REBELS DRIVEN OFF AT OJINAGA MEXICAN TROOPS TO CROSS LINE

INTERVENTION REGARDED ABSURD

MEXICAN OFFICIALS DO NOT BELIEVE U. S. IS SERIOUSLY CONSIDERING SUCH STEP

CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING

At Mexico City It Is Declared Peace Will Be Restored Within a Short Time

WILL ASK TO MOVE TROOPS THROUGH U. S.

By Associated Press.
Mexico City, Sept. 10.—A secret session of the Mexican senate last night granted the request of President Madero for authority to ask the United States government to permit the transportation of troops across American territory. It is planned to send a column of troops by way of El Paso, Texas and Douglas, Arizona, into the State of Sonora where several bands of rebels are operating.

By Associated Press.
Mexico City, Sept. 10.—Government officials continue to regard as absurd the report that the United States Government is seriously considering intervention in Mexico. It was declared at the National Palace today that conditions are steadily growing better instead of worse and that it is a question of only a short time before peace will be restored.

In the meantime, every effort will be made, it was announced, to protect foreigners and their property. Recent developments in the south do not appear to include any serious encounters. Rebels are reported to be operating in Puebla, Morelos and the State of Mexico. Delayed reports tell of a battle near the town of Pitotlan. The rebels were finally repulsed by Major Ocaranza commanding a force equipped with machine guns.

A new rebel movement of which few details have been obtained has been reported from Mugiz, state of Coahuila. Several bands of rebels have appeared along the line of the International Railway and here is some reason for believing that other objective point is the border town of C. P. Diaz.

Labrado Galavi, one of Orozco's officers, is reported to have been killed at the attack upon San Miguel, Mesquital last week and his body is said to be still hanging from the balcony of a building there.

Manuel Becanourt, an American citizen, according to the story brought here today, was fatally wounded by the rebels when they attacked Atlixco.

ENROLLMENT 1489 ON OPENING DAY

Attendance On First Day Almost Equal to Enrollment at End of First Month Last Year

Enrollment in the Wichita Falls public schools on the opening day this year lacked only twenty-two of the enrollment at the end of the first month last year. It is almost certain that the enrollment by the end of this week will exceed that of the end of the first month last year.

The total enrollment yesterday was 1489. By the end of the month it will probably be more than 1600.

The enrollment in the different schools follows: High school, proper, 204; other grades at high school building, 117; Austin school, 582; San Jacinto school, 230; Alamo school, 162; Travis school, 108; Washington school (colored) 84.

Roosevelt At Seattle.
By Associated Press.
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 10.—Theodore Roosevelt was greeted by a large crowd when he arrived here today. He was met by a reception committee and the delegates to the Progressive State convention who escorted the former president and his party to the Dreamland dancing hall. There the former president made a speech while the delegates proceeded to the armory to ratify the nomination made in Saturday's primaries.

near Texico, Guerrero last Saturday. He is said to have been a native of Texas, and manager of a mining property. Money was demanded by the rebels. The employees of the mill resisted and several of them were wounded. Becanourt was shot through the head and body. An Italian was killed.

A heavy consignment of ammunition and 160 soldiers left the capital last night for Monterey.

Permission Granted in Washington.
By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—Permission for twelve hundred federal troops to pass through the United States from El Paso into Chihuahua and Sonora to attack the fleeing rebels was today granted the Madero government by the State Department. The arms of the troops will be carried as baggage. When the movement is to begin it is not known.

Arizona Governor Gives Permission.
By Associated Press.
Tucson, Ariz., Sept. 10.—At the request of the State Department Governor Hunt granted permission today for Mexican troops to use Arizona territory in going to the rescue of towns in Sonora which are harassed by the rebels.

The governor expressed strong opposition to intervention by this country.

RESULTS IN MAINE PLEASE PRESIDENT

Taft Says Vote There Most Pleasing News Since He Entered White House

By Associated Press.
Beverly, Mass., Sept. 10.—President Taft was greatly pleased with the Republican victory in Maine. It was the best political news, the president said today, since he entered the White House. He was so interested that he stayed up until an early hour to receive particulars. He smiled with delight and was especially cheerful when he learned the Maine legislature will be Republican on joint ballot assuring another vote in the Senate.

Wilson Says He Is Satisfied.
By Associated Press.
Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 10.—Gov. Wilson today declared himself satisfied with the outcome of the gubernatorial election in Maine.

"I think the results are very satisfactory indeed," he said, "based on the result of both four years ago and two years ago. Two years ago the Republicans were divided but now they are united. That makes a difference. In 1904 as I remember, the Republican governor was elected by 25,000 and President Taft's majority was about 24,000."

Nolan Appointed August 22.
By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—Harry E. Nolan the young diplomat arrested in New York, charged with abduction was confirmed by the Senate as secretary at Panama, August 22.

He passed examinations, necessary to his appointment and was ordered to report for instructions. He failed to do so, however, and has not communicated with the State Department. The government will take no action.

$59 MORE FOR THE CAMPAIGN FUND

Total Contributions to Date Have Been $126—J. A. Kemp Is Largest Contributor

A few hours active canvass by W. J. Bullock this morning brought an addition of $59 to the Woodrow Wilson fund, making a total of $126 collected here up to date.

Mr. Bullock forwarded the $59 collected this morning together with the dollar given by F. M. Hull Saturday to the National treasurer.

The heaviest contributor so far has been J. A. Kemp who gave his check this morning for $50. Other contributors this morning were as follows:
L. A. Wilson $1.00
C. W. Bean 1.00
D. M. Perkins 1.00
J. T. Young 1.00
G. W. Fligo 1.00
J. B. Nall 1.00
J. F. Belote 1.00

BATTLE NOW IN PROGRESS

REBELS MAKING DESPERATE AT- TACK ON TOWN OF OJINAGA WHICH IS WELL DEFENDED

PRESIDO MAN WOUNDED

American Reported to Have Been Shot in Hip—Disquieting Reports Reach Washington

DISQUIETING REPORTS REACH WASHINGTON.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—More disquieting reports of the situation on the Arizona border continued today to reach the War Department. Mexican rebels are said to be gathering in the vicinity of Cananea, preparing for a long and forced march. Forces and supplies were being concentrated.

No Definite News From Battle.
Marfa, Texas, Sept. 10.—The battle between federal and rebels opposite the Texas border at Ojinaga, Mexico, which began at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon was today reported still in progress. Throughout the day there was a constant stream of departures from here for the scene of the fighting, which is about fifty miles south of here on an airline.

Several United States army officers were among those leaving to view the trouble. Couriers are the only means of communication between here and Presidio on the American side of the line, which is within range of the firing. No details of the situation on the American side have been received from Presidio since the report yesterday evening that an American had been shot in the hip there.

The rebels are reported to be using dynamite bombs in their attack on Ojinaga which is defended by two or three hundred federalists under Gen. Sanchez. The federalists are reported to be standing their ground well. The Mexican consul here has been advised that Gen. Crucy Aubert with a detachment of cavalry is rapidly nearing Ojinaga to give relief to the beleaguered federalists.

Rebels Driven Off.
By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—Mexican rebels under Gen. Salazar who began late yesterday a concerted attack upon the town of Ojinaga opposite Presidio, Texas, were driven off by the federalists and are now retreating southwesterly in the direction of San Bernardino, according to a dispatch from Gen. Steever received at the War Department.

