MANY CONGRESSMEN BANQUET TONIGHT FOR SECRETARIES

VISITING TOWN BUILDERS WILL BE GUESTS OF WICHITA FALLS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Best Ways of Securing Factories before the wearying round of political Are Being Outlined This Afternoon.

Many matters dealing with success ful and efficient commercial organization work are receiving the attention of the Texas Commercial Secretaries now in session here. Porter Whaley of Pecos said he did not believe that advertising alonehe emphasized the alone—had ever brought a settler to the Pecos country. It must be followed up, he declared, and the land companies of Pecos had done this by sending personal workers to points in Kentucky, Hlinois and Tennessee,

That advertising alone, without following up or personal appeal, had been everdone, was the opinion of Homer D. Wade of Stamford. He told of the good results attained by the exhibit car sent out by several towns along the Texas Central.

F. H. Gohlke of Wichita Falls, former secretary of the Chamber of Commerce here, took issue with Porter Whaley's statement that advertising done had never brought immigrants. He told of the experience of towns in the Northwestern States in this connection. The trouble was, he continued, that there were so many towns advertising their advantages and resources that the thing was over-worked and it was impossible for one community to attract much individual attention any more. Questioned as to what the oil and gas discoveries had done for Wichita Falls, he said that while these advantages had contributed largely, it was the co-operation and assistance of Wichita Falls' citizens that had been the most beneficial. No town could secure many new enterprises, he said, unless there was local capital to be invested.

Secretary Ward, of Sherman, discussing the co-operation of the real estate men in advertising a city, said that it was impossible to get all the real estate agents in line.

Homer Wade pointed out that it was impossible to secure the entire co operation of any one class and that all a secretary could hope to do was to get the best men in each line of business. Discussing the advertising proposition, he said that Stamford had profitted very little by the "personal appeal;" other sections of Texas were over-advertised in the Northern States

"You must have something definite o advertise," he said. Mr. Forester suggested that some

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, Aug. 27.-Mexican rebels crossed the New Mexico boundary last night and raided a ranch on the American side, according to advices received today by Gen. E. Z. Steever in command at Fort Bliss. Fire was exchanged between the invaders and a trop of the Third U. S. Cavalry stationed below Oachita, New Mexico, about 70 miles west along the border from El Paso.

According to the reports of a cattleman arriving at Oachita, and of H. B. Johnson lieutenant of Troop E Third Cavalry, the rebels opened fire on the United States troops.

The fire was returned promptly and the invaders, about twenty-five in number, were driven back over the line. The rebels had raided the Culberson ranch tout miles from the line and about thirty-five miles south of Oachita, making away with about 100 orses. Gen. News That Names of Owners of Disorderly Houses Would Be Published Causes a Panic.

New York, Aug. 27.—John M. McIntyre counsel for Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, indicted for the murder of Herman Rosenthal today obtained a delay in the case until September 3, by serving a writ staying the proceedings. The writ was served on District Attorney Roben and Judge Mulqueen of the court of general sessions, before whom Becker was to have been arraigned today for plead-sued the writ. Members of the extraordinary grand jury that has been summoned to inquire into the police blackmail will be investigated as to their real estate holdings by District Aftorney Whit-man who has discovered that one of the grand jury panel of fifty business men is a part owner of a hotel used for disorderly purposes. The state's attorney insists that the extraordinary grand jury shall not have even a remote connection with the police graft system and if necessary he will challenge the prospective grand jurors in open court. The news that Police Commission Waldo would publish a list of owners of gambling and disorderly house has caused a panic among the owners of ;; such property who are making frantic appeals not to have their names made public. In many instances they protest on the ground that they did not know their property had been let to undestrables. The gambling house on Forty-Second street, formerly occupied by "Bridgie" Webber, where the Rosenthal murder is believed to have been planned, was raided last night by Police Inspector Dwyer, successor to Inspector Cornelius J. Hayes, recently reduced to the rank of captain by Commissioner Waldo. Although Webber, confessed accomplice in the mur-G. D. confiscated. Police Commissioner Waldo promised last night to make public today a list of the names of the owners and agents of the buildings rented to the gambling houses and other resorts, which he has prepared for the use of the District Attorney in "John Doe" proceedings before Justice Goff. This list, according to information obtained at police headquarters today, contains the names of men high in social and financial circles of the city.

