SECRETARIES HERE FOR INSTITUTE

TEXAS TOWN BUILDERS ARRIVING FOR THREE DAYS MEETING AT LAKE WICHITA

OPENS THIS AFTERNOON

Lateness in Arrival of Those Scheduled For Talks Delays Opening of Program

Commercial secretaries representing the organizations of about a score of Texas cities are in Wichita Falls for a three days session to be devoted to discussions of methods and an institute on secretarial work. The sessions are being held at Lake Wichita.

A number of the secretaries arrived on yesterday's and last night's trains and more came in early this afternoon. After being greeted by Secretary Forester at the hotel, they took street cars for the lake where they began their sessions. The program for this morning's session was as follows:

Value of Trade Excursions to City Sending Same Out, "Benefit of Trades Excursions to City Revisited, Same." None of those scheduled to speak on this feature of the program were here this morning, but it will probably be a feature of the later sessions. The other morning topic, "Immigration and How to Secure It" was also postponed due to the absence of those to speak on it.

The set program for this afternoon is as follows:

"What is the Real Purpose of a Commercial Body?" W. M. Woodall, secretary of Temple Chamber of Commerce; Adolph Boldt, secretary of Houston Chamber of Commerce; M. R. Davis, secretary of Denton Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Hope Harrison Hawkins, secretary of Marlin Commercial Club.

"Should Cities be Allowed to Levy Taxes for Advertising and Thus Place a Burden of Expense on Those Who Benefit Directly?" T. W. Larkin, secretary of Beaumont Chamber of Commerce; F. L. Vanderburgh, secretary of Young Men's Booster Club of Hillsboro; D. C. Priddy, secretary of Amarillo Chamber of Commerce; G. J. Roark, secretary of Denton Business Men's Club.

"Value of Newspaper and Periodical Date Lines." D. E. Johnson, secretary of Brownwood Chamber of Commerce; I. T. Thompson, secretary of Port O'Connor Commercial Club; Z. Black, secretary of Plainview Chamber of Commerce; A. W. Reed, secretary of Memphis Commercial Club.

"Should Texas Be Advertised as a State; If So, How?" J. A. Arnold of Fort Worth, secretary of Commercial Secretaries' Association; W. L. Vining, secretary of Austin Business Men's League; W. C. Harrison of Dallas, secretary of Texas Industrial Congress; E. F. Drake, secretary of Waco Business Men's Club.

After supper there will be a discussion of "Financing and Maintaining Commercial Organizations." In Cities of less than 5000 People." by Homer D. Wade of Stamford; T. C. Carrington of Midland and George H. Harris of Curo.

Tomorrow night there will be a banquet at the lake and Wednesday an address by President Henry E. Hall of the Texas Industrial Congress and a trip to the oil fields will be the features.

Among those here for the meeting are:

J. A. Arnold of Fort Worth, secretary of the Texas Commercial Secretaries and Business Men's Association.

Porter Whaley, secretary of the Pecos Commercial Club.

S. W. Ward, secretary of the Sherman Commercial Club.

ROTTENNESS AT NEW ORLEANS TOO

DISCLOSURES ALMOST AS STARTLING AS THOSE AT DEPOSIT WILL SOON BE MADE

TWO INVESTIGATIONS

Burns Detectives Have Been At Work—Criminal District Court May Start Probe

By Associated Press. New Orleans, Aug. 26.—Following the publication in a local paper of an article that Detective Burns at the instance of citizens is investigating municipal conditions here, Mayor Martin Berhan today requested the judge of the criminal district court to call the grand jury to make an independent investigation.

It is said the investigation by the Burns men has brought to light conditions almost as startling as those which existed in Atlantic City, Detroit and other cities.

FOUR LEAVE JOBS AT DENVER ROUNDHOUSE

Machinists Walk Out When Asked to Do Work, They Say, is Work of Another Union.

What could possibly develop into a strike which might affect several hundred machinists up and down the Fort Worth & Denver line, is now in progress here owing to a disagreement between the railroad company and the machinists employed at the Fort Worth & Denver roundhouse. The disagreement began last Thursday when four machinists walked out, refusing to return to work until an adjustment has been arranged.

Men have been secured in their places, and no action has been taken by the railroad company with regard to the demands of their former employees, although a communication on the subject is expected today or tomorrow from Superintendent of Motive Power, E. L. Dawson at Childress, who has already sent a man to investigate the trouble.

According to one of the men involved in the walkout, the machinists union has endorsed their action and several meetings have been held at one of which resolutions were drawn up imposing a fine of $50 upon any machinist who returns to his job under the conditions existing last Thursday. Another meeting will probably be called tonight, although things are at a standstill awaiting word from Childress regarding the course to be pursued by the railroad company.

It seems that the trouble started when the company refused at the request of the machinists to install a coppersmith at the local roundhouse. The machinists claimed that they were breaking the rules of their union when they complied with orders to do coppersmith work as their trade is one separate and distinct from the coppersmiths. The railroad refused to employ a coppersmith here and the machinists walked out. The four men who are on a strike include Dave Parkhurst, Grover Hess, W. G. Harvey and D. Seaman.

In the event that the local union decides to back up the demands of the striking men and order a general walkout to force the railroad company to comply with their demands, machinists from the Denver roundhouse, the Wichita Falls Roundhouse shops, several automobile garages and a number of contract shops would become involved, it is said.

They Were Struck By A Train At League City While On Their Way to Revival Meeting

Alvin George, a Quaker, who preaches at League City, and Rev. C. C. Barker, a United Brethren pastor of Jennings, La., are the victims. Both were on their way to Glenwood, where they were to preach at an evangelistic meeting.

LAFOLLETTE WINS SIGNAL VICTORY

FORCES SENATE TO ADOPT PENROSE RESOLUTION EXTENDING SCOPE OF INVESTIGATION

MAY ADJOURN TONIGHT

Disputed "States Claims" Go Over Until Next Session and Early-Adjournment Forecasted.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—With Senator La Follette holding out the threat of a filibuster that would indefinitely prolong the session of Congress the Senate today passed without a roll call the Penrose resolution to have the committee investigating campaign funds inquire "into correspondence or financial transactions between John A. Archbold, George Perkins, Theodore Roosevelt and members of Congress."

The scenes of Saturday night and early Sunday morning when every political usage was put forth to keep the Penrose resolution from coming to a vote were in no way repeated today. It was declared this forecast an early adjournment probably tonight. The only other possibility of delay was on the general deficiency bill but there was an agreement to leave the disputed "state claims" until next session, which was expected to be fulfilled.

The Morning Session. By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—Senator Chamberlain of Oregon today abandoned his filibuster against adjournment of Congress on provision that the general deficiency bill carrying "state claims" in which Oregon has an interest go over until December.