In the battle resulting from the attack of the rebels, the federal forces occupying the city lost four men killed and some horses. The loss sustained by the rebels was not learned.

The mayor of Ojinaga crossed the river after the skirmish and reported to Capt. Adams in charge of the American patrol, that the federal force was thoroughly loyal and capable of holding the town against further attack.

Gen. Steever reported that the supposed American shot in the hip late yesterday that crossed the border line into Presidio was in fact a Mexican citizen. The activity of Salazar in his repeated raids across the border and his threatened reprisal of Americans gave reason for concern to officials.

His withdrawal has simplified matters but the patrol will watch him closely. Although every effort is being made to learn the objective point of the most formidable expeditions since Orozco's force was scattered, no satisfactory explanation has been found. Scouts reports a force of close to 400 well armed rebels opposite Fort Quitman, Texas, while fifteen hundred more are reported encamped ten miles to the rear.

Colquitt Confers With Capt. Hughes.
By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Sept. 10.—Governor Colquitt discussed the border situation with Capt. J. R. Hughes of the State Rangers today. He impressed on Capt. Hughes the necessity for maintaining a vigorous policy and the arrest of any intruders crossing the Rio Grande border with a sinister motive.

WEATHER FORECAST

Tonight and Wednesday generally fair.

MORE COMPLAINTS AGAINST RESTAURANTERS

Probable Three More Cases Charging Sale of Unwholesome Products Will Be Tried Tomorrow

Three more cases against restaurant proprietors charged with offering unwholesome products for sale are to be tried in the city court this morning, the arrests having been made by the city officers. One of these complaints is against the "Chill King" proprietor who was fined yesterday, another is against the proprietor of the City Cafe on Ohio Avenue and a third is against the lunch stand at the Union Station. It is probable that these cases will come up for trial tomorrow.

In the city court this morning, Mayor Pro Tem Bradley presided in the absence of Mayor Bell. The members bench were well-filled, five defendants being charged with intoxication and three with vagrancy. Two of the latter were discharged the other six defendants being fined the customary $10.

Little grace will be allowed by the city officers to those without visible means of support, inasmuch as there is ample work in the cotton fields at good pay for all who are unable to find work in the city. Those who do not accept the urgent invitations extended by farmers and local concerns to go to work will go to work anyhow, on the city's streets.

ANOTHER FIVE STORY BUILDING

FIRST NATIONAL BANK MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT OF PLANS FOR NEW HOME

TO COST ABOUT $135,000

Details Have Not Been Completed and Work May Not Be Started For Several Months Yet

Another five story building building, the third for this city, is to be erected in the near future by the First National Bank at the corner of Eighth and Indiana.

Announcement made this morning of the bank's plans, which have been brewing for some time. The new structure will be of brick and steel and will probably be 6x150 feet in dimensions. It will cost about $135,000.

The site purchased for the building is on the northwest corner of Eighth and Indiana, where a one story building now occupied by a grocery store now stands. The lots were acquired at what is said to have been the highest price ever paid for business property here, $25,500 for the fifty foot lot.

The first floor of the building will be occupied by the First National Bank and the upper floors will be rented for offices.

This will give Wichita Falls three five-story buildings, the others being the City National Bank building and the Westland Hotel. Work will be started as soon as the numerous preliminary details can be given attention which will probably require several months.

In making the announcement of its plans the First National exhibits a substantial and enduring faith in the future of this city and the building will put Wichita Falls still higher in the metropolitan class, giving new force to her claim of being the "best built city in Texas."

Out of Town Readers Asked to Send in Wilson Dollars

Out of town readers of The Times are invited to make their contributions to the Woodrow Wilson fund through this paper. Any amount will be accepted and forwarded to the treasurer of the National committee, together with your name and in due time a certificate will be received.

Mail your check payable to The Times and mark on it "For the Woodrow Wilson Fund." All contributions will be acknowledged by publishing the name of the contributor.

The time is growing short and your contribution ought to be made immediately. Remember that the Democratic party is not getting any contributions from the Perkins, Archbold, Morgan and similar interests which are backing the two other leading candidates heavily, but its support is coming from the everyday citizen. Your dollar will mean more as your pledge to the peoples' cause than as a contribution. Send it along.

The Wichita county Wilson fund stands as follows:
Previously acknowledged $57
Contributed today $59

NEW RECORD FOR BANK DEPOSITS

TOTAL IN FOUR BANKS HERE AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS, SEPT. 8 WAS $1,800,000

OVER MILLION IN ONE

Individual Deposits Aggregate $1,555,000—Nearly Quarter of Million For Other Banks

With total deposits of approximately $1,800,000 shown by the statements of the banks of this city at the close of business September 4, the combined showing of the four local banking institutions is far in excess of any previously made.

The individual deposits total approximately $1,555,000 and this also sets a new record for the Wichita banks.

A feature of interest in connection with the deposits is the fact that the deposits in the City National Bank passed the million dollar mark in the September 4 statement of that institution, for the first time in its history.

Wichita Falls banks are reserve agencies for a large number of banks in other towns, as is evidenced by the fact that about $245,000 of the total deposits is represented by the reserves of other banks.

BELIEVES DEMOCRATS WILL WIN IN OHIO

Wichita Who Returns From a Visit in Buckeye State Foresees Wilson Victory

T. B. Snyder returned yesterday from a visit at Zanesville and Cleveland, Ohio, where he went on business and to visit his daughter, Mrs. Roboek.

Mr. Snyder has been gone about two months. He believes Ohio will cast its vote for Wilson in November. The Roosevelt and Taft men are hammering at each other desperately and the prospects are that they will divide the vote about evenly permitting the Democrats to win easily.

Debs Reaches San Antonio Where He Speaks Tonight—Met By Prominent Socialists

By Associated Press.
San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 10.—Eugene V. Debs, candidate for president on the Socialist ticket, reached here this morning from El Paso. He was met by a committee of leading Socialists and taken for an auto tour of the city, afterward holding an informal reception. He speaks here tonight.

RETURNS COME IN SLOWLY IN ARKANSAS

On Face of Partial Returns Statewide Prohibition and Negro Disfranchisement Defeated

By Associated Press.
Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 10.—Returns from yesterday's election are coming in very slowly, owing to the long ballot and the large vote.

Returns from 76 wards and precincts give for statewide prohibition 4403, against the amendment, 5889.

The amendment disfranchising the negro is defeated on the face of partial returns.

ANOTHER DOUBLE AVIATION FATALITY

Two English Army Officers Killed When Aeroplanes Fell to Ground From Height of 500 Feet

By Associated Press.
Oxford, England, Sept. 10.—Another double aviation fatality, the second within a week, occurred early today to members of the army flying corps when Lieut. C. A. Bettington and Lieutenant E. Hotchkiss, both of whom had just been given commissions on probation, were killed while flying past Wolvercote.

The machine in which the officers were maneuvering had passed over Oxford and had reached a point just outside Wolvercote when the motor appeared to stop and the aeroplane fell to the ground from a height of 500 feet. One account of the accident says an explosion occurred while the machine was in the air. The body of one of the officers was found in a river and the other was picked up in a field. The officers were both young men who only recently received their flying certificates.

