UNCLE SAM'S BOYS MAY TAKE A HAND IN FIGHT AT AGUA PRIETA

U. S. SOLDIERS MAY TAKE HAND

IF BULLETS FALL INTO DOUGLAS OR AMERICAN LIVES ARE MENACED

BLANKET INSTRUCTIONS

Troop Commanders Authorized to Take Steps to Prevent Repetition of Killing of Americans

Washington, D. C., Sept. 13.—American troops may take a hand in the fighting at Agua Prieta if bullets fall into Douglas or lives are menaced on the American side of the boundary. This was intimated today at headquarters of the general staff of the army on receipt of advices that rebel leaders would disregard warnings that they must not fire in the direction of Douglas.

Troop commanders have blanket instructions to prevent a repetition of the killing of innocent Americans in Douglas during the Madero rebellion. These are broad enough to cover practically any contingency. More definite instructions may be issued by Major General Wood, chief of staff, later today.

Brigadier General Steever reports filibustering expeditions crossing at several points.

RACING AUTO CAUSED SERIOUS ACCIDENT

To Avoid Collision Truck Loaded With Passengers Turned Into Ditch at Little Rock

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 13.—To avert a collision with a racing automobile on West 19th street at the intersection of the L. R. M. and W. Railway at an early hour today the large truck run between Bristol Springs and Little Rock plunged into a ditch and was overturned, seriously injuring Miss Martha Rieve and painfully though not seriously injuring ten others.

Bride Sixty Five; Groom Goin' on to 70

"I love him just as much as if I was but fifteen years old. We'd been keeping company a long time and he was lonesome and I was, too. So we just got married. I'd be happy with a tent and cot, if I was with him." Her face slight with happiness, Mrs. Jack Hanna, aged sixty, until last was Mrs. Sarah Drivers pointed to the gilt-framed marriage certificate on the wall of her tiny home near the section house. The groom, Jack Hanna, is "goin' on to seventy," according to the bride. Rev. J. F. Coe of the First M. E. Church performed the ceremony at the parsonage.

With an enthusiasm that might put to shame two lovers of one-third their ages, Mr. and Mrs. Hanna are making plans for a home. Mrs. Hanna resided for some time at 400 Lee street, in which neighborhood she was affectionately known as "Grandma Drivers."

Intercession For American Is Asked

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Sept. 13.—Senator O'Gorman has asked the State Department to intercede for John Devine, son of Peter Devine, a New York contractor, captured by the Mexican rebels and sentenced to be shot. Acting Secretary Wilson has called upon Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City for an immediate report.

Rebels Fire Few Shots into Agua Prieta Then Disappear

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 13.—After firing a few shots into Agua Prieta the rebels that have been threatening an attack on the town disappeared southward early today. There was no battle, according to advices received here. The rebels fired occasional shots during the night at federal posts, who did not attempt to pursue the rebels. Emphatic notice served by United States army officers to the rebels not to fire into American territory is believed to have caused the retreat.

Americans fear the rebels will attempt reprisals by attacking towns in Sonora where Americans reside.

"Filibuster" A Hoax

Douglas, Arizona, Sept. 13.—The so-called "filibustering" expedition by Americans into Mexico, reported here recently, proves to be the flight of three Americans who had been told they would be arrested for violating the neutrality laws. Their departure was the result of a "frameup" by secret service men who quietly informed them that if they remained they would be arrested.

ACCUSED LAWYER WILL FIGHT OWN CASE

Burton W. Gibson Accused of Murder of Mrs. Szabo, has not Employed Counsel and Appears in Own Behalf

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 13.—The fight which Burton W. Gibson, the New York lawyer, will make for his life, will be directed entirely by himself, he said today. He has not engaged counsel, he added, and appeared in his own behalf when arraigned before County Judge Royle on the charge of murder of Mrs. Menshik Szabo, his client who met death while boating with him on Greenwood Lake July 16.

Gibson acted as his counsel this morning, but the accused said later in the day that probably he had made a mistake in not getting a lawyer and that he was arranging now for counsel.

"I never said," asserted Gibson today, "that the woman who was drowned was not Mrs. Szabo of Vienna." He explained that last night when he said that the woman in the boat with him was "Mrs. Ridder" he did not mean a person other than Mrs. Szabo.

AMERICAN MINING CAMP ATTACKED

75 AMERICAN MEN AND 6 AMERICAN WOMEN AT EL TIGRES, ATTACKED BY REBELS

LED BY GENERAL SALZAR

New Movement of Rebels in Torreon District is Headed by Garza Galan Family

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 13.—An attack on El Tigres, an American mining settlement south of the border, took place today. There are 75 American men and six American women isolated in the camp which is defended by only a few federals.

Reinforcements have been sent from Nacozari, but must cross the country to reach the camp. The attacking rebels are said to be led by Gen. Salazar.

REVOLUTION IS STARTED

Americans and Other Foreigners on Island are Reported to be in Danger

Washington, D. C., Sept. 13.—The United States is about to intervene in Santo Domingo. Warships will be dispatched at once to the island. A revolution has broken out which threatens Americans and other foreigners.

$30 PREMIUMS FOR FIRST BALES

$20 Will Go for First Bale Brought in and $10 to First Wichita County Bale

A premium of thirty dollars has been raised by the Chamber of Commerce for the farmers who brought the first two bales of 1912 cotton to Wichita Falls. T. P. Smith of Scotland, who broke all records with the first bale, will receive $20 and Joe Bartasch, residing between this city and Holliday, will receive $10 as his premium for bringing in the second bale.

No effort was made to raise a premium when the bales were brought in, but the Chamber of Commerce directors took action at this meeting this week and raised a purse which will go to reward the successful planters.

DOUBLE BARRELED DEMOCRATIC SPEAKING

Bryan and Wilson Will Speak from Same Platform at Lincoln, Nebraska, October 5th.

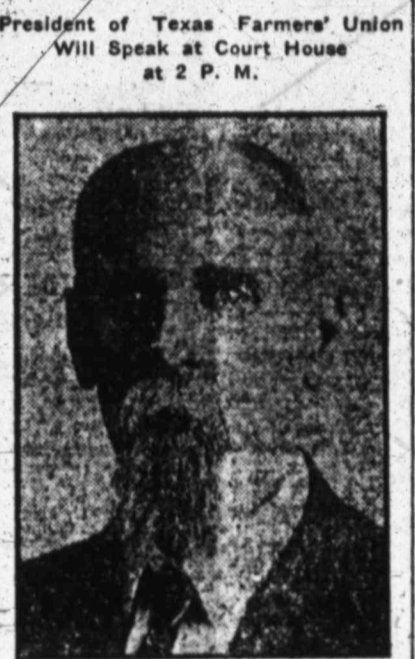

New York, Sept. 13.—Governor Woodrow Wilson will meet W. J. Bryan in Lincoln on October 5, when the presidential nominee and the former Democratic standard bearer will speak from the same platform. Governor Wilson made this announcement before leaving for Searight early today.

Hon. Peter Radford, president of the Texas Farmers' Union, will be in Wichita Falls tomorrow to discuss methods of financing the cotton crop, with farmers, business and professional men.

He will hold a conference with members of the Farmers' Union in the morning and will speak at a mass meeting at two o'clock in the afternoon at the court house.

The Farmers' Union is one of the great movements of the day and Mr. Radford is one of its foremost advocates. All who can, should hear him.

AGRICULTURAL AND LAND CREDIT

NEW SYSTEM OF CO-OPERATIVE STATE MORTGAGE LOAN BANKS PROPOSED

LIKE SYSTEM IN FRANCE

Rate for Loans Under System There is 4.30 Per Cent Per Annum on Loans Running 50 Years

By Associated Press. Detroit, Mich., Sept. 13.—The advisability of forming a "co-operative democracy of state mortgage loan banks, united into a powerful central organism, for strengthening commercial banking credit," was recommended for consideration of the American Bankers' Association here today by Charles A. Conant. The subject of Mr. Conant's address was "Land and Agricultural Credit."