The House is believed to be agreeable to that. Senator La Follette's filibuster to force a vote on the Penrose resolution was then the only apparent obstacle to adjournment today.

"If it is decided to let the bill go until winter, I will consent to an adjournment," said Mr. Chamberlain. "I will not consent, however to its passage without the state claims." Maryland, Virginia and Texas also are interested.

Senate leaders began a conference just before noon to find a way to bring the session to a speedy end. The general deficiency bill carries about $5,000,000. The government's other creditors for that amount, including many merchants who have advanced supplies to army and navy, will have to wait until December for their pay if the measure is held over.

Neither House or Senate assembled on time and neither mustered a quorum. It was said only forty-six senators were in the city lacking two of a quorum. One of these, Senator Herburn, was reported ill.

The frat tilt in the Senate was over the reading of the Journal of Saturday's all-night session. Senator La Follette insisted on it being read in full.

W. VA. SOLONS MAY BE INVESTIGATED

Petition Filed in Senate Asking Investigation of Election of Senators Chilton and Watson

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—A demand for the investigation of the election of Senators Chilton and Watson of West Virginia, was made in a petition signed by Gov. Glasscock and others presented today to the Senate through Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, the presiding officer.

The petition called attention to charges of bribery, made in reference to the election of the two West Virginia senators.

AMERICAN AVIATOR WON PRINCIPAL EVENT

By Associated Press. St. Malo, Aug. 26.—Charles R. Weyman, the American aviator, today won the principal event of the Hydro aeroplane meeting which started here Saturday. Weyman who flew in a monoplane made the excellent time of one hour and 40 minutes for the distance of ninety miles and one furlong from St. Malo to the island of Jersey. The whole race was over the English channel.

ESCAPING NEGRO STOPPED BY BULLET

Was Shot in Leg As He Was Trying To Get Away From Officer Who Arrested Him

In order to stop a fleeing negro whom he had arrested and was attempting to place in jail charged with carrying a six shooter, Special Officer Floyd Randolph, nephew of Sheriff Randolph, early last night shot twice at the man as he ran away in the darkness, the second shot taking effect in the negro's right leg and bringing him to the ground unable to run further.

About eight o'clock yesterday evening Sheriff Randolph received word that a negro who afterwards gave his name as Scales, was creating a disturbance in the Flats with a six shooter and had threatened to kill another negro with whom he had quarreled in the afternoon. The report was found to be correct and an investigation, showed that Scales had already been deprived of one gun but had secured another and was still looking for the other negro. Special Officer Floyd Randolph soon located Scales near a negro rooming house where he was arrested and searched with the result that a $2.20 Colt's latest model "police special" revolver with every chamber loaded, was removed from his person. Scales was very reluctant to surrender the weapon and only did so after Randolph had secured the drop on him.

The officer caught the negro by the arm and started to jail with him, it being found necessary several times to club him with a revolver in order to make him come along. Matters reached the climax near the Wichita Ice Company where the negro sprang at Randolph and struggled fiercely to regain possession of the gun. Randolph finally managed to draw his revolver, the barrel of which the negro caught with his hand in order to prevent it being fired. At the same time the trigger was pulled and the pistol discharged so close to the struggling negro's face that he released his grasp and ran swiftly away.

Randolph quickly pointed the revolver at the fleeing figure of the negro and with one well directed shot brought him to the ground not more than twenty-five feet away. Other officers, hearing the shots arrived on the scene and the negro was removed to his home in the negro section of town where an examination by the negro physician revealed that no bones were broken although the bullet had entered the right leg near the knee and had ranged upwards to the hip coming out near that member.

MUCH LIGHTNING BUT LITTLE RAIN

Precipitation Here Last Night Only .15 Inch—Other Points Receive Light Showers

An unusually spectacular display of lightning, accompanied by considerable wind and very little rain, was witnessed in Wichita Falls at night fall Sunday. The display of lightning continued for several hours and was of marked brilliance. No damage has been reported.

Only .15 inch of rain fell in Wichita Falls but in the country near the city the precipitation was heavy enough to be of some benefit to cotton.

Rain also fell at Henrietta and Bowie in the Denver, at Byers, Petrolia, Dundee and Holliday on the Valley and Archer City and Olney on the Southern. It was not heavy at any of these points save Dundee.

A good shower is reported to have fallen over the country south of Electra.

Gen. Baca today sent a request to the government for an armistice to last eight days, but this was refused by the president.

HEAD OF SECRET SERVICE HIRED

WILLIAM J. FLYNN RETAINED BY NEW YORK ALDERMANIC COMMITTEE.

NOTED DETECTIVE WORK

Men Who Have Uncovered Counterfeiting and Other Crimes Will Assist Flynn.

By Associated Press. New York, Aug. 26.—With the appointment of Wm. J. Flynn head of the local secret service as chief investigator of the aldermanic graft inquiry committee comes the news that a corps of the country's best detectives will aid him in getting black-mail evidence. Some of these detectives have proved their ability in getting counterfeiters and other criminals.

Lieut. Becker's counsel was busy today preparing the defense. Becker's lawyer, it is learned, expected to show that the officer was the victim of a gambler's plot headed by Bold Jack Rose and the men who have reported his "confession." Rose and these men, counsel will assert, all have sufficient reasons to seek revenge on Becker for his activities against them.

ENGLISH PRESS CRITICISES TAFT

London Paper's Express Regret That President Signed the Panama Canal Bill

By Associated Press. London, Aug. 26.—Most of the London morning papers printed editorials in which regret is expressed that President Taft signed the Panama Canal bill and declaring that his government will fall in its duty if it does not insist that the matter be referred to The Hague. They also agreed that the president's memorandum does nothing to remove the British objections.

The Morning Post, pointing out that if the United States desired to encourage its own shipping, it can do so by decent boundaries, and says further:

"Experience may yet bring the United States to understand that credit is a valuable asset and even material gain is dearly bought by the loss of the world's confidence."

The Express in an editorial headed "Dishonored" says:

"It is lamentable that Mr. Taft is not strong enough to resist the politicians and act in accordance with the call of National confidence. We view with sorrow the sight of the United States driving its honor much bespattered before the world. In the long run America will be the sufferer. Honesty among nations, as among men, remains the best policy."

WAGO ICE PLANT DAMAGED BY FIRE

Damage To Machinery and Loss of Cold Storage Products Will Reach $40,000

By Associated Press. Waco, Texas, Aug. 26.—The Big Four Ice and Refrigerating Company, one of the largest plants in Texas, owned by Alfred Abel had its entire machinery room gutted by fire today ruining the engine, boilers, pumps, etc., and probably stopping the making of ice for the season. The damage is $40,000. Probably $25,000 worth of cold storage products are ruined, but telegraphic communication with other points is going on in an effort to protect this. The fire originated in the boiler room.

