LABOR DAY PARADE A SPLENDID ONE

LONGEST AND MOST PRETENTIOUS DISPLAY EVER MADE IN THIS CITY

REAL INDIANS IN LINE

Fraternal Organizations and Business Houses Also Pay Tribute to the Workers

This was union labor's own day in Wichita Falls and the occasion was commemorated by one of the most pretentious parades ever witnessed in this city. For length and number of participants, it far surpassed all previous affairs of the kind, and was a distinct success in every particular.

The parade was over a mile in length and the line included members of almost every craft in the city, save those whose work holds them even on Labor Day.

At the head were City Marshal Gwin, Sheriff Randolph and Grand Marshal W. H. Duff, followed by the Wichita band. Next came the fire department, with Mayor Bell and Chief Stampfl among the passengers on the "bubble." A water wagon, drawn by eight horses followed, then the unions came. First were the Railway Carmen, in blue caps and overalls, then the barbers. The long line of bricklayers was headed by the McCabe float on which a number of bricklayers were at work building a wall in the midst of the patriotic decorations.

An appropriately decorated float also headed the Broommakers, who followed the brick layers. The contracting painters followed in automobiles and behind them were the members of the painters' union, clad in working clothes and each with a rule in his hand.

The carpenters and joiners also had on their working clothes, even to the pencil stuck under the white cap. There was an unusually good showing of the carpenters, fifty-eight being in line.

The plumbers union occupied automobiles instead of marching. They were the last union in the line of the parade.

Fraternal organizations were next, first being the Modern Woodmen of America drill team, which made an excellent showing, the members being in uniform.

One of the prize features of the parade was the float of the Royal Neighbors of America. A score of ladies, members of Lone Star Camp No. 4108 occupied the float, which was decorated in purple and white. The occupants were dressed in white and the scene presented was one that won unstinted applause all along the line of march. The float was one of the prettiest ever gotten up here and many compliments on the work of the ladies were heard. Those occupying it included Mesdames Hardy, Montgomery, Huddleston, Wilson, Craig, Boyd, Cox, Duke, Colbeth, Hendricks, Stengel, Hill, Ross, Thompson, Yarbrough, Collins, Seeley, Reed, Heck, Brewer and Misses Brooks and Wall. Mercantile and similar floats followed, the Indians bringing up the rear of the parade. Among those represented were Payne Tailoring Company, W. Hamilton, Wichita Hardware Company, R. J. Bean & Son, Vic Stampfl, Wichita Mill, A. S. Fonville, Maxwell Hardware Company, the Fraser-Birn Furniture Company.

The parade formed at the court house and marched through the business section and back to the court house, where it disbanded. Many of the unions posed for their pictures after the parade and photographers did a rushing business.

OUR INDUSTRIES NEED PROTECTION

Roosevelt Says Abolition of Tariff Would Bring Disaster to This Country

By Associated Press. Sept. 2.—Col. Roosevelt today talking at Meridian, Conn. on the tariff said: "I cannot imagine anything that would bring disaster to this country quicker than the abolition of the tariff. I wish to see various duties revised downward but what I am especially anxious to see is the creation of a board similar to that of Germany. This talk of the tariff is simply a red herring across the trail to distract the attention of the people from the real needs of the situation. The prosperity of Germany under protection and the industrial retrogression of England under free trade prove the utter nonsense that the adoption of free trade by this country could under any circumstances aid in the solution of our problems."

LEADS IN COTTON EXPORTS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—According to data compiled by the United States Department of Commerce and Labor, 38 per cent of the cotton exported during the calendar year 1911 was through Texas ports. Galveston is the leading cotton exporting port in the United States and New Orleans ranks second. These two ports handled 2,761,529 and 1,513,023 bales of export cotton respectively last year. The total exports of the United States last year were 7,718,414 bales and the total from Texas was 2,969,157 bales.

AMERICAN KILLED BY MEXICAN REBELS

Joshua Stevens Was Protecting Honor of His Daughters When He Met Death

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, Sept. 2.—Death at the hands of a rebel soldier was the fate of an American citizen, Joshua Stevens, while he fought to protect his two daughters in Colonia Pacheco. News of the tragedy was received here by the business agent of the Mormon colonies in Mexico.

At first it was reported that Stevens was killed by an American, but this report was sent, it was said, to avoid trouble with the rebels. Two rebels visited the Stevens home apparently with intentions on the two young women of the household. Stevens met the intruders with his shotgun and escorted them to the limit of his property.

According to the story told by his daughters, one of the Mexicans drew a sword from his belt and thrust it into the American's body. Stevens fired and fell dead over the man, whom he had killed. The other Mexican fled.

The case is said to make the fifth murder of American settlers by rebels in that district. It is declared that the federal soldiers between Juarez and Chihuahua have not left the railway and that the American colonies are absolutely unprotected.

TANDY FURNISHED BOND IN EL PASO

Former Banker Will Not Be Compelled to Come Here to Furnish Bond For Appearance at Trial

Bond of $500 in each of the three cases has been allowed John C. Tandy, formerly of this city, arrested at El Paso Saturday on three indictments alleging embezzlement. The bond was made at El Paso and Mr. Tandy will probably not return here until the district court convenes in December.

The three indictments involve a total of $28,900 and the indictments allege that the offenses were committed on March 10, 1910, June 6, 1910 and February 6, 1911, the amounts being $1000, $390 and $1500, respectively. Each of the indictments recites that Mr. Tandy was acting as president and agent of the Wichita State Bank on these dates.

PATRONIZE WICHITA FALLS WHOLESALE HOUSE

Last Friday Carrol-Brough-Robinson-Gates of Wichita Falls shipped a carload of groceries consigned to Powell & Meyer and the Electric Grocery Company, Electric, Texas.

Among the other established grocery firms of the city are J. H. Marriott & Son, Wm. Idou, Friend & Puckett Grocery Co., the Famous and the Fancy Grocery store, all of which handle to a more or less extent the Carrol-Brough-Robinson-Gates line of groceries, and all of them believe in exemplifying the Electric spirit by keeping the people supplied with exactly what they want in the way of groceries.—Electric News.

