

WILSON MAKES CAMPAIGN SPEECH

IN SPEECH TO FARMERS DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE DISCUSSES EVILS OF PROTECTION.

WOULD DENY PRIVILEGES

Declares All Classes, Except Tillers of the Soil, Have Secured Special Legislation.

Gloucester, N. J., Aug. 16.—Under the glare of a hot sun, thousands of farmers massed about Gov. Woodrow Wilson here Thursday and heard him make his first campaign speech since he was officially notified a week ago of his nomination to the Presidency.

The Governor spoke extemporaneously at Washington Park, where the farmers of New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania were participating in a celebration. The candidate dwelt mostly on the protective tariff, which he called "the restrictive tariff," attacked Senator Aldrich and his tariff-making associates, pointed out the benefits of a merchant marine in connection with the Panama Canal and blamed the influence of express companies in halting parcels post legislation.

The Governor frequently was interrupted by applause and cheers. When he finished speaking many of the farmers wanted to shake hands. The Governor was at the park about two hours, returning to Seagirt early last night.

Governor Wilson said in part: "I am interested in politics not as a search for office, but as a great contest devoted to something very definite and practical indeed. Politics ought to be considered as a mere occasion for oratory. Politics ought not to be considered as a branch of the National business and a man who talks politics ought to tell his fellow citizens very distinctly what he thinks about their affairs and what his own attitude toward them is.

"Here we are at a farmers' picnic and on this day I suppose we might say that the farmers occupy the center of the stage. When did the farmers ever occupy the center of the stage in our politics? I don't remember any time. I have seen the interests of a great many classes especially regarded in legislation, but I must frankly say that I have seldom seen the interests of the farmer regarded in legislation. And one of the greatest impositions upon the farmer of this country that has ever been devised is the present tariff legislation of the United States.

"I have not heard of farmers waiting for a hearing before the committee of Ways and Means of the House and the Finance Committee of the Senate in order to take part in determining what the tariff schedule should be. While you were feeding the world, Congress was feeding the trusts. Nobody doubts what the process of tariff legislation has been, because everybody who has been curious enough to inquire knows what the process of tariff legislation has been.

"I would be ashamed of myself if I tried to stir up any feeling on the part of any class against any other class. I wish to disavow all intention of suggesting to the farmer that he go in and do somebody up. That is not the point. All that I am modestly suggesting to you is that you break into your own house and live there. And I want you to examine very critically the character of the tenants who have been occupying it. It is a very big house, and very few people have been living in it and the rent has been demanded of you and not of them. You have paid the money which enabled them to live in your own house and dominate your own premises.

"I regard this campaign as I regard every campaign in which people have taken part since the world began, as simply a continued struggle to see to it that the people were taken care of by their own Government. And my indictment against the tariff is that it represents special partnerships and does not represent the general interest. It is a long time since tariffs were made by men who even supposed they were seeking to serve the general interests because tariffs are not made by the general body of members of either House or Congress. They have in the past been made by very small groups of individuals in certain committees of those houses, who even refused information to their fellow members as to the basis upon which they had acted in framing the schedules.

"Now there are various questions which you gentlemen ought to realize are pending, questions that directly concern the farmer of this country. It makes a great deal of difference to you that Mr. Taft the other day vetoed the steel bill. It makes a difference to you in the cost of practically every tool that you use

CHOKED A YOUNG BRIDE

New York Police Searching Haunts of Ruffians and Criminals For Him.

New York, Aug. 16.—The haunts of ruffians and criminals were searched today for a robber whom the police say is one of the most brutal they have known. In an Eighth avenue apartment the robber attacked two women. In one case he picked up an infant and dashed it against the wall to torture the woman into revealing her money. The second victim was a young bride who was choked into insensibility and then robbed of jewelry and money.

GOV'T MOVES AGAINST PICTURE SHOW TRUST

Attorney General Files Suit For Dissolution of Motion Picture Patents Company.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 16.—The Federal Government attacked the so-called moving picture trust in a civil suit filed today for the dissolution of the Motion Picture Patents Company and the General Film Company. Ten other picture film concerns are accused of combining to monopolize the business even to the extent of increasing or decreasing the number of theatres in which they have no proprietary interests.

TEXAS NATIONAL GUARD LEAVES ALEXANDRIA, LA.

WATERMELONS THREE FEET LONG

FINE SPECIMEN OF GEORGIA WALKING CANE VARIETY GROWN NEAR THIS CITY.

WILL BE SOLD BY CORD

Local Firm Contracts For Load, None of Which Are To Be Shorter Than Three Feet.

Walking Cane—Georgia Watermelons, which combine all the superior qualities of all other varieties of watermelons are now being marketed in Wichita Falls. The term "walking cane" will apply to the length alright but the application stops there for the melons weigh more than fifty pounds.

Sherrod's Grocery placed one of the specimens on ice for the Reds and Blues who are soliciting memberships for the Young Men's Progressive League. This was one of the small ones, Mr. Toney says, being only 35 inches in length and weighing only 58 pounds. Mr. Toney says he has contracted with the man who raises them to furnish him a wagon load of full sized ones next week, none of which are to be less than three feet in length and to weigh not less than fifty pounds apiece. They are grown by a truck farmer at the edge of the city, who sells them by the cord.

ATHLETIC CONTEST AT GALVESTON.

By Associated Press.

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 16.—Thirty-five young athletes from South Texas points will compete in fifteen track and field events this afternoon in the annual cotton carnival athletic meet under the auspices of the A. A. U. Many of the best athletes have entered and it is likely that some new records will be made. W. W. Peters of Galveston is director of the games and A. K. Jones of Galveston starter and referee.

TILLMAN MAY ANNEX SLICE OF COMANCHE

Some Citizens of Devo and Bryan Townships Would Rather Belong To Tillman County.

A committee of Frederick citizens will go in automobiles today to Devo, to set in motion a plan for the annexation of Devo township and the south half of Bryan townships, in Comanche county. These townships adjoin Tillman county on the southeast, and a majority of the residents of the territory which it is proposed to annex are reported to be anxious to come into Tillman county, for the reason that they have rail connection with Frederick, and have none with Lawton. A party from Grandfield will join the Frederick boosters, and the petitions to the governor to call the election will be circulated, with the assistance of some citizens of the townships mentioned.—Frederick Leader.

15-Year-Old Girl Can't Live On $2400 Year

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 16.—"This high cost of living proposition is very perplexing," sighed Miss Mildred Sackett, aged fifteen, who is compelled to worry along on $2400 a year. Miss Mildred has been drawing this allowance from her late father's estate since she was eleven years old, but it's a far cry from eleven to fifteen, when you're a girl, and your eyes are just beginning to respond to the lure of shop windows and you begin to long for wonderful headgear and silk stock—

But what's the use of drawing up a bill of particulars? Miss Mildred determined that she could not worry along on her $2400 a year, so her guardian has asked Probate Judge Hadden to grant an increase. The amount of this will not be known until Judge Hadden announces his decision.

When Miss Mildred's father died in 1897 the estate was worth about $100,000.

OROZCO STIPULATES HIS TERMS OF PEACE

Will Not Insist Upon Madero's Retirement, But Certain Reforms Must Be Made.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 16.—That Gen. Pascual Orozco, leader of the revolutionary forces in Mexico, is willing to cease hostilities and retire as a revolutionist against the Madero Government is the declaration of Dr. Henry Allen Tupper of Brooklyn, N. Y., representative of the International Peace Forum, who passed through Dallas last night on his way home from Juarez, Mexico, where he had several interviews with Orozco.

"Statements have been made heretofore that Orozco would never consent to peace until Madero retired as President," Dr. Tupper said. "In his interviews with me Orozco said he is very anxious for peace and will not insist upon Madero's retirement. He said he will not make that an ultimatum, but will insist on certain reforms, such as the discontinuance of nepotism on the part of Madero."

