COL. ROOSEVELT ATTACKS WILSON

CALLS DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE
BUCHANAN OF PRESENT IN-DUSTRIAL SITUATION

'MISREPRESENTATION'

Roosevelt Replies to What He Terms
Wilson's 'Misstatements' of Facts

By Associated Press.
Toledo, Kan., Sept. 21.—"Mr. Wilson is the Buchanan of the present industrial situation in the United States," Col. Roosevelt thus summed up his opinion of the democratic presidential candidate's position tonight.

He said Gov. Wilson had "directly inverted the truth" and said Wilson's knowledge of the Roosevelt administration was gained from the "seclusion of the class room at the time he was still taking the position of an ultra-conservative and was being carefully groomed for the presidency by George B. Harvey and other representatives of the Wall Street interests."

Col. Roosevelt's speech here tonight was devoted largely to a reply to Gov. Wilson's recent addresses. He came here after a day's campaigning in Kansas.

"At Detroit yesterday," Col. Roosevelt said, "Mr. Wilson made a statement which purported to be an answer to what I said in Colorado. I say 'purported' because it was in no shape or way, an answer at all. Moreover, so far as his utterance can be said to contain any statement at all, it is simply a misstatement of facts."

"He states that the trusts grew faster during my administration than previously. Let him be frank enough to admit what he cannot deny, that my administration was the first administration that ever undertook to enforce the law against the trusts. It is not in accordance with the facts to say that they grew faster during my administration than during any other, if by growth is meant a growth in illegal trusts, for most of the growth referred to was merely a growth in corporations due to the general prosperity."

"But the reason why there was any growth in illegal trusts at all, as I repeatedly pointed out in messages while I was president, was that we were not given the proper law for dealing with them. Mr. Wilson is now doing his best to prevent such a law being given. The failure of this government, efficiently to grapple with the trusts is due almost exclusively to the attitude of men like Mr. Wilson."

"Mr. Wilson states in rather dignified form, that I had said it was not possible to check the supremacy of trusts. Now if Wilson doesn't know that this is an absolute misstatement, it is due to his deliberate refusal to read what I have said, and what the platform said. My statement is the direct reverse of that which Mr. Wilson alleges."

"Mr. Wilson says that our proposed commission would not tell how other men should be admitted into the field of competition with the trusts. This is an absolute misstatement. Mr. Wilson would do well hereafter not to attempt to state our position without taking the trouble to find out what it is. Our platform says explicitly that our commission must attack unfair competition, false capitalization and political privilege, and by continued, trained watchfulness, guard and keep open equally to all the highways of American commerce."

"This is the language of the platform. If Mr. Wilson had taken the trouble to read it before attacking it, he would have saved me the necessity of showing that he has directly inverted the truth about it. If he did not know of it then he had no business to speak on the subject at all. He continues by saying that our proposals is to say to the trust, that they are beneficent and big, but not cruel. This is such a preposterous misstatement that I suppose Mr. Wilson must have had a theory that he was being funny when he made it."

"If Mr. Wilson wishes to be funny, I cordially advise him to let his humor find some outlet than that of deliberate misrepresentation."

"The trouble with Mr. Wilson's position is fundamental. Professing the views he has repeatedly professed, both in his books during the years that he was a reactionary and in his speeches during the eighteen months since, doubtless sincerely, he abandoned his reactionary beliefs he is wholly unable to advocate or devise any plan which will really control the trusts or relieve the present situation."

FOURTH ARREST IN DYNAMITE CONSPIRACY

Quarry Owner Taken into Custody on Indictment Growing out of Lawrence Strike

By Associated Press.
Boston, Sept. 21.—The fourth arrest to result from the Suffolk county grand jury investigation of the dynamite planting in Lawrence during the textile strike last January, occurred today. William H. Rice, an East Milton quarry owner was taken into custody. The indictment charged him with illegal transportation of dynamite. He furnished a $2000 bail.

HENRY WILL SUPPORT BILL FOR NEW SCHOOLS

Representative From This District
Will Join Victoria Legislator
In Effort to Secure School

Patrick Henry, representative elect from the 101st legislative district, will join with Leopold Morris of Victoria in an effort to secure the establishment of State agricultural and mechanical colleges at Wichita Falls, Victoria and San Angelo.

Mr. Henry called at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Saturday morning to secure all the information he could from Secretary Forester relative to the proposition. Yesterday he took steps to secure the catalogues of the A. and M. college for a period of ten years back and will make a compilation of the students attending the college from different sections of the state. He expects this compilation will show very few students from this section of the State and that the student body is made up almost entirely from territory within less than a hundred miles from Bryan.

The measure will also have the support of State Senator E. P. Haney who represents the Henrietta district. Last session Mr. Haney was chairman of the committee on education and his support of the measure will have considerable weight.

The proposal is practically certain to meet the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce and citizens generally and a mass meeting will probably be called to discuss plans for a campaign to secure the school. The bill, it is believed, will receive the support of many North Texas members of the legislature.

Mrs. J. T. Young, who has been spending several days with her daughter, Mrs. Hugh James at Electra, returned to this city yesterday.

CHEAPER MONEY FOR FARMERS

SWEEPING RECOMMENDATIONS
MADE IN REPORT OF INVESTIGATORS INTO SYSTEMS

CO-OPERATIVE LOANS

System in Vogue in Germany Would Be of Great Benefit to American Farmers

By Associated Press.
Paris, Sept. 21.—Sweeping recommendations for legislation designed to help development of agriculture in the United States are contained in an elaborate report forwarded to Washington by American Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, who has completed an exhaustive investigation of the systems of agricultural credit facilities in operation in Europe.

The ambassador wrote the document after receiving reports from other American diplomatic representatives in Europe and conferring with other persons. The work of gathering and compiling material for the formulation of plans for an efficient land and agricultural system has been carried on, under instructions from President Taft, and Ambassador Herrick has been assisted by a commission which reached here from the United States in July.

Edwin Chamberlain of San Antonio, one of the commission, who represents the American Bankers Association, will report to that organization. The ambassadors report recommends the adoption by the United States of the reinsurance system of agriculture co-operative credit societies. This system has been particularly successful in Germany where its operations represent half the business of the commercial banks.

It includes organizations composed of small co-operative societies whereby farmers are able to borrow money for a short time on their collective guarantees. These societies

COMPANION OF SNEED IS FOUND

B. B. EPTING FROM SNEED'S PADUCAH RANCH WAS MAN WITH SNEED BEFORE KILLING

IS NOW UNDER ARREST

Says he Left Sneed on the Day of the Killing—Slept With Him
In Shack

Identity of Sneed's Companion learned
By Associated Press.
Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 21.—The mysterious assistant of J. Beal Sneed in his concealment for a week at Amarillo, near the scene of the killing of Al Boyce, has been identified as B. B. Epting, a farmer on the Sneed ranch near Paducah.

Epting was arrested late yesterday by the sheriff of Cottle county. He was identified by O. K. Gilvin, from whom he rented the house on Polk street, and by I. J. Kendrick, from whom he purchased the window shades which were put in the house the day before the killing.

According to District Attorney Bishop, Epting admits being in Amarillo with Sneed, but denies any knowledge of a plot or plan to kill Al Boyce. His arrest followed quiet, but thorough work, by the Amarillo authorities. It was first discovered from another farmer on the Paducah property that Epting had arrived there the day following the killing after an absence of about six weeks. With this as a clue, it was soon learned that he had gone to Paducah from Quannah after spending the night there.

It was then found that Epting had come into Quannah on the train from the north that left Amarillo at 6:35 Saturday evening, the day of the tragedy.

Following his arrest, he was confronted with the real estate man and furniture dealer who both identified him.

The arrest and identification of Epting clears up why Sneed's friends in Amarillo failed to recognize the purchaser of the furniture and shades for the house rented by Sneed. All the dealers and the real estate agents were well acquainted with Sneed and declared from the first that he was not the man.

Epting is not known in Amarillo, except as the man who was seen on the streets in connection with this transaction. The prisoners are held in separate sections of the jail and have not been permitted to speak to each other since their incarceration.

Epting Slept With Sneed Up To Day of Killing.

By Associated Press.
Quannah, Texas, Sept. 21.—Epting who passed through here last night for Amarillo, said he slept with Sneed until the day of the killing and that he returned home that day.

Dead Bodies Lie in Street at Ojinaga.
By Associated Press.
Marfa, Texas, Sept. 21.—People returning from Ojinaga, where the federales were defeated last Sunday, report dead bodies of Mexicans lying in the streets unburied as late as Thursday. They said they saw as many as fifteen bodies in streets or alleys.

The deputy United States customs collector at Presidio, these Americans say, has in his possession seven-ton horses, 250 rifles, 16,000 rounds of ammunition and fifty pistols, captured from smugglers during the last few days.

TRUST REPRESENTATIVES BACKING ROOSEVELT

Bryan Attacks Roosevelt's Commission
Plan for Trust Regulation—
Defends Seating of Taft Delegates

By Associated Press.
Pocatello, Idaho, Sept. 21.—William J. Bryan tonight in a speech defended the action of the National Republican committee in seating the Taft delegates at the Chicago convention. He said the system was wrong, but the custom was a time-honored one and that similar action was taken by the Democrats in control at Baltimore.

He criticized the Progressives for having failed at their convention to make any effort toward remedying the old methods.

Mr. Bryan denounced Roosevelt's commission plan for trust regulation. He declared this to be the reason "that trust representatives are backing the Colonel's campaign."

Ralph Mathis will leave tonight to enter the Sophomore class at the University of Texas, after spending the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mathis.

LOST WILL FOUND IN AN OLD BOOK

Its Discovery in London, England, May Bring Fortune to a Dallas
Woman

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, Sept. 21.—The discovery of a lost will in an old book in London, England, and the fortune he expects it to bring to a Dallas woman, was related here today by United States District Attorney W. H. Atwell.

Mr. Atwell refused to make public the woman's name. He said a recluse in London died twenty years ago, leaving a fortune of about $3,500,000, but no will. Three weeks ago he said, a lover of old books, purchased in London book-stall a rusty-backed book. For it he paid one shilling, three pence. Turning the pages, the purchaser discovered a yellowed slip of paper, which proved to be the will of the recluse.

The purchaser of the book received $52,000 standing reward which was offered for this will, Atwell said. The will left the entire fortune to nephews and nieces, one of whom is the Dallas woman.

BEACHEY PULLED OFF SOME REAL THRILLERS

After Being Fined for "Ocean Waving" Aviator Dives Straight Downward From Great Height

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Sept. 21.—Freak flying held interest at the aviation meet today when Lincoln Beachey, on the lake front, in a drizzling rain, stopped the engine of his biplane at a height of three thousand feet and glided down with the tail of his machine almost straight up.

Just before that, Beachey had been fined for "ocean-waving" by zig-zagging over the heads of spectators and as low as ten feet above the automobiles in Michigan avenue. Horace Hearney of Kansas City, Missouri, and Beachey also were penalized for circling the course at a mile a minute within fifty feet of each other.

Beckwith-Haven won the sixteen mile hydro aeroplane race in 15 minutes and 19 seconds.

Damage to Cotton in Bowie County.
By Associated Press.
Texarkana, Texas, Sept. 21.—There was a terrific windstorm here last night doing much damage to growing cotton. The crop damage was the only serious damage done.

IMPORTANT RULING ON COUNTRY BANKS

Examinations of Assets to Be Made Hereafter in Presence of Directors

By Associated Press.
New York, Sept. 21.—A ruling of great interest to country banks was laid down here today by Controller of the Currency Murray, in an address to a gathering of National bank examiners.

On and after October 1, he said, he desired that at the examination of all country banks at the board of directors shall be convened and the examination of assets be made in their presence. The controller cautioned the examiners, "to inquire very carefully into any undue concentration of the loans of a bank in companies controlled by the bank's officers or directors."

"I speak now," he continued, "of any bank where such a concentration would ruin the bank if the loans were bad. Whenever you come across a case where the bank directors or officers are unduly concentrating the bank's funds in corporations controlled by themselves and where you have no information on which to base an opinion as to whether the loans are good or bad, it seems to me you are clearly entitled to one of three things. First, that the books of the corporation be voluntarily opened to you; second, that the directors give you a full statement in detail of the business of the concerns, or third, that a copy be given you of a report on the company or corporation made by an independent auditor."

Mr. Murray said he considered the country examiner often overworked and under paid, but nevertheless he insisted "that the time given to examining country banks be materially lengthened."

Milwaukee Races Postponed.
By Associated Press.
Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 21.—Because recent heavy rains had made the course unsafe the International automobile races scheduled to begin here today were put off for another two weeks. The Vanderbilt cup race will be run October 2, the Pabst and Wisconsin trophy events October 3 and the grand prize October 5.

THREATENS TO LAND MARINES

AMERICAN AMBASSADOR TO MEX-ICO MAKES PEREMPTORY DE-MAND FOR RELEASE OF
AMERICAN PRISONER

IS GRANTED THE AUTHORITY

Government at Washington Instructs
Him to Employ Whatever Means
May Be Necessary

By Associated Press.
Mexico City, Sept. 21.—Ignoring the usual channels of diplomatic intercourse the American Ambassador, Henry Lane Wilson, has made a peremptory demand on Governor Matias Guerrero of the State of Tamaulipas for the immediate release from jail at Tampico of W. C. Nichols, an American fruit grower.