Battle At Ascension.

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, Aug. 26.—In a battle at Ascension, sixty miles southwest of Juarez Sunday morning twenty-six rebels were killed and three wounded. Several prisoners were taken. Orozco, is said to have joined Salazar's force at Ascension.

By Associated Press. Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 26.—What Col. Roosevelt knew and did in the matter of John D. Archbold's alleged $100,000 contribution to the Republican campaign fund in 1904, what President Roosevelt said to the late E. H. Harriman and what Mr. Harriman said to President Roosevelt about Harriman's $250,000 contribution, are matters to which William Loeb Jr., formerly Roosevelt's secretary, is prepared to testify before the Senate committee investigating campaign contributions, according to an announcement here today by Col. DEBS NOTIFIED BY SOCIALISTS

NOTIFICATION IN MARKED CONTRAST TO CEREMONIES PRACTICED BY OTHER PARTIES

"TO ALL USEFUL PEOPLE"

Who Work With Brain or Muscle Nominee Declares Appeal of Socialists is Addressed

By Associated Press. Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 26.—In marked contrast to the notification ceremonies practiced by other political parties, the Socialist presidential candidate E. V. Debs today accepted his nomination by simply informing the newspapers that they were at liberty to print the address of acceptance he had sent them in printed form.

No committee called on him and there was an entire lack of ceremony. The extreme simplicity of the occasion was marked further by Mr. Debs preparation for a trip to Ferguson Falls, Minn., where he will speak tomorrow night.

He said in part: "Hail to this great party of the toiling millions whose battery is heard around the world!

"We do not plead for votes; the workers give them freely the hour they understand.

"But we need to destroy the prejudice that still exists and dispel the darkness that still prevails in the working class world. We need the clear light of sound education and the conquering power of economic and political organization.

"Before the united hosts of labor all the despotic governments on earth are powerless and all resistance vain. Before their onward march all ruling classes disappear and all slavery vanishes forever.

"The appeal of the Socialist party is to all the useful people of the nation, all who work with brain and muscle to produce the nation's wealth and who promote its progress and conserve its civilization.

"Only they who bear its burdens may rightfully enjoy the blessings of civilized society.

"There are no boundary lines to separate race from race, sex from sex, or creed from creed in the Socialist party. The common rights of all are equally recognized.

"Every human being is entitled to sunlight and air, to what his labor produces, and to an equal chance with every other human beings to unfold and ripen and give to the world the riches of his mind and soul.

"Economic slavery is the world's greatest curse today. Poverty and misery, prostitution, sanity and crime are its inevitable results.

"The Socialist party is the one party which stands squarely and uncompromisingly for the abolition of industrial slavery; the one party pledged in every fibre of its being to the economic freedom of all the people.

"So long as the nation's resources and productive and distributive machinery are the private property of a privileged class the masses will be at their mercy, poverty will be their lot, and life will be short of all that raises it above the brute level.

"The infallible test of a political party is the private ownership of the sources of wealth and the means of life. Apply that test to the Republican, Democratic and Progressive parties and upon that basic, fundamental issue you will find them essentially one and the same. They differ according to the conflicting interests of the privileged classes, but at the bottom they are alike and stand for capitalist class rule and working class slavery.

"The new Progressive party is a party of progressive capitalism. It is lavishly financed and shrewdly advertised. But it stands for the rule of capitalism, the same.

"When the owners of the trusts finance a party to put themselves out of business; when they turn over their wealth to the people from whom they stole it and go to work and make an honest living, it will be time enough to consider the merits of the Roosevelt Progressive party.

"One question is sufficient to determine the true status of all these parties. Do they want the workers to own the tools they work with, control their own jobs, and secure to themselves the wealth they produce? Certainly not. That is utterly ridiculous and impossible from their point of view.

"The Republican, Democratic and Progressive parties all stand for the private ownership by the capitalists of the productive machinery used by the workers, so that the capitalists can continue to fitch the wealth produced by the workers.

"The Socialist party is the only

Senator Bailey Says He Is Opposed to Campaign Funds

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—Senator Bailey issued a statement Saturday in answer to numerous requests and inquiries as to a possibility of his being a candidate for Governor of Texas two years hence, or at any time, in which he reiterated former statements that with his retirement from the United States Senate next March, he will leave public life permanently, and concludes with "Nothing in this world could induce me again to subject my character and reputation to the assaults of malicious and mendacious politicians."

In the Senate Saturday, Senator Bailey took a parting shot for the session in defense of State's rights, as against Federal supervision of elections, while speaking in opposition to the Penrose resolution, which provides for an investigation into alleged attempts to influence presidential elections.

This particular resolution could not be disposed of today, under the rules, and went to the calendar, which meant its death for this session of Congress at least. An amendment offered by Senator Poindexter and adopted provided that all correspondence between the Standard Oil Company or its representatives and presidential candidates and members of Congress and of the Senate, since 1909, be produced by the investigators.

"I would have a law enacted in each state, providing that not one farthing could be spent by any candidate for office, except for his personal traveling expenses and personal hotel bills," said Senator Bailey. "Under such arrangement the poor man would have an equal chance with the rich and the man of the highest character and the greatest ability would more apt to be selected."

"I never paid any man any money to assist in my election. I never paid any newspaper any money to say anything in my behalf, and I believe others should do likewise. Recently there was a contest between honorable gentlemen in my State for the seat I am about to vacate. One of these gentlemen spent approximately $15,000 and the other something less than $5,000. I have been elected to the House six times and to the Senate twice and my total expense has been less than one-third of the smaller expenses of these two."

"But I hope times will change, and that there may be changes in men with it. I hope to see the State in which I live lead in this and in other useful reforms. I may accept an election to the legislature from any county and may be able to put such a law on the statute books."

It was in the closing hours of the session and Senator Bailey took occasion to make fun of the Republican predicament over the Penrose-Archbold campaign fund contributions. He occasioned laughter when he shook his finger at the Republican side of the chamber and said: "You people are likely to wait outside for fifty years, like we have been waiting, if we elect a Democratic President this fall."

Senator Bailey's statement with regard to the governorship follows in part:

"Even if I desired to remain in public life I would not accept the governorship of Texas if it were tendered to me without a contest, because I know that I have not studied our State affairs with the thoroughness required to qualify me for the duties of that high office."

