoint of accidents, death and fire, may not be nearly so heavy as those of the day in other States, the foregoing figures should appeal to the thoughtful citizenship of the State that sane and wholesome celebrations of the glorious Fourth alone can forestall the possibility of injury to both person and property.

This department would urge the Mayors and other public officials of cities and towns in the State to issue proclamations warning the public of dangers incident to the use of fireworks and where there are ordinances prohibiting or regulating the use thereof to see to it that such ordinances are rigorously enforced. As a further precaution against fire, trash, waste paper, old boxes and barrels and all other useless hazards should be carted away and destroyed.

The candidates have only twenty-seven more days in which to worry. Another nice rain last night. This will retard threshing of grain for a day or two, but means much towards making cotton, corn and feed crops, and if present prospects hold up 1912 is going to prove the best all-round crop year for Wichita county in her history.

Morris Sheppard has finally disposed of the $250 given him by Col. Wolters for that Athens debate. Half of it went to a refuge home at Houston, most of whose inmates have found their way there by the whiskey route, and the other half went to a widow woman in Williamson county whose husband was killed in a drunken brawl. The money could not have been better placed, but it will be a cold day before Col. Wolters will make another such offer. That looks just a little like placing a club in an opponent's hand.

Cone Johnson's speech in the Baltimore convention, delivered on the first day, was a gem, and according to reports of it printed by the Baltimore papers, easily out-classed any for oratory that had been delivered up to that hour—not even excepting Mr. Bryan. All Texas is proud of Cone Johnson, and would have been delighted to honor him by sending him to the United States, Senate, but unfortunately his health broke down, and he was forced to withdraw.

The Flynn-Johnson prize fight is scheduled to take place at Las Vegas, N. M., July 4th. Of course, all know that Jack Johnson is a negro and Flynn a white man. As to just what hour the negro and white man will go to glugging and hugging and pounding, and punching each other is not given out. It is bad enough for two negroes or two white men to enter into a contest of that nature, but when any white man lowers himself to the level of a negro, he deserves little or no sympathy in the event he comes out second best.

At considerable extra expense the Times kept in close telegraphic touch with the proceedings of the Republican convention, and is doing the same with the Democratic convention. In this way those who were anxious for the news and did not want to wait until the paper was issued have been furnished the information cheerfully. Most newspapers do not pursue such a policy, but hold back the news until the paper is issued in the hope of selling a sufficient number of extra papers to pay for the extra telegraph tolls. But with the Times it is different. It is here to serve the public, and is sparing no expense within the bounds of reason to fulfill its mission.

As the scramble for honors continues, as between the candidates for governor, and with the abolition of the "bat" in the penitentiaries as the claim, there is coming to light the fact that neither of the gentlemen is the originator of the sentiment which resulted in amelioration of the conditions of the Texas convicts. The hammering of a newspaper man was the direct impelling power which bore fruitage, and going back beyond those who claim to know say that a woman, known throughout the prison districts and to those who have been in touch with prison affairs, in reality was the creator of the sentiment now sought to be appropriated by gubernatorial candidates. The woman's name is Sloan, "Mother Sloan," and her home is at Livingston, Texas—Temple Telegram.

There is no longer any doubt but that the Burk Burnett oil well brought in a few days ago is going to be a good producer. But as to how much, no one is yet in a position to give a correct estimate. This much is known; the well was baled yesterday, and this morning at 5 o'clock the well broke loose, throwing a stream of oil to the top of the derrick, and it continued to flow and scatter oil over the ground until the watchman could go to town and get workmen who undertook the business to shut it off. As in other instances, the estimates of the average daily production of this well vary, the lowest being 50 barrels daily, and the highest as much as 1400 barrels. It is impossible for the Times to give out more authentic information, when those in a position to give the information show an unwillingness to talk. This much is certain, however. The well is acting just like some of the best producers acted when first brought in in the Electra and Petrolia fields.

This well is located 3 1/2 miles southwest of Burk Burnett and 13 miles from Wichita Falls.

EDITORIAL COMMENT. A CHRISTIAN STATESMAN.

Houston Chronicle. Bryan has attracted a great deal of attention from his articles writing up the Chicago convention. He is an able descriptive writer, and the reporting of the Republican convention by the statesman who three times was the nominee of the opposing political party for the presidency is interesting and unique. At Baltimore, too, he is an impressive figure, towering like Saul above his brethren.

