ALL OPPOSITION HAS VANISHED

COLQUITT FORCES HAVE PRACTICALLY OWN WAY IN DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

ADOPT EARLY CLOSING

Governor's Ideas On Liquor Regulation Adopted By Platform Committee.

By Associated Press. San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 14.—All signs of opposition to the Colquitt forces disappeared at least from the first session today of the Democratic State convention. Governor Colquitt, formally declared the party's nominee for governor, made a short ringing speech calling on his "bitterest political enemies" now to join with him in securing legislative peace. He said he would stand by his campaign pledges for early closing of saloons and his peroration was an appeal to the delegates to write a platform in harmony with all the principles of his Sherman speech.

The platform will be considered late today. Morris Sheppard was declared senatorial nominee and Jake Wolters following him appealed for harmony among Democrats. Sheppard in his speech of acceptance, faced many of his late political enemies. His talk was an up-hill task. When he frankly reiterated his prohibition principles he was respectfully heard and his promise of co-operation and harmony brought cheers.

Senator Bailey's name was frequently shouted from the floor and never failed to bring applause and the first time got a minute's ovation. The only work remaining at adjournment this afternoon was the adoption of a platform, the election of a state chairman and the naming of members of the State executive committee.

Walter Collins of Hillsboro will be chairman of the State committee. Some new planks appeared in the tentative platform of the convention today. The early closing plank was still unadopted early this morning; so were the railroad improvement and good roads and other important planks. In six hours hammering last night the governor's early closing plank differed but one change, the hour for opening being changed from 7:30 to 6 a. m. New planks were to protect and foster stock and sheep raising, making wife abandonment a penal offense and for employer compensation act.

CONFERENCE ABOUT $40,000,000 COTTON LOAN.

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 13. To confer with the bankers of San Antonio about raising a part of the $40,000,000 required to finance the Texas cotton crop for this year, Peter Radford, president of the Farmers' Union, and B. B. Cain, president of the Commercial Secretaries, have gone to that city. This sum is to be used in conjunction with the operations of the National warehouse and marketing plans adopted by the State convention of the Farmers' Union here last week. Following the conference at San Antonio the bankers of other cities will be consulted. It is possible the union will put out a field secretary to bring the matter fully to the attention of the local banks.

Letters have been sent to business associations of various kinds in the cotton-growing parts of the State asking for co-operation of the members of the associations.

The Texas Business Men and Commercial Secretaries' Association are also sending out letters to bankers of the State, asking that money be furnished at a low rate to enable the farmers to hold the cotton where it is deemed wise to do so to permit them to market their cotton under more favorable conditions.

SHEPPS WHEREABOUTS BEING KEPT SECRET.

By Associated Press. Hot Springs, Ark., Aug. 14.—While it is certain that Sam Shepps, held as a Rosenthal witness, is not far from the business district here he has not been seen by newspaper men since his removal from his hotel last night. He may be in the mountain district. Five blocks from the main street would put him in the hills. The return of Shepps to the east today of Fred Johnson was merely for protection. No representative of the district attorney's office or police department of New York have arrived. Whitman's representatives are due here at 10 o'clock today.

LYON-ROOSEVELT FACTION ORGANIZE

ADOPT PROGRESSIVE PARTY OF TEXAS AS NAME OF NEW PARTY—LYON EXALTED.

TAFT IS REPUDIATED

RAISING MONEY FOR DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN

$27 Raised in Less Than Fifteen Minutes This Afternoon—Contributions Invited.

W. J. Bullock collected $27 for the Woodrow Wilson campaign fund in less than fifteen minutes this afternoon, and didn't see near half of the patriots who would accept the postmastership, at that. Most of the subscriptions were for $1.

The money will be sent in to headquarters as rapidly as it is collected. It is believed four or five hundred dollars can be raised here without any difficulty. Nearly every Democrat is anxious to give something. Subscriptions in any sum from 25 cents up to $5,000 will be accepted. Those desiring to subscribe should see Mr. Bullock as soon as possible. If it isn't convenient to see Mr. Bullock The Times will accept subscriptions to be turned over to him.

SON KILLED DRUNKEN FATHER WITH AN AXE.

By Associated Press. Plainview, Texas, Aug. 14.—Details of the killing of A. A. Lomax, by his 13-year-old son Monday night reached here today. Lomax, it is said, returned home intoxicated from Floydada and was threatening the life of his wife with a razor, when his son, according to the latter's story, stood in the door with an axe, saying "If you come another step, I'll kill you."

The father advanced and the son attacked him. The family had lived eight miles southeast of Floydada fifteen years and Lomax raised the first bale of cotton in Floyd county.

A pair of fine twin boys arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pitts, 400 Lee street, Tuesday evening.

THAT HARRIMAN CONTRIBUTION

FORMER GOVERNOR ODELL INTIMATES THAT SOME WHITE LIES TOLD MR. SHELDON.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S PART

Third Term Candidate Did Not Know About Arrangement With Harriman Until Later.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Theodore Roosevelt in 1904 invited Edward Harriman to the White House to talk about political campaign funds and a few days after, the railroad financier raised $249,000 and turned it over to the Republican National committee, according to a declaration made today to the special Senate committee of inquiry by Benjamin Odell, former governor of New York.

Mr. Odell's story of the Harriman contribution was so different from that told by George R. Sheldon that the committeemen asked for an explanation. Odell replied that Cornelius Bliss, Republican treasurer in 1904 might have "told some white lies" to Mr. Sheldon with whom he was unofficially associated.

Mr. Sheldon became treasurer in the 1908 campaign. He had testified that Mr. Bliss and Mr. Harriman arranged for the contribution and that President Roosevelt did not know about it until after the election.

Huggins at Loveland, Oklahoma, was released this morning by District Judge Martin on a writ of habeas corpus sued out by Eakman's attorney, E. W. Napier. Eakman's attorney, E. W. Brownwood, Texas, Aug. 14.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Brownwood North and South Railway, held yesterday afternoon at the company's general offices in Brownwood, it was decided to issue 6 per cent bonds to the amount of $60,000 for the purpose of extending the line to its present terminus at May to some point on the Texas & Pacific or to a connection with the Frisco Central. In doing this the Frisco will fulfill a promise that was made to the citizens of Brownwood when they took over the Brownwood North and South. They promised to build to a connection with either of the roads within a reasonable time. It is believed the road will go to Rising Star if the proper inducements are offered if not then it will evidently go toward Cisco.

POSTHUMOUS HEIR BORN TO COL. ASTOR

Mrs. Madeline Forge Astor Gave Birth To a Son At 8:15 This Morning.

By Associated Press. New York, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Madeline Forge Astor, survivor of the Titanic disaster in which her husband, Col. John Jacob Astor was killed, gave birth to a son at 8:15 this morning. The new arrival has been named John Jacob Astor after his father.