Nichols was arrested six months ago on a charge of having killed a bandit, Caballos, whose apprehension the authorities had attempted for many months.

The ambassador was authorized by the administration at Washington to employ whatever means he considered necessary to bring about an amelioration of Nichols' condition. Ambassador Wilson says he will gain Nichols release, even if it is necessary to land marines from the United States cruiser, Des Moines, now at Tampico.

Wilson regards the treatment accorded Nichols by the Mexican authorities as persecution and has so stated in his message to the governor. In support of this belief, he points to the fact that a Mexican has confessed in court to being the slayer of Caballos. This confession was disregarded by the court. The Mexican was not arrested, and the process against Nichols was continued on an appeal from his sentence of eight years imprisonment.

The application is being heard before the court at state capital, Ciudad Victoria. The jail in which Nichols is confined is filthy and over-crowded. Ambassador Wilson has been treating the matter diplomatically for several months, but has accomplished little. In his note to the governor, the ambassador reminded him that his message was not official, but that it was to be considered none the less authoritative. He demanded that Nichols be placed "in surroundings more sanitary and in keeping with the usage of civilized countries" pending proceedings against him which Wilson suggested be hastened.

BELIEVED SNEED TRIAL MAY BE VENUED HERE

That the venue of the J. B. Sneed trial is quite likely to be changed from Amarillo to Wichita Falls is the opinion of several Wichita Falls attorneys familiar with the legal aspects of the case. They point out that it will be practically impossible to secure a jury in Potter county, of which Amarillo is the county seat, and that the venue must almost certainly be changed.

Wichita Falls, being the only city northwest of Fort Worth with sufficient hotel accommodations to care for the visitors, and being more or less convenient to Fort Worth and Central Texas points from which witnesses are likely to be called, is considered very probable as the site of the trial.

Should the trial be held here, it would tie up the district court for fully a month and this, owing to the present crowded docket, is not desired by local attorneys. However, the conditions considered, it is thought very probable that the scene of the present excitement will be transferred here from Amarillo.

MILK BUSINESS WILL BE PROBED

Federal Officials Will Investigate
Charge of Trust Law Violations in Chicago

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Sept. 21.—Federal officials today prepared to investigate charges by farmers and shippers that the price of milk is controlled by a combination in violation of the Sherman law.

It became known today that United States Attorney General Wickickersham has sanctioned the proposed investigation and it is probable witnesses will be summoned to appear before the federal grand jury here October 7.

One point to be inquired into is why the farmer receives but three and a half cents a quart for his milk, while the consumer is required to pay eight cents a quart in Chicago. Operations of the Illinois Milk Dealers Association will, it is said, be the object of careful scrutiny.

TAFT, COUNTRY'S GREATEST PROGRESSIVE

President of Peace Forum says American People do not Appreciate
True Greatness of President

By Associated Press.
Columbus, O., Sept. 21.—The National and State Republican campaigns were opened here today and officially put in full swing at two mass meetings by a number of speakers supplied by the National and State campaign committees.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge delivered the keynote speech, in which he eulogized the Republican party, denounced the Democratic party and practically ignored the Progressive party. Rev. Dr. John Wesley Hill of New York, president of the International Peace Forum was strong in his denunciation of Theodore Roosevelt and in his praise of the president.

"The line of cleavage in this campaign, which we are opening in the president's home state, is easy to follow," declared Dr. Hill, "it is the Republican party against the real flag of Socialism on one hand and the black flag of free trade on the other hand. The American public is so blinded by the dust of his diplomacy that they cannot see the greatness of President Taft, whom I present to you as the greatest Progressive that has appeared in our National history."

WICHITA FALLS MERCHANTS ENJOYED BIG TRADE

Cool, Crisp Weather was a Stimulus
That Sent the People After Fall and Winter Necessities

Yesterday was one of the biggest days for the merchants of Wichita Falls in the history of the town. The cool crisp weather coming just at the opening of autumn was a reminder to prepare for winter—and everybody felt the impulse at once if the busy scenes in the stores were any indication. The people had the money too, and a very large proportion of the sales were for cash. Distribution of cotton money and money originating from the oil business were the chief sources of the cash that streamed across the counters yesterday.

All lines of retail business got a share of the money. The furniture men, the hardware men, the clothing and dry goods merchants and all of them reported a big day's business.

AVIATION TAKES TWO MORE LIVES

MACHINE CARRYING TWO GER-

DEATH INSTANTANEOUS

Accident Was the Third Double Air
Craft Fatality in Germany During Present Month

By Associated Press.
Freiburg, Saxony, Sept. 21.—Two German military officers were killed while flying near here today. This makes the third double fatality in Europe within the present month, in which members of army flying corps were the victims.

The machine, a monoplane, was piloted by Lieut. Berger, carrying Lieut. Jungmans as a passenger. While passing over this city the machine suddenly plunged from a high elevation to the ground. The cause of the accident is not known. The aviators were instantly killed and the monoplane was smashed to bits.

Intrepid English Aviator Killed
By Associated Press.
Belfast, Ireland, Sept. 21.—H. J. D. Astley, one of the most intrepid and skillful of English aviators, was killed this afternoon by a fall of his aeroplane. Astley and James Valentine each driving a machine, were making exhibition flights in the presence of 30,000 spectators.

Astley after a good flight and was descending. He attempted to bank too sharply when making a sudden turn and caught by a fluky wind, his monoplane fell 100 feet. Women screamed and fainted. Astley was flung against one of the wings and his skull fractured. He died soon afterwards.

Astley, when flying from France to England with Miss Davis as a passenger had a marvelous escape near Lille on September 17. On that occasion the machine fell 150 feet and Miss Davis is said to have made an entry in her diary of her sensations as they dropped.

WILSON SPEAKS AGAINST SMITH

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE DE-CLARES HIS DUTY TO WARN
CLARES HIS DUTY TO WARN THE PEOPLE

NO PERSONAL CONTEST

Says People are Choosing Candidates
Because They Understand
American Interests

By Associated Press.
Jersey City, Sept. 21.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson proclaimed tonight in a speech on the New Jersey Senatorial situation that the only condition upon which the democratic party can gain the confidence of the nation is "that it should have itself through and through absolutely committed to a progressive policy."

The governor spoke here and at Hoboken in opposition to the candidacy of former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., and in behalf of Representative Williams Hughes for the senatorship to be voted on in the primary Tuesday.

The governor declared it was his duty to warn the people that Smith was a reactionary. He declared it was no personal contest, and if Mr. Smith was his "dearest friend" and held the same opinion that he does, the governor would feel obliged to oppose him.

"I have never been aware of any personal feeling on my part in any political contest against any individual," said the governor. "The United States is not choosing men by their private characters merely. It is not choosing them for their likeability, but it is choosing them because they understand the interests of America at this present moment and many a man, bred in the old school of politics, is being rejected now, not because he does not hold his convictions honestly, but because he holds convictions from which the country has turned away. We are at a critical juncture in the history of America and at a very critical juncture in the history of the Democratic party. There is only one condition upon which the Democratic party can gain the confidence of the nation, and that condition is that it should have itself through and through absolutely committed to a progressive policy."

"Just so certainly as it turns back, just so certainly as it makes any other choice, it will be rejected now and need have no hope whatever of being chosen again for our generation. The amazing thing to me is, that men do not everywhere see this. We are not speaking of our own individual opinions. We are the spokesmen of a great progressive force in this nation. Why is it that some men who would some time ago supported a third party in this nation are now refusing to do so, because, they say, there was no excuse for the formation of that party after the profession of principles and the nomination of the Baltimore convention."

"Before the campaign began, the very leaders of that party admitted that I stood by the very thing that they professed to stand for. Any man who stands in the way of this great movement of humanity, must stand aside. He cannot walk with the triumphant hosts of the great democracy."

"Mr. Smith distinctly takes his part with those who mean to maintain the present protective tariff; the men who have grown so big as to threaten the power of the government itself by means of the tariff, are not the friends of labor, and when the beneficiaries of the tariff are not the friends of the laboring men, I take leave to believe that the tariff is not meant for the working man."

The governor charged that Mr. Smith had attempted to frustrate progressive legislation in New Jersey. In closing his speech the presidential nominee spoke of the record of Mr. Hughes in Congress and paid warm tribute to the unselfishness of Judge John Westcott who withdrew from the senatorial race in order that the contest might be conducted against Mr. Smith by a single candidate.

The governor returned to Seagriff tonight.

De La Barra Would Be Acceptable.
El Paso, Texas, Sept. 21.—Minister Callero, when he left Washington two weeks ago, carried to President Madero a warning that Mexico must put down the revolution in thirty days, according to Juan Pedro Didapp tonight. Senor Didapp comes here directly from Washington, where he asserts he represented the Zapata revolution and that Francisco de la Barra would be acceptable to Zapata and Orozco as a provisional president warranting the suspension of hostilities in all the Republic.

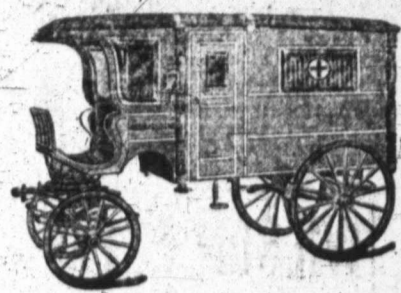

Col. Pascual Orozco Sr., father of the leader of the Mexican revolution, arrived here from Marfa tonight

Letter From Mayor Bell

To the Citizens of Wichita Falls:
There seems to be some misunderstanding in regard to the notice sent out on the 7th inst. regarding connection with the sanitary sewer.
The situation is this: An inspection of the city was made by the sanitary officers and about four hundred houses in reach of the sanitary sewer were found not connected. Each owner, so far as could be ascertained, was mailed a notice to connect with sanitary sewer or show a good and sufficient reason why such connection should or could not be made.
Many reasons have been given, such as lack of money, no water, previous debts, etc., none of which can be charged to the city. It seems a great many of our citizens are under the impression that the city owns the water system but such is not the case. The water company is a corporation and is in this business of selling water. There are certain conditions when complied with by a citizen or number of citizens the city will undertake to compel the water company to furnish water if the company does not do so on its own accord.
I do say that the system of water mains is a very poor one and is inadequate for satisfactory service.

We have a promise that it will soon be remodeled and made up-to-date and the service improved in every particular.
The sewer system is owned by the city, was built by the city and paid for money received for bonds voted by the people. A tax is levied and collected by the city to pay interest on the bonds and create a sinking fund sufficient to pay the bonds at maturity. Hence every tax payer is interested in the success of our sewer system. The rents from sewer connections go toward extending the sewer to parts of the city not now supplied, so any one who can connect with the sewer and does not do so is doing an injustice to those tax payers who do not have the sewer in reach of them; and moreover, they are not doing their full duty to the city.
It should be the pride and the boast of every citizen that Wichita Falls is the cleanest and most sanitary city in Texas. It can be so if every one will see to it that his own premises are clean and sanitary.
So connect with the sanitary sewer at once, add to your own convenience and the health and happiness of your neighbor.
J. M. BELL, Mayor.

CITATIONS SERVED IN REALISTIC MANNER

Contempt Proceedings Against Pittsburgers By Wichita Falls Attracts Much Attention
The "contempt proceedings" instituted by the Young Men's Progressive League against the members of the Pittsburg trade excursion who visited Fort Worth and Dallas Friday were carried out in a very thrilling and realistic manner by H. W. Gaston, A. L. Huey and P. P. St. Clair, and the stunt attracted a great deal of attention. The Fort Worth Record of Saturday printed the following account of the affair:
"One of the most exciting episodes of the trip of the 'male in Pittsburg' train occurred just before it pulled out of Fort Worth when three men heavily armed and wearing looks of determination, climbed aboard.
These men, regularly commissioned deputy sheriffs had been instructed to serve upon each and every member of the Pittsburg party, citations commanding them to appear before the circuit court of Wichita County, Texas, to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt for their failure to include Wichita Falls in the itinerary of their southwestern trip.
The train had scarcely gotten under way when the deputies made themselves known to Traffic Manager Ira Bassett of the party, ordering them to escort them through the train, furnishing the name of each member of the party, whereupon a citation addressed to each one was forcibly served.
The ladies did not escape, but were each served with a citation with a large American Beauty rose attached, a pendant card bearing the inscription: 'A Wichita Rose to a Pittsburg Flower.'
The newspaper men of the party were handcuffed, but after devoutly promising to visit Wichita Falls at their earliest convenience, the manacles were removed from their wrists.
The citations specified that a waiver of same would be permitted provided the Pittsburgers would read the attached statistics concerning Wichita Falls and study the attached maps. One of the maps was a presentation of Wichita Falls' magnificent trade territory, the other being more unique and striking. The right hand, or the larger portion of this map, was a reproduction of the

ARREST MADE IN ACCIDENTAL CASE

Ed Morgan Arrested Saturday on Complaint Alleging Injury of George A. Soule
Sheriff Randolph Saturday afternoon arrested Ed Morgan, an oil man with headquarters in this city in connection with the accident in which George A. Soule, a pioneer resident of this city was seriously injured on Labor Day.
The formal charge against Morgan is assault to murder. He has given a bond of $500 for his appearance at a preliminary hearing Monday morning before Justice Brothers.
The arrest followed investigations that have been going on for some time. Deputy George Hawkins spent several days at Electra following a clue while Sheriff Randolph was at work on the case here.
Mr. Soule was driving in his buggy on the lake road on the evening of September 2 when an automobile driven by a party of men ran into his vehicle, wrecking it and throwing Mr. Soule upon the ground. In the crash a spoke from the buggy wheel was driven into Mr. Soule's thigh. He is still bedfast from the injury. Those in the automobile kept on, never stopping to offer assistance to Mr. Soule.
Mr. Morgan, it is understood, denies absolutely any knowledge of the accident. His friends believe he would have given every assistance possible in such a case.