There comes to hand, however, from the Louisville Herald an account of Bryan as a preacher, which gives us the story of how he spent one Sunday, as he has many times spent Sunday, in religious work: "His work on Sunday was heavier than the average preacher's share. In the early morning he addressed a Sunday school; he followed this with a sermon; in the afternoon at the armory he paid a splendid tribute to the church; at the Masonic Theatre he reiterated the claims of religion upon manhood, and he finished the day by talking to the crowd of down-and-outs assembled in the Hope Rescue Mission. And this last effort was the full story of the day's activities. In the crowded program it got scant justice at the hands of the reporters. When we read the brief account given it in the news columns we could not help regretting that for the night we had not been the reporter assigned to this unique service. The chance to write that story, if the city editor had given us swing-and-space, would have been worth having. Bryan, fan in hand, talking in simple earnestness of Christ to that motley throng gathered from the streets, is a picture that appeals to our imagination. It appealed to their hearts, for the reporter tells us men wept at they heard again the old, familiar gospel story from the lips of the great orator and statesman. Never in his career has Bryan done a bigger thing than that. As he grows older, and looks back upon the events of a life crowded with interest and marked with honor, we venture to say that he will recall few nights with greater satisfaction than that on which he talked as man to man about the Man of Galilee in Brother

Spruce's mission hall. For some of us, who are still simple enough in spirit to believe in the things we were taught as children, it is a source of strength to know that men or big minds and wide experience, men who have tested life in many of its phases, share our faith and return with assurance of being satisfied to the old, old story that, through centuries of telling, retains its power to touch and quicken the soul. No man, whatever his religious belief or lack of belief, who reads this can fail to be struck with the unselfishness of this great statesman in devoting his splendid energy through the day of rest to helping others, who need help, with words of comfort and of cheer.

Bryan is a statesman who occupies a high place in the hearts of his countrymen of every political faith. His goodness and greatness radiate beyond party lines. As attested in his various campaigns with fierce bitterness, he has never stooped to low quarreling or recriminatory vituperation, but has always discussed principles and facts without descending to personalities, never hesitating, however, to accuse by name, with the truth expressed in dignified language, those guilty of betraying the party.

The service Bryan has rendered the country by his devotion to principle, by his courage and constancy, by being a living example that purity in politics is not an iridescent dream, by his love of the common people, endears him to all patriotic Americans. And great is the sympathy and admiration that Christians feel toward him for his tireless services to Christianity in churches and chapels, in public halls of every sort, in the best quarters and in the slums.

with Mr. Parker's I shall be glad to withdraw this statement upon inspection of the literature.

"But the contest between Judge Parker and myself was not a personal contest and everybody but Mr. Clark knew this. It was between progressive Democracy on one side and reactionaries on the other, and I contend in such a contest it was Mr. Clark's duty to take one side or the other, if there was any difference in the two kinds of Democracy. If he insists that there is no difference, he has no right to complain of criticism at the hands of those who believe that there is a vital difference.

"But the activity of Mr. Clark's managers is as objectionable as his own inactivity. They have been in constant operations with the reactionaries. If Mr. Clark did not authorize them to act, he has so far as I knew failed to rebuke them for acting. I take it for granted that he does not object to the action of his managers in soliciting, or, at least, in accepting without protest, the support of the ninety wax figures which Mr. Murphy, under the unit rule, uses to carry out the will of the predatory interests.

"The public is not much interested in Mr. Clark's opinion of me; he will have a long time in which to express his opinion after the convention, whether he is nominated or not; but if I am any judge of the news value of items, the people would like to know immediately whether he believes that the New York delegation which is completely under the domination of Mr. Murphy and which contains among its numbers representatives, attorneys or agents of nearly every predatory interest that is oppressing the people, whether he considers this delegation, thus controlled by one man who is controlled by the interests, stands in the same position as delegations who represent the masses and whether he has any objection to a nomination made possible only by the support of the New York delegation.

"I have tried to advise Mr. Clark in his own interest, as I believe, as well as in the interest of his party, and it is a source of great disappointment to me that he should have listened to personal enemies of mine more than he has to me. In using the word 'disappointment,' I do not use it in a personal sense, for I have no desire to impose my advice upon him; but I feel that it is not presumptuous for me to assume that I am better acquainted with the sentiment of the people than those who have had his ear, and I am that sure that I speak for a larger number. I am sure, too, that I am as disinterested as those upon whose counsel he relies, for I have no interest in the principles and policies which can be advanced through the election of a Democratic President. I believe that Mr. Clark is right at heart, but during the last few days, he has been misled and has failed to take advantage of the opportunities presented to throw himself in the balance when questions of great importance were at issue."