Ohio Priest Delivers Scathing Denunciation of Styles of Women's Clothes Worn On Streets

The following from a Zanesville, Ohio, paper has been sent to The Times as applying to local conditions: Father Barr, assistant at St. Nicholas Catholic church, delivered a scathing denunciation from the pulpit at high mass Sunday morning, of the styles of women's clothing to be seen nowadays on Zanesville streets. Many of the attire of the beautiful set were declared to have reached the pinnacle of immorality, to be an abomination and danger to womanhood. The priest told his congregation that his remarks were meant to be taken personally and he declared that if mothers of St. Nicholas parish did not take their daughters' street dress in hand and reform it, he would personally single out those whose attire is vulgar.

The assistant pastor pointed to the evils of the present customary extreme styles of dress, and impressed upon the congregation the dangers of following the extreme laid down by the dressmakers. "Such attire is but conducive to vice."

"Worse than the bathing suits at the seashore," Father Barr declared were many of the dresses to be seen on Zanesville streets. He called upon mothers and fathers in the parish to take this to heart and said some of the Zanesville girls wear eels on the streets than they would at the bathing beach.

"Young girls must face a rough temptations placed in their paths without adding to those temptations," he declared, "and the styles seen on Zanesville's streets these days lead to new temptations. Fathers and mothers should steer their girls away rather than into dangers."

If parents of St. Nicholas do not see that their daughters dress more modestly on the streets, Father Barr said he would take the matter in charge himself and would stop any young girls of the congregation which he happened to see on the streets attired in the objectionable dresses now in vogue, and would send them home to get on some decent clothes.

Father Barr's crusade against the present modes came unexpectedly and sank deeply in the minds of the congregation. Similar condemnation for the women's dresses of the day have been heard over the country, but the styles only seem to grow worse day by day. From numerous pulpits the same condemnation of Dame Fashion has gone forth and the crusade has begun to assume shape.

BRALLEY TO ORGANIZE TEACHERS FOR WILSON

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Sept. 10.—State Superintendent F. M. Bralley today received a letter from Clarence J. Owens of Washington, chairman of the National committee. Teachers' Woodrow Wilson organization, appointing him to the position of state chairman and authorizing him to organize the teachers of the State.

A GET TOGETHER BANQUET PLANNED

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF WICHITA'S BIRTHDAY WILL BE OBSERVED

TO ORGANIZE FOR WORK

Out of Town Speakers Will Be Invited and Suggestions For Up-building of City Will Be Heard

A "get-together" luncheon and banquet to mark the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of the city and get the city's commercial forces organized for active work for the coming year will be held on the evening of September 26 in the pavilion at Lake Wichita. The directors of the Chamber of Commerce, at their session this morning, decided upon this meeting.

No subscriptions are to be asked at the meeting and it will be simply to outline plans and hear suggestions for the up-building of the city. Some out-of-town speaker will be invited to address the meeting and B. B. Cain of Dallas, president of the Gulf, Texas and Western will be urged to come here for the occasion.

The directors felt that with the return of general activity in practically every line of business, the time had come to re-unite the business in some definite movement for the city's advancement and the luncheon and meeting will be held with that end in view. September 27 is the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of this city and it is felt that the date selected is particularly appropriate.

The directors decided to collect a bonus for the farmers who brought the first and second bales of cotton to this city. It is hoped to raise a substantial sum as a premium.

It was decided to entertain the directors of the "Meridian Road" who will be here Sept. 25. The "Meridian Road" is the proposed highway from Winipeg to the Gulf and those who will make the trip in automobiles will go to Dallas and Fort Worth by way of Denison, returning through Wichita Falls and Burk Burnett. They will be appropriately entertained upon their visit here.

The directors instructed Assistant Secretary John Thomas to go to Dallas to complete the arrangements for Wichita county's exhibit at the State Fair.

ENDEAVOR'S PRESIDENT DELIVERS ADDRESS

Mass Meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Was Gratifying Success—Social Session Follows Business Meeting

With an attendance estimated at more than one hundred people the first of a series of monthly mass meetings composed of members of the Christian Endeavor Societies of this city was held last night in the Y. M. C. A. building on Tenth street and some important business was disposed of after which a social session was held.

All of the Christian Endeavor Societies of this city including that of the First Presbyterian Church, the Central Presbyterian Church and the First Christian Church were represented.

George W. Benn, president of the Texas Christian Endeavor Union, was among those present who spoke at the business session. He told of present conditions as he found them in the various Endeavor Societies throughout the State which he visited on a recent tour. After his talk he led on open meeting at which questions pertaining to his address were answered for twenty minutes.

Following the talk of Mr. Benn, it was announced that the Wichita district convention of Christian Endeavor organizations composed of the Endeavors of about twenty counties, will meet here Oct. 2nd to the 24th inclusive, during the month of November. H. O. Young, district president, will preside on that occasion.

After last night's business session an amusement program was given and the social committee served punch. The next mass meeting has been called by President Patrick Henry, to take place the first Monday night in October, at which time plans will probably be discussed concerning the entertainment of the district convention when it meets in this city.

Charged With Abduction.
By Associated Press.
New York, Sept. 10.—Harry E. Nolan of Washington, recently appointed secretary to the United States legislation. Panama failed to appear in police court to plead to a charge of abducting 16-year-old Marion McVickor of Newport News, Virginia.

His cash bail of $1000 was ordered forfeited and two detectives dispatched to arrest him.

You Can Judge a Farmer Somewhat By His Windmill

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside, appears the following: "Windmills have a language all their own. They sing with joy, they croak dismally. And their song or groan tells the story of the family living under their protecting wings."

"We set them to work and become dependent upon them. True, we got along without them; but once they go to work for us we become quite convinced that we cannot do without them. They water the cattle and irrigate the garden; they save us many an hour of laborious pumping and save us many a dollar spent, or to be spent for porous plasters to cure aching backs."

"Listen to the groan: "My partner (meaning my owner, of course) struggled hard to raise the money to buy me, and now that he has me he takes no interest in my welfare. He is glad enough to avail himself of my work, but he does nothing to keep me in shape to do that work. I need clothing and food—paint and screws and oil. One of my wings is loose and will soon fall to the ground and be smashed if my partner doesn't take time—a mere matter of a few minutes—to climb up here and drive a screw which became loosened during the last big wind for he carelessly left me at the mercy of a wind which I am not supposed to withstand. I can't stand everything! And look at our farm-fences down and cattle thin and barn doors hanging all askew. "Then the song of joy: "See me whirl—and hear me purr. Watch me fill the trough in fifteen minutes. See my pretty face, clean and bright, for yesterday I had a new suit of white, with red trimmings. Look at the sleek cows and roly-poly colts and calves which worship at my feet. Hear the women folk talk about the blessing I have seen. See how cheerfully I respond to every demand made upon me. I am cared for—and I care."

Homesickness Spoils Photographs. Aunt Maria thought, and so did her relatives in the big city, that the photographer was unparagonably disconcerted. For three successive days he refused to take Aunt Maria's photograph. On the fourth day he told why.

"In justice to her," he said, "I do not want to take her pictures now. She is too homesick. Most out-of-town people want to be photographed while in the city. If they are longing for home I put them off with one excuse or another until the homesickness wears off."

"If you want your aunt's pictures to turn out well, just hunt up some one from her home town who happens to be visiting here at present and bring him here so she will meet him unexpectedly. The meeting will put sparkle and animation into her face, and neither she nor I will be disappointed with the photographs."

PASSING of the GATOR and the GLADES

IN THE FLORIDA EVERGLADES

ENJOYING A SUN BATH

By John B. Gairing. THE alligator is fast losing his home. That great, mysterious region, the Everglades of Florida, once the paradise of the alligator hunter, which only a few years ago covered practically the entire lower portion of the peninsula, is fast becoming but a historical recollection. What was only a few years ago a great marsh of saw grass, is today yielding fruits and vegetables in infinite varieties.