Mr. Conant began by referring to the pressure of population upon food supply and the necessity of increasing the area of cultivated land by improved methods of extending credit to the farmer. He pointed out that bitter experience had proved projects for issuing money upon land to be unsound, but that Europe had solved the problem of the ready transferability of mortgage loans and low rates of interest to the borrower by taking a leaf from the experience of the limited liability company in the issue of bonds and shares.

"In Europe," he said, "the man who has money to lend upon mortgage is no longer obliged to make personal examination of the property, nor to risk his capital upon a single investment in a non-transferable form. He has only to buy a negotiable bond—coupon or registered, according to his preference—which he can sell as readily as the bond of the government and with even less risk of fluctuation in its price. He has been freed from the mere land, the source of all wealth, but he has the pledge of a stock company that they have examined the properties upon which loans have been made, that all such properties are held in the aggregate as assets against the outstanding bonds, and that the company has in addition an adequate capital to cover any unexpected shrinkage in the value of the property behind its bonds."

"The bonds issued by the credit foncier of France under this system are made attractive to the borrower by the system of amortization by which they are paid off and by the long terms over which the amortization extends. In the loans made by the credit foncier of France, more than three-quarters are for periods of fifty years or more, so that the amortization charge involves only a small addition to the annual interest.

In the loans made by the credit foncier of France, more than three-quarters are for periods of fifty years or more, so that the amortization charge involves only a small addition to the annual interest.

"The rate of interest charged upon loans during the last few years by the credit foncier of France has been 4.30 per cent. For a loan repayable in thirty years, the semi-annual payment required has been 2.932 per cent or just under 3 per cent, making the two payments for the year equal to 5.964 or just under 6 per cent. Where the loan is for forty years the sum of the two annual payments falls to 5.259 per cent and for fifty years to 4.882 per cent. It may not be possible to float bonds in this country at a rate so low as to permit loans upon mortgage at 4.30 per cent, but even if 5 or 5 1/2 per cent is charged, the additions for the amortization of the principal will not be materially greater than in the case of the loans made by the credit foncier of France.

"While it might not be possible to make loans as low in America as they are made in France, it ought to be possible to make them at a point much lower than the farmer pays under the existing system of disposing of mortgages to individual investors: The average rate of interest shown by the Federal census of 1899 upon mortgages on farm lands was 7.07 per cent, but this is only an average, pulled down by such rates as 5.06 in New York, 5.43 in Pennsylvania, and 5.55 in Massachusetts, while the average rate (and not the minimum) fixed as high as 8.18 per cent in Minnesota, 8.38 in Texas, 9.79 in Mississippi, 9.87 in Washington, 10.55 in Idaho and 10.97 in Montana."

"The speaker discussed briefly the system of co-operative popular banks which has obtained its widest extension in Germany.

"The Raiffisen system of popular banks is based upon the principle of co-operation among farmers, usually peasant proprietors," he continued. "The principle upon which these are established is that of the unlimited joint and several liability of the members; but as limited liability has been found to afford adequate protection, about eight per cent of the German banks are now based upon limited liability rather than unlimited.

$2982 STREET TAXES HAVE BEEN COLLECTED

It Isn't Time to Quit Dodging Collector Either if You Haven't Paid It

An increase in the collection of street taxes over last year is shown by the total to date which is $2982, or 964 taxes. The total for 1911 was 943 and there are still some collections to be made. It is hoped to gather in a total of a thousand before quitting and another effort will be made to reach that figure by the first of October, so that those who haven't paid up needn't quit dodging the collector just yet.

Since the city street force has been putting in such good in the western part of the city, where the streets have gotten into excellent condition, fewer complaints about paying street taxes are being heard and the sentiment among residents of the improved section is that the improvement is cheap enough at three dollars a head.

CONCENTRATE EFFORTS FOR NEW FACTORIES

Young Men's Progressive League Will Direct Entire Energies to Secure New Industries

The efforts of the Young Men's Progressive League for the remainder of this year are to be concentrated on the securing of new factories for this city, it was decided at a meeting of the directors of the organization yesterday afternoon. It was the sentiment of the directors that by putting forth all the League's energies to this end, for a time, better results could be secured than by working on various propositions.

The next trade excursion, to be taken early in October, was also discussed by the directors and it was decided to call a mass meeting of those interested for next Wednesday, Sept. 18, to decide what route the excursion is to take.

A committee consisting of P. H. Pennington, Marvin Smith, A. B. Huff, A. H. Britain and H. W. Gaston was named to confer with the State Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, who will be here Sunday. This committee will co-operate with one appointed by the railroad men. The plan to establish a railroad Y. M. C. A. here was heartily endorsed by the directorate.

The directors went on record as favoring a factory campaign on the individual plan outlined by Secretary Gaston; that is, pointing out to each class of industry the particular advantages which Wichita Falls offers it. A committee consisting of Messrs. Pennington and B. J. Bean was named to look into the matter of a special newspaper edition, to be published under the auspices of the League.

Secretary Gaston reported on the publicity work done since the League was organized, showing that over 1500 Wichita Falls "date-lines" had been published. His work in this department was endorsed, as was his unique plan for the "content citations" to be served on the Pittsburg trade excursionists.

A number of minor matters received the attention of the directors at the meeting.

SHERMAN MAN TO RAISE WILSON CAMPAIGN FUND

Sherman, Texas, Sept. 13.—Judge Rice Maxey of this city today received a telegram from National Democratic headquarters notifying him of his appointment as a member of the finance committee. He immediately wired his acceptance. He said he expects to get into the work at once helping to raise the $50,000 promised the committee by Texas. He said he believes this amount can be raised easily.

Judge Maxey was chairman of the Harman State committee.

PARCELS POST WILL NECESSITATE CHANGES

Many Postoffice Buildings Must be Rearranged and Enlarged to Meet New Conditions

Postmaster Bacon, who returned recently from a trip to Atlantic City and other Eastern points, improved his time while away by securing some changes and improvements for the new postoffice building. Some of these were in anticipation of the parcels post arrangements, which will be effective January 1 and which will necessitate increased facilities in all the postoffices.

It is now promised that the local postoffice will be housed in the new quarters by November 1, possibly sooner. Interior details are now receiving the attention of the workmen.

STABLES BURNED AT CABIN CREEK

OUTBREAK TAKES FORM OF INCENDIARISM AND COAL COMPANY'S STABLES BURNED

Buildings Were Fired at so Many Points that Efforts to Extinguish Flames Was Fruitless

By Associated Press. Charleston, West Va., Sept. 13.—The expected outbreak in the Cabin Creek district of the Kanawah coal field where 1200 state guardsmen are maintaining martial law came with dawn this morning when the stables of the Ohley Coal Company at Ohley were destroyed by fire and an attempt made to fire the tipples of the same company.

Twenty-five soldiers drove off the men and it is believed some were wounded. The company's property is in a lonely part of the district. Striking miners in that immediate vicinity have been quiet and no trouble was anticipated. Soon after 4 o'clock this morning a picket saw a sheet of flames leap from the stable. He called the guard. The men fought the flames for half an hour but the building had been fired at so many points it was impossible to save its contents.

OLD TIME RESIDENT HERE KILLS HIMSELF

Henry Pickett Ends Life at Home in Denton County by Shooting Himself in the Mouth

News of the suicide of Henry Pickett, well known to all the older residents of Wichita Falls, reached here today. The tragedy took place on Tuesday night at Roanoke, Denton County, where Mr. Pickett has been making his home of late years. He killed himself by placing the muzzle of a 22-calibre rifle in his mouth and pulling the trigger. The deed was committed in the rear of a granary on the Pickett homestead and the body was not discovered until Wednesday morning.

Deceased had been in ill health for several years, and had been in this city for a few weeks, leaving here last Friday for Roanoke, saying he wanted to be with his mother who is in her 98th year. At his death he was about 58 years of age.

EXAMINATION OF ACCUSED LAWYER IS POSTPONED

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Examination of Burton Gibson the New York lawyer on a charge of murdering his fiancée, Mrs. Rosa Menshik Szabo, in Greenwood Lake July 16, was postponed today until September 24 on application of the district attorney.

