AMUSEMENTS PLANNED FOR SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Dressed Pig Contest and Top Race Will Be Features in Addition to Ball Game.

Manager Orth of the Tracton Company has arranged an added attraction at Lake Wichita Sunday afternoon, in addition to the ball game between the Dallas and Sherman teams.

The ball game will be called at 4 p. m. and fifteen minutes before that time, a well-greased, husky shaft will be turned loose in the ball park, with an invitation to all the boys present to give him a run for the money. A prize of $5 will be given to the boy catching the pig, and the affair should prove highly amusing to those witnessing it. Following the ball game a series of tub races in Lake Wichita is arranged for. The races will take place close to the pier, where everyone can see them without danger to the contestants. A prize of $5.00 is also offered for the winner in this event. Boys desiring to enter for the tub race must provide their own tubs and be at the starting point promptly. The races will be in charge of Capt. Robbins.

Manager Orth contemplates a number of innocent amusement features for the park in the future, and if the public show an appreciation of them by going out Sunday a more elaborate program will be prepared.

LAKESHORE ASSEMBLY OUTLOOK IS EXCELLENT

Rev. J. E. Roach, Manager, Believes Attendance Will Exceed Last Year's.

Rev. J. E. Roach, manager for the lakeshore assembly, was in the city his morning from Gainesville, on business connected with the assembly. He reports a most satisfactory outlook for the success of the assembly this year. Most of those who attended last year are coming back this year, he believes, and will bring their friends along with them. The program is already arranged and will be placed in the hands of the printer this week. The assembly will open July 29th and will close August 5th.

MANY ESAUS AMONG TEUTONIC NOBILITY.

Berlin, July 6.—Berlin society is again agitated over the question of name marriages, a subject which has long been a painful one in the annals of many noble families, making an unpleasant chapter in the history of German morals.

Name marriages have recently become of frequent occurrence owing to the ever-increasing number of scapegoat scions of noble houses who are quite willing to become modern Esaus, selling their birthright for the modern equivalent of a mess of pottage to any ambitious nobleman "Schultz," "Miller," "Meyer," etc., who offers, not herself, indeed, but a certain stipulated sum of money.

The case of Countess Freda von Strachwitz, employed as a masseuse and who was murdered about three years ago, was a notable instance of name marriage. She became a countess at the cheapest brand sold herself, together with her name, a crest and a nine-pointed star, crown, to the masseuse for 70 marks in gold, a second hand suit of clothes and a hot supper.

Proposed Ocean Safety Act

Washington, D. C., July 6.—Any master, managing owner, steamship director or principal residing agent for a foreign steamship who sends any vessel from an American port in so unseaworthy a condition as to endanger life is to be criminally liable, if Congress passes a bill that Senator Nelson, chairman of the Senate committee on commerce, has introduced.

The bill suggests legislation in the light of the Titanic disaster and if enacted into law, is to be called "The Ocean Safety Act of 1912."

The bill would require better wireless equipment to be continuous operated on ocean and great lakes vessels carrying fifty or more passengers. The master of the vessel is to be in control of the wireless apparatus and to guard against the shutting off of the wireless communication in case of failure of the ship's engines to work, an auxiliary power supply to insure communication at least one hundred miles is required.

Vessels sailing from an American port would be required to have sufficient life boats to accommodate every one on board, and stringent boat inspection, boat drills and better qualifications for seamen are required.

A heavy penalty is proposed for failure to assist any person in distress at sea.

PICNIC AT THORNBERY IS ENJOYED BY LARGE CROWD

A crowd estimated at about 400 attended the picnic at Thornberry yesterday and the day was celebrated very thoroughly. Several speakers, including Attorney L. W. Parrish of Henrietta, Rev. J. E. Coe of Wichita Falls, R. A. Stewart of Wise county, furnished appropriate oratory and there were songs, recitations, two ball games and other features, not the least of which was the substantial luncheon which was spread at noon.

KNOWN IN HOOSIERDOM AS 'TOM' MARSHALL. Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—Thomas R. Marshall, governor of Indiana since 1905, and known in Hoosierdom as "Tom" Marshall, is a lawyer. His boom as a candidate for governor resulted from a united appeal from the Democracy of the northern section of the state, when the Republican party was divided on the wet and dry question. Marshall was born in North Manchester, Ind., in 1854 and is a graduate of Wabash College, of which he is now a trustee. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity of which his grand uncle, former Chief Justice Marshall, was founder. Governor Marshall's work as a reform governor has gained him attention throughout the country. Probably his best known act was his recommendation of changes in the state constitution which, by many, were regarded as radical.

MARQUARD WITHIN ONE OF NEW WORLD'S RECORD

Another Victory Will Give Him the Honor—Has Already Won Eighteen Straight.