PLANS PROGRESSING FOR ANNIVERSARY BANQUET

Membership Meeting Will be in the Nature of a Luncheon Next Thursday Evening
Preparations are being made for the membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, which will be held next Thursday evening at some place to be announced later. B. B. Cain of Dallas, who was invited to deliver the address of the evening was forced to decline and it is not yet known who will be the speaker.
It had been planned to have the meeting at the Lake, but if the weather continues as cool as it has been lately, some other place will be chosen. The meeting will be in the nature of a luncheon and its purpose is simply to discuss matters of mutual interest, with a view to welding the city's forces more firmly together for the coming winter.

Notice

We contemplate erecting in the near future a five story office building, located at the corner of Indiana and Eighth. All parties desiring space in the building will be glad to have them call and confer with us. To those who desire making lease for a term of years, we would under take the arrangement of offices to suit their convenience.

SOCIALIST CANDIDATES WILL SPEAK HERE

Reddin Andrews of Tyler, and T. A. Hickey of Hallettsville, respectively the Socialist nominees for governor and lieutenant-governor, will speak in Wichita Falls next Tuesday, Sept. 24. These two nominees will be here on their "whirlwind" tour of the State, which began Friday at Minersville and which will continue until election day.
Both of these speakers are among the best known Socialists in Texas and are said to be interesting speakers. Hickey is Socialist National Committeeman from Texas and editor of the "Rebel," a Socialist paper.
Local Socialists are preparing for the visit of these two speakers and hope to bring a large crowd out to hear them.

Special Showing of Autumn Dress Goods

As the Fall season dawns our stocks in every department are rounding into completeness. In this particular we will make special mention of our extensive line of Woolen Dress Fabrics which embraces a variety of the season's new and popular weaves in all the wanted colors. The creams so much in demand are very much in evidence in this exhibition, a special feature of which is the moderate prices. Drop in and allow us the pleasure of showing you. Note below the two very special values in Serges and Broadcloths. Just as good values will be found here in many other weaves.

An elaborate line of new fall dress trimmings is now on exhibition, representing the season's fashion fancies.

PENNINGTON'S

official map of the party, published before the start from Pittsburg. The left hand was an extension to permit the showing of the relative location of Wichita Falls. Two direct lines, leading from Pittsburg to Wichita Falls and back again, touching no other cities, were also added to the Pittsburgers' map. The added portion was in gold color and the original or Pittsburgers' map was in black, these being the colors of the Pittsburg party, their literature being printed thus and their train bearing black and gold decorations. The only wording appearing on this page was "A Study in Black and Gold."
The Dallas reception committee of ten men, who met the visitors at Fort Worth, were served with writs of mandamus commanding them to extol to the visitors the merits of Wichita Falls. "The Future Pittsburg of the Southwest," to the end that Texas might not so greatly suffer because Wichita Falls was passed up.
Those serving the citations were A. L. Huey, president; Frank P. St. Clair, vice president and H. W. Gaston, secretary, of the Young Men's Progressive League of Wichita Falls, the last named having at one time been on the reportorial staff of the Record.
Some of the visitors were taken somewhat aback at first, but they soon tumbled, and seemed to enjoy the joke hugely.

The Five Rivers Company appears to have kept up its battling average with its No. 1 on the Marriott lease about 1600 yards southeast of Ower and Wilson No. 1. This well tapped the 1000 foot sand yesterday and while no test has been made yet, the indications are good. There were some fancy reports in circulation about this well yesterday, one modes statement being that it was good for thirty barrels an hour, but this was not from any authentic source. W. W. Silk, president of the Five Rivers said last night that the well had merely tapped the sand. This is a key well and yesterday's find makes the Five Rivers lease look good enough. A good sand was found at 75 feet, Mr. Silk says, which is ten feet shallower than sand found in another part of the lease.

W. C. Platt of Cleveland, Ohio, editor of the National Petroleum News, was in town yesterday looking the oil situation over and meeting the local oil men. Mr. Platt is an old newspaper man and the journal he now edits has lots of snap to it. It is the same one that Bill Long writes for.

The well on the Warner tract is now down about 1700 feet and its having considerable trouble with caving and other things, so that slow progress is being made.

The Oil Men's Association has invited a number of Wichitans to be its guests at a dance at Lake Wichita next Wednesday evening. A number will be down from Electra to take part and the occasion promises much in the way of enjoyment.

The Corsicana Company found a good well in a new sand on the Red River Allen lease Thursday. The sand was at a depth of 1750 feet and the well is reported to be good for from 150 to 200 barrels per day and probably better.

The Bywaters heirs who pulled down $150,000 recently for a lease to the Texas Company west of Electra have leased 300 acres more north of the Marriott tract to A. B. McFarland. The consideration has not been made public but is said to be a tidy sum even if not so large as that received for the lease given the Texas Company. Most of the Bywaters heirs live in Lamar county.

The Producers' Wagoner No. 23 was drilled in late Friday at Electra in the deep sands and is good for four hundred barrels. It is just on the western edge of the town of Electra, close to the cemetery, thus justifying the statement attributed to the late Governor Hogg that a graveyard somewhere in the vicinity was essential to an oil field. There were a number of dry holes all around No. 23, quite a bunch of them having been drilled with rotary rigs. The well flowed over the derrick when the 1900-foot sand was tested and its opening performance makes it look like one of the best wells in the field. It is one of the first wells to be brought in on that side of Electra for some time, as the numerous dry holes had discouraged operations in that direction.

W. K. Ward of Watahachie was in the city. Mr. Ward is one of a number of Watahachie folks who have interests in the Electra field and as a rule the Ellis countyites have been very successful. Mr. Ward is interested just now in the Creston Oil company organized this week to drill on the J. A. Fisher tract.

Dr. W. H. Knapp of Chicago, president of the People's Oil company, is in the city looking after the interests of his company here. That last is hardly accurate for when W. G. Skelly gets through looking after the People's interests—that is the People's company's interests—there isn't much left to be done. Dr. Knapp is very much pleased at the recent developments to the east of Electra and is very optimistic over the general outlook for the field. He is stopping at the St. James.

The Northwest Electra Oil and Gas Company is now working in shale for the third time. Twice it has been in shale before, and has struck oil sand below the shale. If sand is found again it will be considered a very favorable indication, as duplicating the formation of Electra wells, and giving hope of a paying strike.—Frederick Leader.

The Kemp Oil Company's well on the Fasset tract east of town is now down about 850 feet in the red mud. There was a light showing of gas several days ago, and plenty of salt water. This well is being drilled with standard tools, using the same rig that found the dry hole several months ago at Bacon Switch.

The Guffey's 75-barrel well in the 20-foot sand on the Miller tract will probably be drilled deeper. This is about a 60-barrel well and created considerable interest, being the first to be brought in from a sand at that particular depth. The Guffey as two wells on the Miller tract which are due to enter the sand very shortly and a third should arrive by the end of this week. The Guffey has a total of nine rigs on the Miller, one at 450 feet on the Ward and Todd and one location in the vicinity of the Eeds well.

The recent rains have solved the water problem for the drillers in parts of the field and operation which had been delayed for lack of water are now going ahead at a vigorous rate. The field as a whole is witnessing the liveliest times in its history.

The past week has been one of intense feeling for local stockholders of the King-Carlisle Oil Company for several days it seemed that the well which was brought in on this company's lease in the Sapulpa district would be drowned with salt water. It was reported once that this had been cased out, and again that it was running again. The last report, however, was that the water could be controlled, as it came from the sides instead of the bottom of the well, and that there was no doubt that the well would prove to be a fine one.—Frederick Leader.

The Corsicana Company is building a tank on the Boddy lease preparatory to beginning drilling soon. This location is 6 miles from Petrolia, and about 11 miles from Wichita Falls. The Corsicana Company is leading in wild cat work in this section. At the beginning of 1912 a program for keeping four rigs working on wildcat work was adopted by this company. At times it has had seven or eight wildcat drills.

Pipe Line Runs Shipments and Stocks at Electra.

The production at Electra, despite its steady increase, backs considerably of keeping pace with the shipments. The conditions shown are healthy, the shipments keeping steadily ahead of the runs. During August the Texas Company's run was 174,220 barrels, the stock on September 1 being 42,000 barrels. A total of 170,000 barrels was pumped through the six-inch line to Dallas and there were car shipments of 6000 barrels, partly to Salt Lake City, and part to Fort Worth and Galveston.

The Magnolia's August run was 195,000 barrels and the stock on the first of this month was 1,275,000 barrels. Pipe line exports totalled 280,000 barrels; there were no car shipments.

The Pierce-Fordyce Oil Association has a stock of 3500 barrels. Car shipments for August were 13,000 barrels, furnished by the Texas Company. During the first half of September the Magnolia's run was 6000 barrels daily and shipments were 9000, there being a decrease of 3000 barrels per day.

The Texas Company's daily run for the first half of September was 5500 barrels, with shipments of 6500, decreasing the stock a thousand barrels daily. This includes shipments to Pierce-Fordyce.

Between 10,000 and 12,000 acres is now under lease by the Guffey Company in Wichita, Clay and Archer counties, as a result of considerable activity in leasing in the past few months. While this is less than either the Corsicana or Producers have under lease, both of the latter have been in the Electra field much longer than the Guffey. The latter has considerable land in the Iowa Park vicinity and in other sections where there is as yet little doing. Much of it is long-time stuff, but should the pending developments fulfill the expectations, the Guffey will have a great deal of desirable country. From one to fifty dollars per acre was paid, according to the location, and the Guffey has turned many thousands of dollars loose among the farmers of Northwest Texas.

The Developers' Company is preparing to shoot its No. 2 at Petrolia. It was planned to shoot the well last week, but it was found necessary to secure another shot.

C. A. Greenless will begin work shortly on a well on the Hugh Reilly property near Burk Burnett. This is considered an important test.

FINDS BURIED LOOT

Farm Hand Discovers Can of Gold in Missouri.

Wycke Patterson Flees With Fortune Secreted by Civil War Bandit—Refuses to Tell Amount—May Share With His Employer.

Liberty, Mo.—One stroke of the pick made Wycke Patterson, a farm hand, rich beyond his fondest expectations when he struck a pot of gold concealed in the wall of an old building which he was helping to raise on the farm of his employer near Huntsville, Mo. A notice of the discovery of the treasure was received here by C. E. Yancey, owner of the place.

How the farm hand's quick wit enabled him to make away with the thousands in gold before the eyes of seven helpers was told in the message.

The old building, used before the Civil war as an inn, had long been an eyesore on the big mile ranch owned by the Yancey family. A force of workmen under the direction of Patterson began tearing down the ruins last week.

After removing a stone casing in the second story, Patterson struck something that gave out a sharp metallic sound. Two white laborers and five negroes crowded about him as he dug into the masonry and found a sealed pot. One blow knocked off the lid, and the group gazed upon the vessel filled with gold pieces.

Jaws dropped and eyes opened. "Good Lawd, we's all struck it rich," said one negro. "What'll we do?" But Patterson had his presence of mind. He seized the treasure pot and started down the steps and out of the door. By the time his companions had recovered and followed, he was out of sight. Through Saturday night and Sunday the farm hand guarded his pot of gold. "Not even his wife was permitted to know how much it contained."

"If Yancey don't know how much is in it, he won't know how much to sue for," said Patterson.

Monday morning a man walked into the Bank of Yates, a small town near the Yancey ranch. He carried a heavy package under his coat. After recovering from his surprise, W. H. Stark, the cashier, counted out the thousands in gold coin.

Much of it was in Mexican money of 1831. How much the total was has not been given out by the finder or the banker. That it exceeded $10,000 has been admitted. That it might run as high as $20,000 or $40,000 has been reported.

Although the law gives the treasure to the owner of the property, Yancey said he was willing to divide with the finder. The two men probably will divide the sum equally.

The theory that Bill Anderson, a noted desperado of the Civil war period, hid the treasure while stopping at the place when it was used as an inn, has been advanced.

Anderson spent the night at the inn two nights after banks at Huntsville and other towns had been robbed of $30,000 or $40,000. He was killed near Orrick, Mo., a day or two later by Confederate "bushwhackers."

SIMPLE LIFE FOR DOMINE

Tacoma Minister Resigns Charge to Farm and Raise Chickens—Calls Self a Failure.

Tacoma, Wash.—Condemning himself as a failure as a pastor, the Rev. William D. Buchanan, pastor of Park University church, has tendered his resignation and in an open letter to the public announced that he is about to retire to the "simple life."

"I am a farmer by instinct and a minister by choice," the letter says. "I have come to feel that I should first practice and then preach, and from now on I shall make my living as a breeder of chickens."

Mr. Buchanan's eight years in the Tacoma pulpit have been marked by dignity and reserve, and his unexpected announcement has caused city-wide comment.

WORKER HEIR TO FORTUNE

San Francisco Carpenter, Sick and Alone, Inherits $48,550 From Uncle in Ohio.