Double Hoodoo at Work Today Friday, 13th

Trouble stalks abroad today, seeking whom it may destroy. The biscuits were burnt at breakfast and the Algerian hit you for $2 more for school books and you ran plump into your wife's father as you were coming out of the drink-shop after your morning's morning. You had to wait ten minutes for a street car and the conductor gave you a slick nickel in change. To make it short, things were in a full-of-hix generally. Why? Because the double hoodoo is working today and it's got the Indian sign on you. Today is Friday, which everybody knows is unlucky and it's also the thirteenth, which is worse and more of it. So that Old Man Trouble knew what he was doing when he started out to rip things up the back this morning.

Every once in a while and sometimes oftener, the 13th of the month falls on Friday and the double hoodoo is apt to get your goat if you don't watch out. We have Friday pretty often—an average of one every week. There is hardly a month passes without a 13th, sooner or later. It is only when the two come in a bunch that there is apt to be trouble.

But there doesn't seem to be any awful hoodoo overhanging Wichita Falls just at present. Plans for another five story building have been announced; about half a million dollars is being expended; the biggest cotton crop ever is being gathered as fast as the farmers can get pickers; and it sprinkled last night.

The man who wears extravagant styles today, displays either a disregard of prevailing fashions or a lack of taste and good judgment in selection.

And no man of character cares to be misjudged.

Kuppenheimer Clothes have an impressive individuality, without sacrifice of dignity.

They are such clothes as you'll see at the clubs and on the boulevards of metropolitan cities.

Come and see them now.

Marry Only Those Physically and Mentally Fit

By the Right Rev. CHARLES D. WILLIAMS, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Eastern Michigan

I AM sure most clergymen must plead guilty, as I personally must, to having joined together in holy matrimony persons about whose fitness for marriage we were not sufficiently assured.

Thoughtless boys and girls and unfit men and women ENTER UNADVISEDLY AND LIGHTLY INTO THIS HOLIEST OF RELATIONS and make ill considered and impossible marriages that can end in only one place, the divorce court, as soon as certain tendencies that would have been more or less apparent to a careful observer at the start have had time to develop.

I EARNESTLY COUNSEL THE CLERGY NEVER TO PERFORM THE MARRIAGE CEREMONY UNLESS THE PARTIES OR THE WITNESSES ARE KNOWN TO THEM OR THEY ARE ASSURED OF THE PHYSICAL AND MENTAL FITNESS OF THE PARTIES.

NEW YORKER GAVE LIFE FOR HIS CREDITORS

Committed Suicide so that $100,000 Life Insurance Would Be Available for Creditors

New York, Sept. 13.—Nathan Giff, a manufacturer of boys' clothing and treasurer of two silk manufacturing concerns, who committed suicide at his downtown office Monday, took poison because he saw that failure of the two companies was a matter of hours and he believed his $100,000 life insurance might be enough to satisfy the bills. That is the statement made by his lawyer in a declaration to the creditors. Petitions in bankruptcy were filed yesterday against both companies.

Mr. Giff's own business had been good, but his lawyer said he had guaranteed three-quarters of the debts of the two concerns of which he was treasurer and that this used up much capital required in his own business. In the bankruptcy petition it is said that the insurance will just settle with the creditors of both concerns in full.

Killed With Acid By Jilted Girl

Screams coming from a park in Brooklyn late last night attracted a crowd to a secluded bench, where a man with his hands pressed to his eyes moaned that a woman had thrown acid into his face. The police arrested a girl who gave her name as Esther Kaplan, and led her to the park bench, but the man's eyes were so badly burned he could not see her. Soon he became unconscious and died before an ambulance arrived. The girl said she knew the man as Samuel Kaplan and that he had taken all her money under faithless promises of marriage. She said he was one of a group of swindlers wanted in Chicago. Although she insisted that he had taken the acid himself, after trying to force her to drink it, she was locked up on a homicide charge.

Pasteur Treatment to Cure Fright

Surgeons of the city hospital today gave to Assunta Gazia, 16 years old, the first inoculation of a Pasteur treatment intended to cure a disease purely mental—hydrophobia, the fear of hydrophobia. The young woman, except for nervous shock, is in perfect health, yet her conviction that she is suffering as the result of a bite by a mad dog is so strong her physicians have found it necessary to give her the full Pasteur treatment to convince her she will recover. If she were not treated exactly as a person actually afflicted with hydrophobia would be treated it is believed she would die from fright.

Prison Reform in the Philippines

ESCALADA STREET, MANILA

IF YOU go sight-seeing in Manila the guides do not fail to show you the Carcel de Bilbilid. They do so with a great deal of pride. Once Bilbilid, within almost a stone's throw of your hotel, was the most hated place to existence to the natives; now it holds no more terrors than the best of prisons in the states. Bilbilid, in fact, has been transformed from a house of torture to a model and sanitary prison wherein the convicts are not only kept in good physical condition, but are required to labor at occupations which, in their later life, often prove profitable.

Why the original constructors of Bilbilid designed it on lines which suggested the most sanitary conditions and yet turned it into the filthiest of institutions is a circumstance which made the United States authorities ponder. In the midst of the old city, lying within a circle more than a mile in circumference, nineteen long low buildings converge in an open space surrounding a large circular building and from what is said to be the largest prison in the world. There is plenty of air space between the buildings. Besides the 19 prison quarters which radiate outward from the circular guardhouse in the center there are five other buildings, composing the administration offices, the commissary and quartermaster's storehouses, and the ice and electric plants, all within the great circular area.

Topping in height each of these buildings there are guard towers from which can be poured any number of steel death-dealing missiles within the great inclosure and for a great radius without. There is one large tower in the center above the main guardhouse, a score or more surround the inclosure at equal intervals, and there is not a nook or corner in Bilbilid which does not come under the eye of the watchful sentinels.

The long, low buildings of Bilbilid comprise the prisoners' quarters. Since the American occupation of the islands, the great prison has been divided in two parts by a great stone wall. One-half is set apart for the American military and civilian prisoners, the remainder for the native Filipino and the Spanish, Chinese, Japanese and other prisoners of different nationalities. The great prison has heretofore been given two names; the former the Presidio de Manila, the latter the Carcel de Bilbilid. The whole prison is under military command, but the native section is directly supervised by native officials.

Clean and Ventilated. Since October, 1898, when the American officials took charge of the prison, Bilbilid has undergone a most beneficial transformation. Those quarters known as the dormitories are not the congested cells of the old Spanish regime, but have been cleaned and ventilated until there is now a free circulation of air in each. Looking from one end of these buildings to the other you can see long rows of cots behind sections barred off with thick bamboo rods, and neatness and order prevail throughout. Twelve wide windows line each side of each building, and in the roofs of each there has been built a continuous line of suction ventilators.

The workshops, kitchens, lavatories and hospitals have been likewise improved, each being equipped with the most modern sanitary appliances. Bilbilid, therefore, instead of being called the "House of Torture," as named under the old Spanish rule, is being looked upon with a sort of pride by the native Filipino as one of the model institutions of its kind in the world.

Its reconstruction has, in fact, educated the Filipinos to a considerable degree, because while the discipline of the American officials is strict, the method of treating and caring for the prisoners within its confines has done more to demonstrate that the American people are a humane race than all other means.

Bilbilid has a daily routine much like other prisons. The prisoners are roused in the morning by the call of the bugle at 5:45. Breakfast follows a certain amount of exercise, and after that the prisoners go to the workshops until the noon hour. Then comes a light lunch, a siesta for an hour, more work until 6:30 p. m., then dinner, and they are locked up for the night.

Twice a week the inmates are compelled to bathe, and twice a week they are given clean clothes, not always secured by many of them while on the outside.

There are four classes of rations issued to the prisoners, depending on their nationality. The Americans receive the ration of the regular army, which costs about 25 cents; the Europeans receive food at the rate of about 14 cents, and the Filipino eats to the amount of 8 cents.