"Having said this much I might conclude without saying more, but I feel that the partiality of my friends requires a fuller statement. When I made up my mind not to offer myself for re-election to the Senate I also made up my mind that I would never again hold any public office. I am not unmindful of the fact that under a government like ours every man owes his country a service in proportion to his ability, but I am not vain enough to suppose that my obligation thus measured is greater than the service which I have already rendered."

"I have devoted the best years of my life to the work of our people, and while I may not have done that work with conspicuous success, I have done it with absolute fidelity and I feel that I have earned the right to devote the next few years to the service of my family. If I were anything like as rich as certain politicians, for purposes of their own, have charged me with being, I would not need to make any further provision for those dependent on me; but as my possessions are worth only a small fraction of what has been alleged, I could not continue in the Senate or in any other office without making a financial sacrifice which I could ill afford to make. That sacrifice, however, I would cheerfully make if I thought that the welfare of Texas required me to make it; but nothing in this world could induce me again to subject my character and reputation to the assaults of malicious politicians."

New Secretary at Abilene, Abilene, Texas, Aug. 26.—At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Jesse Cannon of Abilene, was elected secretary to succeed B. F. Looney who recently resigned.

American Woman Has Driven the Servant From the Home

Democracy Is Lacking

Old World Methods Employed

By IDA M. TARBELL

Author and Suffragist

NO other honest work so BELITTLES a woman socially as housework world's ease. Being imitations and not natural growths, they, of course, cannot be performed for money. It is the only field of labor which has scarcely felt the touch of the modern labor movement; the only one where the hours, conditions and wages are not being attacked generally; the only one in which THERE IS NO ORGANIZATION OR STANDARDIZATION, NO TRAINING, NO REGULAR ROAD OF PROGRESS.

More serious still is the relation which has been shown to exist between CRIMINALITY AND HOUSEHOLD OCCUPATIONS. Nothing, indeed, which recent investigation has established ought to startle the American woman more.

It is the only field of labor in which there seems to be a general tendency to abandon the democratic notion and return frankly to the standards of the aristocratic regime. The multiplication of livery, the tipping system, the terms of address, all show an increasing IMITATION OF THE OLD WORLD'S METHODS.

Contrary to public opinion, it is not the factory and shop which are making women offenders of all kinds. It is the HOUSEHOLD.

Unhappily enough, they are used with little or none of the old

THE AMERICAN WOMAN IS A VERY POOR DEMOCRAT, AND BY HER UNWILLINGNESS TO DEMOCRATIZE HER HOUSEHOLD AND HER LACK OF INTEREST IN THE CONDUCT OF ITS AFFAIRS SHE HAS DRIVEN THOSE WHO INSTINCTIVELY FEEL THAT HOUSEHOLD LABOR WOULD BE THE BETTER TASK WERE NOT THE COST OF PERFORMING IT TOO GREAT INTO THE SHOP AND FACTORY.

A Titanic Disaster a Day

Appalling and Unnecessary Waste of Human Life That Could Be Prevented

By Professor IRVING FISHER of Yale University

MORE THAN SIX HUNDRED THOUSAND LIVES ARE LOST EVERY YEAR IN THE UNITED STATES FROM PREVENTABLE DISEASE AND FROM ACCIDENTS.

Let me put the figures in another form. A life insurance president has calculated that PREVENTABLE DISEASE AND ACCIDENTS destroy every day American lives equal in number to the crews of two battleships.

Think of it! A TITANIC DISASTER A DAY, and yet the public does not rise up and demand in a spirit of anger and determination that steps be taken at once to put an end to this appalling and UNNECESSARY WASTE OF HUMAN LIFE!

Vital statistics have been well called the bookkeeping of health, and, believe me, the bookkeeping of health is JUST AS NECESSARY TO GET HEALTH RESULTS AS THE BOOKKEEPING OF BUSINESS is to get business results, and this is proved beyond doubt by the fact that those countries which have kept their health books the longest have been most successful in prolonging the average of human life within their borders.

Water Is Dangerous; It Must Not Be Taken to Excess

By Dr. CHARLES C. HILL, Physician, of Baltimore

WATER IS NOT SO INNOCENT AN ARTICLE AS IS GENERALLY CONSIDERED. WHEN TAKEN IN EXCESS IT REMAINS IN THE STOMACH, BEING ABSORBED FROM IT IN VERY SMALL QUANTITIES, THAT WHICH REMAINS CAUSES VARIOUS ILLS.

Any fluid containing alcohol, however, is readily absorbed. WATER INTEMPERANCE has really become a menace through the writings of pseudo health experts, whose "hints to beauty" recommend the drinking of more water if you would be beautiful. There is a large body of hypochondriacs that is ever ready to believe in such advice and fabulous quantities of water are consumed IN EXCESS OF PHYSIOLOGICAL DEMANDS.

Many Changes Proposed In Ohio's Constitution

By Associated Press.
Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 26.—Woman's suffrage, the initiative and referendum, good roads, taxation, the minimum wage and a change in the judicial system, are among the things that have been incorporated in proposed amendments to Ohio's constitution, and which will be voted upon by the people of the state at a special election on September 3.

The 41 amendments which will be presented for ratification, deal with a variety of problems from the regulation of bill board advertising to municipal home rule, and were framed by a constitutional convention, which worked six months at an expense of more than $200,000.

Ohio's present constitution was framed in 1852. In the winter of 1873-4, a constitutional convention was held, but its work was rejected at the polls.
Nightly meetings are being held over the state by ministers, professors, lawyers, business men and politicians, who are debating the effects which the various proposals would have upon the welfare of the state.

The initiative and referendum proposal, as adopted by the constitutional convention, will go into effect on October 1 of this year. If ratified, while the other proposals would not be effective until January 1.
The proposed initiative and referendum provided for the direct initiative upon petition of 10 per cent of the state's voters on amendments to the constitution and the indirect initiative upon legislative questions.
Should three per cent of the electors petition the secretary of state for a law, the secretary of state must refer the petition to the general assembly. If the legislature should pass the law petitioned for, it would then become subject to the referendum, which would require the signatures of an additional three per cent of the voters, to become effective.

If the general assembly should fail to pass the law, or pass it in amended form the original bill and the substitute could be presented to the people for a referendum vote upon petition of an additional three per cent of the voters.
Any law passed by the general assembly could, under the proposed amendment, be voted upon by the people upon petition of six per cent of the electors. The proposed places an inhibition upon the using of the initiative and referendum for the passage of laws for the classification of property for taxation, or for the single tax.

Another proposed amendment provides for limiting the power of the supreme court, by making the circuit courts the court of last resort in the majority of cases. The name of the circuit court would be changed to the court of appeals. The supreme court would then be the last court in constitutional cases, and cases where the life of a prisoner was at stake.