San Francisco.—Sick and alone in the poorly furnished home, William H. Spencer, a carpenter 60 years old, received word that he is heir to a fortune of $48,550 left by Isaac Spencer, an uncle who died recently in New Lexington, Ohio. Spencer's uncle accumulated a fortune of $100,000. His only relatives were a brother and "a nephew out west." Before he died he made a will dividing his fortune equally between them.

Breeding of Bears

ACADAMON BEAR

RESULTS of twenty-one years' study of the breeding of bears are set forth in a statement from the National Zoological Park. It was in 1904 that A. Baker, assistant superintendent of the park, published an account of the breeding of the American black bear at Silver Lake Park, Ohio. This pamphlet, which appeared in the Smithsonian Miscellaneous Collections, covered a period of twelve years' study. The present pamphlet forms Smithsonian Institution No. 2086.

The bears under observation are at Silver Lake Park, a small reservation near Akron, O. When the under-observation was first established a collection of hardy animals was started in a pit. The first bears put there were a pair of cubs, obtained in 1888, from two different localities near Lake Superior. The pair bred regularly for sixteen years, and raised in all about thirty-four cubs. Including all the breeding bears, sixty-eight or sixty-nine cubs were raised during the twenty-one years of observation.

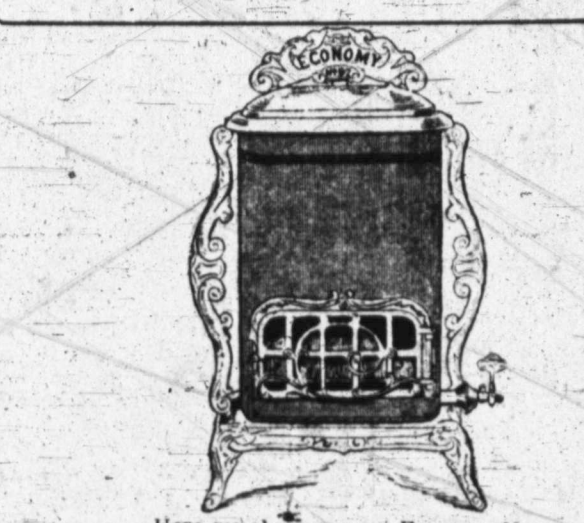

The original pit is circular in form, and built of brick, twenty feet across and twelve feet deep. It is connected by an underground passage with a similar pit, to which the bears can be transferred when desirable. These pits are located in the dry hillside, which slopes towards the east. The floor is of terra-cotta blocks set in cement, so that the place can be readily washed out with a hose. The pit is provided with a tank in order that

A Good Season and a Bountiful Crop is the Cause of More Money

Which has prompted us to buy several carloads of heating stoves, cook stoves and steel ranges. In fact, we bought so many stoves that we had to rent another room, 807 Indiana Avenue, to store our immense surplus stock of all kind of stoves and ranges, pipe, elbows and the thousands of other fall and winter goods that we bought during the past season in anticipation of our trade in the stove line.

Here we show you our Economy Heater. Only $8.00. Can't be duplicated for $12.00 by any one. We have sold nearly a thousand of these Economys and everyone is a standing advertisement. Notice its neat appearance. We have nothing better to offer you in this line of construction. For a nice low priced gas heater the Economy can't be beat.

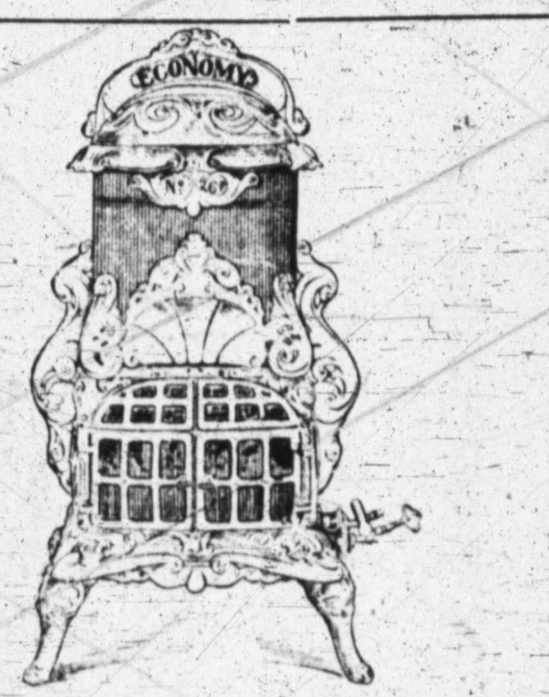

Herewith We Show You a Few Samples of the Hundreds of Different Kinds and Makes of the Very Best Stoves That Your Money Can Buy.

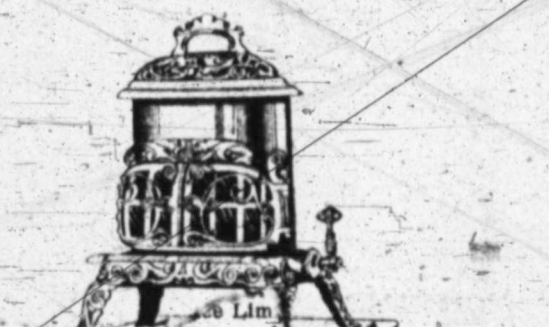

In open and closed reflection or asbestos back heaters we have the greatest assortment that can be found anywhere. We have hundreds of these stoves in any size or kind that are made. In fact we bought too many stoves and now sit up to us to "unload" and we are making the very lowest price in order that we may dispose of this immense stock of beautiful gas stoves. We are not showing every kind of stove that we have in this advertisement because an entire page wouldn't hold one tenth part of them. We have hundreds of wood and coalburning stoves of all descriptions.

Other good gas stoves that we sell are the Radiant, a down draft base heater for natural gas, "Ye Mayflower," an open grate fire in a stove.

Parlor Economy. What would look nicer in the front room of a modest little cottage than this Parlor Economy? Its just as pretty as can be. The general construction of this stove is same as the other Economys for the reason that it is perfect.

$50,000,000 TOBACCO COMPANY PLANNED

Daniel E. Reid, Head of Rock Island System, Reported to Be at Head of Company

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 21.—A $50,000,000 tobacco company now in process of formation is reported today to have been the financial support of D. G. Reid, chairman of the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific and several of his associates. Mr. Reid is now in Europe but is expected to return about October 1.

According to the report options have already been obtained on numerous independent tobacco companies throughout the country. The present plan it is said, is to manufacture all forms of tobacco and to make a specialty of cigarettes. The decree of the United States supreme court dissolving the American Tobacco company, it is reported, has brought about favorable conditions.

Wichita Falls, Texas, Sept. 22, 1912

The pecan crop is unusually heavy this year, and after the first heavy frost falls nut gathering will be the order of the day.

Thirteen seems to be Gov. Wilson's lucky number. He prefers that to all others at hotels or on Pullman cars. He was the thirteenth president of Princeton, having been elevated to that position after having served thirteen years as a professor in that great educational institution, and on Friday, the thirteenth day of September, Gov. Wilson occupied seat thirteen in a parlor car.

It has been suggested by some members and friends of the Y. M. C. A. that a benefit be given to provide temporary funds and start a building fund also. The suggestion is timely, and should be accepted and pushed to a conclusion. The quarters now in use hardly come up to standard of a city of the size and importance of Wichita Falls. The Civic League and many of our best citizens can surely be counted for loyal support in a matter of this kind. A gentleman of experience has been delegated to see what can be done in the matter, and the Times trusts that he will receive all the encouragement he anticipates.

Baylor county antis have petitioned for a local option election to be held in that county on October 12th. The county has been dry since March, 1902, at which time the pro won by a vote of 319 to 194. Since that time the antis have increased their strength, and the vote on statewide prohibition July 22, 1911, was 605 to 565 in favor of the wets. Colquitt also carried that county at the last election by a majority of 46, while Wolters lost it by a majority of 184 votes.

THE PRESIDENTIAL RACE

(San Francisco Call, Rep.)

Analysis of the votes cast in the three States which have held regular elections since the third-term party formally entered the field clearly shows that it has no winning strength in either of them.

In Michigan the democrats polled their normal vote and the republicans ran so far ahead of the third-termers as to make that faction look ridiculous.

In Vermont, on sharply drawn lines the democrats slightly increased their vote, and the republicans beat the third-termers by a decisive majority of 22,000 to 15,000 in round figures.

In Maine the third-termers, for local reasons, voted with the republicans and the combined vote was only about 4000 in excess of the democratic vote, which remained normal.

It is evident that the third-term candidate has made no converts among democrats, and this makes it certain that the utmost he can do is to insure democratic victory in several States which are normally republican.

In other words, Mr. Roosevelt may be able to gratify his spite and his unreasonable hatred of Mr. Taft by bringing about loss of votes to him, but he can not possibly win electoral votes for himself in many States, has but a fighting chance in California and Kansas and two or three minor States and may not have a single electoral vote in any State.

So far as the great Eastern States are concerned, the States whose votes elect presidents, the third-term candidacy has become a joke and the third-term campaign has collapsed.

By November it will be ridiculous. Governor Wilson is sure of the votes of Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, New Jersey, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. These States cast 185 votes in the electoral college.

President Taft is sure of the votes of Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Vermont. These States cast 91 votes.

Either Governor Wilson or President Taft will carry Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Maine, Nebraska, Nevada, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Wisconsin and West Virginia. These States cast 168 votes in the electoral college.

Mr. Roosevelt, giving him every probable allowance, has a fighting chance only in Arizona, California, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. That he can carry all these States is highly improbable. If he should, he would have 87 votes in the electoral college. He can not hope to do better than that, and 87 votes will not cut any great figure in the total of 531 votes which the college will cast.

If, in addition to the 185 votes of which he is sure, Governor Wilson should defeat President Taft in New York, Illinois and Ohio, the three States the president has most reason to fear, the democratic candidate would have a clear majority of 17 votes in the college. But if the president can hold New York and Illinois, which are normally strongly republican and where his cause is in the hands of able and astute leaders, and a natural State pride gives him Ohio's vote again, he will be re-elected.

If the election were held today there is no doubt that Governor Wilson would sweep the country, and with the hostility of the third-termers urging them to any degree of opposition, the chances of defeating the democratic candidate in November are not bright, to say the least.

But if republicans must look forward with misgiving to the result of the fight with their old foe, they can at least win an even more desirable victory by casting their votes everywhere where they will count against Mr. Roosevelt and all that his ambition and his demagogic tactics stand for, and so help decisively to put an end to him politically.

The aim now should be to keep the party organization in tact in true men's hands, to resort to all honorable political means to see that no third-term party candidate is elected to any office, to job forces, wherever absolutely necessary, with political foes in order to defeat hatters and factional treachery, and in every way so to act as to make permanent and memorable the first great commandment of the gospel of fair play and decent sportsmanship—"Thou shalt not squeal."

The colonel got plenty of cheers as he tore through Vermont; he failed to get the votes. The same phenomenon will occur in November and after that a man who might have gone down in history with a very exaggerated estimate of his abilities will be remembered as the beaten and discredited leader of the most ephemeral party movement ever started in our politics.

The rise, fall and death and burial of the third-term ambitions of the colonel may well be celebrated in the words of a celebrated epitaph, inscribed on the headstone of a week old infant, buried in an old New England cemetery:

If so soon I was to be done for, I wonder what I was begun for. The Standard Oil disclosures will be blamed for the collapse of the Bull Moose party in the East; but the truth is the party never had half the following that is claimed. It was one part votes and three parts noise, thus preserving the harmony of things resembling its creators.

Four years from now the Bull Moose party will be a memory, the colonel will be flirting with some other nomination—possibly the socialist; the other leaders will be sneaking back into the party they betrayed and abused; and a handful of recalcitrants, assembled in some unnoted hall to listen to the bray of some stray wild ass of the desert will be all that is left of this strange delusion of demagoguery which has astounded sober minds.

There was, in truth absolutely no excuse for Mr. Roosevelt's third-term party except Mr. Roosevelt's own restless and insatiable desire to exercise power. The country is prosperous to a high degree; and its prosperity increases with each day. The party questions are clearly dealt with in the Chicago and Baltimore platforms. And the fads and theories in Mr. Roosevelt's patched up confession of faith are all embodied in the socialist declaration of principles.

Mr. Roosevelt started his active campaign in Columbus, Ohio, a few months ago by publishing what he called a new charter of democracy, the only original proposal in which was to submit supreme court decisions to reversal by popular vote. He dropped this panacea, and it's odds that he himself couldn't repeat ten lines of the document which was to revolutionize our politics. He went to Chicago and proposed to consent to the platform prepared by the regular republican convention if it would nominate him. He failed of nomination, and even then it did not occur to him to renounce the platform principles. But he loudly asserted that the sole issue upon which he would make an independent campaign would be the slogan, "Thou shalt not steal." This was in June, and he forgot it all in four weeks,

THE ROSARY

Ed. W. Roland and Edwin Cilford (Inc.) offers

A play of human interest. Founded upon an emblem of purity. By Edward E. Rose, Author of Janice Meredith, Alice of Old Vincennes, The Prisoner of Zenda, David Harum, The Spenders etc. The Great New York, Chicago and Boston Success.

SYNOPSIS OF PLAY.

Act I. Lawn in front of Bruce Wilton's country home, West Chester N. Y. "The hours I spent with thee dear heart are as a string of pearls to me."

Act II. One hour later. Bruce Wilton's study. "I count them over, ev-ry one a-part, My Ro-sa-ry! My Ro-sa-ry!"