New York, July 5.—If Rube Marquard wins nineteen games, without meeting with defeat, the great left-hander will be the undisputed holder of the pitching record made in any major league that has existed since the National League was organized in 1871. A thorough examination of the files of the papers of the years 1884, 1886, 1889 and 1890 show that several records that have been recorded in "dope" books for years were never made.

This does not include the record made by Charles Radbourne, pitching for the Providence Club in 1884. During that season the Grays won twenty straight games and Radbourne pitched eighteen of them. The figures that follow will show that Radbourne went in day after day, with the exception of August 8 and 20, when a youngster named Conley pitched for the Grays.

In four successive games—August 9-15—he pitched three shutouts against Boston, and in the four games yielded only one run and seventeen hits. In the entire run he scored five shutouts, four one-run games, two two-run games, three three-run games, two four-run games and one five-run game—this being the highest number of runs made in a game. In his eighteen victories Radbourne wielded double figures in base hits only twice. Twice he held opponents to two hits, once to three hits, once to four hits, three to five hits, four times to six hits, three to seven hits, twice to eight hits and once each to nine, ten and eleven hits.

But this was not all. Radbourne's first defeat after eighteen straight victories was by 2 to 0 at the hands of Buffalo, in which he yielded only five hits, while only four hits were made behind him. Radbourne then resumed his victory habit, and from Sept. 10 to Sept. 19, he pitched eight more successive victories, in which he yielded only twenty-two runs and fifty-nine hits—an average of a fraction over two runs and seven hits per game.

James McCormick, pitching for the Chicago Club in 1886, has been credited by many "authorities" with winning twenty-four straight games. It was recently announced that "the record of McCormick has been published so often it is not necessary to reprint it."

McCormick's correct record of 1886 was sixteen straight. Timm Keefe pitched for the Giants in the 80s. He has recently been given credit for winning nineteen straight in 1889. His best run was about one third of those figures.

The record that has seldom been disputed was that credited to John Luby, a young pitcher who came out of the Texas bushes and jumped right in as a big league pitcher with the Chicago club, under the management of Capt. Anson. Luby's figures have been given as twenty straight victories. He made a bad start, but Anson was patient with the youngster and he wound up with a run of eighteen straight, equalling Radbourne's mark.

What have recently been designated as the modern records were made by Jack Chesoro of the Highlanders, in 1904, and Ed Reulbach of the Chicago Cubs, in 1909. Each won fourteen straight.

The records of Pitcher Radbourne follows:

BROWN SOLD TO ST. LOUIS TEAM

WICHITA FALLS' CENTERFIELDER GOES UP HIGHER TO MAJOR LEAGUE.

Drillers Divided Double Header With Ardmore Team—Play Sherman Today.

The sale of W. V. Brown, Wichita Falls' star outfielder, to the St. Louis National League team was announced this morning. While details are not available, it is understood the delivery is to be at once. Brown has been with the team two seasons and has been one of the steadiest and most consistent players. While his hitting has been his strong point, he has generally taken everything that came his way in the outfield and has more than once pulled off that difficult stunt of throwing a runner out at the plate from center field.

Two new players have been signed by the management but their names are withheld pending the closing up of the deal whereby Wichita Falls secures them.

It took a nine-inning rally yesterday afternoon at Ardmore to prevent the Drillers from taking both games of the double-header. Wichita Falls won the morning game easily and had a good lead in the second game until the ninth inning when the locals braced up and pushed three runs across.

The Drillers returned this morning and will begin a series here with Sherman this afternoon. Yesterday's scores:

SLOCUM MURDER CASES WILL BE DELAYED. Houston, Texas, July 5.—What are known as the Slocum murder cases will not be tried in the criminal district court of Harris county this year. These cases are the outgrowth of the uprising of two years ago in Anderson county, in which several negroes were killed, and for which offense eight white men are under indictment. These cases were sent to Houston on change of venue from Palestine. Judge Robinson had set them for trial during August, but later decided not to hold court during that month.

The first bale of 1912 raised cotton was produced at Harlingen, weighted 330 pounds and was sold at auction at Houston July 2, bringing the owner $419, or a little more than $1.25 per pound.

Yesterday, July 4th, two stars were officially added to "Old Glory," making 48 in all. The two new ones represent the newly created States of New Mexico and Arizona.

According to a fresh ruling of the Attorney General, candidates for office have until July 8 to pay the amount assessed against them by the county executive and get their names on the ticket for the July primaries.

If we were commissioned to write over the doors of the homes of the American people what we consider to be the chief cause of the misery and unhappiness that is sweeping men and women into the vortex of ruin and premature decay, it would consist of one simple word—thoughtlessness, simple in its construction, but far-reaching in its meaning and its results. Very few people willfully and wantonly say things or commit acts calculated to offend or injure, and oftentimes what is intended as an evidence of good fellowship, a friendly regard, is taken as a shaft aimed from the bow of evil intent. Thoughtlessness upon the one and a misunderstanding upon the other prove the reef upon which the years of confidence, esteem and friendship is wrecked.—Denison Herald.