COTTON YARN OUTPUT INCREASED

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—A report recently issued by the Federal Department of Commerce and Labor shows there were 14,373,419 pounds of cotton yarn manufactured in Texas in 1909. This is an increase over 1904 the date of the preceding census, of 6,734,369 pounds or 88.4 per cent. The cotton yarn manufactured in Texas during the year 1909 will reach around the world 483,000 times.

MANY DROWNED IN KEYSTONE STATE

SERIES OF STORMS SWEEP WESTERN, PA., AND PANHANDLE OF WEST VIRGINIA

SCORES ARE MISSING

Burgestown, Cannonsburg, and Avella Suffer. Much Damage Done in Oil Fields

By Associated Press. Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 2.—Twenty persons are known to have been drowned and many others were lost. It is feared, in a series of storms that swept over Western Pennsylvania and the Panhandle of West Virginia early today.

On the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and the Panhandle railroad traffic will be delayed several days. Through trains were marooned all night in the flooded district. Many manufacturing plants are under water and property damage will be heavy.

Cherry Valley, a mining town, was flooded within half an hour after the rain began. Foundations of houses were undermined and the buildings toppled over. The family of George Gillespie was asleep and did not hear the shouts of warning. All five members were drowned in the house.

Cook White, a farmer on the outskirts of Burgestown, when he heard the sound of the flood, hastened to his stable to save his horses. He was drowned and a son who went to his rescue was swept away, but catching the branches of an overhanging tree drew himself to safety.

At Cannonsburg, Pennsylvania, houses were filled with water but the residents had received ample warning and reached places of safety. Eli Hancock, who lost his life there, had turned back to recover some valuable papers. He was seen to enter the front door of the house just as it collapsed. His body was not recovered. An unidentified boy at Cannonsburg fell into the flood when a porch on which he had taken refuge went down and although scores tried to save him, he was swept away. The body had not been recovered this morning. Several children in that community are missing. A foreigner who took refuge on the roof of a house at the edge of a creek at Cannonsburg slipped off of the shingles and disappeared in the water.

At Avella, Pennsylvania, three children of Henry Crow were drowned. The house was near a little stream which rose so rapidly that it undermined the building and when it collapsed Mrs. Crow was badly injured. Crow hastened to her rescue and saved her but before he could return for the children they were swept away. Two other children were tossed about for a time on the surface of the flood and then thrown on the bank of the stream.

After spending its force south and west of Pittsburgh the storm swung north to Butler county, where great damage was done but so far as known no lives were lost.

Oil derricks were blown down, small streams were flooded and scores spent the night in interurban cars while repairs were being made to lines and rails.

SPENDER DEAD OF OLD AGE AT 26.

New York, Sept. 2.—Irving W. Childs, one of the most spectacular spenders along the great white way is dead of senility at the age of 26. Within a short time Childs squandered $600,000 on actresses and other women who frequented the luxurious resorts in the Lobster Belt.

Broadway habitués mourned today over the passing of Childs because his death removed one of the most spectacular characters that ever burned up a fortune. Although the young man died on Wednesday at the Neurological Hospital, news of his demise was not made known till today. Up until he became ill several months ago Childs lived at the Hotel Rector.

The youthful spendthrift was a son of the late William H. H. Childs, who left a big fortune. Young Childs soon ran through the legacy which he fell to him and within a few years was penniless. Then another slice—this time $600,000—came to him. It took less than two years for this amount to go.

Childs spent practically all his time among the "white lights." He was married, but divorced from his wife. The trial furnished much gossip and threw considerable light on the habits of the Broadway spender. At the time of his death Childs was paying his wife $200 a week alimony.

FALLS' CHARGE IS SENSATIONAL

DECLARES BELIEF THAT MADURO'S REVOLUTION WAS ENGINEERED BY CERTAIN OIL INTERESTS

TO SAVE THAT COUNTRY

U. S. Senator Declares Purpose of Resolution was to Save Mexico From Big Interests

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, Sept. 2.—United States Senator A. B. Fall who left here today for the Pacific Coast in the Mexican revolution probe, said he believed Maduro's revolution was engineered by certain oil interests. He said he knew the day and place the money was put up and that while President Taft did not know others knew that the troops were mobilized on the United States border to put Diaz out of Mexico. He said this information had been communicated to Diaz and that was why Diaz left Mexico.

"My real purpose in advocating the recognition of Orozco's belligerency was to save Mexico from the grasp of the big interests that now control the United States and Nicaragua," Senator Fall said.

"I want the people to get something out of the developments of the rich resources of Mexico, and every day's delay in bettering the trouble in that country is playing into the hands of Morgan and his associates."

"Already Aldrich controls the rubber interests of Mexico and the Standard Oil is close on the trail of the English Pearson firm. Mr. Maduro is not the willing and intentional tool of any of these people, but his administration is in a critical condition."

BOXING EXHIBITION AT THE WICHITA TONIGHT

Cass Tarver and J. W. Mode and Tom DyCart and Joe Wheeler Will Box

One of tonight's features of the Labor Day celebration will be a boxing exhibition at the Wichita theatre in which Cass Tarver and J. W. Mode will be the chief attraction. Tom DyCart will also put on the gloves with Joe Wheeler and a wrestling match between local amateurs has also been arranged for the same bill.

Tarver arrived in the city yesterday from Clovis, New Mexico, where he was given the decision over Frank Beverly Thursday night winning a purse of $2500. He is in splendid shape and is said to be much faster and more scientific than when he exhibited here early in the summer. Local admirers of Mode believe he could furnish the Anson hope an interesting argument but of course the affair tonight will be only an exhibition.

DyCart who will box Wheeler, an Oklahoma City man, is one of the finest physical specimens that ever put on the gloves. All of the others are fine specimens of physical manhood. The hour for the opening of the exhibition has not been announced but will probably be around 8.30.

KISSING PHOTOGRAPHS AS DIVORCE EVIDENCE

St. Louis, Sept. 2.—Five pictures showing a man kissing a woman were filed in the circuit court today with the depositions of Miss Mayme J. McKay of Berkeley, Cal., in the suit of Mrs. Alma Crowley to divorce her husband.