Act III. Bruce Wilton's Study the next morning. "I tell each bead unto the end, and there a cross is hung."

Act IV. Outside the chapel one year later. "I kiss each bead and strive at last to learn to kiss the Cross, sweetheart! to kiss the Cross!"

and came out with a brand new war cry. Now he is rowing in the socialist boat and with the simple substitution of a red bandana for the red flag, is soliciting the votes of laborers on the plea that the social system is unjust and he will overturn it and make all things equal if he is re-elected. Within six months he has proclaimed three distinct sets of principles, each warranted at the moment to cure all political ills—and the ridiculous part of it is that thousands of Americans have changed their unalterable convictions each time the colonel built a new platform. Of course a party with no more fixity of purpose and no more stability of conviction, could not possibly become a permanent force in politics. Great parties are the result of the concurrence of many men in believing earnestly and enthusiastically in principle; not in the unreasoning hero worship which a capable demagogue excites and uses to further his personal fortunes. The collapse of the Roosevelt party was bound to come. But that it should have come with such speed, is indeed matter of surprise. It is dead as a door nail now, save in a few States, and it will be equally dead in those States in a few weeks. The battle from now on is between President Taft and Governor Wilson, and between them alone. Vermont has shown the way to the rest of the States, in accordance with her traditional habit. Excited by moving pictures of a fight between settlers and Indians, Emmett W. Allen, of Syracuse, N. Y. dropped dead.

ROOSEVELT ATTACKS WILSON

that leaders of the Progressive party have abandoned any serious attempt to meet the main issues of the campaign. He knows that is not in accord with the facts. There is not any issue in the campaign that we have not met with fearlessness, from the tariff to the trusts.

"He says that every day we seek new issues and shift the ground of debate. This is not again in accordance with the facts. Every issue he has raised I have met, and I have met it fairly by quoting his position, by stating it exactly, and then by answering it. I have shifted the ground of debate only when he has shifted it. The trouble has been that as soon as I have gotten on his ground, he realizes that he cannot meet me, and hastily jumps to my position."

In the case of great corporations like the Standard Oil, Col. Roosevelt said he believed the control of the government should be supreme.

"As long as the Standard Oil Company behaved itself," he continued, "no interference whatever would be had with it. But if the Standard Oil Company persistently misbehaved itself, the government authorities should appoint a receiver and run the concern until they received practical assurance that the directions of the government thereafter would be complied with; and if any man, high up in the Standard Oil Company behaved after the manner of Morse, the banker, this government would treat him as it treated Morse, and if I were in power, I would not pardon afterwards."

"Mr. Wilson's position as regards the trusts and all industrial questions is precisely like that of Mr. Buchanan in 1860 toward the dissolution of the Union. Mr. Buchanan said that the Union ought to be preserved, and then added that there was not any way to preserve it. He stated that secession was unconstitutional, but also that all methods for putting down secession were unconstitutional."

"Mr. Wilson says it is good to have fine purposes for helping labor and regulating the trusts but he is against every practical expedient toward that end. Mr. Wilson is the Buchanan of the present industrial situation in the United States."

At Ottawa, Col. Roosevelt said that W. H. Thompson, Democratic candidate for United States senator from Kansas, had uttered, "a deliberate falsehood" in saying that the Roosevelt campaign fund in 1904 amounted to $16,000,000.

J. R. Burton, formerly a Republican United States senator, Col. Roosevelt said he had been informed, was a Democratic candidate for state senator. He said that under his direction the department of justice had prosecuted Mr. Burton "in connection, I think, with a get-rich-quick scheme," and that he had been sent to prison.

"Mr. Burton is now running on the Democratic ticket for reform," he added, "in support of Mr. Wilson. I like to see the company they gather together."

Col. Roosevelt left tonight for Emporia, Kansas, where he will spend Sunday with William Allen White.

What One Tail Said of the Dog

By Associated Press.
Kansas City, Sept. 21.—"The tail said it was irregular for the dog to wag it," said Colonel Roosevelt today, concerning the statements that the Progressives had bolted the Republican party.

"In Nebraska, for instance, at the primaries last spring, Mr. Taft polled about one-sixth of the Republican vote; yet our opponents called themselves regular and they called the 83 or 84 per cent of the voters bolters."

"I am happy to say that the East is doing its best to catch up with the west," he said, "we are going to give a good account of ourselves along the Atlantic Coast in November."

Mr. and Mrs. Cade Complimented.

Complimentary to their guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cade, of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Cecil were host and hostess at a Dutch supper at their home, corner Lamar and Sixteenth streets last night. Sixteen couples of friends enjoyed the good things to eat and the toasts that followed.

A novel feature of the occasion was responses to toasts in song. These songs were most entertaining and the novelty of them made them the more delightful. George Taylor, one of the talented soloists of the city, sang to an accompaniment played by Miss Willie Cecil.

The Cecil home was tastefully decorated for the occasion and the affair was greatly enjoyed by all.

Mr. Cade was for many years an official of the Southern Pacific at Houston, and is a friend of Mr. Cecil's of many years standing. Mr. and Mrs. Cade are just completing a visit of several weeks here.

Wilson Delighted with Receptions.

By Associated Press.
Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 21.—Woodrow Wilson traveled homeward today from his first real campaign trip since he was nominated for the presidency. In the last five days, he visited Iowa, South Dakota, Minnesota, Michigan and Ohio.

"It is hard for me to view the trip objectively," said the governor today, "what interested me most was the friendliness of the people toward me and the friendly look in their faces. I observed especially that the plainest fellows were the most cordial. They seemed to feel that there was no selfishness and that I was accessible to them all."

"The trip, of course, was a new experience. I am a little the worse for wear, but I have enjoyed talking to the great crowds and meeting them. They seemed so interested and attentive."

Speaking of his reception at Co. Jumburg, the governor said: "It was extraordinary. It reminded me of a Jersey outpouring and I felt very much at home."

Finnish Athlete Wins Long Distance Running Event in Pittsburgh Meet

By Associated Press.
Pittsburg, Sept. 21.—Hannes K. Kolehmainen, the wonderful Finnish athlete running in the five mile race for the senior championship of the Amateur Union of the United States here today won the event easily in twenty-five minutes, 43-25 seconds.

His nearest competitor was Harry J. Smith, the metropolitan champion, who finished several hundred yards behind in an exhausted condition. The Finn was fresh at the finish. He ran easily and constantly waved and grinned to the thousands of spectators who applauded him. As he crossed the line a victor he was given a remarkable ovation.

By Associated Press.
Claremore, Okla., Sept. 21.—Jack Triplett, who is said by Jack Etter to have been the ring leader of the gang which Friday evening attacked Sheriff Sanders and Deputy Sheriff Starr following a liquor raid near Collinsville, was captured north of that town this afternoon. He was brought to Claremore. Because of talk of lynching the two men were taken to the jail at Vinita. Starr was killed in the fight and the sheriff was wounded but he captured Jack Etter.

25-Section Ranch Sold

By Associated Press.
El Paso, Texas, Sept. 21.—R. S. Coon of Dalhart has sold his 25-section ranch at Rehm in Dallam county, ten miles west of Dalhart, to Finch Brothers of Memphis, for $100,000. The deal carries with it the transfer of a lease on seventy sections of adjoining land. The ranch is to be stocked with high grade cattle.

Breeding of Bears

A CINNAMON BEAR

RESULTS of twenty-one years' study of the breeding of bears are set forth in a statement from the National Zoological Park. It was in 1904 that A. H. Baker, assistant superintendent of the park, published an account of the breeding of the American black bear at Silver Lake Park, Ohio. This paper, which appeared in the Smithsonian Miscellaneous Collections, covered a period of twelve years' study. The present pamphlet forms Smithsonian Publication No. 2086.

The bears under observation are kept at Silver Lake Park, a small resort near Akron, O. When the undertaking was first established a collection of hardy animals was started in a bear pit. The first bears put there were a pair of cubs, obtained in 1888, from two different localities near Lake Superior. The pair bred regularly for eighteen years, and raised in all about thirty-four cubs, including all the breeding bears, sixty-eight or sixty-nine cubs were raised during the twenty-one years of observation.

The original pit is circular in form, and built of brick, twenty feet across and twelve feet deep. It is connected by an underground passage with a similar pit, to which the bears can be transferred when desirable. These pits are located in the dry hillside, which slopes towards the east. The floor is of terra-cotta blocks set in cement, so that the place can be readily washed out with a hose. The pit is provided with a tank, in order that the inmates may bathe.

Important features of the bears' quarters are the retiring dens, which provide suitable places for hibernation. There are two of these connected with each pit, as well as one near the entrance passage. Each den is five feet by six feet in width, and four feet in height, and is lined with brick throughout. They are excavated back into the earth several feet from the pit, and extend eight or ten feet below the surface of the ground. Each is ventilated by a small flue extending to the surface above the dens.

Become Fat in Fall.

In the fall of the year, when the bears are about to retire for the winter, they become very fat. As cold weather approaches, large quantities of leaves are thrown into the pit, and are carried by the bears into their dens. Much of their time is spent there, but they come out for an occasional meal until the advent of settled cold weather, about the middle of December, when they finally retreat to their dens for the winter. Generally they come out from hibernation early in March, having remained in seclusion for about three months.

It is stated by W. R. Lodge, manager of Silver Lake Park, that the bears have always come out, after hibernating for two or three months, in practically as good condition as when they went in, none of them showing thinness, in spite of having eaten nothing during that time. Nor do they appear to be particularly hungry, for at the first meal they take but little food, touching with the tongue what is offered to them before eating it. It is only after three or four days, or perhaps a week, that they eat with appetite. The young are born usually in January, while the animals are in hibernation. The weight of the newborn cubs ranges between nine and twelve ounces. They are plump little fellows with short velvety hair of grayish-brown color. Fortunately, none of the cubs have been lost except through accident, and the death of one bear, twenty months old, was the only loss by disease.

The food which is supplied to the bears is similar to that which they get in their wild state, hotel picnic tables affording a large amount of miscellaneous scraps, to which is added an abundance of green food from nearby farms. This begins in the spring, with dandelion tops, followed by clover, green corn, watermelons, strawberries, and other fruit. In the fall acorns are gathered for them, and they have dried sweet corn and apples. Occasionally a too venturesome hen or pigeon is caught and eaten, but the bears get no other meat except a little that has been cooked. The surplus bears have been disposed of from time to time, from eight to ten months old, to animal dealers, at from $25 to $20 each.

The defense of educational dissipation, brought on by an orgy of literature, is set up by James M. Wintersteen, a Philadelphia homicide.

the highest price received for a grown bear being $75.

Another pamphlet by Baker contains notes on mammals which are rare or have seldom been kept in confinement. Two live specimens of a "Haitian insectivore," Solenodon paradoxus, were collected by Franklin Adams of the Pan-American Union in the Dominican Republic and presented to the Natural Zoo. This rare animal is a small rat-like creature with a queer upturned snout, long stiff tail, and oddly clawed feet. It is not a rat, however, but a relative of moles, shrews, hedgehogs, etc. It lives in the ground, and is of nocturnal habits.

Lophomys lbeanus.
A collection of animals which was received at the Zoo park in December, 1909, from the British East African Expedition contained a specimen of an extraordinary East African rodent called Lophomys lbeanus. It occurs in the higher parts of the country, and is known only to the natives. At the urgent request of G. H. Goldfinch, Assistant Game Warden of British East Africa, two specimens were got for him from the forest near Nakuru, at about 8,000 feet altitude. Goldfinch forwarded them to Nairobi, whence they were shipped with the collection of the animals presented to the park by W. N. McMillan. One died at Port Said, but the other came through safely.

Of this animal Goldfinch says that it lives in the trees in the thick forest of the high country and feeds on leaves and tender shoots. In captivity, however, it eats cabbages, sweet potatoes, and other vegetables, being especially fond of sweet potato leaves and ends. The natives are averse to handling the creature, believing its bite to be poisonous. It is strictly nocturnal, and its slow movements are suggestive of the Canada porcupine. When disturbed, it erects the long hair on the sides of its body, leaving a deep furrow from the ear to the tail. In the bottom of this furrow is short and peculiarly modified spongy hair. When the animal is quiet, the fur closes over this band of short hair, entirely concealing it. Exactly what this furrow represents is not clear, but it probably surrounds a gland.

The dormouse of Europe has a somewhat similar peculiarity. There is so little information regarding the rate of growth of wild animals, that Baker has taken the pains to record the weights of a male Alaska Peninsula brown bear in the park. The weights have been made annually for the past eleven years. This bear was captured near Douglass Settlement at the western entrance of Cook's Inlet, Alaska, in May, 1901, being then about three and one-half months old. In May, 1901, it had reached 1,160 pounds.

Their Romance.
"He loves me, he loves me not," said Maud Muller, as she went through the garden picking potato bugs off the potato plants.
"He loves me."
She picked a potato bug.
"He loves me not."
She picked another potato bug.
"A thrifty girl, forsooth," declared the judge. "Instead of playing that game with daisy petals, she plays it with potato bugs."
He proposed, they were married, and if the recall of judges does not go into effect they will doubtless live happily.

Uncertain.
Jane, aged nine, always brings home very satisfactory reports from school, invariably getting "A" in elementary science.
"Uncle Tom, looking over one of her reports the other evening, asked Jane, just what elementary science meant.
"Well," said the little girl, hesitating a moment, "I'm not quite sure whether it is the study of wild animals or the insides of us."—August Woman's Home Companion.