The woman's suffrage proposal would eliminate the word "male" from the present constitution and give votes to women. Suffragists are making a statewide campaign for the passage of this amendment.
Those opposed to equal suffrage are making an equally strong campaign against its passage.

The proposed good roads amendment provides for a state bond issue of $50,000,000 for the building and maintenance of good inter-county wagon roads.
Labor leaders of the state secured the passage by the convention of a proposed amendment providing for the welfare of employees and for the enactment of a minimum wage.

Under the proposed home rule for cities proposal, municipalities could adopt any one of the three following forms of government:

1. They might, upon the vote of the electors, elect fifteen citizens to frame a charter, which would then have to be submitted to the voters for approval.
2. They might adopt, by a majority vote, a form of government provided by the legislature.

3. They might decide to be governed as at present, by a municipal code framed by the legislature.

The removal of all public officials, including the judiciary upon complaint and hearing, is provided for in an amendment, which was passed by the convention after the recall, as in effect in western states, had been defeated.

Another proposal which is causing much campaigning throughout the state, is the one providing for a liquor license. The proposal provides for limiting the number of saloons, one to every 500 population. In the larger cities, it would decrease the number of saloons from two-thirds to one-half.

Other proposals which will be voted upon, provide: Reform in Civil Jury System—provides for a verdict in a civil case, upon a vote of three-fourths of the jury.

Abolition of capital punishment—provides for life imprisonment at hard labor as punishment for first degree murder, instead of electrocution.

Depositions by state—provides that the state may have the right to take depositions in criminal cases. Also provides that the judge shall take notice of the failure of the accused to testify.

Suits against state—provides that suits may be brought against the state. Such suits cannot now be brought.

Damage for wrongful death—takes off the present limit of $12,000 damages for wrongful death, and places no limit.

Investigations—provides that the legislature may investigate along lines of proposed legislative action.

Governor's veto—provides for a three-fifths instead of a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature, to pass a bill over the governor's veto.

Mechanics and builders liens—Gives laborers, builders, mechanics and material men liens upon the property upon which they work.

Workmen's compensation—provides that Ohio's present workmen's compensation law be placed in the state's charter.

Conservation—provides for the conservation of forestry water power, and for state regulation of the mining, weighing and marketing of all minerals.

Public work—provides for an eight-hour working day for laborers engaged on public works.

Criminal testimony—would regulate the use of expert witnesses and expert testimony in criminal trials.

Land titles—would provide for the Torren's system of registering and classifying land titles.

Prison contract labor—provides against the sale of prison made goods on the open market, unless marked "prison made."

Extra legislative sessions—would restrict the general assembly in special session to the consideration of only such matters as stated in the governor's call for the extra session.

Common pleas courts—provides for a common pleas court in each county, and gives the people the right to combine the common pleas judgeship with the probate judgeship.

Justices of the Peace—would abolish justice of the peace courts in cities having police courts.

Anti-injunction—provides against injunctions in labor disputes except to protect physical property.

Voting machines—authorizes the use of the voting machine.

Bill of right—provides for eliminating the word "white" from the clause giving "white male persons" the right of suffrage.

Primary elections—provides for primary election of delegates to national conventions and for primary nomination of state, municipal and county officials. Also provides for a primary vote on choice for United States senators.

Boards of education—provides that city school districts may determine the size and organization of their boards of education.

Superintendent of public instruction—provides for the election of a state school commissioner for a term of four years. The school commissioner is now an appointive position and for only two years.

Insurance—provides for the state regulation of insurance—will permit public property to be insured in mutual insurance companies.

Board of Public Works—would abolish the board of public works and provide a superintendent of public works to be appointed by the governor for a term of one year.

Taxation—would abolish the poll tax and make state, municipal and school bonds taxable. Raises personal property exemption from $200 to $500. Provides for the uniform rule and authorizes the income, inheritance, franchise and a tax on oil, gas, coal and other minerals produced in the state.

Corporations—provides for the regulation of corporations and the sale of personal property.

Liability—provides for the placing of a double liability upon bank stockholders, and for the state inspection of private banks.

State printing—provides for the building of a state printing office—

Eligibility of women for offices—provides that women may hold positions in state institutions where women or children are cared for.

Civil service—would place all appointive state officials under civil service.

Advertising—would give the state power to regulate bill board advertising.

Constitutional amendments—would provide for the placing of proposed amendment to the constitution upon separate ballots without party designation.

Schedule—provides that all amendments ratified at the special election on September 3 go into effect on January 1, with the exception of the initiative and referendum.

Of all "aptitudes," the mechanical is least likely to manifest itself in a feminine brain. The young woman whose visit to a locomotive works is described in Young's Magazine, is doubtless interested in what she saw, but her account of the processes observed leaves the reader to doubt her entire understanding of them.
"You pour," she told a friend, "a lot of sand into a lot of boxes, and you throw old stove lids and things into a furnace, and then you turn the red-hot stream into a hole in the sand, and everybody yells and shouts."
"Then you pour it out, let it cool and pound it, and then you put in a thing that bores holes in it. Then you screw it together, and paint it, and put steam in it, and it goes splendidly, and they take it to a drafting room and make a blue-print of it."
"But one thing I forgot—they have to make a boiler. One man gets inside, and one gets outside, and they pound frightfully, and then they tie it to the other thing, and you ought to see it go!"—Youth's Companion.

"Mother's" Name.

"A deed was being drawn for a certain farmer to sign. All went smoothly until the lawyer asked him his wife's name.
"Oh, yes, of course. My wife's name. Very necessary, to be sure," said the farmer.
It was plain to be seen that he was not prepared to answer. The blood rushed to his face, he looked troubled, and finally turned his back and looked out of the window.
"What do you think of that!" he exclaimed, as he turned slowly round. "I simply cannot remember her name. You see, they used to call her Pet when she was a girl at home, and that was her name with me until two years after our marriage, when I began calling her 'mother.' I could not tell you her name if it were a capital offense not to do so. S'pose it wouldn't do to call her Pet in the deed?"
It would not do, so he hurried away, and in an hour came back with his wife's full name written on a slip of paper.—Youth's Companion.

MR. O. Y. STER HAS RETURNED TO TOWN

Bivalvular Gentleman Back a Few Days Ahead of "R" Month—Seen in Local Cafe

Oysters have come back. The first of the 1912 crop made their appearance in the local eateries today and from now until next summer those who are fond of the stew, fry, pattie and other preparations of the oyster may satisfy their appetites. Also, of course, you can eat them raw, though there will always be people who insist that a raw oyster, daintily treated with salt pepper, lemon juice, ketchup and a tiny drop of tabasco, is not edible, there are lots of other people who know better.