CLAY COUNTY COMMISSIONERS FIX MINERAL RIGHTS TAX. (Henrietta Independent) The commissioners court last week sitting as a board of equalization, instructed the tax assessor to put the mineral rights of the Lone Star Gas Company on the unrendered roll at amounts aggregating approximately $236,000. This company has at different times made purchases of the mineral rights of various tracts of land for which it has paid the approximate sum named above, but has refused to render these rights for taxation, and this is the reason the court ordered them put on the unrendered roll.

Purchased mineral rights are distinguished from leases in that for a certain stipulated sum the mineral rights are conveyed absolutely and there is no sharing of the minerals taken from the lands and no payment of rental upon failure to pay which, the right reverts to the owner of the land.

The court has under advisement the taxation of leases also but has as yet taken no action on the matter. The law as to the taxation of this character of property has never been passed on by the courts in this state, but it has been held in other states that such leases are taxable.

Judge Allen informed the Independent that he thought the court would make a test of the matter, and he believed the courts of Texas would sustain their action.

DAILY DIET AND HEALTH HINTS By DR. T. J. ALLEN Food Specialist. EHRlich's CANCER EXPERIMENTS. Professor Ehrlich, who is generally recognized as the foremost medical investigator of the day, reports the results of some recent investigations into the cause and cure of cancer, which "showed that the tumor growth in mice could to a great extent be controlled by certain diets. It was also found that if mice that already had a tumor were fed with these minimum quantities (of certain foods) the tumor would cease growing, and in those mice that were living on rice, in some cases degenerate. But, of course, the mouse would die in a few weeks from want of properly balanced nourishment." This confirms (as far as it goes) the nutritional theory of the cause and cure of cancer first announced in this country through these hints more than a year ago. Like many other medical investigators, Ehrlich had a bad school record, failing many times, and although his bio-chemical work is brilliant, he had no regular training in chemistry, indicating that, as in the case of Pasteur, Metchnikoff and other great medical discoverers, who were not physicians, specialization is necessary for great accomplishment in any scientific work.

S SACKLAW TORNADO CLAIMS FIFTY VICTIMS

Hundreds of Searchers at Work in Debris—Thirty-six Bodies Recovered.
By Associated Press. Regina, Saskatchewan, July 1.—Thirty-six bodies had been recovered at 8 o'clock this morning from the ruins of last night's tornado. Hundreds of searchers have been working in the debris since daylight. The death list probably will not exceed fifty. The military has been recalled from an encampment and is in charge of the city.

The storm swept northward, mowing a path six blocks wide through the fashionable district. Along Victoria street, from sixteenth to eleventh streets, 300 houses were destroyed and many people killed. Automobiles filled with people were hurled high in the air and dropped blocks away.

At eleventh street, in the business district, warehouses, banking institutions and retail stores were sent into heaps of ruins, while the air was filled with the wreckage. Passing the business district the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks were reached. Six big grain elevators were toppled over like ten pins, the timbers being piled in heaps.

Most of the fire department stations escaped the storm and water pressure was not impaired so fires were confined to the ruins where they started. The storm continued northwest from Regina through Central Saskatchewan, doing great damage, but no loss of life is reported outside of Regina.

The tornado came from the south and first struck the new Parliamentary Building just completed at a cost of $2,000,000. The building is of steel and concrete and, while it still stands is badly shaken.

MEXICAN LAND GRANT UPHOLD BY HIGHER COURT.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, July 1.—Another case involving the old Mexican land grant which have been a source of litigation in Southwest Texas for 18 years was disposed of by the court of civil appeals in the case of Union Palacios et al. In the case the state sued to recover 1770 acres in Duval county, which Palacios and the others claimed was granted their ancestors by the Mexican Government in 1837. The lower court decided against the state and the appellate court affirmed it. Palacios and associates will keep the land. The court adjourned for the term.

No trace of the thief has been found. Dr. Swartz announces he will give a reward of five dollars for the arrest and conviction of the thief. A fan is also reported to have been stolen from Lynch & Foshee's drug store last week.

Very popular for motor wear is the veiling of shadow chiffon. This veiling comes in biscuit, cerise, golden brown, gray, a pretty shade of lavender and green. It has a faint thread of black run through the chiffon, which makes the veiling peculiarly becoming.

Texas Grain Crop Much Better Than Anticipated

A general review of crop conditions in Texas, particularly as affecting grain and forage crops, has been compiled by Secretary G. J. Gibbs of the Texas Grain Dealers' Association. It is based on a large number of responses to a request for information that was sent out from the secretary's office, and to some extent on the personal observations and investigations of the secretary. The report follows:

My former estimate of the Texas wheat crop, 12,000,000 bushels for the present season, will be fully realized. I believe that this will be the minimum production of wheat.