The baby is direct heir to $3,000,000 of the Astor fortune. A bulletin issued by the physician read: "Mrs. Astor has a son, born at 8:15 o'clock. His name is John Jacob Astor. Mother and son are in good condition."

The fact that his father proved himself the hero in the Titanic disaster and the wife from whom he parted was his bride of only a few months, coupled with the child's fortune, have lent unusual interest to the arrival of the child. The new Astor baby will be one of the few children ever born with a $3,000,000 fortune in its own right. Col. Astor had provided that whether the child was a boy or girl it should receive $2,000,000.

"Well, you see, I drink a good deal of it myself," said the witness. "Oh, you do?" "You betcher life I do. I drink more whiskey than any two men in the State of Texas." He made the claim with seeming pride.

The state made no effort to impeach that part of the testimony.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—The pension bureau today faces a crisis because it lacks funds to pay pensioners, due to Congress' delay in passing the pension bill. The extension of the old bill for a 15-day period, so that one twenty-fourth of the last appropriation might be used to pay less than half of the fifteen million due August 4, has left 200,000 pensioners unpaid. "I suppose the bill has little chance in the Senate," he added. Pending public questions affecting the welfare of the farmers, the tariff and agricultural development of the country, Governor Wilson said today, would be discussed in his speech before the farmers from Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey at the Farmers' Day celebration tomorrow in this state.

Mrs. Irene Schroeder of Staten Island, tells in her appeal how she ran her husband's home successfully during thirty-five weeks for $55. That was hard enough to do, she adds, but she suggests her spouse reached the limit at their parting when he told her that she was no wife for a poor man.

MUCH INTEREST IN EXCURSION TRIP

Many Have Signified Desire To Go On Trip Conducted By Young Men's Progressive League.

Much interest is being manifested in the trip planned by the Young Men's Progressive League up the Northwestern to advertise the Trades Day and celebration early next month. Although no effort has been made yet to arrange the trip, a number have expressed their intention of going.

Secretary Gaston of the League believes that one-day trade trips by Wichita Falls business men would prove both popular and profitable, and would bring returns far in excess of the cost of the excursion. Trips down the Katy, Wichita Valley and Wichita Falls Route are contemplated and will probably be taken if a sufficient number of excursionists can be recruited.

The League's offices are being installed on the ground floor of the city hall and will soon be ready for business.

SCOUTS ARE BACK FROM HOLLISTER

BOYS REACHED HOME AT ELEVEN O'CLOCK TUESDAY NIGHT AFTER DELIGHTFUL VACATION.

MADE GOOD IMPRESSION

Papers Everywhere Gave Much Space to Local Scouts—Trip Thoroughly Enjoyed.

Tired and travel worn, but nevertheless happy, twenty-four members of the local Boy Scouts reached this city last night at 11:30 o'clock having been absent for the last two weeks attending the Presbyterian Chatauqua at Hollister, Mo. The boys are enthusiastic concerning the good times they enjoyed on the trip, and all unite in saying that they intend to be present at the Chatauqua next year.

Next Friday night each boy will invite five friends to be present at Scout headquarters on Tenth street at which time the story of the trip will be told. It was at first intended to make the meeting a public one, but the cramped quarters on the Scouts would not permit of a public meeting.

Rev. J. L. McKee, who had charge of the trip, said this afternoon that the boys were extended every courtesy from the time they left the city until the time they returned here. Special rates were put in effect, special cars were provided, the Chatauqua management favored the boys with a greatly reduced rate for board and lodging and not a single mishap marred the pleasure of those who took the trip. The boys themselves can best tell the story of their adventures and experience, said Dr. McKee.

He added "in their tramps to the Main Club, Old Deway Bald Mountain, Marble Cave, the Big Dam Site across the White river, and other places, the best of order was preserved and a general good time enjoyed. Four games of baseball were played during the trip, only one of which was lost. The entertainment given by the boys was a decided success, and everyone was well up on his part so that the ability manifested by the boys throughout the exhibition was a great surprise to themselves as well as a source of admiration for the audience."

Practically every paper between Wichita Falls and Hollister sent reporters to pump the scouts in order to secure material for write-ups, and large packages of booster literature furnished by Secretary Forester were carefully distributed all along the line.

The following taken from the Springfield, Missouri Republican, will give an idea of some of the attention attracted:

"Rev. J. L. McKee of Wichita Falls, Texas, a second Judge Ben Lindsey, when it comes to work with boys, was one of the interesting figures at the assembly. Rev. McKee was accompanied by a troupe of twenty-five boys who gave exhibitions in Scoutcraft, and added to the benefit of the convention in many ways. Rev. McKee branches off into entirely new lines in training big boy scouts and has achieved unusual success in turning the boy energy of his home city into constructive channels. Self-reliance, the democratic viewpoint, and ability to do plain, old-fashioned work are the essentials upon which he builds. His scouts in Wichita Falls built the structure which serves as their headquarters and are planning next year for a co-operative market garden. The usefulness of the youngsters he has trained is astonishing. They are expert camp cooks, camp surgeons, carpenters and athletes. At horsemanship and roping they are as well trained as one might expect from young Texans. They have a standing challenge to any similar organization to meet them in any kind of an athletic contest."

J. T. PAYTON HARVESTED 13,000 BUSHELS WHEAT

This Is Believed To Be the Record for Wichita County This Season.

The farm of J. T. Payton on the Red River north of Iowa Park probably holds the Wichita county record for wheat production this season, the total being over 13,000 bushels. While some of Mr. Payton's land yielded as high as thirty bushels per acre, the average was somewhat lower. As far as has been learned this is the largest crop of the season on any one farm and speaks well for the fertility of the Red River country.

Wilson's Career In Brief

Born in Staunton, Va., December 28, 1856.

His father was Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, a Presbyterian minister; his mother was Miss Woodrow.

Attended public schools at Augusta, Ga., and Columbus, N. C.

When eighteen years old he entered Davidson College, North Carolina, but one year later matriculated at Princeton, graduating in 1879.

The next two years were spent at the University of Virginia, studying law. He won the Thomas Jefferson medal for oratory.

One year later, at Atlanta, Ga., practicing law, satisfied him with the business and he turned again to the study of law and government at Johns Hopkins.

Drafted as one of the original faculty of Bryn Mawr College and helped to organize a course of study there, remaining two years.

Next went to Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., as head of department of history and political economy.

Back to his alma mater to occupy the chair of jurisprudence and political economy was his next move.

In 1902 he was elected president of Princeton, the first layman to fill that post.

Began his fight on the quadangle system and to put all students on a man-to-man footing of democracy.

Again locked horns with Princeton leaders about graduate schools. This struggle continued up to the time of his resignation, in 1910 to run for Governor of New Jersey, being elected.

While at Hopkins he wrote, as his thesis, his work on "Congressional Government." He produced "The State," his biography of George Washington, his "History of the United States" and "Division and Reunion."