The identity of the kisser is not stated in the depositions but C. A. Newton, attorney for Mrs. Crowley, says the woman is Miss McKay. He had the photos inserted in the records in order to discredit her testimony, he said. The testimony shows she was asked to identify the pictures.

"Oh, these were just taken in fun," she is quoted as saying. Miss McKay deposed that Crowley was a model husband.

Mrs. Crowley, she testified, was friendly with other men.

WILSON SPEAKS AT BUFFALO

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE DISCUSSES CERTAIN PLANKS OF PROGRESSIVE PLATFORM

OPPOSED TO MONOPOLY

Tells Workingmen Progressive Plan Would Subordinate Them To Monopolies

By Associated Press. Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Woodrow Wilson today analyzed the third party platform in its relations to the laboring man. The occasion of his speech was a Labor Day celebration under the auspices of the United Trade and Labor Council of Buffalo.

It was the first expression from the Democratic candidate on the merits of the Progressive platform. The governor said that while on the one hand this platform was "in warm sympathy with practically every project of social betterment, this portion of the platform was merely a proclamation of sympathy, while the real program lay elsewhere, where the tariff and trusts are spoken of."

The governor assailed the minimum wage idea declaring that employers would take occasion to bring their wage scale as nearly as they could down to the level of the minimum permitted by law. With the idea of a federal commission to regulate monopoly, the governor took emphatic issue. He declared that the plan suggested not only would legalize monopoly but give the employers of the country a "tremendous authority behind them." What the employers do will have the license of the federal government including the right to pay wages approved by the government," he declared.

He pointed out that it is always the policy of "the master of consolidated industries" to undermine organized labor in a great many ways and that a plan of federal control as advocated by the new party "systematically subordinates workingmen to monopolies and looks strangely like economic mastery over the very lives and fortunes of those who do the daily work of the nation."

"Intelligent working men will ask the men now seeking their votes what they may be expected to do with them. The most of the answers will turn upon the question of tariff duties from which our politics never seem able to get away. On the one hand they will be told that if the Democratic party gets into power they may look to see industry languish and wages go down and employment become harder and harder to find. They forget that Democrats constitute something like half the nation; that Democrats are engaged in occupations of every kind and depend upon all sorts of business for their livelihood and share in every interest and enterprise of the country. It may safely be taken for granted that Democrats are not going to destroy themselves economically."

TO TELL THE TRUTH ABOUT TEXAS AS PURPOSE

By Associated Press. Houston, Texas, Sept. 2.—Fifteen men from various Texas cities met here today to give new impetus to the campaign they recently started "to tell the truth about Texas."

They are making plans to induce the railroads to cooperate with them. At the first meeting held in Galveston two weeks ago they started a campaign to raise $60,000 for "telling the truth." The advertising men declare that certain irresponsible persons and firms have done Texas rank injustice by spreading glowing untruths among prospective investors and settlers.

These, they claim, when found out, reflect on the State, and do much harm.

QUANAH, ACME & PACIFIC CONTRACTS

Quanah, Texas, Sept. 2.—The contract for grading the first seventeen miles of the Quanah, Acme & Pacific extension out of Paducah has been let; 125,000 ties have been ordered from East Texas, and the 65 pound steel is to arrive here this month from Birmingham, Ala., which will be laid in time to connect Roaring Springs with Quanah by the 15th of November.

Roaring Springs, the name of which will be changed to Zion City, will in all probability be the location of the A. & P. shops. The entire extension will be about fifty miles in length.

STEEL FOR ORIENT EXTENSION.

San Angelo, Texas, Sept. 2.—Large shipments of steel for the Orient extension from Girvin to Alpine may be expected to arrive in San Angelo the latter part of this month. The Orient receivers in Texas are now closing contracts with graders and tracklaying outfits to do the work of extension just as rapidly as possible.

TO EXTEND LINE.

Brownwood, Texas, Sept. 2.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Brownwood North & South Railway, held recently at the general offices in Brownwood, it was decided to issue 6 per cent bonds to the amount of $60,000 for the purpose of extending the line from its present terminus at May to some point on the Texas & Pacific Railroad, or to a connection with the Texas Central. It is believed the road will go to Rising Star if proper inducements are offered. If not, then it will evidently go toward Cisco.

JUDGE RYE WITH BOYHOOD FRIENDS

Wichitan Enjoying Summer On Upper Ohio Where The Nights Are Cool

Danleyton, Ky., Aug. 28.—To The Times: Unless all signs in the political zodiac fails the horoscope of Woodrow Wilson is in the ascendency. Northeastern Kentuckians in a majority opinion, concede this to be the outlook in the presidential race. Of course Democrats are delighted but the Republicans give evidence of having tasted sour grapes.

Neither "Billy Possum" or "Teddy Bear" meat satisfies them. Both factions seem to have a bad case of indigestion.

Well, being a Texan, I am not saying much to "stir up the monkeys." You know, a man can match a fight here on small provocation and sometimes without any provocation at all.

I am sure enjoying a good rest; eating the best kind of "chuck," drinking pure free-stone water, cold enough without ice; sleeping under two light quilts every night. The weather man has been doing the generous act and keeping the thermometer sliding the scale between 54 and 80.

This is a beautiful country during spring, summer and fall, but cold and disagreeable in winter time. The scenery along the upper Ohio is almost as grand as the Palisades of the Hudson.

Having a ticket good until October 21st, will probably not return until hot weather is over in Wichita. I certainly appreciate The Times. One never knows the value of his home paper until he is off on a visit.

Governor Colquitt Directs Letter to Other Executives Asking Their Opinion On Question

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Sept. 2.—Governor Colquitt has written to the governors of all cotton growing states asking them if they deem it advisable to hold this year a conference looking to the betterment of a price of cotton and devising ways and means to get better prices for it. He also asks them whether they consider it advisable to hold the conference.

WEATHER WILL BE STILL WARMER THIS WEEK

Temperatures even higher than those of last week are forecasted this week by the weather bureau at Washington.