Dr. Tupper exhibited a personal letter signed by Orozco in which the latter said he was "vehemently anxious for peace." He also exhibited but not for personal, a 2,000-word statement, with duplicate copies in Spanish and English, which he said set out the conditions upon which Orozco will agree to cease his revolution. Dr. Tupper said the contents of this statement may be given out for publication when he reaches the North.

"In this statement Orozco makes concessions which he has never before made and I believe they may be the basis for peace," Dr. Tupper said. "This movement was entirely on my initiative and I wish it emphasized that President Taft, who is the honorary president of the International Peace Forum, has not been consulted on the matter and will not be until next week, when I expect to be in Washington."

Dr. Tupper was the guest of Dr. F. S. Davis while in Dallas.

Seagirt, N. NEW OWNERS EXPRESS DESIRE TO CO-OPERATE

W. B. Head, General Superintendent Water and Light Company Attends Meeting of Council.

A desire to co-operate with the city officials in every way was expressed at last night's council meeting by W. B. Head, general superintendent of the Texas Water and Light Company. Mr. Head attended the meeting to get acquainted with the aldermen, Messrs. Richolf and Young were absent last night and several matters were postponed by the council until their return.

Mr. Head wanted to assure the council that the corporation he represented was different from the usual public service company. It had thirteen million dollars back of it, he declared, being one of the strongest concerns of its kind in the country. He promised to co-operate with the council in every way possible. The city will probably make a contract with the light company before long for the current for the proposed new street lights and it is said that a low rate will be given for the service, making it easy for the city to install the improved system. Mr. Rubin is also anxious for the water company to build mains to supply those now on private mains and it is feared that the rather haphazard system of constructing private mains will result in confusion later on.

The council put the awning ordinance and the new fire limits ordinance on first reading last night, but took no further action.

Waco, Texas, Aug. 16.—Sam Neely, a billiard room owner, while shooting at A. D. Epperson, a baker at McGregor, last night shot Ollie Gardner, a 13-year-old girl and she may die. She was taken to the Temple Hospital. Epperson was shot four times but not seriously hurt. He is unmarried but Neely has a large family. His wife applied for a divorce last week. Neely charges that Epperson broke up his family. He surrendered.

SPECIAL JUDGE TO HEAR CASES

JUSTICE GOFF WILL PRESIDE AT TRIALS OF MEN INDICTED IN IN ROSENTHAL CASE.

HE IS WELL QUALIFIED

Was Counsel For Ludlow Committee and Presided in Kennedy, Patrick and Molineux Trials.

New York, Aug. 16.—Interest in the Rosenthal conspiracy and its police graft case centered today in Governor Dix's appointment of Supreme Court Justice Goff to hear the cases in extraordinary session beginning September 3. Justice Goff's selection comes before all the indictments have been returned, Becker alone having been indicted so far for murder. The district attorney regards the return of the other true bills as certain.

They will be handed up early next week after Schapp's testimony has been heard. First to be placed on trial are the gunmen. Becker's trial will probably be the last. Justice Goff is especially well qualified for a sympathetic understanding of a case involving police graft. He was counsel for the now famous Ludlow committee which uncovered much crookedness years ago and he has been assistant district attorney here.

On the bench he presided in such well known cases as the Kennedy, Patrick, Molineux trials.

INVESTIGATORS MARKING TIME.

By Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 16.—Investigators of the Rosenthal conspiracy marked time today, pending the outcome of the search at Neutown, Massachusetts for Lefty Louis and "Oyp the Blood" and the arrival of Sam Schepps on route from Hot Springs.

The public prosecutor does not want to start the trials until the wanted men are found unless he has to. Clues leading to the search in Massachusetts were gained from Bridget Webber accused in the conspiracy. He received a letter; the prosecutor discovered it and determined it was written by the fugitives. There is a reward of $5000 for the arrest of the gunmen.

When Schepps arrives Monday he will be arraigned on a murder charge and put in the West Side prison with Rose Vallon and Webber. Assistant District Attorney Rubin who is bringing Schepps home has sent word that Schepps will be a witness for the State.

RUBIN REACHES INDIANAPOLIS WITH SCHEPPS.

By Associated Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 16.—Assistant District Attorney Rubin and party taking Sam Schepps to New York as a material witness in the Rosenthal case passed through this city early today. It was said they would stop in New York state before going into New York city, but Mr. Rubin declined to say where.

Schepps was asleep in his berth, watched by detectives during the time the train stopped in this city. Mr. Rubin said the route into New York city was to be kept secret to avoid if possible any interference from "outside interests." Neither he nor Schepps he said would make further statements as to Schepps' part in the trial.

ASKS INJUNCTION TO PREVENT A RECOUNT

By Associated Press.

Beaumont, Texas, Aug. 16.—Jake Giles, nominee for sheriff of Jefferson county filed a petition today asking an injunction to restrain the Democratic executive committee from recounting the ballot of the primary held July 27, alleging that the ballot boxes have been tampered with. Giles, the incumbent, was nominated by 126 majority over Ras Landry, who promptly filed contest proceedings which the petition seeks to enjoin.

SOULS ARE NOW EXTINGUISHED FROM LIFE.

By Associated Press.

Beaumont, Texas, Aug. 16.—One occasionally hears of them at revival meetings and the like, but they have entirely disappeared from cities, summer resorts, shopping districts, financial centers and other places where humans are wont to gather habitually. The oldest living resident at Newport probably has never seen a soul on the premises. Souls first began to show signs of senile decrepitude and rigor mortis when their locus was transferred from the solar plexus to the pocket-book.

As one never looks into a pocket-book for anything but money, souls have become dull from neglect, blind from the absence of light and crabbed from the lack of human companionship. If the next world depends for prosperity upon continued immigration of souls, it is in for a pretty big pane.

Breakfast Monotony

—the same old chops, or bacon and eggs, and biscuit, for breakfast may be avoided.

For a change, try this ideal breakfast

- Some fresh fruit
- Saucer of Grape-Nuts and cream
- A soft-boiled egg
- Some nice crisp toast
- A cup of Postum

This will give you an ideal combination of the three principal food elements—proteins, carbohydrates and fats—in the most easily digestible form.

And it means a wide awake individual with energy and a clear head to make a stir in the world; it replaces that dull, sluggish feeling which so often follows the too-much-meat-and-biscuit breakfast.

The man who has work to do can't afford to be overloaded with the kind of food that requires undue effort on the part of his digestive organs for a time and leaves him with a "gone feeling" just about the time of day when he needs his best mental and physical powers.

Grape-Nuts food affords a real strength of mind and body with little effort (or waste force) in getting it converted in the system into energy and staying-power—the power to act and to endure.

LONG SLEEVES NOW THE MOST FASHIONABLE

Coates and Top Coats Becoming a Subject of Absorbing Interest.

New York, Aug. 16.—If there is any one thing more than another which give style and distinction to a gown it is the shape and set-of the sleeves. All otherwise charming and becoming dress can be made hopelessly unfit by a defective understanding of this important adjunct. Close study of the tendencies of styles in that direction is necessary if a woman would achieve good costume. At the present time we need only a brief study of the fashion models to learn that the up-to-date sleeve is the long sleeve. All the best French dressmakers are issuing them, and their customers are accepting them without a qualm of conscience. With all due allowance for a more unequal climate, and a national temperament which clings to freedom and a measure of independence in matters of dress, American women are yielding a partial assent to the order and adopting the long sleeve where it will not interfere too much with ease and comfort. In this they are wise, for the long sleeve is not now the straight and stiff creation with unvarying lines we used to know. It has achieved individuality and is many times the keynote of the whole dress. Almost invariably it is set into a dropped armhole, sometimes so deep as clearly to betray its origin in the kimono sleeve of recent vogue.

This illustration shows one of the most conservative of the long sleeves now worn. The shoulder line extends well over the top of the arm, thus gaining an ornamental seam at its joining with the sleeve. The late coatee or coat waist is one of the best style features of the season and the skirt with inverted side pleats is also entirely up-to-date.