Under Governor Wilson, who frankly informed the Democrats that if elected they would at the same time elect him leader of the party.

New Jersey; a public service commission was created; a modern workmen's compensation act was passed; primary election laws were extended; the corrupt practices act was strengthened, and an act was placed on the statute book giving municipalities the privilege to adopt the commission form of government.

He was nominated by the Democratic party for the Presidency of the United States in June, 1912—August National Monthly.

2650 CARS OF PEACHES SHIPPED FROM EAST TEXAS.

Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 14.—The agricultural harvest during the month of July in Texas consisted chiefly of peaches, watermelons, cantaloupes, tomatoes, cabbage, onions and a few other minor crops of fruits and vegetables. Reports from east Texas show that 2,650 carloads of peaches were shipped from that section during the month of July, making a total of 3,280 carloads shipped so far this season.

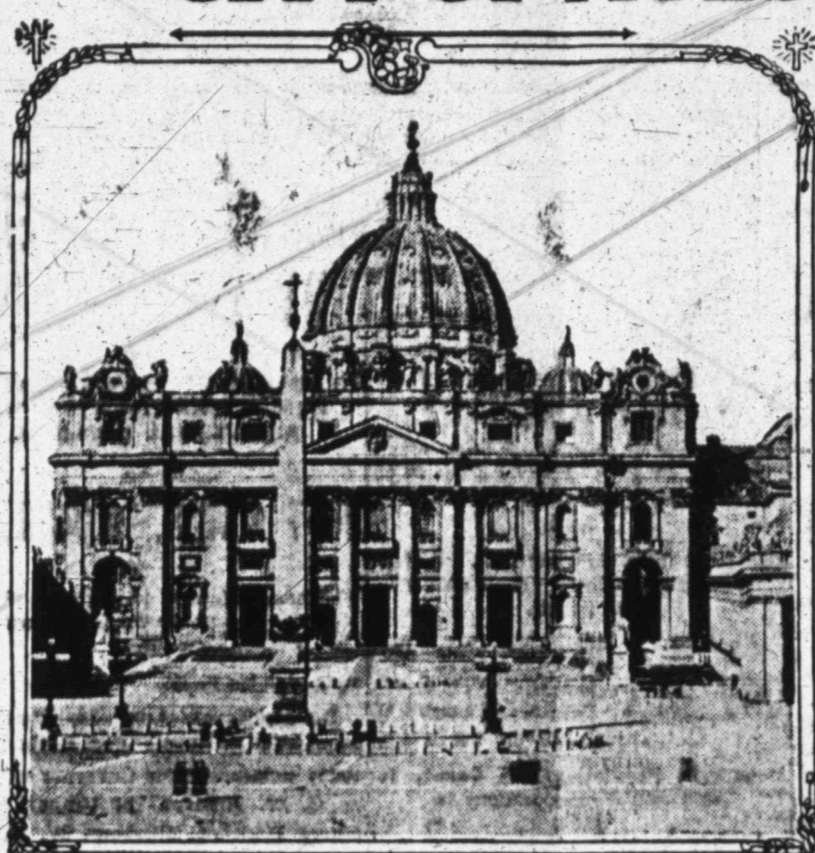

A dispatch from the lower Rio Grande Valley states that 100 carloads of corn have already been shipped from that section, and cotton picking is well under way in South Texas. It is estimated that this year's cotton crop will be near the five-million mark, and a corn yield of approximately 150,000,000 bushels is practically assured.

ROME STILL CITY OF AGES

BAZILICA OF ST. PETER'S

WHAT shall we say of Rome? What can we say? She is the world's city of the ages, and it is improbable that any conceivable combination of advantages can ever produce a rival to her supreme charms. The capital of the greatest empire of antiquity, and in more modern times the metropolis of Christendom, she is unlike any great city in the world. The whole of Rome is one vast museum, in which the very galleries, palaces, churches—which contain the finest of its treasures—are themselves but single items in that museum which is Rome.

When Hawthorne wrote his fascinating tale of the Transformation, in the early '60s, Rome was a maze of narrow, unclean lanes, a congeries of evil smelling, squalid dwellings interspersed with gloomy mediæval palaces in sad disrepair. In short, an ill-drained, ill-lit, unsavory old city, teeming with beggars, models, thieves and cutthroats, and to cap all, the acknowledged headquarters of the malignant malarial fever. But the squalid city of Hawthorne's time has now given place to the fine, well-built capital of United Italy. We must look to the most utilitarian reasons for any interest we may feel in Rome today; to health statistics, to sanitary reforms, to building laws. All these seem prosaic when done under our eyes, but the same things were full of poetry when done in the time of Augustus and Trajan. Let us rid ourselves of the illusions of time and admit that to have driven out dirt, brigandage, and pestilence, and to have diminished crime, is a not unworthy tribute to the glory of Rome as a modern capital, writes Harvey Middleton in Grip.

Area Has Increased. When the Italian troops entered the city through the Porta Pia on the memorable 20th of September, 1870, and papal Rome became the capital of the reconstituted kingdom of Italy, a new era dawned. Since that day the area covered by houses has been increased one-fourth, and the face of Rome has changed more in the past 40 years than in the previous three centuries. Rome in the '60s had a population of about 215,000. In 1911, when Rome celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the Proclamation of the Italian Kingdom with three great exhibitions, the population had grown to nearly half a million. If a map of the city of 1870 is placed opposite a map of today it is easy to see at what point the increase of building has taken place. The spaces once covered by the beautiful Ludovisi Gardens is now filled by wide streets, lined by tall, handsome and perfectly dull but healthy houses. Other streets have arisen on the gardens and fields which lay on the Esquiline and Colian hills between Santa Maria Maggiore and St. John Lateran. A still larger mass of houses—partly detached or semi-detached villa-like residences, partly high blocks of tenement dwellings inhabited by the poorer classes—has sprung up in the district called the Meadows of the Castle (Prati di Castello), to the north of the Castle of St. Angelo, and to the north of the Vatican—a region that was open country from the time when Cincinnati tilted its fields until 1870.

At the opposite side of the city thickly set houses line the streets which run out into the Campagna, from the Porta Pia and the Porta San Lorenzo, so that considerable suburbs now cover what had been a perfectly lonely and silent region from the days of the Emperor Constantine to the days of Pope Leo XIII. Open vineyards have given place to factories, warehouses and dwellings.

Three new bridges have been swung across the Tiber to the former farmlands of Cincinnati. In this neighborhood, too, all along the city side of the Tiber, the embankment, which has done so much for the health of Rome, has swept away innumerable cemeteries—some of the most interesting and picturesque, no doubt, which survived in Rome from the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. It was here that Vanozza, the mother of Caesar Borgia, owned a hostelry, and here, as one wandered in the crowded narrow streets near the Via del Orso, one could best realize the appearance of the city and its strange mixture of squalor and magnificence 400 years ago.