Death Rate Low. The employment of the prisoners consists of laundering, manufacturing bamboo furniture, weaving baskets, curtaining, screens and hammocks, making rope, engraving on wood, horn, shell and silver, making fancy and useful articles from horn and shell, and also carpenters, wood turners, blacksmiths, stone masons, bricklayers and tailors, and occasionally an artist or two is found among the number and given a canvas.

The articles thus manufactured are placed on sale, and from the revenue thus derived the prison often accumulates a surplus for the year. The average amount of receipts from this means is about $12,000 a year.

One of the greatest testimonials to the conduct of Bilbilid is the low death rate since the beginning of the American administration. Under the Spanish rule it sometimes reached as high as one in five, while under the American direction it has never gone above one in sixty.

Bilbilid has seen many exciting days, and under the Spanish rule, has had its walls so crammed at times that it seemed as if no more could be forced in. Yet they were, its capacity was originally designed to accommodate 2,000, but the records of its days when revolutions existed against the Spanish government show that as many as 2,600 prisoners were confined there at one time.

The prison was, in fact, designed for this purpose more than a hundred years ago, and political prisoners have outnumbered the criminals each year since, according to the captured records of the prison. When Gen. F. A. Hughes took charge of the prison for the United States government in October, 1898, he found over 2,000 prisoners confined there against whom no formal charges had been recorded.

"A great many of them," he said, "were heavily ironed—most cruelly ironed. For instance, there would be a man chained to the wall of a stone cell in which there was no light except through two loop holes high up and about two inches wide and a foot long. We also found some with bars of iron about three feet long to which were attached round iron hoops that were fastened around their ankles, and they had to carry these bars every step they made. The men around their ankles were torn altogether to the bone in many cases."

In his report of that inspection General Hughes also said that two hours after the prison had been turned over to the American authorities the iron which had been knocked off the prisoners were piled up, and the resulting accumulation measured more than a cord and a half in size.

PRICES FARM PRODUCTS SHOW SMALL DECLINE

BIBLE IS GERMAN KAISER'S GUIDE

Paris, Sept. 12.—At the recent maneuvers of the Swiss army the German Emperor emphasized his desire to maintain peace. He told President Forer that he acquired much of his inspiration from the Bible.

"I don't care much for priests and clergymen," the emperor said, "they dilute the gospel with too much of their own dogma. I hold to the Bible which I constantly read and reread. In it one finds solution of every difficult of every problem, even of a political description."

Rene Pinaux, the military expert of the Temps, who was in close contact with the emperor as summing up his satisfaction with the work of the troops in a conversation with President Forer in the words:

"Your army saves me six corps." It is known that the emperor's main object in attending the maneuvers was to convince himself of the ability of the Swiss army to make the neutrality of the country respected in case of war and his remark is interpreted to mean that by the Swiss army forming a screen to prevent the French from invading Germany through Switzerland the Germans could release six army corps in South Germany for service in Alsace-Lorraine or along the Belgian frontier.

QUANAHTES WILL COLLECT ANTE-DILUVIAN RELICS

An Archeological society was formed in Quannah last week, with H. B. Warde president and Harry Koch secretary. The society realizing the value of historical relics and being aware that this practically virgin region is one of the oldest in the world, containing many remains of prehistoric animals, will make fossils as possible. A room has been rented, where interesting objects will be collected and mounted, and those of our citizens that kind are requested to communicate with the secretary. It is hoped that by next fall the collection will have sufficiently grown to make it one of the features of the Hardeman County Fair. Among the members of this new society are enrolled prominent men of national reputation like President Lazarus of the Q. A. & P. and T. B. Ballio, ex-president of the National Editorial Association and historian for the Texas Press Association.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

The Times notes that the Henrietta Review is publishing a list of the Democratic nominees, omits the name of the nominee for the legislature. Is this merely a typographical error, or does it mean that Col. Bill is going to bolt the ticket?

If Democrats will refresh their memories they can recall several political victories that have been won in September only to be lost in November. Therefore let us not get too optimistic. All reports so far are favorable, but it takes money to make this fight, and the only way the Democrats have of raising the money is by appealing directly to the people. Have you made your contribution to the campaign fund? If not do so as soon as possible.

The Hillsboro cotton mill, we are told, is running from four to six months behind on orders. The mill manufacturers duck and nearly all its output is sold in Texas. There is not a better location in Texas or the South for cotton mills than Wichita Falls. As this paper understands the proposition, the matter of fuel cuts quite a figure in the successful operation of a cotton mill, and there is nothing cheaper for fuel than natural gas. Wichita Falls is within 16 miles of the largest gas field in the United States.

The best way to induce more farmers to settle in this county is to assist in every way possible those who are already here to get the best price possible for their products. So long as the middle man reaps all the profits from products of the farm, the country cannot prosper. Those who want to make this a more prosperous country for the farmer and also for themselves, should not fail to go to the court house tomorrow afternoon and hear what Peter Radford, president of the Farmers' Union, has to say on that subject.

There will be an effort made to repeal the law compelling all voters not exempted by the present law to take out poll tax receipts before they can vote at any election, and the effort may succeed. But it will be a mistake. The poll-tax law is a good one, even if it does cut down the voting population of the State a few thousand votes. The fellow who is not willing to assist in sustaining the government in a financial way is not entitled to nor should he have any voice what ever in the making of our laws. At least that is the way this paper views the matter and it trusts that the law will not be repealed. It might be amended, however, and made stronger than now.

TRIBUTE TO JUDGE TERRELL

The Denison Daily Herald pays this most eloquent tribute to the late Judge A. W. Terrell, one of the brainiest, and most courageous public men that ever held public office.

"In the death of Judge A. W. Terrell of Austin, one of the most conspicuous figures in the history of Texas as it is removed from the walks of men. Endowed with an intellect far above the average of his fellow citizens, Judge Terrell has always been a leader of men and his opinions on subjects of public import widely sought. Being a man of pronounced convictions and of courageous temperament, naturally he made enemies, but while they differed with him upon political issues, they never questioned his ability nor his unselfish devotion to his State and Government. He has filled positions of honor with credit to himself and the government of which he was the chosen representative. Now that life's fitful fever is over with him, friend and foe will clasp hands over his grave in recognition of his worth as a citizen and as a tribute to his statesmanship."

ENTERPRISE, BUT NOT BUSINESS

"We have decided that a town of fifteen thousand population cannot support a great metropolitan newspaper, such as our plans and specifications call for. We hold fifty thousand dollars worth of news service franchises here and have $35,000 invested in a plant. We can't afford to move this plant and forfeit these franchises. Our Mr. Way says: 'Why, that's dead easy; build a city here great enough to support the Telegram.'"

The above is from the Temple Telegram, a paper that is in nearly every respect equal to any paper published in any town or city of 50,000 population in the United States. Just how it manages to do so and meet its financial obligations is a mystery to this paper. There must be an "angel" around somewhere. The Times will make the prediction, however, that the Telegram will find lots of people in its own town who will content themselves in standing by and do nothing toward the up-building of the city while it is doing its utmost to build the city up to the size that will sustain as good a paper it is. Other newspapers have had some experience along that line to their sorrow, but here's hoping the Telegram's purse is long and fat enough to stand the strain of the task which it seemingly has undertaken. It takes money and lots of it to publish a good newspaper, but it is only in rare instances that a newspaper will undertake the stupendous task of issuing daily a paper that will do full justice to a town or city of three or four times its population. That's what we call enterprise, but it's not business.

PLANS DEFERRED UNTIL AFTER THE ELECTION

Currency Commission of Bankers Association Will Take up Currency Reform with Victors

By Associated Press. Detroit, Mich., Sept. 13.—The Currency Commission of the American Bankers Association presented to the convention of that body today a brief report in which it declared that it could proceed more intelligently after election when it knew what party and what individuals would hold power in the new Congress. The report says, in part:

"It has seemed wise to the Currency Commission of the American Bankers Association to follow in its activities the lead of the Congressional Currency Commission. This Congressional Commission has also formulated a general scheme of financial reform embodied in proposed legislation now pending before Congress.