This wonderful change has come about through the great drainage project now under way, which it is estimated will cost something like five million dollars before completed, but will reclaim some four million acres of former inundated lands.

The opening of the first canal a short time ago, which completed a waterway from the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic ocean, marked the first step in this big undertaking.

With the coming of the tillers of the soil, the saurian that was formerly almost the only inhabitant of this great tract, has been forced further and further into the 'glades. Time was when the hunting of these creatures was profitable, but today hunters are scarce, for there are few alligators to be found.

Recently the writer made a trip across the peninsula by way of the canal just completed, which connects Fort Myers on the Gulf of Mexico and Fort Lauderdale on the Atlantic ocean.

Some of the party wanted to see how the alligators were caught. Off in the distance, at the edge of the canal, flew a bright red handkerchief, or rather what had once been a handkerchief. It marked the camp of two white men who make a business of hunting gators. Jim and Jack are the only names to which these men answer. If they ever had any other names they seem to have forgotten them. They have never been out of the 'glades in twenty years, except to go to Fort Myers for supplies, and are known all over southern Florida by the titles here used.

Surface a Dead Level. Owing to the fact that the surface of the Everglades is a dead level, without a natural landmark of any kind, it is necessary for the hunters to mark their camp, so that it may be seen by them from a distance. This is done by flying a flag or a rag from the top of a pole from ten to twenty feet in height.

Drawn up on the canal bank were three boats, one of them, a light flat bottom scow, half filled with the skins of alligators, packed in salt. Around the camp were scores of carcasses of the reptiles, over which the buzzards, the scavengers of the south, fought. So numerous and so daring were the birds that it was difficult to move around the place without kicking against one of the fowl, all of which attempted to dispute the right of the intruder to pass.

The two other boats were small skiffs, easily carried by a man of ordinary strength. They were the boats used in traveling over the low places in the 'glades in search of 'gators, which do not always expose themselves on the banks of the canal. In fact, the older and larger reptiles, which have grown wary as the hunters have more closely pursued them, make their homes far back from the stream, where they wallow and bellow in fancied security.

Jim and Jack were not very communicative. Tall, gaunt, browned and unshaved, they presented a picture not easily forgotten. With them speech was almost as scarce as diamonds, and even when they did speak it generally was only the word "yes" or "no" that they uttered.

For many months at a stretch they live alone in the 'glades, far removed from human habitation, not seeing a white man once a month. They grow quiet, apparently sullen, and have little to say. News of the outside world interests them not a bit.

A high-power rifle, a long steel rod sharpened at one end and a stout gaff, larger and much stronger than the gaff used by fishermen, constituted the weapons of the 'gator hunters. The hide of an alligator must not be mutilated if it is to bring a dollar or two to the hunters, and for that reason there was not a spear in the camp such as one of the party had expected to see.

In Muck and Mire. "Maybe so we can se'em catch 'gator," remarked our guide. "Maybe so you offer 'em money an' go catch one while you here."

The guide was authorized to conduct negotiations.

With several dollars in his hands he approached the two hunters, who at first turned away without apparently even glancing at the money. More cash was added to the little heap in the hands of the guide, and then the 'gator hunters took notice and began to show signs of life.

One of them spoke. "Big bull 'gator out yeh," he said, pointing out on the sea of waving saw grass. "I know his hiding place. Come on."

Jim and Jack, carrying the rifle, the long steel rod and the gaff, led the way. Through the prairie slush the little party walked for possibly a mile. "Here!" and Jim pointed to what appeared to be a mud hole, where cattle or hogs had, to all appearances, been wallowing.

While the party stood around, wondering what caused the strong, musky odor that filled the air, Jack fished around in the wallow with the big gaff. For half an hour he poked, without results. Handing the gaff to Jim, he seized the steel rod and began stabbing the prairie around the wallow, burying the weapon deep in the soft muck time and time again.

"Ah!" he shouted as the rod struck against a hard body deep in the mire. Then he began to push and prod, muttering oaths under his breath the while.

Suddenly there was a burst of mud and water, and from the center of the wallow rushed a 'gator six feet long or more. With a snap of his powerful jaws and a bellow the reptile thrashed around in the muck and mire, throwing the saw grass and the water in all directions. With his roaring and bellowing came an increased odor of muck.

For an instant the saurian paused in his mad floundering. Instantly there came a crash from the rifle held by Jim and the monster rolled over, shot through the right eye. Before the body could sink from sight in the watery muck Jack got busy with the gaff, which he inserted in the mouth of the reptile, and in less time than it takes to tell it the 'gator was lying out on the prairie, ready for the skinning knives of his captors.

Instances have been known in which large 'gators have attacked and killed or severely injured hunters who have not been lucky enough to hit at the first shot or have been caught unawares while crossing the 'glades. There is a tradition of an Indian hunter who, after his legs were bitten off, saw the same 'gator make a meal of his two children, who had accompanied him on the trip.

The 'gator was dragged back to the camp by Jim and Jack, who there proceeded to skin their victim. An incision was made along the belly, from the head to the tail, and the hide drawn off backward, over the tail, in order that the head might not be injured.

But 'gator hunting is no more profitable. The canals have drained much of the Everglades, which will soon be only a memory, and where once these creatures wallowed in silent security the truck farmer will before long be tilling the rich muck soil.

College Students Being Led Away From the Old Mode of Training

By Dr. ALEXANDER MEIKLEJOHN, President of Amherst College

THE modern American college is almost A FAILURE, due principally to the elective study system.

INTELLECTUALLY ITS ACHIEVEMENT, TAKEN ALL IN ALL, IS RATHER A POOR THING TODAY. I'M INCLINED

TO THINK THAT THE HEROES OF THE COLLEGE BOY ARE NOT HIS TEACHERS SO MUCH AS THE MAN OUT IN THE WORLD; THAT THE AMERICAN BOY HAS MORE RESPECT FOR ACHIEVEMENT THAN FOR INTELLECTUAL LIFE. IF THIS IS TRUE THE COLLEGE HAS FAILED, AND I BELIEVE IT IS LARGELY TRUE.

The old classical curriculum believed that if you take certain studies and work them through you'd get out of them the deepest things of human experience. I love the DOGMATISM, THE CERTAINTY, THE COURAGE, of that old curriculum. Whether right or wrong, it had SOMETHING TO GIVE, something to be taken. In the elective system the boy chooses on some special line—the love of vocation, the line of "snaps," the line of a certain profession or the days that will let the student get out of town. What do you get? Any sort of training? None at all.

I believe the time has come again for the American college to select from the body of knowledge a unified system and make sure that the boy who studies it has LEARNED OF HUMAN LIFE. It's a time for a new dogmatism.

Decadence Observed Before Fall of Roman Empire Again In Evidence

By the Rev. Dr. NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS of Plymouth Congregational Church, Brooklyn

IT sometimes seems as if New York were PASSING THROUGH SOME OF THE PHASES OF DECADENCE THAT WERE OBSERVED IN ROME JUST BEFORE THE FALL OF THE EMPIRE. The test of a city and its civilization is the attitude of its women toward life.