Ghetto Has Vanished. But nowhere has the modern Roman made a cleaner sweep than in the famous Ghetto, that Jewish quarter which was the most compressed and intricate tangle of lanes in the ancient city, a nest of dirt, disease and poverty indescribable. The fish market within the portico of Octavia went years ago. It is hard to realize that in this place the Jews of Rome were herded together like hogs, insulted, hated, robbed and persecuted, and yet multiplied and even occasionally grew rich. The Church of St. Angelo, in which once a year the Jewish elders were compelled to listen to a sermon preached against their religion, still remains, but the entire quarter lying between it and the river has vanished. You may read in history of the suffering of the Ghetto folk when the Tiber overflowed its banks, and how the inhabitants shifted their goods into the upper stories of the houses from boats.

In other quarters of the city sanitary methods were conspicuous by their absence. In many of the streets walking was well nigh impossible owing to the habit of casting all domestic refuse into the open street. The markets of Rome, once the most interesting of Europe, have fallen into line with the less picturesque but more regulated markets of the great capitals. The huge cattle market just outside the Porta del Popolo, has migrated to a corner of Rome not far from the old Protestant cemetery, but nearer to the Tiber. The wild Campagna horsemen with their gaiters and aprons and ox goads no longer form a feature of the Piazza del Popolo, nor do the unwieldy vehicles piled high with the quaking carcasses of pigs and oxen any longer rumble down the Ripetta or the Babuino. A thing of the past, too, is the people's market in the Piazza Navona, where everything that flew or ran or crawled could be purchased. Gone, also, is the market in the Piazza Montanara, under the Theater of Marcelinus, where the laborers were hired every Sunday morning at a certain hour. With the spread of education the letter writing trade in the penning of love notes for enthusiastic but illiterate peasants, has likewise disappeared.

Good hotels, boarding houses, and furnished apartments of all sizes, and suitable to all purses, afford that comfortable accommodation which was lacking or far too expensive in Hawthorne's time. Artists are now boarded and lodged like ordinary mortals; they no longer dwell in marble halls surrounded by mediæval dust and dirt. The foreign visitor is no longer menaced with fever, for malaria—thanks to the greater cleanliness, better drainage, more space and higher ground—has practically vanished. The death rate has been reduced to 18 per thousand against 17.4 for Paris and 15.1 for Berlin. Rome thus ranks among the most healthy of European capitals.

Tired of It.

The four-year-old had taken his reproof in a gratifying spirit, had admitted his fault and cued sweetly for pardon. Encouraged by his receptive attitude, his mother ventured to add a few general ethical truths; but with the first hint of transition from the concrete to the abstract a mild resentment dawned in his eyes.

"Mother," he demanded, respectfully but firmly, "when is this conversation going to stop?"—Harper's Bazar.

Disagreement On Hell Fire

(By the official pamphlet of the I. B. S. A.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—The hot Mid-Summer Convention of the International Bible Students at Glen Echo Park, Washington, D. C., in passing their now famous resolution, made so big a noise about Hell-Fire and Brimstone that the old ecclesiastical line up was thoroughly routed and put to flight, and an entirely new formation of forces is now in the making. It surely was a big gun that was fired from Glen Echo into the camp of the standpatters, and the noise will echo and re-echo throughout the ecclesiastical heavens for some time to come.

Gen. Wm. P. Hall, U. S. A., a brave Indian fighter of the past, in calling for the public repudiation of the hell fire theory, claimed that to do so would create a situation in America that would enable thousands of ministers to publicly declare what they freely admit privately. The desired repudiation was made and the general spontaneous response from ministers of all denominations vindicated the general as an excellent tactician.

The present general repudiation of the hell fire theory by the clergy of the Evangelical Alliance will no doubt be considered by the public as a startling admission, and is in striking contrast with the opinion still held by ninety per cent of the people who were reared under and taught by these same clergy. The impressions gained in childhood from the ministers that the Bible was the authority for the fire and brimstone hell will be hard to erase. It is acknowledged that seventy-five per cent of the people reared under sectarian instruction, when arriving at the age of discretion, discard as un-Christian and unreasonable the hell fire mythology of the Middle Ages, and as they believe the Bible responsible for the doctrine they lose respect for the Bible and for the church, and discard both and join the big congregation composed of detached Christians and skeptics.

The mid-summer resolution repudiating and relegating to the ash heap and red hot hell fire deception, so wonderfully described by Milton and Dante and pictured by Gustave Dore, will probably be likened unto Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Billy Sunday, Gypsy Smith and their kind. Its tough on these gentlemen too, at this stage of their illustrious career, to be deprived of their hell fire works and brimstone, their only argument. Their undoing, however, will be a sweet morsel for the Men and Religion Congress people, who have declared against itinerant Evangelists.

From among the hundreds of recently published expressions from leading clergymen of all denominations on the Washington anti hell fire resolution we quote:

Canon Henson of Westminster Abbey in confirming repudiation of the eternal torment doctrine of the dark ages, said: "I think the American religious public is generations behind us, although I don't say that individual American divines aren't the equals of ours."

The famous R. J. Campbell of London, representing the Non-Conformist view, said: "This seems to me to be a very belated pronouncement. I don't know any clergyman here who believes in eternal punishment; nor do I think any educated clergyman has done so for many years."

Rev. Arthur L. Odell, a St. Louis pastor, said: "I do not know of any Presbyterian minister who believes or preaches this idea. Of course, this hell fire was an idea widely held in earlier years, but the church is breaking away from many of the conceptions of past ages."

Archbishop Glennon, although evading the direct question, leaves the impression that the Catholic clergy no longer believe in literal hell. He said: "It is too hot to talk about such a subject today. As to whether Catholic clergymen preach hell fire, I will say that we preach the faith, and our faith is the faith of the church."

Rev. David S. Phelan, editor Western Watchman, stated: "Catholic priests do not preach a hell of fire. The church has not taken a definite position on the subject."

Rev. Dr. James W. Lee, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, stated: "I do not believe in a fire and brimstone hell, and I think I have never heard but one sermon in which that belief was expressed, and that was down in Georgia years ago."

Rabbi Adolph Rosentriener is quoted as saying with emphasis: "The resolution passed by the Bible Students at Washington ought to have been passed 1500 years ago. I do not believe in a literal hell of fire, of course. Orthodox Jews do not hold that idea."

The Christian Leader and Way prints the following: "The American Association for Bible Study has solemnly stated that there is no hell. A conference of English ministers has adopted the same view. A few days ago the Ministerial Association of Marietta solemnly promulgated or indorsed a like doctrine. In other words, the authorities of the Christian churches seem to agree that the old Biblical conception of a hell of unending torment, of fire and brimstone, is illogical and untruthful."