As is usual with the season's first oysters, those offered today seemed to have been picked before they were fully ripe and look a little peaked and thin. But as the summer wanes and the cooler days come, the oysters will become larger and luscious.

The oysters now on the market came from Maryland. The Texas crop will not be on the market for a week or ten days yet. The Texas season opens September 1 and by that time the law means the season opens at exactly one minute past 12 o'clock midnight on the morning of September 1, or one minute after August 31 has drifted into his territory. Then and not until then can the fishers commence their work of "grabbing" and a long line of boats will be lined up on the reef that night awaiting the word.

By requirement of the Texas law no oyster that measures less than 2 1/2 inches from mouth to hinge may be taken from the beds. However, it is claimed that many of the smaller oysters are killed in the culling process.

From 10 to 15 barrels of oysters is considered a good day's catch. With the bay perfectly calm some of the more expert fishers have been known to drag as many as 30 barrels from the bay, but this is unusual.

O. Y. Ster has been known by many aliases. Once he was called Oistre. The French named him Hultre when he traveled in Europe. In ancient Rome he was known as Ostrea and his family as Ostreum. The Greeks wrote his name with peculiar figures and the Egyptians with hieroglyphics.

The European branch of the family is now known as Ostrea Edulis. The American branch comes from the honorable family of Ostrea Virginiana meaning they were among the first settlers of Virginia.

It is claimed that the Greek word "ostracize" came from oyster, as those ostracized were cast out after their friends and foes had voted, using oyster shells as ballots.

TAUGHT EXPERTS A LESSON

Accident While Casting Cannon Rescued in Foundation of Present English Gun Factory.

We owe our present arsenal at Woolwich to an accident. The government had a gun foundry in Moorfields, where, upon one occasion, in the year 1716, a distinguished party were gathered together to witness the operation of casting a large cannon.

A young foreigner, named Schlach who seems to have been almost as qualified with the details of casting as the men who were present, noticed that one of the molds had been insufficiently dried, and warned the molders against using it. They disregarded his advice, and when he saw that he could not prevail upon them to desist, he immediately put himself well out of harm's way by firing the cannon was cast. A terrible explosion occurred when the molten metal rushed into the wet mold, owing to the sudden generation of steam that could find no outlet, and several persons were killed and a large number injured.

It is said that search was made for the man whose predictions had been so painfully verified, and that the government employed him to advise about the best mode of preventing such accidents in future. The result was that Moorfields was given up as a site of a gun foundry, altogether, and upon his advice the establishment was removed to the Warren at Woolwich—London Tri-Bits.

COLONEL LYON IS PROVIDENT

Bare Out word "Republican" Substitutes "Progressive" and Saves Stationary Supply

Sherman, Texas, Aug. 26.—Colonel Cecil A. Lyon, formerly known facetiously as "the republican party of Texas" is it no longer. He is out-gone! He admits it himself. As a member of the republican national committee he has ousted himself. The name is gone, the title is gone! Everything is gone but the stationery.

This self same colonel, himself a millionaire lumberman and landowner, however, has saved the stationery. He has had his printer "re-fix" it so that it is as good as ever. He has had two dark bars printed through the word "republican" and a word put in above and lo, behold! instead of being a member of the republican national committee he is a member of the progressive national committee. A similar little operation has made him chairman of the progressive state executive committee. It's as simple as the twist of a wrist. Friends of Colonel Lyon, however, are "kidding" him and asking him if "all be saved in the paper."

GAUGING DOWNFALL OF RAIN

Scientific Instruments Have Made it a Matter of Absolute Mathematical Precision.

Few people really understand how rain is measured. We often read in the newspaper that so many inches of rain have fallen during a certain period, but it is difficult to realize what an inch of it actually means. The British Rainfall association have years' records of rainfalls in all parts of the United Kingdom. They have reports from several thousand stations, which are sent in by people who "work" the business as a kind of hobby. There are several wooden structures now in use for measuring rain, and these are known as "gauges." The most skillful is a contrivance with a funnel at the top, through which the water passes into a cup-receiver. The weight of the rain automatically works a pencil.

This marks on a sheet of paper wound round a cylinder, and when it has marked in this fashion two-tenths of an inch, the cup tilts over and empties the contents. The pencil returns to its former position, and the same little device is repeated incessantly until the rain ceases to fall, while the pencil continues to register on the paper attached.

Colonel Roosevelt says he expects to speak kindly of Gov. Wilson. It's awful sweet of him to say it, but perhaps "there's a reason." That fellow Wilson is some scrapper himself when it comes to a show down. Marse Henry Waterson and Col. Harvey will testify to that.

So far as we are concerned, we're just a little more inclined to accept Teddy's statement regarding the Republican slush fund of 1904, than that of either Penrose or Archibald. There is no longer any doubt, and in fact never was, that the Republican party owes its victories to the enormous campaign funds it raises, and the man who has the work of raising the fund need not tell how it was used until after it is spent. This seems to be the way it happened in 1904. They simply made the trusts come through with the goods, and so far as observations go, the trusts got all they were promised, and then some. This year the trust forces seem divided—the good and the bad trusts. The good trusts, if there are any such, are financing Roosevelt's campaign for him, while the bad ones are staying with Taft. But the masses of the people are behind Woodrow Wilson, and his election is just as sure and certain as it is for anything to be before it really happens. The trusts have won their last presidential victory.

In 1908 there were 14,888,442 votes cast in the presidential election. According to the census bureau the number of new voters that have become such in the four years that have come in the neighborhood of 2,550,000. This is independent of the votes of women in the six western states that have been granted suffrage to women, which increases the voting population 1,347,000, and the total estimated vote for president in 1912 is put at 24,335,000. The Democratic National campaign managers are counting strongly on polling at least 65% of the increased voting population, which would leave 35% to be divided between Taft, Roosevelt, Debs and others. Most all those who cast their first presidential vote want it to count, which is a good indication that Wilson is going to prove a winner. But all these good signs have not put the Democrats to sleep. They are at work just as hard as if they knew the ticket had an exceedingly hard fight on hand and was going to win only by a narrow margin instead of an overwhelming majority. In fact, the indications now are that Wilson will carry at least 36 states.

The curse of our presidential contests in the past has been that the rich men, and corporations and trusts have, by their enormous campaign contributions been enabled not only to elect but to control absolutely the president after he was elected. The Democrats, having nominated Wilson, determined at the outset to not put the head of their ticket under monetary obligations to wealthy men and the "interests." The public at large are fully aware of these facts, and if they are not, all that is necessary to convince is to read the testimony of Archibald the Standard Oil magnate, who brazenly admits that the large contributions of that concern were given for a consideration. In other words, it was given with the plain understanding that the Standard should receive what it asked for, and that concern duly asks for what it cannot take without the asking. Now that the Democrats have decided to decline all financial assistance that might be offered by rich corporations, shall we allow our ticket to be embarrassed for the lack of funds to pay campaign expenses? If you have not subscribed to the Wilson campaign fund, do it now.