Much variation is possible in the long sleeves, as was said before, and in elaborate gowns they may be made as ornaments, as one wishes by means of puffs, pleats and shirtings of all kinds. A popular sleeve has the dropped shoulder into which the top of the sleeve is gathered so as to form a distinct puff at the elbow. A row of gathers at the bottom of the puff draws it into a sort of musquetaire ruffled cuff at the wrist. In charming, crepe, or chiffon cloth, this makes a dressy sleeve. Then there are the long sleeves with the puff dropped to the wrist, where it is gathered into a band in true-bishop fashion. The usual lace frill finishes the bishop sleeve of course. The frill is an inevitable accompaniment of all full dress sleeves, and no better frame for a pretty hand or blessed concealment for an ugly one could have been devised.

With the dropped armhole the waistline has of necessity been altered in order to preserve the proportion of the upper part of the dress. Instead of the exaggerated line two or two and a half inches above the normal the best dresses are now made a scant inch above the regular belt. With the modern straight corset the present line is practically normal, and there is no denying the fact that women have of late made great advance towards true beauty of figure because of it. Already the old models with contracted waist and bulging hips and bust look unnatural. Who knows but that the present trend of fashion may in time lead us back to the wholesome and natural human outline embodied in the ancient Greek ideals?

But so long as improvement is manifested we are thankful and give due praise to the present style of dress. The lace coatee we were discussing before the digression is one of the garments made only chic by the new silhouette and it is consequently apparent in some form in many models. The coat gown, as it is called, is steadily growing in favor, for most women, consciously or unconsciously, feel inappropriately dressed for the street without a coat. The feeling, no doubt, lent to the acceptance of the pepum. The pepum, at first an adjunct of the skirt, was soon frankly attached to the waist and beheld the evolution of the coatee. Individuality then produced new renderings of the coatee, and now they are as various as the dress itself. A lady one just out is part of a white serge dress, the edges of the coatee and the bottom of the skirt being cut in scallops and bound with black satin. The coatee, be it understood, is the waist of the dress, no other blouse being needed under it. For this reason it is an ideal summer suit and has an advantage over even the linen coat suit, with its two thicknesses of coat and waist. But aside from the comfort of it, it is a smart fashion, especially as realized in coats and skirts of different colors.

Sherlock a Second Rater.
A good many men have asked Walter Brennan, the Burns detective operative, who planned the trap into which nine aldermen are said to have fallen, to give them work as detectives; but the limit of audaciousness in that regard was reached by a man who said his name was William Denny.

This man walked up to Detective Brennan and said he wanted to go to work as a detective. Brennan asked him what his qualifications for the work were.

"I am a natural detective and would soon throw you in the shade if I got a chance. I know I am a better man than you because my head has a better shape" was the candid answer of this applicant. "I have made a study of skulls ever since I first thought of detective work and mine indicates the highest degree of reasoning power, a quality indispensable in a detective. You have a nice skull. I should like to examine it more closely as soon as you die, but mine is better."

HECK THOMAS, FAMOUS OFFICER, IS DEAD

Man Who Helped Break Up Sam Bass Gang of Outlaws Dies Peacefully At Lawton.

Lawton, Okla., Aug. 16.—Heck Thomas, for six years chief of police of Lawton, and most widely known peace officer in the whole southwest country, died at his home here Thursday, the victim of an extended attack of Bright's disease and heart trouble. Thirty-six hours before death he became unconscious and never recovered. Born in Athens, Ga., Jan. 6, 1850, he was early plunged into the eddies of civil strife. When at the age of 12, he went with his uncle, George E. Thomas, as courier in the Thomas brigade of the Stonewall Jackson division, Confederate army. He was in the second battle of Manassas Junction, at the capture of Harper's Ferry and the battle of Fredericksburg. Besides numerous smaller engagements of the civil war, his first attainment of real fame as a handler of outlaws, which he worked almost constantly for thirty years, occurred at the age of 25, when as a messenger for the Texas Express Company between Galveston and Denison, he outwitted the Sam Bass gang of outlaws and saved $22,000 of the company's money by hiding in a stove. Later he was instrumental in breaking up that notorious band of Texas desperadoes. In 1882 he was a candidate for chief of police of Fort Worth, and lacked but twenty-two votes of winning when, with forty-one of his own voters lined up at the booths, a fight caused the polls to be closed early. As a deputy United States marshal in the old Indian Territory he was rated as one of the best man hunters who ever invaded that resort for fugitives and criminals.

REDS LEADING IN MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Contestants Expect to Pass 300 Mark For Membership Young Men's Progressive League.

The membership of the Young Men's Progressive League has been brought up well past the 250-mark as a result of the contest between the "Reds" and the "Blues" which has been in progress for the past day or two. The score this morning stood: Reds, 71; Blues, 62. Total new members, 133.

These members, added to more than one hundred who had already been enrolled, give the new organization a strong and active list. The contest will end tonight and it is hoped to pass the 300-mark before the lists are closed.

A. L. Huey is leading the Blue faction, while the Reds are headed by Bert Beam. Both sides have been hard at work and the "turn-downs" have been very few, nearly everyone being enough to be a member gladly enrolling.

Secretary Gaston of the League is at work on the details of the proposed trip up the Northwestern and expects to be able to make some definite announcement regarding it tomorrow.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SELECT COTTON SEED

The average farmer picks his cotton as it opens, gins it, sells it and sows, and then about the last of the season hauls seed enough for next year's planting. In this way, he saves the latest and poorest seed.

If, when the cotton begins to open, the farmers, with as much intelligent help as the size of the crop will warrant, would go through the field and select the early big bolls that are grown on short-pointed, vigorous, well formed stalks, until he has saved enough to furnish seed for next year's planting, and would have this seed ginned to itself, and carefully store it where it will not heat, it is safe to say that the next season's crop would ripen ten or fifteen days earlier than the average of this year's crop, and that the yield would be practically doubled.

It would be just as reasonable to shake down the apples promiscuously from a tree and take them to the fair, hoping to win a premium in competition with a man who had selected only the choicest specimens, or to turn all of your stock loose to breed indiscriminately instead of forcing the survival of the fittest by the most rigid selection, and expect to improve your stock, as it is to plant seed of any kind without selecting with the greatest care the most vigorous and the best, and hope for good results.

It is fair to say that ten per cent of the cotton seed selected as above suggested, is infinitely superior to the average of the other ninety per cent; therefore, if you plant only the average of the whole you invite deterioration at nine to one.

Every cotton grower from the man who raises one bale to the man who raises one hundred, can greatly increase his yield and his profit by this simple and inexpensive method.

This is something that you can do in your own field; try it.

HENRY REXALL, President Texas Industrial Congress.

SOME GOOD WHEAT YIELDS ARE REPORTED.

Iowa Park Herald.
Some very good reports from wheat are still coming in. Jay Alberding, who lives a mile and a half east of town, made off of thirty acres which he listed five inches deep, 24 bushels to the acre, and the balance of the yield 120 acres, which was not listed averaged 17 bushels. Now, we ask this question, did it pay Mr. Alberding to list this land deep? and will answer it by saying it sure did. He says he will list all of his farm land, that he will sow in wheat not less than five inches hereafter.

L. C. Denny, who owns a good farm across Wichita River, says off of that beautiful piece of forty-two acres he had in wheat near the road, he made 150 bushels; while the other eighty-three acres averaged 15 bushels. He says he raised some of the largest watermelons this year he ever saw, and that he took a wagon load to Holiday and received a good price for them. He has our thanks for a fine one.

W. L. Hodges another good farmer who lives on the south side of Wichita River was in our office Monday afternoon and had his Herald marked up another year. Mr. Hodges reports that he made considerable wheat this year, off of 165 acres he got 2436 bushels. He reports his maize and other feed stuff to be in excellent shape and says he will make lots of it this year. Corn in his section, he says will make a good yield, but nothing like it would if our rains had come earlier. He expects to sow the same number of acres in wheat again this fall.