Pastor Russell of London and Brooklyn Tabernacles says: "If the Bible does teach that Eternal Torment is the fate of all except the saints, it should be preached, yes, thundered, weekly, daily hourly. If it does not so teach, the fact should be made known and the foul stain dishonoring God's holy name removed."

Until the passing of the Washington resolution few ministers could safely publicly repudiate the hell fire error lest they be charged by other ministers with seeking personal notoriety, as a sort of unwritten code of ethics in Ministerial Associations forbids individual action on this and kindred matters. Now that the theological atmosphere has been cleared of a discrediting and deterring fallacy the clergy feel relieved, and it is hoped by many that stranded Christians and possibly some skeptics, may be regained to denominational activities.

Many I. B. S. A. delegates were most positive in their statements that the vast majority of clergymen were in hearty agreement with the president of the I. B. S. A. on the hell fire myth, and that they would gladly go on record, if opportunity afforded, and the world wide spontaneous response more than justifies their claims. However, there is no hope expressed that Billy Sunday and Pastor Russell will agree.

Pastor Russell, president of the International Bible Students Association, in the past has practically stood alone in the lime light on the anti hell fire platform and withstood severe and unjust criticism. Now that leading clergymen of many denominations have mounted the same platform he will henceforth be only one of a galaxy of great preachers to share the brunt of battle against literal fire and brimstone adherents.

Progressive ministers do not expect to find the battlefield vacated by the standpatters. It would be expecting too much to hope that all clergymen would get into the band wagon immediately, and a few ministers of wealth and prominent congregations will not willingly admit past errors, fearing that such an admission would cause laymen to disesteem them. These standpat ministers would like to bring about a country-wide onslaught against Pastor Russell and all other anti-hell fire preachers.

Progressives, however, are not to be deterred by this minority element, which is evidently not in sympathy with the common need, and as a result the people inside and outside of all churches will, through the statements of ministers published in the press, learn that the Bible does not teach the unreasonable doctrine of a literal lake of fire and brimstone.

The resolution as adopted in Washington follows:

Resolved: That it is the sense of the International Bible Students delegates here assembled, that we do not find the Bible to teach the doctrine of a literal hell fire or place of fire and brimstone for the punishment of the wicked; but that secular history of the formation of the creeds of the Middle Ages reveals the fact that for various reasons, either wisely or unwisely, the doctrine of torment in hell fire was added to the Gospel as taught by Jesus and the twelve Apostles, necessitating many ridiculous interpretations of the Lord's parables. We, therefore, now unreservedly repudiate as thoroughly unscriptural the teaching of a place, state or condition of a literal lake of fire and brimstone for the torment of the wicked; and, further, we believe from many personal testimonials that the vast majority of ministers of all Protestant denominations have privately repudiated the hell fire theory, but have for supposedly good reasons hesitated to fully inform their congregations; and, further, we believe, on this account thousands and perhaps tens of thousands are being driven into skepticism or infidelity; therefore, it is further

Resolved: That we appeal to every minister in the United States, to publish in his local newspaper, over his own signature, a statement declaring whether or not he believes the Bible to teach the doctrine of a literal lake of fire and brimstone as a place, state or condition for the eternal punishment of the wicked, and that every editor of a newspaper in the United States be requested to invite the ministers of his constituency to avail themselves of his columns for their statements. We believe that in this one act, they can just now serve their readers better than in any other way; and be it further

Resolved: That the secretary of this convention be instructed, and authorized to mail a printed copy of this resolution to every minister and editor in the United States.

After a general and full discussion the matter was put to a vote, and unanimously adopted by the association.

MERCHANTS URGED TO USE COTTON PRODUCTS

Retail Merchants' Association Has Taken Up Cudgel in Behalf of the Cotton Raisers.

The Retail Merchants Association of Texas has taken up the cudgel for a more extensive use of cotton products, and is urging members to use, whenever possible, cotton goods for wrapping and similar purposes. It believes in this way that a better demand for cotton can be created, with a resultant increase in the price paid the farmer for his staple. The letter sent to the members follows:

To the Membership of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas: At the request and in behalf of the Farmers Congress, it gives me great pleasure to urge you, wherever you can, to use cotton goods for wrapping purposes and otherwise. It has been pointed out that if the merchants who handle cotton will insist upon same being wrapped in cotton bagging instead of Jute it will have a material effect upon cotton being used for that purpose. The effect of this movement would greatly increase the demand for cotton, and would tend to increase the price of the farmers' most staple product in this state.

It would so increase the demand for the lower grades of cotton such as would be used for that purpose, as to increase the earnings of the Texas farmer very materially and would, at the same time, benefit every merchant in Texas. It is a truth so self-evident that whatever helps the farmers helps the merchants, no argument is required to establish that fact. The farmer is our most valuable customer, not alone for what we sell him but for what he sells us. Upon the shoulders of the farmer rests the burden of feeding and clothing the world. In him is the most important field of endeavor duly recognized. To him is given the highest commission in industrial activity as he deals out to the rest of us our daily bread.

In recognition of these truths it be, hooves us to aid and encourage him in every way possible, to the end that all the people will enjoy a fuller measure of the fruits of the soil and of the blessings of the earth. By aiding him to create a wider range of market for the most staple products in Texas, we will, it is hoped, aid in the return to the farm of so many of the people who have moved to town because they found growing cotton to be unprofitable. The result of this exodus from the farm, which is growing alarming, is one of the threatening signs of the social and moral decay.

The farm is the healthiest place in the world to live. The avocation of the farmer, instead of being drudgery, by the application of scientific methods of both producing and marketing should become the happiest of all forms of business. And the farmer who does not become scientific is doomed to be nothing but the man with the hoe. In the language of the great Commoner, back in 1896 at the memorable Chicago convention, we have limited the term business man too much. The farmer tilling the soil is as much a business man as is the one of you who owns the largest store in any of our larger cities. Destroy the city, and it will spring up again as if by magic; let the flames consume our merchandise, if you will, and it is soon replaced, but destroy the farmer and his product and the grass will grow in the very streets of your cities.

Therefore, let us, as merchants, bend every effort to the encouragement of the farmer. Let us use his goods, especially cotton, whenever and wherever possible, and I am sure that he will prosper. Trusting, therefore, that you will do all you can in this worthy cause, I beg to remain, yours respectfully,

W. M. MORGAN, President Retail Merchants Association of Texas.

PHONES 432 & 232 DELIVERIES BY AUTO

A great many women who in past years have spent much time, lots of hard work and no small amount of money in putting up vast quantities of preserves for winter use have seen the light and now buy their preserves.