In nearly all the black land counties the wheat is turning out twenty bushels or more per acre, in some sections reaching twenty-five to thirty bushels, and this increased yield per acre may run the total crop of the State to a little over my estimate.

But it must be remembered that there is quite a lot of light weight wheat in the State this year, some testing as low as fifty-two to fifty-three pounds per measured bushel. This will have the effect of offsetting to some extent the apparent increase due to a heavy acreage yield. The wheat is generally pronounced by millers to be of excellent quality for milling purposes, being especially rich in gluten.

In the western part of the State the wheat is not so good and will not average in yield more than ten to twelve bushels per acre.

The crop of oats raised in Texas this year will be a record breaker, and I am now confident that the total will reach at least 50,000,000 bushels. In the black land counties the yield is good, rarely falling under forty-five bushels, and in many counties running from sixty to eighty bushels. In the western part of the State the yield will be lighter, ranging from twenty to thirty bushels per acre.

While the oats are generally of good quality, there will be quite a large per cent of light weight, testing from twenty to twenty-four pounds and in some sections the test weight may run a little lighter. In central and southern parts of the State the quality seems to be better than in North and West Texas. The heaviest oats are found in the territory around Temple and Waco.

I have seen some new oats shipped here, and while most have been graded No. 3, some have been graded No. 4, due to light weight and damp condition. Oats that are tough and damp will not grade higher than No. 4. It will be well for our members to bear in mind that both No. 2 and No. 3 oats must be dry in order to pass public inspection.

The recent rains have saved the corn crop, at least for the time being. If we have further rains by July 6-I think the State will make over half of a normal corn crop. We have a present condition per acre that indicates more than a half crop, but it must be borne in mind that we obtained a poor stand in many parts of the State, due to poor seed and unfavorable weather during the planting season. Therefore, I estimate that we have a promise of something near 85 per cent of a normal corn yield, which should give us from 125,000,000 to 150,000,000 bushels total for the State.

MOST HYBRID ENGLISH WORD

The most hybrid word in the English language, according to Prof. A. J. Chamberlain of Clark university, writing in the Popular Science Monthly, is "macadamizing." Prof. Chamberlain points out that this word is derived from five languages: Latin, Gaelic, Hebrew, Greek and English. He resolves it into its factors as follows:

1. ra, a Latin prefix, signifying a repetition or doing over again;
2. mac, a Gaelic word for son, in common use as a prefix for genealogical purposes;
3. Adam, the representative in many European languages of the Hebrew name of the first man, according to the Mosaic account of the creation as given in the book of Genesis;
4. is (or iss), the modern English representative, through the French, of the Greek verbal terminal isin;
5. ing, the English suffix of the participle present, verbal noun, etc.

The root of this word "macadam," illustrates in another way the vitality of our English speech and its ability to draw new words into its vocabulary whenever the need arises. The term "macadam" is really the family name of the man, John Macadam, who in 1819 devised the now common method of paving roads with small broken stones, etc. Celtic and Semitic had already combined to produce Macadam, meaning "son of Adam," which the English language then took up, and further molded to suit its genius. There are many such hybrids, but this is probably the worst.

BUILDING TO BE 750 FT. HIGH

World's Tallest Skyscraper, Going Up in Gotham, to Cost $13,500,000.

New York.—The tallest habitable building in the world is going up on Broadway, between Barclay street and Park row. It will weigh 350,000,000 tons. It rests on sixty-nine pillars of cement, reaching down to solid rock from the street level.

This building, the tower light of which, 750 feet in the air, will be supported by six miles of steel, in 20,000 tons of structural steel.

Forty-five thousand dollars' worth of glass has been ordered for windows and doors and skylights. In the walls and floors are to be more than 20,000 square feet of hollow tiling and terra-cotta. The cement order will run into the tens of thousands of bags.

On the weekly pay roll is a regiment of men from mere lifting and carrying laborers to the iron workers who play around at 700 feet in the air on slender steel beams like orioles on an elm bough. Their wages run from $1.50 a day for the laborers to $4.50 and upward, and the pay roll is $5,000 a day. This has been going on for two years.

The 20,000 square feet of land on which the building stands cost about $4,500,000. It cost $1,000,000 to dig the basement and sub-basements. The cost of construction will be nearly $9,000,000, making the whole pile an investment of approximately $13,500,000. The mere knowledge that such a building was to be erected on the spot caused the tax assessments on the property to be raised from $2,250,000 to $3,200,000.

There will be a floor space of twenty-three acres and 2,000 offices, and it is figured that the daily population of the building will be 10,000 and the transient population about as many more.