WHEN WOMEN BECOME THOUGHTLESS TOWARD THE LITTLE CHILDREN IN THE TENEMENT HOUSES AND GIVE BANQUETS IN HOTELS WITH DOGS AS THEIR GUESTS IT WOULD SEEM AS IF VICES, THAT ONCE CRAWLED LIKE SERPENTS OVER THE THRESHOLD OF NERO'S PALACE ARE NOW LEAVING A LITTLE SLIME ON THE MARBLE STEPS OF THE AMERICAN HOME.

Intelligent optimism for the republic is based upon the conviction that truth is stronger than error, wisdom stronger than ignorance, liberty stronger than oppression and God stronger than evil.

In one of his recent articles Professor Sumner of Yale gave the republic forty years before going over a Niagara falls in an awful social catastrophe, while another distinguished educator is so pessimistic that he recently said that ALL CONDITIONS THAT WERE FOUND IN ROME BEFORE ITS DECLINE AND FALL ARE NOW FOUND IN OUR ONCE PURE AND COMMANDING SOCIETY.

But despite these gloomy views we NEED NOT BE DISCOURAGED BY THE OCCASIONAL OUTBREAKS OF FOLLY AND SIGNS OF FRIVOLITY. The leaves on the bough of a tree may turn a sickly red in June, but that little dying twig does not mean that the great tree is struck with death.

United States' Next President Will Face Serious Issues

By Dr. CHARLES A. RICHMOND, President of Union University

THE man whom we elect president, whoever he may be, will need A COOL HEAD AS WELL AS A STRONG HAND.

HE WILL HAVE TO FACE ISSUES MORE PRETENTIOUS THAN ANY WHICH HAVE CONFRONTED THIS COUNTRY AT ANY PERIOD OF ITS HISTORY SAVE ONLY IN THE ADMINISTRATIONS OF WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN.

This government is not indestructible any more than the Titanic was unsinkable. ITS VERY SIZE AND STRENGTH MAY BE TURNED AGAINST IT and become the agents of its destruction. We must keep the searchlight sweeping the seas, and, above all, we must keep to the longer but safer course.

PRESERVED THE OLD STYLE

How One Young Bride Brought Atmospere of the Past Into Her New Home.

A young bride who went to house-keeping in her husband's old home was very much disappointed to find that his mother, with the very best intentions in the world had bought a lot of modern furniture and put away some really antique pieces, because she thought they were too out of date to please her boy's city wife.

The wife, however, in a quiet way found out that the new furniture had been purchased with the understanding that the bill be settled within six months. She talked the matter over with her husband and his mother and then with the proprietor of the store, and, in the end, all the "modern" furniture was taken back and the same amount traded out for several beautiful rugs and the curtains for all the rooms on the first floor of the old house.

Then the bride went to work and fixed up all the "old fashioned" furniture which had been stored in the attic. A dining table was found and four chairs to match. These she had scraped and sandpapered, then a filler applied, and, lastly, a good quality varnish. This, when thoroughly dry was again rubbed down until the final finish was dull, and the effect was splendid. It suggested age, but good condition.

The young wife also removed the screens from the old fireplace and they laid down new hearth-stones of cream brick. And the most delighted inmate of the home was the mother, who saw in it all a vision of bygone days.

LONG IMBEDDED IN AMBER

Dragon Fly, Preserved for Centuries, Is a Most Remarkable Natural Curiosity.

Flies in amber are not uncommon, but a dragon fly, almost perfect, is unique. The piece of amber with its large insect imperishably imprisoned was presented a few weeks ago to an English statesman by a rich Russian merchant.

The piece is remarkable for its size and the purity of its transparent yellow, but more especially for this insect it contains. This particular dragon fly fitted about over the marshes of what geologists call the tertiary period, tens or hundreds of thousands of years ago, and was engulfed by the resin that flowed from a pine tree. This resin, in the course of ages, turned to the stone that we now call amber. Several thousand species of fossil insects have been found in amber but this is one of the finest ever seen.

Life's Healings.

Of all the amazing forces of nature—her thunder and catraacts, oceans in wild storm and volcanoes in floods of molten rock, and those hidden monster-powers of electricity, gravitation and chemic affinities—the most wonderful of all is her healing power, her ability to get over anything, her infinite resources of recovery.

Haven't you often wondered why the whole world did not die of the cholera? And those other plagues no one seems able to stay, the typho, the smallpox, the bubonic plague, besides the awful pests of history, the red death and the black death; why have any of them ceased at all?

One reason of this is that the four huge rooms in nature's house are full of health supply. These rooms are sunshine, water, air and earth.

For Nature's other name is The Healer. She is the original and only cure-all.

And all this is quite as true in the realm of mind and soul as it is in the realm of body.—Woman's World.

Horse Up a Tree.

Visitors to Ferry Bar were much surprised yesterday morning to see a horse up among the branches of a tree. The animal had got in its uncomfortable position by falling ten feet from a bank that overtopped the tree. The tree probably saved the horse's life.

Blocks and fall were fastened to a tree stump on top of the hill and leather belts were wrapped about the horse. When the work of hitching the belts was completed it was found that the animal could not be rescued until several of the limbs of the tree were cut off. This took considerable time, during which the horse rested and watched the work of the score or more of men who were trying to release him. With the removal of the last limb the horse was slowly drawn to the top of the bank from which he had fallen. A close examination revealed that outside of a few scratches he was unharmed.—Baltimore American.

Spell Against Evil Eye.

Southern India is a land of omens and superstitions. These are remnants of the religion of the lost Dravidian races, engrafted upon the Hinduism of their conquerors. Edgar Thurston, in a book on the subject just published in England, gives an exhaustive account of the strange beliefs of these various races, where human sacrifice, though forbidden by law, persists.

The author cites among other charms against the evil eye impressions of the hand in red paint, which may be seen on the walls of mosques and other Mohammedan buildings and at Kadur on the houses of Brahmins, a photograph of one of which, taken by Mr. Thurston, is reproduced.

A Baked Bean Shelf--Have You One?

Phones 432 and 232

I have mentioned this subject frequently and as a result there are now in this part of town a great many baked bean shelves holding from three to a dozen cans of Snyder's baked beans ready for instant use. And what's more, I get orders for half a dozen to a dozen cans of these delicious beans every week or so from the same homes to replenish the bean shelf stock. Once tried, no woman wants her bean shelf empty. The quality of Snyder's beans has a great deal to do with the bean shelf habit and for that reason I want you to let us send you a half dozen cans of these really high-class beans.

THE DEMOCRATIC TEXT BOOK.

The Times is in receipt of the Democratic Campaign Text Book which is issued at least a month earlier than has been the case in past presidential campaigns. In truth, heretofore the Democrats have usually waited until after the Republicans issued their book before attempting to get out one to offset or answer arguments that might be necessary to answer before the election took place. This time, however, the Democrats seem to be taking the lead. The party had so much good material to put out that was backed by Republican testimony, its campaign managers and the committee in charge of the work did not seem to feel it necessary to wait until after the Republicans had issued their book in order to get more material. Under the captions of "The High Cost of Living," "Wool, the Keystone of the Arch," "Cotton Manufacturers," "Tariff Board of Fraud," "How Tariff Was Raised on Cotton," "Dolliver on Protection," "Protection and Farmer," "That's the Best Law Ever," "The Family Sugar Bowl," "How Prices Have Soared," the protective tariff is exposed, showing clearly that the present conditions are traceable directly to the system of protective tariff laws enacted and maintained by the Republican party, and to trust, combines and commercial conspiracies fostered and encouraged by such laws. But perhaps the most interesting article in the Text Book is that under the caption of "The True Taft by Theodore Roosevelt," showing his estimate of the president in 1908 and comparing the same with Roosevelt's speech delivered at Boston August 17, 1912 and at various other places. Next to that in interest perhaps, is the article captioned "The True Roosevelt by William Howard Taft," showing the president's estimate of Roosevelt in 1908 and now. The committee in charge of the work of getting out the book was composed of Josephus Daniels, chairman of the bureau of publicity; James T. Lloyd, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee and Robert Wickliffe Woolley, editor in charge. The price of the book is 25 cents and orders will be filled at either Chicago or New York Democratic National Headquarters.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL NOTES

Many Applications For Six Per Cent Money.