Those Dear Girls.
Maud—My dressmaker says it's such a pleasure to fit a gown to me.
Marie—Considers it a sort of triumph, I suppose. They say the true artist delights in difficulties.

Change of Policy.
"My policy is never say die."
"You'll change that when you find your hair turning gray."

An ordinance enacted at Gary, Ill., provides a fine of $25 if a fellow and his girl are caught riding together on a motorcycle.

A Good Season and a Bountiful Crop is the Cause of More Money

Which has prompted us to buy several carloads of heating stoves, cook stoves and steel ranges. In fact, we bought so many stoves that we had to rent another room, 807 Indiana Avenue, to store our immense surplus stock of all kind of stoves and ranges, pipe, elbows and the thousands of other fall and winter goods that we bought during the past season in anticipation of our trade in the stove line.

Here we show you our Economy Heater. Only $8.00. Can't be duplicated for $12.00 by any one. We have sold nearly a thousand of these Economys and everyone is a standing advertisement. Notice its neat appearance. We have nothing better to offer you in this line of construction. For a nice low priced gas heater the Economy can't be beat.

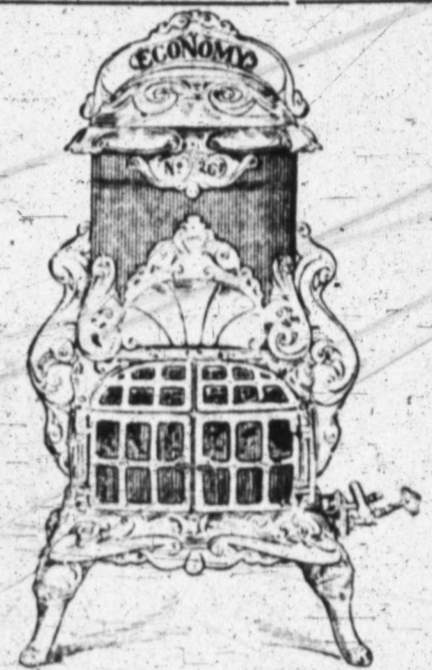

The hot blast heater that burns any old thing on the place, wood, coal, cobs, chips, sawdust, etc. In fact it is as handy to have about the house as a goat.

Herewith We Show You a Few Samples of the Hundreds of Different Kinds and Makes of the Very Best Stoves That Your Money Can Buy.

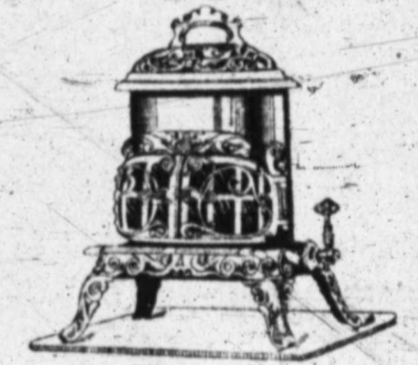

In open and closed reflection or asbestos back heaters, we have the greatest assortment that can be found anywhere. We have hundreds of these stoves in any size or kind that are made. In fact we bought too many stoves and now its up to us to "unload" and we are making the very lowest price in order that we may dispose of this immense stock of beautiful gas stoves. We are not showing every kind of stove that we have in this advertisement, because an entire page wouldn't hold one tenth part of them. We have hundreds of wood and coalburning stoves of all descriptions.

Other good gas stoves that we sell are the Radiant, a down draft base heater for natural gas. "Ye Mayflower," an open grate fire in a stove. This stove is "a dream." See it. Remember we have every thing in the Stove and Hardware line. It was the Wichita Hardware Co. who first introduced the all Steel Clark's Jewel Gas Ranges in Wichita Falls just as we introduced all other new and good things that come out in our line. We sold eight Economy Fire Place Furnaces since Monday morning at $45.00 each. Why? Because we told the public they were good and those who have bought them found it to be true, and they told their friends. Buy your stoves from a regular stove house.

Parlor Economy. What would look nicer in the front room of a modest little cottage than this Parlor Economy? Its just as pretty as can be. The general construction of this stove is same as the other Economys for the reason that it is perfect.

This is another low down Economy, a very desirable pattern for light house-keeping. General construction same as regular Economy. Equally as good heater.

TEXAS BREWING CO. SUED IN CLAY COUNTY

Alleged Fort Worth Concern Solicited Business in Prohibition Territory

(Henrietta Independent)
County Attorney Leslie Humphrey has filed in the district court a suit wherein he seeks to recover for the state and county the sum of $12,000 alleged occupation tax due for following the occupation of soliciting for the sale of intoxicating liquors in prohibition territory by the Texas Brewing Company of Fort Worth. The petition, after setting out that Clay county is prohibition territory alleges that the defendant brewing company has for two years through the medium of the United States mail solicited orders for the sale of intoxicating liquors, but has paid no occupation tax therefor, the law requires them to pay to the county the sum of $2000 per year and to the state the sum of $4000 a year, and suit is brought to collect these occupation tax.

While the brewing company has sold some of its wet goods to people of Clay county, it is not probable that it has sold anything like $12,000 worth and the probability is that they will put up a strong fight to resist the payment of the tax.

THE CONFERENCE BARREN OF RESULTS

Coal Operators and Mine's in West Virginia Fail to Reach Any Agreement

(By Associated Press. Charleston, West Va., Sept. 21.—The conference of West Virginia business men coal operators and miners called for today by Governor Glasscock to discuss conditions in the Kanawh coal field now under martial law because of the strike of miners, adjourned late today without anything being accomplished. The meeting was called to devise means of ending the strike and to plan legislation aiming at better control of the region.

Fatal Quarrel over Trivial Matter
(By Associated Press. Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 21.—When J. W. Camp, a bicycle policeman, and S. A. Belding, a patrolman, and room-mates, became angry this morning over a trivial matter. Both reached for their pistols on their bureau. Camp was the quickest by the flash of an eyelash and ended the quarrel with a bullet killing his friend instantly. They had roomed together for years. A policeman found Camp sitting beside the others body and Camp said "It's all right, I've just been forced to kill my best friend. I had to kill him to save myself."

BELIEVED MARINES HAVE FOUGHT A BATTLE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—Early dispatches to the State Department contained no news of Rear Admiral Sutherland and his marine force, who were believed to have fought a decisive battle with the revolutionists who sought to delay their march to the relief of Grenada in Nicaragua.

Officials were puzzled by the difficulty of communication with Sutherland but no uneasiness was felt for the safety of the United States forces. Officials here said this force was more than equipped to deal with any rebel force it might meet.

Y. M. C. A. STATIONARY IN PLACE OF BANK NOTES

Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 21.—The fact that some of the magazine pages substituted for the $70,000 stolen in transit between this city and Flomaton, Alabama, on Wednesday were stamped Y. M. C. A. was the only additional information given out in connection with the robbery today.

Whether the magazine was taken from the local Y. M. C. A. or in some other city was not learned.

A Southern express company official today said he believed an arrest would be made in the next few days.

Trainmen's Strike Averted.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 21.—An agreement was signed today by both sides settling the wage and other questions which have been in dispute for several weeks between the Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio and the Virginian railways and the trainmen of those roads. As a consequence there will be no trainmen's strike. The terms of settlement were not made public. The trainmen wanted 15 to 16 per cent wage increase.

The Socialists' View of Freedom.

Justin Miles Forman begins a new serial story in the October Woman's Home Companion entitled "Through the Open Door." It is a "Votes For Women" story and will probably create considerable discussion among those interested in this subject.

In the first chapter a young Socialist, talking to an eighteen year old girl on the subject of freedom says:

"I mean just what I say. People ought to want freedom. They ought to want it so hard that they'd be in physical agony for the lack of it. They ought to stand up together in a gigantic yearning army and take it. Instead of which they run about in little circles and yammer about wages and agreements, and interest and votes and the fair division of property. Property—that everlasting fetish of property! The rich man has it in square miles, and yet he hasn't enough; the poor man howls that he isn't given his fair share. If they dream at night, they dream of money or of some kind of beastly happiness that money can buy for them. They never even think of the word freedom or, if they do, they mean freedom to gobble more wealth, more property. Freedom's just a doorway to them—a means, not the summit and end of all things.

"Very few people have ever even dreamed of what freedom is. You see, things have got into a most terrible mess. This idea of property has blinded and crazed everyone. And, such as it is, there's no doubt it's badly distributed, and that it's going from bad to worse. The rich have got too much of it, together with the power it gives, and the poor too little. That was well enough—up to a certain breaking point—under the old feudal system. Social classes were hard and fast things. There weren't any newspapers, nor schools, nor votes, nor walking delegates. The poor expected to be poor, and that was an end of it. And now that there is education of a kind, now that there's a popular press, now that labor has begun to think—well, there's another breaking point ahead, I fancy. Another social war. Another French revolution.

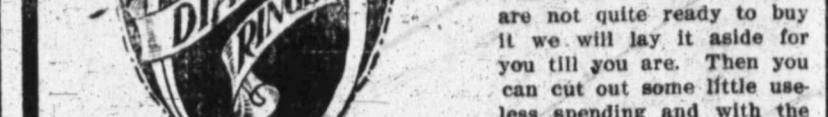

"After that freedom, perhaps. A chance for it anyhow. After that great leveling, when property is no longer gathered into a big terrifying heap here and there, but is spread about under foot, perhaps it will lose its fascination for the men who are living then. Then there'll grow up a race that's truly free. Free to develop, each one of them, as his own nature indicates and permits. That'll be a race of giants."

42 Party Complimentary to Miss Moore.

Mrs. O. B. Womack delightfully entertained a party of young people at her home, 1400 Scott avenue Wednesday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Ludie Mas Moore of Dalgerfield, Texas, who is her guest. Forty-two was the diversion of the evening and a number of lively games were played. Mr. Newland won the honors of the evening and was presented with a box of stationary. Refreshments of home made cake and ice cream were served. The guests included the Misses Taylor, Mary and Emma Tittle, Cliff, and Willie, the honoree and the Messrs. DuVal, Newland, Moore, Woods, Scott and McDowell.

Christian Endeavor Social.

A very pleasant evening was spent by the Christian Endeavors of the First Presbyterian Church and their friends Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Beavers, 1310 8th street. Charles and musical numbers formed the entertainment. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Ricks-Taylor Nuptials.

At the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. W. T. Pedigo Wednesday evening Miss Leva Margaret Taylor was united in marriage to John T. Ricks. The ceremony was pronounced by Rev. C. D. Crouch and was witnessed by a number of friends and relatives. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served. Among the guests were: Mrs. Goodloe Taylor, of Henrietta; Mrs. Hugh Ricks, Misses Kate and Eldine Ricks, Miss Ruby Ricks, of Denison; Miss Ethel Wright, Mrs. Joe Ricks, Mrs. J. Holtzen and Messrs. John Caruthers and Edgar P. Haney. The happy couple will be at home to their friends at 804 Fifth street.

Oil Men's Dance.

An event that is being looked forward to with pleasurable anticipation by the oil men and their friends is the dance and oyster supper to be given by the Wichita Falls Oil Men's Association at the Lake Wichita pavilion next Wednesday evening. The affair will be strictly invitational and prominent oil men will attend from Burkburnett, Electra, Archer City and other towns in the oil belt. Prominent oil men are chairmen of the various committees. The decorations will be arranged by R. J. Marin and the orchestra will be under the direction of Prof. Katz.

Street cars will begin leaving the city shortly after 8 p. m. Oysters will be served during the intermissions on the first floor of the pavilion.

The dance program will be unique. It is promised, and will be made up of numbers particularly interesting to oil men. A cotillion will be danced consisting of waltzes, two-steps, quadrilles and the Virginia reel, each number being dedicated to various institutions in Wichita Falls.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cade. Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Cecil enter-

AUTUMN.

The red moon swings above, the apple trees,
 The yellow pumpkin ripens in the maize;
 Purple grapes drip honey for the bees,
 And the crisp wind laughs to see the wood fire's blaze.
 Sweet, odorous autumn comes in scarlet gown,
 Gold-banded, 'broided with pomgranates rare;
 O'erflowing blooms and full-juiced fruits her crown,
 Basking in delicious sweetness there.
 Golden rods in splendor crown the way,
 Blue gentians look toward heaven from grasses brown;
 The trees rejoice in crimson banners gay,
 And children shout as they shake the ripe nuts down.
 A mellow richness cheers the heart like wine;
 O Autumn! dreams and perfect days are thine.

—Anna Hughes Carpenter

Birth Party.

Master Julius Hartman celebrated his 8th birthday at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. John T. Woodhouse of 1006 Lamar street, by inviting his little friends to a Mexican Pinate on Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 p. m. The Pinate suspended from the ceiling represented a bull-fighter, the body being filled with candy, nuts, etc. Each child blindfolded had a chance to break it with a cane. John Rhea Duke succeeded in breaking it and everybody scrambled to gather up the candy that fell to the floor. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and fruits were served later and all went home reporting a glorious time.

Those invited were Gladys and Kate Lane, Cell and Lillian Fowler, Mary Frances Collier, Burdette and Leva Clabey, Isabel Waller, Frances Lane, Eugenia Lane, Eldred Skeen, Jack Ross, Al Brothers, Margaret Smith, Ruth and Dorothy Nolan, Judith Sherrod, Darrel and Mabel Wooten, Thelma Taylor and John Rhea Duke.

Thursday Afternoon Sewing Club.