CHELSEA'S MYSTERY HOUSE

One of the most eccentric characters in London has just died in the person of Dr. John Samuel Pheon, in his ninetieth year. He was reputed to be very wealthy and the proprietor of what has been known as the "Mystery House" in Chelsea, a big square building, with a front decorated in bizarre fashion. From sidewalk level to sloping roof it is a jumble of twisting columns and quaint, symbolic figures. There are cuddling cupids, ancient goddesses, mermaids, lips and all the rest. The story goes that Dr. Pheon was reconstructing the house for his wife, but when she died he gave up the task. It is nearly thirty years now since the house was occupied and twelve years since it was arranged in its present style. The interior is as curious as its exterior. Many of the rooms are pillared and the ceilings gilded, frescoed and painted in gorgeous style, but all are in a state of disrepair.

The importance of the monodiet has been urged by giving the results of original experiments, by argument based on physiological principles and by reference to historical examples. Those who attach special importance to the references in the Bible to such cases will be interested in the following quotation from a theologian:

Their House of Life.
Their House of Life, as if a wizard's wand

All wealth could win these dwellers had at hand.

And many a year they dwelt in pride and fame,
Nor heeded warning, caught as in a spell,
Dreaming Dame Fortune listed their command,
Behold, the rains descended, the floods came,

SHOT STARTS SNOWSLIDE

Caught in a snowslide that was precipitated by the concussion following the discharge of his rifle, David Davis, thirty-two years old, formerly a Denver man, was carried 300 feet to his death down a mountain side near the quarries of the Colorado Yule Marble company, at Marble, Colo. Davis, who was employed as time-keeper by the marble company, was out shooting. As he was returning to camp soon before dusk, following a trail at the base of one of the Elk mountain peaks, he caught sight of game and took a shot. The concussion started the slide, Davis was in the immediate path of the avalanche of snow and rock. Realizing his predicament, he ran to get beyond the danger zone. His effort was futile. The slide was upon him in less than a minute after it started. He was entombed by the swirling mass and carried down the rocky mountainside to his death.

PROUD OF HIS LONG NAILS

Here is a photograph of a celebrated Chinese priest, resident of Shanghai, showing the length to which the natives of this country will go in order to gain notoriety and draw in the money. In the case of this individual, his holiness and "Good Joss" are apparently gauged by the length of his finger-nails, the longest of which is 2 1/2 inches in length, being as far as can be learned, a record for that country of long nails. When not on show he is so mindful of his treasures that he wears them in guards made of hollow bamboo, and great precautions are taken that they do not get broken.

FINDS RELIEF IN PRISON

Woman Accused of Murder by Gossip Is Happy When Placed in Maine Jail.

Augusta, Maine.—Almost happy in her imprisonment, Mrs. Elsie Hobbs Raymond, under indictment for the mysterious murder of Miss Hattie Hackett at Headfield nearly seven years ago, sits in her cell in the Kennebec County jail here awaiting trial.

Mrs. Raymond entered the jail with the words "Thank God" upon her lips. Not once since then has she shown the slightest outward sign of impatience over her incarceration.

Mrs. Raymond has been annoyed for many years by neighborhood gossip about the murder and as the indictment merely paved the way for a public trial at which she hopes to obtain vindication she says she is content to await the outcome.

The mystery surrounding the murder of Miss Hackett has held the interest of residents of Maine for years. The young woman stepped out of her father's house early in the evening of Aug. 17, 1905.

A few minutes later her father, hearing screams, found her dying a short distance from the house. She had been strangled by a cord tied tightly about her neck.

A number of persons were suspected, but two grand juries which investigated the murder were unable to return an indictment. The case has appeared and reappeared in the court records for seven years.

Don't keep your eyes fixed persistently on the end of her nose while you are talking.

If you hold her hand, don't keep swinging it up and down while talking to her as if you were hammering something.—Life.

FUNERAL PUT UP TO COURT

Woman's Body is Held Following the Finding of a Unions Will by Administrator.

Kansas City, Mo.—Before the body of Mrs. Angelina L. Hoxie can be buried at Kansas City, Kan., a will left by the woman directing that her body should be given to some medical college must be set aside by the Probate court. Mrs. Hoxie made the bequest because she said she believed there would be no one to mourn at her funeral. Since her death many have appeared to protest, and the Ladies' Social union of the First Presbyterian church arranged to hold funeral services.

The public administrator was asked to take steps to set aside the will. It is held that there is some question as to the right of a person to decide what disposition shall be made of the body after death.

If the Price of Coffee Would Double Again All the Better!

The price of coffee has doubled in three or four years. And this, despite production has doubled in that time. The reason for the present high price of coffee was sought and it has been found that the market supply has been artificially restricted. The Brazilian government is in the operation and participates in the profits to the extent of an export duty of three cents a pound. And American bankers are financing the scheme. Diabolical plot? Outrageous conspiracy? Perhaps!