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 10.—Applications for six per cent money on distress cotton are pouring in at the headquarters of the Farmers' Union in this city. Mr. Peter Radford, president of the union estimates that at least 25 per cent of the cotton picked so far this season is being stored on the Farmers' Union plant and unless there is a rapid advance in cotton prices, the farmers will tax to the utmost, the ability of the Texas business interests to finance the crop.

President Radford in company with Secretary Cain, of the Commercial Secretaries & Business Men's Association, has canvassed the large banking centers of the state soliciting large loans from leading bankers and reports the southern portion of the state provided for, and President Radford is in receipt of advice from the American Exchange Bank and the Guarantee State Bank of Dallas, that they would make available a half million dollars each for lending farmers on cotton and the Fort Worth bankers will make heavy advances, the same as last year.

Mr. Radford speaking for the agricultural interests of the State, expressed grateful appreciation for the assistance the business interests are giving the farmers.

ONE of WORLD'S HOTTEST PLACES

ARIZONA INDIAN BOYS

DOWN in Yuma, on the border between the new state of Arizona and the older one of California, they revel in the distinction of possessing the hottest place under the stars and stripes. When the rest of the republic has been gripped by winter, thermometers in Yuma register 100 degrees. Just how high they go in the summer no man has as yet vouchsafed.

That Yuma is inhabited by human salamanders goes without saying. Only people who like such heat would come there from choice, and would try to get away after they do get there.

There are several things at Yuma that excite the attention of the stranger. It seems just the sort of place you pictured it before you came. Most interesting are the Indians. Here, alone, of all places under the flag, Uncle Sam allows polygamy, and the Yuma buck is permitted to maintain as many wives as he can induce to live with him in the wigwam. The prison at Yuma is different from any prison west of Gibraltar, and the only counterpart of the village jail, which is a sort of stepping stone to the prison, is in the heart of Turkey. The people of Yuma are otherwise so typically Mexican that one wonders almost if one's under the rule of the stars and stripes.

How to Get to Yuma.

To get to Yuma you leave Tucson, Ariz., at 8:40 at night. At 6:15 in the morning you're at Yuma. On the map the journey seems nothing, but in the west distances are startling in their magnitude.

The hotel is what Dickens might have described as a depot restaurant, built over the station itself, and with its porch looking down into the turquoise Colorado river. There is a bridge, with the Indian women trundling past constantly. A boat landing is near by, while on the opposite bank is the government Indian school. Everywhere there are the Yuma Indians. They wear garments and blankets they wear, and are not put on simply to attract the tourist. As a matter of fact, the Yumas hate the whites, and while they sell trinkets to them at the station, they sell themselves to the town to win themselves to affability. The bucks, who squat along the changing river banks in their straw hats and jeans, idle the year round, are, in fact, positively discourteous to the stranger.

After one has left one's belongings at the hotel and started to explore, Yuma is found to be interesting for what it lacks in modernity. There is practically but one long street. This is lined with low one and two story cottages, built of frame, and housing, almost without exception, saloons and shops, in addition to the homes of the householders.

There is a fair public school building and a Catholic church. The latter is interesting for its Indian communicants, who come there as did the red men to the missions in the Pre-Mexican days in California. At the time of day that you are out Yuma is still half in its slumbers. Aside from a flight of crows on the main highway, the quiet of dawn reigns supreme. You can walk over the entire place in an hour, and you do so while you may, unobserved. There are lemons growing in one garden, the first you encounter. Today it is cold until the sun has risen, but then, and in summer, Yuma is, next to Death valley, the hottest place in the world, so that you may look for tropical foliage.

You wonder at the foolish custom of the milkmen of Yuma, who knock at each door until told by the tenants to leave the milk outside, a custom whose origin lies shrouded in mystery. Two women, seemingly intoxicated, attract your attention. They are following a man, expostulating as only Mexicans can. It is to the jail that the women are directing their footsteps. One is weeping, the other seems angry. Both begin pleading with the jailer. Last night the husband of the weeping woman came home furiously drunk and began using a knife upon her. So the police were called and now he is here. She, however, had no idea it was so vile a place, and now she has come to beg his release. Finally she becomes convinced that her pleadings are in vain and she and her friends depart.

The environs of the town attract. In the rainy season, when the narrow, dark brown, shrunken Colorado rages beneath the great iron bridge of the railway, steamers run to the gulf and up river. Then one may take one of the most interesting trips in the west. Where Rain is Unknown. Over the bridge lies the Indian reservation, and on its borders is an interesting primitive corral for the horses. Of course no roof to the shed is needed, for it practically never rains in Yuma, and the stags themselves consist of three open wagonettes, the covers of which have long since been lost.

You get a new idea of Indian control in the southwest as you step past the corral. There is a sign forbidding whites to proceed, unless they have legitimate business with the Indians, and stating a heavy penalty for trading with the redskins. Furthermore, it is forbidden to enter the reservation without a permit. The whole arrangement seems well nigh despotic. The Yumas live in a sort of forbidden land. Squaws, with the gay colored blankets, pass out. Old men, with their hair down their backs in innumerable braids, saunter in or stop to watch the stags being harnessed, and perhaps to lend an indolent hand to hitching the four horses.

"This Is Your Show."

The late Sir George White, defender of Ladysmith, was a strong enough man to take responsibility for failure; he was a strong enough man, too, to give credit to his subordinates for good work done. The first time I saw him was at Elandslaagte. The police was well in progress. General French was elaborating one of the most brilliant affairs of the South African war. Late in the afternoon Sir George White and his staff rode on the battlefield, and had not been there five minutes before a shell fired from one of the Maxim-Nordenfelfs which the Boers captured from Jamieson at the time of the raid, but which were destroyed by nightfall to be in our hands, plowed up the ground within a few yards of his horse. Almost simultaneously French hurried up and drew rein before the chief to surrender command. "No you carry on," said Sir George, "this is your show."—London Daily News.

Office: Room 207 Kemp & Kell Building. Phone 836.

I take pleasure in announcing to my former friends and patrons that my office is now open on 2nd floor Kemp and Kell building. My new office is equipped with all the latest sanitary dental appliances known to modern dentistry, including two full sets of instruments and an electric sterilizer. This enables me to use sterilized instruments on each patient. It is a well known fact that many contagious diseases, such as tuberculosis, diphtheria, pyorrhea, (that dreaded disease which causes the teeth to become loose and fall out commonly known as scurvy) and many blood diseases can be transmitted from the mouth of one patient to that of another by the dentist. It affords me great satisfaction to see my patients this autumn. Soliciting a renewal of your liberal patronage of past years, I beg to remain, Yours sincerely, DR. H. A. WALLER.