Every voter in Texas ought to get it firmly fixed in his mind that Eberl Mayfield who is running for railroad commissioner is not Allison Mayfield, the present commissioner, or anybody resembling him. Allison Mayfield is not to be voted on this year. Earl is hoping that many of Allison's friends will vote for him through mistaken identity. Stick by Allison, but put pencil marks on Earl's name wherever it appears on a ticket. He is no man for the job, but merely a prohibition agitator who is trying to cash in his love for the cause. Vote for John L. Wortham.—Houston Post.

The Post has neglected to say whether Mr. Wortham is an anti or pro, but doubtless it thought that unnecessary. The mere fact that the Post advocates his election is proof positive that Wortham is an anti. It has drawn the line as close as it can be drawn, and so far as the Times is able to make observation the ticket it is advocating for election in the July primary is anti from head to tail.

The Vernon Call offered to publish the quarterly statements for Wilbarger county for one cent and a half a line, which is about all the publishing the county has to do in the newspapers, but it was given to the other newspaper at three cents a line which costs the county double.—Vernon Call.

Doubtless the Call feels aggrieved because the commissioners' court refused the low bid. The Times disagrees with it however, and must say that in its deliberate judgment the court should have rejected both bids for the reason that not even the highest is sufficient compensation to the printer to guarantee that the work would be done correctly. By this, we do not mean to say that the Vernon papers cannot do good work. Both are good papers, but it does know that both papers would charge the banker, the merchant or other business man of Vernon at least 5c per line for the same character of work, and would be justified in doing so for the very narrow margin of profit to the publisher above the cost of production. If newspaper men can't learn that the county, city or state government is simply a business in situation in which every taxpayer is a stockholder, and are just as able to pay for what it gets as the ordinary business man, then commissioners' courts ought not to be censured for turning bids for public work down when they are fully aware that the bids are entirely too low to cover the cost of production. When newspapers make such fool bids they generally have some other object in view other than that of saving the county a few cents, and getting something for nothing. In turning down the bid of 1 1/2c per line bid the Wilbarger commissioners' court showed that they at least had some idea of what printing should cost, and had it turned down the 2c bid its action would have still deserved commendation. All a county or city ever gains by accepting for nothing is more generally lost or

THE NOMINATING SPEECH

While William Allen White is pointing the finger of scorn at the "ready-made" demonstrations for favorite sons in national conventions, let him turn his attention to the other great American institution, the nominating speech.

The indignant citizen who shouted to the orator from Alabama in the Baltimore convention yesterday morning, "We've had too damned much oratory," might be nominated for vice president; if his name had not been lost in the confusion of catcalls and shouts of derision from the victims of the spellbinders who insisted upon eulogizing "the man whom I shall name."

"Gentlemen of the convention" the orator says, "the man whom I shall name represents the great, throbbing, sobbing, (prolonged applause), pulsating, turbulent, (voice from the gallery; "that's the stuff"), calm, dispassionate, vociferating (a delegate, "name him, name him") sentiment of the people of the greatest nation ever illuminated by God's sunshine by day or the moon and countless millions of stars by night. (The delegation from Tennessee tears its standard from the floor and marches once around the room).

"The sun-kissed hills the breezes that fan the ambient air, the blooming flowers and the running brooklets that fall down the hillides and flow away to swell the mighty ocean (South Carolina here joins in the demonstration, and leads a reluctant goat to the platform), proclaim the man whom I shall name as the logical and invincible leader for the Democratic party in this campaign. (Fifty minutes is here given over for demonstration by the Florida delegation, the feature of which is the exhibition of a little alligator. Oration for the alligator).

"Follow Democrats, the eyes of the Democratic party from Mississippi and Louisiana are on you, notwithstanding the fact that it is now four o'clock in the morning (loud cheers). Nominate the man whom I shall name (delegate: "Hit 'em again") and from the busy marts of trade, from the peaceful, liberty loving valleys, the noble hills and the mountains will come shouts of approval of electoral votes. (The rest of the speech is lost in the noise, of the shouts of disapproval from the busy marts of trade, the liberty loving valley sand the noble hills, and the cries from New York: "Sit down! Sit down!")

If the editor of the Emporia Gazette wants to work a real reform let him put a plank in the platform of the progressive party demanding that nominating speeches at National conventions be made subject to the ordinances against disturbing the peace.—Kansas City Star.

TIMES CARRIED FULL REPORT OF PRIZE FIGHT.