But we did not take our pen in hand to condemn anybody concerned except COFFEE DRINKERS—to condemn them and, also, to congratulate them, both upon the present increased price and the probability that it will go higher.

It isn't exactly inspiring to see American capital finding its way to a foreign country to be used there to the end of exploiting American family pocketbooks.

However, this is not the saddest fact involved, to our way of thinking.

It is most regrettable that the consumption of coffee in this country has increased to a point to warrant manipulation of the supply. We don't like to look upon coffee as becoming a NECESSITY to the American people, and view with alarm the activities of capital suggesting that it is becoming a necessity.

Coffee isn't good for you. Too much of it is positively harmful. If the present price, doubled in four years, would double again, it would be the best thing that ever happened to the excessive coffee drinker.

He wouldn't drink as much of it. Better yet, maybe he wouldn't drink it at all.

Just possibly you have put down as being a bit nervy in this coming in and sitting down beside you before the coffee pot and telling you to keep hands off.

Nevertheless, we mean well. We are talking for your good.

You like coffee, probably, and perhaps you think it is none of our business if you drink it or if you drink all you want of it. Babies want those pink pills that look like candy and cry if we don't let them have them.

The same pink pills, left around by careless mothers have killed many babies.

And many grown people know as little as babies about the care of their bodies.

There are intemperate coffee drinkers the same as there are intemperate drinkers of alcoholic beverages.

One cup of coffee isn't going to prove fatal, nor two cups of coffee. Two cups may upset your entire system, make you uneasy, restless and peevish and unfit you for best results for a day, but it will wear off after while the same as a whisky drunk wears off.

But bring to us a person who drinks two and three cups of coffee regularly for breakfast, or a person who drinks coffee three times a day, and we will show you a person with a bad-acting heart, a sluggish liver, a disordered stomach and a shattered nervous system.

If you don't believe us, ask your doctor.

He will tell you that coffee contains caffeine, which he gives in the smallest kind of doses for a heart stimulant.

He will tell you further that too much caffeine or too much coffee will give you palpitating heart.

Then if you are satisfied to run the risk of having that kind of a heart, keep right on drinking all the coffee you want, and excuse us for interfering.

(Detroit Times, June 12, 1912.)

PAYING FOR A WIFE BEST KITCHEN FLOOR

WHAT A KWAKIUTI INDIAN GAVE GIRL'S BROTHER.

They in Turn Presented Him With Remarkable Lot of Articles to Be Distributed Among His Tribe's People.

A wedding dowry which will undoubtedly amaze the closest students of the marriage ceremony was recently given by one British Columbia Indian to another, the story of it being told here in Washington by Edward Curtis, the most famous living expert on the redman.

"The institution of the marriage portion," said Mr. Curtis in talking to a reporter, "is common enough among Indians, but the dowry takes on freak forms sometimes. I have just heard from a Kwakwaka'wakw friend of mine in British Columbia. He tells me in a long letter about the stuff he gave to his now-brothers-in-law for his recent bride.

"In the first place, he had to pay over to the wife's family 240 pairs of blankets, and he still owes 200 pairs. That seems to have been a mere matter of form, because with his wife came a dowry that sounds like the inventory of a wholesale supply house. He got 100 one-dollar bills, 550 pairs of blankets, 200 pairs of shirts, 100 pairs of pants, 14 sewing machines, 4 Japanese boxes, 500 kettles and pans, 75 shawls, 40 sweaters, 72 towels, 200 bars of soap, 3 small sailboats, worth about $50 apiece, $35 worth of calico and 4 gold bracelets worth $80 apiece.

The brothers-in-law have further promised, and such promises are always kept, to give their sister's husband four copper plates valued in the aggregate at 4,600 blankets, 500 button-covered blankets, 500 kettles and pans, 11 more sailboats, 50 more sewing machines and 25 talking machines, 50 gold bracelets, 50 gold earrings, 700 silver bracelets and many fabulous colored beads, which are still prized by the redmen.

"That is marvelous for a white man to contemplate. The value of the stuff is startling, but one of the brothers is a goldsmith whose work produces him fabulous sums, and the other is a real medicine man whose fees would shame a corporation lawyer.

"However, this aggregation of wealth will do no particular good to my friend. It did not remain in his possession over night, but was distributed among his tribes people in order of their rank—and believe me that those Indians guard their rights of rank. They can give points to continuation presentation.