THIS MAN WOULD EXTERMINATE BIRD DOGS

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside, the writer makes a statement on the preservation of the "Bob White" family. He says in part: "I know that the quail family is rapidly disappearing all over the country, and I know the cause. I emphatically state that the bird dog is the quail's great enemy." I have met with some contradiction from bird dog owners, but most of them agree with me that more birds are destroyed annually by the dogs than are killed through the winter season with the deadly automatic gun. I was raised on a farm born there, here in Texas, and have grown up associated with nature. The birds and beasts were my earliest associates. Some I learned to love, others to hate. I have a special affection for "Bob White" on account of his semi-domestic nature. We had plenty of quail until the advent of the bird dog and now where we used to see thousands you can see but one occasionally. Here in Texas the boy who sowed the grain and tilled the soil is not allowed to trap, but the man and the dog is permitted to kill twenty-five birds each day for sixty days. When I was a boy I was a successful trapper, but never caught that many birds in one day in my life. I am now growing old and have no desire to trap, but fond memory brings the light of other days around me, and I wish to treat a boy as I would be treated if I were a boy again. Now, I want to build up a sentiment in favor of restocking the country with quails, and in order to do this, every dog in the country that will hunt quails must be restrained during the setting season. I know that the dogs catch the mother bird on the nest eat her eggs or catch her young. I received a letter today from Mr. H. P. Attwater, industrial agent for the Southern Pacific Railroad, which gave much information, gathered by the National Committee of Audubon Societies regarding the value of many kinds of birds in destroying insects. This statement gives the quail as the farmer's best friend and protector. To me this is good as far as it goes, but I want to save the quails for the quails themselves! Now, good friend, join in this campaign, and let's stop this unnecessary slaughter.

"If I could, I would do away with the bird dog altogether, not that I am an enemy to the dog, but I am opposed to his habits. The Indian had sense enough to kill only as many buffalo as he needed, but when the white man came on the scene, he slaughtered as 100 as one could be found. Have we not improved enough in a century to know better?"

Are You Acquainted With Any Bore Like This?

In a story by Mary Stewart Cutting in the September Woman's Home Companion appears the following characterization of a man who made himself a nuisance by always trying to be funny:

"Mr. Brentwood was well born, well educated, and successful in affairs. He had, in the eyes of his family but one fault; he had a masochistic sense of humor of a homely, almost rural type, at which his family winced uncontrollably. Mr. Brentwood, even from the earliest days of their marriage, had been wont to implore her Theodore, when they were expecting company, not to be 'funny.' 'Certain jokes or mannerisms of his at the table were of daily occurrence. Hardly noticed any more when they were alone, they spring into startling prominence when there were guests. He always said, 'People come from miles around to hear us drink soup.' He jovially inquired if he might 'borrow the butter' or if Ellen, the waitress, could 'spare him another slice of bread.' He made puns on the vegetables and he had a habit of looking with sudden suspicion at any dish handed to him, no matter how familiar, and asking disgustedly, 'What's in this anyway?' Strangers always inspired him particularly to their entertainment. Certain ancient, inherited anecdotes could be endured by his wife and children, even if with aching strain, but there was a bath-tub story (Mr. Brentwood had in his early boyhood migrated with his parents to what was then the edge of the prairie) beginning mendaciously, 'You know we never took baths when I was a boy,' that, though it was amusing, nearly went beyond the pale of refinement, and an awful tooth-brush story which positively did. If people laughed at his stories, Mr. Brentwood became practically untrammelled.

"Another common table remark by Mr. Brentwood was that he never had any use for potato salad because cold potatoes always reminded him of cold feet. It was also his habit to admonish people to 'eat slowly and distinctly.' He got this from the old saying, 'Read slowly and distinctly.'"

Unforeseen Complication

Jimpson, in London, had rung up a well known shop in Paris by telephone to communicate an order on behalf of Mrs. Jimpson. After waiting two hours for the connection to be made, he entered the booth and began. Two minutes later he emerged.

"Say, mister," said he to the attendant, "can't you put me on a wire that'll translate what I have to say in to French? I can't make that darned jackass on the other end of the line understand a word I say." Harper's Weekly.

Ventilation Test.
A single way to tell whether your room is properly ventilated is to place a wide-necked bottle of water into which you have put half an ounce of lime water. In the room, letting it remain unopened over night. If in the morning the lime water is milk the ventilation is bad. If the lime water becomes milk on your covering the bottle mouth with your hand and shaking the vessel, the ventilation is not sufficiently good. If the lime water remains clear, the air of that room is pure.

party which declares that the tools of labor belong to labor and that the wealth produced by the working class belongs to the working class.
"Intelligent workmen are no longer deceived. They know that the struggle in which the world is engaged today is a class struggle and that in this struggle the workers can never win by giving their votes to capitalist parties. They have tried this for many years and it has always produced the same results to them.
"The class of privilege and pelf has had the world by the throat and the working class beneath its iron-shod hoofs long enough. The magic word of freedom is ringing through the nation and the spirit of intelligent revolt is finding expression in every land beneath the sun.
"The solidarity of the working class is the silent force in the social transformation of which we behold the signs upon every hand. Nearer and nearer they are being drawn together in the bonds of unionism; clearer and clearer becomes their collective vision; greater and greater grows the power that throbs within them.
"Are they the twentieth century hosts of freedom who are to destroy all despotisms, topple over all thrones, seize all sceptres of authority and hold them in their own strong hands, tear up all privilege by the roots and consecrate the earth and all its fulness to the joy and service of all humanity.
"Is it vain to hope for material relief under the prevailing system of capitalism. All the reforms that are proposed by the three capitalist parties, even if carried out in god faith, would still leave the working class in industrial slavery.
"The working class will never be emancipated by the grace of the capitalist class; but only by overthrowing that class.
"The power to emancipate (itself) is inherent in the working class and this power must be developed through sound education and applied through some organization.
"Is it as foolish and self-destructive for workmen to turn to Republicans, Democrats and Progressives parties on election day as it would be for them to turn to the Manufacturers' Association and Citizens' Alliance when they are striking against starvation wages.
"The capitalist class is organized economically and politically to keep the working class in subjection and perpetuate its power as a ruling class. They do not support a working class union nor a working class party. They are not so foolish. They wisely look out for themselves.
"The capitalist class despise a working class party. Why should the working class give their support to a capitalist class party?
"Capitalist misrule under which workmen suffer slavery and the most galling injustice exists only because it has workmen's support. Withdraw that support and capitalism is dead.
"The capitalists can enslave and rob the workers only by the consent of the workers when they cast their ballots on election day.
"Every vote cast for a capitalist party, whatever its name, is a vote for wage-slavery, for poverty and degradation.
"Every vote cast for the Socialist party, the workers' own party, is a "Ten, eh?" said Jipson. "That's good and cheap. How about 'em—are they good for anything? Ever had 'em tested?" "I should say so," said the salesman. "They've traveled over 30,000 miles already."—Harper's Weekly.