The regular edition of The Times was issued half an hour late yesterday in order to publish a full report of the Johnson-Flynn fight at Las Vegas and within a very few minutes after the completion of the report, the paper was on the streets. A large crowd gathered at The Times office early in the afternoon to read the bulletins and hear the details of the fight by rounds, but when the "flash" came that Johnson had won, most of the crowd left. The details of the concluding rounds and of the stopping of the fight by the police were received in a short time afterward. Hundreds of extra copies were sold on the streets and at the lake.

ALLEGED WOLD-BURGLAR BOUND TO GRAND JURY.

A. E. Price, whose home is said to be in Fort Worth, was bound over by Justice Brothers yesterday to the grand jury on a complaint charging attempt to burglarize. His bond was placed at $500. Price was arrested at the Wichita Hotel Wednesday night by Constable Pickett and his deputy, Will Bryant.

THE PROGRESSIVE SPIRIT OF WICHITA FALLS AND HER LEADERS.

The progressive spirit of the people of Wichita Falls has become famous throughout all this great Southwestern country. Everywhere theidea is current that there are great things in store for this city, its central position in a country rich in natural resources, its splendid railroad facilities, and its increasing number of industrial institutions—all these considerations augur for it of material prosperity beyond the wildest dreams of its most enthusiastic promoters.

What has been done and what may be done, however, must be credited, in large measure, to the enthusiastic harmony of all the citizens in furthering in every possible way, "a consummation so devoutly to be wished." In all this too much credit can not be given to the leadership that has made what has been done possible. History is replete with illustrations of the indispensable necessity of leadership. In every evolution and revolution the achievement in the van of progress. However rich the possibilities, and however enthusiastic the multitude, nothing of moment can be expected without the leadership of those who, looking over the shoulders of their contemporaries, catch a vision not seen by the masses, and who, in the language of Lady McBeth, "feel the future in the instant." The Prophet says that "where there is no vision, the people perish." This holds good in every department of human life and activity. It is true in Church, in State, in Social, Domestic and in industrial life. The ideal is indispensable. Wichita Falls has been and is exceedingly fortunate in possessing a leadership which for strength of vision and for wisdom in execution is unfettered, so far as I know, in the history of any other city of this great country; and as I believe in breaking the box of spikenard before the crucifixion, I hasten to extend my appreciation of those men and institutions that have led and are leading in the march of progress along so many useful and necessary lines in the development of this country and in the building up of a great city here.

I dare not call names lest some might feel that they had been left out of the count who should have been considered among the first. We all know who really lead, however, and I am sure the entire citizenship are ready to accord honor to whom honor is due. But I must be allowed to mention the Chamber of Commerce and the Wichita Daily Times as the most potent factors among those agencies that have made the city what it is, and the most important prospective leaders in its further growth and development. As an old editor and all-round newspaper man, I am forced to say that the Times, however popular with our people, is not appreciated commensurate with its merits. I happen to know that the service which that paper gives its readers is up to the standard set by newspapers published in cities of fifty thousand inhabitants. know—what sacrifices the Times Company is making to give us such a clean, wide-awake and progressive journal as that paper is. It ought to be supported by every citizen to the utmost of his ability.

JAMES W. HILL, P. S. Since writing the above, Rev. John E. Roach, president of the board of trustees of the Lakeshore Assembly, and who was presiding elder last year of this district, informs me that the Times distributed gratis, last year, two thousand five hundred copies setting forth the features of the Assembly. In fact, both the paper and the Chamber of Commerce did everything possible to make the meeting last year the greatest success it was.

It may not be out of place to remark in this connection, that the Assembly promises to be better this year than it was last year—hosts of people, (so Bro. Roach tells me), have written to him from all parts of North and Northwest Texas, and from Oklahoma, stating that they would be on hand, July 29.

Increased Wealth of Texas During the Current Year

Special to The Times.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 5.—The wealth of Texas is increasing at the rate of more than a million dollars a day. Statistics recently compiled by the Texas Commercial Secretaries and Business Men's Association show that the total production of the Texas farms, mines, factories and foreign capital invested within our borders during the past six months was approximately $293,111,500. Agricultural production shows the largest amount of added wealth, which is $107,491,000. Foreign investments rank second and factory production third. The sources of increased wealth, by months, from January to June 1912, are as follows:

Month	Agricultural Production	Factory Production	Foreign Investment	Total
January	$15,698,500	$1,540,000	$11,220,000	$43,000,000
February	17,102,500	1,320,000	16,150,000	49,572,000
March	18,950,000	1,415,000	19,990,000	52,355,000
April	15,287,000	1,185,000	12,800,000	46,672,000
May	19,143,000	1,310,000	12,990,000	49,643,000
June	21,310,000	1,200,000	12,490,000	51,110,000
Total	$107,491,000	$7,970,000	$80,540,000	$293,111,500