Why Rich Soil is Really Warm. Farm and Fireside says: "We speak of a rich soil as warm. This is more than a figure of speech. A Michigan investigator has found that ten tons of stable manure worked into the top six inches of soil actually makes the ground about a sixth of a degree warmer. In sunshiney weather this same manured soil is two degrees warmer than soil without manure. This warming of the earth comes not from the fermentation of the manure, but apparently from greater absorption of the sun's heat."

Is Your Child Fed

To meet the demands of school life?

Study takes the brain and nerves of the growing youngsters. Certainly, that's natural and expected; and if fed right, they grow rosy in body and hearty in brain.

If a child droops under school training it is a Signal Flag. Something used up each day that is not replaced from the food. Don't neglect the signal!

There is one absolutely dependable food, because it contains the certain parts of wheat and barley that rebuild, not only the body, but the gray matter in Brain and nerve centres.

If you have any question of the scientific truth of this statement, write us for analysis of Brain and nerve centres and analysis of

Grape-Nuts

FOOD

There is no guesswork here, but absolute dependable fact that can be made use of by any parent sufficiently interested in the child's development to investigate.

A regular diet of Grape-Nuts and cream, as part of each meal, will tell its tale of health and (fortunately) the children like it.

State Secretary Will Be in Wichita Falls Sunday to Look Over the Ground

With a view to establishing a railroad Young Men's Christian Association branch here, L. A. Coulter of Dallas, secretary of the State Y. M. C. A. will be in Wichita Falls next Sunday, September 15, and will look the ground over. It is believed that such an organization here would be assured of ample support and that it would serve to make this city much more attractive to the many railroad men who make their headquarters here.

The Young Men's Progressive League was instrumental in bringing Mr. Coulter here and will take the matter up with him upon his arrival.

BABY IS BORN WITH INITIALS IN HIS EYES

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—Physicians at the Jefferson Medical College are attempting to explain the phenomena of initials continually mirrored in the retina of the eyes of 2 year old John Dugan of 1622 North Sixteenth street of this city.

Mirrored in his eyes are two distinct letters of typographical design, each a quarter of an inch high. They are the initials of the name decided upon by the boy's parents before he was born. That name was John Dugan, the name the boy now bears. In the middle of John's right eye, as if imbedded in the iris by the hand of a fantastic master surgeon, is the print of the type "J." In the left eye is similarly set his other initial "D." The baby's father is a printer.

John Dugan was, expectantly awaited by his parents and they decided upon his name before he was born. He is now more than 2 years old, and the initials are still there. They are even more plainly visible than they were when John was born. The child's eyesight is perfect and his health robust. His mind and conduct are normal.

WHISKERS OF VINTAGE OF 1830 INVADING U. S.

New York, Sept. 10.—An invasion of America by the British whiskers of the style of 1830 (they have already returned to vogue in England) was predicted by George Ade, who rhapsodized today after several weeks abroad.

"Side whiskers are coming to America just as fast as the fastest ship can bring them," he said. "I am going to raise mine at once and I shall, therefore, be ahead of the hoiloh. I have been informed that if I remain in seclusion a month and am attended by a specialist I shall be ready to come forth into the world resplendent in whiskers."

"Almost anyone can raise a crop of the old trailing arbutus style of whiskers," he continued, "but there is more art in the raising and care of the new fangled fire escapes. They are of the vintage of 1830 and the London dandies have already resuscitated them beyond the danger of a relapse."

STATE FAIR MUSIC.

Famous Patrick Conway Band Coliseum Feature.

SOLOISTS OF ABILITY.

Miss Josephine Dunfee of Ohio, One of the Famous Singers of America, Has Been Secured—Also Vaudeville Attractions.

The famous Conway band, headed by Patrick Conway, will feature the Coliseum program, at the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the State Fair of Texas, at Dallas October 12 to October 27. This band is declared to be the leading musical organization in America, and its leader, although one of the younger school of American band masters, is spoken of by critics throughout the country as the successor of the late E. S. Gilmore. While Mr. Conway does not in any way lay claim to the Gilmore organization, he has followed very closely that great leader's ideas on three important points, namely: In making up programs to please and interest all classes, in securing the world's greatest virtuoso, regardless of cost and in accepting as members of his band only musicians of the highest ability and character.

The organization by its splendid conditions of the best in music has attracted a larger following of high class music lovers than any band since the days of Gilmore. Miss Josephine Dunfee of this city with the band as soloist. Miss Dunfee possesses a vigorous soprano voice and her interpretation of the most difficult compositions is declared a skillful vocal achievement. Technically as well as musically Miss Dunfee is a soloist well worth the hearing. In addition to her musical accomplishments Miss Dunfee possesses an exceedingly pleasing personality that endears her from the start to her audience and makes her presence upon the stage a delightfully cheerful episode.

W. H. STRATTON, Secretary.

Bandmaster Conway will bring several famous instrumental soloists to Dallas. John Dolan, cornet soloist, is acknowledged to be a leader in his profession. H. Bonne Herriot, saxophone soloist, is known among saxophone soloists as Conway is among bandmasters.

The Coliseum programs will be featured by vaudeville acts of the highest merit. These entertainments will also be worth the price of admission to the Fair.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DISPLAY.

Thousands of Dollars Now Being Expended in Preparation For Fair. Visitors at the State Fair of Texas at Dallas, Oct. 12 to 27, will find much of educational interest in the industrial arts display in the main exposition building. This great structure, 275 x 254 feet in dimension, and covering 106,500 square feet of space, will be filled to overflowing with exhibits from the greatest manufacturing and industrial concerns of the country. The demand for exhibit space at the fair this year is unprecedented, one concern having booked nearly 18,000 square feet, the largest individual booking in history.

In the exposition building every foot of space will be taken up in a superb display of industrial arts. Several of the largest mercantile firms of Dallas have expended thousands of dollars in importations of the latest creations of the world of fashion in women's wear. Diamonds, cut glass, chinaware and jewelry of all kinds will form an exhibition of riches unparalleled in the history of fairs. Indeed, some of the gems to be exhibited are valued at thousands of dollars.

In the implements, vehicle and machinery departments ten acres will be devoted to an exhibition of carriages, buggies, farm wagons and vehicles of all kinds; automobiles from more than twenty of the leading manufacturers; road machinery that will be of great interest to those engaged in the building of roads throughout the state; irrigation machinery, and machinery used in the construction of buildings, viaducts, bridges, etc.

Agricultural Texas will be exempted in the county exhibit division. Between fifty and sixty counties will be represented this year. The management offers $1200 in prizes in this division and practically every section of the state will be represented in the contests for the exceedingly generous offerings. Among the counties to be represented are Smith, Colorado, Hunt, Gray, Cass, Dallas, Henderson, Van Zandt, Donley, Kaufman, Harrison, Howard, Gaines, Hopkins, Cook, Wynn, Andrews, Wilbarger, Comanche, Cherokee, Denton, Angelina, Wood, Mitchell, Lubbock and Moore.

STATE FAIR DOG SHOW

October 17, 18, 19 and 20 are the dates of the Dog Show to be held at the State Fair of Texas at Dallas, October 12 to October 27. Dr. George W. Clayton of Chicago, a famous dog fancier, will be the managing director. Some of the greatest prize winners in Eastern bench shows last year were Texas bred dogs. The only fox terrier foreign bred that ever won the championship in England was bred in Orange, Texas. Bulls and Boston terriers who first saw the light of day under Texas skies are winning laurels for themselves and owners wherever shown. Contesting for rich premiums this year will be fox terriers, English and Boston bulls, English, Gordon and Irish setters, spaniels, dachshunds, beagles, terriers, toy, poodles, Boston terriers, Irish terriers, Pomeranians, Esquimaux, fox hounds, grey hounds, pointers, Russian wolf hounds and great Danes. It is very probable that the Fox Terrier Club of America will give prizes for the best dogs of that class entered.