That the district attorney would use the list for purposes of prosecution after the ownership of the Hlegally used property had been established by testimony before Justice Goff, was made known today by a representative of the district attorney. While it is expected the excuse of the owners will be that they were not aware of the use to which their property was being put, the State expects to undermine this plea by demanding an explanation of the unusually high rents which they charged for the properties.

Commissioner Waldo's statistics show it is said, that rents charged are in some cases 50 per cent higher than for property used for other purposes in the same block.

This proposed prosecution of owners of illegal places is said to have seen suggested by Justice Goff, as inhis belief one of the most effective weapons that could be employed to lean up vice in New York City. A ew such prosecutions with the accompanying publicity would, in the opinion of the justice, put fear of limilar exposure in the hearts of other reputedly respectable property wners with the result that the numper of illegal resorts able to find a shelter would be greatly reduced.

It was stated on good authority that District Attorney Whitman came in possession of additional evidence today through a letter from John Hallen, a disbarred lawyer, who was reently sentenced to Sing Sing for forgery. He is alleged to have heard a conversation between Lieut. Becker and Policeman White, former mem-

The Mid-Continent field omitted, California produced as much off as the rest of the United States put together; the United States being omitted, California produced more oil than any entire nation; and if Russia and the United States are omitted, California far surpassed the combined production of all the rest of the world, including Mexico, India. Increased Use of Fuel Oils. The most important feature developed by the oil industry of 1911 has been the realization of a supply of fuel oil large enough to be reckoned on as oil has come from New York, Penn- a national asset in the production of power. During 1910 arguments became convincing that fuel oil was sufficiently plentiful on the Pacific Coast to justify great trade and manufacturing xpansion in California, and indeed the adoption of oil as fuel on the northern ranscontinental railroads for significant portions of their lines and the in troduction of oil as fuel as far north as Alaska, without bringing the con sumption up to the level of present production, has given assurance of permanency of the supply sufficient for the industrial needs of the whole Pa cific slope.

The solution of the problem on the Atlantic coast received nuch encouragement of oil supplies in Mexico. The quantity of oil which the Mexican fields are now ready to furnish is variously estimated at 6,000, 000 to 12,000,000 barrels a month. The total output in 1911 was perhaps a tenth as much, the production being limited not by supply or demand but by transportation facilities. The needed tank steamers are being furnished as rapidly as they can be built, and meantime the popularity which fuel oil has obtained has already led to loubling of its market price.

It should be borne in mind, howey er, that if there were tank steamers sufficient for all oil that can now be furnished for the east coast, the market would probably be temporarily oversupplied. The consumers of fuel require time for the substitution o oil for coal, though the many advantaes of oil are obvious.

Oil on Railroads Railroad consumption of fuel oil i specially popular because it give dded comforts in travel owing to the freedom from coal cinders, because it avoids the danger of forest fires, and particularly because it makes a sav ng in labor. In fact, until coal can be replaced by oil the weight of trains on mountain divisions is limited by the endurance of the fireman. In recomnending the adoption of fuel oil on the mountain divisions of the Canadian Pacific Railway, William White; second vice president, states that one of the reasons for this change is the removal of danger from conflagrations in the great forests of British Columbia. He also alludes to the failure of the immense locomotives now in use, say fng: "It is not the fallure of the locomotives; it is the failure of the fire-man." A fireman shoveling coal on one of these locomotives for a dis tance of 130 miles is physically ex hausted before getting to the end of the run. The Southern Pacific Co. uses ever 1,200 off-burning locomotives, the Santa Fe over 800, the Northern Pacific 20, and the Great Northern 115

It is estimated that nearly 50,000 barrels of the California oil in 1911 was The Texas and fana fuel oil is estimated at 9,000,000 barrels, much of which was in the form of residues after light distillates were taken off. In the Mid-Continent field also crude oil as fuel is fast giving place to these "topped" olls. Of this material about 2,000,000 barrels was consumed. Little oil from the eastern fields finds use as fuel, because the heavy realdium is valuable for manufacture into lubricants, paraffin, wax, etc. In all nearly 62,000,000 bar-rels were probably consumed as fuel off in 1911 iin the United States for the preceding year is $1,000,000 bar rels, the increase showing a growing appreciation of oil as fuel.

He says he wants to remedy all human ailments, and especially care for the women tollers.