"We had confidently hoped that some tangible results might be obtained from the session of Congress recently closed; in this, however, we were disappointed. It has seemed to us wiser to work for the desired change in our laws through the various local commercial and civic bodies with which we are connected—the National Citizens' League, chambers of commerce, etc.—believing that we were more likely to obtain results by supplementing the efforts being made by Congress itself, rather than undertake separate or independent work.

"It is idle to hope for general legislation of such an important character in a short session of Congress. We may, therefore, fairly conclude that there is no hope for the accomplishment of results except at the hands of the Congress and the administration to be elected this fall. We can proceed more intelligently, and efficiently after the result of the election is known and we have an opportunity to confer with and become acquainted with the resulting powers that be and learn their purpose and intention."

Sketches of Katy Engineers.

Frank D. James, a well known passenger engineer on the M. K. & T. is preparing a biographical history of all the engineers on the M. K. & T. Railway, which, according to present plans, will be ready for publication in a few months, and which will probably be completed by January 1, 1913.

Mr. James has been very busy for weeks securing the necessary data, and the book will no doubt be greatly appreciated by railroaders.

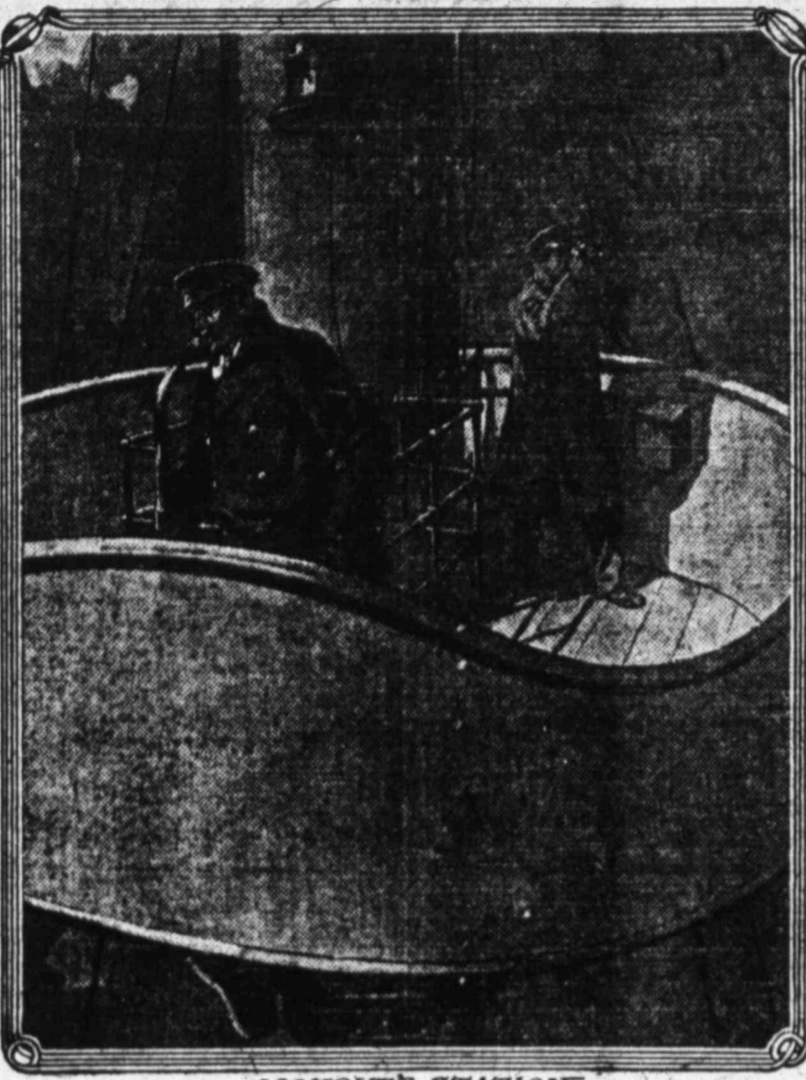

It will contain brief sketches of the engineers on the various divisions, together with the number of years they have been in the service and much other information as may be of interest.

Mr. James has been in active service on the Katy for thirty-one years, and is among the top-notchers in the seniority list. Billy Willis, an engineer running between New Franklin and St. Louis, is the oldest engineer while Engineer Alonzo Snow of Sedalia is the second oldest.—Sedalia (Mo.) Democrat.

Unwritten Law His Defense

By Associated Press. Paris, Texas, Sept. 13.—Unwritten law is the defense of Dr. R. G. Lane, charged with the murder of L. C. Rucker at Hugo, Oklahoma, last winter. The trial was called at Antlers, Oklahoma, today.

THE MAN IN THE CROW'S NEST

LOOKOUT'S STATION

THE Titanic disaster has brought the man in the "crow's nest" into the limelight, and given the public a new idea of the responsibility of those who keep watch at sea for any obstacles in the path of the ship or for passing vessels.

"All's well!" is a familiar cry to all who have crossed the ocean. The cry is heard with every sound of the ship's bell—that is, every half hour. The bell is rung by a quartermaster on the bridge and then, first from the crow's nest is heard "All's well," and the cry is repeated from the forecastle forward and repeated again and again from those on watch in all parts of the vessel, until the echoes die away aft. It sounds above the vibrations and pulsation of the engines, above the breaking of the seas or the roar of the wind. It quiets momentarily the sound of mirth from the saloon and it assures all on board that men are watching and peering into the darkness to avoid disaster.

The crow's nest is a station high up on the foremast on most vessels. It is a small inclosed platform built to support one or two men and sometimes looks like a barrel attached to the mast, and the men stand inside this barrel-like contrivance. It is constructed so that the lookouts may be protected from the cold and storm. Often with the thermometer below zero these lookouts have to stand watch in the crow's nest with their heads and shoulders exposed to the weather.

Different Systems. Not all companies have the same system, but in general detail they all work the same way. On some lines there are two men in the crow's nest and in others only one. Nautical men are divided as to which is the better system. The German lines have but one man, because it is possible that two men might talk or become interested in other affairs and so neglect their proper work. The British lines usually have two men on the lookout, on the ground that two are better than one, and these two men divide their sphere of work, one taking from dead ahead around the port side and the other on the starboard side.

One of the best known of the British lines places two men in the crow's nest. It also has a man on the forecastle head and others stationed at regular intervals on the different decks, who patrol and watch seaward. There are also the officers on the bridge, watching out to sea, and there is an extra quartermaster in addition to those at the wheel. There are two and in the largest vessels three officers also on watch. The orders issued to captains of vessels tell explicitly, just what the watch is to be and it varies according to the size of the vessel. The men in the crow's nest and stationed about the vessel are selected carefully. They must be able-bodied seamen, well trained and well able to distinguish objects in the night. They use glasses in the crow's nest and on the bridge. In severe weather these watches are changed very often, and in very severe weather these changes are made every half hour.

Every object sighted from the crow's nest must be reported at once to the bridge, no matter what it is or how far away. The senior officer on the bridge is the man to determine the future course of the vessel after the report has been made. The reporting from the crow's nest is made through a telephone fixed in the nest and leading directly to the chart room and to the bridge. Should this get out of order there is a speaking tube and a megaphone. There is also a gond on the more modern vessels and each rig of this sort means a different signal. Three rings gives warning of something dead ahead.

The crow's nest is much higher than the bridge and often in foggy weather an officer will mount to the nest, because sometimes the fog is low lying and those in the nest can see over the fog and so distinguish other vessels.

Report by Telephone. On the German lines one man is used in the crow's nest and men are stationed on the forecastle head and others on the wings of the bridge. The reports are made from the crow's nest by telephone or gong. These men are on duty for two hours in fair weather and have four hours off, but in severe weather the changes are made more frequently. They give the usual cry each half hour as the bell sounds, calling out "All's well!" and other men echo it from stem to stern of the vessel.

Each line has its own night signal. It is a coast signal which throws different colored balls or stars when burning. These signals are used to signal an approaching vessel, the name of the line to which the vessel signaling belongs, and after the interchange of signals the officers make an entry in the log, telling the hour and place of meeting. In case of distress or in an accident when help is wanted, the night signals are the firing of guns at regular intervals and three rockets which explode in the air, sending out a shower of sparks and balls of colored fire. These are ordinary rockets, but of higher power, and attract attention at a considerable distance. A captain on seeing these rockets knows at once that some vessel is in distress and needs assistance and acts accordingly.