OLD ENGLISH MOOT HALL

One of the most charming coast towns of England is Aldeburgh, Suffolk. It lies between the sea and the estuary of the river Alde and is a favorable summer resort. Among its attractions is the ancient moot hall in which the people used to meet to settle the affairs of the village. Aldeburgh was the birthplace of Chaucer and is commemorated in his poem, "The Borough."

Invites Critics to Point Out Defects in Bank Reserve Plan

By Associated Press.
Detroit, Mich., Sept. 10.—Now is the time for critics of the proposed National Reserve Association, recommended by the National Monetary Commission, to come forward and point out what they believe to be defects in the plan. In the opinion of Robert W. Bonyge, a member of the commission, who addressed the American Bankers' Association in convention here today, Mr. Bonyge's address was on "Banking and Currency Reform." He spoke in part as follows:

"Our banking and currency system is universally recognized as thoroughly unsound. All the political parties have declared in their platforms of this year in favor of its reformation, but no specific remedial legislation has been proposed by any. It is perhaps better that they should not have done so. The problem is essentially an economic and business question. The defects in the existing system that must be remedied, no matter which party is charged with the responsibility of framing the legislation are: Our unscientific treatment of bank reserves, the rigidity of our entire credit system and the lack of co-operation between our independent banks.

"Our present reserve system restricts the loaning power of banks at times when reserves should be freely used and credit liberally extended to solvent business men and thereby in times of stress is concerned only in strengthening its reserves. The sole method available for that purpose is the calling of loans. The portion of the reserves held in the vaults of our thousands of independent banks is for all practical purposes a dead asset. Indeed, rigidity stamps itself upon our entire credit organization.

"We have only local banks. They furnish banking facilities to their own communities. They are indispensable. But it must be obvious that these strictly local institutions can not look after or provide for the general credit conditions of the country at large.

"As it was found necessary to organize the federal government to guard our National interests and to legislate on those subjects affecting us as a Nation, so we must have par-poses. The independence of the units must be absolutely preserved. The powers given to the federation of the banks must be strictly limited to those that are national in character. The form of organization must be such as to insure its operation in the interests of and as a support to all legitimate business and must be wholly free from sectional, political or selfish financial control.

"When thus organized it must be empowered to act as custodian for the reserves of the banks, to redistribute their short time commercial paper, to provide a safe and sound bank note currency that will automatically adjust itself to the constant changes in business requirements, to act as the government's fiscal agent, and to represent us in all national and all international financial affairs.

"The experience of the law proves that a currency issued by a government or by a government owned by institution always lacks the essential element of elasticity. Its amount is determined by the government's needs and fixed by statutory provisions which cannot be speedily altered to meet changing conditions. The government issues money, and may and should in the interest of the public regulate the agency or agencies which, may, in accordance with certain general principles that it establishes, issue credit redeemable in lawful money. It is for these reasons that the issuance of bank note currency should be intrusted to the federation of banks, under regulations to be prescribed by statute and strict government supervision through its own officers.

"With a co-operative federation of our banks established, having the necessary powers to protect our general credit conditions, banking panics and money stringencies would no longer plague us. Each independent bank would know that it could safely extend at some price such assistance as might be required to any solvent business man, because it would know that if the occasion arose it could redeem the commercial paper of its solvent customer at a branch of the federation of banks. Thus the benefits of such an organization would reach every man no matter in what business or calling he might be engaged.

"We would have a safe custodian for the reserves of the banks. They would be mobilized and could be put to effective use whenever needed. The amount of currency would be absolutely measured and determined by business requirements. The banks would through co-operation be enabled to utilize our enormous banking power and wealth.

"A plan to accomplish these purposes has been before the country for nearly a year. It is contained in the unanimous report made to Congress by the National Monetary Commission recommending the establishment of the National Reserve Association.

"Some objections have been urged to the plan of the proposed organization and the machinery provided for its operation. If there are defects in the plan, they should be specifically pointed out and suggestions offered for their correction. Mere denunciation of proposed measures without offering some substitute is not at all helpful. It is believed that the more the plan of the Monetary Commission is studied and analyzed the more it will grow in favor. But whether it does or not the problem of monetary reform remains with us. A solution for it must be found. Shall we say that we are unequal to the task? Shall it be said that this powerful nation alone of all the nations of the earth is unable to devise a banking system suited to its needs? We will be unworthy of our inheritance if we fail in this effort. The difficulties to be overcome are insignificant compared to those that confronted the fathers in laying the foundation of our National Union. Surely the time cannot be far distant when the intelligence and patriotism of the American people will solve this problem. It is to that intelligence and patriotism that we must appeal and upon which we can rely with confidence."

Although the open season for quail hunting is still some time off local hunters have been investigating to find where the birds may be found and so far their investigations have been fruitless. It appears that there are fewer quail in this section than ever before known. Pastures where once a dozen coveys could be found are now without a single bird. The scarcity is explained by the extreme drought last year and the severe winter that followed no less than the depredations of the hunters. At the present rate in which the quail are disappearing it is predicted they will be extinct within ten years, unless laws for their protection are enforced.

Watermelons are being fed to the hogs in the Burk Burnett country. After marketing about a hundred cars in addition to many hundreds of wagon loads to neighboring towns, Burk Burnett has a surplus of melons which the farmers are getting rid of by feeding them to the pigs. The hogs devour them eagerly and are said to fatten rapidly when a watermelon menu is varied with kaffir corn and Indian corn. A few melons are still being shipped from Burk Burnett but the demand is not heavy.

From China Will Spring a New World Power

By Archbishop GIOVANNI BONZANO, Papal Delegate to the United States, Who Spent Seven Years in China

CHINA WILL SOON BE A FIRST CLASS WORLD POWER AND WILL EXERCISE VAST INFLUENCE FOR GOOD THROUGHOUT THE ORIENT.

There is a great and MAGNIFICENT FUTURE ahead of China. In fact, I prophesy that in a very few years, fewer than those think who have not had the opportunity of studying the people at close range, China will be one of the first class world powers.

I base this belief upon my knowledge of the personal character of the people, the THOROUGHNESS which has been evidenced in the secret political training which the secret societies have been carrying on. By secret societies I do not mean Freemasons or that kind of secret societies, but secret political societies. But more than all I am basing my belief in the future of this people upon the STURDY AND STERLING LOVE OF COUNTRY, OF FAMILY AND OF GOD WHICH IS PLAINLY EVIDENCED IN ALL QUARTERS.

Knowing the people as well as I do, I must say that the change came about in a manner which was an ASTOUNDING SURPRISE. Of course we all knew of the prevailing unrest and the feeling of resentment that a dynasty so young that it had only a few hundred years to its credit should adopt the attitude which it did adopt, but even we did not suspect the—what you might call underground—work of propaganda and political instruction which has resulted in so marvelous an overturn.

It shows a CARE AND INTELLIGENCE FAR ABOVE THE ORDINARY in the planning of the campaign, and it augurs extremely well that the work of construction will proceed with the same RAPIDITY AND SURENESS that characterized the work of demolition.