The Thursday afternoon Sewing Circle met last week with Mrs. M. J. Gardner on Tenth street, and several pleasant hours were spent in sewing and conversation. Refreshments were served to those present who were Mesdames M. J. Gardner, C. R. Hartsook, C. B. Montgomery, J. W. Murph, N. M. Jenne, A. Rowan, J. D. Pressly, J. O. McDowell and

A MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY OF FALL MODELS

LADIES' EVENING WRAPS, SUITS AND COATS

No matter what you wish, the most artistic garments of the season will be found at McClurkan's—The collection embraces all the fashionable styles in a charming selection of fabrics and garniture that bears the stamp of individuality and exclusiveness. For many weeks our buyers searched the markets for the latest creations and the comments made daily proves to us their quest this season has been unusually successful—We invite a comparison of the qualities, prices and selection afforded with those offered elsewhere

New Tailored Suits for Fall

There will be a great season for Tailored Suits. Never have such preparations been made as for this season. Particular attention is called to our lines of different models, which you will see for the first time this week: Serge, Diagonals, Belords, boucles, Kane Wear Serge and Chevics; coats 32 inches long, all satin or silk lined, shields, one, two and three buttons, straight or cutaway of fairs, plain and braided trimmed, skirts also plaited, panel and drape effects, in all the new Fall colorings and black.

Evening and Afternoon Wraps

Of particular beauty is our new showing of evening and afternoon wraps, for party and theatre wear. We have them in light blue, India pink, white and tope Charmeuse, white Chinchilla, imported, lamb's wool, velour and bouclay, in a number of handsome designs.

An Authoritative Showing of Autumn Fashions In Silks and Dress Goods

The new silks and dress goods in the autumn colorings and patterns come straight to us with authoritative claim of correctness as to mode and exclusive fashion. Our buyer has sought every market of prestige, and we display fashion's newest fabrics gathered from Europe and our own fashion centers. It is truly a pageant of fine, correct and exclusive style—fabrics that touch every point of excellence. Every staple texture, coloring and weight is represented here. It is a showing of style, beauty and elegance that will inspire admiration for the new creations. The new colorings over which Paris and New York are crazy: Vieux rouge, new blue, geranium, brown, catwaba, dull rose, Kitty Gordon, green, primrose, American beauty, stem taupe, amber, gold and morning dew. The authoritative fabrics are charmeuse, in plain, brocaded and crepe effects; crepe meteor, juay chiffons and messaline Katine, embossed charmeuse, chiffon volles and veivets.

Silk tailored suiting, jeyeled and spangled robes, bordered, chiffons, charmeuse and volles, French chiffons, taffetas and messalines, bengaline, in both plain and changeable. The new materials in woollens are Scotch, English and French suitings in handsome stripes, plaids and mixtures, veour de laine, in jacquard and velvet designs, wide wale diagonals, boucles, zibelines in plain weaves and mixtures, and the latest Sarouk Eponge suitings.

Miss McCluskey, who has been our dressmaker for a number of years, is with us again this season. She is a most expert cutter and fitter, and ladies desiring especially nice work will do well to call on her.

Separate Coats—New Models

Never have the styles been so varied. We make a splendid showing of 52, inch, 45-inch and 36-inch. The rough materials are very popular this season, such as Chinchilla, Striped Diagonals, Velours, Melrose, Mammish Mixtures and English Tweeds. One very special coat for this season is a large check in plain and two-tone, 36 inches long, others are long and three-quarter lengths and have the shawl, sailor collars, fancy button trimmed and belted effects.

The New Mackinaw

A handsome novelty for ladies street wear is the new Mackinaw. Made in 36 inch lengths, of checks and stripes and solid colors, with belt and buckle, and soft roll collar, it makes a serviceable, stylish garment. It should be popular with all smart dressers. We also show a line of beautiful Norfolk suits for Misses and Girls.

Scene from The Rosary here Friday Night

This beautiful new play, "The Rosary," under the direction of Rowland & Clifford, will be presented at the Wichita Theatre next Friday night.

What is the cause of marital unrest? Why is it that the percentage of divorce cases rises steadily every year in the United States? Why should it be that today--tomorrow you may meet your happily married friend, and in response to your question regarding his wife, he shakes his head and replies, "Divorced!" Why should all this be?

These are questions that the ablest minds have wrestled with for the past decade without even a mediocre answer. But the question will not down; it confronts every thinking man and woman over and over again. Legal brains have tried to reply; orators have used their eloquence; the papers have printed reams of matter and the pulpit has thundered its fulminations. Still the question remains unanswered--unsolved.

Now comes a modern play ensuing a drama called "The Rosary" written by Edward E. Ross, and produced by the well known theatrical managers, Messrs. Rowland & Clifford. Quietly and modestly, with no blaze of trumpets, it projects a quiet word into this turmoil of opinions, which many believe will revolutionize our ethics of marriage and divorce.

"Look within," it says. "Look into the hearts and souls of our men and women today. See if there be within the same rugged faith that carried a Republic from the wilderness and raised above it our Stars and Stripes. Search for the abiding reliance on things unseen, which forever held up our pioneers when they faltered under privation, dangers and hardships."

For an illustration--"The Rosary" takes you into the heart of a typical American family. It shows the peace and happiness there, then suddenly unmask the canker spot--lack of faith in the husband. Slowly, little by little, is seen this devastating power of atheism; how it saps the strength and melts the will, so that when doubt and suspicion creep in they find the soil fertile for their direct descendants. Hatred and revenge, and the home goes down to ruin with a crash. Then comes the spiritual power of a great man, a priest, whose life is given to mankind. Slowly by sheer faith he analyzes the situation and leads the two forth, the husband and wife whom he loves, out of the darkness of their despair to happiness and peace.

That is "The Rosary" and the discussions that will follow its production will do much to clear the smoke of idle theories from this tremendous question which undermines the happiness and well being of every American home.

Street Car Manners.

In an article on Etiquette in the October Woman's Home Companion appears the following about street and street car manners:

"A woman should get on a car ahead of a man, but when they leave it, the man should descend first, and be ready to give the woman his hand to help her to the ground. If the car is crowded and another man rises to give a seat to the woman escorted by a man, the latter should lift his hat in recognition of the courtesy. If a woman is alone, she should acknowledge the offer of a seat by a bow and a word of thanks. The man who is escorting a woman pays her fare; but should lift his hat when she is escorted by a man to do this."

"It is taken for granted, of course, that a man should lift his hat when meeting a woman, or when walking with anyone who bows to someone, whether he knows the person bowed to or not. Also, he should take off his hat in answering a question put to him by a woman; when he steps aside to make way for her, or shows her any other courtesy; when he gets into an elevator with her, or enters a shop with her, and he should stand uncovered during a chance conversation with a woman on the street. If a man meets a woman--he knows, it is her part to bow first. Even if she is not on good terms with him, she should incline her head, no matter with how cold and distant a manner. Only a very violent misdeed can justify a woman in giving a man or indeed, another woman, the cut direct.

The same quietness of demeanor which marks well bred people in public conveyances or meeting places should be practiced on the street. Carresses in public, or calling to acquaintances the width of the street away, are distinctly bad form; and a lack of consideration for others is shown in the carelessness which does not keep to the right side of the sidewalk in promenade, which rushes through swinging doors without a backward glance, to see whom the door may catch in the rebound, which presses in ahead at box office and ticket office with no respect for the rights of those earlier on the ground. Another violation of courtesy is to be laid to the charge of the man who smokes on the street when with a woman."

is highly recommended by physicians and patrons who have tested its merits, for indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, kidney and bladder trouble. This water stimulates the secretion of the stomach, increases digestion and favors a more complete absorption of the food and prevents the action of germs that cause typhoid and other infectious diseases.

This water can be purchased at the wells or delivered in jugs or cases. This well is located one mile south of Alamo school building in Floral Heights, two deliveries daily morning and afternoon. O. J. Robatch, Owner. Phone 1601--1 long--4 shorts.

versity or college and have the necessary credits to enter such an institution. The problem which confronts some is, where shall I decide to go? While with others the question is whether or not it is advisable to return to school?

In most cases the problem is solved by some one older and supposedly wiser than themselves and the result is that every day sees two or three boys or girls leaving for different points to enter universities and colleges for a year of work.

Some prefer Texas schools, while others have a decided leaning towards out of state institutions. The fact that several who have attended Texas colleges this year would seem to indicate that Texas schools are at least up to the standard of the others if not superior to them.

Among the most popular schools in Texas with Wichita Falls students seems to be the State University which will this year enroll more than twenty boys and girls from this city practically everyone of whom is a graduate of the Wichita Falls high school. Baylor and Southwestern Universities and Kidd-Key College will be tied for second place among Texas schools with an enrollment of two each from this city.

Lenox Hall, at St. Louis, Mo., will be able to boast of four or five Wichita Falls students, and although a total of fifty or sixty young people from this city have left or will leave soon for school, the number seems to be equally divided among a dozen or more other schools both in and out of the State.

The students who have already left or will leave for colleges and universities within the next few days include Misses Bertha May Kemp, Mabelle Jackson, Lillian McGregor and Kathleen Stonecipher, all of whom will attend school at Lenox Hall in St. Louis; Miss Grace Nolan, Kidd-Key College at Sherman; Miss Blanche Kahn, Stanley Hall, Minneapolis; Miss Edna Gaston, Fort Worth; Miss Genevieve Carver, Glenn Eden, Poughkeepsie, New York; Miss Edith Mathis, Kidd-Key, Sherman; Misses Bess Kell and Annie Freear, Sweet Briar College, Virginia; Miss Kathleen Blair, Briar Cliff, New York; Miss Thresa Snider, Baylor College, Waco; Miss Edna Walker, Baylor College, Waco; Miss Ruth Bulloch, instructor at Kidd-Key, Sherman; Joseph Kell and Allen Montgomery, Terrell School, Dallas; Overton McDowell and Merle Waggoner, Southwestern University, Georgetown; Wiley Blair Pawling, New York; Robert Huff, Copper School, Abilene; Will Christensen, Peacock Military School, San Antonio.

Those who will attend the University of Texas are Misses Annie Carrigan, Gladys Trueblood, Myrtle Henderson, Muriel Hickman and Wascor Yeager, Wiley Fuller, Perry Laecke, Joe Ward, Harold Murph, Wayne Somerville, Laverne Sommerville, Ralph Mathis, Edison Jalonick, Bracks Hawthorne, Gerald Pond and several others.

Leroy Schurer will enter the Missouri School of Mines at Rolla, Missouri.

San Jacinto Mothers' and Teachers' Club.

The Mothers' and Teachers' Club of San Jacinto school met Thursday afternoon at 3:30 for its first meeting during this school term.

The president not being present, Miss Simmons was chosen chairman and read a report of the last meeting of the club and reviewed the entire work of last year.

The following officers were then elected: President, Mrs. Hammond; Vice President, Mrs. McAbee; Secretary, Miss Simmons; Reporter, Miss Trimble.

Committees were appointed and an enthusiastic discussion of plans for this year's work was entered into by all present. It was decided to finish paying for the piano and equip the school ground with suitable play apparatus.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, October 17th at 3:30. All San Jacinto mothers are urged to be present.

SOCIETY PERSONALS

Mrs. M. L. Reid and daughters, Mrs. T. T. Reese and Miss Agnes, who have been spending the summer in Detroit, Michigan, and other points on the Great Lakes, returned to their home in this city Tuesday night.

Reasons Why the People of Wichita County Should Insure With The Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company

1. Laws of Texas makes it impossible for a Policy Holder to lose one cent in a legal reserve life insurance company.
2. Our assets are invested in real estate which is valued (under oath) at from three to five times the amount loaned.
3. Its policies are as good and as cheap as the best.
4. It is owned and officered by home people whom you know to possess honor, integrity and business ability.
5. Your money remains at home, and is loaned and invested in this territory and in the ordinary channels of business drifts back to you.
6. Every dollar sent away for life insurance that can be purchased in Wichita Falls, is contributed to the building up of another city and the corresponding discouragement towards the development of your home city and its institutions.
7. It has admitted assets, for the protection of Policy Holders, amounting to $276,043.65 or $61.47 to every dollar of reserve required by law to be deposited with the State Treasurer for the protection of Policy Holders.
8. In point of strength and security to Policy Holders, it is among the leading companies of the United States.

The train crew of the northbound freight that left Chillicothe last Wednesday at 9 o'clock had a battle with a bunch of tramps who had been hanging about the train for some time.

not avail and a battle between the trainmen and the hoboes followed. The train was running at a speed of thirty miles and the brakemen being surer of their footing, were getting the best of the argument, and one of the uninvited guests was knocked off his feet, and the last seen of him was when rolling down the embankment.

At that time the tramps pulled out six-shooters, and drove their opponents back to the caboose. The latter had to extinguish the lights as it made them too easy targets, and one of the boldest hoboes even ventured into the caboose with a knife in his hand. With the aid of a monkey wrench he was put to flight, however. At the water tank near Quannah, the train stopped and was uncoupled from the engine, which went on to Chillicothe. Not a trace of the vagabonds was found by the officers, and it is supposed that they walked out of town, and secured transportation elsewhere. The night being dark, no accurate description of their assailants could be given by the trainmen.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

The democratic campaign fund managers will now publish one copy given by S. Pope of Enfield, N. C.