In the modern vessels improvements have been made in instruments used for safety. The submarine telephone is a modern invention and is carried and used on every passenger ocean steamer. The telephone has grown in its uses at sea, and telephones lead from the bridge to all parts of the vessel. Before the telephone was perfected speaking tubes were used, and often messengers ran from the bridge to the engine room or to some other part of the ship.

The man in the crow's nest used to call the attention of those on the bridge by blowing a horn and then pointing toward a sail, smoke, wreck, or ice that he might have seen, after which those on the bridge would have to search to find what the lookout had seen. Things are simpler now and much time is saved when a vessel is in a really dangerous position.

Very Cautious. Little Ethel had been very naughty. It was certainly wrong of her to tie the cat's tail to the chair leg and pour ink into her father's slipper. She deserved to be punished. So her mother sent her from the room without any dinner, but when the pudding came on the scene her consciousness smote her, and she determined to give Ethel another chance.

"Tell Ethel if she will be very, very good for the rest of the afternoon she may have some pudding," she said to the servant.

The servant delivered the message, and returned in a few minutes with the reply: "Please, mum, Miss Ethel wants to know what kind of pudding it is before she makes any promise."

The Final Audience. "Why," exclaimed Mr. Growcher, "are some women such industrious gossipers?" "I don't know," replied Miss Cayenne; "but I have sometimes suspected the poor things were trying to get together enough news to make home entertaining for their husbands."

banks is chiefly personal rather than by way of mortgage security, the united guarantee of the members of a society being adequate protection to the lender for the repayment of the money borrowed. The working capital is derived from the shares which are paid up by the members, the reserve fund, savings deposits and deposits on current account, and finally the sums which the bank procures by means of loans from central co-operative banks, other types of banks, or private individuals. The business of the rural bank consists for the most part in making advances to the members. Surplus cash on hand is deposited with the central banks or invested in banking operations with third parties.

Summing up the relations between the proposed plan of the Monetary Commission for bank note reform and land-mortgage banks, Mr. Conant declared that the farmer has the right to demand the same facilities and opportunities for obtaining credit as the manufacturer and merchant, with the limitation that the facilities afforded him must be based upon sound banking principles.

"A central organization for the issue of mortgage bonds, recognized by the Federal Government, like the Credit Foncier, would probably be required in order to give the bonds a sufficient guarantee and a wide market," he said. "Organizations under state law, especially if they lacked the guarantee of the state government, would defeat the principle of a broad reform in mortgage banking, because the bonds issued in the poorer states could not be sold at home or abroad at the same rate as those issued in the richer states, where there was less need for such institutions.

"Without committing myself at this time to a definite plan, it is prob-

I take pleasure in announcing to my former friends and patrons that my office is now open on 2nd floor Kemp and Kell building. My new office is equipped with all the latest sanitary dental appliances known to modern dentistry, including two full sets of instruments and an electric sterilizer. This enables me to use sterilized instruments on each patient. It is a well known fact that many contagious diseases, such as tuberculosis, diphtheria, pyorrhea, (that deared disease which causes the teeth to become loose and fall out commonly known as scurvy) and many blood diseases can be transmitted from the mouth of one patient to that of another by the dentist.

It affords me great satisfaction to serve my patients this safeguard. Soliciting a renewal of your liberal patronage of past years, I beg to remain,

The Raw Recruit. F. M. King enlisted in the Spanish-American war and was sent to Jefferson barracks. He was strolling through the company streets smoking a cigar when an officer approached. King saluted. "Look here," said the officer, "don't you know better than to salute an officer when you have a cigar in your mouth? How long have you been here?" "Three days," replied King. "You are excused this time," said the officer, "but don't let me catch you doing that again."

In a short time King met the same officer and walked by without saluting. "Why didn't you salute?" demanded the officer, stopping him. "Well, you just told me not to salute when I had a cigar in my mouth," replied the raw recruit.

But he spent three days in the kitchen peeling potatoes for this offense.—Atchison Champion.

AMONG THE MOSLEMS IN TLEMCEN

PLACE DU GOUVERNEMENT, ALGIERS

The wind blew a cold gale, raising a dust that had not been molested in four months. There were few loafers in the streets as I stepped into the principal boulevard of Tlemcen on the Moroccan border, chief of the Arab cities of Algeria.

It was the first day of Sefer. I had considered it the 21st of January, 1912, but my companion, as we staggered into the wind with our eyes shut, explained that we were in the year of the Hegira 1330. The reason for such a discrepancy in our views was that he, as a good Mohammedan, dated everything from the flight of the prophet from Mecca; I did not, writes Paul B. Popeone in the Los Angeles Times.

"You must know," he continued, "that during this month 380,000 different evils descended from Heaven to harass the earth. Pestilence, sudden death, wounds, accidents, earthquakes and storm—all are to be expected."

"Rather a heavy load for the human race to bear at one time. But you don't seem worried."

"Who can change what is written?" he responded, scrutinizing my face. I repressed all signs of levity and he continued seriously:

"But the Rout bears three-quarters of them."

"The Rout. Each year some man is chosen by God to bear this burden; in our language he is called the Rout. He has but forty-days to live after that, and these he passes in suffering that no human mind can conceive."

Very likely, with 265,000 maladies, I thought.

"Half of what remains is distributed among twenty saints whom we call Aktab. Thus only one-eighth of the total evils is disseminated among the people."

I breathed easier as I figured my chances out of 47,500, and replied: "The Rout is undoubtedly a man of exemplary piety."

"Even so, Sidi Abd-el-Kadr el-Jilani was a Rout."

"Mosques Are Old."

He said no more—the secret religious brotherhoods of the Moslem world are not discussed with "Romies," as the Algerians designate all the despised Christians. But I had heard that the Sidi, a native of Baghdad, was founder of the oldest of these existing in Algeria, and was held in great veneration by the faithful. His earthly body even now reposes in a particularly brilliant sphere between the third and fourth heavens, to which point it was carried by angels. Since then he has shown a most unusual tolerance, never failing to succor all who invoke him sincerely, whether Christian, Jew or Moslem. So I have been told.

Tlemcen is better fitted than any other city in Algeria to evoke contemplations on the Koran and its adherents. Its mosques, some of them coeval with the Alhambra, in a similar and scarcely inferior style of architecture, are in daily use and perfect preservation. The inhabitants still retain an amount of piety not seen in most of the Frenchified cities of North Africa.

stronger in Tlemcen? I asked, continuing his line of thought.

"Yes," he answered shortly. It was evident that he was a partisan of Abd-el-Kadr.

These religious secret societies are spread over the whole Moslem world; that of Mulai Taib originated in Morocco, which explains its predominance in Tlemcen, on the border of Morocco. His adherents are bound to repeat 200 times a day the formula: "O God, prayer and peace upon our lord Mohammed and his companions."

But I cannot write a history of these Mohammedan fraternities, for Abderrahman and I have already reached the ruins of Mansoura, one of the sights of Tlemcen, in our walk. They now consist of a ruined old mosque, the minaret of which, still standing, shows it to have been a wonder of architecture.

Built by infidel. Every tourist is told the story of its origin, how Abou Jacob constructed it in 1303, A. D., during his eight-year siege of Tlemcen, then one of the most important cities of Africa. The wall incloses 240 acres of ground; the minaret of the mosque is forty feet high.

Abderrahman recalled these details to me and then proceeded to supply the imaginative element which every recital of a Mohammedan demands.

"When the sultan had decided to build this mosque," he explained, "he called for the most distinguished architects known, and two were presented to him, a Jew and a Moslem."

I should explain that, although the Jew is despised by the Mohammedan almost as much as the Christian is, yet the former has always been allowed to live in Mohammedan communities, whereas Christians have not been tolerated in places where piety reigned. Every good Mohammedan hates them alike.

"Examination of the plans of these architects showed the two masters to be absolutely equal. Unable to decide between them, the king finally conceived the happy plan of dividing the work."