"As soon as the bride's brothers have fulfilled their obligations and have given over that enormous bill of goods, it will be perfectly proper and right for the bride herself to set her cap for a new husband if she so desires. And the medicine man and the goldsmith will have to come to the front again with another dowry, in order to preserve the fair fame of their name and rank."—Washington Star.

New Idea of Marriage.

That marriage has the effect of humanizing the young man, of making him less fatuous and selfish, has long been known to women folk, but now, according to a recent statement made by a prominent man, by entering into wedlock a man becomes "a better social animal, losing his shyness before women, his cynicism and his want of expansiveness."

All this is helped because we have introduced friendship into marriage—one of the considerable achievements of modern times—and, instead of "domesticating the Recording Angel," which was what marriage formerly meant, we have succeeded in developing an amazing camaraderie between husbands and wives.

This comradeship reveals itself in a hundred details—by the way in which married persons tease each other instead of using acid endearments as such as "my love," their increased tolerance for each other's tastes and their sharing in each other's sports and amusements, their general reasonableness and their mutual loyalty.

Swiftness Experiences.

"Sometimes a man has a hard time getting finally located in the United States senate."

"Yes," replied Senator Borahum. "Sometimes a legislature sends along a man who scarcely gets through the word 'Welcome' on the door mat before some one calls his attention to a sign, 'This Way Out.'"

Saving Time.

"Lady," said Menander Mike, "you don't want to listen to no hard-luck story, do you?"

"Not a bit of it."

"You relieve my mind. If you want to hear somethin' worth while, you'll gimme a chance to show what I kin do as an after-dinner speaker."

Simply Easy.

"Wonder where Mrs. Merrigo gets the money she's making such a splurge with?"

"Haven't you heard? She made a bit with a course of lectures on 'Why Woman Should Lead the Simple Life.'"

The Hair Test.

"We took a stride forward in civilization when we cut off our queues," said the Chinese patriot.

"Perhaps; but only time will tell whether your hair is going to grow out again in such a way as to indicate literary, artistic or musical talents."

There is again a great fancy for that prettiest of summer fabrics, the dainty organza.

SOUTHERN PINE HAS MUCH TO RECOMMEND IT.

Stained and Oiled This Wood Offers Surface That Wears Well and is Kept Clean With Little Labor.

If you must have hardwood, avoid white oak, which splinters and turns gray. Maple has many admirers for its hard whiteness, but requires almost daily scrubbing to maintain that whiteness, and varnish wears off seemingly overnight. Red oak has a rich tone and withstands use without screaming for the daily scrubbing brush.

My own preference, says Maude E. Hymers in Farm and Home, is for southern pine, stained and oiled (never varnished), since the hard wear of a kitchen keeps it constantly scarred, and varnish cannot be renewed in spots without having a patchy look. The only remedy is to remove it and apply a new coat, but varnish remover is both expensive and laborious to apply. Paint is open to similar objections, with the possible exception that it "patches" better.

Possibly the most permanent stain for pine is also one of the most inexpensive, consisting only of permanganate of potash. This can be purchased at any drug store, and needs only to be mixed with water, in the proportion of one-quarter ounce to a quart of water. Have floor thoroughly clean and dry and apply the mixture with a brush, freely and evenly. If a very dark shade is desired, make two applications, but the addition of the oil makes it dark enough for most tastes.

When thoroughly dry, oil with burnt linseed oil, heated, or an emulsion of beeswax and turpentine. The former is quicker to apply, needing simply two soft cloths, one to apply it, the other to wipe away the superfluous oil. The latter, however, gives a higher polish and may be rubbed to a beautiful luster. Either finish will repel grease spots.

In applying the permanganate of potash do not be alarmed if at first your floor takes on an undesirable magenta color; this will subside almost immediately, changing to a dark, rich brown, a genuine Havana stain, utterly impervious to water.

To Stain White Kid Black.

Simple treatment with solution of iron sulphate or copperas will dye leather black. Acetate of iron may also be used with advantage. The leather first should be mordanted with a solution of borax extract diluted with a little alcohol, applied several times till the deepest tint is obtained, also is a stain used for coloring white kid black. It should be applied with a brush, the kid held on a form to keep its shape, and the leather should be rubbed with a soft cloth while drying to soften the fibre. Any of these stains applied thoroughly to give the darkest tint will blacken light leather articles sufficiently to prolong their service, though, of course, failing to achieve results entirely like the new article.

To Clean Feathers.

To clean feathers from their own animal oil, steep them in a bath of one gallon of water mixed with one pound of lime; stir the mass well to expose all evenly to the purifying agents, then pour off the water, and give the feathers several good rinsings in clear cold water. To clean feathers from dust or dirt simply wash them in a bath of hot soap-suds and rinse in hot water. To free them from any taint boil them in a loose porous case, using a little ammonia and dissolved soap in the water. Rinse freely in hot water and dry in a current of air in the sack in which they were cleaned.