A bulletin issued by the bureau last night says: "Temperatures below normal are announced for the Northwestern States, the Rocky mountain and plateau regions and the Pacific Coast States."

Showers in the Northwest States and the Northern States from Minnesota eastward are indicated by lower barometric pressure, which will prevail Monday and Tuesday. (This disturbance probably will move eastward to the Mississippi Valley States by Wednesday and prevail in Eastern States the latter part of the week. There are no present indications, according to the bureau of a disturbance in the West Indies.

Small Amount of Cotton

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—A report just issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor shows that the cotton supply of the United States for the year 1911 was 13,873,423 bales. Of this amount 4,781,414 bales or 34 per cent were consumed in this country or 56.1 per cent were exported; while 1,275,031 bales or 9.9 per cent remained in this country at the close of the year.

Texas furnished 4,297,248 bales or 31 per cent of the total supply and manufactured only 41,310 bales or less than one per cent of the total consumption of the United States.

THOUSANDS HERE FOR CELEBRATION

PERFECT WEATHER AND ENORMOUS CROWDS MADE OPENING HIGHLY AUSPICIOUS

RACES AT LAKE WICHITA

City Almost Deserted This Afternoon While Great Throng Gathers at Lake

Perfect weather and an enormous crowd gave an auspicious opening today to the Labor Day and Anniversary celebration. The city is thronged with visitors and the events of the two days' program were begun with every indication of a successful affair.

The Labor Day parade opened the festivities and it was witnessed by a crowd which lined the streets from curb to property-line. It was almost impossible to walk on the sidewalks unless one went with the crowd and the assemblage was one of the largest ever witnessed in Wichita Falls.

After the parade the movement to Lake Wichita began and by noon a large part of the crowd was at the resort. Every street car was loaded to the guards, and there were hundreds who went out in automobiles and buggies. When the noon trains arrived the already large crowd was greatly increased. For a time it appeared that the downtown restaurants would be swamped by the rush and everybody from the hamburger man on up did a rushing business.

By 2 o'clock this afternoon the throng had found its way to the lake, where the barbecue, the races, the balloon ascension, the ball game and the numerous other features were awaiting them. The downtown streets this afternoon present an appearance of almost Sabbath calm, while Lake Wichita is the scene of a crowd never before equaled in the history of all the crowds that have gathered in days gone by at that resort.

The races are the main feature of the afternoon's program, but for those who prefer other attractions there will be no lack of amusement. The Indians, about forty in number, are expected to contribute extensively to the entertainment and there will be a baseball game and numerous minor attractions.

It is estimated that fully five thousand visitors are guests of Wichita Falls today. From both north and south on the Denver, from both branches of the Wichita Valley, from the Katy and the Southern and Northwestern, visitors came by the hundreds. The good fruits of the Young Men's Progressive League excursion into Oklahoma were apparent when the Northwestern train came in, as the numerous extra coaches were all loaded and jammed with excursionists.

But all the visitors did not come by train, as a trip through the wagon yards will show. There are hundreds who came in by wagons, mostly to swap horses and take part in Trades day events. There was considerable activity along this line this morning and there will doubtless be considerable more before the two days' celebration ends.

Today's start indicates that the celebration will be a thorough success in every way. So far there have been no untoward events and only a few minor accidents.

One of the features of tomorrow's program will be the county meeting of the Boy's Corn and Cotton Clubs and the Girls' Tomato and Canning Club. The sessions will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at the city hall and J. W. Ganser, district agent for the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be one of the speakers. Several hundred boys and girls and their parents are expected here for the meeting.

TWO BODIES FOUND WITH EARS CLIPPED

Series of Mysterious Murders Near Oklahoma City Recalled By Finding of Bodies

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 2.—Two farm hands, J. H. Lewis and Andy Fields, the latter of Minico, Ind., were found dead Sunday on the Iron Mountain railroad track near here, with their ears clipped off. While apparently the men were killed by a passenger train, the fact that the cars had been freshly clipped from their bodies and were missing recalls the series of mysterious murders in and near Oklahoma City year ago when several men were murdered in railroad cars on the tracks with their ears clipped. The murderer evidently killed them as souvenirs.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT BIBLE

Temple Man Takes Issue With Houston Statistician After Laborious Investigation

O. C. Werner, a Temple tailor, is at issue with J. S. Jeter, of Houston, who has been giving some statistics concerning the Bible in the Houston Chronicle.

The Houston man gave the following figures:

Chapters, 1189; verses, 31,172; words, 773,692; letters, 2,965,489. Mr. Werner takes issue with him as to the absolute correctness of the figures. He has done some counting, too, and he makes his statement after referring to Mr. Jeter's figures as follows:

I take this man myself as a great Bible reader. I have been class leader for many years. I have read the Bible through many times and I know it pretty well from Genesis to Revelation, so I will let the people decide which one of us two is correct. I will also refer to a few more things of note which Mr. Jeter perhaps overlooked, while he counted every letter in the Bible.

I knew the figures more correctly when I graduated from the school in Germany when a boy fourteen years old, than Mr. S. B. Jeter does, although I would judge that Mr. Jeter is a middle aged man.

The Bible contains 773,692 words, 2,965,489 letters, 31,172 verses. The word "and" occurs 16,277 times. The word "Lord" occurs 1851 times. The word "reverend" occurs but once, which is in the ninth verse of the 11th Psalm. The middle verse of the ninth verse of the 118th Psalm. The twenty-first verse of the seventh chapter of Ezra contains all the letters of the alphabet except the letter J. The finest chapter to read is the twenty-sixth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles. The nineteenth chapter of Second Kings and seventh chapter of Isaiah are alike. The longest verse is the ninth verse of the eighth chapter of Esther. The shortest verse is the thirty-fifth verse of the eleventh chapter of St. John.

Libraries in Navy.

The navy department spends every year $30,000 for libraries for its ships. Each ship's library includes 300 books, mostly technical and more or less expensive on that account. A "crew's" library is usually made up of about five hundred books on fiction and of such character suitable for entertainment.