John Bates, who farms the C. Burk farm in the Clara neighborhood averaged 15 bushels to the acre from his wheat, and this wheat was said to be numbered among the best in that part of the country.

A cheerful spender never outlives his popularity—if his money holds out.

New York Police System Exposures Awaken Confidence

Babylon has fallen; the path of pleasure is an ashen waste and where Polly flouted, sits Shame with cheek abashed.

Broadway is taking stock of its faults, its most grievous faults. The piper, Penalty-for-Evil-Ways, is asking for his pay.

It is a day of reckoning for the reckless. And it is time to tell over the things we have done which we ought not to have done.

There is an end of "Easy Money" for many. In the twilight of the false gods that were followed, the evil ways of evil days are being confessed and Regret is imploring forgiveness at the feet of Mercy.

The "Easy Money" has been called in and an aroused public conscience asks for an accounting to the uttermost penny.

The Path That Ever Goes Down. The Way of Broadway is to blame. It is the way that leads to the madhouse, the morgue and the prison cell. We had had what was not ours, and what we have spent is demanded of us, and the creditor, Public Conscience, will not be denied.

The gay life has reached a miserable end. What ailed us? What was wrong? The answer is easy. The Broad Way and the Narrow Path led to different destinations. Blinded by desires and led on by the smug fatuity we have tripped and fallen into the pit.

We have violated all the Ten Commandments, and then, oh, fatal thing the Eleventh. We have been found out!

The Blind "Lookers Up." The little garment worker of the East Side wanted to be a "lady." She would feel the flattering grasp of silk about her, fine shoes and dainty head-gear lead away from Work to the Paths of Pleasure.

The bootblack would wear diamonds; the waiter would be served instead of serving; the manœuvre girl would be beautiful. Our desires went higher; our moral tone went lower down.

This is the Way of Broadway, this is the New York Idea. "If doesn't matter how you get it, so you get it!"

The police captain, with the pay of a bookkeeper, had his town and country house and his motor car. The police inspector, with $68 a week, lived like a millionaire. The patrolman with less pay than a printer, must live in fine style.

The moderate rich would have what the immoderately wealthy possess—that was the way of Broadway, the New York Idea.

In a Metropolitan Section contest for apt definitions of slang phrases several years ago, an answer was asked to the question: "What is a 'Piker'?"

An astute contestant swept all before him when he made reply: "The New Yorker Who Lives on His Income."

Baylon's Bricks Go Crumbling. When rich women give costly dinners to their $5000 dogs we cannot wonder that the shopgirl accepts luxuries she must pay for shamefully.

If Wall Street gambles on stock why should not the Ghetto "take a flyer" at the stock?

I was "Easy come and easy go" with unearned money. The tugging system, that has grown to be beyond bearing, was responsible in part. The barber came up from the basement shop in the big hotel with his pocket full of tips. The chauffeur closed his day's work on his taxicab with more money of his own than it was good for him to have. The waiter took of his apron and came out of the employes' exit. His wages were beneath contempt, but his gratuities were far beyond his service and his worth.

Here was easy money, legally, if not morally, rightfully gained. No could hardly wait to walk to the gambling den to "run it up to a stake."

Smile if you will, but the many gambling houses that were open in the Tenderloin until the blood of Rosen had sealed them for a time, were supported, not as you might think, on the money of millionaires, but on the money of those in more or less—since they accepted tips—servile employment.

Pirates and Privateers of Graft. It is an Iron Age, as James L. Ford says, and everybody had to produce. The gangster who was made murderous with drink and rags before he did his bloody work was of use to the politician, the politician was of use to the police. The gambler was glad to spill "fifty and fifty." The only trouble was that the corrupt police official became entangled in the System. He had too many friends to take care of.

Then, too, matters were complicated by the "privateers." The police of the precinct had to have their usual percentage, the headquarters man must get his, and casual civilians and detached police officials went up and down the land spying upon those engaged in illicit concerns upon whom they could prey. These were the "privateers." A corrupt police official transferred to the quiet outskirts of the town knew where he could go and say nothing? Any day he might be back in the very precinct where the games were running, the joints open.

The smaller grafter paid somebody, who paid somebody; the cocaine peddler had to share his ghostly earnings with somebody, who shared with somebody higher up.

Higher up! That's the word. Everybody after the easy money wanted to go higher up, but they wanted to go to higher places without work or the New York Idea. They wanted to go "higher up."

Broadway Worships a Golden God. Going higher up! The gamblers were going higher up from the slums to the Gay White Way. The girl was going higher up who left off waiting in the cheap restaurant to dine in the expensive ones.

Then there is the woman with the check book. She is an envied exemplar of the New York Idea! For the "lady loaders," to have the Fortunatus, purse of the endless check book—somebody making the account good—is the highest height they aspire to climb to.

The little bookkeeper would go higher up. He would be known as a spend-thrift millionaire in the Tenderloin. He falsifies the books, he embezzles money from his firm. And then a detective touches him on the arm as he is alighting from his motor car with his white light, or rather red light friends and he goes from in front of the bars to behind them.

New the Reckoning is Here. To dress, to idle, to get invited to dinner they could not afford to pay for, to ride in taxicabs with men they should not, to rub shoulders with real millionaires' wives and daughters and be dressed in imitation of these are the New York woman's aspirations. Her part in climbing high to forbidden things.

The evil money that went higher up is parcelled out among all these. The money that came tainted carries the taint with it and spreads it wide. The purest gold, when passed in Vanity Fair, carries a curse with it and becomes base coinage.

But Baylon has fallen, the house of mirth are darkened, the jewelers' hands that clutched to reach higher are shaking with shame, the dancing music have ceased, the wine and the habbale have stopped. There is a corpse across the threshold, the shadow of prison bars is falling over the clusters at the banquet board.

Those who climbed the highest have often to the top and fallen over. From higher up to down, down to the abyss!

"I, too, the other day, had an iron lamp burning before my household gods. But now the lamp is gone!" said old Epictetus.

Broadway, such of it as climbed for pleasure and fell in shame, knows now just what he meant.

The GREATEST PLAY I EVER SAW AS TOLD TO Hugh S. Fullerton

By "LEFTY" LEIFIELD.
Premier Left-Handed Pitcher of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Who is Regarded as One of the Best Southpaw Pitchers.

Tommy Leach made what I believe was the greatest play I ever witnessed, and perhaps the greatest I ever will see. He made the play while he was on third base, and I do not think that any greater third baseman ever existed than Leach was when at his best there.

For sheer speed, activity and quick thinking, I never have seen the equal of that play he pulled against the New York Giants in 1907.

The game was one of the fiercest and hardest fought I ever saw. Both teams were on their toes right from the start, determined to win and fighting for every point. There was an immense crowd on the Polo grounds and Deacon Phillipis was pitching for us against Matthewson. They were hitting the Deacon hard, but as usual he was stepping them when his meant runs, and they were having all the trouble in the world to score at all. We managed to hit Matty in the right spots and the score was 4 to 3 in our favor in the last of the ninth inning.

Then they got at Phil and had runners on first and third, no one out, the crowd going crazy and everything about to break loose. Tommy, I believe, was at the bat. He started to hit a high ball, but stopped his bat and rolled a slow bouncer right down the line toward third. It was hit so slowly that Seymour, who was coming home, half checked himself and jumped over the ball to escape being hit. It looked so certainly a base hit that to me, on the bench, it seemed the best judgment for Leach to let the ball go and take a chance that it would roll foul before reaching third base. Tommy, however, had it all thought out for himself. He was sprinting forward at top speed, not more than two steps behind Seymour, and as Seymour leaped over the ball Leach dived and scooped it and, without losing a step or getting out of stride, he sprang after Seymour, touched him before he could reach the plate and caught him easily.