The year's harvest of agricultural products started with the gathering of the winter vegetables of the Gulf Coast country and reports from the railroads operating in that section estimate that there has been approximately 5500 carloads of fruit and vegetables shipped from that section this year. This does not include onions shipped from the Laredo section which will approximate 3,000 carloads. A wheat crop estimated to be 15,000,000 bushels has just been harvested and the oat production will near the 50,000,000 bushel mark. The corn is practically assured and the Texas Grain Dealer's Association estimates that this year's production will be approximately 130,000,000 bushels. Reports furnished this association by the various commercial organizations throughout the state show that cotton is in much better condition than at this time last year and it is expected that this year's production will exceed that of 1911 which was 4,107,000 bales. The Crop Reporting Board of the United States Department of Agriculture recently issued a statement regarding the general condition of all crops in the United States and Texas is 3 1/2 points above the average while surrounding states are shown to be 3 points below normal condition.

The value added by the factories during this period is approximately $50,540,000. Newspaper reports, which in some instances lack verification, show that there have been 102 new factories opened for operation in the state since the first of January and 40 are now under course of construction, 27 have been destroyed by fire during this period.

The output of the Texas mines has not kept pace with increased production with the farm and factory. The total output of the mines of Texas was approximately $17,000,000 in 1911 and for the first six months of 1912 it has been only $7,970,000 while the factory output for the first six months of this year is almost two-thirds of that of 1911. Petroleum is the leading mine product for this period, the total production being approximately 5,700,000 barrels valued at $4,275,000. Coal mining has been slightly handicapped on account of labor conditions which have not been settled and the coal production during the next half year is expected to be considerably larger than part of the past six months.

The Association also keeps a close tab on the construction work being carried on in the state. A review of the building activities during the past six months follows:

Only 7 companies have constructed new mileage in the state this year one of the companies has completed its road and is now in operation and lines are now under course of construction. The St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico completed a line early in the year between Bloomington and Victoria a distance of 13 1/2 miles and trains are now running regularly between these points. The lines of the Port Bolivar and Iron Ore Company between Ore City and Port Bolivar and the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Road from Big Lake to Granddams were completed the latter part of 1911 but were not opened for operation until the first of the year. The Houston and Texas Central Company is now working on its line from Stone City to Giddings, a distance of 40 miles and expect it to be ready for operation by the first of next year. The San Antonio-Rockport and Mexican is building a line from Crowther to Rockport and it is expected to be completed by October first. The San Antonio, Uvalde and Gulf is building a line from San Antonio to Fowlerton and has nearly all the right-of-way graded. They will start laying steel about the middle of August and expect to complete the line by the first of November. The Gulf, Texas and Western, Paris and Mount Pleasant and the Scholton Bros. Cedar Company broke ground on new lines during June.

Construction work has been pushed rapidly since the first of the year on seven interurban projects and several of them are nearing completion. The line of the Fort Worth Southern Traction Company between Cleburne and Fort Worth will be opened for operation about the first of September. Grading and track laying has been completed and all trolley poles have been set. Nearly all the trolley wire has been put up and two substations remain to be completed. A regular car service will be inaugurated between Dallas and Waxahatchie about the first of September. All the steel has been laid and trolley poles are set and the trolley wire is now being placed. Cross-ties are being distributed on the right of way of the Dallas-Waco line which has been graded for a distance of thirty-two miles. Work is being pushed rapidly on the interurban line connecting Riviera in Nueces county with a point on the Beach, a distance of 15 miles. Construction work is progressing rapidly on the line between Blue Ridge and Anna, which is the beginning of the line which will eventually connect Greenville and Whitewright. Grading has been completed and steel is now being laid between Santa Maria and Mission. This line will open for operation about the first of October. A line is now being built from Monte Christo to Mission and will later be extended to Rio Grande City.

Reports from the County Commissioners, Commercial Secretaries and County Judges throughout the State show that approximately $5,000,000 has been expended in constructing and improving the public highways so far this year. Approximately 800 miles of new roads have been built and practically every county has improved its highways to a certain extent.

COP FINDS CASE THAT WAS FULL OF SNAKES.

Baltimore, July 5.—Policemen often come in contact with men who imagine they have a bundle of snakes around them, but they generally don't do the trick themselves, particularly since the rules forbid policemen drinking on duty. Yesterday morning policeman David Walker violated all rules and regulations. He walked into the Park at Lehigh avenues station house with a bundle of snakes. He will not lose his position. The snakes were real. Walker was about to go off duty after having been on watch since midnight Thursday. Just before 7 o'clock, when he was due to go to the station house, he found a large box outside a grocery store at Seventh street and Susquehanna avenue. The box was the size of a suitcase and was heavy.

Walker carried his find to the station house, laid it down, nonchalantly upon the sergeant's desk. It opened it and then became very much alive. The contents of the box were alive, too. They wriggled all over the station house, and the policeman who were waiting to be sent home had a lively few minutes recapturing them.