These same women would have thrown up their hands in horror at such a suggestion only a year or two ago. It took no little persuasion and various trial jars of ready made preserves to convince them that the quality was there, and that the price was no higher if as high as the home made article. But they have learned as you may learn that it does not pay to put up preserves at home when such brands as Monarch, Bismarck, and Curtis Bros. are at your service and in larger varieties than you can possibly secure, for instance a 5-lb. tin of Monarch red cherry preserves is only $1. A 2 1/2-lb. of peach or strawberry preserves only 60c, while 1 quart jars of Bismarck strawberry, blackberry and peach are only 40c and Curtis Bros. strawberry, blackberry and peach jam at 25c per jar.

Before you spend any time or putting up such winter goods, come in and talk with me about a supply for winter use on which I will make you a special price.

to go through a short, snappy but with-bruising campaign.

The last particular point of the favorite son of New Jersey is that he is being misrepresented.

Speaking once of the tobacco habit, the Governor had remarked: "Whatever may be said of the habit of chewing tobacco, it must at least be admitted that the exercise of the practice causes occasionally a moment's hesitation and reflection between the expression of opinions."

This resulted in a statement that he Governor had endorsed chewing tobacco. Without going into the point as to whether the inference was pardonable or whether eminent statesmen who "use the wood" or "Little Robert Reed," of poetic memory, were correct in their views, it may be said Governor Wilson should not let a little thing like that worry him at this stage of his campaign.

He should cheer up. The worst is yet to come.—New York Telegram.

RELATIVES ARE SEARCHING FOR LOYD ROGERS.

The search for Loyd Rogers, 24, who mysteriously disappeared from Wichita Falls last Friday, has extended to Fort Worth. His father, Jim Rogers, wealthy Wichita county farmer, who formerly lived in Fort Worth, arrived here Tuesday morning and enlisted the aid of the police department in the search.

Leaving his home last Thursday morning to go to Dean to take a medical examination to qualify for the mail service, and thence to Wichita Falls to deliver some papers, young Rogers remained in Wichita Falls over night. He paid a grocery bill there Friday morning and walked to the postoffice and was last seen sitting on the steps there.

He has a young wife and two babies at home. He never was known to leave home before without notice to his family and was much devoted to his wife and children. His farm adjoins his father's farm and he visited his old home almost daily.

His father believes that he had something like $50 in his pocket when he disappeared and he suspects foul play. His son was a young man of excellent habits. When he did not return Friday afternoon the elder Rogers began a search, but has been unable to find a single trace of his son beyond the time he was seen at the postoffice steps.

He received much of his education at Polytechnic College and the Rogers lived in Fort Worth until two years ago. His wife is frantic over his disappearance and no expense is being spared in the search.—Star-Telegram.

Brownsville.—The construction gangs at work on the fifteen miles of street railway in this city have been greatly increased in number and the road will be in operation by September first. The extension of the line into West Brownsville has caused a strong demand for resident property.

A light shower fell in Wichita Falls and vicinity this morning. Heavy rains are reported along the Northwestern in the vicinity of Woodward. Good showers fell between Wichita Falls and Fort Worth, but there was no rain on the Denver north of Wichita Falls or on the Wichita Valley.

An international exposition of horticulture will be held at St. Petersburg in the spring.

DAILY DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN, Food Specialist.

UNDER-NUTRITION.

Under-feeding is not common, but under-nutrition is very common, its most serious result being rickets and nervous diseases in children and emaciation in the middle-aged. The food is not often insufficient, even among the poorest, but it is unwisely selected. The commonest mistake of all classes is that flesh meat is essential or that that element of food gives strength especially when there is more "strength" in beans, whole-wheat or rye bread, milk, cheese, uncooked peas, lentils, macaroni and most other foods. If they are not applied in the keeping or in preparation, either by over-cooking, or by illustrating, or by popular lectures on proper feeding, in the large cities, would do more to lower the death rate from consumption than the means now employed.

POLITICAL ETCHINGS

The Color Line. The fact cannot be overlooked, however, that in the south the negro, largely through no fault of his own, has played a demoralizing role in politics. He has been the tool of the Republican party and its selfish and corrupt exploitation of his vote cast an odium on his race from which he suffers infinitely more than he gains by this insincere and mercenary political recognition.

This fact must be faced and wisely dealt with. If the Progressive party is to serve the great cause which called it into being—the cause of human welfare on its broadest and most inclusive lines—it must avoid compromise with the appearance of evil, while affording an instrument through which all may seek and find justice.

A deliberate bid for the support of the colored voter of the South would be an invitation to repeat the shocking conditions that have disgraced and destroyed the Republican vote. Rather must the appeal be to the Southern negro to use his intelligence and support the party because of its broad program of reform, in the effecting of which he, with all others, will find benefit. This appeal will necessarily eliminate from the Progressive party the venal element of the colored population—that element which has been alike the menace and the despair of decent citizenship in the South, both white and colored.—Louisville Herald.

Plenty of Money. George W. Perkins, recently a partner of Pierpont Morgan, and one of the largest trust operators, publicly states that the new party has at command all the money needed to put it in motion. Mr. Perkins was chief financier in the recent attempt to capture the Republican National Convention in the third-term interest, and he and his associates in the background are understood to have paid the heavy bills in getting up the remarkable array of contested delegations in numerous States, more than half of which were abandoned, while the remainder were the most rotten takes ever contrived in a National delegate scheme.

This in an era in which publicity in campaign contributions is demanded. Mr. Perkins has given no list of the sources of the liberality he represents. It is not presumed that he has been spending his own millions or that the investors for whom he acts are chasing political abstractions. He says the third-party has plenty of money, and no one can doubt it who followed the lavish expenditures for the third-term assault upon the Republican party, a convulsive attack in which millions were lavished with astonishing disregard of the cost. But where are all these millions coming from? Mr. Perkins is but the paying agent at the cashier's window. He has not named the contributors according to the publicity requirements. No doubt the list would indicate the motives of those who are putting up the huge pile. In the back office of the Bull Moose show are evidently the generous and disinterested trusts.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Parallel. The admirers of ex-President Roosevelt can scarcely refrain from comparing themselves with the malcontents who flocked to the standard of the exiled David when he fled to the mountains to escape the jealous malice of King Saul. It is thus that the inspired chronicler describes the situation: David therefore departed thence and escaped to the cave of Adullam; and when his brethren and all his father's house heard of it, they went down thither to him.

And every one that was in distress, and every one that was in debt, and every one that was discontented, gathered themselves unto him and he became a captain over them, and there were with him about 4000 men. It is impossible to study the muster roll of the Roosevelt convention without memory recurring to the hosts that gathered around the standard of the Jewish outlaw. This need not be wholly regarded as an unpromising feature for the hunted bandit of Abdullam won out ultimately and became the ruler of Israel. It is not probable, however, that such fortune will follow the Chicago malcontents. Their David has had his experience of supreme rule so many years before his revolt that he can hardly expect to be exalted a third time. There the parallel falls.—Brooklyn Times.