In the mills of the Osborne Twine Company No. 3, at Auburn, N. Y., which is owned by the International Harvester Company, of which George W. Perkins is a director and leading light, an investigation on the part of Senator Robert F. Wagner of the state factory investigating commit tee discloses the most inhuman and brutal treatment of women.

Women are made to toil all night known here today. Detectives have long in the Perkins directed harvester trust factory. Some of these women receive as high as $7 a week, but many of them only $5. They are given fifteen minutes for their lunch.

And they work in dust laden rooms from twelve to fourteen hours a day. On August 17 Roosevelt said:

"Mr. Perkins is a rich man. came into my movement on his own initiative. I have known him for fourteen years and when he joined me I asked him why are you support-

"He said the primary reason was ecause he had children. He had all the money he wanted, he said, and had come to the conclusion that this country won't be a good place to live when his children become the age we are unless business and government are brought into proper relations, unless the relations of capital and the wage earner are placed on a better basis."

In his speech delivered on the same day at Revere Beach, Mass.,

"I wish an eight hour day for women of industry, I wish safety appliances and I wish to secure healthful conditions for the wageworkers." George W. Perkins in his confession of faith on August 20-and this date is important-said: "Money is not all in this life. The mere accumulation of wealth will not bring an honorable heritage to my only son. Is there not something more than the incentive to make money which I can leave him?"

Four days before these statements were made by Roosevelt and Perkins the New York state factory investigating committee visited the International Harvester Company's plant and there examined working girls and married women, and their testimony is a long recital of tears and misery and enforced slavery, insanitary con-

The pathetic story of the girls and women, as officially reported, shows heartlessness of Perkins, the financial backer of the third term party ditions and starvation wages.

Read what Senator Wagner says: "The appearance of the women workers in this plant was very disheartening. They were worn and pale, and their clothes, faces and hands were covered with oil and hemp cloth. Many of these women. so called, are only children in age, and they have to lug huge piles of hemp, weighing 150 pounds each, across the floor, the load in some cases being bigger than the women themselves. "In the spinning room, where wo men are employed alone, to the exclusion of men, who would have to re ceive higher wages, the clatter of machinery is so frightful that a voice below a shriek cannot be heard. The rooms are dark, though for no neces sary cause, and no attempt is made to remove the dust, which is kept in constant motion by the line shaftings, despite the requirement of the law. This dust is breathed continu ously by the women, many of whom complain of chronic coughs and colds. The dust and dirt are so thick upon the clothes of the girls that at the moon hour, which in many cases consists of but a few minutes, and at the close of the day's or night's labor, the girls have to sweep each other clean with brooms." The custom of working the women all night, it was learned, was permanent. Married women were selected and for their labors, which started at sundown and lasted until 6:30 o'clock in the morning, they received never more than $7'a week. In many fami lies the husband was employed at an average wage of about $8 during the day. This woman testified that she could not work during the day because of her children. When asked when she arranged to sleep, she explained that she stole a few hours' rest in the morning while her neighbors cared for her children. William M. Greig, superintendent of the Harvester trust's twine mills, was closely questioned by Mr. Elkus. Mr. Greig informed him that the mills employed about 400 women of whom 200 worked all night. He was asked who was responsible for the existing conditions. "All our regulations as to shifts and general conditions come from home office at Chicago," he repli-

It used to be; and is yet, in some localities, that when the lie was passed it was a fighting proposition, but this does not seem to apply to men of the Penrose-Archbold-Roosevelt-stripe.

This is the season of the year when one can discard that old straw hat he has been wearing the entire season, and which has become soiled for one just like for just about one-half the price he paid for the first one.

Most of us right at the present time are more interested in the price of cotton, than politics; but that does not mean that we must forget entirely that this is the year the Democrats should keep awake and poll their full. strength for Wilson and Marshall. Down at Houston the city authorities have provided a room in the city hall, equipped with chairs, desks, electric fans and other essentials That go to make it pleasant and comwortable for the occupants, for exclusive use of the newspaper reporters. That's a pretty good sign that the city authorities and the press of the city are working together for the betterment and the upbuilding of Houston: The press appreciates such courteous treatment but only in instances that are rare is it extended.