"You shall design the outer half of the minaret," he said to the Arab, "and you, Jew, shall design the part that faces the interior."

"The competition produced a marvel of beauty such as Algeria has never seen. When it was finished, the sultan dedicated it with pomp never equaled. Then he called for the architects."

"Your work is so beautiful that I know not how to reward you," he said. "But for the Moslem, here is a bag of gold."

"As for you, dog of an infidel, I should take your life for having dared pollute, by your presence, our place of prayer. Nevertheless, as I am pleased by your skill, I have decided to extend mercy to you, and I shall content myself with imprisoning you in the top story of the minaret."

"But take care that you are not found there after the setting of the sun, tonight, or, by my father's beard, your life shall pay the forfeit."

"The Jew, from his elevated prison, surveyed the situation coolly. He was a man of energy, and it never occurred to him to resign himself to the fate which the treacherous sultan had designed for him.

"Soon he gathered up material which the woodworkers had left, found a chest of tools, and feverishly began to manufacture a pair of wooden wings. It was slow work, and he finished just as the sun was sinking to rest.

"Remembering the words of the sultan, he did not stop to inspect and test his handiwork, but rushed to the balcony facing on the inner court, for he had seen a squad of soldiers in front of the portal. He fitted his arms to the straps and jumped over, just as the executioner opened the door.

"But in his haste, he had overlooked some details. The wings flapped uselessly and he crashed to the ground, dying before he had time to utter anything except a curse against Mohammed."

"Yet this was enough. As the words left his lips the earth trembled, thunder boomed deafeningly, and a bolt of lightning struck the tower. The beautiful structure was cleft in two from top to bottom. The outer half stood intact, but the inner portion toppled to the ground, burying in its ruins the infidel who had builded it."

American Slang as Slung

Americans have relegated the old English language into the background, buried it and substituted a language of their own. They are the authors of a new tongue which will take the place of Britain's English.

The so-called slang of the present American tongue is far more positive, picturesque and serviceable than the English of Shakespeare's time. Like the new American music—ragtime—it has the classics beaten to a finish and down and out. Your authors of today will give Shakespeare and his fellows the count tomorrow. A few hundred years from now they will be speaking American over in England instead of English.

This has spoken Dr. G. Hanorf, professor of languages at the University of Copenhagen. Dr. Hanorf is at present touring the United States in order to absorb our slang and translate it into the Danish tongue. Possibly Dr. Cooke's next lecture in that country will be delivered in slang—who knows?

When the substance of Dr. Hanorf's viewpoints drifts in upon the English purists such a storm of protest probably will arise that the very universities will be rocked to their foundations. Yankee slang invaded the sacred portals of Oxford and Cambridge? Never! Put old Bill Shakespeare down for the count—er, pawdow, he, render sacred Shakespeare obsolete and out of date? Never! Thrice evah! Sooner these collegiate walls crumble and fall! Sooner our sacred traditions be shattered and lost! Sooner our cherished accent perish for lack of British tongues than that such heresy should prevail and the despised American slang invade the debased portals! Errum-tum-tum, errum-tum-tum Britons nevah, nevah shall be slaves even to a Yankee colloquialism!

Back and forth across the turmoil waters of the broad Atlantic may be tossed the gauntlet of a great linguistic war. Nor will slang lack for doughy champions, who, like George Ade, recognize its potency and charm. Of course, England has no slangers. That is, what American listeners of the talk of English Johnnie dope out to be British slang is of course "none whatever."

An English university man can be "completely bowled over" or a yarn can be "a bit thick," or he can face a "jolly bad look-out," or he can characterize things as being "rippin'," simply "lippin' bah love," or "bally rot" and rather lose linguistic caste nor be guilty of slang. That makes it hard for him to understand our colloquialisms, of course, which to him are "rotten bad form, y'know—rotten bad form."

With that tremendous handicap English purists on both sides of the pond are difficult in recognizing the value of slang's short cuts. Slang's champions doubtless will point out wherein one word, or maybe two words, newly coined will sum up, dispense of, and tersely, pointedly and aptly express a situation to do justice to which otherwise would require a paragraph full of complicated sentences.

Called from a tremendous and growing vocabulary of slang expressions, here are a few of the choicest, nearly all of which are daily acquaintances to the American public.

To illustrate how these slang expressions represent the "shortest distance between two points" in the new "straight line" American conversation the slang expression is given first then followed by its equivalent in prosaic English.

"You're on. (I accept your proposition.)"

"Nothing doing. (I refuse to enter into your proposition.)"

"I get you. (I understand what you mean.)"

"Wise up, get hep. (Become fully informed.)"

"Quit kidding. (Refrain from flippancy, misinforming.)"

"What's up? (What is going on?)"

"What's the dope? (What general or specific information can be secured concerning this matter?)"

"It gets my goat. (It so agitates me that I can not retain my customary mental poise.)"

Bum steer. (False or incorrect directions.)

The foregoing samples of American slang constitute only a very limited section of the long list which to compile in its completeness would require a like sized book. The underworld speaks a jargon largely made up of slang phrases not all innocent in their implication or application. The nicer American slang—the innocent harmless but extremely pat bits of perverted English—is met even in society. Some phrases now almost turned to adjectives on occasion in the college class room, the pulpit, and other places where the phrase that clinch a point most aptly makes the greatest and most lasting impression.

To illustrate the "short line" method of slang, the following story of "Bill" is told. Purists may consult the foregoing table for partial interpretation. They will have to guess at the rest. The story of "Bill" could be told in pure English only by employing six times the space required to relate it in slang.

Poor Bill is down and out. He got his by hitting the booze. He wouldn't wise up to his one best bet but put the jody on himself for keeps. Now he's in wrong everywhere. He queer-ed his job and got the boss's goat by howling up soused every day. The boss had to can him. After that he hit the boggan for fair. Instead of wisin' up and cutting out the jody water he hit it up al the worse. His friends tried to put him next, but there was nothing doing. They had the right dope, but he couldn't see it. They told him just where he was getting off, but he only said: "Beat it, tell it to Sweeney; there's nothin' doin' with your hot air. Hire a hall and turn on the gas works. If I croak I'll croak happy. Do you get me? So butt out kiddo, and save it up for yourself."

RACING A FEATURE.

Greatest Horses in America at State Fair This Fall.

RICH PURSES AND STAKES

Offerings For Trotters, Pacers and Runners This Year Aggregate $38,000—Remarkable Performances Assured in Each Event.

Racing of course will be one of the main entertainment features of the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the State Fair at Dallas, October 13 to October 27. In running, trotting and pacing events this fall the management will distribute $38,000. There are six big harness events—four for $2500 each and two for $5000 each. These are the richest offerings in the history of the Fair Association and will result in a racing program that will be brilliant in every respect. The harness stakes events are: 2:14 trot, "Chamber of Commerce" purse, $5000; 2:24 trot, Armstrong Packing Company's "Plover" Trot," $2500; 2:39 trot, "Captain Sydney Smith" purse, $2500; 2:11 pace, Oriental & Adolphus Hotels' purse, $5000; 2:20 pace, Dallas Implement, Vehicle and Machinery, $2500; 2:07 1/2 pace, The Dallas Brewery's "White Rose" purse, $2500. Each of these filled with a larger number of entries than the events of any other association in America this year. Out of ten horses that have made marks of less than 2:09 this year, six are entered for the State Fair races. This is considered a remarkable showing and but illustrates the fact that big stakes bring the best horses. The six mentioned are Henry H., 2:07 1/2; Jessie Ditch, 2:07 1/2; George W. Newton, 2:08 1/2; Pearl Patch, 2:06 1/2; The Midget, 2:08; and Warner Hall, 2:07 1/2. Henry H. is one of the wonders of the American turf. He is double gaited and holds a trotting record of 2:07 1/2 and a pacing mark of 2:07 1/2. He belongs to Clarley Dear and at Lamson, recently won the first heat of the 2:14 pace in a contest with the great Pearl Patch.