Feeling the Strain. While the political day is yet young and the real stress hasn't commenced, Governor Wilson is already irked at little things. This will never do. It bodes ill of stamina and mental poise.

Pale Igna continues to furnish most of the illumination for Wichita Falls streets after sundown. Has the bomb issue for street lights been forgotten?

Some complaint is made at the filth that is allowed to accumulate on the streets in the paved district, which would suggest a more liberal use of the city's street sweeper.

There is now such a great demand for gasoline, naphtha and the other by-products of kerosene that in order to supply this demand a surplus of that product must be refined. The Standard Oil Company is now seeking a new market for "coal oil."

A tariff expert says that every time we buy a dollar's worth of sugar, 70 cents go for the sugar and the other 30 cents to the tariff charge. It isn't a very sweet chance that the Republican party has of ever getting any votes from the Wichita county housewives who have been putting up fruit this summer if this is true.

Wichita Falls business men who a few months ago subscribed money to buy kaffir corn and milo maize seed to be given to farmers in this section to encourage the growing of feed crops, certainly ought to be satisfied with the results. The biblical return of a hundred fold and then some will be realized this season alone, to say nothing of the good result that will follow in future years. Wichita county farmers will never again have to pay out all the money they can borrow to feed their livestock through the winter.

At last the two horses alleged to have been stolen from an El Paso county ranch by 200 or more Mexican revolutionists have been restored to their owner, or owners. They were found on this side and not on the other side of the Rio Grande, grazing. This will probably have the effect of quieting matters down at Austin, and explains, perhaps, why the war department at Washington has been so ternally slow in answering the telegram sent by Gov. Colquitt, asking for protection by Federal troops, and threatening that if protection was not forthcoming from that source, that he would order out the State troops.

We are aware that a number here could edit this paper a great deal better than the "man at the bat" but they have no money invested in the plant; if they wish to dictate as to how it shall be run they must buy chips and get in the game.—Supply (Okla.) Republican.

And they will never be convinced that they don't know a great deal about the newspaper business until after they do as the Oklahoma paper suggests—"buy chips and get in the game." It is the fellows who get their feet wet, who have experience and have paid for it, that can afford to give pointers on how a newspaper should be conducted, and that advice will generally be to give the people just as good a paper as they deserve, or as the patronage will justify. That's as much as any reasonable person could expect.

While it is almost a certainty that Wilson will be the next president of the United States, this is no time for Democrats to rest on their oars. We have been jolly long enough over the nomination of Wilson. Let's get to work now, and elect him. Of course, Texas is for him, but as both branches of the Republican party are liberally supplied with campaign funds, it is up to the Democrats who do not believe that money for campaign purposes should be accepted from sources that are responsible to a large extent to do something in a financial way to aid the Democratic campaign fund. Sum from $1 up should be forwarded to Hon. Cato Sells, Cleburne, Texas, who is the National committeeman from Texas, and he will promptly acknowledge receipt of same. Or, if the subscriber prefers, he can hand in his donation to the Times, and it will be forwarded to Mr. Sells promptly.

Frank Kell left recently for an extensive trip through the Northwestern United States and Western Canada and will be away several weeks. His trip will include many points of interest in the Western States and he will also visit British Columbia, returning here early in September.

BOAT RIDERS TOOK PLUNGE INTO LAKE

Boat Slips From Beneath Their Feet When They Attempt to Land Escape With Good Wetting.

Some excitement was created at Lake Wichita yesterday evening by the announcement that a young lady had fallen into the water and many people on the piers rushed to the scene fearing that something serious had taken place. These found a young man and a young lady struggling in the water, both having slipped out of a boat as they were attempting to land on the pier. With the assistance of by-standers, the young man soon succeeded in placing himself and the young lady safely on the pier, and although both were thoroughly soaked, neither was much the worse for the experience.

The principals in the affair were John O'Donahoe and Miss Myrtle Stringer of Electra, who were attending a picnic and at the time the accident had just returned from a boat ride. Both attempted to step from the boat to the pier at the same time and the result was that the unstable

The Wichita County Medical association held its regular meeting at the city hall last night, but the attendance was not very large. The motion prevailed by a vote of one aye, no noes.

INDIAN ROMANCE IN TOWN NAMES

Many Oklahoma Towns Derived Their Names From Indian Events.

Indian legends and romances are the basis for the names of many of the towns in Oklahoma. The town of Vinita was named in 1871 by the Elder E. C. Boudinot, the noted Cherokee orator and statesman, in honor of Vinnie Ream Hoxie of Washington, D. C. Vinnie Ream was born in old Wyandotte, Kan., and grew to young womanhood in that town. When she afterwards became famous as a sculptress in Washington, Boudinot, then an exile from the Cherokee tribe, "knew and admired her" and named the town Vinita in her honor.

The town of Broken Arrow obtained its name from a similar Indian legend. In a beautiful part of the prairie, near the Arkansas River lived many tribes of Indians. So many differences arose among these tribes that soon they were broken up into hostile tribes and war was declared. At the end of a fierce and sanguinary conflict the chiefs of the various tribes met together on a conspicuous mound near the present town of Broken Arrow. Here their quarrels were composed and in celebration of the event their arrows were broken. This action was their sign of peace. And so the name of Broken Arrow.

The name of Anadarko is the basis of another Indian legend. William Shirley, who died in 1910, married the last member of the Nadarko tribe of Indians, and his son, Harry Shirley, is the only living survivor of the Nadarko tribe. The name Anadarko came about in this way: A government official, visiting the tribe, desired to select a name for a postoffice. Shirley was an Irishman and when the official asked him for a suitable name he said "Call it 'Nadarko' in honor of my wife." The official did not catch the answer clearly because of Shirley's brogue and wrote it Anadarko, and so the name was survived.

Shirley had been in the Caddo county for many years and was a very old man at his death. He had built a sort of castle about a mile and one-half north and east of Anadarko, the remains of which are still standing. There are also some springs named his honor. The town of Ocheelata was named for an Indian chief. This chief's name "Ocheelatah," and his English name was Charles Thompson. The name Ocheelatah means eloquence, a musical voice, and sometimes it is applied to music. Thompson was one of the orators of his day. In the Cherokee tongue, although he could not speak English. He was tall, stately and handsome, straight as an arrow, and weighed 300 pounds.

Nowata is another town in Eastern Oklahoma with an Indian name. This name came from the Indian word No-wah-tah, the English of which is medicine. Another is Tah-lah-lah, meaning red head. Tah-lah-lah is the name of a bird called in English the woodpecker, which has a very red head. In all probability many of these birds were found in the tall timber which grew near the site of the present town of Nowata. Pawhuska in the Osage Indian language means white hair. White Hair was the principal Indian chief thereabouts when Pawhuska was located.

hence the town was named for him. The name Muskogee is derived from the Muskogee or Creek tribe of Indians, which for many years as one of the five civilized tribes, occupied the Indian Territory part of the state of Oklahoma. The Muskogee or Creek tribe occupied what was generally known as the Creek nation comprising that section of Oklahoma lying between the Canadian river on the north and the old Indian Territory and Oklahoma line on the west and the Arkansas river on the east.