About one-third of the books are replaced each year. The changes are made upon recommendation of those in charge of the ships but it has developed that this is not a satisfactory method, as much depends upon the points of view on literature possessed by the responsible persons. So it is proposed to standardize the libraries by making the changes in Washington, applying them generally to all ships. It is further held that this plan would work for economy, effecting a saving of from $10,000 to $15,000 a year.

An exposition will be held in Java next year to illustrate and further stimulate the remarkable development of the Dutch East Indies in the last few years.

Prosperity Awaiting Us

We Are Needlessly Experiencing a Sluggish
Development

By
DANIEL GUGGENHEIM,
Capitalist

WE NOW HAVE, AS I SEE IT, PRENATAL PROSPERITY, WHICH, IF ALLOWED TO BE BORN, WILL, I BELIEVE, GROW INTO THE GREATEST THIS COUNTRY HAS EVER EXPERIENCED.

Will it be permitted to come into being, and if so, will it be permitted to reach maturity? Unless the present UNREASONABLE ANTAGONISM TO CAPITAL ceases the answer must be in the negative in both cases. These great United States are ONLY DEVELOPED TO A LIMITED EXTENT in comparison with the development which would be reached if it was not unnaturally interfered with. By reason of this interference the money of this country is being loaned to Germany and is being used to assist in the financing of China and in the development of the resources of South America.

We do not hear of much new railroad construction here, and the reasons are obvious. The UNWISE STRIFE which has been going on for some years is a deterrent factor of tremendous moment. Can a household, a firm, a corporation or a nation succeed when there is STRIFE WITHIN?

The Bible says, "A house divided against itself cannot stand." I do not mean by this that there should be no honest differences of opinion, but great success only comes with harmony.

WE HAVE HAD FOUR YEARS OF BITTER AND UNREASONING HOSTILITY TO CAPITAL, AND THE RESULT IS PAINFULLY APPARENT. WHILE THE GREAT COUNTRIES OF ENGLAND, GERMANY AND FRANCE HAVE HAD ENORMOUS PROSPERITY, WE HAVE GREATER NATURAL RESOURCES THAN THOSE THREE COUNTRIES COMBINED, BUT WE HAVE BEEN DRIVING OUR CAPITAL AWAY, AND IT HAS BEEN UTILIZED IN BUILDING UP OTHER COUNTRIES INSTEAD OF BEING EMPLOYED IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF OUR OWN.

The Art of Music Has Not Yet Fully Developed

By GEORGE HAMLIN, American Tenor

THE ADVANCE OF MUSIC DURING THE LAST FIVE YEARS GIVES INDICATION THAT, COMPARED WITH THE OTHER FINE ARTS, IT IS IN THE MOST UNDEVELOPED STATE AND THAT ITS FACILITIES FOR EXPRESSION ARE STILL LARGELY UNREALIZED.

Music has become a part of the environment of nearly every individual. Everywhere one goes entertainment is found, and that entertainment is almost invariably music.

Children born today are unquestionably MORE MUSICAL THAN THE CHILDREN BORN TEN YEARS AGO. Never have there been so many prodigies as today. Little people of seven and eight years are exhibiting technique and interpretative ability equal to those of many long trained and widely recognized artists.

Music as the greatest common recreation HAS YET TO RECEIVE ITS SHARE OF ARTISTIC AND SCIENTIFIC CONSIDERATION.

The flooding of the country with CHEAP, TRASHY MUSIC NATURALLY IMPEDES THE PROGRESS OF ART. It lowers our standards, and many a musician of splendid promise is corrupted by the popular taste.

Modern Dress Is Very Close to the Ideal

By Dr. CECILE L. GRIEL, Physician, of New York

MODERN DRESS IS AT THIS MOMENT VERY CLOSE TO THE IDEAL. THIS WOULD BE MORE GENERALLY REALIZED IF MORE WOMEN WOULD CHOOSE THE MODERATE FASHIONS INSTEAD OF THE EXTREME ONES.

For instance, the hobble skirt is atrocious, but the fairly narrow skirt, falling in a STRAIGHT LINE FROM THE HIPS, is like the drapery of a Grecian statue and more beautiful than anything we have had in a long time.

The great trouble with woman's dress has been the persistently BROKEN LINES. Even now every woman who wears a skirt of one color and a waist of another cuts herself in halves. Go back again to the Greeks and study that wonderful drapery of the caryatids. Its beauty consists in the UNBROKEN SWEEP OF WHITE FROM SHOULDER TO FOOT. You cannot imagine the statues with their robes painted pink from the waist down.

What's the Matter With the Wichita County Oil Fields?

What is the matter with the Wichita county oil field?

Well, when a practical oil man views the situation he is convinced that there is nothing wrong with it as an oil field, that is, there is an oil field of considerable magnitude in sight, but there is something decidedly wrong. Now when the writer of these lines sees a doughnut he sees something besides the hole, therefore he is an optimist. The Man of Sorrows spoke wisely and well in his parable of the mustard seed. But this parable, great as it is, sings into insignificance in comparison to the faith that an oil man has to have when he starts a well in North Texas. It seems that he has to delve into the bowels of mother earth almost half a mile, and bet fifteen thousand dollars that a hole six inches in diameter will find the vein pool or whatever you wish to call it.

The principal part of an oil man must be nerve, for he has to spend his dollars as if they were dried leaves from the trees, and he, the owner of a virgin forest that had just been visited by a killing frost. Therefore it is the lack of this hardy pioneer, more than anything else that has made the development in Wichita county likened unto a blind man rolling a peanut up a hill with a cant-hook.

Why is the Eastern capital so coy, in coming into a game in which they have been history makers since the days when they threatened Drake with the hospital for the demented?

Texas has a way of doing things that is particular to its own. There is at all times in evidence the brass band, the red fire and the whooper-up boys. It is the Eden of Edens, the greatest of the great hence after the man has had all this superheated atmosphere injected hyperdermically as well as internally (being peculiar he will investigate for himself) and then he finds the real condition he is dissatisfied and leaves in no friendly-humor. Before the writer came here he had heard it was the greatest oil field in the world. It got me, it also got others.