BAYLOR COUNTY LOCAL OPTION ELECTION

274 Voters Petition For Election and One Ordered On Oct. 12—How the County Has Voted

Baylor county voters will have an opportunity on Saturday, October 12 to again express their choice as to whether intoxicating liquor shall be sold within the limits of the county. A petition bearing 275 names was presented to the commissioners court last week. After careful scrutiny it was found by the court that there were 251 qualified voters on the list, 259 being necessary to call an election. The last election was held March 1, 1902, when saloons were voted out by a vote of 319 to 194. On July 22, 1911, statewide prohibition carried in the county by 605 to 565. In the primary election July 27, 1912, Colquhoun led Rawley by 46 votes and Shepard beat Walters 154 votes.—Baylor County Banner.

IT MUST BE TRUE.

Wichita Falls Readers Must Come to That Conclusion.

It is not the telling of a single case in Wichita Falls, but scores of citizens testify. Endorsement by people you know bears the stamp of truth. The following is one of the public statements made in this locality about Doan's Kidney Pills: Mrs. W. M. Langford, 309 Lee St., Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for several years and I am glad to join others in recommending them, as they did me such excellent service. There were times when my back was so painful that I could not sleep at night. I also had pains in my sides and when I got up in the morning, I was more tired than when I went to bed. My kidneys were weak. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and they promptly relieved me of all pains and strengthened my kidneys. Since then I have taken a box of Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally and they have kept my kidneys in good working order."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

New York bricklayers are the highest paid mechanics in the building trades in the United States, their wage being 75 cents an hour, with double pay for overtime over eight hours' work and for Sunday and holiday work. They also have the closest day work. They also have the closest sub-contracting system.

Miss Mabelle Jackson left last Wednesday morning for St. Louis, to enter Lenox Hall for a year of school work. She is a member of last year's graduating class at the Academy of Mary Immaculate.

Mrs. W. M. McGregor, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Lillian, left last Wednesday morning to place Miss Lillian in school at Lenox Hall in St. Louis.

Miss Kathleen Stonecipher, who has been attending school for the last two years at Lenox Hall in St. Louis, left Wednesday morning to begin her third year's work in the same institution.

Miss Annie Carrigan, who last year attended school at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville, will leave in a few days for Austin to enter the University of Texas.

Mrs. T. R. T. Orth is expected to return here in a few days after spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. B. F. Terry in Dallas.

Miss Bess Kell accompanied by her sister, Miss Carrie, left Friday morning for Sweet Briar, Virginia, where Miss Bess will enter Sweet Briar College. Miss Annie Freear has been in Sweet Briar for some time and will also attend school there.

Miss Blanche Kahn will leave Monday morning for Minneapolis, Minn., to re-enter Stanley Hall for another year of school work.

Miss Edna Gaston will leave next week for Fort Worth, to attend school in that city for a year.

The wedding of Miss Willie Adickes to Mr. Bush Leigh at the home of the bride's parents in Huntville, occurred Wednesday September 11th and was one of the most beautiful ever witnessed in Huntville. The spacious home was decorated throughout in white and green, and southern smiles rioted over windows and doors and banks of ferns filled every recess. According to newspaper accounts no more charming setting could have been arranged for the affair, which was attended by elegantly gowned women and handsome men, the scene being one of unusual beauty as the guests shifted from room to room. The wedding was attended by Miss Audrey Adickes of this city who returned here only a few days ago. Miss Adickes is well known here having visited Mrs. Minnie Adickes and family for several weeks.

MISSOURI SAFE IN DEMOCRATIC CAMP

There Are No Factions in Missouri
To Hinder Progress of Governor Wilson There

(By Frederick W. Steckham, special Correspondent of the Washington Post.)
St. Louis, Sept. 21.—What will Missouri do in the presidential election?

This question, frequently asked by students of politics, is easily answered. Missouri will give Woodrow Wilson eighteen electoral votes.

Anyone who doubts this prediction may verify it by dropping into any city or hamlet in the "Show Me" State. And the ninth congressional district, which Champ Clark has represented with honor and distinction at Washington for many years, is not farred in the investigation.

The "bloody ninth," as it has been called since the terrific battle for supremacy between Mr. Clark and Col. Dick Norton nearly a quarter of a century ago, has never failed to roll up a majority for the Democratic national standard-bearer and it won't fall behind this year.

There are no factions in Missouri now to hinder the progress of Governor Wilson there. Internal dissensions coupled with local conditions, lost the state to Mr. Bryan in 1908 by a plurality of only 629 out of 692,777 votes cast. Family differences also cost Judge Parker the state in 1904.

These sore spots have been removed and even the most optimistic Republican or Third Term party man must admit that there is little comfort for either of them. The united, militant Democracy of the imperial state, is now only awaiting the dawn of November 5 to show its loyalty to the men nominated by the historic convention at Baltimore.

It has often been said that any man can be a good winner, but only a real man can be a good loser. The Missouri Democrat belongs in the latter classification.

Not only was this made evident when Speaker Clark hastened to congratulate his successful rival after the Baltimore victory had been announced for the New Jersey man, but on more than one occasion Missouri Democrats have shown their manhood in local scraps.

When Mr. Clark bested Former

Governor Joseph W. Folk in the fight for the Missouri presidential endorsement, Mr. Folk was the first to extend the hand of good fellowship. When Folk beat James A. Reed for the gubernatorial nomination, Reed didn't sulk; but put his shoulder to the wheel and helped elect Folk by 40,000 in the year that Roosevelt carried the state by 25,000.

Later when Folk aspired to succeed William J. Stone in the United States Senate, only to suffer his first defeat at the hands of the Old Roman, how one of the real fighters on the Democratic side at Washington, he spurned the suggestion of designing Republicans that he contest Stone's election in the primary before the Legislature.

"Every friend of mine," he said, "will vote for Senator Stone in the Legislature, as every Democrat is morally bound to do."

This ringing declaration from the then governor, whose popularity extended into every corner of the state, quickly put the quietus on the opposition forces who thought they saw the prospects of a bolt.

Two years later an equally hot senatorial fight resulted in the election of James A. Reed over Former Governor David R. Francis. The latter, who had shown his bigness by being with honor the Presidency of the St. Louis World's Fair and a portfolio in the cabinet of President Cleveland, accepted the result and repeated Folk's statement when the same Republican element sought to overthrow the will of the majority as expressed at the polls.

There are no small men in the Democracy of Missouri. They presented a strong front at Baltimore, fought the best fight they knew, but when they lost they stepped with stalwart stride into the path made by Champ Clark to Seagirt and today every man of them, each of whom is an idol in his particular sphere, is on the firing line for Wilson and Marshall.

Mr. Clark is on the stump in the far west; Reed who placed Clark in nomination at Baltimore, is ably directing an important department in the western Democratic National headquarters at Chicago; Francis, through his great newspaper, the St. Louis Republic, is firing broadsides at the common enemy's camp, and Stone is lending his wisdom and voice to the cause he has fought for in countless campaigns.

Folk is in the thick of the fray. "Wilson is our kind of a man," he wrote to a friend, when asked his opinion of the action at Baltimore. For a time some deluded persons in the Third Term party thought they could induce Folk to accept the second place on the Bull Moose ticket. The great reformer did not leave the Third Termers long in doubt. His flat refusal to join their ranks, even to accept a doubtful honor, crushed the hopes of Roosevelt and his followers for the formation of a non-partisan rather than a remnant Republican organization.

Since 1904 Missouri has been considered a pivotal state, as much so as Maryland, which split its electorate in 1908. Political sages, however, foresee the complete passing of the "Mysterious Stranger" this year. Even the New York Herald, never a Democratic supporter, has put Missouri on the Democratic side in its recently published presidential campaign map.

The absence of defection in Missouri has disheartened the combined opposition. With the Democrats together there, the realization is fore-ed upon them that everywhere the forces of Jefferson are marching in solid phalanx on Washington, which they propose to possess after March.

WOOD TURNING LATHES WILL BE PURCHASED

Additional Appropriation of $1,500 From State For Manual Training Department of School Here

Another appropriation of $1,000 has been made by the State to the manual training department of the Wichita Falls schools. Application for the appropriation was made some time ago and Superintendent Carpenter has just received notice that it has been granted. This makes the total State appropriations for the school here $4,000. The last appropriation will be used in the purchase of wood turning lathes for the carpentry classes.

ODDITIES

Falling 300 feet at Greenburg, Pa., Carl Patmore, a New York aviator, only sprained his ankle.

By a silent marriage J. W. Hildebrandt and Miss Elizabeth Baker of Baltimore have become man and wife. All they did was to smile at each other and sign two copies of the wedding service.

Because the doctors say he is afflicted with a dual personality, caused by a blow on the head seven years ago, James E. Ennis of Camden, N. J., may escape punishment for bigamy.

The Texas Socialist GOVERNORS' SPECIAL IS COMING TO WICHITA COUNTY

Danish Credit Association Attracting Widespread Attention

By Associated Press. Copenhagen, Sept. 21.—The successful operation of the Danish Credit Societies is attracting widespread interest, and the latest seeker for information concerning these organizations is President Taft. President Blom, head of the largest society and an expert on their organization, is preparing a report for the chief executive of the United States. At the same time other Americans are interesting themselves in the societies. Dr. Pearson, of Ohio University, and formerly Commissioner of Agriculture of New York State, has been here for some time studying their methods. Dr. Maurice Egan, the American minister, is also preparing a report on the societies for the American government. The fundamental law for the societies was passed in 1849 shortly after the adoption of the Danish constitution. The system is worked on the co-operative principle. A society of land owners is organized with the object of borrowing money jointly. It raises its own money according to daily requirements, in the shape of cash bonds on which interest and installments are to be paid with mortgages security in fixed property under unlimited responsibility and with a reserve fund as an auxiliary support. During recent years the societies have even arranged to give loans, which are exempt from installment payments. The bonds are put on the market in the usual way and are subject to the ordinary fluctuations of stock exchange. Until the organization of the societies it was almost impossible to borrow money in Denmark, no matter what security was given, for there was scarcely any gold and silver in the country and most of the trading was done in actual commodities. The credit societies remedied this condition and the people who had money to loan were no longer afraid to part with. If Christian X should ever lose his crown as King of Denmark he could make a good living with a bicycle-repair shop, and he already has the promise of at least one customer. While driving with his sons recently the King ran down a cyclist with his carriage. Although the accident was entirely due to the carelessness of the carriage rider, the King stopped the carriage and went to the assistance of the young man, who was uninjured, but whose machine was smashed. His Majesty, who is very fond of cycling and who repairs his own machine saw at once that he could put the broken bicycle in running order again. The young man seemed quite helpless and stood looking on with his hands in his pocket while the King worked for ten minutes repairing the damaged machine. When the King had finished the work the rider asked for his card, promising to patronize him whenever his machine needed repairs. As the young man stood with wide-open mouth looking at the King's name engraved on the card, the royal party drove away. During the coming session of Parliament the chief interest will be centered on the introduction of the government measure for the abolition of plural voting for members of the Danish Legislature. The Conservatives will lose heavily by the abolition of plural voting and the present government will not gain anything, while the radicals will have their voting strength greatly augmented. By the original constitution of 1849 plural voting was prohibited, but in 1866 a measure was carried permitting heavily taxed voters more than one vote for members of the upper house. As a counter demand the Conservatives in the lower house will seek a measure for proportional representation, a demand which meets with opposition from a section of the democratic parties. Unless all the parties modify their demands and the prospect for this at the present time seems remote, it is hardly likely that they will reach an amicable agreement. At any rate the coming session promises to be exceedingly stormy. By spreading the report that the Danish copper cent coins of the 1910 issue contained gold, a clever swindler has amassed a small fortune in Denmark. Before spreading the rumor the swindler acquired a large collection of the 1910 issue of coppers. Then it became noised about that through a mistake in the mint gold had been mixed with the copper. The price of the cent pieces began to go up some selling for as much as a dollar each. With the market at the highest the collector distributed his cents judiciously among the clamorous bidders and escaped before it became generally known that the coins were worth only their face value.

COTTON COUNTY TO ELECT COUNTY SEAT NOVEMBER 14. R. H. Sultan, a banker of Walters, and H. F. Tripp, county attorney of Cotton county, presented to Governor Cruce Saturday a petition, signed by 1,324 voters of the new county asking for an election to permanently locate the county seat. The proclamation was issued at once, calling for an election on November 14. The law requires only 25 per cent of the voters to a petition, however, the petition of Walters, which was completed in 24 hours, carried 22 more than a majority of all the voters. Last week the governor designated Randlett as the temporary county seat over the protest of Walters, which claims to be located within five and a half miles of the geographical center of the county, and is the center of the county's population. A majority vote in the next election will locate the county seat. Randlett, it is understood, will file a petition to go on the ballot, but this is also denied, it being claimed that Randlett is in favor of the proposed New Jerusalem. Walters, Temple and a New Jerusalem location will also be candidates. Walters will abandon for the present his intention to vote $30,000 jail and city hall bonds for fear it might complicate the election to locate the county seat permanently. If Walters had secured the temporary county seat it was the intention to lease the building to the county for court house purposes, but as that went to Randlett, and the election to permanently locate is to be held, the bond issue idea will be dropped until after the voting. Walters realizes that action of this kind might invalidate the election, as the supreme court held in the Pottawatomie county seat case that the offering of a city hall to the county for court house purposes, and with the view of attracting votes, at a figure far less than what such a building would normally bring, constituted bribery under the election law.—Grandfield Enterprise.