The feat was finally accomplished and twelve blacksnakes were lodged in an aquarium. They will be sent to the Zoological gardens unless some person who has lost his pets claims them.

VULGAR TOOTHPIICK IS BARRED AT COLLEGE.

Chicago, July 5.—Toothpicks have been permanently banished from Hutchinson Hall, the college commons of the University of Chicago.

Carelessness in their use by the summer students is directly responsible for their banishment. According to certain professors, the use of toothpicks is vulgar. Consequently, some of those who had their sensibilities touched by the post-pandial habit of students made complaint, and the removal of the picks from the cashier's desk followed.

The manager of the commons told many students that toothpicks henceforth were not to be tolerated on the campus.

The manager said the summer students had been inclined to overdo the toothpick habit, some even failing to remove them from their mouth in the classrooms.

JURORS TELL OF EFFORTS MADE TO BRIBE THEM.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 5.—In the bribery trial of Clarence S. Darrow two tentative jurors in the McNamara trial, A. J. Kruger and Frank B. Smith, told of futile efforts by Bert H. Franklin to bribe them.

The wife of Robert F. Bain, the first juror chosen to try that case, testified to her part in the corruption of her husband by Franklin, whom Darrow is alleged to have employed.

He who hesitates is lost—especially when he is found out.

Superior

The Brown standard is a high standard. The Brown idea is not to make crackers that are just as good as somebody else's, or like anybody else's, or that might be mistaken by package or contents to be somebody else's, but to make crackers that by their superior goodness will be at once recognized as "The Crackers that BROWN Makes."

If you have ever tasted Brown-made crackers of any kind you know that the Brown idea is a practical, actual, definite success.

It comes in the flour—the recipes—the artesian water—the speckless, spotless machinery that handles the products from flour to package—the clean, white tiled ovens—the perfect baking—the air, moisture and dirt-proof packages.

Try one of these—you'll be won by any one to all.

- Pan-Tan—the ginger snap with snap.
- Sodaettes—not just soda crackers, but the limit of soda cracker goodness.
- Saltines—crisp, properly salt, delicious.
- Graham Crackers—as nutritious as they are palatable.

Grocers Recommend Them—But should yours say that he does not carry them, ask him to get them for you. If he fails you, write us and we will see that you are supplied.

BIG WHEAT YIELD IN TILLMAN COUNTY

From 90 to 150 Wagon Loads a Day Being Marketed at Frederick.

Tillman county is just now busily engaged in shattering its wheat records. Clear weather has permitted threshing crews to work long hours during the past few days, and as a result wheat laden wagons have been finding their way into Frederick from all directions and have been readily taken care of by local buyers. Receipts have run from 90 to 150 wagon loads a day during this week. The price paid is from 80 to 90 cents, and the average wagonload is worth about $5. As a result, local banks are beginning to experience a big influx of cash from grain buying centers. The crop is yet hardly a fourth harvested. It is not a local affair, but extends over the entire county, and is generally of excellent quality. It is the biggest wheat crop in the county's history. Up to yesterday morning 37 cars had been shipped from Frederick, 27 from Davidson, one from Manitou, and about 50 from the stations along the Northwestern railroad, from Frederick, making a total of 125 cars sent out of Tillman county, with the movement just fairly under headway.

THE SECOND CUTTING OF ALFALFA IS BEGINNING TO BE MARKETED.—Frederick Leader.

Peaches have become so plentiful on the local market that the street-price Tuesday had fallen to 75 cents. For this price the hungry town dwellers were able to buy choice fruit. As a result pantry shelves will soon be groaning with preserves and butter, while for once, at least, everybody in Tillman county may have all the peaches he can eat.

The second cutting of alfalfa is beginning to come in; huge loads finding their way to local buyers this week. It is not expected that the second cutting will be as large as the first, but at least two more cuttings are in prospect.

Corn is in ideal condition. In some fields big ears, already formed, show that the conditions have been all that could be desired for the growth of this standard cereal this spring and summer. This time last year the county's corn crop had been burned up with hot winds. This year great fields of dark green stalks are to be seen, some with ears already beginning to round out, and others at various stages of development, leaving no doubt that Tillman county is to have a corn crop, and a big one, too. Cotton, although not so far advanced, is equally encouraging.

San Angelo, Texas.—The bond election held in this city the 2nd carried by a good majority. The proceeds will be used in construction of good roads and bridges in Tom Green county.

ROOF GARDEN ON CHURCH FOR WORSHIP IN SUMMER.

Boston, July 5.—The first church in America to have a roof garden, to be used as a playground for children during the day and for open-air services in the evening, will be in Boston.