Now, the real conditions of the Wichita oil field from a scientific point of view is this: The formation that is producing the oil at Electra is found to be irregular. A geologist would call the formation that produces in this field lenticular in construction. The practical oil men call it a "pumpkin seed sand" meaning that it is in shape and size either the shape of a lens or a seed tapering to the edges, irregular in its position, higher here, lower there, absent at another point, but rich as pure gold when found, but expensive beyond comprehension for the explorer. A geologist, on account of the jay of the ground and the absence of exposure, (if he be a self-respecting scientist) is a useless number. Therefore the chances are infinitely more for the one contemplating an investment than where the sands lie uniform and will run for miles as for example the Glen Pool and the Robinson Illinois Pool.

Another great drawback to this locality is the lack of competition. There are actively engaged here four oil companies representing the largest combination of wealth in the United States. They are as follows and the wealth of each is indicated by their position, first "The Corsicana Petroleum Company. Their pipe line company is known as Magnolia Petroleum Company. This represents the wealth of Broadway New York. The Producers Oil Company and their association, The Texas Company. This is the Gates interest. The Guffey Petroleum Company with their subsidiary, the Gulf Refining Company, the Pure Oil Company or the E. H. Jennings and Bros., interest, (the latter company at one time was independent but recently there has been rumors and rumors and rumors.

The judgement of these two latter companies has been unfortunate. The former company having invested at a conservative estimate at least a half a million dollars and not a barrel of production to show for it. The latter company has spent nearly two hundred thousand dollars and they have nothing to show for their trouble. It is conservatively estimated that these four companies have jointly under lease over a million acres of land in fifteen counties. In their effort to gobble up the field they have grabbed all the available leases covering an area as large as the Robinson Illinois, and the Oklahoma fields combined, thereby throttling the progress and the development of the country. They accomplished this by making the edge so high that the independent would not come in. This field has been running over fifteen months and the development is still confined to only a small patch. While the same length of time in the Illinois field they showed ninety miles of continuous oil field.

It has been over four years since the Petrolia gas field has been discovered and there is no doubt that it will remain a gas field the rest of its life, as it has the same characteristics of all well defined gas fields. And as to size of the gas wells and their longevity they are simply wonders, considering the area that it covers which is four miles. Of course the farmers were in many cases to blame, because the sparkle of that two-bit piece per acre dazzled their eyes and they did not care whether it was tainted or not was another reason that the man who does things stayed out as no independent oil man will pay for the privilege of making another man rich, even if he is ready to bet his fifteen thousand dollars that he will get an oil well. It has had, could have but one result, that the wildcat work was desultory over fifteen counties, while if they had of stuck religiously to Wichita county they would have had a real oil field developed as the Eeds well, the Burk Burnett well has conclusively proven. The one great complaint is the manner the large companies held back the most likely looking territory or trying to see just how much time and care could be put in with little progress. No one now, in the face of the evidence, can dispute the fact that the entire northern boundary of Wichita county will be a series of pools of oil at least thirty miles in length connected.

Another condition new to the oil man was the size of the tracts and the demands for large acreage to drill one well on. Think of demanding fifteen miles square (roughly speaking 9000 acres) to drill one hole six inches in diameter testing the entire fifteen miles. There has been on an average of from three to four dry holes drilled each month since the Electra oil field has been found in an area of something like three square miles. Is this not the rankest kind of a joke to make six such holes just an area equal to the Glen pool. There is no doubt that the field has been criminally assaulted, and the reason for it has been the greed of the large companies that are operating there. Cut the acreage down on the big fellows, encourage the eastern capital and the Wichita county oil field will come into its own.

FOUGHT WITH RAILROAD TRAIN

Herd of Infuriated Bulls Held Their Own in Combat With Masterpiece of War.

At a point on the railway line between Mirabel and Canaveral, on the Spanish side of the boundary line between Spain and Portugal, there once occurred an odd sort of bullfight.

A train had just come out on a sweeping curve from the hills and down upon a little plain when the engineer saw directly before him a herd of bulls on the tracks. The engineer blew his whistle vigorously and all the bulls fled, with the exception of one great fellow, who made straight for the train with horns lowered and roaring defiance.

It was too late to prevent a collision and the bull was killed, but his carcass, lying under the wheels of the locomotive, prevented the train proceeding. Passengers and crew united to clear the track. In the meantime the great herd of bulls, scenting the blood of their dead leader, came flocking back, pawing and threatening. The nearer they came the more infuriated they grew, and finally they charged like a whirlwind on the little band of workers.

Then all the men abandoned their task and took refuge in the cars. The bulls followed them to the very steps, bellowing and pawing. Soldiers aboard the train tried to stampede the animals with stones. The bulls recoiled, charged again, recoiled once more; and for two hours the battle raged, victory now seeming to be with one side and now with the other. At last night came on, the bulls withdrew and betook themselves to some distant shelter. Then the employees and passengers were able to set to work again. The track was cleared and the train proceeded on its way.

SNAIL RACING IN PARIS

A recent inspection made in the offices of the French ministry of the interior during the absence of the clerks has revealed to astonished superior officials a curious phase of gambling mania—the racing of snails. When a highly-placed official opened the desks he found a number of cardboard "small stables," containing lettuce-fed racing snails.

Inquiries were at once instituted, and it was found that the passion of snail-racing had taken such a hold of the clerical staff that proud owners of particularly spry snails were betting heavily on their favorites, and that some "racers" were held at as much as $9 apiece. It was also discovered that the rules of the game were as follows:

1. The course to be not more than a foot and a half in length on a clear flat desk.

2. If the winning snail takes more than three-quarters of an hour to cover the course the race shall be declared off.

3. No bait, other than lettuce, shall be placed at the winning post.

4. All snails shall be handicapped on their weight, and not their age.

5. Betting, it was learned, had been freely indulged in, and many clerks had found themselves in serious difficulties to meet their losses. Hence a campaign against the pastime has been instituted with a view to stamping out this incentive to betting among the young and impressionable clerks.