Marmalade.

One dozen oranges, two grape fruits, two lemons; slice fruit rind and all thin, picking out pits. To every pound of fruit allow three pints of water. Let stand twenty-four hours, then boil slowly till tender, and let stand another twenty-four hours. To every pound of fruit and syrup add 1 1/2 pounds of sugar. Boil half hour, or until fruit is transparent and syrup jellies. Seal in jelly glasses. This will make about forty glasses. Some of us are at this time of the year getting low on our supply of jams and jellies. These make a fine substitute.

Daisy Luncheon Meat.

Take any cold meat—you may use two kinds if you wish—and mince fine. Add enough good stock to moisten, and season to taste. You should have about three cups.

Take three hard-boiled eggs, place one endwise in the bottom of a mold and pack meat firmly around it until it is nearly covered; then place the next egg and pack the meat around, and so on until your mold is full. (I use a round mold). Be sure to place the eggs on end. Remove from the mold and cut in slices. The daisy will appear in the center.

Mayonnaise Sandwiches.

Make a piquant mayonnaise, using plenty of red pepper and lemon juice in the seasoning. Spread on bit of lettuce put between fresh gluten bread, trimmed of all crust. Only a little of the mayonnaise must be used, for it is likely to drip with the heat of the rooms.

YOU CAN AFFORD IT.

$50 pays for an unlimited life scholarship in bookkeeping, shorthand or telegraphy in our school. $50 will pay for the board and lodging of the average student while completing one of these courses. Two of these courses combined will cost $95 for life scholarship. The average time for completing two courses when taken at the same time is five months, therefore board and lodging would amount to about $62.50. When one or more of these courses is finished, we will place the graduate in a position where his first two or three months salary will reimburse him for all necessary tuition and board paid for the course. The graduate will soon admit that if he had had to borrow every cent of the money to pay board and tuition, that it was the best investment he ever made.

With the famous Byrne Simplified Shorthand and practical bookkeeping, and our practical way of teaching telegraphy and railway station work, we give the student a more thorough training in half the time and at half the usual cost of a course in other schools—teaching other systems. This is conclusively proven by the endorsements in our catalogue from those who have attended other schools and studied other systems. We prove every statement we make, and that is why we have here today the largest school of bookkeeping, business training, shorthand, typewriting and telegraphy in America. Our catalogue is free for the asking, and it will give any parent or young person just the information they desire in helping them to make up their mind as to what school to patronize, what kind of a course to take, what it will cost, and what the course will enable the graduate to earn.

CLARK'S DAUGHTER IS AS DEFIANT AS RE IS

By Associated Press. Louisville, Ky., July 1.—Miss Genevieve Clark, the 17-year-old daughter of Speaker Clark is one of the closest observers of the conflict that has arisen between Mr. Clark and Mr. Bryan at Baltimore, according to a special dispatch to the Courier-Journal. With Gov. McCrary of Kentucky, who is her uncle, Miss Clark attended a conference of the Clark leaders last night. After the meeting according to the dispatch, she exclaimed to her uncle: "I would rather see father go down in defeat than tick the boots of Mr. Bryan. It was he who put up the black flag and father certainly is not going to pull it down." The word "bustles" is being whispered about.

PLANS FOR NEW STREET LIGHTS ARE TO BE MADE

Committee of Council Will Act on Illumination Question This Week

The light committee of the city council will prepare specifications this week upon which they will ask bids for 75 arc lights in the business district and 100 lights in the residence districts of the city. The city plans the installation of the lamps and fixtures itself and will then award a contract for the electrical current for these lights. The lamps in the business district will be suspended from posts of an ornamental design. It is probable that an election to vote bonds for the lights will be called at the meeting of the council this week.

MARY

Years ago was said to be the owner of a lamb. Whether or not Mary was interested in the sheep business beyond the ownership of the said lamb, the historian chronicler not. However he does aver that this infant Marino followed Mary to school and the teacher for fear of being taken for a menagerie manager promptly canned this young animal that was later responsible for the existing protective tariff and the republicans in Texas. That will be about all regarding Mary, because the idea we are bent on locating in your brain barn is that our fountain service and the quality of our fountain products will get your business if you ever try them. A chocolate egg flip for instance, made and sold at every fountain in the world, that is they make a mess of stuff that they call by that name, but you know some folks call oat meal food. Farm sausage is food and oat meal is a joke. The same thing applies to egg flip. We put on an all day matinee and a real show that last nearly all night for the benefit of Missourians.