It will be at Clarendon and Montgomery streets, on the site of the Clarendon Baptist church. The church was badly burned last winter, and the trustees will build a church up to date in every detail to take its place.

The roof of the church will be flat and the conventional steeple will be omitted. The roof will have crepe-papered borders and steel girders, making it a safe place for children to play. Services will be held there in the summer time when the weather permits.

Moving pictures will be utilized to increase the interest in Bible study, as Dr. Francis, the pastor, favours any method to make the Bible interesting to the people.

FERRYBOAT SINKS BUT NO ONE IS DROWNED.

Memphis, Tenn., July 5.—The Mississippi steamer Mattie Couch operated as a ferry boat between Memphis and the Arkansas side of the river sank in midstream after 1 o'clock this afternoon. All available boats in port were rushed to the scene.

STANDARD OIL ATTORNEY IS OPPOSED TO RECALL.

Cape May, July 5.—Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, special counsel for the government in the Standard Oil company case, delivered an address before the Maryland State Bar Association here today upon the subject of "The Judicial Recall." At the conclusion of the address the association passed a resolution placing itself on record as against the recall decision.

Indians Go Hungry With Much Cash In the Bank

Myton, Utah, July 5.—Hundreds of Ute Indians on the former Utah reservation in Northwestern Utah are all but starving, though they have plenty of money in the bank. Their credit at the stores has been cut off by order of Charles L. Davis, acting Indian agent and supervising farmer, and the usual annuity of $30 per capita has not been paid for this year. The local government farmers are trying to teach them to cultivate the soil, but they say they "no likum work on heap empty stomach."

Rabbit Perank, who has an allotment near Myton, was one of 12 to receive 100 pounds of potatoes to plant. He promised faithfully to put them in the ground, and he kept his word, but it is said that he dug them up again for food. Rabbit and his squaw have $2400 in the bank, a team of horses which cost $500, with harness, wagon, plows and all other farming implements. The horses have plenty of hay and oats and a warm stable, but Rabbit and his squaw and children live in a teepee and eat and sleep on the ground.

Pekepovits and his squaw have more than $4000 in the bank, and Accawainna has $1000, yet they go hungry. Instructions have come from the agency at Fort Duchesne to issue rations carefully, because available money will be scarce until the crops are made.

Ten thousand acres of what is known as "dead" Indian land has been sold in the last two or three years, and the Indians would be richer by at least $200,000 if they could get the money, but most of these sales were not confirmed until within the last few months, and although the money is now in the bank, the Indians can't get it.

A few days ago, a team was seen standing idle in a plowed field with the Indian driver, some distance away shooting with a rifle at a prairie dog, having had scarcely any breakfast. The rations issued to so-called working Indians are 50 pounds of flour for 100 days; 10 pounds of bacon, 1 pound baking powder, 3 pounds beans and 4 pound sugar. The bottom of the flour barrel is in sight, as a rule, before the end of the first week, and the Indians go on a hunt for prairie dogs, while the work goes undone. In no case is the clerk allowed to issue rations to more than four in one family, and many families are twice that number.

Besides the money derived from recent acts of allotment, the government owes the confederated band of Ute Indians from $3,500,000 to $4,000,000, and it has been due for more than a quarter of a century. Judgment was rendered in the United States supreme court against the government for approximately $3,500,000.

A bill is pending in congress providing for the payment of this amount. The money is due under a treaty wherein the Indians agree to leave Colorado and come to Utah in the early eighties. The promise was made at that time that their Colorado lands would be sold and the money placed to their credit. A million and a quarter dollars was turned over, but they have been deprived of the balance up to this time. The interest of this million, and a quarter has furnished an annuity, but that has ceased since the judgment was rendered.

"SHIRT SLEEVE PETITION" FOR FORT WORTH MOTORMEN.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 5.—A "shirt sleeve petition" directed to C. H. Bowen, general manager of the Northern Texas Traction Company, asking that motormen and conductors be permitted to work without their coats during the hot summer months, was inaugurated Thursday morning by sympathetic citizens.

Street car employes were visibly elated when they heard of the project.

"It's a good stunt," declared a veteran conductor. "Business men and clerks walk about the down town sections; ride the street cars, work in their offices and stores and even dine at lunch counters in their shirt sleeves. Women keep cool with the flimsiest of waists.

"Just compare with these the street car man's sweltering in his coat. We don't aspire to peekaboo or décollete effects but we are strong for the shirt sleeve proposition."

The conductor's wall is well taken, according to other members of his calling. They point out that firemen and mail carriers are no longer compelled to wear their coats during the hot weather. A regulation blouse such

SPEAKS IN INTEREST OF HIGHER EDUCATION.