The play was an astounding one from any standpoint, but not satisfied with what he had done Leach whirled in his track and without looking fired down to second base. Wagner met the throw, and before the runner who had come down from first could dive back to second he was sailed and a double play resulted from what, according to all baseball rules, should have been a clean base hit.

Leach had figured to an eighth of a second just what could be done, and he made the play to second base without even looking. He knew when he touched Seymour that any smart base runner would be turning second base and looking for a chance to reach third, so he threw for the bag and trusted Wagner to be in the game enough to meet the ball. And Bonus was, as usual, on the job. The play saved us and gave us a game that the New York scribes all said was lucky, although luck had no part in that play. It was thought out in less than a second and executed almost as rapidly as it was thought out.

(Copyright, 1911, by W. G. Chapman.)

Cloudburst Revealed Wealth. A cloudburst was the cause of a remarkable mineral discovery made in Tasmania a few days ago. Near Launceston the rush of water cut a gorge a mile long and of considerable depth along the side of a mountain. When an inspection was made of the havoc that had been wrought it was seen that hundreds of gold-bearing quartz veins had been laid bare. A rush of prospectors to the spot took place and they are now busily engaged in testing the specimens. An other romance of gold mining is reported from Gundagai. A claim thought to be worthless was sold by its owner for $25. The purchaser making an investigation of his property discovered gold in small lumps. The claim is now said to be worth $20,000.

SHeldon Bros.' CAR RESCUED FROM QUICKSAND

Automobile Bogged in Red River and Cribbing Was Necessary to Get It Out.

(Electra News)

W. J. and A. H. Sheldon returned Sunday from the Northwest Texas Press Association meeting which they attended at Memphis, Texas, on August 13th. They went up there in V. J.'s car but the return trip home was made via the Fort Worth & Denver. On Saturday night August 11th it rained very hard up Red River and when they were fording the river a Jewlin, Texas, being pulled across by four saddle horses and last rope of the ropes broke and left the car standing in the quicksand in the channel of Red River where the water was two feet deep and the quicksand and twenty feet through. In about fifteen minutes all that was visible of the car was the top. Many attempts were made to get the car out, but to no avail until Friday morning they had a crib constructed around three sides of it and with a crew of ten or twelve willing workers, and a few teams they succeeded in getting the car out the next day at noon.

They were in good hands however through their misfortunes, as they were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Nelson who cared for them very nicely. The car is some the worse for the trip. It has changed color like a chameleon, being a brilliant black when it went in and now it looks like a Red River rat. The car arrived by freight Wednesday and will immediately be put in the shop for repairs. Messrs. Sheldon got a severe coat of sunburn which they will carry for a while.

Let Me Have Your Order For Winter Fruits

QUICK TO YOUR KITCHEN

PHONES 432 & 232

It is a growing custom among the best housekeepers to put up less fruit at home and buy more ready canned. This is especially true since the uniform quality of my Hunt's brand California fruits has become better known. If you have any doubt as to desirability and economy of buying your fruits in this way instead of putting them up at home a can or two of this brand will convince you beyond a doubt that you can't afford the expense of home canning. Remember I am ready to take orders now for assortments of any size including six different varieties of fruits and berries for early fall delivery at the present market prices, and I will guarantee every can to be perfect. You get especially low prices on quantity orders.

News From the Oil Fields

Drilling Ceases in Altus Well.

Altus Times. With the drill standing in the hole at 1623 1/2 feet, C. Nichols, driller in charge of the Altus Oil and Gas company's test hole on the Humphrey farm, near the village of Humphreys, began the work of pulling the casing, and packing the rig Monday, preparatory to seeking new fields.

The contract depth was 1500 feet, and not an indication of either gas or oil was encountered during the entire progress of the drill. Mr. Nichols sunk the well 123 1/2 feet deeper on his own account, to satisfy himself that the hole was really dry, and made propositions to his employers to take the hole still deeper; but money was exhausted and the company sinking the hole refused to invest additional funds in the attempt.

While the failure of the well is a disappointment to those who invested, it in no wise changes or nullifies the fact that Altus and Jackson counties are the center of a vast oil and gas field, which will some day be a paying proposition. All that is necessary is capital to develop the field, and sink a well 3000 to 3500 feet in depth. And the time will some day come when this will be done.

On The Oklahoma Side.

Developments in the Electra, Texas oil fields across the river from Tillman county, the past week have been such as to still further encourage development here. The bringing in of several new wells, and the consequent further extension of the field, have caused to grow stronger the hopes that have all along existed that there is just as apt to be oil on this side of the river as the other, and local prospectors are working with renewed cheer.

Northwest Electra No. 1, on the Finley farm, south of Frederick, is down 575 feet, that depth having been reached Wednesday.

At this time a strong flow of salt water was struck and it was necessary to stop long enough to case this off. This is considered a good indication, and the members of the company are much encouraged.

Drilling has been resumed at the Campbell well, indications there justifying the owners of this well to prosecute their search further.

At Loveland, the Big Pasture Oil and Gas Development Company is drilling ahead with renewed energy and what are considered good prospects. Several fine showings which have already been made in this well give promise that if there is oil this side of the river, some of it will be found in that locality.—Frederick Leader.

Operations Resumed at Aphantone.

Operations for oil in the southern part of the county were again begun in earnest the first of the week when the Hill syndicate company started work on the abandoned well just south of Aphantone. The well had been bored to a depth of 1500 feet with only a small quantity of oil in the water brought up. A derrick had been erected there but for some unknown reason the work was stopped. The new company that has taken over the leases has the distinction of putting enough capital into the oil situation to obtain results. They are planning on boring down as far as 2500 feet if not deeper and have already replaced the old stamp drill there by a rotary one so the work can proceed without further delay. It is hoped the new firm will meet with success as oil in paying quantities would greatly enhance the property values of this county.—Lawton Star.

Flowed Through 13 Inch Casing.

A new stunt was pulled off on the Woodruff-Putnam lease on August 13th when well No. 27 flowed the 13 1/2 inch casing for 30 minutes. This is a feat which has not been pulled off before in this field, that has come to our knowledge. It looks like a good well to say the least.—Electra News.

On the Hash Knife Ranch.

G. J. Thomason is in the city recuperating after being out at the well he and his brothers are drilling on the Knife Ranch, 13 miles north of Throckmorton. He expects to return to the well in a few days. He reports the drill down about 200 feet with a fishing job. He says gas was struck at 80 feet and that the prospects for oil are excellent.

POLITICAL ETCHINGS

The Wool Veto.

The wool bill President Taft has just vetoed is identical in terms with the wool bill he vetoed last year. He says he is constrained to his present action by the platform on which he was elected.

Can he convince the public, or any considerable part of the public, that this constraint is real? President Taft has said more than once that schedule K in its present form is "indefensible." This statement must mean, among other things, that it cannot be defended on the ground that it is a fitful execution of the promises made in the Republican National platform in 1908.

What sort of wool bill would President Taft sign? The Penrose bill, he says. Well, the difference between the bill he has vetoed and the Penrose bill is only about 2 or 3 per cent. Rather than accept this comparatively slight departure from a bill satisfactory to himself Mr. Taft has chosen to keep an "indefensible" schedule K in force.

The closing words of President Taft's veto message of August 17, 1911, are these: "There is no public exigency requiring the revision of schedule K in August without adequate information rather than in December next with such information." Certainly the public way is better served by delaying ninety days in order to do justice and make such a reduction as shall be proper, than now blindly to enact a law which may seriously injure the industries involved and the business of the country in general.

For obvious reasons there is no such passage in the second edition of the President's wool veto.

The commission had reported. The information before Congress was adequate. The President hopes Congress will send him another wool bill, drawn in accordance with his own specifications. But the hope cannot be very strong.

What this new wool veto will lead to is plain. It will lead to longer life for the Payne-Aldrich schedule K, the "indefensible." It will satisfy everybody who thinks the vetoed bill better than the existing schedule K.