Disputes as to the ownership of two of Wichita Falls players were settled recently by the National Baseball Commission. Lawrence to whom a Nebraska team claimed title, was awarded to Wichita Falls, which had already disposed of him to Dallas. Mullins, who was a bone of contention between Dallas and San Antonio, was declared the property of the Dallas team. San Antonio claimed that Wichita Falls had agreed to sell "Lefty" to the Bronchos.

is the basis on which we ask for your business. Two things make or unmake the drug business. They are QUALITY and SERVICE. Price cut the least feature of anything that pertains to the business. You would not buy Ten Dollars worth of Compound Cathartic pills merely because you could get them for twenty-five cents the bushel. You would not buy any more pills at a dollar a ton than you would at the usual dime a dozen.

What you want to know is that you are getting what you ordered and that it will be sent up before you forget that you ordered it. We are always on the job with nothing to do but see that you get what you want and get it NOW.

We are not amateurs in this business; we have been throwing bottles at the wall a long time and know every phase of it from the price of tooth picks to the dose of Taraxacum.

PUBLIC WEIGHER LAW IS FURTHER CONSTRUED.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 26.—The attorney general's department, through Assistant Funkenburg today rendered another opinion upon the question of public weighers, much more restrictive, relative to the weighing of cotton, sugar, wool and hides by others than public weighers. Both of these opinions are directed to H. R. Wil-rendered today, it is held to be a violation of the law for any one not a public weigher in a city having a public weigher, to weigh cotton, wool, sugar, or hides, except in a case where the owner of such products weighs the same in person and except where the owner of such products authorizes in writing his factor, commission merchant or agent to hire a private weigher to weigh such products.

Good Excuse.

It was on the sleeping-car. "Say, mister," said the man in the upper berth to the occupant of the lower, "quit that music, will you? What do you think this is, a concert-hall? The rest of us want to sleep." "Why, the car is so stuffy," said the warbler, "I was only humming a little air."

It was then that he was hit with a Pullman pillow, remaining unconscious for seven hours.—Harper's Weekly.

90 HAVE SIGNED FOR TRADE EXCURSION

Effort Will Be Made to Secure 125 By Friday Night—Town's Planning Entertainment

Ninety names have been so far enrolled as participants in the Wellington trade excursion to be operated on Thursday, August 29 under the auspices of the Young Men's Progressive League. One hundred and twenty-five is the number sought and earnest efforts will be made by the league to signed up the last man by Tuesday night. However it is announced that there will be accommodations at the last hour for those who cannot determine until the night before the trip. Those who show up at the train on Thursday morning will be taken care of.

As has been announced, the train will leave here at 7:45 a. m., arriving here on its return at 11:25 p. m. The stops will be made on the up trip, the returned run being made without a stop. A competent local restaurant man will operate a lunch stand in the "baggage coach ahead," and time will not be lost at meal hours.

The Wichita State Band is preparing a selection of its most spirited numbers for the occasion. The decorations will include two forty-foot banners for the front coach, two large pennants to flutter from the pilot of the engine, as well as many flags and yards of bunting for the rear coaches. This, coupled with the white caps and badges of the excursionists, will lend to the trip a festive-day appearance.

Advices have been received from numerous towns along the line that elaborate entertainment for the visitors is being prepared.

Concerning the excursion and the campaign to enlist excursionists, the secretary of the Young Men's Progressive League this morning said:

"Practically two days now intervene before the date of the trip and only ninety of the necessary one hundred and twenty-five have enrolled their names. The league doubts not that there will be many on hand to make the trip who will not sign up, but this will merely cause extra trouble and not solve in advance, as it should be solved, the matter of securing the number demanded by the railroad company.

"It is therefore most earnestly urged that the business men make up their minds Tuesday morning and phone the secretary of the league. By so doing the first trade excursion ever operated by the business men of Wichita Falls will be the success it should be, one which will reflect great credit upon the city and its people.

"Trade excursions are acknowledged by business men and commercial organizations generally, to be the very best single method of enlarging and developing trade territory. No town in the world, we believe, has such a magnificent trade territory as is possessed by this city, certainly no town the size of Wichita Falls can boast of a territory nearly so vast and rich.

"The Progressive League believes that it is now time to exploit this territory as it should be exploited and hopes that this excursion will prove so satisfactory that the mere announcement of later trips will insure a full attendance on very short notice.

"The league hopes names will be furnished promptly."

Those who have signed up since the last list was published include the following: Wichita Produce Co., Wichita Foundry, C. F. Barry, J. D. Scruggs, B. F. Crawford, Hatton & Bemrod, J. M. McFall, Oklahoma Bar, Perkins & Cravens, Willey Robertson, J. Milton Erwin, Melville Weaver, R. C. Hardy, R. H. Martin, Frank Jenne, Wren & Berry, A. S. Fonville, W. N. Maer, Mike Emmert, W. D. Trueblood.

Exploded Story.

Uncle Ezra—"Howdy, Eben. Just back from California, I see. Must be a great place. They say there is sunshine there the year 'round." Uncle Eben—"That is just one of them fake western yarns. Every day I was there, along at the end of the afternoon night came, just the same as it does here."

Corks can be made to fit tight by boiling them, which shrinks them temporarily, and inserting them in bottles while hot.

DR. H. A. WALLER DENTIST

Office: Room 207 Kemp & Kell Building. Phone 836.

I take pleasure in announcing to my former friends and patrons that my office is now open on 2nd floor Kemp and Kell building. My new office is equipped with all the latest sanitary dental appliances known to modern dentistry, including two full sets of instruments and an electric sterilizer. This enables me to use sterilized instruments on each patient. It is a well known fact that many contagious diseases, such as tuberculosis, diphtheria, pyorrhea, (that deared disease which causes the teeth to become loose and fall out commonly known as scurvy) and many blood diseases can be transmitted from the mouth of one patient to that of another by the dentist.

It affords me great satisfaction to serve my patients this safeguard. Soliciting a renewal of your liberal patronage of past years, I beg to remain,

Yours sincerely, DR. H. A. WALLER.