Special to The Times.
Henrietta, Texas, July 5.—R. A. Stuart, of Newark, Wise county, spoke in the district court room here last night in the interest of higher education. Lack of a general knowledge of his coming resulted in a poor attendance practically limited to the body of teachers attending the Montague-Clay Normal. Mr. Stuart spoke in behalf of the "Hogg Organization for Higher Education." Among the plans mentioned by the speaker was the issuance of bonds by the State of Texas to the amount of $3,000,000 for the proper care of its institutions of learning.

"LENA RIVERS" AT THE TENT THEATRE TONIGHT.

"Lena Rivers" is the bill of the Princess Players at the Franklin Tent Theatre at the corner of Ohio avenue and Tenth street tonight. This is a dramatization of Mrs. Mary J. Holmes' great novel of the same name and in it are numerous situations that afford opportunity to the emotional power of Miss Evelyn Kipland, the leading lady with this popular company. This is one of the feature bills of the engagement and those who miss it will miss a treat.

The engagement of this company here will close tomorrow night. All this week they have been showing to good houses and their performances have been pleasing.

Last night "Antia the Singing Girl," was the bill and while the celebration at the lake cut short the attendance those who did come were delighted.

MARY

Years ago was said to be the owner of a lamb. Whether or not Mary was interested in the sheep business beyond the ownership of the said lamb, the historian chronicles not. However he does aver that this infant Marino followed Mary to school and the teacher for fear of being taken for a menageric manager promptly canned this young animal that was later responsible for the existing protective tariff and the republicans in Texas. That will be about all regarding Mary, because the idea we are bent on locating in your brain barn is that our fountain service and the quality of our fountain products will get your business if you ever try them. A chocolate egg flip for instance, made and sold at every fountain in the world, that is they make a glass of stuff that they call by that name, but you know some folks call oat meal food. Farm sausage is food and oat meal is a joke. The same thing applies to egg flip. We put on an all day matinee and a real show that mat nearly all night for the benefit of Missourians.

OIL STRIKE NEAR QUANAH LOOKS LIKE REAL THING

Many Leases Being Taken in That Vicinity—Analysis Is Made By State Chemist.

Oil men here seem skeptical about the reported strike at Agatite near Quanah several weeks ago but a report from Quanah today says that an operator with headquarters here has been in the field and has leased most of the land in the vicinity of the reported strike.

The well in which the oil was found was drilled by H. Newby, manager of the American Cement Plaster Co. in an effort to secure water for the boilers of the plant. It was dug eleven feet in diameter. The following from the Quanah Observer tells what happened:

When down about 25 or 27 feet, oil came in with the water in considerable quantity. At the 27 foot depth a point of rock crept into the well, and it was thought that perhaps a "shot" in this rock might develop something; in any event, it would get it out of the well. The shot did develop something, for no sooner had it been fired than petroleum and water gushed into the well, soon driving the men out.

Mr. Newby, seeing that he had started something that perhaps could not stop, connected up a steam pump and lowered the water in the well, pumping it together with the oil into large tanks where the oil contained on top while the water was drained off. In that way he took out and saved the first week 271 barrels of crude petroleum, which he proceeded to test out for fuel, finding it good, stuff for the purpose and thereby working a decided reduction of his fuel bill.

It was noticed that on some days the oil flowed in greater quantities than on others. It was also noticed that when the well was allowed to fill the oil flow decreased, and on days when the well was pretty full of water, the total oil flow was around eight barrels. But when the well was kept pumped out, from sixty to eighty barrels of oil was the daily output, always remembering, however, that about every so often the oil got "tired" and its flow diminished very appreciably, indicating that the power behind the oil was gas, and that after a considerable daily flow the pressure thereof had run so low that it required time for it to get up another "head."

This water stimulates the secretion of the stomach, increases digestion and favors a more complete absorption of the food and prevents the action of germs that cause typhoid and other infectious diseases.

This water can be purchased at the wells or delivered in jugs or cases. This well is located one mile south of Alamo school building in Floral Heights, two deliveries daily morning and afternoon. G. J. Rohatch, Owner. Phone 1601—1 long—4 shorts.

LOUISIANA LAND AND IMMIGRATION COMPANY, Shreveport, La.

Mr. Newby sent a generous sample of his oil to the State chemist at Austin, who wrote back for a gallon of the product as well as an equal amount of that which had been shipped in for fuel. This was furnished, and on Sunday last Mr. Newby received a letter from the chemist which indicates that oil coming into the well is undoubtedly from an unexpected well, that it is rich in burning oil, and generally speaking, that it is different from any oil found in Texas.

Monday afternoon while Mr. Newby was in the city, his son, Howard, went down in the well and determined to see if a shot in the floor wouldn't bring a larger volume of oil. So he proceeded to put a little explosive into the muddy bottom, and on the report of the shot, gas in considerable volume, and an increased flow of oil was the result. In fact, Howard had to climb up the ladder as fast as he could to keep from being overcome by the gas.