The only real choice before President Taft was between the Payne-Aldrich schedule K and this wool bill. In our opinion he has made a grave mistake in preferring the "indefensible" Payne-Aldrich schedule.—New York Globe.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.

The digestibility and palatability of buckwheat cakes is improved by mixing the buckwheat flour with about ten per cent. corn meal. Pancakes are usually masticated imperfectly and are sometimes a source of indigestion, and appendicitis, especially in conjunction with lean meat, which together favor fermentation and constipation, the conditions necessary for appendicitis. It is especially important that children should be given food that requires thorough mastication.

CURRENT COMMENT

ABOUT AMENDING THE STOCK AND BOND LAW.

A dispatch from Austin, which the News printed Tuesday, brings the information that a resolution will be introduced in the Democratic State convention pledging the party to resist any attempt that may be made "to repeal or vitally amend" the stock and bond law. It is further recited that such a resolution was adopted by a ward convention at Sherman at the instance of Chairman Mayfield of Sherman, whose plan is to have it adopted by the Grayson county convention and thus brought under the cognizance of the state convention.

The News has heard of no design either "to repeal or vitally amend" the stock and bond law. Some amendment, that to permit the issuance of bonds for permanent improvement purposes, has been recommended by Governor Colquitt and endorsed by Mr. Mayfield and his colleagues of the railroad commission. But regardless of what may be the scope of the amendments which will be proposed, it seems to the News that no declaration which the state convention might make on the subject could have any binding moral force on the members of the legislature, for the reason that this matter was discussed very little, if at all, during the campaign. An example in fact is said to be worth more than the best description that can be given. The Texas Town Builders probably had this in mind when they decided to hold their institute here this month.

Reports from persons who have traveled over the State within the past few weeks indicate that crop prospects are better in the Wichita country than in any other section. This applies not only to cotton but to corn and feed crops as well. This conditions extends over pretty much all the territory northwest of Fort Worth. The Wichita country and the Panhandle "have come back" in fine shape.

Despite the enormous production and the over supply on many markets the melon growers of Burk Burnett are reported to be receiving fair returns on their shipments and will make good money out of the crop. The superiority of the Burk Burnett product has made it a favorite, and now that it has won its way in the big produce markets, it is expected there will be a still better demand for them next year.

Within a few weeks a new industry will be launched in Texas. We refer to the glass manufacturing right here in Wichita Falls. There may be one or two small glass factories already in operation in the state, but the real beginning of the industry will be right here in Wichita Falls where conditions are exceptionally favorable for its development. "Tuy Glass Made in Texas" is suggested as a slogan that should be agitated by the Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association.

W. C. Young or Archer county, has been appointed chairman of the 190th legislative district, composed of Clay and Archer counties, and has issued a call for a convention to meet at Henrietta on Saturday, August 24th, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office. The present incumbent is Hon. E. P. Haney, who was re-elected, in the primary without opposition, but it now appears that some effort is being made to "boresnoggle" him out of the nomination. As to whether the attempt will be made will be determined later. It's no affair of ours, but it occurs to the Times that the proper place for Democrats to settle their differences is in the primary, and if the Democrats of that district are not pleased with the selection of their nominee, they have no one to censure but themselves.

Most of the pro Democrats are pleased with the Democratic State platform adopted at the San Antonio convention, especially that part relating to the regulation of the open saloon. It is far better than they had a right to expect from a convention controlled by antis, and will, it is hoped have the desired effect; that of eliminating from Democratic politics in Texas the question of statewide prohibition. The pros can now climb into the Colquitt hand wagon, and if a few of the more radical antis get elbowed out of their position in that vehicle, which seems likely, they have no one to blame but themselves. Antis were in the majority in that convention, and need not have adopted the pro planks. But inasmuch as the majority have come to recognize that the pros were right in their demand for a more strict regulation of the open saloon all Democrats should accept the platform and stand for its enforcement until such time that another may take its place. The carrying out of the demands of this platform means that the open saloon hours are out short four and one-half hours each day, or twenty-seven hours a week shorter than now.

100 CARS OF WHEAT SHIPPED FROM GRANDFIELD

Wheat delivery to the Grandfield elevator was resumed this week after suspension of about ten days on account of heavy rains and bad roads.

Fred Varner, the accommodating and efficient manager of the elevator reports that 100 cars of wheat and 7 cars of oats have been shipped from this point to date. This means over $85,000 turned loose in the Grandfield country for the wheat and oats crops alone, and there is considerable wheat yet to be marketed.

With the harvesting of the big corn and cotton crops in addition to a banner wheat yield, very prosperous conditions will prevail in this section this fall and farm values will advance materially.—Greenfield Enterprise.

At the Dreamland. The Wood-Ray Stock Co. opens tonight at the Dreamland theatre in the western comedy drama, "San Antonio." The play is by John Lawrence, and deals with early Texas history. The Wood-Ray Co. was to have been here Monday night, but illness prevented them coming. A delayed train carrying them from Paris to Dallas, prevented their appearance Thursday night, so that they are to appear only two nights. The company has very high recommendations from the Paris press, where a most successful engagement was just closed.

POPULAR PRICES. Talking As An Endowment. (Henry Ward Beecher) Talking is not simply a habit, but a matter of original constitution. Some persons have a talking endowment and some have not. There is a positive faculty of expression, vocalization for which silence is merely the negative. As cold is only the absence of heat, so silence may not be the result of prudence, but the want of a gift, or impulse of spirit. There is a popular impression that great talkers are of course flippant, and the silent people are presumptively wise. To say of a man that he talks a great deal, is equivalent to saying that he thinks but little. But will observation bear this out? It is true that some people are taciturn, but others equally sagacious, are talkative. Some foolish people talk a great deal, but there are a great many foolish people who are very uncommunicative. A talkative man is seldom over-estimated; a silent man often is. There is great cunning in judicious silence. To sit quietly while one talks, to look knowingly, to shake the head skillfully, to retire with grave features and silent tongue, gives one the reputation of being wise, considerate and self-contained. Commend me, however, to one who uses speech or silence as the instruments of his will. Know when silence will soothe or when speech will cheer. Probably more men would kiss their wives if it was forbidden.

SECURE CHEAP MONEY TO PROTECT COTTON Texas Bankers Will Furnish Sufficient Funds at Rate of Six Per Cent. Dallas, Texas, Aug. 16.—Six per cent money sufficient for the successful handling of the distress cotton of Texas has been assured through Texas bankers to Peter Radford, president of the Farmers' Union. The plan will make it unnecessary for farmers to place their cotton on the market to secure money for pressing needs. This statement was authorized in Dallas yesterday by Mr. Radford, who, with Ben B. Cain of Dallas, has just been to San Antonio and while there arranged for money at 6 per cent per annum to take care of all distress cotton in the San Antonio territory. This territory includes a country within 150 miles on all sides of San Antonio. Similar arrangements had already been made for all the land in the territory to use this 6 per cent money through the local warehouses of North Texas, and with this South Texas money the State is practically covered, but a small territory in East and Central Texas not having been arranged for. Arrangements are to be made to supply this territory at once. More warehouses are needed, Mr. Radford says, to make the cotton plans for this season a complete success. "The manner in which the bankers have approved our plans," said Mr. Radford, "is very gratifying to us, and as other bankers become better acquainted with the Farmers' Union plan we will have practically the unanimous support of the banking interests of this State." Speaking of the practical completion of these important plans, Ben B. Cain who has been working in connection with Mr. Radford for the past sixty days, says: "The entire citizenship of the State is vitally interested in the success of this plan. In the first place, it can not but result in bringing the farmers and the business men into closer relationship, and to eliminate any possible suspicion or distrust of each other. "These great business interests are mutually dependent upon each other for the greatest measure of success. When the farmer fails, other failures naturally follow in his wake. When the farmer succeeds, all interests and classes are proportionately prosperous." It is figured that aside from the gain to the growers of Texas by reason of the increased price to be realized from the crop there will be a saving of from $5,000,000 to $20,000,000 through the proper and businesslike housing and care of the cotton and its protection from weather. How To Learn To Swim. You can teach yourself to swim and you can do it in an hour or less. I know plenty of people who have done it by following carefully these directions: First and foremost, fix this thought clearly in your mind: The water will bear you up. It is fear and struggle that invariably send a person to the bottom. The best way to acquire confidence that makes for courage and fun is: Go squarely and reasonably at it. all your shoulders are covered, equal a little and get yourself wet all over. Don't be the least atom afraid even if a little water does get into your nose and ears; wade out a little farther until you are up to your chin and now your toes will begin to leave the bottom of the pool. Do not be alarmed. This shows you that you are a little lighter than the water. Now lift your chest and with the muscles of your stomach breathe deep, stretch your arms out to form the letter T of yourself, stiffen your backbone and hollow your back as though suddenly you were a very important and dignified person. Your toes have come up to the surface now. Lean your head back freely as far as you can, keeping your mouth shut. Lie back with absolute confidence, and there you are floating. Keep your backbone stiff, gently paddle with your hands, and you are swimming. Make toward the shore, of course. Then try it all over again. This time kick with your feet very gently; strong strokes might turn you over and frighten you. Keep your balance and practice two or three times in straight succession. The next thing that you will be learning is the V stroke. Kick out until both legs are like the blades of a pair of scissors (which gives a strong drive ahead), then draw them up, sideways like a frog and kick persistently out again. Then try making your legs go as if you were climbing up stairs. Always remember the water will bear you up and the great and only difficulty about swimming will be out of your way.