TROUSSEAU BOX OF ALASKA

Every woman no matter of what race or nationality is deeply interested in the things pertaining to her marriage. Some sort of trousseau is considered necessary, whether it be trunks full of flimsy lingerie or only a necklace of beads or sea shells. The Alaska Indian girl, not having a multitude of closets in her tepee, to hold her finery, provides herself with a trousseau box, which she usually makes herself, and is much concerned over its structure. While the bride-to-be is busily stending draperies and embroidering linens for the new home, Narada is designing and painting her wonderful box. Usually it is about 12 inches square and 18 high, made of carefully selected wood, showing all of its beautiful graining, smoothly finished inside and out, neatly fitted with a cover and decorated in symbolic designs with red, yellow and black paint. Into it are put not the flimsy white things so dear to her white sister, but her beautiful beaded moccasins, her carved silver bracelets, her neck chain, made of walrus teeth and her soft, carefully cured parka. This parka is made of fur, often of the most valuable, and richly trimmed with a contrasting one. Everything which she values is kept in this box.

JAM JAR HER EAR ORNAMENT

The young West African whose portrait is here given is wearing an ordinary small jam-jar as an ear-ornament, the lobe of the ear encircling the jar. Such great "earrings" are made possible by gradually increasing the size of the object carried in the pierced lobe, beginning with a small stick, proceeding to a larger one, and so on.

CITIES WITHIN A CITY

Most of the immigrants who come to this country from Europe are peasants, tillers of the soil, who know no life but that of the open country, and yet most of them on arriving here stay in the large cities, principally New York. The chief reason is that in the cities they find people of their own nationality. There are communities in New York that have been transported bodily from the old world. They retain their own language and customs, even their own dress. They form cities within the great cosmopolitan city. The second generation, however, sees the breaking down of these communities. The children go to the public schools and learn the English language. They mingle with children of all nationalities. They become Americans in fact, and spread over the metropolises, to become a part of its polyglot population.

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party." Have you contributed your part to the Wilson campaign fund?

"City Hospital site still up in the air," says a headline in the Edison Herald. Is Demison going to treat her patients in aeroplanes?

The longer the line of marchers in the Labor Day parade, the more stable the city's prosperity and the more certain of its growth.

Today is the thirtieth anniversary of Labor Day in America. Its observance was inaugurated by the Knights of Labor then in convention in New York City. At the first parade there were 20,000 men in line. Today the day is a National holiday and is observed throughout the length and breadth of the land. During these thirty years, the growth of organized labor has been one of the great movements in our national life. The growth has been not only in numbers, but in strength and dignity. Today and everyday the workman is first in American citizenship.

The frailties of humanity are many and all of us know it, but it does our souls good to read an item like this, occasionally; that appeared in a recent issue of the Alamo, (Kans.) Signal: "The milk of human kindness is plentiful around Harveyville. C. W. Greenless of that place is in a hospital at Topeka. One day recently a number of his neighbors gathered at his farm with teams and plows and cultivated all his corn. The following week they went back and put up his hay." That is the kind of people that makes the old world move along whether she wants to or not, and as an advertisement for the community it cannot be improved upon.

Judge S. P. Huff tells us that he will preside during the next district court here, commencing next Monday, but will send in his resignation as district judge, and Gov. Colquitt will appoint his successor who will fill out his unexpired term, which would end in 1914. The attorney general department at Austin has recently ruled that if a district judge is elected at the November election he would hold office four years; although Judge Huff's term would expire in 1914. Gov. Colquitt will appoint Judge W. G. Gross or Davidson of Childress, or Clark of Quanah, provided Decker or Elres don't apply for it. Gov. Colquitt will be governed by one's qualifications and fitness for the office.—Hall County Herald.

Let's hope the governor will appoint Mr. Decker. It would afford a most splendid opportunity for the appointee to show the extent of his popularity and fitness for such an office, should he decide to offer for the position at the November election. In our judgment he might succeed in carrying one or perhaps two voting precincts in that judicial district.

By the term "Fry the Fat," is meant the demanding of large campaign contributions from the interests that were to be favored. This method of raising campaign funds is not new to the Republican party. It has been in practice for years, and when Mr. Bliss, treasurer of the Republican campaign fund in 1904 called upon Mr. Archibald of the Standard Oil Co. for a large sum of money, he was doing only what those who held the position before him had done for years. The Republican party was raised and sustained by the trusts and favored interests at that time, and what was true then, is also true now. It is still sustained in its campaign activities by the money contributed by the interests and monopolies it has made and fostered. Bliss is now dead, but Republicans do not think his conduct needs to be apologized for. He knew what was expected of him when he accepted the position of treasurer for the National Republican campaign fund, and what Bliss done then the treasurers of both Taft and Roosevelt wings of the Republican party are doing now just as energetically as they can—frying the fat out of the trusts and combines that owe their very existence to the Republican party. It is different with the Democrats. That party, if it succeeds in electing its ticket Wilson and Marshall, must depend upon the masses of the people for funds with which to meet all legitimate campaign expenses, and the victory depends largely upon the size of the campaign fund. If you have not yet contributed, don't delay too long. The sooner the better. Hand in your contributions to Hon. W. J. Bullock, secretary of the "Woodrow Wilson for President Club," and the money will be receipted for and forwarded to the National treasurer.