It is the moderate man of affairs who is the real town-builder. He is the man who has not yet reached that stage of prosperity that nothing is good enough for him or for his business that can be had of the home dealer. The follow who adopts those methods has had showered up him by home people a greater degree of prosperity than he deserves, and the sooner the Reople cease throwing their patronage The article goes on: to his the quicker he will awaken to the fact that the people of the town in which he resides can afford to pull through life without his patronage just about as well as he can afford to do without theirs. Gov. Burke Says There Is No Good Reason Why Any Democrat Should Not Vote For Wilson.

New York, Aug. 27.-Gov. John Burke of North Dakota, is assured of the success of Wilson and Marshall, and has sent the following signed

"Wilson will win in the coming elction for the reason that the emocrats are united and the republicans divided. There is no good reawhy any democrat should not vote for Wilson. His record since he has been in public life is a platform n itself that appeals not only to the democratic voters but to many republicans as well. They know that he is one of the greatest intellectual men that we have had in public life, Wichita Falls, Texas, August 27, 1912. and while he stands firmly for democratic principles he is never offensive nd there is no partisan feeling against him. If he had received the nomination the party would have been redeemed, reformed and He did not receive the purified. nomination and hence the republican party is rotten and empty, lifeless shell without a soul, controlled and run by the bosses-all because it did not nominate Col. Roosevelt. Thousands of the republicans supported him in the primaries, not because they preferred him personally to President Taft but for the reason that he was more popular with the people and stood a better chance of election. But he is not a republican now; he left the republican party and is running as a candidate of another party in opposition to the regular republican candidate and will only have his personal following in the election. He has a personal following; it will come almost exclusively from the republican party and will be sufficient in numbers to insure the election of Governor Wilson. .

Mr. Babcock suggested that a registry of visitors be kept and that the results be recorded systematically, for the best returns on the exhibits.

Chairman Johnson called attention to the fact that there was some agitation for a bill for truthful advertising and he asked the secretaries to express themselves on it. There was scant responses, but the question of needed legislation was opened up and discussed at some length.

Secretary Babcock said that rould be impossible for any state department to censor advertisements of Texas cities or lands because those at the heads of state departments at Austin knew very little about Texas resources: In this connection it was remarked that more than once, state officials had called upon the Commercial Secrefaries' Association for information about Texas. Mr. Babcock told of the necessity for soil and geological surveys in Texas. A geological survey had been made by the federal government, he said, and the only information it gave was that water could be found in Texas if you went deep enough for it.

Secretary Wade of Stamford said that public sentiment ought to be awakened to the necessity of finding out the truth about Texas and telling retary Arnold, "that sometimes it's The subject of soil surveys and the necessity for some action along this clothes and board there. There were line was discussed very generally, no surplus rent houses in Denton, he There was some talk of asking the curing a thorough and adequate soil the basis on which we ask for your business. Two things make or unmake the drug business. They are QUALITY and SERVICE. Price cuts the least figure of anything that pertains to the business. You would not buy Ten Dollars worth of Compound Cathartic pills merely because you could get them for twenty-five cents the bushel. You would not buy any more pills at a dollar a ton than you would at the usual dime a dozen.

What you want to know is that you are getting what you ordered and that it will be sent up before you forget that your ordered it. We are always on the job with nothing to do but see that you get what you want and get it NOW. We are not amateurs in this business; wehave been throwing bottles field in that section of the State. A few days ago the announcement was made that Dallas financiers had purchased 200 acres on Caddo Lake from Oscar Hope for the purpose of erecting a $5,000 club house. In addition to making this purchase leases were taken on sufficient other land on both sides of the club tract to make a total of about 4,000 acres. The leases stipulate that an oil well is to be sunk with in six months, and as evidence of good

"The Stranger," a pastoral comedydrama in four acts is the bill at the Dreamland theatre. The play is by Bruce Rinaldo, one of the leading men with the DeRoame Co., and is after the style of "Peaceful Valley," the comedy that made Sol Smith Russell famous. It is said to be the best bill in the reportoire of the DeRoame Co., and is enthusiastically received, for the reason that it is just a good wholesome story of everyday life in a country town, with plenty of comedy scattered throughdut.

Last night the DeRoame Co., gave "The Invader," which proved a most decided artistic success in spite of the fact that but a small audience was out to witness it. The Dreamland management are making an effort to put on as fine a line of stock plays as is to be had, and this week they have cer-