AMERICANS TURNING TOWARD OUTDOOR LIFE

Sleeping Porch, Veranda and Pergola
Are At Once An Evidence and a Cause of the Change.

(From the Craftsman) America is turning its face with unmistakable conviction and enthusiasm toward enlarged outdoor life. Both as individuals and as a nation, we are rediscovering our inherent physical and spiritual need of fresh air and sunlight, of outdoor exercise during the day and outdoor sleep during the night. We are realizing the important relation that exists between the fulfillment of these needs and the attainment of our greatest mental and bodily efficiency. And so we are trying to adjust our lives in such a way that they will include as much of these healthful privileges as the limitations of our work, circumstances and dwellings will allow.
For most of us, the pressing demands of daily work or household tasks render impossible any great amount of outdoor freedom. Our duties, our pleasures, our whole mode of living are so closely bound up with our homes and places of business and recreation that if we are to include in our overcrowded days the joy of life in the open, the opportunity for such life must of necessity be brought within very easy reach. We have no leisure or energy to seek it;

it must be literally at our door, incorporated, if possible, into our actual everyday existence.
We have found, naturally, that the chief medium through which we can accomplish this is our architecture.
It is possible to plan and build our homes or remodel old ones so as to provide a porch, balcony, pergola or other architectural feature which will serve as a close connection between house and garden, linking the indoor to the outdoor life, giving us at the same time shelter, privacy and the wholesome pleasure and stimulation which, for every normal being, are the inevitable results of intimate contact with the invigorating, refreshing forces of nature. And this is true not only for owners of country homes but for all who dwell in villages, suburbs, towns and even cities. In fact, the more congested the buildings and the population, the greater is the need for some architectural provision for open air life.
In grappling with the difficulties of this problem and endeavoring to arrive at some practical solution, the home builders of the Eastern States have drawn from the example of their neighbors of the West much help and inspiration. For, favored by the natural clemency of our Western climate, which offers such strong inducements for life in the open air,

we have arranged our houses to permit
just as much of this as possible, during night and day, at all seasons of the year. We have made outdoor living and sleeping places such comfortable and delightful parts of our buildings, and accorded them such an important and unquestioned place in the building scheme, that they have come to be inherent characteristics of Western architecture.
There is one special garden feature which is very widely used here in the West, and holds immense value, from both a utilitarian and a picturesque standpoint; and that is, the pergola.
While more generally used in the Western and Southern States, it has no geographical limitations, and should be equally welcome among the homes and gardens of every part of our land, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian boundary line. As the pergola is a most friendly and adaptable structure, capable of infinite variety of form, lending itself to practically any material and site, it is rapidly becoming a potent factor in the adjustment of our dwellings, gardens and lives in the right relation to each other.
Among the practical virtues of the pergola is the fact that when connected with the house, it shelters and beautifies but does not darken the rooms within, as does the roof of an ordinary porch. It forms an ideal living room in summer, and in winter when the vines that drape it are bare, the stentward pillars and beams give a touch of reminiscent summer grace to the outlines of the main building, without obstructing the light of the windows.

CONFEDERATE REUNION AT HOLLIDAY THIS MONTH

August 21, 22 and 23 Are the Dates for the Revival of Camp By Stonewall Jackson Camp.
Confederate veterans here have been notified that a reunion of Confederates will be held at the camp grounds at Holliday, August 21, 22 and 23 under the auspices of Stonewall Jackson Camp.
Until a few years ago this reunion was the big event of the year and drew thousands of people from Clay, Archer, Wichita and Baylor counties. People came many miles in wagons and camped on the grounds during the week of the reunion and it was a reunion for everybody. Last year the reunion was abandoned entirely and for several years it has not been as successful as formerly on account of the droughts that have prevailed at this season of the year. It is believed, however, that with the excellent prospects in this territory and the abundance of water the reunion will be a greater success than ever.

There Isn't Half Enough Grown on Our Farms For the Space We Utilize

By
B. F.
HARRIS,
Banker
and

President of the Illinois
Bankers'
Association

THE duty of country bankers is to promote better agricultural methods. In spite of the influence of the "two blades of grass" slogan the average yield of our two greatest cereals, corn and wheat, is actually less than it was forty years ago, and it is evident that SOMETHING IS WRONG.

Circumstances have produced A RACE OF SOIL ROBBERS, not because of any inherent lack of moral purpose in the tiller of the soil, but on account of the speculative element, which has been and still is a curse to permanent agriculture. The rolling stone had gathered the most moss.

Our apparent agricultural prosperity is due to the rise of the price of land. Land speculators have grown rich. A few farmers have won a competence from the soil, but most of them have little profit to show aside from that of the advance in the values of their farms, while the average farmer makes but a bare living. We have been capitalizing our soil fertility and not adding to its assets.

WE HAVE SCARCELY GIVEN A THOUGHT TO OUR LARGE DORMANT UNEMPLOYED SOIL FERTILITY. BY DORMANT FERTILITY I MEAN THIS: WE RAISE THE WHEAT CROP OF THIS COUNTRY ON FIFTY MILLION ACRES, WITH AN AVERAGE OF 137 BUSHELS TO THE ACRE, WHILE THE FARMERS OF SEVERAL COUNTRIES OF EUROPE ON THOUSAND YEAR FARMED LAND AVERAGE TWENTY-SIX TO FORTY BUSHELS.

We have as good or better land, tools, soil, brains, etc., but we are not properly employing any of these factors. We have population clubs working for increased population. Why not have BUSHEL CLUBS TO INCREASE THE ACRE AND TOTAL YIELD OF OUR FARM PRODUCT? Advocate the creation of a soil as well as a bank reserve.

Our Numerous Laws Have Made People Disrespectful

By MOORFIELD STOREY, Boston Lawyer

OUR people are beset with the notion that the remedy for any trouble which they encounter, however slight, is to be found in a new law, and they rush to the legislature with every sort of crude proposal for legislation.

AS A RESULT A FLOOD OF NEW LAW IS LET LOOSE UPON THE INHABITANTS OF EACH STATE EVERY YEAR OR TWO YEARS, AND ANY PUBLIC SPIRITED CITIZEN WHO WATCHES THE LEGISLATURE AND TRIES TO PREVENT FOOLISH LAWS CANNOT BUT BE AMAZED AT THE WAY IN WHICH OUR COUNTRY IS GOVERNED.