In the treaties and agreements between the Indians and the Dawes commission this tribe is referred to as the Muskogee or Creek tribe, and from this the old trading post of Muskogee derives its name, this name being adopted by the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway Company, which built through to Texas in 1872.

YOUNG FARMERS WILL PARTICIPATE

Boys' Cotton and Corn Clubs and Girls' Tomato Clubs Will Participate in Celebration.

J. W. Campbell, special agricultural agent for Wichita county, is working to promote interest on the part of the Boys' Corn, Cotton and Girls' Tomato Clubs in the monster Labor Day celebration now being arranged for by the Chamber of Commerce. Labor organizations, the Farmer's Union, the Young Men's Progressive League and several other organizations. According to Mr. Campbell the big parade will be participated in by these clubs, all of which will be represented by delegates who have been the most successful in raising different crops. It is probable that following the parade a special street car will be chartered for the members of the different clubs and a trip taken to Lake Wichita. In that case the street car will be decorated with specimens of corn, cotton, tomatoes, watermelons and other fruits raised by the occupants of the car. Mr. Campbell thinks there is no doubt but that a prominent part in the celebration will be taken by the boy and girl composing the above named clubs.

PEACH STORIES THAT STAGGER BELIEF

Postmaster Bacon Has Corroboration for Them Too—Other Crops, Too, Are Promising.

Postmaster Bacon is telling some peach stories that would be hard to believe coming from another than one of Mr. Bacon's voracious reputation. Mr. Bacon too, is backed up in his stories by Dr. L. C. Coe's. Accompanied by Mrs. Bacon and the Misses Coons they drove out to the peach orchard of J. B. L. Hansard near Thornberry yesterday.

Mr. Hansard has fourteen acres of peach trees that are heavily loaded with fruit of an unusually large size and superior quality. Mr. Bacon learned that over one thousand bushels had been picked since last Thursday, but he wasn't able to find where they were missed. He said there must have been two or three thousand bushels more on the trees.

"Twenty of them would make a peck," said Mr. Bacon, "and we could pick a peck without ever moving from our tracks from one tree."

Mr. Bacon believes he saw corn fields that would yield 75 bushels per acre and plenty of cotton that would make a bale to the acre. "The cotton we saw yesterday will average better than three-quarters of a bale an acre," said Mr. Bacon. "Unless some disaster not foreseen should overtake us I believe this will be the most prosperous county in the United States this fall," he added.

Sid Hickman, one of the Times delivery boys, sustained injuries of a rather painful nature yesterday afternoon while on his route delivering papers. In some manner the horse that he was driving became frightened and ran away, throwing young Hickman out with the result that among other injuries, he received a badly cut lip.

A small pile of burning trash back of the new home of the Bessey Furniture company at Ninth and Indiana this morning resulted in a fire alarm. The fire was only fifty feet from the fire station but the blaze was so insignificant that the truck went around the block before it was located. The damage was trivial.

are right. They are the best that can be sold for the money. They are kept right and sold so fast that today we have not a cigar that has been in the house sixty days. There is a great difference in smoking a cigar fresh from the moistening vaults and the one that has been allowed to become bone dry from lack of attention. The dry ill-kept cigar is the one that soon gets full of bugs, while a cigar properly kept is never attacked by insects. We give our cigar department the best attention of any thing in the house. If you are a connoisseur of the weed let us tease your taste with a smoke that always hits the spot.

FIVE RIVERS COMPANY SECURES GOOD LEASE Alabama People Secure 40 Acres Off Southeast Corner of J. H. Marriott Lease East of Electra. W. W. Silk, manager for the Five Rivers Oil Company, yesterday closed a deal whereby his company secures forty acres off the southeast corner of the J. H. Marriott tract. This is the tract on which Owen and Wilson brought in a 200 barrel well in shallow sand last week and is now regarded as one of the best pieces in the field. The Owen and Wilson well is now producing 250 barrels but is expected to settle down to about 200 barrels. The Five Rivers Company in taking the lease has contracted to sink four wells to the 1800 foot sand if necessary, work to start within thirty days. Owen and Wilson are starting another well on their part of the lease and the Producers Company is starting another well on the north end of the same lease.

W. B. Head of Dallas, general manager of the Texas Light and Power company, recent purchasers of the local plant, is in the city today looking the ground over. Mr. Head said that he might have something of interest to Wichitans later.

J. H. Marriott and wife, owners of the tract upon which Owen and Wilson recently brought in a well northeast of Electra, have leased a 40-acre tract to the Five Rivers Oil company of this city. The lease is for a cash consideration of $46,000, with one-eighth royalty on all oil or gas produced. The oil company is to sink a well to the depth of 1800 feet, beginning within thirty days and binds itself to put down another well should the first be a dry hole.

Wichita Falls will soon get to be a sure enough summer resort if the weather man will deal as kindly with her as he has in the past two weeks. So far this week the temperature has not gone above the 94-degree mark and it has been some time since the mercury climbed as high as 100. A pleasant breeze has been blowing regularly for some days and the weather has been far from unpleasant. The recording thermometer at Fonville's shows that the mercury usually drops below the 80-degree mark during the night.

THE BEST PROOF. Wichita Falls Citizens Cannot Doubt It. Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they cured. The story was told to Wichita Falls residents. Time has strengthened the evidence. Has proven the cure permanent. The testimony is home testimony. The proof convincing. It can be investigated by Wichita Falls residents. R. P. Redin, Avenue A, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "My back bothered me for two or three years and the spells often came on without warning. I was so lame across the small of my back that I could hardly bend. My kidneys became disordered and the kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, causing me annoyance. I finally got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and began their use. They cured me and I have not felt a return of the symptoms since." The above statement was given June 19, 1908 and when Mr. Redin was interviewed on December 27, 1911, he added: "When occasion requires a kidney medicine we always use Doan's Kidney Pills and know that they will act quickly in bringing relief. You are at liberty to use my statement as heretofore." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. Home Helps. Buy soap before you need it and keep it in a dry place so that it will harden. It will then last much longer. Bent whalebones can be straightened by soaking them in boiling water for a few moments and then ironing them straight, says the San Diego Union. Scorched fireproof dishes should be soaked in strong borax water till the unsightly brown marks upon them can be rubbed off with a cloth. To keep a kettle clean, always empty out the water before refilling it. Very often the flat taste of tea is caused by using water that has already been boiled. Use hearth stone for removing burnt marks from saucepans and dishes, and also for scouring discolored earthenware, sinks, etc. It is cheaper than pumice stone, and answers the purpose equally well.