WOULD FIND ASHES OF ALAMO HEROES

Cameron Attorney Urges That Search Be Made For Grave in San Fernando

Austin, Texas, Sept. 2.—W. T. Hefley, an attorney of Cameron, has written Dr. A. B. Conley, State Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds, urging the finding of the ashes of those who died at the fall of the Alamo which, he writes, a press dispatch from San Antonio during the past winter claims to show were buried in an urn in a grave inside the Cathedral of San Fernando. He suggests the Governor appoint a committee to act toward effecting the removal of the sacred remains, if they can be found, for burial in the Alamo chapel itself, and he presents the dispatch, embodying a letter from Gen. Juan N. Seguin of Mexico to Gen. P. H. Bee, to the effect that by Santa Anna's orders the bodies of the Alamo dead were hurled in a grave in the cathedral. Mr. Hefley's letter in part follows: "At midnight I stood in the presence of the Alamo, the most sacred shrine to liberty in all the world, and while the spirit of love and reverence for the heroes who laid down their lives within the walls of the hallowed place was on me, there came into my mind and took possession of my very soul the fact stated in a news item, as follows: "San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 19, 1912.—In San Fernando Cathedral, San Antonio, lie the bodies of the heroes who fell in the Alamo fight. This is proven conclusively by a letter just discovered which was written by Gen. P. H. Bee. This makes the old cathedral a much more interesting place than it has heretofore been considered. The letter was written March 26, 1839, and is dated at Laredo de Tamaulipas, Mexico. Gen. Seguin says: "In reply to your inquiries in behalf of the Alamo Monument Association, I authorize you to state that the dead of the Alamo were buried by order of Gen. Santa Anna and when I took command of that city after the battle of San Jacinto, I collected together the charred and small fragments of the bodies that were scattered about, placed them in an urn and deposited it in a grave which I had dug inside of the Cathedral of San Fernando on the Main Plaza of San Antonio, in front of the altar, close to the ceiling and near the stairs where they are now."

The quest of the Holy Grail fades into nothingness compared with the prospect of finding the ashes of these deathless heroes, who gave their blood for such a cause.

"Thousands of dollars were spent to recover the bodies of the heroes of the Titanic. I humbly suggest that you call the attention of Governor Colquitt to the facts stated in the letter and request him to appoint a committee of three, including yourself, or take any other steps he may deem necessary to make the search or reach the result herein contemplated. "My prayer is that the ashes of those heroes may be found and placed to rest in the heart of the Alamo, where fame and glory both shall come to crown with immortelles the sacred urn that will forever hold the most priceless treasure ever given for liberty in all the world."

Scientific Name Given to Disease Which Afflicted Members of Polar Expedition Party.

In an address lately given before the Zoological Society of France, Dr. Jacques-Louis de Lacaze, the physicist and naturalist, via telegraph to the Paris press on her antarctic expedition stated the chief physical troubles with which the crew had to contend were those in number, all in his opinion springing from the lack of fresh food. He therefore terms this polar malady "the disease of conserved food."

FORMER-WICHITAN MARRIED IN DALLAS

The following account of the marriage of Jerry B. Gray, a former resident of this city to Miss Sophie M. Blakeney is reproduced from the Southern Messenger, a Dallas publication.

On Friday morning at 4:30 in the chapel of the Dallas University, Miss Sophie Marie Blakeney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Blakeney, became the bride of Jerry B. Gray, Rev. Marshall La Sage, C. M., performing the marriage ceremony. The chapel was decorated with ferns and palms, intermingled with blue roses. Preceding the services Mrs. B. V. Brasher of New Orleans, La., sister of the groom, sang, "O, Promise Me," accompanied by Miss M. White, Knight Spooner played the wedding march from Lohengrin and during the ceremony Mrs. Brasher sang "Ave Maria."

The bride entered on the arm of her father, followed by her sister, Miss Annie Blakeney, as her bridesmaid. The groom was attended by Joseph F. Ludwig, while Thomas J. Blakeney and Edgar J. Davoren acted as ushers.

After the ceremony the intimate friends of the family went to the home of the bride for an informal reception.

In the dining room where the wedding cake was placed, the decorations were very effective, the dome being lined with pink rosebuds and similar. From this table streamers were caught at the table by baskets of pink rosebuds. In the library sweet peas were used, bunched around the punch bowl, presided over by Misses Kathleen and Beatrice Blakeney, sisters of the bride.

Miss Orlean Boren of Ennis, Texas, presided over the bride's book. The out of town guests were Messrs. S. G. Sniggs and Baby Ruth of Los Angeles; Lena Fisher and son of Tyler, B. V. Brasher and son of New Orleans, sisters of the groom and Miss Orlean Boren of Ennis. Mr. and Mrs. Gray left for a short trip to the coast. After August 1 they will be at home in New Orleans, La.

Dashing at break-neck speed through a maze of ropes at the corner of Seventh and Scott, the horse and rig of Prof. G. H. Carpenter, furnished some little excitement for the Labor Day parade participants, who were just breaking line. The horse became frightened by the parade and ran headlong across the street, threading in and out of the boulevards and automobiles and continuing down Scott to Sixth where the trap was overturned. The buggy struck the fender of Dr. Burnside's automobile, damaging it slightly, but there was no other damage except to Prof. Carpenter's rig which was considerably torn up.

An increase of over fifteen percent is shown by the postoffice receipts for August over those of the same month last year. The figures, as given out by Acting Postmaster J. T. Gillson, show a total of $228,000, an increase of $481,200 over the same month last year. The increase is better than fifteen percent per cent indicates that Wichita Falls will have no trouble in remaining in the first class of postoffice, to which it was elevated last April. The increase is particularly gratifying in view of the fact that August is considered a full month.

REMINDED HER OF 1790 DAYS

Real Old-Fashioned House Cleaning in the City Interesting Because of its Novelty.

There's a good old-fashioned house cleaning going on next door, and the girl who lives on the top floor, and it's so long since I saw anything as interesting. People move so much in New York that there doesn't seem to be any more reason for housecleaning. They have rugs instead of carpets and they hang pictures on tacks and leave their curtains up all summer which no self-respecting woman would do in the old days.

The Hat Question in 1790.

The Handel festival was originally given in Westminster Abbey, and the official notice of 1790 announced that "no ladies will be admitted with hats, and they are particularly requested to come without feathers and very small hoops, if any." As ecclesiastical law demands that female worshippers shall cover their heads in church, this regulation was seriously anomalous. A suggestion in regard to ladies' headgear was also made by Sir Frederick Cowen in 1806, when he gave it as his opinion that the ladies might discover in their wardrobe some "extremely fascinating flat hats" which would not obstruct the view. The "fascinating flat hats" were, however, chiefly conspicuous by their absence, owing presumably to the fact that the flat hat was not among the fashions of that year.—London Globe.