With this torrent of laws that pours out upon the country there goes NO INCREASE WHATEVER OF RESPECT FOR THE LAW, but rather the reverse. The more there are the more to break.

The legal profession has SUNK IN POPULAR ESTIMATION, and it is largely the fault of the lawyers that this has come about. However, the task of reform is not so easy as it might be imagined.

Progress in science is welcomed by everybody, but progress in politics, social life or the law is a different matter. Upon any existing evil in any one of them some one now FATTENS and is sure to oppose a change. Nevertheless the leaders of the legal profession realize that something must be done.

Physician's Duty Is to His Country

By Dr. ABRAHAM JACOBI of New York, President of the American Medical Association

A PHYSICIAN DOES RIGHT TO PLACE HIS BEST ENERGIES IN THE DUTIES OF HIS PROFESSION, BUT HIS REAL AND FOREMOST DUTY IS TO HIS COUNTRY.

In the strain and hurry of the modern doctor's life he has little time left to take an INTEREST IN PUBLIC LIFE. But the time has come when we in the profession must express ourselves and ENTER INTO THE PUBLIC LIFE OF THE NATION. We should use our influence and knowledge when legislation is needed in the interest of the public health.

Legislators lack the knowledge that some physicians have, and it is at this time that physicians should step in and offer the benefit of their knowledge. In this respect physicians should work for everything that in the broadest sense will MAKE FOR THE HEALTH OF THE NATION.

I am interested and appreciative of the need of the reforesting of the open lands of the country. Physicians can aid in legislation which will bring this about.

FREAR-BRIN IN MAIL ORDER FIELD

LOCAL FURNITURE DEALERS TO GO AFTER TRADE IN COMPETITION WITH FOREIGN HOUSES.

WILL MAKE LOW PRICES

Freight Will Also Be Paid, and Firm Expects to Keep Texas Business At Home.

On this page is a copy of an ad to be sent out this week by the Freear-Brin Furniture Company to a number of local newspapers throughout this section, as a starter in what the firm proposes will be a campaign to keep the furniture business of Texas at home. The ad speaks for itself in the matter of prices, and the figures cited on the articles should surely be convincing enough so that anyone wishing to buy will much rather trade here than send to the North, pay the higher prices and also pay the freight.

The mail order business is not an experiment with the firm. For a number of years Mr. Brin, president of the company, and the active sales manager, was identified with one of the largest mail order furniture houses in the world, and is thoroughly familiar with every detail of that line of business. Ever since entering business here he has had in mind just this sort of trade, and only awaited the time when the company would be able to buy in such quantities as would enable him to make the prices that would meet the competition. Now he is not only meeting them, he says, but going away under any thing published by any of the big mail order concerns and in addition agrees to pay the freight.

It should certainly bring the mail order furniture orders of this section of the State to Wichita Falls.

Incidentally a glance at the business and growth of the Freear-Brin Company is not uninteresting. The company is just about two years old. In that time it has built up from the little store room north of Seventh street, which it occupied at its inauguration to the fine big three story modern store it has just moved into, and which was built especially for the company. This store is conceded to be one of the handsomest furniture houses in the whole country and certainly no house in any line of business has a more handsome and imposing show window. The company is now prepared to buy and handle furniture and rugs in very large quantities, most every line being bought in strictly car lots. Only recently the firm purchased an entire car of brass beds, being one of the very few Texas furniture houses that buy any such quantity of brass beds at one time. The company buys direct from the manufacturers, getting advantage of every possible discount and price concession. It has also but recently installed a large manufacturing plant of its own, where it will be made a complete line of kitchen cabinets, kitchen furniture of all kinds and dressers and bedroom furniture. The company also operates its own mattress factory and on these lines it is the intention to make extremely low prices.

The Freear-Brin Company is very proud of its new store and extends a cordial invitation to everybody, especially visitors from out of town to visit it. A particular feature of the store arrangement is a series of small rooms, arranged around the second floor or rather the deck floor. These rooms are being fitted up as the new furniture arrives to exactly correspond with the different rooms in a fine home. For instance one starts in at the front in a room fitted for a beautiful parlor, going then into a library, a dining room, a series of bedrooms, the nursery, the kitchen and even the bath room each set with the appropriate furniture and lighted with a glare of electric lights that shows off the goods in excellent style. From this gallery one has a complete view of the lower floor wherein is kept the sales stock. On the third floor is the rug and carpet department, and here again Mr. Brin has arranged for the comfort and convenience of his customers by swinging two large rug holders. Arranged so that a customer can sit down while the salesman can easily swing into view more than a hundred patterns of rugs and the customer can make a choice without leaving the chair.

The firm believes in the value of printer's ink and never hesitates to tell the public what it has to offer. As a result there is always something doing at the Freear-Brin Furniture store.

HELD FRONT SEATS ON STEAM ROLLER

Wichita County Delegates Voted With Colquitt Men On Every Question. The Wichita county delegation at the San Antonio convention had a front seat on the steam-roller, according to Otto Stehlik, who was present.

Others who attended from this city were N. Henderson, Sam Scalling and Prof. T. L. Toland. The delegation voted with the Colquitt forces on every question that arose.

In spite of the fact that the Bailey demonstration on the closing day was one of the significant features of the convention, Mr. Stehlik believes that less than half of the delegates took part in it, and the noise and fireworks, he says, were contributed by a minority. He believes that had the Bailey resolution been put to a roll call vote of the convention it would have been defeated.

The only time that the convention went too far, Mr. Stehlik thinks, was when Cullen Thomas attempted to speak. Anyone else would have been given a respectful hearing, said Mr. Stehlik, but Thomas was unpopular.

Wichita county's crops are as good as those in any part of the State through which the delegation passed on its way to and from the convention, says Mr. Stehlik.

Moore will regret to learn of his death Sunday, August 11 at 1:20 at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Mamie Allen of Strawn, Texas. Mr. Moore was born in Georgia in 1862 and had lived until September would have reached the age of 50 years.

When quite small he came to Texas and lived in Ellis county upwards of twenty years. He represented the well known firm of Neil P. Anderson of Fort Worth and was recognized as one of the most efficient cotton buyers in the northwestern portion of the State. He is survived by four children, two sons and two daughters; Mrs. Beale Garrett of Fort Worth, Claburn now in the army and Neil and Morchelle. The closing days of his life were spent with his only remaining sister, Mrs. Allen of Strawn to whom he was deeply attached. Mr. Moore united with the Presbyterian church in his early manhood and manifested an active interest in its welfare. He was also a member of the Masonic Blue Lodge at Ranger and of the Chapter at Claco. He was deeply appreciative of any kindness, warm hearted and self-sacrificing and possessing a type of manhood that finds a ready response in a large circle of friends who will mourn his loss. The body was interred at Ranger on Monday the 12th, the service being conducted by his pastor, Rev. Jas. Drummond. JAS DRUMMOND. Strawn, Texas, Aug. 12, 1912.

WOMAN NEEDS A MASTER SAYS DOCTOR

Lays Down Maxims that Should Govern Man in Relations With His Wife.

(From Athenist) When you find your mate, take her. She awaits marriage.

When you have her, live for her. She wants that.

When she abuses your jealousy, beat her. She expects such treatment.

When she has betrayed you, kill her.

These are four maxims that govern a man in his relations with his wife.

There is a constantly thickening coat of the varnish of civilization formed over the man and the woman, but underneath they are identical with the cave man and woman, unchanged at heart.

Every woman sits and waits the coming of her lord. She is ready to follow when he beckons. He is masterful. He woos not, beseeches not, implores not, serves not. He takes his own when he finds it.

His ancestor simply caught his woman, knocked her down if she resisted and dragged her, none too gently, to his lair.

The nearer the modern approximates this type and method the better it suits the woman. Some women require beating. Lacking it, they escape from the husband's control and are incapable of controlling themselves. They look farther for