The State Fair futurity events for pacers and trotters are attracting a great deal of attention this year. Only Texas bred and owned colts are entitled for entry in these events, and for the two events it is declared that nearly two hundred colts are in training. The Fair Association adds $25 to each race for the purpose of encouraging the breeding of fine horse events as a result it is declared that events add from $150,000 to $200,000 to the value of the horse industry each year.

It is expected by the management that at least one thousand race horses will be stable on the grounds during the fair. Every barn in the racing division has been given a thorough overhauling and the running and harness tracks have been worked daily. Horsemen declare the two tracks are the finest in the South. The price of admission to the grandstand has been reduced to 25c.

Running races are always popular with State Fair visitors. Texas leads the United States in thoroughbred horses as evidenced by the winners of the northern and eastern circuits this year. Prominent breeders such as Henry T. Batcher, D. W. Kelly, Wade McLeMure and J. W. Fuller, now racing in the north, have notified the management to reserve stables for their horses. Batcher's long distance horse Wolferton, is one of the stars of the present season having won practically every race in which he was started this year. Meadow, considered the best mare on the western turf today and owned by Wade McLeMure, is one of the stars entered in the State Fair events. Other great horses that will be here are Engraver, Injury, The Fad, Dolmak and John Hurie. Any one of these would feature any meeting. Races will be held at the fair every week day from October 12 to October 23, inclusive.

MAMMOTH LIVESTOCK SHOW.

Livestock shows will be a dominating feature of the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 12 to 27. Prizes in this department aggregate $20,000, and are classified as to take in every class of livestock raised in Texas. Since the beginning of the year the livestock department has been overhauled throughout, new stalls and pens have been added and many improvements made at the suggestion of the various breeders of the state.

Last year was a record-breaker in the exhibition of livestock. More than twenty-five hundred head of cattle, horses, sheep, jacks, jennets, mules and swine, were on display. In quality it was pronounced one of the best ever assembled in the United States. This year every indication is that this record will be broken. Secretary Stratton of the Fair Association declares that never before in history have the demands been so numerous for pens in the swine division. Hogs of every variety will be shown in great numbers, including Hampshire, Essex, Tamworths, Dorset Jerseys and Poland-Chinas. The prizes in the swine department aggregate $1000. In addition to special prizes offered by the various swine breeders' associations.

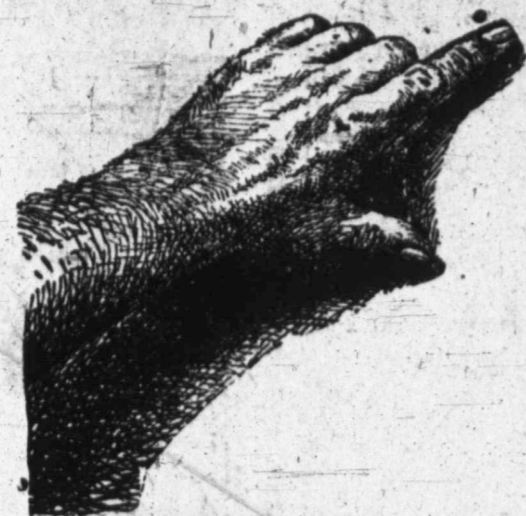

Offerings in the beef cattle department aggregate $1400 in each class. The classes named in the catalogue are Herefords, Shorthorns, Red-Polled and Aberdeen-Angus, and of which there will be the largest showing ever declared, ever assembled in Texas. Special prizes, in addition to those offered by the fair, are: American Hereford Cattle Breeders' association, $100; American Shorthorn Breeders' association, $400; Red-Polled Cattle club of America, $250.

WOMEN AT STATE FAIR.

In its preparation for the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the State Fair of Texas, October 12 to October 27, the management is giving careful attention to the women from the farms and the cities and the towns of the Southwest, and when the exposition opens this year members of the fair sex will find much of interest. Women visitors usually take a keen interest in every department, including number the men overlooked, and each annual meeting has proven a rich source of information to the women of the state.

Naturally the ladies' textile and fine arts divisions come first in importance with women visitors. This year particular attention is being paid to an exhibition of the handwork of the children of the state and a large share of the prizes are offered in these classes. Manual art, fine art, original school work, domestic science and kindergarten work entered in competition for the prizes will prove greatly beneficial to the young exhibitors and will also add materially to the interest in this department.

The manufacture of mattresses, pillows and cushions from scrap sponges, dried and sterilized, has become an important business in Florida.

Mandy Underwood Vacuum Cleaner. The Pleasant Valley Orchestra has broken out again. They held holocaust on last Thursday night, Elder Silo being the victim. The Elder failed to get a writ of restraint and the proceedings would have continued throughout the entire list of six pieces had not the clarinet player swallowed the mouth piece to his instrument in the middle of the fourth. They put him on a cellar door and carried him down to Mandy Underwood's and secured the service of her vacuum cleaner. Mrs. Underwood's vacuum cleaner has proven a godsend to this community. A few days ago Tobias Toppleton was fixing a plow and had placed a tap in his mouth for safekeeping. In the midst of his endeavors the tap in some manner slipped down his throat. He, too, was carried to the Underwood home and the vacuum cleaner applied. His hired man seemed much interested in the working of the machine and finally asked to be allowed to use it himself. Permission being granted, he walked over to the prostrate form of Mr. Toppleton and after a few moments vigorous pumping drew three months' back pay.—Pleasant Valley correspondent of the Rogers (Ark) News.

I wish to announce to the people of Wichita Falls that I have recently returned from Chicago where I completed a special course in orthodontia, and am now prepared to treat all malformations of the mouth; namely: crooked and protruding teeth. There is no longer need for any one to go through life with these facial deformations. This work should be attended to early in life. Will examine and discuss cases of orthodontia on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons only.

Yours sincerely, DR. H. A. WALLER.

The Melancholy Days

do not cut much ice with people who are busy, who are trying to get a strangle hold on enough of the filthy lucre to square themselves with the grocer and the butcher. Sentiment of the mushy kind has about left the busy American Nation. They have learned that Summer Zephyrs won't turn a windmill and that what some long haired tangles of English says will not buy anything. What we wish to say is that the fellow who

600 RAILROAD MEN IN WICHITA FALLS

Few Towns in Texas Have Larger Railroad Population According to State Secretary Y. M. C. A. Six hundred railroad men, including car-repairers, mechanics, shopmen, engineers and trainmen, make their headquarters in Wichita Falls, according to a canvass made today by L. A. Coulter of Dallas, who is here looking into the organization of a railroad men's Y. M. C. A. According to Mr. Coulter, Wichita Falls has the largest railroad population, with but one or two exceptions of any town in North Texas.

Mr. Coulter, in company with a committee from the Young Men's Progressive League, met a number of the railroad men here today, and feels pleased with the outlook for organizing a railroad branch of the association. He arrived here rather unexpectedly this morning, as he was not expected until Sunday, but the league committee was hastily gotten together and escorted him to the shops and roundhouse to meet the railroad men. He will go from here to Chicago to attend a Y. M. C. A. meeting and will return early in October, accompanied by Southwestern Secretary Knebel of the railroad Y. M. C. A. who will visit this city. There is a railroad Y. M. C. A. at Childress, which has a smaller railroad population than Wichita Falls, and it is believed that such an organization would prosper here.

Cleburne, Texas, Sept. 13.—Judge Cato Sells today announced the full finance committee recommended by him and recently appointed by Vice Chairman McAdoo to co-operate with him as National committeeman from Texas in raising $50,000 Texas contribution to the Wilson campaign. They are: T. W. Gregory, of Austin; T. H. Ball of Houston; Thomas B. Love, of Dallas; F. M. Bralley, of Austin; Walter Collins of Hillsboro; Rice Maxey, of Sherman; Sam Sparks of Austin and Mrs. W. F. Robertson of Dallas.

Wichita Falls has a new industry. It is the making of rubber stamps. J. P. Bryant, who is employed in The Times press rooms is the manager of the plant which is located on Lee street. Mr. Bryant is making rubber stamps as a side line and has installed machinery at considerable expense. Hereafter it will not be necessary for those wanting stamps to have to send out of town for them.
